THOUSANDS of rebel workers at the Ford Motor company's Mercury plant in Wayne and the vast Rouge plant, have returned to work, under threat of contract penalties. Skilled workers of the company struck when they were given an eight-cent raise, instead of the 30 cents they demanded. Their opposition appeared to be on an individual basis. Where all departments using skilled workers were affected some men did come to work. Terms of the new contract helped prod the workers back on the job. It provided any work stoppage before Wednesday night will not result in disciplinary action.

KONRAD ADENAUER, Chancellor of West Germany, appears to be in favor of establishing diplomatic, economic and cultural relationship with Russia. He agreed, in principle, to accept a Russian invitation to Moscow to discuss the matter. A final decision will be made after several points are cleared up, as far as the invitation is concerned. Adenauer also intends to consult with the United States, Britain and France before giving an affirmative to the Soviet offer.

PRODUCTION of nuclear weapons will be stepped up next year by the Atomic Energy Commission if President Eisenhower will give his approval. The AEC wants to augment the present supply of atomic arms. It also plans to expand a program to develop an atomic-powered airplane, based upon a new approach to ticklish engineering problems discovered during experiments last year.

THE BREAKDOWN of the mass anti-polio program was blamed on mass production methods, according to the U.S. Public Health Service. Defects caused by this method of production of the Salk Polio Vaccine, brought a sweeping reorganization in the Government's biological program. A new Division of Biological Standards was created with expanded powers and facilities to prevent any further complications in the polio vaccine program.

A RASH of strikes forced General Motors to close 20 of its plants. However, hopes are still high that the firm will consent to a new contract, similar or better than the one the UAW (CIO) had with the Ford Motor company. GM said the 20 plants may reopen Monday. Walter P. Reuther, president of the UAW and CIO said the Ford contract incorporated the principle of a guaranteed annual wage and he will press for this in the GM contract.

THE WESTERN ALLIES were assured by West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer that West Germany was on the side of the West. He said he was willing to hold a conference with top level Russians, but one thing was certain and that is that his country will adhere to obligations taken up under the treaties with the West. The Chancellor has been invited to Moscow to discuss the possibility of establishing full diplomatic relations with Russia.

Saturday, June 11
THE UAW (CIO) warned General Motors that if an agreement is not reached within 48 hours, it plans to talk and disclose developments at the bargaining table. UAW Vice President John W. Livingston issued the notice to the firm. Meanwhile, 350,000 GM workers throughout the country are poised for a strike. A news blackout has prevailed in the bargaining room all week and both sides are pledged to give the other 48 hours before they did any talking. GM appeared to be playing a cat-and-mouse game.

TWO PREMIERS chorused hopes of peace and hoped that the world would follow in their footsteps. Calling themselves champions of peace were Russian Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin and India's Jawaharlal Nehru. Bulganin led off by voicing hopes that the efforts of India, Russia

Pointe Minister and Wife to Work for Church in Japan

Parishioners of the Grosse Pointe Methodist Church are sending their pastor, the Rev. Hugh White, and his wife to Japan for missionary work in observance of the church's tenth anniversary. Here the pair's youngest son, Jeffrey, 3½, helps them pack for their June 20 departure. Jeffrey, with his older brother, Stewart, 7½, will stay with his grandparents in Texas while the Whites are abroad. (See Story on Page 2.)

GPUS Gives 33 Diplomas To June Grads

Headmaster John Chandler Jr., Awards Scholarships And Prizes

The Grosse Pointe University School held its graduation exercises yesterday, June 15, at 8:30 p.m., in Christ Church, during which 33 graduates were awarded their diplomas.

The program began with a procession, after which Reginald Heber sang the hymn, "Holy, Holy, Holy!"

The invocation was given by Rev. George Whitney; the introduction was made by Dexter Ferry and the salutatorian speech was given by Reade Haines Ryan, Jr.

Awarding of scholarships and prizes were made by John Chandler, Jr., headmaster of GPUS; then the Glee Club sang Choral Selections.

Lawrence Prexy Speaks
The commencement address was given by Dr. Douglas M. Knight, president of Lawrence College, New York.

Mr. Chandler, Blanche Richardson and W. V. Grimes then awarded the diplomas.

A speech by Valedictorian Edgar C. Howbert followed the presentation.

The "Star Spangled Banner" was then sung; Rev. Whitney gave the benediction and the recession ended the program.

The school numbered 33 graduates in its 1955 class. They are:

Teen Agers Act to Curb Illegal Hot Rod Driving; Form 'Tappet Tickers' Club

Youths Join State Association to Maintain Auto Interest; Cooperate with Police on Safety Rules

A group of conscientious Grosse Pointe youths are doing something about the teen age driving stigma. They've organized a club called the "Tappet-Tickers." Its purpose: instill and maintain a wholesome interest in automobiles. To the Tappet-Tickers this means many things.

Organized a year ago, come this fall, the club has grown three-fold since its inception. It now boasts 21 members.

"We banded together because we didn't like the idea of racing on the city streets, yet we wanted to race just the same," said spokesman Dick Forton, one of the club's founders. He went on to explain himself.

To Join Association
"You see, if you organize into a club and can meet the specifications, you can join the Michigan Hot Rod Association. This allows you racing privileges on approved drag strips." Drag racing is a coined word for acceleration races.

Thus founded, the club moved on to meet the MHRA specifications. "We learned that we couldn't have our cake and eat it too," Forton said. He meant by this that many of the members had to discipline themselves.

At First—Still Raced
Being completely honest, Forton explained that at first some of the club's members still raced about the city streets. "I don't know what it is, but we all seem to have speed in our blood; but we realized that then we couldn't do it and still keep a good club reputation."

In the first few months the club had to drop two of its charter members for infractions. "In our constitution we drew up a strict set of rules. We stipulated that if anyone broke those, they would be subject to a fine or expulsion," Forton said.

Some of the rules would shock even grown up drivers. Any member getting any kind of ticket concerning an automobile, must pay half of the ticket's face value to the club coffers. That means on a two dollar parking ticket, the club member is out a total of $3.

Other rules parallel closely the rules of the city and state. Any member getting three moving violations in the span of one year is expelled.

Any ticket, on the other hand, can warrant expulsion. "If it's serious enough, we simply can't have the offender wearing our colors," Forton said. "There needn't be a ticket, either. If one member hears of another driving recklessly, that member can be reprimanded with anything up to expulsion."

And there have been cases where the club has acted in lieu of the police. "We kicked one guy out because he didn't follow our safety standards. He was all right at meetings and when he was around us, but when he got with this other group he went wild, he was wild. We kicked him out."

No Drinking When Driving
The club does not condone drinking. At any club function, liquor is taboo, and a member is automatically dropped from the club rolls if he drives anywhere after drinking.

When Forton was asked how these rules were enforced, he answered simply, "Honor." The club works on the honor system; i.e. if anyone gets a ticket or breaks the rules, he will report it.

"And it really doesn't pay to fess up," Forton said. "We don't always find out, just most of the time." Any member can and does report a fellow for infractions. "We just can't afford a bad name. People already shun anything connected with the word 'hot rod.' We're trying to remedy this and the only way we can do

Ready Final Drain Plans For Woods

Drainage Project Completion Will Lift Wood's Building Restrictions

Formal resolutions pertaining to the Grosse-Gratiot Drain have been given to Wayne County Drain Commissioner Christopher Mülle and final plans are being drawn and costs of the project is being settled, Woods City Administrator William H. Lange revealed.

With official resolutions in hand, authorizing a go-head by the two communities, Drain Commissioner Mülle hopes to have the project started at least by October.

Woods to Lift Restrictions
Once completed, the drainage system will allow the Woods to lift building restrictions, which have been imposed in 1953, by the Michigan Health Department, which stated that the present sewer system of the city was not adequate to take care of this fast-growing Pointe community.

The drain will also alleviate the problem of flooded basements, which have been plaguing Woods residents during extremely heavy rains.

The trunk sewer of the planned project will run east on Vernier road from Beaconsfield in Harper Woods, to Marter road in the Woods. Then north along Marter and into the Milk River through a pumping station in the Woods DPW yard.

Milk River To Be Widened
The Milk River, which will be widened, straightened and diked, empties into Lake St. Clair.

Enclosure to Black Fox Creek Drain, an extension of the Milk River in the Woods, is being contemplated. The Girard Drain, which is six to eight feet wide in spots and cutting diagonally through Harper Woods, is to be enclosed or abandoned.

City Administrator Lange said that the Woods share in the project has not been determined yet, but it will be taken up at a future council meeting.

Harper Woods' estimated share of the work has been set at about three million dollars.

INJURES HEAD
Farms firemen took Mrs. Elizabeth Mitchell, 91, or 80 Moross, to Bon Secours Hospital on Saturday, June 11, for treatment of a deep scalp wound. The injury was inflicted when the woman fell in her back yard and struck her head against a hard object.

Mutual Fire Help Planned By Pointes With Harper Woods

Better Fire Protection Spearheaded by City Commissioner John Mazer; Six Area Communities Hope to Have Agreement Soon

Plans for mutual fire aid between the five Pointe communities and Harper Woods are nearing completion according to information disclosed by City Commissioner of Public Safety John Mazer, who is spearheading the movement.

Mr. Mazer said that the six communities are in the process of studying and working out a mutual aid plan for fire protection, and that already several meetings have been held on the subject.

The first meeting, held on June 1, in the Park, was between Commissioner Mazer, Park City Manager Everett E. Lane and Farms City Manager Harry Furton.

City Heads Meet
A week later, on June 8, the three officials met with Woods City Administrator William H. Lange, Shores Village Manager Thomas Jeffris and Harper Woods City Manager Robert J. McNutt, for a further discussion of the plan.

Mr. Mazer said that additional meetings will be held until a complete and workable solution to the mutual aid can be prepared for presentation to the councils of the respective cities for formal adoption.

He said that the mutual aid plan took form on May 24, when City Mayor Fred Barker, Jr., appointed a Public Safety committee composed of Councilmen John Kenower, Kenneth Bergmann and David Burgess, for the purpose of studying integrated fire protection plan among the Pointes and Harper Woods.

Mayor Barker directed the committee to bring in its recommendations for consideration by the council at an early date.

The meetings already held were called for by Commissioner Mazer, under instructions from the committee.

The Commissioner stated that he hopes the agreement will be ready for the respective councils within a week or so, for official action.

The opening of the Farms Municipal Park will be delayed for several days from the date it was scheduled to be opened to the residents of the city, City Manager Harry Furton disclosed.

Mr. Furton said that the opening date has been postponed from June 18 to June 25, because there are no parking facilities available.

He said that the contractor has not been able to put the finishing touches at the park because of the weather. Already three days have been lost because of this and indications of more bad weather may delay the contractor several more days.

CHERRY BOMB
Mrs. Joseph Black, Jr., of 352 McKinley, complained to Farms police on Thursday, June 9, that someone had placed a "cherry bomb" in the milk chute at the side of her house, which exploded, cracking the chute door and damaging the plaster.

Board OK's $12,000 Boost In Expenses

Burt Wicking Uncontested in School Election; 242 Votes Cast

A record $188,763 budget appropriation for the public library was OK'd by the Board of Education at its annual election meeting held Monday evening, June 13, at the Grosse Pointe High School.

The appropriation, the largest ever granted the library system, surpasses last year's allotted funds by more than $12,000.

The results of the school election were also announced at the Monday evening meeting. Mr. Bert H. Wicking, running uncontested for his fifth term as a member of the board, won with only the slightest of contest. Four write-in candidates garnered four votes, or one apiece. There were 242 ballots cast.

Though the library appropriation was boosted to absorb regular salary increases and to allow for capital replacement, in the final breakdown, the book purchase funds were increased by $2,500 also.

Book Fund Increased
This increase, coupled with a simultaneous Monday evening grant of an additional $2,500 by the Friends of the Library for book purchases, brings the libraries' total funds for book addition to $27,500 for the 1955 fiscal year.

At the present, the Main Library and its two branches possess a total of 65,813 books. "This figure is low for a community the size of Grosse Pointe," said Library Director Robert Orr. "We are aiming at 100,000."

The one hundred thousand goal is not expected to be reached for at least another 10 years, Orr went on to say, "but the Board's granted increase coupled with the support of outside groups such as the Friends of the Library, puts us just that much closer."

Salaries Raised
The most substantial part of the increase will be used for regular salary increases and the purchase of a new library car.

In the increase breakdown, $4,148 will go to the pay hikes. This figure includes a part time assistant to Director Orr.

The libraries' present vehicle, a 1950 Ford, will be replaced. This replacement is according to the long range budget set-up. "We figure on car replacement every five years," Orr said. "We are actually logging money on operation if this is not met."

The auto is used daily as a shuttle bus between the libraries. It also serves to accommodate the public schools and pick up overdue books, plus routine library business.

Friends of Library Grant
The Friends of the Library's grant, announced the same evening as the Board's meeting, will be used to purchase books not allotted out of tax funds. A good part of the money will be used to increase a special portion of the book stock.

"The Friends have planned to buy special children's books to be used in adult education," Orr said. The grant will also be used to add to the libraries' rare book collection, started recently with the purchase of a rare Shakespearean work.

Own Fourth Folio
"We are the owners of one of the original fourth folios. There are only four others like it in the U.S.," Orr said. Around this the Friends wish to build a significant rare book collection.

In a breakdown of the increase funds, $17 will go to supplies; $1,000 to rebinding; $100 to car operation expenses; $200 to operation expenses; $2,200 to maintenance of building and $2,300 to new equipment (substantially auto purchase). These figures, coupled with the new book fund and the salary increases bring the increase total to $12,431.

In his annual Monday evening address to the Board, President Wicking cited the many special services that the library renders to Pointe residents.

Host to 12,035
Besides the usual public services, the library was host to some 12,035 people, members of community interest groups who met at the main building. During the

Ernest Kanzler Heads Campaign

Last week's Grosse Pointe News carried a story on Pointers who are active in the Metropolitan Detroit Building Fund. The story indicated that the drive is under the direction of Finlay C. Allan, Mr. Allan, although active in the campaign, is not the director. This position is filled by Pointers Ernest Kanzler, chairman of the Board of Directors, and William A. Day, president.

The News regrets this error.

Aids Drive

The appointment of Ross Roy of 186 Clovertly as vice chairman in charge of Retail Promotion and Public Relations of the 1955 Torch Drive was announced by Benson Ford, general campaign chairman.

Roy, president of Ross Roy, Inc., Advertising Agency, will head a group of 400 sales, advertising and publicity experts who will prepare and distribute material for educating the three million residents of the United Foundation solicitation area on the needs of 150 health and community services.

Three committees will be named by Roy. The public relations committee will prepare and distribute publicity material through newspapers, radio, television, industrial and labor publications, theaters and special publications and will be responsible for the staging of special events.

The Advertising-Advertising committee will coordinate production of booklets and manuals, radio and television spot announcements, outdoor advertising, transportation advertising, industry-sponsored newspaper advertisements and displays.

Some 75,000 volunteers will work for the success of the 1955 Torch Drive, to be held Oct. 18 through Nov. 10. The quota has not yet been determined. Last year, $14,008,000 was raised.

past year, 535 community meetings were held within the walls of the Fisher road building. This is not to mention the tool library and film service made available to the residents.

Wickling also noted the 2,227 user increase since June of 1954, bringing the total library subscribers to 18,644. This figure is approximately 33 per cent of the population. Detroit, one of the finest library systems in the country, has only 18.9 per cent of its population using its facilities.

The motion by School Board Secretary Chet Sampson to vote through the $188,753 library appropriation, passed without dissent.

Methodists Send Pastor To Japan for Anniversary

The Pointe is going to miss one of its most colorful and well liked churchmen. The Rev. Hugh White, minister of the Grosse Pointe Methodist Church and his wife will leave June 20 for a two month stay in Japan.

Hugh White, as his congregation refer to him, will join 24 other interdenominational Protestant ministers in summer mission work.

Off to the land of Nippon, Hugh White's efforts have been made possible through lay contributions, and the good graces of Father Time. It's the church's tenth anniversary and what could be a more fitting celebration than this trip—so they'll be off.

The object of the excursion was to establish 10 new churches. The missionaries' efforts will be under the auspices of a group with a very long name, the National Christian Council of Japan, the Interboard Committee for Christian Work in Japan. Which means we're alright," said the Rev. White.

The work to be done by the 25 missionaries is an extension of another project started in 1951. While in Japan, the Rev.

Tomio Muto, editor of "The Christian News," will supervise and aid the group. For a good part of their stay, the group will be preaching and working from different churches throughout the country.

"I'll let go with a few lines from my sermon and then an interpreter will take over. They (the congregation) won't know what I'm saying and I won't know what the interpreter's telling them," Rev. White said. "Some set up! And it just occurred to me, that because of the time it will probably take, it looks as if I'm going to have to stop being such a windbag."

The entire project is known as the "Centenary Special Mission to Japan." The ultimate goal of the project is to have one million Christian devotees by 1959.

After a short tour around the Japanese islands, the Whites are expected back in the Pointe in early September. They promise some interesting tales of the Christian life in Japan.

The entire party will travel both ways by air.

