SENATOR VANDENBERG protests saddling half the cost of the United Nations on the United States... says one-third is the temporary limit with one-quarter as our ultimate share... asks also that the expenses of this body be kept down as excessive costs might compel small nations to withdraw, and hints that large contributors might demand a voice proportionate to their contributions.

HENRY WALLACE's much heralded fire and brimstone speech at the Fair Grounds Coliseum Saturday turns a dud... says a few kind words for democratic candidates for congress and not much more... declares he hasn't changed his mind on American foreign policy but didn't express it as he has in his other speeches throughout the country. Reported he was told by the democratic campaign managers it would be a backfire for him to attack a man whom his party's candidate for Governor had referred to as a high class statesman and who had already been selected by two Democratic presidents to represent this country in foreign affairs... frankly, Wallace was afraid to attack in his own state the man (Vandenberg) whom he had been pot-shooting in every other state where he has spoken.

Rotarians Hear Boys Glee Club

The Grosse Pointe High School Boys' Glee Club, under the capable leadership of John Finch, musical director, entertained the members of the Rotary Club at their noon meeting on Monday at the Whittier.

The boys, 36 of them, sang a six-number program in fine voice. Preceding the musical entertainment Dale Rhodes, formerly with the Paul Whiteman Band, gave amusing impersonations of many well known characters in the entertainment and radio world.

Mr. Rhodes up until five years ago, played a similar entertainment with several of the great name bands of the country. Since then he has been in the fluorescent lighting business in Detroit.

Pointer's Spanish Practice Tough on Mexican Waitress

(Another letter has been received from Charles Forsattl and his friend Bob, young Pointers traveling in Mexico for educational and entertainment reasons... The Editor).

Charles G. Fossati, Edificio Alfonso, Mesones 33 Apt. 302, Mexico D. F., Mexico, Oct. 30, 1946

Dear Folks,
It seems that wherever there is a group of Americans living there is an American Legion post, and Mexico City is no exception. Bob and I are pretty anxious to learn Spanish and so until last week we shunned all Americans and planned not to go to the Legion party. Fate stepped in however, in the form of a chum of mine who'd been in the same boot company, and we couldn't refuse his invitation to the big monthly event.

As the Mexicans say, "Dios Mio!" It was rugged. After the formal meeting, beer with its necessary accessories of pretzels, peanuts and popcorn were served. The Mexicans are proud of their beer, which due to the warm climate, is as strong as wine to insure its keeping. Of course we poor innocents didn't know that and readily consented to the initiation of the Puff Puff Club; certain mystical motions that one must successfully complete during the process of downing a glass of brew. One mistake, and the whole glass must be finished off and the procedure started over from the beginning.

In that way the four of us, a tall gunner, an infantryman and two sailors, finished off eight good pitchers of beer, became very happy, and departed from the scene of the party (long since abandoned by the older boys) singing old songs, and waving, "Good-bye," and "Adios," to the sleepy but smiling waiters.

We try practicing our Spanish with everyone who has the misfortune of coming our way. It has been a lot of fun but in one instance I was the cause of a misfortune.

On Madero near San Juan is a Kiko Restaurant where we like to drop in for a cup of coffee after a late movie. It's on the American plan, and one is served by very attractive young ladies. Naturally I didn't want to pass up such an opportunity to practice my Spanish, so I got in the habit of saying all kinds of things to the girls. Love phrases, slang and anything under the sun I could think of, much to everyone's amusement.

It got to the point where they were staring at me with coffee chocolate and anything else which might keep my interest just so I'd stay and talk some more. It seems that I make very funny faces when I speak Spanish, and I'm not sure whether it's the faces I make or my American accent that amuses them the most.

One night at about 11:30 the chilly breath of the angry manager cooled off our merriment with the announcement that his store was a restaurant and not an amusement park, and promptly suspended one of the girls for ten days. I still go to Kiko's and get stuffed with coffee, and cho-late, but the atmosphere is kept hushed and timid, and someone always keeps an eye out for the manager.

Now I must study Spanish harder than ever because I'm going to have to be very fluent in order to understand what Consuelo will no doubt very fluently say to me when she returns to work at Kiko's after her ten day suspension.

Hasta Luego,
Carlitos.

building at the present time are great, but we also know that the risks of not building in the face of the increased population problems that we have in the schools would also be serious.

"We are proud and glad after the years of planning and effort that we are able to take this step and congratulate the children of the schools who are here on their opportunity of going to school in this building."

President Parcells then dug the first spadeful of dirt and yielded the space to each of the other members of the Board. He was followed by Mrs. Alice Sheaffer, who dug as vigorously as any of the men on the Board. Mrs. Sheaffer was followed by Ralph Clark, secretary of the Board; Charles A. Poupard, treasurer of the Board, and Bert Wicking, trustee.

The Superintendent of Schools Dr. Paul L. Essert and J. Harold Husband, director of administrative services, who have been working with the Board and the this building, also took part in the spade work.

Immediately following these ceremonies, the big bulldozer swung into action and began scooping back the top soil which will be used in the finished grading and landscaping of the grounds. Approximately eight acres of the 16-acre site will be finished for use at this time.

TO TALK ON FAMILY LIFE Father Edmund C. Horne, S.J., will speak on "The Family and the Church" at a Family Life Conference to be held on Monday, November 11, at 8:30 p. m. at the CYO Center, Mack and Maxwell avenues, under the sponsorship of the Detroit Archdiocesan Council of the National Council of Catholic Women. Mrs. Marie Einheuser is chairman. Married men and women, as well as those contemplating marriage are invited.

Two Girls Hit; Driver Nabbed

The Park police station received word from the neighboring Detroit station Thursday evening, October 31, that they were holding a party who was charged with riding down two young girls on the Park's streets a short time before.

Officers G. Boone and P. Conlon brought in Jos. Gandi De Felice with address given on Anita in the Woods. His car had struck Anna Bennette, aged 15, of 3721 Alter road, and Bernice Fleming, aged 16, of 3795 Philip.

Both were only slightly injured. De Felice was given two tickets for appearance at Park traffic court.

POT SHOT AT PARSHALL

Someone has been taking a pot shot at Howard P. Parshall, president of the Park village. He reported to the police that some one had shot a hole through an upstairs window of his home at 534 Pemberton road the evening of November 4.

GANG DISPERSED Mr. Husband of the Pierce School complained to the police on November 4 that a group of boys were causing a disturbance about the school. Officers Walsh and Dean sent them on their way with a warning.

Five Community Halloween Parties Enjoyed by 3,000

Committee Expresses Gratitude for Fine Spirit Shown by Many Residents Who Helped Provide Fun for Kids

The five Grosse Pointe Community Halloween Parties which were held last Thursday night, October 31, were attended by approximately 3,000 young people. The Committee extends its appreciation to all those in the community who helped make this year's party a real success.

Approximately 70 men, under the direction of Charles Sauter, assisted with the supervision of the five parties. In a similar way, the various police departments handled the problems of community safety in an effective manner. Park Police Chief Arthur Louwers was the chairman of the safety committee.

As in past years, the Grosse Pointe High School Mothers' club, with Mrs. Leon Jacobi as chairman, did an excellent job at Pierce School, the Neighborhood Club, and the High School.

To make it possible for 3000 young people to have a Halloween that appeals to the various age groups requires a high degree of community cooperation, it is pointed out.

Willard Hosking, chairman of the finance committee, expresses the appreciation of his committee for the many financial contributions which have been received from the merchants in the township as well as from individuals in the community.

The 1946 Halloween Committee officers were: Forrest Geary, chairman; George Elworthy, vice-president; Mrs. Edward Gehrig, secretary; Willard Hosking, treasurer.

Long Journey Home Started

"The Long Journey Home" has started for Cpl. Bruce Reno, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Reno, of 722 Notre Dame, who has received his honorable discharge at Fort Lewis, Seattle.

Bruce and four friends who have been close buddies since they took their basic training together after induction in August 1945, have purchased a car and left Seattle Tuesday morning. One by one the boys will drop out at their respective homes on the way across the country.

Mrs. Reno says she hopes her son will be home in time for Thanksgiving. Chances will be improved if the quiet detours around Colorado, where there is now reported to be as much as 29 inches of snow.

Bruce went into the service with the first group of postwar inductees. He has been stationed at Fort Lewis throughout his entire service period. He previously spent a short time in the Merchant Marine during the war.

Avowed Mission Accomplished

A well known burgher of the City was found sleeping in his car on the night of Friday, Nov. 1. He had pulled up along the curbline on St. Paul just north of Kercheval.

He was taken home by the police who recognized him. His wife said she and her husband had had a quarrel and he had run out with the declared intention of getting drunk. He had done a thorough job at that. She did not go into details as to the cause of the domestic rift. They helped his spouse put him to bed and omitted the usual ticket on the theory that he had already been sufficiently punished.

Variety Spices Pranks in Farms

Among Halloween pranks which came to the attention of Farms police were the theft of a leather cushion from a caterpillar tractor working at the Stephens road subdivision development.

A tomato was tossed through a front window of the residence at 261 Lewiston road.

A home made bomb manufactured from a piece of gas pipe and some gunpowder, was tossed into the front yard at 401 Kercheval.

A brick was thrown through a window at 221 Moran road.

Vawter To Head Mortgage Firm

George H. Vawter of Buckingham road, formerly president of the Contract and Investment Co., is the president of a new firm called Detroit Mortgage Co. Contract and Investment Co. has merged with the Mortgage and Contract Co. The merger has been approved by the directors of both firms.

MOST DANGEROUS MONTHS
Due to seasonal hazards the months of November and December are the most dangerous of the year for automobile drivers and pedestrians alike, according to the Traffic Safety Association of Detroit.

HOUSEHOLD HINT
Keep your laundry floor as dry as possible. As a safety measure, stand on a rubber mat or wooden rack while you work, or wear rubber-soled shoes.

Halloween Beard-Lighter Forks Over Price of Hat

Sergeants Elmer Labadie and Jack Paisley of the Farms police department successfully arbitrated a Halloween night argument which occurred in front of the Old Brick Inn on Mack avenue.

When the officers drove along they noticed a very heated discussion going on between a Farms woman and a 21-year-old youth, also of the village. Both had obviously been drinking, the police reported.

When they asked the cause of the argument, they were informed that the youth had set fire to what he presumed to be a false beard on a man in a Halloween costume. It developed that it was the woman's real hair, arranged to add to her characterization of a man. To say she was burned up was putting it mildly.

Law suits were threatened and permanent waves were offered in appeasement. The officers arranged a meeting in police headquarters the following day and the case was finally marked settled when the woman agreed to accept $25 for damages, to buy herself a new permanent or a new chapeau to cover her singed locks.

Scientifically we have progressed far enough to split the atom. Now we must progress spiritually far enough to handle that it was the woman's real hair.

A number of Pointers were among the American Honorary Members of the Essex-Scottish Officers' Mess who gave the dinner Monday night in the Officers' Riverside Club, Fort Wayne, in honor of the Honorary Colonel, the Officer Commanding and Officers of the Essex-Scottish Regiment of Windsor.

Lt. Col. Berrien Eaton was toastmaster. Other Pointers attending were Frederick W. Campbell, Herbert G. Henchel, J. Bell Moran, J. Harold Murphy, John J. O'Brien, Very Rev. Kirk B. O'Farrell, D.D., Cleveland Thurber, Philip S. Wood, Edward P. Wright, D. F. H. Brickell and Maurice Wood.

Sergeant Dickson Home On His Terminal Leave

Sergt. Albert C. Dickinson, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Dickinson of 383 Washington road, is expected home today, Thursday, from Fort Dix, N.J., where he has been stationed with the Army. He has started his terminal leave and will receive his honorable discharge on December 6.

Sergeant Dickson entered service June 19, 1945. After being inducted at Fort Sheridan, he was sent to Shepherd Field, Tex., then to Fort Dix. He has been accepted for study at both Dartmouth and Yale and expects to go to Hanover early in December to complete his plans for entrance into Dartmouth in February.

$150 Damage Caused As Two Cars Tangle

Damage estimated at $150 was done on October 31 in an auto accident at Kerby and Chalfonte. Edmund J. Grant of 631 Fisher, was driving his Cadillac east on Chalfonte when he hit a Mercury going south on Kerby and driven by Willard Weiser of 19000 Chandler Park drive.

The Farms police reported the Cadillac skid marks were 68 feet long. Both drivers were ticketed for an appearance in traffic court.

