Safe, Sane Halloween Party With Lots of Fun Planned For Pointe Kids of All Ages

Various Centers Established for Separate Parties of Various Groups; Entertainment to Be Provided for All

The Seventh Annual Grosse Pointe Halloween party will be celebrated by the boys and girls of the community next Thursday night, October 31. Details for the party indicate that the evening will be packed with wholesome fun and entertainment.

Elementary school parties will be held at Defer and Trombly schools from 7 to 9 p. m. Movies as well as professional acts, such as jugglers, magicians, acrobats, ventriloquists and trained animals, will be enjoyed by the youngsters. However, not all of the same acts or movies will be shown at all of the parties.

There will be no evening parties this year at Richard school or at the Mair school. Mrs. Ethel Cowie is the center chairman for the Trombly school party and Mr. Fred Kerby will be in charge of the evening's activities at Defer school. There will be no admission charge for the elementary school parties. Although these parties are primarily for the children, parents may accompany them if they feel it is necessary to do so.

Boys and girls of junior high school age can go to either the Neighborhood Club or the John D. Pierce School. These parties will be held from 7:30 to 11:30 p. m. In addition to an auditorium program of movies and professional acts, there will be dancing from 9 p. m. to 11:30 p. m. Burglars Bungle Car Stealing Job

An attempted car theft was reported to Farms police on October 21 by John Stephens of 237 Ridge road.

Mr. Stephens said his car was parked in the Punch and Judy parking lot on Kercheval avenue between 9:30 p. m. and 12:30 a. m. the night before. He found the steering lock had been broken and the wheel lying on the seat of his car.

Coals Carried to Newcastle Turn Dad's Face Bright Red

Ask Art Dannecker, of the Grosse Pointe Bank, what he knows about "carrying coals to Newcastle," and watch his face get red. Art carried a whole mess of them and now they're burning him up.

The Dannecker's son, Pfc. Donald Dannecker, is stationed on Kyushu at a small isolated camp. So Father has made it a point of keeping him informed what has been going on at home. Knowing his boy was much interested in the doing of the world of sports, Art has written long and laborious letters containing the highlights of events in the major arenas.

The letters told Donald all about the progress and final culmination of the World Series, and one epistle went into greater detail than usual about the Army-Michigan game.

Monday Father received a letter from Donald, who hadn't yet received Art's version of the baseball and football classics, as the letter was written on October 12. But Art hadn't read far when he realized he had overlooked one little detail in his son's military progress.

Donald is a radio broadcaster. Monday's letter told Father how he was handling re-broadcasts from California, of all major sports events, including the World Series and all Michigan football games, for the benefit of the GIs in Japan.

Boys' Reports Gratifying To Sponsors

High School Youths Demonstrate Lessons Learned at Boys' State

What the Wolverine Boys' State is doing towards the development of a higher type of citizenship among the youth of the State was strikingly revealed to the members of the Grosse Pointe Rotary Club at its meeting Monday in the Whittier.

High School Principal Walter Cleminson presented four Grosse Pointe High boys at the meeting who told in turn of his experiences at the week's encampment on the Campus at Michigan State College at Lansing during the third week of last June.

All four of the boys, ranging in age from 15 to 17 years, gave evidence in the straightforward and unhesitating manner in which they spoke, that public speaking had been neglected in their school curricula.

Jim Brown, who had been elected "Attorney General" in the state government set up, spoke of the information they had gained of the creation and functioning of public office, with amusing sidelights on the political maneuvers that preceded their election.

Ed Isbey told of the training and experience they had gained in the practice of wholesome (Continued on Page 4)

Grid Game Tough On Spectators

Saturday afternoon's football game between Grosse Pointe High and Wyandotte was so exciting that two persons fell out of the bleachers.

Mrs. Wilma Epps of 307 Ford avenue, Wyandotte, was taken to Cottage Hospital by Farms Police Officers Beaupre and Sylvester. She was x-rayed then allowed to go home with her son.

Dave Urm of 591 Coplin, also took a tumble. He too was carted off to Cottage Hospital, where it was found he had broken his left arm.

Leaders Sift Plans for Memorial

Final Choice May Combine Various Ideas in One Large Building

A meeting held on Monday night in the home of Alger Sheldon on Lake Shore road on the War Memorial project for Grosse Pointe, had historic implications for this region. It was a joint meeting of the directors of the Grosse Pointe Memorial Association, a chartered organization created at the time the temporary memorial tablet was erected on the High School grounds, and the Study Group created to sound out public opinion on the pro or con of a permanent War Memorial and, if found to approve of the project, to make a definite recommendation as to the form it should take.

Those in attendance were: Alger Sheldon, who at the request of the Study Group has been acting as the chairman, and is also the President of the Permanent Memorial Association; Capt. John O'Brien, Charles Parcells, President of the Board of Education; George Beauchamp, of Grosse Pointe Woods; Paul Blackburn, Mark K. Edgar, George Elworthy, director of the Neighborhood Club; Dr. Paul Essert, Superintendent of Grosse Pointe Schools; Harold Husband, Paul I. Moreland, Herbert Micou, Norbert P. Neff, Edward J. Pongracz, Jr., an attorney, Florence Sever, E. W. Scherer, Thomas and Robert Waldron.

A lengthy discussion of the project by the Study Group members of the meeting developed the fact that they were not ready to make a definite recommendation. They were unanimous however that whatever form the permanent memorial should eventually take, its outstanding purpose should be in the spirit of a memorial to the young men and women who were in active service. With this sentiment all present concurred. Whether there should be a field house, a library, an eternal beacon light on the lake front, or a memorial in stone or bronze, this purpose should be paramount. (Continued on Page 4)

Inhalator Fails To Save Worker

A man named J. R. Valade, age approximately 40, while working about the premises of the Edward Munroe home at 930 Barrington Monday afternoon, was stricken with a heart attack. The police station was notified and the inhalator squad from the fire department hurried around. Despite their best efforts the man could not be revived. Dr. Swanson also arrived before the man died. He had given his residence as 7441 Kercheval, Detroit.

Joe Grabs Cars By Their Horns

All Ye Olde Shoppes on Kercheval in the business section of Grosse Pointe Farms, will please rise to your feet and give three rousing cheers to "Joe" deGrime (and we tip our hat when we say the name), got fed up with cars parking in front of his Salon ALL DAY LONG, not only inconveniencing his clientele, but making impossible the loading and unloading of paintings.

So-o-o-o, Joe took the cars by the horns and complained to the White Fathers of the Farms. His complaint was so eloquent that the council passed a law at its meeting last Monday, that NO cars could park ANY PLACE on Kercheval in the business section, for more than THIRTY MINUTES! That means day OR night. . . . and it's not a joke, son!

When we think of the number of times we've had to rush to the drug store for a dash of arnica and had to park down in the City and walk back to the store because of parked cars. . . . we feel like giving Mr. deG. a medal. We have a figment of sympathy for movie fans, but maybe the owners of the property across from the News will take pity and open up parking lots!

Walter Hoyt Named Chief of Police by Trustees of Farms

William Rice Advanced From Sergeant to Lieutenant, Paisley Made Sergeant and Barton Lieutenant of Fire Department

Walter R. (Tex) Hoyt, a patrolman on the Farms Police force since 1929, was named Chief of the Police Department by the village trustees Monday night on the recommendation of the Police and Fire Committee, headed by Trustee George L. Schlaepfer.

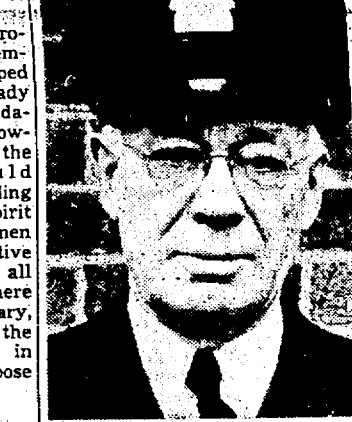

Sergeant William Rice, who has been acting chief since the resignation of former Acting Chief Eugene Bolo last June 1, was elevated to the rank of lieutenant, and Patrolman Jack Paisley was promoted to a sergeancy in the department.

The promotions are the culmination of a long study of the department made by the committee of trustees. Examinations prepared and administered by the Michigan Municipal League, including written and oral tests, were offered to all members of the department.

Examinations were also taken by members of the Fire Department to find a successor to former Fire Lieutenant Oscar Labadie, who retired some months ago. Monday night the trustees appointed Joseph A. Barton as Fire Lieutenant to fill this vacancy.

All of the promotions are to be effective as of midnight, Monday, October 28.

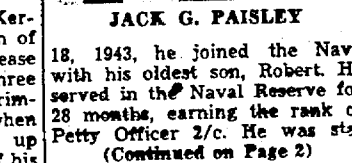

Chief Hoyt joined the department on June 5, 1929. On July

"Water, Water Everywhere, And Not a Drop to Drink"

The section of the Farms in the vicinity of the Municipal Building on Kerby road was treated to an unseasonal but beautiful display of fireworks about 10 o'clock last Thursday night when a Detroit Edison high tension wire caught fire.

It is believed a tree branch, weighted by the rain which had been falling most of the day, made contact with the wire and caused a short circuit. Flashes from the burning wire brilliantly lighted the entire neighborhood surrounding La Salle place, where the fire occurred.

While some of the firemen and policemen were busy maintaining a blockade of the streets until the Edison emergency truck arrived, the remainder were tied to the telephones in headquarters answering a flood of queries from residents of the village.

The inquiries about the queer lights that were flashing about soon gave way to more urgent pleas for information about the cessation of water service in private homes. The city offices were also swamped with calls.

The high tension wire which burned was one which supplied power to the main pumping station of the village. Until the break was repaired, which was only a matter of a short time, residents were without water within, though there was plenty without.

Boys Admit Long List of Thefts, Arson

Confess to Burning Voting Booth at Kerby and Beaupre Last August 14

A long series of crimes, ranging from car thefts to arson were admitted during weekend grilling of a group of youngsters who had been rounded up following the arrest of one of the gang, by Woods police on the night of October 19. Authorities of the Pointes term the case the worst of juvenile delinquency the area has ever known.

The case started to break on the night of October 18, when Officer Albert Abend of the Woods police saw two cars stop mysteriously on Mack avenue. When he approached, two youngsters made a break for it and escaped, despite the shots which Abend fired to halt them. He caught one youth.

The cars were identified as those stolen just previously from L. H. Echlin of 445 Moran road, and Mrs. Lou Maxon of Lakeland avenue. The Maxon car was taken first, then driven to the vicinity of the Echlin home, where two other boys stole the second one. They started out Mack in the two stolen machines when one of them ran out of gas. The youngsters were investigating the cause of their trouble when Officer Abend appeared.

From the captive the police soon obtained the names of his two companions. They were hauled from their beds at 5 a. m. and taken to Farms police headquarters in connection with the theft of the Echlin car. Their fathers accompanied them and were present at this and further sessions when the vast tale of crimes committed over a long period was unfolded.

Three more boys are implicated, one of them now away at college. All but one are from the Pointe. The confessions are still being wrung from the youngsters, but to date they have admitted enough to fill three volumes.

