Special Neighborhood Pleas Put Farms Council on Spot

The Farms council is now faced with the problem of establishing a definite "sidewalk policy" throughout the municipality. At its regular meeting on January 19, the council heard a petition submitted by Harbor Hill residents, requesting waiver of installation of sidewalks along their street.

The city planning ordinance now requires sidewalks in residential developments in the community. In all but a few areas, sidewalks have been installed. Monies are being held in escrow for most of those areas.

Facing the council are considerations of public safety, suitable thoroughfares for pedestrian traffic and individual property rights. The council must decide

Mothers' March on Polio Tonight to Climax Drive; Residents Urged to Help

Every Home in Pointe Expected to Be Under Watch; Prospective Donors Asked to Burn Signal Lights for Canvassers

Porch lights will be burning for one hour throughout Grosse Pointe tonight, Thursday, January 29, when the Mothers' March on Polio will be launched as the climax to the 1953 March of Dimes campaign.

The burning lights in thousands of Grosse Pointe homes will be the signal to an army of more than 450 volunteers that they will be welcome to receive contributions to the fight against infantile paralysis.

From 7 to 8 O'clock

The Grosse Pointe March of Dimes committee has named the hour between 7 and 8 p.m. as the time for this dramatic windup of the campaign. The local Mothers' March on Polio is part of an identical nationwide movement in which hundreds of thousands of mothers will participate.

"Judging by the tremendous response to our recent calls for volunteers," the committee reported, "our Mothers' March personification appears sufficient to contact every house in the Pointe. However, so important is the success of the 1953 March of Dimes of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis that additional volunteers will be more than welcome."

New Library Greeted With Enthusiasm

Admiring Thousands Attend Ceremony and Inspect Beautiful Modern Structure

Pointe residents... estimates went as high as 3,000 of them... flocked to Kercheval avenue and Fisher road Sunday afternoon to attend dedication services and inspect their new Central Library. All came away thoroughly impressed with the beautiful modern structure which is the gift to the community of Dexter M. Ferry, Jr.

The impressive dedication ceremony started promptly at 3 o'clock with the presentation of a flag by the general contractor, Walter Albrecht. After the flag raising by Boy Scouts, the keys to the building were presented to Mr. Ferry by Mr. Albrecht.

Donor Cuts Ribbon

The donor cut the ribbon across the modern entrance on Kercheval and the assembly moved to the meeting room on the second floor, where the program was completed.

Only a fraction of the crowd was able to get into the meeting room, but loud speakers had been placed so everyone throughout the building could listen to the speeches. The whole program was also tape-recorded for posterity.

Presentations Made

The presentation of the building was made by Mr. Ferry, followed by Carter Sales, Jr., grandson of the late Murray W. Sales. Mr. Sales gave his East Jefferson avenue residence several years before his death, to the Grosse Pointe Board of Education to be converted into a library. When this was not deemed feasible, Mr. Sales agreed that the property should be sold after his death and the proceeds used to help towards the creation of a new library.

Money from the sale of the property was used towards furniture and fixtures for the building which Mr. Ferry donated.

Many Others Helped

Various organizations and many individuals also helped furnish and equip the new structure. The Friends of the Grosse Pointe Public Library raised over $21,000 for this purpose. This organization, which was founded just a few years ago by Mrs. Lloyd G. Hooker of Uni-

Jail Breaker Confesses to Auto Thefts

Donald Treppa, Arrested in Detroit After Escaping Here, Enters Guilty Plea

Park jail breaker, 22-year-old Donald Treppa, entered a plea of guilty when arraigned before Grosse Pointe Park Municipal Judge C. Joseph Belanger, January 23, for auto theft.

Treppa, who lives at 2590 Alster road, had been arrested on January 2 for investigation of auto theft and escaped from the Park jail on January 5, shortly before he was to have been arraigned.

Did Other Jobs

Further investigation had connected him with burglaries in outstate communities and other auto thefts.

Following a two-week search, he was picked up in Detroit by Detroit police and returned here. Treppa, was placed under two $5,000 surety bonds and remanded to the Wayne County Sheriff to await the next session of Circuit Court.

Faces Second Trial

At arraignment in Detroit for a burglary on East Outer drive, Treppa pleaded not guilty. He will also be tried on that charge in Detroit's Recorder's Court.

Passenger Hurt As Cars Crash

A passenger in Richard E. Williams' car was injured on January 24 in an accident at the corner of Charlevoix and Berkshire.

A second auto, driven by James Watson, of 10524 East Jefferson, Detroit, had started across Charlevoix on Berkshire, cutting in front of Williams.

Park police took Catherine Plantenga, 290 Hillcrest, to Bon Secours Hospital for treatment of lacerations of the knees and a possible sprained ankle.

Neither Watson nor Williams, who lives at 290 Hillcrest, were injured, police said.

Damage Heavy As Cars Crash

Heavy damages were reported in a two-car accident at the intersection of Waterloo and Notre Dame on January 25, when the impact tipped one of the cars over.

Edward F. Street, 33, of 22105 O'Connor, St. Clair Shores, failed to stop for the stop street at Waterloo and was struck by the car driven by 23-year-old Albert J. Wettlaufer, of 514 Lincoln.

Board Asks CDS Group For Answer

Purchase of Site Adjoining High School May Be Proposed Next Week

Further discussion on the proposed purchase by the Grosse Pointe Board of Education of the Grosse Pointe Country Day School property, was held at a special meeting of the Board on Tuesday afternoon. A final decision on whether or not to ask the voters to approve purchase of the property was postponed until next Tuesday, February 3, when the Board will again convene.

A price of $710,000 has been set on the Country Day site and buildings by an appraisal panel of the Detroit Real Estate Board. It is known that the public school officials think this price high.

Faced With Problem

The Board of Education is faced with the problem of providing for future expansion of the High School. Statistics show that the present building will be outgrown within a few years. Without room to expand the present facilities, it would be necessary to erect a whole new high school and employ another faculty.

The corporation which runs both Country Day and the Detroit University School has long been anxious to move the Grosse Pointe boulevard institution which takes care of the girls and very young boys, out to Cook road, where both CDS and DUS would be on the same campus.

Agreed To Sell

The corporation has agreed to sell the property for the $710,000 providing ways can be found to finance the balance of the cost of building the new school on Cook road. It is understood the Board of Education will get a definite answer from the private school corporation on this matter on or about February 1.

The corporation first said it probably would not be able to supply this answer until about the middle of March, but the public school officials said it was necessary to know much sooner than that.

New School Needed

A new school on the Roslyn road site already owned by the Board of Education is badly needed, and should be ready for occupancy next September, when a new influx of students is going to make it necessary to transport some pupils out of that area to the southern end of the district.

It is already too late to get the Roslyn road school built by next fall, but the Board is anxious to get started as soon as possible.

There is also the matter of the new auditorium-gymnasium for the High School campus, which the Board has promised will be submitted to the voters. The members want to submit all three proposals at the same time.

Estimate Costs

Total cost of the three projects would run about $2,500,000. As soon as the private school corporation's answer is received the Board of Education will make its decision on whether or not it wishes to ask the voters to approve the purchase, along with building the new Roslyn road school and the auditorium-gymnasium.

It is expected that this decision will be reached at the meeting on Tuesday. A date would then be set for the election on the proposal bond issue.

Accident Blamed On Wrong Guess

Arthur T. Griffith made an assumption that resulted in an entanglement with another auto on January 24, on Vernier road.

Driving east on Vernier, Griffith, who lives at 1424 Beaconsfield, approached another car ahead of him which had, he said, slowed down in the center of the road, apparently to make a left turn.

Griffith started to pass on the right, but the car, driven by Barbara M. McMullen, of 937 Vernier, turned into him. Damages were not heavy, however.

Woods police set a court date for both drivers.

All Grosse Pointe residents are asked to turn on their porch lights between 7 and 8 p.m. Houses without porch lights may display lamps or candles in the windows.

Beacons of Hope

"The porch lights throughout Grosse Pointe," the committee said, will be beacons of hope for polio patients. These lights will be glowing invitations to our volunteers, and will prove that our citizens are determined to do all in their power to help our local boys and girls.

Tread Lightly-Proud Foot!

That's a mighty proud foot you see there. It's resting on the accelerator of a gorgeous 1953 Cadillac.

But we have a serious and timely warning for that proud and happy foot: Tread lightly!

Down under that accelerator is a dynamic 210-horsepower engine—coupled with the smoothest, quickest-acting Hydra-Matic Drive in history.

That great power was put there for the driver's safety in an emergency—and to provide that smooth, effortless, steady ride which is the essence of luxurious motoring.

It was not put there to enable a Cadillac to dominate the highway—or to dash out into the lead when the traffic light turns green—or to out-manuever the other motor cars on the road.

So don't ever exhaust that accelerator—unless you're in an emergency, and must do so for reasons of safety.

If other drivers covet the honors at the stop light—just let them go. They are first away by your courtesy—and that should be satisfaction enough for anybody.

Just be happy and satisfied with the great luxury this powerful engine brings you—the infinitely smooth, quiet performance... the quick "lift" that comes when you nudge the accelerator... the great reserve for a burst ahead in case of necessity

And be happy, as you can't help being, with the scores of other wonderful things about this magnificent car—its easy, relaxing ride, for instance... its distinguished and inspiring beauty... its rich, luxurious interiors... its honored and respected name... and its truly amazing economy.

Yes—there is so much about a Cadillac to inspire and delight its owner that he doesn't need the additional thrill of unleashing its spectacular performance when it isn't necessary.

That's why we know he'll "Tread lightly!" He isn't in competition with anyone.

Grosse Pointe High School offers superior training for boys and girls interested in secretarial work. Office practice, a part of the commercial department, is especially valuable because of its practical instruction.

Miss Frances French, teacher in charge of office practice, says, "I try to not only teach the girls how to run all types of office machines, but stress the importance of office conduct. How a secretary or stenographer conducts herself on the job depends very much on the training she has received. I try to send my girls out of office practice fully capable of any job they may be asked to do."

When you walk into room 108 during a class period you immediately sense the business-like atmosphere. There's no unnecessary talking—everyone has her job to do.

On the wall is a chart with each girl's name. There are seven columns there. They read: Attention, voice control in work, neatness of work during and after class, beginning-of-period procedure, end-of-period procedure, and gum chews.

If any girl violates any one of these the date is marked on the chart. When report card marking rolls around Miss French knows who the best workers are.

A rotation program is set up so that each girl can spend an allotted time on varied projects. For instance, many of the girls mimeograph the menus and programs for the G.A.A. Mother and Daughter Banquet. Some of the girls typed the letters sent to new National Honor Society members.

As a special service project, Girl Scout notices for all Grosse Pointe troops were mimeographed three times this semester.

Every once in a while something special is added. This month the girls have on loan an automatic Monroe Calculator. Each girl will learn how to operate this machine.

One thing many people do not realize is the opportunities for jobs which office practice offers. There are many employment possibilities, especially for graduates who can start full time work. Some of the companies that ask for Grosse Pointe High School girls are: U. S. Rubber, Edison, Michigan Bell Telephone, and Hudson Motor Car Company. Many law firms and insurance companies ask for bookkeepers, typists and stenographers. On the average wages range from $175 to $200 per month.

To Talk To Cubs

HERBERT N. BUMPUS

"Modern Miracles", a demonstration of the principles of radar and microwave radio relay transmission of telephone and television signals, will be presented to members of Grosse Pointe's Cub Scout Pack No. 156 at their meeting Monday evening, February 2, in Christ Church.

The demonstration is a fast-moving, 60-minute program developed by the Michigan Bell Telephone Company which explains in non-technical terms how the Bell System speeds telephone calls and television signals across the nation over a series of microwave relay towers strung across the continent.

