THE SECOND UNITED STATES PROTEST note to Red China for the death of three American citizens shot down a month ago aboard a British airliner was rejected, according to reports from the British embassy received by the State Department. The note which the Chinese rejected demanded compensation and assurance against further attacks on commercial transports. It was delivered to the Red regime in Peking by a British courier.

The airliner for which the U.S. is demanding compensation was shot down off Hainan Island in the South China Sea by Red China fighters. A few days later, U.S. "mercy mission" planes searching for survivors were attacked and two of the attackers were shot down by the American pilots.

ANOTHER CASE of border-hopping was reported when a Russian soldier loaded down with guns and maps fled into Iran. It was also revealed that Russia offered 50 Iranian prisoners for the return of the soldier. Foreign ministry sources declined to name the escapee.

One ministry source did say that the soldier was considered a political refugee and probably would not be returned to Russia. The source added that he would be brought to Tehran for questioning sometime in the near future.

The Iranian incident came on the heels of a similar occurrence in West Berlin. A West German intelligence agent, linked closely with Dr. Otto John, high West German official who recently fled to Red East Berlin, was reported missing, presumably having disappeared into the Russian zone. One West Berlin paper reported that he fled with important information.

A SINGLE SPORTING EVENT took over the front pages of the dailies throughout the country as two men, Dr. Roger Bannister of England and John Landy of Australia met in the British Empire Games in Vancouver. Heralded as the "mile of the century", both men broke the magic four minute barrier with Bannister winning by a convincing seven yards in the near record time of 3:58.8.

The race lived up to all expectations as Landy, leading most of the way, was bested in a tremendous home-stretch burst by the fleetfooted doctor from England. It was the first time two men broke the four minute mile in the same race.

THE STOCK MARKET took a backward slide as a result of the heavy selling of Chrysler Corp. stock. The recession, long overdue according to analysts, came as a result of a halving of the Chrysler stock dividends by the Chrysler board. The stock skidded $5.75 a share to $59.12 and caused heavy selling in other commodities.

The Associated Press 60-stock average was off $2.10 in trading that totaled 3,350,000 shares. At closing time a few of the commodities had come back briskly and regained the one to two dollar losses.

THE WORLD OF INDUSTRY and finance continued its erratic way as the Studebaker Corporation stole the headlines with an ultimatum to the UAW-CIO "Cut pay, or close". The ultimatum came as a 60-day contract termination notice after Local 5 of the UAW-CIO rejected the management's 15 percent pay cut proposal. If the union does not accept the ultimatum, 11,000 workers will be jobless.

Officials for Studebaker said the pay cut was necessary to put the company in a better competitive position. "Studebaker cannot continue to operate except under labor conditions which make its labor costs competitive with major producers in the automobile industry," spokesmen said.

THE STATE DEPARTMENT charged the Communists with trying to promote anarchy, confusion and sabotage in the Western Hemisphere with the sole purpose of diverting U. S. attention.

City Reports Additions to Parking Area

More Space Being Provided In Number of Congested Areas In Business Section

Further progress in the big off-street parking program which has been one of the chief concerns of the City of Grosse Pointe for a number of years, has been reported by City Clerk Norbert Neff.

A house that stood at 679 St. Clair avenue for 50 years, was recently acquired by the City and was moved this week. It was sold to a house moving concern and is being moved to Warren Township.

For Employees' Cars
The property will be improved for parking as quickly as possible and will provide space for about 50 more cars. It is expected to be used mostly for cars of employees of the business establishments of that area.

The City is also negotiating with the Veterans of Foreign Wars for the leasing of about 200 feet in the rear of that organization's clubhouse at 1745 St. Paul avenue. This would also be improved and incorporated.

Good Catches Encouraging Many Youngsters to Enter Fish Rodeo Preliminaries

Final Event Being Participated In Simultaneously By 814 Municipalities On Saturday, August 28

Grosse Pointe's young fishermen are exhibiting keen interest in the Pre-Rodeo Fishing Contest which is now in full swing and the competition is sharp.

This Pre-Rodeo contest, which is held as a warm-up to the final Rodeo to be held August 28, is open to all boys and girls under the age of 17, residing in Grosse Pointe Park, the City, and the Farms.

This is the fourth year these

Farms Explains Water Situation

The City of Grosse Pointe Farms has authorized a paid advertisement in this issue, to explain to residents what has caused the water shortage during dry periods.

Residents of the Farms, City and a portion of the Shores get their water through the Farms pumping system.

A complete picture of the situation is contained in this advertisement, which will be found on Page 11.

Suspect in Jewel Robbery Caught After Shoplifting

Rich Beemer, the City's "part-time cop" (he spends the winter months studying how to be one at M.S.C.), proved that he learns his lessons well as he single-handedly apprehended a shoplifter and chief suspect in a $5,000 Roseville jewel theft, in "The Village" last Thursday, August 5.

The thief was pointed out to Beemer by a shopper as he fled with two other men from Kopp's. One of the men had a clock in his possession.

Beemer sprinted after them and finally caught one after a chase that led the length of the block and around to the rear parking area. His two accomplices evaded the police.

The captured thief was questioned by both the City police and the Farms concerning the recent Pongracz robbery. Although he does not fit the Pongracz description, he does fit the description of the man who robbed a Roseville jewelry store of $5,000 in merchandise last month. He has a record of 35 arrests. He would not reveal who his accomplices were, but it is believed that they are the same group responsible for the Pongracz theft, although the Farms is convinced he is linked to the man or gang responsible.

After the Farms interrogation, the City turned him over to Roseville. He was later released on bond to the City pending further questioning and disposition of the Kopp's shop lifting charge.

Three New Polio Cases Reported

Three new cases of infantile paralysis were reported in the Grosse Pointe area so far in the month of August, boosting the total to 15 this season in the Pointe-Harper Woods Health District.

The three cases included one each in the Park, Farms and Woods. No new cases have been reported in Harper Woods, last year's critical area. Two of these cases were reported on the same day, Monday, August 9.

So far this year there have been no deaths due to the dread crippling.

Up to this time last year there had been only five cases reported. The first case of last season was reported on July 28, from Harper Woods. This year the first case was reported as early as April, which is very unusual.

259 Permits Issued for New Homes

Pointe Area Enjoying Building Boom That Is Prevalent In Metropolitan District

Residential building as indicated by building permits issued, is running at the highest rate since 1950, according to William P. Edmonson, assistant director of the Detroit Metropolitan Area Regional Planning Commission.

In the Detroit Region—covering all of Wayne, Oakland and Macomb Counties and the four eastern townships of Washtenaw County—building permits for a total of 19,385 new dwelling units were issued during the first six months of 1954. The record total in 1950 was 23,170. In 1953, the six-month figure was only 18,477.

Demand Is Strong
"This high residential building rate," said Edmonson, "indicates that housing demand continues strong and that decline in employment in the Region seems to have made little impression on home building."

"It is significant to note," he added, "that though residential building permits in Oakland and Macomb Counties topped the

Metro Club Party Set for Saturday

Metropolitan Club members are busy as bird dogs this week putting the last touches on their 16th Annual Children's Field Day to be held at the Neighborhood Club this Saturday, August 14.

The rides, activities, games and refreshments have been lined up and all that's left to do is get them set up and the field ready for the gala affair.

Publicity Chairman, Bob VanTiem promises that every effort is being made to make this year's outing the best ever. "Everything from the prizes to the rides are aimed at outdoing our previous efforts," VanTiem said.

As in the past, all is free and only a park permit is needed for admittance. The prizes this year include bicycles, radios, fishing equipment and wrist watches. All Points youngsters up to 17 years old are invited to attend.

Park to Proceed Towards Acquiring Big Parking Space

Starts Negotiating For Lots Opposite Lakefront Recreation Area, Contingent On Detroit Plan Commission Decision

The tentative parking area development for the Park pier was given the go-ahead Monday, August 9, when the Park council voted unanimously to start negotiations for the four lots at the corner of Windmill Pointe drive and Alter road.

The lots, estimated to sell as a bundle for around $20,000, will be negotiated for immediately with contingencies part of the contract pending a decision of the Detroit Planning Commission and permission of the neighboring residents.

Take Attorney's Advice
The council, which first thought a short term option on the property would suffice until the final decision of the Detroit Planning Commission on zoning changes was rendered, heeded the advice of City Attorney Pierre Heffler that a full contract for the land could be consummated pending contingencies set by the council.

The council, hesitant to obtain the land until sure that the necessary rezoning of the lots that lie part in the Park and part in Detroit is O.K'd was, on the other hand, also anxious to alleviate the congested parking conditions now present due to the lack of necessary parking facilities in the Park proper.

Before the proposal to enter the contract under contingencies was aired, they openly expressed a strong desire to remedy the situation as quickly as possible. They do not expect an unfavorable decision from Detroit.

Need Residents' Approval
The other contingency concerns the existing ordinance and approval of the surrounding residents. The ordinance stipulates the neighborhood is residential. A waiver of the ordinance by the bordering residents would be in order and the council expects that this could be obtained on the strength of existing sentiment against the present parking conditions and the proposed terrace on the lots.

The council also voted to allot an additional $9,000 to the pier construction due to unforeseeable construction complications. City Manager Everett Lane pointed out that this did not go over the budget allotment for the construction because the bid was far below the estimate.

Two Parked Cars Figure in Crash

Alfred Welch of 607 Middlesex was ticketed for reckless driving and released on $100 bond on Saturday, August 7, when his car got out of control and caused a three car collision.

Welch was driving north on Lakepointe when he lost control and plowed into an auto parked on the opposite side of the street in front of the residence at 877. The impact of the collision drove the parked car across the street and into the side of another parked car.

The first parked car to be hit belonged to I. W. Drinkaus of 877 Lakepointe and the second to Cyril Marchand of 882 Lakepointe.

Fire Ravages Specialties Shop in Park

Four Detroit Companies And Emergency Squads Help Battle $18,000 Blaze

A two-alarm fire ravaged the Purna Party Time food specialties shop at 15000 Mack avenue, the corner of Wayburn, last Tuesday, August 3, causing damage estimated by reliable sources at close to $18,000.

The fire, described by Park Fire Chief George deCaussin as the "worst since the Al Green blaze five years ago," broke out in the shop's basement storeroom sometime around 8 p.m. and was not discovered by the owner of the store, Anthony Purna, until 9:05 p.m., when the lights in the store went out. The blaze was believed to be caused by faulty wiring in the fuse box.

Detroit Sends Help
The fire was battled by the Park fire department, Detroit Engine Companies 38, 45 and 52, Ladder Company 31, and Emergency Squad 8. After the fire was under control, Squad 6 was relieved by Squad 3.

Shortly after the first truck arrived, the store's floor caved in and the firemen had to wage a two hour battle to confine the flames to the basement and first floor areas. The fire was pronounced under control at 11 o'clock.

All of Purna's first floor equipment, just recently refurbished, fell with the floor and was destroyed along with the stock in the basement. No flame damage was done above the second floor.

Very Well Confined
The fire was believed to have started more than an hour before.

Reward Offered To Trap Vandals

Owners of a swimming pool in Grosse Pointe Farms are so incensed over an act of vandalism that they have offered a $50 reward for information leading to the positive identification of the party or parties responsible.

A very valuable antique urn was found, smashed to bits, in the bottom of the pool last Thursday morning, August 5.

A public notice on the classified page of this issue announces the reward offer. Any information should be addressed to Box 500, Grosse Pointe News, 99 Kercheval.

