HEADLINES of the WEEK As Compiled by the Grosse Pointe News

Thursday, March 19
GENERAL MOTORS announced Wednesday that it will spend $2 billion for plants and equipment during the next two years, both world-wide and nationally. Three new plants are included in the plans, two of them to be located in Michigan. A new stamping plant will be built in Kalamazoo employing 3,000 and a new upholstery trim plant employing 1,000 is planned for Tecumseh. Existing facilities will be expanded at 10 other Michigan sites.

A TRAFFIC ACCIDENT in the Detroit area that took the lives of six persons prompted Detroit officials to take action on two fronts. Mayor Cavanagh recommended a $12,000 survey of traffic law and procedure in the light of mounting traffic deaths and Police Commissioner Ray Girardin said speed laws would be enforced more rigidly and that policemen would have to take a tougher stand.

THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES in Lansing moved that workmen's compensation benefits be raised and set a one percent ceiling on local income taxes Wednesday. Senate committees released measures to enable Wayne County to adopt county home rule and encourage elimination of school districts having no high schools.

Friday, March 20
GOVERNOR ROMNEY announced Thursday that he will seek funds to have a statewide chain of 10 halfway houses, four of them in Wayne County, established as an answer to Michigan's rising tide of juvenile violence. He hopes to have three in operation by May 1 and the others completed by the end of the year. One of the 10 is now functioning in Lansing as part of the Boys Training School. In Wayne County, there will be two halfway houses for boys and two for girls.

CONVICTED SLAYER Jack Ruby fired his attorney, Melvin Belli, and hired a new lawyer in his attempt to escape the electric chair. He is Percy Foreman of Houston, who has served as defense lawyer in some of the biggest murder trials in Texas. Ruby retained, however, Belli's assistants, Joe Tunashill and Phil Burleson. Burleson said he will file a motion Friday for a new trial, the first step in getting the case into the appeals court.

CHRYSLER Corporation was accused of trying to freeze Checker Motors Corp. of Kalamazoo out of the taxicab market, especially in New York City, in a $45 million antitrust lawsuit. The lawsuit was filed in New York and claims damages of $15 million, but is asking three times that amount.

Saturday, March 21
A RUSSIAN SPOKESMAN promised today the release of Detroit flier, Lt. Harold Welch, one of three Americans shot down over East Germany March 10. Welch has been hospitalized at the Soviet Military Hospital in Mendebeurg, East Germany. He had broken an arm and a leg while bailing out of his disabled reconnaissance bomber. No mention was made of the other two airmen.

BRENDAN BEHAN, Ireland's gifted and colorful playwright, died Friday in Dublin at the age of 4 of jaundice produced by a lifetime of prodigious drinking. Behan's first book, "The Borstal Boy," brought him to international attention in 1955. Still banned in Ireland, it was based on the Irish Republican Army movement against the British for a free and united Ireland. "The Quare Fellow" (1956) was a protest against capital punishment. At the premiere of his second play "The Hostage," Behan followed a pattern of unorthodox harassment of his actors and poured a bottle of beer over the cast and part of the audience. Many of his friends and fellow writers feel Behan never realized his destiny as a major literary figure.

Woods Municipal Building Wing Completed

PUBLIC SAFETY ADDITION TO THE MUNICIPAL BUILDING FOR THE CITY OF GROSSE POINTE WOODS, MICHIGAN
HAMMOND, QUINLAN AND FOWLER, INC., ARCHITECTS AND ENGINEERS

The Public Safety Building addition to the Woods' Municipal Hall was finished on Monday, March 23, and cost a total of $339,854, including furnishings. Part of the construction cost was financed by the Federal Government under the Accelerated Public Works Act. Dedication of the new ell will be held on Sunday, April 5, at 3 p.m., to which officials of surrounding communities and the public have been invited. Following the ceremonies, an open house will be held for the inspection of the addition and the City Hall, from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. Congressman Harold Ryan will deliver the dedication address. The new wing includes all of that section in the architect's drawing above, to the left of the columned portion built originally to house the main municipal offices.

City Council Gets Report On Planning

S. Bagby and Associates Prepares Document Following Comprehensive Survey

The past, present and possible future of Grosse Pointe are all dealt with at length and in much detail in a report which was authorized and has now been accepted by the City of Grosse Pointe Council.

A comprehensive plan for the development, redevelopment and improvement of that municipality has been prepared by Scott Bagby and Associates of Grand Rapids, nationally known city planners. The 54-page report on the extensive survey is now in the hands of the city officials and the councilmen made it clear at their meeting Monday night that every effort will be made to have every resident of the City fully acquainted with the contents.

Mr. Bagby has stressed throughout his report that despite the five separate municipalities in the Pointe, the success of future planning and development by each is interdependent and that all should work together towards the same end of preserving the fine character of the community, and of increasing the prestige which it now enjoys as one of the country's finest residential areas.

Woods Public Safety Wing Finished; Set Dedication Ceremonies for April 5

Officials and Public Invited; Open House to Be Held From 3-5 p.m. For Inspection of New Addition and Municipal Building

The new Public Safety Wing, an addition to the Woods Municipal Building, 20025 Mack avenue, will be dedicated on Sunday, April 5, at 3 p.m., with an open house to be held immediately after the ceremonies.

The ell, on the south side of the city hall, cost a total of $339,855, including all furnishings. It was completed on Monday, March 23, well ahead of the April 15 deadline completion schedule set by the Housing and Home Agency in Washington, D. C., which approved a Federal grant to assist in building the edifice.

Due to the efforts of the Communities Facilities Administration in Washington, a grant of $146,300 was given to the Woods last February, under the Public Works Acceleration Act, created to alleviate unemployment in critical areas.

Woods Matched Grant
The grant was approved when the Woods showed that it could put up matching funds, to be used for the construction of the Public Safety Wing.

Contracts for the addition were let on June 26, 1963, and the actual construction began on August 1.

City Manager Chester Petersen said that Public Safety personnel and all equipment from the old Public Safety building, 20775 Mack, will move to the new quarters shortly after April 5.

Petersen said that dedication ceremonies will start at 3 p.m., after which an open house will be held to allow officials and the general public to inspect the new building and the city hall. The open house will end at 5 p.m.

Public Invited
The city manager said that invitations have been sent to officials of surrounding communities to attend the dedication ceremonies. The public is also invited, whether they live in the Woods, or neighboring cities, Petersen added.

Congressman Harold Ryan will deliver the dedication address, it was disclosed.

"I feel that with the completion of our new Public Safety building, our community has one of the most complete Municipal Buildings in the Middle West," Petersen said. "The building has incorporated in it, every concept of modern police facilities," he boasted.

Facilities in the new building include an up-to-date photo crime laboratory, pistol range, and a community room in the basement, among other things, he said.

Speeder Nabbed Following Chase

Richard T. Wallace, 28, of 1179 Brys drive, eluded Woods police in a speed chase at 2:42 a.m. Saturday, March 14, but was arrested by Harper Woods police who had been alerted to be on the lookout for him.

The chase started when Woods patrolmen Kenneth Carver and Thomas Kervin, on patrol, heard a loud screeching of tires, and saw a car take off on a green light at Mack and Cook roads. The driver was doing about 72 miles an hour, the officers said.

Carver and Kervin said they attempted to stop Wallace between Cook and Norwood, but the man ignored the police car flasher and siren, and made a left turn to west on Norwood, at a fast clip.

Wallace, the policemen said, then turned left onto Jackson, without signaling, made a right turn to west on Oxford, at which time he turned off the car lights, then made a left turn onto Helen.

The Woods officers said that Wallace eluded them at Harper and Lancaster, where they lost him. They sent out a radio alert, and later were notified by Harper Woods authorities, that Wallace was arrested and in their custody.

The Harper Woods policemen who stopped the man, said they saw him make a right turn onto Woodmont, then turn north onto Harper, at which time he turned on his car lights.

Carver and Kervin took Wallace to the Woods station, where they gave the motorist a violation ticket for reckless driving, and released him on bond of $50, pending a scheduled appearance in court on April 18.

Congressmen Speak Here Next Monday

Missouri, Maryland and New York Representatives to Be at Fries Auditorium

Congressman Thomas B. Curtis, chairman of a GOP Panel which will visit the 14th District March 30, is to be honored with a national award in Detroit, it was announced by David C. Dethmers, head of the 14th District Young Republicans, who are sponsoring the Congressmen's visit to Detroit.

The award is one of three national awards being made by the Detroit Central Business District Association. Presented in the form of a Gold Doorknob, it is given in recognition of the doors Congressman Curtis has opened which have led to career advancement for women.

It will be presented at the noon luncheon of the Economic Club of Detroit, where Congressman Curtis will be a special guest.

Congressman Curtis, of Missouri, will be accompanied by Congressman Charles McC. Mathias of Maryland and Frank J. Horton of New York. The panel is being held at the Fries Auditorium, Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center, 32 Lakeshore road, at 8 p.m. It is open to the public at no charge.

Paul Revere Panel
The group is one of seven GOP "Paul Revere" panels visiting 17 states during the Congressional recess. Mr. Dethmers, in outlining the schedule of the Michigan panel, announced that they will also visit Lansing to confer with Governor Romney, and that visits are also planned for the Flint-Saginaw-Albion-Ionia areas. They will return to Detroit (Continued on Page 2)

Store's Ceiling Falls; Two Hurt

His warning saved a woman customer from injury Monday morning when an 8'x40' portion of ceiling collapsed at Fromm's Hardware, 17047 Kercheval. But manager Henry Feys, of 843 Beaconsfield avenue sustained injured vertebrae and was admitted to Bon Secours Hospital.

Also injured in the accident was Morris ("Jerry") Stofflet, of 2150 Coplin, an employee in charge of the Detroit Edison agency in Fromm's. He was given emergency treatment for a cut on the head and released.

Several other customers were in the store when the plaster, metal lathing, and light fixture tore loose from the ceiling but they were not in the immediate area of the accident.

Fromm's, which closed at noon almost immediately following the accident, will be renovated and expanded during the next two or three weeks.

Memorial Center Launches Annual Drive for Funds

Goal of Family Participation Campaign Remains Same As Last Year; $60,000 Needed to Make Up Operating Deficit

The Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center has launched a drive for $60,000 in contributions from residents of the five Pointes. The drive is the annual effort to fill the gap between what the Center takes in and the expenses it incurs carrying out its community service program.

Gerald C. Schroeder of 50 Shoreham road, president of the War Memorial Association, explained the background of the drive in these words:—

"Almost every day of the year the War Memorial Center is called upon to serve the people of the Grosse Pointe communities in a number of ways. And just once a year the Center calls upon the people to lend it assistance, in the form of financial aid."

Mr. Schroeder continued, "Community support is vital to our maintaining the full range of activities which Grosse Pointers have come to expect at the War Memorial Center."

Heading the drive for funds is Theodore H. Mecke, Jr. of 497 Lincoln road. Mr. Mecke, Vice-President-Public Relations for Ford Motor Company, and a director of the War Memorial Association, serves as chairman of the "1964 Family Participation Campaign."

Drive Goal Not Upped
He explained that the need for funds arises "because the relatively modest fees and charges of the Center, together with some endowment income, falls short of matching the expenditures. About one-fourth of the 1964 budget must be met by proceeds of this fund effort. We are seeking this year the same amount the families of the Pointes gave so readily last year."

The Center's spending has been pushed upwards in the last two years by the expansion of its physical plant and program. William H. Fries Auditorium opened in 1962, has made more service by the Center possible, but it also has added to the Center's financial burdens.

The fund-raising campaign, planned to hit its goal by Memorial Day, is being pushed in a mailing of an explanatory brochure to the 17,000 families in the five Grosse Pointes. The pamphlet explains the reason for the solicitation and urges that each family take part.

Emphasizing the broad range of the Center's services and its need for broadly-based support, the drive uses the theme, "Something for everybody... something for everyone."

150,000 Used Center
The value of the War Memorial Center to the community is indicated by the fact that last year attendance at functions there was more than 150,000. Among its wide range of activities, it provides a meeting place for almost any kind of organization in the Pointes; provides fine food service for groups meeting at the Center; stages plays, concerts and art shows; presents lectures and speeches; serves as a garden center; is presently assisting two different religious congregations by providing a temporary meeting place; offers free loan of sickroom equipment (Continued on Page 2)

Martin Fouls Out
Thiel netted three baskets and three foul shots in his spurt as St. Paul's Martin picked up his fourth foul trying to stop him. With a little more than five minutes gone in the second quarter, Martin went to the bench and sat out the entire third period.

Don Amey picked up the slack in Martin's place and teamed with Bigham for 14 points, putting St. Paul in the lead, 56-39, in the third period.

Martin returned to the lineup and scored eight more points as Montrose rallied with a 21-point final quarter, but too late.

In Friday's game, Bigham was again in the driver's seat, as he carried his team against stubborn Gaylord.

Lawrence Savage Resigns As Manager of GP City

Grosse Pointe City Manager Lawrence C. Savage presented his resignation to the City Council on Monday, March 23, which was accepted with deep regret by the city body. The resignation will become effective on April 24.

Savage will leave his local post to become city manager of Traverse City, a community about 70 miles from the Pointe and near the upper part of Michigan. He will assume his duties there on April 27.

He was receiving an annual salary of $12,500 from the City, which was to be raised to $13,000 next month. He did not disclose the salary of his new position, but did say that it would be substantially more than his present pay.

He informed the City council that he was not leaving because of dissatisfaction with his job, or because of conflict with any member of the City administration. He enjoyed working with a wonderful council whose leadership is excellent, he said.

Savage became the first Grosse Pointe City manager on August 22, 1960, after first helping to write an ordinance creating the post. The new ordinance abolished another that described the office of city clerk, a position that was held by the late Norbert P. Neff for more than 41 years.

The new ordinance automatically made the city manager the city clerk, along with his managerial duties.

Savage was selected as the first city manager because of (Continued on Page 2)

Holds Special Meeting to Ban Building

Opposes Selection of Vandervush Farm As Location For Proposed Structure

The Woods council called a special meeting on Monday, March 23, solely for the purpose of adopting a resolution opposing any use of 31.7 acres of land at Vernier road and Morningside drive, for other than family residences.

The property is being sought by the Grosse Pointe Board of Education as a site for a proposed second senior high school. The proposed site is owned by Edward and Frank Vandervush (29.53 acres); and Mr. and Mrs. John W. Baker (2.17 acres).

At a special meeting held on Tuesday, March 17, the Board of Education passed a resolution to designate a building site and direct its attorneys to obtain legal proceedings to obtain the land needed through condemnation.

Wants Two Hearings
At the Monday night meeting, the Woods council favored asking the Board of Education to hold a public hearing of its own to air the pros and cons of acquiring the proposed site, as well as to ask the members of the Board to attend a public hearing in the Woods council chamber on Monday, April 13, at which time an amendment to the Woods Zoning Ordinance is expected to be adopted.

The amendment, which would establish a Community Facilities Zoning District, if adopted, would designate certain areas in which schools, churches and commercial establishments can be erected.

Once adopted, the Board of Education, if and when it acquires the site for its proposed high school edifice, must petition the Woods council for a change in the ordinance before it can build the school.

Resolution Adopted
The resolution adopted by the Woods council Monday night, reads:

"Whereas this council has been informed that the Grosse Pointe Board of Education plans to acquire the Vandervush property, at or near, the southwest corner of Morningside drive and Vernier;

"Be it resolved that this council hereby opposes any use of said property other than for family residential purposes in conformity with the proposed (Continued on Page 2)

Second Offense Earns 90 Days

John J. Auito, Jr., 21, of 14509 Mack avenue, Detroit, learned that when a warning is given against contributing to delinquency of minors, the warning means just that.

On Saturday, March 21, Auito was arrested by Park Patrolmen Henry Wilson and Robert Cory at 5 a.m., when he was observed backing out of a driveway in Trombley road at Lakeview court. There were four juveniles in the car with him.

Auito was arraigned several hours later before Shores Judge John Gillis, who presided in the Park court in the absence of Judge C. Joseph Belanger, on a charge of abetting juveniles in violating the Curfew Law.

The man was also charged with driving a motor vehicle in violation of restriction.

Judge Gillis found Auito guilty of both charges and sentenced him to serve 90 days in the Detroit House of Correction. Auito was given the term, when it was brought out that he had been arrested by Detroit police on Thursday, March 19, on a similar contributing charge and warned not to repeat the violation.

Wilson and Cory said that Auito was the driver of the automobile and the four juveniles, three girls, 14, 14 and 13 years old, and a 14-year-old boy, were in the car. The latter was on probation to Juvenile Court authorities.

All the children were charged with violation of the Curfew Law and filed against in Juvenile Court and released to their parents, pending a hearing date.

The "Paul Revere" mission is to alert the people to what is happening in Washington under the Johnson Administration.

Congressman Curtis said that "among the subjects we will discuss are foreign policy, state of the economy, scandals in Washington and the record and performance of President Johnson."

Want People to Know
"We believe," he said, "that the people of America should be told of the true situation that faces their country—both at home and abroad. We cordially invite the public to attend any of our meetings and we will be happy to answer questions from the audience at the conclusion of our brief presentation."

