HEADLINES

of the WEEK

Grosse Pointe News

Thursday, September 4
PRESIDENT EISENHOWER summoned Secretary of State John Foster Dulles to meet him at his vacation retreat in Newport, R. I., today, Thursday, for a full discussion of what White House sources call the "serious situation in the Formosa Strait."

In accordance with the United States commitment to defend the Nationalists' Formosa stronghold by a mutual-defense treaty, the President pledged U. S. help in the defense of the islands of Quemoy and Matsu.

Following the President's support-pledge Russia served notice that the entire Red bloc would back the Chinese Communists in the event of war.

Friday, September 5
THE DETROIT NEWS-PAPER strike continued today as the three leading dailies put on a show of solidarity by refusing to return to work, despite an order that that effect by the International Newspaperman's Union.

A meeting between the International Union and the Publisher's Ass'n. was scheduled for 3 p. m. today, Friday, and the pressmen of all three publications were to meet to discuss the crisis Friday evening. The conflict, which is essentially between the Detroit Free Press and the pressman's local, continued to prevent the printing of any of the three leading metropolitan papers.

Saturday, September 6
A THREE-DAY strike which caused Detroit's three daily newspapers to suspend publication ended Sunday. Publication was resumed with the Sunday editions of all three papers.

The settlement came after pressmen voted to return to their jobs at a stormy 4 1/2-hour meeting, and after Knight Newspapers Inc., publisher of the Detroit Free Press, had filed a damage suit for $1,000,000 against the pressmen's unions.

The Free Press also asked judgment for $150,000 for each day of work stoppage, charging violation of contract. The strike started at the Free Press Wednesday when pressmen refused to work in protest over the discharge of a union steward. The Times, News, and Free Press did not publish Thursday, Friday or Saturday editions.

Sunday, September 7
DETROIT WAS SELECTED Saturday to attempt to bring the 1964 Olympic Games to the United States. The honor may cost the City 20 to 30 million dollars.

Chosen over three other cities, Detroit must now compete with foreign cities for the giant athletic competition. Final approval of the site will be made by the International Olympic Committee next May. Detroit's chances were hailed as excellent.

Monday, September 8
A UNITED STATES TASK FORCE escorted a Nationalist supply convoy almost to the muzzles of Chinese Communist artillery Sunday to lend the first American support in the defense of besieged Quemoy.

Red China reacted with a barrage of propaganda, but didn't fire a shot. Peiping Radio met the defiant American action by accusing the warships of violating the Chinese territorial waters and warning that such "encroachment . . . is dangerous."

Tuesday, September 9
THE STAGE was set Monday for solid progress in contract negotiations between the UAW and General Motors Corp. It appeared that chances for a strike in the auto industry were slimmer than last week.

Wednesday, September 10
A major development was the UAW's decision to call off two Tuesday meetings at which it was to explain its position in the negotiations. Officials and other leaders of cities having auto plants had been summoned to the talks.

Gordon Duncan, and Patrolmen Charles Slusser and John Trombley; second team, Det. Lt. Stanley Enders, and Patrolmen Gustav Boone and Don Dean.

Sorority Sponsors Drive To Screen Pre-School Age Children for Eye Trouble

Three Day Campaign Includes Examination by Trained Volunteers at Three Separate Locations On September 17, 18 and 19

A three-day screening campaign designed to catch signs of eye trouble in children before they reach school age will be staged in the Grosse Pointe area September 17, 18, 19.

Free examinations will be conducted at three locations by specially trained volunteers of the Delta Gamma Alumnae Association.

On Wednesday, September 17, the examinations will be given at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, on Lakeshore east of Fisher between 9 a. m. and noon. On Thursday,

Jewelry Shunned By Thief in City
The home of H. W. Smith, 16555 East Jefferson, was burglarized on Thursday, September 4.

The thief, gained entrance through a second story bedroom window and proceeded about his business in what Park police said was "a very orderly manner."

The burglar went through three bedrooms, took $90 in cash and a small strong-box which contained: one Hawaiian dollar bill, several Japanese bills, navy dog tags, an empty wallet, and other personal items.

Jewelry and other valuables were left untouched. Police believe that the thief left the same way he came in.

Three Admit Burglaries In Pointe

Arrests of Suspects in Detroit Closes Cases in the Park and City

Confessions made by three burglar suspects arrested by Detroit police on Friday, August 29, cleared a string of burglaries in the Pointe and Detroit, according to information released by Park Police Chief Arthur Louwers.

Charged with committing more than 60 burglaries in Detroit, are, Irving Goldfab, 36, of 3011 Beals; Malcolm Harrison, 25, of 8731 Fischer; and David Clayton, 22, 2756 Seyburn, all of Detroit.

Three Injured As Cars Crash

Three persons received minor injuries following an accident at Lake Shore road and Vernier road on Friday, September 5, according to a Shores police accident report.

Injured were Mrs. Evelyn Beattie, 32, of 4351 Beaconsfield, Detroit; her son, George M., 8; and Mrs. Mary Copeland of Detroit, all passengers in a car driven by Mrs. Beattie's husband, George, 35.

The accident report disclosed that Robert J. Sneed, 26, of 9201 Prevost, Detroit, was going north on Lake Shore, when he ran into Beattie's car.

Police said Beattie claimed that Sneed, who was going west on Lake Shore, made a left turn from Lake Shore onto Vernier. The light was green for Lake Shore and Sneed did not have the right of way, since he should have waited until traffic was clear before completing his turn onto Vernier.

Mrs. Beattie suffered cuts about the face and mouth; her son came out of the accident with a bump on the forehead and ear; and Mrs. Copeland received a severe bruise on the right leg.

All three were taken to Bon Secours Hospital by police for treatment of their injuries. Sneed was issued a ticket for not having his car under control and causing an accident.

Garbage Disposal Ordinance Passed By Farms Council

All Structures Must Be Equipped with Own Systems By July 1, 1960 When Public Collections Will Be Stopped

The Farms council, following a public hearing on Monday, September 8, adopted a garbage disposal ordinance, which will become effective within 20 days.

The new law requires, after it becomes effective, that all new homes shall have disposals installed, and that present home owners shall have up to July 1, 1960, to install either a disposal or an incinerator, if they do not have them now.

A resident at the hearing raised an objection to the incinerator method of getting rid of garbage because of the possible offensive odors that might result. He was informed that if there are any objections raised by neighbors, the offending home owner could be stopped from using the burner, and could be made to install another, or have the one he has repaired.

The ordinance is also applicable to commercial buildings and other places where food wastes might accumulate.

The July 1, 1960 deadline was set because after that date the Farms will discontinue all collection of garbage and food wastes, and will make no further appropriations from tax monies for that purpose.

Speeder Nabbed By City Police

Early Monday morning, September 8, Grosse Pointe City police stopped a carload of youths and arrested the driver, James Howard Fish, on a charge of reckless driving.

Fish, who lives at 18851 Col-linson, in East Detroit, was apprehended after speeding on University place to Jefferson avenue, then down Roosevelt to Maumee.

The car was held for a $25 bond and Fish was ordered to appear in court on September 23.

Woods Street's Name Changed

A petition to change the name of Heckendorn place, to Birch lane, was approved by the Woods Council on Monday, September 8.

The petition was originated by Mr. and Mrs. Martin J. Schiessler of 680 Heckendorn place, and signed by 19 residents living in six homes in the place.

The reason for the change, the residents claimed, is that Heckendorn—is too hard to spell.

FINAL KERBY PAYMENT

On recommendation of City Engineer Murray M. Smith, the Farms council on Monday, September 8, approved the payment of $18,827.79, to contractors for the widening of Kerby road. The sum represents the balance due on the contract.

School Officials Pleased With Professional Staff

"We have 84 new faces on our professional staff this fall," Superintendent James W. Bushong reported to the Board of Education Monday night. "Eleven of these are former teachers or full time substitutes while the rest are full time replacements and additions to our teaching staff."

The total of all employees, professional, office workers and plant personnel in the Grosse Pointe school is now 666, a gain of 40 over a year ago. Most of these were needed due to increased enrollments, up more than 500 students over a year ago, and the opening of the new Samuel Miller Brownell Junior High School, he said.

Of the 73 new, full-time professional staff members, 23 are

Disagree with Report of Research Council; Set Hearing for October 1

An apparent anti-Pointe consolidation Farms council, at a meeting held on Monday, September 8, are making preparations for a hearing on the matter for Wednesday, October 1, at 8 p. m., possibly at the Municipal Hall or at the War Memorial.

Council members said a report made by the Citizens Research Council of Michigan, was not very good, and attacked a number of the organization's findings. The October 1 meeting was set to go over the report "page by page," with the public invited to attend.

At the start of the meeting, Councilman Henry Bodman II made it clear to the audience that the Farms did not ask for such a report.

"Representatives of the Research Council approached the city council for permission to check our public records," he said. "This was granted. However, the group did not conduct its research at our request, but at the request of the Park and the City."

Attacks Report

He attacked the report's "inconsistencies" and its lack of consideration of "intangibles," including that part of the report which stated that the combined communities could be run by a staff of 12, which he said, is impossible and could not be done.

"Also, there is nothing in the report to back the conclusion that $500,000 could be saved," he said. "I feel this figure came out of a clear sky."

Councilman Edward C. Roney asked City Clerk-Assessor Dawson Nacy what percentage of this saving would apply to the Farms.

Mr. Nacy said that about 40 percent of this saving, or about $4 per $1,000 of assessed valuation, should be the city's share.

Mayor William Connolly and Councilman William Butler opposed any cutting of police and fire service as an emergency measure, as suggested in the report.

Citizens Opposed

Citizens who attended Monday night's meeting expressed opposition to consolidation, including one resident who stated that the Farms council is doing a good job and that the Farms has a good form of government and it would be a shame to have the city lose its identity. Everyone expressed satisfaction with the present city administration and said they were opposed to any change.

The mayor and several councilmen said that if the cities merged, it would be too big for them, and they would not think of running for city offices.

It was pointed out that the administrative staff, headed by City Manager Sidney DeBoer, went over the research council's report, and it was found that Farms figures on savings, and so on, did not coincide with those of the report.

Hit Enforcement Views

Among the items attacked by the staff is the research council's views on law enforcement, referred to on Page 28 of the report.

"The major police problem in the Grosse Pointes is traffic control and enforcement. Crimes constitute a minor portion of police work. A significant amount of time is devoted to work not ordinarily of a law enforcement nature, such as bank details, transporting sick children home from school, watching homes of absent residents and various other service type details. At present the level of protection provided is high."

If this type of service is desirable, the administrative staff report stated, it is questionable whether these services could be maintained with the staff as proposed under consolidation.

In reference to the research report regarding work being

Burglaries

and their confessions cleared three burglaries and one attempt in the Park and one breaking and entering in the City, the officers said.

The admitted burglars told the Pointe officers that they broke into the homes of the Emil Wulzes, 1180 Audubon, on May 2; Mr. and Mrs. John N. Marble, 564 Lincoln road, on May 7; and the homes of the J. A. Montgomerys, 1255 Berkshire; and Joseph Lemanski, 1389 Bedford, on August 16. They were thwarted when they encountered iron bars in a milk chute while trying to break into the home of John M. White, 759 Barrington, also on August 16.

Much Loot Recovered
Chief Louwers said that a considerable amount of loot taken from the homes in his community has been recovered and the victims will be taken to Detroit police headquarters to identify their properties.

Capt. T. E. Hargrett said that Goldfab and Harrison admitted being alone when they invaded the Marble residence, from which they took a small strong box from the basement, containing stocks, a car title and personal papers.