At Least Six In Shores
Superintendent Thomas K. Jeffers of the Shores reports that the state was very prompt in making its official report on the survey taken there. There were three diseased trees found along the streets, one on the municipal grounds and two on private property. All of these have been removed.

Mr. Jeffers states that he has spotted several trees since the survey was taken, which he suspects are infected. Samples have been sent to Lansing and if the reports come back positive, these other trees will also be removed.

All trees in the Shores have received their second spraying. There were five cases found in that village last year.

Park Hit Hardest
The Park, the most badly infected of all the Pointes, had 56 samples sent to Lansing as a result of the state survey. It is known that at least 33 of these trees are definitely diseased and these are being removed or have already been cut down. Reports on the other 23 have not yet been received.

At Least 120 Trees Killed In 5 Pointes

Reports From Lansing May Show Many Others To Be Infected; Sprays Being Used

The battle against the dreaded Dutch Elm disease which threatens to destroy many of the beautiful shade trees is being waged again this year through many sections of the country. The Pointe area reports results that are probably more satisfactory than those coming in from many other places, but vigilance against any spreading of the killer is not being relaxed.

The state conducted a survey of all elms in the Pointe last month with the cooperation of the various municipalities. All of the reports have not yet come back from Lansing, but the number of suspected samples taken give a fairly accurate indication of the extent of the disease here.

Increase In Woods
Grosse Pointe Woods, which last year had the greatest number of cases, 39, has received its official report from the state. To date 40 positive cases have been found on private property and 13 on city-owned property. All of the diseased trees have been removed. Last year there were 11 cases discovered on city-owned property.

Albert Hershberger, assistant superintendent of highways for the Woods, reports that the second spraying of all elms in the city is now about completed. The first complete spraying was done in April.

25 Found In Farms
The Farms has not yet received its official report from Lansing, but City Engineer Murray M. Smith and Clerk Harry Furton state they are sure that all the samples taken from the 25 suspected trees will prove to be positive. There were 21 cases in the Farms last year.

Last year the Farms sprayed all trees in the city in April and administered a second spraying later in the summer within a quarter mile radius of every tree found infected. This year all the elms in the city are being given a second spraying as an extra precaution. All diseased trees are being removed.

City Very Encouraged
Norbert Neff, clerk of the City of Grosse Pointe, reports that they are very encouraged there and believe they have the disease well under control. This year's survey has disclosed but three diseased trees as compared to 15 found last year. All of the infected trees have been removed.

Two of the City employees worked with the state representatives on the survey. The City has spent between 8 and 12 thousand dollars per year on its battle against the disease.

At Least Six In Shores
Superintendent Thomas K. Jeffers of the Shores reports that the state was very prompt in making its official report on the survey taken there. There were three diseased trees found along the streets, one on the municipal grounds and two on private property. All of these have been removed.

Mr. Jeffers states that he has spotted several trees since the survey was taken, which he suspects are infected. Samples have been sent to Lansing and if the reports come back positive, these other trees will also be removed.

All trees in the Shores have received their second spraying. There were five cases found in that village last year.

Park Hit Hardest
The Park, the most badly infected of all the Pointes, had 56 samples sent to Lansing as a result of the state survey. It is known that at least 33 of these trees are definitely diseased and these are being removed or have already been cut down. Reports on the other 23 have not yet been received.

Park Manager Everett B. Lane stated that last year 15 samples were sent to Lansing and only 12 of them were positive.

These figures make a total of 120 trees infected in the five Pointes so far this year, with another 23 in the Park which may have the disease. The total number of cases in all the Pointes last year was 82, all of which were removed.

Have Other Troubles
In addition to the Dutch Elm disease, it is reported the county into the off-street parking program. It would provide for long-term parking for many other employees of the business places.

It is also reported that the City will take over the big, improved lot in the rear of Jacobson's Home Decorative Shop on the north side of Kercheval between St. Clair and Neff. This lot will handle between 70 and 80 cars.
Rank Lot Progressing
Following a public hearing held several weeks ago in the Neighborhood Club, the City Council approved changing zoning restrictions to allow the Grosse Pointe Bank to improve a big parking area at E. Jefferson and University place.

Several old garages in the rear of the property next to the bank, owned by Dr. J. Stewart Hudson, have already been removed and space has been provided to take care of the cars of the bank employees. The rest of the area will be improved as fast as possible, which is expected to relieve a lot of the congestion caused by street parking in that area.

Fish Rodeo

young contestants. John Cousins, superintendent of the City's park, says that both girl and boy contestants have made some very good black bass and walleye catches at the City park. He also states that entries are coming in much more rapidly than last year.
Henry Collins of the Farms says there is an unusually large number of young fishermen at the Farms pier this year. Fishing facilities at the City and the Park piers are handicapped, due to the pier construction work now in progress.

Bass Gives Battle
Ronnie Palazzolo of 1149 Lakepointe, who is one of the Park's enthusiastic young fishermen, has entered a nice black bass which gave him quite a battle.

Bill Thomas of 900 Notre Dame was the first in the City to enter a sheephead, a 16 inch. This was almost immediately topped by Jim Bliss of 884 St. Clair, who entered one measuring 16 and a half inches. This latter catch was then quickly followed and beaten by a 19 and a half inch sheephead landed after quite a struggle by Philip Stephens of 643 Notre Dame.

Carol Lands Catfish
Jay Bocci of 470 Bournemouth in the Farms, entered a 16 and a quarter inch sheephead, and a pretty little girl fisherman, Carol Johnson, of 163 Muir Road, entered a 17 and a half inch catfish which put up quite a fight. Jerry Furton of 381 Kerby Road, caught and entered a 15 and a half inch silver bass, which is exceptionally large for this species of fish.

Eligible children who have not as yet registered, are urged to do so and get in the contests. The prizes to be awarded the winners are valuable pieces of fishing equipment, the same as used by expert fishermen.

Dutch Elm

is having some trouble with other trees and shrubs in the islands and borders of Lake Shore road. A number of red maples in the island in the 700 section may be infected, but the unusually dry weather has caused many trees to discolor early, and these may not be dying.
Many of the flowering shrubs along the Lake Shore have also been looking very sickly. There are several theories, among them that the great amount of salt spread on the street during icy weather and plowed up with the snow onto the islands, might be killing the shrubbery.

County on Guard
The county is keeping a close watch on the situation and every effort is being made to protect the trees and shrubs which add so much to this lovely thoroughfare.

Local officials report that Toledo has lost 5,000 trees to the Dutch Elm disease. Belle Isle has been badly hit by this killer, as have many sections of Detroit, Birmingham-Bloomfield and other out-county areas.

More Dog Bites Than Diseases

Animal bites outnumbered communicable disease cases in the Grosse Pointe-Harper Woods Health district during the month of July, it is revealed in the report of Dr. Thomas Davies, Health Commissioner.

There were 30 animal bites reported as follows: Park 10, City 3, Farms 3, Woods 8, Harper Woods 6.
Measles dominated the disease cases, being distributed as follows: Park 3, City 5, Farms 1, Woods 9, Shores 1, Harper Woods 2.

Two cases of chicken pox were reported, one each in the Farms and Harper Woods.

Seven cases of polio were reported, three in the Farms and four in Harper Woods.
One case of whooping cough was reported in Harper Woods.

Fire in Park

fore the alarm was turned in. "It was amazing how well the fire was put out. Had it been discovered earlier it would have been nothing more than a routine blaze," deCaussin said. "Purina was in the store all the time the fire raged in the basement and was waiting on a customer when the lights failed and he discovered the smoke."

He phoned the Park Fire Department, while in the meantime a passerby, turned in another alarm to the Detroit station. The two arrived almost simultaneously. "Although it was an oversight on the part of the passerby in a moment of excitement, it was just as well because we would have had to call them anyway," deCaussin said.

Both Luck and Skill
DeCaussin went on to say that a combination of luck and good fire fighting held the blaze to the lower portions of the building allowing only slight smoke damage to the upstairs apartments and the neighboring stores. "After that floor went, I had my doubts on how successful we would be, but the boys did a marvelous job."

W. A. McGraw, owner of the building, was also fast to commend the firemen on their handling of the blaze. McGraw is the son of a former Detroit Fire Chief.

Robert Nixon Honored By Cost Accountants

Robert J. Nixon, 80 Merriweather road, has been elected an associate director of the National Association of Cost Accountants, Detroit Chapter.

Mr. Nixon is a graduate of the University of Illinois and a member of the Michigan Association of CPAs and American Institute of Accountants. He previously was with Ernst & Ernst in Chicago and is now vice-president and treasurer of Motor Products Corporation.

LOST MILEAGE

Those who fall by the wayside in the race of life don't even get paid for the mileage they've earned.

New Homes

1953 figures during the first half of 1954, in Wayne County there was a 1954 drop of slightly over 1,000. Macomb registered a gain of 373 additional units over 1953, and Oakland County showed an increase of 1,524.

Dropped in June
Monthly building permits for new dwelling units in the Detroit Region mounted steadily from January to May, then dropped off in June this year. The same condition held true in Wayne and Oakland Counties. But in Macomb County there was a consistent increase month by month for the entire six months.

Permits for 259 new homes were issued in the five points during the first six months of the year. These were distributed as follows: City 8, Farms 40, Park 38, Shores 29, and Woods 144.

Other Cities Boom
There were 142 permits for new homes issued in Harper Woods.

St. Clair Shores, the community issuing the third highest number of residential permits for the entire district during this period, reported 1,341. Only Redford Township with 1,519, and the City of Detroit with 1,708, issued more home permits during the six months period.

Rotarians Hear Football Talks

Football held the limelight at the regular meeting of the Grosse Pointe Rotary Club in the War Memorial Center on Monday, August 9.

Chuck Hanneman, former Detroit Lions Center, and Vince Banonis, who has held down the same position in recent years, were the speakers. They were introduced by Tommy Emmet, Detroit Rotarian.

PASSING THE BUCK
The popular opinion seems to be that economy begins at somebody else's home.

CHARITY LACKING

Thurber Named To Commission

Governor Williams last week named Donald M. D. Thurber of Grosse Pointe to the Michigan Crippled Children Commission for a term which expires March 23, 1956. Thurber, who lives at 798 Neff road, will succeed Mrs. Lorraine M. Doyle of Bay City, whose term expired.

At the same time, the Governor announced the re-appointment of Mrs. Anne Garrison of Franklin to the Crippled Children Commission.

Thurber has been a resident of Grosse Pointe since 1928. He is acting president of Michigan Rotary Press, Inc., in which he was associated with the late Blair Moody. He is secretary of the Board of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association, trustee of Alexander Blain Hospital, and a member of the board of directors of the Detroit Grand Opera Association.

He is third vice-president of the Detroit Urban League and a member of the Detroit Mayor's Committee on the Rehabilitation of Narcotic Addicts.

Thurber served the administration of Governor Williams for two and a half years as the director of a special study commission inquiring into the problem of sex crimes in Michigan. The study resulted in new legislation designed to deal with sex offenders.

For seven years he has been associated with the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, serving as state representative and later as secretary of the Wayne County chapter of the Foundation.

Residents Asked To Join Rat War

The Grosse Pointe Property Owners Association recently urged the City Council to intensify their campaign against rats which have for some time been the concern of residents in the area of Neff road and Kercheval.

