FORTY EIGHT YEARS AGO tonight the blowing up of the American Battleship Maine in Havana harbor with the loss of the lives of 266 American seamen caused the Spanish-American war the 21st of April following, and is since reckoned as the starting date of the entry of this country into world affairs. The last military action of the war was the taking of Manila on August 13 and the war ended with the treaty of Paris in December.

A NEW UNITED STATES WAGE-PRICE policy which permits price increases to an industry which finds itself in "hardship" as the result of wage adjustments, was put into effect by President Truman today and a settlement of the steel strike is expected to follow immediately. Farms First Grosse Pointe Municipality Approached On Employee Wage Increase

W. F. Connolly's Report Expected to Recommend 10% Increase in Take Home Pay; Action Held for Month

The Farms has been the first of the Pointe municipalities to feel the impact of the general demands for higher wages from its employees. Last July, realizing that specific demands were looming in the near future, a special committee was named, with Trustee William F. Connolly, Jr., as chairman.

At the meeting Monday night, he presented a detailed report embracing every angle of the wage problem, and after reading it, at his own request, it was laid over for a 30 day study and examination period by the individual members of the Board.

The report in brief deals with the discussion of the demands made by the union of State and Municipal employees of the A. F. of L., presented some time ago, for an increase of 18 per cent. Such an increase, if granted, would constitute an advance in wages since January 1941 of approximately 33 per cent.

Mr. Connolly's report has not yet been issued in detail for general public information but it is said to recommend an increase which would amount to an average increase in wages in what might be called the "take home" pay, of about 10 per cent.

By calculating the conditions of employment under which village employees serve, along with the contributions which the village makes directly to the men through pension and retirement funds, they would have received the equivalent of an increase of 27.05 per cent since January 1941.

There may be some slight variations from these conclusions when the report is studied in detail, but the figures are substantially correct. In 1945 the village Trustees granted the employees a bonus in lieu of a wage increase.

PLANNING GROUP TO MEET The Planning Commission of the Park village will meet on March 8 at 7:45 p. m.

Sleepy Pointe Disinterested In Memorial

Offer of Prizes for Best Suggestions Produces Very Few Entries

The Study Group which is making an examination into the disposition of the Pointe community towards the erection of a war memorial to the men and women of the community who served in World War II, held another meeting Tuesday in the home of Alger Shelden, who, by common consent of the Group has been acting as its chairman. If it appears that the wish of the residents is that such a memorial should be created here, the group make a recommendation as to its form and character.

There was an informal discussion of the subject in its many aspects, but the group was chiefly concerned with the lack of interest thus far shown in the enterprise by the people here. (Continued on Page 2)

Park to Hold Open Hearing On Rezoning

Proposed Amendment Would Affect Jefferson Avenue and Businesses

The scheduled public hearing for Monday evening at 8 o'clock in the Park Municipal Building is to give the citizens an opportunity to discuss the proposed amendment to the village zoning ordinance.

The amendment takes two forms; (a) to place in commercial area - the northwest corner of Somerset and E. Jefferson avenue, making the location legal as a site for the clubhouse of the Automobile Club of Michigan, leaving the remainder of the 1000 foot long tract along Somerset still in Zone "A" and available only for the construction of single family dwelling houses, and (b) the striking out of the present limitation of five employees and five horse power for small service establishments such as gas and oil stations, garages, dry cleaning establishments, laundries, etc., which directly serve the community.

The purpose of the second amendment is not to clear the way for larger establishments, or for general manufacturing, and definitely not for heavy industries. The village will continue to adhere to its fixed purpose of maintaining its restricted residential character. The control of the situation will still lodge with the village commissioners who will judge each applicant for permission to operate such businesses as directly cater to the needs of the community on their individual merits.

Another effect of the amendment, if adopted, will be to give legal status to several service stations already operating in the village which are slightly exceeding the limitations on number of employees and horsepower.

Over Alertness Almost An Error

A report came to the Park police Saturday that two men were making ready to steal a car from a citizen living nearby on Devonshire road. The police hurried around only to find that they were two men from the Whyte Motor company service station who had been sent around to pick up a car that belonged to Fred McGraw, the Park Village attorney. No harm done and the "theft" was duly entered on the police blotter. Mr. McGraw duly appreciates the alertness of his neighbor realizing that eternal vigilance is not only the price of liberty but of safe automobiles.

VACATION The Farms Village municipal offices have sent out word that they observe all legal holidays and in accordance with this practice will be closed on Washington's birthday.

Man Who Shot Way Out of Park Police Net, Nabbed by FBI

Gets Immediate Hearing Before Federal Judge and Is Sent to Milan Prison for Year's Term

Last Saturday F. B. I. operatives in Detroit picked up Robert Dowling, the bandit who escaped from the Grosse Pointe Park cafe amid a fusillade of bullets from the Park police at the time his partner Robert Emil Pelchal was captured, on Tuesday, February 12.

The Federal authorities picked up Dowling on a charge of evading the customs. Some time ago he ran by the American customs at the tunnel when on a return trip from Canada. He was presumed to have had some contraband aboard that would not stand scrutiny.

The Federal authorities took him before Judge O'Brien Monday morning. He was given a sentence of one year in the Milan Federal prison and a fine of $2,000. The offense would ordinarily have carried a fine alone of probably not more than $100, but in view of the charges hanging over him for his Grosse Pointe escapade, they tagged him for a good stiff sentence to have him in sight for his later legal engagement with the Pointe authorities.

As soon as he is sent to Milan, Detective Lieutenant Louwers will attempt to get a writ from the Federal court which will permit the local authorities to bring him back here for trial as soon as his quarantine period is through at Milan. In the event of this being granted, he would be brought up for trial at the next session of the Circuit courts for his robbery at the cafe.

If he should be convicted, in this trial he would in any event have to serve his year's bit in the Federal prison, as Uncle Sam saw him first and the Federal authorities are insistent that their sentences should take priority over State charges.

It is quite possible, however, that a sentencing judge in the Circuit court might permit his state sentence to run concurrently with the year's Federal imprisonment.

In any event Mr. Dowling's calendar for the next few years will be well sprinkled with engagement memos.

Pointe AMVETS Hold Meeting

AMVETS Grosse Pointe Post No. 17 will hold its third meeting at 17145 Waterloo at St. Clair, Grosse Pointe, on February 25 and every second and fourth Monday thereafter at 7:30 p. m.

The first state convention of AMVETS will close on the evening of February 24, and a full and complete report of all actions taken there will be made to a meeting of Post 17, together with a list of the newly elected state officers.

Post 17 has asked Grosse Pointe citizens to submit the names of all deceased GP veterans and from these a name for the World War II veterans' organization will be chosen. A later meeting of the post. Communications to the post should be addressed to Robert D. Beck, 2079 Roslyn Road. Beck is post commander.

A short note on the blotter of the City police station on Maumee notes: "February 17: a party at Concordia Hall at 17512 Mack wouldn't break up for 'Dick'. They did for us without any trouble."

It is comforting to the quiet loving residents of the City to realize that their police social censors are on the job.

Finds Clean Windows Costly With Two Collectors on Job

Mrs. Bryant of 682 Lincoln road made an arrangement with a window cleaning concern in Grosse Pointe City to do a job at her home. Promptly with the cleaning of the last pane a man showed up who said he was there to collect for the work.

Mrs. Bryant obligingly paid him, thinking, however, that the collection process had followed the work with rather surprising promptness.

Several days later another collector showed up, and Mrs. Bryant discovered to her chagrin that the first man was an imposter who had watched the progress of the work and decided to cash in on it early.

The police are trailing the fast collector.

Buildings Badly Needed Immediately

Study Shows District is Now Short Seven Classrooms in East End of Pointe

The possibility of classes of 40-45 pupils, half-day sessions, and transportation of many more elementary and junior high school children to schools outside their district, loomed as possibilities for the schools to face if building relief is not provided in the school tax election on March 4, according to a study reported at the Richard Parent-Teacher Association meeting last week by John R. Barnes, Assistant Superintendent of Schools.

