Testing, Advising Programs Stressed In Pointe Schools

Seventh in Series of Articles on Public System With Methods Used to Help Students Plan Education

Editorial Note:—Mrs. Helen M. Graves has written this, the seventh in the series of informative articles about the Grosse Pointe School System. It represents the culmination of many interviews with students and faculty members in local institutions and deals, specifically, with the testing methods and counseling programs in the Grosse Pointe schools.

The KEY role played by testing and student counseling and guidance in the educational effort to step-up the output of American scientists to meet the challenges of the space age, was dramatized by specific mention in President Eisenhower's December 30 speech to the nation. In outlining a 7-point educational program the President called for

- 1) Federal grants to finance aptitude tests of students between the 7th and 9th grades; and
- 2) grants to the states for improved student counseling and guidance in preparation for higher education.

This is a report of the testing and counseling program in our Grosse Pointe schools.

As each child enters the 7th grade from one of the Grosse Pointe Elementary schools, his record, (which includes intelligence test scores, achievement tests scores in reading and math, scholastic marks, as well as the result of the Detroit Alpha test administered in the 6th grade), is sent to the Junior High School. New students to the system are given the Detroit Alpha test. At the 7th grade levels the students are given the Standard Achievement test for math and the California Achievement test for reading.

In the first semester of the 8th grade the students are given a battery of tests called the Differential Aptitude tests, (published by the Psychological Corporation of N.Y.), designed to give the pupil more specific information about his mental abilities than the general tests which have been given previously. The tests are considered particularly significant at this time since the child is about to make out his program of studies for the 9th grade. These tests are supplied, scored and an individual profile on each pupil compiled by the University of Michigan (for a fee paid by our Board of Education).

At the conclusion of this testing, a report is sent to the parents showing the results of the test, together with an explanatory letter covering the whole testing system at the junior high level.

In essence, this period marks the beginning of the parting of ways for the pupils of varying ability and ambition. As a result of this testing, the teacher advises the planning of the 9th grade curriculum.

In the 9th grade the students are given the Kuder Preference Test, indicating the area of interest and a "career" book is prepared under the guidance of the Civics teacher. At this year level, the student after a conference with parent and counselor, and following the

Conditioners Boost City Water Bills

Demand Charges made by Detroit Passed on to Consumers

Detroit's "demand charges" on water used by air conditioning systems in the Park, that is claimed to be putting a strain on the water supply during peak period, resulted in the Park conducting a survey and the preparation of an ordinance to govern such units.

On Monday, January 27, the Park council was informed that the Detroit Water Board has presented a graduated scale increase in the cost of water consumption by non-water-conserving air conditioning equipment.

Herbert Heger, head of the public works department, said that Detroit asked for an accurate listing of all business places and homes using non-conserving conditioners by a certain date last year, for the purpose of water rate adjustments.

He said a survey was undertaken, but could not be completed by the date set by Detroit, so an estimate figure was asked for, which was given.

The estimated figure was given on homes; the business places have been completely surveyed, Heger said.

He said it was found that 29 units were in business establishments, having a total capacity of 297 tons, to which were added 46 units in residential buildings, each assumed to be in the three-ton capacity.

Based on this, Detroit charged the Park an additional $708.55; $500.55 for business, and the balance charged to residences.

Heger said the survey had to be taken because the Park had no ordinance covering air conditioning systems, therefore there was no accurate way of finding out the number of units in use.

About two-thirds of the survey has been done, he said, and it would take about 30 to 60 days before it is completed.

The purpose of the survey is to determine who has these non-recirculating systems; and to adopt an ordinance, setting the rate on water consumption of these types, and so on. Such an ordinance is being formulated and will be presented to the council about May, Heger said.

Scale Is Graduated
Detroit's demand charge for non-conserving systems installed under permits issued prior to May 7, 1956, is to be increased on a graduated scale, as follows:

For the calendar year 1956, nothing; for 1957, $1.50 per ton of refrigeration (covered by the $708.55, subject to future adjustment); 1958, $3; 1959, $4.50; 1960, $6; and 1961 and thereafter, $7.50.

For units installed after the May 1956 date, the charge for 1956, nothing; from 1957 on, $7.50 per ton of refrigeration.

The reason for the rate increase, the Detroit Water Board claimed, was because these water wasting conditioners placed an unusually high additional demand on pumping and filtering equipment during peak periods, and this is too much for the system to handle.

Some Are Exempt
Exempt from the rate increase are home units with conditioners using less than 12 gallons of water an hour per ton of cooling capacity.

The rate is applied to both business and private residents using the water for human comfort only, Heger said, and does not include that for refrigeration of foodstuffs.

The Park will pass on the exact charge made by Detroit, to consumers, Heger said. The city will not profit by this deal, he pointed out.

The proposed ordinance will also be studied by the council to determine whether or not non-conserving conditioners will be permitted.

Other Charges Revealed
At the Monday night meeting, City Manager Everett B. Lane informed the council, that Detroit, during the latter

High School Graduates Class of 137

Group Also Attains Distinction of Including Largest Number of Honor Students

By Sue Cumberworth, G.P.H.S. Journalism Student
The traditional "Pomp and Circumstance" ushered in the class of January, 1958, as they graduated from Grosse Pointe High School last Thursday evening. The commencement exercises, climaxed by the presentation of diplomas, represented the final occasion on which all of the 137 class members would be gathered together.

After the playing of the National Anthem by Mr. Dewey Kalamberg's Grosse Pointe High School Band, the choir, under the direction of Mr. John Finch, sang, appropriately, "Bless This House," and "Glory to Thee Be Given."

Three Give Speeches
Then three senior speakers took turns at the podium. David Law, Sarah Whittingham, and Elizabeth Elliot were elected jointly by their class and faculty members. They spoke on adjusting to three phases of conflict.

In speaking of self-conflict, Dave pointed out that on occasion, "a person can be his own worst enemy," and that everyone should try and build up strength to overcome that enemy.

Sarah cited two Biblical axioms to follow in meeting conflicts with associates, including parents, acquaintances, and business colleagues: the Golden Rule, and the proverb "Love thy neighbor as thyself."

In conclusion, Elizabeth talked of the individual's inevitable conflict with society.

Blood Collection Yields 140 Pints

The Bloodmobile's visit to the Grosse Pointe War Memorial last Friday was a distinct success and the Center's chairman, Mrs. Oscar Marx and Mrs. William Gibson, wish to thank the nearly 200 citizens who braved the snowy evening to contribute their blood.

The Unit was busy constantly from 2 to 8 p.m. and 140 pints of blood were garnered for emergency use.

Woods Woman Knocked Down by Purse Snatcher

A shabbily dressed couple snatched a Woods woman's purse after knocking her down, as she was walking near her home on Tuesday, January 21.

The victim, Mrs. Corinne Hessler of Roslyn road, told Sgt. Henry Marchand and Patrolman Gaylord Golding, who answered the call, that she was walking east on Roslyn, just east of Goethe, about 8:40 p.m., when she noticed a man and woman, both in shabby attire, walking toward her.

Before she knew what was happening, she said, she became aware of shadows behind her, and someone grabbed her purse and knocked her to the ground. She screamed and the couple ran off.

At the Woods police station, she told Det. Sgt. Walter

Supporters Of Library Open Drive

Friends Hoping to Add Many to Present Membership of 852

"You can help your community to have the finest library in the country," said Jay W. Sorge, president of the Friends of the Grosse Pointe Library, as he announced the opening of the twelfth annual Friends membership drive this week.

Shooting for a goal of 1,000 members, Sorge and E. H. Heaton, Chairman of the membership committee, stated that every member of the Grosse Pointe communities is eligible to join.

"The Friends with 852 members form one of the largest groups of its kind in the country," according to Charles A. Parcells, Jr., past president and member of the board of directors. Formed in 1946 when 16 persons met in the home of Mrs. Lloyd G. Hooker, the

Material Needed For Cancer Pads

The volunteer workers who make the cancer pads each Monday at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial are urgently in need of clean white material to carry on their work.

Anyone having old sheets, tablecloths, shirts or the like is urged to press the material and drop it by the Center to aid this worthy endeavor.

Young Hoodlums Nabbed After Beating Up Youth

Elm-shaded streets, kids playing baseball in the neighborhood lot, gossip sessions over the backyard fence—these are the staples of the typical "hometown" scene. And we like to think Grosse Pointe fits the description—indeed, we tend to glamorize same.

Facing reality, we can be as sub-standard as the town next to the railroad tracks! The scene at St. Paul and Fisher road on Friday afternoon, January 17, speaks for itself. A local lad was walking his girl home, in mid-afternoon, from the High School. He was probably carrying her books, and they were no doubt talking about mid-term examinations—what ever, the scene was "typical." But very atypical was the

Central Library Marking Completion of Five Years Of Service to Community

Phenomenal Growth in Membership and Variety of Programs Recorded as Beautiful Building Observes Fifth Anniversary

Last Sunday, January 26, marked the fifth anniversary of the opening of Grosse Pointe's Central Library. In a statement issued in observance of the anniversary, Robert M. Orr, Director of Public Libraries, reports that the long-awaited Central Library, made possible by gifts of local residents, has far exceeded all expectations as to use.

The building was donated in its entirety by D. M. Ferry, Jr., and the furnishing and equipment were in large part given by Murray W. Sales. The wall plaque commemorating these two major gifts reads: "This Central Library was made possible by Dexter M. Ferry, Jr., following an original bequest by Murray W. Sales."

Ground was broken for the new building on September 19, 1951. Participating were Mr. Ferry, Carter Sales, Jr., grandson of Mr. Sales, members of the Board of Education, the Board of Directors of the Friends of the Grosse Pointe Public Library, and the Public Library staff. Over 3,000 people attended the dedication ceremonies on January 25.

Widely Publicized
The Central Library building has been widely written up in library and architectural magazines, and has served as a model for public library buildings all over the United States, as well as many foreign countries. Over the entire five-year period, scarcely a week has gone by without requests from libraries, library trustees, and architects for plans and pictures of the building.

Also there continues to be a steady stream of visitors from this country and abroad to inspect the building which was designed, decorated and furnished by Marcel Breuer, prominent New York architect, who is ranked as one of the seven outstanding architects in America today.

In addition to the gifts of Mr. Ferry and Mr. Sales, a large number of Grosse Pointe organizations and individuals contributed toward making the Central Library ideally equipped and furnished to serve the community. Other notable gifts were furnishing of the Children's Room by the Junior League of Detroit, the Adult Room by the family of the late Charles A. Parcells, the Meeting Room by the Grosse Pointe Rotary Club, and the Friends Room by friends of Kenneth L. Moore.

Car Hits Tree; Youth Injured

Edward C. Ault, 20, of 4683 Charest, Hamtramck, was taken to St. John Hospital on Saturday, January 25, with internal injuries when the car in which he was a passenger, crashed into a tree on Oxford road.

Another passenger, Michael Mackey, 19, of 9715 Oxford, Detroit, was shaken up, but refused an examination or medical treatment.

Woods police said that the driver of the car, Francis A. Vaughn, 21, of 26528 E. Jefferson, St. Clair Shores, was going east on Oxford, when he lost control of the vehicle and it jumped the curb in front of number 1541, and crashed into a tree.

Vaughan told police that he was traveling between 20 and 25 miles an hour, when the automobile started to slide. He said he applied his brakes, but could not stop. The entire front end of the car was demolished.

Police gave Vaughn a ticket for not having his car under control and causing property damage. He is scheduled to appear in court on March 3.