The Association's executive secretary is continuing discussions with the Board of Health and City authorities as to the best method of eliminating these dangerous rodents. Special attention has been paid to old buildings which have openings in the foundations suitable for the entry and exit of rats.

Thanks to the willing cooperation of the owner, one old building in this area has already been demolished and a regular rat patrol has been put in by the city authorities. Rock gardens, although attractive in appearance, have been found to harbor rat colonies, and should be avoided when possible.

The Grosse Pointe Property Owners Association asks the cooperation of all home owners in assisting the authorities by seeing that refuse bins are kept tightly closed at all times.

An extra second taken in flushing out empty cans before they are thrown away would also help. The residue left on the inside of empty cans provides ample food for rats. Eliminate their supply of food and they will quickly disappear.

Dutch Elm Disease Claims Venerable Beauty

All that remains of a lovely big elm tree that towered over the property at 319 Morross road is this stump. The tree had to be cut down after it was infected with the dreaded Dutch Elm disease. The Farms will start its second complete spraying of the season next week, covering all elms in that city.

Men Gardeners Meet August 19

Broad Leaf Evergreens are to be discussed at the meeting of the Grosse Pointe Men's Garden Club next Thursday, August 19, at 8 p.m. in the War Memorial Center.

Rhododendrons, azaleas and mountain laurel typify the horticultural group that is being utilized so extensively to provide an accent in the deciduous border during the winter months.

Discussions of the differing soil requirements, planting practices and effective care for this group will make this meeting particularly informative for the gardening home owner.

Vincent R. DePetris, president of the Men's Garden Club, will officiate and Meeting Chairman Elwood Mounter will introduce Philip Savage, whose address will be the highlight of the program.

Members and guests may obtain professional advice on the culture of broad leaf evergreens in a question and answer period following the talk.

Remember that the successful racer always makes the most of his last quarter.

The less a man speaks of his intentions, the more chance he has of realizing them.

The burden of responsibility carries within itself compensation in an equal amount.

Two Pay Fines For Short Weight

Two Mack avenue Wrigley Market employees were tried and convicted of deliberate negligence resulting in a weight shortage of packaged meat. The case was tried before Woods municipal Judge Don Goodrow on July 9.

Convicted were: Store Manager James Hoffman and Meat Manager Peter Bommerito. Each was fined $25.

The case, tried on criminal grounds, came after repeated warnings by State Bureau of Weights and Measures, the prosecuting party. Both men pleaded guilty to the charge of misrepresentation of packaged goods and admitted to Judge Goodrow that they had been warned before about the under-weight of packaged meat.

They were convicted on their plea of guilty and the evidence of the State Bureau consisting of 17 packages of boiled ham taken from the counter of the store. Each package was short anywhere from one-half to three-quarters of an ounce. On the eight pounds of meat confiscated, the customers were one-half pound short. The bureau allows a quarter ounce shortage per package.

So far as the court knew, this was the first time either of the men has been convicted for deliberate weight shortage. If caught again, they face a one to five hundred dollar fine or a year in jail.

Observing Silver Anniversary

The REV. and MRS. WALTER GEFFERT will be observing their silver wedding anniversary during the coming week. He is the pastor of Christ the King Lutheran Church on Mack avenue in Grosse Pointe Woods.

The Rev. Walter Geffert was born in a Lutheran parsonage in Reed City, Michigan, on August 20, 1905. Two years later, at the death of his father, the mother moved her family of nine children to her home town in the Chicago suburban area. Here young Walter received his elementary schooling.

His desire to enter the ministry came early in life. In 1920 he entered the preparatory school in Fort Wayne, Indiana, where he was graduated from Concordia College in 1928. He completed his theological training in St. Louis, Missouri, where he was graduated from Concordia Seminary in June, 1929. His student activity in St. Louis included a two-year internship in city mission work.

The year 1929 was an important one in Walter Geffert's life. On August 17, he was united in marriage with Miss Anne Kuehnert of Kirkwood, Missouri. On September 1, he was ordained into the Lutheran ministry by his brother, the Reverend R. L. Geffert. On September 15, he was installed in his first charge, Holy Trinity Lutheran Church, near Lipton, Saskatchewan, Canada.

In addition to this congregation, he served as circuit rider for four preaching stations and as a chaplain for a tuberculosis sanatorium.

In 1932 he followed a call to Mokena, Illinois, where he served until 1943. During this period he founded a new church in the neighboring town of New Lenox. He served both congregations until he was called to Kingfisher, Oklahoma.

During the two years before the close of World War II the Rev. Geffert ministered to a congregation as well as to war prisoners in a POW camp near El Reno, Oklahoma, to which he had been assigned as chaplain by the War Department. The camp was closed in August, 1945, and in the following month of October he came to Grosse Pointe Woods where he is presently serving Christ the King Lutheran Church.

Under his guidance the congregation completed the first unit of a church building project which was dedicated in October of last year.

Mrs. Anne Geffert, nee Kuehnert, was born in Hot Springs, Arkansas, on January 30, 1908. She received her education in the primary schools of St. Louis, Missouri, and the Kirkwood High School. After high school she was employed by the Bell Telephone Company where she held the position of Chief Operator for several years. Always interested in church work, she has taught in Sunday Schools and sung in church choirs since she was 18 years of age. She has continued in that capacity up to the present time.

Her marriage to the Rev. Walter Geffert was blessed with the birth of two sons, Walter, Jr., born in Saskatchewan in 1930 and Paul, born in Illinois in 1933. Mrs. Geffert has two sisters and one brother living in St. Louis, Missouri, and one sister in Lansing, Michigan.

Farms Building Report Issued

Permits for 22 building projects were issued by the City of Grosse Pointe Farms during July, according to the monthly report of Murray M. Smith, civil engineer.

Nine of the permits were for residential buildings, valued at a total of $265,000. One business establishment, at 80-82 Kercheval avenue, was approved. Cost of this building was set at $35,000 in the permit.

There were 12 permits issued for miscellaneous buildings, with a total value of $28,100. The value of all the buildings included in July's permits was set at $328,100.

The latest report brings the totals for the seven months of this year to 125 permits; 49 for residences valued at $1,520,000; six for business establishments valued at $188,000; 67 for miscellaneous buildings valued at $243,000; and three for non-assessable buildings valued at $1,100,000.

Society News Gathered From All of the Pointes

From Another Pointe of View

By Jane Schermerhorn

LUCERNE—Nothing better as a toner than to look up the silent, magnificent Alps and then start re-shuffling values! There's news all around us in this spick and span little village. Helen Joy Lee, daughter of Mrs. Henry B. Joy, is visiting friends some fifteen miles in the country. We see her dashing around Lucerne in her tiny French Ford.

Mrs. Lee is fast-becoming one of the most adventurous travellers you know, with already one travel book to her credit and plenty of material for a second gathered on this present junket started last January. She has spent much time in South Africa where new gold has produced a "rush" at the Rand Reef. . . has delved deeply into the problems of the people. And now, after Switzerland, the author-traveler takes off to inspect some Spanish-trained horses which pique her fancy. Then, maybe, she'll start settling a going-home date.

Alpine Climbers

Mrs. Lee beat us to the top of Mount Pilatus by a matter of minutes the other day. We made the 7,000-foot ascent by electric cable car but don't suppose our president will decorate us as Elizabeth II did the Mount Everest heroes. One-third of the way up, we wondered why we ever obeyed this silly impulse. . . half way up, our ears detected a slight miss in the cable car motor.

After that we simply closed our eyes, opening them only when the Jungfrau, Eiger, Monch and Schreckhorn (no relation) loomed in snowy splendor. Enroute by boat to Alpachstad, where begins the ascent of Pilatus-Kulm, fellow passengers were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brundie of St. Petersburg, Fla., whose son and daughter-in-law, the Frederick C. Brundies, live in Lexington road, Grosse Pointe Farms. The senior Brundies have been in London, where Mr. Brundie has five sisters. He especially revelled in the mountain journey, and took miles of color film. We sort of suspected Mrs. Brundie was spending one of those afternoons in Europe when the man of the house makes all the arrangements. . . women are more ground-minded. . .

What's In A Name?

It was the distinguished drama, and music critic of The Detroit News who first told us we have the English to thank for the name, Lake Lucerne. Years and years ago when our British friends started to travel, they arrived in the town of Lucerne and immediately became enchanted with the flower of all Swiss lakes. "What is its name?" they asked. The natives replied, "Vierwald Staettersee." . . "Oh, but you simply can't do that," said the startled Englishmen, "We'll call it Lake Lucerne rather!" And so it's been ever since to all the world but the Swiss, who never call it anything but Vierwald Staettersee (meaning the lake of the four forest cantons).

Papal Crown

First bumped into the McLauchlins in Italy. It was a genuine Reunion in Venice (the Fire Department is a fleet of red motor boats) for several Detroiters, including Dr. and Mrs. A. E. Church and their delicious eleven-year-old Elizabeth. Dr. Church attended the psychiatric sessions in Zurich (Continued on Page 8)

Garden Center To Celebrate

The Grosse Pointe Garden Center will hold a special "victory" luncheon preceding its annual meeting Friday, September 10, at the War Memorial Center.

Members will gather to celebrate the completion of an unusually successful year and to visit the Trial Gardens which they maintain on the War Memorial grounds.

These community experimental gardens are now at the height of bloom. All Grosse Pointe gardeners are urged to inspect the entirely new varieties of annuals and perennials.

This year's All-American winner, a great flame-colored zinnia named "Blaze," accents the gardens. Other interesting specimens are the white "Popcorn" petunia, a new blue salvia, dwarf scabiosa and hollyhocks, and deep red giant snapdragons.

Plans for the Center's annual meeting were initiated at the August 4 board meeting, at which Mrs. William W. Fries was appointed chairman for the luncheon.

Her committee includes Mrs. Alex Blain, Miss Marie Louise Anderson, Mrs. J. Crawford Frost, Jr., and Mrs. Wood Williams, president of the Center, as ex-officio member.

in July. This Michigan group converged on a centuries-old bridge over the canal and did some very modern shouting as greetings were exchanged... Grace McLaughlin was getting ready for a siege with a Venetian doctor, having been overtaken by the tonsillitis afflicting visitors to Venice in the past few weeks (it was cold and rainy—we're still shaking St. Mark's pigeons out of our heavy coat!). Earlier, in Rome, Russ needed a dentist and one was recommended by the American Embassy. Turned out the dentist had another well-known patient—The Pope. "Ah," sighed Mrs. Church, "And now you have a papal crown!"

The Wilden Mann

The Churches, and there's a fun family!—she was a Kormendy, went on to Florence and Rome, the McLaughlins traveled to Lucerne, where we've caught up with them. With them, we devoted an evening to the flawless cuisine of 400-year-old Hotel Wilden Mann, owned and proudly managed by the Fruter-Esternmann family for over a hundred years. It fully deserves the popularity it enjoys with Swiss gourmets and now followers come from every continent. The menu is a collector's item and everything is flamed but the concierge!

Swiss Love Story

Here in Lucerne, we ran smack into a love story that has the flutter of fairy wings. After lunch (cheese fondue) at the Old Swiss House—a must when you make the pilgrimage to the famous Lion monument, we met the owner-host, William Buholzer. His daughter married August Busch, Jr., of St. Louis (the Annheuser-Busch family). Incidentally her favorite horse, Miss Budweiser, claimed a prodigious number of trophies and ribbons at the recent Grosse Pointe Hunt Club Horse Show.