They have confessed to the theft of at least seven cars in the Pointe and the police believe there are many others. It is said they will be questioned by Detroit police on suspicion of having been mixed up in various auto thefts there. They have confessed to stealing at least two Detroit cars.

The mysterious burning of the Farms voting booth at Kerby and Beaupre on the night of August 14 last, has been cleared up. The youths confessed they stole gas-

Boy Gun Toter Far From Home

The spectacle of a 16-year-old boy carrying a rifle at Kercheval avenue and Moross road on the night of October 18, roused the curiosity of Farms Police Officers Allor and Dhaveloose. They invited him to visit headquarters.

The youth said he was from Reno, Nevada, but from here on his memory was poor. He couldn't remember where his parents lived. The rifle, a .22 calibre, was loaded. He said he had just bought it. His personal possessions contained some cancelled plane and bus tickets.

He was given a bed in the ladies' cell at police headquarters for the night and the following day was sent down to the Juvenile Detention Home, where it was hoped his memory would improve.

Vandal Reported At Work in City

Paul M. Becker, of 507 Rivard, reported to the police that sometime on Friday, October 18, or the night before someone had broken into his garage and wrecked his son's scooter bike with an ax or other heavy implement. They had knocked off spark plugs, cut the tires and had even tried to strip the gears with a large file.

On the Tuesday previous, he said, probably this same vandal had knocked the handle off the door on his Buick car. He had no idea who did it. The City detectives are on the case.

line from a car parked in front of the Remick residence at 157 Ridge road and poured it over the booth before setting fire to it. On this job they used a car they had stolen in Detroit a week previously and whose plates they had switched with some stolen from another car owned by Benjamin Paddock of Vendome road.

After starting the fire they turned in a false alarm from Williams and McKinley, then eluded Officer Roberts of the Farms police when he picked up their trail and chased them in a wild ride throughout the Farms. They abandoned the stolen car on Madison and escaped between houses.

The gang was adept at stealing a car, then stealing plates from another and switching them. They did this again with a Cadillac in Grosse Pointe Park.

The youngsters admitted it was they who had broken into the homes of Mrs. Wood Williams and Leo Carrigan in Stanton lane. They stole radios, clocks and other small items there. Two of the radios and one of the clocks were recovered during the week-end.

The rounding up of the gang has cleared up many of the depredations which have taken place at the High School. Sometimes the boys broke windows at the school, but it wasn't to gain entrance. They all had keys not only to the outside doors of the school, but to inner offices and to the Industrial Arts Building.

The keys were obtained when some of them were doing part time work helping clean up at the school. When in possession of the janitor's keys, they had them duplicated. This made things much easier. They were in the school literally dozens of nights.

One night they stole a number of bells, which have now been found in the field where they hid them. Another time they took telephones from the various rooms. The night they stole the bells, the regular janitors were working at the school. One boy kept watch while the others toted long ladders through the building and unfastened the bells.

During the confessions the boys said the school authorities caught them once last year with the keys and took them away from them. The police aren't very happy over the fact that the school officials failed to notify them of this.

The youngsters said even if they didn't have keys, they could get in the High School any time. There are always windows left unlatched and it is a cinch to see to it, before leaving school in the afternoon, that an easy means of entrance is left open, they stated.

This is the same gang which jammed the switchboard at the school last year. They confessed to that little prank, too. Some of their other tricks have been setting fields afire and stealing beer out of garages and off porches.

The youngsters have been released in the custody of their parents, but charges have been filed against them in juvenile court. Two of the boys are 18 and they will face charges in criminal court.

REPUBLICAN COMMITTEE

Village Manager of Park Urges Defeat of Amendment No. 2 at November Election

Sees Legislature Shearing Present Income From Various Taxes if Voters Decide to Grab Sales Tax Divvy

The proposed amendment to the State Constitution under which the local governmental units and the school districts would share equally on an allocation of one-third of the State's revenues from sales tax, is not receiving whole-hearted support from the Pointe area.

This lukewarm attitude stems partly from a recognition of the State's financial needs, but chiefly from a fear held by those who have been making a study of the State-Local government fiscal relationships.

The fear is frankly expressed in many well-informed quarters in this community that if the state legislature is compelled to part with upwards of $40,000,000 to $50,000,000 annually for local needs, under a constitution mandate, the legislature will be strongly inclined to cut down correspondingly on allocations which it now makes to local needs. Full authority still remains with the state authorities to alter or change as they see fit any allotments which the state now makes to local uses, without constitutional restraint.

The substantial sums which all local governmental units now get from the state via the gas and weights tax, the liquor tax and the tax on intangibles, could be altered or abolished at the whim of the legislature.

An index of the legislature's attitude towards parting with any portion of the sales tax for local uses is seen in the treatment the recommendation of the Governor's study commission on taxes, received at the last session. This recommendation was for a one-sixth allocation of the sales tax to local uses, but even this relatively modest portion was summarily refused by the State's law makers.

Manager Everett B. Lane of the Park village who has been keeping in close touch with this subject in Lansing for the past two years, seems convinced that as surely as the legislature might be compelled by the constitutional amendment which is up for decision by the voters on November 5, to part with this big slice of the sales tax money, it would begin at once to lay plans to recoup a like amount at the next session.

The position of the legislature is that the prospective claims on the state treasury loom so ominously that they feel compelled to keep the state's strong chest intact. The uncertainty of the much discussed soldiers' bonus is one of the financial nightmares which haunt the cloakrooms at Lansing.

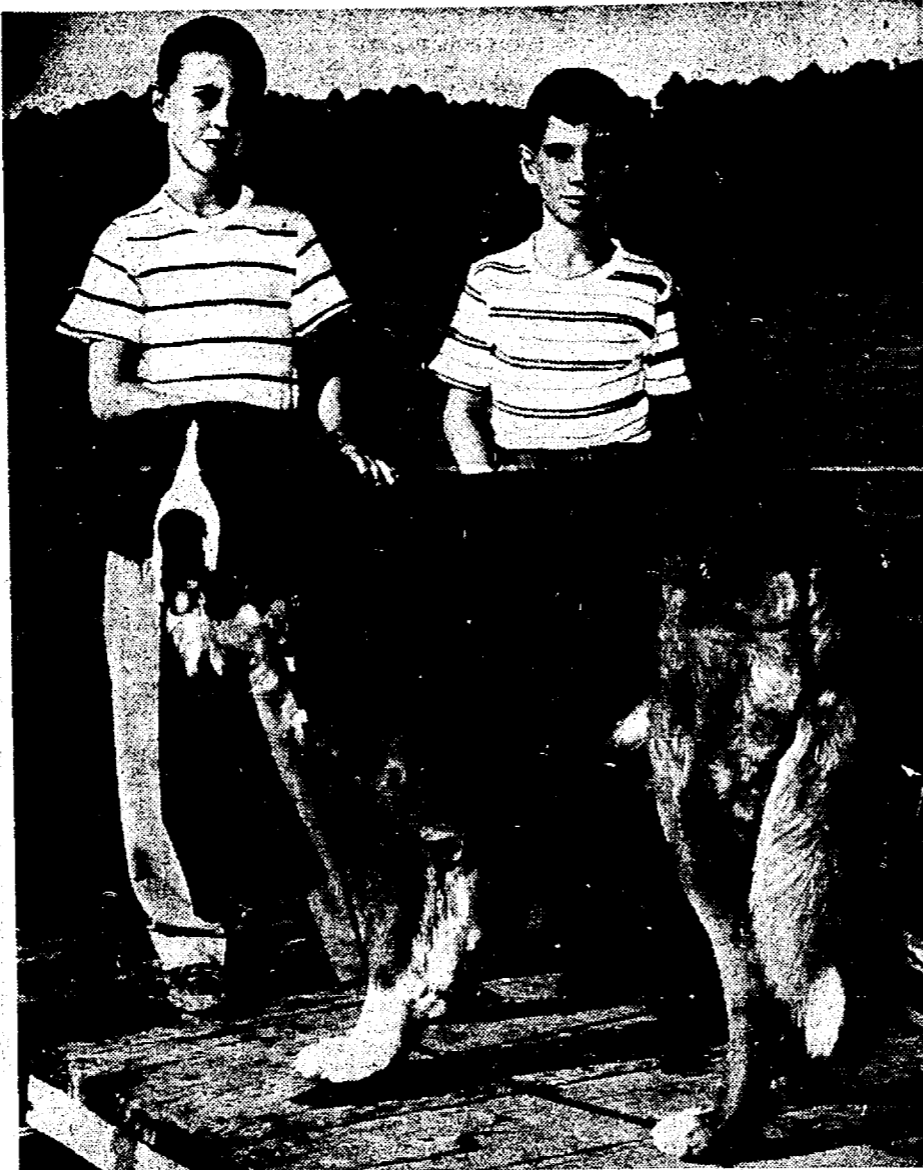

The revenues from the state sales tax is the largest single source of the State's income. Any inlets towards depriving it of even a small part of this prized item drives the legislature to arms.

Mr. Lane's argument is that it is far better for the local communities to continue to receive a just share of state revenue from its accustomed sources than to coerce the legislature with a constitutional amendment.

This year he estimated the villages receipts from the gas and weights, liquor and intangible taxes at $61,000 and set it up in the budget at this figure. Already it is apparent that with the ending of the last quarter of the year it will reach $71,000. This too, is on the basis of about a 12 percent as the village's share. There is excellent prospect, he says, if we play fair with the legislature, these items might be doubled in a reasonably short time.

Under the proposed amendment the village and also all of the other Pointe municipalities, would get about $3.70 per capita and the school district about $14.00 per pupil. In the case of the Park, and probably the other Pointe communities also, with the prospective loss of the revenue

Another Entry in News Picture Contest

PETER HOWARD, left, and his brother STEPHEN, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Harold F. Howard of 355 Lincoln road, hope this will win a prize in the Grosse Pointe News contest for best pictures of Pointe and Gratiot Township children and their pets. This was taken during the summer at Howard's summer home at Findley Lake, N. Y. Jack, the beautiful St. Bernard, won a blue ribbon for being the best pup of his breed in the 1946 Detroit Kennel Club show. The contest will continue up to January 1, 1947, following which prizes of Savings Bonds will be awarded in each of the five Pointes and Gratiot Township. Keep the entries coming in.

Many 'Moving Forces' Hit Many 'Immovable Objects'

The theory of "a moving force meeting an immovable object" is getting a great deal of testing these days. The "moving force" being a moving automobile and the "immovable force" being a parked car. The results show little except that the "moving force" suddenly stops and the police intervene.

On October 17, George W. Neely, 872 Beaconsfield avenue, hit a car parked on Jefferson and owned by Ernest Wuesthoff, Jr., already coming in, there would be a net loss.

of 12780 Alcoy, Detroit. Mr. Neely was ticketed.

Robert W. Webb, 1246 Beaconsfield avenue, who was attempting a right turn onto Lakepointe on October 14, said that his motor stalled and he coasted into the fender of a parked car owned by D. A. Knuff, 17000 Kercheval.

