High Waters Play Havoc With City Pier

—Picture by Fred Rummels

The much-maligned pier at the municipally-owned park of the City of Grosse Pointe was really a subject for criticism after Lake St. Clair gave it a real beating during the storm of two weeks ago. Officials estimate the old dock suffered a 75 percent loss. The City has on hand plans for a proposed new dock, cost of which would entail floating a bond issue. Whether this will hasten action on getting a new pier remains to be seen.

Hi-Y Clubs' Conference Big Success

More Than 500 Delegates From All Over State Entertained At Three-Day Program

More than 500 delegates representing Hi-Y groups from the entire state of Michigan gathered at the Grosse Pointe High School over the week-end for the Michigan Older Boys' Conference. The conference, which was started 50 years ago, had as its theme, "Let's Learn to Live."

The opening session took place in the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, Friday afternoon, where the delegates were welcomed in an address by Superintendent of Schools James Bushong. Following that discussion, groups convened at the High School to air the "Personal Problems of High School Youth."

Boys Are Moderators
All group discussions, which were broken down into 15 to 20 participants, were moderated by the boys themselves, with prominent men from the community as resource people. Among the problems aired in these sessions were, developing a philosophy of life, choosing and preparing for college, social adjustments in school and business, and religion.

To Form Special Committee For Battle Against Floods

At the emergency meeting called by the State Waterways Commission in East Tawas, Mar. 28, Director Bert Robb warned representatives of threatened and stricken communities along the Michigan shoreline that the legislature and the people must be made to realize the present and predicted high water level constitutes "a disaster at our doorsteps."

Main threat to the Pointe pertains to property damage, experts have pointed out. Robb estimated that shoreline properties have already incurred damages amounting to $100,000,000 in past years.

The meeting was called to consider means of protecting public harbor installations that fall under the jurisdiction of the Waterways Commission. Representatives from shoreline communities told of the destruction that was

Meter Ignorers Pay Up in City

Over 300 "expired meter" parking tickets had been issued by Grosse Pointe City police from March 24 through March 31 for violations of the City's parking meter ordinance in the shopping district along Kercheval avenue.

The meters were installed shortly before Thanksgiving of last year. However, the ordinance governing their use was not adopted until March 17, 1952. It became effective after its passage and publication as required by law. The ordinance was published in the NEWS March 20.

The parking meter zones referred to in the ordinance are on both sides of Kercheval from Cadieux road to the middle of the block between Neff and Lakeland; on both sides of Notre Dame and St. Clair, north and south of Kercheval, to a point approximately 150 feet from Kercheval.

Committee Members

The committee members are Mrs. Lyle Hudson, chairman; Mrs. Carl Carlson, Mrs. Ralph Steffek, and Mrs. Paul Fransehl, assisted by Mrs. Frank Seydler, president of the Grosse Pointe Motion Picture Council; and Mrs. Kenneth Yager.

The more facts the committee uncovers, the more it feels the work is needed. Facts gathered by a survey made in Cincinnati by Xavier University among both public and parochial school children 12 and 13 years of age, show:

1. "About 25 hours a week are spent in school and about 30 hours in front of the television set!"
2. The most popular programs are Milton Berle's programs and various "western" programs, but "right behind these in popularity come the Mystery-Crime Programs!"
3. Many children watch late evening productions intended for the mature person. For example: 22% watch Studio One regularly from 10 to 11 p.m. on Mondays and a startling number watch even later shows. Fifty-eight percent reported, for example, seeing Home Theatre, a program

City Adopts New Budget Of $518,948

Complete Figures on Estimated Revenue and Expenses Published in This Issue

The City of Grosse Pointe has completed the difficult task of preparing and adopting its 1952-53 budget, and the tax rate remains the same, $20 per $1,000 of assessed valuation. The budget as adopted at a special council meeting on March 25, totals $518,948.33.

Last year's budget totaled $513,124.15. It is estimated that receipts this year will total $521,900, about $8,000 more than the $513,950 taken in last year. New building in the city during the last year is expected to raise the income from current taxes to $375,000 as against the $366,066 taken in last year.

All Figures Published
Complete figures on the budget, together with a recapitulation of revenues and expenses are published in this issue for the information of the City's taxpayers. One item which appears for the first time this year is an estimated $7,500 of revenue from the parking meters which have been installed.

Fire Cost Stays Same
The budget figures for the operation of the fire department remain practically identical with last year's. The police department budget has been increased by about $5,500.

The budget provides for a blanket 5 percent increase in pay for all employees of the City. This amounts to a boost of 8 cents per hour for each employee.

For Capital Improvements
The capital improvement fund has been budgeted at $28,000. Curb and sidewalk repairs during the coming year are expected to take $12,000 of this capital improvement fund. Tree spraying and trimming is costing the City $8,000 this year. This is part of the concerted fight in all of the Pointes to battle the spread of the dreaded Dutch Elm disease.

MOTORISTS' PET 'GRIP'
The biggest "gripe" of motorists—the failure of the driver ahead to signal when he is going to turn—will be the target of an intensive traffic accident prevention program in Detroit and the metropolitan area starting on Monday, April 7. SIGNAL WHEN YOU TURN will be the excellent advice carried on 1,275 street posters.

Fails to Report Accident In Park

John P. Wilson, 2553 Grand Boulevard, struck a car parked on Vernor between Maryland and Lakepointe, March 31, damaging the right front and side of his car, and left the scene of the accident in a taxi cab. The parked car belonged to Anthony Tortomella, of 3651 Maryland.

Wilson asked the cab driver whether or not he should report the accident to the police. He was told that he certainly should, but Wilson told the driver to take him home.

Grosse Pointe Park police found Wilson's car and traced it through Lansing. Wilson had not reported the accident. He received a ticket for not having his car under control, after describing the details of the accident.

Quarter Century of Service Completed by Neil Blondell

Congratulations were in order on Tuesday, April 1, for Neil Blondell, on the occasion of his having completed 25 years of service to his community. Neil has been employed by the former Village of Grosse Pointe and the successor City of Grosse Pointe since April 1, 1927.

Neil's first job was as treasurer of the village. He served in this position for two years. Under an old village law the treasurer could only serve the one term. He was asked to stay on as assessor. He has held that position ever since, but this is only one of his many jobs.

One may get some idea of what a busy man Neil is when he takes a look at some of his titles. These include, beside City Assessor, Budget Director, Deputy City Clerk, Deputy City Treasurer, Bookkeeper, Treasurer and Administrative Officer of the Employees' Hospitalization Fund, Secretary and Administrative Officer of the City of Grosse Pointe Employees' Retirement Fund, Chairman of the Board of Review, Secretary and Administrative Officer of the Grosse Pointes and Harper Woods Health Council, Treasurer and member of the Administrative Board for the Grosse Pointes and Harper Woods Civilian Defense District.

Just so he won't have any idle moments he also acts as liaison officer for the Highway and Parks Departments of the City of Grosse Pointe.

Beer Bottles Discovered on Second Floor

Police Seeking Vandals Who Caused Wholesale Destruction at High School

The most recent and probably the greatest example of wholesale destruction of property that has occurred in Grosse Pointe for a long time took place early on the morning of March 29, at the Grosse Pointe High School, when an unidentified group of vandals smashed 151 window panes in the wing of the building along the Fisher road driveway.

Most of the breakage was limited to the first floor classroom windows. However, a few were broken on the second by beer bottles that had been thrown through them. The cost of the damage was estimated at $250. The incident is believed to have occurred around 1:30 a.m.

Three Boys Questioned
Grosse Pointe City police officers Blair Martin and Douglas Allor stopped and held three boys in two automobiles at St. Clair and Kercheval after a request by Farms police to be on the lookout for parties that may have been connected with the vandalism. The trio was turned over to Farms police for questioning. In both cars the police had found empty beer bottles. However, guilt was not established.

Two Cars Described
It was reported that two cars were seen leaving the High School grounds shortly before the destruction was discovered. Police were furnished with descriptions of the cars, and Sgt. Elmer Labadie began immediate investigation. At this point the case is still open.

Spokesmen for the High School which was host to some 500 delegates convening from all parts of the State for the Michigan Older Boys' Conference, said that the parties involved would definitely be prosecuted when caught.

C. N. Macdonald Dies in Jamaica

Chisholm N. Macdonald, of Mirabeau place, died suddenly Monday night, March 31, while at Montego Bay, Jamaica. He was 51.

The only information available at the time the NEWS went to press was contained in a cablegram sent by his son, Ross Macdonald, stating that Mr. Macdonald died in his sleep of a heart attack.

Mr. and Mrs. Macdonald, with Harry Rust, of East Jefferson avenue, were making an air cruise of the British West Indies. They had been joined shortly before Mr. Macdonald's death by his son and daughter, Mary Stuart, a student at Vassar.

Mr. Macdonald was president of the Gear Grinding Machine Co., a member of the Harvard Club, the New York Racquet and Tennis Club, the New York Maidstone Club, and the New York Devon Yacht Club.

He is survived by his wife, Mary Banks Macdonald and his two children. Ross is a student at Yale University.

A second cable sent Tuesday said the family was attempting to get plane reservations to fly back to the Pointe that day or Wednesday. Funeral services will be held on Friday.

Youth Believed Slugged By Thug

After ringing the door bell at his home at 69 Vendome, and getting no answer, Joseph Buell, aged 18, who had just returned from the Grosse Pointe High School at 8:25 p.m., March 27, shoved the door open into the vestibule, stepped in, and "everything went blank."

He woke up minutes later with a bump on his right forehead and cheek and summoned the housemaid and maid, Clyde and Marvise Jordan, employed by the Buells for three years, who contacted his parents at the Country Club of Detroit.

The Grosse Pointe Farms police were notified, and, although nothing appeared to be missing, the silverware that had been set on the dining-room table was found around the table on the floor.

Detective Sergeant Elmer Labadie is conducting an investigation of the incident. Young Buell said he saw nothing and heard nothing.

Dave Sherwood Has Role In Bucknell Univ. Play

LEWISBURG, Pa.—Dave Sherwood of Grosse Pointe, Mich., will take the part of the Bailiff in Maxwell Anderson's play "Anne of the Thousand Days," which will be produced by Cap and Dagger, student dramatic group at Bucknell University, on May 9 and 10, and Alumni Day, June 7.

