Le Sabre Takes Up Residence in the Pointe

—Picture by Larry Runnels

MR. and MRS. HARLEY J. EARL were photographed Sunday at their Touraine road home in the world's most amazing car. Mr. Earl is vice-president in charge of design of the General Motors Corporation. Under his supervision, Le Sabre was developed over a period of five years. A purely experimental car, it has more than 80 features never used on other automobiles. Designed on aviation principles, its 345 horse power motor will drive it in excess of 150 miles per hour. The former experimental car which Mr. Earl has been driving for the last 12 years, is shown parked in the background. Considered very modern until LeSabre made its appearance, the predecessor will now be sent to the General Motors museum.

Center Drive Fund Reaches $19,698.05

Returns Received During Last Week Show 40 More Families Have Contributed $475

Returns reported since last week on the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center's campaign for funds, include contributions from 40 more families, totaling $487.

This brings the grand totals to date to $19,698.05 contributed by 1,876 families. The goal of the drive was $18,000 required to meet a deficit which would exist if the present program of activities was carried on and necessary repairs to the building were made.

A number of canvassers have not yet made complete reports.

Farms Donation Made Grudgingly

The Farms Council Monday night approved an expenditure of $50 for the Better Fishing Program for 1951, but only after considerable argument.

The program is designed to provide recreation for the youth of the community and has been endorsed by the Farms, City and Park.

Some weeks ago the Farms appointed Roland Gray as its local chairman for the program. More than 50 Farms youngsters have signed up and are participating.

When the request was received from Mr. Gray asking for an appropriation not to exceed $50 to help offset expenses, considerable skepticism was expressed, particularly by Councilmen John Hutchinson and Daniel Goodenough.

Clerk Harry Furtan explained that the city had always made appropriations for recreation, that the program was considered a worthwhile project to help combat juvenile delinquency, that the money was needed to buy prizes and that none of it was going to any individual, and that having asked Mr. Gray to donate his

Three Explorer Scouts Earn Trip to Famed Reservation in New Mexican Mountains

Richard Craig, Lee Scott, Jr. and Phil Beach Leave Sunday To Spend Two Weeks On 127,000 Acre Ranch

Few Grosse Pointe residents realize that the Boy Scouts of America maintain a huge 127,000 acre ranch or reserve called Philmont located in the mountains 5 miles south of Cimarron, New Mexico—about 200 square miles of beautiful, wild and rugged country interspersed with meadows, grazing lands and trout streams teeming with trout.

Taos, the home of Kit Carson is 55 miles to the west and is the center of the picturesque Taos Indian Pueblos and the site of Rancho de Taos Church.

Physical and other advanced Scouting requirements for attendance for a two-week period during the summer.

At 6 a.m. on July 29 16 Explorer Scouts from the Detroit area will entrain for Chicago where they will "do the town," for 5 hours and then leave in the evening on the "El Capitán" for Philmont.

Paul Kolvoord, Chairman of Scout Troop No. 147 stated recently that "Through the efforts of Scout Master Ben Kushner we are able to have Jr. Asst. Scoutmaster Richard Craig, an Explorer Scout, chosen as a representative of Grosse Pointe Park. He is one of three boys who are going to Philmont from the Grosse Pointe area."

Earned the Honor
Dick, 16, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Craig, 1024 Wayburn. His father is an employee of the City of Grosse Pointe Park. Dick earned this honor by all the fine work he has done for Troop No. 147 of Defer School.

The two other Scouts who are going to Philmont from the Pointe are Lee Scott, Jr., 562 Sunningdale, and Phil Beach, son of Dr. and Mrs. Watson Beach, 281 Kenwood court, Grosse Pointe.

On arrival at Camp in full Explorer's uniform the Scouts will be photographed and don rugged camping clothes and get their packs of supplies and equipment for the ten day trip. The boys will be broken up into patrols of eight each, and two adult guides and experienced Scouters will accompany each patrol.

Burros Carry Supplies
Burros will carry such cooking utensils and food as will be needed on this expedition that will take them over brushy mountain trails. The weather is variable—hot, cold, mountain showers, hail, sleet. The Scouts will sleep on the ground at night along the trail. Tents are furnished only in the Outcamps while the "Base camps have showers and hot water for limited laundry facilities.

Cross 11,600 Ft. Mountain
Starting at Ponil base camp in the north of the ranch, the expedition will head south through Comanche and Apache Passes and cross Clear Creek Mt., at 11,600 ft. They will wind up at Carter Lake Base Camp. The boys will have plenty of opportunity to "shoot pictures" of all kinds of wild life such as deer, bear, antelope, and to observe birds, and fish mountain streams for trout. The guides will carry a compass and First Aid kit and the boys will assist in preparing the food for the entire outfit over a camp fire.

Simians Set To Give Play At Center

Local Theatrical Group Presenting "Male Animal" Tomorrow Night

The set went up Sunday at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center for "The Male Animal" the Simians' outdoor production, which is to open tomorrow night at 8:45. House Chairman for the Summer Theatre group, Mary Ann Harrington has assured everyone that the terrace facing the lake, where performances in summers past have been held, will be well sprayed by little winged friends.

Last minute polishing proceeds under dramatic director Hilary Whitaker. The cast has been rehearsing on set all week.

Distribute Handbills
Convening early last Saturday morning at the home of Mary Carey, who directed the operation, the members distributed 5000 handbills all over the Pointe from door to door. In the evening the weary distributors were rewarded for their efforts with a lively party at ticket chairman Peggy Harrigan's home in Devonshire road. On hand for the fun were Simians-under-Arms: Don Kuhn, Air Force, and Dale Stevenson, U. S. Army.

More Apopros Today
The group is agreed that the choice of play is a good one. Though the play was first produced on Broadway in 1939 by the unique genius of James Thurber in cooperation with Eliot Nugent, it is even more apropos in these days of Kinsey and McCarthy.

A light and fast moving satire on the American college scene, the protagonists are a retiring but very idealistic English professor and his opposite, a hyperextroverted, businessman alumnus whose chief concern is the projected new football stadium.

Witty Dialogue
A subtle social insight combines with adroit manipulation to give the witty dialogue more than surface depth. Choice Thurber sketches of the college president and his wife, the current football hero, and the campus intellectual blend with the other ingredients to make a spicy dramatic broth.

Plans are again under way for the annual party after the production. The cast and the members look forward to celebrating a fifth successful year on the Grosse Pointe straw hat stage.

Plush Dog House Damaged by Fire

Woods firemen extinguished the fire that started in a dog house belonging to H. E. Meredith, of 780 N. Oxford, on July 20. The fire was caused by rubbish that was being burned too close to the harbor for Fido, which is located on a lot adjacent to the house.

The dog house which is quite spacious and insulated with rock wool, is valued at $300. The fire caused about $50 damage.

Big Storm Floods Many Basements In Woods Section

Farms, Park and City Have Little Difficulty Handling Season's Heaviest Downpour; Lake Gives Shores Some Trouble

The severe rain storm which flooded streets and many basements in Grosse Pointe Woods, struck with real intensity about 1 a.m. on Sunday. The Pointe was drenched with 2.06 inches of rain overall.

The two Woods pumping stations, located at Marter and Hollywood and at Torrey road and the Milk River, were operating efficiently during the storm, according to Philip F. Allard, City Administrator.

Basements Flooded
Basements were flooded throughout the Woods with three of four inches of water. Some sections, notably the north side of Huntington, reported two feet of water in basements.

Mr. Allard assigned as a contributing factor to the flooded condition, the inability of the culverts beneath the Vernier road bridge to handle the increased volume of water resulting from the storm.

Will Replace Bridge
Mr. Allard received a letter just ten days ago advising that Wayne County plans to replace this bridge.

Another contributing factor according to Mr. Allard is the lack of a sewer between Harper road and the Woods boundary line. The water drains into ditches and from there down onto Woods pavement.

Backs Into Woods
Woods catch basins were filled to overflowing with the volume of water coming from Gratiot Township. The new Bluehill pumping station which should have alleviated this condition, proved inadequate.

