ALABAMA GOVERNOR George C. Wallace drew more than 250,000 votes in the Wisconsin presidential primary, claiming a major victory against the civil rights bill and stated that he would continue to fight against such legislation. The White House denied that the huge vote for Wallace was a repudiation of the Administration's stand on civil rights, as claimed by Wisconsin Republicans.

A THREATENED nationwide railroad strike was the subject of talks by government peace-makers who were under orders from President Johnson to try to avert the strike. Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz met with top-level union and management officials in an attempt to settle the dispute. The crisis arose Wednesday when four rail unions staged a surprise strike against the Illinois Central Railroad.

DETROIT TEACHERS voted Wednesday to have one organization represent them in collective bargaining with the Board of Education. Detroit Federation of Teachers president Mrs. Mary Ellen Riordan announced that the strike planned for April 15 has been cancelled. The DFT took this action in an attempt to give the Board of Education an opportunity to act upon the demands made by the teachers.

Friday, April 10
PRESIDENT JOHNSON won a 15-day delay in a scheduled nationwide strike Thursday after a four-hour personal conference with union and management leaders. If the strike had occurred, it could have seriously hampered delivery of food and thrown millions out of work. The strike against the Illinois Central Railroad, which started earlier this week, was also delayed for the 15-day period.

GOV. WILLIAM SCRANTON announced Thursday that he wants it "crystal clear" that he is not a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination. He then qualified the statement by saying he would accept an unopposed draft in the National Convention ended in a deadlock. He told the crowd in Harrisburg, Pa., that he had called the news conference because he was worried that so many people were interested in his seeking the nomination.

GOV. GEORGE ROMNEY proposed a virtual "one-man, one-vote" congressional redistricting plan for Michigan. According to his plan, 19 districts having a population variance of only 3,575 would be created. Romney's plans were unveiled at a gathering of legislators and State officials in Lansing. He said that the plan would have to go into effect by April 24 to be practical.

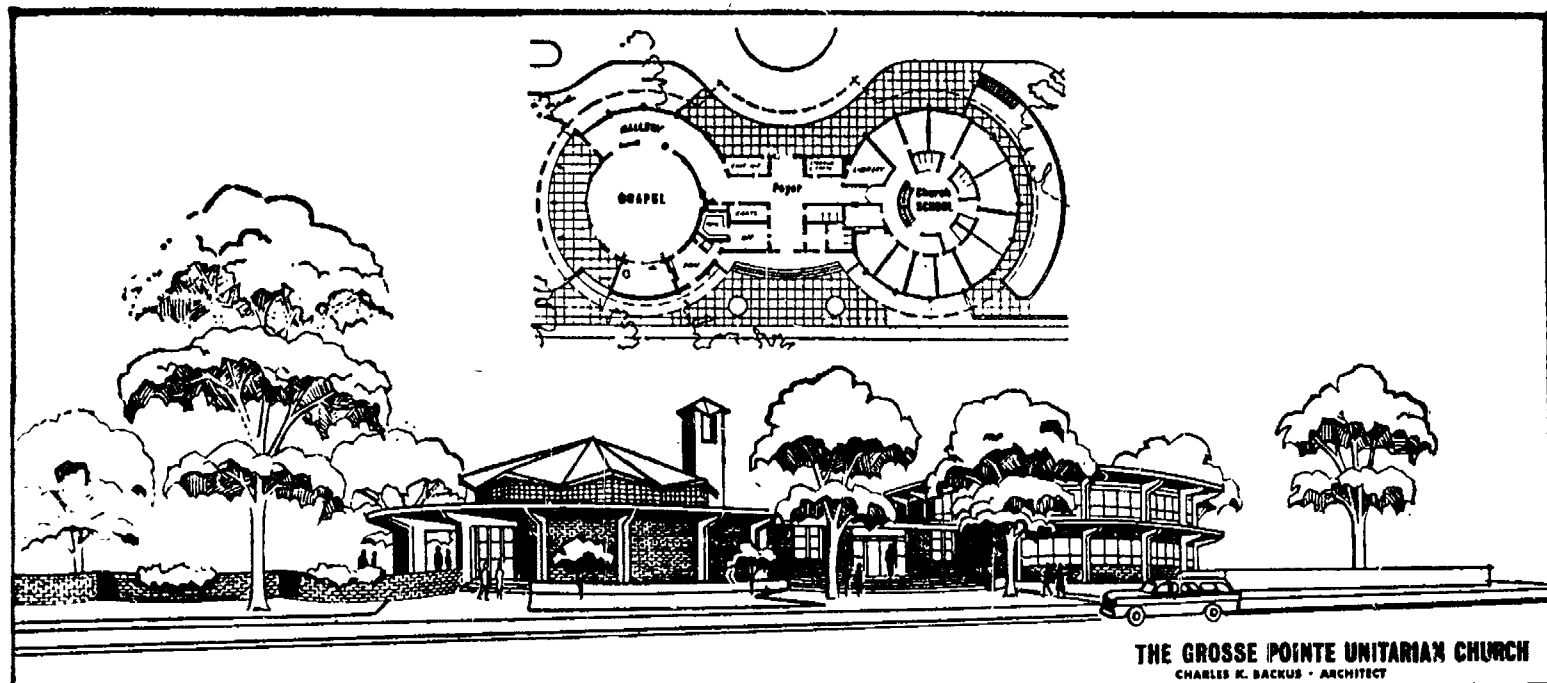

Saturday, April 11
THE DETROIT BOARD OF EDUCATION agreed Friday to hold an election to choose one organization to represent Detroit teachers in negotiations with the school board. No date has been set for such an election. Superintendent Samuel M. Brownell will meet with representatives of the Detroit Teachers Association and Detroit Federation of Teachers to agree on a date and details as to how the election will be conducted.

THE SUPREME COURT of Michigan has decided to leave the redistricting of the state to legislative districts up to the United States Supreme Court. The main question still to be resolved is the validity of the apportionment formula in the new State Constitution. The Michigan Supreme Court was asked to draw the district lines when a bipartisan commission was unable to agree on a plan.

THE NEW CITY CONTROLLER of Detroit will probably be either Richard Strichartz or John H. Witherspoon, who are now the leading contenders for the position. Strichartz, 41, is now serving as a special assistant to Mayor Cavanagh while

GROUND-BREAKING ceremonies were held on Sunday marking the start on the new home for the Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church. The structure will cost more than half a million dollars and is being

Library Week Highlighted By Carnival

Varied Program Saturday Will Climax National Celebration Here; All Asked to Attend

This is Library Week across the nation, and in Grosse Pointe, too. If you have been in Central Library, or in one of the Branches this week, you've seen special displays and exhibits and probably have noticed a generally festive air.

As a climax to National Library Week in Grosse Pointe, the Friends of the Grosse Pointe Public Library are staging a day-long "Carnival of Books" at the Central Library on Saturday, April 18. Beginning at 10 o'clock in the morning and continuing through the afternoon, programs of interest and enjoyment for everyone in the community have been planned.

A story hour for children begins the big day at 10 o'clock, with balloons and fun accompanying the tales for tots. For parents, Robert M. Orr, Director of Public Libraries, will review current books of adult interest. Coffee will reward early birds!

To Tell Library Story
At 11 o'clock, the library story will be presented in words and pictures, in a most interesting presentation originally prepared as a definitive report to the School Board.

A demonstration of stereophonic tapes and equipment, as provided for the library by the Friends, is programmed for 1 o'clock. William Y. Gard, chairman of the Friends Audio-Visual Committee, will exhibit samples of material available to library users through Friends purchases. This is a chance to hear and compare stereo and monaural sound and reproductions, and to learn about this modern sound equipment.

Mrs. Morrison Scott and Mrs. Donald R. McPhail are joining in a program scheduled for 2

Unitarians Break Ground For New $510,000 Church; Unique Plan Being Used

Hope to Complete Structure by End of Year on Site in Maumee Avenue Acquired Through Exchange with City of Grosse Pointe

Ground-breaking ceremonies for Grosse Pointe's newest church took place last Sunday, April 12 on Maumee between St. Clair and Neff. The $510,000 Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church is scheduled to be completed before the end of 1964—the twenty-fifth anniversary year of the church.

The one-story building has a spire-topped concentric chapel with an adjoining circular church school. The unique "binocular" plan was created by architect Charles K. Backus of Metamora, Michigan. Builder will be the Walter L. Couse Company.

Turning the first spadeful of dirt was Alfred E. Taylor, president of the church. Also taking part in the ceremonies were Reverend William D. Hammond, minister of the church, and Mayor David Burgess of Grosse Pointe City.

Housed for the past 20 years in the former David Carter home at 17440 East Jefferson, the Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church was forced to shelve first plans for a new church by World War II. Planning for the present church began four years ago and shifted into full gear with the City of Grosse Pointe in 1963. The Maumee property was formerly the site of the City of Grosse Pointe's City Hall.

G. Gordon Cook, chairman of the building committee, was unable to attend the ceremonies. He headed a 54-member committee responsible for all phases of the project. The executive officers of the building committee are Russell Peebles, Stanley Smith, Creighton Lederer, F. J. Schumann, John Hamann and Mrs. G. Gordon Cook.

Schools to Seek Clean-Up Honors

The "Cleanest Playground Contest" between all the Grosse Pointe schools, public, parochial and private, during the Spring Clean-Up Campaign from May 1 to May 10 will be under the direction of Mrs. Paul Sutherland this year.

Mrs. Sutherland is sending out notices to all the school principals this week stating that prizes will be given and that new categories are being made to help in judging the playgrounds.

The Men's Garden Club of Grosse Pointe under its president, Andrew J. Larkins, will be the judges again this year.

Orders are coming in very fast for the white lilacs which are the feature of the shrub sale held during Clean-Up week. The lilacs are of two varieties, one single and the other double, and both white. They will be very fine specimens, 3 to 4 feet tall, balled and burlapped, and sold at De-Petris Nursery on May 1 and May 2.

Mrs. Clarence Maguire is chairman of the sale and will be assisted by Mrs. Joseph Carr and Mrs. Glenn Gessell, treasurer and secretary of the Grosse Pointe Garden Club Council, sponsor of the annual spring Clean-Up Campaign. Advance orders may be placed by calling ED 1-8642.

Defer, Maire, Kerby, Moneth, Barnes, Ferry, Mason and Poupard, the latter in Harper Woods, but within the System's jurisdiction.

Besides these schools, centers will be set up at Beacon School, Beaconsfield and Seven Mile road, and at Eastland Shopping Center, both in Harper Woods. Dr. Davies said, however, doses may be received at any center in the tri-county.

Trivalent Vaccine consists of live polio virus, but so mild its effects will not be felt, the health commissioner said. This type of vaccine is far superior in immunizing against polio, than the Salk Vaccine, in which killed virus is used.

Police Arrest Youths After Wild Chase

Officers of Five Communities Join In Sealing Off Escape of Teenagers

A wild, 90-mile-hour chase through Shores and Farms streets, in which police from five communities participated, ended in the arrest of two teenage boys Thursday afternoon, April 9.

The driver, James A. Hudson, 17, of 23128 Tawas, Hazel Park, had his operator's license revoked Thursday morning by the Secretary of State, and had been issued a temporary permit to drive his brother's car home.

Hudson's passenger, Carl W. Fuller, 15, of 444 Emerson, Detroit, fled when the car went out of control and stopped at Kerby and Piche. He was arrested a few minutes later when he was forced out of hiding between houses in Moross, Shores Police Chief Fred Duemling said.

The six-mile chase began at 619 Lake Shore road, when Shores Patrolman Frank Mustazza, on radar watch, clocked Hudson going south on the road at 48 miles an hour, at 3:10 p.m. Lake Shore is a 35-mile zone.

Ignored Signal
Hudson refused to heed Mustazza's signal to pull over to the curb, and sped past the officer, who immediately gave chase.

During the chase, Mustazza radioed for assistance, and scout car crews from the Farms, City, Woods and Harper Woods converged on the area.

The Shores officer said that Hudson made a right turn onto Provencal toward Kercheval, left on Kercheval to Lakeview, right on Lakeview, then again to Lakeview to Country Club drive, where he turned left toward Moross road.

At Country Club and Moross, Farms Patrolman Marvin Krebs joined the chase, following behind Mustazza and Shores Patrolman Harry Hamilton, who also took part. In the meantime, other police cars from the City, Woods and Harper Woods converged on the area.

Meeting in Woods Draws Big Crowd Of Angry Citizens

Zoning Law Amended Declaring Site Selected For Second High School Available For Single Family Residences Exclusively

An overflow crowd of angry citizens of Grosse Pointe Woods jammed the Woods Council room Tuesday night to urge the adoption of a proposed amendment to the City Charter which would zone the 31.5 acres of land at Vernier road and Morningside drive for single-family residential use only.

Mayor Kenneth McLeod stated in his opening remarks that the public hearing had nothing to do with any other subject than the rezoning proposal and asked that people who desired to be heard confine their remarks to that topic.

However, it was obvious that the more than 150 people who appeared were primarily interested in the property that had been selected by the Board of Education for the site of a new high school.

School Lawyer Speaks
Mayor McLeod asked first for remarks by those who were opposed to the amendment and the first speaker was Burt Burgoyne, the attorney for the Board of Education. Amid objections by the crowd of "out of order," he said that "the schools will not be bound by any ordinance passed by the City."

He stated further that Grosse Pointe Woods was acting in conflict with a State Law which prevents a municipality from interfering with school construction if there is need for a school and no other land is available.

Some citizens questioned the value of the public hearing in view of Burgoyne's remarks but were ruled out of order. Other residents asked questions, attempting to clarify the issue but the mayor insisted the public hearing had nothing to do with the new high school but was called simply to decide on the zoning amendment and was in accordance with the City Charter stating that a council meeting be held the first Monday after a regular election.

Some Sympathizers
A few citizens voiced their agreement with Burgoyne's position. The mayor then asked all those in favor of the amendment to rise and about 125 did so. Following this, a citizen called his act an attempt to prejudice the council by not asking those who were opposed to rise, whereupon Mayor McLeod recognized about 25 persons who stood up to indicate their opposition to the amendment.

After the public hearing was closed, Councilman Thomas E. Leah gave various reasons for the support of the amendment which has been under consideration for over a year and moved such an amendment be adopted. The motion passed unanimously.

The petition, dated Monday, April 6, contained the names of all personnel below the rank of lieutenant.

