TWENTY-FIVE PERSONS died amid chaos and terror Wednesday in a five-alarm fire in a loft building on Lower Broadway in New York City. Fifteen were injured. The fire started in the third-floor plant of a textile printing company. It exploded upward, taking its death toll on the fourth floor of the five-story building. Smoke poured steadily from the building for nearly two hours as 160 firemen and 60 pieces of equipment fought the blaze.

Fire Commissioner Edward F. Cavanagh said "it would seem that panic played a most important role in this blaze. Some bodies were piled one on top of the other."

JEWELS WORTH $100,000 were stolen Tuesday night from the hotel apartment of three Detroiters. Sidney J. Allen, board chairman of Allen Industries, Inc., his wife, Phyllis, and Mrs. Marjorie Fisher, wife of Max Fisher who is board chairman of the Aurora Gasoline Co., were victims of the latest in a series of jewel robberies in the Palm Beach, Florida area.

Allen refused to give any details about the stolen jewelry. He said insurance agents and the FBI are investigating the matter thoroughly.

Police said thieves entered the apartment in the Palm Beach Towers between 6 p.m. and midnight on Tuesday. The robbery was the largest of a number of jewel thefts which have occurred in the last several months.

GOVERNORS who held an hours-long conference at the White House Wednesday said the Administration wants to finance an additional 13 weeks of unemployment compensation out of a Federal fund.

But a high Administration official said the plan, which is an involved one, is actually a form of loans. Money for unemployment compensation now comes from a Federal payroll tax on employers, ranging up to 3 percent of the payroll.

A STORM with the fury of midwinter lashed the Atlantic seaboard as spring officially arrived Thursday. Gales carried snowfalls up to 36 inches and cut electricity to more than a million homes and offices.

At least 20 persons died in accidents attributed to the howling storm which struck 13 states, from Virginia to New England. Long distance operations of the Pennsylvania Railroad were almost paralyzed. The Penn. Turnpike was closed from Harrisburg to the southern New Jersey border—111 miles.

The dying blast of winter felled more power lines in central and eastern Pennsylvania than Hurricane Hazel in 1954, and gave that area its worst snowstorm in 20 years.

THE HOUSE THURSDAY VOTED a one-year freeze on farm price supports and planting allowances. Advocates called the bill an anti-recession check on the decline in the farm economy.

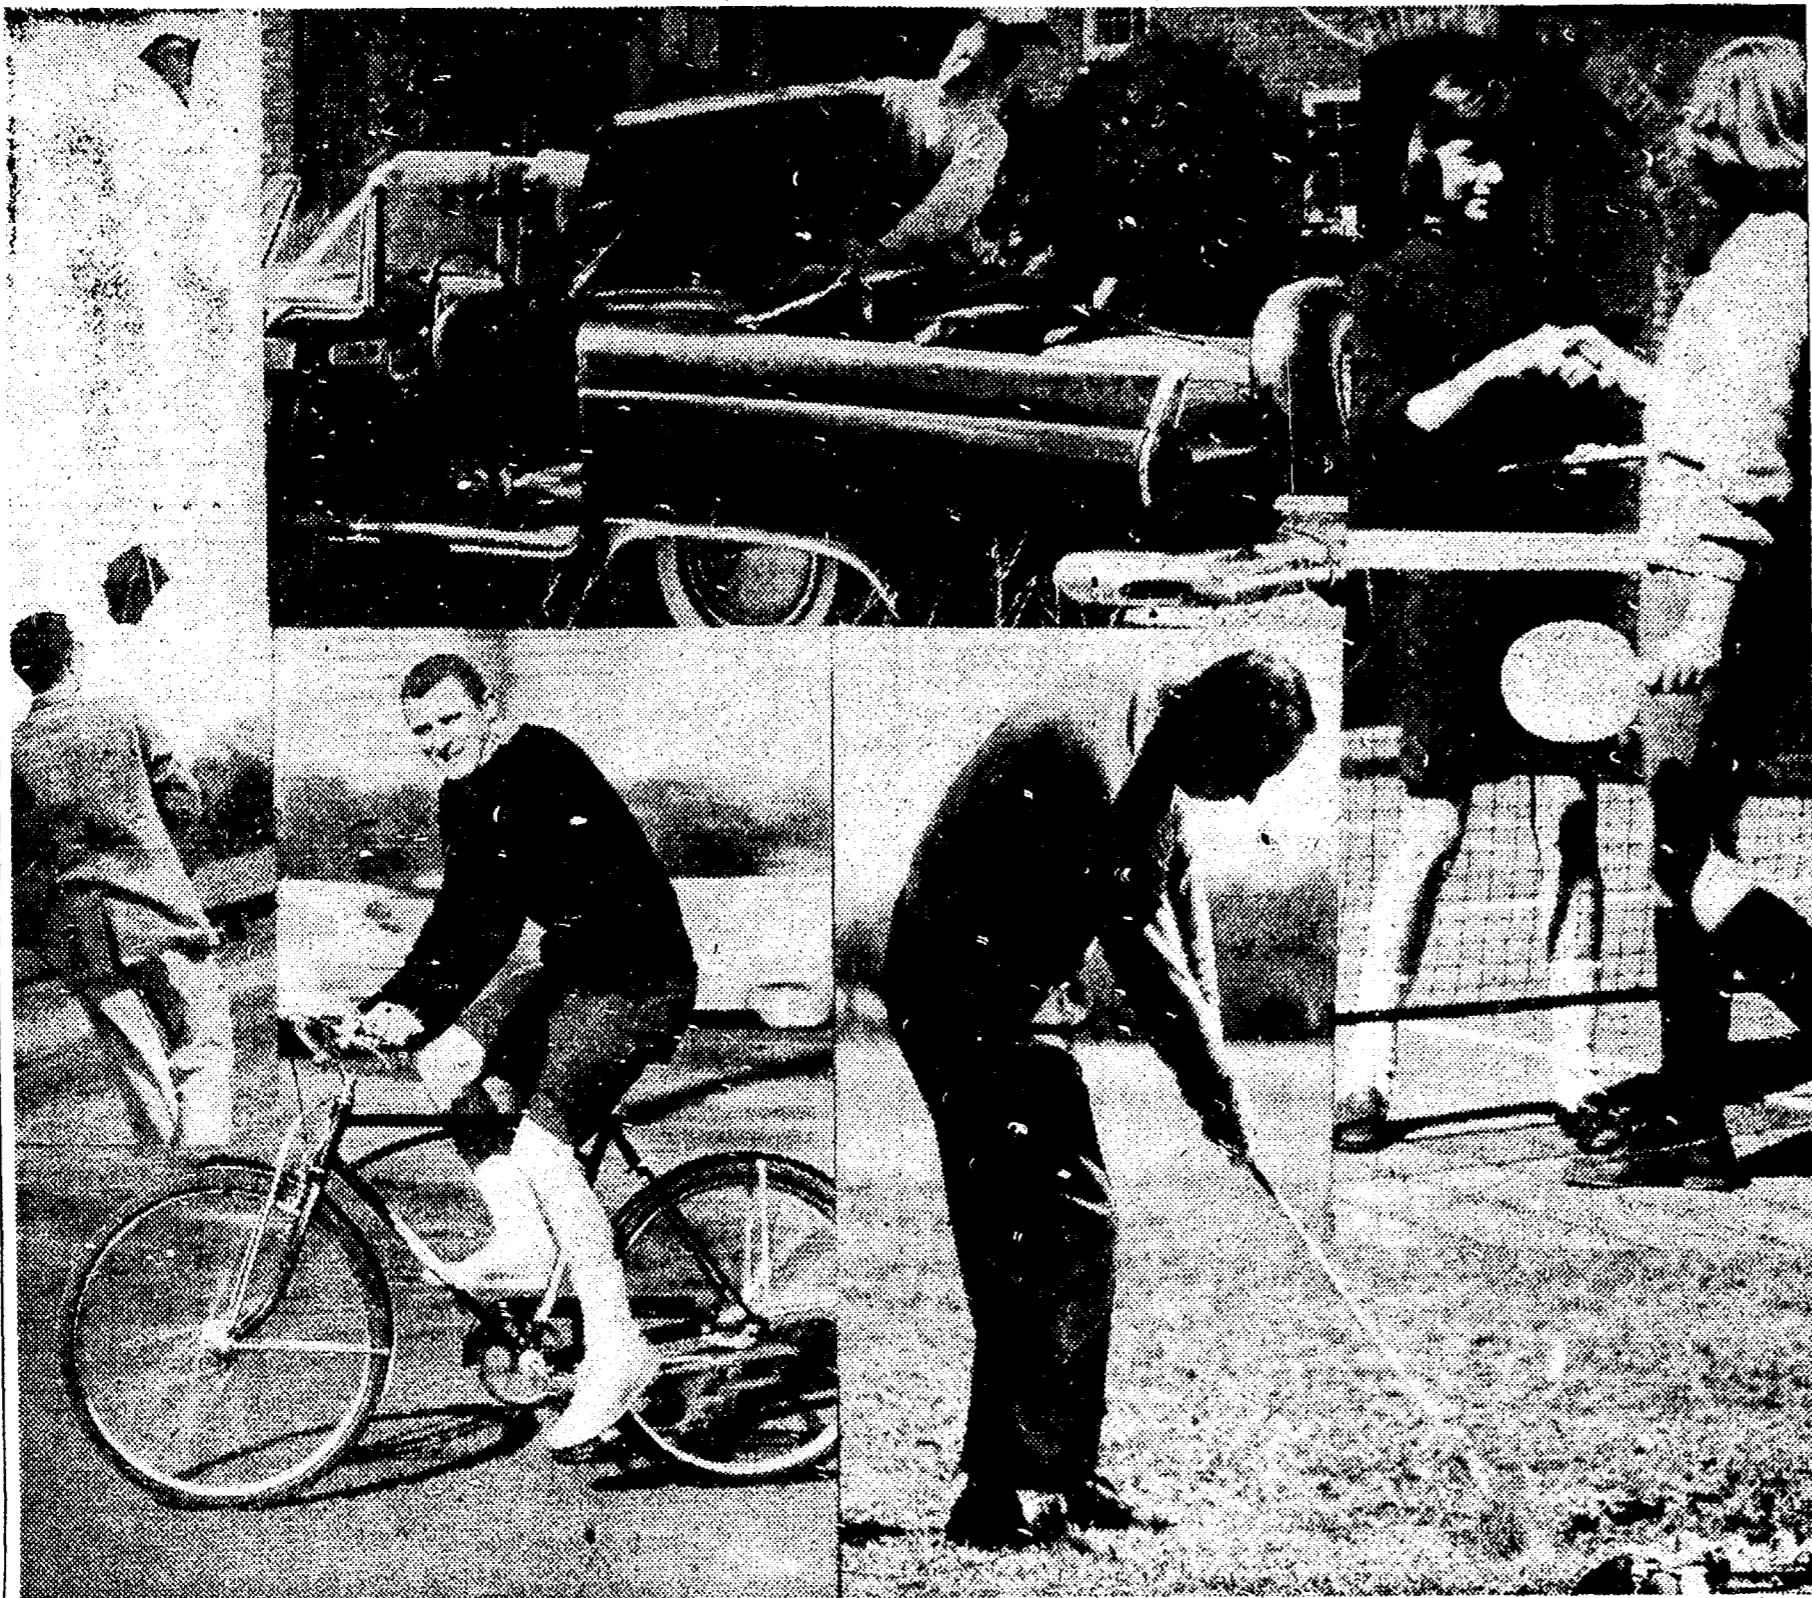

Republicans and a handful of city Democrats waged an unsuccessful fight to kill the bill or limit it to dairy products. They were outvoted 210-172 by Democrats and dissatisfied corn-belt Republicans.

The House action came a short time after the Senate approved another farm measure: a two-year extension of the Government's authority to sell farm surpluses overseas for foreign currencies.

GAMBLER RUSSELL TRICK testified Thursday in Detroit that he made William Monty a partner in his numbers business because Monty kept demanding more and more protection money.

The Downriver gambling czar said he paid former Ecorse Mayor William Voisine $700 a month for exclusive rights to operate his numbers business in the suburb's West Side. In addition, Trick testified (Continued on Page 12)

That Time of Year Has Come Round Again

Spring is officially on the calendar and blithely in the hearts of sportsmen and the young who have been waiting these many cold weeks for the first balmy days to dash out doors and do all those things akin to the season. Last Sunday afternoon there was kite flying at the Country Club and on the playgrounds of the schools, a few hardy souls greased their racers and cycled about in the bright sunshine. Golfers were out in full force with blisters and sunburned cheeks as a result of their first nines. Stalwart convertible owners couldn't wait to meet the elements and roll down the tops of their newly washed autos. Junior misses, well bundled, had a brisk game of paddle tennis on the club courts. All in all last Sunday was a real coming out party and a harbinger of the best weather to come.

3 Juveniles Try to Steal Car in Park

Boys Captured Trying to Escape; Admit to Other Crimes in Detroit

Three juveniles were arrested by Park police on Thursday, March 19, when they tried to climax a day of crime by stealing a car. The juveniles, all boys and all from Detroit, were 16, 15 and 12 years old.