Congressman Curtis is ranking Republican on the House Senate Joint Economic Committee and second-ranking on the Ways and Means Committee. Representative Horton serves on the House District Committee and House Government Operations Committee, and Rep. McC. Mathias is on the Judiciary and District of Columbia Committees in the House of Representatives.

DRIVER ARRESTED

Shores police arrested Andrew Hardman, 25, of 3779 French road, Detroit, on Sunday, March 22, while he was traveling on Lake Shore road, and gave him a violation ticket for driving while under the influence of liquor. He posted bond of $100. His court date was set for April 22.

and a blood donor service. The Center is used by little children, young people, married couples, "parents without partners," and by "senior citizens."

"It is precisely because it is so useful to so many that we think the whole community should rally to the Center's support," said Mr. Mecke.

"We use no tax money to operate the War Memorial Center and we receive no funds from the United Foundation. The Center earns its own way to a great degree, but contributions must provide an appreciable amount of our budget. The Internal Revenue Service, incidentally, permits deductions of gifts to the Center."

Other Board Members

Working with Mr. Schroeder and Mr. Mecke on the drive are other members of the Board of Directors: William M. Adams, J. Leslie Berry, George C. Cossaboom, Walter B. Ford II, Mrs. William H. Fries, Mrs. Harley G. Higbie, Mrs. James A. Lafer, George N. Monro III, Thomas L. Munson, H. Lynn Pierson, Mark Stevens, Mrs. Harold B. Tyree, and Mrs. Frank W. Wylie.

Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center, now 15 years old, began as a library association to memorialize those Grosse Pointers who had served the nation in World War II. It evolved, in response to the needs of the community, into an institution with a panoramic scope of service.

Its facilities are probably unique among "community houses" in their quality and extent. The family of Russell Alger gave the community the large residence facing Lake St. Clair. It is on five acres at 32 Lake Shore road in Grosse Pointe Farms. Several endowments have been made and the late William H. Fries gave funds to build the auditorium-banquet hall which bears his name. There are a dozen rooms for meetings, lunches, classes, etc., and parking is provided on the grounds for 200 cars.

Last year a total of 1,529 groups used the Center with a total attendance of 158,037.

plans to hold a referendum on this issue called for a late September or early October date. However, he said that in view of changes contemplated in the State Primary Elections, it is impossible for the Board to set a date at this time.

Dr. Whiteley summarized the discussion by stating that the Board's decision to build a second high school is in the best interests of the boys and girls of the community and reflects long-range concern for continuing a high quality educational program.

Turning to other business on the agenda, President Sherman mentioned plans for a polio immunization program scheduled for local elementary schools on Sunday, April 19 and June 14. He said that the Wayne County Medical Society has spearheaded the organizational phase of the project to make available oral doses of trivalent oral vaccine to interested residents eight weeks apart.

In each elementary building the PTA presidents were asked to provide 20 volunteer workers to work from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on the designated dates. He indicated that detailed information would be forthcoming.

In other business brought before the assembly, Mr. Sherman alerted Council members to events of the forthcoming state PTA convention scheduled in Lansing on April 20-22.

President Sherman introduced William M. Adams, Assistant Secretary on the Board of Directors of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association, who outlined functions and the needs of his organization.

The next meeting of the Grosse Pointe PTA Council is scheduled for Monday, May 25.

his ability, record and education. He was picked from a large number of applicants, and approved for the post by the City council.

A native of Saginaw, he came to the Pointe from Cheboygan, Mich., where he was city manager from December 1957 to April 1960. Prior to that, he was personnel director of Saginaw from December 1952 to December 1957.

He also served as administrative assistant to the city manager of Saginaw from June 1950 to December 1957. Prior to that, he was personnel technician for Milwaukee, Wis.

He is a February 1945 graduate of Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill.; he received his master's degree in public administration from the University of Michigan in 1948.

He is a veteran of the United States Navy, serving as a commissioned officer aboard an LST in the South Pacific during World War II.

The city manager expressed his regret over leaving the City and his many friends and co-workers.

His wife, Millicent, and their four children will remain at their home, 879 Rivard, which they hope to sell, until their oldest, Michael, 17, graduates from Grosse Pointe High School in June.

The other children are Chris, 8; Brad, 3; and Matthew, who is one month old.

Savage said that he will commute to the Pointe on week-ends, if his new duties permit, to see his family and to offer whatever assistance he can to the City and to his successor.

At Monday night's meeting, the council did not disclose if a successor has been selected to replace Savage.

amendment with the City of Grosse Pointe Woods.

"Be it further resolved that the City Administration forward a copy of the proposed amendment to the Zoning Ordinance public hearing, which has been set for April 13, 1964, to the Grosse Pointe Board of Education, along with a letter advising the said Board that the City of Grosse Pointe Woods is in the process of amending its Zoning Ordinance by adopting the enclosed amendment, that the Planning Commission of the City of Grosse Pointe Woods has approved said amendment on January 28 to said ordinance and that a public hearing will be held on said amendment by the Mayor and Council on April 13, 1964.

"That the required notice of said hearing has been given and that any use of the property, at or near, the southwest corner of Morningside drive and Vernier road, for other than family residential purposes is contrary to and prohibited by the proposed ordinance.

"Be it further resolved that the Grosse Pointe Board of Education be requested to hold a public hearing on the question of erecting a proposed Grosse Pointe high school, at or near, the Vanderbush property, Morningside drive and Vernier road."

The resolution was read to the council and approved for adoption by Acting City Attorney Fred Keppen, who attended the special meeting in the absence of City Attorney Jules Berns.

Because of a barrage of phone calls to the Woods Municipal Office and the Grosse Pointe News Office, received from Woods residents opposing the proposed high school on the Vanderbush site, it was expected that the Monday night special meeting would be attended by a great number of citizens, but hardly anyone showed up to voice an opinion.

As a matter of fact, the tiny handful that were in attendance, failed to comment at all.

Minor Accidents Reported in City

Two minor accidents occurred on Maumee recently. One was March 11 when Laeuna Dell Brown of 956 Westchester stopped at Maumee and St. Clair for the stop sign, and then proceeded across the street, striking a car driving west on Maumee.

The other driver was Scott Spooner Higgins of 20690 Vernier circle. Both cars were towed to a collision shop and no tickets were issued.

The other accident occurred at 11:45 a.m., March 12, when Ruth Ann Howard of 935 Berkshire road, stopped at Maumee and Notre Dame for a stop sign and then proceeded across the street, striking a car being driven by Bartholomew Seymour Jr. of 876 Edgemont park.

Both parties were issued tickets for reckless driving, but no towing was necessary. Two other minor accidents occurred in the City last week. One was at Kercheval and University March 16 at 8:40 p.m. Rachel Cowper Baumann of 1023 Lochmoor boulevard was driving east on Kercheval and struck the rear of a car going south on University driven by Lawrence R. Beausoleil of 415 Lakeland avenue. Both vehicles were able to be driven from the scene, and both parties were issued tickets for reckless driving.

A second accident involved a bicycle being ridden by Thomas Bertrand of 887 Washington road on March 16 at 7:42 p.m.

He was riding north on Washington when a car traveling south on that street stopped at the Chalfonte intersection and then prepared to make a left turn. The cyclist did not think the car was going to turn so he proceeded through the stop sign and was struck. He was bruised on the leg, but not seriously injured. No violation tickets were issued.

Woods Sets Public Hearing On Zoning Law Amendment

The Woods council will hold a public hearing on Monday, April 13, at 7:30 p.m., on an amendment to the Zoning Ordinance, which if adopted will confine building of churches, schools and commercial buildings to certain areas. The amendment will establish a Community Facilities Zoning District.

Mayor Kenneth McLeod pointed out that the proposed amendment has nothing to do with the intention of the Grosse Pointe Board of Education's attempt to acquire a site for another senior high school, at Vernier road and Morningside drive.

The proposed site is comprised of 31.7 acres, of which 29.53 acres are owned by Edward and Frank Vanderbush, and 2.17 acres by Mr. and Mrs. John Baker.

McLeod quashed rumors that the Woods intended to oppose the Board of Education's acquiring of the site, or that the amendment to the ordinance was sought to block construction of a school in that area.

The mayor said that it is not known what the council's reaction is to the news that the Board of Education will attempt to obtain the land through condemnation proceedings because the city council will not meet until April 6. It is not known if the matter will be discussed, he added.

McLeod hastened to point out that the proposed amendment to the Zoning Ordinance was not designed to thwart the Board's attempt to acquire land for a proposed new school.

He said that the Woods Planning Commission had been working on the proposed amendment for more than a year, and in January approved the wording of the amendment and recommended that a public hearing be held and the change adopted by the Woods council.

He said that if adopted, the amendment means that if the Board of Education acquires the Vernier-Morningside site, it will have to seek permission from the city for a change in the ordinance before a school building can be erected.

He said that he did not know that the Board had picked the site for the school, although he had heard that the Board had been discussing the need for a new high school as far back as three to six months ago.

PARKED CAR LOOTED
Alex C. Sucek of 960 Rivard boulevard reported to City Police March 13 at 9 a.m. that on Tuesday evening, March 10, between 6 and 7 p.m. he parked his car in front of his home. When he returned at 7 p.m., he noticed that someone had stolen the gearshift knob and the interior door knobs. They were valued at $6.00.

McLeod said that if the Board had discussed the land for the proposed building, "it was a well-kept secret". It came as a surprise to him, he said.

City Administrator Chester Petersen said that he had received numerous calls from Woods residents, who voiced opposition to a new school in the area.

The mayor said that he had received no calls personally, regarding the Board of Education's intentions.

It is expected that the council chambers will be filled with citizens at the public hearing, voicing pros and cons on the zoning amendment, and on the proposed school building.

Spanish Club To See Slides

The Grosse Pointe War Memorial is pleased to announce a new group under its sponsorship. It is known simply as the Spanish Club, a group of people in the Grosse Pointe area interested in practicing conversation in Spanish and enjoying informational programs about Latin America and the Spanish world.

The Spanish Club's next meeting will be held on Monday evening, April 6, at 8 o'clock in the Josephine Gregory Room. The program will consist of color slides of Central America presented by Eugene C. Mathdvet, Jr.

The pictures will cover two countries of Central America not often visited by North Americans, namely Costa Rica and El Salvador. The latter is the richest country in Central America due to its sugar cane economy.

Also included in the pictures will be slides of the Mayan ruins in the Yucatan Peninsula south of Merida. These ruins undoubtedly represent the remains of the earliest civilization in the Western Hemisphere.

William Bundesen, vice-president of the newly formed club 7 will talk in Spanish about the pictures as they are being shown.

All Pointers and their guests interested in improving their conversational Spanish are cordially invited to attend and join if they wish.

The garage cost a total of $120,257, of which the government contributed $85,520.

Does your range tell you the truth?

When it says "off" is it really off? Or will food keep on cooking, water keep on boiling, heat keep on heating after you turn the dial off?

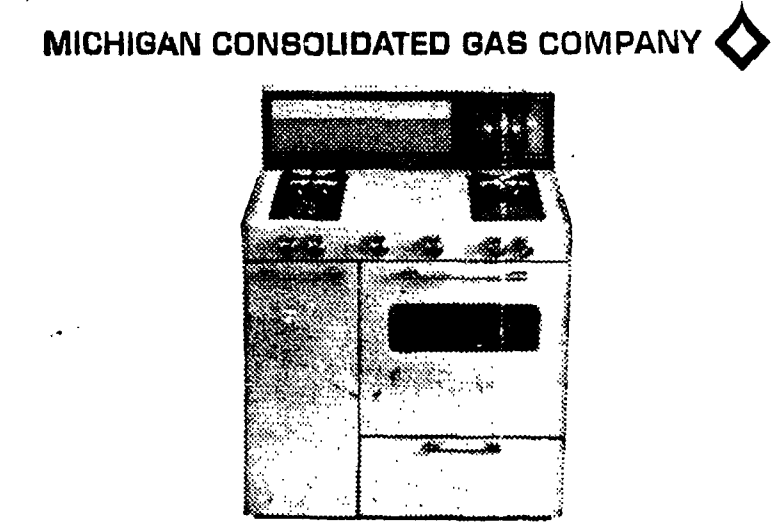

It won't if you're cooking with Gas.

And there's one of the many differences. On a modern Gas range, "off" means just that. Turn the dial, the flame goes out. You're not paying for "hangover heat" you can't use. Hangover heat that keeps cooking when you want it to stop.

Compared in dollars and cents to other ranges, Gas can give you up to a dollar's worth of cooking for a quarter.

Boiling Radiator Causes Crash

Geraldine A. Hinman, 48, of 115 Dale road, Knoxville, Tenn., suffered facial cuts and bruises on Saturday, March 21, when she lost control of her automobile, and crashed into a mail box in front of 875 Lake Shore road.

Mrs. Hinman told Shores Patrolman Harry Hamilton that she was driving north on Lake Shore, when her car radiator suddenly boiled over, and the resulting steam clouded her windshield. She said she lost control of the vehicle which crossed over the island and hit the mail box and came to a stop in the driveway of 875. She was cut by broken windshield glass.

There were no witnesses to the accident and no violation ticket was issued. Mrs. Hinman was taken to Bon Secours Hospital by Hamilton.

All-Pointe Hootenanny Set For April 2 in Auditorium

The Pointes' first community-wide folk singing party will be held the week after Easter at the War Memorial. Local troubadour Alex Sucek, whose performances of songs with his guitar have won him some fame hereabouts, is bringing together a group of the best folk singing talent in all the Pointes for an All-Pointe Hootenanny.

The program will be given in the Fries Auditorium on Thursday evening, April 2. This date was chosen because it coincides with spring vacation when many local performers and enthusiasts will be home from college.

The hootenanny is being designed to appeal to everyone, of every age, who enjoys the informal style of guitar-accompanied song that hootenannies are famous for. "There's a wealth of talent out here," Alex reports, "and I'm sure that many people in our community would enjoy hearing it. This talent exists in every element of our population, from students to businessmen and housewives. I'm bringing together some of the most practiced performers to present an evening of song that will be enjoyable to all listeners."

The program that Alex is planning will present the best of each performer's repertory. Then the audience will be invited to join in singing folk songs that are familiar to all, (words will be printed in the program).

"It's the traditional pattern of a hootenanny," says Alex. "Each gives his best and everyone makes some contribution. It's also the true tradition of folk singing. The people right around home—not the professionals—make folk music genuine."

Since the Fries Auditorium has a limited capacity, folk music fans who want to be sure of getting tickets are urged to pick theirs up at the Center immediately.

Fire Damages Roof of Home

An alert Woods public safety officer, while on patrol, saw a fire on the roof of a Woods home on Wednesday, March 18, and promptly called in an alarm. Firefighters were able to put out the blaze before the damage became extensive.

Patrolman William Duster, while patrolling in Oxford road, observed flames on the roof of the home of the P. J. Perrones, 1640 Oxford. He radioed in the alarm.

Public safety officers arrived with all equipment, but needed only a booster line to put out the fire. Damage was confined to about 12 feet of wooden shingles. A few joists were seared by the heat.

The roof was ignited by escaping sparks from the chimney, the result of burning rubbish in a basement incinerator, it was disclosed.

The University of Michigan was the first U.S. university to offer courses in automotive engineering, in 1913.

Farms Market Damaged by Fire

A fire broke out at the Farms Market, 355 Fisher road, Wednesday, March 18, and was reported at 12:32 p.m. to the City Police Department, who responded with all apparatus. A second report came in at 12:36 and Grosse Pointe Farms Fire Department sent a pumper and aerial and eight men. The fire, which was confined mainly to the rear room and offices, was brought under control within 30 minutes, but firemen continued to fight the blaze for three hours and 23 minutes.

When the firemen arrived, the store was full of black smoke and the back room was ablaze, especially toward the ceiling. Firemen knocked out the front windows and chopped open the garage door at the rear of the store. It was also necessary to use bolt cutters to open the steel bar doors, as the store was unoccupied at the time the fire was discovered. The Farms Market closes at noon on Wednesdays.

The heat was so intense in the rear of the store that the buttons on the adding machines and check machines were completely melted; however, there was little or no heat in the front part of the store. Firemen cut holes in the ceiling of the entire building in order to allow the smoke to escape and to get at the false ceiling where the fire seemed to be concentrated. None of the office records in the files or safe was damaged.

The origin of the fire is undetermined, but owner William Moir theorized that it started in one of the freezer units. He was doubtful that the blaze was caused by faulty wiring, since all the wiring had been checked just three weeks ago.

The Market plans to be back in business about a week or ten days from the date of the fire. On the day following the blaze, the front windows were already installed and an inventory was begun on the foods in the market.

The fire was discovered by two teenagers who ran to the nearby Schettler Drug Store and informed pharmacist Doris Klosky of the smoke pouring out of the Market. She immediately phoned the City Fire Department.

Park Appoints Four Canvassers

The Park council appointed four citizens to the Board of Canvassers, at a regular meeting held on Monday, March 23. The appointees, who will serve without pay, are two each from the two major political parties in the State.

