

POLICE, FIRE MERGER STUDIED

HEADLINES

of the WEEK

As Compiled by the
Grosse Pointe News

Thursday, February 13
PRESIDENT EISENHOWER, in an optimistic statement on the economic situation, said Wednesday that March "should mark the beginning of the end of the downturn."
From other quarters, however, came predictions that the situation will get worse before it gets better. Some economists expressed doubts that the upturn will come as quickly as the Administration believes.

Friday, February 14
NEARLY 200 POLICE, firemen and volunteers searched a three-mile stretch of the Clinton River near Utica late Thursday for a 6-year-old boy who disappeared while playing with his sled.
Missing was Gerald Thacker, of 5666 Parkdale, Shelby Township, Macomb County. One of Gerald's playmates—unidentified—led police officers to a hole in the ice and said "That's where Gerald fell in."

Saturday, Feb. 15
THE BODY of Gerald Thacker, 6, was recovered from the frozen Clinton River Friday afternoon about 20 hours after the boy fell through the ice and drowned.

Firemen found the body at 2:25 p.m. about 500 feet downstream from where the child plunged in while playing with his sled Thursday evening.
Discovery of the body ended a search by about 200 firemen, police and volunteers who had fought freezing temperatures and the ice-choked river since 7 p.m. Thursday.

Sunday, Feb. 16
THREE PERSONS including the president of the company were killed instantly when a Leonard Refining Co. plane crashed in a blinding snowstorm 15 miles northeast of New Buffalo at dusk Saturday. All three men lived in Michigan and left a total of seven children.

Company officials said the three were en route to Alma from Tulsa, Okla., where they had gone earlier in the week on a business trip.

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 17
A BLIZZARD churned into a white frenzy by wind gusts up to 60 miles an hour pounded the East Sunday. The snowfall measured up to 42 inches in some areas, with drifts up to 30 feet deep.

Accompanied by near-zero temperatures, the storm marooned thousands of persons. It caused states of emergency in many communities, cut sharply into air, rail and bus service, and blocked scores of roads. Flooding resulted in low coastal areas.

The temperatures dropped below zero in Detroit Sunday and the Weather Bureau predicted Monday would be the coldest day in recent history. Eight-below zero was forecast for Monday morning.

Tuesday, February 18
COMMUNIST NORTH KOREA Monday rejected a formal demand from the United Nations Command for return of 34 persons, including two Americans, aboard a South Korean airliner which landed in North Korea Sunday.

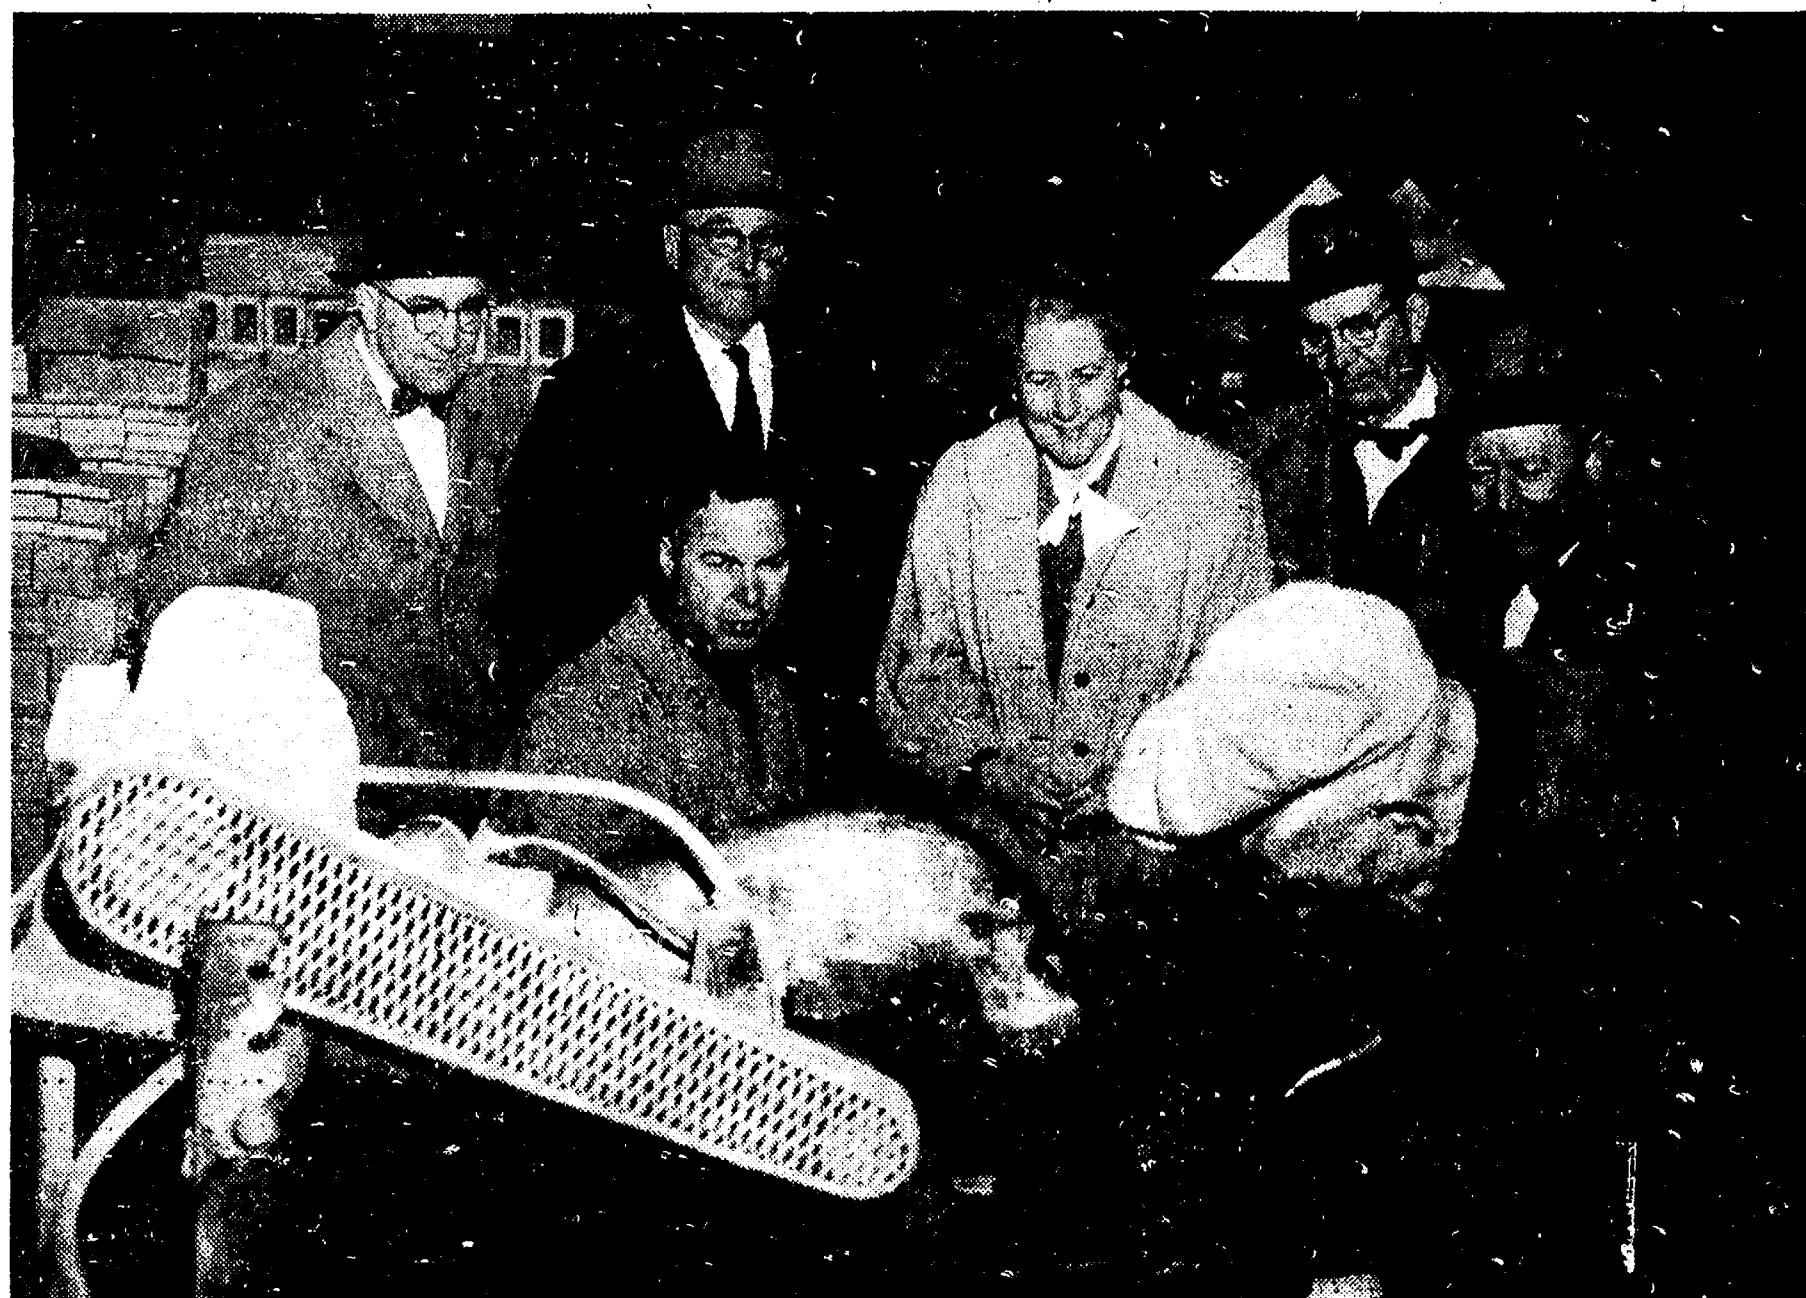

The plane, a Korean National Airlines DC-3, was believed to have been hijacked by Red agents while in flight from Pusan to Seoul.

The Communists have rejected the demand for the return of the plane, and say the aircraft came over into North Korea "voluntarily."

Wednesday, February 19
THE ARMY'S JUPITER 1,500-mile rocket will pile up extra expenses that may run as high as 400 million dollars that could have been avoided, a top defense official said Monday.

The official, who is familiar with the Administration's intermediate range rocket program, said by Secretary of Defense, said a decision will be made by the end of the month whether the Jupiter rockets should be purchased economically without dropping them entirely.

Trustees Keep Close Eye on New School

Thief Takes Two Coats At Center

Suspect being sought by police after women report losses totaling $1,900

Two black Persian Lamb coats, valued at a total of $1,900, were stolen from guests at the War Memorial Center on Wednesday, February 12.

Farms Det. Sgt. George Van Tiem said a suspect, who claimed to be looking for the Detroit Veterans Administration Building, is being sought for questioning in the thefts.

Looking for Check
He said the man, described only as being colored, about 30 years old and possibly having a mustache, entered the Center about 3 p.m. on the Wednesday date, claiming he was looking for his veterans check, and asked for the location of the Veterans' Building.

When the coats were reported missing, John Lake, director of the Center, searched the building on the chance the coats had been mislaid, but could not find them.

One Worth $1,000
One coat, belonging to Mrs. Robert Angus of 425 Colonial court, was described as a little longer than three-quarter length, with full cuffs, and very heavy. It is, valued at $1,000.

The second coat is the property of Mrs. George Love of 597 Hawthorne. It is full length, had a white mink edge on the collar, and had a pair of white gloves in the pocket. She valued her loss at $900.

Police Warn Merchants About Bad Check Passers

Pointe merchants are warned to be on the lookout for a three-man gang of bad check passers, who are wanted by the police of the Park, Farms, Woods, Detroit, St. Clair Shores and East Detroit.

The trio have been passing bogus "pay checks" in business places in the various communities.

The latest victim is Nick Telegradas, owner of a grocery store at 899 Beaconsfield, according to Park Police Cpl. Charles French.

Sidewalk Superintendents Invited to Inspect New School Under Construction

Board of Education to Be Hosts to Public at Progress Inspection of Brownell Junior High Sunday Afternoon

All residents of the Grosse Pointe Public School District are invited to make a progress inspection of the new Brownell Junior High School between 2 and 5 p.m., Sunday, February 23, Bert Wicking, president of the Board of Education has announced.

"The building is now closed in and the heat is on, so interior inspection can be done in relative comfort, Wicking said.

Construction work on this new school, which is scheduled for use this fall, is now about 80 per cent completed. Ground was broken for it in September, 1956. The first steel arrived in April, 1957. The classroom units on the north end were closed in by October and the balance early this winter.

Might Want to Peek

"We hope the major part of all the construction will be done by June 1," Wicking said, "but it occurred to us that residents of the school district would like to see how it is going now."

Charles Saltzer, who will be principal of this new school, will be in charge of the progress inspection. With him and his staff, as co-hosts, will be members of the Board of Education and the school systems' professional staff.

Visitors will be able to see the classroom areas, workshouses, gymnasium, pool, and various science sections. Much of the work is unfinished and raw but "side-walk" superintendents are welcome on February 23.

Contractors Enthusiastic
"The general contractor, Kriehoff Company, the electrical contractor, Hamill Electric Company, and the mechanical contractor, Charles R. Beltz, have assured us this inspection will not hold up construction in any way," Wicking stated. "As a matter of fact, they are as proud as we are to show our citizens the kind of work which has already been done on this project."

When it is finished, the Brownell School will be able to house 900 junior high pupils. It will be a highly functional plant designed to provide the finest in service to the boys and girls and all residents of (Continued on Page 2)

Noisy Burglar Robs Park Bar
A lone burglar, apparently not caring how much noise he made, broke down the rear door of the Champ's Bar, 15007 Charlevoix, and took more than $400 in cash and other loot.

Park Cpl. Charles French, who is investigating the case, said the burglar hit the door with such force, the door frame was torn from the wall.

He said the owner of the bar told him he discovered the crime when he opened the bar on Wednesday, February 12, about 11:30 a.m.

The owner said that about $149.50 was taken from the cash register, and $15 in dimes was taken from a cash box that was under the counter, and another $70 in dimes was stolen from a drawer behind the bar.

Symphony's Concert Set For Sunday

Gizi Szanto to be Pianist Soloist at Event to be Held in Parcels School at 3:30

The Grosse Pointe Symphony Orchestra will present its second concert of the season Sunday, February 23, at 3:30 o'clock in the Parcels School Auditorium, Henry Nosco conducting.

Highlight of the program will be the appearance of Gizi Szanto, brilliant Detroit pianist and member of the staff of the Detroit Conservatory of Music.

The Program
Choral Prelude "Wacht am Rhein" by Die Stinne...
Bach (transcribed for orchestra by Eugene Ormandy)
Folk Suite for Orchestra...
Clark Eastham.

Concerto in A for Piano and Orchestra... Grieg. Gizi Szanto, Pianist.

Symphony in D minor... Cesar Franck.

The audience is cordially invited to join in the reception held immediately following the concert to meet the soloist and the orchestra members.

Ushers Named

Women Injured In Park Traffic

Della Checki, 39, of 1447 Lakepointe, suffered a broken left leg and head injuries, when she was struck by a car on Mack, while she was waiting for traffic to clear on Tuesday, February 11.

The driver of the car that struck the woman, Harold N. Stroshein, 33, of 16259 Nicolai, East Detroit, was ticketed by Park police for failing to observe a pedestrian and causing an accident.

A police report said Mrs. Checki was walking north across Mack, between Barham and Lakepointe, and had stopped in the middle lane, waiting for traffic to go by, when she was hit by Stroshein, who was driving east on Mack.

The driver told authorities that he did not see the woman before the mishap occurred.

Mrs. Checki was taken to Bon Secours Hospital by police ambulance for treatment of her injuries.

Richard Playfield Improvement Plans Heard by Council

Farms Officials Want Clarification of Proposal to Close McMillan road for Periods on Trial Basis

The proposed improvement and development of the Gabriel Richard playground, on the east side of McMillan road, might hinge on the interpretation of what is meant by closing of the road on a trial basis.

The Farms council, on Monday, February 17, felt a little dubious about closing McMillan, when informed by Mrs. Arthur H. Engstrom that the Grosse Pointe Board of Education would grant tentative approval of the project, if the council would close the road during school hours, on a trial basis.

Committee Formed
Mrs. Engstrom and her husband are co-chairmen of the McMillan Playground Committee, a group of citizens in the Gabriel Richard district who have sought development of the playground for more than a year and a half.

She outlined to the council four points by which the Board of Education might consider giving its approval.

1. The trial closing of McMillan; 2. A letter to the Farms council stating that the Board will use the playground for at least five years, or refund the $4,000 the council recently donated as its share in the development of the field, on a pro-rated basis; 3. The Board would supervise the playground; and 4. Approval of all apparatus and equipment, and their placement, will be left to Richard School officials.

Board Ready to Agree
If her committee and the council would agree to these conditions, Mrs. Engstrom said, then the Board would agree to the development.

The council told Mrs. Engstrom that it had no quarrel with any of the conditions, except the closing of the road, which it was said is opposed by the police and fire chiefs of the city.

Too, she was told, the closing might create a chaotic traffic situation on adjoining streets which would have to bear the brunt of traffic normally traveling on McMillan.

Another point touched on by the council was what the Board meant by referring to the closing of the road on a trial basis. Did it mean that if the council agreed to close the street for a few days, or a few weeks, the Board would still give its approval if the plan does not work out?

Will Obtain Letter
Mrs. Engstrom said she did not know the answer to this question, but she would get a letter from the Board of Education, clarifying its stand, and bring it to the next council meeting.

For more than a year and a half, now, the McMillan Playground Committee has been battling to have the playground developed, and has lined up several civic groups and a large number of private individuals who have promised to contribute either money, (Continued on Page 2)

Cash and Jewels Shunned By Queer Purse Snatchers

Thieves who snatched the purse of Mrs. Corinne Hessler, 67, of 1545 Roslyn road, on January 21, appeared not to have been after monetary gain.

The purse was found and turned over to Woods police on Sunday, February 16, with nothing missing except personal papers.

The finder of the purse, Louis Smith, 17, of 1633 Hampton road, was emptying ashes by the garage at the rear of his home, when he came across the bag.

The purse contained $75 in cash; a sterling Masonic bracelet with four money pieces, each commemorating Mrs. Hessler's late husband's advance in the Masonic Order; a diamond ring; a credit charge

Farms, City, Park Join In Probe

Citizens' Research Council employed to make recommendations on proposal

A possible unification of the police and fire departments of the Park, City and Farms is being studied by the Citizens Research Council of Michigan, it was officially disclosed on Tuesday, February 18.

Material for such a study was submitted to the Research Council by officials of all three municipalities.

It had been reported that the three Points might eventually consolidate into one community, but the officials said this is quite a big step, and is not the point under discussion or study at the present time.

Have Held Meetings

They said that the mayors, city managers and other officials of the three Points had met on several occasions to discuss unification of services, but there has been some opposition regarding the merging of the governments.

The different debts of the three cities, and other equally important details will have to be taken into consideration, if the complete merger is to take place.

