CHAIRMAN JOHN L. McLELLAN took personal charge of the Senate Racket Committee's investigation into UAW affairs Wednesday. McLeellan said he hopes to hold hearings in February on two aspects of UAW affairs—violence in the strike involving the Kohler Co. plant in Wisconsin, and secondary boycott tactics used in that dispute.

He emphasized, however, that all aspects of UAW activity will be looked into, and the February hearings will not close the door to later airings of other practices.

LT. GEN. JAMES M. GAVIN decided Wednesday to go through with his plan to retire as Army research chief. Army Secretary Wilber M. Brucker "reluctantly" accepted his resignation effective March 31.

The Army said that as far as it was concerned Brucker's action closed the Gavin case, which had touched off a furor in Congressional and military circles and raised questions about basic Army policy.

The three-star general insisted that promotion questions had nothing to do with his decision, however. He said his action was prompted by his "inability to get something done about the rapidly deteriorating position of the Army."

A COLD WAVE MOVED IN behind the worst East Coast snow storm in years Wednesday and made new threats at Florida's billion-dollar citrus industry. Deaths due to snow, cold, ice and home fires climbed to at least 44 through a wintry area stretching from the Mississippi Valley to the Atlantic.

Parts of the Northeast were buried in up to 16 inches of snow. Connecticut suffered its worst storm in nine years, and 11 inches of snow in Atlantic City made it their worst in 30 years.

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER proclaimed Thursday a program of "safety through strength." He issued to the American people and an applauding Congress a confident, ringing "call for action."

This was the essence of Mr. Eisenhower's answer, in his annual State-of-the-Union message to Congress, to what he acknowledged are real, growing, space-age dangers from a Communist imperialism "waging total cold war."

Mr. Eisenhower set forth an eight-point program, and summoned the country and Congress to rally behind it with sacrifices and understanding.

A FIVE-ALARM FIRE roared through a portion of the Mohawk Lumber Co.'s Super Mart, 11500 E. Eight Mile, at 6 p.m. Thursday. Two firemen were injured. By 6:23 27 pieces of fire equipment had been sent to the fire. Rush-hour traffic was snarled for two miles in all directions from Eight Mile and Hoover.

Harry Smith, of Windmill Pointe, in Grosse Pointe, who is president of the lumber company, estimated damage at $750,000. The loss was 80 percent insured, he said.

SOVIET PREMIER NIKOLAI BULGANIN told 19-nations Thursday night that Moscow proposes to call an East-West summit meeting in the next two or three months. The Moscow move seemed to be a fast-starting diplomatic squeeze-play on President Eisenhower's State of the Union address.

Bulganin's 19 letters to chiefs of governments, including

Fate Of Park Dock Hangs on Decision

Top picture shows the docks at the City of Grosse Pointe Park municipal beach which the Council ordered destroyed because the cost of repairs appeared to be too much. However, Mayor Kenneth W. Cunningham and council members Kent Zimmerman, William Oddy, Charles Ives, Stanley Fildew and Peter Gallette, at the request of resident boat owners, ordered a 30-day reprieve for the structure so that further study could be made. Lower picture shows the modern swimming pool and the steel breakwall in the background that in original plans was supposed to enclose the area making it one of the best boat harbors on Lake St. Clair. The plans called for the steel piling to continue downriver and the installation of boat mooring facilities up to 170 wells.

Youth Adds To String Of Thefts

Leroy Johnson Charged With Breaking Into Restaurant Jan. 1

Leroy G. Johnson, 19, of 4494 Montclair, Detroit, who recently confessed being involved in a string of burglaries, has added another to the series, according to Farms police.

The youth was arrested by Woods police on Thursday, January 9, at about 2 a.m., when he was seen near the vicinity of the Augustine Bakery, 21015 Mack avenue, a place he burglarized last November 17.

Johnson told Woods detectives, Sgt. Walter O'Dell and Leroy Tobian, that he had planned another robbery of the bakery at the time he was apprehended. He was held for investigation.

Reckless Driver Pays $100 Fine

Judge Joseph P. Urick presided over Justice Court in Grosse Pointe City on January 7. Sole case heard was that of Jerry Joe Feldman, 27, of 18431 Mack avenue, in Detroit.

Faced with a charge of reckless driving, Feldman pleaded guilty. Judge Urick found him guilty and fined him $100.

Pointers Play Big Part In Detroit's Auto Show

The Automotive Center of the World will step into the limelight once again when it plays host to the 45th Annual Detroit Auto Show, sponsored by the Detroit Auto Dealers Association.

The extravaganza will open this Saturday, January 18, and continue through January 26, with show hours from 11 a.m. to 11 p.m. daily. As before, it will be held at the Detroit Artillery Armory, 15000 West Eight Mile road, between Schaefer and Greenfield.

Notably, Grosse Pointers will be taking a special interest in the colorful spectacle, since so many are associated with the automotive industry in one way or another. Sure to be on hand, if only in a viewer's capacity, will be G.

University of Michigan Swim Champions to Give Exhibitions at Parcels

Pointe Alumni Club Arranged for Two Performances By Outstanding Stars on Thursday Evening, January 28

The U. of M. Alumni Club of Grosse Pointe has completed arrangements for the holding of a swimming and diving exhibition at the Parcels School swimming pool, 20600 Mack avenue, on Thursday evening, January 28, club president A. D. Rueggesser announced.

The exhibition will be put on by the diving squad from the University.

Several Grosse Pointers will be among those participating, including varsity Captain Don Adamski, Ed Pongracz, Harry Huffaker and John Bennett. Captain Adamski was a valuable point getter in the swim meets last year, both in Big Ten and NCAA competition. He led the medley relay team and his leads enabled the Wolverines to win the conference title, while Ed Pongracz specialized in butterfly and middle distances swimming.

Won National Crown. The Wolverines, under the direction of Coach Gus Stager, and the divers, coached by Bruce Harlan, won the national crown last year after finishing in the runner-up position in the Big Ten and will be host to the 1958 NCAA championships in the University's new pool on March 27-29.

The present team which will perform at the Parcels pool is rated as strong or stronger than a year ago. Included are a trio of champions, one of whom holds a world's record. This trio includes Dick Hanley, world record holder in the 220-yard free style with a 2:01.5 mark; Cy Hopkins, NCAA champion in the 200-yard breast stroke, and Dick Kimball, who won the NCAA low and highboard diving crowns. Hanley, a remarkably versatile swimmer, was on the United States Olympic team, and won both the 100 and 220-yard free style races, in the conference. He set the world record in the latter race, beating Bill Woolsey of Indiana, a fellow Olympian, by two-tenths of a second in winning the Big Ten 220-yard event.

Plan Two Performances. Because of the limited seating capacity at the Parcels pool and the fact that swimming events have always been of great interest, particularly to students in the Grosse Pointe area, arrangements have been made for two performances, Rueggesser said, one at 7 and another at 8:30 p.m. The program will be a varied one with exhibition and comedy diving and swimming and various comedy routines.

A special price of 50 cents has been set for students. The regular admission price is $1.00 for adults. Dues-paid members of the club will be admitted free upon arranging in advance for a free ticket by contacting any of the officers. Tickets are available through the Alumni Club's Board of Governors.

Park Halts Waterfront Dock Razing

Grants Boat Owners Time To Make Plans and Raise Funds for Repairs

Renters of boat fronts in the Park's waterfront park and the Park council reached an amicable understanding on Monday, January 13, which resulted in a 30-day "reprieve" for the dock scheduled to be torn down.

Recognizing the importance of the wells to the boat owners, Mayor Kenneth Cunningham, with the approval of the council, gave the boat owners until February 10, a regular council meeting day, to come up with an acceptable plan that might save the dock, at least temporarily.

Club Wages Battle. Battling for the preservation of the boat well-dock was the Grosse Pointe Sail Club, which has 24 members renting wells, and interested citizens, who are speaking in behalf of the club.

The driver of a Plymouth station wagon had hit an Oldsmobile that was parked on Notre Dame, just south of Maumee, and continued on his merry way. Edward A. Fink, of 462 Notre Dame, was the owner of the damaged car.

Aided by a description of the offending auto, police soon found it parked on St. Paul, between St. Clair and Notre Dame. The driver was not around so the police simply pushed the vehicle to the rear of their station.

Twelve hours later, the next morning, Frank S. Clark, of 5654 Lakeshore road in Port Huron, came to call for his car. Along with same, he received a ticket for not having his car under control, thereby causing an accident.

DeKeyser Cars Take Beatings

Members of the DeKeyser household, at 916 University place, are no doubt feeling put upon after two unfortunate experiences within the space of a few hours.

Marilyn Joyce DeKeyser reported to City police that upon returning to her car about 1:30 Saturday night she found it had been deliberately and maliciously damaged.

The left rear fender was dented and scarred by a broken bottle, the remains of which lay on the street next to the automobile. She had parked the vehicle about 9:30 that night, in front of 913 University.

Early Sunday morning Gerald DeKeyser, of the same address, phoned police to say that his car, which had been parked in front of 917 University since 1:30 the previous night, had been hit in the rear. A smudge of blue-green paint was left by the offending auto and two pieces of chrome stripping lay on the street.

Memorial Center Plans Blood Drive For Friday, Jan. 24

All Eligible Donors Asked to Contribute Between 2 and 8 p.m.; Donations May Be Earmarked For Any Beneficiary

The American Red Cross Bloodmobile will make its annual call at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center, 32 Lake Shore road, to receive donations of much needed blood, on Friday, January 24, from 2 to 8 p.m.

Thursday the Center played host to the Grosse Pointe Community Blood Council representing 16 Grosse Pointe churches, the American Legion, the Post Office, Marine League, Memorial Center and other civic minded groups and organizations.

Mrs. William Turner of The American Red Cross Central Blood Collection Agency emphasized the urgent need of blood donations this year particularly since collections at industrial plants have fallen far below expectations due to the factory lay offs.

Donor Field Widened

It was further pointed out that a wider field of donors will be able to accept this year. Having had malaria or jaundice no longer prejudices your blood. Also it was stressed that 18 to 21 year olds may now give blood if they have permission slips signed by their parents.

Mrs. Oscar Marx and Mrs. William Gibson, co-chairmen of the Blood Drive at the Center this year, are urging everyone to call the Center (TU 1-7511) to make appointments so that donors may be received quickly, efficiently and at a time convenient to them.

Flyers announcing the Blood Drive are being given out to Sunday School children in all the Grosse Pointe churches of Grosse Pointe High School are also placing notices on windshields of automobiles in shopping centers.

Hit-Run Driver Checks Self In

Mrs. Ruth Allor stopped in the City police station last Friday, January 10, to report that she had witnessed a hit and run accident.

The driver of a Plymouth station wagon had hit an Oldsmobile that was parked on Notre Dame, just south of Maumee, and continued on his merry way. Edward A. Fink, of 462 Notre Dame, was the owner of the damaged car.

Aided by a description of the offending auto, police soon found it parked on St. Paul, between St. Clair and Notre Dame. The driver was not around so the police simply pushed the vehicle to the rear of their station.

Twelve hours later, the next morning, Frank S. Clark, of 5654 Lakeshore road in Port Huron, came to call for his car. Along with same, he received a ticket for not having his car under control, thereby causing an accident.