Herbert N. Bumpus, customer relations supervisor for Michigan Bell, who is a member of Christ Church and a resident of Grosse Pointe Farms, will conduct the demonstration.

Judge Belanger Submits Report

Grosse Pointe Park Municipal Judge C. Joseph Belanger released his annual report last week of the proceedings in the municipal court and the violation bureau in 1952.

Total revenue from the court and violation bureau came to slightly more than $24,000 for the year. A breakdown of that total showed that nearly $200 was received from fees paid to the city treasurer on State cases handled by the court.

Approximately $16,800 was received by the violation bureau, and about $7,000 from fines, penalties and costs was received by the court.

The court disposed of 527 cases during the year. The violation bureau processed 4,748 violations. There were 28 State cases. Of the 527 court cases submitted, 33 defendants were found not guilty; 39 cases were dismissed for lack of witnesses, inability to prosecute and other miscellaneous reasons. In 19 cases the sentence was suspended, usually on payment of costs. In 39 cases reports were made to Lansing of inability to serve warrants on the defendants.

Jail sentences totaling 120 days were handed out to nine defendants.

Seek Stiff Curb On Air Rifles

Park children will have to carry their B-B guns under their coats from now on. Park police are seeking an ordinance to strictly govern the use of air rifles on private and public property.

The action follows numerous injuries inflicted by misuse and carelessness, and a number of broken windows and street lights.

Said Police Chief Arthur Louwers: "In past years, we have had to confiscate hundreds of the rifles to prevent further injury and destruction."

What gums up budgets is yearnings outstripping earnings.

High School Mothers' Club Has Long Service Record

By ANNE OREBAUGH

GPHS Journalism Student
The Mothers' Club was organized in 1928 before the High School was completed.

The students attended a school located in the old Board of Education building. They had no luxuries; in fact, they lacked some of the necessities of a normal high school.

The boys practiced football on a vacant lot, but later a field was donated. They dressed in odds and ends of football uniforms.

The mothers of the students got together and decided something must be done about the lack of equipment that was so badly needed.

A meeting was held at the home of Mrs. John M. Fuchs, founder of the Mothers' Club. There were 13 ladies present.

Through their combined efforts, the Mothers' Club was started, one of the first in the state of Michigan. The constitution and by-laws were made and plans for raising money began. They arranged to have several dances at Defer school and some card parties. Through these $326 was made. This money was used to buy football uniforms for the boys and blouses, mittens, and scarfs for the girls. This was only the beginning.

Mrs. Walter Neumeyer suggested that the Pointe be divided into sections and neighborhood card parties be arranged to raise money. This tradition is still being carried on now. Mrs. Fuchs said that she is still chairman of her bridge club, started over 25 years ago. They meet occasionally and give the money raised to the scholarship fund. These women, who have made lasting friendships, are still willing to give money to a school from which their children were graduated long ago.

Mrs. H. Deuster, who was a president, 1934-36, recalls that while she was in the club before she was president the scholarship fund was originated. At first it was merely a loan of $200 to one student. Later they added another $100 scholarship and presented both to the students as a gift, for they felt that the students shouldn't have to start out life with the burden of a debt.

Mrs. Deuster recalled that the club raised $100 to be given to needy children in the building for glasses and other necessities. When the banks closed in 1932, the mothers found their money gone. However, the club president at that time was not defeated. The Mothers' Club gave a bridge party at the Neighborhood Club, charging a 25 cent admission. The place was jammed to the gills and $100 was made.

The loving cups for the honor boy and honor girl award were obtained around this time.

Mrs. Deuster said, "The club is and was a wonderful thing with wonderful people in it. It promoted friendship between mothers and a feeling of warmth to know of the aid we gave the students."

Mrs. F. A. C. Flemming, a charter member of the Mothers' Club, recalled that while she was active in the club, band uniforms were given to the students and costumes for the plays were made by the members. Mrs. Flemming related that attendance wasn't all that it could have been. Many of the well-to-do students attended private schools and the rest of the mothers in the community weren't willing to participate. Speakers were hard to obtain for such a small group. Mrs. Flemming said, "We really worked hard, but it was all worth while when you look back on it."

Mrs. Catherine P. Waddell, who was a president, 1938-40, said that in her day the money was made through bingo parties. However, these parties were frowned upon by many as being a type of gambling, so the Mothers' Club banished them and began the annual bridge affair about the time of the tenth anniversary of the club. The party for graduating seniors, their relatives, and friends was started around this time.

In 1941-43, Mrs. Charles T. Ellis was president. The card parties and membership at this time surpassed any up to date.

Tradition had been formed and things went along on an even keel.

The Mothers' Club in recent years has given many nice things to the school. A silver tea set, lace table cloth, a juke box, gloves and plumes for the band, an addressograph for the office staff, and a printomatic card duplicator, curtains for the auditorium, the cloth ceiling in the gym, a curtain to cover one wall and many more items benefit the school through their generosity.

The Mothers' Club now makes its money through yearly dues of $1.00, neighborhood bridge parties, annual bridge affairs, bake sales, and from the proceeds from one night of the Pointe Players production. In return, the Mothers' Club pays the play royalty for that night and provides refreshments for the cast and crew.

Each year around $2,300 to $2,500 is given to deserving students who need aid in their college education. Approximately $35,000-$36,000 has been given out so far.

The Mothers' Club still works more or less through tradition, traditions that were born during the first ten years. As time goes by new needs arise, and the club does its best to fulfill them.

The main project of the Mothers' Club is the scholarship fund for which money is raised all year. But it is not a door-to-door operation. Money is collected through pleasant activities. The mothers gather to play bridge, make friends, and give a small amount each time. It is because the parents want to go see a Pointe Players production that they pay a small fee for a ticket and thus contribute to the Mothers' Club.

It all began because 13 mothers wanted to help their sons' and daughters' school, and it has grown to a mammoth club of some 1035 members.

The purpose is the same as it was in the very beginning—"United efforts to benefit the students socially and financially and to interest the mothers of the community and the teachers in this work."

Candidates File In Two Points

The filing periods for candidates for office in the forthcoming spring elections in three of the Pointe communities ended early this week. Elections will be held on April 6 in the Park, Farms and Woods.

On the ballot in Grosse Pointe Park will be the offices of mayor, municipal judge and three council seats. The last filing date in the Park was January 26. Incumbent mayor Homer C. Fritsch alone filed for that office. Candidates for the three seats open on the council are William Oddy, Bruce Tappan, Stephen A. Walker and Charles Ives. Oddy and Tappan, recently appointed to the council, are filling the unexpired terms of former councilmen Bloodworth and Gillette.

Incumbent Municipal Judge C. Joseph Belanger will be opposed by Fred J. Potvin.

The Farms filing date ended January 27. There will be six candidates for the four open council seats: William F. Connolly, Jr. (incumbent), Richard L. Maxon (incumbent), George L. Schlaepfer (incumbent), Neil S. McEachin (incumbent), Harry A. Carson and Alfred B. Fitt. Grant E. Armstrong will oppose incumbent Municipal Judge J. Burgess Book III.

Filing privileges in Grosse Pointe Woods are open until March 17. The office of mayor and three council seats are open. As yet, no candidates have filed their petitions.

The Village of Grosse Pointe Shores will hold its spring elections on May 19. Three trustees are to be elected. The filing period closes on May 9. No petitions have as yet been filed here. The spring elections in Grosse Pointe City are held in June, and as yet no petitions have been submitted.

ANNUAL FOLK BALL

Climaxing a year of many activities will be the Seventh Annual Folk Ball of the International Institute on January 31, at 8:30 p.m. in the Crystal Ballroom of the Masonic Temple. Bringing together in a happy mood people from long-established Detroit families with new Americans, the Folk Ball expresses in a dramatic way the fact that Detroit is an international city in an international world.

Freak Accident Produces Fines

Municipal Judge Joseph P. Uvick meted out fines to two persons, January 26, who had been involved in a freak auto accident on January 9, in which Howard A. Westphal suffered two broken legs.

Westphal, who lives at 497 Lincoln, was caught between two cars at the intersection of Kercheval and Fisher after another auto driven by Stephen Saph, 255 McMillan, had skidded into the rear of his car as he waited for the traffic light there. Westphal had been standing at the rear of his car, assessing the damages, when a third auto driven by Hans H. Raymond, of 1016 Berkshire, struck him and pinned him between the bumpers. A passenger in Saph's car had moved it across the street to a parking spot.

Judge Uvick fined Raymond $60 and charged him court costs of $25. Saph was fined $5 and charged $3 in costs.

Pointe Orchestra Now Year Old

The Grosse Pointe Community Orchestra, one of the adult and children's groups sponsored by the Grosse Pointe Board of Education, starts its second term on February 4 at 7:30 p.m. at the Grosse Pointe High School. The Community Orchestra has now been in existence for a year with a membership of 58, including 17 adults and 41 children. Weekly rehearsals are held each Wednesday in the music room at the High School. The orchestra has attracted national attention through an article about it, "An All Age Children's Orchestra," in the Educational Music Magazine, Jan-Feb. 1952.

There are two divisions of the orchestra: the laboratory section at 7:30 where young grade school children work with parents, interested adults and high school children and the 8:15 session composed of high schoolers and adults. Anyone who likes to see music grow as a social medium and who likes to participate actively in music as recreation would find pleasure in joining the Wednesday evening sessions. At the present time the group needs adults who can play clarinets, drums, French horn, trombone, viola and violin. Donations of music and instruments not in use would be appreciated.

Let Your Doctor Decide . . .

If your illness requires his treatment. For if simple medicine at home is sufficient, he will so advise you. Continued self-treatment can be wrong, and even dangerous in some cases.

So if a minor ailment persists, see your Doctor promptly. The peace of mind gained by knowing what to do far outweighs the moderate cost.

Badminton Players Stage Hat Tourney

Grosse Pointe Badminton Association Holds Novel Contest Originated by Its President Chess Lagomarsino; All Make Amusing Hats for Evening's Play

The Grosse Pointe Badminton Association tried something new and different Saturday, January 17, when it staged its first Hat Tourney, originated by Association President Chess Lagomarsino of Yorkshire road.

Each contestant was required to design and make a hat and wear it while playing in the tourney. This in itself presented a problem. Have you ever tried to play badminton wearing a hat?

The problem was to keep the crown on the noggin 'while swatting those little feathered birds back and forth over the net.

Mrs. Norman Rogers of Cadieux was awarded the winning prize for the most original hat.

It was made in a bonnet shape and tied under the chin with white satin ribbons.

Twenty-four celluloid badminton birds were fastened helter-skelter on the bonnet and standing amid the birds were four cardboard girl players attired in the conventional tennis costumes with racquets and all.

Mrs. William Bryant and Mrs. Hans Rogind captured the Women's doubles and Harold Love and George Seibert took the Men's doubles.

The Mixed doubles winners were Mrs. Vera Sucek and William Bryant.

All wore hats while playing in the tournament held at the Grosse Pointe High School.

Each winner received a prize for their efforts both on the court and with a milliner's needle.

The Association plays at the High School every Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday evenings and on Saturday and Sunday afternoons.

Loses License; Goes to Jail

Park Municipal Judge C. Joseph Belanger sentenced 18-year-old Remy F. Gamble to 10 days in the Wayne County Jail and revoked his driver's license for one year, January 22.

Gamble, who lives at 14642 Glenwood, Detroit, had been involved in an auto accident on December 28, at the corner of Jefferson and Edgemont park. His car had hopped the curb and crashed into a light pole there.

