FORMER PRESIDENT EISENHOWER stated after a party unity meeting at Hershey, Pa., today that "any uncertainties" he may have had about the "fitness, adequacy and quality of the political program" to be offered by the ticket had been resolved.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON warned today that violence by whites or Negroes would be stopped "whether they occur in Mississippi or New York." Speaking at an American Bar Association meeting in New York, the President vowed to prevent troublemakers from turning parts of America into a "jungle."

REPUBLICAN PRESIDENTIAL candidate Barry Goldwater stirred a dispute with two Cabinet officers this afternoon when he implied that President Johnson had authorized the use of nuclear weapons in Southeast Asia. He said an order to the Seventh Fleet, which wasn't made public, directed officers to use "any weapons necessary" against the Reds. McNamara and Rusk termed the interpretation as "irresponsible."

PICKETS WOUND UP nearly 11 months of marching outside the Playboy Club, located on E. Jefferson in Detroit, today. Leaders of the picketing union explained that the Club had decided to pay the prevailing rate of all other restaurants. Playboy Club employees will now have all the benefits any union could get them.

A LONE GUNMAN held up a branch of the Detroit Bank and Trust this afternoon, escaping on foot with $3,000. He gave a woman teller a note instructing her to hand over the money or he would shoot her. Police are investigating.

GOV. ROMNEY flew back to Michigan today after meeting with candidate Barry Goldwater. Romney stated to newsmen that Goldwater had clarified his views on civil rights, foreign affairs, and extremism. Michigan's governor said he will support the Republican platform and party but refused to acknowledge that he will actively campaign for Goldwater. When asked if he would vote for him, he told newsmen, "I wouldn't vote for anyone else."

SOUTH VIET NAMESE militia successfully ambushed a group of Red guerrillas this evening. The attack very much surprised the Reds as they rely heavily on ambush tactics to advance their position. Earlier, two Americans were killed in S. Vietnam when a car in which they were riding, crashed into a tree. The accident occurred about 50 miles south of this evening's incident.

UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN scientists fired their second weather rocket at 5:45 p.m. off the Keweenaw Peninsula. The payload, which rose 40 miles, carried a full quota of equipment. It came back to earth by parachute while being tracked by radar and is hoped to be recovered easily as was the first rocket.

THE MAYOR OF PATERSON, N. J., ordered all policemen out of the violence stricken Negro area of Paterson. He said that he has decided to let the Negro leaders try to handle the situation. If the area is not calmed down, however, he will send in the more than 200 man riot squad. No violence was reported yet by early evening.

Saturday, August 15

NEW YORK CITY police officers had a running battle with 250 demonstrators in downtown Manhattan today. The mixed group was demonstrating over U. S. policy in South Vietnam. The battle occurred when police tried to herd them out of Times Square, scene of their protest march.

Ready Clinic For Fall Opening

It was "do it yourself" day August 12, at the Northeastern Wayne County Child Guidance Clinic offices in Mack avenue, when a group of enthusiastic volunteers turned out with paint and brushes to brighten the walls of the new Clinic in preparation for its opening this September. Volunteers, paintspattered but smiling, included (left to right) JEROME KORWIN, RICHARD GABRIEL, MRS. DONALD BLOMQUIST, MRS. GABRIEL, MRS. WEBSTER B. KNIGHT and (on the ladder) MRS. GEORGE C. CRANE.

August Plays It Very Cool This Season

Usually Hot, Humid Month Steps Into Role Generally Reserved for October

As television weathermen so aptly put it, "October seems to have arrived without telling summer about it." Indeed, present weather conditions seem quite apropos to corn roasts, hay rides, and Halloween.

As a matter of record, Grosse Pointe hasn't experienced such a frigid August in ten years. Temperatures last Thursday plummeted to 47 degrees. Augusts have been hot and humid for the last ten years, with the exception of 1954 when temperatures fell to 45 on August 30.

It seems strangely odd to see the parks virtually devoid of swimmers, sailors in long jeans and sweat shirts, convertible tops and car windows up, and blankets coming out of summer storage, but the average low temperature so far this month has been 60 degrees and the average high only 77.

Highs Were Higher

Last year, the average low was 61 but the average high, during the first thirteen days of August, was 83.