Charles Saltzer Named Principal of Brownell

Public school patrons will be interested to know that Charles E. Saltzer has been appointed principal of the Samuel Miller Brownell Junior High School. The Grosse Pointe Board of Education made the appointment on the recommendation of the Superintendent at their regular monthly meeting, January 8. Saltzer has been serving as acting principal of the Grosse Pointe High School since the untimely death of Walter Cleminson last August.

In recommending the appointment, Superintendent Bushong stated, "I am confident that our new junior high school will be in most competent hands with Mr. Saltzer in charge. He has served the Grosse Pointe schools in an excellent fashion since coming here in 1934. Since 1939 he has been the assistant principal of the High School and has contributed a great deal to the fine reputation of our school system."

Saltzer was born in Birmingham, Michigan, in 1908, and was educated in the Pontiac public schools. He was granted his Bachelors degree by Michigan State Normal College in 1932 and his Masters degree by the University of Michigan in 1933. Since then he has studied at Wayne State University, the University of Colorado, and the Michigan State University.

In 1933 he came to Grosse Pointe as a teacher of mathematics in the former Grosse Pointe Country Day school. Prior to that he had been high

The Planning Commission picked Marvin Boutin, of 1676 Newcastle, as chairman, and John E. McCoughey of 1968 Beaufait, as vice-chairman.

Board Gives Approval to Suggestions

Recommendations of Advisory Committee Adopted for Junior High Districts

The Grosse Pointe Board of Education adopted recommendations made by a committee, created by Dr. James Bushong, Superintendent of Schools, which sets up new boundaries for the junior high school districts.

The Board approved recommendations for the re-districting of Parcels, Pierce and Brownell Junior High Schools, to handle future enrollments at the schools, at its regular meeting held on Wednesday, January 8.

The committee, known as the Formation of the New Junior High School District, based its action on prospective future enrollment figures compiled by Paul E. Mawhinney, Director of Pupil Personnel.

Acted as Advisors

The group acted merely in an advisory capacity, and had the responsibility of exploring possibilities and making suggestions for a districting plan or plans.

The committee considered 10 ultimate plans to equalize enrollments at the three junior high schools, and from these a single plan was unanimously adopted, and submitted to the Board of Education.

The district allocated to Parcels, is as follows: the entire elementary districts of Poupard, Mason and Ferry schools; the northwest corner of Monteth district bounded on the south by Ghesquiere Park and on the east by Mack avenue; the northwest corner of Barnes district bounded on the south by the rear lot line of Oxford South drive and on the east by Fairway avenue; and the entire north end of Barnes district bounded on the south by the rear lot line of Lochmoor boulevard and on the east by Lake Shore road.

Brownell's Boundaries

The entire elementary district of Kerby school; all of the Monteth district, except the northwest corner; all of the Barnes district and all of the north end and previously described; the entire northwest section of the Richard district bounded on the east by Charlevoix avenue; plus the section of the Richard district bounded on the west by Charlevoix, on the east by Fisher, and on the south by Ridge road.

To Pierce: the entire elementary districts of Maive, Defer, and Trombley Schools; and the Richard district, with the exception of that previously mentioned.

The committee also made the following suggestions to be considered only if, in the judgment of the school officials, still more students must be

Arrest Teener On Gun Charge

A 15-year-old Park boy was arrested Saturday, January 11, on a charge of being drunk and carrying concealed weapons. It was revealed by Park Police Chief Arthur Lowers.

The chief said the teenager was arrested by Patrolmen Arthur Conlan and Don Dean who saw the boy staggering at Jefferson and Nottingham.

In their reporting the officers said the youth was drunk and had a gun which he admitted pulling at passing cars and pointing the trigger.

The patrolmen said it was lucky the gun hammer fell on empty chambers because the revolver, a .22 cal. automatic, was partly loaded.

When questioned, the boy said the gun belonged to his father. Asked where he got the liquor to drink, the boy said he found a key to the cabinet where his parents kept the alcoholic beverages, and drank some.

Chief Lowers said the boy has been followed against in juvenile court on the more serious charge of carrying a concealed weapon.

Burglaries

ley, and George Van Tiem, working on three burglary cases that took place on January 1, thought Johnson might be a good suspect, and went to the Woods station to question him.

Following the questioning, Johnson admitted breaking into the Farms Grill, 18584 Mack, early New Year's morning, where he took $5 in change from the cash register.

The Farms detectives said Johnson denied taking $200 in jewelry and $12 in cash from the room of Miss Martha Haag of 158 Ridge road, or breaking into the home of Mrs. Sara Brant, 333 Hillcrest, where $330 in jewelry, a $75 neck fur piece and $5 in change were stolen.

Denies Other Attempt
Johnson also denied attempting to break into the home of Willis J. Gray, 337 Moross road. The burglar in this case failed to enter the house because of a bolt-type lock.

The youth had been free on $500 bond, set by Woods Judge Don Goodrow on November 27, following arraignment on the bakery burglary charge.

On November 19, Johnson went to the Woods police station to find out about a friend who was being held in the Macomb County Jail, and was held for investigation of burglary when the car he was driving was recognized by Woods Patrolman Richard Prietz as being in the vicinity of the bakery when it was broken into.

Admits 62 Jobs
When questioned by O'Dell and Tobias and Detroit detectives, Lt. Philip Van Antwerp and Sgt. Edwin Carlson, Johnson confessed to taking part in 62 breakings and enterings in business places in the Woods, Detroit, St. Clair Shores, Clawson, Troy Township, Eaton Rapids, Centerline, Warren and Mt. Clemens.

He implicated his friend in the Macomb jail, Harry Schrade, 29, and Schrade's wife, Shirley, 22, of 21924 Firwood, East Detroit.

Mt. Clemens Judge Francis Castellucci placed the Schrades under $10,000 bond each, which could not be met and they were detained in jail.

Judge Goodrow placed Johnson under a low bond because of his cooperative spirit in clearing up the string of burglaries.

Farms Sgts. Paisley and Van Tiem obtained a warrant from the Wayne County Prosecutor's office on Tuesday, January 14, charging Johnson with the Farms Grill burglary. He was to appear before Farms Judge Grant E. Armstrong that same evening.

Johnson and the Schrades are still awaiting Circuit Court trial for the other crimes.

Blood Drive

Center Has Bank
Blood donations may be earmarked for any person, blood bank or organization the donor desires. The Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center maintains a Blood Bank upon which any Pointe citizen may draw free of charge in case of emergency whether they or members of their families have contributed blood or not (though they are urged to get someone to pay back the blood as soon as possible).

Blood is urgently needed by the Center to meet these emergencies. Further, the United States Public Health Service Hospital at the foot of Alter road is dependent on this collection for blood for its patients. Donors who wish to contribute to this worthy cause should do so in the name of the Marine Guild.

As in the past, baby sitters will be on hand at the Center to take care of small children while their parents are giving blood and no donor need pass up the opportunity to give because of lack of transportation. Just call the Center (TU. 1-7511) and someone will pick you up and return you to your home following your appointment.

The Center looks forward confidently to hundreds of contributions of blood from all citizens able to give on January 24, and wishes to thank all those who have been so faithful in giving in the past.

Princeton Prexy To Visit Pointe

Dr. Robert Goheen, dynamic new president of Princeton University, will be in Detroit on January 22 and 23. He will come from Cleveland and arrive just in time to attend a luncheon of school principals and superintendents of this area at the Whittier on Wednesday, January 22.

He will be entertained that evening by the directors and former officers of the Princeton Club of Michigan at the Grosse Pointe Club. The next day he will lunch with a small group of business leaders at the Detroit Club as the guest of Emory M. Ford.

On Thursday night, January 23, the Princeton Club of Michigan is giving a formal dinner in his and Mrs. Goheen's honor at the Veteran's Memorial.

Dr. Goheen, at 37 years of age, became the sixteenth president of Princeton on July 1, 1957. He is the youngest man to be called to the presidency of Princeton since Dr. Samuel Davies was named the College of New Jersey's fourth president in 1759, at the age of 36.

Dr. Goheen was born in Vengurla, India, and his parents were Presbyterian medical missionaries. His wife was the former Margaret Skelly of Wilmington, Delaware, and a member of the Vassar College class of 1941. They have six children ranging in age from a son less than two years old, to a daughter, fifteen.

To Head Boat Course At Memorial Center

The eight week course in piloting, seamanship and boat handling, which will start at the Memorial Center, February 6, will be headed by, from left to right, first row; Cmdr. Charles F. Asterberry, Division captain Milton Hayes and past Cmdr. David Viger.

Burglar Loots Home in Park

Park police have half the mystery cleared up in the breaking and entering of the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Sherman, 1153 Balfour that took place on Saturday, January 4.

At the time the breaking was reported it was not known what had been taken, since police had to await the return of the SHERMANS who were out of town.

On Friday, January 10, it was disclosed that the burglar had taken $50 in new Liberty Bell half dollars, $32 in change and bills and two small money banks, containing the change and bills.

Police Cpl. Charles French said that the thief ransacked the house before finding the loot.

The remaining part of the mystery is the identity of the burglar, who gained entrance into the house by breaking the glass of the rear door.

It was Lt. (jg) Saltzer, USNR, during World War II days when he saw service in the Pacific. He was very active in educational affairs while in the service and was instrumental in establishing a program in which many service men were able to continue their studies and, in some cases, complete the requirements for graduation from high school. Some referred to the program as taking place at the "University of Midway", of which Saltzer was president, dean, and an important portion of the faculty.

The newly appointed principal of Brownell Junior High School is active in professional organizations. He is a member of the Michigan Education Association, the National Education Association, the National Vocational Guidance Association, the Michigan Secondary School Administrators Association, and the Michigan Counselors Association. He also has had several professional articles published, and has developed a guidance manual for the 10th grade at the high school.

The Saltzers live at 4715 Chatsworth and have one daughter, Barbara. Mr. Saltzer is an avid sports enthusiast and a staunch supporter of the high school teams in their games at home and away. As hobbies he enjoys photography and bridge. When the opportunity presents itself he also likes to read.

Obituaries

FRANCES WYTHE SIBLEY
Miss Sibley, descendant of a pioneer Detroit family and long active in church and music activities, died Wednesday, January 8. She would have been 91 later this month. She lived at 368 Washington road.

Miss Sibley was a staunch supporter of the Girls' Friendly Society of the Episcopal Church. She was Michigan president of the society 20 years and national president for 12 years. She was also a charter member of the Women's City Club, when it was started in 1915. Her grandfather, Solomon Sibley was Detroit's first honorary mayor. Miss Sibley was a lifetime honorary member of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

Funeral services were held at Old Christ Church, on E. Jefferson avenue, Friday, with burial in Elmwood Cemetery. Miss Sibley left no living relatives.

MRS. MACKIE D. TOWAR

Mrs. Towar, 62, died Sunday, January 12, in her home at 456 Neff road. She was the wife of Albert J. Towar, president of the Yellow Drive-It-Yourself System, Inc.

Mrs. Towar was born in Nashville, Tenn., where she attended Sweet Briar Finishing School and Ward Belmont College. She had lived in Grosse Pointe for the past 20 years.