Ann Landers To Address Richard PTA

Famed Columnist Will Be Speaker at Meeting Scheduled for February 6

Ann Landers has been handing out some expert advice to troubled people who need her help for two and a half years and on February 6 she will do it again at Richard School.

At 8 o'clock on that evening in the school gym the noted advice columnist of the Detroit Free Press will speak to the PTA on "Our Children's Biggest Problem—Parents."

Miss Landers, whose column is now syndicated in 166 papers, never wrote a line of newspaper copy until she became a featured writer in 1955 for the Chicago Sun Times syndicate.

5,000 Letters a Month
She receives over 5,000 letters a month, half of them from men, and her mail reveals that life is filled with problems of love or lack of it.

Out of print Miss Landers is Mrs. Jules Lederer, a manufacturer's wife. The Lederers make their home in Chicago with their 18-year-old daughter, Margo.

"Telling people what to do with their lives is serious business," she maintains. "Even though some of my answers may hand you a laugh, beneath that flip quip and the barbed phrase there's always an honest attempt at a reasonable solution. I never have and never will sacrifice sound advice for a gag."

Spoke Here Before
Miss Landers is in frequent demand as a speaker. Last year when she was in town she talked to the Junior League at the Country Club. On her crowded schedule during this visit she will talk to the Exchange Club of Detroit as well as the DAC Beavers, among other groups.

President of the Richard PTA is John Bockstanz with Jack Stephenson, vice-president. This is the second in a series of PTA programs arranged by program chairman B. Dale Davis.

DRIVER ARRESTED

Shores police arrested Michael E. Ocelvary, 61, of 1410 Hawthorne on Friday, January 24, and charged him with driving while under the influence of alcohol. He had been traveling north on Lake Shore road when apprehended. He was placed under a bond of $150 until his appearance in court on February 24.

High School Graduation

emphasizing that it must be recognized and accepted to be dealt with successfully.

Saltzer Presents Class
Charles E. Saltzer, acting principal, then officially presented the graduating class.

Diplomas were awarded by Superintendent of Grosse Pointe Schools, Dr. James W. Bushong, aided by Donald Campbell, assistant principal.

Offers Some Advice
In his remarks preceding the climactic moment, Dr. Bushong cited the exercises as "not the end of anything, but a beginning." He advised graduates that while the next years would bring growing independence from home and parents, it would rarely be an error to seek their counsel and advice, because, he said, "your parents will always love you, as much as they do today."

The superintendent injected a further note of solemnity when he stressed the need of everyone to "keep clean on the inside."

Class honors, awarded by Mr. Saltzer, included Honors Graduates, Citizenship Recognition, a Mothers' Club Honors Award, the Bausch and Lomb Medal, and the Chet Sampson Scholarship, plus additional awards available to either the January or June graduates, to be presented in June.

The Top Students
The 26 Honor Graduates, having attained an overall "B" average or better, were Richard Adams, Sherrill Bell, Richard Cogan, Brenda Brown, Elizabeth Elliot, Lynne Ellman, Edwin Hammer, Judith Hassel, Barbara Henderson, Tony Herrmann, Judith Jay, Rita Kambo, Allan Keir, David Law, Rosaleen Malow, Susan McKee, James Millies, Shije Orhan, Barbara Ploeger, Sandra Prince, Audrey Schmidt, Nelson Smith, Robert Swartz, Ruth Ann Walter, Sarah Whittingham, and Wayne Wilson.

Citizenship honors went to Elizabeth Elliot, Edwin Hammer, David Law, Susan McKee, Pierre St. Amour, Audrey Schmidt, and Sarah Whittingham.

The top five per cent of the January class in scholastic achievement, as recognized by the Mothers' Club, included Sherrill Bell, Elizabeth Elliot, Edwin Hammer, Rosaleen Malow, Nelson Smith, Robert Swartz, and Sarah Whittingham. Each received a leather-bound, engraved dictionary.

Edwin Hammer Honored
For an outstanding record in science and math, and for showing the most promise of future success in the field of science, Edwin Hammer received the Bausch and Lomb medal.

Allan Keir was announced the recipient of the $1,000 Chet Sampson Scholarship.

This class was the only one to be graduated while Mr. Saltzer acted as principal. (Next fall he will take a position as principal of the new Brownell Junior High School). He praised the group as "containing many leaders, cooperative and helpful, and having grown tremendously in every respect."

This class was the last to have started in Grosse Pointe High as 7B's. They had the added distinction of graduating the highest percentage of honor students in the school's 33-year history—20 per cent. Mr. Saltzer acknowledged both these distinctions.

Followed the benediction, read by the Rev. Walter Gelfert, and the final procession of the class, led by President Sarah Whittingham, to the strains of "Pomp and Circumstance."

Put your best foot upward as well as forward if you wish to reach the top of the ladder.

part of 1957, has charged the Park and 46 other communities which it services, a rate of 25 cents per 1,000 cubic feet for water storage, to be used during peak periods, for fire fighting, droughts and so on.

This rate is being passed on to the Park's consumers, he said.

Lane also said that the Detroit Board has made an adjustment to the Park in regards to three master water meters located in strategic areas in the Park, which have resulted in an over charge in the Park's water bill from August 30, 1955 to about June 1957. One meter registered more water pumped and the others less.

Find Faulty Meters
The faulty meters were discovered when Detroit demanded more money for water pumped into the Park, than was being charged to the Park's consumers.

Lane said that Detroit has agreed to credit the Park for about 11 per cent of the bill paid during the period of the overcharge. This would amount to $9,000 on the water bill; and $3,315 for water used in eliminating sewage.

The Park's annual water bill is about $70,000; and for sewage elimination, about $22,000. It was pointed out that the overcharge was paid by the city itself, and not the city's consumers, who had been charged the regular rates.

Driver Injured As Cars Tangle

A driver suffered a slight neck injury when his car was struck by another on Friday, January 24, at Mack and Bournemouth.

Edward Claes, 42, of 444 Colonial court was treated at Cottage Hospital, when he complained his neck hurt.

According to a Farms police report, Claes was driving east on Mack and had stopped for a red light at Bournemouth, when his vehicle was struck in the rear by one driven by Paul S. Smigel, 19, of 1050 Parker, Detroit. The road was slippery and Smigel could not stop, the report disclosed.

Claes was taken to the hospital by police when he told them of the pain.

No tickets were issued when both parties agreed to let their insurance companies settle the matter.

Victor C. Hallberg of the Shores Police Department was accepted as a new member of the Grosse Pointe Exchange Club, during a regular meeting of the organization at the War Memorial Center on Tuesday, January 21.

Library Five Year Old

tributed a number of art objects which have served to greatly enhance the beauty of the building. These include the Mobile by Alexander Calder, the Kandinsky Tapestry, the statue of Icarus by David Hare, the photo-mural by Herbert Matter, art prints by Picasso and Paul Klee, a statue by Morris Brose, and the Mexican ceremonial candelabra.

Great Growth Noted

During the year prior to the opening of the Central Library, all branches of the Public Library had a total of 13,000 registered users, and circulated 200,000 books. During 1957, the Central Library alone had 11,280 registered users who circulated 190,000 books, a record far in excess of anything anticipated in 1953. During the past year, films from the Central Library's collection were seen by more than 100,000 people, and more than 14,000 people attended 454 meetings held at the Central Library.

The Central Library has been the recipient of countless gifts during its five years existence. These have done a great deal to make possible not only better service but also many new services to the community. A complete list of all the gifts would be too long to print but a few of the more outstanding ones deserve mention. The Friends annually present gifts, of which the following are typical: funds for the purchase of special books, now valued at more than $3,500; French, German, Italian, and Spanish language records; a color TV set equipped with Channel 58; the library of framed art prints; sponsorship of the Film Forum; and many more.

League Makes Gifts

The Junior League of Detroit presented the Library with a Children's Record Library, and with a globe and an aquarium. The Grosse Pointe Rotary Club maintains a tool library while the Motion Picture and TV Council and Friends have given a number of new films to the film library. A gift of $1,000 for art books in memory of William Joseph Young, sponsorship of two Great Books Discussion Groups, and literally thousands of books donated by local organizations and individuals are representative of many other presentations. All of these have served to make the Central Library one of the best equipped libraries in America.

During the same period, every effort has been made to expand the Central Library's service in order to adequately meet community needs. These include: an increased book budget to strengthen the book collection, and to eventually attain the goal of 100,000 books for the three Public Libraries; strengthened business services by addition of Moody's Investment Service, The Investment Bulletin, Kiplinger Tax Letter, and the Stock Picture; addition of two daily local papers which makes five daily papers available in addition to the New York Times, Wall Street Journal, and the Christian Science Monitor; monthly Family Film Night Programs which attract overflow audiences monthly; enlargement of the Film Library, and the appointment of a trained Film Counselor to assist in planning film programs for organizations and individuals; a weekly Summer Film Program for children; Pre-School Story Hours, a tremendously popular program for the pre-school children; the collection of Choral music, made possible by the Community Chorus; the bi-monthly TV program on Channel 56 co-sponsored with the Dearborn Public Library; the Community Calendar of Events; organization and expansion of the Young People's Collection; and installation of the Photo-charger to provide more efficient and economical circulation of books.

Pass 800,000 Mark

Over the five-year period, Miss Melitta E. Roemer, Chief of Central Library, reports that over 800,000 books, records, films, tools, and art prints have been circulated; over 130,000 Readers' Advisory and Reference requests have been handled by the professional staff, in addition to more than 15,000 Telephone requests for information; 65 Book Talks have been given to more than 1,500 Grosse Pointers; and more than 2,300 meetings have been held and attended by 139,000 residents.

Special emphasis has been placed on strengthening work with children. Miss Roemer reports that 15,000 children have visited the Central Library in Class groups for Library instruction and Story Hours; 2,300 children have attended story hours for school age children; 1,900 children have attended pre-school story hours; 1,500 children have attended Book Week programs; 6,800 children have attended Summer Film Programs; with a grand total of more than 29,000 children having participated in organized activities.

Mr. Orr sums up his report with the statement, "The record of the Central Library over the past five years conclusively proves the statement made many times since organization of the Public Library in 1929, that Grosse Pointe is an ideal library-use community, and that, once equipped with adequate library facilities, the community would make remarkable use of them. The use of the Central Library, and the tremendous community support which has made it superbly equipped to give a high quality of service, has been a source of inspiration and en-

Dr. Scheyer holds the degree of doctor of political science from the University of Freiburg and the degree of doctor of philosophy from the University of Cologne. He served for years as curator of the museums at Cologne and Breslau.

In 1935 he came to the United States on a research fellowship at the Detroit Institute of Art. Since, he has been associated with Cranbrook, the University of Michigan and most recently Wayne State University. In 1950 and 1951 he lectured in Western Germany under the auspices of the Department of Cultural Relations and Education.

about Wills...

Of all the tragic lessons widows have learned, probably the most important is this—

If the husband does not leave a Will, his widow may receive only a fraction (sometimes as little as one-third) of the estate he really intends for her.

In many cases like this, the widow is left with scarcely any security at all—even though her husband meant to leave her well provided for.

Is this what you want to happen? If not, see a lawyer and make your Will soon. Choose the executor with special care. For the executor must be experienced, financially responsible, and, of course, living, and a legal resident of Michigan when your Will is probated. These qualifications are assured when The Detroit Bank and Trust Company is named executor. And our fee is no more than the law allows an individual executor. For more details, call us any time. No obligation.

Free! Our 16-page booklet "Why a Will?" answers many questions you may have. Call WO 2-5670 for a copy, or send a postcard.