Mr. Busch met the lovely Trudie Buholzer while attending a brewery convention in Lucerne and from that moment, the international telephone system hummed completing his calls to the girl in Switzerland. The Buholzers live in a fairy story house, centuries old, and before 1938 maintained as a private museum by his grandmother who collected its priceless objects d'art. Although it's no longer open to visitors, we were graciously conducted on a tour of the house (the first floor is the restaurant). Mellow stained glass windows bear the coats of arms of the Swiss cantons and some of the walls are covered in needlepoint, others in silken brocades. The massive, carved wood doors date back to the sixteenth century and there are those quaint tiled stoves, which you always think should have a more glamor-suggesting name than "stove" because of their beauty. They are still used to heat the home. Mr. Buholzer climbed into the "warm seat" beside the stove to show us his favorite spot when snow swirls down from the icy Alps.

In an upstairs hall there's a stone fountain, its water released by turning a brass bird. Another interesting fountain is in the formal dining salon. It's a pewter dolphin set in a wall niche. Water flows from its wide mouth and cleanses fruit for dessert. The only piece of modern furniture in the whole home is a console piano which Mr. Buholzer had specially made for his musical wife. Still it blends beautifully with the Dresden, Meissen; oil paintings and rich furniture of the music room. We particularly loved a pastel porcelain envelope hanging on the wall over the writing desk—for holding letters.

Then there's a typical Swiss balcony around this story of the house—but we're not so sure the pool we found there is typical. In it swim mountain trout until they are cooked for the family. In this old world atmosphere we had a swift pull back to 1954... Mr. Buholzer turned out to be a rabid baseball fan, his favorite team, of course, being the St. Louis Cardinals, owned by his son-in-law.

Recovery, Inc. Honors Leader

Mrs. C. J. Parducci of Colonial road, leader of a Recovery, Inc. group in the Pointe, was honored for her services at its first birthday meeting and party. It was held in the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church on Thursday, July 29.

A large birthday cake with one candle was the centerpiece at the tea table. The group members took the occasion to surprise and honor Mrs. Parducci for her outstanding leadership of the group and appreciation of its successful growth. She was presented with a commemorative poem, penned by one of the members, and a gift.

Recovery, Inc., the Association of Nervous and Mental Patients, is a self-help therapy group. Members, through group meetings and training, are able to achieve emotional security and control extreme "nervous" symptoms.

Mrs. Parducci's group, organized a year ago, has grown from eight members which met in her home, to the now some 100 members and four leaders.

Beaver Stags To Hold Outing

Grosse Pointers Dr. Sigurd Becker and Frederick K. Cody have plans virtually completed for the Detroit Athletics Club Beavers' stag Old Club Outing to take place on Tuesday, Aug. 17.

Dr. Becker is chairman of the outing—in fact, he originated the idea of the annual stag party a number of years back. Mr. Cody is Beavers president.

Some 175 excursionists will gather at Grosse Pointe Yacht Club to board a fleet of cruisers at 10 a.m. and head over Lake St. Clair for the Old Club.

Part of the fun on the water trip will be speculation on the outcome of the afternoon's baseball game between a Beavers team headed by John R. Donahue, and a DAC Bowlers nine captained by Clyde Manion. The historic Milkan Trophy, for which the ball-playing Beavers and Bowlers have tussled these many years, again will be carried along on the outing.

Upon arrival, a tennis tournament will be staged. After the 12 o'clock luncheon, there'll be shuffleboard, horseshoe and golf pitching contests, aquaplaning and water skiing besides the 3 p.m. ball game.

Anticipated hearty appetites will be appeased by dinner at 6 o'clock, after prizes will be awarded to the day's winners in the various activities. Immediately following, everyone will board the cruisers for the return trip.

From Overland Park, Kan., comes news of the betrothal of Martha Sue Jones to Robert Gilmore Russell, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Gilmore Russell of S. Oxford road.

The troth was revealed by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Langley Jones, of Overland Park.

Martha, who attends the University of Michigan, is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma. Her fiancé is a graduate of U. of M.'s liberal arts college and law school. He belongs to Theta Xi and Phi Delta Phi fraternities.

Tour Concluded By Alice James

Alice James has returned home to Westchester road after spending six interesting weeks in the West as a Camp Pennington counselor. Camp Pennington, Alice explains, has been a traveling camp for the past five years and moves around the West in two buses.

The portable camp, organized in Ann Arbor by a high school instructor, Parker Pennington Owen Jr. takes 26 campers, boys and girls, from 14 to 17 years of age. Besides Mr. and Mrs. Pennington, four University of Michigan students go along as counselors.

The two buses, one outfitted as "chuck wagon" and infirmary and the other strictly for passenger traveling, headed first for Colorado and Utah points of interest, Alice reports, then went on to California and dropped down for a visit to Mexico.

The trip continued up the California and Oregon coast, crossing the Columbia River highway through Washington and Idaho to Lake Louise and Banff. The latter two places were the highlights of the trip for the Pointe lass, who took the group on their longest hike of 23 miles at Banff.

The campers then came home through the northern United States and Michigan's Upper Peninsula, crossing at the straits. They used sleeping bags throughout the entire six-weeks' period.

Alice will return this fall to the U. of M. School of Design for her junior year. She is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Edgar James.

Volunteers Help Club Give Children Summer of Fun

Thirty-five volunteers made possible a summer recreation program for over 225 members of the Grosse Pointe Woods Community Club, a United Community Services agency supported by the United Foundation. Volunteers came from six communities to help children from four communities have fun, make new friends, and learn new skills.

A special morning program for children four, five, and six years old was completely carried by 16 of these volunteers. This program was particularly designed in order that the youngest citizens may have a constructive, organized, small group experience before their schooling.

Leading the four-year-old group was Mrs. Jeannette Wahlig assisted by Mrs. Robert Muntz. The five-year-olds were led by Mrs. Charlotte Barker assisted by Mrs. Cecilia Moore; and in charge of the six-year-olds were Mrs. Jean Roddewig, assisted by Mrs. George Beranck. Substitute leaders this summer were Mrs. Mary Long, Mrs. Harry Lyle, and Mrs. Margaret Dumaux. Mrs. W. I. Buchanan was a specialist in story telling and Mrs. Catherine Trepanowski was a clerical volunteer for the program.

In line with the Community Club's goal of providing citizenship training experiences for teen-agers, the program aid or junior volunteer program was continued this year. Aiding in the morning program were Miss Carol Kowalczyk, Barbara Simpson, Barbara Lass, Nancy Habitzruter and Mr. Daniel Ward.

In the afternoon program were Misses Susan Terbruggen, Catherine La Grosso, Barbara DuVaul, Jacqueline Smith, Sharon DeFeaver, Lynn Fiebach, Betty Moran, and Messrs Tom Quinlan, John Smith, Verne Nevinson, Dave Weber and Owen Murray. Placed at the Community Club as part of their teacher training program at Wayne University were Miss Mary Donahue and Mario Galli.

Completing the roster this summer for the afternoon program for seven through 12-year-olds and the evening teen-age program were Mrs. Ruth Terbruggen, Mrs. Jack Clark, Miss Joan Lee Wadsworth, Peter Galli and Robert Roddewig.

An Indian Pow-wow brought the morning program to a close on August 3 and a Family Day at the Club will close the afternoon program Friday, August 13. Registration for the fall program will begin September 15. All adults interested in volunteering are asked to apply at the club on or near that date, also.

On the regular staff this summer were Miss Adelaide Dinwoodie, directing the morning program, and Edgar Krattli, directing the afternoon program along with Miss Eleanor Barie, Roy Moxley and Roger McCaig. The executive director of the Community Club is Mrs. Jane Costabile.

Confusion Reigns, But Not for Long

Johnny Allmand of 88 Touraine road got a little mixed up the other day. He called the Farms police and reported that his car had been stolen. When the police went over to investigate, they found it in the garage.

It seems the Free Press delivery boy drives a car identical to Johnny's and had parked it in the Allmands' driveway. Johnny noticed it there and thought it was his own. When he looked out the window a few minutes later it was gone and he immediately called the police and reported the supposed theft.

Johnny apologized to the police for bothering them and everyone got a big chuckle out of it.

Burglars Use Shield of Parked Trucks to Rob Plumbing Shop in Farms

Using a shield of parked trucks to aid their entry, thieves broke into and looted the Bartone Plumbing Shop at 18740 Mack avenue of $648 and caused considerable property damage.

Although the exact time of entry was not determined, the robbery took place some time between the hours of 5:30 p.m. on Monday, August 9, and 7:30 a.m. Tuesday.

The thieves took good advantage of the dark and the Bartone trucks parked along the fence guarding the rear entrance of the shop to mask their entry. "The rear door was completely out of sight from the alley," Lt. James Furton of the Farms police said. The gate of the rear fence was locked but a large open area at the bottom allowed the robbers to slide underneath.

The thieves broke a pane in the rear door and then forced it open. Two other doors inside the shop leading to the business offices were not locked.

Once in the office they attempted to force open a file drawer but were unsuccessful. The drawer contained check books of the company, but investigating officers believe this was not known by the thieves at the time of the robbery.

The missing $648 was taken from a cashbox in a drawer of the bookkeeper's desk. The box was forced open. Personal and company papers, also contained in the drawer, were found strewn about the floor of the office, but none was reported missing.

A small table clock valued at around eight dollars was also stolen.

It was estimated that approximately $350 damage was done to the file and $25 to the rear door that was forced open.

A cleaning woman, Mrs. A. L. Oldani, of 479 Kerby road, was in the shop after the 5:30 closing time and reported to the Farms police that nothing unusual happened while she was cleaning up.

At 4 a.m. Patrolman Parsons checked the shop and found nothing out of the ordinary. The fence at the rear prohibits an actual check of the door.

No clues were left except that it is known that gloves were used. The Farms police, working in cooperation with Detroit, are checking all possible leads.

A man may be as honest as the day is long and still pull shady deals during the night.

Unpardonable Sins

Two things which we count among our outstanding hates have punctured our midsummer complacency with injections of frenzied resentment. Time that was formerly occupied with pleasant day-dreaming is now given over completely to thoughts of fitting punishment for the perpetrators of the two actions that have so upset us.

Sunday's newspapers carried accounts of the strychnine poisonings of 26 trained Master Eye dogs at a kennel in Minneapolis. Ten of the dogs are dead as of this writing. The owner of the kennel says the other 16 may die. Poisoned wieners were found inside their cages.

What manner of monster is it that possesses the mentality that enables one to poison animals that are doing no harm and offer no threat? This particular story had unusual news value because the dogs had been trained to bring untold comfort and protection to those afflicted by blindness. They were a special strain of German Shepherd which had been developed through a quarter century of breeding, and were valued at some $40,000.

Dog-poisoning is a far too common crime, even right here in our own sedate community. And the criminals are too seldom caught. While loving animals of all kinds, we can still appreciate the indignation of those who are subjected to the incessant howling of a dog, or the night-prowling of a love-stricken tomcat. We can get as mad as the next one when a stalking feline snares a beautiful songbird, or when our garden is dug up, or our shrubs are despoiled by an unconfined canine.

But there are ways to right these evils other than the cowardly administering of poison. There are laws, and there are police to handle complaints. One of the most vivid recollections of our early childhood concerns sitting up all of one interminable night with a veterinarian, fighting to save the life of a beautiful setter whose head was pillowed piteously in our lap. The dog's life was saved, but the terrible hate we then felt towards his poisoner has never left us. We still think such fiends would be getting off too easy if they were forced to consume a bit of their own prescription.