Russell Stewart, 1382 Harvard, hit an unoccupied parked car on Harvard, October 18, owned by Sam J. Luke, 1170 Harvard. Mr. Stewart was given a ticket for reckless driving.

While trying to remove a sick cat from the seat to the floor of his car on October 18, 14-year-old Jim Fisher, of 572 Lakeland, ran into a parked car on Lochmoor owned by Alphonse De Paape, 71 Lochmoor.

The thing that keeps us apart from others is wanting to be better than they are.

Four Cars Mix In Two Crashes

The car of Mrs. Walda Bates, of 1088 Beaconsfield avenue, was hit by one driven by John Barbour, 1014 Balfour road, while she was driving east on Kercheval on October 17. Mr. Barbour was driving north on Beaconsfield. He was given a court ticket.

Motorist Norman C. Miller, of 829 St. Clair, on October 17 struck a car driver, by Walter G. Pieschke, 3465 Burns avenue, who was making a turn on Mack. Both drivers were ticketed by the Park police.

Edison Files Formal Request For Permit to Cut All Rates

Granting of Proposal Would Shear $1,500,000 from Bills for All Types of Service in Balance of Year

The Detroit Edison Company has filed with the Michigan Public Service Commission a formal request for permission to reduce charges to all classes of electrical customers.

The request is contained in two petitions, receipt of which was announced by William J. McBrearty, chairman of the commission, who fixed October 29 for a hearing in Lansing.

The first proposal would reduce by $1,500,000 bills to be sent to farm, residence and commercial customers during the remainder of 1946. The second would effect a rate reduction of three per cent for service to industrial customers effective January 1, 1947. The estimated saving to industrial customers for the year 1947 is $927,000.

The immediate reduction to the first class of consumers would amount to 30 per cent of one month's commercial bill and 15 per cent on the two month's residential bill. Commercial customers are billed monthly, so the entire 30 per cent would be deducted from their November bills. Since farm and residence customers are billed bi-monthly, 15 per cent would be deducted from their November and December bills.

The discounts, if approved as proposed, combined with the rate reduction which became effective last January 1, will bring the total 1946 savings to customers to more than $4,000,000. It was believed that the general rate reduction of last January would reduce customer's bills by $3,000,000 but the increase in the volume of business over the estimate made at that time brought the customer savings to more than $3,500,000.

Prentiss M. Brown, chairman of the board for Detroit Edison, explained that the proposal is in fulfillment of a promise made to members of the Public Service Commission last December when the $16,450,000 refund of Federal tax monies collected for 1944-45 and the January 1 rate cut of $3,000,000 were agreed on. The amount of the rate reduction was approved by the commission on the suggestion of Edison officials that further voluntary adjustments would be proposed later in the year if justified by income.

In a third petition the Edison company proposes to strengthen its Employees Retirement Fund by transferring to that fund from a reserve account the sum of $5,844,500. This amount represents a savings in Federal taxes accomplished under the Federal Income Tax Law which provided deductions to compensate for the emergency construction of facilities required to assist in the prosecution of the war.

It's always fair weather when good neighbors share together!

RECALLING of the season, a thoughtful neighbor always knows how to share. That goes for his party-line telephone, too.

Today, with telephone equipment still scarce because of material shortages, knowing how to share our party line is more important than ever before. Sharing the lines means more service for more people sooner.

To provide as many waiting applicants as possible with telephone service, we are temporarily having to limit most new installations to party lines. As additional facilities come through and are installed, we will be able to give individual-line service to those who want it.

But meanwhile, you can help to improve party-line service by following these simple suggestions:

- 1 When the line is in use, please don't interrupt except in case of emergency.
- 2 Keep all calls as brief as possible.
- 3 Avoid making several calls in succession.
- 4 Be sure to hang up after every call. One offender all the hour puts all the telephone on the line out of service.

Memorial

As the discussion progressed the enthusiasm for the project grew. By the end of the meeting, which did not come until after 11 o'clock, it appeared to be the general consensus that the memorial should embrace several of the features which had been discussed separately. If the plan resolves into a building, it should house not only quarters for a public library, to which many of those present inclined, but should also include provisions for quarters for the Grosse Pointe Historical Society and possibly a separate wing or department for a war museum whose contents would be composed of articles and manuscripts contributed directly from and concerning Grosse Pointe. All were agreed that the memorial should be of and for Grosse Pointe alone and not founded in any respect with similar offerings from Detroit or other neighborhood communities.

There was also some discussion of the field house proposal. The general thought seemed to be however that the cost of upkeep which would have to be met largely by annual contributions from the private citizens of the region was a major barrier to this project.

As a furthering of the memorial character of the enterprise, Captain O'Brien suggested that enlarged photographs of all of the men from the Pointe who had been killed in the war be obtained, and that from these, paintings be executed to be displayed in a mural along the walls in the main entrance to the Memorial building. In this same conspicuous place the names of all of the men and women of the Pointe who were in active war service would be preserved in enduring bronze.

The net result of the prolonged and enthusiastic discussion was to greatly widen the scope of the project since its first proposal. If it resolves itself into a building it will be a truly memorial center of impressive and beautiful proportions, accentuating the memorial purpose, but with embracing several features which will add to the cultural progress of the community and the preservation of its historic records.

Mexican Traffic Hazards Unnerve Visiting Pointer

(The experiences of two young Pointers visiting Mexico are described by one of them, Charles Fosatti, in a series of letters being written back to the NEWS. This is the fifth letter in the series.)

Dear Folks:

Crossing a busy intersection in New York is a cinch compared to crossing one here in Mexico City. The streets of downtown Mexico are very old and correspondingly narrow, with the result that most of them are one way. Down one side a street car track may run. On the other side cars are parked. This all tends to make the streets even more narrow and crowded than ever.

To stand on an intersection and watch the traffic requires either a cold blooded person or one with a good heart. Pedro will come bowling down from the north along Bolivar, and Sr. Garcia will come rapidly from the west on Mesones. Both are going at what you would consider insane speed for such a narrow crowded street. "Of course," you think, "there's a stop sign." You look for one. You can't find it. There is none. They're both almost to the corner and still traveling fast. It's obvious now that neither is going to stop. You are going to see a terrible accident, but no. At the last minute our two heroes catch sight of each other. Sr. Garcia swerves to the left toward Pedro. Pedro swerves to the left away from Garcia, and thus they swerve around each other. They have gone close to the curbs and people who were waiting there to cross the street have trampled all over each other in an effort to get out of the way.

The two gentlemen continue on their merry ways. The people untrample themselves. No angry word is heard. Nothing out of the ordinary has happened. That is the way to drive in Mexico City. To take a taxi here is to take your life in your own hands, or rather the taxi driver's.

As in Monterey, the streets of Mexico are filled with beggars. It is a popular profession here. A beggar only has to work when he feels like it.

Everywhere are homeless little children. They call them street urchins. As you walk along the streets at night you will see groups of them huddled together in a dark corner trying to keep warm and get a comfortable night's sleep. Where their parents are and what happened to them is a mystery that no one knows or seems to care to know. It's unfair to judge Mexico too harshly for these things, for when you get to know the people you are struck very strongly by one certain characteristic. They all seem very happy.

Hasta Luego, Chuck.

194 Police Calls Listed in Month

The Grosse Pointe Farms Police Department report, as submitted by Sergeant William M. Rice, acting chief, at the meeting last Monday, showed a total of 194 police calls for the month of September.

Topping the list was "complaints" . . . boys' pranks, etc., simple larceny cases numbered 14, and there were traffic accidents. There were 13 adults and 19 juveniles arrested. Sixteen boys, from 14 to 16 years of age, were warned and released to their parents for miscellaneous offenses.

On the lighter side of the ledger, there was one man 35 years old, who was "blottered" as "Golden Rule Drunk."

A total of $171.00 was collected in fines for traffic, parking and dog ordinance violations and court cases.

Police Seeking Hit-Run Driver

Farms police are seeking a woman hit-run driver who left the scene of an accident in front of 471 Kerby road on October 18.

Pointe Radio Corporation To Have License Hearing

In connection with the application of the Grosse Pointe Broadcasting Corporation to the Federal Communications Commission for a license for the construction and operation of a Standard 250 Watt AM Daytime Station to broadcast to the communities of Grosse Pointe, Lorenzo Gentile, president of the corporation issued the following statement:

"The Federal Communications Commission has designated October 25 as the date for a consolidated hearing on four applications in the Detroit area for a license, to be held in the Federal Building in Detroit.

"Due to possible conflict of interest, three Detroit applicants, namely Wolverine State Broadcasting Service, Inc., Herman Radner, and the UAW-CIO Broadcasting Corporation, seeking to operate a 250 Watt Daytime AM Station in Detroit are to be heard in opposition to the application of the Grosse Pointe Broadcasting Corporation.

"The Federal Communications Commission governs itself in determining issues of this type on the basis of the requirements of the communities concerned as to public interest, convenience and necessity.

"The UAW-CIO Broadcasting Corporation takes the position with the Federal Communications Commission that the public interest, convenience and necessity for its alleged 300,000 members is paramount, and that they are entitled to a license to the exclusion of everyone else.

"It is submitted that the people of Grosse Pointe are in need of a radio station and that their interests are superior to those of the UAW-CIO, whose whole effort will undoubtedly be devoted to propaganda purposes.

"The people of Grosse Pointe may indicate their intention according to seeing to it in their community groups, organizations and in their individual capacities, by imparting this need to the Federal Communications Commission.

"Anyone wishing to be heard will have such an opportunity at the designated hearing.

Willard Sanders Trains in Japan

With Eighth Army in Japan:—Pfc. Willard E. Sanders, ASN 46068999, the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Sanders, of 1116 Maryland avenue, Grosse Pointe Park, Mich., is now overseas with the 11th Airborne Division. Willard, who is at the present temporarily assigned to the 674th Pcht, F.A. Bn., is awaiting his turn to go to the 11th Airborne's jump school at Sendai, Japan. At the jump school he will be given two weeks of parachute training and upon the completion of such will be a qualified jumper.

Willard was inducted into the Army in April of 1946 at Ft. Sheridan, Ill. After taking armored force basic at Ft. Knox, Ky. he was sent immediately overseas to Japan. Arriving at the 4th Replacement Depot Yokohama, Willard volunteered for the paratroops; and in September, a month later, he was finally sent to the 674th. While at the 674th, Willard has already received one promotion in rank.

Pfc. Sanders was a student of Grosse Pointe High School before entering the Army and played two years varsity basketball for that school.

Essayists Given War Bond Prizes

The award of the three $100 war bond prizes for the best essays on the Permanent War Memorial was made at the Pierce Junior High School Tuesday night.

The presentation of the prizes was made by Alger Sheldon, president of the Grosse Pointe Memorial Association, the sponsor of the prizes, and the winners in the three classes of contestants were John Puchanan, from the student body of St. Paul's school; Sam Shepard from the veterans group, and Kenneth L. Moore from the civilian body.

These prizes were given for the general presentation of the argument for the type of memorial preferred by the contestant, for the memorial character of the project proposed and also for the estimated cost of maintenance.

The giving of the prizes did not signify that the particular type of memorial suggested would be accepted by the Memorial Association or the Study Group.