Representing the Democratic Party on the Board are: Michael J. O'Neill of 812 Barrington, whose term will expire on December 31, 1967; and Marie H. Murphy of 1010 Buckingham, who will serve to December 31, 1965.

The Republican representatives are: Aileen Kurtz of 1230 Bishop road, who will serve to December 31, 1967; and Charles S. Tompkins of 15985 Windmill Pointe drive, whose tenure will expire on December 31, 1965.

It was disclosed that 10 applications for the posts, seven from Republicans and three from Democrats, were received, from which the four appointees were selected.

The appointments comply with the new Michigan Constitution which requires that each municipality, regardless of its charter or ordinance stipulations, must appoint two qualified persons from each of the major parties to serve on the local Board of Canvassers to certify votes after each election.

TACHOMETER STOLEN

Muhall Liess, 18, of 4851 Three Mile drive, Detroit, personally complained to Farms police on Saturday, March 21, that while his car was parked in the free lot at the rear of Muir road, someone broke into it and stole his tachometer, valued at $40. The thief broke the vent window to enter the car, he said.

Woods Offers Wide Variety Of Means for Recreation

By Don J. Hallmann
Director of Parks-Recreation
When it comes to recreation and relaxation, whether you're six or sixty, the City of Grosse Pointe Woods has more fun for everyone, every season of the year. From hockey to horseshoes, sailing to swimming, spring through winter...there's always something to do, some place to go...for every one of its 19,876 residents. A fine natural location, overlooking the southeastern reaches of Lake St. Clair, gives it good sound grounds for "fun", certainly; but a sharp recreation program makes the difference in the degree of it.

Operating on this principle, the Woods Recreation Department has a dynamic program which "moves" all year, providing and maintaining the facilities which make life enjoyable. To see just how much fun a city can have, come take a tour with me through seasons and scenes in the "Woods".

We'll start with summer, at Lakefront Park, a 43-acre area which is the largest of the four city-owned parks. Here, under conditions that are fairly idyllic, the scope of activities is fabulous. Commencing from May 1, the launching of the boating season also marks the beginning of the city-wide summer program.

Suddenly, docks begin to swarm with life. There are 150 of them, fully protected at all times and lighted at night for convenience. Two launching ramps accommodate owners who trailer their boats to the park.

Wonderful times lie ahead on the water for the "boat people." Cruises to nearby points of interest with friends and neighbors, highly competitive sail boat races sponsored by the Grosse Pointe Woods Boat Club, a regatta and review as the season's finale, with awards for the most, gala and original boat displays.

From the bustling dock area, we see a canal threading its pretty way through the park past many a pleasure-packed scene. The picnic area, for instance...where trees afford just enough shade for well-spaced tables and charcoal-lit stoves; where there are just enough squirrels, raccoons and rabbits to lend a rustic air for summer, spring and autumn cook-outs too.

Swings, slides and play equipment are here to delight the children; while farther away outdoor sports of all sorts are in full sway on the playground area: tawberball, baseball, softball, tennis, shuffleboard, horse-shoes...and then some! The soccer league kicks off and runs through June.

And for those whose particular pursuit of happiness is "spectating," the magnificent view of sky, sails and water which spans all, is a constant thrill.

On May 31 the feature attraction of the park and the pride of the city opens with a splash. It is the Grosse Pointe Woods Community swimming pool, a spectacular 300-foot-in-diameter aquatic marvel...to rival some of the largest and finest swimming areas in the country. It holds 1,031,300 gallons of crystal clear water which is completely filtered four times daily; and with a fresh coat of turquoise paint on its new-season face sparkles in the sunlight like a cylindrically perfect lake.

Emulating a lake, its gradually receding sides spread out like a fan with a crescent-shaped deep area at the top for both high and low diving boards.

The spacious shallow areas, roped off by bright marker lines, are marvelous for tots, as well as providing teaching room enough for as many as 10 classes at one period of time. Swimming instruction for beginners through advanced and lifesaving classes are taught, for the most by part-time physical education teachers from the city's school system.

The entire recreation program for the year, actually, is staffed and supervised by instructors of this caliber. Experience and ability pays off. Good proof is the total of 558 residents, children and adults included, who received Red Cross cards for proficiency in completing swimming courses last summer.

So popular is this sport, that to keep tempo with the competitive trend of the times, a regulation AAU 25-meter length swimming area within the huge recreation department's latest accomplishment. Ten marked lanes, extended between two concrete starting line docks, form the area. Here future stars can train during the day and shine eventually in the annual city recreation meet in August.

Coveted ribbons and medals are awarded winners, age 8 through 16, who are eligible then to participate in the annual Inter-City finals amongst the Grosse Pointe boroughs; the last "splash"...which the "Woods" has won and hosted for the past two years.

The charming Spanish-mode bath house adjoining the pool has plenty of accommodation room for such an event, with showers, checking facilities, excellent staff supervision. Some 211,587 residents and guests pass through its portals each summer. In winter it serves a dual purpose as a heated oasis for skaters and ice-fishers.

More fun things at Lakefront: a tot's spray pool, adjacent to the big pool, full of fanciful stone sculptures—turtles, bears, giraffes; plus a play boat for full-sail imaginations.

Something for the boys...and the tom-girls...is an actual P-54 jet fighter plane of the Korean war, brought piecemeal from nearby Selfridge Air-base, and assembled at the park. Pure thrill, from nose cone to exhaust, for young space-age adventurers.

Two city busses, donated by the local Kiwanis Club, transport youngsters to the park area, gratis, too!

Now, let's swing into the center of the city and visit Ghesquiere Park. Here tennis is the reigning sport. Lessons are given on the two lighted courts for beginners and advanced racquet fans. As the season blends into autumn, final playoffs are held, and a number of trophies are awarded the most proficient.

Throughout the summer many activities, all supervised, fill the recreational needs of residents in this area: Swings, slides, tawberball, chess, arts and crafts, checkers, etc.

Walk onto any playfield of any park area or school athletic field in the "Woods" in mid-summer and the cry of "Play Ball!" is a consistent sound. Thanks to a city board of education and recreation department who believe that "diamonds are a boy's (and dad's) best friend," 15 hardball diamonds get full play. Close to a thousand boys plus parent-mentors take part in Little League and Babe Ruth baseball teams.

Chene Trombley Park, located in the northwest part of the city, is next on our agenda. Here, every sport, with the exception of swimming, is enjoyed to the fullest. A "Magic Square" suitable for basketball, tennis, and other sidewalk games, takes in a multitude of activities.

Adults and senior residents sparkle on the new shuffleboard facilities. Sixty to 70 years old seniors not only enjoy themselves but are often seen giving "tips" on techniques to interested onlookers. Horseshoe courts, located at all parks, are also a favorite of the elder echelon.

The city Community Building is Chene Trombley's exclusive feature. Here, a supervised fall program moves right through to crepus-blooming time in spring. Ballet classes for girls, age 5 through 15 years, are filled to capacity three days a week. Boys in junior and senior high tone up their muscles in the Grosse Pointe Weight Lifting Club. Arts and Crafts classes keep 4th through 6th grade children busy with creative projects such as: halloween pumpkin carving, Christmas tree ornaments, etc.

Come the dead of winter, the Community Club building is a living joy. With a wood shop, kitchen, two large recreation rooms, it has plenty of activity space for some 200 persons.

The Junior Canteen, held weekly from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m., keeps the young set entertained and busy having good clean fun. Girls and boys of the 7th through 9th grades can dance, play ping-pong, shoot billiards, drink coke, socialize all under astute adult supervision.

Youngsters aren't the only people to enjoy themselves in winter, either. There's a great indoor life planned for all. In cooperation with the Grosse Pointe School system, the recreation department provides an active, attractive nightly program in the fully equipped gymnasiums of five public schools.

Webster's definition of recreation is "...a refreshment of strength and spirits after toil" certainly rings a bell with the men of the city who come out en masse for the weekly gym program. After a vigorous workout with a volley ball or basketball in the evening, they can take the next day at the office almost as easily as Grant took Richmond...probably easier.

Yoga Classes Start April 1

Beginning Wednesday, April 1, Yoga instruction will be offered in two classes on Wednesday evenings at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center. The first class beginning at 7:30 will be for those who have had no prior instruction in Yoga. The 8:30 class will be reserved for those who have been studying before.

The course will be taught by George Johnston, Jr., assisted by Mrs. Johnston. Mr. Johnston is a graduate of Yale, where he studied Comparative Religions and became fascinated by the philosophy and daily exercise of Yoga. He continued his studies in Yoga with the Self Realization Foundation which has a chapter in Detroit, from which group he received a certificate of instruction.

Yoga, as taught at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial is not a mystic Eastern philosophy, but is simply a regimen of mental and physical exercises designed to relieve the tensions of fatigue of daily, modern, fast-paced living. This is something both the housewife, businessman and student can study with benefits. It is something that can be mastered by young and old alike, and leads to a far more restful, poised and peaceful state of mind and body.

This course is presented at the Center for a nominal fee of $10 for a series of 10 lessons. Advance enrollment is requested.

St. Jude Card Party

The annual Easter Monday Card Party, "Spring in Review," sponsored by the St. Jude Rosary Altar Society, will be held Monday, March 30, at 8 o'clock, in the St. Jude Gym in East Seven Mile road. There will be prizes and refreshments. Admission is $1.25. For further information, contact general chairman Mrs. Sam Arthimire, DR 1-2925.

Since 1947, the "Woody" Rosenthal family, of 33170 Hampshire in Livonia, have bought six cars, a garage, two TV sets, a refrigerator, landscaping, and a college education—all with the help of fast, low bank rate loans from Detroit Bank & Trust. They also keep their checking and savings accounts with us—look to us for business financing and trust service—came to us for a mortgage loan on their new house. No wonder the Rosenthals, all nine of them, feel right at home in our Warren-Greenfield office. We'd like to serve your family, too.

Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center 1964 FAMILY PARTICIPATION CAMPAIGN

THE CENTER OFFERS YOU

For Community Service — A meeting place for any Pointe organization — An auditorium and banquet hall — A cancer center — Free blood in emergencies — Free loan of hospital equipment — Scouting.

For Cultural Satisfaction — An art center — Concerts — Stimulating lectures — Motion pictures — Lessons.

For Fun — Luncheons, dinners — A garden center — Hobby, special interest groups — Dances, parties — Reunions.

A MAN WHO came only recently to Grosse Pointe gave a most apt description of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center. He called it "the family room" for the five Pointes.

This gathering place for the people of the Grosse Pointes is a focus for culture, for fun, for learning, for relaxation. It answers the needs of all ages and many interests.

The new William Fries Auditorium has been in full use for more than a year. This handsome building, with Alger House, provides unmatched community center facilities for the events which last year drew more than 150,000 to the Center.

Our need is $60,000. Our hope is that every Grosse Pointe family will share in support of this institution which we think is without peer in function, size and facilities. Last year, as usual, we met our goal. This year we not only want to meet our goal but, more importantly, to broaden support for the Center so that virtually every family takes part.

The Center has something for everybody. It needs something from everybody.

YOUR PERSONAL INVITATIONS WILL ARRIVE SHORTLY. WON'T YOU SEND YOUR CHECK BY RETURN MAIL?

Colorado Choir To Sing Here

The 55-voice Colorado College Choir will present a concert of Choral Music at Christ Church, 61 Grosse Pointe boulevard, Sunday, April 5, at 8 o'clock, instead of Monday, April 6 as announced in last week's News. The error in the date was made in the news release submitted to this paper.

Major works of the program will be the Motet No. 1, "Sing Ye To the Lord," by J. S. Bach, and Opus 13: Frieze Auf Erden by Arnold Schonberg.

The Choir, representing the Colorado College, Colorado Springs, Col., is currently on its fourth annual tour, a 5,000-mile trip to the East Coast. More than a dozen concerts have been scheduled by the group.

Conductor Donald Jenkins holds two undergraduate degrees from Oberlin College and a Master of Science Degree in Choral Conducting from the Juilliard School of Music in New York City. He is Assistant Professor of Music and conductor of the choir and Opera Workshop at the Colorado College. His choral experience ranges from work in summer theaters to church and professional choir directing.

Monday's concert, to which the public is invited, consists of the following works: the Bach and Schonberg numbers, Jerusalem by Biondi, Crucifixus by Lotti, Psalm 116 by Schein, Pater Noster by Verdi, plus a series of short Easter anthems and Negro spirituals.

The concert, including intermission, will last approximately one hour and fifteen minutes.

All Republicans Bid to Parley

Republican-Citizens 14th District, urge all Republicans to attend the 14th District Convention Wednesday, April 8, at Jackson Intermediate High School, 4180 Marlborough, Detroit.

Kenneth Kurtz, 1230 Bishop road, 1962-63 chairman of "Republican-Citizens 14th," is the "Citizens" candidate for permanent convention chairman.

"Citizens believe," announced Jack Matheus, 1563 Edmonton drive, present chairman of the growing grass-roots movement, "that the Republican precinct delegates should choose their convention chairman, and then the decision is made as to whom shall wisely represent all Republicans living in this district, at the State and national conventions."

"All thinking Republicans should have true full representation of their beliefs on Republican candidates and policies. What is the point in having precinct delegates and a district convention if the titular leaders in our area claim publicly already we are for one candidate, and one only, at the national convention in July, at San Francisco?"

"Not all the candidates for Presidential nomination on the Republican ticket are officially announced or known; decision-influencing events between now and next July, and November, have not yet taken place; all candidates' stands on all events and issues aren't yet known; and yet there are those in this district who are supposed to represent all Republicans here who claim we have made up our minds!"

Grosse Pointe High School to Expand Parking Areas

The parking facilities at the Grosse Pointe High School will be expanded.

The area between the parking lot on Grosse Pointe boulevard and the edge of the main building will be blacktopped, according to Principal Jerry J. Gerich.

The area between the curb and the fence along Fisher road near the football field will also be included in the new parking plans, and construction will begin as soon as weather permits.

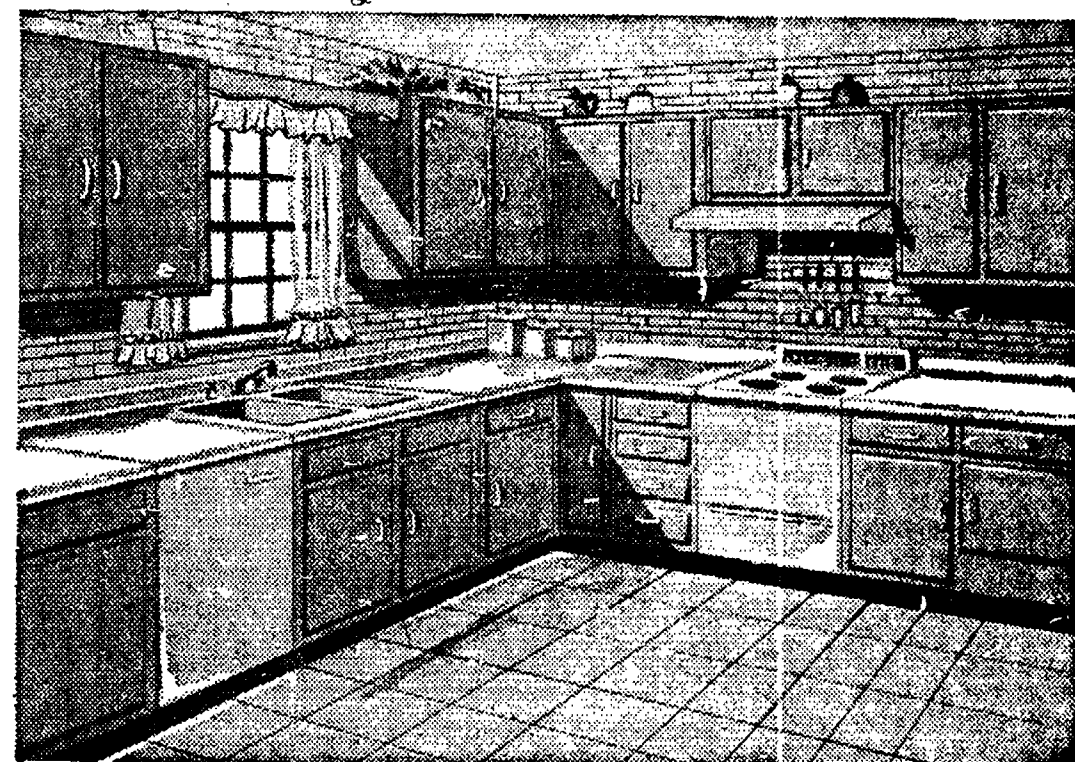

The parking spaces should be ready for use by next fall.

The University of Michigan was the first institution of higher learning in this country to establish a professorship in transportation engineering, 1922.

7 Cases Heard In City Court

Seven cases were heard before Judge Malcolm Sutherland in City Court March 10.

Anieta Mae Gies of 5941 Neff road, and Patricia Coll of 4346 Nottingham, Detroit, were heard in separate cases of reckless driving leading to an accident. Both cases were dismissed because the witnesses refused to sign complaints.

