HEADLINES

of the WEEK

As Compiled by the Grosse Pointe News

Thursday, June 12

SEARCHERS USING bulldozers, picks and shovels dug through the debris of a deadly tornado Wednesday, searching for bodies and clearing the streets of El Dorado, Kansas. The "short path" tornado hit the city almost without warning Tuesday night, killing at least 13 persons and injuring 57. Two other persons died in an automobile accident during the storm.

An official of the National Board of Fire Underwriters estimated damage from the twister and hail in excess of two million dollars.

Friday, June 13

A BILL ACCEPTING the Federal pattern of unemployment compensation extension was passed by the Legislature and sent to the printer Thursday night in Lansing.

Passage came after Republican opposition collapsed in a caucus at the beginning of the evening session. Within 90 minutes the Senate accepted it, 27 to 5, and the House approved it, 94 to 6.

The bill provides for extension of unemployment pay equal to half the benefits already received by idled workers who have exhausted their existing rights.

Saturday, June 14

THE WHITE HOUSE firmly refused to say Friday whether Boston industrialist Bernard Goldfine gave an expensive coat and valuable oriental rug to his friend Sherman Adams.

Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerly was definite, however, on two points: Adams has not handed in his resignation as No. 2 man at the White House, and President Eisenhower hasn't asked him to.

Adams, former New Hampshire governor, has acknowledged getting in touch with two Federal agencies on behalf of Goldfine and letting Goldfine pay his bills at hotels in Boston and Plymouth, Mass.

Sunday, June 15

APPROXIMATELY 100 Kroger supermarkets in Detroit and eastern Michigan closed Saturday because of a Teamsters' strike which shut off deliveries.

C. Olaf Tallia, a Kroger vice-president, said all stores in eastern Michigan were closing their doors as soon as they could sell most of their perishable food stocks.

Monday, June 16

PRESIDENT TITO accused Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev Sunday of insulting Yugoslavia and, to the cheers of 50,000, praised the United States.

Tito turned on Khrushchev for assailing Yugoslavia at the recent congress of the Bulgarian Communist Party in Sofia.

He declared the renewed Soviet bloc campaign against Yugoslavia's independent brand of Communism had worsened Belgrade's relations with Russia, the Eastern Communist nations and Red China.

Tuesday, June 17

EX-PREMIER IMRE NAGY and three associates in Hungary's 1956 revolt against Soviet rule have been executed, Radio Moscow announced Tuesday.

A Hungarian People's Court reportedly imposed the death sentences and ordered prison terms of five years to life for five other Hungarians as traitors.

Wednesday, June 18

TWO DETROIT POLICE OFFICERS were arrested Tuesday for a fantastically successful chain of bank and savings association holdups. The two patrolmen, attached to McGraw precinct, made a full confession of robbing 10 banks and loan associations over a four-year period. Their total loot was over $100,000.

More than $23,000 was recovered in the first two hours after the arrests. The FBI was called in on the case as evidence closed in on the two suspects.

Four Day Horse Show Opens Today at Hunt Club

All ready for the 47th annual Grosse Pointe Hunt Club horse show this weekend (June 19-22) are these excellent young riders from the club: (Top row, from left) JANE PRATT, KRYS GLANCY, JAMES FOR-

Symphony Concert Set For Sunday

Events Scheduled For 5:30 O'Clock Will Also Include Ballet Presentation

The Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association and the Grosse Pointe Symphony Society join in presenting a Sunset Symphony and Ballet on the Center's lakeside terrace at 5:30 p.m. this Sunday, June 22. In case of rain the performance will be held the following Sunday, June 29, at the same time.

Symphony President, Thomas LoCicero, together with Miss Camela Ayres and Mesdames Robert Armstrong, Winfield Jewell, Reginald Murphy and Gerald Stoetzer have been working hard to arrange for a charming and flawless performance. Helping direct the crowd as ushers will be Dan Hall, Anthony Jossens, Bob Krawczak, Mike Miller, Dan Shanoski, Bill Sexauer and Dave Verbeke, who are Boy Scouts from Troops 85 and 546.

The symphony will be conducted by Henri Nosco and the program will be highlighted by baritone soloist James Fitzsimmons and two selections in which a ballet group will join the orchestra.

LARCENY REPORTED

Mrs. Robert Grow, of 154 Touraine, informed Farms police on Saturday, June 14, that someone broke into her garage and stole a 30-foot aluminum ladder, valued at $75.

New Ordinances Concern Both Fire and Fire Water

The Farms council on Monday, June 16, adopted two ordinances designed to put teeth into enforcement against minors purchasing or being in possession of alcoholic beverages, and the city's fire safety regulations.

With the adoption of the Alcoholic Beverages - Minor Ordinance, minors arrested for purchasing, or being in possession of beer or other alcoholic beverages, can be prosecuted in the Farms municipal court.

According to City Attorney Thomas Tilley, minors arrested by Farms police for violation of this law, which is regulated by the State, more often than not got away with it when the Wayne County Prosecutor's Office refused a warrant for prosecution.

Grosse Pointe Hunt Club's 47th Annual Horse Show Getting Underway Today

Many of Country's Finest Animals Promise Keen Competition in All Events during Four Days of Contest

All the many plans and preparations various committees have been struggling with for many weeks will be put to the test when the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club's 47th Annual Horse Show gets underway today.

Spirited rivalries are promised in all events as the contestants vie for top honors in the many events that feature the show which will be held on the club grounds located in Cook road south of Mack avenue and a half mile east of Moross road.

Opening Day Free

Admission is free on opening day, Thursday, June 19, when the Junior competition will be held. General admission will be charged on the remaining three days. The spectacular show is open to the public.

Good sportsmanship is a proud tradition at the Hunt Club show. Yet the urge to excel is still the goal that produces so many notable efforts, year after year. Insiders predict that this year the competition for the major titles will be exceptionally keen. Among the 350 entries are many of the country's best horses in all classifications.

Johnny Wallace will bid for his second straight jumping title with the big bay, "Mountain Breeze." Wallace began winning jumping honors eight years ago and he says that Mountain Breeze gets better every year.

He will have to be good, however, to turn aside the challenges of such jumpers as Mrs. Robert Haass' "Beauty Ray", Ratliff Stable's "Cottage

Den" and Ten Pin Farm's "Watch Me."

Champions To Meet

The champions of 1956 and 1957 will meet in the conformation hunter class. They are D. R. Motch's "Thou Swell," the winner last year, and John S. Pettibone's "The Duke of Paeomian," the 1956 champion. The Duke did not compete in the show last year when one of the finest fields of conformation hunters ever assembled here was in competition.

Si Jayne's "Apt Pupil," with little Dorothy McLeod up, will try to annex second consecutive working hunter crown. This will take some doing for the field in the working hunter section is strong and well balanced.

In the saddle horse competitions, the Dodge Stable commands deep respect. Earl Teater, regarded by many as the best saddle horse trainer and rider in the sport, has brought in a stable of eight that includes "Socks," the 1957 five-gaited champion, Robert Baty's "Rhythm Command" and Mrs. Robert Kales' "Black Falcon" and Pinetree Stable's "Dream Waltz" are horses to reckon within this division.

Seeking Second Title

"Plumb Beautiful," pride of the Pinetree Stable, will seek its second consecutive three-gaited title. Dodge Stable's "Belle of the Dell," Judy Beall's "Beall Boy" and Mrs. N. B. Cohen's "Danny O'Shea" are among Plumb Beautiful's great challengers.

"This is going to be a fine show," enthuses Alfred R. Glancy, Jr., club president and general chairman. "We have many wonderful stables and we are sure that the level of horsemanship will sustain the club's excellent tradition. We want to extend a friendly invitation to the general public to come out and see the show. We think you'll be glad you came."

INJURED IN FALL

Mrs. Mary Jo Flinchum, 44, of 4702 Wayburn, Detroit, fell and cut the back of her head on Saturday, June 14, while visiting at the home of the Joseph A. Shragas, Jr., 310 Touraine. She was taken to Cottage Hospital by Farms police, where seven stitches were needed to close the wound.

Parking Proposals For Village Area Still Under Study

Special Meeting of Council and Merchants Produces Some Alterations in Original Plan; Await Auditor's Report

An open hearing was held at the Neighborhood Club Monday night to consider a proposal which is designed to ease shoppers' parking problems in the Village area. The Grosse Pointe City Council and Village merchants convened for the third time in an effort to reach a decision that will best benefit the City, customers and commerce.

The considered solution, as proposed by Nathan Rosenfeld, president of Jacobson Stores Inc. would convert lots No. 3 and No. 4 (behind Hinkelhoch's and behind Hickey's into attended parking areas, similar in operation to the present lot behind Jacobson's. Merchants, if the plan is accepted, would have the option to validate parking tickets for their customers.

Committee Makes Report

At Monday night's meeting the "Special Parking Problems Committee" of six Village merchants (chosen to represent their respective shopping areas), chaired by Mr. Rosenfeld, presented their report to the City Council. It recommended some alterations to the original proposal, was unanimous in some additional recommendations, and was split on the advisability of the plan as it now stands.

Following the committee's report, the meeting was open to general discussion in which most of the merchants took part.

Mayor Gives Views

Mayor Fred Parker summed up the views of the Council on the matter and the proposal and further recommendations will now be referred to Ernst and Ernst, auditors for the City of Grosse Pointe, following which study the Council expects to take action.

Mr. Parker stated, however, that it is the council's opinion an increase in the amount of attended lots is desirable for the majority of Village merchants.

Thief Steals Cash in Car

A wallet stolen from Mrs. Ina Hudson of 195 Ridgmont on Tuesday, June 3, was recovered several hours later, minus the money it contained.

Mrs. Hudson told Farms police that she had parked her car in the parking lot of a supermarket at 18860 Mack, leaving the wallet in a basket on the seat and covered with her sweater.

She said that when she returned after her shopping, the wallet was gone. It contained about $50 in bills and personal papers.

Several hours later, the wallet was found on a lawn in front of 1020 Lake Shore road, by Sam Calimera of 21931 Gaukler, St. Clair Shores, who returned it to Mrs. Hudson.

Only the money was missing; the papers were intact, police said.

Pedestrian Safety Drive Wins Citation for Woods

A well-rounded program of pedestrian safety activities has earned a special citation for Grosse Pointe Woods in the 1957 AAA Pedestrian Protection Contest, Automobile Club of Michigan announced today.

Competing with 536 cities in the 10,000 to 25,000 population group, Grosse Pointe Woods scored 100 percent of possible points in the accident records system phase of the contest. It also ranked high in engineering, organization, school safety and public information sections.

