WOODS GOES TO POLLS MONDAY

HEADLINES of the WEEK

As Compiled by the Grosse Pointe News

Thursday, March 27

THE UNITED STATES launched its third satellite Wednesday into a wobbling orbit in its race with Russia for outer space. It now outnumbers orbiting Russian satellites three to one.

Belching fire and thundering straight up into the sky, the Army Explorer III blasted off its launching pad from Cape Canaveral at 12:38 p.m. The space bird was just eight minutes off its predicted flight time.

The life of the new moon was first estimated at two days to two weeks by Maj. Gen. John B. Medaris, head of the Army ballistic missile program. It made its first orbit in 121 minutes, compared with Vanguard's 134 minutes and Explorer I's 115 minutes. A new prediction this morning said the life of the new moon might be as long as three months.

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER declared Wednesday he would not be stampeded into an anti-recession tax cut that might hurt the Nation in the future. He said he felt the bottom of the business slump was near or already at hand.

But he also said he intended to do those things that "should be done" to help business. A short time later, he announced a speedup in purchase of Government supplies ranging from trucks to typewriters and pencils.

The President asked Congress to permit him to use in the next three months up to 840 million dollars of next year's fiscal funds. The White House said the speedup would result in actual additional spending of about 100 million dollars by June 30.

PRINCESS MARGARET and Capt. Peter Townsend were reunited Wednesday over a lingering, three-hour tea that touched off new talk of royal romance. The handsome 43-year-old war hero flew into London yesterday after the 2½-year self-imposed exile he began when Margaret put duty before love and announced she would not marry a divorced man.

TWO MILITARY PLANES smashed together in the air over the North Texas town of Bridgeport Thursday. Eighteen persons were killed when the planes crashed to the ground. All the victimes wore servicemen's uniforms.

One plane, a C-124 Globemaster, was based at Hill Air Force Base, near Salt Lake City, Utah, and was enroute from Kelly Air Force Base, near San Antonio, Tex., to Tinker Air Force Base, Oklahoma.

The crash of the Globemaster took 15 lives. The second plane was a C-119 Flying Boxcar with three persons aboard. All were killed. The plans hit the group about 600 yards apart, in rugged scrub oak country.

COMMUNIST BOSS Nikita S. Khrushchev took over Thursday as premier of the Soviet Union, replacing Nikolai A. Bulganin. The unexpected switch placed Khrushchev in a position comparable to that occupied by the late Josef Stalin.

Diplomats in the galleries gasped with astonishment when aged Marshal Klementi Voroshilov announced to an eagerly expectant Supreme Soviet (parliament) that the Communist chief would be the next chairman of the Council of Ministers.

THE UNITED STATES is going to send rocket scouts to take a close look at the moon. Orders for the "lunar probes" by unmanned space vehicles were issued Thursday by President Eisenhower and Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy.

The Navy is directed to begin preparing equipment for the vehicles, which will send back an account of what is on

Civic Groups Set Stage For Cleanup

Preparing Plans for Discussion on Means to Keep Pointe Beautiful

Plans are being discussed and meetings scheduled for the annual cleanup campaign throughout the Pointe, which each year is sponsored by the Grosse Pointe Garden Club and the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Ways and means will be threshed out on how to keep the Pointe beautiful, not for just the two weeks the campaign is underway, but all year around.

Will Check Students

One area that will be concentrated on is the vicinity of Grosse Pointe High School, where students, during lunch hours, litter the grounds of the school and stores.

All schools in the Pointe will receive literature on the "does and don'ts" in helping to keep the community clean and beautiful.

To Sell Litter Bags

Also to be taken up at the meetings, is the possibility of school children selling litter bags, for car use, and perhaps have car dealers install litter bags in the cars they sell, as a contribution to public service.

The campaign is expected to start about the first week in May.

County Drain Commission Sets $11,982,551 Cost For Grosse-Gratiot Job

Woods Share in the Project Is Estimated at $4,803,234 For Three Proposed Drains

The estimated total cost of the Grosse-Gratiot Drain has been set at $11,982,551.90, according to figures released by the Wayne County Drain Commission.

Woods City Administrator William Lange disclosed that based on the Drain Commission figure, the Woods' share in the cost is an estimated $4,803,234.88.

The Grosse-Gratiot Drain is the collective name given to the Milk River, Black Marsh and Girard Drains, which developments will benefit the Woods, Harper Woods and St. Clair Shores in the elimination of storm waters.

Verbatim Report

This is the verbatim report released by the city administrator:

Estimated total cost of the Milk River project, $6,815,000, with the Woods paying 60.070139 per cent, or $4,093,779.97; estimated total cost of the Black Marsh, $655,000, with the Woods share being 96.084779 per cent, or $629,355.30; and the estimated total cost of the Girard, $4,512,551.90, with the Woods paying 1.775042 per cent, or $80,099.61.

The Woods has been advised that the estimates for each drain include the cost of the drain and all appurtenances, plus the legal fees, administrative, engineering and inspection, land and rights-of-way, publication of notices, interests on bonds for the first year at 5 per cent, and contingencies.

Estimate Tax Millage

The following data indicates the estimated Drain Tax Millage necessary to operate the system and to retire the bonds at 5 per cent interest over 30 years with equal annual payments.

Electrical standby power will cost $48,000 annually. Other operational items such as power consumption, labor maintenance insurance, and so on, are estimated to cost from $35,000 to $45,000 annually and the Woods' share at about 60 per cent could be as much as $50,000.

Looking into the future, the projected assessed valuation of real property for the fiscal year of 1958-59 is $49,000,000; 1959-60—$50,000,000; 1960-61—$53,000,000; 1961-62—$54,000,000; 1962-63—$56,000,000; 1963-64—$58,000,000; and 1964-65 (projected maximum assessed valuation when the city is completely developed)—$60,000,000.

Based on these projections, the drain tax millage would be either 5 per cent, or 4 per cent, to raise the estimated annual operating costs of $50,000, and the principal plus interest

Shores Lauds Elroy Jones

The Shores council will present a resolution to Elroy O. Jones, who with his wife, Ruth, moved from his home at 80 Renaud road on Thursday, March 27, to take up permanent residence in Walled Lake, Mich.

Mr. Jones, who had been a Shores resident for 30 years, is a former attorney for the village, and former village president.

The resolution, adopted by the council on March 18, cites his service as village attorney from 1929 to 1932, and as village president from 1943 to 1948.

The council stressed that because of the efforts put forth by Mr. Jones while he held the two posts, the Shores is what it is today.

The couple have no children.

Burglar Takes Jewelry, Cash From Farms Home

During a two-hour absence of Mrs. Frances Bono from her home at 434 E. Elizabeth court, on Thursday, March 27, a burglar ransacked three bedrooms and made off with several items of jewelry and some cash.

Mrs. Bono told Farms Det. Sgts. Jack Paisley and George Van Tiem that she had left the house at 6:30 p.m. and returned at 8 p.m., to find that someone had broken the glass of the rear door to gain entrance into her house. Three bedrooms had been ransacked, she said.

She described the jewelry as being a man's yellow gold wrist watch, valued at $70; a square-faced man's wrist watch, no value given; a lady's platinum, 16-diamond wrist watch with platinum expansion band, worth $350; a lady's yellow gold wrist watch, valued at $50; a seven-diamond white gold wedding band that cost $60; and a lavalier with two small diamonds on a thin yellow gold chain, valued at $80.

Also taken was a black plastic U. S. Savings bank containing $30 in bills and change, and a portable radio, no value given.

Miss Marie Ouradnik, 19, who rooms in the Bono residence, told the officers that the burglar took a black clothes brush and one dollar in change from her bedroom.

Paisley and Van Tiem said that the burglar must have been keeping an eye on the house, waiting for someone to leave, or picked the home because of its location at Elizabeth and Mack, and saw no lights on.

They said the radio, made of white plastic, with chrome handles, was taken from the basement of the home.

Cab Hits Child Loose on Street

A three-year-old Park boy was slightly injured when he ran into the street and was hit by a cab on Tuesday, March 25.

The driver of the cab, Robert H. Johnson, 55, of 1126 Gary, Detroit, told Park police that he was going north on Balfour, when Vincent Saracino of 938 Balfour, ran out from between parked cars and was hit in front of 936 Balfour.

Johnson said that he stopped the vehicle, but not before the boy was struck and knocked down by the front bumper.

A witness to the mishap said the boy was to blame. After taking statements from Johnson and the witness, Johnson was exonerated and released.

Vincent was taken to Bon Secours Hospital by police, where he was treated for bruises and cuts.

Memorial Center Hoping for Many New Contributors

Crew of Volunteers Has Sent Appeals to All Families In Community to Participate in Annual Fund-Raising Drive

This past weekend a crew of 25 volunteers finished hand addressing solicitation appeals to all the Grosse Pointe War Memorial's givers of record. They are now prepared and hoping to work just as hard recording and acknowledging the contributions as they come in.

Addressographed mail has been sent to all new residents and families who are still prospective donors. The Center very much hopes to gain in the breadth of its support. Everyone is encouraged to give generously, but the important thing is to give. No gift is too small.

Further volunteer effort is going into placing reminder posters in the public and commercial establishments throughout the five Pointes.

$37,500 Is Goal

The Center needs $37,500 to balance its operational budget for the 1958-1959 season. Any donations above and beyond this figure will be put aside to develop additional parking, which is sorely needed since the Center's activities have nearly doubled in number and attendance.

Almost 25,000 people have used the Center in the first three months of 1958. In the past year, 2,000 groups have used the facility which is open to any organization in which there are a substantial number of Grosse Pointers.

The Center asks the community to contribute only about one-quarter of its total annual needs. The 1958-1959 budget is $135,450. Special maintenance contributions from some of the Pointe's very generous well-to-do families, dividends and interest from investments and receipts from programs and services supplied furnish nearly three-quarters of the total amount.

Many Free Services

The Center gives much free service—free blood in case of emergency, the free loan of hospital equipment, free cancer pads, etc. Many, if not the majority, of the events on the Center's monthly program cards are free. Those services and programs for which there is a charge are kept at the lowest possible figure consistent with high standards.

The Memorial asks little and gives so many in the Community so much. It is a very real asset to Grosse Pointe. Just the physical plant and grounds alone, the generous gift of the Alger family $1,500,000.00 when erected in 1910 and irreplaceable now), are worth maintaining. And now nearly 100,000 citizens make use of this living memorial yearly. All gifts to the Center are income tax deductible. It is a worthwhile investment for every Grosse Pointer to make for his family and community.

15 Churches Plan Service Good Friday

11th Annual Community Observance to Be Held At Woods Theatre

Fifteen local churches will sponsor the eleventh annual Community Good Friday service, to be given in the Woods Theater, Mack avenue near Moross, from 1 to 2:30 p.m.

A special Children's Service will be held at the same time in the Woods Presbyterian Church on Mack at Cook road. The Reverend Victor Novander will conduct the latter service.

Ministers and leaders taking part in the services at the Theatre include Madelyn Harrigan, Betty Young, Doris Catchick, Virginia Snodgrass, Helen Thomas, Mrs. Arthur Riske, Andrew Rauth, Kenneth Brady, Hugh White, Mrs. William Kaupagh, Janis Laupmanis, Robert Beck, Lawrence Taylor, Victor Priebe, Olden Mitchell, Dale Ihrie, Charles Kennedy, R. H. Kretschmer, Arnold Johnson, William Van't Hof, and A. R. Lambarth.

John Finch will direct special music by his Grosse Pointe High School cohir, and congregational singing will be led by the Reverend Victor Priebe, at the Woods Theater Service.

Judge Uvick Hears 3 Cases

Justice Court was held in the City last Tuesday, March 25. Judge Joseph P. Uvick heard a total of three cases during the evening.

Delores E. Banish, of 5071 Woodhall, in Detroit, was charged with reckless driving, found guilty, and fined $15.

A like fine was imposed upon Horst Misch, 2663 East Warren, also in Detroit. He was found guilty of not having his car under control.

Stephen Lester, of 1135 Lakepointe, appeared on a loitering charge. Found guilty, he paid a fine of $5 and, in addition, was placed on three months' probation. It is hoped that other High School students, prone to parking themselves and their litter freely all over Fisher road, will take heed of this lesson.

Pointe Disposal Authority Still Seeking Solution

The Grosse Pointe Rubbish Disposal Authority is not a dead issue in spite of the fact nothing has been said of it publicly for more than a year.

Everitt B. Lane, former city manager of the Park, now acting as administrative advisor until his retirement becomes official on July 1, said that plans are still being pursued for the formation of the authority.

He said that the Park's new city manager, Robert Slone, has been brought up to date in the matter, and has taken part in several meetings with officials of Clinton Township in Macomb County, where the proposed incinerator plant site is hoped to be located.

Although the wheels are turning slowly, some progress, however slight, has been made.

The Park, City and Farms and the community wherein the plant will be located, will comprise the membership in the authority.

Mr. Lane has been fighting for such an authority for more than four years, and has constantly sought a site for an incinerator, in spite of many setbacks. He has been chairman since the idea was initially conceived.

BEER STOLEN

Harry Badamo of 555 Barrington, reported to Park police on Saturday, March 29, that someone broke into his garage during the night and took several bottles of beer.

Judge Only Incumbent Facing Fight

Goodrow Opposed by Dougherty; Mayor, Three Councilmen Have No Opposition

The Woods will be the only Pointe holding an election on Monday, April 7. No issues are involved, except for municipal offices.

It is predicted the voting will be light, since incumbents for the posts of mayor and councilmen are unopposed. The only office to be contested for is that of municipal judge.

Goodrow Opposed

Opposing Judge Don Goodrow, who lives at 20738 Wicks lane, is Frank Dougherty of 1851 Country Club drive. The tenture of office is four years, and pays $1,800 a year.

Assured of re-election for the $600-a-year job of mayor is Kenneth Koppin of 1271 S. Renaud. The term of office is for two years. This will mark the mayor's third term.

He was first elected to office three years ago, and at the time it was a one-year tenure. Two years ago, the city charter was amended to make the term two years.

Others Are Assured

Also finding themselves safe for another two-year term on the council are: James Hunt of 1856 Littlestone; Kenneth McLeod of 20729 Wicks lane; and Harry Pratt of 19282 Raymond. This post pays $400 a year.

The Woods municipal office will be open from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Saturady, April 5, to accept applications for absentee ballots.

On April 7, polls through the city will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. Citizens are urged to vote.

Rates Could Change

Should the rate of assessed valuation increase more rapidly than the projection, then the millage would decrease in the same proportion. If the annual operating costs increase, then there would be a corresponding increase in the millage.

There will be a public hearing in the Woods Municipal Building, 20763 Mack avenue, on Tuesday, April 15, at 10 a.m., to determine the apportionment of costs which will have to be added for the treatment of sewage in the Milk River Drain. This effects only the Woods and Harper Woods.

The State Health Department has decreed that since these two cities will be the only ones dumping sewage in the Milk River Drain, they would have to add the treatment.

Center Offers Art Courses

Beginning Monday, April 7, and Tuesday, April 8, the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center will offer a new series of lessons in painting for both beginners and advanced students.

Classes will be instructed by nationally famous Hughie Lee-Smith. The basic fundamentals of sketching and painting will be taught to beginners followed by instruction in still life and landscape painting. More advanced students will have an opportunity to do figure painting with a model.

Classes will be limited to an absolute maximum of 15 each. They will be presented in the Center's third floor studio or on the grounds of the memorial in nice weather.

All who are interested in joining these classes are cordially invited to call the Memorial, TU 1-7511.

ADMIRAL CRITICIZES

Admiral Rickover, who is called the father of the atomic submarine, is extremely critical of "frills" in American education. An AP dispatch quotes him as saying: "I'd throw all of the fringe courses out of our schools. For instance, in one Illinois school system they have a course in how to know if you're in love. In another school they have a course in rest—you get credits for resting. And in Florida they have a course in fly casting."

FOR THOSE WHO WANT THE VERY BEST, THE WEBER HAS FEATURES FOUND IN NO OTHER PORTABLE BAR-B-QUE

A CIRCUIT COURT JURY of six men and six women Friday found Wiliam Marshall guilty of involuntary manslaughter in the death of a man he never saw.

The verdict, in the court of Judge Horace W. Gilmore, will have a "tremendous impact" throughout the country, said Prosecutor Samuel H. Olsen and his chief trial lawyer, Raymond J. DeRyck, who handled the case.

It affirms that car keys can be a deadly weapon when handed to a drunken person and that the one who hands them over can be held responsible. Marshall's attorneys said the case would be appealed to the State Supreme Court, maintaining that the act of handing the car keys to a drunk was a misdemeanor, by statute.

W. C. HANDY, 84, composer of the immortal "St. Louis Blues", died Friday. He was the man who shaped the rhythm of the Negro race into America's syncopated tempo of the blues. Other classics, among some 60 blues melodies Handy turned out, included "Memphis Blues" and "Beale Street Blues".