Engineer Murray Smith of Grosse Pointe Farms credited the greatly enlarged sewer pumping capacity at the Chalfonte and Kerby station with keeping the basements dry in from 800 to 1000 Farms homes during the torrential rain of last Saturday night and early Sunday morning.

250,000 G. P. M.
During the height of the storm the pumps were throwing out water at the rate of 250,000 gallons per minute. More than 50,000,000 gallons of drain water were pumped within a period of less than three hours.

The pumping capacity of the station was greatly increased four years ago, after the residents voted down a bond issue to replace many of the older and

Farms Puts Ban On Solicitors

The City of Grosse Pointe Farms Council Monday night adopted an ordinance which will prohibit door to door magazine salesmen, peddlers, etc. from operating in the city.

Clerk Harry Furtan and Police Chief Walter Hoyt said these solicitors have been a great source of nuisance for a long time. Many residents call in complaints about high pressure methods being used.

Pooch On Loose In Canada Leads Many Merry Chase

A black cocker spaniel wearing a Grosse Pointe license tag is wandering around the vicinity of Lakefield, Ont., Canada, 375 miles from home, in case the owners are interested.

Word of the stray was brought back to the Pointe by Mrs. W. A. Bailey of 318 Rivard boulevard, who was a recent guest at Forest Hills Lodge, at Burleigh Falls, about 7 miles from Lakefield.

While Mrs. Bailey was there, the owner of the lodge received a telephone call from Herman Kidd, of Lakefield, saying he had the dog. He wondered if he might belong to anyone staying at the lodge.

There were no other Pointe guests at Burleigh Falls, but Mrs. Bailey promised the lodge owner she would bring the dog back and make an effort to locate the dog's owners. She asked the NEWS if it would help.

In an effort to effect a quick reunion between pet and master or mistress, the NEWS telephoned Mr. Kidd Monday afternoon, to find out the license number and which Pointe had issued it. Armed with this information it would be a simple matter to contact the local police and find out exactly to whom the license had been issued.

But Mr. Kidd said the dog is now being cared for by William Newcomb of Young's Point, Ont., not far from Lakefield, and he has no telephone.

However, Mr. Kidd said he would get word to Mr. Newcomb and have him contact the NEWS, sending the information of the license.

Maybe by next week we'll be able to offer the solution to the mystery of what a Grosse Pointe pooch is doing wandering around in the Canadian wilds.

Park and City Expected to Approve Plan

Wayne County Commission Would Pay Two-thirds of Cost for New Surface

After numerous consultations with the Wayne County Road Commission, the City of Grosse Pointe Park has received a communication from the Commission to the effect that it is willing to resurface Jefferson avenue from Somerset road to the center line of Cadieux road on an apportionment basis.

The Park Council discussed the report at the regular council meeting on Monday night and approved the appointment plan which provides that the city pay one-third of the cost of this project.

Have Rough Estimate
The Park is awaiting figures which Leroy Smith, engineer-manager of the Wayne County Road Commission, will supply in the near future. The road commission submitted a rough estimate of $75,000 for the completion of the project.

An asphaltic concrete surface of about two and one-half inches in thickness will be applied from curb to curb on top of a binder coat. The road commission and the Park are anxious that work begin as soon as possible, before the advent of cold weather.

No Need to Widen
The county previously expressed a desire to widen Jefferson to 86 feet of pavement with a right of way of 120 feet. The Park traffic engineer made an exhaustive study of the proposal and determined that there was no need for the additional width.

The present width proved adequate for the present flow of traffic and inasmuch as bottlenecks occur in both the city and the Farms the proposed widening was not deemed feasible, by the Park.

Some ten years ago the County planted a row of saplings behind the present sidewalk. This move would indicate the county's intention to widen Jefferson avenue. However, no action was ever taken beyond this preliminary step.

Want to Save Trees
The City and Park are both adamant in their desire to preserve the fine, old trees which line the drive.

The Wayne County Road Commission has recently communicated with Chester Carpenter, a City councilman who was appointed by the council as a liaison on the Jefferson resurfacing project. Leroy Smith of the road commission has presented the same plan to the City as has been submitted to the Park. He will also submit figures to the City.

May Follow Suit
It would be a practical move to resurface Jefferson in the City while the road commission has its equipment in the area. It seems likely that the City council will follow suit with the Park in accepting the apportionment plan.

Awaits Sentence In Larceny Case

Charles Boyd, of 9530 E. Outer drive, charged with grand larceny of building material from a new home under construction at 174 Country Club lane on July 5, appeared before Judge J. Burgess Book, III, on July 18 for examination.

Examination was waived by Mr. Boyd's attorney. The charge was reduced to simple larceny on the motion of the defendant's counsel with the consent of the complaining witness, the assistant prosecutor and the Farms police department.

The case was referred to the Wayne County Probation department for a pre-sentence report. The case was adjourned without a day set for sentencing, pending the probation report.

Mr. Boyd, who stood mute at his arraignment before Judge Victor De Baekle on July 9, changed his plea to guilty.

 BIKE STRAYED

Susan Brock's bike, which she reported missing from her driveway at 333 Lincoln, was found a few minutes later on Lincoln just north of Mayme.

D. Dwight Douglas Fatally Stricken by Heart Attack

David Dwight Douglas, 59, of 39 Dyer Lane, died in his home early Monday morning of a heart attack. He had returned that morning from a vacation at Edgartown on Martha's Vineyard. He was on his front porch when he suffered the attack and was discovered by a servant.

The Farms ambulance responded to a call at 8:32 a.m. and a resuscitator was used unsuccessfully.

Mr. Douglas was born in Detroit, Dec. 25, 1891. He was graduated from Yale University's Sheffield Scientific School in 1914 and began business with the Detroit Trust Company.

In World War I he was a captain in the Air Force and by the war's end was officer in charge of flying fields in the Services of Supply.

In 1919 he became secretary of the First National Company, an investment affiliate of the First National Bank. He was made a vice-president of the First National Bank in 1922, acting president in 1926 and president the following year when he was only 35. He was known as the "Boy President" during the years of the greatest expansion of the bank, 1927 to 1931. He was made chairman of the board in 1939 and held that position until his resignation in 1932.

At the time of his death Mr. Douglas was a vice-president of the Grosse Pointe Bank of the Commonwealth Brass Corp. and owner of the Industrial Coating Engineers. He was a director of the Michigan Consolidated Gas Company and of Grace Hospital.

As a member of the U. S. Naval Reserve he was called to duty two months before Pearl Harbor

Board of Appeals Sustains Denial

The position of the Park building department in the denial of a sign permit to the LaVanday Sign Company was sustained by the Board of Appeals which convened on the matter Monday.

The sign intended for use by the Park Pharmacy, 15324 E. Jefferson, was in violation of the sign ordinance. As designed it would project horizontally more than five feet from the building. The ordinance provides that no sign shall project more than three feet.

The wisdom of applying for a permit before the sign is constructed is stressed by Park City Manager Everett B. Lane. While in the blueprint stage alterations can easily be made. This precaution will eliminate the needless expenditure of time and money.

The Park Planning Commission is currently studying the sign ordinance with a thought toward amending it to prohibit all overhanging signs.

Campfire Girls Staging Event

A progressive lunch and an entertainment program are on the agenda today at Warren-Canyon Memorial Park where the Campfire Girls of the Southeast District are concluding their "Summer in Town" program.

The program began on July 5 with meetings held on Tuesday and Thursday each week at Warren-Canyon Memorial Park. The girls have participated in group activities, including crafts and cook-outs.

Last Thursday Mrs. Stacy Klingersmith, the author of several books on nature designed for children, conducted a tour of the park, identifying 15 varieties of wild flowers.

The girls earned honors by identifying 10 varieties of wild flowers and 10 varieties of trees. Mrs. Stuart A. Friedrich, of Oxford road, directed the girls in folk dancing last Thursday.

Mrs. Gladys Baude, of Hollywood road, was general chairman of this summer program. Mrs. Elaine Ross, of Beaupre, was one of her assistants.

Emery E. Harris Succumbs at 77

Retired co-owner of the Dean-Harris Plumbing and Heating Co., Emery E. Harris, 77, of 1021 Buckingham, died Tuesday, July 17, in Jennings Hospital after a short illness.

