Thursday, December 18
TWO DETROIT POLICEMEN were suspended and arrested Wednesday for investigation of rape after a young mother of two charged they attacked her on her way home from work last Monday morning.

Held at Police Headquarters were two Accident Prevention Bureau patrolmen, Michael T. O'Donnell, 31, of 19461 Burgess, and Edwin B. Cable, 36, of 19192 Lamont.

Both denied the charge to Inspector Lloyd M. Praedel. Arthur J. Kosinski, chief assistant prosecutor, ordered police not to release them on bond until they appear in court.

THIS COUNTRY'S HOPE of being the first to rocket a man into space took an upward turn Wednesday, at a cost of about 200 million dollars.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration gave Rocketdyne, a California firm, the job of developing a huge engine designed "to deliver far more thrust than any other rocket now in existence." NASA estimated the new super-rocket project would take four to six years.

Meanwhile, a missile source in Los Angeles, said that both Thor missiles fired Tuesday on the East and West coasts landed within five miles of their targets — a distance of about 1,500 miles.

CATHOLICS of the Archdiocese of Detroit Wednesday hailed the appointment of the Most Rev. John Francis Dearden, 51, Bishop of the Diocese of Pittsburgh, as Archbishop of Detroit.

The appointment of Archbishop Dearden comes just short of two months since the death of Cardinal Mooney in Rome. The date of Dearden's arrival in Detroit and installation will be announced later. He is currently in Rome attending the newly-named Cardinal John F. O'Hara, of Philadelphia.

THE UNITED STATES Air Force launched the biggest earth satellite of the Space Age, to date, Thursday night. It is a huge and fully-visible Atlas ICBM which is designed to "talk back" to the earth.

The new satellite, more than twice the size of Russia's largest, may usher in an entirely new long-range communications system. Whether the "talking" experiment will work should be known within 20 hours of the launching, which took place at 6:02 p.m.

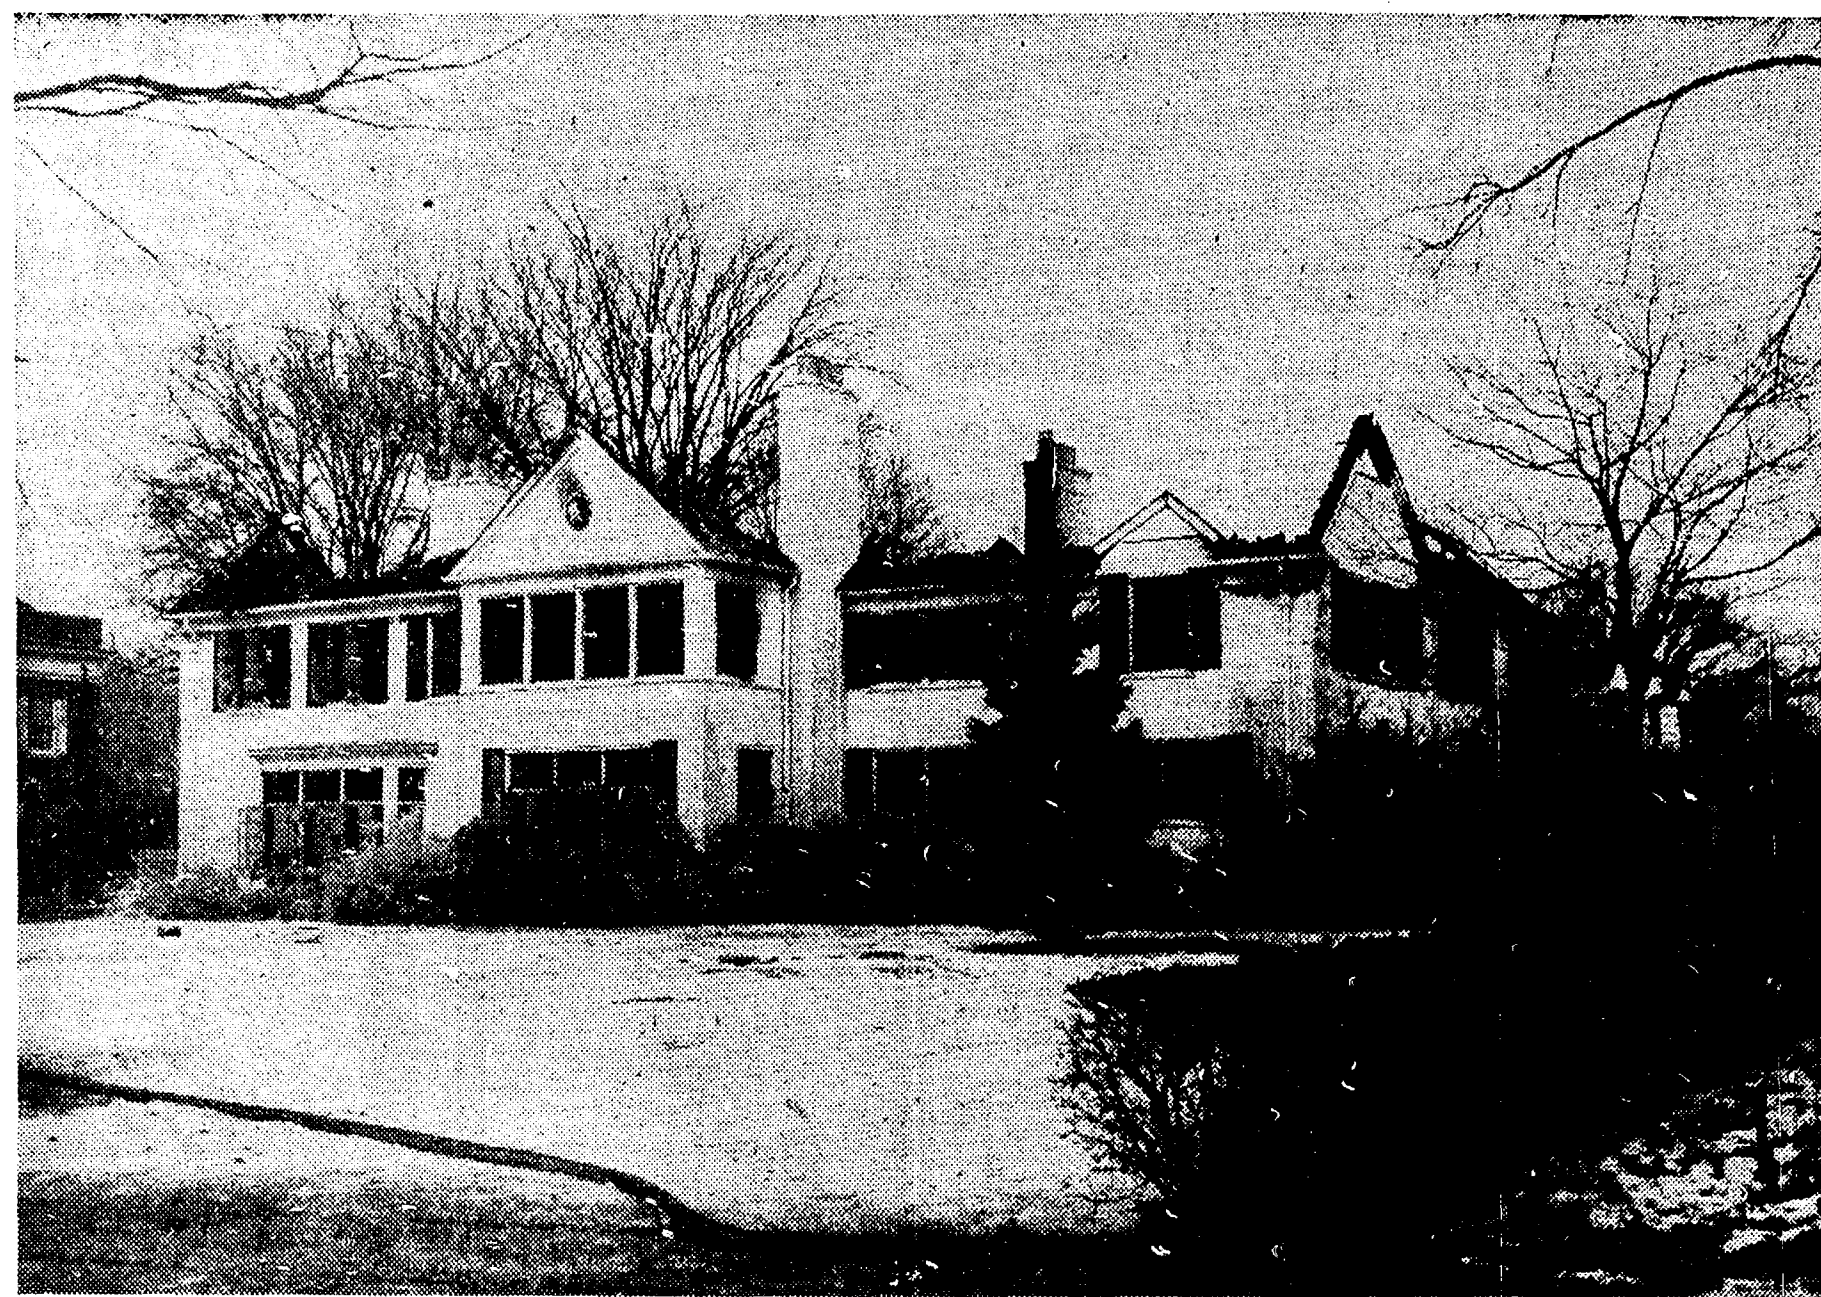

The satellite, weighing 8,800 pounds, is about 76 feet long and more than 200 times heavier than the largest of the three earlier American satellites. Its lower orbit is 625 miles at the highest point. It has attained a velocity in excess of 17,000 miles an hour.

THE U.S. NAVY announced Thursday night it will cut back operations in 17 states, eliminating about 9,000 civilian jobs over the next several years. In all, the plans call for the closing, reduction or merging of 30 establishments.

The announcement followed the Navy's cancellation of its 78-million-dollar Regulus II guided missile program.

Texas was hard hit by the two decisions. The Regulus contract was held by a Dallas aircraft firm, and the largest shutdown will be at the Naval Air Station in Corpus Christi, which closing, by July, will release 3,015 civilian employees.

Blaze Guts Provencal Road Mansion

An early morning fire on December 22 left but the walls standing at the residence of the Dr. John Buell family at 188 Provencal road. The occupants consider

Don't Miss Pointe Yule Decorations

Outdoor, Indoor Lighting
And Special Displays Make
Community Beautiful

"Christmas Outdoors"
*"Where charity stands watching
And faith holds wide the door
The dark nights wakes;
The glory breaks
And Christmas come once more."*

Phillips Brooks
Grosse Pointe is truly reflecting the spirit of Christmas this year in its outdoor decorations. By day or by night—on every street—there are vistas of light and shadow, spiritual themes, breath-taking fairy trees, welcoming doorways, balconies outlined in lights, jolly Santas, traditional and modern wreaths and unusual and artistic use of floodlights and color.

The Grosse Pointe Garden Club Council, sponsoring for the second year a Christmas Lighting project, this Yuletide is highlighting "Screen Tours" by all interested amateur photographers. From the colored slides submitted, a file of the beautiful displays will be made for future use.

Where to Look
Whether Christmas tours are made for sightseeing or with a camera, the Council offers a few suggestions for special enjoyment or outstanding pictures.

East Jefferson and Lake Shore include spectacular displays as always. Along this area too, will be seen the Municipal trees of the Park, the Farms and the Shores, as well as the large one at the Memorial Center. On Kercheval there is the gay Municipal

Highlights of Pointe News Events of 1958 Reviewed For Benefit of Readers

Last 12 Months Have Been Full of Interesting Developments; Lengthy Digest to be Published in Installments

With 1958 nearing a close, many recorded and unrecorded events during the past year have been committed to memory. The highlights of the recorded events of the Pointe, as reported by the NEWS during the past 12 months, have been digested and compiled for the readers of this newspaper.

JANUARY 2—The Woods School, made by a committee created by Dr. James Bushong, Superintendent of Schools. The committee based the last legal obstacle blocking the construction of the multi-million dollar Grosse-Gratiot Drain, the collective name given to the Milk River Drain, Black Marsh Drain and the Girard Drain. The drain will benefit the Woods, Harper Woods and St. Clair Shores, and will cost more than 11 million dollars. An inadequate sewer system forced the Woods to halt home construction, but when the drain is completed, residential building in that city will again boom.

JANUARY 9—For the first time in its history as a city, the Farms will have a City Planning Commission. City Attorney Tom Tilley drafted a resolution which will set up a seven-man commission, which will act in an advisory capacity to help take some of the load off the shoulders of the city council, which has been absorbing the duties usually delegated to such a commission. All findings made by the commission are made subject to final approval by the council.

JANUARY 16—The Grosse Pointe Board of Education adopted new boundaries for the junior high school districts. The Board approved recommendations for the re-districting of Parcels, Pierce

Farms police apparently meant it when they said litterbugs will be ticketed and prosecuted in municipal court.

College Basketball Teams Meet Here Tuesday Night

The tie-breaking contest in a 10-year-old intercollegiate basketball rivalry between Lawrence Tech and Gonzaga University will be played at the Grosse Pointe High School gymnasium on Tuesday night, December 30.

