Board of Education Tables Matter of Disposition of Murray W. Sales Property

Has No Immediate Plans and Will Probably Await a Good Offer and Sell; Proceeds Would Be Used for Future Library

The Grosse Pointe Board of Education has no immediate plans for disposition of the Murray Sales property. The mansion located at 17743 East Jefferson avenue was deeded over to the board in January of 1947, with Mr. Sales retaining a life tenure for $1.00 per year.

Mr. Sales died on January 27 and there has been some speculation as to what the School Board would do with the property. The matter was discussed briefly at a meeting of the board last Friday night, Feb. 2, but was tabled for further discussion at a future meeting.

Word Sent To Sister
Mrs. Maud Grainger, a sister of Mr. Sales, has been living there with him. The School Board directed that she be notified that the board has no immediate plans for the property and only requests that she let it know whenever she is vacating, so it can take over the supervision of the place.

Library Plan Abandoned
When the residents of the Pointe failed to donate enough money to build the proposed War Memorial Library, the project had to be abandoned.

When the Alger family came to the rescue and saved the War Memorial idea by donating the beautiful property on Lake Shore road for a community center, the Sales property became completely divorced from the war memorial project. It is now the sole property of the Board of Education, which can dispose of it in any way it seems fit.

None of the proceeds will go towards the War Memorial Center, despite the earlier tie-in between the memorial and library plans.

Grandsons Chief Heirs
The bulk of Mr. Sales' estate was left to two grandsons, Carter Sales, Jr., 20; and Murray Sales, 18. They will receive income immediately and will get one-third of the bulk at 38, another third at 45 and the balance at 50.

Outright bequests to other relatives, friends, servants and institutions totaled more than $140,000. Cottage Woods Presbyterian Church, $5,000; and the Yondotega Club, $1,000.

Mrs. Grainger receives $25,000; a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Virginia W. Cole, $10,000; and a sister-in-law, Mrs. Carter V. Sales, $25,000. Five servants will divide a total of $26,000.

TOO MUCH HEAT
An overheated hot-water boiler filled the A. F. Burchard house at 710 Washington with steam and smoke recently, Grosse Pointe City police said.

Businessmen Play Hosts To Employees

Most Successful Event in History of Organization Staged at Yacht Club

The Employer - Employee dinner given at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club on January 30 by the Grosse Pointe Business Men's Association, lived up to its advance notices. It was the most successful event ever staged by the organization and attracted a turnout of 300 despite frightful weather.

Service Is Theme

"Service" was the theme of the event and the importance of the theme was illustrated by the showing of two commercial sound pictures. Some of the concerns represented had almost 100 percent attendance by employers and employees. Among this group were Jacobson's, Tom Boyd's, the Grosse Pointe Bank, the Detroit Bank and Tracy Motors.

Verheyden Chairman
Charles Verheyden was general chairman of the affair. Lawrence Hetzelt was master of ceremonies. The humorous part of the entertainment was supplied by Funnyman Bob Hall, radio comedian and now employed by the Pfeiffer Brewing Company.

Whyte Chevrolet Center Finished
The finest Chevrolet sales and service center in America opens for business Monday morning on East Jefferson avenue between Maryland and Lakepointe. Ray Whyte's dream development has been completed and he is anxious to have the public come and pass judgment.

The building, of authentic colonial design, is 130 by 181 feet, the largest allowed on the site under the Park's city laws. It is flanked by a side parking lot, 40 by 307 feet, and there is another parking area in the rear measuring 100 by 110.

Land, buildings and equipment represent an investment of $550,000. Every piece of equipment is brand new. In fact the only thing in the whole development that isn't new is the personnel. That stays intact and the old familiar faces will all be seen in the new setting.

Jack Navin has supervised the interior. There is lavish use of walnut paneling and leather. All of the offices and salesrooms are fully air-conditioned. The shop is tiled right to the ceiling.

Drive for Funds, Carnival Planned To Support Center

Subscription Campaign Scheduled For April With Huge Entertainment Project On Calendar For June

Plans for a campaign for funds for the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center were discussed at a meeting of the board of directors of the Memorial Association Monday night. No definite dates for the drive have been announced, but it will probably be held in April.

As a further means of obtaining support for the Center, it has also been definitely decided to hold a huge carnival there in June. John C. Chapin and Joseph Standart, Jr., have been named joint chairmen to coordinate the efforts of the many organizations expected to participate in the carnival.

Drive Was Postponed

The Memorial Association had planned to conduct a drive for subscriptions right after the first of the year. When it learned that Bon Secours Hospital had already completed its plans for a drive to raise money for equipping and furnishing its big new addition on Cadieux road, the Center officials postponed their campaign. The Bon Secours drive will end on February 15.

John Kenower and Richard Huegli will be in charge of the house-to-house canvass for the Center. Ernest C. Kanzler will head the special gifts committee.

Directors Confident

The association is confident it can raise a substantial sum to add to the endowment fund for the Lake Shore property. It is known that workers failed to contact a large proportion of the Pointe residents in the last campaign conducted three years ago.

There are some 7,000 families in the Pointe which so far have not contributed to the beautiful Center which is providing so much to the cultural, educational, social and patriotic life of the community.

Has Earned Support

Mr. Kanzler expressed the opinion that the many activities which the Center has sponsored will make it much easier to attract support during the coming drive than it was previously. More than 2,000 persons used the Center during January, according to a report of Mrs. F. C. Ford, program chairman.

The carnival planned for June may well develop into the biggest event ever held in the Pointe. Members of many churches and organizations which have held successful projects of this type have expressed enthusiasm over the idea and pledged their support.

To Elect Directors

The terms of some of the directors of the War Memorial Association expire this year and an election will be held to replace them. A nominating committee was selected Monday night to pick candidates for the board.

Those who will be asked to serve on this nominating committee are Dr. Frank Pitt, Mrs. Edsel Ford, Mrs. Henry Hubbard, Carsten Tiedeman and Robert Hackathorn.

The directors once again were unanimous in the opinion that it is important that the board should be an ever-changing body, with new members bringing new ideas for the operation and maintenance of the Center. It is felt that as a community-wide project, its board should be representative of the whole community.

Mr. Kenower, one of the directors whose terms expire this year, appeared to express the sentiment of the entire board when he said: "Just give me a committee job and I'll continue to work just as hard for the Center and get just as much pleasure out of it as I have as a director."

Bon Secours Hospital Drive In Stretch Sprint for Goal

The campaign to raise $121,120 to equip and furnish the big new addition to Bon Secours Hospital came within $5,000 of its goal this week. Scheduled to end on February 15, the drive could reach a successful conclusion before that date, according to the leaders.

Michael J. Kearns is general chairman and Lou Maxon is head of the special gifts committee. Each donated $1,500 to the campaign during the last week.

Drive workers are redoubling their efforts to reach the goal this week. It was stated on Tuesday that the total had gone just beyond $116,000. The Hospital Assistance League raised $20,000 at a special benefit party on January 22. This money is not included in the campaign total.

It was pointed out that prices have risen so fast since the drive quota was established that it is going to take every cent that can be raised, together with the funds realized through the party, to purchase the equipment and furnishings needed.

The big addition which represents a cost of about $800,000 was largely financed through a mortgage taken out by the Sisters of the Augustinian Order who operate the hospital.

World-Wide Observance Tomorrow

Seven Protestant Churches Sponsoring Joint Service In Christ Church

Protestant women of all denominations are invited and urged to spend an hour in prayer at the World Day of Prayer service tomorrow, Friday, February 9, at 1:15 p.m. at Christ Church, Grosse Pointe boulevard.

The World Day of Prayer started in 1927. On the first Friday of Lent, Christian women gather in groups all over the world, as their petitions follow the path of the sun.

Tradition Has Grown

In 1946 reports were received from 51 nations concerning the World Day of Prayer. Participation was one step ahead of the United Nations. In 1949, the service went to 74 countries.

This year women of more than 90 countries, women of practically all the world except the women of Russia, will worship on this day, in 60 languages, in varying temples. Some will pray who cannot read; some will pray who are not fed; some will pray shivering in rags; and some will pray from seats of comfort.

This Day of Prayer will no doubt have a deeper meaning for the women of the war-torn areas, but all will pray for a better life for their children; for relief from war; and for a surer faith.

Written by Germans

This year's service was written by German Christian women, and it is almost entirely of prayer. The theme is Perfect Love Casts Out Fear.

In these turbulent and critical days, the women are urged to call on the power of united prayer.

Donesco Cortes once wrote, "I believe that those who pray do more for the world than those who fight; and that, if the world goes from bad to worse, it is because there are more battles than prayers."

So that all women of this area may have the opportunity of joining in the World Day of Prayer, the "Call to Prayer" pamphlet will be made available to the patients in Cottage Hospital and the convalescent homes. Any shut-in who desires to receive it may phone Mrs. Waldo Gordon, General Chairman, at TU. 2-5799.