H. K. Mason of 830 St. Clair was fined $2 for improper parking.

Irene Gracey of 1338 Grayton pled not guilty to a charge of failure to stop at a stop street. She was found guilty and the sentence was suspended.

Charles Johnson Jr., of 471 Rivard boulevard, pled guilty to the charge of harboring a nuisance and was fined $10.

Margaret Julia Irwin of 904 Pemberton was accused of reckless driving leading to an accident. She pled not guilty but was found guilty of driving without due care.

Andrew J. Astalos of 22021 Langs, St. Clair Shores, was also accused of reckless driving leading to an accident, but the case was dismissed for lack of witnesses.

Students Hear Talk on Africa

Seventh grade students in Larry Byrnes' geography classes at Brownell Junior High School were visited recently by Harrison Mujia, a graduate student at Wayne State University. Mr. Mujia is a native of Kenya, East Africa, and plans to return there to work in the foreign ministry after completion of his studies here.

As a guest speaker, Mr. Mujia proved to be an interesting addition to the regular course of study. He discussed African topography, climate, and political boundaries, with emphasis on Kenya.

"Most Africans would like an alignment policy with both the United States and Russia," he stated, "thus gaining benefits from both, but making no commitments to either." The danger, however, lies in the relationship between the two donors, for, as he quoted in Swahili, "When two big elephants fight, it's the grass underneath that gets trampled."

His discussion stimulated questions from the students, particularly about the livelihood and customs of the continent and its people. Clothing, food, school requirements, and polygamy were topics raised in the classroom, thereby taking Social Studies out of the textbook and making it a living, breathing subject to be analyzed by today's teen agers.

See Nurseryman For Best Advice

It's that time of year again so the "Ask Your Nurseryman First" program designed to protect home owners and gardeners from cheats and frauds in the sale of nursery stock is being repeated by the Michigan Association of Nurserymen in cooperation with Attorney General Frank Kelley and Department of Agriculture Director George S. McIntyre.

Assistant Attorney General Stanley Steinborn of the Consumer Protection Division and C. A. Boyer, chief of the Agriculture Department Plant Industry Division, join with M.A.N. in urging home gardeners to check with their local nurserymen. Plant Industry inspectors or county agricultural agents before they are victimized by high pressure salesmen using fancy names for ordinary shrubs and plants and making exaggerated claims for their plant material.

"All consumer complaints, including verbal misrepresentations, are reviewed by the Consumer Protection Division with other state agencies concerned and appropriate action is taken or recommended," said Attorney General Kelley.

"Mr. Boyer and his assistants have expert knowledge about any type or kind of plant material," said Mr. Steinborn. "It is the experience of both our agencies that purchasers who deal with established local merchants can see what they are buying and thus are not misled by photographs or lurid verbal pictures of climbing vine peaches, giant climbing strawberries, 1,000 roses on one bush, or like exaggerations.

"One cannot expect to get high quality stock at ridiculously low prices," said Boyer. "Purchasers should always pay particular attention to guarantees and should demand a certificate of inspection with the stock as their assurance that it has passed inspection for insects and disease.

"Local nurserymen usually are familiar with local conditions and the varieties likely to do well in an area, and their advice can be helpful," he said.

"There are some reliable mail order houses but there is no substitute for the expert service on selection, planting and care of plants that your local nurseryman can give you," said M.A.N. Executive Secretary Victor C. Beresford. "He wants to protect your interests so he can continue to serve you. That's why we advise—Ask Your Nurseryman First."

Licavoli was trained in the use and care of survey equipment, computation of survey information, map reading and communications procedures.

The 24-year-old soldier entered the Army in November 1963 and completed basic combat training at Fort Ord, Calif.

He is a 1958 graduate of Salpointe High School, Tucson, Ariz., and attended the University of Arizona, Tucson.

Sergeant Promoted

Ken George, son of Mr. and Mrs. George, 1805 Broadstone, has been promoted from sergeant to staff sergeant in the Reserve Officers' Training Corps at Kemper Military School, Booneville, Mo. He is squad leader in company F.

He was promoted in an order issued by Maj. B. H. Purcell, Jr., assigned to Kemper as head of its ROTC program, with the concurrence of the school president and administrative board.

ELIZABETH TAYLOR and Richard Burton were married in Montreal by a Protestant minister Sunday. The ceremony was performed by the pastor of the Unitarian Church of the Messiah at the Ritz-Carlton Hotel. The couple flew to Montreal from Toronto where Burton is appearing in a production of "Hamlet." They chartered a plane for themselves and their 10 guests for the wedding.

Thieves Operate On Parked Cars

Two cases of vandalism from a parked auto were reported to City Police last week.

Arthur King, of 17449 Maumee avenue claimed March 17 that the spare tire, wheel and hydraulic jack were missing from his car which had been parked in front of his home since 4 p.m. March 16.

In a second incident, John Walker of 391 Washington road said that someone entered his car which was unlocked and parked in front of his home March 19 and took a light blue wool blanket, valued at $10, and an X-ray View Box, green in color, and valued at $33.75.

Library Friends Meet April 1

The final program of the Friends of the Library in the 1963-64 season is scheduled for Wednesday evening, April 1, at the Central Library at 8 p.m. Lawrence A. Fleishman, a man who speaks with great authority on art, will be the speaker of the evening.

Mr. Fleishman's topic will be "Art Is an Essential Part of Our Lives." Using dramatic color slides to illustrate his points, he will relate the often unrecognized influence of color, design and artistic interpretation to modern living.

Mr. Fleishman is president of the Archives of American Art, President of the Arts Commission of Detroit, and a member of the Fine Arts Committee for the White House. He and Mrs. Fleishman are noted collectors also.

As is the pleasant custom at Friends' public meetings, an informal reception with refreshments will be held in the main reading room of the library after Mr. Fleishman's talk.

All interested Grosse Pointers are cordially invited to this unusually interesting program next Wednesday.

Geese Arrive At Jack Miner's

The spring migration of the Canada Geese has arrived at the Jack Miner Bird Sanctuary and will be at its peak during the next three weeks.

The place at Kingsville, Ont., is open to the public every day except Sundays where Jack Miner's three sons welcome visitors. The best time to be there is from late afternoon until dark to see the afternoon and evening flight.

Many geese can be seen wearing aluminum bands placed on their legs by the Miner family over a period of years which proves that the birds come back to this place of safety year after year and is evidence of the conservation value of the Jack Miner Sanctuary in preserving a breeding or nest egg supply of waterfowl.

The place is not commercialized in any way. No admission fee is charged—no, even a tip is allowed and nothing is allowed to be sold—not even a bottle of pop. When Jack Miner was alive he used to say and say it very reverently—"In the name of God let us have one place on earth where no money changes hands, and let that be my home."

GPHS Students Visit Governor

Foreign exchange students at Grosse Pointe High School had a look at American government in action when they visited Governor George Romney and the State legislature in Lansing recently.

The six visiting students are here under the auspices of the American Field Exchange and the Council of Churches. Birta Larsen from Sweden, Ria Brower from the Netherlands, Jo Kongmouang from Thailand, Shajha Motazedi from Iran, Jorge Alburquerque from Brazil, Eiji Kawamoto from Japan, and Dolly Rios from Bolivia, also met and talked with Senator Charles Youngblood, Jr. (D-District 1) and Senator Frank D. Beadle (R-District 34).

Other students in the group were James Hanna, president of the GPHS Student Association, Susan Seder, Susan O'Connell, Ann Moltzau, Clair Wilcoxson, Carol Cruikshank, Ann Noecker, Roger Frye, Dave Hookanson, and Jim Stoetzer. Mrs. Arthur Watts, Mrs. D. Hookanson, and Mrs. Jack Frye accompanied the touring students.

Pistons' Coach Speaker At GPHS Sports Banquet

Grosse Pointe Charley Wolf, coach of the Pistons, Detroit's professional basketball team, discussed on "Sports Life" at the Spring Sports Banquet sponsored by the Grosse Pointe High Dads' Club on Tuesday evening, March 24, at 6:30 p.m. at the High School cafeteria.

Dads' Club president Minard Mumaw reported that High School coaches of varsity basketball and swimming awarded letters to winners at the evening affair. Intra-mural athletics also received recognition for volleyball and basketball prowess. Varsity Basketball Coach Chuck Hollosy and Reserve Coach John Blondin, as well as Bob Kinnear, Varsity Swimming Coach, and Reserve Coach John Chase were honored guests. Cheerleaders and their sponsor, Miss Jeri Mulson, were invited as special guests of honor.

In addition, a sportsman's tip-of-the-hat was given to instructors Ed Wernet, Dave LaDuke, John Chase and Ernie Bauer for the job they have been doing as Coordinators of Intra-Mural Sports.

Charley Wolf, main speaker on Tuesday night, is a graduate of Xavier University, Cincinnati. He played professional baseball with the Cincinnati Reds Farm System; and was basketball coach at Villa Madonna College in Cincinnati. Before coming to Detroit last June to coach the Pistons, Charley Wolf was basketball coach of the Cincinnati Royals. Charley's final game this season was Wednesday, March 18.

Time to Start War on Flies

On the first warm day you may find a house fly which spent the winter in your home. Use a fly swatter on that lone flitter before it sets up house-keeping.

Everyone knows the worldwide common house fly is a constant household insect control problem. Everyone should know that it carries such diseases as typhoid fever, tuberculosis and dysentery.

Its maggots live in the filth of garbage, manures, dead animals and rotting plants. Adult flies carry this filth to your face, food and hands.

You can keep flies out of your home if you begin now by getting rid of their breeding places. Dispose of all manures including pet manure—rotting plants and other waste material in and around your house.

Get rid of sewage and garbage regularly and promptly. Keep a tight lid on that garbage container.

A screen with a hole in it is little better than no screen at all. Repair house screens now and install them on doors early, especially if there are young children in the house.

Automatic door closers will keep the screen doors closed when children are running in and out of the house while playing.

You may not need to use insecticides this summer if you practice fly control in the spring.

William R. Kolley On Aircraft Carrier

William R. Kolley, airman apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Kolley of Beausfield avenue, is serving aboard the anti-submarine, aircraft carrier USS Yorktown presently undergoing overhaul in the Naval Shipyard, Long Beach, Calif.

On March 10 Yorktown conducted preliminary sea trials after spending time in dry dock. Sea trials for the carrier will be held on a larger scale in April. During sea trials, the ship is checked to see that appropriate repairs have been made to enable the ship to carry out her mission.

When operating with the fleet, Yorktown is the hub of an anti-submarine "Hunter-Killer" group composed of surface, subsurface and air units designed to find and destroy enemy submarines.

The tax on a gallon of gasoline, counting both state and federal levies, averages 10 cents.

St. Paul Lakers Capture State Class C Cage Crown

watched as the St. Paul senior pumped in 32 points with his deadly jump shots and accurate free throw shooting.

Gaylord stayed with St. Paul until the final minute of the first half. After holding a 14-11 margin in the first quarter, Gaylord lost its lead when Bigham hit a pair of foul shots, and Martin sank a jumper to put the Lakers ahead, 19-16.

Bigham Comes Through

The Northern Michigan team trailed by one point, 24-23, but Bigham again hit for two free throws and a jump shot in the last minute that sent the Lakers to the locker room at halftime with a 28-23 lead.

It was Bigham's free throw shooting in the final quarter that kept St. Paul in front, mostly by only four points. He put in nine charity tosses in 10 tries and added a basket. Martin got the team's only other points in the period on a field goal.

With a little more than a minute left in the game, Gaylord narrowed the margin to 35-31, but Bigham was fouled twice and pumped four straight free throws on one-and-one situations to wrap it up.

In Saturday's triumph, Bigham and Martin led the way, sweeping past Byron Center, at Jenison Fieldhouse, to take the crown. The two combined for 44 points, Martin collecting 23, sinking 11 baskets and a free throw; and Bigham making 21 on six field goals and nine of 10 foul shots.

Take Early Lead

At the onset, St. Paul moved to a 7-0 lead on Martin's two field goals and free throw and a pair of foul shots by Bigham. The Lakers maintained a comfortable edge throughout the half, took a 13-8 margin in the second quarter and clung to a 28-25 edge at the intermission.

However, while dominating the action, St. Paul encountered foul trouble, when Amey picked up his fourth foul with 3:45 left in the first half and Mike Berry was charged with his third with 3:23 left.

Both eventually fouled out. The Lakers sank 12 of 28 out court shots to Byron Center's seven of 27.

At the start of the third quarter, St. Paul rolled up a 10-point bulge, 36-26, as Bigham made two baskets and two free throws.

Byron Center fans occasionally booed when Bigham and his brother, Bill, resorted to stalling tactics.

Fine Ball Control

In demonstrating their finesse in handling the ball, St. Paul held Byron Center to only six points in the final quarter.

Bigham sank two free shots to open the Lakers' scoring action and closed the game with a pair from the foul line. The team took a 41-33 margin into the final period.

St. Paul took its first State Title in 1961. Only two other Catholic schools have won Class C State Titles—St. Andrew in 1951, and Orchard Lake St. Mary in 1953.

The victory gave Coach Lauer's team a final record of 23-2. Byron Center finished with 18-5.

Following the presentation of the trophy, Lauer's players carried him on their shoulders to the locker room and tossed him into the shower, suit and all.

Babe Ruthers Must Register

The final day of registration for the Grosse Pointe Woods-Shores Babe Ruth League will be Thursday, March 26.

All boys who are permanent residents of either Grosse Pointe Woods or Shores and between the ages of 13 and 15 are urged to join. Registration will be at Parcels Junior High School at 7 p.m. Boys are reminded to bring their birth certificate and $7.50 registration fee.

The Board of Governors has been working since last fall to insure a successful program for 1964 and parents are urged to have their boys join in this program.

Fred Patee Helps WSU Swim Team

Fred Patee, who has helped Wayne State University's 1964 swimming team set a 4-0 won-lost record in Presidents' Athletic Conference competition and capture first place in the PAC championships for the third consecutive time.

Patee, who competes in the 60 and 100 yard free style events, was also a consistent point-getter all season and helped lead the team to a 4-6 over-all dual meet record.

The six foot, 195 pound sophomore graduated from Grosse Pointe High School in 1959. He prepped under coach Paul Wheeler and placed fifth in Class "A" state competition in his senior year.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Patee, live at 1013 Kensington in Grosse Pointe Park.

George E. Planck With Seventh Fleet

Marine Private First Class Richard G. Planck, son of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Planck of 351 Neff road is participating with the Third Battalion, Third Marine Division in a coordinated U.S.-Nationalist Chinese amphibious exercise called "Operation Backpack" being conducted off the coast of Taiwan.

Backpack is an exercise to test the amphibious capabilities and readiness of the forces of the Seventh Fleet and the Nationalist Chinese Navy. The exercise, with over 40,000 men and 140 units participating, will culminate in an amphibious assault on beaches of southern Taiwan, and will demonstrate the effectiveness of the United States Seventh Fleet to rapidly move a significant combat force to a troubled area in order to assist an ally.

Prior to the assault, aircraft of the Seventh Fleet will soften beach defenses. In addition, support ships will conduct anti-submarine warfare exercises and the area surrounding the beachhead will be cleared of any obstructions and mines.

Little League Breaks Record

By Mel Snyder

The Woods-Shores Little League recorded the largest registration in the league's 11-year history, taking place last Wednesday at Parcels Junior High School.

Registration co-chairmen Don Wood and Dan O'Brien have reported that although a large staff was on hand to handle the eager baseball players, they were literally swamped for several hours.

Don Leahy and the Board of Governors have made plans for a second registration to be held April 4 to accommodate those who missed regular registration night.

The Woods-Shores Little League had already made plans to expand the league to 46 teams to handle the expected record registration.

Tryouts for all boys are to start April 11 for all age groups, April 13 for 12-year-olds, April 14 for 11-year-olds, April 15 for those 10-year-olds, April 16 for the 9-year-olds and April 18 for all age groups.

For additional information call Little League secretary Bruce Bockstanz at TU 1-5342.

Campus Controversy

Announcement that the Board of Education wants to purchase a piece of property in Grosse Pointe Woods as the site for a second senior high school building has precipitated a verbal battle that promises to grow in both size and heat before the issue is finally resolved. It is all quite understandable.

The Grosse Pointe Woods Council lost no time getting into the fight, calling a special meeting to set up defenses against having some 30 acres of land, that could be developed into valuable residential property, taken off its tax rolls. The city fathers would doubtless be vilified as neglecting their obligations to their citizens if they failed to make such an effort.

Of course the main objections to the purchase of the Vandenburg farm in Vernier road come from those who own property in the immediate vicinity. This, too, is understandable. There are certain disadvantages in living too close to a public institution, though we haven't found anything insurmountable during the dozen years we have lived within a block of the High School. Organizations are being formed, doorbells rung and letters written to consolidate the offense against the educators.

The members of the Board of Education are being castigated and charged with overt manipulations and high-handed action without properly informing the public. If these charges are true, we can see some excuse for the maligned. As we said, practically no one wants to see a school erected on his doorstep, but schools we must have if we are to discharge our duty to our young. Whatever site was selected by the school trustees, the same pandemonium would be produced.

