WALTER REUTHER, head of General Motors Division of UAW, assures there will be full peace in all General Motors plants within a week... implies that UAW leaders are working day and night to compose local differences and hasten opening... apparently the announcement by GM that all of its plants would remain closed until all could open and operate simultaneously made a deep impression.

THE AMERICAN government shows no inclination to ease its pressure for a showdown on Russia's continued occupation of Iran. Acquiescence with Russia's request for a postponement of the issue before the UNO Security Council unlikely, as postponement of the issue can only be made by a unanimous vote.

SENATOR PEPPER, of Florida, recently returned from a visit to Russia, suggests an early conference of the Big Three... says a working unanimity can only be obtained by such a meeting, not only of the three political heads of the three major states, but should also be attended by the leading military men, leaders of the workers, business men and statesmen.

BOTH HOUSES OF CONGRESS have passed and sent to the President a bill making permanent the five-star war time rank of four general and four admiral... The bill also provides for the promotion of a Coast Guard admiral... These affected are five-star generals Eisenhower, Marshall, Arnold and MacArthur, and Admirals Leahy, Halsey, Nimitz and King. Rank of Marine General Vespergriff and Coast Guard Admiral Waeche also made permanent. This action follows the precedent adopted after World War I when General Pershing was elevated to permanent rank, which he still holds.

THE GOVERNMENT in Belgium of Paul Henri Spaak is defeated by a coalition of Social, Christian, Party members, and Leopoldists, both right wingers, on a vote of confidence by 90 to 89... Spaak is the president of the United Nations' Assembly. His resignation with that of his 16-man cabinet is expected.

DSR EMPLOYEES have called for a strike vote not later than March 31... Manager Richard A. Sullivan says they are not entitled to the 18c per hour increase they demand.

BLACK MARKET in meat continues to flourish... OPA says the best hope of fighting it lies in winning the cooperation of housewives in observing price ceilings.

DIRECT NEGOTIATIONS BETWEEN Iran and Russia, having failed of their purpose, Iran sent a letter to UNO asking for a postponement of the meeting to April 10.

THE COMMUNIST DOMINATED Cabinet in Bulgaria indicates Russia is having trouble with her dominated border states, and that a suggestion from the United States that the government be broadened to admit opposition party leaders may be adopted.

Future Names to Be Placed On Grosse Pointe Honor Roll Puzzle Association

Face Question of Whether Men Inducted Since V-J Day Should Be on Memorial

The Grosse Pointe Honor Roll Association is deeply concerned over what names may hereafter be fitting for perpetuation on the panels on the temporary memorial in the southwestern corner of the High School grounds.

The primary purpose of the roll was to display for public view the names of the men and women of the Pointe who entered actual war service. Now with the combat phase of the war over the question has arisen whether or not those young men who entered the army since V-E and V-J Days should be so perpetuated.

The question has been thrust directly at the officials of the Association by queries that have come to them from parents of boys who have been drafted into the military forces since the combat phase of the war ended. Proud fathers and mothers cannot see why their boys' names should not be enrolled on the panels. Their argument is given support by the government acknowledged fact that there are still thousands of Japs on islands in the Pacific area who do not yet know that the war has ended and doubtless there will be a sort of guerrilla warfare carried on for an indefinite time in these isolated areas.

To get light on the question the local Honor Roll Association has consulted with both the Army and Naval Intelligence services. Neither of these are prepared to give a definite opinion on the matter. They both agree that the combat phase of the war is legally over, but the

Autos, Trees Unfortunately "Get Together" Sunday

Early Sunday morning seemed to have been an unfortunate period for the automobile-tree relationship.

A car registered to C. K. Ly-singer, of 821 Whittier, was found in front of 1232 Whittier with the body badly damaged. The car had struck a tree about 100 feet south of Mack avenue on the west side of Whittier. Later in the day, Thomas W. McCormick, of 821 Whittier, came into the police station and reported that he had been the driver of the car.

At about the same time a report came into the Park station that a car was on fire at Jefferson and Harvard, and that a man was injured. This accident sent

Charles H. Fletcher, Jr., of 176 Vendome, to the Bon Secours Hospital for treatment for lacerations and bruises on his face. Fletcher, while driving east on Jefferson, had "struck a tree."

The bad luck with trees carried over into the afternoon, when a car belonging to Newton Jones, of 2144 Philip, Detroit, and driven by his brother, Robert P. Jones, of the U. S. Navy, crashed into a tree in front of 1209 Nottingham. In making a left turn from Kercheval into Nottingham, he lost control of the car and ran over the opposite curb. The front end of the car was badly damaged and the windshield and bumper were broken.

News Praised For Editorial On Streets

Commissioner McMillan Cites Editorial in Discussion of Pointe Streets

At the meeting of the Board of Commissioners of the Park Monday night, Commissioner James McMillan, brought to the attention of the Board an editorial that had been published in the issue of the Grosse Pointe NEWS of the previous week commenting on the condition of Grosse Pointe streets.

He thought the article was timely and should be noted by the Park Village Commissioners. He read liberal excerpts from the editorial, which said in full: "The condition of many of the streets in Grosse Pointe are a disgrace to an otherwise well ordered community. The stranger coming here for the first time would be puzzled to understand how a strictly residential town, occupied with a higher proportion of beautiful homes than is found in almost any other place in the country, would tolerate such broken and disrupted pavements as are found directly in front of many of the finest homes."

"It may be that the ultra frugality of some of these home owners contributes to this condition but the thought persists that if the governing authorities were sufficiently alert to the appearance of the streets and the comfort of the citizens this condition could be remedied."

"And while our city fathers are considering the matter of streets, if and when they do, it would be well to give thought to the provision of two or three north and south highways somewhere between, say, Balfour and Fisher road, which trucks and heavy vehicles could use without endangering the lives and property of the residents of the region. Many of the north-south streets of the Pointe are so narrow that it is more or less of a dangerous

Child Injured By Taxi Taken to Hospital

A taxicab of the Grosse Pointe Taxicab company, driven by John J. Platt of 1256 Camden avenue, Detroit struck eight year old Gerald Michels of 1087 Lake-pointe Tuesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock.

He was taken to Bon Secours Hospital. At the Hospital his condition was reported as good on Wednesday morning, although the child had suffered recurrent nose bleed.

Postpone Vote On AAA Club Until Friday

Lack of Commissioners Permits Temporary Deferment of Action

The vote on the amendment to the Park zoning ordinance which will permit the erection of the Michigan Automobile club house at Somerset and Jefferson has been postponed until the next meeting of the Council which is now scheduled for Friday night.

Because only four commissioners were present Monday night and the amendment requires a three fourths vote, when protested by 20 per cent of the abutting property area, the matter was passed up. Commissioners Fritsch and Gillet were absent but expect to be back for the Friday meeting. If it is later discovered they cannot be present, the meeting, which was recessed Monday, will be called together again by the chair.

In anticipation that the matter was coming up a considerable number of citizens were present prepared to renew their protest. When President Parshall announced there would be no vote they left.

Mr. Bryant, of the Automobile Club who was present in expectation that the final disposition would be made, said that the interest of citizens who favor the club house has been aroused in the matter. Already more than 600 of them have signed a petition for the amendment allowing the club. Three hundred of these signatures were turned in Monday.

The automobile club is anxious to start construction as quickly as satisfactory building arrangements can be made.

Henry Whiting, formerly with the Packard Motor company, has taken over the property at Lake-pointe and Jefferson, occupied by the club since the start of the war, during which the Packard company did not need it, and already has begun to move in his equipment. The space the club now has been reduced and soon they will be out entirely. Mr. Whiting intends to operate a general Packard sales and service there and will need the entire property.

Council Passes Taxi Ordinance

The Park Council Monday night passed the long pending taxicab ordinance. It will be in effect within a week, or as soon as it has been duly advertised as required by law.

The ordinance makes the usual provision for examination of drivers, their fingerprinting and general qualifications determining their fitness for driving cabs. It also leaves to the police the designation of stands on the public streets.

Since the end of the war a lively interest has been shown in many quarters in the establishment of taxi service in the Pointe. Many service men who had experience in driving trucks, tanks and jeeps in the war want to get into the taxi business and several of this class are looking expectantly towards the Pointe, which languished so long without any service at all of this kind. Very soon every one of the Pointe municipalities will have such service with the possible exception of the Shores.

Sewer Project Held Up By Highway Dept. Rule

Village Engineer Murray Smith reported to the Farms council at the last meeting that the prohibition by the State Highway department for the use of roads in certain seasons by vehicles bearing a wheel load beyond a certain maximum has resulted in inability to bring up equipment needed in the completion of the Mack avenue sewer.

Normally such equipment carries a wheel load of 18,000 pounds, but when the ground is soft underneath the pavements in the spring this maximum is reduced by the Highway department. Recently, it has been only 13,000 pounds per wheel. When road foundations become harder the maximum is lifted.

'Tony' Protests Court Decision Requiring Him to Move Stand

Sends Attorney to Council Meeting; Commissioners Stick to Court Decision

Earnest Koinis, better known hereabouts as "Tony" the Popcorn man, wants to stay where he is, at Bishop and Jefferson. No small time issue has more plagued the Park officials in recent years than the disposition of this irritating case. Home owners in the vicinity have objected strenuously for a long time against the maintenance of this popcorn truck.

It stands exactly at the entrance of Bishop road on the south side of Jefferson and has enjoyed a robust trade for several years. His customers were by no means confined to the youngsters of the neighborhood, as attested by the number of cars that were habitually parked there evenings while their riders were buying Tony's corn and candy.

Finally the pressure grew so strong from the abutting home owners something had to be done about it. Tony had previously been kicked around two or three other locations in the Park and wasn't inclined to move. It eventually led to a lawsuit, which involved the question of the right of a municipality to control the use of its streets for business uses.

The Park won the case but it was accompanied by a compromise with Tony at the Court's suggestion, whereby he was to be permitted to remain where he was until April 1, 1946. This was apparently to give Tony a reasonable length of time to obtain another location.

Now Tony wants to stay where he is, as evidenced by the appearance of Howard L. Richards, Attorney, at the Monday council meeting. The American Legion has taken a keen interest in the case from the beginning. Koinis is a veteran of World War I and a member of American Legion Camp 303. Mr. Richards disapproved to the Commissioners a letter he had from the Legion certifying to his right to plead for Tony, at the request of the Legion.

