HEADLINES

of the
WEEK
As Compiled by the Grosse Pointe News

Thursday, October 11

AUTO OUTPUT TO BE CUT
13 per cent beginning January 1 by order of the Defense Production Administration. A 30 per cent cut for the first quarter of 1952 had been considered. Defense officials ruled out the higher percentage because of the threat of serious unemployment in the auto industry.

LARGEST HELICOPTER AIR-LIFT in history completed today by the U. S. 1st Marine Division. A battle-equipped battalion, comprised of about 1,000 troops, was transported from a rest area to a spot behind the front lines in Korea. Twelve helicopters began the shuttle service when the fog lifted. Landings were in full view of Communist hill positions. The Reds did not interfere.

NEW ANTI-BRITISH DEMONSTRATIONS break out in Alexandria and Cairo. Two British warships set out today for Egypt. The new troops will arrive in Egyptian waters by the weekend, according to a British military spokesman. He emphasized that these troops would replace national servicemen. Riots began with decrees abolishing the 1936 treaty with Britain.

HOUSE VOTES 4 BILLION 200 million dollars for U. S. military defense bases to be built around the world. House prepared to approve appropriation of seven and one-half billion for foreign aid. The military construction bill was approved 299 to 19. The bill has been referred to the Senate.

Friday, October 12
OUTPUT OF CONSUMER GOODS requiring the use of metal to be cut 11 1/2 percent starting January 1, the Defense Production Administration announced today. Non-essential products using critically scarce copper and aluminum to be curtailed drastically. This may affect such items as venetian blinds and other articles for which plastics and other substitutes could be used.

TAX INCREASE OF $5,750,000,000 approved by a Senate-House conference committee yesterday. This measure is scheduled for House action next Tuesday. It will then be referred to the Senate. Both are expected to approve it. The bill calls for sharp increases in excise taxes on certain items. This increase, among other considerations, would boost the levy on most individual incomes by better than 11 percent.

KOREAN RIDGE CAPTURED today climaxing the longest and most costly hill battle of the Korean War. American and French infantrymen cleared the last Reds from the ridge with bayonets. Two other peaks in the eastern Korean mountains were taken by the Allies today.

BURROUGHS ADDING MACHINE employees voted overwhelmingly for "no union" at a National Labor Relations Board election. This is a tribute to Burroughs' labor relations policies. The UAW-CIO was given the worst defeat of its history. The vote was 5,436 for no union to 890 for the UAW-CIO and 303 for the United Electrical Workers Independent.

Saturday, October 13
DETROIT BAKERY STRIKE ends with 1,500 AFL bakers granted a five-cent hourly pay hike. The agreement provides for reopening of the plants tomorrow so the bakers, idled since September 14, can bake bread for delivery on Monday. Other benefits are a guaranteed 7 1/2 hour day, three weeks vacation after ten years and a five-cent increase in night differential pay. The five-cent hourly pay hike is retroactive to August 1.

BRITAIN ORDERS TROOP reinforcements in the Sudan and joins other western allies in extending invitation to Egypt to enter a Middle East defense pact against Communist aggression. Britain strengthened its guard posts in the Suez Canal and issued an order to troops to "shoot to kill" in case of any attack.

Abandoned Infant Poses for First Picture

—Picture by Fred Rumlund

This abandoned baby was found on the rear door step of the William B. Cudlip home at 900 Lake Shore road on Thursday, October 11. Miss Mary Lou Cudlip found the baby at 9:45 a. m. and notified Police Chief Orville C. Ingalsbe. Officers Victor Hallberg and Earl Wakely rushed the infant to Cottage Hospital, where he posed for this picture on Friday, with NURSE DOROTHY ELBELL. The box she is holding is the one in which little John Doe was found. Dr. A. Z. Rogers said the infant had suffered no ill effects from the chilly weather. The baby was estimated to be about 4 to 6 hours old. Mrs. Martha Klingenstein, an employee at 888 Lake Shore, said she saw a light tan or gray car pull away from the Cudlip home just before the baby was found. Miss Cudlip found the baby wrapped in a piece of thin cotton sheeting in a cardboard box.

Mum Show Scheduled For Center

Private, Professional Exhibit To be Held Tuesday Through Sunday

Chrysanthemum lovers are to be given a chance to see a vast array of specimen blooms at a special show being staged by the Grosse Pointe Garden Center in the Memorial Center starting at 10 a. m. Tuesday, October 23, and running through Sunday.

Good Mum Year
Chrysanthemums have been especially beautiful this year and are expected to be right at their height at the time of the show.

Both private and professional growers will display their specimens, all correctly labeled to enable those interested to make selections for next year.

Special Arrangements
The main display will be in the central lounge of the Center, but there will be special arrangements contributed by invitation, by neighborhood florists and garden club members, all through the building.

The public is invited to see this unusual display in a magnificent setting.

Hit-Runner Trying to Duck Rap Calls Wrong Policeman

Woods Police Officer Albert Abend solved a St. Clair Shores hit and run accident Sunday, October 14, by some smart deductions. Officer Abend received a call to the rear of the Woods Theater. Richard D. David, of 11727 Elm Dale, told him that the front end of his car had been smashed in while he was in the theater.

Abend questioned David as to where his car was parked and if he drove it after the accident. David told him that it was parked near the center light tower and that he drove it about 200 yards to the edge of the parking lot.

Officer Abend examined the car and found the right front tire worn down to the cord from

Program for Civil Defense Of Pointe Shows Progress Despite Action By Shores

Village Decides It Wants No Part of Joint Effort; City and Park Announce Appointments of Air Raid Wardens

Grosse Pointe City and Park have announced the appointments of chief air raid wardens for their municipalities and George Elworthy, Civil Defense Coordinator for the Pointe, announced that blood typing of Pointe residents is due to begin soon.

City Clerk Norbert P. Neff, who is acting as civil defense director for the City, appointed John M. Finlayson, of Rivard boulevard, as chief air raid warden for the City.

Oscar B. Marx, Jr., of Lakepointe avenue, has been appointed chief air raid warden for the Park by City Manager Everett B. Lane.

Grosse Pointe Farms and Woods have yet to appoint air raid wardens for their municipalities.

These wardens are to meet with District Chief Air Raid Warden Lansing M. Pittman at the Neighborhood Club on Monday, October 22.

Shores Withdraws

Mr. Elworthy stated that he had received a letter from Thomas Jeffers, Superintendent of the Shores, advising him that the Shores prefers to carry on its own civil defense program.

Approval was obtained from James Bushong, superintendent of Grosse Pointe Public Schools, for the use of school clinics as blood typing centers. Mr. Elworthy said that he will make further arrangements with the individual school principals.

The blood typing will be done at state expense. However, the promotional aspects of the blood typing program will be at local expense, Mr. Elworthy stated.

Police To Help

The local police department will cooperate in this program by assisting with the transfer of the blood typing kits from Herman Kiefer Hospital to the Pointe and back again each day.

School children will need their parents' permission to be typed, it was reported. Each resident who has his blood typed will be sent a tag bearing his blood type, religion, name, address and serial number.

Permanent Record

A permanent record of this information will be kept in the community and in Lansing. Should a need develop for a blood transfusion, it can be given without delay with the knowledge of the correct blood type.

The local Civil Air Patrol group is expected to become associated with the local civil defense program, Mr. Elworthy said. The group can be of aid to the program by serving as observers and by making emergency runs in case of disaster.

TO EXTEND RIDGEMONT

Murray M. Smith, City Engineer, for Grosse Pointe Farms, reported to the city council at its regular meeting Monday, October 15, that he has received $15,096 from the property owners of the proposed Ridgmont road extension. Mr. Smith said that he hopes the construction company will have the sewers and water in before the end of November.

10-Year-Olds Confess to School Thefts

Four Gratiot Township Youngsters Will Be Turned Over To Juvenile Authorities

Four Gratiot Township boys, all just 10 years old, were released to their parents by Woods Police last week. Police picked the boys up after one of them confessed that he and three buddies broke into the Mason school three times in September.

They told police that they stole pens, pencils, wallets and flashlights. They also admitted drinking all the pop that was kept on hand for school parties.

Police got their first clue because one of the boys cut his hand trying to break a window to gain entry. Apparently, while trying to stop the bleeding, he dropped a piece of paper with a boy's first name on it.

Woods police alerted the St. Clair Shores police to watch for a boy with a bandaged hand. The following day St. Clair Shores police picked the boy up. Woods police questioned the boy, who admitted that he and his three pals broke into the school. They also admitted breaking into the St. Joan of Arc school in St. Clair Shores.

When asked how they got to the Mason and St. Joan of Arc schools the boys told Woods Police Chief Walter Goulette that they rode down on bicycles they had stolen. Chief Goulette said the boys will be turned over to the juvenile authorities.

A blistered fender and damaged wall and roof were the result of a fire in a refuse can in the garage of Cecil A. Patterson, 1177 Efford court, Saturday, October 13. The Woods police saved the car and put the fire out before more damage could be done. The cause of the fire is unknown.

United Foundation Drive Launched By Henry Ford, II

Throngs Attend Rally on High School Grounds as Boy Scouts Race for Honor of Lighting Huge Torch for Annual Drive

At a mass turn out of Grosse Pointe men, women and children Tuesday evening at a United Foundation torch-lighting rally on the High School grounds, Henry Ford II called personal sacrifices in home communities the best way to guarantee survival of freedom and personal liberties.

Mr. Ford reminded hundreds of Grosse Pointe neighbors that when a community or a city can't take care of its own local needs, a government agency steps in to take over the job for orce and for all.

"Measuring Stick"

Mr. Ford called the United Foundation drive a "measuring stick" of community loyalty and pride which is "simple to read and easy to understand." He predicted achievement of the U.F. goal, based on the 100% civic spirit which he believes exists.

The rally got off to a resounding start when Grosse Pointe High School, bandleader, D. D. Kalember, raised his baton at 7:15. Spirited music stirred the crowd's enthusiasm, while relay runners were warming up at their posts, up to two miles away.

Winner Lights Torch

Six relay teams, each made up of 12 Boy Scouts, raced to the giant torch at the corner of Grosse Pointe boulevard and Fisher road. The anchor runner of the winning team used the small torch-baton his team had carried to light the giant torch. Mr. Ford personally congratulated the winning scouts, all of whom were on hand at the finish line.

Master of ceremonies Joseph Mainline, WJR News Commentator, announced the progress of the relay race from police car radio reports. He also introduced the mayors of the five Grosse Pointe communities; the Grosse Pointe Torch Drive Co-chairmen, Mrs. J. J. O'Brien and Mrs. J. A. Mullen; Business Chairman Al Meyer, and the Residential Chairman, Mrs. Richard Jackson.

Searchlights and Sirens

A huge searchlight, loaned by the Detroit Illuminating Company, reached silver fingers of light into the sky throughout the rally. Police sirens during the race added to the excitement. Dr. Frank Fitt, rector of the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, delivered the invocation.

Cardboard Starts Burglar Alarm

A piece of cardboard was responsible for setting off the burglar alarm on October 14, at the Whittier Cleaners, 15010 Charlevoix.

