Auto Club Set To Construct New Building

Long-Delayed Structure At E. Jefferson and Somerset To Start Soon

The long-delayed Michigan Automobile Club building which is to be erected at the N. W. corner of Somerset and Jefferson, will soon be a reality. Karl B. Goddard, the committee of one from the Board of Park Village Commissioners who has been hot on the trail of the Club to fish or cut bait on its building project, has been assured by the directors that construction on the clubhouse will be started by late summer or early fall.

Line of Demarcation—Prior to this the single family dwelling house which is to be erected on the opposite corner to mark the line of demarcation between commercial and residential Jefferson avenue is to be erected. The contract for this has been let and construction will begin in June.

At the time the arrangement for the clubhouse site was made between the village and the Auto Club it was agreed between the owners of the Somerset development and the village that this dwelling should be first built. This was largely to allay the fears of the adjacent private property owners that the advent of the clubhouse would mark the beginning of the commercialization of that part of the village. The private dwelling house was to assure that this would not be.

Costs Advanced—The Auto Club has delayed building because of the great advance in building costs that occurred after the permit was given for the clubhouse. Apparently the costs have come down, and pressure has been put upon the club by the village authorities in recent months to start the building.

Plan for Memorial Gardens Could Have National Results

The annual national meeting of the Garden Club of America will be held in Detroit some time in May, 1950.

It was partly with this in mind that Vincent DePetrus, chairman of the grounds committee of the War Memorial, urged his plan for the preparation of Memorial Gardens on the Alger House grounds for next spring.

These gardens would be indi-

Furore Over School Election Leads Board of Education To Take Unprecedented Step

Asks Electorate for Vote of Confidence to Be Expressed by Re-election of Bert H. Wicking at Polls on June 13

Due to the furore created by the recent election on the school bond issue, which was defeated, the members of the Grosse Pointe Board of Education have taken an unprecedented move. They are asking for a vote of confidence from the electorate of the local district and request that the expression take the form of the re-election of Bert H. Wicking to the Board.

Mr. Wicking, president of the board, is the only trustee whose term expires this year. He will be a candidate for re-election at the regular school election on June 13.

Extend Invitation—The Board of Education has also extended an invitation to the public to attend all meetings of the Board, and to avail itself of all the factual information concerning the district.

The action of the Board is expressed in the two following Open Letters which were sent to the NEWS on Tuesday morning.

The Letters

"Mrs. Alice M. Sheaffer, Mr. Franklin D. Dougherty, Mr. Shirley T. Johnson and Mr. Sigurd R. Wendin, four of the five members of the Grosse Pointe Board of Education have discussed the indications of lack of confidence in the Board as expressed by the local newspapers and in open letters to the press. The Board feels that it would very much like to have an expression of confidence from the Electorate of the School District.

"The Board has always attempted to give to the school children of this entire district reasonable and adequate facilities both in the way of physical plant and teaching instruction. The members of the present Board have always been unanimous in the administration of the schools.

"Mr. Bert Wicking, who has been a member of this Board for the past six years, due to the urging of the other members of the Board has decided to allow his name to be placed in nomination for the trustee for the June 13th election.

Mistress Bitten Severely by Dog

Dr. J. E. Purvis, veterinary, reported to the City police on May 19, that he was holding in his kennel for a 12-day observation period, a dog which had severely bitten its mistress, Helen Kelley, of 640 Rivard. Miss Kelley was bitten on the nose and lip.

Dr. Kroha had to take three stitches in the wound and reported the case to the Department of Health.

Putnam Raps Advocates of School Split

Cites Vast Contribution of Shores to Education of Children of All Pointes

Replying to those advocating splitting the Grosse Pointe School District, President Ernest C. Putnam of Grosse Pointe Shores says such a plan would be very much to the advantage of his village, provided it could get a refund for the amount of money it has paid in excess of the cost of educating its children.

Putnam's Letter

"In your paper for May 19, 1949, you gave prominent space to a proposal that the Rural Agricultural School District be divided in two, so that... the Shores, Woods and Gratiot Township will no longer be outvoted and they will be in a position to carry out their own school program at their own expense."

The authors of this letter also state "The Shores and Woods and the fraction of Gratiot Township... have up to now made but a negligible contribution to the school system."

Far From Negligible

"Grosse Pointe Shores has made far more than this negligible contribution that we are credited with. Last year taxpayers in our Village paid to the School System $139,882. In return for this money our residents sent only 108 children to the Public School System."

"According to Board of Education figures, the taxpayers' cost of educating these 108 children was $20,758. Therefore it can be readily seen that in 1948 Grosse Pointe Shores contributed $119,124 to educate children in OTHER (Grosse Pointe communities, or to build their schools.

Paid More Than Share

"For the past 20 odd years Grosse Pointe Shores has had a low population and a high assessed valuation. This means that the Village has always paid far in excess of the actual cost of educating its children. It has been conservatively estimated that Grosse Pointe Shores has paid in excess of $2,000,000 to the Grosse Pointe Rural Agricultural School District, OVER THE COST OF EDUCATING ITS CHILDREN IN THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS."

To Be Without School

"After all this money has been contributed, Grosse Pointe Shores is to be without a school in its... (Continued on Page 15)

Woods Contributes Big Share Toward Paying School Debt

Charges That North End of District Has Contributed Little To Education Facilities of Area Refuted By Figures Revealed By School Board

During the late school bond issue campaign there was much loose talk about the lower end of the school district having put up its present fine school buildings at its own expense and the Woods could stew in its own juice so far as new school buildings went, or words to that effect.

An examination into this subject discloses that not only have the residents of the Woods paid their proportionate share of the school buildings, but what is more to the point, will have to continue to pay their share of the substantial debt that still remains on these buildings.

Figures obtained from the School District offices disclose this debt situation in detail. They are as follows:

Outstanding Debt of the School District as of May 1, 1949
Defer School	$245,000
Trombly School	471,000
Maire (site)	184,000
Richard School	178,666
High School	1,740,000
Mason School	315,000
New Kerby Site	15,000
Roslyn Site	28,334
Cadieux Site Addition	15,000
Total Gross Debt	$3,193,000
Amount, Sinking Fund $1,947,790
Net School Dist. Debt	$1,245,210

In addition to these figures which the School District issued, it also gave out some interesting figures regarding the present Parcels Junior High School and its extension and additions when finally completed.

The building was planned during 1944-45 by Giffels and Valles in cooperation with Dr. Paul L. Essert, Mr. J. Harold Husband, and members of the Board of Education.

The building is designed to serve 900 pupils in Grades 7-8-9, and to provide Public Library facilities for the Grosse Pointe Woods, Grosse Pointe Shores and Gratiot areas.

The portion of the building now completed and used for upper elementary grade pupils includes the following:

- 15 Standard Class Rooms
- 1 Play-room-auditorium
- (N.B.—This space will be divided into 3 Standard Class rooms when the complete building is available).
- 1 Office and Clinic (temporary)
- 1 Receiving room (temporary)
- 1 Teachers' rest room
- 4 Toilet rooms, 2 boys, 2 girls

The portion of the building yet to be completed includes provision for the following:

- Auditorium, Boys' Gymnasium, Girls' Gymnasium, Locker and Shower Rooms, Swimming Pool, Boiler House and Receiving Room, Cafeteria Kitchen, General Purpose Room, Administrative Unit (offices, clinic, Book Store, etc.), Public Library Unit.

Pointe Taxicab Figures in Crash

A taxi of the Grosse Pointe Cab Company, driven by Norman Stonge of 1279 Ashland, and a car driven by Achilles George of 9641 Yosemite, Detroit, came together last week at an unsignalized intersection at Edlie and Beniteau.

Three persons were seriously but not critically injured. Beth Stonge and George were given tickets for reckless driving.

Contractor Making Sidewalk Repairs Victim of Welchers

The contractor who is doing the sidewalk repairing and re-laying in the Park, is having trouble in collecting his bills from those who direct him to do the work for them instead of authorizing the village to do it and charge it back against them in special assessment.

When the sidewalk inspector goes around and directs repairs or replacements to be made, the property owner has the option to make his own arrangements with the official contractor or direct the village to make them and assess his property for the same. The law permits this choice.

Speaker

FATHER CLARK of St. Clare de Montefalco Church will be the speaker at the Memorial Day ceremonies to be held at the new Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center on Lake Shore road next Monday morning.

Youths Fined For Stealing From Autos

Justice Leslie P. Young in City Police Court on May 23 handled the following cases:

Anthony Delian, Jr., aged 19, of 1464 Bewick, Detroit, found guilty of larceny from car on April 25, was fined $100 and $35 costs, had his driver's license revoked for 6 months and was placed on probation for one year to the Wayne County Probation Court.

Dominic Catarinichia, aged 21, of 5834 Townsend, Detroit, convicted in the same offense, was also fined $100 and $35 costs, with same revocation of license and probation sentence.

Bruce Kirchner, 18, of 458 Touraine, G. P. Farms, for speeding 50 m.p.h. on Maumee in front of the police station, was fined $35 and $5 costs, with license revoked for 6 months.

Burglars Visit Bait's Residence

Thieves entered the Stuart Bait's residence at 1009 Bishop road between 4 p.m. and 1 a.m. on May 17 and stole a portable radio, $25 from a small savings bank, $20 from a woman's purse and a camera that cost $260.

Entrance was made through a basement door, which a maid had forgotten to lock. No member of the household was present during the entire evening.

GROUND

Some Manor road youngsters were warned by the Farms police on May 21 not to drive their home-made jeep without a license.

Plan Program For Monday At New Site

First Exercises to Be Held At Pointe's Beautiful Center On Lake Shore Road

The directors of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association held their first meeting in the Alger House War Memorial Building on Monday night, May 23. Great enthusiasm was shown for the progress that has been made in setting up the administrative organization.

The first thing on the agenda was the approval of the program for the memorial exercises on May 30. Norbert P. Neff who was chairman of the committee of arrangements, submitted a recommendation for the day's ceremonies, which was approved.

The memorial grounds will be opened at 10 a.m. and the exercises will start on the lakefront side of the property at 11 a.m.

The program will be:

1. Presentation of colors to the Association by the Women's Auxiliaries of the V.F.W. No. 995 and the American Legion Post No. 303 and the acceptance by Chairman Alger Shelden.
2. Raising of the colors and half masting of the same by the Legion and V.F.W.
3. Invocation by Rev. Dr. Frank Fitt.

4. Placing of wreath by the presidents of the two auxiliaries.

5. Reading of Roll of Honor of the 122 war dead of Grosse Pointe by William F. Connolly, Jr., president of Grosse Pointe Farms.

6. Taps and Echo by Buglers of the Legion and V.F.W.

7. Benediction by Rev. James Clark.

8. Dismissal and general inspection of grounds by public.

In the event of rain the services will be held in the front rooms toward the lake.

In addition to a police detail there will be a number of Boy Scouts in uniform stationed at various points in the drive, parking area, the Center and around the gardens to assist and direct the public.

Long Discussion

There was a lengthy discussion of many themes having to do with the progressive development and uses of the Memorial. These are yet in a formative state and not ready for announcement.

It was recognized that one of the first steps that need be taken was the establishment of the general policy of conducting the property and to this end a Policy Committee was provided for and Chairman Sheldon named such a committee, which was unanimously approved. This will probably be the most important committee associated with the project in its initial stages. Members are: Renville Wheat, chairman; Ralph Netting, Ernest Kanzler, Mrs. Dwight Douglas, Richard Heugli, Mrs. Charles Dean, Jr., and Mrs. Charles Lord.

