THE MOST DAMAGING TESTIMONY against James Hoffa and the five aides who are to stand trial for jury-tampering in Chattanooga, Tenn., came Wednesday when Edward Grady Partin turned on his boss. Partin said Hoffa told him of plans to "try to get to a few scattered jurors" during his trial in Nashville. He said further that he was prepared to spend $15,000 or $20,000 to fix the jury. Partin is secretary-treasurer of Teamster Local No. 5 in Baton Rouge, La.

YOUTH BUREAU figures for Detroit show that repeat arrests of juvenile lawbreakers have risen to a new high. 2,477 repeat offenders were involved in 6,434 arrests during 1963. This data represents 69.4 percent of the total arrests. The problem of juvenile crime has been under serious consideration lately, and is a subject of grave concern among Detroit and Wayne County officials.

FIDEL CASTRO'S government cut off the water supply to the large U. S. naval base at Guantanamo in an attempt to force the release of 36 Cuban fishermen held by Florida authorities. The base is a keystone in the defense of the Caribbean. In New York, President Johnson declared that the troops and their families will have the water they need. Steps have been taken to assure the U. S. naval personnel of at least 12 days of sufficient water. Further, he said that water could be taken to Guantanamo from Port Everglades, Fla., by ship, and equipment is on hand to convert sea water to fresh water.

A TAX CUT BILL amounting to $11.6 billion for nearly all U. S. taxpayers was passed by the Senate Friday. About $9.2 billion will go to individuals and $2.4 billion to corporations. The vote was 77 to 21, and President Johnson hailed the move as "good news for the country". He anticipates increased consumer spending, new investments, and more jobs. Michigan's two senators, Philip Hart and Patrick McNamara, both voted for the tax cut.

THE UNITED STATES plans to intensify pressure on its NATO allies to stop selling industrial and transportation equipment to Communist-dominated Cuba, it was announced Saturday by high U. S. officials. They plan to remind western European nations that the American market is considerably greater than Cuba's and that if they continue to sell to Cuba, Americans might rebel at buying products of their countries. The move came after Castro shut off water supplies to a U. S. naval base at Guantanamo.

Monday, Feb. 10

TWO AMERICANS were killed and 18 injured when two bombs exploded under a bleachers' stand in Saigon, during a softball game. It was believed that Communist terrorists were responsible for the act. The United States denounced the act as the most serious incident since the Viet Nam war began in 1957. Three Vietnamese were arrested and suspected of planting the bombs. The incident represents the third anti-American bombing this month. The two Americans killed were servicemen.

Tuesday, February 11

GOVERNOR SCRANTON of Pennsylvania appeared before the Economic Club meeting and stated that a lack of money is the No. 1 weakness of state and local governments. He spent most of the day with Governor Romney, both of whom felt the other would make a good presidential candidate. Both declared that if they were drafted for the high office, they would run, but would not seek the nomination.

State Agency Approves HW Police Radio

Sanction Merely Advisory and Must Be Obtained Before FCC Will Act

The Michigan Public Safety Frequency Allocation Committee at a meeting held in Lansing on Thursday, February 6, approved Harper Woods' request for an independent police radio transmitter.

The approval is merely advisory and must be obtained before a letter and application is sent to the Federal Communication Commission in Washington, which can grant or deny a license to operate radio systems.

The Farms, as managing municipality of the Grosse Pointe Inter-City Municipal Radio System, was represented by the system's radio technician, Warren Carson, and his assistant, Bruce Butler. Harper Woods was represented by George Scopas, councilman and chairman of his city's radio committee.

Scopas Led Fight

Scopas has been leading the fight on what he claims are excessive operational costs of the inter-city police-fire radio system, in which Harper Woods and the Pointes are partners.

Harper Woods has threatened to bolt the partnership if the costs are not brought down. It has been seeking a license for a separate transmitter base station for its police-fire emergency radio, "just in case".

At the meeting in Lansing, Scopas stated that he, as a councilman for Harper Woods, will not vote for any funds to pay a share of the cost of the (Continued on Page 2)

Human Relations Council Formally Organized after Three Years of Meetings

Dr. Charles Brake Elected President; Charles Marston, Paul Bagwell, John Feikens and Judge Gilmore Are Named Vice-Presidents

A group of local citizens formally organized the Grosse Pointe Human Relations Council Tuesday night, February 4. A constitution and by-laws were adopted and a slate of officers elected.

President is Dr. Charles Brake; vice-presidents are Charles Marston, Paul Bagwell, John Feikens, and Judge Horace Gilmore.

Treasurer is Dr. Douglas Sargent; recording secretary, Mrs. Thomas Little, III; corresponding secretary, Mrs. B. Courtney Rankin; assistant secretary, Mrs. George C. Crane, Jr., and board members are Lem Bowen, Mrs. Foster J. Braun, Andrew Brown, William Butler, Mrs. Carl Grawn, Ronald Haughton, Thomas Munson, the Rev. James D. Nixon, Miss Hilary Whittaker, and Charles Wright III.

The primary purpose of the group is to promote goodwill, understanding and respect for human dignity as well as respect for the law among present and future members of this community, regardless of race, color, religion, or national origin.

Further, the group expects to create discussion, disseminate information, and offer opportunity for people to become more knowledgeable and effective in intergroup relations.

The group has met informally for some three years during which time they studied the problems of human relations in society locally and on the metropolitan level.

The Council is seeking memberships among individuals and organizations of the Grosse Pointes.

Complete Project At Woods Park

The steel breakwall at the Woods lakefront park is now completely finished. It has been primed and painted. The addition of a guard rail as a safety factor around the perimeter has been installed and new sod has been laid in the area.

On the lake side of the swimming pool a new cement type breakwall, 100 feet long, has been installed and the area has been filled, top dressed and sodded.

The tot's spray pool has been completed and will be ready for the summer opening of the swimming season.

To add to the park's beauty, 35 trees were transplanted from the City's nursery to various areas of the park. The Department of Public Works also transplanted 38 trees from this nursery to the area around the new DPW garage.

Due to the unsafe condition of the F-84 jet plane, it was removed from the park during the month of December.

Biting Gray Cat Sought in Woods

Woods police are looking for a cat that bit Madeline Nelson of 1961 E. Clairview court on Wednesday, February 5. The incident occurred on the woman's front porch.

Police said that the woman was bitten on the left foot. The skin was broken, they said.

The feline was described as being a slender, long-line, short-haired gray cat, wearing a blue collar.

If the animal is not found, the woman will have to undergo a series of painful shots.

The owner, or anyone having information regarding the animal, can contact Woods police at TU 4-6300.

'Litter Bit' Nets Angry Driver Additional Ticket

A motorist expressed his disdain for a traffic violation ticket by tearing it up, and when a soft gust of wind blew a tiny piece of the ticket to the pavement, he received another one—for littering.

Woods Patrolmen Bernard Kelly and Donald Schmalz gave this version of the occurrence, which took place at about 2:12 a.m. Tuesday, February 4, when they submitted their report at the station.

The officers said they were patrolling along Mack avenue when they observed Michael Kearney, 21, of 1262 Ashland, Detroit, driving his car without a license plate light. They stopped Kearney in front of 20119 Mack.

Kelly informed Kearney of the violation and gave him a ticket for having no license plate lights. The policemen said Kearney asked him what would happen if he tore up the ticket, and was given the answer that it was his to do with as he pleased.

Both patrolmen said that as Kelly was getting into the scout car, they observed Kearney ripping the ticket to shreds and placing the pieces atop his vehicle. Kelly and Schmalz waited.

A soft breeze wafted one piece of the torn paper from the top of Kearney's automobile, and it fell to the pavement. Kelly called to the motorist, and ordered him to approach the scout car.

The officer wrote another ticket, this time for "littering" and gave it to Kearney. The man was asked why he was driving at that time of night, (Continued on Page 2)

Safety Plans Revamped at Maire School

Flow of Student Traffic To and From Building Being Directed; Survey Was Conducted

When the children in grades three through six at Lewis E. Maire elementary school met to hear Principal John Hammel explain proposed changes in the organization of the safety patrol and in the flow of student traffic in and around the building, they were being furnished with a brief, capsule-sized summary, in their own language, of months of cooperative planning by the Safety Committee composed of school staff members, police officials, and P-TA members.

A year and a half ago, when Mr. Hammel took the administrative post at Maire, he realized that a school's location so close to a business district presented many problems concerning the safety of more than 500 active pupils.

Following many preliminary discussions, the American Automobile Association made a safety survey at Maire School last spring at the request of the Safety Committee.

Will Guide Traffic

"We are now ready to put into effect the section of the report that refers to the flow of student traffic to and from school," wrote Principal Hammel to parents in a recent bulletin.

Proposed changes will go into effect Monday, February 17, by which time the staff, children and parents have had a chance to become thoroughly briefed.

The minutes of a recent Safety Committee meeting held to discuss the redirection of the flow of student traffic summarize three main proposals for action.

1. Have children cross main thoroughfares at Cadieux only. This would eliminate several dangerous spots such as Notre Dame and Waterloo. Police protection is provided at Waterloo and Cadieux and Kercheval and Cadieux.