Another thing to be considered is whether the people of the communities concerned favor consolidation.

Seek Savings

The officials said that the unification of police and fire service in the Park, City and Farms, is being studied to see if there could be a savings in tax monies by having single police and fire departments.

The five Points have a unified school district, to which each contributes its fair share each year towards the operation of the system.

In conjunction with Harper Woods, the five Points also maintain and operate a joint police and emergency radio system, and a health department. This, too, is maintained by each paying its fair share.

6 Cases Heard In City Court

Judge Douglas L. Paterson presided over Justice Court for the City of Grosse Pointe last Tuesday night, February 11, and heard a total of six cases.

He gave Lois Jean Isola, of 5559 Courville in Detroit, a suspended sentence. She was found guilty of not having her car under control.

The case of Russell C. Hamlin, 20045 Holiday road, was dismissed. He was charged with not having his car under control, but the complainant refused to prosecute.

William M. Davis, the unlicensed rubbish collector, of 3775 St. Clair in Detroit, was found guilty on a charge of simple larceny, and fined $25.

Sharon C. Spleet, 4665 Neff road, in Detroit, was deemed guilty of interfering with moving traffic. Judge Paterson will sentence her at the next meeting of the Traffic Court.

The case of Robert A. Harley, 902 Neff road, was dismissed when the complainant refused to sign the complaint. He was originally charged with not having his car under control.

The same was true, refusal of the complainant to prosecute, for Dela Mae Modlin, of 450 Neff road. She was charged with not having her car under control, but had her case dismissed.

SPEEDER ARRESTED

Carl T. Suchoski, 26, whose home is in Philadelphia, Pa., but who is staying at the Marine Hospital where he is being treated for an injury, was arrested by Shores police on Monday, February 17, after an 80-mile chase on Lake Shore road. Suchoski, a Great Lakes sailor, is scheduled for court on March 31.

the Grosse Pointe School District.

The design of the school was worked out in cooperation with residents of the area to make sure that it would harmonize with other buildings nearby. Boundaries for the pupils who will use the school next fall were worked out by a committee made up largely of P.T.A. representatives and other lay people interested in the Grosse Pointe schools.

Committee Appointed

To support and assist the contractors, a special committee of the Board and School staff was appointed early last fall. On this committee are Trustees Robert Weber and Edward Pongracz and Director of Administrative Services Harold Husband. In addition, all members of the Board have been making regular inspections as work has progressed.

Some of the problems which had to be overcome during the early stages of development included not only arranging with the Army to vacate the southern section of the property, but also it was necessary to re-align a main sewer which ran across the property. The cooperation of the Grosse Pointe Farms Council in this connection was deeply appreciated. School Board members said.

To Remove Huts

Some of the army buildings, including two stone block huts formerly used as ammunition storehouses, are still on the property and being used by the contractors. These will have to be removed within the next few weeks to permit final grading of the playground. This, then, will pave the way for the seeding and landscaping which must be done this spring if the field is to be ready for use in the fall.

When cold weather set in this winter, temporary coal stoves were placed at strategic spots so that work could continue on schedule. Now most of the building is being heated by the School's heating plant, a gas fired boiler fed by a 10-inch gas main.

A minor delay occurred when a key valve needed for connecting the furnace to the main was temporarily unavailable. It was soon located and installed, allowing work by most trades to go on with little interruption.

Only One Accident

The contractor's superintendent of construction, Ray Owen, stated, "This job has progressed very smoothly and has been practically trouble free. The only serious incident was when a roofer fell and landed on a stone mason below. The roofer was unhurt and kept on working, but the mason was shaken up a bit and had to stop a while. He soon returned to work, however, fully recovered."

The Brownell Junior High School is being built on 15 acres of land purchased in 1939. In the rear of the building there will be a parking lot capable of holding 180 cars. Almost 10 acres of the plot will be used for athletic and recreational purposes. The playground will include baseball, field hockey, and football fields. Landscape architects have been employed to advise on the best utilization of the site as well as to assist with the planting of trees, shrubs, and lawns.

It seems to be human nature for the man who is asked to take a back seat to take a front.

Students Enjoy Baiting Russians on Moscow Visit

Editorial Note: From time to time parents and friends come into our office with letters from sons and daughters, in the service, traveling, or whatever — to share with us, and the public, those interesting experiences which are relayed to home through the mails, and sometimes even the telephone.

The following excerpts come from just such a letter, written by Allan Bryant to his parents, the Clare P. Bryants, of Lincoln road, Allan and his fiancée, Barbara Mayfield from Phoenix, Arizona, are both currently doing post-graduate work at Stockholm University in Sweden. Early in January they joined a student tour from the University to Russia. Allan's first-hand comments, and acute observations, help us all to more fully appreciate the current situation in the Soviet Union and offer a much-needed optimistic outlook on the "real" Russian regime.

Dear Mother and Dad:

What a thrill-packed two weeks I've just had! I hope you've recovered from the shock of receiving a card from me from Moscow. The Russian tourist agency in Moscow offered a reduced-price student tour to the University here and 60 of us took advantage of it — armed with jazz records and books on America (Life and Look magazines, etc.) We introduced jitter-bugging to the students at the University of Leningrad, although some members of the Communist party there tried to stop us. When we got to Moscow, a few days later, we were prevented from meeting the students there, so that we wouldn't be able to influence them the same way. (The students are the ones they have all the trouble with in Russia now. Ten or so were expelled from Moscow University for protesting the Hungarian Revolt).

However, we were given a lot of freedom to shop, go to concerts, etc. although we were followed most of the time. I took a lot of pictures, and so did Barbara, which was why we were arrested in Leningrad by a member of their secret police who was following us. It wasn't anything serious since he just wanted our film and Barbara wouldn't give it to him. She had taken a picture of the front of a wine store with a drunk standing in front of it. He took us to a policeman who reluctantly took us to the police station. (He didn't like the plain clothes secret policeman) where, after a phone call to our hotel, he let us go.

It was really an educational trip. The people are very friendly and respectful toward Americans, although they were a little afraid to speak to us at times, for they fear their own government and the secret police. They listen to the "Voice of America" too — which is supposed to be illegal. (At Leningrad the students knew Elvis Presley and Rock and Roll music through American and German broadcasts).

Every once in a while the tour guides would try to tell us how glorious Communism was and we'd laugh in their faces and just mention a few of Stalin's atrocities and ask them questions like "Why aren't your students permitted to travel all over the world like we are?" and "What happens to a person in the Soviet Union if he criticizes the Government?"

I think they'll think twice before they let such a large group of American and Swedish students in Russia again. We created too much propaganda for the U.S. with our jazz, friendliness and unwillingness to be pushed around. The Russian people all seemed to like us and all asked for souvenirs, coins, pictures of the States, etc. We must have been the first Americans they'd ever seen. They were eager to learn about the U.S. as if they suspected that much of what their government had been telling them about us wasn't true. The Communists are going to have a hard time repairing the damage we did.

P.S.: Radio Free Europe just sent me a letter asking Barb and me to broadcast to Poland, Hungary, etc. (part of the "Voice of America" program). Tomorrow we're being interviewed on the Swedish radio. Tonight Radio Moscow is supposed to broadcast an interview which several of us made while we were in Moscow. I doubt if they'll broadcast what I said, however. I criticized their attempts to make artists write just what the government wants them to write, and told them their music was outdated.

(Ed. Note: Allan is a first-class student in the field of music, and is doing his post-graduate work in this area. He is a graduate of Grosse Pointe High School, and was a star pitcher at both. While in the Army he served with the C.I.C.)

Library Reveals Available Films

The following 16 mm sound films will be available from the Grosse Pointe Public Library February 24 to March 21. Patrons are invited to reserve the films for showing to organizations, clubs, church groups, and home audiences. Further information concerning these and other films which will be available in succeeding months may be obtained by calling the Film Counselor, Central Library, TUxedo 4-2200.

FITNESS IS A FAMILY AFFAIR (15 minutes). Neighbors, by pooling their resources, find new interests and enrich community living. Two families in a neighborhood are contrasted — one, having no sense of unity; the other, working together, sharing the business of living. The cooperative ideas of the latter prevail through the community until, together, the people of the neighborhood discover new kinds of fun and recreation, beginning with a games-room, a workshop, and a handicrafts group. A community spirit comes spontaneously to life.

GRANDMA MOSES (22 minutes, color). Scenes of the life and works of Grandma Moses, American primitive painter, who reached the age of 97 this year. She is shown in her simple, upstate New York where she paints, prepares her own painting boards, and observes the landscape through the changing seasons. The last half of the picture is based on her paintings, pointing up her technique of applying paint. The film is narrated by the poet, Archibald MacLeish.

PERU: HIGHLANDS OF THE ANDES (20 minutes). Although vegetation is scarce in the cold, lofty Andes of Peru, the mountains abound in mineral resources. Peru's people still work the gold, silver, and copper mines, and although they earn a fairly good living, they live simply, with few conveniences. Farmers cultivate the poor, rocky soil, working by hand, even to building their adobe homes. Religious festival days are marked by colorful ceremonies and celebrations.

materials or labor in carrying out the program.

It was estimated that the complete development of the playground would cost about $27,000, toward which the Farms council offered to contribute $4,000, for water facilities and drainage. The council would not charge for the water piped to the playground, but would install a meter to indicate where its water is being used.

Board Offers Help

Mrs. Engstrom said that the Board of Education will do its share by fitting in appropriations in its budget, over a period of three to five years, for the purchase of certain equipment that would be justified for school use.

St. James Lutheran Church, adjacent to the field, has also agreed to help in the development, she said.

Mrs. Engstrom said that as soon as everything is ironed out, a survey and development of the project will start as soon as possible.

Help is still being solicited. Clubs and individuals wishing to aid in the program are asked to contact Mrs. Engstrom at TU 1-8254.

Cadillac

Not His First... But His Finest!

It was more than twenty years ago that he drove his first Cadillac car home — and since then he has re-enacted that event more than a dozen times.

Now here he is — arriving once again with the newest version of the "car of cars". And as often as he has experienced this happy homecoming, he has never found it more satisfying than it is today.

For here, as he has already discovered, is the finest expression yet of all the things a Cadillac can be!

Here, beyond any question, is Cadillac's traditional leadership in styling and in luxury at its emphatic best.

Here, too, is Cadillac's great heritage of fine performance brought to a new high level of perfection.

And here is Cadillac's exclusive Fleetwood coachcrafting... and Cadillac's world-famous value... and Cadillac's great soundness of investment... all advanced in their fullest possible measure.

Certainly then, you owe it to yourself to see and drive this new Standard of the World.

Your dealer will be delighted to arrange for an inspection of your favorite Cadillac — whether it might be the Sixty-Two Coupe or the Eldorado Brougham.

March on Polio Return Revealed

The recent Mother's March on Polio, held Wednesday, January 29, was as previously reported, highly successful throughout Wayne county, in collecting $362,000. The five points, collectively, contributed $17,433 to the March of Dimes.

Of this amount, the Farms gave $4,700; the Park, $4,308; Grosse Pointe City, $2,143; and, jointly, the Woods and Shores contributed $6,282.

These figures are now final and represent a generous contribution on the part of Pointers for a worthy cause.

A growing interest in hockey has resulted in the formation of a hockey club on the intramural level at Wayne State University with 31 students showing up once a week to practice and play on city recreation department ice.

U-M Awards 1,204 Degrees

Degrees have been granted to 1,204 University of Michigan students who successfully completed requirements at the end of the fall semester.

Graduation candidates received token diplomas at the University's midyear graduation exercises on January 25. Degrees could not be officially granted until examination records were complete and final grades for the semester recorded.

Midyear exercises, dropped after the stepped-up wartime school years, were re-instituted last year following a request by Student Government Council members. The exercises were held before degrees were granted to enable students to attend who are now beginning jobs in other parts of the country.

February graduates from the Grosse Pointe area are: Nancy Hodges Barthlow, 442 McKinley, Master of Arts; Denis Carl Beran, 1022 Bedford, Bachelor of Arts in Economics; Bruce Glenn Bray, 1088 Lakepointe, Doctor of Philosophy in Chemical Engineering; George Frederick Glattes, Sr., 563 Neff, Master of Business Administration; Mary Jane Hoover, 910 N. Beys, Bachelor of Design; Isobel Anne Marvin, 19735 E. Kings court, Bachelor of Arts in Education; Arthur Frederick Neef, 750 Lincoln, Master of Arts.

Fred Pessi, Jr., 1584 Roslyn, Master of Science; Kenneth Clark Rice, 919 Rivard, Master of Business Administration; Robert William Richardson, 367 McMillan, Bachelor of Science in Engineering; Joan Mather Robinson, 29 Dyer lane, Bachelor of Arts; Elaine Marie Surbrook, 1059 Berkshire, Master of Business Administration; Frank Milton Clements, Jr., 622 Pemberton, Bachelor of Arts; Robert Joseph Mahoney, 971 Lakepointe, Bachelor of Business Administration; Thomas Joseph O'Neill, 812 Barrington, Master of Business Administration; Frank Girard Verbeke, Jr., 1217 Cadieux, Bachelor of Science in Engineering; and F. William Thewalt, 1896 Littlestone, Bachelor of Business Administration complete the list.

Contributions to the first Christmas Seal Sale in the world, in Denmark in 1904, went to build a hospital for children with tuberculosis.

Awards Given at Court of Honor

Grosse Pointe Congregational Church Boy Scout Troop 703 held its biggest court of honor on Tuesday, February 11, at which time two boys were awarded scouting's highest honor, the Eagle badge. Shown left to right, front row: Life Scouts ROGER BOWLER, ROBERT TAUGNER and

Science Award Winner Revealed

Upon his graduation in June from Grosse Pointe High School, Ken German, son of the Kenneth Germans, of Montana road, will receive the Bauch & Lomb honorary science award.

In past years the recipient of this award was not made public until the night of the graduation. June winners will now be announced in February so they will be able to apply for one of the scholarships sponsored by the University of Rochester by the Bauch & Lomb Optical Company, in Rochester.

Thirty-two boys and three girl graduates of Grosse Pointe High School have received the bronze medal, a small symbolical figure of youth focusing rays of light on a laurel wreath.

Call Meeting of PTA Heads

Presidents of the Grosse Pointe Parent-Teachers Associations have been invited to attend a tri-county meeting, February 21 in the Veterans Memorial Building in downtown Detroit, at which recruitment for the 1958 Torch Drive will be discussed.

The Grosse Pointe P-T Associations form the Grosse Pointe Council of Parent-Teachers Associations, of which Charles Zentgraf of 77 Sunningdale, is president.

Association presidents asked include Ray MacArthur, 1190 Elford Ct., John R. Barnes School; Theodore Wilner, 1374 Nottingham, Defer School; Fred Hessler, 1354 Aline, Ferry School; Harry Carson, 88 Cambridge, Kerby School; Robert Dunwoodie, 663 University, Mair School; John Lapish, 2008 Beaufait, Mason School; Gerald Stoetzer, 1949 Littlestone, Monteith School; Donald Stunad, 21183 Lancaster, Parcels School; Lyle Hudson, 307 Mt. Vernon, Pierce School; Robert Zimmerman, 20895 Fleetwood, Poupard School; John Bookstanz, 62 Radnor Circle, Richard School; and Dolph May, 805 Balfour, Trombly School.

Mrs. Paul Hykes, 459 Rivard, president of the Grosse Pointe High School Mothers Club, and Anthony Manardo, 825 Rivard, president of the High School Dads Club, also have been asked to attend the meeting.

They are among PTA heads in more than 500 schools in Wayne, Macomb, and Oakland counties who are being asked to attend the meeting, to be held Friday morning from 10 a.m. to noon. Each PTA president has been invited to attend with one member of his or her group.

They will represent a total membership of approximately 12,000 parents in the area solicited by the annual Torch Drive, to be held this year from October 14 through November 6.

During the past year, the Torch Drive area was extended to include all of Macomb County, all of Wayne County except three townships, and 12 additional townships in Oakland County.

Speakers at the meeting will explain the importance of the work done by women solicitors in the Torch Drive and in maintaining local health and community services made possible by funds raised in the annual campaign.

The meeting will be held under the auspices of the United Foundation Women's Organization's recruitment promotion committee, headed by Mrs. Shelby Harrington as chairman.

DRIVER POSTS BOND

Frank M. Kalis of 3549 Gladwin, Detroit, was arrested by Shores police on Sunday, February 9, while he was traveling north on Lake Shore, and charged with reckless driving. He posted a bond of $125 until court date.

What widows can tell you about Wills...

Of all the tragic lessons widows have learned, probably the most important is this—

If the husband does not leave a Will, his widow may receive only a fraction (sometimes as little as one-third) of the estate he really intends for her.

In many cases like this, the widow is left with scarcely any security at all—even though her husband meant to leave her well provided for.

Is this what you want to happen? If not, see a lawyer and make your Will soon. Choose the executor with special care. For the executor must be experienced, financially responsible, and, of course, living, and a legal resident of Michigan when your Will is probated. These qualifications are assured when The Detroit Bank and Trust Company is named executor. And our fee is no more than the law allows an individual executor. For more details, call us any time. No obligation.

Free! Our 16-page booklet "Why a Will?" answers many questions you may have. Call WO 2-5670 for a copy, or send a postcard.

School Plans Science Fair

The Science Club at Grosse Pointe High School, sponsored by Joseph Devine, has set up committees for the forthcoming "Science Fair" to be held on April 19 in the new auditorium-gymnasium.

To Give Talk

"Getting Your Child Into College" will be the subject of a talk by JOHN CHANDLER, JR., sponsored by the Friends of the Grosse Pointe Library, on Wednesday, February 26, at 8 p.m. at the Grosse Pointe Public Library, 10 Kercheval.

Mr. Chandler, Headmaster of the Grosse Pointe University School, an former Assistant Dean at Yale, is especially equipped to speak on this current problem according to William J. Newman, chairman of the committee of the Friends.

"With colleges and universities crowded," said Newman, "every parent is faced with the fact that his son or daughter must meet the higher standards demanded."

"Tuition is not the only requirement, and every parent intending to send children on for a higher education must be sure that they are being properly prepared to meet the standards for the degree they wish to earn," he added.

Commenting on Mr. Chandler's background Jay W. Sorge, president of the Friends, stated that the speaker prepared for college at Groton School and graduated in 1942. After serving in the Navy during the war, Sorge stated that Chandler joined the staff of the Dean's office at Yale while taking his Master's degree in Education.

"Mr. Chandler then became Assistant Dean at Yale and held this position until he came to Grosse Pointe University School in 1949," said Sorge.

"We feel," added Sorge, "that the educational problem is of such vital concern to everyone today, that such a talk is especially appropriate at this time."

The meeting is part of the regular series of programs sponsored by the Friends of the Library. There is no charge for admittance.

The East Suburban African Violet Club will meet at the Teen Center, 16300 Stephens drive, East Detroit, on February 26, at 8 o'clock.

Lane Rushmore of the Macomb County Agricultural Cooperative Extension Service will speak on soil, fertilizers, and soil sterilization. Guests are welcome.

Library Requests Aid on Calendar

Is your organization planning to present a community play on April 21? A Spring concert May 4? An illustrated lecture on missiles and the rocket age, March 12?

