THE CIO IS PREPARING A PROGRAM FOR DEMANDS FOR a general wage advance. 23.5 per cent increase the goal. . . the contention is advanced in a report prepared by Robert R. Nathan, a former Government economist, that wages can be increased without increased prices. . . Murray says that report will be a guidepost for forthcoming wage demands. When Walter Reuther, head of GM's 113 day strike said the same thing and when he demanded a 30 per cent wage increase the men got a 16 per cent raise and auto makers got price increases allowed by OPA.

CHAIRMAN SAMUEL T. GILBERT of DSR, criticizes General Manager Sullivan's announcement that all DSR street cars except Woodward would be abandoned. Says DSR Commission has never acted upon such a proposal. . . Sullivan acknowledges this and says he will bring in specific recommendations as to when various street car lines should be abandoned. . . Gilbert says street cars not doomed.

DETROIT COLLECTOR OF INTERNAL REVENUE, Giles Kavanaugh, is seeking the addresses of 21,000 Detroit war workers to pay them refunds on their 1945 taxes. . . amounts range from 25c to $100 with average of $25. . . workers left city without leaving forwarding addresses.

THE PENOBSCOT CLUB must stay closed for six months as ordered by the State Liquor Control Commission, now backed by the State Supreme Court.

MERGER OF KAISER-FRANZ Corporation and Graham-Paige Motor Corporation expected to be announced quickly. Graham-Paige stockholders must approve. . . G-P stock now selling at 6 and 5/8.

TWO ARMED BANDITS, the cousins Firth, Richard and Andrew, of Detroit, attempt moon-holdup at the Michigan and Twenty-Four street branch of the Detroit Bank and are captured in a few minutes through the presence of mind of Bank Manager Robert Burns. He protested inability to operate the combination unless someone pushed the release button on the wall. They obligingly accommodated and this button was the alarm which brought Sergeants Arthur Meyer and Carl Smith of the Trumbull station in a few moments with guns drawn. The robbers had already accumulated $61,000 of swag. . . they confess 26 holdups since last May, netting them $14,000. . . this major haul was to be their last.

Friday, Dec. 13
PRESIDENT TRUMAN makes wholesale reduction of war time bureaus and hope for reduction of New Deal and War Born bureaucracy rises. . . says the national economy is nearing the point when he may safely proclaim the official termination of World War II. . . abolishes the offices of War Mobilization and Reconversion, Office of Price Administration, Civilian Production Administration, Office of Economic Stabilization and the Wage Stabilization Board. . . creates the new Office of Temporary Control to liquidate the remaining wartime economic restraints and direct the country's return to free enterprise, and names Maj. Gen. Philip B. Fleming, Federal Works Administrator, to administer the OTC. . . appoints John R. Steelman as a sort of Assistant President to aid him in coordinating Federal agency programs and policies.

JAMES M. McNALLY, Republican Prosecutor-elect on the face of the open returns in the November election has had his vote cut from 1490 to 358 on the recount thus far. . . threatens a contest if result goes against him.

"We Want the Big One, Daddy"

Pop's selection of a Christmas tree is a bit too conservative to suit the youngsters, as HERBERT BROWN of Hillcrest road and his sons, HERBIE, left, and GARY, pick out their evergreen. HAROLD WARD, University of Michigan student, proprietor of the lot, keeps a close eye on the argument.

Pointe Churches Celebrating Joyous Christmas Season At Many Special Services

Houses of Worship Observing Birth of Saviour Throughout Week; Sacred Music Being Featured; Yule Parties Numerous

All Pointe churches are observing the Christmas season during the coming week with special services of worship and music celebrating the birth of the Saviour. Many organizations of the local churches are having yule parties and spreading cheer among the ill and needy.

"Preparing for Christmas" will be the sermon subject of the Rev. George E. Kurz Sunday at St. James Lutheran church of Grosse Pointe, the service starting at 11 a. m. in the Pumph and Judy theatre. The Sunday school meets at 9:45 a. m.

On Christmas day there will be a service at the usual hour, 11 a. m., at which the pupils of the Sunday school will unite with the congregation in worship and tell the Christmas story in verse and song. The pastor will give the Christmas message, and the choir will sing the familiar carols. The Junior and Senior Walther League societies will have Christmas parties on Sunday, December 22, and Monday, December 23, respectively, both beginning with progressive dinners.

Farms Sees Self in Light Of Sucker in Proposed Deal

The price of Farms village real estate has been soaring, at least according to the view of the owners of real estate, if not from the taxpayers side of the picture. For some time the village has been toying with the idea that it might be prudent to acquire a couple of lots west of and fronting on Kerby road with the view of opening up Williams street between Kerby and Lohrop.

The idea is to facilitate the highway circulation about the plot of the Board of Education which will before long erect a Junior High school on the site. With this in mind, approaches were made to Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Kerby and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Jablonsky, the owners of the two 25 x 160 foot lots desired. All of these parties expressed deep sympathy with the improvement. Yes, they would sacrifice their lots for the public weal, for the title of $10,000 for the Kerby's lot and $7,500 for the one bearing the Jablonsky's patronymic.

Sarah Jane Pulls Fast One on Joe

For Men Only Night Staged by Merchants Proves Popular with Everyone

The experiment attempted Monday night by a group of Kercheval avenue merchants who set aside the evening For Men Only, was a bang-up success. The men loved it, the merchants were wide-eyed over the great turnout, the clerks seemed to get a kick out of it. . . and even the women who were barred from the shops didn't mind, for several reasons.

The women weren't so dumb about this For Men Only deal. Many a male was slightly surprised to discover that the Love of His Life had also found advantages in the innovation. Sarah Jane had made the roufids first, and when Joe appeared he discovered that everything had been made simple. (The clerks were armed with lists telling what Sarah Jane would like, and in many cases there were lady-aways on hand, just in case Joe should appear. The surprise element may be slightly shot on Christmas morning, but Sarah Jane will have something she wants. And Joe made the purchase with a minimum of thought and effort.

The merchants were unanimous in declaring the event a rousing success. Monday night's abominable weather had thrown a scare into many, but the great throng which filled the stores despite the rain and slush clinched the show for a repeat performance next year.

It would be surprising if the cooperative spirit shown among the merchants in staging this event, did not lead to bigger and better things. The formation of an association of these shops, to pool their common problems and gain mutual advantages, would seem to be indicated.

There was a very pleasant air about the whole occasion. It had many of the aspects of a men's (Continued on Page 14)

Pointe Hopes Riding With McNally

Community Has Particular Interest in Recount of Votes for Prosecutor

The legion of friends of Judge James N. McNally in his home community of Grosse Pointe have been watching the progress of the recount for Prosecuting Attorney with deep suspense. When the Judge's lead of nearly 1500 votes on the open returns began to melt away they were deeply depressed, and when late Tuesday night O'Brien went ahead by six fatal little votes their discouragement touched low.

As the recount is not resumed until 1 o'clock in the afternoon the count which was on its last lap was not known at press time. There were 68 districts remaining to count.

Both McNally and O'Brien have frankly said they will carry the issue to the Supreme Court if the total figures are against them.

As interpreted in the morning Detroit papers, O'Brien would remain in office if his present infinitesimal lead is not wiped out by the final figures, until the Supreme Court verdict is reached. If McNally should be the winner on the final recount, plus the fact that he was winner on the open returns, he would take office presumably on January 1.

More Jewelry Thefts Reported

Jewelry thieves were busy in the city at the end of last week. Mrs. M. S. Daniel, who lives with her daughter, Mrs. E. Taylor of 17311 Maumee, reported to the city police at 10 a. m. Dec. 13, that sometime subsequent to December 7 thieves stole from her home two pair of rhinestone earrings, a pair of cluster brilliants and a yellow gold man's watch.

At about the same time, Mrs. W. M. Teeter of 644 Rivard reported a theft from her home on either December 12 or 13. The thief there got one diamond dinner ring containing three stones; the center a 3/4-carat stone flanked by two 1/2-carat stones; value, $1,500; a man's open faced yellow gold Hamilton watch and watch chain, value unknown; a gold bracelet worth $50 and a silver bracelet with sapphires worth $75.

Windsor police got the Teeter thief Tuesday with the Hamilton watch. Claimed other items stolen from him.

Program Ended With Crescendo

While turning off the radio in his car as he was passing 125 Moran road at 8:15 p. m., December 13, John M. Herdgen, of 60 Kenwood road, lost control and sideswiped a parked DeSoto. The DeSoto, owned by Joseph P. Baumgarten of Hillsdale, was pushed into a Detroit Edison pole, breaking its base. Damage to the DeSoto was estimated at $200. Herdgen's Lincoln suffered an estimated $50 damage.

Reserve Officers Meet to Organize

The Grosse Pointe Chapter of the Reserve Officers Association was activated Monday night at the Neighborhood club, the meeting being attended by reserve officers of the Army, Navy, Marine and Air Corps. Lt. Col. Coy Eklund, who is head of all Michigan Chapters of R.O.A., explained the purposes of the Association and answered questions. A future program was discussed, officers elected, and the meeting adjourned until January 20.

Officers elected were: president, Major Charles F. Delbridge, Jr.; vice-president, Ensign Alexander W. Moore; secretary and treasurer, Major Harold C. Emmons.

Goodfellows Break All Sales Records By Raising $5,800

Chairman Schweikart Praises Efforts of Lions Club and All Pointe Policemen and Firemen in Making Drive Success

The Grosse Pointe Goodfellows have done it again. . . done it better than ever before. With a quota of $5,000 set for their annual drive to help the Pointe's needy, the Goodfellows raised more than $5,800 in Tuesday's annual newspaper sales. It was the first time the local organization has raised more than $5,000, which is the usual goal set.

A tired but very happy chairman of the local drive, Carl Schweikart, supervisor of Grosse Pointe Township, announced the results of the sale Tuesday night. He was profuse in his praise of the help given by all who took parts. He had been up since 4 o'clock that morning.

The Grosse Pointe Lions Club sponsors the annual sale and receives the enthusiastic support of all Pointe policemen and firemen. They were on the streets by 6 o'clock Tuesday morning and worked until noon.

The sale got off to a slow start Tuesday, but, as Mr. Schweikart put it: "Those fellows just wouldn't give up. Whereas in past drives, they were straggling back to headquarters all during the morning, this year they all stuck to their posts right up to noon. And when they did come back, they brought enough money to break all past records."

The $5,800 raised Tuesday will be used to buy Christmas presents for the underprivileged and to carry on a well-organized welfare program throughout the year. The money will be used to provide clothing, medical care, food, glasses and other items as the need arises.

The policemen and firemen in Grosse Pointe City were proud of their collections Tuesday, hanging up a score of $1,268.47. The Woods' men gathered up more than $500.

Molester in Park Sought by Police

A woman 25 years old, name withheld, was grabbed by a man on Friday night, Dec. 13, in front of 781 Lakepointe. In terror she ran into the house at that number and the residents phoned the matter to the police.

The woman was in a hysterical state when interviewed by the Park police and could give no coherent description of the man. She didn't know whether he was young or old but said he was a full grown man. She could only remember that he wore a "cap, not a hat."

The police quickly rounded up three or four suspects and took them to the police station, but the woman was in no state to identify any of them at the time. She said later however that she would be able to identify her assailant if she saw him face to face.

Ignores Sign; Causes Crash

On December 11, Sereno M. Keller, of 1793 Anita, Grosse Pointe Woods, owner and driver of a Buick car going south on Buckingham, failed to stop at the sign at Charlevoix and struck a car owned and driven by Anne H. Gasper of 2931 Dickinson, Detroit, going west on Charlevoix.

Both cars were badly damaged. Anne Gasper received injuries to her left hip. Keller was given a ticket.

Election Recount Produces Praise for Pointe Officials

The City of Grosse Pointe and City Clerk Norbert Neff came in for a share of the spotlight during the recount of votes in the contested election of County Prosecutor.

James N. McNally, winner on the open returns, sent the following letter to the mayor and council of the City on December 17:

"Your community should be congratulated in the manner of the tabulation and correct canvassing of votes. I am informed by my challengers that for accuracies and all-around general appearances your voting boxes

Court Quiet On Lake Site Transaction

Woods Officials Confident They Can Whip St. Clair Shore's Objections

The right of the Village of Grosse Pointe Woods to purchase the 43.7 acres of the Edsel Ford estate on the lake for a beach park, and of Mrs. Ford to sell it for that purpose, is still in the air.

After the officials of St. Clair Shores petitioned Judge Noel of Macomb county to issue a restraining order, and the Court directed the Woods village and Mrs. Ford to show cause why such an order should not be issued, both parties made answer. And there lies the scene. The Court has thus far neither issued or refused to issue the restraining order.

Eventually action will come from the Court and it then remains for either St. Clair Shores' officials or the Woods, as the dice drop, to take the matter to the Supreme Court.

The Woods officials are confident that their right to buy will be sustained by the highest tribunal. They cite numerous instances, many of them local, which seem to support this confidence. The cases of the Alger Museum, owned by the City of Detroit in the Farms village, and the Detroit Zoo, appear pat for their case.

Carelessness Makes Tragic Christmas

Park Sergeant Frank Snay Dies Shortly After Accident on Lakepointe

The pall of sadness that settled over the Grosse Pointe Park Municipal Building last Friday morning when word came of the death of Police Sergeant Frank J. Snay, has not yet lifted. Frank was one of the most popular men on the force, a brave and efficient police officer and respected by all.

He was in charge of the mid-night-a. m. shift and was making his customary rounds alone in his car, leaving a man in charge at the desk. There was no witness of the accident but a complete picture of it has been constructed by the police. A police officer in these routine rounds always drives at very moderate speed.

Snay was driving west on Fairfax when, as he entered Lakepointe, a Chrysler car driven by Thomas Koerber, aged 25, of 581 Middlesex, going south on Lakepointe struck the police car with terrific force, turning it three quarters of the way around so that it faced north on Lakepointe.

Snay's head was thrown violently against the right window and the lock on the door was sprung, probably by the force of his body and he was thrown against the curb, striking it with his head. When found his legs were pinned behind the front end of the car.

Had he been wanted to ride to the hospital, he never regained consciousness. Rushed to Bon Secours hospital, he died in 30 minutes. A fractured skull was given as the cause of death.

The word of the accident was phoned in by some neighbor and it is believed the rescue car summoned by police radio, was on the spot within three minutes.

Snay was 50 years old and was born in Mancelona, Mich., where his mother still resides. He is survived by his wife, Gladys, and a daughter, Marjorie, thirteen years old. He also has a brother living at Kalamazoo, Mich.

After Koerber's car struck Snay, so great was its speed that (Continued on Page 4)

Burglar Alarm Scares Amateur

Another attempt was made the night of December 11 to rob the Wrigley Market at Mack-near Seven Mile, but this time by a rank amateur. The parties who raided the place to the tune of almost $9,000 on August 18 were professionals, par excellence. It is recalled that these thieves entered the building from the roof, after rewiring the alarm system and cutting off all communication with the outside.

The small timer who tried to get in the other night about 7 o'clock, merely broke into a rear door, which promptly set off the alarm.

The first notification the Woods police had of the attempt was a phone message from the alarm service man who was phoning from the store. This was nearly 40 minutes after the alarm had sounded.

A watchman on the theater project next door had heard the alarm, but thought it was the manager closing up. It was the frequent practice of this party to try the alarm the last thing at night before closing. The alarm had sounded down town only about 10 minutes after the manager left.

To Quiz Thief On Park Theft

Chief Arthur Louwers of the Park police left for Chicago this morning, Thursday, to have a heart-to-heart talk with Fugate Barclay, the burglar who raided the Evans home on Three Mile and got away with $9,000 worth of jewelry. Barclay is now in the Cook County jail on charges of burglary in Evanston and Lake Forest. Barclay was definitely hooked up with the Evans robbery by finger prints which Chief Louwers took through the FBI clearing house in Washington.

Cites Need for Inspection Of Gas Conversion Burners

Park Building and Safety Department Says Many Installations Made During War Were Faulty and Dangerous

Appealing to all owners of buildings where gas conversion burners have been installed within the past five years, the Park Building and Safety Engineering Department cites the urgent need for inspection of the installations to these burners.

Faulty installations and poor efficiency of the units have been found in the Village, creating hazardous conditions which should be corrected as soon as possible.