Police received a complaint from the parking lot attendant at Al Green's, Jefferson and Beaconsfield, in which he said three boys were in a car in the lot and it appeared that they were trying to start the motor.

Patrolmen William Crandall and George McDowell answered the call so promptly, according to Police Chief Arthur L. Louwers, they arrived at the scene just as the boys started the car and were about to drive it off.

Apprehended in Alley
The 16-year-old ran, but was apprehended in the alley at the rear of the lot. The other two escaped the patrolmen and were captured at (Continued on Page 3)

170 Parcels Students Visit Capitol to See Government in Action

Largest Number to Ever Travel to Lansing; They Watched Legislature, Met Their Representatives and the Governor, Toured City

The entire ninth grade class of Parcels Junior High School visited the State Capitol as part of their study of civics and government last week. About 170 students accompanied by eight instructors made the all day trip to Lansing in four buses.

"This is only one of many ways in which the Grosse Pointe schools attempt to bring textbook material to life," Principal Vincent Peterson stated. "Our classes also visit the local government institutions on occasion or invite municipal officials into the classroom. Students have attended meetings of the Board of Education and city council; gone to court to observe the judiciary in action, as well as practiced in their school government the theories and precepts laid down by our textbooks."

"This is valuable training in the American way of life and a guaranty that new generations will achieve their majority with a good understanding of the privileges and responsibilities of a citizen in a democracy."

Students Prepare Report
A committee of six students and four teachers of civics at Parcels began planning for the trip several weeks ago. Ernest Hurst, Parcels civics teacher, stated, "The students wrote letters to our legislative representatives asking to visit them, as well as to other state officials including the governor and superintendent of public instruction. Lake Gives Up Hunter's Body Shores police recovered the body of Howard J. Frazier, 51, of 25530 Santa Rosa, St. Clair Shores, near the breakwall at the rear of 1000 Lake Shore road, on Monday, March 24.

Frazier drowned, while duck hunting on Lake St. Clair, on November 13, last year, when his boat capsized.

The body of his hunting companion, Kenneth A. McGowan, 41, of 19821 Shady lane, St. Clair Shores, was found on January 1. He drowned with Frazier.

Frazier is survived by his wife, Julie; sons, Howard J., Jr., and Mark Allen; a stepdaughter, Dorothy Pollard; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Frazier of the Farms; brothers, Roy F. and William H. of the Farms, and Lloyd J. of the City; sisters, Mrs. Florence A. Flurey of St. Clair Shores; and Mrs. Hilda Piche and Mrs. Corinne T. Klick of the Farms.

Funeral services will be held today, March 27. Burial will be in Mt. Elliott cemetery.

Firefighters Kept Busy In Woods

Four Successive Alarms Answered on Normally Quiet Day

Sundays are normally quiet in the Woods for police-firemen, but Sunday, March 23 saw the firefighters kept very busy answering calls, four of them in rapid succession.

The first alarm came at 9:40 a.m. from Amil Vermuelen, of 2024 Lochmoor, who was wrecking a home at 958 Vernier road.

His call to the police, who also double as firemen, revealed he was burning debris that had accumulated around the wrecked building and the fire had gotten out of control. The remaining part of the house not yet torn down, he said, had caught fire and was endangering the house next door.

Reduced to Ashes
Firefighting equipment was rushed to the scene, and the blaze was extinguished, but not before the premises had been reduced to ashes, leaving nothing more to wreck.

The fire trucks were being backed into their places in the fire station at about 11:26 a.m., when another call came. This time there was a field fire at Morningside and Renaud. This was put out with wet mops. Back to the station.

Intersection Scene of Smash

The Jefferson avenue-University place intersection chalked up another accident on St. Patrick's Day when Horst Misch, 2663 East Warren, in East Detroit, slammed into the rear of a car stopped for the traffic light at that pesky corner.

The second auto was driven by James E. Thomas, 22839 Almond, also of East Detroit. Misch was ticketed for not having his car under control.

Set Cost of Police Radio Conversion At About $42,387

Farms Awards Contracts to Two Firms for Remodeling Of Shed for New Home for Base Station

The over all cost of the modernization of the Pointe-Harper Woods police radio system has been set at $42,387.92, according to the latest released information.

The figure includes the cost of mobile and portable equipment, base station conversion, and the remodeling and improving of the Farms' old DPW shed at the rear of the Farms Municipal building for the new location of the base radio station.

The present location of the base station is in the third cell of the Farms jail.

The total figure was swelled on Friday, March 21, when the Farms, as the managing municipality, awarded contracts to the lowest bidders to have the shed made over and for the purchase of a new generator and the complete wiring of the shed.

The Ambrose Beaudette company was given the job of remodeling the shed on its bid of $2,192.27; the Maryland Electrical company will install the generator and wiring for a total of $738.90.

Uncle Sam Pays Part
Part of the cost of the generator, however, will be paid by the Federal Government, under its Civil Defense program.

Cost of modernization of the radio station, according to Warren Carson, police radio technician, has been set at $5,842.45, after trade-in allowances on old equipment.

This cost is to be shared by the Pointes and Harper Woods, according to real equalized assessed property valuation in each community, which will be determined some time in May.

The biggest cost, $33,974.30, is for scout car radios, handie-talkies, remote control units, and power voice speakers, and other equipment needed in emergency vehicles for the better protection of the public. This figure might fluctuate, depending, on whether each

Woods Woman Hurt by Gun

A Woods housewife was accidentally shot by her husband on Sunday, March 23, while both were examining a revolver bequeathed them by a dead friend.

Taken to St. John Hospital with a bullet in her side, was Mrs. Marie J. Christie, 51, of 1270 N. Oxford. The bullet was removed and the woman reported not in danger.

Mrs. Christie, and her husband, Augustus, 51, told Woods detectives, Sgt. Walter O'Dell and Leroy Tobian, the mishap took place while they were looking at a .25 caliber automatic, obtained through the recent death of a friend.

The gun, in the hands of the husband, accidentally went off, with the bullet hitting Mrs. Christie in the left side.

Police marked the case closed after taking statements from the husband and wife.

Space Minded Youths Form New Rocket Club

By ALDEN EDGAR
"Orifices," "Detonating System," "Combustion," "Inertia," "Tracking," "Thrust"—it served this completely-baffled reporter right for crashing a stag affair!

Or so I first felt, upon attending a meeting of the Grosse Pointe Rocket Society at the High School last Thursday afternoon. The curiosity itch was initially substituted by a feeling of utter frustration at the foreign phrases so glibly exchanged by the 28 youth-members of the club.

The month-old organization credits its existence to sponsor Jay Grossmark, science teacher at Grosse Pointe High School. He got wind of some of his students' amateur attempts at rocket-launching and, for the sake of safety, channeled theirs, and others', interests into the Society. The boys, all students at the school and mostly sixteen-year-olds, immediately adopted a constitution stating their intents and purposes.

They voted to limit membership to thirty, elected officers, set up rules and penalties—and resolved that their raison d'être was "to further the knowledge in the sciences of chemistry, physics, mathematics, aerodynamics, and engineering, to promote safety otherwise not obtained when

Need $37,000 To Continue Civic Service

Campaign Begins Tuesday For Donations Toward '58-'59 Budget

Tuesday morning, April 1st, residents of the five Grosse Pointes will be receiving notices of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Eighth Annual Drive for the support of the Center. $37,500 is needed to balance the operational budget of $135,455. All gifts to the Center are income tax deductible.

Nearly 100,000 people, including repeats, used the Center between April 1st, 1957, and the present time. This represents an increase of some 15,000 over the period ending a year ago. The greatest increase has been in attendance at Center-sponsored program activities, the majority of which are free.

Serves Many So Well
Never before has the Center been able to serve so many so well—but it does take money. The Center is a meeting place for nearly all Pointe organizations. It is a beautiful Memorial to Pointe Veterans and also a real service center to today's citizens. It provides free blood in case of emergency, free hospital equipment on loan and a cancer center. The Center welcomes new residents and makes our senior citizens at home.

Youth activities play a large part at the Center. There is a running program of teen-age activity and events for grammar school children too. When the college crowd is home there are non-alcoholic reunions for them. And when young adults want to meet their contemporaries they come to the Center.

Active Garden Groups
The Center abounds in special interest groups for better adult living. The Center houses one of the most active garden centers in the country whose trial garden on the Memorial grounds has attracted national attention. The Memorial's art center has grown by leaps and bounds (Continued on Page 3)

Law Breakers Pay in Woods

John A. Nuent of 16204 Muirland, Detroit, was found guilty of driving under the influence of alcohol and fined $100 and $15 court costs by Woods Judge Don Goodrow on Saturday, March 22. One year probation, no driving, was also imposed.

William E. Dumaux of 2038 Anita, also charged with violating the State Drunk Motor Law, was found guilty and fined $75, and placed on six months probation, no driving. Daniel E. Hamilton of 1857 Allard, was found guilty of reckless driving and paid a fine and costs of $42.50.

William Ward, Jr., of 1025 Kensington, was found guilty of being a disorderly person and paid a fine of $25.

James F. Oderfer of 989 Roslyn, charged on two counts of having a noisy muffler, was found guilty. He paid a fine of $10 on one count, and given a suspended sentence on the second.

Don Preston of 23101 N. Rosedale court, St. Clair Shores, accused of speeding, was found guilty and given a suspended sentence.

Roland W. Welch of 22337 Avalon avenue, St. Clair Shores, was found guilty of not having his car under control and causing an accident and paid a $10 fine.

Ernest J. Wagner of 2009 Lancaster, was given a suspended sentence after being found guilty of ignoring a stop street sign.

George H. Philip of 2646 Park, Detroit, paid a $5 fine for speeding.

James L. Cole of 5227 St. Clair, Detroit, was fined $20 after being found guilty of speeding.

Alger Resigns Over Letter

Fred M. Alger, Jr., of 294 Lincoln road—the Republican who came closest to unseating Governor Williams, has resigned from the Republican committee in the 14th Congressional District.

The former ambassador to Belgium wired district chairman Stanley J. Baldwin, who lives at 3674 Lakepointe, the resignation from his winter home in Palm Beach, Florida.

It was touched off by a round-robin letter from the 14th District which was circulated through the top echelon of the party on official district stationery (bearing Alger's name on the letterhead.) The letter was highly critical of the party's state leadership and State Republican Chairman Lawrence B. Lindemer.

Alger's wire blasted "I feel this (the letter) is an outrage and in no part can I lend my name to such a program. I request that my immediate resignation be accepted and that my name be taken from the letterhead."

Baldwin said he admitted the letter, which was approved by a "majority" of the committee's members, was a "guts" circular. He added that he and Richard Durand, district vice chairman who resides at 425 Lincoln road, received only a few unfavorable comments from the district.

Alger's membership on the district's executive committee was short-lived—lasting, in all, "only about four months."

Pointe Juniors Create Scenery

done by individuals, and to combine the limited knowledge of many individuals for the benefit of the society and the school.

The club is divided into committees, which enable them to delve into those areas of the rocket realm which are of special interest. There are five to choose from: 1) Detonating and fuels, 2) Recovery, 3) Launching devices and thrust measurements, 4) Design and, 5) Tracking and control.

The Society meets every Thursday afternoon after school, from 3:30 to 4:30. President Jim Ropes handles the general meeting (adhering impressively to parliamentary procedures), during which he calls for reports from the various committees.

It is then that the boys have a chance to present any new innovations, questions, design possibilities, etc. to the rest of the club—open, always, to constructive criticism.

Thus it is that all benefit from the successes and failures of fellow members. The remainder of the meeting-time is devoted to individual committee meetings where there is, again, a free exchange of information and questions. The boys are encouraged to do research on their own, in their particular field, and to read those scientific magazines and circulars to which the group subscribes.

Their regulations are strict—and the penalties for failing to observe them, severe.

For instance, no one is to test rockets outside the Society's jurisdiction—penalty, expulsion; the only fuel to be used until a specified date is to be powdered zinc and sulphur, powder—expulsion; all rockets must be fired in authorized space, on launching pad, with electric detonator, and in the presence of the Society and sponsor.

As worded in their constitution: "Rather than just the firing of rockets, the group is more interested in principles such as tracking of projectiles, design, testing thrust and other mechanics of rocketry. Therefore, anyone who does not display interest in the more important aspects of rocket research will be subject to expulsion."

The present primary concern of the club is to find a firing range, with adequate safety features, for testing some of their finished products. They have received permission from Selfridge Air Force Base to use their "Restricted Area"—which is near Harbor Beach and therefore not very convenient—provided the group assumes full responsibility.

The enthusiasm and sincerity of purpose these boys manifest is heartening in this age that demands not only interest, but knowledge, in the field of the sciences. Jerry J. Gerich, the High School's new principal, expressed amazement at the enterprise and initiative the boys demonstrated—"greater than any other youth activity I've ever seen," he exclaimed. This intellectual curiosity should be nourished and sustained. The Society is eager for enlightenment and would welcome any outside interest from persons interested in rocketry.

Family Film Night Changed

Because the three Grosse Pointe Public Libraries will be closed on Good Friday, April 4, Family Film Night, which is usually held on the first Friday night of each month, will be postponed until Friday, April 11.

Three color films will be shown on the program, which begins at 7:30 in the second floor meeting room of the Central Library at Kercheval and Fisher.

