Goodfellows Paper Sale December 17

James McNally and Dave Nagel Appointed Chairmen of Annual Lions Club Event

James N. McNally and Dave Nagel were appointed chairmen, by President Thomas Munson of the Grosse Pointe Lions, for the annual Goodfellow Newspaper sale to be conducted on December 17.

This is the 22nd year that the Grosse Pointe Lions have conducted the sale. The police and fire departments of all five communities have always assisted. The proceeds derived from the sale assure that no child or person in the community be without a Christmas. During the year the funds are used for the purchase of dogs for the blind, glasses for those financially unable to purchase them, and to aid the sick, infirm and needy.

The goal this year is $8,000.00. The Grosse Pointe Lions request that you buy your paper from one of your local police or firemen, as the different communities are putting on their own contest to ascertain what community can sell the most Goodfellow papers. Remember the date—December 17.

Officer Van Tiem responded and ordered the junkmen to follow his scout car to the station. Lewis Heinz, of 700 E. Congress, driver of the jalopy, was complying with orders so avidly that he rammed into the rear of

Overflow Crowd Turns Out To Donate Blood as Mobile Unit Pays Visit to Pointe

Congregational Church Is Collection Headquarters As 172 Pints Are Obtained from Nearly 250 Who Volunteered

The visit of the Red Cross Mobile Unit to the Pointe last Friday was termed a great success by Red Cross officials. Blood donations were obtained from 172 persons, most of which is already in Korea, available for the wounded.

The Red Cross had asked that a minimum of 200 donors be signed up, which would normally guarantee that blood could be obtained from at least 100. Actually nearly 250 persons appeared. It was necessary to turn down 64 and a number of others arrived late without appointments and could not be handled.

Worked Late Hours

The last appointments were made for 8 p.m., but it was after 11 before the workers had finished their jobs. The Red Cross was short of regular help that day, due to the fact that three other mobile units were also making collections, but volunteer workers more than filled the gap.

The Pointe collection was under the sponsorship of seven churches, headed by the Grosse Pointe Congregational Church, in whose building the collection was made. The Congregationalists signed up 106 members of their own church family to make blood donations.

Doctors, Nurses Volunteer

Twelve graduate nurses who are members of the church volunteered their services, as did eight doctors from the church. They worked in shifts, with several on duty all the time.

Faith Community Church sent eight members, with six of them being from one family, three sisters with their husbands. There were seven from Christ Church, four from Grosse Pointe Memorial and two from the Grosse Pointe Methodist Church. Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian and St. Michael's Chapel, the other two cooperating churches sent 6 and 16 respectively.

Business Places Canvassed

Many of the donors volunteered after reading of the collection in the News. Mrs. Lyndie Martin of the Congregational Church, personally canvassed many of the business places in the Pointe to sign up donors. She signed up 18, six of them in Jacobson's alone, where John Hannan, manager, called the entire staff together to let Mrs. Martin talk to them. Mrs. Martin told of other pleasant experiences in connection with the collection. Richard Wallace, just turned 18, called up to ask if he was old enough to donate. When told that he could, with his parents' permission, he volunteered to round up a group of young friends.

The Grosse Pointe Teachers Association sent 15 of its members to add their donations.

Talked Into Lift

Russell Allard, gardener for the C. Henry Buhrs, called to find if he could get an appointment for right after work. When told that transportation facilities were available, he said he could get to the church by bus. It took considerable arguing to convince him that he should be picked up by one of the church members who had volunteered for this work.

Mrs. Henry B. Joy, who has been doing Red Cross work since before the days of World War I, telephoned to say she must have a part in the collection. She was on duty in uniform from the time the collection started at 2 p.m. until the last donor had been taken care of.

Never Sat Down

Her fellow workers said she never sat down. When asked if she didn't want to take time out for the dinner which the church provided, she said she had brought her own sandwich.

Mrs. Truman Brown, chairman for Christ Church, worked throughout the day although she was suffering from an abscessed sinus. She was disappointed when she was refused as a donor.

The next Pointe visit of the Mobile Unit will be on January 11, when it will return to the War Memorial Center.

COAT STOLEN FROM CAR

Mrs. K. W. Cunningham of 936 Berkshire reported to Farms police Thursday, November 8 that someone stole a coat from her car parked in the business section on Kercheval. The coat is valued at $125.

New Kerby Set to Take More Pupils

Big Addition Will Be Ready To Handle All Children In District on November 19

According to an announcement received from James W. Bushong, Superintendent of the Grosse Pointe Public Schools, all children in the Kerby School District will be attending the New Kerby School beginning Monday, November 19.

Since the opening of school in September, because the addition to the New Kerby School has been under construction, children in the kindergarten through the second grade in the Kerby District have been attending the Old Kerby School, while the children in grade three through Grade six-A have been enrolled in the New Kerby School.

Details, to Finish

Superintendent Bushong stated that while there will be certain finishing details to be completed in the New Kerby School, the rooms which the pupils in kindergarten through second grade will occupy are practically finished. In view of this, it seems desirable to make the transfer of the pupils from the Old Kerby Unit to the New Kerby at this time.

Superintendent Bushong said that the Board of Education plans to use the Old Kerby School for a storage and supply building.

All Classrooms Done

With the opening of the addition to the New Kerby School, all classroom areas of all new schools are ready for school use. At Parcells the auditorium and public library wing are still not ready for use. It is hoped that these facilities will be completed by the first of the year. At Monteith all rooms are completed with the exception of the gymnasium and a few special purpose rooms. The gymnasium and a few other rooms at Poupard still have a few finishing details to be completed.

In Final Stage

It is the hope of the Board of Education that early in the new year all buildings will be completed and open for inspection and visitation by the general public.

Two Car Tangle On Kercheval

Mrs. Pearl A. Farnum of 220 Country Club lane reported $15 damage to her car to Farms police on Tuesday, November 6.

Mrs. Farnum was stopped at the intersection at Kercheval and Provincial, when Robert Boulder of St. Clair Shores skidded around the corner, striking Mrs. Farnum's car. Mr. Boulder accepted the blame.

Coach of Chicago Bears Has Double Dose of Bad Luck

Residence of Heartly (Hunk) Anderson Ransacked While His Team Is Being Taken to Cleaners By Detroit Lions

Double trouble was encountered during the weekend by Heartly (Hunk) Anderson, line coach of the Chicago Bears, whose residence is located at 180 Moran road in Grosse Pointe Farms. While the Andersons were in the Windy City watching the Bears take a beating from the Detroit Lions, a burglar did a pretty thorough cleaning job of their home here.

The Andersons' was one of two Moran road homes burglarized during the past week, the Farms police reported.

Discovered by Maid

The Andersons' daughter, Mrs. Jo Ann Wilcox was at the house Friday afternoon and left about 5 o'clock. The burglary occurred sometime between then and Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock when a maid, Thelma Bibby, arrived to do some cleaning. It may have occurred during the weekend, as Mr. Wilcox said he was at the house Monday noon and while he did not investigate, he later recalled that everything had not seemed in order.

Screen Removed

Thelma Bibby notified Mrs. Wilcox, who called the Farms police. Detective Sergeant Elmer Labadie investigated. Entry was gained by removing a metal screen from a kitchen window. Apparently the window had been left unlocked.

The entire house had been ransacked. It will not be known until the Andersons return and make a check, what is the full extent of the burglary. Mrs. Wilcox was able to list a number of things that had been taken.

Set of Silver Stolen

Among these are a portable TV set, a portable typewriter, a set of flat silver that Mr. Anderson had given Mrs. Anderson for Christmas last year, a watch, cuff links, a quantity of men's suits and other clothing and accessories including neckties. Taken from twin beds were a pair of electric blankets and some Hudson's Bay blankets had also been stolen.

Sergeant Labadie said tracks on the kitchen floor indicated the job had been done by one person. A cigar butt was found in an ashtray in the kitchen.

Barton Home Robbed

The other burglary was reported last Friday night, November 9, at the house of Mr. and Mrs. George Barton at 253 Moran road. The Bartons were out of the house from 6:30 p.m. to 8:10 p.m. and left the rear door unlocked.

The burglar had pulled down all the shades in the house. Missing are a 16mm movie camera containing some exposed film, a $5 bill and some small change, and a woman's round watch with a leather strap. A number of pencils were also taken from a pocket of Mr. Barton's vest.

Rotary Club Party Set For Monday

Neighborhood Club Will Be Scene of Big Event to Raise Money for Charitable Program

The Grosse Pointe Rotary Club will hold its annual community games party next Monday night at 8 o'clock in the Neighborhood Club. The party is open to the public.

This is the event which the local club of the international service organization stages each year to raise funds to support its extensive and varied charitable program.

Last year the party netted $8,000, every cent of which was used for these philanthropies. The very large majority of the expenditures are local and directly benefit the community.

William G. (Dutch) Wahl of Devonshire road is general chairman of this year's party.

Car Crashes Glass Truck

Mrs. Helen Fisk Finzel of 6615 Maple drive, Clarkston, Michigan, has a little better idea about that old saying "People who live in glass houses shouldn't throw stones."

Last Tuesday, November 13, Mrs. Finzel, driving north on Balfour, slowed up for the stop sign at Kercheval and then pulled into the lane of westbound traffic, striking a big Cadillac Glass Company truck on the left side. The truck was carrying a big plate glass which became many little plate glasses all over the Balfour-Kercheval intersection, on contact with the Finzel 1948 Hudson coupe.

The driver of the truck said his company had just recently spent $1500 repairing the racks which hold the large pieces of glass while enroute to the job.

Patrolman Tom Fraser ticketed Mrs. Finzel for entering a through street without stopping.

Anderson Sale Starts Sunday

The John W. Anderson home at 200 Lake Shore road will be the center of exceptional public interest, beginning Sunday. Announcement is made today that the sumptuous household furnishings of the estate of Mrs. John W. Anderson will be offered by public sale by H. O. McNierny. The offering will continue through Tuesday, starting at 10 a.m. daily. Mr. McNierny, in describing the sale, says it is "the largest and most magnificent offering ever presented in this locality."

Accident Robs Blood Bank Of Contribution for Korea

A volunteer donor on his way to the blood collection Center in the Grosse Pointe Congregational Church at Chalfonte and Lothrop last Friday evening, was considered lucky not to have lost some of the precious fluid in an accident which occurred right in front of the church.

Edward A. Hulbert, of 650 Rivard boulevard, was parking his car at 6:50 o'clock preparatory to keeping a blood bank appointment. Sean O'Mara Fraser, 16, of 626 Washington road, driving a 1950 Ford east on Chalfonte, plowed into the rear of Hulbert's 1949 Ford.

Damage to both cars was extensive. No injuries were reported. Mr. Hulbert went on into the church and asked to contribute, but he had been so shaken up by the accident that the nurses in charge advised him to pass up the donation this time.

Witnesses of the crash said they didn't see how either of the drivers got out of it alive. The Farms police issued a ticket to young Fraser.

856 Permits Issued Since First of Year

Public School Report for Third Quarter Reveals Great Construction Activity

The rate of new home construction in the Grosse Pointe School District is still continuing at a very high rate, according to the third quarterly report just issued by L. M. Bartlett, Director of Pupil Personnel for the Grosse Pointe Public Schools.