During the period when gas was permitted for space heating units, numerous faulty burners were on the market and installations were made as cheaply and quickly as possible, with the result that the safety factor of the burner was ignored for the urge to make larger profits.

There are specific minimum requirements as set forth by the Consolidated Gas Company, which were incorporated in the Gas Burner Ordinance No. 140, as passed by the Village Commission in July of this year, in which all installations should comply, and also requiring the licensing of all contractors and installers to remedy this condition in the future.

The village is particularly interested in the inspection of conversion burner installations, as various requirements are necessary for steam, hot water, hot air and up or down draft furnaces, whether gravity or forced air, to attain the highest degree of safety and efficiency as required for that type of furnace involved.

It is the department's aim to inspect all conversion gas burners in the Park to insure the safety, health and welfare of all the people in the community from this hazard. Their co-operation is necessary to avail themselves of this service by contacting the Building and Safety Engineering Department.

Voting Booth Fire Recalled

At the Farms council meeting Dec. 18 President Watkins casually inquired of Chief of Police Walter Hoyt "What has become of the boys who attempted to deprive some of us citizens of the exercise of our sovereign right of voting by the simple expedient of burning down our voting booth?"

Chief Hoyt said their case had been nicely attended to. There were three boys involved in the assault on these rights, he stated, and all of them are now on probation.

Missing Girls Followed Opera

Marie Belbon, 16, who is a student in Grosse Pointe High School, one of the three girls missing from home since Wednesday, Dec. 11 has been found safe in Paducah, Ky.

Marie and her two companions, Carrie Weber, 14, from Pierce Junior High School and Peggy Edmunds, 16, of 21544 E. Eight Mile, hitch-hiked to Paducah to follow the Ernie Tubb Grand Old Opera, which has been appearing in Detroit recently.

Mrs. Albee Weber, of 1150 Maryland, requested the Park Police to help her find her daughter. On Saturday night Chief Louwers of the Park was in touch with the police in Valparaiso, Ind. where the opera was last reported appearing. Circulars were also sent to the southern cities where the show was scheduled to play.

The police believe that the other two girls will be found safe in Paducah.

BRACELET VANISHES
Mrs. Sherman Mitchell, of 62 Cloverly road, reported to Farms police on December 17 that she had missed a diamond bracelet, last seen about November 15. She valued the bracelet at about $700.

$315 Typewriter Needs Operator

Village Clerk Harry Furton of the Farms, who recently lost his junior clerk Sally Evans, who took unto herself a husband, is having some difficulty in obtaining a young woman to take her place. He is in quest of a girl who will be reasonably expert in stenography and typewriting and can also lend herself to the simpler bookkeeping in the department.

A good job awaits some young woman who can qualify for the place. The office has recently installed a new electronic typewriter, a device which operates wholly by electricity and can turn out nearly twice the work of an ordinary manual machine. The machine cost $315.

Parking Time Plea Denied

Farms Sticking to New Law Limiting Drivers to 30 Minutes on Kercheval

The long sustained argument about parking time limits on Kercheval between McKinley and Fisher reached a final answer at the Farms Council meeting Dec. 16.

A request from the Hawthorne House to permit parking in front of its establishment for one hour, was received by council and following a long discussion, in which Chief of Police Walter Hoyt was invited to take part, the request was denied. The opinion was that enough parking space is available within reasonable distance of this block not to necessitate the extension of the one-half hour parking limitation which makes temporary parking available to a larger number of persons.

The plea of the restaurant that a half hour is not sufficient for patrons to lunch or dine was recognized but inasmuch as similar requests have been advanced by other establishments in the block it was decided not to change the established regulation.

Prospective Car Thief Surprised

A car theft was nipped in the act at the Harvey Fruehauf home at 1094 Three Mile, Sunday night, Dec. 15, at about 7:45, when a maid in the home was sent into the garage on an errand.

As she turned on the light a man jumped out of one of the cars and ran out of the place post haste. There was no doubt of his intention to steal the car he was in. The only description the maid could give was that he was a full grown man, white, and wore a grey soft hat.

THIEVES STEAL SKIRTS
The fender skirts and hub caps were stolen on the night of December 16 from a Packard owned by Ed Macauley, while it was parked in front of the A. V. Owens residence at 358 Mt. Vervalued the bracelet at about $700.

Side Issue in Fatal Accident

This car, owned by Alexander Plutynski, of 888 Lakepointe, was pushed right through the rear garage wall when it was rammed behind by the death car driven by Thomas Koerber. After striking Sergeant Frank Snay's scout car, Koerber's car continued across a field and plowed into the Plutynski garage. Koerber's car finally stopped half way in the garage, with the Plutynski car firmly imbedded in the masonry.

Sewer Cleaning Demonstration

The officials of Grosse Pointe Woods and of any other neighboring municipalities interested, are invited to witness a demonstration of sewer cleaning machinery in St. Clair Shores on Monday, January 6.

The Turbine company was one of four bidders for an outfit of this sort before the Woods Council meeting Tuesday night, Dec. 17.

All of the bids were referred to the sewers committee for analysis and to await the demonstration.

Business Experience Gained By Pupils' Pencil Company

Pierce Junior High is carefully following a program of "learning by doing." The Higher Arithmetic II classes have organized the Pierce Pencil Company in order to learn about stocks and bonds. They issue the stock and take charge of running the affairs of the company.

Both common and preferred stock were offered the class at subscription prices. The remainder of the stock was sold at a sale at the brokerage firm of Hollins and Jackson. Miss Susie Hollins and Mr. Humphrey Jackson are reorganizing the company.

The Board of Directors includes Beverly Martin, Arnold Diesing, Barbara Sutton, Carol Rosmer, Bill McLellan, George Preston, Marge Murphy, and Norman Helmka will run the company. The vice-presidents are in charge of publicity and advertising. The secretaries are busy issuing stock certificates which were printed in the school print shop. Use is being made of the school's public address system to put on advertising skits and singing commercials. Several bulletin boards and display cases have been decorated, advertising the superior quality of Pierce pencils, which are maroon with gold lettering.

At the close of the pencil sale, which starts Monday, expenses will be paid, salaries of officers, overhead expenses, advertising, sales commissions and other expenses. The balance of the earnings will be declared as dividends.

MYSTERY SOLVED

Residents at 346 Moran road were startled to find a strange car parked in their garage on December 14. Farms police soon solved the mystery. It belonged to Rose Levans of 346 McMillan. She had left it at a repair shop and an employee had delivered it to the wrong address.

County's Offer Going Begging

The offer of the County Road Commission to pay one half the cost of providing for a hard surface between the roadway and the sidewalks on Mack avenue, made some weeks ago, was briefly discussed again at the Farms Council meeting Monday night, December 16.

When the offer of the Road Commission was received, notices were sent out to that effect to the Mack avenue property owners. It has been discovered, however, that many of these parties own unimproved lots and are unwilling to spend even half the cost at this time for this work.

Those who wish to do so can communicate with the Road Commission, which will attend to their properties and bill them accordingly. The Village has no present financial liability in the matter.

Council to Study Plea for Pension

The case of Mrs. William Dansbury, widow of the late officer in the Farms police department, is due for early consideration. Mrs. Dansbury is seeking to be placed on the permanent pension roll of the village in the plea that her husband died directly in the line of service as the result of strain placed on his heart by the performance of some work to which he had been assigned.

President Watkins urged, at the Council meeting Monday night, Dec. 16, that an early decision be made in the case.

Dr. Spaulding, a heart specialist, has been retained by the village to represent it in the matter. Patrolman Dansbury died suddenly of a heart attack.

At the meeting on January 6 the matter will be up for final decision. Dr. Spaulding has been requested to be present and Mrs. Dansbury has been requested to notify such legal and medical council as she elects, to be there also.

IMPROVEMENTS

Additional plumbing and toilet facilities have been installed in the Farms municipal building for the police department.

Christmas Cheer Spread by Groups

The boys out at Percy Jones Hospital will find their Christmas dinner tables gaily ornamented by center pieces arranged especially for them by the Pointe's Little Garden Club.

On Tuesday, Dec. 10 the group met at Mrs. Carsten Tiedeman's home on Kenwood road for a full day's work on the festive arrangements. Mrs. Alvan Macauley, Jr. and Mrs. Harold Wadsworth were co-hostesses with Mrs. Tiedeman for the second annual meeting of the group to help brighten the Christmas for the Percy Jones men.

In the same vein—on the same day, the Junior League Gardeners met in the home of Mrs. John N. Lord, to wrap Christmas gift boxes which were distributed to members of the League for the Handicapped at a Christmas party the following Tuesday. Hostesses for the group at Mrs. Lord's were Mrs. Edgar L. Fink, Mrs. James McMillan and Mrs. George Monro III.

Elizabeth Hawes
Has sharpened her claws
She fancies Grosse Pointe
Is quite a Grosse Pointe.

After reading "HURRY UP PLEASE, IT'S TIME"

We were just putting out the last little smudge fires in the ash trays with the seltzer bottle the other dawning, when the phone blasted in our weary ears. Clutching the receiver in a stranglehold as we silently doomed all charming people who phoned to say if you found a pair of pink doeskin gloves under the pillow, PUL-LEASE hold them and say nothing. But it wasn't the lost and found fumbler. It was the mello cello of Maggy the Model.

"I just hopped in, darling. I'm at the airport. May I come right out?"

"We'll come for you, Maggy." "Oh no, Mr. McGillicuddy wants to drop me off—"

"Who's Mr. McGillicuddy? He might drop you off the Belle Isle Bridge—"

"He owns all the oil in Texas. And he doesn't even know where the bridge is. I'll be safe as an armored car in his limousine—"

Before one could protest further, Maggy hung up. And before the fresh coffee perked she was there.

Nobody had a right to look as dewy and dashing as Maggy did sitting in that kitchen chair over the coffee cups, her Red Riding Hood Cape childishly lined in ermine slithering off her shoulders. She was cold, but warming up with the cafe royale and excitement.

"Look what I've been reading all the way out in that fog bound pit of a plane." She handed me the thin stiffly boarded book, hot from the press—and we do mean hot.

"HURRY UP PLEASE, IT'S TIME" — by Elizabeth Hawes. Hm, so the Vassar Harasser is at it again," we said.

"Liz has gone loopy on labor," said Maggy. "I wish she'd go back to her Fashion-Is-Spinach period. She's better at minding her own business than everybody else's," rushed on Maggy. The book was thumbing through the book now for some chapter.

"One shouldn't really underestimate her brains and ability," we pointed out. "And she's as sincere as only a crusader can be. She jumps into things right up to her pretty ears. When she wanted to be a designer, after finishing Vassar, she hocked the family heirlooms to study in Paris. She slaved in Bergdorf Goodman's designing rooms before establishing her own custom business. And when she took to writing, her pen was as sharp as her scissors. But I wouldn't lose any sleep over it, Maggy."

"I won't. But I was suspended in mid-sky and she had me right on the point of her scissors, so I read on and on. I just want to read you a couple of her paragraphs on your beloved Grosse Pointe in her chapter on Detroit—U. S. —and then we'll call it a night."

"Okay," we yawned. "But they better be sharp."

"They are," said Maggy, reading aloud. "Here goes—"

"Detroit must be the ugliest city in the world. It is a labyrinth of low office buildings and two-family houses, which lie flatly and forever, in all directions, under a thin layer of gray greasiness which floated just above my eye level in my office on the thirteenth floor of the Macabees building. . . . The giant plants dominate the city. The city of Detroit belongs to those plants—not to the people who live in it."

"The owners of the plants, if they live anywhere in the vicinity have their homes in Grosse Pointe along the edge of Lake Sinclair, or in another woody suburb called Birmingham—"

"It would seem to us," we interrupted, "that if one is going to condemn, one should condemn accurately. Even in Vassar, they must teach that one of the Great Lakes is not Lake Sinclair, but

Their Engagement Announced

The engagement of MISS ANN MARIE DOOLEY, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Dooley of 71 Mapleton road, and ALFRED JOHN MARTIN, JR., son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred John Martin of Dearborn Hills, was announced Saturday night at a dinner party given in the home of her parents. Ann is a graduate of St. Paul's High School and is classified advertising manager of the Grosse Pointe News. Al served in the Army and is now attending the University of Detroit.

Ste. Claire."

"From there," said Maggy, skipping a few pages, "she races into a tirade of the automobile aristocracy of the Pointe; as Exhibit she cites a cocktail party at which she was entertained. It was one of those champagne-on-a-volcano affairs at which her alleged friend hesitated to introduce her by her right name. Her host was not aware Elizabeth Hawes was working for the UAW-CIO. Listen to this:

"After a softening up period, I ventured to ask him gently why Detroit was such an ugly city when there was so much wealth thereabout."

"Oh—Detroit, I see what you mean," He looked at me, his mind seeing what he seldom bothered to look at as his car took him to the office. "Well," he said, settling comfortably back into the couch corner, "of course, you're new. You must realize that the men who came here to make the auto industry feel no affiliation for Detroit."

We yawned. Maggy skipped to the next page.

"I was as grateful to escape from Grosse Pointe that night as they were to get rid of me. In New York I might be able to cross boundary lines. But in Detroit, one chose one's side of the barricades and kept on it."

"Singing on one's host just isn't done," we said, rising. "You drink up, Maggy, and let's go to bed. Liz Hawes' book sounds like a case of mind over manners. She has no manners and we don't mind."

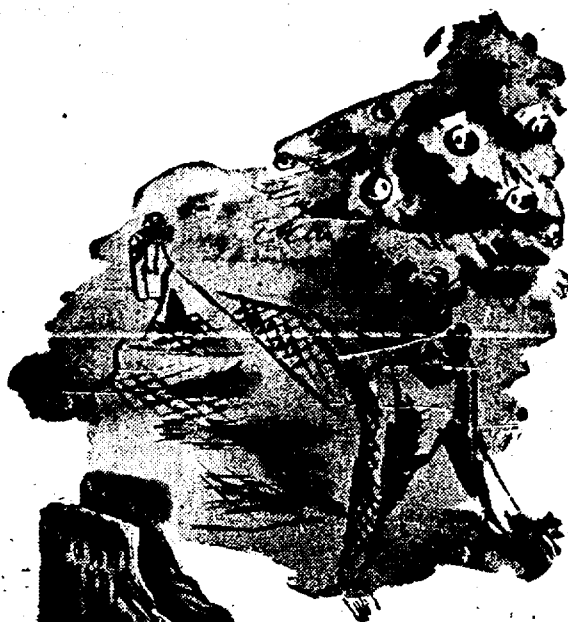

We headed upstairs with Maggy still quoting sections of the chapter on Detroit and Grosse Pointe. "Liz claims that during the sit-down strikes the Grosse Pointers all left town, that their houses were all shut tight, blinds drawn. Also, she takes a flyer at an unnamed column in a Grosse Pointe paper—"

"Anonymous cracks, like anonymous letters rate no notice," we yawned. "If Liz can't write straight, she's wise-cracking up." "Maybe she ought to eat her own spinach?" asked Maggy.

"Tell me, Maggy, do you models have a union?"

"No, just a gentleman's agreement," said Maggy. "It's the only way for a girl to do business." "Whaddye mean, a gentleman's agreement?" we inquired. "Why, it's SIMPLE!" beamed Maggy. "YOU just tell the gentleman how much money you want and HE agrees—that's what I call a gentleman's agreement!" m. m.

A gay Christmas spirit was definitely in the air this week-end. With the festive holidays drawing near, the teen-agers have been very busy with their last minute arrangements for parties and visiting guests.

The Friday night gatherings of the YOUTH CLUB are really successes if you can judge by the weekly attendance. The fellows and gals had a fine time for themselves playing ping-pong and dancing to the recorded music. Waltzing around the floor were John Fushman, Ellen Boulit, Theima Piche, George Heidt, Ted Vernier, Carol Staub, Charles Boulit, Al Winowitch, Bill Huettelman, Donna DuBeau, John Clark, Chuck Wyllie, Jo Camella, Peg Lunch, Gloria Luffy, Jack Boomer, Charles Alaska, Nancy Logue, Jene Allard, Donna Klein, Sally McKernan, Mary Anne Stuhldreher, Peg Tyde, Anne Dungan, John Fauser, Ray Bieski, Joan Whyte, and John Hutton.