UAW PRESIDENT Walter P. Reuther was fiery and beligerent as the Senate Rackets Committee wound up five weeks hearings into the Kohler Co. strike in Wisconsin. Reuther said there is a Republican philosophy that "Reuther has got to be destroyed because his union is active in politics."

The last day of the Kohler hearing saw the long-smoldering resentment between Reuther and Senator Goldwater (R., Arizona) flare into the open. However, both retracted some of their previous remarks.

DETROIT AUTO DEALERS Saturday took the offensive against the business recession and early reports had the battle going their way.

The Detroit Auto Dealers Association made a fast survey of showrooms as the "Buy Days Mean Pay Days" campaign went into its first hours and got these reports:

Several showrooms reported selling autos to buyers who had meant to wait until summer but were lured by bargain prices; half the dealerships reported record-number visitors; backroom repair shops at all dealerships were doing increased business largely because showroom shoppers were bringing in their old autos for minor repairs.

STORM CLOUDS reaching four miles high Sunday balked all aerial efforts to aid four student skiers stranded at 11,600 feet in the High Sierras. One of the marooned four is believed seriously ill with pneumonia.

The four are students at Stanford University. All were worn by fatigue on a cross country ski hike which started eight days ago. They had been hit by frequent mountain storms.

A helicopter pilot in Fresno, Calif., said he hoped the ceiling would lift enough so he could fly shortly to Yosemite Park headquarters, which would be within 20 minutes flight of the snow-piled camp of the four students, on Mt. Lyell, 25 miles from the Yosemite Valley floor.

CAPT. JACK GUTHRIE suddenly threw his four-engined transport plane into a steep, passenger-jarring dive Sunday 75 miles from New York, saving 90 lives by the quick action.

He was flying to New York from Miami with 83 passengers and four other crewmen aboard when he saw a twin-engined plane coming at him head-on. He put the National Airlines DC-6 into steep dive for 100 feet. Passengers sprawled into the aisles.

The planes missed each other—but just barely.

A MARINE RADIO STATION said Monday night that the Norwegian passenger ship Skaubryn carrying about 1,100 persons was reported to have caught fire and sank in the Indian Ocean.

The station, at Scheveningen in Holland, said the 9,676-ton vessel went down 300 miles east-southeast of Sokotra, a small British island colony off the east coast of Africa. It is believed that all passengers and crewmen were rescued by the British ship, City of Sydney.

The passengers were mostly Germans and Scandinavians and the crew consisted of Germans and Italians, for the most part.

SENATOR McNAMARA, who has contended that recent Rackets Committee hearings had been "rigged against labor," quit that committee Monday. His resignation is effective April 15, or as soon as the Democratic leadership picks his successor.

"The Kohler hearings demonstrated that I could spend my time more profitably on other committees," he said. "I have more important things to do, comparatively, than waste my time on that committee."

Senator McNamara, who had been president of a pipefitters' local union in Detroit for 20 years, was believed to have been under labor cross-pressure, especially in the Kohler hearings.

PRIME MINISTER John Diefenbaker's Conservatives won the most decisive Federal election victory in Canada's history Monday. They swept into control of the House of Commons by a landslide majority that amazed even their most confident backers. The party based their successful bid on a vast public-works program platform to end the recession.

ONE WOMAN was trapped under tons of debris and another was rescued yesterday when a large section of a building being wrecked, collapsed on the downtown S. S. Kresge five-and-dime store in Jackson, Michigan.

Firemen talked to Mrs. Felona Baginski, the worker pinned under the wreckage, but could not learn of her injuries. Two hours after the collapse, rescuers were still working cautiously to free her, without toppling a new mass of debris onto her.

LONDON: PETER TOWNSEND, former suitor of Princess Margaret, slipped out of Britain, going to Brussels a day ahead of schedule. His hasty departure was believed connected with his tea date last week with Margaret. Queen Elizabeth and Margaret went riding together and showed no hard feelings over the incident.

To Give Talk On Australia

The Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association and the English Speaking Union of Detroit are jointly presenting Professor and Mrs. W. Sprague Holden of Wayne State University in an illustrated lecture on Australia, on Monday, April 17, at 8:30 p.m.

Professor Holden is Chairman of the Department of Journalism at Wayne. He and Mrs. Holden spent from February, 1956 to August, 1957 in Australia on a Fullbright grant. They thoroughly visited all six of the Australian states and in their capitals—Sidney, Melbourne, Adelaide, Brisbane, Perth and Hobart—became friends of their premiers.

Under the auspices of the host University of Melbourne the Holdens were shown every phase of Australian life which they will share with the Center's audiences. Professor Holden is calling his talk "A Quick Look at Australian Life." He will show the people both at work and play and with pictures will take the audience not only to the major cities but also to the primitive areas "out back."

Professor Holden will take his audience to whaling stations and sheep farms—as well as the beaches and the race track. There will be many excellent pictures too of animal life—the kangaroo, emu, platypus, wambat and penguin.

Everyone is invited to this interesting and informative program free of charge. There will be coffee afterward.

Rabaut Urges Excise Tax Suspension on Cars

Congressman Louis C. Rabaut of the 14th District announced recently he has introduced a bill calling for one year suspension of the manfacturers excise tax on motor vehicles and motor vehicle parts and accessories, excluding the taxes on trucks, buses, bus trailers, and semi- trailers that are attributable to the Highway Trust Fund.

The bill calls for a reduction of the present 10% tax on buses, trucks, truck and bus trailers, and semi-trailers to 5%, the maximum reduction that can be made without affecting the amount paid to the Highway Trust Fund. Under the existing section of the Internal Revenue Code, automobiles, trailers, and semi-trailers suitable for use in connection with passenger automobiles are taxable at 10% of the sale price until July 1, 1958, and at 7% from and after that date.

The Rabaut Bill provides that no tax will be imposed for a one year period beginning March 1, 1958, and at the end of the one year period will be reimposed at a 7% rate.

The bill also provides for the suspension of the 10% tax on parts and accessories during the one year period; however, the bill does not affect the present tax on automobile tires and tubes or automobile radio and television sets. It also provides for a floor stock refund in the case of automobiles, trucks, buses, trailers and semitrailers held by dealers on March 1, 1958. In the case of this sold to an ultimate purchaser on or before the enactment of the bill, the floor stock refund will apply only if the ultimate purchaser is reimbursed for the tax reduction or gives his written consent to the refund.

The bill contains a technical amendment to the Highway Revenue Act of 1956, to insure that the Highway Trust Fund will continue to receive the amount contemplated by that Act. Under the existing law 50% of the 10% excise tax on trucks, buses, trailers and semi-trailers is allocated to the Highway Trust Fund. Under the Rabaut Bill the Highway Trust Fund will receive the full 5% of the collected taxes on these items. Adjustments are also provided by the bill to take care that during the one year period covered by the bill the Treasury will receive taxes incurred before March 1, 1958, at the 10% rate, and will receive taxes on or after March 1, 1959, incurred during the reduced period at the 5% rate. The bill does not provide for any floor stocks taxes at the termination of the one year period covered by the bill on the theory that the absence of such taxes will encourage greater production and sales anticipating the deadline date.

All the pull in the world wouldn't pull some fellows out of the proverbial rut.

Country Store to Feature Antique Show

BULLOCK'S COUNTRY STORE will be open for "business as usual" during G.P. Rotary Club's annual Antiques Show, from May 6 through 9. Everyone is cordially invited to browse in complete nostalgia among jars of rock candy, button shoes, rolling pins, those things one was apt to find in the old general store. Or you might even have a game of checkers at the old cracker barrel by the stove.

* * *

The old store is only one of 20 exhibits to be seen this year., at the War Memorial Center. Antique dealers from all across the country have been invited to display their wares again, at what promises to be the finest show yet sponsored by G. P. Rotarians. All exhibits are for sale to the general public.

Tickets for the show are being mailed to residents, and are also available from Rotarians or at the show itself.

Interest in this event for the past two years has been sufficient to enable Rotary to carry on many important community projects. This year's show promises to be the best yet, and local support will insure continuance of these necessary activities.

Art Students Plan Exhibit

Students of Hughie Lee-Smith's art classes at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial are exhibiting their still life, landscape, and portrait paintings in the Center's second floor galleries from April 5 to April 21.

To begin the exhibition, the nearly 50 students are inviting their families and friends as well as professional critics to a tea from 3 to 5 p.m., Saturday afternoon, April 5.

Paintings will be grouped in beginning, intermediate and advanced classifications and even the newest students will have something displayed.

Accidents Take Wasteful Toll

The average traffic accident caused by too much speed in Detroit in 1957 cost $529.

The average injury and fatal accident due to excessive speed amounted to $1,768. The average property damage accident cost $193.

These figures are estimated by the Traffic Safety Association from accident costs compiled by the National Safety Council. They give significant meaning to the new poster prepared by the Traffic Safety Association, which was erected at approximately 1,200 locations in the Detroit area. The poster reads: "Speeding Can Be Costly."

Breaking down Detroit's traffic accident figures for 1957 showed that the major cause of nearly 16,000 or 23 per cent of the total accidents was too much speed. Of this number, approximately 3,000 were fatal or injury accidents.

Applying National Safety Council figures to Detroit accidents caused by speed showed that property damage accidents totaled more than $2,500,000, while fatal and injury accidents amounted to $5,304,000.

The total cost of speeding accidents was $7,813,000, it was estimated.

The various cost factors involved in an injury or fatal accident, according to the National Safety Council, include hospital and medical expenses, wage losses due to an injury and projected wage losses due to permanent total disability or death.

"It's obvious that from an economic standpoint alone traffic accidents caused by speed exact a wasteful toll," the Traffic Safety Association said.

In addition to accident costs, there is another cost element from too much speed, Traffic Judge John D. Watts pointed out.

"Those persons found guilty in Traffic Court of speeding can expect to pay fines ranging from $10 to $150, depending on the seriousness of the violation," he said. "Speed is our greatest accident cause and that is the way we treat it when imposing fines in Court.

"In addition, I want to point out that many of the drivers convicted of speeding not only pay a fine but also are put on probation for extended periods and they are forbidden to drive their automobiles," Judge Watts said.

Valuable Rings Missed By Resident of Farms

Harold Tyree of 28 Provencal, informed Farms police on Monday, March 24, in a belated report, that two expensive rings were missing from his home.

One ring was described as of yellow gold, with three diamonds, valued at $500; and the other as a multi-diamond platinum wedding band worth $300.

Suggests Postals To Fight Deficit

What coud be a step toward reducing the postal deficit is contained in a suggestion from the 1958 Michigan Week committee.

General Chairman Edward J. Hekman suggests a post card containing a Michigan scene be mailed by every man, woman and child in the state during Michigan Week, May 4 to 10.

With roughly 7,500,000 residents and a card for each at two cents a stamp that's $150,000. That would be a "shot in the arm" for postal receipts. It wouldn't take many post cards, in fact only 10 from each resident including those too young to be able to write, to boost the total in extra stamps sold during Michigan Week to a million and a half dollars.

"This is a project in which everyone can participate," said Mr. Hekman. Hundreds of retail outlets offer for sale cards depicting the beauties of Michigan. When they are sent out of state, they can inform millions of persons of things they never knew about Michigan."

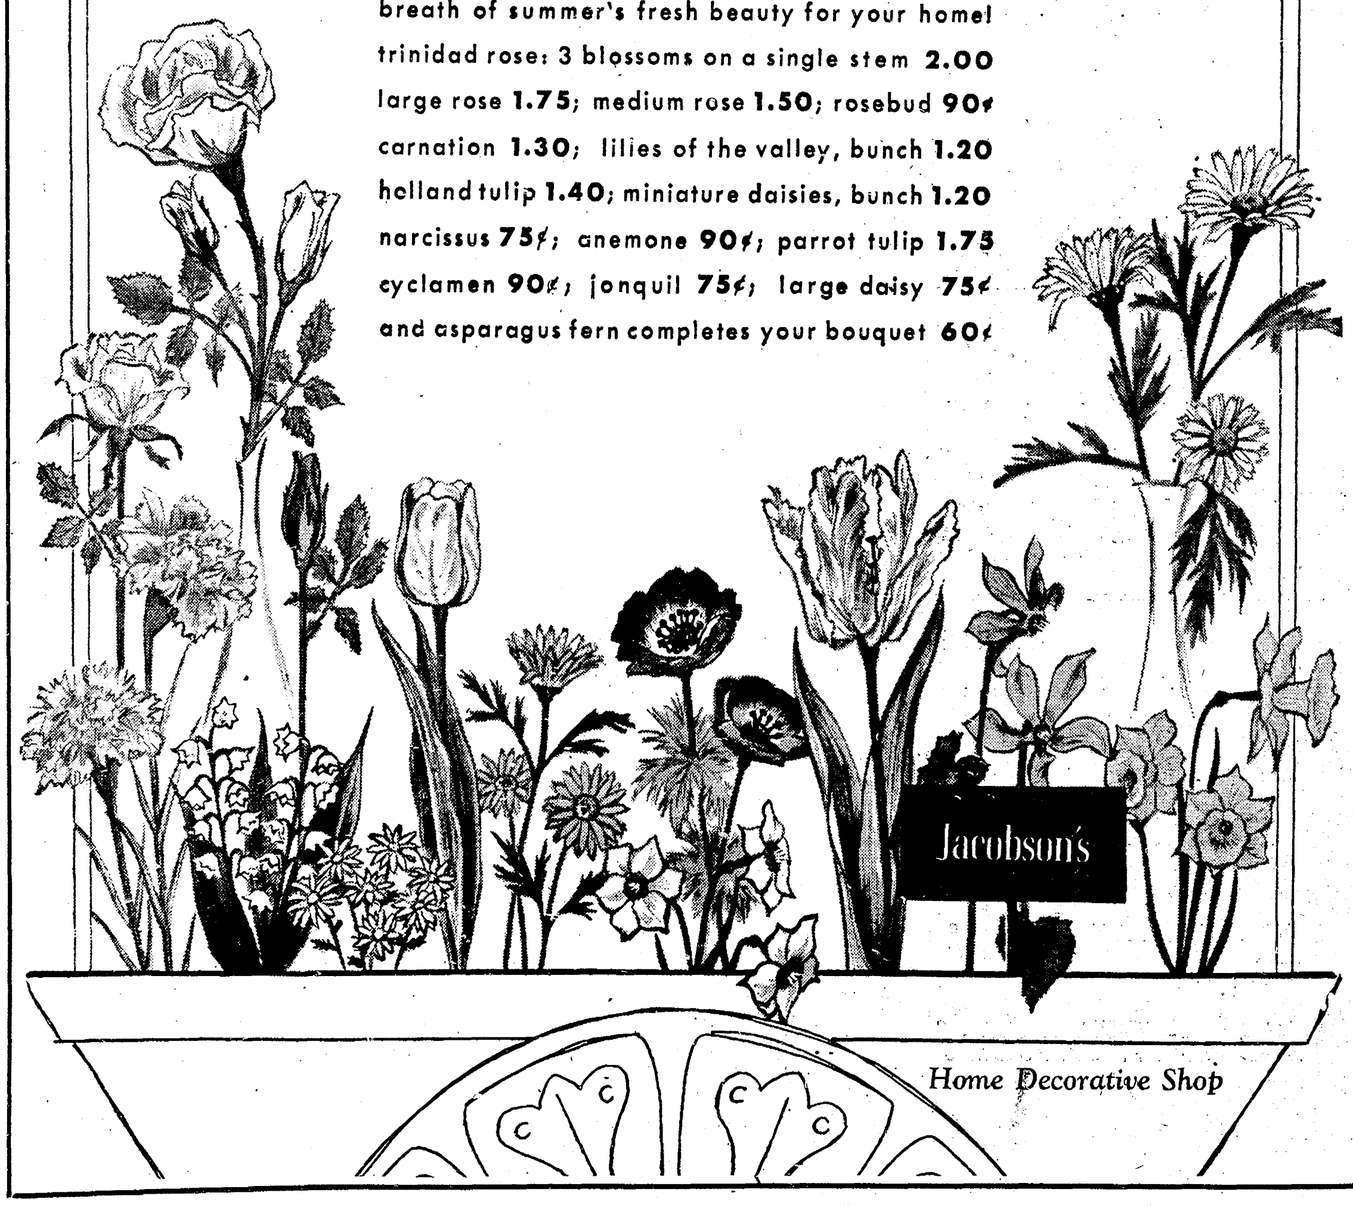

The executive board of Michigan Week, meeting at Grand Rapids, adopted a resolution favoring use of Michigan scenic post cards and suggested they be used to invite residents of other states to visit Michigan. The plan was adopted after a presentation of Michigan scenes by Norton Louis Avery, of Saranac, whose color studios produce millions of pictorial cards.

One suggestion was that the cards be used by school children as a Michigan Week project, that the cards could be sent to those on Christmas card mailing lists, and that business firms and industries could utilize them in answering letters which require only brief replies.

If the cards are mailed to other Michigan residents, it would be a means of acquainting the receivers with other sections of their state, Mr. Hekman pointed out.