While sinking to the 40s twice and the 50s four times, Grosse Pointe has recorded temperatures of 90 or more only once, on August 7. In comparison, last year daily highs over

Public Hearing Conducted On Bond Issues Proposed In City; on Primary Ballot

Proposition to Purchase Neighborhood Club Land Rouses Most Interest As Residents Fire Questions at Council

In a Monday night meeting termed "very profitable" by acting Mayor Ernest B. Kelly, the City council fielded three hours worth of questions on the three bond issues slated for the September 1 City ballot.

About 40 residents were on hand for what was billed as a public hearing on the three bond issues. City Manager John M. Cantwell urged residents with further questions to bring them to his office before the election.

Most of the talk Monday night was on one bond issue—the request for $200,000 to purchase 6.07 acres of playground area adjacent to the Neighborhood Club.

Mayor David E. Burgess was taken ill Monday and unable to attend. Kelly took over the Mayor's duties in presiding over the hearing.

Councilmen were aided in answering questions by the City's attorney, Charles Wright, III, and by representatives of the City's consulting engineers, George Jerome and Co.

How Much Money?

Among the first questions to be asked was, "Exactly how much will these bond issues cost in taxes each year?" (Stanley Fisher, of St. Clair avenue, posed the question).

Kelly responded with the latest estimates of cost. The proposal to buy the Neighborhood Club land, over a 20-year period, will cost residents 49 cents per $1,000 of assessed valuation each year.

The $1.32 million proposition for new sanitary and storm sewers will come to about $3.25 in extra taxes a year per $1,000 property valuation, he added. The D.P.W. garage construction about $100,000 will amount to an extra 25 cents taxes per year per $1,000 assessment.

All three of these taxes will be levied over a period of 20 years.

City's Taxes Highest

City Manager Cantwell explained to residents the fact that, undeniably, the City's taxes are the highest of any of the Pointes, and they will probably continue to be so.

Unfortunately, Cantwell said, funds that should have been accumulating for many years under capital improvement plans were simply never set aside in past years. When big expenses come up, a store of funds is not available to meet

Reckless Cyclist Runs Into Baby

A 13-year-old boy, racing out of an alley on a bicycle on Friday, August 14, ran into a baby stroller, causing injury to an 11-month-old baby. The boy was cited for an appearance in Juvenile Court.

According to Woods police, the boy was pedaling his bicycle at a fast clip, another boy seated behind him, through the alley on the north side of Norwood.

Without slowing down, the boy ran into a baby stroller that was being pushed by Mrs. Richard Vogel, 30, of 1810 Norwood, and in which was the woman's son, Andy.

The force of the impact broke the stroller and tossed the tiny infant into the air. The baby hit his head on the sidewalk.

Police drove the mother and baby to the office of City Physician Clarence Candler, where the baby was treated for cuts on the head and face.

The 13-year-old cyclist was given a violation ticket for riding a bicycle in a dangerous and reckless manner, and will appear at the next session of Juvenile court. His parents were notified of their son's action and the pending court hearing.

'Candidates Fair' Slated For Aug. 27

Informal Discussion Replaces Speeches at Annual L. W. V. Affair

The Grosse Pointe League of Women Voters, looking out for the interests of Pointe residents, has planned a political rally—with no speeches.

They call it a "Candidates Fair," and it will be held at the Grosse Pointe High School Auditorium Thursday evening, August 27, from 8 to 10 o'clock.

There will be no formal speaking program, but rather an opportunity for voters to meet and talk with the candidates running in their districts on an informal basis.

Will Provide Booths

Each candidate will be furnished with a booth where he may display posters and distribute campaign literature.

Candidates from both parties have been asked to appear, and many have already accepted the invitation by telephone. Candidates have been asked to bring their wives, but to come without campaign workers. Thus contact will be first hand between the voters and the candidates.

There will be give-away literature from the League of Women Voters on the state level. These Voters' Guides cover the candidates for Governor, U.S. Senate and the Court of Appeals (created by the new state Constitution).

An information booth on the League of Women Voters for interested women will be established.

The League women planning the event have asked residents to be ready with pertinent issues on which to question their candidates.

Suggested Topics

A few such topics might be: unemployment; millage; water pollution; extremism; integration; low lake levels; open occupancy; or foreign aid.

Heading the planning for the Fair is voters' service chairman Mrs. George J. Brown of Birch lane. She may be reached for further information at TUxedo 1-2004.

Hostesses that night will include Mrs. Donald McConachie, of Mt. Vernon road, Mrs. Addison Igleheart of McKinley avenue, and Mrs. Delmar Robertson of Radnor circle.