The piece of cardboard had been temporarily fastened over the skylight on the roof of the cleaning shop.

It had fallen through the skylight and become entangled in the wiring of the alarm system, police said.

A routine investigation of the building disclosed no evidence of an entry, police stated.

PARKING METER "TAKE"

Harry Furton, Farms city clerk reported Monday, October 15, that the city collected $342.25 from its parking meters during the month of September. The total amount collected to date is $4,893.75. The cost of the meters was $6,100. Mr. Furton said the city still owes $1,853.13 on the meters.

Busy Burglar Enters Three Homes for Net Gain of $7

The thief who entered three homes in Grosse Pointe Park on Saturday, October 13, netted only $7 in his quest for money, Park police said.

The burglar entered the Jerome Marchand home at 882 Lakepointe while the family was asleep. He made his entry by forcing a north grade door.

A purse and small articles of clothing were found across the street from the Marchand home, between two houses. After removing the $7, the thief discarded the purse. The Clarence Speier home at

Don't Fence Us Out, Say Neighbors

Farms Council Hemmed In By Long Arguments Over Fellow Solon's Barrier

A fence dispute threw the Farms council into such a dither on Monday night that at the end of an hour and a half confusion still reigned.

The fence in question is owned jointly by Daniel W. Goodenough, of 234 Lothrop road, a Farms councilman, and George Rieveschl, of 232 Lothrop road. Along the Charlevoix side of the property the fence stands 15 feet above the sidewalk in one place. It is erected on a stone retaining wall of varying height.

Probe Ordered

A group of Mt. Vernon and Charlevoix residents, entered a complaint at a previous council meeting. It was decided that Farms Engineer Murray Smith and City Attorney Henry Maurer would take measurements of the fence and give an opinion as to whether the fence complied with the ordinance governing height.

At Monday's meeting, James Bloink, of 242 Merriweather road, acting as spokesman for the objectors, told the council that the fence depreciated their property and that it did not comply with the city ordinance.

Maurer Against It

City Attorney Maurer stated he thought the fence was in violation but that several other attorneys, with whom he had discussed the fence, thought otherwise.

Mr. Goodenough, who had been mute concerning his fence at the previous meeting, said that although he wishes he had canvassed the neighborhood before erecting it, he thinks it complies with the ordinance.

The Farms council directed Mr. Maurer and Mr. Bloink's attorney to submit written opinions at the next regular meeting. The council will then render a decision.

He entered the service April 1, 1951. His basic training was at Lackland and Sheppard Air Force Bases in Texas. Pfc. Wood took special aircraft and engine mechanic's training at the J. & J Aircraft Inc., Sarasota, Fla.

Pfc. Wood attended Michigan State in East Lansing, prior to entering the service.

Honor Bestowed On Police Chiefs

Two Pointe police chiefs have been named to committees by Chief Floyd Crichton, president of the Michigan Association of Chiefs of Police. Crichton heads the Lincoln Park Department.

Chief Arthur Louwers of the Park has been named to the Civil Defense Committee and Chief Tom Trombly of the City has been appointed a member of the Communications Committee.

Burning Paper Put in Mailbox

The Grosse Pointe Post Office told Woods police that on Wednesday, October 10, someone had dropped a lighted piece of paper in the mailbox at Mack and Roslyn road, destroying a number of letters. Police said the incident did not look accidental.

Finnish Teacher Loves America

"I like it very, very much more so all the time," declared Miss Margaret Grigorkoff, a teacher from Finland, who is observing American teaching methods in weekly visits at Grosse Pointe High School.

Miss Grigorkoff divulged interesting facts about Finnish life in answer to the questions of journalism students.

She stated that Finnish students begin at the age of 7 and continue until they are 16. They must meet extremely high academic standards, and they spend the last two years of high school preparing for stiff examinations.

Miss Grigorkoff is an instructor of English for six different grades.

The visitor also told about Finnish sports. Football is a milder sport than American and is a lot like soccer. Because of the cold climate the most popular sports are skiing, skating, and bandy, a form of hockey. Many of the children ski to school.

Miss Grigorkoff said that she likes best of all the friendliness of Americans and would like to come here again some day. However, she expects that she will "have to stick to old Finland."

She will be here until January.

Nobody ever finds a better D-E-A-L than Tom Boyd's!

'An Opportunity... Not a Chore

The following comments were made by Henry Ford II, president of Ford Motor Company, at the opening of the United Foundation drive in Grosse Pointe at a meeting on the grounds of the Grosse Pointe High School, Tuesday evening, October 16, at 7:30 p. m. They express the spirit that should motivate a campaign such as this and we welcome the opportunity to use them in the form of a guest editorial. . . . Editor's note.

From time to time, almost all of us become aware of a feeling of special pride for the neighborhoods in which we live. In various ways, we sense an obligation to the immediate community, and we assume a share of the responsibility for its advancement and development.

This allegiance to a locality often approaches, but never challenges, the larger loyalty we owe to the surrounding city, to our state, or to the nation.

I am sure that everyone here tonight must enjoy such a sense of purely local pride for all the communities in the Grosse Pointe area. Your very presence at a gathering of this kind testifies to your interest in your neighborhood and in your neighbors.

This community always has been home for me, and I am grateful when I can take part in the activities which help to make it so outstanding. I am particularly pleased to join with you in opening our 1951 Torch Drive—a civic venture which needs the cooperation of everyone so that all may benefit.

The degree of success we achieve in the campaign this year can be an accurate gauge of the real value of our community pride. If we need a measuring stick, here's one that is simple to read and easy to understand. If our civic spirit is 100 per cent effective, and there's no reason to think that it isn't, then we should have no difficulty in achieving 100 per cent or more of the United Foundation goal assigned to us.

The job of raising this money isn't going to be an easy one, but we should look upon the work involved as an opportunity, and not an unpleasant chore. It's an opportunity for us to take care of certain needs that might otherwise be handled by some government agency. It's an opportunity for us to preserve local standards without forfeiting our rights and privileges in exchange for the favors of an outside authority.

We are fortunate that we can stand here on the lawn of our local public high school tonight and light a torch as a symbol of cooperation. In other nations I have visited, schools have been destroyed, and only too often a torch inspires fear—not hope.

The lighting of this torch, signifying the official opening of our drive, should kindle in all of us a desire to back up the pride we profess for our communities. Further, and even more important, it should be a sharp reminder of the liberties and freedoms we possess—the same liberties and freedoms which others have forfeited because they refused to make sacrifices at the community level and readily surrendered their responsibilities to a powerful state.

Hats Off for Senator Taft

Senator Robert A. Taft, "Mr. Republican," has tossed his hat into the ring as a candidate for President. From where we sit, it's a right nice looking fedora and it's a comfort to know that the head it fits is filled with a great deal of the intellect and common sense which this country needs so badly today.

We had the pleasure of sitting in on Mr. Taft's press breakfast when he was in town Monday, and of hearing him again when he addressed 1,500 Republican leaders in the Masonic Temple Monday night. We liked what we heard and can go along with his ideas on what is wrong with the government and his prescription for a remedy.

Senator Taft told newsmen at the press conference that he regarded the three paramount issues of next year's campaign as: 1) Integrity in Government. 2) Freedom of Government from such socialistic trends as regulatory measures, Brannon Plans and socialized medicine. 3) Foreign policy failures of the Administration and the lack of judgment that has "gotten us into this mess." There ought to be plenty of fodder there for a smart candidate, which we are sure Mr. Taft is. Witness his Ohio campaign.

The Senator's fighting Detroit address was pregnant with perspicacity. He flatly declared that the Korean war was unnecessary and could easily have been avoided if we hadn't placed Russia in the same position in the Far East which Japan had occupied. He was most uncomplimentary to the State Department and to Mr. Acheson in particular, with which we can agree.

There is a tremendous need for a return to the things which Mr. Taft advocates. He cited to the newsmen the sad situation which obtains, wherein millions of youngsters have never known the time when the country was not run by Administrations which have disregarded personal freedom and have constantly led the way towards socialism and threatened economic and moral bankruptcy. He asks for a chance to show these people that there is another and better system.

Our hat is also off, to a candidate who is fearless, honest and possessed of the qualities which our present leadership so sadly lacks.

Grosse-Exaggerations

A. PRYOR

"Twenty years hence my eyes may grow
If not quite dim, yet rather so,
Still yours from others they shall know
Twenty years hence.
Twenty years hence though it may hap
That I be called to take a nap
In a cool cell where thunder clap
Was never heard;
There, breathe but o'er my arch of grass
A not too sadly signed 'Alas',
And I shall catch, ere you can pass,
That winged word."

(Walter Landor)

There is something about the things people pack in suitcases to take on a trip, that fascinates us. That's probably why we got such a kick out of the following, told us by a local woman, who recently had the doubtful pleasure of driving her mother to a small town in upper Michigan. Mother dear was going to stay for TWO weeks at the home of her married son. So she could baby-sit at length, while the couple took a short vacation. It was agreed that she would have her suitcase (singular) packed and ready at such and such a time, when her daughter would pick her up in the station wagon and take her to her destination.

On the appointed morning, the daughter arrived to find everything in the house in confusion, with her mother tearing aimlessly about throwing things into THREE suitcases and a couple of large baskets! When her daughter remonstrated, mother declared she would NEED all the stuff she was taking and no amount of persuasion would budge her an inch. Our informant mentioned several of the things her mother threw in the clothes baskets and if we didn't know she was a woman of honor, we wouldn't believe a word of it.

Here is a partial list: several wire coat hangers, a metal rack for drying stockings, small odds and ends of soap, two almost empty glasses of jelly, two jars of something from the refrigerator. . . little dabs of unknown former meals that she didn't "want to waste." She also tossed in two tubes of toothpaste that were squeezed so flat and rolled up so far, the name of the paste was no longer visible; a book of wallpaper samples, a hydrater from the icebox that contained a few old carrots and odd ends of tired celery, a pound box of candy that now contained only three gray pieces. . . and the piece de resistance. . . a rolling pin!

When her daughter asked what THAT was for, she declared that she might want to make a pie while she is there. . . and that "they" may not have a roller she liked. She was used to her own! Our heroine said that when they got under way, she felt like a character in Tobacco Road. She literally "prayed" that when they arrived, they'd be spared the humiliation of any neighbors hanging about to see the performance. We think it funny as all get out. . . and it certainly tops the list of all packing we've ever heard of for a two weeks vacation in the middle of civilization.

Last weekend, a local couple entertained at a cocktail party for an out of town guest who was visiting some friends in the Pointe. The lady guest was driven to the party by her host. . . and since it was drizzling slightly and since he had to park the car, he let her out at the door and suggested she go on in and he'd follow in a few minutes. The guest swished up the walk. . . listening the while to the sound of merry laughter and happy tinkling of glasses that came through the open windows. It promised to be a lovely party. When she reached the door and pressed the bell, a neat maid came to answer the summons, opened the door, peered at the "new-to-her" face of the guest of honor and asked primly, "Were you invited to the party?" Our heroine admitted rather helplessly that she supposed she WAS expected. . . so hesitatingly, the little maid opened the door a bit wider and said suspiciously, "Well okay then." Sometime later, when a few drinks had restored the guest's ego. . . she told the story to her hostess, who immediately spoke to the maid about it. Said the latter: "You told me not to let strangers in the house. . . and to me she was a stranger!" Ho hum.