Competition for top awards was the keenest in the 19-year history of the contest, Ernest P. Davis, Auto Club Safety and traffic director, stated. A total of 1,708 cities, an all-time record, and 45 states submitted

Car Thieves

Receptions for the graduates and their parents and friends were held in the boys' and girls' gyms and the cafeteria. These receptions were held under the auspices of the Mothers Club of the high school.

The second youth, according to Chief Duemling, told Kent County police that he and his companion left Chicago on June 10, with a stolen car, and drove to Marshall, Mich., where they ran out of gas and abandoned the vehicle. They stole a car from there and drove to the Shores, and ran out of gas near 40 Clairview court, after which they tried to steal the Kulaja vehicle.

Runs Out of Gas

The Kent County police prisoner said he drove the Clark automobile to Wyoming Township, near Grand Rapids, ran out of gas, and stole another one, which he was in when he was arrested.

Both boys were turned over to FBI agents for prosecution. They may be tried by Federal authorities either in Grand Rapids, or in Chicago, Chief Duemling said.

Total pedestrian deaths across the nation dropped to 7,800 last year, the lowest point since the inception of the contest, Davis said. The previous low was 7,950 in 1956.

This marks the sixth successive year that Grosse Pointe Woods has received an award in the annual contest. A plaque, denoting last year's achievement, will be presented to the city next month.

GOP District Committee Invites Look at Records

Stanley J. Baldwin, of 3674 Lakepointe, chairman of the 14th Congressional District Republican Committee, has released the text of the first of the District's regular series of letters to all Republican candidates for Precinct Delegate in the 14th District.

The present leadership of the 14th District has recently come under attack by a group headed by Fred M. Alger, Jr., former ambassador to Belgium. Alger's group has begun a delegate fight for control of the party machinery in the 14th. The letter follows:

"The present leadership of the 14th District Republicans considers its main job to be beating Democrats," Baldwin said in releasing the letter. "If certain people want to start a fight, they're welcome to do it."

He went on to say, "Our leadership rests on the fact that a sizeable majority of the elected precinct delegates decided to trust us in 1956. If the elected delegates think we haven't done a good job of starting an upward trend for the Republicans in the 14th District, then they are free to pick someone else in 1958."

The letter, Baldwin said, is the first of a series to all candidates for delegate, regardless of who asked them to file, outlining the duties and rights of a delegate, and pointing out the help and aid the year-round Republican headquarters at East Warren and Beaconsfield can give them. He added that the headquarters is the only District Headquarters in Wayne County being maintained on a year-round basis, and that it was started by the present leadership of the district.

The letter told all candidates for delegate that a contest existed, and urged them to "study, calmly and quietly, everything that is said and written to you so you can make an informed choice." It added that the district committee would be holding training meetings for all candidates for delegate so that the main job of beating Democrats can be accomplished.

In a brief history of Republican politics in Wayne County, the letter pointed out that the Wayne County Republican Precinct Organization had for the period from 1948 through 1956 controlled the county and the district. It then proceeded to give actual voting figures to show what the R.V.A. leadership had done from 1956 to 1958.

Under the precinct organization, the letter continued, the Republican vote in Wayne County dropped from 51.7% in 1946 to 36.8% in 1954. In the 14th District, it dropped from 53.5% in 1946 to 41.7% in 1954.

Under the leadership of Republican Voters, Associated, however, the 14th District increased the Republican percentage for Congress from 41.7% in 1954 to 43.2% in 1956, while the rest of Wayne County's Districts continued to go down.

Comparing the spring election of 1957 under the new leadership with the 1955 spring election results under the precinct organization, the letter pointed out that R. V. A. leadership increased the Republican percentage and decreased the Democrat plurality while the rest of Wayne County and the State of Michigan again continued to go down.

The letter stated that the present group under Fred Alger, Jr., was the precinct organization all over again. The name is different, but the faces are all the same.

Perhaps the most startling thing in the letter, however, was the flat statement that "The Democrats are alarmed by the Republican gains in the 14th District over the last two years—and it is the only district in Wayne County they are afraid of." About this Baldwin stated, "Bert Donlin, the Democrat chairman of the 14th, told Durant and myself that, one night at a meeting not too long ago of the East Side Citizens Economic Development Committee, I think he regretted his slip as soon as he had spoken."

The letter pointed out, as confirming evidence of this statement, that Guy Nunn, the UAW-CIO radio commentator, has been continually and vigorously attacking Baldwin and Durant, while he remains silent about the rest of Wayne County. "It's funny, isn't it," said Baldwin, "that Guy Nunn, Walter Reuther and Fred Alger, Jr., all want to get rid of Durant and myself?"

The scheme of life seems to be that the good die young and the older we grow the more chance we have of being found out.

Injured Diver Rests at Home

William Day, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip B. Day of 425 Champine, returned home from Bon Secours Hospital on Wednesday, June 11, and is resting as comfortably as could be expected.

William fractured five vertebrae in his back when he dove into shallow water at the roped off, old swimming area at the east end of the dock in the Farms Pier-Park on June 7.

The man who gets places while appearing to be going nowhere is well versed in the art of diplomacy.

Mike Collins, 19, of 204 Moross road, life guard at the park, rescued the boy, who was unable to move after hitting the water.

The life guard said that children had been warned against diving in the area, but young Day apparently did not know of the warning. There were no signs indicating diving is dangerous in the area.

Since William's mishap, a "No Diving" sign has been put up and the area continues to be roped off. The water into which the boy dove, was only two and a half feet deep.

Collins said he had not warned William and several boys with him, as was first believed.

Driver Slams Into Police Car

Paul DeWitt, 34, of 22700 Arcadia, St. Clair Shores, was ticketed by Farms police on Saturday, June 14, and posted a bond of $100, following a charge of reckless driving on Lake Shore. He is accused of running into and causing extensive damage to a police car.

Damage to the police car was estimated at about $300; and to DeWitt's vehicle, about $250, an accident report revealed.

Patrolman Otto Glanert, in making out his report, said he had parked his scout car at the south curb opposite 309 Lake Shore, to investigate a motorist slumped over the wheel of a car at the north curb.

While the officer was checking, DeWitt, going east on Lake Shore, slammed into the left rear end of the police vehicle. DeWitt's automobile was not drivable and had to be towed away.

DeWitt claimed he did not see the scout car because he was looking out at Lake St. Clair. The patrolman's report claimed the motorist had been drinking. DeWitt said he only had two beers.

He was taken to the station where he was issued a ticket for reckless driving and ordered to post the bond.

The man slumped over the wheel of the car, checked by Patrolman Glanert, had had too much to drink. He was sleeping in the car, the officer said.

He was sent home in a cab, and his car was impounded until claimed the following day.

Beloved Teacher Retires

After more than forty years of service in the Grosse Pointe Public Schools, MISS ETHEL M. TUCKER leaves her beloved building, the Stevens T. Mason Elementary School escorted by her assistant, MRS. CLAIR DOLL. Friday, June 13, marked the end of Miss Tucker's career in public education as she began her well earned retirement.

Having completed more than forty years of service to the Grosse Pointe Public Schools, Miss Ethel M. Tucker, Principal of Mason School retired from public school service. She turned responsibility for the school over to John Brubacher, the new principal, last Friday.

Miss Tucker has been honored by many of her friends and associates at teas during the past several weeks in recognition of her long years of devoted teaching. Many former students were among those honoring her at a reception at Mason School and fellow administrators joined with Superintendent and Mrs. James W. Bushong to honor her at a tea.

Was Born in Pointe
Born in Grosse Pointe and graduated from Central High School in Detroit, Miss Tucker attended Michigan State Normal College (now Eastern Michigan) to prepare for her teaching career. Upon receipt of a teaching certificate she began her life's work in one of the five small schools in the Grosse Pointe area.

The consolidation of these schools into the Grosse Pointe Rural Agricultural School District No. 1 was effected in 1921 and in 1926 Miss Tucker became principal of the Vernier Road School during the Superintendency of D. L. Walling.

The Stevens T. Mason Elementary School's first unit was built and occupied early in 1929 and Miss Tucker became its first, and only, principal. For a time she served as principal of the old Kerby School as well. Dr. Samuel Miller Brownell was Superintendent at this time. She also served under Superintendents Van Kleef, Essert, and Barnes prior to Dr. Bushong's arrival.

Outstanding Leader
Miss Tucker gave outstanding leadership to Mason School as it grew and grew until it nearly burst in the 1940's and early 1950's. For a while it was able only to house the first three or four grades while the higher grades were sent to other buildings. At one time enrollment in Mason School

Law Breakers Pay in Park

Oliver C. Boksa of 1204 Three Mile drive, pled guilty to leaving the scene of a property damage accident, at a hearing before Park Judge C. Joseph Belanger on Wednesday, June 11, and was ordered to pay a fine and court costs of $37.20.

Vito Aiuto of 4844 Manistique, Detroit, paid a fine of $15, after a plea of guilty to causing an accident at Mack and Yorkshire.

Constance Gabriel of 1437 Brys drive, charged with speeding on Jefferson, was found guilty and given a suspended sentence.

Helen Collias of 10990 Wilshire, accused of going through a stop street without stopping, pled guilty and paid a fine of $4.

Sara Ann Owen of 560 Parkview, Detroit, paid a fine of $4, after pleading guilty to ignoring a red signal light.

Charles S. David, Jr., of 43 McKinley avenue, failed to come to court to answer for running a signal light and forfeited a $3 bond.

Failure to appear on a similar charge in a different case, brought about a forfeiture of a $10 bond posted by Bessie D. Schack of 13940 Mack, Detroit.

Lee H. Allen of 71 Moross road, forfeited $15, when he did not show up for speeding on Kercheval.

Cracker Tossers Nabbed by Police

Three youths were caught "red-handed," nearly literally, last Thursday, June 12, about midnight when Grosse Pointe City officers in a scout car observed them toss a lighted fire cracker out a car window at the corner of Cadieux and Mack.

The patrolmen gave chase to the delinquents and apprehended them. A search of the car revealed a goodly amount more of the noisemakers. The boys were taken into the City station where all were issued tickets for possession of illegal goods. Police held their car and released the youths to their respective parents.

Premature "Fourth" celebrators were Thomas J. Payette, 18, of 2950 Lenox, Detroit, and Joseph F. Beirne, 17, of 1144 Lakepointe.

Pointer's TV Show Booked

The fabulous mind of Leonardo da Vinci will be under scrutiny by two Grosse Pointeers Friday night.

"Man with Wings," a special television program written and produced by Mrs. George Hall, of Washington road, will be presented over channel 56 at 6 p.m. on Friday.

"Man with Wings" is undeniably an attempt to point out to the coming generation (and remind their parents) that Wyatt Earp and Davy Crockett weren't the only giants of history.

