City Studying Feasibility Of Buying Voting Machines And Creating New Precinct

Clerk Norbert Neff Renews Plea for Relief From Chronic Election Jumbles; 35 Workers Needed in Last Balloting

Harried by the interminable length of time it took to count the vote at the last election, and the general confusion and jumble into which the whole election process was thrown by the fact that the entire city is in only one voting precinct, City Clerk Norbert P. Neff again brought up at the City Council meeting Monday night his oft-suggested plan of cutting the city into at least two voting districts and installing voting machines.

He said that at the last election there were 2944 votes cast. It required a staff of 35 paid election officials divided into two shifts to do the work, and these workers were at the job continuously from the opening of the polls at 7 o'clock the morning of the 5th of November until 1:15 o'clock p.m. the following day.

Mr. Neff says the City is the largest voting precinct in the state of Michigan, and he believes in the whole United States, although he has no means of verifying this.

The law requires a voting district for every 600 legally registered voters. The City of Grosse Pointe has escaped this by an opinion given by the Attorney General of the State some years ago which seemed to show a way out. The City officials have always clung to the idea of one voting precinct in the belief that money was saved. Neff's statement that they had to hire 35 paid workers for this one precinct came as a surprise and a shock to the Council.

Two districts and voting machines could not possibly call for the hired services of more than ten persons. The cost of the machines would be a comparatively trifling item for the City. The total vote, complete and accurate.

Crashing Car Sends Own Alarm to Police Quarters

A police box that sent in its own alarm resulted in the quick pickup of a drunk driver on Lake Shore road early Thursday morning.

Buzz! Buzz! went the warning in police quarters at Vernier and Lake Shore. Lieut. B. T. Morrow, on duty, picked up the receiver but no word came over except a faint incoherent murmuring as if someone was talking to himself.

Morrow knew this was no routine police report and in a moment contacted Patrolmen La Forest and Glidden in their patrol car and said "Get to the box at 910 Lake Shore p.d., there's something funny going on there."

There was a gentleman bearing the patrymnic of Hill, James Edgar, aged 35, of 4518 St. Aubin, well fortified with hooch had

Maire School Given Award For Safety

Be Presented to Any Suburban Institution

The first Green Pennant to be awarded to any suburban school was officially presented by the Detroit Times Tuesday morning to Grosse Pointe's Maire School on Cadieux road. The pennant is an award for excellence in the school's safety record.

Maire School has had no accidents since April 17, 1945, when Alice Miller was hit by a car on the corner of Kercheval and Cadieux.

The school has 20 patrol boys under the captainship of Dennis Kopp, 581 Neff road. Dennis, who is 11 years old and in grade 6-B, was elected captain last spring. He is aided by First Lieutenant Harold Drinkaus, 1029 Yorkshire road. The patrol also has two-year men, Richard Sutton and Bruce Coleman. The safety patrol is assisted by teacher-sponsor Mr. Gittins.

Mr. Hobart, principal, stated that he is very proud of the school's fine record and credits it all to the work of the safety patrol. City Chief-of-Police Trombley and Patrolman Flannigan took part in the presentation ceremonies. The Grosse Pointe police departments have had a great deal to do with the safety patrols and low accident rate of the Pointe.

Imbecile Wrecks Guest's Cadillac

One of the most despicable pieces of malicious destruction of property that has been reported to the police of the Pointe in a long time came from the Roy C. Fruehauf home at 15621 Windmill Pointe drive on Thanksgiving.

A guest in the house, Dr. A. J. Auchterlone, of the Book Building, had left his new Cadillac car parked in front of the house. When he came to drive away he found that one of the windows had been smashed in, the ornament on the front of the hood knocked off and broken by some heavy instrument and the hood lifted and all of the wiring in sight had been literally torn loose.

WARRANT FOR PILOT

A low-flying plane over the Pierce school was observed by Officer Del Place of the Park police Saturday afternoon. He was able to see its number and a warrant will be issued for the pilot. It was an aluminum bodied private plane and the pilot was indulging in low dives when seen by Del Place.

Pointe Stores Devote Night To Men Only

Shopping to Be Pleasant Experience for Males on Monday, Dec. 16

Christmas shopping is going to be a very pleasant experience for those men of the Pointe who avail themselves of the conveniences being offered by a group of merchants located in the City's chief shopping center, on Kercheval avenue between Cadieux and Neff roads.

Monday night, December 16, has been set aside by these merchants, For Men Only. Women will be shooed away and the males can shop in comfort. Parking space will be ample. The attention of all clerks will be centered on the wants of the all-important stronger sex. Cigarettes and cigars will be on the house.

Merchants participating in this plan include Jacobson's, where the store models will be on hand to display costumes the master may wish to select for his misus; Peppert and Blocker's, Ryon's Shoe Store, Pongrazz Jewelers, Proper's, Peck and Peck, York Jewelers, Best's, Junior League Little Shop, Shepherd's Staff, Harlow Lingeman's Florists and Judy's Gift Shop. Hours for Men Only will be from 7 to 9:30 p.m.

Some of the other stores will be open, but due to the nature of their business, such as Kopp's necessity for being available for filling prescriptions, etc., women will also be admitted.

This banding together of the merchants might very well be the beginning of a new organization which could do much to promote the common interest of the concerns doing business in this exclusive center.

Pointers Want Skating Rinks

The News has received a number of inquiries concerning the possibilities of constructing skating rinks throughout the Pointe. It has been suggested that these rinks could best be maintained on school property where they would be easily accessible to all, where the land is level, where they could be properly supervised, and where they could be easily banked so the fire department could flood and freeze them.

When contacted, Dr. Essert, Superintendent of Schools, stated that he could not speak for the Board of Education, but it was his belief that if the demand were great enough the proper way to have these rinks constructed would be to submit a petition to the Board.

Rotarians Raise $4000 at Party

The Feather Party given by the Grosse Pointe Rotary Club in the Neighborhood Club on November 25 was the most successful of all those of like character the Rotarians have given.

Not only were the most and finest prizes awarded, but the biggest sum realized. All of the money from these events is applied to the wide variety of social services the club fosters for the benefit of the community.

Bob Boyer, chairman of the events, reported to the club meeting last Monday that the net profit of the affair was already just short of $4,000 and he expected it would pass that figure when all the returns on ticket sales were in.

City Authorizes New Street Signs

New street signs will shortly appear at 21 intersections in the City. The Council took authorizing action at the meeting Monday night. The new signs will be of raised carved letters, white on black.

A few new metal standards will also be installed where the original ones are bent or twisted or in some cases missing entirely.

With Christmas approaching the slogan "DRUNK DRIVERS GO TO JAIL" will find a noticeable spot everywhere...

Newspaper Warning Leads to Arrest of Hunted Sneak Thief

Willie O'Wings' Wings Clipped When Park Police Arrest Him After Woman's Tip; Several Park Cases Solved

The sneak thief who robbed the Walter L. Van Goethem home on Nottingham road recently and the Plath home at 726 Barrington on November 3, is in custody. Willie O'Wings, a colored boy who arrived in the Detroit area from Greenville, S. C., within the last four months, carried a name highly descriptive of his chosen calling. He is the lad who entered homes, often without ringing, and when discovered, said he was looking for work. A message printed by the NEWS at the request of Police Chief Louwers of the Park was the immediate cause of his undoing.

At noon on Saturday, Nov. 30, Mrs. S. A. Flickinger of 826 Barrington phoned the Park police that a colored boy was at her house looking for work. She had seen in the paper a request from the police that if any home was visited by a party answering the description they should call the police headquarters. She thought this case might be interesting to them. It was, and in 90 seconds Patrolmen P. Conlon and G. Boon had Willie in hand.

With a little persuasion at headquarters Willie confessed to the particular cases with which the local police charged him, and without too much detail, to many others in this area. The Detroit police of the 5th precinct have also been on Willie's trail. A checkup with them, with Willie's collaboration, cleared up a number of sneak thefts in Detroit. He confessed to getting $70 out of one house and $27 out of another.

This style of thieving had been his specialty for some time before transferring his talents to this region. He said a pal of his in Greenville, South Carolina, had been a lousy with money and showed special acquaintance with the local field by recommending to him that he not overlook Grosse Pointe. This was an especially rich pasture. Encouraged by this expert advice Willie came. His case will take the usual route.

Coal Rationing Faced by Pointe

The Grosse Pointe area will shortly have in operation the same procedure for conserving the coal supply that was employed during the previous 59 day coal strike.

E. C. Crowley, Area Distribution Manager of the Solid Fuel Administration, has named Frank Patrick of Detroit as County Solid Fuel Administrator. Mr. Patrick has already sent out letters to the heads of the Pointe municipalities asking them to act in the same capacity they did before.

This means that the clerks of the City and the four villages will receive the applications for coal from citizens who have not more than ten days' supply in their bins, and on their certification to this fact, they will receive from the clerk a certificate of need which will entitle them to one ton of coal.

This certificate must be taken first to their regular coal dealer and he will supply the applicant if he has the coal. If he is out the applicant may then take it to some other dealer.

Letters to this effect were received by the various municipal heads from Mr. Patrick on Tuesday morning.

Police Officer Does Fast Job Solving City Robbery

A robbery at the Village Manor restaurant at 17150 Kercheval avenue that was reported to the City police on Friday morning, November 29, was cleared up and the culprit in hand by mid-afternoon on the same day.

Sergeant Ed Trombley suspected a colored boy named Ardra Woods, of 1178 Meldrum avenue, Detroit, who had been working in the place as a dishwasher and bus boy. Trombley had the boy in for a talk and got a confession out of him by telling him that they had his finger prints on a knife that he had used in prying open a lavatory window.

He had stolen a canvas bag containing $267 with a deposit slip preparatory to depositing it in the bank. He also took another bag with miscellaneous small bills and coins aggregating $100. He had also stolen $27 from two waitresses who worked in the place. The theft occurred sometime the night before. The money was stolen from the girls at an earlier date.

The boy had made deposits of $81.31 on a wrist watch and some jewelry he had bought at a Detroit store, and of $25 each on a suit and topcoat.

Trombley recovered the unspent cash in Woods' room and got the rest from the merchants who had taken the deposits. One of these was reluctant to come across but did so under threat of a warrant for receiving stolen goods.

By Monday night the officer had made a complete recovery of the money except for a little change the boy had spent on a few minor items.

Coal Strike Finds Bins Fairly Full

Officials Estimate Enough Fuel on Hand to Last Month to Six Weeks

The schools of Grosse Pointe are not jittery over the coal situation but neither are they as comfortably placed as they would wish to be.

The Pierce and Maire schools have their heating problem nicely in hand; they both use oil. All of the other schools depend on coal fuel. E. G. West, the director of buildings and finance for the school district believes the coal burning schools can be kept going for from a month to six weeks. This would mean by shifting coal from the better stocked bins to the schools whose bins are lean. On the basis of coal in hand the Defer, Trombley, Mason and Richard schools could probably run through March. The High School, the biggest user of coal of any of them, has only about a thirty-day supply.

Orphan Land Offers City Nice Problem

City Councilman Carpenter, who is also the representative of Grosse Pointe City on the Board of County Supervisors, brought a message to the Council Monday night from the Wayne County Road Commission.

The Road Commission wishes to know what disposition the City will wish to make of the remaining land, which the county has had to condemn along Mack as the widening project that will eventually take a small part of the condemned lots will be actually used for the wider roadway. In other cases most of the lots will be used. This will be controlled by the bonds and general deviations which Mack pursues across the City's front.

The City has neglected to date to decide on any regular treatment for this leftover land and the County authorities want some decision. The land will belong to the County and would of course have to be acquired from it. Already many private parties, including many real estate speculators are angling for choice plots of this orphan land.

To get down to a real study of the matter the Council voted to hand it over to Councilmen Carpenter, Waterfall and Morgan, the Building and Zoning Committee. These gentlemen have a real job on their hands involving one of the most involved and complex real estate problems that has ever plagued Grosse Pointe, either as private citizens or public officials. It will be necessary too that the report and recommendation be made reasonably soon.

Speculation on its use runs all the way from a beautiful paralleling highway park to the taking over of some of the intervening alleys and throwing them into a general land mass, with the city going into the real estate business.

Attempted Rape Case in Shores

James R. Walker, aged 28, of 1322 Hilger St., Detroit, whose strenuous social activities have recently brought him much publicity in Detroit and Napoleon, O., circles, transferred the scene of his latest escapades to Grosse Pointe in the early hours of Tuesday morning, December 3.

He and a young woman, whose name is withheld, were guests at a cocktail party in Detroit. Shortly after midnight he suggested a ride along Lake Shore road. Here, by the shining inland sea, his ardor became too intense and the young woman grabbed the steering wheel and turned the car into the curb, blowing two tires.

Walker shifted arms from the girl to the wheel and drove on out to Robert John road near the county line. A thousand feet from Lake Shore he renewed his attentions. The young woman fought him off, jumped from the car and ran back to a house on Lake Shore road and awoke the residents. They telephoned her plight to the police headquarters on Vernier and Patrolmen Glidden and Ingalsbe were contacted by radio and quickly had Walker in hand. He was still in the car.

Tuesday night he was arraigned before Judge DeBaekke on a charge of attempted rape and held for examination on December 13 under $10,000 bail.

According to Detroit police records Walker is a much married man. He is said to have been married to four different women at the same time; two of them in Napoleon, O., where the same justice of the peace is reported to have married him to two of them.

I don't want to fight another to get you back."... says he will picket every day until Jeanette comes back.

SUMNER WELLES, former U.S. Under-Secretary of State, says the coal strike is advancing communism in Europe... "Communism," he says, "is trying to destroy socialism, so that a solid communistic front may be arrayed against western democracy"... says socialism is in fact only a mild forerunner of communism.

Tuesday, Dec. 3
JOHN L. LEWIS and the Miners Union are held guilty of contempt by Judge Goldsborough... Lewis rested his case without giving testimony. Unrest grows among the miners... many wish to go back to work but stand in fear of union reprisals and the violence of more hot-

Happy Anniversary

Five years ago Mr. Joseph de Grimme came to Grosse Pointe for the first time, as a guest of one of our prominent physicians. He fell in love with the community and decided that he wished to become a part of it, and this led to his establishment of the de Grimme Galleries on Kercheval Avenue, which have become famous throughout the country.

Prior to this time Mr. de Grimme had a gallery in New York and Miami Beach and exhibited in the finest hotels around the country. He had been in New York but a short time, when the former Mrs. Vincent Astor sponsored an exhibition in the Advisory Building of the New York World Fair.

Joseph de Grimme is the son of one of the outstanding art collectors of Austria, so it was natural that he should have developed an interest in and appreciation of art and have decided to make it his following. He ranks in Art circles as an outstanding authority, and merits the confidence reposed in him due to his well founded knowledge.

During the past five years the de Grimme Galleries have answered the artistic needs of many Grosse Pointers and others, who have come from all over the country.

Mr. de Grimme has made an artistic contribution to our community and we extend heartiest felicitations upon the fifth anniversary of the Galleries and wish them many more.

headed workers... some with fanatical loyalty to Lewis say they will live on corn meal mush but won't go back to work if "Big John is sent to jail."

THE UNITED STATES takes the initiative in the UN Assembly in calling upon Franco to step down from the headship of the Spanish Government. The chief opposition to this course seems to arise with certain small Latin American nations which maintain it is not the function of the United Nations to interfere in the internal affairs of a sovereign state.

KRUG SAYS A SUPPLY of natural gas will be flowing through the "Big Inch" within against a Chicago broadcasting station (WAAF), because it had refused to hire more musicians than it could use, wins first round in Federal Judge La Buy's court, who rules the Lea act (Anti-Petrillo act) unconstitutional... Government will carry on further.

REV. MARTIN NIEMOELLER, of Hitler concentration camp fame, arrives in New York to address the biennial meeting of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America at Seattle.