Some of the letters and phone calls we have received have pictured the Vanderbush brothers, Ed and Frank, owners of the property under dispute, as being crushed and desolate over the proceedings, as being forced, at an advanced age, out of their home. Other information, including talks with the Vanderbushes, indicates this is far from the truth. No kinder, more respected gentlemen than these brothers have ever been known in the Pointe community. They abhor the idea of being in the center of an argument. They have been negotiating with the school officials for some time, and of course there is no intention of depriving them of their home. Under the proposed plan they could continue to live there and work a portion of their farm as long as they desire.

The question which makes itself heard is... what if the Board of Education had made known its hopes of acquiring the Vanderbush farm? We shudder to think of the pressure that would have been put on the owners by these same people who are now using sob-sister tactics to protect their own interests.

We respect the feelings and rights of all engaged in this controversy. Valid accusations can be hurled by both sides, and beyond the question of a doubt every last one of them, with a good many invalid ones thrown in, will be hurled before the fight ends. But let's keep the bitterness and unwarranted recrimination as far removed as possible. While giving every consideration to those who zealously strive to preserve the sanctity of their homes, to the municipal officials who exert their power in the interests of their citizens, and to the school officials who are devoting their talents and time to a civic endeavor that is far too frequently thankless, it is devoutly to be wished that the end result will be the continued maintenance of the school system which is nationally hailed, and in which we all take inordinate pride. All things worth while must be paid for. Sometimes the payment calls for sacrifice; sometimes cash; sometimes both. All of us are involved in this.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Mr. Edgar,

Just a note to commend the Grosse Pointe Highway Dept. Snow Clearing recently. The worst day we've had this winter, this winter.

To make this understandable, we live on Moran Court, two homes set back from Moran, in a small court, and when we have snow, we're usually forgotten.

But that night, around 11 p.m., I was cheered to hear the snow plough entering our court. The driver did such an excellent job. I went out and asked him to come in for coffee. He said: "Thanks, Missus, but if I ever went indoors I'd go to sleep." He'd been up early Tues. a.m. So I told him I so much appreciated the good job he had done.

I wanted his name, which he gave me, diffidently: Jim Brown, G.P.F. Highway Dept.

Sincerely,
Elizabeth C. Bachle

Dear Sir:

Recently, the Wayne County Medical Society sponsored an ad in the Grosse Pointe News, headed by the question "Can You Afford a 16% Increase In Your Payroll Tax?" The Detroit Metropolitan Council of Senior Citizens has publicly taken exception to the veracity of our "16% increase" figure, which refers to the increase required to finance the proposed King-Anderson Bill (H.R. 3920). They termed it "phony arithmetic," noting that the King-Anderson Bill calls for an increase of "only 1 1/4 of 1%" in the payroll tax.

The one-quarter of one percent increase in the tax RATE may seem like an insignificant amount. It is not. We are dealing with a tax increase of major proportion. The 16% defers to the amount of tax to everyone who makes $100 a week or more, and for his employer. To illustrate one of its inequities, the $5,200 a year employee would be required to pay as much as the $52,000 a year executive. This is not "phony arithmetic" but the cold monetary fact.

These facts further reveal that King-Anderson would increase the combined employer-employee Social Security tax rate from the present 7 1/4% (on the first $4,800 of income) to 7 3/4% (on the first $5,200 of income) beginning January 1, 1965. This would result in a tax payment totaling $403. This figure represents an increase of $55, which is 16% higher than the present tax of $348.

It should be remembered that the payroll tax referred to is the INITIAL cost, as figured by the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare. Insurance actuaries have told the Congress that the initial cost, projected by the present Administration, is completely unrealistic. These insurance specialists assert that the actual initial cost would be at least twice as much. Wilbur Cohen, Assistant Secretary to HEW, told the Senate Finance Committee that he anticipates the necessity of eventually raising the payroll tax to 20%, on an income of $9,000, to pay for operation of Social Security.

There are many facets about the King-Anderson Bill which the proponents conventionally fail to mention:

1. They would have you believe that all health needs are covered, when in fact, it would cover less than one-quarter (25%) of the total yearly health care costs of the average aged person.

2. They fail to point out that the services of your physician are not provided for.

3. They fail to indicate that the wage-earner will contribute to medical care for the well-to-do.

4. They do not tell you that there is a $20 charge for outpatient diagnostic service.

5. And finally, they cannot deny that this bill is admittedly only the first step toward eventual socialization of the entire field of medical care.

The Wayne County Medical Society purchased newspapers space in order to bring the facts to those most concerned—the taxpayer. We would not have you misled by distortion, half-truth, and whole-fiction on this vital issue of health care for the elderly.

Most sincerely yours,
John G. Slevin, M.D. Chairman
Public Affairs Committee

To The Editor:—

I see where we Woods residents are about to get it in the neck, again, or should I say pocketbook? I'm talking about this high school that's proposed for construction on the old Vanderbush farm. I don't like the idea.

Selfish interest? Well, that school could be my new next-door neighbor, it's true, but with my size family I could also be its best customer. We need our churches, our parks, and, possibly, this new school, as well. And each of these is going to be neighbor to someone.

But as a Woods resident I feel I've got more than my share of these non-tax-paying neighbors.

We pay for their police and fire protection, maintenance of access and you name it. We also pay the taxes of homeowners who were never able to build on these non-taxed properties.

We, recently, acquired one of these non-taxed neighbors: Liggett School.

It's a fine, exclusive school—and I'm sure all the finest families from the Shores will send their children to the Woods to use it.

They'll use it and we'll pay to keep the snow off of it.

And now there's this new high school. Gosh, I wish the

What Goes On at Your Library

By Virginia Leonard

Are you afraid of being replaced by a machine? Is the world of automation looming over you like an ugly ogre, threatening your job, your creativity, your very uniqueness? I exaggerate, of course, but to many this new mechanized concept of living may give a few uneasy twinges; and certainly the subject of automation is creating ever-increasing interest. Perhaps you would like to know what sort of material our Libraries have in book form.

One of the most recent, timely accounts of what to expect of an automated future is Donald and Eleanor Laird's HOW TO GET ALONG WITH AUTOMATION, which presents a wide variety of information about this subject, and how it will affect one's daily life. An earlier work by W. S. Buckingham—AUTOMATION: ITS IMPACT ON BUSINESS AND PEOPLE—explores and analyzes the most important economic and social consequences of the new technology of automation.

A 1958 book, AUTOMATION, by Carl Dreher, is a popular discussion of automation, describing how it arrived, its application, and its probable future.

One of the earliest volumes (1956) had quite a catchy title: LET ERMA DO IT, by D. O. Woodbury, which gave the full story of automation and attempted to give an understandable explanation of it.

In the field of electronic computers, our Libraries have several titles of interest. The first, by Irving Adler, is THINKING MACHINES: A LAYMAN'S INTRODUCTION TO LOGIC, BOOLEAN ALGEBRA, AND COMPUTERS. Here, a former mathematics instructor at Columbia University explains the theory of computers.

Edmund Berkeley gives us THE COMPUTER REVOLUTION, dating this "revolution" from April, 1944, when the first calculating machine to store tape went into operation at Harvard. The author goes on to demonstrate the differences between man and machine.

John Pfeiffer, in THE THINKING MACHINE, presents a discussion of digital computers—their construction and operation—their capacity for artificial intelligence—their role in the military, political, economic, medical and general research fields.

Another interesting corollary to this topic is I. R. Hoos' AUTOMATION IN THE OFFICE. This is a study of the effects of automation in one of its many applications. He discusses the influences brought to bear on business, office personnel, and individual workers by computers and other data-processing equipment.

For the teen-ager, there is Frank Ross's AUTOMATION: SERVANT TO MAN, which is a relatively simple account for adolescent readers, reviewing the history of mechanization.

In the juvenile field, let us suggest Pauline Arnold's THE AUTOMATION AGE, telling how new automotive measures are applied.

Andrew Bleumle's AUTOMATION discusses this subject on two levels: machines that comprise modern automated systems, and the social and economic changes which follow increased mechanization. This book also has teen-age appeal.

Julian May gives us THE REAL BOOK ABOUT ROBOTS AND THINKING MACHINES—a discussion of machines of all kinds that can make decisions with only a minimum of human help.

And finally, in the realm of juvenile fiction, there is Jay Williams' DANNY DUNN AND THE HOMEWORK MACHINE—a lively and entertaining tale of the predicament three boys get themselves into when they use "Miniatic," Professor Bullfinch's miniature automatic computer. Here, readers will also learn something about electronic calculating machines.

Personally, I do not worry too much about being eventually replaced by a machine; however, just to be on the safe side, I think I'll keep a well-oiled thumb ready, just in case a push-button does take over my duties!

During the next two weeks I shall be vacationing in Florida, but the Column will go on—ably written by two different staff members as Guest Columnists. Upon my return, I shall write a column on National Library Week, April 12-18, as many great and exciting plans are brewing in the way of celebration of this Week in our Grosse Pointe Library.

Also on April 1, at 8:30 p.m. one of the nation's foremost authorities on art will address the Friends of the Grosse Pointe Public Library. Lawrence A. Fleischman will speak on the topic: "Art is an Essential Part of our Lives."

Do stay tuned in—we have many interesting plans for the future!

Businessmen to Lunch At Arts Institute Today

Another in the series of Businessmen's Luncheons, sponsored by the Founders Society, Detroit Institute of Arts, will be held today, beginning with cocktails in the Crystal Room at 12 o'clock noon. Lunch is scheduled in the Rivera Court at 12:30 o'clock.

Continuing the Businessmen's Luncheons' program theme of what to look for in a painting, Guy Palazola, noted artist and teacher at the University of Michigan, will tell what he believes a collector should consider in selecting good works of art.

Board of Education would change their minds and put that school in the Shores, right on the corner of Jefferson and Vernier. It's a much better site; it really is — more room (40 acres), better access, and it's right next to the Fire Department. Seems made to order, doesn't it?

But, you see, there's this problem: The Shores doesn't allow any grade schools, any high schools, any churches or any other non-desirable, non-tax-paying institutions in their community.

In fact, they've been able to establish a "Berlin Wall" along their western boundary to keep Woods residents from gaining access to Jefferson through their neighborhoods. It's true, we do have access through Moorland Drive, better known as "Checkpoint Charlie."

You can't help but admire organization like that. It'll keep the new high school out. After all, two members of the Board of Education (that selects the school sites) are residents of the Shores and one of these is the President of the Board. The Woods (largest of the Grosse Pointe communities) is represented by only one member.

Whose fault is this? It's the fault of every Woods resident who voted in this present Board (or didn't vote, at all).

More importantly, it is the fault of every Woods resident who allows this Board to initiate policies so important to us all in secrecy, under a cloak of public indifference.

You can scratch my name from the list of those who don't bother, don't care. I care plenty, now. I hope it isn't too late.

Sincerely,
CAL SANDBERG

Easter Date Set by Moon

Easter is one of the few things in modern life that goes strictly by the moon.

This is why the Easter date, which falls on the rather early date of March 29 this year, can occur on any one of 35 days, from as early as the equinox to as late as April 25, according to University of Michigan astronomer Hazel M. Losh.

To understand this fluctuation one must recall that the church fathers, gathered in the Council of Nicaea in 325 A.D., decreed that Easter was to be kept on the Sunday following the first full moon that comes after the vernal equinox.

This year the vernal equinox came on March 20. Thus the full moon of March 27 places Easter Sunday on March 29.

Says Professor Losh, "Probably a good reason for choosing the full moon for reckoning Easter was to enable pilgrims to the Holy City to have the advantage of moonlight."

In 1943, Easter came on the latest possible date, April 25, and it will happen again in 2038 A.D. The last time Easter fell on March 22, the very earliest that it can come, was in 1818 and will not come again until 2285.

Next year Easter will be on April 18.

Sound Advice

By Fred Koop, R.Ph.

Never kill a fly with a shotgun, and never use drugs left over from a serious illness for self-treatment of a similar ailment. In the first case, you'll blow your kitchen ceiling to smithereens along with the fly. In the second case—you get the point. You see, modern drugs are highly potent—that's why we dispense them only when your physician prescribes. If you dose yourself with leftovers, you may do serious damage. It's a good idea to pour the remains of old prescriptions down the drain and destroy the bottles.

From Another Pointe of View

By Janet Mueller

Easter is a time of comings and goings, with Pointers headed south, to escape the last icy blasts of winter, or returning north, to welcome spring at home.

A "must" on many local engagement calendars is the A. D. Wilkinsons' traditional Easter Eve dinner dance, planned around the pool at Ca's Coco, their Palm Beach home.

Honoring the Ralph T. McElvynns, of Cloverly road, and the Wilber H. Macks, of Country Club drive, again this year, Mr. and Mrs. Wilkinson's annual black-tie party is a truly fabulous affair—worth, according to everyone on the guest list, a trip to Florida just for the evening.

The William King Howensteins are enjoying the sun at the Lido Biltmore Club in Sarasota, and Mrs. John Chandler, accompanied by her daughter, Joy, said goodbye to Trombley road last Tuesday—the pair will vacation in Miami Beach.

Also Enjoying The Southern Sun . . .

. . . is Mrs. A. F. Nerlinger, who has made her headquarters in St. Petersburg this year instead of Palm Beach.

Prior to her departure, Mrs. Nerlinger was entertained at a luncheon at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club. Hostess for the afternoon party was Mrs. Nerlinger's daughter, Mrs. Kenneth P. Locke, of Balfour road.

Mr. and Mrs. James N. Mutschall, of Kerby court, left last week to spend Easter in Delray Beach.

Colleges Committee Sponsor Symposium

Detroit Committee For Seven Eastern Women's Colleges to Benefit From April 29 Panel Discussion on State of The Theater

A symposium featuring four prominent figures from the dramatic world in an analysis of "The State of the Theater" will be held in Detroit Wednesday evening, April 29, under the sponsorship of The Detroit Committee for Seven Eastern Women's Colleges, and through the cooperation of Esquire Magazine, as a scholarship fund benefit.

Pointers serving on the symposium committee include Mrs. Wendell C. Goddard, of Provencal road, patroness chairman, assisted by co-chairman Mrs. J. D. Chapin, of Moress road.

Others are Mrs. Frederick Keydel, of Kenwood road, program and advertising chairman; Mrs. Perry TeWalt, of Lincoln road, in charge of publicity; Mrs. Lyman B. Stookey, of Fisher road, poster co-chairman; and Mrs. Howard Hush, of Allard avenue, responsible for ushers.

Among those who have already made plans to attend the symposium are three local ladies, presidents of the Radcliffe, Smith and Vassar Clubs respectively: Mrs. John Fennese, of Rivard boulevard; Mrs. M. Whitney McCutcheon, of Lochmoor boulevard; and Miss Hilary Whitaker, of East Jefferson avenue.

Participating in the panel will be Pulitzer-Prize winning playwright William Inge, actress and playwright June Havoc, author and screen writer George Axelrod and British theater critic Kenneth Tynan.

Arnold Gingrich, publisher of Esquire, will serve as moderator. The magazine is producing the program, the sixth it has staged in various parts of the country.

The Seven College Committee, which in past years has brought to Detroit such speakers as Richard Nixon, Edward Murrow, historian Arnold Toynbee and scientist Werner Von Braun, is sponsoring the symposium to raise funds for Detroit area scholarships to Barnard, Bryn Mawr, Mount Holyoke, Radcliffe, Smith, Vassar, and Wellesley, explained project chairman Mrs. Joseph Ross of Detroit.

The symposium, to be held in the Ford Auditorium, will begin at 8:30 o'clock. Tickets are $2.40 each. Mail orders, accompanied by a check made out to Seven College Committee, will be filled by ticket chairman Mrs. Elisio Vieira, 502 W. LaSalle, Royal Oak.

After April 15, tickets will go on sale at the Ford Auditorium box office and Grinnell's downtown store.

All proceeds of the event, except for such costs as the auditorium and printing, will go to the scholarship fund, said Mrs. Ross.

Esquire's literary symposium was launched six years ago to provide established writers an opportunity to discuss with each other and with interested audience the problems of contemporary writing. In 1962 the symposium was held at the University of Michigan.

This will be the first devoted entirely to drama. It was planned, said Mr. Gingrich, because of Detroit's interest in he theatre.

Preceding the symposium, a patrons' subscription, dinner will be held at the Top of the Flame. Mrs. Jane Chapin of Grosse Pointe is in charge of the arrangements.

Michigan Club Holding Dinner

The University of Michigan Club of Grosse Pointe will observe the birthday of the University of Michigan at its annual bridge and card party, Friday evening, April 3 at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club.

