ASTRONAUT L. GORDON COOPER is still circling the earth. Cooper, blasted into orbit Wednesday morning, seems headed for a full 22-orbit mission. So far, the United States' longest, smoothest space flight is running with "almost textbook perfection," and the 36-year-old Air Force major astronaut apparently feels fine, is expected to complete his assigned 34-hour, 575,000-mile journey on schedule. The first American space traveler to fly over Communist territory Cooper crossed Red China on his 7th, 8th, 9th, 10th and 11th orbits. He began an eight-hour rest period shortly before 9 p.m. Wednesday (Detroit time), was still awake and "looking out the window" an hour later, eventually fell asleep. Cooper, relaxed but fully competent, calmly carried out assigned scientific experiments, including measurement of the radiation effect on his spacecraft and taking readings on stars, before settling down for the "night."

GEORGE C. WALLACE, Alabama's segregationist governor, is planning a suit challenging President Kennedy's authority to dispatch Federal troops to strife-torn Birmingham. "This military dictatorship must be nipped in the bud," Wallace told reporters at a Montgomery press conference yesterday. The Governor stated his Federal court suit is in preparation, but declined to say when or where it would be filed. Some 3,000 Federal soldiers have been sent, on Presidential order, to two Alabama military bases. They will be used to control racial rioting, if necessary.

HAITI'S PRESIDENT, Francois Duvalier, told a score of American correspondents yesterday that "Haiti will continue under my administration." Duvalier apparently has decided not to flee the country, will continue to attempt to rule his seething Caribbean republic.

AMERICA'S FARTHEST-TRAVELED astronaut is down. L. Gordon Cooper splashed down Thursday in mid-Pacific, within five miles of his target, the USS Kearsarge. He had traveled over 575,000 miles, more than enough for a trip to the moon and back. Cooper's "textbook perfect" flight ended in a nerve-jangling re-entry when his Faith 7 spacecraft's automatic attitude control system failed and he was forced to fire his retro rockets manually. Fellow astronaut John Glenn, calling Cooper's splash-down "right on the money," directed the hand-firing of the rockets, used to slow the space capsule so it would not burn up when re-entering earth's atmosphere. Cooper, who slept 7½ hours in space and took catnaps, described his re-entry as "right on the old bazo." He underwent a two-hour medical check-up before retiring to bed in the Kearsarge admiral's quarters, was pronounced in "good condition" although he had lost seven pounds.

THE MICHIGAN STATE BOARD OF EDUCATION has ordered a full investigation of Eastern Michigan University. Chris H. Magnusson, board chairman, said a report by a panel of "outside experts" prompted the decision to undertake a "detailed, careful and thorough study of the entire administrative organization, administrative procedures, university policies and the implementation of policies." Magnusson, refusing to discuss the report's details, admitted only it resulted from "many complaints from faculty, students, alumni and citizens."

MRS. JOAN KENNEDY, wife of the senator from Massachusetts, suffered a miscarriage Tuesday. She had been five months pregnant. Mrs. Kennedy, now "at home and resting comfortably," has two children, Kara, 3, and Edward, Jr., almost 2.

Free baby-sitting service will be provided, and transportation is available upon request by contacting William Queen through the Church office. Tomorrow's Bloodmobile visit is a cooperative effort, involving all member agencies of the Grosse Pointe Community Blood Council in an area-wide drive to replenish the Pointe's blood supply. Chairman L. George Hooper and co-chairmen Mrs. Donald Castle, Mrs. Kenneth E. McMillin, William Queen and their committee hope Friday's drive will be one of the most successful in Pointe history.

Donors must be between 18 and 59 years of age, weigh more than 110 pounds, and must not have undergone serious surgery within the year. They may not be pregnant, have had jaundice or hepatitis or been in direct contact with such a case within the past six months.

Heart Attack Takes Life Of Fire Marshal Coriden

George N. Coriden, Fire Marshal of the City of Grosse Pointe, died suddenly Saturday evening, May 18, while on duty at the City Fire Department. Coriden suffered a heart attack at 10:45 p.m. Sgt. Parnell d'Hooghe, also on duty, worked over the Fire Marshal with a resuscitator, but he was pronounced dead on arrival at Bon Secours Hospital.

A native Grosse Pointe, Coriden would have been with the City firefighting force 33 years this June 15. He was named Fire Marshal on June 1, 1958, and was a member of the Metropolitan Club and Box 12. He was 58, and lived with his wife, Marion, at 547 St. Clair avenue.

Survivors include, besides his wife, a daughter, Mrs. Richard G. McCloskey; and a sister, Mrs. Martin Paye.

Services were Wednesday morning, May 22, at the Verheyden Funeral Home, followed by a requiem mass at St. Paul's on the lakeshore. City Fire Chief George Poupart led a guard of honor comprising representatives of the neighboring communities' Police and Fire Departments, in uniform, and pallbearers were members of the City Fire Department, Sgts. Albert Yaklin and Parnell d'Hooghe, and firemen Savern Bliss, Joseph McEachern, Timothy Champine and Robert Marshall.

Interment was in Mt. Olivet cemetery.

Brazen Burglar Robs Four Pointe Homes; Police Ask Help to Halt Prowlings

Woman Victim Sees Him in Her Bedroom and Obtains
Fair Description; Jewelry, Watches and Cash
Among Loot Taken in Residences

Pointe police have been alerted to be on the lookout for a brazen, but stealthy burglar, who has robbed four Pointe homes, while occupants were asleep, within five days. The burglar was frightened away before he could enter a fifth home.

The most recent "cat burglar" struck twice on Tuesday, May 14, in the Farms; and twice on Sunday, May 19, in the Park. At another home in the Park, the robber's attempts to enter aroused the occupant, whose attempts to investigate caused the thief to flee the scene.

In the Park, a woman victim caught a glimpse of the invader as he was about to enter her bedroom the second time. The burglar fled when the woman screamed.

Two Robbed in Farms
Robbed in the Farms were Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton F. Kotcher of 21 Carmel lane; and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gottfredson of 270 Grosse Pointe boulevard.

The victims in the Park were the Charles Mandogians of 1117 Three Mile drive; and the Sam Pretes of 1205 Three Mile drive.

The burglar was frightened away as he tried to force his way into the home of Arnold Howe, 1263 Berkshire. Howe, hearing a noise at the door, got out of bed to investigate, and the burglar fled.

The Kotcher home was entered by the burglar after he forced a rear door of the garage attached to the house.

Entered Bedroom
The thief entered the Kotchers' bedroom and took a man's gold wrist watch valued at $200; a solitary ring, with a

Burglary Try Fizzles in Park

Two youths who attempted to burglarize the home of Gil Metry, 1346 Bedford, on Monday, May 20, are being sought by Park police for questioning, according to information released by Police Chief Arthur Louwers.

The youths, described only as seen wearing dark blue short jackets, removed a set of keys from Metry's car, parked alongside the house, and opened the front door of the house and entered.

Metry, who was sleeping, heard the noise at the front door and got up to investigate. He told police that he saw the youths run across the street and through the back yard of 1347 Bedford.

He said that nothing was taken from the house. A briefcase in the car was opened, but nothing was missing, Metry said.

Police said that the would-be burglars had opened a milk chute at the side of the house, and removed several milk bottles and placed them on the driveway.

The youths departed in such a hurry, they left the keys hanging in the front door lock, police said. The keys apparently had been forgotten in the car, it was said.

Hundreds Petition Park to Close Off Road for School

Ask Vacation of 1400 Block of Audubon for Proposed Addition of Classroom Structure; 550 Persons
Attend Public Hearing

More than 550 persons filled the Pierce Junior High School auditorium Tuesday night, May 14, for a public hearing set by the Park council to determine whether or not the city shall vacate the 1400 block of Audubon road for a school addition.

Members of the Park council, sitting as a Board of Appeals, and members of the Park City Planning Commission, heard comments from citizens, a majority of whom favored the closing of the road for the proposed addition of an eight-classroom structure to St. Clare of Montefalco School.

The Board of Appeals also heard a plea from church officials to have the block rezoned from residential, so that a permit can be obtained to build the additional school facilities. The new addition will also contain a gymnasium, it was said.

To Decide May 27

The Board ruled that a final determination will be made at the next regular council meeting to be held on Monday, May 27, in the city council chamber.

The Roman Catholic Archdiocese of Detroit petitioned the Park council on March 25, to vacate Audubon road, between Charlevoix and Mack avenues.

The Rev. Father Edward Sweeney, assistant pastor of St. Clare de Montefalco Church, apparently conducted a good campaign on behalf of his parish.

Pastor of the parish, which is bounded by Lake St. Clair, Waverly (in Detroit), Balfour and Cadieux, is the Rev. Father Philip L. Colgan.

Trucks Snafu News' Phones

Persons who tried to reach the NEWS office by phone between 1:45 p.m. and 4 p.m., and again between 4:30 p.m. and about 5 p.m., on Monday, May 20, would have found it impossible. The lines were dead.

An unusually high truck pulled up to the back of the Wrigley Market, adjacent to the NEWS office, and in pulling into the market's unloading zone, snagged the lead wires and broke them apart.

By the time the telephone repair crew arrived and repaired the damage, it was about 4 p.m. The phones began their jingling in the NEWS building. Suddenly, shortly after, all lines went dead, again.

Another truck had snagged the lines again.

The same telephone crew arrived, and this time placed the wires on the roof, after making repairs, and left them there temporarily.

The next morning, the crew returned and anchored the wires higher than the original position.

Traditional Ceremonies Scheduled at Memorial

The traditional program honoring those from the Pointe who gave their lives in service during World War II and Korea will be given on the lake side terrace and lawn of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial the morning of Memorial Day, Thursday, May 30, at 11 o'clock.

In case of rain the ceremonies will take place in adjacent Fries Auditorium.

The military part of the occasion will be in the hands of Alger Post 995, Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion Grosse Pointe Post 303 and their auxiliaries. The handsome facade of Alger House is a fitting background for Memorial Day since the Alger family were all prominent in military and civic service, the general having served as Secretary of War.

Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts will assist with ushering, raising and half masting the flag and placing the wreaths.