Mr. Sherwood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Myron Lee Sherwood, 74 Stanton Lane, Grosse Pointe, is enrolled in the commerce and finance course. He is a member of the freshman class.

Problem of TV's Influence

from 11:05 p.m. to well after midnight and another 11 per cent reported watching two other programs presented at approximately the same late hour; 13 per cent indicated they watched this program four or five times a week! Six per cent stated they regularly watched boxing at 1 a.m. Sunday mornings!

The data gathered strongly suggests that possession of a television set is associated with a later bed-time hour on pre-school nights. The study tends also to reveal that poorer television habits, lower IQ's, low parental control and low achievement tend to be found in the same child.

Ann Arbor Study

To bring this closer to home, Professor Garnet R. Garrison, Professor of Speech and Director of Television at the University of Michigan, reports from a study, made in the Ann Arbor Public Schools from kindergarten to high school that children watch television an average of 19½ hours a week and lack of a television set at home made surprisingly little difference in the viewing time. After studying the results of the survey, Prof. Garrison drew the following conclusions:

1. Parents need constant vigilance, not apathy.
2. They need to know what the child is viewing and be able to supervise the choice.
3. Parents and Parent-Teacher organizations need to support better programs currently presented on television by writing to sponsors and to the stations giving their support. At the same time parents and parent-teacher organizations should also protest to sponsors and stations, programs which are deemed undesirable.

grams which are deemed undesirable.

Stations Cooperate

All Detroit Television stations have worked toward and have recently adopted the Television Code of Good Practice. One of the leaders in this field and the first television station in the country to display the "Seal of Good Practice" of the National Association of Radio and Television Broadcasters was WJW-TV, which is a leader in the field of public service and offers many fine programs such as "Play-school" for very young children, "Your Magic World" for children of all ages and "The University of Michigan Telecourse," which has brought nation-wide recognition to both the University of Michigan and WJW-TV for making possible continued adult education within the home.

Willard E. Walbridge, as general manager of WJW-TV has been one of the men most active in the development of this higher type of television programming.

In Pointe Resident

Mr. Walbridge, a Grosse Pointe resident, will be the speaker at an open meeting of the Motion Picture Council on April 21 at 1:45 p.m. in the Tremont School Auditorium. Civic, religious and educational leaders are being invited to attend this meeting.

In view of the limited capacity of the auditorium, others interested in attending this meeting are requested to phone Mrs. Lyle Hudson at TU. 5-6153, Mrs. Frank Seydler at TU. 2-7431, or Mrs. Paul Franseith at TU. 5-3136. Requests will be filled in the order they are received. There is no admission charge.

Hi-Y Clubs

On Saturday the discussion groups concerned themselves primarily with future vocations. "Interest finders" had previously been sent out as a poll to determine the more popular vocational fields. The groups were led by Detroit and Grosse Pointe business and professional men to inform those interested of the advantages and disadvantages of their respective fields.

Plenty of Recreation

The three-day program was interspersed with recreation periods, a Variety Show, general assemblies, receptions and private parties, movies and group singing, and an educational trip to Greenfield Village.

The delegates were guests of the Blue and Gold Chapters of the Grosse Pointe High School Hi-Y Club. All the boys stayed in Pointe homes, had breakfasts and Sunday dinner with their hosts, and attended church services with them on Sunday morning.

The conference was considered 100 per cent successful. The superb planning and cooperation of the conference were cited. Hi-Y advisors remarked that in view of the fact the boys did nearly all of the work themselves, the conference "was an amazing accomplishment."

The Conference Planning Committee included John Stone and Walter VanHine of the Detroit YMCA, Carl E. Throop and Walter Joachim from the Hannan Memorial YMCA, and John A. Less, Associate State Secretary of the YMCA. Grosse Pointe General Chairman was Chet Sampson.

Power Squadron To See Movies

The Detroit Power Squadron will be entertained at the April 3 meeting at the Detroit Yacht Club with a showing of colored motion pictures taken by Squadron Photographer Russ Daryan while attending the Commanders' Cruise of the USPS to Bermuda aboard the good ship "Ocean Monarch."

Commander "Art" Berry, Jack Gamber, Ed. Karamon, Danny Des and Karl Meyers will be on hand to give their version of the trip.

Commander Berry also announces that as an added feature George Hood will give his talk on wood preservatives and wood preservation. Mr. Hood will answer questions on this subject and members who have problems peculiar to their own vessels should present them so that he may assist in solving them. Inasmuch as fitting-out time is at hand this talk should prove helpful.

At the spring conference of the USPS Ninth District held this year in Grand Rapids, Fred L. Chalcraft, DPS, was elected District Commander; William P. Ternes, District Secretary; Robert Shambart, Mt. Clemens, District Treasurer; and W. Kent Fenton, Toledo, with Hubert Schaddelee, Grand Rapids, as Staff Captains.

District Commander Fred L. Chalcraft announced the following members of the Detroit Power Squadron to his staff: E. J. Karamon, AF, Commander's Aide; PDC Richard Weber, J. N. Legislative Chairman, and Reider Thoreson, Rendezvous Chairman. Plans are under way for the Georgian Bay rendezvous which call for a departure from Detroit early July 4th with proposed stops at Idle Hour, Port Huron, Goderich, Port Elgin and Kincardine, Tobermory, Bay of Finn, etc., returning home on July 20. Complete details will be available from Reider Thoreson, Rendezvous Chairman; Flag Lieutenant James L. Loftus and Commander Arthur C. Berry.

ARRESTS INCREASE
Michigan State Police made 85,349 arrests during 1951, an 11 per cent increase over 76,981 the previous year, according to the department's annual activity summary. Of the total, 76,597 were for traffic offenses, an increase of 12 per cent over 68,290 in 1950. Not included in the arrest figures were 4,962 juvenile offenders in 1951 and 3,974 the previous year.

heavy rains during the past three years. The rainwater flows off the saturated earth directly into the lakes. Schmidt said the entire State could expect a billion dollars in damage within the next few months. A rise of 1.8 feet more in the water level is predicted by June 20.

Casual factors to be considered in the determination of water levels are: rainfall, the run-off of tributaries, land drainage, inflow and out-flow of connecting water bodies, and evaporation from the lake surface.

The water level rise in the Great Lakes area and the Detroit area has been charted from a level of 574 feet in January of 1950 to the present level of 577 feet, and a predicted 578.8 during June. A recession to 577 feet is expected by November of this year.

Communities have been asked by the Waterways Commission to document their damages for presentation to the Commission. Funds on hand that may be applied toward the assistance of the stricken or threatened areas now amount to $138,000. The income expected this year that may make possible additional aid, is over $100,000.

Detroit director of the Waterways Commission, Bert Robb, has requested that a committee be formed, representative of all the Pointes, to take responsible action in protecting the shoreline and harbor installations. The Pointe organization would be a forerunner and "pilot" organization for other Michigan communities.

Norbert Neff, City Clerk of the City of Grosse Pointe, and Everitt Lane of Grosse Pointe Park have called a meeting for noon today at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club to outline plans for such a committee.

Blames Fainting Spell For Crash

When her car struck a tree near Devonshire on Kercheval, Jean C. Neville, of 1324 Bishop, received cuts on the top of her head, on her chin and lip, and on her right leg. The accident occurred on March 24, about 2:30 in the afternoon.

She had been traveling east on Kercheval at 20 miles an hour, drove over the south curb of Devonshire, and went 54 feet before hitting the tree. She told police that she thought she must have fainted.

U-Turn Causes Crash in Park

Irene Cavalli, of 4036 Fairview, slowed to 10 miles an hour to make a U-turn on Jefferson avenue. March 30, and turned in front of John C. Thrasher, 23 Radnor circle.

Thrasher had been driving at 30 miles an hour. He swung across the center line, to avoid hitting head on. The result was a sideswiping. Miss Cavalli was ticketed by Grosse Pointe Park police for attempting a left turn without due caution.

Getting Ready for Palm Sunday

MRS. HAROLD D. BAKER, left, MRS. JOHN H. FRENCH, JR., and REV. DR. J. CLEMENS KOLB of Christ Church, wet down the palm shrouds which will be distributed at Sunday's services.

Accident Blamed On Parked Cars

Marinus Padmos, 892 Beaconsfield, damaged the front of his car on March 25, when he moved into the intersection at St. Paul and Beaconsfield and hit a car driven by Mrs. Eugene McCafferty, of 1128 Nottingham.

Padmos had been driving north on Beaconsfield. He said that a line of cars parked along St. Paul obscured his vision so that he did not see Mrs. McCafferty approaching on St. Paul. Damages were slight. Padmos was doing about 5 miles an hour, and Mrs. McCafferty was travelling at about 15.

Padmos was ticketed for entering an intersection without due care and caution.

Speeding Driver Defies Policeman

While patrolling Mack avenue near Fleetwood on March 25, Woods police officer Allen Selby saw a 1951 Hudson travelling north on Mack at a high rate of speed. Selby followed the car, which made a left turn onto Vernier against a red light. By the time the car reached Helen avenue, it was doing over 65 miles an hour.

The speeding car made a fast right turn on Harper, again against a red light, and the chase continued at 80 miles an hour.

Selby followed the car into the driveway of 21701 Avalon in St. Clair Shores, where the driver jumped from his car and ran into the house. Officer Selby followed him to the door and told him to come out. The reply was, "I'm not driving the car now. Go get a warrant."

A check with Lansing showed the automobile was registered to one Carl H. Firebau. A description of Firebau was obtained from St. Clair Shores police, which, according to Selby, fitted the driver of the Hudson. A warrant will be issued for his arrest.

What to look for if you want a better 1 1/2- or 2-ton truck

"Our Dodge 2-ton models have done a remarkable job for us."

— says S. W. TANNER, Veteran's Gas and Service Co., Pueblo, Colo.

