PATRICK BOUVIER KENNEDY is in Boston Children's Hospital Medical Center, receiving treatment for a breathing ailment. The child, second son of President John F. Kennedy and Jacqueline Bouvier Kennedy, was born Wednesday, 5½ weeks ahead of schedule, at Otis Air Force Base, Mass. He weighed four pounds, 10½ ounces. Named after the President's grandfather, Patrick J., and his father, Joseph Patrick Kennedy, and Mrs. Kennedy's father, John Bouvier, the newborn infant developed idiopathic respiratory distress syndrome, a breathing difficulty. White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said the ailment "is not uncommon in premature children."

TWO WOMEN, a school teacher and her mother, drowned yesterday when their car plunged into the Detroit River. The teacher's teenage daughter, thrown clear as the automobile ran off the end of a street in downtown Trenton, was rescued in front of the drop-off and admitted to Seaway Hospital with cuts on head, hands, arms and legs. "I felt the car gathering speed, then I felt it hit the water," the 15-year-old girl said. "That's all I remember." Killed in the submerged automobile were Janet L. LeClair, 42, of Dearborn, who taught deaf children at Ypsilanti's Rackham School, and Mrs. Lottie Tinsch, 78, resident of the Arnold Home, 18520 W. Seven Mile.

A $2,500 EGYPTIAN stone sculpture has been stolen from the Detroit Institute of Arts. The theft was reported Wednesday. Missing is a 3,300-year-old white limestone relic, four inches high and five inches wide, titled "Head of a Man." Institute director Willis Woods said the theft is the museum's first since 1950, when a bronze bust was taken, and that the Institute is making arrangements to improve its guard system.

Friday, August 9

PATRICK BOUVIER KENNEDY died early this morning. The infant son of President and Mrs. John F. Kennedy, born 5½ weeks prematurely, succumbed to a breathing ailment. His heart was unable to stand the continued strain of trying to get his breath. The President stayed overnight at Boston's Children's Medical Center, then flew to his wife in Otis Air Force Base Hospital on Cape Cod. Funeral services will be held tomorrow.

THE GREAT TRAIN ROBBERY of the century, perhaps the biggest robbery of all time, netted thieves between $3 and $8.4 million in cash and gems yesterday. Some 30 masked bandits ambushed a British mail train near Cheddington, 40 miles north of London, at 3:15 a.m. Thursday. Working with speed and precision, the well-drilled gang executed the job with a finesse that led police to believe the entire operation was planned by an underworld mastermind, responsible for several previous successful British train and mail robberies. One London newspaper, The Daily Mail, reported Scotland Yard had "known for weeks that a mail train was to be robbed" and that a policeman at nearby Biggleswade tape-recorded an interview with three Scotsmen about "a big mail raid to come" over a month before the actual robbery. A Scotland Yard spokesman termed the newspaper report "completely untrue."

PRESIDENT KENNEDY has formally requested Senate ratification of the nuclear test ban treaty. "This treaty is in our national interest," the President argued. "While experience teaches us to be cautious in our expectations and ever vigilant in our preparations, there is no reason to oppose this hopeful step. It is rarely possible to recapture missed opportunities to achieve a more secure and peaceful world. To govern is to choose."

Shores Proud of New Pumper Fire Truck

Shores village officials look over their brand new "1963-½" Ford 1,000 gallon-per-minute pumper fire truck. The unit and the other equipment which Shores officials say comprises the "best-equipped Public Safety Department in the State of Michigan" will be on display tomorrow and Saturday at the Shores "Public

Open House To Be Held By Shores

Village Wants Residents To See "Best Equipped Public Safety Department in State"

The Village of Grosse Pointe Shores, according to its own Public Safety Committee, now possesses "the best equipped Public Safety Department in the State of Michigan."

To celebrate this accomplishment, Shores village officials will hold a "Public Safety Open House" at their Public Safety Headquarters, 795 Lake Shore road at Vernier road.

The Open House will be held Friday and Saturday, August 16 and 17, from 4 p.m. until 9 p.m. A letter to Shores residents last week said the celebration is a culmination of a long study of "types and styles of public safety apparatus and the best arrangements of equipment on these important safeguards of your home and property, especially in connection with the needs of our village."

On display will be the village's brand new "1963-½" Ford 1,000 gallon-per-minute Fire Pumper, and the other specially designed 1959 Ford Fire Truck, the police and fire emergency radio systems, and teletype service that covers the country, including a direct line from Lansing.

The Shores 1962 Ford Ambulance, which they say "consistently out-performs our neighbors' more expensive units," and finger printing and records of the Department of Public Safety will also be on view. Light refreshments will be served.

School District Issues Report Covering Building

In the first six calendar months of 1963 some 236 home building permits were issued in the Grosse Pointe Public School System school district. Grosse Pointe Woods led with 102, followed by the Harper Woods Fraction with 88.

The Farms placed third, with 17, followed by the Shores' 11, and the Park and City, with nine permits each.

Eighty-eight of these permits were issued in the Poupard Elementary School district, and 78 in the Ferry Elementary School district, but the former were for apartments, whereas Perry's were for individual homes.

In the last five calendar years, 1958 through 1962, the total number of home building permits issued in the Ferry district and the Poupard district was identical at 354.

Summer School Session Sets Enrollment Record; 1,580 Attend in 4 Places

Largest Percentage Ever Attracted from Outside of Pointe Public School System; Many Courses Offered; 612 Take Driving

The Grosse Pointe Public Schools' summer session for 1963 had the largest enrollment in its history — 1,580 students, 48 more than in the previous peak year of 1961.

Four schools were in operation from Monday, June 17, through Friday, July 26, under the leadership of Richard Olds at Richard, William Lutz at Mason, Dr. Owen Middleton at Brownell and Jerry Gerlich at the High School.

In addition, the Driver Education program was conducted in the parking area at Brownell from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. six days a week. Between June 17 and August 30, 612 students will have completed the required program.

Summer school students from the Grosse Pointe Public School System numbered 1,212; from local Catholic Parochial Schools 291, and from other schools, including Peace Lutheran, GPUS and Liggett, 77.

Of the total enrollment, 23.3 percent of the pupils were not from buildings within the Grosse Pointe Public School System. This is the largest percentage ever from schools outside the Pointe System in the years for which such records have been kept.

FISHERY EXCUSE

Farms police answered a call to the home of Ledyard Mitchell, 61 Moran road August 10 to investigate a prowler in the back yard. Officers found David Engstrom, 12, of 65 Moran in the back yard catching night crawlers with a flashlight.

For the first time in over 20 years a class in art was organized, but a class in notehand, a summer school feature of recent years, had to be dropped because no qualified teacher was available.

Largest enrollments at the senior high level were in world history and American history, with 76 per cent and 89 per cent of the students taking these courses for the first time. As evidence of their achievement, the medians on the nationally standardized tests (a part of the final examination) were the 92nd percentile and the 98th percentile respectively for all pupils enrolled.

Five boys and one girl were able to complete their requirements for graduation from Grosse Pointe High School by successfully passing their work in the summer session.

LAWN SPRINKLER STOLEN

George Gardner, of 921 Canterbury, told Woods police August 9 that a Rocker-Lawn sprinkler had been stolen from the front yard of his home. It was valued at $25.

Fish Rodeo Scheduled at Farms Pier

All Residents of Farms or City Under 17 Eligible for Annual Contest

Entries are now being accepted for the eighth Annual Fishing Rodeo to be held on Saturday, August 31, at the Grosse Pointe Farms Pier. Contestants must be under the age of 17 years, and must be a resident of either Grosse Pointe City or Farms.

The Rodeo will take place between 8:30 a.m. and 10 a.m. Again this year there will be free refreshments to conclude a morning of fun.

The rodeo committee is particularly grateful to the Optimist Club of Grosse Pointe as well as the Metropolitan Club for their assistance to make this event a success. These two clubs have supported the Rodeo for years and without their help and the help of other individuals and groups this event would not be possible.

At the present time the pre-rodeo contest is in full swing. The pre-rodeo contest and the contest on August 31 are separate contests. The pre-rodeo contest will mean special prizes to be awarded to the boy and girl from both the City and Farms who catch the longest game fish off their respective piers between now and August 31.

After catching his or her fish the youngster should take this fish to the park checkroom and have it measured.

Entries for the rodeo itself can be obtained at either the Farms or City parks.

Youngster Hurt As Cars Crash

A three-year-old boy received a bump on the head when a car in which he was riding with his mother was involved in a rear end collision at the corner of Moross and Chalfonte August 10.

Taken to Cottage Hospital was Seth Nichols, 3, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Nichols, of 17520 Maumee avenue.

The mother of the child struck a car stopped for the signal light at the intersection, driven by Philippe Evangelisti, of 15042 Maple Ridge, Detroit. Mrs. Nichols came up behind the car and failed to stop, police said.

Damage to each of the cars involved was estimated at $150. Mrs. Nichols received a ticket for not having her car under control.

Liggett School's Building Permit Up to Inspector

Woods Council Told By Attorney It Has No Say in Matter; Mayor McLeod and Councilman Boutin Express Opposition to Building Plans

Liggett School's construction permits are a matter for the Woods' Building Inspector, not the Woods City Council. The Council, meeting after a special session of the Planning Committee last Monday night, voted to refer a letter from William D. Gilbride, president of the Liggett Board of Trustees, to the Building Inspector for further action.

Gilbride, in his letter dated July 23, requested a permit to install pilings for the school building. The new Liggett is to be located on a 10-acre plot in Briarcliff, between River road and Morningside, and the City Planning Commission, at a recent meeting, granted approval of the School's application to develop the area as a school site.

After studying City Attorney Julius Berns' opinion on the legal aspects of the issue, the Council determined that the Building Inspector has the prerogative to grant a permit without Council interference. According to Berns' interpretation of an ordinance adopted in 1950, the Planning Commission has the right to determine, with or without a public hearing, whether or not the erection of an institution such as the new Liggett School is necessary for the public convenience and public welfare, and is in accord with the spirit and purpose of the Woods Zoning Ordinance.

Power Was Delegated

It is then up to the Building Inspector, after a thorough study of plans and specifications, to determine if a building permit should be issued. Council has no say in the matter.

Several residents, present at last Monday's Council meeting, objected to placing appointed officials (members of the Planning Commission) above elected officials (members of the Council). City Attorney Berns answered the residents' objections by saying that the Council had adopted an ordinance vesting such power in the Planning Commission.

Traffic Ticket Ducker Jailed

A Detroitier who owed over $110 in traffic fines was arrested August 7 at 4 a.m. by Park police.

The man, Robert E. Mestdagh, of 4304 Woodhall, Detroit, was stopped at the intersection of Whittier and Mack after he was seen to have no light on his license plate.

A quick name check revealed that he was wanted by Detroit police for a long list of traffic offenses, and that he also had never paid a traffic violation in the Park from 1960.

He also had no automobile registration in the car. Mestdagh appeared in Municipal Court before Judge C. Joseph Belanger that morning, and was asked to serve three days or pay $20 for his 1960 Park offense.

He was unable to pay the fine and was ordered to serve the jail sentence. He will be tried later for the Detroit traffic violations.

Ever-Increasing Numbers Using Schools, Libraries

Figures released last week by the Board of Education gave further evidence of the increasing use of the schools and libraries in the Pointe communities.

The figures, made public in the August report of superintendent of schools Dr. Charles H. Wilson, revealed:

● Projected enrollment for the coming school year is 11,050 students at the elementary, junior high, and high school level, or 167 more than the total for the past school year.

The biggest increase was an added 144 students at the high school level.

● The total population of the school district rose since last year by 1,563 to a record high of 66,387. The five to 19-year-olds alone increased by more than 400.

Park Votes To Go After Federal Aid

Will Comply With Rules For Obtaining $73,000 Sewer Project Grant

The Park council voted at its regular meeting August 12 to take steps to comply with Federal requirements for accepting a $73,000 Federal Public Works grant, they approved July 22.

The council was informed it would have to establish a separate banking account for the $73,000 matching fund, and that it would be necessary to indicate to the Federal government that the Park has set aside the matching funds in its budget.

Both requirements were viewed by councilmen as "necessary and in order." Councilman William C. Oddy moved for both steps to be taken, and each was voted for unanimously by the six member council, and the mayor.

The bank account will be established with the Bank of the Commonwealth, the Park's regular fiscal agent. Information indicating revisions in the Park fiscal budget providing for matching funds will be dispatched to the Federal agency in the near future, along with information that the bank account has been opened.

For Sewer Projects

The Federal aid money is for two relief sewer projects. One will serve the Lakepointe and Pemberton area, and the other the area of Harcourt, Trombley, and Windmill Pointe drive.

Bids for the two projects have not been let because they are still in the advanced planning stage. Working drawings are due "at any time" from Hubbell, Roth and Clark, consulting engineers on the project, city officials said.

When the drawings are obtained, bids will be let shortly thereafter, it was said. The council also voted to take immediate steps to replace a large damaged transformer in the Park's storm water pumping station, Maryland and Jefferson avenue.

Damaged Last Year

The large dry-type 500 kilovolt-ampere transformer was damaged on August 14, 1962, by water dripping onto the coils from a ceiling above the unit. At this time it was repaired by its manufacturer in keeping with a warranty.

The unit again gave out on August 8 of this year. It was determined that water dripping

66,387 Live In District; Gain of 1,563

Woods Continues to Lead in People, Residences, Construction, Size of Families

Total population in the area covered by the Grosse Pointe Public School System has increased by 22,623 since 1950. As of May, 1963, date of the last census, there were 66,387 persons living in the Grosse Pointe School District.

Since 1950, the Farms has increased in total population by more than 2,900; Harper Woods Fraction by more than 5,500; and Grosse Pointe Woods by nearly 9,900. The Park's increase is over 2,100, the Shores' over 1,600, and the City's 573.

The five to 19-year-olds nearly doubled in numbers during this period, as did the May Public School Membership. In May, 1950, there were 9,873 school age children living in the Pointe district, 5,585 of these attending public schools.

Last May, 19,602 five to 19-year-olds were recorded as living in the Pointe district, and 10,891 of these attended public schools.

All Pointes Gained

All municipalities experienced population gains between May, 1962, and May, 1963. Grosse Pointe Woods led with an increase of 810 people, followed by the Harper Woods Fraction with a 304-person gain. The Park's population increased by 180, the Farms' by 109, the Shores' by 99 and the City's by 61, bringing the Pointe's total population gain during the past year to 1,563. Four hundred fifteen of these new residents are school age children, and 248 of them attend public schools.

In 1963, losses in the under-one and one-year-old age groups were reversed slightly for the first time in five years, a good gain was reflected in the five to 11 group, a very slight gain in the 12 to 14 group, an impressive gain in the 15 to 17 group, and a substantial loss in the 18 and 19 category as compared with the census of a year ago.

Grosse Pointe Woods continues to lead the others in residences under construction, residences, children, total population, and persons per residence. The average Grosse Pointe home, according to the latest figures, houses 1.23 children (0-19 years), and a total of 3.38 adults and children.