The show will feature, in addition to da Vinci's drawings and works of art, a series of models and photographs of his ingenious inventions, from armored tanks to flying machines. Many of these exhibits have been sent from New York especially for this production by the International Business Machine Co.

Appearing on the show with Mrs. Hall, as one of a team of experts looking at the artist from a contemporary point of view, will be Dr. Frank Sladen, of Lincoln road. Others will be William Wolfenden of the Detroit Institute of Arts, and Professor Arthur Locke, head of the department of aeronautical engineering at Wayne State University. Rounding out the cast will be a "mystery witness," identity undisclosed.

As a followup to the program, a complete exhibit of Leonardo's models and drawings will be held at the General Motors Technical Center through the courtesy of IBM.

Vending Machine Reported Stolen

The Grosse Pointe City police station received a report last Wednesday, June 11, from R. W. Frankel, of R & B Vending Service, that one of their machines, a U.S. Postage vending machine, with a Chicago trademark, had been stolen from the Fisher Record Shop, at 17047 Kercheval avenue, in the Village.

The machine had a white and grey hammer finish, with an 8x10-inch wood base, and weighed five pounds. It was valued at $40, and contained $15 in stamps and coins. The machine was lifted sometime after 4 p.m. Tuesday, June 10. Police suspect the larceny was the "trick" of some small boys.

Soroptimists Install Officers

The Soroptimist International of Grosse Pointe held their Installation of Officers Dinner, Friday evening, June 13, at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club. FLORENCE LEHMAN, left, presented the president's pin to incoming president, LUCILLE HUTCHENREUTHER.

Master of Ceremonies, Flo Thornburg, of the Detroit Club introduced David McCarron, president of the Grosse Pointe Business Men's Association who gave the official greetings. Florence Cox presided over the installation of officers.

Other new officers are: Ann McClellan, first vice-president; Marion Bachman, second vice-president; Kathryn Gannon, recording secretary; Carolyn Wicks, corresponding secretary; Florence Riley, treasurer; Kathleen Young, director; Evelyn Greathouse, director; and Germaine Meyer, delegate.

There are nearly 700 clubs in the American Federation of Soroptimist Clubs, an organization of business and professional women, organized for service, with membership by invitation. The Grosse Pointe Club is the 59th in the Midwestern Region, which includes Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin as well as Michigan.

The American Federation, together with the Soroptimist Federation of Great Britain and the Federation of Continental Europe make up Soroptimist International Association, with clubs in 27 countries and a total membership of more than 32,000 women, the largest women's service club organization in the world.

Police Seek Vicious Cat

Farms police are searching for a large, gray tom cat, with black stripes that bit six-year-old Robert Schuch in four places about the face on Tuesday, June 10.

Robert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Schuch of 476 Bournmouth, was given treatment by the family doctor, and a series of rabies shots were begun at Herman Keifer Hospital.

Police said that the cat, believed to be a vicious nature, was the same animal recently seen near 457 Allard. The dog warden was sent to pick up the cat as a stray, but it was gone before the officer arrived. There are no clues indicating who owns the feline.

Any person having a cat answering such a description, which might have strayed from home on the June 10 date, or persons knowing of the whereabouts of the animal, please call Farms police, TU 5-2100.

Sign Warrants For 6 Arrests

Shores Judge John Gillis signed warrants for the arrest of six traffic violators, who failed to appear in his court on Monday, June 9, and ordered forfeited the bond of another motorist who also failed to answer a court summons.

The bond, in the sum of $25, was forfeited by Walter E. Atwell of 30505 Quinkert, Roswell, accused of speeding on Lake Shore road.

Arrest warrants were issued against the following: Neil A. McLeod of 194 Cass, Mt. Clemens, charged with speeding on Lake Shore; Percy W. Fox of 2617 Cove lane, Orchard Lake, speeding on Lake Shore; Glenn A. Cantwell of 1280 Chalmers, ignoring a red light on Lake Shore; Clarence Gibson of 503 Kitchener, similar charge; Joseph G. Baranski of 814 Leander, Detroit, speeding on Lake Shore; and William J. Roach of 2951 Montclair, speeding on Lake Shore.

Judge Victor DeBaeke, who heard a speeding charge against Arthur W. O'Shea of 23124 Socia, St. Clair Shores, found the motorist guilty and fined him $15. The arrest was made on Lake Shore.

Two 17-year-old Pointe youths were arrested by Shores police on Monday, June 16, and charged with littering the highway while driving on Lake Shore road. The driver was also charged with running a stop street.

In his report following the arrest, Patrolman Stanley Otulakowski, revealed that he observed the car in which the boys were riding, go through a stop street without stopping at Sheldon road and Lake Shore.

While in pursuit of the car, he said, he saw a sack of empty bottles thrown out of the vehicle from the passenger's side. He stopped the automobile at Lake Shore and S. Deeplands.

In the stopped vehicle were William P. Albrecht of 336 Merriweather, driver of the car; and Ronald Gouin of 424 Belanger. Another youth, whose name was withheld since he was only picked up for a ride home, was not held.

The officer talked to Albrecht about the bottles tossed onto the road, and the youth denied they were from his car.

At the station, however, both Albrecht and Gouin admitted the bottles were from their car and that they tossed them out of the window. Later, they were made to pick up the broken pieces, it was said.

Two Cars Tangle At Intersection

An accident at the corner of Loraine and Charlevoix last Wednesday, June 11, was investigated by two City police car details on call, and resulted in tickets for two reckless drivers.

Domenic L. Canini, of 21940 Chalon drive, in St. Clair, was headed south on Loraine when he "met" Philip V. Rogers, of 3421 West Chicago, in Detroit, who was going east on Charlevoix at the same time.

Canini was ticketed for entering an intersection without due caution and Rogers, driving a Checker cab, was arrested for driving without having his car under control, and causing an accident.

Monkey Keeps Firemen Busy

Joan Allor, of Kercheval place, has been getting a bit of a hard time from her pet monkey recently. On Sunday, June 8, he escaped from her house and a call from the residence of Mike Zauner, at 633 Notre Dame avenue, about 7 p.m. brought City firemen and trucks to that location to rout him out of a tree.

The cunning simian frustrated the fire troops by climbing to the tiny branches of the tree—where he maintained his lofty position despite all efforts and pleas to return to his roost.

He finally descended to the level his human descendants prefer, and allowed as how he was ready to go home.

The next day, Monday, June 9, he escaped and took to the air again! A second frantic call from the Allor residence summoned the City police, who borrowed a small fire rig from that department. This time the City saviors were more successful and were able to dislodge the monkey from his new perch.

Enough of this monkey business!

Farms Employes Seek Pay Boost

The Farms council will study several requests made by employes of the Public Works Department, who are seeking a wage increase and other benefits.

A petition for the increase and other benefits was presented to the council on Monday, June 16, by representatives of Local 522, AFSCME, AFL-CIO, of which personnel of the department are members, but not officially recognized by the Farms.

The employes petitioned that their wage scale pay be brought up to a par with surrounding communities.

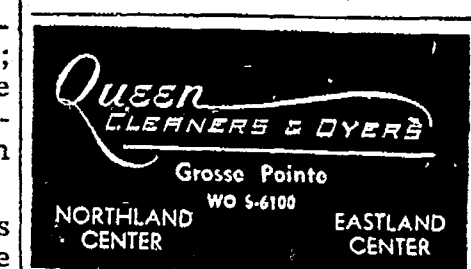

They asked that with the differential in pay within this area and the increase in the cost of living during 1957, that a general increase of 16 cents an hour be granted.

They also asked that a bonus of one-half day vacation be granted, not to exceed five days, for each day of unused sick leave in the fiscal year; since it has become a practice with other communities, that retired employes be rewarded for their faithful service by being paid one-half of their accumulated sick leave. They also requested that employe members of the local be allowed voluntary dues deduction to be paid to the treasurer of the union by the city; and that a longevity plan be established whereby an employe will receive $50 for each five years of service.

After hearing arguments from the representatives of the local as to the merits of the benefits petitioned for, the council agreed to take the matter under advisement.

More About 'That Editorial'

In devoting so much space in last week's issue to the controversy over the decision of the Parent-Teacher Association Council to refuse to endorse the Council for Better Literature for Youth, we felt we were giving a pretty fair shake to all who wanted to be heard on the subject.

However, additional letters have been received, some too late to be published last week, and another commenting on the statistics involved in the reactions. We feel these writers are also entitled to their say and they will be found among the letters to the editor.

We would also call attention to the fact that the Michigan Catholic carried an editorial concerning our editorial. The clippings we have received did not contain a date line, but for those interested, a call to the office of the Michigan Catholic, Temple 3-5000, will doubtless enable them to obtain a copy of this editorial, signed P.J.H. and entitled "Let's Weigh Both Sides of Grave Problem."

We also feel that the full report of the P.T.A. Council on this matter should be printed.

At its regular meeting Tuesday, May 20, the P.T.A. Council voted not to endorse the Council for Better Literature.

Below is the report of the committee appointed by the P.T.A. Council to study this request.

The committee appointed to study the aims and objectives of the Council for Better Literature, and the advisability of the endorsement of this organization by the Parent-Teacher Council submits the following report.

The committee recommends that the P.T.A. Council not endorse the Council for Better Literature for the following reasons:

1. The committee agrees with the aim of the Council for Better Literature in bringing better literature to children, but feels that the schools, parents, and churches are meeting this objective in the classrooms, instructional programs, school libraries, public libraries, and in the community.

2. The committee is opposed to censorship which might increase in power and scope, and get out of hand, and be a violation of our precious civil liberties as specified in the Bill of Rights.

3. Censorship is a rule of the minority — a principle contrary to the basic tenets of democracy. A small group attempts to control the reading of many.

4. It is difficult to determine the qualifications of a censor. Who has the basic background to judge what is obscene and what is not?

5. Standards change from generation to generation. What was obscene in grandpa's day is acceptable now. A woman in shorts or slacks in 1900 would have caused a riot.

6. Who is to determine the value of a book or a picture? Many of the great books of the world have been banned at one time or another — The Bible, The Koran — such writers as Roger Bacon, Boccaccio, Erasmus, Machiavelli, Virgil, Ben Jonson, Shakespeare, Darwin, Tom Paine, John Milton, John Locke, De-foe, Swift, Hans Christian Andersen. Even the writings of such Nobel Prize winners as Hemingway, William Faulkner, Eugene O'Neill, Ibsen, George Bernard Shaw have been banned. Who is to judge?

7. The American Library Association is opposed to censorship. The Library Bill of Rights adopted by American Library Association in 1948 states in Article 3:

"Censorship, urged or practiced by volunteer arbiters of morals or by organization must be challenged by libraries in maintenance of their responsibility to provide information and enlightenment through the printed word."