2. Eliminate a few of the patrol posts needed to cover a rather large, busy area.

3. Eliminate crossing the alley and parking lot entrance to the rear of the drug store.

Will Study Posts

Principal Hammel indicated that school and municipal officials will continue to study the safety patrol posts to ascertain whether there is sufficient vehicular traffic and student traffic to warrant having all present corners covered. While no additional changes are planned now, (Continued on Page 2)

Woods Bike Law Imposes Stiff Violation Penalties

A paragraph in a section of a new Woods Bicycle Ordinance makes it mandatory for any person under 17 years of age to obtain a permit to operate a bicycle after dark, under severe penalties of the law. The ordinance becomes effective on Sunday, February 23.

Director of Public Safety Vern Bailey disclosed that the ordinance provides that no person under 17 shall operate a bicycle after dark on the sidewalks, streets or other public places in the Woods without first obtaining a permit from the Department of Public Safety. A permit will be issued without charge, and will be for limited time periods upon application by parents of the person for whom the permit is to be used.

No person under 12 years of age shall operate a bike upon any street, highway or alley in the city, only on the sidewalks. And, any one over the age of 12, and under 15, may operate a bike upon the streets, highways and alleys of the city, provided such person has the consent of his parent or legal guardian.

Violation of provisions of the ordinance will bring a fine of not more than $500, or imprisonment in the Woods or Wayne County Jail for a term of not more than 90 days, or both fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court, or by removal and detention of the license plates from the offender's bicycle.

Parents and guardians are urged to obtain copies of the new bicycle ordinance and familiarize themselves, and their (Continued on Page 2)

World Prayer Day To Be Observed at Methodist Church

Women of Eight Pointe Churches Joining for Annual Event Celebrated Throughout World; Dr. Madeleine Barot to Speak

As the children exchange Valentines on February 14 in token of sincere friendship, the women of Grosse Pointe will unite with the hundreds of thousands throughout the world in prayerful kinship in observance of the 78th World Day of Prayer.

All persons interested in joining this worldwide prayer fellowship are invited to assemble with the local church women of Grosse Pointe Methodist, Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian, Grosse Pointe Baptist, Grosse Pointe Congregational, Christ Church Episcopal, St. Michael's Episcopal, Grace United Church of Christ and Grosse Pointe Memorial Church as they meet on Friday, February 14, at the Grosse Pointe Methodist Church, 211 Moross road, at 1 p.m.

The theme for the 1964 service is "Let Us Pray" and the service was prepared by Dr. Madeleine Barot, executive secretary of the Department on the Cooperation of Men and Women in Church, Family and Society of the World Council of Churches, Geneva, Switzerland.

In using passages from the Old and New Testaments, Dr. Barot will unite the countless number of Christian people who participate in the service in a new experience in prayer as "a struggle—an act of faith and repentance"—and a commitment to service."

In continuation of past efforts in the mission of the church, the gifts collected as an essential part of the observance will go toward sustaining 12 Christian colleges for women in Asia and Africa. The gifts will make possible the translation, printing, and distribution of Christian literature to women and children in many parts of the world. They will lend assistance to the (Continued on Page 2)

Four Persons Killed During '63 in Pointe

Traffic Victims Are Three Pedestrians and Motorist; City Records Two Deaths

Four persons lost their lives and 354 were injured in Pointe traffic during 1963, according to final reports sent to the Secretary of State's Office in Lansing by the five Pointe police departments. The total number of vehicular accidents during the year was 1,306.

Killed in the Pointe were three pedestrians and one motorist, the reports to Lansing showed. The City reported two deaths, the Farms, one, and the Park, one.

Victims of the fatal accidents were: Robert Peterson, 56, of 922 Lincoln road; Richard D. Mitchell, 70, of 1258 Yorkshire, the motorist; Frank Jewell, 82, of 564 Notre Dame; and Mrs. Olga Millicent Asmus, 68, of 2635 Three Mile drive, Detroit.

Peterson was hit by a car while crossing Mack avenue, at Moross road on March 8. He died of injuries in St. John Hospital three days later.

Car Rammed Tree

Mitchell was driving his automobile on Jefferson on April 25, when he lost control and the car jumped the curb at Neff road and crashed into a tree. He was taken to Bon Secours Hospital, and later transferred to Harper Hospital in Detroit, where he died of injuries on July 28.

Jewell and Mrs. Asmus were killed in separate accidents, the man in the City and the woman in the Park, on December 21.

Jewell was hit by a truck while he was crossing Kercheval. The truck was making a left turn from Notre Dame onto Kercheval. The victim was pronounced dead on arrival at Bon Secours Hospital.

Mrs. Asmus had gotten off a bus on Mack avenue, at Three Mile drive, and was crossing Mack, when hit by an automobile. She was on her way home. She died shortly after being admitted to Bon Secours Hospital.

Tuxis Club Show Opens Thursday

The annual variety show staged by the Tuxis Club will be held Thursday, Friday, and Saturday nights, February 13, 14 and 15, in the Parcels School auditorium. The proceeds from the show will be donated to various charities.

Tickets for the show may be obtained at the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, at Kay Baum's, and The Campus Shop in the Village. Also, members of the Tuxis Club are selling tickets, or they may be had by calling Betty Hanson at TU 2-2497. The price of the tickets is $1 for students, $1.25 for adults, and $1.50 for reserved seats. The reserved seats will be available Thursday and Friday nights only.

The show is called "Hotels-Poppin'" and concerns the antics of a group of gangsters who attempt to take over a hotel. The profits this year will go to a missionary doctor in India, a fund which prepares high-school dropouts for jobs, a scholarship fund for Negro students, and to "Church World Services."

These are the reports as submitted by the police departments:

Park—392 accidents; one person killed; 129 injured in 94 non-fatal accidents (accidents in which injuries occur); 297 property damage accidents; eight car-pedestrian accidents (including the fatal) with seven persons injured; 13 car-bicycle accidents. (Continued on Page 2)

1963 Permits Have Value of $10,639,954

Woods Continues to Have Greatest Growth with Harper Woods Second in District

The Woods and Harper Woods led the field in the issuance of residential building permits in the School District during 1963, according to information released by the Grosse Pointe Board of Education.

The number of permits granted by the Woods last year totaled 169, and Harper Woods, 154. Total for the entire district was 413, just two more than in 1962, it was disclosed.

The two best months were November with 74 issued, and May, when the total number approved was 64.

Total valuation of the home permits was set at $9,269,858, of which $3,515 was from the Woods.

Permits other than for home construction had a total valuation of $1,353,484. The Woods again led the other municipalities with $407,219. Total valuation of all types of permits came to $10,639,342, as compared to $8,639,854 for 1962.

The total valuation for all permits issued last year, exceeded that of each of the preceding five years; in fact each successive year showed a decided increase over the year previous.

A complete breakdown of the number of permits and total valuations, as reported from each city, is as follows:

Woods — 169 home building permits; total valuation, $3,515,620 all other permits, $407,219; total, $3,922,839.

Harper Woods — 154 home building permits; total valuation, $1,477,007, all other permits, $98,390; total, $1,575,397.

Farms — 32 home building permits; total valuation, $2,083,000; all other permits, $335,550; total, $2,418,550.

Shores — 29 home building permits; total valuation, $1,111,000; all other permits, $113,825; total, $1,224,825.

Park—16 home building permits; total valuation, $566,000; all other permits, $133,100; total, $699,100.

City—13 home building permits; total valuation, $457,231; all other permits, $265,600; total, $722,831.

Distribution of home building permits according to elementary school districts for 1963, is: Poupart—154; Ferry—130; Barnes—51; Richards—15; Trombley—10; Maire—9; Mason—9; Defer—8; and Montclair—0.

Young Cyclist Injured by Car

A six-year-old Woods boy suffered a broken leg when he was hit by a car while pedaling his bicycle on his way home from school on Thursday, February 6.

Injured was Robert Stevens of 1585 Fairholme, who was going west on Fairford. He was taken to St. John Hospital by Woods police ambulance for treatment.

The driver of the automobile that struck the boy was Marie E. Royer, 65, of 332 Neff road, who was traveling west on Wedgewood when the boy rode in front of her car. The woman said she was unable to stop in time to avoid hitting the youngster.

Witnesses said that Mrs. Royer was traveling about 15 miles an hour at the time of the accident.

Mrs. Royer said that the boy hesitated about a fraction of a second as he neared the intersection, and then drove in front of her car.

The woman was given a traffic violation ticket for not having her car under control and causing an injury accident. She is scheduled for a court appearance before Judge Don Goodrow on March 21.

MAN INJURED

George Taylor, 76, of 1817 Hawthorne, was taken to Saratoga Hospital by Woods police on Monday, February 10, when he tripped and fell in his home and struck his head on a table. He was treated for a laceration on the top of the head and released.

Woods Enacts Bike Law

No bicycle is permitted to be operated in the Woods without the owner first obtaining a bike license plate, which should be properly attached to the bike. This may be obtained by properly filling out an application form provided by the city, and filed with the Department of Public Safety.

The cost of a license is 25 cents and is good for the life of the bicycle, or until it is sold to another person. If the plate is lost, or defaced by accident, another may be obtained on application and payment of the 25-cent fee.

The Bicycle Ordinance also provides that persons riding bicycles must obey all traffic laws, and traffic safety devices, just as persons who operate other vehicles.

Other provisions of the ordinance should be studied and remembered, in the interest of safety, it was pointed out.

INSPECTORS HIRED

Acting on the recommendation of City Manager Sidney De Boer, the Farms council on Monday, Feb. 3, designated the firm of Hubbell, Roth and Clark, consultant engineers, to inspect certain aspects of construction at the Water Filtration Plant, Lake Shore and Moross roads. The estimated cost of $750 for the inspection was also approved.