College Basketball Teams To Meet Here Saturday

A college basketball game will be played Saturday, February 1, at 8 p.m. in Grosse Pointe High School with all proceeds going to Grosse Pointe's Little Leaguers.

The entire community is expected to turn out for the game which will match Lawrence Tech with Texas Southern University, coached by Eddie Adams who is the "second winningest coach in the Nation" with an .806 average.

The Houston team, nicknamed the "Tigers", last year was runnerup in the national tournament at Kansas City after winning 33 and losing but two games.

Lawrence Tech's Blue Devils, coached by Grosse Pointe George Verdonck, are rated the underdogs but they are especially anxious to win this one for their coach.

It will be an "everybody pays" admission game Saturday. All of Grosse Pointe Park's 450 Little Leaguers and their parents are expected to join the throng in the 3500 seat capacity high school gym.

All Little League officers and directors are assisting in arrangements. The officers are: E. J. Scallen, 13415 Bishop, president; George Schultz, 1228 Harvard, vice president; Richard Miller, 580 Pemberton, secretary; and Paul M. Short, 808 Pemberton, treasurer.

Members of the board of directors: Vincent Cerutti, 1364 Lakepointe; Douglas F. Jones, 1242 Grayton; Dr. J. W. Kingsley, 1372 Whittier; Russell L. Peebles, 1241 Bedford; and Carl M. Sims, 1379 Notting-ham.

To Speak Here

LT. GOV. PHILIP A. HART will speak at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center at 8 p.m., Thursday, February 6, under the auspices of the Grosse Pointe Democratic Club.

His topic will be "Some Issues for 1958." The public is invited.

Expert Predicts Measles Year

This will be a measles year, Dr. Joseph G. Molner, commissioner of health, predicts. According to past experiences, every other year or year and one-half there is a measles outbreak in Detroit. This is because a new group of children become susceptible to the disease.

There were 1,150 cases of measles and one death reported in 1957 compared with 13,711 cases and 10 deaths in 1956—the last measles year. Of the 10 deaths, five were one-year-olds. Dr. Molner says this indicates the desirability of preventing or modifying measles in these little children.

By modifying measles, the little child will have a light case which will protect him against this disease in the future. Measles can be prevented, but when it is the protection lasts for a much shorter time. This protection or modification the family physician can provide by giving gamma globulin into the muscle. He can obtain the gamma globulin without cost from the Detroit Department of Health for children between three months and three years old. It is available only for these little children who are exposed to measles, but have no symptoms. When symptoms appear, it is too late for the treatment to be helpful. It must be given not later than five to eight days after the little child is exposed.

Gamma globulin is recommended and available, too, for pregnant women and for patients who have certain serious diseases such as rheumatic fever. Measles is reported in Detroit more often than any of the other catching diseases of childhood. It is also one of the most catching and can be given to others even before any symptoms are seen or felt. One of the greatest dangers lies in the complication which may follow. These include ear infection, kidney infection and pneumonia.

When there is measles in your neighborhood, try to keep your children—especially those under five—away from those who have it and from anyone who has symptoms or a cold.

Kerby P.T.A. Plans Display

For the first time since the opening of Kerby School, an audio-visual aids open house is being planned for the third meeting of the Kerby P. T. A. on Monday evening, February 3, from 8 to 9:30 o'clock.

Literally hundreds of audio and visual aids used in the teaching of arithmetic, reading, science, social studies, and other school subjects will be on display in the school gymnasium. Teachers on each grade level have arranged special exhibits and will be on hand to explain and demonstrate the use of these supplementary teaching aids.

Due to the nature of this meeting, there will be no formal business meeting or room visitation. Parents are urged by the faculty to drop in at the exhibit and visit at any time between 8 and 9:30. Refreshments will be served continuously during the open house hours. Mrs. William Briscoe and Mrs. Robert Baxter, social committee co-chairmen, have appointed Mrs. Ray Smith to arrange for table decorations. Mrs. John Dunn, Mrs. Donald Draper, Mrs. Allan Grafflin, Mrs. Lawrence Jacob, Mrs. Arthur Messin, Mrs. John Ramsay, Mrs. George Spaulding, Mrs. Edward Staman, and Mrs. William Westline will serve refreshments during the meeting.

Many a self-made man erred in the selection of his pattern.

Testing, Counseling Stressed In Public Schools

analysis of tests, selects his "tentative" curriculum or three-year plan for the 10th, 11th and 12th grades.
Junior High Counseling
The counseling program in the junior high school has been in effect since 1945. There are at present 3 counselors in each of the Junior High Schools (Pierce and Parcels) with a work load of students for each counselor. Counselors are chosen from among the teaching staff and are required to have a Master's degree with appropriate courses in guidance and counseling activities. Each counselor devotes approximately 3 1/2 time to counseling and 2 1/2 time to teaching. At the 7th and 8th grade levels, student contact with the counselor is "therapeutic," i.e. involving activities concerning absences from school, changes in schedule, difficulties in adjustment, and parent conferences with relation to a student's activities which are very frequently parent-instigated.

In the 9th grade where the three-year curriculum plan is made with pupil, parent and counselor conferring, the junior high counselors all emphasize the practice of keeping the door open for college preparatory subjects for the pupil who is doubtful about going on to college or university, for any reason—and in the case of the bright students who are not planning on it, they plant seeds of interest and try to plan curriculum with the door open again.

Senior High Testing
Testing in the 10th, 11th and 12th grades is mainly of the "achievement" variety and vocational interest. In a student's "cumulative record," in addition to the record of information brought from the elementary and junior high school, there are along with scholastic grades, achievement test scores which measure a student's subject matter knowledge against national average scores. These achievement tests are given each June associated with final exams in subject matter. Interest tests are available to students if requested.

Senior High Counseling
In the Senior High School, the guidance and counseling program is handled by 11 counselors, each handling approximately 225 students. The individual counselor stays then with his students throughout the three years in Senior High, meeting at least once a term and more often if personal problems warrant such meetings. The counselors are assisted in their work by the Dean of Boys and the Dean of Girls, through whom special problems are channeled, and just this last year there was established the post of Director of Guidance (yet unfilled) to supervise the total program.

Student aptitudes do not vary significantly between 9th and 12th grades however vocational "interest" may change considerably; hence the 3 year plan formulated at the 9th grade may undergo considerable revision in the 10th, 11th and 12th grades.
It is the counselor, who on the basis of previous testing results, the choice of University, grades, further achievement tests, helps the individual student evaluate his own ability, his vocational plans and the college available to him: The job of the counselor in relation to the 3 year plan of study is that of seeing that sequences of studies are adequate and that the student is maintaining a grade level 1) to get into his desired college choice and 2) to graduate with a "recommend" from high school.

This is but one phase of the many areas in which counselors try to help the student, others include such matters as extra-curricular, social adjustment and work experience help.
Since 70 to 80 per cent of each graduating class in Grosse Pointe High School go on to college the Dean of Boys and the Dean of Girls have developed a number of plans whose chief aim is that of continually improving preparation of the high school student for higher education.
Personal conferences with college representatives at the high school belong in this category. One of the most interesting is the College Freshman Conferences held on most Michigan College campuses, where the Deans find out what our Grosse Pointe college freshmen are getting out of college, what they would have liked to have had in high

Of the 20 per cent who do not go on to college, many are girls who have elected to take business or commercial subjects. The High School has a strong faculty for this group. 7 teachers in the industrial arts program. Many who prefer to stay with practical rather than academic courses, often go on to a trade school or to the army as a career.

"Parental attitudes" concerning children's education was stressed by counselors interviewed as being of major importance. A number of Junior High counselors indicated that parents' attitudes were somewhat divided between those who felt sorry for the amount of hard work the children had to do, and those who were more spartan in their approach and willing for their children to be pushed to their limit.

Other counselor problems on the Senior High level involved parent difficulty in recognizing a child's limitations as indicated by IQ, achievement and aptitude tests, and again a not prevalent attitude but one which occurs with regularity in the counselor's life, is the student with ability who is not self-motivated to make the most of that ability.

Mr. Lawrence Westerville, one of the Senior High School counselors interviewed, summed up the counseling program. "As the program of counseling is being more and more accepted by the students, and parents and adults in the community, the demands on counseling become greater yet the benefits become even greater to the community at large and to the students and parents in particular."

Hoodlums

their stunned victim battered and bruised about the face and head.

The kids contacted City police immediately and, aided by a description of the car, within minutes the delinquents were picked up at Notre Dame and Mack.

Held at the City station were Ronald Tokish, 17, of 11418 Rossiter, in Detroit and Harold Sheppard, 21, of 3685 Lakepointe. Both were charged with being disorderly persons, under the ordinance of preservation of the public peace, and locked up in the City clink—a fitting birthday gift for Tokish, who was 17 on the 17th. He was later released on a $300 bond, but Sheppard, who couldn't raise the money, was held in custody.

Judge Joseph P. Uvick, in hearing their case last Tuesday night, found both guilty of assault, disturbing the peace, and being a disorderly person. Tokish was fined $100, or given the alternative of spending 30 days in the County Jail. He was also placed on a year's probation—which sentence will be lifted if he goes into the armed services by February. Sheppard was fined $50 but, inasmuch as he couldn't pay, he can be found sitting it out in the County clink for 15 days—commencing January 22.

Ah yes, all that glitters is not necessarily Grosse Pointe.

Friends of Library Launch Drive

—Picture by Fred Runnells

With a goal of 1,000 members, the Friends of the Grosse Pointe Public Library have opened a campaign to enlist many more residents in the ranks of this organization that does so much for the library system. Mapping plans, are, left to right: CHARLES A.

PARCELLS, JR., former president; MISS MELITTA ROEMER, director of the Central Library; JOSEPH B. SULLIVAN, publicity chairman; JAY W. SORGE, president of the Friends; and W. H. HEATON, membership chairman.

Library

Friends under Mrs. Hooker as first president, grew to 147 members at the end of the first year.

Marion K. Kellogg and Parcels followed Mrs. Hooker in the office of president and under their administrations the group grew to near its present size.

Donate 5,000 Volumes

Sorge, who became president in 1956, reported that more than 5,000 volumes of a special nature have been donated to the library by the Friends. "Last year alone, the Friends donated $3,500 for purchases of special books," he said.

"In addition," stated Sorge, "The Friends have purchased, among other things, foreign language records, record players, films, and a color television set adapted for Channel 56."

The Friends also sponsor a speakers program dealing with Friends Film Forum and the subjects of current interest, the Great Books Series, Sorge stated.

Heaton reported that his membership committee would mail out invitations to join the Friends to all new residents of the Pointe, as well as past members of the group. In addition, all current members will be invited to renew their membership at this time.

Outlines the Aims

Heaton outlined aims of the Friends to which new members could contribute as, support of the library system, a broader understanding of what the library offers, and a wider use of the library by more people. "A membership in the Friends proves your belief in a vital, modern library system and its widest possible use," Heaton stated.

Aiding Heaton as members of his committee are Miss Melitta E. Roemer, a member of the board of directors, Forbes B. Henderson, Robert B. Hunter, Paul F. Jerome and Howard T. Snyder.

Membership fees are: Annual membership $3.00; Family, $5.00; Contributing, $10.00 Sustaining, $25.00; patron, $100.00 Life, $1,000; and a junior or student membership, $1.00.

Lenten Bible Class Offered

A Lenten Bible Study Class, entitled "Meet Doctor Luke," will be held at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, in the Men's Lounge, on six Tuesdays, 1:30-2:30 p.m. on February 4, 18, and 25, and March 4, 18, and 25.