First on the program will be a color cartoon, followed by EGYPT AND THE NILE. This film is a survey of the Nile region from Aswan to the port of Alexandria. It shows the dam at Aswan and lesser barrage dams downriver which have changed the outlook of Egyptian agriculture.

Modern Cairo is shown across from the pyramids and Sphinx of Giza. The Suez Canal takes up a major portion of the film, plus numerous scenes of ancient craftsmanship and labor, contrasting the old and the new Egypt.

CORAL WONDERLAND, the last film of the evening, is being repeated from last year's series by request. It is an interesting film showing the fabulous coral growth of the Barrier Reef Islands coming to life under the microscope, and the Reef's unique fish and underwater creatures. The high point of the film shows how the giant turtle lays her eggs in the sand, how the baby turtles are hatched, and how they instinctively head for the water upon coming into the world.

Patrons of Family Film Night are urged to note the change of date of this program, from April 4, as originally scheduled, to Friday, April 11.

time to put the trucks in the firehouse because of the third call. This was at 11:40 a.m.

The fence separating the Woods Theater parking lot and the property at 19202 Mack avenue, was on fire. The blaze was put out with a fire hose.

Three juveniles who had been playing with matches admitted starting the fire. They were taken to the Woods police station where they were given a lecture and turned over to their parents for proper punishment.

No sooner was the lecture of the juveniles over, then a call came at 12:50 p.m., a field fire at Goethe and E. Eight Mile road. This was extinguished with wet mops.

Everything was quiet for about four hours. Then an alarm came in from the home of Sinibaldi Ariemma, 1507 Anita, whose house was filled with smoke.

Rushing all equipment to the scene, the firefighters found that Ariemma had forgotten to open the damper of his fireplace, causing the fire to heat up the mantelpiece and smoke up the house. This blaze was put out with a hand extinguisher.

unanimous approval of the project.

Carson said that in his opinion, when the changes have been consummated, the Pointe-Harper Woods communities will have the most modern public safety radio system available—one that will guarantee complete protection from annoying outside interference and will comply with all known FCC regulations.

The radio system change-over became mandatory when Federal Communications Commission recently ordered the band width of radio channels cut from 60 kilocycles to 30 kilocycles.

The Pointe-Harper Woods system will be operating on two frequencies, and will have three transmitters, two for local use and the third for fast communication within a 35-city area.

(Continued from Page 1) students are presenting in class a report or summary of the experience as they saw it." Leaving Grosse Pointe at 8 o'clock the group arrived in East Lansing at about 10:30 o'clock. A short tour of the Michigan State University campus was followed by lunch in one of the college cafeterias. At about 12:30 a tour of the capitol building began, lasting for about an hour.

The students and their sponsors were greeted by Senator Harold Ryan and Representative Robert Waldron who represent the districts of which Grosse Pointe is a part. In addition the whole entourage was privileged to visit the governor's office and to shake hands with him.

Greet Dr. Bartlett
Former Grosse Pointe educator, Lynn Bartlett, superintendent of public instruction for Michigan, also greeted the group and renewed old acquaintances.

The students then visited the legislative halls and watched the House of Representatives in session. This, according to the reports of many of the students, was the highlight of the trip. The opportunity to see such an important part of our governing machinery functioning was what most had been looking forward to.

"We would have observed the House at work for a longer period if only our schedule wasn't so tight," Carol Kincheloe, planning committee member, said. "I think the best way to learn about things like government is to see it in action."

The statements extended an invitation to their legislators to return the visit. They are hopeful that at least one of them will be able to do so in April when the legislature adjourns.

"While other groups of Grosse Pointe students have made similar trips to the State and national capitols, this was perhaps the largest number ever to go from a local school," Mr. Peterson stated. "I was very impressed with the planning and preparation that went into the field trip. The students took such an active part in making the arrangements and are making such a thorough follow up of the occasion that it cannot help but be a wonderful educational experience."

The student planning committee was composed of Karen Hubbard, Carolyn Stearns, Carol Kincheloe, Lee Jefferis, Woody Hays, and John LeBlond. Assisting Mr. Hurst on the trip were teachers Gail Wog, Marshal Moser, John Corbin, Wayne Delancey, and William Prosser. Dean of Boys Leon Engelhart and Nurse Marie Meyer also accompanied the group.

3 Juveniles

The boys were locked up in the Juvenile Detention home overnight and the following day were questioned in the presence of their parents.

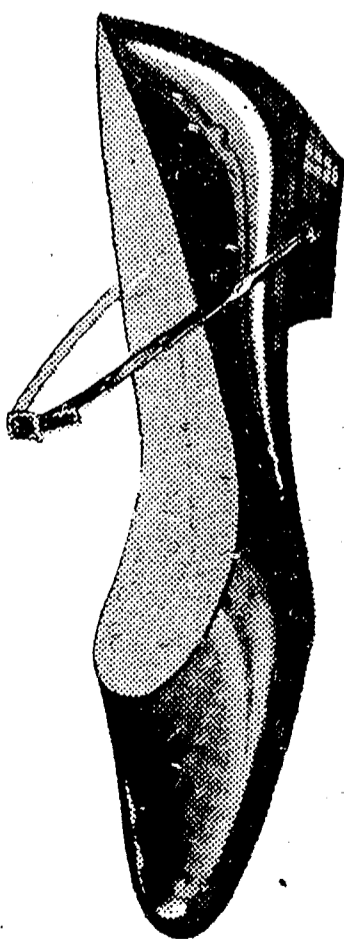

The youths said they had skipped school, the day they were caught, and in Detroit, went into a Jefferson avenue store where they stole cigarettes and cigars, and later, just before trying to steal the car, they attempted two purse snatchings. They failed in the latter, they said.

Looked for Available Car
Following the failure of their latest crime attempts, they said, they walked along Jefferson and then decided to steal a car. It was planned that if they found no key in the car they wanted, they would jump the ignition wires.

Chief Louwers said that one of the boys, no age given, already had a long record of arrests.

A formal complaint has been filed with Juvenile authorities against the boys, the chief said, and a copy of the information of the case was given to the Youth Bureau in Detroit.

Pointe superintendent of schools, John B. Barnes, was on hand to pay homage to Mr.

A senior student, Donna

viewpoints were voiced by
Mrs. Ruth Flom and Donald

Mr. Saltzer as assistant principal.

As evidence of the esteem of their former colleague, Mr.
Saltzer was presented, at the conclusion of the evening, with two pieces of airplane luggage (he hopes to be able to use them on either/or a western trip the summer of 1959, a European tour in 1960) and a generous addition to his

Pornography Peddler Moves from Woods

A Woods store owner, who was charged with violating his probation, is out of business, and has another year added to his probation.

Theodore Wichman, 58, of 1423 Berkshire, appeared before Woods Judge Don Goodrow, on Saturday, March 22, on a show cause order on why the judge's order of probation should not be terminated.

Wichman was on a two-year probation for being in possession of pornography, for which he was arrested on August 2, 1956. At the time, the offense was a misdemeanor. He paid a fine and court costs of $200.

Woods police arrested Wichman again on November 22, 1957, charging him with the same offense for which he was arrested previously. However, since Wichman's last arrest, the State Legislature made possession of pornography, a high misdemeanor, so Wichman was taken before Circuit Court Judge Frank Fitzgerald on January 28, and pleaded guilty to the charge.

By virtue of his plea, he became in violation of the probation terms imposed by Judge Goodrow.

At Saturday's hearing, Wichman was given the alternative of closing up his store, the Empire Gift and Camera Shop, Mack and Hampton, where it was said he had been conducting his pornography business or face 90 days in the Wayne County Jail.

Wichman's plea that he had a five-year lease on the store and that he had a "hard" landlord, failed to sway the court. He was told he would have to leave the Woods, voluntarily, or go to jail. In addition, Judge Goodrow said he would add another year to Wichman's probation period. Wichman accepted the conditions imposed by the judge, and moved all his equipment from his store, promising he would not return to the Woods. The accused man's second offense is in the hands of the Wayne County Probation Department for pre-sentence study.

Day to Head Economy Study

Another Grosse Pointer has gained state-wide recognition in an extra-curricular-civic capacity. William M. Day, president of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company, who resides on Lakeland avenue, has been named by Gov. Williams as the chairman of a committee of nearly 100 leaders in business, labor, and government who will undertake a new long-range study of Michigan's economy.

Quoting from an editorial in the Detroit Free Press: "Day's energetic participation in public affairs, coupled with his utility-trained ability in organization and his genuine interest in the State's well-being, augurs well for this long-range venture."

Williams' idea is to unite warring factions of the state's economy in a study that will assure full employment in 1960, 1965, and 1975. The proposed plan has been termed the "Committee on Michigan's Economic Future". Members are to be made public within a week, but Day has already agreed to chair the committee. The Governor said backers of the program believe COMEF can be privately financed. It was drawn up with the assistance of Dr. William Haber, University of Michigan economics professor, and Frank Seideman, Grand Rapids accountant.

The plan will be divided into four primary task forces: 1) Industrial and commercial modernization 2) Manpower trends and future needs. 3) Michigan's changing economy and 4) Michigan's growth assets.

The Governor said that State agencies, such as the Michigan Employment Security Commission, would assist in the study. He explained that COMEF would correlate all studies of Michigan's economy made in the past and will delve into a fact-finding report on the state's future.

Spotlight On Education

In the midst of all the furor occasioned by the Russians sputnik, American education has been spotlighted again. Parents, stirred up recently by the "Johnny Can't Read" campaign have been forced to take an objective look at what their children are learning in the nation's schools. And an objective look is difficult when there is near panic about the country concerning our scientific lag. Re-evaluation of American education is necessary and it must be done in a calm considered mien.

Prominent educators about our land have been worried for some years about our trend away from the fundamentals, the loose elective system in high schools, the caliber of teaching, the lack of qualified personnel, the over crowded classrooms. Wild words and wilder questions have been tossed about in the national press, at the PTA meetings, in parents' living rooms.

In order to assist our thinking on this most important problem the American Council of Education has recently published a pamphlet explaining a few issues. The Council is a voluntary, non-governmental agency of co-operation in American education with membership from organizations which include approved universities, teachers' colleges, junior colleges, city school systems, state departments of education, private schools and large public libraries.

Among the propositions which the Council calls to public notice is "Critical analysis of our educational system is certainly in order, but mistaken efforts to place blame through name-calling and fault finding should not be permitted to obscure the fact that our schools, colleges and universities are seldom must better or worse than their respective publics want them to be."

"The critical need is for material support. The American people can afford to spend more on education."

"The total economic resources available for higher education whatever they may be, will necessarily exist in limited amounts. One demand upon those resources is to raise the general level of performance in all schools and colleges. A second, and vital, call upon our economic resources is to strengthen our leadership in all important fields and to add to our best existing institutions the appreciable support needed to meet the demands for the highest order of quality."

Grosse Pointe is noted for its fine educational system and we are justly proud of our unique situation. But ours cannot be a complacent view. There are few things more important than a free democratic education in a free democratic world. Our academic strengths are many, and must receive continuous and vigilant support, on our home ground, and farther afield.

"Most Americans now realize that our leadership, and indeed our national survival, is being challenged as never before in history. Most Americans must be brought to realize that the survival and well-being of this nation depend no less upon the strength of our educational system than upon the strength of our military establishment."

The Barefoot Mailman—

Editor's Note: A short time ago one of our columnists ("whoosit"), by name expressed curiosity about the nomenclature of one of the newer Gold Coast hotels in Florida: "The Barefoot Mailman". The response has been nothing short of overwhelming — running the gamut from the establishment itself, to recent hotel visitors from the Pointe—to those persons well-versed in Florida history who wish to share their knowledge. In short, we are now more than well-informed on the subject—and wish to pass on the interesting story to our readers. We therefore take the liberty to quote, in part, from a brochure issued by the hotel:

"An important segment of the history of Florida lies in the story of the barefoot mailmen. In the period of 1886-1893, the hamlets of Palm Beach and Miami were not served by regular postal facilities. South bound mail was dispatched from Jupiter Inlet, about 10 miles north of Palm Beach. From there it was carried to Miami by mailmen who traversed the 90-mile stretch on foot along the beaches and over the inlets.

They walked barefoot to minimize the difficulties of traveling on soft, drifted sandy stretches. Boats were kept at Hillsborough Inlet, at New River in Fort Lauderdale, and at Biscayne Bay in Miami for the purpose of enabling the mailmen to paddle across these sizeable expanses of inland water.

Not only did they carry first class mail but also the normal needs of an isolated village—everything from calico to cough medicine was transported.

Every six days the barefoot mailmen completed a round trip from Palm Beach to Miami, averaging about 30 miles each day. A scant few yards from their regular beach paths were almost impenetrable jungles infested with alligators, bears, snakes and even panthers. Out upon the open beaches, they were subjected to scorching sun and virtual clouds of mosquitoes.

Although the barefoot mailmen had to be extremely rugged and persistent, their routes were not without compensations. They were the first to experience all of the special and wondrous beauties of uninhabited Florida. They saw the small deer that once lived in South Florida; they made delicious meals from easily caught oysters and all kinds of fish and fruits. Legends describe the magnificent scenery of cypress, banyan, pines and mangrove. Orchids clung in abundance to tree branches.