Traffic Toll

City—214 accidents; two fatalities; 51 non-fatal accidents in which 68 persons were injured; 164 property damage accidents; 301 pedestrian damage accidents; one pedestrian fatal; and five pedestrians injured by cars. Total property damage was set at $69,305.

Woods—293 accidents; no fatalities; 67 non-fatal accidents in which 80 persons were injured; 226 property damage accidents; five car-pedestrian accidents resulting in injuries to pedestrians, three of them hurt severely; and 12 car-bicycle accidents in which 12 bicyclists were injured, four severely.

Shores—60 accidents involving 105 automobiles; 16 non-fatal accidents in which 16 persons were injured; 44 property damage accidents; no fatalities; and no car-pedestrian and no car-bicycle accidents.

The types of injuries range from critical to minor, such as complaining of pains, mostly whiplashed necks.

The greatest cause of accidents, according to the reports, is following too closely behind another car, resulting in rear end collisions. Failing to yield the right-of-way is another factor leading to a large number of accidents, it was said.

In 1962, three persons were reported killed in Pointe traffic. The fatalities were one each in the Park, Woods and Shores.

Russian Film Ends Festival

One of the most poignant motion pictures ever produced in Russia will be the fourth and final presentation of the Grosse Pointe Foreign Film Festival in the Fries Auditorium, Sunday, February 16, at 6:30 p.m.

"Fate of a Man" is the offering, and it is the quietly tender tradition of the film mood that has dominated the Russian movie industry since the end of the war. Based on a story by Mikhail Sholokov, Russia's foremost writer and author of the book, "And Quiet Flows the Don," the picture is distributed by United Artists at the request of the U.S. Department of State in connection with its Cultural Exchange Agreement with the Soviet Union.

The motion picture tells the story of a Russian soldier who is taken prisoner during the war. He escapes and is sent home on leave only to find that his wife and children are casualties, and that his son has been killed at the front. Discharged from the army, the soldier wanders through the countryside and eventually meets an orphan. The older man and the youngster join forces and set out to re-establish their shattered lives.

A big hit in New York when it was premiered in 1961, "Fate of a Man," is being shown in the Metropolitan area for the first time. Its appearance here has been arranged by the Studio Theatres and the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Film Committee.

Tickets for this performance are on sale at the Fries Auditorium door, priced at $1.25 for adults and 90 cents for students.

Pointe system, until the cost is lowered.

At a meeting held by representatives of the six communities, on January 22, it was decided that a study of the excessive cost charges made by Harper Woods should be studied, and presented at a meeting set for the middle of March.

In the meantime, the system was to operate under an invoice of $10,000, to be pro-rated among the partners. Harper Woods representatives stated that their city will not pay a cent, until the study is completed.

Held in Abeyance

On the study committee are the city managers of the Park, Woods, City and Shores. Meanwhile, the annual radio budget is being held in abeyance.

At the meeting in Lansing on Thursday, a statement in support of Harper Woods' petition was made by Harper Woods City Manager Allan Kronbach, chairman of the Michigan Public Safety Frequency Allocation Commission; and Harper Woods Police Chief Allen Miglio, a member of the commission.

After some deliberation, the commission voted to grant approval of a recommendation to the FCC to permit Harper Woods to continue to operate an additional base station on the existing police frequency shared with the Pointes.

However, it was reported that the recommendation was only for limited transmitter power and antenna height.

Scopas said that it is hoped that with the recommendation of the Lansing Agency, "we'll be able to obtain the necessary Federal Communication Commission license."

Seen As Safeguard

Harper Woods Mayor William Hubler had this to say, "With this license, we'll be in a position to have an alternate communication system in the event that the cost of our participation in the Grosse Pointe Farms radio system cannot be justified."

Scopas said that the recommendation from Lansing was only for the police radio, but he is confident that one will be approved for a radio for the fire department. He said that

PTA at Defer To Hear Grams

The word "discipline" has been used a great deal in the past few weeks by educators, politicians and other public officials in Detroit and its environs because of the rash of juvenile acts of violence in the news lately.

Discipline is also the subject of the lecture to the Defer school P.T.A. on Monday night, February 17, by Dr. Armin Grams, Ph.D., head of Parent Education at Merrill Palmer Institute of Human Development and Family Life. This is the second in a series of four lectures to the Defer P.T.A. by Dr. Grams.

The first subject, "The Role of Parents in the Education of Their Children" drew record P.T.A. attendance.

Monday night's timely lecture on "Discipline" is expected to be a record breaker also. Dr. Grams, in covering this subject, will discuss the meaning of discipline and its aims, the importance of respect for the child, consistent planning of action, knowing what to expect of children at various times, communicating clearly and the art of reinforcement.

The P.T.A. meeting begins at 7:30 o'clock with visitation of classrooms by the parents. Dr. Grams' lecture will start promptly at 8 in the Defer school gymnasium.

Future lectures are scheduled for March 16—"Sex Education of Children" and for April 20—"Looking Forward to Adolescence."

The reorientation of the school's youngest children, those in kindergarten, first and second grades, will be conducted by individual teachers and parents, the principal said.

This year in an effort to broaden the program among college and university students, a special gift will be used overseas to help strengthen Christian work there.

A special gift will also be used in the United States, making possible the continuation of the new program of ministry among new-comers in communities.

The blessings, spiritual and physical, brought through the unity of prayerful hearts, have been evident since the first small group of Christian women met 78 years ago, offering their prayers and gifts for missions. The faith and love of God expressed then has reached out to the present time when groups in 150 areas on six continents will be gathering throughout twenty-four hours bounds together in prayer.

Kelly and Schmalz said they witnessed Kearney tearing up second ticket, hesitate a moment, then put the pieces in his pocket, "at least until he was out of sight."

Torn tickets, or not, Kearney will have to appear before Woods Judge Don Goodrow on February 29, to answer for both violations.

LEFTOVERS HELP CUT COSTS—Yes, and keep your phone bill down, too! Here's how: We save scraps of leftover copper wire and cable, and periodically melt them down in big furnaces. The copper salvaged is then used to make new wire. It's one of the many ways we salvage materials wherever possible, to help keep telephone costs low.

HAVE A "HEART-TO-HEART" TALK with your Valentine this February 14—even if he or she is many miles away. Just pick up the phone, and you're there! A Long Distance call gives a warm, personal touch to your Valentine greeting... and the cost is low. Why not treat yourself, and your favorite person, to a Long Distance visit this Valentine's Day?

HOW TO BE IN when you're out: one way is to use a telephone answering service! You'll be in good company. Answering service customers include doctors, repairmen, salesmen who are often away from their offices—even stores that take orders after business hours. Some answering bureaus offer "wake up" services for customers, to make sure they aren't ignoring the alarm clock! There are 140 answering services in Michigan alone. They are not owned or operated by Michigan Bell, but they do play a part in giving many of our customers the fullest possible use of their phones.

Park Will Spend $8,575 On Elm Spray Chemicals

The Park council will spend a total of $8,575.45 for three types of chemical compounds for dormant and foliage spraying, and for control of certain types of bugs and fungi on elm trees.

At its regular meeting held on Monday, February 10, the Park council approved the total expenditure, and awarded contracts to two companies that offered to sell the chemicals for low bid prices.

The city agreed to buy 2,400 gallons of DDT dormant spray at a cost of $1,681.20; and 25 gallons of Malathion for $174.25, from the Michlin Chemical Company; and 2,500 gallons of Methoxychlor, at a cost of $6,750 from the American Oil Company.

The DDT chemical will be used for dormant spraying of elms before the trees begin to bud, and the Malathion will be mixed with the other chemicals, to control other bugs and fungi, which occasionally attack the trees.

The Methoxychlor will be used for the second, or foliage spraying, after the leaves have emerged.

This will be the second year that the Park will undertake two sprayings, it was disclosed at the meeting. The work is done with city labor and equipment.

City Manager Robert Slone informed the council that in 1962, the city lost 58 privately-owned elms and 20 publicly-owned; and in 1963, when a two-spray program was undertaken, the loss was 39 privately-owned, and 17 publicly-owned.

He said that although methoxychlor is very expensive, its use is recommended as a second spray. Besides, he added, this chemical is less harmful to bird life.

Slone said that 75 samples of elms suspected of having the dreaded blight will be sent to the Michigan Department of Agriculture for analysis this year.

He revealed that the city has lost a total of 303 elms since 1952, of which 207 were on private property, and 96 were on public property.

There are approximately 6,000 public and private-owned elms in the Park, Slone said.

Students Pay Edison Honor

The birthday anniversary of Thomas Alva Edison was commemorated Tuesday, February 4, by more than 400 Detroit area science-minded high school students.

Guests of the Engineering Society of Detroit and 18 business and industrial firms, they gathered at Greenfield Village for this special program.

The occasion was the 8th national Science Young Day observance, timed each year with the birthday of the great inventor. This year is the 117th anniversary of Thomas Edison's birth.

Grosse Pointe was represented by nine students who were selected by their schools for special interest in science programs.

They are Kendra Van Hamm from Sacred Heart Academy, David Allard and Sue Peters from St. Paul's, Kathleen Jenkins, Shirley Koyle, and Jerome Richart from St. Ambrose School, and Nino Cimini, Tony Nehra, and Tim Schields from Austin.