In response to questions raised at this meeting, Mr. Barnes reported on a study recently completed dealing with the existing enrollment conditions in the schools and estimated enrollment data for the next five year period, which is involved in the five-mill-levy increase proposal to be voted on in the March 4 election.

Mr. Barnes stated that at the present time due to inadequate school housing facilities in the Mason and Vernier districts, six rooms of children, the entire fifth and sixth grades, are being transported from the Mason to the Trembly School. In addition, the 6A grade pupils from Vernier are now being transported to the Duffer School.

In other words, the school district is now short seven classrooms in the "east end" of the school district.

Kerby Threatened Conditions in the Kerby School are not much better, according to Mr. Barnes' report. While no (Continued on Page 2)

Sale of City Property Set

Augustinian Brothers Will Take Plot Along Mack and Radnor in Detroit

All of the legal papers have been drafted and are ready for execution which will effect the conveyance of the property belonging to Grosse Pointe City lying over in Detroit along Radnor. The purchasers will be the Augustinian Fathers who will use a portion of the plot as a site for a high school. This will be the part nearest to Grosse Pointe along Mack avenue. The remainder of the plot will be sold to the City of Detroit which is acquiring it for an addition to its park system.

Both transactions will be consummated concurrently. The City of Grosse Pointe will receive $2,000 for the property. The sale was authorized by the vote of the people a few months ago.

An effort will be made by the City to retain possession temporarily until September 1, 1947, of the small plot that is occupied by its reduction plant at Radnor and Warren, and at the end of that time to remove its machinery and building. Whether or not this can be effected depends on how urgently Detroit will need the plot for improvement of its park system.

Boy Beaten Up By Gang in Park

Monday morning Donald Sims of Ashland, Detroit, reported to the Park police that his 14-year-old son had been badly beaten up by a gang of young thugs in front of the Esquire Theater. His face was cut up and he had a badly swollen jaw.

He did not know any of the boys but believes they came from the Detroit side. Neither could he ascribe any reason for the assault. The Park police are on the hunt for the juvenile goon gang.

INSURANCE PLACED

The Farms Council Monday night placed the village's compensation insurance for the coming year with the same concern that previously held it. The Employers Mutual Liability Insurance company of Wisconsin got the policy for $2776.69.

NEARLY FINISHED
The building code committee of Park will meet on March 4 to place the finishing touches to the draft of the new code which will be presented to the Board of Village Commissioners for action at an early meeting thereafter.

Schools

children at present are being transported out of the district, the school which should not according to desirable standards carry an enrollment of more than 200 pupils, now has an enrollment of over 300 pupils. This has resulted in serious overcrowding, undesirable combined grade groups, and the use of two basement rooms which are wholly inadequate for desirable classroom use.

Even with the transportation of seven classrooms of pupils from the east end of the district to schools in the west end, every available room is in use in the Mason, Vernier, and Kerby Schools. At Mason School, with an enrollment of 650 pupils, there is no library, as the room designed for this use has been divided and now provides two classrooms. In addition three rooms on the third floor of the school have been converted from other uses into full-time classrooms. Because of the over-crowded conditions at both Vernier and Kerby, no satisfactory library or gymnasium facilities exist.

Mr. Barnes pointed out that even if there were no growth brought about because of new home building, there will be considerable growth in all of the "east end" schools due to the larger groups enrolling in kindergarten and the lower grades. This growth alone will create serious housing conditions in these schools during the next few years unless additional school facilities are provided.

See Larger Classes
The report further showed that unless additional school housing facilities are provided, and if home building resumes on any such scale as preceded by the war, classes of 40-45, half-day sessions and the transportation of many more children from their own areas will have to result.

If additional school rooms are not provided, the report showed that on conservative estimates, we will be short 14 classrooms in the "east end" of the district by September, 1947. This is more classrooms than are available in the west end schools to which pupils are now being transported. All classrooms are now in use at Tromby to house the six rooms of pupils from Mason, and only six rooms remain at Defer. Consequently, even if transportation were continued, all pupils could not be housed in this manner by September, 1947.

Looking beyond the school year of 1947-48, the situation becomes constantly worse. By September, 1948, we would be short 20 classrooms in the "east end" of the district; by September, 1949, we would be short 27 classrooms; and by September, 1950, we would be short 34 classrooms.

10% Annual Growth
"These estimated shortages," stated Mr. Barnes, "are based on a 10% annual growth for the years 1947, 1948, 1949 and 1950, which is less than half the actual growth through the period of 1938 to 1942 inclusive in the east end. During that period, the average growth in the Mason School never fell below 25% per year and reached 30% during one of these years."

The report showed no brighter picture for the secondary schools. According to the figures given by Mr. Barnes, the High School building can satisfactorily care for the pupils enrolled there through the school year of 1946-47. By September, 1947, the building will be overcrowded, and from September, 1948, on, it will become impossible to maintain a satisfactory secondary program without additional classrooms for secondary school students. This situation could be helped somewhat by transporting junior high school pupils from the Richard and Kerby districts to Pierce, in addition to those from the Mason and Vernier areas. There would still be a seriously over-crowded condition in the High School building and half-day sessions might have to be provided.

In summary, Mr. Barnes pointed out that unless additional classrooms are provided, with the growth anticipated over the next five year period, not only may it be necessary to transport many more children to schools outside their district, but in addition, class size will have to be greatly increased and half-day sessions may have to be provided both in the elementary schools of the east end of the district and also in the High School building.

AMVETS Holding First Convention

Sixty five hundred Michigan AMVETS are prepared for their first State Convention to be held in Detroit, February 22 to 24. This, the first convention of World War II veterans will be keenly watched by the entire nation as the acid test of the voice of the new vet.

Enthusiasm of this youthful veterans organization in Michigan has resulted in the rapid growth of 12 men to the present strength of 6500 members and 55 posts throughout the state in less than nine weeks.

At their first convention, AMVETS will elect and install their state officers, present resolutions on a state wide housing project for vets, a state and national bonus, compulsory military training, adopt a state constitution and other resolutions the 200 delegates will bring to the convention.

The hustling AMVETS have already established themselves as a progressive and aggressive veterans organization. They are sponsoring a gigantic housing project, 1000 homes to be sold exclusively to vets of World War II, built with a savings of $2000 and financed under the GI Bill of Rights.

Governor Kelly supported the request of the AMVETS to have a seat on the Veterans Affairs committee to administer the $51, judging by their meagre response to the Group's invitation to send in suggestions. The number received thus far has been disappointingly small.

Memorial

Several weeks ago the announcement was made that in order to obtain public expression on both the desirability of undertaking the erection of some type of memorial at this time, and also the form it should take, prizes were offered for the best written suggestions. This offer was addressed to school children, the veterans themselves and the general public. As yet a very limited number have responded.

The Group is most anxious that there be a general expression of opinion on the matter and is unwilling to commit itself to any definite recommendation until such an interest is shown as will convince it that the people here favor the movement now. It believes the best way to ascertain whether such a sentiment exists is by a large discussion of the subject.

Such discussion of the matter as the committee individually has had with people of the community convinces it that there is a sincere conviction that Grosse Pointe should have a fitting memorial to its men and women who bore the heat of the day in the great struggle just ended. But it believes this sentiment should be galvanized into written and spoken expression to a much greater extent than has yet been manifest.

In the informal discussion which was had Tuesday night it appeared that such of the citizens as have expressed themselves on the kind of memorial that the Pointe should have, more favored the erection of a memorial library than any other single type. The suggestions ranged from memorial gardens, monuments and public stands to libraries. The general opinion of the public thus far elicited almost unanimously favors a type which would combine service to the community with the memorial and sentimental motif.

Many have expressed a preference for a memorial library. There is reason to believe that if this should be decided upon the school authorities would do 000,000 veteran fund. The house committee approved this recommendation by the Governor.