The course, sponsored by the Women's Association, is under the leadership of Mrs. Frank Fitt. All women of the church and the parish are cordially invited to attend, and may register now by calling the church office TU 5-3773.

Preceding the meetings, luncheon will be served at 12:30 p.m.

Fight 'Fizzles' at Start In Park Parking Row

Approximately 90 Nottingham residents jammed the Park council chambers on Monday, January 27, prepared to do battle against a proposed parking lot on their street. The fight "fizzled" before it started.

The verbal blows failed to materialize when a principal, the Adam-Simms Ford Agency, unexpectedly withdrew its application for a permit to construct an off-street parking lot adjacent to its building on Nottingham.

Residents of the street protested the proposed construction because the street, in the Leopold Freud Subdivision, is residence zoned.

At a previous meeting, the council heard both sides of the matter, and set the Monday date for another hearing after giving the residents and the agency an opportunity to settle their differences.

The agency sought to construct the lot for parking of new cars and for those of its customers.

The residents stormed in protest, claiming it would be a detriment to the neighborhood, and that it would decrease the value of their property.

Mayor Kenneth Cunningham said that he had made a personal survey of the location, and thought it was ideally suited for off-street parking, which is badly needed by the city. He said he found the property cleaner than some of the back yards of homes in the city.

For some time, now, the agency has petitioned for rezoning of two lots it owns on the street, from residential to business, so it could go ahead with its parking lot program.

Apparently, opposition of the residents was too strong, and the agency gave up the matter.

Superintendent Of P. O. Retires

Oscar Sattelmeyer, Superintendent of the Kensington post office, retired the first of the year after 37 years of service with the department.

Mr. Sattelmeyer is a past president of the East Warren Businessmen's Association, and a member of Peace Church and the Peace School PTA. He served as secretary-treasurer of the Eastside Lion's Club, and also chaired many committees during the past years.

He and his wife, Esther, live at 171 Ridgmont road. They have a daughter, Mrs. Winston Likert, and two sons, Lt. JG Glenn Sattelmeyer, and Lt. Gordon Sattelmeyer. Mr. and Mrs. Sattelmeyer plan to devote much of their future time to travel.

To Hold Class In Semantics

Have you been taken in by a confidence game? By misreading advertising? How do you deal with the person who "knows it all," or the fellow with a closed mind? Do misunderstandings and mistakes crop up frequently in your business organization? Do you frequently find yourself involved in pointless arguments?

General Semantics—a study of the effects of language on human behavior—sheds helpful light on these and many other similar problems. An introductory course in this important subject will be given on 10 consecutive Tuesday evenings beginning February 11 at 7:30 p.m. by the Department of Community Services of the Grosse Pointe Public Schools.

Instructor for this course will be Reverend William P. Hammond, who studied under the late Alfred Korzybski, pioneer researcher in this field. Evidence of the growing interest in General Semantics is the fact that the Bell Telephone Company recently instituted study courses in the subject for its supervisory personnel.

For class reservations call the Department of Community Services at TU 5-3808 or TU 5-0271.

Nelson Frolund Sharpens a Lot of 'Em

When spring rolls around the lawnmower sharpening department at Nelson Frolund's Garden Supply shop really becomes a busy place. The above photo was taken just before the grass turned green last spring. Mr. Frolund's advice to both hand and power mowers owners is to get your mower in early if it needs sharpening or repairs. It's the sure way to avoid the big spring tie-up. His shop is at 19815 Mack Ave. ... in the Woods.

Library Lists Available Films

The following 16 mm sound films will be available from the Grosse Pointe Public Library, February 3 to 28. Patrons are invited to reserve the films for showing to organizations, clubs, church groups, and home audiences. Further information concerning these and other films which will be available in succeeding months may be obtained by calling the Film Counselor, Central Library, TUxedo 4-2200.

BRONCO BUSTERS (10 minutes, color) With a background of western music and song, this film shows the grace and speed of the unbroken herds, the dust and clamor of the corral, and the thrill of the cowboy's red-letter event—the Calgary Stampede. We watch the excitement of roping, bronco-busting, bulldozing a steer and, finally, the chuck-wagon race.

FUR COUNTRY (22 minutes, color) The historic post of Moose Factory on James Bay is still a center of Canada's fur trade. George, an Indian trapper, goes out from the post to visit his trap lines. Bivouacking in the open, in bitter cold, he traps mink and beaver, skillfully skinning the animals and drying the pelts. Back at the post, he sells his furs to the trader. The money will give George's family a time to remember at Christmas.

LAND OF THE LONG DAY (38 minutes, color). During the short Arctic summer on Baffin Island, the native Eskimo enjoys four months of continuous daylight. But it is no time for relaxation, for provision must be made for the long, cold winter ahead. In this film, Idlout, Eskimo hunter, tells of his life in this northern land. We watch as he stalks the seal so vital to his existence, and as he and other hunters set out in kayaks to harpoon the white whale and the narwhal. At camp we meet his wife, children, and aged parents, each of whom has work to do in the unceasing struggle for survival in this harsh land where the night is one hundred days.

YOU'LL TAKE THE HIGHROAD (14 minutes, color) An invitation to the majestic wilderness of the Canadian Rockies. The film shows the spectacular route of the Banff-Jasper Highway which unites two of the country's finest playgrounds. From Jasper, a jewel set in the famous Athabasca Valley, the high road runs through to Banff National Park. Points of interest shown include "The Valley of the Crooked Trees," the panorama of the Athabasca Valley, the Snow Dome, and the Athabasca glacier.

Family Film Night Feb. 7

February's Family Film Night is to be presented Friday night, February 7, at the Grosse Pointe Public Library. Scheduled for 7:30 in the Meeting Room on the second floor of the Central Library at Kercheval and Fisher, the program will offer an hour of films which the entire family can enjoy together. The Central Library is open both before and after the program to enable patrons to exchange books and to browse through the collection.

First on the program will be COLOUR IN CLAY, a 10-minute color film. This fascinating story of Wedgwood pottery shows how the English countryside is used as a source of inspiration for the potter's design. The processes of turning and casting, followed by firing and glazing, are pictured, and the steps in decorating dishes are shown in some detail. Exhibits of pottery from the best-known English potters are included.

The second film on the program, LAND OF THE LONG DAY, 38 minutes, in color, presents the life of an Eskimo family throughout the different Arctic seasons. The film shows the family preparing to make the spring move from the winter home to drier ground, describing the activities of all members of the group. It then pictures the Eskimo hunting seal and walrus for food and clothing, and shows the return of winter.

In addition to these two films, a color cartoon will be shown. Patrons of the Library, both regular members of the Family Film Night audience and newcomers, are invited to come to the Central Library in family groups. Neither tickets nor reservations are required.

To Give Talk On Obscenity

Nicholas J. Wagener, assistant prosecuting attorney for Wayne County, will address the Grosse Pointe Council of Better Literature for Youth, on "Current Problems in Obscenity Law," at 8 p.m. on Monday, February 3.

Mr. Wagener, an outstanding lawyer and authority on the problems of combating obscene literature, will discuss the laws available and those that are needed to protect the public. A question and answer period will follow the talk.

There is no admission charge and the public is invited to attend, and urged to participate in the discussion. The council meets regularly at the Grosse Pointe Central Library at Kercheval and Fisher avenues.

Mrs. Jacob Wenzel, Council president stated, "Parents, educators, and those concerned with the welfare of our young people will be especially interested in Mr. Wagener's talk. The Assistant Prosecutor has an impressive educational and professional legal background, and has given much time and research to the problems arising from the great influx of pornographic and obscene material now flooding the newsstands."

"Our own Grosse Pointe communities are facing this problem as are the other major suburbs of Detroit. We of the council hope to welcome a large audience of parents and citizens who are anxious to solve this ever increasing community problem."

What Goes On Here?

We have fought the Battle of Little Rock via radio, television and the press, with blood pressure and indignation rising even though some of the stiffer encounters were softened by coffee and doughnuts, but we had no idea of the horrendous seriousness of this segregation-desegregation muddle until this past week. Then the Calendar arrived.

The Calendar is the official one issued by the House of Representatives, U. S. It is thus embellished underneath an impressive picture of the Capitol Building in Washington, and at the bottom of each page it says "United States Government." The picture is also rubber stamped "From Your Congressman, Louis C. Rabaut, 14th District Michigan." All of which seems to make it pretty official.

Now as everyone knows, practically every calendar has all holidays designated in red numerals, or another contrasting color, and this is the sort of eye-catcher that appeals to a mentality such as ours. In giving the Calendar a quick once-over we noticed that January has but one holiday, which is naturally New Year's Day. Then we flipped the page.

Much to our amazement, February also has but one official holiday, according to the United States Government and the House of Representatives. There it was, marked as plain as all get-out in bright red... 22, which happens to fall on a Saturday this year. George Washington has been allowed to take over the holiday field in February all by himself.

Whatever has happened to Poor Old Abe Lincoln? Unless memory has failed us completely, he was born on February 12. And history tells us he was quite a President too. As long as we can remember he always got equal billing with the Father of Our Country.

We don't know who makes the decisions or does the proof reading in a case like this. Could it be that the balance of power held by the Democrats has gone to their heads that they decided to demote the first Republican head of state? Or has the Southern bloc attained such prominence that it has been moved to throw its weight around by taking a slap at the great leader who refused to let the nation be torn asunder?

This is the sort of thing that could bring out the grape and canister again. It's a little late to do anything about it now, but we can hope that come next year the Great Emancipator will once more be given sufficient recognition to have his birthday reinstated as a national holiday.

This Fight Is for the Birds

Last August we printed some pictures of thousands of martins roosting on electric wires and trees in the Windmill Pointe area. Now the man who gave us the tip for the photographs has come up with a suggestion that seems to make a lot of sense.

Harold E. Siebert of Grand Marais boulevard believes that if the residents will put a bit of their Do-It-Yourself skills to work and construct a flock of martin houses this winter, their efforts will be rewarded by making the Pointe practically insect-free next summer and in years to come.

Mr. Siebert, who is an expert on martins, says that these birds feed entirely on insects. They will average about 700 insects per day per bird. He stated that after he had put a house in his yard and numbers of the birds had been attracted, his property was completely cleared of mosquitoes and other insects that had been a considerable pest in past years.

It is also claimed that the martins wage a relentless war on the Dutch elm beetles that have taken such a toll on our fine trees. Mr. Siebert thinks that if there was one martin house in every block in the Pointe the Dutch elm disease threat could be abolished.

This is an ideal place for martins, the expert says. The open water of the lake attracts them, as they drink flying at high speed. There are plenty of trees and shrubs to provide them cover and they take naturally to the man-made homes provided for them.

Mr. Siebert urges that directions for making the houses be followed implicitly. He recommends that those attempting this project obtain the United States Department of the Interior Conservation Bulletin Number 14. Detailed instructions and drawings are contained in this pamphlet, which may be obtained for 15 cents from the U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D. C.

To substantiate his claim that the Dutch elm fight might be one for the birds, Mr. Siebert has noted that martins constantly fly over the tops of the elms during the spring and summer and dive to the topmost branches to catch flying insects. This is the portion of the tree that is least likely to be helped by spraying and Mr. Siebert is convinced the birds are consuming great numbers of the disease carriers.

It is estimated that a pair of martins feeding their family will destroy 400,000 insects in a season, all of them before they have a chance to lay their eggs in hidden places so they can hatch and the larvae do their destructive work in our gardens and trees.

Popular Postman Serves 31 Years

After 31 years of faithful deliveries, through sunshine and sleet, Everett H. Bradley, Grosse Pointe postman will hang up his mail bag on Friday and look forward to a well-deserved rest.

