How Grateful Can We Be?

Farms' 1948 Budget Totals $594,758.56

Tax Rate Up $2.20 Over Last Year to $15.53 Per Thousand of Assessment

The Board of Trustees of Grosse Pointe Farms at its meeting on June 7 devoted the entire session to the adoption of a $594,758.56 budget for 1948 the approval of the assessment rolls and the establishment of the tax millage.

A total tax levy for $488,612.86 was adopted. This is $68,000 higher than last year, when the figure stood at $413,612.23.

The total valuations adopted, as carried in the assessment was $31,466,600, approximately $430,000 higher than last year.

The resulting tax rate for 1948 for village purposes will be $15.53 on the thousand of valuation as compared with $13.33 in 1947.

An analysis of the budget shows that the principal causes of the increase are an appropriation of $33,000 to complete the financing of the new sewer station addition begun in 1947 at a total estimated cost of $143,162.

An appropriation of $25,000 is made to install the Lothrop road section of the Fisher road to Lothrop road relief sewer. It became necessary to install this section because of the installation of improvements in the balance of Lothrop road running from Charlevoix avenue to Chalfonte avenue.

There is also an item of $13,955 for various improvements at the Village Pier Park and new Ball Park.

Another item of $13,155 provides for the completion of the Chalfonte avenue pavement north to the village boundary line in order to accommodate the building program in the subdivision there.

Last year the taxpayers voted down two bond issues for sewer improvements recommended by consulting engineers. The urgency of these improvements made it necessary for the council to proceed with the most needed items, one of which was determined to be the sewer station addition.

The 1947 portion of financing amounting to $108,082, came from $79,874 of money set aside in reserve for needed future improvements, and a budget surplus in 1947 of $28,214.

Woods League Will Conduct Old Fashioned Town Meet

An old fashioned "Town Meeting" is planned by the Grosse Pointe Woods Civic League on Wednesday night, June 16, at 8:30 in the Lutheran Church, Mack at Lancaster.

The topic for discussion will be "What We Can Do to Provide Adequate Recreational Facilities for the Entire Community." Two entertaining color movie shorts will show what other communities have done to bring recreational activities to all age groups at a minimum cost.

Members of the Village Park Commission will be present to answer questions and summarize the action already taken.

The Woods is one of the fastest growing communities in the

This is one of the most familiar of all Pointe scenes. "The Village" shopping center, looking east from Notre Dame avenue. To preserve it, 113 Pointe sons gave their lives in World War II.

As the streamer proclaims, the Pointe is now engaged in a campaign to raise money to fittingly honor these 113 and the more than 3,600 others who served in that war. The memorial is to be this community's manifestation of gratitude for the magnificent sacrifices these heroes made. How grateful can we be?

Will this wealthiest center in the entire United States be content to erect an inadequate shrine to the memory of those who gave everything they had in their power to give? Or will every resident of all the five Pointes be convinced that the very least that can be done is to make some personal sacrifice in order to contribute to their greatest possible ability to this memorial drive?

Shall Grosse Pointe build a shoddy symbol of honor to its war dead, or shall it create a memorial which will fittingly bespeak its eternal gratitude? The answer lies with every one of us.

This is not just another campaign. Pointers send literally millions of dollars each year to carry on worthy work in every corner of the globe. This drive is granting us the privilege of repaying in some small measure the staggering debt we owe to those of our own who are with us no more, because they laid down their lives that we might continue to live in the Pointe as they knew it.

The minimum stated requirement of $25,000 to build the proposed memorial, would erect a barely adequate structure, one not truly worthy of this community.

Forget that figure! Forget any goal! The important thing is that every single resident of the Pointe must have a personal part in this great undertaking. Every one of us should figure out just how much we can possibly set aside in each of the next three years toward the Pointe War Memorial. That is the amount each of us should pledge; and we should share the cost with infinite pride, not with a feeling of having been dunned for a gift to "just another campaign."

After the drive is over, those who have given so unselfishly of their time and effort to make it a success, can tell us the measure of our appreciation. May there be enough contributions to erect a memorial which will make the entire nation point to the Pointe as a community which has not forgotten the terrible sacrifices made such a few short years ago.

Try to imagine that you were at the side of any of those honored 113 as death came, on the land, or on the sea, or in the air. How deep a sense of obligation do you feel? Let your conscience dictate your gift.

Time-Worn Trick Dupes Dearbonite

Strictly Temporary Resident Of Farms Gets Away With $4,000

A slick confidence man who resided in Grosse Pointe Farms for the brief space of two months, has departed, hastily, and with $4,000 in cash belonging to a Dearborn resident. The sad tale of trickery was unfolded to the village police on Tuesday.

Kenneth Rosack, of 1880 N. Lafayette, Dearborn, the victim, reported to Farms Detective Sergeant George Champagne that he had met a man named Red Sullivan in the Old Brick Inn on Mack avenue, last Friday. When Rosack informed Sullivan that he wanted very much to get a new Cadillac for his boss, Sullivan said he could fix that in a hurry.

Red allowed he would have a little difficulty financing the deal himself and Rosack agreed to provide $4,000 to complete the transaction. He turned the cash over to Red at 10 a. m. on June 7, in the house at 462 Belanger road, which Red has been renting furnished for the last two months.

The plan was that Red would take the money to an unnamed man at the Book-Cadillac, who would turn over the 1948 Cadillac convertible to him. Rosack was then to meet Red at Temple and Woodward in Detroit and take over the car.

Needless to say, Red nor the car ever appeared at the appointed spot. When Detective Champagne investigated at the Belanger address, he found, as he suspected, that the gentleman and all his clothing had disappeared.

Red, who has two aliases, O'Neill and Stewart, has been hanging around Pointe spots for the last several months. He became known as a great spender and told acquaintances he had sold a tavern in Indianapolis and come here for a vacation. He is described as a "fine looking" chap with loads of personality. And great sales ability.

Champagne obtained warrants for Red's arrest on Tuesday, on a charge of larceny by conversion. Circulars and teletype messages have gone out to police of several states.

Woman Escapes Attacker in Park

A young woman walking on Vernor Highway between Wayburn and Maryland at 11:50 p. m. on June 7 was attacked by a tall, thin young man, without hat or coat but wearing a dark jacket.

Her screams caused him to run away. He tore her clothing and she was in a state of hysteria when she staggered into her nearby home.

GRAB VISITOR'S CAR

When your brakes! The Pointe police are flustered about them. Robert A. Bourlano, of 1000 Bond road, Ortonville, Mich., visited town on June 2 and had his car impounded by officers Mouton and Del Place. The brakes were so faulty the car could not be driven without endangering both rider and pedestrian.

City Clerk Neff Traces Evolution of Movement in Speech Before Members of Pointe Service Organization

Norbert P. Neff, City Clerk of Grosse Pointe City, speaking in behalf of the War Memorial Library campaign before the Rotary Club at its meeting on Monday, traced the evolution of the War Memorial movement.

He said that when the first enrollment for selective service was made in the Pointe a considerable number of Rotarians, acting as volunteers, cooperated in this first enrollment.

"As the boys marched away to war every contingent, as they went out in almost endless succession, was given a send off at early morning exercises at the Neighborhood Club. A group of patriotic women who cannot forget their fine effort under the innocuous name of 'The Breakfast Club,' was always on hand to serve them a send off breakfast.

As the casualty record began to come in the thought began to take form to give special honor to these young men by a display of their names on an honor roll of some sort prominently displayed in some public place in the community.

He mentioned that it was an active member of the Rotary Club who first headed this group, which was called the Grosse Pointe Honor Roll Association. This man was William Watkins, at one time President of the Rotary Club but now a resident of the far west.

A temporary Honor Roll was erected on the High School grounds to which were added the names of those who had gone out, as fast as they were compiled. Those who made the supreme sacrifice were distinguished by a gold star on this roll. "It never was intended," Mr. Neff said, "that this little structure on the School grounds was to be the final expression of the feelings of the people of this community towards their war heroes."

Soon after the war ended the movement for a permanent memorial was taken up in earnest. Meanwhile Mr. Watkins having moved from the Pointe, Alger Sheldon, himself a veteran of World War I, was elected President of the Honor Roll Association. The Association was chartered as a non-profit corporation under the laws of the State of Michigan.

There was a general agreement throughout the community that the permanent memorial, whatever form it took, should be a living memorial.

The Honor Roll Association created a Study Group, numbering 16 members, who were charged with the exhaustive (Continued on Page 6)

Shores Appoints Williams, Vance

At the meeting of the Board of Trustees of Grosse Pointe Shores on June 7, Jack G. Williams, of 17 Colonial road, was appointed by the board as a member of that body, taking the place of Lamar F. Case, Ernest C. Putnam, who was recently elected Village President. Williams was high man in the list of defeated candidates in the recent trustee election.

Joseph A. Vance, Jr., was elected the new Corporation Counsel to succeed Fred Behr, who recently retired.

Diplomas to Be Awarded 264 Grosse Pointe High Seniors

A class of 264 seniors will be presented diplomas at the June 1948 commencement exercises at Grosse Pointe High School, scheduled for 8:15 o'clock next Thursday night, June 17. The traditional exercises will be held on the High School lawn in front of the library, weather permitting.

"Your Future and You" has been chosen as the topic for the graduation speakers, Ted Osus, Elmer Jolar and Mary Bond Ober.

Principal Walter R. Clemans will announce the class honors and John R. Barnes, superintendent of Pointe schools, will preside over the exercises.

Shelden, Ford Families Give Big Donations

Total of $45,000 Subscribed To Fund by Two Prominent Families

Two very substantial gifts to the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Fund enabled the campaign officials to report that a total of $76,825 had been raised up to the time the NEWS went to press. With the drive just getting under way, no official returns have been made by any of the teams and no attempts have been made to get any complete tabulations to date.

Alger Sheldon, chairman of the drive, who with Mrs. Sheldon has played a leading part for the last three years in carrying out the memorial plan, has announced that his family will donate $25,000 to the fund. Other members of the family participating in the gift include Mrs. Allan Sheldon, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Sheldon, III, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sheldon, Mr. and Mrs. William Warren Sheldon, and Mrs. Annette Sheldon Stackpole.

Mrs. Elsel Ford has announced that the Ford family will donate $20,000 to the fund. Donors in this family group include Mrs. Ford, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ford, II, Mr. and Mrs. Benson Ford, Mr. and Mrs. William Clay Ford, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Buhl Ford. Other gifts included in the total of $76,825 include the $3,000 donation of the William Lyon Phelps Foundation, previously announced last week, and the $2500 pledged by the Grosse Pointe Rotary Club, also previously acknowledged.

By next week it is expected there will be a fairly comprehensive report of progress to date. The names of those donating $100 or more to the fund are expected to be available for publication. Canvassers are busy in all sections of the Pointe, making certain that no home or individual is missed in the drive. Many of the volunteers report their work is being delayed by requests to return after the residents have had more time to decide the amount of their gifts.

The drive was scheduled to be concentrated into the two weeks between June 1 and 15 and Pointers can do much to help facilitate the collections if they make their decisions before the canvassers call on them.

Everyone is asked to keep in mind that they will have three years to pay off their pledges, which should enable them to give more than if they were being requested to pay out the entire amount of their subscription at once.