Newcomers To Be Feted At Center

Families Who Have Moved Into Pointe in Last Year to be Honored Guests at Party

The Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association is entertaining all new Grosse Pointe families who have moved into any of the five Pointes during 1958, on Sunday afternoon, January 4, from 3 to 5 o'clock.

In addition to the Center's Officers and Board of Directors who will be extending a warm welcome in the receiving line, representatives of all community organizations and churches in the Pointe will be present to make the newcomers' acquaintance and invite them to participate in a wide variety of activities.

Some 700 invitations have been mailed to every new Grosse Pointe family for whom the Center's staff has been able to obtain addresses. Inevitably, however, there are probably several newcomers who have, unintentionally, not come to the Memorial's attention.

All Are Invited
The Memorial Association hopes they will understand and consider this article a most cordial invitation to attend on January 4. If any citizens know of any very recent arrivals in town please call the Center, TU 1-7511.

The affair is for the entire family. Baby sitters will be on hand to take care of the younger children and there will be members of the Center's Youth Council present to meet boys and girls as well as representatives from many other young people's activities. Nearly every adult interest will be represented by a designated member of nearly 200 community groups. Social, service, religious, political, art, hobby and educational groups will all be represented. The Senior Club will be there too to welcome the older folks.

Party Chief Purpose
Primarily, though, this New Residents' Reception is a party aimed at getting people to know each other and have a good time. There will be singing by the Grosse Pointe Men's Chorus and there will be instrumental music as a background. Very important, there will be good refreshments served to all in the Center's Main Dining Room. The whole beautiful old Alger mansion will still be sporting its holiday decorations with an added freshening touch of spring flowers.

Operational Costs Of Pointe Schools Set at $5,345,455

Taxes to Raise $4,789,699; Balance to Come from State and Other Sources; County Tax Also Due

The current Pointe School District and the Pointe's Wayne County taxes are due and payable as of this month, with the School District levy amounting to $4,789,699.89; and the county, $1,414,539.72. The taxes are due December 1, and must be paid on or before January 19, to avoid penalties.

The school tax is levied against the five Pointes, the Stanhope-Allard area which voted to become part of the Pointe District in 1956; and the Poupard School District, which is located in Harper Woods, but is part of the Pointe System.

The county tax levy referred to, applies only as far as the Pointe is concerned.

Lower This Year
The operational millage levied by the school is 21.71 mills, or $21.71 per $1,000 state equalized assessed property valuation, 2.01 mills less than last year, due to a reduction in debt retirement which lowered total school requirement.

The total debt costs and general operating requirement for the 1958-59 fiscal year for the district come to $5,345,455. This figure is arrived at by adding State School Aid, other state aid, tuition, delinquent taxes and delinquent tax interests, and so on, to the taxes collected.

The breakdown of the tax levy of $4,789,699.89, is as follows: current operational costs, $3,956,056.07; for 1950 debt, $110,073.49; 1953 debt, $385,257.20; 1954 debt, $176,117.58; 1956 debt, $156,304.35; and the debt owed by the Stanhope-Allard area before it became part of the Pointe System, $5,891.20.

How Tax is Split
Of the total tax levy, the Park's share comes to $1,130,139.84; the City, $595,195.45; Farms, $1,199,857.03; Shores, $346,509.74; Woods, $1,198,855.75; Stanhope-Allard area, $27,040.63; and the section of the district in Harper Woods, $292,101.45.

The county tax rate varies slightly. The rate in the Park is $7.68 per $1,000 equalized assessed valuation; with the Woods' set at $7.51; and the other Pointes, $7.50.

With these rates set by the county, Park taxpayers will pay $353,977; City, $187,464.75; (Continued on Page 2)

Facing Charge Of Shoplifting

Grosse Pointe City police received a call from Jacobson's store in "The Village" on Saturday, December 20, reporting that the store was holding a man for shoplifting.

Arrested was James Vernon Wilson, 36, of 4319 Avery, Detroit. He had stolen a man's dark brown coat from Jacobson's and police, in checking his car, found several other items he admitted lifting from "The Village" stores.

Wilson was released on a $100 cash bond, produced by his lawyer, pending his appearance in court on Tuesday, December 23. He was booked on a Disorderly Person charge.

College Basketball Teams Meet Here Tuesday Night

Led by Clayton Pethers at center and Jim Shepherd at forward, the team's highest scorers, Lawrence Tech chalked up a 500-mark in its first six games, scoring impressive wins over the Selfridge Air Force Base, Western Ontario University and Tri-State College.

Police Save Two Teeners On Ice Floe

Ice Breaks While Boys were Skating Near GPYC; Drift to Lochmoor

Two 14-year-old Pointe boys were rescued by Shores police on Saturday, December 20, when a block of ice on which they were skating broke and began drifting with the Lake St. Clair current.

The two teenagers were spotted by W. G. Raven of 1512 Hawthorne, when the boys attracted his attention by waving and shouting for help. Raven called police.

Rescued were Jeff Garber, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Garber of 1097 Grayton; and Ronald Burns, son of Dr. and Mrs. Robert E. Burns of 16620 Maumee.

Call for Ladder
Dispatched to the scene were Patrolmen Harry Hamilton and Jack Lietke, who found the boys still on the floe of ice, about 50 feet in diameter, at the foot of Lochmoor boulevard. The officers put in a call to the station for a ladder and ropes.

Shores Police Chief Fred Duemling and Patrolmen Frank Mustazza and Melvin Yacks arrived with the necessary equipment.

Burglar's Loot Valued at $1,850

An evening out ended sadly early Sunday, December 21, for Mr. and Mrs. Harold Brown, of 266½ Lakeland avenue. They returned to their garage apartment to find it had been broken into and robbed of several precious items.

Among the less-rare items reported missing, were 2 bottles of scotch and gin—but also on the list was a stereo-phonograph set, valued at $250; a white ceramic sculptured fish, valued at $500; a Medieval African face mask, valued at $100; and a South African hand-carved wooden figurine which has been valued at $1,000.

City police found no evidence of a forcible entry. The door and windows were all intact and the only thing out-of-order was a fish bowl and planter which had been knocked over within the apartment.

An investigation is currently underway.

Buell Home Destroyed in Provencal Rd.

Occupants Have Narrow Escape When Miss-Set Alarm Rouses Son; Loss Is Total

Firemen from four departments battled one of the worst fire in the history of the Pointe at 2:45 a.m., on Monday, December 22, when gas-fed flames belied from the furnace room, gutted the palatial home of Dr. John H. Buell, 188 Provencal.

Farms Fire Chief M. William Mason said damage was estimated at between $200,000 and $250,000.

The chief said that when the alarm came in, firemen rushed to the scene to find the fire had become a roaring inferno, and when it became impossible to bring the fire under control, a call for assistance was sent to the Park, City and Harper Woods Fire Departments, each sending equipment and men.

"There were 40 firemen, with seven pieces of equipment fighting the flames," Chief Mason said, "and with 10 lines stretched, we still could not bring the fire under control. When the fire was put out in one part of the building it would start up again in another section."

Shot Blue Flames
He said that the flames shooting into the air had a blue texture, indicating that they were gas fed, and after two hours of pouring tons of water on the flames without effect, personnel from the Michigan Consolidated Gas Company had to be called to shut off the gas. A hole had to be dug into the ground to shut a gas valve, he said.

The firefighters had to fight the fire in 14 degrees above zero weather, and the ice coated the building, hose, equipment, and firemen, Chief Mason said.

He said that twice during the course of the firefighting, Farms police were kept busy taking firemen, in relays of twos to the Farms fire station, for a complete change of dry clothing because the gear the firemen were wearing became frozen stiff from water spray, and the men could hardly move.

Was "Worst Fire"
"This was the worst fire that I can recall since I have been a member of this department," Chief Mason said. "The fire demonstrated, however, the mutual cooperation between the Pointe communities and Harper Woods. When we asked for help, the Park, City and Harper Woods responded with equipment and men."

"With all of our equipment and men at the fire, our community was left virtually unprotected, but the Woods sent an engine and men under the command of Lt. Donald Coats, and stood by in our station, ready for any emergency. I certainly want to thank all the departments and men for their fine cooperation and for a job well done," he said.

The fire in the Buell home was discovered by their son, Richard, 12, who was awakened by an alarm clock, wrongly set.

The boy, smelling smoke, ran to the room of his parents, shouting there was smoke in the house.

Form Human Chain
Rousing his wife, Majorie, the doctor rounded up the other children, Eleanor, 7, and John, 13, sleeping in second-floor bedrooms. The Buells had their children link hands with them, and together they went downstairs through the heavy smoke.

Also aroused and led from the house was the doctor's mother, Mrs. Mae Buell, 70. Once outside, Dr. Buell remembered the family cook, Mrs. Ina Clark, 55, who was sleeping in a rear bedroom, and he tried to re-enter the building, but was driven back by smoke.

Farms Police Sgt. Alfred Martin spotted Mrs. Clark at the window of the bedroom, as she broke a window with her bare hands. Firemen raised a ladder and brought her down, then took her to Cottage Hos-

Worker Hurt In Roof Fall

Edward Eichhorst, 57, of 1280 S. Oxford road, suffered back and chest injuries on Thursday, December 18, when he fell through a hole in the roof of a home under construction at Morningside and Cook roads.

Woods police said that Eichhorst was working on the roof when he stepped in the hole, which was covered with paper, and fell through to the first floor and onto cement blocks, injuring his back and chest.

It was believed that the paper was placed over the hole by carpenters working on the home, when they sought to keep out the wind.

tree in the "Village," surrounded by the festive shop windows and decorated street lamps, while the streets are bright with trees and eye-catching shop and business windows on the "Hill."

Mack avenue from Verheyden's artistically placed lights to Peter's Funeral Home with its sacred tableaux, is colorful with the Woods Municipal tree adding its luster. Throughout the Pointe the churches lend a spiritual beauty and the public buildings lend a holiday touch.

Park Is Beautiful

In the residential areas the Park will prove a delight to the children. Drive around Windmill pointe, then catch some of the lighted trees and lawn displays on Pemberton, Middlesex, Lakepointe, Bal-four, Berkshire, Buckingham, Whittier, Grand Marais, Harvard, and Three Mile.

The City has some striking lighting effects and doorways on St. Clair, Maumee, University, Lakeland, Washington, Rivard and Lincoln.

In the Farms there are some beautiful color combinations and outlined windows as well as unique doorway treatment. Some of these may be seen in Merriweather, Cloverly, Kenwood court, Lake Crest lane, Stevens, Lothrop, Touraine and Vendome. In the Farms also, are some especially lovely trees.

Displays Are Varied

North of Mack in the Woods, there are beautiful simple decorations on some of the smaller homes, while south of Mack on such streets as Fairholme, Morningside, Holly-wood, Sunningdale, Lochmoor and South Renaud, are more spectacular displays with lighted lawns or homes outlined in lights.

In the Shores there are outstanding double doorway treatments, especially in Deep-lands. In Edgewood, Williston and Ballantyne will be found stunning trees and indirect lighting effects, highlight—white and gold on modern homes.

The one sure way to keep money in circulation is to take it to the race track.

School Costs

Farms, $375,813.49; Shores, $113,772.69; and Woods, $381,511.79.

In addition, the Woods will have to pay a drain tax, of $6.07 per $1,000 of city assessed property valuation, to raise $310,973.62, for the first payment on the Grosse-Gratiot Drain, presently under construction.

Error in Billing

City Administrator William Lange said that the Woods council recently passed a resolution setting the drain tax levy at $6.75 per $1,000 valuation, but that the county made an error in its billing to the city, setting the lower rate.

The Wayne County Board of Supervisors, in apportioning the costs of the drain between the Woods, Harper Woods and St. Clair Shores, ignored the Woods council's resolution and made up the bill at the $6.07 rate.

Mr. Lange said that this means that the Woods could be short about $30,000 or $35,000 when the payment becomes due in April. The bill must be collected on or before the January deadline, he said, because this is the only time of year county taxes can be collected.

He said that because of the fact that the April payment might be short, the county could take over the Woods' share of the State Sales Tax Fund, when it is distributed next year.

The only possible way this can be avoided, he pointed out, is that every taxpayer pay his taxes immediately and in full.

Lutheran School Very Successful

This week marked the close of the first semester for the Lutheran School of Adult Education. The school was begun last October through the combined efforts of 10 Lutheran churches in this area to answer a need for adult education for its laity.

Participating churches are: Bethel, Christ the King, First English, Holy Communion, Holy Cross, Mt. Zion, Salem Memorial St. James, St. Paul and Calvary. The classes were conducted at Calvary.

James Roberts, registrar of the school, stated that "the school has proved successful beyond expectation both in quality of the classes and the number of persons enrolled."

The fall semester saw 93 individuals enrolled in four classes—Bible Study, Sunday School Teacher Training, Self-Understanding, and Family Relations. The staff for this school numbered two clergymen, Rev. Paul Keppler and Rev. Harold Schroeder; two psychiatrists, Dr. Paul Lowinger and Dr. Garfield Tournay; and a teacher, Herman Glages.

Plans are now under way for the spring semester to begin in February, reported Rev. Schroeder, director of the school. He continued, "The widespread response to this first semester makes it unthinkable not to plan for a wider program this spring."

warned to stand apart because of the thinness of the ice for fear that their combined weight would break the ice and plunge them into the icy water.

The officers carefully extended a 35-foot ladder out onto the floe, and the boys were told to grab it and work their way to the shore. As the teenagers grabbed the ladder, the ice broke, but clinging to the extension, the boys became wet only up to their armpits. They were pulled to safety.