It happened that all three of the winning contestants had argued in favor of the library idea.

Alumni of DUS Having Reunion

The first big postwar alumni meeting of Detroit University School has been scheduled for this Friday, October 25.

The alumni will attend the Howe Military Academy football game at 3 p. m., following which "refreshments" will be served at the Country Club, with Stephen Stackpole, chairman of the board of trustees of the school, as host.

There will be a dinner at D.U.S. at 7 p. m. and the announcements stress, "with meat". Two alumni veterans will be speakers at the dinner. All alumni are urged to attend.

Pointe Getting Ready

The heavy registration of voters in the Pointe this year is indubitable proof that the citizens hereabouts are getting ready to take more than a cheering part in the 1946 elections. Some of this is due no doubt to the county elections, but in the main it must be ascribed to the national elections which will be the curtain raiser for the big show two years hence.

There is a tremendous nationwide interest in the Congressional elections this year and the big local registrations can only be interpreted as the local manifestations of this awakening. Grosse Pointers have been berated repeatedly for their lack of civic interest in local elections but usually wake up every four years when a presidential campaign is on.

If Stalin Comes

The rumor emanating from Halifax the last of the week that Stalin was coming over to the United States to attend the sessions of the United Nations Assembly was promptly denied by both the State Department and the White House. This might have been a routine denial for diplomatic reasons.

Should it prove true it would be a diplomatic event of the first magnitude, but carrying with it widely varying implications.

One might be that Premier Stalin has decided that the time had come for an authoritative declaration from him on the basic similarity of purpose of Russia and the Western powers for a secure world peace. This would be tantamount to a declaration by him that all of the irritating and misunderstood maneuvers that have plagued the progress towards peace had been only the usual arguments which precede a final settlement. Mr. Stalin would not of course say this, but the inference would be clear.

Another much less happy conclusion would be that he came to bolster up the communist element in this country which he of course knows to be his fifth column over here working towards the world advancement of the political and social ideology on which he has built his power in Russia and which it is assumed here he yet aims to push throughout the world despite the much advertised severance of his government from the world Third Internationale at the time he was attacked by Germany and was desperately in need of help from the western powers.

It is generally understood that he has been repeatedly urged to meet with the heads of state on either British or American soil, and until there is official denial of his coming at this time, world interest will be keyed to the highest pitch. If he comes it is to be devoutly hoped it will be with the olive branch of peace and not the snake skin stuffed with arrows or powder and ball with which the New England pioneers and the aborigines used to exchange greetings.

Sassy Landlords

The owners or agents of the apartment houses and other rentable residential property in Seattle who have refused to lease their places until rent ceilings are raised, had better look out. They are showing themselves poor judges of American character. They should also take a leaf from the experience of owners of usable living space in London where the English people are supposed to have a much deeper respect for the general legal paraphernalia of landlord and tenant than we cruder and more direct acting Americans.

They might create a situation where present ceiling rents would look awfully good to them. They had better apply some of their stubbornness towards the glad handed collectors and dispensers of the public taxes. That is getting at the root of most of the high price-high wage trouble of the country today.

Besides, even a little rent is better than none at all.

Gratitude

The late bush league kingdoms and present still-born democracies of Eastern Europe are a discouraging field for the exercise of Uncle Sam's natural altruistic and humanitarian instincts.

After World War I we took a leading part in recreating the Polish state as a sovereignty after its century and a half sleep of partition between Russia, Germany and Austria. Since then she has made a rather sorry mess of self government between so-called presidents and dictators. Moreover she demonstrated a twisted understanding of democracy and liberty. When Hitler was on the march through Czechoslovakia her only expressed concern for the travail of a sister republic was her yell for Teschen, the little bit of the Czech's domain which impinged on her southern border.

The other day when some discussion in the international talks now going on indicated she might not be backed up in all her demands for spoils, a crowd of Poles paraded before our embassy in Warsaw with banners and shouting indicating they regarded us as false friends and betrayers.

Into of Yugoslavia, whose tupenny country has had hundreds of millions in food, clothing, medicines and no little plain cash, is about as amenable as an untamed water buffalo in its dealings with us in our desperate but unappreciated efforts to help arrange a Europe of peace and security.

Yes, they all love us as long as the flow of supplies goes on uninterrupted.

If we show any inclination to keep a little for our own stomachs and backs we stand no higher in their esteem than those who were recently blowing them to bits.

Then the Commies

An interesting bit of news was carried in the press dispatches the other day that the employees of the New York Stock Exchange were considering a strike.

About all that remains after that will be for the President and the Senate and House at Washington to strike.

Grosse Exaggerations

A. PRYOR

"If all good people were clever,
And all clever people were good,
The world would be nicer than ever.
We thought that it possibly could.
But somehow, 'tis seldom or never
The two hit it off as they should;
The good are so harsh to the clever,
The clever so rude to the good."
(Elizabeth Wordsworth)

A local woman who was talked into having her picture taken by an out-of-town photographer, spent a rather hectic few hours last week. The camera-happy man arrived at the appointed hour armed with three mammoth metal suitcases laden with props. The woman watched in awe whilst he re-arranged her entire living room, set up his paraphernalia (which included three large lamps, a spot light and huge 'bed-sheet' propped on a pole.) The floor was covered with huge cables, flash bulbs, plates and of course, the set up lamps. After almost an hour of setting the stage, the woman was told to seat herself on a certain chair. . . then another ten or fifteen minutes passed while the Photog posed her this way and that. . . while the lights beat down, melting her make-up.

At last our out-of-town friend crawled under his black hood, made a few adjustments and said, "Ah, Madam! You will make a splendid picture. . . SLENDID!" He then came out from under the hood, told her to smile, pressed the bulb and PRESTO! the shutter on the camera fell apart!

He tsked, tsked around for awhile. . . said that had never happened before in all the years he'd had the camera. . . and he was sure he could fix it if Madam didn't mind waiting a few minutes. Would Madam mind getting him a screw driver? When she returned with the screw driver, he had the camera apart ready to go to work. She watched fascinated while he tried to remove a frightening number of small screws. Finally he allowed he'd have to have a smaller screw driver. . . if Madam didn't mind. She fetched another one. Then he needed a nail file and a pair of tweezers.

After a good twenty five minutes under the broiling lights (which he needed in order to see the small screws) . . . he managed to get the thing completely apart. The job ahead looked pretty hopeless to the now weary "sitter" . . . so she decided to have a drink. . . a good stiff one. She sipped her drink while the little man worked away, muttering to himself and apologizing whenever he thought about her. Another half hour went by. . . then Voila! everything was now fixed, would Madam please take her place again. A definitely weary and slightly foggy eyed Madam sat herself down again, looked at the birdie and smiled. . . and BANG went the shutter! . . . all over the floor.

Our heroine asked timidly, "Are you going to try to fix it AGAIN?" Yes, he thought he might have another crack at it. . . so the woman poured herself another snort and sat down to wait. When he had the camera apart again, she peered over his shoulder and saw that the lens was broken on all four corners and several parts of the 'accordian' were stuck together with adhesive tape. "You must have had this camera a long time," she said. "Yes. . . for YEARS and no one ever broke it before!"

The unhappy woman looked at herself a little wistfully in the mirror and made herself another drink. At last he was ready to try it again, so Madam went rather unsteadily to her former perch. The little man said, "Perhaps Madam is too TIRED to pose now?" But no, she decided, she'd been potting around for so long, he might as well go ahead and see what happened. Well, the same thing happened again. "It is probably just as well," said the photographer. . . a little enigmatically, she thought. About an hour later, the last thing she could still see was the harassed man slowly moving toward his car, staggering under the weight of the suitcases. Sometime when she overcomes her newly acquired inferiority complex. . . she thinks she'll try a local photographer.

Had any plumbing jobs done in the home lately? If and when you do. . . be SURE to look on while the plumber works. . . it's as good as any vaudeville show.

Last week, we found something sinister going on with the hot water faucet in our bathroom, so we sent for a plumber. He arrived with his 'helper' (he explained) and proceeded to go to work. This consisted of kneeling on the floor before the basin. . . and calling to his assistant for tools as he needed them. He'd say (quite dramatically we thought), "Wrench" . . . then his aide would solemnly pass him the wrench. Then. . . "Pipe" . . . and the aide would pass the pipe. It wouldn't have surprised us, had he said, "scalpel" . . . "sponge" etc. In fact we were so entranced we expected any minute.

Finally he asked for something the interne. . . ooops! we mean assistant couldn't find, so he told him to go out to the car and see if it was there. When the helper left, the plumber sat on the only available sitting place in the bathroom and lit a cigarette. . . (to calm his nerves, no doubt.) We wondered if it was true what they say about paying plumbers by the hour! At last the aide returned and eventually the job was finished. The patient was resting easily.

Later in the day, we turned the cold water faucet on. . . but nothing happened. . . not a drop of water put in an appearance. We telephoned the plumber and were told by his wife that he was out for the day. "But," we wailed in high C. . . "He was here to fix our hot water faucet and has gone and now the COLD water doesn't run at all!" His very charming and understanding bride soothed us with, "Oh these plumbers! He probably forgot to turn it on before he left!" She then told us what to turn on and where we'd find it. . . thereby saving us (we hope) several hundreds of dollars for plumber AND assistant.

Letters to the Editor

Mr. D. Roger MacNaughton,
(Care of Mr. Edgar, G. P. News.)
Dear Sir:

A laurel wreath to you sir for your very fine letter in the news October 17, concerning the Amendment No. 2. I am not so much concerned with Dr. Essert's attitude toward the tax, as your premise that the present sales tax is a bad tax. If any move is to be made it should be to abolish the costly "nuisance tax." If the sales tax were removed many of us could consider we had received a raise. Right now, with living cost inflated we of the middle class are feeling the pinch.

I am a former teacher who helped launch the strong campaign to make the badly needed sales tax a reality. However it never did serve its proposed purpose to the teachers of Michigan. To all politicians in Lansing it is an "expense fund," a luscious plum.

The candidate who can courageously use, "lets abolish the sales tax," for his campaign for governor will be put in office for life and Washington if he wants to go.

A homemaker trying to get along on a school teacher's salary with a family.

Dear Mr. Edgar:

When the Grosse Pointe Victory Garden Council met last Tuesday (October 15) to review the results of the past session, it was brought to our attention how much the publicity regarding both gardens and the food situation appearing in the Grosse Pointe News had meant to the continued success of the Victory Garden program. We wish to thank you for your interest, not only in publishing the material we have sent your office, but for the excellent editorials on the food situation and the articles on related subjects which have appeared in the News also.

In spite of the slackening zeal in many war-time projects, now that peace has come, 188 far-flung planted gardens on four community plots in the Grosse Pointe Municipalities last summer. Many also again raised vegetables in their own back yards. Although we shall not know until next spring whether it will be necessary to continue to provide food for all, we are sure, if there is the need, that the people of Grosse Pointe again will wholeheartedly do their best to help.