Goldfab said that the contents of the box were all destroyed, the captain said.

Get Cash and Clothes
From the Wulz home, the three burglars got a $4,000 wild Canadian mink coat, $115 in cash, various items of clothing and a small safe from the basement.

The Montgomerys' loss was a man's wrist watch, a lady's multi-diamond wedding band, a portable TV set and miscellaneous pieces of silverware; total value, $391.

Taken from the Lemanskis was a small table radio and $15 in change pilfered from three small banks.

Chief Louwers said that Goldfab is an old-time burglar, and was released from Jackson Prison last February. He is known to the Park authorities who have been looking for him as a suspect in a previous burglary, the chief said.

Detroit authorities will prosecute the three men because of the greater number of burglaries in their community, the chief added.

their departments are permitted to send three-men teams because they have been classified in the Class C category, whereas, the City, with less than 20 men, is in Class D, and are allowed only two-men teams.

All police officers participating in the shoot must be in uniform, with the exception of the police chiefs.

Winners in each classification will be presented a trophy by Gov. G. Mennen Williams.

The shoot will consist of slow time, rapid and silhouette firing, with hand guns only.

Dale Carnegie Class Starting

One week earlier than announced on the Center's September program card the famous Dale Carnegie class will begin at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial. The first meeting is scheduled for Monday evening, September 15, at 7 o'clock. Anyone who is interested in knowing more about this course is cordially invited to attend on the 15th. Attendance at this demonstration in no way obligates anyone to take the course.

The Dale Carnegie course is known all over the world and is endorsed by leading business men everywhere. Many large concerns require their executives to take the course.

The premise of Dale Carnegie maintains that your biggest job whether an accountant, doctor, executive, tradesman or merchant is communicating and getting along with people and this takes training and practice.

In Dale Carnegie classes you learn to speak more effectively, gain a deeper understanding of the application of good human relations principles, become more persuasive, and find out how to get people to act in harmony.

Christ Church Plans Nursery

Christ Church Cooperative Nursery will begin its seventh year of classes for pre-school children on Tuesday, September 16, in the Parish House of Christ Church. The Nursery will continue its four day a week schedule for all children enrolled in both the three and four year old groups.

Two new teachers, Mrs. Frank Willson and Mrs. William Carleton, will join the staff this year to work together with Mrs. Charles Stewart, Director, and Miss Marian Campbell.

During the coming year nursery operations will be conducted by co-chairmen, Mrs. Wallace E. Clayton and Mrs. Richard H. Childress. Mrs. George Primeau will serve as Treasurer, Mrs. Robert Dodd as Equipment Chairman, Mrs. Ross Hume as Health and Insurance Chairman, and Mrs. William Ludwig as Admissions Chairman.

Plans are under way to offer the children a more expanded program.

A few openings still remain in the three year old group. Anyone interested may contact Mrs. Ludwig at TU 5-4982.

School Staff

in other parts of the United States.

Eighteen of the men and two of the women have had military service. In all, 39 have had previous teaching experience. The range of experience for the whole group is from 0-25 years with the average being 3.6 years. The average age is 29.4 years as compared to an average age of 35.4 years for the teaching staff last June.

"We feel we have a strong, versatile teaching team with which to carry on the quality program for which Grosse Pointe is noted," Superintendent Bushong stated. "Assistant Superintendent Dickey led a very effective group of recruiters on a long and exhaustive search for the very best possible prospects."

"Several thousand candidates were contacted during the spring and summer and from these the final selections were made," he said. "I think the results are excellent and that the job of educating the boys and girls of Grosse Pointe is in most capable hands."

The Superintendent also reported to the Board of Education concerning the efforts made, and to be made, in orienting the newcomers to the school system and the community. Most of Tuesday, September 2, and Wednesday, September 3, was devoted to this end. Building, department or grade level, and all system meetings were held to acquaint all personnel with policies, procedures, and resources. In addition, each new teacher received the personal attention of a veteran teacher who facilitated the newcomer's adjustment in every way possible.

On Saturday, September 13, all staff members recently arrived in Grosse Pointe will be the guests of the Board of Education on a guided bus tour of the community. In this way it is felt the new teacher will more quickly become familiar with the local environs and aware of particular points of interest. This aids materially in making one better informed about the community and those he teaches.

During the first week in October the final phase of the formal orientation program for the new teachers ends with a visiting day. Each new teacher will be relieved of his teaching duties on one of three days and assigned to visit another building in the system to observe other teachers in action.

In this way new ideas and techniques are learned and exchanged. Experience has demonstrated that not only the new teachers, but also the veterans and, most importantly, the students benefit from such cross pollination.

done on a contract basis as opposed to work which could be done with the combined communities own personnel and equipment, the staff pointed to this:

"If certain of these public improvements were made with the use of city personnel, it would be necessary to acquire special equipment and it would also require the employing of people who are more or less specialists in a particular field.

This would of necessity increase the cost to the city for wages and would also be reflected in the cost for pension and social security and so on."

HOW TO PROFIT THROUGH TAX EXEMPTION

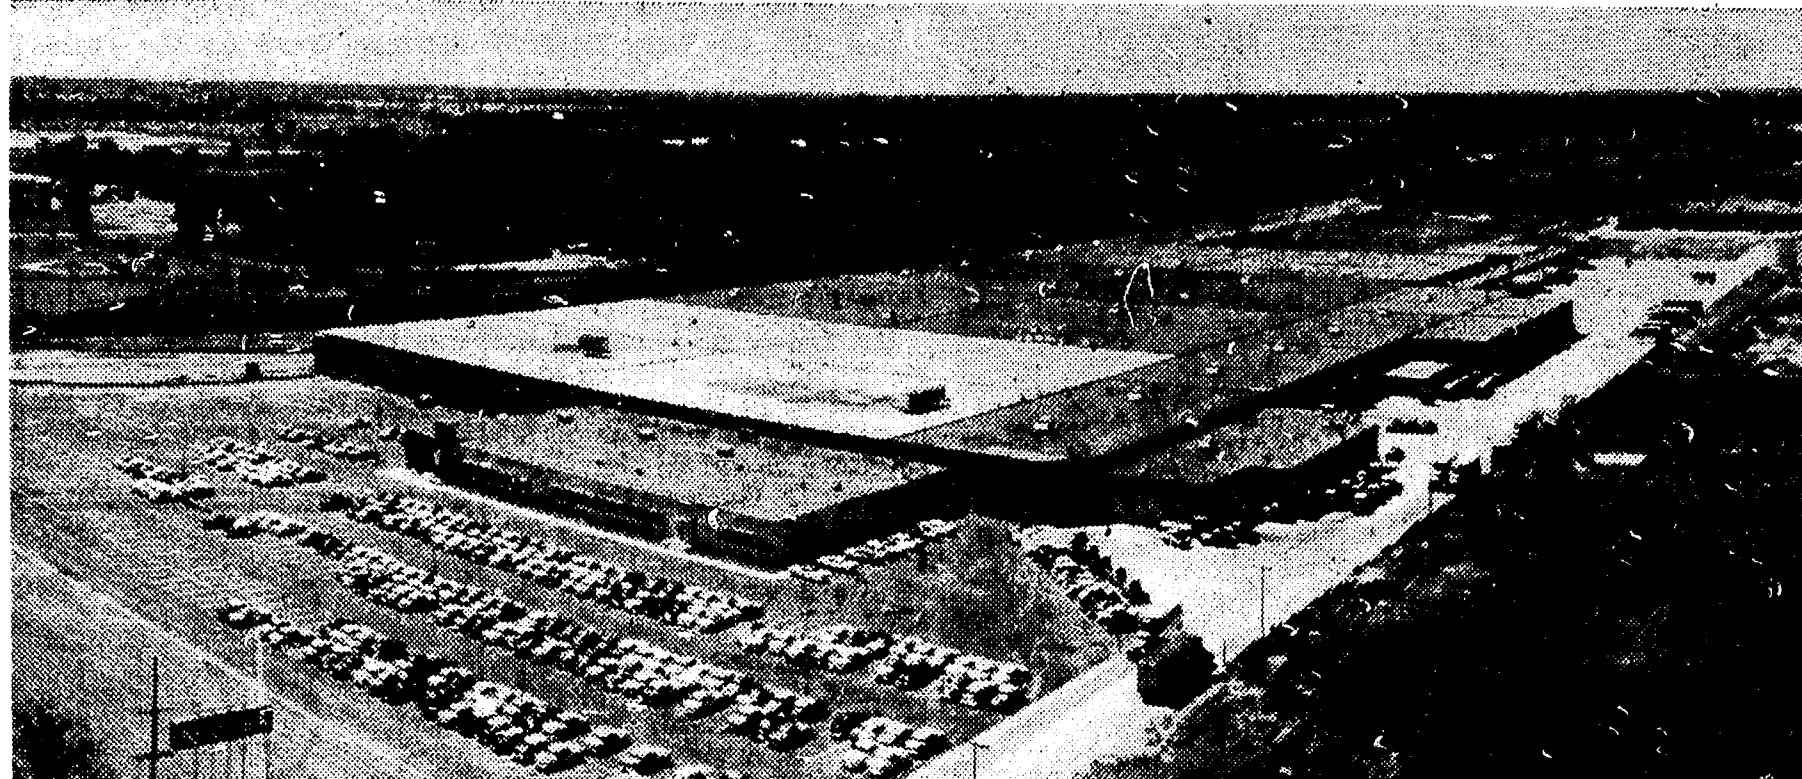

With today's high tax levels, investors in medium and high tax brackets are turning to tax-free Municipal Bonds for income that they can keep.

If you have a taxable income of $10,000 or more, you may be well repaid by investigating the advantages of tax-exempt State and Municipal Bonds. For instance, if you file a single return on a taxable income of $14,000, you would have to receive a dividend return of 7.45% on a taxable security in order to equal the yield from a 3.50% tax-free Bond. It's something to think about!

Our New Booklet, "How To Profit Through Tax-Exemption" explains in plain language your need for tax exemption, tells how much these high-grade investments can be worth to you. There's no obligation. Send for copy today, or phone

Kroger Distribution Center Is World's Largest

Largest facility of its kind in the world, the new Kroger food distribution center at Schoolcraft and Middlebelt roads in Livonia contains 15 acres of automated and electronically-controlled food handling devices under one roof. More than 13 million tons of grocery store products will flow through the huge, multi-million-dollar structure each week to the more than 100 Kroger supermarkets operated by the company's Detroit division. A survey which showed Detroit and Eastern Michigan to have the fourth greatest "growth potential" in the nation. Kroger expects by 1963 to have added 200,000 families to the 750,000 the company's stores already serve in the area. The new center can handle among other things, 30 carloads of beef per day, the equivalent of 1,200 beef cattle, and 36 carloads or 423 tons of bananas every week. Nearly 3 1/2 acres are under refrigeration furnished by 500 tons of equipment.

Youths Prefer Fines to Jail

Grosse Pointe City's Justice Court on Tuesday, September 2, was presided over by Judge Joseph P. Uvick. His agenda was concerned, exclusively, with the dispensation of justice in the case of seven Grosse Pointe youths all in court on a charge of disorderly person.

Sentenced were William R. Forster, 956 Lincoln road; William D. Shilson, 5101 Bishop road; Thomas W. Lange, 1835 Norwood; Michael Lee, 435 Fisher road; Robert K. Preston, 880 Lincoln road; Charles D. Brooks, 583 Lakeland avenue; and Dayton R. Colegrove, of 410 St. Clair avenue.