Wednesday, Dec. 4
PRESSURE OF THE COAL strike bearing heavier hourly on the industrial life of the country... an embargo on all but essential freight will start on Friday... passenger service will be subjected to its second 25 per cent cut... 85,000 workers at Ford face an early layoff... estimated that between 2,000,000 and 3,000,000 men will be out of jobs within the next three weeks... Lewis plans to appeal his conviction... Demand grows that Congress enact strike controlling legislation as soon as it meets in January... the President has given no indication of calling an extra session of Congress.

TWO TURKISH NEWSPAPERS simultaneously publish reports that Premier Stalin is critically ill and that all close friends and officers high in the Soviet state are standing by in Moscow.

FOUR REPUBLICAN MEMBERS of a Senate war investigating committee take the "confidential" tag off a report on conditions among the American occupation forces in Germany... accuses some officers of immorality, black market operations and other crimes... War Department says isolated cases have been exaggerated to represent a general condition.

PARCEL POST PACKAGES limited to five pounds weight, account coal strike, and no foreign parcel post received except for American soldiers in foreign service.

RAILROAD EMBARGO reported to mean the idleness of 500,000 Michigan workers.

John L. Lewis fined $10,000 and mine union $3,500,000 by Judge Goldsborough.

Stream Control Commission Approve Shores Sewer Plan

Village Council Orders Preparation of Working Plans; Improvement Expected to Cost in Excess of $200,000

A letter from W. F. Shephard, chief of streams and sewers project, engineering division, Michigan Department of Health, was read at the Grosse Pointe Shores Council meeting on Monday evening, Dec. 2 approving the preliminary plans for the sanitary sewer system which had been prepared by Mason L. Brown and Son.

This plan provides for an interceptor sewer along Lake Shore road with an arm running out from the shore to connect with the big interceptor at Marter road. The engineers have worked out a plan where a grade has been found which will carry the sewage by gravity to the big interceptor.

The Shores village has been in trouble with the state health authorities for some time with its sewer system. The Stream Control Commission has been insistent that the practice of turning the sanitary sewage into the lake must cease. The issue went so far a few months ago that the state authorities served notice that no permission would be given for the further laying of sewer service pipes in the village until a definite method was in operation to stop lake-bound sewage or, an acceptable plan to do so had been presented with binding assurance to have it in operation within a specified time. The approval by the state authorities of the Brown plan would seem to be the final answer to the problem.

The Council gave directions to the local engineers to proceed with the preparation of the working plans.

The village authorities refuse to give any estimate on the cost of the job until the working plans are ready and can be submitted for estimates.

It is judged however from previous discussions of the matter that it will be in excess of $200,000.

Master Defends Dog Philosophy

Seven year old Brewster Loud, 40 Oldbrook Lane, was bitten on the leg November 30 by a black Labrador retriever owned by John T. Woodhouse, 325 Lake Shore road. Mr. Woodhouse was ordered to keep his dog confined for at least 10 days.

Speaking in defense of his dog, Mr. Woodhouse stated that while the animal is confined in his pen, the children tease him unmercifully and often actually hurt him by throwing sticks and stones at him.

It follows as the night the day, that if the dog manages to escape and happens to run into one of his tormentors, he is quick to seize the opportunity to get even.

Sewer Needed For New School

Representatives of the Grosse Pointe Board of Education were at the Grosse Pointe Woods Council meeting on December 3 to request the cooperation of the village in securing a proper storm water drain for the new combination Junior High and Elementary School that will be built at Vernier and Mack in the near future.

An old drain that formerly served this site has become filled up and a new one will have to be provided. The work must be attended to through the cooperation of the Schools, the County Drain Commission and the Lochmoor Club. The Woods authorities promised to work with the Board of Education on the matter.

Pointers Honored At British Party

A cocktail party given by the Hon. and Mrs. D. F. H. Brickell on Saturday, November 30 in their new Government House at 436 Lakeland avenue was an official function of the British Consulate General mainly concerned with showing British gratitude towards United States citizens for their help to Britain.

Mr. Brickell, H. B. M. Consul General, presented King's Medals to about 20 American citizens who were prominent in relief work for Britain during the war. Three Grosse Pointers were among those honored.

Lieutenant Colonel Berlan Eaton, 1018 Bishop road, received the Order of the British Empire. Colonel Eaton was chairman of the first Michigan chapter of the British War-Relief. The Reverend Francis Creamer of Christ Church and Mr. Harry Turrell, 734 Barrington road, received King's Medals. About 140 invited guests attended the party.

Council Frowns On Lot-Cutting

City Councilman Chester F. Carpenter has been acting as a committee to investigate the practice that has developed in the city for owners of lots to cut them up into smaller frontages than that originally indicated in the plats accepted by the city many years ago.

The provision is that lots shall not be cut into smaller frontages than indicated in these plats or than the average prevailing frontage as existing in any given block.

The matter was brought to the attention of the Council by a property at the northeast corner of Notre Dame and Waterloo, where the plot, only 61 x 135, has been cut into three lots. An extreme illustration of this breakdown in frontages is seen in St. Clair and Notre Dame between Jefferson and Kercheval where the original lots were marked at 109 and 100 foot frontages and have since, in the intervening years, been cut into small frontages, in some cases as narrow as only 28 feet.

The matter was discussed at length but a course of action was postponed for a later meeting.

CONTRACTOR ROBBED
The Cook Contracting Co. had some valuable pieces of material stolen from the Stephens Subdivision December 3. Among the missing articles are a six-volt, 17 plate heavy duty Delco battery from a Loraine shovel, a pin puller with a 4 by 4 wooden handle, and two rubber tired wheels weighing 75 pounds.

Park Maps Sewer Work

First Job Will Cost About $112,000; Completion of Whole Project May Reach $458,000

Bids have been received by the Park village for sewer work designated as Job No. 2 of the Mack-Charlevoix District No. 1 and the decision on the awarding of the contract will be taken at a council meeting on December 9.

This area covers in general that section east of Wayburn to Somerset and between Mack and Charlevoix. It has not yet been decided whether all of this work will be undertaken at once. The estimate cost of the job would be about $112,000.

The policy of the Park's financing calls for a pay-as-you-go method. The village is determined not to add any more to its public debt.

A large accumulation of needed sewer work has piled up since before the war and this will be disposed of as rapidly as the village's finances permit.

It is intended that those portions of the village which stand most in need of relief work will be attended to first. Most property of this character lies north of Jefferson avenue. A considerable amount of work however awaits south of Jefferson.

Manager Lane estimates that the final completion of all of the needed sewer work in the village will cost approximately $458,000.

Drunk Drivers To Go to Jail

So that those who celebrate neither wisely nor well during the holiday season may know in advance exactly where they stand, police began this week distributing to all of Detroit's public drinking places posters bearing the message "DRUNK DRIVERS GO TO JAIL."

The person who drives after drinking is a perennial problem who contributes gravely to the traffic accident toll. But he is most dangerous in December when a combination of holiday conviviality and bad driving conditions sharply increases the possibility that... if he drives... he will be involved in an accident.

Last December 25 persons were killed on Detroit streets.

Assisting the Police Department and Traffic Court with the Detroit program is the Traffic Safety Association. A similar program is being conducted outstate by the Michigan Liquor Control Commission.

Building Woes Too Familiar To Restaurateur Aghassian

Ask George Aghassian how tough it is to build these days. George knows. Just nine months later than careful planning called for, the new Early American Restaurant at Mack avenue and Oxford road, is ready to open. George is the owner.

Just a year ago the NEWS carried a story about the start of construction on the new restaurant. The head said "Steam the first time to the public on Saturday, December 7, 1946. Such is the business of construction in this year of grace.

The new restaurant is expected to be a great addition to the Pointe. George's reputation as a restaurateur is well established. He started out to be an architect, but his love of the culinary art, and the love of his clients for his fine creations, won out. George's original Early American restaurant was started on Mack avenue in 1941.

There are more of us who set out to go places than to get somewhere.

CAR CRASHES POLE

Jere J. Callahan, 20 Lochmoor road, drove his Lincoln Zephyr into a light-pole in front of 1130 Lochmoor and damaged the pole on November 29. He left the scene of the accident and neglected to report it, according to Farms police. He will come before the court December 10.

Council Refuses to Swallow Mickey's Hamburger Bill

Gordon S. (Mickey) Cochrane, of Tiger fame, who lives at 440 University place, presented a bill of expenses amounting to $119.68 to the City Council Dec. 2, growing out of the flooding of his basement on October 24-25 this year.

He claimed the flooding was caused by the blocking up of one of the City's own sewer lines and said he had been put to personal expense to get the water out of his basement. Julius Stork, the City's Highway and Sewer superintendent, claimed the city's men also worked on the job and got things cleared within a few hours.

Among the expenses Mr. Cochrane itemized were 14 hamburgers for the men working. Whether or not it was because the City Fathers considered this expensive fare or because they felt the City's own employees had done all that was reasonably possible, the claim was denied.

Dec. 6 Proclaimed Sister Kenny Day

By statewide proclamation of Gov. Harry F. Kelly, Dec. 6 is "Sister Kenny Day" in Michigan. Thousands of volunteers who are aiding in the famed Australian nurse's Third Annual Appeal for funds with which to spread education in her authentic methods of treating the dread scourge of infantile paralysis are lending every effort to reach the $250,000 quota assigned to Michigan before the three week national drive for $2,000,000 ends.

The man out for his own ends winds up at a dead end.

All 'Teen-Agers Invited To Pre-Christmas Dance

A pre-Christmas dance for 'teen-agers of the Pointe and that section of Detroit bordering on the Pointe, has been arranged by a group long interested in providing wholesome, healthy entertainment for the young of this section.

The dance will be held on Saturday on the second floor of the Grosse Pointe Motors building at East Jefferson and Ashland. Music will be furnished by records played over a public address system and provided by the Miller music store.

Rudy Rahn, who has planned many events for the juveniles, is the moving spirit in this one. He has interested the police of the McClellan Station and of the Pointe in the gathering. He will be assisted by Pat Higgins, 17-year-old who has helped him with previous events. Pat will be master of ceremonies.

The dance is expected to be a great gathering of students of Grosse Pointe, St. Ambrose, St. Paul, St. Martin's and Pierce Junior High School students. All 'teen agers of the area are invited. There will be no admission charge.

Elaine Arndt will have a group of students from her school at the dance on hand to provide special entertainment. The event will start at 7 p. m. and last to 11 or 11:30 p. m. A number of valuable door prizes will be awarded.

Cupid's Target For Tossed Brick

Gus Constant, of the Cupid's restaurant at Harvard and Mack has been having more trouble with one of his more violent neighbors.

At 3:12 o'clock on the morning of Thanksgiving Day someone threw a brick through one of his plate glass windows. The restaurant was closed at the time and no one was about except two men who were cleaning up.

They reported they were unable to even see who threw the brick. The brick was on the floor of the restaurant, but this was a poor means of identification of the thrower.

It's not giving men their heads that helps them but giving them four hearts.

CAROL GRYLLES joined the ranks of the 15 year olds Sunday, and to mark it several girls gathered in her home Saturday evening for games and gossip. Turkey sandwiches and cokes were served to Gail Wright, Doris Diesing, Norma Neeb, Mary Jean Sauer and Marianne Trombley.

There was a get-together in PEGGY TERRY'S house Friday! Joan Kirkland, Carolyn Robinson, Bev Bolin, Carol Chadwick, Paul Grubbs, Don Savage, Kirk Walsh, John Rummel, Roy Linevrebber and Dave Bogie sipped cokes, played bridge and danced throughout the evening.

'Nother holiday cokes party was that of JOAN and JANE GEHLERT on Wednesday, and still another was at BARB ALLEN'S on Friday. The same group which made up both of these sessions included Bob Cudlip, Bill Bokram, Bob Smith, Kay Curtis, Ed Baker, Sally Baker, Bill Cole, Dot Donnelly, Grubby Dickson, Mary Whitehead, Harry Downer, Barb Bloom and Tom Joyce.

A stag party at BOB CUDLIP'S Thursday offered a grand opportunity for the fellows to talk over old times and tell about school. Bill Cole was there hailing from Kenyon, Pete Prince told tales of Brown University in Rhode Island, Bill Bokram's enthusiasm was wrapped up in Rensselaer. Others were Grubby Dickson, Tom Joyce, Bob Fisher and Warren Packard.

A gay time was had by the dancers at the COUNTRY CLUB Saturday. Carolyn Robinson was there with Paul Friese, Shirley Jerome with Benny Paddock, Carol MacPherson with Bill Wood, Marilyn Smith was there with Andy Creamer, Joan Gehlert with Grubby Dickson, Annie Wedthoff was with Leigh Middle-ditch, Janie Gehlert with Bill Bokram, Gertie Ford with Doug Donald, Barbara Allen with Bob Smith, Libby Powell with Frank Sheldon, Sally Baker with Bob Cudlip, Barb Bloom was with Tom Joyce, Peggy Duffy with Bob Fox, Sally Grylls was there with Ed Shaub, Sara Stephenson was there with Clark Stephenson and Mary Whitehead was with Harry Downer.

Red and white streamers and huge turkeys decorated the basement of Christ church for the CHI RHO CAPER Wednesday. To name a few of the couples there were Meeky VanZanen and Bob Bolo, Mary Waterfall and Tony Stever, Carol Grylls and Vince Schoeck, Jean Webb and Chubs Lawler, Pat Martin and Ted Laitner, Katie James and Bob Bassett, Joan Trefry and Rich O'Connell, Sally Andrus and Mike Foster, Barb Bauman and Bill Pierce, Jan Skillman and Dick Coyle and Dolly Fisher and Paul Terbruggen. The stag line included Dick Phillips, Bob Gaul, Don Osborn, Elton Bamford, Pepsi and Hill Pierce, John Cobane, Burt Spurrier and Dick Heidrick. Do-nuts were the refreshments.

The Morality of Gambling

Our spiritual and moral leaders on both the Catholic and Protestant sides of the Christian household are momentarily at loggerheads over no weightier issue than gambling. Bishop John King Mussio, of the Catholic Diocese of Steubenville, Ohio, in a pastoral letter to his people said he found nothing inherently wrong in gambling. "Gambling," he said, "considered in itself is not wrong or sinful" and apart from abuse, to play games of skill or even of pure chance for a stake is not immoral.

The Protestant clergy of Detroit have flown to arms against the Bishop. Practically all of them, as quoted in the daily press, condemn gambling in toto. To the average layman, unfamiliar with the dogmatic treatment of so-called moral questions, it would seem that there is a measure of truth on both sides of the current controversy. We have no means of knowing to what length Bishop Mussio held forth on the subject, nor whether he took pains to differentiate in the effects and end of gambling on the individual practitioner, but it would seem that this naked question of right or wrong depends for its correct answer wholly on the facts involved in each case to be judged.

For the person who backs his judgment, or his luck, on any issue with a stake which is not serious for either side it is difficult to ascribe any moral offense. The man who sits in a game of cards all night and wins or loses sums of money entirely beyond his means while wife waits at home for shoes for the baby is both a fool and a moral offender.

The moral question of gambling is wholly apart from the form it takes. For one person it may be merely an edge to sport, the indulgence in which works harm to no one. For another it may involve deprivation for his family or be the highway to dishonesty and crime.

Administrator MacArthur

The news currently published of the remarkable success of the American administration in Japan will be heartening to the people of this country.

It is a welcome negation to the oft-repeated stories of our failures in this capacity. The submissiveness and even cheerfulness of the Japanese people to the rule which General MacArthur has imposed on them is one of the most dramatic stories that has ever come out of the oldest continent.

The reports from the Island Empire apparently deny the old legend about the East and West, the twain that shall never meet. It is entirely too early to assume that our experience in Japan is assured the happy ending that the progress of matters up to date might indicate. MacArthur seems to have been the man the hour called for even as was Eisenhower in Europe.

It is unfortunate that our great soldier and administrator over there is so advanced in years. All agree that our stay there may have to run for many years and when his passing makes necessary the selection of another man for the job our government will be confronted with a major appointment problem.

It is hoped that by that time a successor of sufficient ability among his own assistants there will have been trained for the task he has carried through thus far so successfully. And no man, since this country was founded, has so ably advanced American prestige and respect throughout the whole world field.