8. Recent decisions of the United States Supreme Court have questioned the validity of several censorship cases (New York Times January 19, 1958). Supreme Court Justice, William O. Douglas, in a recent press interview (Detroit Free Press May 12, 1958) indicted the public schools for graduating students without teaching them about the Constitution of the United States. He stated, "The only thing which makes our society flourish is the right to worship, to believe what you think, to read what you want to and not be censored . . . Americans are ignoring inroads on their freedom."

9. Only as our spiritual enlightenment and standards of character development, either as teenagers or adults, enable us to discriminate between obscene literature and good literature, and refuse to incorporate the wrong into our habits of living, can we be relied upon as individuals. Keeping cigarettes from a child will not prevent him from smoking. We must learn to trust our ideals and standards to hold us above the temptations of degrading influences or we have accomplished little of educational value. Lincoln said, "We must learn to be the masters of ourselves." We trust our teenagers and adults to look to better interests in our community life.

In summary, the committee is opposed to any affiliation with or endorsement of the Grosse Pointe Committee for Better Literature For Youth. Respectfully submitted, RUTH V. FLOM, ROBERT LAITNER, OSCAR MARX.

Letters to the Editor

Editor,
The Grosse Pointe News,
Grosse Pointe Farms, Mich.
Dear Sir:

May I take this means of publicly commending the Grosse Pointe Fire Department for the excellent manner in which they brought the fire at the Grosse Pointe High School annex under control?

Their prompt action and skill in dealing with a difficult blaze undoubtedly saved the public school system losses which could have seriously disrupted the school program at a rather critical time. Many records were saved, also, which could not have been replaced.

Speaking through the Letters to the Editor column, then, for the members of the Board of Education and for other school officials I wish to say thank you to our fine fire fighters for a hard job well done.

Sincerely,
JAMES W. BUSHONG,
Superintendent of Schools.

To the Editor:
I was very late in getting to read last week's G.P. News, but I still would like to comment on the editorial titled "A Wise Decision by the P.T.A."

Aren't you dealing a very low blow to an organization who are certainly in existence for a good cause? It seems to me that other public-spirited citizens who might, from time to time, have ambitions to do something for the betterment of our community, may think a long time before taking action. When they remember the "slap-in-the-face" received by the Council of Better Literature for Youth, they may well wonder whether anything is worth exposing themselves to the barbs of our local newspaper.

You speak of fanatic methods. Perhaps we should be further informed. So far as I know, their main task is to sort out, from the deluge of periodicals being published today, the sordid and obscene. With the full cooperation of the merchants, they assume the monotonous task of removing this filth from the magazine stands. This is fanatical?

And what is so "negative" about it? When a surgeon removes a growth which he knows will be injurious to the whole body, in this a "negative" approach? For no cancer ever existed that could do more harm to the body than filthy literature can do to the minds and morals of our children. Your editorial must have been written with tongue-in-cheek when it implied our children can be exposed to this filth without being contaminated by it. Even most adults would be better off if they were protected from it. However, no one is depriving them of the "freedom" to wallow in it if they wish. The children are a different matter.

What sort of people do the P.T.A. have representing them in this matter? I am not even a parent; yet I shudder when I thought that the parents — the sound lot, as you call them — did not welcome this assistance in this important phase of rearing their children. However, I've been asking many parents, and not one of them failed to say he would be very happy to have his children protected in this way. This leads me to feel that perhaps the parents have been sold short by their representatives.

"Any effort to control thought is dangerous." If this is so, we are all in the greatest peril, for everything we see and read is an effort to control our thoughts and actions. What is all the advertising today about? And for that matter, what was your editorial about? It even tried to tell us what organizations we should approve, or not approve. Yet no advertisement, or no editorial can "stifle our choice." We still have that freedom.

Very truly,
Winifred C. Payne
(Mrs. Martin)

Dear Sir:

The response to "That Editorial" re: The Grosse Pointe Council for Youth brought forth some appalling, but not surprising data. A breakdown by sex (no pun intended) showed eighteen replies from women, one reply from a man, and two other replies. Also, four of the women giving the rebuttal (The Mesdames Allard, Curtis, Whitely, and Petri) say at some place in their letters that they have no qualms about using the absolute, parental "NO." Good. Mrs. Curtis claims that most parents are not even aware that a problem exists. Here we have people using "absol-

Grosse-Exaggerations

A. PRYOR

"Now turning from the wintry signs, the sun
His course exalted through the Ram had run,
And whirling up the skies, his chariot drove Through Taurus, and the lightsome realms of love;
Where Venus from her orb, descends in showers,
To glad the ground, and paint the field with flowers:
When first the tender blades of grass appear,
And buds, that yet the blast of Eurus fear,
Stand at the door of life, and doubt to clothe the year;
Till gentle heat, and soft repeated rains,
Make the green blood to dance within their veins."
(John Dryden)

A few weeks ago we wrote about the New York woman, (newly married), who sent out the couple's Christmas cards left over from a previous year when the Madame's name was different. Our heroine simply crossed out the engraved name of the former wife and scribbled in her own.

Now we have another, even better. A local scion of goodly wealth, has re-married since being divorced from his first wife. Among other things, wife number one had given her husband in their happier days, was a handsome gold cigarette case inscribed inside with a tender message over her signature. Apparently he still carries the case but doesn't want to be reminded of the old days. He opened it one recent evening to proffer a cigarette to a dinner companion and she noted he had a piece of adhesive tape stuck over the inscription!

When we were a small child . . . about a hundred years ago . . . we saw something we will never forget. A WHOLE house, three stories high was being moved to a different neighborhood. The craziest sight . . . this big thing slowly lumbering down the street taking up all the room! Often wondered what it would be like to ride in one, and now we know.

A friend of ours bought for $350 yet, a four-room farm house complete with furniture down to the meanest ashtree . . . and had it moved to their estate in the country. Mrs. McWhoozis thought it would be very gay to invite a few women friends to travel the 50 or so miles to the new place with her . . . IN the house. They planned on having cocktails and a picnic lunch and perhaps play a little bridge. It was determined that the house would start moving at 8 a.m., so the little women had to get up at the crack of dawn to be there in time.

When they arrived on the scene . . . NO HOUSE . . . so they drove on ahead hoping to catch up with it. The driver in charge must have taken off at 4 a.m. instead of 8 . . . in anticipatory horror! They didn't see the little house until it was about 350 yards from the Estate . . . however, nothing daunted, they hailed the driver to HALT . . . so they could pile in. When he saw the lunch-baskets, knitting bags, thermoses and what all . . . he cautioned them . . . "Don't DO anything at all while you're in there, now. Just sit down and don't do ANYTHING. Don't smoke or touch anything." It began to sound like SOME fun party! Anyway, they climbed aboard and away they went. Our pal told us later that she had never had a more horrifying experience. It was the nearest thing to an earthquake she had ever known. The house groaned and rocked and creaked and jerked until they were all seasick and happy to get back on solid ground. Sooooooo, if you have been dreaming of having a picnic in a moving house . . . DON'T!

Our next tome has to do with a New York woman with imagination far excellence . . . and a lot of money to go with it! Twas a nasty, rainy day in New York when our heroine woke up to find she had forgotten that it was her husband's birthday and had no gift for him. Since he is fraught with male jewelry and a plentiful wardrobe, she was at her wits ends to think of something.

However, on her way back from the hairdresser around 1 p.m., she passed a Cadillac showroom and BONG . . . an idea struck. She entered the place (looking like a drab on her day off) . . . old suit, old shoes and wet raincoat, hood over head . . . to find about seven salesmen having a pow-wow in one corner of the showroom. They paid absolutely no attention to her, so she walked around the place looking. Finally she spotted a snappy black Cad with white upholstery and thought . . . "THIS is it."

She had to summon one of the men, (they were so busy yakking), and when he strode over (taking a dim view of what he saw, sales-wise) she asked "How much is this car?" Just like that. He stammered and stuttered and started with the double-talk about it depended upon WHAT the car included, payments, terms, trade-in etc. until she interrupted with "Just tell me how much the car is, AS IT IS RIGHT HERE."

He announced he would have to go into his office and do some figuring first. She told him, figures be damned. She was tired and wet and hungry and she wanted the price of the car so she could write out a check for it IN FULL and RIGHT THEN. He could call her bank to verify the fact that she DID have the money, etc. etc. etc.

We would love to have seen this little pageantry! It finally sunk in that maybe this dowdy looking dame DID have the wherewithal . . . so he scurried around like a hungry rabbit . . . took her to lunch . . . and popped his mouth open when he saw the check . . . the solid gold check! The next specification was that she wanted it parked at the front door of her apartment house at EXACTLY quarter to 8 . . . with a liveried chauffeur in attendance! Another bit of fanfare went on while all seven men stood stupefied at the haste of this stupendous transaction. Finally all was settled . . . and Madame left for home with her little secret.

She and the birthday boy had decided on a certain place to dine out . . . but husband dear complained that he was unable to track down a cab . . . and even the car rental service could offer him nothing, due to the inclement N. Y. weather. She said not to worry, that she had been able to hire a car. When they arrived at the front door, there stood the magnificent Cadillac in all its chauffeured glory . . . right at the curb, smack in front of the entrance. Dear husband said: "Look at that dope parked right at the marquee on a night like this when no one can get in or out."

His loving wife . . . replied: "YOU are the dope . . . it's YOUR CAR!" WHAT a surprise! Wish we could do things like that . . . but having neither the dough nor the imagination, we'll just have to stick to the hot typewriter.

The above reminds us of Conrad Hilton when he told about his first hotel buying venture. He went into a hotel and asked for a room. They had none. He BEGGED for a room . . . they still had none available . . . so he BOUGHT the hotel right on the spot! Ah money!

What Goes On at Your Library

By Jean Taylor

The closing of school means vacation time for many grown-ups in the family as well as for the young people. The library again offers you the advantage of taking a number of books on "Vacation Loan." This has been a popular plan with vacationers in past years.

If you are leaving the city for a period exceeding one month, you may request a vacation loan, and your books will then be made due October 1. Only the recent books, and those in great demand, are excluded from this "Vacation Privilege." This is your opportunity to catch up on those books you have always meant to read.

The Summer Film Program for boys and girls begins this week at each Grosse Pointe Library, and continues through August. The films are shown at the Park and Woods Branch at 10 a.m. Thursdays and Fridays respectively. The program at Central is held each Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The picture scheduled for this week is "Destination Moon," an exciting science fiction film of an expedition to the moon. This is approximately ninety minutes in length. Every other week there will be a shorter program of some thirty minutes.

The program of movies for the eleven week period will be posted in each library. Boys and girls of elementary and junior high school age are invited.