Sonja Henie and her Revue welcomed many friends to Olympia Stadium while in Detroit. Some of the teen-agers who proclaimed her performance "a hit" included Jo Priziola, Shirley Evans, Ray Evans, Mary Ann Backman, Do Backman and Bob Morrison and Joanne Athanson and Ray Huettelman.

Before you know it... it'll be Merry Christmas... and today we send special greetings to deb Julie Hudson... Who... judging from a quick look at the debutante calendar... is THE bud of December 26...

And pretty nearly the most fated darling of Society during the Christmas holidays... with at least five important gals planned in her honor...

Merry Christmas again to little Julie... who hasn't got a nickname... and who loves bachelor buttons...

Who loves to ski in the Laurentian Mountains... And who... if she could travel right this instant... would desert her Christmas tree for Bermuda...

(She's never been there... Julie's been home since Thanksgiving from Endicott College... and its part of the school's plan to have students spend four weeks in grim practical work before returning to complete the term...

The deb has been toiling at Grosse Pointe News... her chores having included everything from police reporting... to taking society notes on the special gold-telephone over which Michigan Bell Tel. sends ALL our society department calls...

LADY LUNCHEONS... NO The debutante doesn't enjoy "lady" luncheons... that's why the George O. Johnstons' luncheon for her on Dec. 28 at their Lothrop road home will be for ladies AND gentlemen...

This very day (Thursday) the Chisholm Macdonalds and the Harold R. Boyers are to be hosts at a cocktail supper party for Julie at the Grosse Pointe Club...

A touch of her favorite blue (ice blue is the EXACT shade she most prefers) will trim the bodice of her black satin brocade afternoon frock at the Little Club party...

(An dour fashion spy tells us Julie has The Most Swithering ice blue evening gown all ready for one of the big holiday balls!)

On the twenty-sixth... Mr. and Mrs. Theodore DeLong Buhl will be the deb's hosts at a dinner party in their Ridge road home. Preceding the ball at which the deb's grandmother... Mrs. Arthur H. Buhl is feting her in the Country Club...

Two Pointe Weddings To Be Held Saturday

Bernardine Simonds and Jacqueline Bowen to Marry John K. McEvoy and Hugh Verity Anderson Respectively

This coming Saturday, Dec. 21, will mark not one—but two wedding ceremonies in the Pointe. Bernardine Simonds, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Warner Simonds, will become the bride of John K. McEvoy, the son of Mrs. James McEvoy and the late Mr. McEvoy at a home ceremony at 3:30 in the afternoon. That same evening in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church Jacqueline Bowen, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Bowen, and Hugh Verity Anderson, son of Mrs. Carmichael Anderson, of Evanston, Ill., and Edwin F. Anderson, of Chicago, will speak their marriage vows.

Bernardine's and John's wedding will take place at a quiet home ceremony, to be performed in the living room of the Simonds' home on Lewiston road. Dr. Frank Pitt will officiate.

Bernardine has asked her sister, Barbara Simonds, to be her maid of honor, and her bridesmaid will be Alice White, of New Jersey. Little Wendy Colby, the daughter of the Frederick Colbys, Jr., of Merriweather road, will be the flower girl.

James McEvoy, Jr. will be his brother's best man. Ralph W. Simonds, Jr., and Richard Simonds will be the ushers.

Mrs. Paul Stephen Strasburg, Jr., honored Bernardine at a luncheon at the Country Club last Tuesday. A small group of the bride-elect's Liggett friends were guests.

Mr. and Mrs. James McEvoy,

Anne S. Ordway New York Bride

In a ceremony at St. Batholemew's Chapel in New York City on Saturday afternoon, Anne Sherman Ordway, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ordway, of Battle Creek and Park avenue, New York, became the bride of Tyson Dines, Jr., of Denver, the son of Tyson Dines, of Denver, and the late Mrs. Dines.

The Rev. George T. P. Sargent officiated at the afternoon ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of heavy white satin fashioned with a fitted bodice and off-the-shoulder neckline. The skirt was fashioned with a butterfly bustle, and extended into a long train. Small garlands of fresh flowers held her finger tip veil of illusion in place. With her prayer book she carried white orchids and boyvardia.

Anne's sister, Sarah, was her maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Sally Ann Warren, of Milwaukee; Barbara Eaton, of New York City; Mrs. W. Leinster Farmer, of New York; and Yvonne Yntema, of Saginaw. Anne's two nieces, Katherine and Isabel Hobson, of Rye, N.Y., were the junior bridesmaids.

All of the attendants were dressed in white faille period dresses, and they wore hats of American Beauty plumes. Their bouquets were of American Beauty roses.

G. Allan Smith, of Denver, was the best man. The ushers were the bridegroom's brother, Allen Dines; Robert Orr James Nelson, James B. Phillips, Wilbur E. McClellan and John M. Butler, Jr.

The reception was held in the Cosmopolitan Club following the ceremony.

St. Paul Alumni Plan Xmas Dance

A Christmas dance will be the first activity to be sponsored by a rejuvenated St. Paul's High School Alumni Association. Dormant for the last few years, the association has had a new spark breathed into by the Rev. Father Parrish and many functions are planned for the coming year.

More than 200 members have signed up for active participation since the first reorganization meeting in October.

The dance will be held in the Lochmoor Club on Friday night, December 27. Joe Muglia and his orchestra will furnish the music. All alumni and friends of the school and parish are urged to attend.

Tickets may be purchased from Father Parrish, Niagara 8855, or from Miss Audrey Schneider, Niagara 8725.

Meetings of the Alumni Association will be held in the school monthly. After a short business session, the balance of the gathering will be turned over to social activity.

Good will isn't much gone unless, at the same time, you know what to do.

Her Engagement Announced

The engagement of MISS NANCY ANN STOCKING, daughter of Mrs. Charles D. Stocking, of Westchester road, and the late Mr. Stocking, to George O. Young, Jr., was announced at a cocktail party given Sunday, December 15, in the Stocking residence on Westchester road. Mr. Young is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George O. Young, of Somerset road.

Another Yuletide Wedding Planned

Another Christmas-time wedding on the calendar for Pointers is that of Josephine Marie Shepherd and Richard Russell Stofflett. They will be married on Saturday, Dec. 28, in St. Paul's on the Lake Shore, with Father Joseph Bohr officiating.

Josephine is the daughter of the Stanley Edwin Shepherds, of Fisher road, and Richard is the son of the Claude F. Stoffletts, of Seebault avenue.

Kathleen Shepherd will be her sister's maid of honor. The bridesmaids will be Isobel Hawley and Joan Loranger.

The best man will be Edwin J. McCauley, and seating the guests will be George H. Hammond, William Snyder, Egan L. Mallick, Hazen Wilson, Alex DeLoye and John Mitchell.

Parties honoring Josephine have included a shower and dinner given by Isobel Hawley, and a dinner given by Josephine's aunt, Mrs. J. T. McLaughlin, of Pasadena, Calif. Mrs. McLaughlin is visiting her sister, Miss Kathleen Kahl, in her home on Audubon road.

Also in honor of the bride-elect was a kitchen shower given yesterday by Joan Loranger.

Methodist Group Holds Elections

Mrs. Virgil L. Walling, 327 Kerby road, was chosen chairman of the new evening group of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Grosse Pointe Methodist Church at a meeting held in her home last Tuesday evening. Other officers of the new group are: Mrs. Hugh Dells, 419 Touraine road, secretary; Mrs. A. W. Colett, 1047 Hampton road, treasurer.

This Group has been organized for the convenience of young mothers, employed women, and others who are unable to attend a daytime group of the Woman's Society. Mrs. Vinal I. Bailey, Promotional Secretary of the Woman's Society of Christian Service, organized the new group.

Mrs. Francis Brown, 1007 Yorkshire road, is program chairman for the next meeting, which will be held Tuesday, January 21, in the home of Mrs. Dells on Touraine road.

Doris Canfield Tells Betrothal

The engagement of Doris Merrill Canfield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claire L. Canfield of Lakeland avenue, to Chester R. Homuth, son of Mrs. Herbert L. Homuth of Barrington, Ill., and the late Mr. Homuth, was announced at a buffet supper party in the home of the parents of the bride-elect.

Doris is a graduate of Grosse Pointe High School and Michigan State College.

After attending North Central College in Illinois, Chet served almost three years in the Army Air Forces, two of which were

DORIS MERRILYN CANFIELD spent in India. He is now continuing his studies.

TANGLE ON TOURAINE

Mrs. Robert W. Condor, 315 Touraine road, was driving her Chrysler north on Touraine on December 12, when she collided with a Pontiac driven by Hafford Porter Hart, 23614 Bierman avenue, Van Dyke, Michigan, who was going west on Kercheval. Both parties were ticketed. An estimated $80 worth of damage was done to both cars.

More Engagements Among Holiday News

Gloria Fletemeyer to Marry Walter Schmitt; Nancy Ann Stocking to Be Bride of George O. Young, Jr.

Holiday festivity news is supplemented this week by the announcement of two engagements in the Pointe.

Last Saturday evening at a party in their home on E. Grand boulevard, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick R. Fletemeyer announced the engagement of their daughter, Gloria Lou, to Walter H. Schmitt.

The guests in the Fletemeyer home discovered the news when they worked out a jig saw puzzle of Santa Claus carrying in his pack a diamond ring for Gloria. The bride-elect was graduated from the Liggett School and Duke University. She is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta.

Her fiancé, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Schmitt, of Lochmoor boulevard, attended the University of Michigan and Wayne University. No date has been set for the wedding. On Sunday afternoon of this past weekend guests arrived at a cocktail party at the home of Mrs. Charles D. Stocking on Westchester road, to find romance the keynote of the occasion.

Mrs. Stocking announced the engagement of her daughter, Nancy Ann, to George O. Young, Jr., the son of Mr. and Mrs. George O. Young, of Somerset road.

Schools, Club and Village To Share Storm Drain Cost

Woods Will Also Ask Wayne County Road Commission to Chip in on Project Necessitated by Proposed Building

An agreement was reached Tuesday night, Dec. 17, at the Woods Council meeting for the sharing of the expense of putting in the storm water drainage facilities necessitated by the planned erection of the new Junior High School at Vernier and Mack.

The parties interested are the Woods village, the Board of Education and the Lochmoor Club. At the meeting were Board of Education President Charles Parsons, Superintendent of Schools Dr. Paul Essert, School Director Bert Wicking and Clerk Clark for the Board of Education; Attorney W. L. Miller for the Lochmoor Club and President Ghesquiere and the Board of Village Commissioners.

The total cost of the project, including engineering fees and inspection, will be $4,704.50. Attorney Miller stated that the directors of the Lochmoor Club had voted as their share of the expense a round figure of $1,600. The Board of Education officials offered to pay $1,581.50 which is to include specifically the construction of a 24 in. drain on Sunningdale avenue for 282 feet.

The village will pay the balance, amounting to $1,523. This area was formerly drained by a ditch which has since become clogged and obstructed. The immediate need for the storm water disposal is to care for the water that will come off of the roof of the new high school, keeping it clear of the school property.

After this detail was finished and the representatives of the Club and Board of Education had left the room some bright mind on the Board of Village Commissioners advanced the idea that the County Road Commission should also participate in paying for this project inasmuch as county roads in this area contributed greatly to the storm water disposal problem.

The discussion progressed to the offering of a motion to ask the County Road Commission to participate in the village's share of the cost. It then dawned on the board members that the Lochmoor Club and the Board of Education might not consider it quite cricket for the village to try to lighten its share, bypassing the claims of the school district and Lochmoor club to benefit equally with the village in anything the county might chip into the cost.

The motion as a written instrument died aborning, but there was an evident disposition on the part of some of the village commissioners to make a valiant attempt to get the county to come along, and particularly for the village's financial benefit.

The 24 in. storm water drain will start at a point on Sunningdale where an old county drain went off the school board property on the southeast corner of Vernier and Mack, thence along Sunningdale to Vernier, thence east on Vernier to a storm water manhole about 500 feet beyond.

The old drain formerly went diagonally across the Lochmoor club grounds to the same manhole.

W. B. Palmer, Jr. Veteran of Both World Wars, Dies

William Beresford Palmer, Jr., formerly of the Pointe, died at the age of 54 in Washington, D. C., on December 12. Funeral services were held in the Chevy Chase Presbyterian church in Washington on Saturday, Dec. 14.

Mr. Palmer, a veteran Reserve Army officer during World War I, saw action in the field artillery in the Battle of the Marne and the Meuse-Argonne offensive. He was a first lieutenant and served overseas for two and a half years.

In World War II he served as a lieutenant-commander in the Naval Reserve and was executive officer of an advance base unit in the African-Sicilian campaigns and later in England. He headed an invasion force in the European Theater.

Mr. Palmer was a graduate of the University of Michigan, class of 1915, and was a member of Beta Theta Pi fraternity. He was affiliated for 22 years with the Universal Button Fastening and Button Co., of Detroit, as an officer and executive, from 1921 to 1942.

He was a member of the University Club, the Detroit Club, the University Club of Washington, and a former member of the Detroit Country Club.

Prior to joining the Naval Reserve in 1942, Mr. Palmer was for two years president of the Board of Trustees of the Grosse Pointe Memorial church.

Recently Mr. Palmer had lived in Washington, where he was affiliated with the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and the War Assets Administration.

He died following an illness of two months. He is survived by his wife, Agnes Butterworth Palmer; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Beresford Palmer of Beverly Hills, Calif.; two brothers, Albert Stevens Palmer of Palo Alto, Calif., and Edwin Barbour Palmer of Denver, Colo.; and three children by his former marriage to Margaret Longyear Palmer, Howard Longyear Palmer, Esther McGraw Palmer and William Beresford Palmer, III.

Two Cars Crash On Kensington

There was a two-car smash at Kensington and Mack at 4 p. m. Wednesday, Dec. 12, involving a car owned by Aaron Lipid of 3112 Woodward and driven by Hisato F. Arima, a Japanese. Arima, of 927 W. Ferry, Detroit, at first assumed to be a chauffeur employed by Lipid, was later found to be a salesman employed by him.

The other car was owned and driven by Lawrence F. LaVoice of 4578 Radnor.

Arima, going east on Mack, attempted a right turn into Kensington and struck LaVoice's car. Both machines were badly damaged but there was no personal injury. Arima was given a ticket.

Detroit's Christmas Tree To Be Lighted December 24

A little crippled child will share honors with the Mayor of Detroit when the City's official Christmas Tree lighting services take place at 5:30 p. m. Christmas Eve, Tuesday, December 24, in front of the city hall.

The ceremonies are being staged by the Department of Parks and Recreation and 200 youthful carollers from various recreation centers will sing Christmas hymns during the program. Members of the department's boys band will play instrumental music for an hour preceding the tree lighting.

Serving as a background for the carollers and other performers will be a colorful tableau depicting that scene of long ago when wise men and shepherds, who followed the star of Bethlehem, came to the manger where the Christ child was born.

To blonde, nine-year-old Dorothy Stewart of the Children's Convalescent Home at Farmington, falls the honor of pulling the switch that illuminates the giant evergreen as the 200 children's voices ring out in the sacred music.

Mayor Edward J. Jeffries, Jr., will extend Christmas greetings to the thousands of on-lookers who gather at the city hall for the ceremonies. The program will be broadcast by WWJ—The Detroit News.

The 65-foot tree, central figure of the event, is the gift of Voltaire 102, Forty and Eight of the American Legion. Irving J. Dawson, Chief de Gare of Voltaire 102, will make the presentation.

In some sections of the Orient it is customary for a girl to weave a special rug for presentation to her prospective husband. It is said that some young men look over the field of dowry rugs in the village before picking out a prospective bride.

BREAK FOR SKATERS?

If the cold weather holds, there will be some mighty fine skating on the fringes of Lake St. Clair soon. Whereas during the week-end heavy seas entirely devoid of ice pounded the sea wall, by Wednesday, a mirror-smooth coating of ice had covered long stretches of the waterfront. With the cold wave reported here for a protracted visit, there might be safe, smooth skating for the weekend.

We need to live out our traditions—not live on them.

PRINCE OF PEACE

The approaching Christmas should inaugurate the happiest holiday season that has smiled on this grey old World in many a year. With war passed and threats of new wars fast receding, the face of the whole Christian world is lighted by a new hope. The substantial progress that has been made towards a secured and lasting peace in recent days in the United Nations' conferences, contributes in no small measure to this new hope. Abundant crops have been harvested in our own land and the battle scarred fields of the Old World have been partially smoothed out preparatory to giving sustenance to the war blighted peoples of other lands.