The AMVETS are neither a left nor a right organization. They have no tie-ups with labor or management and support no political party. They are solely a veterans' organization and plan to stay close to the middle of the road policy.

nate the site in the neighborhood of Kercheval and Fisher road on its extensive plot at that location. It is known that the school authorities have been most anxious to have a public library which would conform in appearance and equipment with the character of the Pointe, and if such an institution should eventuate as the memorial to the service men and women, it might be maintained in perpetuity by the school district.

This would solve one of the biggest problems the Study Group has had to reckon with, as the matter of maintenance following the erection of any living memorial has been one of the problems it could not avoid. Any memorial of a utility nature, carried with it this responsibility.

Truck Loaded With Pipe Damages Passing Cars

Last Monday a truck loaded with iron pipe was angled parked in front of the A. and P. store on Kercheval. The piping protruded out into the street and after it had scraped several passing automobiles rather badly the police were notified. They compelled the hardware merchant who owned the truck to park parallel with the curb where the protruding pipes would do less harm to passing vehicles.

Let's begin to talk out what we live for, and to live out what we talk.

Many Hands Ready, Eager To Construct Farm Sewers

Solicitation of Bids for New Project Brings 15 Contractors Swarming to Council Meeting

Such an outpouring of bidders for a public works job has not been seen in this region in many a day, as thronged the council room in the Farms municipal building last Monday night.

The village was receiving bids, for the sewer job to be done through the Babcock subdivision from Chalfonte to Mack, paralleling Moross, thence southerly through the Kogan and the Sloan-Stammiller properties, parallel to Mack and on to Kerby. Eighteen sets of plans had been given out to prospective bidders and fifteen were actually at the meeting to see the bids opened and announced. They ranged from a low of $11,480, coming from Coulter Brothers to a high of nearly $18,000. Most of the bids were for $12,000 to $15,000. The Coulter bid was accepted, with the next two lowest, for $11,842 and $12,029 respectively, held in reserve until the Coulter contract is signed and the construction bond posted.

New Gas Mask Fails in Test

Last Friday Murray Smith, the Farms village engineer, with several employees of the Public Works Department made a tour of inspection of the big Fox Creek enclosed sewer under Chalfonte between Kerby and Fisher. The big line had but three vents within the village and is always well saturated with sewer gas.

Smith and his party were equipped with a new type of gas mask recently acquired. The device has a portable tank which carries pure air under pressure, somewhat similar in construction to the devices used by flyers in high altitudes, only substituting fresh air for oxygen.

The inspection party was disappointed in the durability of the air supply in the masks. They were supposed to furnish an ample supply of pure air for an hour and a half but it was discovered they lacked force and quantity in about twenty minutes.

WaterProject Placed First By Engineer

Murray Smith Urges Farms Water System Extension As First Improvement

Murray Smith, Farms Village Engineer, wants the water system extension and improvement placed first on the list of post war public works. He urges the early prosecution of this work before sewer extensions or any of the other dozen or more projects are taken up. He says that plans have been prepared covering this work in 14 different projects, which when finished will complete the village's water distribution service for many years to come.

In the whole post war agenda Mr. Smith stresses the advantage to the village of doing one job at a time. In principle the Board of Trustees agreed with him.

As a part of this work he urged the extension of the reservoir at the Moross road plant. The estimated cost of this work would be about $40,000. After some discussion it was decided to retain the same water engineering firm which planned the Moross station 16 years ago, Shoecraft, Drury and McNamee of Ann Arbor.

As an instance of the necessity of overhauling the water system, Mr. Smith called attention to the discovery of a leak in the water supply of nearly a quarter million gallons a day that was found in the village's own Beach park. This was determined by a series of temperature tests of the water and sewage. The usual sewage temperature runs about 50 degrees and water about 40 degrees when there is a too great variation from these averages it becomes apparent that one or the other is leaking into a nearby conduit.

A water pipe operating under night pressure and laid near a sewer pipe sometimes breaks and permits water to enter into the neighboring sewer line. This was what had happened in the recently discovered leak which was located only by scientific sleuthing by the engineering department armed with thermometer weapons.

Recommends Sewer Extension

Following the awarding of the sewer contract to Coulter Brothers Monday night, Village Engineer Smith recommended that at the same time provision be made whereby the same lines might be extended 600 feet further along the Mack avenue frontage southwesterly from Kerby road.

It might necessitate some quick conferences with the parties affected, but was well worth hurrying through in connection with the main job. The offering of substantial savings by doing a job now which will have to be done in the near future anyway, should be an inducement for action now, he stated.

The council thought well of the suggestion and a motion was passed to refer it to the public works committee with a request for an early report.

'Store of Tomorrow' Opening Delights Throng of Pointers

Several thousand Pointers braved Tuesday night's snow storm to attend the grand opening of the "Store of Tomorrow," the A. & P. supermarket on Kercheval avenue which has been completely re-equipped and redecorated. They liked what they saw.

The store is the first of its kind to be opened in the Detroit area. It is a preview of postwar stores which the company will open all over the country.

Manager Carl Kottke and many officials of the company were on hand to greet the crowd that thronged to the store for the first peek. The "Ohs" and "Ahs" were many. Eight complete food departments, each with the most modern equipment available, have been set up to serve the customers. The refrigerators and deep-freeze units without any tops, for convenient self-serve, were a source of wonder to most of those who inspected them.

The fancy retail bakery, staffed by 10 trained girls, was the only department open for business, and it did plenty. Danish pastries and home style cookies were going like hotcakes. Attendees passed out cookies, ice cream and chocolate mints.

The self-service meat counter attracted a great deal of attention. Here, for the shopper's convenience is every imaginable kind of meat, packaged with cellophane tops so the customer can see just what she is getting. Plainly marked on each package is the price per pound and the price of that particular package. Many of those inspecting, fresh from the war's meat curtailment, were all but drooling over the magnificent display.

The youngsters were flocking around the marvelous candy display and no one blamed them. Every conceivable kind of confection is available. Ice cream from a deep freeze unit is packed in special insulated bags which keep it hard for more than an hour on the hottest days. No more arriving home with a bag of melted goo.

The fresh vegetable racks were things of beauty. Mirrored backs on the bins make this department look like a stage setting.

Shopping should be a joy in the Store of Tomorrow. Everything has been done to make it easy for the customer to select her needs and have fun doing it. And, judging from the number of men present, Pop is going to be in there plenty himself.

Pointers Lose Right to Vote

Lackadaisical Attitude Results in 4928 Being Stricken from Rolls

The lackadaisical attitude of the people of the Pointe toward their civic responsibility as voters, is accurately illustrated by the pulling from the voter's list the names of those citizens who have failed to vote for the past two years in any township election.

What are known as "Township elections" embraces also the State and County elections. Henry Lavers, the Township Clerk, has within the last few days withdrawn the names of 4928 such persons from the township voters rolls. Return postal cards have been sent out to these persons requesting their immediate answer as to whether they desire to be continued as legal voters. If they are equally indifferent to this reminder they just want vote at the next election held in the township.

This means that they would forfeit their voting right at the June primaries and the general elections next fall.

Lena Bedeviled By Kids Again

Some young roisterers from across the street have been bedeviling Lena Cherkoff at her little restaurant on Fisher road again.

She complained to the police that they go in her place and throw things around and expectorate on her floor. She asked that the police put a watch in her back room to see what goes on. They have acted on her suggestion and for the past day or two after school hours an able-bodied blue and brass soldier of the municipality has been keeping watch and ward in the hope of capturing some of the enemy.

Daring Youths Scare Neighbors

The other afternoon just when there was a nice sprinkling of new fallen snow on the roof of the big terrace at 488 St. Clair, three boys picked that time and place for some winter sports.

As the roof of this property is especially steep, observers were terrified at the imminent prospect of them being dashed off. The police were notified and they had no difficulty in persuading the youngsters to leave their pinnacle and get down to earth. Following a good lecture they were sent on their way.