Breakdown By Ages

Not a single elementary school showed in the current census district a gain over last year in all of the age groups. Total gains for the district were registered in the count of groups five to 11, 12 to 14, 15 to 17, and totals.

Ferry district continued to grow impressively with 300 more children residing there than a year ago. Firm gains in the current count were found in the five to 11 (an increase of 223) and 15 to 17 (a 272 increase) age groups.

Ferry led in 0-four: five-11 and 12-14, while Poupard led in 15-17 and Montclair in 18-19 group gains.

While the number of pre-schoolers (0-four) continued to fall for the fifth consecutive year, the number of school age (five-19) continued to rise as did the totals (0-19).

Women Injured As Car Hits Pole

Two women, one a resident of the Park, were taken to Bon Secours Hospital after a car in which they were riding crashed into an Edison light pole on Lake Shore road near North Edgewood drive.

Injured were the driver of the car, Margaret Williams, of 1239 Holcomb, Detroit, and a passenger, Josephine Jarrett, of 1126 Lakewood.

Mrs. Williams told police she was driving at approximately 25 miles per hour when she struck the right curb and went over it into the light pole. She received a ticket for driving with her car not under control.

Mrs. Williams was treated for cuts to her chest and forehead, and Mrs. Jarrett for cuts on her forehead and knee, and a sprained ankle.

Commission, making the determination of whether or not an institution is necessary for public convenience and welfare an administrative rather than a legislative function.

The residents also complained about an alleged lack of information presented to the public regarding the proposed school, and asked how it would affect traffic patterns in the immediate area, and how it would benefit Woods children.

Mayor Kenneth R. McLeod noted that, to his knowledge, neither side has made any attempt to hide information regarding the proposed school construction, reiterating the fact that the matter to a great extent was decided by the Planning Commission.

Mayor Prefers Taxes

"I have been opposed to Liggett School being built where it is (going to be built)," the Mayor added, "because I hate to see 10 acres disappear from our tax rolls," McLeod said he had no objection to the school per se, that it is a fine school, doing an excellent job.

Councilman Marvin Boutin charged the school officials have circumvented, "if not legally, morally, a public hearing." Boutin said he has asked for, but has never been able to get, Liggett attendance figures, that according to his own conjecture, less than one per cent of Woods' residents children attend Liggett, and that every Woods taxpayer will be forced to subsidize this tax-free institution.

"Prestige?" Boutin asked rhetorically, answering one of the school supporters' arguments for construction in the Woods. "No! We don't need prestige; we're the best of the Pointes now!"

Gilbride, speaking on behalf of Liggett, promised to get plans and specifications to the Building Inspector as soon as possible. The school hopes to open its doors to students for the Autumn term of 1964.

on the coils came from lawn sprinklers at street level two floors above seeping through. George Roth of the firm of Hubbell, Roth and Clark told the council members he thought the dry-type transformer should be replaced with three oil-type transformers, and said he had not been satisfied with the performance of the dry units.

It was learned the cost of buying and installing the units was $7,688.20, and the Council voted unanimously after thorough discussion to make the installation.

The General Piping Co. of Detroit, now under contract with the Park for pumping projects, was asked to buy and install the three units.

Total valuation for all permits issued in Grosse Pointe Woods was more than $2,300,000, and in Grosse Pointe Farms it was almost $1,300,000. Other community valuations are as follows: Harper Woods fraction, $802,427; Shores, $477,025; Park, $378,050; and City, $393,131.

Total January-June valuations for 1963 reached a five-year high at nearly $5,670,000.

Boyer to Help Improve Airport

Libraries

Detroit Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh has appointed a Pointer, Harold R. Boyer, to the Detroit Aviation Commission to help with an accelerated program of improvements for Detroit City Airport.

Boyer, who lives at 17700 East Jefferson avenue, served on the Aviation Commission under the late Mayor Albert E. Cobb from 1942 to 1952.

He received the oath of office Friday, August 9, in the office of Mayor Cavanagh. He is the successor of Thomas K. Fisher, of 87 Kenwood road, who asked not to be reappointed when his term expired June 30, 1963.

Boyer serves as vice president of distribution for General Motors Corp., and during World War II was its chief of plane manufacturing.

He owns and flies his own plane out of City airport.

Mayor Cavanagh commented that the appointment of Boyer would speed improvements to the airport that are now underway and planned. He said the runway is to be extended from 4,558 feet to 5,100 to qualify City airport for the latest instrument landing equipment.

A new administration building and control tower are to be built, and the 318 foot gas tank, a long time landmark will be removed, the mayor said.

Cavanagh said all these improvements should be accomplished in three or four years.

Farms Submits Building Report

Permits have been issued for the construction of two new residences in the Farms, according to the Farms building report for the month of July.

The two residences will be at 50 Lake Shore drive, valued at $106,000, and at 283 Grosse Pointe boulevard, valued at $30,000.

No permits were issued for business place construction, and 10 permits, totaling $35,350, were issued during the month for miscellaneous structures and improvements.

The report stated that the total for the year was 19 residences, valued at $1,233,000, one $11,000 business place and miscellaneous structures totaling $222,850.

The total value for building to date this year was placed at $1,466,850, as compared with $878,200 for the same period last year.

Club President Displays Products of Hobby

Senior Men's Club of Grosse Pointe president JESSE SHIELDS stands next to his woodwork exhibit, shown at the Club's recent Hobby Show. Over 150 members and guests turned out to view the collections, on display at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial

Tuesday, July 23. Twenty members entered exhibits, ranging from a violin display to a gun and sword collection. The Show proved so successful that the Senior Men's Club plans to make it an annual event.

Extensive Improvements Underway at Jacobson's

A sign at Jacobson's at 17030 Kercheval in the Village reads: "Things may seem confused now, but you'll find Jacobson's more beautiful than ever when we finish."

Why the confusion? Jacobson's has launched into an extensive redecoration program which will include two escalators and an altered floor plan that will mean added convenience for shoppers at one of Grosse Pointe's most progressive apparel centers.

Right now, areas of the store are partitioned off by ceiling-high plastic curtains, concealing the big changes going on behind. Counters are being moved, redone; added sales space is being created; greater customer convenience is the byword.

Two parallel escalators will zoom shoppers from the first floor near the main entrance to the second floor "Young Timers' Shop."

A new self-operating elevator will replace the present one.

The sportswear department, now at the far west end of the first floor, will be moved to the rear of the store to make room for a centralized shoes and accessories department.

All shoes, handbags, gloves and other accessories will be centered in this one spot for easier shopping.

The epicure shop will be moved from its present second floor location to the present location of the millinery bar, next to the main entrance. The millinery bar will find a new location on the first floor.

The popular St. Clair dining room will be expanded by approximately 70 seats.

The children will be glad to hear that the present toy shop will be expanded from its present size to include the epicure shop's area on the second floor.

The current renovations point up again Jacobson's interest in making the Village a model of customer convenience. Jacobson's has always played an active role in the Grosse Pointe Commerce and Civic Association, an organization of Village businessmen.

In 1957 they helped put through the highly successful idea of off-street parking. They have had a part in displays and decorations in the Village, in the annual Men's Night before Christmas, and have played host in their St. Clair Room to merchants and city officials when meetings were needed to discuss Village business matters.

City Manager Lawrence C. Savage called Jacobson's a "most civic minded and progressive store, that has played a consistent role in advancing ideas for civic improvements."

The present alterations, according to store officials, should be completed by October.

Meanwhile, shoppers at Jacobson's are asked to be consoled by the fact that, as the sign says, "We're working for a better store for you."

Check Passers Reported Busy

August is a bad month for passers of bad checks.

In Chicago last week, police arrested Gloria Vaughan, formerly of Balfour road, Detroit. Among the checks she drew on a non-existent account are five passed in Grosse Pointe City, and several others passed in Harper Woods.

In the custody of Macomb County authorities is Constantine Psahos, of Detroit, wanted by City police for passing a bad check at the A&P Store in "the Village" October 20, 1962.

Psahos was arrested by Detroit police and turned over to Mt. Clemens officials. He is charged with passing bad checks at several locations in Macomb County.

City police are currently trying to find the culprit who took a check writer from Sister Mary Gertrude's office in Bon Secours Hospital some time between the 6th and the 8th of August. The check writer was reported missing last Thursday afternoon.

Rear End Crash Injures Driver

A rear end collision at Mack and Chatsworth August 7 sent Stanley E. Beaufait, of 22407 O'Connor, St. Clair Shores, to Bon Secours Hospital for treatment for head lacerations.

Beaufait failed to stop at the traffic light at the intersection, and plowed into the rear of a car driven by Raymond Lee Hunt, of 2000 Lancaster, who had stopped for the light, police said.

The police noted that Hunt had suffered possible minor injuries to the neck, but he declined to be taken to the hospital. He said he would see his own physician.

The case will be heard in court September 25.

Two Cars Tangle At Intersection

City police took Nancy M. Dossin, 21, of 1015 Kensington, to Bon Secours Hospital for a check-up when she complained of a bruised side following a two-car collision at the intersection of Kercheval and Lincoln roads Monday morning, August 12.

Miss Dossin, driving east on Kercheval, entered the intersection and was struck by an automobile headed south on Lincoln. The driver of the second car, Louise Thies, 12738 E. Canfield, Detroit, claimed she had stopped for the stop sign but failed to see Miss Dossin's vehicle.

Both cars sustained considerable damage and had to be towed away. City police issued Louise Thies a ticket for reckless driving, causing an accident. Miss Dossin was released from Bon Secours after doctors determined her injuries were minor.

Annual Awards Presented By Community Theater

The Grosse Pointe Community Theater once again honored its outstanding performers and workers with Clarence Statues at its annual awards winner party held recently at the St. Clair Shores Recreation Center.

The affair drew well over 100 members and guests to an evening of dining, dancing and awards presentations.

Dr. Donald White received the award for best actor and Mrs. Jo Ann Moran was named best actress for their performances in the comedy, "Send Me No Flowers."

Winners in the categories: best actor and best actress in a supporting role, were Richard Bauhof and Mrs. A. Zuchcharini. Mr. Bauhof won his award for his amusing portrayal of the neighbor in "Send Me No Flowers" and Mrs. Zuchcharini was honored for her characterization of the slave woman in "The Crucible."

Other members honored were Mrs. Shirley Shepard, Director;

David and Loris Hadden, Producer; Mrs. Barbara Roney, Stage Manager; Roger Shepard, Technical Director; Shirley Gakstatter, Costumes; Carol Peters, Make-up; Harriet McQuillan, Properties; Robert Smalley, Set Design and Lighting and Robert Freschi, Workshop.

The annual awards party is also the occasion for formal announcement of the upcoming season of plays which, in 1963-64, will include "Teahouse of the August Moon," "Detective Story," "Come Blow Your Horn" and "Guys and Dolls." Information on individual tickets or special season book rates may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Richard Bauhof, 744 Rivard.

Regularly scheduled activities for the theater group begin again on September 9 with a general membership meeting at 8:30 in the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, 32 Lake Shore road. All interested persons are cordially invited to attend.

Four Freeways To Be Widened

State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie has announced that 77 miles of Interstate freeway in Michigan will be expanded from four to six lanes in 1966 and 1967.

Mackie said the projects, which will cost an estimated $24 million, will be necessary to meet anticipated traffic volumes in the mid-1970's.

All of the projects will be financed with 90 percent federal funds and 10 per cent state funds.

Sections of freeway to be expanded include:

—23 miles of I-96 from the northwest edge of Detroit to Brighton. Estimated cost, $5.3 million. To be done in 1966.

—33.3 miles of I-94 from the junction of I-96 (new under construction) near Benton Harbor south to New Buffalo. Estimated cost $8 million. To be done in 1966.

—5.4 miles of I-94 from US-23 freeway south of Ann Arbor east to US-12 southeast of Ypsilanti. Estimated cost, $6 million. To be done in 1967.

—15.3 miles of I-94 from Wierd Rd. south of Willow Run Airport east to US-24 (Telegraph Rd.). Estimated cost, $4.6 million. To be built in 1967.

Mackie said I-96 between Detroit and Brighton was originally built with only four lanes because the Highway Department didn't have enough funds along with other commitments to build it as a six-lane freeway.

Construction on this section of I-96—the oldest section of the 170-mile Detroit-Muskegon Freeway—was started in 1955. It was built with 60 per cent federal funds and 40 per cent state funds.

About a year after construction started, Congress approved the Federal Highway Act of 1956 which provided for 90 per cent federal financing on all Interstate freeway projects.

Mackie said the big interchange at Brighton linking I-96 and the Ohio-Mackinac Bridge Freeway (US-23) was built to accommodate six lanes of traffic and that no additional work will be required on the interchange.

All of I-94 between Willow Run Airport and Telegraph Rd. was built during World War II as part of the Detroit Industrial Expressway and later became part of I-94.

The section of I-94 between Benton Harbor and New Buffalo in Berrien County was opened between 1960 and 1962.

It was built as a four-lane divided freeway in order to conserve funds at that time and it was decided to expand it to six lanes when funds became available.

Traffic volumes on this section of I-94 are expected to increase steadily when I-96 is completed between Benton Harbor and Holland later this year and next year.

Police Watching Home in Farms

Farms police are keeping a stepped-up patrol of the Stephens road home of a woman whose business ventures have been linked with two Detroit explosions which occurred Monday, August 12.

The home of Mrs. Jennie Cavataio, 254 Stephens road, has been the subject of special police surveillance.

Mrs. Cavataio is the owner of a 35-unit apartment house at Cadieux and Morang and just a week ago sold a macaroni processing plant at Bellevue and Charlevoix, both in Detroit.

The two buildings were shaken by dynamite blasts which were "of the warning type; just meant to cause attention," according to Detroit police.

Farms police chief James Furton said that though the bombings "have nothing to do with us, we felt we should watch the home."

Furton said, "We don't expect any trouble."

Mrs. Cavataio is full owner of the Esstland Court Apartments, 10410 Cadieux. Police said dynamite was exploded in one of the lobbies of the building at 3:40 a.m. Monday. The explosive was placed under a metal stairway, shattering front and rear windows in the lobby and shaking plaster from the ceiling.

The caretaker, Andrew Kinney, told police the lobby door is never locked. He was awakened by the explosion and called police.

Firemen were also called, but no fire developed.

The second explosion occurred at about 4 a.m. at the Prince Michigan Macaroni Manufacturing Co., 3261 Bellevue. The dynamite was apparently rolled beneath an eight foot cyclone fence at the plant, and exploded under a truck, police said.

The explosion broke 26 windows and damaged the tractor-trailer truck.

No one was injured in either blast.

From Los Angeles, where she is visiting, Mrs. Cavataio said

WED, THEN JAIL—Mrs. Roland Gilbert of Oklahoma City, Okla., cut her wedding cake after their marriage in the Clovis, N.M., jail, while awaiting sentences of up to five years for a $2,500 burglary. There is a ball and chain attached to the bride's figure on the cake. Mrs. Gilbert, the former Theima Hughes, is cutting cake with a rubber file.

REVENTLOW COMES A-CROPPER—Lance Reventlow, 27, sports car racing son of millionairess Barbara Hutton, looks a bit abashed on a stretcher in Sherman Oaks, Calif., where he wound up after a borrowed sports car plunged out of control down a 100-foot embankment. With him was Sharon Fringle, 19. Both got bruised up a bit, but nothing serious.