Backers Needed

Ernest Kanzler, chairman of the Contributors Committee, stressed the early necessity of creating a group of Friends of the Memorial, who will agree to make specified contributions, be they much or little, to the Memorial that there may be a backlog of assured income. This thought was also strongly urged by Vincent DePetrus, who said it would be impossible to budget the expenses of the Memorial until this was assured.

Mr. DePetrus also advanced a suggestion for providing a series of "memorial gardens," which was enthusiastically approved by the directors.

He would first blueprint the gardens and then let it be known that flower beds of various sizes were available for memorial flower beds which the families of the dead might maintain for the season at a specified cost, depending on the size of the bed and other considerations.

Would Beautify Grounds

His plan for next year which he could import direct from Holland at a great saving to the sponsors of the gardens.

Due to the press of business in the early stages of the memorial development it was decided by the directors to have frequent meetings. These will be held on June 6 and June 13, by which time it is expected the Policy Committee will be ready to report.

Sleeping Driver Causes Accident

While driving on Mack avenue
at Kenmore at 3 a.m. on May 21, Wm. J. Skinner of 22102 Ridgeway, St. Clair Shores, fell asleep at the wheel and crossed over into the line of traffic. He hit another car head-on. The other car was driven by Charles Nelson of 1048 Marlborough. Mr. Nelson suffered minor injuries but Mrs.
Nelson had more serious head injuries.

Both were taken to Saratoga Hospital for treatment. Skinner was given a ticket for reckless driving.

Articles Stolen From Parked Car

Harold Emmons, Jr. of 361 Ri-vard boulevard, reported to the Farms police on May 20 that a number of articles had been stolen from his car while it was parked that night in the rear of Grosse Pointe High School.

Among the articles missing were a tan topcoat, an Army trenchcoat, a flashlight, two wrenches and a pair of pliers.

Police Rescue Exhausted Dog

The City police were notified by the servants at the Wesson Seyburn property on the lakefront, at 8:07 a.m. on May 23, that a dog was apparently trapped by the seawall and could not get out of the lake.

One of the servants believed he had heard the dog the day before.

The animal was so frightened and exhausted that he was dangerous to handle by the ordinary methods. Officers Teetaert and Rabaut yanked him on top of the wall with a dog snare, a device used in capturing mad or dangerous dogs.

The only surmise the dog had had from constant swimming was when he rested his paws on a piece of pipe that projected out of the water.

He was a large dog, half Collie and German, police, unlicensed and owner unknown.

DePetris Wins

On the recommendation of the Michigan Horticultural Society,
Vincent DePetris was awarded the Esther Longyear Memorial medal for outstanding horticultural achievements. The ceremony took place at Michigan State College, East Lansing, last Saturday.
This is not an annual award,
this being the first since 1940.

Request Police For Protection

The manager of the Belle Isle Tent and Awning company called on the Grosse Pointe City police on Wednesday morning, May 18, and said that some of his men were working at the Costello residence at 402 Neff and feared they might be molested by a goon squad sent out by a union of tent and awning workers that was on strike.

His men, he said, did not belong to the union which was on strike, but he had heard that a flying squad of trouble makers from the striking union might attempt to keep his men off their Grosse Pointe job. The City police made preparations to protect them but no goon squad showed up.

There was a rumor that this same flying squad did make trouble for some awning workers on Neff, but over in Detroit.

On Saturday morning, May 21, all of the police headquarters in the Pointe were alerted again on the suggestion of Detective Lampe of the Detroit Special Investigation squad.

He had heard that the strikers were sending squads into the Pointe on Saturday. By this time, however, all of the awning work in the Pointe north of the Park had been finished. The Park stood by for trouble, but none eventuated.

Short Circuit Starts Theater Marquee Fire
A slight fire that might have been attended with tragic results had it occurred inside the Aloma theater instead of on the outside at 8:16 p.m. on May 18, came from a short circuit which set fire to the marquee.

It was quickly extinguished, unknown to the patrons inside
the house.

Thief Abandons New Stolen Car

The Turner-Buick company temporarily lost a brand new Buick Super by theft last week.
The car, being used as a demonstrator by Salesman Leo Lynn Green, was left parked in Ker-cheval avenue across from the Turner building.

When Green looked for it at 1 p.m. on May 17, it was gone. He had not left the keys in the ignition.

Sergeant Anthony Walsh, on an early morning hunt for fishermen who have been a trespassing nuisance on the lakefront, discovered a new Buick at the foot of Park Lane on Sunday morning, May 22. Thinking there might be some connection between it and the stolen Buick, he checked on the license plate and found it belonged to one Donald J. Beaver of 5025 Lakewood, Detroit.

Mr. Beaver was not available until Monday morning and when seen by the police said his car was safe at home. He then learned that his car was carrying an orphaned plate, the one that properly belonged to the Buick.

Everything was quickly cleared up; the Buick people got their own car and Mr. Beaver his own license plate.

Regains Sight After Accident

Mrs. Elizabeth Henley of 2728
Antietam, Detroit, was temporarily blinded by tree spray while she was waiting for a bus at Grosse Pointe boulevard and Meadow lane on the morning of May 19. The spray was being used across the street from where she was standing.

Mrs. Henley succeeded in getting on the bus after some of the fluid blew in her eyes, but she had to be taken off when it reached the Park. She was treated in Bon Secours Hospital, from where she was taken to the Farms police station by Sergeant Champine.

She regained her sight in the police station and was later called for by her husband, who took her home.

Pointe Theater Presenting One-Act Plays Here Tonight

All the important roles in tonight's Grosse Pointe Theater Workshop presentation of one-act plays, in the Gabriel Richard School at 8:30, will not be on stage. Many capable hands and heads will be toiling behind the scenes to effect as smooth a production as possible.

Mrs. Virginia Casil has been named production co-ordinator and house manager for the evening. The stage manager will be the dramatic teacher at Grosse Pointe Country Day, Mrs. Lee Yeager. Other back-stage responsibilities have been assigned to Frank Standish, electrician; assisted by Fred Lienemann; Tim Taylor, music; Sherbourne Brown Jr., sound.

Each of the three plays will have its own production manager, who will oversee the myriad details connected with the individual show. Producer for "Indian Summer" is Vincent Dicklares, assisted by Miss Phyllis Cardore. Miss Susan Duckett is handling "Ring in the Groom," while "Meet the Mrs." is Charles Manos' responsibility.

Invitational tickets have been issued for the performance, and if the response warrants it, a repeat showing will in all probability be staged at a later date.

A casting call will be issued in the near future for a new series of Workshop plays, which will shortly go into rehearsal.

Persons interested in active membership in the Grosse Pointe Theatre may obtain further information by contacting Mrs. Virginia Casil, temporary membership chairman, at Niagara 6360.

JET RACING

In the final running of the season, Ricky Reed of 216 McKinley was named the 1949 Jet Racing Champ of Grosse Pointe, having accumulated the most points, 95, in Class A. Ricky will receive a trophy from James Drake of Drake's Bike Shop.

Poor Substitute for What's Needed

ONCE AGAIN the Wayne County Road Commission is handing Grosse Pointe a makeshift patch repair job on the abominable surface of its main artery of travel, East Jefferson avenue. For years the community-wide clamor for a new pavement on this thoroughfare has been shrugged off by the county officials. And the Pointe goes on paying the highest per capita taxes the county collects.

$1,026,000 Fixed As Park's Budget

The budget of Grosse Pointe Park for the year 1949 was tentatively adopted at the meeting May 23, pending the fixing of the millage. The budget is for $1,026,000 or about $84,000 more than last year.

Manager Everett Lane read a detailed explanation of the budget, calling attention to the fact that the increase is for a limited number of items which will not be recurring another year. Among these items are one for $18,000 for a pumper, $11,400 for the Park's share of the installation of the new police radio service and $13,800 for special curbing and street repairs. It also sets aside $102,000 in the municipal improvement reserve, which is nearly $40,000 more than the usual allocation for this purpose.

Mr. Lane mentioned that the village is still proceeding on the pay-as-you-go plan, which has spared it from any issue of bonds since 1939. In this period the village has also reduced its bonded debt by $710,000.

The advertised public hearing on the budget brought out only two citizens, who came more to demonstrate their civic interest than to criticize any particular items in the budget. On the contrary they expressed themselves as highly pleased with the efficiency with which the commissioners and executive officers carried on the village business. The citizens were Carl Halpin of 1216 Harvard and Frank Jenny of 1222 Harvard.

President Fritsch expressed the belief that a raise in the millage would not be necessary, due to new building and revision of assessments.

Boy Sets Fire to Shed Playing With Matches

A small boy playing with matches set fire to a shed in the rear of 1248 Maryland at 2:20 p.m. on May 10.

The shed was destroyed and the fire did some damage to the facing brick on the rear of the house on the property where the shed was located.

Ask Beaconsfield Parking Banned

A petition containing 97 names was presented at the Park council meeting on May 23 asking for the prohibition of parking on the west side of Beaconsfield between Kercheval and Mack. The petitioners claim that with parking on both sides the street it becomes impossible for two moving cars to pass.

The matter was referred to the Chief of Police for his opinion before any official action is to be taken.

The first night schools in America were established about the middle of the 19th century.

Sings 30 Years In Same Choir

Sydney Johns will complete 30 years as tenor soloist at the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church on Sunday, May 29. As on previous anniversaries, he will sing "O Lord Most Holy."

Mr. Johns, a Cornishman, lives in Highland Park, but for these last 30 years he has missed but two Sundays singing with the Pointe church choir. He recalls that when he first applied for the position, the congregation attended services in the little Ivy Church on the same site the present beautiful structure occupies. Later the banquet halls and community house section of the edifice were built. The church building as it now stands was completed about 20 years ago.

William Bradley was organist when Mr. Johns first became a member of the church's professional choir. The late Dr. Sykes was minister.

Mr. Johns will sail for England on June 6 for his first visit to his homeland since he left in 1914. The first Sunday after his arrival there he will sing in St. Paul's Cathedral in London.

Mrs. W. L. Wardrip of 787 Lincoln road reported to the police on May 17 that her platinum wedding ring had either been lost or stolen. She last remembered seeing it on May 5 and believes it disappeared the next day. The ring was set with five diamonds and was valued at $450.

Three Point Program Set Up By Motion Picture Council

A three point program to help provide entertainment for Grosse Pointe children at motion pictures during the summer months was outlined at the May meeting of the Grosse Pointe Motion Picture Council.

The Council, working with the Public Library and the theaters in the Pointe area to keep vacationing youngsters off the streets, has made these plans:

1. The listing of movies that are recommended for children and for teen agers will be compiled by the Council throughout the summer, and will be published in the Grosse Pointe News the first Thursday of every month. These lists also will be posted in the Public Library, where parents may phone for further information. These monthly lists also include schedules of special children's matinees. Compilation of the lists is under the supervision of Mrs. Blount Slade, vice president.
2. Arrangements were nearing completion for a series of 12 special Wednesday matinees, for children at the Woods Theater during the summer, featuring special motion pictures and a quiz contest.
3. The Grosse Pointe Public Library is augmenting its list of sound motion pictures available to the community which may be borrowed on a regular library card. Funds for these movies were donated to the library by the Motion Picture Council. A complete list of these pictures is included with each monthly Council list of recommended movies, and will appear in the Grosse Pointe News with the list throughout the summer.

Due to numerous requests the Council voted to create a new classification of membership, to be known as members-at-large, open to any Grosse Pointe resident who is interested in the betterment of motion pictures in this area. Until now, the Council has been composed of appointed delegates from 26 church, P.T.A. and school groups.

Solicits Members

The Council also extends a cordial invitation to all new churches and other organizations in the Pointe area to send delegates to the Council. This invitation includes all Grosse Pointe organizations not yet affiliated with the Council.