None Injured As Bus Hits Car

A special DSR bus, driven by Ralph A. Streicher of 3738 Montclair, going south on Lincoln Tuesday afternoon about 4 o'clock, ran into an automobile driven by Ralph H. Robson of 525 Eastlawn.

Streicher claims he had stopped at the north intersection of Lincoln and Kercheval, and had started up again when Robson drove by. There was no personal injury as fortunately the special bus passenger load, which included a number of school children, had been practically emptied. Streicher was given a ticket for reckless driving involving an accident.

Pulling Apart

The Pointes were planned and developed from their beginnings as a desirable and attractive spot for home owners. By all means let us keep it that way. At the same time let us hope that someday sufficient light will break through the municipal crania to permit them to see that the whole business of planning, beautification and development can be better managed and with a substantial saving in cost to ourselves, if we run it as one governmental unit instead of five little pulling and hauling, jealous communities, each set on its own pet hobbies regardless of the growth and common advantage of the community as a whole.

An instance in point is the case where the executive director of one of them has been striving to obtain the advantage of an incinerator for the destruction of the garbage of the whole Pointe area. He has thus far been able to arouse little interest in the proposal. Instead the other villages apparently prefer to continue to haul their garbage out into the neighboring country 30 to 50 miles at outrageous expense. Of course this gives employment to numerous crews of garbagemen, but this is not after all the supreme desideratum of municipal existence. The problem is simple and not even complicated by the state of separate governmental being. If the five council bodies would condescend to talk together for all of five minutes they might agree on making a contract for their garbage disposal with some corporation or individual who would erect an incinerator at some reasonably convenient place and operate it for an agreed-upon cost to be pro rated among the five municipalities in accordance with their use of it. Not a desperately involved question and one promising the saving of a substantial sum annually to the taxpayers.

The Mischief Nuisance

There is neither rhyme nor reason in the seemingly accepted theory that the citizens must continue in unrelieved helplessness against the malicious mischief of a lot of predatory youngsters who have obviously escaped the home discipline and restraint that should have been applied.

Those who are old enough and have given repeated evidence of their incorrigibility should be sent away to correctional institutions, but common sense tells that boys 10 and 11 years of age cannot be subjected to penal treatment. It is in such cases as these that the parents should be called in and by substantial fines or threats of the damages their offspring have caused, be coerced into resuming the parental control and guidance they have neglected.

The other day a citizen had the water hose and fan belt of his car cut while it was parked on one of the local streets. Such escapades should be so thoroughly discouraged they would not be repeated in the same quarter. The way to do it is to call in the parents and lay down the bill of damages. A few experiences of this kind will quickly and wholesomely alter the viewpoint of such parents on the measure of their responsibility.

Some will argue that such cases are private matters in which the authorities have no voice but when such wanton devilry goes on and on and grows worse, its handling must be noted by the authorities as a public responsibility.

This nuisance can be stopped like a stone wall if the authorities screw up their courage to act effectively.

American Airport

It is too bad that the great city of Detroit, with the whole prairie of Southeastern Michigan to scout over, cannot find a piece of land suitable to accommodate its long-sought airport. Whatever lies behind the scenes and wherever the responsibility properly lodges for failure to get set on the airport issue, the people in general will agree with Mayor Jeffries in his open opposition to the Canadian location.

He calls the suggestion "ridiculous" and it is all of that when the fourth American city can't locate its airport on American soil. One can imagine the hubbub that would arise from the people here, following a short experience of taking off and landing on foreign soil.

It is time the people in Detroit got down to serious business and hunted out an airport site that would at least have the recommendation of being in our own country. The title of "International Airport" has an alluring and neighborly flavor to it but the simple fact that it would be used chiefly by Americans, living on American soil. This is one instance where the internationalism so dearly loved by the apostles of worldwide sweetness and light should be submerged under an avalanche of plain, practical old fashioned Americanism.

Explosive Mixture

However much one may have disagreed with many of the official acts of Harold Ickes, no one has ever dared to question his personal honesty. When he testified the other day before the Senate committee examining into the fitness of Edwin Pauley for the Undersecretaryship of the Navy that Pauley had large fish to fry in connection with the title to tidewater oil deposits and that this was definitely hooked up with contributions both made and anticipated for the benefit of democratic candidates, the people believed Ickes and still believe him. That was that so far as they were concerned.

If President Truman perseveres in his purpose to put Pauley across in the Navy department he will do so at the imminent peril of the party which he hopes to make his own in 1948.

It is the third installment in recent years of the same old story. The Interior Department, with its control over vast elements of the natural resources of the nation, has always been a sort of depository of political atomic bombs whose explosions have been historic on more than one occasion.

Back in the Taft administration in 1909-1913, the Secretary of the Interior at that time, one Richard Achilles Lehger, of the far northwest, day, attempted to make a deal which would have resulted in delivering natural resources of Alaska of empire proportions to the Guggenheim interests. Had not the "cookin" been exposed by Colliers Weekly, followed by other publications, the rich resources of our great

Our domestic dept. is growing by leaps and bounds. A G.P. matron called this week to tell us she had an ad in the paper for a second maid. She chose one woman (from the MANY replies?) to interview about the job . . . and after speaking to her for a few minutes, realized that the maid didn't quite understand what the work entailed.

Queried Madam, "Are you quite sure you know what a second maid is?" To which the gal replied gayly, "Oh yes! It's a second-class maid . . . and that's what I am."

In the Feb. 16th issue of Statepost, there's a story called, "Too Old to Marry" by Noel Langley. If you want to read some really fine writing, don't miss this novelette. Never heard of the author but we predict that that particular story will make its mark in the world for the sheer beauty of the author's prose.

That country-wide strikes have spread their tentacles into every nook and cranny of our daily lives, is proven by the following. The wife of a doctor called to tell us of an incident that happened in their family on the day after the doctor took his children's radio away from them for 24 hours as a punishment for some misdeed. The children didn't say a word at the time, but the next day, after school, they walked over to his nearby office and paraded up and down in front of it, carrying large, rather well made placards. One read, "PATIENTS! DO NOT PATRONIZE THE DOCTOR IN THIS BUILDING." Behind the first child, walked the second one with another placard reading, "He has taken away our radio!"

The town's most eligible bachelor (don't rush, girls), gave a dinner party in his home recently . . . at which time he had all the female guests in a tizzy over what he claims is a tried and true invention of his own. One of the noisier guests, for some unknown reason, raised the cushion of the sofa on which she was seated and found underneath, a scattering of Xmas greens! They looked fresh and not just bloomed about, but arranged as if they'd been placed with care. After the shrieks died down, the host claimed he put them there to prevent moths from settling down to live with him!

Somewhere on this page there should be a new column starting this week, called "Tallyho-Hum" by Helen Talley of New York. We had a sneak preview and think it's swell. We remember meeting Helen when she was here a few years ago with her famous husband, the late Truman Talley. We thought at the time she out-thought Ilka Chase with her heterogeneous collection of quips about people we all know . . . so we are looking forward to her weekly columns and would advise you to do the same. In case you're interested in background, George Combs has made a few pertinent comments on the Talley, which are printed on the front page.

This is not quite the place to write about a good friend who has passed on, but if we may bow out of the usual column material for a moment, we'd like to express publicly our sorrow over the death of "Bill" Dansbury. Bill was a frequent visitor to the News office, and we, as well as his many friends, will miss his friendliness, his cheerful smile and his enthusiastic encouragement.

undeveloped territory might have passed largely into the control of private interests and forever out of reach of the people themselves.

Again, in the administration of Warren G. Harding, 1921-Aug. 2, 1923, a Secretary of the Interior, A. B. Fall, of Arizona, tried to do the same thing in connection with naval reserve oil lands, via a personal bribe of $100,000. The repercussions blasted forever the reputation of the Harding administration and the pre-exposure seething doubtless contributed to Harding's mid-term death. Fall himself, died later a ruined man.