Two Thawed Out

Jeff and Ronald were taken to the station where they were dried off and wrapped in warm blankets, and later donned dry clothes brought by their parents.

The boys told police that they had gone skating on the ice near the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club, and had planned to skate to the Farms Pier-Park about two and a half miles away. Just as they started skating, a block of ice on which they were standing, broke, and before they knew it, a 10-foot gap of water separated them from the other ice.

The wind and current carried them about a quarter of a mile to Lochmoor, where they were found by police.

House Entered

a first-floor closet was removed, exposing plumbing connections.

Fitzgerald, a Teamsters Union attorney, and his family were vacationing in Key Biscayne, Fla. He was contacted by telephone by Cpl. French. The attorney told the officer that there was no money in the house, no safe, and nothing of any great value.

Chief Louwers said that furs and some small items of jewelry were ignored by the thieves.

Estimate Fire Losses

Estimated fire losses in the United States during November amounted to $71,539,000, the National Board of Fire Underwriters has reported.

This represents a decrease of 5.0 percent from losses of $75,321,000 reported for November, 1957, and a decrease of 2.5 percent from losses of $73,393,000 for last October (1958). Losses for the first 11 months of 1958 now total $955,743,000, an increase of 2.6 percent over the first 11 months of 1957, when they amounted to $931,671,000.

Also treated at the hospital was Farms Fireman James McNeff, who stepped on a nail, but he returned to the scene of the fire immediately after.

Brosnan Overcome

Another Farms fireman, Jerry Brosnan, was overcome by smoke, but was revived with oxygen and fresh air, and remained to help his colleagues. No one else was injured.

Dr. and Mrs. Buell and their family, clad only in their night clothes, took refuge in the home of Mrs. Buell's father, Oscar Webber, 21 Beacon Hill.

The doctor said that hours earlier, he detected a strange odor in the house, and he and his family checked the house thoroughly, but found nothing.

He said Mrs. Buell suggested that the fire department be called, but he protested that the "department does not appreciate calls like that—or cats in trees."

House Total Loss

The Buell house was reduced to standing walls. Also destroyed was a garage. Three cars were driven away at the start of the fire.

Dr. Buell said that included in the loss, were a collection of antique oil paintings, and some of his wife's jewelry.

Army Promotes Walter LaFond

Major Walter K. La Fond, 1108 Nottingham road, was promoted to lieutenant colonel U. S. Army Reserve, in a ceremony at 70th Infantry Division Headquarters Monday evening, December 13.

Lieutenant Colonel La Fond commands the 385th AAA Battalion which is composed of men from the Royal Oak area. This is one unit of the 70th Infantry Division, which as a component of the Ready Reserve, stands prepared to protect the Michigan-Indiana area in the event of emergency.

Lt. Colonel La Fond joined the Army as a private in June 1942 and after basic training, he attended Officer Candidate School from November 1942 to February 1943 when he graduated as a second lieutenant. He then was stationed briefly at Fort Bragg, N. C., prior to serving in Europe with General George Patton's Third Army where he rose to the rank of captain and battalion commander in the 65th Infantry Division.

When he left active duty in 1946, Captain La Fond was among those who chose to remain in the active reserve which provides this country with an effective, easily mobilized, well trained force in times of need. While in the Reserve, Lt. Col. La Fond has progressed steadily up the ladder of command to his present assignment as battalion commander.

Colonel La Fond is not the only member of his family who is interested in the maintenance of the country's Active Reserve. His wife, the former Ruth Mead, is a former WAC sergeant and served two and one-half years overseas in World War II herself. More recently, she was president of the Reserve Officers Association Ladies, 70th Division Chapter. For both Lt. Col. La Fond and his wife, sustaining community interest in the U. S. Army Reserve program has become a source of understandable pride.

Let's Take Another Look

The blaze which completely destroyed the home of the Dr. John H. Buell family in Provençal road on Monday morning could very well result in another and closer look being taken at the recommendations made early this year by the Citizens Research Council of Michigan. The opinion of the council, after making an extensive survey, was that the cities of Grosse Pointe Park, City and Farms would do well to consolidate. A secondary recommendation was that, in the event the three couldn't get together on a complete merger, it would be wise to combine the police and fire departments of the three municipalities.

Little or no progress has been made towards either of these ends, primarily because the Farms council has shown almost unanimous antipathy toward the suggestions. The attitude of the Farms solons has been that they have more and better facilities of all kinds than either of the other two cities and can get along fine without any help. Monday morning's tragic fire proved that this is scarcely the case.

We are not implying that there was any mishandling or inefficiency in fighting the Buell blaze. In this case early evaluation seems to clearly indicate that it was simply a fire that had too much of a start before the alarm was turned in. A broken gas line added to the complications and the result was "the worst conflagration in Pointe history."

Help had to be solicited from three other fire departments, the City, Park and Harper Woods. Then with the Farms fire headquarters stripped of equipment, the Woods sent standby help there in the event another fire should occur.

Whether or not any of the Buell residence or its contents could have been saved had there been a greater concentration of equipment available immediately, is anyone's guess. The possibility of a repetition of such a conflagration cannot be completely discounted. There are more large mansions in the Farms than in any of the other Pointes. And there is always the Convent of the Sacred Heart, which has been a source of worry to fire experts for many years.

There is certainly a lesson to be taken from the ashes of this tragic blaze, and we hope the Farms council will see fit to cooperate fully with the other Pointes in an intensive study of the proposed fire protection merger.

Another lesson is contained in the published stories on this fire. Dr. Buell is said to have rejected the suggestion that he call the fire department when the family detected a peculiar odor in the house. He is reported to have stated that fire departments didn't want to be bothered by such requests.

As the departments have themselves stated countless times, this is exactly contrary to fact. They have pleaded with the residents to call them on the slightest suspicion of the existence of, or danger of a fire. They have made every attempt to make it clear that they would far rather prevent a blaze than be called upon to battle one.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Mr. Edgar:

It was with great interest that I read the article relative to the cost of sewage, which appeared on the first page of the Grosse Pointe News on December 11. However, only part of the story was told. I believe an article of this type would be enlightening to the people of Grosse Pointe if you would acquaint them with the fact that Detroit's new rate for sewage will be $43.33 per million gallons to take it through our interceptor to the treatment plant, and for treating it.

A program is now being developed, and the Wayne County Board of Supervisors have given their authority to proceed with the construction of a system for that portion of west Wayne County not served by Detroit. All expenses are added in, and the necessary cost for treating sewage will be $115 per million gallons, plus a $50 tap-in charge.

I am mentioning this to you to point out that Detroit is doing this service for the Pointes at a reasonable charge; and, when connected to a larger system, it results in lower charges for everyone. The implication that Detroit is making money at the Pointes' expense just is not supported. As you know, the rates were set by a court, so all equities were evaluated; and the rates that were assessed to the Pointes were also assessed to Detroiters, as well as everyone else connected to the system. The rules for evaluating the rates for the cost of water are applicable to those for sewage, wherein everyone's costs are equitably assessed. We invite anyone, individually or in groups, to review our records to ascertain that this situation exists.

This information is being forwarded to you in the hope that you will report it to the people in your area. As you know, there are many people in Detroit who think these services should not be supplied to the suburbs. I assure you that we are not of that opinion. Nevertheless, when an article appears in the paper indicating that Detroit is taking unfair advantage of the suburban communities, it only enhances the "anti's" argument.

If you would like additional information pertaining to this sewage situation, I will be happy to furnish it.

Very truly yours,
G. REMUS,
General Manager,
City of Detroit,
Board of Water Commissioners.

What Goes On at Your Library

By Jean Taylor

Each year brings new names of promise to the literary roster, but each year, too, takes its toll. Many authors whom we've come to know well have died during 1958, leaving their readers with a sense of personal loss.

The playwright, author, and drama critic for the New Yorker, Wolcott Gibbs, who died last August, left a devoted following. He became a copy writer on the New Yorker in 1927, hired he claimed "to superimpose grammar as far as possible on genius". In 1940 he took over the drama department after the late Robert Benchley. "More In Sorrow," published after his death, is Gibbs' own selection from his 30 years of writing. Drama critic George Nathan, with his profound influence on the American theater, is also sorely missed.

Few of our readers will remember the thriller of the twenties, which had the audience singing with suspense, "The Bat," by Mary Roberts Rinehart. The author died this fall at the age of 82, with some 50 books to her credit. Altogether these have sold in board editions, 11,000,000 copies and in paper backs, almost 10,000,000. They have been translated and published in most European languages, and more recently in a number of Indian dialects.

The English born poet of the Yukon, Robert W. Service, would have been the first to insist his widely read verse could not be regarded as my ruin. With less poetry, said he, "Rhyming has deftness, I might have produced real poetry." That many people have enjoyed his lusty rhymes, however, is evidenced in the fact that when he died a few months ago, his book of "Collected Poems" was selling at a rate of 20,000 copies a year.

The English poet, Alfred Noyes, notable some years ago, died recently at 77 years of age. He is still represented in the library collection with his "Forty Singing Seamen," "The Golden Book of Catholic Poetry," "Poems of the New World," and a 1957 publication, "A Letter to Lucien and Other Poems." "God help us," said Poet Noyes, "if we reach a stage in which our plumbing is perfect, but in which the human soul atrophies."

Millions of Americans who listened faithfully to a familiar voice over the radio mourn the death of the News Analyst, Elmer Davis. Two of his better known books are "But We Were Born Free" and "Two Minutes Till Midnight."

Our history and biography sections are the poorer for the loss of Mary R. Beard, John K. Winkler and Claude G. Bowers. With her late husband, Charles A. Beard, Mary Beard spent a lifetime in the writing of books about American History.

Biographers Winkler and Bowers were both prolific writers. The former wrote several books about financial magnates, "Morgan the Magnificent," "The Incredible Carnegie," "Five and Ten" (F. W. Woolworth), et al. There are close to a dozen books in the library by historian and biographer Claude Bowers, "My

March of Dimes Pledged To Battle Other Scourges

Children with birth defects, rated by physicians as the childhood health problem most needful of attention in America today, will benefit from the 1959 March of Dimes conducted next month by the National Foundation.

The theme for the expanded March of Dimes is "Toward Greater Victories." Now that the Salk vaccine has given the key to victory over polio, the National Foundation is ready to move on to other pressing needs.

The specific initial goals are polio, virus diseases, arthritis, birth defects and disorders of the central nervous system.

School Leaders Win New Honors

Several members of the staff of the Grosse Pointe Public School System have recently achieved recognition in the field of education, bringing credit to themselves and to the System.

Louise Lockeman, girls' physical education teacher at Brownell Jr. High School, has been designated as membership secretary of the Michigan Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation, a state-wide department of the Michigan Education Association.

Director of Administrative Services J. Harold Husband responded to an invitation from Secretary Arthur S. Fleming of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare to meet with other leaders in the field of education in Washington, D. C. this month. Mr. Husband is currently president of the International Ass'n. of School Business Officials.

Frances French, Business Education Department head at Grosse Pointe High School, is first vice-president of the Michigan Business Education Ass'n. She also is chairman of the State convention now being planned, which will meet March 20, 21 in Detroit's Statler Hotel.

The November issue of "The Arithmetic Teacher" carried an article entitled "Ideas for Your Bag of Tricks," written by Humphrey C. Jackson, counselor and teacher of mathematics at Parcels. The article stresses the importance of the discovery technique and offers some definite suggestions for helping the student to solve verbal problems and to determine appropriate methods of solution of various mathematical problems.

The School System's psychologist, Doris Forsythe, recently addressed a group of interested parents at Christ Church. Her topic was "Child Behavior."

Birth defects (congenital malformations) cause the death of 34,000 infants a year in this country. This is one-fourth of all infants who are stillborn or die within the first month of life. Some 250,000 newborn babies annually have significant birth defects. Half of these children will grow up afflicted with serious illness, crippling or chronic disease.

Patient aid for children through 18 years of age, suffering from birth defects involving the central nervous system, soon will be offered by the National Foundation, it has been announced. Included are spina bifida (faulty structure of the spine), encephalocele (open skull), and hydrocephalus (excessive fluid in the brain cavities).

These defects are caused before birth, not during the act of birth. Known causes are injuries to the germ cells and factors which act on the child as it develops within the mother, or both.

The importance of birth defects as a cause of death and crippling is increasing. In 1939, a total of 12,413 infants died of this cause, but by 1953 the number rose to 20,012. Furthermore, the number of persons surviving crippling birth defects gains with improvement of surgical and medical techniques.

National Foundation researchers will study the cause of all of the more than 600 kinds of birth defects. They will seek methods of prevention as well as improved techniques for diagnosis and treatment. The earlier birth defects are detected, the better they respond to medical care or surgery.

Lose A Dishrag?

by Fred Kopp, R.Ph.

Most everyone has a tale to tell concerning wart cures. One goes like this—steal a dishrag, bury it... when the rag rots, the wart will fall off. Absurd of course. But there are reliable treatments for warts, thanks to medical science. Physicians know them. Take advantage of the newer treatments and medications available. They can mean the difference between pain and comfort... between life and death. Let your doctor do the diagnosing and prescribing. Then come to us for quality prescription service.