Mr. Harris retired from active participation in the business 3½ years ago. He was a member of the Detroit Yacht Club.

Survivors include his wife, Mary C.; son, Thomas E.; and a daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Tarpey.

Services were held Friday at the Verheyden Funeral Home. Burial was in Woodmere Cemetery.

Big Storm Floods Basements

smaller drain sewers in the then village.

Plenty of Trouble

Before this was done every heavy rain brought a horde of complaints about flooded basements and certain whole sections were completely inundated.

When the bond issue was rejected, Mr. Smith suggested that the only solution might lie in increasing the capacity of the pumping station to its ultimate requirements, then throttling the outlets from as many catch basins as possible.

Cut Down Flow

The throttling procedure entails inserting sleeves in the 10 inch outlets which carry the water from catch basins into the main sewers. These sleeves reduce the amount of water which is allowed to drain off from the streets during a storm, by some 30 percent.

The result is that while streets may flood temporarily, it keeps the water from gorging the main sewers. The pumps are able to carry off the reduced flow and the drainage does not back up in the sewers and come up through the drains in basement floors.

Stays on Streets

Instead of finding its way into the residence basements, the water remains on the street surfaces until the pumps can carry it away.

During last Saturday night's storm the Farms received but four reports of flooded basements, in widely separated areas. Had it not been for the enlarged pumping system there would have been from 800 to 1000 basements flooded, Mr. Smith told the city council.

No Real Difficulty

The Park and City reported no real difficulty during the storm. The City pumps handle 92,000 gallons per minute and threw off over 7,000,000 gallons during the storm, according to Leo Carrier, pumping station superintendent.

The Park installed a backwater flood gate several years ago which keeps the drainage from backing up into its sewers.

Some Floods in Shores

Tom Jeffers, superintendent of Grosse Pointe Shores, reported that he had heard of seven or eight flooded basements, and there were probably 10 or a dozen in that village. He said this could be attributed mainly to the unusually high level of the lake.

The Shores drainage all goes directly into the lake. Ordinarily Lake St. Clair is at its peak during May, but it has not gone down this year and was higher in June than in May. The level is now 576.65 feet, which is much higher than normal.

Smashed Pole and Hydrant Blamed on Drunken Driving

A Woods scout car responding to a report on July 21 that a car had just hit a fire hydrant in front of 1041 S. Renaud and had continued on toward Mack, attempted to stop a car which was sighted traveling west on S. Renaud.

The scout car pulled across the road and signaled for the motorist to halt, but the motorist pulled up over the curb and continued on toward Mack. The scout car gave chase and finally succeeded in stopping the car on S. Renaud near Mack.

Police escorted the motorist, John Marble, of 564 Lincoln, to the police station. An investigation of the car revealed that the front bumper was pushed in and there was evidence of red paint on it. Police also found small chips of white glass on the hood and front fenders.

Upon checking the hydrant, police found that it had been pushed over approximately two feet. Pieces of glass matching those found on Mr. Marble's car were scattered near the hydrant.

A check of the area near the Lochmoor Club, where Mr. Marble told police he had been prior to the accident, disclosed that a utility pole had been struck. The glass was identical to that found on the car and near the hydrant. The witness to the accident was unable to identify the driver. Police impounded Mr. Marble's car which they released the next day.

Police charged Mr. Marble with drunk driving and leaving the scene of an accident. The court date has been set for July 28.

Erring Driver Damages Hydrant

The fire hydrant at the northwest corner of Fisher and Jefferson was damaged on July 17 when Marilyn K. Kaiser, of 1551 Oxford, made too wide a turn onto Fisher from Jefferson.

Police charged Miss Kaiser with a dual violation. She was issued one ticket for reckless driving and another for driving without having ever obtained an operator's license.

Mary Ann Queen, of 762 Trombley, received a ticket for permitting an unlicensed driver to drive her automobile.

Park Buys Coal, New Cars, Truck

Contracts were awarded to the concerns submitting the lowest bids on coal and motor vehicles by the City of Grosse Pointe Park council at the regular council meeting on Monday.

The Sterling Coal Company, which has supplied the Park with coal for the last four or five years, submitted the lowest bid again. The contract provides for a screened commercial type of coal.

Two bids were received from Chevrolet dealers on four vehicles for use by the Park fire department, police department and the department of public works.

Ray Whyte Chevrolet, whose bid was $962 lower than the other bid, was awarded the contract. Two vehicles will be assigned to the police department. The fire department will receive an emergency service truck which will be outfitted with small ladders, fire extinguishers and other equipment.

This small truck will substitute for one of the larger vehicles to service minor calls. A three-quarter ton pickup truck has been ordered for the public works department.

Der Bingle Gracious Host To Pointe Girls on Tour

Continuing a practice he began three years ago, Bing Crosby was again host last week at his Nevada ranch to the girls who made the California trip with Chet Sampson's station wagon caravan. The glowing accounts received from the girls indicate that it was a visit they will never forget, for their host spared nothing to make their stay a memorable occasion.

Arriving at the ranch in the afternoon, they stopped at a stream one mile from the ranch-house to freshen up for the meeting, only to have Bing ride up on his horse to greet them. He took them to the site he had selected for their stay, and after a long visit left them to set up camp and prepare dinner.

In the evening he and his sons returned with the dessert for the girls' dinner, and the entire group sat around the campfire and exchanged stories and songs, with Bing and the girls taking turns with the entertaining.

The staff had selected the evening to make its awards for the summer, Der Bingle graciously agreed to do the honors. In suitable ceremonies, marked by a great deal of humor, Crosby crowned Nancy Ramsay "Miss Sleeping Bag of 1951," as she was voted by the staff as the outstanding girl of the trip.

Her court, named the "Three Zippers" were Carol Fredericks, Alice Robertson, and Jo-Jo Holt. As an added thrill, Mr. Crosby presented Nancy with a beautiful beaver necktie, prepared from a beaver caught at the ranch. Pictures of the ceremony will appear soon in one of the movie magazines.

Other awards were made to Lee Eskridge as "Miss Sad Sack," the girl who looked sleepiest upon arising in the morning; and to Alice James as "Miss Feed Bag," the girl with the biggest appetite.

The following morning, Bing invited the entire group to his home where he suggested they make themselves at home. While he visited with some of them in the living room, showing them his collection of guns and other items, the rest took advantage of the opportunity to shower and clean up in Bing's private bath.

On August 3, he will again be host to the 50 boys who leave with Chet on Saturday for the same California trip.

The Crosby ranch, in northern

Nevada, is situated at 7000 feet above sea level at the foot of the snow-capped Rockies. Containing 20,000 acres, the chief activity is raising cattle, and the four Crosby boys earn their spending money each summer working as regular ranch hands on the ranch.

Two Parked Cars Figure in Crash

Ernest W. Nigg, 15, of 850 Balfour, driving east on Jefferson on July 17, hit a car parked on the south side of Jefferson between Lakeland and University place. The impact drove the parked car into the rear of another parked car.

Roy Schoenherr, of 4300 Grayton, and Donald Place, of 554 Notre Dame, are the owners of the parked cars.

Patrick Bourke, 15, of 860 Beaconsfield, a passenger in Ernest Nigg's car, was taken to Bon Secours Hospital. Six stitches were required to close cuts on his forehead and he was released.

Police issued Ernest Nigg a ticket for reckless driving causing an accident.

Darts in Front Of Car in Woods

Lincoln Maire, of 1864 Hollywood, reported to Woods police on July 18 that while driving east on Hollywood, a small boy darted from behind a parked truck into the path of his automobile.

Mr. Maire reported that he was traveling about 15 miles an hour and applied his brakes immediately. The motorist told police that the boy's hands struck the left front fender and that his left foot was pinched by the left front wheel.

At the sound of hastily applied brakes neighbors rushed to the scene of the accident. Mr. Maire told police that one of the spectators seized the boy and disappeared with him before Mr. Maire was able to obtain the boy's name.

Investigation revealed the boy to be Bill Babbage, 7, of 1374 Hollywood. The boy had been taken to a doctor who pronounced his injuries to be superficial and treated the boy for minor bruises.