"In all-round satisfactory performance, dependability and economy, our Dodge 'Job-Rated' 2-ton trucks have done a remarkable job for us. In fact, one truck has 80,000 miles on it, and the only replacement has been a new jet in the carburetor. That's economical maintenance you just can't beat! My partner, Eric Samuelson, swears by Dodge, too . . . says our 2-ton trucks handle just like a passenger car."

Look first for the truck that best fits your job!

Look for load-carrying units — frame, springs, axles, and others — engineered to provide the strength and capacity you need. Look for load-moving units — engine, clutch, transmission, and others — engineered to meet the most severe conditions.

Look, too, for a powerful engine, easy steering, short turning ability, and extra payload capacity.

You'll get all these advantages and more when you choose a Dodge "Job-Rated" 1 1/2- or 2-ton truck.

Yes, look for the best in a 1 1/2- or 2-ton truck, and you'll find it in a Dodge "Job-Rated" truck! Come in today for a friendly talk.

Big Power at a Saving. Dodge "Job-Rated" 1 1/2- and 2-ton trucks feature a big, high-compression 109-h.p. engine. For outstanding economy, you get 4-ring pistons, chrome-plated top rings, exhaust valve seat inserts, and other advantages.

Exceptional Handling Ease. The nation's champion Truck Rodeo contestants choose Dodge "Job-Rated" trucks because you can cut-sharper, maneuver easier, park faster. That's because of wide front tread, short wheelbase, and easy steering.

Fast Delivery Work. There's a 5-speed transmission available on most models for higher road speeds and greater pulling power. And low loading height, as well as hinged center sections on stake bodies, simplifies loading and unloading.

The production will be seen by about 2000 grade school children in the Oxford area before premiere week is over.

Lakepointe Club Host at Party

A birthday party for members of Lakepointe's Country Club celebrated the club's fourth anniversary with a dinner-dance at their clubhouse on Masonic boulevard.

In addition to four years of existence, with the club fast developing into one of the leaders in the metropolitan area among private organizations, the members had something else to celebrate.

Members discovered that workmen have been busy at their modern ranch-style clubhouse throughout the winter, making some changes in the interior and decorating. One of the principal changes was converting the dining terrace into an all-year room, adding a service and snack bar. Adjoining the main dining room, the two now provide accommodations for 350 diners.

Both rooms have been completely paneled in solid oak. So has the new ladies lounge and bridge room. For the men, there is a new bar and grill room. Other improvements include a 50 per cent enlargement of the pro shop, new caddy house and 350-auto capacity parking lot.

Jack Geitz has been installed as manager. Previously he managed the Birmingham Country Club six years after being at Detroit Yacht Club and Detroit Golf Club.

Girl Scout News

A brand new Brownie troop has been formed at Kerby School and 25 girls were invested recently, with Mrs. George Brown, Mrs. Albert Cooper and Mrs. David McKee as leaders. Many of the girls' mothers and fathers came for the investiture.

Girl Scouts of Troop 319 at Kerby, under the leadership of Mrs. B. Bannon and Mrs. E. Rupp, earned part of their Transportation Badge by taking a trip on the Grand Trunk line. After switching back and forth in the railroad yard, at the foot of Brush Street, they boarded a train-ferret to Windsor. To complete the badge, these scouts will visit the Edison Institute next month to use the telegraph and cable set-up. Recently elected officers are: Louis Rupp, scribe; Donna Trefry, treasurer.

Troop 156 of Richard School held a Court of Awards recently at which 18 scouts received 2nd Class Rank and 22 earned the Cook Badge. Other awards were as follows: Alice Agesen, Swimmer and Drawing; and Painting Badge; Nancy Bristol—Housekeeper; Elizabeth Elliott—Housekeeper and Swimmer; Nell Sue Evans—Leather; Mary Michael Magee—Swimmer; Judy Nothstine—Housekeeper and Leather; Audrey Schmidt—Leather; Sally Whittingham—Tree, Boating and Pioneer.

St. Paul Brownie Troop 257 invited another Brownie troop—847—to a troop meeting to watch a demonstration of displaying caring for the American flag. This program was presented by the American Legion Auxiliary, Grosse Pointe Unit 303.

Brownie Scouts of Troop 847 at St. Paul made 35 pretty favors for Children's Hospital. These little girls also had a Box Social for which they prepared and decorated their own boxes.

Troop 579, also of St. Paul, made some lovely table mats to give to an old people's home.

They are now getting ready to make tiny leather purses in which to carry their Brownie dues. Mrs. Frank Martel, Mrs. Robert Dixon and Mrs. Robert Weber are the Troop Committee members.

Society News Gathered From All of the Pointes

From Another Pointe of View

By
Jane Schermerhorn

We were sitting at our desk wondering what possible future Fulton Lewis, Jr., can have in radio now that President Truman has decided not to run.

When one of our favorite Pointers stopped by to report an amazing scene she had witnessed on the boulevards of New York just a few days ago.

First she gave us the background. . . . It seems that Monsieur Jules Depaquit (called the Maitre de Montmartre), one of Paris' most interesting art dealers, wanted to meet our own Joseph de Grimme. . . . And our own de Grimme wanted to meet M. Depaquit.

Gentlemen's Decision

Depaquit wanted to do business in Paris. . . . De Grimme wanted to do business in Grosse Pointe. . . . And so. . . without benefit of mileage figures. . . the gentlemen decided upon New York as the half way mark. . . . The Maitre de Montmartre flew a fabulous collection of Parisian paintings to Manhattan for the meeting.

Collection Arrives In Pointe

Our Pointer happened upon the two gentlemen as they walked up 57th. . . gesticulating wildly. . . M. Depaquit was naming astronomical figures in FRENCH FRANCES. . .

And M. de Grimme was becoming angrier by the minute, finally shouting, "I cannot follow you. How much is it in DOLLARS? I am not interested in FRANCES."

This made us curious, so we called the galleries on Kercheval to learn that everything was finally and peacefully settled because the collection has arrived at the de Grimmes and everyone is talking about it.

A Distinguished Visitor

With that investigation over, we had a few minutes to settle back in our uncomfortable chair and wonder if it's indigestion that causes Fulton Lewis, Jr. . . .

"When the telephone bells started ringing wildly. . . Did you know Jan Sibelius' nephew was a visitor in Grosse Pointe and YOU missed it!" said an accusing voice. We put aside our lovely day dreams and formed another congressional committee.

We don't know who was calling, but we're anxious to report that on the word of his charming hostess, Mrs. Charles P. Helin of Windmill Pointe drive, visitor Kim Borge, distinguished Finnish baritone isn't a nephew of the great composer. . . . but he is distantly related. . . . And that he also studied at the Sibelius school in Finland.

Concerts and Parties

Mr. Borge spent some 10 days as the houseguest of Mr. and Mrs. Helin. . . . During that time he appeared as guest soloist with the Scandinavian Symphony Orchestra at Music Hall. . . .

And flew to Toronto to appear in concert. . . . He loved Grosse Pointe. . . found it beautiful. . . and its hospitality cheering. . . .

He was guest of honor at a luncheon given by the Women's Association to the Scandinavian Orchestra at Grosse Pointe Yacht Club. . . .

On Monday and Thursday evenings, the thespians gather at the Radnor circle home of Mrs. Emmons while Grosse Pointe Memorial church house is the scene of Wednesday night rehearsals.

In addition to the members of the Ibex Players, the entire club membership has been assigned parts to assure success for the benefit.

Mrs. John V. Renchard and Mrs. Joseph Caskey have the big job of ticket sales. Mrs. David D. Williams is lining up patrons for the evenings. Mrs. Allan Q. Johnston and Mrs. Dan Brown are in charge of costumes for the players.

Properties are the responsibility of Mrs. Tom Green and Mrs. Thomas Sage while busily engaged in compiling a nice fat revenue-producing program are Mrs. Eleanor Brown and Mrs. Charles Belz.

Two assisting committees will work on tickets and patrons. The former includes Mrs. Peter Burgess, Mrs. William Gorenflo, Mrs. Wayne Wilcox and Mrs. Paul Keller Jr. Helping with the patrons' list are Mrs. John Longley, Mrs. William J. Young Jr., Mrs. Thornton Zanolli and Mrs. Kenelm Winslow.

Mrs. Philip Van Zile is head of the poster committee which will advertise "High Ground" and Mrs. Burns Cody will produce the program.

Never Underestimate the Power of the Elements

This picture, taken from the large boat well in the Crescent Sail Yacht Club's boathouse, shows what a combination of wind and water can accomplish. That up-ended concrete slab was part of a solid seawall until the invading team took over last Saturday. The club took one of the worst beatings along the entire Pointe lakeshore.

Golden Wedding Day Celebrated

Married 50 years ago in Brampton, England, on March 31, 1902, Mr. and Mrs. George Scotford of Kerby lane, were honored at a reception in Grosse day, March 30.

The Scottfords left England in 1925 to join their sons, Ray and Stanley in Detroit, and have been residents of the Pointe for the past 16 years.
Their only regret on this occasion was the absence of Mr.
Scotford's sister who had been a bridesmaid at their wedding.
Owing to ill health she was unable to make the journey here for the event.

University of Michigan Junior Women Give Play

ANN ARBOR—The junior women at the University of Michigan gave their annual student play on March 21 and 22. Written, directed, and produced by the coeds, "Heavenly Days" was a humorous portrayal of life on the campus from 1870 to present time.

Because the play is held in honor of the graduating seniors, opening night was attended solely by senior women. Preceded by a farewell dinner, the graduating coeds reminisce about their own junior play as they heckle and applaud the juniors.

Among the girls participating from the Pointe area were: Maryanna M. Larson of 512 Pemberton; Gloria D. James of 726 Westchester; Virginia E. Granse of 1101 Whittier; and Shirley A. Griggs of 971 Washington road.

Two Thoughts; a Single Mind

As far apart as the two poles were the thoughts and actions of two groups of youths which held meetings in the Pointe last weekend.

The first group was comprised of the members of the host Hi-Y Clubs of Grosse Pointe High School and the more than 500 delegates who attended the Michigan Older Boys' Conference here on Friday, Saturday and Sunday. The theme of the program was "Let's Learn to Live." Started 50 years ago by the YMCA, this organization of clear-thinking, clean-living youngsters, attracts boys who are imbued with a keen sense of the obligations they face and of the privileges they share in assuming their place in social, civic and political life.