Tickets may be obtained by calling co-chairmen, Mrs. William Krebs, TU 5-3130, or Mrs. Norman Lasca, TU 5-8286. Other board of governors members who may be contacted for tickets are: George Cherpelis, Ann Rutledge, Robert Sheridan, Mrs. Robert Snyder, David Tennant, Mrs. Daniel Wells, Mrs. Albert Conkey, Mrs. Edgar Hahn, Frederick Hertel, William Hurley, Albert Klock, William J. Local Clubs Slate Easter Festivities

Egg Hunts, Easter Bunnies and Family Dinners Planned This Weekend; Most Clubs Center Activities on Children

Easter comes early this year, but local club members and their children are prepared to meet the Easter Bunny and/or eat traditional ham or lamb in favorite clubhouse dining rooms around the town.

At the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club, which re-opened yesterday with a champagne dinner, (GPYC annually closes its doors during the month of March, "spring cleaning time" on the Yacht Club peninsula), the children's Easter Egg Hunt, led by Mr. and Mrs. Easter Bunny, is scheduled Saturday afternoon, from 1:30 to 3:30 o'clock.

Among GPYC boys and girls planning to search for decorated eggs are Bobby Anderson, Jimmy Everett, Nancy Jo, Louis, Billy and Julie Kahle, Stephen, Bobby and Jamie Calder, and the Sutton children, Kathy, Tommy, Janet and Sharon.

Working behind the scenes are co-chairmen Mrs. William E. Calder and Mrs. Russell D. Van Houten, assisted by committee members Mrs. Carl Anderson, Mrs. John McNamara, Mrs. Thomas Roney and Mrs. John R. Sutton, III.

General chairman Mrs. Glenn E. Walker reports that many families plan to come at noon, to enjoy the special Bunny luncheon in the main dining room before hunt festivities, which will include special entertainment.

Many GPYC families will be eating Easter dinner at the club, as will families who make their activities headquarters at Lochmoor Club.

Lochmoor's Easter Sunday dinner hours are 12 to 8 o'clock, with a special Children's Party scheduled at 3 in the afternoon. An Easter Parade for youngsters under 12 is on the party agenda, and entertainment will

Peter Whitmans Travel South

Mrs. Julie Cudlip Warren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merlin A. Cudlip, of Lakeshore road, and Peter Depew Whitman, of Radnor circle, spoke their marriage vows Saturday afternoon, in Grosse Pointe Congregational Church.

The Rev. John William Estes, Jr., officiated at the rites, read in the presence of the bride's and bridegroom's immediate families. A small reception followed in the home of the bride's parents.

For the ceremony, the bride chose a cocktail suit in a champagne shade, with a silver blue blouse and sash of moss green velvet. Her headpiece was a champagne bow, accented by a white gardenia.

Martha Adam was her only attendant, and Mr. Whitman, son of Mrs. Oscar L. Buhr, of Lakeshore avenue, and the late Royal Whitman, asked George E. Villero, Jr., to serve as his best man.

When they return from a wedding trip to Jamaica, the newlyweds will make their home in Touraine road.

Chi Omegas Plan Program

The Chi Omega Alumnae Group of Metropolitan Detroit will be holding an Eleusinian Day luncheon at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club at 12 noon on Saturday, April 4.

The program will include a talk given by Mrs. Edward J. Roth, president of the Girls' Protective League. Mrs. Roth is also a member of the Committee for More School for Boys, an organization with a program designed to supplement treatment facilities available to a group of disturbed and delinquent adolescent boys.

Mrs. Robert Wilcox, of Roslyn road, is chairman of the luncheon. Her committee includes: Mrs. Thomas E. Blakely, of Kensington road, Mrs. Donald Marshall, of Roslyn road, Mrs. Jack Steffen, of Rivard boulevard, Mrs. Blair Moody, of Willow Tree place, Mrs. E. F. Kramer, of Colonial court, Mrs. J. H. Reinhard, of Lexington road and Mrs. Peter Witzke of Clairview court.

Mrs. William Tilford Bean, III

SANDRA LEE WILSON, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Heartill Wilson, of Lakepointe avenue, spoke her marriage vows to Mr. Bean, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Tilford Bean, II, of Rosedale Park, in the Covenant Baptist Church, Detroit, Saturday.

Questers Have 'Fun' Programs

The Grosse Pointe Questers continue to learn and have fun. Mrs. Robert Palmer recently opened her home in Lakeshore road, charmingly furnished with family antiques of the past two centuries, for a Questers luncheon meeting.

The hostess used orchids and camellias from her own greenhouse as floral decorations.

Mrs. Ivan Kirilin, president, asked Colonel, (both World Wars), C. E. Frazer Clark, principal of a Detroit High School when she and a fellow Quester, Miss Mary Coyne, taught years ago, to speak informally on his hobby, "Old English Silver Marks."

Col. Clark identified pieces members brought to the meeting. Mrs. M. L. Van Dagens, who leaves soon to live in New York for two years while her husband is there on a World's Fair assignment for Chrysler Corporation, announced—as a member of the National Nominating Committee—that Mrs. Oliver Hanna, of Dearborn, and Mrs. Kirilin, of Renaud road, are on next year's slate.

Mrs. John R. Pear is national publicity chairman, and plans to attend the National Convention in Philadelphia this May, along with Mrs. Hanna and Mrs. Kirilin.

Absentees at this meeting included Mrs. Harold Harden, who is vacationing in Florida, and Mrs. Wallace Temple, spending a month in Arizona with her husband. Quester Mrs. Harry Hauschild and Mr. Hauschild leave April 1 to tour Greece.

Croatian Stars Appear April 1

Zinka Milanov, Metropolitan Opera prima donna, and her brother, Bozidar Kunc, internationally known Croatian contemporary composer and pianist, will be presented in concert with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra at Ford Auditorium Wednesday evening, April 1. Valter Poole will conduct.

Their appearance is under auspices of the Croatian Board of Trade, an organization of business and professional men and women of Croatian descent, dedicated to the enrichment of American culture.

Proceeds from the event will be devoted to the Board's long-time program for scholarships bestowed on students of Croatian lineage.

Mme. Milanov will be remembered for her role of Desdemona in "Othello" which opened the "Met" season here last year.

A student in her native Zagreb, in Croatia, of Milka Terina, one of the greatest Wagnerian singers in Metropolitan history, Mme. Milanov was coached by her brother from the beginning of her vocal training, except for the war years, and has appeared in concert with him often.

Her first performance in the music world of the west, under Arturo Toscanini at Salzburg, was her stepping stone to operatic recognition and her American debut at the Metropolitan in 1937.

A former professor at the Zagreb Academy of Music, Kunc's greatest successes as a composer were at four international music festivals in Europe—Karlsbad, Dresden, Frankfurt-on-Main and Prague.

A prolific composer, his works are many and diverse, and include a concerto, four sonatas, and about 80 other compositions, such as various cycles, nocturnes, a toccata and others.

Heading the concert committee of some 100 husband and wife teams are Mr. and Mrs. John Prepolc, of Bloomfield Hills.

A coffee hour on Tuesday, February 4, at the Detroit Athletic Club served as a springboard for activities of the concert's Women's Committee.

Subsequent weekly meetings for both husbands and wives are planned to spark enthusiasm and assure success for the undertaking. Pointers assisting with concert plans include Mr. and Mrs. Merk Sepic, of Grosse Pointe boulevard.

Newberry-Hastings Vows Exchanged

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Lamar Newberry, III, Travel to New Hampshire After March 14 Rites in St. Peter's Episcopal Church, South Dartmouth, Mass.

Jay Lamar Newberry, III, of the Brooks School, North Andover, Mass., claimed Jane Wendell Hastings as his bride March 14, in St. Peter's Episcopal Church, South Dartmouth, Mass.

The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Nelson Hastings, of South Dartmouth. Her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Jay Lamar Newberry, II, of McMillan road.

The former Miss Hastings chose a gown of silk organza over tissue taffeta, designed with a scalloped neckline outlined in Chantilly lace and a bouffant skirt applied in matching lace and ending in a full chapel train, for her after-noon wedding ceremony.

Her triple tiered silk illusion veil fell from an orange blossom crown, and she carried a cascade bouquet of stephanotis and ivy.

Mary Elizabeth Hastings was her sister's maid of honor, and another sister, Mrs. Hewes De-muth Agnew, of St. Louis, Mo., served as matron of honor. Hope Ives Howland, of Washington, D.C., and Sarah Locke Hastings, another sister of the bride, were bridesmaid and junior bridesmaid, respectively. Mrs. James Nicholas Noyes, of Norfolk, Va., was honorary bridesmaid.

The attendants wore identical floor length gowns of aqua silk organza over taffeta, with white embroidered silk or-gany bands defining their waist-lines. Their headpieces were Dior bows with full pout veils, and they carried cascades of white marguerites and ivy.

The junior bridesmaid's gown was short, fashioned of white embroidered organza over aqua taffeta. She wore a wreath of white marguerites in her hair, and carried a Colonial bouquet of matching flowers.

Morgan K. Smith, of North Andover, Mass., was Mr. Newberry's best man, and in the usher corps, headed by William V. King, of North Andover, were William W. Dunnell, III, Robeson Peters and Michael B. King, all of North Andover, and Dr. Hewes D. Agnew, of St. Louis, Mo.

A reception at the New Bedford Yacht Club in South Dartmouth followed the single ring ceremony.

Mrs. Hastings greeted guests, wearing a navy frock with a small pink hat and a pink cym-bidium orchid corsage. Mrs. Newberry was in aqua with white accessories and a white gardenia corsage.

After a wedding trip to New Hampshire, the newlyweds will make their home in Andover.

Set Detroit Sorosis Session For April 7

The annual meeting of De-troit Sorosis will be held Tues-day, April 7, in the Marlboro-rough road home of Mrs. Cecil R. Cummings.

Chairman of the occasion is Mrs. Robert Tompert, and Mrs. Edgar Hahn will review "Caravans" by James Michener.

Fiesta Features White Elephants

You may have heard all the elephant jokes, but do you know which elephants make the most money?

The White Elephants—es-pecially those corralled by the Mothers' Club of Austin Catho-lic preparatory School for the April 18 Fiesta.

Mrs. Carmine De Fusco has a room in her house marked "Elephants," where she care-fully cares for the odd-job ob-jects. When Mrs. De Fusco brings her treasures, bright and shining, to the Fiesta, the ele-phant market is sure to jump eight points.

It goes without saying that elephant hunters work up large appetites, so Fiesta visitors will be happy to see Mrs. Ervin Binge, Mrs. James Shields and Mrs. Vincent Vehar, prepared to rustle up elephant-sized hot dogs and hamburgers.

For baked goods, try Mrs. Frances Ryan's Something-From-The Oven booth, and top off your meal with ice cream from Mrs. Arthur Bodeau's soda bar.

Home from the hunt without a trophy? Pick up one of Mrs. Thomas Feldman's gourmet food baskets on your way out of the Austin gym, and let the youngsters try their luck at Mrs. Joseph Karle's Duck Pond, or join the fun at Mrs. Wilbur Kaye's Bumper Car.

Look for toys and balloons from Mrs. Remi Victor; for new fishing tackle, check with Mrs. Arthur VanHoeck.

If, after all is said and done, elephants, (white or pink), are not your cup of tea — confer with Mrs. Joseph Kramer. She will supply shiny, beautiful gifts for the whole family.

And remember... elephants never forget. They will look for you at the Fiesta.

Invite Children To Easter Party

The Alumnae Association, Academy of the Sacred Heart, is sponsoring an "Easter Party" benefit for children next Tues-day, March 31, from 10 to 12 o'clock, at the Woods Theater. The program will feature car-tons, a Three Stooges film, and Captain Jolly. Tickets are 60c apiece, and may be purchased at the door—as long as they last!

Posters advertising the project have been scattered through-out the Pointe; they are the work of local artist Mrs. Robert

Mrs. Charles B. Hanneman, Jr.

In Bethel Baptist Church, St. Clair Shores, Friday, March 13, ANNITA FISCHER, of Lochmoor boule-vard, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Holtzmuller, of Vienna, Austria, spoke her marriage vows to Mr. Hanneman, son of the senior Hannemans, of Lochmoor boulevard.

Bridge Players Bid to Classes

Spring Bridge Classes, offered by the Department of Com-munity Services, Grosse Pointe Public School System, are bound to be filled to capacity, as many Grosse Pointe ladies (and gentlemen, too) prepare for the flurry of spring and summer bridge parties, which seem to be a tradition in this area.

Taught by Mrs. Carrie Kiley, seven bridge classes will be of-fered this coming term. They are as follows:

Beginners' Bridge: Tuesday, April 14, at 1 p.m. and Wed-nesday, April 15, at 7:45 p.m. This class will acquaint the

L. Thibodeau, whose current one-man show at the War Mem-orial contains portraits of many of the children planning to at-tend the "Easter Party."

Young Adults Having Dance

The Grosse Pointe War Me-morial's Center Club for young adults in their 20's and 30's are staging a dance on Friday, April 3, at 9 in the Crystal Ballroom of Fries Auditorium. Theme of the dance will be April Showers though there are a few April Fool surprises planned also.

To carry out the theme of the dance there will be gaily and white balloons interspersed with gaily colored umbrellas. The or-chestra will again be that of Roston Clark, who has played for the past several dances. At intermission time punch and cakes will be served at the end of the ball-room overlooking the lake.

Prior to the dance a cocktail party will be held for commit-tee workers and their friends at the home of Paul Stewart, 50 N. Edgewood. Attending will be: Alex Bylica, Carol Roller, Carl Dirkes, Rita Flaherty, Ray Scott, Sue Wallner, Bob Mellow, Ann Young, Bill Wundram, Nancy Poff, John Jonas, Sandy Mal-comson, and Ron Cyril.

All of Grosse Pointe's bache-lor set and their guests are in-vited to the party at the Center, which is essentially a non-date affair though couples are also welcome.

Dr. Joseph Holtzmuller Comes From Vienna, Austria, To Attend Daughter's Wedding; Bride Designs Lace and Peau de Soie Gown For Rites

At a candlelight ceremony in Bethel Baptist Church Friday, March 13, Annita Fischer, of Lochmoor boule-vard, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Holtzmuller, of Vienna, Austria, was married to Charles B. Hanne-man, Jr.

The bride designed and made her floor length wed-ding gown of lace over peau de soie.

Her waist length illusion veil fell from a cluster of three satin roses, and she carried a Colonial bouquet of white elegance car-nations and white roses, center-ed with a white orchid.

Mrs. Jon Struthers, sister of the bridegroom, was the matron of honor and only attendant. She wore a floor length gown of blue taffeta, and carried a Col-onial bouquet of pink carnations with accents of pink sweetheart roses. Her headpiece was a small circle of matching flowers.

Mr. Hanneman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Hanneman, Sr., of Lochmoor boulevard, asked Peter Cook to serve as his best man. Ushers were David Hanneman and Jon Struthers, brother and brother-in-law of the bridegroom, respectively.

Dr. Holtzmuller, father of the bride, made his first visit to America to attend his daughter's wedding; Mrs. Holtzmuller was unable to come because of ill-ness.

Mrs. Al Defezzy, cousin of the bride, acted as hostess at the reception in the Church parlors. She wore a green and gold print-ed gown with a gold hat. Mrs. Hanneman chose a dress of beige raw silk, and shocking pink accessories. Both wore cymbidium orchid corsages.

Following a wedding trip to Florida, the newlyweds will make their home in Ashland avenue.

Social Security Greatly Changed

Will Rogers once said, "My biggest problem as I grow older is not finding out how little I know. My problem is that I know so much that ain't so." The accelerated developments of the twentieth century lead us to feel quite the same way as Will Rogers. Change—rapid change—is the order of the day, in almost every area of life.

Ask someone what social security means to him and you may get an answer like this: "Social security is what you get when you reach 65." While this idea is not entirely wrong, it is far from being the whole story. Many changes have been made in the social security law over the years, making it a program of lifetime protection, rather than merely a retirement insurance plan.

Congressional action has increased social security's protection of the worker and his family. Now, disabled workers, regardless of age, are covered; the workers' families are protected in case of death; no matter how young the workers are; and both men and women may retire and draw social security benefits as early as age 62.

From the day a young worker has had at least a year and a half in covered work, he begins to have social security protection.

To learn more about this program, and the protection it provides, write to your social security district office for Booklet No. 35, "Your Social Security." It's free.

The Detroit-East social security office is located at 17731 E. Warren, Detroit, Michigan 48224.

From Another Pointe of View

parents, and the family will visit Mrs. Mutschall's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Treis, who reside permanently in Delray Beach.

Among The Returnees . . .

is Mrs. Longyear Palmer, back in her Washington road home after a trip to Philadelphia and New York for flower show judging.

While in Manhattan, Mrs. Palmer attended the annual meeting of the Judging Committee of the Garden Club of America.

Home from Florida is Mrs. Reginald F. Given, who vacationed in Fort Lauderdale, and plans to entertain her sister, Mrs. George Taylor, of Toronto, in the Pointe this Easter.

Mrs. George R. Clark is ensconced in her Trombley road home after a month's Palm Beach vacation, and the Kenneth R. Cunninghams have returned to Berkshire road, full of marvelous reports on the Robert Beverly Evanses' La Coquille Club.