Surviving are her husband and two sons, Bruce D., of Chicago; and Albert J. Jr. She also leaves a daughter, Mrs. Betty Ann Mulkey. The latter two live in Grosse Pointe.

Funeral services were held Tuesday, with burial in Elmwood Cemetery.

J. STANLEY "BUDDY" FARNUM

It was with deep regret that the NEWS learned of the passing of Mr. Farnum, who died shortly before Christmas of cancer in Bridgewater, Maine, where he had gone last spring after retiring from 31 years of delivering mail, the last 19 of which were in Grosse Pointe Farms.

This paper did a feature story on Mr. Farnum last April 25, just prior to his retirement from the mail service, at which time it was noted he had "planned his retirement carefully . . . sure that time will not hang heavily on his hands" and wishing "that the day was 36 hours long instead of 24, so he could do all the things he likes."

Mr. Farnum was buried in Bridgewater. He was 60 years old. His widow survives, at 56 Gay Street, in Rockland, Maine.

CLARA M. MEYER

Mrs. Meyer, of 1417 Beaconsfield road, died Monday, January 13. She is survived by her husband, Walter A., and a daughter, Mrs. Francis LeBlond. She also leaves a sister, Mrs. Arthur Davis, and brother, Wilfred St. John, and one grandchild, Francis Daniel LeBlond.

Funeral services were held Wednesday, with burial in Mt. Olivet Cemetery.

CHARLES R. KUBASTA

Mr. Kubasta, of 1444 York-shire road, died Thursday, January 9. He is survived by his wife, Katherine, and children Charles J. and Mrs. George (Katherine) Schaefer. He also leaves four grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Saturday, with burial in White Chapel Cemetery.

"BREAKS HIP ON ICE

Albert Trowbridge, 53, of 376 Kercheval, fell and broke his hip while ice skating at the Farms PierPark on Sunday, January 5. He was taken to Cottage Hospital by Farms firemen.

Pointe Visitors Have Unhappy Experience

How not to make visitors welcome and happy was terrifyingly demonstrated to a trio of gentlemen who were guests in the Pointe on Thursday, January 9. The three involved were Standish Backus, Jr., of Santa Barbara, Calif., who has been visiting his mother, Mrs. Standish Backus of Lake Shore road, and his two houseguests, Goude Davis, of Bedford, N.Y., and Duke Sedgewick, of Santa Barbara.

After lunch at a downtown club, the three set out for Birmingham to call on a mutual friend. They were in Backus' car, a 1957 Chevrolet, with him driving. After leaving the Dodge Expressway and continuing north for a considerable period, Backus saw a road sign for Pontiac, which told him he had overshot his turnoff and must retrace steps.

As they turned around at the next intersection they saw a State Police squad car parked just off the road, but paid little attention to it until they noticed that it had dropped in behind them and was obviously following their car.

Within a mile, the police car pulled alongside and motioned Backus to stop. As soon as the scout car stopped ahead of the Backus car, two state policemen hopped out with drawn shotguns. The visitors were ordered to get out of their car, one at a time, with hands up. While one trooper held his gun on them, the other frisked each of the trio.

Only then were the three confused and uncomfortable visitors to Michigan informed that they were suspected of being the bandits who had held up a branch of the Manufacturers National Bank at 20441 W. Eight Mile at about 2 o'clock that afternoon.

Nearly $7,000 was stolen in the robbery. Their car tallied with the description of the vehicle used by the robbers.

The three Pointe guests were held at gunpoint for about three-quarters of an hour while their car was thoroughly checked, their identification cards examined and interminable questions answered.

"The police officers couldn't have been more polite," Mr. Backus reported, "but it was hardly relaxing, being grilled while looking down a shotgun barrel. It was a great relief when we were finally given clearance and allowed to get on our way."

Complete Plans For Polio Drive

The Grosse Pointe Farms committee for the March of Dimes has nearly completed its plans for the campaign, hoping to outdo its success of last year.

Mrs. William B. Bowman is the community chairman. Assisting her are: Chief of Police Walter Hoyt, in charge of Coin Collectors; Alex Bell and Cliff Ashton, Business; Minard Mawm, Sports; Mrs. James E. Lofstrom, Mother's March; Miss Virginia Cook, Students. Mrs. Lofstrom's block captains include: Mrs. James S. Harland, Mrs. Larry Gentile, Mrs. Frank W. Hausmann, Jr., Mrs. Robert Sutton, Mrs. Richard M. Kimbrough, Mrs. James S. Harris, Mrs. Burt Taylor, Jr., Mrs. E. C. Nosek, Mrs. Robert Rentenbach, Mrs. E. R. Jennings, Mrs. A. A. O. Schmidt, Mrs. John Danler, Mrs. Howard Shaw.

The drive in all departments, except among the students, will be held Wednesday, January 29. The teenagers' plans will be announced later.

The examination proctors were Miss Laura Mackeben, Miss Leona Weier, Mr. George Sommerville, Mr. Joseph Devine, Mr. R. F. Olson, Mr. Dale Pattison, and Mr. Richard Amberg.

The tests, offered for the first time at the high school, were given in six study halls and the cafeteria.

The three-hour examination is divided into five sections. Two sections are verbal, covering English vocabulary and the uses of words. The other three sections are mathematical, covering the uses of algebra, geometry, and arithmetic.

These tests are required by most Eastern colleges and many other colleges in the United States.

Students are allowed to take the exam twice—once in their junior year for practice, and once in their senior year.

The tests are sent to the Educational Testing Service at Princeton, New Jersey. The tests are graded mechanically, and the results are sent to the colleges requested by the examinees.

This Scholastic Aptitude Test will be given again in March, along with the Scholastic Achievement Tests.

The Achievement Tests cover only specific courses. These courses are: English Composition, Social Studies, Intermediate Mathematics, Advanced Mathematics, Spatial Relations, Biology, Chemistry, Physics, French, German, Latin, Spanish, Greek, and Italian. A maximum of three of

New senior warden is Douglas Campbell, Sr. and new junior warden is John H. French Jr. Elected to the vestry until 1961 were former senior warden John B. Ford Jr., former vestrymen Robert H. Tannahill and Henry Ledyard, and a newcomer to the vestry, H. Gordon Wood. Retiring from the parish governing body are Charles B. Crouse, senior warden and treasurer, and vestrymen Benjamin H. Paddock, Joseph Standart Jr., and Alexander Wiener.

Presiding at the meeting held in the undercroft, the Rev. Erville B. Maynard presented the "Rector's Award" for the first time to Mr. and Mrs. Joel L. Bremer and their children Windham, Mary Louise and Joel Jr., and to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kinzie and their sons Thomas and William. The awards are engraved silver replicas of the Agnus Dei symbol used in the ornamentation of the church's professional cross.

Dr. Maynard called for reports from the retiring senior warden and treasurer, Mr. Crouse; from the president of the Woman's Auxiliary, Mrs. W. Warren Shelden and from Charles Trapp, chairman of the committee for St. George's Mission, Centerline.

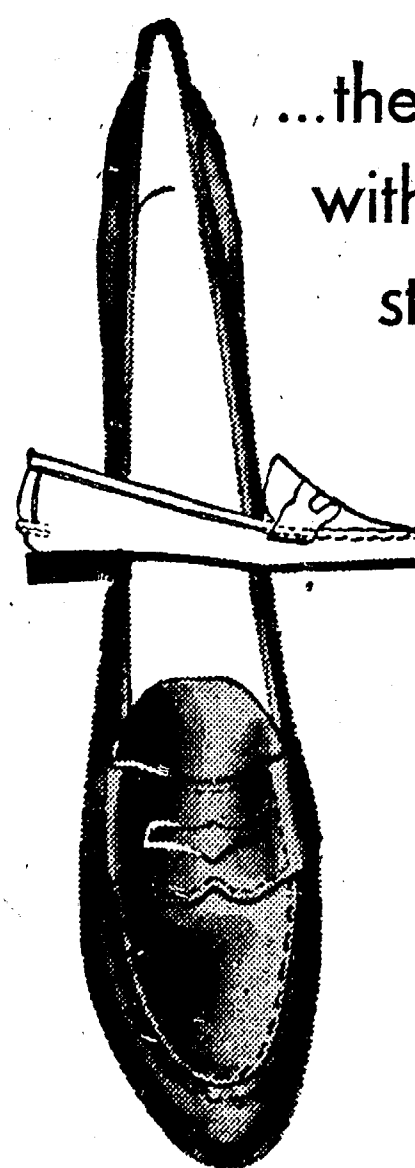

Sometimes the first to suggest a reform is last to accept it.

Beware of the man who insists that honesty is the best policy.

Find fault with your neighbor and you expose one of your own.

Exchange Student Tells Of Christmas in Germany

By Margie Reins, 12B
GPHS Journalism Student

"In Germany we are a little bit more quiet and serious in the way that we celebrate Christmas," said Ilona Gerlach, Grosse Pointe High School foreign exchange student. "We have Santa Claus, Christmas trees, presents, and Christmas carols, just like in America."

"The season begins with Advent," Ilona said. "On the fourth Sunday before Christmas the Advent wreath appears in most German homes. The wreath is made from fir branches, interlaced with red silk ribbons. It holds four candles. On the first Sunday the first candle is lit at dusk with a big family ceremony. On the second Sunday, two candles are lit. The third Sunday three are lit and the fourth, all four.

"Santa makes his appearance in Germany, too. He comes twice. Perhaps it is too hard a job to deliver presents all over the world on one night. At any rate, he rewards German children on December 6, by filling their stockings or shoes, which they have carefully put in front of the door. He's the same Santa—long white beard, red suit, high black boots, fur-trimmed cap," she explained.

Since the time of the crusades, elaborate Christmas fairs have been held in all German cities and towns. Rows of stalls and booths line the market place of the town, selling Christmas tree decorations, toys, and food—candied apples, grilled sausages, cookies, and candy.

"No German home is without a Christmas tree," continued Ilona. "This custom, which America has adopted, began in the Black Forest region of Germany. In every window the tree can be seen. The traditional decorations are all white on a green tree, but many people now are using colored ornaments. We have real candles, not electric lights."

"Christmas Day is one of gaiety, theater-going, and visiting. The real Christmas celebrating is done on Christmas Eve. By 6 o'clock in the evening the whole family is at home. They sing carols and wait for Santa Claus to come. When he comes with the presents, the children must recite a poem for him before they are allowed to open their presents."

"But no matter how Christmas is celebrated, it has only one meaning—we are all celebrating the same thing," Ilona commented. "Whether you say 'Frohe Weihnachten' or 'Merry Christmas', it represents the same thought."

Cinema League Offering Film

"Europe 1957," an 8 mm. color movie dealing with a motor trip through France, Spain and Portugal will be shown at the Grosse Pointe Cinema League meeting next Thursday evening, January 23, at 8 o'clock at War Memorial Center.

This unusual color movie was filmed by Miss Esther Porter, a League member and Spanish instructor at Grosse Pointe High, during the past summer. A frequent visitor on the continent, Miss Porter has featured in her last movie life along the rural countryside.

She has recorded the thrilling ride along Route Napoleon in the French Alps, a sequence showing ancient French chateaus, and unusual shots showing Spanish families working together in the fields threshing grain in the same manner it was done in Biblical times.

