Taxi Driver Fatally Hurt In Accident

Fred Beauchamp Dies in Hospital Following Crash at Barrington and Korte

A bad accident resulting in the death of one person and the serious injury of two others occurred at 4:05 p.m. on Saturday, April 8, at the intersection of Barrington and Korte.

A Grosse Pointe Cab company taxi driven by Fred Beauchamp, aged 26, of 4302 Wayburn, going south on Barrington, collided with a car driven west on Korte by Patrick John Moore, aged 57, of 282 Newport. Moore was alone in his car. Nicholas Bragg, 60, of 3478 Harding, was a passenger in the cab.

Dies Within Hour
All three were taken to Bon Secours hospital where Beauchamp died about 5 o'clock that afternoon.

X-rays at the hospital disclosed there were no bone fractures on the other two but both were suffering from shock and many bruises and contusions.

All three parties were thrown from the cars by the force of the impact. The Park police say the accident was caused by reckless driving on the part of both drivers. While the intersection is not a stop point visibility is excellent entering from any direction. Ordinary caution, they said, would avert an accident under any normal road conditions. Road conditions were safe at the time of the accident.

Going Too Fast
The passenger in the cab said that it was going at a high rate of speed when the accident happened. Fortunately for the passenger, the police said, he happened to be bending over to pick up some object from the floor of the cab at the moment of impact; otherwise they said he would most certainly have suffered fatal injuries.

At the hospital it was found that Beauchamp had suffered a previous skull fracture, which probably had nothing to do with his death following the accident. Young Beauchamp suffered his previous skull fracture about three years ago. Following basketball practice at St. Philip's Church he was offered a ride home by one of the boys. As the car was full and Beauchamp lived but a few blocks away, he

Second Crash Injures Three

Another accident in the Park with serious personal injuries occurred at Charlevoix and Somerset within a few hours after the fatal accident at Barrington and Korte on Saturday afternoon, April 8.

Donald J. Schilling, aged 18, of 5281 Harding, Detroit, driving south on Somerset, failed to stop at Charlevoix and collided with a car going east on Charlevoix driven by Walter G. Ciesay, aged 23 of 2543 Coplin.

Out of four persons involved in the accident all but young Schilling suffered more or less serious injuries.

Charlotte Rolinson of 10966 Somerset and Marian Schilling of 5261 Harding, in the Schilling car, and Ciesay were removed to Bon Secours Hospital with bruises and contusions and head injuries. All were suffering severely from shock. The cars were badly mangled and towed away.

Police Blotter Punctuated With Strange Animal Lore

A new kind of animal bite report was entered on the Farms police blotter on April 6.

Peter Kross, aged 9, of 318 Meriwether road, was bitten on the right hand by a hamster owned by George Earl of 403 Chalfonte. Hamsters are small animals which resemble tiny guinea pigs, which have been imported during recent years and have achieved increasing popularity as pets. The bite was reported to the Board of Health and the hamster will be kept under observation. Another specie of wild life

Getting Ready for Clean-Up Week

DICK LOWERY, on ladder, tacks up one of the numerous signs that will dot the Pointe to remind us of Grosse Pointe's Clean-Up Week, April 23 to 30. Chairman MRS. MATTHEW HOUGHTON and Hi Y members HOWARD CLARKE and NORM LASCA look on.

High School Visited by Thief Again

Gains Access to Safe By Simply Removing Ventilator Screen in Rear Wall

Grosse Pointe High School was broken into again sometime during the Easter weekend. Just what was taken will not be known until after the school reopens following the spring recess and a careful check can be made.

Alger Lodewyck, maintenance man at the building, called the Farms police at 3:43 Easter Sunday afternoon to report he had discovered the breaking and entering. Detective Harold Seelow took charge of the investigation.

Entrance had been gained by breaking an entry-way window facing a rear courtyard. The large plate glass window had then been removed from the inside door, allowing the thief or thieves to get into the hall.

Some tool had been used to jimmy a door leading to the basement. A screw driver had been taken from the basement tool shop and this had apparently been used to remove the window from the main office door.

No Trouble at All

Principal Walter Cleminson's desk and another one in the outer office had both been rifled. The school safe, of the walk-in variety, had been easily entered by the simple method of removing a ventilator screen in the rear wall. This allowed the thief to crawl into the safe without bothering about the heavy combination-locked door.

Four Property Associations Fight Joint Battle Against New Subdivision in Woods

Petition Village Council to Hold Next Meeting in Mason School to Accommodate Great Number Expected to Register Protests

The Hawthorne-Hampton-Roslyn Protective Association is asking the Grosse Pointe Woods Council to hold its next meeting, Tuesday, April 18 at 8 p.m., at the Mason School at Mack and Vernier roads in order to accommodate the more than 400 persons expected to protest against approval of a new subdivision plat which the residents contend would constitute a safety hazard and in addition not be in conformity to the established neighborhood pattern.

Vice-chairman of the association, Nicholas Rini, of 551 Hampton road, said that the group represents four established property associations—the Hampton-Roslyn Improvement Association, Inc., the Grosse Pointe Shores Realty Subdivision Improvement Association, the Hawthorne Road Improvement Association and the Hawthorne Park Property Owners Association.

Want Ordinances Revised
One of the association's objectives is the passage of up-to-date zoning ordinances which will result in improvement of the whole Grosse Pointe area by requiring new developments to be at least equal to existing residential and business property patterns, Rini said.

Four Reasons Cited
Rini said that the proposed plat represents an isolated extension of Hollywood Avenue between E and W streets. He said that the association is objecting to the approval of the plat for the following four reasons:

1. Because the street is only one block long and will not give access to either Mack or Lake Shore but will channel heavy traffic over E and W streets to Hawthorne and Hampton roads, threatening the safety of the neighborhood children.
2. Inasmuch as the plat must be developed and new building will be in progress for the next few years, the heavy truck traffic diverted to Hawthorne and Hampton roads will cause deterioration of these streets.
3. Because E and W streets are unimproved and impassable at certain seasons the development would constitute a fire hazard because it would be impossible to drive fire fighting equipment into the area.
4. The plat as proposed does not conform to the established residential pattern.

Must Meet Problem
"The problem presented by this sub-standard plat is coming up now for the first time in the post-war period in this area," Rini said. "This problem will come up many times again in the next few years and to meet these problems the association welcomes the cooperation of, and eventual union with other Grosse Pointe improvement associations desiring im-

Drain Expenditure Threat Eliminated Through New Plan

Detroit Given Permission to Turn Over Fox Creek Outlet to Pointes; Project Which Would Have Cost Millions Now Abandoned

The threat which has been hanging over the Park, Farms and City of Grosse Pointe for many months, of being compelled to participate with Detroit in the diversion of the storm water overflow which now goes into Fox Creek into the Conner Creek outlet, to the tune of a probable expense to the three Pointe communities to the extent of $5,500,000 to $6,000,000, has been removed.

This information comes on the authority of the committee representing the three communities in the long drawn out negotiations with Detroit.

The Committee
This committee is composed of Manager Everett B. Lane for the Park, Engineer Murray Smith for the Farms and Thomas Hanson and Leslie Brown of the firm of Mason L. Brown and Sons, for the City of Grosse Pointe.

Detroit is now going ahead with the construction of the Essex relief sewer which will take care of the storm water drainage which formerly went into Fox Creek from the Ashland area of Detroit. This will be pumped into the Conner Creek outlet and Fox Creek will be abandoned entirely to Grosse Pointe.

Allowed by Commission
It is understood that this permission has been given Detroit by the Water Resources Commission on condition that it shall treat its storm water overflow up to a certain designated extent.

If this establishes a precedent which the three Pointe communities will have to follow, then in all probabilities Fox Creek will be converted into a treatment basin, the cost of which would be far less than the participation in the Detroit diversion scheme.

May Be Years
This may not come for a number of years, for the combined storm water flowage from the three communities is not enough, with the natural dilution which takes place, to seriously threaten the quality of the water farther down stream.

It will be good news to the people of the three Pointe communities to know that this threat of having to provide a vast sum of money on the storm water overflow problem has been postponed into the indefinite future.

Woods Borrows Against Taxes

At the Woods council meeting on April 4 a resolution was adopted providing for borrowing $80,000 from the Grosse Pointe Bank on tax anticipation notes.

The money will be used for current general expenses until the new taxes come in.

Engage Experts On Park Layout

The National Recreation Association was retained by the Woods Council on April 4 to make a layout for the proposed development of the Lakefront and the Mack avenue parks.

The idea is to obtain the suggestions of experts on the development of these properties to the best advantage and enjoyment by the people.

The limit of cost for the work was fixed at $500.

Police Awaiting Skeleton Report

Grosse Pointe Farms' skeleton remained as much of a mystery as ever up to the time the NEWS went to press. No report had been received by Police Chief Walter Hoyt from the State Police scientific laboratory in Lansing.

The portions of the skeleton, found while excavating for a sewer at a new residence in the Stephens Hill subdivision, were taken to Lansing last Friday by Detective Harold Seelow. They were identified previously at the Wayne County Morgue as belonging to a woman, aged 35-40, who had been dead about 25 years. A more thorough examination is being made at the State Police laboratory.

When the report is received it will be made accessible to the Detroit Police Department and the missing persons records will be checked in an effort to solve the mystery.

Additional digging last week-end produced a few more finger bones, several teeth from the upper jaw and better-preserved pieces of material, apparently from a coat which clothed the body.

Five Pointes Will Join in Big Campaign

Garden Club Council Spear-Heading Drive to Make Community Clean

"Clean Up to Stay Clean" is the cry of the committee of women sponsoring Grosse Pointe Clean Up Week from April 23 to 30. The Grosse Pointe Garden Club Council, spurred on by the requests of various garden clubs in the area, are urging all Grosse Pointe citizens to join in an effort to "polish up" the community.

At the suggestion of the Garden Club Council, all five Grosse Pointe communities have issued official proclamations that Clean-Up Week shall commence Sunday, April 23.