All individuals or organizations interested in becoming affiliated with this community group are urged to communicate with Mrs. Daniel Hembel, president, of 906 Rivard boulevard, TUxedo 2-1518.

Chester Carpenter Heads Important County Group

At the recent reorganization of the County Board of Supervisors, Councilman Chester F. Carpenter, who represents the City of Grosse Pointe on the Board, was named chairman of the Legislative Committee of the County Supervisors.

This is the committee which has the important function of keeping tabs on legislation at Lansing as it concerns the Board of Supervisors.

Lott Seeks Post On School Board

Petitions placing the name of Thomas L. Lott, 1153 Grayton, on the ballot for election to the School Board of Grosse Pointe Township, have been filed.

Mr. Lott is 39 years old, married to Jane Cadwell, former Olympic swimming star, and has one son attending Maitre School. The candidate attended public school in Detroit, graduating from Northern High School in 1928.

He was graduated from Dartmouth College in 1932, having majored in Business Administration, following which he attended the University of Michigan Law School, graduating in 1935. Since 1935 he has practiced law in Detroit. In 1941 he bought the home in Grosse Pointe Park where he now lives.

Mr. Lott is especially well known in maritime circles due to his practice of Admiralty Law, his recreational activities as a yachtsman, and his service as an officer in the U. S. Coast Guard Temporary Reserve during the war.

In 1947 he was appointed by Governor Sigler and still serves as one of the five members of the newly created Michigan State Waterways Commission, a non-salaried commission charged with the duty of developing and maintaining, in cooperation with the Federal Government, harbors of refuge throughout the state.

Thief Gets Cash In High School

Another breaking and entering case at the Grosse Pointe High School was reported to the Farms police on May 18.

The thief entered the building by breaking a window of Principal Walter Clemenson. There he obtained a set of keys and got in the desk of Assistant Principal Charles Saltzer. He stole a BB pistol and $2 from the desk.

He also unlocked a desk in the library and stole $8. Both desks were locked again after the money was taken.

PROWLER CALL
Farms police investigated a road on the night of May 12, but could find nothing out of the prowler call at 98 Merriweather way.

Second Phase of Hospital Drive Launched at Dinner

Citizens' Committee of 400 Hears Campaign Chairman John Davis Announce Slightly More Than Half of $19,720,000 Goal Has Been Raised

Some 400 residents of the Greater Detroit area, comprising a representative Citizens' Committee of the Greater Detroit Hospital Fund, met Tuesday night at the Book Cadillac Hotel and heard the announcement from John R. Davis, general campaign chairman of the Fund, that "we are slightly more than half way to our objective of $19,720,000."

The total assembled to date, Davis said, "represents subscriptions from a limited number of large and small corporations and some foundations."

"Now we are launching a new phase of the campaign. The memorial gifts committee will begin from tonight forward to present the Fund program to prospective memorial subscribers and the doctors of the area will be given their opportunity to participate in the strengthening of our voluntary hospital system. This activity will continue throughout the rest of 1949 and we may expect the same kind of generous support from individual and family subscribers as has been witnessed from corporations and foundations."

Sherwin Hill Speaks
The importance of the memorial phase of the Fund campaign was stressed by Sherwin A. Hill, chairman of the memorial gifts committee, who said, "A significant share of the $19,720,000 will come from far-sighted residents of Greater Detroit who will want to establish selected sections of any of the 14 participating hospitals as memorials in honor of loved ones and as evidence of the contributors' good will toward their community."

Under the plan to be presented by the memorial gifts committee, it was explained, individuals and family groups may memorialize hospital units or departments by subscribing estimated amounts required for their construction and equipment. Subscriptions may be completed in six equal payments at four-month intervals, permitting tax deductions over three calendar years up to 15 per cent of adjusted gross income.

In a keynote speech, James B. Webber, Jr., president of the Hospital Fund, stressed the urgent need for enlarging and modernizing hospital facilities in the tri-county area and said that only through the federated program could the needs be met fully at a cost within the power of the community to finance.

Hailing the work of the admissions and allocations committee which developed the program for building four new hospitals and enlarging 10 existing ones, Webber pointed out that prior to the organization of the Greater Detroit Hospital Fund, more than 30 separate building programs,

Police Seeking Hit-Run Driver

The Farms police are seeking a hit-run driver following an accident on Lake Shore road in front of Memorial Church on the night of May 20.

A car owned by W. M. Jones of 1390 Oxford, parked in front of the church, was "sideswiped" and damaged to the extent of about $100.

A license number which was believed to have been that of the offending car, which did not stop, was furnished the police. They questioned the owner of this car, Robert J. Henderson, of 19360 Stratford road, Detroit.

Henderson said he was driving by at the time of the accident and saw the crash. He tried to get the license number of the offender, but the driver turned off his lights as he sped away. Henderson said the hit-run car was light blue and it could be identified by a smashed fender caused by the crash.

Grosse Pointe's Memorial Day

There should be a large turnout of Grosse Pointe people at the Memorial Day services at Alger House next Monday. We should be present both to renew our memory of the gallant sons of Grosse Pointe who gave their all in the late war and for a leisurely examination of the beautiful grounds and building which has lately been acquired to be the physical expression for all time of Grosse Pointe's loving memory of these young men.

Despite the fact that Alger House has been in our midst for thirty-nine years there are doubtless hundreds or thousands of our people who have never been on the grounds even during the years it was operated as a branch of the Detroit Art Museum.

This will give our residents an opportunity for a preview of the establishment which is to fill so large a place in the cultural and patriotic life of the community in the years to come.

This will be the first Memorial Day on which this beautiful structure can be viewed as the common possession of all of the people of Grosse Pointe. A company truly representative of our lovely community should be present to herald this occasion.

A brief note carried in the press the other day stated that only 31 veterans of the Civil war were left and all of these were over 100 years old.

As the long train of generations recede into history this beautiful structure will remain in our midst, unmarred by time, as a perpetual expression of this community's eternal gratitude to its heroic sons and daughters who served us and our common country in the days of its greatest peril.

Pave; Not Widen

The usual patchup repair work on Jefferson avenue has been under way for the past few days. The repeated opportunities of the people of Grosse Pointe to have its main thoroughfare put in first class condition with a smooth, modern pavement have come to naught for another season.

The County Road Commission, which is responsible for the construction and maintenance of the pavement on Jefferson, gave as its excuse for doing nothing last year the fact that the preceding winter had been one of unusual severity on roads throughout the County which had placed such a burden of emergency repairs on the Board it had no money left to do the good job that awaits out here.

The same cannot be said of the winter just closed but the same old patchup work that has been done to Jefferson so long is again under way.

Prescott Brown, who was consulting engineer for the City of Grosse Pointe prior to his moving west and whose brother still represents the City in that capacity, was a member of the County Road Commission. He expressed the belief that some deal might be made whereby through a division of the costs between Grosse Pointe and the County Road Commission a permanent, high class pavement might be laid on this thoroughfare.

Nothing less than such a pave will satisfy the wishes of the deserts of this community.

Grosse Pointe would be glad to see the pave project taken up from this co-operative standpoint, if the County cannot wholly take care of one of its own principal roads.

It is much more important that Jefferson avenue should have a smooth, quiet pavement than that the present roadway should be widened, which has been the long standing excuse for not laying a real pavement.

With the possible exception of a short narrow stretch beyond Fisher there is no need to widen Jefferson, certainly not at the expense of rows of magnificent shade trees that represent from 50 to 100 years of growth. Traffic is never unduly heavy on Jefferson and the pave roadway of 46 feet is ample for all present or prospective needs.

Shade trees are one of Grosse Pointe's finest assets. The people here are not willing to sacrifice them to provide a Sunday and holiday speedway for Detroiters.

Mr. Hoover's Comeback

When Herbert Hoover retired from the Presidency on March 4, 1933, he was one of the most thoroughly discredited and damned Presidents that ever left the White House. True, it was only a mob resentment directed at the most conspicuous figure in sight over the ills that had fallen the people as a result of their own folly.

He was so completely ignored that even his successor, Franklin D. Roosevelt, denied his request for an interview prior to the inauguration, at which the President wished to acquaint him personally with some of the confidential information he had at his hand concerning the national welfare. Flushed with victory and haughty, Roosevelt said nothing doing; I'll make my own decisions. He did, and this country has been in a sorry spiritual mess ever since.

Mr. Hoover retained his poise, his dignity, his broad-mindedness and his sense of humor. In the years which have passed since then his services have been repeatedly requisitioned by the same political elements which so reviled him in the days of his downfall.

The advancing years have not stood in his way for performing many and arduous services for his country. When well past seventy he has undertaken journeys to far places on errands of service to his country and for world welfare. These errands have invariably been discharged with signal ability.

One of his hobbies has always been for economy in the public service. Despite the antipathy this doctrine gave rise to in the ranks of the magnificent spenders who have been in the saddle for the sixteen years since he left the White House, the force of events has caused his opponents to recognize the soundness of his preachments and when he ventured some months ago that he thought upwards of three billion

Grosse Exaggerations

A. PRYOR

"Many an infant that screams like a calliope
Could be soothed by a little attention to its diode."
(Ogden Nash)

In the line of duty this week we ran smack into two incidents that we hope will amuse you as they did us. Our first business call took us to one of the larger Lake Shore mansions. A veddy impressive Arthur Treacher type answered our buzz at the front door, ushered us in with elegant dignity and showed us to a small reception room to wait for Madame. He hesitated long enough to exchange a few pleasantries about the weather and just as he was about to summon his employer, a natty parlor maid came into view, addressed the butler saying, "Jeeves, that Miss Tangey is here to see you again." What Jeeves did made our eyebrows go way up to here. He raised his arms, clenched his fists and very definitely stamped one foot on the floor in annoyance as he uttered a very clear "Oh DARN!" Whoops my dear!

The other incident also made our eyebrows go up to here and way out to there. We were calling on a sweet old lady who has been widowed for many years. We had been standing in her lovely garden, chatting and were just about to take our leave, when she suggested that her chauffeur-handyman-gardener was about to leave for the day and wouldn't we like him to give us a lift? We certainly WOULD, we said. Just then a very nice little elderly man came toward us and Madame explained that he was to drive us home. He smiled and bowed and allowed as how that would be fine. Then he turned to his mistress and said, "Isn't it about time you were paying your bills, Mrs. Preenstick?"

It was lucky for us that the ground underneath us was solid! Madame sent the little man to get the car, then explained to us that he had been with the family for years and since the death of her husband, he had taken it upon himself to look after her and prod her memory about important things. It seems that the tenth of every month, she pays her bills and the little gardener mails them for her. Here is was past the twentieth and she hadn't given him the payments to mail... so he was worried, and just giving her a kindly reminder. "I don't pay any attention anymore to the way he 'puts things'... because he means well," explained our hostess.

An Eastern couple, who winter in Palm Beach, gave a formal dinner at their home there recently and sent out engraved invitations to the guests. In the lower right hand corner of the invitation, written in the secretary's hand (we presume), were the words... "MILD DANCING." Those two words conjure a number of thoughts in our ever-open mind. Just WHAT do they mean? Could it be that the writer of them is untidy of penmanship and they were meant to read "WILD" dancing? Or could it mean that only slow waltzes would be played and they didn't want any rug-cutting going on? Or perhaps it was just a warning that they wouldn't put up with any of this Roseland stuff with dimmed lights. Page Arthur Murray please... maybe HE can tell us!