THE 'CHIEFTAIN,' A KILLER—Britain's new 50-ton "killer" tank, called the "Chieftain," is put on display at Chobham, England. It is said to be five years ahead of anything on tracks. It carries a 120-mm. high velocity gun. Britain built the "Chieftain" in competition with France and West Germany for a standard tank for NATO forces in Europe.

DRY RUN—Weeks of near-record heat in Texas leave the Pedernales River like this a few miles west of Austin.

LOOKS FINE—Theodore Green, 95, former U.S. senator, leaves the Hattie Ide Chaffee home in East Providence, R.I. He went there in April after hospitalization for series of cerebral shocks.

WRONG MAN JAILED—Richard Reel, 28, looks downcast as he talks to Officer R. S. Stovall in Dallas, Tex., where he signed a confession to several robberies there and for a hold-up in Chattanooga, Tenn., last January, for which William W. Bridges (right) was convicted. Bridges got a five-year sentence April 17 for that crime. The 30-year-old Bridges is appealing the conviction.

BEEF WENT UP—Butchy, an Angus bull, stands stolidly on roof of the George Kruger barn near Newark, Ark. It is believed he got there by leaping to the low eave on the right.

RENOUNCES TITLE—Anthony Wedgwood-Benn, second viscount of Stansgate, leaves the House of Commons in London with his U.S.-born wife Caroline after formally renouncing his title so he will be eligible for Parliament. He served in Parliament for 10 years, then his father died, which made him a viscount and put him in the House of Lords. A new law permits peers to renounce their titles. Wedgwood-Benn will be unopposed for Commons.

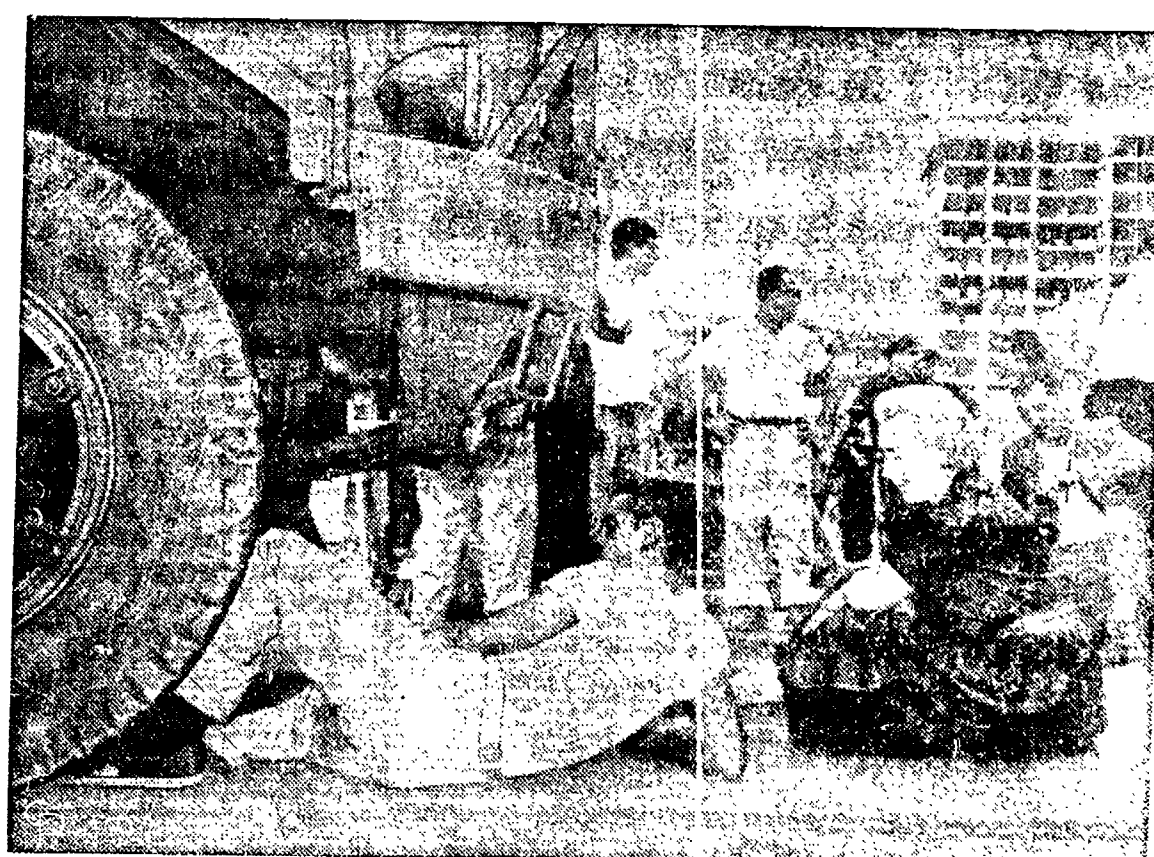

PANTYLOONEY—Mrs. Millie Jones, 37, now fully clothed, and William D. Splawn, 40, are shown in rogues gallery photos after their sensational escape and recapture from jail in Lewiston, Idaho. Mrs. J., clad only in pink panties, clubbed jailer Lloyd Stewart over the head with several bars of soap wrapped in a shirttail, and she and Splawn, both of Eastland, Tex., took to their heels. With Millie still frockless, they stole a car from an astonished motorist. A posse found them in the hills later. By then she was fully clad.

OVERPARKED—That's a parking ticket stuck in the bridle of the saddle jalopy in Madison, S.D. The rider left the nag tethered too long, and an officer ticketed him as overparked.

PEACEFUL AGITATORS—Buddhist monks agitating for more religious freedom stand behind a barricade at the Xa Loi pagoda in Saigon, South Viet Nam. In front of them are weapons—spray guns containing lemon juice with red peppers and curry powder. Their other artillery includes grenades of salt and pepper wrapped in paper.

TROUBLE AFOOT—A civil rights picket places his foot like a chock under wheel of a truck at the Rutgers housing project in New York's lower east side, protesting job discrimination. Other pickets sit on the pavement to prevent progress of work.

HE'S IN THE HEADLINES—Charles Faulkner, accused of burglary, goes to court in Chicago wrapped in a newspaper. His clothes were taken for analysis of stains as evidence, and Faulkner felt a bit bashful at the thought of being photographed in just his shorts.

BRANDO, SHE SAYS—Marie Cul, 25, Filipino dancer, holds her 5-month-old baby, Maya Gabriella, in Santa Monica, Calif., where she has filed a paternity suit against actor Marion Brando, 37. She seeks $775 a month support.

THE QUEEN IS 2'9"—Phyllis Poylston, 2-feet-9, and Dennis Blinn, 3-feet-4, pose in Des Moines, Ia., after their election as "king" and "queen" of the Little People of America. Behind them are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brower, Scottsdale, Ariz., standing on a platform. Phyllis is from Wixom, Mich., Dennis from Atlanta, Ga.

HAL ROACH ENDS—Bryon (Bones) Breeand, 60, who started with the Hal Roach Studios in 1923 as a laborer and ended as general manager, sorrowfully scans the auction program in Culver City, Calif., as the whole works goes up for sale. It was the oldest continually operating motion picture and television production company. Everything goes on the 14-acre lot, including props used by such famous stars as Jean Harlow, Laurel and Hardy, Charlie Chase, the "Our Gang" comedy troupe.

Jealous Youth Faces Charges

A 17-year-old Pointe boy was sent to the hospital and another 17-year-old was charged with assault and battery because of a misunderstanding.

Charged with assault following an incident which occurred shortly after midnight August 11 was Daniel Lynwood Paul, 17, of 2150 Fleetwood. His victim, Max Ostermain, 17, of 1605 Huntington, was treated at St. John Hospital for lacerations to the upper lip and possible concussions.

Police said the incident occurred on Aline drive where Ostermain had dropped off a 16-year-old girl at her home.

Paul waited outside the girl's home until the two arrived, ordered Ostermain out of the car, and struck him. Paul said the 16-year-old was his girl and accused Ostermain of taking her out that evening, police said.

After committing the assault, Paul was told that Ostermain had only driven the girl home as a favor to her.

Paul then drove his victim to St. John Hospital for treatment.

Ostermain and his father summoned police to the hospital later that night to hear the story, and told police they would sign a complaint for an assault and battery charge.

Missionary Set To Preach Here

Dr. Harry Zemmer, former missionary in the Belgian Congo, will be the guest minister on Sunday, August 18, at the Grosse Pointe Congregational Church.

Under the auspices of the Berean Mission, Dr. Zemmer was responsible for establishing the first mission hospital in the Kivan Forest Area, one of the most dense tropical forests of all Africa, situated 1,500 miles inland. In his last year of missionary activity he ministered to the Bolegas, a native tribe numbering about 200,000, performing 300 surgeries and treating 25,000 patients in the dispensary.

Dr. Zemmer is a native of Lapeer, Mich., where he now continues his medical and surgical practice since his return from the Congo. He received his medical degree from the University of Michigan.

The summer service at the Grosse Pointe Congregational Church is held at 9:30 a.m.

Trombly School Entered Twice

Prowlers twice this month have gained entry into the Trombly School, 820 Beaconsfield, Park police report.

Entries were made August 1 and August 6, both times by removing putty from a first floor window. Police found that drawers had been pulled open but nothing was found to be missing.

The name "Alter Rods" had been written on one of the blackboards. Police think this to be the name of a hot-rod gang.

Two on Bike Ram Into Car

Two boys received cuts and bruises after they rode their bike into the side of a passing car on Lochmoor boulevard August 9.

The two, John Carroll, 14, of 20870 Country Club drive, and John Bommarito, 11, of 21120 Norwood, were riding double on a bike in an easterly direction on Lochmoor near Helen avenue.

They told police their bike veered off the curb and into the oncoming lane of traffic, striking a car driven by Joseph Stephen Santavica, 21, of 15618 Tacoma, Detroit.

Santavica's car was traveling at a low rate of speed because he had just stopped for a stop sign and had slowed down further because of the oncoming bike, police said.

Police said injuries to the boys were not serious. No violations were issued.

Police Arrest Drunken Vandal

Park police arrested a 15-year-old Park boy who was walking in the 900 block of Nottingham shortly after midnight August 8, tearing side view mirrors from parked cars.

Police said the boy was intoxicated.

When police reached the boy, he had ripped the side view mirrors from four cars parked on the street. The boy was taken into custody and arrested for being intoxicated on a public street and for malicious destruction of property.

The youth was committed to the Wayne County Juvenile Detention Home and appeared in Probate Court in Detroit at 1:30 p.m. August 8.

His parents have agreed to make complete restitution for the damage.

School Addition Bids Rejected

By a vote of 4 to 1, (with 2 members absent), the Grosse Pointe Board of Education Monday night rejected all bids for the construction of the proposed addition to Mair Elementary School. Low among the general contractors was the Herbert Ralph Company with a bid of $82,569. Lowest bid among mechanical contractors came from The Chelsea Company and the lowest for electrical work was $10,331 by the Maryland Electric Company.

The total cost for the addition would have amounted to $107,900, which is $31,900 more than the budget of $76,000 earmarked by the Board. It is expected that new bids will be called for in February or March, 1964. Members of the Board hope to receive more favorable bids in the winter.

Under such a delayed timetable, the addition would be built largely in the summer, thereby causing minimal disruption of the educational program at Mair.

One Case Heard In City Court

Judge Douglas L. Paterson heard one case in the City court August 7. The court tried Claude Raymond Brooks, of 7075 Berkshire, and found him guilty of driving with his car not under control, causing an accident.

Brooks paid a fine of $100.

State Grounds Three Drivers

Three Pointe drivers had their licenses suspended during the second week of July, a weekly report of the Michigan Department of State revealed last week.

They were: George A. Custer Homeier, Jr., 20, of 773 Lakepointe avenue; Edward Thomas Kelley, 59, of 640 Rivard boulevard; and Arthur Allen Louwers, 21, of 1415 Three Mile drive.

Homeier's suspension was for a week, Louwers' for a month, and Kelley's for an indefinite period.

Rookie halfback Gene Frantz of the Detroit Lions is an expert skier and is a member of the "ski patrol" in his native state of Utah.

Suffers Injury Installing Sign

A City employee was injured August 8 while installing a stop sign at the corner of Roosevelt place and Jefferson.

Leo Carrier, superintendent of the City's Signal Bureau, received cuts to the head when a cap on top of the sign was knocked off and struck him on the head.

He was taken to Bon Secours

Hospital by City Police Chief Andrew Teetaert. He received four stitches.

an account supervisor for Young & Rubicam. He was named vice president in charge of the office in 1960.

Standard is on the board of trustees of the Grosse Pointe University School and an Episcopal vestryman.

James J. Fielding, with a background of more than 23 years in the wholesale and retail drug business has been named vice-president and director of marketing for Cunningham Drug Stores, Inc. It was announced by Ray A. Shapiro, company president.

Fielding, 40, had previously occupied the post of sales promotion manager for Cunningham, one of the nation's largest operators of retail chain drug stores.

He began his career in the drug business as a youth in 1939 when employed as a part-time, nights and weekends IBM operator for the accounting department of McKesson Laboratories, division of McKesson & Robbins, at Fairfield, Conn., a suburb of Bridgeport, his native city.

After graduation from high school he continued as a full-time employee of McKesson until early 1942 when he enlisted in the Air Force.

As a first lieutenant and pilot of a Liberator bomber he served in the Pacific Theater until 1945, with award of the Silver Star.

Following discharge, he entered Fordham University from which he graduated in 1949 as an accounting major.

He then rejoined McKesson & Robbins, in the sales department, where he rose in successive steps to director of chain store sales.

In December of 1960 he was named vice-president and merchandising manager. He resigned the post to join the Cunningham organization the following year.

Fielding was married in 1949 to the former Nancy Moss Fray. They reside at 1244 Three Mile drive, Grosse Pointe Park, with their seven children: Michele 12, James, II, 11, Philip 10, Brian 9, Barry 6, Shawn 5, Christopher 4.

Fielding is president of the Grosse Pointe Community Theater and has served as a director of the All America Little Football League.

George N. Monro and Dale I. Sellers, vice presidents of Manufacturers National Bank, have been assigned special administrative functions in the Commercial Banking Division, it was announced by Roland A. Mewhort, executive vice-president.

SUMMARY OF MINUTES

AUGUST 5, 1963

The meeting was called to order at 8:00 p.m. Present on roll call: Mayor William F. Connolly, Jr., Councilmen William C. Butler, Henry E. Bodman, II, Thomas K. Fisher and Benjamin S. Warren, Jr. Absent: Councilmen William G. Kirby and Ledyard Mitchell, Jr.

Mayor William F. Connolly, Jr., presided. Councilmen Kirby and Mitchell were excused from attending the meeting.

The minutes of the regular meeting of July 15th, 1963, were approved as submitted.

Reports of the Police Department for the month of June, 1963 and for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1963, were received and ordered filed.