The Committee
The committee, headed by Mrs. Frederick Jones with Mrs. Matthew Houghton as acting chairman, consists of Mrs. Frederick Schumann, President of the Garden Council; Mrs. Arthur Fleming in charge of Education; Mrs. H. Hunter Williams in charge of Publicity, and Mrs. Thomas Mann and Mrs. Harold Bailey in charge of special events. Area chairmen are Mrs. Robert McKean, Mrs. Kenneth Beardslee, Grosse Pointe Park; Mrs. Henry Bogle, Grosse Pointe City; Mrs. George Duffield, Grosse Pointe Farms; Mrs. Paul Sutherland, Grosse Pointe Shores; Mrs. Donald Hanna and Mrs. John McCaughey, Grosse Pointe Woods.

Seek Concerted Action
Although most residents have always done their individual best to maintain tidiness and cleanliness in their various communities, this time of year which reveals the residue from melting snows and winter's havoc, should, the committee feels, inspire citizens to band together in a common effort to scrub their houses, yards and streets to perfection. The removal of all outside debris will result in rat control, one of the most urgent needs of today, as well as a top-notch degree of sanitation.

Removal of clutter in garages, attics and basements will eliminate fire hazards and the ever present danger of spontaneous combustion. It has been pointed out by Mr. Vincent DePetris, well-known horticulturalist and garden expert, that the removal of rubbish from empty lots and fields, and from around new buildings, now, before weeds and tall grasses grow up and hide the winter's debris, will result in more effective mosquito control next summer. It will also facilitate the moving and weeding of such open spaces by the town authorities.

Getting Fire Support
An awakening awareness on the part of all Grosse Pointe citizens, of what needs to be done to maintain civic beauty and cleanliness, should result in concerted action. The Clean Up Committee has interested civic groups and organizations in helping with moral support as well as financial, badly needed to help defray working expenses. All schools and youth organizations have been contacted and requested to cooperate, not only in the actual physical labors of Clean Up Week but in the spreading of information and suggestions for accomplishing the job.

High School's Drive
The Grosse Pointe High School is waging a clean up campaign of its own as part of the over-all effort. Boys from both Blue and Gold Hi-Y Chapters under the leadership of Mr. Ralph Deal and Mr. Lake, have volunteered to form work crews for cleaning vacant lots and public grounds over the week-end of April 29-30. These boys will also distribute some 40 posters, hand-made by a student artist committee at the school. School students and Scouts will assist in distributing other posters and publicity material. Formal certificates of appreciation will be awarded to all helpers in this campaign.

Merchants Cooperating
Local merchants and the libraries are cooperating with window displays and advertising. Local trash and garbage collection officials have been contacted about their various methods of collection. Suggestions for more efficient and tidier systems of collection in areas where this need has been noted are being solicited, in the hope that Clean-Up Week will result in a sustained effort to continue the good work.

Orphan Tract Sold by Woods May Become Littlest City

The Woods village has at last sold its little orphaned tract of 12½ acres of ground in Gratiot township, which it had acquired three years ago when it bought the 44 acre tract intended then to be used for a municipal park on Mack avenue.

The village has been dicker for some time to get rid of this tract for which it found it had no use after the decision was made to develop a municipal park on the lakefront on the Edsel Ford property.

It still leaves the village with about 32 acres in the Mack avenue plot, which will be leisurely developed as a park or for other municipal purposes. At one time it was planned to use this whole tract as a municipal park and village center with a new city hall

Farms Council Reorganizes; Issues Information Bulletin

Standing Committees Cut to Two; Four Councilmen Elected in April of Every Odd-Numbered Year
Beginning with Next Year

The Farms Council has been reorganizing its administrative setup, and has issued an information bulletin covering both the legislative and administrative portions of the municipal organization.

The council is made up of seven members, four elected on the first Monday in April of each odd-numbered year. The next election will be April 2, 1951. The three councilmen receiving the highest number of votes are elected for three year terms, and the fourth for a one year term.

Council Elects Mayor

Henry Hubbard, John Hutchinson, William Kirby and George Schlaepfer all expire next year. The terms of Mayor William Conolly, Richard Maxon and Neil McEachin will not expire until April 13, 1953. The mayor is elected by council from among its members.

Regular meetings of the council are held on the third Monday of each month. Residents are welcomed at these meetings, held in the Municipal Building at 90 Kerby road.

Several of the former standing committees have been eliminated and now there are only two. Hubbard, McEachin and Schlaepfer comprise the Finance and Public Safety Committee. Hutchinson, Kirby and Maxon comprise the Engineering and Public Works Committee. The mayor serves on either or both committees at will.

One Justice Elected

One justice of the peace is elected for a term of four years. The present justice is J. Burgess Book, III, whose term expires July 4, 1953.

Assessment date is January 1 and the Board of Review holds its first session on the Tuesday following the second Monday in March, and its second session on the Tuesday following the fourth Monday, in March. City taxes are due July 1 and School and County taxes on December 1.

Administrative officers, all appointed, include: Harry Furtan, clerk; Murray Smith, engineer; Dawson Nacy, assessor and treasurer; Walter Hoyt, Chief of Police; and George Dansbury, Fire Chief.

Detroit Requests New Bus Route

The Detroit Street Railway has asked permission of the Park to use for its buses the route from Alter road east on Windmill Pointe drive to Barrington, thence on the north side of the island past the Municipal Park to Alter and back to Jefferson as a turn around for its buses at the limits.

The DSR has been using the roadway for 10000 feet west of Marine Hospital and back to Alter for this purpose for a long time but the condition of the roadway has become so bad during this winter that it has asked this relief from the Park. The Highway Department of Detroit has refused to make improvements in this roadway prior to the completion of the Riverside drive project which may not materialize for some time yet.

The Railway has asked this permission for the period November 15-May 1 each year until the Riverside drive project goes through.

The Park desiring to be helpful to the DSR has granted the permission temporarily, conditioned on there being no objection on the part of private property owners, or unless a traffic nuisance develops.

ship into a city have conspicuously left this plot outside of the limits of the proposed "city".

It never was a part of the Woods village and, it now being sold, the Woods has no further interest in it, and municipally speaking, it may be all dressed up with no place to go. A twelve acre "city" or even an unincorporated village would be unique in the municipal annals of the state of Michigan.

Clean Up

A block captain system is being organized, under the direction of area chairmen with the plan to enlist citizens in cleaning up vacant property in their own blocks, as well as tidying their own back yards.

To Be On Display

Local garden clubs point out that the Garden Club of America is sending representative women from all over the United States to a three-day meeting in Detroit the middle of May, under the auspices of the Garden Club of Michigan, and Grosse Pointe will be host to this group on May 17.

Cleaning up will therefore result in an increased civic pride in showing off the community to visiting garden lovers. "Please, no scattered pop bottles or unsightly papers along our beautiful Lake Shore Drive," is the plea of garden club members throughout the Pointe.

Holding Luncheon

The Municipal Officials of Grosse Pointe have invited members of the Clean Up Week Committee to attend their weekly luncheon at the War Memorial Center on Wednesday, April 19, to report on plans for Clean Up Week and compare notes on how all citizens can best cooperate in this venture. The luncheon will be in the nature of a formal launching for Clean Up Week, according to Mrs. Thomas Mann, who is chairman in charge of luncheon arrangements. With citizen cooperation, Clean Up Week may become an annual affair.

To Hold Exhibit Of Student Art

Students from all of the Grosse Pointe schools will exhibit their art work at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center for three weeks beginning Saturday, April 15.

The display will be Monday through Saturday from 10 until 12 in the morning and from 2 to 5 in the afternoon. Grade school children must be accompanied by adults.

The exhibition will include examples of pottery, ceramics, sculpture, decorated wooden ware, prints, life drawings, quick water color sketches, posters as well as three dimensional non-objective constructions in wood, metal and plastics.

MALICIOUS MISCHIEF

The residents at 610 University place reported to the police on April 8 that some malicious youngsters had pulled up stakes and ropes they had placed about their lawn for protection to growing plants.

GP Bank Will Unveil Safe Deposit Vault on Saturday

To show its newly installed Safe Deposit Vault and enlarged banking quarters, the Grosse Pointe Bank will hold Open House on Saturday of this week between the hours of 12 noon and 4 p.m.

The new vault, modern-to-the-minute and encased in concrete and steel, together with a great 5-ton door made of seven-inch plate steel and equipped with time clock and other modern safety devices, is located on the main banking floor. It contains 1500 boxes in six different sizes as its initial unit. Customer rooms, of comfortable size with latest safety and privacy features, are located within the vault.

This vault occupies a large portion of the main floor at the rear of the bank building, replacing quarters that were formerly occupied by the bookkeeping and accounting departments. These latter have been moved to the second floor. A new inside staircase now leads directly from the main banking floor to the upper floor departments.

The Grosse Pointe Bank, established here in 1915 with total resources of $50,000.00 has thrice enlarged its quarters. By 1934 its resources had reached a million dollars and today they exceed the 21 million dollar mark.

One of the features of the bank that cannot be readily found elsewhere is its policy of opening the banking day at 8:30 o'clock in the morning. This has won it many friends among the business leaders of Michigan's metropolises who reside in Grosse Pointe.

Everybody is welcome to inspect the new vault and the enlarged banking quarters during the four-hour Open House on Saturday, but no business will be transacted during the period, the bank's announcement states.

Three Awaiting Court Sentences

Charles DeSmedt, 21, of 1407 Beaconsfield, who was caught in an attempted burglary at the Turner-Buick building on Nov. 9, pleaded guilty before Judge Ira T. Jayne on April 4. His case was referred to Probation before sentence.

Another case before Judge Jayne the following day was that of William Hurt of 7009 Agnes, Detroit, and Robert Craig of 610 Canton, Detroit, who had beaten up a man in the rear of the Pete Moor cafe on Nov. 11.