The policemen are asking for a 15 percent increase of their present salary. A sergeant receives an annual salary of $6,834, and a patrolman, $6,234.

The petitioners said that it is their belief that the Park is in sound financial condition, and that their requests can be met without any added burden to taxpayers, and that the officers would be well compensated for the duties they perform.

Many Attend Meeting of School Board

Trustees Tell Objecting Woods Residents Of Exhaustive Search For Suitable Property

The regularly scheduled April meeting of the Grosse Pointe Board of Education was held Monday night with an overflow audience at the schools' administration building at 389 St. Clair avenue. The majority of the crowd, estimated in excess of 200, were residents of the Grosse Pointe Woods area adjacent to the site recently designated for the construction of a second public high school to serve the Grosse Pointe community.

The general tenor of the remarks made by those in the audience was not that they were all necessarily opposed to the construction of schools but rather opposed to the use of property neighboring their own or any in Grosse Pointe Woods for a second senior high school. Objectors to the proposed site first voiced their opinions at the March 23 meeting of the P-TA Council.

During the first part of the meeting, the hearing on the site for the proposed 1,750 to 2,000 student structure, J. Harold Husband, Assistant Superintendent-Administrative Services, summarized the reasons behind the unanimous decision of the Grosse Pointe Board of Education to designate a 31.7 acre farm site as the only one available that was at all acceptable.

Calls Site Ideal
"The particular site chosen for a second high school to serve the Grosse Pointe community is ideal from an educational standpoint because it is located an adequate distance from an arterial highway yet it is easily accessible to it," Mr. Husband stated.

"It is 50 percent larger than the present high school site and comes close to meeting ideal standards for a modern high school and far exceeds the space available in most metropolitan areas," he continued.

During an exhaustive search for suitable sites throughout the school district six parcels of land were seriously or briefly considered, including one in Macomb County. The Detroit Country Club, located in Grosse Pointe Farms, was abandoned because its location is too close to the present high school and too distant from student population centers. The 14-acre Grosse Pointe Hunt Club plot was deemed too small. Of the three remaining possibilities,

Two Police-Fire Phones Changed

Woods residents and commercial proprietors were notified by municipal officials that effective as of 12:01 a.m. Wednesday, April 1, the telephone number of the Public Safety Department has been changed to 886-2700. The old number was TUXedo 4-6300.

A gummed label bearing the new number was sent along with the notice, with the notation that the label be attached to telephones for quick handy reference.

The Public Safety Department moved to its new quarters, shortly after Sunday, April 5, 20025 Mack avenue. The new quarters is a $339,854 addition to the Woods Municipal Building, same address.

The Woods telephone number change is the second to be announced by a Pointe department.

Police Chief Andrew Teetaert and Fire Chief George Poupard disclosed that as of 12:01 a.m., Wednesday, April 1, the police-fire number will be 886-3200, from TUXedo 5-2950.

The other Pointe numbers will remain the same, it was revealed.

The Park Police Department number is Valley 2-7400; Fire, Valley 2-6400; the Farms Police Department, TUXedo 5-2100; Fire, TUXedo 5-1000; and Shores Public Safety Department, police and fire, TUXedo 1-5500.

Policemen in Park Want Pay Boost, Other Benefits

Park police officers presented a 25-man petition to City Manager Robert Slone and Police Chief Arthur Louwers, asking both officials to intercede to the city council in their behalf for an increase in pay and for other benefits.

The petition, dated Monday, April 6, contained the names of all personnel below the rank of lieutenant.

The policemen are asking for a 15 percent increase of their present salary. A sergeant receives an annual salary of $6,834, and a patrolman, $6,234.

The petitioners said that it is their belief that the Park is in sound financial condition, and that their requests can be met without any added burden to taxpayers, and that the officers would be well compensated for the duties they perform.

o'clock, for everyone interested in art today. Mrs. Scott will examine the reasons why today's artist paints as he does, and Mrs. McPhail's subject is American history in American paintings.

To Show Pictures
The 3 o'clock feature is of special interest, as Hawkins Ferry and Lincoln Maire show pictures and describe many of Grosse Pointe's old mansions and recall some of the community's colorful and distinguished citizens.

Refreshments for everyone are scheduled for 4 o'clock, along with announcement of the winners in the "Guess the Circulation" Contest, details of which are available at Branch and Main Libraries. There will be three winners in this unusual feature of the week's festivities.

On view all day will be contemporary paintings by Grosse Pointe artists, a special selection from the Rare Book collection of the Library, an exhibit by the Historical Committee of the Friends (formerly the Grosse Pointe Historical Society), and many other items of interest. Tours will be conducted at regular intervals through the day to point out the valuable art owned by the Library, to take visitors behind the scenes into the closed stack areas and the work rooms, showing how the library operates to serve the community. "I hope that Grosse Pointers will take advantage of this 'Carnival of Books' to learn more about their library, to join the Friends in honoring this facility which serves so many of us so well, and to just plain have fun," said William L. Newman, president of the Friends.

Mrs. Arnold W. Lungershausen and Mrs. James M. French are co-chairmen of the "Carnival of Books" which marks 1964's National Library Week in Grosse Pointe.

of service, and a maximum of $300 a year beginning in the 16th year of service.

5. Grant pay to officers working on legal holidays, as established by the council, at the rate of twice the regular pay.

6. Grant to all officers who have completed their probationary period, two weeks furlough during the winter months, to replace the week normally given for holiday time, and the week given for service time, if the petition is granted for double pay on holidays and the longevity pay.

7. Grant all officers an increase in sick time, double that given annually, and allowing the officers to double the time that they may accumulate, so that on the rare occasion when an officer is unable to work because of a prolonged illness it would not be necessary to take the officer's vacation time and recomensatory overtime to repay the time used in excess of accumulated sick time.

8. Instigate a serious study of the cost and possibility of establishing a 25-year pension for all members of the Police Department.

The policemen stated in their petition, that while it may seem they are petitioning for a great many things, if their petition is compared with the wages and benefits received by Detroit officers, it will be found that they are asking for nothing not already received by the latter, or requested for them by their superiors.

car when he tried to make a left turn from Kerby onto Piche. The vehicle went over the curb, across a number of front lawns and then back on the street where it stalled to a stop.

Mustazza said that Hudson barely missed hitting a utility pole, and skidded sideways in the street before coming to a stop.

Hudson and Fuller jumped out of the car and started to run. Hudson was captured by Mustazza, and Krebs took off after the younger boy on foot, but lost him when the boy ran between houses.

The other police car crews sealed off the area. The cars were manned by City Patrolmen Donald Fritz and George Brack. Farms Police Sgt. Ignatious Backman and Sgt. George Van Tiem; Woods Patrolmen Jack Peterson and Thomas Kane; and Charles Woods Police Capt., Harper Glosser and Patrolmen William Maier, Albert Markflesino and Edward Smith.

Uses PTA System
When Krebs failed to locate Fuller, Shores Patrolman Hamilton used the public address system on his car, warning Fuller that he was surrounded and to come out from where ever he was, with his hands up, and surrender.

The boy emerged and gave up and was handcuffed by Van Tiem, in front of 379 Moross.

Hudson and his companion were taken to the Shores station, where Hudson was given a ticket for speeding. Fuller was sent to the Wayne County Youth Home, for violation of probation.

Hudson said that he was afraid to stop because he and Fuller had been drinking. Mustazza found twelve beer bottles, half of which had been emptied.

After being charged by Shores authorities, Hudson was taken to the Farms station by Van Tiem, where Grebs gave Hudson a ticket for reckless driving and another for illegal possession of beer. Mustazza was the complaining witness.

Parents Post Bond
Hudson was released to his parents, after they posted a bond of $50, pending an appearance in Farms court.

Van Tiem said that the youth told him that he had purchased the beer from a Detroit store, but was not sure where. The youth named three locations, the sergeant said. The matter was referred to Detroit authorities for investigation, the officer said.

Hudson, who was on probation for car theft, had his driver's license revoked earlier in the day, and was given a temporary permit to drive the car home. The permit was to expire at midnight Thursday, police said.

Fuller was also on probation for car theft. He was turned over to Juvenile Court authorities for violation of his probation.

According to the terms of his probation, it was said, Fuller was to stay out of Michigan and to attend the Hayside High School, Hayside, Va., while living with relatives.

He was not to return to the State without first notifying officials of the Wayne County Juvenile Court. He was placed on probation last November 20, police said.

GET JAIL TERM
Richard Northern, 22, of 276 Bayburn, Pontiac, is serving 13 days in the Wayne County Jail. He was sentenced by Park Judge C. Joseph Belanger on Wednesday, April 8, after being found guilty of driving without ever having acquired an operator's license, and for speeding on Jefferson. Northern received a straight 10 days for the first offense, and a $15 fine, or three days, for the second. The fine was not paid.

Cyclist Struck By Car in City

A report came into the City Police Station April 11 at 5:32 p.m. that Laura Helen Berns of 943 Alter road struck a cyclist who was riding in the wrong lane of traffic. The boy was taken to Bon Secours Hospital for treatment.

No violation ticket was issued against Mrs. Berns.

Cadillac

AN INTERNATIONAL CELEBRITY ARRIVES AT THE FAIR

The occasion is the New York World's Fair... the scene is the spectacular General Motors Futurama—and the car, of course, is Cadillac.

And the Cadillac car is a standout attraction even in this distinguished international company. For there is no automobile anywhere that can match Cadillac's reputation for excellence. Drive any of eleven 1964 models and you'll discover why.

There's Cadillac's magnificent and silent power. A 340-horsepower V-8 engine—most powerful in Cadillac history—generates performance so swiftly that we caution even long-time Cadillac owners to mind their speedometers. There is the smoothness of our transmissions—an improved Hydramatic or new Turbo Hydramatic—which deliver that power to the rear wheels.

There is the luxury of elegantly appointed interiors, together with the great convenience of power brakes and steering (plus power windows on most models) that have turned the 600-mile day into a restful reality.

And there is also investment. Find a fine car, if you can, that returns more than your Cadillac when you choose to sell or trade it.

Isn't it time to drive Cadillac—the one American fine car that enjoys premier rank whenever the world's great automobiles are considered? Visit your Cadillac dealer soon. His selection of international favorites has never been more tempting.

Windmill Pointe Residents Protest Assessment Hike

A group of Windmill Pointe drive residents attended the Park council meeting on Monday, April 13, to protest not being able to be heard by the Board of Review and to denounce the new formula on property assessment, which raised valuations to the Wayne County Equalized level.

Residents living in the drive who were at the meeting, are: Harold E. Mistele, Dr. J. G. Reid, F. C. West, Charles Helin, Paul Gordon and Ivan C. Dunlap. Another citizen, R. H. Kennedy, who also attended, lives in Trombley road.

Mistele, who appeared to be the spokesman for the group, although the others had something to say, told the council members that some of his neighbors did not receive fair treatment from the Board of Review. Some of the people who appeared before the Board, did not get a fair assessment on their properties because they have been assessed at twice the purchase price of homes they bought.

Mistele pointed out that some of his neighbors had bought homes in Windmill Pointe drive for 25 percent less than the valuation set on their homes.

He also informed the council that many people who came to be heard before the Board of Review, waited from three to four hours, and could not wait longer, so they left.

He said that his group felt that it should come before the city council to record their protests, before going before the State Tax Commission to appeal for an adjustment.

According to an interpretation by City Attorney Richard Rohr, no taxpayer can appeal to the Tax Commission, unless they first appeared before the local Board of Review. Becoming impatient and leaving because they cannot afford the time to wait, would hardly be considered a legitimate excuse by the Commission for an appeal hearing, Rohr said.

Paul Gordon was the only Windmill Pointe resident who expressed no dissent against the assessment on his property, but he added, he felt sorry for his neighbors and came to protest on their behalf.

Mayor Kenneth Cunningham and the members of the council, informed the residents that raising the assessments on property to the Wayne County Equalized level, was not the doing of the city officials, but was in the hands of county authorities. The city raised the assessments to the county level because it was required by State Law.

Cunningham also pointed out that to the best of his knowledge, the Park is the only Pointe community that has no tax on personal property, that is, contents in the home. The tax is only levied on real property, he said.

The mayor said that if a tax was levied against personal property, the cost to the taxpayers would be much higher than it is at present.

He informed the residents that the Park will operate its government during the fiscal 1964-65 year, on $2,000 less than during the 1963-64 year because of a proposed tax millage cut.

Cunningham said that under the Wayne County Equalized Assessment, the value of real property was raised to about 4.5 million dollars. However, with the proposed tax cut, the city will operate on less money.

He said that it is expected that the tax millage will be cut from 16.95 mills ($16.95 per $1,000 assessed valuation) to 15.50 mills ($15.50 per $1,000 assessed valuation).

A public hearing on the yet undisclosed proposed fiscal budget will be held on Monday, May 11, it was brought out at Monday night's meeting. The proposed budget is under study by the council.

Herbert Heger, city assessor and head of the Public Works Department, offered to meet with any of the residents to discuss the assessment problems and to arrange a meeting with Albert E. Champney, director of Wayne County Bureau of Taxation, who would be glad to explain the new method of assessment to residents' satisfaction.

To Attend Model UN

PATRICIA RYAN and MICHAEL BROWNING are two of the eight St. Paul High School students who will go to Washington with their advisors on Thursday, April 23, to participate in the first Invitational Model United Nations Assembly sponsored by Georgetown University.

The first plenary session will be held on Friday evening, April 24. Before this opening session, students will have the opportunity to meet with the ambassadors of the nations they will represent at the Assembly.

Between the Saturday and Sunday sessions there will be ample time for sight seeing. Among the places of interest to be visited by the St. Paul delegation will be the grave of President Kennedy and the Capitol. At the Capitol students will interview Senator Eugene McCarthy from Wisconsin and the Michigan Congressmen. Following Sunday night's plenary session, students will be present for an awards assembly. They hope to take home at least one trophy to show to their friends.

Delegates and the countries they represent are the following:

Israel — Michael Browning, chairman; Dorothy Sepic, Kenneth Meldrum and Janet Olivo. Jordan — Peter Smith, chairman; Ronald Stanko. Patricia Ryan and Judith Courtney. The advisors are Sister Marie Jude, O.P., and Sister Marcelle, O.P.