Dearth of Flags Very Noticeable

Where are all the flags? All Pointers were asked to do the national emblem during the campaign being carried on to raise funds to create a war memorial. There is a glaring lack of any such display.

A sound track is playing the streets of the Pointe, playing continuous music to advertise the campaign. Its use was approved by the Automobile Club of Michigan.

Hugh Hoshorn, state fire inspector, Street and Park Avenue, says many residents are living their flags at home.

White out the hanging banners. Help make it obvious that something very special is going on here.

Police Guidance Quells Revolt

Joseph H. Parsons, of 1005 Boulevard, placed the police at 12:30 a. m. on June 7 that he wanted them to stand by until a colored couple he had discharged were cleared of the point.

Mrs. Parsons had attempted to discharge them and they had refused to leave. Officer P. Conroy was called to the scene.

Officer Conroy suppressed the revolt and the couple were cleared of the point. The pair were loaded toward a taxi and headed for home post down town. So ended the latest police intervention in Grosse Pointe.

Here in Michigan, as elsewhere, the boys are carefully selected on the basis of scholarship and potential leadership.

Many Changes In New Ford Station Wagons

Revolutionary changes in the 1949 Ford cars are reflected in the styling, utility and ruggedness of the station wagon and convertible models.

The 1949 station wagon is the only one in the low-priced field with a two-door, all-steel body. Beauty of wood paneling has been enhanced by this modern design. Plywood veneer panels of selected hardwoods are bolted directly to the steel body.

A number of new and important safety features have been engineered into the new station wagon. Outstanding is elimination of the rear doors and enlarging the two front doors. Careless or playful children can't accidentally lean against or bump the door handles to open the doors while the car is in motion. The new type of construction is designed to eliminate squeaks and rattles. Ruggedness has been achieved by transfer of all body stresses and strains to the all-steel construction as well as elimination of two doors.

To provide greater strength and safety, because of heavier loads often carried in station wagons, it is equipped with a special X-type frame. Ford engineers say there is enough built-in protection in the 1949 station wagon to meet the exacting safety requirements for school buses.

The station wagon has seats for eight passengers but the new arrangements permit easy loading of baggage without opening the end-gate at the rear. The extra large doors provide easy access.

Two rear seats may be removed easily so that large loads may be carried. The wagon also is equipped with end-gate and easily operated lift-door at the rear. The 1949 convertible is long, low and graceful yet embodies all the advanced engineering provided in other body styles. There is greater comfort, performance and economy. Front seat is six and a half inches wider, and the rear seat two and a half inches wider than the 1948 models. There is ample room for three persons in each seat. Luggage space under the rear deck totals 28 cubic feet, nearly twice as much as in previous models, and all usable.

Youthful Electrical Genius Admits Series of Thefts to Carry On His Experiments

Mysterious Actions of Street Lights and Jamming of Police Radio Explained After Stolen Complicated Equipment Is Located

The inexplicable turning on and off of the street lights in parts of Grosse Pointe City, the gumming up of the township radio and various other electrical idiosyncracies that have puzzled police and citizens for the past year or more, are nicely cleared up.

They have all been the result of juvenile genius gone out of bounds. On May 19 the Detroit Edison company wrote to the Grosse Pointe City police department that it had had a Weston Sun Relay switch stolen from a pole north of University place in the alley south of Mack on May 14. The switch was in an aluminum box eight feet up on the pole and the thief had used a wooden saw horse belonging to the contractor doing work on the Mack avenue widening.

The function of this delicate piece of electric mechanism is to automatically turn on the lights in the University-Lakeland, Mack-

Charlevoix area when the darkness reaches a certain degree of intensity.

With these meager clues to work on, Detective Jim Flannagan proceeded to practically live in this neighborhood during the dark hours. Neighbors had seen a couple of boys busy in the vicinity of the switch, but the first real clue he got was hearing someone call out on the night of June 2, "Bert! Bert!"

With this as a starter he quickly picked up Godfrey Munn, aged 17, of 440 Fisher and Burton Schneider, aged 16, of 842 University.

Flannagan found the stolen sun switch on a work bench in the attic of Munn's home and also one sun relay switch which had been taken from the same location on May 31, after the original theft had been reported by the Detroit Edison company. He also found a 2½ h.p. gasoline motor that had been stolen on August 14, 1946 from the corner of Lincoln and Waterloo, which belonged to the Cook Construction company.

Flannagan took the switches back to headquarters and the Detroit Edison company was notified of the find.

A Detroit Edison employee came out and accompanied Flannagan to the house again, and there discovered a treasure pile of apparatus that he identified as having been stolen from the company's sub station at Mack and Seven Mile.

Among other things these included 1 FM Link company radio receiver, valued at $300; 1 FM Link company receiver power supply which had been taken on June 7, 1947; 1 FM Link company receiver, series No. 14326, valued at $300, taken on August 9, 1946. The Detroit Edison man said the recovered loot had cost the company more than $1,000.

Young Munn has acknowledged taking these items and said he used parts from them to build himself radios.

Detective Flannagan said the young man's home was rigged up with more electrical gadgets than a Luna Park grotto. Doors open and close as one approaches or leaves them, light goes on and off, and all of the magic tricks of electricity seemed to be in full operation.

The Detroit Edison man who viewed the collection said, "Why this kid knows more about these things than I do; if he can keep out of the pen long enough to develop his whole genius he will be a second Nikola Tesla."

There is no evidence that young Munn took these things to dispose of to some unscrupulous Fagin, as might have been supposed. He took them only in pursuit of his insatiable quest for scientific knowledge and experiment.

Asked where he learned how to do these things he said he "got it out of books."

About a year ago young Munn was trailed down by the FCC by means of a direction finder, when they were on the lookout for mysterious jamming of the township police radio. The youngster was warned but nothing further was thought of the matter. Since then his genius has ranged far and wide.

One evidence of his know-how was the manner in which he cut the wires and disconnected the sun switch. This requires great skill and knowledge of the job to avoid getting a shock from the 4800 volt wires that are a part of the mechanism.

Young Schneider, who only figured in Munn's activities the night he took the sun switch on May 14, when he acted as a lookout, has been released in the custody of his parents, being a minor. Munn is still retained in the City police station and the Prosecuting Attorney's office has authorized a warrant.

At a hearing before Judge Leslie P. Young Monday night young Munn was released under $500 bond.

Burglar Sought by Pointe Police Gets Long Sentence

Justice Catches Up With Robert Petty in Toledo; Starts Serving Term of 10-50 Years for Series of Crimes

Robert Petty, colored, aged 30, who was always suspected of being guilty of the attempted safe robbery at the Packard Sales and Service station at Lakepointe and Jefferson last October, has reached the end of his career, in Toledo.

In the Grosse Pointe episode two safes, one belonging to the Packard company and one to the AAA which occupies quarters in the same building, had been pushed around and a crude but unsuccessful attempt made to break into them.

At the same time a Packard car belonging to Mrs. Julia Bowen of 16628 East Jefferson was stolen. The car was later recovered by the Detroit police.

It turns out that after this attempt Petty went immediately to Toledo, where his career of crime took on a more violent form. There he participated in three house robberies, seven robberies armed and was found guilty in two cases of rape.

In one of his armed robbery escapades he was shot and taken to a hospital where some pay stubs from the local Packard Sales plant identified him with this case and let Chief Arthur E. Louwers of the Park in on his present status. Louwers placed a hold order on him for when the Toledo police got through with him, but when the Chief received word from Toledo on June 4 that Petty had just been convicted on armed robbery and rape charges and had been sentenced to serve two terms on each count for 10-50 years running concurrently, he thought it would be some time before he had occasion to avail himself of the hold order.

He said Petty was certain to be held for the term of ten years at least and probably for a much longer stretch.

Petty had worked about three weeks for Packard when the attempted safe robbery occurred.

Woods Tax Rate Boosted

Village Also Decides It Must Skip Usual Cut Made on Township Rolls

The Commissioners of Grosse Pointe Woods directed the spreading of the assessment rolls for the year at their meeting on June 1. The total assessment will stand at about $15,800,000. Despite the gratifying increase in taxable property in the Woods this year occasioned by the extensive building activity, the Commission has found it necessary to jump the tax levy from 14.50 per thousand to 14.85 per thousand.

This however is not the whole story on the taxes which the property owner will face. While the village has taken the Township figures as the basis for its levy, it has always until this year cut them down for village purposes to a 70 per cent of actual. This year for the first time in its history it has had to accept the Township roll, hook, line and sinker.

The Commissioners felt that any less would endanger the village's financial stability in view of the heavy commitments that have been made in the last two years in capital investments. These include such major undertakings as the extensive sewer building program, its cooperation with Detroit Edison in making over the lightning arrester system for the protection of the pumping station, which had been put out of business by electrical storms a year ago, the purchase of the two park sites of forty odd acres each on Mack and the lakefront, and several other expenditures of a general obligation nature.

The Woods is by far the fastest growing section of the Pointe and the council has decided to have its improvements keep pace with the rapid growth in population, even though the tax burden is increased for the time being.

Shores Adopts Budget for 1948

Grosse Pointe Shores' budget for 1948 was adopted by the Board of Trustees at its meeting on June 7.

The total budget for all municipal purposes, including water service, stands at $163,855.29. The tax rate will be $15.60 per thousand of assessed valuation. This is 80c on the thousand higher than last year.

The total assessed valuation stands at $8,618,308. There has been considerable new building construction in the village the past year which has enabled the village to keep the tax rate down to only a trifling increase.

One Hurt as Bus And Truck Crash

The driver of a DePetris Florist truck was injured at 12:10 p. m. on June 7 when the truck collided with a Lake Shore bus at Chalfonte and Kerby.

According to the Farms police report, Frank Brabeau, of 4426 McClellan, driving the truck north on Kerby, failed to stop for Chalfonte, a through street, and was struck by the bus, which was going west on Chalfonte. Gilbert W. Steiger of 1044 Alter road, was the driver of the bus.

Brabeau was taken to Cottage Hospital by Farms Police Officers Pelkey and Jarrell. He was treated for fractured ribs and injuries to his right shoulder.

Damage was estimated at about $100 each to the truck and bus. Tickets were issued both drivers for an appearance in police court.

RIVERSIDE KIWANIS

On Thursday, June 10, R. Bruce MacKay, head of the Civil Division of the Wayne County Sheriff's Office, will speak to the Riverside Kiwanis Club at its weekly luncheon meeting at the Hotel Whittier on "Why A Sheriff?" Charles W. Shull will introduce the speaker.

Woods Council To Borrow Cash

The Woods Council on June 1 authorized the borrowing of $50,000 on tax anticipation notes. This is a common procedure with municipalities and in no sense has deficit significance attached to such a loan.

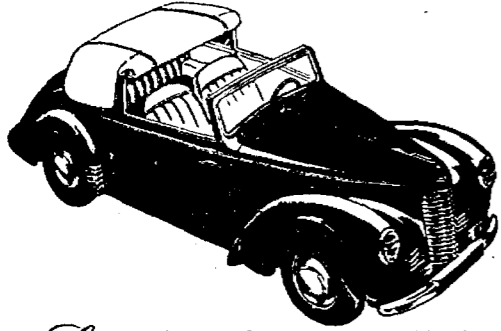

over from the previous year where there is enough to fill the money gap before the taxes begin to come in.