Although the barefoot mailmen are not mentioned in U.S. postal records, they survive in story, movie film, and song. A book in 1943 by Theodore Pratt is still in publication, now in its tenth printing. The movie went around the world to tell their story. In 1957 a song was written to remind us that the Gold Coast was kept alive partly on the strength of its barefoot mailmen.

Eventually Miami became sufficiently populated to justify mailboats, and later a railroad line was extended down from Jupiter. Less than 65 years ago, the coastlines that is now popularized over the globe was kept in touch with the world only on the pioneering strength of men whose feats will always be part of Florida's amazing history and growth."

It Pays to Modernize, But Dont Attempt It Yourself

There is no better investment than that which provides for the comfort and happiness of his family. The wise home owner devotes a definite portion of his income to the maintenance and improvement of his property for this very purpose. In doing so, he protects and preserves his capital investment which otherwise may seriously deteriorate over a period of time.

In the last few years, many new products have become available that were practically undreamed of a decade ago. They are being used increasingly to transform older homes into new standards of livability. At the same time, older products such as roofing, siding and combination windows and doors have been vastly improved over those formerly used. New color combinations and designs in these items hold a greater incentive than was ever before offered to modernize the older home.

The "do-it-yourself" idea has become an important pattern in many homes—and rightly so: it means inventing, experimenting and using special skills or avocation in our pastime. In the field of home improvements its application is limited and the limitations are rather strict, dictated by considerations of safety, professional knowledge and preservation of property value.

Common sense and knowledge will make most home owners stop and think before they decide to take matters in their own hands, climb up on the roof for repairs, apply siding material or install storm windows or shutters themselves.

Most improvements require special instruments, know-how of treatment and application of materials, and precision performance of which only a professional is capable. An important part of home improvement work is service after completion; if adjustments or corrections become necessary, the professional contractor will gladly do them, usually without charge. The do-it-yourselfer often wakes up to his unknown limitations when the mistakes or omissions in his masterwork become visible—and that is too often too late for reasonable corrections. Therefore, play safe and call the expert! It will be cheaper, faster and safer in the long run.

Editorial Note: Nancy Kosola a student in the sixth grade at Defer School describes what is a Proper Pet in her poem about a Goldfish.)

"Happy in your world of water,
Your just the pet for son or daughter.
No need for comb or brush or soap
No need for collar, leash or rope.

The neighbors don't complain about,
Your frantic yowling to get out
You live your life cool and "clammy"
And not just like one of the family.

What Goes On at Your Library

By Jean Taylor

Guest Columnist:
Patricia Grobbel

The most active family in Grosse Pointe! Its aim is service, its interest is you, and it's always "at home" on 10 Kercheval. Have you met this family? Surely you know some members, if not by name at least by face. Their residence is visited by most Pointers simply because it is the supply outlet for a very important demand — knowledge. But have you ever wondered what really makes this household tick? Well, if every user of the library could slip into the shoes of a staff member for a day, he would soon know. He would receive an amazingly new point of view as to what goes on at your library.

As in any large family, each member has a special talent and chore to do. From the director, who makes organization possible, and his helpers, through the reference librarians, the children's librarians, book processing department, circulation department, those who care for the physical needs of the library, to the pages who have the unending job of properly shelving books, each member fulfills an integral part in running this household.

The variety of opportunities offered to the public and the consequent range of duties performed can be breath-taking to a newly adopted member of the staff.

The controversy about television stamping out culture gained through books and other mediums seems foolish when one works with a library that offers the books, television, films, and lectures all under the same roof. It can be seen that one medium stimulates partaking of another.

These activities show how your library and its family has grown with the community. Another sign of the time is the ever buzzing telephone which summons the librarian with her reference source. The mountain of transaction cards filed every day is proof of the increasing circulation. Tools and records that are checked in are evidence of the interest in more recent collections.

It does not take a new member of the staff long to discover that your library holds a finger on the community pulse. Pointers of all ages and occupations push in and out the doors from morning until night.

The latest report on the local measles epidemic, or who is going to Florida and wants a book on vacation loan, or which Scout troop is showing a new film at their meeting, are typical snapshots of news.

Perhaps one of the most delightful experiences at the charge desk occurs when you hear that pre-school child eagerly ask for his first library card, and watch the diligent labor poured over each letter of his name on the registration card — a feat of printing learned just for the occasion and which only the receiving of one's very own library card could induce!

Then the realization dawns that this initial key to the library is to the youngster as a driver's license is to a sixteen year old, or a voter's card to a twenty-one year old.

Once on the other side of the desk you find that life for the library staff holds a variety of challenge, reward, and the unexpected — all mysteriously sifted into an order so that in the end a job is done. If you associate the notion of librarian with one who sits at a desk and reads undisturbed except for an occasional interruption, you would soon change that image if you had the opportunity to serve the community with the most active family in Grosse Pointe.

Sorosis to Hear Talk on April 1

Detroit Sorosis will hold a luncheon and lecture April 1 at the home of Mrs. W. G. Eversman, 884 Westchester road. Luncheon will begin at 12:30 o'clock with Mrs. Earl Doig's talk, "Madonnas of the World", following. Mrs. Doig is active in the Westminster Presbyterian Church. She is a founder and member of the Lathrop Women's Club and a member of the Alma College Women's Board. Her lecture was prepared several years ago for a P.E.O. program and has since been enjoyed by many groups. It is thought particularly appropriate for a Tuesday before Easter program.

St. Paul Girls Win City Title

St. Paul's boys and girls nearly scored a clean sweep in the annual CYO basketball tournament last Sunday, March 23.

St. Paul's Varsity girl's team captured the City championship with an 18-14 win over Immaculata. Helen Vandermaere scored 10 points for individual honors. The Varsity girls last won the City title in 1956.

The Junior Varsity squad was paced by Barbara Koleski's 12 points as it tripped Holy Rosary for the City crown. The Junior girls also held the City title in 1956.

Both teams were coached by Helen Michalak who has guided St. Paul's girls teams to four league championships and two city titles in the four years she has been in charge.

The St. Paul's 78ers, under Coach Ed Dooley, won the City Grade School championship with a 36-26 victory over Shrine.

Sea Scouts Shoot For Safety

The site of the Grosse Pointe Rifle and Pistol Club in the basement of the Neighborhood Club had an unofficial initiation recently when City Police Chief Tom Trombley tested members of Sea Scout Ship 19 for their Marksmanship Merit Badge. The boys were required to shoot 40 rounds on 4 separate targets, and in

Center to Show Students Art

Beginning Saturday, April 5th, and continuing till April 21st the second floor exhibit rooms of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, 32 Lake Shore, will display the best works by students of Hughie Lee-Smith's Center Art Classes.

The Center is open 9:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m. daily except Sunday when the hours are 12:00 noon to 5:00 p.m. It is wise, however, to call TU 1-7511 before coming to view the pictures to be sure that no meeting is occupying one of the rooms at that particular time.

The exhibit will be divided into beginning, intermediate and advanced divisions. Every student will have something on display which he has accomplished while in class.

All are oil paintings falling into one of three categories—portraits, landscapes or still lifes. Only the advanced students have studied what Master Lee-Smith refers to as figure painting rather than portrait work since there has been concentration on accuracy of perception rather than on facial likeness.

All the pictures exhibited will be on display for the first time. Included are some very beautiful landscapes of the Memorial's gardens and grounds.

The Center's Art Classes have expanded with the current growth of interest in Art. At the present, seven art classes are being conducted at the Center.

Three of them, the ones whose works will be exhibited, are taught by nationally known Hughie Lee-Smith former Founders Prize winner of the Michigan Artists Show, December Award winner of the Emily Lowe competition and whose work is to be included in the Fleischman Collection being taken behind the Iron Curtain.

New classes will be forming

Art Curator To Talk Here

Franklin Page, curator of Modern Art of the Detroit Institute of Arts, will speak on "Modern Art — How to Understand and Judge It," at the Grosse Pointe Public Library, 10 Kercheval, Friday, March 28, at 8 o'clock, according to the General Program Subcommittee of the Friends of the Grosse Pointe Library.

"Modern art is such a controversial subject," said Friend's President Jay W. Sorge, "that there is bound to be a lively discussion in which everyone can feel free to take part." Sorge also stated that the program would be illustrated with several examples of modern art.

Page, Newman reported, has served on the staff of the Museum for 10 years in the education department as well as other fields, including manager of television and film production. He directed three of the color films produced by the museum on its own collections and has averaged 70 television shows per year on both Channel 4 and 56.

He is in charge of the famed 153-year-old Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts Exhibition of Modern Painting and Sculpture, which opened March 18 at the Museum. Page also directs the Annual Michigan Artists Exhibition and the Exhibition of Industrial Design.

In addition to his duties heading up such exhibits Page also is a noted judge, analyst and lecturer, Newman said.

Page earned degrees from Wayne University as Bachelor of Fine Arts and Master of Arts and is a member of the Wayne faculty. He was awarded fellowships in 1951 and 1955 by the Belgium-American Educational Foundation for summer study in Belgium.

Beach Sponsors Easter Egg Hunt

Metropolitan Beach will have its first Easter egg hunt on Easter Sunday, April 6, inaugurating a new type of early-season activity at the 550-acre beach-park on Lake St. Clair.

Twenty-four hundred brightly colored, hard-boiled eggs will be concealed along the 1600-ft. of boardwalk bordering the sand beach and land play areas. Youngsters aged 12 and under will begin the hunt at 3 p.m. and ten prizes will be given for ten eggs marked as prize-winners.

Co-sponsors of the new event are the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, of which the beach is a unit, and the Metropolitan Beach Catering Company. There is no charge either for parking or participation in the hunt. Full-course meals are served.

Families are invited by James J. Pompo, superintendent, to come out for dinner or a snack at the food bar and either to take part or watch the hunt. The food bar will open from 10 a.m. to dark.

Beatty Serves City 30 Years

Melvin Beatty, 641 Notre Dame avenue, marked thirty years of service with the City of Grosse Pointe, for whom he is Inspector and Commissioner, on March 15.

Mr. Beatty first worked for the late Edmond Trombley and Fred J. Baker, former City employees. He has held his present position since April, 1948.

Some American steamship companies are working toward construction of nuclear-powered merchant ships within five years.

Gun Club Has First Birthday

The Grosse Pointe Rifle and Pistol Club is approaching its first birthday. Formed nearly a year ago, its officers (City Police Chief Tom Trombley, President; George Ellsworth, Vice President; City Police Captain Andy Teetart, Executive Officer and Clyde Putnam, Secretary-Treasurer) take justifiable pride in the group's progress.

Organized primarily to provide a place for the youth of Grosse Pointe to shoot under maximum safety conditions, the dream will become a finished reality within the next 4-5 weeks.

The basement of the Neighborhood Club is the shooting site. Actually, it was hardly that! With only 2-3 feet of headroom at the outset, it was necessary to remove thousands of yards of dirt to make room enough.

Members of the City Police and Fire department donated many hours of labor for the excavations and sewer which they incorporated.

With the completion of the plan. range the officers of the Club will open the membership to youths of all the Pointes. They have already obtained a charter from the National Rifle Association.

Star Designers Due for Benefit

The Fashion Group of Detroit reports that five of the world's leading millinery designers will be present in person at their big "Hats Off to Heart Research" Millinery Show and Auction to be held Friday evening, March 28, at the Sheraton Cadillac Casino.

All proceeds for this gala event are for the benefit of the Memorial Heart Research Fund of the Michigan Heart Association.

The five designers are Mr. John, Lily Dache, Mr. Arnold, Leddy Northbridge and Emme. The designers will be flown to Detroit by the American Millinery Institute at the invitation of the Fashion Group of Detroit and Lincoln Division of Ford Motor Co.

This will be a premiere showing of these five "new-as-tomorrow" creations, all of which will be presented by Lincoln in a leading fashion magazine next April. Each designer will present his "Most Beautiful" hat during the "Hats Off to Heart Research" show.

Hats donated by other leading millinery designers have been flown in especially for this charity event... and Detroit fashion stores are all donating their prettiest Spring bonnet to be auctioned off for the benefit of the Memorial Heart Research Fund.

Mayor Louis C. Miriani will auction off the first, followed by auctioneers Paul Williams, Detroit Television personality; Byron Farwell, author of a national best-seller, and the New York designers.

Ernest T. Guy, director of the Michigan Heart Association will open the ceremonies which include modelling of millinery by professional models who have donated their services for the event.

Tickets to this sparkling event are a donation of $5.00 per person to the Heart Fund, and are available from Fashion Group members or Mrs. Marie Kennedy, 806 Loraine road, TU 2-1441.

THE MOST damaging snow-storm in years tapered off along the Eastern seaboard Friday night, after two days of fury. Up to three feet of the white stuff buried some sections.

In eastern Pennsylvania the snow damage was the worst in 40 years. The area was placed under a state of emergency as the storm cut everyday life to a crawl. Other states of emergency were declared in New Jersey.

More than 43 deaths from heart attacks, exposure, electrocution and traffic accidents resulted from the storm and high winds that accompanied it. Damage ran into the millions of dollars.

FORMAL ORDERS for a slash in dairy price supports starting April 1 went out from Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson Friday. The reductions were proclaimed when the ink was hardly dry on a Congressional resolution forbidding them.