Students Prepare For Art Exhibit

The Annual Grosse Pointe Public School Art Exhibit will be held at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial beginning Tuesday, April 21, and continuing through Monday, May 4.

Donald Schrom, Elementary School Art Supervisor, is coordinating this exhibit which will include representative works of students in the Grosse Pointe Public Schools from first through twelfth grades.

Mr. Schrom was interviewed particularly about the works from the elementary schools. They sound fascinating. Included is some highly creative bur-lap stitchery in front of which will stand imaginative papier-mache birds. The walls of Room F in the second floor galleries will be covered with such original art forms as crushed egg shell mosaics on paper, and salt and flour bas relief on boards.

Mr. Schrom remembers the bas relief undertaking well. It was done in a gymnasium on the floor with pall after pall of the salt and flour mixture being swabbed over the boards. The results, however, are wonderful. Clowns, fishes, and flowers all appear in imaginative ridges and riotous color across the length of the forms.

Another interesting art experiment practiced by the elementary students, according to Mr. Schrom, are torn paper pictures which give more freedom and interest to design than cut paper. Also included on display will be mosaics patterned in breakfast cereals in which Miss Ellen Laupe's class specialized.

Completing the display by the young Picasso's will be odds and ends collages fashioned from paper clips, buttons, and the like on peg board.

Camera Club Meets April 21

The Grosse Pointe Camera Club will meet Tuesday, April 21 at 8 p.m. in the Fries Auditorium of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

The main feature of the meeting will be the judging and analysis of the monochrome prints and color slides submitted for competition by the members.

The Club cordially invites those interested in photography to attend this educational and informative meeting.

OFF-COURSE

The world would be in much worse shape if some men preached what they practiced.

Braathen Picked By Republicans

District Republicans chose Clay Braathen, an attorney and former FBI agent, as chairman when they held their convention in Jackson Junior High School April 8. Braathen is a member of the state Goldwater-for-President Committee.

Braathen won the post by a 2-1 margin over Kenneth C. Kurtz. The vote was 136 to 57 with 20 votes in dispute. District leader Richard Durant supported Braathen but he was opposed by Romney Republicans and former Gov. Wilber Brucker, who backs New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller for the presidency.

Kurtz was formerly chairman of the Republican Citizens of the 14th District, in which Grosse Pointe is located. He favors an uncommitted delegate.

Argue Over School Site

all on Vernier road, only one, the Vanderbush farm, came close to meeting the necessary requirements.

Many Homes Involved

In discussing a site on the north side of Vernier road, Mr. Husband mentioned that it contains only 14 acres of land surrounded on three sides by homes. To obtain the same acreage available in the Vanderbush property, it would be necessary to condemn 23 homes in Grosse Pointe Shores and 43 in Grosse Pointe Woods. The estimated total cost of acquiring such a site is in the vicinity of $2 million dollars, exclusive of court costs or condemnation suits, plus moving or razing homes.

The Assistant Superintendent estimated that the initial cost of obtaining the Lochmoor Country Club would range from $2,500,000 to $3,000,000, and that the ultimate cost would range from two to three times the cost per acre of the land in the site selected.

Following Mr. Husband's formal presentation on the six sites, Dr. Whiteley opened the meeting to comments and questions from the audience. These ranged from emotion-packed queries regarding the number of tuition students enrolled in the Grosse Pointe schools (currently 21), to charges of "secrecy" in Board of Education operations. Treasurer Edward J. Pongracz reminded the audience that every speech made by Board members during the fall millage campaign contained reference to the "necessity of a building program in the near future."

Calls for Meeting

Harry Phillips, spokesman for a group of residents of Grosse Pointe Woods, read a prepared statement expressing a variety of views on the proposed site for the high school and calling for a meeting on the subject within two weeks.

A member of the audience proposed erecting a high school on land reclaimed from the lake, while still others intimated that more desirable sites are available in the area, but did not enumerate them.

In answer to a query from Henry Hollister, Board attorney Tom Coulter said that although the Vanderbush property has not yet been purchased, negotiations are still being held.

In response to a question from the floor, Dr. Wilson reviewed the Board's thinking of the proposed second high school. He discussed enrollment projections on a long-range basis and mentioned a possible increase of 4,500 to 5,000 pupils in the district by the year 1980.

Commenting upon population trends that greatly affect suburban areas, Dr. Wilson mentioned the heavy birth rate of the late 1940's approaching marriageable age, the existence of 1,650 lots remaining for new home construction, and the changeover in home ownership as the elderly sell residential properties to young families with a number of children.

Stuart Friedrich said that the Grosse Pointe Woods Council is overwhelmingly against it, but that he, personally is in favor of schools. "But we just can't take any more schools in Grosse Pointe Woods."

Woods Taxes Lowest

David Fairless commended the members of the Board of Education for their public service. He added that although Grosse Pointe Woods has borne the brunt of the tax-free property, it has the lowest municipal tax rates of all the Grosse Pointes. (Rates for the Townships-Shores are 19.25; the City 21.00; Farms 17.37; Park 16.95; Woods 14.55.)

At the recommendation of several in the audience, Trustee Weber moved that the Board hold still another public hearing within the next two or three weeks. The motion was passed unanimously. The session has been set for Monday, May 4 at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium of Parcels Junior High School.

Following a ten-minute recess, Dr. Wilson reviewed his monthly report. The Board acted upon a variety of recommendations that included professional staff resignations, and appointments, changes in salary schedule status, leaves of absence, as well as plant personnel and office worker appointments for the coming school year.

In addition, the Board awarded bids for the high school parking lot on Fisher road to the Ajax Asphalt Paving Company and for the Grosse Pointe boulevard area to Souter Construction.

taining virus of three types of polio, are put on a lump of sugar the size of a small dice cube, and taken orally. The vaccine has a strawberry flavoring. Dr. Davies said.

Everyone, regardless of whether they had been vaccinated with the Salk Vaccine, are urged to take the Trivalent Vaccine, the doctor said. All persons, from the ages of one year and up, should take these oral doses to completely immunize themselves against this deadly disease, Dr. Davies said.

As each person is given the vaccine, volunteers will be at tables to record their name and address as a permanent record showing that that person has been immunized.

Persons receiving the vaccine are asked to contribute a minimum of 50 cents, more if possible, to help defray the cost of the vaccine. However, no one will be forced to make a contribution, nor will anyone be turned away for refusing to do so, the doctor said.

He pointed out that persons who fail to take advantage of, or who, for any reason, are unable to avail themselves of the services at the centers on the designated days, will have to see their personal physicians to get the vaccine. Under the present program, he added, there are no facilities set up to take care of people who missed taking the vaccine on the two days.

tion moneys are not tapped in any way either.

The Center's charges are purposely kept low so that every individual in Grosse Pointe may participate, but they still provide a large segment of the Center's income. Moneys from a small endowment fund add to the Center's intake making it nearly three-fourths self-sustaining.

Along with the annual solicitation of funds comes a very sincere invitation from the Center's Board of Directors to visit 32 Lake Shore, use its unique facilities, and enjoy its beauty with community pride. Waldron Named County Head

State GOP Chairman, Arthur
G. Elliott, Jr., announced the selection of State Representative Robert E. Waldron (13th
Legislative District — Wayne County) as acting chairman of the Wayne County Republican Committee for the remainder of recently resigned Peter Spivak's term of office.

Elliott revealed that the decision was reached yesterday in a meeting with the six Wayne county District chairmen. He cited Waldron's record of active service within the state GOP organization from precinct to District level since 1949 as an example of the development of Party leadership from the grass roots level.

Governor George Romney,
commenting on the selection,
said that he considered it a sign of Republican party organizational strength in Wayne county, that two such able men as Waldron and Spivak are available to serve in succession as county chairman.

Rep. Waldron, current GOP House Floor Leader, has served the 13th Legislative district as its representative since 1954.
As acting county chairman, he will be responsible for coordinating district operations, assisting county candidates in formulating their campaigns and supporting fund-raising activities within the county.

Peter Spivak, the former chairman, recently was appointed to the post of Chairman of the Michigan Public Service Commission.

Waldron is a graduate of Dartmouth College and the University of Michigan law school and has been a practicing attorney since 1949. He, his wife Helen and their three children live at 532 University place.

Woods Public Safety Dept. Moves to New Quarters

The Woods Public Safety Department has completed the transfer of personnel and all equipment to its new quarters adjoining the Woods Municipal Building, 20025 Mack avenue, on Thursday, April 9.

Prior to the moving, emergency radio and all telephone lines were hooked up, providing uninterrupted service, even while the transfer was taking place.

The Public Safety Wing, located on the south side of the city hall, was completed on Tuesday, March 24, and dedicated at a public ceremony held on Sunday, April 5.

The cost of the ell, including furnishings, totaled $339,855.
Part of the cost, $146,300, was contributed by the Federal Government in the form of a grant, authorized under the Public Works Acceleration Act, created to alleviate unemployment in critical areas.

What the Woods will do with the old Public Safety Building at 20775 Mack, at Anita, has not been decided. It may be retained for city purposes, or sold.
The new police-fire radio telephone number at the new quarters, is 886-2700.

The city hall number is still the same, TUxedo 4-6800.

Jade Collector To Give Lecture

Jade from an $80.00 necklace to an Emperor's prized carving will be shown by Dr. Hugh Stalker on the Center's "Meet
The Travellers" series Monday evening, April 20, at 8 o'clock in Fries Auditorium.

The Grosse Pointe public and their guests are cordially invited to attend this illustrated lecture free of charge.

Jade in the Orient was for centuries more highly regarded than precious stones such as diamonds and emeralds. Contrary to popular belief jade comes in as many as six different colors. There are reds, greys and blues as well as the more well known green stones. Often in the Orient, jade was used to adorn coffins and in the earth took on the colors of the ground.

Jade has been used practically for tools and in more recent times for articles of adornment and for objects of art. No two pieces of jade are carved alike even though many pieces representing the same subject have been duplicated.

Dr. Stalker has found the pursuit of jade around the world a fascinating hobby. His viewers are sure to catch his enthusiasm.

no "gingerbread" in a Standard Federal Home Loan

Ever since 1893, when we financed homes like this one, we've concentrated on taking the gingerbread out of home financing.

Result: You save money when you finance the purchase of a home through Standard Federal.

Another plus: You can start and complete a home
mortgage loan at any Standard Federal office.
Home loans are arranged on FHA or GI plans, or on a Conventional plan with the open-end feature that allows you to borrow on the loan at some later date without the costs of refinancing an entire loan. One monthly payment covers principal, interest and real estate taxes.

For a home loan without gingerbread, be sure to see Standard Federal Savings, where you get expert assistance and prompt service.

MICHIGAN BELL

TO HELP THE BLIND HELP THEMSELVES Bell System scientists have introduced a new kind of telephone switchboard which can be operated by a blind attendant. This opens up new job opportunities for the blind. The new device converts the lights signals of the conventional switchboard to sound signals. Other recent Bell System devices to aid the handicapped include a volume-control handset for the hard of hearing, and an electronic larynx for those who have lost the power of speech.

WELCOME A PRINCESS

Into your life! A Princess® telephone, of course... the littlest and loveliest of them all. Any room is the room for your Princess phone. Where it's dark, the dial lights up. Where space is scarce, its compact size fits beautifully. And there's a color to catch or complement any decor. To welcome a Princess phone into your life, just call our Business Office—or ask your Telephone Man.

ASLEEP ON THE JOB! Ordinarily there's no more tireless friend or servant than your family telephone. It works around the clock, year in and year out. One of the few exceptions is when you make it "go to sleep on the job"—by failing to hang up the receiver properly. When that happens, friends can't reach you on the phone. So whenever you hear a buzzing sound coming from your phone, check it at once. Someone must have forgotten to put the receiver back on the "cradle," where it belongs.

Experts' Report to City Follows Long Survey of Steps to Be Taken to Guard Against Deterioration of Area

(Editor's note: This is a second in a series of articles concerning a report prepared by Scott Bagby and Associates of Grand Rapids, City Planners, for the City of Grosse Pointe, in relation to the planning needs of the entire Grosse Pointe community, and a long range guide for community action, present and future. This week's report pertains to Trends and Targets.)

Census figures add to historic background to provide very practical information and indicate important trends. The City of Grosse Pointe has grown from a population of 6,179 in 1940 and 6,283 in 1950 to 8,631 in 1960 (Federal Census figures).

During this same period, the five Pointes have increased from 29,820 in 1940 and 40,163 in 1950 to 55,141 in 1960 (Federal Census figures).

According to the Grand Rapids firm's study report, the City has the smallest number of people under 25 years of age, and the highest number over 45. Its population, as taken from the 1960 census, showed that the community was composed of 3,606 females and 3,025 males. It also had the highest education index of all of the Pointes, with a median of 13.1 years of school completed.

Little Room To Grow

The City increase of seven percent in 20 years, compared with the community increase of 86 percent seems small, but it had virtually no vacant land after 1940, whereas, the other Pointes had abundant vacant land for growth.

This is revealed in the fact that 1,529 dwellings in the City were built in 1940, only 308 were built between 1940 and 1949, and 457 were built between 1950 and 1960, the report stated.

The census shows that of 2,294 dwelling units, there was a total of 2,217 which were occupied, and an average of 3.0 persons per unit. Actually, the owner-occupied units averaged 3.2 persons, while the rented units only averaged 2.4 persons per unit.

While the census showed 24 families with eight or more persons, by far the largest number of families in the City were two-person families. There were 821 families in this category; 42 were three-person families and 317 were four-person families.

The city planners stated that in considering the census figures, allowances should be made for the fact that students and service personnel were not counted as residents of the place of their legal residence, unless that was also their current place of abode.

Mobility Increasing

Although occupancy is high and 69 percent of the occupied units are owner-occupied, family mobility is increasing, the firm's report revealed.

Of the 1,520 owner-occupied units, 355 families had lived in their homes for more than 20 years. A total of 566 had moved into their dwellings between 1940 and 1953; 418 moved in between 1954 and 1957; and 181 have occupied their homes for less than two years.

Of the 697 rented units, Bagby stated, only 22 had occupied their quarters for 20 years or more. Only 131 families had moved in between 1940 and 1953; 176 between 1954 and 1957, and the largest group, 368 families, or 53 percent, had lived in their units for less than two years.