Both Gamble and a passenger suffered minor injuries. Police said that the front of the car had been badly smashed and the impact had popped the windshield out.

Gamble explained to the police that another auto, entering Jefferson from a side street, had forced him over the curb. He was ticketed for not having his car under control.

Scheduled to appear in court on January 21, in the morning, Gamble failed to appear until late that afternoon. A new court date was set for the following day, and he was placed under $50 bond.

From Another Pointe of View

By
Jane Schermerhorn

We hope there was a question or two on antiques when young Mary Jo Olp settled down to exams this week at Pierce Junior High . . .

That precocious subdeb has just returned to the Pointe with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. Robert Olp of Harvard road . . .

After three wonderful weeks all around the State of Virginia . . .

And you may be sure, there was plenty of antique-ing on the trip . . .

Mrs. Olp collects not only antiques (she found some mechanized Delft ashtrays which dazzled her!) but she also dotes on Virginians . . .

Her Nationality

Maybe we should tell her the story of one of our favorite little girls . . . who was born in Virginia . . . and lived there until her father was made Episcopal Bishop of South Carolina . . .

One Summer the family was spending a brief holiday at the beach . . .

And our little girl, aged then about seven, was building castles in the sand with several contemporaries . . .

As the building went on . . . the conversation turned to what nationality each child was . . .

This one said she "was English" . . . that one said he "was Irish" . . . and Little Helen said, "I'm a Virginian" . . .

We've always thought that was one of the nicest things in the world to be . . .

Valentine for Mrs. Sanford

We hear that Mrs. Sterling S. Sanford (Marcelline Hemmingsway Sanford) is off to New York come Feb. 11 . . . Now isn't that a pretty Valentine! . . .

This is her pre-Spring trip to survey the Broadway scene and collect all that fascinating data for her sparkling lectures on the theater . . .

(Her fifth annual lecture at the Women's City Club is scheduled for March 10 at 2 p. m. to be followed by a tea) . . .

While in Manhattan Mrs. Sanford will stop with friends at the Carlyle . . . and it occurs to us that this is the New York headquarters for Margaret Truman, too . . .

Backstage With An Authority

Mrs. Sanford's approach to the theater is one dearly loved by the feminine sex . . .

While she does a neat and critical job of the plays being offered . . .

She also manages to impart the color and glamour of the theater and its celebrities into her every lecture . . .

She interviews the stars . . . the producers . . . the writers . . . even visits head wardrobe mistresses . . . finds out, too, what the stagehands are thinking . . . gives a picture of the theater from backstage . . .

In addition to doing New York . . . she'll dash over to Philadelphia . . .

For openings which take place during her Eastern stay . . .

To Speak In The East

Mrs. Sanford has gone national on us, though . . . Detroit and Michigan no longer can claim all her lecture dates . . .

She has appearances slated in New York . . . Pennsylvania and New Jersey . . .

All to take place while she's in New York this time . . .

She's one prophet . . . who is honored in her own community . . .

You'll want to hear her at the City Club come March 10.

White flowers were used on the altar and officiating at the ceremony was the Rev. Paul Ketchum.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Leavitt, of Somerset avenue, and Mr. Brown is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd S. Brown of Archdale avenue.

For her wedding, the dark-haired bride chose a gown white with lace and nylon tulle. Fashioned on Princess lines, the wedding dress had moulded bodice with yoke of sheer nylon net applied in patterns from the Chantilly lace.

The full skirt had a slight train and Jean's fingertip length silk bridal cloche embroidered in seed pearls.

White orchids and stephanotis marked her wedding prayer book.

Mrs. Arthur Danneker Jr. of Columbus, O. and Carol Lowry were matron of honor and maid of honor.

They wore identical gowns of teal blue velvet with flaring, waist length skirts and strapless bodices. In church, the attendants wore brief matching velvet jackets.

Blue velvet bands were worn on their heads and they carried arm bouquets of American Beauty roses.

Assisting Mr. Brown as best man was Mr. Brown Laughlin. Ushers comprised Arthur Danneker Jr., brother of the bride; William Ward, Robert Dudley and Clifford Ludgren.

Mrs. Leavitt chose for the occasion a floor length gown of dusty pink crepe with yoke of matching lace. Her white satin toque was beaded in crystals and she wore a corsage of pink roses and carnations.

Mrs. Brown attended the wedding in a blue-touching gown of French blue crepe and a chapeau fashioned of all pink blossoms. Her corsage was pink carnations. The wedding guests attended a reception in the church parlours following the ceremony.

Presiding at the tea and coffee service were Mrs. William Ward, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Warren Rhodes.

the bride donned a beige wool suit worn with small white felt hat, brown accessories and her wedding orchids.

Upon their return, the Browns will make their home in Birmingham.

Jean Corfield Fritsch To Marry Dr. Hannan

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James D. Corfield Will Be Wed This Saturday Afternoon to Dr. John E. Hannan, Jr. Son of the John E. Hannans of Marseilles Avenue

Just when we thought the last Saturday in January, usually a popular tulle and orange blossom day, was about to be forsaken, we find that Pointers Jean Corfield Fritsch and Dr. John Eugene Hannan, Jr., have made careful plans that it won't be at all.

They will be married next Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock at a candlelight ceremony in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

The Rev. Frank Flitt will officiate at the ceremony which is to be followed by a reception at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James D. Corfield of North Oxford Road.

Dr. Hannan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Hannan of Marseilles Avenue.

Jean has asked her sister, Eleanor, to be her maid of honor and Dr. Hannan's best man will be his brother, Horace Hannan.

Seating the guests will be the bride-elect's brothers, John and James D. Corfield Jr.

Following the church rehearsal Friday afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Hannan will give the dinner complementing their son and his fiancée.

It will take place in the Whittier where guests will be seated at one large table to be centered with an arrangement of bright Spring blossoms.

In addition to the wedding party and the bride-elect's parents, the guests will include: Dr. Hannan's sister, Mrs. Marvin Hofmann; Eleanor Corfield's fiancée, David Ramsey; Mrs. James D. Corfield Jr., and John's Corfield's fiancée, Celia McKee.

Already awaiting Dr. Hannan and his bride-elect is a shiny new terrace apartment on St. Clair Avenue which they will occupy upon their return from their wedding trip.

Pointers at Meeting Launching Fund Drive

Join Luncheon-Meeting in the Veteran's Memorial to Hear Mrs. James McEvoy Report on World Conference for Planned Parenthood; Local Goal $35,000 Mrs. William Joy Heads Drive

Members and friends of Detroit League for Planned Parenthood filled the skyline dining room of Veterans Memorial Building in downtown Detroit Tuesday to hear Mrs. James McEvoy, report on the Third World Conference for Planned Parenthood in Bombay, India.

Mrs. McEvoy attended the conference as delegate for the Detroit League. Her subject was "The World Looks at Its Population Problems."

The luncheon meeting launched Planned Parenthood's 1953 fund campaign which has Mrs. William Moore Joy as its chairman. This year's goal is $35,000 to be used to maintain five clinics, to print and distribute literature on the League's program of planned parenthood, of birth, marriage counseling and fertility.

Mrs. McEvoy interspersed the more serious and factual passages of her report with a colorful travelogue. She recounted the warm welcome given the Planned Parenthood Leagues of 14 different countries by the people of India and its leaders, especially the vice president Dr. S. Radhakrishnan. Dr. Radhakrishnan was eloquent and grateful for the help the League has already brought to his overcrowded country.

CAMERAS CATCH PICTORIAL NEWS OF INTEREST FROM ALL OVER THE WORLD

"IMPOSSIBLE" ELECTRONIC "PIANO"—Bernard J. Patton of Los Angeles, a man who has confounded the scientific world with his "impossible" invention, puts a burned-out fluorescent light tube in his complex "piano." The "piano" does something to the tube (Patton says he doesn't understand it) and 80 percent of the discarded lights become rejuvenated and are good for a guaranteed 2,000 more hours of service. Today, Patton is starting a modest business of "impossible" rejuvenation of burned-out tubes that threatens to expand to nation-wide proportions.

SQUARING OFF—Former heavyweight boxing star Luis Angel Firpo of Argentina (right) squares off with world's heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano, in an informal moment at the Boxing Writers' Association of New York's recent annual dinner. The massive physique of the former Wild Bull of the Pampas—the man who knocked Jack Dempsey out of the ring—fairly dwarfs the current heavyweight titleholder.

SHE'S DIME SURE!—Pretty Val Phillips wants to be sure to remind everyone of the March of Dimes' fight against polio. She's wearing 20 dollars' worth of the tiny coins just to make her message a little more interesting. Val should be able to get her point across very easily with all her money and good looks.

CORRECT WEAR—A dapper young man feeds the pigeons in very proper attire. He is wearing a Hukabuk sport coat with monogram pocket tab. The coat is made of rayon and acetate and is spot resistant, water repellent, and ideal for wearing with contrasting lightweight slacks.

... AND THEN THERE WERE TWO—Plain "Mr." Harry Truman was snapped by the cameraman sitting near the former only living ex-President, Herbert Hoover at the inauguration of President Dwight D. Eisenhower. With Eisenhower's elevation to the Presidency Truman joins Hoover in the unique classification of being one of only two men living who was the President of the United States.

INFANT SEES FOR FIRST TIME—Seventeen-month-old Georgina Brown, one of quadruplets born blind to a Bromley, England, family, enjoys playing with her toys, which she can see for the first time since birth. Last October, doctors, who had operated to give the power of sight to the infant, said they had done everything possible for her, and upon recent examination it was found that Georgina's vision had strengthened. Her parents, attributing much of the child's improvement to religious faith, hope that their own praying might help give sight to the two other members of the quads—the fourth having died soon after birth.

COLORFUL WASHDAY—If you ladies think you're having a bad time with your family wash, you certainly wouldn't want to change places with these four hard-working women. They are employed by William Parrack's small textile printing firm in Rochford, England, which is producing flags for the Coronation. This outdoor drying method is being used because the firm at present has no drying plant. Mr. Parrack hopes to produce 10 miles of flags by April. The girls (left to right), Nellie Webb, Shirley Wellington, Rita McGrath and Jean Cushen, don't seem to mind this huge prospect at all.

ROUND THE WORLD IN A SKIFF—Captain Alvin Rogers of Texas heads his slender, 16-foot stainless steel outboard motorboat on the first leg of a 30,000-mile perilous journey around the world. Rogers' only companion on the trip will be a yellow cat named Shark Bait. Departing from St. Petersburg, Fla., the adventurer's first major stop on the trip will be Cuba. The trip, if successful, is expected to take at least three years. The tiny craft is equipped with a 15-hp. motor and carries a 3-hp. utility motor. After leaving Cuba Rogers plans to go through the Panama Canal, from which point he will make a 4,000-mile jump to Tahiti in the Pacific. A small gasoline stove will be used to cook at sea.

A GOOD JOKE, SON—Frankly, we don't know whether Calumet Farm's Mark-ye-Well is enjoying a horse laugh or if he's rooting a pal home while he waits his turn on the track at Santa Anita. Whatever it is, he seems to be a shining example for the toothpaste makers.

SOMETHING EXTRA—Lucille Pletl, 26-year-old Chrysler Corp. engineer, first in the company's history to travel nationally explaining to the public how modern automobiles are conceived, designed and executed by today's automobile engineers.

BIG WHEEL IN GANDER CIRCLES—Most geese are reluctant to go anywhere in a great hurry, especially to market. Oskar the gander, however, is one clever goose who has learned that speed on roller skates will take him no further than the bright lights of fame where people will pay to see him, not eat him. The amazing exhibition of goose gumption was displayed at a recent poultry exhibition in Hamburg, Germany.