Has your young hopeful ambitions to go on the stage? If so, we have the spot for her (or him). The "Academy of Modern Acting" maestroed by Richard Herndon, whose years of experience in the Theatre would fill a large sized book, BELIEVES in the young and their ambitions for the stage... and if they are serious about it, they can find no greater guide. Herndon... who sez, "no room for hams in the theater"... has led many a young hopeful from obscurity to fame via his famous productions on Broadway. Anyone interested in further details can write A. Pryor at the G. P. News. We will promise to keep it confidential... just like Alcoholics Anonymous.

This is a fine time to talk about Christmas (only 210 shopping days left), but something a local woman told us the other day reminded us of what fun it is to drive or walk around the Pointe during Christmas holidays to see the decorative lights on the outdoor trees, then peer into the front rooms to see what's cookin' inside. Very few folks ever pull their blinds during the holidays... so we can see the decorations inside as well as out. That's fine for Christmas week... but our little woman of the week would like to know WHY people leave their blinds and shades up NOW!

She tells us that she and her husband decided to "go calling" one evening last week and after stopping at at least a dozen homes of friends (who were all out), she wondered how people can be so fancy about leaving all the lights on and the shades up. Finding no one at home anywhere... they amused themselves by looking in the windows where everything on the first floor was in full view. Once they thought they detected a possible host make a dash to hide behind a curtain when the doorbell sounded... but they couldn't be sure!

dollars could be saved the country by the mere reorganization of the executive branches of the Government it was a challenge they dare not ignore and President Truman invited him to head a Commission to examine into this subject. His Commission has made its report and a few days ago the Senate passed, without a dissenting vote, a bill to set that reorganization under way.

As illustrating the transformation that is taking place in the political view of national economy Senator Lucas of Illinois, the majority leader, hastened to observe when the Senate passed approval on May 16, "I know of no bill since I have been majority leader which has received such prompt action as this reorganization bill."

It must be expected that before this reorganization is effected there will be many maneuvers, before and behind the scenes by those who are loathe to demolish the pork-barrel-patronage, breastworks which have been the time proven defenses of political power.

However, there is a mighty seething of the yeast and the Hoover Commission's recommendation approval is indubitable evidence of a belated recognition of the fact that we have got to abandon a spending scale that must lead to eventual national bankruptcy.

School District Division

The suggestion that the Shores-Woods-Gratiot part of the Grosse Pointe School District should be cut off and turned loose as a district by itself is void of fairness, common sense or practicability.

This area has been a part of the school district from the beginning. It has paid its proportion of taxes for school buildings and operation. Not only that but this section will continue to pay its proportion of the yet remaining net school debt of a million and a quarter, most of which is for unpaid bonds on the High School and those other school properties in the Park-City-Farms region, which some of our uniformed citizens seem to think were built and paid for almost exclusively by themselves.

Moreover a school district cannot be divided except with the consent of both sides of the division, and it is a silly guess that the Woods-Shores-Gratiot area would ever agree to that; nor should they.

The provision of adequate school facilities is the common problem of the whole district. It was the belief that the present facilities would be adequate for some time to come by the continued use of bus transportation that prompted this paper to oppose the multi-million dollar bond issue and give the taxpayers a breather. Certainly not that the Woods and the other north end sections were not entitled to equal school facilities.

Many residents have believed that because of the five year limitation in school debts, most of the buildings had been built and paid for before the Woods was large enough to make any appreciable contribution towards their cost. The five year limitation was only enacted during the depression and school buildings erected before that time were on long-term financing bases.

Society News Gathered from All of the Pointes

From Another Pointe of View

by
Jane Schermerhorn

Our city's traditional and annual social event... Miss Annie Ward Foster's May Party in Crystal Ballroom of Masonic Temple... was faithfully and fully covered by the daily press but we couldn't let it pass without a few words and impressions of our own...

Miss Foster generously shares her May Party with all of Detroit... with those who do attend it... (and that number is scores)... and those who don't... (but who like to know that this genteel fete takes place as usual... with a purely gracious tone... something to hold onto... something that does not change in an upside down world...)

May Party Notes

Joys and Schlotmans were in attendance as usual... this year besides their children taking part there was the added interest of having William Moore Joy escort Miss Foster in the May Party... looking just as handsome as in his own May Party days... with a twinkle in his eye he marched down the long ballroom with Miss Foster (in a swirling gown of midnight blue lace and sequins) on his arm... In the party were Mrs. William Moore Joy... Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Schlotman... Mrs. Richard P. Joy... Mr. and Mrs. William Ledyard Mitchell... for all of whom May Parties have many memories...

Again this year little Joan LeGro... eleven now... thrilled the great assemblage with her clear and beautiful voice singing "Make Believe" while several couples waltzed dreamily in the background... Mrs. William J. Young was a smiling grandmother and there to see her daughter was Mrs. Young LeGro with Ted Gorenflo and the Bill Youngs junior...

The honor of leading this year's Grand March fell on the pretty shoulders of Buffy Wicking who was beautiful in all white gown touched with circles of white ostrich feathers on the court skirt... escorted by the Pointe's Jack Burns, a dashing one, the May Queen had sparkling eyes for the box which held Mr. and Mrs. Bert Wicking, Dr. and Mrs. E. C. Texter and Mr. and Mrs. Webster Knight III...

Royal Guard

To guard the guests there was a fleet of policemen and the same special detectives assigned to visiting dukes and princesses...

We noticed on our way out of Masonic Temple after the May Party... the two truckloads of empty corsage boxes... the flowers now on the way home with owners ranging from the age of three to... well many times that...

No one enjoys May parties with more zest than members of the Ford family... most of whom have been Foster girls and boys... Mrs. Edsel Ford, in a departure choosing lush cream pink lace evening gown... the Henry Fords II... the Walter Buhl Fords II... and Mrs. Henry Ford senior in one of her rare public appearances... intent upon three little Fords who were performing on all charming cylinders... with them were Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Wardwell...

Nuptial Vows Spoken By Corinne Clements

Becomes bride of Simon Emmet Dunn, Jr. in ceremony in Sts. Peter and Paul Jesuit Church; reception held at Canadian Club

Cymbodium ferns and lilies banked the altar of Sts. Peter and Paul Jesuit Church on Saturday for the marriage of Corinne Joan Clements, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Leroy Clements of Bedford road, and Simon Emmet Dunn, Jr., of Trombley road. The pews were marked with bouquets of lilies and snapdragons tied with white satin ribbon.

The bride was lovely in a Joelle model of Winkler, nylon tulle tiered with ruffles to the tip of the long train. A single film of tulle formed the neckline and sleeves, and the midriff was of palest pink satin.

Corinne's fingertip illusion veil was topped by a mantilla of chintilly lace and she carried a matching lace fan, centered with a white orchid and lilies of the valley. She wore a pendant and rope of seed pearls which her mother had worn at her own wedding.

Mrs. Richard W. Parshall was her sister's matron of honor, attired in a gown of white embroidered eyelet organdy over mauve taffeta backed by a large butterfly bustle bow. A large mauve organdy hat and mauve slippers completed her costume, and she had a colonial bouquet of lavender carnations outlined with sweetheart roses and hanging ivy.

Honor maid was the bridegroom's sister, Sally Dunn. She and the bridesmaids, Mary Jo Tait, Barbara Gardella and Ruth Duffield, wore gowns identical to the matron of honor's and carried similar bouquets.

Karon Clements and Wendy Lou Parshall, small nieces of the bride, were flower girls. Each wore a mauve frock of ruffled organdy, had a garland of sweetheart roses in her hair, and carried a basket of rose petals.

After the wedding, a reception for 300 guests was held at Beachgrove Country Club overlooking Lake St. Clair in Windsor, Ont.

Mrs. Clements chose a floor length dress of dove grey with grey maline picture hat. Purple orchids were pinned to her white beaded bag. The bridegroom's mother wore toast lace over beige taffeta with matching maline chapeau. She pinned green orchids to her bronze beaded purse.

When the couple left on a honeymoon trip through the Carolinas, the new Mrs. Dunn was wearing a navy blue suit with tissue taffeta mauve blouse and navy accessories.

They will reside in Longfellow Manor in Indian Village.

Winter Debuts Being Planned

Before the June debs have even bowed to society, three Pointe names have already been placed on the winter debutante list for next December.

Mary Elizabeth Fisher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Fisher, Jr., of Lake court, will be presented Dec. 30. She attends Manhattan College.

Helen Parker, daughter of Mr. Tait, Barbara Gardella and Ruth Duffield, wore gowns identical to the matron of honor's and carried similar bouquets.

Reverse Strategy Earns Win Over Feared Monroe Team

Highland Park Also Defeated; Now Certain of at Least Sharing Title with Wyandotte and Can Take Crown Alone by Beating Downriver

By Fred Runnells

Coach Merlin Schultz's undefeated Blue Devil tennis team clinched at least a share of the 1949 Border Cities League tennis crown when it whipped the Monroe Trojans on the local courts, 5-2, on Tuesday, May 17.

The victory was number 27 in the Devils new consecutive winning streak and was the ninety-fifth victory on ninety six starts since 1941.

Should Go Undefeated

If the balance of the season runs true to form the Pointers should wind up the season undefeated and undisputed B.C.L. title holders for the second year in succession.

The only obstacle standing in the way of the Pointers' gaining their second straight title is the strong Wyandotte team which forced the Devils to the limit before going down to defeat, 4-3, May 12. Currently the Bears are riding in second place in the tennis race, just one game behind the Blue Devils.

Reverse Strategy

The return Monroe match was just the opposite of the first meeting between the Devils and the Trojans on the Trojans home courts.

In the first meeting Coach Schultz threw all of his strength into the doubles matches, which paid off in the final score. However, Schultz crossed up Coach Tamblin and tossed his strength into the singles in the second match. This really threw a monkey wrench into the Trojan machinery as Coach Tamblin had figured his opponent would stick with his winning combination of the first meeting.

Devils Sweep Singles

In the first match Grosse Pointe lost the first three singles and swept the doubles for a 4-3 victory. In the second meeting, the Devils swept all four singles and lost two of the three doubles matches for a 5-2 win.

Al Mann rocked Pete McKenzie, 6-2, 6-0 in the number one singles and Bruce Kirchner won the number two singles, 6-1, 6-1, from M. Eichbauer. Bob Allen continued his winning ways when he defeated George Harmon, 6-1, 6-1, in the third singles match. His teammate Leroy Johnson whopped Bud Reagle, 6-2, 6-4.

Allen and Leonard Win
Bob Allen and Ray Leonard were the only Pointe doubles combination that wound up on the winning end of the score when they clipped Don Jeffrey and Harry Rapson, 6-3, 6-1, in the number three doubles.

Dick Hendershott and Jim Holts gave the Trojans their first point when they defeated Skip Pessel and Jim Swift in the first doubles match.

Mario Pace and Justian Adduci garnered Monroe's last point of the match by whipping Tom Auch and Bill Whittingham in the number two doubles.

Trounce Highland Park
The Blue Devils' tuned up for the Regional Tournament, May 20 and 21, the following day, May 18, when they rode rough-shod over the hapless Highland Park Polar Bears, 7-0.

Bob Allen, Cort Lecklider, Bruce Terris and Dick McKenzie swept the singles and the doubles combinations of Kirchner-Whittingham, Smart-Rossiter and Bruce Allen-Leonard dominated the doubles matches for the shut-out victory.

Pointe Legion Team to Play Twice on Memorial Day

By FRED RUNNELLS

Grosse Pointe Post 303 American Legion baseball team, sponsored again this year by Tom Boyd, will meet Catholic Central in the second game of a Memorial Day double header program at Kerby Field.

The Police Post team will play the initial game against Beaudry Post with the game getting underway at 1:30 p. m. The Grosse Pointe game will follow immediately afterwards.