The owner-occupied units had a median value of $26,300 and

Cancer Movie For Men Only

A free film showing, at which a prominent Grosse Pointe doctor will be guest speaker, will be held Monday evening at 8 o'clock under the auspices of the Michigan Cancer Foundation.

The film, "Time Out for Living," is a 20-minute sound and color movie made particularly to motivate men toward better protection of their health through regular physical examinations. The film, which includes a photographic description of what constitutes a complete physical examination in the male, is not confined to cancer but gives interesting and lifesaving information concerning all types of health hazards.

Dr. James E. Lofstrom, head of the radiology department at Detroit Memorial Hospital and a past president of the Michigan Cancer Foundation, will give a brief talk following showing of "Time Out for Living," and is willing to answer all questions motivated by the film.

The program, billed as a "for men only" attraction, is the focal point of the Michigan Cancer Foundation's month-long cancer educational crusade being held this April. More than 50 showings are scheduled in community schools throughout Wayne, Oakland, Macomb and Monroe counties and a concerted effort through labor groups, businesses, industries and civic and fraternal organizations is being made to show "Time Out for Living" at every possible opportunity where men meet for work, pleasure or political purposes.

All Grosse Pointe men are urged to attend the program at Parcels Junior High and to take with them contributions of clean white goods which can be used to make cancer dressings.

A study made of assessed valuations shows clearly the direct relationship between inadequate lot sizes and below average valuations, the city planners stated. This pinpoints the most serious and most difficult problems facing the City.

Assuming that business pays enough taxes to cover its service costs and pays its fair share of school costs, the average dwelling unit requires a tax of $484.55 to pay for its combined county, city and school services of which $229.55 is for schools, $73.35 is for county and $181.65 is for city purposes.

This indicates that any properties assessed at less than the average share of service costs and that all properties assessed at over $8,650 are paying more than the average service costs.

Is Normal Situation

The city planners said that this "over and under average condition" is normal in all city fiscal operations, but the most serious part of the problem is the fact that the below average areas will not only decline in value, thus forcing higher taxes upon all above average homes in the future, but they will also have a depressing effect upon the adjacent home values.

As this devaluation occurs, there will be an increase in the number of dwellings at the low end of the tax scale and a decrease in the number of dwellings paying above average taxes, again resulting in increasingly higher taxes just to maintain the present level of services.

Every business and every above average home in the City will have to pay increasingly higher costs, unless planned action protects and stabilizes present values.

(Next week, the second half of Trends and Targets will be presented as reported in the Grand Rapids firm's study.)

Civil Defence, Air Force To Aid Anti-Polio Drive

A smooth and rapid communication setup is essential to the success of the tri-county polio immunization campaign. The Civil Defense offices in Wayne and Oakland counties will help provide that setup. In Macomb County, the U.S. Air Force will pitch in.

The drive to feed 3½ million persons over the age of one year a sugar cube containing polio vaccine on Sunday, April 19, is being conducted by the medical societies of the three counties with an expected 50,000 volunteers taking part. A second dose, essential to immunization, will be given on Sunday, June 14.

Obviously, with some 900 immunization stations in operation on the two Sundays, problems will arise. Some stations will run short of vaccine, there'll be calls for additional volunteer or medical help, citizens will want information on station locations, there'll be questions and problems and perhaps even emergencies.

In Detroit, Mayor Cavanagh offered the service of the Civil Defense Control Center in setting up a radio and telephone network to tie the immunization stations into headquarters buildings.

"The City is glad to offer these facilities so that children may take advantage of this new type of oral polio immunization," Mayor Cavanagh said.

"It's one of the best things that ever happened—taking the vaccine by mouth instead of by injection.

"I urge everyone, young and old, to take advantage of this program so that we can lick this dread disease. You can be sure

Green Licenses For Juveniles

The new "green" licenses to be issued to all under-21 Michigan drivers applying for licenses are beginning to roll off the presses of the Secretary of State's Vehicle Services Division.

"We have already ground out hundreds of the new licenses," Secretary of State James M. Hare said, "even though we have only had the new green paper just a few days."

Hare said the new licenses would have a plastic laminated face which make them more durable and more difficult to tamper with, the main purpose for the new green licenses.

"However," Hare cautioned, "proprietors of bars, taverns, and takeout stores are still urged to check out licenses of all persons who do not look 21 years of age. There are many persons who are under 21 who still have the regular licenses," Hare said.

Scouts to Sell First Aid Kits

How are you fixed for first-aid supplies? For the home, auto, boat, or cottage? This is the time of the year to take inventory before the action in the coming months catches you unprepared. Increased activity means an increased accident rate.

The Boy Scouts of Troop 74, Richard School, recognized this fact and are having a first-aid kit and band aid sale as part of a "Be Prepared For Accidents" campaign.

During the week of April 18 to 25, the members of the troop will visit homes in the Pointe to present the homeowners with a free first-aid chart showing approved procedures for dealing with various types of accidents and will also offer to assist the homeowner in checking his first-aid supplies for the home. Where inadequacies are revealed, the members of the troop will be able to offer a selection of first-aid kits so that the homeowner may choose the kit that best suits his needs.

Profits realized on the sales will be used to meet the costs of a variety of troop activities. Jack Seever, Scoutmaster of Troop 74, says, "We hope our campaign will alert our entire community to the importance of being prepared to give accident injuries prompt first-aid." If you are interested in having one of these young men assist you, please call 885-7810.

that all of my seven children will be on hand on April 19 and again on June 14 to take their polio vaccine on sugar cubes."

Co-operating will be 50 to 100 "ham" radio operators who have two-way radios in their cars. They'll help relay calls for additional vaccine from immunization stations to the headquarters.

Peter C. McGillivray, director of Detroit Civil Defense, will be in charge.

In addition, the Detroit Civil Defense office is putting in a special switchboard to handle calls from the public for information about the anti-polio drive. The number, to be announced later, will be in use from Friday, April 17, through Sunday, April 19.

In Wayne County outside of Detroit, the Civil Defense office, under director Henry E. Sietz, will set up a communications system on feeding day (Sunday, April 19) also using radio "hams" and telephones. Emergency deliveries of vaccine will be handled by patrol cars directed by Sheriff Peter L. Bueback.

In Oakland County, there'll be a similar setup with radios and phones. Handling the Civil Defense end of things in Oakland is Thomas Jackson, assistant director. The County Road Commission will take care of deliveries and emergency service the day of the feeding.

The information number in Oakland County is 646-7048.

In Macomb County, a communications center will be set up at the County Health Department in Mt. Clemens. It will be manned by volunteers, with Air Force vehicles from Selfridge Air Force Base handling deliveries. Maj. John Bashaw, base surgeon, will be in charge of the Air Force operation.

In Macomb, citizens may call 463-2001 for information now. A special number, to be announced later, will be used the date of the feeding.

School Clothing Drive to Start

A generous public gave discarded and outgrown clothing and shoes valued at $150,000 during the Detroit Public Schools Clothing Drives in 1963. The 1964 Spring Clothing Drive hopefully will set new records this year, with many office buildings assisting in the collection. It will be held April 20 through May 1.

Literally, a mountain of wearables represents tremendous salvage conducted through the combined efforts of Detroit Public Schools Social Service, Inc. and the Volunteers of America twice each year.

The program, now in its 29th year, has grown as Detroit has grown. Many hundreds of children are without sufficient clothing for school each year through no fault of their parents. There are many reasons—sickness, layoffs and inadequate income are among them. It would be a bleak picture but for the School Clothing Drive in Detroit's public schools.

The School Clothing Drive is directed by Earl R. Laing, President, Detroit Public Schools Social Service, Inc. It is a huge undertaking with everyone helping, students, teachers, principals, Mr. Laing, Principal Cooke Junior High School, estimated that 294,000 children participate in gathering the bundles of clothing and shoes contributed by parents.

The Volunteers of America, Detroit Post, clean, mend and size the garments, making them available as needed on order of the Attendance Department of the Detroit Public Schools without charge to the children or to the taxpayers.

All Detroit will unite to help provide the needed clothing so that public school children who should have help will be enabled to stay in school. You are urged to give your contributions to any public school building or in the "Drop the Bundles" campaign in receptacles in the lobbies of Detroit's large office buildings who are cooperating with the schools. For a home pickup, call the Volunteers of America, TRinity two five-thousand.

Intelligent people seem to know where knowledge ends and ignorance begins.

Teenage Drinking, Vandalism Rapped in Student's Essay

A 15-year-old Pointe high school student, on unofficial probation to the Woods Public Safety Department, apparently learned his lesson regarding teenage drinking and vandalism, it was revealed by Woods authorities on Monday, April 13.

The teenager, whose name and the name of his school were both withheld, was recently arrested for walking on and damaging the top of a convertible of a "friend". He was given a stern lecture by Dets. Albert Abend and Gaylord Golding, and ordered to make restitution for damage costs.

The detectives said that since it was the youth's first offense, they placed him on unofficial probation to their department, after he promised not to become involved in another such incident.

Abend and Golding said that they did not let the youth go, however, without first writing an essay on the evils of teenage drinking and damaging of property.

The youth expressed contrition for his acts and asked the officers to help him in straightening out. The student submitted the following essay, which is written verbatim:

"Teenage Drinking and Vandalism: Two major problems among teenagers today, are drinking and vandalism. I believe that lately vandalism is decreasing, while drinking is increasing.

"My family moved to our present address when I was seven years old. I can remember my mother telling me about vandalism and what it was. She also read to me about vandalism in the local paper.

"As I grew older, I began reading and hearing more about it. I used to think to myself, what kind of kid could do such as these things I was reading about. I tried to picture myself in the same act. I came to an uneducated conclusion that vandals didn't have any parents, did not go to school, and lived with gangs.

"When I was twelve years old, I didn't hear much about vandalism, therefore, I didn't think about it any more.

"I imagine that most of the vandalism today is taking place in newly constructed houses. I would think that this would be quite a nuisance to the builders, but I can't think of any way to restrain the 'urge' a kid has to have a rock through a window.

"Teenage drinking is by far the largest problem today. Most teenagers try drinking as an experience. Luckily, a good percentage of them get sick and are discouraged. Others, maybe, don't drink as much, but the taste is new and they don't like it.

"There are also the boys that drink and are afraid to say they don't like it. I'm not saying that nobody likes liquor or beer when they first try it, but a large percentage just can't stomach it, or don't like the taste.

"The people who do like it, usually encourage the others to drink and the others are too timid to say they don't want to, for fear of being scorned upon by the rest of their crowd.

"When teenagers start drinking, and then go driving around, there is usually trouble. They start looking for fights, or just go around and see how much trouble they can get into without getting caught.

"If they can't find a fight, or any other kind of trouble, they will see how fast and how well they can handle a car. This is when it gets going a little too far. They are not only jeopardizing their own lives, but who knows how many others.

"This is where the biggest problem is. Teenagers just don't have enough sense to recognize what might happen and does.

"I think it would be an excellent idea to distribute pamphlets containing photos and articles of accidents in which teenagers were involved. I think that if teenagers were to read this, it would make them stop and think about it. They would also talk about it with their friends.

"If you could make teenagers think and realize what might happen to them before they did something, many problems would be solved. Some of them would just not do it altogether, and some would, but they would be hesitant."

At Defer, the program will be Sunday, May 3, at 2:30 p.m.; at Ferry, Thursday, May 7, at 8 p.m.; at Poupard, Friday, May 22, at 8 p.m.; at Kerby, Monday, May 25 at 7:30 p.m.; at Trombly, Thursday, June 4, at 2 p.m.; at Barnes, Wednesday, May 6, at 2:30 p.m.; and at Richard, Thursday, June 4 at 10 a.m. and 1:30 p.m.

Programs have also been arranged for Mason and Montith Schools but the dates have not yet been set.

REPORT THEFT
Ronald R. Myers of 23301 Kelly road, East Detroit, told Woods police that while his car was parked in the Woods Theater lot on Sunday, April 12, someone stole two spinner-type hubcaps from the left side of the vehicle. He was attending a movie at the time, he said.

The Chorus is directed by Dr. Donald W. Simmons, instructor of vocal music at Parcels Junior High. He is also the director of music at Covenant Baptist Church, conductor of the Grosse Pointe Chamber Singers and the Grosse Pointe Summer Chorus.

Accompanist for the Chorus and Chamber Singers is Jerry Hughes. Tickets may be obtained ($1.00 for adults, 50c for students), at the Grosse Pointe Book Shelf, Kercheval on the Hill or from any member of the chorus or by calling TUxedo 4-5064.

St. James Having Guest Preacher

The Rev. Gilbert A. Thiele, Ph.D., professor of historical theology at Concordia Seminary, St. Louis, Mo., will be guest preacher at St. James Lutheran Church on Sunday, April 19, at both the 9:30 a.m. and 11 a.m. services.

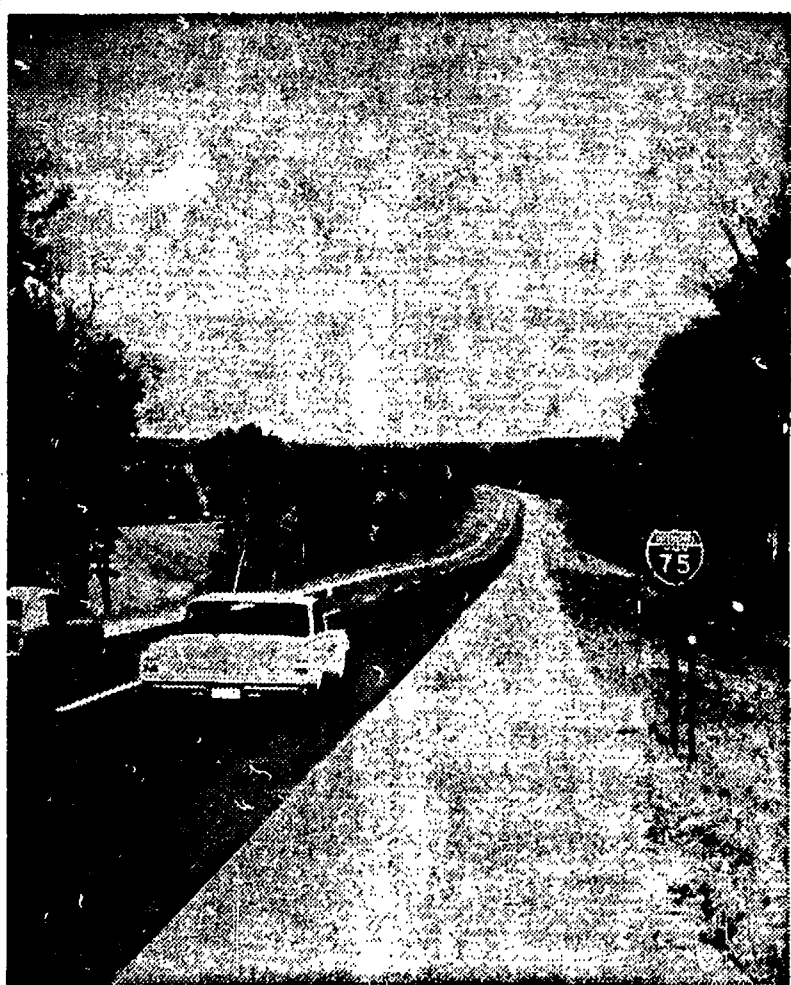

His sermon subject will be "Ecumenical Christianity," his text will be John 17:21, Christ's prayer for the Church. "That they may all be one."