This report shows that 856 residential family unit building permits were issued in the Grosse Pointe School District during the first nine months of 1951. This is 299 fewer permits than were issued last year for a comparable period. With the exception of last year, however, this number exceeds that of any other year on record.

Woods Leads Again

Grosse Pointe Woods continues to lead with 325 permits for this period. This is followed by 171 for the Farms, 742 for the Park, 140 for the section of Harper Woods which is in the Grosse Pointe School District, 88 for the City of Grosse Pointe, and 19 for Grosse Pointe Shores.

A breakdown of the data by elementary school census districts shows that the Poupard Census District with 140 permits leads the list for the first nine months of 1951. This is followed closely with 131 permits for the Monteith Census District and 124 for the Kerby District. The remaining elementary census districts in order are as follows: Torrey Woods, 111; Trombly, 78; Roslyn road, 70; Maire, 63; Mason, 55; Defer, 50; and Richard, 33.

Enrollment Is 6,463

The enrollment in the Grosse Pointe Public Schools at the end of October was 6,463, which is an increase of 449 over a comparable date last year. The greatest increase by school divisions is on the elementary level which now has an enrollment of 4,057; an increase of 378 over a year ago. The junior high school enrollment of 1,308 is 69 above that of last year, and the senior high school enrollment of 1,098 is two above that of last year.

With the rate of home construction as it is, another large increase in school enrollment is to be expected again next year.

Workers Urged To Finish Job

All Grosse Pointe Torch Drive solicitors were asked today to remain on the job.

"Every potential giver must be contacted, and every pledge or gift picked up in order to fulfill the 1951 quota," Mrs. J. A. Mullen, of Washington road, regional Torch Drive co-chairman, said.

"The solicitors have done a magnificent job, trudging through some of the vilest weather we have ever seen to ask their neighbors for contributions. But the weather has complicated completion of raising money needed for support of 150 worthwhile health and community services.

"These agencies must continue their work through 1952. A few more dollars will make this possible."

Old Short Change Trick Detected

Two men who attempted to pull the old short change trick on a clerk in the Vernier Beer Store were picked up by the Woods police on Friday, November 9, after the owner of the store foiled their artistry.

The Woods police made the rounds of the neighborhood stores with the pair and a woman employee of the drugstore at Moross and Mack identified them as having operated successfully there. She refused, however, to prosecute them.

ALL STEAMED UP

A resident of Torrey road called Woods police Monday, November 5 reporting that smoke was coming from under a neighbors garage door. Upon investigation, police found a broken hot water pipe, that was filling the garage with steam. No one was home. The police shut off the hot water.

Pointe Players' Opening Tonight

The opening performance of "Berkeley Square," the Pointe Players' fall production, under the auspices of the Mothers' Club, will take place tonight in the Grosse Pointe High School auditorium.

Although several scenes of "Berkeley Square" take place in the present day, it is considered a period play because the majority of scenes take place in the eighteenth century. Many of the student actors will appear in colorful hoop skirts, satin breeches, huge pompadours, and snug waistcoats. Through constant practice, several of them have become quite proficient in wielding silver snuff boxes and flowery fans.

The set, which represents an English mansion about three hundred years old, has huge, full-length windows and successfully gives the effect of real wood paneling. Although much of the set has been rebuilt from materials on hand, some extra construction has been involved in this production.

Queen Anne furniture, loaned by families of students in school, lends much to the effect of the whole set.

Show to Follow Blood Donations

A full hour of variety entertainment will be the reward for members, their ladies and friends of Gabriel Richard Council, Knights of Columbus, following their donations of blood to the Red Cross Mobile Unit at the council's club building, 9375 Amity, at Parkview and Kercheval, on Monday, November 19.

This will be the fourth time that the American Red Cross Unit has been set up in the council's premises; with wives, daughters and others of the members families donating along with their men folks. The donations will start at 7:30 p. m.

Over 70 members of Gabriel Richard are in the armed forces, the majority in Korea.

On Thursday, the student body of the Pierce Junior High School will have the privilege of hearing one of Grosse Pointe's own authors, Miss Elizabeth Howard, author of "Sabina," "Adventure For Alison," "Summer Under Sail," "North Winds Blow Free" and "Peddler's Girl." Miss Howard has a new book about to be released and it too has an historical background. This time she uses the War of 1812 for the historical background.

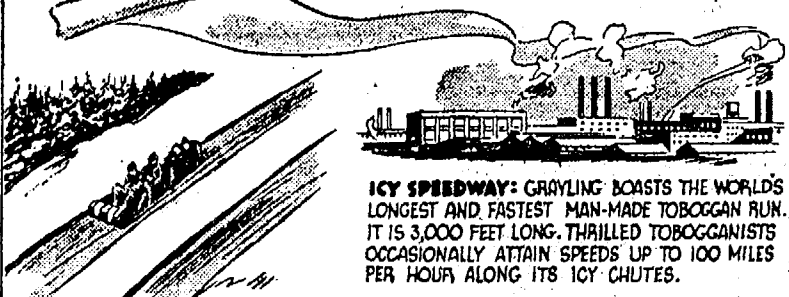

On Friday of Book Week all of the new books will be ready for circulation to the student body at Pierce.

Festival Choir To Open Season

Sunday afternoon, November 18, at 4 o'clock, will mark the first performance of the season of the Christ Church Festival Choir of Grosse Pointe. The featured work will be the Cantata, "Gloria Domini" by T. Tertius Noble.

This magnificent cantata, written for mixed chorus and baritone solo, portrays the dedication festival of Solomon's Temple. This temple service under Solomon represents the acme of the musical culture of the Hebrews, as Solomon's reign marked that of their political power. It depicts the thrilling spectacle of King Solomon, assuming his function as Priest, presiding over the immense crowd of spectators and participants. The whole population of Israel had come from the remotest parts of the land for this festival. The great altar was flanked by hundreds upon hundreds of Priests and Levites, musicians and singers, the temple choir, and 120 trumpeters rending the air with silver trumpets.

In Sunday's performance, the part of Solomon will be sung by Donald F. Bliss, baritone. The choir will be conducted by Robert Hawksley, organist and choirmaster. The Reverend Dr. J. Clemens Kolb, rector of Christ Church, will give a short introductory address. The composer, Dr. T. Tertius Noble, was organist and master of the choir at St. Thomas' Church, New York City, from 1913 to 1944 where he developed an outstanding Boy Choir school. Prior to this, he held a similar post at Yorkminster, England. He is perhaps best known for his popular church anthems, "Souls of the Righteous" and "Pierce Was the Wild Willow." He is now living in retirement in Rockport, Massachusetts.

The Grosse Pointe Rotary Club's Annual Feather Party will be held Monday, November 19th at 8 p.m. at Neighborhood Club, 17145 Waterloo. For those who have been unable to obtain tickets, some will be available at the door. Don't miss this great opportunity.

The Grosse Pointe High School Band will give a series of three concerts for the students in elementary schools. The concerts will be held at Pierce, November 14; Brownell, December 5; and Parcels, January 23.

Toy Collection Opens Monday

This message is especially directed to the children of Grosse Pointe and we hope fond mamas will place it next to the breakfast cereal tomorrow morning.

The Thrift Shop wants the children to know that the time has come again when they are being asked to sort out their old toys to help make Christmas a merrier time for many little girls and boys who are never quite sure Santa Claus is going to get to their homes on Christmas Eve.

Members of the Thrift Shop are starting out next Monday morning to collect these toys from all over Grosse Pointe.

Mrs. Edwin R. Stroh Jr. and Mrs. John C. Chapin, co-chairmen, remind the children that the toys are sold as they are received (that is, without repair). Therefore, the nicer the toys probably the greater the tug on little hearts—for toys should be usable. But all mindful boys and girls realize that this is by far the better kind of toy to share anyhow.

The toy collection will end the Friday after Thanksgiving, and that's why the Thrift Shop members are starting out bright and early next week. This year, they are planning to canvass the Pointe block by block and all families are asked to have their contributions ready.

Just in case your house may be missed in the canvass, if you call the Thrift Shop (TU. 5-0773) a worker will be happy to call for the toys you want to give.

The toys, you know, are sold for small amounts at the Thrift Shop—and for many years parents whose purses can't provide much Christmas for their children look forward to this opportunity to find nice things for little money.

Thrift Shop members who comprise the station wagon collection brigade setting out Monday morning include:

Mrs. J. Oliver Wardwell, Mrs. John Posselius, Mrs. Dan Johnson, Mrs. Walter Buhl Ford II, Mrs. Alfred L. Marks, Mrs. Douglas McClure, Mrs. H. Hudson Mead.

Mrs. John Holley, Mrs. Joseph Osborne, Mrs. Sherman Mitchell, Mrs. Frederick S. Ford Jr., Mrs. Wendell Anderson Jr., Mrs. Henry B. Kinzie, Mrs. Charles F. Delbridge Jr., Mrs. Berrien Eaton Jr. and Mrs. Horace C. Ford.

A Job Well Done

Praise is due the Grosse Pointe Congregational Church for the success of the blood collection program carried on at the church last Friday for the American Red Cross. A total of 172 pints of blood was donated, with the large percentage designated for use of the wounded in Korea.

Of the approximately 250 persons who responded to the appeal, 106 were members of the Congregational Church family. The church had dramatized and glamorized the campaign for weeks preceding the collection and the response of its own members must have been most heartening to the leaders of the drive.

In addition to supplying a major portion of the actual donors, the church also furnished a good many of the volunteer workers who were on duty throughout the collection. Congregational doctors and nurses were present at all times to serve in any way possible. The women of the church served a full course dinner to the Red Cross workers, instead of being satisfied with supplying the usual sandwiches which are the daily fare of these women who carry out such an important assignment.

The church is already talking about the next collection and the enthusiastic women who organized the one last week, say they learned lots which will help them make the next one even more successful.

Club Sends Out Call for Help

The Grosse Pointe Woods Community Club is doing such a good job in attracting the youth to healthy, happy activity, that it is forced to send out a call for help from the older folks.

Among the activities which the club sponsors is an open gymnasium program, held every Tuesday and Thursday night in the Parcels School gym. Last week more than 80 youngsters turned out on one night to partake of the fun and exercise. It has been necessary to put both the boys' and girls' gyms to use, and supervision of a crowd of this size has reached proportions that are taxing even the multiple talents of the recreation directors, Edward Wernet and Herman Steinman.

They would greatly appreciate some volunteer help from the men of the community. Anyone who has had any experience in refereeing, timing or any other line of athletic supervision, is urged to turn out to help with the job. They will doubtless be well rewarded in the satisfaction to be derived from working and playing with the boys. The youngsters range in age from 9 through 17, and all boys of the community are welcome at these gym sessions.

Volunteers will receive a warm welcome too, whether they can give one night a week or two. Anyone willing to help is asked to call the Community Club, TUxedo 1-7970.

The club is a member of the Red Feather family of social agencies.

Grosse-Exaggerations

A. PRYOR

"But my heart goes out to the oak leaves
That are the last to sigh 'enough' and loose their hold;
They have boasted to the nudging frost and to the two and thirty winds
That they would never die, never even grow old.
(These are those russet leaves
That cling all winter, even into Spring
To the dormant bough, in the wood knee-deep,
In snow the only colored thing.)"