Center Offers Travel Movies

As a feature of its "Meet the Travelers" series, the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association is happy to present to the public, free of charge, Jack Grenard's film and commentary on "Western Britain, from Loch Lomond to Land's End," on Wednesday, January 7, at 8 p.m.

Through George Pierrot of the World Adventure Series, Jack (the son of Ed Grenard of the University Club) was able to accompany Earl Brink when he went to Ireland to make a movie. Then he took off to Britain to make this picture of his own which will be shown at the Center.

At the time Jack took this film — so good that it was shown on TV's World Adventure Series and is booked all over the country — he was just entering his senior year at Michigan State. He felt the picture should typify student travels abroad and to this end he grew a beard, bought a bike and pressed numerous assistants into service both to appear in the picture and to take turns behind the tripod so that he might be filmed. When all finished and back in this country editing the celluloid with his fiancée — now his wife, the former Jane Leverenz — she pointed out that he had omitted a scene of the student travel problem of doing one's own laundry.

To dub in the laundry scene the couple brought the laundry over to the pool of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial where Jane operated the camera while Jack pounded his shirts. So it is that the Center got into "Western Britain" and will be shown in one of its own presentations.

CAR DAMAGED

Farms police took a report from Richard Sullivan of 343 Beaupre on Thursday, December 18, in which he complained that an unknown hit-and-run driver struck his station wagon parked in front of his house, causing about $75 damage to the left rear fender.

Gould to Play With Symphony

Glenn Gould, spectacular Canadian pianist, will be the soloist with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra Friday at 2 o'clock and Saturday at 8:30 o'clock in Ford Auditorium. Paul Paray will conduct the orchestra's ninth series concert of the current season.

Gould will play the Bach Concerto in F minor and the Mozart Concerto in C minor (K. 491). The program will include the Roy Harris "Ode to Consonance" observing the International Music Fund Concerts founded in 1948 by the late Serge Koussevitzky, Strauss' "Death and Transfiguration" and the Weber-Berlioz "Invitation to the Dance."

Born in 1932, Gould has had one of the most colorful careers in music of any artist performing today. His eight concerts in Russia in 1957, the first North American artist to play behind the Iron Curtain, brought near-hysterical responses.

Gould made his American debut with orchestra March 15, 1956, as soloist with the Detroit Symphony under Paray. Valtor Poole will conduct the orchestra at the Capitol Theatre, Windsor, tonight at 8:15. The concert is sponsored by the Christian Culture Series of Assumption University.

Poole's program will include Mozart's Overture to "Il Seraglio," Vaughan-Williams' "Fantasia on Greensleeves," Mendelssohn's "Italian" Symphony, Smetana's "The Moldau" and Tchaikovsky's "Romeo and Juliet."

Valtor Poole will conduct the Detroit Symphony Orchestra's first concert of the New Year Thursday at 8:30 p.m. in Ford Auditorium.

The program will be orchestral and include Mozart's Overture to "The Abduction from the Seraglio," Respighi's "Venezia e Chiesa" ("Church Windows"), Charles Mills' "Prologue and Dithyramb," and Boris Blacher's Variations on a Theme of Paganini.

The Mills and Blacher works will be first Detroit performances.

Annual Tuxis Club Show Set for February 19, 20, 21

The 1959 Tuxis Variety Show will be held in the auditorium of Parcels Junior High School on February 19, 20, and 21, the Tuxis Club of Grosse Pointe Memorial Church has announced. The Tuxis Club is an organization for high school young people of all denominations.

Plans for the 11th consecutive show are now being made. Director of this year's show will be Peggy Pulliam Denny. Robert H. Bokram will serve as business manager. Tryouts for the show will be held in the gymnasium of the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church on December 30 from 1 to 5 p.m.

Mrs. Denny is a new member of the Grosse Pointe community. She, her husband and their baby son moved to Grosse Pointe from New York City in April of this year. The Tuxis Club said that it felt fortunate in obtaining the services of Mrs. Denny, who has had considerable musical and theatrical training and experience. She has sung in the road companies of "Carousel," "Brigadoon," and "Guys and Dolls" and has frequently appeared on NBC television programs. Mrs. Denny is now singing in the choir of the Woodward Avenue Presbyterian Church.

In assuming the responsibility of directing the Tuxis show, Mrs. Denny replaces Mrs. Albert J. Slimon, who has worked in the production of the Tuxis show for eight years. Mrs. Slimon recently informed the Tuxis Club that she felt the time had come for her to resign from her participation in the show.

The business manager of this year's show, Bob Bokram, has worked in the production of the show for several years. He will assume responsibility for tickets, programs, ushers, staging, and many other tasks which fall outside the responsibility of Mrs. Denny.

Mrs. Denny has announced that tryouts for the 1959 show will be held December 30 in the gymnasium of the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church from 1 to 5 p.m. The tryouts are open to all young people of high-school age in the Grosse Pointe community.

The purpose of the Tuxis show is to give as many high school young people as possible an opportunity to appear on the stage, to give them the experience of working together on a common project, to have fun, and to raise money for charitable projects. Proceeds of the show are donated by the Club to various charitable projects.

Unknown Driver Blamed in Crash

An unknown driver is said to be responsible for the injury of a Detroit couple Sunday night, December 21.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. Medbury, of 4401 Cadieux road, were headed north on Cadieux at 9:07 o'clock. Mr. Medbury was driving when, suddenly, he claims to have been cut off by an unknown car, forcing him to hit a parked car, in front of 806 Cadieux.

The Medburys were taken to Bon Secours Hospital, where he was treated for broken ribs and she for a fractured wrist and facial lacerations.

The car that was hit was owned by Mrs. Isabelle Moore, of 3595 Lakepointe. Both vehicles were severely damaged and had to be towed from the scene of the accident. The Moore automobile's gas tank burst and the City's fire department was called for precautionary reasons, but no fire occurred.

Medbury was ticketed for driving without control of his car.

Cub Scouts Lend Help to Marines

Heading the call by the 5th Infantry Battalion United States Marine Corps Reserve, for new and used toys, nine dens of cub scouts from Grosse Pointe, collected hundreds of toys for less fortunate children. Grouped about a small portion of the toys collected are the pack chiefs and the elder advisors of the group. In the front row kneeling are ROGER LUBBECK, GEORGE LEWIS and CHRIS PARK; standing behind them are ROBERT DUNWOODIE, ARTHUR SCHROE-

DER, RICHARD CUBBERLY, TONY BELTAIRE, JAMES SCHLACHTER and JIM DAY. Standing behind their charges are ART CARVETH, assistant Cub Master; JIM DAY, Cub Master; FRANK FITZSIMONS, program chairman; HAROLD RICHARDSON JR., assistant committee chairman; WESLEY SCHMIDT, committee chairman and MASTER SERGEANT McDERMOTT USMC, representative of the 5th Infantry Battalion.

Flu Shots Vital In Many Cases

Pregnant women are vital for pregnant women, persons with heart or lung disease, and very young or very old, says a specialist at The University of Michigan Medical Center.

Dr. Albert V. Hennessy of the Department of Epidemiology also urges all other people to be immunized because, he said, a flu shot last year does not guarantee immunity against a possible outbreak expected between now and March. A booster gives the best protection.

He says many deaths which followed Asian flu attacks last year were caused by secondary invasions of bacteria. Once a person is weakened by influenza, his body is less able to ward off common bacteria infections. Consequently, persons who suffer a bad attack of Asian flu should not return to work without a physician's approval.

Once a person is weakened by influenza, his body is less able to ward off common bacteria infections. Consequently, persons who suffer a bad attack of Asian flu should not return to work without a physician's approval.

"Influenza occurs almost every year," Dr. Hennessy says. "It has appeared in epidemic form for many centuries. Research on the control of the disease has not yet produced effective and practical chemical preventives." Thus, he continues, the only effective measure is vaccination.

"For the best protection a vaccine must now contain a strain of the currently prevalent family of influenza 'A' virus." The influenza virus can change its makeup, he explains. It has done so four

Drunk Driver Gets 20 Days

Webster Facemyra, 40, of 5150 St. Clair, Detroit, was sentenced to 20 days in the Wayne County Jail by Park Judge C. Joseph Belanger on Tuesday, December 16, for driving while under the influence of alcohol.

The judge also ordered Facemyra's driver's license suspended for one year.

Facemyra was arrested at Cadieux and Jefferson by Patrolman Rodney Wedding, who observed the motorist as he stopped for a red light at the intersection.

The man then started up, ignoring Patrolman Wedding's motion to pull over to the curb, and the officer was forced to crowd the other car in order to bring it to a halt.

The policeman said Facemyra was too intoxicated to be coherent, much less drive, and placed him under immediate arrest and took him to the station where Facemyra was booked for violation of the State Drunk Motor Law.

Scouts to Give Show at Home

Girl Scout Troop 257 of St. Paul School will give its puppet production, "McTavish's Traveling Show," at St. Joseph's Home for the Aged on Monday, December 29 at 7 p.m.

The "Young At Heart" residents of the home will meet Zeke McTavish, who just couldn't make a go of farming and so decided to "hit the road" with his family and animal friends.

The Scouts, greeted with enthusiasm by guests at the War Memorial Tree-Lighting Ceremony last Sunday, are scheduled to perform at several schools in Grosse Pointe during the month of January.

Participating in the production are Laura Kochanski, Christine Collins, Linda Campbell, Joan Reese, Susan DeSempie, Andrea Sinclair, Kathy Kramer, Kathy Sullivan, Sara Leto, Nancy Bershback, Diane Hillenbrand, Julie Crowther, Jeanette and Janice Jammerino, Amy Fischer, Kathy Murrey, Regina and Mary Hausmann, Jeanne Egan, Frances Boccia, Mary Kay Jorges and Suzanne Labadie.

G.P.U.S. News Notes

Wide-eyed faculty children really had their finest hour on Sunday, December 21, from 5 to 7 p.m., when Headmaster John Chandler, Jr., and Mrs. Chandler held their annual party for teachers and their children and, in some instances, grandchildren, too. Presents went to those aged ten and younger.

The role of a certain jolly gentleman from the North Pole was played by John Graham, who distributed presents to the enraptured youngsters. Santa's coming had been announced by Mr. Chandler's ringing a bell and saying that the good saint was on his way. Then, with appropriate clatter, Santa could be seen rosy and rushing in from outside and through a sliding window thoughtfully opened for his entrance.

During the party Mr. Sheeman was taking frequent movies of the proceeding with a camera whose accompanying lights seemed like a part of the Briggs Stadium lighting equipment. The Fleming children, aided by Becky Chandler, were serving ginger ales and cokes. The older (i.e., over ten) children were shepherding and rounding up younger ones. The teachers were exchanging season's greetings. It was a good and festive party.

Miss Banu Pektas, American Field Service student at Grosse Pointe University School this year from Turkey, was interviewed this past Sunday over a local television station along with two other A.P.S. students.

Two former students at G.P.U.S. were named last week to the Dean's List at Yale University. To qualify, a student must maintain a grade average in the top 25 per cent of his class. Those named were James G. Barnes and Robert B. Semple. Mr. Barnes is in the School of Engineering Class of 1961; he is a candidate for a Bachelor of Science degree in Bio-Physics. Mr. Semple is candidate for a Bachelor of Arts degree in History. The Arts and Letters, and is in the Yale College Class of 1959. He has been on the staff of the Yale Daily News for four years and is the chairman of the 1958 board.

entirety was given to the Pointe by Dexter M. Ferry, Jr., and the furnishings and equipment were largely the gifts of Murray W. Sales. The Central Library building has been widely written up in library and architectural magazines, and has served as a model for public library building all over the United States.

FEBRUARY 6—Robert A. Slone, former city manager of Rochester, took over as the new city manager of the Park, succeeding Everett B. Lane, who announced his retirement after 15 years of service to the city. Mr. Lane assumed the duties of an advisor to his successor, until Mr. Slone becomes familiar with his new position. The new city manager, a native of Flint, is credited with modernizing the municipal water works system and was instrumental in organizing the council-manager government in that city.

FEBRUARY 13—Jerry J. Gerich, Canadian-born graduate of Northwestern University, was appointed the new principal of Grosse Pointe High School by the Pointe Board of Education. He was principal of the Washington-Lee High School in Arlington, Va., and of all the points interviewed for the Pointe post, he was the unanimous choice of the school staff and the Board of Education, according to Bert Wicking, president of the Board. Gerich brings to the Pointe a broad experience in teaching and administration. He received both his bachelor and masters degrees from Northwestern. He succeeds the late Walter Clemmison, who was principal of Pointe High for many years.

FEBRUARY 20—The Park, City and Farms received a completed report from the Citizens Research Council of Michigan which outlined the advantages of a possible merger of the three communities, or if this is not feasible, the merging of the police and fire departments of the three cities. The mayors, city managers and other officials of these cities had met on several occasions to discuss unification of the services, but there had been some opposition regarding complete consolidation. Each of the cities authorized the Research Council to make a study of a possible complete, or partial merger of the three city governments. So far, the Farms seems to be the only one opposed to at least the complete consolidation.

FEBRUARY 27—The Grosse Pointe High School Concert Band added to past honors heaped on the high school. The band took first place in the 25th Annual Band and Orchestra Association, in Royal Oak's Kimball High School. Forty-five bands participated. Each band was required to play one number previously designated, two selections of its own choosing, and two numbers never seen before by members of the band to test their sight reading. The Pointe band took a first division rating in all phases of the performance. Although the band has always rated a First Division, this marked the first time that judges were unanimous in their decision.