Dr. Thiele will be in Grosse Pointe to address the Greater Detroit Lutheran Pastoral Conference at Wayne State University on the subject, "Montreal, Rome, and Helsinki," on Monday, April 20. These cities were the centers of the three great ecumenical conferences of the century.

Dr. Thiele served as an observer at the Montreal conference. The meeting Monday is a joint gathering, at the invitation of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod, with the National Lutheran Council.

Dr. Thiele has a daughter living in Grosse Pointe, Mrs. John Collins, a member of St. James.

Country's Most Beautiful

IT'S A BEAUTY—Take a ride on America's most scenic highway — on I-75 in Northern Michigan — during Michigan Week, May 17-23. "That's the time when everyone in Michigan is supposed to devote himself to getting better acquainted with our great state," State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie said in a message urging Michigan citizens to drive the prize-winning highway between Clare and the Mackinac Bridge. The judges who picked I-75 for the Scenic Highway Award described it as "the year's best example of a motorist's highway — a joy to see as well as to drive."

To Show Movie Of Switzerland

"Switzerland" will be the film presented by Earl B. Brink at the April 23 meeting of the Grosse Pointe Cinema League. It will be shown in the Fries Auditorium of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial at 8 p.m. The Grosse Pointe public is invited at no charge.

Earl Brink has been roaming the world since 1936. Taking more than a half million feet of color film, and traveling a mile for every foot made, Mr. Brink has visited 198 countries and island groups. He is a member of the Adventurers Club, the Circumnavigators Club and the Explorers Club, all of New York.

Nowhere else in the world are such contrasts and diversity encompassed in so small a region as in Switzerland. Every type of climate and scenery, from ice-bound Arctic to subtropical Mediterranean, is represented in the compact roof top country. Whether it be the giant spur of the Matterhorn; trim villages of the valleys; placid lakes in Alpine settings; the austere realm of glaciers and eternal snow; gay resorts; Devil's Bridge; the Castle of Chillon; Zurich; Lake Lucerne; Geneva; or the village of Iserables, where women carry babies on "headcradles"—if it's in Switzerland, it's in Earl Brink's magnificent film production.

Don't Toss Away That Garden Hoe

Don't throw away that garden hoe... yet!

Science, with all its modern advancements, has yet to come up with a single chemical that can do a complete job of controlling weeds without killing your garden crops.

Stanley Ries, Michigan State University horticulturist, explains that all chemical weed killers now on the market are specific. That is, they can control weeds for one crop but are likely to injure another. This makes spraying nearly impossible in small gardens where corn, beans, radishes, etc., grow side by side.

Of course, says Ries, the home gardener can fumigate his plot to protect crops from weeds and nematodes. But this is an expensive proposition, usually costing $1.00 per square foot.

There is some hope, however, that science will take some of the hard-weeding chores out of gardening. Ries says that in two or three more years a chemical will be released that will control all garden weeds, but it will have to be applied before any crops emerge from the ground.

2 Pointe Drivers Taken Off Road

Two Pointers were taken off the road, one temporarily, according to a weekly report, dated March 27, received from Michigan Secretary of State James M. Hare.

Richard L. Phillips of 2111 Hampton, had his driver's license taken from him on March 25 because of an unsatisfactory judgment under the Financial Responsibility Law.

A 30-day suspension of driving privileges was levied against Joseph V. Furnari of 1029 Balfour, whose license was held by the SOS on March 23 because of an unsatisfactory driving record. The license will be returned on April 24.

During the week of March 22 through March 28, the time of this report, the driver's licenses of 501 Michigan motorists were suspended and those of 28 were revoked, Hare disclosed.

Knights Templar Elect Pointers

At ceremonies in the Masonic Temple Friday, April 11, LeRoy B. McNally of 832 Lakeland succeeded Henry A. Montague as Eminent Commander of Detroit Commandery, No. 1, Knights Templar.

Serving with McNally from the Grosse Pointes are Arthur Churchman, Senior Warden, who lives at 2002 Stanhope; Alfred M. Wilke, Junior Warden, of 346 Merriweather; Edwin C. Brendtke, Recorder, of 332 Belanger road; and Harry W. Brown, Warden, of 40 Willis.

Band at Pierce Giving Concert

The Pierce Junior High School's Symphonic Band has been spending many hours in rehearsal for the Spring Concert to be given on Friday, April 24, at 8 p.m. in the auditorium.

Dr. Thomas James Moore, the band instructor will conduct the band of over 100 students. The "Star Spangled Banner", with the audience singing, will open the program. This number will be followed by Chamber's "Hosträuter's March", Baroni's "Blues in the Band" and Melnik's "Gettysburg Address". Ralph Miller will perform in the capacity of program reader. The next selection to be played is "Independencia March" by Hall.

Four top clarinet players, Ted Templeton, Haydee Wallace, Thomas Lally and Robert Rayment have selected John's "The Four Woodsmen" for a specialty number. "Bugler's Holiday" will be another feature performed by a trio of talented cornetists. These students are Gary Deary, Ralph Miller and Allen Hershey.

Before concluding their repertoire, the entire band will present "Au Pay Lorrain" by Balay, Meredith Willson's favorite "The Music Man" and the finale "You're a Grand Old Flag" by Cohan.

Tickets may be purchased from any of the band members or at the door on Friday evening, April 24. Adult tickets are 50 cents while students are admitted for 25 cents.

School Art Work Being Displayed

The second floor galleries of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, 32 Lake Shore road, will be bursting their seams from Tuesday, April 21, through Monday, May 5.

They will be crammed with the highly original and representative art work of the Grosse Pointe Public Schools. The work will even spill over into the halls and stair well.

This is an all-system exhibit according to Charles Jorgenson, teacher of art at Pierce Junior High School. The senior high students will exhibit mainly drawing, painting, ceramics, and jewelry. The junior high pupils, however, will show a whole gamut of art objects.

There will be constructions of reed and tissue. Masks of papier mache will peer from the walls. Stained glass will hang in front of the windows. Both wire and wood sculpture will stand on tables and mantles. Silver and copper work will be interspersed with pottery.

In the two dimensional field there will be fanciful collages, block prints, silk screen work, water colors, oil painting and crayon designs.

The public is cordially invited to view this colorful exhibit.

Does a great loudspeaker have to be loud?

Loudspeaker systems by EMI give you natural, undistorted reproduction of music at high and low listening levels.

Crank up the volume and the EMI sound bursts forth in full concert-hall glory. Turn the music down to a whisper and there is still a live, robust, thoroughly realistic quality to the sound.

Not many high fidelity systems can accomplish that at any price. EMI manages to do it in four different models, of progressively greater complexity and sophistication, from $69.75 to $249.00.

Come in for a demonstration. You have nothing to lose except your illusions about other loudspeakers.

Guitar Class Very Popular

Folk guitar music is apparently here to stay. The first classes at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial were filled to overflowing. Now the repeat session of beginners lessons appears to be ready for a sell out too.

Under the instructorship of Alex Sucek the new classes will begin on Wednesday evening, April 22. All who have signed up are asked to be at the Center promptly at 8 o'clock the first night. Then the group will be divided into two sessions, the younger students to take from 8 until 9 and the older strummers from 9 until 10. The fee for the series of 10 lessons is $15.

Alex quickly teaches everyone basic strums and chords and before the end of the first evening students are able to sing and accompany themselves on a simple tune. As time progresses harmony work is included.

This is the last call so dust off your guitar or get a new one and be sure to get your paid reservation in to the Center immediately.

Two Cars Tangle At Intersection

James U. Pattee of 1013 Kensington was driving west on East Jefferson avenue April 11 at 1:45 p.m. and struck a car travelling in the same direction driven by Kenneth P. Klostemeyer of 4700 Chalmers, Detroit, at the intersection of Lakeland.

Pattee claimed that while he was attempting to pass the Klostemeyer car on the right, a passenger in the latter car struck him in the face with a shot of water from a water pistol, causing him to veer into the other car.

Klostemeyer left the scene of the accident without identifying himself and Pattee reported the accident to the City Police after getting the license number of the Klostemeyer car. No tickets were issued.

Exhibition Game To Help Baseball

A statewide ticket campaign to "fill Tiger Stadium" for the Tigers' exhibition game with the St. Louis Cardinals June 1 is about to get underway.

An ingenious formula to assure the widest possible distribution of tickets has been worked out by officials of the Recreation Association of Michigan, which is sponsoring the game for the benefit of all amateur baseball in Michigan.

Expenses of the game are being underwritten by the Tigers and all admission income will go to boys' baseball. Under the plan devised by the RAM, baseball groups will share in the receipts according to the number of tickets sold in their areas.

Distribution of the tickets is being based on two factors: population of the area and the amount of amateur baseball activity in the area.

The plan will put the tickets where they are most apt to be in demand and where the receipts will benefit the greatest number of amateur baseball organizations, the RAM ticket committee indicated.

Five thousand seats will be earmarked for sale by the Tigers' ticket department to the club's regular season boxholders, with the receipts going to the amateur baseball fund. Another 5,000 tickets will be set aside for sale by groups in Windsor and Toledo.

After that, the rest of Tiger Stadium's 53,000-plus tickets of all kinds will be distributed in six areas so that all will have box seats, reserved seats, general admission and bleacher tickets to sell.

Organizations wishing to sell tickets and share in the receipts should get in touch with the local chairmen.

The committee also explained that, because of the financial setup of the benefit game, all ticket purchases will be considered as donations to amateur baseball. There will be no refunds in case the Tiger-Cardinal game is rained out, they explained.

Final Babe Ruth Tryouts Slated

Pointe Babe Ruth Commissioners Wilson, American League and Kleene, National League, announced that next Saturday, April 18, at 10 a.m. will be final tryouts for 13, 14, 15-year-olds in the Park-City-Farm League.

All boys not on a team must tryout since each team must be at Kerby Field and National League at Neighborhood Club Field. In case of rain tryouts will be held at 1 p.m. Sunday, April 19.

All boys in the 13-year-old group are especially urged to tryout since each team must carry five in that age group. All boys must register whether they have played in previous years or not. Registration forms may be obtained from Carl Cubberly, 907 University place.

Player selections will probably be announced during the week of April 30, according to the two league commissioners.

Accidents Occur In Bank, Shop

An employee of the National Bank of Detroit at 17440 East Jefferson avenue, Mary Polasky of 795 St. Clair avenue, slipped on the floor of the office April 8 and broke her arm. Officers from the City police station applied a splint to her arm after which she was driven to Doctor's Memorial Hospital in Detroit by another employee.

Another accident occurred in a Grosse Pointe place of business April 7 when Agnes Maloney of 14811 Greenfield, Detroit, was injured while shopping in the Neighborhood Thrift Shop. The accident took place when an urn fell off the shelf and hit her on the head. City police officers took her to Bon Secours Hospital for treatment.

The School Site Battle

A statement delivered at a meeting of the Grosse Pointe School Board on Monday, April 13, by Harry H. Phillips, speaking for a group of Grosse Pointe Woods taxpayers known as "Educational Vigilance Committee."

Dr. Whiteley: Some of us requested the Board of Education to grant a public hearing on the proposed second high school and its site. In replying to our requests you asked us to gather information about alternate sites and present them this evening.

I'll admit, at first, some of us felt that this was an attempt on your part to dictate just what information we would be allowed to present this evening. However, as we discussed your letter further, we felt there was a strong possibility that it was a legitimate request for assistance from a Board that was not thoroughly sold on the Vanderbush site and which would be deluged with information on sites that would be more suitable.

It was in this spirit that we proceeded to comply with your request. However, we soon found out what you probably already know: That gathering accurate information from alarmed property owners is not an overnight job... especially when the inquirers have no official status.

To date, however, we have uncovered favorable data which apparently the School Board has not yet received from its appointed administrators—data that would put some of these sites in a much more favorable light.

At this time, we do not feel our information is either comprehensive or accurate enough so that the Board could take action on it. We feel that in another two weeks our information about alternate sites will be in a form worthy of presentation. We ask the Board for this additional time.

We feel we have treated your request to us for additional information in a cooperative manner. We don't feel we have been quite as cooperative in granting our request for a public hearing. We don't feel that giving us a few minutes sandwiched into one of your regular meetings in a room that barely accommodates 80 persons fulfills either the spirit or the letter of a legitimate public hearing. Apparently, you've erred in your thinking that the only persons who would want to be heard on this matter were those whose property backs up on the Vanderbush farm.

I can assure you there are several other groups who want to be heard and be heard because you may find this hard to believe. I will give you some examples: There are our older residents—some retired—who've had to pay for school after school during their years in Grosse Pointe. At a time when their personal school needs are over and their income is reduced, they naturally are inclined to ask: Are you sure we have to pay out for another high school? While we may not all be in accord with this viewpoint, we can be sympathetic to their special problems and agree that they, perhaps more so than the rest of us, have earned the right to be respectfully heard.

Then, there are others with limited resources who reluctantly agree that we probably do need added facilities, but who plead with us to take a good hard look at the least expensive way of meeting the problem: namely, adding on to our present facilities. I feel these people, too, have a right to express their concern in an open hearing.

Next, the residents of the Woods have a legitimate point of concern. We already have almost as much tax-free property as all the other Pointe communities combined! Must we be further penalized and discriminated against by taking away still more of our potential tax-paying properties? Aren't we entitled to vigorously question the selection of this proposed site over other usable sites from the standpoint of simple justice?