Grosse Pointe's American Legion representative has experienced considerable trouble since winning the opening game of the season from Faust Post, 11-9, May 1. Since that time Grosse Pointe has dropped games to N. Y. Central, 12-8, and Roosevelt, 7-2.

In all three games the Pointers suffered from lack of experience in the field and were handicapped by having only one pitcher.

Coach P. Pierce is optimistic about the balance of the season because his team will acquire plenty of seasoned material within the next week when several Grosse Pointe High players will be eligible to play outside their school league.

Coach Pierce already has strings on such regulars as Bayard Johnson, Jim Schoeck, Bill Winkler and Chase, to name a few.

Last year Pointe fans were forced to travel to Belle Isle to see the team play its games. This year it is going to be different starting with this Sunday, May 29, when the Pointers will play the first of five regularly scheduled Legion games at Kerby Field. The Pointers will meet Woodrow Wilson Post at 1 p. m. The regular playing season extends from May 1 to July 15. At that time the four teams at the head of their respective divisions, North, East, South and West, will qualify for the Zone Tournament to be held at Wyandotte July 22 to 24.

The City series will begin Sunday July 24. This series is a two-game knockout affair for all teams with a .500 percentage.

The teams in the four leagues which have less than a .500 percentage will be eligible to compete in a two-game knockout Consolation Series at the same time the City Series is going on.

Pointe Junior Baseball Loop Set to Open

Metropolitan, Kiwanis, Lions And Optimists Ready; Rotary to Act

By Fred Runnells

Last Wednesday evening, May 18, members of the various service clubs held a business meeting to determine the rules and regulations governing the Junior Baseball League play this season.

At this writing the League is pretty well set on what teams will compete with the exception of one, the Rotary Club team. The only thing holding up the Rotary team is the election of new officers of the club. When this is done Rotary will decide what course it intends to take regarding a baseball team.

Teams already in the fold are: Metropolitan Club, Kiwanis Club, Optimist Club and the Lions Club.

The league is open to all boys who are 16 years old or younger and who are residents of Grosse Pointe. Any boy interested may obtain an application at any of the local police stations. On said application the boy will state which team he prefers to try out for.

Each team will carry 15 players on its roster.

The starting date for the league is scheduled for June 15 and games will be played on Wednesday evenings and Sunday afternoons throughout the summer.

The league has hopes of obtaining diamonds at the Neighborhood Club and Kerby Field.

Grosse Pointe's Track Team Takes Beating in Regionals

By FRED RUNNELLS

Grosse Pointe's track team as a whole took a shellacking in the 1949 Regionals run at Fordson High School Saturday, May 21, when it finished fifth in a six team field.

Monroe sprung an upset by winning the Regionals with 55½ points, which was eleven and a quarter points better than second place Wyandotte.

The Fordson Tractors just missed second place by a quarter of a point and finished third with a 44 point total.

Parkers Finish Fourth
Highland Park led the second division, finishing fourth with 25½ points and Grosse Pointe followed with 24 points, which was twelve better than last place Royal Oak.

As in past years the team that had plenty of good reserve power won the meet.

This is exactly what Grosse Pointe didn't have this year. Coach Banach had no bevy of individual stars nor depth in reserve power. The Pointers individually were below average but as a team they were a well balanced squad that was good enough to finish third in the regular Border Cities League race, which counts towards the All-Sports Sweepstakes Trophy.

Have Some Standouts
The Blue Devils were not without some standout boys in the meet.

Bill Pierce had a busy day in taking third in the High Hurdles and tying his teammate Jim Reinolds for fifth in the 200 yard low hurdles.

Little Jimmy Williams earned a third place in the century run and a fifth in the 220.

Dick Lowery finished the highest of all the Pointers when he took a second in the quarter mile event. Stu Friesema, another Pointer, chased Lowery across the line in third place. This was the best performance in any of the events.

Sets New Record

Fourth placer Fred Duemling chased Christenson in the mile run, in which Christenson gave Fordson a first place with a new Regional record. Wyandotte's Leroy Grahl, last year's winner and record holder, finished second.

Grahl's defeat was the first in his high school career. He is a Junior. Butch Edgar just barely made 19 feet in the broad jump, which was 3 inches behind Eldridge's winning mark and good for third place. Baxter, Fordson's one man track team, took second. Previous to the broad jump event Baxter had won the 100 and 220 yard dashes, and ran the anchor leg of the ½ mile relay event for Fordson.

Go Well in Relays

The Blue Devils did themselves proud in the relay events finishing second in the three-quarter mile relay and third in the half-mile relay events. Don Shaw, Jerry Jenkins, Eric Schmidt and Butch Edgar made up the three-quarter mile relay team and Don Shaw, Dick Lowery, Eric Schmidt and Jerry Williams was the half-mile relay combination.

The final standings of the track season in the B.C.L. are:

Wyandotte	Pts. 30
Monroe	25
Grosse Pointe	20
Fordson	15
Highland Park	10
Royal Oak	5

Points are awarded in each sport for the express purpose of determining the winner of the Sweepstakes Trophy each year.

Hamtramck Beats Pointers In Regional Tennis Tourney

Devils Blow Chances to Win After Building Up Commanding Lead; DUS Takes Class C-D Honors by Conquering Three Other Schools

Hamtramck High School won a close race for the team championship with Grosse Pointe at the State Regional Tennis Tournament here May 20 and 21, by the score of 9½ to 8½, with Mt. Clemens garnering 3 points and Port Huron none.

Detroit University School won the Class C-D Regionals by the score of 10 to Ypsilanti-Roosevelt's 8½, University High of Ann Arbor's 2½, and St. Clair's ½.

Pointers Grab Lead

In the early rounds of the tournament in Class A competition Grosse Pointe took a huge lead when Hamtramck's second and third doubles team were defeated in the first round. Tom Auch and Jim Swift of G. P. pulled a real upset in defeating Hamtramck's second doubles team, 6-2, 6-3, and Mt. Clemens' first doubles team defeated Hamtramck's third.

Al Mann, in singles, went on to defeat Harry Cargas of Hamtramck, 6-1, 6-0, along with Leroy Johnson's victory over T. Johnson of Mt. Clemens and Cort Lecklider's win over E. Ellison of Mt. Clemens. Johnson and Lecklider are both Pointers.

Chance of Lifetime

In team totals Grosse Pointe was in a position to win the Regionals with one victory out of three chances in the later stages of the tournament. One opportunity came when Bruce Kirchner and Bill Whittingham played A. Schwartz and P. Phillips of Mt. Clemens in the quarter finals. A victory over this team would have clinched the title. The local boys won the first set, 6-3, and then blew up and went wild to lose the last two, 6-3, 6-1.

Second Chance

The second opportunity came when Al Mann clinched with Billy Pope of Hamtramck. Much of the probability of success of defending the Regional title this year was on Mann's shoulders, he being the only one to have gone to the finals that was left on the team from last year. Mann never got in the show. He seemed to play as if beaten before he started. Only flashes of his real ability showed up throughout the match. Most of the time he blew simple shots, double faulted, or stayed on the defensive. Pope blew him off the court in a little over half an hour, 6-1, 6-2.

Angry Serves Well

Even at the end of this match Grosse Pointe still commanded a lead of 1½ points. The final doubles match between Ken Angly and John Zoski and Fred Pessel and Bob Allen decided the tournament. The local doubles team put on a real fight before succumbing, 6-3, 6-4. Angly's service was a deciding factor in the match. His high bouncing twist service time and time again proved the deciding factor.

Ted Jax of Hamtramck was superb in singles play. He dropped but 2 games in all of his matches. The outstanding match of the tournament was the upset victory by Jim Swift and Tom Auch over the Hamtramck team of Brewer-Yagiela.

Many Attend Clinic

Several hundred high school students witnessed the matches on Friday with a good crowd present on Saturday for the final matches and clinic of approximately 250.

DUS Wins

Detroit University School captured the Class C-D Regional with ten points to Ypsilanti-Roosevelt's 8½. Bill Hestor of DUS defeated Thomson of St. Clair, J. Robinson of Ypsilanti, and L. Smith of DUS before winning the singles titles. Two of his matches went three sets but he had the necessary class and punch to see him through in the pinch.

In the doubles the DUS team of John Hamilton and Dick Sutherland went through to the finals before being defeated by George Menzi and Don Potter of Ypsilanti-Roosevelt, 6-2, 6-4.

Qualify for Finals

As a result of the regional tournament John Hamilton, Bob Sutherland, Bill Hestor and L. Smith of DUS qualified for the state finals at Kalamazoo June 3-4.

Fred Pessel and Bob Allen of GPIS qualified also. Saturday afternoon Charlie Hare and Mary Hardwick, ably assisted by Toby Hanson, Max Gurman, Bill Croul, Bill Ford and Mary Lou Beyer, put on a real show for the tennis enthusiasts by staging an exhibition on the high school courts. Around 250 tennis followers were present.

Hare spent approximately an hour in talking and demonstrating, with participation by high school age boys and girls in a clinic for the development of better tennis.

It was a fitting climax to the Regionals and much favorable comment was made. The people responsible for the event deserve thanks and applause for their efforts. Little is known concerning all the long hours of work that go into the staging of one of these events, which are free to the public.

Appreciation for staging the event is due the co-sponsors, Gray's Sports Shop and the Wilson Sporting Goods Company.

A Lecture on Christian Science

Entitled

Christian Science: Its Revelation of Divine Sonship

by

Ralph E. Wagers, C.S.B.
of Chicago, Illinois

Member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts.

The lecturer spoke substantially as follows:

Have you any idea what percentage of the world's population is Christian? We are told that the figure is hardly twenty-five per cent, and that less than half this number support the church, attend church services, or earnestly try to practice the teachings of the Master in terms of daily living. We who are accustomed to think of Christianity as a world-wide force may well pause before such figures. Christian nations have, of course, made great progress socially, politically, and economically. Yet, what has been accomplished thus far is small indeed compared with the potentialities of this way of life. Why have we not better fulfilled the Master's requirements for true Christian living?

Perhaps this illustration will serve as a partial answer to the question. When an object is observed through binoculars, the object appears nearer than it is. But if the binoculars are reversed, that which is right at hand seems suddenly to have been removed far from the observer. So if the teachings and demonstrations of Christ Jesus seem far removed from present experience, it is certain that we are wrongly regarding the Master's precepts and practice. We are looking through the wrong end of our binoculars. Surely as long as we regard Jesus and his teachings as distant past and Christian salvation to a doubtful future, we are removing ourselves from the understanding of the Master's spiritual teachings, and then we cannot practically apply them to meet our present needs.

The Proof of Divine Sonship
John the Baptist announced the appearing of Jesus as "the Lamb of God, which taketh away the sin of the world" (John 1:29), and later he commissioned two of his disciples to go to Jesus and ask him if he really was the one "that should come," or, as John put it, "do we look for another?" You will notice that Jesus answered John's questions, not by citing doctrine and theories, but by enunciating the practical works and healings which were being accomplished by the Christ, Truth. Matthew records his words thus: "Go and shew John again those things which ye do hear and see; the blind receive their sight, and the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, and the deaf hear, the dead are raised up, and the poor have the gospel preached to them" (Matt. 11:3-6).

This power to remove the evidences of sin and suffering was the direct result of Jesus' awareness of his sonship with God, which made him forever conscious of his superiority to all that was corruptive, afflictive, and destructive. Through the Master's teaching that man is the son of God, Christian Scientists today are gaining such a spiritual concept of man that it is already transforming their lives; it is making them healthier and happier; it is making them conscious that such demonstrations as Jesus made are possible to them in the present time; and it is convincing them that divine sonship is something which they may rightly claim for themselves, with all of the practical benefits such knowledge involves. Surely it is not surprising that we who have been dissatisfied with the distant or merely theoretical view of Christianity should be grateful to have found in Christian Science the teachings of Christ Jesus made available and demonstrable in meeting our problems today.