Mrs. Lafer to Lead

Mrs. James R. Lafer will be the leader in the worship service and Mrs. John E. Martin of Royal Oak, former president of the Michigan Council of Church Women, will be the principle speaker. The program is under the auspices of the Detroit Council of Church Women.

Combined choirs of the seven participating churches will lead the music. The churches participating are: St. Michael's, Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian, Grosse Pointe Memorial, Grosse Pointe Congregational, Shores Presbyterian, Grosse Pointe Methodist, and Christ Church.

Garden Center Offers Service

Grosse Pointers are urged to take advantage of the facilities of the Garden Center at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center.

Garden Center members are on duty at the Garden Center Room daily to answer questions on gardening.

Visitors are encouraged to come in and browse around. They are encouraged to use the many reference books on hand covering all subjects dealing with gardening, from the fundamentals of gardening to flower arrangement.

Dozens of general and specialized catalogues, dealing with vegetable and flower seeds, plants and shrubs, are arriving daily. Questions may be answered by calling the Garden Center, TU. 5-3036.

Fords Burst Out In Spring Finery

Cops Prove Friends Indeed To Pointe Driver In Need

William F. Horsch of 19234 Linville road appreciates a good turn. He is also full of admiration for the friendly spirit of two police officers who helped him out of a bad spot.

The following letter tells the story. He sent a copy to the NEWS with a note attached: "You people in G.P.F. have reasons for being proud of your police department."

Chief Walter Hoyt
Police Department
City of Grosse Pointe Farms
Michigan
Dear Sir:

Last night (about midnight or shortly thereafter) as I was leaving a social function at our Church on Moross Road, I discovered that my parked car had a flat tire. Trying to change a tire at sub-zero weather in the darkness of the night, alone, is no task any one enjoys. While I was struggling, in the bitter cold, to do something about this flat tire and at the same time avoid being hit by passing cars, one of your scout cars came along and its two officers acted as "Guardians of the Night."

These two officers went to a garage for me to determine if immediate help was available. It was not. They then backed their scout car behind mine, giving me light to work by and assisted me in getting off the flat tire and putting on the spare tire. By that time some others gathered 'round and all had words of praise for Grosse Pointe Farms and its Police Officers.

May I take this means of expressing my sincere appreciation to Officers Parson and Kilets for their help in an hour of need. It is an act of this kind that makes us glad that we live in America where an officer is a friend and not, as in the case of the "secret police" in Soviet controlled countries, an enemy.

Yours very truly,
WILLIAM F. HORSCH

OCD Plans

Board trustee, has accepted an appointment as chairman of the emergency shelter and feeding committees. She will be assisted by Forrest Geary. The High School building has been selected as an emergency shelter and feeding station in case of a bomb attack.

Notice has been sent to the Lake Shore Coach Lines asking that instructions be given all drivers as to procedure in case of an attack. The bus would go to the nearest public building or school and discharge its passengers, who would be instructed not to leave the building until the "All Clear" was sounded.

Meehan Appointed
James Meehan has been appointed as a liaison officer to work with the utilities companies to coordinate their procedures with the local OCD office. In event of a disaster the OCD office in the Neighborhood Club would have knowledge of what repair units, manpower, etc. would be available to help repair utilities in this section.

A survey is also being made of all heavy equipment in the area to determine just what will be available for clearing away wreckage in the event of an attack.

March of Dimes Drive Extended

The March of Dimes has been extended beyond January 31, at the request of thousands of volunteers in the neighborhood activities phase who are picking up March of Dimes cards, sent out by mail, William B. Bernard, campaign chairman, said.

"Weather conditions make it necessary to extend the time of the drive so that the volunteers in every section of the city who have been giving so generously of their time in organizing the Mothers' March on Polio will have an opportunity of completing their self appointed task in the fight against polio," Mr. Bernard said.

It is not too late to help, Mr. Bernard emphasized. Contributions may be sent to the Wayne County Chapter, National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, 153 East Elizabeth St., Detroit 1.

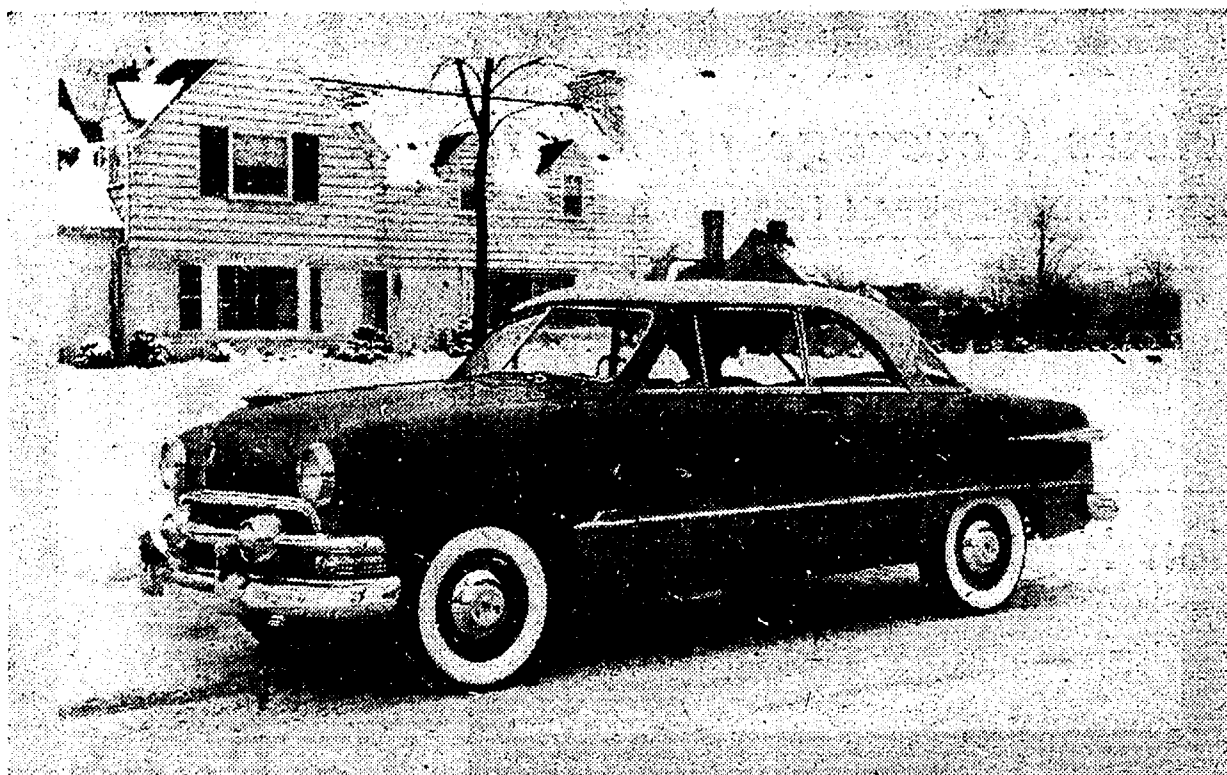

Frank Noakes Attends Conference in Mexico

Frank L. Noakes of McKinley avenue was chosen to represent his country and the Railway Labor Executive Association at conferences now being held in Mexico City.

Tiniest Township to Vote For Officials on April 2

Michigan's smallest township, Lake township, will hold an election of officers on April 2.

Meanwhile, five of the total population of 14 will carry on as tentative officers.

They are Theodore McGraw, of 1917 Lake Shore, supervisor; Tom E. Loughlin, clerk; Mrs. Loughlin, justice of the peace; Arthur Fausser, treasurer, and Mrs. Fausser, justice of the peace.

Both the Loughlins and the Fausers reside on the Edsel Ford estate. Fausser is Mrs. Ford's chauffeur. Loughlin is estate superintendent.

The 33-acre tract of land bordered by Grosse Pointe Shores, Woods and St. Clair Shores is assessed at $1,500,000 by Macomb County officials.

The small community became sole custodian of Lake Township when St. Clair Shores, with a population of 20,000, voted to become an independent city last month.

Besides Mrs. Ford, the community has three other property owners. They are Ernest Kanzler, Eleanor Clay and Susan Schloss. The township offices will remain at Jefferson and 11 Mile.

A primary scheduled for February 19 was cancelled when the four candidates faced no opposition.

St. Clair Shores will continue to provide police and fire protection for the small township.

Game Gives Thief Chance to Work

Center Sponsoring Lecture On Use of Miracle Drugs

The first person to use Chloromycetin on human beings, Dr. Eugene H. Payne of Parke, Davis & Company, will lecture on "New Miracle Drugs" at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center, Tuesday, February 13, at 8 o'clock in the evening.

Dr. Payne will show colored motion pictures of his work with these new drugs, depicting their effects on the treatment of such diseases as leprosy, typhus, dysentery, malaria, trachoma, whooping cough, typhoid fever and Tsutsunagutsi fever.