Park Approves New Official

The Park council on Monday, June 13, approved the appointment of Robert Earl Jones of 28047 Pountain, road, Roseville, as the city's new comptroller.

Mr. Jones was with the firm of Bernstein and Bernstein, certified public accountants, and Woods Motor, Inc., in the Woods, before taking up his position with the Park. His appointment was effective as of May 31.

He received his bachelor's degree as a CPA from the University of Detroit in January, 1952.

He is a veteran of World War II, serving in the Army for three years, two of them in Germany. He was honorably discharged with a corporal rating December, 1945.

He is married and the father of two children.

Jane succeeds Warren Schnoe who resigned February 15.

NEW APPOINTMENT

Appointment of G. H. Bobertz as general manager of Clark & Bobertz, Inc., national advertising agency with headquarters in the Fox Building, is announced by L. A. Clark, president. He resides at 1025 Cadieux road.

Young Pianist Plans Recital

Rosaleen Malow, daughter of the Marvin J. Malows of Lincoln road, and a 9A at Pierce Junior High School, will take a different kind of final exam Thursday, June 23.

Not having exactly to do with her formal education, it is nevertheless important. And from all reports she'll pass with "flying colors, or fingers" as the case may be.

Rosaleen will present an 8:15 piano recital in the Center Hall at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial. It will be her Junior Graduating Recital from the Grosse Pointe Conservatory of Music.

Rosaleen, who has been studying piano since she was old enough to climb on a piano bench, will open with Grieg's Piano Concerto in A minor, Opus 16 Allegro Moderato.

She will also play selections from Bach, Beethoven, Respighi and Schumann. As her finale, she has chosen Gershwin's Rhapsody in Blue for two pianos. Miss Leone Hahnke, who Rosaleen has been studying under, will accompany the young artist for the Grieg and Gershwin numbers.

Rosaleen plans to continue her private training at the Grosse Pointe Conservatory and after graduation from high school, enroll in the University of Michigan School of Music. At the present she is studying music theory from a U. of M. associate.

A buffet at the Memorial will be served following the recital.

HUB CAPS STOLEN

Farms Firemen To Attend Meet

Most of the members of the Farms Fire Department will attend the 27th annual Michigan Fire College which will be held at the University of Michigan from June 14 to 17.

Although this is nothing new as far as the department is concerned, it is being so arranged that more of the members can attend than in previous years.

The city's governing body has approved attendance and has made the necessary provision to enable those who can't attend the college.

While there, firemen will learn more about the prevention of fire, its control and extinguishing.

NO SHORTS

Helen Tait of 21809 McCormick, Detroit, reported the theft of a pair of child's Bermuda shorts to Farms police on Saturday, June 11. She said the item was taken from her car which was parked in the Kercheval business district.

Issue Warning On Area Signs

The police of two Pointe communities have been ordered to take immediate steps in correcting the number and size of signs used by real estate agencies, builders and other property owners.

The drive is aimed at billboards, signboards, banners, pennants and other advertising media, in the Shores; and especially against real estate and construction contracting firm signs, in the Farms.

The Shores will be enforcing an ordinance which was passed on July 20, 1953, and which recently became effective; and the Farms will carry out its campaign empowered by an ordinance which has been in effect for some time.

Violators have been placing their signs in public right-of-ways, on land between the sidewalk and the curb, and other places in an attempt to attract business.

The Shores police, according to Chief Fred Duemling, have been sending violators warnings and asked that they co-operate in correcting the violations. If this is not forthcoming then stronger action will be taken.

Farms City Manager Harry Furton said he has instructed his policemen to pick up any signs that are found where they are not supposed to be. Owners will be notified where the signs can be picked up, and warned against any repetition of the offense.

Each community has restriction on the number and size of signs which can be used and which must be placed on the property being advertised only.

Cyclist Struck On Fisher Road

Fifteen-year-old Robert Bryce was struck down Friday, June 10, when he rode his bike into oncoming traffic on Fisher road. He suffered minor cuts and bruises.

Not heeding traffic, Bryce rode out of a driveway and in front of a car driven by Barbara Cattell of 1152 Nottingham and was struck down.

Because the accident happened near the intersection of St. Paul and Fisher, Miss Cattell was not traveling at a high rate of speed. Bryce was taken to Bon Secour hospital.

Community Theatre Produces Detective Story

BILL CARROTHERS and DOROTHY MATTHEWS check their lines before opening night.

Detective Story Slated For Weekend Performances

Through the combined efforts of author Sidney Kingsley, the Detroit Police Department, and the many members of the Grosse Pointe Community Theatre, "Detective Story" will open tomorrow night at Cannon Memorial Center. The Pointe players, who have produced a string of comedy hits this season, prove their versatility as they present one of the most gripping dramas of recent years. The play will be performed as it was written, raw and explosive, its realism intact.

"Detective McLeod," played by Jim Wright, is the dominant figure in the story, a man who tries to be judge, jury and executioner of the criminals he hates, and who almost succeeds before his obsession destroys him.

Permeating the turbulent atmosphere of the story are a number of widely divergent characters who have reason to be present in the station house when the "roof blows off." There is the comical shoplifter who took a handbag she didn't want, the boy who embezzled from his employer to entertain a lovely girl, the two burglars, loaded with loot and swearing their innocence, the woman who insisted her neighbors were making atom bombs in their basement, and many others.

"Detective Story" is excellent entertainment for an adult audience. Tickets at $1.25 and 75 cents may be purchased at the door. Performances are Friday and Saturday evenings at 8:30, and at 2:30 Sunday afternoon.

Cannon Memorial Auditorium is located on E. Warren near Cadieux Rd. Bluehill St., one block east of Cadieux, enters Cannon's large parking area.

"Detective Story" will be directed by Dean Erskine and produced by Betty Cook. The leading roles will be played by Jim Wright, as "Detective McLeod," and Lynne Girard as his wife, "Mary." Clyde Adler, who starred in "Time Out for Ginger," will be seen as "Detective Brody." Robert Maxwell is "Arthur Kildred," Pat Rice will portray "Susan Carmichael," and "Bo" Potthoff plays the role of "Detective Callahan."

"Dr. Kurt Schneider" will be enacted by Ken Smith, his lawyer, "Endicott Sims" by Bill Carrothers. Two tough mugs, "Char-

Kenyon Awards Pointers Degrees

Two men from Grosse Pointe were awarded the A.B. degrees on Friday, June 10 at the 127th Commencement of Ohio's Kenyon College.

They are Lewis C. Leach, 547 Lincoln road, and F. Wilson Dettlinger, Jr., of 636 Washington road. Both men did their major work in the field of history.

Leach has been active at the college with his fraternity, Beta Theta Pi. Dettlinger has served as a member of the varsity lacrosse team and as sports editor of the College annual. His fraternity is Delta Tau Delta. Following the Commencement ceremony he was commissioned a second lieutenant in the Air Force Reserve by Maj. Joseph F. Hall, officer in command of Kenyon's R.O.T.C. detachment.

The Hon. A. D. P. Heeney, Canadian Ambassador to the United States, was Commencement speaker.

Topping for broiled tomatoes: fresh bread crumbs mixed with olive oil and grated Parmesan cheese.

How a Child's Camera Saved the Day

As it happened, the ceremonies were originally scheduled for last Saturday, June 11. This would allow the two Lehman children, Margaret Ann, 10 and Karol Sue, 7 to be on hand. They are camera enthusiasts and wanted to snap a few pictures.

Because it was impossible to get all those concerned with the new Manor development rounded up for the Saturday date, the Lehman's were forced to move the ceremony up to Thursday, June 9.

Of course this disappointed Margaret and Karol, but they did the next best thing. They gave their mother the camera and asked her to get a few shots of the goings on.

The NEWS staff photographer because of conflicting schedules, was unable to cover the ceremonies and a commercial photographer was called in.

Loaded down with his elaborate equipment, he arrived and snapped for half an hour or so. Back at the studio, he developed the pictures, but much to his amazement, he got nothing but blank negatives. He called the paper. He explained his error. It seems he'd neglected to remove the camera filter.

But then he remembered something. Just before the ceremonies were over, Mrs. Lehman had asked him if he would mind taking a few pictures with her daughter's camera. He had gladly obliged.

The rest, of course, is obvious. He rushed over and got the film and above are the results. All considered, it's somewhat of a feather in his cap, too. That some one accustomed to expensive equipment, can take such a fine picture with a child's camera.

Circumstances again providing, the Lehman's hope to be in their new establishment by the first of November. Conventional Early American, it will seat twice the capacity of the present establishment, or 150 people.

Alma to Build New Dormitory

Alma College will begin construction on a new women's dormitory this summer. Ground was broken for the new building in a surprise ceremony held Commencement Day, June 4th.

Dr. John Stanley Harker, President, announced that the Board of Trustees had authorized the start of construction when a special campaign for the dormitory had reached a total of $450,000.

Dr. Harker announced a total of $454,000 at Commencement. The new building will be ready for the opening of the school year in the fall of 1956.

The new dormitory will house approximately 200 women and will cost $720,000. A campaign to raise the balance needed is expected to achieve the full objective before the building is completed.

Three new buildings have already been completed on the Alma College campus in the past three years.—The Jerry Tyler Student Center, The Van Dusen Commons, and the Reid-Knox Administration Building. The Reid-Knox building was formally presented to the College by Mrs. Annie Reid Knox at a dedication ceremony held on Commencement Day.

Festival on Water Front Scheduled for August

Detroit will be the scene this summer of one of the world's most elaborate civic festivals when the motor city launches its "Riverama" fete in August.

The entire riverfront area of the civic center is being turned over to the Riverama Committee for the celebration, August 20-28. Weld S. Maybee, director of the Memorial Hall Commission, announced today.

The Riverama Festival area will run from Shelby street, west to Third avenue, and from the Detroit river, north to the Woodbridge-Front street line.

All Detroiters will be given the opportunity to participate in this city-wide festival. Riverama sponsors embrace business and industry, retail merchants, labor organizations, and the aquatic and boating groups throughout the metropolitan area.

One of the most colorful and largest marine parades ever held, and a shore cavalcade of major Detroit industries will kick-off this exciting eight-day water and shore celebration, located in the center of Michigan's water wonderland.

Thousands of visitors are expected to join the festivities which will climax on Saturday, August 28, with the world's championship Silver Cup Race on the Detroit river, the busiest river in the world.

"Detroit is looking forward to the most exciting eight days in its history," declared Councilman Blanche Parent Wise who sparked the movement for a civic festival.

From early morning until late at night, sporting and entertainment activities will take place in areas all over the city.

"With all the resources and facilities of this mighty city, the Riverama Festival should become the outstanding summer event in the country. Activities planned for the civic center will call national attention to Detroit's civic development and let the nation

School's End Means Extra Care by Motorists

That familiar reminder to Detroit school children—Stop-Look-Walk before you cross the street—was being pasted on the screen doors of their homes this week, as school was about to end for summer vacation.

Nearly 85,000 of the "screen-door stickers" were distributed by Detroit school teachers to children in the first and second grades of Detroit public, parochial and private schools. Teachers impressed on the children the importance of crossing streets safely and instructed them to take the stickers home to their parents.

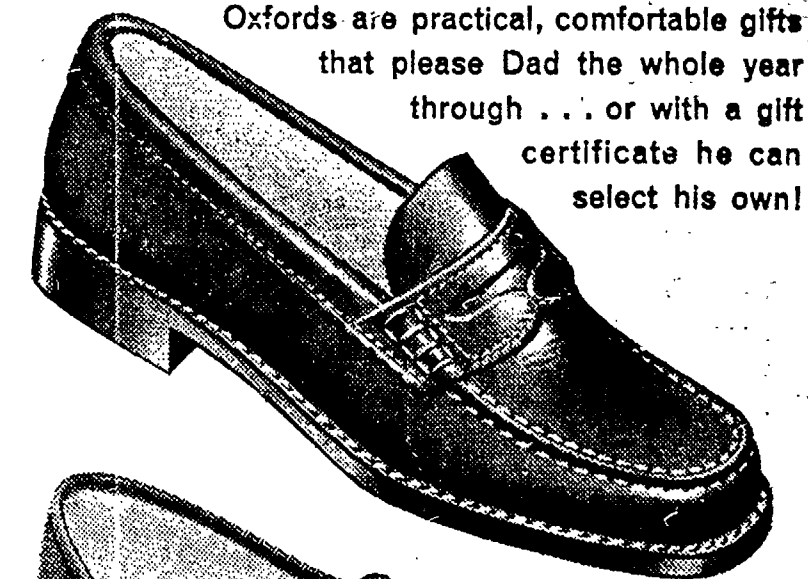

The stickers were prepared by the Traffic Safety Association in co-operation with the Detroit public and parochial schools and the Traffic Safety Bureau of the Detroit Police Department. It marked the ninth year these have been distributed.

A message on the back side of the sticker to "Mother and Dad from your child's teacher" urged the parents to paste it on the screen door so the child may see it each time he runs out to play.

"Last year Detroit parents were stricken with fear," the message also pointed out. "Deadly polio was taking a higher toll than usual and children were again being hit the hardest. At year's end, 405 children under 15 years had contracted the dreaded disease and 14 of these children had died."

We are receiving more and more requests from educators for basic information on the automotive industry — information which they tell us is essential for effective teaching in our industrial society.

"These experiences and contacts with educators have convinced us they are sincerely on the aggressive to acquire more knowledge and a better understanding of the nature of business and industry. They tell us that without this knowledge and understanding, they cannot effectively teach students how to make a living or how to live in today's predominately industrial society."

"So we envision the Ford Educational Forum as the next logical step in meeting a need so forcefully and fairly expressed by our friends in education."

The Forum program broadly will cover Ford Motor Company organization and management, policies and procedures, and business philosophy.

Company executives and specialists will lead discussions which will be supplemented by tours and demonstrations.

Forum Fellows will also have access to historical materials in the Ford Archives at Fair Lane, formerly the estate of the late Henry Ford, where the study sessions will be held.

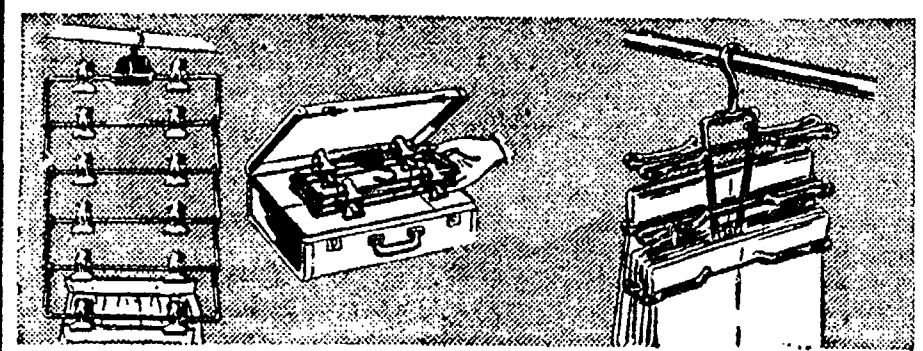

The teachers will reside at Dearborn Inn during the Forum.

City to Enforce Water Rules

The City, adopting the same sprinkling regulation as set forth by the Farms, will enforce the ordinance as far as its own residents are concerned, according to information released by Grosse Pointe City Clerk Norbert P. Neff.

The City, which receives all of its water from the Farms, issued the following regulation:

Even numbered homes will sprinkle on even numbered days, from 5 to 9 a.m., and between the hours of 10 p.m. to 2 a.m.

The odd numbered homes will adhere to the same rules, on odd numbered days.

Residents with underground sprinklers will be permitted to sprinkle lawns on premises from 5 a.m. to 9 a.m. on their odd and even days.

There will be no sprinkling between the hours of 9 a.m. and 10 p.m.

The regulations apply to Sunday sprinkling also.

The ordinance, signed by Mayor Fred Parker, Jr., with the approval of the City council, became effective on May 23 and will remain in force until further notice.

Summer squash takes to tomato sauce, but cut it into slices first and cook it in a small amount of boiling water. If you like you may add a little lightly browned onion to the cooked drained squash; but don't do so if the tomato sauce has a noticeable amount of onion in it. Final treatment: turn the squash and tomato sauce into a shallow baking dish, sprinkle heavily with grated cheese and heat in the oven or broiler.

Burglars Invade Woods Church

Woods police are hoping for an early solution to the breaking and entering of a church which occurred on Friday, June 10.

The team of Woods detectives, Sgt. Walter O'Dell and Everett Plumb, whose preliminary investigation recently resulted in the breaking of a gang who specialized in burglarizing churches throughout the Detroit area, are investigating the burglary of the Woods Presbyterian Church.

The burglary was first discovered by William Newport, custodian of the church building, when he arrived for work early in the morning. He notified the police immediately.

The two Woods officers found that entry into the church was gained by forcing a lock on the church basement window. The entire building was ransacked.