Miss Porter will give the commentary on her film, giving the audience background material on the picture as well as invaluable pointers for camera toting tourists. This program is open to the public without charge.

SOUR BEGINNING
Else Rast, of 901 Philip, Detroit, began the New Year on somewhat of a sour note. It seems that while parked in the driveway of Joe Farris's gas station on New Year's Day, at 18084 Mack avenue, facing north, her car suddenly rolled backwards and slammed into the garage's overhead door, damaging same. No ticket was issued.

Highlights of 1957

—Our Greatest Year of Growth

Savings accounts at First Federal increased over $40,000,000 last year after all withdrawals. This is the largest 12 months growth in our 23 year history.

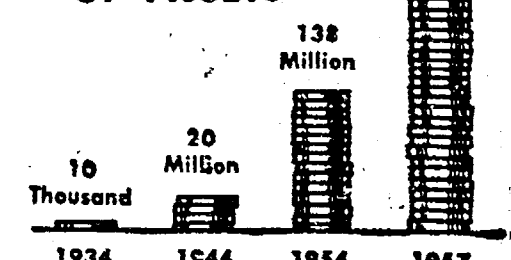

Good liquidity is being maintained, with cash and government bonds exceeding $49,000,000. Since organization, it has been First Federal's policy and practice to pay all withdrawals on demand.

Earnings paid to savings customers during 1957, at 3%, also reached a new high figure: $5,800,000.

First Federal's lending activity in 1957 helped to combat "tight money" conditions in the Detroit area. 9,323 home loans and home improvement loans, totalling over $47,000,000, were made last year.

First Federal is Michigan's largest savings association, and ranks 5th in total savings among 6,000 associations in the United States.

Messner Named To State Post

Clarence Messner, Principal of the Pere Gabriel School, was sworn in by Governor Williams as a member of the State Conservation Commission Wednesday, January 8. Mr. Messner's term will run until April 1, 1963.

Coming to Grosse Pointe as an administrative assistant to Superintendent S. A. M. Brownell in 1929, Messner had taught for eight years in several Michigan communities such as Redridge, Chesaning, Adrian, where he served as an elementary school principal, and Marquette, where he instructed in Northern Michigan Teachers College. He also had taught for a brief time in Greeley, Colorado. He was appointed principal of both the Richard and Vernier Elementary schools in 1930, serving in that dual capacity for several years.

Mr. Messner received his Bachelor's degree from Michigan State Normal College and his Masters degree from Colorado State Teachers College. He has done considerable advanced study at the University of Michigan and has also served the University as a Lecturer in Education on several occasions.

The appointment to the state commission marks a high point in Messner's career and interests in activities associated with the natural sciences. He has served as president of the Detroit Audubon Club; the Michigan Audubon Society; and the Michigan Botanical Club as well as having been a member of the boards of directors of these associations.

He has been a member of the state Committee on Conservation and Education since 1954 and has served many local and state groups as a resource person. He is frequently called upon by civic organizations to address them on matters concerning conservation.

The Messners live at 308 McKinley and are the parents of two children. Son, Robert, is presently enrolled in the University of Michigan School of Medicine and daughter Diane is a sophomore at Central Michigan College at Mt. Pleasant.

She is emulating both her father and mother in preparing for a career in teaching inasmuch as Mrs. Messner is also a teacher in the Grosse Pointe Public School System. Mrs. Messner taught at the Richard School until a few years ago when she transferred to the Nursery School for Exceptional Children operated by the Public School System.

The Messners have been active in community affairs and are members of the Unitarian Church of Grosse Pointe. Mr. Messner has taught in, and served as superintendent of, the church school as well as having been a member of the board of trustees. He has also served as a counselor to the Boy Scouts in Ornithology and Botany.

In his new capacity, Messner will take part in the commission's supervision over the state parks and recreation areas, the state forests, hunting and fishing regulations, research in game management; wildlife experimental stations; the state operated conservation schools such as at Higgins Lake; and much, much more. His is considered an outstanding appointment and one for which he is eminently qualified.

... you'll like what

see today's
Detroit Times

there's a bright difference

The eyes are a symbol. We hope you will recognize them and remember them from this day forward as a symbol for the "bright difference" you will see in The Detroit Times.

What is the "bright difference"? It is many things. The red color is gone from the front page of the Times. In its place, a cool green. The type style is new . . . and that, combined with other differences in page layout, makes the Times easier on the eyes . . . easier to read.

New local columnists will appear as part of the "bright difference." John Manning, Editor of the Times, will write one. Harvey Taylor will write another covering Detroit and suburbia, sometimes sad, sometimes witty, but always "off beat." There will be a column on bridge by B. Jay Becker and another column under the title "The Labor Front" by Jack Crellin. Two of Detroit's top reporters, Eddie Batchelor and John Creecy, will team up to write a continuing series of articles covering the school problems in terms of local interests and needs. This, like the sophisticated new cartoon panel, "Mr. Abernathy," will become part of the "bright difference."

And each Sunday, "Tempo of the Times" will appear . . . a new feature section covering, among other things, art, books, theatre and music, as well as many other activities and interests. And helping to keep the Times brightly different will be great reporters, Considine, Kilgallen, Winchell, Bishop, Fleeson, Pegler, Conniff, Baer. As time goes on, the Times will go on adding features that all add up to the BRIGHT DIFFERENCE that we think will make you like the Times more and more.

A Double Fingering Deal

A reader who wishes to remain anonymous suggests that something be written about a too-common newspaper practice which he deprecates. His complaint has to do with the printing of names and addresses of witnesses who help put the finger on criminals in major crimes.

A good example of this is the story last week of the robbery of a branch of the Manufacturers' National Bank, by two armed bandits. Accounts in the Detroit dailies included the names and addresses of witnesses who furnished the police with descriptions of the robbers.

We are inclined to agree heartily with our reader, that such reporting may be very thorough, but it could also be most damaging to innocent persons who are only trying to help. It would appear to us to be a very tempting invitation to a hardened criminal to seek reprisal against someone he knows might be very instrumental in getting him behind bars.

To us, the publication of such names adds little to the actual story. We would be the last to condone anything that hampered the freedom of the press, and such names as are furnished the police become public records and the newspapers are at liberty to use them. But we feel that the press has a definite responsibility to protect innocent persons wherever possible, and we can't see where such a practice is serving any purpose or helping to solve the crime. It could conceivably bring great harm to those who are trying to assist the police.

Art Institute Reveals Gifts

A landscape painting by one of the most famous 19th century French painters has been presented to the Detroit Institute of Arts by Mr. and Mrs. James S. Whitcomb. It is "The Mountain Hut" by Gustave Courbet (French 1819-1877) whose importance is becoming recognized as the years pass.

The Institute already owns one of the most magnificent figure studies "A Woman Near a Brook" which such an expert in 19th century painting as Edward G. Robinson greatly admired as one of the masterpieces which make Detroit worthwhile for art lovers when he visited the Institute a few days ago. The figure study is a very early work by Courbet dated 1845.

The recent gift, on the contrary, is one of the later paintings executed by Courbet less than two years before he died. At that time Courbet was in exile in Switzerland, a refugee from the French Republic because of the part he played at the end of the Franco-Prussian War. Courbet's landscapes at the end of his life have a grandeur and impressiveness which even his larger landscapes of the earlier period do not possess. In all probability, "The Mountain Hut" represents a landscape in Switzerland sometime in the spring. It is the most important painting of the French Realist school owned by the Institute and represents an important link between the works of the Barbizon School and the Impressionist school. It is hanging in the Recent Accessions gallery.

Other new gifts to the museum include: a French Aubusson rug, Empire Style, dating from 1800-20, from John B. Ford; a French silver porringer which is a rare piece of early Detroit silver made in the 18th century in Detroit or Quebec, from J. Bell Moran, member of the fifth generation of the Moran family in Detroit; and from Mrs. A. D. Wilkinson, a pair of large sized brass Flemish candlesticks (1590-1600) which are used to flank the famed van Eyck painting of "St. Jerome in His Study."

A. PRYOR

"You may go through this world,
But 'twill be very slow
If you listen to all that is said as you go;
You'll be worried and fretted and kept in a stew,
For meddlesome tongues must have something to do,
For people will talk, you know." (Samuel Dodge)

There's a new program on the "watching machine" every morning at 11:30, called "Dotto." By a series of the old dot-to-dot game, two contestants try to guess the identity of the face. Pretty good show and a change from the old moist-eyed "Strike It Rich" which had worn very thin.

This game can also be played by the home viewer, so we sent in a card hoping to be telephoned because we think the answer is Douglas MacArthur and we feel very smart alecky over the whole thing.

The prize is a flying trip around the world with fifteen hundred dollars spending money in the jeans. Since the extent of our ability to travel around the world, is from where we live to the office and back again, we decided to offer the prize (when we win it) to a friend and her husband. When we advised our pal of this noble gesture, she went right out and bought some luggage and a burnoose.

Of course we didn't know until later that the network received 100,000 letters during the first five days! The first call was made to DETROIT, MICHIGAN... and we were THAT excited... but it was someone else who was called and she missed... so we are still planning on our friend's trip.

Before we leave the air waves... here is a blooper that will probably be in the next book on the subject. A well known concert violinist was doing his stint on a radio program recently... and during one of the commercial breaks... the emcee was overheard (saying to his director)... "There aren't any more breaks in the script so this joker won't have to play again." We presume the "joker" heard it as well as the vast audience... so the emcee might now be looking for another job!

We received in the mail from the East a clipping from a society column in a New York paper... that to us, is funny as all get out. For obvious reasons we will use fictitious names but the intent remains the same. The blurb reads: "Palm Beach's caviar, chinchilla and champagne set is still buzzing over the James Bleehizen's Christmas card. Apparently, Gertrude and James were on an economy drive this year because their holiday missives... which must have been leftovers... bore the engraving 'Mary and James'... with HIS ex-wife's name casually scratched out and the name 'Gertrude' penned in."

It reminded us of a card we received last year from a woman who used to live here. After being widowed... she trekked to New York to live and eventually married an Eastern bachelor. Come Christmas time... the new husband having already had his cards printed with just "John Dokes"... was in a quandary as to what to do with them... since they were expensive Cartier specials. But his new wife solved the problem handsily by purchasing one of those inexpensive printing pads with stamper and stamped "AND WIFE" on each card. Neat eh?

Holiday leftovers: A local man and woman at a recent party discussing a gala they had been to the previous night. The woman was already present when the gent breezed in. On spotting her he exclaimed: "Say... thanks for driving me home last night." She looked a little startled and replied: "What do you MEAN? YOU DROVE ME HOME!" As it turned out... A THIRD party drove them both to their separate homes! Vive la spirits!

A local woman told us this tale the other day and asked that we not use her name because she feels like a nit wit about it... but thought it might amuse our audience. She got the general idea when reading our column of a few months back, wherein we wrote about the young gal who met Soapy Williams at a square dance and didn't know who he was.

This now middle-aged woman said when she was in her early teens, she was in Washington, D. C. with her uncle and during their stay there, uncle was invited to the Peruvian Embassy to a late supper party. After much screaming on her part to tag along, he finally arranged to have her invited. The year was 1921.