Almost without help from their elders, they formulated and carried out a three day program of religious devotion and inspiration, recreation, and discussion groups covering every problem pertaining to their age. The visiting delegates were guests in Pointe homes, where the hosts entertained them at breakfasts and Sunday dinner, accompanied them to church and attempted in every way possible to impress these boys from all over the state with the wholesome life which contributes so much to any fine community.

The second group of youths which met has not as yet been identified. It is known that its membership was fortunately very limited and comprised wholly of nincompoops with a total brain capacity which would not strain the cranium of an undersized gnat.

This group held but a single meeting of record. That session took place on the grounds of the High School some time after midnight on Saturday morning. Its sole accomplishment was the breaking of 151 window panes in the High School building. Having thus demonstrated to the visiting delegates that there was another side to life in Grosse Pointe, the members of this morose conclave adjourned by a cowardly slinking away into the darkness of the night which had shielded their half-witted hoodlumism.

It seems rather a pity that the Older Boys' Conference couldn't have been extended for a day or so, with a single, clearly-defined goal added to the agenda... the hunting out and capturing of this small clot of imbeciles. Then one or two of the delegates might have been afforded the choice honor of knocking their hollow heads together until the echoes resounded off the Canadian shore.

The conference has been unanimously acclaimed the most successful in its 50 year history. This will be chalked up to the everlasting credit of the Pointe boys who were its hosts. Their accomplishment did much to eradicate the ugly scum deposited by the adde-pated adolescents who called their meeting to disorder under the shadows of the High School walls.

We can hope that the young delegates carry back to their homes bright memories of their Pointe experiences and forget or charitably overlook this inane outburst of a hare-brained handful.

We can also hope that it is not easily forgotten locally. Sooner or later it will be discovered just who took part in this orgy of wholesale destruction. It is reported the Board of Education is fed up with the frequency of such callous flauntings of law and order and stands ready to prosecute in this case. May the board members not change their minds.

It also appears to be as good a time as any to repeat a move we have often advocated... that the Board of Education hire a night watchman to patrol the High School grounds and building. It is not fair to expect the Farms police department, paid for by the residents of one community, to furnish sole protection for this property which is owned by and serves the citizens of all five of the Pointes.

Needless Fears Follow Storm

Needless fears appear to be riding in the wake of the storm which lashed the shores of Lake St. Clair recently. The winds are rife with rumor of impending loss of life, homes washed away and general disaster in a major form. There are no grounds for such grave apprehensions.

The tremendous amount of publicity given the high waters of the lakes has fed these fears, and this paper certainly cannot plead guiltless in this respect. The publicity sources have apparently taken too much for granted the ability of the individual to properly assess his own situation.

It has been brought to our attention that the various municipal offices of the Pointe have been bombarded with calls from both frightened and annoyed residents and businessmen, pertaining to the dangers of flood. Real estate men have complained that they have lost sales because prospective buyers have gained the impression that the whole Pointe was going to be under water.

This is an unfortunate situation and we should like to do whatever we can to dispel such misapprehension.

All the experts, local, county and state, who have personally inspected the Pointe area following the storm of a week ago last Saturday, are agreed that there is absolutely no danger to life or health in the Pointe. The danger to private property is strictly limited also, it is pointed out.

There has already been great damage done to the lake-shore, mainly to private and public pier installations and by erosion. The idea behind an editorial this paper carried a week ago, entitled "We Ain't Seen Nothing Yet," was that a great deal more damage may, and probably will be done this shoreline before the water level has subsided. We did not

(Edgar Allan Poe)

The visit of Queen Juliana recalls to our mind an incident that happened some years ago, when as Princess Juliana, her Highness visited the United States. At that time, we had a friend in the Legation in Washington, who related the tale to us. It seems that an afternoon was set aside for members of the Legation with their wives and children to meet the Princess and great excitement reigned. Our friends spent many hours coaching their four year old on how she was to behave, what she was to say, how she was to smile, etc., etc., etc. On the appointed day, they decked her out in fancy frock, admonished her once more about her behavior and went on their merry way.

Aside from a few minor details, such as having to "powder her nose" three or four times during the festivities... all went well and at last the little family group stood before the Princess, who held her hand out to the little girl. What the child did then, shouldn't happen to the worst of us. She glared at the Princess belligerently, thrust both hands behind her back, and screamed, "NAY, NAY." (That's "no" to you... in Dutch.) Her Highness smiled indulgently and tried to coax the youngster to shake hands... but she continued to yell, "Nay, Nay" until her red faced parents finally dragged her out of the line. Well anyway, when the child's about sixty, she'll SURE have something to tell her grandchildren!

If we weren't saddled with the newspaper business and writing a column, we would do either of two things: work in a delicatessen store, (the odors of which can't be duplicated anywhere), or we'd get a job in an Art Gallery, strictly for laughs. MORE funny things happen in art salons than meet the public eye. Ferinstance, last week, the proprietor of a well known Salon Des Arts (whoops!) told us a telephone conversation he had with a woman concerning a painting she had... whose value she was anxious to establish. The conversation went something like this:

Woman: "Mr. McThing? I have a landscape painting and I might want to sell it, so I'd like to know the value."

Art Dealer: "I'd be very glad to give you an opinion. When would you like an appointment?"

Woman: "Well, I don't know why you have to SEE it. Why can't I tell you about it on the phone?"

(At this point our hero's sense of the ridiculous gets the better of him, so he tells her that will be fine). Then she starts with, "This is a landscape painting about twenty four by thirty six. It has sky, lake, trees and that sort of thing."

Art Dealer: "Could you tell me Madame, on what side of the painting are the trees?"

Woman: "Let's see now... Oh yes, they're on the left."

Art Dealer: "Oh, that's VERY GOOD... very good indeed. Now... what color is the lake?"

Woman: "The lake is a sort of blue color and the sky is kinda green."

Art Dealer: "That is perfect."

Woman: "I forgot to mention there are also people in this painting. Little people."

Art Dealer: "Are the people on the left side or the right side of the painting?"

Woman: "They are on the opposite side from the trees."

Art Dealer: "That is JUST where they should be. Madame, I think you have a great painting there... and I should say from your description that it ought to be worth about fifty thousand dollars!"

Woman: "Really? Oh, thank you SO much Mr. McThing. If I decide to sell it, I'll let you be the first one to handle the deal."

Out of the Mouths of Babes dept.

At one of the local churches of a recent Sunday, a group of youngsters and a few elders, were being Confirmed. One of our reading public, who attended the services with her small daughter, told us the following.

Daughter dear paid rapt attention to all that was going on... especially when an older woman stepped up to be confirmed and she noted that instead of the Bishop placing his hand on the head of the woman (as he had done in the case of the children), he placed both hands on her shoulders. After the services, the child asked her mother why this happened. Mother dear explained that perhaps it was because the "confirmed" was a woman... and besides, she was wearing a rather complicated hat!

The child thought this over for a while, then said, "You know, Mother, I think you are wrong. I could tell that that woman dyed her hair and I'll bet the Bishop didn't think she should do that... and so he didn't want to touch her head." Ah, Wilderness!

intend to convey any thought that the lives of Pointers, nor their health might be endangered.

Danger does exist in the Fox Creek section of Detroit and in portions of St. Clair Shores, where the water level is at doorsteps, or where private wells may be polluted. Fortunately the Pointe, excepting in a very few isolated lake-front cases, is situated on higher ground. It is inconceivable to the experts that Lake St. Clair, even with its record high water, could be whipped into such a frenzy by any storm that it could damage any but these homes perched on the very shoreline.

The Pointe's water supply is brought in from far out in the lake and is carefully filtered and treated with chemicals to insure its purity. Tests are made constantly to guarantee that no contamination is getting into the lines.

Pointers can deplore the fact that their municipally-owned beach parks are taking a terrific beating at the hands of nature; and the county-owned lakefront terraces on top of the sea wall are being eroded in a number of places; and the property of private clubs is being gnawed away. The bill will probably come high when the time comes to make repairs and improvements. But they can consider themselves lucky that they aren't living a little further north, or south. The personal danger in this community is nil.

Letters To The Editor

March 29, 1952.
Mr. Robert Edgar, Editor,
Grosse Pointe News,
Grosse Pointe Farms 30, Mich.
Dear Mr. Edgar:

Enclosed is a copy of my letter to the City Commission, City of Grosse Pointe Park, Mich.

As a long-time resident and taxpayer in Grosse Pointe, I am surprised at the attitude of our several Grosse Pointe communities in the handling of the threatened epidemic of Dutch Elm Disease, which could cause wholesale shade trees, which are one of the features of our community.

I do not understand the penny-wise, pound foolish attitude of our elected officials in this emergency. What good will it do to spray some of our elms and permit the unsprayed trees to re-infect the sprayed ones later on?

Here's a chance for the News to do some good work.

Sincerely,

FINTAN L. HENK.

March 29, 1952.
City Commission,
City of Grosse Pointe Park,
Grosse Pointe Park 30, Michigan.
Gentlemen:

As a long-time citizen and taxpayer in Grosse Pointe Park, I view with alarm the threat to our beautiful shade trees by the invasion of the Elm Bark Beetle, with resultant danger of the dreaded Dutch Elm Disease.

If this threat is as serious as reported in our local newspapers and as mentioned in your Vol. 1, No. 1, Municipal News Letter, dated April 1, 1952, why does not your honorable body take immediate steps to have all elm trees in our City sprayed, with the expense thereof taken care of by either spreading the cost over the tax roll, or by special assessment according to the number of elm trees on each lot?

I doubt if much good will come of your plan to spray an elm tree planted between the curb and sidewalk because the tree is located on city property and ignore the elm tree that is planted close to the sidewalk, but this seems very unfair on street like Gray Road, where the lawn area between the curb and sidewalk is very narrow, with hardly room for a large elm tree. Here the property owners were forced to plant their front trees inside the lot line, or have their sidewalks heaved up by root growth as the tree developed.