Park Experience Far from Unique

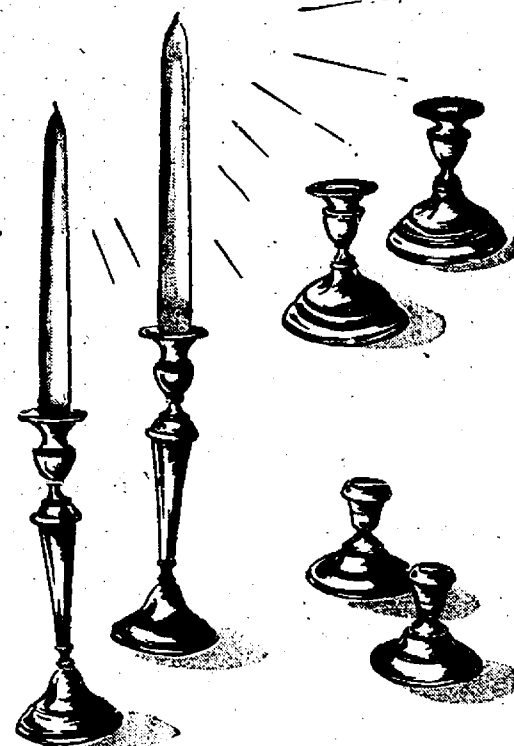

Following the discovery by the Park authorities that the bids received for the installation of the back trap in the sewer on Jefferson avenue were so greatly in excess of the estimate that they had to be rejected, Village Manager Lane has had some correspondence with the Shoecraft, Drury and McNamee firm which has cooperated with the village in the plans for the job.

The experience of this firm in latter days discloses the same discouraging prospect for municipal construction work all over the state. They mentioned that on jobs in Fort Huron and Adrian the bids received were three times the estimates. Work of all character seems to follow a most erratic course. In Richmond, on the other hand, the bids was only 80 per cent of the estimate.

Mr. Lane says that engineering journals of national circulation mention this same situation all over the country.

YOUNG VISITOR STRAYS

John W. Meathe, of 856 Rivard, observed a very small girl on the sidewalk in front of his home the evening of Sunday, October 20, who seemed to be lost. He took the tot in and phoned the police. The officers, Rabaut and Mauck, had no difficulty in restoring the little Miss to 872 Rivard where she and her parents were visiting.

Overseas Mail Deadline Near

Pointers are reminded by Postmaster Huston that November 15 is the last day on which Christmas parcels may be mailed to members of the armed forces and civilians serving overseas.

"In order to avoid disappointment to both those at home and overseas, parcels should be mailed at once to insure their delivery by Christmas," Huston said.

Parcels weighing up to 70 pounds and measuring up to 100 inches in length and girth may be mailed.

After November 15 it will be necessary to present a written request from members of the army overseas when mailing parcels. No request is necessary if the parcel is mailed on or before November 15.

Feasibility of Continuing City Salvage Plant Studied

Elimination of Wartime Need for Vital Materials Alters Situation; Blondell and Ernst and Ernst
Weigh Various Factors

Neil Blondell, city assessor of Grosse Pointe City, is engaged in making an examination into the results of the City's operation of the reduction plant it maintained all during the war near Radnor and Warren.

The property on which the plant is located was sold to the Order of the Augustinians some months ago and although the City was given permission to maintain the plant on the place until September 1, 1947, the City Council is anxious to know whether it will pay to continue its operation after that date at some other location.

During the war when there was a great scarcity in many of the materials which are ordinarily thrown away when they have lost their usefulness to the owner, they were carefully sorted out from the rubbish collections and reclaimed for war use. Now that this emergency has passed, the City is confronted with the question whether or not it would pay to continue the salvage work, with these same materials coming into the markets from original sources.

Judge DeBaeke Fines Drivers

In Park Police Court Wednesday morning Judge Victor DeBaeke disposed of only two cases. They were:

Joseph Gaudi Defiance of 20207 Anita, Detroit, for making an improper left turn and hitting a pedestrian, was fined $15 and $7.20 costs.

Frank Steve Gubak, 731 Tennessee, Detroit, for reckless driving causing an accident, paid $10 fine and $5 costs.

Pleads Guilty To Taking Safe

Moses George, aged 30, of 3250 E. Lafayette, pleaded guilty before Judge Jayne in Circuit Court Friday morning, Nov. 1, to burglary and larceny from the property of the John C. Staudt Real Estate company at 15322 E. Jefferson avenue on May 3. His case was referred to the Probation department. He will come up for sentence later.

This was the case where the Detroit police of the fifth precinct saw three men leave the Staudt property under suspicious circumstances. Two of the men escaped but the police got George. They had stolen a safe which was later recovered.

Police Take Finger Prints, Just in Case

Cab drivers are pretty worldly wise folks and don't often make a mistake in their appraisal of suspicious circumstances. So when a Checker Cab driver hailed Park Patrolmen Mouton and Stusser at Wayburn and Jefferson at 3:25 in the morning of November 3 and asked them to pick up two young men whom he indicated nearby and give them the once-over, they obliged.

The men, aged 22 and 20 respectively, were taken to the Park police station and given a grilling. One lived on St. Jean and the other on Hillier. They apparently had satisfying alibis and were let go, but the police took finger prints, in case.

Veteran Brothers Go Into Business

Harold and Clement Chagot, brothers who are both veterans of World War II, have gone into business together. They will open their own cleaning establishment in the Esquire Theater building at 15309 East Jefferson, on Monday, November 11.

Harold was a private in the Army and saw action all the way from the Normandy beachhead to the Elbe river. Clement was a second lieutenant in the Infantry in the Pacific theater, where he served two years.

They live at 1010 Balfour road in Grosse Pointe road.

Pointer to Operate Flint Radio Station

John Lord Booth of 315 Washington road, radio executive, has announced that he has been granted a license to operate a new station, to be known as WBBG in Flint. Booth now has a Detroit station.

The new installation will be one of 1000 watts unlimited power. It will be put into operation as soon as materials can be obtained.

Kalb Residence Damaged by Fire

There was a fire at the Lewis P. Kalb residence at 547 Washington road at mid-afternoon on Thursday, October 31, that did extensive damage before it was extinguished.

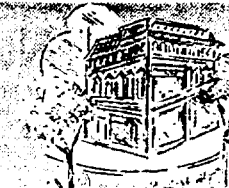

The fire had apparently been burning some time before it was discovered. It had eaten into the attic and upstairs bedrooms and between the walls and floor before the firemen arrived.

The alarm was turned in by a bus driver who saw smoke pouring from the house as he was driving by. The cause of the fire has not been determined, but the firemen believe it came from concealed wiring.

The firemen encountered considerable trouble from cars driving over their lines of hose, and one of these when caught was given a ticket by the police. He was Robert M. Dwyer, of 1842 Oxford road.

The damage from smoke to furniture and draperies equalled or exceeded that caused by the flames.

At Long Last

Yes; Thank you, we had had enough. If anyone had any doubt how the people felt about the accumulated political and economic mess that has been dished up to them for the past thirteen years they should gain a great light in looking at the election figures of last Tuesday.

In them they can read the composite judgment of the people. It is complete and overwhelming. They were tired of the eternal and amateurish meddling of the Government in their affairs; of destroying food with one hand and paying bonuses for its production with the other; of the surrender of the safety and rights of all to the dictates of single groups.

They have repudiated a concept of Government which claims the right to interfere in every minutiae of their daily lives but pleads inability to protect them in the possession of their property and the ordinary rights they had always believed granted to them by the constitution under which they live.

They have given the lie to phony figures of employment which were fattened up with millions of persons on public payrolls or drawing direct alms from the public treasury.

They have said they do not believe in the doctrine of having more by producing less. They are against a social security which does not secure.

They do not believe that every rich man is an unconscionable scoundrel nor that every toiler carries a halo over his head.

They believe we are one people with varying abilities, ambitions and virtues; but one people, all equal before the law and all entitled to decent and honest judgment at the bar of public opinion. They have blasted cowardice in public office and raised again on the ramparts of public service the banner of courage and duty.

If anyone presumes that this election hinged in any way on questions of the moment they are poor readers of American thought. The issues, which were forced upon them last Tuesday were the accumulation of years. And they have answered them clearly and unmistakably.

It is the audible prayer of millions that out of the ashes of the ruin of the past years from which they have narrowly survived, will arise a Phoenix of sanity, decency, courage and intelligence in government for which we have long looked.

A good beginning has been made; but only a beginning.

Let The Chips Fall

It has always been the policy of this paper to withhold the names of juvenile delinquents in their first offenses. We believed this was fair to the youngsters and a social service.

Recently we have been criticized for doing this. One very prominent man, who happens to be a member of one of the community's councilmanic bodies, was particularly severe in his comments. He said if a boy of his got into some of these scrap we mentioned he would want his name published as a warning to the boy and a deterrent to others. He said moreover that the youngsters themselves always knew who was referred to and felt especially smart when their names were omitted.

We propose hereafter to bow to the opinion of these critics.

Especially flagrant cases of juvenile delinquency, malicious mischief and frequent major crimes will be published in ample detail, NOT OMITTING NAMES, even though first offenses.

And doting papas and mamas who may seek to bring to bear some fancied influence to suppress the names of their young hopefuls are in for a bitter disappointment.

Reparations for Russia

Russia is reported to have come around to the Anglo-American viewpoint that Germany should be converted into a single administrative economic unit.

She has probably decided that her own chances for reparations are better advanced this way than by the more direct method of simply kidnapping German industries, more and bristles, and transporting them to the homeland.

There can be no honest opposition to Russia's obtaining large indemnities from Germany. The German ruthlessly invaded her country after having built up a phony screen of security for the Russians by their crooked treaty of August, 1939, devastated thousands of square miles of her territory, stole her food, murdered millions of her people.

The Russians are smart enough to know that their chances of obtaining reparations are infinitely better from a Germany which has been permitted to retain some of her original productive power than from a devastated and paralyzed land. Her claim is much stronger than that of either Britain or France, both of whom actually declared war upon Germany.

Whether 25 per cent of the production of the Ruhr is too much from that one spot alone is a matter calling for the painstaking and sympathetic examination of the other nations.

Lo! The Poor Landlord

The landlord is getting badly nicked these days. In the tumultuous days of the depression they used to include the rent in the relief checks. In the present, with "58,000,000" of us employed, even though a few millions are 52-20 Club members and more millions are bawling on federal pay rolls, it would hardly look fit'n.

So, to make everybody happy, except the landlord, they won't let him raise the rent. They have even extended the no-rent-raise blanket to cover more of us than it did during the height of the war effort; 5,000,000 more to be exact, according to OPA.

Maybe, some day in the brighter sunshine that is now breaking over the landscape, the poor landlord who thought he had a safe nest egg put aside out of his frugality for a rainy day, will come into his own.

But until then, due to the experience the country has had with the meat producers and others who have had their ceilings kindly torn away by a let-nobody-suffer Government;
LO, the Poor Landlord must simmer a while in his own juice.

Grosse- Exaggerations

"The inner half of every cloud
Is bright and shining;
I therefore turn my clouds about,
And always wear them inside out . . .
To show the lining."
(Ellen Fowler)

There are two soap operas on the air that frequently use 8 of the 13 minutes devoted to the story . . . in trying to 'sell' a piece of jewelry to the listeners. The 'come-on' is that the heroine in the piece wears one "just like it" . . . so poor Mrs. Razzledazzle from Gulch Fawks can feel happy all over by owning the VERY SAME PIECE OF JEWELRY! All she has to do (between Dudding her wash and Dreiffing her dishes) is send a box top and ten cents in COIN.

The latest hunk of jewelry offered these lucky housewives, is a horseshoe clip bearing three stones. The announcer, in a breathless 'glad-tidings' voice, works himself into a lather describing the clip. At one point he says, "It has not one stone . . . not two stones . . . but THREE GEN-U-INE IMPORTED RHINESTONES." Nothing like talking down to the people . . . we alluz sez!

That out-of-town photographer, whose camera was broken by one of our localities, told someone before he left town, that it opened his eyes to come to Detroit to photograph the big wigs . . .
they were so "unusual." He cited an instance: When he was about to snap one of the Auto Industry Magnates in a "Men of Distinction" pose . . . he noticed the magnate was wearing two wrist watches. It rather frightened the little birdie man. He didn't know whether to ask about it or take it in his stride like a man of the world. The result was that he mailed back some darned good proofs that the man would have ordered if it were not for the fantastic sight of two outstanding looking watches glaring out of the picture . . . one on each wrist!

Our tired business man happened to have called at the jeweler's that day to pick up his other watch . . . and for convenience, strapped it on his other wrist and forgot about it. That photographer will probably stay home in the future.

The following letter was sent to us from a woman who hopes to enter her son in St. Paul's School in Concord, N. H.
It was sent to her by the School:

(Written by a new boy in the Second Form)
St. Paul's School,
Concord, N. H.

Wednesday, Oct. 25, 1905.