The Company Store

Charges of oppression of the miners in the operation of the Company stores is one of the associated issues in the present coal strike. This brings into light an issue more familiar to persons who live in the coal fields than to those who are ignorant of the mercantile practices obtaining there.

The practice of maintaining stores by the operating companies, carrying general lines of merchandise, used to be almost universal in both the hard and soft coal fields. Later it has grown into disuse, particularly in the anthracite fields. Where a coal operation is carried on in some remote rural area often the company store is the only available source for food, clothing and general drygoods. This was especially true before the automobile came.

Some of these stores marked their merchandise at too high prices. Others demanded only a safe profit. They sold practically all of their goods on credit and this was a satisfactory practice where their customers were their own employees and monthly bills were paid by withholding from the men's pay. Moreover, it was no unusual circumstance for coal companies to extend credit to their employees while the men were on strike against the very company operating the store. By and large they sold at a fair price. The honest purpose of the company store was to provide a necessary convenience to its own employees.

It is quite possible that the complaint of the soft coal miners in the present instance may be partly justified but to condemn offhand the whole practice of the "company store" as an evil per se, is wide of the truth. The men were always at liberty to trade elsewhere if they desired, but the advantage of credit was a lure which kept many of them close to their own store.

Gas for All

The residents of the Detroit area will be pleased with the word that the Federal Power Commission has given permission for the building of another natural gas pipe line that will make the resources of the Southwestern part of the country available to them.

Not only has there been a dearth of gas for household purposes but the great metal working industry of this region which is coming to call more and more for gas in its processes will be served. Thousands of would-be customers have had to be denied gas for house heating because of the limited supply. These can now look forward to an ample supply within the reasonably near future.

It is said that by Jan. 1, 1952, the volume of gas available to this area will be three times as large as the total retail sales of gas by the Michigan Consolidated Gas company in 1945.

Grosse-Exaggerations

A. PRYOR

"Her washing ended with the day,
Yet lived she at its close,
And passed the long, long night away
In darning ragged hose,
But when the sun in all its state
Illumed the Eastern skies,
She passed about the kitchen grate
And went to making pies."
(Phoebe Cary)

The following highly amusing letter was written by a ten year old boy, whose mother recently gave birth to another son. He now has two brothers and one sister named Linda. The letter (copied by his grandmother before he sealed it), is written to a boy friend of his. The reference to his sister 'sleeping out' has to do with her being sent to a neighbor's house for a few nights to uncomplicate things...

"Dear Danny:
Guess what? Mother went to the hospital to have a baby. It was a five pound boy. Brother, am I glad it was a boy instead of a girl. With one girl around the house now the place is half cluttered up with dolls... so just guess what it would be with TWO.

"How are you and your two sisters getting along? Linda is 6 years old now and gets to go out almost every night and sleep with someone. The only trouble is that I can't ever go out. Our grandmother just came last Saturday on the 7:45 train. I hope she stays for Thanksgiving. Write me soon. Your old pal, Glenn."

In a current catalogue of books... suggestions for Christmas gifts, we came upon Emily Post's new book of Etiquette. Wonder how many people would have nerve enough to give THAT one to a friend for Christmas? We'll never forget her first book. It was filled with so many rib-tickling passages that we copied some of them down in our little emergency book. For instance, the paragraph on table manners... tells us this: "One is seated correctly at the table when the figure is erect but not rigid; feet firmly on the floor (??), elbows off the table; left hand in lap when not engaged. The chair should not be too near or too far from the table; a good distance is about 8 inches from the chest." Now we ASK you! Here's a tip from Pryor on that last deal. If you haven't a tape measure in your pocket or stuffed down the front of your frock, just measure (while no one is looking of course), about two fork lengths and that should put you approximately the required 8 inches away from your vitals.

Another paragraph deals with what are known as "finger foods"... i.e. them that can be eaten with your fingers. You will be glad to know that radishes, celery and olives are included in the list. Bananas, however, must be eaten with a fork! After being peeled, naturally. Asparagus, Miss Post tells us, is NOT a finger food. She'd better not tell our grandpop that. We are also advised in this worldly tome, that it is improper to leave your spoon in the cup!

In the chapter on "Dances and Balls" (which we sincerely hope all the young fry will read), we read this: "If a girl's next dance is promised, she DOES NOT GO TO SEEK HER PARTNER, but waits until he comes to claim her." Oh pshaw! That spoils all the element of the chase. To go on: "Cutting in is rude, but apparently accepted by society. When a young man cuts in, the girl may accept him at once or she may say, 'The next time we pass here.'" (Get me OUT of here.)

A local woman whose face is still red, has decided to keep her opinions to herself in the future. Recently she received in the mail, a plea for a contribution to a well-known and most worthy humanitarian cause. Enclosed in the letter was an expensive looking certificate, rather large and handsomely printed. The woman was incensed over the idea of the organization spending money for such trivia... then too, the paper shortage got her.

Along with the 'fat' check, which she sent immediately, she also wrote a scathing letter to the head of the organization and returned the certificate with accompanying snide remarks. She felt REAL satisfied with herself for a civic duty well performed... until a week or so later when she found that her check to the charity had bounced!

There's another red-faced creature in our midst this week. This woman, who for many moons has been lurking on the fringes of Sassiety, was flattered to pieces when she was asked recently to address 500 envelopes for yet another Charity. The woman who asked her to do this 'chawming' job is WAY UP THERE in the social strata, so the little woman fell all over herself in pleasant confusion.

She called for the list of names (which was handed to her at the door by the butler), and tore home to get to work. She had a fierce time reading the names on the list, so the job took her twice as long as it should have. When she'd finished, she telephoned Madam Bigwig and wanting to explain WHY it took so long to address the envelopes, she said, "the handwriting on that list was SO dreadful, I could hardly read it. I wonder if you know whose it is?" Yes, the woman knew. "It's MINE," she squelched.

Talley's Rant

by Helen Talley

Went to the opening of INA CLAIRE'S new show, FATAL WEAKNESS. I went with an out-of-town man who had never been to a first night. He was in a VERITABLE TWIT. We rushed through our food at 21 because, "the papers say the curtain will positively go up at 8. I want to be there to see the CELEBRITIES. We must definitely arrive by 7:45." Trying hard not to slit his throat, I wiped the chocolate sauce from my lipstick and allowed myself to be hurried into a cab. He admonished the driver to "make the best time you can." Panting, we arrived on the dot.

I was glad for his sake that the pavement outside the theatre was jammed with goons, autograph pads in paws. I was sorry no one dove at his knees or tore the silk lapels of his dinner jacket. It was exactly what he expected. Flushed and happy, he pushed through them. We made our way inside. The ushers were there. A long time later the audience began to straggle in. No one hurried. The DONALD OENSLAGERS (he did the sets) came by—the RICHARD RODGERS, FANNIE HURST with the inevitable cala lily on her chest, BLANCHE YURKA, the CARL HOLMES. The curtain went up at 8:25. I thought the play was pretty middlin'. The reviewers thought so too. Besides that INA should take a strenuous go at bending and stretching—that's another middlin' that needs attention.

The fire department of NEW YORK has banned the use of CHRISTMAS TREES in department stores, hotels, restaurants and all places of public assembly except churches. We will have, though, that lovely line of gleaming trees straight down PARK AVENUE. The idea was started several years ago by private subscription to honor the men who were fighting and dying in the war. A desire to participate was aroused in the public heart, and now anyone who wishes may send a donation. To drive down PARK AVENUE on a snowy December night with the trees gleaming softly through the falling flakes is a lovely experience.

Do you know that 5,000,000 babies were born during the war? Well it's true, and that rate is well above the average of the ten preceding years. My private opinion is—and it probably doesn't interest anybody but another elephant—anyway my opinion is that a lot of gismos were awfully copascetic. The toy industry is so excited that you would think they assisted at each and every accouchement. In the toy trade the squeak of a new baby is noted just as the Bible takes cognizance of the fall of a sparrow. It's pretty damn well important. And you know why? Because 5,000,000 babies have 10,000,000 crazy parents who run out and buy toys like mad. It all adds up in cold cash to 250,000,000 dollars.

The toy people, by the way, suggest you shop as early as you possibly can because altho there will be enough gimicks to go around, there won't be many of the wheel and rubber varieties. There will be mostly dolls, plastic toys, paper things, children's books, stamped metal, and stuffed bits. The dolls are all personality kids this year. Some even come in sets—the crying baby, the one with permanently closed eyes to sleep with its little mistress, the naughty one with its tongue out and the babe with the sunny smile.

WALLY WINDSOR is all over the place. On Monday she was luncheoning at the PAVILION with BRENDA PERRY, in a black suit and the usual off the face little hat—this time faced in blue satin. Her eyes are blue and she looked very pretty. She had on diamond earrings and two choker strings of pearls. The next day she was there again, this time in a rosy wool suit with black blouse and hat—different diamond earrings, no pearls, and a huge diamond clip. At the opera, she wore her magnificent set of rubies. She told a friend of mine that at the time of the robbery in London, her finest things were in a safe in town. Guess she had her last year's diamonds and just some old country costume bits and pieces. She told BRENDA that they would be going to PALM BEACH to visit. "Will you take a house," said BRENDA. "God, no," said the duchess. "I want a rest." So you see, kids, don't be envious—it's very tiring being a duchess.

Coal Strike

its bins in about ten days. The Woods municipal building has only three weeks' supply ahead after which they must look abroad. Grosse Pointe Shores' large municipal building is the only one in the Pointe that is not worrying. It uses oil.

There is no means of knowing what would be the average duration of home heating for those who use coal, if dependent on their supply on hand. Many homes here use oil and these are now indulging in mutual felicitations. There are also many homes which have capacity for a year's coal supply and most of these are resting easily.

At a special meeting of the Board of Education on November 25, after an analysis of the coal situation in the schools, the superintendent was authorized to close all evening and adult activities in coal burning buildings effective December 2. Exceptions to this were made for such activities as could be transferred to Pierce Junior High School or Maize Elementary School, both of which are oil burning buildings.

In addition the superintendent was asked to have heat turned down in coal-burning buildings immediately at the close of regular school sessions. This may result in curtailment of some student extra curricular and after-school activities which cannot survive the reduction of heat that would result.

In the main most of the student activities which involve physical activity, such as athletic events and practice and even dances can continue if the weather does not become too severe. All meetings scheduled for the evening in all elementary schools except Maize, such as P. T. A., Christmas programs, concerts, will either be transferred to the afternoon during the regular school day or cancelled. Each school will make its own arrangements as to which shall be done.

All dances and parties scheduled for the high school will probably be transferred to Pierce Junior High. These will include the S. A. dance on December 7, Junior Prom on December 14 and New Year's Eve dance on December 21; basketball games with Pontiac on December 6 and Highland Park on December 13 and swimming meet with Fordson on December 20 which is held immediately after school is dismissed in the afternoon. The high school Christmas concert, scheduled for Dec. 18, will be held at Pierce Junior High.

Workers see too much misery—management too little.

Danger Ahead!

By FRED M. KOPP, R. Ph.

Frequent headaches, unexplained pain of any kind, a run-down feeling... any or all may be signs of more serious health upsets.

Do not neglect them, but consult your physician for an examination. Early treatment may well ward off long periods of illness. In any case, your physician is the only one qualified to diagnose and prescribe for your own case.

Pay strict attention to his orders, and if medicine is called for, be careful in your selection of a druggist to supply it.

SEYBURNS TO GIVE WATCH NIGHT PARTY

And here at home . . .

It's so nice to report that Mr. and Mrs. Wesson Seyburn's Watch Night party is to be revived again this month . . .

For the first time since even before Pearl Harbor . . . and that makes the Pointe feel the world is slipping back to delightful normalcy and even forget John Lewis for a split second . . .

At any rate the Seyburn's ball this December 31 will honor their four daughters who with their husbands will arrive to spend the Christmas season at home . . .

BALL WILL HONOR FOUR DAUGHTERS

And since December 30 marks the wedding anniversary of the Manuel Quintanas of Buenos Aires . . .

The ball will have a South American theme . . . and guests (we don't believe the invitations have been issued yet) will arrive in costume . . .

Besides the Quintanas . . . the Seyburn daughters and their husbands are Mr. and Mrs. Edward McIlvain Jr. of New York City . . . Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hart Jr. of Boston . . . and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Appelton Meyers of Highland Park, Ill.

MRS. DODGE SLOANE TO VISIT

Also coming for the Watch Night Party at the Seyburn's . . . will be Mrs. Seyburn's sister . . . Mrs. Dodge Sloane of New York.

Soon after the first of the year . . . Mrs. Seyburn will leave to spend the Winter in Palm Beach . . .

SOCIAL HOLIDAYS FEATURE THE DEBS

This thought has nothing to do with the Seyburns' Watch Night Party . . .

But after talking with the mamas of the debs . . . we do get the impression . . .

That this Winter . . . the holiday festivities are strictly for the buds and their contemporaries . . .

Which sounds too sad for the general social picture . . .

The dances and dinners and luncheons remind us of what some folks always mumble about Christmas . . .

"For the young only" . . . (Don't believe it, Santa Claus!)

THE PRICE OF A POLITE BOW

We can only commiserate with parents who are bringing out their daughters this Winter of 1946-47 . . .

Their parties . . . and the gowns their daughters will wear . . . will cost them many, many times what they should . . .

For Detroit's very busy deb season this winter . . . the debutante herself will probably have to have at least 10 evening gowns . . .

Three of these must be "important" costumes . . . and will

Mary Susan Krentler Weds Mason Rumney

Ceremony in Christ Church Chapel Followed by Reception in Grosse Pointe Yacht Club; to Live at Fort Knox

One of the Pointe's most fashionable weddings took place last Friday afternoon at Christ Church chapel when Mary Susan Krentler and Lt. Mason P. Rumney, Jr. repeated their nuptial vows. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur D. Krentler, of the Whittier and Mason is the son of Mrs. Mason Pittman Rumney, of St. Clair avenue, and the late Mr. Rumney.

Rose point lace from her mother's wedding gown edged the square neckline of Mary's white satin wedding dress. The fitted bodice accented the full sweeping skirt which ended in a cathedral train. The fingertip veil with a back panel of rose point lace, was held in place by a small Mary Queen of Scots cap. Mary carried a bridal bouquet of white violets.

Diane Stinchfield, who came from Sarah Lawrence College to be Mary's maid of honor, was gown in violet blue velvet. Fashioned with long sleeves and a fitted bodice, the gown had a very full skirt, and with it Diane wore a small Mary Stuart hat of matching material. Her bouquet was made of American Beauty roses.

Peekie MacMahon and Lucie Nauman, as bridesmaids, were dressed exactly as the maid of honor.

Little Margo Kirn, cousin of the bride, was the flower girl. She wore a white marquisette dress, trimmed with a violet blue velvet sash.

Lt. James "Gigante," Mason's roommate at West Point, came from Fort Benning, Ga., to be the best man. Seating the guests were John Walter, Guy Conrath, Michael Murphy, Bernhard Stroh, Jr., and Charles H. Hull.

At the reception at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club, Mrs. Krentler greeted the wedding guests wearing a sapphire blue crepe gown with a matching hat. She wore white orchids.

For her son's wedding, Mrs. Rumney chose a gown with a silver gray lame bodice and a long black skirt. The tuchsia color of her hat was matched by the orchids she wore at her shoulder.

Following the reception the junior Rumneys left for Fort Knox where Mason is now stationed. For traveling the bride was wearing an Easter egg blue gabardine suit with a black wool hat and coat trimmed in beaver.

Out-of-town guests included the groom's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Guy E. Conrath, Jr., and their son, Bobby, who came from Bethesda, Md. Mary's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Kirn, and their daughter, Margo, came from their home in Bronxville, N. Y., for the wedding. The Kirns were hosts for the rehearsal dinner at the Country Club on Thanksgiving night.

Wedding to Unite Pointe Families

Guests who attended the open house given by Mr. and Mrs. J. Ward Hartke in their home on Whittier road last Sunday discovered the real purpose for the party on the dining room table. Two dresden cups under a wedding bell revealed the news of the engagement of the Hartke's daughter, Jeanne, to Arthur Powell, Jr.