MARCH 6—The Michigan Law Enforcement Allocation Committee in Lansing, following a Federal Communication Commission decree, approved two frequencies for the Grosse Pointe-Harper Woods police-fire radio system. Warren Carson, police radio technician, said that the splitting of the channels, which brought about the two frequencies, will show up in greater liability range, free of any interference. The modernization of the police-fire radio system will become "one big party line," thereby giving the citizens of the Pointe and Harper Woods greater protection in emergencies. The Pointe and Harper Woods share in the operational cost of the system.

MARCH 13—The Michigan Supreme Court threw out an appeal by the Gabriel Richard School District Improvement Association, which sought to prevent the Farms from using part of the Richard School playground to augment municipal off-street parking. The high court ruled that the Farms, besides the powers of its charter, can, under the Constitution and statutes of the State, exercise the right to lease the property from the Grosse Pointe Board of Education. The Association started its suit against the city in December 1956, and when an injunction was denied in circuit court, an appeal was made to the Supreme Court which was filed in May 1957. The Association opposed the development of the strip at the rear of the Muir property line, when the Farms signed a five-year lease with the Board of Education.

MARCH 20—The Farms council was informed by George Lang of 465 Kerby road, former city councilman and still representing the Farms on the Wayne County Board of Supervisors, that plans have been completed for the widening and improving of Moross road from Kelly road in Detroit, almost to Chalfonte in the Farms. It was primarily through his efforts that the Wayne County Board Commission agreed to the program which is intended to expedite Moross traffic, and eliminate traffic jams at Mack and Moross intersection. Lang pointed out that Moross road will be an interchange for the expressway on Harper Avenue, and that construction of Moross will cost about $600,000.

MARCH 27—The entire ninth grade of Parcels Junior High School, 170 students, with eight instructors, made an all-day trip to Lansing. This is the largest number of Pointe pupils to ever visit the State capital, and is one of many ways in which the Pointe School System attempts to bring "textbook material to life," according to Principal Vincent Peterson. The students watched the Legislature in action, met their representatives and the Governor, and toured the city. On hand to greet the students were Senator Harold Ryan and Representative Robert Waldron, whose districts include the Pointe, and State Superintendent of Public Instruction Lynn Bartlett, former Director of Pupil Personnel of the Pointe School System.

APRIL 3—The Woods received news that its share in the cost of the Grosse-Gratiot Drain is set at $4,803,234.88, of a total estimated cost of the project of $11,982,551.90. The city will pay about 60 percent, or $4,093,799.97, for the Milk River Drain; 96 percent, or $629,355.50, for the Clark Marsh Drain; and slightly over one percent or $80,099.51, for the Girard Drain. The development involves the Woods, Harper Woods and St. Clair Shores, and is to be paid off through a 30-year bond issue. The Woods' annual cost share could be as much as $50,000 a year, according to the Wayne County Drain Commission.

APRIL 10—City Police Sgt. Julius Derscheid, safety officer and a great friend of the City's school children, died of a heart attack at his home, 2161 Newport, Detroit. He was 49 years old. He was popular among his colleagues of the City Police Department, earning an excellent reputation in the 14 years he was on the force. He gave unselfishly and unstintingly of his time and energy to children of all ages. A week before his death, the Alger Post No. 995, Veterans of Foreign Wars, honored the sergeant with a civic award for his outstanding contributions to the community.

APRIL 17—The Pointe and the country mourned the death of Charles T. Fisher, Jr., 51, who died in Jennings Hospital of lung cancer. He was a leader in business, charitable and civic circles, and one of the most popular residents of the Pointe. The malignancy was discovered when the death of his brother, William P., prompted him to take a physical examination. His brother also died of cancer. Aside from his many business directorships and responsibilities, Mr. Fisher was an outstanding figure in cultural and philanthropic activities.

APRIL 24—David McCarron of 74 Hall place, owner of Monday Cleaners, Inc., was elected president of the Grosse Pointe Businessmen's Association. Returns of the annual balloting were revealed following a luncheon held in the War Memorial Center. McCarron, former president of Grosse Pointe Rotary, will head the Association for one year. Also elected to office in the Association were these Pointe businessmen, Alton O'Connor, vice-president; Albert DeRiemacker, secretary; and Robert Wilcox, treasurer. The directors elected were: Edward Craft, Dr. Earl Gelhaar, and Carl Liebold. Russell Harkness, retiring president, automatically became a member of the Board of directors.

MAY 1—Initial work was begun in the beautification and improvement of the Gabriel Richard playground, with the planting of 18 trees and bushes. The entire project, which will take about three years to complete, will cost an estimated $15,000, and has the approval of the Grosse Pointe Board of Education. The start of the work in the playground climaxed a two-year effort of the McMillan Playground Committee, which proved a definite need for the improvements and for the installation of playground equipment for the children of the Richard School and the community. Funds for the project were raised through donations made by civic-minded groups and individuals. The Board of Education agreed to expend $5,310 over the three-year period and the Farms council appropriated $4,000 as its share.

MAY 8—Nancy Nagelkirk, Grosse Pointe High School senior, won high praise from Superintendent James W. Bushong, who announced that Nancy won a four-year Merit Scholarship, one of 1,000 awarded. This is more significant when it is noted that more than a quarter of a million high school students throughout the nation competed. The Pointe high school had 10 finalists other than Nancy, the daughter of the Kryn J. Nagelkirks of Lothrop road. The Merit Scholarship Program, sponsored by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation, is an annual nationwide search for outstanding students at the high school level.

MAY 15—The NEWS office was notified that the inmates of Jackson Prison have honored the late Clarence T. McGuire of the Pointe, who came out of retirement and for many years did everything he possibly could to help the prisoners, by creating the Clarence V. McGuire Award. The late Pointer was predominantly active in Red Cross Blood Drive activities at the prison, and busied himself with any worthwhile enterprise if it would benefit the prisoners. The Award was established to be given to the civilian "who shows an outstanding effort, benefiting prison inmates," an article in the "Spectator," a prison newspaper, stated. A memorial blood drive honoring Mr. McGuire saw 1,476 inmates responding to the call made by the Red Cross.

MAY 22—The Farms Water Pumping station showed record gallons of water pumped during the first 19 days of May, as compared to the entire month of May of 1957. Consumers in the Farms and City used 85,000,000 gallons of

Knifer Given Prison Term

Remy F. Gamble, 25, of 15438 Harper avenue, Detroit, was sentenced to 2 to 4 years in Jackson Prison, following a hearing of a charge of felonious assault before Wayne Circuit Judge Frank Fitzgerald on Thursday, December 11.

Gamble was found guilty of stabbing Donald D. Herrman, 25, of 3590 Lakepointe, on September 28, who received a two-inch deep wound in the arm, when Gamble turned on him for no apparent reason, while in the Park Lounge, 15012 Mack avenue.

Gamble had been drinking heavily at a party before going to the bar, and had become unruly, and was ordered out of the bar by the proprietor, Ted Stratman, who lives above the establishment.

Police said that Gamble left, but returned seconds later with a four-inch switch blade in his hand.

Herrman, a customer in the bar, curiously ventured too close, and Gamble made an upward thrust, aiming the knife for Herrman's abdomen, which was evaded. Herrman was forced against the bar, and Gamble attempted to plunge the knife in the man's chest.

Herrman grabbed the knifer's wrist, and the knife went into his arm. The two grappled and fell to the floor. Herrman sat on Gamble, pinning Gamble's arms with his knees, but this did not stop Gamble from trying to free his arm to stab the man above.

Another customer stepped on Gamble's knife hand, and took the knife away, after which police arrived and arrested Gamble.

Drivers Ticketed Following Crash

Two tickets were issued simultaneously by City police officers on Tuesday morning, December 16. Recipient of one was Mary Ann Funk, of 159 Beaupre road. The other was handed to Ann B. Schuknecht, who lives in 558 Washington road.

The violations were issued, in both cases, for entering an intersection without due caution. Miss Funk was headed south on Lincoln road and Mrs. Schuknecht, west on Kercheval, when the two "met" at that corner. Damages were slight.

Six members of the Wayne State football team have turned to wrestling for the winter months. The list of gridders transformed into grunt-and-groaners includes two guards, a center, an end and two tackles.

Grosse Pointe News

From Another Pointe of View

By Patricia Talbot

Big parties, little parties, all very gay, are the typical last night of the year plans. Along with the big post debutante charity ball at the Little Club and the various New Year's Eve celebrations at the other Pointe clubs there are many gatherings at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Keller will be entertaining on the last evening of December in their Edgewood drive home and the Charles Wrights III, who have just moved to La Salle place, will be showing off their new home on New Year's Eve.

Dinner from Maxim's, flown in just for the evening, is on the agenda at the Dan Lovelands in Washington road. The men will be doing the serving and the ladies will sit back and sip champagne as their last night of '58 will go in a burst of glory.

The Hans Gehrkes, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Adams, the F. W. Seylers, the Robert Vlasics and the C. G. Buntings will be dining together at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club and continuing to make merry at the Gehrkes' Deeplands road home later that festive evening.

On New Year's Day the E. Osbourne Coates will be holding open house on Hillcrest road to welcome revelers.

A peek ahead at the calendar shows that the social scene will be active well into January. On the third of the month Tau Beta will be giving its annual tea dance at the Hunt Club.

Outdoor Holiday

The holidays mean let's get outdoors and enjoy the weather for the more hearty souls, among whom are the Rankin P. Pecks, Jr., who recently moved into his family's home in Lakeshore road.

They will be hosts at a skating party this Friday to sweep the day after Christmas blues away with the boat house, scene of many memorable parties, the base of operations.

On this day after Christmas, too, the Frederick S. Fords, Jr., will be off for Gaylord and skiing on Otsego slopes. They will stay at the senior Fords' home on Christmas Tree Hill with their children, Susan, (who is taking Laura Ford), Ricky and Robbie. The Fords will be away a week, toasting the New Year after a day of skiing.

Sunday Parties

This Sunday will also be a day when the latch string is out at many a gaily decked home.

The Stuart A. Frazers III, of Beaupre road, have invited friends to cocktails, as has Joseph Parsons in his Buckingham road home.

Also on Buckingham road the Gage Coopers will be welcoming cocktail guests. At the R. Gervys Grylls' home in Hillcrest road brunch will be served to party goers this Sunday.

The Don Leschiers, of Bishop road, have week-end invitations out for the cup that cheers, too.

And at the Alfred R. Glancys, Jr. in Lakeshore road those magnificent trains will be running all day Saturday and Sunday as the Glancys keep open house in the traditional manner with Mr. G. chief engineer of those Diesels in their recreation room.

On Sunday, too, the John Demorests, of Sunning-

College Crowd Bid to Dance

Always one of the best parties of the holidays is the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Ball and Midnight Supper for Grosse Pointe's many collegians. The entire old Alger mansion is given over to the occasion with dancing on both the main floor and on the lake level floor. There are only 250 tickets which can be made available, so all the college crowd is asked to pick up their tickets at the Center just as soon as they get back in town from their various campuses.

The Center's New Year's party is one of the few remaining bargains in these days of inflation. The price is the same as it was eight years ago when these parties were started. For $5 a couple there will be dancing to Al Ross' excellent music from 10 p.m. to 2 a.m. Everyone will receive fancy hats and noise makers and right after midnight a delicious ham and turkey buffet will be served. Punch will be served throughout the evening but no alcoholic beverages will be allowed.

At midnight the lights in the Memorial will be dimmed to salute the New Year and the orchestra will play "Auld Lang Syne". Then the noise makers will come into use. Dress for the ball is either black tie, or dark suit for the men and short formal for the ladies.

A hard working committee made up of Edward Grant, Diana Jensen, Jack Dasef, Donna Trefry, Sally Wendland, Joe Portera, Dick Hill and Elsa Englehart have put 1500 reminder cards in the mail for out of town students. It promises to be a gala affair.

Miss Mullen Feted in Capital

Friday evening Michael Ann Mullen, daughter of the Januarius A. Mullens, of Washington road, was honored at a dance in Washington, D.C.

Anna Petzold joined Miss Mullen and her parents from her studies at Manhattanville College where they are both students for the dance. Mrs. Renchard is Michael Ann Mullen's godmother.

Kind words never die—and the other kind live on forever.

Sub Debs Dance At Little Club

A five piece orchestra played the milk bar day a booming business at the Little Club Friday night when the Richard Doughtrys gave a dance for their granddaughter Jean Templeton, daughter of the Marshall E. Templetons, of Kenwood road.

An animated Santa Claus greeted the young guests and the club was decorated throughout with five foot bronze Christmas wreaths studded with angels heads against pink feathers.

Dinner parties before the dance were given by Alice Mary Ledyard and her brother, Skip, Julie Ann McMillan, Mary Waterman and Judy Tip-ton.

Jean wore a royal blue silk balerina dress and had a corsage of pink roses. Mrs. Templeton was in a two toned beige satin with a coral rose at the waistline and coral shoes.

Yacht Club to Toast Old Year at Ball

Gay Holiday Eve Planned by Club with Reservations Pouring in for End of the Year Celebration; Children Under 12 Greeted Santa Last Week

Gayest of gay will be Grosse Pointe Yacht Club's New Year's Eve Celebration, early reservations indicate. The December 31 party to greet 1959 will be staged in the ballroom and main dining room, with two orchestras and all the panoply of streamers, balloons, fancy hats, noisemakers.