The people in Harper Woods have a right to question the location of the proposed site.

They might well point out that this site, while barely a quarter of a mile away from Grosse Pointe Shores is a good two miles or more away from their community. Is the Board prepared to treat our sister community as a bunch of poor relations, living on the wrong side of the tracks, asked only to pay up and shut up? Shouldn't they be heard? I don't believe the Board even bothered to invite them here this evening!

Finally, we must recognize that there are many who are more concerned with their children's education, their community's reputation than they are with taxes. They are delighted with the prospects of a new high school. All they ask is that it be a high school that will fully meet their children's needs and be a credit to the community—not a second-rate high school on a sub-standard site. Shouldn't they, too, be given an opportunity to examine all sides of these questions in a public hearing?

Therefore, I ask the Board to do the following:
1. To grant to those of us asked for additional alternate site information an extra 15 days to prepare accurate and comprehensive presentations.
2. To hold a true public hearing, in approximately 15 days, at a location like Parcels School, which will provide enough space and time so that all interested persons, such as I've mentioned, will have an opportunity to hear and be heard, fully. I'm sure the Grosse Pointe Woods Council will be willing to co-sponsor this hearing—and I'm sure that persons like myself will assist you in making sure that the time, date and purpose of the hearing, real and adequate publicity.

I'm also prepared to say that if the Grosse Pointe Board of Education is not prepared to accept this leadership in setting up these hearings, that some of us are prepared to accept an offer from the City of Grosse Pointe Woods for facilities for our own open hearing of Grosse Pointe School District parents and taxpayers—a hearing at which our experts on school site adequacy, attorneys, architects, safety officers, would present evidence. I'm sure that the implications of such a privately-sponsored meeting would be evident to everyone: That the Grosse Pointe Board of Education's current school proposal is so indefensible, so suspect... that the Board does not dare expose it in a public hearing. So, with you or without you, we're going to have the kind of public hearing we're all entitled to! It's up to you which way it's going to be.

3. I strongly recommend that the Board of Education take no further action which will tend to commit the Grosse Pointe School District to the Vanderbush site, until the results of the public hearing have been very carefully and conscientiously analyzed by each individual member of the Board of Education and their appointees.

What Goes On at Your Library

By Virginia Leonard

And now to catch my breath, after two weeks in the sunny south, and forge ahead in matters pertaining to the Grosse Pointe Libraries. I was sorry to have missed the April 1st Friends Meeting, but they tell me that Mr. Fleischman's talk on art was an outstanding success, and played to a capacity house.

The air is certainly full of plans for National Library Week, April 12-13. The week will be observed in all three Libraries variously with special exhibits, displays and book talks (six of these being given by Mr. Robert M. Orr, Director of the Grosse Pointe Public Libraries). On Saturday, April 18, this program will be climaxed by a gala event entitled: CARNIVAL OF BOOKS, which will have as hosts the Friends of the Grosse Pointe Public Library. The schedule of events certainly looks inviting. At 10 a.m. there will be a story hour for children, complete with balloons and just generally lots of fun. While the youngsters are being entertained, Mr. Orr will give a book talk to the parents; coffee will also be served. At 11 a.m. the story of our Libraries, through the medium of colored slides, will be presented by Mr. Orr and the Department heads. Later at 1 p.m. there will be a stereo demonstration by Mr. William Gard. If your interests lie in art, there is a program for you too. At 2 p.m. Mrs. Marion Scott will tell you "How and why today's artist paints as he does." Also, Mrs. Donald R. McPhail will present: "American history in American painting."

And what of the old Grosse Pointe? Do you have a yen to see pictures and listen to descriptions of its old mansions? At 3 p.m. a program of this nature will be given. Mr. Hawkins Ferry and Mr. Lincoln Maire will host the event. And finally at 4 p.m. there will be a reception and refreshments for all.

Oh yes, there will also be a guessing contest. What kind? Just guess the number of books you think your branch of the Grosse Pointe Public Libraries will circulate from April 13 through April 17. This is to be known as the Sweepstakes—you fill in a Sweepstakes Blank and (maybe) win a prize. If your guess is the right one. This will be announced at 4 p.m. so better stay around for all the fun.

And what of exhibits? There will be contemporary paintings by Grosse Pointe Artists, prints by famous painters, rare book displays from the Special Collections in the Friends Room, interesting items from the Historical Collection, a specimen collection from the Great Books Committee—and all on a large center kiosk in the Main Reading Room. Have we said enough—are you ready to come?

And tours! Guides will be ready to escort you personally through our Library building, point out its objects d'art, its special collections, its various services—even to show you what goes on behind closed doors!

And when is all this to take place again? April 18, 1964—mark it on your calendar because it's a new "first" in our Library annals, and we want it to be a success. With such wonderful cooperation from the Friends Group, we are sure it will be.

It would seem fitting and proper to continue at this time on the subject of the Friends of the Grosse Pointe Public Library, and to mention that their very recent gift to our Library for 1964 will amount to $3,000, to be spent on books ($2,000), films, rare books, tapes and other items. We cannot over-emphasize how welcome this yearly gift has been, especially when one realizes that this type of appropriation has been made for the past ten years. We are most grateful always for the excellent help we constantly receive from this fine group.

It would also seem particularly apropos in this conjunctive meeting of the Friends, on Tuesday, May 19 at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial. This year the featured speaker will be Dr. Howard H. Peckham, Director of the William L. Clements Library of the University of Michigan. Certainly a fitting and most satisfactory conclusion to a successful year of mutual association and benefits. We look forward confidently to a good 1964-65, and if our CARNIVAL OF BOOKS is successful, possibly to a repeat performance of this program. We shall see.

The demonstration is set for May 4 at General Motors Corporation headquarters in Detroit. Other such protests will follow at GM plants, offices and dealerships throughout the nation. The announcement was made by NAACP executive secretary Arthur L. Johnson.

Why are some drugs like "ecstasy sauce?"

By FRED KOPP, R.Ph.

If you read "Li'l Abner" you may recall how the Gourmet's Club plotted to make "Ecstasy Sauce" from the Yokums' pet pig, Salomey. Recipe: Boil down one ham-mus alabamensis (Salomey) until just one single, slippery delicious drop remains—and that is "Ecstasy Sauce." In terms of food, this is humorously ridiculous, but it's actually routine in the making of drugs. Other hundreds of pounds of raw materials must be processed and re-processed to obtain one tiny pinch of the active medication. Which helps explain why modern drugs are so potent, and why we pharmacists dispense them only when your physician writes a prescription.

WOMEN'S PAGES

From Another Pointe of View

By Janet Mueller

The Liggett School, a tradition in many local families, moves into the Pointe next year, with alumnae, students and friends torn between joy (both a new school and a new location were sorely needed) and sadness (what will become of the memories that jostle one another in Liggett's Burns avenue halls?).

The last class to graduate from the "old" school will crown their May Queen at the annual Founders Day ceremony May 1, and it seems fitting that this year's Queen is a Grosse Pointe girl, Michael Shelton, daughter of Mrs. Carl F. Shelton, of Yorkshire road, and the late Dr. Shelton, who links in person the "old students," of Burns avenue, and the "new students," of the Pointe.

In a traditionally beautiful ceremony, Queen Michael and her attendants, including her sister, 10th grader Candy Shelton, and Pointers Rory Nelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford I. Nelson, of Oxford road, and Meg Hammond, daughter of Mrs. Chalmers Hammond, of Ridgmont road, representing the 12th and 11th grades respectively, will watch the Eighth Grade pay homage to the court by performing a Maypole Dance.

Nancy Kaufman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lynden J. Kaufmann, of St. Paul avenue, is to be a Herald, and the annual reception, weather permitting, will be held for the Royal entourage on Liggett's terrace.

Another Liggett tradition, newer than the May Queen but no less prized, is the school's Father-Daughter Dinner Dance, scheduled this year on Friday, April 24, at The Country Club of Detroit.

Members of the Dad's Committee, identified by white carnations, will greet approximately 100 couples, Liggett girls and their fathers, as they arrive. Each girl will receive a corsage, and after a 7:30 o'clock dinner, there will be dancing to the music of the Owen Moran Orchestra. Later in the evening, the girls expect to hold a Song Contest by Classes, honoring their dads. Chairman of this 11th annual Father-Daughter "evening out" is John A. Moeckle, of Stephens road, who will be escorting his daughter Beatrice.

Other proud Pointe fathers and daughters already making plans to attend are John Hodges and Crista, George R. Wilson and Barbara, Frank D. Cotter with his "double dates" Lee and Eve, Dr. John C. Kretzschmar and Patty, Fred W. Pierce and Barbara, Dr. Jason Hodges and Pam, William C. Beckenhauer and Leslie, and Clifford Nelson and Rory.

Lynn and Marilyn Kriehoff will be escorted by father, William T. Kriehoff, and Lynda and Gail Wy-

Sue Cooper Is Wed To T. Y. Watson, Jr.

Pair Travel to Virginia After Rites Saturday In St. Clare de Montefalco Church; Reception At Grosse Pointe Yacht Club

Sue Ellen Cooper and Thomas Young Watson, Jr., exchanged marriage vows Saturday, in St. Clare de Montefalco Church.

Father Jerome Hayman officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride, daughter of Mrs. Benjamin Franklin Cooper, of Berkshire road, and the late Dr. Cooper, was given in marriage by her brother, Dr. Thomas Michael Cooper.

She wore a gown of silk organza, fashioned with a detachable train. Appliques of Alencon lace and Pointe de Venise lace accenting her controlled skirt and bateau neckline.

Her bouffant veil of French silk illusion fell from a pillbox of organza and Alencon lace, and she carried a bouquet of butterfly orchids and Stephanotis.

Mrs. Roland Eugenio, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, in a seafoam green gown with a bateau neckline and fitted skirt, back panels flowing to her hemline.

Dressed identically were the bridesmaids, Mrs. Thomas Cooper, sister-in-law of the bride, Emily and Susan Watson, sisters of the bridegroom, Gertrude Joswiak and Nancy Cromer-Joswiak.

Miss Hagland To Be Bride

Mr. and Mrs. Russell C. Hagland, of New Orleans, La., formerly of Dorthen avenue, announce the engagement of their daughter, Patricia Lee Hagland, to James Thomas Whittle, son of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Whittle, of Detroit.

The bride-elect was graduated from Grosse Pointe High School, and is presently in her senior year at Western Michigan University, where she is majoring in Elementary Education.

Her fiancé, a 1963 graduate of Western Michigan University, is currently doing graduate work at WMU, in the Guidance curriculum.

Mr. and Mrs. Hagland, Pointe residents for many years, will return to the Pointe for their daughter's August 15 wedding, in Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church.

Mozart Concert Set for Apr. 13

The Pro Mozart Society of Greater Detroit will present its fifth annual concert April 13 at 8:30 in the Community Arts Auditorium of Wayne State University, Cass and Ferry.

It will again mark a first in music history, since works by Salzburgian composers only, from the 14th to the 18th century will be featured.

Songs in German, used in the Middle Ages will be heard. Among them will be two compositions by "the Monk of Salzburg." Neither his name nor the exact dates of his birth and death are known. According to Dr. Bernhard Paumgartner, the president of the Salzburg Music Festival, who has the music of the 14th to the 16th century in his private collection, "the Monk of Salzburg" lived around 1300.

Two songs were composed by Paulus Hofmayr, who lived in the 15th century.

Other composers on the program are: Johann Ernst Eberlin, Leopold Mozart and of course the immortal Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart—all of the 18th century.

Marguerite Kozenn Chajes, the artistic director of the "Pro Mozart Society" received the music, which was especially photocopied from manuscripts of the Vienna National Library, the private collection of Dr. Paumgartner and the Mozartum in Salzburg.

The participating artists are: soprano Maria Roumell; mezzo-soprano Rosemarie Murch; baritone John Redfield; harpsichordist Alice Lungershausen; pianist Rita Sloan (formerly of Wayne State University and presently a student at the Juilliard Music School in New York) and pianist-organist Robert Bates.

Arias from "Don Giovanni" and "Così fan tutte" will be sung as well as the concert aria "Ch'io mi scordi di te," K.505.

Miss Sloan will play the sonata in D Major, K. 576.

Among the co-sponsoring organizations are: the Austrian Society of Detroit; the German-American Cultural Center; Music Study Club of Detroit; the Tuesday Musicals and its Student League; the United Community Services of Metropolitan Detroit and Wayne State University.

The big problem in getting a college education today seems to be in finding a place to park.

Mrs. Thomas Watson, Jr.

SUE ELLEN COOPER, daughter of Mrs. Benjamin Franklin Cooper, of Berkshire road, and the late Dr. Cooper, was married in St. Clare de Montefalco Church Saturday to Mr. Watson, son of Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Young Watson, of Birmingham, Mich.

DAC to Present 'Little Show'

The Four Lads, who got their beginning as background singers for Johnnie Ray's recording of "Cry," have zoomed to the top in the recording business with five gold records to their credit, and personal appearance on topnotch radio and television shows.

Bork, the Henry C. Weilders, the Herman Wecklers and the Martin C. Brennans.

More are the Peter J. Koenigs, Robert Gaskills, Clyde Manions, the Leigh B. Middlebrooks, the George M. Sulburs, Judge and Mrs. Carl Weidman, the Burns Coadys, the Kendrick Browns, the Arthur Fushmans, the Reece Obersteuffers, William F. Rossiers, William Beckenhousers, Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Miss Prince Says Vows To Mr. Lekin

Bride Wears Gown of Peau de Soie and Ecu Lace For Rites Saturday in St. Paul's on the Lakeshore

At a 12:30 o'clock ceremony in St. Paul's on the Lake Shore Saturday, Sandra Anita Prince, daughter of Mrs. Paul Joseph Prince, of Brys drive, and the late Mr. Prince, was married to James Leon Lekin, of South Bend, Ind.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Thomas John Prince, wore a peau de soie gown, designed with an Empire bodice of ecru lace and a Wateau train.

Her illusion veil fell from a small crown of peau de soie with a back bow, and she carried Amazon lilies.

In floor length dresses of pink linen were the attendants, Barbara Ann Prince, sister of the bride, maid of honor; and bridesmaids Jean Abbe, of Warren, Mich., Martha Corsbie, of des Moines, Ia., sister of the bridegroom, and Vicki Kay Prince, another sister of the bride.