If so, have you contacted the Central Library of Grosse Pointe to inform the library of the event so that the date may be recorded in the Community Calendar of Events? Have you cleared other tentative dates for future events in order to avoid conflicts with competing activities of other groups for the same date?

If you haven't, you have neglected to take advantage of a new service recently offered to the community by your public library.

The Central Library of Grosse Pointe maintains a calendar, consisting of a file of coming events in the community, which is available to all persons and organizations interested in such information. This service should be of special interest to all officers planning events for the coming months ahead.

As the Community Calendar is planned on an experimental basis and should be a useful and important service only insofar as local organizations cooperate, all officers and program chairmen are urged to avail themselves of this new service.

Why not contact Miss Mischler, Librarian-in-charge of the Community Calendar, at the Central Library, 10 Kercheval avenue, in person or by telephone (TUxedo 4-200) whenever an important event is planned or when setting up your programs for the coming year, so that the library records may be complete and up-to-date.

Parcells Bands Giving Concert

The Parcells Junior High School Bands will present their 6th Annual Winter Concert at 8 o'clock, Friday, February 21, in the school auditorium, Mack at Eight Mile road.

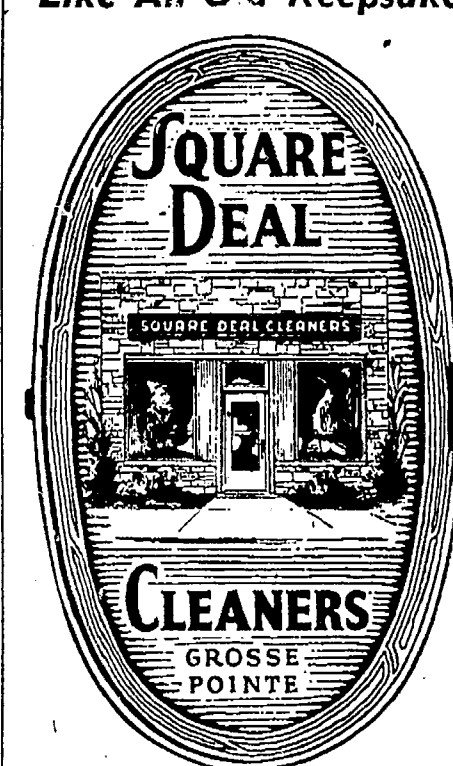

The program will be presented in two parts, the first of which will present the 66 piece Seventh Grade Band in its first public appearance this year.

This band will present the following numbers as its share of the program: "The Thunder March," by John Phillip Sousa; "Cathedral Echoes," John Morrissey; "Carnival for Trumpets," John Kinyon; "Cowboy Legend," Robert Powers; "Mexican Folk Dance," Robert Powers; and "Cachucha Samba," by John Morrissey.

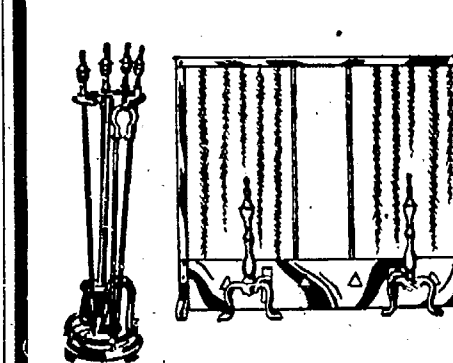

The second portion of the program will feature the Concert Band, which includes 73 players from the eighth and ninth grades. This half of the program will open with a march, "Summit" by Harold Bennett and will include "Trumpet Voluntary," Henry Purcell; "Apple Valley Overture" by Olvadotti; "Little Norwegian Suite," Eric Hansen; Jack Lawrence's "Tenderly" and a march, "Manhattan Beach," by Sousa.

Both bands are directed by Donald McNew of the Parcells School music department.

Title Defense Is Target Of Pointe Rowing Champ

Fort Gordon, Ga. — A dry land sailor! This is the present status of Pvt. Robert J. Walker Jr., at the Army's Signal Training Center here. But in July he hopes to get the chance to defend the national rowing championship he won last year in Philadelphia.

Walker, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Walker, 1185 Nottingham road, Grosse Pointe, Mich., teamed with his brother, William, to win the National Doubles Rowing Championship in the lightweight division.

A student in the Southeastern Signal School's Power Equipment Maintenance course, Walker is hopeful he will be stationed in the East so he can defend his title.

Although the Army does not have rowing tournaments of its own, Walker wants to represent the service in the 1958 championship regatta.

"I'd like to row in both the single and double sculls. Of course in either case I would be representing the Army," he said.

Before entering the service last September, Walker rowed as a member of the Detroit Boat Club for six years. During that time he won a number of national and Canadian titles.

His first major victory came in 1954 when he won the National Scholastic Rowing Championship. Then, in 1956, Walker and his brother combined to win the Canadian National Doubles Rowing Championship — breaking a course record that had stood for 13 years. Again the following year the brother team won the Royal Canadian Henley Regatta.

Walker has competed against some of the finest oarsmen in the sport. Last year in Philadelphia he rowed against Jack Kelly Jr., brother of Grace Kelly, now the Princess of Monaco. Kelly, regarded as one of the best American oarsmen today, won the race although Walker was close behind in third place.

"I may have finished in third behind my brother, Jack, but I was too far back to meet Princess Grace," Walker quipped.

Although he considers his national championship last year a high point in his career, Walker says his greatest thrill came in 1956 when he rowed as a member of the Detroit Boat Club in the Olympic try-outs.

Unfortunately, his club drew Yale, eventually the Olympic champions, as its opponent in the first trial heat and lost by one-half of a length in the closing seconds of the race. You might say Walker missed the chance to be an Olympic champion by a stroke of the oars.

As Walker tells it, "I felt that sooner or later I might be able to win the National championship if I entered each year. But I didn't think I'd get that close to a berth on the Olympic team."

While rowing is his main interest, Walker doesn't confine his activities to that alone. In 1955, he competed in the Amateur Athletic Union's Junior Marathon foot race. He placed fifth in the grueling 26 mile event . . . a grind that many starters fail to finish.

Walker became interested in long distance running events

GOOD TURN TODAY?

Have you done your good turn today? . . . Boy Scouts, as you probably know, pledge to do a good turn every day—and right now, throughout the land, the Scouts are conducting a National Safety Good Turn. The Spring phase of a program will stress traffic safety and you'll be encountering Scouts at service stations throughout Michigan in the weeks ahead. They'll be distributing literature on safe driving, doing their bit to help reduce traffic accidents . . . Michigan's trucking industry salutes the Boy Scouts of this great state and pledges all-out support of the Scouts' Safety program. Professional truck drivers are thoroughly trained in safe driving practices and many of them operate hundreds of thousands—even millions—of miles without an accident. They are happy to join the Scouts in urging Michigan's motorists to Drive Carefully!

Man Caught Burglarizing Bar Mute at Examination

Earl J. Christensen, 26, of 16417 Moenart, Detroit, waived examination when arraigned before Judge Grant E. Armstrong on Thursday, February 13, on a charge of burglary.

Christensen stood mute and a plea of not guilty was entered for him, and a bond of $2,000 was set. This could not be met, and the accused man was turned over to the custody of the Wayne County Sheriff's Office until trial date in Circuit Court.

Christensen was arrested on Monday, February 10, by Farms police who surprised him in Ernie's Lounge, 18744 Mack avenue, in the act of burglarizing the place.

He was discovered by Patrolmen Otto Glanert and Donald Pilon, who were making a routine check of doors of business establishments along Mack.

Patrolmen Francois Belanger and Francis Kerbrat answered the call for assistance. The four policemen barged into the cafe with drawn guns, surprising Christensen, who when called on to surrender, gave up meekly, saying "Okay, you got me."

The officers recovered about $400 in cash and about $115 in cigars, which was taken from the bar. These were in a large tan suitcase, which also contained burglar tools.

Police also discovered Christensen's cash, later found to have been rented from a Detroit car rental firm, nearby. A search turned up a loaded .38 caliber revolver on the seat, and loot believed taken from a theater in Warren, and more burglar tools in the car's trunk.

Two Honored At Georgetown

Two Grosse Pointe boys, Richard C. Kullen Jr., 19, and Donald F. Hudenburg, 20, were recently elected to the editorial board of the Georgetown University newspaper, the "Hoya."

Richard Kullen, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard C. Kullen Sr., was chosen News Editor for the year 1958. He was a 1956 graduate from University of Detroit High School and is a sophomore at Georgetown University in Washington, D.C.

Richard, an outstanding student, holds the coveted Sears Merit Scholarship. He is a social sciences major and plans to go on to law school after graduation from Georgetown with the possibility of a career in the State Department in mind.

Richard has been an active debater, belonging to the Philodemic Debating Society, the oldest debating society in the U.S. He is business manager of the literary magazine, the Journal, is a member of the French Club, and presents a weekly disc jockey program over the Georgetown radio station, WGTB.

He resides with his parents at 452 Roland, Grosse Pointe Farms.

Donald P. Hudenburg, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hudenburg, was chosen Business Manager of the newspaper. A three-year staff member, he previously held the post of Circulation Manager.

Don is a graduate from Gonzaga High School in Washington, D. C. and holds a scholarship to Georgetown. He resides with his parents at 806 Notre Dame, Grosse Pointe.

Mrs. Rutledge to Open Home for Anniversary.

Mrs. Paul Rutledge, of Lochmor boulevard, will open her home Thursday, March 13 at noon for the 10th anniversary of the Ada M. Kies Circle of the King's Daughters and Sons. The party will help raise funds to build a porch on the group's Home for Aged on Pierson avenue. This is the first in a series of bridge-luncheons.

Maire School Scouts Become Eagles

ALBERT O'NEAL, EAGLE JOHN MAZER, MRS. JOHN MAZER, MRS. ANDREW C. BRATTON, EAGLE GERALD C. BRATTON and committeeman JOSEPH KIKEL.

Troop 703 Holds Court of Honor

Two boys became Eagle Scouts, another was honored with the Eagle Bronze Palm and four were made Life Scouts on Tuesday, February 11, as Troop 703, sponsored by the Grosse Pointe Congregational Church, held its biggest court of honor.

Other awards made were three Star Scouts, six first class, six second class and five tenderfoot. A total of 90 merit badges were given to 17 boys.

The Eagle awards went to James Taugner and Larry Luke. Lauren Bowler won the bronze palm, having previously completed his Eagle requirements. The new Life Scouts are Willard Lenz, Robert Taugner, Roger Bowler and Steven Christian.

The ceremony was held in the church house at Chalfonte and Lothrop, with Karl Firth, troop chairman, and Frank Taugner, scoutmaster, officiating.

Eagle awards were presented by Thomas Walker, district scout executive.

Other honors were awarded by Taugner and Webster Bowler, explorer advisor. Colored slide pictures of some of the troop's recent campouts were shown to the audience of mothers and fathers.

Award winners in the Star Scout class were Douglas Firth, Steven Christian and Robert A. Wells.

New first class scouts were

Allen Huizinga, Douglas Firth, William Fleck, Gordon Hillock, Michael Redlin and Jim Standish.

Second class awards were given to Eric Steil, Bill Stotts, Jack Thomas, Paul Kyzivat, Jim Standish and Jeffrey Christian.

The tenderfoot rank was presented to Michael Briscoe, David McKee, Bill Mumaw, John Reha and Robert Spreckell.

The merit badges went to many of the boys who won other awards, and to Paul Rentenbach, Joseph Lanz, Dan Johnson, William Damon, John Held, Michael Heaphy, William Ramsay and John Lanz.

To Hold Panel At St. Paul's

A panel discussion with audience participation will be presented on March 7, the feast of St. Thomas Aquinas, at St. Paul High School.

Speakers Jim Cross, Marty Trombley, Judy Woodworth, Jim Burns, Barb Bigham and Joe Rotole, all Seniors, will present St. Thomas's view on such controversial subjects as "International Peace," "Sanctity and Marriage," "War between Capital and Labor," "The Church's Interest in the Individual," and "St. Thomas' Attitude toward the Student."

The complete program is under the direction of Donna Herbert, also a Senior.

The panelists will find their material in St. Thomas's famous "Summa Theologica" and in Fr. Walter Farrell's Companion to the Summa and "My Way of Life."

This program was established at St. Paul's in 1952. It has become an annual event which pays tribute to a saint who, because of his great wisdom, has been proclaimed the patron of Catholic schools.

It's your money. Why settle for a small car that costs no less? Why put out hundreds of extra dollars and get no more?

Get all the car you're paying for!

You want all you can get for your new-car dollar. So here's how to size 'em up on value.

When you stack this big Swept-Wing 58 Coronet up against small cars in the "low priced" group, there's just no comparison. Dodge looks like a lot more car. Feels like more car. Rides like more car. Is more car.

YET HERE'S THE SHOCKER. 59 models in the "low priced 3" actually cost you more. That's based on published industry list prices.

NOW FOR THE SECOND SHOCKER. Let's match this Dodge Coronet against others in its own big car field—costing hundreds and even a thousand dollars more. Dodge is the longest, lowest, roomiest and most advanced in styling and features.

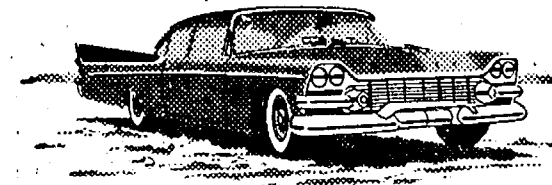

The decision is yours. We'll just remind you once more: Get ALL the car you're paying for.

All the bigness and roominess—the solid feel on the road that no small car can match—are yours for the same money others pay for most models in the low priced 3. And Swept-Wing styling is years ahead.

All the engineering advances that leave other big cars far behind can be yours at rock-bottom cost. Dodge Push-Button Driving obsoletes shift selectors. Total-Contact Brakes give top stopping power.

All the great riding and handling qualities of the most costly cars are built into the big Dodge Coronet. Torsion-Aire Ride is yours at no extra cost. Full-time power steering at the same price as part time systems.

All the big-car power that put Dodge head and shoulders above the field in California State Police tests can be yours in Coronet models... right up to the tremendous 333 h.p. Super D-500.

How to Profit Through Tax Exemption

With today's high tax levels, investors in medium and high tax brackets are turning to tax-free Municipal Bonds for income that they can keep.

If you have a taxable income of $10,000 or more, you may be well repaid by investigating the advantages of tax-exempt State and Municipal Bonds. For instance, if you file a single return on a taxable income of $14,000, you would have to receive a dividend return of 7.45% on a taxable security in order to equal the yield from a 3.50% tax-free Bond. It's something to think about!

Our New Booklet, "How To Profit Through Tax-Exemption" explains in plain language your need for tax exemption, tells how much these high-grade investments can be worth to you. There's no obligation. Send for copy today, or phone

St. Paul Students Receiving Honors

On the basis of scholarship, character, service, and leadership, Seniors Gary Anderson, Ken Frankland, Chris Galant, Marge Kaye, Pat McCormick and Carolyn Voight and Juniors, Kathy Farnam and Dan Miller have recently been selected as members of the National Honor Society's Paulite chapter.

They, with the nine previously elected members, are to be inducted into the society at St. Paul's first investiture ceremony, on February 21. Seniors receive the symbolic hoods of honor and Juniors, gold honor cards.

Through monthly meetings members will strive to raise the standards of scholarship and learning for others and to better prepare for a college education.

Schedule Annual Easter Tour to Glorious Hawaii

Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Short of Harvard road will again escort a tour to Hawaii during the Eastern vacation.

The tour will leave Detroit by plane Thursday evening, April 3 and return Sunday, April 13. A longer stay in Hawaii, according to Mr. Short will be arranged for those who wish to extend their vacation period.

A low rate of $554.00 for the 10-day trip and $589.00 for the 15-day trip is announced. Upon arrival in Hawaii the members of the tour will be welcomed at the airport with the usual presentation of leis for each member, before being transferred by limousine to the hotel.

The beautiful Princess Kaiulani, the newest of the Matson Line Hotels at Waikiki has been selected for the party's stay in Honolulu.

Included in the features are a sumptuous dinner at the Royal Hawaiian Hotel and a Mahini dinner at the Princess Kaiulani.

Among the sightseeing trips are a 35-mile drive affording a panoramic vista of Honolulu, en route to Mt. Tantalus, which is an interesting all-day circle tour with stop-over for luncheon. A boat cruise is planned to Pearl Harbor viewing "Battleship Row" and the sunken

Shores Traffic Violators Pay

Driving on the wrong side of the road on an icy pavement and forcing police to chase him at excessive speeds before he was apprehended on Lake Shore road, cost Michael E. Ocelvany of 1410 Hawthorn one of the heaviest fines ever imposed by Shores Judge John Gillis.

Ocelvany appeared before Judge Gillis on Monday, February 10, and pled guilty to a reckless driving charge, reduced from drunk driving, and paid a fine of $150 and $7.50 court costs.

Another heavy fine was levied against Harry J. Nielson of 22827 Englehardt, St. Clair Shores, who was found guilty by the judge, of reckless driving on Lake Shore. He paid $107.50.

Robert V. Leslie of 4419 Lakewood, Detroit, was found guilty of speeding on Vernier road and paid a fine of $25. Taking into consideration that the man has a traffic record dating back to March 1952, Judge Gillis put Leslie on a year's probation, during which he is forbidden to drive.

Grady A. Blackwell of 1211 Twenty-Second street, Detroit, was found guilty of violating Section III of Ordinance 84, possession of beer by a minor, and fined $10. He was arrested for speeding on Lake Shore, after which the other violation was discovered.

Noval N. Luxon, Jr., of 1430 Hibbard, Detroit, was found guilty of speeding on Lake Shore and driving without ever acquiring a driver's license, and paid a fine of $20.

Church Acquires New Assistant

The Harper Woods Church of the Brethren, 19678 Lochmoor Drive at Church Court, has obtained James Merrifield of Champaign, Illinois, as Director of Youth Work and assistant to the pastor, the Rev. Olden D. Mitchell. Mr. Merrifield began his work the first of February, following a special training course for two months at the New Windsor, Maryland, Brethren Service Center.

Mr. Merrifield is serving the local church through the program of Brethren Volunteer Service, a program whereby hundreds of college age and older young people give a year of service without salary to some phase of the church's world-wide work.

Many of these B.V.S. workers are assigned to assist in the program of relief and rehabilitation carried on in many countries of the world by the Church World Service organization of the National Council of Churches. Some of the Volunteer youth workers serve in local churches, while others give a year or two of service to inter-denominational church projects.

Two years of training were received by Mr. Merrifield at Manchester College in Indiana. Following his period of service in the local church here, he plans to resume his college training, and then take his seminary training in preparation for the pastoral ministry at the church's graduate theological school in Chicago, Bethany Biblical Seminary.

As a pre-ministerial student Mr. Merrifield will, in addition to his youth activities in the local church, also serve as a pastoral assistant in the total program of the church.

In the Worship Service of the church at 11 a.m. on February 16, Mr. Merrifield presented the message, interpreting the Volunteer Service Program.