Both of these episodes within a single generation, bear a striking resemblance to the Pauley brew. Mr. Pauley himself may be an exemplary person, and highly qualified for the post he seeks, but oil connexions and campaign contributions present a dangerous mixture for political handling. None should see this more clearly than Mr. Truman, who has, of course, been building fences to succeed himself ever since 4 o'clock in the afternoon of April 12, 1945.

Steel Strike Settlement

The steel strike is over and everybody is glad, however superficially they may look at the maneuvering which led to its settlement and the yet unknown results to which its manner of settlement may lead.

What we may assume with a great sigh of relief is that steel, the great basic metal of the country's production line, will now be available and that shops and mills and mines and transportation services will, within a reasonable time, be unhampered by lack of new products and renewals.

What we don't know is how far the effect will run adversely to the policy of holding tight against an inflation that might flood the nation with a tide of woe and ruin. We will soon learn how high we can lift ourselves by our own bootstraps. If the boost in prices, which must inevitably follow that in wages, can be held within such limits as not to skyrocket everything we eat and wear and seek shelter under, if the common sense of the people will operate as an automatic brake, this limited raising of wages and commodity prices may operate as a benefit rather than a harm.

This hope is largely the expression of the wage earners themselves and a substantial proportion of those engaged in manufacture. The situation of the food producer has not been quite frankly considered.

The immediate result will doubtless be gratifying to everybody, and in the Detroit area in particular it will be pleasing to see the great auto industry get into its stride again.

Money will be more plentiful, the Government's debt handling problem will be made easier. The fervent prayer of all will be that the money which will be more plentiful will not lose its purchasing power to a degree so dangerous as to constitute a common peril which none can escape.

That the "hold the line" wall has suffered its first breach no thinking person can deny.

Tallyho-Hum

by
Helen Talley

In the last couple of weeks I've said to several people, "If you were starting a newspaper column and had no axe except to make friends with your readers, and interest them, what would you put in your first paragraph?" Most of them said, "I'd start with a joke." "But that's impossible," I said, "Bennett Cerf has swiped them all for his book TRY AND STOP ME." A few days later I was at a dinner party and Bennett was there. I told him a joke I had in mind and said, "Have you grabbed that one yet?" "No," he replied, "but I will the day after you print it!"

It's a modest little joke. Shepard Barnes, vice president of the Metropolitan Golf Association, was on the tee at Baltusrol with Chisholm Macdonald, of Grosse Pointe Farms. Barnes wet his finger to find the wind, took several practice swings, planted his feet and laced one fair to the pin. Macdonald stepped up, swung his club, took a mighty swing and missed entirely. "Oops," he said, "my foot slipped." "Well," said Barnes, "if that excuse suits you, it's okay with me."

Ray Bolger has been in and out of town. Before he deserted New York for Hollywood, a lot of us used to spend some of our Sundays out at Luella Ray's place on Long Island. Ray plays top bridge and I was always glad to sneak into the game and learn a little. Luella had a wonderful Chinese cook and at the buffet in the evening one was apt to find Evelyn Dolly and Irving Netcher, Phyllis Haver and many of Luella's old time pals. Ray has opened out of town in a new musical (legit.) called "THREE TO MAKE BOSTON" and the notices from Boston say it's a hit.

New York is having its annual fashion orgy, for the Spring jobs you and I may, or may not, buy. One day every week, at lunch-time at the RITZ, Mlle. Petite Fanne or Mme. Grande Poitrine or some such other, shows her collection. There is only one small thing wrong with the over-all picture. Generally speaking, the ladies in the audience who have the lettuce to purchase these cocktail models, shouldn't. The cocktails and creamed chicken they consume while watching the parade, tends in all over to cause a "busting out in time" and it ain't June.

To be really chic this Spring we must have a tiny waist, buck-ran over the stomach to give it a delicate bulge; but not a stuffed look (you read, you) and hips to balance the derriere—and I do hope we all have one! The face must have a scrubbed, hair pulled back, appearance and the enormous hats must be bonnet shaped and falling off the back of the head. In other words, to be fashionable one's neck, waist and ankles must be so fragile and thin that one could easily be snapped into three neat cardboard boxes retrieved from the late scrap drive.

Jules Laenger gave a party for Gerlie Lawrence the other night and I was one of the lucky ones to be invited. Gerlie is presently playing in PYGMALION. Jules was very warmly spoken of in her book—A STAR DANCED. He knows everyone in the fashionable and theatrical worlds and his parties are a fascinating mixture of "names"—big business, stage and society. Of course Gerlie and her husband—those attractive Dick Aldrich—were there; Raymond Massey, who co-stars with her; that beautiful pink-haired Danny Kay, Sherman Fairchild with the latest, prettiest blond; Philip Barry the playwright and Marcia Davenport, the bookwife.

Eleanor Holm and Billy Rose were there too. Eleanor had on her Christmas Eve—a magnificent plaque of solid diamonds spread over her magnificent chest—and I don't mean could be! Billy has been acquiring the good things in life. He recently bought a famous Rembrandt—at a bargain—for $75,000, and also handed over $30,000 for a respected English tea service. Eleanor says she is going to ask me over to lap up a cup with her soon, so we can try out the new silverware.

That Hollywood designer who said that soon women are going to wear open-air blouses with the bosoms in plain view and at the mercy of the foggy, foggy dew, got the frigid air brushed from our local ladies of the tease. And I quote GYPSY ROSE LEE—"How can I get work if everybody gives it away?" Plainly, ain't it? SALLY RAND curled her plumes. She said elegantly, "I am revolted." DELORES GRAY said, "Men are more interested in what they don't see."

Health Preserves Youth and Looks

By FRED M. KOPF, R.P.H.

The next best thing to remaining young, which is impossible, is to preserve that youthful appearance which is attractive always.

Good health does this. The slim figure, the upright carriage, the elastic step, the good color and bright eye are as possible to middle age as to bristly youth. They can be retained far into the years of age, but only at a price—the price of healthful vigor.

Your doctor can help—by giving you the sound practical advice of a scientific man. Most doctors remain youthful in appearance throughout long and strenuous lives. Their secret can be yours.

Judicious medication may be an aid. Procure it from your good druggist at your doctor's advice.

HIT PERFORMANCES
A friend of mine works for the Red Cross at the Marine Hospital. On Valentine's Day during visiting hours she was passing through one of the wards and was startled at seeing a woman who could double for Mae West any time, anywhere. She was fascinated by her large black hat covered with charlieuse plumes and her fiddle attempt to be a "sweater girl" at forty. The scarlet mouth looked as though it had been put on by a sign painter. My friend thought, "Ah, one of the Navy's playmates" then she noticed that each patient was happily munching cake, carefully wrapped in a paper napkin gaily colored with hearts, arrows and Cupids, provided by this "Good Samaritan"—the mother of one of the boys in this ward, just back from the Pacific—my friend's face was redder than the lady's lipstick.

Pleasant "Rumors"
One of the most unusual dining rooms in Grosse Pointe is to be found in the Chisholm N. Macdonald home on Mirabeau place. The white marble floor is partially covered with a "leaf" green rug and white, green and gold are used as the general color scheme.

Overlooking the garden at one end of the room is a plate glass window extending from floor to ceiling, bringing the garden 'into the room' in a most interesting way. In front of this picture window and extending about four feet into the room, are hundreds of potted green plants and seasonal flowers seemingly growing right out of the floor. They are placed closely together in a deep trough lined with pebbles, so that nothing is seen but the plant itself, looking as if it were growing in its natural environment. Two rare trees whose dark, shiny green leaves are poisonous to the touch, flank the 'made' garden. In banding the trees, one must wear gloves... sort of a "snake in the garden of Eden" idea.

This dining-room garden is at its loveliest when a solid bank of white is formed by hundreds of azalea plants.

Above the garden end of the room, is a mirrored ceiling and at night, the garden is lighted by concealed, indirect spot lighting, replacing the flood of sunlight that pours into the room during the day. WHEN we have sun!