Dr. Payne, a graduate of Marquette University, is at present a member of the Department of Clinical Investigation at Parke, Davis & Company. He led the group which conducted the first clinical trials of Chloromycetin.

This study was done on the border between Peru and Bolivia near the north shore of Lake Titicaca. He later worked with Carrion's disease in the famous Riamae Quebrada in Peru; Coqueluche (whooping cough) in Cochabamba, Bolivia; typhoid fever in Guayaquil, Ecuador, and Trachoma in Arizona and Haiti. He has spent a large portion of the last 20 years south of the border.

There will be no admission charge. Further information may be obtained by calling the Center, TU. 1-6030.

Volunteers Respond to Plea Of Woods Community Club

The appeal for volunteers to act as advisors for children's groups at the Grosse Pointe Woods Community Club has brought several inquiries from men and women in the community. A number have offered their services to give youth opportunities to engage in wholesome recreational activities.

By contributing their time to the Community Club, volunteer advisors are giving a service to the entire community. Through their time and effort, volunteer advisors enable children to learn how to get along with children their own age and with adults.

Children's groups at the Community Club meet once a week for about two hours, and engage in play activities, arts and crafts, trips, and participate in other activities which make for positive relationships with other children.

Many volunteers tell of the tremendous satisfactions gained as advisors of children's groups.

A training course will provide volunteers with an opportunity to learn new skills and to acquire an appreciation of the child's make-up. This course will start some time during the week of February 12. The exact date will be announced later.

If you like boys and girls and want to participate in this program, please telephone the Community Club, TUxedo 1-7970.

Rotarians Adopt Election Policy

The Grosse Pointe Rotary Club Past Presidents Nominating Committee met at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club Jan. 23 and adopted the following policy:

That the first vice president be nominated to president and the second vice president to first vice president without opposition, providing their qualifications meet with the approval of the Past Presidents Nominating Committee.

Another motion was carried which would have the committee nominate two members for second vice president.

Besides the nominations made by the past presidents, the members at large can have the privilege of making additional nominations for any office at the regular meeting March 5.

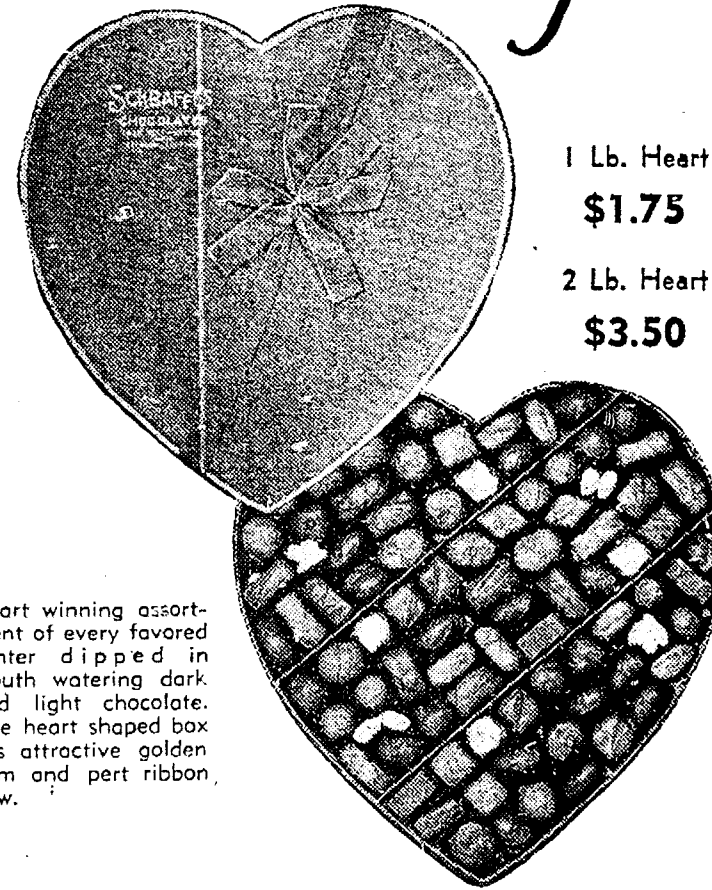

The elections will be held at the annual meeting in April.

DAC Bowlers Fete the Ladies

Mr. and Mrs. W. Harold Lightbody, the George D. Bakers and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar M. Reitz were among the many Grosse Pointers who attended the glamorous, annual party given by Detroit Athletic Club's bowlers recently.

The festivity, which yearly honors the distaff side, started at 6 o'clock with cocktails and dancing, and groups had their choice of joining friends in the club's gymnasium, Pontchartrain room or abbey grill, in each of which a small orchestra played.

A dinner followed, with tables arranged cabaret-fashion, and then the entire party gathered in the gymnasium for Wayne King's orchestra music and floor show.

More and more dancing followed, but again there was a choice of fun—those who wished could go to the club's bowling alleys at 11:30 o'clock. Incidentally, this party provides the only time in the entire year when the feminine contingent may bowl on the DAC alleys.

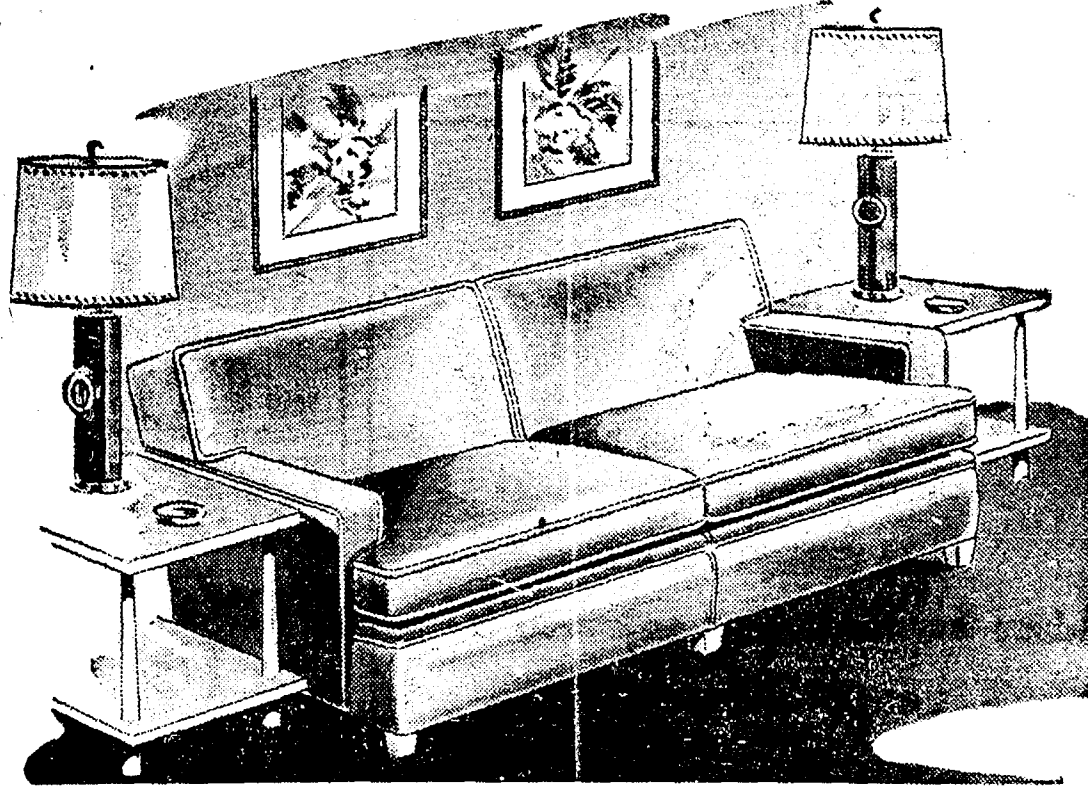

A snack supper was served after midnight, with the wind-up of the beautiful festivity coming at 2 a.m.

Another group from the Pointe included Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Rohn, Dr. and Mrs. Don S. Graham, the Albert H. Patersons and the Harold H. Borgmans and three other couples together were Mr. and Mrs. George E. Cruikshank, Mr. and Mrs. John T. V. Keller and Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Clark.

Others who attended were Mr. and Mrs. Simon D. Den Uyl, Mr. and Mrs. George Lott, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald W. Chamberlin, Mr. and Mrs. Richard K. Degener and Mr. and Mrs. Harold W. Scott.

Entered as second-class matter at the post office, Detroit, Michigan, under the Act of March 3, 1897.

Why The Immunity?

All of the overhanging signs on business places along Mack avenue in Grosse Pointe Woods have been removed in accordance with an ordinance passed some time ago, but the city is having difficulty in enforcing another law it passed to get rid of the tiny, temporary real estate offices on the main thoroughfare.

The council first acted on this matter in December of 1949. It ordered that all these tiny buildings, often referred to as "shacks," be removed by July 1, 1950.

The edict was ignored by two firms. One of them is owned by Paul Rowe, a councilman at the time. The other is occupied by the Arthur J. Scully company, which employs Rex Johnston, also a councilman.