Special honor goes this month to Camilla Kockx, one of several young people from our high schools who serve as pages at the three Public Libraries after school hours.

Camilla, a 1958 graduate of St. Paul School, has just been awarded a college scholarship grant of $400, one of two such grants given each year by the Grosse Pointe Rotary Club. The other goes to a Grosse Pointe High student, Judith Scherz.

Valedictorian for the graduating class of St. Paul High School, Camilla has a record of which she may be proud, and since she has been a page at the Central Library for more than two years, and such a cheerful willing worker, we all share a pride in her achievements.

For each of her four years at St. Paul High, she has received the General Excellence medal given for the highest marks in the class. She has managed to attain these high academic honors, be co-editor of the school year book and reporter for the school newspaper, take part in many school activities, work some eighteen or twenty hours a week at the library, make all her own clothes, and still have time for fun. We doff our hat to her!

Camilla's plans for the future have not entirely jelled as yet, she tells us, but she hopes to take a liberal arts course at Aquinas College in Grand Rapids.

If you missed the recent exhibition of the Grosse Pointe Artists Association at the War Memorial, six of the prize winners are now on display at the Central Library. These include Jean Teague's "Last Moment of Play," top winner in water color; Doris Newell's "Spring Flowers," given the Lillian Pear Award for the best impressionistic still life; Paul Maxon's "Gulls," winner of the Popular Award; Vivienne Kitson's "Flavia," which received the Agnes M. Lindemann Award, and Ruby Pesler's "City Sentinel," accorded the President's Award.

Heart Murmurs

By Fred Kopp, R. Ph.

Doctors tell us that heart murmurs may be detected now and then in the normal sized heart and be of no consequence. Neither does a rapid pulse, shortness of breath, or dizziness always mean heart trouble.

But until these symptoms are diagnosed there is no way of knowing if the heart is functioning improperly. To ignore such symptoms means serious trouble later.

Doctors have ways and means of tracing heart irregularities and the knowledge to correct or treat them.

lutes" in the correct way in the correct place, and trying to sound the alarm abroad. So far so good.

Now for the "needle." Eighty per cent of the replies had nothing whatever to do with the man in the house. WHY? Are the women (bless 'em) the only propagators of morals at home? Why were there so few men expressing an opinion? Do women outnumber the men at Council meetings? Do the men present take part in the business or are they just safe conduct for their wives? Where is Dad, anyhow?

May I be allowed some observations on the foregoing?

In the home, arbitrary control is necessary; but, parental discipline is not the same as an impersonal agency backed by force. A "conscience bureau" cannot give pro-rated consideration of qualified readers, but reduces all to the level of the most inept and least able. For example: The novel "Brave New World" by A. Huxley is available as a paper-back at the newsstands. The lazy or incompetent see here a sex-book. The more apt see an intricate character study, while the intelligent readers see as biting a critique of contemporary society as was Gulliver's Travels for its day. Yet, dogooders must remove this book among the first if they are consistent.

The great community of mothers have good reason to be concerned if they must do all of the character molding alone. The reply breakdown suggests they need help. Is "Dad" the business success and family joke as portrayed on the TV and radio programs? Why hasn't he been more evident in aiding or squelching the Council in print? How is it that Pop cannot control junior's allowance sufficiently that junior can afford to support smut by buying it? Also, with the emphasis on learning now days, when has junior (or sis) enough time to study filth? Hadn't father best become an active participant?

The News deserves a large measure of gratitude for its publicizing the present controversy and calling attention to a growing scourge—i.e. the desire to legislate and relax individual responsibility. It took a federal judge to rule that the novel "Ulysses" by James Joyce was not smutty, but most people are content to let a city council read and judge it. If it is true that people get the kind of society they deserve, it is also true that people see in a book that which they know and find familiar.

Yours for more family control and less "Let a policeman do it."

Howard R. Maxwell

To the Editor:

The June 12 News carried a release about the new URC (United Republican Council—formerly the Wayne County Republican Precinct Organization) which I, as a member of the Republican State Central Committee since October 1955, would like to comment upon. The release quoted a letter, purportedly going to all GOP candidates for precinct delegate in our congressional district, signed by some of the URC supporters. I say purportedly because this letter was not received by a number of delegate-candidates who are known to be loyal to the official district committee. The old precinct organization was always a "closed shop", and, despite statements to the contrary, the URC seems to be following the same unfortunate pattern.

Frankly, I thought the URC's letter was appalling and divisive in the extreme. It contained vicious and unwarranted attacks upon the following:

1. The 14th District Republican Committee.

2. Republican Voters, Associated (RVA).

3. Volunteers who work hard and long to build an honest-to-goodness grass roots Republican organization all over the district.

4. Richard Durant vice-chairman of the District Committee, who does more work for the Republican cause in a month than other volunteers—good ones—do in a lifetime.

5. Those who believe in complying with the election laws governing nominating petitions.

Does each signer of the URC missive know what he or she is opposing? Do URC members understand that they are siding with a handful of people whose sworn aim is to "break RVA and Dick Durant?" Do they want to close 14th District Republican Headquarters at 15316 E. Warren? Do they want to fire the underpaid, overworked employees who—thanks to the support of RVA members—run the headquarters and direct district organization? Do they want to insult and discourage the many hundreds of Republicans who have given of their time and money to support the RVA program and all the Republicans who have been in positions of leadership these last two years? I cannot honestly believe that most URC supporters know what it is they are being asked to destroy. (Let it be noted here that the Michigan Manual of 1957-1958 shows that in 1954 the Republican percentage of the district vote was 41.7%. In 1956—under RVA leadership—the GOP garnered 43.2% of the vote. This, in contrast with the rest of the county which kept on going lower).

In closing, let me state that RVA membership is—and always has been—open to all Republicans and all members are invited to all board meetings; that the 14th District Committee meetings are—and have been since August 1956 when RVA won district leadership by vote of the delegates—open to all Republicans; that RVA and District Committee books are open; that the year-round Resolutions Assembly of the district is—and always has been—open to all Republicans who wish to make their views known; and, finally, that the Wayne County Precinct Organization people who have formed the URC, and any they may have added to their number, are—and always have been—welcome to work with RVA and the District Committee and its sub-committees for Republican victory.

Emily Mason Boylston
(Mrs. Arthur C.)

June 10, 1958.

I have read with much interest the editorial captioned: "A wise decision by the P-T-A," in the May 29 issue of your paper.

I for one do not agree that the Council of Better Literature for Youths has come a cropper, as claimed by P.T.D. Much good has, and is, being done. A great amount of immoral, salacious and perverse pulp garbage has been eliminated from local magazine stands. Our local youth is bound to benefit from this action if it can be continued and the fine public-spirited members of the Council do not become discouraged by the carping and obstructionist tactics of people whose motives can surely be judged as questionable, at best.

P.T.D. refers to the methods of the Council in fighting the corrosive evil of immoral "literature" as fanatical. Zeal in a right cause has always been called fanaticism. Our generation has need of such "fanaticism." We see such an ever-increasing tide of juvenile lawlessness around us that J. Edgar Hoover is exclaiming in alarm. Dirty movies and TV shows, trash magazines and comics. Ignorant, lazy parents so lacking in moral fiber they cannot teach their own children right from wrong—this is all part of the picture, a very discouraging one, indeed.

You, P.T.D., are capable of deciding what is trash. And if you cannot, better see your clergyman—soon. "Any effort to control thought is dangerous." Are you serious? What do you think is a parent's job if it is not to teach the child to think right and therefore to act right? What can possibly be your motive in giving utterance to such drivel?

The Council came into being as a result of public revulsion to a bestial crime perpetrated by a sexual degenerate upon a little girl. It is doing its level best to prevent repetitions. It is entitled to a pat on the back rather than subjection to diatribes and scorn by people who are so intoxicated with their opportunity to write an editorial that they don't stop to think of the harm they may do by uttering such banalities.

Very truly yours
Joseph C. Conrad

Dear Sir:

A teenager's view on literature censorship.

Children have got to learn to decide for themselves between good and bad in all aspects of life, so why isn't it up to them to decide what literature is good and what is bad.

Isn't it better for a teenager to learn some things by reading of someone else's experience than by finding out the hard way.

Parents must certainly be "hiding their child behind a protective veil" when they screen and censor literature.

If a child hears about a really juicy book, he's certainly not going to forget about it just because it isn't at the library. Obviously, one of his friends must have already read the book in order to tell him about it in the first place, so if he's normal, he'll borrow the book from the friend.

A parent has every right to tell his own child that he may not read such and such a book, but how many parents can follow through by seeing that the child doesn't read the book with a different cover or in a sneak it into the house and read it when he really ought to be doing his homework? Half the time, the child won't ever have heard of a book, but he figures that if it's bad enough (or good enough) so that his parents forbid him to read it, then he'd certainly better go down to (Hudson's) or what have you and buy a copy.

If, as Mrs. Schaible says, "children are their parents' priceless jewels," then maybe the parents better go ahead and lock them up in a safety deposit box, but I pity the child for the trouble that he will run into when he is suddenly face to face with reality and doesn't have the wisdom, prudence, and knowledge of right and wrong to decide what he ought to do about it.

Dear Sir:

I would not quarrel with anyone for expressing a serious opinion about as important a matter as endeavoring to keep filthy literature out of the hands of children.

It surprises me, however, that you saw fit to publish the letter signed "An Opponent of Strong Arm Methods."

It is a facetious and in part blasphemous writing. I don't wonder the author chose to be anonymous and you should be ashamed for having published it.

Very truly yours,
J. H. Murphy

To the Editor:

I disagreed heartily with the editorial entitled "A Wise Decision by the P.T.A." which was published May 29.

I was very happy to see Mrs. J. A. Schaible's letter published in last week's paper. Being a parent of six my husband and I agree with Mrs. Schaible that the work of the Better Literature for Youth is not only necessary but should be welcomed by civic minded Grosse Pointers who wish to improve their community.

I was shocked and disappointed to find that the editorial staff of the Grosse Pointe News was not in accord with such a worthwhile project that perhaps they, as civic leaders, should have done something about long ago. I cannot believe that the person who wrote the editorial mentioned, has ever seen any of the filthy magazines that are

Bicycle Safety Campaign Winners Receive Awards

Police safety officers of four Pointes presented awards to bicycle safety winners following one of the most successful campaigns ever held in the Pointe.

This year's campaign, held separately by the various departments, rather than jointly as in previous years, started about the middle of May and lasted from two to three weeks, depending upon the length of time decided by the safety officers, and based on the number of schools visited. Awards varied.

Safety officers of the departments, are: Park, Patrolman George Blair; City, Patrolman Douglas Allor; Farms, Joseph Miller, and Woods, Patrolmen Jack Mast and Don Collins.