We are taking great steps toward a realization of that reign of the Prince of Peace to which the World has aspired for two thousand years. The outlines of a millenium are in sight.

Never has there been so great justification for a World rejoicing as this year. The troubles which still perplex us are trifling in comparison with the Gethsemane through which the world has so recently passed.

National leaders have progressed far towards implementing the precepts of the Prince of Peace.

Let us give our enthusiasms to the spirit of the hour.

Pulling Together

The reluctance of some of the great labor unions to advance themselves as the spearhead for a new series of drives for higher wages is a wholesome sign. It may be interpreted as an awakening on their part to the fact that the country is growing heartily tired of strikes and general civil disorder which delay and threaten to wreck our national economy. They realize that the whole structure of unionism has a narrow escape in the recent situation which bull-headed John L. Lewis threatened with his miners' strike.

Inversely, a great opportunity is offered union labor in this country to reestablish itself stronger and more rationally than ever, by its recognition that the common welfare transcends all other considerations.

There is practically a universal understanding now that the tremendous problems involved in the relationships of labor and management can be best solved through the great organizations of both labor and capital. There is no important opinion in this country which disagrees with this theory. There is no disposition to break it up, allegations of some labor leaders to the contrary notwithstanding. But labor must realize, as must capital, that the rights of both must be recognized in our economic scheme. There are too many unionists in this country who are capitalists and too many capitalists who are working men to permit any segregation of either as a class apart.

The prayer now nearest to the heart of the American people is that our economic ship of state may be able to steer a safe course between the shoals of unemployment on the one hand and those of inflation on the other. Either are dangerous and can become deadly to the common welfare. Good wages are necessary. A fair return of profits to our millions of stockholders is equally necessary. It is only by this combination that the country can maneuver its national debt of astronomical proportions and so preserve the national credit, without which there is nothing. It can be done by clear thinking, common sense and fine patriotism, in all of which the American people are completely capable. Pertinent to this whole subject, the President is doing a wise thing in eliminating war time controls as fast as he and his advisers think prudent. Each step is an approach to the free enterprise which has made this nation what it is and without which it cannot go on as the most favored habitation of civilized men the world has known in its whole long and painful history.

World Capitol

It was one hundred and forty seven years ago last Saturday night, December 14, since George Washington died peacefully in his home at Mount Vernon. That great character whose indomitable will kept the often faint hearted patriots steadfast on their march towards freedom and who, earlier, as a young man, had rescued the remnants of Braddock's defeated army at Fort Duquesne, lived to pass away of pneumonia in his own home on the Potomac, revered and honored by his fellow countrymen and respected throughout the civilized world.

Now, that scattered fringe of two and one half million colonists along the Atlantic seaboard whose will and courage Washington had forged into a little nation, has grown into the mightiest power in all history; a power so great that it was recently able to come to the rescue throughout the world of that freedom which he first established here.

The recognition of the world primacy of Washington's country has been recently seen in the establishment here of the permanent capital of the United Nations. By common consent of other nations the United States was deemed the only appropriate spot from which watch and ward for human freedom might be established. Europe was too wrecked physically and morally to trust itself.

The event, just confirmed, must have vaulted beyond even the dreams of Washington himself.

The Faithful Policeman

The people of Grosse Pointe had brought to their attention this week the debt which society is under to the faithful policemen whose routine daily duty is carried on in its defense. Sergeant Frank J. Snay didn't meet his death in any dramatic battle with gunmen or robbers. He was just engaged in his customary rounds in the small hours of the morning, while we were sleeping safe and warm in our homes, to see that all's well. A reckless automobile driver crashed into his car and he was killed, but his death was as truly in the line of duty as though he had faced desperadoes, gun in hand, in the defense of our lives and dear ones.

All honor to the faithful policeman who stand guard over us. We pay great honors to the soldier who faces death for

A. PRYOR

"No night so wild but brings the constant sun,
With love and power untold;
No time so dark but through its woof there run
Some blessed threads of gold."

(Christopher Cranck)

A Grosse Pointe mother-of-young was vaguely flabbergasted last week, when she answered the telephone and heard a viddy precise English voice speak the following non-stop paragraph:

"Good morning, Madam. This is Copperfield, the Hoity-toit's butler. Mrs. Hoitytoit is South, Madam, and wishes me to prepare the invitations she wants sent out for the party they are giving for Miss Gloria Hoitytoit. I'm in a bit of a funk, Madam, over the list of guests sent to me by Miss Gloria. I know that your children are friends of Miss Gloria's . . . so I wonder if Madam would be so kind as to tell me the identity of Bosco, Pip and . . . ahem, . . . Stinkey . . . beggin' your pardon, Madam."

We know just how Copperfield felt. More women have told us lately that they are going crazy trying to figure out the correct names of youngsters on invitation lists. The daughter or son in a family will make out a list filled with such first names as "Soapy" . . . "Fais" . . . "Gimp" . . . "Doozy" . . . "Yipper" . . . and "Sandy" and half the time, the kids don't know themselves what their friends' names really are. Sooo, if you are a mother of a reigning-beau-of-the-season . . . don't be startled to find his mail addressed to (for example) . . . Mr. Stinkey Lovejoy.

And speaking of party invitations, someone sent us one of the answers they received to a very formal invitation they had sent. The reply came from a chic young matron on the Lake Shore, and was written beautifully and correctly . . . just like Mrs. Post sez. EXCEPT that in the lower left hand corner, in the same handwriting, was written, "by Annie, Mrs. Soandso's maid."

If you're in the market for a book for Christmas, don't overlook Earl Wilson's Pikes Peak or Bust. It is as amusing as his "Gazing Into My Eight Ball" . . . and most men would like it. Don't bother about Elizabeth Hawes' "Hurry Please It's Time." It's badly written and dull as last year's newspapers. She devotes one chapter to Detroit in which she gives Grosse Pointe the bird. She tee hees, ha ha's and haw Hawes all over the place about us poor Penitents . . . but even THAT isn't worth the price of the book.

Talley Rant

by Helen Talley

CHRISTMAS is all over the place. SANTA CLAUSES tinkle bells at you on every street corner. Decorations are new and gay and full of imagination. Great fifty-foot candy canes decorate the fronts of Macy's and Gimbel's and Sak's. Tinsel-decorated CHRISTMAS TREES stand in the little safety area parks across from their entrances. Lord and Taylor's first floor has a storm of gleaming white snowflakes drifting gently over the heads of the shoppers. ANGELS in spangled gauze gowns float on silver wings among the flakes. It is simply charming. Bonwit's main floor is garlanded with green and thousands of tiny, clear electric bulbs give the impression of festoons of mistletoe.

You may have only one pair of pants to your name this winter, but they'd better be ski pants. They tell me it will really be dangerous to set foot in Massachusetts without ski pants after the first snow. A ski plane may fall on you and a ski train run over you or the skiers cut you down to a mess of slalom. New ski centers are opening on every hill. One of the best, they say with money and muscles behind it, is the Chickley Alp at Charlemont. There are 82 acres of open slopes, six towns and, very important, a fine old inn.

NEW YORKERS are the most sentimental bicks in the world. They save old trolley car transfers. When the THIRD AVENUE NUEL was scrapped a group of citizens mounted the stairs and solemnly took the last ride in the last car to run the rails. Last week there was another occasion for tears down the nose. The old, open-top, double-deck buses passed away and streamlined single-deckers sped jauntily down FIFTH AVENUE. Two citizens bought buses. Can you imagine them arriving home and saying, "Look, dear, I've finally found a CHRISTMAS

I talked to a LADY PIPE ORGANIST on a train the other day, and shall, in future, hold all such in respect and awe. It is a job for ten fingers and ten toes and if you suffer from polydactylism you get along even better. DOROTHY SAREMAL doesn't—she is a pretty blond with five on each of the four corners. She said that often the four fingers on your hand are playing a melody, the thumb playing base, your left hand pulling out the stops, and each of your feet beating and toeing like mad on the keyboard below. Necessarily, LADY PIPE ORGANISTS must wear flat heels. With evening gowns, they wear books at their waists and as they sit down they quickly hitch up their dresses. One time DOROTHY took a bow before she remembered to unhook her gown. We both thought that was pretty funny. She, in retrospect.

his country ten thousand miles away. Let us not overlook the soldiers of the municipality who do the same for us here at home. Day after day and night after night these brave men, as a matter of routine duty, stand guard over our safety and peace of mind. If some woman, alone in her home and nervous, hears a strange sound about the house, a moment's dialing of a familiar number on the phone, and sooner than it takes to tell a couple of stalwart men are at her door to bring her the comfort and reassurance she needs. If her boy is late and she is worried, they find him and send him skeddaddling home. If her little tot has wandered a block or a mile away they locate her and bring her tenderly back to mother. They are the first aid to our sick and injured. It is these apparently little services carried on twenty four hours in the day and every day in the year that tell the people of this community the faithful and unusual service they are getting. The fact that there has been no major crime committed in this section for a long time signifies more than the assumed inherent goodness of the people who live here. It is chiefly that they have a police force which is eternally vigilant to their safety and protection.

Dear Sir:

The rumor has gone about that I had been responsible in some way for the half hour parking limitation on Kercheval Ave., between Fisher Road and the Punch & Judy Theatre.

The facts are, that I requested the Parks authorities to place a "No Parking between Signs" in front of my customers to stop for loading or unloading paintings, since for five years, there has never been a time when one could get access to either the front or rear entrance of our Gallery, both being blocked constantly by parked cars.

Council did not see fit to grant my request, but decided instead to impose a thirty minute parking limitation on the whole block.

Yours very truly,

Joseph M. de Grimme

Gentlemen:

The writer has lost a most beautiful tree from the rear of my summer home just because I failed to take the advice of a friend to place a lightning rod on it.

You have gone to a great expense to save a beautiful tree and I for one would not like to see it split by lightning as mine was. So perhaps a word will save this beautiful tree before it is too late.

Next summer may tell a sad story so won't you consider this NOW. I did not heed the advice and I paid plenty in 1st, the loss of the tree, then the damage to the building and last the cost of removing the stump.

Yours,

Harold E. Siebert,
43 Hawthorne Blvd.
Grosse Pointe Shores.

Dear Sir:

During 1946 the generous cooperation of the Grosse Pointe News has contributed immensely to the success of projects we have undertaken.

Your consistent attention to the problems of youth and youth-serving agencies has done a lot to awaken public interest and to sustain it. We have found our job of service to girls easier because of this.

We did want you to know how much we appreciate your help and how much we must rely upon your continued cooperation.

In behalf of the eighteen thousand girls who have had a chance to be "Citizens in Action"—our deep thanks.

Sincerely yours,
Catharine V. Richards,
Executive Director,
Detroit Girl Scouts, Inc.

Dear Editor:

May we take this opportunity to thank you and your staff for the cooperation you gave the publicity program during the recent Community Chest Red Feather Campaign?

James B. Webber, Jr., our campaign chairman, and many other campaign leaders have gone out of their way to tell us how wonderful they think the publicity was this year. Many of the volunteer solicitors have commented on the publicity, too.

Your efforts, and those of your staff helped make these and many other favorable reports possible. We thank you sincerely for your cooperation and we hope you will continue to keep your readers informed of the good work done all year round by Red Feather services.

Cordially,

Robert F. G. Copeland,
Chairman, Adcraft-Community Chest Publicity Committee.

To the Editor:

Why doesn't Grosse Pointe have skating rinks on their school playgrounds? Detroit has them and they are enjoyed by thousands of Detroit children every year. Many Grosse Pointe parents will not allow their children to skate on the Detroit River or Lake St. Clair. In fact, very few of them will, because of the danger.

School ground skating rinks are a definite winter program in almost every city in the country and why shouldn't Grosse Pointe offer similar facilities for winter sport, health and recreation?

The construction and maintenance cost involved is not great because the school ground areas are level and it would only be necessary to lay an embankment to hold the water and the Fire Department could do the rest. The water could be supplied by the school if advisable with the students doing the work.

I am very certain both our civic administrations as well as our School Board will give their endorsement and support if action is taken immediately we could have school ground skating rinks this year.

Very truly yours,
HARRY L. BRINCK,
950 Beaconsfield,
Grosse Pointe Park, Michigan.

Dear Sir:

I noticed in a recent edition of the Grosse Pointe papers that the Automobile Club is planning to enlarge the office building which it is being allowed to construct on Jefferson Avenue in the Village. At hearings held by the Village Commission some time ago, to discuss revision of the Park's building code to allow construction of this office building, objections were raised particularly on the grounds that a parking problem on surrounding residential streets would arise from the large number of people coming to the building from Detroit as well as from Grosse Pointe. Representatives of the Automobile Club stated that the building would cover only a portion of the lot and that the property would afford parking places for employees and for all people having business at the club.

It now appears that the club intends to enlarge its building and that it will probably accommodate more employees and service more customers and consequently require more parking space. There can be little question but that many cars will be parked in adjacent residential streets of Grosse Pointe Park. The Park Commission acted unwisely, I believe, in not heeding the objections of residents to the erection of a business building on property restricted to residences. It seems now that the Commission may allow further injury to residents' interests if it approves an increase in the size of the building.

The club committed itself, in the event that the building code were changed, to erect an outstanding residence of considerable size on the corner opposite the new office building in order to impede the spreading of business eastward on Jefferson. It would seem that no building permit should be issued for the club's office building until such time as it has completed the residence, and further, that no increase in size over that originally planned.

Yours very truly,
A. F. Lecklider,
848 Berkshire Road,
Grosse Pointe Park.

December 11, 1946

Editor's Note: The club house which the Automobile Club of Michigan is going to erect at the corner of Jefferson and Somerset will occupy the same ground space as shown in the plans submitted to the Board of Village Commissioners of the Park. The reference to a larger building refers to the possibility of making the building slightly higher than originally planned to permit provision for a mezzanine floor.

The club will have a parking space on its property where members of the club can drive in, park their cars, be served by the club and drive out again without the necessity of parking on the streets at all. Officials of the club have told the NEWS that there would be much less street parking by reason of the club, when the new building is in operation, than is at present caused by its establishment in the Packard building at Lakepointe and Jefferson.

The fine residence building which is to be erected on the opposite corner of Jefferson and Somerset will be put up by the club project but the agreement by the Park village to the amendment to the zoning ordinance was conditioned upon this residence building being erected to mark, with an appropriate structure, the dividing line between the commercial area on the north side of Jefferson and the strictly residential area beyond.

smoker. Without the Little Woman champing to get on to the next department, Joe had time to stop and visit with friends. He met nearly everyone he'd ever known. While managers and clerks passed out cigars, cigarettes and candy, courteous clerks were wrapping purchases in gay Christmas packages.

Joe had a nice evening and went home with his shopping list completely cancelled. The shop owners closed their doors after a very satisfactory night and went home to get ready for another day. The women will find they have the stores pretty much to themselves from now until the holiday shopping is over.

Rotarians Hear Chemistry Talk

Melville Fahy, vice-president in charge of research with the Frederick Stearns company, spoke before the Grosse Pointe Rotary Club at the Monday meeting.

Mr. Fahy, who is a bio-chemist, a graduate of Beirut College in Syria, admirably adapted an abstruse subject to his lay audience.

He traced the remarkable progress that has been achieved in the past half century in bio-chemistry in the unfolding of the secrets of animal growth and the prevention of disease, out of which has come the various vitamins now so widely used in the building of resistance to disease and the supplying of needed elements to growth and health.

Pain in the Appendix Region

By FRED M. KOPP, R.F.H.

Pain in the appendix region should always be regarded as serious and the doctor should be consulted at once.