The bride-elect attended the Convent of Sacred Heart in Lake Forest, Ill., and was graduated from Rosemont College in Philadelphia.

Her fiancé, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Powell, of McKinley road, attended Dennison University and Kenyon College. He is affiliated with Psi Epsilon. During the war he served as a pilot in the Air Transport Command.

The young couple are making plans for a spring wedding.

Parties Honor Mary McClure

Looking toward Saturday, Jan. 4, when Mary Keene McClure will become the bride of John Randolph Stearns, a number of Pointers are putting in their bids for parties to honor the young couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvan Macauley picked last Sunday afternoon for a cocktail party to honor Mary and John. Guests gathered in the Macauley home on Lake Shore road for the occasion.

A luncheon and recipe shower will be given today for Mary by Mrs. F. Janney Smith and her daughter, Virginia, in their home on Burns avenue. Next Tuesday Mrs. Fred Spenser will be hostess in her apartment for a luncheon and miscellaneous shower honoring the popular bride-elect.

Mary is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Roy Donaldson McClure of Iroquois.

MRS. LEE FOX (the former DOROTHY ZEDER) will remain on the West coast until after Jan. 1, at which time her husband, LT. FOX, USN, will leave the country for six months duty in China.

Many Eagerly Waiting For Boston Symphony

Famous Orchestra to Be Heard in Masonic Auditorium on Dec. 12 in First Detroit Appearance in Ten Years

In discussing the pleasure she is anticipating with the Detroit appearance of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, in Masonic Auditorium on Dec. 12, a local devotee of symphonic music remarked that she would like to send backstage to Conductor Serge Koussevitsky a cake with ten lighted candles—signifying the brightness he was bringing to her after a ten years' absence of his orchestra from Detroit. (It last appeared here Dec. 9, 1936.)

And judging from the conversations here and there within the last few days, the appearance here of Koussevitsky, musical leader of worldwide prestige, with an orchestra generally regarded as second to none, will be without doubt one of the glamorous events of the season.

The Boston orchestra opens the first of a series of symphony concerts at Masonic Auditorium—others to be the Philadelphia, New York Philharmonic and Chicago orchestras. The Minneapolis Symphony is on the regular Masonic course, to appear in January.

Included among those who have made reservations for box seats are Edwin Barbour, who has a party of six; Mrs. Julius Haass, the Forrest A. Heaths, Mrs. Richard P. Joy, the Herbert L. Lores, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Lundell, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard A. Koether, Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Goldie and Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Colidge.

Other Pointers who will attend are Dr. and Mrs. Fred T. Murphy,

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen T. Stockpole, the Stanley W. Muirheads, Mrs. John S. Newberry, John S. Newberry, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Julius C. Peter, Mrs. Jerome H. Remick, Mrs. Walter Scotten, Miss Christine Symington, Robert Tannahill, the John S. Sweeneys, Dr. and Mrs. Herbert C. Allison, and Dr. and Mrs. Leo Marie-meier.

The list continues with the Frederick S. Fords, Mr. and Mrs. Paul D. Gard, Dr. and Mrs. E. S. Hatch, Mr. and Mrs. John G. Garlinghouse, Mr. and Mrs. C. Edmund Delbos, Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Boos, Miss Katja Andry, the Raymond B. Baers, the L. E. Bauers, Mrs. Charles B. Davis, Miss Elinor L. Devlin, the Ralph Hummels, Mrs. John F. Keyes, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Klein.

Still others who will attend are Dr. and Mrs. Alfred H. Whitaker, Mrs. Philip K. Watson, the Leon A. Sweets, Miss Louise Rinsched, the Arthur B. Pyles and William H. Pierces, Mrs. R. Boyer Miller, Mrs. Ludwig A. Majneri and Mrs. Frank K. Moorhouse.

Yacht Club Plans Round of Galas

The Grosse Pointe Yacht Club is planning a round of gala parties for the coming holidays. Starting things off with a bang will be the Bowlers' Open House on Saturday, Dec. 14. Bowling's not the only sport the club is offering this winter. As soon as the ice becomes satisfactory for skating lights will be installed for night skating and music provided. We prophesy a busy season for the club.

Every Saturday evening in December there will be dinner and dancing to Jack Oakie's band. December 28 is College Night, an informal dance especially for the younger set. For that one night only Frank Beck's six piece band will play and Iryne Welsh will sing.

The program is under the special direction of a committee of prep-school and college students. Already a special dinner has been planned for College Night in honor of the 1946 swimming team and the sailing committee. Following this dinner the Aquatic Committee will award the year's trophies and the Sailing Committee will hold its annual election of officers and award its 1946 trophies.

Jolly old Santa Claus is planning to take a little time off from his North Pole workshop and appear at the children's Christmas Party Dec. 21. There'll be a huge Christmas tree and the gay marionette show, "Aladdin and His Wonderful Lamp". Rumor has it that Santa is planning to open his pack early and give a preview of the Christmas toys, and of course there'll be tons of ice cream and other goodies.

Mrs. Leonard A. Duval

Picture by Clinedinst. The former SHIRLEY MARIE KOEBEL, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Raymond H. Koebel of Windmill Pointe drive, was married November 30 in St. Ambrose Church to the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Duval of Cleveland, O., and the late Mr. Duval. The wedding breakfast and reception followed in the Lochmoor Club.

Mary Mateer's Engagement Told

Dr. and Mrs. John G. Mateer announced the engagement of their daughter, Mary Keay, to William B. M. Randall early this week.

The bride-elect, who recently returned to Boston after visiting with her parents in the Pointe, attended Grosse Pointe Country Day School and was graduated from Chatham Hall, Catham, Va. She attended Pine Manor Junior College and the School of Occupational Therapy in Boston, and is a member of Sigma Gamma and the Junior League.

Her fiance, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Blanchard Randall, Jr., of Baltimore, Md., was graduated from the Episcopal School, Va., and attended Bowdoin College in Maine. During the war he served with the USAAF.

Airielle Kuhn Hostess At 12th Birthday Party

Airielle Kuhn, of 28 McKinley place, celebrated her twelfth birthday with a party of 12 of her friends in her home on Saturday, November 30.

Those composing the birthday dozen were: Molly Chalmers, Cynthia Quayle, Gay Edgar, Katrina Kanzler, Karla Behr, Sally Schemm, Paula Sutton, Barbara Leonard, Jean Bahr, Emily Large, Betsy Wheat and Jeanne Whitaker.

Shirley Marie Koebel Weds Leonard Duval

Windmill Pointe Drive Girl Marries Cleveland in St. Ambrose Church; Reception Held in Lochmoor Club

At a morning ceremony on Saturday, Nov. 30, Shirley Marie Koebel, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Raymond H. Koebel, of Windmill Pointe drive, became the bride of Leonard A. Duval, son of Mrs. Anthony Duval, of Cleveland, in St. Ambrose Church. Father Van Antwerp officiated.

The bride's gown of candlelight satin was made with an illusion yoke, fitted bodice and full skirt. A tiny peplum accented with seed pearls trimmed the yoke and the lower edge of the bodice. Her illusion veil was held in place by a matching coronet of seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of orchids, white roses and stephanotis.

Betty Koebel came from Ann Arbor to be her sister's maid of honor. Her gown of aqua velvet was fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, fitted bodice and full skirt. She carried a bouquet of bronze chrysanthemums.

The bridesmaids, gowned as the maid of honor, were Mary Jane Bell, of Birmingham; Penny Burdane, of Cleveland; Phyllis Bueth and Shirley Bueth.

Cyrus Duval was his brother's best man. Seating the guests were Archie Damman, William Carlson, Art Renner and Frank Vander Haar.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Koebel chose a floor length

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Grosse Pointe Methodist Church will hold its final meeting of the calendar year on Wednesday, December 11. This will be a luncheon meeting at the home of Mrs. Wayne D. Weisel, 425 Cloverly road.

The luncheon will be followed by a business meeting under the direction, and a program led by the vice-president, Mrs. C. R. Wylie, 1253 Kensington road.

The newly elected president of the Woman's Society who will take charge after an installation of officers, is Mrs. Virgil L. Bailey, 315 Hillcrest road.

A new circle for mothers of young children and others who are unable to meet with the daytime group will begin meeting in January. The first organizational meeting of this group will be held at the home of Mrs. Virgil L. Walling 327 Kerby road.

Sisters' Engagements Told on Thanksgiving

At a Thanksgiving family dinner in their home on Devonshire road, Mr. and Mrs. John Prizola announced the engagement of their two daughters, Ninette and Angeline.

Ninette's fiance is Mr. Peter Tocco, of Detroit; and Angeline's fiance is Michael Polizzi, of Scranton, Pa.

Michigan Glee Club Concert Signal for Host of Parties

The Grosse Pointe University of Michigan Club is presenting a concert by the University of Michigan Men's Glee Club on Sunday, December 8 at 4 p. m. in the Pierce Auditorium. Following the concert there will be a reception for Michigan alumnae and their friends. After the reception motion pictures of the Michigan-Army and Michigan-Ohio football games will be shown.

Fifteen girl seniors at the Grosse Pointe High School will act as ushers at the concert and will then attend the honor dinner being given by the Grosse Pointe U. of M. Club for the 80 students in the Glee Club. The High School's 11-piece string ensemble will play during the reception.

Among the parties planned are a cocktail party preceding the concert and a dinner following it being given by Dr. and Mrs. John C. Porter. Dr. Porter is president of the Grosse Pointe Michigan Club. Guests at their home will include Mr. and Mrs. Harise Jr., Dr. and Mrs. Carl C. Rice, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Everts, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lightward, and Dr. and Mrs. Don Mitchell.

The Richard W. Larwins, the Wallace A. Temples, and the Dr. Edward Wishropps will also entertain at parties after the concert. Two family parties are being given. The Daniel H. Buells will attend the concert with their son and daughter and Mr. Buell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Buell. The William O'Neill Kronners, their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John T. Wheeler Jr., their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Kronner Jr., and their daughter, Patsy, will dine at the Yacht Club after the concert.

Mary Jane Schaeffer is bringing five classmates from Ann Arbor home with her for the concert, after which they will dine at the Schaffers.

PERSONAL APPEARANCES

Saw MRS. ALVAN MACAULEY very becomingly garbed in the new "navy blue for winter"—her felt hat and wool dress were identical in color and very smartly worn with a fur jacket. Her hats are always noteworthy and this was no exception.

MRS. RICHARD JOY wears a cute crownless turban of toupey brown wool as an accompaniment to a dress of the same lovely color. The turban has shoos sticking out in front, resembling a bug's antennae, but these are decorated with a few "sporklers" never seen on a bug!

MRS. WILLIAM McGIVERIN appears in one of the best looking costumes seen this fall. A suit, the skirt of which is Royal blue wool with a coat of wine suede, having a lapel of the material of the skirt. With this she wears a Cashmere sweater of the shade of the coat, and her tailored hat is of the Royal blue felt trimmed with a grosgrain ribbon of the wine color.

PILFERINGS

If you like dogs and boys—you will like this story, (we hope) by Linden Oliver. The story concerns a dog, "Randy" and a boy, Pete Nibley. Pete, grandson of former Senator Smoot of Utah, was given a field trial puppy about two years ago. He was then 16 years old, and he rode his bicycle from his home in Washington down to Alexandria to bring the little pointer home in the handle bar basket. This was "Randy," registered in the American Field Stud Book as "Runabout." While waiting for Randy to reach the proper age to run in the puppy stakes, Pete attended as many trials as school work would permit, more often than not hitch hiking his way to the out of the way places where trials were held: He listened, observed, asked questions, and absorbed much knowledge of the technicalities of field trial handling.

In the spring, Randy started on his career in field trials. From the first, he justified the great love and confidence of his youthful owner by winning in many of the puppy stakes, and later as a derby entry. Randy's first win was at National Capital Field Trials, held in Maryland. Though none too sure of himself astride a horse, Pete capably handled his puppy to a placement. That will long be remembered with pleasure by field trial men. When Pete was presented with his silver trophy, instead of proudly opening the package before the assembled crowd he dashed out of the clubhouse, with tears of happiness in his eyes, straight to where Randy was tied and opened his prize for only Randy to see.

Since then Randy has placed many times, but this fall when Pete entered West Point he sold Randy so that the dog might continue his career. Pete was not too happy about parting with Randy. He went to West Point but his heart went with Randy. He kept a scrap-book of clippings and pictures of Randy and avidly followed accounts of the dog's achievements.

Unknown to Pete, his family had bought back Randy and entered him in the All Age Stake of the bird dog field trials held at Manassas, Virginia recently. When Randy was acclaimed the winner, there was enthusiastic applause from all as this story of a boy and his dog was well known.

It must have been a wonderful surprise to Pete to learn that Randy belonged to him again, but no surprise that he had won this important stake.

Pointers of Interest

MRS. PAUL MAXON OF MORAN ROAD

By Olive H. Larned

As a child Mrs. Maxon loved to make things with her hands and so it was natural for her to foster this interest in her own child. They had tried modelling with child's plasticene with the usual results and it so intrigued Mrs. Maxon that she decided to experiment with clay.

Her experience, at this time, with art, consisted of a course in the History of Art at Dana Hall and this had not prepared her for any practical work with clay, hence her ignorance of the necessity for armatures.

Her first attempt at sculpturing resulted in the standing figure of a child, there being nothing to hold it up, it fell, but in so doing, it assumed a graceful pose, which appealed to Mrs. Maxon even more than the original pose, and she hastened to keep it in this shape by sticking in it hair-pins, sticks and whatever was at hand in an effort to retain this graceful figure. Her family were so enthusiastic about her first "masterpiece" that they felt that it should be preserved and so she took it to a pottery. She did not think to tell them about the artificial propping she had inserted and as a result the clay exploded and that was the end of her first sculpture.

Nothing daunted, Mrs. Maxon decided to try to duplicate the lost figure and this ended in a friend's desiring the result for her garden pool. This led to other orders and Mrs. Maxon decided that a course of study was in order. She took a course in anatomy and portrait heads. Later she studied glazing and learned to cast.

The Detroit Institute of Arts have an annual show in which about 20 sculptures are shown and at one of these shows, three of Mrs. Maxon's figures were accepted. These consisted of a portrait head of her niece, another of her nephew and figures of a woman and two children gazing out to sea called, "The Fisherman's Wife." This sculpture was sold.

After many requests for her work, Mrs. Maxon was prevailed upon to create small sculptured figures for many of the outstanding shops and this she did until the demand for repeat orders became too great. Mrs. Maxon says that she enjoyed creating new subjects and, that having to repeat designs became such tedious work that she decided to give up doing her work commercially.

She prefers doing children in action and most action figures are impossible to cast so that eliminated her interest in casting. She likes to work when the impulse strikes her and not under pressure and to devote her artistic endeavor to children and whimsical figures.

Mrs. Maxon is a member of the Grosse Pointe Artists Association and at one of their annual shows she entered a garden figure which was awarded the first prize. She won the second prize at another show with a ceramic figure of a woman with a baby. She has also had a number of figures accepted by the jury of the Artists Market and sold several at their annual garden party.

During the war Mrs. Maxon abandoned her work for the more demanding household chores and devoted her time to war activities. It is to be hoped that she will resume her sculpture as her figures are so original and bring enjoyment to all who view them.

As far as appearances go—it leaves the glorified girl with slightly pinkened ears. Some of these mighty mites look cute as can be in the sole—but most American girls can't come up to the minute qualification. Stuffed into a pair of gym bloomers and galloping off in pursuit of a lot of hot air makes them look—well—you know what I mean!

Sports are one of the main things that the fellows can swell their chests out about—it gives them a feeling of superiority—and rightfully so. We can't compare and they only look down on us when we try. So let's leave the rugged to the rugged—and go about our business serenely with all members of our anatomy where they started.

Shepard Barnes' Visit Chisholm Macdonalds

Mr. and Mrs. Chisholm Macdonald, 277 Mirabeau place, have had at their house-guests Mr. and Mrs. Shepard Barnes of Short Hills, New Jersey. Mr. and Mrs. Barnes visited the Macdonalds from November 30 until December 4.