The second frustrating and almost equally maddening criminal action which came to our attention during the week had to do with the wilful, wanton destruction of a valuable work of art. That is a type of vandalism that makes us see a particularly brilliant shade of red, and brings us a mite nearer an understanding of why murders are committed.

Victim of the hare-brained vandal in this case is one of the many residents of this community who maintain large, beautifully landscaped properties which contribute to the Pointe's claim to fame as one of the loveliest suburban areas in the country. In an ivy setting beside the swimming pool there was a large and very beautiful majolica vase which experts had proclaimed to be a museum piece.

One morning last week the gardener announced to the owner of the property that the vase was in the bottom of the pool, smashed in a thousand pieces.

This magnificent example of antique artistic pottery weighed at least 100 pounds. It stood some 10 feet away from the edge of the pool, so it must have put the adolescent nincompoop who destroyed it to some frantic tugging before he dashed it into a sickening heap of rubble.

It is a pity that this misguided imbecile couldn't have been caught on the spot. We can think of no more fitting punishment than that he should have been made to dive, interminably, to the bottom of the pool, collecting each tiny bit of broken vase, then sat over with a bull whip as he went about the incredibly hopeless task of putting this thing of beauty back together again. Each slowdown in the process should merit at least five lashes.

And while our stout little prankster was engaged in this fascinating pastime, we would have a crew of readers taking turns regaling him with the most learned works on creative art, especially those related to pottery making and its ornamentation. Within a comparatively short time he would be much more babbling, though not much more idiotic than he was when he thought up his diversion for a deluded delinquent.

Voters Still Confused

Grumblings are still being heard from confused Woods voters who are wondering just which way they cast their ballots on Proposition Number 3. The exact wording of this proposition was: "There shall be no incinerator plants built within the corporate limits of the City of Grosse Pointe Woods."

It rather reminds us of some of the questions we hear on "What's My Line?" A negative answer requires an affirmative vote, and vice versa.

Anyway, the incinerators were overwhelmingly voted out, whether intentionally or not we may never know. A great many of the voters are probably still wondering whether they indicated "Yes, they didn't want any incinerators," or "No, they would just as soon have incinerators."

"Oh would I were a boy again,
When life seemed formed of sunny years,
And all the heart then knew of pain
Was wept away in transient tears!
When every tale Hope whispered then,
My fancy deemed was only truth,
Oh, would that I could know again,
The happy visions of my youth."
(Mark Lemon)

A local couple who just returned from a fabulous weekend in Canada will certainly have something to talk about way into Fall. It seems they were invited by a business acquaintance of the husband's and were told not to bring any fancy clothes . . . they just had a lodge and would "rough it." Our local heroine took them at their word and packed a few washable dummies but fortunately threw in a short dinner dress just for the aitch of it.

They were met at the hosts' private air strip by the latter, who were dressed to the teeth. This rather confused our local gal who stepped off the plane in her wrinkled gingham frock . . . but the worst was yet to come: When they arrived at the "lodge" which was as big as a small hotel, the rest of the weekend guests had already gathered . . . the men looking like fashion plates and the women wearing expensive looking silk pastel frocks with matching million dollar sweaters.

Our heroes downed a few quick ones before lunch, which helped them to forget that they looked like poor relations. It wasn't until AFTER lunch that they discovered how fussy the weekend was REALLY going to be. It was one of those places where each time you use a cake of soap, some flunky arrives to cart it away and replace it with a fresh cake in wrapper! Roughing it indeed!

The big moment, however, came when they descended the stairs to gather in the living room for pre-dinner cocktails. Mr. and Mrs. Pointer were wearing (respectively) a sports jacket and slacks on monsoor, and on Madame a little print dinner dress. The rest of the guests and the hosts were done up in full regalia . . . the men in dinner clothes and the women in bare shouldered bouffant gowns and innumerable diamonds. The dining table was set with the choicest china, silver and crystal and for place cards . . . each female guest had at her place a silver picture frame bearing her monogram . . . and the males all received silver cigarette boxes with their names engraved thereupon with the date of the party!!!!

Our heroine decided that SOME time during the weekend they were sure to rough it up a bit (after having been told it would be a simple weekend), so the following morning she appeared for breakfast in her shorts. Sure enough, as the women started drifting into the breakfast room, there they were wearing monogrammed linen dresses with matching sweaters again.

Leave it not be said that our friends didn't have a grand weekend . . . but the next time they are invited to a casual house party they are taking top hat, white tie and tails.

The things that women carry in their purses have always been a source of amusement to the male sex and to some of the more conservative females. We knew a woman who not only carried a needle and thread in her bag but also carried a variety of pills . . . not any that SHE used but just in case someone else needed one. HOWEVER, the other day we saw what we think is the top. We got into a Canasta game at a neighbor's house and had the good fortune to win a bob or two. As our opponent opened her wallet to pay off, we couldn't help seeing that in it she carried a picture of HERSELF!!!!

Speaking of pills . . . and we were, a little while back . . . it fascinates us to learn the number of men and women who will take anyone's pills no matter what. It is one thing to ask a hostess if she has a handy aspirin if you have a headache . . . but we have actually seen people taking whatever the hostess has on hand that has been given her by a doctor for what ails HER. For example, a guest might complain of a pain in her neck or foot and if the hostess sez: "I have some MARVELOUS pink pills the doctor gave me for my liver" . . . the character with the pain in the neck will invariably say: "Okay, I'll try one."

This breed must necessarily be classified as chronic pill-takers and we don't wish to change places with them! A typical example which we saw with our own eyes is the following incident. We were dining with friends and there were about eight present at the dinner table, when a married couple stopped by, pulled up chairs and joined us for coffee at the end of the meal. The host was taking pills for a blood condition and the hostess had ominous looking capsules she had to take for her gall bladder . . . as well as some kind of vitamins. When the maid brought the three bottles of pills in at the end of the meal, the couple who had dropped by each took one of the pills! We were so flabbergasted that we HAD to ask why? They replied in unison: "Oh, we LOVE to take pills."

Scottish Picnic Set for Aug. 19

For the 105th year the Detroit St. Andrew's Society will present an inspiring pageant of kilts, tartans and sporrans at its Annual Games to be held at Bob-Lo Island on Thursday, August 19. Boats will leave the foot of Woodward Avenue at 9 a.m., 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. and there will be half-hour ferry service from Amherstburg, Ontario.

Preceding the departure of the boats there will be a parade of members of the Society in Highland Costume, along with the Chrysler Kluge Band and the St. Andrew's Society Junior Pipe Band, from St. Andrew's Hall, 431 East Congress to the boat at the foot of Woodward Avenue. This will commence at 8:30 a.m.

Special attention is called to the Junior Pipe Band, which is composed of boys and girls from the age of 8 to 14, who will play the pipes and drums. This is the only junior pipe band in America. Their proficient playing will be accompanied by bagpipes, drums and Highland costumes which have just arrived from Scotland.

The usual dances, such as the Highland Fling, Shann Trews, Sword Dance, Irish Jigs, Hornpipes will be performed. Costumes of most of the Highland Clans will be represented. There will be athletic events, including the tossing of the caber. There will also be a soccer game.

One of the most unusual events will be the selection of a Tartan Queen, the prize for which will be a full outfit of clothing of the value of $150. This is open to all girls between the ages of 17 and 25. There is no entry fee. They must have some Scottish ancestry.

The St. Andrew's Society is one of the oldest charitable organizations in Michigan. It has extended help to a great number of Scottish people who have been unfortunate and unable to help themselves. However, its charitable activities have not been confined to those of Scottish blood. Funds for these activities are raised from the Picnic and Games and similar affairs. None of the officers receives any compensation of any kind.

These Games are usually attended by Highland Dancers from all over the United States and Canada, and amount to a homecoming for Scottish folk.

A trip to Scotland will be the feature prize of the day. There will be many others.

T. J. Riggs Joins Exclusive Group

Thomas J. Riggs, Jr., president of the F. L. Jacobs Co., Detroit, and a resident of Grosse Pointe Farms, has been elected a member of the exclusive Young Presidents' Organization, New York headquarters of the national group announced.

Mr. Riggs became president of his company in 1954 at the age of 37. All members of the YPO now numbering more than 700 in 39 states and one province of Canada, similarly became top executives before reaching the age of 39.

They remain active members until 49. Their present average age is 38. Their corporations must gross a minimum of $1,000,000 a year in sales, and the range is upwards to $176,000,000.

Chief objectives of YPO are exchange of ideas on modern management methods and "championship of individual liberty and stimulation, through proper incentives, of personal initiative and enterprise."

Those members seek to improve the capitalistic system by improving themselves. Chapter meetings and the annual convention are conducted as "Schools for Presidents." Members also participate in advanced management seminars at the Harvard University Graduate School of Business Administration and The School of Commerce, Northwestern University.

Mr. Riggs was graduated from the University of Illinois where he captained the football team. On graduation, he entered the Army Corps of Engineers as a second lieutenant and rose to a lieutenant-colonel.

In 1946, he became assistant military attaché in Mexico City, and a colonel. A year later, he joined Ford, Bacon and Davis, Inc. as contact man. Then he became supervisor of field personnel. In 1950, he entered Tele-Trip Policy Co., New York, and soon became vice-president where he remained until he joined Jacobs.

Drowning Driver Hits Parked Car

At 11:25 p.m. on Saturday, August 7, Joseph Haworth of 552 Ashland, Detroit, reported that someone had struck his car while it was parked on Grosse Pointe boulevard causing $25 damage. There were no witnesses to the accident and at the time the guilty party was unknown.

At 1:55 a.m. Charles Edward Robbins Jr. of 1125 Bishop road went into the Farms station and reported that earlier in the evening he had fallen asleep at the wheel of his car and struck a parked auto on Grosse Pointe boulevard. He identified Haworth's car as the one he struck.

Robbins, who was driving his step-father's car at the time of the accident, agreed to take care of the damage to Haworth's car. There was $100 damage to the car Robbins was driving.

There were no tickets issued because, according to Detective Harold Beaupre, Robbins had reported the accident and agreed to take care of the damages.

Stork Enjoying Very Busy Year

It looks like another busy year for the stork.

The birth registration reached an all-time high in 1953, 181,518 births in Michigan last year, Michigan Department of Health provisional figures indicate, but 1954 is well on the way towards passing even this record.

For the first six months of 1954, the State Health Department continues, 87,915 births have been registered, an increase of 6,012 over 1953.

This increase in births is running way ahead of 1953 figures compared with '52, the State Health Department adds. The total yearly increase in 1953 over the previous year was only about 4,900.

The State Health Department says that the birth increase is part of a trend that started before World War II. And since 1940, when there were 99,106 live births registered, the number of births has nearly doubled, they add.

However, during that time the sex ratio has stayed approximately the same, the State Health Department continues. Of the 1953 live births registered, 51.4 per cent were males and 48.6 per cent females.

Statement To the Grosse Pointe Farms Water Consumers

AUGUST, 1954

During the past several weeks various water restrictions and low pressures have raised many questions in the minds of Farms water consumers. Due to the great number of inquiries it has been impossible to answer these questions over the telephone or by letter. For this reason the following list of typical questions has been prepared, with their answers, and it is hoped that you may find your answer in the following information:

QUESTION: What caused the recent water shortage?