All through the years, she remembered vaguely that it was a fun party... much good food, dancing and for all but the teen-ager... champagne. She also remembered that a very handsome man came in later through a REAR door in the Embassy and was casually presented to her as "Mr. Harding." She danced with him briefly and remembered (when she thought of it at all) that he was "just like anyone else there"... except he seemed to be having the best time. It never occurred to her to mention him later to her uncle... who never mentioned him either. To HER, he was just another nice man at the party.

Now... (don't give up... this will soon be over!) This Christmas, she and her husband received a book called "The Lawless Decade"... which by the way, we have read... and it is terrific. In it, there is a story about Warren Harding... and as she and her spouse read it over... she recalled the night of the gay doings and for the first time realized that at the time she met "Mr. Harding" he just happened to be the President of these United States! And that is THAT.

What Goes On at Your Library

By Jean Taylor

The sea in its various aspects has always been a favorite subject of both writers and readers, but perhaps no recent author has created greater interest in the underwater world among lay readers than Rachel Carson.

"The Sea Around Us," published over six years ago, held top place on non-fiction best seller lists for an amazing length of time, and is still widely read. Early in her life Miss Carson's scientific and literary inclinations fought for supremacy. What better way to solve this problem than to put both these abilities to good use by writing. This she has done in "Under the Sea Wind," "The Sea Around Us" and "The Edge of the Sea."

The latter was published in 1955 and as the title indicated concerns that elusive and indefinable boundary between shore and sea. The author points out that the beach is more than a place to get a sunburn. In her own words, "Most people don't know where to look for the most fascinating things at the beach. All they can see is a few shells and an occasional crab. But there are all kinds of things going on right under the surface of the sand."

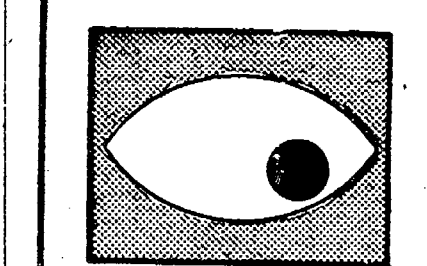

If you have missed these books at the time of printing, we suggest you catch up with them now. Even if you cannot distinguish between a crab and an eel, Rachel Carson's prose is a delight to read.

If you would know more of the sea's vagaries, we recommend Peter Freuchen's "Book of the Seven Seas." The death of this unassuming but enthusiastic Danish explorer, lecturer and author, early last September at seventy-one years, preceded the publication of his last book by only a matter of weeks. A colorful figure who loved the sea with a life-long passion, he sailed from his native Denmark as a young man and lived for many years in Greenland. He says in his foreword: "When a fellow is sitting alone for months on end, as I was, he lets his imagination fly freely. This book is the result of my own imagination and curiosity. Here I have tried to set forth something of both the science and the dreams—the facts and the fancies—which make the Seven Seas endlessly fascinating."

The extreme simplicity of his style, which is a little awkward at times, is no doubt partly due to the fact that he wrote, for the most part, first in Danish and then translated into English.

"Everyone talks about the Seven Seas, but hardly anyone can name them, or tell just where one begins and the other leaves off," says Mr. Freuchen. "That is really not so surprising when you realize that the number is pretty artificial. It might as well be five, and might better be one. For in fact the whole ocean is a single expanse of water with the continents just islands in it."

This is an unpretentious but enjoyable and informative book, in non-technical language.

Carelessness
Creator of Accidents

By FRED KOPP, R. Ph.
Almost a hundred per cent of accidents are caused by nothing more than carelessness... automobile, fire, drownings, falls. The remedy is simple, be careful at all times... this takes constant awareness and practice.

It is natural as we come to live in more densely populated areas that accidents will increase if we do not take extra precaution to prevent them. Being careful pays off in big dividends, practice it daily, your efforts will be rewarded when opportunity for accidents occur and you can successfully avoid them.

You won't need to regret the accident that never happened.

Two tickets were issued by City police last Friday, January 10, in an accident that occurred in front of 790 University place.

Frederick K. Gebstadt, of 5273 Cadieux, was headed south on University when he slowed down to make a left turn into the driveway of 790. In so doing, he was hit from behind by Walter Carich, of 19704 Gambler in St. Clair Shores.

Both cars were two feet left of the center line at the time, as shown by 34 feet of skid marks left on the pavement. Carich was ticketed for not having his car under control, and Gebstadt for making an improper turn, causing an accident.

Police Hunt Store Thieves

When Woods police trace the owner of a car that has been sold several times, they might come up with the person who took three aluminum golf bags from the shelf of a Woods wholesale store on Thursday, January 9.

Woods Det. Sgt. Tobias O'Dell and Det. Leroy Wolter, said that as of Tuesday, January 14, the owner of the car used by the alleged thieves has not been found. The automobile had been sold several times, they said, and apparently the title had not been recorded with the Secretary of State's office.

The officers said that Martin Marx of 19275 Mack, a partner in the Marx Brothers Store, located on Bournmouth, reported seeing a man coming out of a rear door of the store about 6 p.m., with a large package, just as he was driving into the parking lot.

Thinking the man was a customer who had recently made a purchase Marx paid no attention, until he saw another man coming out of the building with two more similar packages. Both men placed their packages in the same car and drove off.

Marx, however, becoming suspicious, wrote down the license number of the car, before it left the lot, and then went into the store to inquire if any salesmen sold any large packages to any one. None of the salesmen knew of any such sales.

An investigation disclosed that three cartons containing golf carts were missing from a storage shelf at the rear of the store. It was surmised that the men climbed on an old show case and removed the merchandise.

The police officers said that the carts were valued at about $30 each.

They said the car used was claimed to have been sold at least four times, and that following the initial sale, the preceding owners sold the car before recording the title.

One of the alleged thieves was described as being about 27 years old, five feet seven inches, dark complexion, with a small mustache, and wearing a brown leather jacket and brown trousers.

The second man is believed to be about 28, five feet nine inches, also dark complexion and with a small mustache and also wearing a brown leather jacket and brown trousers.

PO Delivers Stolen Wallet

The post office delivered a wallet stolen from Mrs. Freda Griffith of 1100 Beaconsfield, that was dropped into the mailbox on Thursday, January 9, by the thief.

Mrs. Griffith told Park police that while she was at work at 15325 Mack avenue, a law-year's office, two men entered the building and approached her, asking to see a lawyer.

The woman left the office for a moment to see if her boss was available, and when she returned, found her wallet missing from her purse on the desk. She said she believed it was taken by one of the men, who suddenly left the building.

The wallet was later returned to Mrs. Griffith by the post office after it was dropped into mailbox by who ever took it.

The thief made a big haul—50 cents.

How to Profit Through Tax Exemption

With today's high tax levels, investors in medium and high tax brackets are turning to tax-free Municipal Bonds for income that they can keep.

If you have a taxable income of $10,000 or more, you may be well repaid by investigating the advantages of tax-exempt State and Municipal Bonds. For instance, if you file a single return on a taxable income of $14,000, you would have to receive a dividend return of 7.45% on a taxable security in order to equal the yield from a 5.50% tax-free Bond. It's something to think about!

Our New Booklet, "How To Profit Through Tax Exemption" explains in plain language, your need for tax exemption, tells how much these high-grade investments can be worth to you. There's no obligation. Send for copy today, or phone Editorial Note: This, the fifth in a series of articles compiled by the NEWS for the public's edification on our Grosse Pointe school system, is written by our Director of Instruction at the Board of Education, Dr. H. Leroy Selmeier.

Dr. Selmeier presented the following text at the School Board meeting held last week. In editing the long treatise, we found that everything he says is pertinent to the current discussions about the Russian and American educational systems, and therefore we hesitated to cut any part of it. But, because we suffer from the standard newspaper dilemma of inadequate space, we shall have to run the article in two parts.

This week's portion will deal primarily with an evaluation of the Russian educational plan, and, in conclusion, next week Dr. Selmeier will present more specific comparisons with our own Grosse Pointe program.

In the interest of better public understanding I should like to discuss Russia's educational program and to compare it to the Grosse Pointe Public School System wherever it may be of some public concern. Many interesting points could be made about the plans for financing or the general administrative personnel in the Russian schools. In the main, such references will be omitted as will be matters relative to exceptional children, vocational training or semi-professional schools, as well as to the work of the colleges and the teacher training institutions. The present discussion will thus be confined to the general line of primary and secondary education as we have it in the Grosse Pointe Public School System.

The basic educational program in Russia is for boys and girls from 7 to 17 or 18 years of age. Organized into a series of 10 grades, attendance is compulsory through grade VII or approximately the age of 14. Of course you know that attendance up to the age of 16 is required in Grosse Pointe.

Contrary to our own building programs which provide separate buildings for elementary, junior high school and senior high school pupils, Russian schools will always include the earliest grades in the total organization. Primary schools there include grades I-IV, incomplete secondary schools include grades I-VII, while complete secondary schools include grades I-IX. While there may be several parallel sections of a grade in any building, there are never buildings devoted entirely to the upper secondary pupils. There is thus a clear relation between this building organization plan and the conducting of a special series of examinations and the granting of certificates in grades IV, VII and X.

School buildings are developed in accordance with centrally standardized blue prints to house two shifts of pupils in every school day. A 10-year school building for 720 pupils per shift would have 18 classrooms plus at least 18 additional rooms for laboratories, administrative offices, cafeteria and library. The newer schools are now getting auditoriums and gymnasiums.

The usual schedule is for pupils in grades I-IV to attend the morning shift from 8 a.m. to noon. Grades VII and X attend similarly from 8 a.m. until 1 p.m. An afternoon shift for grades V, VI, VIII and IX operates from 2 until 7 p.m. During these hours every pupil will pursue the regular or Russian program of studies. Should the pupil be living in another cultural or non-Russian area, he may attend school for an additional hour each day to study the culture of his own ethnic group. In this way the Soviet seems to be tolerant of the minority groups it controls while yet being sure that the basic instruction will be for a united Russia.

The atmosphere of every classroom is extremely formal. Pupils usually sit by two's at double desks facing the front of the room. Pupils stand when the teacher enters or leaves the room as well as when they recite.

However, class size is comparatively very small. The ratio between pupils and teachers in Russia today is 17 to 1. At the outbreak of World War II it was over 28 to 1, rather similar to our own, but this ratio has been steadily reduced almost every passing year.

Detailed curriculum instructions are given to all teachers by the ministries of education in accordance with the decisions of the USSR Council of Ministers and the Communist Party. The material to be covered in each course, together with all reading assignments, is specifically outlined. Both textbooks and final examinations are standardized for every given level. There is no choice of subjects and the only adaptation to individual differences appears in the regional variation in language skills or in vocational orientation.

It is the intent of Soviet authorities to see that all textbooks present "the latest thinking and knowledge." Many of the books are quite detailed but they are always slanted to the "officially approved" point of view. If the teacher provides additional information, he must be sure that his source has Party acceptance.

Interestingly enough, even though textbook authors are among the better paid people and have special recognitions and prestige, the Soviets have found it difficult to get a sufficient number of satisfactory authors or to produce enough textbooks. Of course, the changes in Soviet ideology have had much to do with this problem. On the one hand, most of the secondary school textbooks in mathematics, physics, chemistry and grammar have remained practically unchanged during the last 20 years in spite of what we know of the growth of scientific experience or of the methods in teaching. However, when political ideology might exert a greater pressure, as in biology, literature of history, textbooks were constantly being replaced with every shift in Soviet policy.