City Planner Opposed to Expansion

Council Hears Arguments
From Both Sides on Proposal to Double
Size of Plant

Scott Bagby, planning consultant hired by the City of Grosse Pointe to prepare a "Comprehensive Plan" involving all facets of the community, is against Bon Secours Hospital's proposed expansion program.

Bagby, last speaker on the Hospital's petition to erect a 160-bed addition to the present building and increase present parking facilities, addressed residents and those interested in Bon Secours at a public hearing held at the Neighborhood Club Monday evening, May 20.

His appearance followed formal presentations by Frank Couzens, Jr., chairman of the Hospital's Advisory Board, and Dr. Anthony J. J. Rourke, a leading hospital consultant, speaking on behalf of hospital expansion; and by Walter Huber, City resident, and William Kessler, architect, representing the Citizens Committee for Study and Planning of Grosse Pointe Community Needs, a group opposed to any increase in the Hospital's present facilities.

Reads from Report

The planning consultant read aloud from a three-page communication addressed to the City Council and dated May 16. In its final paragraphs he noted: "After months of study of Grosse Pointe and the Grosse Pointe community, and with careful consideration of the measures and means by which the community can be maintained as a valuable, vital portion of the Detroit area in spite of the many potential problems, we are convinced that further expansion of Bon Secours Hospital either in additional buildings or additional parking facilities off the site will not be to the best immediate or long range interests of either the City or the Hospital."

"We strongly urge that Bon Secours plan for an eventual medical center on a new adequate site rather than expend funds at the present site where future needs cannot possibly be met."

"The Hospital Board can then decide whether to maintain the present facility or sell it to others who will be interested in maintaining an excellent community hospital in a prestige community, so that Bon Secours Hospital can continue to be an asset to Grosse Pointe."

Not Binding on Council

City Manager Lawrence C. Savage emphasized Bagby's recommendation is in no way binding, that it is still the Council's responsibility to pass on the Hospital's petition. Council has scheduled a meeting for Tuesday, June 4, at 7:30 p.m., in the Neighborhood Club, by which time it will have had a chance to carefully examine all the facts and hopes to be in a position to render a definite decision.

Hospital officials are currently preparing a detailed response to Bagby's letter, and will file it with the Council prior to June 4.

The first portion of last Monday's public hearing was devoted to Bon Secours Hospital's formal presentation. Frank Couzens, Jr., appearing on behalf of the Sisters of Bon Secours, noted the Sisters have been in Grosse Pointe and have owned the property on which the Hospital is located for approximately 40 years, while the Hospital itself has been in operation for the past 19 years.

Facilities Overcrowded

He reiterated the necessity for expansion, noted present facilities are overcrowded, stated the proposed addition would be an asset, and turned the podium over to Dr. Anthony J. J. Rourke, who gave a detailed statistical run-down, using charts and graphs on the need for expansion.

"If this hospital is to continue to provide first rate medical and surgical care... then it is imperative that prompt action be taken to expand," Dr. Rourke said. He noted patient load pattern, population and practical use trends indicate

Bon Secours should have a 320-bed capacity.

He also noted that one out of every two City residents being hospitalized goes to Bon Secours, that approximately 20 percent of Bon Secours patients are from the Grosse Pointes, (one-fourth of these from Grosse Pointe City), and that Grosse Pointe doctors admit 80 percent of the patients coming to Bon Secours, while the total number of admissions per year has increased over 100 percent since 1951.

Dormitory Ruled Out
Couzens returned to the podium for a brief resume, assured residents that the Hospital-owned terrace at Caroline and Notre Dame will continue to be maintained as a rental property and will not, as had been rumored, be used as a dormitory.

He mentioned that the Greater Hospital Council has approved Bon Secours expansion plan, and that the Hospital has talked with a traffic consultant who assured officials there will be no appreciable additional traffic burden on Cadieux and Notre Dame, as the proposed new ingress-egress onto Jefferson avenue will help alleviate traffic problems.

Walter Huber, 365 Notre Dame, then spoke on behalf of the Citizens Committee for Study and Planning of Grosse Pointe Community Needs. Huber said his group opposes hospital expansion because it considers additional construction and parking facilities incompatible with the present fine residential character of the community, and because the available land prohibits additional growth.

Presents Petition

Huber presented a petition to the Council, with over 150 signatures, protesting the Hospital's planned expansion, and a telegram from former Councilman Otto Pongrace stating it was his (Pongrace's) recollection, as a member of the Council when Bon Secours' last expansion was approved, that Hospital officials then assured the Council there would be no further requests for expansion.

Huber noted approval of present expansion plans would mean breaking the zoning laws on two counts (height limitation and re-zoning of residential land to permit parking).

He also noted that, in 1962, only 10 percent of birth at Bon Secours were to mothers who resided in the City of Grosse Pointe.

Huber then asked William Kessler, 1015 Cadieux, to continue the presentation. Kessler, an architect, showed site plans of two other hospitals, Mt. Sinai and St. John, both of which have far more land than Bon Secours. He noted building and parking area at St. John covers only 40 percent of the hospital site, leaving 60 percent green, while present building and parking facilities at Bon Secours covers almost 73 percent of available land.

Kessler admitted he is not qualified to discuss a hospital's internal needs and functions, but stated firmly that, as an architect and resident, he considers physical expansion would have a detrimental effect on the community.

His group made its own traffic survey on Cadieux and Notre Dame May 14 (a date chosen arbitrarily), counting every car, service, emergency and police vehicle using these streets between 9 a.m. and 9 p.m., and found the majority of traffic comes from the Kercheval-Mack area.

Out of 1,900 cars counted, 1,500 were going to and from the Hospital. High point of both through and Hospital traffic was between 3 and 5 p.m., when children are out of school. "If we double the hospital, I think it right and logical that we double hospital traffic," Kessler stated.

Huber returned to the podium for his brief resume, said he was concerned with removal of taxable land from the City roster and subsequent increased burden on public services and facilities, and read a letter from the Mairie School PTA Executive Council opposing expansion on the grounds that it would create a more severe traffic hazard and safety hazard than already exists.

Individual residents then held the floor for 45 minutes, giving brief pro and con Hospital expansion, after which both Kourke and Huber spoke in rebuttal to their opposition. Kourke noting that, by increasing the number of beds, Bon Secours did not hope to double its capacity but was aiming for an 80 percent occupancy (present occupancy is considerably higher).

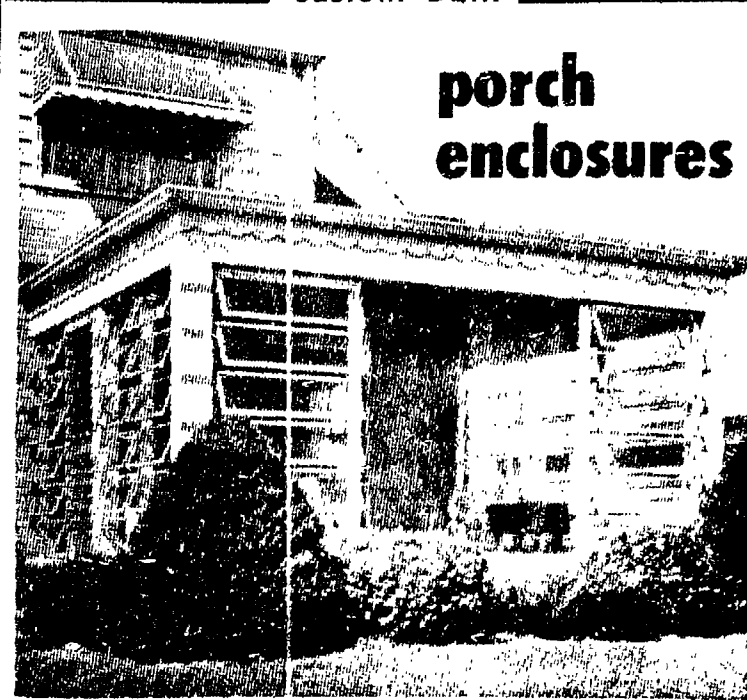

Says Statistics Change
Huber cited Dr. Kourke's reliance on statistics, said statistics change, and mentioned that several Detroit area hospitals have voluntarily moved to more practical, acceptable sites.

Bagby's statement wound up the hearing. The planning consultant is half-way through his year-long study of the City of Grosse Pointe as a whole, thinks the major problem facing this community, as well as metropolitan area fringe communities all over the United States, is how to maintain itself as a prestige, residential area in the face of growing metropolitan expansion, and said that, in his opinion, turning Bon Secours into a regional medical center would be detrimental to the best immediate or long-range interests of the City of Grosse Pointe.

ing lasted a little more than two hours, and possibly one or two voices were raised in objection to closing the road.

City Clerk Charles Heise said that according to law, notices were sent to property owners within 300 feet in and around Audubon. Thirty-four persons living in the vicinity, who would be affected by the closing, sent signed written approval on the closing of the road, the city clerk said.

Heise said that Father Sweeney presented 2,002 cards received from members of the parish living in the Park, requesting that the building permit be granted. The church members also favored vacating the one block of Audubon.

Besides the cards presented by the priest, the city clerk said 827 cards favoring the closing and the rezoning, were received by him (Heise) at the city hall, 15115 East Jefferson. These also were from members of the parish living in the Park, Heise said.

The city clerk said that he mailed out 138 cards to residents living in an area between Mack and Vernon, from the west side of Three Mile drive to the east side of Kensington. Of this number, 71 cards were returned asking approval, and 16 asked that the church's petition be refused, Heise said.

He said that he received a total of 236 letters from Park residents, of which 228 approved the closing of the road, and eight were opposed.

Father Sweeney presented the Board of Appeals a petition bearing a total of 212 signatures, asking that Audubon be closed and the section be rezoned for the school building.

In May 1962, the church petitioned for the vacation of a rarely used alley behind the Verbrughe Hardware store in Mack avenue, between Audubon and Three Mile drive, after purchasing the store building and tearing it down. The petition was granted.

At the time, it was the intention of the church to construct only a gymnasium. However, since then, the church found that it desperately needed additional classrooms.