An amendment to the Zoning Ordinance, amending Section 4.01 (i) regarding boat hoists, etc., was enacted. Dr. Don E. Kelly of 302 Grosse Pointe Boulevard was granted permission to erect a brick wall five feet in height along the Kerby Road side of his property.

Mayor Connolly was requested to direct a communication to the owner of the property at 118 Cloverly Road advising him that the parking of a land cruiser on his property is in violation of the City's Ordinances.

The bid of W. F. Miller Company in the amount of $1,195.00, being the low bid, for furnishing the City with a triplex power mower was accepted.

The bid of M. L. DeMeulenaere in the amount of $753.50, being the low bid for replacing bumper timbers and the re-setting of parking meters in the Kercheval Avenue and Mack-Manor parking lots, was accepted.

Approval was given to pay DeMeulenaere General Contractors $2,800.00 as part payment for the repair of catch basins and to pay Begrow & Brown Architects, the sum of $9,487.27, as partial payment of architectural services rendered.

Mayor Connolly and the City Manager, Sidney DeBoer were designated as the City's delegates to vote at the annual meeting of the Michigan Municipal League.

A proposed new Zoning Ordinance was read, received and ordered laid on the table and a public hearing on the new Ordinance was set for September 16, 1963.

A communication signed by five residents of Grosse Pointe Farms urging the Council to study the possibility of constructing a swimming pool at the Pier Park was received and the matter was referred to the Mayor's Advisory Planning Commission for study.

A request from the members of the Police and Fire Departments for additional benefits under the retirement system was referred to the City Manager with the request that he make a study of the matter and report his recommendations in connection thereto to the Council at a meeting to be held on October 7, 1963.

Due to vacations and the first meeting in September falling on Labor Day, the regular meetings scheduled for August 19, 1963 and September 2, 1963, were postponed to September 16, 1963.

A communication was received from Dr. Charles F. Dodehoff requesting the Council to approve the easterly 75 feet of Lot 217, Joy Realty Company Hamilton Park Subdivision as a buildable lot.

The matter was referred to the Mayor's Advisory Planning Commission for study and the Commission was requested to report their recommendations to the Council.

Mr. Claude A. Griner of 78 Lakeshore Road was granted permission to construct a boat hoist on the lake side of his property subject to his meeting certain conditions such as screening the hoist by plantings, etc.

The City Manager was authorized to take bids for improvements to the Water Filtration Plant and Water Distribution System, the cost of the improvements estimated to be approximately $86,000.00.

On proper motion made, supported and carried, the meeting adjourned at 9:20 p.m.

THIS SIMPLE FORMULA

CAN SAVE YOUR

LIFE:-

$$DS + BT = S.S.$$

Four out of five auto accidents happen because a driver doesn't allow enough braking time for a safe stop when unexpected danger occurs.

And, on today's heavily-traveled city streets and high-speed highways, unexpected danger is common.

But you can make the difference between smash-up and safety every time, by using this simple formula: D.S. + B.T. = S.S. (Danger Sighted + Braking Time = Safe Stop)

It's the Space Age on the highway, too. Leave enough between you and the other fellow!

Lochmoor Beat Point

Lochmoor Club Grosse Pointe Yacht home pool to win a lot of the season.

Both teams along other-Club Swimming will compete in annual meet this Saturday at the Detroit Club. Preliminaries are scheduled for all 26 events, day afternoon, On Sunday the finals will be with the top six individual relay teams that qualify the preliminaries of each.

Grosse Pointe Yacht opened the meet by winning first two relays. But Lochmoor beat to take when Chris Wood and Promack slammed the eight years old and under style and D. J. Godin. Ambrose did the same boys.

From this point on Lochmoor had a 129-1 with four events to go. Yacht Club's Megan C. and Gretchen Greiner's girls' 11-12 freestyle. Bruce Black and Steve. The same in the boys' race.

This put the score at for Lochmoor. The victory was clinched when Lochmoor won the girls' medley and then lost the boys' relay.

The Yacht Club won the eight relays. But Lochmoor overcame this advantage first places in 10 of the individual events.

Lochmoor's double victory were Leslie Beckenbauer and Bob Schaltenberg in the year old division. Bob won the triple crown when Rohde beat him by 3 of one in the breaststroke. Leslie didn't enter the style event so she could compete in two winning relay Sally Clarke and Jackie gave Lochmoor a sweep event.

Bruce Black and Steve were winners in both the style and backstroke races the 11-12 and 13-14 age respectively, for the Yacht Club. Anne Whyte was first backstroke event for 13-14 old girls and was second in style. Lochmoor's Cheryl won the free style 30.7, the second-fastest time recorded in the Inter-Club this season. Kathy Zimmer was another Yacht Club winner in the girls' 11-12 backstroke.

Lochmoor continued its dominance of the 10-year and under races when Beckenbauer and Mary broke were first and second the girls' 9-10 freestyle and Heholt and Mike O'Beck first and third in the boys' 9-10.

The Results Girls 100-meter medley (12 years old and under) Grosse Pointe Yacht Club: merman, D. Mason, G. Gregory; 2. Lochmoor; 3. 1:11.9.

Boys 100-meter medley (12 years old and under) Grosse Pointe Yacht Club: merman, D. Mason, G. Gregory; 2. Lochmoor; 3. 1:11.9.

Lochmoor Club Tankers Beat Pointe Yacht Club

By Bill Bullard, Jr.

Lochmoor Club held off a late challenge from Grosse Pointe Yacht Club last Thursday night in its home pool to win a 147-146 victory in the last dual meet of the season.

Both teams along with the other 10 squads of the Michigan Inter-Club Swimming Association will compete in the 24th annual Inter-Club championship meet this Saturday and Sunday at the Detroit Yacht Club. Preliminaries are scheduled for all 26 events on Saturday afternoon. On Sunday afternoon the finals will be run off with the top six individuals and relay teams that qualified in the preliminaries of each event.

Grosse Pointe Yacht Club opened the meet by winning the first two relays. But Lochmoor bounced back to take the lead when Chris Wood and Caron Paddock slammed the girls' eight years old and under freestyle and D. J. Godin and Bob Ambrose did the same for the boys.

From this point on Lochmoor only relinquished the lead twice. Lochmoor had a 129-118 lead with four events to go. Then the Yacht Club's Megan Gregory and Gretchen Greiner slammed the girls' 11-12 freestyle and Bruce Black and Steve May did the same in the boys' race.

This put the score at 135-134 for Lochmoor. The one-point victory was clinched when Lochmoor won the girls' medley relay and then lost the boys' medley relay.

The Yacht Club won five of the eight relays. But Lochmoor overcame this advantage with first places in 10 of the 18 individual events.

Lochmoor's double winners were Leslie Beckenhauer and Rob Schaltenbrand in the 15-16 year old freestyle. Bob was defeated the triple crown when Chip Rohde beat him by 3 of a second in the breaststroke event. Leslie didn't enter the freestyle event so she could compete in two winning relays and Sally Clarke and Jackie Raven gave Lochmoor a sweep of the event.

Bruce Black and Steve Mason were winners in both the freestyle and backstroke races in the 11-12 and 13-14 age group, respectively, for the Yacht Club. Anne Whyte was first in the backstroke event for 13-14 year old girls and was second in freestyle. Lochmoor's Cheryl Gardner won the free style race in 207, the second-fastest time recorded in the Inter-Club circuit this season. Kathy Zimmerman was another Yacht Club winner in the girls' 11-12 backstroke.

Lochmoor continued its near dominance of the 10-year-old and under races when Lisa Beckenhauer and Mary Ambrose were first and second in the girls' 9-10 freestyle and Tom Heholt and Mike O'Berski were first and third in the boys' race.

The Results
Girls 100-meter medley relay (12 years old and under): 1. Grosse Pointe Yacht Club (Zimmerman, D. Mason, Greiner, Gregory); 2. Lochmoor; Time: 1:11.9.
Boys 100-meter medley relay (12 years old and under): 1. Grosse Pointe Yacht Club (May, Connolly, Kirby and Mitchell); 2. Lochmoor; Time: 1:11.9.

Diving Crowns Won by Five

Five championships were decided in the Fifth Annual Inter-City Diving meet held last Saturday at the Grosse Pointe Farms Pier.

Mark Gibson of the Farms was the only champion to successfully defend his title. Mark easily won the boys' intermediate division for those 13 to 15 years of age as he piled up a fantastic total of 77.6 points as compared with 33.4 for Greg Boerner and 26.8 for Jim Wood. Mark will be entering Grosse Pointe High this fall and he should provide immediate help to their swim team.

Cynthia Hassig of the Farms won the junior girls' division for those 12 and under as she edged out Louise Wright with a total of 48.7 points to 35.2.

Deacon Chapin, also of the Farms, rolled up a total of 59.2 points to win the junior boys' title. Mark Boerner and Joe Carnaghi were second and third respectively.

Vickie Geavaras of the Park won the intermediate girls' title by out-scoring Ann Fisher and Francine Kahlick, both of the City. Vickie gave a strong performance as she came up with 55.8 points.

The final champion was Phil LeZontier of the City who won the boys' senior title.

Woods Spartans Call Gridders

The Woods Spartans football team has sent out the call for interested boys, age nine through 12, to join up.

The team, local members of the Jack Lowther Little Football league, will hold a registration session beginning at 4:30 p.m. August 19 at the Mason School field, Vernier near Mack Avenue.

All Grosse Pointe and Harper Woods boys in the age group and weighing from 60 to 125 pounds are invited to sign up.

The team provides a physical exam, the best modern equipment and each player receives a game uniform and a practice uniform. They will need only shoulder pads and shoes of their own.

The Spartans will compete in the oldest little football league in the Detroit area, against such teams as Dearborn, Southfield, Redford, Farmington, and others.

Their home field during the season will be Harper Woods High School, located behind Eastland.

Three night games will be included in the eight game schedule which will run from September 8 through November 2. The team has an annual banquet celebrating the close of the season and the boys' families are invited to this event.

Accident insurance is provided that covers boys going to and from games and practices, as well as during the games. There will be a five dollar registration fee. For further information call TU 4-5112.

Altered License Spells Trouble

David Francis Scruggs was released by Shores police August 9 after being arrested on Lake Shore for driving with an altered operator's license and carrying open intoxicants in his auto.

Scruggs, who gave his address as the Light Tower Motel, Roseville was released on $35 bond pending his appearance in court September 16.

He had changed his birth date from 1943 to 1942.

Committee Planning College Send-Off

A large and very representative group of Pointe Collegians are planning this year's college send-off dance in the Crystal Ballroom and lakeside gardens of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial on Friday evening, August 23, from 9 until 12 o'clock. They include under the chairmanship of PAT GRELLING, BOB TAUGNER, JULIE ALLARDYCE, BOB WELLS, SCOTT STIRTON, BILL HOLT, BART ELMER, KAY VIVIAN, AL WRIGHT,

GEORGE SHORT, KATHY MAUN, LYNN WILLOUGHBY, JAY WHITTIER, JOHN ZIMMERMAN, BILL SIMON, DOUG FIRTH, JOHN YEOMAN, TOM PEEBLES, GARY SPADE, LYNN FREELAND, TERRY HAHN, SCOTT RANNEY, MIKE REDLEN, BILL POTS, DON ROSYN, MIKE DANIELS, SUE MITCHELL, LAURA ZOLAD, JUDY ST. JOHN, MARY MULLIKIN, MARY LOU NIGRO and CHARLENE PETERS.

Little Football League Forming

Officials of local Little League Football, who assure us they aren't rushing the season, have announced their annual registration next Wednesday, August 21.

The league is for Woods or Farms boys who will be nine years old on or before September 1 up to and including boys whose 12th birthday falls on or after September 1.

There will be three teams, the juniors, junior varsity, and varsity. All players are assured the latest safety equipment and supervision by competent personnel.

Safety precautions have been so good that the league's incident of injury is less than for Little League Baseball, officials say.

Registration will be held August 21 from 7 to 9 p.m. at the Kerby Field Clubhouse. Boys are asked to bring with them their birth certificates.

There is no registration fee. Tryouts will be held Labor Day, September 2, at 10 a.m., Tuesday, September 3, at 4 p.m., and Wednesday, September 4, at 4 p.m. Registration for late comers will also be accepted at try-outs.

Boys must attend two out of three practice sessions.

Further questions on the league may be directed to its registration manager, Ben W. Hubbard, at TU 1-6788.

It's middle-age when the thing that makes a man tick needs considerable winding.

Pointer Named Designer Of Rapid Transit Trains

Pullman-Standard, a division of Pullman, Inc., has appointed designer William M. Schmidt as industrial design consultant for 180 air-conditioned rapid-transit trains to be built under a $19 million contract for the Chicago Transit Authority.

Mr. Schmidt is a Pointe resident and member of the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club.

Building-up of a quarter-scale model of the 48-foot long cars is already underway in the Harper Woods studios of William M. Schmidt Associates, Inc.

"Our design goal for the CTA trains," Mr. Schmidt said, is a visual package to express the forward-looking engineering thinking that will be in them. That is, a feeling of being able to move people rapidly and safely, plus a sustained appearance of cleanliness."

Well known for his development of regular production automobiles, highly publicized "Dream Cars" and White House Presidential limousines while serving in top-level styling posts and as a consultant for Ford, Chrysler, American Motors and Studebaker-Packard, Mr. Schmidt now devotes full time to his own organization which designs products ranging from pickle jars to trains, in addition to scores of automobile components.

Scheduled for completion in mid-1964, the rapid-transit trains are slated for "luxury ride" operation on the CTA's Lake Street line, a prime Chicago-suburban commuting route.

Giants Winners In Playoffs

The Grosse Pointe Farms Little League Champs (Giants), on Wednesday, July 31, played the Harper Woods Champs (White Sox) in the district tournament playoffs at Harper Woods. Final score: Grosse Pointe Farms "Giants," 3 runs, 2 hits, 1 error; Harper Woods White Sox, 2 runs, 1 hit, 1 error.

This was certainly a team victory for the Giants, with special credit going to Tim Allard for his base running; 10-year-old Gary Beaufait for his excellent defensive plays at second base; "Pep" Perry who made a perfect throw from left field to nail the runner at home that would have tied the score; Tim Wittstock who handled "Pep's" throw and put the tag on the runner; and to Peter Wittstock who pitched a beautiful game allowing one hit.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Sir:

This is an open letter to Councilman Bodman in regards to the need for a swimming pool at the Grosse Pointe Farms Park.

Dear Mr. Bodman:

In my wildest moments I can't imagine you making the statement that the swimming facilities at our park are conducive to swimming. Have you been there recently, or better yet, have you been in that water recently?

I have two children who enjoy swimming very much as I do and the Park just doesn't have the drawing power that I once had. I don't believe that I speak just for myself and my family. I know of other people in the Farms who feel the same way. I believe it is very important that the Council study this deplorable situation very thoroughly and report to the people as soon as possible.

Very truly yours,
William Mulkey
97 Meadow Lane

Gentlemen:

Regarding Article In Issue of Thursday, August 8th, Page 8 "Warn Residents About Ammo."