Two outstanding things on t-v this week; one a big fat laugh and the other a colossal boner. The laugh came from Bob Hope, whose t-v appearances are all too few. He said he hadn't seen Dagmar on television yet because he only had a sixteen inch screen. When the audience howled, he added, "She's so tall, you know." Then he spoke of his 'pal' Bing Crosby; said Bing didn't know whether to go with NBC or BUY it. Then: "Crosby should wait for color t-v, then we can see the blue of his eyes meet the gold in his pot!"

The boner was the announcer who said, "We will see Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Windsor." That's probably something we'll NEVER see. . . but the thought is an enchanting one.

We've had another little tiff with one of the big-shot New York stores and it serves us dang well right. We saw in their brochure, a pair of silk "lady-like" pajamas that looked like a dream sleep-walking. . . and the price was right up our alley. We ordered same. . . and when they arrived, the color turned out to be a poison green of the nightmare family. We returned them post haste, with a short note of explanation. Within the week, we got them BACK again, (after having lugged them to the Post Office to be weighed and insured etc.) There followed a note from the store advising us that they were returning the pajamas because they were NOT FROM THEIR STORE!

While sitting around on our dairy-air waiting to see future developments, we received ANOTHER letter from the store asking our indulgence; admitting THEIR stupidity in the miserable error and begging on their knees for us to please return the pajamas once more. Sooooooo, we carted them back to the P. O. again and sent the blasted things on their way. The net result is: eighty six cents in the hole, no pajamas and a too high blood pressure. . . strictly from frustration. Why we don't LEARN is a mystery beyond solving!

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sir:

I am deeply indebted to those citizens of the City of Grosse Pointe who were interested in the coming election and submitted nominating petitions on behalf of my name for the position of Mayor. Their activity was spontaneous and without my knowledge.

The City of Grosse Pointe has been without a competitive slate of candidates for some years. Good government is served by a thorough discussion of issues and of past performances by candidates for office.

The elective positions of the City of Grosse Pointe require candidates whose business occupations will permit devotion of sufficient time to the City's affairs so that its citizens may have an efficient and economical government representative of Detroit's finer suburban communities.

I regret that travel requirements of business would not permit me to accept the nomination. I appreciate most deeply the confidence expressed.

Sincerely,
Clarence D. Blessed

To the Editor:

October 15, 1951
I read the article in last week's edition of the GROSSE POINTE NEWS about the municipal docks of Grosse Pointe City, Park, and Farms being lashed by gigantic waves last Sunday morning. This played havoc with their wooden planks and tossed boats, which were moored at the docks, about violently.

Damage was restricted mainly to the dock structure at Grosse Pointe City, and it is believed that this dock will not stand another severe winter. I sincerely hope that the dock is battered about so much that it will have to be rebuilt and the people may enjoy this new feature of the park. The Council has argued this matter for some time, and I think we may eventually obtain this new structure.

The article gave more complete details and the facts were presented well. This should stir up action.

Grosse Pointe 30, Mich.

What Goes on at Your Library

by Jean Taylor

It all started during the war years when hammers and saws as well as plowshares and pruning hooks were being beaten into swords. Tools were hard to come by.

At this time the Grosse Pointe Rotary Club donated a basic tool collection to the Public Library. As everyone knows, books and magazines may be borrowed from any public library and in many instances, records and films, but tools. . . that was a departure!

Rotary's motive was to provide mechanically minded boys with necessary equipment, so that they might employ their talents constructively. The tools, placed in a small cabinet with a glass door, attracted many would-be artisans and the collection has been put to good use ever since its inception. No charge was made for this service.

Recently many new tools have been added, thanks again to the generosity of the Rotary Club, bringing the total number to more than 150.

Looking over the present collection, we recognized our old friends, the hammer, the saw and the screw-driver, but realized how woefully limited was our knowledge. We sought out the man who could best explain all these tools and their uses, Klaas Jongs.

Mr. Jongs, familiarly known to all as "Nick," hails from Holland, where he followed the building trade. Not long after his arrival in this country he became a valued employee of the Grosse Pointe Board of Education and has been with the system now for over 20 years. A man of many hobbies, he is a practiced hand with the movie camera and is president this year, of the Grosse Pointe Men's Chorus.

If a lock fails to work, if new shelves are needed, if a window pane is broken or if any minor or major casualties occur in our buildings, there is one recourse. . . "Call Nick!" He will see to it that one of his able corps takes care of the situation promptly.

It was Nick who directed the planning and making of the spacious new tool cabinet at the main Library. Such a picture of neatness as its interior, we never did see, with a place for everything and everything in its place! Said one librarian, "It makes me want to go home and rearrange my kitchen cupboard.

The tools are indexed, each tool having a number so that it may be readily identified. We are grateful for this. Otherwise the librarians would be in a tight box all too frequently.

We can't begin to list all the interesting items but there seems to be almost everything here for the home handyman. . . various types of saws for rough and fine lumber and a hack saw for cutting metals, outside and inside calipers and a miter box for any woodwork involving miter cuts. A popular item is the power tool kit for grinding, cutting and drilling. If you have a sidewalk that needs attention, there are sidewalk edgers. Clamps of various sizes will prove useful if you wish to repair a chair seat. There is a leather punch for leather work and a stitcher with needles of different sizes. . . to mention only a few of the 150 tools.

And don't forget the many helpful books that provide directions and diagrams for the home mechanic. If you would finish the job, we'll furnish the books and the tools.

Perhaps in all fairness we should add the fact that we do not have a lawnmower. You will still have to rely upon your neighbor for that!

In conclusion the library staff wishes to express its sincere appreciation to Nick for the patience, the good humor and the skill which he has shown in answering many a library S.O.S. over the years.

Good Vision

Prevents Accidents

By Fred M. Kopp, R. Ph.

Faulty vision endangers your life in ways you are not aware of, as for instance, when you must walk down a flight of stairs, or cross a busy street. The slightest misjudgment of distance can cause an accident, perhaps serious, or even fatal. After many years of dependable eyesight it is hard to realize that it is no longer reliable. However such is the case as we get older.

A check of your general health is the first step in correcting any physical illness or irregularity.

For prescription work select a pharmacy that stresses quality and you will be assured of pure, potent drugs.

MARY MARGARET VAN DAMME

St. Paul was the destination last Friday of many a carefree couple. The occasion was, of course, the dance "The First Voyage" given by the Seniors in honor of the Freshmen.

Gaily dancing in the nautical atmosphere of the gym were Mary Moxley and Gene Graham, Lou Ann Nelson and Bill Duncan, Pat Besceglia and Bill Burns, Barb Beaupre and Jim Ayrault, Joann Meier and John Berholt, Marilyn Palmer and Clyde Schwartz, Carol Jablonski and Jim McKillop, Joyce Giselle and Bob Keller, Marilyn McEachin and George Heckendor, Mary Van Wassenhove and Tom Lubinski, Rosemary Hanzy and Bob Brywa, and Gail Gitti and George Berkhart.

During the all too short intermission Claire Lenz and Michael Sweeney, Rita Fencham and Gene Reynolds, Joyce Zemper, and Robert Taylor, Lynn Van Tiem and Jim Gallagher, Carole Barba and Gerald Fitzgerald, Nancy Mason and Lee Elsey, Rose Ann Blondell and Dick Martin, and Sandra Knack and John Barton were some of the crowd who gathered at the snackbar for "that pause that refreshes."

When Gil Pandal gave out with some of the popular favorites we noticed that Pete Schummer and Bev Rago, Joe Weber and Janet Hock, Mary Ellen Beaupre and Jim O'Connor, Dee Chielens and Frank Stacker, Bill Kerich and Sandra Smith, Dee Slater and Jerry Thomas, Marilyn Sutherland and Glenn Walters, Bev Lachad and Ivan French, Mary Boomer and Tom McCleary, Joanne Sharrow and Hans Von Bernthol, Joan Hock and Gene Kornmeier, Janet Oxley and Chuck Dimicelli, Peg Sharpe and Jack Schanke, Mary DelBarba and Jim Doto, George Brady and Joan Besceglia, and Connie Molitor and Joe Loeffler looked awfully dreamy. Could he be was playing "their song."

Rosemary Jankowski opened the doors of her very beautiful home to a few of her friends before the dance. Eating some of the very dainty sandwiches and drinking cocktails were Ann Reed and Don Burns, Dee Wise and Tom Tapert, your scribe and Marty Horkan, and Rosemary's date Tom Gamolski.

Janet Oxley was another Senior who found time before the dance to entertain a group of her friends. Gathered in the Oxley living room with Janet and her escort, Chuck Dimicelli were Gloria Wancour and Coble Miller, Pete Schummer and Bev Rago, Connie Molitor and Joe Loeffler, Diane Celinski and John Huettler, Mary Sutherland, Glenn Walters, Jack Trombly and Barb Heron, Mary Boomer and Tom McCleary, and Donna Mayo and Jim Hoskins.

Sunday a very jubilant crowd emerged from the Grosse Pointe High field. The reason, of course, was our victory over St. Catherine's.

Singing "Alma Mater" and merrily waving school banners we saw Dot O'Kray, Dee Athman, Joan Marks, Bob Backman, Barb Wines, Lynn Van Tiem, Marilyn D'hooghe, Jim Haly, Lou Ann Moxley, Marilyn Sutherland, Gene Kornmeier, Mary Allor, Dee Wise, Diane Celinski, Louie Giest, Rosemary Jankowski, Reatha Geyman, Dick Tapert, Rosemary Piche, Gail Dodge, Rosemary Hanzel, Gene Reynolds, Mary Sutherland, Tim Trombly, Barb Sutton, Evelyn Englehardt, and Roy Moxley.

Next Sunday St. Paul's plays St. Mary of Mount Clemens at Mt. Clemens. Let's all be there supporting the team. They're playing their hardest so let's back them.

A very surprised gal was Lou Ann Moxley as she entered her home after the game on Sunday. A group of her Junior friends had gathered there to make her sixteenth birthday one she would always remember.

Birds Furnish Color Schemes

The for color schemes can do no better than to study the plumage of our birds, declared Mrs. Perry J. Reynolds in a talk Monday afternoon before the Pointe Garden Club at a meeting in the home of Mrs. Hansel D. Wilson, of South Oxford road.

Mrs. Reynolds, who is chairman of the Junior Division of the Detroit Audubon Society, suggested that Michigan winter birds such as woodpeckers, chickadees, blue jays, and nuthatches can be attracted to Grosse Pointe backyards by providing succulent bits of suet, grain, seeds, and nuts.

Reward comes to the householder not only in the pleasure of bird watching but in the material benefit of insect-free gardens and trees in the spring.