(Edna St. Vincent Millay)

Doing transcriptions of radio broadcasts to be aired at a future date, is not all it's cracked up to be. Ferinstance, last Saturday night, following that miserable three days of freeze, snow and blow, a little man got on the radio to tell us to get ready to feed our feather friends. He started out by saying that it wouldn't be long now before winter would sneak up on us, temperatures would go down somewhat and there would be signs of snow flurries in the air! (There were two inches on the ground at the time.) As we tossed another log upon the fire, we heard him say not to forget to order bird seed because very soon, the birds would be looking for something to eat. He sounded like a very nice young man and he probably couldn't help the fact that he had to make the recording in August.

The gent who told us the following story . . . assures us it is NO Grosse Exaggeration. He SEZ a duck-shooting companion of his who is fancy enough to employ a butler-valet, usually takes his man Friday with him when he goes on short hunting trips in nearby Canada. He has outfitted Jeeves in everything a hunter needs . . . except a gun!! (The reason for this will soon be made clear.) The butler accompanies his "mawster" to the blind and it is his duty to carry excess equipment (such as magazines and a shaker of martinis) and when they arrive at said blind, it is also his duty to keep a sharp eye out for ducks, while his employer settles back comfortably with his magazine, tipping from time to time.

When Jeeves sights a flock of ducks, he coughs discreetly and nudges the boss, who hops up, takes a shot or two, then settles back with his pastimes while the little man does the retrieving! Now do you see why Jeeves isn't permitted to carry a gun? WE do!

"Sound Off" dept.

Our constant readers have heard us sound off here many times before, about the little men in whose hands is or are the life of our trees, roofs, plumbing, furnaces, and such vital things that are part of our homes. They can tell us anything and we are forced to believe it and pay for its repair. Let's take trees ferinstance. How do WE know if a tree has a hole in its head? The tree doctor sez it HAS and sooooooo, to prevent its dying, we pay him a staggering sum to patch it up. What he does LOOKS complicated . . . so we part with the cash more easily.

Now there is a new gimmick to face . . . that of television repair! Who knows what about the mechanics of television except the expert t-v repair man? Fortunately, we have had no trouble with ours, but we know lots of people who HAVE had. One day we were present at the house of a friend, when the t-v expert came to look at her "sick" set. He fiddled and feddled around with it for about a half hour and finally advised that he would have to take the "patient" to the t-v hospital for an operation. When asked what it would cost, he said he thought perhaps fifty dollars! When she asked what FOR, he spieled off a lingo of sanskrit, that sounded like double talk to us. The "pio-flow" is obstructing the bofswich . . . and the antenna cordawix doesn't coagulate with the reedmont outlet. You'll need a new teacalogue and perhaps the bustagoob will have to be adjusted." He said it quickly and authoritatively . . . and it SOUNDED like fifty bucks worth of words . . . but our heroine will probably NEVER KNOW!

That's what we mean. What happens to the little guy who squandered his ALL to buy the t-v set in the first place? The only solution (to our mind) is to take a course in television repair . . . the minute you buy the set. Then when something goes wrong, you can buy the cordawix for fifty cents and fix the thing yourself. Bah!

We had no idea that Detroit was becoming so fancy, other than the changes of scenery in architecture and general cleaning up of buildings and streets . . . but now we know just how elegant our neighbor city is. One night recently, a friend of ours attended a large supper dance at a downtown hotel. As she parked her small ranch type mink in the coat lounge, the attendant who took it, started to hang it on a rack at the left . . . whereupon the sister attendant called to her: "Don't put that THERE . . . I'm keeping that rack for mutation minks." Our pal felt so deflated she could hardly get through the evening!

Last Sunday, we read in one of the dailies, a story about the full blooded wolf that Lee Smits (WXYZ news commentator) has trained to retrieve and to live in the 'homestead like a good domestic animal. The article went on to say that a big shot Eastern magazine had sent photographers out here to get a story and pictures of the beast doing his stint. Some time was spent on Belle Isle putting Mr. Wolf through his paces, but he didn't feel like it that day and all he did was run around acting like a silly puppy.

We got a special kick out of the thing because some years ago when we had the pleasure of meeting Lee Smits and his lovely wife, "Peg" . . . they had just driven some 500 miles with a tame crow in the back of the car! Animal and bird lovers of the first water, Peg and Lee found the wounded crow, nursed him back to health and took him in as a member of the family. They had a special bar erected in the back of their car where El Crow could sit when he felt in an outdoor mood . . . otherwise he made himself at home around the house . . . sometimes parking on top of Peg's lovely red head. When we first saw THAT, we thought we had had that one too many . . . but she assured us that the crow was really there and didn't bother her at all. We love it! It occurred to us about this wolf, that maybe Lee trained him to retrieve blondes and that's why the animal didn't do his stuff with the birds! How about that Mr. Smits?

SS Pamphlet Now Available

The long-awaited pamphlet, "Do You Work for Yourself?" arrived from the Government Printing Office today, advises Mr. Francis L. Pendergast, manager of the East Side office of the Social Security Administration.

Since August, 1950, when the Social Security Act was amended extending coverage, the office has had numerous letters and telephone inquiries from self-employed persons. These people in business for themselves, as sole owners or as a partner, wanted to know if there were any pamphlets explaining how the change in the law would affect them. This new booklet is the answer.

A copy of this free pamphlet can be had by writing or phoning the Social Security Administration, 8720 Mack Avenue, Detroit 14, Michigan, Walnut 1-8714, Pendergast stated.

What Goes on at Your Library

by Jean Taylor

In recognition of Book Week, we comment briefly on a few of the recent books for boys and girls.

To begin with those for the youngest . . . The Caldecott award for the best picture book of 1950 was given to Katherine Milhous for "The Egg Tree," Scribner $2.00. It is about a Pennsylvania Dutch family and an Easter egg tree made for the children. The pictures are rich in design and color.

Little children may learn to count from the pictures and large clear numerals in "Jeannie Marie Counts Her Sheep" by Francoise, Scribner $2.00. The illustrations are playful, gay and imaginative.

"Mr. T. W. Anthony Woo" by Marie Ets, Viking $2.00, is an amusing story of a cobbler who lived happily with his dog, his cat and a mouse until his sister arrives to "tidy them up." Her efforts are not appreciated and it is the mouse, Mr. T. W. Anthony Woo, who saves the situation and restores peace to the household. The black and white illustrations capture the fun of the story.

"The Camel Who Took a Walk" by Jack Tworkov, Aladdin $2.00, is a nonsense tale with plenty of repetition. The bold colorful illustrations by Roger DuVoisin have life and humor.

"Stripes: The Story of a Chipmunk" by R. M. McClung, Morrow $2.00, is a picture story book with many illustrations and large print. Children, seven to nine years old, will be able to read this, themselves.

Children in the third through fifth grade group who enjoy happenings will like "Mr. Pudgins" by Ruth Carlson, Houghton Mifflin $2.00. Mr. Pudgins, as a baby sitter, is something new and different. Strange and exciting things happen when he is on duty. Another book in which fantasy and fact are skillfully blended is "The Thirteenth is Magic" by Joan Moward, Loth $2.50.

Family stores have a general appeal for this age also. All who know "The Moffats" by Eleanor Estes will delight in her new book "Ginger Pye," Harcourt $2.50.

"A Nickel For Alice" by F. S. Murphy, Crowell $2.50, tells of a twelve-year-old orphan, a ward of the state, who after many misadventures finds a real home. An easy-to-read warm-hearted story with a happy appeal.

Holling C. Holling, author of the popular "Paddle-To-The-Sea" has a new book, "Minn of the Mississippi," Houghton $3.00. In telling this tale of a turtle's travels, the author gives a picture, past and present of the Mississippi River. The dramatic colored pictures are similar to those in Mr. Holling's earlier books.

Another recent title with dramatic pictures in color and black and white is "The Apple and the Arrow" by Conrad and Mary Buff, Houghton $3.00 . . . The story of William Tell told through the eyes of his son Walter.

An ageless book is "The Mousewife" by Rumer Godden, Viking $2.00, an unusual story of the friendship between a mouse and a dove. Fine writing with exquisite pictures. Best, perhaps, read aloud.

Fifth and sixth grade girls will enjoy Clara Judson's "City Neighbor," Scribner $2.50, an interesting human account of Jane Adams' life.

Biographies this year are many and varied. Katherine Shippen has given us an excellent version of the Leif Erickson story in "Leif Erikson, First Voyager to America," Harper $2.00, for the junior high age. "Leif Erikson, Explorer" by Ruth Weir, Abingdon Cokesbury $1.50, is for younger children. For Junior and Senior High School there is "Enter David Garrick" by Anna Bird Stewart, Lippincott $2.75, an absorbing account of the actor's life and of the London of that day. For this age also Gladys

TO THE EDITOR:

On behalf of the Detroit University Students, we wish to thank you for the space and prominence which you gave to our publicity regarding our football team.

Your paper makes it possible for residents of Grosse Pointe to know about the activities of the youth of our great city.

We, the students of D.U.S. wish to congratulate coaches Yeager, Page and Davis on the wonderful work they did in winning the first championship in 27 years.

To the D.U.S. football team: Brown, Bingham, Coussemont, McKinley, Ohmart, Osbeck, Rent-schler, Stalker, Becherer, Birg-bauer, Cooper, Garbutt, Jaglowicz, Korneffel, Krajenke, Mackey, Newkirk, Ottaway, Butler.

Malvern has written "Behold Your Queen," the story of Esther, the Hebrew girl-queen of Persia. This has drama, suspense and romance.

Elizabeth Howard Mizner, our neighbor in Grosse Pointe and one of our most popular writers for older girls, has a recent book, "Peddler's Girl," Morrow $2.50. The story tells of Lucy's travels with her uncle in a peddler's wagon westward from Detroit about one hundred years ago.

"Five Boys in a Cave" by Richard Church, Day $2.50, we found to be one of the most gripping adventure yarns for junior high boys, we have read in many a day. It recalled to mind that old favorite "Jim Davis" by John Masefield which we are delighted to report back in print this season in a new attractive edition, Macmillan $1.50.

Diabetics Must Avoid Infections

By Fred M. Kopp, R. Ph.

To the diabetic an infection is very serious. Even the slightest bruise or abrasion of the skin may result in gangrene, if not properly cared for.

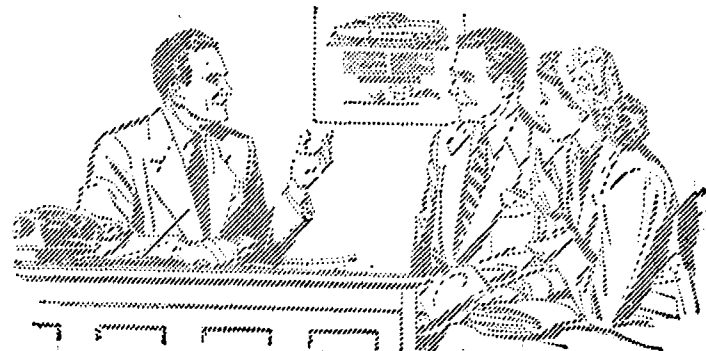

Keeping the feet in good condition is especially important to the diabetic for gangrene frequently occurs when corns or calluses get self-medication.