SCHOLASTIC SNOW—The biology teacher of a class in an American-sector elementary school in Berlin prepares to start the day's lesson, as he and his students make repairs on a snowy saurian they constructed on the school grounds. Several of the animals under study have been interpreted in icy models of snow, making the lessons more interesting than they might be indoors.

MELTING A COLD SHOULDER—Despite the fact that the countryside is covered with snow and it is cold enough to build a snow man, the young lady is suffering no vigorous chill nor lapse of common sense. She is bathing in the famous hot well water pool of Fuessing, Bavaria. The well water, reputedly the hottest in Europe, contains large amounts of salt and sulphur and is credited with certain medicinal properties. So, while some ski others bathe, and neither thinks the other off his rocker.

GALA GLAMOR—Television star Roxanne models a blithe young coat dress created by Fashion Frocks of Cincinnati. The sculptured silhouette is emphasized by saucer buttons, velveteen cuffs and pockets and soft shoulder lines.

Number of Worthy Causes Aided by Pointe Rotarians

At a recent meeting of the board of directors of the Grosse Pointe Rotary Club, approval was given to a list of donations to local institutions.

$200 was approved for the purchase of bicycles as prizes and $150 for additional expenses toward establishment of a Grosse Pointe Bicycle Court under the direction of the Pointe police departments.

A donation of $50 was approved for the local Girl Scouts' camp. A fund of $140 was created for four high school boys who will be sent to Wolverine Boys State.

$45 will be used to provide transportation for Safety Patrol boys to the Shrine Circus, as a reward for their attention to duty.

A $20 fund was approved for transportation of children from the local Children's Home to the February 21 Detroit Symphony concert in Masonic Temple.

$50 has been provided for a wrist-watch to be presented to the outstanding member of the Grosse Pointe High School graduating class, in June.

Over 50 Sign Up to Sing With Community Chorus

After the first call for a Community Chorus membership last week, more than 50 people registered to sing Wednesday evenings from 8:15 to 9:45 p.m. at the Parcels Junior High School, starting February 4, continuing for fifteen weeks and concluding with a concert on Friday evening, May 15.

Chorus members will use the Vernier road entrance to Parcels School, located at Mack and Vernier road. Parking on Vernier is no problem. Unless the group is too large, practice sessions will be held in the modern rehearsal room of the school.

A variety of music will be selected by Mr. Johns for the chorus.

Two Down and One to Go

One discordant note grated through the harmony of community-wide appreciation Sunday afternoon as the residents attended the dedication of the Pointe's new Central Library. We were shocked, in an amused sort of way, to learn that one fairly prominent citizen had had the temerity to look the gift horse in the mouth.

We plead guilty to the possession of a perverse sort of humor, but the amusement which softened the shock accompanied the realization of the ludicrous stupidity which prompted this Pointe resident to attempt to find fault with a magnificent gift which was being made to him, his children and all the people in the entire community.

The gentleman wanted to know, and in a manner quite belligerent, how the Board of Education had dared to spend that much money on a library when it was well known that the majority of the residents wanted an auditorium-gymnasium for the High School campus.

We are most thankful that the question was brought up. It allows us to comment on a number of things that have long been dear to our heart.

For the benefit of any others who might be thinking along the same lines as this deluded citizen, it is time to get assumptions righted and truth elevated to a position of recognition.

The Board of Education did not spend any public money on the new library building. It was a gift, with benefit aforethought, outright and complete, from one generous citizen, Mr. Dexter M. Ferry, Jr.

There were many accompanying gifts, not having to do with the building itself, but with its furnishing and equipping, from organizations and individuals. None of these was paid for with public funds.

The Board of Education did see fit, at its annual meeting last June, to raise the ante on its appropriation for the library system by some $20,000. This was done with the realization that this superlative gift of the library building deserved some reciprocal action, such as the buying of more books to fill out the pitifully inadequate supply which would be on hand to stock the shelves of the new building.

Any resident who questions the wisdom or validity of such an action should have one of his heads removed before it causes him further annoyance.

With the question of the financing of the new Central Library thus disposed of (and we hope satisfactorily), we would proceed to other considerations.

Practically ever since this paper came into existence, the community has been wrestling with two issues which have occupied more space than all the others combined. The first had to do with a War Memorial Center, which evolved into the second, a need for a new central library.

The ugly facts are that the community (by which we mean all of the residents getting together to answer a need or solve a problem) fell flat on its face, took a powder, failed utterly to measure up to its obligations and opportunities.

Now, through the generosity of two families, and with the help of a minute percentage of the individual residents, the Pointe has its War Memorial Center and its new Central Library.

While taking pride in these most valuable acquisitions, each member of the community should at the same time recognize a challenge. These gifts should inspire each and every one of us to make some special effort to see that this community which we have chosen for our homes, shall continue to develop and to be enhanced, not only by the benefactions of the wealthy, but by the conscientious participation of all.

Too many of us have thought too long of Grosse Pointe as the Grosse Pointe of old. Gone forever are the days when the Pointe consisted of a few families of great wealth, with a few farmers and a few others largely dependent upon these wealthy families for their employment and their subsistence. The character of the entire area has changed. But the belief that the Pointe is still the Pointe, and will be kept the most desirable of suburban residential districts through the presence of these families with riches, lingers on.

The pendulum has swung far to the other side. The great majority of homes built here within the last two decades have been by families of moderate to very modest means.

The great increase in population means that the individual burden in community obligations is lessened . . . provided all participate.

With these two major goals, the War Memorial Center and Library, now realities, won through the contributions of a handful, it remains for the rest of us to accept or reject their inspiring examples.

We are going to be given the opportunity to make a public display in the very near future. We shall be called upon to vote on another school district bond issue.

From this vantage point, it appears we shall be called upon to approve the expenditure of about two and a half million dollars for the expansion and improvement of our educational system as pertains to plant facilities.

Somewhat less than a third of this will be required to erect a new school building in the Roslyn road area, on land already owned by the Board of Education. The need for this school is not questioned by anyone familiar with the facts. Just as increased population lessens the percentage of obligation on any one family, it also adds to the requirements of the school district to provide sufficient classrooms and accompanying facilities for the greater number of students. So crowded is the Roslyn district, that it is going to be necessary this fall to transport some of the pupils to the south end of the district and to overload classrooms in the north end.

Somewhat less than a third of the two and a half million will also quite likely be asked to purchase the property of the Grosse Pointe Country Day School. Research and projected mathematics based on present day growth, have shown that within a very short time the High School will be inadequate to take care of all the students of this age group. It will then be necessary to either build an entirely new school in another locality, with a new faculty, or to be able to en-

A. PRYOR

"The waiter he to him doth call,
And gently whispers . . . 'One fishball.'
The waiter roars it through the hall,
The guests they start at 'One fishball.'
The guest then says, quite ill at ease,
'A piece of bread, sir, if you please.'
The waiter roars it through the hall,
'We don't give bread with one fishball!'"

(George M. Lane)

There is a business man in these here now parts who might well have served as the model for those absent minded professor stories. About a month ago, our hero's married daughter and her husband moved into a new house in the Pointe, just a week before Dad left on a business trip. He not only helped them choose the house in the first place, but also visited it after they were in and settled. The other evening, a friend of the daughter's was slightly taken aback when the tired business man telephoned her and said, "Could you tell me where Kathryn is living? I just got back to town and I'm supposed to go there for dinner but I forget where she lives. In fact, I don't even know her phone number."

The friend in the above story also told us an incident that happened some years ago concerning our absent-minded hero. At the time, he was traveling South with his then fifteen-year-old daughter. At Macon, Georgia, the train stopped for some ten minutes . . . so they alighted to take a short stroll into the station, where Pop wanted to buy some pecans. He left his offspring standing under a huge clock in the station and told her to wait there for him . . . he would be right back. Time passed and he didn't return, so the panicky teen-ager thought she had better return to the train platform.

Just as she arrived the train was slowly moving out of the station. Fortunately for her, a railroad official was standing nearby and discovering her plight, arranged to have the train flagged to a stop before it disappeared out of sight. With great flurry and bluster they managed to get the child on the train, where she soon found her father sitting serenely in the club car munching pecans and looking at a magazine! When she confronted him and said: "Here I am . . . did you miss me?" He glanced at her briefly and replied, "No . . . but where have you been?" See what we mean?

A local woman who sometimes has occasion to employ day workers for domestic assistance tells us she is fascinated by the antics they go through in trying to hide their pocket books. She doesn't know whether they mistrust the other help or the employers . . . but in any case they are plenty careful. She then launched into a tale about a cook who works for her now and again, who hides her purse so carefully that half the time she forgets where she has hidden it and everyone in the house has to go on a treasure hunt.

Recently the cook put her bag in the back of the oven! Having forgotten about it, she stuck a roast in the oven and retrieved the purse only after the smell of burning leather began to permeate the house. The loss of the purse itself was bad enough . . . but she had tucked her upper and lower plates in it and they were the new plastic type that are best kept in the face where they belong . . . certainly not in a hot oven. Madame suggested that if she MUST remove them perhaps it would be better to keep them in the refrigerator!

While we are on the subject of domestic help, there is one such character around here that we would like to meet. Her bon mots are beginning to become household words with our elite. At the moment, she is working for a couple who have divergent interests; the husband being a big shot in Army business and the wife an athlete of no mean proportions. In the summer it's golf and tennis and in the winter, badminton and bowling.

One day recently Madame overheard the maid talking to a neighboring maid in the kitchen. The latter asked if her employer, Mr. Thingamebob, thought we were going to get into an all-out war. Our classical maid replied: "I don't think HE thinks so . . . but I and all my friends do. BUT . . . as far as MRS. Thingamebob is concerned, unless it broke out on the golf course or the bowling alley . . . she wouldn't know a thing about it!"

These dull winter afternoons are apt to cause us to reminisce about the past . . . and doing just that last week . . . one of our group (while toasting marshmallows in front of the fire) recalled to mind the charming local scene during the garbage strike in the Farms! We had completely forgotten how entranced we were with the "gold coast" during those days. Every home owner had to cart his own refuse to a dumping ground provided for same; an emergency hole dug in the ground with adequate parking space surrounding it. Most families waited until Sunday to unload their refuse . . . because that's the day that Dad would be home to do the dirty work.

It was a strange sight to see elegant cars and station wagons parked around the dump while the old man hauled bags of garbage out of the back of his car. It was such a novel thing for the Pointe, that entire families would attend these little sessions on Sundays and it almost reached the proportions of a common social meeting ground. At the time, it was far from being a picnic . . . but now we wonder. ANYTHING for a little excitement to BREAK THE MONOTONY!

large the facilities on or adjacent to the present High School property.

Simple mathematics again indicate that it will be cheaper to buy the Country Day School property now than to have to build a completely new High School in the near future.

The remainder of the bond issue which we shall probably be asked to approve would provide for a new auditorium-gymnasium building on the High School campus. Studies have shown that it would be advisable to erect this building partly on the Country Day property (another argument for the purchase of that site). Off-street parking requirements and existing traffic problems indicate that it would be desirable to have an entrance to the new building from Grosse Pointe boulevard rather than from Fisher road.

It is mainly in the matter of this auditorium-gymnasium where we shall be called upon to meet the challenge. The necessity for such a building has been aired a great many times in these columns. They will be further elucidated as the bond issue vote nears.

Suffice it to say that Grosse Pointe High School lags behind every other Class A high school in the state and most of the nation, in athletic and auditorium facilities. A recognized need in other communities has been ignored here.

Let us take stock of our pride, and of our hopes and dreams for our children of today and of the future. Let us accept this challenge of two magnificent gifts and resolve that we, too, as individual citizens, shall take a creative part in insuring the continuing development of that place we have chosen for our homes . . . Grosse Pointe.