The present school building contains 24 classrooms, and the school has an enrollment of 1,184 pupils. Each classroom has between 50 and 52 students, creating a very crowded condition. Enrollments increase each year, it was said.

Brazen Burglar Robs Four Pointe Homes

see, or hear anything after he retired.

Mrs. Prete almost caught a good glimpse of the "cat burglar" as he was about to re-enter her room.

The light was on in her bedroom, she told police. She said she fell asleep while reading. She awoke to see a man about to enter the room, and she screamed.

Scream Wakens Husband

Her scream awakened her husband, who leapt out of bed but not fast enough to catch the burglar. The intruder escaped through the den and out through the garage, the way he entered the house.

Mr. Prete said he went into the kitchen and found his wife's purse, and his trousers, which had been in the bedroom, on the kitchen table.

The thief apparently took the items to the kitchen, where he opened the purse, removed Mrs. Prete's wallet, took out 28, and dropped the wallet back into the purse. It is surmised that he went through the pockets of Mr. Prete's trousers, but it was not disclosed if anything was taken.

Leaving the kitchen, the thief returned to the bedroom and was just entering the doorway, when Mrs. Prete woke up, saw him and screamed.

Gets Watch, Bracelet

The Pretes told Park police that besides the money taken from the purse, the burglar took Prete's gold wrist watch, and his wife's gold bracelet, valued at a total of 600.

Park police said that shortly before the breaking and entering in both Three Mile drive homes, Farms police called their station and notified them that they had received a call from an unknown person that Pierce Junior High School had been broken into.

Park police converged on the school, but found nothing wrong, according to Police Chief Louwers.

Believe Thief Called

The chief said that it is believed that the burglar called police to divert their attention, so that he could operate without being hampered.

The only description Mrs. Prete could give to authorities regarding the invader, was that he was about five feet ten inches tall, very thin build, neatly dressed, wearing a dark suit and shirt, and possibly wearing a striped tie. She said she could not see whether the intruder was a white man or Negro.

Chief Louwers called on all Pointe citizens to cooperate with the police departments in their respective cities.

"This 'cat burglar' hit twice in the Farms and several times in the Park," he said. "Therefore, I would like to repeat what I have said a few times

School District's Needs Explained to PTA Council

The Grosse Pointe PTA Council in its regular meeting last Monday evening looked at current and future needs of the local school district as well as heard six residents who are running for the school board. All of the public schools were well-represented at the meeting held in the Central Library.

President Robert F. Weber of the Board of Education and Superintendent of Schools Charles H. Wilson outlined the school situation for the PTA delegates. Attention was drawn to the fact that a fall election to renew operational millage would be necessary. Rising costs will undoubtedly cause the board to ask the voters for additional millage as well, the spokesman pointed out.

"A total of 12 mills will expire about a year from now," Mr. Weber said. "These will have to be renewed if the school system is to be able to carry on at all. In addition, if we are to meet the very fierce competition which exists for good teachers, we will have to ask for still more millage to improve our salary schedules."

Mr. Weber pointed out that although the Board of Education was still studying the situation, it appeared that as many as three additional mills would be needed to make Grosse Pointe salaries fully competitive.

"However," he stated, "it is important that all realize reductions in school tax rates in the past two years have largely offset the contemplated increase. In 1960, the school rate was 23.77 mills for all purposes. Currently, it is 21.71 mills or 2.06 mills lower. Thus, the net effect of a three mill increase in 1964 would be a rise of less than one mill; 0.94 mills to be exact."

Superintendent Wilson discussed teacher salaries in general and projected graphs and charts to illustrate the relative position Grosse Pointe teachers hold. Data from Detroit area school systems as well as from suburban school systems across the nation were shown and discussed.

Communities such as Great Neck and Scarsdale, New York; South St. Paul and Edina-Morningside, Minnesota; Oak Park and River Forest, Illinois; Ladue and University City, Missouri; Shaker Heights, Ohio; and a number of California communities including Beverly Hills and Berkeley were used as reference points. So were Ecorse, Riverview, Dearborn, and Detroit.

"These are communities with which we must compete for teachers," Dr. Wilson said. "The evidence is conclusive that we must improve our salary schedules if we are to be successful in attracting outstanding candidates to teach here. Grosse Pointe citizens want more than 'warm bodies' standing at the front of their children's classrooms. I know. Only by paying competitive salaries, initially and over the long haul, can we realistically hope to do this."

Arthur Sherman, Jr., president of the PTA Council, presided at the meeting. Action was taken by the group to set in motion the machinery necessary to publicize and demonstrate the needs of the school district. As soon as the Board of Education is ready to make final decisions, the Council indicated it would lend its full support. An October vote seems likely.

Brief statements were made by each of the six men running for Board of Education posts. Two vacancies are to be filled at the June 10 election. Successful candidates will serve four-year terms beginning July 1.

Appearing before the group were Lionel Bird, Hudson Mead, Dr. Frank Parcells, Russell Peebles, Horace Roe, and Dr. Robert Whiteley. Dr. Whiteley is an incumbent, having been elected in 1959. The other incumbent whose term expires this spring is Mrs. Ruth Goebel who is not seeking reelection.

Pick Up Youths For Trespassing

While cruising in the Jefferson-Washington area early Sunday morning, May 19, City Patrolmen Gerard DeBoever and Duncan MacEachern approached three young men in a car parked on Washington north of Jefferson.

The trio, Thomas R. Finley, 15304 10 Mile, East Detroit; T. E. Beckstrom, 24845 Grove, East Detroit; and Richard Pasternak, Seaman 2/c USN, on a 20-day leave and living with his mother at 24639 Valley, East Detroit, were taken to the City police station for questioning at 3:15 a.m.

Police interrogated the three boys, all aged 17, separately. Each told the same story: they had been driving east on Jefferson, noticed the vacant property at 17700 E. Jefferson, decided to walk down to the lakefront, turned back when they heard a dog barking, and were picked up upon their return to the car.

Parents of all three young men were notified. Pasternak received a ticket for driving without ever having acquired a driver's license, and the car was held at the City station until shortly before 11 a.m., when Pasternak's mother, a licensed driver, claimed it.

Woods Council Approves Record Budget for Year

The Woods Council on Thursday, May 16, approved the 1963-64 fiscal budget in the amount of $1,546,642, which exceeds the 1962-63 budget by $23,292.

City Administrator Chester Petersen said that the increase in the budget for the coming year reflects approximately $7,300 in the General Fund and approximately $15,000 in the Utilities Fund.

He said that the general tax rate, $14.55 per $1,000 assessed valuation, will remain, as it has since 1959.

The new budget, Petersen said, provides for a complete improvement outlay of $33,500 for the lakefront park, most of which will be expended for sheet piling around the park swimming pool.

Also budgeted is 50 percent, or $25,000, for a new-type Snorkel fire truck for the Public Safety Department. Another 50 percent will be included in the 1964-65 fiscal budget, the city administrator said.

Another budgeted item is $10,000 for water system improvements, which when completed will cost a total of $117,598. Improvements authorized and completed to date amount to $95,962.

One other major service that has been provided for in the new budget, Petersen said, is a year-around weekly rubbish collection. In the current year, as in the past, funds have been provided for collections every week for seven months, and during the fall and winter, every other week.

Funds for salaries for two new Public Safety officers to be hired in July have also been included in the budget. The Public Safety Budget for the next fiscal year, including the salaries for new personnel, is $384,350, as compared to $352,579 for last year.

Another highlight, the city administrator said, is that the city has made provisions to absorb the increased cost of Blue Shield and Blue Cross Insurance for all employees of the city, not to exceed $15 a month. The city does not pay for dependents of the employees. The cost for this is paid for by the employees themselves.

Employees of the city have a $5,000 insurance policy paid for by the Woods, and this will be written up to include a double indemnity clause in case of accidental death. The rider insurance benefit will also be paid for by the city.

Still other highlights included in the 1963-64 budget, include a 10 cents an hour increase for hourly rated employees of the Public Works Department; a $100 a year increase in salary for personnel of the Public Safety Department; and various equalization salary increases for employees of some departments.

Petersen said that beginning with the fiscal year, July 1, all city offices will be operating IBM equipment for more efficient all-around, statistical information.

Funds have also been provided for the increase to the city's street lighting bill, which has gone up $11,000 from last year. This, it was explained by the city administrator, is because the Detroit Edison Company is installing modern lighting, under its six-year Master Street Lighting Program, which was approved by the Woods council last year.

The cost of the program, which is in its second year, will total $250,000, according to Petersen. The street lighting fixtures are being installed at no cost to the city, he added.

Approximately $75,000 has been set aside for a massive street resurfacing program, which, with funds remaining from last year's program, will up the 1963-64 program total to $110,000, the city administrator said.

The budget, as approved by the Woods council Thursday night, is as follows:

Revenues: City Taxes—$856,652; State-Shared Taxes—$281,300; Permits—$41,100; Licenses—$4,600; Violation Fines—$22,000; and Miscellaneous—$15,000.

Expenditures: Department of Administration—$136,280; Department of Public Safety—$384,350; Department of Public Works—$402,993; Department of Parks and Recreation—$104,341; Debt Service—$50,110; Capital Improvements—$117,598; and Sewer Loss—$25,000.

Utilities Revenue: Water Income—$200,350; Sewer Income—$100,000; Parking Income—$16,910; and Milk River Income—$8,730.

Utilities Expenditures: Water Expenses—$185,330; Sewer Expenses—$100,000; Parking Expenses—$12,845; Milk River Expenses—$4,500; Debt Retirement and New Assets—$23,315.

Pointes to Share $143,485 From State Highway Fund

The State Highway Department has started distributing the 1963 first quarter Motor Vehicle Highway Fund collections to State counties and incorporated cities and villages. The Pointes will share a total of $143,485.

State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie said that net receipts of the Highway fund during January, February and March, amounted to $87,311,745, an increase of $5,580,076 to the same period in 1962.

The major reason for the increase, according to Mackie, was that the sale of 1963 license tabs was up considerably, compared to sales during the same period of last year when many motorists purchased their 1962 license plates — first new plates in three years—earlier than usual.