The boy's mother told police that she had not reported the incident because it was the child's fault.

Major Road Repair Job Undertaken by County

One of the biggest road repair jobs to be undertaken by Wayne County in Grosse Pointe is underway on Moross road. The road repair crew is digging up all large cracked portions of concrete and refilling with new cement. Within two weeks, according to the crew foreman, the much traveled thoroughfare will be in good shape from Mack to Kercheval. The sewer opening between Williams and Beaupre, where the street floods with every big rain storm, are being worked on to carry away the excessive water. The county has received numerous complaints from Moross road residents about the buses causing heavy vibrations which are cracking the plaster in many of the new homes between Chalfonte and Mack.

Pointers Aid War Children

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Torosian, of Trombley road, have adopted two children, an 11-year-old Italian girl and a 15-year-old Hungarian boy, through the Foster Parents' Plan for War Children, Inc.

The adoption is financial not legal, with the foster parents contributing a set sum monthly towards the child's support for at least a year. The foster parents receive a photograph and a brief history of the child.

Mrs. Torosian stressed the satisfaction gained from the personal correspondence with the children which establishes a personal contact not derived from the mere sending of packages and funds.

The Torosians recently adopted a little Italian girl, Raffaella Ferrillo, whose father and infant sister perished during one of the bombardments of Naples preceding the Allied invasion. Raffaella's mother is supporting the four surviving children by working as a waitress.

The aid the family is receiving for Raffaella eases the burden for the family as a whole affording them a feeling of security. The Torosians have learned that Raffaella's favorite subject in school, she is in the fifth grade, is arithmetic.

In April the Torosians adopted a Hungarian boy, Gyula Csosko, under this plan. His parents, medical missionaries, were killed in a concentration camp during the Japanese invasion of the Dutch East Indies.

Aid from the Torosians has enabled the boy to enter a boarding school in Holland.

More than 60,000 children have been cared for under the Foster Parents' Plan since its inception 14 years ago, the organization stated. The plan which is currently in operation in Belgium, England, France, Greece, Holland and Italy is aimed at furnishing assistance without regard to race or creed.

From Another Pointe of View

by
Jane Schermerhorn

Sunday morning we thought we were up betimes... until we saw the queue which stretched for blocks at the Lake Shore road home of the late Frederick Sweet Stearns. Where a sale of the household effects was being held... We had never been to such a sale before... and couldn't repress a feeling of sadness to think that now, scattered far and wide, will be the background against which Freddie Stearns... and years ago his lovely wife, won their reputation as charming hosts... There was a feeling, too... that one by one the great homes of the Lake Shore are being dismantled... and, like the Truman Newberys', will be torn down because the atomic age makes prohibitive the maintenance of such estates...

A Gentle Home Passes

At five o'clock in the morning, people had started gathering for the sale... (this is hearsay, you may be sure!)... They filled the driveway where once motor cars hummed along carrying Pointers to the gay soirees synonymous with the Stearns... Strangers now stood around the sterling silver outlined dining room table... once the center of happy repartee... admired the treasured oils that graced the walls of the home... China, silverware, glassware were carried off... to become, we hope, as gentle appointments in their new homes as they were at 211 Lake Shore road...

"The Last Billionaire"

We snared into accompanying us on this sentimental journey... Mr. and Mrs. William C. Richards... (he the author of the best-seller on Henry Ford, "The Last Billionaire")... And the Day Was Made for Bill... when we found a lovely girl clasping in her hand a copy of his book... which she had selected from Mr. Stearns' library... We left the author on the ground floor, sending bright and admiring smiles in the direction of the girl with such excellent literary taste... while we climbed the stairs to the second floor... Here a little colored girl was trying on Balinese masks from Mr. Stearns' wonderful collection... (and she was doing it in the same spirit a little boy we knew used to wear a...)

Barbara Hannan Wed To Marvin Hofmann

Couple Speaks Vows at Ceremony in St. Mark's Methodist Church With Reception Following at the Whittier; Motor to Northern Michigan

The bride's favorite color—yellow—was combined with white at the altar of St. Mark's Methodist Church last Saturday afternoon when Barbara Diane Hannan was married to Marvin Hofmann at a 4 o'clock ceremony.

Golden and white blossoms were used in profusion in double arrangements at the altar rail where candelabra were streamered in the same pastel tones. Urns of the flowers decorated the chancel and were used in vases on the high altar, which was lighted by cathedral candleabra.

Barbara, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Hannan of Mapleton road wore a French court bridal gown of white silk net and Chantilly lace. Its slender bodice, which had narrow straps, was fashioned of net over lustrous satin and at the waist it billowed into the hooped, tiered skirt of net and deep lace. A short sleeved jacket of lace was worn at the church and her froth of silk illusion veiling fell from a cap of the same lace. She carried white roses in her bouquet.

Mrs. Charles R. Briner of Oakland, Md. was her cousin's matron of honor. She wore a bouffant gown of yellow nylon net, falling floor length. On her locks was a small cap of yellow and white flowers and she carried white and yellow rose buds.

Assisting the bridegroom as best man was John Lingo and the groomsmen were the bride's brothers, Dr. John E. Hannan Jr. and Horace Hannan, and Charles Briner.

Marvin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hofmann of Maddelein avenue.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Hannan chose a costume of bois de rose lace with a maline hat in Balenciaga tones. Her flowers were pink rose buds.

Mrs. Hofmann's brown lace gown was worn with matching flower chapeau and she wore vari-shaded yellow rose buds.

From the church ceremony, wedding guests went on to a reception at the Whittier. The bride's table held the tiered wedding cake which was flanked by low vases of white and yellow flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Hofmann left on a motor trip to Northern Michigan. They will go to Copper Harbor and before their return will visit a former classmate of the bride's Dorothea Simons, at the Summer home of her parents, The Timbers, near Roscommon, Mich.

They will make their home in their apartment of Maddelein avenue.

In the evening, Mr. and Mrs. Hannan entertained the out of town guests at a dinner in their home on Mapleton road.

The date is also the wedding anniversary of Nancy's parents.

Paula and Marilyn, Nancy's sisters, and Anne Oregren, are to be her attendants at the ceremony which will take place in Grosse Pointe Congregational Church.

Bob has asked his brother, J. Douglas Cooper to be his best man and ushers include Dan Fleming, Robert Carpenter, Glenn Kenney and John Packer.

Bridesmaid Nancy Oregren will give the spinster dinner on Aug. 7 and Nadine McCuiston has asked for a shower date when she'll compliment the bride-elect.

An Assinine Proposal

We don't know just how valuable time is to the individual members of the Farms Council, but we do know that it spent the better part of an hour at its Monday night meeting discussing one of the most assinine proposals we have heard in a long while. Results of the long, and often childish debate, were exactly zero.

It seems that a new fence ordinance is needed in the new city. In fact, the present ordinance appears to be so involved that the newest councilman, Daniel J. Goodenough, said he didn't know what some of the phraseology meant. The police department and City Engineer Murray Smith have been pleading for a new law which they would be able to interpret and enforce. It was pointed out that the present ordinance is being violated right and left by new residents building new homes.

There was no intention of passing a new ordinance Monday night. The idea was to hold a general discussion which would enlighten the committee members entrusted with framing the ordinance, as to just what the individual councilmen had in mind.

The argument started over the limit on the height of fences in back and side yards. It was finally agreed that providing a resident could obtain the permission of both adjoining neighbors, he could build a fence as high as eight feet in these off-the-street locations.

Then Councilman John Hutchinson came forth with the proposition that residents should also be allowed to build fences eight feet high across the front of their properties, provided they could get the permission of their neighbors. He argued that the city had no right to regulate on something that was purely aesthetic. Councilman Richard Maxon pointed out that the only reason the city would not allow business buildings more than two stories high, was because they would intrude on the aesthetic value of the community.

The wisecracks were many, most of them entirely irrelevant to the issue. Hutchinson was supported in his view by Councilmen Goodenough and George Schlaepfer. Opposed to the idea were Councilmen Maxon, Neil McEachin and William Kirby.

Mayor William Connolly was not present, so the vote, purely unofficial and merely for the purpose of obtaining information, was deadlocked.