Mr. Bradley, whose route is along Grosse Pointe boulevard, from Beverly road to Newberry road, has no special plans for the immediate future. He's content to stay close to his home, in Ashland road, and putter with his various hobbies, favorite of which are his leathercraft labors. It almost goes without saying that much of his now-free time will be devoted to his family of two daughters, and six wonderful grandchildren.

Farms residents, in particular, and all of us who have known Mr. Bradley during his 18 years of tireless service in Grosse Pointe wish him well, for a long and happy future.

'Mike Fright Vanishes In Great One's Presence

By Joan W. Hall
Women's World Commentator
Station WDET-FM

Editor's Note: Joan Hall is Mrs. George T. Hall, of Washington road, former president of the Junior League of Detroit, and also former president of the Grosse Pointe Community Theatre.

I have just bearded Mike Wallace in his lair. What's more I have emerged still smiling, unscathed and unaffected. Unaffected, that is, except for a noticeably heightened interest in life; in people, in ideas, in the Things That Matter.

In town overnight for his interview with Walter Reuther, Wallace had kindly okayed my request for a taped interview with him for Women's World, my weekly radio show (WDET-FM, Tuesdays at 3:45, end of commercial).

Up to this point in my brief radio career, I had remained reasonably immune to the traditional butterflies of the radio trade, but right now Mike Fright set in, but good. Only this time Mike Fright had a capital M! What was he like, the enfant terrible of the air waves? I had read he was an "icy infant of 40 (wrong, he's 39), with the face of a tartar and the gentleness of a juvenile delinquent."

Called Many Things
I had heard him accused of "running an inquisition," of being sadistic, ruthless, humorless. I had also heard him called the "first mature thing that has happened to TV in years." Which was he, man or monster? I trembled in my waterlogged boots as I rounded the corridor to room 801.

I was early. He had not only not had breakfast, he had not even had that vital First Cup of Coffee... what would this one be like? I sat down fast. And suddenly there he was, drawing on a sport coat over his famous black sweater and dropping casually into a chair.

I got a quick impression of a square-cut, highly intelligent face before he turned his eyes on me, and from then on I never noticed the rest of him! He could have been Quasimodo for all I cared! All the intensity, vitality and fire for which Mike Wallace is famous came beaming at me through those penetrating eyes, and I almost forgot I had another Mike to worry about.

Uses Experienced Eye
But with a man like this, one gets right to business. So I did. As the engineer set up the recorder, I briefed the Great Man on the kind of show we were doing. I told him I had a weekly women's radio program in which I was humbly striving toward the same goal as he: the mental stimulation of new ideas and interesting people.

I offered him a look at the 18-20 questions I had in mind. He cast a quick, practiced glance down the page and handed it back, nodding assent. I had the disturbing impression that he probably could have recited back the whole list word for word, had he been asked. "Okay," said he, "Let's go." So he came over to join me on the sofa, the recorder was turned on and there I was alone with two Mike's. After watching the wavering passes I was making with one Mike, the other took over the instrument with a firm paw, and half the battle was won.

But after the first question, when he gave a heartwarming chuckle, (who said that man is humorless—I'll tear him apart!) and loosed forth with those flowing, seductive tones, all was right with the world. I questioned him on women in general, what he thought of them, why he hadn't more in his program ("They're afraid of the close-up!"), and what, to his mind, made a woman interesting. And I asked about his program and what he was trying to accomplish.

His answers were thoughtful, clear and beautifully phrased. As on his own show, he shuns the quick meaningless answer and goes promptly to the heart of the matter. The qualities he admires in women are the same as in men: simplicity, honesty, and lack of sham. He decries the artificial shells that so many women build up and questions how many women really know themselves and like themselves.

Must Know One's Self
For to Mike Wallace, this matter of knowing oneself is the hub of mature living. This is what he is aiming for in his program; it is to this end that he evolved his controversial method of "total interview." He wants to explore differing concepts and attitudes. He is after a "sensible exposure of ideas in order to clarify our own thinking and make us better able to understand who we are."

To his critics who, because of his probing questions, brand him as sadist and sensationalist, he answers that controversy is bound to shed light as well as heat and his plea is that his program will be listened to in that frame of mind. At this point I would have listened to him in any frame of mind. But the 15 minutes was over. I kicked myself for not having a half hour show! I thanked him by handing him a present, fancily wrapped up in an old paper bag. "For purposes of lubrication," I told him. He looked perplexed. I assured him I wasn't bribing him and he slowly pulled out a bottle of clam juice.

Pleased With Gift
He laughed heartily and asked where I had found that out. (In my Wallace "research" I had read that he had a passion for clam juice). Why he likes it I never found out because just then a waiter came in with a large bowl of fresh fruit—breakfast. I wished I had seen the fruit earlier, it might have relieved my mind. After all I had begun to think that perhaps he dined on human flesh!

Converted Skeptic
From now on I will treat all articles with skepticism. After all I read that Mike Wallace displays the compassion and understanding for human frailty that an infant expresses with a hammer toward a watch! Well, you can't prove it by me. As far as I'm concerned, this little old watch is not only still ticking—it's positively purring.

And, P.S. If you want to hear everything he thinks about women (and he says a mouthful) tune in WDET, 101.9 on your FM tuner next Tuesday, February 4, at 3:45.

What Goes On at Your Library

By Jean Taylor

This time of year, the "what-can-I-do-now" blues reach epidemic proportions among the small fry. If you have exhausted all your old standbys in the way of play activities, and your ingenuity as well as your patience is wearing thin, you'll find some helpful suggestions in a variety of books available at your library.

June Johnson, the mother of two sons, speaks from practical experience in her book, Home Play for the Preschool Child. Parents who wish guidance in directing their young children's play and craft activities, will find here dozens of good ideas. What to expect from three-, four-, and five-year-olds is demonstrated by examples of the children's own paintings, drawings, cut paper designs and clay figures. The book also tells how to utilize household odds and ends and how to plan family and group activities.

Slightly more informal than the preceding book is another recent title, If You Live with Little Children by Carolyn Kauffman and Patricia Farrell. Written by two mothers, this practical handbook gives hints for smoothing daily routines and includes suggestions for indoor and outdoor activities featuring home-made play equipment and simple games.

Also for parents of very young children, there is Lillian and Godfrey Frankel's book, What to Do with Your Preschooler. This suggests enjoyable activities for children two to five years.

For older boys and girls there are game books too numerous to mention, and in The Family Fun Book and The Family Pleasure Chest, Helen Eisenberg gives games and other amusements which can be enjoyed by the family as a group.

The child who is an invalid has special need for quiet activities which will stimulate his imagination and help overcome boredom. How to Help

When Children Won't Eat

By FRED M. KOPP, R. PH.

Few doctors advocate forcing a child to eat. Still there are minimum requirements of certain foods that must be consumed daily if the child is to grow and be healthy.

When your children bypass all your schemes to get those necessary vitamins into their systems daily, the best thing to do is consult your doctor. There are many drug forms of food chemicals which will adequately make up the deficiency.

If your doctor prescribes one or more it will be to your advantage to secure them from a quality pharmacist.

Commodore's Ball Draws 450 to GPYC

Commodore Charles L. Jacobson and Mrs. Jacobson were honored in royal fashion at Grosse Pointe Yacht Club's brilliant Commodore's Ball Saturday night. More than 450 members and guests gathered at the function which formally initiated Commodore Jacobson's term as the club's top officer for 1958.

The clubhouse was a glamorous scene, what with the dress-blues of GPYC's present and past commodores and of the commodores representing other boat and yacht clubs of the area, as well as other masculine attire of formal black and white, and the distaff side's beautiful ballgowns. Everywhere were flowers and decorations in GPYC's colors of red, white and blue.

Commodore and Mrs. Jacobson headed the receiving line of officers and directors and their respective wives in the clubhouse rotunda and later led the grand march.

Mrs. Jacobson's stunning ballgown, floor-length with a slight train, was a Jean Desses original of lustrous satin in a bright navy shade. A deep applique of matching chiffon in curved folds trimmed the skirt's sheath front, and a pleated chiffon panel centered the circular back. The strapless satin bodice was elegant in its simplicity.

The whole evening was kaleidoscopic, shifting from the 7:30 o'clock cocktail fete in the main dining room to dinner and dancing in the ballroom, from fun to impressive ceremony, and again to entertainment and fun. Music throughout was by the Warner Ruhl and Arthur Quatro orchestras.

The grand march proceeded from the rotunda up the picturesque stairway and through the ballroom and Venetian Room. Next in line to the Jacobsons were Vice Commodore Robert F. Weber and Mrs. Weber (she was in short-length pink peau de soie with satin trim) and Rear Commodore William A. Ternes and Mrs. Ternes, the latter in floor-touching ballgown combining peacock blue, chartreuse and white satin.

A pretty ceremony was the formal introduction of officers and their wives immediately after the march. As each couple came forward, the special ushers, George A. Gardella, Jr. and Charles J. Gardella, escorted them to the huge E-shaped table where present and past commodores, directors, and their respective wives were seated.

The flag ceremony followed dinner. Commodore Jacobson received his official burgee and pin from Immediate Past Commodore Stark Hickey, then presented Commodore Hickey with a bound volume of the club's magazines of the past year. Presentation of burgees to other club and fleet officers followed.

Commodore and Mrs. Jacobson entertained a large group at the ball, among them the James B. Wagstaffs, Mr. and Mrs. J. King Harness, the Thornton Waterfalls, Tom H. Bartels, Frank Murphys, William J. Athansons, Alfred Glancys, Alexander Blackwoods, Fred G. Richardsons, William J. Ulrichs, Frank E. Kenneys, John J. Gormans, Lloyd Diehls, Martin Sheas, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Brooks, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin H. Bower, Dr. and Mrs. Wayne Hollinger, Richard Haynes, Mrs. Ruth Fox, Dr. William Lange, and the Elmer Judds of Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Forrest R. Old (she was in beige and brown chiffon), the Carl Berndts, James Quellos and James Motschalls attended together. With the T. A. Jacobs were the John K. Buschs and Dr. and Mrs. Gordon Liesemer.

Mrs. John J. Wetzel, in honey-beige peau de soie ballgown, pearl-embroidered at the neckline, and Mr. Wetzel were in a group with the Lawrence A. Reifs, Dr. and Mrs. Clifford Lorange, the Frank A. Forsters, George Vandermarks (she was in satin of a soft green shade), the William H. McGraws, Cornelius Hamels, William F. Rossiers, and William Slaters.

With the James A. Zinns were the Paul Conrads, George T. Halls, Mr. and Mrs. John Bockstanz, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Devereaux of Birmingham. Mr. and Mrs. Homer Wells entertained the Edson Burtons and Carter Chamberlains of Bloomfield Hills, and the George Jays.

The John D. Kennellys' guests were the LeRoy Paynes, V. R. Donnellys, Col and Mrs. Edward D. Mohlere, Mrs. Florence Sisman, Jack Schafer, Maj. and Mrs. K. R. Johnson, the Robert Grows, Herbert Vogels and Mayor and Mrs. Louis C. Miriani.

Coffee Plant Club to Visit

June 1-7 Detroit will be the scene of the 67th Annual Convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs. And since some 4,000 delegates from all parts of the U.S. and about 25 foreign countries are expected to attend, leading Michigan clubwomen figure that now might be a good time to "bone up" on the recommended way to brew coffee for groups large and small.