The services of a chiropodist, recommended by a physician is the safest way to care for the feet.

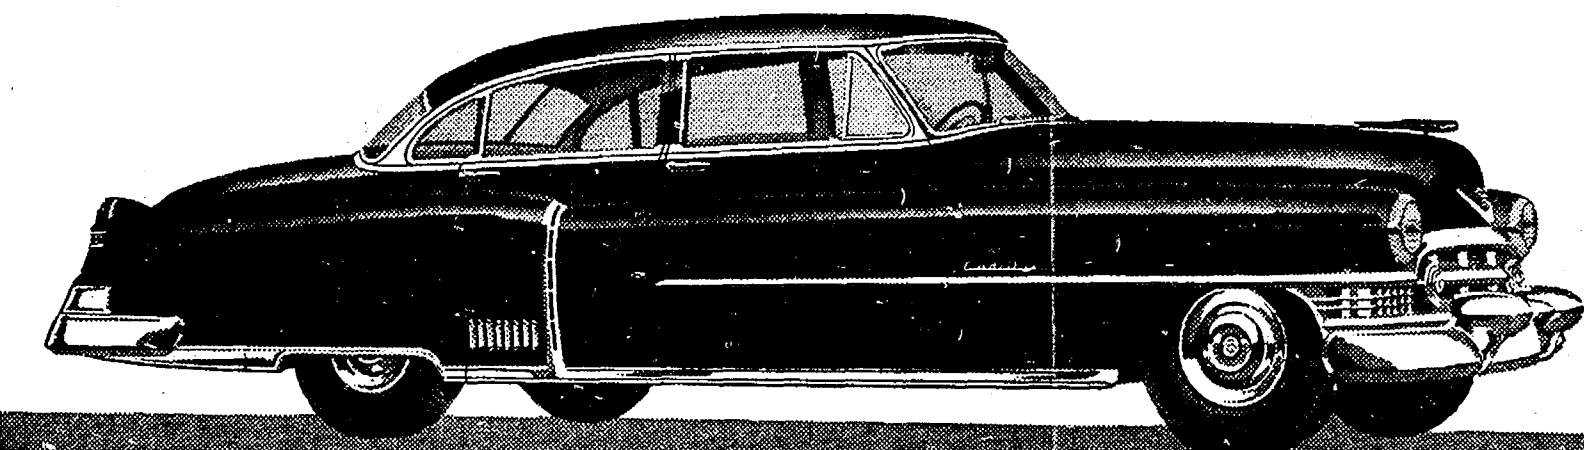

A conscientious pharmacist keeps abreast of the newest in diabetic aids.

All But Impossible to Believe!

Standard equipment, accessories and trim illustrated are subject to change without notice.

It is very difficult to believe—but, each month, there are literally thousands of people who pay as much for their motor cars as it would cost them to buy Cadillacs . . . and, yet, they don't get Cadillacs.

As we said, this is very hard to believe—but the reasons for it make it more or less understandable.

In the first place, a great many people simply don't know what a Cadillac costs. They don't understand that the lowest-priced Cadillac actually costs less than certain models produced by numerous other manufacturers.

They only know that Cadillac is the world's most renowned motor car—and they assume, from this, that it must also be exclusively priced.

Too, some people get discouraged because they can't walk in and order a Cadillac and get immediate delivery—as they can with so many other makes of cars.

This, too, is largely due to a failure to get all the facts and think them through to the inevitable conclusion.

You have to wait a while for a Cadillac because so many people want one—and want it so badly that they are willing to wait for it. And that, in turn, is because Cadillac is recognized everywhere as the Standard of the World.

So if you want a Cadillac—and research indicates that a vast percentage of motorists do—come in and talk with us about it.

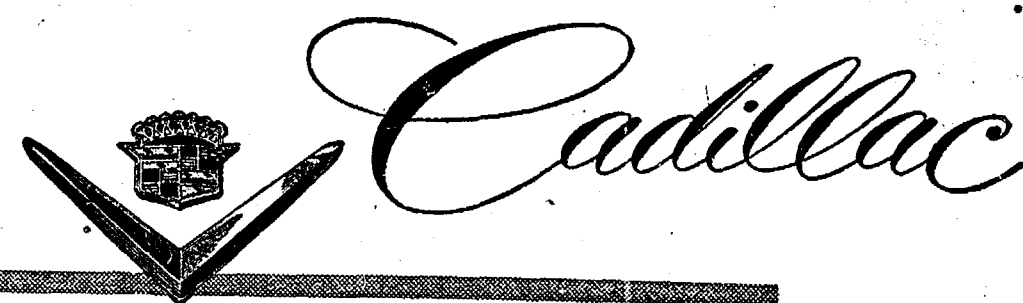

We'll give you the facts concerning comparative costs. And we will also talk frankly with you about delivery dates, so you may know about what to anticipate.

You really owe it to yourself to do this. For, surely, you don't want to pay the price of a Cadillac—and still not get one!

If we already have your order for a Cadillac—stand firm in your conviction—for each day brings you closer to your heart's desire.

It is true, of course, that you can get quicker delivery on other makes of cars. But, in all the world, there is no other car like Cadillac.

So be patient—and you will have your reward!

Diane Cetlinski's home was the scene of a hilarious Halloween party.

Those seen parking their brooms in front of Diane's were Pat O'Kray and Joe Baranska, Jim Houlihan and Josie Zimmers, Bev Labadie and Ivan French, Bev Rago and Pete Schummer, Sandra Smith and Bill Kerich, Marilyn Sutherland and Glenn Walters, Connie Molitor and Joe Loeffler, and Skip DuCastel and Tom McLaughlin.

Dancing in all the odd outfits that go with Halloween were Nancy Mason and Paul Rubecki, Rosemary Jankowski and Bob Walker, Lou Ann Moxley and Louie Giest, Mary Allor and Dave McCarron, Dee Slater and Jerry Thomas, Dee Wise and Ed Lynch, Gloria Wancour and Cokie Miller, Donna Mayo and Jack Trombly, and your reporter and Roy Martin. Diane's better half for the evening was, of course, John Huettelman.

By the way, first prize for costumes went to two bewigged clowns, Ann Reed and Don Burns.

Those Sophomore girls were at it again—another slumber party. I'm beginning to think they don't like to sleep. Am I right girls? This time Barb Wines was hostess to Joyce Zemper, Joan Heidt, Nancy Mason, Barb Unti, Marilyn Blondell, and Claire Lenz.

Also on the invited list were Barb Stein, Marilyn D'Hooche, and Lynn Van Tiem.

Many Paulites gathered at Grosse Pointe High for the huge party held there.

Seen dancing to the mellow music were Joyce Zemper and Joe Meier, Peg Sharpe and Gene Reynolds, Julie Schumacher and Jim Hoskins, Lynn Van Tiem and John Barton, Gail Dodge and Tom Tapert, Ellen Connely and Graham Totzke, and Mary Roth and Bob Magee.

Also taking advantage of the wonderful stage show, the snack-bar, and the other amusements were Joe Weber, Margaret Carrier, Marguirite McKillop, Bob Backman, Janet Wruble, Don Behringer, Joan Hock, Bob Barrett, Janet Hock, Lee Elsey, Barb Marchand, Elaine Barbret, Bill Lodwyck, Rose Ann Blondell, Gene Kornmeier, Jan Pelkey, Paul Geist, Alice Weot, Dick O'Connor, Rita O'Grady, Jim Rigger, Pat Monahan, Dennis Reynolds, Shirley Fincham, Joe Lenz, Arlene Froelich, Dick Tapert, Carole Plourde, Joe Herman, and Teresa Yott.

Lynn Van Tiem set out the welcome mat the other night. The occasion was her 15th birthday.

Those congratulating Lynn were Marilyn Blondell, Loretta Amez, Carole Barba, Johanna Klein, Pat Westrich, Sandy Knack, Mary Rabaut, and Nancy Mason.

Watching the many beautiful gifts being opened were Dot O'Kray, Claire Jablonski, Joan Marks, Julie Jones, Barb Healy, Shirley Kaye, Joan Dirkes and Barb Stein.

Under an overcast and very snowy sky the St. Paul Flyers lost their last game of the season 14-7.

The Memorial Center has been sponsor to a series of dance classes in which have been many eager pupils from St. Paul. A few of which are Kay Addy, Ann Walker, Beverly Gray, and Peggy Van Wassenhove.

The present set of classes ends with the Christmas holidays, but if enough pupils are interested another series will be given. On the 28th of December a formal dance will be held for all graduates of the present class.

Air Force ROTC Cadets From Pointe Get Awards

Thomas R. Dewey and Dan M. Guy, Jr., Grosse Pointe seniors at Michigan State College, are two of twenty Michigan State College advanced Air Force ROTC cadets receiving the Distinguished Military Student clasp.

The Award is on the basis of scholarship and the cadet's potential capability as an Air Force officer.

Center to Hold Costume Party

At a recent meeting of the Youth Advisory Council of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center it was decided that the dance for the high school age set would be a costume ball to be held on December 1 at the Center.

Due to the increased spirit for originality in their social events among the youth, it was felt that such an affair would be a great success.

The party would last from 9 to 12 p.m. and would include ping-pong, card games and refreshments as well as dancing to the orchestra which is yet to be chosen.

During the intermission the costumes will be judged by the committee for their originality, ingenuity, and initiative in designing. Such combinations as Daisy Mae and Little Abner work out very well with couples. The party will be a date affair.

All boys and gals from grades nine through twelve who either reside in or attend school in Grosse Pointe are invited to attend this party, which promises to be one of the best social events yet staged at the Memorial Center.

Working on the specific plans are Norm Lasca, president of the council, Dick Scales, and Walter Seibel, who is the adult adviser to the council for this year.

Society News Gathered From All of the Pointes

From Another Pointe of View

by Jane Schermerhorn

Probably the longest visit the late Lord Joseph Duveen ever paid Detroit was when he was the houseguest of Mrs. Horace E. Dodge . . .

Upon the occasion of the large reception she gave to open Rose Terrace, her home, on Lake Shore road . . .

That was fifteen years ago . . . and at the time Lord Duveen had sold Mrs. Dodge many of the fabulous old masters for the walls of Rose Terrace . . .

As well as having assisted her when she chose furniture for her new home . . .

Lord Duveen circulated through the rooms the day of the reception . . . charmed, as we remember, to answer questions of the guests . . .

And he paid high tribute to Mrs. Dodge whose choice in decor he found impeccable . . .

He hailed her as one of those rare beings who knows definitely what she wants . . .

Tale of Two Josephs

All this is brought to mind by having just finished reading the engrossing series of profiles in New Yorker on the late, great, art salesman . . .

Whose Pointe counterpart could be none other than Joseph de Grimme (why, even the first names are identical) . . .

The de Grimme galleries have placed Grosse Pointe very definitely in the minds of Eastern art entrepreneurs . . .

And as we finished the last of the articles on Duveen, ever so sad they were ended, we found many points of contrast and comparison between Duveen and de Grimme . . .

For instance . . . years ago we credited to the Pointe's Joseph the quaint way of referring to old masters in his galleries as "original de Grimmes" . . .