Automation may have its advantages but it is causing a major problem in the field of medicine, according to an article in The Journal of the American Medical Association by Dr. Robert H. Barnes. More and more people are tending to become overweight as a result of our new sedentary life which provides more leisure time with less heavy physical work.

Government Cracks Down On Yacht Inspection Law

The inspection of all yachts and small boats returning to the United States after touching a Canadian port is mandatory here again this year.

Last year for the first time boat owners were required to report in to one of the four ports of entry set up by the Immigration and Naturalization Service. However, the law wasn't enforced too rigidly, but this year it will be, according to Walter A. Sahli, director of the service.

Mr. Sahli attended the spring meeting of the Detroit River Yachting Association held at the Detroit Boat Club last Friday, March 28, and requested the cooperation of all yachtsmen. He explained why it was so necessary to enforce the law which has not been rigidly enforced for more than 40 years on the Great Lakes.

The reason for the crackdown has been brought about by the changing complexion of Canada due to the hundreds of thousands of Europeans who have entered Canada since World War II. These immigrants, according to inquiries, entered Canada actually intending to come to the U.S. and were using that country as a springboard to gain entry into our country as Canadians.

Canadians are not subject to any numerical restrictions and can generally enter the U.S. without difficulty through legal channels. Most of the Europeans have come from countries having a very limited "quota". These people realize they need only remain in Canada five or six years before obtaining a quota number which would permit them to enter legally.

Canada has been able to offer these immigrants only agricultural or poorer type of factory work and many of them are seeking work more to their former stations. Consequently, the United States is a wonderful place to be. Some of these Europeans try to enter illegally and the easiest way is by water where the inspection has been lax.

The establishment of regular points of inspection has been found to be a necessary part of controlling illegal entry by means of small boats.

The inspection ports are: Miller's Marina between Nine and Ten Mile roads in St. Clair Shores; Kean's Detroit Yacht Harbor at the foot of Meadowbrook in Detroit; Ecorse Boat Basin on West Jefferson in Ecorse. The Gibraltar port was found to be unsatisfactory last year and a more suitable location will be announced before the season starts.

As Director Sahli stated, "We are not trying to make it inconvenient for the yachtsmen because we know they are honest. It's the dishonest person we are looking for and by having everyone report in on their return from Canada we can find the cheaters."

Mr. Sahli continued, "We aren't interested in that extra case of beer or bottle; we know that takes place. We want the smuggler who could be transporting people into our country illegally." He likened the inspection to that of the State's requirement that everyone obtain a driver's license. That is the State's way of discovering the illegal and undesirable driver.

Mr. Sahli closed his comments to the group with the reminder that the law which will be rigidly enforced this year is not a new law but the same one which has required all persons arriving in the U.S. by car, train, bus, plane or by any other manner to report for inspection. In view of the changing conditions, there is no further justification to exempt persons traveling by boat from the general requirement.

The penalty for not reporting was not discussed but you can be assured failure to report will be dealt with severely, so be sure YOU CHECK IN EACH TIME you return from a Canadian port this year and hereafter.

Richard H. Williams Ends Basic Training

FORD LEONARD WOOD, MO. (AHTNC) — Army Pvt. Richard H. Williams, son of Dr. and Mrs. L. H. Williams, 818 Bishop, Grosse Pointe, Mich., recently completed eight weeks of basic training at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., under the Reserve Forces Act program.

Williams is a 1954 graduate of Redford High School and attended Hillsdale College and Michigan State University.

One of the first steps toward possible weather control now is being taken at The University of Michigan in a study of rain drop size.

Economy is the art of making money work for you after you have worked for it.

It never pays to argue with any man, unless you are trying to sell him something.

You can't consider experience a good investment until after it has paid dividends.

Episcopalians Holding Drive

Thirteen thousand committee men is the goal of the Episcopal Diocese of Michigan in the $1,500,00 Development drive, according to an announcement made by the Rt. Reverend Richard S. Emrich, Bishop of Michigan.

Of this amount, $1,000,000 is to be used to establish a Diocesan Cathedral Center in Detroit, $300,000 for a church and mission revolving fund and $200,000 for housing for the aged.

Explaining the campaign procedure, Bishop Emrich said: "This huge army of volunteer workers started with selection of a chairman in each of 171 parishes and missions; followed by the enlistment of vice-chairmen, team captains and team workers. It will be by the efforts of these zealous laymen that we will achieve success of our goal."

Bishop Emrich went on to say, "I am extremely happy to report that preliminary organizational work has been completed with 80 per cent of the diocese at this early date in the campaign."

Alexander Wiener of Woodland place has been selected as Christ Church parish chairman in this diocesan drive appeal. Mr. Wiener is being assisted by 15 men who will in a one-day drive solicit the pledges of their fellow parishioners.

Mr. Wiener is a member of the board of St. Peter's Home for Boys, a former vestryman of Christ Church and its head usher.

Uncontrolled Car Causes Damage

A car went out of control last Saturday, March 29, with the result that one man was hospitalized, two cars badly damaged, and a light pole severely defaced.

It all happened at the corner of Mack avenue and Cadieux road. Floyd Don Braden, of 11012 Roxbury in Detroit, had stopped for the traffic signal at that intersection. He looked into his rearview mirror just in time to see a car coming up behind him at a dangerous speed. He tried to avoid the collision but it was too late. William Chapman, of 4837 Cadieux, smashed into him.

The force of the impact was so great that, after hitting Braden's car, Chapman's continued across Mack, and slammed into a light pole on the north side of that avenue. Chapman was taken to St. John hospital for treatment of a nose injury—before which he was ticketed for reckless driving.

Tip to motorists: Don't gamble in traffic—the cars may be stacked against you.

HOW TO PROFIT THROUGH TAX EXEMPTION

With today's high tax levels, investors in medium and high tax brackets are turning to tax-free Municipal Bonds for income that they can keep.

If you have a taxable income of $10,000 or more, you may be well repaid by investigating the advantages of tax-exempt State and Municipal Bonds. For instance, if you file a single return on a taxable income of $14,000, you would have to receive a dividend return of 7.45% on a taxable security in order to equal the yield from a 3.50% tax-free Bond. It's something to think about!

Our New Booklet, "How To Profit Through Tax-Exemption" explains in plain language your need for tax exemption, tells how much these high-grade investments can be worth to you. There's no obligation. Send for copy today, or phone

GPUS Students Win Recognition

Two seniors at Grosse Pointe University School have been commended by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation for their outstanding performances on a nationwide college aptitude test according to headmaster John Chandler.

The seniors honored are: Charles W. Garrett and Helen N. Hallett. Mr. Garrett is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Garrett, 3404 Iroquois, Detroit. Miss Hallett is the daughter of Mrs. John J. Bradley, Jr., 58 Moross, Grosse Pointe Farms.

The Grosse Pointe University School students were Michigan runners-up in the 1957-58 Merit Scholarship competition. Each will be sent a letter of recommendation by National Merit Scholarship Corporation for use in applying to colleges. John M. Stalnaker, President of NMSC, believes that the 7,500 students who received the commendation rank in the top one or two per cent in ability in the the senior classes of their respective states.

"While the students receiving this commendation did not quite reach the finals of the 1957-58 Merit Scholarship competition, each of them has demonstrated highly superior ability and outstanding promise to benefit from college training," declared Mr. Stalnaker.

"I hope that every one of them will make a special effort to obtain the best college education possible. Our country needs more able people like these."

The annual National Merit Scholarship competition offers the largest system of privately financed scholarships in the United States. The Merit Scholarship Program is open to all high school seniors in the United States and its possessions.

This year, over 260,000 outstanding seniors from over 14,000 high schools entered the competition which began with a nationwide screening examination in October, 1957. About 7,200 students, who have already been named, are now in the finals of the current competition. Over 1,000 four-year Merit Scholarships worth an estimated $5 million to the winners and their colleges will be awarded about May 1, 1958.

NMSC was established in 1955 through grants of $20.5 million from the Ford Foundation and Carnegie Corporation of New York. Over 80 business and industrial firms offer four-year college scholarships through its facilities.

The little a man wants in this world is usually a little above the ordinary.

Pointers Among Winners Of Teaching Fellowships

One-year fellowships for outstanding students interested in preparing for college teaching professions have been awarded a total of 1,080 young men and women by the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor.

The fellowships are made possible by the Ford Foundation, which granted $24.5 million to the program a year ago. The program has grown from four awards in 1945-46 to 302 last year and 1,080 announced today, April 3.

Winners are selected after recommendation by members of the academic profession from 6,000 nominees this year. The Wilson fellowships enable young scholars to try out their interests in the first year of graduate work and thus to determine if they wish to enter college and university teaching careers.

Awards are $1,400 plus tuition, with a total value of $2,700,000 this year. Woodrow Wilson fellows will study in 78 graduate schools in the U.S. and Canada. Men receive 750 of the fellowships, and women 330.

Nominees are selected from 15 geographical regions by nearly 100 regional committee members. Final selections are made by the national selection committee, composed of eight graduate school deans and two liberal arts professors.

Grosse Pointe can be proud of its two Fellowship winners: Jane C. Pressel, daughter of the Leslie R. Pressels, of Nottingham road, who is currently majoring in French Literature at Kalamazoo College; and Thomas M. Bieniewski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Casimir Bieniewski of Manchester road. He is presently a mathematics major at the University of Detroit.

Nearly 800 Michigan high school students are expected to attend The University of Michigan's all-state music and drama program at Interlochen.

Art Institute Plan Exhibit

Modern art acquisitions in the Detroit Institute of Arts collection purchased by the contributions of "Friends of Modern Art" from 1931 to 1957 will go on view Tuesday, April 8, in conjunction with the current, immense Pennsylvania Academy of Art exhibition.

The Pennsylvania show, now in its 153rd year, is the oldest in the nation and is being shown outside Philadelphia for the first time this year with the co-sponsorship of the Detroit Institute. It occupies four large galleries and the Great Hall. The accompanying exhibit of about 30 paintings and three sculptures will take another gallery and include such world-famed works as "Composition for Clarinet and Tin Horn" by Ben Shahn.

Not on view, because they have been loaned to important exhibitions elsewhere, will be "The Pond" by William Baziotes, and "The Emperor Ploughs the Fields" by Theodoros Stamos, which are with the "American Art in Detroit" exhibition opening April 10 in Greece sponsored by the United States Information Agency, and a sculpture, "Spheroid III" by Herbert Ferber in the U.S. Pavilion Art Exhibition at the Brussels World's Fair.

A private reception, for persons who have contributed to the Friends of Modern Art will be held Monday evening, April 7, in the galleries, when contributing members will vote on purchases from the Pennsylvania Academy show. Two pictures already have been purchased from this exhibit with their funds.

Mrs. Frederick M. Alger, chairman, called attention to the enhanced value of earlier purchases, "We have not only been rewarded by Detroit's enthusiastic reception to our collection; we have watched the value of our purchases soar. For example, we paid $800 for our "Snow-covered Church" by Marc Chagall in 1931 and today it is worth well over $2,000."

VANDALISM REPORTED

Park police took a report from Mrs. Mile Haderick on Saturday, March 15, in which she complained that some one had thrown a cinder block through the rear window of her house, breaking the glass pane and a vase.

Eight out of every ten students who enter The University of Michigan eventually receive a college degree.

Old Restaurant Being Altered

Fisher road is in the process of undergoing another face-lifting. As in the case of its predecessor, the building at the corner of Maumee and Fisher, the current renovation will be used for professional offices.

The extinct Francois Restaurant, long a favorite haunt of ye olde High School set, and for the past year owned by Paselk Florist who used the building for storage space, is being refurbished and should be ready for occupation the first of September.

Its "New Look" will feature a colonial facade, with red brick and white trim. The entrance is to be from the side. A driveway for patients will circle the back of the building.

The frame structure at the back of the building was built during the war. Francois obtained a special permit to build the addition for more kitchen space. It was razed last week.

The edifice, when completed, will contain two separate suites of offices, to be occupied by Dr. Ross R. Scharfenberg, child dental specialist, and Herbert C. Allison, M.D.

HUBCAPS STOLEN

James Platzka of 9703 Philip, Detroit, complained to Woods police on Tuesday, March 25, that someone stole four spinner-type hubcaps from his car while it was parked in the Woods Theater parking lot.

G.P.U.S. News Notes

A big event for the baseball players at Grosse Pointe University School this spring is their trip to Bill Virdon's Florida Baseball School in Tampa. A stay of almost two weeks will be ending for them this Saturday when they return home.

Bill Virdon is a former big league ball player who now conducts a school for high school and college athletes from all parts of the country. The GPUS team will practice and learn the fine points of the game each morning from 9 until 1 and have the rest of the day free for swimming, seeing the major league clubs that play each day in Tampa, and for general sightseeing.

Elementary School News

JOHN R. BARNES

The March 21, P.T.A. occasion was a wonderful success. As previously reported, Grades 1-6 presented a musical operetta "Up On Old Smoky." Playing leads Judy Grimes, Sandra Fritsch, Ron Brenaman, Tom Pendergast, Joe Calcaterra, Terry Atkin, Dick Grenzke, Barbara Ohly, Greg Grenzke, Mam Hodges, and Mike Daher were sensational; so were the school's orchestra and chorus.

A standing-room-only parent audience watched the show and their highly complimentary remarks were highly deserved by the many boys and girls who had various parts in the show.

* * *

Barnes also stakes a claim as a potential wild-life retreat here in our community. Several weeks ago four mallard ducks were enjoying the adequate aquatic facilities provided by a wet—and rather new—Barnes playground. As these ducks returned north, many students were heading south. Whose judgment is best, only the years will tell.

* * *

Several special classes are being held on a once-a-week basis at Barnes. They are working out very well. Every Wednesday, when chorus and orchestra groups meet for practice, 5th and 6th graders not participating are either in "Advanced Science," "Super Art," "Helpful Reading Techniques," or "French, a smattering thereof." Everyone seems to be getting something out of whatever group he or she is in—and enjoying it also.

FERRY SCHOOL

The sixth grade Ferry School students of Miss Dorothy Crandall, presented a play, "Caddie Woodlawn" by Carol Brink, directed by Miss Crandall.

The parents were invited to attend the play in the school auditorium, on March 26, at 1:45 p.m.

A tea was given after the play. Mrs. F. Filupait, Room Mother, and a committee, Mrs. R. Judkins, Mrs. C. Nolan and Mrs. L. Tapert, helped serve the cast and their guests.

The next 25 years may see the end of poverty as our most important economic problem, a speaker said recently at The University of Michigan.

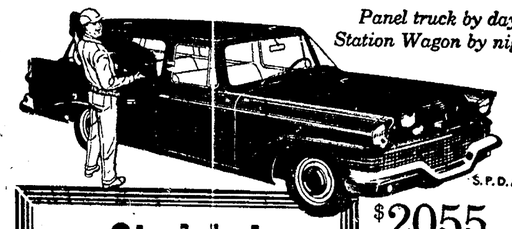

Altar Society Planning Party

The Altar Society of St. Peter Catholic Church, Harper Woods, will hold its monthly meeting on Wednesday, April 9, at 8 p.m.

Final plans will be made for the big Spring Card Party to be held on April 17, at the Roma Hall, Gratiot avenue, East Detroit. Original table prizes are to be given, and the delicious lunch to be served will consist of pizza, pastries, and coffee. The donation for this card party will be $1.25. Chairmen for this event are Marion Joy, TU. 1-9662, and Donna Trimble, PR. 5-3741.

The entertainment for the monthly meeting being held in the school vestibule, will be colored slides called "Spotlight on Entertaining," shown by a home economist from the Michigan Consolidated Gas Company.

The St. Peter Altar Society is also sponsoring a bake sale on Saturday, April 5, from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. It will be held in the vestibule of the school. The chairmen for this event are Rosemary Peabody, PR. 6-3975, and Josephine McClain, PR. 6-1326. Pick1up and delivery service will be furnished by calling these numbers.

Mrs. William Heller and Miss Ruth Vrudny, duet, will sing "I Waited for the Lord" by Mendelssohn; and anthems will be sung by the Cherub and Chapel choirs. Rev. George E. Kurz, pastor of the church, will have the meditation.

The joyous message of Easter will be told at the 9:30 a.m. and 11 o'clock services at St. James on Easter Sunday. The Chapel choir will sing "In Joseph's Lovely Garden" by C. Dickenson at the first service. Holy Communion will be celebrated. The Chancel Choir will sing the following triumphant Easter anthems during the second service: "King of Kings" by Simper, solo part by Mrs. Evan Evans; and "The Legend of the Garden" by E. Lang, soloist, Albert O'Neol. Mrs. William Heller, soprano, will sing "The Holy City" by Stephen Adams.

Carl Munzel is organist and choir director of St. James. There will be a nursery for small children at all the services.

March of Dimes Money Helps Develop 'Muscle'

An "artificial muscle" that promises to put paralyzed hands back to work was demonstrated recently at a conference on human disability held under the auspices of the New York Academy of Sciences.