ANSWER: Low pressures existed due to the heavy lawn sprinkling by residents during the hot dry spell which practically doubled the load on the system, causing pressure sags rather than a water shortage. Actually there was adequate water reserves at the plant at all times.

QUESTION: Would enlarging the water plant be the answer to our present problem?

ANSWER: No. The plant and the Farms distribution system (water mains) are more than adequate to serve the requirements of the ultimate population (estimated 15,000) of the Farms.

QUESTION: What would correct the condition?

ANSWER: The Farms is presently supplying water to Grosse Pointe City and part of Grosse Pointe Shores and have been serving these communities off and on for the past 50 years. Due to the growth of these communities it was recognized over a year ago that one of two things had to be done. We would either have to increase our plant and water main capacities at an estimated cost of $650,000.00, or we would have to drop our outside consumers. Both the City and the Shores were advised of this fact during the past year and are attempting to solve their problems which are difficult both from the standpoint of financing and from the fact that Detroit will not take them on as customers until 1956 or 1957.

It is, therefore, impossible to stop serving these communities until they can make satisfactory arrangements for other sources of supply, and at the same time it is not economically possible to expand our facilities to take care of these communities under existing water rates. Therefore, the answer to the question is either to enlarge the plant and raise the rates or to drop the outside communities when the same can be done.

QUESTION: How did the Farms get in the water business?

ANSWER: From 1900 to 1927 a pumping station was maintained which pumped chlorinated raw lake water to Grosse Pointe Farms and City. In 1928 and 1929 the Farms discontinued their raw water pumping and purchased filtered water from Detroit at double Detroit rates. Due to these high rates the Water Department had a deficit of $25,000.00 during the two years with Detroit, and in 1930 we were forced to consider the building of a water plant or raising the rates, and the Farms voted a bond issue and built the present pumping station and filtration plant at a cost of $350,000.00. Based on a ten year contract with Grosse Pointe City the Farms felt justified in building this plant, which would not have been an economical thing to do as a single community.

We now have reached the point where the plant is not large enough for both communities but is sufficient for the ultimate requirements of the Farms. The Farms consumers cannot be asked to expand a plant to serve outside consumers, however, the outside consumers who helped us pay for the plant must be taken care of until they can make other arrangements for a source of supply.

QUESTION: What have we done and what are we doing to keep abreast of demands?

ANSWER: During the past 25 years large cross-city feeder mains have been built on Kercheval Avenue, Ridge Road, Charlevoix Avenue, Chalfonte Avenue and sections of Mack Avenue. At present a large plant outlet main is being constructed on Moross Road and in the fall a raw water booster station will be built in the City Pier Park. These improvements fully meet Fire Underwriters standards and are adequate to serve Farms consumers. However, they have not been designed to serve outside consumers.

QUESTION: Is there increased fire hazards at times of low pressure, and could a fire be fought effectively at such times?

ANSWER: The Fire Department pumper truck draws on the mains irrespective of the pressure and creates its own pressure to properly fight the fire.

QUESTION: Do Grosse Pointe Farms and Highland Park have a joint water plant?

ANSWER: No. Both communities have their separate filter plant and pumping stations. However, they do have a common water intake, the capacity of which will be increased by the Farms this fall through the building of a booster station.

Fleet Review and Regatta To be Held at Farms Pier

Weeks of hard work and extensive planning by the Grosse Pointe Farms Fleet Review and Regatta committee have reached a climax. All is in readiness for the annual affair which will be staged at the Farms' new municipal pier on Sunday, August 15.

Under the leadership of Director Ed Lauer the program will include the review for more than 60 boats moored in the harbor. The fleet will be decorated and pass in front of the judges' stand and be judged by Joe de Grime, Ray Huettnerman and Chief Tom Trombly. They will select the three best decorated boats in each class of sailboats, outboards and inboards.

Queen To Give Trophy

One of these will be singled out as the best in the fleet and the skipper will receive a trophy to be awarded by the Queen of the Fleet, Claire Lenz, who was selected by the Farms Life Guards.

The Queen and her court will lead the parade after receiving the signal from the Grand Marshal, Henry Collins.

Following the review, which begins at 1:30 p.m., there will be powerboat races which will include races for 5, 7 1/2, 10, 15 and 25 horsepower outboards. The course will be an oval laid out in full view of the spectators on the dock.

Inboard Drivers Set

The climax of the program has worked up to fever pitch among the inboard drivers. Vic Verhaeghe, last year's champion, is boasting he expects to repeat again this year. Al Ketzler, Hec Couvreur, Stan Jursek, Flo DeMeulenaere and Ed Jurgas have other ideas about the outcome of the event.

Friday, August 13, is the deadline for any Farms resident to enter the races. Entries should be filed at the Farms Pier by that date.

Mayor William Connolly will appear on Ed Hayes' television sports show tonight and explain a few of the highlights of the coming event and tell how the idea originated under the direction of Henry Collins last year.

Boat Banter

By Fred Runnells

It'll happen every time.

Last week we mentioned the names of the judges who we saw on the dock at the end of the St. Clair Yachtsmen's regatta Saturday, July 31. They were a hard working lot. It was raining blue beans and still they were on hand taking the times of the yachts as they finished. Being one of the competing skippers we had our hands full trying to squeeze across the finish line without making another tack. So we missed seeing our old friend, Richard Ray Daley, who was calling the time from the clock.

Gosh, we're sorry we missed you, Ray, but we were busy as you well know.

Nubby Sarns arrived home finally from Mackinac, but what a time he had. Nubs and Doris were cruising in Georgian Bay following the Chicago race and took Mabel Kling and Doris Breitenbach along as crew. Yes, sir, there was lotsa woman talk on that trip.

Clay Detmers, Nubby's number one boy on "Revelry," told us he got a call from the skipper from Southampton up in God's country. Nubs told him he followed the chart, which showed plenty of water in the harbor, but the channel had filled in and he plowed his own furrow into the harbor to get out of the weather.

Commodore T. J. Pilon and his committee are expecting a large turnout for the Windsor Yacht Club's sixteenth annual regatta this Saturday, August 14. The regatta is part of Windsor's Centennial Celebration and will be a morning affair.

The judges' boat will be located at the regular DRYA starting line and will fire the warning gun at 11:15 a.m. The schooner-ketch class will be the first to get away at 11:25.

Rules and regulations are pretty much the same as in past weekly regattas, with the exception of Crescent's and Grosse Pointe Yacht Club's, who set their own courses.

Competing skippers should bear in mind that they must leave the flag marking the shoal at the head of Peche Island to starboard and finish down river in front of the club. Failure to do so will result in disqualification and maybe you will pile up on the rocks.

Only one mistake appeared in the Windsor race program and that was the deletion of the Lawley 110 class. This apparently was an oversight on the part of the printer. All Lawley skippers are welcome to compete and regatta chairman Earl Harding said "By all means let the Lawley guys to come out and we will give them a starting gun."

D. P. Brother Agency Adds to Creative Staff

David B. Rank, Jerome K. Westerfield, and Thomas R. Boyd have joined the creative staff of D. P. Brother & Company, Inc., an advertising agency, in Detroit.

Rank is well-known in Detroit and New York advertising circles as a copy director and creative supervisor for several agencies. He was born in Detroit and is a University of Michigan graduate.

Westerfield, a Chicagoan, has created and written major campaigns for numerous automotive and petroleum companies. He was graduated from Northwestern University with a degree in industrial management.

Boyd, a native Detroit and University of Michigan graduate in business administration, has been a copywriter for a national advertising agency and several leading automobile manufacturers.

ILYA Regatta Dominated By Lake Erie Blow-Boats

Over 200 sailboats participated in the annual Inter-Lake Yachting Association's regatta held at Put-In-Bay last Monday through Wednesday, August 9 to 11, and of those 200 yachts one would need a fine toothed comb to find the Detroit yachts. In other words the famous old regatta, that started back before the turn of the century, has become strictly a party for Lake Erie yachts.

Not too many years ago Detroit sailors flocked to the island that is primarily famous for its vineyards and wine and caves. Not only did the burgees of such clubs as the Detroit Yacht Club, Detroit Boat Club, Bayview Yacht Club, Edison Boat Club and some of the older sailing organizations around, fly in the gentle August breeze while anchored in the Bay, but spectators made the trip down by steamer to view the races.

Drew Scores of Tars

The innkeeper at Lora's knew many of the Detroiters as regular regatta customers and it was not uncommon to see scores of local tars rendezvous at the famous pub on Middle Bass Island across the bay and partake of the sparkling wines distilled there.

Gone are the rowdy shouts of laughter that used to rock the walls of Websters and rattle the ceiling of the Roundhouse as the Detroiters whiled away the time between races.

Being a comparative youngster to this business of Inter-Lake regattas we can only listen to the old timers' recall all the good times they used to have. Most of these may have become too old to race windvans and have turned their efforts to officiating at sail races.

Commodore Miffed

Commodore Art Summerlee was a trifle miffed over the fact only four Detroit yachts showed up at the starting line near the Detroit River light in Lake Erie last Saturday, August 7, for the start of the 60 some odd mile Deep Water Race. Clare Jacobs, New York 32 "Falcon," Rile Wigley's schooner, "Spindrift," Hank Burkard's double ended "Meteor" and Doc Connolly's "Serenade" showed up to race to the Bay.

The meager turnout was no fault of Commodore Dave Davernport, who for the week prior to the start, called 75 yacht owners in an attempt to get them to promise to sail in the Deep Water Race. Twelve promised and as late as last Thursday, August 5, all were going. On Friday it was a different story. Only four skippers kept their word.

Crews Hard To Get

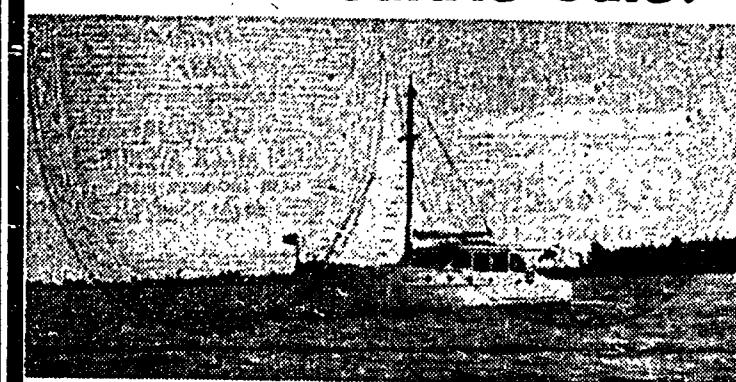

Actually it wasn't the skippers' fault that their yachts weren't in the race. They just couldn't round up enough crew members to man their boats. For example, Gil Pingree's "Red Head," defending Class A champion from 1935, was scratched at the last minute after Gil had called about two dozen able hands.

Jim Carlin was in the same boat with his Pilot sloop "Glory Bea," just about the hottest thing afloat this year in Class C. Jim wanted to go but couldn't get a crew. And so it went all down the line and as the result Detroit ships were in the minority at the Bay on Sunday morning.

Is it possible the ILYA regatta is being held too close to the finish of the Mackinac races? Some Still Cruising

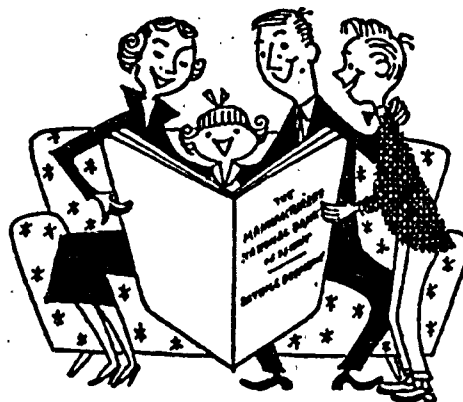

We know of a few of the bigger boats that would have gone in the Deep Water Race had they returned from their cruises in Georgian Bay. This is a regular practice for the Mackinac yachts.