When the distributions have been completed, the Woods will have received $47,202; the Park, $38,911; Farms, $33,124; City, $17,925; and the Shores, $6,323.

Wayne County's share of the fund has been set at $6,102,344.

All state gasoline and diesel fuel taxes and license plate fees go into the Highway Fund.

After deduction of collection costs and the Waterways Commission's share, State Law provides that $41,036,520, or 47 per cent goes to the State Highway Department as its share of the collections; $30,599,110, or 35 per cent goes to state's 83 counties; and $15,716,114, or 18 per cent goes to the 511 incorporated cities and villages.

The State uses its share for constructing, repairing and improving state highways; the counties use it for their roads; and cities and villages, for their roads and streets.

Judge Imposes Heavy Sentence

Harper Woods Judge Robert Vanwieemeer, acting in the absence of Woods Judge Don Goodrow, imposed a heavy sentence on a Detroit woman convicted of being drunk and disorderly.

At a hearing held in the Woods court on Tuesday, April 30, Vera Marie Porter, 34, of 1418 Helen, entered a plea of guilty to the drunk and disorderly charge.

Judge Vanwieemeer accepted the plea and placed the woman on six months probation to the Wayne County Probation Department, and ordered her to pay $75, to be paid during the probation period.

She was also assessed court costs of $35, or spend five days in the county jail. She paid the fine.

The judge then gave her a 10-day suspended sentence, which she will have to serve if she violates her probation.

St. Hilda Guild will meet at the home of Mrs. George Bashara, Jr., of McKinley avenue. Mrs. Merrill Dillon will be co-hostess. St. Martha Guild members will meet with Mrs. Ian Naylor, of Greencrest drive, St. Clair Shores. Mrs. Naylor will be assisted by Mrs. Edward Sandell.

Brownell Offers Student Displays

The year's accomplishments will be proudly displayed by Brownell Junior High School students on Friday evening, May 24, when the school will open all classroom doors to visitors. Every classroom will have displays of student work which will be of interest to parents and friends. Exhibits may be viewed after a PTA meeting which begins at 7:30.

A feature of the evening, which has proved popular in the past, is the annual fashion show presented by the ninth grade clothing classes in the auditorium-gym. Mistress of ceremonies, Chris Williams, will introduce commentators Barbara Fellows and Sue Savage.

Of particular interest in this display of high-fashion garments made by the girls themselves is an original script written by Diane Van Zile depicting the visit of three hillbillies (Bette Freedman, Debbie Preston, and Carol Nolte) to Brownell's clothing class taught by Mrs. Toll (played by Sidonie Dossin). Others playing parts in the skit include Sally Ryan, Sue Hallie, Connie Mistretta, Sue Reynolds, Sue Malcolm, and Mary Lou Jennings.

Another type of performance will be given by seventh grade students in the art room. Several puppet shows will be presented, displaying student talent in writing scripts, constructing miniature scenery, and making hand-puppets.

Those who will be performing Friday evening include: Cass

Schumann, Ron di Cicco, and Bob Verger in an original script, "The George Pierrot Show"; Gwen Halbert, Karen Ebersole, Lynn Bryden, and Ruth Bliss in "Magic Onion."

Others are Missie Lewis, Fran Critchfield, Carol Knapp, Ann Parcells, and Joann Fisher in "Man, Who Goofed?", an original script using marionettes; and a different version of "Magic Onion" performed by Linda Buck, Carla Schnell, Darby Werner, Sue Tantlinger, and Heidi Klein.

A display of work done by the Photography Club will include pictures taken during the year of various school activities.

The shops will have on exhibit wood and metal projects made by boys in industrial arts classes, and the English and Journalism rooms will proudly show the forty Scholastic Award winning papers honored earlier this year by The Detroit News.

Physical education bulletin boards will show results of physical fitness tests conducted throughout the school, as well as other accomplishments in tumbling, swimming, track, etc.

Car-Bike Tangle Injures Child

Kathryn Bridge, age 6, of 434 St. Clair, suffered a bruised lip when she ran her bicycle into a car moving from the driveway of O'Leary Cadillac into E. Jefferson avenue Sunday afternoon, May 19.

The little girl stated she thought the car, driven by Harry E. Bocan, 33211 Lakeshore, Eastlake, O., would pull out of the way. Her brakes were bad, and by the time she realized she would be unable to avoid the vehicle, it was too late to stop. She careened into the automobile's right rear fender.

City Patrolmen Edward H. Behrend and Thomas McLaughlin, Jr., drove Kathryn home. No tickets were issued.

ARTHUR J. RIVETTE
Arthur J. Rivette, ex-theater organist and organist at Dearborn Inn for 14 years, died Thursday, May 16, in Jennings Memorial Hospital. Mr. Rivette, 75, of 20660 Vernier circle had been ill for some time.

A native of Bay City, Mich., where he studied music, Mr. Rivette played both organ and piano at the Bonstelle Playhouse and other theaters including the Majestic, Garrick, Adams, Temple and Fox. When he played at Dearborn Inn during the 1920s and 30s, he became a favorite of Henry Ford, who used to sit beside him at the organ, singing favorite songs.

Mr. Rivette had been a member of the American Federation of Musicians for over 50 years. He is survived by his wife, Hazel; two sons, Arthur Jr. and James; and three daughters, Fidelis, Joann and Mrs. Mary Jane Mittel.

Services were at the Verheyden Funeral Home, where Mr. Rivette had been organist since 1942, and Our Lady Star of the Sea Church on Monday morning, May 20. Burial was in Mt. Olivet cemetery.

Shores Officers To Get Citations

Two Shores police officers, who earlier this month dove into the icy waters of Lake St. Clair and frustrated a Harper Woods woman's suicide attempt, will be recommended for citations, it was disclosed by Police Chief Fred Duemling on Friday, May 17.

The woman, whose name is withheld, drove the family car from the cross-over opposite 725 Lake Shore, over the curb and the embankment. The car stopped 40 feet from the shore line and filled with water to eight inches from the top.

A witness on the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club property, saw the car going into the lake and notified a doorman, who ran in and informed the club telephone operator. The operator in turn called police.

Patrolmen William Marshall and James Jurcak were dispatched to the scene. They drove to the yacht club dock, where Marshall removed his sidearm, coat and shoes and leaped into the water and swam to the submerged car. Jurcak followed.

They pulled the woman out of the vehicle. Marshall asked the woman the reason for the attempt on her own life, and she stated it was because no one cared.

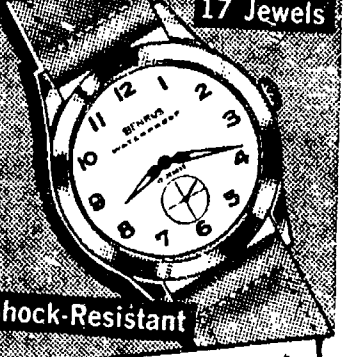

Marshall asked the woman if there was anyone else in the car, and she said no. However, the officer dove under water and felt around the inside of the car to make sure. The car was empty.

The woman's husband was called and he picked her up. He told police that his wife was recently discharged from a hospital where she had been a mental patient.

Chief Duemling lauded the action of Marshall and Jurcak and said he will recommend that they be cited.

Police Issue BB Gun Warning

Parents of children owning BB guns, will be held responsible for their youngsters, who discriminately fire pellets at, or damage other people's property, Shores Police Chief Fred Duemling stated in a warning issued on Monday, May 20.

The warning came on the heels of a rash of malicious destruction reports by residents, who complained of BB pellets fired through storm and inner windows of their homes and at car windows.

Police followed up a complaint made by Mrs. Francis Gerbas of 81 Lochmoor boulevard, made on Monday, May 13, who told police that a BB pellet came through the kitchen window pane while she was washing dishes. The pellet penetrated the storm and inner windows.

Investigating officers said that the BB was fired from a powerful air gun.

The policemen checked the neighborhood and apprehended a 13-year-old boy, who according to other children in the area, was shooting at windows of homes in Colonial road. At the station, where he was taken for questioning, the boy admitted the shootings.

Questioning of the boy also brought about the arrest of five other boys, all implicated in the shooting of a number of street light globes in the Woods last Halloween. The five were turned over to Woods authorities for further investigation.

The 13-year-old, Chief Duemling said, confessed to shooting holes in a 7'2"x4'5" termopane in the home at 77 Lochmoor boulevard, on three separate occasions. Each time it cost $300 to replace the window.

"Due to the excellent cooperation of the children involved, and their parents," Chief Duemling said, "full restitution is being made to all who have been victims of these children."

"However, this is an excellent time to remind parents that they will be held fully responsible, and liable to prosecution, for any malicious destruction caused by their children with pellet guns."

"Also, residents are reminded that there is a Village Ordinance which prohibits children under 18 years of age, owning or using air rifles," the chief said. "It is also unlawful for anyone, young or old, to fire any type of firearm, or air gun, or sling shot, within the Village limits. Police officers have strict orders to confiscate any gun or sling shot that is found in the possession of minors, or being illegally used by any one."

"Parents, or guardians, of children causing malicious damage, will be held responsible, and could be taken to court, and if found guilty, can be fined $100, or sentenced to 90 days in jail, or both," the chief pointed out.

The University of Michigan was the first American university to have a professor of physics and civil engineering, in 1853.

FRANK MELDRUM

FRANK MELDRUM whose trucking and garden supply firm is celebrating 40 years in business this week is active and is at his big lot daily. Two sons, James and Paul Meldrum are his right hand men. Starting originally where St. John's Hospital is now located, he moved 35 years ago to Mack and Cook Roads. In 1938 he moved his business to a lot adjoining his present site and, when Mack avenue was being widened he purchased the site he now occupies at 17821 Mack at Washington road. It is one of the few businesses which has served Grosse Pointe for two score years.

Police Recover Stolen Mikes

Three teenage boys were arrested by Farms police for questioning for violating the city's curfew law, and it was discovered that they had broken into the Fries Auditorium and stolen two microphones and extension cords.