The formal festivity will be a matter of dinner from 8 o'clock to 10 o'clock, and dancing from 10 o'clock to the wee hours.

Among those who have reserved tables for groups are the Harry R. Fruehaufs whose party will number 12; the Harry R. Fruehaufs, Jr., heading a group of 14; the Troy W. Macshmeys, with 16, the Jack Frasers, 12.

The Children's Christmas Party last Saturday led off GPYC's holiday fetes with a capacity crowd of youngsters up to 12 years, and their parents and grandparents.

The fete was beautiful. Tiny misses in prettiest pastel organdie or Yuletide red frocks, and small lads groomed to the nth degree, visited Santa Claus in the Venetian Room, then went to the ballroom where older brothers and sisters were congregated for music, singing, the Christmas tree, gifts and refreshments.

Teddy Shaw had a whirl on the eve of his third birthday—he was with his charming mamma, Mrs. Howard Shaw, and sisters Patty and Nancy, and for young Ted it was a birthday and Christmas both.

Mrs. George A. Gardella, in stunning charcoal jacket dress, velvet-trimmed, and small hat, was with daughters and grandchildren, including Mrs. Dean Conway, Christine, Fred and Cynthia; Mrs. John Schafer, Stephen and Gretchen, and Catherine Lilley. Six debutantes chose Saturday for their presentation parties and the whirl went on from afternoon till late in the evening.

The bud carried her father's gift of red sweetheart roses, stephanotis and ivy. Mrs. Buell was in a ballerina length green satin gown and wore white orchids.

After tea in the club, which was decked with poinsettias and holly, the debutantes rushed home to dress for the dinner at the Warren Sismans' Yorkshire road home.

At the dinner, Suzanne Sisman, in white corded silk, empire styled with pink slippers and carrying a bouquet of pink roses shared honors with Catherine Devlin, daughter of the George A. Devlins III, of Grosse Ile.

Miss Devlin was in a strapless gown of white faille and her mother wore a blue green ballerina gown. Mrs. Sisman chose an empire champagne crepe gown.

Then it was back to the Little Club for the dance, at which the John G. Garlinghouses presented their daughters, Susan, the Ledyard Mitchell, her granddaughter, Polly Deming, and the Donald Williamses, their daughter.

Kathleen. The families received in the club drawing room which was wreathed in Christmas greens and trees sparkling with blue and white lights. A huge, lighted Santa Claus scene greeted the guests as they drove into the club courtyard. Susan was in long white silk organza with an aqua bow and streamers and Polly Deming chose white lace over pale pink peau de soie.

Kathleen wore white peau de soie with a large bow faced in red velvet. Breakfast was served on blue felt cloths centered with hurricane lamps sets in beds of Christmas ornaments.

Youth Council Dance Monday

The Youth Council of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial is scheduling its Christmas Dance known as "Mistletoe Magic" for Monday night, December 29, from 9 to 12.

The council has decided because so many young ladies want to thank their beaux for Christmas presents or New Year's Eve bids to make this affair a girl's invitational (hag dance). However, if any boys made dates previous to this announcement they should feel perfectly right about keeping them.

A good supply of fresh mistletoe has been promised to be shipped in and together with the Center's holiday decorations will make a very festive occasion.

Extra special entertainment is promised for intermission time. The Pointe's own teen-aged celebrity, Mike Quatro, who has been featured with Lawrence Welk on his TV program, is back in town for the holidays and has kindly agreed to play for his many Grosse Pointe friends.

A couples only dance, this is a dress up affair, but not formal. Girls are encouraged to wear their new Christmas finery and boys to wear suits and ties.

Group Holding Dance At Neighborhood Club

The Guys and Dolls Dance Club of the Neighborhood Club is having its annual Holiday Hop on Friday, Dec. 26, from 7:30 to 9 p.m. in the club gym.

Boys and girls, ages 7-12, attending this special holiday party must be members of the club.

Featured during the evening will be novelty and current dances and refreshments will be served.

People who do as they please will probably never win a popularity contest.

Ferrys to Fete Miss McElvenny

Alice McElvenny, who will marry Ted Oldham in January in Berkeley, Calif., has arrived from the West Coast to spend the holidays with her parents, the Ralph T. McElvennys, of Cloverly road.

She will be honored December 29 at a tea and shower in the Notre Dame avenue home of Mrs. Dexter Ferry. The Ferrys' daughter, Mrs. Gray Williams, Jr., will be here from New York to co-hostess the party.

Mrs. Williams will be a member of the wedding party and Miss McElvenny, with whom she made her debut at the Little Club, was also a member of her wedding.

Henry Clay is credited with first using the plea of "temporary insanity" to save an accused man from the death sentence.

Doings of Last Half of Year Told in Continuation of Summary Started in Last Week's Issue

Most of the Pointe's residents must have delayed their summer vacations for July was a busy month beginning with the Country Club's invitational golf tournament with the Algiers, Sheldens and Chapins among others entertaining out of town guests.

On the Fourth the Radnor circle neighbors had their annual party at the James Harlands and the William Moore Joys gave an elaborate housewarming party in their St. Clair home.

There was the exodus of the sailors for the Mackinac Race with Frederick S. Ford Jr., and Horace Caulkins Ford, competing in family rivalry.

Elizabeth Ann Schemm married Stuart Scheifele and from Norway came news of the wedding of post-deb Annette Templeton and William B. Slater, Jr.

Lauren Edgar, our editor's daughter, was married to Benjamin G. Chapman III in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church with ten attendants in pale pink chiffon.

Lochmoor ed a Bermuda party with dancing under the stars and ticket sales for the fall Junior League Fashion Show began.

The weddings continued with Lois Ann Murphy marrying Donald Ray MacLaren in St. Peter and Paul Church.

Stephanie Fink was a radiant mid-summer bride in mousseline de soie in St. John's Church, Grand Bend, Ont., with a reception following at her family's summer home, Juniper Hill. The newlywed Charles Potters live in that honeymoon colony, the Vernier road apartments.

Les Brown and his band made a much heralded appearance at the Country Club, proving again that big name orchestras are still popular. The Grosse Pointe Yacht Club's Showboat party drew a capacity crowd.

Lochmoor anticipated a successful golf tourney and GPYC continued its summer galas as regatta host.

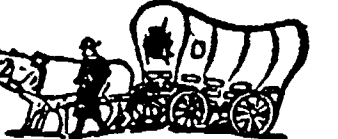

Ann Noble Sherer was a beautiful bride. Her wedding to Benjamin Paddock was followed by a reception in the Ridge road gardens of her family, the Joseph S. Sherers, Jr., and a trip to Bermuda.

Pointe teens welcomed the children of Sir James and Lady Easton, new British consul and his wife.

Devils Still Question Mark Despite Two More Victories

Grosse Pointe High School's basketball team still remains a big question mark in Border Cities League play despite a lopsided 58-13 victory over Monroe on the local court last Friday, December 19.

After the Devils had absorbed a 45-41 beating at the hands of Fordson a week earlier, they tackled non-league Mount Clemens on the Bathurst home court, Tuesday, December 16, and won 63-51 in a surprisingly easy manner. Veteran Rem Purdy bounced back and chalked up 19 points to take runner-up scoring honors behind his teammate Lars Anderson, who pumped in 20. Ron Schram came into his own for the first time this season and showed promise of developing into an important cog in the Devils' scoring machinery.

Flushed with victory, the Devils started their third win in four starts the Devils ran around a badly outclassed Monroe quintet on the local court before a large "home for the holidays" crowd.

Faced by veteran guard Larry Bruzese the Devils vaulted into a commanding 21-5 lead in the first quarter. The Pointers' fast break was working to perfection. This, coupled with the down-court pressing tactics and an iron-clad defense, had the Trojans standing around with their mouths hanging open.

Pulling into a defensive shell the Devils limited the Trojans to a mere 9 points while adding 10 of their own to hold a 31-14 lead at half-time.

With the game pretty much on ice after Purdy and Anderson had paced the Pointers to a 14-point third period spree, a 45-27 margin. Coach Howard MacAdam began to substitute freely at all positions except center. At this spot he left starter Lars Anderson who was having his hottest night since the start of the season. Anderson continued to thrill the crowd with his long shots and he racked up nine more points in the last five minutes of the last quarter.

Like their varsity counterpart, the Grosse Pointe Blue Devil reserve basketball team chalked up two victories after dropping its first loss to Fordson.

Coach Jim Epperson's quintet swamped Mount Clemens 50-29 behind the sharp shooting of Ken Stanley on Tuesday, December 16. Three nights later, the Devils humbled Monroe 69-26 and this time it was Brian Mumau, the Devils' half pint guard, that paced the way with 18 points.

Ken Stanley took runner-up scoring honors with 14 and Bob Kinel paced the losers with 13.

In both games the Devils employed a semi-press and a fast break to completely mystify their opponents. It was Doug Aldinger and Mumau who started the Trojans on the skids with their quick scoring thrusts on the business-end of successful fast breaks after Stanley and Chuck Clark had cleared the Devil board following Trojan shots.

Austin Keeps Slate Clean

The Austin Friars ran their winning streak to 30 by beating non-league opponent Shrine 60-46, and league foe De La Salle 64-46. The scores are not indicative of the closeness of both contests.

Against Shrine, the Friars started slowly and held a narrow 13-11 margin at the end of the first period on Tuesday, December 16. This appeared to shake the Friars out of their lethargic state and they poured in 21 points in the second quarter while holding Shrine to a meager seven points to take a 34-18 halftime lead. Center Dave Miller was the big defensive gun for the Friars as he swept the boards and kept Shrine in check while his mates whistled shots through the hoop.

Shrine still wasn't out of the game despite the comfortable cushion enjoyed by the Friars and fought back gamely, but Austin had too many guns.

De La Salle came the closest of any of the previous 29 opponents to tripping the Friars as the Pilots battled the Friars on even terms and were deadlocked at 27-27 at the time on Friday, December 19. Thoroughly scared, the Friars fought to keep their winning streak intact. But the Pilots held on tenaciously and trailed by only two points, 42-40, going into the final eight minutes.

Captain Tommy Pine personally insured victory with a terrific final period in which he collected the lions' share of his 26 points, which gave him individual scoring honors. Guard Tom Wright played an important part in this win as he contributed to the Friars' 24 point fourth quarter spree.

Currently, Austin is leading in the Central Division race with 3 wins in as many starts. Overall the Friars own a 5-0 record for the 1958-59 season.

Austin will tackle league opponent Salesian when it continues its bid for the title after the holidays on January 6.

HITS PARKED CAR

James R. Kennedy, of 8900 East Jefferson avenue, was ticketed for failing to have his car under control on Wednesday, December 17. Kennedy was driving south on Rivard, when he hit a parked car in front of 800 Rivard and the owner of the parked car, Edmund J. Jaskolski, who lives in 5932 Van Dyke, was given a witness notice which will require his appearance in court.

John Garner is the only man to have presided over both Houses of Congress on the same day. On March 4, 1933, "Cactus Jack" lighted a cigar as speaker of the House and finished it as vice president and presiding officer of the Senate. He adjourned the House, walked across the Capitol to the Senate, and was immediately sworn in as vice president.

Lakers Tied In Cage Loop

The unbeaten St. Paul Lakers walloped St. Ladislaus 72-48 on Friday, December 19, and moved into a two-way tie with St. Florian for the lead in the Catholic East Side First Division race.

The first quarter almost proved disastrous for the high flying Lakers as they were out-hustled and out-shot by the spirited Greyhounds 12 to 8.

The Lakers could not emerge from their shell till the middle of the second quarter when they came alive with three quick field goals and tied the score at 20 to 20. From then on it was a see-saw battle until the end of the half. The 30 to 29 score at the half apparently awakened the Lakers to playing their usual calm, unhurried game of basketball.

The spark was set the moment they stepped on the floor for the third quarter. Scoring 18 quick points literally deflated the spirit of the Greyhounds. From then on it wasn't much of a contest, and the game ended with a 72 to 48 victory for the Lakers.

Joe Lauer's 24 points led the St. Paul scoring and was followed by Dave Ayraut with 16, and Tim Hutton and Tom Koleski with 10 points each.

Club to Stage Squash Tourney

The University Club of Detroit will stage its first annual Invitational Intercollegiate squash racquets tournament on December 29-30.

Tournament director Tobey Hansen expects 24 entries to represent at least seven colleges. Tobey said "The reason for the tournament is to introduce the game of squash racquets to midwesterners before they graduate from college."

Many Grosse Pointe college students will vie for honors and many already are experienced in the game, having competed at their respective colleges.

Already entered is Charles Kingsley, captain of the Yale team, and with him will be a teammate, James E. Bayne. George Parker III and Leonard Smith of the University of Michigan and Bill Bryant of the Princeton team also have filed entries. Trinity College, so far, has the largest entry with Henry and Nelson Holland, Mackie Wiener and George Black, and Fred Coggin of Dartmouth. Harvard and Cornell will also have representatives.

Tournament chairman will be Charles MacFeeley and the athletic director of the club is Richard Turner.

Big Game

Lawrence Tech will mark the halfway point in a cross-country tour for the visitors.

The intercollegiate game, which will begin at 8:15 p.m., will be the main event of the Grosse Pointe Park Little League's annual all-star night.