The device was hailed as a major breakthrough in rehabilitating the paralyzed. Dr. Kenneth S. Landauer, Director of Respiratory and Rehabilitation Center Services, National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, estimated that thousands of people with arms and hands paralyzed by polio and other causes may eventually benefit by this discovery.

The present model enables patients with paralyzed fingers to hold such items as a pencil, a cigarette or an eating utensil.

"The 'artificial muscle' is still in the experimental stage," Dr. Landauer emphasized. "We do not know how soon it will be available nor can we yet say to what extent it will be helpful to people with totally frail arms. The National Foundation is supporting immediate efforts for the further development, refinement and application of the muscle in the hope that eventually some of the thousands disabled by polio and other diseases will have at least partial use of their paralyzed limbs."

Atomic physicist Dr. Joseph L. McKibben of Los Alamos Scientific Laboratory is the inventor of the artificial muscle. He conceived the new principle when his daughter Karan, now 14, was severely paralyzed by polio. His ideas were developed, with the aid of a National Foundation grant, by a team of scientists under the direction of Dr. Vernon L. Nickel of Los Angeles County's Rancho Los Amigos Respiratory and Rehabilitation Center.

The present model of the "artificial muscle" consists of a rubber tube enclosed in nylon that is woven in a special pattern. It is powered by compressed carbon dioxide gas. A simple valve that patients can operate with any remaining natural muscle power, controls the flow of gas. As gas enters and expands the rubber tube, the nylon cover shortens; when the gas is turned off, the rubber contracts and the nylon lengthens. This stimulates the action of normal muscles. A simple flexor hand splint that fits over the forearm, thumb and two forefingers transfits this "artificial muscle" energy to the paralyzed hand.

"Using this principle," Dr. Landauer said, "it should eventually be possible to make larger 'muscles' that can move arms and, perhaps, even legs."

Dr. Landauer cited the artificial muscle as a major forward step in the National Foundation's "Operation Comeback" program for polio patients. The new discovery, coupled with modern rehabilitation techniques, promises to help thousands of the most severely disabled patients return to more normal, productive lives.

Senator Potter to Greet East Side GOP Women

Senator and Mrs. Charles E. Potter will be guests of honor at a reception being held at 9:15 a.m. Friday, April 11th, by the East Side Women's Republican Club preceding their regular monthly meeting.

President, Mrs. Kenneth E. Koppitz, will call their meeting to order at 10 a.m. and Mrs. John A. Malin will give highlights of her recent trip to the Republican Women's Conference in Washington, D. C.

Members and guests are invited to attend the morning session followed by a sandwich luncheon. Women in the area who are interested in meeting with their Senator are urged to attend.

Scouts Launch Safety Drive

During the week of April 7, all 89,000 registered members of the Detroit Area Boy Scout Council will participate in the spring phase of their 1958 National Safety Good Turn.

This spring activity is part of a year-long program requested of the Boy Scouts of America by President Eisenhower in the interest of the conservation of human life.

During the coming Easter vacation period local Boy Scouts and Explorers will distribute "safety - imprinted" windshield wipers and "speed control" stickers to motorists driving into service stations. The Cub Scouts will place "Protect Children" leaflets under the windshield wipers of parked cars in their own immediate neighborhood.

The summer phase of the 1958 Good Turn includes highway safety and water safety, such as safe swimming and the correct handling of boats and canoes.

Safety in the fall will include fire prevention such as inspection of homes and meeting places. Winter Safety will emphasize ice rescue methods, blizzard survival and outdoors preparedness.

Zoar Society to Give Benefit Sale for Home

The members of the Zoar Society have just completed final plans for the annual spring sale and supper to be held at the Evangelical Home for Children and Aged, 6700 West Outer Drive on Saturday, April 12, from 5 to 7 o'clock.

Working on the committee of arrangements for the supper are the following members: Mrs. William F. Ludwig, 421 Touraine road and Mrs. Franz Georgi, 20920 Lakeland court, St. Clair Shores.

Proceeds from this affair are to be used solely for the aid and support of the Home.

HOUSEHOLD HINT

A good breakfast provides about one third of your food needs for the entire day, according to Michigan State University food specialists. It should include some fruits or juice, especially for vitamin C; and vitamin B; some protein, such as eggs or bacon; and milk, as a beverage or on cereal.

Some people never accomplish anything because they refuse to do a little at a time.

Floating on the gentle swells of crystal clear, 78 degree salt water off Cuba's Varadero Beach, lazily watching a blood red sun dip swiftly below the horizon as flaming clouds paint the sky, seems a far cry from the rigors which can be experienced in the north as winter and spring tussle over the exchange of mantles. But it's good to be back, and the transition was made far easier by the perfectly beautiful weather which smiled on the Pointe during the weekend and beyond.

The south was nice. We hadn't taken a winter vacation in 12 years and couldn't resist the temptation when the opportunity presented itself. There have been many improvements, not the least of which is the speed-up in transportation. The last time we flew to Florida it took 10 hours, with four or five stops enroute. This time we left the Pointe at 9 a.m., got a 10:15 flight from Willow Run and touched down in Miami at 2:15. A wait of an hour and three quarters and a change of planes there, then we were off on the 45 minute hop to Varadero. Before 6 o'clock we were checked in at the hotel and swimming.

Cuba was delightful. Soft, soft air and stinging hot sun and dazzlingly white sand, and the shades of blue and green which the ocean wears there, beat anything we ever saw on the famed Mediterranean scene. A wonderfully lazy and luxurious life, sans rush or formality. Meal hours were 7 a.m. to 10:30 a.m.; 1 to 3:30 p.m.; and 7 to 10:30 p.m. We got in at the last minute each time for luncheon and dinner. Breakfast was enjoyed in bed . . . at 10:30. There was night life if one wanted it . . . at the flamboyant new hotel up the beach with its gambling casino and night club, and at many spots in the town, but not many seemed to be interested. It was too delightful sitting on the terrace listening to the Cuban trio, or to the piano player who sounded much like Roger Williams, or walking the beach in the moonlight with a soft breeze rustling the palms and seeping through the Australian pines to the accompaniment of the gently breaking surf.

Don't ask about the revolution; we wouldn't know. Each day there was scuttlebutt about the big break coming that night, but after a day or two of this, one paid little attention to such rumors and the environment made it difficult to lend much credence to tales of violence. All we can say is that neither Senor Batista nor Senor Castro disturbed our Cuban vacation one whit. There was one telephone call from the States during which the wag on the other end said: — "Give Fidel Castro a kiss for me." Bang went the connection, terminated by some ear-bent censor, but that was a bit of a blessing too. We were tired of the conversation anyway.

We visited the quaint town of Cardenas, fought our way through dogs and bicycles, became impervious to the constant honking of automobile horns and the pungent odors, and stalked enthralled through the public market, fly-ridden and noisy with hawkers, but fascinating with its strange fruits and vegetables, domino game cubicles and myriad booths purveying everything from most questionable noodle and pork dishes to lottery tickets.

We did a mite of fishing one day when we went island hopping in a chartered boat, stopped off to see the fishermen mending their traps, then watched a team of natives haul in a mile-long seine. As our small cruiser rolled on the waves nearby, we saw this mammoth snare contracted by sheer manpower into a container no larger than our office. Within, a veritable rainbow of fish of a hundred species leaped in their frightened searchings for freedom as the expert natives dipped them out in huge hand nets that must have held 100 pounds of the finny catch. They were sorted on the spot and dumped into three boats that stood by with tanks full of water to keep the catch alive until it could be delivered to the fish cooperative on Gardenas Bay.

We flew out of Cuba with a heart full of love for the beautiful island, rented a car in Miami and drove the fine new Sunshine State Parkway toll road to Palm Beach. That resort mecca is as gay and glittery as we remembered it from our last visit. Teeming with folks from the old home town, the magnificently manicured estates and untramodern fairy-tale homes, restaurants, yachts, clubs, theaters and bistros make for a most pleasant setting for reunions and meeting new friends from all over the world.

Now the junket is over, but we have returned at that very special time of the year which we should hate to miss in the Pointe. When spring bursts its icy tethers here, the show is well worth watching. The crocuses and snow drops have already pushed forth their first brave blooms and a billion eager green sprouts announce the fast-approaching golden tidal wave that will engulf the land as the daffodils, jonquils and dandelions take over the stage. Then will come the breath-taking beauty of the annual tulip parade and the air will be spiced with the scent of lilacs.

Lawns will soon be turning that lush green that can only be seen during a northern spring. As the season advances and the trees spread their lacy canopy above, countless flowers will be waging their private wars to steal the center of the stage in this gigantic display of loveliness.

We are glad to have a center aisle seat at this performance. We can all contribute to the success of the presentation by getting out and clearing away the ravages of winter's wrath. Destroy the debris and set the stage properly for the great acts coming up. Let's keep the show clean.

What Goes On at Your Library

By Jean Taylor

. . . Spring! What a magical word! For weeks it seems we've been waiting for symbols of that enhcanting season —pussy willows bursting into view; kites flying high in the sky, yellow jonquils gleaming in shining windows, travel folders of faraway places tossed on the table—all evidence that once again life is awakening everywhere.

Welcoming the new spring is a very impressive list of books for the young adult. One based on true adventure and told with mounting excitement is David Walker's LUNCH WITH A STRANGER in which the author tells the story of his fabulous career as a British secret agent during World War II.

Another for the lovers of adventure and danger is MY FRIENDS, THE HUSKIES by Robert Dovers. Mr. Dovers, an Australian, tells of the French Expedition to Antarctic in 1951-52 where he had the sole responsibility for three dog teams. During the long winter he spent there, he became well acquainted with the personalities, problems and accomplishments of his huskies.

. . . Come spring, and who wouldn't like to be a flier in the wild, blue yonder? This love for the life is shown in two recent books of the sky. Frank Smith, a successful lawyer from Philadelphia was advised by his doctor to find a hobby. After trying everything from golf to model railroading, he was introduced to the exciting new world of the sky, and his book, WEEK-END PILOT, narrates the funny and sometimes startling adventures of a beginner flier. The aviation enthusiast interest in jet and rocket flight will want to read THE FASTEST MAN ALIVE in which the author, Lt. Col. Everest, reveals an excellent picture of the disappointments and dangers of testing the Bell X-1 and X-2 experimental rocket planes.

. . . Come spring and a young man's fancy as well as that of many a young lady turns to thoughts of romance. Such a book based on the life of a forgotten heroine of the Civil War is Janet Stevenson's WEEP NO MORE. Elizabeth Van Lew, a southern woman of deep antislavery convictions, feigns madness in order to gather informtaion for the north, and risks her life in a daring attempt to capture Richmond.

. . . Come spring and one is filled with the spirit of the wanderlust. Unfortunately, not everyone is able to satisfy this urge execpt by reading INTO THE WIND by Mary van Nes.

Take a family of eight exuberant individuals—father, mother and six children — and the challenging seas and coasts from Long Island to Portland, Maine, and one thing is certain — you'll have a cruise to remember. Readers of THE TREASURED ONE; the story of Rudivoravan, Princess of Siam as told to Ruth Knight will be reminded of THE KING AND I and ANNA AND THE KING OF SIAM, for the grandfather of the Princess was made famous in these two books. Here is the warm inside story of what it was like to be one of the perfumed prisoners of the court of Siam, waited on hand and foot, which the princess gave up for a life of freedom in America.

. . . Come spring and with it man's dreams for the future. For the young adult who is searching for something that will give him an understanding to the problems of growing up and the responsibilities that go with coming adulthood, Judson and Mary Landis have written TEENAGERS' GUIDE FOR LIVING. This authoritative book should prove helpful for both young people who want a happy, more effective way of living, and parents who seek insight into teenage problems.

HAPPY SPRINGTIME AND GOOD READING TO ALL!

The coming of spring also means the time of year when nominations and elections of new officers are held in many Grosse Pointe organizations. This is a memo to all officers and program chairman to contact the Central Library, 10 Kercheval Avenue, in person or by telephone (TUxedo 4-2200) to inform the Library of any important events in your organizations, or to clear any dates tentatively planned for the coming months ahead. The Grosse Pointe Public Library maintains a calendar, consisting of a file of coming events in the community which is available to all persons and organizations interested in such information. Why not avail yourself of this new service whenever an important event is planned, or when setting up your programs for the coming year so that conflicts with competing activities of other groups for the same date may be avoided.

Planned Garden Pays Off Well

A "pencil and paper" vegetable garden can help you increase production and reduce waste, says Fred Widmoyer, extension specialist in horticulture at Michigan State University.

Have you ever had to waste a vegetable because too much of it was ready to eat at the same time? You can avoid this by sharpening your pencil and making a time schedule. Plan to plant some of the vegetable early and some later on.

For instance, plant only enough seed of crops like lettuce, radishes and spinach to provide the amount you can use in a short time. Then, after a few weeks, plant another lot which will be ready after you used the first harvest. Or, if the variety will not do well later in the season, plant other varieties that mature later.

As you do your armchair gardening, consider the height to which different seed varieties grow. Vegetables need full sunlight to produce well, so plan your garden so no crop will shade another. Plant tall-growing crops together and to the north of low-growing ones, suggest Widmoyer.

This kind of planning calls for a careful stury of seed varieties and must be done well ahead of planting time. You may find that you will need more seed and will have to spend a little more money. But these things pay off in greater satisfaction at harvest time.

Patrolmen Join Fraternal Order

The patrolmen of the Woods and Shores Police Departments recently joined the Grosse Pointe Fraternal Order of Police, Lodge 102, it was officially disclosed on Monday, March 31.

The Lodge was initially begun by Park patrolmen in January 1955, and, up to the acceptance of members from the Woods and Shores, the Park was the only department in the chapter.

Beginning Monday, April 7, Lodge 102 will hold its meetings at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club, where facilities were made available to the group through the efforts of Com. Charles Jacobson, an associate member of the FOP chapter.

The current president of the Lodge is Park Patrolman Arthur Conkin.

Rxs . . . or a Long Hospital Stay

By FRED M. KOPP, R. PH.

A prescription costs less — far less—than a single day's stay in the hospital. Today, in most cases, just one or two prescriptions are all that a patient needs to get well. But years ago, he would have had to go through a long, expensive session at the hospital. That's why we say:

Today's Prescription Is the Biggest Bargain in History

Letters to the Editor

To The Editor:—

Most of the fluffy, dyed chicks, ducklings and bunnies that are placed in children's Easter baskets never survive the mishandling and unnatural conditions to which they are subjected.

Sales of baby animals as novelties and playthings, fortunately, are on the decline and Detroit is one of the many cities that has a law prohibiting it. The Detroit ordinance reads: "It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to sell, offer for sale, barter or give away baby chicks, ducklings, rabbits or other fowls or pets as novelties whether or not dyed, colored or artificially treated."

As parents, don't patronize people who ignore this law or buy such animals in localities that do not have a law prohibiting it. Let's remember Easter is a holy day which should be observed with kindness and mercy toward all forms of life.

MRS. THOMAS J. DOUGLAS,
Publicity Chairman,
Anti-Cruelty Association,
12569 Joseph Campau,
Detroit.

To the Editor:

As a Republican precinct delegate in Grosse Pointe Farms, I have become increasingly disturbed, distressed and disgusted over the antics and pronouncements which have spewed forth periodically from those currently in control of Republican activities in the 14th Congressional District and who purport to speak for the Republicans in the District.

The handful who engineered the drive two years ago which placed the 14th in new hands and whose first interest seems to be in fighting and defeating Republicans, has been able to consolidate power and are now trying to stifle the voices of the majority in the District who are still proud to be known as "Eisenhower Republicans." We still regard the President with respect and affection and as probably the greatest asset the Republican party has had in recent years and fully entitled to our support.

The present small group in control in the 14th District, financed by R. V. A., seems committed to a rule-or-ruin policy which they hope to extend beyond the boundaries of of the 14th. Two years ago their barbs were directed primarily against those in positions of responsibility in the late Precinct Organization in the District. Some of us who had no connection with the Precinct Organization and were not too familiar with past history, were to some extent influenced by the repetitious mailings which went out en masse. It would have been better for the 14th if the Precinct Organization had answered these attacks at the time instead of keeping quiet in an apparent effort to minimize discord within the family.

Having taken over the 14th, plans were quickly developed for discrediting all Eisenhower Republicans. These plans were formulated and carried out while most of us were completely engrossed in the 1956 State and National Campaigns. More recently the criticisms are being directed toward the present state chairman and those associated with him who are trying to attract back to the party some of the voters who have been beguiled by Governor Williams.

In its letter of March 14, having statewide distribution, the 14th Congressional District Republcans Committee, over the signatures of Messrs. Baldwin and Durant, continues its drumfire of criticism against the state chairman, the state central committee, the U. S. Supreme Court, Senator Potter and his manager, President Eisenhower and his administration, and any others who are not ultra-conservatives.

The Honorable Fred M. Alger, Jr., whose name appeared on the 14th District letterhead, has quickly and publicly disavowed the slurs expressed in the March 14 letter. If the Republican Party is ultimately to return good government to Michigan and expand its representation in Congress, it is high time that others stand up to be counted against these continuing attacks.