New Yorker tells us Duveen always regarded his treasures (from the brushes of Rembrandt, Raphael, Gainsborough etc.) as "Duveens" . . .

As a point of contrast . . . Duveen would sell great art to anyone who had the proper appreciation of Duveen's choice of great art (and of course sufficient funds) . . . we believe de Grimme would still have to admire and like the person to whom he sold old masters . . .

Pointers' Gifts in Galleries

In the National Galleries at Washington . . . Duveen inspired and finally made possible by Andrew Mellon and Henry Frick . . .

There are many gifts from the collection of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Harman Booth . . . whose bounty was great, also, to the Detroit Institute of Arts . . .

Nov. 30 Date of Fair At Unitarian Church

Members Plan All Day Fair At East Jefferson Avenue Church; Mad Hatter's Tea in Wonderland Setting For Tots and Sparkling Array of Adult Attractions

If you will permit us a bit of whimsy, we'd like to suggest that each November we feel as if we were making a batch of pop corn as we start writing about the various Christmas fairs that hold the interest of the Pointe.

And one of the kernels which pops the highest we've named after Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church's Christmas Fair because it is chock full of originality and crowd-attracting ideas. The date is Nov. 30—hours from 11 a.m. to 10 p.m. and the church is located at 17440 East Jefferson avenue.

Heading what must be a tireless group of workers at the fair is chairman Mrs. John A. Herrmann, who tells us her patrons this year include Mrs. Standish Backus, Mrs. Lou Hamlin, Mrs. Thomas P. Henry Jr., Mrs. John Newberry Bagley, Mrs. Frederick J. Schumann, Mrs. Donald Flintermann, Mrs. Frank H. Whelden, Mrs. A. Boynton Hartz, Mrs. G. Hubert Noble and Mrs. Thomas H. Miller.

One of the delightful features of the Christmas Fair will be a Children's Carnival Wonderland when decorations will be murals adapted from Alice in Wonderland as executed by Avalo Petri. Refreshments will be served at a Mad Hatter's Tea Party (which we'd like to attend) and there's to be a magic show. Mrs. Ross Wilkins Jr. is chairman.

The Pantry Shelf bids to be a popular place with Mrs. John H. Decker promising delicacies including South Carolina pecans (in those good looking Chinese tea boxes) along with home baked goods, preserves, etc.

A Green Thumb table (where Mrs. Myra Heame is to be assisted by Mrs. Backus, Mrs. Emil Leidich and Mrs. Wendell Wheelock) is going to have quaint Kissing Balls for your Christmas house, and there'll also be sequin-trimmed candles, winter bouquets, dish gardens and Christmas greens.

Mrs. John Carson's toy booth draws much of its magic from her talented husband, who has designed A-B-C block lamps, train towel racks, step stools and shoe shine kits which the children adore.

And then Mrs. George Kemeny Jr. is again heading, by popular demand incidentally, her Original Cartoon Sale when drawings by such famous cartoonists as Syd Hoff, Alan Dunn, Burr Shaffer, Jefferson Machamer, Virgil Parich, Chon Day and others. The cartoons are wonderful for framing for games rooms or office walls where your favorite executive makes his millions.

A family dinner will be served at the fair from 6 o'clock and Mrs. B. C. Vail again is in charge of this important phase.

Still other booths that make the Grosse Pointe Unitarian

Church Fair a standout include: linens, Mrs. Raymond Beer in charge; aprons, Mrs. Hazel Shaw; baby things, Mrs. Nelson Frohnd; dolls, Mrs. Henry C. Kohring; Gold Mine (of treasured discards), Mrs. J. P. Jaxtiner and committee; knitting bags, Mrs. Donald Pascoe; men's gifts, Price Watts; used books and records, collected under the supervision of John Leuzinger.

In charge of publicity are Mrs. John S. Hammond, Mrs. George Kemeny Jr. and Mrs. Ross Wilkins Jr.

David B. Van Dusens To Live in California

Former Isabel Baxter, Daughter of The Charles S. Baxters, Of Rivard Boulevard, and Bridegroom, To Live Near Los Angeles Following Arizona Honeymoon

United States Marine Corps Lieut. and Mrs. David Buick Van Dusen counted among their wedding presents, a change of assignments for Lt. Van Dusen which changed the site of his post from Quantico to sunny California.

And Camp Pendleton, near Los Angeles, will be their home for the next several months. The former Isabel Baxter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stewart Baxter of Rivard Boulevard, and David, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Theron Van Dusen, were married Tuesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in Christ Church Chapel, Grosse Pointe.

Following the church ceremony, the bride's parents were hosts at the wedding reception in the home of Isabel's godmother, Mrs. Joel H. Prescott of Lake Shore road. Still later that evening Mrs. Prescott entertained members of the families at a dinner in her home.

For her marriage, Isabel was gownned in robes of ivory satin designed on classic lines of fitted bodice and full skirt forming a cathedral train. The off-shoulder neckline of the bodice was outlined in heirloom rosepointe lace and the lovely lace was repeated at the ends of long, fitted sleeves.

Sentiment designed her court tiara of rosepointe lace which had been worn by many generations of brides in the Van Dyck family (Mrs. Baxter was a Van Dyck) and the same lace edged the full length illusion bridal veil. The bride carried white orchids and stephanotis in her wedding bouquet.

Miriam Baxter, the bride's sister, as maid of honor wore an opera length gown of blue gray lace over palest pink satin. The off the shoulder neckline was finished with brief cap sleeves and her velvet crownless brimmed chapeau was in pink velvet. She carried a bouquet of shattered pink carnations.

The maids were gownned like the honor attendants with the exception of their head pieces

Group Asks for Reduction In Pointe Insurance Rates

The Grosse Pointe Property Owners Association this week has petitioned the State Insurance Commissioner and the Michigan Inspection Bureau to determine whether a reduction in fire insurance rates for the Grosse Pointe communities is not in order.

The basis of the petition is the fact that within the last few years the Grosse Pointe communities have increased their fire protection by adding new equipment. Grosse Pointe Farms, for example, has spent nearly $60,000.00 in the past two years for new equipment; Grosse Pointe Park about $40,000.00.

All of the five Grosse Pointe municipalities reciprocate, and work together in the event of a conflagration, on any fire that cannot be controlled by the local department. Thus, ample manpower and equipment is always available.

If no adjustment can be made, the Association has requested that it be informed what the municipalities can do so that a lower rate will be possible after the existing conditions are corrected.

UMT Bill Backed By Louis Rabaut

The report on Universal Military Training submitted to Congress recently by the National Security Training Commission deserves "the most serious consideration of every member of Congress," Representative Louis C. Rabaut declared this week.

The report carries out the order of Congress made earlier this year when it passed the UMT bill. The Commission was set up to develop detailed plans for building a National Security Training Corps under a long-term national military policy.

"The need for a concrete and consistent policy with respect to military preparedness is plain," Rabaut said. "We can no longer afford, financially, socially or militarily, violent fluctuations in our armed strength. The Commission has stated this fact clearly—the frontier conditions which prevail in the world today demand a frontier response of constant preparedness."

Rabaut declared that the proposed legislation does not seek the creation of a large standing army, but rather the development of strong, well-trained, instantly-available reserves.

Congress will have to study very closely the provisions of the report relating to moral welfare, character guidance, and information and education programs, Rabaut said, in an effort to eliminate and counteract the harmful influences often associated with military life.

"Compulsory universal military service is, in one sense, a departure from American traditions," Rabaut said, "but this report is an effort to find the most democratic way for the fulfillment of every citizen's obligation—the bearing of arms in the defense of the country. It is a serious proposition, and I hope it will have the serious thought of every citizen."

Church Sponsors New Experiment

Jefferson Avenue Baptist Church has formulated an unusual series of Wednesday night services: "Church and Home Family Nights." The series began November 7 and runs through December.

Every other Wednesday a service will be held at the church, with organ recital at 6 by Joel Anderson, moderately priced family dinner at 6:30, and an hour's study of the Gospel of St. John under outstanding lay leaders. Old fashioned hymns will be emphasized. Nursery care and "sisters" are provided, so that young married couples may attend.

An alternate Wednesday, the program is shifted to six East side homes. These dessert-and-coffee meetings will be informal, with six simultaneous study groups analyzing St. John's writing and the "Wider Interests" of church members.

Ruth Le Grand, New York Baptist leader now a resident of Detroit, is sparking the eight-week series: "This is not Wednesday night 'prayer-meeting'; the series will be dominated by laymen. It will be for the family and literally in the home every 14th night," it was announced.

First Violation of New Woods Ordinance Found

The first violation of the new ordinance in the Woods prohibiting the use of any advertising material to sell residential homes, other than that on the property, was found Wednesday, November 7, at the corner of Huntington and Mack.

William J. Evans, builder, had posted a sign advertising the sale of a home on Huntington. City Administrator Philip Allard asked Mr. Evans to remove the sign.

STOLEN CAR RECOVERED
Mrs. Esther Russell of 1823 Manchester reported to Woods police Tuesday, November 6, that someone had stolen her car parked in front of their home. Woods police sent out a teletype. On Wednesday, November 7, the Warren police found the car abandoned.

Neophyte Newsboy Beaten By Pair of Young Thugs

An old fashioned strong arm robbery occurred at 9:30 p.m. Friday, November 9, in front of 1387 Beaconsfield involving three juveniles ranging in ages from 13 to 15.

The robbery was premeditated by the 15-year-old who had sold his newspaper route to the 13-year-old a few days earlier.

While the young newsboy was making his rounds he was jumped on from behind and gagged and blindfolded by the former owner of the route, while his accomplice searched for the money. Once the newsboy's pockets had been emptied of 75 cents the older boy fung his victim to the ground and fled with his partner into the dark.

The newsboy told his mother what had happened and she in turn notified the Detroit Youth Bureau of the robbery. One of the thieves was recognized by the newsboy and was promptly picked up by the Detroit police and immediately implicated his partner. Both boys were Detroiters and were turned over to their parents with instructions to bring their boys to the Grosse Pointe Park police station the following evening. The boys will come up before a hearing of the efforts because he knew the new owner was supposed to collect that night. What he didn't know was that the present owner didn't know he was supposed to collect that night.

DEFER SCHOOL

The Defer P-TA recently sponsored a tea for the mothers of all kindergarten children. Mrs. Nelson Ramkey, chairman of room mothers, was in charge of arrangements. The mothers were well represented and thoroughly enjoyed the short but interesting program which was planned for them.

Mrs. Irene O'Reilly and Mrs. Evelyn Kyziat, the kindergarten teachers explained briefly the aims of the kindergarten and they exhibited a collection of song books and victrola records which are suitable for 5-year-old children.

Eugenia Regos, a pupil in the Defer kindergarten, delighted the parents of her little classmates by singing a group of songs in her own charming and captivating style which has already won her a place as a regular guest star on "Auntie Dee's" television program each Thursday.

Mrs. Gordon Cook and Mrs. Henry Van Eckhout poured at the tea table which was attractively decorated with an autumn motif and which was laden with an irresistible supply of sweets and dainties.

RICHARD SCHOOL

It is usually customary for the Richard School to lose about 40 or 50 children each summer as transfers to other schools in the district, state and nation and to gain about the same number from the newly arrived residents who occupy the vacated homes. The school extends a most cordial welcome to its new members and hopes that those who leave are happy in their new school environments.