President Parshall explained painstakingly to Mr. Richards that the Koinis case had already had an inordinate amount of consideration by the council and when the Court's decision was handed down in the matter they considered it settled. They still considered it settled. Mr. Koinis, he said, had apparently cheerfully acquiesced in the verdict and the special dispensation allowed him to continue temporarily where he was. But prior to that

No One Injured In Two-Car Smashup

On Saturday evening about 6:45, a Hudson sedan owned and driven by Samuel B. Rathbone of 13122 Elmdele, Detroit, going north on Beaconsfield, failed to stop for the stop sign at Vernor and struck a car owned and driven by William J. McEntee, of 5557 Grayton, Detroit. In the McEntee car, with Mr. and Mrs. Murphy of Audubon and Cornwall, Detroit.

The front end of the Rathbone car was badly stove in and the McEntee car had its side crushed in. By the greatest of good fortune not any of the occupants were seriously injured although both ladies in the McEntee car, suffered severely from shock.

Strenuous Solicitor Quietly Disappears

The periodicals solicitors, who have swarmed over the Park and City in recent weeks and have aroused complaints from many residents on account of their strenuous soliciting methods, ran into a check in the Park the other day.

The village laws require that a permit must be obtained before they can solicit. The simple expedient tried to control the matter, as requested by the residents was to refuse the permit. Many of them did not take the trouble to ask for a permit, but one who did, and was refused persisted in ringing door bells anyway had a ticket served on him hailing him

Red Cross Far Behind On Quota

Lack More Than a Million Dollars with Drive Two-thirds Over; Plead for Funds

A warning that the Red Cross drive here is in grave danger of failing was sounded Saturday by E. A. Schirmer, campaign chairman, who stated that while the campaign period is two-thirds over, the contributions total is slightly over a million dollars against a quota of $2,400,000.00. "We have not cried 'wolf, wolf' up to this time," explained Schirmer, "because we thought that as in all large campaigns, we were experiencing a lag that was only temporary. But we know now that we are in a very real danger of falling short. The Red Cross headquarters show that Detroit is last among the 14 large metropolitan cities in the United States in this campaign. Three of these cities, Milwaukee, St. Louis and Boston, have already gone over the top. "It is inconceivable to me that Detroit, with such a glorious record in such campaigns in the past, should let the Red Cross down, could fail our American soldiers in hospitals, overseas and at home—could fail our veterans here who come to the Red Cross for advice in obtaining their full rights under the GI Bill of Rights and for financial assistance."

"I wish each citizen would ask himself this question—what kind of a city would Detroit be without the Red Cross. Many have responded generously. Many have not yet. After all—the Red Cross is only you. The time is getting short and we are handicapped somewhat in covering our extensive territory. If you have not given, would you please send your check—now—to the American Red Cross, 153 East Elizabeth Street."

The actual figure, totaling all contributions received through Saturday in the 1946 drive, was $1,110,000.82 at mid-week.

Youths Toss Gasoline On Fire for Fun

Some boys saw a pile of debris burning in a vacant lot in the 1000 block of Bishop Sunday and conceived the bright idea of tossing a couple of unopened bottles of gasoline on the flames. The experiment was highly successful from a pyrotechnic standpoint.

The Park fire department came out, but found little to do. The youngsters were known to have arrived on the scene in a green Cadillac car. WRDR broadcast a description of the car, with instructions to get the youngsters.

Lakeshore G.M. Claims Unnecessary

Council Pleads Inability to Get Convenience from Non-Taxed Concern

Lakeshore Coach Lines, Inc., has definitely refused to go along with public opinion in the Pointe for the reestablishment of the waiting station at E. Jefferson and Barrington.

The waiting room that had been maintained there during the war as a convenience to the public when bus transportation was all important, was removed some time ago. It had been a transfer station for persons coming up from down town to carry them farther on one of the lines taking them nearer their homes. Passengers arriving there on the Weir Lane, Jefferson Beach, or Kercheval avenue line could transfer there to the next bus coming along on their desired route and meanwhile have a waiting room where they were protected from the weather.

The discontinuance of the waiting station aroused a protest from Pointers which was reflected in direct appeals from the various village councils to the bus company for its reinstatement.

The answer of General Manager John Tierney in a letter to the Village of Grosse Pointe Park, under date of February 12, which for some reason never saw the light of day in a public council meeting until last Monday night, clearly discloses the attitude of the bus company on the matter, and the argument is far from satisfactory to the waiting room.

Attention: Mr. Wm. G. Stammen, Village Clerk.
Dear Mr. Stammen:

This is to acknowledge receipt of your letter of January 31 enclosing two letters with reference to the waiting room located at the south side of E. Jefferson at Barrington road.

This waiting room was removed for the reason that it was a disgrace to the community in the manner in which it had been mutilated by certain people, some of the details of which were explained in an article in (Continued on Page 5)

Louwers Made Police Chief

Arthur E. Louwers of the Grosse Pointe Police Department who became the Chief of Police on April 1 has been a resident of Grosse Pointe Park for 24 years and for the last sixteen years a member of its police department. He was born in Detroit.

In recent years he has been head of the Detective Bureau with the rank of Lieutenant, which automatically made him the second in command in the department.

Lieutenant Louwers has had an exceptionally fine record in the department and his selection by the Board of Village Commissioners is universally commended by the citizens. Political considerations in no manner influenced his appointment.

Commissioners Missing; Result—No Appointments

The Park village council organized Monday night in a sort of skeleton formation. Commissioner Gillet was in New Orleans and Commissioner Fritsch was in Washington. Karl B. Goddard, whose term expires now, but who would hold over until his successor qualified, was reported to be in California. Mr. Goddard declined to run again for reelection this year.

Mr. Fritsch was sworn in before he went to Washington and Commissioner Joel C. Sage, who was reelected, was sworn in, but this left only Commissioner Ulrich and McMillan of the hold overs present. To assure a quorum of four A. J. Bloodworth, newly elected was sworn in.

President Parshall said because of the scant meeting he preferred to withhold announcement of committee and official appointments until the others were there.

AN EXPLANATION

To: The Harassed Traveler

Subject: Michigan Air Service

While Michigan Central Airlines' scheduled service is temporarily suspended, we are nevertheless endeavoring to continue flying service. Frankly, we would prefer to offer our former operation of three round trips daily at the minimum fare. But, until it is once more possible for us to resume service at even lower fares and with better schedules, we are compelled to carry on with charter operation.

We realize that charter rates are comparatively high, but ours are as low as possible in our attempt to satisfy our passengers' travel needs. This especially holds true in our flying service to the almost inaccessible north.

So, before you face the inconvenience and loss of time involved in a half day's jaunt to northern Michigan, why not give us a call? When we have a sufficient load, our old rates apply, rather than the charter rates. Saving in time, both going and returning... freedom from the inconveniences of ordinary travel... an excellent reason for your calling us and inquiring about our facilities.

Very truly yours,

MICHIGAN CENTRAL AIRLINES, INC.

to regulate the use of its streets.
Feddler Ordinance

Another angle of the case, upon which Mr. Marshall did not dwell was that the village had since amended its peddlers ordinance making it illegal to use the village streets as a permanent place of carrying on any business, and requiring that such merchandising as might be done from them would have to be limited to selling from door to door and the truck or vehicle carrying the wares would have to be kept on the move, stopping only long enough to make a sale. The permit to do this would also have to be given by the village.

It was an open secret at the time this peddlers' amendment was passed, it was intended to be applied specifically in Tony's case, although applicable to all. At the time the ruckus was on, Koinis had acquired a permanent store down Jefferson near Barrington, which he still has and where he manufactures a higher grade candy which he sells in the store and his truck outlet at Bishop. It was believed by the Commissioners then that there was where he intended to carry on his business when the Bishop stand had been abandoned.

Now, it seems he wants to stay, but received scant encouragement from the council Monday night.

Beginners with five years of training start at $2225 and advance to $3660 and $3936 for women and men respectively. The plan should be closely coupled with the fact that the Board of Education at the time of approving it, specifically provided that the Superintendent of Schools should set in motion as soon as possible a thorough and complete study of a more permanent plan to be submitted to the Board in March, 1947. This gives the Board and the Superintendent an opportunity to consider and study all problems of personnel as well as salary schedules.

The plan of study will probably include the services of an expert consultant in the field of school personnel to work with the Superintendent and the employees and lay-citizens. The study will include a wide range of problems. The objective of the study will be the type of salary schedule which the district can finance, the best standards possible in promotion, recognition of merit, training, experience, working conditions, hours, load and specialized services for a modern school system, as well as a schedule which will make teaching and other work in Grade Pointe schools attractive to the best available personnel. The results of such a study may change the arrangement for 1946-47 in many respects.

Names

What promises to be the beginning of a new order in Eastern Dawn services will be inaugurated by the Detroit Association of Evangelicals this year.

The service will be held, regardless of the weather, in the Open Air Theatre located at Harper and Seven Mile Road, on Easter morning at 7:30 o'clock. The theatre has a capacity of 1000 cars with loud speaker outlets between each two cars.

The speaker for this service will be Dr. H. H. Savage, Pastor of First Baptist Church, Pontiac, and he will be supported by the massed choirs of participating churches under the direction of Robert G. Woodburn, Assistant Pastor of Gratiot Avenue Baptist Church.

Those attending the service can remain in their cars or gather in front of the speaker's platform as they prefer.

Similar Open Air Theatre services have been held in other metropolitan centers for several years, notably Cincinnati and St. Louis, and have been very largely attended. If similar acceptance is shown at this service, it is planned to make it an annual affair, using additional theatres in Detroit and surrounding towns that are to become available within the next few months.

Three Boys Suspected in Damage to Dodge Estate

The caretaker at the H. E. Dodge estate on E. Jefferson avenue reported to the City police Monday morning of several recent depredations on the property. Three boys who had the habit of appearing on the property during lunch hour were thought to be the guilty parties. Recently the wire about the property had been cut in many places, a large earthen bowl had been thrown into the swimming pool and eight other jars had been broken. Serious damages had also been done along the breakwater.

MORE DRAFTEES

The local Draft board has received word from Selective Service headquarters that there will be another draft coming up in April. The exact number to be called is not yet known.

WATCH LOST

Mrs. Oscar L. Buhl of 505 Lincoln road reported to the City police on Tuesday morning that she had lost a wrist watch, platinum with diamond setting the night before between her home and the Punch and Judy theater. The watch was valued at $400.

war itself will only be terminated with a presidential proclamation, possibly awaiting the execution of a general treaty of peace, which may be a long time in coming.