I will appreciate very much the views of precinct delegates and others in the 14th District. I do not believe we can adopt the dodo as our trademark in even one district.

Sincerely,
Harold Daniels
Precinct Delegate
Precinct No. 7
Grosse Pointe Farms

Dear Sir:

I wish to commend the Grosse Pointe Woods Police Department and your paper for taking action against people who destroy others lawns and shrubbery.

A new house is being built close to me and for the past few months there have been about 50 cars and trucks turning each day in our drive. They not only turn over the lawns but have badly damaged our drive to the point where it is cracked and sunken.

The worst offenders seem to be the owners and builders. They should try to beautify, rather than destroy and molest, their future neighbors' places.

When I built my house a few years ago, my builder instructed the drivers not to turn in private driveways and they cooperated very well. The same also applies to children and dogs. Why do they not play on their own lawns and let their parents take the consequences?

I am not an old crank, as you may gather, but a grandmother with many nice well behaved children around and two dogs also well-mannered and kept in their own play yard. I was happy to know that the police will do what parents refuse to do. Hope the other Pointes will follow suit.

A Resident in Grosse Pointe for more than 40 years.

Grosse Pointe News

From Another Pointe of View

By Patricia Talbot

Spring, spring, spring—that's all you hear these days as Pointers blossom after a long cold winter and prepare to celebrate the vernal equinox and their offspring's vacation from the classroom.

Last week Carol and Skip Stephenson were the envy of their classmates because they left their books a week early to accompany their father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Shephenson on a nostalgic trip.

The quartet drove first to Marion, O., to leave small brother, Gary, with Mr. Stephenson's family and then began a leisurely drive to Texas. Mr. S. has been yearning to return to the Lone Star state since his Navy days when he was stationed there. The family will also visit Kentucky, Georgia, Florida and wind up at a Texas gulf resort to do some swimming and sunning.

Sea Island Vacationers

That jewel of a Georgia island, Sea Island, is always at its balmy best during the spring season and a group of localites have already left to take in its charms.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Johnson, Jr., with Chuckie, Sibby and Debby are there right now, leaving last Friday and expecting to stay through the two older Johnson children's recess from GPUS.

Also enjoying the GPUS spring vacation at Sea Island are Lisa and Allan Shelden with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Shelden III, of Provencal road.

The Wally Hoggsons, of Vernier road, are escorting their children on an educational tour during their vacation.

They are off this week for a visit to national historical shrines in Washington and Virginia with the climax of the trip Williamsburg.

In the Southland

Taking a respite from their children and domestic chores are Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Terry, of Cambridge road, and Mr. and Mrs. Michael P. O'Donnell, of Cloverly road.

The quartet are playing golf at Pinehurst in South Carolina. They will be back in time for the Easter parade.

Also sunning in the south is Mrs. George William Duffield who is visiting relatives in Florida.

Winging their way towards Florida last week were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fletcher, of Rivard boulevard. They were taking their children, Ben and Susan, to visit Mrs. Fletcher's mother in the citrus state.

After Easter Betsey will be returning with her sister to visit Wellesley.

The Hammonds will also be joined by Mrs. Hammond's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Harry F. Chapin, of Bay City. They will all have Easter dinner at the home of still another brother-in-law and sister, Mr.

Monteith Teachers to Stage Show

Practically the entire staff of the Monteith School will take part in the production "That's Show Biz", to be presented at the school on April 24 and 25 under the sponsorship of the PTA. Among those rehearsing for the show are, left to right:—MISS JEAN PALAZZOLO at the piano, MISS VIRGINIA BELANGER, MRS. IRENE ZUK, MISS MARGUERITE SHERMAN, MISS GLADYS KUEHN, MRS. DOLORES BRODERSEN and MISS JOYCE RESNER.

Staff at Monteith Plans Variety Show

Practically All Teachers at School to Take Part in "That's Show Biz", Sponsored by PTA And Set for April 24 and 25

At a Monteith School Faculty Pot Luck Dinner last November, the enthusiasm for impromptu entertainment by talented members of the school faculty gave birth to "That's Show Biz."

Director-composer, Jack Darvill, seeing all this talent, wrote an original Musical-Drama-Variety Show, the production of which will be presented for the first time on April 24 and 25, at the Monteith School Auditorium, curtain time 8 p.m.

This production includes almost the entire staff of Monteith. Tickets are available at the following merchants, for your convenience: Arnold Drug, 20853 Mack; Harkness Pharmacy, 20315; Punch and Judy Toyland Shop, 97 Kercheval, and Woods Drug Center, 19291 Mack, near Woods Theater.

The program is being sponsored by the P.T.A. and the wholehearted support is evidenced by the men of the P.T.A. who will go from door to door, in the neighborhood, on April 5, selling tickets so that you have the opportunity to share in this worthwhile project and have a truly entertaining evening.

Production coordinator Thelma Hyland's magnanimous job is to weld such talent as the "Goldnick Girls, the "Neverly Brothers" and the "Soft Shoe Crew" into compatible artists. Delma Champion, property manager, is in charge of costumes, and scenery is by Charlotte Gorning and Laura Gregory.

Some of the comments of those who were fortunate enough to attend advance rehearsals were:

"This is an adult variety show—but children are welcome" said the "Goldnick Girls" in unison.

The Neverly Brothers said, "You can see why everyone says it's great." Such original "No-Hit" tunes as "My Gal's a Beast," "Scratch a Match," and others are sure to catch your fancy.

"That's Show Biz" promises to be a sell-out.

Gardeners Win Awards

Our local gardeners have done us proud again at the Flower Show at the Fairgrounds. Mrs. Bert H. Wicking has come home with two top blue ribbons in the flower arranging class for large niches; (she insists we make this distinction as there are small niches, pedestals, tables etc. too).

Her first prize winner was an arrangement of fresh herbs from deep red oak to the pale blue gray of rue. Most of the herbs came from Mrs. W's own stunning gardens but she also gathered some from the War Memorial Trial Gardens which are now being dug up in preparation for the spring planting.

The other blue ribbon winner was in the cultivated evergreen class in which she used fresh white pine and boxwood in a burnished copper container.

Understand Mrs. Longyear Palmer, as usual, and Mrs. James Cope also brought home ribbons from the Flower Show.

Needless to say most couples will not be dressed alike. For instance according to the rhymed invitation Miss Maxwell favors Paris and her fiance, Timbucktoo.

On the Stella Polaris

Another travel note concerns the Barton F. Trails, of McKinley place who left last week to board the popular "Stella Polaris."

They will be cruising in Caribbean waters, going ashore at Havana, Cap Haitien, La Guaira, Curacao and Kingston, Jamaica. Boarding port was New Orleans, always a vacation treat in itself.

Valparaiso University Guild Meeting April 14

The April meeting of the Detroit Chapter of the Valparaiso University Guild will be at St. Thomas & St. Peter Lutheran Church on Fischer and Chapin Avenues on Monday, April 14. (Take special note of this date, because the usual 'first Monday' meeting has been changed this year due to the Easter olidays.)

The ladies of the church will entertain at luncheon at 11:30 a.m. and the meeting will follow.

Mrs. Otto Auch and Mrs. Ralph Jewell of the program committee have been fortunate in obtaining Mrs. Victoria Johnson, a Highland Park school teacher, who lectures on sacred art. She will point out each character and personality on the painting of "The Last Supper" by Leonardo daVinci.

The guild is planning a delightful afternoon on May 19 when a fashion show preceded by a smorgasbord dessert is to be presented.

Ensign and Mrs. Gerhardt Alois Hein on Wedding Trip To Virginia After Exchanging Nuptial Vows Saturday in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church

Wearing traditional white, imported satin, Rebecca Ann Patterson, daughter of Mrs. Frank H. Patterson, of Yorkshire road, and the late Mr. Patterson, was married Saturday afternoon in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church to Ensign Gerhardt Alois Hein, son of Alois Hein, of New York, and the late Mrs. Hein.

Her wedding gown, also worn by her sister, was fashioned with a portrait neckline, long sleeves and a formal court train. A cap of illusion held her heirloom rosepointe lace veil and she carried calla lilies.

Mrs. Kenneth McCoy was her sister's honor attendant in pale blue silk organza. She wore wreath of rubrum lilies and carried the same flowers. The bridesmaids, dressed like the matron of honor were Tara Fowler, of Hinsdale, Ill., and Barbara Keenan, of Hudson, O.

Rebecca McCoy, the flower girl, wore white organdy over blue taffeta and carried a small noseay of rubrum lilies.

Joseph Sofhauzer was the naval officer's best man and the ushers were Wilmer Bradbury, of Philadelphia, Pa.; Christopher Brauchli, of Oklahoma City, Okla.; Richard DeBolt and Kenneth McCoy. The bride's uncle, Emile Keenan, gave her in marriage.

Mirrors have a miserable habit of casting reflections on a man's best friend.

Men's Fashions

Time was when mention of stripes always brought to mind something along the lines of "A Fugitive from a Chain Gang." Today, however, stripes have a great meaning in men's wear.

Stripes, have long had a front-running place in men's neckties with regimental striped repps having a big play in Ivy League circles. A Harvard man would sooner slash his wrists than be seen without a striped repp tie as one way of identifying himself with that particular knowledge factory.

There must be a million stripe combinations in neckwear, and each season sees new combinations winning new friends. Instead of collecting stamps or coins, some men wax poetic about their collection of striped ties.

And where the stripes most always run from Northwest to Southeast, there have been a number of variations that have sparked up the proceedings and won new adherents.

The same applies in shirts, with better stripe combinations and cross-stripe patterns imparting a new look to the shirt picture. Some of the thin-line cross-stripes in men's shirts are believed to have originated with a fabric designer after continually seeing horizontal lines on his television set. Well, that's the way I heard it.

Ivy influence sport shirts and sport coats are also boosting stripes to a new high in both men's and women's wear. These are colorful yet muted in appearance as can be seen by strolling through your local Kilgore and Hurd. Yes, a man who has won his stripes has really moved to the top of the heap.

Big Green Glee Club to Sing

"Dartmouth's In Town Again . . ." will be the cry Friday night, April 4, when the Dartmouth College Glee Club arrives to present a concert at the Cranbrook School Auditorium in Bloomfield Hills, at 8:30 p.m.

The Dartmouth Glee Club is a singing group of 50 voices which dates back to 1869. The group has appeared on several television shows, including the Ed Sullivan Show and was seen in the Cinerama production "Cinerama Holiday." Last winter they presented a special concert at the White House for President Eisenhower and military and government leaders.

Their current tour, during the boys' Spring vacation, recalls the rigor of the old one-night-stand schedules. The group will have covered 16 cities in 19 days, from Bridgeport, Conn. to Omaha, Neb., by next Monday when they return to the Hanover hills. After Friday's concert in Detroit, they will sing in Cleveland, and finish in Syracuse Sunday night.

"Big Green" Pointers are planning to make a full evening of the Glee Club's appearance. "Skip" Weymouth, '54, has chartered a bus, to leave from the High School at 7:15, for the trek over to Bloomfield. Fellow rah-rahs Bill Howenstein, Bob Edgar, Tom Candler, Ed Isbey, Jim Flom, Jon Walton "& Co." will be among the active alumni joining in the fun.

Memorial Church Women to Gather

Association Luncheon Meeting on April 8 to be Featured by Illustrated Travel Talk by Mrs. Ben Beyer

Christian fellowship frequently begins in the kitchen, and many good friends have met over a bushel of spinach.

The above statement might well be Mrs. Edward Gehrig's theme song as she conscientiously plans monthly programs for the Women's Association of Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, and then relies on her luncheon chairman, Mrs. James Corfield, and her dining room chairman, Mrs. Walter Simmons, to see that each program meeting is preceded by a delicious luncheon.

Mrs. Gehrig has planned just such a pleasant day for Tuesday, April 8 at 12:30. The luncheon will be followed by an illustrated talk, "A Visit to Miraj on a Globe Circling Flight with Mrs. Ben Beyer."

Since this program will be given during Easter Vacation for many students, association members and women of the parish are invited to bring children and guests to the luncheon and lecture. Small children may be taken to the third floor nursery where they will be cared for.

Assisting Mrs. James Corfield and Mrs. Erwin Koning with the luncheon will be: Mrs. Philip Ash, Mrs. Arthur Bartholomew, Mrs. Edward Bunn, Mrs. John Denler, Mrs. Donald Droll, Mrs. John Kendall, Mrs. William Gorenflo, Mrs. Harold Quackenbush, and Mrs. Tade Walsh.

Assisting Mrs. Walter Simmons and Mrs. Walter McAdow in the dining room will be: Mrs. Fred Adams, Mrs. George Bolton, Mrs. Charles Glascoe, Mrs. Frank Lister, Mrs. Ralph Pulliam, Mrs. Lawrence Ruby, Mrs. Charles Sharrer, Mrs. Peter Tainsh, Mrs. William Thomas, and Mrs. William Watson.

Suzanne Gardner Wed in Palm Beach

Marries Frank Reynolds MacLear in the Church of Bethesda-by-the-Sea Saturday in Antique Ivory Satin and Rose Pointe Lace

Before a white flower-decked altar in the Church of Bethesda-by-the-Sea in Palm Beach, Fla. last Saturday, Suzanne Blake Gardner spoke her marriage vows to Frank Reynolds MacLear.

The bride is the daughter of former Pointers Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gardner, of Washington and Palm Beach. The bridegroom's mother is Mrs. A. A. MacLear, of New York.

For her marriage the bride wore an ivory satin gown with a train accented with rose pointe lace. A rose pointe lace cap held her long illusion veil and she carried a cascade of orchids, liles of the valley and white camellias.

Mrs. A. Britton Browne, the bride's sister, was matron of honor with Mrs. Arthur W. Gardner, of Washington; Margaret Moore, of New York; Emily S. Gongaware, of Westerly, R.I.; Ann Taylor, of Boston, and Anna Maria Barraque and Clelia Campilli, of Havana, as bridesmaids.

They were gowned in dusty pink peau de soie with matching slippers and large maline hats. Their bouquets were of pink comellias.

Arthur Wendell Gardner, the bride's brother, was best man. Seating the guests were A. Britton Brown, of Washington; Maurice Selinger, Jr., of Washington; Carleton Mitchell, of Annapolis, Md.; A. Howard Fuller, of Hartford, Conn.; Bradley Noyes, of Marblehead, Mass.; Robert Symonette, of Nassau; James Crawford, of New York; Richard Bertram, of Miami; Juni Beebe, of Cohasset, Mass., and William Powers, of New York.

Mrs. Gardner received guests at the family's Ocean boulevard home following the ceremony in a taffeta frock printed in a soft blue and beige rose pattern. Her small beige hat was of veiling and she wore beige spray orchids.

Mrs. MacLear was in a lavendar and amethyst gown of printed chiffon with mauve orchids.

Among the Grosse Pointe residents attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Anderson, Mrs. Wesson Seyburn, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick M. Alger, Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Morrison, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Kanzler, Mr. and Mrs. Harley Earl, Mr. and Mrs. C. Harold Bliss and Mr. and Mrs. Harold R. Boyer.

Bonnet Takes Shape In Time For Easter

—Picture by Fred Runnells

With the Easter parade rapidly approaching, the nimble fingers of MRS. SIDNEY MARSH, of Hollywood, Grosse Pointe Woods, fashion one of her original creations before the eyes of her daughter SUSAN and son JOHN. The art was learned in the millinery class conducted by the Grosse Pointe Community Services.

Engaged

Dr. and Mrs. Edward Koerber, of Briarcliff road, announce the engagement of their daughter, ANN MARIE, to Arnold Jerome Diesing, son of the Arnold Diesings, of Lennon road.

She attended the University of Detroit and he is studying at the Detroit Institute of Technology. The bridegroom-elect is vice-president of the Grosse Pointe Junior Chamber of Commerce. They have set a June 21 wedding date.

A fellow can hardly expect to get very far ahead if he is continually looking backward.

Seek Volunteers For Red Cross

Mrs. J. Dwyer Kinnucan, chairman of volunteers, Detroit Red Cross, announces that recruitment for volunteers in the chapter's 10 services will be continued until the organization of classes for the new recruits is completed. Service chairmen are arranging schedules for orientation classes which preceed the assignment of new volunteers to duty.

"We are particularly happy with the number of younger women who have become Red Cross volunteers in recent months," Mrs. Kinnucan said. "Many women have to budget their time to allow for community service and choose Red Cross because of the variety of skills and interests represented in our services.

"Also, the hours during which they can serve are flexible. Women whose family responsibilities have lessened often find they have time for outside activities and are glad to find a useful place in Red Cross service. Women are very conscious not only of the service they render but the savings they effect in Red Cross expenditures.

"Figures released by the American National Red Cross show the tremendous work done by volunteers makes it possible for each $5 of cash contributed actually to accomplish $30 worth of service. There are still many openings for those interested in becoming Red Cross service volunteers."

Mrs. Kinnucan suggested prospective volunteers call WO 1-3900 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. each weekday to arrange interviews with service chairmen.