The class lecture is the principal teaching method. Each day's lesson follows the same pattern of review, then new material, drills and assignments. Emphasis is placed on listening attentively, accepting what is read or told, and reporting it exactly in the proper form. Memorization is considered the only way to master a foreign language, historical or geographical data, mathematical formulas or the fundamentals of science.

Soviet teachers generally advance with their pupil group from one year to another. Thus in grades I-IV pupils will have the same teacher for all classes. Then in grade V various subject teachers take over and go with the class group from year to year.

Our Grosse Pointe pattern is somewhat similar here with our elementary teachers generally staying two years with their group instead of the Russian four and with departmentalization beginning at the age of 12 instead of 11. However, the reasoning is somewhat different. The Russian claims that his system is so systematic that it minimizes the necessity for much review. In Grosse Pointe we strive for a better understanding of the child in the conviction that this enables us to better guide his growth.

Until a little more than a year ago, progress through a Soviet school above grade III depended entirely upon grades made on the spring final examinations. Now some weight in the final grade is given to daily class work, short tests and homework. However, promotion from grades IV, VII, and X, the certificate granting grades, still remains with the standardized examination. Thus it is interesting to note that, as the Americans began to recognize approximately a half century ago, a wiser grading of pupils could be attained by counting more than just the final examination, so have the Russians followed within the past year.

However, Soviet examinations are quite different. While Russian (language or literature) as well as mathematics are tested at every level, botany is tested only in grade VI, geography only in grade VII, modern history and foreign language only in grade IX. Interestingly much of the study in each of these fields occurs in still later secondary years.

Grosse Pointe News

From Another Pointe of View

By Patricia Talbot

Only the very young could have a ball at 7:30 in the morning. Two dozen sophomores at Grosse Pointe High school were bid from their slumbers at 7:30 o'clock for a recent "come as you are" breakfast party.

The young hostess was Pat Moran who corralled her mother, Mrs. Alfred Moran, her grandmother, Mrs. Sam Olejniczak and Mrs. Carl Nowicki to act as chauffeurs and invitation deliverers.

Most of the mothers of the guests were in on the secret and never breathed a word. When the hostess arrived the gals were sleeping and roused to come in full regalia, pin curls, slippers and nighties. They were allowed to brush their teeth and don polo coats.

Over at the Moran home on Prestwick three skillers were frying the full time and the two dozen teen agers ate five pounds of bacon, many dozen eggs and gallons of hot chocolate. Mrs. Moran squeezed three dozen oranges for eye openers.

Three Hours for Ingathering

It took three hours to pick up all the guests and drive them to the Moran home where sequined menus announced the party theme. By noon the gala was over.

Some of the pajamaed crew were Gini Peirce, Irene Sante, Sue Long, Candy Colett, Peggy Bromley, Pat Hagland, Liz Ohrt, Angie Grippie, Julie Smith, Karen Jensen, Emmy Mucciante and Carol Kurtz.

Other brunch beauties were Bonnie Willingham, Mary Ann Chylinski, Sharon Qualls, Linda Libby, Sue Slocum, Mrs. Asmus, Chris Nagel, Mary Hiller, Jane Price, and Stephanie Mocer.

Husbands to Cook

Pulling a switch on their kitchen tied wives are a foursome of males with a yen to try their culinary skill. David Jansen, Richard Spear, Warren Craumer and Bill Duffield have planned a sumptuous dinner for their mates on January 25.

It will be a pot luck party for these regular members of the bridge circle and the gathering will be held at the Craumer's home in Merriweather road.

The Duffields will be welcoming her mother, Mrs. L. Edward Hart, of Chicago, about that time for a week's visit. Mrs. Hart is coming to recover from her daughter Daphne's wedding festivities, for which the Duffields traveled to the Windy City last week.

Reunion in Phoenix

Reunion in Phoenix (it sounds like a song title) was the schedule for the L. A. Hittels, of McKinley avenue this month.

The Hittels are in that western town to visit their son and daughter-in-law, the L. A. Hittels, Jr., and to see their new granddaughter, Linda Anne, a miss of some six months.

The junior Hittels were joined by their uncle and aunt Mr. and Mrs. Fred R. Jose, of Fairholme drive after the Jose's had toured San Francisco and Los Angeles. They returned to the Pointe last week.

The senior Hittels will be away longer as they plan to go to Flagstaff, Ariz., for more reunions. This visit will be with their nephew and family, the C. M. Skaus, Jr., formerly of the Pointe. Then they will sight see in the West before returning home.

When the couple left on a wedding trip to Boyne Mountain the new Mrs. Gibson was wearing a charcoal gray suit and black accessories. They will make their home in Royal Oak.

GPYC to Welcome New Commodore

Charles L. Jacobson to Receive Badges of Office From Retiring Commodore Stark Hickey at Ball January 25; Eugene Cassaroli Chairman of Party

Plans are being completed even to the last detail for Grosse Pointe Yacht Club's formal Commodore's Ball to honor the newly-elected commodore, Charles L. Jacobson, and Mrs. Jacobson on Saturday evening, January 25.

There'll be flowers in the club colors, red, white and blue as well as other beautiful blooms; a 7:30 o'clock cocktail hour in the main dining room; a grand march; two orchestras; a ceremonial presentation of club and fleet officers' silk burgees.

Eugene A. Casaroli is chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements.

Before going into the cocktail hour inaugural, arriving guests will be greeted by the officers and directors; and their wives, all in formal receiving line in the clubhouse rotunda.

The grand march will take place at 8:30 p.m. Led by Commodore and Mrs. Jacobson, the march will proceed from the main dining room and up the wide staircase to the ballroom lounge.

An impressive feature is the formal introduction of officers and their ladies, couple by couple. Each pair will then be conducted to the head table. Special ushers for this ceremony are George A. Gardella, Jr., and Charles J. Gardella.

The new commodore and his lady will be in the honor places at a huge E-shaped table for the official family, the past commodores, and all their ladies. Commodores of other boat and yacht clubs of the area will be seated together.

In tradition, the formal flag-presentation ceremony will follow dinner. Commodore Jacobson will receive his official burgee and pin from the immediate past commodore, Stark Hickey.

Then Commodore Jacobson will tender a leather-bound volume of the club's 1957 official magazines to Commodore Hickey and, in turn, will make formal presentation of burgee to club and fleet officers.

These include Vice Commodore Robert F. Weber, Rear Commodore William A. Ternes, Secretary John R. Wilt, Treasurer Paul I. Moreland, Fleet Captain Charles B. DeVlieg, Fleet Surgeon Dr. Karl W. Weber, and Fleet Measurer Gordon E. McCabe. Then the evening will be given over to dancing, with entertainment between times. Warner Ruhl and his orchestra will play in the ballroom and the Arthur Quatro orchestra in the main dining room.

Commodore and Mrs. Jacobson will be hosts to a large group of their friends at the beautiful festivity.

Among others with reservations for groups are the John D. Kennellys, the J. Earl Frasers, the John J. Wetzels, the Peter Galletties, Mr. and Mrs. William G. Boales, the George L. Hoopers, the John W. Brays, Dr. and Mrs. Edward J. Zabinski, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Faery, the James P. Clearys, the Leo M. Radkes and the Joseph Bejins.

Ambassador Visits Here

Dr. Heinz L. Krekeler was here over the past week-end from Washington, D. C., to preside over the Germany Today Institute held at the Rackham Building.

The ambassador was guest of German Consul Ferdinand Friedensburg and Mrs. Friedensburg in their Berkshire road home.

Coming with the ambassador from the capital was his personal assistant, former vice-consul in Detroit and former Pointe resident, Wilhelm Fabricius. Also in the party was Dr. Rolf Pauls.

On Friday noon Dr. Friedensburg gave a luncheon for the visitors in his home. That evening the Detroit Tomorrow committee gave a dinner at the DAC to introduce Dr. Krekeler to city officials and university heads.

On Saturday afternoon the Friedensburgs gave a reception in their home for the guests.

Wes Harrison is an additional attraction in his "Mr. Sound Effects" act. Show week continues through Jan. 31.

The party again will bring together the capacity crowd of 700, ranging in age from seven years to grandfathers.

Alumnae of Stephens Hold Forum on Living

The Eastside Stephens Alumnae Group started off the New Year Monday, January 13, with a member-staged forum on "Day to Day Living." Mrs. F. M. Leist of St. Clair Shores was hostess to the membership in her home, assisted by Mrs. A. R. Richards, Jr., of Mt. Clemens.

Mrs. Thomas E. Coulter of Grosse Pointe Woods was in charge of the evening's program. She introduced first Mrs. Frank Ogan of Detroit who spoke on "Shortcuts," or the simplification of household tasks. A day schedule, adapted from Wayne State University Work Simplification Course, was distributed. Mrs. R. C. Sheridan of Harper Woods prepared the adaptation to suit the member's families.

Mrs. Thomas E. Candler of St. Clair Shores gave a brief talk on "Family Relationships." She pointed out how each member of the family group needs to be aware of the others and their contributions to the family. Mrs. Coulter then talked about "Mental State." Mentioned were tensions and frustrations in the family which may be partially alleviated by the wife's interest in activities outside the home. Each short talk was followed by a panel discussion and then Mrs. Coulter encouraged comments and discussion from the audience.

Mrs. Robert Knapp of Grosse Pointe Woods, special events chairman, announced that in March the Eastside, Westside, and Birmingham Stephens Alumnae Clubs would hold a joint social meeting. Plans are just now being laid and a full report will be made in February.

Newer Styles Outlaw Bulges

This season, more than ever before, good figures and correct posture are "musts" if women are to carry off the slim skirts and more "hatty" type of millinery now being advanced by all of the important fashion designers.

This means, in a word, girls, that you will have to eliminate those waistline bulges, that too-prominent derriere, and that debutante slouch... or else.

A measure of comfort however, and a promise of quick action on figure revision just in the nick of time for all of you who want to heed the dictates of fashion come from Ann Louise Beauty Salon at 405 Fisher road.

The shop has just added a slenderizing department to its well known hairdressing and beauty service facilities. Featured will be the famous Figurama no-drobbing, vibrating, mechanical massage table and vitamin food supplement wafers. Figurama was designed by the famous reducing expert, Monty MacLevy.

According to Ann Louise, owner of the shop, Figurama is both effective and stimulating, and has proved itself nationally popular. The table not only produces excellent results when the aim is for weight reduction, but also for those seeking better posture, measurement reduction or relief from tension.

A free introductory half-hour on Figurama is being offered for one week.

The salon also features steam cabinets, shower and hand massage by accomplished masseuses Adelaide Crocker and Mary Herschel.

Musical Workshops Revive Early Days

When Tuesday Musicales Began in 1885 with 12 Members it was a Music Practice Club; Membership Now Numbers 700

The Tuesday Musicales is making an effort to recapture the spirit of 1885 when its dozen founders held music practice sessions in each other's homes.

This month the 700 members of the Tuesday Musicales will be invited to participate in workshops in four different sections of town.