As a resident for the last 40 years in Grosse Pointe Farms and a subscriber to your paper since its inception, may I take exception to part of this article. We heartily agree with you on the proper control and destruction of all unknown ammo from a 22 to the atom bomb. Also any bottles, cans, and aerosol containers carelessly thrown into a trash fire.

But by this time the Director of Public Safety, Mr. Vern Bailey, now knows that the 20MM dummy cartridges (not shells) in question were sold as surplus by the U.S. Air Force who used this dummy ammo to teach belt loading and was manufactured without a primer hole or powder loading. These are filled with sand or sal soda and sealed.

The Detroit Police Laboratory and Fort Wayne Depot confirms this. Mr. Bailey knows this and your paper now knows this. Regarding an explosion in a home you are again in error, this occurred in a burning barrel in a yard or alley, not in a home and we do not know what exploded.

The Detroit News and Free Press printed an acknowledgment of the above facts. We hope you print this as a public service or you can charge us at the regular advertising rates. However, I am determined to get this information to my friends and neighbors whom I respect.

Yours very truly,
N. Silverstone Company

Tutankhamun Treasures Draw Many to Institute

From the tomb of the famous King Tut who ruled Egypt about 3,000 years ago, come the famous Tutankhamun Treasures—34 items including precious jewelry, scarabs, vases, ceremonial weapons and sculpture—which are on view at the Detroit Institute of Arts from August 1 through September 1, 1963.

The objects in the exhibition date from about 1,350 years before the birth of Christ and some are examples of the finest art of imperial age in Egypt. Beaten gold, glass, semi-precious stones, enamel, wood, bronze and alabaster are the materials used in fashioning the objects, many of which rank among the world's great art treasures.

Tutankhamun ruled for nine years and was about 18 years of age when he died. In 1922, his tomb was discovered hidden in the desolate Valley of the Kings on the west bank of the Nile just opposite Luxor. It was the richest royal tomb of antiquity ever found.

The Egyptians believed that the soul, living on after death, needed a home. Each tomb therefore contained objects one might need in a future life—including murals of the activities of the present world, decorative arts, jewelry—and even servants, who could do the King's work in the after-world, in the form of small shawabti figures. A coffin of massive gold held the mummified body of Tutankhamun. Canopic receptacles were used to preserve the young Pharaoh's viscera and an alabaster lid from one of them, in the form of the King's head, is in the exhibition.

Also in the exhibition are: a miniature gold coffin in the likeness of the King; the King's gold walking stick embellished with a figurine in his likeness; pectorals; rings; amulets and scarabs. The scarab was one of the many protective amulets placed on the mummy, and was believed to have power to bring about the resurrection of the dead.

Usually on view in the Egyptian Museum in Cairo, this is the first time that the government of the United Arab Republic has permitted a selection of the total treasure to be circulated outside of Egypt.

The exhibition of Tutankhamun Treasures was organized by Dr. Froelich Rainey, president of the American Association of Museums, and is being circulated throughout the United States by the Traveling Exhibition Service of the Smithsonian Institution. The exhibition is intended to stimulate interest in UNESCO's enormous program to save 17 large Nubian temples and tombs which are doomed to oblivion by the Aswan Dam, now being constructed.

Visiting hours at the Detroit Institute of Arts are Tuesday through Sunday, from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. The Museum is now open on Mondays to care for the large crowds drawn by the exhibit. There is an admission charge to the Tutankhamun Treasures Exhibition of 75c for adults, 50c for students, 25c for children.

There are frequent showings of two films in the Lecture Hall: "Tutankhamun, The Immortal Pharaoh," and "Submerged Glory, A Study in Stone." Further information on any of the above may be secured by calling TE 1-0260.

Charles F. McCarron Assigned to Okinawa

Marine P.F.C. Chas. F. McCarron, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. P. McCarron, 311 Kerby road, graduated May 28 from Ground Radio Repair at San Diego, Calif.

This 31-week course included 15 weeks of basic electronic theory, six weeks of fundamental application of electronics, plus 10 weeks of electronic gear used in ground operations. Before entering the service in February 1962, Charles was a student at the U. of Detroit. He leaves August 14 for Okinawa where he will be stationed for the next 13 months.

PARAKEET SHUNS CAGE
Vern Johnson, of 1300 Maryland summoned Park firemen to catch his pet parakeet, which was perched on a tree. Firemen used a 10-foot combination ladder and extended a cage to the bird, but it refused to go into the cage, and instead flew away.

WHEEL, HUBCAPS
A front wheel and hub caps were stolen from a car parked in the lot below the tennis courts at the Country Club of Detroit, August 11. The car belonged to Benjamin Knight, assistant Maître-de, who had parked his car there at 7 a.m. He discovered the wheel missing at 4 p.m.

Men who are all wrapped up in themselves always find fault with their surroundings.

Library Offers Films for Kids

The August 15 and 16 presentation of the Public Library Summer Film Festival will be a double feature of "The Red Balloon" and "Sebastian the Scatterbrain."

The films will be seen Thursday at the Park Branch at 10:30 a.m. and at the Central Branch at 2 p.m., and on Friday at 10 a.m. at the Woods Branch. Total time for the show is 44 minutes.

"The Red Balloon" is a fantasy of a boy and a balloon in Montmartre and Montmartre, Paris. A red balloon endowed with magical properties is found by a youngster on his way to school.

When jealous street Arabs pursue them and puncture the balloon the latter is mourned by thousands of balloons which "revolt" and flock to the boy. They entangle their cords and fly him over Paris roofs.

"Sebastian the Scatterbrain" is a tiny yellow duckling, visiting a Lilliputian village in central Europe on a camping trip. Wandering into the woods to search for Queen Hedgehog of the forest, he almost falls prey to the evil snake, but the watchful raven spreads the alarm to the kittens, rabbits, and mice of the town, and Sebastian is rescued in the nick of time.

Nab Juveniles For Shoplifting

Two juvenile boys, one 13 and the other 12, were caught shoplifting in Kresge's in "The Village" Friday afternoon, August 9. The store manager called City police, who in turn contacted the youngsters' parents.

The boys had been observed taking model kits. Taken to the City station, they were released to their parents, and told to return Saturday morning, when they received a severe lecture and were turned over to their parents for further punishment.

In the past few weeks, there have been several incidents of juvenile shoplifting in "The Village" area. Most of the culprits are very young children, few older than the early teens, and the majority live in the Pointe area.

The items taken are small, but they add up to a considerable store loss over a period of months. City police are making a special effort to patrol the area. Although the shoplifting "epidemic" seems to be largely the result of boredom, done on an "I dare you" basis (few of the children actually need any of the items they take), parents are asked to emphasize the wrongness of stealing to their children.

It's easier than getting a surprise call from the City station a summons to "Come and get your boy (or girl). We just picked him up for shoplifting."

What Goes On at Your Library

By Virginia Leonard

"Among . . . unhappy mortals is the writer of dictionaries: whom mankind considered, not as the pupil, but the slave of science, the pioneer of literature, doomed only to remove rubbish and clear obstructions from the paths of Learning and Genius, who press forward to conquest and glory, without bestowing a smile on the humble drudge that facilitates their progress."

So wrote Samuel Johnson in the preface to his famous DICTIONARY which first appeared in 1755 in two large folio volumes, each the size of a lecture Bible. This work became the most famous English dictionary before Webster; but relatively unread and unknown because it has been out of print for about 100 years. Now we have a new compilation by two Johnson scholars, E. L. McAdam, Jr. and George Milne, who subtitle their offering: "A modern selection."

The word-buff will be both instructed and fascinated by this acrobatic (pertaining to deep learning) book. Whether you appreciate (bask in the sun) or so's (sit lazily in a chair), you will enjoy Johnson's anfractuosity (winding) and sonorous style, through which the man himself shines at moments.

Words taken haphazard (at random) will illustrate this. For example, his definition of "lexicographer" is: "A writer of dictionaries; a harmless drudge, that juries himself in tracing the original, and detailing the signification of word: It would indeed be a clodpate (dolt) or a jackalant (simple, sheepish fellow) who would fail to see the author's character in his definition of "pension"—"an allowance made to any one without an equivalent. In England it is generally understood to mean pay given to a state hiring for treason to his country."

A librarian is described as "one who transcribes or copies books." (Our Profession seems to have progressed somewhat beyond that!) "Excise" is defined as "a hateful tax levied upon commodities, and adjudged not by the common judges of property, but wretched hire by those to whom exercise is paid." And what is a dedication to Johnson? "A servile address to a patron."

I think, indeed it would be a profuse (advantageous) for all of us who wish to pudder (perplex, confound) our friends to peruse this volume in order to nim (steal) some new and colorful words. Whether you are seeking alliteration (high speech: pompous language), ambages (a circumlocutory form of speech) or adscititious (supplemental) learning, you will find something that will fadge (suit, or fit). The quiddits and quillies (subtleties) of the English language are available for you to fladragon (swallow, or devour), and it would be mawmish (foolish) of you not to suddle (run with haste) to this source of luciferous (gainful) knowledge, even if it requires lucubration (study by candlelight)! (One almost feels he is reading Lewis Carroll's Jabberwocky).

Johnson's Dictionary is also an interesting source of longer definitions which make an effort to educate. One full page is devoted to a discussion of "amber," "ambergris" and "opium." In view of contemporary knowledge, his discussion of "electricity" becomes amusing.

Johnson's Dictionary was essentially a one-man book, in spite of the help of six copyists. He had three sources of items included: those words which he had heard, words used in earlier dictionaries, and words used in other books. His inclusion begins with Sir Philip Sidney (about 1580) and ends just before his contemporaries, with some references to Chaucer thrown in. He records a great deal of slang, often with disapproval. Some of his knowledge is inaccurate; for example, we all know that a tarantula is not "an insect whose bite is only cured by music"! Only a bantling (small child) or a jabberbowl (blockhead) would believe that pygmies, after long wars, were destroyed by cranes!

And so here is a book to leaf through, read at leisure, enjoy and admire. We gauge (exult or rejoice in) the tremendous accomplishment of Dr. Samuel Johnson!

City police received complaints of cars speeding on Washington road early Sunday evening, August 11.

One of the complainants, a Washington road resident, managed to stop one of the cars and turned its driver, a 16-year-old boy, and two teenage passengers over to police authorities.

Two residents signed a reckless driving complaint against the driver, and he and his companions, a 15-year-old girl and a 16-year-old boy, were released to their parents.

WOMEN'S PAGES

From Another Pointe of View

By Patricia Talbot

Pointers, as a whole, are seasoned travelers, ready, willing and able to take off for Calcutta or Katmandu at the drop of an airline ticket, but few can top the Frank R. Kapplers' Alaskan experience early this summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Kappler drove the "muddy, dusty" Alcan Highway to Anchorage, delivering a new car to their nephew, Patrick Bliss, who with his wife, Martha, and their five children, makes his home in the U.S.'s 49th state.

The Bliss family summers at their gold mining camp near Unalakleet, where the Kapplers flew after a few days in Anchorage. There they were met by Patrick in his airplane and then they were off on the 40 minute trip into the interior.

The mining camp, one of Alaska's few remaining operational gold digging camps, is a complete village with about 13 houses, including a cook house and storage house and the huge machinery necessary for a paying mine. Mr. Bliss recruits his workers from an Eskimo village some 40 miles away.

He and his family currently live in the far north only three months of the year, but in their pioneering days they spent three winters at Haycock, where Mrs. Bliss was the postmistress while her husband ran the general store. Now they winter in the "south" at their Anchorage home.

Using the camp as a base of operations Mr. Bliss flew his aunt and uncle all over the north country, to Point Barrow, Kotzebue, up the Yukon river, and over Little Diomed Island in the Bering Straits. (Big Diomed Island, only a few miles away, is in Soviet territory).

Mr. and Mrs. Kappler and Patsy, their spaniel, who made the complete tour with her owners, are back in their Belanger road home after an unforgettable trip.

Also vacationing in Alaska this month, although not so ruggedly, are Dr. and Mrs. Donald Blain, of Balfour road. Just home from an Alaskan tour are Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Ross, of Beaupre road.

From The Congo To The Pointe

At the Park Police department last week Pietro Rinaldi was getting his driver's license. Mr. Rinaldi is the new Italian Consul in Detroit, arriving here August 1, to take occupancy in the consul's home in Grand Marais boulevard.

He succeeds Dr. Giuseppe Della Croce who has now gone to a post in Budapest. Mr. Rinaldi, who will be Detroit's youngest consul, is anticipating his stay in Grosse Pointe. His last post was in turbulent Leopoldville in the Congo. Before that he was stationed in New Delhi where he claims "I left part of my heart."

His wife, Milka, is still in Italy but will join him shortly.

In St. Paul's on the Lakeshore Saturday morning, Sandra Lee McAdam, daughter of Mrs. Francis A. McAdam, of McKinley avenue, and the late Mr. McAdam, was married to Robert Louis Morasky.

She wore a sheath gown of silk chiffon fashioned with a detachable chapel train. A jacket accented with Alencon lace covered the fitted bodice, and a petite pillbox in matching chiffon held a bouffant veil of imported French silk illusion.

She carried a prayer book with cascading stephanotis and ivy, focal-pointed by a single gardenia. H. Ripley Schemm, of Merriweather road, a friend of the family, escorted her down the aisle.

Maid of honor Shirley McAdam, sister of the bride, and bridesmaids Virginia McAdam, another sister, and Roxanne Lackey, of Denver, Col., were dressed alike in pale pink silk chiffon with contrasting cummerbunds in deeper pink.

Their headpieces were open circles of matching fabric, and their flowers were miniature pink carnations arranged in cascades.

Mr. Morasky, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Morasky, of Dearborn, asked James Ryan to serve as his best man. Ushering were James Morasky, brother of the bridegroom, and Peter Schumer, of Traverse City.

For the ceremony and wedding breakfast at Botsford Inn, Mrs. McAdam chose a rose petal pink peau de soie sheath with a bodice of appliqued Alencon lace. She wore a pillbox of matching fabric and lace, and pinned cymbidium orchids to her purse.

Mrs. Morasky wore a chiffon sheath of French blue with a hand-draped bodice and hat fashioned of chiffon petals in various shades of blue. She also pinned cymbidium orchids to her purse.

After a wedding trip to Northern Michigan, the couple will make their home in Ann Arbor.

The taxpayer doesn't have to foot any bills for the Michigan State Fair. In fact, he benefits. Last year, the State Fair made a profit of $119,502. This year's fair runs from Friday, August 23, through Monday, September 2.

beautiful castle so far as at Caernarvon, which is partially restored and magnificently preserved.

Danny reported on a motor trip through England's Lake country in a letter to Pat Finerty, of North Oxford road: "It's the most amazingly calm, quiet country. Never have I seen such countryside—rough, chiseled crags; green rolling hills, scattered with great clumps of trees; tumbling, cascading waterfalls; calm, glass-like brooks."

The sisters will fly home August 20.

Also vacationing in the British Isles, viewing castles and cathedrals, are Miss Winifred Eliason, of North Oxford road, escorting her mother, Mrs. Antonia Eliason.