If I have learned anything it is that pity is more intelligent than hatred, that mercy is better even than justice, that if one walks around the world with friendly eyes one makes good friends.

Lanes Honor Coast Guests

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Lane, of Oxford Road, honored their house guests, the Keith Otterbeins of Arcadia, Calif., last week with a cocktail fete in their home, the group then going to the Detroit Athletic Club for a dinner party and dancing.

The Otterbeins, en route to Florida, stopped here for a Thursday to Saturday reunion arranged by the group. They had all been classmates together at Highland Park High School some years back.

Also here for the get-together were the Jack Keillors of Minneapolis, formerly of Detroit, who were week-end guests of the Eugene F. Smiths, of Dearborn.

The others were Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Hicks of Holiday road, the James Carmans of Ann Arbor, and the Robert Koshts.

The Smiths entertained at an early cocktail and dinner party in their Dearborn home Saturday before the Otterbeins took their departure on a 10 o'clock plane for Florida.

For true happiness lay by a little sunshine for a rainy day.

A great many people are not satisfied to kill time unless it belongs to someone else.

All things may come to those who wait—but they are apt to come from the discard.

Coterie Plans Easter Dance

Coterie is giving the married crowd a chance to show off their Easter regalia at a dance at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center, 32 Lake Shore road this Saturday night, April 5 at 9 o'clock.

Marking the end of Lent and the beginning of the spring season the officers of Coterie expect a large attendance. As always they look forward to welcoming new faces and encourage those who have been regular patrons to form parties and bring guests.

Urge Families Plan Together

Every member of your family should have an active part in planning and carrying out family activities, says Carol Morris, Michigan State University extension specialist in home management.

When you make family plans together, everyone has a chance to express his views and understand those of others. Planning together usually results in more workable plans, according to Miss Morris.

You can do your planning at the time that suits your family best. For some, this might be at the supper table or whenever a problem comes up; others have regular meetings to discuss their plans.

Your children should participate in family planning too, Miss Morris points out. If they are young, discuss things with them at a level they can understand. Whatever the age, they will probably be more interested in doing than planning.

Your family planning affects the way things are done. The family members who help with the work should have a voice in making decisions that affect working, she adds.

The HAROLD HOREN family are important savers at STANDARD FEDERAL

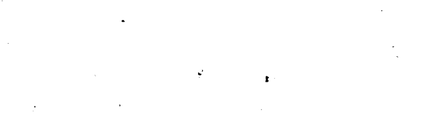

"The habit of thrift isn't inherited," says Mrs. Harold Horen of 14044 Longacre, "it must be learned. Mr. Horen and I have always made saving an important part of our budget and we have taught our children the value of thrift. Standard Federal's nearby office and helpful savings services really help to make saving easier for everyone in our family."

The two paper routes managed by Bob, 11, and Jim, 16, provide these active youngsters with spending money to meet their needs, plus a generous amount to add each week to their savings accounts.

Baby sitting is the main source of income for the girls, Pat, 14, and Evelyn, 12. Saving is important to them, too. Each week they set aside a certain portion of their earnings for their savings accounts at Standard Federal.

Standard Federal's many conveniences, easy passbook way of saving and current high rate of three percent are just a few of the reasons why the whole Horen family likes saving at Standard —and why you will, too!

You, too, will find it's easier to save at STANDARD

Puppeteers to Act With Symphony

Detroit Puppet Theater will Stage "Billy the Kid" Saturday at 11 O'Clock for Symphony's Young People's Concert

Many Pointers will be escorting their offspring to the Ford Auditorium Saturday for the 11 o'clock performance of the Detroit Symphony's Young People's Concert which will feature the Detroit Puppet Theater's "Billy the Kid."

Valter Poole will conduct this final concert in the popular series and included on the program will be Mendelssohn's Overture, "Fingal's Cave," Tchaikovsky's Waltz from "Serenade for Strings" and Berlioz' Hungarian March from "The Damnation of Faust."

Fourteen eight to 15 foot high puppets were created by George Latshaw, well known puppeteer from Akron, Ohio, for this unusual mime production based on Sheriff Pat Garrett's account of outlaw Billy's life.

Each figure is operated by two puppeteers garbed and hooded in black to create a cloak of invisibility. Gil Oden, curator of Theatre Arts of the Detroit Institute of Arts, produced the show.

The Detroit Puppet Theatre is a function of the Institute co-sponsored by the Detroit News. A full year of preparation went into the production of "Billy the Kid" which played to a sold-out house of parents and children at its first performance March 15.

The puppeteers were recruited from the Junior League of Detroit, Cass Technical High School and the Detroit Institute of Arts Youth Theatre Workshop. The concert is one of a series sponsored by the Junior Leagues of Birmingham and Detroit, the Women's Association and the Junior Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

Among the local Junior League members manipulating the puppets for this morning concert will be Mrs. John W. Hughes, Mrs. James Buckley, Mrs. Robert Megowen, Mrs. James G. Morrison, Mrs. James C. Phelps and Miss Ann Kirk Haggarty.

Miss Verner Feted at Show

Greater Detroit area celebrated the "Salute to Women Who Work" week and paid tribute Monday night to 10 outstanding women in business by presenting an elaborate "Springtime" fashion show at the Henry and Edsel Ford auditorium.

Miss Lois Verner of 786 Harcourt, Grosse Pointe Park, the first woman chosen from Ford Motor Company in the third annual competition, was introduced at the show by John S. Bugas, vice president-industrial relations for Ford.

The contest to pick the top 10 working women was held in conjunction with the annual program sponsored by the Central Business District Association. Jeanne Schurr, chairman of the Girls Clubs program, presided over the show.

Mr. Bugas told a capacity audience of nearly 3,000 that the program "gives us as employers, a chance to express formally the respect and admiration we hold for you and all of the other women who contribute so much to the work of business and to the other activities in which you are engaged."

"Just as in all other walks of life, women in industry are steadily achieving greater recognition and greater responsibility," Mr. Bugas said. "Certainly that is true in our company, and I believe it will be increasingly true as time goes on."

Scores of the latest fashion creations were modeled for the "Springtime" audience, with Mary Morgan, of radio fame acting as commentator. Abigail Van Buren, noted women's writer, Somethin' Smith and the Redheads vocal group and Warney Ruhl's orchestra also provided entertainment.

HOUSEHOLD HINT

Try Blue cheese garlic bread for a treat the next time you serve spaghetti. To make it, mix equal parts of Blue cheese and butter—about ¼ cup of each. Add ¼ to ½ garlic clove, minced, or garlic salt to taste. Slice Italian or French bread diagonally, not quite through the bottom crust. Spread one side of each slice with the cheese-butter mixture. Heat the loaf in a hot oven—400 degrees—for about 10 to 15 minutes or until it's hot and crusty.

Republican Women Meeting April 10

Pointe Club to Hear Elizabeth Churchill Brown Speak At Luncheon Session to Be Held in Memorial Center

The speaker for the April meeting of the Women's Republican Club of Grosse Pointe, which will be held at 12:30 on Thursday, April 10, at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial will be Elizabeth Churchill Brown, whose subject will be "Woman's Place Is Under The Dome."

Mrs. Brown is the wife of Constantine Brown, noted syndicated columnist on world affairs for the Washington Evening Star. She is also a newspaper woman in her own right, having served on the staffs of the New York Evening Journal and the Washington Post, as well as a news bureau representing several Texas newspapers. She is a member of the National Women's Press Club and the American Women's Press Club.

She is the author of the 1956 best seller, "The Enemy at His Back," in which she reviews our foreign policy during the war years and offers fresh evidence that much of it was maneuvered by persons friendly to Soviet Russia.

"Human Events" recently published an article written by Mrs. Brown called "Women's Place Is Under the Dome." This was an analysis of why women should be in politics, what they can do there and how they can do it. The article received acclaim from women's clubs across the country and is the subject of Mrs. Brown's talk on April 10.

Luncheon will be served at 12:30 in the main reception room of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial followed by the meeting at 1:30 in the library. Mrs. Irving Ingraham, president of the club, reminds everyone desiring to attend that reservations must be made by noon of Tuesday, April 8, by telephoning Mrs. Fred Kaess at TU 4-5373 or Mrs. Henry E. Bodman II at TU. 1-6511.

Voluntary Services Group To Hold Meeting April 8

The American Women's Voluntary Services, Detroit Metropolitan Unit, will hold its regular monthly meeting on Tuesday, April 8, at the Detroit Boat Club in Belle Isle.

Reservations must be made for the luncheon. Call TU 5-3428.

Little League Baseball

The Grosse Pointe Farms Little League players will register at Kerby School at 7:30 p. m. April 17 and 18. The League board of directors has listed the teams and playing schedule for this season.

In the Class C International League there will be four teams including Buffalo, Richmond, Syracuse and Rochester. These teams will include nine and ten year olds.

The Class AAA Pacific Coast League will have six teams, namely Seattle, Denver, Hollywood, Sacremento, San Diego and Portland. The class AAA teams will include eleven and twelve year old boys and some of the more experienced ten year olds.

As in the past, there will be two major leagues, each with four teams. The American League includes the Red Sox, Indians, Yankees and Tigers; while the National League has the Giants, Pirates, Phillies and Reds.

The major league players are selected with points allotted to the respective managers by bidding in auction. It is therefore important that the boys show their abilities at the try-outs to be held on April 19 and 26 and May 3.

The triple A and class C managers will also be on hand at tryouts for their player selections which will be made following the major league auction.

All Major and Triple A League games will have official umpires and the Class C games will be umpired by the major league managers and members of the board of directors.

GROSSE POINTE PARK

The 1958 Baseball season was officially opened on Monday, March 24 with the fifth annual General Meeting at Trombly School for the Grosse Pointe Park Little League. Present were aproximately 150 eager young Little Leaguers and their parents.

President Ed Scallen opened the meeting with a brief outline of the aims and purposes of Little League in the Park. He described the growth in the number of participants as well as the physical plant, and thanked the members for their support in the past.

He then introduced the members of the board of directors, and turned the meeting over to them to present their program. The new board consists of Dick Miller, secretary; Paul Short, treasurer; George Schultz, vice-president; and Vince Cerutti, Joe Kingsley, Karl Sims and Doug Jones.

Secretary Dick Miller announced the opening of registration and stressed the urgency for the prompt return to him of registration forms. He pointed out that each boy must have his parents sign a waiver form before the boy can play baseball. Registration blanks have been available at most of the schools in the area and will be available up to try-out time.

George Schultz has released the try-out schedule which will begin Saturday April 12 and continue for two consecutive Saturdays. This year the try-outs have been arranged so that age and birth date determine the time to report. Boys 9 and 10 whose birthday falls between the 16th and 31st day will report at 9 a. m., April 12. At 1 p. m. on April 12 all boys whose birthday falls between the 1st and 15th will have their try-out.

On April 19 all boys 11 and 12 will report at 9 a. m. At 1 p. m. all boys 9 and 10 years old from the Southern Conference will report for their tryout.

The final day, April 26, will be the second round for all boys 11 and 12, and the 9 and 10 year olds from the northern conference. This trial is set for 9 a. m.

GROSSE POINTE WOODS

"We need manpower" is the call from the Woods-Shores Little Baseball League as it gets set to open spring drills to select the teams for its numerous divisions.

The need is even greater than ever before with the expanded program in those communities this year. Actually, you don't have to be a Casey Stengel to become a manager or coach but a love of the game and working with and developing youngsters is a prime requesit.

The growth of Little League Baseball in all of the Pointes over the years can be traced to dads who have been willing to sacrifice their valuable spare time. It is natural for most men to lose the personal touch with the team and league they worked in once their youngster has out grown the Little League. In many instances dads have carried on in the older Babe Ruth League when their sons move up. Because of this there are many openings to be filled.

The Woods-Shores League has scheduled a meeting to be held at Parcells School on Thursday, April 10, at 7:30 p.m. and invites all men who might be interested in becoming a manager or coach of one of the Collegiate League teams which is made up of boys from eight to twelve years old.

Anyone interested and desiring more detailed information may call Bob Coe at TU 1-9215 any evening.

How Mitzi Got Coveted Role

Although every female star in the United States and many other countries asked for the role of Nellie Forbush in Rodgers and Hammerstein's "South Pacific," produced in the new Todd-AO Process, and opening at the United Artists Theatre on Wednesday, April 9, Mitzi Gaynor landed the role quite by accident.

Mitzi Gaynor went to see Director Joshua Logan in the hope of getting the role of the Japanese girl in "Sayonara." Before she could say a word, Mr. Logan said: "I presume you're here about the part of Nellie. I know you can act and you can dance, but can you sing?"

Mitzi sang "There's No Business Like Show Business," and "Cockeyed Optimist." Mr. Logan was so impressed, he promptly rushed her to Richard Rodgers' apartment to repeat her performance.

Oscar Hammerstein was in Australia seeing the Olympic Games, and would be in Hollywood for one day on his way back to New York. When he arrived, she sang for him in the Crystal Room in the Beverly Hills Hotel. The room was huge, it was bare and cold as a morgue that afternoon. She kicked off her shoes when she sang "Cockeyed Optimist." Only her accompanist, and Jack Bean, her husband, were in the banquet room. Mr. Hammerstein thanked her for being a good sport, and left for New York. Even Logan didn't show his reaction at that time.

Weeks after came a request for her to record the numbers. Mitzi was then working in "The Joker Is Wild" at Paramount and rushing to MGM for wardrobe fittings for "Les Girls."

Again a few weeks silence; a request to re-record the numbers in a slightly faster tempo, and then, at last, a printed rumor in Variety to the effect that Mitzi Gaynor was top choice for Nellie Forbush. All through filming of "Joker Is Wlid" and "Les Girls" she rehearsed with an accompanist for "South Pacific."

Thrilled at the role she dreamed of doing but never dreamed of even asking for, she does her highly talented best by 'Nellie' in "South Pacific."

Kids to Visit Goodwill Plant

An opportunity for 1500 children to observe how handicapped workers at Goodwill Industries make the most of their abilities will be afforded them Tuesday, April 8.

It is the annual Youth Day at the main Goodwill plant at 6522 Brush. Tours will be continuous from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Guides from Wayne State University's Pan Hellenic Council and Interfraternity Council will supervise the tours.

All youth groups in the area are invited, but must be accompanied by their leader. As in past years, Goodwill has arranged for interesting and educational tours of the workshops with refreshments and souvenirs as added attractions.

Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Campfire Girls, church youth groups and similar organizations have made this open house at Goodwill an annual event.

It offers a chance for teenagers and sub-teenagers to receive the lesson in practical education as supplement to formal education of the schoolroom. Goodwill shows what can be done by anyone toward helping themselves when adversity strikes.

One also observes first-hand the good that can be done by helping others.

Youth Day is a forerunner of Goodwill Industries Week, May 4-10, a week set aside to remind the public that their discards mean jobs and training to thousands of handicapped persons throughout the country.

Burglar Loses Portion of Loot

The burglar who forced his way into the Roesch McKnight Furniture Store, 19435 Mack avenue, on Wednesday, March 26, left some blood and part of his loot at the scene.

The burglary was discovered by A. G. Dupuis, a salesman of the store, who opened the place Wednesday morning. The glass of the front door was smashed, and there were pry marks, possibly made by a crowbar, on the door.

As far as could be determined, the burglar grabbed $14.26 in halves, quarters, dimes, nickels and pennies. However, he did not get away with all of this—he dropped seven cents.

Band Members Receive Honors

Seven members of the Grosse Pointe High School band received high honors at the state Solo and Ensemble Festival held in East Lansing Saturday, March 22.

David Kalember earned a first division rating for his clarinet solo. His accompanist was Kay Wunsch. Libbi Zinn copped the same recognition for her saxophone solo. Libb's accompanist was Judie Henderson.

Second division ratings were awarded Dan Murphy, accompanied by Rick Axsom, for his trombone solo and to a clarinet quartet composed of Dave Kalember, Doddie Hall, Dave Jennings, and John Morrison.

All of these musicians had received first division ratings in the recent regional festival.

SPORTS POINTES

by FRED RUNNELLS SPORTS EDITOR

Sports Editor Replies To Cowardly Complainer

Normally, I ignore anonymous letters like the one I received about three weeks ago. But because this is the "in between" season, basketball is over and spring sports have not started, and the space is available I choose to answer this "gutless" complainer who is afraid to stand up and be counted.

The "ghost" writer accused us of inaccurate reporting and showing favoritism in the story of the Grosse Pointe-Wyandotte swimming meet in the Blue Devil pool this season. He or she, suggested I go back to my boat and turn the reporting over to the "fine high school reporters."

I would like nothing better than to have more time on my boat but unfortunately I have been unsuccessful in obtaining the services of the "fine reporters" except in a few instances when I had youngsters like Tom LoCicero of Austin, Pat Wright of St. Paul and Joe Fromm who was a gem way back in the late forties at Grosse Pointe High.

For the most part these so-called "fine reporters" can't be bothered with the time-consuming job of following a team through an entire season. But these "fine reporters" certainly fill the News editors' desk with copy with stories of their own choosing when they discover they need more column inches as the journalism class semester approaches its climax.