Benson's action re-emphasized his prediction that President Eisenhower will veto legislation clamping a one-year freeze on farm price supports, which was passed by the Senate Friday and sent to the White House.

Both Senate and House measures were designed to block reductions in price supports and acreage allotments below 1957 levels, although increases would be permitted.

DOUGLAS R. GINN, veteran business and administrator of the Police Department and top civilian executive under Commissioner Piggins, was ousted Friday by Mayor Miriani.

The Mayor didn't fire Ginn outright—he simply said that there will be no appropriation for the $12,611 salary for Ginn's job in the 1958-59 budget. Miriani claims he has no one in mind to fill the job.

FAMED PRODUCER Mike Todd died in flames early Saturday with three others in the crash of his twin-engine plane "The Lucky Liz," named for his actress wife, Elizabeth Taylor.

The executive-type plane exploded and burned in the Zuni Mountains of western New Mexico at 2:05 Saturday morning in a storm. The wreckage was strewn over a wide area in Bexton Springs Canyon, a part of New Mexico's storied bad lands.

With the colorful and flamboyant 50-year-old showman, producer of "Around the World in Eighty Days" were movie writer Art Cohn, pilot Bill Verner, and co-pilot Tom Barclay. Todd was enroute to New York where he was to have been honored at a testimonial dinner Sunday night.

TWO PINT-SIZED gunmen bound and gagged a prominent Detroit sportsman and robbed her of about $40,000 worth of jewels and furs Saturday afternoon.

The robbers, masquerading as florist's delivermen, entered the apartment of Mrs. Lottie Wolf, at 19470 Cranbrook, about 12:30 p.m. Mrs. Wolf, wife of Edward Wolf, a Ferndale manufacturer, breeds and races horses throughout the country.

The thieves took two diamond rings, valued at $16,000, that Mrs. Wolf was wearing. They also stole two fur coats, valued at $3,500, and the rest of her jewelry, worth more than $20,000.

A BERSERK East Side man took his life with his own rifle Saturday night after turning the gun on a married couple visiting in his home. The dead man is Raymond Durieux, a boarder at 3831 Neff, just across the Detroit city limits from Grosse Pointe.

His victims are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lievens, of 3903 Woodhall, "old friends" of the crazed slayer.

Monday, March 24

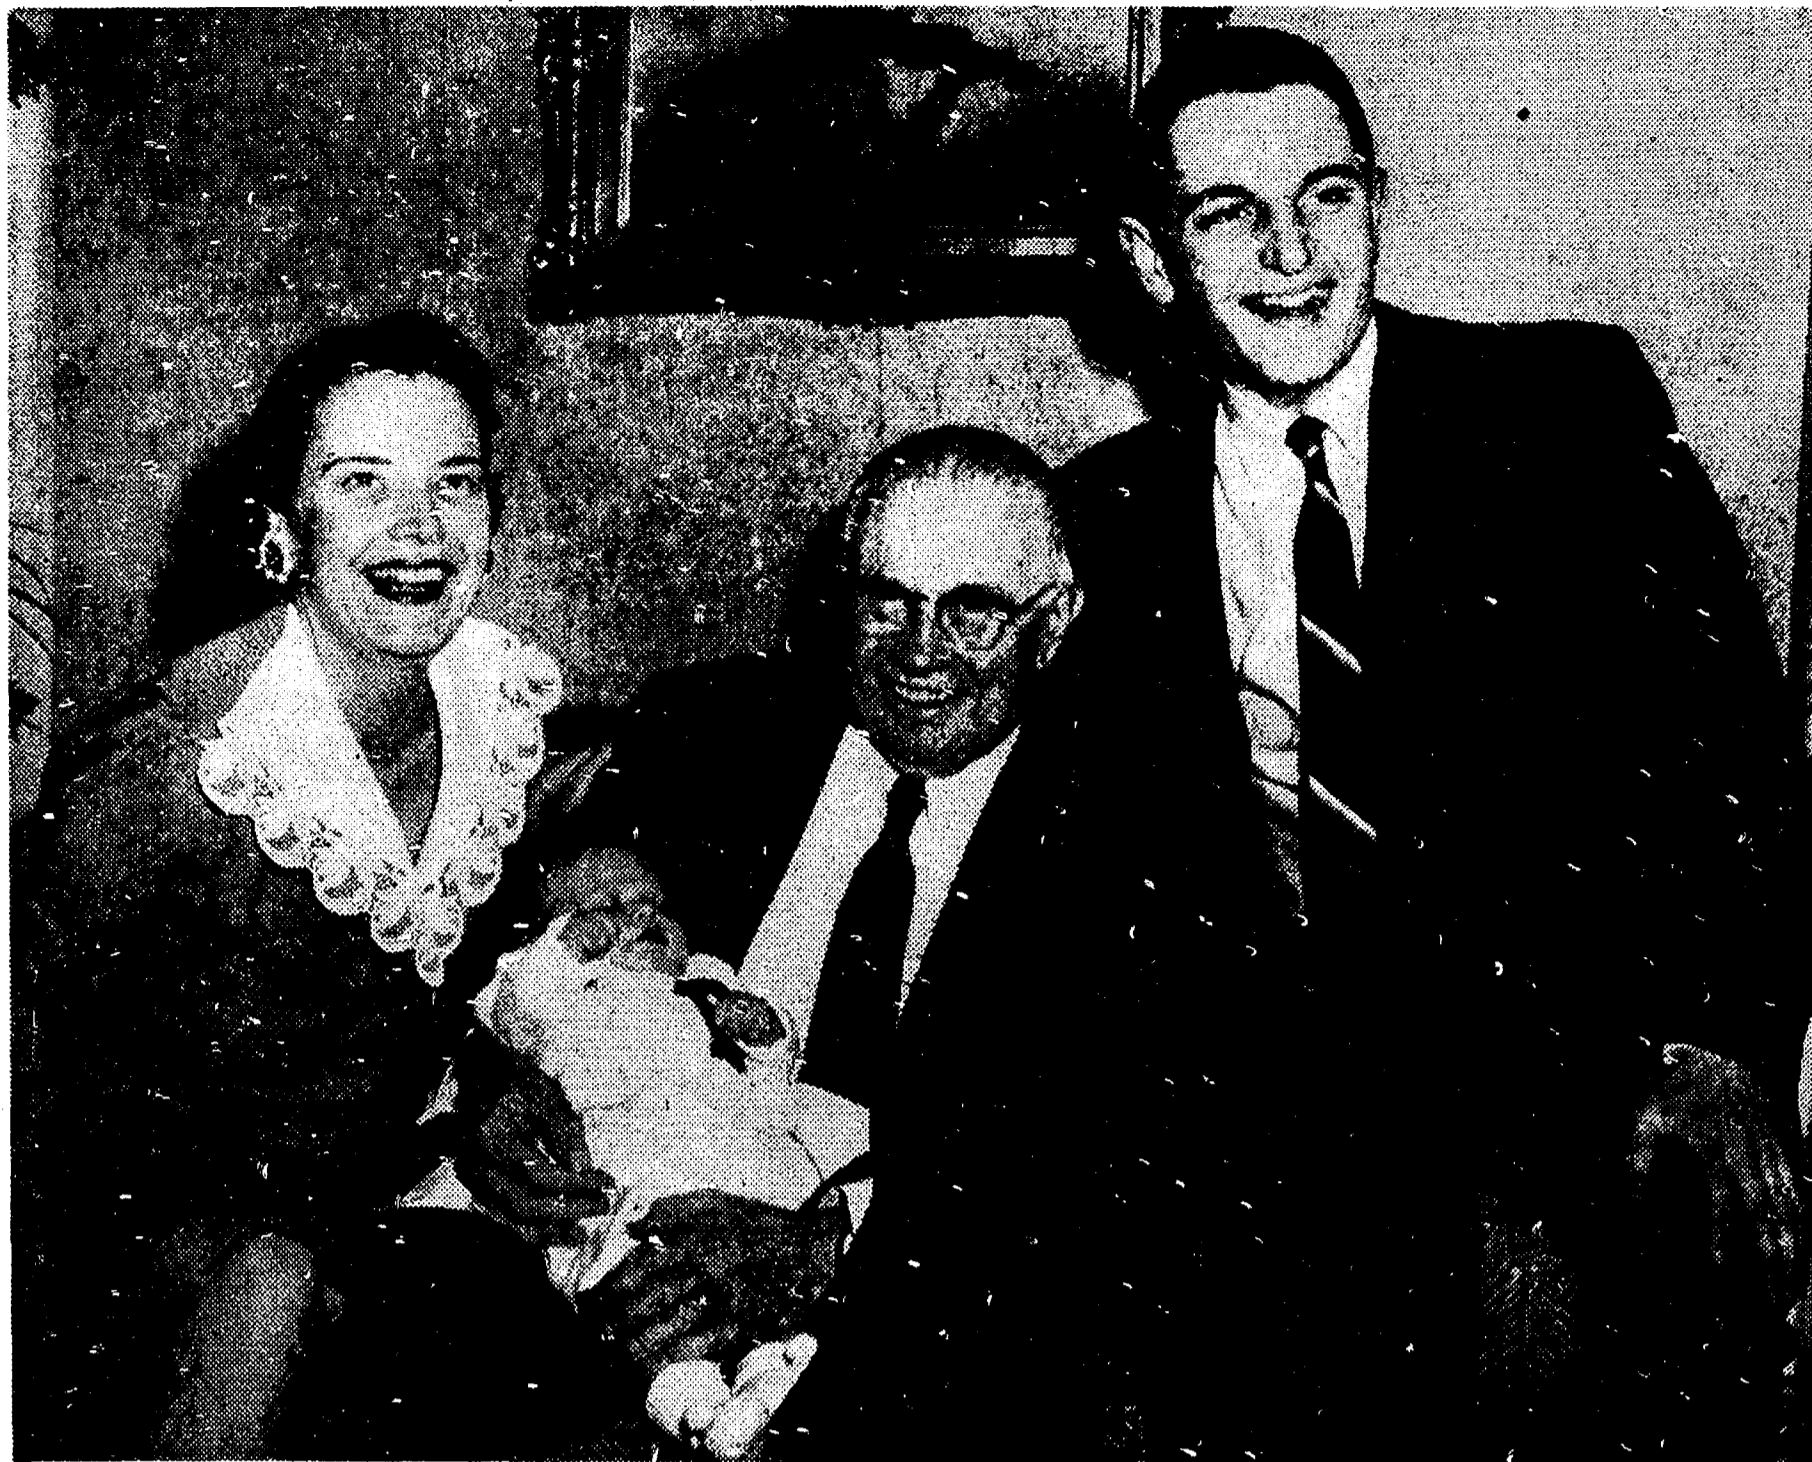

CHARLES LIEVENS, 44, of 3903 Woodhall, died Sunday in Saratoga General Hospital 18 hours after the "friendly" visit, who shot him took his own life.

Lievens' wife, Pearl, 42, third victim of the shooting that ended a "friendly" visit, was in poor condition at St. John Hospital. Both were shot Saturday night by Raymond Durieux, 62, a landscape gardener who roomed at 3831 Neff road.

League of Women Voters Joins JCs for Campaign

William C. Cusick, Jr. of the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Grosse Pointe, and Mrs. John Remillet, of the Board of Directors of the League of Women Voters announced this week in a joint statement that the members of the two organizations will co-operate in a campaign to secure a favorable vote on Constitutional Convention, which will appear on the ballot in the November elections.

Mr. Cusick stated that this action on the part of the local chapter is the result of a decision by the State Board of Directors to recommend constitutional convention as their non-partisan project for 1958. Robert B. Campbell has been named chairman of their study committee.

Mrs. Remillet, speaking for the League, said that action on the constitutional convention question is the culmination of a two year study of Michigan's constitution by League members all over the State.

"This election year has a special significance for the people of Michigan," said Mrs. Remillet, "by affording them the opportunity to vote on the question of calling a constitutional convention. The provision for an automatic vote on this question was written into the present constitution by its framers, giving each generation the possibility of keeping its government geared to the times, by using a democratic process."

"At first thought the constitution seems a rather serious topic, but once people realize how it affects their daily life—in state, county, city, and school affairs," Mr. Cusick pointed out in his statement, "they are quickly impressed with the importance of the question."

Everyone is concerned with cost—cost of education, cost of food, clothing and shelter, cost of highways. And we often question whether we are getting our money's worth from our tax dollar. Changing our constitution by the amendment method is expensive.

Church Greet New Members

A group of 12 people will be received into membership in St. Paul Ev. Lutheran Church, Chalfonte and Lothrop at the 11:00 service next Sunday morning.

They are: Mr. and Mrs. Gordon McIntosh, 443 Maisson; Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Krulock, 1890 Oxford Road; Mr. John Heindel, 888 University; Mr. and Mrs. William Breuer, 486 Marquette; Mr. and Mrs. William Frame, 878 Neff; Mrs. Wesley A. Kurtz, 1840 Broadstone; Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Knapp, 30252 Utica Road.

An informal reception will be held in the Fellowship Hall immediately after the morning worship. Mr. A. Guy Ropp, Chairman of the Elders, is in charge.

Cope Leaves Chrysler Corp.