Two Unfortunate Tendencies
In this connection, let us take note of two unfortunate tendencies of human thought which tend to obscure the healing power of Christianity. One is the tendency to consider Christianity as a mode of salvation designed primarily to prepare for life hereafter. The "then" and the "there" may be intriguing subjects for theological speculation, but they should not deny the practical benefits of Christianity to those who may be in need of healing "now" and

"here." To believe that Jesus sought to save men from a dreaded future, while leaving them vulnerable to all sorts of suffering, wretchedness, disappointment, and catastrophe in the present, certainly does not do justice to the Master's mission. Did he not say (John 10:10), "I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly?"

The other unfortunate tendency is to look upon the works of Christ Jesus as what are commonly called miracles rather than as natural and normal demonstrations of divine power. To think of them as miracles, in the generally accepted theological sense of this term, would be to consign the works he did and taught others to do to the realm of mysticism or transcendentalism. This also would be a misinterpretation of his mission.

Perhaps these two tendencies explain why men are tempted to set God aside and try to take the matter into their own hands, leaving the future to fit in with some sort of a pattern that will concern them only when they catch up with it. But what if they never catch up with it? Suppose the "now" is found to be continuous? Why speak of a thousand years from now as being "then"? But then it would be "now," and each moment of the intervening years would be "now" to the one experiencing it.

Divine Sonship: Yours and Mine
As Christianity is seen as Science, as it is recognized that the future is available to experience in the future is available to him today, Christianity becomes more than a hope; it is found to be the satisfying fulfillment of hope, here and now. The Master spoke of himself as the human Jesus, he referred to himself as the Son of man. But when he spoke of his sonship with God, he referred to his spiritual significance of the term Christ Jesus. A correct understanding of his life shows how a son of man—and I—may become progressively aware of our sonship with God and yield to this sonship in the complete overcoming of sin and mortality.

What Divine Sonship Means
Now, just what is meant by divine sonship? The popular belief that a mortal, in some way, eventually evolves into an immortal being must be given up in favor of the fact that if you and I are ever to be sons of God, we must be in reality the sons of God now. Our very existence is justification for this acknowledgment, since something must be responsible for our existence, something above ourselves, greater than ourselves. Like parents, God cannot be difficult to accept; the fact that God's likeness must be Godlike. Whatever is true about God must be true about man. Whatever is not true about God is not true about man. As it is established for all time the fact of man's divine sonship, John declared, "Behold, what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that we should be called the sons of God" (1 John 3:1).

Man is one with God as effect is one with cause. This sonship unfolds to human consciousness through divine revelation. We need not wait until it is fully manifested before we acknowledge it. Through spiritual unfoldment we can perceive a spiritual fact before it is fully apparent, and the very acknowledgment of the spiritual fact has a transforming effect upon our thinking and so upon our lives. In the presence of man's spiritual identity with God, and demonstrated, human experience is improved until it eventually disappears—not through death, but through overcoming death.

You will find that as you work from the standpoint of divine sonship you will approach problems and difficulties with a new sense of dominion and authority. You will not seek to avoid moral and ethical responsibilities, but to fulfill them. You will learn to enjoy the battle between Truth and error because you know you are on the winning side. You will not seek to avoid contact with the world, but to determine for yourself, in Science, the conditions of this contact.

Healing Possible Today
Jesus spoke with authority. To those who were suffering with various afflictions, his words were with such power that all manner of disease and discord were quickly healed. Have you believed that such healing is not possible today? Well, it is and many are the witnesses. Here is one example. A man who introduced me at a lecture in a Canadian city told me that he owed his life to the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy. Over twenty-five years ago a doctor was called to examine him because he had been coughing, considerably and seemed "to be getting worse." He was told that his lungs were tubercular and was advised to go to sanatoriums.

The hoped-for improvement did not come about. His condition grew steadily worse. At a particularly discouraging time a copy of Science and Health was brought into the sanatorium by a new patient and was loaned to him. He began with the Preface and continued through the chapter on Prayer. He told me that he "will never forget his feelings as he read that chapter. With a conviction that nothing has since shaken, he read statements which confirmed some of the things that had already begun to unfold in his thought as he had reached out to God in prayer during his illness. He was healed by the new patient and was able to leave the sanatorium in black and white, and he accepted them without hesitation.

Healing Through Reading
He read on and on, pausing oc-asionally to read a passage aloud to his fellow patients. He finished the book and reread it again and again. Within two weeks, his cough and gloom had yielded to new hope and spiritual enlightenment. This brought physical rejuvenation, and when his wife made her next visit, he felt able to walk with her for more than a mile, talking earnestly of what he had read and scarcely conscious of any physical effort.

Within three months he was back at work and has never had any recurrence of the difficulty. He is now an earnest worker in the Christian Science movement, and realizes that his physical healing was only a step in the unfolding of a completely new sense of his being, in the recognition of what sonship with God really means.

Mary Baker Eddy's Leadership
Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, which presents and explains this divine sonship, was a devout student of the Bible and a sincere follower of Christ, and a Christian Scientist striving to follow their Leader's example in both of these respects. In so doing they are assured that the Christ, rather than a human person, is leading every step of their life in spiritual progress. This gives them great appreciation of their Leader and a deep love for her, without in the least tempting them to deify her.

Mrs. Eddy gave unmistakable evidence of her capacity for leadership when she recognized the need for and founded the Christian Science movement. Those who appreciate the significance of this step recognize the necessity, as well as the difficulties, of the organization she established. The plan for this organization, contained in the Manual of The Mother Church, this instrument of government requires, and develops on the part of its members a degree of spiritual growth through the unfolding of spiritual Truth or divine law in human consciousness. Membership in this organization implies a sacred obligation to understand and fulfill the underlying moral and spiritual demands which constitute the substance of this Manual. Undoubtedly, the voluntary discipline, human thought changes for the better, but the rules by which this improvement is brought about are so fundamental as to be changeless.

Mrs. Eddy knew that by its very nature the mortal mind would attempt to stir up conflict from within and without; that it would seek to confuse and deceive, weaken and discourage. She realized that she was being directed to take a step that would test the consecration of her followers to the utmost. But she had great confidence that the problems of organization would be met and disposed of through obedience to the Manual, by the very power of the divine intelligence that brought forth the discovery itself.

As Discoverer of Christian Science and Founder of this movement, Mary Baker Eddy will always be recognized as its beloved leader. In her book "The Christian Science of Christ, Scientist, and Miscellaneous" (pp. 119, 120), she writes: "St. John found Christ, Truth, in the Word which is God. We look for the sainted Revelator in his writings, and there we find him. Those who look for him elsewhere, or elsewhere than in my writings, lose me instead of find me."

A Practical, Healing Science
The movement of Christian Science consists not so much of edifices as of consecrated lives. Two important aspects of this movement are the Sunday services and the Wednesday testimony meetings. Here, not routine, but consecration and inspiration make the healing power of the Christ, Truth, available to receptive thought. In these church services the activity of the divine spiritual idea in the hearts of the congregation brings healing and regeneration to those in need of help. And is there anyone who does not need help in one form or another today?

During the last war, an American woman whom I know incurred severe back and leg injuries in the course of an air raid on Singapore, escaping on the last boat to leave that port. In the depth of despair, her husband left to an unknown fate, she herself unable to straighten up because of her injuries, with no money and no place to go, when she reached Java, she was sitting dejectedly on the boat when a lady came up to her and asked if she might be of help. Her husband's arrival in Batavia, Java, this woman took her to her hotel room and cared for her. The next day, which was a Sunday, my friend limped to the first Christian Science church service she had ever attended, the guest being the woman who had befriended her.

The first thing she observed, as she stated in my visit with her, was this sentence painted on the wall: "Divine Love always has met and always will meet every human need" (Science and Health, p. 194). It arrested her thought. What divine Love was, she had no idea, but even the word "love" seemed to be from another world in which there must be peace and quiet.

Suddenly the air raid sirens sounded. She was half off her feet, looking for a place to hide, when the voice of the First Reader came quietly and confidently: "There is a shelter back of this church. Should anyone wish to leave, we will pause for a few moments, then continue with the service." However, you are sincere students of Christian Science, you will know that God is everywhere and that there is no place where God is not. This woman looked about her and saw that no one moved. Instead of terror, she suddenly felt a great sense of peace. It was all beyond her grasp to see people who really trusted God in such an emergency.

Out of the Mist
It was generally accepted that the Japanese would soon take Java, but with renewed courage from what she had seen and felt at that service, she wired to her bank in Singapore for money to be cabled to her at Batavia. The money arrived the very day Singapore fell. She later found that it was the last cable sent by the bank. She was already realizing that divine Love is ever operative in her behalf.

After she reached her home in the United States, a medical diagnosis doomed her to an inactive life in a steel brace. A friend urged her to see a Christian Science practitioner, which she did at a time when it seemed she would mentally snap from worrying about her husband and from her own physical suffering.

Gradually truth dawned upon her consciousness, and slowly but surely she came out of the mist where suffering had seemed so real. In time the steel brace was laid aside.

Christian Science Heals
That Christian Science heals the sick is a proven fact. But how does it heal? The oft-repeated statement by those who are unfamiliar with Christian Science that it is merely a personal or human mind over matter leaves the grand point of spiritual healing untouched. Healing in Christian Science is mental, but it is more than merely trying to appreciate of their Leader and a deep love for her, without in the least tempting them to deify her.

The right approach is this: that as human thought grasps something of spiritual Truth, and gains insight into some sense of the divineness of all true being, the spiritual idea has a transforming and redeeming effect upon human experience. In Science and Health we read (Pref., p. 1): "The physical healing in Christian Science rests, as in Jesus' time, from the operation of divine Principle, before which sin and disease lose their reality in human consciousness and disappear as naturally as light does when darkness gives place to light and sin to reformation. Now, as then, these mighty works are not supernatural, but supremely natural. They are the sign of Immanuel, or God with us, and the influence ever present in human conduct, and repeating itself, coming now as was promised aforetime."

"To preach deliverance to the captive (of sense) and to the blind, and to set at liberty them that are bruised."

The Psalmist declared, "He sent his word, and healed them, and delivered them from their destructions" (Ps. 107:20). Christian Science practitioners have had ample proof that healing results from divine unfoldment rather than from mere human effort. Mrs. Eddy gives a helpful explanation of this healing action of the divine Word in her illuminating definition of Christ: "The true idea, voicing good, the divine message from God to men speaking to the human consciousness" (Science and Health, p. 332).

The word "divine" means "of or pertaining to God," the word "human" means "of or pertaining to mankind," while the word "mortal" means "of or pertaining to death," or "subject to death." Now is not the first mission of Christianity to save humanity from mortality, and to save the human, or mankind, from the mortal—from that which pertains to death and is subject thereto? Paul said (1 Cor. 15:26): "The last enemy that shall be destroyed is death. For he is not yet subject to it, but he will be, and the present victory of this overcoming is healing. To think of the human and the mortal as one and the same thing subjects human experience to all the varying degrees of restriction, impairment, failure, and destruction, which mortal or deathlike concepts include.

Coincidence of the Divine with the Human Suppose we consider the human in relation to the divine. On page 100 of "Miscellaneous Writings," Mrs. Eddy states, "The spiritual monitor understood coincidence of the divine with the human, the coincidence of the divine with the human does not mean that these two are identical more than they are. The terms human and mortal. It does mean, however, that through Christ—"the spiritual monitor understood"—the divine reaches the human at every point of receptivity, elevating and improving it until every human concept finally yields to the spiritual idea to which it points.