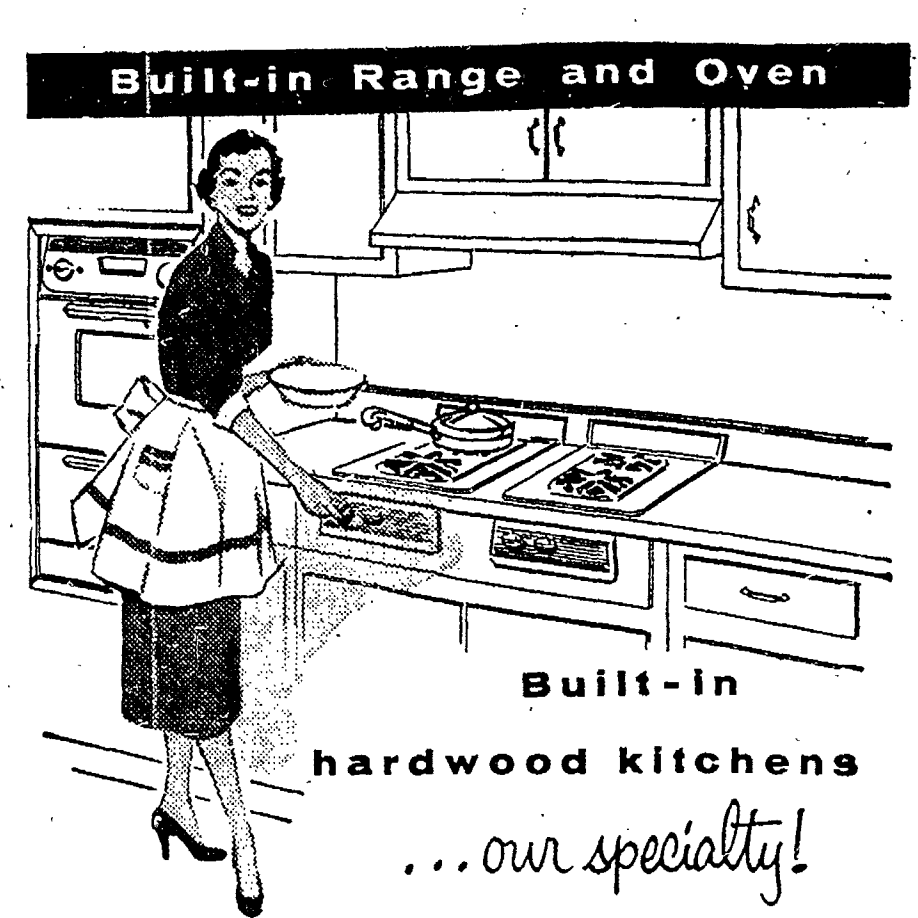

It was disclosed by the detectives that the burglar had used a pry bar taken from a tool chest in the basement, to force an entrance into the offices in the church.

Missing were two electric turn tables, a 12-inch loud speaker and an undetermined amount of cash from a petty cash box.

Society News Gathered From All of the Pointes

From Another Pointe of View

By Jane Schermerhorn

SNAPSHOTS at the wedding of Mary Boyer-Victor H. (Bud) Taylor: Marriages sometimes are made at wedding receptions... that's how it happened with the bridegroom's sister, Jane Taylor, and Dan Holley... who decided at the Boyer reception they'd announce their engagement right away... The Carlton M. Higbie, Jr., made it official on Sunday with a cocktail party honoring the couple... Jane was one of Mary's bridesmaids... taking a serious interest in the task of greeting some 700 guests maybe with her own September wedding in view... She's the daughter of Mrs. Harry W. Taylor and Dan's parents are the Earl Holleys...

A Beautiful Bride

Just in time for the noon wedding the heavy skies cleared away and it was a perfect June day for a perfectly beautiful June bride... for Mary was every bit that... Pointe and Detroit society turned out en masse... were delighted to greet the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Fred T. Murphy, who came over from her home for the afternoon... and as always, had a wonderful time as friends, young and old, clustered about her... Early to go down the receiving line were Mrs. Henry B. Joy, Mrs. Richard P. Joy and Mrs. W. Howie Muir who chose a sociably-centered table near the dance floor from which to enjoy the reception.

Lemon Trimmed Bonnet

There was Cooper Wood, whom we hadn't seen for simply ages... dapper as ever... and the C. Henry Buhls, with Mrs. Buhl's mother, Mrs. Louis Mendelssohn... Mrs. Buhl wore a chic black afternoon frock, intricately cut neckline and modishly full skirt... her tiny black hat had a huge pink cabbage rose at the very back... Mrs. Russell A. Alger arrived with her daughters, Mrs. Sidney T. Miller, Jr., and Mrs. D. Dwight Douglas, of New York and Martha's Vineyard... Only Mrs. Douglas could wear a tiny chapeau trimmed in miniature lemons and look stunning! She combined the cute topper with grape toned taffeta frock and sable shrug.

Reception Guests

Glimpsed: Mrs. Henry T. Ewald (surprised at a happy birthday party last week!), in deep silver costume suit with tiniest bit of red trimming the jacket... chatting with the Charles Creedons... Mrs. Jewett Dwyer (in bright royal blue and a multi-toned petal chapeau AND a turned ankle)... Mrs. Dwyer Kinnucan, topping her white, red and emerald printed silk frock with emerald jacket... Mrs. J. Milton Robb, in smooth navy... the J. Hascall Blisses... Mrs. John H. Potter... Mr. and Mrs. William K. Muir... Mrs. Edsel B. Ford with her brother-in-law, Ernest Kanzler, and her cousin, Robert M. Tannahill... Mrs. W. Dean Robinson and Mrs. Yates Smith joined friends...

Travellers Home

The Harley Earls... the Charles T. Fishers and the Charles T. Fishers III, were among the reception guests... Mr. and Mrs. Howard Freeman Smith had a long wait in the receiving line which queued at times almost to the gate house on the Alger estate... Dr. and Mrs. Don Winans were among those who had the 10-n-g-e-s-t wait, but didn't seem to be minding it a bit... Mrs. Wesson Seyburn arrived with Edward McIlvain of New York City, a great favorite with Pointers... Strolling through the afternoon sunshine also were the Harley G. Higbie... Mrs. Ward Detwiler, just home from England, where the transportation strikes really interfered with some of her plans... Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Parker, in from Metamora... Mr. and Mrs. Renville Wheat... Mr. (Continued on Page 12)

Seven Hundred Attend Reception at Boyers

Harold R. Boyers Entertain at Garden Reception Following Marriage of Daughter, Mary, to Victor H. Taylor in St. Paul's on the Lake Shore

When the newly-married Victor Hughes Taylors left St. Paul's on the Lake Shore, following their noon wedding last Saturday, they arrived at the garden reception to greet seven hundred guests.

The former Mary Eldredge Boyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Raymond Boyer, of East Jefferson avenue, was a truly beautiful bride.

She wore an exquisite gown of lustrous white satin with cathedral train. The low, round neckline was finished with heirloom lace worn first by her mother and again by her sister, Frances, when she became Mrs. H. Hudson Mead. Unusual were the brief sleeves of the gowns and in church the bride wore long satin gloves.

The bridal veil of French silk illusion was held by Juliet of the same lovely Alencien lace and Mary carried white orchids, stephanotis and ivy in her bridal bouquet.

Mrs. H. Hudson Mead was her sister's matron of honor, gowned in pale blue organdie designed with low, square neckline, and a full opera length skirt. Small, flat bow of matching straw formed her hat which had a bit of matching blue veiling.

She carried rubrum lilies and deep pink carnations.

In similar gowns and carrying rubrum lilies with pastel pink carnations were the bridesmaids: Mary's cousin, Mrs. Reese Evans Howard; sisters of the bridegroom, Mrs. Robert Morris, of San Francisco, and Jane Taylor; and the bridegroom's sister-in-law, Mrs. Robert Taylor.

The bridegroom, son of Mrs. Harry W. Taylor, of the Detroit Towers, and the late Mr. Taylor, was assisted by his brother, Robert, as best man.

Following a wedding trip to Bermuda, the Taylors will be at home in their apartment on Rathbone place.

For traveling, Mrs. Taylor chose a navy silk jacket imprinted in miniature pink petals. Her small straw cloche was of navy straw.

Bridesmen were Mary's twin brother, Harold R. Boyer Jr. and her brother, Alger Boyer; the bridegroom's brother Harry W. Taylor Jr., H. Hudson Mead, Richard Kern, Cyril J. Edwards Jr., Stanley Day and William Hickey.

The receiving line at the Boyer-Taylor reception formed before a charming fountain at one end of the upper terraces of the Boyer gardens.

Mrs. Boyer was gowned in state blue lace and grograin ribbon, worn with small matching chapeau and white orchids.

Mrs. Taylor was in gray Italian silk costume with matching velvet toque and corsage of pink spray orchids.

Mrs. Fred T. Murphy attended her granddaughter's wedding in blue and white printed silk gown combined with small chapeau of blue petals. She pinned purple orchids to her frock.

A turquoise, yellow and white marquee covered the long front lawn terrace before the Boyer home. On the lower level of the gardens, which extend to Lake St. Clair, there were garden tables and chairs with bright umbrellas for the reception guests.

Jack Rosevear's Orchestra played for the dancing wedding guests.

Birthday of Queen Elizabeth II Marked at Fisher Garden Party

The birthday of England's fair young queen, Elizabeth II, was marked last Thursday afternoon at a garden party given by British Consul at Detroit John M. Fisher and Mrs. Fisher at their home in Lakeland avenue.

A colorful picture was presented as members of the United States and Canadian armed forces, business and civic leaders, representatives of the diplomatic corps, and friends and neighbors of the Fishers raised glasses to toast the queen.

The toast was proposed by Frederick W. Parker Jr., mayor of the City of Grosse Pointe. The toast followed one proposed by Mr. Fisher to the health of President of the United States Dwight D. Eisenhower.

This was the third and final party, the popular Fishers have given in the Pointe for their Queen. They leave early in August for Bonn, Germany, where Mr. Fisher will assume his new post, as counselor to the British Embassy.

At the entrance of the Fisher home flew the consul's flag as representative of his Queen, the Union Jack with crown in the center. It is not a national flag but a consular one, flown on all special British occasions as well as on important American days as a mark of respectful tribute to George Washington's birthday, the Fourth of July, Memorial Day, Flag Day, and upon the inauguration of our presidents. The days on which the consular flag is flown are the same as those on which the British Embassy in Washington flies the diplomatic flag, a Union Jack with the British royal arms in the center.

Receiving guests with the Fishers were Canadian Consul M. J. Vechter and Mrs. Vechter. Mrs. Fisher was gown in avacado green silk sheath frock and there were purple orchids at her shoulders.

The young sons, Timothy and Mark Fisher, escaped from their English nanny at one point during the afternoon and watched

An exquisite rose point lace veil, which the bride brought home from Europe, extended the full length of the wedding gown of opal French taffeta.

Designed with wide neckline, long sleeves and a snug bodice, the great skirt fell into Watteau pleats forming a chapel train at back.

Medallions of fine lace, appliqued to the gown, were decorated with tiny iridescent sequins.

Sue's bridal veil was worn madonna fashion, over tulle, and she carried butterfly orchids, stephanotis and star ivy.

Even the general chairman, R. E. Dowling and his executive committee (who've executed like horses in preparation for a smooth-running, professional show) are excited about it. And after all their planning, detail work and ironing red tape (most difficult thing in the world to iron!) that's your tip of what a great show this one will be.

Spectators at the Grosse Pointe Horse Show will see the August Busch's Miss Budd, the U.S. Olympic entry of 1954; they'll get some local color when young Judy Johnson makes her first appearance in a Michigan show ring. She's the daughter of the Frederick VanLennepes (Frances Dodge) who are bringing a fleet of champions from their Kentucky stables for the event.

Working with Mr. Dowling on the show have been Joseph A. Vance, Jr., Alfred R. Glancy, Jr. (who's also been in charge of program advertising); Walter Baldwin (house committee chairman for Horse Show week); Leete M. Denton, John W. Mulford (entertainment chief for the show); Tom Sheahan (who has had the weighty problem of parking and grounds committee work).

Other chairmen are Dr. Charles Dodenhoff, exhibitors committee; Jack Weideman, program; Marshall E. Templeton, publicity; Mrs. Walter O'Hair, public seating chairman; Herman Petzold and Howard Knaggs, box seat chairmen.

Bringing entries from their stables will be Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Shinkle of St. Louis; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Motesch of Charlottesville; Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Lang Miller of Buffalo (their daughter, Clare, will ride in this week's show — missed last year's because she was making a debut.)

Shirley Zick Returns To Make Debut Here

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard O. Zick, Formerly of Grosse Pointe and Now of Kalamazoo Presented; Deb Set Smokes Pink Cigarettes at All-Pink Party

Debutantes of the season puffed on king size pink cigarettes at the all-pink luncheon given Wednesday in the Detroit Athletic Club for Shirley Zick's debut.

Mrs. Leonard O. Zick returned from Kalamazoo to give the Detroit party since Shirley had planned to come out with her friends before the family moved away.

The pink cigarettes were favors at the three tables where the debts lunched. Mrs. Zick's daughters Constance, Mrs. Arthur Niedow of the Garden Court, and Mrs. Thomas Anton of Ann Arbor, who were assistants, each presided at a table of friends, and still another table was set for friends of Mrs. Zick's who attended the party.

The club's Ponchartraine Room was scene of the Zick debut. Mrs. Zick and Shirley stood just inside the entrance to greet their guests.

Shirley, who was having "her wish" about an all-pink party, was pretty in pink taffeta over frosted with white mousseline de soie. The frock had frothy waltz length skirt and sweetheart neckline.

She wore her father's sweetheart roses at her slender waist. Mrs. Zick's gown was street length beige tissue batiste worn over matching taffeta. A deeper brown silk embroidery distinguished the gown. Mrs. Zick also had corsage of sweetheart roses.

Even the menu bowed to the color choice of the afternoon's buffet. Guests started their luncheon with pink fruit cups and ended the party with strawberry parfaits.

Throughout the afternoon, Jack Rosevear's Orchestra furnished the musical background.

Shirley is the sports-minded deb of the June season. At Sweetbriar College she was captain of last year's hockey team, bowled and swam.

This summer she plans to study at Western Michigan College. She will be with the Neidows in the Garden Court during the Pointe deb season.

A crown of seed pearls held her illusion veil. Her bouquet held white orchids, lilies-of-the-valley and trailing ivy. She wore the traditional Alpha Chi Omega bride's bracelet.

Bridesmaids wore blue and white embroidered gowns, and

HANDLING BERRIES

When you bring fresh strawberries home from the market, dump them out of their containers into a flat container where each berry will have plenty of room. Cover with waxed paper and place in the refrigerator. Do not wash or hull the berries until you are ready to use them. Don't slice and sugar them, either, until shortly before using.

Pointer to Aid U of M Rushees

To help reduce the bewilderment of women students who will go through sorority rushing at The University of Michigan next fall, Panhellenic Association has selected a girl from Grosse Pointe to serve as rushing counselor for an assigned sorority, not her own.

Jeanne Newell, 1883 Country Club Drive, a junior in the College of Literature, Science, and the Arts, is one of 18 girls who have been chosen to advise the approximately 1,200 women who will rush next fall.

Each counselor will be assigned to a group of rushees. She will take them to their first rush parties, give them follow-up invitations from the houses, and help them with rushing problems.

Until October 9, when pledging begins, rushing counselors will be disaffiliated from their own sororities.

Miss Wendin To Fete YWCA

Mrs. Sigurd J. Wendin, of Cloverly road, a volunteer member of the YWCA Board of Management, will open her home Thursday, June 23, for a special picnic supper honoring YWCA staff members of Central Branch who will be leaving the branch shortly.

A Gay Fiesta This Sunday

A sidewalk cafe and gay international booths will create a bit of Paris at the second annual Fiesta of Nations this Sunday in the White Hall Building at State Fair Grounds. Hours are from noon till 8 p.m.

The Fiesta benefits the SS. Peter and Paul Missionary Society and is sponsored by the year-old auxiliary which was founded to help the Rev. Father Nicholas Maestrini, P.M.I. in his work.

The Missionaries have no other source of revenue to conduct their work in 19 different territories, other than charity of benefactors such as the Auxiliary.

And so, families are urged to turn out for the fun, their purchases all helping the cause.

Booths at the Fiesta will be a General Store, Gem Shop, Pot of Gold, Rummage Sale, Fish Pond, Parcel Post, Flowers, Kidney Corner, Candy, Baked Goods, Dolls, Toyland and Pandora's Box.

The sidewalk cafe will serve a "chicken" dinner and fanciful games of skill are being planned to entertain both young and old.

Mrs. Arthur D. Karwin is the Fiesta's honorary chairman and Mrs. Joseph E. Risdon is chairman.

Pointers working on the project include:

Mrs. Robert E. Thibodeau, decoration; Mrs. James E. Scripps II, publicity; Mrs. William T. Ireland, Mrs. Eugene Fisher, Mrs. Clayton Aland, Mrs. Philip W. Sloan, Mrs. Richard J. Gibbs, Mrs. John Griffin, Mrs. Hamilton F. Kotcher, Mrs. Claude Greiner and Mrs. William Lilley.