Sgt. Eugene Boylan and Patrolman Frank Kerbrat were patrolling south on Fisher road at 2:11 a.m. Saturday, May 18, when they saw the three juveniles running across Grosse Pointe boulevard.

The boys were stopped and taken to the station for questioning. One boy is 16 years old and the others, 14 years old. The two younger boys had the mikes and cords in their possession when picked up, the officers said.

The boys confessed to entering the auditorium and taking the mikes, it was said.

The teenagers said that they entered the building through an unlocked door just as the lights were being turned out, at about 11 p.m. They said they placed a penny in the lock slot of the door to prevent it closing securely.

They said that they returned at about 12:30 a.m., and took the mikes and cords. They also confessed to taking seven cans of Stermo Canned Heat, and a knife.

All three were released to their parents pending further investigation. Charges against them were filed with Juvenile authorities.

The mikes were claimed by John Lake, director of the War Memorial Center.

The War Memorial Center announces its 1963 campaign to raise $60,000

PHOTOGRAPHED BY WARREN O. WINSTANLEY

Three generations of Parcels are typical of the many Pointe families who enjoy the Center

This year, as in years past, the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center needs your help. We appeal to your pride in your community and we appeal to your generosity for assistance in meeting a portion of the operating costs of the War Memorial. Last year the War Memorial had one of its most active years, with more than 100,000 men and women, boys and girls, using its facilities. This year, with the Fries Auditorium in full use, the program of the Center will reach an even larger portion of the population of the Grosse Pointes. The Grosse Pointe War Memorial belongs to all of us. All of us share in its benefits to our area. The Center receives no United Foundation money. Contributions to it are deductible for tax purposes. All of us have an obligation to protect and to further this fine asset.

Your personal invitations will arrive shortly.

Sunday, May 19
ALABAMA'S SEGREGATIONIST Governor George C. Wallace has asked the United States Supreme Court to declare the law under which President Kennedy dispatched troops to Birmingham during the recent racial disturbances unconstitutional. Wallace, sworn to oppose integration by force, if necessary, also demanded the high court declare the 14th Constitutional Amendment (prohibiting states from enacting laws abridging citizens' rights) null and void. This amendment is the basis of most civil rights rulings. The Alabama Governor's attorneys filed suit to remove Federal troops from the Birmingham area Saturday morning.

ASTRONAUT L. GORDON COOPER arrived in Hawaii yesterday. Flown from his pickup ship, the USS Kearsarge, Cooper was greeted by his wife, Trudy and daughters, Camala, 14 and Janita 13 who jetted from their Houston, Tex., home to join Honolulu's welcoming parade and participate in receptions at the governor's home and statehouse. The astronaut's last hours aboard the Kearsarge were devoted to technical "debriefing" talks, with every aspect of his successful 22.9 orbits subject to detailed scrutiny. For Cooper, arrival in the islands brought sentimental memories. He spent three years at the University of Hawaii, met and married his wife in Honolulu in 1947.

Young Thieves Get Off Easily

Fines of $25 each, plus 10 days in the County Jail, have been levied against Paul Richard Shugar, 8027 Badger, Detroit, and Joseph Albert Binkowski, 8851 Albert, Detroit. Both 18-year-olds stood mute before City Judge Douglas L. Paterson when charged with disorderly person and larceny of oil. They were arrested Sunday evening, April 28, as they walked to their car parked in the lot of O'Leary Cadillac, 17153 E. Jefferson. Subsequent investigation revealed some 25 quarts of oil missing from O'Leary Cadillac. Shugar and Binkowski were arraigned Tuesday afternoon, April 30, charged with the oil theft, and released, pending trial, on payment of $500 bonds apiece. Judge Paterson found them guilty last week, ordered the $25 fines, and sentenced both young men to 10 days in jail.

Trio to Stand Trial in Court

Three Detroiters, including two brothers, arrested by Woods police and charged with possession of burglar tools, were arraigned for examination before Woods Judge Don Goodrow on Wednesday, April 17, and bound over to the Wayne County Circuit Court for trial. Released after posting $1,000 each pending a trial date, were David Coulter, 31, of 2987 Columbus; Jesse Coulter, 28, of 12111 North Martindale; and Vales Crossley, 33, of 2929 Hazelwood, who police said is a narcotic addict. The trio were arrested on March 12, when seen driving through an alley at Mack and Woodward, by Police Sgt. Jack Mast and Patrolman Stephen Petrik.

At the time, the officers said that he driver, Crossley, appeared to be driving under the influence of alcohol. They stopped the car and asked Crossley for his operator's license, which he could not produce.

The Coulter brothers were unable to produce a registration for the car. All three were ordered out of the vehicle and were searched.

Mast and Petrik searched the automobile and under the rear seat found a 100-foot clothes line, a 12-inch pry bar and a pair of gloves. The Coulters and Crossley were taken to the station where under questioning, Crossley admitted that he and the brothers were "casing" a place for a burglary.

The policemen found another car nearby that belonged to one of the arrested men, and impounded it at the station. On March 13, the trio stood mute and were brought before Judge Goodrow. They demanded an examination which was set for April 3, and then postponed to the April 17 date.

almost perfect orbital flight is probably the United States' last manned space voyage for 18 months. Dr. Robert Seamans, National Aeronautics and Space Administration associate director, said yesterday that a follow-up flight in the Project Mercury series is "quite unlikely," although a definite decision on whether to send up another Mercury astronaut will be made "within the next week or so." The next U.S. space orbiting experiments will apparently involve two men in a new series, Project Gemini, with the first manned Gemini flight due sometime in the last months of 1964. These two-man astronaut teams are slated to go into orbit for fairly long periods, spending as much as two weeks in space. Describing Cooper's flight, Seamans noted: "Although we still have a long way to go in the exploration of space, I doubt that we can find an astronaut who can improve on the performance of Gordon Cooper."

A 19-YEAR-OLD DETROIT YOUTH, arrested Saturday night as he tried his first store robbery, has confessed to killing a cab driver and wounding another cab driver in a series of 21 cab holdups. Ernest Stewart, 2735 Maple, admitted the shooting and killing of Daniel W. McBride 8631 Third on April 13.

Pilted Gas Proves Costly

Thomas Klein, 2224 Eastlawn, Detroit, employed at Joe's Mack-Lincoln Service, 18084 Mack, called City police shortly before midnight Monday, May 13. Klein reported he had just sold $2 worth of regular gas and one quart of transmission oil to an unknown man, who drove off without paying. The gas station attendant told police Fred Ferris, brother of the Service Station owner, was chasing the delinquent car. Ferris caught up with it at 175 Ridge road, Farms police were called, and the driver, James Charles Thomas Iley, 11795 Evanston, Detroit, was turned over to City patrolmen who took him to their station for further investigation. Iley appeared before City Judge Douglas L. Paterson the following Wednesday, May 15. Charged with disorderly person (simple larceny), he pled guilty, was fined $5 and ordered to pay for the gas and oil.

4 Cases Heard In City Court

Cases against two women who appeared before Judge Douglas L. Paterson in Grosse Pointe City Justice Court last week were dismissed. The women, Arlene Catherine Carty, 23213 13 Mile road, St. Clair Shores, and Frances Josephine Jordan, 631 Washington, had both been charged with reckless driving—causing an accident. Judge Paterson ordered the charges dismissed because there were no eye witnesses. Lucette Marie Pelletier, 12236 Sorrento, Detroit, also charged with reckless driving—causing an accident, pled guilty and paid a $10 fine. Judge Paterson found Clarence Howard Kelly, 110 Hall place, guilty of going 35 miles per hour in a 25-mile zone, and directed him to pay a $5 fine.

Name McAuliffe To State Board

The State Senate recently confirmed the appointment of Vincent F. McAuliffe, of 1027 Somerset, as chairman of the Workmen's Compensation Appeal Board. Governor Romney appointed McAuliffe to the position for a term of six years.

A graduate of the Literary and Law Colleges of the University of Detroit, McAuliffe has been associated with the Compensation Department for a number of years. Meyer Warshawsky, of South Haven, who has been prosecuting attorney of his county for the past six years, was also confirmed to serve on the same Board for the balance of the term of former member Theodore P. Ryan, who resigned to become a referee of the department.

strations, were forwarded to neighborhood schools Monday. City school officials voted to expel pupils over 16 years of age. Those 16 and younger are suspended, but can apply at summer schools for make-up work, as can the expelled. Pupils may apply for readmission in the fall term, but will lose their final semester's work. This matter of disciplining student demonstrators has been a stumbling block in Negro-White negotiations for a Birmingham racial "truce," with Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., leader in the Alabama Negro "revolt," demanding no disciplinary action be taken against the school children.

NEITHER A STATE nor a city has the right to interfere, in any way, with peaceful racial integration sit-in demonstrations in public business places. The United States Supreme Court ruled on this question Monday, but did not clearly define the individual shopkeeper's position in regard to his right to refuse admission to certain persons because of his own desire to restrict his clientele. The highest tribunal in the land also barred any action or statements by officials designed to influence shopkeepers to keep Negroes from their places of business.

CANADA'S TERRORIST FLQ (Quebec Liberation Front) joined the birthday celebration Monday of Queen Victoria by bombing a Montreal army barracks. The FLQ, whose members are ardent French Canadians, wants Quebec to separate from the rest of the Dominion and form an independent French-speaking nation.

Theater Doing Porter Comedy

Coming in four weeks to the Fries Theater in the War Memorial Center is the splendid musical comedy "Kiss Me Kate" by Cole Porter. Mark one of these dates, 12, 13, 14, 15, 20, 21, 22

Born into a family of multi-millionaires, Cole Porter's gift manifested itself while he was attending Yale, and in addition to writing songs that delighted his classmates (two of these, "Yale Bull Dog Song" and "Bingo Eli Yale" have become Yale's traditional football songs) he also began writing for Broadway. His first song to be sung professionally was "A Little Flat in Washington Square," inserted into a C. B. Cochran revue, and he next composed the score of "See America First" in 1916, and followed this up with contributions to several revues.