Visiting Teachers Praise Public Schools of Pointe

Conducted by President Robert K. Whiteley, the February meeting of The Grosse Pointe Board of Education held Monday evening, proceeded with ease and efficiency. The officers and trustees dealt with dispatch with the number of items brought before them by Superintendent Charles Wilson for their information and for action.

The meeting began with a variation of the usual half-hour presentation. Two teachers who have been visiting and observing classes in the Grosse Pointe Public School System for the past two weeks, Miss Irma Karilainen and Mr. Yungchuan Chang, gave their impressions of American education contrasted with that of their respective homelands.

Miss Karilainen's assignment in Hyvinkaa, Finland includes teaching knitting and sewing in the elementary school and English in the Workers' College. Mr. Chang teaches English in the Taipei Girls' High School in Formosa.

Commenting upon the teachers whom he observed, Mr. Chang termed them "proficient" and "well-prepared." He also was impressed by student discussion and speech activities at the local high school. He termed these as "college-level."

During the informal question and answer period with the Board members, Miss Karilainen added that she had observed a number of democratic procedures in Grosse Pointe which she would like to see put in practice in Finland.

She mentioned how impressed she was by the high caliber of work done throughout the system. She cited examples of the kinds of independent work and thinking done by children, in contrast to the rote learning of facts practiced in many European schools.

Dr. H. Leroy Selmeier, Assistant Superintendent-Instruction, introduced the guests and led the discussion between them and the Board.

Attorney Thomas Coulter advised the Board regarding the implementation of a statute requiring a change in election canvass procedures. Henceforth, a separate board to be appointed by the Board of Education and composed of four members will canvass all future school elections.

In addition, contracts for 25 members of the administrative staff effective with the 1964-65 school year were approved. Recommended salaries for nurses in the Department of Pupil Personnel were also approved.

The Board of Education approved bi-weekly salary payments (26 per year instead of the current 24) for all employees. This plan will become effective July 1, 1964.

The Board approved authorization to advertise for bids for parking areas to be constructed between the sidewalk and the fence along Fisher road and in the area between the parking lot and the walk leading to Grosse Pointe boulevard, in accordance with an agreement with the City of Grosse Pointe Farms.

School Budget Hearing Slated

At Monday night's meeting of the Grosse Pointe Board of Education, Treasurer Edward J. Pongracz was elected by his fellow trustees and officers to represent the school system at the February 27 budget hearing of the Wayne County Intermediate School District.

The intermediate school district plan of organization is the successor to the county-type under the provisions of the new State Constitution. This is the first time that local school districts have been required by law to send representatives to its budget hearings.

The added responsibility for the locally elected school board officials such as Treasurer Pongracz included scrutiny and ultimate approval of the intermediate district's budget, as well as general supervision of its activities.

The proposed budget on which the representatives from all the school districts of Wayne County will act later this month was adopted by its Board of Education on December 23.

The budget of the intermediate district, after being acted upon by the representatives of the constituent districts, will go ultimately before the Wayne County Tax Allocation Board. Alternate representative for the Grosse Pointe Public School System is Trustee Robert F. Weber.

Child Therapist To Address Club

Miss Hewitt, a speaker of wit and verve, will speak on the subject, Emotional and Psychological Aspects of Teaching. For the past six years she has been in private practice. Formerly she was instructor at the Wayne State University College of Medicine and Associate Profes-

College and the University of Pennsylvania, and master's degrees from Bryn Mawr and Wayne State University. She has won academic and scientific honors.

Many Jobs Keep Firemen Busy

Have you ever gone down a Grosse Pointe street and seen a fireman putting a rope down a fire hydrant and wondered what he was up to? This is one of the myriad tasks performed by the fire department, aside from just extinguishing fires.

Our local firemen lead a busy life. In the winter, each fire hydrant is checked two or three times a month, to determine if the water is frozen. This is done by a weight on the end of a rope which is lowered into the hydrant. At the same time, the steamer cap is inspected to make sure it is not frozen or stuck, so that if the hydrant is needed, it will be in good working order. In the City alone, there are 227 fire hydrants.

In addition, the fire boxes are checked once a month. The alarm is sounded to make sure that it rings at the fire station. There are 70 fire boxes in the City, an area that encompasses approximately one square mile. Each morning the trucks and equipment are checked as to the pump operation, tires, oil, gasoline and other details. The fire trucks are shined up each day and the tires are washed to prevent them from drying out.

Also, fire school is conducted once a week. The officer in charge for the day directs the operation of the hoses, ladders, smoke masks, and rescuers. General housecleaning of the entire station is held every morning, including painting when necessary and minor repairs, which tasks are undertaken by the firemen. Last summer, for example, they painted all the fire hydrants in the City. There are 14 regular firemen employed in the City to accomplish these jobs, plus other duties. Homes, offices, stores, gasoline stations and furnaces are inspected regularly to determine if there is any fire hazard.

Men's Garden Club to Meet

John William Brear, landscape architect who lives in Devonshire road, will speak on "Garden Design" when Men's Garden Club of Grosse Pointe holds its regular meeting, Thursday, February 20, at 8 p.m., in the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center.

Brear attended the University of Illinois and received his degree in landscape architecture from the University of Michigan. He is a member of the American Peony Society and American Rhododendron Society.

It is his contention that a garden "should be more than a horticultural collection of plants". He will outline ends to seek, and pitfalls to avoid, when planning a new garden, or redesigning an old one. Elements of design which he will cover are balance, symmetry or asymmetry, light and shade, texture of foliage, contrast with adjacent buildings, and color.

Brear will be introduced by J. Edward Schutte, membership committee chairman of the Club. All male gardeners in the Grosse Pointe area are invited to attend.

Seek Teacher For Retarded

The Grosse Pointe Public School System is seeking a teacher for a proposed class for trainable retarded children. If one can be secured by the end of February, the class will open, but otherwise, it will have to be postponed until fall.

Inquiries for the position have been received, but the two people who came in for an interview will not be available until fall. One is in graduate school and the other is under contract for the school year.

Nearly 250 university and college placement offices have been contacted in an effort to find someone to fill this position.

Take one step at a time and you'll eventually reach the top.

Will Sing at Center

Coming to Grosse Pointe after triumphs abroad and all across the United States and Canada, will be the Varel and Bailly Chanteurs de Paris, unexcelled singing group, at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Fries Auditorium on Friday evening, February 14, at 8:30 under the auspices of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association.

The entertaining act presented by these joyous troubadours was conceived and produced by the internationally famous song-writing team — the "Rodgers and Hammerstein of France" — Andre Varel and Charly Bailly, who have written more than 200 songs, not only for their own company, but for such stars as Lena Horne, Edith Piaf, Patachou, Jacqueline Francois, Genevieve, Lucienne Boyer, and many others.

Charly Bailly appears with this company of eight ebullient young Frenchmen and keeps the festivities going at a pace designed to permeate the audience with a feeling of joy and satisfaction. Their formula is quite simple on the surface — they thoroughly enjoy what they are doing — and manage to transmit their enthusiasm, whether they are singing a nostalgic ballad or cavorting melodically with a stuffed dummy of the Charleston era.

Their first North American concert tour took place in 1957-58 and each season has extended in time and number of engagements. Last season they were booked for 65 concerts in a 13 week tour commencing January 6, 1963. This season the tour begins on February 1 and their bookings so far carry them to May 6, 1964.

In their introduction to America in 1956-57 the Varel and Bailly Chanteurs de Paris triumphed in all fields of entertainment. They have had two four-week engagements at the Waldorf-Astoria's Empire Room, three weeks at the Plaza Hotel's Persian Room, 11 weeks at the Tropicana in Las Vegas, weeks and weeks in the most important hotels in Palm Beach, Chicago, Miami, Puerto Rico, Montreal, New Orleans, etc., and guest appearances on television with the Ed Sullivan, Patrice Munsell and Garry Moore shows.

Their magnificent voices, their highly imaginative and intensely rhythmic approach to music, their wonderful stage effects—these are the things responsible for bringing this French singing group back to America by popular demand.

Hats, gloves, tri-colored handkerchiefs give each song its particular surprise—but the Chanteurs' greatest appeal lies in their inimitable joie de vivre, which has inspired both critics and public alike to acclaim them as "one of the best singing groups to be heard in America in years."

Center Offering African Films

The traveler featured on the Center's series for February will be Mark Stevens, who earlier this winter made a fascinating trip through South and West Africa. Featured as the star of the film is the attractive Mrs. Stevens who accompanied her husband.

The pictures cover the countries of Tanganyika, Zanzibar, South Rhodesia and South Africa. Everywhere they went the Stevens were aware of the great unrest in the dark continent. Throughout South Africa apartheid signs were as common as street designations. In Zanzibar, red roosters were painted on walls and streets to indicate the presence and strength of the Communist Party.

Perhaps the most interesting of the countries visited was Zanzibar where the Arab influence is noted every place. The films will also be filled with pictures of natural wonders such as the Victoria Falls and there will be wonderful shots of animals in their natural habitat which Americans usually only see in the zoo.

The Grosse Pointe public is cordially invited to attend this free program in Fries Auditorium and to meet Mr. and Mrs. Stevens and question them about their trip and conditions in Africa.

PTA at Barnes Meets Feb. 17

One of the most unusual PTA meetings in Barnes School history will be held at 8 p.m. Monday, February 17.

It will consist primarily of the playing of a recorded tape on "The American Soldier As a Prisoner of War—Implications for School and Family," in which Major William Mayer, a U. S. Army psychiatrist, discusses the Communist indoctrination of American prisoners.