Jill and Ann Curtsy Together at Reception

Jill Schneider, Daughter of Gerald F. Schneiders, and Ann Stevens, Daughter of Mrs. Frederic J. Stevens, Make Debut Together at Tea and Reception

The Kensington road home of Mrs. Frederic J. Stevens was setting for a reception and tea Wednesday afternoon when society met two more June debutantes.

They were Mrs. Stevens' daughter, Ann Blunt Stevens, and Eleanor Carlisle (Jill) Schneider, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald F. Schneider of University place.

Mrs. Stevens and Mrs. Schneider joined forces for their daughters' presentation party and later Wednesday, the Schneiders gave a garden buffet supper dance for Jill on the grounds of their home.

Both debutantes wore classic white gowns touched in pastel tones. Ann's embroidered Swiss organdie over pale green taffeta was fashioned with long torso line. A detail of the taffeta outlined the deep and fitted bodice, forming pouf in back, and the full skirt, was waltz length. Her flowers were purple violas and ivy.

Jill wore white pleated organdie with horizontal bands of pink ribbon defining a full skirt, the ribbon shadowed in Val lace. The lace motif was repeated on the wide shoulder straps of the frock which had pink taffeta girdle. She also carried purple violas and ivy.

For the party Mrs. Stevens chose poudre blue linen fashioned with gored skirt and lace trimming the bateau neckline and a pocket.

Mrs. Schneider was in white cotton lace over beige taffeta, extremely simple, and designed with high neckline which ended in deep V at back. Sleeves were bracelet length and the slightly flared skirt was street length.

Friends of the mothers presided at the afternoon's tea table which had Pointe de Venice cloth and was centered with silver epergne filled with pink roses and bouvardia. There were white tapers in silver holders.

For Mrs. Stevens were Mrs. Robert Winter, Mrs. Edwin F.

Storey, Mrs. Lange Purvis; Mrs. Charles N. Blunt and Mrs. Donald P. Kipp, of Birmingham.

Mrs. Schneider was assisted by Mrs. Elliott V. Fraenkel, Mrs. E. Lwyd Ecclestone, Mrs. William Leach, Mrs. Carsten Tiedeman and Mrs. Robert E. McKean.

All the hostesses wore corsages of album (white rubrum) lilies.

Jill's assistants were her houseguest Ann Morrison, of Pasadena, Calif., a classmate at Bennett Junior College; Suzie Leach and Lauren Edgar.

Ann asked Mary Doll of Birmingham, a Bennett classmate, Ann Kindred of Forest Hills' and a former Kingswood classmate, Linda Hullinger, of Springfield, O. Ann and Linda are houseguests at the Stevens' home.

Corsages of Eucharist lilies were worn by the deb's helpers. After the coming out party, eighty members of the young set gathered in the gardens of the Schneider home for buffet supper and dancing under a brightly hued marquee.

Mobile butterflies floated near the ceiling of the marquee and yellow lanterns were used in the gardens for the party. Pink geraniums were the floral motif.

For the evening, the debutante changed to applied white organdie over pink silk.

Both of Wednesday's afternoon debutantes are Bennett Junior College students and will resume their studies there in the Fall.

Miss Buell Bows First In Pointe Deb Season

Elizabeth Swancoat Buell Presented to Society by Mother, Mrs. J. Lawrence Buell Jr. at Tea in Vendome Home; Classmates from Smith Assist at Party

Elizabeth Swancoat Buell became the first debutante of the 1955 June season on Monday afternoon when she bowed to society at an afternoon reception and tea in the Buells' Vendome road home.

Mrs. J. Lawrence Buell Jr., gave the tea for her daughter and they received guests in the bouquet laden living room of their home.

Petite "Bizzy" wore misted pink crystaletta organza as a debutante. The softly draped bodice ended in high cummerbund and the frock swelled into a waltz length skirt.

Her flowers were ruby red sweetheart roses and ivy.

Mrs. Buell affected street length navy crepe sheath trimmed in matching Chantilly lace.

Her corsage was of rubrum lilies.

Three aunts of the debutante presided at the afternoon's tea table. They were Mrs. Daniel H. Buell II, Mrs. George V. Candler Jr. and Mrs. Clark T. Wells. Each had a corsage of Eucharist lilies.

The tea table, covered with white embroidered lace cloth had centerpiece of pink garden flowers in a low, silver bowl. Pale pink tapers were used in silver holders.

Among Bizzy's assistants at her coming out tea were her classmates at Smith College, Anne Van Vleck of Montclair, N.J. and Virginia Twining of Allentown, Pa., who will be houseguests at the Buell residence the rest of the week.

Also assisting the debutante were Jane Bragaw, Virginia Evans, Joan Robinson and Mickie McNight.

The young aides wore identifying corsages of stephanotis, gift of the afternoon's deb.

Following the reception and tea, the Buells entertained at a family buffet supper party when guests also included the senior and deb. assistants of the afternoon.

Barbara Meinke Weds Russell Haskin Friday

Barbara Meinke became the bride of Russell F. Haskin, Jr., at a candlelight ceremony Friday evening, June 10, at St. James Lutheran Church. Rev. George E. Kurz, pastor of St. James, and Barbara's uncle, officiated.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Meinke of Three Mile Drive are the bride's parents, and Mr. and Mrs. Russell F. Haskin, of Lincoln road, are parents of the bridegroom.

Barbara, escorted to the altar by her father, chose a princess style gown of Dupioni Italian silk with a chapel train; the short sleeves and yoke of the empire bodice were formed of alecon.

The headpiece of her fingertip veil was fashioned from rose point lace used by her mother and grandmother at their wedding. She carried a cascade arrangement of stephanotis, centered with a white orchid.

Maid of honor, Mary Meinke, sister of the bride, and bridesmaids Pat Newell, Joan Phillips, and Mrs. Robert Seitz wore identical ballarina gowns of blue nylon chiffon, with matching bands in their hair.

Margaret Meinke, Barbara's younger sister, was junior bridesmaid, wearing pink net, with pink flowers circling her hair. The girls carried daisies and carnations in pastel shades.

Angus Kirchner, Jr., served as best man, and guests were seated by Richard Albrecht, Robert Seitz, Thomas Nelson, and William Nelson, Jr.

Mrs. Meinke chose blue lace and silk organza with matching accessories for her daughter's wedding, and Mrs. Haskins wore pink lace.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents on Three Mile drive.

After a trip through Michigan's upper peninsula, the young couple will move into their new home on Country Club Drive.

First of Its Happy Owners!

The Cadillac you see in the picture has just started out on Mission Number One: to make its first owner and his family members of the happiest motoring fraternity in the world—for as long as they wish.

And then it will be ready for Mission Number Two: to do the same thing for its second owner. And so on, in turn, for its third owner and its fourth—and, mayhap, for an almost indefinite number of others.

The years and miles rest so lightly on a Cadillac that it can continue to serve well high beyond computation. We have heard of Cadillac cars which have actually approached a full million miles of service.

In fact, a Cadillac just about refuses to give up, if it is treated fairly and driven with common sense. Even after the body has ceased to exist, the heart of a Cadillac often beats on.

You can see those tough old engines and chassis everywhere. Maybe you'll see one supplying the power for a country sawmill . . . or pulling a plow . . . or serving as a truck, with an improvised body. Give it regular, decent care—and a Cadillac chassis is all but indestructible from normal usage.

Of course, as the purchaser of a new Cadillac, you would not expect to utilize more than a minor portion of this ability to serve. You would look forward to changing models from time to time, in order to enjoy the benefits of styling and engineering advancements.

But what carefree and satisfying performance this quality foretells for the period during which you would expect to keep the car! It is the world's best guarantee of the first owner's satisfaction.

All this, of course, is just one more solid reason for owning a Cadillac—in addition to such obvious reasons as beauty and luxury and pride of ownership.

Better come in today—and be the first of a Cadillac's proud and happy owners.

Off-Duty Park Officers Nab Automobile Thief

Some alert off-duty police work on the part of two Park policemen led to the apprehension of a car thief June 6.

Patrolmen Don DelPlace and Charlie French, on their way home from work, noticed a uniquely colored Cadillac cruising behind them going east down Jefferson.

On the hunch that it might be the car that was stolen from a gas station a few days previous, they let it pass. The license plate confirmed their suspicions and they made the arrest.

Taken into custody was Kenneth Lowell of 4619 Lemay, Detroit.

Upon questioning, Lowell readily admitted to the theft of the car owned by Russell Burg, proprietor of the Rustic Cabins Show Bar on Kercheval at Lakepointe. The car was stolen May 28 from the gas station across from Burg's establishment.

A woman, whose identity was not revealed, was with Lowell at the time of the arrest. She was released immediately.

Lowell was placed on $1,000 bond and when he couldn't produce it, was bound over to Circuit Court for sentencing. He pleaded guilty to the charge.

Poupard Youths Win Bikes

Friday morning at an assembly program at Poupard School, bicycles were presented by the Harper Woods Police Department to Stephen Schreifer, captain of the Safety Patrol Boys and to Yvonne Bouchard, Service Girl. Every member of both squads had a chance to win.

The names of the lucky boy and girl were drawn by a kindergarten child from boxes containing the names of members of each squad. As a special feature of the annual safety assembly, Chief Miglio cautioned the children to remember their rules for safety during the long summer months ahead.

Class Motto—1955

It was our privilege during the past week to take part in a high school program conducted by graduating seniors. The purpose of the program, presumably, was to discuss possible careers that the youths might enter and to outline the advantages offered today in some of the more popular professions.

Representatives from several professions took part in this discussion and we are convinced that many of the youths benefited from the sound advice handed out by these men and women who have reached various stages of success in their chosen fields.

But it occurred to us after an hour or so of this meeting that the career people were getting some rewards for the time spent with these youths. It was particularly enlightening and satisfying to discover, or to be reminded, that the youth of today is a more adult, a more aware and, possibly, a more serious group of youngsters than most of us give them credit for being. This was not the lone opinion of this reporter but it appeared to be the general feeling of the members of the panel, most of whom can look back on more years of activity in their fields than we can.

The youth of today, despite the possibly unwarranted emphasis on juvenile delinquency, has an amazing conception of what's going on in the world. Perhaps it is youthful enthusiasm, but to them nothing appears impossible. They appear to be extremely tolerant of other peoples, including those of apparently unfriendly areas and including their elders of this land, who, despite their years, sometimes give the impression that they are not long out of knee-pants themselves.

The youthful concept of time and space appears to be directly in tune with the dizzy pace at which our world is moving today. This particular group of young people was inquisitive, but with restraint and confidence, but not cocky. Their questions were expertly put and their genuinely serious approach to this entire affair made at least one member of the panel question his ability to take part in such a decisive event.

It is common practice these days to either harp the coming generation as the saviors of mankind or to darkly predict that our world will fall to bedlam and savages if worthless youth continues in its reckless path. We look back upon our own fairly recent youth, which saw some amazing accomplishments and man's most terrible war to date, and take no great pride in the fact that grave situations were met and pretty much taken in stride. We feel just as confident that whatever the future holds for the millions of youngsters getting diplomas from high schools and colleges throughout the land today that they will meet it as Americans have for years and emerge as triumphant and righteous as did their ancestors.

We sincerely hope that our visit with this group of students was productive to them. Although our purpose, ostensibly, was to help them, we, on the other hand, came from this session somewhat wiser. These youths, in discussing the possible failings of the adult world of today, pointed almost unanimously to one thing as being the most damaging to man's progress and his living. "I hope I am never afraid," was the summary remark of one young man and he was joined by a chorus of agreement. When we asked him "afraid of what," he merely added: "Oh, afraid of anything."

Perhaps that is the key to modern-day thinking and living. Perhaps the graduating class mottoes of past years which announced that the class was going "Out of the Harbor, Into the Bay," or would "Sink or Swim" can be replaced now by a more practical slogan. Personally, we rather like the one offered by the previously mentioned young man and offer it as a slogan for the graduates of 1955: "We hope we are never afraid."

Story With a Moral

Thousands of words have been written in recent days on the Ford Motor Company negotiations and settlement with the United Auto Workers and the General Motors negotiations with the same labor group. It is not our intention here to elaborate at great length on this milestone in labor contracts. But we feel obligated to offer one observation which possibly has been overlooked by editorial pundits. We are not taking sides in this issue and we present this comment only for the reader to draw his own conclusions and, possibly to draw a moral from it.

Think back, if you will, to a few years ago when "Guaranteed Annual Wage" first was proposed in labor negotiations. This policy of guaranteeing a worker a yearly income was regarded as a monster by many industrial leaders and given no serious consideration by some working men. Over these months GAW was mentioned frequently, but it appeared that no meeting of minds would ever result. Then, suddenly a little over a week ago, just as a strike deadline approached, there occurred a flurry of activity from a downtown Detroit hotel room and it was promptly announced to the waiting world that the Guaranteed Annual Wage would be a working part of Detroit labor contracts and that the Ford Motor Co. at least agreed to the GAW "in principle."

With this announcement came open resentment from a formidable number of union workers who declared that they didn't get what they wanted after all, which certainly was a switch, and a burst of laudatory comment from high industrial figures that the GAW probably would be the bul-

"To all the gossip that I hear
I'll give no faith; to what I see
But only half, for it is clear
All that led up is dark to me.
Learn we the larger life to live,
To comprehend is to forgive."

(Mrs. Thomas Huxley)

Many years ago, some wag named that miserable, fatty hunk of muscle across the back of the shoulders (on women), "dowager's hump." It is not only unkind, but unfair, since MANY older women have bumps as staight as ramrods and plenty of kids are already humped up below their back neck. In any case, it is too late for us to change this habit of speech so we can find some amusement in it instead. Last week on the bus, two women were discussing figure faults... their own as well as other's. One said: "Have you noticed how pronounced Minnie's 'dowager's hump' is these days?" Her companion came back with: "I guess I can't find fault with HER. MY dowager's hump is getting awful through my middle." Well, everyone to his own interpretations, we alluz sez!

The following true tale comes under the "Now We've Heard Everything" dept. A well known apartment house in Detroit has recently declared an edict that no dogs or children will be allowed to live within its austere walls. By some method or other, they have managed to rid themselves of the existing tenants with animal life... with the exception of one woman who owns a very small dog and also a lease. Everything but mayhem has been tried on the old gal but she won't budge an inch. In desperation, the management has advised her that she may stay on (they had no choice, really) but that her dog would have to be "carried" out of the building and not to be put down on his four feet until both he and his owner were at least 200 feet away from the borders of the property! The dear little lady agreed to comply with the request... so that she might keep her pet with her during his declining years.

Now comes the part that should be in the New Yorker. This wasn't enough for the brand new management... so recently they brought a NEW lease to her apartment... not for HER but for the dog! It is a complete and separate "dog lease" which reads that any dog in Mrs. Thingamebob's possession must not weigh more than 50 pounds. He must NOT bark while in the building (this one we LOVE) and furthermore he must be carried downstairs in the service elevator, remaining in his owner's arms at all times.

On leaving the building (the lease goes on)... the dog must, while on a leash, not be grounded until he is out of bounds of the building's lawn. If there is a mistake made and he has "contaminated" the property of the building, his owner will thereby pay a fine! Our heroine signed the lease... we did not learn whether or not the dog had to put his paw mark on it also, to make it legal. In the history of Michigan or any other place, we have never heard anything so fantastic. We have a wee suggestion. When the management shuffles off this mortal coil, he or it or they ought to be stuffed and put in the Smithsonian Institute.

WE LOVE SMALL CHILDREN... especially the one in this true tale told us by a reader of G.E. Our informant's daughter took a rather lengthy bus trip with her 7-year-old son. As is usual with small fry... they had no sooner boarded the bus when the child started calling out that he had to "go to-toi." His mother tried to shut him up but the more she tried, the louder he got. They were seated directly behind the bus driver... whose nerves began to frazzle at the constant wail of the child. Finally the driver turned to the mother and said there was a gas station about a mile ahead... and he would be glad to stop at the "unfilling" station for junior.

The yelling kept up, mingled with tears... until the mile was reached and both child and bus driver made a bee line for the station. The understanding passengers smiled happily when the pair emerged from the station after about five minutes. The little boy hopped onto the bus, all smiles, and everyone was happy. There followed a lull of about ten minutes on the road... and in one of those silences that often take place in a group of people... the child piped up with: "Mommy, it's a good thing we stopped when we did. The bus man had to go too somethin' awful!"

The esteemed Free Press columnist, Dick Osgood, tells us that Jack Parr (the "Morning Show"), of WHOM we raved a couple of weeks ago, will no longer be there as of this Friday. According to Osgood, Parr (or Paar) will instead be on a half hour show around noon that will replace two soap operas on t.v. All we can say is that if he replaces "Inner Flame" (which used to be "Portia Faces Life") or "Road of Life" we will commit mayhem. There is something pretty insidious about these serial stories on t.v... like the proverbial peanut... you CAN'T stop at one. To cut these operas out now would be like plowing through a mystery story and getting to the solution, only to find the page missing. And so, we are warning the CBS station here, that if they take those soaps away at noon, they can expect to receive a box of poisoned chocolates from Pryor.

wark which would keep our economy sound forever more, which was an about face, to say the least.

As we saw, we are refraining from getting involved in the issue of GAW. But we did promise a moral from this report, and if you don't see it we can only add that sometimes people don't know what they want even after they get it.