Sincerely yours,
Christine Edwards, Secretary
G. P. Victory Garden Council

Talley Rant

Want to hear the low-down on television? It smells. A man named LAUBE, who lives in New York, has perfected a little gadget. You turn a screw and odors pertaining to the picture being shown on the screen float right out over the audience. Say you are looking at your favorite star eating breakfast in a mink negligee with a plastic dicky—you can smell the ham. Suppose CLARK GABLE comes in all rugged and virile and presents a bottle of INDISCRET to his lady. The audience has a heck of a time because we all get a whiff too. Mr. LAUBE says he has 500 different odors which can be turned off or on instantaneously and in any sequence.

You wouldn't think JOHN PERONA and the DUCHESS of WINDSOR had much in common except EL MOROCO, but they'll have a lot to talk about now. Thieves nicked JOHN for 20,000 worth and you know what they did to the DUCHESS. JOHN said the loot at his place consisted of 15 or 16 jeweled cigar cases and a few wrist watches. WALLY is quoted as saying that the 800,000 estimate of her loss is an exaggeration and that she hopes she hasn't embarrassed the ROYAL FAMILY. Not much, she hasn't.

The METROPOLITAN MUSEUM of ART is celebrating its DIAMOND JUBILEE this year and the committee, of which I am a member, is working to collect $7,500,000. It is necessary to modernize the present buildings and to erect new ones to house the art works which have accumulated. By next summer there will be a lovely patio for tea and lunch and there will also be a first class restaurant in place of the make-shift in use now. On NOVEMBER 4th there will be a showing at the KNOEDLER GALLERY on 57th street of the 25 finest pictures KNOEDLER has sold in his 100 years in business. There will be a preview for the rank and file of New York at $5 a head, so if you are in town come on up and see an outstanding collection of the world's finest pictures. The proceeds go to the JUBILEE FUND.

NEW YORK NOTES. There is a delegation of INDIANS at the WALDORF. Probably have one of the 24 dollar suits. We have some cowboys and girls in town too for the RODEO at Madison Square Garden. They had a noon-time parade down the Avenue the other day and stopped traffic while the N. Y. hicks gaped at the fancy clothes and the chuck wagon. We also have been staring at EMIL ABDUL AZIZ NASR, the son of King IBN SAUD of SAUDI ARABIA. He is a swarthy, black-eyed gentleman in a fancy hat.

Met WALTER LIPPMAN at a party at the DICK ABBOTTS and was struck, as always, by his fine, expressive eyes. Saw FRANK and MURIEL BUCK—FRANK receiving congratulations on his new book. And let me say right here that if you want to read a book you can't put down, get FALL OF VALOR by JACKSON the man who wrote LOST WEEK-END. If anyone were to ask me to write a one line criticism of "FALL," I'd say—NO FUN IN RED. Lay your hands too, on NIGHTMARE ALLEY.

LILY PONS was in the COO ROUGE looking cute as pie. LILY opens the METROPOLITAN OPERA season on NOV. 11 with LAKME. Exchanged a few pleasant insults with HAROLD ROSS at 21. HAROLD said, why don't you use a little more aggressiveness—call me up, I'd like to take you to dinner next week—dammit, I'm a busy man, I can't think of everything—come on, be more aggressive, call me up. Saw CHARLES MACARTHUR and MARY in BONWIT TELLERS waiting for HELEN HAYES to finish a fitting. I'm told her new play "HAPPY BIRTHDAY"—which opened in Boston, is pretty good.

I told you I'd report on EUGENE O'NEILL'S "ICE MAN." It's a back room of a saloon full of sad and sordid characters and it's an hour too long. The time out for the audience to go to dinner breaks the mood and several people I noticed didn't come back. I liked it because I like acting, but believe me, it's nothing to go to for a cheery evening.

FARMS FIRE REPORT
The Village of Grosse Pointe Farms Fire Department report for the month of September, showed a total of 8 calls. Five of these were emergency calls and only one was to a residence. Others were field fires and an automobile. The report was submitted by Chief George F. Dans-

Hallowe'en Masks Can Be Dangerous

Three small children struck down in the streets by automobiles was too big a price to pay for Hallowe'en.

The three, in different parts of the city, each wore a costume appropriate to the gaiety that so swiftly turned into hushed tragedy: Each wore a mask—funny, but well-designed to hinder vision of approaching traffic.

A Detroit newspaper in this way summed up the opinion of every Detroit about last year's Hallowe'en celebration. And it inspired a determination that there should be no repetition this year.

Parents are urged to remember:

1. Hallowe'en traffic will be the heaviest of all time.
2. Children are apt to forget their traffic safety lessons under the stress of excitement.
3. Darkness increases the danger to all pedestrians.
4. Many children will be masked. By restricting vision, masks constitute a danger to all who wear them out of doors.

Tragedy can be avoided, according to the Traffic Safety Association, if parents will plan attractive indoor festivities so that their children will find it unnecessary to seek their fun on dark, traffic-filled streets, handicapped by excitement and blinded by masks. The Association stresses the point that one child's injury is too high a price to pay for Hallowe'en.

PROGRESS REPORT

Village Manager Lane of the Park reported to the Board of Commissioners October 21 on the progress of sewer and paving work in the village for the period from April 1 to September 30. Particularly notable has been the additions to the sewer system and the cleaning out of sewers whose efficiency had long been impaired by root growth and refuse. Between two and three miles of new pavements and resurfacing had also been laid.

RUNS IN FRONT OF CAR

Joseph F. Bogus, of 4658 Chatsworth, Detroit, while driving north on Nottingham Tuesday afternoon, October 22, struck a little girl, Janet Sailors, aged 4, who had run out into the street to recover a ball. He was taken to Bon Secours Hospital and treated for a cut artery. Five shots of T.A.T. and Gasellus Toxoid were administered.

As the Twig Is Bent

By FRED M. KOPP, R. Ph.

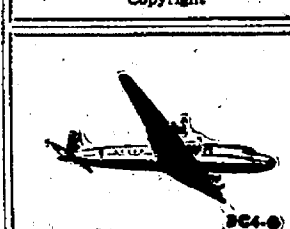

Children particularly need health protection. As the twig is bent, so the tree inclines.

Everything depends upon the growing formative years. Not alone character, but sound teeth, straight sturdy bones, a pure bloodstream, must be protected, built and nourished.

All this calls for expert medical attention and frequent checkups. It means a careful, generous diet, serums as advised by the physician, guarding against childhood ailments.

Only a thoroughly experienced prescription pharmacist should be trusted to compound the medicine your doctor prescribes.

Strictly air-minded are the attractive Pointers... Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Evans of Lake Shore road... and their great friends... Mr. and Mrs. William Harts...

Saw them at the Seal-Peel Banquet in Hotel Statler the other evening... the ladies looking elegant indeed in their autumn costumes... and the gentlemen very interested as they listened to the young Detroit woman... Mildred Funk... president of the growing corporation which manufactures plastic packaging with emphasis on use for air cargoes...

We are hipped on the subject of Seal-Peel ourselves... having been a guinea pig for the product several weeks ago when an ordinary aspirin bottle was dipped in the liquid plastic which solidified within a minute or two...

The bottle was given to us and we were instructed to throw it on a tile floor... We were delighted... we just felt like breaking a bottle of aspirin... BUT... the package merely bounced... and when un-seal-peeled the bottle of aspirin was perfectly intact...

MR. MARSHALL OF THE NEWS IMPRESSES

The Evanses and the Harts joined the guests that night... in some mighty palm-pounding for the speaker of the evening... Detroit News Editorial Writer S. L. A. Marshall... who served his country in an important position during World War II as director of O. S. S. in the ETO...

He talked of how Goering just a year ago... had said to him in an interview...

In its third new home within a decade, the Detroit Symphony Orchestra this evening (Thursday) will open the 1946-47 season.

Following the opening concert Mr. and Mrs. Reichhold will be hosts at a large supper party. The very names of some of the guests have long been associated with the Symphony Orchestra. In some cases those names on generous checks kept the orchestra alive so that Detroit, more industrially active than culturally, might have music of the masters from its own great orchestra.

Newcomers Club Planning Parties

The fall season of the Grosse Pointe Newcomers Club will continue in November with a progressive bridge party planned for the evening of the first, and a Mexican party to be held the twenty-second at the Neighborhood Club.

The Mexican party will start off with an authentic "south of the border" dinner, followed by colored movies of Mexico shown by Earl Brink, of Grosse Pointe. Mr. Brink, whose hobby is colored motion picture films, has travelled extensively in foreign lands taking colored film of hitherto little photographed places. Mr. Brink will give a running talk of explanation with the film. Dancing and singing by professional Mexican entertainers will conclude the program which is being arranged by "Bus" Huestis, assisted by Mrs. Lester Elliott, social chairman, and her committee.

October was a busy month for Newcomers with a bridge party held at the Grosse Pointe Memorial church, Oct. 4, and a turkey dinner held there the evening of the eighteenth. Cliff Lundgren and Jim Dodge, garbed in chefs' hats and aprons, carved the turkeys and the Halloween decorations were the handiwork of their wives, who had the assistance of Mrs. Elliott. Following dinner, the club presented table lamps as gifts of appreciation to the past year's president, Bennett Burgoon, and past social chairman, Mrs. Nevin Lyons.

Dancing, games and singing comprised the evening's entertainment.

During October, four new couples joined the group: Mr. and Mrs. George McCall, of 1332 Harvard Road; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Delfs, of 419 Touraine; Mr. and Mrs. William Hunt, of 460 Fisher; and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Popkin, of 505 Pemberton. Any couples who have moved to Grosse Pointe recently from outside the greater Detroit area, and are interested in joining the club are asked to telephone Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Huestis, TU. 2-7420, for details of eligibility.

RUTH APPEGATE and her seventeenth birthday will have memorable mention in five Grosse Pointe diaries. The evening opened when the girls met at Ruth's home on Loraine road to have a group photograph taken. Then, while they progressed to Harvard House for dinner and on to the movies, the picture was developed and printed. Ruth, Ann Stewart, Harriet Prevo, Melba Wallace and Janie Stewart have celebrated many birthdays together, and as tried and true friends, it made the cake cutting and toasting Friday night a fitting sequence.

League Holds Fall Meeting

Discussion of Plans for Coming Year Centers About Organization's Projects

Mrs. James McEvoy, Jr., new president of the Junior League of Detroit, presided at the League's Fall Meeting held at the Country Club on Tuesday, October 22.

Other executive officers holding new positions for the year 1946-1947, who were present, included: Mrs. Theodore R. Buttrick, Jr., first vice-president; Mrs. Edward Skas, second vice-president; Mrs. Clemson N. Page, third vice-president; Mrs. John M. S. Hutchinson, recording secretary; Mrs. Earl I. Heenan, Jr., corresponding secretary; Mrs. Daniel W. Good-enough, treasurer; Mrs. Henry B. Kinzie, assistant treasurer.

The following members of the Board of Directors were also present: Mrs. Roy D. Chapin, Jr., Mrs. Gilbert Curry, Mrs. Edward Doyle, Miss Ethel Flinn, Mrs. John Garlinghouse, Mrs. Emory Hatch, Mrs. Harry Hoey, Mrs. John B. Lanigan, Mrs. Eugene Lewis, Jr., Mrs. Harvey Parke, Mrs. Stuart Smith, Mrs. William Tost, Mrs. Donald Walker, Mrs. Charles M. White, and Mrs. Gordon Wood.