From Farther Afield . . .

come the Joel Bremers, of Sheldon road, and the Howard Girardins, of Fisher road, who are regaling friends with tales of their fabulous trip through Spain and Africa. They visited England, too, before jetting home from Paris.

Jamaica was the "let's get away from it all" choice of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond C. Leonard and their daughter, Mrs. Thomas L. Orr, Jr., a Connecticut exurbanite since her marriage.

The Leonards, refreshed and relaxed by their season-in-the-sun, have returned to Merriweather road, and are preparing for a Pointe Easter.

Back from Mexico are the Richard K. Degeners, of Lochmoor boulevard. Mrs. D., who tans to a beautiful golden brown at the drop of a sun hat, is sure to be one of the most glowing ladies in the Pointe's Easter Parade.

Adieu And Auf Wiedersehen . . .

to the Norman Denckers and M. and Mme. Alain Chailous, who leave the Pointe this spring.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Dewey Marcks will honor the departing German and French consuls and their ladies at a dinner party next Tuesday, with Rito von Lieb-streup, the Marckses' fabulous and friendly German shepherd, joining the receiving line in his master and mistress' Three Mile drive home.

Guests have promised to be as gay as possible, even though the party is a "farewell" for four of the pleasantest people ever to grace Detroit's consular corps.

Among those who will gather to bid the couples good-bye are General and Mrs. Lester S. Bork, the H. Glenn Bixbys, Chuck Bachrach, James Merriman Barneses, William A. Bosticks, Frank W. Donovans, Henry deS. Laues and William A. Mayberry.

Others are Mr. and Mrs. George E. Parker, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Morrow, Mr. and Mrs. James McMillan, Dr. and Mrs. Hugh Stalker, Ruth Stevens and Ferdinand Cinelli, an "Easter bachelor"—Mrs. C. is vacationing with the children in the southwest.

An American Good-By . . .

to Mrs. Kenneth M. McColl, recently returned from California, where she spent several months visiting her son, Malcolm, and his family, in Pasadena. Mrs. McColl leaves next month to make her home permanently in La Jolla.

This past weekend, Malcolm, just awarded his Ph.D. degree in Physics from Caltech, stopped off in the Pointe to visit friends and help his mother pack for "the big move" before going on to deliver a paper in Philadelphia, at a meeting of the American Physical Society.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard P. Joy, Jr., will be moving into Mrs. McColl's former home in Grosse Pointe boulevard. The G. Mennen Williamsses have bought the Joy home in Tonnancour place.

Southern Sunshine And Lazy Living . . .

continue to lure Pointers to Florida, where palm trees and rolling surf make a mockery of Michigan's March snow flurries.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Clark, of Greenfield, Mass., former Grosse Pointers, are in Key West, visiting the John Cornishes, of Stephens road, and the R. William Mittes, of Kercheval avenue, who are wintering there.

Headed even farther into the country of eternal summer is Mrs. Ray E. Danaher, of Lakeshore road, cruising the Caribbean for 13 days aboard the Santa Paula. Ports of call on Mrs. Danaher's itinerary include Curacao, La Gualra, Caruba, Kingston, Port-au-Prince and Port Everglades.

Must Pay SS On Domestic

Francis L. Pendergast, manager of the Detroit-East Social Security Office, stated that many employers of the domestic help are confused about their responsibility concerning the payment of social security taxes. The following are some of the most frequently asked questions in this area:

Q. The postman brought me a letter about making social security reports for my maid. She tells me she doesn't want to be under social security. Is it all right for me not to report since she doesn't want to take part in it?

A. No, indeed! Social security taxes must be paid whenever any household employee is paid at least $50 in cash during any calendar quarter. There is no choice in the matter. You must make the report whether your employee wants you to or not.

Q. You keep writing about housewives having to send in social security on maids. What happens if I don't make the returns at the right time? How would anyone ever find out?

A. Last year 21,000 delinquent household employers were found when former employees applied for retirement payments. In these cases, many of the employees had told the employer they didn't want to pay social security. When the employment ended they quickly applied for retirement payments. This resulted in payment of the taxes plus penalties and interest by the former employers who had not made reports at the proper time.

Q. I'm confused about making reports on the wages I pay my maid. She only works one day a week, and I thought social security was due just on "regular" workers.

A. The number of days your maid works is not directly involved. The rule is that if you pay her at least $50 in cash between January 1st and March 31st, or in any other quarter of the year, the wage must be reported and taxes paid. So, if a worker comes to your house only one day each week, you'll have to make a social security report for her if you pay her as little as $4 a day.

CAMBODIAN GRATITUDE—This is what is left of the U.S. information service library in Phnom Penh, capital of Cambodia, following anti-American demonstrations. The Cambodians previously renounced U.S. aid, $30 million a year of it.

NEW ROLE—Actor George Murphy files for the U.S. Senate on the Republican ticket with Registrar of Voters Ben S. Hite in Los Angeles. Behind is Murphy's son Dennis, 25.

The entrance is a hydraulically-operated door, guarded by Airman 2/c Frank Lawhead of Jacksonville, Fla., plus television. Capt. David Cowan, Rochester, Mich., watches entrance via television. TV also scans control panels and potential danger points.

SOLOING THE WORLD—Mrs. Jerrie Mock, 38, waves goodbye in Columbus, O., before winging eastward on a solo flight around the world. The day before her takeoff, Mrs. Joan Merriam Smith took off in Oakland, Calif., flying eastward on a like solo, following Amelia Earhart's tragic 1937 route.

ABDICATION — Word from Luxembourg has it that Grand Duchess Charlotte will abdicate late this year in favor of her son Jean (both shown). She is 68, and has reigned 45 years.

IN OSHKOSH, by gosh, Alabama's Gov. George Wallace (left) receives a less than warm welcome in his Wisconsin presidential primary campaign. This is Oshkosh State College.

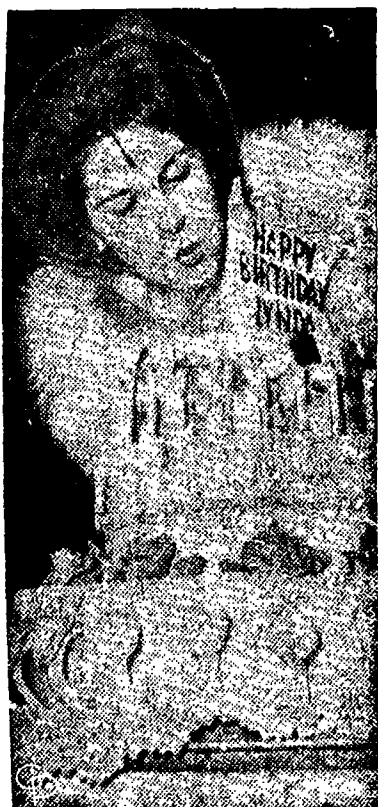

This underground corridor leads from the Looking up a Titan I missile. Concrete doors control center to missile silo. up there weigh 116 tons each.

DOWN UNDER COLORADO, you're looking inside a Titan I missile base capable of sending nuclear warheads 9,000 miles, if and when. This one is 15 miles east of Denver, part of a complex of six, armed to fire 18 Titan I ICBMs. It's the underground lair of the 451st Strategic Missile Wing of the Strategic Air Command. They scooped out a great big hole, built the base, then covered it all with earth again. The power plant has four 1,000-KW diesel generators, enough for a city of 10,000. Maintenance crew numbers 70, with lots of electronic and automated aid.

NEW LBJ PRESS SECRETARY—New White House press secretary is George E. Reedy (left), longtime associate of President Johnson. Reedy, 46, succeeds Pierre Salinger (right), who also served in the post under the late President Kennedy. Salinger, 38, will try for the U.S. Senate in California.

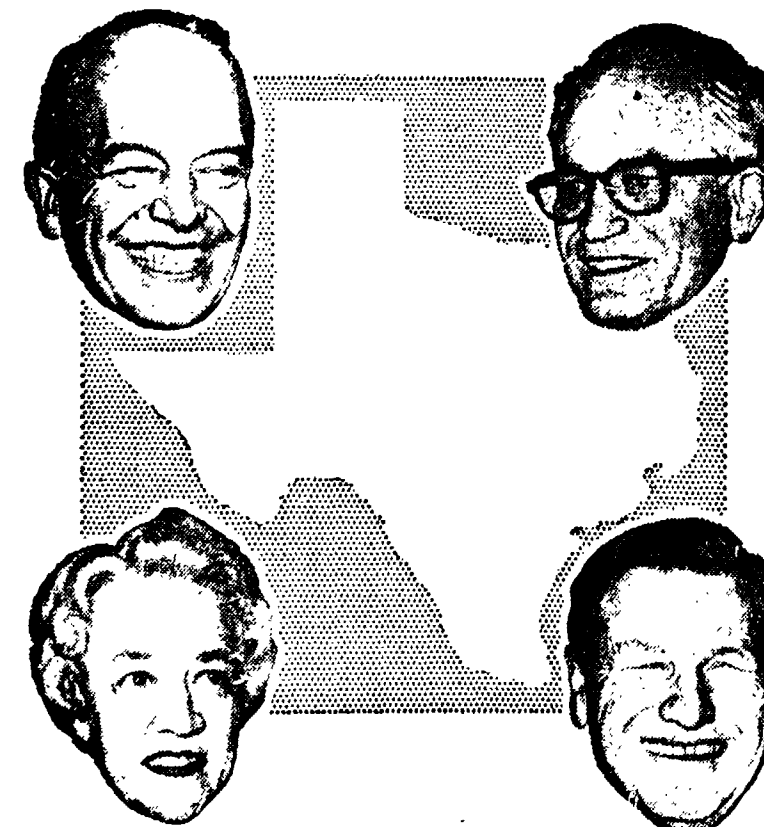

LYNDA 20—Lynda Bird Johnson blows out candles on her birthday cake in Washington. President Johnson's eldest daughter is 20.

REBUKES BELLI — Walter E. Craig, president of the American Bar Association, tells reporters in San Francisco that the statements of Melvin Belli in Dallas, Tex., after the Jack Ruby conviction were "intemperate and abusive" and "that he should so flagrantly disregard the code of professional ethics and his oath... is a discredit to him and his profession."

IN THE SPRING a young man's fancy turns to thoughts of love, and apparently it's that way with walrus calves, too. This is a tender moment between 1,000-pounders Farouk and Priscilla at Marine Land of the Pacific in Palos Verdes, Calif.

"STRAW VOTE"—Harold E. Stassen, Barry Goldwater, Margaret Chase Smith and Nelson Rockefeller are the sure names for the Republican "straw vote" presidential primary in Texas May 2. Four others might also be on the ballot—Richard Nixon, George Romney, William Sarantian and Henry Cabot Lodge.

NAZI WANTED — Gerhard Bohne, 58, accused in West Germany of complicity in Adolf Hitler's murder program, is shown after his arrest in Buenos Aires. Bonn is asking extradition.

"MOST WANTED" — Quayle Kilburn (above), armed robbery specialist, is the newest to be added to the FBI's "Ten Most Wanted" fugitives list. Kilburn, 40, is wanted in Salt Lake City, Utah, on robbery and embezzlement charges. He is 5-foot-8, weighs 170-190.

SWITCHEROO? — Richard Nixon, shown in his New York office, said "I would undertake any assignment I am asked to take" when asked if he would be willing to reverse the 1960 candidacies and run for vice president with Henry Cabot Lodge heading the ticket. He said again he is not a candidate for any office.

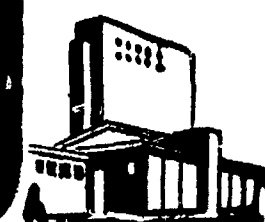

"AUTOMATION" DEAD Dr. Norbert Wiener, 69, known as the "Father of Automation" by virtue of his pioneer work in cybernetics, the feedback control theory which is the key to computer technology, died in Stockholm, Sweden, while on a lecture tour. He had retired in 1960 as a Massachusetts Institute of Technology mathematics professor after 42 years there.

GOLDWATER GLITTER—Goldwater supporters whoop up a big head of steam as the senator and wife Peggy acknowledge cheers in Los Angeles.

SO MUCH EXTRA VALUE! Seldom does the opportunity arise when a house is offered with so many features in this price range. A four bedroom, two bath home with a beautiful, beamed ceiling library. The kitchen has been revamped and has eating space. In the City and within walking distance to both public and parochial schools. At $25,500 this won't last long.

AND BY APPOINTMENT

BEEN FOOLED on April First before? Let us trick you into seeing the inside of this well-maintained, older home on Rivard. The entire house was painted within the year and many of the rooms have recently been redone. Charm radiates from everywhere as you'll walk through each of the delightfully decorated rooms. Four bedrooms if you require them, otherwise how about an upstairs sitting room?

WHY LOOK hither and thither for that ideal ranch home with 2 1/2 baths, three bedrooms, dining room, and a family room? We'll even throw in a two-car attached garage and a full basement complete with playroom. All this for under forty thousand.

IMPOSSIBLE? almost in this location, but we now have for you: inspection, a three-bedroom home in the Farms, which is just three minutes walk to Richard School and Hill Shopping. $21,500 is the amazingly low tag on this rare offering, on a street where most of the homes sell for thousands more.

ON BEAUTIFUL tree lined Oxford Road, and just a snowball's throw to the lake. What a perfect setting for this farm colonial, which has recently been added to our listings of quality homes. Built by the owner, who made certain that only the best went into the construction of this family home. Four immense bedrooms, and then elaborate maids quarters stretch over the three car garage. Call for a long list of extras.

LAKE ST. CLAIR is the backdrop from almost every room in this gracious home right on the water. Not at all overwhelming in size, but just right for the average family. Room for stay-in help if required. You will be surprised at the low offering price.

response to ABA's president,
Walter Craig who criticized Belli's statements after the Jack Ruby trial as "a discredit to him and his profession." Belli retorted: "I can't belong to the American Bar Association. Let them investigate some of these cases (in Dallas) where they get 25 convictions out of 25 cases and no automatic appeal."
Belli's action followed on the heels of his dismissal as counsel by Jack Ruby and his family.

SECRETARY OF STATE Dean
Rusk said today that the Soviet Union will release the other two crewmen of the jet reconnaissance bomber shot down March 10 in East Germany. No conditions have been attached to the freeing of the two Air Force officers. Although details of when and where this release will take place were not disclosed, Rusk indicated that they would be freed in "the very nearest future." Lt. Harold Welch, the injured third crewman, was safely delivered by the Russians Saturday. President Johnson has taken steps to avoid future such incidents caused by navigational errors.

POPE PAUL VI opened the solemnities of Holy Week as he blessed palms before Palm Sunday mass in St. Paul's Basilica, Vatican City. The Pope later told the crowd assembled in St. Peter's Square that "We must recognize Christ" as the true Lord, and urged that Christians should "mainly invoke Him for the peace of which we have so much need."

TWO MEN DIED of apparent heart attacks Saturday night while watching a $1 million blame that swept a Dearborn hulzer yard and destroyed or damaged five other adjacent buildings. The first started in a shed of the yard operated by the Noye Lumber Company and the Creith and Woodroth Lumber Company at 12722 Michigan.
Fire Chief Swanger said that though he believed the blaze was under control by 11 p.m., it still blazed Sunday, and will probably smolder for several more days.

UAW PRESIDENT Walter
Reuther declined a proposal Sunday that sought UAW endorsement of Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy for the Democratic vice presidential nomination. The move was made by a delegate to the UAW National Convention in Atlantic City after Kennedy appeared to accept the UAW Social Justice Award on behalf of his late brother, Presi-

U. S. AMBASSADOR Edwin
O. Reischauer was stabbed in the right thigh by a 19-year-old Japanese youth as he was leaving the Tokyo embassy for lunch yesterday. Though the 53-year-old ambassador lost considerable blood, embassy officials say his life is not in danger. The youth, who was taken into custody by the Japanese police, declared his attack had no political motivation.

MICHIGAN'S ECONOMIC UPSWING higher tax collections occasioned a proposal by Governor Romney Monday night for a modest tax-cut, an increased construction program, and an increase in State services. Forecasting a $61.2 million surplus in the general fund for the current fiscal year, Romney recommended a $4.5 million cut in State sales and business activities taxes, a $5.2-million boost in State services, and a $10 million increase in capital outlay.

UNITED AUTO WORKERS union members will be asked this week to approve new bargaining demands for early retirement, improved working conditions, and salaries for auto production employees now on an hourly wage. The proposals which fill 31 pages also outline the creation of new job opportunities for younger workers, improvement of job security, new steps toward the guaranteed annual wage, and longer paid vacations if approved by the membership, these proposals will be taken to the bargaining table in August when the new auto contract is negotiated.

Safety Package Lauded by Ford

Benson Ford, vice president of Ford Motor Company and chairman of the Board of Directors of the Traffic Safety Association, said that Governor Romney's "comprehensive traffic safety package submitted to the Legislature will go a long way toward solving the problem of the delinquent driver if favorably acted upon."

Speaking at the annual meeting of the Traffic Safety Association, Ford added that it was "reassuring to know that the major provisions in Governor Romney's program have also been advocated by Secretary of State Jim Hare, who heads the safety commission and long has been a leader in the field of traffic safety."