This was the case with the Woods the year before last, but not last year, as the Woods had taken on many extraordinary expenditures which reduced the cash beyond normal level.

Students graduating from high school and planning to work during the summer will need Social Security cards, Francis L. Pendergast, manager of the Social Security Administration's office at 3720 Mack avenue, has announced. But, he cautioned, do not get a card unless you have a job covered by the Social Security Act or plan to seek one.

Shores to Have Planning Board

The substantial growth that appears on the way in Grosse Pointe Shores prompted a discussion at the meeting of the trustees on June 7 of the advisability of officially creating a Village Planning Commission in the near future. This idea had been suggested by several non-office holding citizens of the village. The suggestion was favorably received by the Board.

In much the same connection it was mentioned that the old zoning ordinance has become obsolete in many respects and this matter will also be considered by the Board acting as a committee of the whole at an early date. Meanwhile the Corporation Counsel and the Village Manager will make an examination of both the legal and physical aspects of both problems and report to the Board.

Phony Blanket Salesman Gets 90 Days to Repent

Leo Chauvette, the forgetful blanket salesman who neglected to deliver goods for which he had received advance payment, fared better in his eighth Detroit difficulties with his eight Detroit

"clients" than he did in Grosse Pointe Park. By making restitution, promising restitution and doubtless, thanks to the chagrin many of his customers in Detroit felt over being duped, he has succeeded in staving off for a while at least further action against him from the big town.

In Grosse Pointe however, Arthur Davis, of 854 Grand Marais, whose wife was the local victim, refused to compromise. He told chief Louwers at the time of the fraud last November that he was not concerned particularly about the $47 of which they were defrauded, but he wanted the man punished. He told the chief he would cooperate with them 100 per cent and the chief has said he was one of the best complainants he has had dealings with.

So, Mr. Chauvette had a hearing before Judge George Beauchamp on June 3 and drew a 90 day sentence. He is now in jail.

It has been learned meanwhile that Chauvette has accumulated a varied police record during his thirty odd years of activity. He served time in Saginaw and was convicted for desertion from the U. S. Army for which he did 5 years in Leavenworth prior to March 1947.

Bad Drivers Pay Fines in Court

In Park Traffic Court on June 2, Judge George Beauchamp disposed of the following cases:—John Nimerschein, of 11811 Flanders, Detroit, for failure to stop at sign at Charlevoix on May 14, paid $5 fine and $5 costs. Bernard Coleman, of 22629 St. Gertrude, St. Clair Shores, for reckless driving at Jefferson and Pemberton on May 19, was fined $25 and $5 costs.

Michael Samuel Randazzo, of 13290 E. Outer Drive, for failure to have car under control causing an accident on Jefferson on May 16, was assessed $6.10 costs and directed to attend driving school for one month. Bernard Eugene Haskins, of 556 Manistique, for making a turn without due care and caution in front of 1169 Balfour on May 23, resulting in an accident, was fined $5 and $72 costs.

Frank H. Rigley, 3518 National, Detroit, for failing to stop at Charlevoix on May 21, causing an accident, was fined $25 and $5 costs.

Cabbies Tangle With Employer

Al Alficheny, proprietor of the Pointe Cab company, phoned the Park police at 3 o'clock a. m. on June 6, that he was having trouble with one of his cab drivers and asked protection.

Patrolmen Dilloway and Kesteloot gathered in Fred Anderson, aged 34, the cab driver, who gave his residence as the Hudson Hotel, and with him Richard S. Tower, aged 22, at 251 Hamilton. Their story was that they had some words with Alficheny and that in argument Alficheny had pointed a gun at them and threatened to shoot them.

Alficheny's complaint seemed to be that Anderson, had passed several unaccounted hours with the cab away from work. Both of the men were released and told if they wished to press the charges if they wanted weapons and threatening they should come around in the morning and make formal complaint. Up to Tuesday noon, June 8, neither of them had appeared. Detective Stanley Ends is still investigating the pointing weapons charge.

Florence Adams Miller will present her pupils in a demonstration of the Dunning Course, Friday, June 11, in the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church House at 8 p.m.

Woods Residents Wrangle Over Fence Six Feet High

The question of whether or not a fence six feet high should be allowed to stand at the rear of a private dwelling on Faircourt, raised a mighty ruckus at the Woods Council meeting on June 1.

Several weeks ago Mrs. M. Conner Harris, of 1880 Faircourt, applied to Village Clerk Allard for a permit to erect a six foot fence in the rear of her property. Mr. Allard refused the request. He told her a public hearing in the question would have to be arranged. The public hearing was duly advertised, but when it was held no protestants showed up.

Council thereupon directed Mr. Allard to issue the permit. He did and Mrs. Harris erected the fence. It appeared to the members of the Council that Mrs. Harris had a perfectly valid reason for desiring a fence of that height to be built.

At the meeting on June 1, neighbors from far and near were present in force to protest against the fence. They didn't want one of that height which tended to hedge in some of their properties. They had no very good reasons for not having appeared at the designated time for a hearing as advertised; except that they "didn't know anything about it."

The Commissioners decided that each of them would go and look the fence and surrounding premises over and be ready to further discuss the matter at their next meeting to decide whether they will review their action.

GARAGE FIRE
A garage fire at 1418 Faircourt on June 5 did considerable damage to the north side of the garage before it was extinguished by the Park firemen.

Owner of Store Served Notice

The Woods village, in its efforts to keep Mack avenue as the sole business artery of the village, amended its zoning ordinance some time ago prohibiting the use of properties on that street for mixed business and commercial purposes.

Helen Hernalsteen occupies some rooms in the rear of her store at 21023 Mack avenue. At the Council meeting on June 1 she was given until September 7 to remove her dwelling quarters from the store, leaving it wholly for business purposes.

The action was agreeable to Mrs. Hernalsteen as she is erecting a new home and expects it will be ready for occupancy by that date.

There was a small fire at the Hugh Dill residence at 578 Neff road on June 1 caused by oil escaping from the oil burner

Pair of Crashes Occur in Park

Failing to stop at the red light at Cadieux and Charlevoix on June 1, Mrs. Jessie Schuler of 181 Beaufort ran into a pickup truck driven by Bruce Brandt of 9105 Clarion, Detroit. There was no personal injury but considerable property damage.

Mrs. Schuler was given a court ticket returnable on June 16 and Brandt was given a witness ticket.

A similar accident occurred at Audubon and Charlevoix the same afternoon when Emil Englehardt of 902 University, driving east on Charlevoix, was struck by a panel truck driven south on Audubon by Edgar Hubbs of 189 LaBelle, Highland Park.

Hubbs got the ticket for court for June 23 and Englehardt was given a witness ticket.

Swedish Prince To Visit Pointe

From the Lundell home the Prince will go to the Henry Ford II home on Provençal and will be entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Ford at a dinner dance at the Grosse Pointe Club that evening. The Prince will be escorted from Detroit to the Pointe and in his movements through the Pointe by a Squadron of Detroit Motorcycle Police. By an arrangement between the Detroit police and Chiefs Hoyt of the Farms the Detroit police have taken over the entire responsibility of escort.

Cafe Proprietor Killed in Fall

George Correa, proprietor of the Del Mar Cafe at 15412 Mack avenue, fell from a scaffolding Friday afternoon, June 4, and was killed.

Mr. Correa, who was formerly a structural iron worker before he went into the restaurant business, was working on a new place he is building at 15508 Mack, and from some unknown cause fell from the scaffolding.

He was removed to the Bon Secours hospital where he died at 5:40 o'clock p.m. He was 52 years old.

Methodist Board To Meet June 16

The Official Board of The Grosse Pointe Methodist Church will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Bugbee, 36 Beacon Hill, on Wednesday evening, June 16, at 8 p.m.

This board meeting, which was originally scheduled for June 2, was postponed to hear the report of a conference the Building Enterprise Commission had with the Executive Secretary of the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension in Philadelphia on June 2.

At this meeting the new officers will take over the posts to which they have been elected for the ensuing year from those who have served for the past year.

Michael Sullivan Taken by Death

Michael Sullivan, a former police officer of the Grosse Pointe Park police department, died on June 5 in his home at 981 Nottingham. Mr. Sullivan had retired from the force about 15 years ago. He was 70 years old.

The funeral services were held in St. Ambrose Church at 10:30 a.m. on Tuesday, June 8. Burial was in St. Paul's cemetery. He is survived by his widow and several children, one of whom, James, is a member of the Park fire department.

Theater Plans Hit Full Speed

That the Grosse Pointe Theatre is moving at top speed towards the presentation of its first performance by June 24 was indicated last Saturday when its managing director, Russell Werneken, of 206 McKinley road, was stopped on Maumee by Grosse Pointe City police and issued a ticket for speeding.

In spite of this delay, Mr. Werneken was able to organize the complete ticket selling structure of the Theatre before the day was out.

When apprehended, he was on his way from the home of Mrs. Ralph Genter, 1028 Yorkshire, where the box-office telephone has been installed, to the home of Fred Lienemann who made a ticket-holding board.

Mrs. Genter is the voluntary chairman of the box-office committee. She has been accepting mail orders and telephone reservations since last Saturday. The box office telephone number is TU. 5-0422.

The loan of a bicycle to Mr. Werneken for use when the family car is unavailable, should help keep him within the speed limit. The bicycle was loaned by Oren Scotton of 910 Edgemont Park.

Mr. Werneken said he offered no excuses—in the interests of saving time—and further remarked he was chagrined to read on the violation ticket that it was the civic duty of every motorist to obey the traffic laws. "And here I am, trying to do my civic duty by giving Grosse Pointe its own community theatre," he stated.

study of the project and to develop the sentiment of the community as to its type, location and all other factors of necessary consideration.

"This group served for about two and one-half years. It made the widest possible effort to ascertain the wishes of the people of Grosse Pointe. Prizes aggregating $300 were given for the best written opinions on the theme. Veterans' organizations, High School Students and citizens at large were particularly urged to give their views."

There was some sentiment for a field house, but the overwhelming sentiment was in favor of a memorial library. This latter sentiment was strengthened undoubtedly by the offer of the Board of Education to donate the site on the School property.

One of the items in the project which the Study Group had to constantly consider was the matter of maintenance, without having to call periodically on the people. The offer of land, plus the assurance of maintenance in perpetuity by the School District, was a factor largely determining the final library choice.

"While this subject was under consideration Mr. Murray Sales, without knowledge of the War Library movement, offered his homestead at Lincoln and Jefferson to be remodeled into a public library in memory of his wife, the late Jessie Carter Sales, who had long been identified with several of Grosse Pointe's prominent charities."

"When Mr. Sales learned of the War Library movement underway he most generously authorized the School authorities, to whom he had tendered his homestead, to sell the property and apply the proceeds to the cost of the War library."

For this generous act it has already been decided that the name of Jessie Carter Sales shall be perpetuated in the children's library within the library proper which shall bear her name.

Mr. Neff stressed that this fine movement should have a deep and heartfelt appeal to every Grosse Pointer. It was to honor their own sons, both those who served the country in its days of peril and those who gave their lives in its defense.

"The deliberate opinion of those who have been closest to this movement," he said, "is that a Library will best serve the memorial character intended and contribute to the cultural life of the community and to the development of coming generations of the successors of those who died and served."