Discussion of plans for the coming year centered around the League projects, "Pioneer House," Cancer Detection Clinics, and Radio. It was announced that Social Agencies are cooperating with the staff of "Pioneer House" in finding boys who will most benefit from placement in the Group Therapy Home. A "grand opening" is expected on or about the fifteenth of November.

New provisional members, numbering 47, are attending a provisional course consisting of a series of 12 lectures on the City of Detroit and how it works, it was announced by the Provisional Training Chairman, Mrs. Gordon Wood. This course is being conducted under the leadership of Laurentine B. Collins, director of School-Community Relations, Detroit Public Schools, and speakers will represent various phases of Detroit Community life. These will include the Detroit

Police Department, Wayne University School of Social Work, Girl Scouts, Citizens' Housing and Planning Council, Department of Health, the Visiting Nurse Association, Detroit Public Schools Department of Education, and the City of Detroit Interracial Committee.

Mrs. McEvoy said that members of the Executive Board and the Board of Directors have been attending these lectures and urge any other interested persons, League members or otherwise, to attend in the future.

Luncheon to Honor Mrs. Joseph Spitzley

In honor of Mrs. Joseph Spitzley (Sallie Sibley) Mrs. Ray Spitzley of Renaud road will entertain a group of friends in her home next Friday at a luncheon and bridge.

On Saturday the Spitzleys plan to attend the Michigan-Illinois football game together at Ann Arbor. They will have luncheon at the Sigma Phi Fraternity house and dinner at the Michigan Union.

If you have no answer for the serious conditions in the world you refuse to face how serious they are.

Quite Contrary

by mary madison

Maggy the Model came zipping into town in a dangerously curved black silk dress, slim and intriguing as a question mark aimed to make any man forget his dark October ailments. One look at Maggy and the stocks all rise and shine. But it was her new black Russian Broadtail Dolman that gave us the old Urge to Splurge. It looked so 1950 that it made the old blonde mink look like something the cat had shed in the first of his nine lives.

"Are they shipping Russian Broadtail into the country again, or did you get it from Joseph Stalin?" we asked her.

"Quit Stalin," she said. "I earned it with the sweat of my low brow—posing in Paris furs."

Then she was off on the tale that's going the rounds of Glamour Gulch in Andy Anderson's Model Agency on Park avenue. It concerns the most optimistic little model in Manhattan. As she was window-watching along the Avenue, she saw a little masterpiece of a mink coat, which she simply couldn't live without. But the price tag read $12,000.95 including tax.

Nothing daunted, she ankled into the plush fur salon, slipped on the coat, and went into a huddle with the princely owner. Being the sort of beauty who could do even more for mink than mink could do for her, the prince of good fellows took her proposition. She put down ninety five cents on the coat, and promised to come back for it the next week—with the $12,000.

Back she came, on the day appointed, bearing the money and claiming the coat. It was at the zooming noon hour, with all the models heading for lunch at The Colony that she casually swished into Glamour Gulch, wearing the mink that looked like the wages of cinema.

Oh-ing and Ah-ing the models to get it? "But what did you DO to get it?"

"Just shortened the bottom," she beamed and breezed along.

That, pet, sort of sums up the sage of fur fashions. No matter how regal a fur coat looks one year, something invariably has to be done with it the next year and the year after. Incidentally that's how the fabulous fur firms stay in business and personally, we're all for it. Nothing is so dated as a demoted fur coat.

As Maggy pointed out to us, most of the belles in our fashion unconscious city don't really seem to know how to luxuriate in furs. Just so long as they stink with mink, they think they're sensational. This attitude is obviously typical of the Born-Yesterday Babes, sighing with little Judy Holliday: "I ought to be happy—I've got everything—two mink coats!"

The belles of New York, San Francisco and even Chicago seem to feel something new should be added unless they have a wardrobe of five or six furs. Broadtail over town gowns, Beaver for football games, Mink for heavy weather, Seal skin for sentimental moments, and ermine or sable for evening. That still leaves all the leopards and ocelots in the jungle when you feel like hitting the spots. This sort of fur wardrobe is a match for all the rich witches in other towns. But, according to Maggy, after a party at the Pointe, she just goes to sleep counting minks hopping over the bed.

When it comes to the furs that are more practical than precious, the furriers were never so adept as this season. The Jap Minks are back on the market—sometimes under the nom de plume of Chinese Mink—and they're vastly less than others.

(Possibly because it doesn't cost a mink much to live in Japan these days). The furriers have also developed the art of shearing Opposum so it has the glossy pile and sheen of beaver. And the muskrat skins are now let out, subtly dyed and matched so much like mink that its own mate wouldn't know the difference. And, of course, the moutons are really lambs on college kids or kids who feel collegiate.

If you're a girl who likes to play the future books, you'll take one of the very new black Alaskan Seal skins—to win, place and show off your figure. Adrian's petite wife, the former Janet Gaynor, has been wearing a fabulous hooded cape of seal that makes her look like someone out of a Gainsborough painting. But the swankiest of the seals are the romantic Gay Nineties' Jackets. They flatter the figure with their brief, cutaway lines and frame the face with the huge, upstanding collars—the sort of fur that calls for Parma Violets and not Butterfly Orchids.

Enfin, it is on the record, pet, that anyone can keep as hot and healthy in muskrat as in mink. It just seems that in this macabre world, women would rather be UNhappy in mink than happy in muskrat! So, just look hot and keep cool. You'll probably get the mink—if you have that 85 cents down payment and a date with fate.

EVEDROPPING. At the Women's City Club: "Of course I believe in long engagements! Why shouldn't a girl enjoy herself as long as she can?"

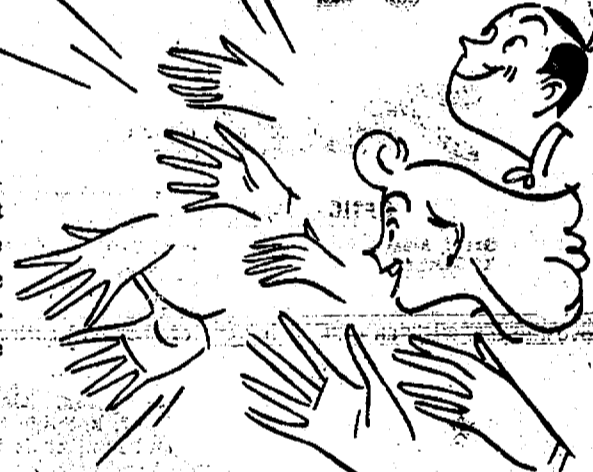

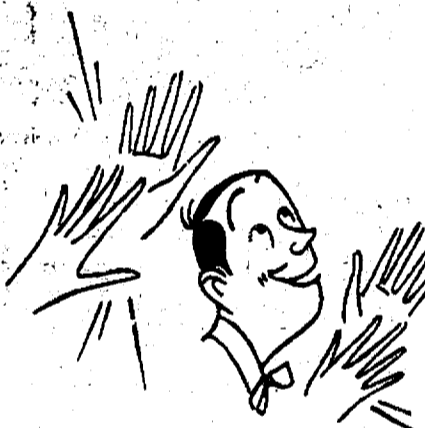

In the Terrace Room: "Darling, I'd LOVE to change beds with you."

In the Detroit Club: "So I just said to Joe, when he went hunting, 'At the price of feathers to day, don't mess around with wild duck—shoot me a GOOD hat.'"

In a Washington Press Room: "Now WHICH one of you boys tackled that sign on President Truman's door—DON'T ANNOY THE PIANO PLAYER—HE'S DOING THE BEST HE CAN."

At long last A&P's meat men are cutting up again... cutting up meat, that is! And are they happy! You'll be, too, when you see the tender, juicy cuts in our refrigerated cases. Don't expect miracles, though! Even A&P can't pull steaks, chops and roasts out of a hat on a few days notice. It takes time to get cattle from ranges to our Meat Departments. Consequently, you may not be able to get just what you want when you want it. But you can get meat. And before long we'll have all the meat you can eat... in your favorite cuts. In the meantime we offer these top-quality cuts at prices that compare favorably with those prevailing elsewhere. Come in and see for yourself!

Round Out Your Menu With A&P's FRESH FRUITS AND VEGETABLES!

In our big Produce Department you'll find a grand assortment of flavorful young vegetables to accompany your meat course... and luscious, ripe fruits to top it off. Rushed to your A&P from leading growing areas, they're all at the peak of freshness. Take home a basketful!

PERSONAL APPEARANCES

FLORRIE MUIR is a study in black and white from the tip of her head to the heel of her well shod feet when wearing that black and white checked wool costume. Florrie never intrudes her clear thinking and executive ability but she can always be depended upon for them—and she's such fun—love that gal with her infectious laugh.

Saw CHRIS NEWBERRY in a smart tweed suit with a Paisley kilt-like arrangement on her head. No one can be more gracious and charming than Chris and she rates a great big hand for the job she is continuing to do as head of the Red Cross Grey Ladies.

A bit of the Tyrol is seen in the Pointe in the person of cute MARY SCHLAF when she wears that adorable Hunter's green and scarlet costume. I expect the whistles turn to yodels when they see that bat—it's that becoming!

PILFERINGS

By Another Name—To, some, a fall bonnet may be ruddy, zany, sweet or neat. But to the designer each chapeau has a name all its own. Walter Florell's name for hats with trimmings that swing high or low, left or right, is BELFRIES. It's COZYCAPS that Sally Victor calls her creations that extend out toward the back and are draped or tied under the chin. RHITOS Hattie Carnegie hats that have a decided swing to the right. Florence Reichman's small hat with spiraled back treatment which suggests the cross section of a snail shell is called just that—L'ESCARGOT.

MR. THOMAS E. PADDOCK—Black and white shaving brush—Soglow's "The Little King"—shoe bags containing tennis, golf and dancing shoes—marigolds—"Punch"—demi-tasse—"Mr. Bones."

PLEASANT RUMORS

This being the hunting season I can think of no more appropriate room to tell you about than the library of the Arthur Buhl, Jr. The walls are paneled in light pine, with recessed shelves holding books and figurines. The pictures are all of birds; Roland Clark's water colors of mallard, drake and canvasback; an etching of quails; and a lovely scene of a partridge flying through the woods, by Lynn Bogue Hunt.

The windows are curtained in hand-blocked linen with a putty background, having sprays of blue leaves and ribbon berries; this is also used as a chair cover. Several brown leather chairs and a large sofa covered in a warm, blue, woolen fabric add to the comfort of the room. On one of the small tables is an interesting bronze of a bear and her two cubs climbing the branch of a tree. A china lamp base has ducks painted on it and the shade has a marsh scene design.

On the mantel are found small carved figures of ducks, pheasants and partridge painted in their natural colors. Above the mantel is an oil showing one of the Buhl setters retrieving partridge.

The rug is of a buff color chenille which blends nicely with the warm browns used throughout the room. One might infer that this is a man's room primarily, but due to the Buhls' mutual interest in the woods and hunting it is definitely a family room and it emits comfort and hominess.