The Macdonalds have beautifully combined the old with the new in the use of a Duncan Phyffe table and Chippendale chairs, the seats of which are upholstered in green leather to match the rug.

The curtains, of heavy green satin with a gold motif, are hung at either side of the indoor garden, to complete the beautiful picture.

They no longer rise when their elders enter the room. They contradict their parents, chatter before company, gobble up dainties, cross their legs and tyrannize over their teachers."

About today's children? A man named Socrates wrote it—more than 2,000 years ago.

SULFO-COLLOID CREAM
for oily-disturbed skin

I never seemed to be able to master those minor blemishes that occasionally used to break out on my face. Then I used Gourielli Sulfo-Colloid Cream. Happy day! It gave my skin just the help it needed in controlling those distressful flaws like surface-clogged pores, scabiness and externally caused pimples. What's more—I no longer try to "cover up" a shiny face with constant re-powdering. Now, I prevent the shine with my marvelous Sulfo-Colloid Cream. Many purposes. Many thanks! 1.50 plus taxes

Margo Ludelfs Weds William Fahringer
United at Candlelight Ceremony; Dinner Reception Follows in Mount Olive Church

Mount Olive Lutheran Church was the setting for the candlelight ceremony Saturday evening, Feb. 9, which united Margo Gretchen Ludelfs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry R. Ludelfs, of Brys drive, and William Harvey Fahringer, son of Mrs. Paula Fahringer, of Alta Dena, Cal., and the late Wilbur Fahringer, in marriage.

A lace ruffle outlined the yoke of marquisette, and the skirt ended in a long train. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a coronet of satin and orange blossoms, and she carried a bouquet of sweet peas centered with a lavender orchid.

Margo's four attendants, Mrs. Arthur J. Schelke, as matron of honor, and Jean and Helen MacDonald and Mrs. Ursula Stouffer, as bridesmaids, were also in white. Their gowns of net and lace were distinguished by small peplums, and they wore white plumes in their hair. Mrs. Schelke carried yellow roses and the bridesmaids pink.

Tiny Ursula Jean Schelke, niece of the bride, was flower girl in a frock of blue taffeta. Little Carl Vertz was ring-bearer.

Best man for Mr. Fahringer was Arthur J. Schelke and guests were ushered by Jim Connors, Joe Alsheimer, the Rev. Robert Frye and John Englemann.

For the dinner reception in the church and the open house in the Ludelfs home, the bride's mother chose a costume of aqua wool with black accessories and pink camellias. Mrs. Fahringer, who came from California for her son's wedding, wore a gold suit with black accessories and a corsage of blue iris.

The young couple are making their home in the Lee Plaza. Mrs. Fahringer was graduated from Grosse Pointe High and attended the Detroit Conservatory of Music. Her husband has just been discharged from the Navy after almost three years service.

ENDOCRINE contains ACTIVOL, an effective supplement for women's own natural, skin-beautifying substance, which, as it is absorbed by the skin, helps restore normal growth to aging cells and tissue. If you really want to replace war with peace, let war between you and the next man cease.

Dr. Frank Fitt performed the 8 o'clock ceremony, which was followed by a reception in the church parlors.

For her wedding Marion wore a simple gown of white brocade, fashioned with high round neckline outlined in seed pearls, long sleeves and full skirt. Her fingertip veil fell from a tiara of beaded flowers, and her flowers were orchids and stephanotis.

Elizabeth Bishop was maid of honor for her sister and Claire Davenport was bridesmaid. Elizabeth was in aqua jersey and Claire in shocking pink net, both dresses made like the bride's. They had tulle and beaded head-dresses and carried colonial bouquets of pink carnations.

Best man for Signalman Burchenal was Robert E. Chesborough. Ushering the guests were Samuel Fittes, George Moffatt and Louis Farr.

Mrs. Bishop pinned her corsage of baby orchids in a rose shade to an afternoon dress of rusty rose. Her feathered hat was of black and rose. Mrs. Burchenal selected a navy hat and gown and gardenias.

The young couple left for a brief wedding trip, after which the bridegroom will report to Grosse Ile.

Town Hall Books S. R. Montague

Sidney R. Montague, former member of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, and now one of the country's most vivid and exciting speakers on the Alaskan frontiers, will lecture at Detroit Town Hall in the Fisher Theatre, Wednesday morning, February 27, at 11 o'clock.

The speaker is nationally known as an authority on the far north. For six years he served as a Royal Canadian Mounted Policeman doing extensive patrol duty in the outposts of civilization, where he learned to know the Arctic and its people as no other man of our time. In more recent years he has followed with interest the magnificent feat of engineering which was required to plan and build the Alcan highway through the wilderness of the North.

During his service with the police force he lived among the Northeastern Eskimos on the rim of Baffinland, a short distance from the North Pole. He was stranded on floating ice, almost starved to death twice, but lived to fly by plane over the desert of snow and ice in Baffinland and Ungava.

Montague has chosen "Alaskan Frontiers" for his lecture subject because he believes that the next migration of men will be north to Canada and the Arctic Circle because of the "vast undeveloped wealth in the Far North."

We might worry less about when our soldiers are coming home and more about what they will find when they get here.

He entered the Navy in January, 1945. He has been stationed at Norman, Okla., and Jacksonville, Fla.

Thomas was graduated from Grosse Pointe High School, in 1944, and attended Wayne University, Detroit, Mich.

ALVIN EDWARD KLINE, MoMM 3/c, has been given his honorable discharge from the Navy and returned last weekend to his home at 2049 Lochmoor boulevard. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin J. Kline.

It is doubtful if any Pointer saw more real action during the war than Alvin. A transcript showing the decorations he is authorized to wear tells a graphic story of what he went through. He is entitled to show 9 stars on his Asiatic-Pacific ribbon. He was in the Bismarck Archipelago operation from June 1943 to May 1944 seeing action at Kavieng, the Gilbert Islands, Marshal Islands.

He was in on the attacks on Truk, the Marianas, Palau, Yap, Ulithi, and Woleai, Satawan and Ponape. Operations took him into action in Western New Guinea at Hollandia. He was on three raids in the Bonin Islands and in the Battle of the Philippine Sea on June 19-20, 1944.

He took part in the Western Carolines operations from August to October 1944 and went to Leyte early in October of that year. The Okinawa Gunto operation kept him busy from March 17 to June 30, 1945 and he was present at the capture of Okinawa. His ship was the USS Cowell (DD 547). His Philippine Liberation ribbon carries two stars.

Alvin is a graduate of Grosse Pointe High School, Class of 1943.

FIRST LIEUTENANT ALBERT TROWELL was discharged last week from the Marine Corps. He has been overseas 14 months and saw service at Okinawa, in the Marshall Islands and in Japan. He is at home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Trowell, of 218 Fisher road.

Lieutenant Trowell's father was the contractor who built the new home of the Grosse Pointe News.

HAROLD KNOLL, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Knoll, of 136 Mapleton road, Grosse Pointe Farms, was commissioned an Ensign recently on his graduation from Fort Trumbull, the United States Maritime Service Officers School. He has just completed a short visit with his parents.

Grosse Pointe Officials Prepare Budget Estimates

City department heads in Grosse Pointe City are busy preparing their estimates for 1946-47 for incorporation in the new city budget. The same will be ready for submission to the council at its meeting next Monday night.

Committee Gets Woman's Views

The Juvenile Detention Home Committee of which Carl Schweikart, the Supervisor of Grosse Pointe Township, is chairman, had a meeting Wednesday afternoon, called for the express purpose of permitting Mrs. Ruth Huston Whipple to give her views on the short comings in the administration of the home.

Mrs. Whipple is a councilman from Plymouth city as well as representing the city on the County Board of Supervisors. The reports were not in yet at the time of writing but they are to the general effect that the lady said plenty, with much of which the committee agreed.