They had picked up the victim a few minutes earlier and on the pretense of going to the Moor cafe for a lunch had robbed and beaten him instead. The case will be recalled as the one where Moor's son put up a brave battle with them when he surprised them beating their victim and kept them busy until a Park police scout car aided by a passing Checker cab pinned the assailants' car between the street and the curb and pulled the two out of the car and locked them up.

These two also pleaded guilty and were referred to probation before sentence.

Driver Killed

Fell Off Car

When the driver had to stop suddenly at Charlevoix he was thrown off and struck his head on the pavement. At that time a metal plate was inserted in his head.

The family have expressed the opinion that his death in Saturday's accident was caused by the plate piercing his brain.

Funeral services were held Wednesday morning in St. John Berchmans Church and burial was in Mt. Olivet cemetery.

Safety Council Being Organized

A Traffic and Safety Council is in process of being organized in Grosse Pointe. It will be composed of the Chiefs of Police of the Pointe and several private citizens who have expressed their willingness to serve. A permanent organization will be effected at a meeting to be held on April 27. While the main purpose of the organization is to improve the traffic and safety practices of the Pointe the Council will also take note of all matters which come under the attention of the local police.

Dr. J. C. Moloney To Give Lecture

The eminent psychiatrist, Dr. James Clark Moloney will give a free illustrated lecture in the Pierce School auditorium at 8:00 p.m. on April 18, under the sponsorship of the Grosse Pointe Federation of Teachers. The film, "The Okinawan," made by Dr. Moloney and Commander James J. Cammisa while they were stationed on that Pacific island during the war, will be shown. "The Okinawan" teaches that a human being can be so reared that he can meet, endure and successfully adjust to almost any degree of shock, suffering or injury, without emotional or mental break, or deviation from normal; that such an individual will be remarkably free from many common grave diseases; and that such psychological stamina and physical immunity, stems from the totality of parent-child relationships in the earliest hours and weeks of life and the ensuing years of childhood up to five years. Although there will be no charge for the lecture, admission will be by ticket only to insure adequate seating. Tickets may be obtained from any member of the Grosse Pointe Federation of Teachers or they may be obtained at the Main or Branch Grosse Pointe Libraries.

Cars That Figured in Fatal Crash

Fred Beauchamp, driver for the Grosse Pointe Cab Company, suffered fatal injuries when his cab and a car driven by Patrick John Moore of Newport, Detroit, collided at Barrington and Korte in Grosse Pointe Park last Saturday afternoon. Park police said both drivers were operating their vehicles in a reckless manner.

Former Policeman Discovers Meter Reading Can be Tough

Millard Brown, who is an employee in the Park Village's building department, was pressed into service last Monday to help out in the water meter reading. He had gotten well into the routine of his unaccustomed work when he called at a house in the 1400 block of Devonshire. The woman of the house admitted him and suspicious that he was not bona fide. He was not the same man who last read the water meter in the house. This household is equipped with a large Boxer dog. Directing Brown to the cellar where the meter was, she followed immediately after with the dog. "Watch him!" said the suspicious housewife, and then went leisurely to the phone and called the police. Meanwhile Brown huddled in fear and trembling in the basement, afraid to take a deep breath lest the animal might leap on him. When the police arrived they quickly allayed the woman's suspicions and she called off the efficient watchdog.

Burglar Visits Goldie Residence

The Frank W. Goldie home at 1148 Three Mile was broken into by thieves on April 5, some time between dark and 9:15 p.m. when it was discovered by Park patrolmen on their rounds. The place had been entered by breaking the glass in a rear basement window. The police do not believe the thieves obtained any articles of value as Mr. and Mrs. Goldie, who are in Florida, before leaving the Pointe had most of their valuable articles placed in storage. The police say the burglary was attempted by the same persons who recently broke into homes on Lincoln road and Lake Shore road. This fact was established by identical footprints found at all three places.

Hardware Stolen At New House

John Senesi, owner and builder of a new house under construction at 902 Nef road, reported to the City police on April 8 that an assortment of bathroom hardware had been stolen from the house. Senesi had gone out for lunch and when he returned he found the bathroom had been rifled. The only way the thief could have gotten in was to climb an outside scaffolding and enter through a second story window.

Reckless Drivers Pay Up in Court

In Park Police Court on April 5, Judge John L. Potter disposed of the following cases: Jacqueline J. Braun of 2150 Lenox, Detroit, for reckless driving involving an accident at Audubon and Mack on March 14, paid a fine and costs of $10 and was ordered to attend one session of Traffic School. Roy J. Sylvester, Jr., of 5855 Baldwin, Detroit, for reckless driving involving an accident at Nottingham and Fairfax on March 27, paid a fine and costs of $16.10. Lester E. Bauer of 1317 Bishop, for failure to yield right of way involving an accident at Nottingham and Fairfax on March 27, paid a fine and costs of $15. Morris P. Fare of 18599 Roscommon, Detroit, for stop street violation involving an accident at St. Paul and Nottingham on March 9, paid a fine and costs of $15. Bayard Wilson of 266 Lakeland, for reckless driving involving an accident at Bishop and Jefferson on March 17, paid a fine of $5 and was ordered to attend two sessions of Traffic School.

JUST WHERE THEY STARTED
Two Pointe youths who were caught in the act of transplanting a "One-Way" sign from McKinley and Ridge to the alley in the rear of the Punch and Judy Theater at 12:35 a.m. on April 7, reversed the process and relocated the sign in its proper place under the expert direction of Farms Patrolmen D'haveloose and Kerbrat.

Engagement News Fills Post Easter Calendar

Three More Betrothals Announced Following Close of Lent; Engaged Girls Include Nancy Jane Irwin, Carol Jane Lecklider and Nina Sullivan

It wasn't all Easter baskets the familiar bunny was strewing around the Pointe last week... dozens of sparkling diamonds were being delivered, too. A record number of engagements followed the end of lent.

Latest announcement was that made by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph R. Irwin of Harvard road, who, Wednesday evening, entertained at a family dinner party in the Detroit Athletic Club to tell of the betrothal of their daughter, Nancy Jane, and John J. Hinsberg.

Nancy, a brunet beauty, wore a waltz length gown of cocoa faille, its strapless aqua bodice demurely covered with a tiny cocoa toned jacket. A pale lavender engagement orchid was pinned to the jacket.

Jack, son of Mrs. Harry E. Skinner of Seminole avenue and the late John Hinsberg, attended University of Detroit. The bride-elect is a graduate of Stephens College, where she was a member of Phi Lambda Beta.

The party also marked the twenty-first birthday of the bride-elect. Among those present were Nancy's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Irwin and the bridegroom-elect's aunt, Miss Catherine Hinsberg.

The young couple are planning an autumn wedding.

Easter holidays seemed the appropriate time to announce engagements also to Dr. and Mrs. Arlington F. Lecklider of Berkshire road whose daughter, Carol Jane, is wearing the ring of Allan A. Neef, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur F. Neef of Lincoln road.

Both Carol and Allan are students at the University of Michigan. She is a senior and a member of Alpha Phi, while Allan is in the law school and his fraternity is Alpha Kappa Psi.

The engaged couple both graduated from Grosse Pointe High School and although they've been practically neighbors at the Pointe, they met on campus at Michigan.

Carol spent last Summer in European travel. No date has been set for their wedding.

Easter Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Donald Fraser Sullivan, of East Jefferson avenue, announced their daughter Nina's engagement to James Lawrence MacMartin of London, Ont.

At the time of the announcement, the young couple also set a June 10th wedding date in St. Clare Church.

The romantic news was told at a buffet luncheon for family members and a few intimate friends.

Nina chose a maize silk frock, its full skirt finely pleated, and pinned matching daisies to one shoulder.

The bride-elect is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin. She belongs to Sigma Gamma Association and Gamma Phi Beta sorority.

Jim, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence J. MacMartin of Gananoque, Ont., is a graduate of the University of Western Ontario. He is affiliated with Kappa Alpha.

Among those attending the Easter Sunday party were Nina's sister, Mrs. John F. Baillie and her sons, Fraser and David of Montreal, and her brother, Donald Fraser Sullivan, Jr., who drove over from Chicago with June Marx.

Players' Playhouse, down there on East Jefferson avenue, will attract hundreds of Pointers on the evenings of April 21 and 22 for that's the date of Ibex Club's play, "Two Blind Mice."

There are now daily rehearsals of the large cast whose efforts will help raise funds to be turned over to Children's Hospital for new equipment.

The Rev. Father Arthur Miller, C. S. P. officiated at the 4 o'clock ceremony which was followed by a reception in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hardy Andrews of North Beverly Glen boulevard.

The bride wore a stunning gown of antique ivory lace overlaid with heirloom ivory chantilly lace which formed a peplum in front. A long train extended from the full skirt which was attached to a lace bodice. The bridal veil fell from a close fitting cap made of lace worn by the bridegroom's grandmother and by his mother at their weddings.

Bridal attendants were gown alike in pink chantilly lace over matching taffeta. Lace mitts matched the classically designed gowns which were worn with headresses of braided pink nylon net.

Bidding for Re-election

Scarcely a day passes in which there is not forthcoming from Washington further accumulating proof of the determination of Truman to buy himself another term in the Presidency, come hell or high water.

The last sign hung up is his proposal to bring 6,000,000 more persons into the ranks eligible for unemployment compensation.

Everybody is pleased with the prospect of getting a piece of any grand hand out, so this should be good for three cheers and a tiger from six million grateful throats. What the program would do in the way of subsidizing strikes and other convenient idleness is too abstract a problem for the President to discuss in detail, so why bother.

He also issues a glad note of promise on the national income. Under the wise management of the general economy he and the experts have arranged for the country, the national income should reach $800,000,000,000 within the space of ten years.

These are certainly glittering figures but why wait ten years? Under the program he and his crowd are now pursuing a national income of eight hundred billion in ten years is mere peanuts. The simple process of inflation is direct and effective.