Forster was given the choice of a $40 fine or 20 days in the Wayne County Jail. Shilson was sentenced to pay a fine of $20 or spend 5 days behind bars. Lange's sentence was a choice between $10 or 5 days. Lee was given a $15 fine or 10 days. Preston's alternative to 5 days was a $10 fine. Brooks' sentence was identical to Preston's, and Colegrove was sentenced to pay a fine of $40 or

(W)Hole Cost Is What Hurts

L. L. Dacken of 20312 Mack avenue, owner of an electronics laboratory bearing his name at that address, probably wishes that the thief who stole two radios from his store on Friday, September 5, had done so without cutting out a piece of the big front window.

Dacken told Woods police that someone had stolen the radios, one worth about $40, and the other valued at $20, from a window display counter.

The thief cut a 30-inch by 20-inch hole in the window and reached in and took the items.

The loss totaled only $60, but replacing the window cost —$325.

Andrew D. McWhirter of 3634 Third street, Wyandotte, paid a fine of $50 after he was found guilty of permitting an unlicensed driver to drive his car. He was arrested at Lake Shore and Moorland.

Dennis E. Humphrey of 343 Eureka; and Frederick W. Ly-ski of 4085 Twentieth street, both of Wyandotte, were each fined $35 and placed on one-year probation, after being found guilty of being disorderly persons. They were arrested at Lake Shore and Moorland.

Cars Must Stop For School Buses

A new Michigan law requiring motorists to stop when a school bus stops on the open highway to pick up or discharge passengers goes into effect Saturday, September 13.

The law also provides that the motorists must remain stopped until the bus driver puts his vehicle in motion, the driver signals the motorists to proceed, or the visual stop signals on the bus are no longer actuated.

The law was enacted at the last session of the Legislature to provide greater safety for children and also to bring Michigan's law into conformance with the Uniform Vehicle Code. Michigan was one of the few states in the nation which did not require stops in both directions. The previous law required only that driver overtaking a school bus stop.

Here are the important provisions of the law.

1. Drivers overtaking or meeting a school bus must stop at least 10 feet from the bus.

2. Passengers crossing the road after leaving the bus shall cross in front of the bus.

3. At an intersection where traffic is controlled by a traffic signal, a vehicle need not be brought to a full stop before passing a stopped bus. The passing vehicle may not be traveling more than 10 miles per hour.

4. A motorist on a divided highway need not stop when he is meeting a stopped school bus, but must stop when overtaking.

The law does not apply inside incorporated villages or cities unless a local ordinance has been passed to make it applicable. In such cases, the following sign must be posted "Stop for School Bus Loading or Unloading—City (Village) Ordinance."

Drivers must be alert because some communities have passed local ordinances.

During 1957-58 The University of Michigan Office of Admissions processed nearly 7,000 freshman applications. More than 5,000 applicants were found admissible, and 3,200 enrolled at the U-M.

Christ Church Canterbury Club Set for New Season

A committee of 40 is busy this week calling over 200 eligible teens of Christ Church parish, grades 9-12, in preparation for the resumption of Canterbury Club activities at 7 p. m. next Sunday, September 14.

The popular church youth fellowship will begin the season with a service of Evening Prayer led in part by teens at which the Rt. Rev. Archie H. Crowley, Suffragan Bishop of Michigan, will be the guest preacher. He will speak about the special areas of teen-aged life needing strong and practical application of the Christian religion. At 8:00 p. m. registration for the club's "church high school" will take place in the Parish House.

Although telephone contact is being made with Episcopalian youth only, the club membership is open as in the past to any young person who wants to "worship, study the Christian religion with high-school seriousness, have fun and work for the community in which he lives," announced the Rev. Tom Masson, club chaplain.

Mr. Masson said that grade eight students, formerly included with the membership, will not be included this year. "Christ Church is providing something special for them on Sunday mornings instead," he added.

A staff of 26 adults, some parents and some young married couples, is working behind the scenes with committees of teen-agers to turn the wheels of the organization smoothly. The church services, held each week in the church proper, will be ushered by teens. Acolytes, altar guild, lesson reading and choir will be the result of teen energy and initiative.

The third Sunday of the month will be marked by a celebration of Holy Communion — teens participating wherever possible at this service too. At least once each month special speakers, many of them community leaders, have been booked throughout

Skipper Takes Final Cruise

By Fred Rannels
Now hear this, now hear this — one of our crew is missing. Skipper Raymond A. Priebe, 57, of Shoreham road, set sail on his final cruise to horizons far beyond the vision of mortal man. The port of call will be the Sailors' Vahalla where the breeze always blows fair and strong and yachtsmen from all over the world congregate to spin yarns of the lore of the sea.

The Skipper cast off his mooring lines at 0455, Tuesday, 9 September 1958 and cleared his home port and sailed off into the breaking dawn on a calm sea and under a full spread of canvas billowed by a gentle following breeze.

The Skipper's departure leaves local yachtsmen with fond memories of his diligent work in promoting competitive yachting and marine safety. Long will he be remembered as Commodore of Bayview Yacht Club and as a Lt. Commander in the United States Coast Guard Reserve.

Commodore Priebe was a life member of Bayview Yacht Club which he joined in 1926. He attained the rank of Commodore in 1940 after stamping himself as an outstanding sailor aboard little boats like catboats and Stars. The Commodore first became the proud owner of a large yacht when he joined the syndicate of Trent and Neil McMath, Doc Cliff Sprunk, Bob Kales and Greg Fredricks when this happy crew bought the yawl "Spindrift" in 1939. This was always a happy crew and mainly because of the Commodore's gentle, soft spoken, congenial and tolerant manner. He had a way about him that could sway the most stubborn dissenter. His strong will and clear thinking always prevailed. He was a man among men.

After the "Spindrift" days the Commodore took over the helm of his own yacht "Borealis" which today has the Commodore's flag and the Bayview Burgee flying at half-mast in her rigging. "Borealis" last sailed the famous Bayview-Mackinac race in 1955 and since that time the Commodore has busied himself with the conduct of the race as a U.S. Coast Guard Reserve Lt. Commander aboard the cutter Mackinaw which annually patrols the race and insures the safety of the yachts and their crews.

The Mills race in Toledo will not be the same in future years for "Borealis" and its happy, fun-loving crew of the Commodore, Chuck Bradley, George Miller, Ted Goebel, George Glenning, Bill Baitinger and Gus Howard will not be there to live up to the event. They never sailed the race, just went for the fun, and fun they had.

The Commodore's most recent interest was the Junior program at his club. He was extremely instrumental in convincing the members that youngsters should be taught the ways of the sea and the

Police Training Program Starts

Two other similar schools will be conducted at the same time: one in Lincoln Park, under the direction of Deputy Chief Lawrence Eastman of Wyandotte, and another in Royal Oak, under Chief Ralph Moxley of Birmingham.

Expert to Give Talk on India

Sidney D. Gamble of New York will launch the Center's "Meet the Travellers" series Wednesday night, September 17, at 8:15 o'clock Mr. Gamble, father of David Gamble of Renaud road, has consented to present his pictures at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial on his way to New York from his summer home at Harbor Point.

Mr. Gamble has many ties with the Far East, which he knows well. He is the author of "Peking, a Social Survey," the first social survey ever made of an oriental city, and collaborated on several other important social and economic surveys in the East.

Two of Mr. Gamble's daughters have spent a good part of their married lives in India—one with the State Department, the other accompanying her anthropologist husband.

Mr. Gamble's slides will be especially candid portraits of the Indian people. Perhaps the highlight of the evening will be the pictures revolving around "Republic Day"—January 26 in India—when folk dancers from villages all over India congregate in New Delhi.

The public is cordially invited to meet Mr. Gamble and enjoy his pictures and commentary free of charge.

DRIVER ACCUSED

James Mahern of 1812 Brys drive, was ticketed for reckless driving by Woods police on Monday, September 2, on complaint of two witnesses who charged Mahern with driving at a high rate of speed on the Mason School playground, endangering playing children.

Young Escapee Nabbed in Park

A four-time escapee from the Boys Vocational School in East Lansing was arrested by a Park police officer following routine questioning of a group of boys on Wednesday, September 3.

Arrested was James Ramsay, 16, of Detroit, whom Motorcycle Officer Charles Carroll recognized from a picture on a wanted bulletin at the Park police station.

While cruising on his motorcycle, the officer spotted a youth who answered the description of a suspect wanted in an assault case that took place in the Park about a week ago. The boy was emerging from a restaurant at Jefferson and Wayburn.

Carroll called to the youth to stay where he was, but before the policeman could get off his cycle the lad ran through a vacant lot behind the restaurant and escaped.

The officer entered the business place and questioned a group of youngsters. While talking to them he recognized Ramsay, who was with the group, and immediately took him into custody.

The youth produced a Social Security card with a different name giving the address 13142 Kercheval, which proved to be a vacant commercial building. Persistent questioning by Carroll made the boy finally admit who he was.

Ramsay was turned over to Juvenile authorities, who said that the youth had been sought since his escape, for the fourth time, from the Vocational School about two weeks ago.

The first Navy "Seabee" battalion went into battle Sept. 1, 1942.

Tag Two Drivers After Accident

Farms police issued tickets to two drivers involved in a collision at Mack and Moran on Thursday, September 4.

Eva Mary Larson, 58, of 47 Vernier, was given a ticket for cutting in front of moving traffic; and Arthur F. Zimmer, 36, of 22330 Kramer avenue, St. Clair Shores, was handed one for not having his car under control.

An accident report disclosed that the woman was traveling east on Mack in the outside lane, when a truck in front of her made a signal for a left turn. To avoid hitting the truck, the woman changed lanes, pulling to the right, and was hit by Zimmer.

Zimmer told police that he noticed Miss Larson's car when it swerved, but he could not stop in time to avoid hitting it.

Both cars were damaged to the extent of about $15 each. The drivers will have a chance to have their say in court on September 17.

More than 1,600 babies were delivered at Women's Hospital last year.

Blustery Weather Limits DYC's 61st Annual Regatta

Race chairman Commodore Sydney Warner was a man with a problem last Saturday, September 6. It was his decision whether or not to let the small boats start in the Detroit Yacht Club's 61st annual Sweepstakes regatta on Lake St. Clair.

As the 25 to 35 mile an hour west wind wrestled the boats as they jockeyed around the starting line above Peche Island, Sid wrestled with himself and his problem. Finally all but one class, the Junior Interlakes, were allowed to start.

The Commodore figured that those skippers and crews who were out there prior to the start knew whether or not they could handle their crafts in the high wind and he left the decision up to them. Some sailed, others turned back to their home ports.

Some Didn't Make It

Some of those who sailed didn't get back in one piece. Carter Sales in his Raven sloop "Sea Sales IV" sailed right out from under its aluminum mast when a fitting broke as that "sailing bomb" skipped from wave top to wave top. Carter and his crew of Barbara Slocum, Jim Benkert and George Whitehead all agreed that they had never moved that fast in a sail boat.

Boyd Benkert busted the tiller on his Raven "Thunderbolt" on the way to the starting line. Back at the club Boyd agreed he was lucky to break down before he got to the line.

This reporter witnessed a capsizing to top all capsizings. It was one of the Edison Boat Club's new Flying Scots that was whizzing along on a plane and ran up on the crest of a wave and became airborne and flipped, just like that. The skipper didn't have a chance.

Only ninety-nine boats answered the starting gun. Will Howard's "L'Allegria" was one that didn't get back because of a busted spreader. Will was heartbroken because the breakdown robbed him of first place and the Privater class Fall (Windtoy) trophy. Howard was within a mile and a half of the finish line and victory. Any one of four boats in the Privaters could have won the trophy as all were tied in points. Oscar Carlson in "Spindrift" took advantage of Howard's misfortune and scooted across the line first to win. Chuck Haug, Sid Marsh and Bobby Roadstrom followed in that order.