Candidates running for U.S. Congress in the 14th District are: Republicans: George Bashara, Larry Rutherford, Frank J. Skierski and Alexander W.

Dutch Elm Disease Continues to Take Heavy Pointe Toll

Five Municipalities Praised for Protective Programs, But Are Handicapped by Absence of Buffer Zones Along Boundaries

The beetles carrying the dreaded Dutch Elm disease have staged a counter-attack in Wayne County in the past two years, an official of the County Extension Service of Michigan State University said last week.

"There has been a general tendency in the county to slack off on spray control programs," reports Donald Juchartz, county extension director of M.S.U.

He added that the five Grosse Pointes have done an "excellent job" but that they are an exception to his generalization about a general slacking off trend.

Pointe city officials all have recently received reports from the State of Michigan Department of Agriculture, revealing the number of diseased trees in each of the Pointes.

Woods Hard Hit

By far the hardest hit of the Pointes was the Woods. Their estimates revealed that about 150 trees were condemned, of which about 125 were on private property and the remainder on city property.

All have been removed or will be removed in the very near future, according to Woods City Manager Chester E. Petersen.

Last year as well the Woods had the highest total of "fatalities" of all the Pointes, 222, of which 51 were on city land and the rest privately owned.

Farms Figures Double

After a remarkably good season last year, the Farms recorded a substantial increase in condemned trees this year, according to Farms city forester John A. DeFoe.

Most of the increase was in newly-subdivided land—Preston place, Waverly lane and Carmel lane. Losses for the municipality were 43 trees in private land and eight on city land. All have been removed, DeFoe stated. In addition, five dead elms were removed because they constituted a likely breeding spot for the disease-carrying beetles.

Kids Invited To Big Party

Pointe kids can ride a Cootie, a pony, a fire truck or a box car at the Grosse Pointe Metropolitan Club's Annual Field day on the Neighborhood Club field this Saturday, August 22, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

The third annual event is sponsored by the Metropolitan Club, an organization of 135 Pointe police and firemen.

There will be free refreshments—popcorn, pop, hot dogs, ice cream—and favors and prizes including bicycles, fishing rods and reels, and many others.

The children will also be entertained by the Metro Club clowns. All children need for admission is a park pass for any of the Pointes.

Metro Club president Fire Inspector Dane Taylor of the Park hopes to see a record turnout at this year's event—rain or shine. (They've got a big tent in case the air gets splashy.)

The League of Women Voters for interested women will be established.

The League women planning the event have asked residents to be ready with pertinent issues on which to question their candidates.

Package Deal Offered to City Voters

Proposed $500,000 Bond Issue Includes Cost Of Additional Boat Mooring Spaces

Farms electors will decide on two propositions approved for the November 3 election by the Farms council on Monday, August 17, a package Pier-Park Improvement Bond issue and an amendment to the City Charter.

The bond issue, to raise $500,000, will be for the purpose of paying for the construction of a swimming pool, additional boat moorings and other needed recreational facilities in the municipal park; and the amendment pertains to the changing of provisions for non-duty death benefits to reduce service time so that surviving members of families of policeman, firemen and general employees may draw partial pensions.

Opposing the package bond issue was Councilman Henry Bodman II, who contended that putting the entire issue before the people was not the proper way to do this. The swimming pool, the mooring space and recreational facilities should be decided under separate propositions, he said.

Could Be Confusing

He said that under a package proposition, the people might become confused in what they are voting for, whereas, if there are separate bond issues for each proposed improvement the voters can see and understand the issues and vote accordingly.

Councilman Thomas Fisher wanted to know how far government can go as far as finances are concerned.

The council should take a good look at the cost of government, and so should the people of the community, he said. Things keep "spiraling" and some day someone will have to pay the piper," he pointed out.

All councilmen, with the exception of Bodman and absent Councilman Benjamin Warren, favored letting the people decide on the one bond issue for the improvement.

This drew the approval of the swimming pool advocates who were present at the council meeting.

Estimates Tax Raise

Carroll Lock, city controller and acting city clerk, informed the council that if the bond issue passes, it could increase taxes by 90 cents to $1 per $1,000 local assessed valuation to pay off the bonds.

Later, Lock said that more information regarding the cost of the present debts and the additional bond issue, if it is approved, will be compiled and distributed to the citizens of the Farms, prior to the November election.

Fire Choked Off By Closed Door

Woods public safety officials were convinced that a closed closet door choked off the oxygen supply of a fire that could easily have spread through at least the second floor of a Woods home.