What Goes On at Your Library

By Jean Taylor

Last Thursday we happened in at St. Paul School just as the dismissal gong rang at 10:30 in the morning. School was over for the year.

Classroom doors were flung wide and hundreds of excited youngsters, little and middle sized, poured through the corridors. Out of doors they swept, laughing, shouting, cheering. Cars honked, bicycles tooted and a merry lot we have never seen. It all struck a nostalgic note. We had forgotten that light-hearted rapture—akin to no other emotion—which accompanies the closing of school and the beginning of a long summer holiday.

We discovered, however, that release from school does not necessarily mean good-bye to books. Many of these youngsters could be found browsing around the Central Library shelves this week—for pure unadulterated fun. As one lad put it, "Now I can read, just for me!"

We hope the library will continue to be used all summer by the oldest as well as by the small fry. The Central Library is air conditioned and provides a pleasant retreat during the dog days.

If you plan to be away during the coming months and wish to take some books with you, these may be made out Oct. 1 if you will notify the librarian that you wish them for an extended time.

A film program for children will be held again this summer at all three libraries. The programs will vary in length from 30 to 45 minutes except for the opening one which will be about an hour. The same films will be shown at each library... at Central, Friday at 2 p.m., beginning June 24; at the Woods Branch, Friday at 10:30 a.m., beginning June 24; at the park Branch, Thursday at 10:30 a.m., beginning June 23.

The movies will continue through August, 10 weeks in all. The first program will have one picture only, "And Now Miguel." This is based on the book of that title which won the Newbery award last year for the best children's book written in 1954 by an American author and published in this country. The aer Polytechnic Institute to the young man in the graduating class who has done outstanding work in mathematics and science throughout his preparatory course, went to Francis MacMillan, grade 12.

Mr. Chandler made the Oral Reading Awards of the Dr. Stalker Oral Reading Books. To stimulate greater interest and skill in oral reading, Dr. Hugh Stalker has presented books to the outstanding oral readers in each division of the school—grades 4-6; grades 7-9; and grades 10-12. The winners of this year's contests were:

1. Grades 7-8-9—Jane Pierce, grade 8; Donald MacFarlane, grade 7.

2. Grades 10-11-12—Kay Carter, grade 11; David Strother, grade 11.

Mr. Chandler presented the Terrill Newman Awards—These awards, dedicated to the memory of Terrill Newman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Newman, take the form of certificates of achievement and are awarded annually to the three students of highest academic standing in grades 7 and 8 and to the 10 percent in grades 9 and 12.

Grade 7—Eleanor Gillett Duffield, Margaret Anne Gram, Mary Stevens, Waterman, Sara Ann Lewis, George Lawrence Boller, Daniel Owen Devlin, George Edward Lott, Jr.

Grade 8—Jane Griffith Pierce, Virginia Pear, Susan Allene Lam-Brecht, Andrew Durham, McGaughey, William M. Walker III, Elbert Payson Little Jr., Ralph McElvenny.

Grade 9—Charles Gerald Umnikian, William Howard Taft McGaughey Jr., Margery Russell Gaddard, Margaret Ann Hakken, Robert Arthur Vieweg, Alice Read Aageson, Charles William Garratt.

Grade 10—Judith Ann Dieckoff, Julie T. Pearce, James Montgomery Stewart.

Grade 11—Bertil Osbeck, Libeth McElvenny, Helen Jean Doderhoff, Lucinda Rose Rogers, Barbara Jane Shover.

Mr. Chandler presented D'Avignon Books—Awarded to the top girls in Grades 7, 8, 9. They were awarded to Margaret Gram and Eleanor Duffield, average 93.2.

The D. H. Fletcher Book Award—awarded to the highest ranking boy in each of the three divisions of the school—grades 4 through 6, 7 through 9, and 10 through 12.

Exercise Your Tired Feet!

By Fred Kopp, R. Ph.

Muscles and nerves in the feet become just as tense as they do in other parts of the body, special foot exercises will often relieve and relax them. Almost any book on exercises will afford some excellent ones.

Doctors recommend other ways of relieving tired feet such as changing shoes more often, going barefoot around the house, and taking foot baths.

Continual trouble with your feet should prompt you to see a doctor. If he prescribes medicinal products, purchase them from a responsible druggist. This is the 546th of a series of editorial advertisements appearing in this paper each week.

How to Profit Through Tax Exemption

With today's high tax levels, investors in medium and high tax brackets are turning to tax-free Municipal Bonds for income that they can keep.

If you have a taxable income of $10,000 or more, you may be well repaid by investigating the advantages of tax-exempt State and Municipal Bonds. For instance, if you file a single return on a taxable income of $14,000, you would have to receive a dividend security in order to equal the yield from a 3.50% tax-free Bond. It's something to think about!

Our New Booklet, "How To Profit Through Tax-Exemption" explains in plain language your need for tax exemption, tells how much these high-grade investments can be worth to you. There's no obligation. Send for copy today, or phone.

Former Pastor Visits From Coast

The First Church of the Brethren, 19678 Lochmoor drive, Harper Woods, had as its guests for the services on Sunday, June 12, the Rev. and Mrs. Paul B. Studebaker, former pastor of the local church, and Miss Lillian Good, former parish worker here.

The Rev. Mr. Studebaker is now pastor of the First Church of the Brethren in Pasadena, Calif., where he has been serving since concluding his work here in August of last year. Miss Good is now living in Waynesboro, Pa.

The Morning Worship Service at 10:45 was a Children's Day Service with the children of the church and their leaders in charge of the service. Miss Good read a story during this service, and greetings were by Rev. Studebaker.

Also participating in the service was the pastor, the Rev. Olden D. Mitchell, and the director of children's work for the local church, Mrs. Kenneth Pyle. The Junior High Choir served as the church choir for this service under the leadership of Choirmaster John Linz.

There was a pot-luck dinner at 12:30 p.m. in the church fellowship hall for the members and friends of First Church as well as the special guests.

Following the dinner Rev. Studebaker showed color pictures of scenes of interest in California, including his church and other places of interest in Pasadena.

June Named Dairy Month

LANSING — At least 600 mail trucks in Michigan will carry more than just letters and packages during the last half of June.

They will be bringing a message to people all over Michigan that June is Dairy Month in the state and the season to eat more dairy products.

Through the cooperation of the U.S. Post Office Department and U.S. Department of Agriculture, the mail trucks are being permitted to carry posters on each side of them as reminders that dairy products are necessary in the diet and that dairying is the country's leading agricultural industry.

Providing the posters is the American Dairy Association of Michigan, one of the leading sponsors of the June Dairy Month program in the state.

According to Charles E. Stone, secretary-manager of the American Dairy Association of Michigan, and chairman of the June Dairy Month committee, at least 1,200 posters will be placed on mail trucks in the state as part of a nation-wide event from June 16 through June 30.

Society to Meet At Pointe Home

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Bacon, of Barrington road, will host the Huguenot Society of Michigan, at the 18th annual Founders' Day Picnic which will be held on Sunday, June 19.

Mrs. Henry B. Kellogg of Highland Park, state president, will greet members and guests expected from all over Michigan.

Attending from the Pointe will be: Mrs. Lloyd DeWitt Smith, past state president and national officer; Mrs. Henry B. Joy, Mrs. Arthur Maxwell Parker, Mrs. Sidney C. Probert, past state president; Mrs. E. J. Savage, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Herbert K. Garden and Miss Josephine A. Pattison, chaplain.

Reservations should be in by Friday, June 17.

Recommended June Movies

The recommended list of movies for the month of June, compiled by the Grosse Pointe Motion Picture and Television Council, will be included with the final report cards for all Pointe school children.

Especially recommended on this month's list was "The Cowboy" and "A Man Called Peter."

"The Cowboy" is a documentary on the life of the average western cowpoke. Acted completely by non-professionals, it will be of particular interest to children.

"A Man Called Peter" is the touching story of a young Scot immigrant who wins his way to the hearts of the nation with his deep and moving sermons.

Given the childrens nod were: "Khyber Pass," "Far Country," "Pickwick Papers," "The Cowboy" and "A Man Called Peter."

The teenager will particularly enjoy "East of Eden," "Country Girl," "Tight Spot," "Alaska Seas," "A Doctor in the House," "Three Coins in the Fountain" and "Titanic."

The council also announced that the Woods and Vogue Theatres will run a special mid-week matinee for children starting at the Woods June 22 and the Vogue June 28.

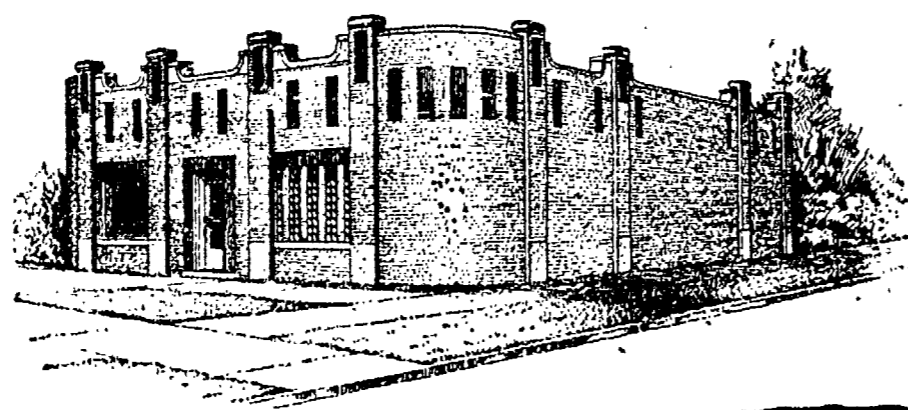

Add celery leaves, a couple of parsley sprigs, diced green pepper and grated carrot to tomato juice. Refrigerate overnight. Strain and serve as a good cocktail.

MOUNT HOLYOKE ALUMNAE
The Mount Holyoke Club of Detroit held its annual meeting Tuesday evening, June 7, at the home of Mrs. William L. Bones in Birmingham. During the business meeting which preceded dinner, Miss Marianne Trombley told about reunion and commencement weekend at Mount Holyoke College in South Hadley, Massachusetts, where she heard Chief Justice Earl Warren deliver the commencement address.

Eight weeks of their summer vacation will be spent by Mrs. Flom, dean of girls, and her husband, in England, Scotland, France, Holland, Belgium, Austria, Italy and Spain.

Miss Porter, language teacher, will visit only two countries, Spain and France. First to be visited will be Spain, where she will spend two weeks. She will travel through France after she completes a term in a study of the French language at the Sorbonne.

Miss Mutton, a counselor, will be in the company of a group from Boston University when she goes on her eight-week tour of Europe.

The group will study the language, art and political conditions of the countries they wish to see. The study will be taken up at the University of Switzerland.

Dog at Large After Biting Girl

Farms police are still seeking information regarding a black Scottie dog which bit Judy Mihalak, 9, on the left ankle on Wednesday, June 8.

Judy was riding her bicycle near her home, 179 Beaupre, when the animal bit her, breaking the skin. The incident occurred at Beaupre and Moran.

Police say that if the dog is not found, Judy will have to take a series of shots as a protection against rabies.

A neighbor who has a dog answering the description of the biting animal, will cooperate with the police by keeping the dog confined for a period of 10 days, even though it is not certain the dog was the one which bit the girl.

Farms Police Chief Walter Hoyt stated that another dog which answered to the description, has been found and is being confined.

Now that summer vacation time is here, all the chiefs of police in the Pointe are urging dog owners not to permit their dogs to run at large. They say that the city ordinances which govern dogs running at large will be strictly enforced.

Last year, the Grosse Pointe Health Department took 190 reports of dog bites.

One for the Road Causes Trouble

A group of young adults just had to get that last drink Saturday morning, June 11.

George E. Alford of Wyandotte, Robert Heavner of Detroit and Bill Sall, also of Detroit were at the Rustic Cabins for most of the evening. When the bar shut down at the two o'clock curfew, they left.

Outside they decided they'd better have one more for the road. The only trouble was, the door was locked. Not able to take 'no' for an answer, they broke a window to get back in.

Taken down to the Park police station, the trio of youths made restitution for the damage. The owner of the establishment did not press charges.

Boat Banter

By Fred Runnells

For the past couple of weeks there has been quite a bit of unofficial talk going around about the Mallory Cup plans, but until last Monday, June 13, nothing had been released officially. That was the night Chairman George Cossaboom held a meeting of the DRYA club delegates.

It was a quiet, placid, short meeting at which Commodores Lynn Stedman of Bayview and Paul Adam of Grosse Ile were appointed vice chairmen to work out a plan to run the quarter and semi-finals to determine who will represent the DRYA in the finals which will be held off Grosse Pointe Y.C. September 6 through 9. The quarter finals are scheduled for July 30 and the semis on August 15 and 16.

Club Crews

Ten clubs indicated they intended to enter crews. They were: Detroit Y.C., Bayview, Crescent, Ford, Grosse Pointe, Edison Boat Club, Detroit Boat Club, Little Club and St. Clair Yacht Club.

The biggest problem confronting the meeting was where to get enough one design boats to run off the quarter finals. Don Johnston, Bayview's race chairman, suggested the Luder 18's inasmuch as they will be used for the finals. Well, this started what could have been a long winded discussion going nowhere. Soft spoken Commodore Art Summerlee put a stop to that when he informed chairman Cossaboom that vice chairman Stedman and Adam had been appointed to work out the details. That stopped the discussion right then and there and the meeting broke up exactly one half hour after it started. Personally we are still puzzled so we can't pass along any more information than we already have.

Wasn't it nice and peaceful when we were ignorant of the existence of the Mallory Cup series?

Mills Trophy Race
This week-end will see the big boats going to Toledo for the annual Mills Trophy race on bug-infested Lake Erie this Saturday, June 18. There definitely will be a new Mills Trophy champion since Fritz Leydorf sold his Owens cutter "Joanne" this spring. She won overall honors and class B last year. However, Nubby Sarns will be going down to defend his class A honors against such hot boats as Grandpa Gmeiner's "Apache," Fat Collins' "Vitesse," Dick Jeffery's "Last Straw," Gil Pingree's "Red Head" to name just a few yachts that will be heading downriver this Friday.

The Windsor Yacht Club will hold its annual Maple Leaf regatta for the unlimiteds on Saturday, June 18. There'll be at least six unlimiteds out for the first time this year. Namely Joe Schoenith's Gale IV and V driven by Bill Cantrell and Lee Schoenith, George Simon's Miss United States, Bud Saile's Miss Cadillac, Mary Heinric's Wha Hoppen and Chuck Thompson's Short Circuit. Danny Foster will drive Guy Lombardo's brand new Tempo VII. Possibly Horace Dodge will have at least one of his Sweeties entered.

New Boat Licensing Law To Be Strictly Enforced

Have you secured a license for your boat?
The Michigan State Waterways Commission has announced that strict enforcement of Michigan's new boat licensing law began on Monday, June 13th, by agents of the Department of State and other law enforcement officers.

Under a new law signed by the Governor on May 24, all outboards 16 ft. and over must also purchase this license. In past years, only inboards and sailboats had to be licensed. Now the only boats which are exempt are those less than 16 ft. in length, or which are at all times propelled solely by muscular power.

The present law applies to all residents of Michigan and to all boats which are moored in Michigan during a substantial period of the summer. All boats operated on the Great Lakes and connecting waters and on all inland waters having either a navigable inlet or outlet, must secure a license.

The revenue from these licenses goes to the State Waterways Commission to be used solely for the building and improvement of docks, harbors and other navigational facilities—in other words, to provide boat owners with places to go and safe refuge points en route.
At the present time, monies received from previous collections are being expended for facilities at Sault Ste. Marie, Harbor Springs, Rogers City, Frankfort, Fort Austin and Pentwater. In the past, funds have also been spent to improve facilities at Detroit, Clinton River, East Tawas, Port Huron, Port Sanilac.

Purchase of the boat license automatically makes the owner exempt from personal property taxation today.

The yearly licenses are issued in waterfront areas by branch offices of the Secretary of State and by some marine supply dealers. They also may be secured by mail from the main office of the Secretary of State in Lansing. Operating a boat without a license is a misdemeanor carrying a maximum fine of $100.00.

Licenses may be secured by mail from the Michigan Department of State, Special License Section, Capitol Building, Lansing, Michigan and from these dealers:

Salesmen's Shorts Cause Stir in Village Store

The sales men and women that you saw the other day in Young's Men Wear in the Village clad in walking shorts, argyles, sport coats and ties or blouses (as the case may be) weren't crazy; they were just helping proprietor Bob Shannon promote one of his items.

Last Monday, June 13, all of the salesmen and women right down to the cashier donned the unusual summer attire and carried on as usual.

Despite the cold weather, (not conducive to Bermuda short apparel), the sales scheme worked.

"You should have seen the girls that came in to gawk at Messrs. Tyson, Daniels and Rich, not to mention myself," Shannon said.

The salesmen wore nothing but items purchasable in the store. Plaid linen shorts (plain colors, too), argyles of all colors, cool summer dress shirts and the latest

And surprisingly enough, despite the weather that kept a good many shoppers home, wallet sales jumped, reported Shannon. Wallets, by the way, were the items they were pushing. The knee length walking shorts were just a side light attraction.