Again last September the council repeated its order for removal, and set a new deadline, January 1 of this year.

Mr. Rowe has just completed a new building and is now using the former office for storage space. He is reported to have told city officials he will remove the old building within the next 30 days.

The Scully firm is still doing business at the old stand, despite the fact that the second deadline passed more than a month ago. Mr. Johnston is still a member of the Woods council.

It is to be presumed that some action will be taken to eliminate this discrimination which favors city officials.

May Their Work Continue

A Happy Birthday to the Boy Scouts of America. Some 2,750,000 of them are celebrating their 51st anniversary this week. Many more millions of alumni of this great organization may still be considered a part of the movement which has made such an outstanding contribution to the welfare of their country and the world.

The Boy Scouts were first organized in England by Sir Robert Stephenson Smyth Baden-Powell in 1908. The incorporation of Scouting in the United States came on February 8, 1910, with the Federal Chartering by Congress on June 15, 1916.

The membership in the United States is by far the largest of any of the 47 different countries which endorse Scouting. The movement was established in 73 countries 20 years ago, and perhaps some of the ills of the world may be traced to the fact that the organization has not been fostered by those nations which have withdrawn their endorsement.

It is significant that none of the Iron Curtain countries now has Scouting. Dictators have banished the movement as they have other democratic organizations.

The Boy Scout movement is founded on the very principles which have made this country great. It stresses character-building, personal initiative, tolerance, goodwill, co-operation. A very large percentage of the nation's leaders were members of the Scouts in their boyhood, and many of them have maintained an active interest in the movement, becoming leaders, counsellors and directors of the various local and national branches of the organization.

From the boys of today will come the leaders of tomorrow. But it is important to realize that great leaders are largely made by those who follow. General Marshall, Eisenhower, Bradley and the rest could not have become heroes in World War II if the rank and file of the American troops had not been comprised of men possessing the intestinal fortitude, the inventivity, the high ideals which the American way of life teaches. And Scouting is a most important part of the American way of life.

The despots mentioned in the reflections of Forest Witcraft would have found fewer followers if the teachings of the Boy Scout movement had flourished in Germany and Russia.

WITHIN MY POWER

I am not a Very Important Man, as importance is commonly rated. I do not have a great wealth, control a big business, or occupy a position of great honor or authority.

Yet I may someday mould destiny. For it is within my power to become the most important man in the world in the life of a boy. And every boy is a potential atom bomb in human history.

A humble citizen like myself might have been the Scoutmaster of a Troop in which an undersized unhappy Austrian lad by the name of Adolph might have found a jovial boyhood, full of the ideals of brotherhood, goodwill, and kindness. And the world would have been different.

A humble citizen like myself might have been the organizer of a Scout Troop in which a Russian boy called Joe might have learned the lessons of democratic cooperation.

These men would never have known that they had averted world tragedy, yet actually they would have been among the most important men who ever lived.

All about me are boys. They are the makers of history, the builders of tomorrow. If I can have some part in guiding them up the trail of Scouting, on to the high road of noble character and constructive citizenship, I may prove to be the most important man in their lives, the most important man in my community.

A hundred years from now it will not matter what my bank account was, the sort of house I lived in, or the kind of car I drove. But the world may be different, because I was important in the life of a boy.

--Forest Witcraft

Grosse-Exaggerations

A. PRYOR

"At thirty, man suspects himself a fool;
Knows it at forty and reforms his plan;
At fifty chides his infamous delay,
Pushes his prudent purposes to resolve;
In all the magnanimity of thought
Resolves, and re-resolves; then dies the same."
(Edward Young)

Last week the tea cups and cocktail glasses in our best-dressed drawing rooms were clinking to the conversational tune of the "spread" in "Town and Country" on "Miracle in Michigan." The Editorial part of the 16-page saga, written by John C. Manning, Detroit Times Editor, was good reading and highly informative. Ferinstance . . . it surprised the daylights out of us to find that Detroit was SEVENTEEN years older than New Orleans!

HOWEVER, to our mind, the pictorial part of the article had no relationship to the story itself, which was based on the two-hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the founding of Detroit. The pictures portrayed representative members of Grosse Pointe and Bloomfield Hills society and in most cases . . . pretty pictures they were. BUT since the Miracle in Michigan dealt with its age and what it has accomplished through the years . . . we think the Editors might have looked further afield (and not so far at that) to portray a LOT of folks whose ancestors settled here two hundred years ago . . . and who have also played a great part in the building up of this great City. We are sure that they, too, would look pretty good in suits and gowns by Balenciaga, Dior, Rentner and Blotta . . . none of which have anything to do with the history of Detroit!

Incidentally, it must be that there is many a slip betwixt camera and print. We refer to those two lovelies . . . "Ann" Ford and "Sally" Anderson. We doubt if their best friends would have recognized them!

Every now and again, one of our readers thinks enough of our efforts(?) to say a kind word or even an unkind one . . . or perhaps make a constructive criticism . . . which we relish with honest zest. This week, a gal writes to catch us up on the wrong use of the word, "veterinary" in speaking of a "Veterinarian." She is SO right . . . and we hang our head in shame. In the first place . . . our wild cat, Ruffy and his uncle, Mr. Charles Dickens, have been pulled through so many ailments by our favorite Veterinarian, that we are doubly troubled to have been so stupid as to refer to him as a "veterinary" . . . which incidentally, is an adjective. Thank you Ma'am, for setting us straight . . . and we promise never to do it again.

A middle-aged man of our acquaintance has been troubled lately with palpitations and heart-burn. He went through a series of examinations to determine the cause of his discomfort, and reported to us that the doctor said all he needed was a few new hobbies. When we asked what hobbies the doctor suggested, he said: "Give up smoking, give up drinking, let yourself be hungry most of the time . . . and don't worry about any of it." Those are HOBBIES???

In the course of duty . . . we had to telephone a local family about a social matter and, being a strict follower of Emily Post, we asked first to speak to Madame. The maid informed us that "she would see if Madame was at home." In a few minutes, she returned with the information that Madame's car was not in the garage, so she must be out. We then asked to speak to Monsoor. The maid hesitated for a few minutes (without leaving the phone), then said, "I don't guess he's here either. To tell you the truth . . . I don't ever see very much of them!" (Maid's wishing to apply for a job at this house . . . please form a line on the right.)

One day last week, a local woman escorted her mother to Chicago, where Ma was about to embark on a train for the Coast. "Mother," who is the embodiment of all the attributes applied to the word "mother" . . . including rigid moral principles, modesty, decorum, inherent good manners and an outward appearance that stepped right out of Vogue, was not unduly upset over the delay in train schedule . . . and the possibility of missing her connection in Chicago.

When the pair arrived in the windy City and it was discovered they had a two hour wait for the next train, they decided to have a cup of tea in the station restaurant. Sitting across the room from them were two Air Force Officers who were obviously enjoying something stronger than tea. Finally, our heroine took a cigarette out of her bag and before you could say "light" . . . one of the Airmen rushed across to her table to light it. Mother . . . who was frowning at this informal procedure . . . got the jolt of her life, when the lad waved a bottle of liquor at her and said, "How about, a shot of Bourbon, Mom?"

Much later, when Mother and daughter boarded the coastal train, Mother smiled a sly little smile and said quietly to her daughter, "That soldier WAS sweet, wasn't he?"

If "Time" is of the essence in your life, harken to this true account of a couple of travelers we know. In Chicago last week, a young man put his mother on the eight-thirty a.m. train, leaving for Detroit. He then dashed back to his apartment, where he finished packing . . . before dashing to the airport to take a plane to Cuba. His mother arrived in Detroit at quarter to nine that same evening . . . over an hour AFTER the time sonny boy alighted from the plane in Cuba! How you like DAT?

They Need Your Help

The campaign being conducted by Bon Secours Hospital to raise $121,120 to purchase furnishings and equipment for the great new addition which is nearing completion, will probably achieve its quota. But it has not elicited the response which the cause merits.

The drive has followed the pattern of many others which have been conducted in the Pointe community. This area generally contributes its proportionate quota for every worthy cause, but the number of individual donors is usually pitifully small.

In the case of the Bon Secours drive, less than one-tenth of one percent of the Pointe's population has participated. Figures released during the weekend showed that only about 400 persons had given the almost 100 percent of the amount asked.

The disposition to let some of the Pointe's wealthy families carry the charitable burden for the whole community is far too prevalent. This was true in the War Memorial drive three years ago, when some 7,000 households failed to contribute anything. In that case the drive fell far short of its quota despite the fact that the project should have had a universal appeal, in that it had so much to offer the entire community.

Bon Secours has already given much to the Pointe, and with its greatly enlarged facilities it will be in a position to offer much more. The gentle and courageous Sisters have built up this fine institution from a small frame house in Cadieux road to the magnificent structure now being completed.