Because of your plan for spraying the tree of one taxpayer will be sprayed while the other taxpayer must either pay for the expense of spraying, or just will not have his tree sprayed.

If Dutch Elm Disease is really a threat, I believe you should take prompt action to spray all Elm trees in Grosse Pointe Park.

Sincerely,

FINTAN L. HENK.

Dear Mr. Edgar:—
During the past week-end, the Grosse Pointe High School Hi-Y Clubs set out to prove to the state of Michigan that it was possible for a group of high school boys, with almost no help from adults, to plan and carry out a three-day conference. This conference included a wide range of activities from general assemblies and discussion groups to educational excursions and social activities: house parties, carnival, variety show, dances, and sports.

In the opinion of all delegates and the YMCA leaders who have been attending these conferences during their fifty years of existence, this was the best ever held.

The clubs wish to express their appreciation to the many families who entertained the delegates in their homes during the conference, to the many others who had offered their homes, to the churches and schools for the use of their facilities, to the Grosse Pointe News for the fine coverage of the conference, to the girls of Grosse Pointe for their fine work as hostesses at all the social activities, and even to the boys of Grosse Pointe who cooperated by permitting their girl friends to entertain the visiting delegates.

All the young people taking part have learned many valuable lessons through the work of the conference. We know too that we have made many friends for Grosse Pointe throughout the state.

This is a year when teen-agers are receiving more than their share of criticism; however, some of it is justified. It is, therefore, encouraging to find that there are far more teen-agers who have a wholesome philosophy of life and who, like the Hi-Y boys gathered here, are attempting to "Create, maintain, and extend throughout the home, school, and community, high standards of Christian character."

Sincerely,

Chet Sampson

To the Editor:
Praise and encouragement, I'm sure most will agree, for any municipal or political department, whether national, state or local, is one phase of human nature that just doesn't seem to exist to the extent worthy of rebuttal.

With the above thought in mind, I wish to call to the attention of the residents of Grosse Pointe Woods, particularly parents of children now attending school and those of pre-school age, the meritorious service of our police department regarding care of children at school crossings. I am naturally prompted by the fact I have children attending school in this community, to write this letter.

This being the 25th anniversary of the incorporation of our village, though the name has been changed from the original Lochmoor Village, to Village of Grosse Pointe Woods and finally City of Grosse Pointe Woods, I feel all should be informed that in these past 25 years, there has not occurred a single, mind you, not one accident or fatality at any of the various school crossings throughout the City of Grosse Pointe Woods. This, to me, represents an outstanding safety record compiled by our police department, worthy of acclaim from coast to coast.

I'm sure all residents of Grosse Pointe Woods and elsewhere, will join me in praise and thanks for a miraculous job well done and pray to God the "boys in blue" may continue their marvelous record through eternity!

In closing, thanks again to all the "boys" of the Woods Police Department.

Sincerely,
Dr. W. S. Sanders,
2025 Mack Ave.

To the Editor:

This is the first opportunity I have had to tell you how much I have appreciated your kindness in running articles about the Christ Church Men's Club. We hope to be able to continue to send you interesting news about this growing group, the objectives of which are certainly greatly enhanced by your kindness in giving credit to the club in your good paper.

Sincerely,
George Richardson, Jr.

Do You Have Chloasma?

By Fred M. Kopp, R.Ph.

Chloasma is commonly referred to as liver spots, although the liver is not responsible for the condition. Medical science has never determined exactly what causes the appearance of these brown spots which usually come with middle age.

Liver spots appear more often in women than in men, and more in dark-complexioned persons than in blondes. Outside of the effect they have on appearance, these spots are apparently harmless. Don't consider treating them in any manner unless you consult a doctor, you may harm your skin.

The trusted pharmacist is always ready to compound your medical needs quickly and courteously.

What Goes on at Your Library

by Jean Taylor

Most of us are content with our chosen hobbies if they bring us some degree of personal satisfaction and a few stimulating or relaxing moments.

Mr. Clarence Messner, Principal of Grosse Pointe's Richard School, has found such personal satisfaction in his study of ornithology, but more than that, he has imbued many others, both adults and children with the desire to know more about this fascinating subject.

Mr. Messner is co-editor with Homer D. Roberts of a delightful little book, "Enjoying Birds in Michigan." This is a 1952 publication of the Michigan Audubon Society and merits wide recognition.

Mr. Messner was the first president of the Detroit Audubon Society, founded in 1939, a past president of the Michigan Audubon Society and is the current president of the Michigan Botanical Society. Mr. Roberts is now president of the Michigan Audubon Society.

Various phases of bird lore are discussed by contributors best versed in their particular fields. The articles are concise, interesting and practical.

Did you know that Michigan has a summer resident bird which has never been found nesting anywhere else in the world? Kirtland's Warbler summer in the northern part of Michigan's Lower Peninsula and winters in the Bahamas. As Mr. Messner pointed out to us, the jackpines in which this bird nests, may be found in comparable areas with similar climate in Ontario, Wisconsin and Minnesota, yet Kirtland's Warbler is Michigan's own.

Why then, was it not made the state bird, we asked. The answer is that about twenty years ago the school children of Michigan voted the robin the official state bird. Although not peculiar to this area, every child knew the robin, while few had ever heard of Kirtland's Warbler.

A considerable portion of the book is given to "Some Common Michigan Birds We Should Know." The descriptions are simple, short and factual, thus making for quick and easy use. Seventy-nine birds are here included. According to Mr. Messner, Boy Scouts are expected to know some 40 birds. Three hundred would make a fairly complete list and possibly two hundred could be known by the student. The marginal line drawings by Homer Roberts are pleasing and effective.

There is also a check-list of the birds of Michigan's Southern Peninsula and a pictorial map-guide to birding areas in this state.

In Mr. Messner's article, "Where to go Birding in Michigan," you will find many helpful suggestions. If you have a free Saturday on your hands, there is abundant bird life to be seen in and around Detroit.

There is material here about the banding of birds, bird photography, camp-outs, bird migrations, ways of attracting birds with diagrams of simple bird homes, shelters and feeders.

If you would read further, Mr. Messner has contributed an excellent bibliography of "Literature Helpful for the Enjoyment of Birds in Michigan."

All in all, this little book will give practical help to the amateur ornithologist while the casual reader may be led to develop a new interest. It is available at your Grosse Pointe Libraries. This is however, a book every family will enjoy owning. It is priced at $1.00 and may be purchased at the Grosse Pointe Doubleday Book Store.

Experienced bird watchers interested in going farther afield, will find a fund of information in the recent book, "A Guide to Bird Finding East of the Mississippi" by Olen S. Pettengill, Jr., ornithologist at the University of Michigan biological station. The material is arranged by states and by locality under each state. Here again Mr. Messner's name appears as a contributor to the chapter on Michigan. The book is well indexed and the pen and ink sketches are the work of George M. Sutton, considered the greatest of living bird-artists. This book is now on order at your library.

Reverend Hugh White discussing Whittaker Chambers' story of the Hiss Case, at the Friends of the Library group meeting last week, highlighted sanely and provocatively the facts and their significance to all of us today.

We anticipate a stimulating evening next Tuesday, April 8, when Mrs. Stuart Baits will speak to the "Friends" at the main library on "Your University of Michigan in the Defense Decade."

Graduated from the University of Michigan and a member of the Board of Regents, Mrs. Baits is an authority on education in general and the University of Michigan in particular.

Festival Choir to Present "Great Mass in C-Minor"

For a full hour and a quarter, on Tuesday evening, April 8, at 8:30 o'clock, Detroit music-lovers will have the first opportunity ever offered in this community to hear one of the great musical masterpieces of all time—Mozart's "Great Mass in C-Minor."

This distinguished sacred choral work, begun 170 years ago by Mozart, will be presented under the direction of Robert Hawkey, F.A.C.O., by the Festival Choir in Christ Church, Grosse Pointe.

According to Dr. J. Clemens Kolb, rector of the church, all the great masters have found religion to be a profound source of inspiration. Much of the world's finest music is written to serve as a background for religious services, and the masses of Mozart, of which "The Great Mass in C-Minor" is perhaps the most famous, contributed largely to Mozart's reputation as one of the two or three most celebrated composers the world has ever known.

Runs Into Side Of Passing Car

Young Anthony Buccellato, aged 11, of 427 Moross, ran into the street from behind a parked car in front of his home, March 29, and hit the side of a Pontiac driven by Dorothy Crossley of 343 Beaupre. Witnesses said the accident was unavoidable.

Tony was treated at the Cottage Hospital for skinned hands and knees by Dr. James Marshall and returned home.

standing in commemoration of the passion death, and ascension of Christ.

The Mass was begun in 1782 and actually is "unfinished" in that only four parts—the Kyrie, Gloria, Sanctus and Benedictus—were completed prior to Mozart's death. Although other composers have attempted to fill in additional parts, based upon Mozart's earlier works, music critics feel that there is a lack of coherence in the result. Hence the performance at Christ Church will include only the music written for the Mass, exactly as composed by Mozart.

The Mass is scored for full chorus, soloists, orchestra, and organ. Soloists will be Martha Gard, soprano; Pearl Morgan, soprano; John Modowan, tenor, and Donald Bliss, bass. The chorus and soloists will be accompanied by Audrey Jennings, organ, and Elizabeth Sladen, piano.

The public is cordially invited to attend this service.

20,000 African Violets Bloom Under One Roof

Twenty-thousand African violets under one roof, and 33 varieties including the rarest... that's the consummation of an idea set in motion by Mrs. Jennie Spoutz, former Grosse Pointe, who, with her husband, has just opened the Spoutz African Violet Greenhouses at 34355 Moravian drive near Fraser.

Mrs. Spoutz, noting the exceptional demand for African violets, decided to build a business devoted exclusively to their culture. The response of the public has been beyond her most optimistic estimates. More than 500 people visited the displays last Sunday.

Waves Lap Up Planking at Farms Pier

The catwalk along the boat harbor at the Farms Pier was a sorry looking sight after the waves subsided. The main dock lost much of its planking. The experience forced Farms officials to change their minds about the procedure to be used in reinforcing the pier. Instead of driving the steel sheeting on the inner wall of the pier as was first intended, it is now planned to drive the outside sheeting first. This will keep the water from rushing underneath the pier and exerting its force up against the planking. Eventually, both sides of the pier will be enclosed in steel and the center portion, enlarged to about twice its present width, will be capped with concrete to make a permanent structure.