High time you discovered the difference in Dodge!

New Dodge Custom Royal Lancer 4-Door Sedan—most beautiful car on the road today.

Next time you're driving around town, just notice the number of gleaming new Dodge cars you see on the street!
Then ask yourself: "What is it these people have found out about the new Dodge that's causing this landslide of popular favor?"
Part of it, of course, is the new Dodge styling. You can see at a glance how much bigger and more luxurious this car is—up to 9 inches longer than its competitors.
But the real story behind the rush to Dodge is this: People are discovering the difference in the way Dodge cars are engineered and built!
They discover it in the solid, substantial feel of the car—the way it handles and rides. They learn to appreciate it in the deep-down goodness of every part and feature: Doors that don't rattle. Body joints that don't squeak. Windows that work smoothly.
There is really no substitute for the dependability that is built into Dodge. Isn't it time you discovered this difference for yourself?

Cool Fare for Warm Days!

WHICH came first—the chicken or the egg?

It's a good hot weather debate, but good cooks spare their breath and serve both often on summer menus. Here, an engaging summer platter stars the egg, dressed up so prettily its own mother—or daughter—the chicken, wouldn't recognize it.

Deviled Eggs Indienne is the name, and the secret of their success is the addition of snowy cottage cheese to the hard-cooked yolk—and a subtle dash of curry powder. Here's glamor for a buffet or supper-table any time—cool to look upon, easy to prepare, and as good as they are pretty.

Deviled Eggs Indienne

4 hard-cooked eggs halved
3 tablespoons mayonnaise
3 teaspoons vinegar
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
1 teaspoon curry powder
1/2 cup cottage cheese
Salt and pepper to taste

Remove egg yolks from whites. Mash yolks; mix with remaining ingredients until well blended and fluffy. Fill egg whites with yolk mixture. Garnish with paprika. 12 halves.

Summer Athletes Guard Against Heart Strain in Heat

The approaching vacation season brought the annual warning from the Michigan Heart Association for unaccustomed athletes to guard against violent and sudden exercise which might strain the heart.

Statistics show that heart diseases will claim almost as many lives these warm spring and summer days as during the past winter months—the decline in deaths attributed to heart diseases from winter to spring, for instance, is less than 1 per cent.

Advising vacation-time or week-end athletes against overdoing it, L. Paul Ralph, M.D., of Grand Rapids, president of the Michigan Heart Association, says, "Almost everyone should take some form of mild exercise, but if you don't ordinarily lift anything heavier than the telephone, or walk farther than the distance from your home to the bus stop, then you should not expect your heart to take kindly to the sudden extra strain of a fast game of tennis. No one, if he wants them to last, uses his heart or his car to the very limit of their endurance. It is wise to hold some power in reserve."

The Association also points out that just normal activity in 95 degree heat can put as much strain on your heart as shoveling snow in winter.

So learn to "take it easy" and follow these simple rules recommended by the Michigan Heart Association (a Michigan United Fund Agency) for protecting your heart—they mean the difference between continued good health or a serious heart ailment:

1. Avoid Over-Exertion. Physical activity rarely, if ever, can

What Makes TV Fan Club Tick

"Fan clubs," an ace Hollywood publicist told TV Guide, "are the world's best form of publicity... if you can control it." But controlled or not, fan clubs have provided powerful support for their idols for many years... and their number seems to be growing.

The current TV Guide reports that at least half-a-dozen organizations now exist to accept only presidents of fan clubs. The garden variety members in other clubs total untold thousands.

Liberace, for example, has 300 fan clubs, two of them with more than 3,000 members. And Roy Rogers, according to TV Guide, hires a professional editor to print and distribute 130,000 copies of an eight-page newspaper to his fans.

TV Guide dispels the theory that fan clubs are the sole property of teen-age girls. Martha Raye's fan club has been headed by two staunch male admirers since 1938. Jack Webb's organization, 1,500-strong, includes many reliable police officers.

While the primary purpose of many of the clubs is to publicize and eulogize their chosen idol, many clubs engage in useful activities. Mrs. Evelyn Young, president of the Liberace Club of Lakewood, Cal., informed TV Guide that most of the 50-cent annual dues collected from the club's 3,500 members is given to Liberace's favorite charities. The Rogers' fans raise money to benefit retarded children, a primary interest of Dale Evans (Mrs. Rogers).

The City of Grosse Pointe ordains that the following rules and regulations shall govern the mooring and use of boats at the City Pier and in the City Harbor of the City of Grosse Pointe, and shall provide the basis for issuance, expiration and revocation of permits for such mooring and use:

Section 1. SEASON — Each season shall embrace the period beginning May 15th and ending November 1st.

Section 2. PERMIT — Permits shall be non-transferable and issued annually by the City Clerk upon written application by bonafide boat owners who are residents of the City upon the following conditions:

(a) That the application for such permit contains all the information necessarily required by the City Clerk pursuant to this ordinance and is made under oath.

(b) That suitable space is available for the boat for which application is made.

(c) That the application is made and the mooring fee paid within the time prescribed.

(d) That such application is first approved by the Clerk.

(e) That renewal application is made on or before April 15th.

Section 3. MOORING SPACE ALLOCATION — All applications for spaces shall be filed according to date received and assigned in such order except that the holder of a mooring permit for the immediate previous season shall have the privilege of renewal, provided, that the application is filed as required by the rules and regulations and mooring fee paid. The remaining vacant spaces, after permit holders for the immediate previous season have been accorded the right to renew, shall be allocated to applicants in the order of the filing date.

Section 4. FEES-MOORING — When an application has been approved and the mooring space allotted, the Clerk shall notify the applicant thereof. The applicant shall thereafter, and prior to the time he shall make use of such space, pay to the City the mooring fee as hereafter provided, whereupon the Clerk will issue a permit for the space allotted. The applicant shall also be furnished a tag on which shall be designated the mooring space number assigned and the year issued which he shall attach to the boat before it is moored.

The mooring fee for each season shall be as follows: $2.00 per foot with a minimum of $20.00.

Fees reduced to one-half of above for space assigned August 1st, or after.

Mooring fees may be refunded only on approval of the Council and no fee will be refunded on requests made after June 15th of the year for which the fee was paid.

Section 5. BOAT MOORINGS — No boat shall be permitted to moor in any space other than the space assigned to it by permit. However, the City may change the space at the discretion of the supervising official.

No boat other than the boat described on the application and owned by the applicant shown thereon shall be permitted to moor.

Boats with cooking, sleeping or toilet facilities shall be permitted to moor except that under no circumstance will these facilities be used within the harbor. Violation of this section will result in revocation of permit.

The maximum overall length of any boat to be moored in the harbor sections shall not exceed 24 feet for craft other than sailcraft, and 30 feet overall length for sailcraft.

Every boat must be provided with mooring lines in good condition according to the following minimum requirements, and subject to further approval of the pier attendant:

Open launches or sailboats; bow and stern, 3/4 inch in diameter.

Section 6. BOATS - LAUNCHING AND REMOVAL — All boats must be removed on or before November 1st of each year.

Owners of boats shall not store same at the pier or on adjacent City property after removal at close of season.

Section 7. BOATS - USE OF — No boat shall approach nearer than 250 feet to outside edge of dock or pier except on entering or leaving the harbor, and shall not operate in excess of three miles per hour in and around the harbor within a distance of 250 feet therefrom.

All outboard motors shall be provided with a suitable muffler or exhaust silencer and the same shall be kept in efficient operating order.

No unmuffled exhausts shall be permitted and outboard motors or engines of any kind shall not be allowed to operate later than 11:00 P.M., and no unusual or unnecessary noises on the pier or docks shall be allowed.

No cleaning of bilge inside the harbor shall be allowed. No repairs or maintenance to boats or motor overhaul shall be made on the pier park property or waters.

Section 8. INSPECTION — The Chief or Acting Chief of the Fire Department, or any member thereof, duly authorized by his superior, shall have authority to inspect all boats moored at the pier or dock and the department may make reasonable rules and regulations concerning the establishment and maintenance of fire extinguishers and other equipment in, upon, or near all boats for the protection of the property of the City and other owners from loss or damage by fire.

Section 9. LIABILITY — The City, in permitting boats to moor in the harbor, shall not be charged with any responsibility for loss or damage by fire, theft, collision or any other cause. All boats shall be operated and moored at the owner's risk.

The holder of a mooring permit shall be liable to the City and to all others lawfully using such facilities, for any loss, injury or damage resulting from the permit holder's negligence.

Section 10. DISPLAY OF PERMIT — The permit as issued by the Clerk must be displayed upon request to any City officer, attendants or guards by the holders thereof to gain admission to or make use of the pier, dock or harbor.

Section 11. CANCELLATION OF PERMIT — The City expressly reserves the right to refuse, revoke or cancel any mooring permit for non-observance or violations of any of the provisions of the regulations adopted hereunder.

Non-use of mooring space by a permit holder prior to July 15th shall constitute cause for cancellation of such permit unless an extension is granted by the Clerk on a request filed prior to the cancellation date.

These regulations shall become effective on June 1, 1955, and may thereafter be amended or revised, from time to time, by the Council.

Adopted: May 31, 1955

Tip Top Vigor in Oldsters Depends on Earlier Diet

The "middle years" start around age 35. They end with the beginning of old age, which may be at 45 or 55, depending largely on how the years are lived, says Eleanor Mullikin, Wayne County Home Agent.

Old age has ceased to mean simply advanced years. Signs of advancing age may occur at 40 or not for another half century. The first steps in lengthening the middle years and shortening old age must be taken in young adulthood.

Planning meals for adults has become the topic of the hour since population trends have shown that one-third of the people of the United States are over 45 years of age.

One important way to help keep in tip-top vigor is to make sure that we have well-chosen meals through adult years as well as during childhood.

A modern, protective diet has been shown to add an extra ten years or so to the life span. Planning menus for a day is like selecting a costume—it's the over-all effect that counts.

Since body machinery, in general, slows down after thirty and many adults are not so active as food is needed. The tendency to add pounds is a natural one.

Overweight makes extra work for the heart and other organs. A careful counting calories, until new food habits have been formed, may be necessary.

Foods that furnish only energy without carrying vitamins, minerals, or protein are those to be scorned (sugar, candy, cake, pastry, gravies, oil salad dressings, fried foods and rich desserts).

Of course, Junior must have his fruits and vegetables, but so must his mother and his grandfather. Fruits and vegetables are excellent sources of vitamins and minerals, and, since absorption may not be efficient in later years, larger quantities may be needed.

Milk is a "must." A pint or more of milk should be included in everyone's daily diet. The calcium in milk helps fortify bones against breakage. Cheddar cheese and cottage cheese lend themselves to many delicious dishes and will add calcium in a different form.

A liberal amount of high quality protein from milk, cheese, eggs, fish and meat should be provided in the diets of all age groups. There should be two or more servings of protein food besides milk included every day.

Modern science has proved that protein and the B vitamins actually delay aging. Since meats are excellent sources of both protein and B vitamins, they should be included in some form in the diets of old and young.

More information on meals for adults as well as suggestions and recipes for low-calorie snacks and desserts are included in the folder "Meals For The Middle Years." For a copy, address your request to Mrs. Eleanor Mullikin, Wayne County Extension Service, P.O. Box 552, Wayne, Michigan.

Army Reserves To Leave For Summer Training

The 5438th ARASU Station Complement, an Army Reserve organization commanded by Col. E. H. Sliter, Jr., will leave for 15 days training at Camp McCoy, Wis., on June 12, 1955.

This reserve unit is made up of 38 officers and 115 enlisted personnel from the entire Detroit and suburban area. They come from all types of jobs—lawyers, machinists, truck drivers, salesmen, etc., but they have a common goal in attending camp preparing themselves to perform their military jobs efficiently.

Colonel Sliter has announced that the training at Camp McCoy will be complete and realistic.

Members of the unit will get "on-the-job" training in their military occupational specialties, working with the assigned personnel at the camp.

They will give each individual training and exercise in his own job assignment.

The 15-day summer camp supplements the weekly armory training for these reservists and gives them an opportunity to put into practice the lessons they have learned.

The mission of this unit is to be prepared to take over an assignment in the event of a call to active duty. The training at camp will be beneficial in this respect to individuals and to the entire unit.

CAMERAS CATCH PICTORIAL NEWS OF INTEREST FROM ALL OVER THE WORLD

BLACKBOARD BEAUTY—Current National College Queen Ginger Steen, 19-year-old Temple University junior, points out brains and beauty equation that will form basis for selection of her successor at the third annual National College Queen Contest grand finals at Asbury Park, N. J., Sept. 9-11. Contest seeks nation's most brainy and beautiful college girl from among 48 state college queens.

MISS ARIZONA—Eighteen-year-old Beth Andre, who was born in Minnesota, went to school in California, and now makes her home in Phoenix, Ariz., will represent the desert state in the Miss America Pageant in Atlantic City in September. She stands 5 feet 7 inches, weighs 120, has blonde hair, green eyes and has ambitions of becoming a dental hygienist, if she can't become an actress.

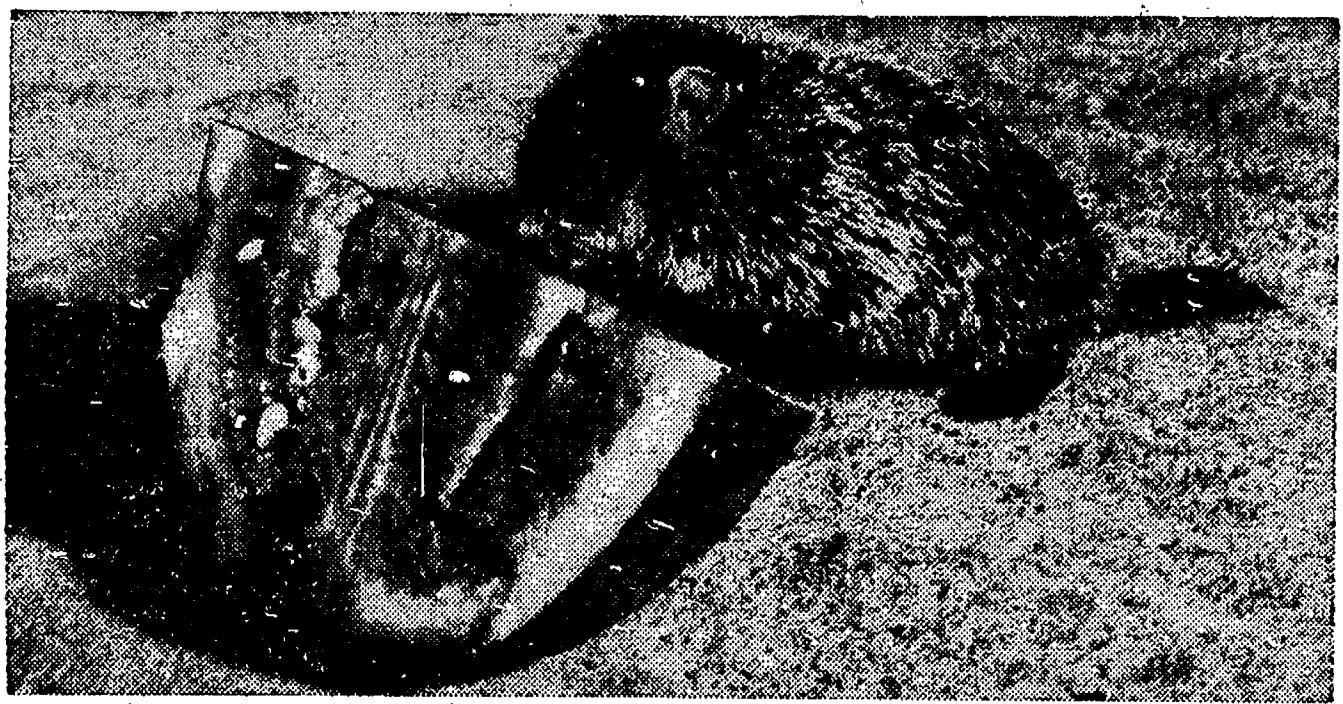

FIT AS A FIDDLE—"Bittersweet" is the adjective that probably best describes the expression on the lovely face of Italian screen star Silvana Pampanini, as she tries her hand on the strings of a bass cello. Playing before a gathering of film folk in Venice, Silvana's not saying whether she's sour or "sent" by that last note.

FACE VALUE—While no one is looking, this "Martian" relaxes with a pipe. The outer-space creature caused quite a stir with his massive head when he appeared at the traditional Fair du Lendit at St. Denis, France. Two sets of teeth may be all right on the planet Mars, but they look pretty weird on 11' old Earth.

RARE REPTILES—Dr. James A. Oliver, curator of reptiles at New York's Bronx Zoo, shows off the prize Komodo Monitor, or dragon lizard, which went on public display recently. The rare lizards are the only ones on display anywhere outside their native Indonesia. They grow to about 10 feet and attain a weight of up to 300 pounds. Though carnivorous, the two Monitors have shown no signs of wanting to eat Dr. Oliver. They are kept well fed on horse meat, however.