We don't think there is any real cause for alarm, as it is extremely doubtful that such a clause will ever get into the new ordinance. But the idea that such a thing should be proposed and receive support in a council meeting seems more than slightly incredulous.

The Pointe is one of the most beautiful residential suburbs in America, largely because of its open spaces and non-fenced gardens and landscaped lawns which can be enjoyed by all of the people. Try and picture Kenwood road, Provençal road, Lake Shore road or any of the many others which are practically devoid of fences, if they were shut off from the public view by obstructions eight feet high. One might as well drive through an alley.

It is to be presumed, and fervently hoped, that even if such a provision did find its way into the Farms ordinance, the residents would show far greater vision than this group of councilmen who would ignore the city's aesthetic values.

There are few properties in the Pointe that do not have enough space in the rear or alongside the residence to allow plenty of room for the privacy which all desire. Let's not blot out all of the area's beauty by hiding it behind fences eight feet high.

OFF BASE AGAIN

Mr. Hutchinson also appeared to be way off base when he opposed authorization of expenses for any councilman wishing to attend the annual conference of the Michigan Municipal League, to be held at Mackinac Island on August 29, 30, 31 and September 1.

He was so vociferous in his objections to this proposal that he succeeded in getting the support of all the other councilmen present, with the exception of William Kirby, who complained bitterly about the shortsightedness of the move.

The Michigan Municipal League is an organization whose sole purpose is to improve municipal government. The services it performs are invaluable and the information it disseminates is vast, covering every phase of running a village or city in the most efficient manner possible.

The annual conferences draw an attendance of 800 to 1000 municipal leaders from all over the state, who pool their experiences and ideas and are able to take back to their home town many useful lessons.

Perhaps Mr. Hutchinson and the councilmen who supported him Monday night think they know all there is to know about running a city, but the conduct of Monday night's meeting indicated otherwise. It would seem that a large dose of the Mackinac sessions is sorely needed.

Grosse Exaggerations

A. PRYOR

"There is a new car called 'Le Sabre' into which was put much le labor. It has buttons by le score. Plus gadgets le galore. And was designed by a very good neighbor. (Believe us this isn't le booney. Now we look at OUR car and say, 'phooey!')"

We were inspired to write the above after "chasing" Harley Earl around several blocks on Sunday as he took groups of friends and relatives, (in relays) for short spins in the words-cannot-describe Le Sabre, which he designed. When we heard Le Sabre whizz by, we joined the rest of the cars that followed it and were reminded of a few years ago when we used to chase fire engines with the same amount of zeal. Since Mr. Earl and the Sabre were circling within a few blocks each time, the crowd of following cars became fairly sizable... so we gave up and opened a temporary lemonade stand on the corner he passed most. Did a nice business too!

This true story was told us by a local dowager and confirmed by the young man the story concerns. It seems that Madame discovered a HUGE hornet's nest fastened to the brick wall just outside of a bedroom window... a guest room that isn't often used. She called the Police and was told they would send a man over as soon as it became dusk. He would arrive with a bottle of whatever hornet's don't like... and presto, goodbye hornets.

Around 6:30 p.m., a young man arrived at her house and since she was busy with something or other in the livingroom, she called to him, "Are you here about the bees? He allowed as how he was... so she then said, "Come in. I'll take you to the guest room." She led the way to the room in question, the young man at her heels. On the way, she remarked, "I'll bet you've never seen anything as big as this." When they arrived there, she pulled aside the draperies, disclosing the hornet's nest and said, "Isn't that TREMENDOUS?" The opened-mouthed young man said that indeed it was... then he asked, "That's a hornet's nest isn't it?"

Our heroine looked at him a little startled and agreed that OF COURSE it was... and WHAT was he going to do about it! To which the frightened man exclaimed, "Who ME? I'm here from Meyers' Pharmacy with your Vitamin pills!"

After the first shock was over, the pair laughed their heads off... then it came out that when the little woman asked "are you here about the bees?"... the boy thought that was what she called her vitamin B pills. He didn't say what he thought when she insisted he accompany her to the guest room!

A young mother told us she became tired of her seven year old son coming home from school each day telling her he needed money for pencils, note books or rubber bands or some such school paraphernalia. Suspecting that the youngster wanted the money for gayer things than books and pencils... she finally told him that in the future, he would have to have a note from the teacher, saying he needed these things before she would hand it out.

A few days later, the boy brought her a note. It was written on a small piece of gummy paper and written with a stubby pencil. It read something like this: "Der Mrs. Blank, This iz to tel you that Nic haz to hav rubers and books and pensils. I thank you, respectivly, hiz teacher." A later check brought to light the old colored Mammy who presided over the household... as the culprit. In cahoots with sonny, that is!

Since the advent of our fallen arch, we have had to forego frivolous shoes, (our Doctor's expression, not ours), and take to what he calls "sensible" shoes. This is the last straw as far as we are concerned. We can still remember way back when a group of us Eastern GIRLS would be discussing another girl who lacked femininity and charm... and the way such a creature was usually described was, "She's the type who wears Dobbs hats, sensible shoes and eats her lunch at Alice Foote MacDougall's." Anyhoo, being the type who always does what her Doctor sez to do, (at five bucks a throw), we purchased a pair of clodhoppers that make us feel all feet and a yard wide. Already we have a complaint! What goes with shoe laces? Are ANYONE'S shoelaces long enough to make a decent small bow? By the looks of the lace before it is laced... one would imagine one could lace the shoes all the way up to the knee... but not so when the shoe is on the foot... and we don't mean the OTHER foot! We can just barely tie these and our "how" consists of the two tab ends on the laces. Why doesn't Sam-who-made-the-pants-too-long go into the shoelace business?

When Roland Gray's daughter Beverly left Ford Hospital last week, Bev's physician, Dr. Frank Sladen, tendered his goodbyes in the hospital room, after having released his patient. All well and good and formal. BUT, when Mr. Gray and his child arrived at their car... who was standing there for a final farewell, but Dr. Sladen... who had ALSO CARRIED Beverly's bags to the car and stowed them away! 'A darned nice gesture for the Chief of Staff of Ford Hospital to make.

We have just finished paying a passel of bills and we are annoyed, (as we are annually), by the enclosure envelopes sent by many tradesfolk. Everything but the store owner's birth date is on some envelopes... such as, "be sure you enclosed check"... "no stamp necessary"... "put stamp here"... "return address"... ad infinitum.

What gets us down is that with all this flossy folderol... the envelopes are NEVER large enough to hold the piece of bill the store wants returned! We have tried folding it in several different shapes and sizes until at times we have it down to the size of a postage stamp before it will fit. Why send enclosure envelopes at all if they won't fit what the store wants back, (besides your check, that is!) Oh, Bother! and Drat!

Protect Your Ears When Swimming

By Fred M. Kopp, R. Ph.

Germs in the water cause ear infections, and they are more dangerous when they enter through the nasal passage. So one of the best precautions is to breathe through the mouth and exhale only through the nose.

Bathing caps do not keep germs out, ear plugs or cotton do a good job. Leave the water before your body is chilled and avoid catching cold and lowering your resistance to infection. Don't swim in contaminated water.

Governor's Weekly Report

By G. MENNEN WILLIAMS
Governor of Michigan

MACKINAC ISLAND—It was my privilege last week to sit in on the hearings which Senator Elair Boody of Michigan held at the Federal Building in Detroit on the question of steel and other material shortages in Michigan industries.

Senator Moody is acting as a sub-committee of the U. S. Senate Small Business Committee. He is particularly interested in finding out whether small industries in this state are being starved for steel or other raw materials.

I was very happy to accept Senator Moody's invitation to take part in the investigation. I could not, of course, question witnesses on my own behalf, since it was an official Senate hearing. But Senator Moody, and Senators Ferguson of Michigan and Benton of Connecticut who attended part of the hearings, were kind enough to let me put, on their behalf, any questions which occurred to me.

VITAL TO MICHIGAN: I was glad to spend two days of my projected vacation time sitting in on the hearings because I think this question is of the utmost importance to Michigan.