The tape had its origin in a speech by Major Mayer, who interviewed American prisoners after the Korean War, when it had become apparent to him that a record number of American soldiers had succumbed to enemy "brainwashing" and turned their backs on their country.

He explores the backgrounds of the prisoners, as well as their situations in camp. He draws some conclusion as to the moral fiber of these men, and raises pertinent questions as to the implications this situation has

Public Schools Enroll 11,090

As of the end of January, the total enrollment for the Grosse Pointe public schools was 11,090. There are 5,982 elementary students, 2,559 junior high students, and 2,548 senior high school pupils.

for the American family and school.

Barnes Principal Roger O'Connor said, "While this is a departure from the typical PTA program, nevertheless it is concerned with family values and education in a broad sense, and we feel it is very important."

The meeting will be informal, with coffee and refreshments being served at tables in the gym while the tape is being played. A discussion period will follow.

There will be a short business meeting, but the classroom visitation which usually precedes the general meeting will not be held.

Directing Symphony Drive

A campaign to raise $600,000 for the operation of The Detroit Symphony Orchestra during next fall and winter's 50th anniversary season was launched this week with the announcement of the acceptance by RALPH T. McELVENNY, left, of Cloverly road, of the post of general chairman. Mr. McElvenny, a member of the Symphony Board of Directors, is president of Michigan Consolidated Gas Company. Robert Semple, of University place, right, President of the Symphony, made the announcement.

"The Symphony Golden Anniversary Campaign will seek support throughout the Greater Detroit area as we build toward more widespread recognition of Detroit's Symphony Orchestra," said Mr. Semple.

"Our Symphony has a fine reputation now and through its extensive tours has been Detroit's major cultural ambassador throughout the country. We are determined that it shall gain added luster in the years to come," he said.

"The mantle of true greatness will be acquired only if the funds are made available to support an organization worthy of our dynamic city. We will appeal to all corporations, individuals, and foundations who should have the desire to enhance Detroit's image as a growing cultural center."

In accepting the campaign leadership responsibility, Mr. McElvenny commented on the growth of the orchestra from its founding in 1914 to the present day.

"We have an outstanding orchestra now which is supported by many more people than the few wealthy music lovers who nurtured the small newborn Detroit Symphony Orchestra of 1914," he said.

Mr. McElvenny pointed out that increased costs make it imperative that the Symphony seek $600,000 which is $200,000 more for next season's operation than was raised last year from corporations and individuals.

"I am pleased to head up this challenge on behalf of our Symphony," he added. "I ask only that all Detroiters who are interested in furthering the cultural life of the city accept a working and giving responsibility when they are asked to join in the Symphony Golden Anniversary Campaign."

"A longer season and a number of special concerts are scheduled for our Golden Anniversary year," said Mr. Semple. "We plan on rededicating the orchestra to serve the community to a greater extent than ever before."

During the current season, more than 150 live concerts were scheduled. These included Thursday and Saturday evening concerts, young people's concerts, school concerts in co-operation with public, private, and parochial schools; specific events concerts, tour concerts, and free summer concerts at Michigan State Fair Grounds and at Belle Isle.

Thursday concerts, summer concerts, and school concerts were broadcast either live or on a delayed basis.

Mr. Semple, who has been president of the Symphony since 1961, characterized the 50th year since the founding of the orchestra as "an ideal time not only to expend effort to upgrade the Symphony but also to spread the base of financial support more widely through Detroit and its environs."

He pointed out that none of the major symphony orchestras in the United States is self-supporting and that, unlike the orchestras of Europe, they are not state-controlled nor state-supported, but depend on private sources for financing. To keep ticket prices within reach of the public, symphony orchestras must depend upon the generosity of interested contributors from all economic levels.

Apart from earned income, annual costs of the Detroit Symphony currently are met by large gifts of 41 sponsors and from membership gifts to the Society of Contributors, a group of about 2200 individuals and small firms friendly to the Symphony. Included among sponsors are the Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra and the Junior Women's Association.

The Symphony budget for 1964-65 is $1,100,000. Anticipated revenue from Symphony activities and special events is $570,000. The operating deficit

Farms Approves Tree Program

The Farms will undertake a four-phase tree program, as soon as the weather permits, at a cost of $7,030.75, the total low bid offered by the Shock Brothers, on Monday, February 3.

Shock Brothers will spray approximately 2,600 publicly owned elm trees, at 75 cents each, for a total of $1,950; and approximately 1,500 privately-owned elms, for $1,500 each, for a total of $4,200.

The firm also agreed to conduct two Dutch Elm Disease surveys at a cost of $125.

Under the tree planting program, the company will plant 10 Moraine Locust trees, at a cost of $65 each, or a total of $650; and six Norway Maples, at a cost of $45 each, or a total of $270. The trees will replace those that had to be removed because of the elm blight.

Under a contract, Shock Brothers will trim 339 publicly-owned trees for the sum of $1,785.75.

The council accepted all the firm's bids on recommendation of City Manager Sidney DeBoer.

PTA at Mason Meets Feb. 24

The Mason School Parent-Teachers Association will hold its next meeting on Monday evening, February 24, at 8 o'clock.

Guest speaker for the evening will be David Wells, who will present an outstanding program concerning the new concepts in mathematics. Mr. Wells has collaborated with Mr. Bernstein in the writing of a book entitled "Trouble Shooting Mathematics Skills."

There will be room visitation from 8 to 8:30. The program will begin at 8:30 and at the conclusion, refreshments will be served.

Wellesley Club Holds Meeting

The Detroit Wellesley Alumnae Club held a dinner meeting last Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Donald R. Flinterman, of Lakeshore road. Chairman of the meeting was Mrs. Herbert P. Bartlett, of Ridgemont road. Mrs. Clemson N. Page, of Gladwyn, Penn., chairman of clubs on the Wellesley Alumnae Association Board of Directors, was the honored guest and speaker. Mrs. Richard Knight, of University place, the club's delegate to the Wellesley Alumnae Council, reported on the recent meeting of the Council.

of $530,000 for the season must be provided through gifts.

In addition, for each of the past several years the Symphony has incurred a small net deficit. Approximately $70,000 is included in the campaign goal to eliminate the accumulated deficit.

The Pity of the Pall

It's that time of year again . . . when Winter's monotony approaches its peak and the impatiently awaited arrival of warm weather seems a thousand light years in the future. We know that officially Spring will be with us in just five weeks, but it will be a long time after that before we can count on real outdoor living again. The dull, dank, bone-chilling days become more unbearable, and the few bright ones seem to have lost the power to restore our spirits. We're just plain winter-weary and there is no surcease in sight.

The travel lures to warmer climes take on an appeal that is almost irresistible. The advertisements of the carriers and innkeepers who would entice us to the tropics bring poignant memories of years past, when, occasionally, we were fortunate enough to be among those sunning on the hot sands of Montego Bay, floating lazily in the tepid waters off Varadero while a Cuban sunset died in flaming glory, or jubilantly walking the surf-licked edge of a Florida beach.

It is the time of year when it is most easy to hate . . . the jobs which keep us pinned down, the people who are lucky enough to be away from it all, the forces of nature which dictate our weather. And subconsciously investing him with some supernatural power, we are even inclined to hate the Weatherman, blaming him for the whole bit. We look avidly at the daily reports from Miami and hope it has been jabbed with a blast of 30-degree howling winds from the north. We hate sand-sifters and water skiers and snorkel suckers, and even the winter golfers and the saddle saps and stirrup-crazy louts who are riding the trails where the air is balmy and the foliage is green and flowers are in bloom. And the sailors and fishermen who are able to pursue their favorite hobbies at this time of year, earn a double-barreled blasphemous outburst.

This is a disease for which it is terribly tough to prescribe. When the agony reaches the point beyond endurance you might try to divert your thoughts to the astronomical prices these silly suckers are paying for their winter vacations, the inconveniences of travel and luggage living, the population explosion among the over-paid, under-mannered group which is made up of those who are supposed to take care of our every wish when we are among the elite who can afford this kind of nonsense.

You might tell yourself that by staying home and undergoing the rigors of snow and sleet and fog and ice you will be in a much better condition to really appreciate the vernal parade of crocus, narcissus, tulip, hyacinth and daffodil divisions which will eventually come our way.

Or you might order a few more cords of firewood. Nothing can add more cheer to a barren day or night than a crackling fire on a hearth. And when a book grows dull or cares too weighty, there isn't anything quite like flickering flames, (when properly confined), to induce sleep and enable us to forget everything, or supplant the sordid with pleasant dreams.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Sir:—
On February 3rd, your news reporter, Mrs. Donna Stutt, attended the Woods Council meeting and covered the Hidden Lane Lighting Petition.

Fourth paragraph of the article, Feb. 6th, issue, she said "Jack Thorpe, of 640 Hidden Lane, had questioned the validity of certain signatures on the petition, mentioning in particular that one family was now living in England and could not possibly have signed the petition."

Mrs. Stutt failed to mention that the signature was clarified at the meeting. The person signing this petition, has power of attorney for the owners during their absence. She was identified by her husband at the meeting. The other signatures in question, were also found to be valid. Many of my friends, some of the residents of the Lane, and others have called and feel that I should have you correct this. They feel the other incidents were so completely covered, that it almost seemed like a deliberate oversight upon the part of your reporter to clarify this accusation.