Margaret Sterne To Give Lecture

Dr. Margaret Sterne, of Wayne State University, will present an illustrated lecture "From the Water Wonderland to the Blue Danube" at Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center, Wednesday evening, February 26, at 8:15 o'clock. The public is cordially invited without charge.

Born and educated in Germany, Margaret Sterne married and came to the United States in 1925. After serving as rotogravure editor of the Detroit News, she traveled extensively for several years in Europe, took her master's degree and began teaching at Wayne.

After completing her doctorate at the University of Michigan, Dr. Sterne in 1952 was awarded a Fulbright Research Scholarship for a year in Austria. In 1955 she was asked by the United States Foreign Service to lecture throughout Germany and Austria to give those people a better concept of our way of life.

In speaking at the Center, Dr. Sterne will give an insight into the European way of life, drawing interesting and entertaining comparisons which can be done only by one who has experienced fully both cultures.

Her talk will be made doubly interesting by the showing of the excellent slides her husband, Bernhard Sterne, Chrysler experimental engineer, has taken on their many travels.

An expert is any person who can stand the confusion of being cross-examined.

Institute Offers Design Exhibit

"Design in Detroit" pointing up the great variety of products other than automotive which are designed in this city will be a special exhibition at the Detroit Institute of Arts from February 27 through March 2. The display is being staged in cooperation with the Detroit Chapter of the Industrial Designers Institute and coincides with the 20th Anniversary Conference of the Industrial Designers Institute being held here.

Various design problems will be analyzed from preliminary sketches through study and revision stages to the final product. Household appliances, office equipment, business machines, industrial machinery, hi-fi and television cabinets will be among products covered.

Cooperating with the Art Institute in organizing the exhibition have been six industrial design offices of Detroit. These are: Sundberg-Ferar; Harley Earl, Inc.; William M. Schmidt Associates; Lawrence H. Wilson Associates; W. B. Ford Design Corp.; and Trembley, Pisani, Trombley.

Health Officials Gather

A report on public health needs in Michigan is examined at the ninth annual State Health Commissioner's Conference in Lansing by (left to right) Dr. M. R. French, director of the Kalamazoo County Health Department, and Dr. T. S. Davies, health officer of Grosse Pointe. The conference was called again this year by Dr. Albert E. Heustis, state health commissioner, to receive local health director's recommendations on how to meet health needs in Michigan. The conference was held February 5, 6 and 7.

Jaycees Plan to Honor Five

Michigan's Five Outstanding Young Men will be honored Saturday, February 22, by the Michigan Junior Chamber of Commerce, at Detroit's Statler Hilton Hotel. These men will have been chosen from 23 nominations from all over the State of Michigan, by a Senior Selection Committee of business and professional leaders of the community.

Awards for the Five Outstanding Young Men will be presented at a banquet sponsored by the Detroit Junior Board of Commerce as the climax of the Winter Conference of the Michigan Jaycees which will be held at the Statler Hilton February 21 through 23. Philip A. Hart, Lieutenant Governor of Michigan, will present the awards and be the principal speaker at the banquet.

The eight man Senior Selection Committee which will choose the five winners includes Father David Bayne, S. J., Dean of the University of Detroit Law School; Harvey Campbell, executive vice-president of the Greater Detroit Board of Commerce; Walter Folley, Dean of the School of Business Administration, Wayne State University; Keith B. Hackett, vice president of the National Bank of Detroit; Lester K. Kirk, president, Standard Accident Insurance Company; Harvey Patton, managing editor of the Detroit News; V. C. Wagner, vice-president, Albert Kahn Associated Architects & Engineers; and Sidney J. Winer, president of Creditors' Services, Inc. The winners are selected on the basis of service to their community and to their profession.

1958 marks the third year that the Michigan Jaycees have honored five outstanding young Michiganders, and the first time the event has been held in Detroit.

The Detroit Jaycees expect over 300 visitors from all sections of the state to be present for the awards banquet and the Jaycees' Winter Conference. The conference is the regular quarterly meeting of the state organization's 130 member chapters representing 6,000 Michigan Jaycees.

Joseph T. Brennan, chairman of the affair, announces that tickets are available to the public by contacting the Detroit Board of Commerce office, Detroit Leland Hotel, WO 3-3214.

Experience comes fast to the man who tries to have a big time on a very little money.

Elm Disease Parley Held

The Michigan Department of Agriculture, Plant Industry Division, in cooperation with Grosse Pointe City, sponsored a meeting in the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center on Friday, February 14. The purpose of the meeting was to discuss the control of Dutch Elm disease with area foresters, city officials and private arborists interested in the problem.

Dr. Ray Jones, Entomology Department, Michigan State University, and Professor Forest Strong, Department of Botany and Plant Pathology of the University, were present to answer questions concerning the disease and its control. Dean Lovitt, Assistant Chief of the Department of Agriculture's Plant Industry Division, served as discussion leader.

Some 15 area communities were represented at the meeting. In addition, there was a good representation of private arborists and park and golf course superintendents. All communities represented that have been conducting a control program for two or more years reported success in the control of the disease.

Noteworthy was the complete confidence of all present that proper and timely application of spraying and sanitation measures effectively controlled the disease in city and park areas. One community reported that the loss of trees from Dutch Elm disease has serious consideration is being given to the point where given to planting more elms.

She Has a Gripe

We received a telephone call during the week from a woman who was righteously indignant over a condition which she had found existing here, and which she would like to correct. She wanted to know if we could advise her as to where to go to get something done about it. We requested that she write us a letter which we could print, calling public attention to the matter as a starter. That letter has been received and we print it herewith.

To the Editor:
I trust the citizens of Grosse Pointe are aware of the fact that the Grosse Pointe Public School System is known nation-wide as one of the most outstanding systems in the United States. Among the most important contributing factors to this reputation is the excellence of our teaching staff.

However, I doubt that the citizens are aware of the following two facts that have recently come to my attention.

If a teacher is unable to live in Grosse Pointe, due to various reasons, (the main one, I am sure, being a financial problem), he or she is unable to take advantage of the Grosse Pointe parks. Also, the children of those teachers are unable to attend Grosse Pointe schools without paying tuition.

If we pride ourselves on our ability to obtain high calibre men and women to teach our children, I feel strongly that the least we can do is to offer park passes to the non-resident teachers, and make it possible for their children to attend Grosse Pointe Schools tuition-free.

Sincerely,
Elizabeth J. Kimbrough,
(Mrs. Richard M.)
88 Cloverly Road

February 10, 1958

To the Editor:

I wonder if from time to time you could use somewhere in the columns of your fine paper, something like the attached "Musings of an Old Man."

It is a little something different and takes older men for a moment away from the columns of society and sports you so amiably print.

Fred Karber,

MUSINGS OF AN OLD MAN

By Fred Karber

To the northward and the westward, beyond those gray, green hills where the Cedar bends its silent way, there lies a village, a lonely, homely village, the village where I was born.

The old school, the little stores somewhat changed, the old smithy a garage now, are still there. The little white spired churches, the old homes with their spacious lawns under the old elms where the Jones and the Fergusons and the Schmitzes lived, are there; beyond those rolling hills the undulating landscape is speckled with white houses and gray barns.

Now, as I sit these long winter evenings I love to go back in the lanes of memory to those scenes of long ago. Back to the old farm, back to the deep ravine where we fought Bunkerhill, where we camped in Valley Forge and crossed the Potomac over the little creek in the hollow.

Long since I left those realms of peace and quiet and visited the scenes that instill the love of country and patriotism into youthful hearts. I have stood on hallowed ground and held silent communion with men that lived and worked and died to make this a land of refuge for the oppressed; men whose names are recorded in the annals of history as founders of a Temple of Hope, where the common and oppressed from far-flung lands have come to cherish their innate ideals of liberty and freedom.

It is true we have had internal strife from time to time; we have had dishonesty among men in exalted positions, men who have conspired to defraud and wallow in the dirt of corruption. But the dignity and sovereignty of the flag dedicated to the ideals of peace among nations will remain.

Today, the puny mind of common men; perhaps rich in memory but poor in judgment of the tumult and turmoil in the world today, grows weary and tired trying to decipher the efforts of man to destroy. We often wonder if it was ordained that this should be so. We often wonder if it was ordained that man in his curiosity should search the secrets of nature to find the nuclear elements that may destroy him. We often wonder if it was orained that man should traverse the limitless beyond to explore the handiwork of creation; if he should traverse beyond the orbits of his own world where he has failed to create a congruous state among nations.

Science—the pessimist—to-day has cast a sinister pall over the heaven of free men—a portent of disaster; but we have faith that science—the optimist—will halt this contagion of fear.

We have faith that all the efforts of man to bring this world out of savagery, all his efforts along the long road to civilization; that all his art and music and skill and religion are not in vain. We have faith that somewhere in this great land of ours there are men, big men, in the halls of government, in our mighty factories, or the hills beyond the Cedar, men who are impregnated with the wisdom to create a harmony between man and man.

We have faith in American leadership; be it in the alleviation of the worlds oppressed or be it in the schools of systematic knowledge to challenge the creators of world missiles. We have an infinite faith in the skill and knowledge of the men whom we trust can eliminate the ominous forebodings that have disturbed the mind of the world today; men who will uphold American traditions in peace or war.

Such are the thoughts that race through the mind as we meditate on world happenings today and seem to create a longing for the quaint and peaceful days of long ago on the banks of the winding Cedar.

To The Editor:
Like many others of this community I was deeply shocked to read on the front page of our weekly newspaper that the supermarkets now are opening for business as usual on Sunday.

Like most of my fellow Christians, I object to this on moral and religious grounds. But I object to it also as a businessman on the basis that it is a short-sighted and unprofitable thing for the supermarkets to do.

How so?
In the first place, any competitive advantage that one of them gets over another is sure to be short-lived. According to the news reports, Wrigley's was the first store to open on Sunday. On the very next Sunday, Kroger opened also. In a matter of months (or even weeks)—virtually ALL the supermarkets of this community will be open on Sundays. Each store will righteously proclaim, "We didn't want to open on the Sabbath but our competitors have driven us to it."

With supermarkets running full blast seven days a week, will people of this community buy more groceries? Of course not. They will simply spread the same amount of buying over seven days instead of six. Many families who used to shop on Thursdays or Saturdays now will shop on Sundays. But they won't spend any more money than before! You might like it to cutting an apple pie into seven pieces instead of the customary six. You might have more pieces but you don't have more pie.

With this situation existing, each store will have no more money in the till at the end of a long, 7-day week—and the chances are good that it will show less profit than with a 6-day operation.

This is inevitable because, as you well know, it costs money to open a store on Sunday. There's the cost of heating and electricity and general maintenance. But most of all there's the cost of wages. Employees don't work for free on Sunday or any other day.

So just what have you accomplished, really?
You have increased your cost of doing business by approximately one-seventh. But you have added no additional sales volume. What else can the final result be except smaller profit for all?

And then there's the public relations factor which, apparently, you choose to ignore. One will, I believe, find it equally sound today.

There is a dear little old lady in town whose escapades sometimes leave us breathless. We hope, if we are fortunate enough to live as long as she, that some of her breeziness will rub off on us. One day last week I was just a mild example of this gal's activities.

Grosse-Exaggerations

A. PRYOR

"For as we come and as we go (and dead soon go we!)
The people, Lord, Thy people, are good enough for me!
And when they bore me overmuch, I will not shake mine ears,
Recalling many thousand such whom I have bored to tears.
And when they labour to impress, I will not doubt nor scoff;
Since I myself have done no less . . . and sometimes pulled it off!"

(Rudyard Kipling)

There is a dear little old lady in town whose escapades sometimes leave us breathless. We hope, if we are fortunate enough to live as long as she, that some of her breeziness will rub off on us. One day last week I was just a mild example of this gal's activities.

In the first place, on this particular day, she had turned down two invitations . . . one for a luncheon and one for an afternoon bridge party and tea in honor of a contemporary's birthday. All this was turned down because she had a previous date to go to a lecture downtown, followed by lunch.

After a hearty meal of kidney stew, salad and a sweet . . . our heroine noted the hour was still young, so decided to drive out to the Pointe and pop in on the hostess who originally invited her. When she arrived, they had just finished eating . . . but the hostess insisted our gal have cake and coffee with them . . . then she wrapped up some of the luncheon sandwiches and stuck them in her guest's roomy reticule.

When this little gathering broke up . . . it was still too early for our Bird to THINK of going home, so she got someone to drive her to the birthday-bridge party which was being held at the War Memorial. . . . She asked someone where "the bridge game was being held" . . . and stepped out of the elevator onto that particular floor. There were seven tables of bridge going on and we MEAN going on. You could hear the proverbial pin drop as the ladies plied their skill at the card tables. But nothing stops our heroine . . . who by the way is slightly near-sighted. She stood in the doorway and yelled "Happy Birthday" at the top of her flute like voice. All motion stopped as the room full of women looked up in stark raving astonishment, saying absolutely nothing.

To shorten this book . . . as she moved into the room she realized she was in the wrong place!!! HOWEVER, nothing goes wrong for this charmer, nor does anything ever phase her. It so happened that two of the women in the room knew her . . . and it also happened that one table was playing Canasta because they were short a bridge player. Our heroine was prevailed upon to stay and join the table of bridge . . . which she not only DID . . . but went off with the grand prize for the highest score of the afternoon!

Tired yet? Well, she wasn't. She finally went home, had herself a nice snort, ate the sandwiches that had been forced upon her and went out that night to play poker with some friends . . . followed by a hefty night lunch before taking off for home and bed.

(We got so tired just writing this that we had to lie down for awhile and rest.)

A group of us were whooping it up the other evening in front of the fireplace with hot chocolate when the conversation sneaked around to peoples' ages . . . how much time they WASTE in life doing inconsequential things . . . and all that sort of rot, you know. A few highly interesting statistics came out of this harangue that we pass on to our more tidy-minded readers. Statistic one . . . If a man lives to be seventy and presuming he shaves every day of his life starting with the peach fuzz era . . . he will have spent seven months . . . just shaving!

One woman in the group stated that she didn't know about the shaving bit necessarily . . . but that HER husband spent so much time in the bathroom that if he lived to be seventy he would have spent 25 years in the bathroom!

Yet another guest told what we think is a truly fascinating story. A college friend of his was so madly in love with the girl he married that he resented every hour he was going to have to spend away from her. Having gone in for higher mathematics at school, he had it figured out that even if she got up every morning and had breakfast with him, drove him to work, met him after work etc. etc. etc., he would still (if they were married for say 50 years) . . . have spent about fifteen years away from her. He just couldn't bear the thought . . . soooo, he did the next best thing . . . never left her for a minute except for the 6 hours a day he spent at the office. They vacationed together, he helped in the kitchen so she wouldn't be out of sight, they had one bathroom with double wash basins so as not to be apart EVEN THEN . . . and guess what? They were divorced within three years!

We are wondering out loud about two things. One . . . if Mr. E. B. Rall ever received our thank-you note for all those BEAUTIFUL stamps he sent us when we asked for them via the column??? We also wonder whatever happened to the choleric gent from Grosse Pointe Woods who used to write us such nasty letters which we always printed??? Could use some! Oh yes, another wonder. The yakky yak that is going on in the Pointe about the TV star who wears a Leopard Skin cap. The Leopard by courtesy of Roberts Furs and the millinery by courtesy of Irving. WOW-ZE-DOW!

We have left this paragraph for the end in case our esteemed Editor wishes to cut it out. We have wondered for YEARS why it is so tough to get a raise out of the old boy. (Just kidding about that OLD!) Now we know. Ran into his mother on the Avenue last week and she told us he sent her the loveliest Valentine card . . . full of hearts and flowers and sentiment . . . but instead of leaving it on her hall table . . . he mailed it WITHOUT a stamp . . . and she had to pay the three cents freight!

So long now . . . until the next time.

What Goes On at Your Library

By Jean Taylor

After viewing the exhibition of Sir Winston Churchill's work at the Art Museum last week, we re-read his delightful essay Painting as a Pastime, which first appeared in Amid These Storms and was reprinted as a separate book a few years ago.

In this slim volume the world's most famous amateur artist encourages would-be painters to take brush in hand. He regards his own talent with great humility, and makes it plain that he paints only for delight. He points out that he does not presume to explain how to paint, but only how to get enjoyment.

"Human beings," says Sir Winston, "may be divided into three classes: Those who are tormented to death, those who are worried to death, and those who are bored to death." "Armed with a paint box," he continues, "One cannot be bored, one cannot be left at a loose end, one cannot have several days on one's hands. Good gracious! What there is to admire, and how little time there is to see it in!"

Since he himself first handled a brush at the age of forty, he tells those who may begin this hobby late in life, that the first quality needed is audacity.

"There really is no time," he states, "for the deliberate approach. Thorough grounding is for those who, hearing the call in the morning of their days, are able to make painting a life-long vocation."

To those who would paint for fun and relaxation he warns, "We must not be too ambitious. We cannot aspire to masterpieces. We may content ourselves with a joy ride in a paint box. And for this, audacity is the only ticket."

A hobby to be of value, according to this great and wise man, must bring to each individual, whatever his category, a fresh outlook, a change of atmosphere, a diversion of effort.

This convincing brief for the cultivation of hobbies, particularly painting, may be read in less than an hour. You will find it rewarding whether or not you are led to buy a paint box and have a try. The book includes reproductions in color of eighteen of the paintings now on exhibit.

You will find on your library's shelves many books which will aid you in this fascinating pursuit.

Oil Painting is Fun by Alois Fabry consists of ten lessons in the art of oil painting for the amateur painter with instructions on the fundamentals of materials, color and techniques.

In How to Find Your Own Style in Painting, Kay Bethers discusses what style is, and how the kind of person you are will influence your style. He demonstrates this by illustrating the same subject painted in different ways. The author is an American painter who has traveled and painted in Europe, Central and South America, Canada and the South Seas. This study of style should be of interest to any artist, amateur or professional. Both of these books are 1957 publications.

Rxs . . . or a Long Hospital Stay

By FRED M. KOPP, R. PH.

A prescription costs less — far less — than a single day's stay in the hospital. Today, in most cases, just one or two prescriptions are all that a patient needs to get well. But years ago, he would have had to go through a long, expensive session at the hospital. That's why we say:

Today's Prescription Is the Biggest Bargain in History

FORD SALES SET RECORD

Ford Motor Company's sales of $5,771,300,000 in 1957 were 24.2 percent greater than in 1956 and highest in the company's history, Henry Ford II, president, announced. The company's net income in 1957 was $282,800,000, 19.5 percent above the 1956 level, but below that of 1955. Per share earnings amounted to $5.20, compared with $4.38 in 1956. As a percent of sales, net income was down to 4.9 percent in 1957 from 5.1 percent in 1956.

Center Offers Russian Class

Beginning Monday evening, March 3, at 7:30 o'clock, beginning classes in Russian will start at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center, 32 Lake Shore road.

The class will meet twice a week, Monday and Wednesday evenings, for two hours over a period of 10 weeks.

Col. John D. Cannon will teach the class. Colonel Cannon was an instructor with the Marine Corps preparing officers to act as interrogators and, in case of emergency, intelligence officers. Colonel Cannon is now in Grosse Pointe and primarily occupied with Chrysler Corporation's Missiles Program.