The Army intelligence on being told of the local problem, ventured an unofficial guess that if the Honor Roll Association adopted a rule to bar all names that had been inducted 30 days or more after the president's official proclamation of V-J Day which occurred in the first week in September, 1945, it would be a just solution which would obviate the danger of any unjust omission of any entitled name.

The Honor Roll directors take the stand that the sole purpose in erecting the memorial was to honor those who saw actual service in the war while hostilities were in progress. They hold that it would be unjust to the boys who did the fighting, and in the case of almost a hundred who died, to confound their names with those who were merely taken into the armed forces after the fighting had stopped, by the continuation of the draft law.

Library for the Pointe

The recent request of the Grosse Pointe Board of Education for permission of the Farms to erect a quonset hut on the High School grounds at Fisher and Kercheval to serve as a temporary public library building should draw public attention to the long existing need for an adequate library in this community.

It has long been a matter of query why a community possessing the wealth and population and cultural aspirations found here should have so long neglected providing a library building that would conform with the place. We have a High School that is noted throughout the country for both its architectural beauty and the high type of scholarship which it nourishes; but a library which in appearance and equipment would complement the existing educational facilities has thus far been conspicuously absent.

In this connection it is timely to note that the idea of a beautiful public library for the Pointe has been one of the suggested forms for a memorial to Grosse Pointe men and women who were in World War II. This has been one of the most generally discussed subjects by the committee which is pondering the memorial. Incidentally, the committee is disappointed that there has not been a livelier interest shown in the memorial subject by the residents. Backed by the Honor Roll Association the committee has offered substantial prizes for worthwhile suggestions that might come out of a public discussion of the subject. The committee realizes that a community-wide interest might arouse some suggestion of greater value than any idea that has yet occurred to any of its members.

If any citizen of the Pointe has an idea of his own on the matter he is urged to let it be known. The local papers would be glad to give space to such discussion.

But meanwhile the action of the Board of Education for a quonset hut for a library is in itself an indirect invitation for an expression of public interest in the library memorial idea.

Inflation Boosts

The best assurance against inflation in this country lies directly along the pathway of the natural insistence of the American people for a more abundant and generous way for living. They have had it dinned in their ears during all the years of scarcity and denial they endured during the war that the good times would be on the way as soon as the war ended. Now the war has ended and they are all saying "show me!"

Delays through strikes in many basic industries have prevented the resumption of production. The people can't have the things everybody wants if they are not made. Presently this sprag will be removed, and then when production on a vast scale gets under way the second greatest menace of inflation will dissolve like dew before the rising sun. The black marketer who planned, through cornering certain necessities where the available supply was scarce, to make a quick cleanup will be justly asphyxiated in his own abundance.

It recalls the case of an elderly woman of German descent in the other war who never quite forgot the land of her forbears albeit she made a great gesture of patriotic service in the war charities of the period. She was apparently as busy in this field as a one armed paper hanger with flees. At that time there was no legally enforced rationing system which, however, by and large worked out pretty well. Sugar was scarce and Mr. Hoover, then our food administrator, appealed to the people not to hoard it and it was doled out in minute quantities in restaurants in little envelopes. It was sold only in small quantities, but always at reasonable prices.

This hausfrau's family consisted of her fifty five year old self and her sixty year old husband. They had no children but plenty of money. She arranged through a fellow countryman in the "sugar business" to buy a barrel (200 lbs.) at 27c per lb. Her prize was so good she couldn't keep it to herself but confided to female friends that she and "Charley" weren't going to be without sugar. They weren't; not for the entire course of the remaining lifetime of husband and self, and her friends had the enjoyable satisfaction of seeing "Emma" and "Charley" eat, in bitterness and woe, 27c sugar as long as they lived. The price of sugar dropped almost simultaneously with the armistice, to about 6c per pound, and they could scarcely give away their unholy cache.

This little experience is equally applicable to those who refuse to make the trifling sacrifice now asked for to aid the government in its program to help keep people from starving to death in Europe in the next few months. For those who plan to nourish the black marketers, it is pat.

Another bit of news of the day discloses a move in the making that will throw some more oil on the fires of inflation. We are told that a coalition is in process of forming between members of Congress in both Republican and Democratic ranks to boost the minimum national wage from 40c to 65c per hour. For some sections of the country a wage of 65c per hour would be wholly inadequate. In other sections it would be ridiculously high and work ruinous to the basic industry of the community. It would be an intrusion of government interference which would work incalculable hardships on large masses of the people.

Illustration: Some years ago certain economic bleeding hearts conceived the idea that the tobacco strippers in the South should be guaranteed a minimum wage of $2.00 a day. At that time in North Carolina, one of our greatest tobacco processing states, the rate for strippers was such that by doing a reasonably leisurely days work the workman could earn $2.00, but many of them by the time they had earned $1.00 or $1.50 grew inexpressibly tired and found excuses to quit for the day. When the $2.00 minimum was assured to them an intolerable situation immediately developed in the stripping lofts. The tobacco manufacturers preferred to have 1's work done by hand although machines had already been developed which did it fairly well. The result was they had to put in machines which cost about $8,000 each and thousands of people who had never done any other work in their lives except stripping tobacco were out of the only work they knew how to do, and they have never done anything since. The relief rolls in wide sections of the South bear eloquent tribute to this piece of "regulating" in private industry.

Use all your hidden forces. Do not miss the principles of this life and do not wait for circumstances to mold or change your fate.

All joys are yours if you put forth your claim. Once let the spiritual laws be understood... Material things must answer and obey.

Ella Wheeler Wilcox

Youth will be youth no matter which way you slice it. A very young and glamorous bride left here recently to take up her abode in another City, where her husband, fresh out of the Navy, got himself a job. The little house they found had no phone, so the bride went to the telephone company and said she'd like two phones put in immediately.

After the laughter died down, the Bell Tel gent told her she was barking up the wrong utility and didn't she know there'd been a war on? Not being a beauty for nothing, our heroine asked to see the head man. That worthy (not unmindful of a pretty face) told her she could have a phone as soon as one was available.

About a week later, the installation man arrived at her house, and with a short length of cord dangling from his hand, asked where she wanted the phone. "Oh!" murmured the bride, "That cord is MUCH too short... It won't do at all. With only one phone, we'll need about thirty feet of cord." The workman told her in a few telephonic words that she could take THAT one or leave it. After that impasse had been hurdled, he brought the phone into view... one of those tired old black jobs that takes two hands to operate. "GOOD GRIEF," screamed the little woman, "I HAVE to have a WHITE telephone. I wouldn't give THIS thing house room." We could drag this out to the proportions of a small novel... but to get to the unhappy ending, our bride now has a tall model black phone attached to five feet of cord... beautiful face, notwithstanding.

Well, the ten best dressed men are with us again! WHAT an achievement! It must make people like Eisenhower, Shostakovitch, Irving Berlin, Alfred Lunt, Henry Ford, Louis Bromfield, Dr. Charles Mayo, et al, feel that they've accomplished nothing whatever in life. What profiteth a man if he brings something valuable to the world, but never makes the 'best dressed man' list?

Unfortunately, we aren't acquainted with any of this years list... but we've seen Alfred Vanderbilt enough to wonder how he made it. If the lesser dressed males of the country want to get in the swim, they would do well to copy Mr. Vanderbilt... whose chief aim in life seems to be 'comfort'. We have seen him at race tracks wearing a tired old semi-raincoat and slouch hat with sweaty handkerchiefs... even as your boy friend and mine might refuse to wear. He never wears a stiff shirt with his dinner coat... and he's apt to wear 'loafers' with any and everything. This is not a criticism... we like the studied negligence touch... just wondering if he'd have made the list if his name had been Schmeer-case.

None of the articles we've read on the Florida sitcheetashun this year, mentioned the meat and grocery markets down there. From what we've heard, they deserve a mention, since they're in on the 'kill' same as the rest of 'em. A woman wrote to tell us the markets in Palm Beach, ferinstance, don't send any bills with the daily orders. At the end of a month, you get a statement from them... NOT itemized... so you have no idea what you're paying for anything. Another woman said she got a bill from a market for $500.00 for three weeks of feeding a household of 7 people! Another tells us she paid $9.00 for a bunch of fresh asparagus. Nice going! We like Grosse Pointe more and more.

A local boy fresh from overseas, told us this amusing incident. He and his buddy met a police dog in Germany that had been left behind the fleeing Germans. They adopted the dog, taught him a few American expressions and he soon became their friend. All the boys had pets over there and most of them tried to smuggle them to the U.S.

When our hero and his friend left, they realized it would be tough to smuggle a police dog on board, but they couldn't bear to leave him behind. They rigged up a hammock arrangement of two blankets, put the dog in it, and between them, proceeded to carry him aboard the ship. At the foot of the gangplank, each man had to call out his name to an officer. After each buddy carrying the dog called out his name... the dog let out a small bark to indicate HIS name. Before the astonished officer knew what had happened, the boys dropped the blanket... the dog got away up the gangplank and onto the ship and couldn't be found until the ship had sailed. Eight hours later he came up to his friends grinning from ear to ear. He's now an American citizen and loves it.

Russian John Q. C. Speaks

Prime Minister Stalin's reassuring message to the world that Russia desires World peace and regards the United Nations Organization as a serious move to that end came to the world like a breath of fresh air in an overcrowded and tense roomful of people. The plain people of the world, those who have to do the fighting and the dying when war comes, were especially heartened by the pronouncement. Statesmen, forever afraid of being deceived, kept their fingers crossed. This was particularly the attitude of the British leaders.

One of the most happy accompaniments of the Stalin statement came from the Russian people themselves who seem to have been permitted by the government to comment freely on the subject; in itself a good augury. In Moscow a policeman, a cook, a cashier, a housewife and a typist are quoted. The policeman says "that's the kind of answer everybody had been hoping someone would make." The cook says "war brings only disaster and unhappiness to Russia, as well as the rest of the world." The cashier says "Why should the people of the world go out and fight. The average workers all over the world don't want any war." From the housewife, "It sounds ridiculous to a Russian to be accused of being aggressive." The typist simply remarks "We've always believed in collective security and always will. Russia wants peace."

This doesn't sound as if any studied will for war was being engendered among the Russian people, as was the case in Germany under the Nazis.

It is well for the citizens of the world in general to keep in mind however that other disputes and irritations will arise. This is the period of flux and movement when dispositions are in the making which will determine the pattern of world international economic and political relations for a long, long, time to come.

But meanwhile, Mr. John Q. Russian citizen, living in the heart of Russian Communism, apparently feels free to express his personal opinion; and we find it practically the same as our own.