Swordsmen Beat Cleveland Team

The Grosse Pointe Sword Club team traveled to Cleveland on Saturday, July 24, and squeezed out a 14-13 victory to win the trophy it put in competition last year.

Competition between the two clubs has been going on for many years. Originally they fought for the possession of the Cleveland Plaque which was won permanently by Grosse Pointe three years ago. The new trophy, which the Grosse Pointe Sword Club put into competition last year, was won by Cleveland and is a continuing trophy.

Gregg Flynn, Al Kunzmann, Art Shanklin, Ray Hajjar and John Langer won 14 bouts in epee, sabre and foil events to win the meet. Actually Cleveland swordsmen won more bouts in the epee and sabre but Grosse Pointe came back strong to win the foil event by a landslide, which overcame Cleveland's early lead.

Barbara DePolo, Betty Hotsa and Shirley Stein also competed unofficially and beat the Cleveland girls 5 to 4.

Midget Tennis Tournney Planned

The Neighborhood Club will be the site of the second annual Midget Tennis tournament which gets underway on Thursday, August 26. It will be a four day affair and is open to boys 14 and under. The finals will be played on the club courts on Sunday, August 29, at 2 p.m.

Entries must be on file with tournament director Lou Gardella not later than August 25.

A week before the meet Harry Fogelman, former college tennis coach, will hold a tennis clinic at the Neighborhood Club on Wednesday, August 18, at 3:30.

Jursek Annexes Casting Honors

The second casting championship of the season was held on Thursday, August 5, at the Farms Pier. Stanley Jursek dethroned Robert Malkin, being the top caster for the evening and winner of the blue ribbon.

Second place was again taken by Louis Reno and William Hagan gained another white ribbon for finishing third.

Just a reminder to all casters: there are two championship events left; one on August 19 and the last one on August 31. The starting time is 7 o'clock for a practice round and 7:30 for the championship round.

LITTLE LEAGUE Park Minors End Season

Grosse Pointe Park's Minor League wound up its first season of play last Saturday, August 7, with four of the six-team league seeing action. All teams were supposed to play on the final day but only six of the Brooklyn team's players showed up and they were forced to forfeit to the Cardinals, 9-0. The forfeit gave the Cardinals a two-way second place tie with the Dodgers, who dropped their final game to the fifth place Eagles, 9-1.

The Dodgers-Eagles contest was a knock-down, drag-out affair which went eight innings before the winner was decided. The Eagles broke a 6-6 tie in the top half of the eighth inning scoring three runs on four hits. Dan Van Tien belted out three doubles and Don Lambrecht collected a single and a pair of doubles.

Bob Beausoleil hurled the Athletics into the championship with a three-hit, 2-1 victory over the third place Shamrocks. Eleven-year-old Beausoleil, the top pitcher in the league, struck out 16 batters and gave up only one extra base blow over the six inning route. Mike Brady was the recipient of a home run pitch which accounted for the Shamrock's only tally of the game.

The Athletics were only able to solve the offerings of loser Mike Van Lokeran for five hits and it was a costly error in the third inning that spelled defeat for the Shamrocks.

The game played an important part in the final standings inasmuch as a Shamrock victory would have created a four-way for first place.

How to Profit Through Tax Exemption

With today's high tax levels, investors in medium and high tax brackets are turning to tax-free Municipal Bonds for income that they can keep.

If you have a taxable income of $10,000 or more, you may be well repaid by investigating the advantages of tax-exempt State and Municipal Bonds. For instance, if you file a single return on a taxable income of $14,000, you would have to receive a dividend return of 7.45% on a taxable yield from a 3.50% tax-free Bond. It's something to think about!

Our New Booklet, "How To Profit Through Tax-Exemption" explains in plain language your need for tax exemption, tells how much these high-grade investments can be worth to you. There's no obligation. Send for copy today, or phone

March of Dimes Seeks Your Help

Every housewife who keeps a budget knows you can borrow from one item to pay another. The milkman can wait if the refrigerator repairman has to be paid immediately.

That's what the March of Dimes is doing today to meet polio bills. Patient aid funds at National Headquarters are exhausted. Chapters needing money across the country are receiving token payments "borrowed" from funds committed to research and education.

Many of the 3,100 chapters have more polio expenses than they can pay and are doing the same. They are asking hospitals to hold up their bills until after Aug. 31. By then they hope the money will be there to pay these bills. Because—beginning Aug. 16—a nationwide Emergency March of Dimes will be conducted for at least $20,000,000 to meet emergency polio bills.

Polio cases began to mount early this year. Each new person who needed aid was one more added to the 67,000 patients from previous years who still needed help in 1954. Since January 1, Wayne County's Board of Health have reported 209 cases of polio—a record number for this date.

In addition to these "must" expenses, the March of Dimes is financing a new and extensive program this year—polio prevention. It is costing $28,500,000 to supply gamma globulin for temporary immunity and to finance the field studies for a trial polio vaccine.

Whether you deal in a few dollars or in millions, the budget is just the same. If you borrow you have to pay back.

When the Emergency March of Dimes comes around Aug. 16 to 31 you can help. Please give generously. Send contributions to the Emergency March of Dimes, 153 E. Elizabeth St., Detroit 1, Mich.

Police to Show Emergency Unit

The brand-new mobile emergency headquarters unit of the Michigan State Police will be on display at the Michigan State Fair, September 3 through 12. Plans for the field office and communications center on wheels were developed following the Port Huron and Flint tornadoes when such a unit would have been of great value in directing rescue efforts and maintaining control.

The 33-foot trailer contains four radio transmitters and a telephone switchboard. The transmitter will communicate with the regular networks of the State Police, Conservation departments, and all local police and sheriff's departments. Telephone extensions can be rigged to other emergency headquarters, such as the National Guard and Civil Defense. A public address system is mounted on the roof top with an antenna tower with a height of 45 feet which telescopes into a length of 20 feet and tips over so it can be carried flat on the roof.

If regular power is unavailable, auxiliary power for both radio and lights can be supplied by a 5,000 watt generator carried in the truck tractor that pulls the trailer.

The trailer is said to be the most complete unit of its kind.

Republicans Set For Big Battle

LANSING, Mich.—“Win or lose, you have to live with yourself. I'll never do anything that I can't explain to my three children.”

Thus, Donald S. Leonard, Republican candidate for Governor in the November 2 general election, summarized his attitude shortly after he won the GOP nomination.

The 51-year-old Leonard, who won a national reputation as a police administrator and combines ability with experience in State government, added this: “I've got an idea that people are interested in a guy with character, integrity of purpose and unquestioned honesty.”

Republicans closed ranks behind Leonard after a primary election campaign characterized by the party unity and harmony theme laid down by State Chairman John Feikens.

“I think we're in better shape than we ever have been,” Leonard told GOP State Central Committee officers at a meeting the day after the primary. “The campaign was conducted on a high level and we are a united and harmonious party.”

Both State Treasurer D. Hale Brake and Secretary of State Owen J. Cleary, defeated by Leonard, pledged their full support to his campaign.

“Unlike the Democrats, we came out of the primary election unscarred and are ready for the big battle in November,” commented Feikens.

The Republican State Convention will meet in Grand Rapids August 21 to nominate candidates for Secretary of State, Attorney General, State Treasurer and Auditor General for the November election.

FOR FREEDOM MEMORIAL The combined committees of Gold Star Mothers and Gold Star Wives of the State of Michigan are holding their Sixth Annual Victory Day Service, Four Freedoms Memorial—where over 340 World War II heroes from every theatre of war are buried together (adjacent plot includes war dead of Korea), on Sunday afternoon, August 15, at 3 sharp at White Chapel Memorial Cemetery, East Long Lake road at Crooks in Bloomfield Hills.

Wednesday, August 11 JOHN RICE of PUEBLO, Colorado, got quick action and proof positive when he went to the local dog pound in quest of a dog to protect his chickens. He asked for one that would bite. The pound attendant picked one out, got him for Rice and then asked him to watch the dog while he answered the phone. When he returned, Rice's check and car were bleeding; he said, “That's the dog I want! He bit me.”

Voice of America Needs Linguists

The U. S. Information Agency, moving to strengthen the Government's overseas information program to combat Communist propaganda, issued a call for qualified volunteers with foreign language experience from the Detroit area to take positions in its international broadcasting service, the Voice of America.

The Agency is sending a special recruitment team to Detroit to interview candidates with professional foreign language experience in writing, editing, or radio production.

Agency officials, emphasizing that all candidates must be American citizens, said salaries range from $4,205 to $7,040 a year. Minimum age limit is 18. Most of the positions are in Washington.

Foreign language information specialists must be qualified to perform one or a combination of the following on a professional and high-quality and literary level: The writing, editing, adapting, producing, or voicing of news, features, documentary, dramatic, special events and music, radio, motion picture and television scripts. Some positions require experience in planning, programming and production of musical, documentary, and dramatic package radio programs.

Specialists are being sought with expert working knowledge of the following languages: Albanian, Armenian, Bulgarian, Czech-Slovak, Estonian, Georgian, Hungarian, Latvian, Lithuanian, Polish, Rumanian, Russian, Serbo-Croat, Slovene and Ukrainian. A TASK FORCE of the Chinese Nationalist navy wiped out a Red China task force in a battle off the southern Fukien province coast of the China mainland. According to the Nationalist report, issued from their Formosan headquarters, none of the Nationalist's war vessels were hit or received casualties. Eight Red ships were reported sunk.

A COLOMBIAN CONSTELLATION crashed shortly after it took off from Terceira Island in the Azores, killing all 21 passengers and its full crew of nine. Weather conditions at the time of the accident were reported to be poor. All the bodies were burned to ashes. Only one American was identified among the dead. He was a passenger, Herbert Hopkins, an engineer.

Tuesday, August 10

COMMUNIST-LED UNIONS were denied government sponsored bargaining services when the House un-American activities committee approved a bill sponsored by Committee Chairman Velde (R-Ill.).

The bill would allow the subversive activities control board the power to deny the services of the National Labor Relations Board to any union it believed to be Red-dominated.

The measure was said to be approved by a five-to-one vote. Representative Walter (D-Penn.) was the lone dissenter according to Velde. According to reliable sources he was opposed to the bill because it was similar to the legislation pigeon-holed by the House judiciary committee.

He is survived by his wife Lorena and daughter Joan. Mr. LeGro was the brother of Mrs. Robert Scripps and the late Catherine Buhl. Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon, August 11.

SUGGESTION PAYS OFF Participants in the Ford Motor Company's employee suggestion plan received a record $372,784 in cash awards during the first six months of 1954. John S. Bugas, vice president, industrial relations, announced today. The total surpassed by 31.7 per cent the previous six-months high of $282,933 paid in the last half of 1953.

Happy Wanderer Wee Bit Young

A pint size version of “The Happy Wanderer” was apprehended by Shores patrolman Melvin Yacks as he headed for the breakwater on the lake side of Lake Shore drive Saturday, August 7.