Over the recent summer and up to a few weeks ago the school has received 28 new youngsters, besides the 72 who, being in the kindergarten are in school for the first time. Nine of the group come from other public schools in our own community. Seven are from either parochial or private schools in the Pointe, six are from Detroit schools. Three each come from other Michigan schools or from other states. Here are the names of our new students: David Anderson, James Merry, Charles Johnson, Phyllis Hoag, John Bowman, Mary Ruth Donahue, Bruce Gillis, Howard Hartwig, Elizabeth Zinn, Chester Greiling, Peggy Munson, Ellen Stanny, Ralph Code, Pamela Petri, Janet Brunner, Frank Downs, Charles Munson, David Munson, Christine Schoew, Jeffrey Fair, Bernell Metzen, Meredith Metzen, Jimmy Zinn, Edwin Grace, Linda Chaffin, Virginia Goosen, Tommy Manardo, Pat Greiling.

Other children who have arrived at Richard in recent weeks of school are: Victoria Schmitt, James Horan, Rosemary Horan, Gordon Strayer, Ned Wayman, Julia Ann Strayer.

Sixty children left the school since the close in June for the summer holiday. The great majority of them went to the St. Pauls School in view of the fact they now have room because of the new addition. Nine of the pupils went to schools out side of Michigan, one went to Detroit, four to other Michigan schools, and for three the present address is not known.

Goodwill Asks For Discards to Help Employees

A broken chair, an out-moded dress, a pair of discarded shoes are working miracles for training the handicapped at the Detroit Goodwill Industries.

These household discards, when given to Goodwill Industries, reshape the lives of several hundred handicapped men and women every year by providing employment and job training. The donated articles are first repaired in the Goodwill training shop at 6522 Brush by men and women physically handicapped who are being trained in new skills. The articles are then sold in the three Goodwill stores.

This year the Detroit Goodwill is embarking on its greatest effort in 30 years of serving the handicapped in Greater Detroit by launching a five-year expansion program which Goodwill hopes will triple its number of handicapped trainees by 1956.

"The need for discards is particularly urgent this fall because of the Goodwill expansion program," explained James Mitchell, field representative of Goodwill Industries, who was in Grosse Pointe last week arranging for pick-ups of contributed articles by Goodwill trucks.

"Clothing, including hats and shoes, are always among our most needed items, since the reconditioning of garments is one of the major operations at the Goodwill training shop," he said. "Furniture can also be used to particular advantage just now. Any other discards also are welcome, including sporting goods, kitchen wares, books, stoves and appliances. Goodwill is also again picking up old newspapers and magazines."

Mr. Mitchell stated that the Goodwill trucks would be in Grosse Pointe Shores and Woods every Tuesday and in the rest of the Pointes any day. Any one wishing to support Goodwill's rehabilitation program for the handicapped need only drop a penny post card to Goodwill Industries, 6522 Brush, Detroit 2, or call TRinity 3-3600 and Goodwill will have a truck stop for the pick-up while in this community.

It also was explained by Mr. Mitchell that any handicapped adult in this community is eligible for training at the Goodwill shop in Detroit, if it is found that the disabled individual can be trained for some specific work.

He stated that Goodwill would be very happy to schedule a speaker before any civic, church, luncheon or other group here which would be interested in learning of Goodwill's program in behalf of the handicapped. Groups interested in hearing "The Goodwill Story" are asked to write the Goodwill Industries, Detroit.

Over a period of a year the Goodwill program will provide training for over 535 handicapped men and women, and it is hoped to step this up to nearly 600 by the end of the year. The handicapped of the Detroit Goodwill workshop will this year receive nearly $400,000 in wages while in training for jobs in private industry. The handicapped at Goodwill ask not charity, but only a chance.

Pointers Tread Boards In Michigan Operetta

Two Grosse Pointe students are among the cast of the Gilbert and Sullivan Society at the University of Michigan presenting "Rudigore" Wednesday, Nov. 14, through Saturday, Nov. 17.

Harry A. Eason, of 766 Hampton road, and Wanda C. Michaels, of 404 Manor, sing as members of the company. Both are students in the College of Literature, Science and the Arts at the University.

Troop 74 Wins Scouting Honors

Three members of Boy Scout Troop 74 of Richard School P.T.A. were among those honored at the Annual District III dinner held at Denby High School last Wednesday evening.

William Adams was honored with the Silver Beaver Award, which is given for outstanding service to scouting, church, and community. Mr. Adams has been active in Scouting in Troop 74 and District III for over ten years. He is now in charge of Advancement in Troop 74 and is a District III Representative to the Detroit Area Council.

Mrs. Daniel Hemmel received the Scouters' Award in recognition of service in Leadership Training. She has been active as a leader in Den Mother's Training Program of the Detroit Area Council.

Alfred (Bud) Reuther was recognized as one of District Three's Eagle Scouts of 1951. Bud is an Explorer Scout with Troop 74.

Baha'is Hear Author Tell Of Sound Spiritual Laws

"There are spiritual laws of the universe which are just as sound as physical laws," said Mrs. Stanley Bagley, speaking before a group of the Baha'is and their friends on November 2. "Among these laws are the requirements for happiness: the love of God, faith in God, prayer and learning to live according to God's laws. We need to know more about these spiritual laws if we are going to be healthy beings," she continued.

"Frequently we find people who are having either mental or physical illnesses caused by the fact that they are not living according to spiritual law. All nature follows these laws, but man, who has the power of choice, all too frequently does not obey them. No wonder we have so much corruption, illness, war, and misery today."

"Among the virtues listed by the author of 'Prescription for Living' are the following: truthfulness, honesty, uprightness, kindness, justice, sympathy, compassion, generosity, forgiveness." Mrs. Bagley came from Flint to give a presentation of several chapters of the book, "Prescription for Living," copies of which are in the Pierce Public Library. These book reviews are presented the first Friday of each month, the next one being December 7.

Post Office money orders were first issued in Detroit on November 1, 1864.

being toned in gray blue velvet to match their lace frocks. They also carried pink carnations.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Phillips Van Dusen, Mrs. Thomas A. Reynolds, Jr., Jean McGregor, Anne Stringer, Mrs. Albert C. Dickson, Jr., Patsy Bowler of Hanover, Mass., and Robin Rauth of Hancock, Md.

Assisting the bridegroom as best man was Neil Chase of Deerfield, Mass., and bridesmen were David's five brothers: Charles, Phillip, Ralph, James and Bruce Van Dusen; Ted Reid of Birmingham and the bride's brother, Richard Baxter who came from Peoria, Ill.

An opera length gown of rose beige taffeta and matching Alencon lace was worn by Mrs. Baxter. With it she chose a brown velvet chapeau with maline veil and she pinned green orchids to her brown velvet handbag.

Mrs. Van Dusen affected a costume of emerald satin, also waltz length, with small black velvet toque. There were white orchids on her velvet purse.

The newly married Van Dusens will be duds-ranchers for the next 10 days, having flown to a ranch near Phoenix, Ariz. When they leave they will go on to Los Angeles to find an apartment near David's Camp Pendleton marine base.

The bride traveled in a charcoal and pink tweed suit worn with small black hat and black accessories. On her suit coat she wore the orchids from her wedding bouquet.

Two More Pointe Debutantes Add Names to Holiday List

The debutantes have circled Dec. 22 in their fast-filling engagement books. At that time they will attend a tea in the Country Club when Mrs. Gerald Hahn and Mrs. Carl O. Bross will introduce their daughters, Elise Hahn and Ann Bross.

An elephant was exhibited for the first time in Detroit on November 25, 1819.

All Eyes and Ears

by
Nelle and Dick Spencer

Jascha Heifetz, perhaps the greatest violinist the world has ever known, appeared with the Detroit Symphony in its third concert. Mr. Heifetz possesses a technique which is matched by no other violinist, and he has unmistakable warmth of tone as well. He played the Beethoven Concerto in D Major, and frequently revealed his brilliant technical ability and purity of tone.

But the performance as a whole was not satisfying. The tradition of Beethoven was missing. One felt Mr. Heifetz was pressing, and he seemed preoccupied. The result was a performance lacking poise and style. There was no room for the rounding out of phrases. While the Joachim-Tuer-Heifetz cadenza serves beautifully as a show-window for the artist's technical wizardry, it seems better suited for a Prokofiev work than for Beethoven. M. Paray handled the difficult task of accompaniment with remarkable skill.

Brahms's Third Symphony was the major orchestral offering. M. Paray showed a sensitive conception in his direction. It is in no way to his discredit that the performance was dull and lifeless. There is definite weakness in the string section of the orchestra. Until this group is strengthened, no conductor will be able to create that singing quality which is so essential to a great orchestra. Weakness also exists in the woodwinds. It would be a mistake to expect miracles from any director, and it is apparent that the further progress of the new orchestra requires stronger string and woodwind choirs.

The Cleveland Orchestra must be included among America's top symphonic organizations. Its conductor, Mr. George Szell, is a brilliant musician with profound knowledge. Much of the credit goes to him for building and molding this remarkable group. He conducts with precision, clarity, and considerable attention to detail. His control over the orchestra is complete, and it is a highly-disciplined and effective instrument in his knowing hands.

On November 5, the whole evening's program was performed with excellence. It included the Overture to "Euryanthe" by Weber, Dvorak's "New World Symphony"—the performance of which possessed wonderful clarity and mood—"Fountains of Rome" by Respighi, and three excerpts from Berlioz' "The Damnation of Faust." In the Respighi tone poem, Mr. Szell seemed to sacrifice color and atmosphere for the sake of detail to some extent.

The Grosse Pointe Community Theatre has secured Will-o-Way's Bill Merrill as their director for the December production, "The Corn Is Green." The group is having its monthly meeting on November 20 at 8:30 p.m. at the G.P. Memorial Center. There will be readings for the December workshop plays. All guests welcome!!!

Georges Miquelle appeared as soloist with the Detroit Symphony last week, playing Lalo's Concerto for 'Cello in D Minor. It was a superb performance, revealing the full scope of his remarkable talent. The warmth of tone demonstrated in the lovely second movement is perhaps the rarest of Mr. Miquelle's many gifts.

The concert also included Prokofiev's "Classical Symphony" and the "Symphonie Fantastique," by Berlioz. M. Paray's direction of the latter was masterly, and indicated an intimate knowledge of the work.

"The Autumn Garden," Lillian Hellman's latest play—at the Cass last week—is good, engrossing theatre, but it does not show the playwright at her artistic best. For here Miss Hellman's intent is foggy and confused, and her play lacks unity, and therefore impact. She has created too many characters, so what we have here is a series of individual character sketches without focus. But, in themselves, they reveal again Miss Hellman's penetrating insight and considerable ability in realistic and sharp characterization.

The cast is excellent, especially the Marches and Loretta Daye, whose portrayal of Sophie, the young refugee niece, is quite impressive. Harold Clurman, the director, has done a fine job. The set, by Howard Bay, is well done, and helps convey the mood of faded elegance and hopeless disintegration.

On November 21 Lily Pons comes to Masonic Temple in the third concert of the Masonic Auditorium series.