"My dear Mother:

"My New cloths came to day I like the color very much, but I positively wont wear the coat at all. It is exactly like the redy made coats only worse. It is single breasted and dont come down strate but is rounded at the corners. And as for the length of the coat it would make you laugh it looks so foolish. It is not near as long as the gray coat that I wore every day. It honestly only comes to my bim bone. People would think that I have gone crazy if I wore that coat around here. The style to wear coats is very long and double breasted. What shall I do I positively will not wear the coat under any circumstances. The trousers and wescol are fine and fit fine and I like them very much. Shall I send the coat back to you or let it hang in my alcove. It will be only in the way here and I wont wear it. I wish you would please let me send it to you and let you fix it or make a new one, because as I said before the trousers and wescol fit fine and it would be a shame to put them on the bad by letting them hang in my alcove. If you will take the coat back these are the conditions on which I will wear it and I positively will not wear it if you will not make it double breasted coat 1 1/2 inch longer than the coat that I have got on now that is my gray cot. I dont want to go around here like a darned fool and I dont see why you didnt get it right in the first place. It is the most sinful ugly thing that I ever saw. And if you dont take that ugly Rag out of here I will through it away. Words cant express how I hate the darned Rag. I am so mad about it that I can hardly write strate. Dont fail and write immediately what to do about it.

Your loving son

"Note I cant help it if you basto make a new coat I wont wear an ugly thing like this.

"P.S. I wont wear it unless you make it double breasted strate cut coat and 1 1/2 inches longer and you bet I mean what I say."

The Cotton Embarrassment

The collapse in cotton was one of the cruelest happen-stances that could befall our much confused and plagued President. To have the basic industry of the South, the political citadel of his party, torn to ribbons on the very eve of the congressional election that will determine his life-line into 1948, was one of the saddest cases of chickens coming home to roost that has occurred in the political annals of the country.

Mr. Truman and his political clan are merely reaping the ordained harvest of dragon's teeth which they sowed
during the high, wide and handsome days of the Great Experiment.

When Mr. Roosevelt and his learned cohorts were making over the economic pattern of America one of the rescue nostrums they applied was to place a floor under cotton of 12 1/2c per pound.

The cotton goods manufacturers of this country might have been left to sweat it out but the users abroad of our biggest single export were neither inclined nor able to stand the gaff. Result, they began to stimulate cotton growing in every spot on earth where climate and soil promised results.
Even Brazil, which had never raised a bale of cotton but had millions of acres that would grow it, began to look up.

Result, again; instead of raising 60 per cent of the world's cotton in this country as we did when the managers took over, we now raise 30 per cent.

The old law of supply and demand didn't count among the great economists of that day. When its immutable laws begin to make their returns, as now, they are noticed.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Sir:

I believe that a campaign should be started against the Grosse Pointe Bus Company, or at least they should be taken to task by your newspaper because of the very crowded conditions that exist in the morning going downtown and returning to Grosse Pointe in the evening.

Frankly, the public is treated like a bunch of cattle and when there are buses in their garage not being used, it is most unfair to crowd passengers as in the past several years. During the war days naturally we all had to be patient and do whatever possible to tolerate conditions as they were, but right now the picture has changed a little and I believe that if the newspapers would start "riding" the bus company a little, action would be taken to consider the bus riders.

Another point I have had in mind is the smoke conditions on the east side of town. The smoke coming out of the power plant stacks of Hudson's, Chrysler and Edison is such that they are not giving the consideration to the City of Detroit, nor to our area, and the City Council should raise a complaint to the City of Detroit to enforce the Smoke
Nuisance Ordinance.

Yours very truly,
JOSEPH J. GOHCZO.

Talley Rant

by Helen Talley

It's such fun being alive and besides, the minute you aren't, complete strangers start putting little numbered tickets on your favorite chairs and pictures. A man with a brass voice says, "Sold to the gentleman with the blue whiskers," and from then on a little character snickers and says, "Yeah, it's a good beat—belonged to RITA TURNOVA—I paid 18
smacks."

The stuff of the late MAJOR EDWARD BOWES went under the hammer a few days ago. The MAJOR had a big apartment at the WALDORF and a country house at RUMSON, N. J. Some of his pictures were very fine and some of his things were very odd. Among the latter was his especially built car, driven by a chauffeur who must have been dressed by HATTIE CARNegie.
If you can remember that far, the R. A. F. wore the same type uniform in the 1st World War, until they complained bitterly. They were called MATERNITY GOWNS.

MAJOR BOWES showed us his car one day. On the dashboard was a gold plate. It read, "Especially designed by the CHRYSLER CORPORA-TION for MAJOR EDWARD
H. BOWES." We sat—or lay would be a better word—on deep seats like a chaise-louge.
"JOHN," said the MAJOR,
"show the bar." John popped out, saluted and pressed a button on the panel behind the front seat. It dropped down, and there before our astounded eyes was a row of gold cocktail cups, a row of gold highball tumblers—with gold mixers, no less—and a gold cocktail shaker.
John obligingly passed around a tumbler for examination.
"JOHN, show the rail," ordered the MAJOR. With one swipe JOHN removed a felt cover from the bar at our feet. There it was—a brass rail, only this one was gold. The auctioneer droned on—"this great man of taste—this connoisseur who collected RENOIRS, REM-BRANDTS, RAEBURNS—"

In LOUIS SOBOL's column
the other day, he said, "in casual conversation with a child psychologist, the psychologist said that the old-fashioned methods were best. Advanced theories on handling children were all wet."

One day when my young were TINY TOTS, I went to a very progressive school to case the joint. While I was talking to one teacher a pretty infant came up.
"I didn't have any 'rithmetic, like Mary," she pouted. Tears quivered on her lashes. "I know Jane," said the teacher, in that "now let's be adult tone," "don't you remember, you chose drawing." Over in the corner, in front of the class, stood two young men having a fine time sucking their thumbs. "Oh, that," said the teacher, "we do not find evil in thumb-sucking unless it is done in secret. If a child feels like sucking his thumb he is at liberty to do so as long as he does it before the class. The taller one," she said with pride,
"is young HEYWOOD BROWN."

Went to the opening last week of PRESENT LAUGHTER. The combination of NOEL COWARD and CLIFTON WEBB sounded like a winner. The audience was upholstered in ermine jackets and sets of matching aquamarines.
Some of the men rushed the season with white ties. Everybody oooh-ooohed to everybody else. If you didn't know ten people in your row you should have stayed home—just to give you an idea who clapped handies—VINCENT ASTOR, MRS. GUESS WHO
WILLIAMS, BROCK PEMBERTON, JULIE HAYDON stringing
along with MR. GEORGE JEAN NATHAN, EDDIE DUCHIN, the JOE MORANS, LADY STANLEY
—I wish I had more room.

The play to me was tab'rd Cab'rd. It was brittle but it bent more often than it splintered. The bright and precious cracks were too pat—they were the same one of old—polished some more and getting awfully thin. Calling your best friends OLD BITCHES to get a laugh isn't good enough—at least not for a fashionable, first night,
New York audience. Maybe we are just getting tired of those characters who try to keep the tinsel ball of conversation going faster and faster and higher and higher without ever letting it roll for a moment into a quiet corner under the sofa. SEX among the chandeliers gets to be a strain. I think DEAR N'ULL should come down to the carpet and start over.

Little Crippled Boy Knows Red Feather's Real Meaning

Just what is the Community Chest? What does it do? Those 125 Red Feather services—what are they? Most important, what's in it for me?

Do you know the answers? If you don't this series of articles now appearing weekly in the Grosse Pointe News was written for you.

To 12-year-old Bobbie Butler,
the Red Feather means pretty Miss Carroll, a visiting nurse.
Almost a year ago, Bobbie's spine was fractured in an automobile accident. During his long convalescence at home after treatment at Children's Hospital, it was Miss Carroll who came to give him—daily at first—the expert care he needed.

"She was a wonderful help," recalled Mrs. Butler. "Bobbie's father was overseas, and since I had to quit work to look after my boy, we were trying to get along on the $80-a-month allotment.
The Visiting Nurse Association
didn't charge us a penny."

After Bobbie was some better,
Mrs. Butler returned to her job.
Then Bobbie looked forward even more eagerly to Miss Carroll's visits, the only break in his lonely day.

Now, under the care of another Visiting Nurse, who's a physio-therapist, he is learning to walk again with braces.

The Visiting Nurse Association,
which is on call night and day for care of the sick in their own homes, is one of 20 local Red Feather health services of the Community Chest. For those who can afford to pay, the fee ranges up to $2 an hour for general nursing and $3 a treatment for physiotherapy. The Chest keeps the service operating for those who can pay only part or none of the cost.

Red Feather health agencies include clinics or outpatient departments of hospitals, hospitals themselves, and nursing services. In the clinics and outpatient departments, physicians donate their services and fees are based on the patient's ability to pay. In many instances, treatment is free.

Last year Red Feather health services cared for 63,086 patients.
They provided 79,213 days of hospital care, 138,863 clinic visits and 138,840 Visiting Nurse calls.
Demands for health services are increasing rapidly, and more money is needed to meet them.
Children's Hospitals, for instance, had only a skeleton staff during the war years. This year if the Community Chest goal of $5,800,- 000 is reached, the hospital will receive a larger allocation of funds to finance a program of rehabilitation and expansion.

Red Feather health services include:

Children's Hospital of Michigan; Children's Hospital of Michigan Convalescent Home; Cottage Hospital; Council on Community
Nursing; Curative Workshop
(Jean Booth Memorial); Dental Aid Department of Detroit District Dental Society; Detroit Orthopaedic Clinic; Evangelical Deaconess Hospital Outpatient Department; Eye, Ear, Nose and

Throat Hospital Out-patient Department.

Family welfare, child care, and recreation services to residents of the Metropolitan Detroit area are also supported by Chest funds.

Vitamin Value

By FRED M. KOPP, R. Ph.
When the doctor finds that you need that extra something which is so quickly and subtly available from the proper use of Vitamins he will prescribe.

He will counsel you which of the Vitamins you lack. He will tell you how to take them and how often. Indiscriminate use of Vitamins, buying at random, taking them just when you happen to remember, is apt to be a waste of time and money.

It is the judicious purchase,
the regular use, the strict rou-

you that extra something you need.

The doctor can tell you the ing the various Vitamins or you can get this information

THE WOMAN'S EXCHANGE

Just a short time ago . . . our family told us that at the age of three . . . we attended an early hour rehearsal dinner at the Exchange . . .

We confess we can't remember that . . . probably the sheer frenzy of being a flower girl made everything go black for us . . . Because our first memory of the charming nook on Adams avenue seems to be involved with our Uncle Harry . . .

And our first visit to his offices in the Book Building . . . Like all well-behaved little girls we were going through Uncle Harry's desk before any of our elders could say "stop it" . . .

And it was his desk that made us believe until we went to work ourselves . . . that desks were w-o-n-d-e-r-f-u-l things . . .

OUR EARLIEST MEMORY

There wasn't a thing that had to do with work in the whole desk . . .

In the big drawers there was a carton of Chicken Salad from the Woman's Exchange . . . and a clump of the marvelous Angel Food Cake (we capitalize this advisedly) . . .

There was a thermos of hot chocolate from the same establishment . . . and over in another section of drawers there was molasses taffy from Andrew Hare's (hope that's the way to spell it) incidentally a dear aunt always loved to tell the story of how she came back to Detroit and made for Andrew Hare's to get some of the famed roast beef hash only to find that the caterers had deserted their shop on Woodward. It had been rented by a Hair Stylist but in the front window there was a sign, "Andrew Hare has moved to Brush Street" . . .

Back to Uncle Harry's desk . . .

There was a box of Page and Shaw's chocolate liqueur candies . . . and maybe one pencil . . . but no more . . .

SOCIETY LADIES AT THE EXCHANGE

So that made the Woman's Exchange a place of note in our mind . . .

Our own next most vivid memory skips ahead to that year when we went to work for the Detroit Times Society Department . . .

And Aunt Vilette, our first day at work, thought she'd better help with "copy" . . . so she took us to the Exchange for lunch . . .

Believe us . . . we were prepared to adore every society woman in Detroit . . . and probably did up till noon of the first day we toiled in a society department . . .

Because to show Aunt Vilette what a full fledged reporter we were . . . we walked right up to a Society Lady and asked if we could use her name among the lunchers at the Exchange . . .

AN ERA ENDED

Love faded . . .

And from her haughty answer to a young reporter we knew that if all the world were a stage and we but actors in it, society ladies surely were Boris Karloff . . .

But the apricot ice and the chicken pie were more indelibly impressed upon our mind . . . than the haughty society lady . . .

so soon again we visited the Exchange for copy . . . and good copy it furnished until that regrettable day its doors were closed . . . and an era ended . . .

Peggy Fenley Weds Henry F. Vaughan, Jr.

Reception in University Place Home of Bridge's Parents Follows Ceremony in Christ Church Chapel

At a lovely autumn wedding ceremony in Christ Church chapel on Saturday, Nov. 2, Margaret Fenley became the bride of Henry F. Vaughan, Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. Henry F. Vaughan, of Ann Arbor.