The Tuesday Musicales is the second oldest music club in the state and one of the largest in the country. It began with a dozen young ladies who rehearsed in each other's homes and then gave recitals for their friends.

The founders were Elizabeth Stridiron, Josie Lewis, Charlotte O'Flynn, Harriet Nichols, Elizabeth Wetmore, Hannah Hammond, Grace McMillan, Mary Andrus, Virginia Ferguson, Clara Trowbridge, Alexandrine Sibley and Winifred Poe.

Mrs. Henry B. Joy, Emily Gilmore Stevens and the late Miss Frances W. Sibley are among the present members who were in on the beginnings of the group.

Over a year ago the members and executive board decided to recapture the intimacy of the old days by workshops in which members could work together for mutual improvement of instruments and voice. The idea has been so successful.

Assuming their duties for the year, were: Mrs. Jack Stotter, president; Mrs. Mrs. Eugene Timm, vice president; Mrs. Linus Liebaert, secretary; and Mrs. Lisle Pierson, treasurer.

This course runs for three months and will be held every Thursday from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. It will deal with the basic mechanics of an automobile and should offer invaluable information for the layman-driver—particularly the woman driver.

It even pays to cry over spilled milk—if crying prevents the spilling of more.

HOUSEHOLD HINT

If you have left-over boiled potatoes, dice them, heat them, add bacon and vinegar to make German hot potato salad.

Pointe Garden Club to Meet

Mrs. V. Foster Hutchins will open her Washington road home on Monday at 12:30 for a luncheon meeting of the Pointe Garden Club.

Most people have patience, but if they hear the same reason too often they refuse to listen to reason.

It's a lot easier for the average man to draw the line than it is for him to keep from stepping over it later.

Ten-Year Old Holiday News

Ever wonder how Pointers spent their Christmas holidays in the past—say ten years ago? So did we and so we consulted the December 25, 1947 issue of the NEWS to put a stop to our siege of curiosity and it seems, just a decade ago . . .

Sammy Chapin, Mary and Nell Tiedeman, Helen Livingston, Danforth Holley, Clifford Ford, Joe Standart, Forbes Howard and Ann Crouse spent their New Year's Eve at the Otsego Ski Club, and the Ray Whytes were leaving for their winter home in the Bahamas.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ford II, with daughters Charlotte and Anne, spent the holidays in Sun Valley, Idaho . . . Frannie Boyer was in the throes of preparations for her holiday debut . . . Mr. and Mrs. Joseph DeGrimme were leaving to spend Christmas at the Plaza in New York.

Dave Pierson was home from Governor Dummer Academy to spend the holidays with his parents, the H. Lynn Piersons . . . the David Burgeses were just settling their new home on Fairholm drive.

Sputnik II appears to be tumbling end over end in the upper atmosphere, University of Michigan astronomers report.

Zoar Society to Hold Evening Bridge Party

The Zoar Society is sponsoring an evening bridge party to be held in the social hall of St. John's Church, Russell and Gratiot, on Friday, January 24, at 7:30 o'clock.

Assisting Mrs. Herbert Path, 8341 Normile avenue, on the various committees for the party are the following members: Mrs. John Bloom, 8608 Kentucky avenue, tickets; Mrs. John Georgi, 377 Newport avenue, and Mrs. Franz Georgi, 20920 Lakeland court, St. Clair Shores, prizes; and Mrs. William Ludwig, 421 Touraine road, and Mrs. Carl Schroeder, 8553 Terry avenue, refreshments.

Proceeds from this affair are to be used solely for the benefit and aid of the Evangelical Home for Children and Aged, 6700 West Outer drive.

Murphy-Waldmann Rites Announced for June 28

Mr. and Mrs. Clement J. Waldmann, of Holiday road announce the engagement of their daughter, Anne Elizabeth, to Eugene Joseph Murphy, son of Mrs. Cyril J. Murphy, of College drive, and the late Mr. Murphy.

The bride-elect is a senior at the University of Detroit Dental School and her fiancé also attended the University of Detroit. They will be married on June 28.

HOUSEHOLD HINT

Roast pork at 325 degrees until it is grayish white with no tinge of pink, say Michigan State University home economists. Chops and steaks are either braised or fried in their own fat.

HOUSEHOLD HINT

Have your lawn mower repaired and overhauled. Mowers need sharpening and repair at least once a year and shops have more time to do it now than later in the spring.

A number of girls at Grosse Pointe University School designed their own Christmas cards with the assistance of Miss Diana Silvius, teacher of art. The card made by Melinda Bryan, of the 11th grade, was selected as the design for the school card. Others who designed cards for their own use were Susan Stair, Pat Standart, Susan Leach, and Anne Collins.

A perennial matter of concern for both teachers and parents is the best method or methods to develop good study habits in students. The curriculum committee at G.P.U.S. is considering this problem in its meetings this year, emphasizing techniques which are common to all subjects—careful scheduling of one's time, for example, and being certain to understand all assignments and to write them down exactly. Individual departments are meeting to examine the specific techniques that might be employed in their particular field of study.

Thus last week the Foreign Language teachers spent two hours exchanging suggestions on how to help students go about learning vocabulary

Remi DeBlare, commercial builder of the little DN-60 ice boats, proved he can sail as well as build these racy little craft when he came from behind to capture the eighth annual DN International held on Lake St. Clair Saturday-Sunday, January 11-12.

Remi, representing North Star Sail Club, placed 2-3-2-4 and 2 in the five race series to garner 137 points which was three better than defending champion Skip Boston, who captured both of the races held on Sunday.

Second place was won by a dilly of a girl sailor, Janie Pegel, of Lake Geneva, Wisconsin. Janie was a point behind on finishes of 1-4-3-3-3. On Saturday Janie hit a mark of the course but was not disqualified because she did it to avoid hitting a daring amateur photographer who ventured onto the course.

Miss Pegel not only knows how to sail ice boats but last summer proved to be the best woman sailor in the United States when she won the Charles Francis Adams cup in Houston, Texas. This trophy is emblematic of the Women's National Championship. She also is the C. Scow champion of Lake Geneva.

The final race got a bit words, idioms, and forms, translating well, understanding grammatical rules, and similar topics. They hope to prepare a kind of check-sheet by which students can ask themselves the question, "Am I going about this assignment the right way?"

Those who took part were Miss Elizabeth Ferguson, Latin, chairman; John Conley, French; Mrs. Jane Gorton, French; Mlle. Beatrix Goubet, French; Mrs. Ruth Lynch, French; Francis McCann, Latin; Donald Roberts, Latin; and Richard Trim, Spanish.

Vacation time is the season for alumni and former pupils to return to G.P.U.S. to visit their old school. Last week saw Libeth and Ralph McElvenny, Lucinda Rogers, Carol Laird, and Paula Walker meeting friends and teachers with whom they studied "only yesterday."

With Sam Shreeman as caroler-in-chief some 20 ninth grade girls went out last Saturday to "carol" Grosse Pointe. They started from the home of Miss Paul Waterman, proceeded on to serene the home of William Bellows at McKinley and Grosse Pointe boulevard, then went on to the Rest Home at Fisher Road near the boulevard and through other parts of the Farms. Their object was to spread Christmas cheer and not to solicit money, which was not accepted, but Mr. Shreeman reports, the girls caroled with special vigor wherever candy and Christmas cookies were offered.

The eighth grade boys were hosts for the eighth grade girls last Wednesday evening at a dance given in the G. P. U. S. multi-purpose room. Donald Roberts and Miss Patricia Dow, eighth grade advisers, report a pleasant evening with much fun for all.

Headlines of the Week

President Eisenhower and Britain's Prime Minister, suggested Geneva as the summit site.

Saturday, January 11

ANOTHER Atlas inter-continental ballistic missile was successfully test-fired over a limited range from Cape Canaveral, Fla., Friday. Like the first successful Atlas on December 17, Friday's giant rocket was held to a range of 500 to 900 miles.

The difference in the tests was primarily one of flight data received. Telemetric (radio) facilities can "ask" an Atlas speeding toward its target about 300 questions.

Continuing the stepped-up program that began after the launch of the satellite-bearing Vanguard on December 6, the Air Force missile test center later Friday successfully fired a Navaho.

AN AIR FORCE GENERAL Friday night challenged President Eisenhower's plan for a separate and unified space agency. Maj. Gen. Bernard A. Schriever, boss of the Air Force missile program, said the plan is a costly duplication of Air Force abilities to send a manned satellite to the moon and back in a few years.

Schriever made his criticism of this and other Pentagon decisions in a prepared statement to the Senate Preparedness Investigation Subcommittee Thursday.

The Air Force made the testimony public Friday night. It was the latest episode in what some sources are beginning to call a "revolt of the generals."

A 24-YEAR-OLD clerk admitted Friday night raping and torturing a Northwest Detroit housewife, Washington police said. Tommy Fry's arrest ended a nation-wide manhunt. He was caught in Washington late Friday night, moments after he left home of his estranged wife.

Sunday, January 12

A POLICEMAN who dared a bandit's gun was shot to death Saturday in the same bar where he was knifed in an act of heroism eight months ago.

Patrolman Donald W. Coulter, 38, was killed by a sawed-off .12-gauge shotgun blast at 8:15 a.m. in the Prince Royal Bar at 3057 Gratiot. He was shot in the left eye at three-foot range as he snatched his .38 revolver from beneath his jacket, in an attempt to halt the armed robbery at the bar. The thief, and his two accomplices got away, after emptying the bar's cash register.

OFFICIALS of the American Telephone & Telegraph Company and the Communication Workers of America signed an agreement Saturday averting a nation-wide strike of long distance telephone operators.

The agreement, covering 25,000 workers in 42 states and the District of Columbia, provides wage increases of $2 to $4 a week for long distance operators and $1 to $5 for maintenance men. George F. Sparks, assistant vice-president for the A.T. & T. said the new contract would run for 16 months, a month longer than the old agreement. It is not retroactive.

PUBLICANS with money in the bank and "the best issue we ever had," Saturday started their 1958 political campaign to defeat Gov. Williams and the Democratic Party.

The occasion was a pep rally in the Olds Hotel. The issue, as the Republicans see it—Williams is a failure as an administrator by his own admission. After nine years in office, he admits the state is bankrupt and needs more taxes.

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER told Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin Sunday, "I am ready" for a summit conference—provided preliminary negotiations give "good hope of advancing the cause of peace and justice in the world."

Mr. Eisenhower, in a 4,000-word message delivered to Moscow, also said outer space should be used only for peaceful purposes. He challenged the Soviets to agree with the U. S. at "a decisive moment in history," that space should be "denied to the purposes of war."

He also proposed that the testing of nuclear weapons be halted "not just for two or three years, but indefinitely," provided the step is taken as part of a program to end the "now unrestrained production of nuclear weapons."

STRONG ARMY AND NAVY DEMANDS for hundreds of millions of extra dollars for advanced weapons faced senators Sunday even before President Eisenhower's budget reached Congress.

The President's budget message is to be presented to Congress today, Monday. It is expected to call for about 74 billion dollars in the fiscal year that begins July 1. Of this amount, defense outlays are expected to approach 40 billions.