Murphy Concert Set for Nov. 15

Miss Jacqueline Murphy, lyric soprano, who will be presented in a concert at the War Memorial Center, November 15, at 8:30 p.m., is a graduate of Marygrove College, Detroit, and did post-graduate work at the Julliard School of Music in New York.

She has appeared with the Buffalo Symphony and Buffalo Civic Orchestras, in Town Hall, N. Y., on a program featuring talented young artists, on radio shows in Buffalo, Niagara Falls, and New Jersey, and has been seen on television and in commercial movies.

Her most recent concert appearances were with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra as the lead-soprano soloist in "The City of Freedom." She spent two summer seasons with the Chataqua Opera Company and has worked with the American Theatre Wing entertaining in Veterans' hospitals.

In addition to her concert activities, Miss Murphy is Music and Dramatics Director of Goddard House, a Recreational Center in New York.

The tickets are $2.40 each, including tax, and may be obtained at the War Memorial Center. For further information, call TUxedo 1-6030.

Gala Old World Market Opens

The twenty-first annual Old World Market which opens today (Thursday) and continues through Sunday at International Institute, Kirby at John R., has always attracted many Pointers, both as patrons and workers.

General chairman for this year's market, when the city's foreign born population plays host to fellow-Detroiters, is Harry C. Turrell of Barrington road. His assistant is Mrs. William Volker.

Each day the Market will open at 1 p.m. and the doors close at 10:30 p.m. Mrs. Herbert J. Woodall of Oxford road, is chairman of the Market's special gift shop; A. Lynn Zwickey, of Colonial road, has gathered material for pamphlets telling where to find foreign restaurants in and around Detroit.

Pointers will find much to interest them in various nationality booths where wares from the old world will be sold. The wares include everything from bobbin lace to gay Scandinavian Christmas posters, ideal for lending the holiday spirit to games rooms walls, to new French perfumes.

An international coffee shop will be open daily from 1 to 10 p.m., and snacks with a foreign flavor will be found by the shoppers. Each afternoon and evening there will be a folk program with colorfully costumed members of International Institute taking part.

From 5:30 to 8 p.m. each day of the Market, visitors may have a nationality dinner with menus prepared by Albanians, Armenians, Chinese, Croatians, Serbians, Ukrainians, Roumanians, Syrians as well as other nationalities.

The Hall of Nations is filled with interest for Market visitors. Lining the walls of the beautiful room are 40 some exhibit cases where nationalities will display crafts, costumes, toys etc. of their former native countries. Hosts and hostesses, in folk costumes, will be at each exhibit and there will also be others demonstrating some of the crafts they learned in the old world.

Besides affording a chance to become acquainted with the culture and lore of these new Detroiters, the market will raise funds to buy furniture and decorations for the International Institute.

DUS Wins Conference Title With Victory Over Vaughn

Eleven Takes All League Games of Season and Suffers Only Defeat At Hands of North Shore School of Chicago

By Fred Duffield

The Detroit University School football team ended its season last week by whipping the Vaughan School of Bloomfield Hills and taking the Southeastern Suburban Conference championship. The score was 19-0.

The local lads won all their league games this season and lost but one game, that to North Shore of Chicago by a 9-6 score. Dick Bingham, DUS defensive end, recovered a Bloomfield fumble in the end zone for the first score. Birgbauer missed the try for the extra point.

Ohmart went four yards for the second score after Rentschler had hit Brown with a pass that gained 15 yards. Birgbauer's kick was good this time.

Rentschler made the third touchdown, bulging over from the one-yard line after Tom Mackey had recovered a Bloomfield fumble on the 9. Ohmart's nice run set up the touchdown play. Again Birgbauer's kick was wide.

Fighting it out between the snow flakes, D.U.S. and North Shore Country Day School met on the Edsel Ford field on Saturday, November 3, with the visitors emerging victors by a 9-6 score. D.U.S. entered the game unbeaten in the last four contests. D.U.S. won the toss, and elected to receive. The kickoff skidded to the 13 where Rentschler picked it up and twisted his way to the 29.

Ohmart Makes Gains
Don Ohmart, running from his usual fullback position, racked up gains of 12 and 15 yards through the line. Then D.U.S. was stopped cold. Hans Becherer punted from his own 40 to the 9, where it was downed by Jerry Jaglowicz.

North Shore quick-kicked to their own 48. D.U.S. was unable to pick up a first down, so Becherer punted from the North Shore 42 to the 15, where Cousens recovered a Winetka fumble. Two plays later, on a pass from Rentschler to Osbeck, Osbeck fumbled and North Shore recovered, breaking up a potential touchdown drive.

Garbutt Intercepts
Bruce Garbutt then intercepted a North Shore pass on his own 41 and was dropped immediately to end the first quarter. After a 15 yard penalty, two losses of one yard each, and an incomplete pass, D.U.S. was again forced to punt. Krajenke's pass from center to Becherer was wide, and Hans was unable to get a good hold on the icy ball, he was forced to drop on it immediately. This gave North Shore possession on the D.U.S. 17.

Three plays later Pete Stalker, playing right defensive end for D.U.S., recovered a North Shore fumble on his own 15.

Bad Pass Costly
A bad pass from center moved North Shore 21 yards back, and three plays later they punted to Garbutt, standing on his own 30, and he returned the ball 10 yards to the 40. Ohmart, picked up a first down around left end, and then a pass from Rentschler to Ohmart was good for 7 more yards. Then, on the next two plays, D.U.S. was thrown for short losses, so once again Becherer punted, this one being his best of the day. His kick started on the D.U.S. 47, and went out of bounds on the North Shore 8.

Fumble on 4-Yard Line
Dick Bingham, playing defensive left end for D.U.S., then recovered a North Shore fumble on the North Shore 11 yard line. Ohmart then ran left end for 6 yards, followed by Rentschler, getting two, Ohmart then fumbled on a handoff, and North Shore recovered on their own 4. At this, the half ended.

The second half started off slowly, with each team forced to punt once before D.U.S. took the ball on their own 49 yard line due to Cousens' recovery of a North Shore fumble. Garbutt then hit Rentschler with a pass good for 35 yards.

D.U.S. Scores First
A beautiful pass by Rentschler and an equally pretty catch by Garbutt produced the only D.U.S. touchdown of the day. Irwin's extra point kick was low, so D.U.S. led, 6 to 0.

Becherer again kicked off to North Shore on their 30, and it was returned to the 39. North Shore then produced a sustained ground attack all the way—61 yards—for a touchdown. Their try for the extra point also failed and the scoreboard showed a 6 to 6 deadlock.

D.U.S. Stymied
North Shore then did the kick-off chore, and D.U.S. could do nothing with the ball, so once more Becherer had to punt out of trouble. North Shore received the punt on their 48, and another sustained drive took them down to the D.U.S. three, from where they kicked an 11 yard field goal. The game ended that way, score North Shore Country Day School 9, D. U. S. 6.

Grid Star Quick Change Artist

Lane Donovan's Keglers Oust Smith Team From Split In Top Berth

The strangle hold which has been held for the last few weeks on the lead in the St. Paul Men's Bowling League, by the two teams captained by Farms municipal officials, has been broken. Clerk Harry Furton's aggregation still shares the top spot, but Engineer Murray Smith's keglers have dropped down to third place.

Blue Devil Winter Season Coaches Voice Pessimism

Outlook for Basketball and Swimming Teams Not So Hot In Opinion of Wernet and Banach; Parkers Look Strongest

By Fred Runnells

Both basketball coach Ed Wernet and swimming coach Frank Banach aren't beating any drums or shouting from the house tops claiming any championships for the Blue Devils this year.

From the looks of the material each has to work with, they will have to be magicians if Grosse Pointe High expects to be contending for the title in either sport.

Wernet's Job Toughest

Probably the toughest assignment befalls coach Wernet, who guided the Blue Devils to their first Regional championship in 13 years last Spring. From that team of Allen, McCullough, Hardin, Metry, Davison, Rupp, Brogan and Bray, all are missing, having been graduated last June.

This leaves Wernet without a nucleus to build around. Only Lasca, Wardle and Warner saw limited varsity action last season and as Wernet states "it's just like moving the entire reserve team up to varsity competition without the benefit of help from a few experienced returning varsity players."

Parkers Look Best

Pre-season information around the league leads one to believe the entire league will be weak with the exception of one team. Highland Park won the Border Cities League title and went on to become runner-up in the State class A tournament.

Highland Park has Carlson, Parks, Ingram and Charles Duncan returning from its championship team, which indicates the Pointe Bears will be the team to beat when the season opens December 7.

Season Starts Dec. 7

The Blue Devils will open the league season against Highland Park on the Polar Bears' court Friday, December 7, after taking on a non-league opponent Hazel Park on the Devil home court.

Coach Banach on the other hand has practically a veteran team returning, but is not strong in any event. Unlike previous Blue Devil tank teams that have enjoyed plenty of depth in all events, this year's squad is going to have to depend on finding the weak spots of its opponents and hope it can slam the weak events.

Lost Good Veteran

The Blue Devils lost one of the league's best divers in Bill Winkler through graduation along with a couple of good boys in the

The Neighborhood Club is again sponsoring the Grosse Pointe Girls Basketball League which will start November 28 and 29.

There are two divisions—Junior for girls 15 and under, and Senior for girls 16 and over. The following teams are now working on their lineups and will be playing in the League:

Senior Division — Sr. Grosse Pointe Athletic Club, Metropolitan Club, St. Clair Recreation, Cannon Memorial and St. Paul School.

Junior Division — Owls Club, Teen Queens, Starettes, and St. Paul School.

Theater Party

On Friday, Nov. 2, the Theater Party children were treated to a very nice surprise when little 5-year-old Linda Panzone danced and sang two very nice numbers between the cartoons and movies that were shown.

These Theater Parties are weekly affairs and you can be sure you're missing something if you're not there when the lucky numbers are called or when the contests are in full swing.

Don't forget all children are invited every Friday night from 7 to 8 p.m. Next Friday Jann Henson and Pat Trombley have promised to perform some very outstanding dances. Be seeing you!

Old Timers' Club

Did you know that every Friday afternoon from 2 to 5 a group of gentlemen 65 and over meet at the Neighborhood Club for cards—a game of pool and refreshments? And did you know that you gentlemen with a little time on your hands are very cordially invited to join this group. They are very anxious to make new friends, so please pay us a visit.

If you have transportation difficulties please call Miss Masak at Tuxedo 5-4800 and arrangements will be made for a ride to and from the club.

Convent Team Plays in East

Not often do you hear a hockey team referred to as pert and pretty but the terms apply to the players of Grosse Pointe Convent of the Sacred Heart team who last week-end traveled to Albany, N. Y., to play a three-game series with the teams of Greenwich, Noroton and Kenwood convents.

The local players included Fritz Hammond, Kathleen Seymour, Mary Kay Tracy, Margie Murphy, Marcia Byrnes, Joyce Plante, Mary Fay FitzSimons, Pat Mebus, Nan Thill, Jessie Zimmerman, Gail O'Donnell, Rosemary Fenech, Nora Hutton, Ann Goodrich and Carol Wettlaufer.

Club to Buy Gym Gear With Gift

The Grosse Pointe Woods Community Club recently received a gift of $25 from the Grosse Pointe Metropolitan Club with which to purchase athletic equipment for the Wednesday night "Wrestling and Boxing" program at Mason School. This program is under the joint auspices of the Community Club and the City of Grosse Pointe Woods.