Of course the American dollar would be a sad monetary unit in that day and the prospects of the owners of U. S. Bonds being paid off in that kind of money is not alluring. It would be a repetition of the German experience in 1923 when one of Uncle Sam's perfectly good two cent postage stamps would have paid off the biggest bonded debt in Germany.

A generation ago the French franc was worth 19 cents plus in good American money; today it is worth one third of one cent.

If that is the kind of prosperity to which the President points us in his bid for reelection it behooves the American people to look out.

Two thousand years before Mr. Truman started his high bidding it was no uncommon thing for a hot candidate for a Consulship of Rome to feed 20,000 Romans at the public eating tables.

This was shortly before the end of the Roman Republic and a matter of only a few generations before the Praetorian Guard auctioned off the throne of the Roman World to the highest bidder.

The routine of the politician has not changed much in the past two millennia.

Cancer Prevention

The American Cancer Society's 1950 campaign opened in South Eastern Michigan last Monday. The drive will continue through April which Congress has designated as Cancer Control Month.

Every effort to solve the cancer problem is worthy, but this drive is especially deserving in that the major part of the funds raised will remain in the Detroit area and will go to finance detection centers. It will further the program for early detection of the disease and for popular education along this line.

Medical science generally agrees that the first line of defense against cancer lies in the earliest detection of the disease possible. It is then that the curative measures thus far developed can be applied with the greatest hope of success. And that success has been achieved in the treatment of these early discovered cases is amply proved in thousands of instances.

Meanwhile medical science is carrying on its ceaseless search for the ultimate cure in scores of well financed cancer research centers.

It is not many years ago that pulmonary tuberculosis, under the dreaded name of consumption, was regarded with the same hopeless horror that accompanies that of cancer today.

Early diagnosis and treatment has already relegated the White Plague from its preeminence as a major disease threat to the human family. Nowadays mass x-ray examinations of entire communities are a commonplace and the efficacy of this procedure in heading off the development of this disease in countless thousands of instances is seen in the rapid diminution of this dread scourge. The same methods are being applied in agitating for a public education for the early discovery of the cancer growth.

It is in this respect in particular that the cancer drive which got under way this week should get strong support.

Self Revelation

Regardless of the thousand and one instances of the inherent enmity of the Communists towards the free democracies of the West, which began a few hours after the first vodka-drenched meetings between our troops and the Russians on the banks of the Elbe in the spring of 1945, no further proof of this irreconcilability should be asked by any sane man than the violent tactics practiced by the communists in those countries which are scheduled to get arms aid for self defense.

These munitions are frankly sent to help these countries resist any invasion manspring in Russia.

These commies who take their orders from Russia without question do not want the free states of Europe put in a position to defend themselves.

They want a situation maintained whereunder they themselves can take over when the moment is opportune. Violence is their handmaiden when it can be employed to advantage by themselves but they abhor it when it might be used against them.

These instances of opposition to the import of American arms for the defense of freedom as it is practiced by the democracies of the West is so completely revealing of the set purpose of Communism to bring about a world revolution against human freedom and human dignity that no person with any grey matter under his skull should hesitate a moment in making his decision.

To hope to convert these people from the course on

"How many million Aprils came Before I ever knew
How white a cherry bough could be,
A bed of squills, how blue!"

(Sara Teasdale)

Have you ever hankered after a swimming pool of your own? Well, don't just SIT there! In one of the better magazines this week, a boxed ad announces that it isn't as expensive as you think to have a pool IF you build it yourself! This is very simple (it sez here) if you will send for a fifteen cent booklet that tells you how to do it! We thought we'd do a little research before spending the fifteen cents, so we telephoned a few hundred pool owners to find out what's what.

The consensus of opinion seemed to be as follows: SURE, you can build your own pool, especially if you are a mechanical engineer or a builder. Naturally, if you are building your own you can't afford a lot of complicated machinery that filters the water; drains the pool, etc. Sooooo, after you build it, it takes 24 hours to fill it with water. Then, since you have no filtering equipment, the Board of Health requires you to empty and clean it once a week. It takes 18 hours to empty it and about 10 hours for one small housewife to scrub it. That would give you about two days a week that you could USE the pool. The rest of the time would be spent in emptying, scrubbing and filling. So, all right. What do you expect from a fifteen cent booklet?

Having trouble with a large and sagging stomach, girls? Well, in case you missed it, there was an article in one of the dailies recently, that tells you just how to rid yourself of this unsightly bulge within 30 to 60 days. All you do is pull your stomach in while you count one; then pull it in a little more at the count of two; then "pull it up against your spine" as you count three and hold it there to a count of ten! (It isn't fair to use hands, either.)

You do this several times a day . . . such as while you're waiting for a bus, attending a cocktail party, answering the census man's questions, or waiting your turn in the bargain basement. The article also advises that you keep breathing while you do this simple exercise. We are rather glad they DID add a small bit of advice . . . it's so handy for living.

We are told that women are vainer than men . . . but we're not so sure after hearing the following: A local gent, on his way East for a business conference, exclaimed to his wife (who was driving him to the station) that he had forgotten his eyeglasses. Since he can't even read the print on a billboard without them, he was naturally upset . . . and it was too late to return to the house for them. The smart little woman suggested that when he arrived at his destination, he buy a pair of those cheap magnifying eyeglasses to tide him over the two day meeting. What he said was: "I hate to do that. My own glasses are so becoming to me!" Well, now.

We think this is an amusing tale, but for obvious reasons, we shall call the chic Eastern School "Yabbleburg" . . . hoping of course that such a school doesn't exist. A local matron, fraught with upright and righteous instincts, was asked by a friend if she had read "Rage To Live." The little woman replied that she had not . . . then added, "But my daughter has read it. It was on the preferred list at Yabbleburg." The townsfolk who have heard the story are considering writing to Yabbleburg to obtain their monthly preferred lists!

It's been a long time since we have had the pleasure of reporting another "gem" from the world of "domestic assistants" . . . a title coined during the war when you couldn't get domestic help for love nor money, . . . (not that the former ever had anything to do with it!)

Anyhoo, this tale concerns our telephoning a veddy circumspect matron (on business), and when asking the "hired girl" (as grandma called her) if we could speak to Madame for a moment, we received the following answer: "I'm sorry Madame; Mrs. Soandso is in the pantry trying to make herself a drink. Would you please leave your number?"

Since it happened to be high NOON . . . and since we were more than slightly thirsty ourselves . . . this high-handed message did nothing to promote our goodwill toward our fellowman.

Received a letter from a woman who sez she's happy to have found ONE columnist who listens to the radio and admits that she does it purposely. She writes: "So many columnists wanting to quote something they've heard on the radio, start out by saying: 'We happened to hear' . . . or 'we never listen to the radio but our neighbor's was so loud we couldn't help, etc. etc.' . . . or 'I was at a friend's house and she happened to have the radio on and we heard, etc.'"

Our correspondent goes on to say that she was beginning to get a complex about it and had the feeling listening to a radio was something hush-hush . . . that one doesn't talk about . . . like drinking alone in your bedroom or taking dope. So we are pleased Madame, that we have made you happy. Now we are going to make you even happier.

which they are bent is about as satisfactory a process as giving medicine to the dead.

Defense in being, or ready for instant mobilization, is the only sort of persuasion to which they will listen.

Those who counsel otherwise expose their own befuddled thinking or, to put it mildly, lay themselves open to suspicion.

Successors to the Mantle

A political writer on the Detroit Free Press sees in the scramble now under way a direct bid for the next United States senatorship from Michigan. This may well be, for of such stuff is American politics composed.

This theory, of course, presupposes the early retirement from the Senate of our distinguished senator Arthur H. Vandenberg. Senator Vandenberg has undergone a couple of operations within the past year and the impression prevails that he is a seriously ill man. The earnest wish of his countless admirers in Michigan and throughout the country is that he will be able to carry on for a long period with the great service he has rendered the nation.

Senator Vandenberg had served for several years in the Senate without acquiring more than a reputation as a sagacious politician with sound views on the various public issues which passed before that body. It remained for the coming of the great war and our enforced entry into the broader arena of world politics to bring to the knowledge of the nation and to the world at large the comprehensive grasp he had acquired through the years of world movements.

His abilities were quickly transferred to this broader field and it was here that he became a leader of recognized standing. He became the chief protagonist for presenting a common front to the world for the settlement of the world issues in which we had become inextricably involved.

His opinions and advice on all problems of international aspect have been constantly sought and largely heeded in both the legislative and executive departments of the national government.

Whoever inherits the mantle of Arthur Vandenberg, be it soon or years hence, should accept it with the knowledge that they have before them for emulation a high standard of public service.

What Goes on at Your Library

by Jean Taylor

It is too early to predict what may be revealed when the 1950 census, now in progress, is completed. The finger points, however, to the fact that an increasing number of the population will be in the upper age brackets.

If most of us are going to trip lightly through the three score year and ten mark and are headed for a much longer life . . . well, we'd like to make it a merry one!

The psychiatrists who are concentrating these days on "geriatrics" are ready and willing to throw out the life-line to floundering oldsters. "Time was when the infant or child was their chief concern, but now we find we've battled through childhood and adolescence only to be a problem to humanity because we're going to live so long. And to make matters worse, those who were the guinea pigs for the first efforts of the child psychiatrist now find themselves an experimental field for the experiments of geriatrics.

However, we're for them one hundred percent. They make old age so attractive we can hardly wait to get there . . . (Or can we?)

Otis Skinner commented on his fiftieth birthday—"It was a half a century ago that I came into the world. That is a most terrible state of affairs. I am supposed by popular belief to commence the journey that goes down the mountain but I am so damned perverse that I am still looking up."

So . . . let's put a match to our birth certificates, gird up our loins and get booted and spurred for the year ahead with some tips from the following books.

A long and merry life to you! Three physicians have books to offer on the subject of geriatrics, giving sound medical advice and suggesting constructive ways of adjusting to and enjoying the latter years.