State Foresters To Inspect Elms

The Grosse Pointe Property Owners Association has been informed that the Department of Agriculture of the State of Michigan will conduct a thorough investigation of all elm trees—on both city and private property—in an attempt to detect any signs of the Dutch Elm Disease.

The association and the Grosse Pointe municipalities will be asked to assist the State Foresters in this examination. This investigation will be made shortly after foliage. It is impractical to attempt such a program before foliage because signs of the disease are latent until after foliage.

The Grosse Pointe Property Owners Association urges all residents to spray their elm trees at this time—before foliage—in an attempt to control the disease. Any diseased tree found during this investigation and subsequent to it, will be required to be cut down and burned, as provided for in Section 6 of Act 72, Public Acts of Michigan 1945.

IT AIN'T CHEAP NOW
Iron was so precious in Ancient Egypt that small bits of it were set in gold, just as if it were a valuable gem. The metal was cherished even by kings. The Book House for Children tells how "the young Pharaoh Tutankhamen wore an iron 'Eye of Horus' on his breast as a good luck charm."

Library Friends Hear Rev. White

By DON FREEMAN

For the first time the new Woods Branch played host to the fortnightly meeting of the Friends of the Grosse Pointe Public Library on Wednesday evening, March 25, at 8:30. The program, held in the meeting room, was given over to a review of Whitaker Chambers' forthcoming book, "I Was the Witness," in its serialized version running currently in the Saturday Evening Post, by Rev. Hugh C. White of the Grosse Pointe Methodist Church.

To twice the anticipated audience, Mr. Willis Bugbee, Program Chairman, introduced Rev. White as a man well qualified to speak on such a topic. His father's work as Director of the Wesley Foundation for medical students necessitated his family's living in Chicago's tough West Side in the days of Al Capone.

Drawing upon the story of Hiss and Chambers, Rev. White tried to dispel some of the "cloak-and-dagger" attitude surrounding communism. He maintained that the true communist is frequently a sincere, intelligent, middle-class young man who, seeking to better world conditions and finding no remedy, forsakes traditional creeds and embraces the materialistic pseudo-faith of Marx.

For the home, school, and church to prevent such failures in the future, Rev. White urged two main courses of action: 1) to preserve present institutions, we must not fail to criticize them; 2) to insure the proper choice when the moment comes, we must give our nation's youth a firm foundation on which to build.

During the question period following his address, Rev. White emphasized that "there's no escaping that the struggle we are now engaged in is a life-and-death one," and fundamentally religious, since to a fervent party member its philosophies supersede religious doctrine.

Later Friends meetings are to alternate between the Main Branch at Pierce Junior High School and the Woods Branch at Parcels. On April 8, Mrs. Stuart Baits, University of Michigan regent, will talk on "Your University of Michigan in the Defense Decade."

The next program at the Woods Branch, April 22, will feature Mr. Donald Thurber, narcotics expert, on "The Narcotics Problem, Fact or Fake."

Two Youths Hurt In Speeding Car

Robert A. McEachin, 248 Hillcrest, while driving south on Harcourt at 50 miles an hour on March 31, failed to stop for Jefferson avenue.

Park police said that the tire marks made by McEachin's car showed that he jumped the curb at Harcourt, hit a Pontiac parked against the curb, careened into the side of a tree, continued down the sidewalk, passed between another tree and a utility pole, swung across the street up over the opposite curb, and smashed into another tree.

McEachin and a passenger, Hugh Bevier, 443 St. Clair, were taken to Bon Secours Hospital for treatment of injuries. McEachin suffered a possible fractured right shoulder, and Bevier received cuts on the forehead and a possible fracture of the ribs.

McEachin was ticketed by Grosse Pointe Park police for reckless driving. The damaged parked car belonged to W. N. Hemovich, of 945 Harcourt.

84 Pointe High Students Plan to Attend Festival

High schools and adult classes throughout the state will go to Ann Arbor April 1-2 for the annual Spanish festival given by the University of Michigan Spanish Club and the Department of Romance Languages and Literatures. The event will include a Spanish play, musical program and exhibit.

Groups expected to attend and their leaders include Grosse Pointe High School, 84 students, under Miss Louise Karpinski and Miss Ester Porter.

Woman Found Lying On Walk

City police received a call March 27, that a woman was lying on the ground at Jefferson and Roosevelt. Eula Mae Russell, of 9316 Elsa, Detroit, was taken to Bon Secours Hospital in a semi-conscious state by Sgt. Andrew Teetaert.

She had fainted at the corner after walking a long distance. She was held at the hospital for about two hours and released to her brother-in-law, James Walker, of the same address.

Young Hoodlums Admit Robbery

Grosse Pointe City police have caught up with three young hoodlums who robbed and struck Theodore S. Wilkinson, aged 17, of Washington, D.C., March 23. Wilkinson had been visiting relatives on Rivard boulevard.

The arrests of one juvenile and two 17-year-olds, Terry A. Messner, 611 Rivard, and Eric C. Schneider, of 1537 Roslyn, were made March 28, after identification had been established by Wilkinson.

The trio admitted to City police officers that after midnight on Saturday, March 22, they left a party at the Messner house to take a ride in the Messner family car. Some time later the youngest of the three, a 16-year-old, suggested that they hold up some one.

They spotted Wilkinson walking along Kercheval near Fisher road, parked the car, and forced him into a field at the corner. There they robbed and slugged him.

The juvenile was sent to the Wayne County Juvenile Detention Home until a hearing of his case, scheduled for Tuesday afternoon, April 1. He had also been charged in Detroit with stealing an automobile. Complaints are to be signed against Messner and Schneider and prosecution will be carried out.

Choir to Sing 'Crucifixion'

The Chancel Choir of the Grosse Pointe Congregational Church, Chalfonte and Lothrop, will present Stainer's famous "Crucifixion" on Palm Sunday evening, April 6, at 8 o'clock.

The choir is under the leadership of Mrs. Albert Schlorff. The solo parts will be handled by Eugene Culp, tenor; and Robert Cheate, baritone. Mrs. Clarence Parshall, organist, will accompany the choir. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Sir John Stainer was a great organist and choirmaster. Born in London in 1840, he was for many years the organist at St. Paul's in London, until failing eyesight forced him to resign. Other positions of musical importance which he held were professor of music at Oxford University, and principal of the "National Training School of Music" succeeding Sir Arthur Sullivan.

Many of his anthems are widely used today and his Cantata "The Crucifixion" is perhaps more generally sung in churches of all denominations than any other work of its kind.

DURHAM, N. C. — William Prescott Fisher of Grosse Pointe is one of 114 Duke University Air Force R.O.T.C. students who have just received promotions, Col. Byron R. Switzer, commanding officer of the unit, announced here today.

These men were selected for promotion after careful screening, Col. Switzer said. "Their selection was based not only upon academic qualities but upon leadership abilities as well," he said.

Numbering some 650 cadets, the Duke unit was formed in the fall of 1949. Upon graduation from the Duke corps, students will be offered commissions as Second Lieutenants in the Air Force Reserve.

Fisher, the son of Dr. and Mrs. B. L. Fisher of 268 Cloverly road, has been promoted to cadet private first class. He is a graduate of Detroit University School.

FLOWERS FOR ROMANCE

Flowers have always been linked with romance. Frescoes depicting life during the Early Roman Empire showed "little cupids as flower-dealers." During the 19th century particularly, flowers were popular for sending messages, usually of an amorous nature. In "The Language of Flowers," the rose means love; the orange blossom, marriage; and the myrtle, wedded bliss.

New Track Coach Has Eight Veterans Ready For Action

By Fred Runnells

After 23 years of successfully guiding the fortunes of Grosse Pointe High School's track teams, Athletic Director Frank Banach is stepping down as head coach and will turn his duties over to likeable Howard MacAdams for the coming season.

Banach is not being replaced because he didn't deliver the goods but because his duties of Athletic Director and head coach of both track and swimming didn't allow him enough time to devote to the tremendous job of running the athletic program at the school on Fisher road.

Story in Itself

The story of Banach's track team over the past 23 years is a story in itself and this reporter will bring it to you in the next issue of the News.

Before turning over the coaching reins to MacAdams, Banach briefed us on what the coming season could be when he reported that eight veterans are returning to the cinder paths to help get MacAdams off to a good start in his initial track season in the BCL.

The Veterans

Veterans: Allen Billups, pole vaulter and hurdler, Jerry Goebel, pole vault and high jump, three quarter miler, Calvin Bock, Ralph Gray and Tom Lister, two half milers, Bob Schaller and Dan Webb, and Ray Rietzel, who specializes in the sprints, should give Coach MacAdams a good nucleus around which to build a contender. These boys helped the Devils tie Fordson for second place in the 1951 campaign.

The biggest problem facing MacAdams is finding a boy to fill the tremendously large shoes left behind by Jimmy Reinhold that fabulous sprinter who thrilled Pointe spectators in every dual meet and climaxed his high school career by finishing third in the State meet at East Lansing.

Fair Reserve Strength

The Devils' reserve strength looks fair and once the big squad can get outdoors and feel the cinder path under their running spikes, the prospect of finding replacements to fill the gaps that now exist in the squad will undoubtedly become brighter.

Coach Banach never was one to be optimistic about the chances of any of the teams he ever coached at Grosse Pointe and new coach, MacAdams isn't talking right at the present time.

Five Home Meets

Devil fans will have an abundant opportunity to watch the thinclads in action this year. Grosse Pointe will compete in six dual meets of which five of them will be on the local track. This schedule switch came about when Highland Park and Royal Oak decided to reconstruct their athletic fields this spring. Both meets were scheduled to be held away.

The Hazel Park meet, the Pointers' first and only non-league opponent, will be the only meet away from home this year. Next season the schedule will be rearranged to give the Devils three home meets and three away meets.