Vacation Report

Closer to home the vacationers are trekking north. On Tuesday Mr. and Mrs. Robert Koebel, of Hampton road, with their son, Rob, left for Mullet Lake to visit Mrs. Koebel's mother, Mrs. Lawrence Roehm, of Stephens road, at her summer home there.

Vacationing in Longport, N. J., on the Atlantic shore are Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Mecke, of Lincoln road. Forsaking swimming and golf for shopping and the theater are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Marshall and their daughter, Kathleen, of Harbor Hill, who are spending a gay week in New York.

Mrs. Robert A. Anderson (Virginia Anne Homeier), and her children, Kathryn, Christine, Erika and David, of Portland, Ore., are spending the next two weeks with Mrs. Anderson's parents, the Custer Homeiers, of Lakepointe avenue.

British VIPs

From the Imperial Defense College in London next Thursday 18 officers of the Army, Navy, Air Force and Marines will arrive in Detroit for a three day visit.

These top ranking officers from all over the Commonwealth spend a year at the college in London before assuming high posts in the British services. They will be guests of the U.S. Army in Detroit.

Next Thursday Sir James and Lady Easton will entertain at cocktails for the visitors and on Friday Gen. Alden K. Sibley, of Lakeshore road, will have a luncheon for them.

The Eastons have just returned from a week-end at Harbor Point where they were the guests of the William Cudlips. Their daughter, Janet, is vacationing with Ruth Petzold in Rye Beach, N. H., and will visit Boston and Provincetown, Mass., before coming home to Lakeland avenue.

Newlywed MacDonalds Home from New York

Returned from a wedding trip through New York and the Catskills are Mr. and Mrs. Gerald V. MacDonald who were married July 13 in Blessed Sacrament Cathedral.

The bride is the former Carol Ann Summers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester F. Summers, of Highland Park. Her husband's parents are the Ian MacDonalds, of East Detroit.

The newlyweds are at home in Whittier road.

SHARON MAC, daughter of the ARTHUR J. MACS, of Whittier road, received the Orchid Queen trophy from the University of Detroit chapter of Sigma Pi, at a recent dinner dance.

MRS. MARSHALL JAMESON will fly to Paris, France, this week to join DR. JAMESON, principal of Montclair School, who has been touring Europe for the past three weeks. The Jamesons plan to return to their Lancaster road home after a short visit to the British Isles.

MR. and MRS. WILLIAM F. HUETTEMAN, of Linville road, announce the birth of a son, JAMES MICHAEL, August 4. Mrs. Huetteyman is the former LAURA LOU SMITH, daughter of DR. and MRS. STANLEY LAWSON SMITH, of Sunningdale drive. Paternal grandparents are the RAY T.

F. M. Alger, Jr. To Be Married

Frederick M. Alger, Jr., of Lincoln road, and Palm Beach, will marry Mrs. Sutton Topping, of Washington, D.C., and Palm Beach in the near future.

Mr. Alger's wife, the former Suzette de Marigny Dewey, died last winter in Palm Beach. The Alger had three children. Mrs. Reese Evans Howard, of Far Hills, N.J., Frederick M. Alger, III, and David Dewey Alger.

Mrs. Topping, who visited here last week, was entertained by Mr. Alger's sister, Mrs. Harold Raymond Boyer, of East Jefferson avenue. She has three daughters, Mrs. Ralph Watson, of Hawaii, Shelley Weaver and Rhea Topping.

After their wedding the Alger will make their home in Grosse Pointe and Palm Beach.

Couple Married Saturday in St. Paul's On the Lakeshore; will Live in St. Clair Shores Following Honeymoon in East

Mary Catherine Campau, daughter of the Richard B. Campaus, of Ridgemoor road, was married to Richard Carl Paschke, Jr., son of the senior Paschkes, of Statler boulevard, St. Clair Shores, on Saturday in St. Paul's on the Lake Church.

The bride chose a floor-length gown in blossom white embroidered satin organza. Matching flower appliques framed the neck and sleeves and curved on the round sheath skirt front. A narrow sash tied into back streamers. Her illusion veil was held in place by a bow of taffeta and she carried a bouquet of phalaenopsis orchids, stephanotis and ivy on her First Communion prayer-book.

Mary Jo Schlaff was her maid of honor and bridesmaids were Margaret Alfes of Lansing, and Susan Peitz, the bridegroom's cousin. They wore dresses of linen in yellow and buttercup fashioned with a scoop neckline, cap sleeves and fitted bodice with a straight skirt in front and back fullness. Matching headpieces of linen with circular veils were worn and they carried yellow daisies.

Renee Marie Campau, the bride's niece, was in yellow linen and she carried a basket of yellow daisies and wore a circlet of the same flowers in her hair.

Richard Daniel Campau, the flower girl's brother, was ring bearer.

Ervin R. Peitz was his brother's best man and the ushers included Dennis E. McCarron, John I. Llewellyn III, Robert J. Peitz, brother of the bridegroom, and Thomas M. Campau, brother of the bride.

For her daughter's wedding and afternoon reception Mrs. Campau wore a Bahama beige silk sheath with matching accessories. Mrs. Paschke was in green shantung with accessories to match. Both had cymbidium orchid corsages.

Included in out of town guests were the brother of the bride, Daniel A. Campau and his wife who reside in Portofino, Italy. After an eastern honeymoon the couple will reside in St. Clair Shores.

Mrs. Harold R. Smith Honors DAR Chapter

Mrs. Harold R. Smith, of Merriweather road, entertained the finance committee of the Louisa St. Clair Chapter, D.A.R., at a luncheon Wednesday, August 7.

Among those attending were Miss Eloise O. Goddard, Mrs. Willard O. Wilson, Mrs. Roy E. DeHart, Miss Ella Rachel Lyons, Mrs. Clyde E. Kell, Mrs. Neal M. Nyland, Mrs. William E. Osband, Mrs. Hanson Leonard, Mrs. Walter C. Pomeroy and Mrs. George W. Templemayr.

Michigan has the oldest State Fair in the nation. This year's, the 114th, will run from Friday, August 23, through Monday, September 2.

Pointe Scouts Assist at Camp

Eight Senior Girl Scouts from the Grosse Pointe and Harper Woods area are among 22 Senior Girl Scouts from the Greater Detroit area on the East Side who have participated during the last two weeks (July 22-August 2) in a summer service project. They were supervised by five adult Scout Leaders, also from Grosse Pointe.

The girls were assigned to assist in the day camp program for handicapped children, completely paid for by Easter Seals and directed by the Detroit Society for Crippled Children, 17330 Schaefer, in cooperation with the Department of Parks and Recreation.

They are Judy Gajewski, 1320 Grayton; Kathy Jens, 1246 Balfour; Susan McLuckie, 621 Higbie Place; Irene Morath, 1365 Aline Drive; Pamela Rapalee, 1229 Balfour; Janice Smith, 843 Loraine; Nancy Watkins, 473 Bournmouth, and Cheryl Newberry, 19961 Elkhart.

Mrs. Lois Blackburn, 368 Rivard, was in charge of the project. Mrs. Esther Edelen, 1170 Balfour, who was leader of the group in 1962, acted as consultant. Others assisting included Mrs. Dorothy Brogan, Mrs. Jerry Hope and Mrs. Peg McGrath.

Monday through Friday the Senior Scouts rode buses to Ford Park at the foot of Lake-land and for two weeks assisted the regular camp staff. They took over responsibilities of arts and crafts, helped at lunch time and supervised games and sports.

It was all part of an accelerated program, guided by the Girl Scouts of Metropolitan Detroit, to train Scouts for the kinds of services they can perform to meet community needs in cooperation with local agencies and institutions working with handicapped persons.

Mr. Trentacosta Claims Bride

Trudy Diane Bearinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Bearinger, of Saginaw, was married August 3 in the First Congregational Church, Saginaw, to Stephen DeWayne Trentacosta, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Trentacosta, of East Clairview court.

She wore a gown of silk organza and Alencon lace with velvet ribbon detail on the skirt. A shell of Belgian rose-point lace caught her bouffant chapel length veil and she carried her mother's prayer book with gardenias, stephanotis and ivy.

Bonnie Bearinger was her sister's maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Carol Diamond and Barbara Ackerman, of Saginaw; Barbara Trentacosta and Judy Potts, of Kalamazoo.

They wore pink silk organza frocks with matching cabbage rose headresses and carried pink carnations and white roses. George Newport was best man and the ushers were Richard Schwarz, Michigan Farrell, Kenneth Ashley and James Stelma.

After a reception in the church parlors the newlyweds left on a brief wedding trip. They will live in Detroit.

Mrs. Richard Carl Paschke, Jr.

Mary Catherine Campau, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard B. Campau, of Ridgemoor road, was married Saturday to the son of the senior Paschkes, of St. Clair Shores.

Edward H. Cooper Wins Harvard Prize

Edward H. Cooper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Cooper, of 87 Merriweather, was awarded the coveted Sears Prize at the Law School of Harvard University, having stood second in the examinations at the close of his second year there.

He was informed of the prize on July 12 by a letter from Erwin N. Griswold, Dean of the Law School. With the letter came a check for $900.

Edward was graduated from Dartmouth College in 1961, completing his undergraduate work in three years. While at Dartmouth his grade point average was an even 5, which signifies that he never received anything less than an A in his three years there.

Edward will be 22 in October.

Donna Mae Trefry Marries Mr. Lucas

Trip to Northern Michigan and Canada Follows
Ceremony Saturday in St. Jude Church;
Couple to Make Home in Detroit

In St. Jude Church Saturday morning Donna Mae Trefry, daughter of the Donald E. Trefrys, of Cloverly road, was married to Ronald C. Lucas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lucas, of Detroit.

She wore a gown of beau de soie and re-embroidered Alencon lace designed with a scalloped neckline and a chapel train edged in lace. A cap of seed pearls and satin roses caught her illusion veil and she carried white roses and Stephanotis.

Mrs. Ronald Krull, of Rio Hondo, Tex., was matron of honor and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Ralph Briscoe, of Tarrytown, N. Y., sister of the bride; Gladys Stett and Judy Dettloff. They wore long silk organza gowns with lace bodices and pink petal and pearl crowns. Their flowers were rubrum lilies. Thomas Chappelle was best man and the ushers were Robert Lucas, Gerald Kania, of Chicago, and Jack Lampka III.

After a trip to Northern Michigan and Canada the newlyweds will live in Carlisle drive, Detroit.

Institute Ups Guide Service

The Detroit Institute of Arts is extending its guide services to meet the heightened public demand for museum tours.

Last year an ambitious program was launched to train a corps of new guides, selected from the ranks of the membership of the Founder's Society by offering a course in the history of art to acquaint potential guides with the Institute and its outstanding art treasures.

Those who completed the course and final examination qualified for training to conduct groups through the museum galleries.

Among the successful participants were some from the Grosse Pointe area: Mrs. Donald A. Williams, 34 Oldbrook; Mrs. William J. Briggs, 1347 Whittier Road; Mrs. Frank Kruse, 598 Cook road; Mrs. Herbert Lord, 391 Country Club Lane; Mrs. Richard E. Straw, 7702 E. Jefferson; Mrs. Thomas A. Petty, 1204 Yorkshire; Mrs.

Richard H. Childress, 269 Williams; Mrs. Hayes Cottrell, 289 Moran.

The guide or docent committee is headed by a chairman and co-chairman, Mrs. Max Warren and Mrs. Alan Schwartz. The new tour program will begin this fall with a special series entitled "History's Treasure Chest," under the auspices of the Education Department, Mrs. Virginia Brose, Curator in charge and Mrs. Nita Schwartz, Junior Curator of the department. This is for fifth and sixth graders from suburban elementary schools.

Again this year, the Michigan State Fair will be held before school opens, to give the kids a full shot at State Fair fun. Walter A. Goodman, State Fair general manager who advanced the dates last year, said the earlier time was a big success. This year's dates: Friday, August 23, through Monday, September 2.

In Drinking Water— Your Third Factor Is Health Benefit

All drinking water should be safe, and good to taste. Regular use of Mountain Valley Water offers a third factor—the ability to benefit your health simply by drinking this delicious water. Mountain Valley Water, virtually a-free, helps to expel systemic waste rapidly, and aids in neutralizing excess acidity. This is the same health water often advised to aid in treatment of arthritis and kidney symptoms. When so used, your doctor will advise the correct daily intake. Usually, 6 to 8 glasses for 8 weeks or more, will give you a real trial.

Tour Includes Amalfi Drive

Many travelers consider Italy's Amalfi Drive the most beautiful road in the world.

Running along the Mediterranean coast, passing through medieval villages where sun-baked houses cling to sharp, steep cliffs, the Amalfi Drive is a scenic spectacle. Participants in Lufthansa Airlines' Mediterranean Holiday, a three-week tour of Riviera vacation spots departing October 11 with G.P. News staff writer Janet Mueller as tour escort, will travel this route.

Via chartered motorcoach, they will set their own pace, stopping for photographs along the way, and staying overnight in picturesque Positano. There will be time for shopping, sight-seeing and browsing on this leisurely excursion, one of several planned between more lengthy stops on the sun-drenched coast of Southern Europe.

Michigan State Fair's annual Sunrise Service will be held this year at 8 a.m. Sunday, August 25, with Dr. Ralph W. Sockman, minister emeritus of Christ Church Methodist, New York, as speaker. The State Fair runs from Friday, August 23, through Monday, September 2.

Winke-Bachleda Rites Revealed

Pair Exchange Vows August 3 in St. Cecilia Church;
Bride Wears Beau De Soie and Crystal Crown;
Will Live in Detroit

In St. Cecilia Church August 3, Paulette Ann Bachleda, daughter of the George Bachledas, of Hampton road, was married to Raymond G. Winke, son of Mrs. Gladys Winke, of Oakman boulevard, and Burton Winke, of McKinney avenue.

She wore a gown of white beau de soie designed with a rounded neckline and a train which fell from the shoulders. A tiered crystal crown caught her illusion veil and she carried white orchids and roses.

Carol Kawolczyk was maid of honor in a pink silk organza gown. Her flowers were rubrum lilies. Dressed like the honor maid were the attendants Fran Verdict and Barbara Dillon.

George Bachleda, the bride's brother, was best man and the ushers were Edward Barnichi and Bill Cox.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Bachleda chose a turquoise silk organza gown with matching accessories. Mrs. Winke was in pink beaded crepe with matching accessories.

When the newlyweds return from their wedding trip they will live in Detroit.

Choir Members Go to Lansing

On Sunday, July 28, several cars left Grosse Pointe taking young church musicians to the Youth Summer Music Workshop at Michigan State University in East Lansing.

This will be the fifth year that the Grosse Pointe Memorial Presbyterian Church has awarded scholarships to members of its Youth Choirs to attend this three-week session.

The scholarship program was innovated to interest young musicians in the field of church music both professionally and as an avocation.

After auditioning for the scholarships seven recipients were selected: Barbara Surbrook, Warren Finke, Craig Dykstra, Lois Raphael, Sally LePla and Naomi Finke for organ study and Lee Nyboer for carillon.