They have been supported admirably by a small group, and notably by the Bon Secours Assistance League. They have not had the community-wide support which their effort deserve. They are ready to serve all who come to their door. There are no restrictions as to race, creed or color. There is a labor of love. They know no working hours and they receive no pay. More than half of their patients are of faiths other than their own.

Give them the help and encouragement they have earned. Before their drive ends on February 15 send them some expression of appreciation for what they have done. Every dollar will help. The investment will pay big returns in service to the Pointe.

What Goes on at Your Library

by Jean Taylor

There are some who regard the reading of fiction as a waste of time. Fiction, however, has among its defenders the most competent literary critics.

In the delightful book of letters, EDITOR TO AUTHOR, Maxwell Everts Perkins stresses the fact that "fiction is not mere entertainment but, at its best a serious interpretation of reality, comprehending within its scope the evil and the ugly side of things, as well as the good and the beautiful and subject to such limitations only as are imposed by the conscience of art."

Mr. Perkins was for 37 years on the staff of Charles Scribner's Sons and is recognized as one of the ablest book editors of his time. He might be regarded as the literary foster-father of F. Scott Fitzgerald, Ernest Hemingway, Thomas Wolfe, Ring Lardner and others of this era.

In counseling young novelists, his criticism and suggestions were always considerate and direct without being didactic. In a letter to F. Scott Fitzgerald he says "Don't ever defer to my judgment. You won't on any vital point. I know, and I should be ashamed, if it were possible to have made you; for a writer of any account must speak solely for himself."

EDITOR TO AUTHOR is stimulating and rewarding reading for anyone and of particular interest to would-be writers.

John Hersey says of fiction, "It makes truth plausible . . . Journalism allows its readers to witness history. Fiction gives its readers an opportunity to live it." His book, THE WALL, published last summer, which tells of the horrors suffered by the Jews in the Warsaw ghetto bears out this opinion. It is not a pretty tale but a heroic one.

Among recent fiction additions to your library is THE BALANCE WHEEL, by Taylor Caldwell. This is a novel of the Wittman dynasty, a wealthy Pennsylvania family of munitions manufacturers. In a similar vein is her earlier novel, THE DYNASTY OF DEATH.

THE SCARLET SWORD, by H. E. Bates is "a story of sixty people of many nationalities, nuns, priests, Hindu women and children, an English Colonel, a war correspondent — who are trapped in Kashmir in the riot and massacre that was part of India's price for partition in 1947." The author, realistic as in all his books, glosses over none of the horrors.

In FOXFIRE, Anya Seton, author of DRAGONWICK and THE HEARTH AND THE EAGLE, tells the story of Amanda who, reared on the right side of the tracks, has a great adjustment to make when she marries and settles in a small mining town in the southwest. There is adventure here too . . . the quest for gold which ends in discovery.

James R. Ullman's RIVER OF THE SUN is concerned with Mark Allison's search for oil in the Amazon basin and for his own soul. It is set against the background of a savage wilderness. Just as the author's earlier book, THE WHITE TOWER was the mountain's story, so this is the story of the river and the jungle.

IT'S ONLY TEMPORARY, by Charles H. Mergendahl, gives a graphic description of the veteran's tribulations, among them the battle for adequate living quarters. The problems of the young marrieds are here handled with comprehension, compassion and humor.

Thomas Costain has departed from his usual pattern in THE SON OF A HUNDRED KINGS. "This is a period novel about an English boy who was sent to Canada in the 1890's by indifferent relatives and who makes a Sleep Well?

By FRED M. KOPP, R. Ph.

Of all the restorative powers that Nature holds in store, none is more beneficial than sound, refreshing sleep.

If you sleep well, you can meet the cares of the day with comparative ease. Lack of sleep ravel's the nerves, creates a mounting tension, depletes the system.

No amount of sedatives, no careful use of sleep-inducing drugs, suffices the calm, restful sleep which Nature intended human beings to enjoy.

Consult your doctor if you cannot sleep well. He will advise you what to do, his prescription can be trusted.

Have this filled by a capable pharmacist.

Puzzles Council

Unite to Fight Traffic Hazards

A group of Grosse Pointe property owners have organized a Charlevoix-Vernor Residents Association in their fight to curb traffic accidents on Charlevoix and Vernor.

An organization meeting was held Thursday, January 25, at the home of Dr. F. L. Honhart, of 1405 Berkshire.

About 25 residents attended the meeting and elected William Lynn, of 1404 Balfour, president, and Dr. Honhart, vice-president.

Lynn stated that the Association would seek to:

1. Reduce the speed limit on both streets to 20 miles an hour from 25.
2. Remove commercial traffic.
3. Have rigid enforcement of all traffic laws.

The Association also plans to consider the aforesaid issues.

Meanwhile Everett B. Lane, Park municipal manager, stated that the Police Department and the Council, in addition to special traffic study engineers, are continuing a comprehensive study on the matter.

Lane pointed out that traffic hazards have increased on Charlevoix and Vernor since Detroit converted both streets into one-way traffic.

However, Lane added that since the two streets bear a great deal of Grosse Pointe's incoming and outgoing traffic, accidents are comparatively low.

"Most of the mishaps are caused by motorists not observing the stop law for Charlevoix or Vernor," he said.

As far as speed restriction is concerned, Lane said, the 25 mile an hour is fixed by State law and cannot be reduced.

A petition signed by 200 residents in the area asking for speed modification was given to the Council several weeks ago.

Society News Gathered from All of the Pointes

From Another Pointe of View

by Jane Schermerhorn

A few days before the death on Jan. 10 of Mrs. Nelson McCormick... this writer received a letter from her... It had to do with the organization ever foremost in her interests... Detroit League for the Handicapped, of which she was director... and its activities...

That her noble contribution toward a better life for the handicapped... though done in always self effacing manner... was appreciated and esteemed...

Was evident this week... as the organization she headed... and also the Detroit Junior League...

Passed resolutions honoring her memory...

And the Board of Trustees of Detroit League for the Handicapped established the Elizabeth Young McCormick Fund in her memory...

Elizabeth Young McCormick Fund

We quote from the minutes of the Detroit League for the Handicapped's annual meeting of the trustees...

"The following resolution was passed:

"Be it resolved that we, the Board of Trustees of the Detroit League for the Handicapped, Inc., do on this thirtieth day of January, 1951, subscribe an initial sum from the board members' fund of said agency to establish a Revolving Fund to be used to help those in need and to be known as the Elizabeth Young McCormick Memorial Fund, which shall be administered by the Trustees of said Detroit League for the Handicapped, Inc., in loving memory of Elizabeth Young McCormick, who in December, 1950, completed 15 years of distinguished service as Director of the Detroit League for the Handicapped, Inc., during which time by reason of her vision and wise guidance this agency of the Community Chest of Detroit grew from a dream of the rehabilitation of people with handicaps to great reality."

League Honors Memory

In 1944 the late Mrs. McCormick was made an honorary member of the Detroit Junior League for her great contribution to the League and DLH...

Her death left vacant the place she had occupied on the board of the Junior League... and that vacancy has been termed by the League as "An irreplaceable one in the ranks"...

Mrs. McCormick was a member of the Junior League of Detroit for 22 years, before that time having been admitted to membership in the Cleveland League in 1922...

She was transferred to the Detroit group when she came here in 1929...

In 1934 she served as first vice-president of the Junior League... in 1943 and 1944 she was director of Region IV on the Board of the National Junior League...

Said the League this week:

Elizabeth Young McCormick has been a source of unusual leadership, wisdom and inspiration. She was unsparing of her time and energy... doing for others throughout Metropolitan Detroit"

Warm Human Concern

On Jan. 10 workers for the blind all over the country knew that one of their most devoted leaders had passed on...

She was a leader... those who worked with her tell us... who never lost the warm human concern so vital for effective social work...

Mrs. McCormick believed, simply, that problems touch-

Charles E. Shepards II To Live in Hartford

Former Betsy Finkenstaedt and Bridegroom Leave For Nassau Following Marriage in Christ Church; Bride Daughter of Harry S. Finkenstaedt of Woodland Place

Eliza (Betsy) Clements Finkenstaedt became the bride of Charles E. Shepards II at a 4 o'clock ceremony in Christ Church, Grosse Pointe last Saturday. The marriage of the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Seymour Finkenstaedt of Woodland place, and her Eastern bridegroom attracted scores of out-of-town guests for the wedding week-end.

Mr. Shepards is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gilbert Shepards of West Hartford, Conn. After their wedding trip in Nassau, the young couple will make their home in Hartford.

Silk leaves, outlined in seed pearls, were used on the fitted bodice of Betsy's ivory satin and rosepointe lace wedding gown. Soft neckline and long, fitted sleeves were of rosepointe which edged her bridal cap and short wedding veil. The draped skirt of the wedding gown fell floor length. She carried a prayer book to which were caught white bud orchids and ivy.