Peggy, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Greene Fenley, Jr., wore a shimmering ivory satin gown fashioned with a round neckline outlined by a wide rose point lace collar. Below the fitted bodice the full skirt fell into a long train. Her unusually long lace veil was caught by sprays of orange blossoms to both sides of a small Juliet cap made of bands of satin matching her dress. Peggy carried a shower bouquet of white orchids and roses.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Edward H. Cook, of Cambridge, Mass., and the maid of honor, Peggy's sister, Carol, wore gowns made of heavy yellow faille fashioned with wide waist bands, bouffant skirts and cap sleeves. Tiny rolled collars bound the soft V neck lines of the dresses. They wore small bandeaus of yellow ostrich tips, elbow length, white kid gloves, and carried shower bouquets of bronze, beige and brown chrysanthemums.

The bridesmaids were Mary Anderson Coombe, the bride's cousin, and Mary Louise Hackett, both of Cincinnati, and another aunt, Mrs. William P. Anderson III and her son, William Anderson IV, of Washington, D.C. Other Cincinnati guests were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shaffer, Mr. and Mrs. John Enger, Mr. and Mrs. George Hollister, and Dr. David Vaughan, cousin of the groom.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding included the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. James Coombe, of Cincinnati, and another aunt, Mrs. William P. Anderson III and her son, William Anderson IV, of Washington, D.C. Other Cincinnati guests were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shaffer, Mr. and Mrs. John Enger, Mr. and Mrs. George Hollister, and Dr. David Vaughan, cousin of the groom.

David N. Mills was the bridegroom's best man. Seating the guests were Greene Fenley, III, brother of the bride; Robert Milligan, Herbert W. Hewitt, Sherwin B. French, Harry Calcutt, Dr. Edward P. MacKenzie and Dr. Alexander W. Blain, III.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Fenley chose a stunning gown of pale grey crepe fashioned with a long draped skirt which fell into a small train. Brown velvet ribbons trimmed tain for the LORD DUFFERN CHAPTER of the Daughters of the British Empire on Wednesday, November 6. A pot-luck luncheon will precede the business meeting.

MR. and MRS. JOHN UPTON of 465 Belanger, have recently returned from an air cruise through the West Indies, with stopovers at Cuba, Dominican Republic, Puerto Rico, St. Thomas, Frederikstaad and Christianstad in the Virgin Islands. Frederick B. Dewey To Wed Doris Wolfe

Engagement Announced in Harrisburg Home of Bride-elect, Who Is Coming to Pointe for Visit

Come this week-end . . . and the Pointe is destined to meet a most attractive dark-eyed girl from Harrisburg, Pa. She's Doris Wolfe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin H. Wolfe, whose engagement to Frederick B. Dewey, son of Mrs. Franklin H. Dewey of Cranford lane, and the late Mr. Dewey, was announced last week-end in Harrisburg.

Doris is returning to the Pointe with her fiancé and Mrs. Dewey who have spent the past week at the home of her parents.

The engagement was announced at a dinner party given by the Wolfes last Saturday evening.

It was on another visit to the Pointe, a few years back, that Doris met her bridegroom-elect. She was visiting her classmate Mary Ann Dodge, daughter of Mrs. Marie Dodge of University Place.

In the interim, Frederick enlisted in the army and after serving for four years, two of which he spent in the European Theater, he was released in March of this year as a captain.

The bride-elect attended Bulwin and Sarah Lawrence while Frederick went to the University of Arizona.

Mary Ann Dodge went down for the announcement party, also, and is returning with the travelers.

Although no date has been announced for the wedding, Doris and Frederick's marriage will probably take place early in the New Year.

DAUGHTERS OF EMPIRE

The Lady Bowles Lyons Chapter of the Daughters of the British Empire will meet Thursday evening, November 7, at 8 o'clock in the home of Mrs. Joan Russell Murphy, 19187 Greenlawn Ave.

Junior League Sale Nov. 15-16

The Junior League Little Shop on Kercheval avenue will hold its special Christmas shopping and sale of goods made by the Detroit League for the Handicapped on Friday and Saturday, November 15 and 16.

The public is invited to attend and see the many beautiful things for sale. All of the goods will be on display these two days. The committee on design of the League for the Handicapped is arranging the exhibit.

Cards have been sent out to the Junior League mailing list announcing the event, but it is not necessary to have a card to attend the exhibit and sale.

Calvary Bazar November 13

Last stitches have been taken out and last minute baking preparations are under way for the crowning event of the year put on by the Women's Auxiliary of Calvary Lutheran Church, Grosse Pointe Woods, next Wednesday, Nov. 13, the date of the annual Christmas Bazaar, beginning at 2 p.m.

A snack counter, serving hot meals all day, has been added this year and a bigger and better "fish pond" for the small fry. In spite of shortages, visitors will find a fully stocked "bakery" and "country store."

Co-chairmen of the affair are Mrs. William Duell and Mrs. Robert Ziegler. Assisting are Mrs. Arthur Stein, Mrs. Leonard Witke, Mrs. Clifford Jordan, Mrs. Walter Geffert, Mrs. R. Silvernail, Mrs. Harry Sainsbury, Mrs. Edw. Groth, Mrs. E. Groth Jr., Mrs. Herman Lahr, Mrs. Henry Zahrt, Mrs. Benjamin Monterosso, Mrs. John Riehl, Mrs. Howard Ford, Mrs. H. Con-savage, Mrs. G. Schade, Mrs. Harold Sachs, Mrs. G. Smith and Mrs. G. Dubbrodt.

Church Alliance To Discuss UN

The regular meeting of the Women's Alliance of the Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church will be held on Tuesday, Nov. 12 at 2 o'clock in the Church House.

Dr. Byron Rust, associate professor of government at Wayne University, will lead a discussion on the United Nations organization. United Nations Day is being observed by Unitarian Women's Alliances all over the world on November 13.

Hostesses for the tea which will follow the talk are: Mrs. Lawrence King, chairman; Mrs. Merrill O. Bates, co-chairman; Mrs. Harry Bullock, Mrs. Leslie Field, Mrs. G. M. Garrett, Mrs. Alexander Gage, Mrs. Julia H. Finster and Mrs. Arnold Zeleznik.

There are two ceilings to human progress—"I won't" and "I can't."

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. William R. DeBaeke of Nottingham road announce the engagement of their daughter, JOANNE MARIE, to George Frederick Kaatz, son of Mr. and Mrs. George S. Kaatz of Kerby road.

Congregational Women to Meet

The Women's Association of the Grosse Pointe Congregational Church will meet at the home of Mrs. Emerson Davis, 844 Whit-tier boulevard on Tuesday, November 12.

A dessert luncheon will be served at 12:30 o'clock by the co-hostesses Mrs. A. D. Wilson, Jr., Mrs. William M. Browne, Mrs. John F. McComb.

Mrs. C. Benjamin Rush will present to the Church on behalf of the Women's Association a slide projector to be used in religious education work.

The guest speaker of the afternoon will be an American educator in India, Mrs. Mildred H. Hess who has just returned from American College, Madura, India.

The American College is the only distinctly American college in South India which is making a special contribution through its emphasis on science and the humanities.

Mrs. Hess says, "To share in the task of educating the girls of India for participation in the great experiment in democracy which is facing that country is a gratifying thing."

U. of M. Alumni Sponsor Party

Graduates of the University of Michigan and their friends will gather for an evening of bridge at 8 o'clock on Friday, Nov. 8, at the Pierce Junior High School gymnasium.

The Grosse Pointe U. of M. Alumni group are sponsoring the entertainment, which will include refreshments and table and door prizes. Mrs. Bruce Proctor is the chairman for the occasion, assisted by Mrs. M. M. Sheaffer and Mrs. Hugh Dill. Although tickets may be obtained at the door, reservations may be made with Mrs. Proctor, TU. 2-8270.

Among Pointers already holding reservations are Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Young, Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Patterson, Dr. and Mrs. John C. Porter, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Franceth, Mr. and Mrs. John Panchuk and Mr. and Mrs. John McPherson.

St. James Ladies Guild To Elect New Officers

The Ladies Guild of St. James Lutheran Church will hold its next meeting on Wednesday, November 13, at 1:30 p. m. in the home of Mrs. Leo Carr, 263 Kenwood road. Mrs. Hugo Rosenbush will be the co-hostess.

There will be election of officers at this meeting, and all members are urged to be present.

Out-of-Town Guests Coming for Big Party

William Bonbright, Henry Ford, II's and Allan Shelden, III's to Be Hosts at Supper Dance in Grosse Pointe Club

Three of the Pointe's most popular and most prominent young married couples will be hosts at a supper dance to be held in the Grosse Pointe Club on Friday night, November 15. Those giving the party, which is expected to be one of the outstanding events of the season, are Mr. and Mrs. William Prescott Bonbright, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ford, II, and Mr. and Mrs. Allan Shelden, III.

There will be a number of out-of-town guests arriving for the party.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene DuPont will have as their house guests Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas DuPont of Wilmington, Del.

Mr. and Mrs. Shelden will entertain Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Weir, of Weirton, Pa. Mr. Weir is Mrs. Shelden's uncle.

Mr. and Mrs. Ford will have Mr. and Mrs. William McKnight of New York City and Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Fell of Westbury, L. I., as house guests for the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesson Seyburn have invited Mr. and Mrs. Charles Meyer and Mr. and Mrs. Philip Armour, all of Chicago, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward McLivane of New York City. Mrs. Meyer and Mrs. McLivane are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Seyburn.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy D. Chapin, Jr., are entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Colby Chester, Jr., of Greenwich, Conn., at their home, while Mrs. Roy D. Chapin will have as her house guests Mr. James Walker and Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hutton of Westbury, L. I., and Mr. and Mrs. James Brady, of Far Hills, N. J. Mrs. Hutton is Mrs. Chapin's daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. William Weiss, of New York City, will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Douglas, while Mr. and Mrs. James Simpson, of Wadsworth, Ill., will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. Monro Campbell. Mrs. Weiss is Mr. Douglas's daughter and Mrs. Simpson is the daughter of Mrs. Campbell.

Music for the supper dance will be provided by Happy Reiss and his orchestra.

Diane Brownlee Tells Engagement

A luncheon at the Women's Club last Saturday was the occasion for the announcement of the engagement of another lovely Pointe resident.

Diane Brownlee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Gilmore Brownlee, of Grayton road, disclosed the news to her guest by little verses which were hidden in the table favors. She will marry Ralph Lee DeVoll, of Baltimore, Md., who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Otis DeVoll, of Sanborn, Ia.

The young bride-elect was graduated from Liggett School and Michigan State College, where she was affiliated with Alpha Phi. Her fiancé, who served as a pilot with the ATC during the war, was graduated from Iowa State University.

The young couple have set Nov. 16 for their wedding date. They are making plans for the ceremony to take place in Baltimore, Md.

PERSONAL APPEARANCES

MARJORY DYKEMA wears a becoming black hat with such a cute ornament; perched jauntily a degree off center is a small black velvet parasol, decorated with gold beads. Marjory is usually associated with so many serious and worthy pursuits that it was nice to see her with the light touch.

Saw JOE CASGRAIN looking very chi-chi in a brown and white mixture woolen suit, her sabies and alligator shoes adding a note of elegance, and the "winter white" felt bonnet with the brown and white quills was the top note in a perfect ensemble.

Nan Ford wears with a goodlooking black crepe, a powder blue feather hat, reminiscent of a drum majorette. It is darling on Nan, and makes her sparkling blue eyes, bluer and more sparkling than ever, if that is possible.

PILFERINGS

Former G.I.'s in Government have names for Federal officials whom they dislike. They call them "Dr. Sankas" or "Two Peppers." If you can't see the connection with these names and unpopular officials then you're like one official who could stand it no longer and finally called in one of the former G.I.'s for a heart to heart talk. Eventually, he popped the question. "What possible significance," he asked, "Does the name Dr. Sanka have? The young man suggested he get a can of Sanka and read carefully the fine print. The official did and read, "98 PER CENT OF THE ACTIVE INGREDIENTS OF THE BEAN HAVE BEEN REMOVED."

An old gentleman of 82 attended a convention. He was so spry and vital that the press pounced on him and demanded to know the secret of his hearty survival. "Well," said the old gentleman, "I'll tell you. Sixty years ago when I married I made an agreement with my wife. If I annoyed her she was not to argue, she was just to get up and leave the room. If she annoyed me I was to say nothing, just get up, take my hat and leave the house. Well boys," he concluded, "I've spent most of my life out of doors."

Of all the messages which Churchill received this year, the one which delighted him most was from Picasso: "If he had not been a politician he could have made a living as a painter."