Their headpieces were pink

Dior bows, and they carried bouquets of pink Amazon lilies. Mr. Lekin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Lekin, of Des Moines, Ia., asked Edward J. Fillenwarth, of Indianapolis, Ind., to serve as best man.

Ushers were Paul J. Driscoll, of Washington, D.C., and Edwin Bullard and J. Robert Sullivan, both of South Bend, Ind.

For her daughter's wedding and the reception at Huck's Lakeshore, Mrs. Prince chose a frock of aqua silk shantung, with a lace bodice. Mrs. Lekin was in blue silk shantung. Both mothers wore cymbidium orchid corsages.

When the couple return from a wedding trip to North Carolina, they will live in South Bend.

Glee Clubs Plan Joint Concert

For the first time, the Glee Club of the Academy of the Sacred Heart will be heard in a joint concert. The "Convent" girls and boys from Catholic Central High School will perform this Saturday evening, April 18, at 8 o'clock, in the auditorium of the Grosse Pointe Academy.

A buffet supper has been scheduled preceding the concert, which will benefit the Blessed Philippine Duchesne Shrine in St. Louis, Mo. Mother Duchesne, who led the first group of Religious of the Sacred Heart to settle in America, opened the first free school to offer elementary instruction west of the Mississippi in September, 1818, in St. Charles, Mo.

The academies and convents operated by the Religious of the Sacred Heart, which today stretch from coast to coast, all stem from Mother Duchesne's pioneering efforts.

The first Sacred Heart Academy in Detroit opened its doors in 1851, and in 1885 the Grosse Pointe Academy began operations in its present location. Grosse Pointe remained a small academy for many years (Detroiters considered its location "inaccessible"), until the city's tentacles began to stretch out into the "country."

The earliest Grosse Pointe Academy students were a healthy lot—due to skating on the lake, tobogganing, autumn hay-rides on the Academy farm land stretching far beyond what is now Grosse Pointe boulevard, and springtime rambles through deserted meadows.

Today's students are still a healthy lot... but considerably more cosmopolitan than their predecessors of the '80s and '90s. Saturday's joint concert, the 50-voice Academy Glee Club joining voices with the 60-voice Glee Club of Catholic Central, is an innovation—"first"—with proceeds earmarked for a memorial to Mother Duchesne, herself an innovator, first to establish the Society of the Sacred Heart in America.

The Catholic Central High School Glee Club has an excellent reputation in the Detroit area; as one of the 12 best singing groups in the Metropolitan area, it is represented on the recording "Christmas in Detroit." The boys are scheduled to perform in Ford Auditorium in a few weeks.

The Academy Glee Club, less well known, is equal to Catholic Central's in excellence. Patricia Roney is Glee Club president; Susan Girodat serves as president of the Academy Choir, which will also perform Saturday; and Nancy McDonald is student accompanist.

Tickets, available at the door, may be obtained for $1.50 donation. Families, friends, alumnae and music lovers are cordially invited to attend the concert.

Mu Phi Epsilon Alumnae To Meet Monday Evening

The Detroit Alumnae Chapter of Mu Phi Epsilon will meet Monday, April 20, at 8 o'clock, in the home of Mrs. C. E. Zech, of Hampton road.

Mrs. Zech will be performing vocally in the musical portion of the evening. Also performing will be two pianists, Mrs. Gregory Knas and Mrs. S. W. Curtiss.

Refreshments will be served by Mrs. Donald Dragoo, Mrs. W. E. Balser and Mrs. John Junker.

Mrs. James L. Lekin

SANDRA ANITA PRINCE, daughter of Mrs. Paul Joseph Prince, of Brys drive, and the late Mr. Prince, spoke her marriage vows to Mr. Lekin Saturday, in St. Paul's on the Lakeshore. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Lekin, of Des Moines, Ia.

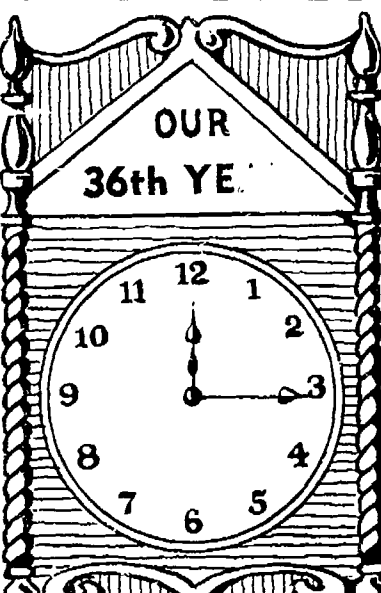

Engaged

The engagement of SUSAN GAY GROBIN to James Albert Eckel was announced Saturday by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Groehn, at a family reception and buffet supper in their Lochmoor boulevard home. Mr. Eckel is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Albert J. Eckel, also of Lochmoor boulevard.

Susan and James, both 1961 graduates of Grosse Pointe High School, are presently in their junior year at the University of Michigan, where she is a member of Alpha Lambda Delta, honorary scholastic society, and president of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority.

Caravan To Cathay Set For May 6, 7

Michigan Division, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association, to Stage Fourth Annual Exhibit at Wright Kay Downtown

An exotic trip through the lands of the Orient will usher in the spring season at Wright Kay when the Michigan Division of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association presents "Caravan to Cathay."

This fourth exhibition of flower arrangements and table settings will be based on the adventures of Marco Polo and will be staged May 6 and 7 on three floors of Wright Kay & Co. downtown, at 1500 Woodward avenue.

Each year Wright Kay presents an award to the Michigan Division of WNFGA in appreciation of this display. In the past the funds have contributed to the support of Camp Kett near Cadillac, Mich., a training center for volunteer leaders for youth groups.

This year, for the first time, the $1,000 award will go to IFYE — International Farm Youth Exchange Program—the only rural exchange in the world.

The program, administered by the National 4-H Club Foundation, is a family-to-family exchange whereby rural youth further friendly relations in our "world neighborhood."

IFYE has been labeled the fore-runner of the Peace Corps and is maintained by voluntary contributions. The Michigan Division of the WNFGA is one of the largest state contributors.

The exhibition, starting with "The Desert and the Sea" in the street display windows, will range through table settings and arrangements representing "Spiritual Beliefs" to terraria and dish gardens representing "Oriental Landscapes."

"Songs of the Poets," ("Stars of the Desert" and "The Rubaiyat"), will be interpreted in flower arrangements. Eleven table settings will make up the

International Ball Date Set

June brides and summer debés will be no competition in color and gaiety for this season's International Ball, slated for a later date than ever before.

The International Institute, 111 East Kirby, under whose auspices the ball is presented each year, has chosen Saturday evening, June 6, for the event, always brightly sparkling with beautiful nationality costumes punctuating the formal attire of patrons and other guests.

Because of the success of last year's affair and the overflow crowd that made it so, the 1964 International Ball has been moved to Cobo Hall.

From 9 p.m. until 1 p.m. everyone will be keeping time to the music of Al Navarro and his orchestra with the program for the evening providing much to look forward to.

Come the first of May when plans are further along, Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Frank and Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Lapham, husband and wife teams acting as chairmen for the ball, will have plenty to tell you.

Meanwhile, chalk up Saturday, June 6, on your calendar and plan to go to the International Ball. Tickets will go on sale later this month.

Spring Fantasia Planned at DYC

The Detroit Yacht Club's bridge luncheon and style show on April 21 will have "Spring Fantasia" as its theme and will feature California fantasies.

Decor will be based on Disneyland characters. Guests will be greeted by Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs in an outdoor setting of grass and trees at the top of the staircase. Other story book characters will decorate the ballroom.

The stage will be transformed into a fairyland forest with bigger than life animated bees, birds and flowers. Smiling sunflowers will center the tables for the Fantasia luncheon of fruit salad and rainbow parfait.

The unusual decorations were designed and painted by the party chairman Mrs. Walter Jurvis. Her assistants are Mrs. Donald Burgess, Mrs. Thomas Pearsall and Mrs. Robert Winckler.

Club members who will model the collection are the Mesdames Lester McIntosh, C. Dale Barrett, Robert DuChane, Edward Start, George Timco, Edward Skelton, Patrick McKenna, Floyd Gladwin and Thomas O'Brien. M.S. C. Russell Moore will provide the background music.

Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center 1964 FAMILY PARTICIPATION CAMPAIGN

THE CENTER OFFERS YOU

For Community Service — A meeting place for any Pointe organization — An auditorium and banquet hall — A cancer center — Free blood in emergencies — Free loan of hospital equipment — Scouting.

For Cultural Satisfaction — An art center — Concerts — Stimulating lectures — Motion pictures — Lessons.

For Fun — Luncheons, dinners — A garden center — Hobby, special interest groups — Dances, parties — Reunions.

A MAN WHO came only recently to Grosse Pointe gave a most apt description of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center. He called it "the family room" for the five Pointes.

This gathering place for the people of the Grosse Pointes is a focus for culture, for fun, for learning, for relaxation. It answers the needs of all ages and many interests.

The new William Fries Auditorium has been in full use for more than a year. This handsome building, with Alger House, provides unmatched community center facilities for the events which last year drew more than 150,000 to the Center.

Our need is $60,000. Our hope is that every Grosse Pointe family will share in support of this institution which we think is without peer in function, size and facilities. Last year, as usual, we met our goal. This year we not only want to meet our goal but, more importantly, to broaden support for the Center so that virtually every family takes part.

The Center has something for everybody. It needs something from everybody.

YOUR PERSONAL INVITATIONS WILL ARRIVE SHORTLY. WON'T YOU SEND YOUR CHECK BY RETURN MAIL?

New York Bans Young Drivers

Michigan families motoring to New York for the World's Fair are cautioned that 18-year-olds are not allowed to drive in New York even though they may be validly licensed drivers in Michigan and other states.

Secretary of State James M. Hare said officials of New York State, in Michigan last week for a Driver Improvement conference, urged him to make the fact known to everyone in Michigan.

"When you are motoring in other states during vacation and otherwise," Hare said, "it might pay to know the laws governing drivers and driving in every state you are passing through."

Schedule Panel For Law Day

An interesting and informative evening is in store for the Grosse Pointe communities. The Pointe Branch of Lawyers' Wives of Michigan has scheduled a panel discussion, with a question and answer period, in observance of "Law Day USA," Thursday, April 30, at 8 o'clock, in the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center.

Heading the panel will be Nathan B. Goodnow, president of the Michigan State Bar Association.

Panelists will include the Hon. Thomas P. Thornton, the Hon. Edward S. Piggins and the Hon. Lester S. Moll.

This panel of local judges and lawyers has been assembled for the purpose of answering questions by laymen concerning ethical considerations and involvement in preparation for, and conduct of, the treatment of litigation.

A coffee hour will follow the discussion.

The Grosse Pointe public and friends are cordially invited to attend the session. There is no admittance charge.

Tell Musicians Of Scholarship

For the fifth year a scholarship to the Summer Academy of the Mozarteum in Salzburg will be available to young Detroit musicians, according to Marguerite Kozenn Chajes, executive director of the Pro Mozart Society of Greater Detroit.

These scholarships, open to vocalists, instrumentalists and conductors, cover room, board and tuition. The Academy has two summer sessions which are scheduled concurrently with the famous Salzburg Festival of Music and Drama.

Since 1960 the following musicians were recipients of that coveted scholarship: Paul Olefsky, cellist, Karl Karapetian, conductor, Arthur LaBrew, pianist, James Tocco, pianist and Robert Schulman, pianist. Inquiries and applications should reach Prof. Robert Lawson, Acting Chairman, Music Department, Wayne State University, Detroit 2, Michigan, before April 10.

Prof. Lawson is the chairman of the jury, which will consist of the music critics Armand Gebert of the Detroit News, Collins George of the Free Press, Mrs. Arnold W. Lungershausen and Kurt Myers, chief of the Music and Drama Depts. of the Detroit Public Library.

Egotism speaks all sorts of languages and plays all sorts of roles, even that of disinterestedness.—La Rochefoucauld.

HITS PARKED CAR

An accident occurred in front of 502 St. Clair April 8 at 11:37 a.m. when Mrs. Grace Hecker North of 516 St. Clair, traveling north on that street, ran into the left rear end of a car parked at the curb and owned by Prince McCaskill of 1569 Bevilacqua, Detroit. Mrs. Hecker was issued a ticket and her car was towed to a collision shop.

FIRST TIME OFFERED

ALMOST SOUNDS too good to be true. This spanking new offering is just twelve years young, has two full baths and three bedrooms. Also boasts that all important extra room on the first floor. In the Farms, just a minute away from Hill Shopping.

A STORY and a half with first floor bedroom and bath, then two more bedrooms and another bath up. This fine home is in the Shores and just a short jog to the waterfront park. Situated on an eighty-foot lot which is generously endowed with large trees. Offered at $33,900.

BY APPOINTMENT

A CONTEMPORARY show place in Deeplands, ultra, with the most modern in house gadgetry. All three bedrooms have their own baths. Cozy den leads to a secluded patio which is that "other room" in summer. Enough extras to fill this column.

IF YOU WANT that traditional colonial which has all the conveniences which you would expect in a house just two years old, then may we suggest you take a look at this four bedroom gem on Lewiston Road. The ultimate in kitchen refinement, and a sensible-sized library which affords access to the secluded patio. Priced below most of the other homes in the block.

THE ONLY ONE of its kind which is available at this time in the much desired Deeplands area. A beautifully appointed Georgian colonial, built just three years ago. Four bedrooms for the family and another for stay-in-help. Fireplaces in living, dining and library rooms. Must ALSO be seen inside to be fully appreciated.

ARE YOU ONE of those people who have often stated you would never move again unless it be a home right on the water? If so, then you must see this magnificent house with 144 feet of frontage on the lake. Not a really large home, but one readily adaptable to family living. Priced at a fraction of reproduction cost.

BEEN DISAPPOINTED with run-of-the-mill ranch homes. Then be elated when you see this three-bedroom and two-bath house with generously proportioned living, dining and family rooms. Full basement with play room, and attached garage with space for two cars and yard stuff.

Memo from M. and W. Quill Publishing Company, Ann Arbor, enclosing a several weeks' old clipping from the NEWS, relative to the hard cover edition of Grosse Pointe High School student Candy Geer's tribute to the late President Kennedy, "Six White Horses," plus a letter from M. Elsa Purdy, Napa, Calif.: the letter and clipping were sent directly to the publisher's from California, the letter asking M. and W. Quill to "please advise me as to how I may obtain a copy of the book mentioned in the enclosed article."