OUT OF SEASON—Watermelons and groundhogs are both slightly out of season at New Bloomfield, Pa., but they turned up together in this appealing photograph. Woody, six weeks old, was too late for Groundhog day in February, and the watermelon he's eating is slightly early for the year, since the season starts about July 4.

EFFICIENCY EXPERT—This "temporary employee" of the archives section of the Ministry of Finance in Egypt sets to work at reorganizing the filing system. The government summoned snake charmers when regular employees fled the office in Cairo after encountering five snakes in the files. By whistling, cooing, and tugging, the experts managed to clear the files of extraneous serpentine matter.

ROCK 'N' (BANK) ROLL—A fair visitor to the Nassau, Bahamas, beach picks what appears to be a gnarled old rock as a perch to pose for a snapshot, unaware that the "rock" is worth its weight in greenbacks. Upon closer inspection it proved to be a 125-pound chunk of ambergris, a rare and valuable substance found in the intestine of the sperm whale. It was found lying on the beach.

CURVES AND LINES— "Having a wonderful time" are Ardlith Ulrich (left) and Lois Wagberg, a couple of Denver gals up the creek for a session of fishing. They're laughing because they forgot the bait—ha! ha! ha!

DAVY GETS A DEGREE—Davy Crockett is getting a "sheepskin" to go with his coonskin. He'll lay aside his trusty rifle and denim academic hat instead of his coon cap to receive a degree at the University of Maine in Orono. This Davy, no relation to the storied frontiersman, is David S. Crockett III of Camden, Maine, an ROTC cadet who will enter the Army as a 2nd Lieutenant after graduation. Appropriately enough, Crockett's major subject is history and government.

ON HER WAY—This green-eyed blonde beauty, Dani Crayne by name, is the latest film actress to emerge from Universal-International's "talent development school." The Minneapolis-born newcomer is headed for stardom after years working as a receptionist, waitress, usherette, and one time as operator of an electrically driven fork lift for a van and storage company.

SUMMER GARLAND—A garland of clover blooms colorfully on the front of a crisp summer blouse by Judy Bond. The pretty, sleeveless blouse, done in white rayon linen, is finished with a pet Peter Pan collar.

TRIBUTE—Father's Day tribute to the late Milton S. Hershey, who left chocolate millions to orphaned boys, is read by Daniel Seiverling of Hershey, Pa., to his son, Robert, 6, before a picture of the famed philanthropist. The story of Hershey school for orphans of which Seiverling is one of 2,600 graduates, will be dramatized on Sunday, June 19, as the Father's Day program in the Hall of Fame TV series.

GARDEN PARTY—This garden party in the Georgetown section of Washington, D. C., looks like any other such affair—but, really, it is quite unique. This is the tenth annual party for the neighborhood street cleaners, held by Mrs. Rank West and other members of the exclusive Washington set living thereabouts. The workmen are also presented with gifts for their "kindness" at the friendly get-together.

SECRET TALK—It could be that the big secret four-year-old Julie Bethurum, of Nashville, Tenn., is whispering into her grandmother's ear is that Julie's little cotton baptiste dress is 83 years old! Grandma, Mrs. Mamie Sinclair Bethurum, 87, knows all about it—she wore that very dress when she was just Julie's age. It was shortly after the Civil War that Mrs. Bethurum received the frock—and the garment still looks good after all those years of washings and ironings.

TICKLED SILLY—Jean Wales learns about men with mustaches as she gets a congratulatory peck from policeman Herman Massen, of Hengelo, Holland, after her London wedding. Herman was one of six Dutch policemen who attended Jean's wedding to their fellow lawman, Joop Klem. Jean, 23, met Joop, 31, while they were holidaying in France. Jean's father is a police sergeant on the London force.

FAREWELL BIKINIS!—Paris model Colette George shows clearly that she is following the new edict by French fashion authorities which bars Bikinis on the beaches. Here, the dutiful beautiful Colette "covers up" in a Frederick of Hollywood creation, with a V-neck strap that is the American designer's concession to the new French conservatism in swimsuit fashions. The strap practically hides lovely Colette from view.

Bayview Yachts Again Win Cruising Class Honors

Bayview Yacht Club skippers continued their dominance in the regular DRYA inter-club sailing regattas when they scored their third consecutive grand slam in the Cruising classes A, B and C in Bayview's annual spring regatta last Saturday, June 11.

Dick Jeffery's beautiful, revamped Fisher Islander sloop "Last Straw" captured Cruising A honors; Skip Grow's and Carter Sales' Voyager yawl "Quefida" topped Cruising B and Jimmy Carlin's Pilot sloop "Glory Bea II" completed the sweep by winning Cruising C.

As a matter of fact in every class, except two, in which Bayview skippers competed, they came out on top. In only the Lightning class and Universal B did the Bayview tars miss out. But in both these classes they finished second.

Johnston Applauded
Race chairman Don Johnston received the plaudits of the skippers for ordering ideal wind conditions which were the best of the three weekly regattas held to date this year. A dandy 15 to 20 mile an hour southwesterly breeze prevailed which gave the fleet of 137 yachts two fast reaches on the first two legs, over the regular DRYA triangular courses on Lake St. Clair, and a perfect beat to weather down the American shore to the finish line in front of the host club on the Detroit River.

"Last Straw" chased Gil Pin-gree's 60 foot yawl "Red Head" all the way around the 29 mile course and missed by only a minute and 43 seconds of beating her boat for boat. Said the likeable Jeffery, "We might have beaten her boat for boat had we not concentrated on Nubby Sam's red hot 'Revelry' who we knew had to give us the least amount of time in the handicap. We knew we had our time saved on 'Red Head' and the rest of the fleet so we tacked to weather of 'Revelry' after we got in the river to cover our closest rival."

This maneuver set the stage for a thrilling "picture finish" with Pat Collins' New York 32 "Vitesse" who squeezed "Last Straw" out of the second boat to finish place by a matter of six feet. It was a beautiful sight to see these queens of the sea come charging down to the finish line close hauled in a dying breeze. Even the least interested spectator, of the huge crowd that jammed the clubhouse lawn, couldn't help but thrill to the sight.

"Revelry" Takes Second
"Revelry," winner of the first two races, crossed the line just 22 seconds later to earn second place on corrected time ahead of "Vitesse" who took third place. Time corrections dropped "Red Head" down to sixth place behind "Granpa" Gmeiner's "Apache" and Dave Sloss' "Kathmar".

Skip Grow's and Carter Sales' "Quefida" continued to monopolize the Cruising B class when she got her third consecutive winning gun beating Johnny Detwiler's "Vashti" and Wilfred McGuire's "Kandu".

The Pilot sloop dominated Cruising C with Jimmy Carlin's "Glory Bea II" beating Hank Dunlap's "Albacore" by two minutes and 43 seconds. Karl Ness' "Happy-ness," last week's winner, was a shade behind for third place.

"Wind Toy" bounced back from her disqualification in last week's St. Clair Yacht Club regatta in grand style to get her first winning gun of the season. Chuck Haug's "Niad" took second place in spite of the fact he had to give way to a freighter on the second leg of the course which put him in last place in the six boat fleet.

An inshore tack paid off big dividends for "Niad" while the early leaders were battling it out in the lake. Sid Marsh's "Indian Drum" earned a third place trophy for her determined skipper who is one of the hardest working and most determined guys in the class.

Third Straight
Freddie Jensen continued to make shambles of the popular L class when he got his third straight winning gun of the season. His green hulled "Escape" had a 50 second lead over Guy McNarron and Tommy Hanson placed third.

Visitor 'Herm Nickles, from Fenton, Michigan, came to town long enough to show the local Lightning guys how to sail the boats. He makes a living at building. He took to the road right after receiving congratulations from second place winner Wes Weidrick and third place Warren Jones. Said Nickles, "Gotta get back home and build some more Lightning-busines is good."

Dick Wozniak wound the spring up good and tight on his Luder 16 "Showboat" before the first race of the season and it hadn't run down last Saturday. He showed the way to the rest of the Luder fleet for the third straight time beating Bill Fisher and Pete Stroh who placed second and third in that order.

First Victory
The catboat team out of Edison Boat Club, led by that old veteran Pat Clancy, who was the individual winner in the CK class, won the first victory.

Pointers Lead Famous Sailing Group

Bayview Yacht Club, not the largest yacht club in this area but the biggest booster of sailing events, including the world famous Bayview-Port Huron to Mackinac Island Race, is headed by this trio of Grosse Pointers. Shown, left to right, is VICE COMMODORE ROBERT BENKERT of Moran, COMMODORE WILLIAM WIARD of Balfour road and REAR COMMODORE LYNN STEDMAN, JR., of Allard. It is extremely unusual for three men from one community the size of Grosse Pointe to hold the three top jobs in a sailing organization. Stedman holds the distinction of being the youngest flag officer among the DRYA yacht clubs. In 1956 when Benkert becomes commodore it will mark the first time two brothers have ever been the commodore of the same club. Bob's brother is a past commodore of Bayview.

Team event, scored its first team victory of the year. Edison scored 25 points as compared to Detroit Boat Club's 22; DYC's 16 and St. Clair YC's 15.

LITTLE LEAGUE

PARK

The League leading Orioles, cellar dwellers last season, dropped their first game of this season last week but continued to set the pace in the Park Major league with 3 wins in four starts. The third place Athletics turned the trip and were benefitted by darkness that called the game at the end of the fifth inning.

The Athletics were leading 5 to 4 when the Orioles came to bat in the top half of the sixth inning. The Orioles proceeded to blast out four home runs in the top of the sixth and they took so much time in fashioning the four round trippers that they used up all the daylight, forcing the umpire to call the game because of darkness. Inasmuch as the Athletics were the home team and were denied their chance to bat in the sixth the score reverted back to the last of the fifth and a victory for the Athletics.

Earlier in the week the Orioles scored their initial win of the week when they rapped three White Sox hurlers for nine hits and an 11 to 5 victory. This was a rescheduled contest which had been rained out the first part of week.

The third of four major league games during the week saw the Senators break into the win column when they bowled over the White Sox 10 to 4. The star of the game was 12 year old Larry Smith, rightfielder of the Senators, who staged one of the greatest one man exhibitions ever seen on Defer Field. Larry poled out a home run and a double and on each occasion bases were loaded. His two hits accounted for 7 of the Senators 10 runs.

In the final game of the week Athletic pitcher John Weferman shutout the Senators, 4 to 0, on two hits, both coming in the fourth inning.

SOUTHERN CONFERENCE

Duke of the Southern Conference proved their right to the top spot in the standings when it rolled to an overwhelming 19 to 3 victory over once beaten Alabama last week.

Baylor scored its first victory of the young season mainly on the strength of three home runs over the short centerfield fence on the Ketchival diamond. The new Nottingham diamond's outfield fence cuts the Ketchival diamond's outfield distance almost in half which has resulted in cheap homers.

NORTHERN CONFERENCE
On some staunch pitching by workhorse, Bob Beauchamp, Great Lakes captured its second straight win to keep pace with undefeated Evansville in the Northern Conference race. Beauchamp allowed only three hits as his teammates were pounding out a 15 to 3 triumph over Fordham.

In the other game of the week Evansville nipped Harvard 3 to 2 as pitcher Mike Cherry set down 10 Harvard batters via the strikeout route.

Something new has been added to the Collegiate League program of games which started Saturday, June 11. Because of the large number of players in both the Southern and Northern Conferences league officials decided to assemble a farm team from each league made up of 8 and 9 year-old players. Last Saturday, June 11, saw these two teams start a series of Saturday games which will be played every Saturday during the balance of the season. The games begin at 4 p.m.

Lee Mulrooney and Edward Brady are the managers of the Southern Conference farm team and John McDonald and Jim Humphreys will manage the Northern Conference farm club.

Elementary School News

This week brings to a close the many events commemorating the 25th anniversary of the Richard School. Over the span of years of illustrious history, some 5,000 girls and boys have been in attendance.

They have been under the guidance of nearly 200 different staff members and other employees of the Grosse Pointe school system.

These thousands of our fine youth have gone on into secondary schools and finally into homemaking and vocational positions of prominence all over the U. S. A. We all join a large group of most cooperative parents of the Richard neighborhood in being very proud of them.

During the current school year many informal events and programs have had to do with the anniversary celebration. The year long theme for the meetings of the highly efficient and cooperative Parent-Teacher Association has been, 25 years of education, at Richard, in the Pointe, and in the nation.

Because the PTA supports a very strong scouting program involving nearly half of the pupils of the school, one of the meetings was given entirely over to them. The public programs ended with a superb musical festival in May.

Many have been the happy and successful experiences of the children during the 1954-55 school year. Everyone has worked diligently in the learning of the fundamental subjects. An enriched program has resulted from experience in art, music, physical education, literature and dramatics.

Children from all grades have gone out into the metropolitan area on field trips to see how our society performs the tasks of daily living and how it engages in leisure time activities. Science, natural history and conversation, too, have been important aspects of the program of instruction.

The 570 young people making up this year's enrollment are now closing their books on another happy and successful year. Picnics are being held in the local waterfront parks and in the backyards of some of the patrons.

Flag Day was celebrated by the raising of the American emblem on June 14 with the whole school in attendance. Song tests are being held. Honors assemblies are taking place honoring the safety patrol, the service squad, and for bidding goodbye to one of the largest sixth grade groups of 90 young people, who leave for junior high school.

After a free day the children will return on June 17 for their report cards. With the card each is being given a 25th anniversary brochure. The brochure gives a few highlights of the school's history. It also will be a picture of each child's 1954-55 class. Then everyone leaves for what is hoped will be a most happy summer for the many families of Pere Gabriel Richard School.

Return to North Carolina Home After Visit in Pointe

Mrs. Laurie C. Dickson has returned to her home in Charlotte, N.C. following a week's visit with her son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Laurie C. Dickson at their residence in Cadieux road.

Penny-Saving Beef Cuts Ample in June Markets

This is the season when retail markets are focusing their meat ads on the less expensive cuts of all kinds of meat.

With the supplies of top-grade cattle extremely ample, such forequarter cuts as the blade, round, bone, and English-cut chuck roasts are very good values.

Although the blade always costs a few pennies less, meat dealers say it is the leader in flavor and tenderness, for it is the cut which lies nearest the tasty standing-rib roast. This rib roast may also be found in most markets at a seasonal low cost.

Although prices on most pork cuts are advancing a little toward the expected high peak in mid-July, they are still very reasonable in comparison to last year at this time. Warm weather meat choices are beginning to show up on bargain counters in such cuts as lean spareribs, frankfurters, large bologna, smoked picnics, and thick-sliced bacon.

Following the expected increase in the supply of genuine spring-lamb, price tags show a drop on most cuts.

Veal is still an outstanding meat buy. Shoulder, rump, sirloin, and legs of veal are being displayed at the seasonal low prices.

Prices on fryers have dropped slightly in the past week. Supplies are steadily coming in at about the same price as steaming chickens.

On the fresh counters, lake perch and white bass fillets are economical buys, while yellow pickerel and whitefish are in good supply and have dropped in price.

A slightly higher market price will be found on all eggs due to a small decrease in production and to fewer top quality eggs being available in hot weather.

The green displays on the retail counters prove that this is the week to buy all varieties of Michigan lettuce. There is an abundance of leaf lettuce, Bibb lettuce, Boston lettuce, romaine, and the new salad-bowl variety to add interest to salad making.

The crop of new Michigan cabbage was about 10 days early this year, for it made its appearance late last week at very appealing prices. Homegrown broccoli and cauliflower and Italian and summer squash are also early in the markets. Locally grown green onions and radishes are available in excellent quality and in ample supply.

It is good news to note that a water selection of fresh spring and early summer fruit is beginning to appear. The season for Michigan strawberries is in full-swing, but the berries must be ripe when purchased for they do not ripen more after being picked. For best quality, all berries should contain caps and the container should be checked for red stains indicating crushed berries. It is best not to wash strawberries until ready to use them.

Heavier shipments of juicy pink watermelon and jumbo-sized sweet cantaloupe have brought prices down to very attractive levels for picnics and dessert fare.

There are more of the black Tartarian cherries on the market to tempt the appetites, and the large Bing variety has just begun to appear this week.

Church Previews Christmas Fair

Hollywood does not have a corner on "sneak previews." When the Women's Association of the Grosse Pointe Congregational Church met on Tuesday, June 14, for the last time until September, they were treated to a "sneak preview" of some of the merchandise to be offered at The Mistletoe Mart on December 1, at tea after the meeting.

Variety and originality were the keywords of this sample showing that featured summer and special order merchandise, and was displayed on tables decorated by Mrs. Marcus Johnson.

The showing was under the direction of Mrs. James E. Huntington, general chairman of the Mistletoe Mart.

Both chairmen who displayed and sold the handwork done by their group were: Mrs. William Arbaugh, men's wear; Mrs. Lester Bacter, gadgets; Mrs. Harold Beattie, aprons; Mrs. William Browne, jewelry; Mrs. Edwin Chase, seamstress' shop; Mrs. Robert Griffin, Christmas decorations; and Mrs. Theodore Hunt, plants.