The committee insists however that when the recommendations it has made for enlarged facilities for the home, including the segregation of the two classes of inmates, have been complied with by the County Board, the cause of many of the charges will be removed.

Debut Scheduled For Ellen Berg

Ellen Berg, Detroit's 16 year old lyric soprano, will make her musical debut Monday, February 25, at 8:30 p. m. at Music Hall. Famous composer-pianist Frank La Forge, who has coached Ellen since she was 10, will accompany her at the piano.

Though Ellen has appeared in public on numerous occasions, her first appearance as a soloist with an orchestra was when she sang, at the age of 10, with the Bridgeport, Conn., Symphony Orchestra. Then a year later, she made her musical debut in New York at a Young People's Concert by the Philharmonic Symphony under the direction of Rudolph Ganz.

The New York critics praised both her voice and natural stage presence. Her last outstanding public appearance, however, was two years ago when she sang with the NBC Symphony orchestra, with Leopold Stokowski conducting.

Her repertoire includes songs in Italian, French, German, Spanish and English. Selections included in her February 25 concert program will be: "Un moto di Gioia," "O, Willo, Willo," "Air de L'Enfant," "Estrellita," and others.

FRANK GAGEN'S musicians celebrate pretty blonde songstress EILENE FAYE'S 2nd anniversary at the LONDON CHOP HOUSE. The long-haired GYPSY TRIO with exotic MARIAN GRATER join in the toast.

Churchmen to Don Women's Clothes in Fashion Show

From playing a good game of baseball to modeling ladies fashions is the reason life never becomes drab for the men of the Sigma Zeta Class of the Jefferson Avenue Methodist church. On March 1 and 2 in the church gym at 8 p.m. they will put on a fashion preview and model women's clothes for friends and neighbors of the church.

Ladies fashions from beach wear to evening gowns will be shown, modeled by the following men: Powell Elrod, Harold Hudson, Alex Patton, Julian Gossom, Allan McGrath, Fred Mehrer, Warrin Murray, George Smithers, Harold Redshaw, Will Middleton, Stan Heade, Roy Langdon, Othel Gossom, O. Byland, Dan Norman, Art Meserve, Charlie Leslie, Burton Easter, Neil McDonald and Garnet Hart.

Unitarians Plan Debate on OPA

War restrictions are being lifted. There is a serious debate in the minds of many whether they are not being too rapidly removed. The OPA is one of these.

The Discussion Group of the Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church meets Sunday evening to thrash out this subject. Important experts will participate in the presentation: Allen Brown, Detroit attorney and editor of the Jewish Congress News; John Scoville, former Chrysler economist, and Miss Helen Moore, secretary of Inter-organization committee for price control extension. Mrs. Oswald Gruhitz, chairman of the Discussion Group, cordially invites all who are interested to attend this meeting.

Neighborhood Club News

Humorette Hop
The Humorettes, a girls' club of the Neighborhood Club, are giving a dance on Friday night, February 22 at 9 p.m.

Junior Sports Club
The first meeting of the Junior Sports Club took place February 13 at the Neighborhood Club. The officers elected at the meeting were: President, Sally Walker; Vice President, Rita Lithausen; Secretary, Peggy Haley; Treasurer, Priscilla Warras; Social Chairmen, Sheila De Polo and Katie O'Keefe.

The club started the season with badminton and will continue with different sports throughout the year. All girls who are between the ages of 13 and 16 are invited to join.

Mystery Hour
The Mystery Hour at the Neighborhood Club on Tuesdays from 4 p.m. to 5 p.m. is for girls from the ages of 6 to 12 and is proving to be a great success. The girls have been organizing into teams. The Black Cats are captained by Jean Reno, the Black Owls by Patsy Sheppard, the Hermits by Nancy Clow and the Black Spiders by Joan Alkema. At their surprise Valentine Party last Tuesday the girls played special Valentine games and drew pictures of their Valentine beaux which resulted in Sinatra screams.

Of course the Mystery Hour is a real mystery to the girls until they get to the Club on Tuesday afternoons. No one knows what might happen—but you may be sure it will be fun.

Kid Bits

By Betsy Bachmann

Almost everyone was at the exciting basketball game between Grosse Pointe High and Royal Oak on Friday night. The Varsity club was on hand to keep the crowd back and the 12A class did its bit by selling candy. The drum majorettes, under the leadership of Barb Molyneux and Rich Winkler provided entertainment during the half.

An after-the-game session was held over at MARTHA ARMSTRONG'S. Some of the kids there were Marilyn Lamb, Macky Macpherson, Mitz Cronin, Dolly Lisse, and Janie Sheaffer.

The Country Day gals entertained on Saturday night with a hag dance held at the home of HILDA WARNKE. Joan Mulford was there with Bob Smith, Martha Johnson with Art Marshner, Sally Sutherland with Artie Davis, Sally Watters with Charley Morris, Jane Kuhlman with Bill Hamilton, Pat McKean with Dave Robb, Connie Preble with Chud Edwards, Nona Hemminger with Jim Toussany, Sally Frost with Ted Osius, Jo Collins with Ted Borrel, Mary Bird with John Trost, Nancy Hall with Wally Guesquiere, Susan Sattley with Dorence Borrel, Penny Kemp with Bob Ford, Dawn Osius with John Pemberty, and Bunney McKinnon with Steve DuBrul, while the list of hags included Joyce Mulkey, Martha McClintock and Flo Spaulding.

BARBARA GREENLEAF gave a Valentine tea Saturday. Some of the kids seen there were Betty Brooks, Louise Mohn, Jean Wilcox, Nancy Lightbody, Marge Bottis, Pat Fell, Donna Hardleben, Pat Sibtter, Dale Ramsay and Martha Armstrong.

After the movie on Saturday night, Julie Dickson invited some of her pals in for cokes and dancing. Julie was with Post Forden, Mary Stuart MacDonald with Gus Davis, and Judy Frost with Don Osborn.

JOANIE WERTZ gathered all her friends together before the S. A. Dance and fed them a huge dinner. Just a few of the 23 people who piled into her house were Barb Greenleaf and Eric Anschuetz, Thelma Life and Bob Winning, Carol Kleider and Walt Smith, Sue Matson and Bill Boales, and Tom Rice, who was Joan's date.

BIG VALENTINES were the decorations at the "Love's Leap" held at the high school on Saturday. Roston Clark supplied the music for one of the nicest S. A. dances we have ever seen. Dates included Margie Bull, Joe Kennedy, Jeannie Hogenstein, Jack Avery, Bonnie Wegman, Peder Field, Dolores Jackson, Chuck Gibson, Joan McGinty, Mike Chagot, Andy Londe, Jack Flattery, Mary Ann Queen, Bill Penoyer, Pat Fell, Bud Horsley, Doris Grieve, Donald Keller, Annie Wakeman, Ed Isby, Dodo Guimond, Tom Ronan, and Sue Hughes and Tom Mercier. Harry Mack, Joe Fromm, George Beaty, Frank Knope, Jerome Remick, Ted Fuger, Jack Scott, Denny Thomas, Conrad Ott and Graham Mickle made up the stag line.

"Kiss of Death"

By LAWRENCE RANDALL
As Told to Mary Madison

The air was as hot as a jockey's seat on the home stretch. I was floating. My head reeled. Give it to it. Just float, bubbling along with the buoyant abandon of a soap bubble in Lauren Bacall's bathtub. Stop trying to think coherently. Out here on this lake somewhere, down in the heavy water, was a Cartier's urn. An urn of perfumed dust. I had to reach it, rescue it. I had somehow to locate that enchanted cargo.

What was that? A whizzing pain whirled off in a pinwheel of agony in my nerves. My head has exploded, that's what's happened. But what was that terrific vibration? The clanking of fire-bells? They wouldn't go and have an earthquake and a fire at the same time on me.

It was really happening, though. Here was the hose! I opened my eyes in a splash of water. There, bending over me was, of all people, Mabel, who should have been at her switchboard. Mabel always stuck to her switchboard like a wireless operator on a torpedored ship.