FORGET YOUR AGE, by P. J. Steincrohn; YOU ARE YOUNGER THAN YOU THINK, by Martin Gumpert, and THE YEARS AFTER FIFTY, by W. M. Johnson.

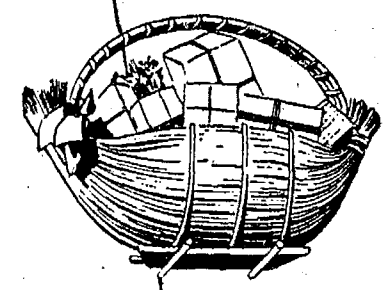

HOW TO RETIRE TO FLORIDA, by Dusenbury, and HOW TO RETIRE TO CALIFORNIA, by Drury, are two helpful books answering questions about the cost of living, housing, recreation, climate, etc., in these two states. Both serve as a guide to older people who are contemplating a change to a milder climate.

Walter Pitkin is frequently obvious and sometimes bromidic, but he has, nevertheless, some interesting advice and ideas on growing older. His best seller of several years ago, LIFE BEGINS AT FORTY, was a spring board for later writing on this subject. In 1948 he wrote THE BEST YEARS, HOW TO ENJOY RETIREMENT, and now we have his recent book, THE ROAD TO A RICHER LIFE. It is less concrete than his earlier books, directed more to thinking than to doing.

Aged Wanderer Aided by Police

An 84-year-old man who could speak very little English was found wandering at Mack near Kerby road at 12:45 a.m. on April 10 by Farms Patrolman Sylvester. He was obviously lost.

He was able to tell the officer he lived on Crane near Mack in Detroit. The Detroit police were contacted and met the bus on which the Farms police placed the old man. They called back to say they had found his home and had returned him safely there at 1:30 a.m.

Rotarians Fete Sons, Daughters

The annual Fathers-Sons-Daughters luncheon and entertainment by the Grosse Pointe Rotary Club was held at the Memorial Center last Monday. There were about 125 persons present, quite evenly divided between Rotarians and their children.

There were no speeches or formal entertainment but an organ grinder and a lot of monkey business much to the delight of the younger guests.

Engaged

Dr. and Mrs. Arlington F. Leck, leader of Berkshire road announce the engagement of their daughter, CAROL JANE, and Allan A. Neef, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur F. Neef of Lincoln road.

Carol is a senior at the University of Michigan where she is affiliated with Alpha Phi. Allan is attending the University of Michigan Law School and is a member of Alpha Kappa Psi.

The young couple plan a summer wedding.

Schools' Combined Talent Doing Musical Production

Detroit University School and Grosse Pointe Country Day School senior high school students will revive "Sing Out, Sweet Land" by Walter Kerr tomorrow and Saturday. The production will take the place of the annual Varieties show.

Three performances are scheduled for the Country Day School auditorium. Friday afternoon, April 14, will be principally for the students. At 8:30 p.m. on Friday and Saturday evenings, parents and friends will watch the houselights dim and the curtain rise on this delightful production.

"Sing Out, Sweet Land" is a musical biography of American song. It is the fascinating tale of Johnny Appleseed through the medium of folk music. George Smart, a senior at D.U.S., will have the male lead as Barnaby. He is sentenced to sing and dance throughout eternity. Feeling that, if all the people could sing and dance each other's songs, it would be ONE nation. Barnaby travels delightfully through the East, West, North and South of our great land, from 1600 to 1900.

The ingenue is played by Rowena Phillips, a sophomore at Country Day. An able supporting cast are students from the ninth grade through the twelfth.

Those in charge of the rehearsing and necessities behind the scenes have been at work since early February. The director is John Wood; dance director, Noel Melville; music director, Jean Vail Garrett; stage manager, Louis Hurr; costume chairman, Annette Torrey; scenery chairman, Carol Korneffel; properties chairman, Karla Behr; business manager, Nick Ruwe; make-up, Joan Dryden, and the accompanists are Jean and Donna Diekoff. The latter two have had the difficult task of arranging the music for two pianos from the orchestral score.

Joseph Forton Injured In Fall at Club Shed

Joseph A. Forton, 65, of 22960 Nine Mile road, was treated in Cottage Hospital for back injuries following a fall at the Country Club shed on the afternoon of April 10.

Forton was pulling a large screen up to the second floor of the shed when he stepped back into a trap door and fell 12-14 feet to the earth floor.

Park Employees Ask Wage Boost

The Municipal Employees Union has asked the Park to bring the level of wages paid its employees up to the same prevailing rate that exists in Detroit.

They are asking for six paid holidays a year, for which they will not be required to make up time in subsequent service. They also want an additional week's vacation with pay each year for employees of ten or more years service to the municipality. The Park now gives two weeks paid vacation each year.

Firemen Subdue Mattress Blaze

A small fire at the C. A. Kanter residence at 16805 Maumee on Friday afternoon, April 7, was handled by the City firemen without serious damage to the property.

A mattress caught fire, presumably from children playing with matches and the firemen stopped it the quick way by throwing the mattress and bedding out of a second story window. Smoke did some damage to the wall paper.

Arrange Lecture By Mrs. Place

Ruth Mosher Place, one of the foremost gardening authorities in Michigan, is to speak at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial at 1:30 on Friday, April 14. Her topic will be "The Flower Border." Planting and care of both perennials and annuals will be discussed.

Mrs. Place, for many years the Garden Editor of the Detroit News, has been accredited as a speaker on Horticulture by the National Council of State Garden Clubs. All garden lovers in the community are invited to attend. There is no charge.

Mrs. Place will be guest at luncheon at the Village Manor before the meeting. Mrs. Fred J. Schuman is chairman of the committee. Other members are Mrs. Emil Leidech, Mrs. Wood Williams, chairman of the Garden Center, Mrs. Wendell K. Wheelock, Mr. Vincent R. DePetrus, and Miss Christine Edwards. All interested Grosse Pointers are invited to attend the lecture.

The fourth, and last, program of the Spring series arranged by your Grosse Pointe Garden Center will be Friday afternoon, April 21. Further details will be in next week's Grosse Pointe-News.

CARL CARRIER BITTEN

Carl Carrier, aged 11, of 561 Notre Dame, was bitten on the calf of his leg by a dog on April 6. The dog belonging to John Boland of 16909 Village Lane, was sent to the Owens veterinary hospital for a 12-day observation and the case was reported to the health department. Young Carrier is a nephew of Leo Carrier, City Superintendent of Highways.

Clean-Up Drive Joined by Park

The Park in common with the other Pointe communities has given its approval to the clean-up project sponsored by the Garden Clubs for the week April 23-30.

The Park management however wishes it clearly understood that this is not to be interpreted as a commitment on the part of the municipality to clean up private properties. This job rests upon the residents themselves.

It is true that in a number of instances where the physical disability of the occupants prevents their doing this work the municipal employees have entered private properties and cleaned up as a favor to the occupants.

For the village however to assume the general responsibility for this work would be impossible with its available force of employees.

It is expected that the residents will take their rubbish and waste material to the curb, whence it will be completely removed by the highway employees.

Pointe Garden Club Plans To Hold Annual Guest Day

The Pointe Garden Club will hold its annual Guest Day on Monday, April 17, at 2 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Kenneth Beardslee, 641 Whittier road.

Mrs. Alice Wessels Burlingame will speak on the subject, "Be a Flower and Plant Specialist in Your Own Home." Tea will be served following the talk.

Hostesses will include Mrs. Earl R. Bridge, Mrs. Richard Forsyth and Mrs. Sterling S. Sanford.

More Emblems Reported Stolen from Ford Cars

Two more cases of emblems being stolen from Ford 1950 cars, were reported to the Farms police on April 10.

Charles Koebel of 203 Cloverly road said his were stolen while his car was parked on Kercheval near McKinley road between 7:40 and 8:30 p.m.

Paul Schumann of 21605 Lakeview, St. Clair Shores, lost his while his car was parked in Kercheval between McMillan and Muir roads about 10 p.m.

Many Types of Evergreens Ideal for Pointe Planting

By VINCENT DE PETRIS

Almost everyone admires evergreens planted somewhere on the home plot or around the foundation. Not only are these plants beautiful during the warmer months but they provide a welcome note of green in the winter landscape.

Since evergreens are plants which remain more or less active throughout the year, their care differs from that of deciduous shrubs. These latter enter into a complete dormant period after shedding their leaves, whereas evergreens as the name implies carry their foliage throughout the winter, therefore not becoming completely dormant.

Have Rest Period

Evergreens do, however, go into a rest period during the Fall and Winter. This is not complete dormancy but a period where new growth is held in abeyance until the warm Spring days.

Taking advantage of this fact then the advice is to plant evergreens either before new growth has started or after it has completely matured.

During the Spring the best months to plant evergreens in this vicinity is April and early May. Not only do we find this period appropriate because new growth has not yet started, but the cool spring weather is far more favorable after transplanting than later.

Planting

Evergreens will always come from your nurseryman balled and burlaped. This is to insure that part of the root system at least remain undisturbed.

When planting only the top part of the burlap need to be loosened. The burlap is buried into the ground and permitted to decay. Thus the ball of earth remains undisturbed. The soil around this ball of earth is made firm, after which the evergreen is watered.

It is a common error to keep newly planted evergreens watered by over-watering. The soil should be kept moist only by occasional watering. To insure best results a light covering of peat will keep the soil in the best condition after planting. Where plants are tall and exposed to sweeping winds, the plants should be anchored with wires tied to stakes. Sections of an old rubber hose should be used to protect the trunk from being injured by the wire. Generally speaking, evergreens prefer moist but well drained locations. Most evergreens prefer a semi-shaded spot on the grounds, although there are some, notably the junipers, which do very well in full sun.

Specific Types

The evergreen group is rather extensive so that we may find distinct types for various specific purposes in landscape scheme. Moreover, besides the large group of coniferous and narrow leaved evergreens we also have some very beautiful broad leaved evergreens, such as rhododendrons and kindred blooming plants which are not commonly grown in Michigan because our soils lack the proper acidity which these plants require.