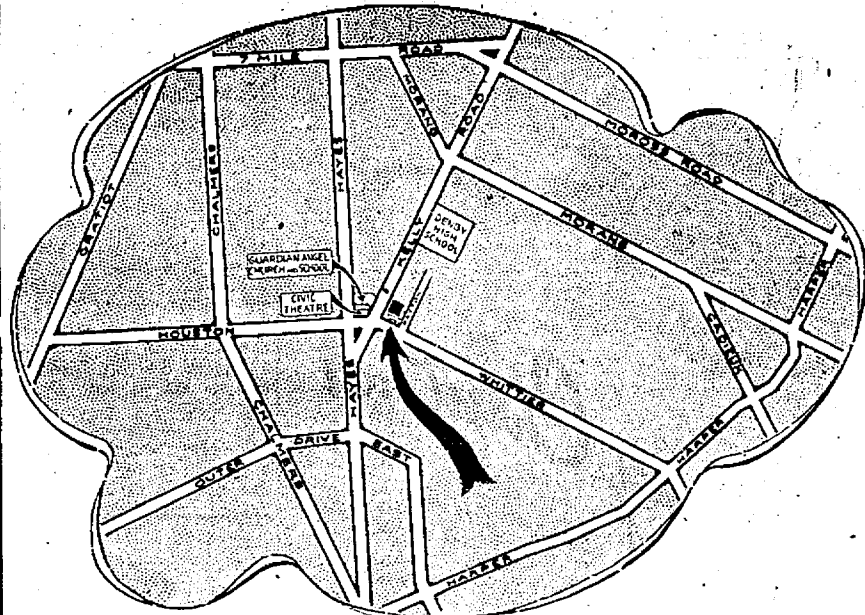

Because medical science has been able to educate most people to this fact, mortality from appendicitis has been reduced and continues to decline steadily. Further education is necessary, especially to stress the dangers of self-medication, which may aggravate the condition.

Your doctor will be able to determine if an operation is necessary, or if relief can be had through treatment or medication.

When medicine is advised, refer your prescription to a skilled, trained pharmacist. This is the 132nd of a series of Editorial Advertisements appearing in this paper each week.

Christmas

...and the twinkle of winter starlight

It just wouldn't seem like Christmas time in Michigan or anywhere else without the Christmas tree—gaily trimmed with candy canes and cranberries, silvery tinsel and flashing ornaments—topped off with the soft, warm glow from multicolored stars.

For centuries the Yule tree has brought light and laughter to the eyes and hearts of children everywhere. But it wasn't so many years ago when the lighting of the tree brought looks of apprehension from adults as youngsters danced about in the candlelight.

Thanks to electricity, the same delight is now safely shared by children and adults alike. Electricity has brought the twinkle of winter starlight into the living room, family room.

So you tell your children and friends—Merry Christmas and a very happy New Year!

Kid Bits

By Mary Prevo

Friday the 13th proved to be a mirth-making theme for MARI-ANNA LARSON'S party last week-end. To enter her home, everyone had to pass under a ladder, climb over obstacles and shiver at the thought of black cats crossing their paths. Those who will be suffering the future consequences of all these ill-omens are Joe Froman, Lois Buck, Sandy Malcomson, Marilyn Bower, Ken Vanderbush, Shirley Bishop, Bob Coleman, Gloria James, Jerry Webster, Joyce Culehan, Mike Bigley, Harriet Hunt, John Corfield, Barbara Smith, Bill Richardson, Carol Briggs, Dan Guy, Carol Stewart, Bob Phillips, Sal-lie Hoyt, Stuart Ward, Charlyn Salmon, Elton Bamford, Mary Whitcomb, Ralph Allured, Bonnie Lee and Mike Bigley.

WADE PULLIAM sent his party of eight scurrying all over the Pointe in search of the listed objects for his scavenger hunt Friday. Sue Field was Wade's date, Margie Simons was there with Ray Schumann, Sandy Malcomson took Lois Buck and Doug Sutherland was with Marilyn Anderson. The kids returned to 218 Merriweather to turn in their treasures and roast hot-dogs over the recreation room fire-place.

NORMA NEBB and JEANIE WEBB cooperated in entertaining 30 of their friends before and after Grosse Pointe's basketball victory Friday. The dinner took place at Norma's and was enjoyed by Carroll Grylls, Gail Wright, Meeky VanZanen, Merry Bauman, Sheila McRae, Pat Perrone, Jan Hobson, Suzie Johnson and Nancy Georgi. Others of the same crowd who later trekked over to Peanie's Lincoln abode were Janet Johnstone, Ginny Grasse, Annie Candler, Barbara Orphal, Barbara Bauman, Sally MacDonald, Sally Andrus, Alice Neville, Marianne Trombley, June Muffet, Macy Wetherbee, Pat Hammond, Martha Fairless, Polly Wilton, Doris Diesing, Doris Diesing, Jean Dowzer, Kathy Strek.

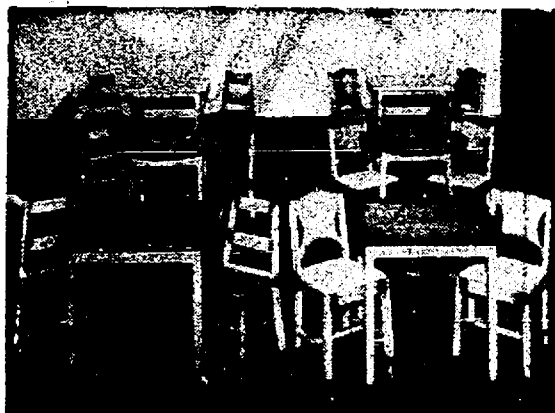

Watching the old year out and the new year in is an annual fixture at Grosse Pointe High, and will be observed in fitting manner. There will be all the trimmings—balloons, confetti, paper hats and noise makers for the dancers.

Instead of sending their friends out in the cold to hunt for treasures, the party planned by MARIANNE TROMBLEY and DOLORES DECK was changed to dancing and fortune-telling in Marianne's home Saturday. The invitees were Carroll Grylls, Jeanie Webb, Doris Diesing, Gail Wright, Joan Ghesquiere, Merry Bauman, Nancy Georgis, Annie Candler, Barbara Orphal, Barry Monroe, Bill Isbey, Allan Bryant, Danny Burke, Bob Borden, Fritz Loy, Bruce Kirchner, Gary Langseth, Leroy Johnson, Bruce Boyle and Doug Turnbull.

SALLY McBRIDE'S 18th birthday was celebrated in a fashionable way before the prom Saturday. There was a ham dinner served to Ray Sawusch, Ellen Bery, Dick Dawson, Sara Stephenson, Clarke Stevenson, Sally Grylls, Ed Schaub, Joan McGinty and Bill Wilde.

After the dance the same group met at SALLY GRYLLS' for hamburgers and hot chocolate.

Another dinner party before the Junior Prom was that of GEORGE BERANACH. Mary Ann Mann was with George, Gery Rounds with Jim Lemon, Mary Gratzler with Dick Nightingale and Barbara Mann with Bill Keith. After a delicious turkey dinner, the appreciative guests whizzed over to dance the rest of the evening.

The romantic atmosphere of a Spanish village was the setting for the JUNIOR PROM at the High School Saturday night. As a background for the band there was a huge lacey fan from behind which, one imagined a pair of flirtatious black eyes. There was a market scene, inviting haciendas, bull-fighters, fandango dancers and dream flower boats. The attending seniors and seniors were Hank Bader and Peggy Maiden, Bob Bolo and Meeky VanZanen, Chet Sampson and Dorothy Hostetler, Joey Johnson and Bob Halbrook, John Cobene and Myra Moorehouse, Dick King and Ann Hicks, Mort Eldridge and Fay Pankow, Tom Alvarez and Barbara Miller, Dick Nightingale and MARY GRATZER, Dick Phillips and Pat Hammond, Jerry Thiede and Joyce Schreiber, Bob Desimpel and Barbara Kelly, Bob Johnson and Joan Schmidt, Ray Schumann and Letty Kreschmar. More were Edith Waldbott and Dave Meeker, Janie Gehlert and Paul Friese, Loes Buck and Sandy Malcomson, Marilyn Desimpel and Harold Johnson, Joan McGinty and Bill Wilde, Mary Waterfall and Bob Campbell, Elaine Buher and Marvin Weaver, Patsy Erskine and Dave Bogie, Carol Hawksworth and Pete Klaver and Joy Heidrick and Dave Hunter.

Numbered among the many dinner parties which preceded the dance was that of ANN WILL. Anne's date for the big event was Harry Sorg, and others were Sue Wilson and Norman Domes, Mary Patterson and Bill Duster, Dolly Fischer and Paul Terbruggen.

NANCY HODGES also gave a dinner for her friends before the prom. Numbered among her guests were Kyle Worley, Nancy Bolles, Ken Christianson, Barbara Elliott, Don Lewis, Shirley Davis, John Jervis, Joanne Broom, Bill Krieg, Nancy Weed and Bill Wagaman. The dinner consisted of ham and scalloped potatoes.

The potentes of the junior class were honored by a dinner in the home of MARILYN HIRT. Marilyn and President Tom Willson, Florence Erringer and Jack Wilson and Loraine Hewitt, Sue Rogers and Lorne Norton made up the party.

GEORGE MOURAD was the host of one of the numerous open-houses following the prom. Just a few of those who dropped in for more dancing and refreshments were George's date for the evening — Rosemary Besique, Mary Waterfall and Bob Campbell, Betty Adams and Don Beaumont, Di Faulk and Dick Wuerker, Barb Elliott and Don Lewis, Vannie Wegmann and Don Floer, Lois Olen and Jack McGrae, Dodo Guimond and Cobby Bartlett, Lou Ellen Marks and Alex Bady, Doris Buser and Dan Beck, Florence Erringer and Jack Wilson, Annie Davis and Ed Isbey.

SHIRLEY DAVIS threw a most successful open-house! Turkey, ham, cake and ice-cream were the eats, and simple oodles and oodles of folks turned up. Shirley was with John Jervis, Buffy Wicking with Webb Night, Sue Rodgers with Bill Siebert, Mary Lou Straith with Tom Bassett, Nancy Weed with Bill Wagaman, Marilyn Hirt with Tom Willson, Nancy Hodges with Kyle Worley, Joanne Broom with Bill Krieg, Anne Will with Harry Sorg and Dolly Fischer with Paul Terbruggen were there.

The MANN home was buzzing all weekend long! CARL played host to 10 of his favorite chums Friday by, having a scavenger hunt. In on the fun were his date Sue Laurance, Louise Lee and Fred Slocum, Diane Mouton and Bill Delling, Marianne Waggoner and Fred Smith, Eleanor Gerlach and Jerry Friedel.

Florence Erringer, Sue Wilson, Jackie Bauman, Nancy Bolles, Joe Hipfel, Kyle Worley, Pauline Bauman, Jack Wilson, Ken Christianson, Tom Willson, Bill Siebert and Don Lewis composed the CLEAN-UP BEE after the Junior Prom

at the high school. They made another social event of it Sunday, a hike and a picnic and then after their duties were performed, rounded up at Shirley Davis'.

PERSONAL APPEARANCES

Saw the chic KAY JOHNSON looking "chicer" than ever in a stunning suit—the skirt was black wool and the short coat of bright Royal blue had an interesting trim. The small black "off the face" felt chapeau was in excellent taste with the suit.

MRS. HAROLD WILLS was seen in a most becoming costume which might have been designed for this season—an evergreen woolen dress with which she wore a darling hat of felt of the same shade of green. This had little green feathers laid flat on the back of the crown—they made me think of holly leaves, and narrow red quills circled the front of the hat—a red chenille veil completed the pretty picture.

FRANNIE MERKEL is wearing a smart Kelly green wool suit which accentuates her brunette good looks, and strange as it may seem, a real hat of matching green felt with a brown ostrich plume blowing "How do you do" over the front of the crown.

PILFERINGS

Have you heard about the prominent member of a war-activity board in Washington who was sent to Paris on a fact-finding mission for the White House? He insisted upon being accorded all the advantages which were his due. At a finance office in Paris, where he wanted to cash a money order, he found himself standing in line, behind a sergeant named John Reynolds. He started to move up front, ignoring the line. Sergeant Reynolds protested. "Young man you know that I'm over here at the request of the President." ... Drafted Reynolds replied: "So am I, mister, so am I."

A story is told of the Duke of Windsor being interviewed by a young reporter who asked about the tie he was wearing. Windsor glanced at it and said, "Oh, this is God's tie." ... When the reporter wrote his story the editor queried the line "God's tie." The editor and his rewrite men agreed that the Duke had dropped his R's—that he really had said "the Guard's tie" meaning a regimental design. ... The reporter took his story, which was set up in type, back to the Duke of Windsor and asked him to verify it. The Duke wrote the verification on the copy. Yes, he had said "God's tie." And by "God," of course, he did not mean the Creator but was referring to his valet, Godfrey.

MRS. JOHN NEWBERRY OF LAKE SHORE ROAD

By Olive Larned

For the past two years Mrs. John S. Newberry has devoted most of her time to the creation of paper Christmas tree ornaments. Originally this was a project of the Garden Club of America; the ornaments being sent to Army and Navy hospitals, for use overseas and on ships.

Last year Mrs. Newberry made 17,000 ornaments, enough for 92 trees. The majority went to Percy Jones Hospital in Battle Creek, some to the Marine Hospital in Detroit and all of the manual labor. The process consists of placing dry mounting on two sides of Manila paper; then putting, metallic or fancy paper on both sides of the mounting. This is pressed with a hot iron between silk and rayon cloth until the dry mounting melts, then with a cold iron until cool and the material becomes solid.

The pattern is then cut from one of Mrs. Newberry's lovely designs. The papers used are for the most part metallic, as they may be procured in such brilliant shades of red, green and blue, lending color to the tree. The gold and silver paper provides the shimmer and glitter desired. One design having the appearance of a greatly magnified snowflake is especially lovely and is reproduced in a dull patterned silver paper. Silver and gold paper crosses are most effective, as are the pinwheel shapes.

Some of the designs are cut from colored card board and decorated with Christmas seals.

Mrs. Newberry is always on the lookout for unusual Christmas wrapping papers as they make interesting ornaments after she has mounted them. Many are cut in the shape of Christmas stockings, as no tree would be complete without them. These paper ornaments have been found to be of particular interest in the hospitals as they could be handled, being unbreakable, and many times the patients have asked to be allowed to keep some as souvenirs.

This year Mrs. Newberry made 7000 ornaments, which were distributed through the Red Cross to Percy Jones Hospital, the Marine Hospital and Camp Custer. Seven hundred were sent to the Boys Republic.

In addition, Mrs. Newberry has crocheted 225 afghans for the Red Cross. Letters have been received telling of the great comfort the patients derive from these afghans. They enjoy the bright colors of the yarns used by Mrs. Newberry. They must bring unusual delight to their users, as she is noted for her artistic sense and ability.

Mrs. Newberry begins the first of each year to prepare her offerings for the following Christmas. Hours and hours of labor are involved but I am sure that she feels more than repaid for the money and time spent, by the joy and comfort she provides for so many Christmas for Mrs. Newberry means giving in the true Christmas spirit.

Salt Over Our Shoulders

By

Barb Beranek and Mary Londres

Michigan State College
East Lansing, Michigan

Dear Mary:
Well, chum, since this appears to be the last letter before the Yuletide season sets in—here's wishing the whole gang a very merry Christmas and happy New Year from us both.

This has been indeed a very busy year—not just for you and me—nor all our friends—but for the nation and world at large. When I think of the worldwide changes that have been made on this slightly wearied old globe—I find it amazing.

I am greatly relieved, along with the rest of the millions, that ol' John L. finally gave up his brutal battle against our good Saint Nick. With all the awe-some aspects, it had begun to look like a very dark Christmas—physically and spiritually.

Up here, of course, the Capitol lights went out with all the rest—and the center of Lansing was bleak indeed without the dome lighted up as its year-around landmark. Naturally, that was not the only place that the brown-out struck in this town. As in Detroit, Lansing store windows were very dim as we walked down the street trying to get in some window-shopping and the array of lights from one end of town to the other was ebbed out to a very gloomy distance.

Nor is it just the foolish minor inconveniences that were found in the brown-out of stores and offices that were so disturbing. When I thought of the small children who would be cold without the benefit of fuel for the furnaces and fireplaces—I then felt much angrier. I don't imagine that this is either the time nor the place to discuss the political or economic aspects of this potential nation-breaking strike. The human angle, however, is one of those things that regardless of the other consequences finds its way into our hearts.

From a sentimental point of view—the no Christmas tree lights ultimatum left my mouth slightly ajar. The fact is that although it takes on no political or economic aspects—it hits close to home. What would Christmas be like without lights on the trees? There might as well be no trees. That is a considerable statement—for as I write this I expect at any minute to smell spring flowers in bloom and hear the song of a robin just back from his Florida vacation. So—though we might be able to take Christmas without one—snow or tree lights—both would have meant a major disaster.