What Goes On at Your Library

By Jean Taylor

Do you remember that gay little air from "Brigadoon," "What a day this has been . . . What a rare mood I'm in!"

It is 12 midnight, Sunday, January 25, and we echo those sentiments as we look back over the last 12 hours. It is a day we will long remember from the presentation of the flag at 3 O'clock to the darkening of the building at 6.

Honor goes to Mr. Dexter M. Ferry Jr., to the Board of Education and to the Friends of the Library whose combined efforts culminated in this fine building.

We are not attempting to report on the dedication services. We should like however to express our appreciation to Mr. George True for the loud speaker which made it possible for the speeches to be heard readily in all parts of the building and to the Boy Scouts, particularly to Troop 74 of Richard School for their part in the program.

Perhaps no one knows this building as well as Mr. Walter G. Albrecht, who has lived with it 24 hours a day for almost a year and a half and loves every square inch of it. We are indebted to Mr. Albrecht too for the flag which we fly.

The Board of Education, the schools, the Teacher's Association and many public spirited citizens contributed much to the beauty and color of the occasion with greenery and flowers. Other well-wishers from a distance with congratulatory telegrams and flowers brought to us that warmth of feeling which being remembered always occasions.

The beautiful teakwood throughout the building, the record table at which eight people may listen at one time, the Calder Mobile and the tapestry, the latter two the gifts of Mr. Hawkins Ferry, all stimulated a great deal of interest.

We wish every Junior League member might have heard the many comments about the gay colorful and inviting children's room which was furnished by this organization.

Cheery fires burned in the adult room, the gift of the Parcells family and in the "Friends" room, a living memorial in honor of the late Mr. Kenneth L. Moore, one of the most public minded citizens which this community has known.

Miss Joyce Woodcock, stationed at the Central desk, had a vantage point from which she could view all the 'to-ing and fro-ing.' Said Miss Woodcock, "Superlatives were bandied about on all sides . . . unusually beautiful, superb, terrific, magnificent, spectacular, delightful, inviting, et al."

Miss Florence Severs, former Director of the Grosse Pointe Libraries, a victim of flu the day after her arrival from Oregon, rallied valiantly to hold court and many were the friends who came to pay tribute.

It IS a beautiful library and we are humble and grateful to be able to work in these surroundings. Mr. Robert M. Orr, our director, has spent long hours of concentrated work and planning to help achieve this goal. It is now up to us as a staff to match the excellence of the building with the excellence of the service . . . so off with the finery, on with the dungarees . . . and so to work!

It is now 10 o'clock on Monday morning. No . . . we have not been all night writing this, but we did want to report on the first borrower to use our library. Mrs. James Becker, 38 Edgemore road, with her three-year-old daughter were "the first" as the doors opened for business.

The first book was charged out to Mrs. Hall Lippincott, 587 Rivard a good friend of our library and a frequent user of the old City Branch. The book was the currently popular "The Houses in Between" by Howard Spring.

All Eyes and Ears

By Dorothy Phyllis Hannah

Two pianistic means . . . with a single end . . . Such was the occurrence at Thursday evening's Detroit Symphony concert at which the duo-pianists Arthur Whittmore and Jack Lowe were the distinguished guest artists . . .

The program of the evening was of a varied nature, including such selections as the Symphony in C-major ("Jupiter") by Mozart . . . Fabin's Symphonic Poem, "Campo" . . . the Berceuse from "The Firebird" by Stravinsky . . . and Wagner's Prelude to Act III, of "Lohengrin" . . .

Whittmore and Lowe performed two compositions which were written for two pianos and orchestra . . . the "Concerto in D-minor," by Poulenc . . . and "Scottish Ballad," by Britten . . . each of which emerged as rare and beautiful gems . . .

When analyzing Poulenc's Concerto, one must realize that the concerto form is actually a sonata for solo instruments with orchestra . . . and in this case there are three movements (the first designed to arrest the attention of the audience, second to enhance relaxation and contemplation, and third to permit an exalted frame of mind) . . . Monsieur Poulenc has carefully maintained the essential character of each movement and at the same time woven them into a climactic and congruous entity . . . This is an amiable work which is imbued with delicacies of wit, and insouciance . . .

Benjamin Britten's "Scottish Ballad" is implicit . . . that of brooding grief . . . suggesting the heroic tale-telling of the Scottish border years ago . . . it is an extended narrative composition of serious content . . . gaining unity through thematic development by means of the leit-motive principle . . . We believe that the name song-poem would be more appropriate than that of ballad . . .

The fact that these two pianists are in constant demand as concert soloists with major symphonic orchestras . . . is indeed very understandable . . . inasmuch as they are excellent musicians (and evidently indefatigable workers) . . .

Slim Smartness and Sophistication Return This Spring

Special to the Grosse Pointe News from CKLW's fashion editor Mary Morgan, who covered America's fashion opening at the New York Dress Institute.

New York City... The Great White Way of Fashion is preparing Mrs. America for the Major Changes it was time for in our world of fashion.

In keeping with world events, leading American Designers created fashion to blend with the current notable events, and history making activities. For this is 1953, long to be remembered in history as the year of the United States Presidential Inauguration—and the British Coronation. The effect is decidedly apparent in the magnificence of fashion this spring.

Reversal of Shape

Predictions flying around the Fashion Capital whisper we shall see a direct reversal of fifty two's chic shape, designers having concentrated their talents on new tricks with bodice-shaping into a clinging vine and the slim, straight skirt to profile mid-lady's newly discovered figure... all this after a year of cinchers and petticoats.

The full scale acceptance of the profile slim silhouette is shown in all the trend-setting collections, although the wide-skirted dress will remain for their millions, but this spring, just one petticoat please!

In fabrics the lighter the woolens the smarter the costume, and silk introduces a new side of elegance, while once timely adjectives such as regal, well-bred, and distinctive return to adequately describe the brilliant designing.

Want Quality Clothes

Designers were quick to foresee that the atmosphere of tradition and festivity has put women in the mood for quality clothes of gracious femininity.

Thus we see the passing of the hard chic, the pert, and merely cute loosing its appeal, even to the very young.

The optimism shared by designers and manufacturers alike throughout this enormous garment business would indicate healthy signs of business growth, and accelerated buying on the part of both the stores and the customers.

Knows Peaks and Depths

For the fashion business as an industry has known the peaks of elation, and the depths of despair in the past, and generally speaking reflect the trend of the times.

I feel that the general optimism reflected in the showrooms of these designers and garment manufacturers means good business this spring and this year.

Exciting it is, here in America's Fashion Capital, where the world-famous New York Dress Institute is holding its famous Press Week, setting a world pace in couture design, second to none the world over.

Use Exquisite Fabrics

Here top designers, their famed filters and cutters, work out the designs in exquisite fabrics chosen from America's finest mills, Europe's and Britain's famous looms, creating fashion that keeps the American woman among the world's best dressed.

The collections viewed the past three days include familiar names to the women of Grosse Pointe. Ben Zuckerman's collection is a direct tribute to good taste with the narrowed yet noticeably rounded hairpin silhouette.

Ultra-feminine and rather grand because of his choice of superb fabrics, Ben Zuckerman's debut is a masterpiece of design.

Feature Low Neckline

The new Zuckerman edit is the becoming low necked coats and suits. Even the collarless necklines stands well away from the neck and then curve the depth of a three-strand necklace in front. Sometimes the neckline is filled-in with a luscious colored scarf or the glow of many pearls... and very effective too!

Whether full or dramatically sculptured, deceptively slim, Zuckerman's coats wrap the body line cozily.

The utter absence of tricky belts, pockets or collars tell another fashion story of exceptional designing, while a few of these stunning coats could double for a coat-dress.

Introduce Funnel Coat

The funnel coat is the successor to Zuckerman's much-talked-of morning glory silhouette.

Super-chic and obviously dedicated to the right wearer, the funnel coat is shown in white mosaic-checked Lesur wool with black wool banding outlining the low collarless neckline.

Each season's collection has one belt for everybody, and this year it's (twins) Big Ben (long) and Little Ben (short) straight collarless and hairpin curved, are designed in fine brushed wool.

Figure Flattery

In profile Zuckerman suits and dresses all hollow in at the solar plexus, a secret of figure flattery the designer cites as extremely important in a year when we want to look slim and regal. Actually, I feel this is one of this able designer's wonderful signature touches which women should adapt as the line most becoming to them.

The fabrics, nothing short of illustrious, have been assembled from Italy, France, Britain, the Orient, and America. There are gorgeous Italian silks heavy and elegant in a miraculous geometric cross pattern of thick and thin threads; Lesur's downy soft coatings so light you can hold an entire coat in your hand, and the chic of natural silk pongee. A happily revived daytime silk appears in several costumes. One I particularly liked was the hairpin coat, lined with leopard printed silk.

Studied Look of Ease

Paul Parnes' collection designed by Beni Claire is, as always, essentially feminine, as it is outstanding with its looks of ease and studied simplicity.

Spring's keynote is neat, slim suits, with the impression of indented waistlines.

Jackets are mid-hipped, and natural roundness is stressed and well accentuated by the femininely un-exaggerated shoulder lines. This in a sense sums up the suits of Paul Parnes showing, made even more effective by the use of important-looking striped jackets teamed with plain skirts; added to these were widely striped styles.

Printed Silk Ensembles

Silk became more interesting appearing in printed designs, in different versions of the Ensemble (dress and coat) long and short. There is no extreme in silhouette; the important look is achieved by a clever manipulation of fabrics, contrasting and tone-coordinated colors, plus superb tailoring!

The costume look is so strongly endorsed by Paul Parnes, that he has many exciting examples, such as the little three-piece navy suit with high waisted skirt, bolero, and cream blouse, the essence of femininity!

Notable Coat-Dress

Another notable style is the black coat-dress with the enormous white collar spreading over the shoulders. Still another is the elegantly simple navy silk dress with matching stole.

Harvey Berin clothes and people with stars in their eyes, seen to be made for each other. Could be, of course, a Harvey Berin dress puts those stars in the eyes too!

Either way, the collection is breathlessly beautiful. There is no wondering why this famous designer-manufacturer team were recipients of the much coveted Fashion Critics Special Award this year.

Floradora Fashion

The Floradora Girls with their seductive gowns, and naughty net flounces have been the inspiration for Berin's spring ankle-length gowns, but in a most modern manner.

The dandy dress by Harvey Berin is another deluxe street dress with great swank, and I predict this dress will be as great a success as the 1952 edition of the Berin street dress.

Slim, but with full sleeves and double breasted yolk, it looks both early Victorian and ultra-modern in thick black taffeta. There is an even balance between full and slim skirts. Both are built on complete linings of net or organza, which is definitely the secret of their smooth shapelessness that spreads from waistline without gathers, to a definitely flared hemline, a neat trick of designing which this house handles beautifully.

Elaborate Waltz Dresses

The waltz length dress for evening is elaborate and as gorgeous as a floor length creation, and is shown throughout the collection. Short party dresses are in the minority except some narrow satin sheaths solidly blazing with jeweled embroidery.

But the four-star dress detail of the season is very likely destined to be this designer's prize... real rose quartz jewels and porcelain flowers used as all-over embroidery on pale satin, or linen evening dresses.

How fabulous can you get? But its magnificent!

Herbert Sondheim believes there is always room at the top, not only for a new trend, but for improvement, and his excellent spring collection reflects this up-to-date thinking.

The trend referred to, embraces deep, rounded yokes, bloused bodices, above slim skirts. These sum up two important Sondheim silhouettes, beautifully balanced, with that well-put-together look women appreciate.