Steel is the raw material of many of our great industries. And our small business enterprises are the backbone of our greatness as an industrial center. Unless the small industries of Michigan, as well as the big plants, can get adequate supplies of raw materials, we will not be able to play the role we must play in the nation's defense program—the role of the arsenal of democracy.

STEEL GRAY MARKET: The hearing developed definitely the fact that there is an overall shortage of steel, affecting both small and big industries. This shortage results largely from the failure of the steel industry to expand sufficiently to meet the demand.

Other testimony indicated that small business is being hard hit by a "gray market" in steel and other scarce raw materials. We heard one witness who was subpoenaed when he arrived at Willow Run Airport expecting to sell nickel to a small plant in the Detroit area. The witness admitted that he is able to get supplies of nickel which he sells for $4.50 a pound, compared with a normal price of about 65 cents. Some of this metal, the witness admitted, came from persons he described as "racketeers."

The Detroit plant could not get nickel because the government is rationing that metal, and has had to lay off its employees. But this operator from New Jersey is able to get plenty of it to sell at seven or eight times the normal price. Small industry cannot do its job and keep its employees at work under such circumstances.

RESULTS ALREADY: Senator Moody's sub-committee is doing a great service to Michigan in bringing these facts out so they can be corrected. The welfare of small business is not only essential to Michigan's prosperity, but it is important to our democratic way of life. The ability of small business to get a start, prosper and, if it fulfills a genuine public need, become big business, is basic to our private enterprise system.

Already the inquiry has produced some relief for little industry. The National Production Authority has modified its regulations to permit small business to get steel supplies without the quotas which affect large steel users.

VACATION: After the Detroit hearing, I came here to Mackinac Island for a few days of rest with my family. The vacation will have to be interrupted for several engagements. Among them is a scheduled trip to Detroit to be with President Truman for Detroit's 250th Anniversary celebration.

STATE FLAG: A great fuss was made recently because the State had to turn down, for lack of money, a request from a soldier in Japan for a state flag.

The facts are simple. The Legislature has not appropriated any funds for furnishing state flags. The State cannot sell or give away a flag. But we have been answering the requests of Michigan military units (requests made through proper military authorities) by loaning state flags to the units.

Only last week I received from Lt. Col. Melvin M. Vukich, adjutant general at Fort Jackson, South Carolina, a letter of thanks for receipt of a Michigan flag.

"Your action," said Lieut. Col. Vukich's letter, "symbolizes the faith of the people of your state in the men whose duty it is to repel the forces in the world that are attempting to destroy our American way of life."

Of course we cannot supply state flags to individual soldiers like the soldier who wrote to us from Japan. We just had to tell him there was no appropriation for this purpose.

PATRIOTISM: The flag of Michigan is a symbol of that state patriotism which should be encouraged among our people. I am heartily in favor of wide display of Michigan's blue banner, and I wish the Legislature would appropriate money for that purpose.

When I came into office in 1949 I found that the state flag was not being displayed on the capitol. In fact, we had only one tattered and moth eaten copy of it.

I immediately gave orders to purchase a supply and to fly the state flag at all times over the state capitol.

If you visit Mackinac Island while I am occupying the Governor's mansion here, you will also see the state flag flying on the bluff over my house.

They'll Be Battling It In A Few More Weeks

Woods police found the rear door of Mason School open on Saturday, July 21, and discovered several children in attendance. The same children, very likely, who would rebel most violently if compelled to spend a Saturday in school.

Police in checking also found the door at the top of the fire escape to be open. Foot prints were very much in evidence on the floor but police were unable to route anyone from this portion of the building.

After dismissing the children, police closed all windows and secured the building. Police said there was no damage.

QUITE A CHUNK

Michigan's share of the $8,500,000 foreign aid program proposed by the Truman administration in 1952 would be $425,000,000, Republican State Chairman Owen J. Cleary pointed out today. "That is $119,000,000 more than the entire State budget for next year," he said. "It amounts to $70.83 for every man, woman and child in Michigan. If the president's proposed $10 billion tax increase goes through, the burden on Michigan will be $500,000,000, or $194,000,000 more than our entire State budget."

Letters To The Editor

To the Editor:

In regard to Mrs. Ann Caroline Schrage's letter to the editor of July 19, 1951.

True enough there has been musical entertainment for the young and old at the Grosse Pointe Woods bathing beach, but there has been no dancing in bathing suits anywhere on the beach or lawn to the knowledge of the lifeguards or myself.

There have been announcements made such as baseball scores to the sports-minded fans and also there have been announcements made as do's and don'ts, such as picking up refreshment bottles or exposing beer cases on picnic tables, and also, the lifeguards who are appointed by the Red Cross training are on the alert at all times for the young and old while in bathing. No advertising whatsoever.

Ninety-nine per cent of the people enjoyed all the musical entertainment which was held July 15 and 22 through the courtesy of R. E. Rahn.

Respectfully,
R. E. RAHN,

To the Editor:

At the meeting of our board of directors Monday night I was requested to convey to you our deep appreciation for the very splendid cooperation your paper has given us in connection with our recent drive and carnival.

The board is grateful for this assistance, which indeed went a long way toward making these two undertakings the success that they proved to be.

Trusting you will convey our thanks to your staff also, we remain,

Very cordially yours,
ALGER SHELLEN,
President, Grosse Pointe War Memorial Ass'n.

July 17, 1951

Dear Mr. Edgar:

You are to be commended for being so steadfast in your devotion to a program of cooperation in government by the Grosse Pointe communities. I commend you because yours is a voice in the wilderness of stubbornness among the aristocracy.

It is most singular that elected officials and residents alike clamor for economy in Washington and bemoan the failure of Congress to curb inefficiency and overlapping while under the noses of staunch Republicans, saviors of the country, rises the aroma of economies in the services of Grosse Pointe to show the way.

I moved to Grosse Pointe to enjoy as fine a community as Metropolitan Detroit could offer. I expected to receive better service from better employees. And I expected those employees to be well paid in return. In the face of rising costs, known to even Grosse Pointers, some changes had to be and will have to be made. Or increase taxes to an even higher level to maintain duplication. Reducing personnel in the face of an increasing population is only postponing the facing of the issue.

They say the game of "follow the leader" is popular among adults as well as children. I would like to know who is a leader for the program besides yourself. Are the people in Grosse Pointe tenants or home owners?

Sincerely,
CLARENCE D. BLESSED,
President, Walker & Co.

Charles Tanner Finishes Basic Submarine Course

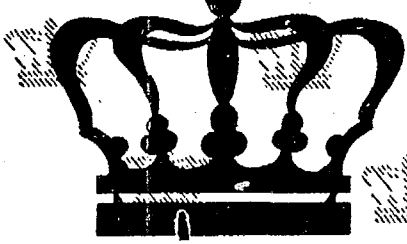

Charles S. Tanner, seaman apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Tanner of 928 Hampton road, Grosse Pointe Woods, was recently graduated from the enlisted basic submarine course at the U. S. Naval Submarine Base, New London, Conn., and has been assigned to duty with Submarine Squadron 8 based at New London.

The school prepares students to become members of submarine crews by giving them a basic knowledge of the skills involved in operating the undersea craft.

During the eight-week course, the students covered such subjects as compartmentation, machinery installations, and the fuel systems. Also, the ventilation, the trim and drain, and the compressed air systems. Further study was devoted to submarine escape procedure and radiological safety.

Local Star Fleet to Host State Championship Races

Regatta Will Be Held At Crescent Sail Yacht Club On Weekend of August 4 and 5; Bennett To Defend Title

By Fred Russell
One week from Saturday the Detroit River Star Fleet will play host to approximately 30 of the fastest Star boats in Michigan in the State Championship regatta to be held at Crescent Sail Y. C. on the week-end of August 4 and 5.

It marks the second time in history that the local fleet has sponsored the State championship event, the first being in 1947 after Dick Miller in "Fleet Star III" had won the title the previous year at Gull Lake with three consecutive firsts in the three race series.

May Set New Record
Boats from St. Joseph, Paw Paw Lake, Gull Lake, Mackinaw, Port Huron, Tawas and Sarnia Bay, Ontario will begin rolling into Crescent on Friday, August 3. If the entry reaches 30 boats as expected it will be an all time record for the event. Twenty eight boats is the present record, set in 1948 at Gull Lake.