Pointers of Interest

MRS. HAMILTON D. JAMES OF RIVARD BOULEVARD
By Olive H. Larned

On the first of August, Mrs. James flew to London. The DC-4 took off at night and the trip was uneventful, the passengers sleeping in their chairs until the early morning when they awakened to see the green fields of Ireland, beautiful in the brilliant morning sunshine.

Mrs. James spent four days in London and she was appalled by the destruction which had been wrought and her major impression was of the lack of food and clothing in Britain. She said, "Things are grimmer now than at any period of the war as far as food goes. Due to the excessive rainfall, most of the crops have been lost and prayers were being said in the churches for the cessation of the rains. The bread ration has been curtailed again in the last month; there are no fats, no eggs other than powdered, very few fresh fruits, an orange is almost worth its weight in gold." Dorchester House, which was famous for its huge standing roast-ribs of beef and Yorkshire puddings, now serves on the silver from which the cover was once removed with a great flourish, a small portion of fish, or a bit of game.

Due to the frightful destruction, and no materials for building there is a great housing shortage. We feel that we have a housing shortage but it is nothing in comparison to that of Britain. No clothing may be purchased without coupons and each person is allowed 16 clothing coupons, 12 are required for a suit so that one may imagine how shabby the populace has had to become. Mrs. James remarked that the world had always been aware of the English courage, but their attitude under present conditions, never complaining nor indulging in bitterness, made one appreciate even more what an amazing and admirable people they are.

A two hours flight to Brussels brought her into another world, where supplies were abundant. Clothes and food are rationed everywhere on the continent, tickets are required for everything but there is a sufficient supply, in contrast to the real lack in Britain.

Wherever one travels one sees on the roads the evidences of the war; tanks, trucks, jeeps and command cars in various states of demolition, pushed to one side to allow the traffic of peacetime to pass.

Mrs. James found Paris as beautiful as ever and with remarkably little evidence of the ravages of war. As she was there but three days, she said that it was impossible to formulate an opinion as to the condition of the people. As we all know prices are exorbitant and the city is extremely busy. Most of the hotels are still in the hands of the American Army and American soldiers are seen everywhere. She said that it seemed strange to see huge American trucks lumbering up and down the Champs Elysees. The weather was excellent during her stay and the sidewalk cafes were filled as usual. There was always a long line before the movie theatres where American films were generally being shown.

Due to the forced diet of the war, the French women have slim and vastly improved figures and stockings are an unknown quantity. They wear wooden shoes with high platform soles and tied on with brightly colored ribbons, which makes for a gala appearance with their short full skirts.

The purpose of Mrs. James trip was to visit her parents in Luxembourg. It may be imagined what a joyous occasion this was after the long separation and suspense of the war years. At the time of her visit she found that the families of Luxembourg had 3,000 French children from Paris and environs in their homes for a period of four months, in an effort to rehabilitate them after their starvation diet and the frightful war conditions they had known. They were returned to their homes in time for school this fall, well fed and clothed.

During Mrs. James' stay, General Eisenhower came to Luxembourg to place a wreath on the grave of General Patton. "The American Army cemetery there is beautiful beyond description," Mrs. James says. "It is framed by a forest of dark green pines, and a center square is filled with flowering plants. There are 10,000 white crosses in this cemetery and a great many bear the inscription 'Unknown'. The only cross to be marked with rank is that of General Patton's. The others bear only the name and the serial number."

Mrs. James added that most everyone in Luxembourg has adopted a grave and takes care of it and that the majority of the graves adopted are those marked "Unknown."

People come from all over France and Belgium to visit this cemetery; primarily to visit the grave of General Patton. The people of Luxembourg have the greatest admiration and love for General Patton, whom they regard as their liberator, and the Third Army as their special heroes.

Questions and Answers Forum

By Barb Beranek and Mary Londe

Michigan State College,
East Lansing, Michigan.

Dear Mary,

Well, as the saying goes, the heat's on. Sure enough, it's mid-term season for all the gals and guys around the countryside—and here's one that's not denying that she's slightly "pood" as it were.

Seems as how you no more than think that you've got life in general under control when something clunks you on the bean and you've got piles and piles of work lying at your feet. But then it's as they say—less groans and more grinds—and it seems that we'll all make it again.

However, 'tis true that this spring fever that one gets in the autumn has me on hands and knees—or rather under the shedding chestnut tree when I should be pondering elsewhere—with book in hand. And sad it is when I think that it will all be gone too soon.

'Twas indeed only last Sunday that my roommate and I set our oversized feet in the general direction of the outer world when our conscience loomed over us like winter over fall—but then we as our season laughed merrily at it and lost it on the way.

The sunlight trickled through the shedding leaves like a miniature spotlight and hit upon one saucy little squirrel who I do believe was one of the most impertinent fellows I have ever known. Although I am surrounded by nuts I'm afraid that I'm not an expert on the type that he was preparing for winter storage. He looked at me most accusingly as he hid his loot though, and I fear that I must have a name among the other squirrels. Oh well, not being especially hungry at the time I let him keep them.

And then our spotlight hit on another brash fellow that looked about halfway between a chipmunk and an ordinary squirrel in size. He certainly did have fun though. He went up one tree and jumping over to the next ran down. If he had turned somersaults or had performed a swan dive, I don't believe that we would have been surprised.

At any rate, it was the kind of afternoon when I wished I were riding a horse at an easy canter along some wooded path. It awakens in one the challenge of living, and the spur of some unknown excitement. There seems to always be something of that spirit in autumn's air—the vivid contrasting colors and the smell of damp leaves arising from the ground. It's like an intoxicating wine that puts one above earthly fears and restraints.

'Tis truly wonderful just to stand on a hilly spot and look down and view the panorama of the countryside with all its gay contrasting colors on such a day. It always spreads out before you in a pattern of intricate design. There seems to be such a deep rooted satisfaction in it all—a sort of peace with oneself and the world at large.

It reminds me too of the various old cider mills around Detroit where they serve fresh cider and crisply baked doughnuts. There was the great cool cellar and then behind the mill the big old water wheel that went around and round.

I remember the first thing that impressed me about Michigan State last fall and has always followed me since. It's the playing of the carillon in Beaumont Tower every morning at eight. It certainly brightens the early morning wanderings toward an eight o'clock class. I don't know what those with a seven o'clock do. I didn't even know that there was such an animal until just recently. I guess that I'm luckier than I thought.

I spread my wayward wings in the general direction of Lexington, Kentucky this weekend to see the game between Michigan State and the University of Kentucky. You know, of course, where my sympathies lie, but I'll tell you all about it later.

As Ever,
BARB

Keeps Promise Made During War

Theodore D. Buhl of Ridge road returned from Norfolk, Va. Tuesday after keeping a promise made during the war.

While stationed at the Naval Lighter Than Air Base at Weeksville, N. C., Lieut. Commander Buhl formed a number of friendships in nearby Elizabeth City.

When he received his discharge he left with a promise that sometime he would return and take all his friends to the circus.

Mr. Buhl and John Ringling North, executive of Ringling Brothers-Barnum and Bailey Circus, were class mates at Yale and Mr. Buhl keeps well posted on the schedule of the Big Top. Last week-end it was to play in Norfolk, just 40 miles from Elizabeth City.

So Mr. Buhl headed south last week and joined the circus train and Mr. North in Richmond on Wednesday. On Friday night the long-promised party was given in Norfolk, following which Mr. Buhl returned to Elizabeth City for the weekend.

Assisting at the reception were their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Sheridan, and their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Zimmerman. The Sheridans have six grandchildren.

A program of Scottish music and dancing was highlighted by the Highland dancing of Miss Low and Miss Scotsford, wearing full Highland costume.

Pointe Counter Points

Some wise people are already making their reservations for the delectable Thanksgiving Day dinner planned at Hawthorne House. Why not relax and let them take care of all the toil necessary to preparing a dinner, and you and your family enjoy the fruits of their labors? No dish pan hands that day, either! This will give you added cause for thanksgiving. Add to the wise people those who are putting in their orders for those yum-yum fruit cakes and cookies to fill their needs at the Christmas season... To fill a present need for something new and delicious, HAWTHORNE HOUSE has a single layer cake, light as down, with a fresh coconut topping, called "Lacey Layer." It melts in your mouth, literally, but don't take my word for it; let it melt in your mouth.

Do you remember that cartoon "When a Feller Needs a Friend?" BLANCHE AND CYRIL are that feller. Hear their sad tale—they have a most attractive hairdressing establishment on Fisher road—the most modern equipment—expert stylists—who give good shampoos too—they give excellent manicures, pedicures and facials. Their permanents are tops, they never have that frizzy over baked look. The operators are courteous and do everything to please their discriminating clientele. What's sad about this tale? They need more operators—at times, they have to tell you good people that they cannot give you an appointment and that's sad for both of you. So, if you know of anyone who wants to work with nice people, in a nice place, in a nice way, tell them to call Blanche and Cyril, Tuxedo 2-8390.

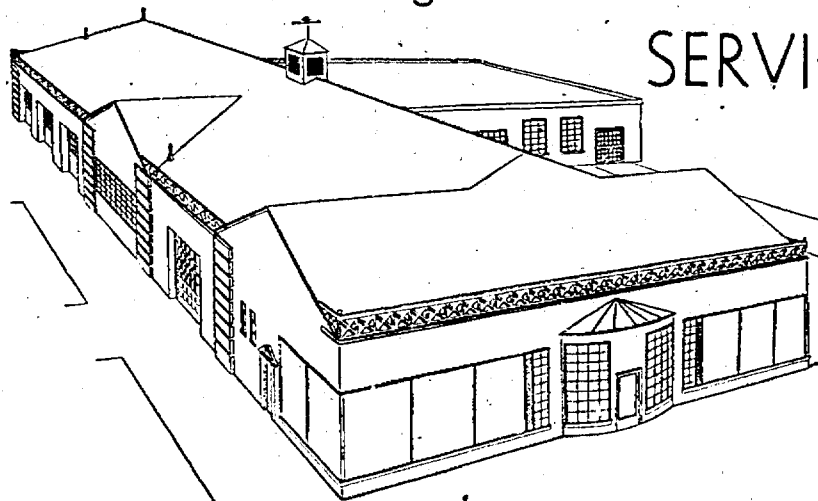

If there's a dog or cat in your house, someone must love him or her. Want to give that someone a happy surprise and a lasting Christmas or birthday gift? Take your pet to the studio of PAUL GACH, 345 Fisher Road, (practically at your front door) to have a real photograph made. You need not worry about the blinding glare or heat from the flood lights as none are used. MR. GACH uses a marvellous new bulb, the flash of which lasts only 1/10,000 of a second, this eliminates any blinking and that startled fawn look from humans or animals, and results in a natural and perfect reproduction of the subject. Call Tuxedo 1-0500 for an appointment and at the studio may be seen photographs of satisfied customers, including those of the animal kingdom.

Yvonne Mounter Emery and Eunice Flemming Frazer are designing women, and I hope you tell them I said so, because they're so smart about it. They design hats in their attractive shop called LALADGE, on Warren near Yorkshire. As an added attraction they will design and cut out patterns for matching fur hats and muffs. An expert furrier will cut and sew the fur, so that you may be sure of having professional workmanship all the way through. They will use your furs or procure new furs as you wish, but Vogue decrees fur hats and muffs to be a "must," if you want to be fashionably dressed, and who doesn't? LALADGE also has well designed costume jewelry and to find a gift certificate on December 25 entitles you to something designed by them "especially for you" in the hat line will happily your design for living.

When you hear the word fortnight, doesn't it make you think of travelling? Alexandra de Markoff must think so as that is the name for their stunning new travelling case—they'll take $27.50 for it at SCHETTLER'S. It contains skin cleanser, cream, complexion lotion foundation and powder and lots of space for what you will. Before the war Lanvin perfumes were famous and greatly sought after and now for the first time in five years, SCHETTLER'S can offer you these same intriguing scents. In perfumes—"Arpege" packaged for $12 and $42.50—"My Sin" for $9 and $30 (nothing personal I assure you) and "Scandal" at $9 and $30 (could be any body's). For a lighter touch try the cologne "Arpege" for $6 and $10 and "My Sin" and "Scandal" for $5 and $8.50—you'll never find sin and scandal at so low a price nor better, than that of Lanvin's.

Know what to do with your lawn mower? Call GIRARD PAYE at Niagara 3680 or Tuxedo 1-0474 to pick it up and he will sharpen it and make any necessary repairs during the winter so that it will be ready for "youse" and use, come the spring. He specializes in motor powered mowers, so if that's what you have, you may safely put it in his hands. Most of the well kept lawns in Grosse Pointe have GIRARD PAYE to thank for their trim appearance.

Bring on the plasma, pet! The Woolfe Dust has finally got us! This is it. The old Abacadabra! The Witches Brew! The Midas Touchdown! The whole bag of tricks and psychotricks in the mad wave of magic that is sweeping the country like a broomstick on B-4 Motors. Nor are we alone in this city of champs and chumps, woozy with The Woolfe Dust. In the magic circle are the name of motor magnets from Bloomfield and The Pointe who've taken up magic in such a big way that we're just waiting for them to pull a rabbit out of their silk hat some night at the Symphony.