Talley Rant

by Helen Talley

If I say SPRING has arrived in New York, sleet will probably make a liar out of me tomorrow, but all the last week the squeaks and portents of Spring have been in the air. The very sound of the planes overhead is different. Horse-drawn carts of geraniums and pussypaws stand in the cross streets; old clothes men and scissor grinders chant their florid street cries; the little guy who grinds out the MARSEILLES on his hurdy-gurdy is around again, and ABE, the hunchback who sells shoestrings up and down on Madison between 59th and 61st has taken off several layers of underwear. The pitchmen have opened their transient offices on Broadway and the barkers shout, "Chinatown! Bus leaving in a few minutes!" With renewed hope. Across the street, pigeons on the ledge are making love. Yep, it's SPRING!

To clinch the matter—the CIRCUS is on the way. Posters are all over town—April 4th is the day. For many years before his death, DEXTER FELLOWS was the advance publicity man for RINGLING BROS. He told the most engaging stories about his beloved circus, his people, his animals—and especially his FREAKS. He knew them all intimately and was very fond of most of them. Some one asked him once, if the dwarfs and midgets had any feeling of inferiority because of their size. "Hell, no," said DEXTER, "they are the most concealed people in show business."

As I hurried alone down BROADWAY the other night, on the way to my CANTINE, I had occasion to remember what DEXTER had said. Coming toward me was a midget. All people intrigue me—particularly odd bits. I was dying to take a good, thorough look at the little man, but on the other hand, I didn't want to hurt his feelings—so I looked straight ahead. Just as we were passing, I slid my eyes to the side and glanced down at him. Not the slightest bit fazed, he was grinning up at me. "Hi, kid," he said, "got a date?"

STANLEY RIENHART, the publisher, dining at my house the other night told a good story. And incidentally, STANLEY is the bright mind who suggested the new title for the column—TALLEY RANT. One of his writers came back from EUROPE not long ago, and went to call on STANLEY. Naturally, the first thing RIENHART said, was something about when are you writing another book. "Well," said the author, MARCUS GOODRICH (who wrote DELILAH), "I can't start to work 'til I find an apartment." STANLEY rattled around on the phone and secured a nice flat. MR. GOODRICH is now at home and quite cozy. It took him ten years to write DELILAH. STAN says he figures to call him up in about a year just to ask if he has any paper in his typewriter yet.

Before dinner, at GENERAL and MRS. JULIUS OCHS ADLER'S, one night recently, I was having a diaphiri. GENERAL REED KILPATRICK, the president of MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, sitting beside me, said, "Tears drip from my eyes when I see that handsome drink. I am on a regime and this is my tenth day with no drinks and practically no food. Every thing I want to do, is either unhealthy, immoral, or fattening!"

I asked him—concerning the GARDEN—what he considers their biggest drawing card. He said that amateur basketball is the most popular sport. He said they gaze their success, not by how many they turn away. Every night they have a different attraction—unless it is a particular run like the ICE FOLLIES. As for seating—a fight requires only a small ring, so they are able to build the seats up to 20,000. A spectacle which needs a large arena, cuts down capacity considerably. They are sold out every night in the week, and attendance varies between 6,000 and 21,000. GEN. KILPATRICK said he considers the greatest performers of all time to be, SONJO HEINE, CARUSO and PAVLOVA.

Did you get to FLORIDA this winter? Well, I hope you let the little ALLIGATORS alone! Monkey with the wolves all you want, and paint your name on every little TURTLE you see, but stop punching holes in a box and sending baby ALLIGATORS all over the country. They don't like it! They don't like the food up North—and they don't like it in the East or in the West. They want to stay home in a FLORIDA SWAMP and have MALARIA. The FISH and WILDLIFE SERVICE says that they are becoming extinct—and then you'll be sorry. Where will you get your next handbag?

Michigan Mirror

Charles M. Ziegler, state highway commissioner, believes in doing things differently; well, at least, not according to the traditional Lansing pattern.

He keeps a vigilant eye on details and dollars, believing that both contribute materially to efficiency of the state highway department.

For example: Whereas his Democratic predecessors built up the state highway department as a strong centralized agency with a large staff of employees, virtually state-wide in scope and hence of major political value at election time, Ziegler has proceeded deliberately to reduce the department personnel by farming out state highway maintenance to 61 of the 83 county highway commissions.

Of course, perhaps unfortunately for his Democratic predecessors, these same county highway commissions are largely Republican in politics. Ziegler has many friends in the county organizations, whereas Murray D. Van Wagoner, for example, did not have.

And another thing to illustrate our point.

The state civil service commission, under its constitutional act, possesses legislative as well as executive powers. It lays down the law for state departments, subject only to possible Supreme court review.

For many months Ziegler has been contesting the right of the civil service department as represented by the commission and its director, Thomas J. Wilson, to have the final "say-so" on six-month salary increases which the average state employee is eligible to receive, PROVIDING his services are found to be "satisfactory."

Now many state officials might shrug a shoulder and promptly pass the buck to the civil service office with an excuse, "The people gave the civil service commission the power to act on salaries. So the matter is out of my hands."

But not Ziegler. No, sirree!

In this respect, the state highway commissioner is a bit old-fashioned at this state capital where more and more spending has been the rule, rather than the contrary, and where payrolls keep climbing in numbers and amount, administration in and administration out, regardless of the party in power.

A dollar is a dollar to Ziegler even in 1946. He rolls up his sleeves, wades into voluminous reports by the hours, and if he thinks he can save a few dollars and do so conscientiously, he proceeds to do it without delay. This zeal for economy and efficiency probably accounts for the Ziegler disposition to load himself with details, whereas other administrators are inclined to delegate details to their subordinates and to spend much of their time meeting the voters.

If he feels that an office girl has earned a merit increase in salary, he recommends it. But if her eyesight is deficient and therefore she is less efficient than she was ten or twenty years ago, he stoutly declines to recommend a raise.

"I am elected by the people and am responsible to the people for the efficiency of my organization," he said to us, as we dropped into his office the other day to inquire about 1946 highway plans. "And yet, because of the civil service policy, I have no control over the salary increases allowed to employees in my own department."

When we arrived for a brief visit, Ziegler was considerably wrought up over a letter released by Wilson, state personnel director, alleging Ziegler with "neglect, failure and refusal" to recommend salary increases.

Ziegler's reply, as given in a letter of March 6, retorted: "I always appreciate good employees and have never refused to pay earned and just raises to any employees whose capabilities, reliability and production were satisfactory."

Again proof of our observation that the present highway commissioner does not hew to traditional political custom. Whereas many state officials encourage salary increases for their department employees, keeping an eye on the time when the political campaign rolls around and volunteer workers are needed, the doughty Ziegler sticks to his guns. If the employees "earn" the salary raises, he'll say so. Until then, a firm and decisive "No!" And that's that.

And now regarding the 1946 program of the highway department.

Ziegler says he has one, but that it isn't possible to reveal it at this time.

First, the uncertainty of how soon contractors can get steel. Bridges, viaducts and overhead structures, for example, require lots of steel. And so do highways, too, we were told. "It may be three to six months before we can get steel," said Ziegler. "Who knows?"

Our Letter Box

Detroit 26, Mich.
March 14, 1946.

Fred Rannels, Sports Editor, Grosse Pointe, Mich.
Dear Mr. Rannels:

I read with great interest your item in regards to the proposed war memorial in the form of the field house for our schools and community.

I, personally was born in a small town in Indiana which had a population of 600 people and our small township had a consolidated high school with a gymnasium that needless to say would put Grosse Pointe High however. "I foresee no serious difficulty in 1946," he said.

As for funds, the department anticipates having about $26,000,000 for 1946 highway work under federal aid. Uncle Sam matches Michigan dollars 50-50 except for purchase of right-of-ways in which it participates one-third.

"For our first year's postwar program, with what we now have, plus what we will collect in 1946, plus $5,000,000 loaned to us by the legislature in 1944, we will have enough to match federal aid," said Ziegler.

Four state ferries will be operated during the 1946 tourist summer season, the commissioner said. "These four boats can take care of all traffic needs, except that at holiday time. At the worst of the 1945 hunting season, there was only a half-mile line waiting at the ferry docks."

As for the proposed Straits of Mackinac Bridge, that's a horse of another color.

Ziegler would rather talk about roads and putting men to work building them.

That is his business, and that's Charley Ziegler.

School's present gymnasium to shame.

In my earlier days I was interested in all types of athletics. I played baseball and basketball in high school in Indiana and at Notre Dame.

When I moved to the "Pointe," I naturally began to follow the high school teams and the great shock I received was when I attended one of the games and walked into the present gym.

I think your proposal is most sound and deserves the backing of every civic minded citizen in Grosse Pointe, who is interested in the health and moral standards of the youth in our community. Therefore, I would like to go on record as being a sincere backer of your proposal and will be glad to be of any assistance that I can in promoting your idea.

Yours truly,
A. C. WADE.

Pain Tells You

By FRED M. KOPP, R.P.H.

People shun pain, claiming it their greatest enemy, when in reality it is often a great friend.

Pain warns of physical disorders, sometimes trifling, often serious, which might develop dangerously had not pain given its warning.

But you need not wait on pain nor suffer its torments. A regular physical checkup by your doctor will prevent many painful experiences and ward off serious foes.

Do not use drugs except upon your doctor's advice, and obtain them then only from a reliable druggist.

Waiting Room

the January 24th publication of the Grosse Pointe News, which I am sure you are familiar with. The Walls were covered completely with obscene writings and pictures that would shock the mind of any person reading same and although same was repainted several times it did not take long before they would again be covered as above set forth.

In addition to that, at least on an average once or twice a week the windows would be broken, and the rear door was even kicked out and same had to be replaced. Not only that, on several occasions during the week the place was used during the night as a public toilet. So after discussing same with one of the members of your council it was thought advisable to remove same, not only for the above reasons but, because it was put up as a war emergency proposition during which time it became necessary for a large number of people to have to wait for a bus.

Also, it was contrary to your zoning ordinance and it was put up with the understanding that same would be removed at the time the parking lot was discontinued. Previous to the war there was never a waiting room at this location and we feel that conditions will work themselves out so that it will not be necessary to have one there in the future.

We would also like to point out at this time that we never had a waiting room on the north side of Jefferson, and we sincerely believe that there are just as many people transferred west-bound as east-bound. We have on order ten diesel coaches from General Motors Corporation, and within a week after the present strike has been terminated, four units of said equipment will be delivered to us and the balance of order within ninety days. We expect that this added equipment will eliminate part of this problem.