There is still the thought that many children will be without the maximum happy Christmas that could have been, had not so many proud papas been jobless due to the nationwide results of the tie-up.

For most children for whom this will be their truly first Christmas, I doubt that this will reach the peak that OUR first and memorable celebration did.

Then with the Christmas holidays so short a time off—a railroad tie-up was not an especially pleasant thought. Buses are jammed to the ceilings when trains are running—they would be impossible without part of the load being taken by the trains. When trying to wend my weary way home for the Thanksgiving vacation, it was tough enough and then it had not reached its peak and the trains carried their regular capacity.

So much for the nation and its local aspects though. With this time of year—besides Christmas—many other events are in the offing. For us, it means mostly the end of the term—one third of the year behind us. It means that there'll be some changes made as far as schedules, courses, the fellows that sit next to you in classes—or a chance to get a fellow sitting next to you. It means that you get a breather from a course that's been mangling your grey matter into a terrible mess or the prof that makes you want to pull every hair out of your head.

Furthermore, of course, there'll be some changes made in the girls' garb. New sweaters, skirts, and blouses along with all the rest will be on display for the rest of the gang to see.

Then, too, as a final note—as my political science prof so recently said—"It's a strange thing about how many feminine hands that seldom rose to answer questions, wave around after every holiday—and it's not the right hand as would normally go up—but the left—just to prove the 'something new has been added.'"

SO LONG NEIGHBORS!

The Big Sweetheart of this page is gone.

Although we knew the end wasn't far off, it didn't soften the shocks when the news reached us that Damon Runyon was dead. It is always the proper thing, when a man's last days are attended by physical agony, to say: "Well, I'm glad it's over. He won't suffer any more."

You won't find any of us saying that. We wanted the Runyon to stick around with us—writing those crisp, debunking pieces—those scathing satires—those revealing stories of Manhattan. We didn't want him to suffer—and we didn't want him to go.

Everyone who writes about Damon is going to tell you how well he knew the great stylist of our era. I think Bill Corum hit it when he wrote nobody really knew the fellow. It is a fact that no one hated him. That most of us loved him. That those who didn't love him, respected him. That all who loved him or respected him or both—regarded him with considerable awe.

Years ago, sitting in my office, he told me with something of pride that the weekly magazine using his short stories had raised the price to $1,500 each (later he was to get as high as $5,000) and asked him to contribute a minimum of 26 a year. Elated, he had worked all night on one, had rushed it over to the magazine and had been told it was a honey.

I said: "Now that you're battling that fiction out for that big dough, I guess you'll be quitting this newspaper grind."

Runyon said: "If I gave up a steady job, I'd be writing for scared money. It's like playing poker with scared dough—you usually lose."

Another time I inquired: "Damon, why did you wait so long before you began turning out these short stories?" His reply was: "I was building up background."

And that is a fact. Damon kept building background all the time. He shunned so-called notables—although the biggest of them would have gone out of his way to spend an evening with the great Runyon. He preferred the company of men he considered genuine—a prize fight manager like Eddie Walker, a restaurateur like Leo Lindy, a jewelry salesman like Chuck Green, an agent like Paul Small. If people considered them "characters"—then Runyon was all for them. As far as he was concerned, the "characters" were the salt of the earth. When they cried, the tears came from the heart—when they laughed, it was from the belly.

It was a blue day when a surgeon's knife, striking at his throat affliction, removed his power of speech—for Damon loved to sit around drinking his countless cups of coffee, talking to cronies, pumping them, jabbing at them, laughing with them. Now he had to write his little messages. Some of them became collectors' items—for as time went on, he developed a style in these which went in for the extreme in economy. Thus, one night during the intermission of a pretty bad play, seeking to learn my opinion of the turkey, he scrawled out his inquiry:

Just one word: "Nu?" Meaning "Well?"

On another occasion, I in turn asked what he thought of a certain show. Damon scribbled out: "Lulu."

Some months ago, at a little party to Pat O'Brien at Toots Shor's, Damon was introduced. I have never heard any newspaperman in my time receive such an ovation. I have never seen so many so-called celebrities from Hollywood, England and New York as made a rush over to him—just to shake hands, to say "Hello."

And don't think for a minute, that Damon didn't like it. He always liked attention—and made no bones about it. He was human to the extent of beaming all over when nice things were said about anything he wrote. He was honest enough not to raise the deprecatory hand of protest because someone wanted him to autograph one of his books—or came over to tell him how much his last column or last short story had been appreciated.

I suppose by this time, you know that in my fumbling way I am trying to express the great love, respect and awe I had for my neighbor on this page. And maybe you suspect that along with Harry the Horse, Waldo Winchester, Mindy, Apple Annie, Regret the Horseplayer—along with Mr. and Mrs. Broadway and Mr. and Mrs. Hollywood, also Mr. and Mrs. England—I am mighty blue today.

Believe me, these aren't words. These are tears.

MRS. PEPPET wishes me to say, "MERRY CHRISTMAS" to you, and I say the best way of saying "MERRY CHRISTMAS" to her is to empty her shelves of the lovely Christmas thoughts she has for you. Among her souvenirs are the silk jewel cases with their covers studded with jewel-like ornaments, velvet and silk covered bangles just waiting to be bung over—in fact there are "bang-overs" you'll really enjoy. The linette cases will seem you, as they have wood pulp hidden in them, containing the perfume oil, so that the fragrance will last. Breakfast tray sets that will keep one out of the dining room—luncheon sets that will bring joy to any dining room and tea cloths for use in or out of the dining room. Anything coming from PEPPETS will say "MERRY CHRISTMAS" for you in the prettiest way.

Do you like to have your drinks watered? If not, I'll tell you how to avoid it. Go to HAYDON HOUSE at the corner of Kercheval and Beaconsfield and there you'll find the last word in ice buckets, the Kromex Frig-i-tor. It's light as a feather, finished in highly polished chrome with a good looking lucite handle and knob. Ice cubes stay icy cubes hours longer due to the fiber glass insulation or you may keep foods or liquids cold a long time in this attractive container—it's nice enough to come to the table. Or you may reverse the process and use it for hot food or liquids—it's a sort of Doctor Jekell and Mr. Hyde in a nice way. And a nice way to spend your time is to see what they have at HAYDON HOUSE.

Daddy needn't hunt far to find a skin to wrap his Baby Bunting in—there's good hunting at "FURS BY ROBERT" in the Punch and Judy Theatre Building. Any one of the members of the fair sex would like nothing better than being wrapped in one of their furs—it's such a luxurious feeling and besides it keeps one warm. "Furs by Robert" are famous all over the world for their beauty, quality and fashion. A woman is justly proud of wearing that label in her coat. So that you may have a coat worthy of that label send your Santa Claus to the Grosse Pointe branch shop and they will give him one on a Christmas card, and won't you be surprised on December 25th? Then you may have the pleasure of deciding which fur and style is most becoming to you upon a later visit. They have furs for all purposes and purses and "FURS BY ROBERT" have what's best for you.

Parties—parties—parties—if you haven't a thing to wear, JACOBSON'S has—and just the party dress you've been dreaming of—for debutante age, there's a heavenly blue chiffon with a pattern of sequins at the waist line like a Grecian girl. The skirt is full and will float as its wearer moves—she will feel like a Greek goddess—her head in the skies but her feet on the ground, I hope! There's an alluring model of black lace—the bodice is made of flesh-colored chiffon, covered with black lace and the dancing skirt is of black tulle, and net with inserts of the lace. You may be a siren in this for $129.00—another black model has a full skirt of cross-barred net with a crepe bodice trimmed with shiny black sequins—you can be siren in this for $25.00. For the sub-deb there's an angelic model of white marquisette—this has a card attached reading—"You'll look like a dream. Be on every night 'dancer' in this gown by America's leading dance-dress creator." What more can I say? The sub-deb will love the apple green and silver brocade dress, an off the shoulder model—it looks expensive but it may be had for only $35.00. For the older "girls" meaning mother age, there are smart and sophisticated models—saw several in black crepe—black always seems the most practical idea and if there's a party girl in your family, mother has to be practical—but that doesn't mean that she can't be just as becomingly gowned, and she will be, if she will go to JACOBSON'S.

If you want to have guests, but you don't want the trouble of preparing food for them—have the guests—but let HAWTHORNE HOUSE prepare their delectable plain or fancy hors d'oeuvres, if it's that kind of a party; or tea sandwiches, cookies or individual cakes if it's that kind of a party. Not to be forgotten are their big cakes. If you haven't tasted the coconut, you haven't tasted cake—it is the fluffiest, prettiest cake—reminds me of Pavlova as "The Swan" if you know what I mean! Just to look at this cake would make one drool if one weren't a lady—and even if one were—HAWTHORNE HOUSE has added a new service for their many completely satisfied customers—they will roast your turkey, chicken or ham should you so desire, and if you're wise, you'll so desire.

One of the nicest ways of saying, "MERRY CHRISTMAS" is to "say it with flowers" and FASELK is prepared to say it for you with beautiful poinsettia and cyclamen plants or those darling Jerusalem cherry plants which are always so cheery. If you prefer cut flowers, he can say "MERRY CHRISTMAS" in many beautiful ways. He can also beautify your table with a candle centerpiece—these are made up of holly-greens-winter berries-frosted cones—and white branches depending on your personal selection, and of course candles are included. Knowing FASELK'S gift for arranging, why not "gift" yourself with his table arrangements and if you "gift" someone else, you know that you can depend on the beauty and lasting quality of his flowers.

SCHETTLER'S will be closed Christmas day but until then, they are open to show you the stunning Alexandra de Markoff Hand Bags—these are really very compact travel cases—they come in two sizes—$27.50 and $20.00 and are made from a light tan lizard or from black or brown alligator grain. One side has ample space for "h'tings" and the other is fitted with their delightful cosmetics—cleansing cream—skin cream—"the veil of beauty" to be applied before powdering—complexion lotion—rouge—powder and lipstick—that's a lot of beauty in one package. To add sparkle to your household, get "Soda King"—this is a re-chargeable siphon and will save you money by reviving your party emptied soda or soft drink bottles. SCHETTLER'S tell me that the nearest trick of the year is the "Nice-cubes." These are made of icelike unbreakable plastic—$2.98 for eight—assorted colors—Fill them with water which is sealed in and then place in the refrigerator ice compartment, where they freeze solid. When dropped in a drink they chill it and it stays chilled. May be used again and again—and are tasteless and odorless. Well, it's nice to know that—in fact all of these things are nice—and would be nice to have.

It's time to talk turkey again and HENRI tells me that the last time we talked turkey his customers talked and talked about how wonderful his turkeys were. Well, he's getting his holiday turkeys from the same place—everyone's been more than satisfied for the last twenty years with his turkeys and they are being kept tender in the same way, by not being allowed to harden their muscles by exercise—I imagine they just sit on a satin pillow and the butlers bring them their food and doubtless serve them so that they needn't lift a wing. You can get all sorts of Christmas goodies at HERI'S MARKET including baskets to bring happiness to others.

Union Leader Asks Hearing

A letter was read at the Farms council meeting Dec. 18 from Lawrence Stranahan, business representative of Local 522 of the Municipal Employees Union, requesting a conference with the Council regarding the status of two of the Village's employees. Mr. Stranahan's letter was dated December 13 and contained no further information.

It is understood his letter refers to Philip Fraser, formerly employed at the village pier and after a period of service in the army again returned to that job. The other party is Albert Socia, who has been employed off and on for several years in the public works department. Both have been part time men. Fraser's work on the village pier was necessarily a part time job as the work there is never for a whole year straight through.

Seven or eight months ago Socia broke his leg but not while working for the village. He was in an automobile accident. After recovering from this he requested reemployment and Director Smith gave him the job he asked for, which was on a rubbish truck. He could not make good on this job according to his own acknowledgement and he was transferred to a garbage truck. At this work too, he was unable to keep up with the others.

It is surmised that Mr. Stranahan's letter has to do either with getting full time rating for the men or, possibly he is concerned with their preservation of seniority in the village's employee rolls.

Sewer Problems of Farms To Be Studied by Council

Engineer Smith Urges That Whole Project Be Reviewed at Once, Rather Than One Small Job at Time

At the Farms Council meeting December 16 Murray Smith, Director of Public Works, recommended that the Trustees consider the sewer work necessary to be done in the village as a whole project, and that a special meeting of Council should be held as soon as the completed plans of Shoenkraft, Drury and McNamee are ready.

The plan had been to take up this work in four major sections, completing them in order, but Smith believes it wiser for the trustees to have the entire sewer job in the village pictured by the trustees as a whole, to better plan for the work, whether it is to be done as one major undertaking in the near future or taken up serially, according to their judgment and the village's finances.

Sterling Young Fatally Stricken

Sterling J. Young, aged 53, of 862 Neff road, died suddenly in his home on Friday afternoon, December 13. Mr. Young was stricken with a heart attack and physicians and the resuscitation crew from police quarters were immediately summoned. Although the officers worked over him for 35 minutes they were unable to revive him.

When physicians arrived they said Mr. Young had probably died within a very few minutes after he was stricken. He had been a resident of Grosse Pointe for the past three years, moving here from Philip avenue, Detroit. He had been a resident of Detroit since he was 17. He was born in Yale, Mich. Mr. Young had been with the Hudson Motor Car Company for 35 years and at the time of his death was purchasing agent. He is survived by his widow, Laura Elizabeth; a daughter, Ruth; and two sons, Capt. Ralph E., recently returned from three years in the European area, and Richard. Burial was in Forest Lawn cemetery last Tuesday.

Frank Lockman Dies Suddenly

Frank Lockman, 134 Moran road, died suddenly December 11 at the age of 68. He is survived by his wife, Mary; three brothers, Edwin Lockman, Peter Lockman and Wallace Lockman; and four sisters, Mrs. John Cavanaugh, Mrs. Albert Eckert, and Sister M. Leone and Sister M. Loretta of the St. Joseph's Order. Funeral services were held Saturday in St. Paul's church. Burial was in St. Mary's cemetery, Royal Oak. Mr. Lockman was a member of the Knights of Columbus and the Holy Name Society.

Cancer Institute Cornerstone Laid

A long-needed institution for greater cancer research work in the Detroit Area was brought a step nearer realization with the laying of the cornerstone last week at a new home for the Detroit Institute of Cancer Research at John R. and Hancock streets. Present plans call for completion of the building in time for occupancy next spring.

In the cornerstone was placed a metal box containing the names of the officers of the Southeastern Michigan Division of the American Cancer Society, which will have supervision over the Cancer Institute. Other names placed in the box were those of volunteer workers who have rendered outstanding service to the Society, and officers of the Variety Club and the Motion Picture Exhibitors Association whose help in raising funds last spring played such a vital part in the present expansion of the Cancer Society activities.

Among those present at the ceremony were: John J. O'Brien, of Grosse Pointe Farms, vice-president of the American Cancer Society and a member of the board of the Cancer Institute; Dr. Harvey M. Marker, executive of the Parke-Davis Company and vice-president of the Detroit Institute of Cancer Research; Dr. Bruce H. Douglas, head of the Detroit Department of Health, and Dr. William S. Murray, executive director of the Cancer Society, which has temporary headquarters in the Red Cross Building at 153 East Elizabeth street, Detroit.

The Cancer Society's new building will have two stories and a basement each 80 feet wide by 170 feet long. It will be of fireproof construction and will be faced with Indiana limestone. The first floor will include a receiving room, serving room, lobby, administrative office, appointment clerks' office, doctors' room, and a large auditorium, and a store room. On the second floor will be 14 laboratories, an histology room, a directors' office and a store room. Service equipment will occupy most of the basement.

The Cancer Society is drawing up plans for an intensified educational campaign to combat the growing toll of cancer in Detroit and Southeastern Michigan. The work will be carried on in factories, offices, and stores, as well as among housewives and children.

The fatalities from cancer in Detroit last year reached 1,942, besides several hundred additional deaths in the suburban areas. Medical authorities declare that one-third of those lives could have been saved could the malignancy have been detected in its early stages and treatment begun in time. A total of over 175,000 persons are expected to die of cancer in the United States this year.

Scouts' Christmas Projects Help Wounded Vets and Kids

Many local Scout Troops and Cub Packs undertook special Christmas good turn projects early this Fall, and some of these good turn projects have already been completed, according to the Detroit Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, one of our 125 Red Feather Service Agencies.