From Another Pointe of View

by Jane Schermerhorn

Grosse Pointe made its curtsy prettily before Princess Elizabeth and Philip, Duke of Edinburgh last Monday morning.

And came away fast in love with the youthful couple...

The princess, who would have been taken to the hearts of all who met her anyhow... endeared herself to the women when she opened a tiny compact and refreshed her make-up before going on to greet the crowds following one of the five out of door receptions... "just like any girl" they cooed...

Canadian Consul at Detroit, Col. James J. Hurley and Mrs. Hurley of Fisher road... left the government dock reception for the home of their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Walker Whiteside in Windsor...

And then went on to the Prince Edward Hotel to join the luncheon party at which president of The Canada Steamship Line, T. R. McLagen was host...

Painter's Royal Observations

Mrs. Henry P. Williams settled back on the Detroit late that same day... on her way to New York and two full weeks of meetings and conferences as president of the National Women's Farm and Garden Association convening in New York...

Mrs. Williams was taken by the great simplicity and charm of the Princess... and also shared everyone's observation that she looked very tired...

Princess Elizabeth's reserve, the training of her grandmother, Queen Mary, was perfect foil for the boyish gaiety of her Prince, who hovered handsomely about seeing that all went smoothly...

Gentlemen of State

Before Gov. of Michigan G. Mennen Williams and Mrs. Williams were presented to Elizabeth and Philip...

The Governor held a quick conference with Philip's aide about the bow tie he had brought as a gift...

The aide found the whole idea "Capital!"...

So when Gov. Williams gave the Duke of Edinburgh a bow tie which has been a symbol of his terms in office... The two had a friendly chuckle as Gov. Williams explained,

"I'd like to give you a bow tie. They've brought me luck and I hope this one will do the same for you when you're in office."

And then, in fast aside, "Of course, Your Highness, YOUR job is permanent."

Royal Informality

Pointers who were presented to Elizabeth and Philip also found:

That though the newspapers prepared them for a good looking young couple... the Princess and Prince are much more stunning in person than in their photographs...

Elizabeth's beautiful brunet hair has gleaming golden highlights...

The reception at the government dock was most informal... with Elizabeth and Philip inquiring, "How do you do?" as they shook each hand...

Elizabeth found the Detroit River and the Detroit skyline beautiful...

And the wistful expression on her pretty pale face made everyone wish that she and her Duke might take off on a (Continued on Page 9)

Miss Convery Weds R. Frederic Kolowich

Former Marilyn Convery, Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Convery of Devonshire Road Becomes Bride of Son of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Kolowich

A sparkling apartment at the Whittier is ready for Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Frederic Kolowich when they return from their wedding trip in Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

Their wedding took place last Saturday morning at 10 o'clock in St. Charles Borromeo Church, the Rev. Father John C. Devine officiating at the nuptial mass.

Mrs. Kolowich was Marilyn Convery, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Birmingham Convery, of Devonshire road, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Kolowich.

Marilynn's only attendant was her sister, Sally, who, as maid of honor, was gownned in waltz length emerald velvet. Velvet formed the strapless bodice which was attached to a swirl of matching tulle. A short velvet cape covered Sally's shoulders. On her head she wore an emerald velvet band brimmed in bittersweet and her flowers were an arrangement of wheat, autumn leaves, bittersweet and bebe mums.

The bride wore imported white Chantilly lace over tulle and satin. The gown fell opera length and was trimmed in white velvet. Her Chantilly lace cap held in place the fingertip length veil of French silk illusion. Chantilly lace touched the white velvet wedding slippers and Marilyn carried white orchids and stephanotis bowed in white velvet ribbon.

Among out-of-town guests at the ceremony and reception were William J. Convery and Miss Ann Greagan of Albany, N. Y., Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Anthony of Altamont, N. Y., Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Robinson of Denver, Colo., Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Prueha of Roscommon, Mich., Miss Katherine Guthrie of Washington, D. C., and Miss Marian Haring of Mansfield, Ohio.

Dinner to Conclude Gay Pre-Nuptial Whirl

Parties to End This Evening for Mary Louise Payette and Bridegroom-Elect, George Stathearn Hendrie Jr., Who'll Be Married Saturday Morning in Jesuit Church

This evening (Thursday) Mary Lou Payette and her fiancé, George Stathearn Hendrie, Jr., will attend their last pre-nuptial fete before they exchange their marriage vows on Saturday in SS. Peter and Paul Jesuit Church.

The party is to be the rehearsal dinner which will be given by the bridegroom-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Stathearn Hendrie of Hillcrest road.

This popular young couple shelved tradition when the usual spinster and bachelor dinners were combined and a single dinner party was given by the bride-elect's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Clair C. Johnston, who entertained all the attendants last Saturday evening at the Women's City Club. Cocktails preceded the dinner party.

Parties feted both Mary Lou, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson L. Payette of Van Dyke avenue, and George have been continuing at a merry pace ever since their engagement announcement.

Mrs. Stathearn Hendrie gave a dinner party for the engaged couple in her Webster road home following the engagement of her grandson and Mary Lou.

Miss Elizabeth Hendrie invited guests to her country home for a party complimenting not only Mary Lou and George, but another nephew and his recent bride, Mr. and Mrs. John Alexander Hendrie (Arlene Roy).

Mrs. Johnston gathered members of the bridal party at a planning luncheon which she gave earlier this month at the City Club.

Another party at which Saturday's bridal pair and the John Alexander Hendrie's shared honors was given by the boys' parents at the Country Club on October 7.

Then Miss Marilyn Doyle gave a tea and kitchen shower for Mary Lou last Sunday in her Oxford road home.

Last week, Ruth Marcus was another hostess when she gave a shower and tea for Saturday's bride-elect.

Pointer to Wed Girl from East

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth D. MacColl of Providence, Rhode Island, announced the engagement of Mr. MacColl's daughter, Miss Elizabeth Coats MacColl, to Mr. Douglas Campbell, Jr., the son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Campbell of Grosse Pointe, Michigan at a cocktail party Saturday, October 13, in Providence.

Miss MacColl attended Miss Porter's School, Farmington, Conn. and is a graduate of the Garland School in Boston. She is a grand-daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James R. MacColl and of the late Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Mainwaring Coats. She is a member of the Junior League of Providence and Agawam Hunt.

Mr. Campbell was graduated from the Hotchkiss School, Lakeville, Conn., and Yale University, class of 1947, and is a member of DKE and Book and Snake. During World War II he served as an officer in Naval Air Intelligence. He is a grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Munroe Campbell and the late Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Townsend Douglas of Grosse Pointe, Michigan.

A December wedding is planned.

Engaged Couple Pick Attendants

Elizabeth Buell will be maid of honor in the wedding party of her sister, Eleanor Buell and John Howard Stephenson who will exchange vows Nov. 3 in Christ Church, Grosse Pointe.

The wedding attendants for the young couple were named this week. In addition to Elizabeth, the bride-elect will be preceded to the altar by six bridesmaids: Mrs. John D. Davis of Northampton, Mass.; Mrs. Henry T. Ewald Jr., Pat Jerome, Lucy Black of Cambridge, Mass.; Suzanne Stoepele, and Barbara Bayne.

Geddes W. Carrington will come from Chicago to assume duties of best man for Jack whose ushers are to be: Samuel Sawyer of Kansas City, William P. Brown, Joseph Buell, Hugh Ward of Washington, Herbert V. Book Jr., Donald Hawley of Geneva, Ill., William L. Hurley and Samuel Sawyer of Kansas City.

This Saturday evening, bridesmaids Barbara Bayne and Suzie Stoepele are giving a dinner party at the Country Club for the engaged couple and on Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. James W. Lee II have planned a cocktail party and buffet supper in their honor.

The J. Lawrence Buells, Eleanor's parents, will be hosts at the rehearsal dinner on Nov. 2 in the Country Club.

Church Women Plan UN Day

The sixth anniversary of the founding of the United Nations will be observed October 24 by the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Grosse Pointe Methodist Church in its regular monthly meeting of the general society, which will be a one o'clock dessert gathering at the church. Mrs. Sheldon Drennan and Mrs. LeRoy Cowles will use "How the United Nations Work for Peace" as their topic title for panel discussion. Mrs. Carl Lanz is in charge of the devotional period, and may have a speaker from International Institute to assist her.

Mrs. Robert J. Peters

The former DONNA MARIE DYSON, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey J. Dyson of Westchester road, who was married Saturday to the son of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Peters.

A double ring ceremony solemnized at 11:30 a.m. in St. Ambrose Church on Saturday, October 12, united Donna Marie Dyson and Robert J. Peters in marriage. Donna is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey J. Dyson of Westchester road; Robert, the son of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Peters of Detroit.

The bride's gown of candlelight satin was cut with a fitted bodice. At the neckline was a yoke of illusion nylon encrusted with seed pearls. A three yard train extended beyond the hem of the skirt. A halo headpiece fashioned with pearl orange blossoms held the finger-tip veil of French silk illusion. A cascade bouquet made with an orchid, amonias and baby mums completed Donna's costume.

Mrs. Benjamin Wier, sister of the bride, was the matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mary Plath, Mrs. James Frisch, Dolores Schiappacasse, and Clara Stanton, formerly of Lancashire, England and now a Pointe resident. Flower girls were little Josephine Wier and Susan Collins. The bridesmaids and matron of honor wore gowns of imported azure net over taffeta with matching headpieces and muffs which held an orchid and goldtinted trailing ivy. The flower girls were dressed in costumes like those of the bridesmaids.

The bridegroom asked his brother Alfred to be best man. Another brother, Dr. William Peters, at present stationed with the army in Korea, was unable to attend. Ushers were James Frisch, William Kramer, Benjamin Wier and Melvin Godmair.

Receiving guests at the following reception in the Barlum Hotel, Mrs. Dyson, Donna's mother, was attired in an American beauty crepe with a matching imported maline turban and a deep purple orchid. Mrs. Peters chose a grape-colored crepe for her son's wedding, with a small matching felt. Her corsage was a bronze orchid.

Following a honeymoon in Miami Beach, Florida, the couple will make their home in Bloomfield Hills.

Christ Church to Hold Charity Rummage Sale

Woman's Auxiliary of Christ Church, Grosse Pointe Plans Big Rummage Sale in Assembly Hall Oct. 25-26; Mrs. Frederick C. Ford, Chairman for Event

Since the days of your great-great-grandmother, Rummage Sales have been a favorite way of fund raising with the fair sex.

But they tell us, that NOT since the days of great-great-grandmother have we witnessed such a wonderful rummage sale as that planned by the Woman's Auxiliary of Christ Church, Grosse Pointe. The dates are Thursday, Oct. 25, and Friday, Oct. 26, and the sale will be held in the assembly hall of the church from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. both days.

Mrs. Frederick C. Ford is chairman of the sale which is being sponsored by the auxiliary's ways and means committee. Her co-chairmen include Mrs. Julius F. E. Hubner, Mrs. J. Clemens Kolb and Mrs. Carl Starr.