Mrs. Barnes is a sister of Mr. Macdonald. The Macdonalds entertained in honor of their guests at a small dinner-party preceding the dance at the Country Club on November 30.

At that time also we were deeply engrossed in "Tom Mix," "Dick Tracy," "Orphan Annie," and so on. We felt the dire necessity to match the feats of these heroes and only by throwing ourselves in a final valiant effort to protect the goalpost could we place ourselves in any situation similar to that of the Lone Detective saving Messy Mary at the risk of his own life. Well, we don't listen to those now and therefore I see no reason for us to slam our lives down in protection of two pieces of wood and don't care if a little white ball passes through them or not.

CASUAL FRAGMENTS!

On Christopher street, near a reporter's home, an organ grinder delivering a symphony of pop tunes wouldn't have attracted my attention particularly if my eyes hadn't caught the sign boldly tacked to the back of the music box—"Nuts to Petrillo!"

Triple A Indorsements: Central Park from the sky—the view from the Penthouse Club on Central Park South—so woman-tically!... "Sooner or Later," a decca recording by Gertrude Niesen... One of the most unusual books in years—"Really the Blues," by Mezz Mezzrow and Bernard Wolfe, the history of offbeat, but in the rarest of literary styles... Also, Maurice Zolotov's "The Great Balsamo," a novel, but it might be the fictionalized account of Houdini's career—who knows?... Gay afternoons in the Hotel Dorset Cocktail Lounge.

Eugene O'Neill, finding it difficult to write because of his illness, now has a new type dictating machine perfected by the Navy, to which he will entrust his future creative work. On 5th avenue the other afternoon I saw Bob Osborne... a rare bird, a fellow who, like a wealthy textile manufacturer who operates as a hobby a place up at Haines Falls patronized by Washington biggies, where for a flat $30 a day, in addition to your lodgings, you get all the liquor, steaks, etc. you can consume... His theory is you may drink up more than $30 worth of scotch or champagne the first day or so—but you have to ease up—and then he begins to cash in.

When Mrs. Bugs Baer's nice little old-fashioned mother came to town recently Robert L. Ripley decided to have one of his justly famed Oriental dinners for her. Louise Baer was a bit perturbed about this and said to Bugs, "Poor ma. She's likely to be all upset about those chopsticks and how to handle them. Heavens, I've been trying to learn how to use them myself for years—and haven't managed the trick yet." But to the surprise of all concerned, Mrs. Baer's nice ma handled those chopsticks as if she'd been brought up in a mandarin's palace in old China.

"Look at her," exclaimed the pleased Louise. "Where in the world did she learn how to use them so expertly?" "That's easy," said Bugs. "She thinks she's knitting a sweater."

Bennett Cerf, the publishing man, was telling me last night that one magazine has been so hungry for anything from Sinclair Lewis that it urged him to dig something he may have forgotten out of his trunk. Lewis wrote back that he didn't have a scrap of manuscript left—the only thing he had left was his trunk. Came back the wire: "We'll buy it!"

Howard Hughes was explaining to Mike Romanoff recently that he was indirectly responsible for the round-the-world record he had established "some years ago." "Just mentioning your name did it," he explained. Romanoff, pleased, exclaimed: "My names? Really? Where?" "In Russia," said Hughes. "When I landed there and the soldiers surrounded me and my plane, I thought I'd establish some sort of bond among us—so through the intercom I said I knew Prince Mike Romanoff very well—very well indeed. The minute they heard your name they started for me—and I hopped right into that plane and whizzed off so fast it helped me break the speed record."

Holding an executive post in the fashion department of one of the top women's magazines of America is a beautiful young woman graduated from the ranks of models. Her name is Betty McLachlin. Recently, she approached a friend of mine connected with a motion picture company and asked whether he could suggest some good-looking young girl who would like to pose for some rather sexy illustrations. He forgot about it until a week later when he met her at a cocktail party. He apologized for his neglect but Betty said it was all right—one of the editors had suggested the very girl for the job. "I wish I could tell you who she is—you know her very well—but I promised I wouldn't," she said. An hour later, when the wet party was at its height, Miss McLachlin came over to him again. "That girl who posed for those sexy illustrations—know who it was? Me!"

A glimmer of Russia's conception of a "United" Germany is revealed by an anecdote a war correspondent has brought back. In Berlin, a high soviet official was being interviewed by a German newspaperman. "How do you like our country?" he inquired. The Red peered out of the window, saw the territory bristling with Russian soldiers and growled: "Just the way it is!"

Pointe Counter Points

by OLIVE H. LARNED

MEN... MEN... MEN... and MEN alone are invited to the following shops on December 16, from 7 to 9:30 p.m.

JACOBSON'S—here you will find those "things" you don't know much about, which are dear to all feminine hearts—"undies"—you may make your selection with, or without, personal help from an understanding "advisor" but free from the embarrassment of lady customers around you! Negligees (kimonos to you) so appealingly feminine, but designed to appeal to the masculine also. Robes that will keep one warm despite John L. Lewis—and bed jackets for the pets who are fortunate enough to break-fast in bed, or those who like to read in bed before "lights out." These may be frilly or tailored, depending upon your type of girl, but you may depend upon their making her look prettier in bed. You could never go wrong with one of the dressy blouses—such unusual prints—saw one with a carnival scene in gay colors and another with ballet figures, highlighted with sequins, sparingly used—this danced right into my heart. There are jewel cases and you'll find necklaces—bracelets—earrings—pearls and pins to fill them—these you'll never be stuck with! All this and much more may be found at JACOBSON'S.

KOPPS—this is the shop where Elizabeth Arden placed her bags, and every woman I know has a place for an Arden bag, if she can get her hands on one. Nothing adds the final touch of elegance as does an Arden handbag and they are made in lizard, suede and black calf. (How now, no brown cow?) A cocktail bag of black satin with a crystalized gold clasp would give the kind of lift every woman enjoys. These bags are from $29.50 and those who have been the proud possessors of an Elizabeth Arden bag say they are worth it. She also makes a stunning fitted travelling case in alligator grain of many colors with a removable cosmetic tray and ample space for "needities" for over night use. All these and much more may be found at KOPPS.

PECK AND PECK—a shop famous for its sportswear—sweaters, cashmeres imported from Scotland and "Braemar" which will fittingly cover any subject in a complimentary manner. If there's a skier on your list, you will find just the right outfit and accessories for her here, including "after ski" shoes to rest her tootsies—they'll be grateful to you for this thought of them. Leather shoulder bags and bells are necessities for the properly dressed sportswoman—you wouldn't want the little women in your life to be other than properly dressed, would you? This and much more may be gained from a visit to PECK AND PECK.

PEPPETS—the hunting season's over but here you will find General Electric blankets to wrap your big and little Baby Buntins in—you might even give one to yourself for Christmas. Women love to dress up and that includes their dining table—here you will find table cloths and luncheon sets that will dress the table prettier than it has ever been—lovely lingerie cases having sachets which will delicately scent their contents for a long, long time and handkerchief cases to match—they have what it takes to fill these too—imported handkerchiefs from Belgium with Binche and rose point lace (these haven't been available since before the war) they have the look of royalty, and that's what you want for your queen, isn't it? There are beautifully embroidered handkerchiefs, white and pastel colors and initialed "smezzers" for both ladies and gentlemen, so that includes you—these and much more will be found at PEPPETS.

PONGRACZ JEWELERS—want you to know that they are having an "open house" for the men—but while you're there I suggest that you look at the Community plate silver ware, which will serve the ladies as well as the men. You might, without too much difficulty, discover which pattern the lady of the house prefers—I'm sure that she will be delighted to help you make this discovery and yet keep it a secret! The patterns are "Lady Hamilton," "Milady" and "Coronation." That ought not to confuse you but if it does, they will straighten you out and show you much more at PONGRACZ JEWELERS.

PROPER'S—you know what "first-nighters" are, but do you know what "one and two nighters" are? For those not in the know, allow me to tell you that they are travel cases of luxurious saddle leather, made in California and priced at $40—$50—$60. They will hold everything essential for a "one or two night" trip and their smart looks will show the good taste of their owner—he'd be given credit anywhere when seen with one of these bags. You will find all kinds of leather goods and much more at PROPER'S.

RYON'S—here may be found something for your family to get their feet into—and how they will love to get them into the cozy warm boudoir slippers made of lamb's wool. For negligee wear there are nylon mules, (these are standbys every woman needs) which may be tinted to match the lovely colors found in these costumes. A woman wants to look well from head to toe and if you start at the toe you will find these and much more at RYON'S.

YORK JEWELERS—here you will find something to "watch" over your loved ones—with a heart of pure gold—white, yellow or rose gold. These watches are from $59.50. Now if you want to add some sparkle to your best girl's life you can do it with a diamond watch for $67.50—there's no better way of having "time on her hands". You should see the dresser sets, three to ten piece sets, some are sterling silver and others have a sterling base and are gold plated—the large sets include two picture frames and a perfume bottle. There are stunning cigarette cases and compacts combined from $10—these are for her when she wants to powder her nose. All this and much more will you find at YORK JEWELERS.

GIRLS—GIRLS—GIRLS—tell your MEN where to find what you want and be sure to send them to these shops on December 16 between 7 and 9:30.

Holiday Bride

MRS. DONALD MCKENZIE

At a Thanksgiving morning ceremony at St. Clare of Montefalco Church, Barbara Marie Graf became the bride of Donald E. McKenzie, of Kansas City, Mo.

The bride, the daughter of Mrs. Aileen Brandimore Graf, of Bishop road, and Vincent John Graf of Agnes avenue, wore a grey gabardine suit with wine accessories, and carried orchids and chrysanthemums.

Her attendant, Mrs. Albert Dell, of Ferndale, wore a grey gabardine suit with brown accessories and carried bronze chrysanthemums.

Mr. Albert Dell was the bridegroom's best man.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was held in the Whittier. The reception was in the bride's home on Bishop road. Mrs. Graf received the guests wearing a black faille suit and a small white flowered hat.

The bridegroom, who served four years as a lieutenant in the Army Air Corps, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd T. McKenzie, of Hebron, Neb.

Following the reception, the young couple left for Kansas City, where they will make their home.

League of Women Voters Sponsoring Discussions

The first of a series of Study and Discussion Groups in the 14th Congressional District, sponsored by the League of Women Voters, will be held in the home of Mrs. George M. Burgess, 1778 Severn road, Grosse Pointe Woods, on Tuesday, December 10, at 8 p.m.

The topic to be discussed at this meeting will be "The United Nations On The Way."

No one can write a challenging book without leading a challenging life.

Elections Held By Navy League

The Detroit Women's Council of the Navy League held its annual meeting recently in the Naval Armory and results of the elections were as follows:

Mrs. Louis Braun, president; Mrs. Benjamin S. Warren, 1st vice-president; Mrs. James O. Murfin, 2nd vice-president; Mrs.

John H. Pringle, 3rd vice-president; Mrs. William Golden, recording secretary; Mrs. Thomas A. LaForest, treasurer; Mrs. George Akers, corresponding secretary.

Mrs. John S. Newberry was elected national delegate, with Mrs. Norton H. Pearl as her alternate.

ternate. Mrs. W. B. Bachman was named judge advocate and Mrs. E. L. Tyson was elected historian.

Directors include Mrs. H. Wellington Yates, Mrs. Walter O. Briggs, Mrs. Richard P. Joy, Mrs. Harry Culbertson, Mrs. Harry MacDonald, Mrs. Norman H. Amada, Mrs. W. E. Anderson, Jr., Mrs. Alex Axelsson, Mrs. A. J. DeNike, Mrs. Thomas

Party Planned By Review Club

The Detroit Review Club will hold its annual charity card party on Saturday, December 7, at 1:30 p. m. in the Women's City Club building. In addition to the Card Party, there will be a fashion show of furs and hats by Walton Pierce Company. Members will act as models.

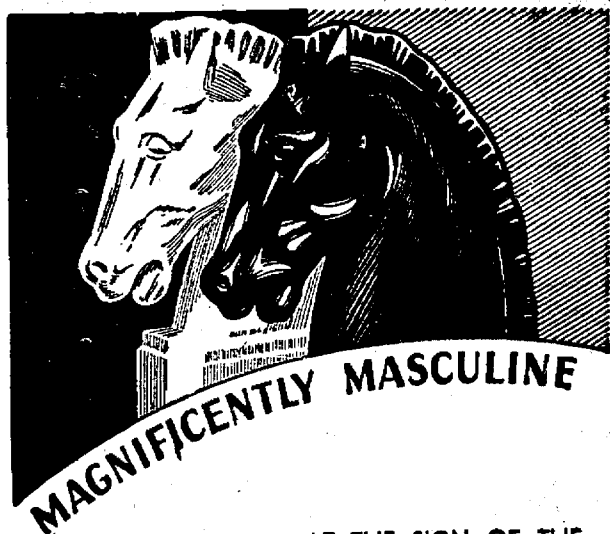

Chairman for the day, Mrs. Laurence J. Hetzell of Oxford road and her co-chairman, Mrs. Edwin S. Karrer of Merriweather road, are working very hard to make this party a success. Mrs. William C. Haag has reported many door prizes; Mrs. B. A. Bair has an imposing list of reservations; Mrs. Edwin S. Karrer and Mrs. Norman H. Carpenter are responsible for the fashion show.

Engagement Announced

Picture by Delph-Naviu

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Cote, of 1235 Bishop road, chose Thanksgiving eve to announce the engagement of their daughter, SUZANNE GRAY, to John Earl Brink, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl B. Brink, 742 Berkshire road. The wedding will take place in June. Sue and John are both graduates of Grosse Pointe High. Sue was also graduated from Edgewood Park College, Briarcliff Manor, New York. John served as a Captain in the Army Air Corps and is now attending the University of Michigan, where he is a member of Sigma Phi.

Methodists Plan Pot Luck Dinner

On Friday, Dec. 6, beginning at 6:30 p. m., the Grosse Pointe Methodist church will hold a church family pot luck dinner and open board meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee S. Walker, 865 Bedford road.

This occasion is for the entire families of all the members and friends of the Grosse Pointe Methodist church. Mr. Gordon Bugbee, 1008 Kensington Road, will show movies to the children during the open board meeting which will follow the Pot Luck dinner.

Mrs. Dan M. Guy, 420 Rivard Boulevard, is in charge of arrangements for the pot-luck and Mrs. Lee S. Walker, 865 Bedford Road is hostess.

Mary Elizabeth McCallum Marries Gerald S. Fouchey

Mary Elizabeth McCallum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCallum, 1065 Maryland avenue, was married Saturday, Nov. 30, in St. Rose church to Gerald S. Fouchey, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Fouchey, 680 St. Jean.

Both Mary Elizabeth and Gerald were graduated from St. Rose High School. Mary Elizabeth attended Marygrove College. Gerald served as a private first class in the United States Army.

A reception was held Saturday evening in the home of the bride's parents for 200 friends and relatives.

Alyce Rinz Weds Harold Chagot

Wearing the traditional bridal white satin, Alyce Rinz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Rinz, of E. Outer drive, became the bride of Harold M. Chagot at a ceremony at the Blessed Sacrament Cathedral on Saturday morning, Nov. 30.

The bride's gown was made with an inset yoke of illusion net, long sleeves, and a full skirt which ended in a train. Her short veil was caught in place by white ostrich plumes, and she carried white orchids.

As the maid of honor, Alyce's sister, Shirley, wore a fuchsia crepe gown, fashioned with a front drapery which swirled into a bustle at the back of the skirt. Her hat of a matching color was made in an off-the-face fashion caught under the chin with veiling. She carried tinted mums in a colonial bouquet.

The bridesmaids, Mrs. Edward Bien, Mrs. Clem Skoniel and Genevieve Drogasche, were dressed in royal blue gowns and hats, fashioned exactly as the maid of honor's.

The flower girl, little Loree Mollow, was dressed in a floor length dress of orchid tulle made with a bouffant skirt. She wore an off-the-face hat and carried a colonial bouquet.