MISS MARGARET GIFFORD

By Olive Larned

MISS MARGARET GIFFORD modeled in clay while a student at the Liggett School and later when she attended Wellesley college for three years she majored in History of Art and in conjunction with this course had practical art work at the studios. Later she attended the Cranbrook Academy of Art for almost two years and studied with Marshall Fredericks and Carl Milles. She was a member of the first class to be given the degree of Bachelor of Fine Arts in 1943. Miss Gifford is now teaching two days a week at Kingswood.

After she began her work in sculpture she entered shows at the Detroit Institute of Arts, the National Academy of Design in New York, the Norton Gallery in Palm Beach and the Grosse Pointe Artists.

Miss Gifford is fortunate in having an ideal place to work in her own home and it is a treat to be invited to her studio. One of the most interesting pieces on view there is the head of a young woman, Miss Gifford calls "A Portrait of Dorothy." This is carved from Roman Travertine stone and won a first prize at the Grosse Pointe Artists' show in 1945 and first honorable mention at the shown in Palm Beach in 1946.

A charming ceramic, a pair of Chinese figures, with a ribbon at the 1946 Grosse Pointe Artists' show in 1946.

A sculpture of a woman resting her long hair flowing about her

is named "Eve."

One's attention is drawn to the figure carved in mahogany, called "A Lamenting Woman," which seems to embody all the tragedy which has befallen woman throughout the ages. Miss Gifford started this piece while in Cranbrook and it is still in process.

Among her commissioned works are seen "A Portrait of a Doctor" a stunning head carved in white Vermont marble, "Johnny," the head of an 18 months old child is an adorable piece, and she is working at present on the design for a memorial cross.

A friend of Miss Gifford lives in a modern house and has some interesting Tibetan furniture and an unusual Tibetan banner. She was desirous of having a sculpture to harmonize with these pieces and Miss Gifford obliged with a fascinating Tibetan figure of red clay.

On the wall of the studio is a charming relief in white stone of Miss Gifford's grandmother and on a small table beside this is a bronze head of her grandfather.

Being entirely ignorant of the mechanics involved in sculpture I asked Miss Gifford how she worked and she explained, that she starts with an armature and models first in plastiline. This is then cast in plaster and then carved in stone or wood or cast in bronze. Sculpture in clay is modeled directly, dried and then fired in the kiln. If glaze is desired the piece must be fired again.

Miss Gifford likes best to work in stone and is at present working on a pretentious composition of the figures of two young girls carved from pale pink Tennessee marble as shown in the picture above. She has been working on this for several years, but even in its unfinished state one is aware of the beauty and grace which is being unfolded in this sculpture.

It is easy to see that in this art of sculpture more than talent and a love of beauty is required. Education, patience, tenacity and care combine with Miss Gifford's natural ability to make her the fine artist that she is.

ST. PAUL

HI-LITES

By PAULA BEAUPRE

This has really been a fun-packed week-end with the theme of the season being worked into all the parties and gatherings which filled every minute of the time.

The fall season was ushered in last Friday by a party at the Kenwood Court home of JEANNE KULKA. It was one of those "definitely no boys invited" parties. The girls spent most of the time sipping cider, munching doughnuts and apples, and just gossiping. (Naturally!) The big event of the evening came around when Jeanne brought out her recording set and each "Dinah Shore" gave out with her own version of the latest hits. Each record is being preserved in the Kulka "Album of Hits and Misses." Those in the spotlight included Marilyn Otto, Alice Fausser, Alda Marie Crowe, Joan Beaupre, Betty Huetteman, Mary Lou and Pat Thibodeau, Mary Ann Hillebrand, Fannie Ardito and Joan Krausman.

The Michigan - Northwestern game summoned JANE O'CONNOR, MARILYN OTTO, and JOANNE SINGER, who made their way to Ann Arbor to meet their dates for the day. They arrived at the stadium in time for the opening kick-off. The girls were escorted to the game by Roland Gray, Andy Paton, and Dave Penman.

Another unique get-together, which showed the true autumn spirit, took place at the home of MARGARET CLARK last Saturday. The lads and their lassies sat around the open fire, in spite of the damp weather, roasting dogs, and singing the latest favorites. The merry evening was topped off with a scavenger hunt which was filled with suspense until the grand prize winners were announced. The lucky couples were Marie Meldrum and Jim Mann, Ann Meathe and Dick Morketter.

The groups went from door to door procuring the fantastic articles required. The collectors were Joanne Schummer, Jim Law, Judy Athman, John Bingham, Christine West, John Hoy, Jane Ludwig, Tim Carrigan, Nancy Bergmann, Harry Hammond, Pat Trombley, Joe Cavanaugh, Peggie Labadie, Chuck Wyllie.

Another Friday night gathering occurred at the Ridgeman place of JANE O'CONNOR, who arrived home Friday afternoon from Seina Heights College in Adrian, Michigan. The hostess provided her own entertainment by playing the piano for the girls who gathered 'round and mimicked the latest recordings. Some of the girls on hand to welcome their former classmate on her first week-end home were: Shirley Alard, Mary Ann Backman, Shirley Williams and Mary Lou Goulin.

The first meeting of the newly organized St. Paul Club occurred Friday at eight in the school gym. The active group started the ball rolling by suggesting a name for the organization; then they voted on the admission price and the hours. The purpose of this club is to provide a place for the students to go on Friday nights when they have some extra time to spend. Arrangements are being made to have ping-pong and other game tables set up. The juke box will be playing the newest records for dancing. Later on, refreshments will be served in the cafeteria. Some of the group gathered 'round the juke box after the meeting included: Peg Wagner, Al Campenhook, Nancy Stahl, Danny O'Connor, Don Backman, Bill Goulin, Joyce Alef, Butch DeRoche, Pat Van Tien, Marion Rabaut, Dan Campau, Ray Altor, Mary Wade, Peggy Hyde, Joan LaBelle, John Auckland, and Virginia Miklovich.

Grosse Pointe High Field was the scene of the St. Paul game last Sunday when the Flyers met the St. Martin "11."

Those waving red and white streamers while standing for the opening kick-off were: Ann Dugan, Theresa Luffy, Marilyn Buck, Nora Allard, Josephine Cammella, Freddie Maddock, Joan Krehnbrink, Rosemary Wruble, Rita Leithouser, Dot Hillebrand, Dodo Ardito, Sally Murphy, and Marilyn Mueller.

Others seen cheering from the packed bleachers included Dick Morketter, Mary Flor, Veronica Tamm, Betty Sheridan, Peggy Wortley, and Jane Lodewyck, Jack Galdoni, Bill Wild, Henrietta Sutton, Dick Wueker, Mary Sparr, Don Savage, and Sal Nacy. Many of the Alumni were seen cheering for their Alma Mater. Among them were Jean Kennedy, Bernie Tamm, Betty Beupre, Tom and Charline Ward, Maylou Babcock, Janet and Johnnie Iresch, Gerry Mauer, Bill DuBeau, Tom Belanger, Gergette DeBecker, Mary Ann West, Isabel Rabaut, Lon Backman, Normie Schafer, Mary Ann Reynolds, and Louis Fox.

Pointe Counter Points

by OLIVE H. LARNED

Travel note—Mr. Harry Esling has just returned from New York, where he selected fabrics for furniture covering and materials for hanging. (The latter does not include rope!) Mr. Esling was long associated with the Esling firm, noted interior decorators, so you may know that he knows his "stuff and stuff." He is now the "Hay" of HAYDON HOUSE and his partner Mr. Schilling is the "Don" and he also knows their stuff. It is said that "a good man is hard to find" but they know a good man to repair your radio, another to upholster and make hangings, and they themselves are two good men to contact. HAYDON HOUSE is filled with so many good things I couldn't begin to tell you about them. New pieces of furniture are up-bolstered in goodlooking fabrics; and for people who don't throw stones there are glass coffee tables, lamp tables and dining room furniture—(no more removing your shoes undetected!) oh yes, I forgot, to tell you that the glass chairs are cushioned. Well, thank goodness for that. There may be a light of your life, but for light in your home, be sure to see the beautiful lamps they have, just for you.

Intelligence tests may sharpen your wits, but they won't do a thing to your knives, shears or garden tools. But GIRARD PAYE will—you may call him at Niagara 3680—his shop is located at 16901 East Jefferson; or call his residence—Tuxedo 1-0474—this is for the benefit of the new-comers to Grosse Pointe—all the residents of long standing know what a fine sharpening service GIRARD PAYE gives. It's a pleasure to work with household tools when he has sharpened them and anything that makes work more pleasant should be encouraged, don't you agree?

For women of the world (aged from 14 to 17) the High School shop of JACOBSON'S has what it takes. For the moment, this shop is located back of the infants' department, but don't let that bother you, walk right through like the lady your family wants you to be. You'll find a love of a dress that will make you look that way too, I mean, a lady, and a love. It's of grey jersey with white collars and cuffs, which always gives a demure look but the large silver disk buttons will make you rise and shine! For the sophisticated lady there's a two piece costume—a jumper of grey wool having wide stripes, every now and then, of red, green, brown and black—sounds quaint but it's very modern—a jacket of the same can be worn with the jumper or would make a smart top piece worn with slacks. Speaking of jackets, you ought to see all the different styles they have! Checks in red and white and black and white; these are made like a man's shirt, and look well with slacks or skirts of a solid color—check me if you don't agree—To make you a scarlet lady, and yet keep your reputation there's a bright red wool jacket—guaranteed to make you the cynosure of all eyes. Not only the young men-about-town go for skirts, the skirts themselves are to be found at Jacobson's, checks, plaids, and plaid wools, (you'll be solid in any of these) "Ash-wife" "killie" and "wrap arounds" (these have sweaters to match, for those who yearn to be sweeter girls). There is something new under the sun—friendship pins—sterling silver pins in the shape of spoons—a pair for $1.95—one for you and one for your very best gal friend. If you like treasure hunts, you'll like what you find in Jacobson's.

There's good news in the market place today—I mean the good news of the removal of the controls placed on fats and oils. But to make it better news, Mr. Henri, of HENRI'S MARKET makes the following suggestion, "To keep prices from rising and to lower those that have risen beyond the proper margin of profit—practice the art of self restraint—buy sparingly." If you have a storage freezer, don't buy quantities of meat to put away now. In the first place, you'll be better off if you wait, as it is a well known fact that meat to be tender, must be aged. Secondly, by being unselfish you will help to bring the prices to their legitimate level and insure a fair distribution to all. This offers a wonderful opportunity to practice the Golden Rule. Try it at HENRI'S MARKET.

The gorgeous, fall weather we have been enjoying is apt to keep out of mind the thought that winter is just around the corner. (I hope that a blizzard is not raging as you read this, as it would make my "reminder" superfluous.) You doubtless have taken care of protecting your family from the chill blasts of winter but how about protecting your car? The Kercheval-Cadieux Service Station, (located at the same place) will be happy to see that your car is cared for in the proper manner. They'll put anti-freeze in the radiator and winter grease in the transmission and differential, (for those of us who are not mechanically minded, may I say that this is a definite must) and whatever is necessary to the well-being of your car, automatically results in your well-being, is it not so? You'll get the best of service at the Kercheval-Cadieux Service Station, I know, I use it.