Trusting that we have explained our position on this matter, but in the event your council desires to have a representative appear and discuss the matter any further we will be very glad to do so.

Very respectfully yours,
LAKESHORE COACH
LINES, INC.

By John Tierney,
V. Pres. and Gen. Mgr.
The argument advanced by the bus company as one of the reasons why the waiting station should not be provided was that its location there is contrary to the village zoning ordinance. It is quite naïve.

Commissioners Lax
It is equalled only by the helplessness pleaded by the village commissioners when the matter was casually discussed Monday night. In substance the governing body of the village is unable to obtain for its public a great convenience from a public service corporation which it, and the rest of the Pointe councils, graciously permit to operate on their streets without the payment of one cent of taxes, directly or indirectly levied.

Any fourteen year old boy would know that the merest private hint from any member of the councils to the bus company, under the favored circumstances of its being in the Pointe, would produce results, instant.

Such a hint has obviously not been given, according to the disclosure in Mr. Tierney's letter. On the contrary he says that "after discussing the matter with one of the members of your council it was thought advisable to remove the same." The clear implication was that inasmuch as the village police were unable to assure ordinary protection for a public convenience it might as well be withdrawn.

adventure for a passenger car to negotiate them in competition with commercial vehicles.

"If the residents of Grosse Pointe wish to keep their community a beautiful residential area, let them insist on having all of the attributes which will make it so. Not any feature contributes more surely to this than well paved and well kept streets.

"The most casual glance about would tell any stranger that this is scarcely a poverty stricken community. His natural reaction is the query why such streets should be tolerated."

It was addressed to all of Grosse Pointe, but in the discussion of the subject which ensued the Commissioners confined themselves to the condition of the Park streets alone.

The general consensus was that while the war, with its accompanying difficulties of procuring labor and material had prevented them being kept in the condition of normal times, they felt that the Park had done a remarkable good job under the circumstances.

Village Manager Lane said that for the past three years the village had completely resurfaced an average of two miles each year besides making substantial repairs to all of the streets that were most in need.

There was no comment on the streets in the other Pointe communities.

Andrew Speed Weds Mary Elizabeth Harper

Ceremonies Held in Reid Memorial Church in Augusta, Ga.; Reception in Bride's Home

In true southern tradition was the recent marriage of Mary Elizabeth Harper, daughter of Judge and Mrs. John Campbell Harper, of Augusta, Ga. and Andrew Bissett Speed, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew A. Speed, of Lake Shore drive. The Rev. Massey M. Heltzel performed the late afternoon ceremony in the Reid Memorial Church in Augusta before an altar banked with palms, southern smilax and Easter lilies.

The lovely Georgia bride was gowned in ivory duchesse satin fashioned with marquisette yoke outlined in seed pearls, light bodice, short sleeves and a full skirt ending in a long train. For "something old" she wore a strand of seed pearls which belonged to her great-great-grandmother. Her bridal bouquet was of white roses and orchids.

Mrs. Walker Harper was matron of honor in a dress of ice blue distinguished by a square neckline with sailor collar, short sleeves, flared bodice and bouffant skirt. As bridesmaids Julia Hill, in mauve pink, and Margaret Stubb, in pale blue, had gowns made like that of the matron of honor. All three attendants carried arm bouquets of spring flowers.

The bride's cousin, Kitty Coleman, was flower girl. With her frock of pink net she had a nosegay of spring flowers. Walker Harper, brother of the bride, was best man for Mr. Speed. Guests were seated by Robert Stuntz, John Hall, Thomas Blanchard and Allen Pendleton.

For the reception in the Harper home which followed the nuptial service, the bride's mother chose a floor length gown of white crepe adorned with silver nail-heads. Her flowers were orchids. Mrs. Speed, who traveled to Augusta with Mr. Speed for the occasion, was in light blue with silver accessories. Her corsage was of gardenias.

For her wedding trip the new Mrs. Speed selected, a brown gabardine suit with brown accessories and an orchid corsage. The couple will make their home in Augusta.

Are you taking a chance on life or is life taking a chance on you?

Can Endocrine actually help make the face more youthful looking?

Do you know that now . . . through ENDOCRINE . . . scientific research has answered the above question for thousands and thousands of women with an emphatic "yes"? Moreover, it is doing this to a degree hitherto thought impossible. This is because ENDOCRINE helps improve the skin itself, not merely its superficial appearance. How? Well, only ENDOCRINE contains ACTIVOL™. This ACTIVOL™ is a scientific replacement for women's own skin-vitalizing substance. Absorbed by the skin, it helps to restore normal growth to ageing cells and tissue. Thus it aids the skin of face and throat to become firm, fresh, "alive," vibrantly youthful again. How better can you invest your cosmetic dollar? Try ENDOCRINE. Many report distinct improvement in only 30 days.

Elizabeth Potter Speaks Nuptial Vows in Paris

Marries Capt. Roger C. Hill in Traditional French Style; Couple Will Honeymoon at St. Moritz

Paris in the spring of 1946 will never be forgotten by Capt. and Mrs. Roger C. Hill, who were married in the beautiful French city Saturday.

The bride is the former Elizabeth Potter, daughter of Mrs. Lewis S. Potter, of Merriweather road, and the late Dr. Potter. Her Red Cross duties in Paris are in the personnel section.

Capt. Hill is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hill, of San Antonio, Tex. Following French tradition, the young couple spoke their wedding vows in a civil ceremony Saturday morning and crowned their nuptial days with a large church service in the evening.

For the morning rites Elizabeth wore a simple tailored suit. In the evening she changed into an exquisite gown of French design in brocade satin and a bridal veil made entirely of rose point lace.

The captain took his bride to St. Moritz for a two weeks' honeymoon. They will make their home in Paris until they are redeployed this summer. Since neither Elizabeth nor Roger received their sailing orders this month, they were unable to carry out their plans for a wedding here. The bride's two brothers, Lieut. George Potter and Sgt. Ted Potter, both of the Army Air Corps, expect to arrive from Guam this week.

By LILLIAN M. PEAR
MARK TOBEY SHOW
Mark Tobey was born at Centerville, Wisconsin in 1890. He studied in Chicago and New York.
From 1923 to 1931 he taught at the Cornish School, Seattle, except for two years he spent traveling abroad. From 1931 to 1938 he taught at Darlington Hall, Totnes, England. During these years of teaching in England he travelled all over the world. While living in China, he made an intensive study of Chinese brush work, and from this developed a use of decorative and expressive line in subtly toned background which he calls "white writing". He builds up imaginative and allegorical ideas, which remind one of the hieroglyphics of the Chinese.
Here is the work of an international American that in order to appreciate it one must be equipped with an active imagination, a "listening ear" and a "seeing eye". Here is the work of a man, a student of metaphysics possessed with a burning religious fervor, a man whose visions extend beyond world horizons.
At first glance one sees only a blending of lines and tonal qualities, and a fusion of Chinese characteristic sign writing rooted in 20th century painting. Over all this appears a translucent light which veils the color and almost gives a neutral somber touch, but upon closer study one sees under the veil of lacy lines, powder whites and blues, soft greys, wheat colors, and the brown colors of the earth.
In "Broadway Melody" one sees, hears, and feels the pulsation, noise and confusion of a large city. All the color and lure of Broadway is in the rosy tone of city lights. Glamor is publicized and exploited; the world of tomorrow is epitomized in lines across the canvas; the neon lights, electric and printed signs; the puppet who moves as he is pulled by the forces of nature and man, it is all there for the discerning eye to see. The worship of Bacchus, the allegorical figure with beast head and the human form swallowing a human form, is vice which destroys man. The strange bird of prey with a bird's head and human form symbolizes vultures of humanity who feed on human victims. An owl represents wisdom and learning. Airplanes and wheels of every size and kind represent industry, noise and confusion. The barker selling his wares, the strip tease burlesque, the haunts of the underworld, it is all here for the discerning eye to read.
In "Gothic" we sense the uplifting thought symbolized in all the structural Gothic forms of the arch and the pyramid as though pointing heavenward. Beautiful stained glass windows of myriad hues, the Madonna and Child, figures of the apostles, stairways and steps all leading one to the Infinite. Here in structural form is a microscopic x-ray of the structure of all the physical properties of a church, the flying buttresses, supporting pillars and keystone arch supports. Here is a canvas symbolizing man's loftier thoughts and higher realms of consciousness.
And here is a show that expresses all the generations and the symbols of civilization, surging turbulent life of modern cities, religious imagery and concept, and the microscopic element which expresses the essence of things, the work of a man who truly understood the words of Meister Eckehart, "If you see the kernel, then you must break the shell and the likeness, if you would know the realities of nature, you must destroy the appearance, and the farther you go beyond the appearance the nearer you will be to the essence."

Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Cowan of McMillan Rd. have announced the engagement of their daughter, Yeoman Second Class Jeanne Cowan of the Waves to Lieut. (J.G.) Victor Albert Ferrari, Jr., USNR. They will be married late in the summer. Lieut. Ferrari is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Albert Ferrari of San Francisco, California.

Special Radio Program For Garden Exhibit
The "Old Dirt Dobber", Thomas A. Williams of Nashville, Tenn., will broadcast his weekly program from the main auditorium of the Rackham Educational Memorial on Saturday, March 30, it is announced. The broadcast, which is sponsored by the Ferry-Morse Seed Co. and is heard each Saturday at 9:15 a. m. over Station WJR, will be a feature of a program to which all interested gardeners in the Detroit area are invited. Williams is coming to Detroit for the opening day of the Spring Flower and Garden Exhibition, presented at Convention Hall by the Michigan Horticultural Society.