In Closest Finish

Thirteen boats in all were given DNF's or DSQ's. The closest race of the day was between Rupert Bell's "Polaris" and Lynn Stedman's "Lurer" in Cruising D class. Bell beat Stedman, winner of the class the week previous, by one second on corrected time. Ivan Taylor's "Belia-donna" was third and Bob Dodd's "Winlassie" placed fourth in the biggest class to sail that day. Fifteen started.

Henry Burkard captured the coveted Milt Cross trophy with his victory in Cruising B class. This trophy is awarded on a point basis on five pre-selected races during the DRYA regatta season. This marks the second year in succession that Burkard's "Meteor III" has won the trophy in its three years of competition. The first year it was won by Nubs Sarns "Revelry." Both yachts represent Bayview Y.C. and that's where the trophy will reside for another year.

Susie Fisher Tops

Susie Fisher's Pilot sloop "Old Rarvy" proved to be the best heavy weather boat of the entire fleet when she scampered home in a corrected time of 2:03:01, which was one minute and 42 seconds faster than "Meteor's" time, to take overall honors. Harry Dunlap's "Albacore" was a minute and 58 seconds behind in second place and Jim Carlin's "Glory Bea II" took third place in the Cruising C class.

The Sweepstakes regatta was the last of the 1958 Inter-club regattas for all classes. The remainder of the schedule limits the classes eligible. The Bayview Long Distance Night Race is September 13 and the Grosse Pointe Y.C. Bluenose regatta follows on September 18. These two regattas are important to most of the classes that will sail as they will determine the River champions in most of the classes.

Following these two races will be the Raven Fall series to be sailed off Grosse Pointe Y.C. September 27-28 and the Bayview North Channel race on October 4. The North Channel racers will NOT go up the North Channel but the Middle Channel instead. The change was made when it was discovered the new entrance of the North Channel is too narrow to navigate in case the fleet encounters headwinds.

Midjet Football Players Needed

Grosse Pointe Woods needs 10 boys, nine and ten years old, weighing a minimum of 63 pounds, immediately, to fill their football roster for the All-American Little Football League this fall. Boys must be residents of Grosse Pointe Woods, Grosse Pointe Shores, or Harper Woods. Contact Randy Hancock, TU 4-2586, or report to Parcels Junior High field at 5 p.m. every afternoon.

Four Detroit Lions rookies found out that oversteering can cost money in pro football. Tackle Dudley Meredith, guard Harold Outten, halfback Jim Wagstaff and fullback Ken Webb missed the Lions charter from the College All-Star game and had to pay their own airline transportation expenses back to training camp.

Blue Devil Gridders Prepare To Defend Title

—Picture by Fred Runnells

A hand picked squad of Grosse Pointe High School gridders get their initial instructions from head coach Ed Wernet as he prepares to rebuild the Blue Devil team for defense of the Border Cities League championship. Wernet is starting his thirteenth season as head coach. During his tenure the Devils have captured the BCL title twice and been State Class "A" champions once. Wernet is still regarded as the "best all around athlete" to be graduated from Grosse Pointe High.

Junior Sailing Titles Decided

The Grosse Pointe Club and the Detroit Boat Club laid claim to the 1958 Detroit River Yachting Association Junior championships last Sunday, September 7, in an abbreviated five-race round robin series held off the Grosse Pointe (Little) Club.

Grosse Pointe Club skipper Tony Fisher and his crew bounced back from a capsizing in the canceled first race to win the Boys' championship with a total of 14½ points.

Caroline Dow and her Detroit Boat Club crew won the Girl's championship with 13½ points on a first and two seconds, in three races, to edge Crescent's Nan Millies by one point.

It was a lively series that saw the youngsters exhibit some fine seamanship and boat handling in the squally offshore 12 to 18 mile an hour wind that threatened to capsize the little 18-foot fiber glass Interlake sloops that were loaned by the five clubs participating.

While the kids were having their troubles keeping the boats upright, Race Chairman Arnold Fuchs, vice commodore of Boyview Yacht Club, was having his troubles getting enough races completed to call it a series. The first race was scheduled for 9:30 a.m. but didn't get underway until 10:30 a.m. under threatening storm clouds.

A missing first mark wiped out the first race for both the boys and girls. It also gave Grosse Pointe Club a new life in the series as the canceled race wiped out Tony Fisher's capsizing near where the first mark should have been.

A quick rescue job enabled the second race preparatory gun to be fired by 11:30 but a short lived squall forced cancellation of this start and the kids went to lunch to await better sailing conditions.

At 2 p.m. the persistence of the officials was rewarded and the sun broke through. From then on everything went like clockwork and by 4:30 the Grosse Pointe Club and Detroit Boat Club crews had been given the customary winners' dunking from the dock by the rest of the contestants.

Besides winning the DRYA perpetual trophies, which will be awarded at a later date, the Grosse Pointe Club crew received the Edison regatta trophy and the Boat Club received the Detroit Yacht Club regatta trophy. These trophies were not awarded after these two regattas as the Junior races were canceled due to high wind.

The race committee consisted of Chairman Fuchs, Bill Connolly, Dave Davenport, Commodores Ken Leipprandt and Sid Warner. The course was diligently patrolled by Jim Schudel, Bill Bridge and Otto Scherer, Sr.

The final standings are as follows: Boys—Grosse Pointe Club, 14½; Detroit Yacht Club, 9; Crescent Sail Y.C., 8; Bayview Y.C., 7½, and Detroit Boat Club, 6. Girls—Detroit Boat Club, 13½; Crescent Sail Y.C., 12½; Grosse Pointe Club, 9½; Bayview Y.C., 6, and Detroit Y.C., 5.

Boat Banter

By Fred Runnells

Because of the holiday week and a short deadline, we failed to get some of the particulars on the Edison Boat Club regatta which proved to be one of the liveliest of the season and produced some unfortunate accidents.

First, as we mentioned in our story last week, Hans Warnke's big steel cutter "Great Lakes" was dismantled.

Jimmy Carlin's Pilot sloop "Glory Bea II" was disqualified for hitting a mark of the course in the Cruising C race.

Peter Kremlick won a mass protest against the K class when all but he failed to round the proper mark of the course. Kremlick in his "Pegasus" overshoot the second mark of the course and rounded "D" marker as did the entire fleet.

But Kremlick realized his mistake and sailed outside the "C" mark which the rest of the fleet failed to do. Consequently Peter won his case and the trophy.

Johnny Ledyard of the Grosse Pointe Club and his crew had a harrowing experience when their Vineyard Haven sloop sank. Quick action on the part of past commodore Lew Layton, who was skipper of the patrol boat "Level", and judge Buell Doelle plus the action of Vic Heinrich aboard the new EBC patrol boat probably saved a couple of drownings that day.

The kids sank near the "J" mark of the three mile triangle course and both patrol boats reached the scene about the same time to fish the youngsters out of the drink. Life preservers aboard the stricken ship were conspicuous by their absence. Commodore Layton said "The two little gals were near the state of shock and we wrapped them in blankets and rushed them ashore to a doctor as fast as the boat would go. They were just plain lucky because we didn't see any signs of life preservers either on the kids or floating away from the boat."

The local sail fleet lost one of its top contenders last Friday, September 5, when Skip Grow and Carter Sales sold their Voyager yawl "Querida" to Bob Seltzer of the Cleveland Yacht Club. The yacht will be kept at Clinton depending where there is enough water to get her in. The new owner took over the ship as soon as Chick Stodgill completed the survey which he stamped "excellent."

What Skip and Carter will do next year is still up in the air. Carter says he is thinking of chartering Jack Price's red hot Southern Circuit "Comanche" for the DRYA season. Says Jack, who sailed aboard "Querida" last year in the Mackinac races, would like to do a bit of cruising in Georgian Bay next summer.

No matter how tough the problem, do something—then try again!

Winners Listed By Bridge Club

Grosse Pointe Memorial Center Bridge Club winners have been announced. September 3: North and South, Jane Sutherland and Daniel Huff; Audrey Burnham and Earl Gurnack.

East and West: Kermit Carlisle and Alan Moseley; Ellen Walrand and Ivan Hina. The nMasterpoint Game will be held Friday, September 12.

Reveal Changes In Night Race

There have been some changes made in the annual Bayview Long Distance Night Race next Saturday, September 13, and the changes will affect all classes invited to sail.

First, the starting line will be between two flags instead of the committee boat and the Peche Island front range light as in past years.

The second change is the shortening of the course from 59 to 54 statute miles. This was brought about when it was decided NOT to use the Thames River lighted buoy as a mark of the course because of the low water. In place of the Thames buoy, the turning mark will be Rear Commodore Ivan Ficus' yacht "Rounder" which will be equipped with a revolving RED light. The "Rounder" will be anchored 303 degrees and two miles from the Thames lighted buoy.

The turning mark in the vicinity of Huron Point will be the perennial standby, Bill Sullwold's yacht "Jus-Mi-Bill" which will be anchored 354 degrees and four miles from the St. Clair light. This yacht will be equipped with a revolving AMBER light. All skippers will be required to properly identify their yachts as they round the turning marks.

In an effort to get more small boats out for the race the Race Committee has established arbitrary ratings for the following classes: Luder and Folkboat, 14.0; Privater, 15.6; Crescent and L Class, 16.2. All other boats under 30 feet, to be eligible to sail in the Small Boat division, must have a measurement certificate on file with the Race Committee prior to the start of the race. The Sam Durham trophy will be awarded to the yacht with the best corrected time in the Small Boat Division.

The Bayview Cup will be put back into competition and will be awarded to the overall corrected time winner in the Cruising classes. The new Russell Pouliot trophy will be placed in competition and be awarded to the yacht with the best corrected time in the new Cruising D class which will sail under the Performance Handicap rating system which has proven out so well in this first season it has been used.

Cruising C yachts will compete for the First Commodore's trophy; Cruising B will vie for the Free Press trophy and Cruising A will tangle for the R. R. Williams trophy. All are perpetual trophies and will be awarded at the Tri-Race dinner at Bayview on October 10.

No matter how tough the problem, do something—then try again!

Blue Devil Gridders Hope To Equal Last Year's Pace

Grosse Pointe High Blue Devil football team, which captured the Border Cities League championship last year and posted the best defensive record of any high school in the state, faces a big rebuilding job before the season gets underway on September 19, against non-league Mount Clemens.

What is most sorely needed are offensive linemen and defensive backfield men according to head coach Ed Wernet who is starting his thirteenth season as grid mentor at the school on Fisher road.

Twelve returning letter winners will be the nucleus around which the 1958 team will be built. They are: ends Chuck Hanneman and Larry Bruzese, tackles Andy Critchfield, Tom Standifer and Bob Libby, guard Mike Carrier, center Dave Leone, quarterback John Nicholson, backs Bill Hooth, Tom Andris, Butch Hoyer and Mike Holzer who Wernet hopes to convert to an offensive end.

Several Good Prospects

The crew from which coaches Wernet, Bud Kurvink and Ernie Bauer will seek the replacements are: guards John Calder, Dick Dowdell and Jon Rice, tackle Tom Smothers, ends Chuck Weiss and Rolf Lagerfeldt and back John Stirling. These boys almost lettered on the 1957 team.

Coming up from the reserves is a host of backfield talent that still has to be proven under varsity competition. Heading this list are Ron Harper, Terry Donovan, Ron Linclau, Ron Schram and Bill Porter, who is just a little guy of the scaback variety and has caught the eye of the coaches in early practice sessions.