Thus the word "mortal" has to do with all evil, without a vestige of good. The word "divine" has to do with all good, without a vestige of evil. The word "human" has to do with the seeming mingling of good and evil, typified by Jesus in his parable of the field in which tares and wheat grow side by side, but never really mingle (see Matt. 13:24-30). In this parable the good man sowed the wheat, the enemy planted tares. These two are related. The enemy who plants the tares puts the good man to sleep. Mortal mind is the enemy, evil in tendency, in practice, in nature. It is only under the meditative influence of mortal mind that evil seems real and powerful. When evil appears natural, when it seems more pleasant to do wrong than to do right, when sickness seems more real than health, the enemy is sowing tares.

Detecting the Counterfeit
A helpful illustration compares the divine, or absolutely true, with gold or its equivalent in the treasury; the human, or relatively true, with a ten-dollar bill; and the mortal, or utterly false, with a counterfeit ten-dollar bill. The genuine ten-dollar bill has no intrinsic value. Its value is not in the paper on which it is printed, but in the ten dollars in gold or its equivalent with which the bill is backed. The bill has a redemptive value, and, when redeemed, is put out of circulation. The counterfeit bill, on the contrary, coincides with nothing in the treasury. It has no redemptive value. Though resembling the genuine bill, and counterfeits, it is a deception, and is put out of circulation when detected. The good bill is redeemed, the counterfeit is destroyed.

Those whose business it is to preserve the integrity of our monetary system are so familiar with the various issues of currency, and their identifying characteristics, that they become expert in their ability to detect a counterfeit bill. Likewise, a Christian Scientist, becoming increasingly aware of the nature of spiritual ideas, is able to detect the spurious nature of mortal beliefs when they fraudulently present themselves as phases of human experience. Thus a Christian Scientist finds it essential to distinguish between a spiritual idea, a human concept, and a mortal belief.

Human Experience Improved
Unaware of anything unlike itself, because nothing unlike itself exists, the divine Mind is aware only of the spiritual identity of all that exists. The divine Mind expresses itself in spiritual ideas, and these ideas exist forever in the many expressions of them. Nothing exists, then, apart from the divine Mind and its ideas. From this absolute standpoint, the standpoint from which healing occurs in Christian Science, there is no such thing as a human concept or a mortal belief.

It would appear, however, that the consciousness of mankind—must by degrees be made aware of this absolute fact. That through which we are aware of the presence of Christ. And, again, human experience is improved as human consciousness yields to divine reality.

Heart Condition Healed
One evening a desperately ill and discouraged woman, suffering with a serious heart condition, attended her first Wednesday testimony meeting. Her husband was an alcoholic, and the responsibility for maintaining the home seemed too much for her. She had been told by physicians that she could not live. She had three children and wanted to live for them, but was sinking fast because of her fear.

After a difficult night she had a talk with her eldest daughter, explaining the situation, and they began to make plans for the incoming of a more interesting and more joyful and satisfying future, than to engage in an earnest attempt to know the truth about yourself? Take, for instance, the truth about your health. Health is not a condition of matter, but of mind. It is spiritual. It is not, be, then, an interruption of it, no end to it. It is sustained by divine law. It is never subject to external forces, which is a contradiction. It is the evidence of the unceasing action of divine Principle. It cannot be lost, because it is ever present; it cannot fail, because it is inseparable from omnipotent Mind.

What is the truth about what you call your disease or physical incapacity? The truth about it is that it is unreal, deceptive, illusory. It has no presence, no power, no necessity. It has no God, no man, no to experience it. God's perfect government of man makes it necessary for you to be well continuously, uninterruptedly.

The "still small voice"
The prophet Elijah was directed of God to go to a certain mountain. He was told, "Go and stand on the mountain, and the Lord will be in the wind, and the Lord will be in the earthquake, and the Lord will be in the fire; but the Lord was not in the wind; and after the earthquake a fire, but the Lord was not in the fire; and after the fire a still small voice" (1 Kings 19:11, 12).

This "still small voice" comes to each one of us when thought is humble enough to hear it. In that quiet, confident, exalted communion with your heavenly Father, you will become aware that you are the child of God.

O child of God, reflecting the harmony of being, you are created, derived from God, is undelivered, and in no capacity or freedom to sin has ever been engendered. In you is established the reign of divine Truth, Life, and Love, which holds you forever free from errors of omission or commission. You are here and now acknowledging and demonstrating God's supremacy and omnipotence, fulfilling the divine benediction, "This is my beloved son, in whom I am well pleased. Your affections are enriched today by the Word of God, revealing your true spiritual nature and manifesting in you that perfect Love which knows no fear. You are free from the false claims of animal magnetism, or belief of a so-called intelligence in matter, therefore you cannot be tempted to hold yourself or others under bondage to any phase of material sense.

As a child of God you are immune from sin, sickness, and death. Therefore, no matter in what form the "prince of this world" comes or has come, it hath nothing in you and must return to its native nothingness, for man is the reflection of the infinite good. He possesses "unlimited divine beauty and goodness, without a single bodily pleasure or pain" (Science and Health, p. 76). He has dominion over all the earth, forever glorifying the infinite Father-Mother God, in whom we live and move and have our being.

This, my friends, is the man you really are!

Prayer Heals

Prayer is a subject frequently discussed in private conversations and in the press. By reading and rereading the first chapter in the Christian Science textbook many inquirers are being introduced to a higher concept of prayer than that of the formula, "Thy will be done." The formula consists of only seventeen pages; but in all religious and scientific literature no more helpful pages may be found. It closes with a spiritual interpretation of the Lord's Prayer, which encourages the student of Christian Science and makes the thoughtful repetition of it a genuinely helpful experience. Christian Science treatment, or prayer, is described figuratively in the Bible as the "laying on of hands," hands being descriptive of work, of service, of skillful and successful accomplishment. A Christian Science practitioner uses his highest understanding of divine reality in the denial and overcoming of all that is unlike God. The inspired skill with which he applies his understanding and the love which accompanies his service determine the immediacy and completeness of the healing.

No greater opportunity can come to one than to be asked to pray for or treat another in Christian Science. Here is exercised the ability to see through the unseen, what appears to be a sick or sinful mortal, and in its place to behold the perfect son of a perfect Father. This encourages and requires a silencing of criticism, personal condemnation, and false judging. It requires one to disagree with every evidence of material sense that would claim to involve man in any situation foreign, and so impossible, to a son of God.

Health Is Spiritual
The Master said, "If ye continue in my word, then are ye my disciples indeed; and ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free" (John 8:31, 32). Can you imagine a more interesting, a more joyous and satisfying adventure, than to engage in an earnest attempt to know the truth about yourself? Take, for instance, the truth about your health. Health is not a condition of matter, but of mind. It is spiritual. It is not, be, then, an interruption of it, no end to it. It is sustained by divine law. It is never subject to external forces, which is a contradiction. It is the evidence of the unceasing action of divine Principle. It cannot be lost, because it is ever present; it cannot fail, because it is inseparable from omnipotent Mind.

What is the truth about what you call your disease or physical incapacity? The truth about it is that it is unreal, deceptive, illusory. It has no presence, no power, no necessity. YWCA Sponsoring Summer Fun

Registration opens this week for 26 summer trips sponsored by all branches of the YWCA of Detroit. Week-end cruises and hostel trips are listed, but so are day and evening events. All young women 18 years of age and up may register.

Got a job that's keeping you in town this summer? Then call the YWCA for its "Have Fun Anyway" folder which lists 26 events—picnics, hayrides, week-end cruises and hostelling—which you can choose from during June and July.

Any young woman 18 or up is invited to take part in this program which will feature friendly groups and inexpensive rates. Reservations may be made at any YWCA Branch or at the Central YW registration office, Witherell at Montclair.

Not all events are limited to women. Friday picnics will be open to men, as will four Sunday outings by chartered bus to nearby parks where baseball, swimming, skating, dancing, tennis, fishing or hiking are offered.

As a prelude to this newest program of the YWCA, chartered buses took 200 young men and women from Detroit to the Holland Tulip Festival Saturday (May 21).

Girls interested in boat trips—to Cleveland, Mackinac Island or Buffalo—should make reservations early. For the Mackinac cruise, which is scheduled to leave Detroit July 1, the reservation deadline is June 3. These "summer trips by buses, boats, bikes and hikes" are sponsored by the Business and Industrial Departments of all four branches of the YWCA of Detroit. Questionnaires the YW sent out last winter to 400 working girls brought in so many requests for

Moving Chores Fatal to Father

While assembling his baby's crib at 5:34 p.m. on May 19, William Gallagher, aged 51, of 1128 Nottingham, died of a heart attack.

Mr. Gallagher had purchased the Nottingham property about a month ago and had completely redecorated the place making it into a most attractive home. The family, composed of the father, mother and five children, the youngest less than a year old, had just moved into the place at noon and presumably it was the extra work entailed that brought on Mr. Gallagher's attack.

He was born in Ontario, but had been a resident of the Detroit area for the last 12 years. He was president of the Gallagher Glass Company.

Funeral services were held at noon on May 21 in St. Ambrose Church. Burial was in Milwaukee, Wis.

Joseph Standart Fatally Stricken

Joseph G. Standart, of 283 Lincoln road, one of the best known business and civic leaders in the Detroit area, died of a heart attack on Tuesday afternoon, May 17.

Mr. Standart was in the Ondon-tega Club at the time of the attack, attending a business conference. He was president of the Surety Savings and Loan Association and was a past president of the Greater Detroit Chapter, No. 13, Society of Residential Appraisers, and also of the Detroit Mortgage Bankers' Association.

He was a native Detroit. He was graduated from the University of Michigan Law School in 1903 and engaged in the practice of law for a number of years in his earlier life. In 1907-8 he served in the State Legislature and in 1919-20 was a member of the Grosse Pointe Village, now Grosse Pointe City, council. He also belonged to the Detroit Club and the Detroit Country Club.

Mr. Standart is survived by his widow, Edith; two sons, James W. and Joseph G., Jr.; a brother, Henry W.

The funeral was held in Christ Episcopal Church, Grosse Pointe, on Thursday afternoon, May 19, and burial was in Elmwood cemetery.

Joseph Staelen Dies Suddenly

Joseph Staelen, aged 63, died suddenly of a heart attack on Saturday morning, May 21, at his home at 17540 Mack avenue, Grosse Pointe City.

Mr. Staelen's family has been identified with the business life of Grosse Pointe for more than 60 years. The remainder of the old Staelen farm on Mack avenue between Neff and University has long been one of the few remaining unplatted plots in the City.

He is survived by his wife, Madeleine; son, Albert, and daughter, Mrs. Louise Price, both of Detroit.

He also leaves a brother, Emil; and three sisters, Mrs. Emma Meininger, Mrs. Margaret Bleas and Mrs. Mary Quissons, all of Detroit.

The funeral services were held at 10:30 Wednesday morning at St. Paul's Church, and burial was in St. Paul's cemetery.

Attack is Fatal To Dr. Wurtsmith

Dr. F. L. Wurtsmith of 1561 Roslyn road died suddenly of a heart attack in his home on Friday, May 20. Dr. Wurtsmith was one of the most widely known dentists in the Detroit area.

He was born in Saginaw, Mich. 45 years ago and was a graduate of the University of Michigan. He has been a member of the Children's Hospital staff for the past 14 years.