The following is a brief but concise list of evergreens grouped for specific purposes. The first group is for foundation planting which seems to be most in demand.

Foundation Planting

Chamaecyparis: This group includes a number of dwarf evergreens formerly referred to as cypress and retinospora. They are of soft feathery appearance, generally of light green color but some varieties have variegated and golden foliage. These evergreens may be sheared for formal effect or they may be allowed to grow natural. The general effect is round and globular so that they adapt themselves for planting around buildings with low sweeping roof lines. Chamaecyparis will do well in sunny exposures.

Juniperus (Junipers): This group contains some of the showiest and most satisfactory types for foundation planting. Among the spreading and low growing varieties the following deserve mention. J. chinensis Pfitzeriana (Pfitzer's juniper) with beautiful gray green color. J. chinensis Sargentii (Sargent's Juniper), a very low growing evergreen with bluish green or golden green color. Excellent as a ground covering evergreen in very sunny locations.

J. Communis: This is the common prostrate type of juniper. Besides the green variety there is the Andorra variety which has beautiful coloring in the fall. This variety grow about 16 to 18 inches in height and spread over a considerable area, and does well in a sunny exposure.

Juniperus sabina (Sabin juniper): This variety is closely related to the preceding. They are very dwarf and spreading. Of silvery green color and very hardy. Excellent for sunny exposures.

Juniperus horizontalis: A horizontal growing plant as the name implies. The variety Wankegan juniper is unusually beautiful, being a pinkish gray color, which does well in full sun.

Small Junipers

A few of the better types of upright growing junipers include the following:

Juniperus chinensis columnaris: The Chinese column juniper. A very sturdy and reliable evergreen which may eventually grow up to 30 ft. or more if not controlled.

Juniperus scopulorum: A species from the Rockies which is very formal with grayish blue coloring. There are several good varieties of this juniper, among which the Hill's silver juniper is one of the most beautiful.

Juniperus virginiana: The Virginia juniper, native of Virginia to Maine, is very beautiful. It also includes several varieties among which is the blue type called "glauca." These juniper will be found to be excellent for planting around buildings with sharp roof lines. They also are very effective for accent points due to their outline and coloring. Taxus (Yews): Among the har-

American Lawn Tennis Tells World of Devils' Conquests

Coach Merlin Schuktz's Charges Ready for Another Season; Will Open Against Cranbrook in Bloomfield This Afternoon

By Fred Runnells

Since April 22, 1941 Grosse Pointe High School's tennis team quietly went about its business of building up an enviable tennis record which included an amazing 69 consecutive triumphs under the able coaching of Larry Westervelt.

All this time the Pointers received a little quib here and there in the daily papers while Hamtramck, a metropolitan tennis power, was getting all the ink.

Defeat Gets Big Story

When the Pointers dropped their first match in 70 starts the dailies plastered it all over the sports pages and built the conquering Monroe squad up to unbelievable heights.

Since that defeat the Pointers, under the coaching of Merlin Schuktz, have put together another consecutive winning streak that stands at 31 to date and from all early indications could reach 44 straight before this spring session is climaxed May 26 against Fordson High School.

The March issue of American Lawn Tennis carried a full page of pictures and a long story about the remarkable tennis talents of Blue Devil youngsters over the last nine years.

Satisfying Paragraph

Probably the most satisfying paragraph in the entire article is the one that says, "The other strong high school team in the southeastern section of the state, (Michigan), at Hamtramck, has produced some great individual stars, but Grosse Pointe defeated its Michigan neighbor by scores of 5-2 and 5-4 in 1943, and then eked out a 4-3 triumph in 1946 for the fiftieth victory in the string of 69."

It is interesting to note that both years the Pointers met Hamtramck they wrecked the Cosmo's chances for an undefeated season. Hamtramck went on to win the City Championship both years and the Pointers annexed the Border Cities League crown.

Haven't Met Since

Hamtramck has refused to meet the Blue Devils since.

The Pointers are almost sure to add three quick victories to their total when they open the season with a home and home series against Cranbrook today, Thursday, April 13, there, and Tuesday, April 18, on the local courts. The Devils will entertain Dearborn in their third start on Tuesday, April 25.

Dearborn just started tennis three years ago and shouldn't be to much of a hurdle for the local lads to get over.

Wyandotte May Be Tough

Probably the first big test for the Devils will be against Wyandotte May 2. The Bears, in the last couple of years have really gone in for tennis in a big way and surprised many in the BCL last year.

The toughest assignment of the campaign will come when the Pointers tackle the always strong Monroe Trojans on May 9 and 12. If the Devils can get past the Trojans they will be a sure bet to go all the way for their second consecutive Border Cities League title.

Former GPHS Athletes Do Well with College Teams

By FRED RUNNELLS

Grosse Pointe High graduated a bumper crop of athletes a couple of years ago and today those same boys are making the grade in college.

Topping the list is Eddie Isbey who played a whale of a lot of football for Dartmouth last year and from all indications has the inside track for a regular berth on the Big Green next season, barring injuries or unforeseen events.

Bob Fismoe, a little stick of a fellow when he was swimming for coach Banach back in 1948, again won the 50 yard breast stroke event and took second in the 50 yard backstroke event in the Inter-Dormitory meet a couple of weeks ago at Princeton. Bob won the breast stroke event a year ago and was the only repeater this year.

Al Bryant, a June 1949 graduate, has practically locked up the third string pitching spot on Princeton's baseball team already. According to Joe Fromm, Grosse Pointe's best student manager in history, Al is receiving valuable instruction from the coaches who have changed his pitching style completely from his high school days.

Princeton's first string pitcher is Dave Sisler, brother of Dick Sisler of the Philadelphia Phillies and son of the famous George, Sisler.

Ted Osius, of the 1949 graduating class, is a member of Princeton's crewmen last year. Steve Hosmer, also of the 1949 class, is on the freshman crew at Yale.

Bob Essert is on the varsity swimming team at Yale and is making a mark for himself.

Bob Jenks, one of the greatest swimming stars to graduate from the local school, is taking his learning at Michigan State and reports have it he stands a good chance of cracking the varsity lineup next season.

Johnny Rummel, George Mantho, Harry Constant and Joe Kennedy all are on Hillsdale College's varsity tennis team and will compete in the MIAA this Spring.

Of this quartet Rummel is the most outstanding, having played on the Dales' basketball team for the last three years and he was the first string kicker on the football team that played in the Refrigerator Bowl game last December.

There are many more former Blue Devil athletes away at college that haven't been heard from yet but just as soon as we get any word about them we will let you know.

Rotary Bowlers In Stretch Drive

Tomorrow night Piche's Barbers will bowl against the league leading G. P. Review team in the Rotary Bowling League.

Piche's blew their chance last Friday when they lost three to P & J Cocktail Lounge.

The Judges with their aforementioned victory gained a point on the Pointers and are only one point away. The Auto Club took four from the Motor City Times.

The fate of P & J Cocktails and the Auto Club remains in the hands of Harrison Carpets and Kopp's Pharmacy.

The Judges meet Kopp's and the Auto Club meets Harrison. Houston Bros. Inc. will cross alleys with Holzbaugh.

The league finishes its schedule next Friday night at the Woods Recreation.

Mr. Standish is the president of the United States Golf Association and is a past president of the Country Club. He won the North-South tourney 41 years ago.

Lions Club Party To Honor Quints

Parties honoring basketball champions seem to be the vogue around the Pointe these days.

Chet Sampson started it a couple of weeks ago when he gave a party for Grosse Pointe High's Border Cities League champions.

Grosse Pointe's Lions Club took a liking to the idea and announced it would give a party at the Neighborhood Club Saturday evening, April 22, honoring the six championship quintets that played at the Club this winter. Team and individual trophies will be awarded.

Grosse Pointe Valet, unbeaten champions of the Major Division, will receive the Roland Gray Sports Shop Trophy and the Grosse Pointe Optimists Club will present the Tracy Motor team with the team trophy for winning the Junior Division championship.

Individual "Oscar's" will be given to every member of the six championship squads.

The Metropolitan Club will award "Oscar's" to the two girl team champions, Grosse Pointe Post 303 will do the same for the boys Junior division and the Neighborhood Club will donate the individual awards to Grosse Pointe Post 303 team of the Minor Division, to Grosse Pointe Valet of the Majors and the St. Clare C.Y.O. quintet, which won the "Kids" tourney.

ROUGH MARCH

Last month was the coldest March since 1941 and the snowfall, 9.6 inches, was higher than any March snowfall since 1934, according to the monthly report of the Detroit Weather Bureau.

Leaders in St. Paul Bowling League Stumble in Stretch

By FRED RUNNELLS

When everything seemed to be going along smoothly for the red hot Martin keglers and the second half championship of the St. Paul bowling league seemed a sure thing, the ROOF FELL IN.

The Martin team, which had posted an amazing point streak over the past five weeks by capturing 18 out of a possible 20 points, fell flat on its face last Thursday, April 6 when it dropped three of four points and collapsed into a two-way tie for first place with Murray Smith's determined keglers.

The Smiths have dogged the Martin team for the past five weeks just waiting for the opportunity that presented itself last week and they took quick advantage of it by garnering three of four points.

Fred Dansbury's quintet, the only other team that had a chance to overhaul the leaders, also missed the boat. It dropped three points while P. Allard's outfit scored three to pull within one point of the third place Dansbury team and out of the three-way third place tie with the Ruprich and Marsack aggregations. These dropped into a two-way deadlock for fifth place.

The battle for last place still rages between the two Trombly teams. Both notched three points last week and Tom Trombly's bowlers still are out of the cellar spot by two points.

J. Jablonski posted a double 208 to lead the 200-plus keggers which follow: J. Wrubel 222, E. Rossner 218, E. Lauer 215, J. Marsack 204, P. Martin 204, A. Billiet 203 and W. Gurche 200.