Funds raised at the sale will be used for special charity work and church missionary work.

Way last Summer, the executive committee for the fair took time out from vacations to pen postal cards to all the members of the auxiliary reminding that "something old to you is new to someone else."

The result was a deluge of really wonderful treasures which should raise stupendous amounts of money for the auxiliary's work. Mrs. Harrison T. Watson, Mrs. Henry Ledyard, Mrs. Ernest M. Baker and Mrs. Andrew Barr are forming a "transporting committee" and should there be a single "jewel" left in the homes of auxiliary members or their friends, the committee will gladly call for it.

On sale will be really lovely bits of jewelry, many nice furs, clothing for old and young and in-between; children and baby equipment (from toys to bassinets, beds, chairs, etc.); modern and antique furniture; books (some over a hundred years old); pictures and prints; silverware, lamps, china, vases, records, etc.

Mrs. James J. Trudell, Jr., is chairman of the catering committee serving lunch to the throngs of workers at the sale. She is being assisted by Mrs. Harry Mackey, Mrs. Frank Book and Mrs. J. Farrell Haycock.

Selling at the various rummage booths and tables will be Mrs. Benjamin Stockwell, Mrs. John Buzby, Mrs. C. M. Justice, Mrs. F. L. Honhart, Mrs. Wilson W. Mills, Mrs. A. G. Boales, Mrs. Robert McKinney, Mrs. V. H. Kyle.

Mrs. R. P. Lair, Mrs. J. Rex Queeney, Mrs. Charles Phelps, Mrs. Robert K. Slaymaker, Mrs. Truman Brown, Mrs. L. Rothe Farr, Mrs. Ralph Cattel, Mrs. Henry Ledyard, Mrs. William H. Sheppard.

Mrs. Ralph McElvenny, Mrs. Daniel J. Schukraft, Mrs. Harold U. Van Leyen, Mrs. Allen M. Lomax, Mrs. Wille Nester and Mrs. Frederick C. Ford.

Mrs. Simpson Leonard heads the "saleswomen."

Cashiers at the rummage sale will include Mrs. M. R. Klippel, Mrs. Harrison T. Watson, Mrs. William G. Boales, Mrs. Ferris Fritch, Mrs. Elmer Clark, Mrs. John H. French, Jr., Mrs. Robert C. Gall, Mrs. W. R. Jeeves and the co-chairmen of the committee, Mrs. Alexander L. Wiener and Mrs. Cameron Patterson.

Darts off Walk In Path of Car

Donald Wenzel, 5½, of 1118 Kensington road, who was struck when he darted in front of a car on October 12, is still in Bon Secours Hospital.

Police said that the boy had been playing on the sidewalk, when he suddenly darted into the street in front of a car driven by Helen Ingalsbe, of 1147 Bishop road.

The accident occurred at Kercheval and Kensington. Police said Mrs. Ingalsbe had her car under control or she would have run over the child.

The car did strike Donald and knocked him over. Donald was taken to Bon Secours Hospital where he was treated for bruises and shock.

When the NEWS checked with the Hospital on Tuesday, the information was given that nothing serious had developed. The boy is being kept in the hospital for observation.

Many Achievements Scored By Motion Picture Council

At its annual meeting Monday afternoon, October 15, the Grosse Pointe Motion Picture Council elected Mrs. Frank Seydler as president, Mrs. David Leach as secretary, and Mrs. H. T. Snowday as treasurer. Mrs. Howard Kaser will continue her term as vice-president.

Mrs. Daniel Hembel, the retiring president, has served in that office since 1947. Throughout her tenure Mrs. Hembel's main objective has been to continue to promote "the development of critical standards in the selection of motion picture entertainment for children."

To help finance this objective Mrs. Hembel planned a fashion show at the Woods Theatre in 1948. A sum of almost $1500 was raised from this project and turned over to the Grosse Pointe Public Library for the establishment of a 16mm sound film library. Since then under her leadership two smaller money making projects have been held to help support the 16mm sound film library on a rental basis. These films are available to any holder of a library card and may be drawn free of charge.

To further stimulate interest in the council among its members and among local theater managers, she inaugurated an annual luncheon to which members, local theater managers and presidents of all member organizations are invited in order to become better acquainted with the council and its objectives.

During Mrs. Hembel's tenure membership has increased from 19 to 27 organizations, the constitution has been amended to open the council to members-at-large, and to require the monthly bulletin to represent the views of all members.

In 1950 the council promoted a theater ordinance regulating theater attendance of children at the Woods Theatre. This ordinance which became effective in June 1950 prohibits children in the theater after certain hours.

The Grosse Pointe Motion Picture Council recognizes that the Motion Picture Industry is a

Non-Registered Voters Warned

Several residents of Grosse Pointe City, whose voting registration was inactive, signed petitions for candidates seeking office in the November 6 municipal election.

Such signatures did not place the petitions in jeopardy, City Clerk Norbert Neff stated. It was assumed that the residents signed the petitions in good faith, he added.

Electorates must vote once in each two year interval to keep their voting registration active. Voting in school elections does not apply, Mr. Neff stated.

A few of those whose voting registration had lapsed had not voted in seven or eight years, it was reported.

The only time registration is closed is during the 30 day period preceding an election and the week following an election. Residents can register in the City Clerk's office, during office hours, at any other time, Mr. Neff said.

Robert D. MacKenzie In Far Eastern Waters

Following mock invasion operations aboard the attack cargo ship USS Skagit, Robert D. MacKenzie, seaman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joel L. Leete of 1246 Devonshire, Grosse Pointe, is now enjoying a brief period of relaxation and liberty in a Japanese port.

The Skagit participated in the amphibious operations in the Far East under simulated battle conditions. Elements of the 160th Regimental Combat Team of the 40th Infantry Division were landed on beaches under aerial screening provided by land-based fighter planes from fields close by.

The operations were staged through the combined efforts of the Army, Navy and Air Forces.

Mrs. Kinnucan Called Sweetest

Mrs. J. Dwyer Kinnucan, of 319 Hillcrest road, has been named Detroit Sweetest Woman by the Detroit Sweetest Day Committee. For 21 years she has served as Chairman of Volunteer Services for the Detroit Chapter of the Red Cross.

Mrs. Kinnucan is in charge of placing volunteers in various units of the Red Cross and following up her placements to see that all runs smoothly. With the Red Cross encompassing so many phases of service, this is a sizeable job.

Mrs. Kinnucan, who began her career by washing dishes in a World War I canteen, has not always worked in the organizational end of the Red Cross. She declares that the volunteers do such a wonderful job that she herself has little responsibility, but her executive ability and co-workers dispute this. They laud her executive ability and her tact in dealing with people—an important factor in the job she holds.

Her community activities through the years have not been solely confined to those of the Red Cross. Each year she works as a volunteer solicitor for the United Foundation Torch Drive. She was president of Sigma Gamma in 1927, was with the Women's Association of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, and has served as president of the Junior League in Detroit.

Her heavy five-day week schedule does not deter her from seeing a lot of her daughter, Mrs. Daniel Simmons, and her son, Edwin Stroh, Jr., and her four grandchildren.

Due to her association with Sigma Gamma, Mrs. Kinnucan is especially interested in the Sigma Gamma hospital for crippled children in Mount Clemens. She plans to take time from her many activities and personally deliver Sweetest Day gifts to the fifty children convalescing there.

Harper Hospital opened on October 12, 1864.

Devils' Hunt for Bear Meat Comes to Disastrous Ending

Wyandotte Hands Pointe High Football Team its First Defeat in League Play; Different Team Than Last Week

Grosse Pointe's football team went hunting for Bear meat last Saturday, October 13, and wound up being mauled by the Bear, 14 to 8. Following the Blue Devils' high scoring 40 to 0 spree over the Trojans from Monroe, the local gridiron juggernaut was expected to take the Wyandotte game in stride and become favorites to capture the elusive Border Cities League title, which has never been won by Grosse Pointe.

The brave Blue Devil hunters walked courageously into the Bears' den and a terrific battle began. In the first few minutes the Blue Devils appeared to be well in command of the situation. Bears immediately seized this opportunity and became overconfident. The opportunity and mauled the hunters badly and chased the intruders out of their lair for another year.

Get Early Lead

In the early stages of the game at Roosevelt Stadium, Grosse Pointe moved into an early 2 to 0 lead when Wyandotte's Al Caterino took Jim Comins' punt on his own 1 yard line and was smashed to the ground by end Don Button. It looked like a big two points that early in the contest.

A fumble by Jim Comins set the stage for Wyandotte's first touchdown when the Bears recovered on the Grosse Pointe 42 yard line. Staying strictly on the ground, the Bears smashed their way to pay dirt when Alan Robertson climaxed the march by smashing over right tackle from the 1 yard line. Tom Erwin converted to put the Bears out in front, 7 to 2.

Devils Threaten

The Blue Devils threatened later in the second quarter when Ed Anderson picked up a blocked forward pass off the fingers of Caterino. Anderson raced to the Wyandotte 20. However, the Pointers' threat was stopped by a 15 yard penalty as the period ended.

Wyandotte picked up its final score of the game early in the third quarter after the Pointers were forced to punt.

Bears Strike Again

Starting on their own 31 yard line the Bears powered their way over the Devils' goal line with Terry Bruckler climaxing the drive with a smash over from the 2 yard line. Again Erwin converted the extra point and the Bears held a 14 to 2 margin.

Grosse Pointe also scored in the third quarter with a sustained drive from its own 46 yard line after Johnny Dicicco made a beautiful run back of the kick off from his own 19.

Dale Ewart's passing arm went into high gear and he hit Danny Slowe with a 16 yard pass on second down to put the ball on the Wyandotte 36. A loss of 8 yards followed when Ewart attempted to get off another pass, but Ewart came right back with another pass which Len Anderson took on the Wyandotte 16 and went all the way to the Bears' 4 before safety man Caterino nailed him.

Receives Own Fumble

Slowe fumbled on the first play and a groan went up from the Blue Devil stand but turned to cheers when the mass of mole-skin was unpiled and Slowe still retained the pigskin.

Ewart climaxed the drive with a pass into the end zone which was taken by Len Anderson for the score. Ed Anderson's conversion was wide and the Devils trailed, 14 to 8, and that is the way the game ended as neither team threatened again in the final quarter.

Another Chance Blown

In losing, Grosse Pointe once again BLEW a golden opportunity to capture the Border Cities League title. On the other hand, Wyandotte's football stock soared sky high and they now are the favorites to take the league's top honors, as only Fordson and Monroe remain in their path to the crown.

Of course anything can and usually does happen in the chase for the title and it is possible for the Bears to get clipped by one or both of their remaining opponents.

The defeat puts the pressure on the Devils in their remaining two league contests against Fordson and Highland Park. The latter comes to the local gridiron this Saturday, October 20.

Scared Wyandotte

Highland Park is not going to be the push over they were expected to be before the season started. Although the Polar Bears have still to notch a victory they have earned the title of "spoilers" after having given Wyandotte a run for their money a week ago when they lost, 19 to 12, in a game that could have gone either way.