Two local names were deleted from the Chrysler Corp. roster this past week. James Cope, of 862 Sunningdale drive, who is vice president in charge of corporate market planning, resigned Saturday.

Cope said he will "engage in new activities," to be announced later. Chrysler did not announce a successor to Cope. For many years Mr. Cope was a Washington reporter for the Associated Press. During World War II he was named chief of the Washington Bureau for the Automotive Council for War Production.

In 1944 Cope joined Chrysler as assistant to the then president, K. T. Keller. Last June his authority was increased when he was put in charge of marketing policies, sales objectives, and market research for all Chrysler divisions.

Former Pointer, now living on the West Coast, Robert Keller had announced his resignation from Chrysler earlier in the month. Also a vice president, he is the son of former board chairman K. T. Keller.

Hammels Expected Home From Nassau Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Hammel, of Sunningdale drive, are currently in Nassau and expected home this weekend.

The Hammels flew to Florida in their plane by way of Washington, D.C., and stopped off to visit their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald B. Helman, in Arlington, Va., before proceeding south.

They stayed at the Americana Hotel in Bal Harbor and later at the Palm Biltmore before going on to Nassau.

There will be no constitutional convention in Michigan, however, unless the question to be voted on in November wins massive support. It must be approved by a majority not merely of those voting on it, but of all voting in the election.

In view of this The League of Women Voters wishes to reach as many voters as possible with information on Constitutional Convention. A booklet on the subject has recently been published by the League, available in this area through Mrs. Remillet, chairman of the state committee in Grosse Pointe.

Grosse Pointe News

From Another Pointe of View

By Jack Oliver

Though they've been quietly settling down in the Pointe for a matter of months, a wave of welcome might herewith be accorded a family distinguished for sincere interest in and aid to things cultural over three generations.

We refer to Mrs. William John Parker, her son-in-law and daughter, the Philip Custer Bakers, and the Bakers' son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. David L. Gamble.

Long residents of Strathcona drive in Palmer Woods, Mrs. Parker and the Bakers are now living on Oxford road in a handsome residence just over the garden wall from the Gambles on Renaud road.

Mr. and Mrs. Baker, at this point, are most fascinated by the greenhouse that came along with their new property but steeling themselves to a thinning-down of trees about the place.

Gardeners Mark Birthday

The Village Garden Club, said to be an outgrowth of the Colony Town Club when it occupied the old Buhl residence on East Jefferson avenue, now St. Clair Hospital, is about to celebrate its 20th birthday.

This will be in the form of a luncheon and program of retrospect on Friday of this week at the Detroit Boat Club.

(Judging from the varied addresses of its members, "Village" could apply equally well to Grosse Pointe, Indian Village or Birmingham.)

The past presidents of the Club will present resumes covering their respective regimes and it's to be hoped the current prexy, Mrs. Alexander W. Blain, will be well enough to attend.

Missing Boxwood

We used to think we were the only one who did things by halves.

Now, however, there's another miscreant:

When Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Clifford Ford returned from their recent travels, they found one of the two dwarf boxwoods that flanked their entrance had been yanked from its urn and spirited away.

The remaining one is currently resting at Paselk's and doubtless boring the buds off its neighbors about that narrow escape.

In Death Valley

A charming matron we know is convalescing from a broken back.

Being, apparently, something of a philosopher, she became resigned to her painful injury when, she says, she realized that having arrived at the Devil's Golf Course in Death Valley, what else but a practically-lethal blow could be dealt her...

Mid Pacific Coup

In far-off Honolulu, a former Pointer was called to the telephone to find her sister was bent on telling she was newly-titled "Aunt Alice."

This, in itself, was momentous enough but that the little mother was talking to her from Ann Arbor shortly after the baby's arrival made it a mid-Pacific coup.

World Traveler Coming Home

That intrepid traveler, Mrs. George M. Slocum, is winding up her long stay at The Halekulani at Waikiki Beach, Honolulu, and will sail, April 3, for San Francisco aboard the "Matsonia."

Mobile Mabel will pause only a day on the west coast before swinging onto a crack train that'll have her home on Roslyn road in jiffie.

It was back on December 27, you'll recall, that Mrs. Slocum up and left the Pointe for New York. There, with little delay, she took the "President Polk" to glide down the east coast, through the Canal, stop at Acapulco, touch at San Francisco and make for The Islands.

EASTER PARADE

Now that Spring is here, can Easter be far behind? No, sir, Easter's only a stone's throw away on the calendar—April 6th.

I'd like to inject a thought regarding menfolk and new Spring clothes. While the parade lines are forming up for the Easter Parade, it might be well to consider a change from the past.

In other years, as most men can attest, the women and children wore all the new Spring finery. Old Dad generally was arrayed in his Sunday Best that bore a vintage stamp of at least five years. That's not fair.

Therefore, I propose this year that the menfolk should have a chance to glow and stand out in the Easter Parade. No reason why they have to march in the rear ranks.

The whole concept of a man's appearance should be one of neatness and comfort. Suits and coats are trim and subtly colorful. And the trim lines are also carried out in the accompanying accessories, from small-brim hats down to lightweight, trim footwear.

Neckties, too, provide a necessary spark of brightness and give a lift to most men. Today's neck-nuzzling neckties are also narrowed in conformance with the whole trim-line silhouette.

Such is the general men's wear picture as it shapes up for all men who would be correctly dressed for Easter. And when the "DRESS RIGHT" command is given, these men will know the Commander is casting a kindly eye at them.

Children's Theater To Show Movie

Grosse Pointe Children's Theater is Sponsoring Film This Sunday at War Memorial; Funds Raised Will Help Theater's Future Productions

Walt Disney's, full length, technicolor Feature, ALICE IN WONDERLAND will be at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial on Sunday, March 30th. There will be two showings, the first at 1:30 p.m. and the next at 3:15 p.m.

The donation will be 50c. It is open to the general public. Aside from this production, THE EGGCRACKER SUITE, a short cartoon all about Easter, featuring Oswald Rabbit, will be presented.

The entire program is under the auspices of The Grosse Pointe Children's Theater. Money from this production will be used to obtain stage lights for their future shows. Their next productions, to be seen at Grosse Pointe High School on May 23 and 24 will be I REMEMBER MAMA, featuring the Junior and Senior High members and THE ADVENTURES OF TOM SAWYER with the intermediate and grade school members.

The apprentice group is working on its show, SIR TOMMY'S PILGRIMAGE, to be presented on May 14 at the War Memorial. There are some intricate lighting cues so they have high hopes that ALICE IN WONDERLAND shall draw many Grosse Pointers, both young and old, to their benefit. Some of the members busily engaged in publicity are Bob Hunter (publicity manager), Dick Blackburn, Pat Fleming, Marilyn Meech, Mike Granger, Lorrie Wigle, Bruce Bavinger and Sally McConachie.

All money taken in at their own productions is given to various charities. Last term The Children's Leukemia Foundation was the recipient.

Since the seating capacity is limited at the War Memorial it is advised that those attending arrive early. First come, first served. The entire show will run eighty minutes.

If attendance demands, a repeat performance of the movie will be re-run at the 1:30 and 3:15 o'clock hours on Sunday, April 13, at the War Memorial.

Bon Secours Guild to Lunch

Among the many spring parties coming is the luncheon and card party for April 8 by the Bon Secours Hospital Guild. It's to be held in the Science Hall of the Hospital at 12:30 o'clock.

Co-chairmen Mrs. Russell Piche and Mrs. Anthony Hennecke are in charge of all arrangements with proceeds going to the Building Fund.

Mrs. Robert B. Griffith

Before her marriage on Saturday afternoon at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, Mrs. Robert B. Griffith was PATRICIA McCULLOUGH, daughter of the Robert F. McCulloughs, of Washington road. Her bridegroom is the son of the Burdette Griffiths, of Dewey, Ill.

Mrs. Kinnucan Invites Red Cross Volunteers

Mrs. J. Dwyer Kinnucan, of Hillcrest road, Detroit Red Cross chapter chairman of volunteers, has issued an invitation to women interested in becoming volunteers in any of the Red Cross services to call the chapter headquarters, WO. 1-3900, and enroll.

"There are many women who have time to share by participating in these Service programs. Red Cross services are diversified and almost any interest and talent can find an outlet in one of them.

There are service opportunities for persons with professional training as volunteer social workers in the Home Service division which assists men in service, veterans, and their families; for trained nurses to teach classes in Care of the Sick and Injured, for prospective parents, or to help in the blood program; for dietitians in nutrition service.

There is a particular need for women to take our Staff Aide (clerical) and Canteen training classes. These services are essential to the maintenance of other chapter programs. Classes will be conducted in the near future. Volunteers at Red Cross may choose hours to fit their own schedules.

"We also need experienced drivers in our Motor Service, using Red Cross vehicles to transport staff and volunteers on chapter business and groups of donors to the blood center. Spring classes for Gray Ladies are in progress now, but new volunteers will be enrolled for subsequent classes," Mrs. Kinnucan said.

Mrs. Kinnucan says that the teaching program of Red Cross provides not only many opportunities for volunteer services as teachers, but also renders an important health service to the community through its First Aid, Home Care of the Sick and Injured

Fathers to Escort Daughters to DAC

Luncheon and Swimming Exhibition Set for April 5; Easter Dinner Dance and Floor Show to Star Broadway Singer, Doretta Morrow

Grosse Pointe members of the Detroit Athletic Club, along with members from Bloomfield, Birmingham and Detroit, have two gala Eastertime events in store at the downtown clubhouse.

First is the annual Fathers and Daughters Party on Easter Eve afternoon, April 5, and the other is a dinner-dance and floor show to open that evening and continue through April 12.

Headliner of the floor show is to be Doretta Morrow, singer who has triumphed in Broadway musical comedy, light opera and television presentations. Other attractions will be Andre Moons' Puppets, European novelty act.

The dads and daughters of all ages will preview the entertainers at their party which is to start at 12:30 o'clock. After a swimming and diving exhibition in the natatorium, luncheon will be the important next step in the program. As this stand-out party always is attended by the capacity number of 700 (many of the daughters are home from boarding school and college for Easter), luncheon will be staged both in the gymnasium and Pontchartrain Room. The Pontchartrain contingent then have balcony seats in the gym for the stage show finale.

Gay music by the Dick Barlow orchestra will spark luncheon. Souvenir gifts for daughters will be a special highlight.

The Easter dinner-dance-floor show will be the club's last one this season. Early reservations for the April 5 opening night promise a capacity throng. Dinner is at 7 p.m. and on.

Among Grosse Pointers with reservations are the F. Jean Little, Dr. and Mrs. J. Wilfred Harrison, the Lawrence Rubys, the Albert A. Leclercs, Dr. and Mrs. A. D. Ruedemann.

Consuls Hosts At Symphony

Members of the Detroit Consul Corps and their wives will attend the fourth and last concert of the Scandinavian Symphony Society's 28th season, as guest of the Consuls of the four Scandinavian countries.

Consul George P. Everson, of Denmark — Consul Harri Virjo, of Finland, Consul William Caswell, of Norway and Consul Edward Johansson, of Sweden will be the hosts.

For 28 consecutive years the Scandinavian Symphony Society has presented good music and talented soloists as their contribution to the civic culture of Detroit. From a small orchestra of twenty they have grown to a group of ninety musicians.

Under the able direction of Henri Nosco, their conductor, they have developed into a symphony orchestra of which the Scandinavian Colony is rightfully proud.

Two guest artists, Detroiters, Charles Taylor and Marilyn Hodges will share honors on the program.

A coffee hour will follow the concert at which time the Consuls and their wives will partake of Danish pastries and coffee. Dancing in the Crystal ballroom will conclude the evening.

Portrait of a Vacationer

Striking a pretty pose on the patio of the Escape Hotel, Fort Lauderdale, Fla., is SUZANNE WIGGINS, who is vacationing at the resort for a month with her parents, the RICHARD A. WIGGINSES, of Clairview road. The trio will be home in time for the Easter parade.

Center Offers Talk on Orient

Hazel P. Dunlop, author and lecturer, will be the speaker at a meeting sponsored by the Grosse Pointe Woods Garden Club on April 1, at one o'clock, at the War Memorial, 32 Lake Shore Road.

Mrs. Dunlop's topic will be "Oriental Incidents." It is a running discussion of Hong-Kong; Japan as she saw it; street scenes; inns; hotels; the Japanese bath; Geisha house dinner; flower arranging and its Japanese masters; taxis and many other way of life differences.

Her study of floral arrangements led to private lessons with Madam Matsaga, a noted Japanese teacher, and an added and decided interest in the Orient and Japan. Her desire to see first hand was gratified last year when, together with Mr. Dunlop, she spent two to three months in that vicinity.

Hostesses for the tea will be Mrs. William J. Goodson, Mrs. Burton D. Jones, and Mrs. Clyde O. Dease. Guests welcome.

Sorority Toasts New Pledges

Alpha Gamma chapter of Pi Kappa Sigma sorority held the formal initiation of new pledges at the home of alumna Ruth Weir, of Helen court, Harper Woods, on Sunday, March 16.

Pledges Beth Sneddon, Karen Khoury, Nancy Bardoni and Carol Knapp sipped punch from cups joined handle to handle with blue and gold ribbons symbolizing their new sisterhood.