In eight games last year the Devils posted a record that is going to be tough for future Devil teams, or any team that matter, to match. The Devils scored 189 points while allowing only one touchdown and a conversion. That score came in the Flint Northern game which was the second on the schedule and holds the same spot this year. Already there is talk among the squad about getting revenge for that lone blot on an otherwise perfect season.

The only other close call the Devils had last year came in the Wyandotte game when the Bears thwarted four sustained Devil drives and forced the Pointers to resort to quarterback Dave Cook's golden toe for the three point field goal in the third quarter to win.

Andy is Big Boy

The biggest boy on the squad is Andy Critchfield who tips the scale at 256 and appears to have the inside track for one of the tackle positions. Tom Standifer is another tackle who has exhibited power in early practice sessions.

Mike Carrier is slated for a line backer position on defense and John Nicholson, who shared the quarterback duties with flamboyant Dave Cook last season, will be the key boy in the Devils' fast moving offensive unit.

Bill Hooth is the leading candidate for safety man duties which he handled so capably last year. Tom Andris may have trouble holding his fullback job once Terry "Bulldog" Donovan gets his feet on the track. Donovan is the smaller of the two but has proven in reserve competition to be a powerful runner. Ron Harper got a taste of varsity competition in part of one game last year and is itching to break into the lineup. He has the speed and intelligence to turn the trick.

The squad as a whole is nearly as big in size as last year and with the Devils' football prestige hanging in the balance there quite possibly will be some "dark horses" move up from the group who have not received mention to date.

The Devils will play three night games against Mount Clemens in the non-league opener September 19, Royal Oak on October 3 and Monroe on October 17. All are Friday night games.

Two non-league games that should provide some interesting football are the Flint Northern game on September 27 and the Port Huron on November 8 which will be the last of the season.

Help Capture Pistol Trophy

Two Grosse Pointe Patrolmen, Arnold Parsons, of the Farms, and Thomas Kane, of the Woods, qualified as members of the Southeast Michigan team which captured the trophy in the Statewide Police Pistol tournament held at Jackson on Thursday, September 4.

The SE Michigan team was made up of policemen from Mount Clemens, the Border Patrol, River Rouge, Detroit, Trenton and Allen Park who qualified for the team in the tournament held the week previous at River Rouge.

The team trophy is now on display at the Grosse Pointe Farms headquarters.

The annual Metropolitan Grosse Pointe Police Pistol tournament will be held at the Mount Clemens range on September 30. In case of inclement weather the tournament will be shifted to the Harper Woods pistol range.

George Wilson of the Detroit Lions and Scooter McLean of the Green Bay Packers were roommates with the Chicago Bears in the early 40's.

The Detroit Lions' best overall season record in the National Football League was 11 victories and two losses in 1953 as Detroit won its third World Championship.

GPYC Fashion Show Starts New Season

Around the World Travel Theme of Party September 17; Mrs. Hamilton F. Kotcher and Mrs. Charles W. Gauss II Co-Chairman of Luncheon

Grosse Pointe Yacht Club's autumn activities will bow in Wednesday, September 17, when the club stages a bridge luncheon and fashion show for the GPYC feminine contingent and their guests.

Three events on the club's agenda actually anticipate the autumnal equinox by brief days, the others being the pre-bowling party for men and women keggers on Sept. 18, and GPYC's twentieth annual Blue Nose long distance sailing race on Saturday, Sept. 20.

All the atmosphere of global travel will spark the September 27 bride-lunch-style parade, which is themed to "Around the World With Air France."

Mrs. Hamilton F. Kotcher and Mrs. Charles W. Gauss, II, co-chairmen, have planned a decor of colorful posters, depicting scenes of far countries, and small airplanes for the Grand Ballroom where the fete is to start at 12:30 p.m. A special decorative feature will bring the flavor of Paris to the rotunda. Red, white and blue flowers will reflect the American and French national colors.

Fashions by the D. J. Healy Shops will include designer originals and beautiful fur pieces, the show being coordinated with the travel idea. Door and table gifts will be in the travel mood also.

Assisting the co-chairmen on party arrangements are Mesdames Paul L. Barker, Bill O. Brink, Richard K. Degener and Calvin J. Gauss, Jr.

Among those with table reservations are Mesdames George P. Johnson, Jr., James Verner Davis, Cletus J. Weiling, A. D. Blackwood, Karl W. Weber, C. K. Johnston, Clement A. Pennell, William O'Neill Kronner, Fred Hillger, Albert E. Fisher, William S. Saylor, James T. Barnes, Alphonse DePaape, LeRoy Payne and George DeClerk.

Mrs. Barker and Mrs. Charles Gauss will be in a get-together group with Mrs. Calvin Gauss, Jr., and her guest, Mrs. Robert Swanson; Mrs. Brink and her guest, Mrs. Sanders Gould, and Mrs. Thomas Fox with her guest, Mrs. John H. Jacobs, Jr.

The pre-bowling party on the 18th is the fun fete which annually takes place a few days before the official start of the league season. League keggers and new keggers, both men and women, will join in GPYC's Fo'Castle at 6 o'clock for cocktails and buffet dinner, then will repair to the adjoining alleys for open bowling.

The Blue Nose long distance race at 10 a.m. on the 20th will be sailed over a course of 38 and eight-tenths nautical miles.

Fashion Show At Thrift Shop

The Neighborhood Thrift Shop will hold its 22nd annual fashion show at 3 o'clock, September 23, at the Neighborhood Club, 17121 Waterloo avenue.

Entrance fee is a bundle of cast off clothing or house furnishings. The proceeds of the sales at the Thrift Shop help maintain the Neighborhood Club's activities as a Grosse Pointe Community House.

Irving, Inc., is presenting the show and with professional models there will be Mrs. Lawrence Gotfredson, Jr., Mrs. Berrien Eaton, Jr., Mrs. Thomas Hammond and Mrs. Albert Dickson, Jr., showing styles.

Mrs. Edward Wishrope is in charge of the fashion show aided by Mrs. Frank Weisgerber.

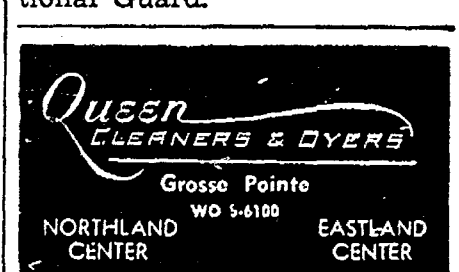

Papers of the late Senator Blair Moody of Michigan are kept at The University of Michigan Historical Collections.

Cancer Center Needs Workers

Beginning Monday, September 8, at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, 32 Lake Shore Road, a group of dedicated ladies resumed their work to aid cancer patients. Under the chairmanship of Mrs. William Newcomb, willing volunteers are always welcomed every Monday at the Center any time they can come between the hours of 10 a.m. and 3 p.m.

In the Center's recreation room the Cancer Volunteers prepare materials to be given out to groups making cancer pads, work on cancer pads themselves, receive incoming finished work and supply patients with needed supplies. Help is always needed and welcome.

If it is impossible to give time the group would be grateful for any clean ironed, white material such as old sheets, shirts, tablecloths, etc. These items can be dropped off at the Center's office.

The University of Michigan's Rackham Arthritis Research Unit is widely recognized as one of the largest and most outstanding organization studying this disease.

With Our Blessings

Within the next few days and weeks we shall be saying goodbye to you young men and women who are leaving for college. Some of you who attend institutions close by will be back with us often; others will not return until the Thanksgiving or Christmas vacation periods.

If your powers of perception were abnormally keen, you could find, tucked away in that outrageous assortment of luggage and duffle which is always affected by the college crowd, things other than the equally absurd collection of personal items which go ever with you. You would see a million tiny, unuttered thoughts, bits of advice which we never quite got around to passing on to you. There would be a trunk full of fervent wishes and bright hopes, a generous sprinkling of prayers; and those myriad stains would be the remnants of tears, dropped mostly by the mothers of the youngsters who are leaving home for the first time.

So much of us goes with you, it is just as well you do not know. Accepted with the seriousness with which it is sent, it would constitute a burden that young people should not be called upon to carry.

It is an unchanging law of life that the younger generations grow constantly further away from their parents. And it is, for us, a sad truism that just the reverse holds with the oldsters. Our interests turn inward and focus sharper with every passing year on the events which make up the lives of our children and grandchildren. But it is equally true that we would have it no other way.

Advice is easy, and there are so many things we think we could and should have told you, to make things easier. Looking back, we are so prone to think of these years through which you are now passing as a painless period of enchantment and frivolity. Time is a great eraser and most of us have forgotten that all things are relative; that the troubles of youth, though they may seem negligible to us, may be just as bitter to swallow as our own most devastating trials. If we are lacking in understanding, we ask your forgiveness.

The shyness of youth, if such a thing still exists, is surely equalled by the shyness of a parent who is afraid to bare his soul to his own children lest he appear weak, or in fear that he may embarrass the youngster with a display of maudlin sentiment. In removed repose, it appears to us that a great deal more of this interchange of inner feeling would be a healthy and highly satisfying experience.

We wish we had not hesitated to tell you how proud of you we are, and what tremendous boons you have granted us through your accomplishments. We are sorry about the beratings we felt at the time were merited, and we wonder fearfully whether they were harmful or helpful.

We are so mindful of our own first days in college, and of little incidents and soul-shaking experiences, which followed in quick succession through all those wonderful years. We are going through them again with you now, and hoping that something we have imparted is helping you, either to get the utmost enjoyment or the least sorrow out of them as they come along.

College is such an immense hodge-podge of opportunities and pitfalls, with so many doors that should be opened and entered, and so many others that should remain closed; so many roads that should be explored, and endless turns that should never be taken. Now, infinitely more than ever before, you are going to have to rely on your own judgment. But we want you to know that if you err, and if help is needed, we want to be given the first chance to provide it.

There is so much said about our "future citizens," the "leaders of tomorrow," the "hope of the world," that we trust you will pardon us for mentioning these old clichés. We like to remember the college president who told the entering freshman class: "If by the time you have been graduated from here you have learned how to educate yourselves and can use a library intelligently, we shall consider that we have done a good job."

These years are but preparatory ones for the many, many which lie ahead, each pregnant with possibilities for broadening your education. The truly wise man is the one who continues to learn every day of his life, who is always honest enough to admit he does not know the answer, but then makes a point of finding it.

Your education has to do not only with classrooms and textbooks and lecture halls, but with mixing with your fellow students and faculty members, both socially and intellectually. Tolerance is an attribute to be devoutly cultivated.

Let religion be a large part of your lives and be thankful that there is a noticeable surge today in the movement back to the Greatest Teacher. There will be many times when you will find yourselves in need of His instruction and you will find it helpful to be on close terms with Him.

These are the golden years and yours is the privilege to make of them what you will. If we have helped you walk across the threshold with confidence, we are grateful. If we have failed you, forgive us.

Grosse- Exaggerations A. PRYOR

"I live for those who love me,
Whose hearts are kind and true;
For the Heaven that smiles above me,
And awaits my spirit too;
For all burials that bind me,
For the task by God assigned me,
For the bright hopes yet to find me,
And the good that I can do."

(George L. Banks)

RACE TRACK

Horse bettors should like this one. An addict of some lost a lot of money over the years and finally found himself practically penniless. He started carrying a razor blade around in his pocket and decided if the time came when he lost EVERYTHING, he would end it all. The time came . . . and as he fumbled around for the razor blade, he found a crumpled up dollar bill in the bottom of his pocket. Giving it one more chance, he accosted the bookie and asked what odds he would give him on "Blue Hygera" in the next race. The bookie said he was MAD, the horse never ran in the money in its life . . . he was so sure it hadn't a chance, he would take the guy's buck and give him ten thousand to one odds.