He asserted that Detroit's traffic safety program suffered a jolt last year, but he added that through the years "this city, despite monumental difficulties, has made remarkable progress in reducing traffic and suffering on our streets and highways." There are three times as many cars in the Detroit area today as there were in the 1920s but there are 40 percent fewer traffic deaths today than there were then, he said.

Michigan and the country as a whole also suffered setbacks in 1963, he said. Michigan's program has some obvious weaknesses, such as inadequate driver licensing, no compulsory vehicle inspection, an unworkable drunk driving law that is "considered an unfunny joke by police authorities throughout the state," and a lack of manpower and equipment in police agencies in the Detroit area and throughout the state.

"It is a highly disturbing fact," he said, that one can travel all day on Michigan freeways and highways without observing a single police officer.
"Admittedly, some units of government are confronted with serious financial problems but it occurs to me that activities designed to protect the lives of our citizens are entitled to the first claim on the tax dollar. It is simply a question of emphasis," he said.

Paul Jones, editor-consultant of Newspaper Enterprise Association who also spoke, urged driver training for everyone before obtaining a first license, much stiffer driver license exams and suspension and revocation of licenses when drivers prove they are unfit, periodic vehicle inspection, and firm, impartial traffic law enforcement both by police and courts.

Mr. Ford was reelected chairman of the Association's Board of Directors. John D. Leary, vice president of Chrysler Corporation, was elected chairman of the Board of Trustees. T.
R. Miller, Jr., vice president of National Bank of Detroit, was elected treasurer, and Donald Slutz, managing director of the Association, was reelected secretary.

E. A. Schirmer, senior vice president of Campbell-Ewald Company, was newly elected to the 11-man Board of Directors.
Roy Abernethy, president of American Motors Corp.; M. A.
Cudlip, president of McLaughlin Steel Co., and Ralph E. Moulton, president of Auto-Owners Insurance Company.

E. B. (Joe) Knauss of 527 University place, has been appointed national business management manager for the Dodge Car and Truck Division of Chrysler. He has been with Dodge since 1947 when he became a district manager in Minneapolis. He held posts in Chicago and St. Louis.

A business administration graduate of the University of Minnesota, he served with the Air Force during World War II.

A new name has been announced for one of the oldest and best known real estate firms on the East side. The firm name will now be Weber-Schweitzer
Co. in place of Seldon-Weber
Co., known for 49 years as H. M.
Seldon Co.

John P. Weber has been with the firm the past 20 years, serving as a vice-president and stockholder, as supervisor of all residential sales and offices of H. M.
Seldon Co. Mr. Weber is a member of the Detroit Real Estate Board and a member and former vice-president of the Grosse Pointe Brokers Association.
M.S. Violet Schweitzer has been with the firm for 11 years and is a member and secretary-treasurer of the Detroit Real Estate Board-Brokers Division, member of Women's Council Detroit Chapter, National Association of Real Estate Boards. Mrs.
Schweitzer also won the top membership award, Eastern Division of Detroit Real Estate Board in 1962.

Gas Customers Due for Break

Michigan Consolidated Gas Company announced today that due to the unusually warm winter, it will begin reviewing and adjusting gas bills for its "budget plan" customers March 6, instead of June 1.

Some 133,000 customers of the utility budget their heating bills in equal monthly payments from September through May. The payments are based on an estimate of their gas usage during a normal winter and any difference between estimated and actual usage is adjusted on the June gas bill.

Hugh C. Daly, executive vice-president, said that as a result of the warm weather, most of the customers will have paid sufficient money prior to June to cover their entire heating bill.

"Where budget payments scheduled for March, April and May appear to be larger than necessary, the customer will be billed only for actual gas usage, less any credits he may still have coming to him from previous budget payments," Daly said.

About 15,000 customer, whose accounts are presently in line with their gas usage, will not be adjusted until June, Daly
said.

Pointe Photographers Win Eight Awards

The twenty-third annual convention of the Professional Photographers of Michigan was held at the Statler Hilton Hotel, March 7-10.

One of the features of the convention is the Print Competition in which the photographers submit examples of their work for judging by a panel of expert judges. This year there were over 400 prints submitted, and about one-half of them were judged to be of a quality to be accepted for exhibition.
From these prints the winners were picked, and awards given on a point system.

Ralph H. Bransby of the Bransby Studio, 20083 Mack Avenue, and his associate photographer, Mr. Edward McFenry had a total of 11 prints which were accepted for exhibition. Of these, they were awarded eight Ribbon Awards: three Blue Ribbon of Excellence, two Red Ribbons of Merit and three Yellow Ribbons of Honor.

During the extent of the convention the photographs were on public display in the main lobby of the hotel, where the public could have a chance to see Professional Photography at its best.

Kiwanis Club Pays Harry Lyle Honor

Mr. Lyle, as chairman of the strumental in raising approximately two thousand dollars for

The plaque was presented to Mr. Lyle by Richard H. Beach, president of the club.

who, where and whatnot

by whoozit

It's spring! Students wriggle restlessly at their desks, staid and practical businessmen suddenly decide to take the afternoon off, housewives desert supermarkets for a drive up the lake. All across America, people feel restless, excited . . . and in the Pointe, spring's traditional symptoms have begun to manifest themselves . . .

The poets are writing again. Carolyn Hubbard (Mrs. Russell H.) Lucas, of East Jefferson avenue, inspired by the "Easter Bonnet," has penned these charming, lilting verses—

When crocuses come peeping through Like babies playing peek-a-boo
And skies are rain washed—freshly blue
Then spring is on its way.
But when bedecked with bows and roses
Her Easter bonnet Phyllis poses
Then spring has come to stay.

Eleanor W. (Mrs. Ralph A.) Mayer, of Harcourt road, is the author of a small book of French poems, "Cela ne Rime a Rien," (rough translation: Neither Rhyme Nor Reason), a series of light verses touching on subjects that appeal particularly to women. Priced at $1, the book is available at The Book Shelf on the Hill, with proceeds from its sale earmarked for Children's Hospital. There are sections on travel, the arts, and sundry other subjects . . . including one delightful quatrain with a uniquely Grosse Pointe "twist"—

DR. HEUREUX (DENTISTE)

Un dentiste qui s'appelle "Heureux"
Habite a Grosse Pointe, rue Cadieux
Je me demande si ses patients
Partagent avec lui cette sensation!

Spring is the season for romance. From the Hawaiian Islands came news of the engagement of Susan Alice McKee, daughter of the Miles F. McKees, of Pemberton road, to Lt. Spencer Eugene Lerch, of Lockport, N.Y., announced in last week's NEWS. Unique feature of this "love story" is the fact that Susan and her U.S. Navy lieutenant are both graduates of Northwestern University, but never met on the Evanston campus . . . it was not until SHE traveled to Honolulu to teach at the Kamehameha Schools, (which, incidentally, are the responsibility of former Pointe Public School Superintendent, Dr. James W. Bushong), and HE was stationed at Pearl Harbor, that THEY became acquainted. Mr. and Mrs. McKee recently had the excitement of meeting their son-in-law-to-be in Honolulu, first stop on their 'round the world tour.

In spring, mothers are faced with the necessity of outfitting their offspring for the Easter Parade. With one or two children to scrub up and deck out, this is a minor chore; with 10, it becomes a major production—but not beyond the capabilities of Mrs. James L. Petz, of West Ballantyne court, recently selected Mrs. Grosse Pointe by the Homemaking Council of Mrs. America, Inc. Mrs. Petz, sponsored locally by the Foundation for Exceptional Children, was among semi-finalists in the Mrs. Michigan Contest, losing the title to Mrs. Duane Egeland, of Livonia—who happens to have a Grosse Pointe connection herself; she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bolden, of South Edgewood drive.

Seven-year-old Norman Whaler, of Muir road, has received a black-bordered card of acknowledgement from Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy, thanking him for his expression of sympathy on the death of her husband. Young Norman, shepherded by his proud and purposeful older sister, came to the NEWS offices last week to show us the card—the envelope to which, by the way, bears the handwritten signature, "Jacqueline Kennedy," in place of a stamp. Others who have seen Norman's message from the late President's wife include his classmates in the second grade at Richard School.

Ah, how wonderful is the advent of the spring—the great annual miracle of the blossoming of Aaron's rod, repeated on myriads and myriads of branches!

—Longfellow

The spring's already at the gate
With looks my care beguiling;
The country round appeareth straight
A flower-garden smiling.

—Heine

For, lo! The winter is past, the rain is over and gone;
The flowers appear on the earth; the time of the singing of birds is come, and the voice of the turtle is heard in our land.

—Song of Solomon

What delights us in the spring is more a sensation than an appearance, more a hope than any visible reality. There is something in the softness of the air, in the lengthening of the days . . . that caresses us and consoles us after the rigorous weeks of winter.

Canteen Conversation

By Rick Mills

Everyone has problems. Every age group can cite many examples of what is wrong with the world. Small children have to go to bed when they are told. Adults must be responsible for themselves and to their families. Teenagers have their own list of worries. What are some of their problems?

Barb DeLand: "The constant pressures of grades, and college are a problem to teens. Teenagers also have a terrific problem forced upon them. Their elders read about a minority who are wild and reckless; thus they fall into the bad habit of looking on all teens as juvenile delinquents. They seem to think teens are guilty until proven innocent. We must constantly face these ideas and prove that they are false."

Diane Hassig: "Most adults do not take teens seriously. When we become teens we start to think as adults but our parents still seem to treat us as kids. What we think about a subject doesn't really make any difference."

Judy Jorgenson: "Teenagers today always have to do what their parents dictate and are not given enough freedom to do what they want. Aside from this fact, being a teen is great!" Rob Most: "The teen's biggest problem is the attitudes they have of other people. I do not like the social cliques that exist at school. One social group seems to snub anyone who is not in its clique. There should be an overall feeling of friendliness at school, but unfortunately, this feeling does not always exist. This is due to the selfish attitude of some students. If this situation doesn't improve, the future of our nation is at stake. People must start judging others by what they really are and not by their position on the social scale! If this is accomplished, the teenage and adult world will be much better off."

These are but a few of the problems that face today's teens. Many deeply rooted questions such as vocation, philosophy, and religious beliefs are beginning to take shape in their minds. The quest for answers to these questions and many more, can lead to a mature and rewarding adult life.

DR. HUGH COMPTON RIDDLEBERGER, GROSSE POINTE UNIVERSITY SCHOOL HEADMASTER

By Janet Mueller

"I've loved these first six months," Dr. Hugh Compton Riddleberger, who began his tenure as Grosse Pointe University School Headmaster last September, says without reservations. He thinks of GPUS as a "crackerjack institution," describes the faculty as "not only capable, but eagerly and aggressively engaged in keeping itself up to date," and terms the children "as always, a delight to be with."

Parents? Dr. Riddleberger feels Pointe parents sincerely want what GPUS can offer—a good education—and have been very cooperative.

Appointed to the headmastership a year ago, (he succeeded John Chandler, Jr., who left the school last June to become president of the National Association of Independent Schools), Dr. Riddleberger, with his wife and three children, arrived in the Pointe August 1.

He came directly from Trinity School, New York City, where he had served as headmaster since 1955. His association with Trinity, an Episcopal day school for boys founded in 1709, was more than three decades old; Dr. Riddleberger is a Trinity graduate, Class of 1934, and during his student years there served as president of the student council and captain of three major teams. He received the Holden Cup, awarded to the school's outstanding athlete.

Captain of Tennis

From Trinity, Dr. Riddleberger went to Hamilton College, where he was a Dean's List student, played varsity football, basketball and tennis, (in his senior year, he served as captain of the Hamilton tennis team), was elected to each of the four class honor societies, and affiliated with Chi Psi fraternity.

Awarded his B.A. degree in 1938, Dr. Riddleberger returned to Trinity to teach mathematics. The Second World War caused a four-year interruption in his career; from 1941 to 1945, Lt. Riddleberger, USN, served as gunnery officer aboard a destroyer. He returned to Trinity again, this time as assistant headmaster. In 1947, he accepted an appointment as assistant headmaster at the Pawling School, an affiliated boarding school in Pawling, N.Y., and remained there until appointed headmaster of Trinity.

In his "spare time," Dr. Riddleberger has done graduate work at the University of California and Columbia University. Trinity College, Hartford, Conn., awarded him the honorary degree of Doctor of Humane Letters in 1959, and his professional associations include membership in the Country Day School Headmasters Association of the United States.

Lived in Rye, N.Y.

In the New York area, (the Riddleberger family made their home in Rye, N.Y., before moving to the Pointe), Dr. Riddleberger served as chairman of the Division of Boarding and Day Schools of the Episcopal Diocese of New York, and a trustee of the Lenox School, Trinity-Pawling School and Hamilton College.

An Easterner by birth, (Woodstock, Va.; his father, a lawyer, was a former U.S. District Attorney in Virginia, and his paternal grandfather, H. H. Riddleberger, a United States Senator from Virginia), and by tradition (the family moved north to New Jersey, but kept hugging the Eastern seaboard), Hugh Riddleberger has had no problems "adjusting" to the Midwest.

"One always misses one's friends," he admits, but the excitement and challenge of taking on a new job, plus a profusion of new friends, leave him no time for and no inclination toward transition tensions.

Experienced in both boarding and day schools, Dr. Riddleberger arrived at GPUS firmly prejudiced in favor of day schools for teenage boys and girls.

"Basically, I think most of our ills today stem from a continuing break-up of the home," he declares.

Must Be Reasons

He thinks there are many feels that one of the independent school's biggest assets is "the complete right and freedom to involve our children in a religious experience."

Perhaps Dr. Riddleberger's most dramatic innovation at GPUS is his "open office"—a modern, comfortable room off the well-traveled passageway between upper and lower schools. In effect, Dr. Riddleberger has set himself up in the middle of the hall; his doors are always open, he is completely available to students, and he can "hear sounds, see sights—these tell me more about the children than any number of second-hand reports."

Since coming to the Pointe, Dr. Riddleberger has been named to the Boards of the Boys Republic and St. Peter's Home, and has been welcomed into the Grosse Pointe Rotary Club.

Love Sports, Gardening

He and his wife, the former Jane Joscelyn, and their two daughters, Patricia, 13, and Elizabeth, 2½, live in the University School's Headmaster's home in Chalfonte Avenue. Dr. and Mrs. Riddleberger love to garden; they both enjoy sports of all kinds, especially tennis and golf, and like a good game of bridge.

Last October, Dr. Riddleberger embarked on a new project: learning to play the piano. His only previous experience at the keyboard was two months' abortive instruction at the age of 10; these early lessons ended when baseball season began, and the young Hugh Riddleberger deserted scales for batting practice.

Now, although he says he has no talent, he finds piano "the most relaxing thing that's ever happened to me—for the half-hour a day I squeeze in, I forget everything. . . even my own name!"

Hugh Compton Riddleberger enjoys all facets of his life as headmaster of Grosse Pointe University School—except exile from the classroom. This is the first year since he began his career that he has done no teaching, and he misses it "desperately," thinks it is wrong for an independent school administrator to isolate himself from the classroom, will not let another year go by without tackling some personal class work.

He is a determined man: determined to involve himself, in every way with his school, and to involve his school with the Pointe, making sure that GPUS continues to offer the best in educational opportunities for the age groups and the community it serves.

Last year, GPUS students received over $30,000 in financial assistance grants, awarded solely on the basis of need.

The purpose of the independent school, Dr. Riddleberger believes, is to provide the best in education of the total child. The independent school, freed of taxpayer's pressure, can innovate, try out programs and procedures at will, feed the outcomes of its experiments to the Public School Systems.

Currently, GPUS is experimenting with ungraded reading classes in the fourth through sixth grades. Dr. Riddleberger neither wants nor intends to turn out 13-year-old high school graduates—but he would like to see the learning process individualized, tailored to the needs of every child, made a personal experience, beginning in the lowest grades.

Public May Be Confused

He thinks the public, in general, has a "confused" feeling about the role of the independent school, objects violently to those who term the independent school "un-democratic," ("What could be more democratic than parents CHOOSING to pay to send their children to schools they prefer?"), predicts an increase in faculty "observation" visits between public and independent schools.

He believes in a sharp separation of church-affiliated schools and public funds, but considers the Parochial School System a firm part of America's democratic tradition, and

EXTRACURRICULAR ACTIVITIES

An average college student in the U.S. will spend 2,000 hours in classes, seminars and laboratories during his four years of campus and 7,000 hours in extracurricular activity of one sort or another.

Marie Bord's Beauty ByLine

The obvious incompatibility that has existed between millinery designers and hair stylists is never more apparent than at this time of the year.

The "hat-less look" has its rightful place in the fashion picture—and from my biased point of view a radiantly feminine coiffure is a round-the-clock beautifier . . . but there are occasions that call for a hat—costumes that seem incomplete without one—but there are few women that want to sacrifice their hairdo for the sake of this fashion detail.

Wouldn't it be a good idea for both factions to put their heads together and promote coiffures with greater stability and hats that would enhance a woman's good looks without disturbing her coiffure?