Not even the non-successful seance, in that little room where the magicians begged Houdini to pull out his return ticket and come back from wherever he was—not even that deterred us. We could have told the boys beforehand that the dead—like the Democrats—do NOT come back. Houdini, the master magician, spent his life exposing the claims of spiritualism. But the seance was so well publicized that not only the three national news services, but gloomy Gabriel Heatter got hot on the subject of this, national wave of magic.

MAYBE IT'S NIGHTMARE ALLEY and the other best selling current novels on magicians; maybe it's Dunninger; maybe it's the influx of European magicians in New York night spots—but it's here, in all our best circles and triangles. The G. I.'s went in for card tricks to kill time before time killed them. Now they're trying to conjure up houses that aren't made of cards. We know one little debutante who used the Woolfe Dust to spirit a ruby ring from his little finger to hers, the vital finger being vacant till she can transform a bank roll into a diamond knuckle-buster. Some of our better beaux are practicing the Invisible-Pass Trick. Lots of gentlemen are realizing the ambition of a lifetime by sawing some woman in two. And our prize performer has made his wife vanish—for good! The rendezvous of these amateur Woolfe Dusters is that little room in The Tuller that seems to be the local lounge of magicians.

THE EXPLANATION? IT'S one way to relax without tax. And these are days when you have to use magic to make life work. As dear Ethel Barrymore used to say: "I never believe doctors, and I never believe lawyers—but I ALWAYS believe fortune tellers!"

Forget the plasma, pet. Bring on the Woolfe Dust!

DEAR JIMMY POLLACK,

Having spent the last five nights with the five hundred pages of your saga of the rise and fall of the Levinson dynasty in The Golden Egg, we congratulate you on knowing your Schucksters even better than Wake-man knows his Hucksters. From Moe Livinson, who first laid the Golden Egg in Hollywood to Willie Levinson, the Egg who finally laid The Golden Goose—it is the whole saga saga of filmdom.

As an ex-Variety scribe Jimmy, you know it's too forthright and downright to hit either the best seller list or the screen. One handicap is the delicious Yiddish dialogue with which it is leavened. As an Irish schick, who subscribes to the theory that the Celts are the lost tribe of Israel, we can read and feel and love it all.

But some schlemiel, Jimmy, understand neither Yiddish patter nor philosophy—especially the Yiddish secret of picking up and tossing off a lousy fortune. Not understanding it, they are Jealous—and that jealousy is the key to anti-Semitism.

The Golden Egg has its dirty passages, but it's good clean dirt. Not the muck that's running amuck in most novels. And finally, the Gentleman of the Press in the family rocked the mattress with such mirth at your press party scene—such mirth as we haven't heard since he read Life With Father. Maybe all books, Jimmy, ought to be read and reviewed 'in bed. In fact, we've been debating whether to ask Santa for a featherweight electric comforter or a featherweight portable typewriter. Come to think

Pat Kleinschmit To Wed Nov. 9

Out-of-town guests began arriving this week for the many pre-nuptial parties in honor of Patricia Kleinschmit and Charles Raymond Salisbury, Jr., who will be married on Saturday, Nov. 9.

The pretty bride elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Kleinschmit, of Rivard boulevard, and Charles is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Salisbury, of Piedmont, Calif.

The Salisbury arrived by train last Friday from California. They will be staying at the Whittier during their visit. Also arriving last Friday was Muriel Collins, of Glenview, Ill. Muriel, who will be one of Pat's bridesmaids, will stay at the Kleinschmit's home.

Another bridesmaid, Martha Metzler, arrives today (Thursday), from Decatur, Ill. and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Post, of Chicago, who are both members of the wedding party, also will be coming into town today.

After their marriage, Pat and Charles will make their home in Piedmont, Calif.

Club Entertains Stars of Stage

The youthful and romantic leads of "If the Shoe Fits," musical at the Shubert-Lafayette, were guests of honor when Colony Town Club held its semi-annual meeting and celebrity luncheon last Monday at the Detroit Athletic Club.

Members also met the "Fairy Godmother" of the modern Cinderella musical comedy, Florence Desmond, at the Monday event. A housing-shortage victim, the Colony Town Club goes blithely on with a wonderful spirit that holds the members together though they have met scarcely twice in a row in the same place since their clubhouse on East Jefferson avenue was sold from under them a few years back.

Presiding at the semi-annual meeting was president of the club, Fointer Mrs. Willard H. Toncray. Other Pointers prominent in the day's program were Mrs. Joel H. Prescott, chairman of the luncheon; Mrs. Herman F. Koestlin, Mrs. Sigurd R. Becker, Mrs. Hugo Hesse, Mrs. Francis H. Phelps, Mrs. Donald Melville, Mrs. Alex M. Stirling.

Mrs. Gayard F. Later, Mrs. Henry T. Myers, Mrs. Earl I. Heenan, Mrs. B. C. Schram, Mrs. Humphrey Springston, Mrs. L. C. Young, Mrs. Karl Meyer.

Still others were Miss Kathleen Morris, Mrs. A. R. Moore, Mrs. John Castle, Mrs. William L. Sherman, Mrs. Phillip L. Flanders, Mrs. Galen B. Ohmart, Mrs. James Merriam Barnes, Mrs. Roger V. Club to Conduct Turkey Hoe-Down

Do you enjoy square dancing? Do you enjoy the grand old music that grandmother used to hear? Do you enjoy hearing the callers chant "Allemande left, and grand right and left, join your hands and circle to the left—honors on the corner, honors to your own, swing the corner lady and promenade home?"

You do! That's wonderful, 'cause then maybe you'd be interested to know that on November 9 at the Neighborhood Club, 17145 Waterloo, you'll have the chance of a lifetime to square dance to your heart's content at the TURKEY HOE-DOWN! Why not plan now to be among those present from 8 p.m. until midnight on Saturday night—tickets are only $1.50 a couple or $1.50 stag and the callers will be none other than Mr. and Mrs. Brennan, famous for their square dance calling throughout Detroit. The dance is being sponsored by the Grosse Pointe Sword Club, the Humorettes and the Grosse Pointe Athletic Club.

Planned Parenthood League Leaders Meet

Mrs. Harley J. Earl Hostess at Gathering in Her Touraine Road Home; Mrs. James McEvoy Gives Talk

"Planned Parenthood Builds Stronger Families" was the subject of a talk given at the home of Mrs. Harley J. Earl, 217 Touraine road, Grosse Pointe Farms, November 1, at a tea.

The speaker, Mrs. James McEvoy, Honorary Chairman of the Detroit League, was introduced by Mrs. Earl, hostess, and board member of the Detroit League for Planned Parenthood. Mrs. McEvoy explained that the League is a non-profit philanthropic organization operating clinics in Harper and Woman's hospitals and the North End Clinic.

These clinics, she said, are staffed by obstetricians and admit those married women who cannot afford the fee of a private physician. Marriage counseling is provided. Among those aided are childless wives who with their husbands earnestly desire children. Scientific knowledge is applied to their problem. Mrs. McEvoy explained, and their sterility is correctable in from 16 to 50 percent of the cases.

"Ten percent of all married couples tend to be infertile and need this scientific knowledge to correct their problem," Mrs. McEvoy told the guests who attended the tea, "and the clinics are maintained financially by the Michigan and Detroit Leagues for Planned Parenthood, both of which are located in the Park Avenue Building."

Mrs. McEvoy brought out the fact that America's slogan is conserve our resources. "Humans," she pointed out, "healthy humans, are our most valuable resource. Our hope as a nation is to achieve the highest possible state of mental and physical health."

She pointed out that the birth rate a year is 2,500,000 babies.

"Seventy-five thousand are born dead; 70,000 die before they are one month old (when babies are born too close it means death. If a new baby is started before the first baby is one year old, three times as many die, according to U. S. Children's Bureau of Statistics); 210,000 die before they reach the age of 15; and

350,000 will be subject to mental illness.

She gave the picture of human wastage in Detroit births. Last year in Detroit 923 infants were born dead. Last year in Detroit 1,215 infants died before their first birthday. Last year in Detroit 56 mothers died in childbirth. That makes a total of 2,199 infant and maternal deaths in the city of Detroit.

Is that many, she asked? Would you call that a lot of deaths compared with the things we talk about more, such as infantile paralysis, or cancer, or tuberculosis? Last year 874 Detroiters died of tuberculosis. Our infant and maternal deaths, Mrs. McEvoy declared, were two and one-half times as many as our tuberculosis deaths.

"We are making progress in reducing deaths," Mrs. McEvoy added, with a note of encouragement. "Let us do even better."

Parents and in particular mothers, she concluded, are the only ones who have the right to decide when and how many children they will have.

"Parents want to give children a fair chance for health and strength," Mrs. McEvoy said, "and the aim of the Michigan and Detroit Leagues for Planned Parenthood, with offices in the Park Avenue Building, is to help parents have stronger and better families."

Mrs. John Shallcross, Detroit Chairman, spoke very briefly about the immediate needs of the Detroit League.

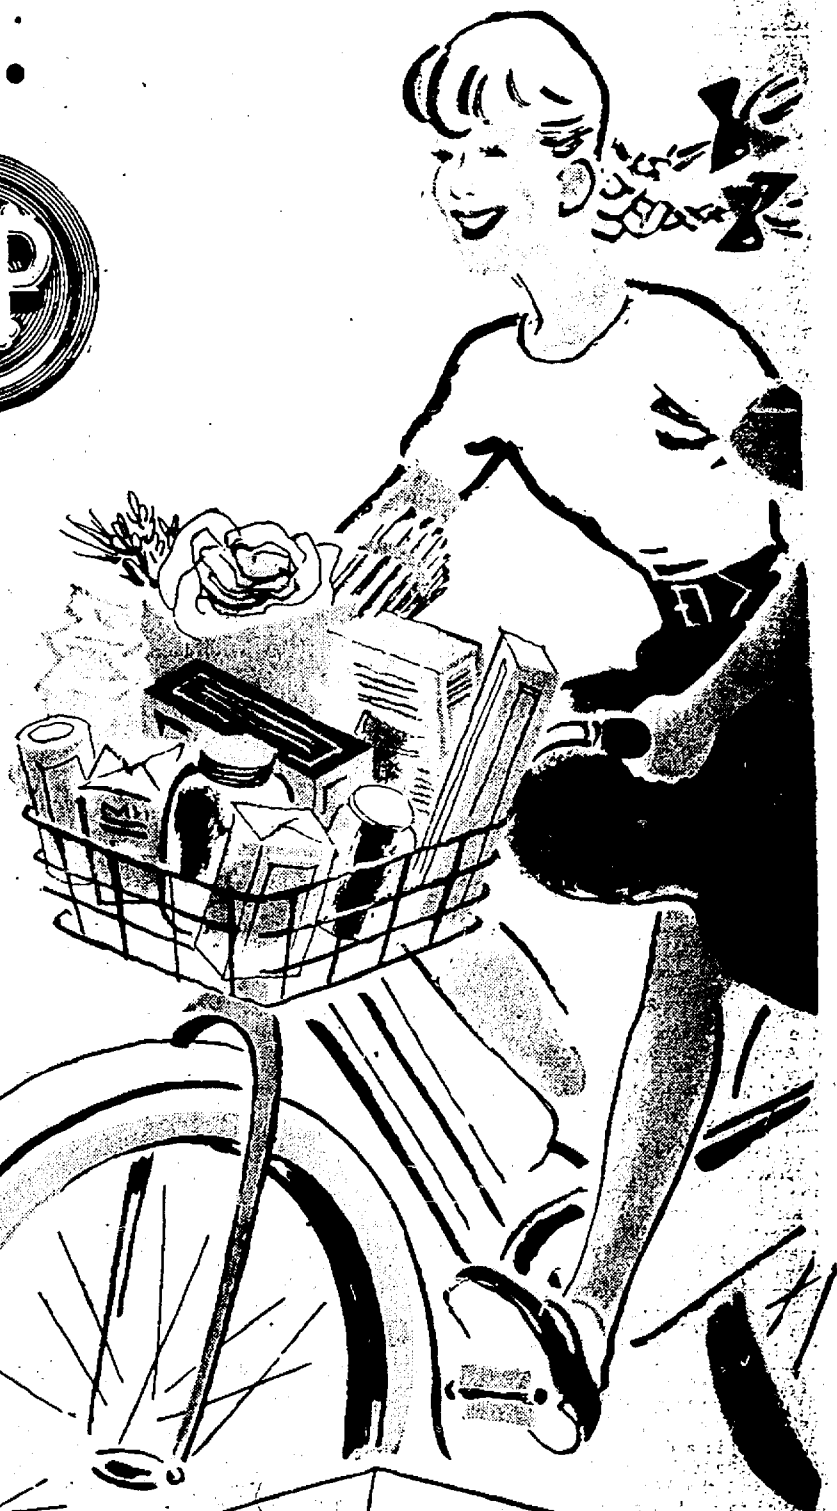

Mrs. C. Henry Hecker, member of the Detroit League Board, was in charge of the tea. Other members of the Board assisting her were Mrs. Terrell Childs, Mrs. Edward P. Wright, Mrs. Melville Welt, Mrs. William K. Muir, Mrs. Charles H. Symington, and Mrs. John W. Taylor. Others were Mrs. John Garlinghouse, Mrs. John Detwiler, Mrs. Emory M. Ford, Mrs. David C. Gillis, Mrs. Ross Wilkins, Jr., Mrs. Harry Farbstien, Mrs. Henry H. Hubbard, president of the Michigan League; Mrs. Harry W. Kerr, Mrs. H. Hunter Williams, and Mrs. Ladyard Mitchell, Jr.