The large wedding party was composed of ten bridesmaids and a dozen groomsmen. Toni Dunham of Yonkers, N. Y., maid of honor, wore a pale setting costume for the feminine attendants. It was fashioned of champagne colored lace with bouffant opera length skirt and matching cap. She carried a bouquet of blue and orange birds of paradise, also affected by the bridesmaids.

Bridesmaids were Marion Campbell, Frances Boyer, Mrs. Parker Jones of Los Angeles; Mrs. Gerald Doherty and Louise Shepards.

Engagements Announced

This past week-end was chosen by two brides-elect to share their wedding plans with their friends.

On Sunday afternoon the group of young people gathered for cocktails at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rockwell of Balfour road, learned of Joan Rockwell's engagement to Malcolm McGregor of Barnum.

Malcolm is the son of Mrs. Richard Fyfe Barnum of York-shire road, and the late Mr. Barnum.

Joan and Malcolm are both graduates at the University of Michigan. They will be married in the Spring.

The bride-elect, who chose a winter white shantung frock trimmed with rhinestone buttons for her engagement party, is a graduate of Liggett and Pine Manor Junior College. She belongs to Tau Beta and was presented to society at a Christmas holiday tea, the season of 1946.

Mac is affiliated with Delta Kappa Epsilon.

The Pointe's interest traveled across town to Royal Oak on Sunday, too. There, Mrs. Hicks Johnson of Woodland drive announced the betrothal of her daughter, Jean Louise, to Joseph Hurt Lackey, son of Mrs. George E. Lackey of St. Paul avenue, and the late Mr. Lackey.

Joan's father is Konrad K. Johnson.

Jean graduated from the University of Michigan and is a member of Delta Gamma. Her fiancé received his degree from the U. of M. law school and before that graduated from Princeton. At the latter university, Joe was a member of the Tower Club.

The bride-elect pinned white orchids to the multi-colored tissue taffeta frock she wore for the announcement party.

Patricia is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Kearins of Oxford road and Mr. Wilberding is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Wilberding of East Outer drive.

The gowns of the bride and her attendants combined to give a soft beige and ivory monotone to the wedding scene. Devils Chalk Up Two Wins, Over Royal Oak, Dearborn Grosse Pointe's two giant basketball players, Bruce Allen and Bud McCullough, caged 16 points apiece to lead Coach Ed Wernet's Blue Devil basketball team to a lopsided 55, to 39 victory over Royal Oak on The Acorns' home court last Friday, February 2.

It was the Devils' tenth win in eleven starts and enabled the Pointers to remain hot on the heels on the league leading Highland Park Polar Bears who edged past Monroe, 53 to 47, on the same night.

Harden Stars Again
For the second game in succession since becoming a regular, blond Norm Harden gave his parents something to cheer about when he annexed third place scoring honors behind Royal Oak's Bud Robertson who caged 15 points.

Harden could have very easily been the game's leading scorer had he been a little sharper at the foul line. He missed eight out of ten charity tosses. But Harden was no worse than his teammates who connected on only 9 of 29 free throws. Royal Oak made 14 of 24 tries.

Plenty of Fouls
In the final period three Royal Oak players were forced from the game with five personal fouls each, which gives some indication as to how alert and busy referees Ray Grables and Charles Wind were to keep the game under control.

The Acorns were unable to cope with the height of 6 feet 5 inch Allen and 6 feet 6 inch McCullough and repeatedly fouled these two boys in an effort to stop their scoring spree.

Regular guard Jim Davison missed the contest because of a sprained ankle suffered in the Dearborn game four nights previous. In an effort to find an able replacement for Davison Coach Wernet used five guards during the game and only one, Norm Lasca, could find the hoop with any regularity.

Mann Slightly Missed
The Acorn game brought to light how hard the mid-year graduation of Alex Mann hit the Pointers and unless at least one of the second string guards comes into his own soon the Blue Devils are going to have a rough road to travel to repeat as Border Cities League champions.

In the other Border Cities League contest the much beaten Wyandotte Bears trounced the Fordson Tractors, 34 to 33, in an over-time contest.

Two Team Battle
With the other four league teams knocking one another off the Border Cities League race appears to be a two-team struggle between Grosse Pointe and Highland Park for the title. The Devils and Polar Bears meet in the final game of the season on the Polar Bears' home court, Highland Park is the only team to beat the Pointers this season and that was an over-time victory in the first game of the season.

Barring an upset, to either team

Memorial Wins Church Loop Title

Coach Bliss Bowman's Memorial cagers blitzed the coachless St. Paul Rockets, 48 to 4, in the second game of a triple header program played at Grosse Pointe High last Saturday, February 3, to win the first round championship in the Inter-Church Basketball League.

The victory gave the Memorial quintet five straight victories in as many starts, to make it the only undefeated team in the six team league.

Coach Bowman attempted to keep the score down but his substitutes found the Rocket defense no problem and poured points through the hoop with monotonous regularity.

The Rockets were further hampered due to the fact they didn't have the services of their coach Eddie Lauer, who was attending the funeral service for his sister.

In winning the first round title the Memorial team qualifies for the season championship game which will be played following the conclusion of the second round of play March 10.

Charles Schaller paced the Memorial attack with 16 points to win the individual scoring honors.

In the first game of the program Grosse Pointe Methodist, paced by Pete Neil who caged 20 points, staged a second half rally to completely dominate the St. Paul Jets, 31 to 14, and move into fourth place in the first round standings.

Neil was the deciding factor in Methodist's victory by completely controlling the rebounds off both backboards, to give the Methodists greater scoring opportunities.

Methodist gained one distinction in the first round of play. They have the highest average in the foul shooting department of all six teams. In their last game they connected on 4 of 6 charity tosses while the Jets missed all five tries.

The most exciting game of the day was between Christ Church and Woods Presbyterian who were deadlocked prior to the game.

Presbyterian edged Christ Church 28 to 23 behind the sharp shooting of Tom Wilkerson who notched 10 points, but his total fell 4 points short of Johnny Dryden's 14 points, which led the Christ Church attack and gave him individual scoring honors.

Presbyterian out-shot Christ Church from the floor 12 field goals to 11 and topped their opponents in the foul shooting department. Presbyterian connected on 4 of 9 attempts while Christ Church missed 11 of 12 tries.

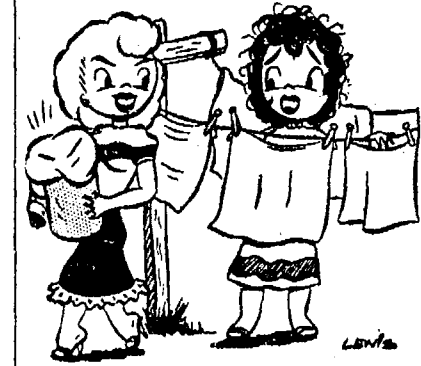

This was the most hotly contested game of the first round and tempers were short and numerous times the players were warned and threatened with technical fouls. However, only four technicals were called.

The second round of play will begin Saturday, February 10, and will bring together Memorial and St. Paul Jets in the 9:30 a.m. game which will be followed by Methodist and Presbyterian in the 10:15 contest. The final game will pit Christ Church and the St. Paul Rockets at 11:00 a.m.

League Rule Produces Tie In Reserve Basketball Tilt

By Fred Runnells

A Border Cities League rule which states "the varsity teams must take the floor at five minutes past eight" cut short the overtime period in the Grosse Pointe-Royal Oak reserve game by fifty seconds and put the first tie basketball game in memory into the league record book.

The Blue Devils and Royal Oak battled through 32 minutes of regulation play to a 45 to 45 tie last Friday night, Feb. 2, on the Acorns' home court. Sean Fraser knotted the count with a free throw in the last ten seconds of play to force the game into overtime.

But because of the league rule and the tardiness of Royal Oak officials to get the reserve game underway at the appointed time the regulation three minute overtime period was not allowed to go the limit. It was cut short by fifty seconds by Athletic Director Nils Hayes and the game goes down as a 45 to 45 tie game.

To my way of thinking I don't believe fifty seconds would have made that much difference in the final game or in Royal Oak's basketball program that night. But it could have meant a victory for either team in the reserve game.

I don't set up such rigid time limits on the reserve games, but I do know the reserve players play just as hard as their varsity counterparts and deserve the time to settle their games in a victory for one team or another.

even if it means holding up the varsity games until 8:15 p.m.

It is so seldom the reserve teams wind up in a tie after 32 minutes of regulation play that I believe the league rule could be elastic enough to stretch a little in favor of the reserves.

Jerry Goebel was the spark plug of the Devils' attack, caging 23 points on 8 field goals and 7 free throws before leaving the game on five personal fouls.

Royal Oak's Purcell and Gmelin tied for runner-up scoring honors with ten points each. Gmelin was one of three Acorn players forced from the contest with five personal fouls.

The Acorns out shot the Devils from the floor, 19 to 13, but the Pointers has the best of it in the foul shooting department, connecting on 19 of 34 attempts as compared to the Acorns who collected 9 out of 24 tries.