Vacation Offers Chance to Read

Can the Grosse Pointe Public Library help furnish your summer reading? During that leisurely vacation you are planning, many pleasant hours can be spent with an entertaining book.

Any resident of any of the Grosse Pointes is entitled to "Vacation Privileges" at the library. Books are loaned for an extended period of time from June 1 until October 1 and may be borrowed for all or part of that period.

Each adult may borrow any ten books, and each child any six books, which are not currently in great demand, provided the books have been in the library's collection one year or more. This keeps the newer books available for circulation by the patron who is kept in the city during the hot summer months, and allows the vacationer the opportunity to read that "good" book he has been saving until he had more time.

MIDNIGHT ARGUMENT
Is Bob Taji daff?
Is Dewey screwy?
Does Vandenburg band out
A lot of hokey?

Is Truman human?
Is Wallace a Red?
Is Dough the Hearst of it?
Aw, let's go to bed.

WE DID BETTER THAN GO TO BED. WE FLED. We fled Greater Detroit; All the Pointes (Grosse and Petite); Dearborn, Birmingham, and all the rest of the thriving, striving, driving, bee-hiving communities that have now reached such an impossible population that the procedure of printing a Directory has been given up because no one really cares enough to go out and ring all those millions of doorbells.

Sometimes four days away from Razzle-Dazzle-on-the-River is better than four months around the world. Or, as they say in Hollywood, what you need is a Lost Week-End with Nature Boy.

We wanted to flee to a foreign country and the nearest one we could find was Canada—which is plenty foreign compared to the town of the Motor Typhoons.

It isn't just that it's so placid that it seems like turning off a static rhumba and listening to a low, slow English waltz—it isn't just that one can take cakes and ale without seeing television through the glass—

It isn't just that the "Tight little Right light Isle sends her British exports first to her loyal dominions and you see Josiah Wedgwood's Blue Vine dinner-service-for-eight, smiling at you in a shop window for a mere hundred and twenty three dollars—

It isn't just those melt-in-your-hand Englishcashmere, nor the tropical suitings that look more like Noel Coward's clothes than those of our Beverly Hill Billies—

It isn't that we found the Napoleon Ivy china pattern that the exiled Emperor used on St. Helena, (see back of plates) right down to the square dessert plates and egg cups—

It isn't that the Oriental Poppies are already in bloom—and how can they be when we're in the same sun and latitude?

It isn't even that for a vast country it's so darn cozy—

Because Canada really aint too quaint. The Inn, for instance, is really a sensationally streamlined version of a ship—all shining cobalt blue and white, and steel railings, spotless from the hands of exterior as well as interior decorators. With its ship's cabin lounge, staterooms, with outside sundecks, companionways, and shuffleboard—it is so much like a stage set that you almost expect to see Mr. Roberts pop out on the upper sun deck and hurl the Captain's rubber plant overboard.

You lean back with a new Wodehouse book and wonder why everybody wears bathing suits and nobody goes in the water, and think of the ditty about Mad Dogs and Englishmen going out in the mid-day sun.

But it isn't really any of these things that make you seem so far away from Razzle-Dazzle on the River.

It's just peace, peace, peace. And it isn't until you reach

Alger Museum May Be Closed

The Second Annual Exhibition of the Michigan Water Color Society will open Saturday, June 12, at the Alger Museum with a reception from 3 p.m. to 6 p.m. The exhibition originally was scheduled to run through July 15 but unless funds are appropriated, Alger Museum will close permanently on June 30. It is quite likely that this exhibition will be the last at the Alger Museum and this month the last in which Detroiters may visit the branch.

Grosse Pointe Farms pier permits were mailed to all residents of the village this week. Anyone not receiving a permit by the weekend, should obtain them as soon as possible at the clerk's office in the Municipal Building in Kerby road. Gate attendants will go on duty at the beach park on June 13.

STUDYING BID
The low bid for the construction of the foundation for the additional pump at the Torrey road pumping station, at the figure of $3,989, was referred to the Village Engineer by the Woods council at the June 1 meeting.

The marauders who stole the metal reflector house number sign at 1000 Devonshire on the night of June 5, did a thorough job of malicious mischief. They not only stole the sign but destroyed its cement base.

Requests Permit For Laundrette

R. M. Zimmerman of Grosse Pointe Woods appeared before the Council meeting on June 1 and asked permission to erect a laundrette at 21138 Mack avenue.

The laundrette is intended to provide facilities for the neighboring residents to take their family wash and do it themselves. He is ready to install 15 machines.

Although the business is for purely local household service, several of the village commissioners raised the question that it might be a violation of the zoning regulations applicable to that area. Action was postponed pending an examination into the legal aspects of the enterprise.

Society News Gathered from All of the Pointes

From Another Pointe of View

by Jane Schermerhorn

Pity the poor society editor come June 26 . . . At least seven times . . . she'll have to write (in different ways, too) . . . that the bride wore ivory satin with fitted bodice, long, tight sleeves ending in points over the wrists, etc. . . . For that many socially prominent brides are listed in the social calendars . . . Once long ago . . . but the pace was slower, then . . . we had to write four BIG weddings for one Sunday edition . . . Missed the bride at one . . . and returned in tears with a photographer who didn't think it was important at all . . . to the office and k-n-e-w we'd be fired . . . But nothing happened . . .

RIBBONS COME TO THE FORE

The ribbons which wrap packages at the showers are very important items, we understand . . . Brides-elect save every last little piece of ribbon . . . and make exquisite bouquets of them . . . And then there's a game with ribbons being played by the smartest brides-elect at the parties honoring them . . . Something about all the ribbons being tied together . . . and the bride's engagement ring being strung on the great long string . . . And then the entire party personnel forming a circle . . . someone winding the ribbon around them from behind . . . and the one who gets the ribbon is the next bride-to-be . . . Haven't heard anything on the figures of this "sure way of finding out" . . . but will let you know . . . should we be informed . . .

BRIDES-ELECT FETED

Both these games were enjoyed by two brides-elect feted recently at the Country Club . . . When Mrs. J. Dwyer Kinnucan gave a luncheon for Joyce Skelton . . . And when Mrs. Arthur F. Alders entertained for one of the June 26 brides . . . Mary Jane MacKenzie . . . daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John William MacKenzie . . . who'll marry James V. McGoodwin, son of Mrs. James V. McGoodwin and the late Mr. McGoodwin . . . At this last luncheon . . . guests were seated at tables for four . . . with gay little arrangements of yellow stock, daisies, iris, narcissus in crystal bowls on each table . . . The luncheon was also a party shower . . . and we understand that as a young housewife . . . Mary Jane won't have to go near a grocery store for a good two months . . . so bountifully was her pantry supplied that day . . .

WISCONSIN JUNKET

Mr. and Mrs. Alders will leave this weekend . . . to motor to Delafield, Wis. . . . There to collect their handsome young son . . . Who'll be finishing his term at St. John's Military Academy . . . They'll return to their home in Roosevelt place . . . before starting out on Summer holiday . . .

COMPLAINT

We've heard a complaint . . . From a matron who has been entertaining the young bride-elect set at luncheon and dinners for the past two seasons . . . "Why, those children don't eat a thing!" she exclaimed in great concern to us . . . Probably another reason for the dashing figures one can count in young society, today . . .

MERRIAMS VISIT BRIEFLY

The DeWitt Merriams paid a brief and chic visit to town last weekend . . . Stopping at the Book Cadillac . . . and seeing their friends from the Pointe . . . The Merriams are now local to Scottsdale, Arizona . . . where their "Happy Landing" is one of the dream ranches of the state . . . When they left town . . . they were off to their Summer home . . . at Nantucket . . . with short stopover in New York City en route . . .

IT'S A MERRY LIFE

Life is going to a Grosse Pointe wedding this Summer!

DEB PLANS CHANGED

Phyllis Biggs . . . daughter of the Leo M. Biggs of Bedford road . . . will be an autumn debutante . . . instead of bowing this Summer as was originally planned . . . The Fall deb received her diploma from Pine Manor Junior College on Tuesday last . . . and then journeyed to Westfield, Mass. . . . To visit classmate Donna Richards . . . The girls will go to Amsterdam, N. Y. next weekend for the wedding of another classmate, Diana Kimpt, who will marry Fred Stimmel of Chattanooga on Saturday . . . (Continued on Page 9)

Future Citizens

Observers of social trends in the Detroit area, particularly those who have been disturbed by the multiplying evidences of juvenile delinquency, received an extra shock in reading of the vandalism of two 14 and 15 year old boys who wrecked the interior of the Foch Intermediate school in Detroit last week.

These malicious youngsters destroyed records which are irreplaceable and wrecked property to the estimated value of $10,000.

If two boys of this so-called tender age could do senseless damage to this extent it is easily possible that the same type of bad boys might, when four or five years older, gang up on a City Hall or a Public Library and wreck them from keel to crow's nest.

The meaning of such an act cannot be measured in mere money figures. Its more dangerous implications lie in the evidence of a growing moral degeneracy which if allowed to go on unchecked could lead to the debacle of Christian civilization itself.

This thing has been growing under the anxious eyes of the people for several years. Nothing of practical value has been done about it.

There is nothing in trying to pass it off by saying that boys will be boys and that the present generation of youngsters are no worse than those of the previous generation. This is simply not true.

Those of us old enough to recall what sort of boys we had a generation or two ago know that the counterpart of this period did not exist then.

Never has there been a time in the memory of anybody living now when there existed the same general disrespect for parents and elders, when there was the same uncontrolled urge for malicious mischief and so little understanding among the young of the simple rules of right and wrong as is seen today.

The little human twigs of today are not even being bent. They are allowed to grow wild and uncontrolled. The type of citizenry that is going to evolve out of these human shoots is fearful to contemplate.

The reasons for this situation can in general terms be ascribed to two basic causes: the lack of parental control, or its entire absence, or the failure of the public education system to which indifferent or negligent parents have consigned their children for both spiritual and intellectual molding and training.

It may be a hopeless task to try to persuade the fathers and mothers of America to mend their ways in their relations to their children, but some progress might be made if those in control of our public school system would insist upon greater emphasis on the spiritual and moral guidance of the children in their formative stages and maybe a little less pressure for their mere mental training.

It is vastly more important that the boy or girl should be trained from the earliest years of understanding to know and distinguish between right and wrong and act accordingly, than to be trained into a mere smart young man or woman, taught from the beginning to coin their one tracked knowledge into dollars as soon as possible after they finish their "education."

Unless this Christian civilization is to head for a moral crackup something will have to be done, and quickly, to assure a better class of men and women in the early future.

If some regimen similar in general technique to that of the Boy and Girl Scout movements could be introduced into our public school system it might accomplish much. If our children are being taught to read and write by compulsion, why not reach them through the same agency to tell the truth, to be respectful to their elders, to respect property, to protect the weak, to be brave both morally and physically and to practice those other virtues without which society can be neither stable nor happy.

We know that classes in citizenry are taught in our school but there is not enough punch in the instruction, and there is altogether too great neglect of the plain teachings of right and wrong, either by precept or example.

Our public school systems need more teaching of moral philosophy cut down to primary school pattern.

Inflation—Hot or Cold

President Truman in his speech to the farmers in Nebraska June 5 mentioned the growing inflation that haunts the country as one of the problems that has to be faced and conquered quickly if we are going to avoid national disaster.

In the same breath a moment later he expressed to the farmers great glee over the high prices their products were now bringing.