By Betsy Bachmann
Saturday, March 16, SHIRLEY SCHAEFING called her friends together for a slumber party. The girls went down town to a movie first, and then back to Shirley's for hot dogs and pop before retiring. Among the 18 who were invited were Marty Feller, Gerry Enix, Pat Williams, Ginnie Johnson, Ernestine Grant, Marion Field, Edith MacIlroy, Toni Dawson, Barb Coulter, and Carol Glarke.
On Sunday, March 17, SUZIE CRUNKSHANK gave a tea at her home in celebration of St. Patrick's Day. Girls who arrived for the wearin' of the green were Barb Mann, Gerry Rounds, Barb Gregory, Sharon Ford, Felice Thorpe, Rosemary Raye, Nancy Schmidt, Mary Ann Mann, Norma Steenrod, Mary Gratzler, Doty Swartz, Carol Briggs, Helen Plath, Joan Blanchard and Marilyn Smith.
MARGIE BULL's friends honored her on Tuesday, March 19, with a surprise birthday party. The girls had a pot luck supper at Rosemary Johnson's, topped off with birthday cake and ice cream. Some of the kids there were Helene Hemeline, Margie Moschel, Pat Hollister, Betty Brooks, Debby Hersheleb, Nancy Balkema, Flo Michie, and Kay Morris.
A horseshoe, a railroad map of Maine, a Roosevelt dime, a 1900 Indian head penny, and the answer to problem 4, page 406, group A, in a plane geometry book were some of the things the kids on the TUXIS CLUB scavenger hunt had to find. After the hunt, last Thursday, the group went back to the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church for dancing and hot dogs. Among the blue-jointed couples were Katie Kalbflesch and Frank Wilton, Marie Smith and Dick Fox, Fran Fittes and Dick Swanquist, Marion Field and Rennie Peteman, Jean Jorstad, and Harry Mack, Joey Morrison and Bill Beardsley, Cecily King and Bud Horsley, Marilyn Lamb and Bill Queen, Annie Davis and Ed Isby, Macky Macpherson and Paul Friesse, Joanne Russell, and Doug Krieger, Mitz Cronin and Don Winslow, and Joan Bauman and Tom Redmond. Stags included John Rummel, Bucko Penoyer, Louis Champine, Dick Bracken, Jim Flom, Gerhardt and Don Drader.

LONG DISTANCE, TOO, SUFFERS TRAFFIC JAMS

THE Bell System serves over a million more telephones now than it did a year ago. That's one big reason why Long Distance calling has continued heavy even though the war is over. Sometimes traffic jams occur on certain circuits and calls are delayed. In Michigan, delays are more likely to be encountered on calls to other states. When the operator requests it, you can help tremendously by limiting your call to five minutes.
We're working hard to speed the day when all your calls will go through promptly. This year the Bell System is adding over 2,000,000 miles of Long Distance circuits, carloads of new switchboards, and training thousands of new operators. Yes, we're making progress. But we still need your continued help and understanding.

Woman Speaks At Camera Club

Mrs. Jean Elwell, outstanding print winner of the Fourteenth International Salon, will lecture at the Grosse Pointe Camera Club on Tuesday evening, April 2.

Mrs. Elwell, who also has been known nationally as a photographic exhibitor has chosen as her subject "Composition and its component parts." The lecturer's success in this particular field has been reflected in all of her photographic success. She will illustrate her talk with pictures that she has taken and which have been successfully hung in salons.

Mr. Stanley Kenn, the Club's president, has announced that in addition to the lecture there will be a judging of the members' prints on an assigned subject of store windows.

An invitation to the interested public to attend has already been issued by the Club's president. The meeting will be held at the Grosse Pointe Neighborhood Club.

CHI OMEGA MEET

who, where and whatnot

By Whoosie

PERSONAL APPEARANCES

Saw ADENA WRIGHT KING in a becoming brown and white cloth dress lunching with NANCY RANDALL MacDOUGAL. They "wear" a different look now that their best beaux are out of service, and a very happy one it is.

Add to happy looks, ANNE FINKENSTADT BROWN'S. No doubt having something to do with her recently announced engagement to LYLE DEVLIN, JR. She was collecting for the Red Cross in a most becoming plum suit.

ANNE BLACK was dashing in two ways when I last saw her; in stunning tweeds and across Kercheval.

Two of our most attractive "young marrieds" RHODA NEWBERRY LORD and PEGGY WILLIAMS MONRO were seen shopping and being "helped" by OLIVE LARNED.

EDITH SEYBURN STOEPER looks very smart in an all black costume she wears with a black hat just to be different!

HIT PERFORMANCES

As one walks through our town any fears entertained as to a diminishing birthrate are quickly dispelled.

In one of our dailies the result of a questionnaire submitted to six qualified persons was printed. The question, "If you were going to read just ten books, which ten would you do the most good?" brought forth the following list: All six chose The Bible first, and Shakespeare's Plays second. Five selected Plato's Republic and Emerson's Essays were chosen by three. It's interesting that all mankind agree on The Bible as it is the world's "best seller."

PILFERINGS

Thanks to Leonard Lyons: "PHILIP MORRISON, the atomic bomb scientist who worked at Los Alamos, witnessed the New Mexico test last year. When he returned to Los Alamos, the other scientists asked him a certain technical question about the bomb. After the Jap surrender, Morrison was sent to Japan to survey the damage done by the atomic bombs. He met Miyamoto, the Japanese scientist who had been working on atomic energy for the Japs. Miyamoto worked in a room 8 by 12, used a $4 testing machine, boiled his own rice and tea, and grew his own potatoes in the field outside his room. And Miyamoto asked EXACTLY the same technical question about the bomb as did the scientists at Los Alamos." This ought to settle all questions as to what should be done about our "secret atomic bomb!"

PLEASANT ROOMERS

My choice this week is the home of MRS. WESSEL-BOOTH on Provincial Road. As you enter this beautiful house you find a series of halls, as it were. The first is scarcely more than an entry way with a marble floor whereon were parked the cutest assortment of children's rubbers, golashes, etc. next to a covered radiator. Adjoining this is a larger hall with a marble floor inlaid with strips of green marble in a geometric pattern to form a border. There are two handsome antique Chippendale chairs placed opposite each other. The walls are papered with such a pretty design of white anemones in a wide strip banded with wide strips of buttercup yellow and grey. The main hallway is so large that it has been treated as a room and the result is very pleasing. The most striking feature is the circular staircase set apart from the wall at one end of the room. This just seems to float down from the second story. The balusters are of wrought iron painted white with a hand rail of walnut.

The color motif is yellow shading from a lemon shade to a buttercup and used with many variations of green and white. The rugs covering the hall and the staircase are of a thick soft nap with a geometric pattern in a subdued green.

A beautiful old crystal and delicately wrought iron chandelier is suspended from the ceiling near the staircase.

There are three French doors which lead to the terrace overlooking the garden. These are curtained with unglazed checks, patterned by flowers and leaves in shades of white, green and yellow. A design of lemon yellow ribbon "waizes" through the checks and adds a great deal to its beauty.

Two matching mirrors of pickled wood are hung over walnut semi-circular side tables placed between doors.

Across from these is a love seat upholstered in a rough material; delicate lemon yellow background with a zigzag pattern made of white string. Two small pillows of the unglazed checks are here and this is used again in the upholstering of a fine old wing chair, sitting in a corner of the hall. Before the love seat is a small table with a plant and cigarette boxes and ash trays, etc. on it. On either side are identical chairs of pickled pine upholstered in ice green brocade.

Your eye is caught by a gorgeous ceramic; a plate with a design of a squirrel on a branch in a circle of leaves and the colors of royal blue, green and brown are stunning. This graced the top of a beautiful old chest of drawers.

I don't see how anyone ever gets further in the house because the hallway offers such an invitation to be seated and be comfortable and enjoy yourself.

Spaeth to Appear On Lecture Series

Sigmund Spaeth, "America's most popular speaker and writer on music," has been selected for the bonus program of the Grosse Pointe Community Lecture Series—on Tuesday, April 2, 8:30 p. m., at the Pierce auditorium, Kercheval and Nottingham.

Mr. Spaeth will present "Music for Fun," which will be illustrated at the piano. A typical Spaeth program is neither a concert nor a lecture but solid entertainment in the best sense of the word—with some pleasant instruction included. It is presented in such a way that it makes the listeners see as well as hear how easy and inexpensive it is to have fun with music.

Sigmund Spaeth has had a successful career as an entertainer, lecturer and author, meeting all sorts of audiences from the vast spaces of Radio City Music Hall to the wards of Army and Navy hospitals. Seated at a piano he has brought music to millions of listeners who once considered themselves automatically barred from its mysteries.

Besides authoring 21 books,

Sigmund Spaeth has acted as music editor of Esquire, McCall's, Life and Literary Digest. Best known as radio's "Tune Detective," Spaeth has also appeared as a regular on the Forum Quiz, conducted by the Metropolitan Opera Company, every Saturday afternoon.

Poor Visibility Causes Woman to Hit Tree

Mrs. Thelma Walter of 1036 Hawthorne avenue, Grosse Pointe Woods, met with a serious accident at 1:20 o'clock Wednesday morning as she was turning from Mack into Hawthorne on her way home.

There was a heavy fog at the time and the bad visibility caused her to drive over the curb and crash into a tree. She was taken to the Cottage Hospital suffering from bruises and abrasions, but later in the morning word was received that they were not of a dangerous nature.

"Babes in Toyland" Next Civic Opera Production

Marking one of the high points of its 10-week season, the Detroit Civic Light Opera Association will present Victor Herbert's delightful fantasy, "Babes in Toyland," for one week, beginning Tuesday night, April 2, in Masonic Auditorium. There will be seven evening performances, ending Monday, April 8, and a matinee, Sunday, April 7.

The list of stage personalities who will appear in "Babes in Toyland" is one of the most impressive in the three-year history of the Association. The production, from every viewpoint, is one of the most ambitious yet to be undertaken by the local Civic group.

Here is the all-star cast and the characters they will play: Margaret Spencer, acclaimed for her work in "The Bat," "Naughty Marietta" and "The Great Waltz," as Contrary Mary; Lee Dixon, Broadway star of "Oklahoma," as Gonzorgo; Mary Hopple, noted contralto, as Tom Tom; Fred Harper, as Roderigo; the veteran Joseph Macauley, as Uncle Barnaby; Dan Eckley, responsible for all the lovely dance sequences during the whole season and who appears for the first time behind the footlights, as Grunio; Marjorie Peterson, as Jane; Robert Stuart, as Alan; John Cherry, as Inspector Marmaduke; Louise Kelley, as the Widow Piper; and Artells Dickson, as the master toy maker. Specialties will be presented by A. Robins, sometimes referred to as the "world's most famous clown" and a noted pantomimic burlesque magician, and Nirska, dancer extraordinary.

The book for "Babes in Toyland" is by Glen MacDonough. Actually, the story is a nursery tale of childhood and embraces many of the characters found in nursery rhymes of bygone days.