The race went off and Blue Hygera DID win. The inveterate gambler collected his ten thousand dollars, stuffed it in several pockets and on leaving the track, ran into a pal who asked how things were going. Our hero replied: "Oh, so-so. I just had a bet on Blue Hygera." The guy jumped a foot . . . he said: "But My great Aunt Hattie" (or whatever expressions men use at race tracks) "THAT nag paid a whale of a big price . . . thousands of dollars!" Our man of the razor blade said blasey . . . "Yeah, but I only had a buck on him."

DOG LOVERS

Now we think we've heard everything. No one could be more maudlin about Nuba than we are. As far as we are concerned, she is not a French Poodle but our CHILD. This story we get from a friend who spent the Winter in Miami and was told this by a fellow guest in the hotel. The latter had a cocker spaniel with him and when asked by our friend how come he was the only one allowed to have a dog in the hotel . . . the man replied that he paid rent for the dog at fancy prices the YEAR ROUND.

He explained this by citing an experience he had had a few years before. It seems he would not trust a kennel to take care of his precious animal while he sunned in Florida . . . but one season he was told about a woman who would board only a few dogs in her HOME and never left them alone. This seemed to satisfy him, so he left the Cocker in her expert care with many directions, plus do's and don'ts . . . and took off for the South. When he alit from the plane in Miami, he went right to the phone and put in a station to station call for Mrs. Thingamebob to ask about the dog. A man answered the phone and said Mrs. Thingamebob was out but would be back in about four hours if Monsoor wished to call again.

The dog fancier hopped on the next plane out . . . came all the way back to N. Y. the same day . . . picked up his animal from the boarding place and carted him back South with him the next day! He said it was worth it just to see the expression on the dog's face when he saw his master again. WOW-ZE-DOW!!!

ARTHUR GODFREY

THIS one we hope someone will send to Godfrey. No one would love it more than the Red Head. A man we know was traveling in Europe this spring with his wife . . . when they landed at the Ritz Hotel in Paris on the trek homeward. As they sat in the Ritz bar sipping their aperitifs, he spotted a familiar looking face at a nearby table and asked his wife: "Don't we KNOW that man?" His wife very typically answered (after looking) "NO, you dope . . . we don't know him. That's Arthur Godfrey and you've seen him on TV."

A lot of niff-naw went on at the table then . . . because our pal wanted to get Godfrey's autograph for his mother whom he remembered was a GREAT fan. He knew how thrilled she would be, but he was too embarrassed to go over and ask for it and wanted his wife to do it for him. She wouldn't, so they wrangled about it for ten minutes before the guy got up the courage. He finally sauntered over to the star's table and explained that his mother would be delirious with pleasure over his autograph. The genial Arthur put his John Hancock on one of the menus and wrote a nice little personal message.

Edgar (as we shall call him) couldn't WAIT to get home to give the treasure to his mother, so he sent it airmail. Just before the pair left the hotel to embark for home . . . an airmail letter arrived for them from the States, from mother dear . . . in which she said (among other little pleasantries) . . . "Sorry you went to the trouble of getting Godfrey's autograph. I don't like him anymore."

MORE AUTOGRAPHS

The above reminds us of the time, many years ago, when a local woman was entertaining Billie Burke at her home and one of the maids asked if she might ask Miss Burke for her autograph. Madame readily gave her permission . . . so Miss Burke said she'd be glad to give it if the girl would bring her something to autograph. The little maid was gone for quite some time . . . when back she came bearing a small book. Just as Miss Burke was absent-mindedly about to scribble her name on the fly leaf . . . the hostess noticed the "little book" was a Bible! She explained to the nervous girl that she thought a Bible was not quite appropriate for Miss Burke to autograph and to fetch something ELSE.

The maid scurried off and came back in another five minutes, bearing a piece of pink paper. This turned out to be a sheet from one of the "message" pads left in pantries with the printed forms to fill in as to who called and WHY . . . when Madame was out. They all settled for this one for fear of what she MIGHT have brought out NEXT!

GAMBLING ROOM

Another married couple, (friends of ours) were traveling in Europe this summer to see the sights . . . among which was a famous Gambling Palace. Neither of them cared to wager more than twenty American dollars . . . it was more of a look-see tour. However, in this particular Casino . . . one practically had to have a blood test taken at the front door before being allowed to enter. Passports had to be shown, questions asked, forms filled out, etc. When the "questioner" got to where the couple were staying . . . he asked: "How long do you expect to be here?" (Meaning of course in the City) . . . but our hero answered in his flustered manner: "About ten minutes!" Vive La Americana!

What Goes On at Your Library

By Jean Taylor

In these days of emphasis on rapid reading, it would appear that dedications, prefaces, forewords and the like, are more often than not, born to blush unseen. "Let's get on with it," is the common approach. We don't minimize the need for rapidity in some types of reading, but the reader who does not slow down occasionally to savor certain passages, to enjoy word pictures, to appreciate better than average writing, is, it seems to us, the loser. Also, if time doesn't permit even a quick glance at the dedication, we think he is missing something.

"To compose a dedication," according to Sir Edmund Gosse, "is without a doubt one of the primitive instincts of every scribbling man." We don't know when the first one was written, but they date back to earliest writing. We think it regrettable that in most of the reprints of the classics, the dedications are omitted.

Husbands, wives, parents and children seem the most usual targets for this recognition, and today's dedication has frequently a humorous turn.

Members of our staff who know my penchant for this harmless hobby, frequently toss a gem or two on my desk. Here is one which brought a chuckle from our doctor recently, found in "All About Men" by Joseph H. Peck, M.D. "Dedicated to — the poor wretch awaiting his turn in a doctor's office, and trying to dream up explanations for his troubles which would reflect upon his Creator instead of his own foolishness."

Some years ago Franklin P. Adams worked on the World newspaper, under one, Swope, by name. He dedicated his book "Over-Set," to "Herbert Bayard Swope, without whose friendly aid, every line in this book was written." Mr. Adams also dedicated a volume of poems to Bert L. Taylor: "Guide, Philosopher, But Friend."

Dr. Leonard Ehrlich, a Long Island pediatrician, limits his collection of dedications to those written to infants. His favorite being one in a book by Inez McEwen, "To William Craig, my infant grandson, the only gent on whom I've been able to pin anything."

Dedicated to the authors' own children is "A Book of Americans" by Rosemary and Stephen Vincent Benet, "To Stephanie, Thomas and Rachel, our other works in collaboration."

Wives come in for their share of ribbing. Donald Henderson Clark dedicated his book, "Millie" to his wife, "Cladys, who thought all that authors were good for, was writing—until she met me."

The dedication of Francis Hackett's "The Invisible Censor" to "My wife, Signe Tosvig, whose lack of interest in this book has been my Constant Desperation." Paul Kearney is "How to Drive Better and Avoid Accidents" has this dedication "To Clare, my favorite wife, navigator and constant riding companion, who, despite her mileage, is still 'like new'." Nor could the prolific F. P. Adams of earlier mention resist taking a fieldy jibe—"To my Losing Wife, but for whose constant interruptions, this book would have been finished six months earlier."

Edward Arlington Robinson dedicated one of his books "To any man, woman or critic who will cut the edges of it. I have cut the top."

Dedications are a natural for the punster. Morris Ryskind dedicated his book "Unaccustomed as I am" to "The Great American Democracy—may it bring me royalty."

The popular mystery writer Christopher Bush, has written in "The Case of the Russian Cross." "The author, having discovered that this is his 50th novel of detection, dedicates it, in sheer astonishment to HIMSELF."

For any struggling scribbler who wants to get along in the approved Dale Carnegie manner, we pass along Jack Baragwanath's crafty device. In his book "Pay Streak," which relates his adventures as a mining engineer, he had a separate page printed for each of his friends, and bound into the copy which he sent them.

Are there any dedicated dedication collectors among our readers? We'll make a fair trade.

Why all the red tape?

by Fred Kopp, R.Ph.

You can understand why we don't sell narcotics without a physician's prescription. But maybe you've wondered why we're so fussy about other things . . . like penicillin, sleeping pills, the new tranquilizers. These potent medications are called "legend drugs" and you have to have a prescription to get them. Reason: Uncontrolled use may do more harm than good. Only your physician knows whether you should use them or not—and, if so, just how much. So we require a prescription. It's a matter of professional ethics and the law. Always it's common sense.

Grosse Pointe News

From Another Pointe of View

By Pat Talbot

The Pointe will regretfully bid a permanent adieu to one of its most popular couples this fall, the Henry de Muinck Hopkesses, Jr., of Lakeland avenue, who will be moving abroad.

Mr. H., who has been flying back and forth, will leave about October 1 to find a house for his family in Zurich, Switzerland, where they will be living. Mrs. Hopkes and her son will follow later. Plans hinge on the wedding of Henry Hopkes III to Birgit Dalen, which will be an event of the later fall or early winter.

Bon voyage parties are in the making with a subscription dinner at the Hunt Club on the calendar for this Saturday.

Grouse Shooting

More continental touches. A group of Pointers are currently headquartered in a Scottish castle for the grouse shooting season.

The Walter Buhl Fords II, the Wendell W. Andersons, Jr., the Warren Sheldens and the Robert Evanses make up the hunting party and they should be home about the middle of the month.

Continental Report

From Pittsburgh, Pa., comes some delightful news from former Pointer, Mrs. Jerome C. McCarthy about her co-ed daughter, Carolle.

Carolle had an exciting summer year with a Trinity College classmate. They attended the University of Exeter, Devonshire, England last season and reaped a bounty of vacations in Europe.

There were winter sports in Switzerland, a glimpse of the antiquities of Italy and Austria, a visit to the bull-fights in Spain, a Papal blessing in Rome, some sunning on the Riviera, the gardens of Versailles and the avenues of Paris, climaxed by the Brussels' World Fair.

Highpoint of the year abroad was a close view of Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip during their July visit to Scotland where Carolle was visiting the daughter of a captain in the Royal Navy.

She sailed home on the Queen Mary and is now preparing to return to Trinity for her senior year.

Wedding Anniversaries

Wedding anniversary parties have a special flavor and this autumn couples are having appropriate galas to mark this milestone.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Joy, Jr., and the Alexander Ingersoll Lewises, Jr., are collaborating on a dinner to mark their anniversaries. The scene will be the Little Club and the date, September 20.

On Oxford road on September 21 the John W. Brays have invited over 120 friends to help them mark their 25th nuptial year. On hand to assist at the cocktail-buffet will be the Brays' four daughters, Jacqueline, Mary Lee, Geri and Pamela.

Celebrity Series

Carol Joyce Cross Weds Mr. Wodtke

Wears Ivory Silk Taffeta and Duchess Lace for Rites Saturday in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church; Pair to Live Temporarily in New York.

A home in the distant Far East awaits Mr. and Mrs. Peter Gerhard Wodtke who were married Saturday in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church and then left to make their home for awhile in New York.

The former Carol Joyce Cross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Emerson Cross, of Roslyn road, wore a gown of ivory silk taffeta fashioned with a rounded neckline outlined in duchess lace and a cathedral train.

Her veil of Pointe deprece lace fell in mantilla style to the end of the train. She carried a cascade of white orchids, stephanotis and ivy.

Barbara Hume Bartlett came from Dedham, Mass., to be the bride's maid of honor. Her gown was of foam green peau de soie and with it she wore a wreath of ivy and carried white gladiolus with ivy.