The street dress and two-piece street suit have their spot in this collection, but both are easily identified from the newer, more versatile approach to fashion.

Feature Silk and Wool

Sondheim features the favorite arrangement of silk and wool as an excellent synonym for spring. Specific occasion fashions include, the pale and very pretty eve dress for luncheon and afternoon, the short dinner dress, (usually with brief sleeves) for spring-and-summer.

Scatterings of sequins add to the glimmer of the thin silk and wide stole that goes with the dress.

Fabrics throughout the Sondheim collection have that fresh, well-put-together look. Thin wools... thinner silks, even cottons are intricately textured, taking to the beautiful manipulation in the designing. As a point of pride, Sondheim's wools, or silk costume suits have a spare, "little" wool blouse, or crisp silk blouse to complete the picture.

One elegant suit, a pale and flattering jacket suit of rich beige silk tussah, shows a gold lining and scooped-neck blouse of black linen.

Favors brief Sleeves

Although necklines are as always, a point of interest throughout this collection, this spring brief sleeves are characteristic of Sondheim's dresses. Sleevelessness, in other words, is exceptional. As for the jackets that slip on over the dresses, soft sleeves bloused or pushed up from the off-shoulder line are the rule. It must be said too, that you will go far, before you find as excellent a collection, as Sondheim for spring 1953.

Claire McCordell's collection richly deserves the applause she is receiving, for her collection is well-turned indeed! Her charmingly contoured neckline, the shoulder sash, the ease which McCordell dresses assume, all combine to keep her an American favorite.

The creamy white through to charcoal grey polished denim only sets her chosen silhouette to greater advantage.

Silhouettes Make News

Both the Modern Josephine and the spring-bell silhouette have climbed the ladder of success since last season's alternate with the Monastic and the Princess sparseness has been lightly tempered with narrow fluting of the fabric, which is an edging that gives a picturesque feeling to cottons.

The coat-and-dress costumes illustrate that collection's many variations all within a slim type. For instance the "ice cream coat" of white denim belted in black, with a matching denim dress and a softly sophisticated halter dress in black wool jersey.

A modern Josephine coat of turquoise fleece, complete with the traditionally high back waist, is lined in the same turquoise colored shag silk, matching dress sashed with an Empire feeling.

Uses Wide Silk Girdles

The introduction of a new McCordell signature is the wide

ing the scene, Fath's new way with pleats, the flattering designs with collars, all combine to make this every inch a well dressed woman's choice.

The Jacques Fath collection designed in America for Joseph Halpert features a consistent use of intricate seam detail, and wedge shaped gores to fill out skirts below smoothed hiplines. White fan gores, flaring folds, and many versions of pleats dominate this interesting collection.

Variety of Cows

Jacques Fath, who likes necklines to be shapely, and maneuverable, comes up with an intriguing variety of cows, wide rolling, and softened drapery wherever possible.

Whitecap collars are a focal point on a group of dresses—called Whitecap, because of the white pique; very effective too! Fath shows a smart group of soignée theare suits that know no season, therefore are all things in fashion to all women.

Black faille, or peau de soie, the jackets are fitted, often with outward curving collars that stand away from the neckline and frame the shoulders.

Skirts are Blade-Thin

The skirts are blade-thin and wrapped, to go with these dramatic suits, and there is a wisp of a black lace blouse.

On the other hand, there is a world round-up of superb fabrics, which make up these beautiful fashions. There are silk-and-wool combined for smooth fabrics, and fine flat tweed, thin airy worsted jersey, called Anglin, paper taffeta, and fine madras striped silk.

This should indeed be a successful season for the team of Fath-Halpert for the collection is excellent.

The whirlpool skirts dominating the scene, Fath's new way with pleats, the flattering designs with collars, all combine to make this every inch a well dressed woman's choice.

The Jacques Fath collection designed in America for Joseph Halpert features a consistent use of intricate seam detail, and wedge shaped gores to fill out skirts below smoothed hiplines. White fan gores, flaring folds, and many versions of pleats dominate this interesting collection.

Variety of Cows

Jacques Fath, who likes necklines to be shapely, and maneuverable, comes up with an intriguing variety of cows, wide rolling, and softened drapery wherever possible.

Whitecap collars are a focal point on a group of dresses—called Whitecap, because of the white pique; very effective too! Fath shows a smart group of soignée theare suits that know no season, therefore are all things in fashion to all women.

Black faille, or peau de soie, the jackets are fitted, often with outward curving collars that stand away from the neckline and frame the shoulders.

Skirts are Blade-Thin

The skirts are blade-thin and wrapped, to go with these dramatic suits, and there is a wisp of a black lace blouse.

On the other hand, there is a world round-up of superb fabrics, which make up these beautiful fashions. There are silk-and-wool combined for smooth fabrics, and fine flat tweed, thin airy worsted jersey, called Anglin, paper taffeta, and fine madras striped silk.

Devils' Win Streak Snapped By Parkers in Heartbreaker

By Fred Runnells

Billed as the top Class A game in the state, 800 fans jammed every nook and corner of Grosse Pointe's TINY gymnasium to see the once beaten Highland Park Polar Bears snap Grosse Pointe's seven game winning streak and drop the Pointers from the ranks of the unbeaten last Friday, January 23.

It was an accidentally tipped rebound of a missed Highland Park foul shot with 45 seconds remaining that handed the Pointers their first loss in eight starts. It also marked the sixth consecutive time a Highland Park team had whipped Grosse Pointe.

The defeat dropped the Blue Devils down to third place in the Border Cities League race behind Highland Park and Fordson, who both have a league record of 4 victories against one loss. The Pointers will have a chance to climb into a three-way tie with these teams when they play their postponed game with Monroe on the Trojans' home court next Friday, January 30.

It was a game of thrills and chills right from the opening whistle and would have been a heartbreaker for either team to lose. Unfortunately it had to be the Blue Devils who felt the sting of defeat when all the BLUE CHIPS were on the line.

Only once during this thriller was the point spread more than four points. The Blue Devils enjoyed a six point advantage and that was at the end of the first period when the Devils held a 16 to 10 margin.

Grosse Pointe missed an excellent chance to take a commanding lead in the first quarter and again in the second period when they had 24 free throw attempts, of which only five were successful. During the same period the Parkers were hitting for a .500 percentage on their foul shots, making 6 of 12. By doing this Highland Park managed to pull within one point of a tie at half time, which found the Devils out in front 23 to 22.

George Duncan Star
The Parker's fabulous Junior George "Baby" Duncan, the boy who has never been on a team beaten by Grosse Pointe since he was a freshman, chalked up 9 of his 16 points in the second half which gave him the individual scoring honors for the night. Fourteen times the game was tied up and 20 times the lead changed hands. The overflow crowd was at a point of hysteria right up to the final whistle.

Goebel Fights to End
Jerry "Bulldog" Goebel kept the Devils in the ball game right up to the heartbreaking end by scoring 11 of his 13 points in the final two periods. Besides being the Devils' high point man, he turned in an almost superhuman effort on defense. This was the main reason the high scoring Parkers were held in check throughout the contest.

Plays Despite Injury
Although the injury was extremely painful, Goebel played like a boy possessed, in an effort to help the Pointers win their eighth start. Up to press time it was not known whether or not Jerry had broken his heel, but if this is the case, Grosse Pointe's chances of being a contender for the Border Cities

Church Loop Teams Face Major Battle

By Fred Runnells

A terrific battle for first place in the Senior Division of the Grosse Pointe Inter-Church Basketball League is in the offing between the Memorial Diesels and the Christ Church Tigers next Saturday, January 31.

Both the Diesels and the Tigers have swept through their first four opponents and the winner of Saturday's contest will become the champion of the first round of play and will automatically qualify for the season championship playoff game at the conclusion of the second round of play, which will end March 7.

Tigers Beat St. James
Last Saturday, January 24, the Tigers whipped the victoryless St. James quintet, 37 to 22, behind the sharpshooting of Bill Leonard, who notched 16 points for the individual scoring honors. Dilloway paced the losers with 10 points for runner-up honors.

The Diesels chalked up their fourth straight victory by subduing the once-beaten Woods Presbyterian squad, 40 to 26. Bruce Chambers and Dick Douglas led the Diesels' attack with 11 points apiece and were forced to be content with runner-up scoring honors behind Dick Miller of the Woods, who registered 14 points for the Presbyterians' losing cause.

Flyers Go Into Tie
The St. Paul Flyers moved into a two-way tie for second place with Woods Presbyterian by squeaking past a winless Methodist quintet, 30 to 25. A couple of Toms, Fredal and Stumb, paced the Flyers with 10 points each, which enabled them to tie Sandy Smith of the Methodist quintet for scoring honors.

The defeat dropped the Methodist Mustangs into a two-way tie with St. James for last place. Neither team has been able to score a victory in the first round of play, all four contests. The first contest next Saturday, January 31, at 9 a. m., when these two teams will meet, will break the tie.

Two-ways second place tie between the St. Paul Flyers and Woods Presbyterian will also go by the boards when these two outfits meet in the 10 a. m. game. In the Junior Division, Coach Randy Fitch engineered his Christ Church Lions to their third consecutive win by beating the St. Paul Midgits. The victory gave the Lions a strangle hold on first place with the Memorial Juniors holding onto second place with a one and one record in two games to date. The Midgits have lost all three games played to date.

Misplaced Credit
Two weeks ago we made a mistake when we were giving credit to those who helped referee the game of January 10. We said Tom Evans officiated but we should have given the credit to Tommy Ireland, who did yeoman service when your reporter was badly in need of help in running the games that day. Sorry we made that mistake Tommy.

Managers Urgently Needed For Little League Teams

By Fred Runnells

Grosse Pointe Farms Little League baseball officials are on the prowl looking for team managers for the four teams that will make up the Farms Little League this coming summer.

Dr. Robert Swanson, chairman of the Team Manager committee, is anxious to hear from any adult who would like to volunteer for one of the jobs, or who knows of a Farms resident who could qualify for the important task of handling one of the teams.

If you believe you have the ability to handle a bunch of boys ranging in age from NINE to TWELVE years old Dr. Swanson would like to hear from you. You can contact Dr. Swanson at TU. 5-3287 or VA. 2-6655.

It is important that all those interested make known their wish to help out as soon as possible because the Farms League has a deadline to meet in filing for its franchise with the home office by April 1, 1953.

Inasmuch as other Pointe communities are trying to organize their own Little League, the Farms officials have decided only residents of the Farms will be acceptable for their teams.

Dr. Swanson points out that it is important that those applying for the jobs have a basic knowledge of the game and know how to teach youngsters GOOD SPORTSMANSHIP which is one of the basic rules of the Little League.

According to information given us at the Little League meeting at the High School, January 13, we understood a youngster would be eligible to play in the league if he didn't reach his thirteenth birthday during the years he wished to play. Also the teams would be composed of five boys 12 years old, five boys 11 years old and five boys 10 years old. We also understood that the team sponsors would be limited to $250 for the team he backed.

President Howarth Gnaul pointed out that a boy would be eligible to play in the Farms Little League if he DID NOT reach his thirteenth birthday before the August 1 deadline. Also nine year old youngsters are eligible to try out for the teams. They will be included in the 10 year old group when the teams are made up.

At a meeting of the league officials, headed by President Howarth Gnaul, Vice-President John Pingel, Secretary Robert Choche and Treasurer Remington J. Purdy, January 21, it was decided a team sponsor would be limited to $300 instead of the

Reserve Five Gets Victory Over Parkers

By Fred Runnells

Grosse Pointe's reserve basketball team squeaked out a thriller over Highland Park, 52 to 51, last Friday, January 23, on the local court for its fifth victory in six starts of the 1952-53 campaign.