With this idea in mind, some of the women who will play key roles in Michigan's plans for the coming convention will visit a coffee plant in Detroit on February 4 for the express purpose of watching a series of coffee-brewing demonstrations by Warren Schmidt, of the Coffee Brewing Institute.

Hostesses for the informal gathering will be Mrs. Aaron Wilcox, of Grosse Pointe, president of the Detroit Review Club, and Mrs. Lewis King, of Indian Village, also of the Review Club. There is one of the oldest women's clubs in the state. Mrs. Wilcox will serve as state publicity chairman for the June convention.

Among the prominent clubwomen who will take part in the afternoon's activities is Mrs. John Ritsema, of Sebewaing, Mich., president of the Michigan State Federation of Women's Clubs, an organization representing upwards of 30,000 clubwomen in Michigan.

Others in attendance will be: Mrs. R. B. Fehr, of Royal Oak, president of the Michigan Federation's Southeastern District; Mrs. Fernand W. Miller, of Rosedale Park, president of the Detroit Federation of Women's Clubs; Mrs. Malcolm D. MacQueen, of Indian Village, first vice president of the Michigan Federation; Mrs. Henry B. Ihnken, of Highland Park, state chairman for the General Federation's convention; Mrs. Edith Noth, of Highland Park, international hostess for the General Federation; and Mrs. John Upthegrove, Jr., of Port Austin, Michigan junior director of the General Federation.

Prior to visiting the coffee plant, the clubwomen will attend an informal luncheon at the Women's City Club, Mrs. Ritsema and Mrs. Ihnken are scheduled to speak briefly on plans for the coming convention.

Detroit Athletic Club's bowlers have plans completed for their big annual Ladies' Party, a gala formal "do" to take place this coming Saturday, February 1, at the downtown clubhouse.

Countless Grosse Pointe members, along with DAC kiegler of all the metropolitan area, will attend, according to Peter J. Koenig, of Sheldon Road, bowling chairman.

Grosse Pointers Clyde M. Adams and Harry W. Brown, committee members, are aiding Chairman Koenig on the party details.

The party will run the gamut of a cocktail hour with strollers' music; dinner, dancing, a floor show, and 11 o'clock bowling.

Glamorous feature will be entertainment by "The Chantey Men," a singing group of 22 young men stationed at Great Lakes Naval Training Station, whose impressive appearance on stage is enhanced by their white navy uniforms.

Distinguished guests will be Admiral E. E. Forrestal, in charge of the ninth Naval District, and Mrs. Forrestal, and Capt. A. C. Burrows, USN, and Mrs. Burrows, who have accepted the bowlers' invitation to attend.

Party locale will be the DAC's entire second floor. Dinner at 7:15 p.m. will be at league tables in the main dining and Georgian rooms—between the two is the Ponchartrain room where dancing will take place.

The 11 o'clock kegling for the ladies is a real highspot—it's only at this annual party that the distaff side ever is granted the privilege of bowling on the DAC alleys.

Other standout features are the Jonah Jones orchestra to play for dancing, the singing and piano-playing floor show act by "Somethin' Smith and the Red Heads," and gift favors for the feminine contingent.

That's the DAC's big party ahead—one just past was the annual "Fathers' and Sons' party last Saturday, when 700 dads and lads enjoyed swimming events and exhibitions in the DAC natatorium, lunched, and were entertained by Singers Florence Henderson and Bill Hayes, and by Wes Harrison's "Mr. Sound Effects."

A few of the throng from Grosse Pointe were J. Vernor Davis with sons Jim and Howard; R. Earle Milligan with his son and grandson, Robert E. Jr., and Robert E. III; Reece B. Oberteuffer and grandsons, George and Jeff McDonnell; Edwin R. Stroh with Peter and Bill.

More were Dr. James Coyle, Jim and Tom, with Frank D. Wilberding, Frank, Jr., and Tom; James P. Cleary with Jim and Bob; Charles B. Gorey, Jr., and Chick; W. C. Flaherty and his four sons, William E. Paul, Michael and Jim; Ray M. Whyte and Tom; Thomas K. Fisher and Tom, Jr.; J. Earl Fraser and Jim; Thomas C. Fox and Bruce.

League Marking Anniversary

On January 10 the Michigan League for Crippled Children, Inc., held their annual meeting to elect new officers and fill eight vacancies of a 24 women board of directors.

Officers serve for a two year period and directors hold office for three years. Mrs. Norman Swayne, retiring president, presided.

Following luncheon and the annual reports of the various working committees the general membership elected the following to serve on the Board of Directors through 1960: Mrs. John Berendes, Mrs. Marvin R. Boutin, Mrs. Warren Dillaway, Mrs. James Gilmour, Mrs. Charles Johnston, Mrs. Charles A. Mapplebeck, Mrs. Ralph Rosselle and Mrs. Harry C. Smith.

The board then elected the following new officers for two year terms: Mrs. Ralph Harter, president; Mrs. Charles Brooks, 1st vice-president; Mrs. James Gilmour, 2nd vice-president; Mrs. Lanneau R. Bell, 3rd vice-president.

Incumbents re-elected to two year terms are: Miss Esther Witzke, recording secretary; Miss Jane M. Simpson, corresponding secretary; Mrs. George L. Brown, financial secretary; and Mrs. Edward C. Hume, Sr., treasurer.

A special board of directors meeting was called by Mrs. Harter on Friday, January 24, at the Women's City Club to formulate plans for the coming camp season. The M.L.C.C. owns and operates the Grace Bentley Camp for crippled and cardiac children.

This Thursday the League will celebrate its 35th Anniversary. Since January 30, 1923 when the M.L.C.C. was incorporated by seven dedicated women devoted to the welfare of crippled children, the League has grown to an organization of six hundred members who continue to carry on the work started by these outstanding pioneers.

Grace Bentley Camp is located at 8250 Lake Shore road, Jeddo, Michigan, a few miles from Port Huron. The camp season covers eight weeks, the first six weeks devoted to orthopedic children and the last two weeks to cardiac children. It is staffed with director, dietitian, registered nurse and counselors as well as kitchen and maintenance employees.

It accommodates five hundred children, each child enjoying a two week period. Campers are housed in clean attractive cabins with bathroom facilities.

A pleasant dining room serves wholesome, well balanced meals and there are many calls for "seconds" and even "thirds." The infirmary is fully equipped for any emergency.

Children enjoy the three-and-one-half acres of beautiful lawns and play areas, and the sandy beach and clear water of Lake Huron. A recreation hall, lounge, library, and hobby shop add to the enjoyment of all.

Funds are raised to operate and maintain Grace Bentley Camp through the hard work of the members as well as contributions from service clubs, lodges, and social clubs.

Blue Devil Natators Sink Highland Park Polar Bears

Swimming without the services of its co-captain Les "Clutch" Cutler, sidelined with swollen glands, the Grosse Pointe Blue Devils whipped a surprisingly strong Highland Park swimming team 57-39 in the Devils' home pool.

Highland Park proved to have some first class front line swimmers as they captured five of the eight individual events but were unable to cope with the excellent depth of the Blue Devil squad which repeatedly placed second and third in every event that was won by the Parkers.

Only in the opening event did the Parkers enjoy the lead. That came when Grant Barnes won the 40-yard freestyle by a whisker over Mike Kroeyr and John Nicholson, who placed, 2-3.

Slam 100 Yd. Butterfly
Jim Carne and Heath Boyer slammed the 100-yard butterfly event to give the Devils a 12-6 lead which they never relinquished.

Tom Pitton, a 10th grader with great potential, captured the 200 yard free style over Jerry Mehl and Mark Gregory and Phil Bradford came right back to give the Parkers another first in the 100 yard backstroke over Bob Hill and Steve Vandervoort to pull within 4 points (20-16) of a tie. Threatened, the Devils went to work seriously and from here on in it was all Grosse Pointe.

Co-captain Chuck Babcock tumbled Grant Barnes in a thrilling 200 yard free style duel and won by two seconds. Dick Adams, swimming his last meet, placed third. Dick Kay slammed the 100 yard breast stroke event before Shawn McCormick gave the Parkers their fourth first of the meet when he won the diving event by two and four tenths points over Pat Amneus, who is still looking for his first first place of the season. Coach Paul Wheeler kept his ace diver in street clothes to

Lakers Continue Climb In State Court Ratings

Coach Eddie Lauer's St. Paul Lakers took time out from their chores of defending their East Side Second Division Parochial crown to take on powerful, undefeated Harper Woods Tuesday, January 21. The Lakers turned in a workmanlike job on last year's State class B finalists and chalked up an impressive 69-54 victory on Harper's home court.

The win moved the Lakers up to second place in the state class C ratings.

Ayrault, Lauer Star
Paced by Dave Ayrault's 20, Joe Lauer's 19, Tom Kolojeski's 14 and Gary Anderson's 12, the Lakers raced to a slim 19-18 first quarter lead, and a 33-27 margin at halftime. Then the game broke wide open as the Lakers took command and held a 53-42 lead going into the last quarter.

Harper Woods was very much in the game during the first two periods, but once behind appeared to come apart at the seams despite the heroic efforts of Bill McHale, who scored 29 points for individual honors.

Tom Parker, Dave Ayrault and Gary Anderson gave the Lakers the edge as they controlled both backboards. Coach Is Happy Particularly pleased to Coach Lauer is the fact Ayrault, Kolojeski and Lauer are all Juniors and will be available as a nucleus for next year's team. They were out-standing as they have been all this season.

The Lakers have only three opponents remaining on their league schedule. They met St. Elizabeth on Tuesday, January 26, (results of this game came after press time) and will tackle St. Rose on Friday, February 7.

Could Capture Crown
Two victories are necessary in the final three games to clinch a tie for the title providing second place St. Thomas goes unbeaten in its remaining games. A three-game sweep would give the Lakers the crown for the second consecutive year.

This is what the Lakers are shooting for as the Parochial division winners qualify for the Catholic League City Championship tournament, which will be played at the U. of D. Memorial Building, February 16 through 23. The winner of this tournament will qualify for the Metropolitan City Championship, which will be held at the same site on February 28.

Wigle Captures Pin League Lead

Bruce Wigle moved into first place in the Grosse Pointe Business Men's Bowling League, as they whipped the Goebel Keglers, former leaders, for all four points. Wally Buehler led the way for the winners as he rolled the night high single game of 234 in a 599 series. Gaines King was high for the losers with 514.

Even though Jack Baker of G.P. Recreation had the night high series of 617, Woods made a sweep of this match to move into a tie for 6th place. Norm Boorman with 546 led the winners to a record team series of 2718.

Another four point winner was Revere over Larry's. Hap Aalto rolled 591 for Revere and a tie for 5th place. Jim DeSmedt had 506 for Larry's. Belding over Adam Simms and Cox and Baker over Cramer took a three and one margin respectively. A. G. Patraci shot 507 for Belding and Jack Leithausen had 565 for Cramer.

Church Basketball League Completes Tryout Period

By Judy Renke

The evaluating of teams in the Grosse Pointe Church Basketball League was to take place January 29 at a meeting of all coaches and officials. The purpose of the meeting is to reassign various teams to the divisions which they achieved during the preliminaries.

The last two weeks of games were primarily tryouts to see if the teams could qualify with their respective division. However, the games will not count in deciding the championship.

After the shuffling of teams Wednesday, the coaches and officials will decide on a permanent scheduling of divisions and games to be upheld the rest of the season.

The games played last Saturday will definitely aid in determining the status of the teams.

With St. Paul gaining an edge in the first quarter, the Grosse Pointe Congregational team fought back to take the lead at half time. The boys came on even stronger in the third quarter and went on to win 26 to 19.