The program is under the direction of a committee including Paul Short, president of the Grosse Pointe Park Little League, George Verdonck, vice president; Richard Miller, secretary; Anthony Bagnasco, treasurer; and Mrs. Alfred M. Entenman, Jr.

The curtain-raiser on the evening's schedule will be a Little League basketball game at 7:15 p.m., in which the Grosse Pointe Park All-Stars will be pitted against the Grosse Pointe All-Stars.

A baseball clinic will follow in which the instruction will be handled by Don Lund, former Detroit Tiger outfielder and coach, who will become baseball coach at the University of Michigan next season, and Casey Lopata, Philadelphia Phillies scout.

Lund and Lopata will also act as officials for the intercollegiate basketball game.

Between halves of this contest, Soupy Sales, local radio and television comedian, will entertain the crowd.

Tickets may be obtained for a $1 donation from any Grosse Pointe Park Little League player or at Gray's Racquet and Sport Shop.

Monroe Trojans Shatter Devil Swimmers' Dreams

Monroe's "Terrific Trojans" wrecked Grosse Pointe's chances for a perfect Border Cities League season with a devastating 63-33 walloping on Friday, December 19, in the flooded Monroe pool.

Why the Devils were so soundly trounced still remains a big mystery to most Devil fans.

Possibly the Devils were still remembering the near perfect meet they had turned in against reportedly strong Fordson just a week before in the local pool and the fact that Monroe was not supposed to be as strong as Fordson.

May Share Title

The truth remains that the Devils were beaten and any thoughts that the team may have had of posting a perfect Border Cities League season have gone down the drain. Also the Pointers are now faced with the glaring fact that they may be forced to share the league title with Monroe unless the Trojans fall victim to over-confidence and complacency along the trail to the title.

Coach Paul Wheeler was probably the most surprised of all Pointers. He had the meet figured to be a close one with the Devils winding up on the long end of the score. But what he hadn't planned on was two of his veterans performing below their usual efforts.

After Susan Kross' debut the day after Christmas most of the debutante set will leave for Osego skiing although many will return for the big charity ball at the Little Club New Year's Eve. Most of the clubs will toast the old year out and the new year in at gay dances, and the season will come to a glorious close on the first day of 1959 at open houses throughout the Pointe. May we join your neighbors in wishing you a Happy New year.

Headlines of the Week school closed because they were potential fire traps.

Saturday, December 20
CHRYSLER CORP. and the UAW settled the 18-day Dodge strike Friday and agreed on a company-wide plan they hope will bring labor peace, at long last, to the auto firm and its 95,000 employees.

The settlement was announced at noon after a nearly-continuous 26-hour bargaining session at the company's personnel office. Chrysler recalled workers immediately at the key stamping plant and told all other Detroit-area employees idled by the strike to report on their regular shifts Monday.

The 7,100 members of Dodge Local 3 who struck Dec. 2 in protest against production standards and "inadequate" relief time, were expected to approve the agreement.

THE FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION Friday authorized Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Co. to stop selling natural gas to the Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. as of March 15.

The decision marked a new chapter in the seven-year profits and service feud between the companies.

Michigan Consolidated said the shift will cost its 850,000 customers, most of them in the Detroit area, an extra 5.4 million dollars a year.

THE VOICE OF PRESIDENT Eisenhower broadcast from America's four-ton satellite in space Friday the classic Christmas message "Peace on earth and good will toward men."

message to the world, recorded on tape in the White House last Tuesday, was broadcast from the huge Atlas as it flew through space at 17,000 miles an hour.

Sunday, December 21
ISRAELI AND UNITED ARAB Republic jet fighters staged a dogfight 3,800 feet over Southern Israel Saturday and a Russian-built MIG-17 plunged into the desert in flames.

An Israeli Army spokesman charged that eight UAR planes violated Israel's air space over the Negev Desert, south of Beersheba. He said the planes were all Soviet-made MIG jet fighters.

Observers believe the UAR "invasion" was connected with Egyptian fears that Israel may be planning a reprisal for the shelling of border villages.

AMERICAN AIRLINES' 74 daily flights in and out of Detroit Metropolitan Airport were grounded Saturday as 1,500 pilots struck for shorter hours and more pay.

The midnight walkout crippled American's operations from coast to coast and from Canada to Mexico. All reservations were cancelled through December 26 but the airline kept ticket offices open to get passengers on other planes or trains for Christmas holiday travel.

Negotiations in Chicago between American and the Airline Pilots Ass'n. broke down at midnight after three days of talks and optimistic predictions.

EIGHTY PACIFIST DEMONSTRATORS, most of them singing Christmas carols, invaded a large missile base in Swaffham, England, for the third time in a month Saturday, and 40 of them were taken to jail. The demonstration was sponsored by the Direct Action Committee Against Nuclear War.

American Thor missiles are to be kept at the base, which is part of the Royal Air Force network. Saturday's pacifists squatted at the base's main entrance and blocked trucks carrying building supplies into the area.

Monday, December 22
A BUS THAT ran out of control down a winding mountain road in Oaxaca, Mexico, crushed Sunday and killed at least 70 of the 72 persons aboard. The two survivors were hospitalized in critical condition. Officials blamed the accident on speeding in the mountainous curves in that area.

And in Chicago a Transit Authority bus and a car collided at an icy intersection Sunday night, killing three and injuring 10 passengers. All the dead were in the car.

CHARLES DE GAULLE was overwhelmingly elected Sunday as France's most powerful President since Napoleon's days. The 68-year-old Premier snowed under a little-known Communist and a non-Communist leftist in a runaway election.

More than 80,000 "grand electors" ranging from members of Parliament to village officials, voted throughout France and its overseas territories as an electoral college to elevate de Gaulle into office as first chief executive of the Fifth French Republic.

The victory completed a six-month political revolution that wiped out the postwar Fourth Republic. The presidential term will last for seven years.

CHRYSLER CORP., in agreement with the UAW after an 18-day strike, will go full blast today, Monday. Its 27,220 workers in 18 Detroit-area plants will resume production of 1959 models.

An additional 13,810 workers in 10 American plants and 2,600 in one Canadian plant will be back at their jobs Monday or Tuesday, a company spokesman said. The Chrysler employees will not, however, receive their pay checks until January 2.

IN A DOUBLE SURPRISE Monday, President Eisenhower announced he will submit to Congress next month a budget water, whereas for all of last May the figure was 86,000,000. The unusually dry spell, for this time of the year, is the cause of the record pumpage, said to be the highest for May in the Farms plant history.

The total of the first 19 days of May, almost equaled that for the previous month of April, when the plant pumped about 85,540,000 gallons, which was the highest for any April in history.

MAY 29—Police recovered a safe containing $50,000 in cash taken from the home of Peter Cavataio, 768 Middlesex. The safe, weighing about 700 pounds, was found in a private garage in Detroit, and was left there by the burglars who took it from the Park home. The outer door of the safe had been drilled and partially "torched," but the thieves could not get at the money which was locked in an inner compartment.

The burglary is believed to have been the biggest, in the amount of money stolen, in the history of the Park.

JUNE 5—A fire of undetermined origin routed 100 students from the Grosse Pointe High Annex. Flame and smoke damage was estimated at $15,000 to $20,000, according to Farms Fire Chief M. William Mason. When firemen arrived at the scene, flames were spouting from the basement windows and licking at window frames on the first floor, but the firefighters brought the fire under control within 10 minutes. A puzzling aspect of the fire is that it had a good start, and smoke was billowing from the basement across Grosse Pointe boulevard, before it was noticed and the alarm given.

Another puzzler is that the students were on top of the fire and heat and were not aware of it.

JUNE 12—Grosse Pointe High School again captured the Border Cities League Sweepstakes trophy, which is awarded each year to the school compiling the most points in all six major sports.

The Devils scored 180 points out of a possible 190, by winning outright championships in football, tennis and track, shared championships in basketball and swimming and balanced at approximately 77 billion dollars.

This is to operate the Government in the 1960 fiscal year—which begins July 1. Mr. Eisenhower assured there will be no call for general tax increases.

Biggest surprise was the total, as most experts had guessed at a budget of 80 or 81 billion. This was the first time a formal announcement of figures had been made before going to Congress.

HARD-PRESSED AUTO WORKERS, both on and off the job, were promised holiday financial help Monday by Chrysler Corp., the UAW and Ford Motor Co.

Chrysler will distribute $50 pay advances starting Wednesday to all hourly-rated employees on the active rolls who did not work because of the Dodge strike.

UAW officers voted a special $20 check to all Chrysler workers—except members of Dodge Local 3—who lost a total of 15 days as a result of the recent Dodge strike. And Ford and the UAW announced that checks totaling about one million dollars are being sent to Ford workers who have had layoffs since Sept. 1.

BERNARD GOLDFINE, Boston industrialist, was sentenced to three months in jail Monday for criminal contempt of Federal Court. His secretary was sentenced to 10 days on the same charge.

Both were released in personal recognizance of $1,000 bond until January 7, when the sentence will start. The pair were convicted Friday by Judge Charles E. Wyanski, Jr., in connection with the alleged failure to turn over records of five Goldfine textile enterprises to the Internal Revenue Service on a court order.

finishing sixth in baseball. The Devils have won the trophy more times than any three schools combined in the six-team league. Fordson, which finished second this year, was a distant second in winning the trophy.

JUNE 19—James W. Lee II, member of the Grosse Pointe Board of Education, was elected a trustee of Princeton University, in Region III. He was one of three candidates nominated for a vacancy in the Region, which comprises 11 midwestern states, ranging from Michigan and Ohio westward, to Kansas and the Dakotas. He was elected for a four-year term. Mr. Lee is active in many civic enterprises in the Pointe, and his current term on the Board of Education runs to 1960. He was president of the board during the 1955-56 school year.

JUNE 26—In ceremonies at the Neighborhood Club, a room on the main floor was dedicated to the memory of Fintan L. Henk, charter member and first president of Grosse Pointe Rotary. Under the leadership of Mr. Henk, the Rotary Club first met in the room 21 years ago.

A number of Rotarians have donated funds to the Fintan Henk Memorial, which were used to purchase play equipment for the room for the youngsters of the Pointe. The Pointe Rotary's first president was well known in Pointe business circles, and was active in Rotary and civic functions.

JULY 3—Two well known Pointers were honored by their respective organizations. Rear Adm. Leon Jacob, USNR, of Fisher road, was elected president of the Reserve Officers Association during a convention held in Atlantic City, N. J., and Dr. Dorothy LaSalle of 868 Roslyn road, was given the highest award that can be presented by the Michigan Association of Health, Physical Education and Recreation. Adm. Jacob is a graduate of the U. S. Naval Academy, and served actively in the U. S. Navy from 1917 to 1925, and was in the Naval Reserve from 1927 until 1940.

He was on active duty from 1940 to 1946, during World War II, with the Atlantic Fleet. Dr. LaSalle, who has been active and who pioneered much of the physical education program for the Detroit schools, received the Michigan Honor Award, "for distinguished accomplishments in the field of education."

JULY 10—The Pointe Board of Education elected its officers for the coming year. Franklin D. Dougherty, who served as president once before, was picked for president; Mrs. Ruth Goebel succeeded Chet Sampson as secretary, and former president Bert H. Wicking was made treasurer. For the first time in the history of the School System, the Board had a vice-president in the person of Edward Pon-gracz. Prior to this year, the Pointe School District had been considered an agricultural area, but the State Legislature enacted a law elevating the District to a third class district, hence the vice-presidency.

JULY 17—Three Pointe juveniles confessed to vandalism at the new Brownell Junior High School. Estimates of the damage to the school jumped from the original figure of $300 to about $1,500. The juveniles, all boys, were arrested by Farms police and confessed to ruining walls, floors and furniture in the building. The boys said they broke into the school through the building skylight. The parents of the boys met with police and promised to take the necessary measures of discipline and to pay for the damage.

JULY 24—Coast guardsmen rescued six Pointe teenagers from Lake St. Clair, about a mile off Lakeland avenue, after the boys were in the water for 90 minutes from the time their auxiliary sloop capsized. The youths were: Donald Mesing of Nottingham; Thomas Moran of Buckingham; Michael Huminski of Devonshire; Robert Yaklin of Rivard boulevard; Paul Kasper of Clairview; and Robert Baker of Fairlake lane. A sharp wind, combined with the wake of a passing ship, capsized the boat, and the craft sank in a matter of seconds. The boys clung to a seven-foot portion of the broken mast and called for help. A passing freighter heard the cries for help and notified the Coast Guard at Belle Isle.

JULY 31—Dr. Frank Pitt, pastor of the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, and dean of Presbyterian ministers of the Detroit area, announced his resignation as minister of the Pointe Church. His resignation, which became effective on October 1, ended almost 28 years as pastor of the church. He has served his parish with devotion and great intellectual and spiritual vigor, and has held a leading position in civic and religious affairs of the community. He increased the membership of the parish from 600 to 3,000, from the time his tenure began in the Pointe.

AUGUST 7—For the sixth straight year the Woods was honored with a special citation for its outstanding pedestrian safety program, this time for the year 1957. A plaque, symbolizing national honors, was presented to Mayor Kenneth Koppin by George Measel, manager of the Pointe branch of the Automobile Club of Michigan.

In capturing the plaque, the Woods competed against 535 other U. S. cities in the 10,000-25,000 population class. Robert E. Lewis, Auto Club education consultant, said the Woods led cities of comparable size, with a perfect score of 100 percent in the evaluation of its accident record system.