Flyers Down Annunciation 20-6 on Slippery Gridiron

Players and Students Confident of Beating Next Two Opponents to Get at Least a Piece of Class B Title

It was a slippery turf that the St. Paul Flyers ran rampant over to score a lopsided, 20 to 6, victory over the hapless Annunciation eleven to remain tied with St. Charles for first place in the class "B" division of the east side Parochial Football League, on Sunday.

The Flyers wasted little time in putting the game on ice when on the first St. Paul play Meathe, on a reverse, handed the ball to Huettnerman who caught Annunciation napping and picked his way through the entire team to scamper 75 yards for the first score of the game. Meathe added the extra point when he plunged over right guard, making the score 7 to 0 in the Flyers' favor.

St. Paul connected again in the second quarter when a pass from Huettnerman to DuRocher gained a total of 60 yards, with DuRocher outrunning three opponents for the Flyers' second touchdown.

The extra point was missed by a matter of inches and the score stood at 13 to 0.

Annunciation threatened the Flyers' goal line when a sustained march carried it to the one yard line, but St. Paul's defense stiffened and took over on downs with ten seconds remaining in the second quarter.

St. Paul's powerful fullback, Bob Guehl, smashed the center of the line to run the ball out of danger to the ten yard line as the first half ended.

Annunciation was not to be denied and came back strong in the third quarter and marched down the field to the St. Paul two yard line with less than a minute remaining in the third quarter.

A surprise play caught the Flyers flat footed and Annunciation scored but missed the extra point, to make the score board read 13 to 6 in favor of the Flyers.

Wyandotte wasted little time in breaking into the scoring column when on the second play after it had gotten possession of the ball, halfback Simmons broke over his own right guard into the clear at midfield and scored standing up to put the Bears out in front, 5 to 0, three minutes after the opening kickoff.

The try for the extra point failed but a one touchdown lead looked mighty big.

Wyandotte's kickoff was taken by Beardslee on his own 30 and he slipped and slid to the 49. Ward started the Blue Devils touchdown bid when he passed to Hansen for a five yard advance. Follis made it a first down on the Bears' 48 with a smash over left guard and then added another first down on the Wyandotte 31 with a beautiful seven-yard end run.

Blue Devil power plays through the Bears' line, carried the Blue Devils to the Bears' 11 where Ward flipped a slippery ball to Laitner in the flat who clutched the pigskin to his chest and went to the two yard line where he was run out of bounds.

Quarterback Purdy climaxed the sixty yard march with a plunge through center to know the score, at 6 all.

Grosse Pointe scored its extra point the dangerous way when Purdy passed to Laitner deep in the end zone to put the Blue Devils out in front, 7 to 6.

Wyandotte, three plays after receiving the kickoff, had the ball on the Blue Devils' two yard line. Two line plays, placed the ball at midfield, and another beautiful run was made by Simmons, who was brought down from behind on the two by Ralph Brothers.

It was on the next play that the few rain-soaked spectators booed the officials.

On second down the Bears quarterback took the ball from center and attempted to hand it to the fullback coming through center on a line-buck for the needed two yards. The ball was fumbled and Captain Anton and Jack Fife fell on it. It appeared that the Blue Devils had stopped the Bears' touchdown drive on the one yard line but the officials, after a consultation, ruled the ball carrier had crossed the goal line before fumbling and Wyandotte went into a 12 to 7 lead.

The Bears' extra point was strictly a gift of the officials when they awarded the conversion to Wyandotte.

The Bears tried a line plunge for the extra point but this play appeared to be stopped when the entire Blue Devil line swarmed over the ball carrier. While the officials were deciding whether or not the ball had crossed the goal line, the ball carrier pushed the pigskin forward into the end

St. Paul wasted little time in getting back the touchdown it gave up in the third quarter. Early in the fourth period the Flyers put together a 65 yard drive, spearheaded by runs by Meathe, Cucchi and Smith, with Smith climaxed the march by smashing over right tackle for the Flyers' third score of the day. Cucchi cracked the same hole for the extra point to climax the day's scoring.

The game ended with the ball in St. Paul's possession on the mid field stripe.

Meathe, Huettnerman, Cucchi and Smith were the offensive stars of the day and served warning on St. Bernard, the Flyers' next opponent, that a pot of "witches brew" is stewing in the Flyers' camp to be served next Sunday on the Grosse Pointe athletic field.

Both students and players are confident that this year's team will take the two remaining opponents in stride and at least a share of the Class "B" East Side title with St. Charles. If this happens it will, necessitate a playoff game to determine which team will meet the West Side champions.

St. Charles has a little easier pickings in its last two games but there is a possibility that St. Martin's, already defeated by the Flyers, may upset the St. Charles "applecart" and give the Flyers a strangle hold on the crown.

Pointe Reserve Team Ties Wyandotte in Sea of Mud

Playing in a downpour of rain the Grosse Pointe football reserves and the Wyandotte Bears battled to a 13-13 deadlock last Friday afternoon on a soggy, mud smeared Blue Devil gridiron.

Wyandotte wasted little time in breaking into the scoring column when on the second play after it had gotten possession of the ball, halfback Simmons broke over his own right guard into the clear at midfield and scored standing up to put the Bears out in front, 5 to 0, three minutes after the opening kickoff.

The try for the extra point failed but a one touchdown lead looked mighty big.

Robert Doerfler Rolls 606 Series

Springer Shoes, led by Robert Doerfler's 606 series, blanked Al Long Ford for four points, and moved into a three way tie for third place in the Independent Bowling League.

Secretary Carlisle was fit to be tied when his team, the Hakim Bros. Market, took a pasting from the Horn Fuel and Supply team to the tune of three points.

The Whittier Cleaners maintained their steady pace by cleaning George's Five for three points and remained in a two way tie for second place with Horn Fuel and Supply.

Jim's Bar pulled the biggest upset of the evening by taking three points from the Merle team which is leading the league by one point now.

Kubicki Jewelry nicked Form-Rite for three as Kuryla Motor Sales did the same to Star Bar. Dillon also copied three from Falcon Recreation.

Jack's Service and Town Pump Cafe split the four points between them as did Harper-Berkshire Service and Kercheval Machine.

The S and M Bar won four easy points when Abrasive and Supply forfeited.

Robert Doerfler topped the evening's "200" bowlers with a 225 and a 213.

Earl Groth rolled the highest game of the evening, a 226.

High School Dads to Play Hosts at Big Get-Together

By FRED RUNNELLS
A year ago the Grosse Pointe Dads Club revived its activities, after being dormant during the war years, with an Appreciation Party for the Grosse Pointe football teams. Another party was held in the Spring for the swimming, track, baseball, basketball and tennis teams. These two parties were operated on a very thin "shoe string" and as a result, weren't as successful as they could have been.

Now the Dads' Club is back in the swing of things and a full-scale program has been mapped out. The first step taken by the club was to send out letters to all the dads who have boys in high school and junior high informing them of the party coming up November 26 in honor of the Grosse Pointe football teams, varsity, reserve and intramural.

Here is the letter in part: Hello Dad,
"The Dads' Club is anxious to throw a real party for the football boys, just before Thanksgiving. Have real professional entertainment of the type that will make the boys realize that the Dads do appreciate their willingness to work hard, play hard and practice the finest principals of sportsmanship.

We need both moral and financial support of every Dad. Wouldn't you like to put a bill, one dollar to 10 dollars, or your check (any amount) in an envelope and send it in to help make the party something the Dads' Club can be proud of sponsoring?

"Address your contribution to the Grosse Pointe Dads' Club of Grosse Pointe High School, 958 Macabees Building, Detroit 2, Michigan.

Be sure to reserve November 26 and attend the party with your son at this "honorable to go" father and son get-together. You won't be disappointed because the entertainment has been lined up which is headed by Ernie McCoy, assistant coach at the University of Michigan. At the end of the program, which starts at 8:15 p.m., "eats" will be served in sufficient quantity and variety to satisfy everyone.

"Come on, dads, you are all members of the club, so let's give the boys the support they deserve."

Furton's team slipped a little last week and only took three out of four points. That is just what Billiet's team was waiting for to jump into the lead in the St. Paul's Mens Bowling League by sweeping four points and it now holds a one point advantage in the standings.

The Grosse Pointe University of Michigan Club has had a weekly badminton activity for a number of years. This season the group is playing at the Pierce School gym on Wednesday nights from 8 to 10 p. m.

Former students of U. of M. and their wives or husbands are invited to join this activity. Those interested may obtain further information from P. V. Hettler, or they may appear at the Pierce School on Wednesday nights ready to play.

Billiet Bowlers Grab Loop Lead

Furton's team slipped a little last week and only took three out of four points. That is just what Billiet's team was waiting for to jump into the lead in the St. Paul's Mens Bowling League by sweeping four points and it now holds a one point advantage in the standings.

Badminton Club Launches Season

The 1946-1947 season at the Grosse Pointe Badminton Association opened officially on Friday November 1 at the Grosse Pointe High School gymnasium. The first event was one of the ever-popular Round Robins under the direction of Roland Gray, club professional for many years.

The Round Robins continue to be the most popular feature of the club. In them experienced and inexperienced players are paired, which gives the younger players a chance to learn through play with the more experienced players. Round Robins will be held each Tuesday and Friday evening throughout the season. In addition to the Round Robins the courts will be available for open, match and tournament play on Wednesday evening, Saturday afternoon and on Sundays from 10 a. m. to 3:00 p. m.

John N. Failing, Jr., chairman of the Match and Tournament Committee announces plans for a vigorous renewal of the tournaments and inter-club matches that in pre-war years were the source of so much fun and rivalry.

The Membership Committee is headed by Mrs. Martin Hayden, 610 University place, phone TU. 1-1194. Inquiries regarding membership in the club should be addressed to Mrs. Hayden.

Officers for the 1946-1947 season are: Nelson M. McCormick, president; Frederic O. Rising, vice president; and Mrs. John N. Failing, Jr., secretary-treasurer.

Directors are Charles Fox, Frederic Stevens, Paul Sutherland, Mrs. John N. Failing, Jr., Franklin Robinson, Harold Tanner, Charles Bartlett, Mrs. Martin Hayden and Frederic Rising.

Tractors' Power Crushes Devils on Muddy Gridiron

Fordson's Weight Tells As Fisher Road Boys Take 27-0 Licking on Sloppy Field; Isbey Stars Once Again

By FRED RUNNELLS
It is a proven fact that weight is an important aid to traction especially where mud and sand are concerned. That fact was proven conclusively last Saturday afternoon on a muddy Fordson gridiron, when a big, powerful Tractor football team used its weight to the best advantage to hand Grosse Pointe its second league defeat, 27 to 0, and dropped the Blue Devils to third place in the Border Cities League final standings.

A capacity crowd of Fordson home coming fans and Blue Devil followers saw the Tractors bull their way to touchdowns in the first, third and fourth quarters by sheer brute force to gain their margin of victory over an out-weighted but not out-played or out-fought Blue Devil squad.

Fordson jumped into an early lead when it scored its first touchdown three and a half minutes after the opening kick off, on five line plays which carried the ball from the mid field stripe to pay dirt after the Blue Devils had failed to make a first down after receiving the kick off.

Burton cracked left tackle for six, Dunsworth went over right tackle down to the Grosse Pointe 24 yard line. Burton smacked center for 5 and Kopelkin was stopped on the four and half yard line by Brabb and Allen. Burton then climaxed the fifty yard march with a plunge over left tackle carrying two Blue Devils on his back. The kick for the extra point was good and Fordson was off in a whirlwind start.

Fordson kicked off to Grosse Pointe and after an exchange of punts the Blue Devils found themselves dangerously deep in their own territory on the four yard line.

Standing deep in his own end zone Johnny Rummel punted out of danger to the Fordson 40 where the ball was taken by Dunsworth and run back to the Devils' 45.