He is survived by his widow, Ruth; a daughter, Carol Anne, and a son, Paul. His mother and a brother, Frank, also live in the Detroit area. He was also a brother of the late General Paul Wurtsmith of the U.S.A.F., a veteran of the war, who was killed in a plane crash in September, 1946. The funeral was held on May 23 at the St. Joan of Arc Church and burial was in Holy Sepulchre cemetery.

room floor with her little grandson (Gerry)... Smiths, Rumneys, Senoffs, Watsons, Richters, Whites, Browns, Bishops, Dudenhoffs, Peabodys (and Eddie said to us, "Now where would I be at this point in the May Party several years ago" ... we looked and found the answer ... son Bradley was dancing with Miss Foster)... Pierces, Leonards, Parrishes, Johnsons all were there...

And everyone said... as everyone does every year... "It was the MOST beautiful May Party ever... Thank you, Miss Foster"...

Explanation

Memo to the Editor:
We had every intention of doing the Garden Pilgrimage for you this year... and really started out in bang-up style... arriving first (as we thought) at the Wesson Seyburns' stunning French gardens on East Jefferson...

In record time we admired the allee of trees in the French Manner as the guide program pointed out... discovered the exquisite statue fountains in the formal gardens... loved the deep, deep borders of violets which stretch the length of the impressive entrance drive to the Seyburns' home... saw white French lilacs... tulips big as tea cups (the gardener fancied our five-year-old niece who is taken with the word spysarea and calls everything in a garden that... so he clipped a smashing white tulip for her... to our chagrin... feeling a little on the defensive about being considered newspaper people who cannot read since the programs warned "Do Not Pick the Flowers"... received many loathing glances from some of the other visitors (all Socially Prominent and who always thought we'd be the kind to snitch flowers)... walked down to the water's edge and thought the home as divinely situated as anything can be this side of heaven... said goodbye to Mrs. Seyburn, who presided graciously at the entrance of her garden along with Mrs. Addison Holton and then THUD...

We had locked our purse and car keys carefully and oh, so beyond recall, in the car...

That involved seeming hours with a handsome policeman regarding us suspiciously and the five-year-old niece acting more and more like a second story man and acquiring a disgustingly dirty face as she picked elephant ear weeds at the street curb... Had she been driving we probably could have avoided all this...

Rescued by the Auto Club... we stopped at a gas station... only to be overheard by the Man In Charge as we discussed the brutal "locking out"... whereupon he flew in the station, came back with a wicked looking instrument and asked if we'd mind his trying it out on our car... he'd just bought it and it was guaranteed to open the most locked motor car in the world... well, it turned out to be one of those operations similar to taking apart and putting together a pocket watch...

We were so despondent we couldn't complain and there we sat while the shining hours fell behind us... Beaten, we drove to Francois for a bracing cup of tea... with all the hours for the Garden Pilgrimage gone... We're sorry... but we can report that if Mrs. Seyburn's gardens set the pattern for the rest of the pilgrimage... those who made it enjoyed a wonderful tour...

Baby Thespians

Sunday afternoon proved a delightful interlude at Convent of the Sacred Heart, where the lower school entertained pupils and parents with performances of "Alice In Wonderland" and "Pussy Cat's Visit".

The Schlotmans and the Mitchells practically devoted their week-end to the children... for they were there to applaud Mary Mitchell as Queen of Hearts...

Charlotte Ford was the Queen in "Pussy Cat"... Jinx Kilpatrick, Laurena Pringle's little girl, was starry-eyed when several people exclaimed she looked "just like Ingrid Bergman" but was able to carry on beautifully in her "Wonderland" role, letting Hollywood wait for the nonce... and the Bill Ternes looked thoughtful as they listened to one little daughter protest that Lynn Ann Ternes "didn't look herself at all" as Mother Pussy Cat.

The Ned Skaes... the William F. Connollys Jr... and the Tom Fitzpatrick were all in the audience... the last named accompanied by all their little girls who were de-voured with pride over the engaging March Hare role turned in by sister Mary Elizabeth...

Putnam Raps School Split

own area, according to plans the Board of Education has formulated. The Vernier School (which is in our Village), was a gift to the Board of Education, and according to their plans is to be converted to other uses.

"According to School Law in this state a portion of a district cannot withdraw unless all of the district, by a majority vote, sanctions the separation. It is doubtful that Grosse Pointe Woods or Gratiot Township would vote to do this. It would be to the advantage of Grosse Pointe Shores to set up our own school system, having a refund from the Board of Education of the proportion of the tax contribution we have made.

Deserve Refund

"Should a method for dividing the district be found, it is only right and just that Grosse Pointe Farms, City and Park find some means of refunding to Grosse Pointe Shores at least $2,000,000 of the money contributed to build schools in their district."

Very truly yours,
ERNEST C. PUTNAM

MRS. WILLIAM RUST PIERCE . . . a-l-w-a-y-s wears "Carnet de Balle" . . .

MRS. JOHN HUNTINGTON . . . has fallen in love with the little known "Rentner's 8:30" . . . or perhaps should say "Rentner's 8:30" delightful and not so generally worn that one meets oneself in one's perfume . . .

MRS. J. GORDON HILL . . . Couldn't think of using anything but Patou's "Joy" and is consumed at the moment with a quiet loathing of the company which manufactured her favorite lipstick because they've discontinued her special shade . . .

THE UNEXPECTED

MRS. HAROLD R. BOYER likes to wear her flowers in her coiffure . . . tucks a blossom of strong shade (yellow, red or orange) in her black locks with preference for Birds of Paradise and Clivia.

MRS. LEWIS F. BROWN . . . wore a cascade of purple lilacs at one hip of a strapless white chiffon evening . . . oo!la!la! . . .

MRS. REX QUEENEY . . . sometimes chooses a wide half belt of French pink carnations with evening clothes . . .

MRS. HARLEY EARL . . . likes to pin her evening flowers to her purse . . .

THE FLOWERS THEY PREFER

MRS. STANDISH BACKUS . . . the palest pink carnations . . .

MRS. WESSON SEYBURN . . . the deepest purple Cattleya orchids . . .

MRS. CHARLES B. WARREN, JR. . . true to her Southern background, it's camellias for her . . . snowy white for evening . . . and the pink or ruby ones for daytime wear . . .

COUNTESS CYRIL TOLSTOI . . . French (flake) carnations . . . usually white . . .

PILFERINGS

Bill Vaughan in the Kansas City Star says:

"In Maryland an amorous young couple park on a railroad track but are warned off by the police before the bit laugh when the limited hits the car and he comes to in the hospital murmuring, 'Boy, what a kiss!'"

Calm yourselves, men. No matter what you see in the streets, the sergeants aren't getting bigger; the chevrons are getting smaller.

Vaudeville will be amazing to a new generation who have never heard anybody sing or tell jokes without selling soap chips.

Painting the children's teeth with a chemical is believed to protect them. But that is only the beginning. The big need is some sort of transparent, long-wearing, washable shellac to coat the entire child.

All the other tourists spoil a trip to Capri for Princess Margaret, who had gone there to enjoy the scenery, not join it.

The movie actress' husband arrives in Italy and confronts her and the other man. For their conversation, which was unrecorded, see any old thing by Noel Coward.

The walls of an English college have been scrubbed for the first time in 602 years. There is probably no truth in the report that the dirt is to be sold to one of our new universities which wants to age in a hurry.

We understand that ball parks where Durocher is to appear will add another special day to Ladies' Day and such. It will be Lawyers' Day when any fan and his attorney will be admitted on one ticket.

Odd to read that the army PX is now criticized for including too many luxury items. It was not always thus, when one cigarette lighter and a fountain pen were supposed to be divided among 1,500 men.

W. R. JEEVES OF LINCOLN ROAD

By Kitty Carney

Collecting old pharmacy jars is Mr. W. R. Jeeves' hobby. He has one of the finest, and also one of the few, collections in the area. Pharmacy jars are no longer seen on the modern pharmacist's shelves. In contrast with today's array of labeled bottles are the jars which Mr. Jeeves keeps at his home and office.

Years ago, druggists of every country compounded prescriptions from the herbs, dry drugs and ointments which they stored in the heavy pottery pharmacy jars on their shelves. Today, the jars have passed from use.

Found All Over World
Mr. Jeeves, who is the foreign sales manager for Parke-Davis Co., has had the opportunity to pick up his pharmacy jars all over the world. He found most of them by delving into the back rooms of old apothecary shops. When he lived in England, he began the hobby by collecting the old bell metal mortars and pestles with which druggists had ground their wares. He still has these tarnished specimens, of English, Portuguese and Spanish design. The heavy weight of the pestle has pushed the bottom far out of shape in most cases.

The first of his jars, Mr. Jeeves acquired in Mexico's Yucatan peninsula. Some are from Central and South America, another was picked up in an old Guatemalan hospital. One was actually made in Mexico, he explained, but most of the pottery jars came from France and Bavaria. The medical symbol of a snake entwined around a staff figures prominently on the labels. The anchor and the bee, and the cup of pharmacy are also recurrent symbols.

Jug Made in 1765

An English jug with a spout, dated 1745, is among the oldest pieces in the Jeeves collection. Explaining the spout's use, Mr. Jeeves said that formerly the mixture was allowed to settle in the jug before the liquid was poured off. A handle and spout adorn the Swiss jars, too, since drugs were often administered in the form of a tea.

Many of the jars have the Latin label and emblem fused on. A blue glass specimen of Spanish origin has a gold insignia and emblem on the side. The cylindrical pottery jars, many of which were found in South America, are mostly French products from around 1800, says Mr. Jeeves.

Collection Grows

Many of the jars have peaked tops, usually adorned with a knob. The handle atop one wide-mouthed jar is in the form of a snake. Mr. Jeeves' collection has overflowed a living room cabinet, and he plans to erect enough shelves to accommodate the jars.

In recent years, Mr. Jeeves tells with a sad shake of the head, the antique pharmacy jars have become far more scarce because a large American firm bought them up for use as lamp bases. Jugs, identically like those which Mr. Jeeves owns, can be seen in the old-fashioned pharmacy in Ford's Greenfield Village.

Got a Sweet Girl Graduate in your family? JACOBSON'S is the place for her before those important graduation exercises for all is a flutter with girlish, lovely white frocks with your little Blue Stocking in mind. Those exercises where the mawsters say sleeves are required, are suited to a darling white organdy with brief slit sleeves, eyelet bodice with scoop neckline and a full organdy skirt. Over this skirt coquets a crisp eyelet apron which at the back is gathered into a beeg taffeta bow. Another graduation frock that will dance its way through Summer evenings has white taffeta bodice, boat neckline slightly off the shoulder, tiny puff sleeves and a fairy princess net skirt with taffeta scroll design traveling through it horizontally. There's a taffeta slip. Still another dress to charm any young graduate is JACOBSON'S white nylon net over taffeta with double rows of lace edging a wide berth collar and a hoop skirt of taffeta edged in wide white lace. The net overskirt is caught in front with two perky bows.

And when graduation day is over all Pointe families will be picnic-minded or off on short cruises up the lake on natty craft or off in the motor car to vacation spots. GROSSE POINTE DRUG has a member for all these parties who'll add to the fun . . . Thermos Bottles veddy 1949 and my, how, they've changed. For picnickers there is a set combining two one quart thermos bottles (remember the day when one had to serve for mama's tea and pop's coffee all at once) and a large good tin sandwich box complete in a zippered brown leatherette case. For those on the diet, there's the cased set with two one pint thermos bottles and a smaller plastic box for sandwiches. The cases have handles for easy carrying. GROSSE POINTE DRUG tell us many of those who are proud owners of the thermos-sandwich cases have confided they use one thermos for soup or coffee and the other for iced refreshment.