Also attending the workshop from the Youth Choirs are Barbara Litter, Barbara Beyster and Greg Hynes. Greg received

McDonalds Travel Abroad after Rites

Will Live in Etain, France after Trip Through Bavarian Alps; Margaret Helen Mercier Wed Saturday in St. Clare of Montefalco Church

A home near Etain Air Force Base in France awaits Lt. and Mrs. Patrick Allen McDonald after a trip through the Bavarian Alps. They were married Saturday in St. Clare of Montefalco Church.

The bride is the former Margaret Helen Mercier, daughter of the C. Edwin Merciers, of Buckingham road. Her husband is the son of the Lawrence J. McDonalds, of Detroit.

She wore a silk organza gown designed with a rounded neckline, long sleeves and banded at waist and hemline with white satin. Her veil was of rose point lace and she carried a prayer book with stephanotis and Eucharist lilies.

Margaret Meilink was maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Mrs. George Falms, Mrs. Matthew Drennan, of New York, and Barbara Cook.

They wore frocks fashioned with pale yellow linen bodices and skirts of deeper yellow. Their bouquets were of yellow carnations and statice.

Thomas McDonald was his brother's best man and the ushers were John Conolly, Dr. Alan Jones, Frank Sassalos and Peter Mercier.

For her daughter's wedding and reception at the Boat Club Mrs. Mercier chose a green and white silk surah dress and green cymbidium orchids. Mrs. McDonald wore a beige silk dress trimmed with lace and pink cymbidium orchids.

Mrs. Patrick A. McDonald

MARGARET HELEN MERCIER, daughter of the C. Edwin Merciers, of Buckingham road, spoke her marriage vows to Lt. McDonald Saturday in St. Clare of Montefalco Church. He is the son of the Lawrence J. McDonalds, of Detroit.

Allan Zauns Welcome Daughter from Buffalo

David R. Wallace joined his wife (the former Patricia Zaun) and son Christopher Andrew for the weekend. Mrs. Wallace and Christopher have been vacationing with Christopher's maternal grandparents, Dr. and Mrs. Allan Zaun, of Westchester road.

Christopher, who celebrates his first birthday this month, spent most of his time playing in the children's pool at the Detroit Boat Club. His parents have recently moved to Williamsville (Buffalo), N. Y.

While here, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace attended the wedding of one of Pat's bridesmaids, Mary Etta Pilbeam.

People find it easier to solve other's problems than their own.

Good Literature Group Active

The last meeting of the Grosse Pointe Council of Better Literature of Youth was held on July 26, on the patio at Mrs. Riford Johnston's home in Beaupre road.

The board of directors heard a report by Mrs. Achiel Ames on the work of the Council's field representatives, who work directly with the merchants in the Grosse Pointe area.

Praise was given the many store owners and managers who cooperate fully with the Council's aim to keep obscene and pornographic magazines out of the reach of local youth. Grosse Pointe parents who wish to do something positive in the struggle to keep magazine racks free of obscene literature are urged to scan the rack in the stores they frequent, and express their appreciation to the merchants for their cooperation in not displaying objectional magazines.

A luncheon for the Council's field representatives was planned for August 14, at 12:30 in the home of Mrs. Jacob Wenzel, 295 Cloverly road. This was in place of the regular August board of directors' meeting.

The Fashion-Flair Luncheon is scheduled for Monday, September 23, in Jacobson's Tea Room. Miss Marge Hudson is the fashion coordinator, and hers is the choice of lovely fall and winter clothes to be shown. Tickets are still available through Mrs. Rolf Donath, TU. 6-1579, and Mrs. Richard Jones, TU. 6-0863.

New freshmen at Western Michigan University are getting a pre-taste of campus life in a two-day exposure as the special orientation program is in full swing.

Some 2,500 students take part in the program of counseling, testing and advance registration. University residence halls are opened for them, with new groups registering on four days of each week. A social program is also planned.

With this part of beginning college out of the way, students pay their fees by mail, and report for the beginning of classes on Tuesday, September 17.

Among those participating in the orientation program this week are WILLIAM SIMSON, RUSSELL DAVIS, DALE MOTT, RICHARD OLIVER and DALE NACLER.

Mr. Mitchelson To Claim Bride

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Barnett, of London, Ont., announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Louise, to Peter Lewis Mitchelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. David E. Mitchelson, of Whittier road.

Peter is a graduate of Grosse Pointe High School and attended Neuchatel College in Switzerland for a year before enrolling at the University of Toronto.

Mary Louise also attended Neuchatel and is a student at the University of Toronto.

A September wedding is planned, after which the couple will return to U.T. for their senior year.

League Sets Show Dates

The 11th annual Junior League Fashion Show is set for Tuesday and Wednesday, September 10 and 11 at J. L. Hudson Co.'s downtown auditorium.

Mrs. Paul Keller, Jr., show chairman, announces that the benefit will raise funds for the League's new project, a school enrichment program.

Assisting Mrs. Keller are Mrs. Willard Kerr, Mrs. E. Irving Book, Mrs. John Danaher, Mrs. Robert Kanzler and Mrs. Ted Ewald.

Mrs. Keller and Mrs. Danaher have tickets for the show and they may also be obtained in the League office in the War Memorial. Mrs. E. Irving Book is in charge of patroness tickets which must be sold by August 20 for the list of names to appear in the program.

Wednesday has been designated as "Men's Day" for the show with the hope that the men will get together in groups with their wives to lunch before the fashion presentation.

Among the League models will be Mrs. Walter B. Robinson, Mrs. Arthur Buhl Hudson, Mrs. Peter Fink, Mrs. William C. Beardslee, Mrs. Kanzler, Mrs. Gordon F. Knight, Mrs. Leo J. Fitzpatrick, Jr., Mrs. Clune Walsh, Jr., and Mrs. John V. Renchard.

DIVER INJURED

Gary Chaney, 13, of 1513 Brys drive, was injured while attempting a trick dive at the Woods Municipal Lakefront Park July 27. Woods police took him to Dr. Clarence L. Candler for treatment for a laceration to his nose.

Diane Nevergold Says Nuptial Vows

Weds Robert Craig Knapp Saturday in Christ Church with Reception Following at Boat Club; Couple Travel to Harbor Springs

At a candlelight service in Christ Church Saturday Diane Nevergold, daughter of the Edward C. Nevergolds, of Audubon road, became the bride of Robert Craig Knapp, son of the Harry M. Knapps, of Cloverly road.

Her gown of ivory peau de soie was designed with a square neckline and appliques of Alencon lace defining the bodice, sleeves and skirt. A tiara of heirloom rosepoint lace and seed pearls caught her elbow length illusion veil and she carried Amazon lilies and ivy.

Nancy Nevergold was her sister's maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Marilyn Davis, Mrs. Ronald K. Huyck, Mary Elizabeth Peckham and Mrs. Michael W. Burns.

They wore ballet sheaths of blue silk linen topped with brief jackets and matching pill-boxes. Their bouquets were of rubrum lilies and ivy.

Richard Knapp was his brother's best man and seating the guests were Wayne Appleton, William Knapp, James Nevergold and Thomas Smith. Mrs. Nevergold received guests at the reception at the Detroit Boat Club in a deep pink organza and linen dress with a matching hat. Her flowers were gladiolus.

Mrs. Knapp was in a champagne organza sheath with matching accessories. Her flowers were cymbidium orchids.

After a wedding trip to Harbor Springs the newlyweds will live in St. Clair Shores.

Engaged

Announcement is made of the engagement of SANDRA ANITA PRINCE, daughter of Mrs. Paul Prince, of Brys drive, and the late Mr. Prince, to James Leon Lekin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Lekin, of Des Moines, Iowa.

Miss Prince was graduated from Grosse Pointe High School and Michigan State University, where she served as vice president of her sorority, Gamma Phi Beta. Mr. Lekin, who received his undergraduate degree from the University of Notre Dame, was graduated from Notre Dame Law School last June. He served as president of the Student Law Association, was a member of Blue Circle Honorary and winner of the Moot Court Award, and was appointed to a federal clerkship by Judge Grant in the Northern District of Indiana.

A spring wedding is planned.

Mrs. Robert Craig Knapp

In Christ Church Saturday, DIANE NEVERGOLD, daughter of the Edward C. Nevergolds, of Audubon road, was married to Mr. Knapp, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Knapp, of Cloverly road.

Bride-Elect

Announcement is made of the engagement of MOLLY MCCLURE, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Benson McClure, of Lincoln road, to William L. Riehl, son of Mrs. John W. Riehl, of Country Club drive, and the late Mr. Riehl.

The bride-elect attended the University of Michigan where she was affiliated with Chi Omega and the Merrill Palmer Institute. She was graduated from Michigan State University. Mr. Riehl attends Michigan State University where he is a member of Sigma Chi. A September 21 wedding is planned.

Parcells Teacher Weds Mr. Fildew

Pair Speak Vows Saturday in St. Clare of Montefalco Church With Reception Following at DAC; After Trip to Canada Will Live Here

Helen Angela Lloyd, daughter of the Harold Swain Lloyds, of Cleveland, O., a teacher at Parcells Junior High School, was married Saturday in St. Clare of Montefalco Church to John Hoxley Fildew.

The bride wore a gown of silk organza over taffeta accented with re-embroidered Alencon lace. A bow of peau de soie caught her illusion veil and she carried a prayer book.

Marjorie Ann Lloyd was her sister's maid of honor and the attendants were Mary Agnes Lentz, the bride's cousin; Patricia Ann Mulhern and Charlotte Beck.

They wore street length frocks of pink taffeta with matching headresses.

William S. Fildew was his brother's best man. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Lyon Fildew, of Harvard road.

Ushering were Paul W. Thomas, John A. Ziegler, Jr., Robert B. Webster, Harry N. Blum, Gordon Maitland, Jr., and Robert C. Buhl.

After a reception at the Detroit Athletic Club the newlyweds left for St. Pierre and Miquelon. They will live in St. Clair Avenue.

Singers to Be Guests At DBC Buffet-Dance

The Detroit Boat Club's next WAN night, scheduled this Saturday, August 17, will be highlighted by the presence of two popular singing stars, Gretchen Wyler and James Hurst.

Outdoor buffet is to be followed by entertainment, with dancing later in the evening to music furnished by the Jerry Fenby Five. Co-chairmen of the party are the Philip C. Dickinsons, Floyd Wescotts, Dr. and Mrs. Gordon Simpson and the Thomas Roaches.

TEMPORARY SOLUTION

The theory that might make right has never settled one single problem permanently.

PARKED CAR STRIPPED

A car was stripped of two hub caps, one white wall tire, and its battery as it was parked in the lot of the Country Club of Detroit August 3. The car belonged to William Podlesak, 1433 Lockridge, Bloomfield Hills, who was in the club at the time.

One angle that builds up self-respect is acting on the square.

Parties Honor Miss Touchton

Merrie Gay Touchton, daughter of the George E. Touchtons, of Hidden lane, has been entertained at several luncheons, parties, dinners and showers prior to her marriage to David Ayrault, son of the Robert Ayraults, of Kerby road.

Among those who honored her were Paula Dwalhy and Frank Murphy who entertained at a cocktail dinner and theater party.

Mrs. Hugh Sheehan, Jr., and Mrs. Theodore Zemper held a miscellaneous shower and luncheon at their Hawthorne home Sunday, July 28. Mrs. Paul Dwalhy and daughter Paula hosted a Sunday buffet and shower at their Provençal road home.

Another shower is planned for the bride by Mrs. Alfred Bonohoom, of Lochmoor boulevard and the parents of the bridegroom are giving the rehearsal dinner at Lochmoor Country Club.

The marriage will take place at Our Lady Star of the Sea Church on August 24, at 11 o'clock.

Following the ceremony, the newlyweds will make their home in St. Clair Shores after a Vermont honeymoon.

Miss Touchton, a June graduate of Mercy College in Detroit, is a member of the National Honor Society, Lambda Iota Tau. She will teach at Regina High School in the fall. Mr. Ayrault is a recent graduate of the University of Detroit.

Woods Nursery Has Openings

The Grosse Pointe Woods Co-operative Nursery Play Group will resume classes the first week in October in the Grosse Pointe Woods Recreation Building.

Under the direction of Mrs. Dwight Hendricks and Mrs. Francis Wahlig, who has been with the school since its beginning, this nursery offers the pre-school child an opportunity to play with children his own age, to form relationships with adults outside his own family, and hopefully, an opportunity to learn more about his world as he plays.

At holiday time last year, the children bought pumpkins and made pies, made valentines and Valentine cookies, egg trees, Easter hats.

They read "Little Black Sambo" and made pancakes, read "Jack in the Beanstalk" and planted beans. They learned a little about weights by weighing their pumpkin and by weighing and measuring themselves.

Windy spring days excited interest in the story, "Air Is All Around You," and led to an experiment with air—putting a paper towel in a pan of water without getting the towel wet!

Later in the spring the four-year-olds worked from time to time on a zoo. They molded animals from salt dough, painted and caged them.

A limited number of openings for three and four-year-old children remain. Interested parents are asked to call Mrs. Melvin Brubaker, TU 1-8567.

Letscher-Teagan Rites Set for October 26

Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Teagan, of Mark Twain avenue, announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Margaret, to Richard Edward Letscher, son of the Edward P. Letschers, of University place.

The bride-elect attended Western Michigan University and her fiancé studied at Notre Dame University and was graduated from the University of Detroit. They will be married October 26.

Horses—more than 1,400 of them—will take part in the horse shows in the Coliseum during the Michigan State Fair, August 23 through September 2. They'll include quarter horses, Palominos, Arabians, Apaloosa, Tennessee Walkers, Percherons, Clydesdales, and ponies.

Don't be counted out when the time comes for an accounting.

Daniel Pasques Mark Golden Wedding Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Pasque, of Anita avenue, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Sunday at a dinner and reception given by their four children in Fraser.

The Pasques, who spend much of their time in Ft. Lauderdale, have 18 grandchildren and 12 great grandchildren. Of their four children, George Pasque, lives in Grosse Pointe.

Miss Estella Wingard's Detroit heritage goes back 200 years and she is proud of her ancestors, among the Pointe's "first" families. In her Cadieux road home today, near land once owned by her ancestors, the Gouins, she is compiling an account of early French pioneers.

Twelve years ago this paper interviewed her mother, Mrs. Lucy Ane Wingard, youngest and only surviving child of 13 of Augustus A. Delmas and Felicitia Gouin. Mrs. Wingard was celebrating her ninetyeth birthday by recalling pioneer days.

Mrs. Wingard's great grandmother, grandmother and mother lived in the Pointe on a huge land grant, ribbon farm, which ran between St. Clair and Cadieux from the lake to Gratiot. On this farm they took wool from 200 sheep and wove it into material.

Father Gabriel Richard was supplied with cassocks and suits from the Gouin sheep. It was a Gouin who supplied the logs from which Father Richard's church, St. Anne's, was built. The family owned the land on which the old County Building in Detroit stood.

The Gouins migrated to Indiana in the mid-nineteenth century where the government was offering land to settlers. It was there that Felicitia Gouin, Mrs. Wingard's mother, met Augustus A. Delmas, whose ancestors had built shoes and chateaux in France. Mr. Delmas was clerk to a match-making store keeper in Indiana when the young couple met. They spent their wedding trip on horseback. Felicitia had sewn two silk gowns for her trousseau, one purple and one black.