When I called your paper, I talked with Mrs. Stutt; she was courteous in her conversation, said she was sorry.

My petition for lights, was for the safety and protection of the residents. There have been many unpleasant incidents in getting these signatures, but the result has been favorable. It took courage to do this, but I have an investment to protect, and as a widow, I had to do this alone.

Now please protect my reputation, and in some way clarify these signatures, in your next issue.

Thanking you, I am,
Sincerely,
VIRGINIA E. McNALLY
Mrs. Paul F. McNally, Sr.
557 Hidden Lane.

To the Editor:—

The second annual Forum series of lectures sponsored by the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association is now history.

One of the principal reasons for whatever success has been ours in this endeavor, both for this series and the inaugural effort last year, can be attributed in the main to the marvelous cooperation of The Grosse Pointe News. For this support let me express not only my own gratitude but that of the Board of Directors as well.

We hope that "Politics—1964" will prove useful to our residents as these coming weeks and months unfold.

Most sincerely,
GEO. R. McMULLEN
Forum Chairman

What Goes On at Your Library

By Virginia Leonard

We are once again made aware of the contemporary age of automation—our Central Library has acquired a new device, the Docu-stat. This photostat machine, which is coin-operated, has been installed at the entrance of the Reference Room near the READERS GUIDE TO PERIODICAL LITERATURE volumes, occupying roughly the same position held formerly by the file of college catalogs.

Just drop a quarter into the machine, and in thirty seconds you will receive a negative print of whatever you want copied. Perhaps it's a book page you need, or a map, picture or magazine article. Going one step further, you may want to reproduce a will, birth certificate, recipe, letter, legal document, photograph or income tax return. The possibilities become infinite as you think of things for which you might want duplicates. And a positive may be obtained by inserting another 25 cents into the machine.

We feel that this new service will be of use for the businessman, reference student, housewife—for anyone, in short, who needs something copied. It should also prove a deterrent to the mutilation of reference material—always a problem to the librarian.

So, if it's worth keeping, it's worth copying — Docu-stat it!

A very recent foreign visitor at the Central Library was Miss Irma Mialikki Karilainen from Finland, an English teacher at Hyvinkaa Asema elementary school and a participant in the 1963 International Teacher Development Program. Miss Karilainen was given a tour of our Library, and while she appeared most responsive to our entire collection, she was especially interested in our children's literature. Even more specifically, she was impressed with the amount of reference material we have for children, as contrasted with similar titles in Finland.

On January 9, Woods Branch entertained a most interesting and welcome person from abroad, Brother John Nasr, Assistant Librarian at Scatolac du St. Esprit in Kaslik-Junieh, Lebanon. Brother Nasr is in the United States on a grant to study American libraries, and elected to include one of our Branches on his tour. He asked about our procedures and was most impressed with our book collection and fine library. He said that in his country, the people could not afford so much money for books or for libraries. So perhaps we should consider our blessings and not take too much for granted!

Another news flash from Woods Branch! We have a report on a new book recently added to all three agencies: A STRESS ANALYSIS OF A STRAPLESS EVENING GOWN, edited by Robert Baker. The subtitle reads: "and other essays for a scientific age"; the book deals humorously and satirically with facets of science and technology. It blasts off into the ridiculous atmospheric circles of the Space Age, and into the nonsense of bigness in business, politics and graduate research.

The provocative title caught the eye of an engineer-patron, Theodore Stahl, of the Woods Branch, who was so intrigued by its contents that he took the book to work with him at the Ford Motor Company, where many of his fellow engineers found the essay taken from the title of the book most rib-tickling. Their second favorite was the section of the book dealing with an analysis of the mail box.

I must say, I can hardly wait to get my own hands on this book now! I remember, in cataloging it, that it looked like good reading, but somehow I never quite got to it. And it's nice to know that it has already given a lift to a large group of engineers!

Meanwhile, back at Central. In doing floor work occasionally, it has occurred to me that there are many patrons who do not know that our Catalog is a Union Catalog. What does this mean? Simply, that we have catalog cards for all books in the entire system — Central, Park and Woods Branches. If Central no longer has a copy of a specific book, we would still have catalog cards for it, as it would be in one or both of the Branches. Therefore, I strongly urge anyone to ask the librarian about a book which he cannot find, especially if he has been searching for it for some time. It may just be that Central's copy is worn out, and we have been unable to replace it. In which case, you may find a Branch copy in and be on your way rejoicing. Never hesitate to ask one of our assistants — we are always happy to help you.

Methodists Plan Lenten Series

For the first program in the annual Lenten series at the Grosse Pointe Methodist Church, 211 Moross road, the speaker will be the Rev. Dr. Charles E. Morton. Dr. Morton is pastor of the Metropolitan Baptist Church in Detroit. He will speak at the first Lenten dinner at 6:45 p.m. on Wednesday, February 19.

In announcing the series the Rev. James D. Nixon, pastor of the church, said that the theme is taken from a denominational study book for the year. "The Lenten series will take up some additional subjects in keeping with the overall theme," he said.

Dr. Morton will discuss "Our Mission—Through Education." After securing the B.A. degree at Morehouse College in 1946 he went on to Union Theological Seminary in New York where he earned the degree of Bachelor of Divinity.

How to Lose a Lot of Weight Safely

By FRED KOPP, R.Ph.

Maybe you've been in our pharmacy and noticed all the ways there are to lose weight. Pills, tablets, capsules—all kinds. Most are designed to reduce your appetite — and thus, you. All well and good, but if you have a serious weight problem, there is only one sensible thing to do. See your physician. He will prescribe a diet, tailored to your condition, with proper drugs and nutritive supplements to make it safe and sure. We as pharmacists, dispense these more potent drugs only at his direction—a practice which exists for one reason — to protect your health.

WOMEN'S PAGES

From Another Pointe of View

By Janet Mueller

Pointers who plan ahead have November 12, 1964, already circled, starred and underlined in their engagement books. It's Christ Church Fair year, and local ladies are making sure they can't forget the date of our town's most fabulous pre-Christmas shopping bonanza.

Ex-officio chairman Mrs. Erville B. Maynard and co-chairmen Mrs. Paul P. Fischer, Mrs. Jeremiah V. Jenks and Mrs. Robert H. Kanzler plus chairmen of the fair's myriad shops and committees met last Monday for a "shake-down" session. Successful Christmas fairs—and the Christ Church Fair, scheduled every second year, (Grosse Pointe Memorial Church sponsors the Fair in "odd-number" years), is among the Pointe's most successful projects—require months of preparation and "undercover" organization.

Mrs. Rockwell Gust's committee is already hard at work turning out needlepoint belts and kits; Mrs. William F. Weed has started to stockpile Christmas decorations; "Young Shoppers," a '64 innovation for Children Only, all items priced from 25 cents to $2, is being organized by Mrs. Henry E. Bodman, II, and her co-chairman, Mrs. Richard Emerson.

Fancy Aprons, missing from the Fair since '58, will be back again—by popular demand—this year; Mrs. Harrison Watson has charge of the apron shop. Virtually every Christ Church woman works for the Fair in some capacity, contributing time and/or talent to the vast project. Among those on the organizing board are Mrs. Robert F. Sullivan, Mrs. Ronald W. Houghton, Mrs. H. Gordon Wood, Mrs. Ferdinand Cinelli, Mrs. Richard P. Joy, Jr., Mrs. Warren Shelden, Mrs. Hugo Higbie and Mrs. John B. Ford, III.

For those who want a "peek" at some of the items (Continued on Page 12)

This is the first year every Kalamazoo senior will have spent at least one quarter working independently for credit, the final phase of the University's full-year program to go into operation.

Tickets are priced at $50 a couple, and all proceeds will be received by the Clinic, to enable it to launch guidance work in the northeastern section of Detroit, Harper Woods and the Grosse Pointes. Mrs. Glancy, Clinic President, and her committee hope the response will be so great they will be able to open the much-needed facility next September. Julie Louisell, her sister's maid of honor, wore a floor-length gown of Dragon green DiLuna peau, with a matching headpiece, and carried Briar-cliff roses with trailing ivy.

Bridesmaids Mary Jo Louisell, another sister of the bride, Helen McDonald, the bride's cousin, Sharon Rabaut and Elaine Gravelle, were dressed in gowns of olive green DiLuna peau with matching headpieces of DiLuna peau and maline. They carried Better-Time roses

Their headpieces were matching gold satin pillboxes, accented by three bows. The two senior attendants carried bouquets of yellow-centered white daisies, while the junior bridesmaid's flowers, also yellow-centered white daisies, were clustered in a basket. The bridegroom asked his

Working For Art Institute

Mrs. Joseph E. Bayne, newly elected chairman of the Activities Committee of the Detroit Institute of Arts, is entertaining members of her board at luncheon in her Touraine road home today.

Assisting Mrs. Bayne on the committee, which handles picture rental at the museum, offering both originals and framed prints at a nominal monthly fee to all members of the Founders Society, are Mrs. Robert Restrict, Mrs. Merlin A. Cudlip, Mrs. William Beardslee, Mrs. William Denler and Miss Hermione Clippert. Mrs. Albert Mackey, of Indian Village, who originated the picture rental service several years ago, will act as honorary president of the new board.

Chairmen of standing committees include Mrs. Cecil W. Lepard, Mrs. A. A. Widman, Mrs. Frank Isbey, Mrs. J. Crawford Frost, Mrs. Frank Hagan, Mrs. Russell W. Nowels and Mrs. J. Merriam Barnes.