Mrs. Emil Dauch, 729 Bedford, assisted by Mrs. Arthur E. Fleming, will entertain the Board of Grosse Pointe American Association of University of Women at a 12:30 luncheon on Thursday, April 10, at 12:30 p.m.

Kopp Pinmen Offer Threat

The most consistent winning team in the G. P. Rotary Club Bowling League has been the Kopp's Pharmacy quintet. They are only three points behind the Judies and the Middies, who are tied for first place.

On two successive weeks, Kopp's have beaten these two teams, 3-1. It is interesting to note that the three teams on top of the league standings have won championships and one of them will have the honor of being a two time winner at the close of the season, which will be April 25. Middle Atl. Transp. Co. and Punch & Judy Cocktail Lounge close the season by rolling against one another.

Last week's scores—Kopp's 3, P & J Cocktail Lounge 1, Piche Barber Shop 3, Middle Atl. Transp. Co. 1, Piche O'Brien and DeBusschere tripled in the tenth frame of the last game to give the barbers the game and total pins.

Mondry Cleaners swamped Village Wine Shop, 4-0, and spoiled any chance they (Village Wine) might have had in the run for the flag. Bill Mertz closed with 233 and a 612 series, high for the night. Farms Market and Motor City Tires split as Jack Gray again came through for the farmers with a helpful 581.

McLaughlin Rolls 267 Game

The three top teams in the St. Paul Bowling League held their respective positions with third place Eddie Lauer's quintet moving one point closer to the league leading Al Gouin team with a four point sweep. The biggest upheaval in the league came when Murray Smith's bowlers notched three points while Louie Reno's team went for the collar and dropped into a two-way sixth place tie while the Smith men moved up to fourth place.

Nineteen 200-plus scores were turned in with Dave McCarron, Murray Smith and Tom Corbett leading up two 200-plus games to lead the parade. Corbett had games of 208 and 225, McCarron 208 and 215, M. Smith 212 and 200, E. Beaupre 208, G. Walters 224, R. Harris 244, T. Trombly 229, D. Loeffler 224, F. Taylor 211, A. O'Connor 228, P. Lucia 200, F. Dansbury 211, W. Gurchie 201.

Tom McLaughlin registered the highest single game rolled in the league this season with his 267. It surpassed the previous high single game total held by both A. Boglarsky and A. Van Tiem who topped 252 pins earlier in the season.

Evidence of Past Successes Challenges Coach

BILL MIKULICH, new tennis coach at Grosse Pointe High School, takes a look at some of the loot collected during past seasons. Mikulich follows in the footsteps of Larry Westerville and Merline Schultz, whose teams built up enviable records for the Fisher road school. The first tennis call for candidates was issued Wednesday.

Playoff Spotlight Grabbed By Christ Church Tigers

By Fred Runnells

Paced by its star, Bob Lambrecht, the Christ Church Tigers vaulted into the Inter-Church Basketball League playoff spotlight last Monday night, March 31, with a surprising upset 36 to 30 victory over the highly favored Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Preachers quintet.

Trailing by three points 5 to 3 at the end of the first quarter which saw each team make only one field goal, the Tigers fought their way into a two point 16 to 14 margin at the halftime intermission.

The Tigers actually won the game in the third period when they limited the Preachers to a lone free throw while chalking up two buckets by Lambrecht and a free throw each by Leonard and Evans to hold a 22 to 15 edge going into the final quarter. Both teams notched 14 points in a wild final stanza.

One of the finest displays of courage we saw this season was the way Bob Lambrecht almost single handedly lifted the disheartened Preacher quintet into the victory column with a personal 8 point spurge in the final period. Barry finished the game with 15 points which was good for runner-up honors behind Bob Lambrecht's 16 points which paced the Tigers win.

Don Semmler Graduated At Babson with Honors

"Donald J. Semmler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Reynold W. Semmler, Sr., of 715 Berkshire road, was graduated with distinction on March 21 from Babson Institute of Business Administration, Babson Park, Massachusetts, where he was awarded the degree of Bachelor of Science in Business Administration. Mr. Semmler majored in the study of finance during his course at the college.

Mr. Semmler, who entered Babson in the fall of 1949, has been on the Dean's List for scholarship for three terms. His extracurricular activities have included membership in the Aviation Club and the Junior Class Council.

He is a graduate of the Cranbrook School in Bloomfield Hills and is married to the former Suzanne, Chenot of Detroit.

Race Is Tight In Ladies' Loop

Kopp's Pharmacy keggers held out a narrow three point margin after the firing had ceased in the St. Paul Ladies Bowling League last Wednesday, March 26, to remain on top of the league standings.

The Grosse Pointe Garage quintet moved into a challenging position and appeared to have second place pretty well cinched with a five point lead over the third place Winnie Camacho team.

Virginia Wright walked off with the individual honors by chalking up the high single game (214) and the high three game series (530), for a pretty fair day's work. Helen Wasche was the only other kegler to rack up a 507 three game score.

The Winnie Camacho team took over the high three game team total with a 2185 which was made possible with a high single game of 759, the third highest single game total registered in the league this season.

On Sunday, March 23, Mr. and Mrs. N. Schubeck won the husband and wife doubles tournament by going 206 pins over their average.

Title Tilt In Inter-Church Court Loop Set For April 7

By Fred Runnells

Last Saturday, March 29, marked the end of the basketball trail for all but three Senior Division teams in the Inter-Church Basketball League.

Grosse Pointe of the newly formed Junior Division, with a perfect record of six victories and no defeats when it clipped the victoryless Christ Church Lions in the first game of the four game program on Saturday, 36 to 14.

Tie for Scoring Honors
Jimmy Ketzler and Johnny Asmus tied for scoring honors with 10 points each. Neddy Evans, for the second week in succession, led the Lions' attack with 9 points, which was good for runner-up scoring honors. The defeat was the sixth setback in as many starts for the Lions, who finished the season in sole possession of last place.

The expected "donkeybrook" between the St. Paul Panthers and the Woods Presbyterian Pirates for second place failed to materialize when the Panthers took charge of the game at the outset and won easily, 23 to 14. The victory gave the Panthers sole possession of second place and dropped the Pirates two games behind in third place.

Panthers Qualify
By winning the Panthers qualified to meet the Methodist quintet in the preliminary game to the Senior Division playoff finals. Ken Oxley paced the Panthers' attack with 10 points for scoring honors. Methner notched 7 for the losers. By winning, the Panthers extended their season a trifle and will meet the Methodist quintet in an exhibition contest which will precede the senior division playoff final on Monday night, April 7, in the Boys' gym at the High School.

Run True to Form
The two final games in the senior division went pretty much to form with the St. Paul Longhorns winning the second round of play by defeating Memorial, 39 to 22, and the Presbyterian Preachers locking up second place with a 43 to 37 victory over the last place Christ Church Tigers.

Tom Barry Stars
Big Tom Barry was mainly responsible for the Preacher's besting the Tigers when he took the individual scoring honors with 14 points. His teammate Bill Prince chipped in 12 points for runner-up honors.

Both teams will meet in the first round of the playoffs, with the winner earning the right to meet the Longhorns in the championship game on Monday night, April 7, at 8:15 p.m.

Absent Keglers Cost Team Lead

Because the Turner Buick team of the Grosse Pointe Business Men's Bowling League did not have the minimum number of bowlers required for league bowling last Wednesday evening they were forced to forfeit four points to their opponents, "Doc" Tuttle's team.

This dropped the Turners from the league lead into a second place tie with the Pointe Insurance team which grabbed three points from the team representing Barrett's Flowers and tightened the race for the top spot. Revere Cleaners, though managing only a split in their series with Belding Cleaners, took over the leadership with three more weeks remaining in the regular season.

In the other matches for the week, Bruce Wigle, Tom Boyd and Dolphyn Engineering took three points from Kennelly Catering, Staudt Real Estate and Cramer Electric. Split even with Funston Chevrolet and Better-Made Chips.

In the "over 200" class were Aiello with 206, Baker 221, Baumgarth 224, Jack Cross 203, Dangelmaier 213, Greenwald 213, Janson 202, Kraus 207, D. Lazarus 216, Leahy 202, Marcanelo 214, B. First Full Moon of Spring Determines Date of Easter the beginning of Spring.

"The reason for choosing the full moon was probably to afford pilgrims safe passage on the roads as they travelled to the Holy City for the Easter festival," Hazel M. Losh, assistant professor of astronomy at the University of Michigan says.
The light of the full moon enabled the pilgrims to travel in comparative safety by night as well as by day. This year the first full moon after spring's arrival comes on Thursday, April 10, thus fixing Sunday, April 13, as Easter.
"The date of Easter can vary over a period of about 35 days from the time of the vernal equinox," Professor Losh points out.
"April 25 is the latest date on which it can possibly occur. This was the date back in 1943 and such a late observance of the day will not happen again until 2,038 A.D."

Other than Easter, April will see the red planet Mars assume a prominence in the southeastern sky. At the start of the month,
Mars will rise about three hours after sunset but will continue to rise earlier and earlier, as well as increase in brightness, as the month progresses.

"By the end of the month, it will reach the mid-point in the sky at midnight and will become the brightest object in the whole sky, surpassing even Sirius, the Dog Star, in brilliance," Professor Losh says.

"When it reaches the mid-point,
Mars will be in its most favorable point for observation. Mars takes two years to circle the sun, the astronomer says, and this year will come within 52 million miles of the earth during April.
Astronomers already are looking forward to 1956 when Mars will come within 35 million miles of our globe.

Two other bright stars deserve attention in the southeast sky each night during April. Professor Losh believes. Antares, also red in color and bright, but not as brilliant as Mars, will rise just below and to the left of Mars.
Rising around sunset, and ahead of Mars, will be Saturn. This planet is only one-sixth as bright as Mars but reaches a higher altitude than the red planet and thus is easily picked out.

For positive identification, Professor Losh advises checking on the evening of April 9 when Saturn will be about seven degrees above the nearly full moon. Two nights later Mars will be in about the same position with respect to the moon.

Jupiter will disappear from the western sky on April 16.

Wells were ordered dug in the commons, now Campus Martius, on March 28, 1807. This was the start of Detroit's public water supply.