Clem Chagot was his brother's best man. Seating the guests were another brother, Michael Chagot, Nick Cavanaro and Bob Cahill.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Rinz chose a fuchsia crepe gown and wore matching plumes in her hair.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Chagot, chose an American Beauty crepe gown and a matching satin hat trimmed with American Beauty plumes.

Following the ceremony the wedding breakfast was held at the bride's parent's home.

A short business meeting will precede the musicale, beginning at 1 p. m.

Church Alliance Plans Yule Tea

The Women's Alliance of the Grosse Pointe Unitarian church is holding its Christmas meeting on Tuesday, Dec. 10, at the Church House. Hostesses for the tea will be Mrs. William Thompson, chairman; and her assistants Mrs. A. DeValenzuela, Mrs. John Flancher, Mrs. Charles A. Simon, and Mrs. Lot Hamlin.

Miss Jean Taylor, of the Grosse Pointe Public Library, will give Christmas readings, and Mrs. Merrill O. Bates will read Christmas poems.

The musical program will be under the direction of Mrs. William Bradshaw. Mrs. E. D. Prato-poloist will sing Christmas songs, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Richard Gevathy.

Neither holding out nor giving in is the answer to deadlock. It's moving ahead—together.

Meder's Hand Seen In City's Move to Change Zoning Law

Attorney's Opposition to Apartment Houses Believed Behind Lightning-like Action Taken by Council Members

An ordinance providing for an amendment to the City of Grosse Pointe zoning ordinance was brought from under cover and approved, subject to a public hearing on Jan. 20, with surprising alacrity at the City Council meeting Monday night, Dec. 2.

The ease with which it passed and the complete lack of discussion indicated that its provisions were understood down to the last detail by those in the know. The ordinance provides for the conversion of Kercheval place, a one block street south of Kercheval and between Notre Dame and Cadieux, from a Zone "C" area into a Zone "B" area. This means that no apartment house could be built in that section. The type of multiple dwelling houses known as terraces could be built.

Some time ago Dr. Nelson, a physician associated with him, expressed a desire to erect a building on the southeast corner of Cadieux and Kercheval place, which they would use as a medical clinic and professional quarters.

Reports say that the proposed change in zone classification revolves around a property on the southeast corner of C dieux and Kercheval place. This lot is 128 x 153 and belongs to E. Livvyd Ecclestone, who is an extensive owner of real estate in the City of Grosse Pointe. He acquired it about two years ago and it is said to be the only remaining site in Grosse Pointe City where an apartment house could be built with residential street frontage.

Attorney Albert E. Meder, the Attorney for Grosse Pointe City, has expressed himself as strongly opposed to the erection of apartment houses in the City, even going so far as to say that it is necessary to keep them out he would have the zoning laws changed.

The change to be effected by this ordinance appears to be an implementation of the attorney's threat.

The public hearing on the ordinance will bring forth a flood of opinion not heretofore aired on the matter.

Practice of Renting Garage Apartments Rapped by City

J. L. Dron, of 380 Neff road, is fitted up living quarters on the property in which four families live. The quarters had always housed an extra family under the previous owners. He now has permission of the City Council to let it stand as a four family establishment.

The request was denied and led to a lengthy discussion about many properties in the City where quarters originally intended for servants had later been converted into renting properties occupied by individuals or families not remotely connected with the service of the main property. This is in violation of the restrictions which provide in certain sections that such garages, or similar auxiliaries to the main property can only be occuplied by the servants or caretakers of the owners of the main property.

It was revealed that this practice has already grown to such proportions that it has become a major problem. No general course of action was agreed upon but there was promise of further discussion which should at least result in putting the brakes on any further extension of the practice.

FIRE IN FORD HOME

The Walter Buhl Ford home, 39 Dyar Lane, was the scene of a fire December 1. Damages were estimated at $200.00. The fire was between the wall over the fire-place and caused by a defective chimney.

Cub Scouts Do Their Good Deed

The Cub Scouts of Den 4, Pack 156 of Christ Church, have been very busy these past weeks as Santa's helpers. The boys have made about 150 lead soldiers for the Children's Hospital at Northville. The rest of the pack have been busy repairing toys for the same good cause. The Reverend Yeoman, assisted by one of two cubs will deliver them the day before Christmas. Left to right are—Roger Harden, Kurt Ewend, David Balfour, Jerry Harden and Bill Cassel. Standing are Mrs. Harold Harden, den mother, and James LaBroski.

Poultry Market Expansion Vetoed

Sandler Brothers poultry establishment at 17624 Mack avenue came in for a deal of discussion at the City Council meeting in December.

The question arose in the request of the owners to make an extension to their plant. The City has recently passed a no-slaughter-house ordinance and the question was whether or not this was in violation of the City's brand new law. The answer to date for the meat processor is no soap.

The poultry killers have been operating there for several months. With the knowledge that this property was about to be cut up by the Mack avenue widening project the City authorities have taken it for granted this was one of those things which would settle itself.

Now the owners have discovered they can even extend their business on the remaining land and want an official blessing.

Begin to compromise and you soon begin to criticize.

St. Paul Forms Debating Team

Several notices have preceded in St. Paul News announcing the organization and plans of the newly formed debating team. Now at long last the team will make its initial appearance in an inter-team debate the 2nd or 3rd week in December.

The question to be debated is, resolved: The U. S. should cooperate in establishing and maintaining an international police force.

The members of the team defending the affirmative are: Nancy Schumacher, Robert McBride, and Donald Simpson. Defending the negative are: Rosemary Wurzel, Joan Krausemann and Ted Vernier.

Sister M. Winnefred, director of the debating department is busy preparing her proteges for the coming event. This will be the first in a series of two debates. The second is on the question of socialized medicine and will take place in January or February with the Dominican High School debating team.

Find Ladies Bag On Car's Bumper

Gerald McCarty, of 1434 York-shire road, on returning from a trip down to the Michigan Central station Thanksgiving, had come home about 11:30 o'clock, and after he got his car in his garage he discovered a ladies bag containing a purse resting on the front bumper of the car. How it got there was a mystery, but presumably it had been laid their momentarily by mistake by the owner.

It was later identified as belonging to a Mrs. Andrew Konedo of 874 Calvert, Detroit.

School Wins Safety Award

Trombly Students and Teachers Given Cup by Automobile Club of Michigan

Trombly school was cited for its outstanding traffic safety education program during the 1945-46 school year when the traffic and safety division of Automobile Club of Michigan presented it with the Traveling Safety Cup award on Monday, December 2.

Presentation of the award was made by Bayard A. Clark, Automobile Club safety patrol supervisor, to Mrs. E. J. Cowe, principal. The cup, as its name implies, is not a permanent award. It remains in possession of the following school year.

Praising Trombly school for its well-balanced safety education program, Ernest P. Davis, director of the Automobile Club's safety and traffic division, in a written message, singled out the teachers of Trombly for special accolade.

"Michigan parents and auto drivers can be thankful that so many teachers are participating so fully in the traffic safety education of the state's children," he stated.

"This school patrol work directed toward making children realize the importance of proper safety habits is a vital factor in preventing the toll of deaths and injuries caused by traffic," Davis added.

Records compiled by Michigan State police on traffic deaths of school children from 1936 through the present date show a continuing decrease in such tragedies. That child traffic deaths have been more than cut in half in the last 10 years can be attributed in no small measure to the efforts of the teachers and the Safety Patrols, Davis said.

Some people make fears their best friends.

Labor Leader Addresses Grosse Pointe Rotarians

The Grosse Pointe Rotary Club was favored with an address at its meeting on December 2 by W. T. Grant, a former president of Ford Local No. 600, UAW.

Mr. Grant, who has had a long experience in both the union activity and the practical manufacturing work of automobile workers, was born in England. He has been with the Ford company since 1922. He impressed his listeners deeply with his portrayal of the ambitions and natural human aspirations of the man who works on the assembly line.

The basic purpose of unionism, he said, is to obtain for the working man the best condition of general wellbeing possible to conform to the high standard of American life. A decent education for their children, wages which will permit them to live as Americans should, good homes and an upstanding and respected position in the community for its members are the underlying objectives of all honest union moves, he said.

He spoke informally of the disputes and wrangles that arise out of the operations of the production line, where the natural wish of the management is to meet an ever-rising rate of production and where the men insist on the obtaining of a "rhythm" which will not impose unfair labor on one part of the line and permit other parts to coast along under its capacity for production.

Mr. Grant's discussion of the general principal of a fair division of the profits and privileges between labor and management was interpreted by some of his listeners as an approach to state capitalism or a rough shod, "divide the wealth" program. In another part of his talk, however, where he said honest unionism was not envious of the success of capital and management and was willing that other men should become rich seemed to negative the more communistic tinges of his former remarks.

Mrs. Charles W. Weiler, Jr.

Picture by Deigh-Navin

The former VIRGINIA CATHERINE PURDY, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond J. Purdy of Three Mile drive, was married on November 23 in St. Catherine's Chapel of SS Peter and Paul Church, to the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Weiler of Martindale drive.

Ethel May O'Connor Bride In Thanksgiving Ceremony

Ethel May O'Connor and Moore T. Kelly repeated their marriage vows Thanksgiving day at St. Catherine's Church to the Rev. Father B. L. Conway, who came from New York to officiate at the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John O'Connor, of E. Grand boulevard and the bridegroom is the son of the Moore Kellys of University place. The bride wore a heavy white satin wedding gown fashioned with a fitted bodice, sweetheart neckline and a full skirt, which fell into a long train. A coronet of braided satin held her illusion veil in place, and she carried white orchids with her prayer book.

Mrs. Howard T. Springer, the bride's sister, was the matron of honor. She wore a royal blue crepe gown with a matching halo made of ostrich plumes, and she carried baby mums.

The attendants, Mrs. Orville T. Thill and Mrs. Robert Maniere, who are also sisters of the bride, wore gowns fashioned like that of the matron of honor in deep fuchsia crepe. They wore matching halos and carried pink mums.

Richard Wiggins was the best man. Seating the guests were Donald Hoskins, John Smith, Orville Thill, Arthur O'Connor, Robert Maniere and Donald Farakas.

Mrs. O'Connor chose a rose chiffon and lame gown for her daughter's wedding. With it she wore a brown velvet hat and a purple orchid. Mrs. Kelly was wearing a royal blue gown with a hat trimmed with ostrich tips. She also wore orchids.

Following a reception at the Detroit Athletic Club, the couple left for a wedding trip to Chicago. For traveling, the new Mrs. Kelly was wearing an aqua gabardine suit and matching velvet hat. She pinned her bridal orchids to her persian lamb coat. Upon their return the newlyweds will make their home in Dearborn.

USO Candy Made By Girl Scouts

"Candy for Christmas" is the slogan of a group of Pointe young ladies who are doing their bit to make the yuletide merry for guests of the USO.

Ann Watson of Meadow lane, Susan Armstrong of Lincoln road, and Sally Browne of Lewiston road, started the ball rolling Wednesday, December 4.

Each girl is having a group of her friends, all Girl Scouts, make candy and pack it in half-pound boxes, to be distributed Christmas Day at the main Michigan Central and John R USO centers. Most of the candy will be fudge.

Mrs. Cecil Watson, Ann's mother, is chairman of the USO Christmas gifts committee.

Sewing Session Planned By New England Women

Mrs. Alfred W. Veazie will open her home on Dexter boulevard on Wednesday, December 11, to members of Detroit Colony, New England Women, for sewing on garments for Christmas charity giving, from ten until four o'clock.

At a noon recess, the hostess will supplement with coffee and dessert the members' box lunches.

Among Eastside and Grosse Pointe members who will attend are Mrs. Edward J. Savage, of Yorkshire road, president; Mrs. Edward A. Davy, of Balfour road; Mrs. Albert C. Pasini, of Bedford road; Mrs. William B. Hanford, of Grayton road; Mrs. C. B. Holden, of Burns avenue; Mrs. Henry D. ## FASHION HIGH-LIGHTS

What the Well-dressed Lamp Bulb WON'T wear!

1. NOT THIS—Too small a lamp shade looks as ridiculous as a pill-box hat on an otherwise stylish stout. Inefficient, too, for only a tiny area is lighted. The moral: Lamp shades with flaring sides are better than straight-sided ones.

2. NOR THIS—The smartest Hattie Carnegie creation is ruined if your slip is showing. And the same is true of your lamp bulbs. They're not only unsightly—their glare can tire eyes and brain—even cause headaches or harmful eyestrain.

3. NOR THIS—One glare bug can spoil any party. Don't let your lamp shades be funereal or depressing. They can affect your entire room. Outfit your lamps with light-colored shades, preferably those with white linings.

4. CERTAINLY NOT THIS! Do your lamp shades bulge at the seams? They're flashy and garish—hard on the eyes and on the nerves. Make sure that your lamp bulbs aren't too big for their shade.

5. GOOD HEAVENS, NO! Like any lady with self-respect, a lamp bulb wants to be perfectly groomed—immaculately dressed. Keep bulbs, shades and reflector bowls free of light-stealing dust and grime.

6. IT'S SO EASY TO BE SURE—

Your eyes' best friend is the "Light-Meter," a scientific instrument that tells the quantity of your lighting. With it, your Edison Home Service Advisor can quickly check over your lamps and fixtures... if necessary show how your lighting can be easier on the eyes. ### Pointers to Attend Wedding in New York

Two Pointe families are making plans to be in New York on Saturday, Dec. 14. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Raymond Boyer and Mrs. and Mrs. Robert O. Martin will make the trip to witness the marriage ceremony of Anne Sherman Ordway and Tyson Dines, Jr., on that day at St. Bartholomew's Church.

Anne is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ordway of Battle Creek and New York, and Tyson is the son of Tyson Dines, of Denver.
Following the 4 o'clock ceremony, a reception will be held at the Cosmopolitan Club.
The United States lost 318 ships in 1942, the most disastrous year of enemy attacks.

Neighbors Call Hobby Business

Leroy F. Hollenbeck, of 804 Rivard, has been complained against by neighbors several times recently for maintaining what they term a manufacturing establishment in the basement of his house.
Mr. Hollenbeck has been inclined to pass the matter over lightly saying that he was only indulging a hobby in an amateur and small work shop. This didn't satisfy the neighbors however who complained, some with identifying name and others anonymously, that he was conducting a regular manufacturing business in a well equipped machine shop. Some suggested that he had enough machinery tucked away in his place to build a diesel engine.

- If true this would be in direct violation of the restriction which specifically prohibits the conduct of any business in a residence.

After discussion at the Council meeting Monday night it was directed that notice be sent to Mr. Hollenbeck that he discontinue his work in his amateur machine shop. He is alleged to be making an accessory for a trailer, in which he brings in metal supplies and sends out a finished product.

The neighbors maintain that this goes far beyond the exercise of a hobby.

William F. Arnoldy, Jr. To Wed Wellesley Girl

Engagement news came from the East last Saturday which concerns a well-known Pointer.

Mr. and Mrs. William F. May, of Wellesley Farms, Mass., announced the engagement of their daughter, Virginia, to William F. Arnoldy, Jr., of Rochester, N. Y. and formerly of Grosse Pointe, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Arnoldy, of Neff road.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnoldy, with their daughter, Carolyn, drove East for the announcement party, and will be returning this week-end.

The bride-elect studied at the University of Neuchatel in Switzerland, and was graduated from Simmons College, Boston. She served with the American Red Cross during the war, working in New Guinea and the Philippines.

Her fiancé was graduated from Grosse Pointe High School and Yale, where he was affiliated with Chi Phi fraternity. He served 20 months with the U. S. Navy.

The couple are making plans for an early spring wedding.

Odd Fact

In Barent, Canada, a house-owner hired a man and bulldozer to cut thirty feet off the tip of a hill which interfered with the view of the ocean from his porch.

Servicemen's Santa's Helpers

Mrs. Jerry Lynch of Bishop road, left, and Mrs. Charles A. Mannino, of McKinley road, smile over a big donation to the Santa for Servicemen drive, being carried on in the Pointe under the direction of Mrs. Glenn Anderson. Others assisting in this area are Mrs. Roy A. Fruehauf of Windmill Pointe drive, and Mrs. David T. Marantette of Westchester road.