Two February activities at the Arts Institute, one past and one to come, are helping to turn the traditionally "dullest month of the year" into an exciting season.

Last Tuesday, the Founders Society Women's Committee sponsored an opening reception for German contemporary artist Jius Bissier's works. Chairmen of the evening affair were Mrs. John Owen, II, assisted by hostesses Mrs. Hilary H. Micou, Mrs. Carsten Tiedeman, Mrs. Willis F. Woods and Mrs. J. Merriam Barnes.

Next Wednesday, from 5 to 7 o'clock, Founders Society Trustees and the Women's Committee have scheduled a "Museum Walk" with cocktails in the Riviera Court.

Farm and Garden Clubs

Come next Thursday morning, alarms all over the Pointe will ring early for dozens of women, members of the four local branches of the Michigan Division of Woman's National Farm and Garden Association.

This winter meeting of the nearly 100 branches in Michigan is to begin at 9:30 o'clock at Oakland Hills Country Club—a long drive from Grosse Pointe. Interesting forums will keep the lady gardeners occupied throughout the morning; then, after a sumptuous luncheon, Dr. Stephen H. Spurr, Dean of Natural Resources at the University of Michigan, will address the group.

State president of the Farm and Garden Club, Mrs. Frederic G. Garrison, has appointed a dozen women from the Bloomfield area to stage the meeting. Over 300 women, from all over Michigan, are coming to the session, but one missing face will be that of the late Mrs. Henry P. Williams, former national president of Farm and Garden and a long-time member of the Grosse Pointe branch. With her death, the organization lost a valued and devoted member.

Mrs. Williams and a dozen or more women from the Pointe attended the annual meeting of the club in Boston last May.

Mrs. Ivor David Harris, of Provencal road, who succeeded Mrs. Benjamin Young as president of the 100-member Grosse Pointe Farm and Garden Club branch, recently entertained the 18 ladies of her executive committee at a luncheon in the Green Room of the Country Club.

Mud Walls To Golf Balls

Prize for the most intriguing lecture title of 1964 goes to Mrs. Robert Healy, who will speak and show slides at Ibex Club's next general meeting, Friday, February 21, in the Ridge road home of Mrs. Albert Charles Dickson Jr.

"India — from Mud Walls to Golf Balls," a study in contrasts between village life in the sub-continent and educated life in its larger cities, is Mrs. Healy's topic.

In 1959, after majoring in Philosophy and History of Art, concentrating on Southeast Asia, at the University of Michigan, Kay Healy spent two and a half months in India as part of a world tour. She lived with Indians, traveled with them to Delhi, Bombay, Calcutta and Madras, enjoyed a holiday in Kashmir.

To add to the atmosphere at the Ibex meeting, Mrs. Healy will wear a sari. She also plans to bring a selection of ivories, jewelry and books. You can almost hear the temple bells ring!

Bride-Elect

The engagement of SHEILA PATRICK SCHAEFFNER to Daniel Joseph O'Loughlin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lennon O'Loughlin, of Tamarack trail, Southfield, has been announced.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Mrs. Victor Joseph Schaeffner, of Harvard road, and the late Mr. Schaeffner. She attended the University of Detroit and Maclean College of Secretarial Science. Her fiancé is a graduate of the School of Engineering of Notre Dame University. The wedding will take place in July.

To Judge Show At Hunt Club

Zander Duffield, a noted Michigan horseman, has accepted an invitation to judge the Third Schooling Show of the season to be held at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club in Cook road this Saturday, February 15.

Mrs. Charles B. Squiers is chairman for the day and has obtained the services of Charles Bachrach, J. W. Schwartz, and R. J. Thomson as gates stewards. James Kahn will once again assist as ring master, while Mrs. John Kirlin and Mrs. Clarence LaPearl will record the results of the events in the secretary's booth.

Both morning and afternoon sessions are scheduled, with luncheon and dinner being served in the Clubhouse for members and guests.

FIRST OFFERING

FARM COLONIAL in the Farms with eighty feet frontage on one of the Pointe's most popular streets. Could be the ideal house for the family who desires just three bedrooms. Offered at $32,500.

ALSO BY APPOINTMENT

DON'T OVERLOOK this center entrance colonial in the very desirable first block of Bedford Road. Built just eight years ago, this four bedroom home features a modern kitchen and spacious leisure room, two full baths up, and first floor lav. We don't know of another offering comparable at this low price — $40,500.

LAKE ST. CLAIR

is the backdrop from almost every room in this gracious home right on the water. Not at all overwhelming in size, but just right for the average family. Room for stay-in help if required. You will be surprised at the low offering price.

IF YOU MUST HAVE four bedrooms and a den, but feel your pocketbook can't swing it, then let one of us swing you through this one on Lincoln Road. Priced so you can afford to do some redecorating, the house is offered with most necessary carpeting. So near to schools, shopping, and bus lines, that a second car would be an extravagance.

IN THE FARMS between Ridge and Charlevoix, a three bedroom priced far below the average sale in this highly desirable neighborhood. At $21,500 you owe it to yourself to give this one a thorough look.

IMPRESSIVE, IMMACULATE, impeccable, imaginative, impossible to find enough adjectives to do justice to this colonial in the Windmill Pointe area. Now vacant and ready to be furnished from your moving van. Carpeted throughout and recently redecorated by the previous owner. Big family, little family, and room for visiting family — all these situations are easily adapted to in this home.

"Nothing is achieved before it is thoroughly attempted."

Fascinating fact: McKinley avenue, Grosse Pointe, and Pennsylvania avenue, Washington, D.C., are "soul-mate" streets—in McKinley's 300 block, the Kennedys have just moved out and the Johnsons are moving in.

Holder of the Pointe Hole-In-One championship, (so far as we know), is Cleve L. Boyle, of Greenbriar lane, who sank his fourth ace on a recent visit to Arizona. Member of the Country Club of Detroit, the Los Angeles Golf Club, and an honorary life member of Gowanle Country Club, Mr. Boyle's holes-in-one include two in Michigan, one in California and this year's single, at the Arizona Biltmore January 29, where he holed out a 130-yard No. 5 iron shot on the 18th and finished with an 82.

TV star Steve Allen has a genuine picture of a yellow-bellied, ring necked fuzz wart bird, given him by Brownell Junior High School student Linda Buck; Linda returned from California with a portable television set, result of her Christmas visit to a West Coast TV studio, and Julie Keogh—who never left the Pointe—now owns an encyclopedia and a sewing machine, gifts for answering a midnight telephone call. Picked from the Allen Show studio audience, Linda gave Julie's name as someone humorous to talk to in a "Funny Fore Call." Julie, roused from sleep by her mother, found out to whom she was talking after several minutes of jumbled conversation, was delighted but weak-kneed after the long-distance call. Pointers listened in on the taped dialogue January 14.

Mrs. Harold J. Waples, back in Maumee avenue after her annual winter excursion to Naples, Fla., is the Pointe's most enthusiastic promoter of bus travel, a firm believer in single women traveling alone, ("You meet so many interesting people!"), and a staunch advocate of West Coast Florida living. Her late husband presented her with a vacation house in Naples as a birthday present in 1951, and she spends several months in the southern city . . . "10 days out of 12, there's a party going on" . . . every year. This is the first time Mrs. W. "bussed" south, and she describes the 42-hour trip as really terrific, adding that lack of a car can be an advantage—people are constantly calling to see if they can pick up or do anything for a car-less lady. This busy, energetic woman who says housework is not one of her leading virtues . . . "I keep the dust off occasionally because I'm allergic to it" . . . loves creative cooking; each winter, she takes two new recipes, a new dish and a new drink, south with her, and has promised to share a marvelous new shrimp recipe with NEWS readers in the near future.

The Orphans of San Guseppi of Taormina will benefit from a special donation luncheon, sponsored by the "Glamour Grans of Grosse Pointe," at the Roostertail Tuesday, February 18. Guest of honor at the charity party will be Gavelord Hauser, who lives six months of the year in Taormina and has made the San Guseppi Orphanage his special interest. "Glamour Gran" president is Mrs. George J. Jay. Mrs. James H. Quello serves as luncheon chairman, and other "Glamour Grans" active on the party committee are Mrs. Karl W. Weber, Mrs. Clement A. Pennell, Mrs. Clarence K. Johnston, Mrs. Carl M. Weideman, Mrs. Thomas Couper, Mrs. Donald Sheets, Mrs. William Siebert, Mrs. Joseph Eskridge and Mrs. John Cooley.

A woman suffering from a persistent cough went to see her doctor. He checked her, found nothing obviously wrong, told her to come back in a few days for more tests, and wrote out an interim prescription, remarking, "This can't do you any harm; it might even do you some good."

During her second appointment, the M.D. asked how she had reacted to the drug. "I didn't use it," the lady replied.

"Why not?" queried the mystified doctor. "Well," said the woman, "when I took it to my pharmacist, he blurted out: 'Holy Smoke! Are they trying this on human beings already?'"

Eight-year-old Amy was showing an envious friend her elder sister's beautiful bedroom.

"She's 16," Amy explained. "Mother and daddy promised it would be my room some day, but she never married."

Sign on back of bicycle ridden by small boy: "If I do anything silly or dangerous, please call my mother, 376-1082."

A beatnik, standing at a Chicago intersection, watched idly as a big black sedan skidded around a corner, screeched to the curb in front of him, dumped a corpse on the sidewalk and sped away.