Reality was added to the mock the retaking of the enemy held islands through amphibious as-

Japs Love Americans; Speaker Tells Baha'is

"The Japanese, especially the young Japanese, are very fond of the Americans," said Mrs. J. C. Davenport, speaking informally to a gathering of Baha'is and their friends last Thursday afternoon. "If they are not our closest friends, it will be our loss. The occupation of Japan, the first successful occupation in the history of man, was the apprenticeship of the trust between two nations. We must attain such world wide trust between all peoples."

"Korea is indicative of the fact that we must find some other means of solving wars. All the old avenues have failed with without answers. We are like a plane trying to get off the ground with one wing. We have too much of the material and not enough spiritual, and the sickness is too serious for just an 'acepack'."

"It will take a major operation to get at the cause of the world illness. We are suffering from a spiritual sickness. All the world is suffering from this, not just America."

Mrs. Davenport will speak at the regular monthly meeting, the first Friday of each month, this time, on April 4, at 8:15 p.m. and held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George R. True, 132 Moran road, for all who wish to attend. As at all Baha'i meetings, there is never any charge for admission, or collection.

FROM A SCRAPBOOK CIRCA 1934 . . . TSK! TSK!

A maid on the Lake Shore who toed the line faithfully for a tyrannical mistress six months of the year loved it when Moddom went south for the Winter. She greeted all callers during Moddom's absence in hideous get-ups and straight face.

The gentleman who had a short career as a butler. He answered telephone queries for the then Anne Kresge (who was away at school) with, "Annie Doesn't Live Here Anymore," a high brow tune of the period.

Eighteen years ago these were their favorite flowers, they told us: Mrs. Ernest Kanzler, peche-yellow rosebuds . . . Mrs. Emory Moran Ford, camellias . . . Countess Cyril Tolstoi, blue spray orchids.

EIGHTEEN YEAR OLD QUOTES:

Mrs. Wesson Seyburn: "What do you think of that for an idea?" . . . immediately after her sister, Mrs. Dodge Sloane's, Cavalcade won the Detroit Derby.

"We're just two bridesmaids hurrying to the Smith wedding" . . . intoned with very serious faces by two of the distracted ushers rushing to the church for the Helen Elise Smith-Frederick Lapham ceremony. Their car had been stopped by Grosse Pointe police who politely ignored the description, reminded the young men there were speed limits in the Pointe and then sent them on their way (and THEN, our scrap book tells us) the police roared.

Wonder if Bob Evans ever uses a toast that was his favorite way back then?

"Here's to the four hinges of friendship:
Lying, stealing, swearing and drinking,
When you lie, lie for a beautiful woman—
When you steal, steal from bad company
When you swear, swear by your country
And when you drink, drink with me!"

PILFERINGS

H. Allen Smith's INTERVIEWS in "Low Man on a Totem Pole."

"The antics of Joe E. Brown on the screen have never amused me, and when an assignment came along for an interview with him I didn't care much whether it panned out or not. As usual, in such circumstances I came away with an immense liking for the guy.

"Let's have an interview," said Mr. Brown, "without anything mentioned of my mouth. And let's take some pictures with my mouth shut."

"Among the friendships I value is that of Fred Allen, and it was my good fortune that Fred and Portland Hoffa were in Hollywood, engaged in making a picture with Jack Benny. I had their telephone number and made a date to have dinner with them a couple of nights later. We went to the Vine Street Brown Derby.

"Fred had been in town three weeks and he was ready to scream.

"This is no place for a professional comedian," he said. "The amateur competition is too tough. I once told you that they had not invented scales fine enough to weigh the grain of sincerity to be found in radio. That goes for Hollywood, too."

"A photographer's flash bulb exploded in Fred's face. 'That,' he said acidly, 'goes with the two-dollar dinner.'"

And in a profound interview with a Doris Davenport, who at the time just had been starred in "The Westerner" with Gary Cooper:

"I asked her about Gary Cooper who played the male lead in 'The Westerner'.

"He wins me," she said. "It is not like most Western pictures. They never let the cowboy kiss the girl in most Westerns. He wins her love but he never kisses her."

"Why?" I asked.

"Didn't you ever notice that?" she asked. "Maybe it's because he is always kissing his horse so much, and the girls won't let him kiss them after he has been kissing a horse. But Mr. Cooper doesn't kiss his horse. He kisses me."

Pointer of Interest

MRS. GERALD W. CHAMBERLIN OF WHITTIER ROAD

If you find yourself worn out when a couple of the girls drop over for canasta and you give them a sandwich of an afternoon, then today's Pointer of Interest probably isn't your dish of tea. But she'll fascinate you.

Because Mrs. Gerald Chamberlin loves nothing better than the prospect of a guest list numbering over a hundred and a few hours with her "staff" to get the food ready for the party.

And it was because we've been receiving such glowing tales of Chamberlin hospitality and cuisine that we hurried over to Whittier road to talk to the lady herself.

We found Mrs. Chamberlin about to tackle her garden as best she could after the ravages of the recent storm, the wind and the water from Lake St. Clair. The Chamberlin home is at the foot of Whittier. At all times, except when nature goes on a rampage, it is a divine place to live.

A flagstone walk had been uprooted and some of the stones beaten to wafer thinness by the rising waters. The breakwall was damaged in places.

Party Wardrobes But we were assured that all will be in shape again, especially by late May when Mrs. Chamberlin will give a tulip garden party and tea simultaneously raising funds for one of her greatest interests, The Allied Youth Organization.

A recreation room which opens into a large supper room provides the necessary space for parties at la Chamberlin. In addition, the first floor rooms are often called into play when guest lists pass the two-hundred mark.

Each floor has a complete party "wardrobe" of linens and tableware. For instance on the first floor exquisite peche and blue organdie and satin cloths background silver service.

In the recreation and supper rooms the motif is more informal and moderne. Here tables are sometimes covered with imported Belgium crash linen cloths and the white china is gay with scarlet trim. Lucite and black plastic flatware blend with the decor and the glassware is striped in red.

Add to these settings the food for which Mrs. Chamberlin is justly famous and you realize why we keep hearing about the wonderful parties at the Chamberlins.

Ideas for Fun There's generally a theme or a reason for a party at the Chamberlins. Many of these have to do with groups in which Mrs.

Chamberlin is interested: the aforementioned Allied Youth Organization, the Principia Mothers' Club, The Asher House group of Michigan State College etc.

The young folks of the family, Joy, a freshman at Western Michigan College in Kalamazoo, and Don, who's in the tenth grade at Grosse Pointe High, have inspired many of the wonderful affairs.

Once Joy's birthday party had a Scarlet O'Hara theme with old fashioned picture hats for every little girl present. Don's friends still remember his circus party with a miniature "Big Top" centering the table, a shower of streamers pulled from it, prizes of clowns and horses and cowboys etc.

Research Mrs. Chamberlin is constantly doing research for the pleasure of those who will be her guests. A box of Christmas cookies several years ago gave her one of the chief ingredients for the success of her tea parties. The box from some Syrian friends, contained those wonderfully rich and delicious confections, Baklava.

Today, Mrs. Chamberlin can make them with all the finesse of a gal who has learned the skill in Syria. Purified butter, paper thin pastry sheets, pistachio nuts and the sweet rose-water and lemon solution are all part of the intricate process. Just recently she spent three and a half hours in her kitchen turning out about 140 tiny bird-shaped Baklava for her evening's guests.

French chocolate is another Chamberlin specialty. Christmas Eve visitors are always given a cup of it along with lobster salad, lobster sandwiches or lobster thermidor.

The basis of the chocolate is made well before and stored in the refrigerator. When serving time is at hand, the hostess spoons the preparation into cups and pours hot milk over it in true Parisienne fashion.

CRABMEAT PASTRIES

Contributed by
Mrs. Constant Cavallo

- 1 can crabmeat
- 2 Tbsp. minced onion
- 1 minced garlic clove
- 3 Tbsp. butter
- 4 Tbsp. flour
- 1/4 c. cream
- 1/4 c. sherry
- 1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
- 4 Tbsp. chili sauce
- 1/4 tsp. tobacco
- 1 tsp. MSG
- 1 pkg. Pie Crust mix.

Roll pie crust and cut into small circles about 1 1/2 inches in diameter. Transfer to a cookie sheet and bake in 375 degree oven until light brown. Do not overcook because they are returned to the oven before they are served.

Lightly brown onion and garlic in butter. Blend in flour and add cream, sherry, chili, sauce, Worcestershire sauce, tobacco, MSG and crabmeat. Stir constantly until thick and bubbling. Add salt to taste.

Fill tiny pastries with this mixture and top with following "puff."

- 2 ounces grated American cheese
- 3 ounces cream cheese
- 3 Tbsp. butter
- 1/2 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
- 1 Tbsp. cream
- 1/2 tsp. paprika
- 1/2 tsp. dry mustard
- 1/2 tsp. baking powder
- 1 egg yolk
- 1 stiffly beaten egg white.

Cream cheeses together and add all ingredients but the egg white. When thoroughly blended fold in stiffly beaten egg white and put on top of crabmeat pastries. Just before serving put under broiler for about four or five minutes and they will turn golden brown and puff out.

Ingredients

It is interesting to note that the Chamberlins never serve alcoholic beverages at their parties instead believe good fellowship, good food and careful attention to detail combine to make the best fun.

Many years ago the Chamberlins' car was struck by a drunk driver. Their miraculous escape from serious injury in that incident determined Mrs. Chamberlin to actively work for temperance education.

From that moment on, Mrs. Chamberlin has devoted much time to the Allied Youth Organization, a group which encourages young folks in temperance. Recently she was one of the judges at the annual essay contest conducted by the organization which featured The Problems of Teen Aged.

Wide Interests

Interesting, too, is Mrs. Chamberlin's generous patronage of groups and causes which actually have no personal claim on her.

Her efforts for Principia College, for instance, grows from a profound respect for the school's program to which she was exposed when her brother, Roy Fruehauff was a student there.

And when a group of young men asked for help in establishing Asher Hall at Michigan State College because they needed a quiet place to live and study, the Chamberlins eagerly offered their assistance and ever since have been active supporters.