We wonder, would he have been equally enthusiastic over the cost of foodstuffs if he had been talking to a group of automobile workers in Detroit?

Truly politics is a local issue, in much the same sense as General Winfield Scott Hancock referred to the Tariff nearly sixty years ago when he was a candidate for the Presidency. For this truth General Hancock earned himself a Bronx cheer.

Some day the auto makers in Detroit may have a yen for cheap shoes from Czechoslovakia at the same moment the shoemakers in St. Louis or Brockton, Mass., are casting covetous eyes at a nifty small cheap Wellesley car made in England.

How about the nationwide enthusiasm for either the tariff or free trade issues then?

Let the Commies Talk

Had it not been for the right-about-face in the relationship of the government to the people which started in this country with the administrations of Franklin D. Roosevelt there would be no communist, or so-called communist problem in this country today.

Moved by the distress of the people when he came into office Mr. Roosevelt introduced a whole new train of contacts between government and people utterly different from those which had existed from its beginning.

Some of these were material but those which were most deep seated and most destructive were spiritual.

By his reiterated preachments about "Economic Royalists," "Princes of Privilege" and "The Forgotten Man," he created

"O suns and skies and clouds of June
And flowers of June together,
Ye cannot rival for one hour
October's bright blue weather."
(Helen Hunt Jackson)

Life certainly began at forty or fifty or sixty for one star-wart "young" matron of some seventy odd who "lives" and we MEAN LIVES in the Pointe. Last week she added another paragraph to her endless store of anecdotes about herself . . . at which she chuckles along with the rest of us.

One bright noon recently, our little lady started out to attend a Girl Scout meeting. Being a venerable and honored member of that organization, having spent some thirty active years in it, she was looking forward to a gala luncheon and visit with some of the newer and younger members. Her chauffeur drove up to the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club, (about fifteen minutes late) . . . dropped Madame off . . . and drove away. Our heroine hurried into the Club where she soon discovered the meeting of the Scouts was NOT being held. Nothing daunted, she made a few telephone calls and found that the luncheon was being held at the Detroit Yacht Club. Having a fairly good idea about where her chauffeur "hung out" on his time off, she hailed a taxi and had herself driven there. Sure enough, the surprised James was there and whisked his employer to the right place but she was now about an hour late.

Having ascertained that she was at last in the right Club, she repaired to the poude quarters to primp up a bit . . . then she marched down the hall, opened the door to one of the rooms and in true Hokinson manner, waved her hand to a table of some 40 women and called, "Hi there! Sorry I'm late." The women . . . whose luncheon-meeting had been so rudely interrupted, gave her the glassy stare . . . in a body. It was soon discovered by our heroine that she was in the wrong room . . . so she apologized and made a hastily embarrassed exit. Another five minutes found her in the right surroundings with her fellow Scout members, who had just finished their fruit cocktails and were being served the entree.

Madame Lady Bird slithered into the nearest vacant seat and a solicitous waiter whispered, "You're not too late. I'll bring you a cocktail anyway." Sooooo, while the rest of the group was being served the main course, the waiter slipped her the fruit cocktail and followed it immediately with her lunch. After the entire luncheon was over, the waiter (now her best friend), asked if she wouldn't like another fruit cocktail. . . . he had one left over! Wanting to be a good sport about the whole thing, our heroine said she'd love it . . . so her waiter pal brought it in and set it down before her, beaming the while.

She had just finished the cocktail, (her second) when a waitress nearby, who hadn't noticed her before, saw that she had finished the fruit, so hurried out, got a plate of food and set it before Lady Bird . . . who started to protest . . . but got no place. The waitress merely hushed-hushed her and said that was PERFECTLY all right . . . "go ahead and eat it, there's plenty of time." Sooooo, our heroine ate another lunch! She was then called upon to speak, which she did, with more gusto than she felt at the moment. At the end of her speech came the high spot of the afternoon. A woman in the audience, darned near the age of our little Lady Bird, came up to her and said, "I've wanted so much to meet you. I've been looking at you all during lunch and couldn't wait to tell you how very much you remind me of my husband's grandmother."

Slips of the tongue that make more sense than meets the eye: "Modesty is the best policy" . . . and . . . "She has one of those impractical nurses."

A friend of ours attended the last Republican meeting in the Pointe and told us of an amusing pantomime she witnessed. A woman sitting in front of our friend (and one seat to her left) was struggling to get out of her coat while sitting down during the meeting. Another woman directly behind the struggler, offered in a whisper to help her. This she did . . . carefully laying the coat over the back of the seat. The woman thanked her and when she turned her back, the little helper reached over, took the collar of the coat and turned it around so that the label in the coat was face up and readable. She then adjusted her glasses, peered at the name on the label . . . then nodding with quiet satisfaction, righted the coat and removed her glasses.

Ever since its inception, Life magazine has been among our top favorites even though we have been at times horrified, shocked and disgusted in turn at some of the pictorial scenes. However . . . if they ever again have the bad taste to use anything like the inexcusable article complete with pictures . . . that they used about the late Mrs. McLean and her Washington mansion . . . Life will begin and END with Father, as far as we are concerned.

a class consciousness within the whole American social body as certainly as the speeches of Patrick Henry or the writings of Thomas Jefferson created the opposite.

He instilled the belief among unthinking millions that the rich man was the poor man's enemy. He as certainly planted the seeds of Communism in America as did the homely preachments and example of Benjamin Franklin aid the growth of thrift and work and free enterprise by which we became great and prosperous.

Roosevelt is the daddy of Communism in America. Never before his time was it advanced that it was a function or duty of government to guarantee a living to any man, to tell the farmer what and how much he should plant and then destroy his surplus, if that suited the momentary economic conditions. And so we have in America today an uncounted multitude who openly or covertly incline towards the social and economic belief which he nourished. The most tremendous task in education that ever confronted any modern state faces this country today in setting aright the thwarted and twisted thinkings of an unknown number of its people.

To outlaw communism is a dubious procedure. A bludgeon is not reason nor enlightenment. Moreover the winnowing out of those to whom it should be applied would be most difficult. Few of these woolgatherers actually hold membership in the political group which takes its orders from Moscow, their spiritual capital.

Even Henry Wallace loudly disclaims communist affiliation even though it is known by all men that his official acts and private preachments for fifteen years head directly up the communist alley.

A much better way would be to encourage these citizens to give free expression to their sentiments. Many of our colleges and universities are hotbeds of this sort of reasoning. Invite directly some of their most distinguished teachers to tell us exactly how they would run this government if they were in power and able to apply their theories. Would they favor a single political party in this country? Do they believe in the State owning all of the capital and directly managing its entire economy? Do they believe in the state control of where a man shall work, what wages he shall be paid? Do they believe in letting a man accumulate money and get rich if he can? Do they recognize the need of organized religion and the Church as a monitor of our moral life?

A direct answer to any of these queries will quickly disclose the speaker's position, whether he be deeply red or a little off pink.

A great multitude of Americans are hungry for some plain answers from the communist side of the line.

Then we will begin to know the truth and the truth can be depended upon to make us free and keep us free.

Talley Rant

by Helen Talley

Lunching with LADY WILKINS at 21 the other day I commented on a very good-looking suit she was wearing. "Oh, this," said SUZANNE. "I made the jacket and HUBERT made the skirt." "AGAIN?" I said, incredulous. "That's right," replied the LADY. "HUBERT can do anything. He can nurse, cook, sew, do mechanical and carpentry work, and operate. When he is responsible for a large group of men in the wastes of the ARCTIC he HAS to know a good many things besides exploring."

One time when his party was thousands of miles from nowhere a sledge dog tore the scalp off one of the men. HUBERT sewed it back so expertly the man completely recovered. Of course they all mend their own clothes and robes, and some of them know needlepoint and knitting. Ha! running up a skirt is child's play for HUBERT!"

She said SIR HUBERT is in the throes of getting together another expedition to the ARCTIC. I said I couldn't remember the difference between the ARCTIC and the ANTARCTIC. "I remember it this way," said LADY WILKINS, "the ARCTIC has polar bears and the ANTARCTIC has penguins—does that make it all clear?"

GLORIA STOKOWSKI who calls herself GLORYA STOKOWSKA on canvas, is having a one man show in a little shop on Madison. Like most artists, her portraits, no matter of whom, look like the painter. Her canvasses are extremely interesting and the little show-room has been full of visitors. Some "feel an impact," some are looking for "psychological manifestations," some want to connect it up with FREUD, and others are just there because they think the works show effort and great promise. She has one sweet little oil called APRIL: a heart-shaped, young face under a big, flat hat, the whole, backed with brilliant flowers. Two or three have a misty, spiritualistic quality. One man rushed out of the exhibit shouting, "they are all women, all the implications are female. Another said, "in his message to STOKOWSKI, she has found Mother, Father, and I, and I, I string along with the sister who said "I am like a dog. Show me a bone and I can tell whether it is wood or something to bite on." This show of GLORYA'S has something to bite on.

I went to a CHAMPAGNE TASTING the other night and can hardly wait to be invited to another. Nothing but CHAMPAGNE and CAVIAR, kids, CHAMPAGNE and CAVIAR. I went with M. PIERRE CAQUE M. and MME MERCIER. M. CAQUE is the head of MUMMS and M. MERCIER owns the family firm of COINTREAU. For a TASTING you assemble with the other guests about ten p.m. On separate tables the top French firms have magnums and men to pour them. There were a lot of gourmets present, like JULES GLAENZER, PIERRE and CHRISTINE HAAS, CROSBY GAGE and LUCIUS, BEEBE, OSCAR THE GREAT, the HAAS houseman was there also. OSCAR refused to stay home. He said he was going to see that HIS friends were properly served.

We were like little birds in the nest. All we did was open our big mouths and OSCAR hopped about like the mother bird, filling them with great grey eggs of caviar and draughts of magnificent MUMMS. I could be a gourmet with no trouble at all but I don't think they will let me—I like pigfeet and tripe."

Our town is full of V.I.P. squeaks these days and nights. Sirens shriek as THEIR MAJESTIES ROYAL HIGHNESSES, PRINCES and DUKES race thither and yon. The society gossip writers flash and duck in a sea of Have You Heard—and I Am Told. One columnist said that at my party for the delightful young KING and QUEEN of YUGOSLAVIA, a guest sat down on her bustle with a firm thud, while cursing. Another took up the challenge and said "warn't so. A third said that he had it on the authority of the KING that the dowager in question fell on her face. Really! how silly can we get. The next time I have a party for somebody SO ILLUSTRIOUS, I guess I shall ask all the society writers in to watch. That old fell on her face wheeze has been in circulation as long as ROYALTY has—it's kind of wearing out.

There are a number of other people in town too, and they all seem to be newsweds. I should wager the guess that there is more kissing in the gardens of Rockefeller Centre during the month of June than in all the other months put together. These blissful, brand newweds have no titles but they have something much nicer. They have pet names. Between them they have saved up two or three hundred dollars for the honeymoon. If they are between engagements they sit in the gardens and kiss. If their money has dwindled they sit in the Gardens and kiss. On these beautiful warm evenings they—you said it. They say New York is awfully expensive, but what the heck, you only have one honeymoon.