Behind the sharpshooting of Mike Rauth, Art Wible and "Big Jim" Mueller, the Reserves worked out a 19 to 7 lead in the first quarter and piled up a 20 point, 33 to 13 bulge at the halftime intermission.

Spectators Happy
Blue Devil spectators, and there were hundreds on hand early, purred like kittens as they cheered their favorite team as it came back for the start of the second half. Everyone figured the game was "in the bag". That is everyone except Highland Park's coach Ed McMullin and his charges.

Playing like so many whirlwinds and paced by Jerry Fields, who entered the game at the start of the third period, the Parkers gradually whittled down the Pointers' commanding lead and by the end of the third stanza trailed by only 12 points.

McHenry Won't Quit
Faced with almost certain defeat Rabon McHenry took matters into his own hands and notched eight points in the last period to put his team one point away from victory with less than a minute left to play.

A successful stall in the last 50 seconds saved the game for the Pointers and it was Jim Russell's two foul shots that gave the Devils a three-point margin in the last 10 seconds. It was a good thing Russell found the range on his foul shots because McHenry hooped a field goal near the end to send chills down every Blue Devil spectator's spine.

Needed Field Goals
The margin of victory came in the field goal department, which saw the Pointers collect 15 baskets from the floor while the Parkers hooped 14. Highland Park was better from the foul line, making 15 of 28 attempts as compared to the Devils' 14 of 27 charity tosses.

The Parkers had one consolation in defeat. Jerry Fields annexed the individual scoring honors with 19 points and what was even more remarkable, he collected all his points in the second half of the contest. His teammate, McHenry, tallied 16 points for runner-up honors.

Wible Leads Devils
Art Wible led the Blue Devils with 14 points and was followed by Mike Rauth and "Big Jim" Mueller with 12 and 13 points respectively.

Coach Bob Kurvink's squad will meet the Monroe Trojans on the downriver court on Friday, January 30, in the game that was postponed because of icy roads on January 9.

Promotion in Korea
James J. Long, whose wife, Florence Ruth, lives at 1772 Anita, was recently promoted to sergeant first class while serving with the 7th Infantry Division.

Long, a mess steward with the 48th Field Artillery Battalion, has been in Korea since last July and wears the Good Conduct Medal.

St. Paul Substitutes Play Big Role Against Cavaliers

By Fred Runnells

The St. Paul Flyers chalked up their sixth league victory last Sunday, January 25, when four substitutes came off the bench in the late stages of the game to salvage a 44 to 41 victory over the St. Ambrose Cavaliers.

Faced with the problem of finding a replacement for his star Glenn Walters, who is nursing a case of chicken pox, Coach Eddie Lauer called up a couple of players from the reserve squad.

Overcome Early Lead
The Flyers managed to overcome an early St. Ambrose first period lead and move into a 12 to 11 advantage going into the second quarter. However, the Cavaliers, attempting to upset their community rivals and challenge their second win in eight starts, battled the Flyers right down to the wire before surrendering the contest in the last minute and a half of play.

Led by Don Frisby, who tied Timmy Champagne for scoring honors with 13 points, the Cavaliers managed to knot the contest at 27-all at the halftime intermission.

A Worried Coach
Going into the third period Coach Lauer was a very worried cage mentor. Two of his first line players, Jim Ayrault and Bob Barrett, had four personal fouls. Ayrault, who had chalked up 10 of the Flyers' 27 points in the first half, left the game on fouls half way through the third period. Two minutes later Barrett fouled out of the game after giving the Flyers a 32 to 30 lead with two minutes left to play in the third stanza.

Two Question Marks
Bob Taylor and Joe Bejin, the two reserve players brought up to replace the ailing Walters, were injected into the St. Paul lineup at this point. Both players were big question marks because neither had had varsity experience and they were going under fire when the chips were down.

The Flyers second place standing in the East Side Parochial League was in jeopardy. Although neither boy was a ball of fire in the scoring department they were pillars of strength on defense, which limited the Cavaliers to a mere 14 points for the last two periods of the contest.

Wright Goes Out
Sophomore star Bob Wright was thumbed from the game early in the fourth quarter on personal fouls and Coach Lauer played ennie meenie miney moe on his bench to find a replacement.

Dick O'Connell finally got the call to join the patched up lineup and no sooner did he get in the game than the referee thumbed Ted Monahan from the contest. With Monahan departing this left Captain Tim Champagne as the only original starter. Bob Keller caught Lauer's eye and he finished out the game which had less than four minutes to go.

Stalling Tactics Used
The last three minutes saw the Flyers resort to stalling tactics to protect their five point lead. This was cut to three points through good foul shooting on the part of the Cavaliers captain, Vince Pellerito, and Don Frisby, who collected the Cavaliers' last six points from the foul line.

So it's hats off to the St. Paul subs who can take credit for victory number seven in the Flyers' 1953 score book.

Runner-up scoring honors were shared by the Cavaliers' Pellerito and the Flyers' Jim Ayrault, who notched 12 points apiece.

The victory enabled St. Paul to remain hot on the heels of the unbeaten St. Florian quintet in the race for the East Side Parochial League title.

Two Teams Tie In St. Paul Loop

The teams captained by Lane Donovan and Louis Reno are tied up for first place in the St. Paul Bowling League. Tom Trombly's aggregation rests in the next spot in the second half of the season's race.

Two Davids, Trombly and Corbett, are tied for the high average over the entire season to date, each boasting 177.

GPHS Natators Score Win Over Highland Park Tankers

Coach Frank Banach's Blue Devil swimming team marked up its fifth victory in seven starts this season when it scored an overwhelming 54 to 30 win over Highland Park in the Polar Bears' home pool last Friday, January 23.

Two pool records were washed from the book as the Devils captured five firsts in the seven individual events and then climaxed the meet with smashing victories in both relays.

Pear's Last Meet
It was Walter Pear's last meet for the Blue and Gold and he made it a memorable one by helping the Devils' 180 yard medley combination of Dan Adamski and Dave Hulbert post a new pool record in this event. The trio negotiated the distance in 1:46.0.

The other record went to Highland Park's Risher in the 100 yard back stroke event. Risher just touched out Adamski who pushed the Parker all the way to the new mark of 1:04.0. Adamski was just seven-tenths of a second behind. It is interesting to note that Adamski's time for this event equaled the Grosse Pointe pool record currently held by Oliver which he set back in 1938.

The 100 yard back stroke mark is the oldest on the Blue Devil record chart. Adamski just missed equalling Oliver's record by two-tenths of a second, when the Pointers entertained Wyandotte a week earlier. Coach Banach figures Dan has an excellent chance to break the local pool standard in one of the three remaining home meets.

Stuart Smith opened the meet with a victory in the 40 yard free style to give the Pointers a 5 to 4 lead. Walter Clarke and Dave Hulbert slammed the second event, the 100 yard breast stroke and Hank Gildner and Sam Johnson did the same in the 200 yard free style to give the Devils a comfortable 21 to 6 lead. Risher then came through with his record breaking performance in the backstroke to give the Parkers the first of their two individual wins.

Pear Wins 100
Walter Pear sandwiched in another first place for the Pointers by taking the 100 yard free style handily and then Rasch collected Highland Park's last first place when he edged Dan Reaume and Skip Clarke in the 120 yard individual medley.

Bruce Crowley took the diving, outpointing the Parkers' duo of Courtney and Gunderson, who finished two-three.

Pat Burke, Bill Morrison, Stu Smith and Hank Gildner teamed up to win the 160 yard speed relay event to end the meet on a winning note for the Pointers.

Devils To Get Rest
The Blue Devils will be out of competition until Tuesday, February 3, when they travel to Ferndale for a non-league affair before tackling the tough Royal Oak outfit the following Friday, February 6.

This is the meet the Blue Devils have been waiting for. They want a chance to avenge the defeat the Acorns handed the Devils December 12. Coach Banach figures the tables should be reversed this time. Royal Oak just barely eked out that first victory by four points in its own pool. The Pointers will have the home pool advantage in the second meeting.

Discarded Cash Produces Panic
A Grosse Pointe Shores resident made a frantic phone call to Shores police early Tuesday morning in an effort to get back $1,500 in cash that had been inadvertently discarded in the rubbish container.

A Shores rubbish truck had already made a pick-up at the home. But the truck, routed through Grosse Pointe Woods, was stopped by Woods police at Littlestone and Mack.

Marched With VMI Corps In Inaugural Parade

Cadet Harold Golla Jr. and Cadet Jerry Bourke were members of the Cadet Corps from Virginia Military Institute that marched in the Inaugural Parade in Washington on January 20. The inaugural committee also announced that the Corps from V.M.I. won third place among the parade's scores of marching units.

In the marching competition V.M.I. placed behind Seattle's Police Drill Team and the Pennsylvania State Police. The "Keydets" from Lexington, Va., placed ahead of the United States Military and Naval Academies, their traditional rivals in old time drill competition.

Cadet Golla is a graduate of Grosse Pointe High School and Cadet Bourke is a graduate of Marmion Military Academy in Illinois.

Kids Have Wonderful Time In Midget Basketball Loop

By Fred Runnells
Grosse Pointe's little kids are having the time of their young lives over at the Neighborhood Club this winter thanks to the unselfish efforts of Will Desrocher, who formed the Midget Basketball League, and George Holley, new Neighborhood Club athletic director, who is handling the games every Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday.

Eighty kids representing the Grosse Pointe Lions, Rotary, Optimists, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post 303, Metropolitan Club and the Grosse Pointe Businessmen's Association are waging an all-out battle for the huge perpetual Neighborhood Club Midget League trophy which will be presented at a dinner at the club at the end of the season.

To date the league has been in operation six weeks and the Lions quintet is the only team with a perfect record. They kept this perfect string intact last Tuesday, Jan. 20, when they dumped the Metropolitan Club in a 13 to 11 thriller. The defeat dropped the Metro team into a two-way tie with the V.F.W. squad that swamped the Kiwanis quintet, 38 to 12, on Wednesday, Jan. 21. Both have four wins and one defeat.

On Monday, Jan. 19, the Grosse Pointe Businessmen's team tripped up Post 303, 17 to 12, to take over third place all alone, the loss dropped Post 303 down to fourth place.

The most recent contest, Friday, Jan. 23, saw the Rotary quintet climb out of the cellar with a thorough pasting of the Optimist team, 39 to 2. Dick Grow and Charles Begg each scored a free throw to avert the whitewash.

All but the Tuesday games are played after school at the Neighborhood Club at 4 p.m. The Tuesday games are played at the elementary at 6:30 p.m., to the older league.

The teams are coached by interested parents of the youngsters and it is amazing the co-operation Athletic Director Holley is getting from the parents. Bill and Dick Elworthy are handling the Post 303 team, Foster Mauck coaches the Grosse Pointe Businessmen's representative, Bill Beckenhauer manages the Kiwanis quintet, Doug Drake has charge of the V.F.W. team, Andy Teetart manipulates the antics of the Metro Club team and Robert Wright pilots the Lions squad. Only the Optimists and the Rotary teams are without a coach and both teams are looking for some dad to step in and take over the chore. If you're interested call George Holley at the club.

Each organization has donated 70 bucks towards outfitting the teams with dandy uniforms and when you see those little kids' faces light up when their coach hands out the uniforms before each game you just know every penny donated to the league was well spent.

Oh sure, we know, the kids don't play like pros but the spirit is there and they are getting valuable experience in an organized league and more important they are learning team play and GOOD SPORTSMANSHIP.