He is a graduate of Dartmouth College and the Georgetown University Institute of Languages. He is proficient in conversational Russian and translation as well as having the ability to teach grammar and syntax.

Those looking to the future, seeking for world understanding or a helpful knowledge in future travel will be interested in this class which is limited to 10. To enroll please call TU 1-7511.

4 Drivers Post Traffic Bonds

Four persons posted cash bonds with Shores police for serious traffic violations committed while driving on Lake Shore road.

On Sunday, February 9, Edward J. Pokorski of 3529 Toepfer, Hazel Park, was arrested for reckless driving and he left $150 with authorities to guarantee that he will appear in court on a set date.

Also accused of reckless driving in a separate case was Frank M. Kalis of 3549 Gladwin, Detroit, who was apprehended on the Sunday date. He posted $125.

Ramey V. Brown of 20696 Country Club, Harper Woods, was stopped for violation of the State Drunk Motor Law on Thursday, February 13. His bond was set at $150 until his court date.

On the same day, William H. Donner of 30452 Krauter, Garden City, was stopped for reckless driving and posted $125. It was also found that he was wanted by Garden City for violation of probation. He was turned over to the authorities of that city.

Grimond to Give Talk at Center

Joseph Grimond, leader of the Liberal Party in the House of Commons will speak on "Points of Mutual Interest" at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center Tuesday evening, February 25, at 8:30 o'clock.

The lecture is being sponsored by the English Speaking Union of Detroit with co-sponsorship by the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association. The public is cordially invited without charge. A reception will follow the talk.

Mr. Grimond first entered Parliament in 1950 filling the seat for the Orkney and Shetland Islands where he has remained with increasing majorities through every election since. He has been Chief Liberal Whip in the Commons since 1950 and in 1956 was elected leader of the Liberal

3 Cars Crash At Intersection

The combination of twilight, heavy rush-hour traffic, and the ill-fated corner of Jefferson and University resulted in a messy three-car accident Thursday, February 13.

Thomas J. Lucas, of 720 Newport, in Detroit, was headed east on Jefferson when he slowed down for a car making a right-hand turn on Rathbone place.

Behind him, headed in the same direction, was Jack M. Ashcroft, of 22537 Myllo, in St. Clair Shores. He swerved out into the center lane in an effort to avoid hitting Lucas, and in so doing slammed into the rear of a third car, driven by Raymond Hodgson, of 570 Renaud.

Not content with the single score, he whipped back into his original lane, careening into the rear of Lucas' car.

A ticket for not having his car was the obvious conclusion for Ashcroft. Hodgson was first issued a witness notice, but was later mailed a ticket upon the citizen's complaint of Mr. Ashcroft. Lucas eased out with a witness notice.

All three drivers are to appear in Traffic Court February 25.

Edmund J. Boell, of 2587 Lakewood, and is survived by her children, Dr. J. William Boell, of Saginaw; Edmund J. Jr., of Kalamazoo; and Mrs. Arthur R. Blyler (Patricia), who also leaves eight grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Thursday, with burial following in Mt. Olivet Cemetery.

BEATRICE PHILLIPS
Mrs. Phillips died Sunday, February 16. She lived at 826 Lincoln road. Surviving are her children, Mrs. Harold Frear, Mrs. Clarence Tott, and Mrs. John Wilt.

Funeral services were held Wednesday, with burial in Mt. Elliott Cemetery.

RAYMOND L. MORRISSEY
Mr. Morrissey, 60, of 154 Cloverly road, died Monday, February 17. He is survived by his wife, Helena, and children, Mrs. Kenneth Forbes, Mrs. James Seaborne, and Mrs. John H. Murphy II. He also leaves a sister, Clare.

Funeral services will be held today, Thursday, in St. Paul's on the Lakeshore, with burial following in St. Paul's Cemetery on Moross road.

A native of Southbridge, Mass., he was manager of the manufacturing engineering division of Ford Motor Company. He was a designer of automation equipment. Mr. Morrissey lived in New York City before moving to Grosse Pointe 12 years ago. He was a member of the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club and the American Society of Tool Engineers.

FLORA LARNED ANDERSON

Miss Anderson, 84, died Saturday, February 15. She lived at 387 Mt. Vernon road, and had been a resident of Grosse Pointe the past 25 years. She was born in Fenton, Michigan.

Miss Anderson was a former assistant principal at Southeastern High School. Prior to that position, she had taught at the old Detroit Central High School.

Always tireless, even after her retirement, she remained active in civic and church affairs. She was Parliamentarian and a member of the board of directors for the Women's Republican Club, an active member of the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church and AAUW, and a charter member of the Senior Club at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

A sister of the late Abner E. Larned, she leaves a sole survivor, her great-nephew, Cortland K. Larned, Jr., of Detroit. Funeral services were held Wednesday, with interment in Midland, Michigan.

Banquet Held By Cub Scouts

Cub Scout Pack 85 held its annual Blue and Gold Banquet at St. Michael's Episcopal Church on Tuesday night, February 4, at 6:30 p.m.

The total attendance was 193 which was typical of the usual keen interest which the Blue and Gold banquet creates annually with the Cub Scouts and their parents.

In addition to the regular officers and committees connected with Pack 85, the following were in attendance: District Representative of Boy Scouts, Charles Haynor and Mrs. Haynor, Institutional Representative, Afton Sauer and Mrs. Sauer, Principal of Montclair School, Dr. Marshall Jameson and Mrs. Jameson.

The banquet got under way with the introduction of all committees and Den Mothers. The outgoing Den Mothers were introduced and presented with attractive yellow carnation corsages.

Blue and gold den flags were presented to all dens with their numbers on the flags. This is the first time the individual dens have had flags.

Webelo Gary Behling was introduced and recognized for his life saving deed which occurred in December while vacationing with his parents in Clearwater Beach, Florida.

The tables were efficiently served by eight Girl Scouts from the troop of Mrs. Betty Dobbie.

The entertainment for the evening was furnished by Boy Scout Troop 451, under the direction of Mr. Heirington, from Lady Queen of Peace School.

To Show Film Of Matterhorn

"Adventure in Europe" a 16 mm color movie, featuring an exciting climb to the top of the famous Matterhorn, will be shown at the regular Grosse Pointe Cinema League meeting next Thursday evening, February 28, at 8 o'clock at the War Memorial Center.

The movie was taken by Wally Temple, Grosse Pointe attorney, whose travel movies have become extremely popular locally. Mr. Temple, with Mrs. Temple, and their daughter, Karen, spent three months motoring through Europe and making this film during the summer of 1957.

Mr. Temple's movie specialty has always been filming spots off the beaten tourist path and closeups of peoples of other countries in everyday living situations. His newest film takes the audience along back roads in Portugal, Italy, Spain, Austria and Switzerland.

Climax of the film of course is the perilous climb Mr. Temple made to the top of the Matterhorn in August. He made the trip with two guides and a porter, the latter carrying among other things 25 pounds of camera equipment. Outstanding pictures include one of the sunrise from the top of the Matterhorn, 14,576 feet above sea level.

This was Mr. Temple's first attempt at mountain climbing — his only previous experience he claims being on the Detroit City Hall steps. Preparation for the trip and the equipment needed, as well as the climb itself, make up a very unusual and interesting movie sequence.

This program is open to the public without charge. For further information call the War Memorial Center.

Band Members Awarded Honor

Six band members at Grosse Pointe High School were given first division ratings at the Southeastern Michigan Band Solo and Ensemble at Ypsilanti last Saturday, February 8.

Libbi Zinn was accompanied by Julia Henderson in a saxophone solo.

Dan Murphy played a trombone solo accompanied by Mike Kull.

Dave Kalember, accompanied by Kay Wunsch, played a clarinet solo.

Also accompanied by Kay Wunsch, Sherry Leslie, who received a second-division rating.

A clarinet quartet, composed of Dave Kalember, Dottie Hall, John Morrison, and David Jennings also received a first-division rating.

Launch Traffic Safety Program

Voluntary observance of traffic laws was the goal of a new traffic safety educational program that got underway in Detroit this week.

More than 1,200 posters were erected in the Detroit area, showing a drawing of a judge on the bench and carrying the message, "Observe Traffic Laws—They Protect You." An additional 1,300 are being erected in communities throughout Michigan. The posters are prepared by the Traffic Safety Association and posted in Detroit by the Department of Streets and Traffic.

Traffic Court Judges George T. Murphy and John D. Watts are well known in Detroit for their just but firm sentences for flagrant violators. Approximately one of every three drivers found guilty on state cases such as reckless driving, drunken driving and driver license offenses are given straight jail sentences with no alternative. The others are given stiff fines or are sent to jail when they are unable to pay their fines.

An aspect not so well known of what happens to bad drivers was revealed this week by Secretary of State James M. Hare. Hare said that official action was taken in 1957 to discipline or improve the driving of 82,119 Michigan motorists, approximately 20,000 of them in Detroit.

For compiling poor driving records, 21,935 Michigan motorists had their licenses suspended or revoked, the records showed. Another 13,606 drivers signed safe driving probationary agreements or were reduced to restricted licenses, while 33,725 drivers were sent to jail.

Pointe Business Notes

Appointment of Warren R. Jollymore to the General Motors Public Relations Staff was announced by Anthony G. DeLorenzo, vice-president in charge of public relations.

The appointment will be effective March 1. Mr. Jollymore will become a member of the Press, Radio and Television News Relations staff in the GM Central Office, Detroit. Since June 1, 1956, Mr. Jollymore has been director of public relations of GM's Cadillac Motor Car Division. He has been associated with General Motors since 1953.

Mr. Jollymore is a native of Proctor, Minn., and a 1946 graduate of the University of Wisconsin, where he studied journalism and won an NCAA boxing championship. For seven years he worked on the editorial staff of the Wisconsin State Journal in Madison. He lives at 609 Notre Dame avenue, Grosse Pointe.

George A. Gardella, president of the George A. Gardella

Company, wholesale food distributor, announces that George A. Gardella, Jr., has been made executive vice-president of the company. The Gardella Company is celebrating its 40th Anniversary this year.

Founded in Detroit in 1918, the Gardella Company has grown from a one-man, one-truck outfit to a multi-million dollar business. It is rated America's largest independent distributor of frozen foods and specialty foods.

The main plant of the Gardella Company is at 2036 Howard Street, Detroit. Branches are located in Toledo, Bay City, Flint, Grand Rapids, Jackson, Kalamazoo, Port Huron, Sault Ste. Marie and Traverse City.

George A. Gardella, Jr. grew up in the food business. Starting his early teens, he worked for the company part time and during vacations while attending high school and college. Following his graduation from Notre Dame, he joined the Gardella Company on a full time basis.

As executive vice-president, George, Jr. takes on supervisory duties as assistant to his father in directing the Gardella Company's constantly expanding business in Michigan and Northern Ohio.

Mr. Gardella is married and lives at 1180 South Oxford.

Election of H. E. Harmon to the board of directors of Hiram Walker-Gooderham & Worts, Ltd., was announced by Howard R. Walton, president. Mr. Harmon has been treasurer of the distilling firm since 1951.

A native of Sullivan, Illinois, Mr. Harmon is a graduate of the University of Illinois. He was appointed assistant comptroller of Hiram Walker-Gooderham & Worts, Ltd., in Walkerville in 1933. He was named comptroller in 1945.

Mr. Harmon lives at 31 Oxford road, Grosse Pointe Shores, and is a member of the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club, Country Club of Detroit, and the Essex Golf and Country Club.

PUP NIPS MISTRESS
"Won't you be mine?" might have been the thought of the dachshund who lives at 280 Lakeland avenue, as he took a nip at the lip of his little mistress, Emily Dauch, on Valentine's Day. Whatever the motive—she didn't appreciate his madness! She was treated at Bon Secours Hospital, and her pet is to be confined for the required ten-day period.

Money seems to be the root of all necessities—and most evils.

Marines were stationed on the U. S. Navy during World War II.

Grosse Pointe News

From Another Pointe of View

By Patricia Talbot

Not disheartened by the South's dismal chilly weather Mr. and Mrs. John W. Mulford will try again. They have just returned from a stay at Key Largo and will be off to the tourists' capital, Miami, this week.

They are going primarily to view the National Motor Boat Show but then they have exciting tickets for a trip farther South.

They will fly to South America with stopovers in Columbia, Venezuela, Trinidad and climaxing the jaunt with a stay at the Mill Reef Club in Antigua.

The Mulfords will be gone five weeks in all before returning to their Provencal road home.

Also spending a few of these bitter weeks in a warmer clime is Mrs. Charles B. Warren, Jr., of Washington road. She is in Cuba visiting the Roderick C. McNeils II, who spend their summers in Southport, Conn., but own a plantation named "Lana" in the sugar cane country, at Varadero Beach.

Mrs. Warren may go on to Boca Grande, Fla., before coming home in about three weeks. While she was away newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. Peter Paddock drove up from Cincinnati, O., last week end to greet old friends and stay in Mrs. Warren's home. This is their first trip back since their January 4 wedding.

Sun Valley Yearn

All skiers sextant for Sun Valley where the sport seems to reach epic heights both for beginners and experts. And Michigan skiers want to get in on the fun.

This Thursday six Pointers will drive to Chicago enroute to Sun Valley for their winter holiday. In the party will be the Dan Lee Johnsons, the Arthur Cerres and the Charles Trapps. The Johnsons have been practicing on slopes near their renovated schoolhouse near Gaylord. Their co-owners of the lodge are the Charles B. Johnsons, Jr., the Jack Sturtevant and the Richard Kimbroughs. They seem to be able to juggle week-ends with a minimum of fuss.

Snails at This Table

For stay at homes with jaded appetites the Hunt Club is tossing another of its famous sea food dinners this Saturday evening.

Oysters, lobsters, scallops, shrimps, king crab, all the denizens of the deep will be on the menu with an additional delicacy for the gourmets, snails, or escargots to those who have eaten them in Paris cafes.

The decorations will again be "Mary Mulford's murals," which are a club tradition for these dinners. Some mounted fish, prizes of various members' deep sea fishing expeditions will also be on display.

Among those with reservations are Dr. and Mrs. Milton Rueger, Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Seski, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Morris, the William Hagenmeyers, Dr. Charles McCarthy and the Kenneth Boerners.

Others are Mrs. G. E. Essington, Ferdinand Reich, the Robert Koebels, the Charles McFeelys, Jr., the Joseph Marshalls and the Donald A. Martins.

New Home Abuilding

Mrs. Koebel will be leaving soon with son, Robbie, for Naples, Fla.; that is, if the sun begins to shine there. (Continued on Page 14)

Sorority Plans Dessert Party

The Detroit Alumnae of Zeta Tau Alpha are planning a dessert bridge benefit party for Thursday, March 6, at 12:30 o'clock at Northland Hospitality House, Northland Shopping Center.

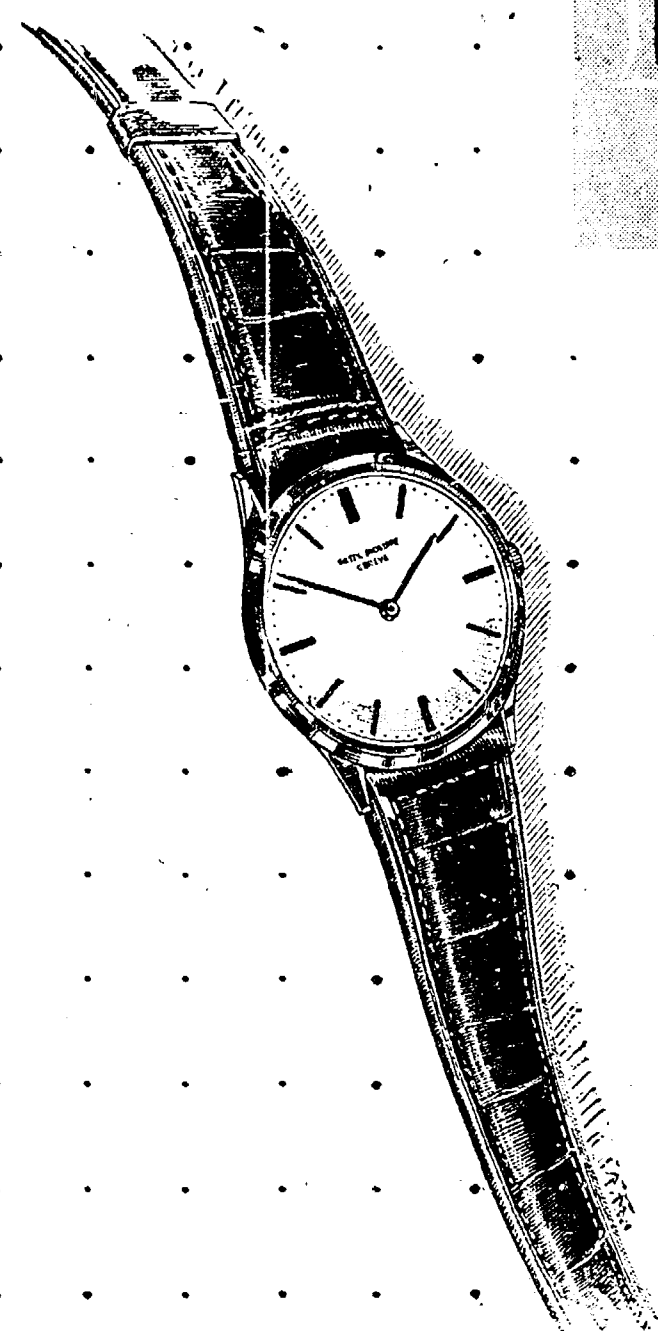

The proceeds will be contributed to the chapter's philanthropic project, the Detroit Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc., and the Cerebral Palsy Division of the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc.

The party is held in conjunction with the Easter Seal campaign which starts the same day.

The group has been interested in the Detroit Society for Crippled Children and Adults, 17330 Schaefer avenue, for several years. They do volunteer work at the Center as well as contribute funds.

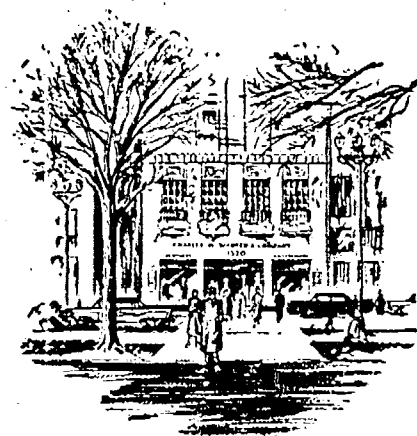

Nationally, Zeta Tau Alpha publishes the Cerebral Palsy Manual and distributes it to doctors and professional workers here and in many foreign countries. They also produce a number of film strips for the purpose of educating and instructing parents and children in the care and treatment of cerebral palsy.

Tickets and reservations are being handled by Mrs. Thomas Estes, 22943 Colony, St. Clair Shores, and Mrs. Richard Reiner, 9589 Lavern, Detroit.

Standish-Armour Vows Exchanged

Bride chooses gown worn by her twin sister for Her Wedding Saturday in Grosse Pointe Congregational Church

Last Saturday afternoon, in Grosse Pointe Congregational Church, Ann Armour, daughter of the James Wallace Armours, of Bishop road, was married to William Colburn Standish, Jr.