Yacks saw the two-year-old toddle across both lanes of Lake Shore and caught him just after he'd negotiated the curb. He took him home and warned the parents to keep a closer watch on the child.

Center's Drive Short Just $433

The War Memorial Center drive for funds ended officially two months ago, far short of its goal of $30,000. But it has never come completely to a stop, as a thin trickle of donations has continued to come in through the ensuing weeks.

Three more donors contributed a total of $33 during the last week, which brings the grand total just $433 short of the $30,000 goal.

Out of the Pointe's population of more than 50,000, only 2,144 subscribed to the campaign. The total raised to date is $29,566.50. It is still hoped that enough late gifts will be received to put the drive over the top and enable the Center to balance its budget during the current year.

One young Pointe matron has a unique story behind the black eye she sported for a few days.

When she was driving along Kercheval near the central library in her Jaguar, with the car top up to ward off the sun, a fly ball came winging out of the Little Leaguers' diamond with split second timing and caught her directly on the cheekbone. Stunned by the unexpected blow, she managed to stop the car and strove to regain her composure.

One of the small ball players came racing toward her, and she braced herself to accept his apology gracefully. Instead, he blurted out a mite belligerently. "Lady, I think you have my ball."

And being the "lady" that she was, she meekly picked the ball from the car floor and surrendered it to the young gentleman.

PILFERINGS

When Calvin Coolidge was president he took a visitor through the White House and in the course of the tour pointed out an incredibly bad portrait of himself hanging in one of the rooms.

Afraid to say what he thought of the painting, the visitor stared at it in respectful silence and waited for the president to give him his cue.

Mr. Coolidge finally snapped off the light and gently closed the door of the room. Then he turned around to his visitor and said, "So do I."

The Ohio General Code provides: "A person assaulted and lynched by a mob may recover, from the county in which such assault is made, a sum not to exceed five hundred dollars."

Didjknow? In the early days of America, honeymooning couples in hotels and inns were each given a key to a "honeymoon lock." The lock didn't open unless both keys were turned.

A British visitor got a shock at Salt Lake City, the Mormon headquarters in Utah.

When introduced to a little girl, he said, "I'm from London, but I don't suppose you know where that is."

"Of course I do," the child replied. "Our church has a missionary there."

The liner was about to leave for Europe, and a steward stood at the head of the gangway explaining to the arriving passengers, "First class to the forward lounge, second class below."

As a young woman stepped on to the deck with a small baby in her arms, he stepped thoughtfully over to her and inquired, "First or second, madam?"

The girl blushed and stammered, "Oh dear, it's not mine."

MRS. NELLIE MAE ASHMORE AND HER DAUGHTER, MRS. EDWARD GRECARD, OF SOMERSET ROAD

by Kitty Marriott

"Life Begins at Eighty" was the theme of the University Club birthday party given Wednesday, August 4, for Mrs. Edward Ashmore, and the radiant guest of honor, stepping into her ninth decade of life, made the theme a reality.

The event was given by Mrs. Ashmore's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Grenard of Somerset road. Among the 200 guests invited were all the members of the Senior Club of Grosse Pointe.

Hands Out Corsages

On a table in the lobby of the University Club (Mr. Grenard is club manager) was a styrofoam replica of a huge number "80," to which were pinned myriad tiny corsages. Small Mary Lou Shannon lent a turn-of-the-century touch at the door, feigningly dressed in blue dotted Swiss of the 1890 era—her crisp blue sash holding in the full skirt over a quaint hoop-skirt to show tiered pantaloons edged in lace. The quaint little miss in pale blue handed corsages to guests as they entered.

Similarly gowned in costumes of early 1900 as a surprise touch, were Mrs. Grenard and Mrs. Ivan Link. Mrs. Grenard received the guests in a high-necked white dimity frock worn by her mother in 1910. Lace inserts crossed the tucked bodice and an 18-inch ruffle on the skirt swept the floor. Her pin, a cornelian circled with gold, had been brought from Kent County, England, by Mrs. Ashmore's mother. A sash of black velvet set off Mrs. Link's white lawn gown, circa 1915, which was trimmed with lace embroidery.

For her reception and tea, Mrs. Ashmore wore a cornflower blue nylon dress, white accessories and an orchid corsage.

A large cake dominated the tea table, and again the figure "80" was cleverly fashioned by tiny pastry violets in its center. Mrs. Anna Kinsey had charge of the guest book. Presiding at the tea urns were Mrs. C. B. Royer of Lincoln road, Mrs. Antonia Eliason of N. Oxford road, Mrs. George Moekel of Loraine road, and Mrs. Mark K. Edgar of Lincoln road.

The guest of honor, who was born 80 years ago in Princeton, Ill., has had a full lifetime. She remained in Princeton through her high school years, then married in 1897 and moved with her husband to a ranch in South Dakota. During her 16 years there, she had three children, battled a prairie fire and lived the life of a pioneering woman.

Tornado Wrecked Home

The Ashmores spent the next few years on a wheat ranch in Saskatchewan, where a tornado destroyed their home in 1922. A son, Robert, died at the age of 26. Mrs. Ashmore has another daughter, Mrs. Harry Hawley, who lives in Semans, Saskatchewan. Her only grandson, Jack Grenard, attends Michigan State College. Since Mr. Ashmore's death a number of years ago, she has made her home with the Grenards.

Mrs. Ashmore, who is secretary-treasurer of the Grosse Pointe Senior Club, is also its unofficial greeter. Her charm and enthusiasm make newcomers feel at home, and she keeps them under her wing until they are well-acquainted with other club members.

Has Many Interests

This Pointer's many interests belie her 80 years. She loves to grow house plants, has a collection of miniatures, is an avid letter writer and loyally remembers friends on their birthdays.

"She has friends all over," say her son-in-law and daughter. One family friend from South Dakota, Gilbert Williams, came from his present home in Rockford, Ill., to be on hand for her "Life Begins at 80" party.

Mrs. Ashmore has lived a full, happy 80 years, and she began her 81st year in typical Ashmore fashion by sharing her fun with her friends.

MOCHA TORTE

Contributed by
Mrs. Maxwell Laffrey

Slice a 9½-inch angel cake in five layers crosswise. If you make your own, make it two days ahead of time; if you use a package mix, make it one day ahead, so that the cake will be firm.

The day before you plan to serve the torte, make the following filling:

Gradually add 1½ c. sifted confectioners' sugar to ½ c. butter. Cream well. Add a pinch of salt, 1 t. vanilla, and 2 egg yolks. Mix thoroughly.

Add 2 sq. unsweetened chocolate, melted, and 6 T. double strength coffee. Fold in 2 egg whites, beaten stiff.

Spread filling between cake layers, and chill overnight in refrigerator.

On the day of your party or dinner, whip 1½ c. cream and flavor with vanilla. Frost the cake with whipped cream and chill until serving time.

Plan Barbecue At Boat Club

Saddles and spurs, cow pokes and cow girls, branding irons, chuck wagons, the odor of barbecue and burning wood will greet members of the Detroit Boat Club on Saturday, August 14, when they arrive at the Party-of-the-Month which will be an "Old Fashioned Western Bar-B-Q."

Music will be furnished by Clark Williams and his Western Five.

The Glenn E. Massnicks of Farmbrook are chairmen of this party.

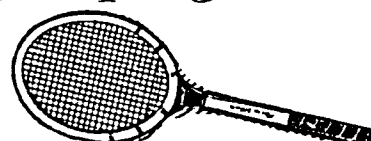

Duane Beam Family Back From Vacation in Bahamas

Dr. and Mrs. A. Duane Beam of Lincoln road have recently returned home after a month's vacation in the Bahamas. Their daughter, Dolly, 13, accompanied them.

The Beams, who have spent their holidays at Nassau, this year built their own eight-room home on Eleuthera Island, 60 miles west of Nassau.

The one-story house was built from coral dug out of the very hill on which it stands. It is at Governor Harbor in the center of the island, which is 90 miles long and only 1 mile wide.

Are you planning to live on Campus most of the time for the next four years? You can be as comfortable and cheerful away from home as you want to be. Of course that takes a little planning. You don't have to spend a fortune either. Before you shop check the ready-made room ensembles in washable corduroy . . . very tailored. See what you can do with the ready-made curtains, bedspreads, bolsters and pillows in other textured weaves. It will make all the difference in how much you will enjoy your four walls. Springfield blankets are sized to size . . . that is they won't shrink. Fashioned of wool and nylon the twin size is eleven dollars and ninety-five cents and the double is around fifteen dollars. It's the delightful habit of that store, Jacobson's Home Decorative Shop, in the village, to have just what you need.

Change. That is one of those important things in life. Makes it more interesting. We like the change in seasons. We like the change that comes this time of year . . . the city change from summer to fall. From now on you'll see more mid-summer sheers . . . more autumn cottons. We have reason to believe that you will doze on Margaret Rice's exclusive autumn cottons. If memory serves us, there were stripes of grey on wine or black or blue . . . and all this was perked up with a touch of white.

A mid-summer sheer just might do something for your ego.

76 Kercheval, on the hill.

A riot of color . . . mass strands . . . and big motifs give jewelry a youthful, and full of fun, freedom. This year you can look for soft, flowing gold or silver chains, made of big, clinking feather-weight links. Breath-takingly beautiful beads of every size, every imaginable shape, color and texture are strung on tiny links. Bracelets will look like tire chains wrought by artists. Metal or beaded fringes of minute links supply motifs for dripping earrings, lariat tassels, magnificent pins and fobs. And you can bet your sweet life that Jacobson's will be featuring fall jewelry, so inseparably linked to "Chanel" this season.

Did you know that for the last fourteen years the Johnston Optical Co., on the hill, has kept a record of your prescriptions for future duplications? That in case you have a broken lens they have special instruments that determine your prescription? And another pertinent fact is that they have specialized exclusively in grinding lenses and filling prescriptions for ethical eye doctors for 78 years. A good record isn't it? The newest addition to 87 Kercheval . . . that's Johnston's Optical Co., is air-conditioning.

About this time you may have some slides or movies you'd like to look at but you don't own the projector or screen. In that case, why don't you rent a slide projector, movie projector or screen . . . of course we suggest the Camera Center, in the village. There is a large selection of movies, too, in 8 mm and 16 mm in silent or sound. Kid's party movies, too.

Going away to school? Bright ideas in clocks . . . Irons 'n even hairdryers are at Fromm's, in the village. P. S.: A good selection of sport equipment, too.

Let's chatter about skirts. The news about skirts this year is contained in fabrics. For example most of the buyers in New York this year applauded tweeds with enthusiasm. They praised them for their colors and lightweight. The other important fabric in fall skirts is flannel. Now for fullness. It can be said that slim skirts will be more strongly represented in Northern cities than in Southern ones. And this is to remind you to keep an eye on Jacobson's skirts in the Sportswear Department.

Parents Invited To Scout Ranch

Parents and families, as well as Scouts and Leaders are invited to the typical western-style Ranch Round-up at the D-Bar-A Scout Ranch, near Metamora, this weekend, August 14 and 15.

Scouts and Leaders may camp for the weekend; parents and families are invited to the Saturday evening Campfire or the Sunday afternoon and evening program.

The Saturday program includes a mammoth evening campfire with Indian dancing, songs, pagentry and fire-lighting demonstrations by World Champion "Uncle Otto" C. Hornung.

The Sunday program, to which parents and families are especially invited, includes horsemanship, bull-whipping, axemanship, log-sawing, and Indian lore. Reservations must be made for