From this corner we would like to toss a big bouquet of roses to those organizations who so generously donated the money to finance the new league. Your money is being well spent in providing good wholesome competition for Pointe youngsters throughout the long winter months.

Also to the parents who spent their time with the kids either in a coaching capacity or just being on hand to cheer their efforts we would like to toss a hat full of orchids. It's true the kids would get just as big a kick out of playing in the league before empty stands but your presence at the games helps spur them on to greater efforts as they attempt to subdue their rivals who stand in their way to the League title.

This week has been exam week at D.U.S. and marks the end of the first semester. The Student Council Dance is to be held this Friday evening at D.U.S. in the gym. The committee in charge of the affair consists of David Wark, Nick Boos, and Gordon Birgauer. Sandy Forsyth's hand will provide the music.

St. Joan Court Teams Win Trio

Grade school basketball teams of St. Joan of Arc tossed their weight around a bit last week in the C.Y.O. League by scoring victories in three divisions.

On Thursday, January 22, the sixth grade team swamped Assumption Grotto, 28 to 9, with some plain and fancy ball handling that completely dazzled the visitors.

That same night the eighth grade team squeaked out a thrilling 24 to 23 win over the eighth grade team from Assumption.

The St. Joan of Arc girls, not to be outdone by the boys, handed a sextet from St. Matthews a 14 to 9 setback on Saturday, January 24.

The slogan at the school on Mack in St. Clair Shores, is "Watch St. Joan of Arc This Year" and with three victories in one week maybe this is the year St. Joan of Arc come into its own in the field of sports.

Youth Ticketed For Running Sign
Farms police arrested 19-year-old Ronald W. Kuzles, of 14467 Wilfred, Detroit, after he ran the stop street at Fisher and Chalfonte, January 25.

Investigation disclosed that Kuzles had been using the driver's license belonging to a passenger in the car, William C. Kohler, 18, of 5958 Manistique, Detroit. His license had been revoked by Detroit authorities in October of 1952.

Both youths were ticketed and released.

Each of the members was responsible for part of the program. Wings were pinned on by the retiring leaders, Mrs. Gilbert Butler and Mrs. Frank Yates.

The Girl Scout pins were presented by the new leaders, Mrs. Charles Hibbard and Mrs. Donald Addy, to the following girls: Donna Addy, Gay Bacon, Beverly Bliss, Judy Hattner, Mary Jo Hibbard, Tanis Jacobs, Susan Kleinschmidt, Robyn Redfield, Wilma Scheiber, Gail Schollenberger, Margaret Sinclair, Alison Taylor, and Marilyn Taylor.

The program was attended by their families and friends, and by Brownie Troops 777 and 1047. Following the ceremony refreshments of punch, cup cakes, and cookies were served.

PARENTS PROBLEM
Parents cannot teach children what they themselves do not know—another reason why so many children grow up without proper instruction.

Money is not a problem—as long as you don't have it. A man with a long face can't be very broadminded.

Didjuno: That Mrs. Frederick M. Alger Jr. speaks three languages?

That when former Pointer, Mrs. Edmund Anderson (Gwen Seyburn) and Mrs. John de Braganza (Peggy Seyburn) were debs, deep in love with Italy, they adored conversing in Italian.

Now take a deep breath. The Grosse Pointe Hunt Club already has three parties on the books for NEXT December.

Mrs. M. Robert Olp has all her next year's Christmas shopping done and now is steeling herself against impulses to send 'em as Valentines!

Ted Held Sr.'s hobby is cooking. He things nothing of dashing off five apple pies, delivering them warm and wonderful to the tables of his son and daughter.

No fair weather friend is Marie Sanger. She's w-i-n-t-e-r-i-n-g at Mackinac Island!

Co-signer: A fool with a fountain pen.

100 Whist Fans At Club Party

Proof that the unique card game, Court Whist, is still popular among fans of the "pasteboards" was revealed recently when more than 100 guests and members of the Grosse Pointe Newcomers Club attended the organization's Court Whist Party, at Miller Hall, Christ Church, Friday night, Jan. 23.

The highlight of the affair came when program arrangements committee members led by the chairman, Mr. and Mrs. William Sedam, served the members and guests pizza pies. The "waiters" were dressed in the costume of chefs of the famous New York hotel—the Waldorf-Astoria.

New residents of the Grosse Pointe area who attended their first Newcomers Club affair were: Mr. and Mrs. Royal Dean of McMillan avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bailey of St. Paul avenue. Mr. and Mrs. K. S. Hattiger of Whittier road. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Pattee of Nottingham road. Mr. and Mrs. James Ely of Ridgemoor road. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Greenholt of Country Club road.

Kid Bits

By Nancy MacDonald

Friday, the last one of the semester, was also the night of the all-important Highland Park game. The gym, as usual was packed. Some of the kids who turned out for this exciting but somewhat disappointing game were Lee Johnson, Hal Bay, Janie Thompson, Tom Richards, Guy deBoer, Nancy Briar, Judy Goodnow, Diane Quinlan, Jean Leete, Barb Burger, Karen Jacob, Johnny Ault, Carol Cumberworth, Sally Tripp, and Bob Prince.

After the game, Anie Orebaugh had some kids over to eat, play records, and talk. Some of the kids seen "talking up a storm" were Judy Wilson, Sue Squire, Sylvia Reiter, Jack Rohloff, John Silvestri, Jack Smith, Reese MacFarlane, Pat Nelson, Donna Smith, Coby Martin, Liz Mitchell, Pete Burger, Jerry Handlon, Marty Potter, Randy Firch, and Dave Belfore.

After that, Mercedes Marco also had a few girls over for the night. Some of the kids were Betty Sykes, Mary Dahlen, Sally Sharrer, Janet Ewart, Penny Schneider, Joan Connell, Nancy Wycoff, Carol Vollmer, and Sandy Dickey.

Last Friday night after the game lots of the fellows went over to the War Memorial where a stag party was in session. Here they had fun raiding the icebox for oranges, milk, cake and cookies. Just a few of the kids there were Bill Brabb, Wayne Miller, Don McCarthy, Dave McKee, Dave Terris, Kurt Ewend, Al Forester, Norm Carstens, Dick McKenney, Hal Drinkhaus, and Miller Foster.

Shirley and Jané Pressel were co-hostesses Saturday, January 24 at an open house given in Mrs. Myrtle Wagner's honor. Mrs. Wagner, a biology teacher at Grosse Pointe High, is retiring at the end of this semester to live out west. Conservation Club members and former biology students were among those who presented Mrs. Wagner with a going away gift Saturday. Some of them were Meridith Miller, Janie Harper, Joe Braden, Jim Owens, Stark Langs, Judy MacDonald, Liz Henderson, Carol deKroese, Helen Eshelman, Meg Morang, Mary Shenefield, and Mary Lou Hornberger.

"Pajama Top Hop" was the name of the new and different dance at the War Memorial Center last Saturday night. As the name implied, each couple came garbed in his or her favorite pajama top. The idea went over big with Carol Parnell and Ted Johnson, Dianne Quinlan and Phil Beach, Pat Smith and Jay Newberry, Donna Goodnow and Jim Eltringham, Barbie Combe and Dick Hornick, Barb Lowe and Bob Warner, Ann Leete and Skip Clark, Ginny Halbrook and John Corey, Barb Marco and Terry Snowday, Frances Butterfield and Bill Turner, Audrey Gaver and Bill Touse, Robin Barr and Dave Bouise, Jo Garber and Larry Scoville, Sue Simon and Bob Richards, Janet Roberts and Dick Naragon, and Jane Thompson and Bruce Crowley.

The Pointe Player's Semester banquet was held Monday, January 26, at the home of Delphine Walgenbach. A pot-luck dinner was enjoyed at Delphine's by Pointe Players like Jay Newberry, Phil Beach, Jane Condon, Ginny Halbrook, Mary Dahlen, Bruce Jaquish, Betty Sykes, Carol Vestal, Liz Mitchell, Mary Sue Morgan, Bob Richardson, and many more. Highlights of the evening was the formal turning over by the old officers to the incoming ones.

Mothers' Club Plans Reception

The Mothers' Club of the Grosse Pointe High School will hold a reception for the graduating students and their parents in the girls' gymnasium after the graduation exercises, Thursday evening, January 29.

Mrs. David C. Lowe, social chairman, and her committee are planning an academic theme for the reception, using the school colors of blue and gold. 12B mothers are furnishing the cookies.

Assisting Mrs. Lowe are the following committee members: Mrs. C. Bryant, Mrs. Jerome Conway, Mrs. J. P. Giroux and Mrs. R. E. Venderbush.

COMMODORE ANTHONY R. MOTSCHALL
OF THE GROSSE POINTE YACHT CLUB

By Marion Holden Bemis

Back in the Twenties when Tony (Anthony R.) Motschall fell in love with "Oriflamme," he could not possibly have foreseen where this early affair with a cruiser would land him. On January 13, his 47th birthday, he was named Commodore of the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club.

Oriflamme was the property of Mrs. Warren Packard, who had lost interest in her, and had let her fall into disrepair. Tony Motschall chartered her for two years, renewed her pride with paint and brass polish and new furnishings, cruised the river and lakes with her, learning navigation as he cruised.

"I did things with boats then, that I certainly wouldn't attempt now," he recalls. "Though 50 feet long, Oriflamme was only nine feet wide, a popular type of the time. When Gar Wood won The Harmsworth it was held on Lake St. Clair. I started from the foot of Woodward avenue with 15 men aboard, all feeling unusually happy to say the least, and the ride up the river into the lake was like navigating Times Square at rush traffic hour, so many boats were tossing and pitching in the river, and it was even worse in the waves of the lake. It could never happen again, but it was definitely exciting while it lasted."

Motschall has always been what irreverent sailors call a "stink boat" owner, and now cruises the lakes in his 34-foot Chris Craft sedan.

"I like the sedan type of boat," he said, "because the lounge and the cockpit are all of a piece, and if you are your own navigator, as I am, you can steer and be with your guests at the same time. My boat is called 'Cissie' after my 12-year-old daughter, Clarissa Anne, a good girl."

Motschall's love of boats has of course been passed on to his three sons, Francis, 18, who attends school at the Gilmore Academy in Gates Mills, O., and Billy, who sometimes brings a worry wrinkle to their father's smooth brow by the speed they take on with their Thompson racing boat and its Johnson 25 outboard motor. Charming Mrs. Motschall enjoys cruising but hasn't yet attempted to run any of the family boats herself.

(The Motschalls, incidentally, are what might be called a "twin-ie" family. Mr. Motschall has a twin sister, Antoinette; Mrs. Motschall's twin sister is Mrs. Ralph Leshner—eaten the nurse they had when their twins, Tony and Billy, were born is a twin.)

The Motschalls' low-lying provincial house was built four years ago on the lake shore, the distance of a very short block from the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club. The attractive home, all on one floor, was carefully planned by Ian Dize for its setting, as well as for the fact that it is built on filled land, which Mr. Motschall filled and re-filled before the house went up. "Four years old, and not a crack in it!" Mr. Motschall exclaims proudly, glancing at the solid floors and the firm white walls with their beautiful hand-rubbed oak mouldings.

It's only 16 days till February 14. What better Valentine, than your own portrait for someone you love. Don't be bashful. Let's face it: somebody must love you. Your mother would appreciate your picture.

Congratulations are in order to the planners, builders, and staff of the beautiful new Grosse Pointe Library. Chalk up one more great feature for Grosse Pointe.

I like the way one of our local disk jockeys signs off with, "Don't drive too fast. It's better to be late, Mr. Motorist, than to be, the Late Mr. Motorist."

This kind of copy is fun to write. It's like a railroad switch engine; doesn't have to stay on one track too long.