But for this gifted youth, song-writing was then merely a diversion. He had never needed money and in the early nineteen-twenties he inherited several million dollars from a grandfather and, thus endowed, he travelled extensively and in sumptuous elegance. One time, three producers in New York were assiduously trying to find him and commission some songs for Broadway shows, but Porter could not be found because he and his wife had chartered a luxurious houseboat on which they were riding up and down the Nile, while entertaining a dozen or so equally elegant guests.

With this fabulous background, Cole Porter started seriously in 1928 turning out fabulous musical shows. Twenty years and twenty scores later came "Kiss Me Kate." Fifteen years after its opening on Broadway, The Grosse Pointe Community Theater proudly presents "Kiss Me Kate." Reserved seats are available at Doubleday's, The Book Shelf and by calling the Box Office, TU 5-7463.

The doctor first called Detroit authorities, who after determining that the loss occurred in the Woods, told him to notify that department.

The money was in his right pocket of his trousers, Dr. Saraf told Woods police. He was shopping at the Wrigley Market, 19231 Mack, and was about to pay for his purchases when he discovered the cash missing.

A search of the store by Dr. Saraf and the store manager failed to turn up the money, all in currency, with a rubber band wrapped around the bills.

Rapalee Brothers Serving Country

Lt. Ernest W. Rapalee, Jr., 23, and his brother, RM/3C Raymond N., 20, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest W. Rapalee, Sr., of 1229 Balfour, are making their mark in the service of their country.

Lt. Rapalee is with the United States Air Force, and Raymond is a radarman aboard the USS Wiltse, 716, a United States Navy destroyer. Both were recently promoted.

The lieutenant was graduated from Grosse Pointe High School in 1957, and from Wayne State University in 1961, from which he received a degree in Business Administration. He was in the AFROTC at the university, and on graduation, was commissioned a second lieutenant in the Air Force.

He was sent to Webb Air Force Base in Texas for further training, then to Moody Air Force Base in Georgia, where on March 26, he was given his wings, along with a first lieutenant's commission.

Mr. and Mrs. Rapalee attended the graduation ceremonies at the base, and remained there for a week, before returning home with their first son.

After a short stay at home, Lt. Rapalee left for the Williams Air Force Base in Arizona, where he is now undergoing an additional two months training to qualify as a pilot instructor.

On completion of this training, the lieutenant will be reassigned to Webb Field in Texas, as a qualified instructor.

Raymond, a 1961 graduate of Grosse Pointe High School, joined the Navy in the fall of 1961, and received his boot training at the San Diego Naval Training Station.

He recently was graduated from the Navy's Radar Training School, and was promoted to radarman third class, and assigned to the USS Wiltse.

On Saturday, May 18, his ship left for sea duty in Japan.

Is Your Name on This List?

The War Memorial's annual drive for funds is officially scheduled to end on Memorial Day. Of course contributions will be welcomed at any time during the year, but it is hoped that by a week from today the association officers will be able to announce that the goal of $60,000 has been reached.

Chances look exceptionally good for realizing this ambition, but some doubt has been expressed that the $60,000 is going to be sufficient to meet the expenditures for operation and maintenance during the coming year. Despite the fact that the new Fries Auditorium has been added to the Center's plant, considerably increasing these costs, the quota remains the same as last year, before the new addition was opened.

Every Pointe resident should have a part in this great community project. Money not immediately needed could be added to the endowment fund to produce additional income in future years. All those who have not yet contributed are urged to send in their donations now, so the successful culmination of the drive can be announced on the day set aside to honor those for whom our local memorial was created.

The names of all donors will be printed. With thousands of them on the list, it is not possible to print them all immediately upon receipt. Every attempt is made to publish them in chronological order as quickly as possible. If you have given, but have not yet seen your name, bear with us. It will appear in a future issue.

What Goes On at Your Library

By Virginia Leonard

Most of us, early or late, fall under the exciting spell of the spy—we want to know what he is like, how he lives, what his chances are of being found out. There is a vicarious thrill in all this for us whose more mundane, orderly, safe lives present a sharp contrast.

This field of espionage has been well-covered lately by a number of authors—books in both the fiction and non-fiction category have been tumbling over our desks, treating the subject from various angles. For example, Christopher Felix has written "Short Course in the Secret War." The author, a former United States government agent, here gives a cloak and dagger memoir on the theory of secret operations and real-life practices, both of which serve as introductions to modern-day Mata Hariism. Again, Sanche de Gramont gives us "Secret War"—an anatomy of cold war spying on both sides of the Iron Curtain.

J. B. Hutton has two books on our topic, "Frogman Spy" deals with the mysterious disappearance of veteran British frogman, Lionel Crabb, in 1956, when a Russian warship was anchored off Portsmouth Harbor. According to this author, Crabb did not disappear, but was taken by the Russians—and he has documented evidence to support his claim. His later book, "School for Spies," is a first-hand account of the Soviet's spy training school and the activities of some of its alumni.

Two brand-new books are Colonel Allison Ind's "A Short History of Espionage," and Joachim Joesten's "They Call It Intelligence." The former deals with the cult of spying from the Trojan Horse to Cuba, and is both fascinating and informative. The latter considers spies and spy techniques since World War II, telling us of the new professionalism of spying today, its white-collar status, even bureaucratic security; yet it still reverts to the old wiles of trusty pistols and deep-pocketed trench-coats. This is the story of Spysland.

In "Spy in the United States,"

Pawel Monat tells of his very successful espionage activities for the Communist interests of both Poland and Russia. The last chapter deals with his disenchantment with Communism and his defection to the United States. "They Came to Kill," by Eugene Rachlis relates the story of eight Nazi saboteurs in America—their landing, their apprehension by F.B.I. agents, their trials. Ronald Seth's "Anatomy of Spying" is a detailed study of spying techniques. And finally, Arthur Tietjen's "Soviet Spy Ring" gives the complete story of the famous "Naval Secrets Case" in which Soviet secret agents were trapped by the British police—a fascinating and frightening tale.

Fiction for 1962-1963 has yielded the following types of cloak-and-dagger reading. C. W. Thayer's "Moscow Interlude" is the story of espionage and conflict centering on an American attaché and his Russian wife a decade or so after Stalin's Terror. Howard Haycraft gives us a splendid anthology: "Five Spy Novels"—all 20th century tales.

In the area of mystery stories we mention Patrick O'Malley's "The Affair of Swan Lake," satirizing Counter-Intelligence Agents smelling out suspected hostile anti-missile activities; also Kenneth O'Hara's "Sleeping Dogs Lying," a good English suspense story.

Three light-hearted novels are "Moonrakers and Michief" by G. J. Feakes, "A Girl From Lubek" by Bruce Marshall, and Nathaniel Benchley's "Catch A Falling Spy." The Feakes' book is gay, English, and somewhat "Wodehousian." Marshall's is a spoof at international relations and low-level "cloakery and daggers." Benchley's is a humorous story about a man who elects to become a professional spy.

And so you may take your choice—we offer you quite a selection. If the Walter Mitty in you cries out for intrigue—suspense—self-importance, we think we can satisfy you with one of our books from Spysland, as Mr. Joesten calls it!

DAC Draws Guests Before Met Opener

Some 300 Dine at Full Dress Gala Before Boarding Buses Monday for Masonic Temple to See New York Metropolitan Opera's "Otello"

Magnificence of floor-length gowns of silk and satin, silken opera coats, white mink or fox stoles of the feminine opera-goers and white tie or black tie attire of the men characterized the opulent dress of diners at the DAC before the Metropolitan Opera's "Otello" at Masonic Temple this past Monday, May 20.

Some 300 members and their guests came early to the club. They had cocktails in private dining rooms, in the ladies cocktail lounge, or at their tables in the dining rooms, always conscious of fleeting time, of course. Everyone wanted to be seated at Masonic before the curtain for "Otello," the week's opening opus.

Dinners had been scheduled for 6 p.m. Fun of the evening was heightened by a few dances in the DAC's Pontchartrain Room where Michael Petry and his orchestra played, before taking off for Masonic and a wonderful evening with the Met. Many members returned to the club after the performance.

Mr. and Mrs. George M. Endicott (she was in a Ruth Joyce dress of chiffon in shades of pink, long and full with the jeweled Alencon lace bolero, topped by a chinchilla wrap) were in a sixsome with the John Benfield (Mrs. Benfield was in a floor-length beige peau de soie gown, its little jacket beaded in rose, green and gold, and a white ermine wrap), and the Howard Stoddard of Lansing, Mrs. Stoddard wearing a long sari.

The Charles M. Endicotts and the Stanford C. Stoddards of Birmingham were together. Mrs. Charles Endicott wearing a long lavender peau de soie with overblouse covered with deep purple violet sequins, and a little wrap of white mink lined with lavender peau de soie.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Morrow and her mother, Mrs. Hamilton Saxton, were dinner guests of the Lynn A. Townsend at the DAC before the opera, Mrs. Morrow wearing a long white satin gown with crystal top and dark mink stole, and Mrs. Saxton in a long pastel

Some of the hobbies represented were quilting, sculpting, both oil and water colors, fine shaded gold painting on trays, woodworking with myrtle wood which is grown in only two places in the world, knitting, rug hooking, flower arranging, hat making, fine embroidery, and many antique treasures were displayed.

SAFE AND SANE

There are better ways of taking a vacation than getting sun-struck—try some of the others.

Bride-Elect

Announcement is made of the engagement of CHERYL LEE REICH, daughter of Mrs. Gillespie De Witte, of Lauderdale-by-the-Sea, Fla., and Ferdinand C. Reich, of Roslyn road, to Lawrence W. Starr, son of the Melvin Starrs, of Lauderdale-by-the-Sea, Fla.

The bride-elect attended Palm Beach Junior College and her fiancé is an alumnus of Broward Junior College.

Wayne Singers to Honor Father Richard Sunday

The Wayne State University Singers and Choral Union, the mixed voice choruses, will present a spring concert of sacred music in old St. Anne's Church, Howard and Ste. Anne (located two blocks north of Fort Street between 18th and 20th Streets), on Sunday, May 26, at 4 p.m.

Professor Malcolm Johns, the conductor, has chosen two choral compositions of French Catholic Church music to be sung in this lovely old structure of French Gothic architecture whose acoustic properties are extremely favorable to music.