Others were Mrs. Brent Jacobs, children's mart; Mrs. Charles Marzoff, millinery; Mrs. Howard Poppen, arts and crafts; Mrs. Howard Quinney, pantry; and Mrs. Charles Sweet, knitwear.

When Heat Bothers You

ANN ARBOR—If you're bothered by summer's heat, it may be a relief to know that at one time a tremendous Ice Age glacier covered a large part of Michigan.

The last ice of that sort disappeared from this region only about 30,000 years ago, says Russell C. Hussey, professor of geology at The University of Michigan.

He even pin-points the front of the glacier enough to say that it stopped on the U of M campus right about where the Student Health Service and the Dental Buildings are now.

However, not a soul inhabited this region during the warm interglacial periods, he says, although other parts of the United States were occupied.

But tremendous elephants and mastodons did roam around Michigan then. The ancestor home of these creatures, many millions of years ago, was Africa, and they migrated to the United States by way of some old land bridge, which has since disappeared.

As a protection against the cold, the animals developed a layer of fat just beneath the skin, and on the outside a heavy layer of matted wool, and long, coarse, reddish-brown hair, Professor Hussey says.

The mastodon was especially common around Ann Arbor, and its bones have been found in many of the swamps and bogs near the city.

These animals survived in Michigan long after the ice had melted from this region, and only a few thousand years ago they must have been a very common sight.

Complete bodies of the Woolly Elephant, similar to the ones that lived in Michigan, have been found frozen into the soil and ice of Siberia, where they have remained in cold storage for centuries, with the flesh preserved in such a fresh condition that dogs were able to eat it after the body had been exposed.

Use Care in Water Sports Board of Health Warns

Water enthusiasts in a water wonderland were today urged to "play it safe" when swimming, fishing or boating. The Michigan Department of Health says, "to guard your life, be your own life-guard—it's the best way to hold down accidental drownings which claimed 312 Michigan lives last year."

Among the health department recommendations: fishermen should stay ashore rather than accept a seat in an overcrowded boat; swimmers should check the depth of water before diving; parties "just out for a ride" should agree that no-one stands up in a boat.

"Even if you swim like a fish," the health department counseled, "respect your limitations. Even the best swimmers can get cramps."

Swimmers were advised to "come out of the water before you're all in, to swim only in daylight hours, if possible at guarded beaches, and always with a companion."

If you are a swimming, boating or sailing enthusiast, the health department warns, "Keep your feet on the ground when storm warnings are out."

"And whenever children are around water make sure they are constantly in sight, and within easy reach by a person to whom you would entrust your own life in an emergency."

who, where and whatnot

by whoozit

An attractive newcomer to the Pointe moaned to whoozit the other day, "Why did I ever come to Grosse Pointe to live! Everyone out here is more talented, prettier and richer than I am!"

A very well established and chic Pointer . . . did a double take at tea in her drawing room recently, when a guest, maybe forgetting for the moment that she was sitting in a room filled with perfect period pieces said:

"You know I've always thought that people who collect and live with antiques dress like their furniture."

"And she didn't laugh when she said it, I know because I looked real quick," said the hostess.

Mrs. James McMillan's deep tan is all the smarter with a tangerine afternoon frock, printed in all-over design with what looks for all the world like old fashioned Ferris waist buttons . . . Remember them?

Coolest sight at the Pointe on a recent afternoon: Miss Jessie Kuindiger lunching at the War Memorial . . . wearing a white frock, glistening here and there with a frosty rhinestone . . . a huge cartwheel white hat (like the Countesses in Vogue wear) and immense ice blue hooped straw earrings . . .

All those balloons at the recent Fair on the Green for the Garden Center were contributed by the Akron Rubber Co., and Mrs. Ralph Kresge enlisted her husband's aid . . . So he sent out a helium man to fill them in time for the Fair . . . and they were lovely, adding lots to the gaiety of the day . . .

All the workers at the Fair wore shoulder corsages of heaven pink carnations, bowed in pink satin . . . the gifts of Mrs. Frederick Kennedy . . . Such a pretty thought . . .

PILFERINGS

Have you hear the Shaggy Dog story about the Dalmation who got on a Deanehurst bus and had to stand all the way from Grand Circus Park to Fisher road in the Pointe? All the seats were occupied by Pekingeses. Next time, he'll know better than to travel during the peke hour!

Quoting Jimmy Durante: "John Charles Thomas are three very nice guys."

A theatrical paper reports that ads for a 4th Street Theatre, N.Y. presentation read: "Three Sisters" with Morris Carnovsky, Roger DeKoven and Philip Loeb."

James Thurber is in Paris and in an interview he stated that his first visit to the city was back in 1919, "I was a code clerk in Washington at the time. We received a message that 12 code clerks were needed by President Wilson at the Versailles Peace Conference. What they really wanted were 12 code books, but somebody got the message mixed up."

Mr. Thurber is spending the Summer in Europe and he will write an article on the Loch Ness Monster. It is to be called: "There's Something Out There."

He will also do research on the English bloodhound. "It is the most misunderstood individual since Richard III," he said.

Cartoon in Punch shows husband emerging from the Pet Shop, his trousers torn, great rents in the sleeves of his jacket. Says he to his wife, "I didn't see anything I liked."

Sign in a Bel Air (Calif.) apartment house elevator: No baby carriages, bicycles or foreign cars permitted in the lobby.

Hoff cartoon shows a husband surveying the Sunday roast, nicely browned, and remarking to his wife: "My this is beautifully done and not burned a bit. 'Smatter, the telephone out of order?'"

Pointer of Interest

JUDY NEERIEMER OF WATERLOO AVENUE

By Jane Schermerhorn

Wonderful to find a teen ager, in this oh-so-modern day, who gets stars in her eyes over sewing a straight seam.

Judy Neeriemer, who just finished her junior year at Grosse Pointe High School, is our gal.

And this Summer she is settling down in earnest on her career as dressmaker, the career she'll pursue in a shop of her own someday . . . some quite far-away day because she means to go to Michigan State University after finishing high school.

Judy and her mother, Mrs. Eve Neeriemer, live in a light-hearted apartment at Waterloo and Fisher and one whole room just has been turned over to daughter of the house for her Summer "workshop."

Summer Project

There, Judy intends to sew for her mother and her friends this Summer vacation.

She'll augment that MSU nest egg besides doing the thing she loves most.

Our Pointer of Interest has been in love with needles and thread since she was a very little girl. She made her first skirt when she was only ten (of course she's not a whale of a lot more than that today).

Then when her father gave her a portable, electric sewing machine she completed the instruction course that went with it.

Before that, Judy could claim the best dressed dolls in Grosse Pointe. Her father taught her how to knit and they used to break stocking needles in half to knit doll scarves.

Joyce Encourages

It was her high school friend, Joyce Bushong, who did a lot to encourage her on this Summer project of doing both alterations and new garments.

Joyce was sure she'd be wonderful at it . . . So . . .

She got out her savings from baby-sitting, the fund was augmented by gifts from her parents, and went down town to furnish a very efficient sewing room.

There's a new ironing board and a gleaming steam iron. One of those business-like chalk affairs that mark just where the hem is to be turned.

A sleeve board awaits its first commission and a pretty mahogany chest ("I got it for just nothing at a junk shop and didn't it turn out prettily!") is filled with all colors of thread, sizes of needles, drawers full of the latest patterns and yards and yards of lovely materials.

There's a goose neck lamp for closework, a full length mirror so customers may admire the fit.

Now that she's completed Sewing I, II, III and IV (all she can take until she reaches the home ec. classes at MSU), Judy is having business cards printed and hopes to pass them out to anyone who wants a hem turned up, a pretty, new Summer frock, or even a coat.

Skilled Worker

We saw the things she had made in school. They're beautifully done. One blue clover powder puff muslin frock, strapless, had boned bodice that would do credit to a parisian couturiere!

A turquoise corduroy coat, ever so well tailored, is smart as Vogue and the afternoon frocks Judy has made for her mother are most professional and beautifully turned out.

Naturally Judy's always gotten A's in school sewing and she's always admired her sewing teachers. Miss Dorothy Hostetter, who was her instructor this past year, "can fit clothes just heavenly!" says her pupil.

If all goes well this Summer, Judy will continue to sew for her friends a bit during her senior year at Grosse Pointe High.

Off to New York

But if you are worrying about Judy's fun, don't. Day we interviewed her she was dashing off to the Country Club to a junior prom.

In August, she's looking forward to two weeks in New York City, her very first trip to the Big City. She'll visit an aunt she obviously adores.

She wants to see just everything . . . and she simply must spend a lot of time in the Seventh Avenue garment districts. She's read all about them.

When she isn't sewing (incidentally, among all those materials she's stocked she has a lot of what she calls "disciplined cotton" which sounds like fascinating stuff!) Judy loves to knit.

She does argyles for her dad, sweaters for herself, elaborate with cabling.

BRANDIED SEEDLESS GRAPES

Contributed by

Mrs. Stanley Lawson Smith.

This is a perfect Summer dessert.

2 1/2 c. seedless green grapes, stemmed
1 tsp. lemon juice
1/2 c. honey
2 Tbsp. brandy
1/2 c. sour cream

Mix lemon juice, honey and brandy and pour over grapes.

Let marinate and serve with spoon of sour cream atop each portion.

Serves six.

Her mother as very willing practice model, Judy has learned how to change patterns with a professional touch. She's a stickler for clothes fitting j-u-s-t-right.

She's an avid reader and enjoys football and baseball; swims as much as she can.

She's got pretty brown hair and eyes, eight customers seeking her services and what more could you ask the first week of "business" with the new business cards just fresh off the press!

Bet, and hope, Judy'll be the richest girl on campus at Michigan State University in autumn 1956!

Junior Dancers Give Recital

The Mary Ellen Cooper Dancers gave their annual spring recital Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in the auditorium at Parcels Junior High School.

The group, which meets throughout the school season at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial for lessons, presented an adaptation of Humperdink's "Hansel and Gretel."

The cast included Anne Mary Howe as Hansel, Joyce Reuter as Gretel, Patricia Agdan as the witch, Jean McKinnon as the father and Clare Hartwick as the mother. Sally Buck was the fairy and the teacher, Miss Mary Ellen Cooper, danced a solo as the spirit of the night.

Juniors from five years danced group numbers in the three acts of the production. The accompanist was Irene Cooper.

Bacons to Host Huguenot Picnic

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hamilton Bacon, of Barrington road, will be hosts to the 18th annual Founders' Day picnic of the Huguenot Society of Michigan, Sunday, June 19, at their home.

Founded June 22, 1937, by Mrs. George W. Moran, of Marshall, at Gasbrouck House, ancestral, century-old stone house near Marshall, the picnic has been held there annually on the Sunday nearest June 22.

But the property has passed out of Mrs. Moran's hands and is no longer available for the picnic, hence its removal to Detroit area.

Officers resident in Detroit area will assist Mrs. Henry B. Kellogg, of Highland Park, state president, in greeting members and guests from all over the state, on arrival at the home of their treasurer.

Assisting will be Mrs. Lloyd DeWitt Smith, G. P. past state president, and national officer; Mrs. Sidney C. Probert, of Kensington road, past state president and present director; Miss Josephine A. Pattison, of Courville road, chaplain; Mrs. E. J. Savage, of Yorkshire, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Paul H. Wentink, recording secretary; Mrs. John W. Noble, librarian, and others.

Reservations are asked by Friday, June 17.

KIWANIS CLUB

Wayne Stettbacher, secretary and general manager of the Employees Association of Detroit will speak on the Guaranteed Annual Wage at the luncheon meeting of the Riverside Kiwanis Club to be held at the Whittier Hotel at this noon Thursday, June 16.

Pointe Counter Points

by Roberta Lisle

Have you heard of the couple who threw off their inhibitions, but not their clothes, as they jumped into the swimming pool? He swam in his summer formal . . . she in her pleated cocktail gown. (3,024 pleats to be exact) A minute after her jump her hair was dripping but her permanently pleated du Pont nylon gown was almost dry. This gown dried in a few minutes and needed no ironing. It was a Jack and Jill creation and is featured exclusively in Grosse Pointe at the Kotae Bridal, in the village. TU. 1-6662.

Your starting point when you shop for Romeo . . . that's Dad . . . should be 17012 Kercheval, in the village. Take a good long look at the windows of Sol Stein and Co. They are brimming (in a handsome way, too) with imported fragrances . . . silk ties . . . by the snootiest makers . . . shorty p. j.'s of no iron seersucker . . . long ones as well . . . manicure sets . . . stunning jewelry . . . ventilated footwear . . . AND a wash and wear dark green Dacron cotton suit. Perhaps the easiest way to shop would be to pick up a gift certificate at Stein's and present it to Dad . . . let him choose what he likes.

On main street . . . on Country Club Drive . . . just anywhere in our very fashionable suburb you find that the gals whether Matron or Miss; like the classic elegance of an original McMullen cotton, fashioned of the finest Pima cotton. They adore the flat brimmed collar. And if cherry pink doesn't suit . . . maize or silvery blue does. And at the beach . . . in the super market . . . or in their own back yards . . . you'll see a smart McMullen sleeveless blouse . . . Diva's Bermuda or Jamaica length skirts in maybe black Irish linen . . . and more often, than not, smartly monogrammed. It's just fashion suburbia . . . It's the kind of clothes we find at Margaret Rice's . . . 76 Kercheval, on the hill.

Just arrived from a famous California designer who has the romantic name of Don Rancho, is a group of matched shirts and swimming trunks for boys. The sets, in sizes 3 to 6x are around four dollars . . . and in sizes 7 to 16 . . . around five. Love the biting colors on backgrounds of red, navy, brown, or gray. We found these in Peter Pan, 17045 Kercheval, in the village.

Painter, Teague and Petertil, one of the world's foremost design firms has designed a miracle of the age . . . the transistor Regency Radio. Dad will love to use it in his travels. The transistor is 5 years and 50,000,000 engineering hours old. The big factor here is that it has replaced bulky vacuum radio tubes. It has eliminated the need for heavy short-life batteries as it requires only one tiny 22 1/2 volt hearing aid battery, and has the reception range equal to portable radios 3 to 5 times its size. Each color . . . Mandarin Red, Cloud Gray, Ivory or Black is enhanced by the distinctive tuning dial with the appearance and color of natural gold. Find this treasure at the Camera Center, in the village, for around forty dollars.

Susan makes a lazy Susan of any cake plate, pie plate, casserole or relish tray. And that's for us, because our scrabble game likes this quick and easy game turner . . . and all because we did not buy the deluxe set. The ball bearing action keeps it from ever sticking . . . in fact, it turns at a touch. Sponge rubber feet makes it safe on any surface. The wood grain top is good to look at and is practically indestructible . . . you know . . . water proof . . . burn proof . . . Good on the party table, too . . . can be utilized as a cheese and cracker board or smorgasbord tray. And we won't let you forget it's use as a plant stand . . . a touch will turn the plant to light. Gosh, we can't go wrong . . . this simple article is just two dollars and ninety-five cents in Jacobson's Home Decorative Shop, in the village.

Fore! If HE shines on the golf course why not pick up a conveniently packaged gift of three Wilson golf balls for around two dollars . . . they're Sarazen autographed. Practice balls are packaged in sets of four at a cost of one dollar. Of course, there is more in Jacobson's Men's Department . . . like the swim trunks designed by Balboa . . . gay polka dot ones . . . striped ones . . . and solid gray with red or green side stripes . . . these around four dollars. By the way, have you registered Dad's name in the guest book in Jacobson's Men's Department? You should. For the oldest Dad, the youngest . . . the Dad with the most . . . and the luckiest, will be presented with an award come Saturday, June 18 . . . just in time for Father's Day. Why not register tomorrow?

Knock! Knock! Who's there? Opportunity. And that sure doesn't come to often does it? This is our chance to buy Spring coats and suits for as much as one half off and even more! There are fine wool worsted flannels, tweeds, boucles, and hopsacking, navy and pastel coats. Costume suits in featherweight tweeds and finest woolen fabrics. Good size range . . . juniors, misses, and briefs. Jacobson's Coat Department, main floor.

There have been calls for lighter and lighter weight clothes . . . especially in the torrid weather . . . which we WILL get. And you can see that the Batiste Madras sleep shorts and the shorty p. j.'s were planned right from the drawing board stage to more air and less cloth on his back. But after browsing through Kilgore and has been well planned. For example . . . you can tell that everything with a picture of a famous race horse . . . more glasses with etchings of the more famous Country Clubs . . . barbecue aprons for Dad . . . jewelry boxes to keep his cuff links shining . . . a handsome fish plaque . . . and three quarter length sleep coats. Many of these gift items have been chosen from their gift shop in Washington Blvd. 92 Kercheval, on the hill.

While you are riding the waves this summer . . . or just beach combing . . . make sure that your fur coat is not being eaten by those, you know what. Have them cleaned, glazed and stored at Monday Cleaners over on Fisher Road while you're having fun. The raccoon coats . . . the deer hides . . . and the World War I uniforms they have been storing for over twenty years are still in excellent condition. They have their own storage vaults in Grosse Pointe and use a furrier method to clean and glaze. They make repairs and store good woolen garments, too. TU. 5-4800. 369 Fisher Rd.