The Devils will tackle Fordson on the Tractors home court Friday, February 9.

To date the Pointers have won four, lost four and tied one, thanks to Royal Oak's tardy officials.

Books To Be Reviewed At Woods Presbyterian

Mrs. Fred Hauck will review two-day books at the Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church at 1:15 o'clock on Wednesday, February 14.

The books to be discussed are "The Innocents from Indiana," by Emily Kimbrough, and "Nuts in May" by Cornelia Otis Skinner.

Three Teams Tie for Lead In Neighborhood Club Loop

A hard-fighting Monday Cleaner five nearly upset the high-flying American-Italian quintet in the Neighborhood Club's Major Basketball Loop on January 29. It was a close checking contest all the way with American-Italian finally squeezing out a 38 to 36 victory in the final period.

Monday took complete charge of the play in the first half with a good defensive display and paced by Bill Huetteman and Jim Law's scoring efforts of 9 and 8 points respectively, they led, 24 to 12, at intermission. American-Italian came back strong in the third quarter and closed the gap to 32 to 28 by the end of that period.

Lack of reserve strength told the story in the final quarter as the tiring Monday five could not hold back the fast, fresh onrush of the winners. American-Italian, paced by Roy Garavaglia's 15-point scoring total, were able to hang on a three-way tie for first place honors along with Verdonck's Bakery and Grosse Pointe Valet.

In the other Monday evening game, Metropolitan Club moved into a fourth place tie with Tom Boyd Ford by trimming Broderick A.C. to the tune of 55 to 43. Both teams started slowly with Metropolitan Club, holding a 19 to 9 lead at half-time. A scoring race took place during the final two periods between Joe Schaffner of Metropolitan Club and Ken Kaiser of Broderick, with Kaiser winning out by ringing up 20 points to his opponent's 17. Kaiser also took game scoring honors with a 24-point total, while Schaffner led his team with 18.

MINOR LEAGUE
The only Minor League action of the week saw undefeated Tracy Motors thunder over Turner Buick by the score of 71 to 18. The Turner five were unable to stop the high scoring pair of Bob Allen and Don Fatterson, who scored almost at will. Patterson rang up 25 points, while Allen was close behind with 20.

Mrs. Donald Sangree Lamm, Jr.

—Picture by Moffett Studio

A candlelight ceremony held in Grosse Pointe Congregational Church last Friday solemnized the marriage of Joy Louise Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur George Williams of Lincoln road and Donald Sangree Lamm, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Sangree Lamm of Sedalia, Missouri.

Joy's Renaissance-inspired gown of ivory satin, featured a Florentine style neckline which was bordered with a deep cuff of satin, delicately embroidered with seed pearls. Sprays of pearls in petal motif trailed down the front of the gown, spreading the full length of the flared skirt, which swept to a graceful train. A princess cap of matching satin held in place her tiered veil of silk illusion. Joy's flowers were white roses and stephanotis, centered with a white orchid.

Seaford-green satin gowns and matching bonnets were worn by the bridesmaids, Patsy Parkin of Port Huron, maid of honor, carried a cascade bouquet of talisman roses and ivy. The bridesmaids, Joanne Auch of Detroit, Virginia Ellis of Saginaw, Mrs. James Nixon of Ann Arbor and Mrs. Donald Williamson of Detroit, carried cascade bouquets of yellow roses and ivy.

Charles Johnston of Uniontown, Pennsylvania, officiated as best man. Ushers were Philip Webb of Cadillac, Mich.; James Temple of Detroit; John Baker of Port Huron, Mich.; and Bryan Baker of Flint, Mich.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Williams chose a navy taffeta dress with which she wore a shoulder corsage of pink orchids. Beige crepe was Mrs. Lamm's choice. Her brown orchids were pinned to her purse.

Out-of-town guests present at the reception in the Whittier Hotel included Mrs. George L. Williams of Cairo, Illinois, grandmother of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Norman McDonough, son Michael and daughter, Joyce, of Toledo, Ohio; Mrs. A. A. Poole of Toledo, Ohio, and a substantial representation of Joy's and Donald's friends from Ann Arbor.

Following the reception the newlyweds left to board a plane to Florida, Joy wearing a navy-blue gabardine suit, trimmed with white pique. Her hat was navy milan straw and she wore the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

Joy and Donald will reside in Ann Arbor, Michigan, until they have completed their university studies.

Mrs. F. W. Hodges Taken by Death

The late Mrs. Sales attended the wedding of the Frederick Hodges as a bridesmaid.

Mrs. Hodges is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Monroe Campbell and Mrs. Robert Derrick, five grandsons and 12 great grandchildren.

Jack Benny

saves many a penny

... with his modern Electric Range!

Jack Benny, star of
"THE JACK BENNY SHOW"
heard every Sunday
over CBS, coast to coast

"The mythical Jack Benny of the radio isn't really stingy—he merely hates to spend money," says Mrs. Benny (Mary Livingstone) to all her radio fans, "but although the real Jack Benny is most generous, he still considers our Electric Range real economy."

Sure—you have economical operation with the modern Electric Range—but that's only one feature. It's almost human—different from any range you've ever tried. You don't guess at the cooking heat. Flip a switch, and you get just the heat you need. You don't peek or watch while things are in the oven. You know the automatic controls are doing that for you. Nothing new to learn—except how much better, how much easier cooking can be when you have a modern Electric Range. You can learn all about it at your dealer's!

UWF President Pointe Visitor

Alan Cranston, president of the United World Federalists, Inc., visited the Grosse Pointe Chapter on Tuesday, February 7. He was the guest of honor at a luncheon at the Penobscot Club at noon, followed by a small reception in his honor at the home of T. C. Tilley of Handy road.

That night he attended a private party at the Grosse Pointe Club, given in his honor by Mrs. J. G. Standard, Jr., Mrs. William Joy and Mrs. Ledyard Mitchell.

On each occasion, Mr. Cranston spoke of the vital solution that the United World Federalists propose for the present world crisis, a strengthening of the United Nations into a limited world government with powers adequate to assure peace. He mentioned the impressive support that has been marshalled behind this idea in both houses of Congress.

Mr. Cranston has been a first-hand observer of international politics for over 15 years. He is a former correspondent for the International News Service. During World War II he served as Chief of the Office of War Information's Foreign Language Division. Later he transferred to the Army Service Forces as Editor of "Army Talk."

Since the war, Mr. Cranston has taken an increasingly active role in the United World Federalists, moving up from the chairmanship of the California state branch to the national presidency.

Anyone desiring further information of the United World Federalists is invited to telephone Legrand Thurber at TU. 2-7949.

It's Back To College After Their Wedding

University of Michigan Seniors Sallie Slocum and Joseph Manley Preece Jr. Wed Saturday in the Pointe; 200 Guests Dance at Lochmoor Reception

Duchesse lace with rosepointe medallions adorned the rich antique ivory satin wedding robe of Sallie Slocum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Vernon Slocum of Bedford road, when she was married Saturday to Joseph Manley Preece, Jr., son of the Joseph Manley Preece of Orchard Ridge road, Bloomfield Hills.

Following a home wedding ceremony attended only by members of the families, there was a reception for 200 guests at Lochmoor Club.

There was much sentiment attached to Sallie's wedding costume. In addition to her grandmother's lace, she donned her mother's wedding veil of Brussels lace, arranged on a heart shaped cap to hold her dark hair in place. The Valentine motif was used within her floral bridal crescent of hyacinths and gardenias.

The bride's sister, Helen, was her only attendant, wearing a frock of white embroidered Swiss organdy over sweetheart red taffeta. She carried a Valentine heart of red roses and carnations, pierced with an arrow of white hyacinths.

Elder Porter of Bloomfield, N. J., was Mr. Preece's best man. Mrs. Slocum chose for the wedding a gown of champagne crepe with deep bodice of matching lace. Her flowers were orchids. The bridegroom's mother was gowned in aqua chiffon, shirring distinguishing his bodice. She wore pink carnations at one shoulder.

Also in the receiving line at the Lochmoor Club reception was Miss Charlotte Smith, aunt of the bridegroom who was in charreuse silk taffeta. She accented her costume with antique necklace and turquoise locket.

Both the bride and bridegroom are seniors at the University of Michigan and many of their classmates came into town for the wedding reception.

After their brief wedding trip, they will return to their studies ing the welfare of the disabled were not only a challenge to specialists but an obligation of all citizens.

Under her direction the Detroit League for the Handicapped:

Conducted a survey of the needs and resources for the blind as a result of which the agency created the Vocational Adjustment Division. This was proved so successful that it has been broadened to serve also those handicapped in ways other than blindness.

Cooperated with other similar agencies and the public schools in a War Training Class as preparation for industrial placement for the blind of World War II.

Carried on a demonstration of industrial placement for the blind to aid the program of the State Division of Services, to the Blind.