First will be the "Te Deum" by the 18th Century de Lalande, court musician to King Louis XIV and XV. Following will be the "Requiem" written by the 20th Century composer Maurice Durufle, organist at Ste. Etienne-du-Mont Church in Paris.

The concert will honor the 200th Anniversary of the birth of Father Gabriel Richard who founded Ste. Anne's—the first parish in Detroit. It is here in the crypt beneath the chancel that the illustrious founder of the City of Detroit is buried.

HISTORY REPEATS

The present generation has always been labeled the most extravagant that future generations will ever have to finance.

Plans Rites

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lintner Jacobson, of South Deeplands road, announce the engagement of their daughter, CAROLYN, to William Parker Kreml, son of the Franklin Martin Kremls, of Evanston, Ill. The bride-elect is a senior at Northwestern University where she is a member of Alpha Phi. She is also a member of Sigma Gamma. Her fiancé is an alumnus of the same university and is studying at Northwestern Law School. He is affiliated with Delta Upsilon. An August 24 wedding is planned.

Show to Help Jesuit Father

Many Grosse Pointe women are involved in the plans for the fashion show to be given by Ruth Joyce this Friday afternoon at Fries Auditorium in Grosse Pointe War Memorial. The show will begin at 2 o'clock and tea will follow.

The benefit party will be sponsored by the Jesuit Seminary Association (University of Detroit High School Unit) and proceeds will be used to establish a bursar in honor of the Very Rev. Julian L. Maline, S. J., president of UD High School, who is celebrating his golden jubilee this year as a member of the Society of Jesus.

A bursar is $8,000. The income from this sum of money is used to finance the education and training of young men during the 14 years before their ordination as Jesuit priests. The figure was established in 1924 when the sum was adequate for their education and although it is not sufficient today, the figure has never been changed.

Mrs. John E. Young, of Grayton road, is chairman of arrangements and will also model in the fashion show. Mrs. J. Burns Cody, of Woods lane, and Mrs. Joseph Louisell, of Devonshire road, will be other models.

Among the patrons for the benefit are Mrs. Robert E. Coleman, Mrs. Alfred J. Fisher, Jr., Mrs. Charles T. Fisher, Mrs. Thomas K. Fisher, Mrs. Claude A. Greiner, Mrs. Charles A. J. Kotcher, Mrs. David T. Marantette, Mrs. Brian Molloy, Mrs. John M. Toolin and Mrs. Roger F. Walndie.

PERSEVERANCE

Mistakes are stumbling blocks on the highway of life—many stumble, but success comes to those who get up and travel on.

Mystery Bike Hike Planned

A Mystery Bike Hike will be held on Saturday, June 1, for high school students in the Grosse Pointe area. All who are interested will gather at the Farms Pier at 9:30 a.m. and ride to destinations unknown and will rendezvous at a designated spot for a picnic lunch followed by softball and volleyball.

Each cyclist is to bring his own sack lunch plus 20 cents to cover insurance. The trip leader is Larry Lipfert, faculty sponsor of the Grosse Pointe High School American Youth Hostels Club, assisted by Bob Hoerberling, 1308 Wayburn, and Harry Schaffhauser, 920 Trombley, both officers of the High School AYH Club.

Hosteling is all things that people young in spirit like to do, hiking, biking, sailing, horseback riding, canoeing. It's adventure in the out-of-doors, travelling generally under one's own steam. It's friendly, simple, down-to-earth. Hosteling is really a way of life and it's fun.

American Youth Hostels aim to help young people to a greater understanding of the world and its people through outdoor activities, educational and recreational travel, and creative group programs to develop healthy, self-reliant, well-informed citizens.

Neighborhood Club is co-operating with the Metropolitan Detroit Council of American Youth Hostels in making exciting outdoor experiences available to all high school students in the Grosse Pointe area. Anyone wanting more information regarding future AYH activities contact the Neighborhood Club, TU 5-4600. Seasonal activities on a year-around basis are a possibility for all who are interested.

It was suggested that the Neighborhood Groups chairman, Mrs. Frederick Lang, contact the chairman of all neighborhood groups to invite the members of each group to the annual meeting June 4. Since they contribute so much, they are most welcome.

Highlight of the trip was a visit to Brookside School, a private institution for advanced children, with teachers having complete freedom to teach what they want and pupils allowed to proceed at their own pace.

Vice president Jan Harrington described the field trip, with no formal tour program and no guides, as "ideal."

HERE'S INSIDE DOPE—If you ever wondered how those lovely girls balance on those teetering floats, and even what they wear under those billowing hoop skirts, here's the dope: Diane Friedrich is being strapped in place, right across her pretty Jamaica shorts, for the Flambeau Parade in San Antonio, Tex. It was part of the Fiesta de San Jacinto.

BACK TO THE OLD GRIND—Tulips and plants in the White House Rose Garden in Washington frame President Kennedy as he returns to his office after posing with a group of Army commanders.

A-KARTING HE WILL GO—Under a growing threat of ouster or assassination by Arab nationalists, Jordan's young King Hussein still finds time to relax with some go-kart racing at a track a few miles from Amman. "It makes a change from the palace routine," he says.

ONE OF THEM MUST DIE—Ralph Krueger (left) watches stoically as his wife, Iva, pleads for someone to "help me" in court in San Francisco after she was sentenced to death for the murder of Jay and Mildred Arneson of Santa Rosa, Calif. The death sentence of Krueger for the same murder was commuted to life imprisonment.

COMMONS LOSES UNCOMMON MAN—Sir Winston Churchill's decision not to run for re-election to the House of Commons closes the most remarkable career in the history of the British Parliament. He first was elected as a hero of the Boer War in 1900. The last survivor of those who sat in the reign of Queen Victoria, he also served under five other sovereigns. Friends say that Churchill, at 88, is retiring because of infirmities of age (he cannot bear the thought of being wheeled into the Chamber) and because Lady Churchill no longer can campaign actively with him the way they have done over the decades in the most famous partnership in British politics.

THEY DON'T WANT COEDS AT TEXAS A & M—Some of the freshmen at Texas A & M College in College Station who shaved their heads in protest against a new policy of admitting women to the college "admit" themselves in a mirror. Four hours in the disciplinary "bull ring" failed to halt the fad. From left are Dan Peterson, Dallas; Duane Naron, Houston; Bill Pechanec, Houston; Ronnie McDaniel, Waco, Tex.; Pete Ralph, Houston, and Bill Wilson, Dallas.

OAS TROUBLESHOOTERS—Here's the Organization of American States committee sent to try to settle the Dominican Republic-Haiti trouble. From left, about to board a plane in New York: Alberto Zuleta Angel, Colombia; Santiago Salazar Sanchez, Colombia; Gonzalo Escudero, Ecuador; Enrique Gajardo, Chile; Dr. Francisco R. Lina, El Salvador; Emilio Sarmiento, Bolivia. The mediation team was working in both capitals.

'OUR MOST DISTINGUISHED AMERICAN CITIZENS'—Calling them "our most distinguished American citizens," President Kennedy greets 234 U.S. Medal of Honor winners during a reception given by the President to honor U.S. military forces. The 52 other medal holders still living were unable to attend.

STILL ON STANDARD TIME—It's easy to set a clock, but setting a rooster is a horse of another color, says Eugene Smith as he tries to talk some sense into his pet, Roscoe, who continues to crow on standard time in Salinas, Calif. Roscoe is a Japanese bantam, lives in the Smith house and sleeps on a heating pad in the kitchen. Smith is a Monterey County district attorney office investigator.

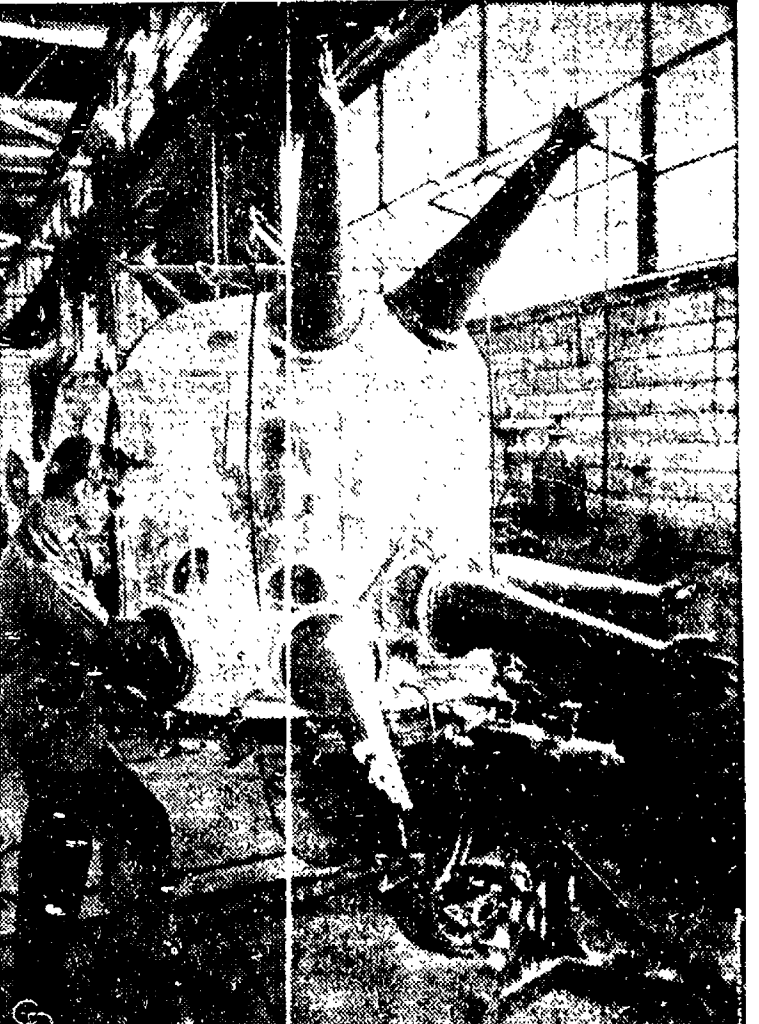

MEDICAL MILESTONE—Dr. Reginald G. Bickford (rear) and technicians Wayne Rusert (middle) and Don Carroll are shown at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn., receiving a transoceanic transmission of brain waves for medical diagnosis. The brain waves were transmitted by land line from Bristol, England, to Goshilly Downs, then radiated by the satellite Relay to Nantux, N.J., then sent by land line to Rochester. In one minute they were analyzed by computer and sent back to Bristol.