The Shores has no school, since Vernier School is no longer being used by the School Board.

Assisting Patrolman Blair in his campaign were Police Lt. Gerald Kesteloot, Cpl. Thomas Martin, and Patrolmen John Carroll and Patrick Conlon.

Approximately 100 prizes were given winners in the following Park schools, first four winners listed:

Defer: Kristine Ambulen, David McCollum, Robert Raymond and Wendy Premer.

Trombly: Guy Sewell, Sharon Rhode, Leslie Myers and Bill Eikman.

St. Ambrose: Mike Haley, Thomas Fox, Marilyn Fox and Aaron Lingeman.

St. Clare of Montefalco: Thomas Leone, Cecilia Orzel, Linda Gekiere and Paul Schwikert.

A special contest was held at Christian Day Reform, Maryland and Goethe, in which students submitted posters and essays. Separate contests were held by each of the grades.

The top prize in this contest went to a first grader, Jim Westra, 7, of 3714 Balfour, who submitted a poster with the slogan, "Don't Monkey With Safety."

Safety Patrol boys and girls who assisted police at their schools were given free passes to either the Punch and Judy or the Esquire theaters.

At an all school assembly at Mair School, the only school in the City, Patrolman Allor presented saddles, whistles, bells, horns and other prizes to winners.

These are the names of students who received awards: Susan Kay Alfei, Robert Baldwin, Florence Berger, Robert Caulton, Jennifer Clark, Carol Conahan, Eric Farkas, John Haberkorn, Susan Harrison, Ric Hendee, Bud Kipka, Tom Kleene, Milo Ann Kukolic, Diane Livingston, Jan C. Luttenberger, Marianne Miller, Karen Ostergren, Fred Parker, Alice Pennington.

Also, Linda Perkin, Steve Sachs, Malinda Schall, Ruth Ann Smith, Nancy Snell, Carol Stevens, Emily Swartz, Sheila Waggoner, Carol Sweet, Becky Wheeler, Bob Whiteley, Linda Whitaker and Kaye Wheeler.

Two Tiger-autographed baseballs went to the two safety patrol captains of the school and the service squad captain was given a necklace.

The Farms and Woods departments awarded bicycles as top prizes, the Farms, three and the Woods, six.

The Farms' bikes were donated by the Evans Products company of Plymouth, Mich., and the Woods', by the Grosse Pointe Kiwanis Club, which also sponsored the campaign in that city.

Patrolman Miller listed the winners of the bicycles as Suzanne Lehr of Kerby School; Barbara Heels of Richard School; and Kathleen Kramer of St. Paul.

Nineteen other prizes went to children of Kerby, St. Paul, Convent of the Sacred Heart and Richard Schools.

Patrolmen Mast and Collins said that bikes were the only prizes given out in their contest. These went to:

Thomas Zetty of Barnes School; Susie Fraser of Perry School; Cathy Wiedyk of Mason School; Lorraine Stryjak of Montlieth School; Henry Hoefft of Parcels Junior High School and Chris Mülle of Our Lady Star of the Sea.

Elmer Grierson Honored by U-M

President Harlan Hatcher conferred Distinguished Alumni Service Awards on five University of Michigan alumni last Saturday, June 14.

Among the honorees was Elmer P. Grierson ('12, Literature) of 596 Lakeland avenue. We quote, in part, from the University's recognition: "Though he has participated aggressively in all phases of organized alumni activity, Elmer Grierson has turned his principal attention to assisting the Editors of the Michigan Alumnus in their efforts toward the production of a constantly improving magazine."

"His long professional experience in the magazine field—part of that time as publisher—has been the background of his invaluable service to the Alumnus staff and to the Alumni Association's Publications Committee."

"The abilities demonstrated as an officer of his Detroit Alumni Club brought him District leadership and then election to the Association's Board of Directors. To round out his comprehensive alumni service, he has given of his time to the affairs of his class."

Mr. Grierson is a former owner and editor of the American Boy magazine. An attorney, he has been a member of the Water Commission and Board of Assessors for Detroit. He has served as president of the Detroit U-M Club, director of the Alumni Association, and has given extensive assistance to the Michigan Alumnus staff.

Lost Diamond Pin Returned

An unknown person returned a diamond pin to its owner, just four months to the day from the time it was reported missing, according to a Farms police report.

Dr. John B. Hartzell, of 181 Ridge road, called authorities on Saturday, June 14, and revealed that when he collected his daily mail at home, he found the pin in the mail box.

The pin, made of platinum, with a half carat diamond mounted in the center, with a cluster of 54 small diamonds, was reported missing or stolen, by Mrs. Hartzell last February 14.

It was surmised that the unknown person had placed the pin in the mail box some time between Friday and Saturday.

At the time it was reported missing, Mrs. Hartzell said the piece was insured for $450, but it could not be replaced for that amount.

Ellen Rose Kappel Speaks Nuptial Vows

Weds William Bernard Fitzgerald Thursday in Our Lady Star of the Sea Church of Ellen Rose Kappel and William Bernard Fitzgerald.

A European tour followed the wedding last Thursday in Our Lady Star of the Sea Church of Ellen Rose Kappel and William Bernard Fitzgerald.

The bride, daughter of the Louis Harold Kappels, of Sheldon drive, wore an ivory peau de soie gown fashioned with a bodice of lace trimmed in seed pearls. An Italian mantilla fell from a lace crown and she carried orchids.

The bride's sister, Mrs. William N. Walch, of Cincinnati, Ohio, was matron of honor and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Thomas Seymour and Mrs. Elaine Almond.

They wore French blue silk organza over taffeta with headbands of varying shades of blue forget-me-nots.

The bridegroom, son of the George Stephen Fitzgeralds, of Buckingham road, asked Dr. Frank John Pugliese to be his best man.

Seating the guests were William N. Walch, Raymond Wagner and Gilbert Metry.

For her daughter's wedding and the reception at the Essex Golf and Country Club Mrs. Kappel chose a pale pink chiffon and Italian silk gown with matching accessories.

Mrs. Fitzgerald was in champagne chiffon with a peach blossom hat.

For traveling the bride wore a pearl gray suit with black and white accessories. When they return from Europe they will live in McKinley avenue.

Six Debs Bow Over Weekend

Six pretty Grosse Pointe debutantes were presented to society last week-end at a dinner and two dances.

Mary Jane Black, who was just graduated from Miss Hall's School in Pittsfield, Mass., was Friday evening's first bud. She was presented at a dinner at the Grosse Pointe Club by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George M. Black, Jr., of Touraine road.

Her ivory Chantilly lace gown, designed by Carrie Munn, was floor length and with it she carried yellow sweetheart roses and ivy. Mrs. Black wore madonna blue chiffon.

The guests were received in front of the fireplace of the club. The decorations were a musical theme with wall panels showing musical instruments and mobiles hanging from the ceiling. Miniature grand pianos filled with summer blooms centered the dinner tables covered with coral, yellow and aquamarine cloths.

Ten ushers, in deep coral shirts, assisted at the party. They included John Ledyard, George M. Black III, John Fink, Henry Holland, George Munro IV, Henry Joy, Pat Duffy, Ned Jewett, Dan French and Jim Howbert.

The debs and their escorts went on from the Black dinner dance to the hall at the Country Club where four buds, Patricia Joy, Lorna Candler, Wendy Colby and Anne Waterman were presented.

Hosts for the gay pink and white ball were their parents, the William Moore Joys, of St. Clair, the J. Nall Candler, of Beverly road, the Frederick L. Colbys, Jr., of Merriweather road, and the Cameron Watermans III, of Touraine road.

Patricia wore a floor length gown of pale gold satin. She is also the daughter of Mrs. James Carmel, of Bloomfield Hills, who is currently in Brussels.

Lorna Candler's white organdy ballerina gown was accented with deep emerald green. She wore pearls given to her by her grandparents, the Howard E. Bloods, Jr.

White embroidered batiste with tiers of ruffles to the floor was Wendy Colby's choice and eyelet edged Anne Waterman's white silk organza waltz length frock which had wide blue taffeta sash and streamers.

Mrs. Joy wore a soft lemon yellow sheath embroidered in gold threads and Mrs. Candler wore deep blue lace over a forest green underskirt.

Mrs. Colby chose navy taffeta with pink roses catching up the bell shaped skirt at the hem. Mrs. Waterman was in a delicate light blue lace gown.

Red ribbons sashed diagonally distinguished the ushers corps of David Marentette, Thomas FitzSimons, James Nall Candler, Jr., James F. Joy, John H. French III, Thomas E. Ford, Howard Bonbright II, Neil Brown, Andrew H. Barr, William G. Curtis IV and Jeffrey Hudson.

Others were Lloyd Semple, Edward S. Evans II, Stephen M. Sherer, John Winans, Henry Cashin, Frederick Ollison, George B. Hefferan, Jr., Sigurd R. Wendin, Jr., James B. Stockwell, Francis W. McMillan II, Alexander L. Wiener, Jr., Edward Wiener, David FitzSimons, Edgar Howbert, Franklin C. Earl and William F. Stevens II.

Pink and white geraniums and a silk canopy in those colors decked the club where two orchestras played for dancing. Pink satin ribbons decked the dark green damask buffet table where breakfast was served. The small tables held pink geraniums and silver tapers.

On Saturday evening it was Patricia Lang's turn. She was presented by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Langs, of University place at a dance in their home.

She wore a white embroidered organdy gown with a tiered skirt and gathered taffeta cummerbund. Mrs. Langs

Novel Invitations Issued For Pointe Theater Play

Many Pointe area residents opening their mail this week have been, will be or should be startled to receive an invitation to an unusual wedding scheduled to take place on the terrace of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

The honor of their presence is requested by Philip Barry, well-known author and playwright, at the marriage of his "bride," Tracy Lord, Miss Lord, the high-spirited and fascinating member of Pennsylvania Main Line society, made her debut in New York in 1939.

The listing of three potential bridegrooms on the invitation is attributed to Miss Lord's inability to make up her mind at the time the invitations were printed. In fact, it appears that the question will not be resolved until the guests assemble.

At this point, it must be admitted that the invitation is somewhat of a hoax. It was devised and perpetrated by the Grosse Pointe Community Theatre to call attention to its production of "The Philadelphia Story." Mr. Barry's famous comedy, which is being co-sponsored by the Memorial this weekend and next.

Whether Miss Lord marries George Kittredge, an up-and-coming coal executive; Macaulay Connor, a somewhat cynical slick magazine reporter or her former husband, C. K. Dexter Haven, is Mr. Barry's plot device.

Suffice it to say the four GPC performances, Friday and Saturday, June 20, 21, 27 and 28, offer the "wedding guest" a most delightful evening of light comedy in a beautiful outdoor setting.