Assisting the hostess were active president Florence Johnson and Alumnae Nancy Kaufman, Marge Thomas, Jan Easter, Kathy Chavey, Gerry Roth, Lorry Fey, Jean McDonald, Marie Dodson and Shirley Reynolds.

Pointers Traveling South for Easter

But Many Are Returning for Holiday; Families Expect Far Afield Scholars Home for Reunion

Easter will find many Pointers far-afield: Mr. and Mrs. James N. Mutschall, of Kenwood court, will be attending services at Delray Beach, Fla., along with their three children, Pam, Jim and John.

Before they left for the south, they were hosts to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Singer, of Birmingham, at a dinner party.

Mrs. Wesson Seyburn, of East Jefferson avenue, will continue her stay at her stunning winter home in Palm Beach, returning to the Pointe later in April. Mr. and Mrs. Wendell W. Anderson, of Vendome road, will greet Easter from their place at Cat Cay. (Their official "winter home" is "Bellevue" at Paget, Bermuda.)

The Ernest Kanzlers, of Lake Shore road, will remain in their winter home at Hobe Sound, Fla. But there are those who think Home is the only place on such a day — Home and their own Church: Mr. and Mrs. Alfred J. Meyer, Jr. of University place who have been spending some time at The Greenbrier, White Sulphur Springs, W.Va., will be back and attending St. Paul's on the lake with their children.

The Wendell A. Andersons, Jr., of Kenwood road, will be loyal to the Pointe and to Christ Church. For the first time in many years, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Frederick Doderhoff, of Vendome road, will be in town for Easter and attending services at Christ Church. With them will be their daughter, Jean, here for the spring vacation from her studies at Smith College, and their son, Peter, enjoying a holiday from those books at Grosse Pointe University School.

Austin Friars Grab State Cage Crown

Austin High's all victorious basketball team clawed its way to the 1958 State championship last Saturday, March 22, with a thrilling 71-68 victory over previously unbeaten Benton Harbor in the Class A final in Michigan State University's Jenison Fieldhouse which was jammed to capacity and then some.

The Class A title, which escaped the Friars just a year ago, threatened to slip away again in the final minutes when Friar stars Dave DeBusschere, Russ Schoenherr and Paul Miller were forced from the game on personal fouls.

But Tommy Pine, Joe Finazzo and Dave Johnson filled in capably to stall Benton Harbor's last ditch frenzied bid for the crown.

Before DeBusschere left the game with three minutes and ten seconds remaining he had chalked up 32 points on 13 field goals and six free throws. It was DeBusschere's outstanding last period shooting that kept the Friars out in front after they had lost the lead briefly at the end of the third stanza. His ten points before he left to ride the bench gave the Friars a cushion. But had it not been for Finazzo's three free throws and Russ Schoenherr's pair of charities Austin might have lost its bid for the title.

The margin of victory came from the gifted hands of Paul Miller, who sank a driving layup in the fading seconds, and Gary Ruprich.

Although DeBusschere, Miller and Schoenherr contributed most of the victory possible, Austin couldn't have won the crown had it not been for Gary Ruprich and Joe Finazzo. Ruprich cashed in a couple of charity tosses with nine seconds remaining and Finazzo added another near the final buzzer to give the Friars their final victory.

DeBusschere once again covered himself with glory as he has done all season in leading the Friars to 23 straight victories; the Central Division championship; the Catholic City title, the Metropolitan City crown and finally the elusive State Class A championship.

Dave was selected by newsmen covering the tournament as the outstanding performer and to the All-Tournament team comprised of Chet Walker, Benton Harbor; Art Brandstatter, East Lansing; Don Mattson, Chassel; Everett Griffin, River Rouge; Keith Richardson, Flint Central; Jerry Beebe, Flint Tech; Larry Gacki, St. Benedict, and Frank Giorgi, Fordson. All were great even in defeat, but DeBusschere stood head and shoulders above them all as the captain of the all winning State champion Austin squad.

In reaching the pinnacle of basketball success in State prep circles Austin did not have an easy row to hoe. Just consider; the Friars were forced to beat Grosse Pointe and Highland Park, co-champions of the Border Cities League; East Detroit, co-champions of the Eastern Michigan League; Fordson, champion of the Ferndale regional, and finally undefeated Benton Harbor. Strangely Fordson, a team that suffered four setbacks in Border Cities League competition but caught fire in district and regional play, gave the Friars the most trouble before the Friars reached the finals. The Tractors battled the Friars tooth and nail throughout most of three-quarters of the semifinal game. But a sudden scoring drought dropped the Tractors from contention and Austin went on to win 58-42.

After the final victory all boy cheering section, which was extremely impressive with their thunderous ovations throughout the game, broke loose in wild frenzy. There was dancing on the Michigan State court despite the efforts of the guards to keep the floor clear. The kids, understandably, went practically berserk with joy.

Back in Grosse Pointe Austin students and followers paraded throughout the Pointe in a hundred car victory cavalcade on Sunday. Horns blared and black and white streamers rippled from the orderly procession of clean, shiny cars, most of which carried banners reading "AUSTIN-STATE CHAMPS."

From this corner let us offer our congratulations for a job well done to the magnificent Austin team.

And thanks for letting us ride on your band wagon—it was wonderful.

Boat Banter

By Fred Runnells

A new cruising class 's in the formation stages under the direction of Past Commodore Lynn Stedman, Jr., and has been accepted unofficially by the Cruising Club of Detroit and the Detroit River Yachting Association for participation in local regattas this year.

Actually the boats that form the Cruising D class have been around here all the time but never raced because they had been out-designed and their ratings beat them before they ever left the dock. Consequently, the skippers felt there wasn't much sense of wasting the time on a lost cause. The class has adopted the Performance Handicap rating system used in California for the past 15 years.

The 1958 season will be the "trial year" and if proven successful will be a boon to sailors who have restricted their boats to day sailing or cruising. Already 18 skippers have signed up and Stedman figures will join the fold before the regatta season starts. For the first year, the class will be limited to yachts that normally would sail in Cruising C class.

Bayview race chairman Fred Runnells has indicated that if the new class shows enough interest in Mackinaw racing a new "E" class may be added to the Bayview - Mackinaw classic this year. This could establish a new all-time record for both the Bayview and Chicago Mackinaw races.

Thirty marine accessory and boat dealers met with Windmill Pointe Y.C. officials to make plans for the club's second annual Waterfront Boat Show to be held on club grounds July 19 to 27. The show is more than any other boat show in the area that exhibitors have a chance to demonstrate their products on the water.

Admission will be the purchase of a booster button. These proceeds will be used to defray the expenses of the Detroit Memorial and Silver Cup regattas on the Detroit River.

Last year, ten thousand buttons were sold by 200 WPYC members to finance the Detroit Memorial.

This year the Detroit Yacht Club's 3,000 members have joined forces with the WPYC members and formed the Detroit International Regatta Association which will sponsor the two Unlimited races this year here. Already at this early date more than 10,000 buttons have been sold, according to the report from Frank Kurk and Homer Alverson, co-chairmen of the Boat Demonstration Week.

At the first meeting of the DRYA member club race chairman at Crescent Sail Y.C. March 11, a standard starting schedule for weekly inter-club regattas was established in an effort to avoid the confusion experienced over the past few years.

The new system eliminates the necessity for course number to be shown unless the judges decide to shorten the course due to unfavorable weather conditions.

The chairman also decided it was high time to eliminate the "cat and dog" classes from individual starting times on the schedule. These classes no longer participate in numbers that make for a boat race. In some cases there are only one or two boats left in the class.

These yachts will be grouped in two classes... "A" Universal... and will sail under their universal ratings.

The Junior sailors, for the first time, will have their own course and starting time.

The regular DRYA race courses will be marked with new aluminum - styrofoam buoys designed and built by Commodore Dick Brand. These will weigh in the neighborhood of 80 pounds as compared to the old buoys which weighed 500 pounds and created a problem each spring when put in position. It was necessary to hire a commercial tug to place them and pick them up at the end of each season.

Buoys for the respective courses will be painted a different color for identification instead of all being the same and be labeled with numbers.

Michigan will be making a bid to regain the "Boat Racing Capital of the World" title which it lost to the West coast challengers who won the Harmsworth and Gold Cup trophies a few years back. According to Al D'Eath, Regional chairman of the APBA, the proposed three-day regatta which will be known as the International Championship Grand Prix for Limited Inboards.

Three boat clubs will sponsor the championship with the Algona Lions Club holding the July 4 event, the Swan Boat Club the July 5 regatta at Newport, and the Oakland Boat Club the July 6 regatta at Sylvan Lake near Pontiac. D'Eath figures the chance to accumulate points on three successive days will tempt boats from as far away as Florida.

Larry Reif was elected commander of the Grosse Pointe Power Squadron at the annual election meeting March 11. He and the other flag officers; Lt. Commander George N. Funk, 1st Lt. Allan D. Foster, Secretary John J. Wetzel and Treasurer Robert W. Morden, will receive their flags of office at the inauguration dinner dance at the Grosse Pointe Y.C., April 19.

Request Birth Certificate Before School Opens

LANSING — Parents of children who will enter kindergarten or first grade for the first time next fall were urged today to obtain copies of the children's birth certificates as soon as possible instead of waiting until the school registration period later this spring.

Dr. F. S. Leeder, director of disease control, records and statistics for the Michigan Department of Health, said unavoidable delays in filling requests for copies sometimes occurs because of the flood of requests during registration month. He said parents can avoid these delays by asking for copies now.

Most schools require either a certified copy or a certificate of registration in order to establish that a child is old enough to enter school. Certified copies and certificates of registration for children born in Michigan can be obtained from the city (or village) and county clerks where the child was born, or from the Michigan Department of Health.

State health department fees, as set by statute, are $1 for each certified copy and 25¢ for each certificate of registration. Requests to the state health department can be made either in person or in writing, and fees must accompany the requests.

Requests also must include the full name of the child, date and place of birth, and the full name of the parents including the mother's maiden name.

A certified copy as supplied for school children is a photostat of the original birth certificate. A certificate of registration shows only the child's name and his place and date of birth.

Name Pointers To Heart Board

Two Grosse Pointe area residents, Alfred T. Wilson, of Lochmoor boulevard, and J. Janney Smith, M.D., of York-shire road, were elected to the Board of Trustees of the Michigan Heart Association at the Annual Meeting of that organization last week in Detroit.

Mr. Wilson, National Bank of Detroit executive has been treasurer of the Heart Association since 1955. Dr. Smith specializes in Internal Medicine and is interested in the voluntary fight against heart disease.

F. D. Dorrill, M.D., the Detroit surgeon who conceived and developed the first mechanical heart to be used successfully on human patients, took office as president of the Heart Association for the present year.

This original mechanical heart is now on permanent display at the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D. C. It was rated one of the top 10 scientific developments of 1952 by the National Association of Science Writers.

These elections culminated the "Heart Day" activities at the Michigan Clinical Institute where nationwide heart specialists presented papers before their fellow physicians.

Among the out-of-state speakers were: Edgar V. Allen, M.D., Rochester, Minnesota, nationally known cardiologist and senior consultant in Medicine at Mayo Clinic; and Charles H. Rammelkamp, M.D., Cleveland, Ohio, Professor of Medicine at Western Reserve University. Dr. Rammelkamp spoke on Rheumatic Fever, which is responsible for most of the heart damage in children who have heart disease.

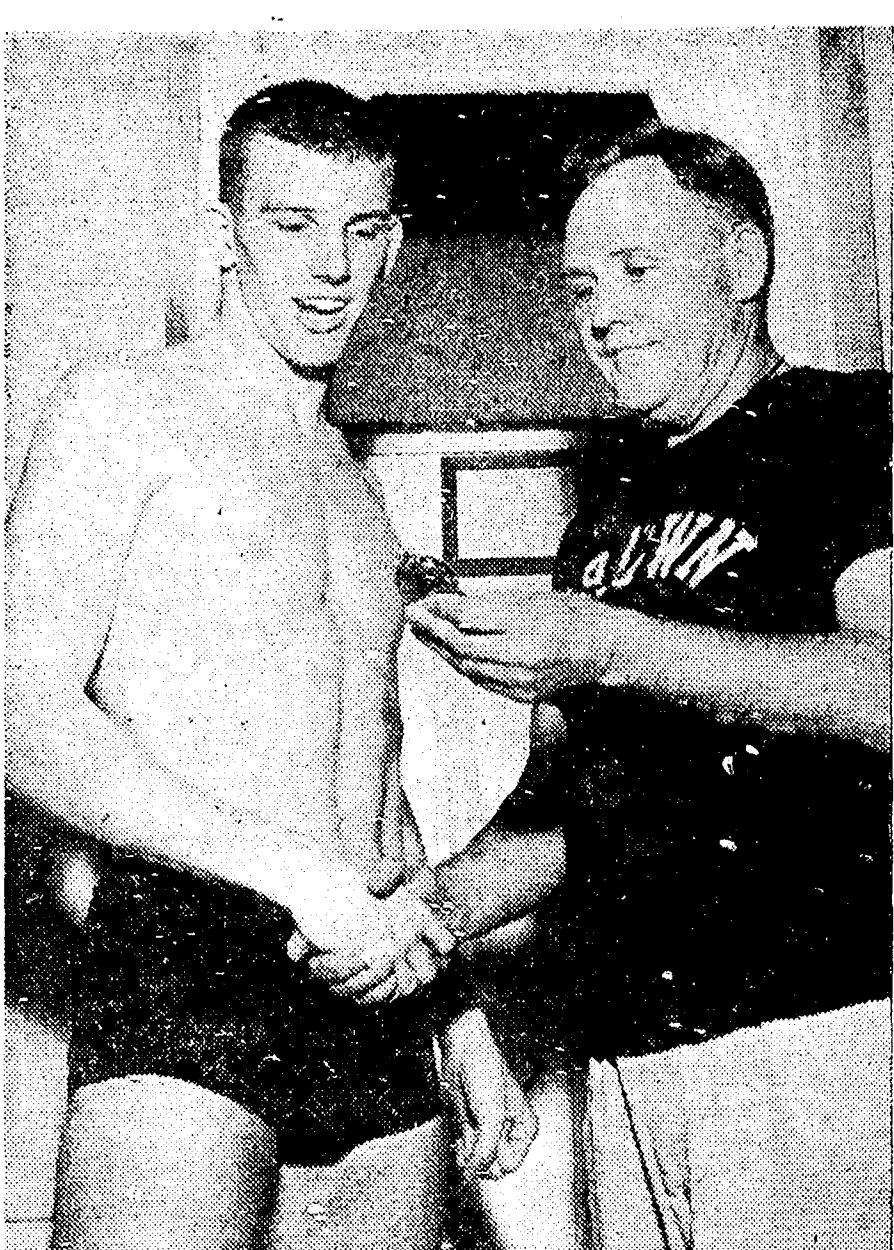

The Michigan Heart Association, a member of the Michigan United Fund, reported that it has appropriated almost $300,000.00 this year to forty two cardiovascular research projects in Michigan. This brings the total appropriated to underwrite research by the Association since it was organized in 1949 to more than $1,000,000.00.