BAIL IN AMBUSH KILL—Rural grocer Floyd Simpson looks calm on release in Gadsden, Ala., on $5,000 bond in the ambush slaying of civil rights advocate William Moore, the Baltimore postman.

LAST KISS—Slated to die in San Quentin's gas chamber, Mrs. Iva Krueger is kissed by her husband, Ralph, for the last time in a barred hallway in county jail, San Francisco. Also convicted in the murder of a Santa Rosa, Calif., couple, Krueger is under a life imprisonment sentence. The victims' bodies were found buried in the Kruegers' basement.

GEMINI CHRISTMAS—The conquest of space, McDonnell Aircraft style, produces this octopus-like piece of equipment at the St. Louis plant. The rubber arms are used in welding for the two-man Gemini capsule. McDonnell also is the firm that made the one-man Mercury capsule.

Pointer of Interest

By Patricia Talbot

Gas lights, sidewalks and landscaping are sprucing up the new municipal offices of the City of Grosse Pointe, which moved across Maumee avenue in October.

This is not the first move for the city offices for in 1929 the present property was bought from the Wadsworth Real Estate Company and the former offices in Roosevelt place were abandoned.

Before the current move a general house cleaning turned up some fascinating historical records. The property north of Maumee avenue originally belonged to Joseph Serre who sold it in 1806 to Benjamin Marsac. The land, 3 arpents by 40 arpents in depth, was sold by Marsac in March, 1813 for 700 bushels of wheat to Pierre Gouin, who held the land well into the twentieth century.

Pierre died in Grosse Pointe in 1846 intestate and his heirs were McGlory Gouin, (who could divine water with a twig), Francis, Julia Ann, Felisse and Pontiff. Francis died in 1890 leaving his share to his son, Francis, whose inheritance was threatened by an odd legal fact.

The young Francis was first named James Alexander for his mother was the second wife. There had been an elder half brother who was named Francis, but he had gone off with Union troops to fight in the Civil War and never returned, so James Alexander became Francis. When James' father died he mentioned his only surviving son in his will as James Alexander but legally there was no such person. The litigation continued until 1928.

The Gouin heirs had difficulty holding on to the property. Some of it was sold at public auction in 1900 for the interest due on the taxes, $624.30, and other pieces of it were sold to a John Ward.

When Ward died in May, 1900 he left his portion of the land to his heir J. Ward Howland with $14,500, his gold watch, his office furniture and law library.

All of the property finally came into the hands of Frederick Wadsworth, who formed a real estate company before World War I. Mr. Wadsworth's wife was the former actress Mary Manning, whose charitable impulses led her to sponsor the building of cottages for working class people in the Pointe. Several of these cinder block homes were built between 1912 and 1913 for $1,500 and rented at $25 a month. The former city offices across Maumee avenue, about to be razed, were among the Mannering cottages. Another, still standing, is used for the Neighborhood Thrift Shop on Waterloo and St. Clair.

Some of the property owned by the city, now to be the site of the Unitarian Church, was once held by the Rivard family as part of their vast farm.

Committee members to launch the ticket sales for "Cleopatra" June 26 to benefit the Detroit Symphony Orchestra met at Mrs. John B. Ford's last week for luncheon. Among the guests were Mrs. C. Henry Buhl in a fetching red and white pom pom cap worn with a gray and white light wool frock . . . Mrs. Joseph Vance whose turquoise wool sleeveless dress and cape had been designed for her in Rome . . . Mrs. Alvan Macauley, Jr., in aqua linen scarved with white chiffon, (she knitted a beige mohair sweater while listening to reports) . . . Mrs. Hale Sattley in a soft yellow wool suit . . . Mrs. Sattley has designed one of those ubiquitous summer basket bags with a picture of her Tonnancour place home . . . Mrs. Joseph G. Standart, Jr., in a rough mustard linen suit with a sleeveless print silk blouse . . . and Mrs. David Gamble in a jacket dress of beige linen printed in yellow.

Scot and Jay Williamson have no trouble finding playmates on Meadow lane since their clever mother, Mrs. John Williamson, built them a playhouse in the garage.

Christmas carols rang out on the Memorial Church carillon a week ago to the surprise of Saturday afternoon lazing neighbors. Mrs. Gomer Redmond was escorting her Sunday school class on a tour of the church, hoping to take them to the bell tower while the carillon-leoneur was practising. Dennis Jones who rings the bells for Memorial, was home ill with the measles but Mrs. Redmond was fortunate in having a friend, Ben Franklin, who could play the carillon. He treated the class to a concert of "Silent Night" and the gamut of seasonal carols.

A conscientious subscriber dropped in the office last Wednesday to pay an overdue classified ad bill and renew her subscription. Accepting the money our staff member reported that the matron need not take out another slip for the subscription for she would take the name from the ad bill. "Oh, no, you can't do that," replied the woman. "I've changed my name." It was quite an overdue bill!

Metropolitan opera basso, John Macurdy, is returning to the scene of past triumphs this Sunday. As a lad he was a member of the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church Youth Choirs, under the direction of Malcolm Johns. He returned from New York to marry Justine Votypka, a Detroit girl, in the same church, where his mother for many years taught Sunday School. This Sunday Mr. Macurdy will return to Memorial Church to sing Mendelssohn's "Elijah" under the direction of his former teacher at both services.

PILFERINGS

A person sarcastically asked Robert M. Hutchins, former president of the University of Chicago, if communism was still being taught at the university. "Yes," replied Hutchins, "and cancer at the medical school."

They say that some tourists never leave home. On an English Channel steamer a veteran traveler was helping an American woman fill out her French entry card. "You've left one line blank," he pointed out.

"Why yes," she agreed pleasantly. "That one says, 'For Foreigners Only.'"

Actor Hans Conried was asked on a television program to visualize the car of 1970. "I visualize it," he said, "as still unpaid for in 1920."

WILLIAM B. GOODSMITH, of Ridgemont road

By Pat Talbot

Although he has never taken a lesson in his life and only returned to painting three years ago at 74, William B. Goodsmith is such a fine artist he has sold three paintings in the past year.

Rather like a male Grandma Moses, Mr. Goodsmith perfected his skill by copying pictures from postcards. "I'm great for detail," he admits. And his paintings are old fashioned with nothing abstract about them. He prefers landscapes with bright colors but his wife's favorite is of a delightful little girl playing with her dog and cat.

From the time he was a small boy Mr. Goodsmith liked to draw. When he left school at 14 he learned the wood carving trade. But with the introduction of machines into this time honored craft he turned his attention to another career. He began working at the Detroit Circuit Court in 1912 and remained there until 1956, when he retired as chief assignment clerk.

His memories of his court days are vivid, particularly of the thousands of divorce cases he assigned to judges. In 1927 he was featured in a downtown newspaper telling his experiences in divorce cases.

In the days of the roaring twenties there were many reasons for divorces, but Mr. Goodsmith reported that among the many causes marital difficulties with wives were their insistence on bobbing their hair, dancing the Charleston in cabarets, serving canned food to their husbands and attending movies. The husbands, on the other hand, were in trouble for gambling, other women, laziness and listening to the radio.

With 44 years of listening to divorce suits Mr. Goodsmith has managed a very happy marriage of his own. His wife encourages his painting and insists that she never has to pick up after him when he strews his paint rags around the dining room. The Goodsmiths have one son, Carl, who inherited his father's talent and is a commercial artist.

Carpentry for Church
Mr. Goodsmith painted quite steadily in the twenties and thirties but then abandoned his hobby for 30 years, just returning to it three years ago. He is an active member of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, where two of his paintings hang, and is always willing to do a bit of carpentry for the church.

Last week he designed a raised platform for the church's new auditorium. Since his retirement he has been able to do many odd jobs for the church and around his neat bungalow. He built a folding metal, wood and formica table for his wife, has framed most of his own pictures and spends a great deal of time in his garden growing prize tomatoes, lettuce, beans and carrots.

Although many of his paintings

Ticket Requests Swamp Theater

Due to the unprecedented number of phone calls for tickets to "Kiss Me Kate," The Grosse Pointe Community Theater has had to install a new phone system.

The delightful musical comedy by Cole Porter is to be given June 13, 14, 15, 20, 21, 22 at the new Fries Theater, 32 Lake Shore road.

Mrs. Joyce Bauhof of Rivard boulevard, ticket chairman, faced the problem of her home phone line jammed by too many calls at all hours of the day and night. Her SOS was answered by the installation of a telephone answering service. The new number to call is TU 4-2710.

For the first time in this theater's history, all tickets are on a reserved basis only. Popular demand has necessitated this measure; therefore, to assure yourself and your friends of good seats, please place your orders early.

BEEF BURGUNDY

Contributed by Mrs. Harry M. Sisson

2 lbs. lean beef
5 medium sized onions
3 Tb. bacon fat
2 Tb. flour
1/4 tsp. dried marjoram
1/4 tsp. dried thyme
1/2 cup canned beef bouillon
1 cup dry red wine (burgundy)
1/2 lb. (or more) mushrooms, sliced,
salt and pepper

Fry sliced onions in bacon drippings until they are brown, using a heavy skillet. Remove them to a separate dish, and reserve. Cut beef into about one inch cubes and saute them in the same drippings, adding more if necessary. When browned on all sides sprinkle with flour and add seasonings, bouillon and wine. Stir the mixture well and let it simmer as slowly as possible for 3 1/2 hours. It should just barely bubble occasionally. If liquid cooks away add some more bouillon and a little wine. After mixture has cooked necessary length of time add mushrooms and simmer for 20 hour longer. The sauce should be fairly thick and dark brown. Note: If cooked in electric frying pan simmer at 200 degrees.