Readers who did not receive an invitation are encouraged to attend anyhow. Limited funds prevented the group from inviting every resident to attend, support and enjoy the performance. This will be the last major activity of the Grosse Pointe Community Theatre this season.

Those appearing in the cast include: Al Berteel, 45 Radnor Circle, as "Uncle Willie"; Chuck Carson, 550 Parkview, as Sandy Lord; Henry Haberkorn, 18641 E. Jefferson, as Mr. Lord; Mollie Hunter, 88 Handy, as Tracy's young sister, Dinah; Joan Lennon, 15269 Troester, Detroit, as Tracy Lord; Bill Loud, 953 Trombley, as C. K. Dexter Haven; Harry Kranz, 898 Lakepointe, as George Kittredge; William Mehegan, 9479 Beaconsfield, as Mike Connor; and Eileen McCabe, Roseville, as Liz Imbrie.

Emeritus Club Honors Quartet

Admitted to the select society from Grosse Pointe were Benjamin R. Marsh, '08 Engineering, of 175 Irvine road; James H. Marks, '08 Engineering, of 20007 Holiday road; Ruth Manville Sinclair, '04-'06, of 235 Vendome road; and John H. McPherson, '08, Law, of 1693 Allard road.

To Restore Joy Papers

A semi-annual meeting of the Michigan Chapter of the National Society of Daughters of Founders and Patriots of America was held Tuesday at Botsford Inn.

To honor the memory of their beloved late member, Mrs. Henry B. Joy, the Society has given a donation to the Burton Historical Collection for the restoration and preservation of the Joy Papers.

The speaker for the meeting was James M. Babcock, chief of the Burton Historical Collection. He explained how the work is done, showed some papers which had already been restored, and read a letter written by Abraham Lincoln to James Joy in regard to a legal case pertaining to a railroad matter which, apparently Mr. Lincoln was handling for Mr. Joy.

Driver Injures Young Cyclists

Farms police are looking for a motorist, said to be driving a car with stolen license plates, who ran down and slightly injured two young cyclists at Mack and Maison on Sunday, June 15.

Officers called to the scene, found the bicycles near the curb, but the boys and the motorist gone.

A check was made of all the hospitals in the area, but there was no report of any injured persons transported to any of them.

A short time later, a call came from St. John Hospital, in which it was stated that the two boys had been taken to the hospital by Detroit police.

At the hospital where they were treated for bruised backs and x-rayed for possible other injuries, were Terry Boevs, 14, of 5270 Lodewyck; and Richard Durieu, 15, of 3930 Yorkshire, both of Detroit.

The boys told Farms authorities that they were riding east on Mack in the right hand lane, when they were hit from behind by a car, driven by a man they only know as Jack.

The youths said the man only identified himself by that name when he picked them up and offered to take them to a doctor.

The motorist drove about for just half an hour, the boys said, and then took them to Terry's home. He left them there and drove away without further identifying himself.

Terry's father, Andrew, called Detroit police, who took the boys to St. John, and who then notified Farms police. The boys were released from the hospital after an examination.

Farms authorities said that the license numbers of the car that hit the boys, were from plates that were reported stolen several hours earlier by Detroit police.

NO ELEMENT OF CHANCE

"Calculated risk" seems to be a popular phrase for old-fashioned "gamble." But there's no place for either in preparing or dispensing pharmaceuticals.

Ever notice the letters U.S.P. or N.F. on a medicine label? The letters represent two official books, that are recognized by federal law—the United States Pharmacopoeia and the National Formulary.

Together they are the pharmacist's "bible." They give approved standards of the quality, purity, and potency of most medicinal agents.

Whatever your prescription calls for, we are prepared to fill it.

JC Auxiliary Elects Officers

The Grosse Pointe Jaycee Auxiliary recently elected officers for the new fiscal year.

They are: president, Mrs. Kirk Cookson; vice-president, Mrs. John Wright; secretary, Mrs. Milt Boyd; treasurer, Mrs. Richard Reich. The new officers were to be installed at the June 18 meeting of the auxiliary at the home of Mrs. John Wright. A "pot-luck" dinner will precede the meeting.

The state convention of the Jaycees was held May 17 in Grand Rapids. Mrs. Kirk Cookson, Mrs. Herbert Kenz and Mrs. Pat Cusick attended the meeting and Mrs. Kenz, past-president of the local group, was elected state secretary of the auxiliary.

The auxiliary also wishes to express thanks to the community for supporting the auxiliary card party of April 10. From the profits of the party the auxiliary is planning a picnic for the children of the Foundation for Exceptional Children and will also give a donation to the foundation.

Mrs. McDonald Given Award

A special award for outstanding service to the community's aged citizens was presented to Grosse Pointe, Mrs. Thomas McDonald on June 12 at the annual meeting of United Community Services' Friendly Visitors held at Ledyard Hall in Detroit.

Mrs. Thomas, 1380 Lakepointe, was recognized for giving more than 10 years of Friendly Visiting service and was the surprised recipient of a gold and blue emblem with the insignia, "F-V".

Another Grosse Pointe, Mrs. Wallace M. Jensen, 290 Hillcrest road, who is general chairman of the UCS Friendly Visitors, presided at the tea meeting.

Mrs. Mary K. Guiney, planning director of UCS Services to Aging, praised the volunteers for their contributions and reported on local and national efforts being made in behalf of the aging population. Friendly Visitors — a group of some 350 men and women who help and befriend lonely, elderly people—was organized 18 years ago by the Women's Committee of United Community Services.

Those on whom individual Friendly Visitors call are lonely senior citizens living in dreary, little rooms. Groups of Friendly Visitors have "adopted" whole geriatric wards at Northville State Hospital and Wayne County General Hospital. Several other Friendly Visitors have offered friendship and help to all the elderly patients at 25 private nursing homes for the aged.

Boat Banter

Regardless of how perfectly planned competitive boating events are there apparently is still plenty of room for improvement both in the conduct of the race and the sportsmanship of the contestants.

Take for example the final heat of the 12th running of the Detroit Memorial race on the Detroit River last Saturday, June 14, when the judges, on the strength of a photograph of the start, disqualified Lee Schoenheit in "Gale VI" for jumping the gun. Lee said he had at least two boats along with him at the start but the
the photo mysteriously was missing. Lee won the final heat hands down and had lapped two boats and was in position to beat Bill Muncey in "Miss Thriftway" but not wanting to humiliate his colleagues Schoenheit backed off and was content to just cross the finish line first—which he did easily. Had Lee continued to pour it on the perfectly running "Gale VI" he would have had the extra lap that is required of a boat that jumps
the starting gun.

Schoenheit was puzzled and so were the hundreds of spectators lining the banks of the river.

Where is the photograph?
Had it been available undoubtedly every local newspaper would have printed it to show how the town's top boat was disqualified.

construction of their five level house (which will have carpeted bathrooms and an intercom system to name just a few of the luxuries).

Lessons in Japanese

Pam, Jim and Jon Motschall are learning all about Japan this week under the tutelage of their cousins, Chip and Nicky Connor, who have come to their Kenwood road home straight from Tokyo.

This is the boys' first visit to the United States and they came with their mother, Mrs. Jacqueline Treis Connor, a former Detroit, to see the Motor City. They speak Japanese fluently and are much feted by their cousins and neighbors.

Family Reunions

Other news with a foreign flavor comes from the William Coeliuses, of Bedford road, who have just returned from a six weeks tour of Europe.

While abroad they visited their grandson, Peter MacDonald, who is stationed at Bad Kreuznach, Germany with the 8th Infantry. Enroute home they had another reunion with their son-in-law and daughter, the William MacDonalds, formerly of the Pointe, now of Boston, who drove to New York for the family get together.

Graduation Parties

Graduation is always a good excuse for a party and Mrs. Eugene W. Lewis came through handsomely last week for her grandson, Eugene William Lewis III.

That young man received his degree from Grosse Pointe University School and will be attending Brown University next fall.

Also on hand for the dinner at the Little Club given by Mrs. Lewis was his other grandmother, Mrs. John L.
Butsch, of Buffalo, N.Y., and Jane Butsch, of that city.

The Sherburne C. Browns, of Neff road, were hosts at a reception Sunday in their home to honor their son, Dr. Sherburne C. Brown, Jr., who received his medical degree from Michigan Medical School on Saturday.

Dr. Brown, who was president of his graduating class at Grosse Pointe High, and received his AB degree from the University of Michigan will be interning in Ann Arbor and then go on to Cornell Medical Center in New York.

Heir Born in Scotland

Lt. and Mrs. W. Merritt Jones, who have been stationed for many months near Edinburgh, Scotland chose a Highland name for their bairn born June 14.
The young man is Peter MacDonald Jones.

His grandmother, Mrs. George R. Fink, of Cloverly road, will be leaving in mid-August to visit her son-in-law and daughter (Elise Fink), and the baby. With her will go son, John. The Joneses will be moving about then to a new post near London.

Also joining the family reunion will be Ann Fink who is Europe-bound with a group of gals about that time. The three Finks will get together in Paris about September 1 for the flight home.

annual regatta on Lake St.
Clair last Saturday, June 14, your reporter witnessed a veteran small boat skipper using extremely poor judgment at the starting line when he sailed across the line before his class start and interfered with boats of another class that was starting. True, he was not in the restricted zone but on the course itself.
The rules of the race do not forbid boats to be on the course before their start but just common sense and courtesy dictates this sort of thing just is not done. We know for sure that the skipper in question would scream bloody murder if someone did it to him and he would have a protest flag flying from the highest spot in the rigging and try to make a disqualification stick.

There is such a thing as yachting proprieties and most all yachtsmen abide by them.

When youngsters complain of what they think is an infraction of the rules in a sailboat race there must be something to it. The complaint we have reference to occurred in the Junior Interlake race on Saturday when the kids said that a club owned power boat was on the course pointing out the marks for the crew that was representing the power-boat's club.

Had the power boat in question been an official patrol boat the race committee could have questioned the skipper and told him such practices are not condoned in yachting. Can't you imagine what would happen if everyone of the 162 yachts, that participated in the race that day, had a power boat running ahead to point out the course markers for it.
One improvement was used in the Bayview race. That was the addition of another starting line buoy near the committee boat. This is the first time in memory this has been done and Commodore Ray Priebe, skipper of the committee boat, "Borealis," said, "two starting buoys instead of one buoy and the committee boat certainly is an improvement. It protects the committee boat from a possible ramming by a yacht that may be forced by another at the committee boat end of the line. The buoy

Racing sports cars may be a traffic hazard these days as you cross Grosse Pointe boulevard but the residents of 50 years ago had their problems. The Columbus Labadies lost their cow due to a speeding interurban car.