AUGUST 14—Work on the parking lot expansion project at the War Memorial Center was halted when the War Memorial Association, which operates the center, was served with a court injunction. The restraining order was obtained by James K. Watkins, an attorney representing Mrs. Julian P. Bowen of 40 Lake Shore road, who lives directly next door to the Center. Mrs. Bowen felt that the Association should have consulted with her before any work was done on the parking lot. Through her attorney, she said that the expansion is in violation of the Farms zoning restrictions, and suggested that parking facilities be developed on the other side of the Center property, next to the existing parking lot of the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

AUGUST 21—Data released on the Grosse Pointe School District's census by the Board of Education, showed that the District gained 1,123 persons during the year. In 1948, the school census showed a total population of 38,696 persons in the Pointe District. The census for 1958 showed a figure of 62,857 residents, a gain of 24,161, or 62 percent, with 17,283 school-age children included. School-age children in 1948 numbered 8881. The census of 1957 recorded 61,734 residents. In 1948, figures showed that 8,145 persons registered, while that of 1958 showed 18,734.

AUGUST 28—Farms policemen were the first to answer a call to the home of a berserk man in Detroit, and stood by until they were relieved by Detroit authorities. The Farms officers, all patrolmen, were Otto Glanert, Arnold Parsons, Earl Field, William Fowler and Eugene Thomas. The officers went to the home of Lionel Kemp, 4977 LaFontaine, to investigate shots reported to have come from the house. They found Kemp barricaded in the building. There was no exchange of shots. The Farms patrolmen remained at the scene until Detroit officers arrived and took Kemp into custody. Detroit Police Commissioner Edward Piggins thanked the Farms lawmen for their cooperation.

SEPTEMBER 4—The Grosse Pointe Methodist Church began its fall schedule of services with worship and church school, with the opening of the church's $250,000 building addition. This addition included a social hall, church parlor, youth parlor, pastor's study, church offices and 20 new classrooms. Besides this, the church installed a new and improved parking lot with a one-way entrance and exit on Moross road. The new addition is a second unit in an eventual million-dollar construction program.

SEPTEMBER 11—Farms councilmen showed strong opposition to any possible complete, or partial, merger of the Farms, City and Park, after reading a report on the matter made by the Citizens Research Council of Michigan. The councilmen claimed that the report was "not very good" and proceeded to attack a number of the Research Council's findings. It was also claimed by one of the councilmen that the Research Council conducted the research without the Farms council's request, but officials of the Research Council produced letters showing that the merger study was approved by the Farms. The councilmen favored a public hearing on the matter, however, and stated that they would at least discuss the subject with representatives of the two other interested parties.

SEPTEMBER 18—A resolution to rescind a resolution was blocked at a Woods council meeting, when two councilmen and a group of residents at the meeting protested against an attempt by the other members of the council to bypass voters in the matter of expending $200,000, from the Municipal Improvement Fund, for a new city hall. At a recent meeting, the council adopted a resolution to put the matter before the electors, purely as an advisory vote, for the spending of the sum.

Down by the lake at the foot of the East Jefferson avenue estate of Dr. and Mrs. Alfred H. Whittaker is a log house in which early French pioneers spent their Pointe holidays.

The Cadieux home was made of logs standing end on end and has been plastered over, but the structure even today has the flavor of those over a century old French farmhouses.

Christmas in those days was a joyous though simple holiday for the hard working farmers who lived a rugged life in the ever-encroaching forests and fighting off Indians. Christmas was a holy day and celebrated before simple altars in these homes. New Year's was the gay season.

On the last day of the year young men wearing masks and drawing a cart would go from house to house singing a song. The people would come out bearing gifts of precious clothes, food and even a few gold coins. When the evening was over this largess was distributed to the needy.

In the big kitchens, sometimes the only downstairs room in these log home fires would be burning brightly in the open grate and guests would gather to toss pancakes. The contestants would be given a long handled iron pan with the pancake batter which they had to toss high in the air and catch with dexterity in the pan without the cake losing its shape. Prizes were given to the best tossers.

On New Year's morning every child would kneel in front of his parents to get a blessing for the new year. Even grownups would travel by wagon long distances to receive their parents' blessing.

Entertainment was simple in those long ago cabins, lit by firelight and smoldering candles. There was an occasional fiddle for dancing, the jews harp was popular and made a fine present to the Indians, who loved its peculiar sound, and Frenchmen loved to dance and play dominoes. Story telling, (fables from Old France), was another favorite pastime.

In the winter there was often a shortage of food and although wild game was plentiful, hunting in the winter was difficult. Wolves often had to be fought off and sharpened pickets surrounded the isolated cabins by the lake to keep the packs at bay.

When the wild turkey was shot, or the sturgeon netted through the ice, there was seldom salt to make it palatable. No one had discovered Detroit's salt beds in those days. Bear grease was used both for butter and to slick down the hair. Keeping clean was a problem, too. Soap was homemade from wood ashes. Corn was a staple as was maple syrup, which the Indians enjoyed greatly.

The French settlers might not have set a fancy table, or even enjoyed the necessities of warmth, light and cleanliness, but during this holiday they gave thanks for their new world life and celebrated with gay hearts in the only way they knew.

The holiday spirit knows no bounds for Mrs. Woodruff B. Crouse who was caught eating a lunch stick in the market last week. This was her mid-day meal for she was off to shop for her children and then to the Little Club to wrap 130 presents for the Santa there.

Blond Mrs. Allan Merrell who looked so lovely at the Victor Borge concert Saturday night in peau de soie and mink looked equally in season on the Hill in a preview of her skiing togs... a vast blue, white and navy bulky knit sweater and the choicest fashion note, baby blue and white leather driving gloves.

Brocade is "It" for elegant gowns this Christmas with the Oriental influence so popular. Mrs. John R. Sutton Jr. brought back some lavish material from her recent trip to Japan and has been appearing at all the Christmas parties in brocaded gowns with slippers and bags to match... Also in brocade, and this most luxuriously lined with mink, was Mrs. Ernest Kanzler at the Victor Borge benefit... Mrs. Howie Knaggs and Mrs. Harry B. Hovenstein have lovely blue green embroidered cocktail frocks with the Far Eastern motif.

And Mrs. George Lackey's Christmas cards this season are delicate Oriental greetings brought home from her Hongkong shopping while abroad... and speaking of cards, Mrs. Longyear Palmer has sent a charming reproduction of one of her prize winning floral arrangements, definitely Orient influenced.

One of the nicest Yule gifts we think was the one Cleveland Thurber, Jr., received in his stocking this Christmas day from his wife, a subscription to our paper.

The Christmas lights are twinkling all over the Pointe with a special visit to the Alfred R. Glancy home on every motorist's list. Their huge pine is decked from top to toe and the lovely Tudor mansion outlined in turquoise gleams... the Robert P. Scherer's family tree may be glimpsed from Lakeshore drive through the windows of their striking modern gray and white home, and it is trimmed entirely in red lights.

Red must be the favorite holiday color of the Scherers for burnette beauty Mrs. Peter R. Fink Karla Scherer wore a lush American Beauty satin off the shoulder gown to the Yale dance, the bell skirt shirred from an off center bow... Martha Sattley at the same ball was a Christmas beauty, too, in Kelly green chiffon, the harem skirt intricately tucked, the back outlined.

PILFERINGS

Whatever the past year may have meant to you, make it dead history. But let the new year be a living issue... Make the new year a happy one in your home; be bright of disposition; carry your cares easy; let your heart be as sunshine, and your life will give warmth to all around you. And thus will you and yours be happy... Ladies Home Journal.

Pointer of Interest

HELEN CONNOLLY, OF MORAN ROAD

By Patricia Talbot

In spite of arriving home at 3 in the morning from the University of Miami last Thursday Helen Connolly was bright eyed and sparkling early that morning in anticipation of the debutante gayety that is hers this holiday week.

The blond, blue-eyed deb, golden tan from her Florida semester, woke early that first morning home in her blue chintz bedroom with the lemon yellow walls to greet a day filled to the brim with ball gown fittings, Christmas shopping and last minute details for her tea dance Christmas Eve at the Country Club.

Helen, a composed young lady, admitted her mother had made most of the arrangements, chosen her four new ball gowns, and selected the club decorations. She was basking in the attention that is a bud's due and looking forward to a family Christmas.

College Is Serious

Like most of her sister debs, Helen takes her college studies very seriously. At Grosse Pointe High School last year she did some work with nursery school pupils and decided that teaching was her field. She is taking education at the University of Miami.

One of the most important reasons for choosing a Southern college was her tennis.

Tea to Be Held By Chi Omegas

Mrs. Howard Simon will open her home in Buckingham road on December 30 from 3 until 5 o'clock for the annual Christmas tea sponsored by the Detroit Chapter of Chi Omega.

Invitations are extended to active members from the University of Michigan, Michigan State, and Hillsdale College who reside in the Detroit area.

Mrs. George Gerow of Chalfonte road is chairman of the tea and assisting her will be Mrs. J. M. VanWagoner of Jennifer Court. Mrs. Ronald Dalrymple is in charge of hospitality.

Presiding at the tea table will be Mrs. E. M. Hanavan, one of the national officers of Chi Omega, Mrs. G. M. Coulter of Merriweather road, Mrs. W. F. Rossier of S. Renaud, Mrs. J. P. Schaeffer of Archdale road, Mrs. E. R. Zuehlke of Balfour road, Mrs. S. F. Slotterbeck, and Mrs. J. F. Steffen of Rivard boulevard.

Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. John Reinhard at TU 2-9611 or Mrs. K. R. Wolfe at KE 7-0080 by Sunday, Dec. 28.

She was Junior Champion last year in the all Pointe tournament and has been winter winner at the Country Club for the past four years. Professional tennis is not her idea of a career. "Teaching is a career to fall back on; besides I love kids," says this young lady.

Deb Party

Serious she may be about her education but she admits she is not one bit blasé about her debutante season. This is her big Christmas present and she and her mother have been dreaming about the bow for years.

Christmas Eve she received with her parents, the William F. Connollys, Jr., in a short holiday green satin gown, empire lined with a harem skirt, and carrying Amazon lilies.

She had a corps of ushers for support led by her brother, Peter, and including George Black, Pat Duffy, Howie Johnson, and Chuck Latham, of Bloomfield, Steve Earl, Ned Lambrecht, Howie Bonbright and Llywd Eccleston, Jr.

Here is a young lady not one bit afraid to admit she thinks marriage is her ideal of the future although she hasn't settled on the right man. (She'll have a different escort for every one of the deb doings.) But she intends to finish four years of college and even get her master's degree before settling down. In this she is typical of the current crop of debutantes, who have definite career ideas, and enjoy this party flurry as a temporary gift, not their life's work.

Likes Classical Music

Helen sets her own blond page boy, likes to read Daphne Du Maurier, listen to classical records (especially Van Cliburn, play with her poodles Misty and Minx, and bowl when the tennis season is over. All last year she played indoor tennis, but school chores have kept her from the courts this fall.

Sometime this week she will leave with a large contingent of the deb set for Outing, the Patricia Chalmers and Susan Kross party this Friday will climax the season, which is short this December, and most of the buds will rush off to the ski slopes till after New Year's when they will report back to school.

Her father, who is the mayor of Grosse Pointe Farms, will take a vacation from his civic duties and with Mrs. Connolly will join Helen in Florida for the long spring recess. This long stint away from home is the first for the pretty debutante who has grown up in the white provincial Moran road home the Connollys have lived in for 23 years.

Deb Memories

Breakfast in bed, masses of flowers, engraved invitations to pin to her mirror, memories of dancing till dawn, these are all the exciting prerequisites of a debutantes life. These young ladies are not really being launched into society. They have been there for some years. Most of them are good students, with clear ideas about their futures. Helen, like her contemporaries, will enjoy this brief moment in the spotlight, capturing these glamorous moments before facing life's vital problems with determination and purpose.

Judge to Talk At Town Hall

Judge Harold Kessinger, speaking on "The Sunny Side of Main Street," will re-open the post-holiday Detroit Town Hall season at Ford Auditorium on Wednesday, January 7. Often called the Will Rogers of our time, Judge Kessinger is a three-term Jersey jurist, editor, publisher and civic leader.

A speaker's luncheon in his honor will be held in the auditorium reception hall following his 11 a.m. lecture.

Other speakers luncheon scheduled for the remainder of the season are as follows:

January 21, speaker's luncheon for Martin Gaidin, Crystal Ballroom, Fort Shelby Hotel; February 4, speaker's luncheon for Varel and Bailly with Les Chanteurs de Paris, in Green Room of Statler Hotel; February 18, speaker's luncheon for Eddie Dowling in Woman's City Club ballroom; March 3, speaker's luncheon for John Crosby in Ford Auditorium Reception Hall.

The final luncheon will be for Alexandra Danilova on April 1 at the Detroit Boat Club.

Only Town Hall members and persons holding single lecture tickets may purchase luncheon reservations.

Cody's at Ranch For Holidays

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick K. Cody, of Lewiston road, and their children, Mary Lou, Rickie, Kip, and Angela, will entertain at their third annual holiday week house at the Cody's Cranberry Ranch near Mio, in Northern Michigan.

The party will leave December 26 to remain over New Year's Day for winter fun of skiing on the slopes of the ranch property, and skating on Cranberry Lake. In the evenings they'll gather around the fireplace in the spacious ranch house living room.