Ticket Driver In Accident

A woman driver who lost control of her car while making a turn from Warren onto Mack, on Wednesday, March 19, almost crashed into the Pointe branch post office building, according to a Farms police report.

The report revealed the driver of the car was Barbara LaFontaine 32, of 19001 Kingsville, Harper Woods, who turned from Warren on to Mack, going east. She lost control of the vehicle on the turn, went over the island on Mack and onto the sidewalk in front of the post office.

In the course of the careening car, a Wayne County one-way sign on the island, two Farms-owned parking meters, two mailboxes and a newspaper stand were knocked over.

Mrs. LaFontaine was given a ticket for not having her car under control and causing an accident.

(Editorial Note: During recent research we ran across another pamphlet about Commodore Alexander Grant, the Pointe's first prominent settler. Grant, as an English ensign, served with George Washington in the French-Indian Wars and then came here to assume command of the Great Lakes naval post for the British until his retirement at the outbreak of the War of 1812. Through his wife he was related to the Askins who figured in so much of Detroit's early history).

Down through the decades comes a clear picture of the doughty Scotsman who, ruled a great farm on the shores of Lake St. Clair where Moran road bisects today. The Commodore in 1774 at 40 years of age married Therese Barthe and the pair settled down here. He was Scotch and non-Catholic, twenty-four years the senior of the dark haired, devout, French maid but the union was a happy one. From a priceless letter we learn of the devotion of the Commodore to his wife who was a typical thrifty French housewife, while he was somewhat lacking in executive skill in domestic matters.

He wrote to John Askin at 71 years of age in 1805: "I assure you that I am so cherished with yours and other friends accounts of the re-establishing of Mrs. Grant's health that I feel myself growing quite hearty and well danced fifteen couples down last night."

The Grants had twelve daughters, nine of whom survived infancy, and their father had no trouble marrying them off to well established young Detroiters. Only one married beneath what the Commodore thought was her station in life. He stormed and ranted, disinherited her from his will, but added a codicil which later restored her rights. In spite of his violent temper the admirable old settler was compassionate. He adopted a forlorn waif, brought to Detroit by a Chippewa war party. This boy was named John Grant and he married Judith Campau. Their descendants still live in Detroit.

One day before the declaration of war on Great Britain President Madison signed the land patent giving Grant the title to his Grosse Pointe estate. He resigned his commission in the British Navy when the war began. From 1783 when the Americans took over Detroit he had lived as a British officer on their side of the lake and never been bothered although according to the Jay Treaty he should have moved to the Canadian side. He lived to see the British again occupy Detroit and died before Perry restored the American sovereignty. He was buried in Sandwich in May 1813 and in his will it recites that three men were paid 15 shillings "for going to Grosse Pointe in a canoe for the corpse."

PILFERINGS

A group of Brown University students visiting Washington one Easter recess called on Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes, a Brown alumnus.

Asked by the Justice the purpose of their visit to Washington, the leader of the group replied, "To see the government in action."

"Is that one word or two?" asked Justice Hughes.

What hostess isn't worried about seating arrangements for her guests? Fortunately, English hostesses can call for assistance in this etiquette-laden matter by writing to the "Heralds of the College Arms" and hope for an answer as superb as the one received by the anxious hostess of the late Aga Khan.

"The Aga Khan," wrote the experts, "is held by his followers to be the direct descendant of God. An English Duke takes precedence."

MARION CAMPBELL, OF RATHBONE PLACE

By JACK OLIVER

Many young women would be happy to spend their mornings raised, occasionally, on one elbow and gazing blissfully out onto the waters of Lake St. Clair, were they Miss Marion D. Campbell, daughter of the Douglas Campbells, of Rathbone place.

The Campbell home is one of the most comfortable and beautifully situated we've been fortunate to visit and we marvel at the vigor and humanity expressed by the daughter of the house in taking to the World of Commerce at an early age.

True, many might regard establishing and maintaining a nursery school as, perhaps, more in line with contributing to Learning than as a business but it's still a stock-in-trade and calls for, among many attributes, astute judgment, great compassion and endless patience.

Beginning with the classic baby sitting, the youthful Miss Campbell found she soon proved herself to be a trusted helper to parents needing either a breather or a proxy.

This had possibilities, need we say, and she managed, once being graduated from Grosse Pointe University School, to set herself up on Notre Dame avenue where she held sway over numerous very young citizens for about two years.

It was about that time that she became interested in the tremendous work being done by the Grenfell Mission in Newfoundland.

During the summers of 1953 and 1954 and inspired by the visits to the Northwest River country by her brother, James Howe Campbell, our heroine enlisted in the cause and dedicated her "vacation" months to volunteer service in Labrador.

Even the getting there is a project... unless you contract to go by air.

You go, first, to Montreal and then to N. Sydney, Nova Scotia. There, you take ship for Newfoundland and, once landed, a train and then a boat to the Mission.

As a nurse at the hospital at St. Anthony, Miss Campbell put in a total of many, many weeks, returning, those two autumns, to teaching her small that after a brief brush in the acknowledged Business World with Dun and Bradstreet, Miss Campbell infinitely prefers her chosen profession, no matter HOW many mamas ask her how she stands it.)

Field Trip for Tots
Operating from 9 until 12, four days a week, the school offers a program calculated to beguile the kiddies, not the least being such "field trips" as to the library, the firehouse and the floral establishment of DePetris where Miss C. avows the management to be tremendously calm, kind and cooperative.

Right now, what with the vernal equinox and all, the children are anxiously watching the first signs of sprouting seedlings.

This project is not going any too well but with hope springing eternal in the human breast, the little sterile pots are being as yearned-over as those showing signs of life.

That, perhaps, is the reason of the endless fascination the very young hold for their tall, dark-eyed and laughing teacher: to them nothing is impossible.

(After all, didn't Lucy, in "Peanuts", set out to draw a chalkline around the world? ... or aren't you up on your Schultz?)

Y to Sponsor Gourmet Tour

Dining "around the world" right here in Detroit is on the schedule of activities sponsored by Central Branch YWCA.

Meeting at Central Branch YW, 2230 Witherell St., at 6:15 this Friday evening, March 28, the group of men and women will have dinner at a Chinese restaurant.

On April 11, they will dine at a Syrian restaurant, on April 25 at a French restaurant, and on May 9 at a German restaurant.

All interested men and women are invited to join the group for these excursions. Reservations should be made at Central Branch two days in advance.

Church Group Plans Benefit

The most ambitious social event of the Christian Mothers' Sodality of St. Lucy Church will be their "Spring Fling" to be held April 10 at Grosse Pointe Yacht Club.

A new convent has just been completed for the Sisters of the Holy Name of Jesus and Mary, who teach at St. Lucy School. The proceeds from the proposed luncheon, fashion show and card party will be used to furnish the recreation room.

Following the luncheon, to be served in the club's main ballroom, "Furs by Robert" will show the latest in fashions and furs. Robert has selected a dozen ladies of the Sodality to model his collection, joining members of his own staff.

Mrs. Carl Dirkes and Mrs. William Bickel are co-chairmen of the day. Mrs. Jack McGrath, Mrs. Joseph Phillips and Mrs. Charles Sperrick have managed the sale of tickets. Mrs. Raymond Simeon will direct the models and flower arrangements and favors are in the hands of Mrs. A. Grainger and Mrs. George Kesteloot.

Hostesses are responsible to Mrs. Paul Schwanitz and Mrs. Donald Hogan and Mrs. G. Lams have selected table and door prizes. Mrs. E. J. Proski and Mrs. Jerome Karrer are in charge of publicity.

Pointe Counter Points

By Pat Rousseau

"Younger Than Springtime" ... and just as delightful are the handmade baby dresses at The League Shop ... in yellow, pink and white ... (ten dollars). Just in, a good supply of bib and toy sets ... that make beguiling gifts. The clowns, dogs and bunnies on each bib comes with its toy counterpart for baby to play with ... about four dollars. Light and soft, as a breeze are the challis wrapping blankets ... so skillfully made by The League of the Handicapped ... that seems to have out done itself this season with truly inspired handiwork!

Just say "Eloise please!" ... in Jacobson's Youth Center ... where this charming moppet meets Spring a la mode. Available in sizes three to six X ... her completely coordinated wardrobe ... created, designed and generously sprinkled with a French flavor. Combining the Eloise charm and Nanny's (her nurse-companion) practicality (little iron fabrics) it captures mad-cap moods. Featured ... the turtle shirt ... (Skipperdee naturellement!) ... plus shorts ... a quaint gown for dreaming and much daylight chic.

A hat is a beautiful habit! Some of the most charming chapeaux are to be found in the Walton-Pierce collection for Spring ... with print chiffon making an important bid for the Easter Parade. The turban returns, this year in silk print with a matching scarf ... while the perennial enchantment of white violets and velvet ... strawberries and wild flowers ... leaves and roses ... all take shape fashionably. Their sole intent? A more beautiful you!

"Sweet violets" ... roses, poppies, carnations and daisies ... bloom abundantly among the flower stalls at The Dants ... (in full compatible colors, I might add.) These wondrous Italian imports are made of plastic and because they are tubable, it is easy to maintain the freshness ... so delightful in the authentic ... "just-picked" garden grown varieties, which they emulate to perfection. Also remarkably nature touched are the sun ripened colors of grapes, delicious apples, succulent plums, etc. ... to tempt the most knowing eye!

FASHION FIFTY-EIGHT ... for the over all picture, see the new chemise coats that go fashionably over everything at D. J. Healy. Cut with a skilled hand and a glance toward THE trend. Deft details of slightly lowered belts ... or side slits that insure line ... produce the magic of Chemiserie. Red jersey, navy waffle-weave wool, beige and gray flannel are to be found in the collection.

"To market ... to market they go" ... in the morning ... then on to other active chores in the afternoon. We're talking about the suburban standbys that are now at Margaret Rice. Two identifying characteristics are their classic cut and easy going poise. All are cotton and some I'm happy to report have coordinated orlon sweaters.

NEWS ... Via Proper's ... of a light weight regular cut sports jacket. This one is of fine Egyptian cotton in subtle miniature plaid ... also stripes. The hand of the expert tailor is plainly seen in the careful styling. Silk foulard print lines this handsome sports jacket ... priced at forty-seven fifty.

Boudoir beauty prize ... goes to the heavenly practical, wash-easy, press free new look brunch costs at Jacobson's ... (about six dollars). These are found in checks, stripes and floral prints. Other beauty winners in the lingerie department include classic and chemise slips and gowns in inspired colors ... such as ... morning star blue ... poppy ... spring yellow. Don't miss the informal showing of lingerie ... March twenty-eighth and twenty-ninth ... refreshments will be served from two until four.

Spring tonic ... for your house ... by way of a bit of sprucing up. Wanamaker's Studio, Mack Avenue ... offers many services from carpet cleaning to complete redecorating plans. Due to the sale now going on, many items can be bought at a fine savings.

There's a breath of Spring ... perhaps at your home it's due to the early blooming indoors of the tulip plants, you selected at Charvat the Florist ... or did you choose azaleas and hydrangeas to set the calendar ahead?

A "fair-haired angel of the evening" inspired the Eighteenth Century poet, William Blake to lyricism! Today ... fair-hair is still an inspiration ... AND easy to come by. Especially those flattering "blonde tips" ... brunettes wear so well. Ann-Louise Salon on Fisher road offers a new method ... that produces glamorous hair color in minutes.