Plan UN Exhibit In Flower Show

Plans have been begun for a United Nations exhibit in the 1947 Michigan Flower and Garden Exhibition which is to be held in Convention Hall, March 15 through March 23. Landscape architects in the Parks and Recreation Department and flower show officials met with Dr. Edgar P. Richardson, director of the Institute of Arts and Prof. Harlow O. Whittemore, head of the landscape department of the University of Michigan to formulate plans for what is expected to be the finest and most extensive exhibit ever staged in Detroit.
The exhibit is to include a Court of the Nations, ten small gardens, each one representing one of the United Nations and a large modern garden representing all nations. The nations to be represented with small gardens are Poland, Italy, China, Great Britain, Holland, France, the Near East, Mexico, the Scandinavian countries and America. It is hoped to enlist the aid of nationality groups in the city to make each representation authentic.

Book Review Scheduled For Presbyterian Women

The Women's Association of the Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church will have a Book Review on Dec. 2 at 1 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Charles Schank, 1541 Oxford road.
The Ruth Group will be hostesses. Mrs. Fred Hanck will review the book entitled, "The Lowells and Their Seven Worlds," by Ferris Greenslab.

While half the world fiddles, while Rome burns and the other half burns while Rome fiddles, here we sit, feeling like what our friend, Eugene O'Neill, calls The Old Foolosopher. Someone hands us—of all things—a folder of inspirational books, with the saccharine suggestion: "Look at them. They will quiet your nerves." Are our nerves THAT noisy?

Look at the titles. Um-humm. Look at the titles and you won't have to look at the books. Everybody's looking, "I would seem, for a get-hep-quick philosophy or five-minute-plan. If there were fewer books, there would be fewer ideas. And if there were fewer ideas, there would be fewer headaches. We could all give up wishful thinking for wishful drinking.

Instead, what do we get?

"THE NEXT FORTY YEARS OF YOUR LIFE." Now, there's a title that no one except a life insurance man could be mean enough to foist on a girl. Even the glamour babies, sulking in their play pens, would tear that little number to shreds. Our ball point pen will be dried up. Our bills will be paid up. And we'll be lucky if we're not laid up. The best we can hope for is to take it with the nonchalance of G. B. S. shrugging his shoulders and saying: "Youth is a wonderful thing—it's a shame to waste it on children!"

"PSYCHOLOGY FOR THE MILLIONS." Why not millions for psychology? Let them figure it out. After thumbing through this one, we still believe the millions can get along better on an empty mind than an empty stomach. All we can think of is the little waif who was unfortunately following in the fingerprints of her father. When we suggested that she'd first have to take a rehabilitated attitude, she sat there looking beautiful and blank as a new check.

"Don't you know what rehabilitated means?" we apologized.

"I don't even know what ATTITUDE means," she smiled.

All she really needed was some nice new cash, some nice new clothes and a nice new membership to a Sinatra Fan Club. She's now doing swell.

"PEACE OF MIND." We had this turbulent time out of the Women's City Club for fifteen minutes. Peace of mind left our mind in pieces. For a moment there we thought we could face anything, serene and una-Freud. But when we came across the Freudian advice that it was reasonable to be afraid of snakes in the jungle, but not snakes under the carpet, we rushed back with the book. We haven't reached THAT far south of the borderline.

"TEN MINUTES THAT CHANGED MY LIFE." So you had to go and bring that up. And didn't you know they've cut the time down to Five Minutes More? The author saw it all in a flash. Flash the cash to him. Unless you'd rather listen for free to Crosby crooning: "Love, O Love, O Careless Love!"

Don't get us wrong, pet. We've known people who lived blithely and bravely by their own philosophy. But their credos were based not on inspiration but determination.

In the last twenty years Katherine Cornell has not swerved from the two words she confided were her slide rule in any situation: NEVER COMPROMISE. Integrity is not only the big word with her but the big rule.

The nonchalant Mr. Crosby on the other hand, has from his choir singing days adhered to his early discovery that the successful credo for him is contained in his own words: DO IT THE SOFT WAY.

Even Miss Mae West sticks to her dubious philosophy that it's all good clean fun. She's made millions smile—and smiled at her own millions—with her gaudy determination that NOTHING SUCCEEDS LIKE SEX.

And the maligned Mr. Noel Coward, who probably wished he were temporarily dead when the critics seized on his ungentelemanly Brooklyn boner, summed up his philosophy for us in these words: I AM NEITHER STUPID NOR SCARED. MY SENSE OF IMPORTANCE TO THE WORLD IS VERY SMALL; BUT MY SENSE OF MY IMPORTANCE TO MYSELF IS VERY GREAT. I AM ALL I HAVE—TO SMILE, TO SUFFER AND TO SUCCEED.

They found it. A workable formula. Not between the covers of a book, nor by any quick cover charge. It comes not from the outside, but the inside—this personal philosophy. Otherwise, it's so corny the kernels stick in the tripe-writers of the alleged Foolosophers.

SNOBBY LOBBY
At The Detroit Club: "This year it's the parents who have to believe in Santa Claus."

At Annis Furs: One chilly day we noticed the elevator operator wearing—in lieu of a sweater—a luxurious brown Broadtail Jacket. At The Little Club: "He's in town for the week-end and asked me if he could give me a ring today."

"So you said—"

"Sure you can give me a ring—and make it an emerald!"

At Masonic Temple: The little newspaper girl who asked us our identity the night we were wearing our own invention—an ermine babuska to end babuskas.

"We're strictly nobody," we confided.

"Oh, I'm sorry. You LOOK like somebody," came the sympathetic if slightly reversed compliment.

At The Statler: "Tom is so lazy he can't even keep his self-winding watch running."

F. G. Cherry, of 1247 Nottingham, reported to the Park police recently that some time while the family was away thieves had entered his place through a rear basement window and stolen four yards of whiskey and some costume jewelry.

Option Extended On Woods Park

Because Judge Noel of Macomb county has not yet rendered his decision on the restraining order petitioned for by St. Clair Shores village against Grosse Pointe Woods and Mrs. Edsel Ford, to prevent the village from buying and Mrs. Ford from selling a certain portion of her property for a public park for the Woods village, Mrs. Ford has granted the village an extension of its option on her property until January 2.

The option under which the village had already paid her $1,000 expired on December 1.

There is a possibility that the Macomb County Court might accede to the request of the Woods Village Attorney Jules Berns, for a change of venue, in which event the issue would be decided in the Wayne County Courts.

News Again Joins Christmas Drive to Raise Funds to Buy Presents for Wounded Vets

Contributions Needed to Put Santa for Servicemen Campaign over top; All Hospital Patients to Receive Gifts

By JERRY PETTIT
Detroit Times Staff Writer
(Special to the Grosse Pointe News)

Make this a happy Christmas for the men who made the peace!

Now under way, for the sixth year, is The Detroit Times Santa for Servicemen program to provide Christmas gifts for hospitalized servicemen and women throughout Michigan.

Although the guns of destruction have been silenced, thousands of wounded veterans who endured their fury will still spend their holiday season in nearby hospital wards. They need understanding and friendship. They need remembrance.

As in previous years, The Grosse Pointe News is joining the Times and the civic group sponsoring Santa for Servicemen to see that these heroes are NOT forgotten this Yuletide.

Unlike some previous years, when upwards of $50,000 in packages and money were received, the drive this year seeks contributions of money only, following the recommendations of doctors and special service officers at the institutions.

These funds will be wisely administered by the Santa for Servicemen committee in the purchase of practical, worthwhile and attractive gifts, which will be delivered in colorful Christmas wrappings, just as if the men were in their own homes.

Mrs. Glenn Anderson, of 329 Merriweather road, Grosse Pointe Farms, again is general chairman of the Santa for Servicemen committee. She personally supervises administration of the fund and directs the committees handling the gigantic task of packing and distribution.

As president of the Sunshine Fund, Mrs. Anderson has raised approximately half a million dollars within recent years to provide recreation facilities for various government hospitals. Her activities with Santa for Servicemen are merely an extension of the work to which she and her colleagues have devoted many hours during the war.

Many patriotic and civic-minded organizations and groups of citizens in the metropolitan Detroit area already have joined the 1946 Santa for Servicemen campaign.

All these persons are taking part in the fund-raising phase of the program, and certain groups have been designated to assist with the wrapping and packing of gifts.

Everyone can actively become a Santa to a Serviceman, however, simply by making a cash contribution to the fund. For every two dollars contributed the committee will purchase a gift and see that it's properly wrapped and delivered Christmas day.

Each gift will carry with it a special gift card bearing the name and address of the donor.

To do your part, simply mail in or bring in your cash donation of two dollars or more. Send it to the Santa for Servicemen Fund, The Detroit Times, 1370 Cass, Detroit 31, or drop it in at Hawthorne House, 17 Kercheval avenue, Grosse Pointe headquarters.

There are thousands of patients who will spend their Christmas in the still, white wards of Percy Jones General Hospital and the various veterans' institutions in Michigan.

Help make their Christmas a merry one—and thus enjoy a merrier Christmas yourself.

Become a Santa to a Serviceman!

High School Paper May Put Finger on Students Found Guilty of Misdemeanors

Takes Canvass on Desirability of Publishing Names of Those Convicted by Honor Court; President Favors Plan

An editorial printed in the NEWS a few weeks ago anent the publication of the names of juveniles who have been guilty of misdemeanors has aroused a varying reaction in the community. The Tower, the official publication of the Grosse Pointe High School has gone to some length to make a canvass of opinion among both its faculty and student body.

The Tower says "it has been suggested that the publishing of offenders' names would be a good way in which to discourage minor offenses, and then propounds the query "Should the Tower carry out the same plan?"

W. R. Clemenson, the principal of the High School, gives neither a Yes or No answer but observes: "This is certainly worthy of consideration. However, before we change our policy we should give this further study. Let us get the opinion of our student government, a sampling of faculty opinion, and also the opinions of a sampling of parents. I certainly do not favor printing the names of first offenders."

C. E. Salter, assistant principal, says more emphatically "I believe it would be of great value to print the names of students found guilty by the Honor Court for four reasons: First, it would be an effective punishment; second, it would have a tendency to prevent others from committing similar offenses; third, it would make students conscious of the fact that there is an Honor Court dealing out punishment to those who break school rules; fourth, an article printed with no

Bert Lahr Stars In "Burlesque"

Bert Lahr, beloved star of stage and screen, will have the stellar role in Jean Dalrymple's production of "Burlesque," the famous comedy, which arrives at the Shubert Lafayette Theatre for a two-week stay, beginning Monday, December 9, prior to a Broadway opening at the Belasco Theatre on Christmas night, December 25. In support of Mr. Lahr will be lovely Jean Parker, also of the stage and screen, who recently scored a personal triumph in the Jed Harris production, "Loco."

Mr. Lahr will play the role of "Skid," which was first created on Broadway by the late Hal Skelly. The part is a character study of a screw-ball comic, whose talents take him to the top in his field, but whose love for whiskey slowly forces him back to obscurity. Jean Parker, remembered for her many motion picture roles, will play "Bonnie," his show-girl wife, whose devotion and loyalty survive the long ordeal by alcohol. The part of "Bonnie" was first played by Barbara Stanwyck and won her stardom and a motion picture contract.

It is particularly fitting that Mr. Lahr should play a burlesque comic, since his theatrical career had its lusty beginnings in that field. Luckily, the analogy ends there, since he is not a drinking man.

Town Hall Books Comedy Dancers

Mata and Hari, hilarious comedy dancers, formerly starred with the Trudi Schoop Ballet, will make their solo Detroit debut at Detroit Town Hall, Wednesday morning, December 11, at eleven o'clock in the Fisher Theatre.

This featured dance team, recently a sensation with Olsen and Johnson's "Laughing Room Only," has evolved a distinctive art... a cock-eyed blend of subtle humor and satire which has convulsed audiences from coast to coast.

Ruta Mata and Eugene Hari remained in this country when the famous Trudi Schoop Ballet returned to Europe in 1939. They entertained in stage revues, smart supper clubs, and danced in M-G-M's movie, "Meet the People."

Sets Wedding Day

December 27 has been chosen by Ann Sherman Mitchell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Ledyard Mitchell, as the date of her wedding to Henry Munroe Campbell III.

The ceremony will take place in St. Paul's on the Lake at noon. Attending the bride will be her sister, Mrs. John O'Keefe Jr. and Mrs. Francis C. Farwell II, who'll come from her home in Ann Arbor.

George Campbell will be his brother's best man. There will be a wedding breakfast following the church ceremony. This will be held at the Grosse Pointe Club.

Leaflets Explaining Uses Of Increased School Tax Sent Out With Statements

School Board Advises Taxpayers How Five-Mill Raise Is Being Used to Make Pointe Institutions More Efficient

Grosse Pointe Township and City of Grosse Pointe tax collecting officials have for some years permitted the School Board to enclose informative leaflets with the tax statements, helping the taxpayer to understand the value received for his school tax.

This year, because of the five-mill increase in taxes voted by the taxpayers last March, the Board has used this opportunity to give a brief summary account of what the increase is being used for. The letter follows:

"To The Taxpayer:
"You will note a considerable increase in your school tax over previous years. This increase results from a five-mill increase voted by a two-third majority of voting taxpayers in an election held on March 4, 1946. The Board of Education made every possible effort, preceding this election to inform each individual taxpayer of the issues involved. Contacts were made with every taxpayer by mail, by providing public meetings for discussion of the issues and by reviewing the issues in a series of six articles in the press.

"This five-mill increase is now being used for two major purposes: (1) Construction of the first wing of a new school building on Vernier and Mack has already begun and construction of a section of a new building for elementary children on Kerby and Beaubien will begin by September, 1947. These two buildings, when completed during the next four years, will house 1400 children, approximately 300 of which are now without adequate school housing in their own school district and the balance of the space will be needed for new growth before the ultimate buildings are completed. (2) Necessary increases of teacher salaries have been made as a result of this election, in order to provide teachers of this district with a better and more equitable salary for the services they are rendering.

"In brief, the five-mill increase which you now find on your tax bills for schools has been added after careful consideration by the entire community in the most democratic manner and you have generously responded, through the election of March 4, to the appeal of your Board of Education.

Houston Peterson, professor of philosophy at Rutgers University, author and lecturer, will be the speaker for the last Town Hall lecture before the Christmas holidays on Friday morning, Dec. 13, at 11 o'clock. The series will be resumed on Jan. 10, with Jerome Davis, whose subject will be, "Behind the Iron Curtain."

Houston Peterson has been head of the famous Cooper Union Forum in New York City since 1938, when he succeeded Everett Dean Martin. He was heard on the air during the past summer as moderator on "The Town Meeting of The Air" and on "Invitation to Learning."

Ben Marsh to Have New Assistant at Mich. Bell

Ben R. Marsh of Rivard boulevard, vice-president and general manager of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company, is to have a new assistant vice-president.

The change is necessitated by the retirement on Dec. 31 of Earl M. Gladden, who rose from a map filer to vice-president. His duties are being reassigned among various top officials of the company and Henry W. Goodman, general operations engineer, will become assistant vice-president reporting to Marsh.

Pointers Win Awards At Governor Dummer

SOUTH BYFIELD, Mass.—At the annual Thanksgiving dinner held in the school dining room on the eve of the Thanksgiving recess, Governor Drummer Academy awarded minor sport letters to 60 members of the Junior varsity soccer team and the junior varsity and pony football teams. Members of the varsity soccer and football teams will receive their awards at the annual Christmas Dinner to be held this year in the Lang Gymnasium on Tuesday evening, December 17.

Among the recipients of awards was Davison Pierson, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Lynn Pierson, 275 Voltaire place, Grosse Pointe Farms, a member of the pony football team.

Another Michigan boy attending Governor Dummer who received an award was Peter C. Statler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick C. Statler, 218 South Westledge Avenue, Kalamazoo. Statler received his award in junior varsity soccer.