The remainder of the first quarter saw both teams battle on even terms and the score read 7 to 0 in

Kid Bits
By Mary Provo
MYRNA TRODEN celebrated the Halloween week with an old fashioned pop-corn party Wednesday evening in her home on Maryland avenue. Jack Holmes, Pat Goyette, Don Hunter and Chuck Konefke were there consuming mountains of that popular confection.
Even the witches and goblins would be flattered by the huge blowout Grosse Pointe High staged in celebration of them. It was a big night Thursday for Meeky VanZanen, Eunice Jodar, Pat Liddle, Gretchen Kleshammer, Barbara Otto, Pat Mann, Marilyn Shay, Phyllis Hannah, Marilyn Faust, Harry Sog, Tom Bassett, Frank Pugliesi, Dave Bodycomb, Jim Hosking, Frank Swartz, Don MacIlroy and Ronald Dearnley.
There was something going on constantly. Among the audience watching those marvelous professional entertainers were Crystal Helin, Fifi Aboohamad, Andy Londres, Evelyn Helin, Carol Grylls, Norma Neeb, Jane Worley, Gail Wright, Jane Stewart, Barbara Robbins, Joan VanBecklaere, Carolyn Robinson, Barbara Daugherty, Joanne Russell, Tom Dewey, Joy Steinbach, Tom Alvarez, Sue Field, Dick King, Ralph Allured, Tom Follis, Bill Joop and Jack Fife.
Still more enjoying movies and chatting with their friends were Fritz Bloy, Frank Wilton, Tom Auch, George Crossdale, Calvin Purdy, Bob VanHalteren, Bob Peterson, Frank Reid, Julie Dickson, John Murphy, Lois Moeller, Donna Presley, Barb Goodrich, Myrna Riddering, Peggy McCarten and Dolores Anschuetz.

By-the-way, your reporter dropped in at the NEIGHBORHOOD CLUB and PIERCE too. Everyone at the club was dancing, eating, or just discussing the big event with fellow classmates and friends. There were Buster Crossdale, Louise Marick, Richard Diaries, Bill Howenstein, Don Millock, Jim Schoeck, Dave Smith, Dave Sutton, Ralph Thomas, Pat Jenks, Theresa Gleize, Marilyn Brown, Lee Eskrich, Evelyn Mann, Betty Nelson, Dan Moroney, Eljean Matice, Pat Underwood and Bob Cameron.

It was a gay young bunch who gathered at Piercel Again, eating, dancing and movies took the spotlight. The fun-makers were Therese Monaghan, Mary Worrell, Anna Tierney, Elinor Corfield, Barbara Gordon, Joyce Kanter, Ann Young, Mary Banach, Char Smith, Don Landis, Diane Thompson, Mike Best, Pat Goyette, Jeanne Giles, Dick Mackenzie, George Holme, Bob VanSteelant, Owen Hoare, Nancy Newton, Jean Barow and Jim Reindel. Others were Neville Pack, Fred Metry, Jim Dwyer, Ingrid Peterson, Bob Coe, George Beauchamp, Mike Murphy, Carol Kretschmar, Courtney Lecklider, Ann Busby, Frank Stokes, Don Becker, Ted Dearnley, Joan Hermme, Joan vonRosenberg, Carol Krause and Helen Reed. Still more were Paul Lane, Mary Ann Debetes, Kay Wallace, Mike Deroo, George Jacoby and Maurice Strong.

All the seniors at Country Day were invited to the spaghetti dinner at the Lake Shore road home of JOAN YOUNG. Joan and LAURA MURPHY pitched in and did all the planning for the enormous get-together, while JOHN GOULD did his part toward making the party a success by throwing an open house afterward. To make just a few, there were the dates of the hostesses, John Beaumont and John Cogrove, Ann Hicks was with Jim Tonsany, Lou Fletcher with Hunter Stair, Peggy Barie with Dick Chesbrough.

This beautiful window in the Jacobson Store on Kercheval was prepared by the Girl Scout Council of Grosse Pointe under the direction of a committee composed of Mrs. Sidney H. Morgan, chairman; Mrs. E. G. Klaver, Mrs. Howard Parfitt and Mrs. Gerald Schneider. It was installed in connection with the Community Chest Campaign.

Cinderella and Prince Charming, otherwise known as LEILA ERNST and EDWARD DEW, stars of "IF THE SHOE FITS," now at the Shubert-Lafayette, relax after the performance and enjoy late supper at the LONDON CHOP HOUSE.

Julie Micou with Jay Purdy, Barbara Miller with Bob Giffen, Nancy Peterson with Ted Ostus, Lizzy Wright with Tucker Whitehead, Carol MacPherson with Bill Wood and Sue Tower with Dave Robb.
After the G.P.-Fordson game Saturday, LOIS BUCK served a fried-chicken-dinner to Gloria James, Sallie Hoyt and Carol Stewart. The girls finally topped the evening off with a movie at the Punch and Judy.
Incidentally, there was a large turnout at that game! Diane Fruehauf, Bill Anderson, John Cobane, Marilyn Smith, Jim Brown, Margie Simons, Bugs Bundy, Carolyn Johnson, Doris Buser, Janet Johnstone, Bill Beardslee, John Corfield, Bob Coleman, Jerry Webster and Jim Hersh were some.

Saturday was a big day for CAROL KRAUSE and her cronies when she invited several of her friends to a hay ride and hot-dog roast. Carol was with Buzz Rieger who attends Cranbrook School, Pat Goyette was with Doug Michelson, Jean Giles with Bert Wickling, Helen Reed with George Grove, Bev Martin with Joe Daugherty, Peggy Dickens with Skippy Downey, Char Smith with Larry Breden, Carol Romer with Bill Turill, Jackie Climie with Ed Beaver, Sue Essington with Russell Voltz, Carol Zimmers with Dick Smart, Sue Maire with Rodger Ellis, Joyce Slack with Mike Shaw and Madge Winters with Dave Donmely.

Everyone tried to outwit the other with their individual ideas for costumes Wednesday last at BARBARA COULTER'S masquerade party. Barb was all decked out in her red woolen longies, while Matilda Bacce was there in lace with abutle, and Diana DeHem was a country girl. June Clements was dressed as a deep sea diver, and Pat Mann was adorned with a stove-pipe hat and tails. To finish the list, there was Arlyce Buckbinder as a Hawaiian dancer, Dolly Fischer representing Lucretia Borgia, Doris Duncan was a cow-girl for the evening, Betty Townsend was a flapper, and Elaine Severin hobbled it.

The rain certainly didn't dampen the spirits of the High School

Women Gardeners to Hear Sarah Van Hoesen Jones

Miss Sarah Van Hoesen Jones, of Rochester, Mich., will speak on "Two Experiences of a Woman Farmer" at the meeting of the Grosse Pointe Branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association to take place at the Grosse Pointe Club on Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 12, at 2:30 o'clock.

Miss Marie Louise Anderson, president, will preside at the business meeting after which there will be talk and tea. Hostesses on this occasion will be Mrs. Thomas Archer and Mrs. Victor Koch.

Pointe School of Music Announces Two Programs

Leone Hahnke, director of the Grosse Pointe School of Music, announces that the school will conduct the first of its faculty concerts at Alger House, 32 Lakeshore road, on Sunday, November 10, at 3 p. m.

On Friday, November 15, at 8 p. m., piano and voice students of Leone Hahnke and Elsie Knack will appear in recital in the studios of the Grosse Pointe School of Music at 15219 East Jefferson.

The birthday party at HELEN MANSON'S was a complete surprise to Myra Hahn, in whose honor the supper was given. The girls presented Myra with a green cashmere sweater for her seventeenth birthday. Sally Smith, Margie Stoerkel, Betty Lilygren, Vonnice Wegman, Dottie Lander, Sally Dalton, Jo Riestein, Pat Guilberg, Dorothea Davis, Betty Brady, Barb Hasselblad, Barb Stoerkel, Barbara Rising, Kaye Kernkamp, Marian Blackmore, Lois Rieck, Phyllis Sherman and Jerry Morse were there dressed in their Sunday best.

Another of last week-end hay rides was that of SALLY SMITH. Leaving from the Lazy-J ranch were Sally and Don Drader, Betty Lilygren and Frank McBride, Margie Stoerkel and Bill McBride, Carolyn Johnson and Jerry Allen, Mary Ellen Antrim and Marvin Weaver, Barb Daugherty and Bill Carruthers, Joan Ghesquiere and Harry Mack, Beverly Eidi and Mike Merwin, Janie Bundy and Ted Mumford, and Jeanne Jorstad and Jack Flat-tary.

Bel-Aire Opens On November 10

Is there NEWS in restaurants? There's good news! If fine food in a distinctly different atmosphere appeals to you, you'll be more than interested in the opening of Bel-Aire at Woodward and Virginia Park. This spot formerly housed Lee 'N' Eddie's but has now been taken over by George Taxe and Gene Adelson, former GIs, and David Taxe, who have pooled their ideas to give you one of the finest eating places in Detroit... Bel-Aire.

The cuisine will be under the master guidance of Harry Johnson, well known in restaurant circles; in fact, a past-president of the Michigan Restaurant Association, and Bill Brooks who has been causing people to smack their lips over his culinary art for almost 47 years.

Special planked food served in a delightful California atmosphere is only one of the intriguing examples of what's in store for you at Bel-Aire. If your preference runs to seafood, another innovation is the ingenious Seafood Bar to which choice delicacies of the sea have been airborne for your pleasurable eating.

The grand opening of Bel-Aire is scheduled for Sunday, November 10, with dinner served from 1 to 11. Starting Monday, November 11, Bel-Aire will be open for luncheon and dinner. Also of interest is the fact that Bel-Aire is especially equipped to handle large groups or private parties.

November Meetings Announced by Baha'is

The Baha'is of Grosse Pointe Farms opened their November series of discussion meetings on Friday night with the topic, "The Elimination of Prejudice."

The following subjects were announced for the balance of November: Nov. 8, Standards of Knowledge; Nov. 15, Religion and Science; Nov. 22, International Cooperation; Nov. 29, Social and Political Readjustments.

Totalitarianism steps in when more and more people take less and less responsibility for their country.

In other Words:

Winterize your Lincoln or Mercury Now and avoid expensive repair bills along with temporary loss of transportation.

Come in for a check-up on your LINCOLN or MERCURY now. The radiator should be flushed and cleaned for winter driving before adding anti-freeze. Hose connections should be inspected and replaced where necessary. Rear axle and transmission dope should be drained and replaced by light winter lubricants, along with lighter oil for your engine.

The ignition system, particularly coil and battery, should be inspected and attended to right now, for they are the first casualties of winter driving. Immediate attention to all these vital points may save you a cracked cylinder block, a burst radiator, a dead battery and the loss of your car for a week while it undergoes costly repairs.

H. W. Anderson, vice-president of General Motors in charge of personnel, has named GEORGE A. JACOBY as Director of the Personnel Departments Service Activities Section, succeeding the late O. L. Beardsley. Mr. Jacoby lives at 1212 Bishop road, Grosse Pointe Park. He has been a member of the Personnel Staff of General Motors for the past year. He came to Detroit from the Buick Motor Division, Flint, where he was Assistant Personnel Director. He received his bachelor of arts degree from Georgetown College, Georgetown, Kentucky, and his master of science degree from the Columbia University School of Business. The section which he now heads includes in its field of activities aid to the various divisions of the Corporation in policies and problems involving health maintenance and hygiene, safety, plant protection, veteran re-employment and various types of employee services. He was born May 13, 1904, in Pleasantville, Kentucky.

Fall Antique Show At Masonic Temple
Antiques valued at over $200,000 will move into Detroit this week. The occasion is the Fall Antique Show.
Over sixty dealers from seven states will show antiques from jewelry to lovely old furniture. Beginning on Friday, November 8, the Show will last through November 11.
As in past seasons, the four-day exhibit will be staged in the Masonic Temple. All exhibits will be offered for sale. Doors are to be open from 11 a.m. 'till 11 p.m. daily.

ITS TIME TO WINTERIZE YOUR OLDS
Be Wise! Be Early!

BATTERIES
Now in stock—a limited supply of top grade, husky batteries—designed to withstand the rigors of winter and to assure you of dependable, quick starting. These are 19 plate batteries of premium quality and construction.
ANTI-FREEZE
Better hurry to get your share of this winter time safeguard for your car. Some of you may have experienced the expense and loss of time incurred by a cracked block or a burst radiator. We have only a limited supply of ANTI-FREEZE on hand.
COOLING SYSTEM FLUSHED AND CLEANED
Before investing in ANTI-FREEZE, it is wise to have your entire cooling system inspected, flushed and cleaned. We will thoroughly check your thermostats and hose connections, replacing them at low cost when necessary. We will also check your radiator for leaks, a timely precaution for winter driving.