Grosse Pointe's last league opponent, Fordson, sports a record of one win and a tie in its two games played to date and Fordson, like Wyandotte, takes great delight in beating the "millionaires from Grosse Pointe." Last year Fordson wrecked Grosse Pointe's best chance for the title in the final game.

Different Team

Last Saturday Grosse Pointe was a far cry from the powerhouse outfit that rolled over three of her opponents. The blocking and tackling was of the powder puff variety and the running of the backfield left much to be desired. Only Danny Slowe performed up to par. The rest of the runners lacked the smashing drive that racked up six touchdowns over the Monroe Trojans a week earlier.

As the race stands now it is a two school race between Wyandotte and Grosse Pointe for the title. Fordson has a strong hold on third place with one win and a tie; Monroe and Royal Oak are tied for fourth with two losses and a tie, and Highland Park trails with a loss and a tie.

NEON SIGN DAMAGED

The manager of the Alger Beer Store at 17320 Mack avenue reported on October 13, that the "R" in the store's neon sign had been broken.

Cocktail Keglers Even Up Score After Being Threatened With Whitewash

Kopp's Pharmacy tied Wolverine Potato Chips for second place in the G. P. Rotary Club Bowling League. Their sweep over Steiner Ford was the only shutout registered last Friday night. The week before, Farms Market were the victims of this same Kopp team.

Village Wine Shop won their opening game with Wolverine Chips but that was all as Wolverine came on to win the next two and total pinfall and a tie for second place.

Motor City Tires were on their way to a clean sweep over the league leading Judy's, winning the first two games with ease. The Judy's, alarmed at the situation, struck back with a vengeance and when the smoke had cleared, the front runners had pulled up even with the "tiremen" by taking the last game (908) and total pinfall. Don Kammer was the hero for the Judy's, closing with 223.

Middle Atl. Transp. So. got off to a good start by winning the opener, but Monday Cleaners closed the door on the champs and exited with the next two. Volpe's 228 helped the Middles to their only win. Gene Mertz's 223 in 585, aided by Roy Kraebber's big series, tipped the scales in Monday's favor, 3-1.

Farms Market and Piche's Barber Shop put on a ding dong battle. Pat Patrick had a turkey up and drew the 6-7-10 split. "Ole Headeye" converted with the help of Howie Ewald's 236 game, Farms Market took the opener. The barbers came back to take the second one, shooting 901, and from then on it was anybody's game. Despite Ewald's 626 series, Forrest Piche and company took the remaining points for a 3-1 win over Ed Taube's sharpshooters.

Earl Holzbaugh Motors thought they had things much their own way after winning the opener from the Auto Club. Milt Hansen thought differently and, with the help of "2-finger" Barber and Geo. Vanderveide, smeared the "diver mechanics" in the next two to take a well earned 3-1 victory.

Sarah Weed Given Part In Play in Ann Arbor

Sophomores at the University of Michigan will present their song-and-dance version of how a new college president is chosen Saturday, Oct. 20, in Ann Arbor.

"Diagonally Yours," traditional satire of a timely phase of university life, includes a shy football hero as well as distinguished men of the nation in its list of candidates for the presidency.

Written and directed by upperclassmen, the musical comedy will be enacted solely by sophomores. Nine original songs and a modern dance will highlight the show.

The sophomore satire will climax student-sponsored Tug Week, intended to give vent to traditional school spirit. Freshman and sophomore men will renew the annual Tug of War, a struggle to douse opponents in the Huron River.

Sarah Weed, of Cranford lane, will participate in the program as a dancer. She is a sophomore in the College of Literature, Science and the Arts, and is a member of Kappa Kappa Bamma sorority.

Sailor Expresses Opinion On Controversial Subject

By Fred Runnells

One and ONLY one sailor accepted your reporter's invitation to express an opinion on the controversial subject of Detroit River Yachting Association sailboat race courses that has been the subject of much debate among local tars all season long.

The one letter received came from Ray St. John who is the race committee chairman of the Detroit Y. C. and for my money St. John's views carry a lot of weight when it comes to sail boats and races.

St. John writes: "Glad to see you bring the question of once around versus twice around race courses out in the open. I think it needs a good airing for the good of the sport. Your recent article in the G. P. News, 'Skipper Invited to State Views on Sail Race Courses,' however, would create the impression that it is merely necessary to sail alongside the Race Committee boat and ask for a change of course when a class wanted this."

"That would be the wrong method since the Race Committee has its hands full just before any start. The best way to get cooperation is to give the other fellow the same kind of a break you'd like to get by calling either the D. R. Y. A. secretary or the individual race committee chairman of any club a few days prior to the regatta and I am sure they will comply with any request for a change of course."

"The men who so willingly give their time to help put on our regattas have forgotten more about sail yacht racing than most of us will ever know. I firmly believe you will help the sport more by a good comprehensive article such as you have written than by any paning or criticism such as we've had a few examples of recently."

Mr. St. John apparently misread part of my article where I pointed out that it is almost IMPOSSIBLE for a class to effect a change of course just prior to the start of any regatta. I agree with St. John that each class should appoint a spokesman to contact the host club staging the regatta and request the course change before the regatta date.

Now that we have heard from one of the best local sailing authorities, how about some of you other sailors dropping us a line with your ideas on the subject. It is not the purpose of your reporter to start an argument but only to get this controversial subject straightened out before the D. R. Y. A. holds its annual gripe meeting this Fall.

Once the rhubarb has been boiled down, we can discover what the majority of you sailors desire in local regattas and present it to the D. R. Y. A. for some concrete action before another season rolls around.

Opinions should come from the fellows who actually sail the regattas, but this reporter welcomes any and all views by sailors and judges alike. Let's get this job done NOW.

Murray Smith's Aggregation Pressing on Heels in St. Paul's Bowling League

Harry Furton's bowling team holds down the lead in the St. Paul Bowling League with 19 points, but is being seriously threatened by Murray Smith's team which trails by a scant two points. However, Smith's outfit is being pressed by Al Gouin's aggregation which has a season total of 16 points.

St. Paul Gridders Conquer Fumbling St. Catherine '11'

Christmas Comes Early For Flyers As They Capitalize On Errors of Opponents; Gary Fete Plays Stellar Role

By John Engelhard

Christmas came early this year for St. Paul's Flyers. A fumbling St. Catherine's team played Santa Claus as it handed the red and white a 20-13 win before a slim crowd at Grosse Pointe High's field Sunday. It was the first victory of the year for the fighting Flyers, who capitalized on three Warrior fumbles to gain their victory.

Early in the first period, after a forty yard sustained drive fizzled out on the St. Catherine's five yard line, John Barton, who was outstanding in the good St. Paul line, recovered Micky Martin's fumble on the Warriors' two. Quarterback Jack Trombley sneaked over from there. Pete Schummer failed to get two yards bucking the line and the Flyers led, 6-0.

Both Teams Threaten

No further scoring was done in the first half although both teams threatened. Trombley shot a screen pass to Schummer who romped 30 yards to his opponents' 18 yard line. A 15 yard clipping penalty was assessed against the Flyers on the next play and St. Catherine's held. The Warriors fought back and drove all the way down to the St. Paul 10 yard line.

The highlight of this drive was a flat pass from Ed Rachel to Micky Martin, who wiggled his way 38 yards to the Flyer 10 before he was pulled down from behind by Gary Fete. That was as far as St. Catherine's could go and the half ended with the score still 6-0.

Warriors Grab Fumble

St. Catherine's kicked off to the Flyers to open the second half but didn't have to wait long to gain possession of the ball. Paul Geist, a lineman, fumbled on an unintentional inside kick and the Warriors recovered on St. Paul's forty. Two plays were all it took to knot the score.

Martin picked up 11 yards off tackle and then he passed to Angelo Pellegata, who lateraled to Larry McCarthy and Larry went all the way. Pellegata's kick was wide.

Trombley Recovers

Glen Walters ran the kickoff to his 28 but the Flyers couldn't move and Schummer boomed a 52 yard punt down to the Warriors' 20. Lee Brown, St. Catherine's fullback, fumbled on the first play. The ball bounced up into Trombley's hands. Schummer broke over right guard for 12 yards and Fete scampered the last eight to score. Trombley's pass to Tim Champagne was good and St. Paul led once more, 13-6.

The Flyers' final touchdown came at the start of the last period and this also was the result of a Warrior fumble. Martin fumbled on his 32 and Ed Lynch,

THE BALLET AND A BUSY SCHEDULE

Theatrical and musical activity about town was hard to find last week. But it appears that such a state of inactivity is the usual calm before the storm, because a raft of openings and attractions will descend upon Detroit in the following few days.

We did view the Saturday eve performance of the Ballet Russe, though—no wax, no whacks. Our companions on this outing seemed well-versed and most knowledgeable about all that transpired on stage. We learned, for instance, that all the dancers together are called the "corda ballu," and that a "grand jet" (XF-187, mebbe) is the name of a leap that seemed most popular. Someone behind us remarked that what's-his-name was a "purist in the roun-flex" (?), while our friends spoke constantly of Primer Dansuzy. We couldn't find her on the program anywhere. It was all most unusual and somewhat unsettling. We enjoyed it, though, and as for the "pa-de-doo classik"...

Thursday evening, October 18, will see the long and keenly awaited opening of the new Detroit Symphony Orchestra season at the Masonic Temple. The French conductor, Paul Paray, will be on the podium, leading the orchestra in an interesting and nicely-balanced program: Mozart—Overture to "The Magic Flute," Beethoven—Symphony No. 6; Ravel—"La Valse," Faure—"Pelleas and Melisande," Dukas—"The Sorcerer's Apprentice."

Monsieur Paray will conduct at four other concerts, namely those on 25 October, 1 November, 8 November and 22 November. Guest artists in the immediate future will be Eleanor Steber on 25 October, Jascha Heifetz on 1 November, and Detroit's own George Miquelle on 8 November.

The Boston Symphony Orchestra under the baton of Charles Munch will be seen and heard on Sunday evening, October 20th, in the first of the concerts in the Masonic Temple Series. The orchestra will play Rameau's Suite from the Opera "Dardanus," Symphony No. 5 by Honegger, and Tchaikovsky's Symphony No. 6, "Pathétique."

"Mister Roberts"—it's still going strong—will open at the Schubert-Lafayette Theatre Sunday night and will remain there a week. This is the tale of life on a Navy supply ship in the Pacific during World War II. It is recommended for those wishing an evening of good entertainment and lusty humor. Tod Andrews plays the title role in this road company.

The third Theatre Guild presentation of the season gets under way at the Cass Monday evening. It is "The Happy Time," a comedy by Samuel Taylor, which is based on Robert Fontaine's novel of the same name. The Detroit audiences will see Helmut Dantine heading the cast in a touching play about a delightful French-Canadian family. "The Happy Time" had a lengthy and successful stay on Broadway before its producers, Rodgers and Hammerstein, put it on the road.

You see what we mean? The next few days promise a wealth of attractive and excellent entertainment.