Stanley was top man on his team with 13 points while Wachter for St. Paul's scored 7. Johnny Kolojeski, the little sparkplug of the St. Paul team, and Moxley were close behind him with 6 apiece.

Christ Church overcame a 10-4 deficit at the half, scoring an overwhelming 36 points in the final quarters to defeat Grosse Pointe Memorial Church 34 to 25.

Ken McDonald netted 16 points for Christ Church; Grosse Pointe Memorial's high scorer, Charles Munson, looped five baskets for a total of 9 points.

Rounding out the senior division games, Grosse Pointe Woods ousted St. James, 41 to 35. Bosen led the victors basketing 9 as well as handling 3 charity tosses.

Swanson came through with 10 tallies for St. James. Class "B" opened with a

Beaupre Keglers Cling to Lead

The Beaupre Keglers hung onto their lead in the Grosse Pointers Bowling League with a three point sweep over third place Jim's. The three point sweep was a must as the second place Fox team nailed sixth place J. C. Music for three to remain one point off the pace. The defeat dropped J. C. to seventh place, as Kopp's took two points from Lakepointe and moved up to sixth.

Third place Heidi walloped Stapleton for three points to hold a one and a half point lead over fourth place Jim's. Custom Two dropped Custom One deeper into the cellar with a three point sweep which enabled the former to jump from eleventh to tenth place.

Two hundred-plus scores were as scarce as hens' teeth with only four being posted. Cort Trombley posted the high game with a 221 and was followed by Bill Kopp 205 and Jim Burgess and Don Carter, who clicked for identical 202's.

Squadron Plans 'Lost Weekend'

Led by Commander Hartwell A. Johnson, 18 members of the Grosse Pointe Power Squadron and their "first mates" are planning a "Lost Week End" for the Squadron February rendezvous.

After a luncheon, Saturday 1 February, at "Sids" in Algona the group will visit the Chris-Craft Corp. in that city where they have been invited to make a tour of the vast boat-building plant.

The plant inspection completed, the next and final stop will be at the St. Clair Inn where the Squadron members will spend the week end, participating in the dancing and other entertainment at the Inn.

Those accompanying the Commander are the following officers and members: P/C Gene West and Cliff Nelson, Lt/C Larry Reif, Secretary Al Foster, Treasurer John Wetzel, Lieutenants, Al Blixt, Jerry Gerschner, Barney Krajenke, Bob Morden, Ed Peabody and Al Pauly. Members, Charles Brundie, Harold Handley, Andy Harper, Kay Nissley, Bel Emith, Howard Stoneback, and Earl Tot.

There would be very little room at the top if those who do reach it were half as big as they think they are.

Austin Friars Continue Their Winning Streak

By Tom LoCicero, Austin Senior

Austin suffered another case of "court cramps" last Friday, January 21, but managed a 21 point fourth period scoring spurge to trounce De LaSalle 60-39 on its home floor.

The victory was the seventh straight for the Friars who are unbeaten this season and are within an eyelash of winning their third consecutive Central Division Class A title in the Catholic League.

Playing its second consecutive game in De LaSalle's small gymnasium, Austin turned the tables on its stalling opponent with a ball court offense of its own.

The Friars' stalling tactics produced some startling results as they were able to score almost at will and put the game on ice in the final period. As a matter of fact the Friars used the same type of offense against De LaSalle as Muskegon Heights used against them in last year's Class A state finals, which gave Austin a 61-49 victory and the crown.

Austin was as cold as an Eskimo's nose at the start of the DeLaSalle contest and held a slim 26-19 lead at halftime. The Friars, using their home court to the best advantage, managed to halt the Friars' high scoring offense and trailed by a surprising 39-29 count going into the fourth quarter.

Austin coach Chuck Hollosy broke the game wide open with a neat bit of strategy at the start of the final period. He stationed his star Dave DeBusschere at the top of the "Key" near the foul line and the other four men along the center court line. DeBusschere was the key to this style of attack as he would take rifle-like passes from his teammates and immediately hurl the ball back out.

It looked for a while as if the Friars were playing volleyball as they kept the ball zipping back and forth with the Pilots in mad pursuit. Every once in a while a Pilot would run into one of his own teammates and that is when DeBusschere would take a pass and drive in for a score. Dave hit for 11 of his 25 points in the last period to pace the Friars' 21 point winning rally.

Russ Schoenherr notched runner-up honors with 18 and Tom Pine added 11 points. Leo Pertaza and Roger Wizniaki paced the losers with 14 and 13 points respectively.

Arthur T. Waterfall Nearing End of Basic
FORT LEONARD WOOD, MO. (AHTN) — Army Pvt. Arthur Thomas Waterfall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thornton E. Waterfall, 430 Lincoln, Grosse Pointe, Mich., is scheduled to complete eight weeks of basic combat training Feb. 3 under the Reserve Forces Act program at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

The 22-year-old soldier is a 1953 graduate of Grosse Pointe High School and attended Hillsdale College. He is a member of Alpha Tau Omega and Alpha Kappa Psi fraternities.

The man who knows his own imperfections is just about as perfect as it is possible for anyone in this world to be.

Parkers Beat Reserve Five

Grosse Pointe's reserve basketball team dropped its second game of the season last Friday, January 24, when the Highland Park reserves, paced by John Bradley's little brother, handed the Devils a convincing 55-29 setback on the Parkers' home court.

Highland Park jumped off to a 2-0 lead in the first seconds of play but Howard caged a free throw seconds later. That was the last point the Devils bagged until 9:45 of the first period when Schram broke the monotony with the Pointers' first field goal. Gilliland cashed in a free throw before the end of the period which saw the Parkers out in front with a comfortable 13-4 lead.

The drought set in again for 2:15 of the second period and was only broken when Schram hit for four free throws and a field goal for all of the Pointers' second quarter scoring. Meantime the Parkers were merrily whistling the ball through the hoop to hold a 26-10 halftime margin.

The second half was pretty much the same as the first half. The Devils appeared to be confused on the Parkers' small floor and were unable to solve the Parkers' airtight defense, and at the end of the third period trailed 40-21 and eventually suffered their worst defeat in three years.

The Parkers were paced by the little brothers of Highland Park's varsity squad, John Bradley and Eugene Lawson, who were sitting on the sidelines cheering their brothers on. Bradley caged high point honors with 21 points and second place honors went to Sarver of the Parkers. Schram topped the Devils with 10 points, which tied him with Lawson for third place scoring honors.

Good shooting spelled the difference. The Devils had fewer shots and missed many. They also made mechanical errors in their passing game which lost the ball and gave the Parkers opportunities they never should have had if the Pointers had been playing their usual brand of ball.

From the floor Highland Park outshot the Devils 16 to 8 and in the free throw department cashed in on 19 of 24 tries while the Devils could manage only 13 of 24 attempts.

Parkers Hand Blue Devils First Defeat of Season

Grosse Pointe's Blue Devils were tumbled from the ranks of the unbeaten last Friday, January 24, when they bumped into unbeaten Highland Park's one-two Sunday punch and lost 85-37 on the Parker's small, crowded home court.

Billed as the top Class A game in the state that night the Pointers had the misfortune of catching the Parkers on the night they were giving a farewell party for their star, John "Jumpin' Jack" Bradley who was graduated the night before. Under BCL rules a mid-year graduate may participate until the start of the second semester.

Bradley was the "life of his own party" caging a fabulous 36 points, which established a new home floor scoring record. Bradley's buddy Eugene Lawson, was right behind his departing teammate with 24 points which produced 60 of the Parkers' 85 points.

Even More Amazing
What was even more amazing than his record breaking total was the manner in which he did it. Bradley didn't miss his first eleven shots and all were taken from at least 20 feet from the basket. He colored 12 field goals and 12 of 14 free throws before his coach Jim Wink withdrew him from the game for the last time amid the thunderous applause of schoolmates and visitors alike.

In the first quarter Highland Park took a commanding 24-13 lead which it stretched to a comfortable 50-26 cushion at halftime. Bradley led the way with 26 points and was followed by Lawson with 13.

The first half would have been disastrous for the Devils had it not been for co-captain "Torrid" Tommy Woodruff and Marty Andrews, who also was playing his last game. Woodruff chipped in 13 of the Devils' first half total and Andrews added 8. Woodruff wound up with 21 points and Andrews bowed out after three quarters with 12 points.

Finally Set Advantage
In only the third quarter did the Devils have an advantage when they outscored the Parkers 14 to 12 but still trailed 67-40 going into the last stanza. In the final period the Pointers hit from the floor better than the Parkers, getting five field goals to three, but the Parkers were doing a nearly perfect job from the foul line, making good on 9 of 12 tries.

The victory marked the seventeenth time the Parkers have downed the Devils over an eight year period in which the Parkers have won the BCL title (seven outright). They have not lost a game on their home floor in the last seven years.

The loss dropped the Blue Devils down to second place in the BCL race with a 4-1 record.

Get Another Chance
The Devils will have a chance to redeem themselves on Tuesday, February 4, when they entertain the Parkers minus Bradley. On the larger floor the Devils figure to have a better than even chance of reversing last Friday's decision. If they can do just that there is every indication the Devils can share the BCL title.

There is also the possibility that without Bradley Highland Park may not be able to turn back a powerful Fordson team which lost only to Highland Park and Grosse Pointe in the first half of the schedule.

If the Devils beat the Parkers in the return engagement and Fordson can lick the Parkers also, Grosse Pointe will be right back on top of the heap for a clear shot at the title. Grosse Pointe is the last team, since the Parkers began their cage monopoly, to hold the title outright. Fordson was the last team to share the crown with the Parkers.

Where only 200 Grosse Pointers were able to get tickets for the first Devil-Parker game the second meeting will be different in the huge Devil gym. Indications are now that they will be hanging from the rafters and tickets will go on the first come first served basis.

Ice Teams Face Blue Chip Game

All the "blue chips" will be on the line Saturday night, February 1, when the league-leading Blue Devils and the second place Rockets clash in the "game of the year" in the Ice Flair winter hockey league.

The Rockets will go into the game riding a 9-game unbeaten streak which the league-leading Blue Devils will be attempting to break. The two teams split in their two previous meetings.

The Rockets staged a thrilling comeback in the final period, Sunday, January 26, to tie the Golden Eagles, 5-5. Trailing 5-2 going into the third period the Rockets' Bill Shinliwer fired a 30-footer past Eagle goalie Dick Groat shortly after the period got underway. The Golden Eagles doggedly clung to their lead and with less than two minutes to go they still held a commanding 5-3 margin. At this point Rocket center Bill Cook, the circuit's top scorer, stunned the Eagles with two goals within a half minute and the game ended in a 5-5 deadlock. Two weeks ago the Golden Eagles dropped an 8-7 heart-breaker in a similar manner to the Blue Devils.

Following the Eagles-Rockets battle, the Blue Devils and Pointers tangled in their second encounter of the season. In the opening period John Slattery and Jim Mathewson of the Pointers matched goals with the Devils' Jim Brown and Ron Gouin. Seconds after the opening of the second period Gouin netted the puck again only to see Tom Reno of the Pointers tie the score. At 3-all minutes later. Apparently aroused by the come-from-behind tactics of the Pointers, the Devils stormed their opponent's net and banged in six goals before the period ended. They knocked in three more in the final period to clobber the Pointers 11-3.

Jim "Bear" Brown fired a "hat trick" for the winners as Butch Hoyer, Dick Kost, and Ron Gouin got two apiece and Dick Auble and Tom Fitzgerald collected single tallies.