Gordon Bennett is the present state champion, having won the title in an unprecedented sail-off last year against Bob Budeman of Gull Lake and Bob Cameron of St. Joseph after the three had finished in a tie after three races on Gull Lake.

Unusual Sailoff
The sailoff was unusual in this respect. In most series if there is a tie the officials determine the winner on the "horse race" method. Meaning the boat that has beaten the other the most number of times during the series gets the nod. Well, last year all three had a first, second and third which forced the sailoff, with Bennett edging Budeman by three boat lengths (66 feet), while Cameron became becalmed and dropped out after Bennett had gotten the winning gun.

The Detroit River Fleet is providing a windfall in prizes to go along with the famous, coveted

Upton Trophy, donated by the Upton family in memory of their son, who was a Star boat skipper, and who designed the trophy before his fatal sailboat accident several years ago.

Many Other Prizes
The prizes also include souvenir plaques donated by the Aquatic committee of Detroit's 250th Birthday Festival which will also award a bronze medal to the winner of the series.

Gold plated loving cups will be awarded to the first, second and third place skippers in the series and table lighters, donated by Wehling Brothers, will be given to their crews. The prizes for each race are gold, silver and bronze medals for both skipper and crew for the first three places.

The annual Michigan State Championship banquet will be held at Tassie's Tavern on Saturday evening, August 4, following a cocktail party at the Fleet Captain's home.

Officials Not Named
Detroit River Yachting Association officials yet to be named will be in charge of the event. The international flavor is added with the entry of boats from Sarnia Bay, Ontario. This in itself will be a novelty to most of the competitors but is old stuff to the local Star fleet inasmuch as it has five of its members from Canada who sail in the DRYA regattas and the fleet point score races each week. The Star class is the only one in the DRYA that enjoys this distinction here.

Miss Hoxie To Conduct Net Clinic

The Detroit Patrons Tennis Association, formed to foster the development of tennis in the metropolitan area, is offering local residents of all ages a fine opportunity to learn the fundamentals of the game.

Jean Hoxie, famed tennis coach from Hamtramck whose pupils have won 18 national championships in the last four years, will conduct a clinic at the Neighborhood Club from 10 to 12 a.m. on Tuesday, July 31.

Miss Hoxie will bring four of her younger pupils with her to assist in showing how youngsters can benefit by early lessons. The clinic will be open to residents of all ages. There will be no charge.

A Lion victory, coupled with the two defeats suffered by the Giants, enabled the Lions to take over first place in the standings, this week. The Giants, defending champions, not only lost a tough 5-4 decision to the Lions, but were also declared the losers to the Cubs when they used an over-age player.

The Bears, by winning two games this week, climbed into a tie for second place and are now threatening the league leaders.

Cub Division Notes
Hard hitting by the Broncos enabled them to score two wins this week and put them into a tie for first place. In their win over the Bears, the Broncos were aided by a grand slam homer off the bat of John Rogers during a ten run rally in the last inning.

Zuinn Bell won his second start for the Tigers as he pitched them to a 11-8 win over the Cubs and kept them undefeated in the league race.

The Tigers and Broncos meet on July 25th and this game no doubt will determine the league leader for the present round.

The Lions Club and the Metropolitan Club of Grosse Pointe have each contributed $50. Several men from the Metropolitan Club including vice-president Douglas Allor have joined the Better Fishing program committee. Forrest Geary of the Board of Education has also joined the committee.

Twenty-five prizes are to be awarded at the warm-up Fishing Rodeo to be staged on Saturday, August 4. The Better Fishing Rodeo, open to both boys and girls, is under the directorship of Dave Beauvais, representing the Park; Dell Page, representing the City; and Roland Gray, the Farms.

Piece of the Old Sod Gets Boys Into Trouble

Both youths admitted guilt but neither could supply a good reason for the destruction.

Police released the culprits to their parents with the understanding that the sod would be replaced.

Neighborhood Club News

After a week of rained-out games, the Neighborhood Club's Major Fastball League resumed play last week with a pair of very important games being played.

On Monday evening, July 16, in a battle for first place, Club L. A. edged Bob's Bar 4 to 3 in eight innings to retain the league lead. At the end of the regulation 7 innings, the score was knotted at 1 and 1. Bob's scored two in the top of the eighth to take a 3 to 1 lead. However, Club L. A. bounced right back in their half of the inning to score 3 big runs and take the decision.

On Tuesday, July 17, Hudson A. A. hung on to their play-off hopes by drubbing previously unbeaten Silver Boat Bar 11 to 1. Art Hausy allowed only one hit and walked one as he hung up one of the prize pitching performances of the season.

The first man to face Hausy got a fluke home run when his single to left field took a bad hop and carried over the head of leftfielder Ed Kamego. The only other man to reach first base also came in the first inning on a walk to catcher Bierhann. Hausy then retired the next 19 men in order.

Other scores: Steiner Ford, 7; Glenn Walker, 2; Lochmoor Hardware, 7; McLaughlin, 0; Eastern Heating, 2; Neault's, 1; New Brick Inn, 12; Onyx Bar, 3.

false face at Halloween... it was all right as long as it was on him and HE couldn't see it... otherwise it scared him to death)...

She walked off later with a huge box... containing some of the masks... and many of the feathered headdresses the Stearns used to wear to the Bal Poudre... and the old Scarab Balls...

Superior Young Men

A young woman was doing mental arithmetic as she clung to two white lapin bed throws, bordered in peche velvet...

Others were considering one of the lovely honey toned velvet boudoir settees of the upper floor...

Current fiction was being sold on that floor... and with our usual luck we ran into a contretemps between a visitor to the sale and one of the inevitable superior "Young Men Assistants"...

The visitor asked if there were any cook books in the modern library to which the YMA sniffed,

"There is something of everything, though the Stearns hardly did their own cooking"...

The Thoughtful Touch

The prodigious collection of luggage bespoke the habits of this global family...

Mr. Stearns' collection of canes and walking sticks... he was always such a dapper gentleman... consumed masculine attentions...

French furniture... tapestries... sterling bric-a-brac all went... and we kept remembering one Winter in Florida... many years ago... we were interviewing the Stearns at Miami Beach...

During the course of that visit Mr. Stearns left the room... and when he returned he brought a tube of Ungentine for our painful sunburn...

It was the kind and thoughtful sort of thing we always associated with Mr. and Mrs. Stearns...

Picnic Parties Can Be Simple

When the family says, "Let's have a picnic," a little planning will make mother's work easier. Whether you simply eat in the back yard or drive to a picnic spot, the homemaker can provide a nutritious meal without a lot of expense and work, says Mary Bodwell, food economist of the agricultural economics department of Michigan State College.

There are three types of outdoor meals the family can enjoy—cooking all their food over an open fire, preparing all the food at home, or cooking part of the food at home and part over an open fire.

Miss Bodwell gives these tips for preparing an appetizing picnic while keeping the cost low.

For campfire meals—choose a meat, such as weiners, hamburger fish or chicken, which can be easily cooked. Broiled steaks would add to the cost. Both sweet corn with the husks on and potatoes can be roasted in the coals.

Serve raw vegetable relishes, fresh fruit in season and a beverage. This assures a balanced picnic meal at reasonable cost.

For a picnic basket meal—select a hot casserole dish. Baked beans, a meat casserole or fried chicken are among those reasonable in cost. Add scalloped potatoes or potato salad and a vegetable salad, gelatine salad or relishes. Cabbage salad, carrot strips and sliced tomato are favorites for low cost. Fresh fruit in season, cookies or cake make easy to eat desserts served with a cold or hot beverage.

For a combination meal—choose something easy to cook or something you can "warm-up" over the campfire as the hot dish. Weiners, fish, or hamburgers, bacon and eggs, or a vegetable heated over the fire will do the trick. Add whatever other foods you had planned for a home meal and the family will be satisfied. Keep the menu as simple as possible so that mother can also enjoy the picnic. Extra cooking and dishwashing are no picnic. Simple foods served easily and without fuss out-of-doors will always insure a good picnic.