First of Book Review Series Heard by Baha'is

"The author of 'Prescription for Living' is convinced that we will pass through the present world crisis, and come out a chastened and better humanity," said Lester Long, speaking before a group of Baha'is and their friends on Friday evening, October 5.

"She also pointed out in this book," he continued, "that we have all of the facilities at our disposal to live an unbelievably wonderful existence on this earth at the present time. But because we are either unaware of, or ignore the spiritual laws which govern the individual and the universe, we find that we have stumbled from one crisis to another, and are blaming everyone else but ourselves for this maladjustment. The author also points out that we are only beginning to scratch the surface of the potentiality of each individual. When we once begin to develop the spiritual side of man, to bring out the golden qualities in each individual, we find that there is genius in every living person."

Mr. Long was the first speaker in a series of monthly meetings, held on the first Friday of each month, giving reviews on successive chapters of "Prescription for Living" by Ruhyyih Khanum, a book now available at the Pierce Public Library.

KID BITS

By NANCY KASER

For the second time this semester Ferndale was the opening team on the sports field. This time the sport was tennis and the occasion was Wednesday afternoon when the GPHS girls' tennis champs, Marlene Climie, Margaret Weaver, Janet Hoffman, Sidney Buell and Jo Willert, battled it out against Ferndale winners.

Dick Gallette was host at a hayride at the Lazy J ranch last Friday night. Janet Wotta and Jim Yeager, Nancy Naragon and Loyd Waterworth, Bert Shaw and Ken Webb, Evelyn Button and Larry Daniels, Nancy Thomas and Chuck Lamb, Sigrid Olsen and Bill Taylor and Sandy Port and Dick Anslow and Midge Stapleton made the evening loads of fun for all.

Friday night was also the night that a few hags (?) got together. The place was Nancy Ryan's where Millie Rowe, Jane Dalton, Emmie Galbraith, June Lang, Shirley Pressel and Ena Cassey met for an evening of knitting and TV.

Only a few Grosse Pointers journeyed to Wyandotte to see the team lose its first league game. Nancy Hall, Pat Danaher, Frank Hagan, Bill Jones, Nancy Kretchmar, Carol Lundgren, Peg Moreland, Laurie Smith, Fred Gareis, Bill Coulter, Neil Smith and Ralph Cross were some of the disappointed fans.

A progressive dinner before the Hag dance started out Saturday night for about 60 kids. The dinner was given by Margie Payne, Barb McGrath, and Earl Lowe for Phil Bech, Herb Abash, and Clem Martin, their dates, and Anita Hatch and John McGrath, Irene Bryant and Skip Clark, Evelyn Button and Larry Daniels, Julie Trombly and Bob Rosscoff, Carol DeBruin and Tom Lister, Nancy Thomas and John Richardson, Sue Clemenston and Tom Pfeiffer, Mary Hoover and Jim Yeager, Terry Kuhn and Fritz Bessmer, Margaret Stapleton and Dick Gallette, and Pat Smith.

Others who verified the dinner as one of the best ever were Barb Stockel and Jack Smith, Barb Coombe and Jerry LaChapelle, Janet Wotta and Wayne Miller, Annette Danna and Gary Dixon, Nancy Ault and Bob Lamb, Sue Fairchild and Bob Gleason, Jeremy Conway and Peter Kremlick, Bert Shaw, and Walter Hoover.

Also before the hag dance a surprise dinner party was given by Tinney Netting for George Reynolds, who is moving to Chicago. Bee Spire and Dan Webb, Barb Baro and Dave Cobb, Cecilia Bonbright and Dave Belser and Jeneane Dial and Clark Bassett are those who surprised George.

One of the largest crowds of the season turned out for the Hag Dance Saturday night. Nancy Ramsey 'n Bob Law, Nancy Kretchmar 'n Joe Buell, Pat Danaher 'n Ronnie Nelson, Sally Shearer 'n Wayne von All.

DEFER SCHOOL

The Defer Kindergarten children have been hearing a great deal about ways to keep safe from harm. In keeping with this most important unit the kindergarten teachers, Mrs. Irene O'Reilly and Mrs. Evelyn Kyzylat, enlisted the help of the Grosse Pointe Park Police Department.

As always, the department cooperated wholeheartedly and sent Sergeant Gerald Kesteloot to talk to the children.

"Sergeant Jerry," as he is now known to the children, visited the kindergarten in the morning and again in the afternoon and he impressed upon 100 little beginners the importance of keeping the following safety rules:

1. Cross only at the corners.
2. Walk between the painted lines where such lines are to be found.

3. Stand on the curb and look both ways before starting across the street.
4. Walk only when the green light shows.

5. Go directly home from school—don't play on the way.
6. Obey the patrol boys who are stationed at the corners to help us.

7. Never get into a stranger's car no matter what attraction he may offer.

The children realize that the policemen are their friends and that all resolved to follow carefully the advice of "Sergeant Jerry."

Hints on Packed Lunches Offered By Red Cross Nutrition Service

Sandwiches are the mainstay of the packed lunch because they carry well, are easy to eat, and when planned with imagination can be supplemented with a few other readily portable foods to make a meal that is both palatable and nourishing.

This type of food has another important quality—a little ingenuity in choice of bread and fillings offers infinite variety. This means that a meal which offers some limitations may be kept interesting to the person eating it, according to the Food and Nutrition Service of the American Red Cross.

Bread is the foundation of any sandwich. Those of either whole grain or enriched white flour offer much more in minerals and vitamins than those made with unenriched white flour. Whether you buy your bread or make it at home, remember this so you won't short change the family.

As a variation from ordinary bread use rolls occasionally. The flat ones, designed especially for hamburgers, are excellent when split and put together with any kind of filling. Hollow out finger rolls and put the filling in the center before wrapping the whole thing in waxed paper.

"Hot dog" buns can be treated this same way, but they'll be easier for the moppets to eat, if you cut them into slices after stuffing.

Most quick breads such as muffins, biscuits and corn bread are so tender to carry without crumbling, but fruit and nut breads made with baking powder are perfect. All of them have a better flavor and slice more easily if they're allowed to stand for about 24 hours after baking.

No matter what kind of bread is used it's important to spread it with table fat all the way to the edges before adding the filling. The coating of butter or fortified margarine makes the sandwiches taste better and keeps the filling from soaking into the bread.

Some crisp lettuce or other salad greens add a flip to many sandwiches. But put the greens on top of the bread rather than in between to prevent wilting. The person who eats the sandwich can take care of the final assembly.

Careful wrapping in waxed paper or some other moisture proof film will keep the sandwiches palatable. For best results use a large enough piece of wrapping so the edges can be folded over several times before the ends are creased and turned under.

And now for some sandwich filling and bread recipes to make your lunch packing easier:

Frankfurter Egg Filling
Combine ½ cup chopped cooked frankfurters, 1 chopped hard-boiled egg, 1 tablespoon minced onion, 1 tablespoon well drained chili sauce, ¼ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon prepared mustard, and a dash of pepper. If the mixture is not moist enough add a little mayonnaise or salad dressing. Makes ¾ cup filling.

Baked Bean and Bacon
Mash 1 cup baked beans with a fork. Combine with ¼ cup chopped cooked bacon, 3 tablespoons catsup, 2 tablespoons salad dressing or mayonnaise and salt and pepper to taste. Makes 1 cup filling.

Beef and Celery
Combine ½ cup ground cooked roast beef with ¼ cup chopped celery, 2 tablespoons pickle relish, 2 tablespoons mayonnaise and salt and pepper to taste. Makes ¾ cup filling.

Cottage Cheese and Olive
Combine 2 cups cottage cheese with ¾ cup chopped celery, ¼ cup chopped stuffed olives and salt and pepper to taste. Makes enough filling for 8 to 10 sandwiches.

Prune Nut Bread
One and one-half cups sifted all purpose enriched flour, ¼ cup sugar, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1¼ teaspoons iodized salt, ¼ teaspoon soda, 1½ cups whole wheat flour, ½ cup shortening, 2 eggs, beaten, 1½ cups milk, ½ cup molasses, 1 cup chopped, uncooked prunes, ½ cup chopped nut meats.

Sift flour, sugar, salt, soda and baking powder together several times. Add whole wheat flour and mix well. Cut in shortening until mixture looks mealy. Add prunes and nuts. Combine eggs, milk and molasses and add to dry mixture. Stir only until dry ingredients are dampened. DO NOT BEAT. Turn batter into well greased loaf pan, 9x5x3 inches. Bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees F., until loaf is browned and slightly pulled away from sides of pan. Remove from pan and cool thoroughly. Makes 1 large loaf.

Explorer Scout Leaders to Meet

Adult leaders of Explorer Scouts in District 3 will meet Thursday evening, October 18, at the Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church, 1950 Mack Avenue, to discuss Explorer activities for 1952.

The group will discuss how many activities to undertake and what kind of activities to select. More than 150 Advisors, Senior Crew Leaders, Secretaries, and other Explorer Representatives will be called to order by Mr. G. Sam Zilly, 380 Merriweather road, at 7:30 p.m. Mr. Zilly is a member of the District 3 Executive Committee, in charge of Boy Scout Advancement.

Last year's conference resulted in a very successful program, highlighted by a canoe trip down the Au Sable, an International Campout, and a Sportsmen's Outing.

One of the things to be discussed will be how to select the 20 fortunate Explorers for the opportunity to attend the Philmont Scout Reservation in New Mexico.

Three on Dean's List at Wayne

Three students from Grosse Pointe are included in the group of honor students named on the "Dean's List" of the Wayne University College of Liberal Arts, Dean Victor A. Rapport has announced.

The College has instituted a "Dean's List" to be published semi-annually, composed of those students whose honor point average is 3.5 or above for the past semester. In order to be eligible for consideration a student must be carrying at least 12 academic hours.

The College of Liberal Arts is the only College at Wayne to issue a list of this kind. Inclusion on the "Dean's List" becomes a permanent part of the student's record.

Those students from the Pointe who attained this honor during the semester ending June, 1951, are as follows: Roy G. Hoffman, 226 Fisher road, 3.6250; Sara Ellen Leopold, 1215 Beaconsfield, 3.8333; Leroy Weed, 1227 Roslyn road, 3.6000.

SO YOU'RE NOT RELIGIOUS?

Thousands of people have lost interest in traditional religion because it does not speak realistically to life as they find it.

Wm. D. Hammond

"If this is religion," they say, "I guess I'm just not religious!" But many of these same people finally discover in UNITARIAN CHURCHES a broader understanding of religion, with which they feel perfectly at home. Is this what YOU have been seeking? Sunday, Oct. 21—Sunday School 9:30 a.m. First Service, 9:30 a.m. Second Service, 11 a.m. Friendship Club hay ride.

Beginning Sunday, Oct. 21 St. James Lutheran Church will begin conducting two services every Sunday morning. The first service at 9:30 a.m. will be a Youth-Adult combination service, or a family-church service.