The flowers that bloom in the Spring, tra la, have nothing to do with the case! But Spring has come to THE SIGN OF THE MERMAID with signs of great activity, redecorating with a heavenly shade of blue, and much unpacking of new "bait" to tempt us. And I don't know of any better way of being tempted. If you don't know, you should, that THE SIGN OF THE MERMAID on Kercheval Avenue (next to Paskel's), is nationally famous for the exclusiveness, character and worth of its merchandise. "Buying orders" come from all over the country, and now that they can offer more than the war years allowed, shopping becomes a joy. Sheffield Sals 'N' Peppers, for $15.00 the pair, (the kind we had before the war), with the Sheffield Lion crest, have come in with a roar, but will go out with you like a lamb.

The flowers that bloom in the Spring, tra la, have everything to do with the case at PASEL'S. And such beautiful posies! Anemones, ranunculus, grape hyacinth have been added to the collection of roses, stock, tulips and snapdragons. I could go on, but you doubtless know the great variety PASEL offers (next to The Sign of the Mermaid on Kercheval). Also offered, but free, information as to the care of plants, either step in and ask or call Niagara 8224, and if you are as ignorant as most of us on this subject, you will appreciate this service. I find that people are inclined to either drown their plants or give them the "drought" treatment, neither of which are conducive to long life. When azalea plants are through blooming they should be watered as usual, until weather permits their being planted in the garden in their pots, where they will receive the morning sun, and brought back into the house just before freezing weather. Now don't say I didn't tell you!

AT BLANCHE AND CYRIL'S "Beautee Shoppe" a lady was seated under a dryer, having what she thought was a private conversation with a manicurist. But you know how voices are magnified under a dryer and carry throughout a shop, and hers was no exception to this unpleasant rule. The following pealed forth: "Mrs. Larned is writing a column in the Grosse Pointe News." I sat with bated breath waiting for the next remark and you may imagine my relief when Miss Mathilda hastening to interject, (knowing that I was in the shop), "It's very interesting, don't you agree?" Fancy my embarrassment! The lady continued, "What she said was true about the permanents given in this shop. I've never seen a fuzzy or kinky one." So now you know that I'm not the only one who thinks that way! I wouldn't fool you.

Some people have the wrong impression that because PEP-PET AND BLOCKET have such distinctive and "quality" goods in their beautiful shop, everything must be expensive. I wish to explode that theory here and now. There are break-fast cloths and very smart looking, too, from $2.50 to $4.75. They have wash cloth cases, including a wash cloth for one buck. Shower curtains in the loveliest shades of yellow and pink, and I don't know what other shades, for $3.95. The cutest bridey looking aprons made of plastic, ruffled but practical. They can be had in various colors, but if you're Irish you'll be wearing the green! There are $1.75. And quickly jumping from the bridal department to the maternity you'll find rubber baby pants for 69 cents, which they claim will make a baby "socially acceptable." And who am I to dispute it? Now I ask you, do you think prices are high at PEP-PET AND BLOCKET?

"Nobody knows the trouble I've had" could have been my theme song as concerns stationery the past few years. How about you? If so, you'll be glad to know that Schettler's have a large assortment on hand at the moment. For short, short notes they offer one called "Just a Line" . . . Cute? "Audubon Bird Letters" has a design of birds worked through the paper. I presume for the bird lovers! "Gingham Girl" is a white paper with a border of checked gingham, as it were, in red and white, brown and white, grey and white, or blue and white. That ought to take care of the young. "White Tie," a heavy white paper suitable for the most discriminating males. And for the females there are many plain and fancy papers, white or pastel shades if you prefer. You can ever get Scotch in pink, blue or white stationery with a very faint plaid design. I trust these meet with your approval.

Have you hit anybody or anything lately? . . . or run through any red lights? . . . Well, you will in due time, if your brakes aren't in good working order. At least that's what "Doc" at the KERCHEVAL CADIEUX SERVICE STATION tells me, and he ought to know. On account of that's his business! At least it's a part of his business. And they're prepared to reline or adjust your brakes better than they have ever been relined or adjusted before. That is unless you've had them do it before. If so, I don't have to tell you about their excellent work and low costs. Now that I've warned you, see that your troubles do not "brake." Oh dear, I've "punned" again.

The new shoe salon at PETER PAN, INC. is so snazzy I can hardly stand it. If you haven't seen it, do go in. They have all the models the small fry crave, from infants to "growing" sizes. Mr. M. Roubard is in charge and he will not only see that your kiddies are well fitted, but will play the Record Player for their entertainment during the "trying on" performance!

And not only that, but they will have a play pen filled with toys for the "eensies" entertainment, and rocking horses for the more advanced; and a Radio for the most advanced! During my last visit there I saw such appealing toys; a little black sheep with a naughty twinkle in his eye! and a lovely Bunny getting his vitamins from an enormous carrot! "Whimsie Blocks" made me realize that the children like to make whimsies even as you and I.

Your watch says, "Things never go right when my insides aren't working properly." How true, how true. So if your watch is suffering from inner complaint a trip to the hospital won't help at all, but a sojourn at PONGRACZ, JEWELERS, will. Now it may be necessary for your watch to have an extended visit there, say, two to three weeks, but not any longer. And it couldn't be in better hands as they have one of the largest supplies of repair materials and instruments in Grosse Pointe and Detroit. Very necessary for such delicate operations. A specialist's charges are commensurate with his work and you will find that it is well worth the charge to have your watch re-habilitated at PONGRACZ JEWELERS.

Music Hall Offers Two Attractions

Music Hall celebrates the first week in April with two of the most stunning attractions before the public today, Veloz and Yolanda, the world's most exquisite dance team, appear on April 1 and the First Piano Quartet will make its Detroit debut on April 5.

The brilliant artists who make up the Divertissement, "Dance-tion of 1946," have programmed songs, glamour, music from the classics to modern compositions never before presented in this city. Dances listed are Sambas, Viennese Waltzes, Cakewalks, Fox Trots and novel creations by entrancing Veloz and Yolanda. This is the first time they have appeared here with their own full-length program.

The four artists composing the First Piano Quartet—Adam Garner, Vladimir Padwa, Frank Mittler, Edward Edson—are all musical veterans, and have played with symphony orchestras in all the big capitals in Europe. It is only recently that America has had the opportunity of hearing them. Their radio programs have earned the highest ratings from coast to coast.

Boys Heave Golf Ball In Hawthorne Window

As guests at the Hawthorne House were eating luncheon between 1 o'clock and 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon they were startled by some missile striking and breaking one of the large plate glass windows. It was found to have been a golf ball thrown by one of two sizeable boys standing across the street. The boys ran back across the school grounds.

Up to 5 o'clock in the afternoon the Farms police had not succeeded in catching the boys.

Goodwill Industries to Hold Its Twenty-fifth Anniversary Celebration

Institution to Employ Physically Handicapped Will Keep Open House April 8-13 at 356 E. Congress

Goodwill Industries is preparing to celebrate its Silver Jubilee April 8-13 at its plant and headquarters at 356 E. Congress at Brush.

The occasion of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of this nation-wide organization is taken as an opportunity to exhibit to the people of the Detroit area the splendid work to which it is dedicated.

The primary object of Goodwill Industries is to furnish an opportunity for physically handicapped persons to earn a respectable livelihood at the practice of crafts they already possessed before misfortune overtook them or to which they may be trained.

The Detroit branch is one of the largest and most successfully run in the country. The open house which will be observed during the week, Monday to Saturday, will give the people of the area an intimate view of the establishment where 330 handicapped persons have worked during the past year and earned $340,000 in wages. The establishment is in no sense a charitable enterprise. Since its start here it has paid out $2,800,000 to persons, many of whom would otherwise have been unable to earn anything.

The jubilee is of peculiar interest to Grosse Pointe people. They were active in its establishment a quarter century ago. At the present time about 40 per cent of the membership of the Junior Division is made up of Grosse Pointe young women. Ralph E. Netting, the Mayor of Grosse Pointe City, is the chairman of the jubilee celebration.

It maintains a half dozen retail stores where the output of the main plant on Congress is sold. These always have a large patronage and thousands of persons living in the store areas buy rebuilt furniture, shoes, clothing and a wide variety of articles. There is even a well stocked antique shop in the main headquarters building.

A recent departure is the establishment of an entire floor devoted to the training and work of returned physically handicapped service men.

The work of Goodwill Industries was first started in Boston many years ago, but Detroit was one of the early cities to follow suit.

The business management of the institution is under the supervision of prominent business men of the Detroit area. In addition to these there is a senior division of women who participate in the direction of the institution. The Junior Division takes a leading part in raising money by outside enterprises to supplement the revenues which enables it to render many special services to the employees.

Goodwill Industries styles itself "The Gateway to Independence for the Handicapped."

Gordon Kingsbury of Detroit is chairman of the Board and Harold H. McKinnon, of Grayton road, Detroit, is the Executive Secretary in immediate charge of the active management of the industry.

Lay Cornerstone For New Church

On Sunday, March 31, at 3 p. m., the cornerstone of Salem Memorial Lutheran church, Moross (7 Mile) road and Chester, will be laid. This marks a milestone for the mother congregation, Salem Lutheran church, Iroquois and East Forest, the Rev. Norman Menter D.D., pastor. The congregation visualized the great need of a church in this territory and subsequently purchased the piece of property at the above location. The church is of Gothic architecture and is fireproof throughout. It is constructed of pressed face brick, cinder block in the main auditorium and cement block in the basement. The building is equipped with a mother's room on the main floor and a kitchen, room for the furnace and lavatories for men and women as well as a storage room in the basement. The measurements of the building are 71 feet, 6 inches by 29 feet and the seating capacity will be over 200.

The mission congregation which is at present worshipping in the Little Red schoolhouse on Mack avenue, between Hunt Club and Lochmoor, is anxiously looking forward to its new home. It is being served by the Rev. Wilbert C. Burmeister.

FALLS FROM ROOF
Jules De Grave of 1348 Lakepointe, fell off the roof of his house where he was working on Monday morning, and suffered severe injuries, including a possible broken pelvis. He was removed to the Desconess Hospital.

der control causing an accident paid $10 fine and $5 costs. Date March 8.

"KISS OF DEATH"

By LAWRENCE RANDALL
As Told to Mary Madison

She was crudely correct about that. "It's a story that can have three endings. The ending depends on which twist I give it. It's up to you to decide which one you want me to tell. You already know I came to Grosse Pointe on business. You've surmised that the business was to start a breach of promise suit against Roger Brooks. That was why you wiped the floor with Roger in The Colonial Dames Tearoom. I could see your point, but it wasn't a smart thing to do."

"No?" I scoffed. "It wasn't smart. God, how I loathe that word—Smart!"