Letterbox

832 Hampton Road
Grosse Pointe Woods 30,
Michigan.

May 11, 1948.
Mr. R. B. Edgar, Editor,
The Grosse Pointe News,
99 Kercheval,
Grosse Pointe 30, Michigan.

Dear Mr. Edgar:
I am a subscriber to your paper and a resident who is extremely interested in the apparent inability of our Grosse Pointe communities to cope with the increase of malicious mischief by some of our boys.

Could it be that the Grosse Pointe News by its specific type of reporting on damage and destruction is actually contributing to an increase of these automobile accessory thefts and property damage?

The week before last your front page carried a story about the removal of the hood on the Buick automobile owned by Mr. William A. Post, my friend and neighbor, while his car was parked at the Grosse Pointe High School. To my knowledge this was the first hood removal case ever reported by your newspaper.

The May 6th issue of the News carried a front page item with the caption, "Parked Cars Take Beating" with a sub-heading, "Another Case Reported of Entire Hood Being Removed by Hoodlums." (Actually the article reports two hood removals.) With a 200% increase in hood removals in one week, might it not be that the boys responsible got the idea from the previous week's issue of the News?

Paragraph 3 of the News article referred to last reads: "The police say that the hood can be removed from that model Buick without even the aid of a small screw driver." Don't you think that by publishing such explicit statements as this, which are undoubtedly read by many of the youths in our community, you are providing aid for their further malicious pranks?

Wouldn't it be a better idea rather than to be specific about the damage done to automobiles and other property to make some statement about the expense and inconvenience caused by the owners and ask your young readers directly how they would like these acts of destruction to be committed against their own families. Another suggestion is that you play up the possible penalties which will be invoked against the culprits when they are caught.

I recollect reading during the past several years some of your very good editorial comments on the responsibility of parents to train their sons to respect the property of others, and I firmly believe that a continuance of these messages will be beneficial because they are read by many others of the community as well as the parents.

I believe that your newspaper does a very creditable job in serving the needs of the community and some of the ideas expressed above may further increase its value.

I will appreciate a letter of reply stating your opinion.
Very truly yours,
Howard K. Gandelot.

Editor's Note: We cannot agree with our correspondent that our method of reporting malicious mischief tends to encourage its continuation. The reference to the ease of removing a hood from a certain make of automobile was merely the routine mention of a fact that was undoubtedly already well known to these young miscreants. It could scarcely be interpreted as a suggestion to these boys to go out and steal more hoods.

We have always maintained that the best way to combat malicious mischief is to give full publicity to the act, including the publication of names where known. This would not be done in the case of very young children but for those who have reached an age of accountability, around fourteen and past, we believe the effect is wholesome for social order and common decency. The embarrassment caused parents by such publication may also move them to keep a closer watch on the movements of their children.

Dear Mr. Edgar:

The Grosse Pointe Girl Scout Council wishes to take this opportunity to thank you for your co-operation during the past year. Your interest has been a real help in furthering the development of the scout program among the girls of our community.

We are pleased to enclose the annual report of the Girl Scouts of Metropolitan Detroit, of which we are a part.

Sincerely yours,
Mrs. E. G. Klaver,
District Chairman,
Mrs. Wesley Robinson,
Publicity Chairman.

Of Interest To Veterans

The Office of Veterans Affairs will terminate on June 30. Arrangements have been made with other state agencies to carry on most of the programs now being operated by the OVA.

One of the most important programs, the 20 psychiatric clinics, will be taken over by the Mental Health Commission. Services to the veterans in the field of psychiatric help will be uninterrupted. Under the new arrangement, eventually this new plan will provide better services because the Mental Health Commission has more facilities, more trained personnel and more latitude.
C. A. Wagg, Secretary of the Mental Health Commission, has stated that plans are under way to establish permanent adult psychiatric clinics in six key Michigan cities. After this is accomplished, the veterans' clinics in these particular cities will be merged.

Western Michigan College of Education will assume responsibility for the Michigan Veterans' Vocational School and the Board of Regents of the University of Michigan, through the University Hospital, for the Veterans' Readjustment Center.

The Michigan Veterans' Trust Fund Board of Trustees will continue the Student Loan Fund program, liaison with the local counseling centers and will maintain positions in the policy making at the Readjustment Center and the Vocational School. General service to veterans as formerly provided will be continued by the Trust Fund Board of Trustees, under the direction of Lawrence J. Lalone, executive secretary. The Trust Fund offices are located in the same building as the Office of Veterans Affairs, 411 West Michigan avenue, Lansing, Michigan.

Vitamins to Supplement Your Regular Diet

Fred M. Kopp, R.P.H.

You may be careful to obtain balanced meals, get rest and recreation in due proportion to satisfying work. Yet, you are conscious of a lag in your energy; an unusual lack of eagerness to begin your daily routine.

This may mean that for some reason you are not properly assimilating the food that you eat, that you are really suffering from lack of sufficient nourishment.

By all means, consult your doctor and if he advises Vitamins, follow his prescription exactly. He will know what particular Vitamin is lacking and in what form and how often you should supplement your present diet.

Roose Vanker Team Held To 1-1 Score by Pointers

Harry Edsall Out-Pitches Opponent in Thrilling Mound Duel; Game Is Halted by Time Limit on Diamond

By Fred Runnells

Harry Edsall and Bob Houseman tangled in a 14 inning pitching duel which saw Grosse Pointe and Roose Vanker American Legion teams settle for a 1-1 tie in their game at Belle Isle last Sunday, June 6. The game was called at the end of 14 innings because of a time limit on the diamond.

Edsall was a shade better than his mound opponent but would have dropped the decision had it not been for a beautiful shoestring catch by his teammate, Dave Donnelly, in the last half of the tenth inning.

Roose Vanker had a man on third with two out when Donnelly made his sensational game saving catch.

Grosse Pointe scored first when Bayard Johnson singled to center to open the fifth inning and moved to second on Ron Knopp's sacrifice to second from where he scored on Bill Winkler's single to center for the Pointers' lone run.

Roose Vanker scored an unearned run to tie the score in the sixth inning on one hit, a single, a passed ball and an error.

Don Balagna opened the sixth inning by singling to center and advanced to second on a pass ball. Balagna attempted to steal third and would have been out by ten feet on Johnson's perfect throw to Green, but Green let the ball get away from him and Balagna kept right on going to score Roose Vanker's only tally. The game stamped Grosse Pointe as a definite threat for the Southern division title, which has been dominated for years by Roose Vanker, which had been undefeated or untied up to this game.

Edsall moved further out in front in the strike out department when he chalked up 19 strikeouts to run his total to 79 for five games.

Edsall's control was faultless and he didn't allow a batter to reach first base on walks while sprinkling seven hits over the 14 innings.

Houseman struck out 12 and walked two while allowing seven hits.

A replay of the marathon will be announced at a later date.

Grosse Pointe Tennis Team Takes Second in State Meet

Kalamazoo State High, Class B School, Scampers Off With Top Honors in Week-end Competition

By Fred Runnells

The Grosse Pointe Blue Devil tennis team which ruled supreme in Border Cities League competition, winning 12 consecutive matches for an undefeated season and the BCL title, found Kalamazoo State High School more than it could handle last Friday and Saturday, June 4 and 5, and finished a poor second in the State Class A tennis tournament, held in Kalamazoo.

Before the start of the tournament the Blue Devils were figured to be the team to beat, due to its landslide BCL performance, but the Pointers' stock declined sharply after three of its six entries lost out in the first round of play.

Bob Schneider dropped his first round match as did the doubles combination of Bob Stritzinger and Alex Mann. Schneider lost to Ed Horvath, 6-1, 6-4. Stritzinger and Mann lost to Fast and Pore of Kalamazoo, 7-5, 6-2.

Dan Guy and Jim Barker, Grosse Pointe's number one doubles team, got as far as the semi-finals before losing to the number one seeded team of Owen and Dunbar from Kalamazoo State, 7-5, 6-3.

Guy and Barker held a 5-4 advantage in the first set but faded and lost 7-5.

According to non-partisan observers this match was the best of the entire tournament.

On the previous day, Guy and Barker stamped themselves as a powerhouse combination when they whipped the Grand Rapids Central doubles team, 7-5, 6-3, in the quarter-finals. The Grand Rapids combination had not lost a set all year until Guy and Barker turned the trick.

Hugh Dill, Grosse Pointe's

number one singles player, advanced as far as the semi-finals but found Dick Cain's game a trifle too difficult to solve and lost 6-4, 6-3.

Cain, a three-letter man from Kalamazoo State, had a little too much experience in tournament play and was more accustomed to the clay courts which gave him the edge over Dill. Cain went on to win the State Class A singles title.

The defeat of Dill clinched the championship for Kalamazoo and boiled the tournament down to an all-Kalamazoo finals.

In previous years, Grosse Pointe has enjoyed the same situation of having the title all sewed up before the finals were played.

Kalamazoo State is in reality a Class B school, but under Michigan State high school rules a school may enter one classification higher than it is rated if it so chooses.

If Kalamazoo had stayed in its own back yard, Grosse Pointe would have won the Class A title easily.

It is understood that Kalamazoo intends to move into the Class A bracket permanently next year.

Now It's Official; Pointers Annex Sweepstakes Trophy

By Fred Runnells

Last week we announced Grosse Pointe had clinched the Border Cities League All-Sports Sweepstakes Trophy for the third successive year. That was according to our own records of team performances throughout the 1947-48 school year.

Comes now from the League's publicity department, headed by Al Elwood of the Wyandotte News Herald, word that Grosse Pointe captured the coveted trophy with a grand total of 132 1/2 points, seven, and a half points ahead of the second place Wyandotte Bears.

By rights the Blue Devils should have permanent possession of the trophy after winning it three consecutive years. To my knowledge there was no provision made covering this sort of thing when the trophy was dedicated.

Most perpetual trophies are retired after they have been won by an individual or team for three years running.

As mentioned last week, now is the time that the tiny, unglamorous Sweepstakes Trophy should be retired and replaced with a large, elaborate trophy that would command the center of attention in any of the six schools' trophy cases.

I propose that each of the six member schools donate twenty five dollars from their athletic funds toward purchasing a new All-Sports Sweepstakes Trophy.

Bryant Almost Repeats Feat

Allan Bryant, youthful pitcher who etched his name in the "hall of fame" several weeks ago with a no-hit game while in a Grosse Pointe High uniform, almost repeated Sunday. Bryant pitched a one hit game for Helin, Jr. in the Detroit Baseball Federation in Class D in winning 6-2.

Helin is a team made up of players from Grosse Pointe High who like to play ball. Some of those on the team are: Jerry Allen, catcher; Ted Mumford, Don Miller, LeRoy Guaresimo, and John Jervis, infielders; and outfielders Alex Bardy, Joe Hipfel and Larry Helin.

Bryant struck out 17 players in the eight innings played. The game was called short in the eighth inning because another game had to be played on the field.

The opposing team, Teamsters took a two run lead in the fifth on two walks, an error, and the only hit made off Bryant.

Helin collected five hits. Mumford, Bardy, Bryant and Hipfel accounted for four of them. Helin came back and tied the score. They broke the deadlock in the seventh when LeRoy Guaresimo walked with the bases loaded.

Helin has a record of three wins and five losses. They have won the last two games since Bryant and others who played for the high school team signed up.