It is open to all boys, twelve years and older, without charge and the club is still accepting new members. Inter-mural competitions are being planned for the future.

The program is under the leadership of Mr. Robert Powell, 795 Lake Shore, who received his experience in boxing and wrestling while serving in the armed forces.

The Metropolitan Club maintains an athletic fund to support such programs. The fund is administered by the athletic committee whose members are Sergeant Donald Coates of the Grosse Pointe Woods Police Department, Lieutenant William Mason of the Grosse Pointe Farms Fire Department and Patrolman Robert Van Tiem of the Grosse Pointe City Police.

Martin Nielsen of the Park Fire Department, is president of the Metropolitan Club.

Community Information Service answered 37,646 inquiries during 1950.

Church Holding Youth Frolic

The Ebenezer Baptist Church at Moross road and Harper will hold a Community High School Frolic, starting at 7:30 p.m. on Saturday, November 17. Admittance to all high school students is free.

One of Colleen Townsend's latest motion pictures will highlight the entertainment. Carl Witt, baritone, finalist in the 1951 Belle Isle auditions, will sing. Donald Witt, radio violinist will play, as will Herman Rouse, organ artist.

There will be skits and games, with many prizes to be awarded. Refreshments will be served.

Pointers Leave For East After Thanksgiving

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Richardson of Lincoln road will leave for a short whirl in Manhattan right after Thanksgiving.

Cecily Wade Appears On U. of M. TV Show

Cecily Wade, of 125 McKinley, appeared with her sorority chorus on the University of Michigan Television Hour on Sunday, Nov. 4.

Viewers were taken on a "Tele-tour" of student living, during which the winners of the men's Interfraternity Council Sing and the women's Lantern Night song contest presented their winning selections.

Clark McPhail Elected Vice-President of Club

Clark B. McPhail, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. McPhail, of Somerset road, has been elected vice-president of the Political Science Club at Capital University, Columbus, Ohio.

Mr. McPhail, a junior in the pre-law curriculum, is a member of Kappa Sigma Upsilon, International Relations Club, and participates in basketball, football, and tennis.

Coaches Sad

breast-stroke event in Tim Leach and Gary Schroeder. Dick Limberg, who was used as a utility man last season, also is missing from this year's squad.

Royal Oak, two time winner of the BCL title is the team to beat this season. The Acorns lost some good boys but were so deep in good reserves the losses will not be felt and they should start the season a heavy favorite to repeat as champions.

Fordson and Highland Park also will be strong for the first half of the season but will lose heavily after mid-term graduation, as will Royal Oak. This should make the second half of the league race a pretty even match.

There is a possibility that the Pointers may be in the thick of the battle for the crown if they can win half of their meets before the mid-term graduation.

Robert Diehl, of 1556 Dorthen, reported to Woods police Tuesday, October 30, that someone had broken a window in the kitchen.

who, where and whatnot

by whoozit

A Pointer who wishes to remain unidentified (however you may be able to spot her by a certain Mona Lisa like expression she wears these days) reports suffering shock while going over some of the objects donated to a recent rummage sale.

She was simply delighted to find several suits, contributed by some generous gentleman, and made a mental note of how quickly they'd be sold at the forthcoming sale. As she folded the garments she encountered difficulty and upon further investigation discovered each pair of trousers had neatly and specially built-in g-i-r-d-l-e-s.

She was consumed with thoughts of who might once have worn, so sylph-like, these feats of engineering and discovered the hapless gentleman had left his name sewed neatly in a vest pocket.

She is keeping the girdled gentleman equally unidentified and feels sure this charity on her part will bring even handsomer contributions to the rummage sale next December!

MRS. WILLIAM ADAMS, of University place, has given the party of the year, according to 52 some children who attend Mair School. The children were her guests and were entertained at an evening "thank you" party for helping Mrs. Adams when she managed Mair School's Halloween fete this year.

Not only did Mrs. Adams make it a costume affair, serving all the food children like best, but guests were admitted through a back window. It was the only way to gain entrance to the party and any other way seems pretty mundane to them after THAT.

PILFERINGS

According to Bennet Cerf, Clare Booth Luce, the glamorous playwright, tells this on herself. She and her important husband, Henry Luce (Time, Life, etc., etc.), were walking through the lobby of a Washington hotel, and overheard somebody comment, "There goes Arsenic and Old Luce."

Mr. Luce always looks pretty serious. Time co-founder, the late Dr. Hadden, once remarked to him in their undergraduate days at Yale, "Look out, Harry. You'll drop the college."

The late Sir Willmott Lewis, who was for many years American emissary, the London Times, told friends that when he was first ordered to this country, his editor warned him, "You will hear two terrific noises when you get there, but do not be frightened. One is Niagara Falls. The other is Herbert Bayard Swope."

And that brings us to Cerf's anecdote about the time Swope was sent by his family doctor to a famous specialist for a check-up. The check-up was interrupted three times by interminable telephone conversations. Swope apologized and explained the first one had come from the Mayor of New York, the second from Bernard Baruch and the third from President Roosevelt. The specialist nodded gravely, phoned the family doctor when he had left and said, "What did you send that man to me for? What he needs, obviously, is a psychiatrist."

A story told so often and so well by the late Chauncey Depew concerned a grizzled old maintenance man at Grand Central Station whose task it was to check on the shoe brakes of all the cars after the trains were made up and ready to start their runs.

Depew watched him plodding from car to car one morning and called down from the platform. "How long have you been doing that job, my friend?" "Forty years," was the answer. "Exactly what are you looking for under all those cars?" persisted Depew. "I'm darned if I know," said the veteran.

Pointe Colony To Meet Nov. 20

The National Society of New England Women, Grosse Pointe Colony, will observe Compact Day, anniversary of the signing by the Pilgrims of the Compact, in Plymouth Harbor in 1620, at their meeting Tuesday, November 20, at the home of Mrs. Clifford A. Neville, of Bishop road.

Assistant hostesses of the salad luncheon at 12 o'clock, preceding the meeting, will be Mrs. W. Arthur Batten, Mrs. George S. Guy, and Mrs. George Hendrie Savage.

The first Thanksgiving will be pictured, in contrast to the present day.

Pointer of Interest

MRS. WILLIAM G. KIRBY OF MOROSS ROAD

The William G. Kirbys, and this includes four little Kirbys, have a highly cultivated interest in good food so perhaps it was natural that when they moved into their Moross road home it was the kitchen they looked at first with morose, calculating eyes.

You see the house was twenty-five years old—built "way back when" "she bent over the hot stove all day long" was a familiar expression in our language. Then it was more or less accepted that anyone who went into the kitchen was going there to work hard and there wasn't any emphasis on making it other than a grim work room.

The Kirbys being a young and modern family, that first inspection of their new kitchen resulted in what is now known as "The Kitchen of Today" brightly and beautifully toned, spick and span and elegant enough to hold a debut in.

Marion—that is Mrs. Kirby—told Bill her ideas of the perfect kitchen and then he, with drawing board and rulers and blocked paper, drew up the plans. They have been so successful that they can leaf through the most ultra of the decor magazines, gaze quickly at the pictures of new kitchens and, with every right, "Oh THAT. Old stuff."

They caused walls to be torn out, decorative soffits to be built and all the old equipment was banished with a wave of the wand.

Kitchen of Today

Now you enter a kitchen painted lush turquoise with a wealth of pearl gray cabinets. That is the general color scheme. At two large windows there are match stick shades (MOST people only have them in the solarium) and the windows are outlined in starched white organza ruffles centermarked with gay yellow band.

Where the old kitchen required a bottle of aspirin tablets on the sill, Marion has had ornamental shelves built to hold pretty glass bottles, vases and the colorful gew gaws of a mistress who has fun when she's in HER kitchen.

What is loftily referred to as "work space" abounds in the Kirby kitchen. Viewing it, from left to right, there's stainless steel work space atop a row of cabinets and then comes the automatic dishwasher which simply teases Marion to use a-l-l the bowls and pots and pans her little heart desires as she whips up a soufflé.

The disposal of hasty mother's helper in stainless steel glory and then comes the stove built into a stainless steel counter. This extends into a griddle plate where the famous Kirby bacon and eggs, hamburgers or griddle-cakes can be turned out in nothing flat.

The Double Ovens

We find a maple cutting board top for the next cabinets. All the kitchen knives slide down into special notches at the back of it and finally turquoise formica topped space begins, separating high and low grab cabinets.

The Kirby's double thermidor ovens are the envy of everyone. Marion declares life was complicated before they got them. Invariably she'd want to bake hot bread at the same time they were broiling a steak, which any housewife knows is impossible.

The double ovens take care of crises like these and have the kind of control that can be set to cook the dinner though not a creature is stirring all through the house. A cabinet over the ovens crisscross Kirby breakfast foods and crackers.

Herb Wall Paper

Cabinets open through from the kitchen to the breakfast room and what you see is well worth looking at. Marion has done the walls in Maroon herb flowers paper. It shows all the blossoms of cooking herbs and for some reason everything comes out in the same turquoise as the kitchen and added to it are flowers in deep red, shrimp pink, green yellow and white. The parade of the breakfast room is dapple gray matching a gray formica breakfast table which the Kirbys also designed.

Right now they are in the process of collecting a set of old ice cream parlour chairs. You remember the kind . . . with the hooped steel backs. These are going to be dipped in chrome and bright red cushions will be placed in the seats.

Of course the lighting system in the two rooms is modern, too. For added glamor, the Kirbys built flush lighting fixtures in the soffits over the kitchen windows.

Still another touch of glamor and a constant reminder of the Kirby's special brand of charming hospitality is a tiny stainless steel bar in a corner of the breakfast room. Its cupboards open to reveal an array of cheer with appropriate glasses for each kind.

Michigan State Sorority Gives Party for Fathers

The Kappa's Day celebration at the Fatters' Kappa Gamma house at Michigan State College attracted several Pointe parents during the weekend.

Frederick Lynch of Bishop road was the guest of his daughter, Peggy, and Charles Rexford of Trombley road, was on hand with his daughter, Joan.

The program included lunch, the State-Notre Dame football game, a coffee hour and a banquet at night followed by comedy skits on college life.

Reflections

by paul gach

"Monkeys are the craziest people," next to photographers, I guess. As a group I love them. As individuals, I can't figure them. Now there is an epidemic of free service by studios misled into a deal by some smart promoter. First, this "hot shot" signs a contract with the photographer who agrees to make free pictures for all gullible souls sent to him. Then his high pressure outfit sells some innocent young mother a book for $40.00 (it's only worth about $10.00) and tells her it includes free pictures of her darling for five years. No strings attached, no additional cost. (They must convince her that photographers love children, make pictures for a hobby, and are so wealthy they don't have to make a sale or be paid for their work). The photographer, on the other hand, has been sold a bill of goods too. He is expected to sell a terrific order of extra prints (the fool) when she comes in to collect her free picture. What a racket! The mother gets inferior work, the photographer gets a pain in his wallet, and the album salesman retires. This might be called the P.A.A. That's short for Photographers' Assassination Association. Me? I belong to the P.A. of A. . . the Photographers' Association of America.