People come from all over the city to get the marvelous cleaning fluid that TITUS DRUG STORE carries. But you're so fortunate that you live in Grosse Pointe and you do not have to go far to get "Difficult Stains" that's the name of the cleaning fluid, believe it or not—I don't have to go anywhere to get difficult stains, I seem to have an attraction for them, but to get the remover, one must get to TITUS—it will remove indelible stains, such as lipstick—that will help to decrease the divorce rate. While we're on the subject of cleaning, give a thought to the quality soap that is taking up space in this shop that you ought to be glad to give space to in your cupboard—Roger & Gallet, a fine soap firm and good old "4711" will put you in a lather anytime.

By Barb Beranek and Mary Londes

East Lansing, Michigan.

Dear Mary,

Golly, Moses, how wonderful life is—crisp autumn days, falling leaves, bon fires, football games, taffy, apples, and that haunting twilight air that used to thrill us to the marrow and put Halloween in our blood when we were kids.

I've often thought of the philosophies of Lin Yutang when he says that time cannot be divided into units for all of time, and all of life is but one single unit to be observed and lived as a whole. I guess I always think of that in the Fall because somehow or another, all the little insignificant components of life that compose the art of "living" are revived. There we stand for a moment on the brink of eternity with a supreme knowledge and exotic faith. Then some topple off to become the unliving and the others continue on.

Oh, well, enough for that. However, it is fun to reminisce. Remember bobbing for apples, I know I invariably got mixed up in the swim and would wind up with a mouthful of my own hair—quite damp!

Somewhere when this time of year comes around I can practically smell cider 'n doughnuts in the air. It struck me when I was coming up our little wooded walk to the dorm the other day and a little squirrel leaned down from his perch and said what I was sure were some pretty nasty things to me. It was all in the spirit of the air of fresh fallen hazelnuts and leaves against the damp ground. It brought a sudden picture of us in grade school when we would all scamper and scramble for the fallen hazelnuts on our way home to lunch. I guess all kids are part squirrel among their other similarities!

I imagine that most of the fruits are off the trees by now—even with the late harvest we all would have with such a cool summer. I suppose, though, that the little thorn apples are about out now. Remember how we used to find them on our way to school. We would scorn our mothers at the mention of sensible food starting out the day and then breakfast on those absurd little fruits.

I guess that it was probably similar to swallowing goldfish in a little more orthodox way. I know for myself that they were always bitter and pulpy. However, it's just taking the "bitter" as the sweet "as well as" with it. That's Fall, though—it's all Fall. That which was sweet we called bitter—and that which was bitter we called sweet. School was torture—and thorn apples were nectar.

Then, of course, there were always pins in doorbells, rattlers on the windows, and much thankfulness on the part of the younger generation that there were cranks and grouches. For once in their lives they make some very happy. In other words, I guess, that they'd better not advance psychology too far and eliminate grouches or a phase of joy would definitely be taken out of living.

Next came the actual festivities with cries of "help the poor!" and cranks and horns that blew out and had feathers on the end. Some imagination we had, too—with the streets filled with pirates, bandits, cowboys, gypsies, ghosts, dancers—and oh, golly—on through the night.

The crazy masks, too—when we would ponder for hours in choosing just the right one. Then masky tired, happy, and looking just a bit forlorn, we'd drag in with a wealth of pennies, a bumper crop of apples, and enough candy to put us on castor oil for weeks.

When the "morning after" finally arrived we would struggle with our parents to allow us to keep the Jack 'o' Lanterns and "pumpkins" that we had so carefully sculptured for just a few more days. It always seemed like a shame, too, to have to remove the witches and broomsticks that we had used for decorating the "rec" room for our party. However, the "pumpkins" were finally discarded with a sigh for the work of art being abandoned and at last life would continue as normal.

But never let us get beyond cider and doughnuts, dunking for apples and a whisk of autumn air. To sum it up—"Ain't life grand."

As ever, BARB.

Cash, Jewelry, Stolen in Park

Veteran Wins Housing Tilt

Victor Kamische Gets Until Next Spring to Find Other Living Quarters

On October 11 Judge McNally, appearing for the Veteran Victor Kamische, who had gotten himself into trouble with the Grosse Pointe Shores authorities by occupying the upper floor of a house in the village in violation of the local zoning regulations, argued for a stay of action against the veteran in view of the desperate shortage of living quarters. Judge Murphy had previously given Judge McNally a two weeks' stay in the ejectment and contempt proceedings to enable him to again take it up with the village council.

The council, at first inclined not to interfere with the proceedings, later reversed their judgment for immediate action, after hearing from Casper Lingeman, the County Clerk, who had been a resident of the Shores longer than any of the present councilmen, and others of the citizens who were present to plead the cause of the veteran.

The Council decided to let the matter remain in status quo, and on October 14 Judge Murphy wrote Judge McNally to that effect. It will probably not be taken up again earlier than next spring, when it is hoped the veteran will have been able to obtain living quarters which do not conflict with the village's zoning laws.

Village Ready For Icy Streets

At the Village of Grosse Pointe Farms council meeting last Monday, the following items were approved by the council after discussing the report submitted by Murray M. Smith, Village Engineer:

A new salt and cinder spreader or sander will be purchased for the Public Works Department for use this winter on icy streets. The six-year-old one will also be in use, thereby assuring quicker street coverage.

The new ball park will have 500 loads of dirt and 20 loads of top dressing will be sent to Pier Park.

The council also approved the much needed fence to enclose the rubbish dump. This is a necessary item for health as well as appearance and will be interchangeable in case the Quinn road dump is ever discontinued.

The request for additional street lights was granted by the council. These will be placed at McMillan and Beaupre and one Williams. Residents of six houses on each side of the street were asked to sign approval of the light.

All water mains in the Country Club Private Lane, Beaupre's Ridgmont subdivision and Stephens Hill subdivision were completed, tested, chlorinated and approved, during the month. Paving work was started last week.

Water mains authorized by the council to be built on Ridgmont road, Piche avenue and Williams avenue, were completed during the month.

Van Wagoner Coming Here

The Grosse Pointe Optimist Club is going to give a complimentary luncheon to Murray Van Wagoner, Democratic candidate for governor of Michigan, at the Dorothy-Mary dining room on Fisher road next Tuesday noon, October 29. A similar function was held in honor of Kim Sigler a few weeks ago.

In addition to the guest of honor, others who have signified their intention to attend are Congressman Louis Rabaut, who is a Grosse Pointer, Casper Lingeman, the county clerk, Bernard J. Youngblood, county register of deeds, and Gerald O'Brien, prosecuting attorney. There will also be representatives from the other local service clubs.

Van Wagoner will be introduced by ex-Governor William Comstock, at present a member of the Detroit city council, and president of the county board of supervisors.

Attempted B. and E. Reported on Yorkshire

There was an attempted forcible entry and burglary at the residence at 1261 Yorkshire road on the night of Wednesday, October 16. The police on making their rounds of properties on their watch lists found the window to the living room had been broken and also the outer door forced on the package compartment.

They could find no evidence that actual entry had been made into the place and concluded that the potential burglars had been scared away from their job before getting in.

Fox Creek Helps League Leaders

The Fox Creek Meats bowling team strengthened the Grosse Pointe Cab's lead in the Post Office East Side league standings last Thursday night at 20th Century Recreation, when the "Cab-ies" smacked the butchers by making three points and increased their lead to six full games.

Holzbaugh Ford played the role of giant killer when it took three points from the second place De Santis Undertakers, which enabled the St. Clair Shores team to go into a two-way tie with De Santis for second place.

QUARTERBACK JOHN-NY RUMMEL several times this season has gotten the Grosse Pointe Blue Devils out of dangerous territory with his long punts. In last Saturday's game against Wyandotte it was Rummel who saved the Blue Devils from becoming victims of a one sided score when he repeatedly set the Bears back on their heels in their own territory. Much of his success can be traced to Coach Ed Wernet, Grosse Pointe's new football coach.

Farms Amends Traffic Laws

An amendment to the Farms traffic ordinance was adopted by the village trustees at their meeting Monday night. The complete amendment is published in this issue of the NEWS.

A speed of 35 miles per hour is allowed on Lake Shore road, and 30 miles per hour on Mack, Kercheval, Grosse Pointe boulevard, Charlevoix, Ridge, Moross and Chalfonte. On all streets of the village the speed is limited to 25 miles per hour.

Anyone interested in joining is urged to contact Mrs. Edward Doyle of 181 Lake Shore road, Niagara 0440, or Mrs. Forman Johnston, 1032 Bishop road, Niagara 3446.

The only qualification for membership is the donation of two new articles of clothing or household goods, or any amount of money.

Girl Scout News

Girl Scout Week, from October 27-Nov. 3, is a special week set aside to honor Juliette Low, the founder of Girl Scouting. At the same time this year, the members of the Grosse Pointe Girl Scout Council, realizing that everyone likes a bit of recognition now and then, publicly thank all the volunteer leaders who are serving faithfully and generously to give our Grosse Pointe girls the advantages of scouting. The efforts of these women are both recognized and appreciated by the people who work behind the scenes, and by the parents of girls from the ages of 7-15.

The children of the world today will become the citizens of the world tomorrow. For this reason they must be guided and helped and that job belongs to the adults. Every woman with a hobby to share, an interest in girls, or an interest in the future of the world, has something to offer Girl Scouting. The women who are now leaders of Scout troops in the Grosse Pointe communities have felt this responsibility, and are deserving of our wholehearted thanks and gratitude. We salute you, our volunteer leaders!

Two Badly Hurt In Auto Crash

There was a serious automobile accident at the corner of University and Charlevoix at 6 o'clock Saturday night, October 20, when Walter M. Galbraith, aged 69, of 1257 Weyburn, failed to stop his car at that intersection.

Mr. Galbraith said his foot must have slipped off the brake and struck the accelerator. His car hit, broadside, another one driven by Mrs. C. B. Hull of 253 Mt. Vernon, Grosse Pointe Farms. The Hull car was struck on the right side and pushed into an Edison pole.

The occupants were all taken to Bon Secours Hospital for emergency treatment, where Mrs. Galbraith was detained for serious injuries. She had three ribs broken. The hospital authorities said she was not in a critical condition.

Mrs. Etty Graeffe, a former resident of Grosse Pointe, is one of 11 Baha'is who are pioneering in Europe under the program announced by the American National Baha'i Assembly. Mrs. Graeffe and Mrs. Solveig Corbit of Denver, Colorado, were the first of these to sail, leaving from New York under dramatic circumstances during the height of the maritime strike. It was announced Friday night at the Baha'i discussion group in Grosse Pointe.

Mrs. Graeffe, who will open an office in Geneva, Switzerland, for the coordination of activities in ten capital cities of Europe, is assisting in the program outlined by the National Baha'i Assembly to begin educational religious activities for the promotion of international peace and unity. The ten countries included in this program are Norway, Denmark, Sweden, Holland, Belgium, Luxembourg, Switzerland, Spain, Portugal, and Italy.