Sweep Swinger Dies in Canada

One of Detroit's better known race horses and a game thoroughbred who has thrilled many racing fans during the past nine years is dead. Sweep Swinger, an eleven year old gelding, belonging to the T. D. Buhl Stable, died last week from what is presumed to be an internal strangulation due to getting cast in his stall. ("Cast" refers to the horse getting down on its side with its feet up against the stall wall and not being able to get up without assistance.)

The accident took place in Marysville, Canada, where Sweep Swinger had been in training under Lex Whipple, who was getting him in shape to appear this summer at the Detroit Race Track (MRA).

The Swinger ran in the 1942 Kentucky Derby. He raced in Detroit every season since 1941 and has won many races here and on Florida, Kentucky and Maryland tracks. Ever a slow starter, he was noted for his blinding finishes which often carried him from far back in the field to eyelash victories.

Purchased from Green Tree Stables for $2500, he won more than $70,000 for Mr. Buhl.

All Stars of Neighborhood Club Win in Times Tourney

Local Basketball Team Moves into Second Round of Play By Conquering Smith Farm Quintet from Akron, Mich.

By Fred Runnells

The Neighborhood Club All Stars, representing Grosse Pointe, moved into the second round of play in the Detroit Times first annual Open Basketball Tournament with a decisive 60 to 47 victory over the Smith Farm quintet of Akron, Michigan, last Monday night, April 10, on the Neighborhood Club Court.

The All Stars, made up of 10 of the top notch Major Division players of the Neighborhood Club Basketball League, used a two-platoon system to wear the Farmers down in the first half and then coasted to victory after a big productive third quarter.

Even First Half

The first half of the contest saw the two team match basket for basket with the Farmers holding down the long end of a 23 to 22 count at the half time intermission.

Jeep Del Barba, former Blue Devil and Eastern Illinois star, sparked the All Stars' third period attack with 10 points and pushed his team out in front 47 to 32 going into the final stanza.

The All Stars throttled the Farmers' attack in the third period to three field goals and a like number of free throws.

In the final period the game reverted to the same style of play that prevailed in the first half with both teams matching basket for basket. The Farmers had a little the better of the scoring getting 15 points to the All Stars' 13.

Height Spells Victory

Height was the prime factor in the victory. The All Stars' average height is 6 feet two inches. Three All Stars, Jim McHale, Joe Schaffner and Bill Lane, all stand 6 feet four inches with the rest of the squad tapering down from there to 5 feet 11 inch Leroy Guaresimo.

Bob Vandenbussche of the All

Stars and Roy Doornbos of the losers tied for individual scoring honors with 14 points each.

Pride of Michigan defeated Selridge Field Jets by a lopsided 86 to 33 score. Charley Primas, of Miller High and two time All State Class A selection, led the Pride of Michigan quintet with 18 points for scoring honors.

Beard Quintet Wins

The Leo Beard quintet, composed of Central State Teachers College players, swamped Jaglowicz 69 to 35. Lyle McDonnell led the winners with 15 points.

Fred "Buzz" Cronin, former Blue Devil basketball and baseball star, notched 8 points for the winners' cause.

Ed Sarkisian paced Red Star to a lopsided 53 to 28 decision over the Lewandowski quintet. Sarkisian notched seven field goals and one charity toss for 15 points which was good for individual honors.

Whittling Down Process

The Neighborhood Club branch of the Times tournament will continue until there are only two teams remaining and then these teams will move to either the St. John Berchmans or St. Elizabeth gyms for the quarter finals.

Thirty-two teams were originally entered and are playing at four gymnasiums throughout the metropolitan area.

April Designated Clean-Up Month

This is Clean-Up Month. The checking-up, cleaning-up and repairing you do during April may save your life or limbs or those of your family, the Michigan Department of Health said today.

Fires and falls cause three out of four fatal accidents which occur in Michigan homes.

Have your heating system completely checked for cracks, rusting or other defects.

Have a competent electrician check your electrical wiring and appliances and replace all frayed wiring.

Remove all rubbish, rags and papers from basement, attic or garage.

See that all stairways are adequately lighted, solid, and free of toys, tools or rubbish.

Use a ladder for any climbing you must do. Don't climb on chairs, tables or boxes.

Clean out the medicine chest; get rid of all old medicines and mark poisons clearly.

Put all insecticides, laundry bleaches, cleaning compounds and other poisons well out of the reach of children.

Make a rack for your garden tools and keep them in it.

This is only a partial list for Clean-Up Month, the Department said. By looking over your own house, lawn and garage you can find many other hazards which you and your family can remove during Clean-Up Month.

Evergreens

diest and most satisfactory plants for foundation planting or border, the yews must be ranked with the best. They possess a beautiful dark green foliage and besides being very ornamental, are extremely easy to grow and well adapted for either sun or shade. The most satisfactory strain of yews for Michigan are the Japanese yews grouped under the species "Cuspidata." The name was given because of sharp pointed needles. If you will associate this name with the dental term "bit-cuspid" you will understand the allusion.

Yews may be kept bushy and compact by pruning during Spring and Summer. They are free from attacks by most insects, and generally speaking are ideal for city and suburban planting. The foregoing applies to the Japanese yews (Taxus cuspidata) and its many varieties only.

The English yews (Taxus baccata) are unfortunately not as easily grown in our climate. For this reason we do not advise growing this particular species. Among other evergreens suitable for foundation as well as suburban planting, the following merit mention.

Arborvitae (Thuja occidentalis): These include an extensive group of evergreens suitable for hedges or columnar effects. The varieties are among the best. There are also golden colored varieties belonging to this strain.

Arborvitae prefer moist but sunny exposures protected from sweeping winds during the winter months.

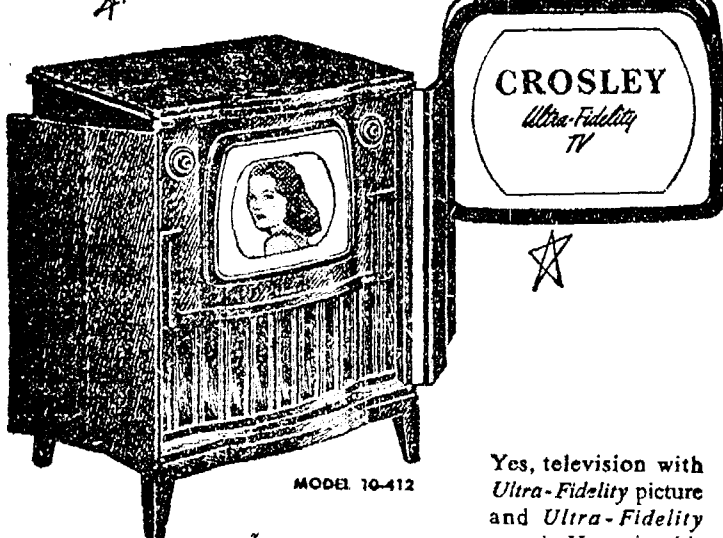

Thuja orientalis: Often called Biota's or Chinese arborvitae. These evergreens are very similar to the preceding excepting that the foliage is finer and more compactly arranged in a longitudinal manner.

A very showy golden leaved variety known as variety "aurea" and "Berkman's Golden Arborvitae," is frequently used very effectively for color accent.

The cultural requirements of the Chinese arborvitae are very similar to the American species.

Pinus mughus (Mugho Pine): This dwarf mountain pine is an excellent evergreen where a compact type is desired. They are easily grown and will do well most any place provided they are planted in well drained soil and

700 to Attend Center Tea To Honor Workers in Drive

Seven hundred Grosse Pointe women have been invited to a tea at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center Monday, April 17, at 3 p.m., to honor workers in last fall's Torch Drive of the United Foundation.

Awards bearing a picture of the huge torch which stood before the Detroit City Hall will be presented to those who took part in the drive. Similar awards are being mailed to Grosse Pointe women who did the business solicitation under the leadership of Vincent DePetrus.

Division One of the Torch Drive, which was made up of the Grosse Pointes, exceeded its quota by nine percent. The drive raised $9,250,000 in the Detroit Metropolitan Area, the largest sum ever obtained in a similar drive for health and community services.

Mrs. John L. Kenower, Division One Chairman, said Grosse Pointe women and men did an outstanding job in meeting the community's obligations. "We Grosse Pointers can be proud of many things," she said. "But the way the women, and the men, pitched in and covered the territory thoroughly was certainly a credit to them and to their community. The awards they will receive express the gratitude of the entire metropolitan area for the way the Grosse Pointes handled their end of the job."

Benjamin E. Young, a board member of the United Foundation, will be the principal speaker at the award tea. Awards will be given to all women who worked in the drive, both in the metropolitan and special gifts units.

A special award will be given the Neighborhood Club through George Elworthy, its director, for providing headquarters for the Torch Drive. Other awards will be given to the schools for outstanding work in the drive.

Plans for the award presentations are being developed by Grosse Pointe women Torch Drive leaders. Organizational leaders in the Metropolitan Unit include: Mrs. Joel A. Leete, Grosse Pointe Park; Mrs. J. Arthur Mullen, City of Grosse Pointe; Mrs. Benjamin E. Young, Grosse Pointe Farms; Mrs. Richard S. Weber, Grosse Pointe Shores; and Mrs. Daniel M. Smith, Jr., Grosse Pointe Woods.

Mrs. David A. Wallace of Grosse Pointe Farms was vice-chairman of the Torch Drive for the entire Metropolitan Area.

Special gifts workers include: Mrs. Standish Backus, Mrs. Frederick C. Ford, Mrs. Carl B. Grawn, Mrs. Ernest C. Kanzler, Mrs. Fred T. Murphy, Mrs. John J. C'Brien, Mrs. Joseph B. Schlotman, Mrs. Wesson Seyburn, Mrs. Henry Sheldon, Mrs. James K. Watkins and Mrs. James B. Weber, Jr.

A & P Files Formal Reply Denying Anti-Trust Charges

The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. has flatly denied government anti-trust charges in U. S. District Court Monday and termed the civil suit against it an effort to change the nation's "entire economic structure."