"Mr. Randall!" she was screaming. "What's happened to you?" I tried to touch the exploded balloon of my head. "That's anybody's guess." "Didn't you hear me ring your phone? I even put on the howler. Lieutenant Carroll wants to speak to you."

"Another splash on my face. Put down that hose, Mabel!" "This isn't a hose. It's the bathroom spray. I couldn't seem to bring you to. I hadda come up here when you wouldn't answer. Lieutenant Carroll said to rouse you—"

Mabel put her hand under my head, tried to lift me up. With a thud she dropped me back on the pillow. She raised her arm. Her hand was dripping with blood. The telephone rolled with a raucous clatter off the edge of my bed.

"God Almighty!" she drew in her breath. "Somebody musta conked you. There's blood on this phone, too. They musta hit you on the head with the phone." "That's an understatement, Mabel. Someone picked up the General Motors Building and hit me with it."

"I'll get the doctor. Don't you leave this bed," she added superfluously. Mabel came back with a blonde young doctor who must have learned his first-aid technique in a Hollywood make-up studio. He was bandaging my head in a wrap-around Lilly Dache turban effect from the Far East. People would start calling me Sabu.

Mabel was hovering in the background, only she leaped around too much to be a good hoverer. She seemed to be playing outfield with the doctor. When the doctor was finished he offered me a capsule.

I said: "Thanks, doctor. I'd rather not have a sedative." "This is a pain killer. You may need it. I'll leave some here for you. Just rest today. You'll be O.K. but I'd like to have you come to the hospital to have some X-rays taken."

"Thanks. I don't believe I'll need X-rays, doctor." I could see the turbaned bandage in the mirror. I was afraid the X-rays would turn out to be in technicolor.

Mabel said she'd left the elevator boy in charge of her switchboard. She went into the kitchen and started making a pot of coffee for me. She was still in the kitchen when Carroll came thumping in.

"What the hell's happened to you?" he demanded. "You served them toasted cheese sandwiches and Pepsi while they sat around the fire and sang. Andy was with Ted Liket, Mitz Cronin with Don Winslow, Marilyn Lamb with Ched Swenson, and Ione Hedges with Bill Moll."

MRS. LEO BIGGS and her daughter, PHYLLIS, gave a mother-daughter tea on Sunday afternoon. Mrs. E. Dalrymple was there with Janet and Nancy, Mrs. C. H. Ewing with Mary Lou, Mrs. W. Leininger with Ann and Jane, Mrs. V. W. Hughes with Sue, Mrs. B. Siffert with Mary Trumbull, Mrs. H. Donnelly with Dot, and Mrs. Joyce with Sallie.

"Right. So the substitution was made by someone at that table. You see what that means. With the exception of Guy Zingler, yourself and myself the people at that table were the same ones who were at the table the night that Miranda Ames was killed. One of them took those pearls." "And one of them murdered Miranda." I finished for him. (To Be Continued)

Churchmen Hold Annual Election

At the recent annual meeting of the Grosse Pointe Congregational Church Men's Club the following officers were elected for the year 1946: president, Edward Key; vice-president, Clinton F. Berry; secretary-treasurer, Edward S. Bloom; board members, Ernest L. Ray, Edgar H. Sims, William Drysdale, Karl Schaltenbrand.

Clare Sober and Elvin Hoffman were elected co-chairmen of the Program and Entertainment Committee with the following to work with them as members of that committee: Lawrence Westerdale, Lawrence C. Pace, S. M.

Heustis, Paul L. Kolvoord, Herbert W. Lester, O. L. Wigton, William Drysdale, Walter Frizell, Karl Schaltenbrand, James C. Bolles, John A. Bell.

DIRTY TRICK

The all time low in car molsters was reported, by Gerhard Wobermann of Devonshire last Thursday night. While it was parked in front of 1022 Buckingham, some youngsters with a twisted sense of humor cut the fan belt and the water hose.

Do not cool your pressure cooker too suddenly or you may warp or crack it.

Good Points and Bad

by RAY HENRY

Of the People

LOOK FOR an early opening of Francois' eatery on Fisher road now that FRANK LEMMER has awakened and found the girl of his dreams. She is RITA IBOLENE LEDDY, a charming brunette. They were married February 11 and while they honeymoon, congratulations pile up. JOHN CHAFFEE of Rivard boulevard has gone into business for himself—commercial photography. MAJOR D. WALTER ALLARD of Hillcrest, now stationed in Dallas with General Walker, is convalescing from a major operation. Enemy shrapnel—lodged in his stomach—was successfully removed, and Walter is eating three squares again.

Because of a hundred dollar bet, CLIFF DEHATE climbed on the well-known wagon. Cliff is doing fine—been in since the first of the year—but in order to collect the bet, must stay on until next New Year's Eve. The J. LAWRENCE BUELL, JR., of Vendome, have purchased a home in Indian Village, and will occupy it soon. MRS. E. P. HAMMOND'S boxer puppy averages two phone calls a day—to come and get him—he wanders that often from his Merriweather home.

DELPHINE DUCKETT'S engagement to LESTER BRATTON, JR., of Glenview, Illinois, terminated a career at Johns Hopkins. ROSALIE GIGANTI is out of danger and out of the hospital. A suitable home has been purchased for the Giganti family. Funds you so generously sent in to Good Points & Bad will help furnish the home.

February 22nd
YOU WON'T find it in the text books, but GEORGE WASHINGTON, whose birthday we celebrate this week, was a connoisseur of wines. He had a cellar full of the better vintages at Mt. Vernon. His favorite wine was Madeira. When George cut down the cherry tree, creating the early American legend that he could not tell a lie, he may have been thinking, too, of cherry wine.

Curling
ALTHOUGH THE BIG bonspiels are over—the All American and the International—there's still plenty of curling going on at the old Detroit Curling Club on Fourth, with numerous Pointers participating. Health Commissioner THOMAS S. DAVIES of Washington road curls every Thursday night. Tom is an old timer at the game, having first curled at the club way back in 1897. DR. JOHN W. MACKENZIE of Berkshire, dentist STANLEY A. MACKENZIE of Lochmoor, JUDGE FERRIS H. FITCH of Merriweather and ROBERT BEATTIE, M.D., all sweep a fast stone over the artificial ice. HERBERT MORLEY of Berkshire often curls his foursome into the prize money.

Real Estate

HIGHLIGHT of the last meeting of the Grosse Pointe Brokers Association was the presentation of a fine Gruen watch to PAUL MAXON of Moran road—the new president—for his many constructive contributions made by Paul during his ten years as secretary. Paul succeeded ROY HADLEY, and presided at his first meeting. The new treasurer is HUGH CHALMERS; and new secretary, ED O'CONNOR. The officers were so new, in fact, that treasurer Chalmers, whose signature had not yet been authorized at the bank, was unable to write a check covering the club's luncheon. Rumor has it that Hugh dug down in his jeans and paid with his own hard cash.

Candid Exposure

Cleaner Granted Building Permit

There was a lengthy discussion before the Farms Council Monday night on the objection, real and fancied, on the too great neighborliness of a dry cleaning establishment to private dwellings.

Attorney John Miller, who is himself a resident of Grosse Pointe was present representing a client, a Mr. Sperzel, who wants to locate such an establishment at Mack and Cloverly.

Several residents of Cloverly near Mack were present to voice their objections, but, on listening, they seemed to be aesthetic rather than practical. One party the borrowed equipment and temporarily terminated her photographic career. Jim is currently enjoying that army finale—loving leave—and will start his own commercial photog agency soon. We're sort of looking for Jim and Lucile to prove that two photographers can live as cheap as one, but both quip: "Don't look now."

Food Line

THE CAPUCHIN Charity Guild's drive for their annual Food Fund is underway. The party, on March 13, will feature everything from nylons to automobiles. DANNY HOLEFCA, home from the Navy, has tickets: LE. 3498.