Two such outstanding good turns are the game and toy projects of Pack 223 and 275. Members of Pack 223 were responsible for making over one hundred doll buggies and toy wagons, which were recently turned over to a representative of the Salvation Army for distribution to less-privileged children. These buggies and wagons were all hand made, assembled and painted by the Cub Scouts themselves, assisted only by Den Dads whenever the use of power equipment was necessary.

Pack 275's project consisted of making cribbage boards and football games, which were recently presented to gray ladies of the American Red Cross for distribution to handicapped servicemen located at Eloise. In trying to find a needy and worthwhile outlet for their "good will" labors, the Cubs of Pack 275 were informed that many hospitalized soldiers are temporarily quartered at Eloise, where they might easily have been forgotten this Christmas time.

A practical and valuable suggestion is offered to all Scout Troops and Cub Packs—in fact, any groups desiring to give food baskets, toys or clothing to sick persons, old couples, needy servicemen or other families this Christmas. Make sure that you know the persons or families you wish to assist. It is suggested that all names be secured from the Christmas Clearing Register of the American Red Cross. This will insure unnecessary duplication of names.

Call Mrs. Gene Callard at CA. 3900 or CA. 3583, who will gladly clear the names you select or will give you names of worthwhile cases which have been investigated by authorized agencies of your community.

Yanks Who Gave Will Get Gifts

To present a Christmas gift box to every one of the 12,000 hospitalized war veterans in this state.

That's the high goal of American Legion and Auxiliary members now engaged in their annual "Gifts to the Yanks Who Gave" campaign.

A recent Legion survey shows that 80 public and private hospitals in Michigan now list veterans among their patients. The number varies from one or two in certain small hospitals up to several thousand in some of the larger institutions.

The task of purchasing gifts, packing and wrapping 12,000 Christmas boxes, and delivering them to the hospitals is a big one, but with the cooperation of a generous public the goal will be met again this year.

The value of each box will be from four to five dollars, or a total of approximately $50,000 for the 12,000 required. Donors may contribute cash or purchase gifts and prepare their own boxes. All Legion posts and Auxiliary units will act as receiving stations for the donations of money or gift boxes.

The following gifts are needed and desired: Pen and pencil sets, cigarettes, cigar lighters, bill-folds, box cameras, toilet kits, pipes, leather belts, cigar cases, writing kits, watch straps, bed lamps, books, key cases and many other useful articles for the veteran patients. There must be no edibles in the gift boxes, no liquor or no safety razor blades.

Farms Police Probe Reports of Prowlers

Two reports of prowlers were phoned into the Farms police department in the early morning of December 18, but in neither case could a culprit be found.

The first report came from 279 McMillan road at 2:32 p.m., and the second from 279 Grosse Pointe boulevard. Officers Dhaveloose and Allor investigated both reports, but could find nothing wrong.

Household Hint

A hobnail chenille bedspread is best washed on a windy day. If you dry it inside, brush it with a stiff brush as you hang it up. Brush it again when it is partly dry and again when completely dry. This treatment will not only fluff up the chenille, but will also eliminate much of the lint that comes from this type of spread.

George Trendle Back in Radio

George W. Trendle of Lake Shore road, former director of the King-Trendle Broadcasting Corporation, which was sold last August to ABC for $3,560,000, is back in the radio business.

Trendle and H. Allen Campbell, also a former director of King-Trendle, will open a new station in Flint on January 15. Now WFLM, the name of the station is being changed to WTBC.

It has been assigned to 600 kilocycles with 1000 watt day and 500 watt night power.

With a background of theater and radio experience, Trendle and Campbell also plan large scale development in television and F.M.

Shubert Books Super Magician

Harry Blackstone, the super magician, and his company of 30 "assistant magicians" will begin an engagement of two weeks at the Shubert Lafayette Theatre, beginning Sunday night, December 22, with popular price matinees on Thursdays, Saturdays and Sunday, December 29.

Blackstone, who bills himself as the "world's foremost exponent of the school of necromancy which produced Hermann the Great, Harry Keller, Houdini, Thurston and Dante will present a "show of 1001 wonders," which runs well over two hours, and is presented in two acts and 30 scenes.

It is said to be the proud boast of Blackstone that his expenditures for this year's production have eclipsed all previous efforts with many new and startling illusions, gorgeous and costly scenery and effects, and to top it all, a greatly enlarged company.

The following factors were established as the basis for the election: dependability, which includes truthfulness, loyalty, and punctuality; service, including cooperation, courtesy, and consideration of others; leadership, including personality, self-control and the ability to assume responsibility; and patriotism, including unselfish interest in family, school, community, and nation.

Jennie will be included in the group from which the State Pilgrimage will be chosen. The girl who wins the competition will receive a trip to Washington, D. C., with all expenses paid.

Wright's Throws Light on Subject

If light is needed on the subject, Wright's Studios can offer a wonderful solution for Christmas giving. This fine shop, the first to be built in the new Mack-Seven Mile shopping center, has a marvelous collection of fine lamps, including Bethwood Royal china ones that are true replicas of Royal Worcesterware of England.

There are also lovely Sheffield lamps and others in a wide assortment of materials and styles. See for yourself at 18650 Mack avenue, where Warren avenue ends.

WATCHFUL WAITING

There was a chimney fire on December 13 at the home of Frank Deitz, at 1147 Beaufield, which, watched by the Park firemen, did no damage to the house. The firemen were called out on Dec. 15 by a roof fire at the two-family flat at 967 Nottingham, where there was slight damage.

600 'Teen-Agers Attend Party

More than 600 boys and girls from the Pointe and that portion of Detroit immediately adjoining the Pointe, attended the Christmas dance given in the Grosse Pointe Motors building on Jefferson at Ashland on Saturday night, December 14.

There will be another party for the youngsters on Saturday, December 20, in the Guyton street on Philip avenue. The party will start at 7. All 'teen-agers are cordially invited.

Deaf Children Hear with Eyes

One of Alexander Graham Bell's fondest dreams—an electrical device which would enable the deaf to understand the spoken word—has been achieved by the Bell Telephone Laboratories and is now at work teaching deaf children to "hear" with their eyes.

Under a cooperative project with the Bell Laboratories, the University of Michigan and Michigan State Normal College are perfecting practical applications of two, new speech instruments.

A device called the "cathode-ray speech translator" transforms speech sounds with the speed of light into a visual pattern on a fluorescent screen. Another device, the "acoustical spectrograph," produces speech patterns on paper.

It is estimated that with the aid of this equipment, the deaf can be taught a basic vocabulary in about the same time it takes to master an unfamiliar foreign language.

The translator is located at the Rackham School of Special Education at Michigan Normal. The spectrograph is located at the University Institute of Human Relations' speech clinic.

The Bell Laboratories, which developed the two instruments, turned over the results of years of experimentation to the University and Michigan Normal to permit research necessary to evolve educational applications.

By learning to read speech patterns just as you once learned to read your A, B, C's, deaf persons can "listen" to the radio or carry on telephone conversations.

Honey Important As Food Product

Honey is nature's oldest sweet, recorded in many countries of the Mediterranean before the birth of Christ. It has come down through the years as an important food product and is used today as a supplement for granulated sugar in both the home and commercial field.

During the years of the first World War as well as the years of World War II, Michigan's honey crop was small. This last season's yield averaged less than 25 pounds per hive as compared with the normal yield of 60 to 100 pounds. The total 1946 production was 5,550,000 pounds as compared with the 3-year average (1939-41) of 10,525,666 pounds. This is due in part to the lack of bee pasture for the gathering of nectar and to adverse weather conditions.

More acres were planted to cash crops such as potatoes, soy beans, navy beans and sugar beets. The production of sweet clover, alsike clover and alfalfa, which are nectar producing, was forgotten while the demand for the food crops was prevalent. When the farmers return to the planting of the legumes, which are also important soil builders, the beekeeping industry will thrive again and enough nectar will become available to make beekeeping profitable and the industry saved. Bees are a "must" to pollinate such crops as apples, cherries, melons, cucumbers and clover seed.

With unseasonable weather and the lack of forage honeybees failed to produce much more than enough for their own use last season. In a great many cases beekeepers removed a small amount of honey from the hives only to have to feed it back to the bees to carry them through the winter.

Traffic Hazard Caused by Store

Residents of Grosse Pointe Woods have recently been greatly perturbed over the traffic hazard which they claim exists on Mack opposite the Wrigley store on the west side of the street east of Seven Mile road.

Opposite the store the land is in the Farms village. Recently the Woods council sent a request to the Farms that it put up some no parking signs at that point. The Farms referred the matter to Chief of Police Walter R. Hoyt, with instructions to investigate and recommend.

Chief Hoyt told the council Monday night that he could see no valid reason for prohibiting parking entirely at that location. He thought parallel parking might be required to minimize the danger that angle parking implies from cars backing out into traffic. This was accepted as the Farms' answer.

Sunday Car Ride Ends Unhappily

A Sunday afternoon spin along Lake Shore road in the family car ended unhappily for two young girls from the Park on December 15.

The Farms police report says Joan Ziegler, 16, of 1029 Bishop road, and Ann Eckfetz, 17, of 16460 East Jefferson avenue, were riding in the Ziegler Cadillac, with Joan driving. She bent down to wind the clock and the car bounded off the right hand curb, then jerked left and went over that curb, striking and breaking a tree.

The tie-rod on the car was broken and it had to be towed to a garage. The girls were uninjured.

ELEMENTARY SCHOOL NEWS

MASON SCHOOL
Mason is a school in which the oldest child is not more than nine years old; and, therefore, all the magical, child-like faith of Christmas and the Christmas spirit fills the building's atmosphere. Since the end of Thanksgiving by the rhythm band, an exhibition of rhythmic interpretation of music, singing games and several kindergarten songs.

The stories which their parents enjoyed when they were in school are now favorites of the children with a new note added. One of the new stories which appeared only last year, but which has already become a traditional story for Christmas, is Charles Tazewell's "The Littlest Angel." The children have had the experience of hearing Loretta Young narrate it on records, as well as hearing it read to them by their teachers.

Each room has a Christmas tree. The trees were bought by the children and have been decorated with the children's art work. There is also a tree in the upper hall, and one in the auditorium. These trees are decorated by all the rooms.

The tree in the auditorium will be used during the Christmas story telling hour which is sponsored by the Grosse Pointe Public Library, and the Christmas Sing which is traditional at Mason School. The Christmas program for this year will be given by Miss Jolliffe and Miss Switzer's 4B groups. It will be a dramatization of "While the Chimes Rang."

On Friday afternoon, the children will have their Christmas parties in their rooms. Cookies are being furnished by the Room Mothers and the ice cream is being supplied by the teachers.

RICHARD SCHOOL

Richard School pupils recently engaged in a waste paper drive in which 13,530 pounds of paper were collected. This is an even better record for the school than that attained during some of the war years paper drives.

Much enthusiasm was shown by children, teachers and the parents. They came with bundles of paper, under their arms, dragging along small wagon-fills, and with loaded bike racks. Parents were brought into the picture by having to drive their cars with paper to the building. In view of the still critical shortage of paper nationally this continues to be a very important activity. It was done in the several classrooms without setting up any large contest. Pupils who brought paper were simply given an arm band, one used by the national government during the war. Oliver Stringer, teacher in grade four had charge of the program.

Richard School pupils have also recently engaged in the Community Chest drive. Discussions were held in the several classrooms relative to the purposes for which the money would be used. There was a fine response.

The mothers of the two kindergarten groups of Mrs. Arends and Mrs. Keigen had a tea at the school on Wednesday, November 12. The purpose of the meeting was to make the mothers acquainted with one another and to inform them of the nature and the work of the kindergarten.

Mr. Striker, the originator of the radio skit Lone Ranger and a patron of the school, came to the building on Tuesday, November 12. He spoke before an assembly of all the pupils on the subject of citizenship, connecting

MASON

The boys and girls in Mrs. O'Reilly's Kindergarten A class presented an assembly program recently in the Mason School auditorium to which parents and other school children were invited.

The program included every phase of music which is taught in the kindergarten, namely, selections by the rhythm band, an exhibition of rhythmic interpretation of music, singing games and several kindergarten songs.

Many parents came to the Mason School Parent-Teacher Association meeting to hear Dr. Essert's interesting talk on "Highlights of the Grosse Pointe Public School Program."

Before Dr. Essert's talk, the classrooms were open. Many parents took advantage of this opportunity to visit the rooms and become acquainted with the teachers and Room Mothers.

Following the meeting, delicious refreshments were served by a committee of fourth-grade mothers.

Mrs. Harwood's 2B group gave an assembly for the Kindergarten, first and second grades on Thursday, November 21, and a program and tea for their parents on Friday, November 22.

The program consisted of Indian dances and songs. Participating in the program were: Gary Near, John Osborne, Herbert Welling, Helen Hansen, Jo Anne Roehrig, George Wilson, John Osborne, Gary Near, Herbert Welling, Barbara Lass, Judy Kloor, Dale McLarty and Bonnie Randolph.

DEFER SCHOOL

The 3-A's presented a Thanksgiving program for their mothers and the kindergarten, through Grade 4 students on Tuesday, November 26. Invitations were written in the language class, with Evelyn Geiseler and Elsie Scherer blocking out the background of the scenery and the entire group taking turns painting.

Dick Fulford and Jim Wyse took care of the curtain. Betsy Oltman was the announcer. Taking part in the program were Judy Stefani, Betsy Oltman, Joan Galdoni, Jo Ann Van De Ginst, Gloria Warner, Charles Cameron, Dick Fulford, Larry Hamilton, Bert Lamb, Michael Mohn, Tom Saunders and Kenneth Solterisch. Beverly Reeves, Jim Wyse, Evelyn Geiseler, Peter Gissing, Ronnie Reid, Elsie Scherer, Judy Usher, Gilbert Ziegler, Jane Tapert, Bill Gianert and Suzanne Newton.

After weeks of studying the history of Michigan the 5-B class at the Defer school visited the Historical Society on December 10. The Society's collection of fans seemed to attract the most attention.

Jimmy Stark stated, "When we arrived a guide showed us around. He called the fans 'woman's artillery.'"

Patricia Verney said, "They had so many fans that I went in that room four times."

TROMBLY SCHOOL

The Trombly kindergarten children are busily engaged in dramatizing "Chicken Little".

The 1-B mothers met at Trombly from three to five o'clock on Friday, November 8, for a discussion of the first grade work and tea. The Girl Scout Troop No. 125, under the direction of Mrs. Swanson, planned and served the tea. Mrs. Charles Fox, 727 Harcourt, room mother, poured.

Miss Josephine Cole gave a demonstration in the teaching of music in the 1-A room as part of the American Education Week program.

Douglas Reed wrote the 2-B's and 2-A's a letter from Pontiac. He has moved into a new house there and has a new teacher and many new friends.

The 3-A's, 4-B's, and 4-A's gave a Red Feather Assembly program which told why we should help the Community Fund. Franklin Palermo, 4-A, was the father; Ann Bacon, 4-A, the mother; Gail Hoffman, 3-A, the daughter; Ronald Helin, 3-A, the son.

They brought nurses from the hospitals. They were Mary Ogden, 3-A; Carole Stoneking, 4-B; Martha Hays, 3-A; and Dorothy Petrosky, 3-A. There were Cubs to tell about Boy Scouts. They were Armin Jocz, 4-A; Mac Huestis, 4-B; and Bill Burke, 4-B. Brownies and Bluebirds also told about the Girl Scouts and Campfire Girls. They were Sophia Koinis, 4-A; Julie Fox, 4-A; Sharon Davis, 4-B; Lorelei Schuman, 4-B; Marcia Murphy, 4-B; and Patsy Miller, 4-B. The Bluebirds were Irene Stempfle, 3-A; Mitzie Speier, 4-B; Anne Marie Halstrom, 4-A; and Frances Buterfield, 4-A. The two boys representing the Humane Society were Paul Norris, 4-A and Billy Waggoner, 4-A. Claire Lenz, 4-A, represented a wounded soldier.

Don Kellogg, 4-B; Peter McKee, 4-A; Peter Huestis, 3-A, told how the Community Fund helped the YWCA and the YMCA. The skits were followed by a Community Fund song and movie. Trombly School collected $245.47.