Back in 1886 Michigan State averaged better than 16 runs per game for the season.

My very personal thanks to my Unit for endorsing me and to the Delegates of the Detroit Districts for electing me their Sgt.-at-Arms for the coming year. Congratulations to President-elect Vi Starkey and all her officers on their being elected to the various offices.

Important notice, girls! The Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center will be closed the entire month of August so, of course, we will have no meeting that month.

It's nearly convention time again and we want you to know that your President and Secretary who are your Delegates, will have a room at the Statler Hotel which will be open to all Unit members at any time.

We want to extend congratulations and best wishes to Commander-elect Howard White-scarver and all other newly elected officers of our Post. Their installation will be held at the Veterans Memorial Building (downtown) on August 9, so please plan to attend.

My very grateful thanks to Faust Post No. 113 and especially to Sr. Vice-Commander Fred Poole for sponsoring me as one of their candidates in the All American Legion Girl Contest.

Now that I've had my vacation, I will try to bring you up-to-date on the latest news.

We had loads of fun at our social meeting last Monday night playing cards, eating and what have you. We're very grateful to all who came out and helped to give us a nice little sum for our General Fund. Many thanks to all who so generously donated toward this party.

Here's a great idea for you gals to help out our General Fund. Americanism Chairman Isabelle Thoman sold all her newspapers and saved her spare pennies, giving her a total of $5.00 which she turned over to President Elva Nielsen at our social meeting. It's things like these that make you so grateful for the wonderful people you have working with you. A million thanks to you Isabelle—we do appreciate your thoughtfulness and generosity!

MID-SUMMER MEMO

ONE OF THE MOST FASCINATING WOMEN in Grosse Pointe is four year old Kathie Smith, daughter of the Thomas Smiths of Allard road.

She's tiny and tow-headed; blue-eyed and beautiful. At a recent children's party she sought the older boys. "Do you think my blonde hair is pretty?" she quietly asked, fixing one with candid stare.

He said he did. In loud, clear tones she proclaimed, "THANK YOU" ... in the manner of having received an unsolicited compliment.

Finished with that gent, she paddled over to another member of the junior stag line:

"Do you like me?" sotto voce.

Maybe a little embarrassed, he nevertheless said he did.

"THANK YOU!" in the same surprised, enchanted style.

If she keeps up we predict she'll own the length of Lake Shore road and will have it fenced in and monogrammed by the time she's thirteen.

JULY CHIC:

The pale pink frock worn by MRS. THEODORE A. MCGRAW (Helen Stoepel) at one of the parties just prior to her marriage earlier this month ... the dress had white sleeves and a big white monogram embroidered on a bodice pocket. Worn with a wisp of a white straw chapeau perched saucily on her pretty dark head.

FOR SALE ... CHEAP ... the haughty young matron who keeps telling all her friends (in a sad, sweet way) that her frocks, her house, her boat, her china, etc. are more than they could possibly afford ...

PILFERINGS

The Sunday Pictorial of the Detroit Times thoughtfully collected these for us this week:

"Regardless of how many or how few birthdays you've had, you're old if it takes you longer to rest than it does to get tired."

—Ill. West Argus.

"Gad, I feel stupid," said the glow-worm to another. "I've been talking to a cigaret butt for the last 10 minutes."

—Air University Dispatch.

And from the New York Times:

The 15 best Russian jokes, not passed by the censor, were compiled by Bertram D. Wolfe for the paper's magazine section ...

The old woman sighed, "thank God" as she finally managed to squeeze into a Moscow subway car.

"You shouldn't say that, citizen," a Red Army soldier rebuked her. "You should say, 'Thank you, Stalin, for the Moscow subway'."

They rode in silence for a while then the old woman asked, "But what if Stalin dies?"

"Oh, then," said the soldier, "you can say, 'thank God'."

During the first five year plan an American pilgrim was ushered into the director's office of a model Russian factory.

He stared wide-eyed at the production chart hanging on the wall. "Oh yes," said the director, "During the first year we produced only 5000; the second year, 50,000; the third, 500,000. This year we'll probably make a million."

"Is that so? May I ask what you are producing?" asked the visitor.

The director reached out to the belt conveyor and pulled off a little brass tag for the visitor to inspect. It read: The elevator isn't running.

BRITISH CONSUL GENERAL WILLIAM N. STOREY

In a cloud-high office in the Guardian Building this week we found a bit of England just as certainly as if we had crossed the ocean.

The great seal of England was on the door we opened to find a pretty office girl taking down some data from a young man who was speaking with a British accent.

On a library table there were all manner of pamphlets telling of the joys of motoring in England ... the things to do at the British Festival this year ... air mail editions of the Manchester Guardian ... and copies of The Spectator.

On one wall were full length portraits of Their Majesties, King George VI and Queen Elizabeth and far off in a corner of the office there was a neat and busy young woman keeping her mind on her work in most un-American fashion.

The Consul General

You see, these were the outer offices of the British Consul General at Detroit, William N. Storey, who moved to the Pointe this January with his wife and daughter, Sylvia.

We passed many other tidy offices before arriving at the private one of Mr. Storey who greeted us graciously and then, (though he says his years in foreign service have made him a stranger in his own country) became so British we were sure he'd never answer our silly questions.

His hobbies run to music, squash racquets and outdoor sports such as golf and riding (which accounts for his tanned complexion) and he confesses no such unusual interests as have consumed some of his predecessors in the Detroit office.

One of the most wonderful was Mrs. Leslie C. Hughes-Hallett who wrote poetry and operas and collected snakes and white mice. She had a caller at the office here long after she had quit these parts. It was a gorilla's keeper. That's all we could learn.

Prepared as he was for life as a career diplomat, Mr. Storey has moved about the globe fitting himself nicely into the life and culture of each different country.

The world rocking times through which he has lived (he was in France when the 1918 armistice was signed—in Buenos Aires at the time of the Munich crisis—present at the signing of the Atlantic Pact) have kept his mind occupied with history as it's made.

Linguist

Born in the North of England, the son of a contractor, his education was beamed toward his career. As a very young man he spoke "my own language and a smattering of American" as well as Spanish, Danish, French and German.

In the course of years divided between Cologne, Coblenz, Weisbaden (with the Inter-Alleied Rhineland Commission) Copenhagen, Buenos Aires, Washington and finally Detroit—he married (met his wife on a visit to England) and became the father of personable Sylvia who graduated last year from Malenkrodt College in Buenos Aires.

Mrs. Storey and Sylvia remained in Buenos Aires when the head of the house was sent to Washington where as counsellor he served at the British Embassy under Lord Inverchapel.

Becoming Pointers

He arrived in Detroit as Consul General in 1949 and was here

10 months before his family joined him.

There was a four month holiday last year in England and now these charming Britishers are in the process of settling down and becoming Grosse Pointers.

Far away seem levees at the royal palace in London, the balls at the Royal Court in Denmark. Instead Mr. Storey can tell more things about all the important cities across the United States than most Americans.

And the United States he has taken in stride.

If he has ever been perplexed by any of our customs, he'd recount a situation at Pennsylvania Station, New York when he was on his way to Washington.

Accustomed to standing on the platform waiting for his train, he found himself, instead, locked outside a gate.

His watch told him the train was due to leave in seconds. The gate remained locked. All the Red Caps vanished. He could hear the engine getting up steam, imagined the wheels beginning to turn.

At the Very Last Moment, a man opened the gate and the Career Diplomat fled madly for his train. Somehow his luggage got there, he got there and to Washington.

But the thing unnerved him. Now he's skittish about American trains and prefers to go by motor, whenever possible.

Parking Meters Produce $7,505

The 100 parking meters which Grosse Pointe Farms purchased in November, 1949, for installation along the business frontage in the Kercheval on the Hill district, have produced collections up to July 1 totalling $7,505.64. Cost of the meters was $6,100.

Under the purchase agreement with the Magee Hale Park-O-Meter Company, the city pays for the meter on the basis of one-half of its collections each month.

Payments to the company so far have totalled $3,752.82, leaving a balance to be paid of $2,347.18. At the present rate the meters will be completely paid for in another 10 months and the Farms will then be able to pocket all of the collections.