She wore the wedding gown of her sister, Mrs. L. B. Mason, fashioned of white satin trimmed with lace. The gown was styled with a jewel neckline and a lace bertha, long sleeves and a basque waist. More of the lace trimmed the full skirt.

Her beaded cap held a fingertip veil of illusion and she carried a gold prayer book with white orchids.

Mrs. Mason was her sister's matron of honor and the attendants were Mrs. Frank E. Standish, Mrs. Roger Van Der Kar, Betty Brady, of St. Clair Shores, and Mrs. Edward Williams, of Midland. The flower girl was Ann Mason, of Kalamazoo.

They were gowned alike in red velvet ballerina gowns with crowns of flowers. Their bouquets were of white carnations.

The bridegroom, son of the W. Colburn Standishes, of Lakeland avenue, asked his two brothers, Frank E. and Maj., Fred D. Standish to be his best men.

Ushering were James Allen, Mr. Van Der Kar, Mr. Mason, and McPherson Browning, of Lansing.

For her daughter's wedding and the reception which followed in the church parlors, Mrs. Standish chose a deep blue velvet gown with a matching small hat trimmed in feathers. Mrs. Standish was in blue lace.

When the newlyweds return from a wedding trip to Beloit, Miss., and New Orleans they will make their home on Rivard boulevard.

Surprise your family by serving them candied or glazed vegetables, says Anita Dean, foods and nutrition specialist at Michigan State University. Just make a syrup using two parts of brown sugar to one part of water. Place vegetables in a heavy pan and pour the syrup over it. Bake and turn it occasionally as you bake it at 350 degrees F.

In Hawaii are MRS. CHARLES A. DEAN, JR., of Lewiston road, and her daughter, MRS. CYNTHIA DEAN O'DAY, of Muir road.

Bradford Junior College, Bradford, Mass., reports that SALLY McHENRY, a senior, was among a group of students who visited art museums in Boston and Cambridge to study art works previously discussed in class. The museums included Fogg Museum and Busch-Reisinger Germanic Museum at Harvard University, Cambridge, and the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston.

Miss McHenry, the daughter of MR. and MRS. ALAN T. McHENRY, of Grayton road, also was a member of a group to visit the State Hospital at Danvers, Mass., for the purpose of studying conditions at the hospital. This was a field trip planned in connection with her course in psychology. A resident psychiatrist spoke to the class and answered questions.

Attend Parley On Education

Two members of Defer School PTA attended the Michigan Citizens Conference on Education, in Lansing, on February 11. Mrs. William Elmer, of 1100 Berkshire and Mrs. James Surbrook, of 1059 Berkshire, met with delegates from all over the state, some 2500 in all, to consider the problems of education in the space age.

The delegates were school board members, PTA representatives, school personnel, and other interested citizens. Laymen outnumbered the professional educators about five to one.

Dr. Lynn Bartlett, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, formerly Director of pupil personnel in Grosse Pointe Schools, set forth the purposes of the meeting—consideration of the curriculum of the future in order to meet the challenge of the Russians. He introduced the speaker of the day, Dr. Eric A. Walker, president of Pennsylvania State University.

Among other things, Dr. Walker strongly recommended a nationwide system of qualifying examinations for students in the 9th and 12th grades, curriculum revisions to meet today's needs, education of all students to the highest level of which they are capable.

He also urged that ways be found to motivate superior students with the desire to go to college, and that it be made possible for them to do so through a system of federal grants, or loans, to be paid back to the Government by means of additional income taxes starting five years after their graduation.

After Dr. Walker's address, the assembly divided into 20 study groups to discuss various problems more thoroughly. Mrs. Elmer attended the groups discussing "Educational programs for the elementary school of the future," and "Education to meet individual differences."

Mrs. Surbrook attended the study group discussing, "Education for the gifted child." She reports that this group discussed identification of the gifted child, the type of program to give him, and the role of the parent of a gifted child.

"No real decisions were made," says Mrs. Surbrook, "but there was a very spirited discussion. Many suggestions were made, and delegates told what their schools are doing to meet this problem."

Mrs. Elmer comments, "In a meeting such as this, enthusiasm is met with more enthusiasm."

dents participating in varsity athletics is CHARLES BEGG, son of MR. and MRS. BROOKS BEGG, of Lakeland avenue.

MARTHA SCHROTZBERGER, daughter of MR. and MRS. EDWIN SCHROTZBERGER, of Roslyn road, was recently pledged to Alpha Delta Pi at Michigan State University.

CHARLES G. LIDDLE, son of MRS. LEONA D. LIDDLE, of Roslyn road, was recently elected public relations director of the Farm House Fraternity at Michigan State University, East Lansing.

Coterie Dance Set for Mar. 1

Once again the Grosse Pointe Coterie is planning one of its fine dances on March 1 at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial between the hours of 9 and 12 p.m.

To those uninitiated, these are monthly affairs and are open to all married couples in the Grosse Pointe Area. They provide a way to get acquainted with new people or to get to know friends better. The admission charge is $3.00. Al Ross and his band play for dancing. Refreshments are served at no additional cost.

The theme of the evening will be a sort of prelude of St. Patrick's Day. Among those who plan to attend are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Laitner, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Driscoll, Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Ollila, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Juneman, Mr. and Mrs. William Fruittig, Mr. and Mrs. Barney Everett, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Rose, Mr. and Mrs. William Tate, Mr. and Mrs. William Schnell, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Handloser, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Holmes, Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Kraft, and many others.

Frederick M. Algers, Jr. Vacation in Palm Beach

Vacationing in Palm Beach, Fla., are the Frederick M. Algers, Jr., who have taken a house at the resort for the rest of the season.

The Algers left their Lincoln road home last week and stopped in New York where they visited her brother and sister-in-law, the Charles S. Deweys, Jr. David Alger will join his parents during his spring recess from Milton Academy.

Evidence of tuberculosis has been found in the skeletons of prehistoric man and in the mummies of ancient Egyptians.

From Another Pointe of View

They will visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence S. Roehm, of Stephen road, who are spending the winter there.

Mr. K. won't make the trip because he is deep in rehearsal for a lead role in the Grosse Pointe Community Theater upcoming production of "Front Page." And he will be on the spot to watch the first shovel of dirt scooped out on Hampton road for the new home the Koebels are planning. They hope to be in by September.

Also holding tickets for a trip South, but for the end of March are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Caskey, who will be escorting their children to Ft. Lauderdale by the sea.

Making the trip with the Caskeys and also taking their offspring will be the George Brookses, of Touraine road, and the George Gilfills, of Berkshire road.

Christening Party

Tuxis Club Variety Show Opens Feb. 27

Huge Cast feverishly busy with rehearsals for annual production to be given at Parcels School three nights

A fast and furious schedule of rehearsals is being maintained by the cast of "Flying High" as every act works to be in top form for the dress rehearsal next week of the tenth annual variety show sponsored by the Tuxis Club of the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

Susan Hykes, executive secretary for the show, reports that rehearsal rooms are at a premium and the gymnasium has been taken over by the scenery painters who are completing the many large and elaborate backdrops.

The show will open at Parcels Junior High School Auditorium next Thursday night, Feb. 27, at 8:15 and will be presented again the following two nights, February 28 and March 1.

Patrons are urged to be in their seats ahead of curtain time, for unlike Broadway shows, the Tuxis variety shows start on schedule. Chet Sampson takes great pride in giving the signal to raise the curtain promptly at the announced time. During the past nine years, enthusiastic supporters of the show have commented upon this and upon the fast moving pace made possible by the quick changing of scenery. The 1958 version of the Tuxis show promises to be one of the most elaborate ever presented. Everyone is aware that this is the tenth anniversary and so tickets are going fast.

"Flying High" will open appropriately with an airport scene and the opening number is "Tuxis Take-Off." With Hank van Lunenburg as vocal soloist a chorus of 20 boys and girls will sing "It's a Good Day for Singing a Song," "Beyond the Blue Horizon." Airline hostesses will gather together for the song "I'm the Hostess with the Mostess." After the take-off from the airport, the cast will follow a Lowell Thomas "Cinerama" typical itinerary visiting various spots of interest both in this country and abroad.

Along the way will be a visit to Siam. In "We are Siamese" Penny Rydholm will be the featured soloist as she is surrounded by Siamese maidens including Elizabeth Elliott, Sally Whittingham, Joan Hamann, Brenda Mason, Bette Busby, Betsy Gibson, Pat Price, Nancy Lauppe, Sharon Henry, Audrey Schmidt and Brenda Brown will play the part of Siamese cats.

Another scene laid in the Orient is "Shish Kabob." This number created at the Raval School of the Dance features Joyce Reuter as soloist with the following dancers: Carol Hutchins, Judy Osgood, Ardy Anderson, Cindy Lippincott, Jeanette Bomier, Carolyn Henning, Darlene Carson.

While in the Caribbean, a visit will be made to one of the islands where a Calypso dance directed by Kathy Wilson will be performed by Karen Taylor, Margo Gillespie, Midge Miller, Margie Shea, Shirley Walsh, Karen Kuivinen, Diane Wurst and Karen Belanger.

On a nearby island "Black Magic" will be performed by Janie Pratt, Sally Marsh, Sandy Steele, Leslie Schneider, Karen Warmold, Lynn Mathivet, Sue Sellheim, Pat Kendall, Nancy Neumann and Sue Gerstenberger.

Out on the western plains of the United States there will be an "Indian Pow-Wow." Sheila Simon will sing the "Indian Love Call" which will be followed by an Indian dance by Emmy Frolund, Barbara Farrell, Sue Lapsham, Gail Sneege, Roma Williams, Patricia Murphy, Georgia O'Connor, Karen Lancaster, Judy Berno, and Robin Fritz.

After John Cook sings "Heap Big Smoke But No Fire," there will be a "Redskin Romp" headed by the chief, Pat Ammes, with the following braves: Loyal Eldridge, Jim Odefer, Larry Brizese, Jim Forrest, Dale Kretschmar, Tom Asmus, Mike Grow, Mike Millis and Bob Tutag.

Returning eastward through the Rockies a stop is made in a mountain forest for a "Teddy Bear's Picnic" where we find Lexie Adams, Jane Cable, Carol Carbone, Penny Distin, Nancy Drennan, Jan George, Lyn Gray, Sue Hallenbeck, Mary Hartz, Sue Hykes, Dorothy Hyne, Pegi Jeffs, Carole Kenn, Marge Lehr, Ann Mair, Judy Pottle, Gloria Schmidt, Jill Strachan, Marilyn Taylor, Prudy Webb.

A featured stop is made in Grosse Pointe to honor the football champions of the Border Cities League for 1957. "BCL 1-9-5-7" includes: Lynne Dougherty, Fran Emerson, Ilona Gerlach, Carol Halbert, Karen Hancock, Sue Harper, Sharon Janals, Jan Knost, Priscilla Lyall, Sue MacDonald, Nada McClenahan, Ruth Merrick, Rosie Merrick, Rosie Meyer, Stevie Mocer, Margie Reins, Lois Anne Rupp, Linda Taylor, Penny Thewalt, Ann Ware, Martha Wilson.

A tribute to the "All American Girl" is paid by: Dottie Baver, Sue Butterfield, Mary Evelyn, Sharon Georgi, Marilyn Georgi, Peggy Henry, Barb Hopp, Audrey Lephram, Mary Etta Pilbeam, Gert Spreckell, Ellen Stanny, Kay Van Pelt, Pat Zaun, Vicki Zaun.

A new band has been organized for the show this year and will accompany the cast throughout the trip. Under the direction of Dan Murphy there are Nancy Easton, Ross Mul-

Gardeners Sponsoring Lecture Series

The Garden Center and the War Memorial Center are cooperating on a series of free lectures on gardening to be given at the Center on February 26, March 6 and March 14, at 2 p.m. each of the three days. Among those helping to arrange the series are, left to right, seated: MRS. LELAND

GILMOUR, horticulturist for the Garden Center; MISS MARIE LOUISE ANDERSON, membership chairman for the Garden Center. Standing: MRS. CLARENCE MCGUIRE, co-chairman; and MRS. BEN W. BEYER, chairman.

Fine Arts Prepares For Musical Show

Mrs. William Yeager directing cast which is headed by Mrs. Henry Klein and George R. Wilson; To be given March 7 and 8 at Players

Mrs. Henry Klein will play the glamorous French star of the Fine Arts upcoming musical, "Can Can", in rehearsal now for presentation March 7 and 8 at the Players.

George R. Wilson has the male lead in the production of the 1870 Montmartre musical comedy. Mrs. William Yeager is directing the effort with Dr. Chester Bogan guiding the music.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Jennings are the co-producers of the play which is now in rehearsal at Old Christ Church. Mrs. David Gamble is doing the choreography. Following the final curtain on opening night there will be a candlelight dinner given by Fine Arts.

The Left Bank of Paris locale is being recreated by James Bennett Hughes and the can costumes are the responsibility of Mrs. Everett Kinsey.

Mrs. Ellsworth Allison, Mrs. Richard Simonds, Mrs. Frank Finney, Mary Louise Goodson, William J. Dennes, Mr. Gamble, Mr. Yeager, Gordon Miller, John Kinsey and Don Bliss also have featured roles. Among the lovelies in the chorus are Mrs. Lawrence Verdier, Mrs. Milton Voelkens, Mrs. Lewis Leisinger and Mrs. Robert Rogers.

Monteith PTA Showing Movie

The Monteith P. T. A. is sponsoring a Movie Party on Saturday, March 1. The feature to be shown is Walt Disney's "Alice in Wonderland."

This is a full length movie in technicolor, and it will be shown at two sessions. The first showing will be at 1 and the second at 3 p.m. The admission charge is 30 cents and there will be popcorn and soft drinks for sale.

All children are welcome so have your children make plans now to ask their neighbors and friends to attend.

The proceeds from this Movie Party will be used to purchase new library books.

Gems to Shine at Style Show

The first authoritative Detroit presentation of "The Chemise Look" and a million dollar collection of pearls will vie for attention at the Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra's annual Spring fashion teas Tuesday and Wednesday, March 11-12, at 2:30 o'clock, in the 12th floor auditorium of the J. L. Hudson Company.

Mrs. David L. Gamble, Women's Association Ways and Means chairman, heads this year's important "New Notes in Fashion, '58" showings. The events will benefit the Maintenance Fund for the Detroit Symphony and mark the 30th anniversary year of the Women's Association.

The pearl, traditional gem for thirty year celebrations, will open the shows on a spectacular note. A $40,000 pendant containing the world's largest pearl, a $42,000 pearl clutch bag and a fabulous $100,000 pearl encrusted gown will be among the pieces on loan from the Imperial Pearl Syndicate to be modelled by ticket chairmen.

Chairmen of the affairs are Mesdames Henry R. Klein, tickets, assisted by Milton W. Volkens; Charles L. Jacobson, patronesses; and Henry de Segur Lauve, hostesses.

An early list of patronesses for the showing includes Mesdames Philip C. Baker, J. Bertram Bell, Robert L. Biggers, Walter O. Briggs, Jr., John C. Chapin, Warren B. Cooksey, Abraham Cooper and Lloyd H. Diehl.

Others are Mesdames Joseph M. Dodge, George R. Fink, Edsel B. Ford, John B. Ford, Alfred R. Glancy, Jr., Lloyd G. Grinnell, Walter W. Horn, Leonard T. Lewis, Harold O. Love, Elton F. MacDonald, John P. Mansfield and Irving J. Minett.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Armstrong, of Williams road, announce the engagement of their daughter, JANE, to James Edward Monroe, son of the Eugene Monroes, of Detroit.

The bride-elect attended Wayne State University and Michigan State University.

Her fiancé is an alumnus of Eastern Michigan and MSU. They plan to be married May 17 in Christ Church.

Club's Garden Group to Meet

The Garden Group of the Grosse Pointe Women's Club will meet at one o'clock, Wednesday, Feb. 26, at the Central Library, Kercheval at Fisher.

Mrs. Harld Nofz, chairman of this group, has invited Edward Treviskis to speak. Mr. Treviskis, a Grosse Pointe resident, with gardening as a hobby, is Dean of Engineering at the Detroit College of Applied Science. He will use slides to illustrate his talk on "The Culture and Care of Tuberous Begonias."

A special invitation is given the new members of the club to attend this meeting.

Garden Center Lecture Slated

The Garden Center will present the second lecture of its spring series on Wednesday, February 26 at the War Memorial.

Mrs. J. J. Shoemaker, state chairman for the Federated Garden Clubs, will talk on "Birds in Song, Sound and Color." During her lecture she will play records by Dr. Allen of Cornell University.

The program is free to Garden Center members and their guests. Membership in the Garden Center is $1.00 a year. No luncheon will be served before this second lecture.

Mayor's Youth Council Delegates Selected

When the Mayor's Youth Council of Detroit meets early this spring, Carol Halbert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Halbert, of Clareview court, will attend as one of two Y-Teen delegates representing the Metropolitan Y-Teens Council. Carol is a senior at Grosse Pointe High School.

The Mayor's Youth Council is composed of teen-age representatives from Detroit high schools and youth organizations. Its aim is to inform city officials of the interest and needs of Detroit's youth.

Carol, a member of Theta Y-Teens and a Central Branch YWCA representative to the Metropolitan Y-Teens Council, is the only student from Grosse Pointe on the council.

Two Michigan State University students revealed their plans to marry March 23 last week.

PATRICIA McCULLOUGH's engagement to Robert B. Griffith was announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. McCullough, of Washington road.

Her fiancé is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Burdette Griffith, of Dewey, Ill.

Walter Clark Family Puts in Busy Weekend

The Walter S. Clarks, of North Deeplands road, were betwixt and between this past week-end.

Son Skip, in Business School at the University of Michigan, headed north to Boyne for a couple of days on the slopes, with skiing enthusiast Dr. George Goodheart, of Beaupre.

His parents, at the same time, headed east to Pittsburgh — Mr. Clark with the DAC Bowling team and Mrs. C. with him, to reunite, after an 18-year separation, with an old school chum, Mrs. Alpha B. Nabors, of Uniontown, Penn.

Mrs. Nabors drove back to Detroit with the Clarks, when she found that a week-end was not enough time to breach the span lost between the two good friends.

Easy money is anesthetic that puts many a conscience to sleep.

Welcome Club To Show Styles

On Friday, March 7, the women of the Welcome Wagon Club will hold a brunch fashion show at the War Memorial.

The party will establish a benefit fund for Welcome Wagon to use for emergency cases in the Grosse Pointe area.

The Austin Catholic Mothers' Club will hold its February meeting in the school cafeteria on Wednesday, February 26, at 8 p.m.

There will be a short business meeting after which the Austin Drama Club will present the Eugene O'Neill one-act play "In the Zone". The play will be directed by William Mandigo of the Austin Catholic High teaching staff.

The refreshments will be served by the sophomore mothers.

The board meeting will be held on Monday, February 24, at 7:30 p.m. in the school cafeteria.

All the world's a stage—and life is the greatest show on earth.

To Hear Talk By Kazmayer

Robert Kazmayer, news analyst, will be Detroit Town Hall's speaker at 11 a.m. Monday, February 24, in Ford Auditorium. His subject is "Where Are We Heading?"