Candy's poem was printed first in the NEWS, December 5, 1963, and was acknowledged by Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy; we followed the poem's progress in the pages of the Detroit News, in radio broadcasts, on the floor of Congress, where it was read by Representative Harold M. Ryan, and finally into book form. Despite this extensive exposure via various media, M. Elsa Purdy, in far-off California, apparently first heard of "Six White Horses" through the pages of our "local" newspaper. M. and W.'s comment on the situation? "The NEWS gets around."

And speaking of "local" newspapers... Fran (Mrs. George) Gillis, of Lincoln Road, president of the Grosse Pointe Education Association, informs us that the weekly newspaper in her husband's hometown, a small New England hamlet, used to run a yearly supplement listing the names AND AGES of subscribers! The ladies of the neighborhood would gather the day after this happy popular issue came out, to spend several hours determining "Who lied this time." The Grosse Pointe NEWS considers the idea intriguing... but promises NEVER to institute such a supplement—we doubt if we could trust even our staff to answer "How old are you?" honestly, and we have to think of what would happen if we put the question to G.P.'s man or woman in the street.

The difference between a Seann Triubhas and Irish Jig is crystal-clear to three young Grosse Pointers, Karen, Kathy and Sandy Jones, of Oxford Road. The children, adepts in the intricacies of Gaelic folk dances, will compete in the fifth annual Indoor Games, sponsored by the Detroit Highland Dancing Society, this Sunday, in St. Andrew's Hall, Detroit.

Almost-last-minute change in line-up for the "State of the Theater" Symposium, sponsored by The Detroit Committee for Seven Eastern Women's Colleges in cooperation with Esquire Magazine: Paddy Chayefsky will replace William Inge as panelist in Ford Auditorium Wednesday evening, April 29.

Spring scene around town: Mrs. Edward A. Kleefuss, behind the wheel of her blue Thunderbird, wearing a dress and coat she designed and made herself in THE EXACT SHAPE of her car's finish!

Noted in the collection of hand knit articles to be sold at Austin Fiesta this Saturday: A fuzzy wool evening shrug, in a marvelous blush pink shade, perfect for wear over frothy organdy at Somebody's Spring Prom, (Mrs. David Turner is responsible for this goody)... a gorgeous Chanel evening jacket in Wedgwood blue mohair, cut simply and edged in blue velvet... plus piles and piles of cardigans and pullovers, trimmed and untrimmed.

Daring—but perfect—color coordinator: Mrs. Charles D. Lafond, who combines a bright blue tailored suit with a dazzling green silk blouse, and looks, (she is a vivid blond), absolutely exquisite.

PILFERINGS

Man, speaking to Internal Revenue officer: "I insist, sir, my wife's relatives ARE an organized charity."

Seated businessman to woman stranger: "Chivalry isn't dead, madam—I am."

—Saturday Evening Post

Five-year-old Peter, fond of nursery rhymes, is nonetheless a child of the Space Age. A few days ago, his father tried reading him a few familiar verses before bedtime. It was a mistake.

The boy listened carefully to the account of how the cow jumped over the moon, then looked up, a question in his eyes.

"But daddy," he asked seriously, "how could a cow develop that much thrust?"

There are two kinds of cleverness, and both are priceless. One consists of thinking of a bright remark in time to say it. The other consists of thinking of it in time not to say it.

The art of taxation consists in so plucking the goose as to obtain the largest amount of feathers with the least possible amount of hissing.

Canteen Conversation

By RICK MILLS

Beauty is a word which holds many meanings. One who is asked what it means has trouble putting it into words. When you speak of beauty, what do you mean? Webster's National Dictionary defines the word in this way: "Beauty: those qualities which are most pleasing to the eye, a particular grace or charm." We realize that words cannot convey what beauty means. We can only give examples of its reality. The question asked of the Grosse Pointe teenager is: "What does Beauty mean to you?"

Glen Bowler: "Beauty is a majestic mountain in Colorado."

Julie Kirby: "Spring flowers and scenes are beautiful to me."

Chris Lee: "Beauty is a car load of cute girls!"

Nancy Gajewski: "Beauty is Lake St. Clair on a sunny, calm summer afternoon."

Judy Church: "Beauty is the scenery of the changing seasons all year round."

Pam Chase: "Beauty is the glory of a human being."

Sue Bertelsen: "Beauty is not just something you can see, it is a virtue. It is not only on the surface of things but exists deep down inside them."

It is easy to see why the poet said: "Beauty is in the eye of the beholder." To a soldier on a battle front the image of home is beautiful. A child finds beauty in his mother's face. The mathematician sees beauty in a complicated equation. An astronomer marvels at the beauty of the heavens. The philosopher says "beauty is truth and truth, beauty." Each of us is free to define beauty in his own way. Beauty...

SHAHLA MOTAZEDI, EIJI KAWAMOTO, JORGE LIMA DE ALBUQUERQUE AND BIRTE HOLM LARSEN (l. to r.), AMERICAN FIELD SERVICE EXCHANGE STUDENTS IN THE POINTS.

By Janet Mueller

In this Age of Impromptu Togetherness, our world is irrevocably one. Now airlines and sealanes link continents, railroads and highways link nations... but the intangible, tenuous, last and (in the last analysis) all-important links remain, as they have for centuries, the links between people and people.

The American Field Service Student Exchange Program, and other similar programs, operate on the premise that there is no substitute for individual experience, that knowledge of, and sympathy for, another country, another culture, is best gained by personal participation in that country and that culture.

AFS concerns itself with student exchanges on the high school level, including placement of boys and girls accepted by the program in typical family situations. The AFS exchange student exists in the community; he studies there, plays there, is involved with life there... and, ideally, becomes himself a part of life there.

Five in AFS

There are five AFS students in Grosse Pointe. Four study at the High School, (one, Jo Kongmuang, of Thailand, who makes her home with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur R. Seder, Jr., of Sunningdale drive, was unavailable for this interview—she had promised to address a group of Junior High School students). The last attends classes at Grosse Pointe University School.

They are all bright, attractive, articulate young adults, pleasant ambassadors and delightful additions to the Grosse Pointe community...

Eighteen-year-old Shahla Motazedi left her home in Tehran, Iran, to live for a year with the Hughitts Moltzau family, in Berkshire road.

Shahla is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Fazlollah Motazedi; her father is a doctor and professor at the University of Tehran. She has one sister, Nazi, 15, and a brother, Ali, 11.

Paula and Anne Moltzau, aged 21 and 18 respectively.

"In Iran," Shahla reports, "all my relatives live in Tehran, my town, so we always have family parties and we see each other very often. But here, most of the families live far from their relatives and they don't see each other often."

Shahla, who likes family parties very much, doesn't think she would enjoy being separated by great distances from uncles, aunts and cousins, as is often the case in the United States.

Systems Far Different

American and Iranian school systems are very different, according to this vivacious Grosse Pointe High School senior.

"We don't have a choice of subjects; we have to take everything that is required. After the 9th grade, we have four fields to choose from: Literature, Mathematics, Home Economics and Natural Science."

"If you choose one of these fields, you have to study all of the other subjects, too—but you have, for example, more math in the Mathematics field, more literature in the Literature field. Usually, we have to take 20 subjects a year."

When she returns to Iran, Shahla knows she will miss her American family and the friends she has made at the High School. She missed her Iranian family during her first months in the States—but right now I am too busy even to think about them!"

Eiji Kawamoto, 18, Shahla's classmate at GPHS, "wasn't surprised about American life at all"... he knew what American life was like through films, TV and magazines.

Eiji is the son of the Masami Kawamoto's, of Hiroshima, where his father is a city official, currently administrator of Onumichi Junior College.

He has a 14-year-old sister in Japan, and a sister and two brothers, Prue, Roger and Douglas Frey, children of his American "parents," Mr. and Mrs. Jack B. Frey, of Washington road.

Cites Differences

"There are as many as 2,500 students in Grosse Pointe High School," Eiji notes, "but we have only 800 students in our (Japanese) school. It used to be a school for girls only, but now it's coeducational."

"Our school is a public school and it's under the government of our state, while Grosse Pointe High School is under the government of the Grosse Pointe School Board. In Japan, we go to school six days a week—though only 'til noon on Saturday—and we wear uniform clothes."

American high school students have much more freedom in choosing subjects than we have. We take 12 subjects a year, while Grosse Pointe High School students take only five or six subjects."

Like Shahla, Eiji missed his Japanese family when he first came to the States, but now: "I miss them only a little bit, because I know I can see them after going back to Japan." He still yearns for some Japanese "home-cooking," however.

Already making plans to return to the U.S. under the Fulbright System when he graduates from college, Eiji will miss the people he has known in the United States—"because they are really nice people." He hopes to see them again.

Jorge Is from Brazil

Jorge Lima de Albuquerque left five brothers, ages four to 20, and three sisters, ages eight to 16, at the family home in Ave. Barao Studart, Fortaleza, Ceara, Brazil. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Alfonso Albuquerque; his father owns a camera center and is president of a supermarket company.

AFS thoughtfully placed Jorge, ("Call me George"), with the Edwards Hookanson family, of Kensington road, where he has no chance to be lonely; the Hookanson menagerie includes Sandy, 19, David, 17, Kathy, 15, Amy, 10, Steve, 8, and Julie, 6.

Eighteen years old and a senior at Grosse Pointe High School "George" is impressed by the high U.S. Standard of Living. His pre-arrival impressions of America, gleaned mostly from movies, proved false in part; he was surprised to find "poverty, and problems such as segregation."

On the other hand, George notes that there are beautiful things in America—"and the people are the nicest I ever saw."

Like his fellow AFS students, George is intrigued by the differences between education in his country and education in the States:

"In Brazil, I have a choice of going to school in either the morning or the afternoon. We are required to take eight to 10 subjects, and we wear uniforms."

Misses Driving Car

He would like to see his Brazilian family and friends, and longs for summer, (south of the equator, seasons are reversed; George will miss high summer this year); not allowed to drive in the States, he can hardly wait to take the wheel of a car again, in Brazil.

What will he miss most when he returns home? "Girls, snow and my American family and friends." He considers his year abroad under AFS "a wonderful opportunity... for besides getting all this knowledge, I am testing the highest standard of Living and the greatest liberty in the world."

Birte Holm Larsen, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. Holm Larsen, of Holte, Denmark, is living this year with Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Bau, in Merriweather road, studying at Grosse Pointe University School.

In Denmark, where her father is sales director of a food-export company, Birte has a 20-year-old brother and an 11-year-old sister; in the States she has three "sisters," Elsie, Mary and Kathy, and a "brother," Tony.

She is surprised by "the unimportance of family life in America, the many clubs people belong to, and the friendliness Americans show me as a foreigner."

Shocked by Discrimination Birte's first day in the States, Birte recalls: "I was shocked by the discrimination against Negroes and Jews." As a student in Denmark, Birte had simply never encountered discrimination!

"In Denmark," Birte remarks, "the school is only an educational institution, here it is part of your social life. You educate everyone equally; we educate people for what they will become in future life."

The first things she will do when she returns to Northern Europe are: (1) visit Tivoli Gardens; (2) fill up on Danish pastries. Like the other AFS exchange-students, Birte says she will miss her American family and friends, but considers her year abroad an invaluable experience.

"I have learned a lot about people in general, myself included; also, I have learned to stand on my own feet and not depend on anyone else."

Festival Is Saturday

Shahla, Eiji, Jorge and Birte are currently four of the busiest people in Grosse Pointe, preparing for the American Field Service Spring Festival, to be held this Saturday, April 18, from 10 to 6 o'clock, at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

An accomplished knitter, Birte is turning out Genuine Scandinavian Sweaters for sale at the festival, and plans to join two other Danish AFS students, "at home" in the Detroit area this year, in a group of folk dances.

Shahla will show slides and appear in a panel discussion; Jorge will play the piano, (by ear; he can't read music but can improvise on any tune); Eiji will perform traditional Japanese dances.

AFS students throughout the Metropolitan Detroit area will participate in the program; different AFS communities are sponsoring booths; Mrs. George Romney will speak at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

Festival theme this year is "Hands Across the Sea"—a perfect phrase, symbolizing the aims and philosophy of the American Field Service International Student Exchange Program, working to promote greater understanding between the nations of the world.

All donations received at the party will be used for the education of Jesuit priests. The tea is sponsored by the University of Detroit High School Unit of the Jesuit Seminary Association.

GPYC to Present Musical Revue

Behind the scenes of every production and long before the curtain goes up, a nucleus of idea people get together and mastermind the many ingredients that go into creating an evening of entertainment.

A good half of the membership of Grosse Pointe Yacht Club is involved in the upcoming musical review, "Four To Let Go," to be presented at GPYC April 24, 25 and 26.

According to Haford Kerbaw, overall production chairman, the cast, to date, includes some 50 members—while scores of other members are contributing behind-the-scenes time and effort to the vaudeville production.

Among those who have worked on "Four To Let Go" since its inception are members of the Production and Planning committee, including Mrs. Paul I. Moreland, Commodore and Mrs. Edward J. Schoenherr, Mr. and Mrs. Kerbaw, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur M. Stringari, Mrs. Wayne E. Long and Thomas C. Fox.

Junior League Fights Poison

The Junior League of Detroit is working in conjunction with Children's Hospital on a public education program geared around poison prevention.

The plan is to troop the program—slides and literature—over a period of five years, to all cooperative nurseries and elementary schools in the Metropolitan Detroit area. By going to the nursery schools, it reaches mothers of the most vulnerable age group, and in the schools, large quantities of educational material may be distributed.

The program—chaired by Mrs. Edward Henkel and Mrs. Smith Campbell and worked by 12 hospital and 48 educational volunteers—commenced in February in the Grosse Pointe area.

The purpose of starting in the Pointe was to iron out the inevitable kinks in a new project before trying to educate the Detroit area. Mrs. Julius Huebner is in charge of this education program.

Mrs. John Luzadre heads the hospital volunteers. Work at Children's Hospital with the aid of Dr. Emily Meginnity and Dr. Robert Gregg means recording types and numbers of poisonings and giving remedies when the Poison Control Center at the hospital is called. The number is 833-1000.