Qualifying Round in Net Tournaments Set

District Matches in National Junior and Boys Tennis Starts June 22

By Fred Runnells

The district qualifying rounds of the National Junior and Boys Tennis Championships will get underway at the Neighborhood Club June 22 and run through the 27th.

The tournament is open to boys 15 to 18 years old and the deadline for registering is June 19. All boys interested should bring their United States Lawn Tennis Association cards with them when registering for the tournament. Those not possessing U.S.L.T.A. cards need only bring their driver's license or birth certificate to establish their correct age.

To enter the 15-year-old group a boy cannot become 16 years old any time during 1948. To enter the 18-year-old group a boy cannot become 19 during 1948.

There will be only singles matches in the 15-year-old group but there will be singles and doubles in the older bracket.

Winners will be determined on the best two out of three matches.

Qualifiers will be eligible to compete in the National Tournament to be held at Kalamazoo August 2 through 7.

Wyandotte Track Star Clips 440 Record in State Meet

Bob Hensman Upsets Mark That Has Stood for 21 Years When He Runs a Blazing Quarter-Mile in 50.3 Seconds

Bob Hensman, speedy Wyandotte track star, made history in the 1948 State Class A track meet at East Lansing May 29 when he clipped one tenth of a second from the 440 record. The mark established by John Lewis of Detroit Northwestern in 1927 and equalled 11 years later by Charles Schmeling of Saginaw. Hensman's new record is a blazing 50.3 seconds.

It is reported that Hensman ran a 49.8 in the 440 event in the Indiana State meet last year. He never equalled that time during the 1948 BCL track season.

Hensman was pushed to the new record by Saginaw's Bill Conley who made a gallant bid in the home stretch but was shaded by six feet.

Another BCL star, Bill Baxter, Fordson's top point getter in the state meet, finished third in the 100 yard dash and was squeezed out of first place in the 220 dash in a photo finish. Baxter also anchored the Tractors' relay team that took fourth in the 880 relay.

Baxter's performance throughout the dual meet season and in the state meet is one of the outstanding individual feats in Fordson track history by far surpasses any ever turned in by a first year candidate.

Softball League Ready to Open

Schoeck Best Ball Player At GP High

Leads Nine for Season in Both Batting and Fielding Departments

By Joe Fromm

Vince Schoeck, lanky baseman, led Grosse Pointe High School's baseball squad in both batting and fielding for the 1948 season. Schoeck collected 11 in 35 official trips to the plate. His hits included eight singles, a double, a triple and a home run.

Schoeck handled 65 fielding plays without a miscue for an average of 1000. Four other players fielded 1000 but none of them had more than three chances.

Herb Gerhard established some sort of a record in batting by hitting safely in his last seven games. Gerhard went hitless the first two games and then hit safely in every game after that. He did not play one game because Coach Pat Kaulitz wanted to give Bob Green experience at third base.

The squad loses only five players and will have lettermen back next year for every position. Those leaving are Herb Gerhard, third baseman; Jerry Allen, catcher; Bob Ruck and Bob Wallace, pitchers; and Del Gieche, coach.

Besides Schoeck, three other players hit above the charmed 300 mark. Gerhard was second with 320, Allan Bryant had 312, and Dave Donnelly an even 300. The team batting average was .189 and fielding .914. Eight double plays were made in the 10 games played, a good record for high school ball.

Allan Bryant led the pitchers with four wins and two losses. He had an earned run average of 1.56 runs per game. Bob Ruck won one and lost three games, all by one run margins. His earned run average was 4.30 per game.

Boat Banter by Fred Runnells

There's a feud astart'n in local sailing circles between the Lawley 210 and Star Class skippers.

The fight hasn't started as yet although there is a little good natured sniping going on around Crescent Sail Yacht Club between the two classes.

It was all brought about by an article which appeared in the Detroit News the day following the D.Y.C., opening regatta in which Paul Chandler stated the 210's were the fastest class. That's when the fireworks started and they'll probably continue throughout the current racing season.

It was strictly an oversight on Chandler's part when he said the 4 hour and one minute time posted by the winning 210 was the fastest for the 15 mile triangular course.

Star skippers who navigated the same course point to the fast time turned in by Bill Walker's "Thistle" which was 26 minutes faster than Hank Cawthra's winning time in "El".

Also it was pointed out that even the slowest of the Stars to race was better than one minute faster than the winning 210.

A letter to Chandler pointing out the mistake brought a hasty retraction and gave the Stars their due credit.

Now it is up to the skippers of the two fleets in question to get together in a match race to determine the faster of these two popular racing classes.

So far the Star skippers have carried the ball right into the 210's camp by inviting challenge races that is if the 210 boys still want to be convinced.

Tom Petzold and his fresh water sailors will sail aboard John MacDonald's luxurious 73-foot ketch "Valyrie" in the Bermuda race later this month and are plenty confident because "Valyrie" will probably be scratch boat of the Bermuda fleet.

Petzold's tars believe they can persuade MacDonald to bring his ship to the rear Lakes for the Port Huron - Mackinac races in July.

By the way, who has an open berth for the Mackinac race?

Dale Finley and Fred Marigold, both eighth grade students at East Detroit Intermediate school, sailed their model boats to first and second respectively to capture the Detroit Public School Model Yacht Regatta in the Belle Isle model basin last Saturday, June 5.

The one-two finish gave the East Detroit school 157 1/2 points to beat Wilson Intermediate which finished with 149 points.

Bob Murray of Jefferson Intermediate won the Class B (30 inch models) and Fred Gall of Wilson annexed the Class C (26 inch models) title.

Junior League Tryouts Today

Tryouts for the Pointe Junior Baseball League will be held Thursday, June 10, at Kerby and Neighborhood Club Fields. All the boys from the Farms, Woods and Shores will meet at Kerby and those from the City and Parks at the Neighborhood Clubs.

The boys will then be divided into four teams, two from every field, so that all the teams will be of the same strength. To date 50 to 60 boys have signed up. Anyone still interested in playing ball during the summer, 16 years or under, should sign up at the local police station.

The league will be in operation on Wednesdays and Saturdays, two games on each day. One game will be played at Grosse Pointe High field and the other on Neighborhood Club.

Extra Care Needed to Keep Children on Vacation Safe

"Glad in the freedom of school let out" and thoughtless in their vacation zest, hundreds of Michigan school children will suffer accidental injuries or death in the next few weeks, the Michigan Department of Health warned today.

Summer vacation accidents took the lives of more than 200 Michigan school children last year and injured thousands of others.

Wherever possible, every child should become identified with a summer playground group and spend a good share of his free time with the children in the protected play area, the Department counseled. Playgrounds not only help a child to adjust himself to living with others, provide a variety of healthful outdoor activity, and relieve parents of constant supervision, but they also afford a measure of protection against accident.

Whether or not children can participate in playground activities, there are certain safety warnings which parents should continually emphasize, the Department said, and listed these admonitions:

Streets offer the greatest hazard to Michigan boys and girls. Do not play in or near the street. Watch carefully when you go into the street after a ball or runaway pet. Never run out from between cars or from behind a hedge or knoll. Be especially careful when getting off buses or street cars. Cross only at intersections, preferably at traffic lights. Walk on the left side of the road and never more than two abreast.

Ride a bicycle close to the right curb and have both front and rear lights for night cycling. Do not drive a car or any other vehicle alone until you are thoroughly experienced in its operation and fully acquainted with traffic laws, and then do not race or show off. Obey all traffic laws, lights and officers. Do not ride with a foolhardy driver, nor with any driver who has been drinking.

The familiar things of home are almost as dangerous to children as the hazards of the streets. Falls, burns, poisonings, poison gas, guns, and cars in drives take the lives of children at their homes. Do not run up and down stairs, lean out of windows, sit on railings or slide down banisters. Keep your toys where you will not fall over them. Use a step-ladder if you must climb.

Do not play with electrical appliances nor with electric or gas stoves or furnaces. Never play with matches, fireworks or fire. Do not tinker with electric wiring or sockets. Do not take pills or medicines just for fun. Watch for cars in your own or your neighbor's driveway. Don't play near cisterns, in or near excavations, or near building under construction. Never play with a real gun or pistol and never point even a play gun at anyone. Give immediate attention to even minor blisters, burns, cuts and scratches.

Expose the skin to the sun gradually just a few minutes at a time the first few days.

Even the well-protected play areas of the state can offer hazard to the health and life of the over-zealous youngster.

Michigan's myriad parks, summer camps, playgrounds and picnic areas are scenes every year of serious childhood accidents. Use playground equipment for the purpose for which it was intended. Do not perform reckless stunts; avoid rough play. Do not run with a mouthed object in the hand or in the hand. Do not play on or near railroad tracks.

Do not touch strange animals and do not ease any animal. Report any animal bite, no matter how small, to your doctor at once. Do not stand under trees or in doorways or go in swimming during an electric storm.

First Flag Day Held in 1671

Amidst pageantry and long speeches, Michigan's first Flag Day was held at Sault Ste. Marie, June 14, 1671.

It was the French flag that was honored on that occasion. The Stars and Stripes of the United States which will be honored on Flag Day next Monday, June 14, did not come into existence until 106 years later on June 14, 1777.

According to the Michigan Historical Collections at the University of Michigan, the 1671 ceremony came about this way: Simon Francois Daumont, Sieur de Saint Lussou, had been commissioned to take possession of the region for his King Louis XIV, in order to be ahead of the English, who already were in the Hudson Bay area.

News of the coming ceremony was sent to the 14 Indian tribes in the region. On June 14, dressed in their savage finery, the Redmen gathered on a knoll near St. Mary's River falls to take part in the ceremony with the Frenchmen.

From the stockade of the Mission there, the Indians saw a little procession come toward them. The Frenchmen were dressed in blue and white uniforms and had plumes waving from their hats. They carried the French flag of golden lilies on a field of white before them. With them were four priests in somber black robes, and French voyageurs with bright colored sashes about their waists.

After exchanging greetings, the French proclamation was read aloud and translated for the Indians. A large wooden cross was erected on the spot, and the little band of Frenchmen sang an ancient hymn. A cedar post bearing a leaden plate inscribed with the royal arms of France was planted next to the cross.

Raising his sword in his right hand, holding a piece of sod in his left, and speaking in a loud voice, Saint Lussou took possession for Louis XIV of the Great Lakes, Manitoulin Island and of all other countries, rivers, lakes and tributaries bounded on the one side by the Northern and Western seas and on the other side by the South Sea "including all its length and breadth."

Then the French saluted the flag and fired their muskets. The Indians, apparently impressed by such a celebration, whooped their approval. The ceremony ended with a great bonfire around which the French sang a Te Deum. "To thank God on behalf of these poor peoples, that they were now the subjects of so great and powerful a monarch."

After the French left, the Indians ripped the coat of arms from the post and, as lead was always a scarce item, used it to make bullets, according to Michigan historical information.

A century later, the British by force of arms took the Great Lakes and the region east of the Mississippi from France, expecting to retain them as parts of their growing empire. But again the possession won by blood and money was only temporary. For 20 years later, by the Treaty of Paris, the area became a part of the infant United States, although the United States didn't take it over until 1796.

Elections Held By Thrift Shop

Mrs. Russell Alger became chairman of the board at the annual meeting of the Thrift Shop directors held on Monday.

Mrs. F. Rankin Weisgerber was named chairman, and Mrs. Charles B. Warren, Jr., vice-chairman.