The clipping of the Grosse Pointe - Wyandotte story had little notes on the margin. The first complaint was the fact I devoted only one and a half column inches to the record breaking performance of the Blue Devil medley relay team which set a new pool and school record. Also the fact two of the boys named on that team were wrong.

Our "ghost" failed to note that all winners in the 10 event meet received mention for their efforts and a complete summary accompanied the story.

The fact two of the names on the record breaking relay team was wrong can be traced directly to the carbon copy of the original official scoring sheet which Coach Paul Wheeler provides us with after each meet.

In this case the youngster who wrote in the names and kept the official sheet made a mistake, and understandably so. That time the Devils entered two teams and the one that cracked the record was an exhibition team and didn't count in the final results. Incidentally, the Devils' team that did count finished second to Wyandotte in the event, or we should say third in a three team race.

The next complaint was over so-called favoritism which consumed two and a quarter column inches. Our "ghost" claims I devoted this much space to the 100 yard Butterfly event because the winner was the son of a friend of mine.

True, Mike Grow's dad is a friend of mine but if I avoided writing about people who are my friends I would be hard pressed for copy as I have hundreds of friends in the Pointe. The "ghost" also claimed Heath Boyer, the other Blue Devil contestant in the event, "pulled up when he saw Wyandotte couldn't possibly win and let Mike win "so he could annex the remaining required points for his school letter."

We checked with Boyer and asked "In the Wyandotte meet did you pull up in order to let Mike win?"

Boyer was incensed at the question and emphatically stated "No, I wouldn't let anyone beat me if I could help it." He continued "That was my first meet since my illness which kept me out of the four previous meets and I had only practiced twice that week prior to meeting Wyandotte." Coach Wheeler confirmed Boyer's statement.

While we had Coach Wheeler we asked "Do you think for the most part I have given your team good coverage in the News?" To this Wheeler replied "You have given my team as good a coverage as I could have expected from ANYONE." He continued "If there were any mistakes it can be traced to two things; a mistake in the official scoring sheet or a typographical error over which I know you have no control."

One thing I know for sure. I have one reader, (the ghost), who will read every line of copy in hopes of finding other errors in the future. That's what I like, readers, critical or otherwise.

Unfortunately, I have dignified an anonymous letter, which I usually reserve for people who have the courage to sign their name to a controversial complaint. I welcome constructive criticism, as none of us are perfect and if the mistakes are pointed out it helps me in future articles.

I hope the "ghost" comes out in the open because I think he must spend some time around the water because he appears to know my sailing buddies. If this is true I wish the "ghost" laborious boating in a leaky boat in the coming season.

Records Fall In Pin Loop

Records in the Grosse Pointe Businessmen's Bowling League took a beating last Friday, March 28, the most notable being Jim De Smedt's new high single game of 247 which paced Larry's to a four point win over Wigle. This was the only four point victory of the night but it helped Larry's to move into a two-day first place tie with Goebel.

Sixth place Woods helped create the first place tie when it nailed Goebel for three points and established a new three game team high of 2778. Even in losing Goebel broke the old three game team series, which it held, with a 2748. Norm Boarman paced the Woods team with a 656 three game series which was the second highest individual series of the season. The Woods team also tied the second high team single game with a 656 effort.

In other games Belding beat Revere, Cramer bested Adam Simms and Cox and Baker whipped G. P. Recreation. All winners held a 3-1 margin.

Norm Boarman paced the two-hundred plus keglers with games of 233, 221, 202 and was followed by Jim DeSmedt's record 247; Ray Regner 242; Gaines King 236; Clarence Miller 232; Swede Janson 224; Bruce Warren 214; Mel Young 203; Doc Henderson 203 and Ben Fox 201.

Church League To Fete Champs

The Grosse Pointe Inter-Church Basketball League will hold its annual banquet on Monday, April 14, at the Grosse Pointe Congregational Church, it was announced by League president Harold B. Lee.

The program will include the award of individual and team trophies which were won by the senior and junior teams of the host church.

The guest speaker will be Blue Devil coach Howard MacAdam who will be accompanied by Grosse Pointe High's new principal, Jerry Gerich.

Coach Lew Slater and Minard Mumaw are the co-chairmen of the banquet who request all reservations be sent to resident Lee at 2001 Stanhope, Grosse Pointe 36, before April 9.

Opening of the new Undergraduate Library has sharply increased use of books by University of Michigan students.

Club Cage Loops Go Into Finals

Excitement has been the keynote in the Midget and Giant League games at the Neighborhood Club the past week. VFW and Metro in the Midget League set the pattern in a thrilling contest won by VFW in the closing second 18-17.

The first half was all VFW as they led 10 to 2. The Metro youths missed shot after shot. The ball would circle the rim of the hoop and the rebound would be picked off by VFW.

The story changed in the second half as the ball started to drop for Metro. The score was tied with two minutes to play. With forty-five seconds remaining in the game VFW caged a field goal making the score 16-15. Metro's Dick MacLeod turned the tide in favor of his team with a basket with only 15 seconds remaining and the crowd on its feet. The stage was set for Bob Gierman, VFW star, to shoot a long one handed set shot from the twenty-five foot mark with three seconds to play. The crowd went wild after this shot.

Rotary, tournament favorites after completing the season undefeated, had little trouble handing Optimist, defending champions, their first defeat of the double elimination tournament. Rotary led all the way with Vic Dhooge's 11 points making him the game's high point leader. He was closely followed by team mates Sam McKnight and Butch Trevillian scoring 8 points respectively. Brian Schick and Bill Connolly paced the Optimists with 10 and 8 points.

Grosse Pointe Park Celtics outclassed Grosse Pointe's Eagles 66-34. The Celtics, winner of the league championship, had been dumped by the third place Grosse Pointe Falcons in the first game of the tournament. They were determined the last place Eagles were not going to upset them and put the team out of the two game elimination tournament. Tom Gutow's 25 points were high for his team. High man for the losing Eagles was Ron Oberski's 16 points.

Optimist and VFW fought for the right to play Rotary in the final round of the tournament next week. Optimist handed VFW their second defeat by a 22-16 score. Bob Gierman paced the losers with 8 points. Mike Bielawski with the same total, was high for the winners.

Grosse Pointe Farms Lakers assumed the role of favorites in the Giant League. They made it two straight with a 47-41 victory over the Grosse Pointe Falcons. The Falcons have won the tournament for the past four years. The Park gave the ball game away in the first half when they managed to score only seven points.

Ken Stanley and Pete Bumpers led the Lakers in scoring with 13 and 16 point totals. Stanley was most effective inside and Bumpers scored consistently at long range. Paul Boesen's 12 points were high for the losers.

University Hospital, Ann Arbor, will soon complete a $2,000,000 remodeling of its food service plant.

Boat Banter

By Fred Runnells

"Now is the time for all good yachtsmen to come to the aid of the party." That line is as old as the typewriter but it is appropriate to this time of the year. The Detroit River Yachting Association is the "party" and it needs money to defray expenses for the coming regatta season.

Sustaining membership and boat registration blanks are in the mail and should be returned to Secretary William Connolly, 16738 East Warren, Detroit 24, Michigan at the earliest possible date.

Sustaining membership is two bucks and boat registration is three bucks. This boat registration should not be confused with the registration the State of Michigan tried to push through a couple of weeks ago. That bill is almost dead, so we've been told. The DRYA boat registration along with the sustaining membership fees pays for the mailing of the weekly regatta programs, the new race course buoys and bulletins issued from the DRYA.

The cost is plenty low for what you get so let's get those dues paid—RIGHT NOW.

The Detroit Yacht Club catboaters will officially open their weekly racing season on April 12 and will continue through June 1 during which time 14 races will be held. The only exception will be the weekend of May 10-11 when the DYC will play host to the Intercollegiate Invitational regatta. Saturday races will start at 11 a.m. and Sunday's at 12 noon. Connie Ott is the catboat race chairman and Nelson Bell is the catboat committee chairman.

And the ladies are not being forgotten. A couple of Pointe lady tars, Mrs. Robert Hesse and Mrs. William O'Reilly, are busily engaged in setting up a series of Saturday morning races which will be known as the "Ladies Dock Races" during April and May.

Pointer Carter Sales, our local globe girdling tar and national president of the Raven class, made a wise choice when he selected Bill Nagel, past commodore of Bayview Y.C., as editor of the Raven monthly newsletter.

The first publication just came off the press and it was a good one. Editor Bill started off with the quote "Thus I sat engaged in guessing, no syllable expressing, to the fowl whose fiery eyes now burn into my bosom's core." And then after a few hundred well chosen and humorous words, which included news from the fleets around the country, the letter ended with NEVERMORE. So, how else should you start and end a RAVEN article?

The local sailing fleet lost a good competitor when Chet Reynaud sold his Pilot sloop "Maybe II" to a Chicago sailor recently. This one we know for sure has been sold because the broker said "I have the commission check in my pocket." And he was right—the new owner was in town last week and plucked the craft right out of the middle of the fleet, stored at Bayview, with a mobile crane and trucked it to her new home port.

Hank Dunlap still maintains his Pilot "Albacore" is on the block. But Hank couldn't resist the nice spring weather last weekend and was down stripping the winter cover off in preparation for the laborious fitting out job.

* * *

Skip Grow and his "Querida" crew are really doing a job on the yacht at the Detroit Boat Basin this spring. "Querida" will have a new look about her too—a new and longer aluminum mizzen mast. More sail—go faster and that's what Skip wants this summer. He liked being Cruising B champion two years ago and appears out to regain the title and that's a man size order what with Bobby Ford's "Fleetwood," Llwyd Ecclestone's "Bikini" and Hank Burkard's "Meteor III" in the picture.

John Baumeister Wins In Club Pool Tourney

Thrilling matches by Willie Hoppe had nothing on the battle staged between John Baumeister and Bill Fildew in the final game of the Neighborhood Club's annual pool tourney on Friday, March 28.

Baumeister finally edged Fildew for the title in what club officials termed the best tourney ever staged by the club.

Hockey League Play-Offs Start

The Blue Devils and Warriors will clash in series "A" of the first round of the play-offs of the Ice Flair winter hockey league. The opening game will be played at 7 p.m., Saturday, April 5.

The Blue Devils trounced the Rockets 4-2 in a special play-off game Sunday, March 30, to determine the regular season champion. Paul O'Reilly fired three goals in a hat-trick effort for the winners while Bob Carlson collected both of the losers' tallies.

Earlier the same day the third place Warriors crushed the Golden Eagles 12-0 as Dennis Ribant went on a 7-goal spree. The win was the Warriors' eighth in a row, including two triumphs over the Blue Devils. Finishing the season five points out of first place after a disastrous start, in which they dropped six of their first eight games, establishes the Warriors as slight favorites to knock the Devils out of the post-season competition.

The second game of the "A" series will be played at 10 o'clock Monday morning, April 7.

Series "B" will pit the second place Rockets against the fourth-place Pointers, who held the third spot for most of the season until displaced by the Warriors' late rush. The opening game face-off will be at 4:30 Sunday afternoon, April 6.

Bill Cook of the Rockets banged home nine goals and four assists in the last two games of the campaign to earn the regular season scoring championship with 35 goals and 24 assists for 59 points.

Dave Cook, defenseman for the Blue Devils, finished second with 29 goals and 17 assists for 46 points. Ron Gouin of the Devils took third-place honors with 26 goals and 8 assists for 34 points.

84 Answer Call for Track As Devils Start Practice

Eighty-four track hopefuls answered Coach Howard MacAdams' first call for practice last week as the Blue Devils began drills to build a team to defend its Border Cities League title.

Twelve veteran cinder pounders saw preseason action in the Huron Valley Relays held last Saturday, March 29, at Eastern Michigan College.

Letterman Rem Purdy, fresh from the Devils' successful basketball campaign, served notice he will be a tough competitor during the BCL campaign by setting a new record in the mile run. Purdy covered the distance in 4:40.4 to clip three seconds off the old mark.

Pleased With Showing

Although other Devils didn't finish in the money Coach MacAdam was pleased with their showing so early in the season. John Derbyshire placed sixth in the shot put event with a toss of 46 feet. The Blue Devils entered three relay events, the 880, three-quarter medley and the two-mile relay and finished in the top ten. Twenty-eight schools participated.

Lettermen returning to this year's squad are: Bruce Boardman, Dennis Frank, Terry Donovan, Dick Knapp, Chuck Harris and Mike Fraiotta.

Jim Ogden, Kit Fisher and Hugh Delphs are veterans from the 1957 squad who just missed lettering and are counted on heavily this spring.

Newcomers Counted On

The quintet of Howard Harrison, Bill Halbert, Ron Harper, Tom Andris and Paul Balan, all newcomers, appear to have the inside track for places on the varsity, based on their early performances.

Sorely missed will be the graduated Todd Price who last year practically assured the Devils of 20 points every meet. Todd compiled a record 133 points during the 1957 season in his favorite events, the high and low hurdles, broad jump and high jump. It is in these events that Coach MacAdam will be forced to concentrate and figures if he is successful in finding replacements and another pole vaulter his team will have a good chance to repeat as BCL champions.

Alcott Won't Vault

Probably the second biggest blow MacAdam received came when veteran pole vaulter Paul Alcott announced he was not returning to competition this season.

Pre-season guess by Coach MacAdam is that Wyandotte will be the Pointers' biggest threat for the crown. He bases this opinion on the Bears' performance in the Huron Valley Relays.

The Devils will open the league season against the Monroe Trojans at home on Friday, April 18, and follow with a non-league meet against Pontiac four days later, also on the home track.

SPRING FEVER—If you're seven, there's just no way to keep your feet on the ground when winter gives way to spring. Obstacles are just things to be cleared at a bound, the way Kathy McCorkle wings along in Memphis, Tenn. The sparkle in her eyes tells better than any calendar that spring is here.

SPRUCE TREE—Getting rid of some personal foliage, this tourist on the outskirts of Rome leaves his car by the roadside for an early morning, outdoor shave. A piece of glass stuck to the tree trunk serves as a mirror as he spruces up.

AFFAIR OF THE HEART—Listening to her own heartbeat, seven-year-old Becky Reeves is attended by nurse Lona Shields as she awaits an operation in Children's Medical Center, Dallas, Tex., to repair a hole in the wall separating two chambers of her heart.

BUSINESS PARTNERS—Mary Pickford and her husband, Charles "Buddy" Rogers, talk over financial arrangements for the purchase of a radio station in Wichita, Kan. "America's Sweetheart" will be chairman of the board, while Rogers will serve as president.

DRESS PARADE — The long, lean appearance of a Buckingham Palace Guardsman gives a little girl a martial air in Kate Greenaway's red, white, and blue cotton chemise-look ensemble. Shiny brass buttons march down the front of the tunic, which tops a box-pleated skirt.

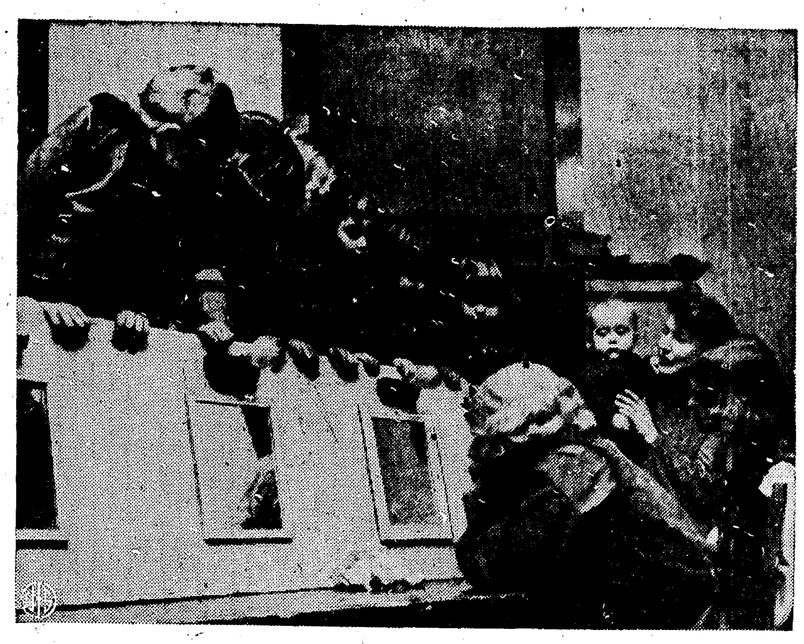

LARGE ORDER — Not all of this spring's hats will be the little head-hugging cloches. Jean Barthet of Paris departs from the formula to give us a broad-brimmed, deep-crowned bonnet that great-grandma might have worn. The old-fashioned picture hat is done in black tulle.

WAISTED EFFORT—Given the sack by current fashion dictates, the belt makes a rare appearance in this two-piece suit by Hubert de Givenchy of Paris. It's placed above the waist of a turquoise wool suit with a matching felt cloche.

REFLECTED GLORY — Puddles outside the Palais de Chaillot Museum in Paris provide a full-length mirror for the Eiffel Tower.