As a married couple they eventually settled in a farm in Wayne, Mich., where Mrs. Wingard met and married her husband in 1875. She in turn wanted to take her honeymoon in Grosse Pointe, the home of her ancestors, but the distance was too far in those days of poor roads.

The Delmases did finally return here to a farm and Mrs. Wingard remembered driving into market in Detroit with produce. Her father mysteriously disappeared one day on one of these trips. Sixteen years later his skull was found in a sewer vault but the mystery surrounding this tragedy was never solved.

Miss Wingard has invaluable letters and dairies concerning the Gouins, who with the Trombleys and Rivards, were among the Pointe's first settlers. Her story of this pioneer family will someday be shared with today's residents.

who, where and whatnot

by whoozit

Sophisticated and constant travelers are many Pointers and none more than Henry deSegur Lauve. A few weeks ago Mr. Lauve, who commutes frequently between the Pointe and Paris, was in the French capital. He had promised to return for a Sunday night dinner given by the Charles LeB. Homers but by late Saturday night there was no sign of the traveler. Mrs. Lauve called him (at dawn in Paris) and wondered if he would be home to escort her to the party. He obediently rushed to Orly, waited for a plane and was home in Detroit to dine at the Homers. The Lauves will both be returning to Paris in late September.

A tasty dish of chicken wings was on the menu for Twinky, the cat belonging to Mrs. Donald J. Dean, of Wayburn avenue. The Deans' daughter, Linda, brought home a stray gray and white kitten last week and begged to keep it. Since Twinky was already in possession and had been a favorite pet for some years Mrs. Dean said no. But the family kept the kitten for a week before finding a home in the neighborhood for the stray. A few mornings after the kitten had been sent to his new home the Deans heard a meowing outside their window. There in a tall tree was the frightened kitten, who had crawled up on a tall branch and could not get down. And there too was Twinky, calling to the kitten. Mrs. Dean swears Twinky "talked down" the runaway and then when it reached a low branch gave it a warning cuff. Now Twinky has been rewarded with the chicken wings and the kitten is safe in its new home.

Intelligent animals are in the news this week. The John O'Gormans, former Meadow lane residents who now live in Cleveland but will be moving here shortly again, have a curbstome setter with a high I. Q. Occasionally the O'Gormans will lock themselves out at night and by calling through the door can attract their dog's attention and he will rush upstairs and awaken one of their six children. Most intriguing of all, this paragon of dogs has a very distinguished name, Cyrano de Bergerac.

Still with the animals... Dr. E. Rae Hudspeth and Mrs. Doris L. Appel, are bird fanciers. To learn more about birds they are spending two weeks at the Audubon Camp in Wisconsin where they are enjoying a birds' eye view of some rare species.

Just in time for a few weeks of sailing is the new 22 foot sail boat built by Jim Parsons. All summer long he has been constructing the boat in a warehouse on Gratiot and last week the Meri-Maid was launched. The Parsons, who live in University place, will dock their home made sailboat at the City pier.

PILFERINGS

During the Civil War a gentleman asked Abraham Lincoln for a pass through the Federal lines to Richmond. "I should be happy to oblige you," said Lincoln, "if my passes were respected. But the fact is, within the last two years I have given passes to Richmond to a quarter of a million men, and not one has got there yet."

"Thomas, what is the matter with your brother, Johnnie?" asked the mother of the boys. "He's crying," replied Thomas, "because I'm eating my cake and won't give him any." "Is his own cake finished?" "Yes; and he cried while I was eating that, too."

All of his working life Ernest Lang built products: houses, churches, corrugated boxes. When he retired he disappeared into the complete woodworking shop in his Lothrop road home and went on building.

Mr. Lang designs and produces bowls and platters of myrtle wood. This rare wood grows only two places in the world, the Holy Land and southwest Oregon.

Several years ago when the Langs were vacationing with friends in Oregon they noticed their host carving a piece of interesting wood. He gave them half of the plank to take home and soon Mr. Lang was experimenting on his workshop lathe with a decorative bowl.

Now he has a whole table full of inlaid myrtlewood objects d'art. His was among the most fascinating exhibits at a recent Grosse Pointe Senior Men's Club show at the War Memorial.

Built Home in 1918

Mr. Lang is a native Detroit, educated at the University of Michigan, and the first to be awarded an architectural degree at that university. Among the first homes he built was one for Henry Stephens on the corner of Ridge road and Stephens in 1918. The home is still standing today. He also built the Jefferson Avenue Baptist Church and the Baptist Church on the corner of Iroquois and Mack.

The Langs lived for many years in Burns avenue but moved to Lothrop in 1950. They have four children, all of whom live in the area, and ten grandchildren. The lot next to their home, which was formerly in the heart of Pine Woods, was made into a playground for their grandchildren with shuffleboard courts and swings. Even in his woodworking shop attached to the garage Mr. Lang doesn't forget his grandchildren. This devoted grandfather makes sturdy oak stools for his grandchildren.

Senior Men's Club

When the Langs are not enjoying their garden and grandchildren they are traveling. Every October they drive west (Mrs. Lang came from Idaho) and every February they spend in Lauderdale-by-the-sea. Mr.

Teaching Young Is Her Hobby

Children must be made to learn to read in first and second grades, a former Grosse Pointe librarian stresses.

In an article which appeared in Tucson in the Arizona Daily Star, Evaline Schunk, former head of the Young Adult Department of the Pointe Public Library, had this advice.

If a first or second grade child gets behind in his reading ability, "it's very difficult to go back and pick up the little things," she wrote.

Reading education at this critical age is one of the chief concerns of Mrs. Schunk at her new job at the Tucson Public Library.

She conducts a twice-a-week story hour at her library, and gears the library's whole children's program around the importance of starting reading at an early age.

Some of the children who check out books at her library can hardly write their names, she said, but they are always welcome and encouraged to read books at their level.

Many interesting books with limited vocabularies have appeared in recent years, making it easier to place readable material in the hands of the very young.

Librarians at the Grosse Pointe Central branch who knew her commended her for her fine work, which they said echoed their views on teaching the young.

Lang has been retired from his corrugated box business about six years. The greatest boon to his retirement years has been the Grosse Pointe Senior Men's Club. He never misses a meeting. He is one of the most talented members of the Senior Men's woodworking group which meets alternate Tuesdays in the members' homes.

When he first discovered the beauty of myrtle wood he also discovered its rarity. He finally found a manufacturer in Oregon who would deliver a ton and a half of the wood to his Lothrop home. The shipping charges were greater than the cost of the wood. He still has some of the ton and a half left in his basement. The bowls, epergnes and platters he designs with intricate inlays he finishes with a special combination of shellack and oil. The lovely patina is accomplished by patient rubbing. There is no substitute for patience in his art work. "It's most surprising," says his wife, "because he's not a patient man."

Every Piece Unique

"My myrtle wood objects are decorative rather than useful," claims Mr. Lang. But he is very generous with his work and delights in giving his rare

James G. Ropes On Oceanographic Ship

James G. Ropes, seaman apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert E. Ropes of 213 McKinley, Grosse Pointe, Mich., is serving aboard the oceanographic survey ship USS San Pablo which recently completed a five-week research cruise in the North Atlantic.

The San Pablo is the Navy's only ship of her type on the Atlantic Coast.

Her recent assignment was highlighted by a four-day recreation stop at Bermuda.

The San Pablo operates out of Philadelphia, Pa.

Richard Heim Back From Carrier Cruise

LONG BEACH, Cal. (FHTNC) — Richard A. Heim, musician seaman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Heim of 16900 Cranford lane, Grosse Pointe, Mich., a member of the Staff, Commander Carrier Division 19, recently returned to Long Beach, Calif., aboard the flag-ship USS Yorktown, an anti-submarine warfare support aircraft carrier which had been on an eight-month cruise with the Seventh Fleet.

During the cruise he participated in anti-submarine warfare operations in the Hawaiian Islands area and with the Seventh Fleet in the Western Pacific.

The operating schedule included several major fleet exercises, among them the South Eastern Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO) exercise dubbed "Sea Serpent." This involved naval forces from eight member nations.

Ports of call during the deployment included various coastal cities in Japan and the Philippines as well as the British Crown Colony of Hong Kong.

art away. Every piece is unique. One of his friends in the Senior Men's Club, Leo Marcoux, who was an engraver, has designed a special engraving for Mr. Lang's plates which produces an exquisite lace effect. The club members are all quite proud of Mr. Lang's artistic work.

"You must plan for retirement," says Mr. Lang. And he has done just that, finding several hours a day in his workshop invigorating and inspiring. His myrtle wood bowls and platters will keep his memory fresh in many Pointe homes.

Fire Interrupts Safety Meeting

The Grosse Pointe Safety and Traffic Committee held a brief meeting July 31; most of its members were at a fire.

Committee chairman Allen M. Miglio called the meeting to order at 1 p.m. and found himself without a quorum.

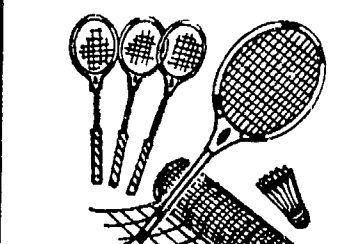

The resourceful chairman canvassed the neighborhood and found out that a $100,000 conflagration was occurring at the Jefferson avenue home of A. Richard Stanny.

Because of the local mutual aid pact between the Pointes, his associate chiefs were on the job endeavoring to save the property and protect of the lives of the citizens in one of their communities.

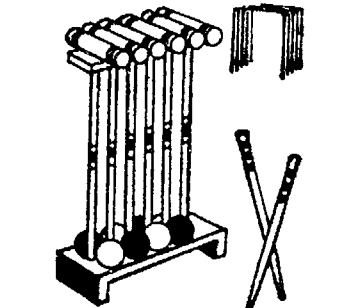

Having found this out, Chairman Miglio adjourned the meeting until the following month, and with his Committee members left for the scene of the fire to add their aid and comfort to the situation.

The next meeting will be held Wednesday, August 28.

PLANTATION SURPRISE

Contributed by Mrs. Don W. Miller

2 1/4 cups sifted flour
3/4 cup sugar
1 1/2 tsp. cinnamon
1/4 tsp. salt
3/4 tsp. nutmeg
1/2 cup butter or margarine
3/4 cup molasses
1 lb. instant coffee
1 1/2 cups water
1 tsp. soda

Sift dry ingredients into bowl and cut in butter with blender or knives. Press 1 cup of this mixture into bottom of buttered 8 inch square pan. Combine molasses, coffee, water and soda and spoon half of it over the firm, even layer just formed. Sprinkle on half the remaining flour mixture, spoon on balance of liquid and top with last of flour mixture. Run a fork gently through the batter being careful not to disturb the bottom layer. Bake at 350 degrees until top is set, about one hour. Cut into squares and serve with cream cheese fluff and warm lemon sauce. Packaged lemon pudding with a touch of fresh lemon juice and a pinch of salt makes an excellent sauce.

Cream Cheese Fluff

6 oz. cream cheese
2 Tb. milk or cream
Beat until soft and fluffy.

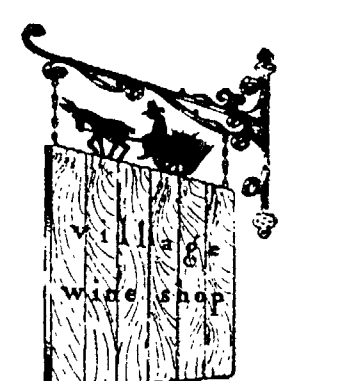

Dessert serves from 9 to 12.

Gets Jail Term On B-E Charges

Park police arrested Erich Schmidt, 30, of 1342 Devonshire, after receiving word August 1 that he was wanted by Detroit police for investigation of breaking and entering.

Schmidt was arrested August 8 in front of 794 Pemberton, when he was observed by officers in a passing patrol car who had been alerted of his description.

Schmidt appeared before Judge Ricca in Detroit Recorder's Court Friday, August 9, and was ordered to serve one to five years in prison for violation of probation.

Monogrammed Robes... are delightful to have and to give. It's a perfect time to order for Christmas, as The Clothes Line must allow approximately seven weeks for delivery. Come see the color combinations at 397 Fisher Road.

The Next Best Thing... is a vacation is the relaxation derived from the Sauna. Seems to do wonders for the complexion and steps up circulation. So many Pointers are trying and liking the Sauna... conveniently located at 17888 Mack Avenue.

"Once Upon A Time... there was a small stuffed animal named Mostly Frederick Sometimes Sam"... this is the amusing, imaginative opening to a new children's book, "The Lost Playground"... a story from the delightful collection of books for tiny tots to a "Book of Etiquette for Teens"... all are at The Top Drawer, 17007 Kercheval in the Village... one flight up.

"Individually Yours... as a custom designed dress, is the way Mutschler plans your kitchen. Unlike package kitchens, you can have the appliances you want and you can choose any decorative theme from Williamsburg to Far Eastern. See the nine vignettes at 20489 Mack Avenue.

Gentlemen... like to have a few Tucker Ties in their wardrobe. You'll find a wide selection at The Village Wine Shop, 15228 East Jefferson. They run two-fifty and come in Italian cotton, Oriental raw silk, wool and silk combinations and the very new horse blanket adaptations for the sportsman.

Gallery Gazing... if you admire sculpture, you'll enjoy seeing the work of Josephine Morley at Les Galleries de Renee, 14944 East Jefferson. "Native with Turtle" is her latest work. The subject matter, done in a terra cotta finish is most unusual and attractive.

Easy As ABC... to find a good one-a-day vitamin at The Notre Dame Pharmacy. They recommend Notre-Vite, a balanced formula with a complete range of vitamins and minerals that is specially compounded for them.

Mid-Summer Magic... a NEW and naturally lovely hair style created for you at D-J Beauty Salon, 404 Fisher Road. Tuxedo 2-6300 is the number to call and appointments are booked as early as seven thirty... in the morning!

A Penny Saved... if it's the right penny can mean a sound investment to the coin collector. At Hunter's Pharmacy and Coins, 15603 Mack Avenue, Mr. Lloyd Hunter, well known in the pharmacy business and as a coin collector will explain the finer points as you view a handsome, permanent display. You will as we did realize that enjoyment and capital growth... go hand in hand with this particular hobby.

Guess Who... just arrived by taxi looking so well groomed? It's Fido, sent back from his trip to the barber shop at This 'N' That for Pets, 19443 Mack Avenue. All part of the service that keeps a pup handsome and happy!

Youngsters Seen Stealing Purse

Three Farms boys, aged eight, nine and 16 admitted August 7 to stealing a purse from the Farms Municipal Pier. They took the purse, owned by Sue Herley, of 32455 Susanne, Franklin Hills, but were seen doing so. The witness against them was Mrs. Ruth Van Tiem, 24706 Tappert, East Detroit.

On questioning the three admitted they had been involved in two previous larcenies of purses from the park. A nine and an eight-year-old boy were also found to be involved in the thefts.

The other theft cleared up took place on July 31. The purse belonged to Judy Rasmussen.