The attendants, gowned like the honor maid, were Amy Howell, of Des Moines, Ia.; Margie Thorp, of East Lansing, and Mrs. Edward C. Lawson, Jr., of Denver, with the honor maid all classmates of the bride at Kingswood

School. The other bridesmaids were Gail Cross, a cousin of the bride and Sarah L. Carter, of Princeton, N.J.

The bridegroom, son of Mrs. Stephan Szlapka, of New York and Paris and Dr. Gerhard Wodtke, of New York, asked Mihailo Voukitchevitch to be his best man.

The ushers were John Sargent Cram II and Peter Jeffreys, both of New York; Edward C. Lawson, Jr., of Denver; Albert Pope Hinckley, of Orleans, Va.; and Dennis Cross, the bride's brother.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Cross wore toast lace and chiffon and carried a brown orchid on her purse. Mrs. Szlapka wore a pale beige lace sheath and orchids.

When the pair left for their temporary home in New York Mrs. Wodtke was wearing a black gabardine chamise monogrammed in beige with beige accessories.

Natators Feted At Yacht Club

Boys and girls of Grosse Pointe Yacht Club's swimming team topped off their arduous season Wednesday, September 3, as the club's honored guests at the Sports Committee Presentation Dinner.

The affair was a real gala. All GPYC members and their children had been invited to participate — result was a throng of all ages in the main dining room.

They arrived early—seniors, juniors and young fry too—boys in bright red or plaid or dark jackets, girls in pretty frocks for the festive occasion which included dinner, fast-paced aquatic exhibitions and an outdoor dance.

Swim team members with their co-captains, John Bannister, Jr., and Eileen Cross, were at long flower-decked tables in the center of the main dining room. Family groups were at smaller tables ringed around the honorees.

At the speakers' table were Vice Com. Robert F. Weber and Sports Committee Chairman Dr. Harold E. Cross, who later gave out the award gifts to the 51 swim team members. For each was a sleek, beautifully-constructed cork bulletin board.

Also at the speakers' table were Mrs. Weber and Mrs. Cross, Edward J. Schoenherr, master of ceremonies, and Mrs. Schoenherr; the swim team's instructors, Clarence and Betty Pinkston, and Rear Com. and Mrs. William A. Ternes.

There was music by Art Quatro's band; cheers for everybody; and plenty of praise from Com. Pinkston for the swimmers—the team took second place with 112 points in the Michigan Inter-Club Association's recent championship contest.

Gift of the swim team to Clarence and Betty Pinkston was a Polaroid camera, with John Bannister, Jr., making the presentation.

An unexpected highlight was the appearance at the club of Ben Alexander, otherwise "Frank Smith" of "Dragnet" fame. Mr. and Mrs. Alexander were here from Los Angeles and were dinner guests, together with Charles Bosworth, of the Stark Hickeys and the Howard Shaws.

After the indoor program, everyone went to seats near the pool for the aquatic and trampoline exhibition presented by Bruce Harlan and Hobie Billingsley with their Water Varieties Show.

Mrs. G. T. Hall Wins TV Trip

TV-viewers last Saturday night may have recognized Mrs. George T. Hall, of 333 Washington road. She was snapped at the State Fair with Gov. (an ex-Pointer) "Soapy" Williams, who pinned the proverbial orchids on the local celebrity.

Mrs. Hall was being honored as the Michigan winner of a country-wide "25 words or less" contest, sponsored by a national broadcasting company. For stating so simply and succinctly why she wished to have an all-expenses-paid week-long trip to New York City, she was rewarded with just that!

She leaves this Saturday, to join winners from each of the other 48 states, in New York, for a week's round of cocktail parties, theater and television productions, and introductions to celebrities of the Great White Way.

In return for her bread and lavish board, she will submit a daily squib to her hometown newspaper, describing in detail her fabulous experiences.

Center Seniors Meeting Again

The first fall meeting of the Senior Club of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial was held at the Center Wednesday, September 10th, at 1:30 p.m.

Pointe Theater Selects Opener

The Grosse Pointe Community Theater will open its 1958-59 season with a production of "The Caine Mutiny Court Martial."

The two-act drama by Herman Wouk, based on his best-selling novel of the same name, will be presented at the Grosse Pointe High School on two successive Friday and Saturday nights, October 17, 18, 24 and 25.

Featuring an all-male cast, the novel drama will replace "Solid Gold Cadillac" as the GPCT's initial presentation this fall. "Solid Gold Cadillac," because of last-minute technical problems that could not be remedied in time, will be produced early in December as the group's second production this season.

Dean Erskine, who won the GPCT "Clarence" award as best director of the 1957-58 season for his supervision of "Front Page," has been chosen to direct "Caine Mutiny." Charles "Chuck" Carson, is producer of the show.

Although casting try-outs were completed Tuesday night, Erskine said he has not yet allocated all parts and would be interested in hearing from anyone desiring to participate. Erskine may be reached at TU 5-6487.

Carson is seeking help with costumes, which include 15 naval officer dress blues, three naval enlisted men's dress blues and an Air Force officer's dress green.

Bridge Parties Begin at DAC

The first ladies bridge-breakfast of the fall season will be held Tuesday, September 16, at noon at the Detroit Yacht Club.

A symphonic theme will be evident in the decorations which will include violins made by Dr. Lee Williams, giant music sheets bouquets of gilded wheat and leaves.

Three members will assist the professional models in showing the fall fashions to be presented following the breakfast. They will be Mrs. Joseph Van Deweghe, Mrs. Robert Du Chane and Mrs. Eric Irvine.

Mrs. Herbert Bohle is chairman, assisted by Mrs. Charles Dameron and Mrs. Irvine.

Nearly two million feet of film were distributed by University of Michigan Broadcasting Service-Television for use by television stations last year.

Ice Flair Opens On September 19

Lake St. Clair may still be warm enough for swimming, but the ice skating season officially opens in Grosse Pointe on September 19 when Ice Flair, 15001 Charlevoix near Alter road, opens its doors for the 1958-59 season.

The popular arena is sporting a complete new look. The interior has been completely remodeled and Don Kronson, veteran amateur hockey leader in Detroit, has been appointed to serve as general manager.

Kronson is a native of Grosse Pointe and resides at 847 Nottingham road.

"Our goal this winter will be to provide clean, healthy sport in pleasant surroundings," Kronson states. "The building has undergone extensive repairs to assure the skating public maximum comfort."

Kronson also said that a drive to obtain members in the newly-formed Grosse Pointe Skating Club is underway.

Memberships are available for either or both the fall season, starting September 22 and running through December 15, and the winter term, from January 5 through April 6. Members will skate Mondays and Thursdays.

"Members desiring to do so can select any number of optional plans to fit their individual pocketbooks," said Kronson. "They may purchase memberships for either season, for any one or all three nights and in singles, pairs or family groups."

In addition, Kronson said, reservations are now being accepted for group parties.

A new club pro is to be added to the Ice Flair staff sometime within the next week to 10 days, Kronson said.

Center Offers Dance Classes

This Friday, September 12, the Ballroom Dancing Classes for pre-teen and young teenagers will begin at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center.

These groups are for grades five through nine and are divided according to age. Groups meet Friday afternoons and evenings, Saturday afternoons and Monday evenings. They are designed for youngsters too young for the regular dances who must first learn the dance steps and gain confidence on the dance floor.

As in the past the dancing classes will be taught by Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wilson of Kenwood court. To the young people they are "Aunt Marge" and "Uncle Bill." Not only do the Wilsons teach the basic steps, but to the more advanced students they have a host of new dance routines gleaned from their many travels around the world as cruise directors.

Manners and ballroom etiquette are stressed by the Wilsons but they are very adept at making each class a real party for everyone. The season always ends with a gala affair where all the classes are combined and there is an orchestra, favors and lots of refreshments.

The cost of the entire fall-winter season is $15 for 15 one hour lessons. All classes except the oldest group meet weekly. The most advanced group of eighth and ninth graders meet alternate Friday evenings for two hours each time.

Classes are limited to 50 each. Immediate enrollment is advised by calling the Center TU 1-7511.

The D.A.R. and the Constitution

Editor's Note: In observance of National Constitution Week, the NEWS has been asked to publish the following editorial, written by Mrs. William M. Perrett, state chairman of press relations of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Mrs. Perrett lives at 1127 Kensington road, Grosse Pointe.

Our National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, is a National Patriotic Society which was chartered by the Congress of the United States on February 20, 1896, and reports annually on its activities to Congress, through the Smithsonian Institution.

The objectives of the Society are the preservation of the Constitutional Republic and the American Way of Life, through historical appreciation of the past, patriotic service in the present, and educational training for the future.

In this month of our 171st Anniversary of the adoption of our Federal Constitution, which provides for a government of laws, with checks and balances, we pause to reflect how essential for our country, to keep it thus in force, so that we may retain our government "of the people, by the people and for the people."

We love our country, and do all we can, to support its Constitution in personal services to the defense of it; knowing that, only by preserving our Constitution in its entirety, can we be assured of a future that is consistent with the love of Liberty, that is inherent in the American people.

In a world of apprehensive material values, it is wholesome to realize that there are certain things which do not change, such as nobility of kindness, the courage of integrity, the dignity of gratitude, and selfless service.

We shall hang out our Flag of the United States of America, which alone of all flags, expresses the sovereignty of the people, which endures when all else passes away. He who lives under it and is loyal to it, is loyal to truth and justice everywhere. What could be saved if the Flag of the American nation were to perish?

Let us concentrate on Constitution Week, September 17 through 23, to count our many blessings in this great country of ours, and to know that we have shared with people of all nations, the inspiration and protection of our Constitution, the Declaration of Independence, the Bill of Rights and the Flag of the United States of America.

Seaway Expert To Speak Here

The public is cordially invited to the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center on Thursday, September 18, at 8:15 p.m., to hear Carlis J. Stettin, Director of the Port of Detroit Commission speak on "Trade, Commerce, Seaway and a Port." Mr. Stettin will also show a special movie on Seaway construction.

Mr. Stettin is an eminent port authority. A west coast man, he has been connected with shipping all his life. He was an official of both the McCormick and Matson lines prior to the war during which he was an officer in the Transportation Corps in the Far East and afterward at the Port of New Orleans where he was released a lieutenant colonel.

Following the war Col. Stettin returned to the Matson Navigation Company from which he resigned to become assistant manager of the Port of Seattle in 1949. In 1953 he became manager of the Port of Olympia and in 1956 came to Detroit as port director.

Mr. Stettin has worked diligently and effectively to overcome Detroit's lag in effecting modern and efficient port facilities for growing domestic and foreign commerce. However, he is immensely disturbed that unless immediate improvements are given approval Detroit will not be ready to successfully attract the increased trade which is coming with the completion of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

At this meeting the guest speaker will be Reverend Father Thomas J. Bresnahan, Director of the Christopher Leadership Course. A demonstration session on Christopher Leadership will be presented by Fr. Bresnahan, who is planning a series of Leadership courses within the deanery this fall, starting dates and places to be announced at the meeting. All are urged to attend.

Bishop Coming For Dedication

Bishop Marshall R. Reed will conduct consecration services for the new addition to the Grosse Pointe Methodist Church on Sunday, September 14, at 9:30 and 11 a.m.

For the past year, the church has been engaged in a $250,000 building project which will give the organization much needed additional church school space. The new structure consists of an addition to the social hall, a church parlor, church offices and study, youth parlor, and 20 classrooms.

This addition will enable the church to offer two complete church schools (at 9:30 and 11 a.m.) from the Nursery through the 9th grade. The Adult Class will meet at 9:30 and the Senior High youth class will meet at 11 a.m.