The Sunday School children eight years and above will be present during the first part of this service, (the younger children meeting in the basement auditorium), which will include worship and a sermonette for the children, with the aid of visual education charts. The Sunday School children will then leave in a recessional to the basement for the lesson of the day, after which the pastor, the Rev. George E. Kurz, will deliver the sermon of the day to the adults present.

The second service will begin as usual at 11 o'clock, with the choir participating and the full order of service being used. This two-service plan has been developed by the Rev. Erwin Kurth, recently of Fort Wayne, Ind. and now pastor of St. Mark's Church, Detroit, as part of the full-orbed stewardship program, which emphasizes reaching the unchurched and increasing church attendance and communion attendance.

The plan is being used effectively in various parts of the country. Pastor Kurz further announces that Holy Communion will be celebrated on the third Sunday of the month at the first service, the sermonette to the children being dropped that Sunday, and that the children's choir will serve in the chancel from time to time at the first service. Holy Communion will continue to be celebrated on the first Sunday of the month at the second service.

Plan to Fix Dock Suffers Setback

Plans to improve the weather beaten Farms city pier, that was damaged by the storm Saturday, October 6, have taken a turn for the worse.

The U. S. Department of Control Materials has made a ruling that steel is not available for use in constructing recreation parks or docks. A full report was not available at the time the NEWS went to press, but the council doubts that it will be able to get the steel from other sources for a new pier.

It will be up to the council to decide how much money to spend on a temporary structure of wood.

Smart Children Shun Invitation

William Frederick of 1344 Torrey road told Woods police that while shopping at the Sphère Gift Shop at Mack at Torrey road, Friday, October 12, his children were in the car alone.

A car with three men in it pulled alongside and asked the children to get in their car. The children ran into the store to get their parents and when Mr. Frederick got outside the men were gone.

Good Grounds For Suspicion

A resident of Stanhope avenue told Woods police Friday, October 12, that two suspicious men were walking up and down the street.

A few minutes later police received a call that the men stole a car belonging to W. S. Bobier of 1585 Fairholme.

Two hours later the police recovered the car on Mack avenue with a smashed front end. It had apparently hit a tree stump.

Police found that the left front window had been forced open. The men had vanished.

A. W. Massnick Exhibits Art

A. W. Massnick describes the prevailing style of his art work as semi-abstract. He has exhibited his oils, water colors and black and white drawings at The Detroit Artists' Market and at the Detroit Institute.

Mr. Massnick spent this past summer in Maine painting marine scenes. Two summer's ago, he made a bicycle tour of Europe. While in Paris, France, he did a great deal of sketching.

The transportation company which had contracted to provide transportation for those on the tour went bankrupt stranding Mr. Massnick and many other students and teachers in France.

The Flying Tigers, a small independent airline, rescued the stranded Americans. Mr. Massnick, a graduate of Grosse Pointe High School, received a B. A. degree in drawing and painting from the University of Michigan this past June.

An exhibit of Mr. Massnick's oils, water colors and black and white drawings can be viewed at the Grosse Pointe Art Exchange, Kercheval and St. Clair.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred W. Massnick, of Bishop road.

who, where and whatnot

by whoozit

Gal we know made a special trip to Windsor Monday trying to get close enough to Princess Elizabeth to ask if she might borrow a spare tiara for a VIP (Veddy Important Pointer).

The VIP has that charming habit of referring to her husband (who probably thinks HE should be wearing a crown) as MR. PETTINGILL to persons who have known him since kindergarten days. MR. Pettingill, indeed, sez our gal.

Most fascinating use we've ever watched for a hypodermic needle isn't employed by a member of the American Medical Society, at all.

The dazzling HILDEGARDE DE GRIMME (Mrs. Joseph) uses a hypodermic needle to do that magic restoring of old masters.

It's a mysterious process in which the needle is used to prick bubbles on old paintings . . . then these are deftly flattened by Hildegarde . . . so that they can be restored to perfection once again.

Friend of ours got a letter from her father the other day in which he rambled on delightfully about everything that was happening "at home."

The jewel of a cook saved her fabulous salary until she had the fare back to Europe . . . immediately departed for her old home, leaving the family bereft and running constantly for the Tums.

Finally a new cook was hired. Her souffles were superior but she had a small weakness. Each day, and usually before dinner was served, found her blind drunk.

"And do you know," wrote the devoted father to his daughter, "that your Mother has felt much worse about the new cook getting drunk than she ever did about my occasional lapses!"

PILFERINGS

Still browsing through old Blue Books, predecessor of today's Social Secretary we find:

In 1893 Detroit had a Mother Street and a Father Street, a Summer Street and a Winter Street . . .

Directions and instructions were given in case of fire: 1—Go to the box, open the door and pull the hook down as far as it will go. 2. If the alarm is not immediately heard upon the small bell within, the City Hall or Tower bells, go to the next nearest box to the fire and repeat the operation. 3. If on going to a box to give an alarm, the City Hall bell is heard striking otherwise than the hour (which indicates that an alarm is being sent over the lines) do not open the box until it has done striking.

In 1893 James Vernon hadn't started to make gingerale . . . but was famous for his flower shop, specializing in cut flowers, corsages and bouquets.

A shop of household hardware was called "Housekeepers Palace" and special estimates were given to "parties just starting house-keeping" . . . that was when all the world DID love a lover! . . .

There were five boat clubs worthy of Blue Book mention . . . The Excelsior Boat Club (R. A. Catton, president) . . . The Beaver Boat Club, at Windsor (John Davis, president) . . . Centennial Boat Club (Alfred C. Hempel, president) . . . Detroit Boat Club (George S. Hosmer, president) . . . and Cambridge Boat Club (C. Fred Grasser, president) . . .

Imitation stained glass paper was chic for the home . . . folks were taking Dr. Kermott's Mandrake pills to cure headaches and to purify the blood . . . Newcomb Endicott & Co. advertised that steamboat furnishing was a specialty of the house . . . The People's Savings Bank (Congress and Griswold) had a bee hive for trademark with the inscription, "Temperance, Industry, Economy" . . . Interest was four per cent.

Pointer of Interest

BEN R. MARSH OF IRVINE LANE

—Picture by Fred Runnels

"Yesterday a young wife arrived by plane after having received word that she could visit her husband, a burned case, who had just been returned from Korea. Tired, emotionally upset and filled with anxiety, she arrived at a USO headquarters, just as it was closing.

"She was immediately given a hot cup of tea and within 30 minutes she had been given sedation and arrangements had been made for a lovely room in the home of a USO volunteer. She slept well and, on the following morning, arrangements were made to drive her out to the Camp so she could be with her husband."

We've been quoting from a magazine because we think the spirit behind those two paragraphs is exactly the attraction of the United Service Organization of Metropolitan Detroit has for its new president, Ben R. Marsh of Irvine Lane.

The people's way of serving the men and women in the service of our country drew Mr. Marsh to USO last January when it was re-activated to aid the growing thousands of sailors, soldiers and marines of World War III. Heavens knows he was busy enough.

The USO Story

He has always given generously of his time and effort to civic and philanthropic groups; he helped organize and was campaign manager of the first United Foundation Torch drive.

Then there's the matter of being chairman of the board of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company, a position which makes all of Detroit feel that Mr. Marsh is peculiarly available twenty-four hours a day by TELEPHONE.

But you are sure that the man whose Saturday afternoon you have interrupted (he did change to a maize and blue jacket to lend support to the Michigan team flashing across the TV screen which WE prevented him from watching) is deeply, sincerely, bert-Lafayette Theater.

How to Help

Maintenance of the larger quarters naturally will require money. To assure USO the necessary funds, Pointers will contribute to the Torch Fund, by which it is supported.

After making that financial contribution, Pointers have the privilege of doing more. They may volunteer to serve at one of the various USO stations (they are manned by member agencies) or they may act as hostesses.

Some 700 hostesses are now giving time to the USO after having been carefully screened and trained in the work.

Assisting the USO in its full hearted program are the Salvation Army (running snack bars and canteens at the Michigan Central Station and at the induction center in the Federal Building), Allied Veterans Council, American Red Cross, Council of Social Agencies, Detroit Service Organization, Jewish Welfare Board, Lutheran Service Organization, National Catholic Community Service, Travelers' Aid Society, YMCA and XWCA, the AFL and the CIO.

Still other USO activities include maintenance of Travelers' Aid Information booths at all stations and bus terminals; recreational services at Selfridge Field and Grosse Ile, the lounge and canteen at Fort Wayne (run by the Detroit Service Organization), overnight and week-end housing in a dormitory at St. John's Hospital, Saturday night dances for servicemen at the Downtown Center.

Our Privilege

The football game was over by the time we had finished talking to Mr. Marsh about the USO.

He had forgotten all about it but he was taking time to remind us that it is a privilege to contribute to the Torch Drive because that is still THE PEOPLE voluntarily giving to help THE PEOPLE.

It's a standout project today when the swing is to government taxation for everything including charity.

SALAD OF TRUFFLES

Contributed by Mrs. Benjamin O. Shepherd (I shall pass it on just as it is, in an old book of French menus, it is suggested for the special event of your God-mother coming to luncheon.) Choose five or six black truffles and three very tender artichokes. Brush the truffles carefully, but don't peel them. That would be a crime. The essential perfume of an orange lies in its skin; the best and most aromatic part of a truffle is in its envelope.

Chop them and put them in a jar which can be hermetically closed.

Take off the outer leaves of the artichokes, leaving only those that you are sure will be tender. Take off all that is edible from the bases of the leaves, chop this and the bottoms and sprinkle them with salt. Leave them for ten minutes. Wipe them with a cloth.

Put the yolks of three hard-boiled eggs through a sieve. Mix them in a bowl with mustard, flavored with herbs (Bordeaux Mustard) and dilute them with half a glassful of oil and a little vinegar.

Rub the salad bowl lightly with garlic. Arrange the artichokes and truffles in alternate layers, sprinkling them with salt, pepper and the egg mixture. Just before serving mix all very gently together.

St. Michael's Auxiliary

Presenting Fashion Show

Highlight of the autumn calendar for St. Michael's Women's Auxiliary will be "A Portrait of Fall Fashions of 1951" to be presented tonight at 8:15, Thursday, October 18, in Christ Church Undercroft.

Betty Davis Palmer, fashion commentator, will direct the fashion presentation, which will feature new clothes for fall and will dramatize well coordinated fashion accessories, new colors in makeup and elegant fragrances.

Mrs. Marion Eringer, publicity chairman, is being assisted by Mrs. William Mack, Mrs. Fred Button and Mrs. Nelson B. Fisher.

The Michigan Central Railroad was opened to Ann Arbor on October 17, 1839. An excursion train with the Brady Guards and 800 citizens visited the city.

Reflections

by paul gach

What a year! It's been almost 10 months since I wrote my last note here. Then came Christmas and there was no time to sit and write. In the meantime I've missed the chance to get together with you and discuss photography. From now on I'll find time to put some more reflections on paper. Right now I'm at Liggett school waiting for one of the annual group pictures. This is the seventh consecutive year of making their graduation portraits. I'm quite proud of that. It takes a lot of doing to keep such a group happy for seven years.