"She smiled tolerantly at the outburst. 'When I got here on Saturday I went to see a lawyer. He told me about the silly state law against filing breach of promise suits. Usually, a girl's best friend is her lawyer, but I couldn't get anywhere with this one. So after I'd talked with him, I called Roger. The lawyer had intimidated that there was no law against accepting a settlement out of court. I made an appointment with Roger to meet him for tea at the hotel. I decided to appeal to his better nature, if any."

"Roger was revolting about things. He said he wasn't playing house any more. He said maybe after he was married, we could get together. I tried to put it up to him squarely, as a gentleman—the rat."

"I take it you weren't in love with Roger," I said.

"Love?" her mouth rippled scornfully. "I'm a girl who has what it takes and takes what he has. Love? Why, Mr. Randall, where did you pick up that quaint old word? You do believe in the grand passion, don't you? Roger didn't. He said I couldn't pin anything on him. I could pin a lot of hotel register clips on his wedding cutaway. I told him that. I told him plenty. But he was still the old Harvard yardstick-in-the-mud. Handed me the old Ivy League line about marriage cancelling all previous contracts. It was just so much malarkey to me."

"I told him something then that really defeated him. I said that I could shake him down like loaded dice after he married Miranda Ames. That made him wince. I could, too," I said. "I wanted now was a down payment of fifty thousand dollars and no releases signed. It gave him the palsy. He didn't want Miranda Ames to find out about me. If she did, he might not be bankrolling in the hay with her. He said he'd get the money somehow and meet me on his boat after the dance on Saturday night."

I cut in: "You mean you were coming out to his boat, anchored off the pier at the club?"

"I had to do something. I couldn't let him compromise me. Compromise her. That was one for the book—the phone book. Imogene being precisely the girl you could set up housekeeping with in any phone booth."

"After I'd agreed to meet him, I began wondering if Roger would try to give me the old runaround. I had to protect myself. I knew he could get the money from Miranda Ames on one condition. If I threatened to create a scandal. She hated being dragged through dirty printer's ink. The one person I knew who could burn the scandal at both ends was Sue Manchester. Sue's been a social register spy for years. The little Beaupeep of the Stork Club."

"I didn't know you knew Sue Manchester."

"Oh yes. A fiendish little friendship. Dear little cash-and-carry Sue. I phoned her. I told her if she'd rush down to the hotel for cocktails, I'd give her some news she could really collect on. 'Sue's the original babe who was calm'—and collected. She came, of course. I've got so much on her she had to come. Well, I told her Roger and I were man and wife in the eyes of God and the janitor of the Belle Ville Manor in Miami. She lapped up my story. She oozed sympathy. She said she'd syndicate it for me when I gave the signal. But she was to wait for my signal. That was our agreement."

Imogene's eyes were icy with malice now. She said: "The sniping little spy went out and gave me the double X. She went straight to Miranda Ames and spilled the story. Emptying the dump wagon right in her lap. You see, Miranda had been stealing Sue's beaux for years. This was a chance to sock her below the garter belt. She told Miranda she was giving her the story so she could take steps to stop it. Told it all to her in her best gutter manner."

"How do you know all this?" I asked. "Miranda's dead. She wouldn't have spoken to you, anyway. Sue wouldn't tell you. She wouldn't want you to know you'd been tripped up."

Imogene said: "Roger Brooks told me about it. I was waiting for him on his boat Saturday night. I waited until he got there after the dance early Sunday morning."

"What time did he get there?" I asked. "About three-thirty. I'd say. I'd come out to the boat around midnight. I used one of the club spread boats at the pier. No one saw me. It was the same boat the police found. It was the one I used to get away in."

"The boat the murderer escaped in?" I gasped. "Then you're the one who drove that boat to Belle Isle. You're the one who murdered your Snow White, Mr. Marshall. How the boat floated to Belle Isle doesn't matter. It must have drifted there after I got out of it. What matters is that the instant Roger stepped on the cruiser, I knew something foul was up. He was slinking sober. He knew what he was doing and saying, all right, but he was wild as a maniac. He ordered me off the boat. He said I'd wrecked his future. Ruined his chance to marry Miranda."

"He talked me vile names. Then he broke down, sobbed, and told me all about it. Miranda had just talked with him after the dance. She told him flatly then what Sue had accused him of. She demanded to know if it were true about Sue. Roger naturally denied it. He didn't convince her. She must have felt right along that he was playing house with someone. He told her he'd have Sue put the hush on the whole story. He'd make me swear it wasn't true. Still, he didn't impress her. Then he put on the old gutter act. He said he was in an awful financial jam. He'd been gambling. Had a stack of I.O.U.'s amounting to fifty thousand. He was sunk, if she wouldn't help him. He knew if he got me the fifty thousand he could turn off the heat in hell. But he must have put on a very B performance. Miranda had seen the film before."

"She told him she didn't believe he had any gambling I.O.U.'s. He wanted the money for blackmail. She wouldn't pay. She was rich, but proud."

"Roger was in a black rage at her. He blamed Sue Manchester. He blamed me. He blamed everyone but himself. I told him if I cleared off the boat and he got a good sleep, he still might be able to put across the deal with Miranda the next day. Give Miranda time to cool off. If she loved him, she'd come across. I'd wait for the money. We parted friends. I headed back to the pier."

Imogene stopped. A flash of suspicion crept into her eyes, as if she were considering whether it was wiser to give me the whole story at once or serialize it. I lit a cigarette and waited silently for her to go on.

"When I tied up the boat after I'd stopped on the pier," she went on, "I saw a girl's body stretched out there. It was Miranda Ames. At first I thought she was asleep. I bent over her. Then I saw the gash on her head. She wasn't breathing. I'll say this for your girl, Mr. Randall, she was beautiful, dead or alive. She looked like a corpse made up by Antoine. Yeah, beautiful but numb."

"What time was it when you stepped on the pier?" I cut in.

"I wouldn't know accurately. I talked with Roger almost half an hour. I'd say. It must have been around four-thirty."

"Why didn't you go back to the boat to tell Roger she was dead?" I demanded. "She might still have been revived by a pulmotor."

"I was stiff with horror. I didn't want to be caught anywhere near Miranda Ames' body. I had no business to be on that pier. My first thought was to protect myself."

Zing said over the rim of his glass, "Did you think Roger had killed her before he came out on the boat?"

"I didn't know. He might have done it. He was angry enough to strike her. But I wasn't thinking of Roger. He'd have to save his own worthless hide. I was figuring how to get away without being seen. Up on the hill a woman was plodding along. She seemed to be looking down at me. I knew I couldn't get away through the club grounds. It must have been that scrubwoman who saw me."

"How did you know a scrubwoman saw you?"

Grosse Pointe High Starts Spring Practice

Coaches Look Over Candidates for Baseball, Track, Tennis and Rowing

With the final curtain drawn on basketball and swimming at Grosse Pointe High the school on Fisher road is beginning to buzz with activity in preparation for the second phase of the 1946 Border City League athletic program—baseball, track, rowing and tennis.

Coach Pat Kaulitz called for baseball candidates the first of the week and received 77 prospects at the opening practice session. In a couple of weeks Kaulitz will proceed to cut the squad down to working size and by that time every boy on the present squad will have had a chance to show what he has on the ball.

Of the 77 to report five are regulars and two are substitutes from last year's team. Dick Wuerker and Stan Ainsley, pitchers, George Mantho third base, Don Flore catcher, Jack Tanner shortstop, Mike Chagot second base and Howard Ruzi utility infielder.

Coach Kaulitz stated it was a little too early to guess what kind of a team to expect this spring but there are some fine looking prospects who will give the returning regulars a battle for their jobs. With plenty of competition for positions coach Kaulitz should have little trouble putting together a winning team to vie for the Border City baseball championship.

Coach Frank Banachs' track prospects have been working out indoors for the past two weeks.
Since warm weather the boys are limbering up on the reconditioned cinder track on the Grosse Pointe athletic field. Last spring the team was set back about three weeks in its training schedule because of the disgraceful condition of the cinder path. This was remedied last summer when the Board of Education installed a new drainage system and resurfaced the track after the situation was brought to light by the NEWS. Grosse Pointe athletes appreciate the efforts of the Board of Education in their behalf, we assure you.

Coach Banach will assemble a team to compete in the River Rogue Invitational Track meet, to be held at Ann Arbor, April 13. He is optimistic as to the team's chances to score in certain events in which last year's veterans are competing.

The Grosse Pointe crew, sponsored by the Detroit Boat Club, took advantage of the early departure of the ice in the Detroit River last week and worked out twice under the expert eye of teams at Grosse Pointe, posted a bulletin for tennis candidates and will hold the first official 1946 practice Friday.

All eyes will be focused on this year's squad because it has a tremendous job ahead of it in keeping a four year undefeated campaign alive.

Last spring 83 candidates reported for opening practice and Westerville had a problem on his hands because of the lack of tennis courts for the boys to practice and tryout on. This spring it is different; thanks again to the Board of Education, because Grosse Pointe has four new tennis courts which were installed when the urgent need for them was aired by the NEWS.

Westerville believes he can assemble another championship team but says, "Anything can happen and usually does in all good, clean competitive sports."

Navy Awards Honors to Pointer

Lt. (jg) Basil Duffield Slaymaker, USN, 1419 Kensington road, Grosse Pointe, Mich., has been awarded the Bronze Star Medal for his services on the destroyer USS Haggard.

The citation reads as follows: "For meritorious achievement as Watch Officer in the Combat Information Center and later as Automatic Weapons Control Officer on board the USS Haggard when that vessel attacked and sank a Japanese submarine in the Philippine Sea the night of March 22, 23, 1945. Despite constant danger of attack by torpedoes and gunfire from the hostile vessel, Lt. (jg) Slaymaker supervised the condition watch team and the tracking of the target in the Combat Information Center, keeping his commanding officer supplied with timely and accurate information and enabling the Haggard to deliver a devastating gunfire and depth-charge attack and finally to ram the enemy and complete his destruction. Lt. (jg) Slaymaker's alert presence of mind, outstanding professional ability and zealous devotion to duty in the face of grave danger reflect the highest credit upon himself and the United States Naval Service."

FIGHT ON BUS

Word came into the City police station on Maumee one evening last week that a "bad fight" was on between two men on a bus at Mack and Cadieux.

The bus was on its way and it was too late to overtake the combatants but word was sent on to the Detroit police to be on the lookout for them. They promptly picked up the fighters as soon as they arrived in their bailiwick.