The corpse rolled up to the beatnik's feet. Without moving a facial muscle, the "beat" stretched, spread out both hands in a classic gesture, and yelled, "Safe!"

Canteen Conversation

By Rick Mills

Last week in this column, one side of a story was told. The male teen was asked what characteristics he found attractive in girls. This week, the girls will present their side of this story.

After reading what the boys had to say, they have some ideas of their own on the subject of what girls find attractive in teenage boys.

Judy Nofz: "I enjoy a boy who is energetic and exuberant in the way he acts. Boys should be clean-cut, neat and well-mannered, especially when they are with girls. Characteristics I don't like are back-talking and conceit."

Cathy Palmer: "Above all, boys should be polite. They should have respect for a girl as an individual and consider her ideas as well as their own. An attractive boy usually has a good sense of humor. If a girl treats a boy with respect, the boy will usually act in the same way toward her. If she is wild and carefree with him, he will respond in the same manner toward her. I can't stand boys who think they are perfect. They think a girl should lie down at their feet and obey their every command."

Mary Taber: "A boy should always act natural. If he has to cover up his true character, the girls who like him really don't like him for what he is and he will always have to 'act' to keep their friendship. He should be considerate of other people and responsible for what he does. Boys should be fun to be with and show a girl that she is too. Boys who are always showing off rate low in most girls' books."

No both sides of this story have been heard. Perhaps one of these ideas may help you to become more attractive to the opposite sex.

Pointer of Interest

LLOYD C. NYMAN, OF SOUTH OXFORD ROAD

By Janet Mueller

Abraham Lincoln—the man, the times in which he lived, the political and emotional atmosphere of adolescent America—interest Lloyd C. Nyman. More than a hobby, less than a passion, Mr. Nyman's "interest" in Lincoln is primarily a source of personal pleasure and satisfaction. Through the years, he has gathered a Lincoln library of some 200 volumes, selected from the more than 6,000 printed books on The Illinois Rail Splitter, exclusive of pamphlets.

Clippings and pamphlets, indexed by subject, ("Assassination," "Inauguration," etc.), fill two filing cabinets in his Lincoln Room, a comfortable den at the rear of the Nyman house, where daughters Carolyn and Rosemary and son, Jim, have often taken their schoolbooks for concentrated study on various subjects.

Mr. Nyman's Lincoln Room is a good place in which to study. No shrine commemorating past glories, it is a quiet, warm, relaxing retreat, designed for thinking and reading and research.

Father Started Him

Charles Nyman gave his son, Lloyd, his first book on Lincoln. Thomas I. Starr, Detroit and Lincoln scholar, whose private collection of Lincolniana is among the largest in the country, was the amateur history student's real mentor . . . "And cost me a lot of money, too!"

Tom Starr, checking catalogues, would see a book on Lincoln he thought Lloyd Nyman might be interested in, or ought to have, call him up and tell him to buy it, and act as guide in Mr. Nyman's private "to buy or not to buy" decisions.

Active in the Abraham Lincoln Civil War Roundtable of Michigan for many years, Mr. Nyman has served as secretary and vice-president of the group, and is currently a member of the board of directors.

Roundtable meetings are scheduled monthly, usually at Greenfield Village; they are open to all persons interested in the Civil War period. Club president George Dondoro, of Royal Oak, knew Robert Lincoln and many descendants of Civil War notables, and the organization sponsors speakers such as Bruce Catton and General Ulysses S. Grant, III.

Mrs. Dwight Struthers, who has made a study of the President's wives her avocation, gave a talk on Mary Todd Lincoln, followed by a Civil War fashion show. A small framed photograph in Mr. Nyman's Lincoln Room, showing a crinolined-skirted belle as she might have posed for Matthew Brady, turns out to be Carolyn Nyman, currently pursuing a career in modern retailing.

Whole Family Profits

The whole Nyman family has profited, in one way or another, from Mr. Nyman's "interest." Carolyn, Rosemary and Jim used the Lincoln library as source material for school papers; Mrs. Nyman, Marjorie, has given talks on various Civil War topics to church groups.

The family's minister, Rev. Andrew F. Rauth, of Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church, himself a Civil War buff, is one of many friends who know of Lloyd Nyman's Lincoln investigations and have visited the Lincoln Room.

Typical of the thoroughness with which Mr. Nyman researches his subject is a slim but fascinating file on Abraham Lincoln and Bowling.

Leafing through the "Michigan Christian Advocate," Lloyd Nyman discovered a picture of Abraham Lincoln, beardless and in shirt sleeves, relaxing, according to the caption, from his White House duties, at a bowling alley.

During his White House years, Lincoln sported fairly luxuriant whiskers. Correspondence with the Christian Advocate staff and the American the day before the Southern city fell to the Yankees, turned out to be bogus—words misspelled in the actual paper had been carefully corrected in the facsimile.

Of special interest to Pointers are copies of the Lincoln letters formerly in the Joy Collection in the Penobscot Building, correspondence between James F. Joy, attorney for the Illinois Central Railroad, and the young counsel he hired to represent the railroad in Illinois, Abraham Lincoln.

Though not a collector of letters, Mr. Nyman has one especially interesting specimen, written by a homesick soldier on paper headed by a troop of marching Yankees and the first stanza of "We Are Coming, Father Abraham."

He has a facsimile of 11-year-old Grace Bedell's letter to the beardless Presidential candidate, advising him to grow whiskers—"All the ladies like whiskers, and they would tease their husbands to vote for you and then you would be President." Mr. Lincoln bowed to this feminine logic.

Has Gettysburg Program

He has a program of exercises at the "Consecration of the National Cemetery at Gettysburg, 19th November, 1863." Printed in 1864, the Hon. Edward Everett's marathon oration gets top billing, President Lincoln's brief "Dedictory Speech" appearing at the end of the book.

He has copies of Lincoln's favorite volumes, a biography of one of the President's heroes, Henry Clay, dated 1831; Kirkham's Grammar; Weem's Life of Washington, containing the famous "Cherry Tree" incident. He has a set of Lincoln's campaign biographies, including one published under William Dean Howells' name, but ghost written by a young reporter—Howells did not think Lincoln important enough for a personal interview.

The Nyman have traveled to reconstructed New Salem, Ill., where everything is as it was in Lincoln's Day; they heartily recommend a visit to this Williamsburg of the Middle West.

Three or four times a year, Lloyd Nyman talks about his favorite subject, addressing Lions Clubs, Rotary Clubs, other organizations. He refuses to speak more than 20 minutes, has a sneaking suspicion "the audience knows more than I do," and feels people like to hear familiar Lincoln stories.

Likes Early Life Best As a lecturer, his favorite topic is Lincoln's early life on the Indiana and Illinois frontier; he enjoys Lincoln's humor himself, but admits it is a bit too earthy and homespun for modern taste, and must be taken in context.

A manufacturers' representative, graduate of the University of Michigan, Lloyd Nyman and his wife, Marjorie, have centered most of their activities in recent years around the Woods' Presbyterian Church. Mr. Nyman is an Elder. He has served as president of the Brownell PTA and as a member of Michigan's Civil War Centennial Commission, relaxes by "playing ping pong with my son," and has dabbled in photography.

He is a well-rounded man, whose major interest happens to be Abraham Lincoln, an amateur in the true sense of the word: one who cultivates a study or art or other activity for his own delight.

Unwilling to buy all three pictures, Mr. Nyman left Cleveland. The next time he saw the picture, the testimonial had been removed. The portrait eventually found its way to Detroit, where Mr. Nyman purchased it from a local dealer.

Teen Ski Club Has Big Plans

The Ski Hi teen age group co-sponsored by the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association and the Neighborhood Club is planning a terrifically active winter and spring program of skiing which should keep the young people happily occupied if the weather cooperates.

On Saturday, February 15, there is an all day ski trip to Dryden which was postponed from January due to lack of snow at that time. Cost for the trip is $2 for the bus, $2 for tow, $2 for equipment rental, and lessons are offered for 50 cents.

On February 22 the group plans to go back to Mount Grampan where very special bargain prices prevail—$1 for tow, $1 for equipment rental, $1 for lessons. The usual $2 bus charge and 80 cents insurance charge will hold.

At the end of the month there will be a repeat trip to Boyne Highlands, Nubs Nob, and Boyne Mountain. Leaving on Friday, February 28, the group will board a chartered bus at 4:30 at the Center. In the company of chaperones they will journey to Ski View Lodge located squarely between Nubs Nob and Boyne Highlands where they will have lodging for two nights and two breakfasts and one full dinner.

On Saturday they will have the choice of skiing either Nubbs or the Highlands. They will enjoy a swim in the pool at Nubs if they wish and after dinner the group will be taken to the Ponytail Teenage night club out of Harbor Springs for an evening's entertainment. Sunday, they will ski Boyne Mountain and return to the War Memorial at 10:30 at night. The cost for this trip is $27.50 including transportation, lodging, certain meals but not tow charges. Those wishing to go should get their payments into the Center at once. Only 34 places are open.

To conclude their skiing activities for this season, a wonderful western ski tour is planned for the teen skiers during Spring vacation, the cost of which is currently figured at $169. This will be in the high Rockies with rail transportation, meals, lodging, ski lessons, ski charges, insurance, and chaperones included. For further details Ski Hi members are asked to come to the Center's office and those wishing to go on the trip should get their reservations in immediately as there is only room for 35.