The Labadies were the first family to build in Muir road, then Oak street. The house, 88, is still standing, although the barn that housed the famous cow has long since given way to a garage.

The Labadies were living in Fisher road where the new gray and white clinic now stands. They bought their 100 feet of frontage from Howie Muir, son-in-law to pioneer Ingersoll Lewis, who was subdividing his large lakefront farm. Their lot cost $120 and the house was built by the man who constructed the old Country Club.

Mr. Labadie was the Farms' first policeman, and had the first motorcycle here. He earned $125 for a ten hour day, a lofty sum then, and they had 10 children. That's why the cow was such a necessity. Every day before the children left for school they took the cow to the pasture, which is now Mapleton road. One night after supper they were leading her home and didn't see or hear the interurban, whizzing up the boulevard. The car struck the cow and killed her and the Labadie milk supply was gone.

Mrs. Labadie still had her chickens and a pig. They cured their own bacon then. For weeks after they moved into their new home the rutted muddy street was nameless. One day Mr. Labadie was talking to Mr. Muir and suggested the street be named for him. He was too modest and decided to commemorate the three giant oak trees which stood near Kercheval avenue. (That main thoroughfare wasn't built when Oak street was subdivided in 1900.) Oak street it became, but the Labadies had time on their side. It's now Muir road.

Much of the Lewis property was subdivided in subsequent years, Lewiston being named for the family whose original home was by the lake where the Edwin S. Barbour home stands today.

The Labadies were in close contact with the Muir family, Mrs. Labadie, in spite of her 10 children, occasionally working for them, and making pin money selling frogs. Mrs. Howie Muir, daughter of Ingersoll Lewis, still calls Mrs. Labadie, now living in widowhood and a semi invalid, to talk over the days when the Pointe was growing up.

Another Grosse-Pointe mansion is about to go the way of past palaces such as the Truman Newberry, John Newberry, Cyrus Lothrop, Theodore Hall homes of former industrial giants.

At the Waldo A. Avery public sale last week, Mrs. Neal Fitzgerald commented to her sister, Mrs. William Gilbride as they poked about in the treasures of the white pillared Georgian house, that in a few years here would be another subdivision of luxurious ranch houses with electronic devices for making living easier. Progress, yes, but a nostalgic sigh for Victorian grandeur.

Congratulations to Dorothy Phillips, graduating first in Liggett's senior class. This miss is editor of the school paper, honor roll student for four years, winner of the Jeannette M. Liggett History Award, the Liggett Scholarship Award, winner of Detroit News and National Writing Awards and granted the Radcliffe Great Lakes Scholarship, in the amount of $1,250 to continue her college studies.

Her classmate, Margaret Hakken, gets kudos too. This young lady gathered in some tidy writing and art awards plus a scholarship to Radcliffe College.

The chemise is here to stay, if party favors are any indication. Cynthia Chase, daughter of the Edwin Chases, of Newcastle road, entertained her sixth grade chums at Monteith School last week with a luncheon. For each young lass was a doll with lavish yarn hair and the newest in sack frocks.

Most exciting fashion news seems to come from mother's attic trunk. Mrs. Dan Johnson, looking very chic in a rose and white printed cotton, not a sack, admitted at a Country Club luncheon last week that the stunning chemise she had worn to a recent cocktail pour was a snappy number she had found in the family attic, packed away, circa 1926.

PILFERINGS

Smart dialogue from Broadway hit "Two for the Seesaw" starring Henry Fonda, and Anne Bancroft: "All right, then, don't be such a friend. Be an enemy and stop pestering me."

Telling a modern bride what a wife should know is like giving a fish a bath.

You can't have your cake and somebody else's cookie, too.

The woman rushed out of the house and ran smack into her next door neighbor. "Going somewhere?" asked the neighbor.

"Yes, I'm baking a cake from a recipe I heard on the radio. It said to put all the ingredients in a bowl and then beat it for five minutes."

"Who's that awfully ugly looking woman?"
"That's my wife."
"You should see mine."

I knew about etiquette when Emily Post was a Stump.

She asked me if I was one of those tired businessmen. And I told her I was never too tired to mean business.

Pointer of Interest

By Patricia Talbot
JEANNE WHITTAKER, OF EAST JEFFERSON AVENUE

The United States Army has termed Korea a "hardship area" and for troops stationed there this term is an understatement. For girls like Jeanne Whittaker, who plan recreational programs for the GIs under Red Cross direction, a soldier's smile is reward enough for the tough job they took on in a country that is centuries behind America in economy, culture and just plain living.

In Southern Korea where Jeanne was stationed with her Red Cross unit for a year, there are no comforts and little entertainment in the country which has been devastated by war and has little industry but the rice paddy. The Korean people and their homes are "off limits" to GIs. The Army Special Services brings movies, books, chocolates and tobacco but the Red Cross brings the real spirit of home to the boys stationed in the lonely compounds for 16 months without a break.

Began Early in Red Cross
Jeanne's interest in the Red Cross began when she was a tenth grader in Grosse Pointe Country Day School. Her father, Dr. Alfred H. Whittaker, had always taken an active part in the organization and she continued the family tradition by serving on the Junior Red Cross Council.

She was a history major at the University of Michigan and anxious to travel when she graduated. The Red Cross seemed the perfect answer to her career problems.

After her year's service in Korea Jeanne returned home to spend some time with her family before signing up for duty in the European theater. She will report to Washington September 2 and her next post will be in France or Morocco.

Now a Welfare Worker
Meantime she is working for the Welfare Department in Detroit, making up case histories of the needy. Her family has an apartment in town during the winter so she walks to her job on East Jefferson. In the manner of early Pointe resorters the Whittakers open their gracious home on the lake only during summer months. They will be in residence this week.

When Jeanne and her sisters and brothers were growing up it was a different story. The big house was always open to their friends. Now Hilary is in public relations in New York, Joyce is teaching nursing at Harper Hospital, where she stays during the week and brother Jim was just graduated from Brown University. Another brother, Al, has a garage apartment on the estate.

History Chief Interest

Jeanne grew up in an atmosphere of scholarship. Her father's main interest is history and he has collected a fabulous assortment of rare books. On the book-lined walls of the Whittaker library are letters signed by Anatole France, old maps of Michigan and other collector's items. It was a far cry from her home to the barren land in Korea.

One of her jobs in the Orient was to direct games and quizzes for the GIs on topical questions. She particularly remembers the one on "outer space." The girls would visit each compound in turn, serving coffee and doughnuts and then helping the men to set up entertainment programs.

Her next assignment will be different. In France the Red Cross clubs are already set up and the workers help the soldier to communicate with the people and learn and intergate to their foreign duty.

Two Year Assignment

She will be gone two years this time with time off for vacations to visit Paris and London, probably. While she was in the Orient she visited Japan and Hong Kong on her leaves. Like most Americans she was impressed with Japan, especially after Korea, which is very primitive and where the citizens not very industrious or ambitious. From her little contact with the Koreans, through the Red Cross house girls, she found them generous and kind, but with a long way to go in learning to fend for themselves and make the long climb to an industrialized self-supporting society.

Summer Refresher

This summer Jeanne will enjoy sailing and swimming, right from her own back yard. Not only do the Whittakers study history; they live right in the midst of Pointe tradition. Near their lakefront wall is the old Cadieux farmhouse, once located on Jefferson, with its sagging beams and stone chimney, much as it was when the first French farmers lived in it over 100 years ago.

Jeanne will be well fortified by her summer in the Pointe and her work with Detroit's welfare cases to resume her Red Cross job, bringing to it the skill and enthusiasm which make Red Cross girls throughout the world such good ambassadors of the best our country has to offer.

Mrs. Mills Retires as Head Of Historical Society

Mrs. Wilson W. Mills, of Woodland place, retired last week as president of the Detroit Historical Society, which she has headed for the past 18 months.

Mrs. Mills, only living child of the late Mayor and Governor, Hazen S. Pingree, will be succeeded by Marquis E. Shattuck, assistant superintendent of the Detroit Public Schools.

Pointe Counter Points

By Pat Rousseau

Cool... calm... and COLLECTED by Jacobson's Sports Department... skirts and blouses for mixing... matching! One carefree Dacron and cotton (with drip-dry manners) comes in pastels. A true classic with role sleeves, graceful skirt, convertible collar. The blouse... about five dollars... the skirt... about eight. Cotton knit go-togethers include shorts, shirts, skirts... striped and cut with a straight line to current fashion.

Prettiest idea around... all tied into a delightful Bahama straw hat with a colorful bandana. The chapeau is brimful of Elizabeth Arden's Blue Grass Flower Mist and hair spray... lipstick, suntan oil and eyeshadow. Wear the becoming hat! Use the glamour aids to help you enjoy your most beautiful summer. An eleven fifty value for seven fifty at Trail Pharmacy.

Appearance ALWAYS counts... anywhere, anytime... any age! So we'll cast a vote for the good looking, well tailored Madras plaid sport coats with antique silver buttons for boys at E. J. Hickey. These jackets... a dacron-cotton blend are easily groomed... just wash'n wear. Sizes twelve to twenty... twenty dollars.

Cooler than color... the black and white look... crisp... uncomplicated... chic! D. J. Healy combines a narrow pleated arnel skirt... sail white... with a black and white polka dot blouse on top. And here's a bit of easy addition... ten plus thirteen dollars add up to a whole lot of fashion for a very little tariff.

SHOWCASED... in their window! The value of the week! Wanamaker's Studio... Mack Avenue are featuring (for this week only) a beautifully upholstered, down cushioned sofa... three thirty five, NOW... two twenty five. Each week a different piece of furniture will be selected, shown and specially priced. So... keep watching and drop in... perhaps it will be just the decorator item you admired at the studio.

Comfort and Quality under the sun... for a man's summer... found in Proper's boxer-style swim trunks. Made of quick drying nylon... they are carefully constructed, exceptionally fine fitting. Handsome cotton ones too... in regimental stripes, fine plaids and checks. Note the shore and shower coats of cotton... some are terry lined... also the trunks and tops... ensembled... at Proper's.

The treasured past leaves a charming impression... especially at The League Shop... where a well chosen collection of antiques can be found. For example a beautiful rosewood English tea caddy... circa 1810... or a hand pareled liquor set... remarkably intact. Not to forget the wonderful selection of new silver and linen to gift the June bride.

Knit one-der-ful... in the shape of the chemise! The newly conceived Dalton cashmires now arriving at Jacobson's. Looks a little like a jacket... which is good news... indeed! The beloved classic line is also represented by the perennial cardigan (some with designs). Bulky knits are dramatically crested... and glamorous evening sweaters complete the scene at Jacobson's.