Publisher of the popular newsletter, "Things to Watch and Watch For," Kazmayer has traveled the globe both as tour leader and journalist.

He is one of the youngest men to be listed in "Who's Who."

The following Monday, Town Hall's season closes with the famous French singing group seen frequently on Ed Sullivan Show, Varel et Bailly with the Les Chanteurs de Paris.

Tickets are available for both programs at Grinnell's, WO. 2-1124, or at the auditorium Monday morning.

DR. BROWNELL TO TALK

Mrs. Claude M. Cocinough, president of the School of Government, announces that Dr. Samuel Miller Brownell will be guest speaker at the February 26 meeting at 1:30 p.m. at central W.Y.C.A. His subject will be "Detroit Public Schools."

Devils End Home Season With Win Over Fordson

Grosse Pointe's once beaten Blue Devil basketball team handed Fordson a comic Valentine but the Tractors didn't think it was funny as they absorbed a 55-48 beating last Friday, February 14, as the Pointers closed out their home season.

This was a "must" game for the Devils who are still tied for the Border Cities League lead with Highland Park who on the same night posted a weak 45-33 win over Wyandotte, which has won only one game in seven league starts.

The Devil victory puts the pressure on Highland Park this coming Friday when the Parkers invade the Tractors' home floor in a "must" game if the Parkers hope to remain in the race for the title.

Should Share Anyway

Only the biggest upset or upsets in the Devils' two remaining league games can deprive the Pointers of at least a title share with Highland Park who has dominated the cage title the past eight years. Seven times they have won the crown outright and shared it once with Fordson. The Blue Devils won the crown nine years ago.

Victories in the last two games and a Highland Park defeat would make the Blue Devils the occupants of the BCL throne room.

Fordson, with an outside chance to share a three-way slice of the title, played like demons possessed as they pushed Coach Howard MacAdams' Blue Devils to the limit before bowing to the high scoring efforts of co-captain "Torrid" Tommy Woodruff and Rem Purdy's stellar performance.

Woodruff relinquished his monopoly on individual scoring honors to center Rem Purdy who played the most brilliant game of his career as he pumped in 20 points to lead the Devils to victory in this crucial game.

See-Saw Battle

The score was tied on six occasions and the lead changed hands 10 times before the Devils finally pulled out in front in the final quarter.

Purdy pumped in six points and guard Larry Bruzesse notched four to lead the Pointers to a 15-9 first quarter lead. A sagging Devil offense and a tight Tractors' defense in the second quarter enabled the latter to take a squeaky 26-24 lead at halftime.

Flushed with their success the Tractors continued to dominate the play in the third quarter and hold a three-point, 39-36, lead going into the last period.

Four free throws by Woodruff and Purdy knotted the count at 40-40 two minutes after the start of the final stanza. Jim Kelly put the Devils out in front 42-40 a half minute later but Fordson's Frank Giorgi tied the count at 42-42. Woodruff put the Devils out in front again with a beautifully executed layup, but once again the Tractors tied the score on Emil De Grazia's long shot.

Woodruff Goes to Work

Woodruff then pumped in four straight free throws to give the Pointers the lead they never relinquished.

Fordson's bid for victory was greatly hampered when six-foot five-inch Larry Monte bowed out of the contest 55 seconds after the start of the last period with five personal fouls. Monte up to that point had caged 18 points for runner-up scoring honors and was the Tractor pacemaker. Monte's departure gave the Blue Devils complete control of the boards in the final seven minutes of play.

It was an exciting climax to the 1957-58 Blue Devil home season which saw the Devils post a seven-game winning streak on their spacious home floor. The Devils now own an impressive 11-1 record for the season which gives them ninth place in the State Class A ratings.

May Move Higher

They will have a chance to move higher in the ratings when they meet non-league undefeated Ferndale on the

BIG MOVIE AUDIENCE

An audience equivalent to almost one-fifth the population of the United States viewed Ford Motor Company motion pictures during 1957. Nearly 30 million persons, from school children in the United States to sheep ranchers in New Zealand, viewed film subjects ranging from how to play baseball to the styling of an automobile. The most popular films in 1957 were those on driver education and highway safety. These films accounted for more than 8,500,000 of the total reported audience and in addition had more than 200 public service TV showings.

Dale's home floor Tuesday, February 25. The Dales currently rank fifth in the state. The Pointers also can move higher if Fordson can trip Highland Park next Friday, February 21. The Parkers are rated eighth in the ratings.

Of course everything will depend on the success the Devils have in their final three games of the season. Remaining league opponents are Monroe (February 21) and Wyandotte (February 28) and between them have won a pair of games this season in league play.

Rally Fails; Reserves Lose

Grosse Pointe's thrice beaten reserve basketball team dropped a 36-35 hair raiser to Fordson last Friday, February 14, on their own floor when a last ditch rally was cut short by the clock.

The defeat was the fourth in league play and eliminated the Devils in the race for the "unofficial" BCL reserve championship which they had won the past two seasons under the guidance of retired coach John Thursby. It also marked the first time the reserves had suffered defeat on their home floor in 20 consecutive games.

Jumping off to a 9-6 first quarter lead the Devils fell behind in the second period when the Tractors limited them to four free throws while fashioning a 15-point spurt which gave the Tractors a 19-13 halftime lead. The Tractors took over the lead after 3:15 of the period and were never headed or seriously threatened until the final five minutes.

The Devils pulled to within four points of a tie, 29-25, at the end of the third quarter and trailed 29-31 with five and a half minutes to go in the final stanza.

The last five and a half minutes were wild and woolly with neither team able to find the range with any degree of accuracy. Ron Harper caged a bucket with 12 seconds remaining, to pull the Devils to within one point of a tie, 36-35. A Tractor scoring attempt failed but in the scramble under the Pointe basket the ball hit a Devil and bounced out of bounds giving Fordson the ball with two seconds to go, which cut the Pointers' rally short.

Fordson outshot the Devils from the floor 16 to 9. The Devils had the best of it in the foul shooting department making good on 17 of 28 tries while Fordson could manage only 4 of 12.

Jon Rice earned individual scoring honors with 13 points of which 9 came at the free throw line. Tim Czarniak paced Fordson with 10 points for runner-up honors.

Austin Friars Capture Third Straight Cage Title

GPUS Beaten By Oak Park

Grosse Pointe University School dropped a squeaky 54-50 decision to Oak Park last Friday, February 14, on the GPUS home court. The defeat gave the Knights a season record of 7 wins and losses.

It was a tight ball game through the first three quarters with the score knotted at 12-12 in the first period, 22-21 in favor of Oak Park at the half-time and 38-33 in favor of GPUS at the end of the third stanza.

Then the roof fell in when Christenson, a sub who had never started a game, entered the contest. Chris pumped in four field goals and a foul to erase the GPUS lead and give the Parkers a hard earned victory.

Bob Wood paced the losers with 18 points for individual scoring honors and was followed by Barley of Oak Park who had 17 points for runner-up honors.

The GPUS Knights will close out the season in the annual Maumee Valley Invitational Tournament which will be played at Maumee Valley High Friday and Saturday, February 21-22. GPUS will be the largest of the four schools entered which include host Maumee, Park School and Detroit Country Day.

GPUS will meet Maumee in the first round and Park will tackle Country Day. The winners will play for the tourney title on Saturday with the losers of the first round engaging in a consolation preliminary game.

Goebel Leading In Bowling Loop

Goebel scored a four point sweep over eighth place Adam Simms last Friday, February 14, to take over the lead in the Grosse Pointe Businessmen's bowling league.

Larry's moved into a two-way second place tie with Wigle by turning back seventh place Woods Recreation with a three-point victory behind the sharp shooting of Al Bell who posted the series high for the night with a 581. Fourth place Woods created the two-way tie by beating Wigle out of three points.

Revere jumped into the first division by knocking off sixth place Cox and Baker for three points. Last place Belding dragged Cramer down into a two-way tie for last when it took three points from Cramer. Jim De Smedt paced the 200-plus bowlers with a 226 and was followed by Herb Miller, 225; Al Dell, 213, and Bob Valade, 200.

GPUS Swimmers Beaten By Fordson in Tight Tilt

Grosse Pointe High School's league-leading swimming team lost its first league meet of the season last Friday, February 14, when Fordson took a thrilling 49-47 decision in its own pool. The loss dropped the Devils into a two-way first place deadlock with the Tractors.

At this point the Monroe Trojans hold the key to the title as both leaders must meet them. The odds are with the Blue Devils, however, as the Trojans will meet the Devils in the Pointers' pool on Friday, February 21. The Tractors will be Monroe's guest four days later.

Two Big Stars

Co-captain Chuck Babcock and Les "Clutch" Cutler did their damndest to lead the Devils to victory with record performances. Babcock tied the Fordson pool record in the 100-yard free style and Cutler broke the polo record in the 150-yard individual medley. Both were the only doubles winners.

First Places Divided

Oddly enough both schools captured first places in four of the eight individual events and each won a relay event. It was Fordson's strength in the second and third places that spelled the difference.

The key event of the meet was the diving, in which Devil coach Paul Wheeler figured he had a sure first and third. But as it turned out Paul Alcott could only manage a second and Pat Amicus a third place. At that point the Tractors held a 34-29 lead.

Cutler and Jim Carne placed first and third in the individual medley to pull the Devils to within two points of a tie, 37-35. Fordson clinched the meet by just barely winning the 200-yard speed relay. The Devils took the last event in which the Tractors should have been disqualified because of the Tractors' coach's actions. He was so intent on keeping his kids from jumping the gun that he actually grabbed the ankle of one of the boys to keep him from going too soon. This is illegal but the referee said he didn't see it.

Lakers, Friars Advance In City Cage Tournament

The unbeaten Austin Friars and St. Paul Lakers, champions of their respective leagues and co-favorites in the City Catholic basketball tournament now underway at the U. of Detroit Memorial building, advanced as expected in the first round which was played Sunday, February 16.

The Friars, behind the sharp-shooting Dave DeBuschere who notched 33 points for individual honors, had no trouble downing St. Benedict's of Highland Park 68-44.

Austin jumped off to an early 18-9 lead in the first quarter and soared to a 33-19 lead at halftime. From there on the Friars were coasting down hill and home free. Leading 50-30 going into the final stanza Coach Chuck Hollosy kept a steady stream of substitutes going into the game.

Met Mt. Carmel
Austin met Mt. Carmel in the semi final on Tuesday, February 18. Results of this game were too late to make the News deadline.

St. Paul found itself suffering tournament jitters in the first quarter but managed to shake them at the start of the second period and go on to humiliate defending champion All Saints 59-35.

The Lakers were hard pressed to maintain a 7-6 first period lead, mainly through nervous shooting from the foul line by the usually accurate Dave Ayrault, who missed five straight charity tosses.

The second quarter was a different story as the Lakers regained the poise that made them champions of the East Side Second Division of the Parochial League for the second year in succession.

Paced by Russ Beaupre the Lakers poured 20 points through the All Saints' basket to take a comfortable 27-13 lead at halftime.

The Lakers picked up right where they left off and continued to humiliate the Saints throughout the third period and take a commanding 49-23 lead going into the last quarter. At this point Coach Eddie Lauer stopped the slaughter and substituted freely and before the final eight minutes had elapsed he had cleared his bench.

The victory qualified the Lakers to meet St. Andrew's on Tuesday, February 18. The results of this game were too late to make the News deadline also.

WELL, BLOW ME DOWN — Displaying a flair for the flute, screen star Tony Curtis blows hot and cold as he practices in a quiet corner. Tony "plays" the trumpet in a jazz scene from his latest movie, but the music is actually supplied by jazz man Pete Condoli in "Kings Go Forth," a United Artists release. The Bronx-born star really does play the flute, however.

TO THE POINT — Un-sung for many years, the world's primary writing tool, the wood-cased lead pencil, is now being honored. The week of Feb. 24 has been named Pencil Week. The neat trick serving as pencil "queen" is Judy Smith, and what's more fitting for a queen than a king-sized pencil.

FIRE DOWN BELOW — Enjoying a polar picnic with the temperature at 20 below zero, men of the South Pole station roast hot dogs over a snow pit bonfire. Warming to the task are micrometeorologist Paul C. Dalrymple (left) of Port Clyde, Me., and RM/1 Stan Greenwood of Mondovi, Wis. Their pooch, aptly named Blizzard, looks on.

THE SKI'S THE LIMIT — Poles, skis and skiers crowd the slope of the Denver-owned ski resort of Winter Park, Colo., now at the height of the season of winter fun. With two new lifts added, more skiers than ever throng the park, where finding a parking place for the skis is almost as tough as negotiating the hill.

LAUGHTER AHEAD — With the carnival in full swing at Nice, France, many a celebrant wakes up with a head that feels as big as this one—but without the smile. It's worn by a parader at the famed resort on the Mediterranean.

SWING FEVER — Going way out on a limb, Joan Faye Binette swings along with the breeze at Cypress Gardens, Fla. The weatherman has been crossing up the Sunshine State, but Joan seems confident that the cold weather is on its way out.

DOUBLING UP — Pat Marsh-Staff, 11, may be the straw boss in this operation, but her five-month-old papillon pup shares equally in this sip session at Crawley, England. The pooch, named Ringlands Charlotte, is one of a dozen papillons bred by Pat's mother. Each of the tiny animals fetches a price in three figures when sold.

WAY OF THE CROSS — Arriving at Lourdes, France, after a two-month journey on foot from his native Germany, 60-year-old Ernst Walter traces his route on a map attached to a 50-pound cross he carried with him. Starting in Berlin, he hiked to the Pyrenees foothills village which is starting its 100th year as a shrine of the Roman Catholic Church.

FIREHOUSE FRIEND — Donning his fire-fighting uniform, Smoky gets a helping hand from Janice Commons, 9, and Fire Captain Merrill Lytle in Topeka, Kan. Smoky, a resident of the local fire station since he was a pup, has his own uniform, complete with cap. The dog accompanies Topeka firemen as they go from school to school conducting safety demonstrations.

SITTING PRETTY — Seated comfortably across the trolley tracks, this snow bear seemingly hasn't a worry about being run over in Kansas City, Mo. Street cars were discontinued in the city several years ago, so friend bear is in no danger of destruction—at least until the weather warms up a bit.

NAME YOUR BRAND — Although they must look like "Greek" to the average tourist, these symbols on a public telephone booth are actually cattle brands. Every phone booth in Tucumcari, New Mexico, is "branded" with the various symbols used by cattlemen in the vicinity. The branding is designed to make visitors aware that they really are in cattle country. This booth has more than 100 different brands.

FLIGHT MITE — Nestled cozily under the wing of a British Hawker Hunter jet fighter, the tiny, build-it-yourself Topsy Nipper is ready to take to the wild blue yonder on its own at Charleroi-Gosselies, Belgium. Built by Britain's Fairey company, the pint-size plane is 14 feet long and has a wingspread of 19.5 feet. It's powered by a Volkswagen engine and has a cruising speed of 66 m.p.h. and a maximum range of 187 miles. The Topsy Nipper sells for about $1,000.

ABORIGINAL IDEAS — Seemingly inspired by African idols, Sicilian sculptor Francesco Rejtana hovers above a trio of his works in Rome. The elongated, stylized and ironic figurines, representing two monks and a woman with child, are among an exhibit of Rejtana's work at a Roman art gallery.

VEILED INTENTIONS — The veil is practically the whole story in this hat by London stylist Peter Shepherd. The chiffon turban perched atop the head serves as little more than an anchor for the all-en-circling net which reaches to the bridge of the nose.

PAIN OF GLASS — A pair of unusual pals star in a sad drama of the locked-out cat in Okawville, Ill., where Mickie the pooch offers moral encouragement to Suzy. The feline gets left out in the cold from time to time, and both buddies set up a clamor of howls and meows until someone opens the door.

FLIGHT TO COME — Ensconced in a mass of metal, J. R. Williams, 58, is set to soar into the wild blue yonder in a craft of his own design called the "convertoplane." Williams worked about 7,000 hours to build it and plans a solo maiden flight in the spring. The "convertoplane," made of chrome alloy tubing, can fly as an ordinary airplane or as a helicopter. Williams expects this model to go as fast as 150 m.p.h.

Church Basketball League Division All Knotted Up

By JUDY RENKE
As the result of a forfeit and an upset, the Senior division league leadership was thrown into a four-way tie in the Inter-Church Basketball League.

Christ Church, Grosse Pointe Congregational, St. Paul's, and Grosse Pointe

Woods, in that order, have now won two and lost one.
St. Paul's team became the winner by forfeit when Christ Church failed to field five men at game time.

The upset occurred when Grosse Pointe Memorial defeated Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian in what could be termed a surprise victory.

Considered to be a dark horse, Grosse Pointe Memorial surprised everyone in their 52-36 win over Grosse Pointe Woods, which is definitely one of the top teams in the league.
Having the advantage of a 14-point first quarter lead, Grosse Pointe Memorial forced Grosse Pointe Woods to press and foul constantly.

Grosse Pointe Congregational overwhelmingly set back St. Michael's by the score of 62 to 11.

Now that the "A" division has developed into a wide-open contest, any team showing a little extra spark could well capture the number one spot.

SENIOR DIVISION

	Won	Lost
Christ C.	2	1
G. P. Cong.	2	1
St. Paul	2	1
G. P. Woods	2	1
G. P. Mem.	1	2
St. Mich.	0	3

With the lead fairly distributed throughout the game, Grosse Pointe Methodist finally commanded the fourth quarter to wind up with a 23 to 17 victory over Grosse Pointe Memorial.

St. Paul beat Christ Church 22 to 17. St. Paul's didn't let loose until the fourth quarter when they scored 10 points to overcome Christ Church's third quarter lead.

St. Clare, a third place team, came up with the highest score of the season in the "B" division when they defeated Our Lady Star of the Sea 59 to 12.

In the first quarter they jumped to a 7-2 lead, at half time they were ahead 26-7, and during the third quarter they had a well established lead of 43-10.

JUNIOR DIVISION

	Won	Lost
G. P. Meth.	3	0
St. James	2	0
St. Clare	2	1
G. P. Mem.	1	2
St. Pauls	1	2
Christ C.	0	1
Star of S.	0	3

In their challenge for the Freshmen League lead, Grosse Pointe Woods easily ousted St. Michael's 23 to 6.

Grosse Pointe Congregational, now in first place, had a bye last Saturday, which enabled Grosse Pointe Woods to gain ground.

St. Paul's turned back Grosse Pointe Memorial 31 to 9.

St. Clare downed Our Lady

Star of the Sea 18 to 11. This win enabled St. Clare to break even in the won-lost department.
Tied until the third quarter, St. James finally broke loose to gain control of the ball in the third and fourth quarters, and were able to defeat Grosse Pointe Methodist 15 to 5.

FRESHMAN DIVISION

	Won	Lost
G. P. Cong.	2	0
G. P. Woods	2	0
St. James	2	0
G. P. Meth.	2	1
St. Clare	1	1
G. P. Mem.	1	2
St. Pauls	1	2
Our Lady S.	0	2
St. Mich.	0	3

Tau Betas Plan Dinner Meeting

Members of Tau Beta Association will combine business with pleasure next Tuesday night, February 25, at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club. They will convene at 6 o'clock for a cordial-cocktail hour, preceding dinner plans.