The 2-A and 3-B room had an open house for the parents Nov. 15 for the National American Education Week. The pupils told them about their Citizenship Club and its functional use. They have just concluded the study of the Postman, with reports about the swimming postmen on South Sea islands who wear bathing suits to get mail from the ships, the pony express, mail delivery in Eskimo land, rural free delivery, and the flying post office.

In recognition of National Education Week the 6A-1 class presented an assembly program based on a unit in their social studies entitled "Science in Our Lives". The development and growth of science through the ages was skillfully presented by a blending of dramatized skits and oral reports.

Through the questions of a modern boy, played by Lawrence Daniel, and his father, played by Kay Jameson, the curtain was lifted on science and scientists of the past.

The early myths and legends believed by early people were given by Glenda Geyer and dramatized by Ernest Nigg, David Cobb, Michael Luberto and John Phillips as ancient sun worshipers.

An ancient astrologer, Joan Cougler, told the fortune of a Babylonian Queen played by Jeanne Newell.

Ronald Nelson, as Christopher Columbus, interviewed prisoners to go on his trip to India by a western route.

Terry Keys took the part of Roger Bacon, Harold Bate played Galileo, Gaylord Greene, Sandra Faulk and Lynda Gaskill played Pierre, Madame, and Eve Curie. Donald Schmidt, Pat Burke and John Diccio showed a scene which took place in Edison's laboratory.

Pertinent questions on the atomic bomb and its use in peace were answered by Robin Barry, Jacqueline DeClerk, Raymond Osborne and Betty Ann Reitz.

Others who appeared in the skits and gave reports were Frances Crowley, Sherry Davis, Gail Matzen, Delphine Walgenbach, Rita Miller and Sally Beardslee.

DEFER SCHOOL

The Service Club of the lower grades of Defer School. New officers are Jean Clemens, captain; Dan Leache, assistant captain; and Craig Husband, secretary.

Meetings are held regularly and the pupils participate in the forming of rules for good citizenship.

The fifth and sixth grade pupils attended a program in Pierce Junior High on November 21, at which they heard Mr. Geer lecture on the wonders of nature and show slides of animals, birds and frogs. Pictures of a lynx proved the most popular with the students.

Christmas

*Christmas is the best time of year,
With its colorful decorations and cheer,
The gifts under the tree, shining with surprise,
The geese, the squash and all the mince pies.
The snow lies white all over the grass,
I've been waiting for Christmas and it's here at last.*

*The sky is dark blue and the stars glow bright,
And the moon will shine all through the night;
In the dark forest the pines softly blow,
Christmas is here; I know it's so.
Through the quiet night carols rise and fall,
And then loud chiming of the churches call,
The night's no longer still; it's full of joy and cheer,
I love Christmas, and now it's here.*

NOTHING COULD BE FINER THAN A JOB THAT'S DONE BY STEINER

To Head Bank

CLIFFORD E. RENNIE, Assistant Manager of Industrial National's East Warren branch, has been appointed Manager of the Kelly-Whittier branch, which will open next Monday, December 16.

Mr. Rennie has been with the Industrial National for 18 years and is thoroughly familiar with all its services, and in branch banking procedure. He will be assisted with a competent staff of experienced tellers from the main office.

Modern banking fixtures have been installed in the new building at 11700 Whittier, corner of Payton.

Soft music will be played during banking hours, being piped in by Muzak—a feature being pioneered in Detroit bank lobbies by the Industrial National.

Two Pointers Pledged By Brown Fraternities

Two Grosse Pointe boys have recently been pledged to fraternities at Brown University, Providence, Rhode Island. Peter J. Prince, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Prince, 286 Hillcrest road, is a prospective member of Psi Upsilon fraternity.

John R. Welch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell K. Welch of 348 Provenca road, has pledged Alpha Delta Phi.

Villages Find League Helpful

The recent examinations held in Grosse Pointe Farms for the positions of Chief of Police, Lieutenant of Police and Fire Lieutenant demonstrated again the efficient and economical service that is rendered to the municipalities of Michigan by the Michigan Municipal League.

This organization, to which all of the Pointe municipalities belong, prepared the examinations both oral and written, and conducted them in the presence of the Village President. The questions are expertly prepared and put and at the conclusion the men taking the examination have the satisfaction of knowing they have had a fair and scrupulously honest examination.

The total charge for this work, which the village paid at its last meeting, amounted to only $191.30, which included not only the preparation of the examinations, but the travel expenses and time of the men from Lansing.

The maintenance of regular Civil Service Boards by scores of the smaller cities and larger villages of the state would be wholly unjustified and costly. This capable organization in the state capital performs the service for them and at nominal cost.

Highland Park Five Beaten By Pointers in 48-24 Game

Another Sell-Out Crowd Jams Way into Small Gymnasium to See Contest; Olson Again Leads in Scoring

By FRED RUNNELLS

Before another SELL OUT CROWD, that jammed the SMALL Grosse Pointe gymnasium to the extreme capacity, the Pointers introduced the Highland Park Polar Bears to Border Cities League basketball competition by swamping them, 48 to 24, in the first league contest between the two schools. The victory put the Blue Devils in a three way tie for top honors in the league.

Dick Wuerker registered the first score of the game four minutes after the opening whistle. Paul Grubbs connected for basket number two with a beautiful long shot from far out on the court and center Bob Olson, last week's high point man, added numbers 3 and 4 for the first quarter total of 8 points.

Benenati, Highland Park acting captain, scored first for the Bears when he connected on a foul shot after Wuerker, Rummel and Olson had added ten more points to the Blue Devil total in the second period.

In the closing minutes of this quarter Woolridge connected with the first Parker field goal, which was followed by another free toss by Benenati and two more by MacKenzie before the period ended. When the two teams left the floor at the intermission the Pointers held a comfortable 18 to 6 margin.

The Blue Devils gave the fans a treat in the third quarter when they went into high gear, both offensively and defensively, and racked up 15 points while the Parkers were counting four points to make the score read, 33 to 10, in Grosse Pointe's favor. Rummel, Olson and Wuerker were the big guns in this scoring spree.

For the second week in succession, Coach Wernet sent his entire starting team to the showers at the start of the fourth quarter and substituted freely in an effort to keep the score down. The substitutes had different ideas and in keeping with Friday the 13th, proceeded to rack up 13 points.

Again Bob Olson led both teams in scoring with fourteen points while Dick Wuerker and Johnny Rummel followed with ten and nine points respectively. Woolridge was high scorer for the Polar Bears with ten points. Paul Grubbs and Ed Isbey both turned in sparkling defensive games with rookie Ray Sawauch showing promise with a fine display under the backboards, both on offense and defense.

Friday, December 20, the Pointers will travel to Dearborn to take on the Fordson Tractors in their second league game. This game will go a long way in determining the final outcome of the league race, as Fordson is reportedly a powerhouse and was Border Cities League basketball champion of the 1945-46 season.

For the second week in succession the Grosse Pointe gymnasium was filled to overflowing with the Standing Room Only sign being hung up well before the start of the varsity game. Adult basketball fans again showed their intense interest and appreciation by jamming the "adult reserved section" to capacity 15 minutes before the 8 p.m. deadline.

Despite the addition of 150 seat bleacher section at one end of the court, students were forced to stand in the balcony to see their favorites play. Before many more moons have passed the grumbling from late comers who are forced to stand to watch the games is going to force some action to be taken on the situation to provide adequate space for spectators.

Not only do the spectators deserve a better break but the students attending the school could very easily use a larger gymnasium for the stepped up intra-mural program which the officials of Grosse Pointe High School have insisted on, so more students can experience competition.

St. Clair and De Santis Teams Clinging to Pace Set in P. O. Contests

In other matches the O.K. Hat Cleaners beat Fox Creek Meats, 3-1, and DeSantis split, 2-2, with Altes Lager. Walter Grygier was high for the night with 243, and Werner had two nice games of 224 and 205. Al Loewen rolled a 632 series with 222, 219 and 191.

Freshman Herbert Epstein, of 910 Lakeshore road, made his mark at the University of Michigan when he won the All-Campus Squash Tournament. Herb defeated Dick Turner, of Detroit, by a score of 3 to 2 for the title. He attended Culver Military Academy after leaving Grosse Pointe High School.

Blue Devil Swimmers Take Two Meets in Five Days

Defeat Hazel Park and River Rouge in Pointe Pool; 160-Yard Free Style Relay Record Broken in Rouge Meet

By FRED RUNNELLS

Within the last five days the Grosse Pointe H.S. swimming team has chalked up victories over Hazel Park and River Rouge, to remain in the unbeaten class.

Last Friday, December 13, the Pointe really made it Black Friday for a weak Hazel Park squad by trouncing it 69 to 16 to miss a grand slam score by two points. Hazel Park avoided being skunked when it scored a second in the very first event, the 40 yard free style, which was won handily by Bill Wolfe. The Blue Devils took first and second in every other event.

Topping the list in spectacular races was the 180 yard medley relay team's attempt to crack the school record. It missed by one second in beating the Hazel Park combination by two lengths of the pool. Art Beck, Bob Jenks and Bill Kildow comprised the team.

Four days later, Tuesday December 17, the Blue Devils played host to River Rouge and beat them 49 to 37. In this meet the fans saw the much broken 160 yard free style relay school record shattered again. Fred LaFerte put the Blue Devils out in front by one yard on the first leg. Friese, Kildow and Wolfe built up this lead to ten yards to crack the old mark of 1:19.3 by one and one-tenth seconds.

This was all premeditated as the boys told Coach Frank Banach to get ready and change the mark on the chart which hangs in the coaches' office. This combination becomes the sixth to set a record in this event. Not one member of the team swam in the event last season, although Fred LaFerte is the brother of Dan who was on the team that cracked the mark three times last year.

Bill Wolfe and Paul Fiese slammed the 40 free style in the opening event. Bob, (I hurt my leg playing basketball), Jenks had a narrow squeak in the 100 yard breast stroke and just barely beat out Snyder of River Rouge.

Gerhard Gainsley won the 200 free style over Shoefelt and Fred LaFerte. Bill Kildow, Coach Banach's 200 ace, was detained by a teacher and didn't get down to the pool in time to swim his specialty. Wouldn't that teacher's face have been red if River Rouge had won the meet?

River Rouge's Swanson gave his team its only individual first place by outdistancing the field in the 100 yard back stroke. Jim Flom and Doug Buck finished in that order behind Swanson.

Burt Spurrer really poured on the coal to win the 100 free style event by half the length of the pool over Forrest Page of River Rouge.

Grosse Pointe lost the 120 yard medley relay when Jim Flom lost four yards in the backstroke lap. Jenks and Mumford tried valiantly to make up the deficit but River Rouge had too much power.

Joe Fosmoe, who turned in such a sparkling performance two weeks ago in the 120 individual medley relay, loafed on his turns on the last lap of this event, after leading for 80 yards of the race, and took a beating by a fraction of a second. The finish was so close the timers took several minutes to decide which boy should get the nod. On the turns it looked as though Fosmoe was looking for the photographer to take his picture.

Grosse Pointe will meet the Fordson Tractors on Friday, December 20, in the latter's pool. It will be the opening Border Cities League meet for both.

500 Pounds of Xmas Candy To Be Distributed by USO

The "Candy for Christmas" program of the USO, which will provide candy for servicemen on Christmas day at the Detroit USO's, is going over the top with more than 500 pounds of candy promised, according to the report of its committee chairman, Mrs.

Cecil Watson, of Meadow Lane, Grosse Pointe Farms.

Many Pointers have given of their time and energy to help make its success possible. The following are some of the organizations whose assistance is also very much appreciated:

Girl Scouts, from Brownies to Wing Flyers, Women's Association of the Grosse Pointe Memorial church, Women's Association of the Grosse Pointe Congregational church, Woodward Avenue Baptist church of Detroit, Libri Club, Grosse Pointe Kiwanis, Grosse Pointe Rotary Club, Grosse Pointe Optimist's Club, Junior League and Jennings Hospital Nurses.

Always drive as though every other driver is crazy.

Operation Roger Uses Boy Scouts

Hundreds of Scouts, in every part of the Detroit Area Council, are busily engaged in distributing thousands of government post-cards to key spots in all major and primary shopping areas throughout the council's territory.

In an effort to obtain up-to-date addresses of former Army Air Forces personnel, some 15 million cards are being distributed throughout the United States at the request of Air Force Chief, Gen. Carl Spaatz.

Locally, the distribution program is being supervised by Major Samuel H. Buck, Deputy Wing Commander, Michigan Civil Air Patrol. Members of various C.A.P. Units have delivered the necessary supplies from different post-office branches to over 80 Service Troops. The Scouts of these Service Troops are now distributing card board containers filled with blank cards, to all shopping places in their assigned Troop Service areas.

The Scouts are covering such places as high schools, men's stores, hotels, theatres, barber shops, department and drug stores—in fact any place where young men shop or visit and will see post cards on the counters.

The purpose of "Operation Roger" is to bring our Air Force personnel records up-to-date so that the government may provide such information with current information in aviation matters. Because of the unsettled condition in the world today, many former air force members are joining up in the air force reserve or the National Guard.

Six feet four KENT POWER, Social Chairman of the Tip Toppers, invites four feet five wee ELEANOR RUSSELL, London Chop House vocalist, to their dance at the Whittier. Eleanor, the smallest songstress in the country, will no doubt cause as much comment there because of her stature, as she recently did after publication in LIFE of her picture taken at the Chop House. The "provocative" gown she wore for that picture caused a deluge of letters to the Editor of LIFE—all wondering where Eleanor had found such a dress.

Letter from South Pole Received at News Office

Dick McDaniel, of the Grosse Pointe News Advertising Department, received a letter from the South Pole this week... and it wasn't from Santa Claus.

Dick's cousin, Capt. Harlan Harrison, U. S. Army, was chosen by Admiral Richard Byrd to be chief meteorologist in this first postwar Polar Expedition. Harlan has promised Dick and the News letters and exclusive items from "Little America" after the base has been established.

Guarding Against Carbon Monoxide

Three recent accident deaths in Michigan from carbon monoxide poisoning call attention to these suggestions from Dr. William DeKleine, State Health Commissioner: "Check your water heater, your furnace, your chimney; be sure they don't leak."

Each winter the Michigan Department of Health gets from 10 to 20 death certificates with these words written in as the cause of death: "Carbon monoxide, faulty furnace; carbon monoxide, water heater; or, carbon monoxide, chimney."

"Running a car in a closed garage is a common danger, but our records show that the faulty heating system in the home is the cause of most of our carbon monoxide deaths," said Dr. DeKleine.

Dr. DeKleine explained that death from carbon monoxide is a result of suffocation; the body doesn't get enough oxygen. The first symptom is a sharp headache. This is usually followed by nausea and a groggy feeling. There is little or no warning and the condition develops so rapidly that by the time the victim realizes something is wrong he may not be able to turn an ignition key.

First aid is relatively simple. The patient should be carried feet first into fresh air and he should be kept warm. A pulmotor from the fire department, the police or hospital should be used to provide oxygen. If no pulmotor is available, a cylinder of oxygen from a nearby garage can be used successfully.

"RUMORS ARE FLYING"

Some rumors are vicious—
This one is MALICIOUS

Numerous sources have advised us that the story is going around that Francois' has been named defendant in a lawsuit. Rumors say a plaintiff is suing for damages on the grounds that a case of ptomaine poisoning resulted from eating food here.

One of the rumors says the plaintiff is a woman from England who was visiting in the Pointe and has since returned to England. She is supposed to have hired an attorney to press suit.

All of these rumors are absolutely false. We have heard that there were some cases of ptomaine poisoning in the Pointe during last fall's hot spell, but none of these had the remotest connection with this restaurant.

Francois' has always served the freshest poultry and meats and food at moderate prices, and has never been involved in a lawsuit. Our motto is "There's No Substitute for Quality."

Brand New MERCURY ENGINES

A Gift
for the Family

This Christmas, why not make your present to the family something they'll all appreciate and benefit from?

We have been very fortunate to arrange for a number of new Mercury engines direct from the Rouge assembly lines. The supply of these engines is limited, and we feel that with industrial conditions being what they are—in parts as well as labor—this opportunity should not be passed up. Those of you whose Mercury motors require extensive repair work will be money and time ahead by having us install one of these brand new engines.

Classes of instruction, conducted by the service personnel of the Lincoln and Mercury service divisions, are being held regularly for the mechanics in our shop. These night classes cover every working unit of Lincolns and Mercurys, assuring better service.