In its first formal answer to the complaint seeking dissolution of the 90-year-old food chain, A & P said there "is no justification in fact or in law for the drastic and confiscatory destruction" of the company.

A & P denied in detail the charges of restraint of trade and monopoly brought under the Sherman Act. Defendants John A. Hartford, chairman of the board, George L. Hartford, treasurer, and the A & P asked through counsel that the complaint be dismissed.

"The plaintiff," A & P contended, "is asking this court to adopt, by judicial fiat, new and extremist principles of law which would result in a complete remodeling of the entire economic structure of this country."

A & P termed its expansion a "natural growth," which came almost entirely from within the company and not by mergers or by buying out competing companies.

The answer said that A & P "has made substantial contributions toward revolutionizing" the food business, "with enormous and incalculable savings to the consumer and especially to the worker families."

"The effect of the company's activities," the answer continued, "has not been to restrain trade or to prevent competition," the answer continued. "On the contrary, its competition has greatly promoted trade and increased competition."

Discussing the case from the standpoint of the public's interest, the company said "destruction of the A & P organization, far from benefiting the public, would render irreparable injury to it."

PILFERINGS

From "Life a la Henri" by Henri Charpentier... Telling of his experiences as a very young apprentice to one of the great waiters at the Grand Hotel Franchati... and in particular that evening when he served Madame Sarah Bernhardt...

"Nothing that Madame ate that day gave her so much nourishment and power as the Petite Marmite Henry IV, with which she began her meal. In France for centuries kings and peasants alike have thrived on that rich consommé."

"She would want only one or two small pieces of chicken in the amber fluid, with perhaps two or three slices of carrots."

"Within my arms I had a steaming fluid I believed was destined to become the gestures, the tones, the very stage business with which that night Bernhardt would make an audience in Le Havre cry and clap."

"I started across the rough cement floor, proud as a soldier. Had not my waiter, Baptiste, told me that always my customer was to be regarded as the flag, a thing to respect and protect. Naturally, with such a zeal to serve, I hurried. I turned my small back to open the swinging door and then eager for Baptiste's commendation, I went swiftly, almost running, across the parquet floor of the dining room. I was precisely beside Madame Bernhardt when my feet slipped. But as I fell, I remembered to protect my customer. I pulled the tureen toward me so that as I struck on my back the scalding fluid drenched me with pain and anguish. Even so I could see pieces of white chicken and yellow carrot clinging to the black skirt of her frock; and it was wet. What humiliation!"

"Oh, Madame," I exclaimed through my tears as I scrambled to my feet, "will you excuse me? I have spoiled your dress."

"Ah," she said with a voice more tender than she could employ on the stage, "this poor little one! My friends," and with a movement of her fine eyes she commanded the attention of all, including, Baptiste, "see him! See, with his fingers swelling and turning white with blisters how he does not consider pain; but only my dress. Gallant fellow!"

In the same wonderful volume, the world famous restaurateur advises that gourmets will relish French fried parsley. It is prepared the same as the potatoes, the slender stalks being plunged into hot fat for a few seconds turning the herb to straw color. Serve at once.

Pointer of Interest

MRS. LAMAR CREEGER OF ANITA AVENUE

With the same abandon as the lady who always throws away her old jewelry, Mrs. Lamar Creeger of Anita Avenue rarely wears a hat but once. Still, that's not quite as extravagant as it sounds, for blessed with a creative talent, Mrs. Creeger makes all her own hats and they're usually bought "right off her head" by admirers.

Couple this with the fact that our Pointer of Interest makes her hat after she is dressed and just about to go out and that's why the old plaint of, "I haven't a hat to wear with this suit" is never heard at the Creeger home.

Teaching classes in millinery at Grosse Pointe High School and at the Board of Education, appearing with the Lady of Charm on television every Tuesday (WXYZ-TV, 4 to 5 p.m.), lecturing in and out of Detroit on "Hats," giving private lessons keeps Mrs. Creeger on the go. She has 10 classes in all and her pupils number between 200 and 250.

In this way, the lady has her finger in about 250 hats a week not including those she whips up for herself at the drop of a...

DOGGY HATS

The Creegers have lived in the Pointe about 10 years. Mrs. Creeger was born in Kent City, Mich., and her husband, a metallurgist, is a native of Indiana. They have been joined by two sons: Gordon, aged 11, and David, now seven, and a highly energetic puppy dog, Stormy, for whom the younger son designs hats.

As we talked to Mrs. Creeger, mid miles of ribbons and beautiful flowers, hat blocks, hat boxes, unblocked pieces of felt and straw and tulle, David tied a yellow straw bandeau on the dog who not only displayed great patience but actually modeled the chapeau with pleasure! David's interest in his mama's hobby stops at canine millinery, however. The big picture hats which make grown up ladies sigh, evince only a bored look from the young man.

As a little girl, Mrs. Creeger started to fashion her own millinery. It's a perfect joy to her and her hands (which move with amazing speed and grace) ache to "get at" a hat that's not right.

One of her close friends became buyer for a large Detroit department store and on her trips to the New York markets, she'd always bring back a "hat" present for Mrs. Creeger. "But, you see, hats just don't look well on me," she explained, so the gifts would be remodelled until they were becoming and chic. The buyer friend wistfully wished she could find hats as smart on her eastern expeditions. She was so impressed with this talent she urged Mrs. Creeger to see the head of Wayne University's art department.

The meeting ended with a certificate for teaching and opened the door to a world of fun for the newest teacher.

RIGHT ON HEAD

Although her own training in art would enable her to sketch her millinery designs, Mrs. Creeger prefers to first talk to a subject, then place a large piece of unblocked material on that he sat in the living room, eyes glued to the hockey game over television.

And Mrs. Creeger's eyes twinkled merrily when we asked if he was one of those unusual gentlemen who "notice" women's hats.

"What does he say about your own hats... the ones you wear?" we asked.

"Well, to get really enthusiastic observation I have to first say, 'How do you like my hat?' and then the answer, accompanied by a fleeting glance at the hat, is invariably, 'All right!'"

Utterly feminine, Mrs. Creeger knows this is Omega in husbandly praise and so, when the day arrives that she may open her own millinery salon, the bands in the hats will be marked. "Lamar."

Offer Lessons In Needlework

An unusual opportunity to learn many kinds of needlework is being offered by the Department of Community Services of the Grosse Pointe Board of Education. This class will start on Tuesday afternoon, April 18 and will be held at the Board of Education.

Some of the possibilities available in this course include learning how to knit or crochet, recover old lampshades out of yarn or straw, make your own straw bag or hat to match your spring or summer clothes, hook your own rugs from your old woollens or out of yarns, loop rug sets for your bathroom or for any other room. These and many other forms of needlecraft will be taught in this class. The work is very simple and the material used is inexpensive.

Enrollment is limited, so make your reservation promptly by calling TU, 5-2000, extension 25.

Giant Freighter To Pass Pointe

If Grosse Pointers happen along the lakefront at the proper hour on Monday, April 17, they will have the opportunity of seeing the giant freighter Wilfred Sykes pass by on its maiden trip from Loraine, O., where it was built, to Chicago.

The Wilfred Sykes is the largest boat ever built on the Great Lakes. It belongs to the Inland Steel company and will be used in its ore service. The boat is 678 feet long and can carry 22,000 tons of freight.

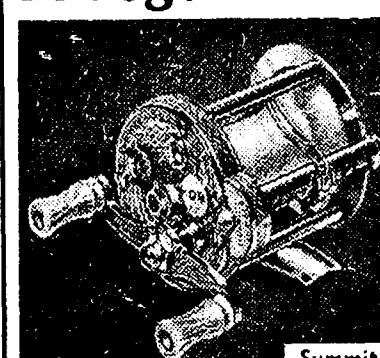

When the boat passes through the Detroit waters it will be boarded by a delegation from the Propeller Club and appropriate services will be conducted.

Reflections

by paul gach

Long ago we had a head rest, daylight, wet plates, and long exposures for a portrait in the old tin-type studio. Then came incandescent light and fast film. Today we have ultra high speed, electronic, flash lighting able to stop any action. This opens a new field in photography, especially of babies and children and timid adults. Strob lighting, as it is called, captures natural expressions every time. It is a must for the modern portrait. Don't settle for hot, glaring, old-fashioned lights. Studios using them belong to another era, too.

Pointe Counter Points

Grosse Pointe Sub Debs just naturally migrate to the new Carousel Room at JACOBSON'S, where all the fashions are designed especially for the Very Young in Heart! Cole of California has sent some of his dazzling fashions in cotton and one sure to make a hit is the new playsuit with dreamy detail in shirring around teen midriff. The Slimy bodice and skirt is to be had in blue or green cotton plaid and just to make it complete, the sub deb may have a one piece bathing suit, also in cotton, to match her play suit!

The circle skirt (thousands of yards of material) is painted in lush designs (saw a bandanna skirt with great square dance red kerchiefs forming the design). There's a honey in terra cotta cotton with fish outlined in navy and a swirling ocean background making it cool as cool. White cotton rivierra blouses are wonderful with these circle skirts. Still in the play dept. not only the sub debs but the Pointe's young matrons will vote for the frontier pants (in deep blue denim) popularized by Dude Ranchers. Give everyone a long, leggy look that is divine. They're worn with Ship 'n' Shore blouses or marvelous wind- and water repellent cotton jackets.

Dresses for sub debs to dream in... for Summer parties... afternoon or evening... are done in spanking white organdy. Cheap as cheap, these frocks have delightful detail... one white organdie is finished at the waistline in narrow rolled green velvet streamers. Some are touched in eyelet embroidery. All are demure and charming.

Cotton dresses in great stripes are marvelous buys for the sub deb, too. Gray and white are combined to chit effect and we like a big barred violet and chartreuse cotton with practically no sleeves and a slim belt of the dress material. All in JACOBSON'S new Sub Deb Carousel Room.