Secured workshop industrial salvage contracts which provide steady, remunerative employment for over 30 handicapped persons, one-third of whom are blind.

The list of activities in which she took an active part... all dedicated to helping the handicapped... is long... and her fellow workers... those whom she helped and we in the Pointe are richer for the time she spent among us.

who, where and whatnot

by whoozit

Our favorite typo at the moment was that in ELSIE MORROW'S Washington society column in last Sunday's Detroit Free Press. It was either a typo or We, The People, may hope for a rollback in food prices sooner than we'd dare dream. Missie Morrow, reporting the sherry breakfast given to celebrate an anniversary at the Australian Embassy, declared the menu consisted of hot stryll punch, WATTLES and passion fruit.

Disturbing though the first and third items may be to some, the wattles got us. A wattle is, according to our dictionary, a twig; a rod easily bent; a hurdle or framework made of pliant rods; in Australia or South Africa an acacia tree; so called because wattles or hurdles are made from it. Imagine being confronted by a wattle at breakfast. Wattles with maple syrup, no doubt.

And now that we've learned to read, at last, we devoured ELEANOR BOARDMAN'S column from Paris in the Times. La Boardman describes a tony Parisian wedding, that of YVONNE de CONTADES and COUNT BERNARD d'HARCOURT. The bride completed her wedding costume with a Juliet made of ermine. Now why can't someone here at the Pointe provide some fresh copy like that for OUR society department who must, at this writing, be sick unto death of merely French silk illusion. satin or heirloom lace bridal caps!

DIDJUNO . . . that MRS. GEORGE M. SLOCUM is keeping her large circle of friends posted on her current trip around the world. Already dozens have received mimeographed accounts of her adventures and travels to date.

PILFERINGS

Our thanks to ELMER GAEDE for this one: Fool walking down street saw sign, "A. Fool, Attorney at Law."

Being public spirited, and thinking perhaps Mr. Fool, since he was so used to the name, didn't realize how the sign sounded, the man stopped and suggested to the lawyer that he use his full name.

"I thought of that," said the lawyer, "but, you see, my first name is ADAM."

From EDITOR AND PUBLISHER'S "SHORT TAKES"

Announcement in the Louisville (Ky.) Courier-Journal: "The ladies of the Cherry Street Church have discarded clothing of all kinds."

Damaged Toy Collection story in the Somerville (N.J.) Star: "The Rev. Philip C. Hammond, Jr., is chairman of the committee collecting damaged toys to be sent to the State Home for Boys at Jamesburg, where repairs will be made before they are distributed to orphanages."

News Story in the Greenboro (N.C.) Daily News: "A census bureau report released today said that Southern girls do marry at a nearly urge."

And from THE NEW YORKER:
"There are exceptions to those last two rules about never revising a rejected story and not polishing too much. These exceptions have to do with luck, which is infallible. Take your last reject and rewrite it and polish it and final final it. Then tear up the first page and the last page and send it to the New Yorker. It might sell. — Writer's Digest." MRS. BENJAMIN O. SHEPHERD OF LAKE SHORE ROAD

While the rest of the nation was gasping over decorative changes being made at the White House, the Pointe preferred to spend its interest on No. 17 Lake Shore road.

Benjamin O. Shepherd, with-out disturbing a hair in her up-do was changing architecture, dividing rooms in half, installing a dumb waiter and in general carrying on to make the rest of us nearly die with curiosity.

If her efforts were causing more Pointers to drive everywhere by way of "Dorothy Shepherd's" to see what was happening next, the same extreme alterations to her future home were leading its owner to new paths, too. Almost the minute she and a crew of workmen, whom she directed, had finished their labors, Mrs. Shepherd had a career as an interior decorator with assignments from those who had admiringly watched the wonders she performed.

The night the double gray doors of No. 17 Lake Shore road opened to us, it was snowing outside and temperatures were front page news.

Mrs. Shepherd opened those doors (she was dressed in a deep blue velvet gown with length of violet chiffon adding a dramatic touch) and in the great hall a wood fire burned in its ceiling-to-floor antique mirrored fireplace.

The Pointe's Lady Mendel (that lady's every work, including the Petite Trianon at Versailles, is etched in Mrs. Shepherd's mind) led us on a brisk and charming tour of her home and told us a fascinating story en route.

Outside and inside Mrs. Shepherd has designed her home in French Regency mood. With imagination and élan she has transplanted to the Pointe what might be a town house of Chantilly or St. Cloud.

LABOR RELATIONS

She persuaded her husband, the late Mr. Shepherd, to buy the house that she might try her skill at complete transformation. And those days when her plans left only the four walls and the roof of the original structure standing, the crew of workmen who carried out her ideas may have been doubtful, but never the boss lady.

Gallons of ice cream or coca cola packed in dry ice appeared for the workers on hot days when they hesitated over this or that suggested change. Mrs. Shepherd admitted she was curious about all the labor troubles that fill page one and wondered what she would encounter in her rebuilding.

She got nothing but cooperation which after about the eighth gallon of ice cream had warmed to a "Bless your little heart" and the job done on her most unconventional scheme.

Outside, she walked up the old front entrance on McKinley place to build the double doors on Lake Shore road side. She added a garden level drawing room (at night lighted almost entirely by candlelight gleaming on gold tapestry drapes, a beautiful Aubusson carpet, Aubusson great chairs at the exquisite small French marble fireplace she bought in Paris and used in her home on Ridge road). There's an inlaid fruit wood barometer on the drawing room wall. It's very old, but it works.

Looking out the room's glassed doors, one sees the courtyard and rose garden where Mrs. Shepherd pursues her gardening. She has arranged her famous roses in a circle with tones blended to duplicate the Aubusson rug in her drawing room. A high brick wall encloses the courtyard where in summertime afternoon tea and dinner are served. One complete side of the garden is walled by a two-story lattice for climbing roses and vines.

A great hall was achieved by knocking down walls and leaving on the first floor the new drawing room, library, a guest powder room (originally the old kitchen) a new kitchen wing.

THE DUMB WAITER

In the kitchen wing we met the dumb waiter, something we've longed to do since last Summer. What was an old broom closet had been continued upwards to reach the guest room on the second floor. A dumb waiter, with shelves arranged to hold breakfast trays, carries morning orange juice and coffee to the family and their guests.

Upstairs, French provincial furniture blends into the background of gray, greige, cafe au lait and creme monochromes. A bathroom was divided to make two bathrooms and in her own, Mrs. Shepherd lowered the marble wash bowl to dressing table height and it serves also as a dressing table for milady.

French half curtains, in greige and gray taffeta are at upstairs windows. Besides sub deb daughter Pam's charming room in pinks and turquoise,

Mrs. Shepherd's room built, around another handsome Aubusson, and the guest room . . . there's a hall sitting room. It used to be another bedroom but the decorator was much more enchanted with the comfort of the upstairs sitting room.

Through years of collecting, Mrs. Shepherd has retained those pieces of furniture, objet d'art and effects she loves the most and which are richest in memory and sentiment.

NINE ASSIGNMENTS

Her own home in this state of perfection, she has turned her talents to nine other homes at the moment. She is doing Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Goldie's permanent home at Ormond Beach, Fla. (a symphony of French tropical and Venetian decor in white, brilliant green, beige and turquoise to reflect the sand, sky and ocean), seven houses in Grosse Pointe and one in Bloomfield Hills.

Now the days are busy with bolts of materials arriving from all over the world to be transformed into settings which mirror the personality, life and travels of Mrs. Shepherd's clients. There's a wonderful English secretary installed in a little office off the great hall, with files and orders and correspondence with dealers and carpenters, etc.

The lady of No. 17 Lake Shore is out until 3 in the afternoon on counseling calls, doing an interior or walling up another client's front door, to make a nicer one someplace else around the house.

But tea time finds her with Pam and her friends in the drawing room.

Across this pleasant scene wandered a small taffy toned pomeranian. She's Muffin and belongs to Pam. Somehow when we left that beautiful home and its soft tones of gray and creme and cafe au lait, we were haunted with the thought that Mrs. Shepherd, who isn't stopped by laws of gravity or any cut and dried rules of decorating, has dipped that dog to fit so beautifully into the color scheme.

GRILLED CHICKEN

Contributed by Richard J. Martin

This is a recipe started in the kitchen and then moved to your barbecue pit or grill. Take as many chicken breasts as needed, salt and pepper them and add about a half fruit juice glass of water and put in roaster. Allow to steam in the oven for about an hour. In the meantime mix a sauce composed of:

1/4 lb. of butter, melted.
1/2 to 3/4 c. of catsup.
1 clove garlic, diced fine.
1 T. Worcestershire Sauce
Dash of tabasco.
Salt and pepper to taste.
paprika.

Mix all together. Now place the chicken breasts on top of the charcoal grill (a little hickory log added to the charcoal adds to the flavor of the chicken) and keep basting with the above sauce till done. Serve with French fried potatoes, hot rolls and a big tossed green salad.