Following the dinner, president Mrs. George Bushnell will conduct a short business meeting. Mrs. George S. Wunsch will give a brief report on the Tau Beta Camp, and Mrs. A. M. Davock will conclude with details on the closing of the Community House and sale results.

BYC Bowlers Give Jamboree

Most of the 400 members of the Detroit Yacht Club's bowling leagues will turn out Saturday evening for their annual jamboree.

The evening will begin with cocktails for which a strolling accordionist will offer entertainment and continue with dinner and dancing.

In charge of the party are the Ducas James, Earl B. Jones, Stanley Tutag and Bernard C. Ladendorf.

William David, Jr., is president of the BYC Bowling League, oldest in the country. Other officers are John Cooley, A. C. Munderloh, Mrs. Harry Lipski, David E. Hopp, and Mrs. Frank J. St. Amour.

The Detroit Yacht Club's Junior Inter-Club dance will be held this Friday night at 9 o'clock in the ballroom. Juniors have invited young people from the Detroit Boat Club, Grosse Pointe Yacht Club and Lochmoor to their gala.

Former Pointers Toasted At Parties Last Week

Now living in New York, former Pointers Mrs. George P. Richardson and Mrs. L. C. MacGlashen were here last week for a visit.

Mrs. Richardson stayed with the David Rusts, of Lincoln road, and also visited her new grandson, George Booth Whitehead, Jr., and the senior Whiteheads on Country Club drive.

Mrs. MacGlashen was the guest of the William A. Walkers, of Cranford lane. On Wednesday Mrs. William M. Day, of Lakeland Avenue, gave a luncheon for the ladies and on Thursday the C. Allison Monroes, of Ridge road, gave a cocktail party.

Calcaterra Helps Plan Wayne's 90th Reunion

Victor E. Calcaterra of 539 Sunningdale drive, has been named to the committee of Wayne State University's 90th annual reunion to be held Saturday, May 17, at the Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel.

Calcaterra is a member of the class of 1926. He has been active in alumni affairs since graduation.

The reunion, which has attracted a capacity turnout for the past few years, will feature a dinner and dance. Various class reunions will also be held in hospitality suites. These special reunions are planned for those celebrating their fifth, tenth, twentieth and twenty-fifth reunions.

Tickets, priced at $6 per person, can be obtained by calling the University's Alumni Office, TE. 3-1400, Ext. 416.

Detroit Consumer Marketing Information Agents say that Homemakers can add color and taste-appeal to cold weather menus by featuring creamed green peas with hard-cooked egg slices, buttered crutons or pimiento strips. For a special flavor, add cheddar cheese.

Pin Lead Taken By Sportsmen

The Sportsman keglers, formerly Fox, replaced Beaupre as the leaders in the Grosse Pointers Bowling League on Friday, February 14. The Sportsman team scored a three point sweep over last place Custom One while the Beaupre team was losing three points to seventh place Kopp's.

Jim's jumped from fifth place to third with a two point win over Stapleton.

A three-way tie was created for fourth place when Heidi dropped three points to Custom Two; J. C. Music swept three points from Lusch and Piche took a single point from Lakepointe.

Milt Grossmeyer posted identical 2215 for a 618 series to lead the 200-plus bowlers and was followed by Bob Stapleton's 224 and 201 which netted a 608 series. Bill Stoppin followed with a 214; Fred De Busschere 208; Bill Hodkins 205; Cort Trombley 211; Nick Schubeuck 208; Tom Bacigalupo 214; George Kaatz and Don Buffa 202's; Frank Buffa had two 201's and Jim Burgess 201 and Aaron Cook 200.

Gentlemen seem to be constantly looking for a haven from the distaff side, a sanctuary where no ladies are allowed. In pre World War I days the Pointe had become a beehive of social gatherings in which the ladies starred and their constant escorts were fed up and decided to remedy their situation.

Many a Friday evening a congenial group would gather at Doerr's Inn (where the Cadillac showroom and garage stands today on East Jefferson avenue) The proprietor often told the boys in the back room that they never knew when to go home. They were true night owls and that was how one of the Pointe's most fabulous stag clubs was born.

A former member claims it wasn't as respectable as the civic-minded Lions and Rotary, but the members of the Owl Club contributed their share of good works in spite of the spirit of frivolity which normally inspired them.

The club was incorporated in 1914 and at the pinnacle of its success had 300 members, a good cross section of Pointe residents. Colonel Frederick M. Alger belonged and so did all the office holders and assorted old settlers named Cadieux and Vernier.

Every year the Owl Club sponsored an excursion to Bob-lo. The members boarded a private interurban car for the run to the docks and made a big day of it. At Christmas they were hosts at a large party for the kids of the neighborhood.

As the membership grew the club crowded out from the back room at Doerr's and a former member, Joseph J. Crowley left them his house on Lakeland for a new clubhouse. The home was moved to 364 Rivard boulevard and the convivial group continued to meet.

Just before black Friday in 1929 the membership built a new home in St. Paul avenue and moved in that fateful year. It was more than they could handle on the $100 a month fee and later in the depression the Owls stopped meeting.

The club subsequently became the Otsiketa Club (Blue Water) and is now the Alger VFW Post. The Colonel bought the club and deeded it to the Legion so many former Owls may still enjoy its benefits.

A widow of an old member, Mrs. Napoleon E. Desroches, in cleaning out an old desk, found a stock certificate issued to her husband in September, 1916, worth $10 for one share of Owl Club stock. The share is only waste paper now but once it represented membership in one of our town's first civic organizations.

Domestic help, jewels that they are, when they are, need to be indulged in foibles and the employers in Washington road love their maids, who are real individualists. Most of them come by the day on an early bus and over the years have managed to synchronize their time and come on the same transportation.

The gals have a gay time and one of their group who lives in is green with envy. In order not to miss any of the current gossip she meets them on the sidewalk and offers steaming cups of coffee before they all report to their various mistresses.

In our campaign to prove the Pointe is a fount of culture we are making steady progress. A young author has recently been added to the ranks. The former Shirley Sickels now Mrs. Frank G. Ryder, the wife of a Dartmouth College professor, has written a highly imaginative picture book for the very small ones, "Let's Pretend It's a Birthday." Mrs. R. happily confesses her daughter made up the game to while away indoor hours. A neighboring prof's wife, Henrietta Bartlett, did the illustrations.

Mrs. J. Crawford Frost, looking very chic in a black silk sprigged with red roses and a Persian lamb jacket, sadly confessed she could eat from one counter to the next of Valentine confections, but alas all she could buy was a small box of red wafers for an upcoming luncheon. Such self control!

A very gala crowd turned out for Chrysler's showing of the Harry Winston gem showing at the Statler last week-end... luscious models paraded Irving's collection of cocktail frocks and formals... lovely they were too, to set off the jewels of the King of Nepal... but everyone wanted to glimpse the legendary Hope diamond, all 44 1/2 carats. Glimpsed the Roger Hubbards, the Ozzie Olsons, the A. J. Fishers, Jr., the William Mulkeys and a host of others munching oysters Rockefeller, naturally the only menu for such opulent surroundings.

Mrs. Thomas Morrow was the focal point of all eyes at a luncheon last week-end. Her moss green cap dripping with springy lilies of the valley was her own creation. Mrs. M. designs her own millinery with all the genius credited to her husband, who is a big man in the missile field right here on our home ground.

PILFERINGS

In Moscow NBC correspondent Irving R. Levine heard a Russian greet a friend with: "Have you heard? Pravda is running a contest for the best political joke. The first prize is 20 years."

Running into Clark Gable at a Hollywood party, a visitor asked, "Are you an actor?"

"No," said Gable quietly, "but I work steady."

Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh told friends about taking the flier's 11-year-old daughter to see "The Spirit of St. Louis." In the middle of the movie the youngster turned to her mother and whispered anxiously, "Mummy, does he make it?"

A woman will look into a mirror any time except when she's about to pull out of a parking space.

More people now depend on the government than once supported it.

Pointer of Interest

MRS. ALBERT TIPTON, OF ROOSEVELT PLACE

by Patricia Talbot

—Picture by Fred Runnells

Practising the intricate fingering of a Grieg concerto may not be your idea of relaxing from the daily toil of dishes and dusting, but it is the real meaning of life to Mary Norris Tipton, who spends two hours a day at her grand piano.

Neighbors glancing in the window of her Roosevelt place home may wonder why she practises for hours at a time, not realizing that this new resident is a concert pianist.

Music is living for the Albert Tiptons who moved here last fall. Mr. Tipton is first flutist with the Detroit Symphony. Attractive dark haired Mrs. T. says they say "flutist" although in some highbrow symphonic circles "flautist" is the word.

From St. Louis

The Tiptons came here from Dearborn where they first settled a year ago when he came with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra. Before that Mr. Tipton played in St. Louis, where his wife was first pianist with the Symphony.

Mr. T. looks like Leonard Bernstein, with a strong mobile face and a shock of dark hair. Both the Tiptons were classmates of the brilliant composer conductor at the Curtis Institute in Philadelphia. This music school is unique in that every student is on a scholarship and the talent rate is necessarily very high. Mrs. Tipton went to Curtis after graduating from high school in Sioux City, Ia., and a year of college, but her husband, who she claims is a far better musician than she is, began his studies there when he was 14 years old.

Mr. Tipton started at the violin and the piano along with the flute but when he reported at school someone stole his violin so he won the scholarship with the flute.

PRACTISING COMES FIRST
The Tiptons have two children, Dickie, 11, and Judy 14, who have become accustomed to Mozart, Chopin, Debussy and Brahms. Their parents lead very disciplined lives with little time for social amenities or community activity. Mrs. Tipton is one woman who is not afraid to say no to civic demands. With ten music students and occasional concert tours she has all she can do with her practising and house-keeping.

Mrs. Tipton is refreshingly unlike the popular conception of artists living in Bohemian squalor. Her house with its striking white walls is an individual and charming combination of modern and traditional. There are warm yellows and greens, some hand sewn curtains with bright red petunias glowing against muted gray, the most functional lamps and lovely old antique chests. Mrs. Tipton's grand piano dominates the room and she admits Mr. T. has to practise in Judy's bedroom so she won't drown him out.

CONCERT TOURS TOGETHER

The Tiptons enjoy playing together and with a small orchestra often tour the country playing community concerts from Iron River, Mich., to the Gulf of Mexico. Mr. T. is on tour now with the Detroit Symphony but in the spring Mrs. Tipton's mother will come to supervise the household while this musical pair begin their duo tour.

One day a week Mrs. Tipton travels to Dearborn to teach her students there and Judy masterfully takes over in the kitchen to prepare dinner. So clever is she in the culinary department that a few years ago she was a picture feature in a national women's magazine.

In the summer the whole family enjoy the privileges of living in a symphonic community. They travel to Aspen, Colo., to work and teach with the Music Festival there. Aspen combines the best of all possible worlds for the Tiptons: mountain air, swimming and sports, music and wonderful lectures and lessons at the Aspen Institute for Humanistic Studies.

RETURN TO EUROPE

Like a great many artists the Tiptons are spiritually at home in Europe and hope soon to repeat their successful concert tour there, made in 1954. Next time they want to take their children who have always accepted and enjoyed their unusual opportunities to live in a classical music aura.

Mrs. T. grew up panting to take piano lessons. Her elder brothers and sisters came first in her musical family. Her mother was a brilliant pianist and her father a musician of note. One day her mother cut her finger badly while preparing dinner and dispatched small Mary in all haste for bandages. Mary got the bandages from the medicine cabinet but even in an emergency could not pass the piano without stopping to pick out a tune, that day her effort being "Jesus Loves Me," while her patient mother was bleeding by the sink.

This talented matron is very modest about her own abilities, but proudly claims her husband is the finest flutist in the country. She has built a warm, comfortable home for her family, while pursuing her own musical life and has contributed an unusually cultured atmosphere for her children, which they will always cherish, in the midst of her dedication to the piano.

Church Guilds Plan Meetings

The Woman's Auxiliary of St. Michael's Episcopal Church on Sunningdale, announces the February meetings of the eight Guilds into which it is divided, will be held as follows:

The four evening Guilds on February 24 at 7:30 include St. Anne's Guild at the home of Mrs. James Sneye, 1470 Oxford, co-hostess, Mrs. W. R. Owen; St. Elizabeth Guild at the home of Mrs. Lynn Whitaker, 2061 Vernier, co-hostess, Mrs. Norman Perrin; St. Hil-da's Guild at Mrs. Donald Rowell's, 22631 Avalon, St. Clair Shores, co-hostess, Mrs. Albert Wood; and the members of St. Martha's Guild will convene at the home of Mrs. Robert Kennedy, 821 Trombley road, Co-hostess, Mrs. Jack Bramble.

The Day Guilds hold luncheon meetings at 12:30 on February 25 and include St. Catherine's Guild at the home of Mrs. Milton O. Cross, 749 Hampton road, Co-hostess, Mrs. George Brown and Mrs. Studer, 52 Roslyn road, Co-hostess, Mrs. George Egge; St. Mary's Guild will be at Mrs. A. H. Ritter's, 1560 Oxford, Co-hostess, Mrs. Henry Cope; and St. Margaret's Guild members have planned their meeting at one of the Cottages at the Protestant Children's Home which they are sponsoring this year. The address is 900 Cook road. Mrs. Frederic Kummer will be assisted by Mrs. Rupert Benson.

At the February Auxiliary meeting the members were shown a film concerning the rural ministry entitled "The Fertile Soil".

Little League To Sign Players

FAVORITE RECIPE FROZEN FRUIT SALAD

Contributed by Mrs. Frederick A. Schurr

1 can fruit cocktail
1 cup of available fresh fruits
1 small package of miniature marshmallows
1 pint whipping cream
Drain fruit cocktail and combine with fresh fruits, adding sugar to taste; then whip cream. Freeze in ice cream tray. Unmold on leaf lettuce and add cream cheese forced through a ricer and a spoonful of tart red jelly for dressing.

Great Books Course Open

A tuition free Great Books Leadership training course is now being sponsored by all local libraries within a 50 mile radius of Detroit and Grosse Pointe Public Library is working to enroll members.

The course will be given at the Main Auditorium of the Detroit Library every Monday for ten weeks beginning March 10 from 8 to 10 o'clock.

The program is open to all adults regardless of formal education and its purpose is to train new moderators so additional discussion groups may be formed. Classes will be conducted by staff members of the Great Books Foundation, Chicago, Ill.

Those interested may call local moderators, who have taken the course. They include Mrs. Alden Thomas, of Washington road, TU 5-5129, or Mr. and Mrs. John R. Connolly, of Maryland avenue, VA. 1-1851. These moderators have led groups at the Grosse Pointe Main Library.

TROUBLED DRIVER

Shores police arrested William H. Donner of 30452 Krauter, Garden City, on Thursday, February 13, and charged him with reckless driving on Lake Shore. He posted a $125 bond to guarantee a court appearance. He was turned over to Garden City police who want him for violation of probation.

Advanced theater column RAVES... for the Spring Millinery Showing at Jacobson's starting February twenty-fourth. Drama and charm are found in the collection. Jan Leslie, Chanda, John Fredricks and other designers are artistically represented by sailors, Brentons, turbans... all in careful balance with the delightful new silhouette. Informal modeling on the twenty-seventh... all day.

Take two views of winter with D. J. Healy's coordinates... purposely planned to accompany themselves from now through spring... either north or south. Wrap-around flannel skirts are paired with dyed to match bulky knit sweaters and wonderful, washable broadcloth (look-like-silk) blouses... beige, newly minted green and orange ice.

Shining examples... of good taste and good value... the large handsome gleaming patent leather bags at Margaret Rice... for eight-ninety-five. One of the forerunners of early spring... black patent ready to break upon the scene NOW! Thinking ahead... or as the case may be farther south... there's whimsy in wicker... Totes in the shape of dogs, monkeys and and Fido's house... trimmed in felt and sequined.

Head North... for a ski weekend... or the Caribbean on a cruise... armed happily with the handy travel aids you'll find at Trail Pharmacy. There's a wealth of beautiful kits equipped with plastic jars and bottles. Be sure to include Ski and Sea for all climates and Laundrel for clouds of suds in any water. Quettes, the compressed scented face cloth... offers compact refreshment... (mighty handy when traveling with the children). These and many more packables are perfect for on the go grooming.

Hear ye... hear ye! There's a sale at the League Shop! All sorts of delightful bric-a-brac... gathered together on a huge table... each at a tempting tariff.

Opportunity knocks... Here's a chance to give your home many advantages by way of the sale at Wanamaker's Studio... Mack Avenue. Starting February twentieth, everything on the floor... including lamps, upholstered pieces and decorator accessories will be greatly reduced.

Figure it for yourself... You have your choice at Ann-Louise of two methods of slenderizing... hand massage AND the Figurama table. Both are excellent for hip-nipping, figure smoothing or relaxation. A fine staff featuring Adelaide Crocker and Mary Henshell are just part of the beauty picture... Call TUxedo 2-7511... for the entire story.

More chemiserie... Olga and Warners pay tribute to the beautiful new figure, by planning "the Look" at its foundations. Their undergarments are effective in super-slimming and hip control... so important if you want to walk the straight line to spring's fabulous fashions at Jacobson's.

Sisters to Give Benefit Lunch

The Auxiliary to the Dominican Sisters of the Sick Poor will begin its 31st year with a box luncheon this Friday at St. Ann's Convent on W. Boston boulevard at noon.

Mrs. J. William Lavigne, of North Renaud road, will preside. She is the newly elected president, Mrs. Jerry T. Flanagan retiring after heading the Auxiliary for four years.

Mrs. Flanagan will be honored at a program chairmanned by Mrs. Arthur G. Kirchner. The retiring head will be named president emeritus.

In its progress report a membership growth of 20 per cent was revealed and 21,336 hours of free nursing given in 1957. This past year has also marked the final payment on the new convent, former home of the late Walter O. Briggs.

Elected to serve with Mrs. Lavigne and taking office at this benefit luncheon are vice presidents, Mrs. Eugenie I. Van Antwerp, Mrs. Edward V.

Ott, Mrs. Charles T. Fisher, Jr., Mrs. Francis J. Perron and Miss Dorothy Meyers.

Other vice presidents are Mrs. Cyril J. Burke, Miss Margaret Bradford, Mrs. Frank J. Weston, Mrs. Emmet E. Tracy, Mrs. Stephen J. Bartush, Mrs. Thomas H. Keating, Mrs. J. Clarence Grix and Mrs. Edward H. Kelley.

Mrs. Louis J. Schneider has been named recording secretary and Mrs. George J. Jaglowicz, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Walter A. Bayer, financial secretary, and Sister Mary Patricia, treasurer.

Others on the board of directors are Mesdames Albert Boening, Bert Lindquist, Edward J. Charron, William A. Heisel, Charles J. McCabe and Miss Irene Ryan.

Past presidents serving include Mrs. William E. Keane, Mrs. Maurice J. Quinn, Mrs. Kirchner, Mrs. Henry W. Jones, Mrs. Arthur F. Martz and Mrs. Jeremiah A. Bresnahan.