STANDING ROOM ONLY—Student actor Richard Wyman gets plenty of moral support from his favorite audience—his family—as he makes up for a play on the Duluth, Minn., campus of the University of Minnesota. The kibitzers are (left to right) Allan, 8; Ellen 6; Mary Ann, 5; Teresa, 4; Brigid, 3; Barbara, 2, and Patricia, 1, held by Mrs. Wyman, who's expecting another child. Wyman is studying for a master's degree in speech.

SCOOTER-MOBILE — Little motor scooters can grow up to be little automobiles, thanks to a new invention displayed in Paris. The car body can be adapted to fit any scooter, according to its inventor, Bernard Truffau.

TWICE BLESSED—Arthur Godfrey congratulates twins Robert and Raymond Short after the 28-year-old comedy-singing duo from Berlin, N. H., walked off with $5,000 and a week's booking on Godfrey's CBS morning show. They were first award winners on "Arthur Godfrey's Talent Scouts" show.

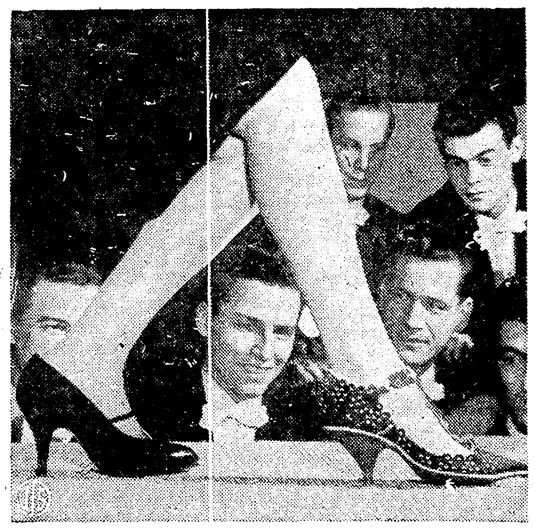

END GAME—Mama camel feeds Junior and still has time for nuzzling a visiting baby African goat. The animals are a part of a traveling circus performing in Rome, Italy.

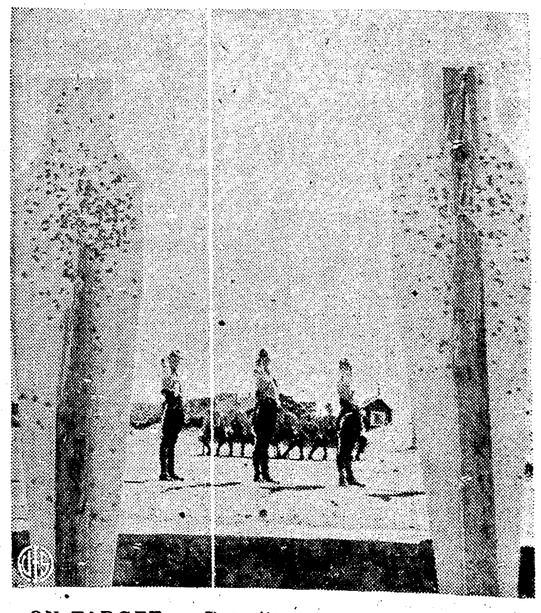

FOOT-OGRAPHY?—Shoot-yourself photography occupies these two youngsters, waiting for the shutter to click on their grounded camera. The girls, Catherine (left) and Penny Burgess, set the self-timer on the camera and ran in front of it for the shot at Rome Airport, where they stopped en route from Britain to Kenya with their parents. It looks as though they'll wind up with a nice picture of four feet.

IN MEMORY OF MILLER—When Wynne Miller, niece of the late band leader, Glenn Miller, took over the Daisy Mae role in the New York musical comedy hit, "Li'l Abner," her first well-wisher at the St. James Theater was Frank D'Annolfo, trombonist with the "Li'l Abner" orchestra who was a member of the original Miller band.

IF THE SHOE FITS . . . — Shoes that are somewhat similar although separated in time by more than 250 years get a close inspection at Offenbach, Germany. The pump at the left, made of black suede with a box calf tip, is the latest for 1958. At the right is a 1680 model, part of the collection at the Offenbach Shoe Museum.

ON TARGET — Recruits for the Royal Canadian Mounted Police riddle targets on the range at the RCMP Training School in Regina, Saskatchewan, Canada. Marksmanship is only one of the many skills to be mastered by men hopeful of becoming Mounties.

The exhibit is open to students of public, parochial and private schools. There will be a junior exhibit for students of grades seven through nine; and a senior exhibit, for those from grades 10 through 12.

Patrol Trip Announced

Automobile Club of Michigan today announced plans to send nearly 100 of the state's safety boys on a four-day all-expense trip to Washington, D.C., as a reward for their outstanding service to schoolmates.

Grosse Pointe will be represented by two youngsters to be selected from the city's safety patrol ranks within the next two weeks, according to Ernest P. Davis, Auto Club safety director.

"Members of our safety consulting staff will select the Grosse Pointe schools with the most effective overall safety program and they will then be invited to name their top patrollers," Davis said. "They will be the city's offical delegates to the 22nd AAA National Safety Patrol Rally."

The youngsters, from throughout the state, will meet in Detroit on May 8 and entrain for Washington. They will spend two full days in the Capital city meeting top government officials and seeing famous and historic sites. Climax of the annual rally is the march down Constitution Avenue of over 30,000 patrol members from across the country. The giant parade, which includes television and movie celebrities, is the largest held annually in Washington.

The Washington trip is sponsored annually by Auto Club to honor Michigan's 50,000 safety patrollers. More than 2,000 youngsters have made the trip since 1936.

Easter Seal Drive Lags

With contributions to the Easter Seal Campaign running behind last year, an urgent appeal for assistance was made this week by Willian J. Davis, Chairman.

The drive supports the work of the Detroit Society for Crippled Children at its therapy center, 17330 Schaefer; through its services to homebound crippled children and adults and its summer camping activity.

Last year's campaign raised $86,000. This year's goal is $125,000.

Davis said the returns so far are running about 30 percent under those received at the same time last year.

"However," said Davis, "there is plenty of time for the traditionally generous people of Detroit to put their Easter Seal drive over the top.

"We know that giving is a little harder for some this year, so we are urging those who can afford to give to be more generous than ever.

The final week of the campaign can mean success and that, of course, means continued care and the vital treatments that Detroit's crippled children and adults must have."

Contributions can be sent either in the envelopes mailed out with the Easter Seals, or by addressing an envelope to Easter Seals, Box 5139, Southfield Station.

Council to Hear Talk By Rashid

At 8 p. m., Monday evening, April 7, Circuit Judge Joseph J. Rashid will address the Grosse Pointe Council of Better Literature for Youth. His topic will be, "A Parent Views Indecent Literature."

The Council meeting will be held at the Central Branch of the Grosse Pointe Public Library, Kercheval and Fisher avenues.

Mrs. Jacob Wenzel, Council president, has extended a special invitation to all members of the Parent-Teacher Associations of Grosse Pointe, and to all parents and interested citizens to attend and participate in the discussion.

Mrs. Wenzel commented, "Judge Rashid is well known for his interest in the problems of young people, and he is well prepared to cite the effects of indecent literature upon the teen-age mind. As a father of seven children, he will be speaking 'parent to parent' rather than in his official capacity.

"Every parent is aware of the increasing threat that indecent literature poses to our young people, and Judge Rashid's talk should help us to gain a better understanding of the problem, and how to combat it."

Teacher Wins Scholarship

Miss Jean Campbell, teacher of foreign languages at Grosse Pointe High School, has been awarded a Fulbright scholarship for study abroad next summer, Superintendent James W. Bushong announced.

"We are extremely pleased for and proud of Miss Campbell", Dr. Bushong said. "The Department of State, which administers the International Educational Exchange Program, said that she was one of approximately 400 persons selected for teaching and participation in summer seminars abroad. The U.S. Office of Education recommended her appointment to the Board of Foreign Scholarships, members of which are appointed by the President of the United States, after screening thousands of applicants."

Miss Campbell has taught Latin and English at the Grosse Grosse Pointe High School since 1945. She earned her bachelor's degree from Michigan State Normal College now Eastern Michigan University, and her master's degree from the University of Michigan. Prior to coming to Grosse Pointe her home was in Gaylord, Michigan.

The purpose of Miss Campbell's grant under the Fulbright Act is to attend the Summer Seminar for American teachers of the Classics. She will attend the American Academy at Rome and the Virgilian Society of Cumae.

The funds used for carrying out the program are certain foreign currencies or credits owed to or owned by the Treasury of the United States. Under executive agreements with foreign governments, programs are now in effect with over 30 countries spread widely throughout the world.

Picture Council Lists Approved Movies

The Grosse Pointe Motion Picture and Television Council has especially recommended "The Enemy Below" on its list of Approved Movies for Children 8 Years and Up, during the month of April.

Recommended for children are the films "Away All Boats" and "Satellite in the Sky." In the teen-agers' category special merit is given "Big Beat" and "Return to Warbow."

Woods to Have Little Football

A group of interested Grosse Pointe Woods-Shores residents have organized a new little football team called Grosse Pointe Woods Little Football, Inc., and have recently applied for and been admitted to the All American Little Football League — a league currently composed of teams from 15 other Detroit area communities, including the cities of Grosse Pointe, Grosse Pointe Park, Grosse Pointe Farms, and St. Clair Shores.

All parents will have a vote for the board of directers of this team. All activities will be supervised by the board of directors and all managers and coaches will be approved by the board and the All American League Commissioner.

It is the intention of this group to find a way in which ALL boys ages nine through twelve who so desire may participate in Little Football. However, in order to do this and to make plans for the coming season, they must have an expression of interest at this time.

By Pat Talbot

He was a gaunt, sepulchral figure in his black robes, his only vanity, black silk stockings and the silver buckles on his shoes. His English was halting and broken and his lined face bore the ravages of persecution. To the population of Detroit in 1800, both French and English, he was a guide, an inspiration, a spiritual and political advisor and leader. To us he bequeathed a priceless heritage of education. He was Father Gabriel Richard.

The famed Catholic priest was born in France and became a member of the Sulpician religious order. He fled his native land during the French Revolution to escape persecution or death and came first to Baltimore. He was assigned to the Northwest Territory, with Detroit as headquarters in 1798, and came to the church, St. Anne's, at Randolph and Congress streets.

He immediately interested himself in education, tried to establish a ladies seminary, and with a Presbyterian minister, John Monteith, helped found the University of Michigan, of which the latter was first president. Monteith had seven of the first professorships and Father Richard, six, for which his annual salary was $18.75.

He traveled all over frontier Michigan, primary schools were founded in his wake. He went as far afield as Mackinaw and visited the Pointe in 1801, where he held Mass in one of the log chapels built by the French pioneers.

Father Gabriel brought the first printing press to Detroit in 1809, founded the first newspaper, "The Michigan Observer", and after a bitter partisan fight was elected to Congress in 1823, soon after he became a citizen. A furor was created by his campaign during which he was jailed for libel. The news of his successful election was brought to him in jail. In the nation's capitol he helped push through a bill for road appropriations. The highway between Chicago and Detroit was his work and is now US 112.

Through all his brilliant educational and legislative work he was a spiritual mentor to his parish, always serving and advising his flock. He died during the cholera epidemic September, 13, 1832.

The school which bears his name was built and occupied in September, 1930 between McKinley and McMillan. Fred Sutter was president of the School board then and a few of the famous Pointe school administrators who served with him were Charles A. Parcells, Charles Poupard, J. Lee Barrett and John R. Watkins. The French chateau building cost $400,000 and Clarence Messner, still principal, headed a staff of 20 which taught 390 pupils in the beginning days.

An item for the department of utter confusion concerns Ivy Leaguers Daniel W. Goodenough, Jr., Princeton man, and Daniel Goodnow, at Colgate. Both the freshmen's names sound exactly alike which makes for merry exchanges of mail, press notices and the like. The Princetonian is the son of the Daniel Goodenoughs, of Lothrop road, and the Colgate lad (just named to the swimming team) is the son of the Nathan Goodnows, of Handy road.

PILFERINGS

At a reception in Washington, a young man was asked by a widow to guess her age. "You must have some idea," she said as he hesitated.

"I have several ideas," he admitted with a smile. "The only trouble is that I hesitate whether to make you ten years younger on account of your looks, or ten years older on account of your brains."

Pointer of Interest

MRS. GEORGE HERBERT ZIMMERMAN

—Picture by Fred Runnells

By Jack Oliver

Let's begin with what meets the glance:

A small, very trim brunet with sapphire eyes and one of the most radiant complexions you'll see in a day's march, and to meet Mrs. George Herbert Zimmerman in the cool confines of her handsome drawing room in Kenwood road, you'd think she'd always led The Sheltered Life rather than being Grosse Pointe's Portia.

(This ability to file away problems and appear calm and composed to her family and friends is an enviable one, indeed. No evidence of the legal matters that take up so much of her time can be detected in the quiet, modest mien of this charming woman.)

As Mary Champion of St. Louis, she early decided the reading of law was just the right challenge and off she went to DePauw to get at it. Just 10 days after receiving her degree, she married and if some might have said, "Well, there goes a career . . . up in smoke," they have been forgiven.

Takes Exams Twice

Not so, however: not by a long-shot. The bride soon took the required examinations to permit her to practice in Annapolis and when, after a couple of years, they came on here to Detroit, she took the bar exams again, being admitted in 1933.

The Whittier was the Zimmermans' first home with stays in Yorkshire and Cloverly roads before they took over the big house in Kenwood in '35.

Four daughters and a son have been born to the couple: Doris (now Mrs. Andrew G. Bato); Elaine, (now Mrs. F. Rankin Peck, Jr.); Jessie, (Mrs. J. Daniel Hitchens); Georgia, (who made her debut last year and is a student at Manhattanville); and Louis, (currently home from his studies at Portsmouth Priory).

Despite her heavy schedule, Mrs. Zimmerman has managed to spend a good deal of time with her family. Since her entry into organizational work and her husband's retirement from Universal Credit to assume the duties of financial consultant, the Zimmermans have shared offices in the United Artists Building.

Both in "Who's Who"

(They're on the same page of Who's Who, too, we might add.)

Much travel in both Europe and South America is necessary in the work Mary Zimmerman finds so much to her satisfaction—the Council of the Inter-American Bar Association being just one. On many of these trips, one or more of the children have accompanied their mother.

Outstanding adjuncts to the formal drawing room in which we found Mrs. Z. are a group of exquisite needlepoint chairs which hail from Monte Carlo and are standing up beautifully under their 250 years.

Elsewhere are a series of the rare fore-edge books with delicate paintings as treasured by Mr. Zimmerman . . . not to forget some fascinating music boxes.

Have Winter Garden

Off this big room and the great hall is a room which was originally a terrace. Now glassed-in, it's the Winter Garden for year-round entertainment and commands a superb view of the lawn sand gardens.

The Zimmermans are a closely-knit family with much visiting back and forth and many interests.

No one following in mother's footsteps? The daughters of the house showed little interest and if there's anyone, it'll be son Louis and how much of a lure those college boards prove to hold.

At home, relaxation rarely includes the popular pastime of following TV or bridge, but there's a good deal of entertaining and the mutual memories of travels shared.

Terry Kuhns Going Abroad

The Terry W. Kuhns, of Lochmoor blvd., are anxiously awaiting the arrival of April 23, when they are scheduled to depart for a European tour.

They'll fly from New York City to Lisbon, and are to return the last week in May. Accompanying the Kuhns on the Grand Tour will be Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Grow and the H. O. McNierneys.

The neighbors are sending Mrs. Kuhn off with a round of parties. Mrs. Francis Dewey, of Lakecrest lane, honored her last Sunday with a brunch for 32 of her friends, and on Tuesday, April 1, Mrs. Elden C. Baumgarten feted her with a luncheon in her Lochmoor boulevard home.

Another well-wisher, Mrs. Jack Randall, of Deeplands road, will entertain at a luncheon next Wednesday, April 9.

Empire Daughters Plan Tour of County Building

The Princess Beatrice Chapter, Daughters of the British Empire, will meet at the New County Building Monday at noon for luncheon.

Following luncheon they will meet for a brief business session after which they will go on a conducted tour of the building.

Beware of a two-faced individual—his specialty is manufacturing bare-faced lies.

Mrs. C. Brooks Begg Earns Fish Citation

Mrs. C. Brooks Begg of 580 Lakeland avenue earned a citation in the Bahamas Winter Fishing Tournament for her barracuda catch, tourney headquarters announced in Nassau.

Mrs. Begg's barracuda, a 23-pounder, was hooked on light (15 pound test) tackle while trolling the waters near Harbour Island, pink-beached resort 60 miles to the north and east of this Bahamas capital.

The Michigan angler made her catch from the sports fishing cruiser Sora, with Capt. Kenneth Johnson picking the successful fishing spot.

The speedy, unpredictable barracuda is a game fighter and requires skillful angling before being brought to gaff. Barracuda are found in both shoal and deep water and strike many types of bait.