THE POWERFUL UAW Executive Board Sunday afternoon completed what was expected to be the "most important and surprising" economic package ever sought of the automobile industry.

While speculation ran a little on the wild side, the UAW said the full proposal would be made public Monday morning when the board formalizes the demands.

Tuesday, January 14

THE UAW MONDAY PIG-EYED its long-standing demand for a shorter work week in the auto industry in favor of seeking a fat wage increase and a guaranteed share of profits for 700,000 auto workers.

In a startling about-face on the four-day week, the union's 25-man Executive Board said a combination of Russia's Sputniks and the nation's slumping economy made it necessary to forego increased leisure for the present and seek instead an increase in purchasing power and more production.

THE EISENHOWER Administration yesterday asked Congress to boost the 275 billion dollars limit on the national debt to 280 billion dollars.

President Eisenhower's budget message Monday indicated the Administration would ask for an increase in the ceiling, saying "The present limit of 275 billion dollars is too restrictive in view of rising defense expenditures and of the need for more flexibility to permit efficient and economical debt management."

Feature Page

By Pat Talbot

Editorial Note: Most of the following information was gathered from a book published in 1886, "Souvenir of the Pointe," by Silas Farmer, and loaned by the War Memorial.

At the bend of the lake shore today lives a grande dame who was a belle in the 1880's when her father, Joseph H. Berry, paint and varnish king, was a prime mover in the exodus to the Pointe. She was Alice Berry and is now Mrs. Edwin Lodge.

In 1886 when the Old Grosse Pointe Club was built on property near the Berrys, Joseph Berry was one of its first members. His lavish home of pressed brick and cut stone was among the first of the year round residences here. He had the first paved sidewalk, an amazing nine foot stained glass window and an extensive conservatory housing prize-winning orchids.

"Edgemere" was a real castle, more impressive from the lakeside than from Jefferson avenue. Great stone steps flanked by marble urns led to the long piazza which surrounded the house. The gardens were striking show places. The conservatory was watered with a steam engine which forced water all over the large estate. There was a substantial sea wall and a spacious boat house, as well.

Living with Mr. Berry in the 80's in this impressive mansion were his sisters, Adelaide and Sarah, and his three daughters Charlotte, Lottie and the aforementioned Alice, who was to marry a doctor and build her own home on Berry property. The girls' mother had been Charlotte E. Dwight. She died in 1875.

All the bon ton Pointe families were closely interwoven in those days. On the Berry property was a picturesque "cottage," the last dwelling on the lake side of the road. "Loch Side" was leased from Mr. Berry by his intimate friend, Alexander H. Muir, brother of William K. Muir and like him engaged in the railroad and transportation business.

He too was a widower in 1884 for his wife Isadore McGraw died that year. Four children were left of this union, Susie, Alexander McGraw, Helen and Philip Howie.

Not far down the lake road lived their cousins, Kathleen and Harriet, with their parents, the William A. McGraws, in a new Queen Anne cottage. A row of Lombardy poplars and an Osage orange hedge marked their home. Mr. McGraw, of a famous Detroit mercantile firm was married to Harriet A. Robinson, niece of John S. Newberry.

Every family seemed to be joined to his neighbor by business, marriage or old friendship, giving the Pointe of 1886 that unique quality shared only by such resorts as Newport or Bar Harbor.

who, where and whatnot

by whoozit

Snow there may not be, but determined winter sportsmen are going to all lengths to make ice for the skaters. Home grown rinks, manufactured with daddy's hose, are sprouting in back yards all over the Pointe.

The Charles Beltzes on Lakeland have a very fancy deal. The Skaters Waltz is wafted out over a special PA system hooked up to the radio and music every afternoon for the neighborhood kids who use the pond gives skating a special lift.

No fancy figures for the boys who use the Carl Macpherson's rink on Balfour. They play ice hockey on the frozen driveway and very serious they are, too. Mrs. M. kindly lets the team use her enclosed terrace for a warming house and serves cocoa and cookies to the experts.

All the fathers in Dean lane and Lewiston have been manning the hoses after office hours trying to get their neighborhood lot in skating trim. The A. Richard Stanness and the William Y. Gards have taken on this responsibility.

Mr. and Mrs. Eric Stroh have the real neighborly spirit of newlyweds. Having no tots themselves they volunteered to freeze their yard for the kiddies round about their Neff road home.

The Malcom M. Barnums turned floodlights on their Rivard boulevard rink for night time skating and last Friday invited a group to try their skill.

Mothers are wonderful and here is yet another story to add to the legend. A mama watching her fledgling trying the first awkward positions at the ballet bar at the War Memorial last week confided that she had had a secret yen to be a ballerina and never missed a performance of the terrific ballet companies which appeared here. This season she was foregoing her block of tickets to the Royal Ballet so her young miss could take lessons.

Here's a compliment to a mother and wife who is efficiency personified. Mrs. Henry Murray received a call from her husband one afternoon last week. He said pack up we are leaving for Florida tomorrow morning. She had her two offspring ready, another one farmed out, and all arrangements made in a matter of minutes and that evening gave a party. The Murrys are now sunning ecstatically in Ft. Lauderdale.

The hunters were feasting at the Hunt Club over the weekend on some unusual game: moose, which Sterling Dockson bagged in Northern Canada; roast antelope from Northern Montana shot by Donald Martin and Carl Reickelt; and venison from Wyoming donated by nimrod Willard Hagenmeyer. Mr. H., a hunter with a long list of safaris behind him, did all the decorations for the club dinner, contributing his African big game trophies.

PILFERINGS

"On my block, when I was a kid, there was a lot of loose talk being carried on above our heads about how a father was supposed to be a pal to his boy. This was just another of those stupid things that grownups said. It was our theory that the grownup was the natural enemy of the child, and if any father had come around being a pal to us we would have figured he was either a little dotty or a spy." "Where Did You Go? Out. What Did You Do? Nothing," by Robert Paul Smith.

Pointer of Interest

TOM SCHANKE, OF MCKINLEY AVENUE

By Patricia Talbot

When Tom Schanke returns to his home in Honefoss, Norway, in July he will have another year of school to complete. For the Norwegian gymnasium (high school) will not accept his degree from Grosse Pointe University School.

Tom doesn't mind repeating his senior year because his visit to Grosse Pointe on an American Field Service Scholarship has been an experience he will remember for the rest of his life.

It all began in the classroom of that small Norwegian town last winter when students were asked if they would like to apply. With Tom's special knowledge of English he thought he might have a chance, so his name with six others was sent to Oslo where finally he and a co-ed from his town were selected to spend a year in America.

Meets Hosts in New York
He arrived in New York in August where he was met by the John Grahams, with whom he is making his home here. After a short sightseeing tour he arrived in the Pointe to begin his experiment in foreign education.

Tom, of course, finds it difficult to study in English but his courses at GPUS are far less trying than the 13 he was required to take in Norway. Here he is studying trigonometry, American History, French, English, public speaking and typewriting.

In Norway the school system is patterned after the German educational method. Only the superior student continues classes after he is 15 years old. Elementary school is finished at 14 and if the student isn't able to continue he spends one year more at the "Framhald" School and then begins his life's work.

Students like Tom will go on to the gymnasium and then to the University. Tom will do three years of graduate work in business administration after his graduation a year from June. He has his eye on the diplomatic corps when he receives his degree.

Political Picture
Tom has some very decided and deep beliefs on Norway's status in the world situation. Russia is always a threat, being a close neighbor. A small, unimportant country like his homeland doesn't have a chance in any world struggle unless it stays neutral as Sweden did in World War II Tom believes.

He was born during the War, while his father was serving as a doctor officer in the Norwegian Army in which his grandfather was a major. There was fighting on his family's property. His mother hid in the basement as Norwegians fled from the house on Nazis attacking from a nearby garage. Tom feels there is still bitterness against the Nazis in Norway but not against the German people, as individuals. He misses skiing and skating here most of all and finds it difficult to see the American boy's absorption in football and baseball. He will go out for track at GPUS this spring. "Everything depends on the car," he says. In Norway teen agers bike or walk to their entertainment. The biggest detriment to Tom's studying is TV. They don't have television in Norway but probably will when he returns. He spends every week-end watching it.

Likes Hot Dogs
Tom has acquired a taste for the American staples, hot dogs and hamburgers, but is amazed at how much meat is served. In Norway the big meal is at 2 o'clock and usually consists of fish and potatoes. The other meals are sandwich menus, those fabulous Scandinavian open faced sandwiches travelers from the USA rave about.

Another eye opener to Tom was the baby sitting institution. His hosts, the Grahams have two boys, Gerritt, 9, and Sam, 5, so he has seen it first hand. In Norway the children are left alone soon after they reach the toddler stage.

Tom has some definite thoughts on the independence of American women, too. He says in Norway women stay home and cook, sew and wash. His mother has an avocation, though, for she is a writer.

No School Athletics
In Norway there are few private schools and in the public institutions classes are over by 1:45 o'clock. There are no school athletics, boys joining teams in private clubs for soccer, swimming and track. Of course there is also a great emphasis on winter sports. Tom is waiting for his skating and ski equipment to come so he can enjoy the GPUS ski weekend in February, and maybe give some expert advice to his classmates.

In Norway the most perplexing national problem concerning the United States is the Negro question. Norwegians, as many Europeans, do not understand our race problems. Toms says seeing this crisis first hand has made him understand and sympathize with both champions of the argument.

His whole experience here has been invaluable and when he returns he will be an ambassador in understanding. Although he isn't homesick he is looking forward to his

Pointe Chorus Seeks Singers

If you enjoy singing, take a moment right now to place a circle around this date: Tuesday, January 28.

On that evening, starting at 7:30, the Grosse Pointe Community Chorus begins taking registrations in the vocal music room of Parcels Junior High School, Vernier at Mack, for its biggest Spring Concert yet.

The chorus is open to anyone over high school age with a desire to sing. No auditions are required. While most members of the group live in the Pointe communities, some of them come from as far away as Mt. Clemens and Royal Oak. The only charge is a registration fee of $4.50 which includes all music.

Now in its sixth and most successful year, the Grosse Pointe Community Chorus is under the able direction of Donald W. Simmons, vocal music teacher at Parcels Junior High. Accompanist for the group is Milton Setzer, who is on the staff of Wayne State University.

The theme of this year's Spring Concert, according to Mr. Simmons, will be "Around the World." The program will consist of varied types of selections from all over the globe. They will range from classic and oratorio choral selections to folk carols and modern musical comedy hits.

It is hoped that the concert, to be presented on Sunday, May 11, will attract a large Mother's Day audience.

Lamps are MORE than accessories. First, they are usually more important and conspicuous than smaller pieces. Secondly, they must be chosen not only for their own good looks but for the kind and amount of light they shed on the room. The beautiful lamps found at Wanamaker's fulfill all the obligations for good lighting and good taste.

TWO HOLIDAY DENTS

Walter F. Hilgendorf, of 22646 Nine Mile road, St. Clair Shores put a dent in his own Christmas—and another in the car of Fred M. Kopp, of 1627 Sunningdale road. Kopp's car was parked at an angle to the curb in the rear of 18926 Kercheval and Hilgendorf hit its rear as he backed into it with his truck on Christmas Eve day. Damage was insignificant, and no ticket was issued.