During the completion of this project, the church has also undertaken and constructed a completely remodeled parking lot and driveway. The Grosse Pointe Methodist Church began services in the Old Kerby School in Grosse Pointe Farms on September 9, 1945 under the present pastor, the Rev. Hugh Clifford White.

Indian Guides Plan Program

The council of the Grosse Pointe Longhouse of the "Y" Indian Guides met at the Central Public Library, Thursday, September 4, to finalize plans for the fall program. The council is made up of the chiefs of the 12 tribes currently organized in Grosse Pointe involving approximately 100 Little Braves and their fathers. Each tribe, in turn, involves six to ten fathers and their sons, organized on a school district basis.

During the next week or two first grade boys in the elementary schools will receive descriptive material in their classrooms. Those fathers and their sons interested in the program will attend meetings at their schools, at which the program will be explained in detail and movies shown of past activities. Then the new tribes will be formed and a sponsor from an existing tribe will be named to assist the new organization at its first meetings.

The Grosse Pointe Longhouse is one of thousands throughout the country and is sponsored and assisted by the Hannan Branch YMCA at 10401 East Jefferson. John Miller, Jr., the Youth Secretary, provides the guiding hand in assisting in organizational and administrative aspects of the program.

The Indian Guide program was started by a YMCA secretary in St. Louis in 1926. While on a hunting trip with an Ojibwa Indian as a guide, the YMCA secretary was impressed by the Indian who spoke these words, "The Indian father raises his son. He teaches his son to hunt, to fish, to track, to walk silently in the woods and the meaning and purpose of life and all that he must know while the white man allows squaws to raise his son." This great truth is the basic philosophy behind the Indian Guide program. Its aim is to foster companionship between father and son during the formative 6-8 year old period. Its slogan "Pals Forever" exemplifies the purpose of a group or dads and their boys pursuing a modest, flexible program involving simple ceremonies based upon Indian lore, elementary craft activity and campouts and other activity of the group variety.

Normally the tribe meets twice a month, rotating among the homes involved. A tribal meeting generally consists of an opening ceremony, the singing of "America," the recital of father and son activity since the last meeting, a period

HE MAY BE AN INDUSTRIAL PROSPECT

The visitor to your town or to the lakes and streams of your area is an important person.

But he may be more important than you think; more important, that is, to the future of your town. He may be the executive of a manufacturing company which could consider your town as the location for its expansion, now or in the future.

Talk to him about your town as a good place for industry to locate and prosper. At the slightest indication that he might someday be an industrial prospect, or that he could lead your town to one, call in a representative of your industrial development committee for detailed discussion with him. A town on its toes always looks good.

Almost always you'll find that a company's interest in a town began when somebody visited the town and liked it.

Join hands with your local industrial development organization and the Michigan Economic Development Department to help your community prosper.

This ad is published as a public service by this newspaper in cooperation with the Michigan Press Association and the Michigan Economic Development Department.

For many weeks now drivers along Lakeshore have noticed the long row of cars in front of one of that avenue's most gracious mansions. The cars belong to workers remodeling the red brick Georgian mansion, which once belonged to auto pioneer Roy D. Chapin and now is owned by Henry Ford II. The inside of the mansion has been torn out and down on Jefferson avenue the automotive plant which Roy Chapin's genius fostered is becoming debris, but the Chapin name will not soon be forgotten in Detroit or Grosse Pointe.

Roy D. Chapin was born in Lansing in 1880 where his father was a prominent lawyer and after graduation from high school he attended the University of Michigan. He left college to take a job testing the 1901 Olds car for $35 a month and this was the beginning. By 1906 Roy Chapin was organizing his own company with a campus friend, Howard Coffin. It was capitalized at $300,000 with Chapin as general manager. He had a difficult time raising his own share of $3,000 to get the organization, then named the E. R. Thomas Detroit Company, started.

By 1907 they were under way and asked the rising new architect Albert Kahn to design them a factory on Jefferson avenue. There were management changes, name changes, but Chapin went on, his phenomenal salesmanship pushing the "Chalmers-Detroit Car" priced at $1500. One of Chapin's associates had married a niece of J. L. Hudson, head of Detroit's largest department store, and Mr. Hudson was prevailed upon to lend his name to the new company which in 1909 became, The Hudson Motor Car Company.

While the company was expanding before the first World War Mr. Chapin was studying auto works abroad, taking test airplane flights with the Wright Brothers and becoming interested in the Lincoln Highway Association. He became chairman of the first Detroit Athletic Club membership committee and was active in the Old Country Club in the Pointe.

On a visit to the Coffins in Georgia he met a Southern belle, Inez Tiedeman, who was to become Mrs. Chapin. By 1913 Hudson had orders for 7,000 cars and Roy D. Chapin was quite an eligible bachelor. Miss Tiedeman came to Grosse Pointe to be feted by the Coffins and honored with a dinner at the old Country Club given by Josephine Clay (Mrs. Edsel Ford).

On November 4, 1914 the Chapins were married in Savannah. The bride's brother, Carsten Tiedeman, was a play boy and Bernard Stroh was an usher. The newlyweds rented a large gray stucco home in Beverly road to begin their married life.

The Chapin mansion on Lakeshore was not to be built until 1929. Ahead was the fabulous development of the motor car company and Mr. Chapin's government career in President Hoover's cabinet as Secretary of Commerce.

Editorial note: The above story and also additional material to be used in next week's column comes from a privately printed biography of Roy D. Chapin, by John C. Long.

who, where and whatnot

Anything for the kiddies; that's the devoted motto of a coterie of parents who gave up their Saturday last week to a giant gymkhana at the City Park. All sorts of sack races, relays, and obstacle courses were set up for about two score children under indefatigable Jack Sturtevant. After the 2 to 8 o'clock jamboree the parents took box suppers and reminisced about the afternoon at the Robert Bacons'. This after Labor Day athletic event is becoming a tradition.

Understand that one of the most attractive home wedding receptions this past month followed the Suzanne Morse-William Cassel ceremony. Clever mother of the bride, Mrs. Clayton W. Morse, Jr., not taking any chances with her summer garden blooms, decorated the lawn of her Handy road home with lovely artificial white geraniums.

As usual hosts of George Feyer fans are turning out to listen to the famous pianist at a local emporium where he is featured for a few weeks. The other night spied Jane and Mary Kohring, those attractive twins celebrating their 18th birthday. The star even fingered the traditional birthday tune for the girls. For the natal occasion Mary wore a tie silk navy and white silk print frock and sister Jane was in a dark green Indian print.

Ted Gushee had his work cut out for him last weekend. He was one of the group planning a party at the Skating House of the Country Club for Mary Kate Worcester and her fiancé John Hastings who will be married September 27. Ted's job was to find 22 hockey sticks for the fun and games that eve.

Old time employees of Packard Motor Company met a short time ago to reminisce in the floodlit gardens of Samuel T. Rockwell in Shelbourne road. Mr. R., a 50 year Packard man himself, gathered a group of 40 from this area and as far away as Flat Rock and Mt. Clemens for the reunion party.

PILFERINGS

My neighbor was telling me how worried she was about the late hours her teen agers often kept. As we talked, her son breezed by and called out, "Don't wait up for me. Mom—I probably won't get in until about three o'clock."

She shook her head irritably and repeated, "Three o'clock! Why, when I was his age..." She paused and then looked at me amazed. "When I was his age he was six months old."

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Borge met Sonia Henie, the skating queen, at a party. "My," Mrs. Borge said later, "she certainly looks young."

"Why not?" Victor commented. "She's been on ice all her life."

Her mind is a closed book, and what's worse, it comes in an awfully plain wrapper.

Pointer of Interest

JERRY J. GERICH, PRINCIPAL OF THE GROSSE POINTE HIGH SCHOOL

By Patricia Talbot

About 2,200 teen agers streamed into Grosse Pointe High School last week to begin another semester and meet their new principal, Jerry J. Gerich.

Mr. Gerich has been on the local educational scene since about March 1. As he says "For quite a while I have been an observer; now they are waiting to see what I can produce."

The new principal, an affable, poised gentleman with a ready smile, is well qualified for the job of directing a suburban high school. He comes directly from the principal's desk of a school very similar to his new assignment. For five years he has been principal of the Arlington, Va., Washington and Lee High School. There 2,600 children studied within sight of the nation's capital. This fall Mr. Gerich is just as happy to be away from this southern scene. Arlington, along with Norfolk and Charlottesville, is in the midst of integration problems. The opening of the school has been postponed until the court decides what to do about the colored children who have applied.

Midwest Is Home
As a mid-Westerner Mr. Gerich is happy to bring his family home and they have found Grosse Pointe a welcoming, warm hearted community. Many neighbors have dropped into their brick home in Lincoln road to wish them well and the Gerichs' sons Jerry, a senior at GPHS, and John, an eighth grader at Brownell, are quickly finding their place in this new environment.

Mr. Gerich is glad to be back in the mid-west where he says he has the opportunity to deal with the educational problems of girls and boys, and not with problems of social justice, which is increasingly becoming the situation in the South.

Educational Background
His broad experience in educational fields includes many assignments in this area. After receiving his bachelors and masters degrees from Northwestern University, he taught at the Todd School for Boys in Woodstock, Ill., and coached football teams in the Roosevelt Junior High School in River Forest, Ill.

His first job as a principal was in the Willard Elementary School, River Forest and then he went on to Battle Creek as principal of a junior high school there. For ten years he was principal of the Battle Creek Central High School and then went to Arlington as assistant to the Superintendent before assuming his last position.

He believes that there are no real problems in a high school such as ours, but definitely tasks which must be performed. The biggest is making the students realize their potential, taking advantage of the counseling and guidance programs which each child is offered.

Lots of Homework
He is a stern taskmaster. In a high school where the majority of the graduates are preparing for college he stresses disciplined study habits and a balanced life. Students must do a minimum of 15 hours of homework a week to keep up the standard necessary for college.

With national interest focused on education our high school faces the problems of most secondary schools, matching the program to the child. The school can do its share but the pupil and his parents must co-operate. It's a three way job to turn out a well prepared, well integrated teenager, ready and eager for college.

Student Himself
When Mr. Gerich is not behind his desk coping with the administrative details of his job he likes to do a little studying himself. He is a great student of the triumvirate of American presidents, Washington, Jefferson and Lincoln. He was a history major in college, where he also played Big Ten football. He is thrilled with the GPHS gridiron past and hopes that the ability shown on the football field is carried right down the educational line.

In Mr. Gerich the Grosse Pointe High School teachers, students and parents have found a man with a wealth of educational experience, a sense of humor and a belief in our American system. He will do his best to help direct and train students for the modern world they must face. He is thrilled at the opportunity which faces him here. We are thrilled to have him.

Congregational Women Meet

The Women's Association of the Grosse Pointe Congregational Church opened their fall session with a general business meeting in the Social Hall of the Church on September 9, and a preview of the coming year was given.

Mrs. Kenneth Koppin, chairman of the Association, stressed the importance of the final surge of activity for the bi-annual Mistletoe Mart, which will be held on December 20, under the direction of Mrs. Edward C. Stanley.

On Tuesday, September 23, group meetings will be held in the homes of the following members: Group 1, Mrs. William Briscoe, 315 Piche; Group 2, Mrs. Wentworth Wilder, 496 Hidden Lane; Group 3, Mrs. Donald C. Clark, 284 McKinley; Group 6, Mrs. Loren Raymond, 932 Lincoln; and Group 8, Mrs. Mary Schneider, 819 Lakeland.

Group 4 will meet in the Church Lounge at 8 o'clock on the night of September 23, and Mrs. Dwight Struthers will speak on "Eleanor, Bess and Mamie."