Other officers elected were Mrs. Howard Smith, Jr., recording secretary, assisted by Mrs. Joseph Dodge; Mrs. George N. Monroe III, treasurer, assisted by Mrs. John N. Lord; Mrs. Guy Weddhoff, corresponding secretary, assisted by Mrs. Thomas McKean; Mrs. William Hannan, filing and mailing, assisted by Mrs. Howard Lesley.

Mrs. James J. Phelan, Jr. will handle Thrift Shop publicity, with the help of Mrs. Edwin Baker and Mrs. George Hefferan. In charge of the re-sale room will be Mrs. Howard Smith, Jr. Her assistants include Mrs. Sherman Mitchell, Mrs. Thomas McKean, Mrs. Bruce Chalmers, Mrs. George Hefferan and Miss Helen Stoepel.

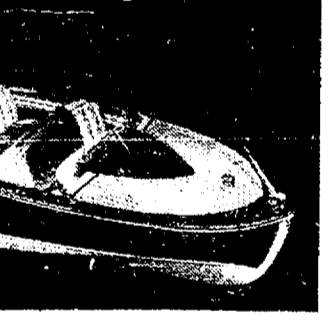

Mrs. William Callery, assisted by Miss Helen Stoepel, will have charge of the volunteer committee. Mrs. Edwin Mercer was named house committee chairman with Mrs. Cameron Kiskadden as her assistant.

Mrs. Bert Wicking heads the committee for Thursday nights. Chairman and assistant chairman of the Main Room are Mrs. Cyril Moore and Mrs. Albert C. Dickson.

Mrs. Cyril Edwards, Mrs. Herbert Allee, Mrs. John Sutton, Mrs. A. Ingersoll Lewis, Jr., Mrs. Oscar Buhr, Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Dickson are members at large.

The Thrift Shop, which closes for the summer on June 12, will re-open Sept. 7. Sept. 21 has been selected as the date of the annual Fashion Show. The show, put on by Irving's, will be given at the Neighborhood Club.

The offer was promptly accepted. The Perkins Company has been serving Grosse Pointe from the same store for the past 18 years.

Fish Contest Lures Whoppers

The Roland Gray Sporting Goods Store on Kercheval, which is running a fish contest until June 25, is turning in some figures that would make an Isaac Walton disciple's mouth water. To date there have been no offerings in the Trout, Perch or Pickerel categories, but the Northern Pike and Muskellunge specialists have come to the fore nobly. Robert Domine, of 212 Kirby road, brought in a Northern Pike that measured 27 1/2 inches. Another big offering of the same species was brought in by Robert Burton, of 622 Pemberton. This measured 33 1/2 inches. Five Muskellunge have been exhibited: three from one family. Mrs. William Hammer, of 1427 Cadieux, sent in one that measured 35 1/2 inches, her son, Roger, had one that went 42 1/2 inches and the head of the Hammer household, as was fitting, topped the list with a whopper measuring 49 inches. Prizes are awarded on length rather than weight but it is estimated the biggest Hammer offering would weigh 25 pounds. A. A. Hild, of 189 McKinley, came in with one that was no more. It measured 37 1/2 inches and another one presented by H. Worrell of 1054 Maryland came through at 43 1/2 inches.

PERSONAL APPEARANCES

MRS. HARLEY EARL... lurching with elegance in a gray pure silk shantung frock, dramatically simple... and wearing a gold chapeau adorned with jet braid... one strand of the braid traveling on the right side way down to shoulder length!

MRS. HUNTER WILLIAMS... a new spring in her step what with all the Junior League Follies responsibility off her trim shoulders... wearing a chic gray gabardine pin stripe suit, neatly tailored. Her round brimmed navy straw hat was lavishly trimmed in bows of accordion pleated ribbon.

MRS. WALLACE MACKENZIE... dining at the D.A.C. in the smartest of crimson chiffon evening gowns. That same night, and in the same party glimpsed MRS. STANDISH BACKUS, in soft toned pure silk print, white background, with above elbow sleeves and a gracefully draped neckline.

MRS. JAMES MCEVOY JR... flashing that lovely smile on luncheon companions... and looking ever so smart in a salmon and gray silk frock. Her tiny natural straw hat had dainty tea roses peeking over the brim with a touch of black velvet ribbon here and there in just the right places.

PILFERINGS

With the political conventions just a week away: Louis Sobol tells this story of how a vote tally was made in a Southern town during the 1944 presidential election.

"Seven hundred votes for Roosevelt," Four hundred and thirty two votes for Roosevelt." He paused, picked up a ballot and brought it to the chief teller.

"Suh," he said, hesitatingly, "heah is one vote for Tom Dewey. What do we do?"

"Suh," replied the chief teller, "count that vote for the Republican candidate, Mr. Tom Dewey, of course."

The teller resumed his counting. "Three hundred and sixteen for Roosevelt, Eight hundred and twenty three votes for Roosevelt. Two hundred and twenty votes for Roosevelt." Again he paused, pondered, and then called aloud, "One vote for Dewey."

The chief teller roared back indignantly, "Void that ballot! It's puhfleckly obvious, suh, that the same man has voted twice!"

A young couple received in the mail a pair of tickets to a hit show on Broadway. With the tickets was a note which read: "Guess who sent these."

On the appointed evening, the couple went to the theater. They returned very late, and to their astonishment, discovered that everything of any value had been removed from the house.

On the living room table they found this note: "Now you know."

A guard from the lunatic asylum rushed up to a farmer who was standing on the road.

The guard said: "I'm looking for an escaped lunatic. Has he passed this way?"

The farmer puffed thoughtfully on his corn cob pipe. Finally, he asked, "What does he look like?"

"He's short," said the guard, "and very thin and weighs about three hundred and fifty pounds."

"How can a man be short and thin and still weigh three hundred and fifty pounds?"

"Don't act so surprised," replied the guard, angrily. "I told you he was crazy!"

Pointer of Interest

JEANNE WYLIE TOROSIAN OF KENSINGTON ROAD

When the July issue of McCall's Magazine hits the streets, Pointers will snatch for it eagerly to read "The Clove of Power," a short story written by one in their midst, Mrs. Edward Torosian, the former Jeanne Wylie, of Kensington road. Jeanne received word in December that the magazine had accepted her story and would use it in a forthcoming issue.

According to the author, "The Clove of Power" deals with a young married couple and the jockeying for power between the two. The machine shop in the story's background, friends will recognize as that which Mr. Torosian has built up since his return from service. Others of Jeanne's stories have been printed in the Maryland Quarterly, Short Story Magazine and various other publications.

In 1941 she shared the $1,000 first prize in the Atlantic Monthly short story contest, and her winning article was published therein. The following year another of her short stories was printed in the O. Henry Memorial Collection, and she received a prize for the best first-published story.

Third Novel

Despite her success with short stories, these are not Jeanne's favorite type of literature. At present she is working on her third novel. It's not surprising that this book has a university background, because teaching is important in the Wylie family.

A math major at Northwestern University, Jeanne got her Master's Degree in speech at Wayne University and taught speech at Wayne for more than three years before she decided "to devote my full time to writing." Since her sister teaches music at the University of Missouri and her brother heads the mathematics department at the University of Utah, bidding farewell to education was a big step.

Criticism

Poetry is in the Wylie background, too. Jeanne was poet laureate at Northern High School before graduating at the age of 15. She still keeps up a steady output of verse. She also composes music for her own enjoyment and hopes some day to take some harmony courses so that she "can write it down."

Jeanne outlines the plot of her story or novel well in advance of the actual writing. Periodically, she meets with two women writers and the trio criticize each other's writings. She has been a member of the Detroit Women Writers' Club for the past 10 years.

The attractive young author calls 10 to 4 her working hours each day, and she spends this time at her typewriter. Since her husband's return from the Army, they have been living with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Wylie.

OPEN SESAME

By Shelley R. Aagesen

Like Ali Baba from the treasure cave He walked out of her heart and shut the door.

The world held other riches to explore Before he slept the long sleep of the grave.

Returned at last, he found to his chagrin The entrance to the storehouse of his dreams.

Was barred with steel. He had forgot, it seems, The magic countersign that let him in.

"Tis I! 'Tis I! Pray open to your lord, You shall have frosty diamonds for your hair!"

But diamonds did not seem to be the word, Nor gold, nor motor cars. She did not care.

He cried: "I love you!" beating at the gate— It was the password, but it came too late.

ALL OTHER SPRINGS

By Shelley R. Aagesen

Le listening when slow rain falls at night And firelight flickers on the polished floor,

Remember Jazy words that brought delight, Be mindful of a kiss, a fast-closed door.

Like incense, let the scent of Jessamine Bring to your lips a reminiscent prayer

For one who gloried in each deep sweet sin Whose foot was ever swift to climb your stair,

Forget me? No! When secret warm rains fall, Filling the narrow street with strange perfume,

When myrtles bud, magnolias wax and bloom, And mockingbirds spill liquid sorrow all

The soft night through, then will your heartbeats wait To hear a latch lift on a hidden gate.

T-H-E wedding month is with us once more, and while the lovely wardrobe of the bride-elect occupies the center of June's stage, there are others equally important whom WALTON-PIERCE has planned to outfit for the ceremonious day... namely, the mothers of prospective bride and groom, and guests who feel that they should have distinctive wedding attire. Both Walton-Pierce's GROSSE POINTE BRANCH and the downtown store in the Women's City Club have gowns suitable for weddings. WALTON-PIERCE downtown also carries sizes up to 44 for the more mature woman.

Dresses of French blue, that shade so-o-o flattering to the woman with greying hair, are marked for wedding wear. Crepe dresses and jackets in soft blues are elegant in their WALTON-PIERCE simplicity. Leaf designs of raised lace insert edge the neckline and jacket cuffs of these two-piece outfits. V-embroidered bodice and V-neck distinguish a beige dress with bracelet length sleeves; a rhinestone pin puts the finishing touch on this gown for modom... The bodice and sleeves of a handsome grey gown are almost entirely of lace-embroidered net, and a bolero type jacket completes the outfit. Very smart is a soft crepe print redingote at WALTON-PIERCE. The pale blue wool coat lined with matching print has short sleeves and dramatic cape shoulders. And don't forget... lovely summer hats to complement these dresses for warm weather weddings can be found at both of the enchanting WALTON-PIERCE shops.

Brides and debutantes claim June as their very own... and their busy mamas claim flowers by DE PETRIS for all the floral occasions surrounding the nuptials and debuts. The flower specialist on Grosse Pointe Boulevard has long been recognized as an artist in his field, and a De Petris arrangement is certain to cause favorable comment at any party.

It matters not whether the flowers are for a church wedding, garden party or tea table centerpiece... if they're from DE PETRIS, they're the very best. Besides the formidable array of blossoming beauty in the De Petris greenhouses, shipments of flowers arrive regularly at the shop, air expressed from all parts of the country, in order that Pointe requests of every kind may be filled.

We can only mention a few of the gorgeous flowers displayed at the De Petris shop... pink carnations set against blue delphinium... beautiful bouquets of tea roses... deep red roses... Japanese lilies... and handsome arrangements to suit any and every color scheme.

Since DE PETRIS is always in demand this time of year, we'd suggest consulting him well in advance of the summer nuptial party, wedding or debut, for which distinctive flower arrangements are in order.