Midnight Caller Looks Suspicious

A man purporting to be a parcel delivery man rang the bell at 911 Whittier at midnight on Tuesday, Nov. 26, and when the man of the house, A. W. Haskell came to the door, he peeped through and didn't like the looks of the visitor.

With a little preliminary conversation he told the man to leave the parcel on the outside of the door and he would sign for it and leave the receipt outside. Mr. Haskell knew of no package due for delivery at his place. Without waiting the party beat a hasty retreat from the door, got in a waiting car and drove away.

The incident had all the appearance of an intended robbery.

Full Weekend For Philatelists

Pointe members of the Michigan Stamp Club are looking forward to the big Rasdale auction and open house planned by the club in the Book Cadillac on Friday and Saturday, December 8 and 9. The auction will be held in the Washington Room.

Saturday night will be featured by a big Victory Party and Sunday the American Airmail Society will hold a regional meeting. Special loan exhibits of the Society of Philatelic Americans will be on display Saturday and Sunday.

The special Christmas Party of the club will be held in the Book on December 16.

Motion Picture Council Approves List of Movies

More Than 500 Attend Bust Honoring Football Players

Ernie McCoy's Showing of Army-Michigan Game Pictures and Bounteous Feed Highlight Father-Son Gathering

A year ago the Grosse Pointe Dad's Club resumed its activities after a three-year lapse because of the war, and sponsored a Football Bust in honor of the Grosse Pointe High School football teams. The dads at this party were conspicuous by their absence despite the fact that a well rounded program was provided.

Despite the poor attendance at the last party, a few of the more active members of the club decided to give the Football Bust idea another whirl and went to work well in advance of the proposed November 28 date. First, each and every dad was invited to attend with his son, and then a plea for financial aid was sounded and answered to the tune of over five hundred dollars in donations. Part of this money was put to use in staging the 1946 Football Bust on November 28.

The Grosse Pointe High auditorium, reported to hold 500 persons, was jammed to capacity and before the program got under way, the Standing Room Only sign was displayed.

The Grosse Pointe High School All-Boy Band, directed by Mr. Dewey Kalember, got the audience into the swing of things with some rousing gridiron marches. Following the short welcome speech by Chairman Arthur S. Neef, the Boys' Glee Club, composed of some 60 members and directed by Mr. John E. Finch, entertained.

Cheerleader Dick Phillips fairly brought down the rafters when he pitted the boys against their dads in a couple of "thank you" yells. The dads won by a wide margin, which they probably attribute to their long practice of shouting down their respective "war departments."

Again Chairman Neef took the stage and called on the coaches for remarks. Athletic Director Frank Banach reported on the intramural football teams and was followed by Reserve Coach Charles Peterson and Assistant Varsity Coach Harold Fisher. Last but not least Head Coach Ed Wernet was introduced. Each coach called on was invited to make his speech from the stage but each declined with the exception of Wernet who explained from the stage, "I'm not bashful, so I must be ignorant."

Eddie Isbey, acting captain of the 1946 squad, presented both Fisher and Wernet with beautiful sports shirts from the team and thanked both coaches for everything they had done for the team throughout the season.

The highlight of the evening was the showing of the Army-Michigan football game movies by Ernie McCoy, assistant athletic director of the University of Michigan, who was the principal speaker of the evening, and who gave an account of Michigan's smashing victory over Ohio State the Saturday previous.

Following the movies the boys were turned loose and they all made a mad dash for the cafeteria where a swell buffet supper was being served. The dads remained in the auditorium for the election of officers for the coming year. Rightly enough, Dan Deck, Sr., was unanimously elected to the presidency and Harry Phillips, "came ice president," while Harvey Christensen received enough votes to take over the treasurer's position, and Mr. Pierce, father of two Grosse Pointe students, became secretary.

New St. Paul's Band Entertains School

St. Paul's newly organized band, under the direction of Sister Grace Adelaide, who teaches voice, piano and string instruments, made its first appearance before the school recently.

The band surprised the audience by playing Whistler's "Long, Long Ago" and other classical favorites. Most of the players are beginners and are boys from both the high school and the grade school.

The band will soon be ready to play during the basketball season and for other school activities.

Better Late Than Never

As it is the custom of the NEWS to print the pictures of all the varsity teams of Grosse Pointe High School, here is the 1946 Blue Devil football team. At the beginning of the season the team was potentially a championship one, but bad breaks throughout the season saw the team end up with a record of three victories and five defeats. Front row—left to right: PATTERSON, BECK, BRABB, DREW, ALLEN, THIEDE, CHERPELIS, WUERKER, MUMFORD and KIDD. Second row—HALBROOK BRAY, DEWEY, RUMMEI, GARMAN, CHAMPINE, ISBEY, FLOM, SEYMOUR, BARDY, SERRA, BARLOW and JACKSON. Back row—BRUCE WOLFE, manager, GERHARD, REDMAN, ZEEB, WALKER, JERVIS, CHRISTENSEN, WEBB, JOHNSON, CZISKE, FLAUGHER, DRADER, and ED. WERNET, coach.

Independent League Lead Again Tied

Whittier Cleaners Bounce Back with Clean Sweep to Knot Up Top Honors

Whittier Cleaners went back into a tie for the lead in the East Side Independent Bowling League on November 26 when Walter Sketch rolled 226 and 205 in a 629 series to help his teammates make it a clean sweep over Star Bar.

Adults Given Break By School Officials

Mr. W. R. Clemenson, principal of the Grosse Pointe High School, has announced that there will be a reserved section for adults at all home basketball games this season. This section will be held as reserved only until 8 o'clock.

S. and M., the other team in first place, took three from Jim's Bar to keep even with the Cleaners.

Al Long Ford kicked Kubiak Jewelry down the ladder with a whitewash. Horn Fuel and Supply stayed in the running by taking three from Jack's Service. Cadillac Glass stayed right in the rolling by winning three from Haim Brothers in a nice match.

The six lucky turkey winners were William Melchior with 228, Seth with his 226, Wesley Miner with 223, Michael Verhaeghe with 217, Joseph Szpadzinski with 211, and William Starr with 211.

Form-Rite Stamping took three from Kurya Motor Sales, Town Pump took three from Harper-Berkshire, Sprenger Shoes took three from Falcon Rec., Dillon dumped Kercheval Machinery, 3-1, and Merle did the same to George's Five.

Other 200 or better scorers included Don Beck, Richard Kuroski, William Tenser, Don Tenser, John Tufenkian, William Merle, John Wade, Kerm Carlisle and Edward Miller.

St. Paul Players On Honor Team

Two St. Paul's high school boys secured places for themselves on the 1946 Free Press All-Second Division football team. This team was selected by league coaches. Ray Huettner and George Heidt were the St. Paul players to earn this honor.

Huettner is a versatile half-back whose breakaway dashes made him a feared ball carrier. He was an excellent passer and tops at punting. Center Heidt played an aggressive defensive game all season and was seldom guilty of a bad pass.

Blue Devil Natators, Court Teams Go Into Action Dec. 6

By FRED RUNNELLS

The Grosse Pointe Blue Devil swimming and basketball teams will open their winter sports program Friday, December 6, when they play host to the Pontiac natators and reserve and varsity basketball teams.

The swimmers will take the spotlight Friday afternoon at 3:45 p. m. in an attempt to get the Pontiacs off to a winning start.

Last year the Blue Devil natators had little trouble downing the Chiefs by an overwhelming score to register their ninth consecutive victory in the same number of years. This year the score promises to be much closer, as the Pontiacs have lost eight lettermen from last year's squad through graduation and injuries. But Coach Banach still holds the optimistic attitude that his boys will be able to continue the jinx over the Pontiac aggregation.

Strong in the relays last year, the Blue Devils appear to be weakest in that division at present. Cobby Bartlett, individual medley relay star, will be missed due to an unfortunate football accident when he injured his knee in a scrub football game early this fall.

Donald Duncan, potential state champion diver, has left school and leaves the team in a sorry state in this event.

The reserve quintet will meet the Chiefs at 7 p. m. in the preliminary game before the varsity takes the floor at 8 p. m.

All three contests are non-league affairs and in no way will effect the standings of the teams in the Border Cities League race.

Jefferson Leads PO Pin League

The Jefferson Number One bowling team of the Detroit Post Office-East Side League, took three games from the Grosse Pointe Cab Co. on Tuesday, November 26, to retain first place standing with a record of 37 games won, 15 lost.

The Desantis Undertakers defeated the Kercheval Clerks with a three game lead, and are holding their second place standing with 34 games won, 13 lost. The Meyer Pharmacy white-washed the Welding Gas and Equipment Co. with a 4-0 score.

E. Holzbaugh Ford defeated Altes Lager 3-1, St. Clair Shores Post Office defeated O.K. Hat Cleaners, 3-1 and Fox Creek Meats beat G. Wilsner Studebaker, 3-1. High scores for the evening were Kenneth Chateau, 223; John Lakner, 222; Arthur Werber, 204; Milton Knuth, 203; and Floyd Biernet, 201.

Pointer Initiated By King Neptune

Pfc. Charles P. Steiger, USMC, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Steiger of 1040 Lakepointe, has been initiated into the Royal Order of the Deep aboard the BB Wisconsin, while crossing the equator in company with the aircraft carrier USS Leyte on a tour of South American ports.

King Neptune and his party came aboard the ship near Valparaiso, Chile, and passed sentence on all "polywogs." "Shell-backs," men who have previously crossed the imaginary line, initiated the newcomers. On completion of the rites the men were officially "Shellbacks" and King Neptune returned to his watery domain.

Fred Runnells Back at Work

The NEWS welcomes Fred Runnells, sports editor and photographer, back to work on the staff after an absence of several weeks necessitated by an appendectomy.

Fred was operated on by Dr. John B. Hartzell of Ridge road, in Jennings Hospital on November 13. While he has contributed a number of articles for his sports page during his recuperation, he has been unable to take any pictures until this last week.

With the help of a cane he managed to attend the Dads' Club party for the High School football teams last Tuesday night.

King Football Gives Way To Basketball at G. P. High

Both Varsity and Reserve Teams Still Big Question Marks as Contenders in Border Cities League Contests

King Football has taken his leave of the stage for another year at Grosse Pointe High after providing some hair-raising entertainment throughout the fall months. The stage lights have dimmed and the actors are preparing some new entertainment come December 6, when the Blue Devils will raise the curtain on a bright new basketball season.

Last year at this time it was possible to determine just what kind of quintet the Blue Devils would present in the race for the Border Cities League Basketball Championship but that is not so this year because of the questionable material on hand trying out for positions on the team.

It is true the Pointers have seven members back from last year's squad but of the seven only five were playing regularly at the close of the season. Heading this list is Dick Wuerker, better known as "Dead Eye" because of his famous one handed shot, that so many times gave the Blue Devils the nod for the past two seasons. Big Johnny Rummel and Ed Isbey, stars of the football team, are making their bid for regular berths and stand a pretty fair chance of making the grade because they were regulars on last year's quintet.

Tennis star Paul (take my picture) Grubbs is back again this year with much needed height. Grubbs sprouted like a bad weed since last season and this height, coupled with a versatile style of ball-handling and shot-making, should give him an inside track for a spot. Big Bob Olson, Grosse Pointe's golf star, figures to be a big threat for center position and from the way he finished up last season he could be a "ball of fire" for the Blue Devils this coming season.

Stan Ainsley had his share of starting assignments last year and alternated with Isbey at guard in the last six games last season. George Mantho had a good spot on the bench last year but couldn't quite break into the lineup because of his small stature. The entire 1945-46 reserve squad of Ken Christensen, Tom Willson, Herb Gerhard, Leroy Guerismo, Jerry Allen, Don Graham and the identical blond Taube twins, Gordon and Gerald, have been moved up to the varsity squad and are making their bids.

Of the reserve group Willson and Gerhard have proven they can hit the hoop for points while Guerismo is by far the best ball handler and play maker. Ken Christensen and Jerry Allen are tough around the backboards on the rebounds. Don Graham will be the only serviceman on the squad this year, having recently returned from the Merchant Marine. Graham knows the game and might very easily claim one of the starting berths from last year's regulars.

In a talk with Principal Walter Clemenson this reporter discovered the adult spectators will get a break this year in the way of reserved seats. The plan to date is to hold open a reserved section of 150 seats until 8 p. m.

Timothy W. Murtagh
Dies in Phoenix, Ariz.

Word was received in Grosse Pointe last week of the death of Timothy W. Murtagh in Phoenix, Arizona, on November 25. Up to last September Mr. Murtagh had been a resident of Grosse Pointe for the past 16 years, the family home being at 1161 Bishop road. He was the proprietor of the Art Tool and Die Company but retired from active business when he moved his family to Arizona.

Brings Home the Trophies

SYBIL SCOTFORD, aged 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Scotford of 376 Kercheval, Grosse Pointe Farms, is the winner of numerous medals and trophies for her excellence in Highland dancing. She has competed in Detroit, Hamilton, Embro, Canada, Pittsburgh, Cleveland and Buffalo. She is a member of the Junior Band at the Brownell High School, where she plays the clarinet. She also sings in the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church Choir.

"International Night" Show Scheduled for December 8

Although Eric and Frieda, hero and heroine of Detroit's second annual "International Night," are fictional characters, they have been proclaimed true-to-life by several foreign people who have read the advance script.

"International Night" is booked into the Masonic Temple on December 8, and is sponsored by the International Institute, a Red Feather service of the Community Chest. It was written by Mark Belaire, Vera Brown, Samuel Shepley, Rex White and Tony Weitzel to depict the progress of an immigrant couple in Detroit from 1912 to the present day.

Eric and Frieda, whose last name and country of origin is purposely left obscure, arrive in Detroit friendless and homeless in the second decade of the century, which takes them through many vicissitudes, indicates their complete adjustment as American citizens through their own efforts and the assistance of the International Institute.

Detroit's own Boogie-woogie artist, eight-year-old Sugar-Chile Robinson will be a guest star at "International Night." Appearing in the final scene at a well-known party for hundreds of war brides, Sugar-Chile will show ladies from overseas what American boogie-woogie is like.

Originally announced as a show involving 200 people, present calculations indicate that nearly 500 singers, actors, dancers, and musicians will be involved when the curtain goes up on December 8. The show is not

Victim of Fall Claims Damages

Mrs. Ada Miller, of 2151 Lakewood, Detroit, sent a letter to the City Council Monday night, December 2, claiming damages for personal injury on November 12 when she made a misstep off the sidewalk down to the bench midway between the sidewalk and the street pavement in front of the A. and P. store on Kercheval. Her letter alleged neglect on the City's part in not providing a safe walk.

Inquiry developed that the step down to the bench was plainly marked in brilliant colors, and that the accident happened in the daytime. Attorney Meder said that due diligence for public safety had been taken by the City and that there must have been contributory negligence on the part of the claimant. On his recommendation the claim was not allowed.

The accident to Mrs. Miller was not the first one that has occurred at that particular spot; at least three others have happened.

Reduction Plant Exhibit Prepared

The financial exhibit prepared by Ernst and Ernst for the operation of the City's reduction plant at Radnor and Warren has been completed and turned over to a committee composed of Councilmen Smith, Carpenter and Mack for study.

They will also examine the practical aspects of the enterprise as set forth by Neil Blondell, the City Assessor, who has had immediate supervision of the salvage work ever since its inception. On the findings of this committee will depend whether or not the City continues the work in some other location after it is compelled to move out on September 1, 1947.

NOW THE HEALING SCIENCE OF CHRISTIANITY

That Science can reach to the things ordinarily embraced in religion, can disclose the exact nature of God and of oneself and others as His "likeness," and then demonstrate the soundness of its disclosure in better health, greater capability and usefulness, improved relationships, and fuller assurance and happiness for those who use it—this is the practical meaning of Christian Science to ever increasing thousands in many countries.

And they see that this Science is simply accurate knowledge of the verities taught by Christ Jesus, the kind of knowledge which gave him his remarkable healing and liberating power and which he plainly foretold for others when he spoke of "the Comforter," which would teach them "all things."

The full revelation of Christian Science and its scientifically Christian method of overcoming disease and other evils is presented in the Christian Science textbook.