The Warriors set their team scoring high for the season in thrashing the cellar-dwelling Rangers 8-2 on Sunday, January 26. George Gornick led the winners' scoring parade with two goals and George Bloomfield, Bill Adelhoch, VandeBeusque, D'Harte, and Konieski scored once each. Tom Schervish and Bill Keegan tallied for the losers.

The Blue Devil-Rocket contest is billed for 5:30 p.m. Saturday, February 1. The game will find the league's four top scorers in action, Bill Cook and John Montgomery of the Rockets and Ron Gouin and Dave Cook for the Blue Devils. A Blue Devil triumph would give them a comfortable four-point lead while a Rocket victory would create a two-way deadlock for the league lead.

Another crucial night for the second division clubs will be Sunday, February 2. The Warriors tangle with the Pointers with the winners taking over third place. Currently, the two teams are tied although the Pointers have played two fewer games than the Warriors.

The Golden Eagles, making a determined bid to qualify, as one of the top four teams, for the playoffs, will take on the Rangers in the second game of the evening. An Eagle win coupled with a defeat for either the Warriors or Pointers would give the Eagles sole possession of fourth place and send one of the current holders of third tumbling down to fifth.

MSU Players to Present Two Performances of "Sleeping Beauty" February 8 Under the Auspices of The AAUW; Expect 1,400 to See Play

An estimated 1,400 children will be transported to fairytale on Saturday, February 8, while they watch the MSU Players unfold the romantic tale of "Sleeping Beauty" on stage at Parcels' Junior High School auditorium.

"Sleeping Beauty" is being presented both in the morning and afternoon by the group from State under the auspices of the Grosse Pointe Branch of AAUW as a part of that organization's Children's Theatre Program.

Experts in the field of children's entertainment, the State Players leave little undone in creating the right atmosphere for this reproduction. Lush gold velvets and pink, scarlet, peach and blue taffetas will be seen against a background of a Renaissance throne room. Swirling storm clouds and flashes of lightning will help emphasize the magic of this well known fair story.

Churchill's Art To Be Exhibited

The Detroit Institute of Arts is one of only eight museums which will be privileged to show an exhibit of the paintings of Sir Winston Churchill, dean of world statesmen. The show of 35 oil paintings will go one view on Friday, February 7 and continue through February 21. This is the world's first collective exhibit of Churchill's work. The paintings were shipped from his country home, Chartwell, near London, for the tour which is supervised by the Smithsonian Institution.

The exhibition is the result of a personal appeal from President Eisenhower and the urging of the State Department to persuade Churchill, now 83 years old, to permit public exhibition of his art.

Churchill always has contended that he painted for pleasure and did not want to appear as a professional. But he is proud of his work, art authorities call him "a versatile and extraordinary artist."

He began painting as a hobby after he had passed 40. His paintings are said to be as colorful as his political personality.

Among the other museums which will show the Churchill works later are the Metropolitan Museum of Art, the Art Gallery of Toronto, and the Smithsonian Institution. Two other exhibits have yet to be arranged.

when the POINTE was growing up...

By Pat Talbot

Just below Seven mile road on a high ridge of ground lived two families in the summer of 1886 that were to make their indelible mark on Pointe society.

Fifty acres, known as Cloverleigh, adjoined the imposing residence of the Lothrop on one side and the other neighbor was Dr. Isaac Smith, who for 50 years presided over the births and deaths of most of the Pointe's French colony. He came to the Pointe and built an old fashioned cottage to recuperate from an illness. He claimed that on coming here he could hardly mount his horse but after six months he was able to carry the horse on his back.

His prominent neighbors were the Hugh McMillans and the Henry B. Ledyards, whose land ran together with extensive gardens and lawns that flowed toward the lake. On the near side lived the Ledyards. He was president of the Michigan Central Railroad.

Mr. Ledyard had spent his early years in the Pointe on land subsequently bought by the Sacred Heart convent. Then his family was called to Newport, R. I., a resort just reaching the pinnacle of its power and prestige. Henry B. Ledyard Sr. was married to the daughter of General Lewis Cass, one of Michigan's most prominent pioneers. His son was born in Paris where he was the U.S. Minister to France.

Educated at West Point, Mr. Ledyard served for a few years in the Army and then went with the railroad where his exceptional engineering and administrative skills caused the directors to name him to the presidency at the death of William H. Vanderbilt.

Hugh McMillan, brother of Lake Terrace owner James McMillan, was the Ledyards' neighbor. He was married to Helen Dyar, sister of John B. Dyar, whose home, "Beaurivage", was the first summer home on the landward side of the lake as one drove out the shore. The estate was just completed in 1886 and shared a small park extending to the lake with the William A. McGraws.

Two branches of the Whittingham family are knee deep in compliments. Sally Whittingham has garnered just about every honor a graduating miss could at the High School.

President of her class, this gal is especially proud because usually a lad holds that important post. She was also a commencement speaker, which means her grades are among the best, and she was voted "most popular girl" and "most likely to succeed" by her contemporaries, probably the most important accomplishment of all.

Sally is fond of shrimp and the color blue and wants to go to Europe in her junior year of college to study French on the scene.

Her cousin, Bill Whittingham, just back from army duty in the Orient, where he was staff artist for Stars and Stripes, showed his fabulous color films to Tuxis Club at Memorial Church the other eve. Bill, talented artist that he is, is doing all the scenery for the Tuxis Variety Show, which is in rehearsal now.

And while we are speaking of the theater, Lee Chamberlain, who played the Stepmother in the Children's Theater production of "Cinderella of Loreland" Saturday at the GPHS deserves credit for her histrionic poise. This junior miss took a tumble in one of her big scenes and so skillful was she the audience of tot's couldn't tell whether it was an accident or intentional.

Sunday after church a rendezvous at a Mack grocery store seems to be a habit for the harried householders who have forgotten that extra quart of milk or loaf of bread. Have seen the Jean Mestritz and the Jerome C. DuCharmes stocking the larder.

Sammy Chapin, a crack shot, puts the men to shame with her marksmanship at the Farms pier these blustery afternoons. For shooting she wears the latest imports, red chukka boots, and wheels her bike to Seven Mile from her home on St. Paul, a hardy feat.

Mrs. Henry T. Bodman organized a gathering of friends Sunday to help Mr. Bodman celebrate his birthday.

PILFERINGS

There is no policy like politeness; and a good manner is the best thing in the world, either to get one a good name or to supply the want of it... Bulwer-Lytton.

A Paramount executive was attending a luncheon with other movie moguls and someone suggested they get up two baseball teams on the lot.

"No," said Buddy DeSylva, "We'd better not try it. I can't think of 18 men in Hollywood that I could trust if they had baseball bats in their hands."

INJURED IN FALL

Mrs. Marie R. Penn, 67, of 1415 Beaconsfield, suffered a cut left hand and forearm when she tripped on a rug in the living room of her home on Sunday, January 26. The injuries resulted when her arm smashed through a glass pane of a French door. She was taken to Bon Secours Hospital by Park police for treatment.

CHARLES SALTZER, OF THE GROSSE POINTE HIGH SCHOOL

by Patricia Talbot

—Picture by Fred Runnells

From the day the Army moved away from the site on Lothrop road and Chalfonte, through the digging of the huge hole and the slow but steady building of the modern glass and brick structure that was to become Samuel Brownell Junior High School, residents have watched the construction, wondered over the school boundaries and paid the bills.

The man who will preside over this newest addition to the brilliant Grosse Pointe School system is Charles Saltzer, present acting principal of the High School and for almost 20 years assistant principal at the school.

If ever a man knew teenagers Charles Saltzer is that man and he faces his new assignment as principal of Brownell with enthusiasm. He believes he will have the finest educational plant, the best staff and the greatest students in the country.

MOVES IN APRIL 1

About March 1 the new principal to head the High School will report here and for a month Mr. Saltzer will guide him in his new role. About April 1 he will move into his office in Brownell and begin preparing for September classes.

He must see that supplies and furniture are obtained, a new teaching staff hired, a custodial staff initiated into their duties and a complete schedule ready for fall studies.

The office group he is directing is an especially challenging one to Charles Saltzer. The seventh graders have come from close knit groups in elementary schools to which they were devoted. These classes are broken up, the students given the opportunity to make new friends, have new experiences.

By the eighth grade many have settled down but this is an awkward age, neither child nor full fledged teen-ager. One minute a junior high student will be showing off; the next he will retire into a shell. He is apt to be very serious about his studies and sports.

FORMER MATH TEACHER

Mr. Saltzer can see the challenge from the teacher's viewpoint as well as from the administrator's. He taught math in Deckerville High School for three years before coming here in 1933 to teach at the old Grosse Pointe Country Day School.

In the fall of '34 he crossed the barbed wire fence to teach math at the High School and coach football, baseball, basketball and track. He has never lost his penchant for sports and is an avid follower of all intermural and scholastic sports today as well as the professional Detroit teams, the Lions, Tigers and Red Wings.

He has pride in his school system which he says (as does School Superintendent Dr. James Bushong), is good but could be better. This community has children in which there is "more competition to learn," for their parents have for the most part fine educations themselves and are eager for their children to do even better.

MORE FOR GIFTED CHILD

More must be and is being done for the gifted child, Mr. Saltzer believes whether in art, music, literature or science. There is, of course, these days a rather frantic interest in chemistry, physics and math, but we must not forget the important role the humanities have played and will continue to play in the history of our democracy, he states.

Mr. Saltzer is a quiet, bespectacled, thin man, with a serious air and an easy smile. He likes children and approaches discipline problems with an air of calm confidence.

Teen-agers are more difficult to handle nowadays than they were when he was a boy, he believes. A rebellious student is not so apt to be in awe of his teacher or principal, but will often say "I know my rights." Mr. Saltzer stands no nonsense, but he is able to instill a feeling of mutual respect in most recalcitrant students and can then handle the problem.

ALSO A HOUSE BUILDER

In his leisure hours Mr. Saltzer has been building a house in Traverse City. A real "do-it-yourselfer" he has installed plumbing, wiring, plaster and the whole works in this five room year round residence. He is proud of his job but is apt to minimize his achievements. This is the second home he has built, the other being a cottage in Sarnia, where the Saltzers and their daughter, now married, vacationed for years.

Duplicate bridge and traveling are Mr. S.'s two other hobbies. During vacations he has traveled through 42 states Canada, Europe and Hawaii. He visits schools wherever he goes, for his paramount interest, his school and his students, are never out of his mind.

Chorus Selects Concert Program

Members of the Grosse Pointe Community Chorus were elated when selections for the group's annual spring concert were announced at the first rehearsal of the new season.

Donald W. Simmons, director, said, "I think we have something for everybody this spring. We have a sacred group including Mozart, Brahms, Randall Thompson (contemporary) and the Russian 'Hospodi Pomilui' which should be fun.

"Following this we are trying an international motif with English carols, 'Brigadoon,' two French folk songs, some Waring arrangements of American songs, 'Russian Picnic,' a spiritual, and closing with 'It's a Big Wide Wonderful World.'"

"As our guest soloist we're especially pleased to be able to bring Grosse Pointe music lover Franz Affenzeller who will sing a group of Austrian folk songs to his guitar accompaniment. Mr. Affenzeller is a real artist and will add a great deal to our spring concert."

Persons over high school age who are interested in joining the chorus may still register next Tuesday evening, February 4, in the vocal music room of Parcells Junior High School, Vernier at Mack. No auditions are required.

Registration is from 7:30 to 8 o'clock, with rehearsals from 8 to 10 o'clock each Tuesday evening. The only charge is a registration fee of $4.50. For any further information please telephone TU 4-5964.