James Lewis of 1883 Norwood, called the Public Safety Department on Monday, August 10, and stated "It smells like wires burning in our upstairs." Firefighters and equipment were rushed to the Lewis residence, and smoke was found to have filled the entire upstairs of the house.

Firemen found a pile of clothing smoldering on the shelf of a bedroom, removed the offending garments and aired out the top floor of the house.

Fire officials said that the cause of the near fire was sweaters placed too near a light bulb in the closet. The heat ignited the items, but the blaze went out because of lack of oxygen, due to the closed closet door.

There was fire damage to the closet walls, ceiling and closet door, and smoke damage throughout the entire second floor. The amount of damage is not known.

Traffic Signal at City's Park Crossing Explained

You wouldn't expect a little thing like a traffic light to cause all that confusion.

But, according to City Police Chief Andrew Teetaert a great deal of consternation has arisen about the traffic light at Lakeland avenue and Jefferson, which was recently installed to help residents across the street on the way to the City's lake-front park.

After the light turns green for Lakeland traffic, the sign flashes to the word "WALK," in great big letters. So far so good.

The thing that has confused residents is that six seconds after it turns green the crossing light begins to flash a red "DON'T WALK" warning, and people feel panicked because they haven't had time to cross the 40-foot street.

Perhaps they feel guilty about not being able to cross as fast as the automatic wizard would like them to cross. Many of them have been asking park guards and policemen why the light isn't adjusted to allow a bit more time.

The reason, as explained by Chief Teetaert, is that traffic engineers want the light to blink a warning signal for a full 12 seconds, because it takes around 10 seconds to cross the street.

Since the signal is green for only 18 seconds, this leaves only six seconds for the green signal.

It's all that simple.

So Chief Teetaert cautioned the crowd on the way to the park that they have lots of time to cross the street. The them, and the City must go into short term financing.

Fisher also asked the council to explain why, when tax rates in most of the Pointes had fallen as a result of the recent revaluation of property, the City's tax rate had risen.

Small Value Gain

Cantwell explained, "Our community as a whole experienced the lowest total gain in revaluation of any of the Pointes." With a smaller "tax base" of assessed valuations, each resident in the City would have to pay larger tax rates to attain a certain amount of operating money than in larger communities such as the Park and Farms.

To prevent future extreme strains to the City's budget, Cantwell said he proposed in the near future to present an eight-year capital improvement program to the council.

Study Club Purchase

About two hours of the three-hour discussion centered on the Neighborhood Club land purchase. Kelly and the council fielded questions on every aspect of the proposal. No one representing the Club was present.

The council re-stated its commitment to the preservation of the Neighborhood Club land for recreational use, by any means feasible, including condemnation if the bond issue should be defeated and the Club seeks to have the land subdivided, for example.

Offered to City

The Neighborhood Club, faced with immediate financial needs in order to rebuild their condemned building, turned to the City to give them the first chance at the land, Cantwell and Kelly explained.

No restrictions in the club's deeds would have prevented them from selling the land for subdivision to raise the money needed for the reconstruction job. In fact, Kelly reported, the club had ordered subdivision plots made in consideration of such an alternative. (Kelly said he had been shown such plots by the club's attorney, Benjamin H. Long.)

By buying the land under the present offer, the City will be assured a fair market price through independent appraisals made by both parties, Kelly said.

Cost to Maintain

Another resident, Laurence M. Scoville, Jr., of University Place, asked what the expense to the City of maintaining the Neighborhood Club playground would be.

"Essentially the same as our present expenses," Cantwell explained. The City has been maintaining the field for several years by agreement with the club, because they consider it a valuable part of the City's recreational land.

When the City owns this land, the maintenance will cost about the same, unless it is someday decided to institute a City-sponsored recreation program, Cantwell said. These expenses are roughly $1,500 per year, although no exact estimate is available, it was explained.

Call Plans Vague

Comments made by Jack Sinclair, of 17370 E. Jefferson, reflected the concern of several people in the council chambers.

Sinclair said he felt the Neighborhood Club proposal, as worded, constituted a "blank check" for $200,000 to be used as the council wished.

Kelly assured Sinclair that the council intended to use the money for one purpose only—the acquisition of land at the Neighborhood Club. He added that there simply is no other piece of property that large available in the entire City.

Won't Abscond

The exact parcel of land sought was not spelled out in the bond issue itself because it is still subject to final negotiation, the council said.

However, they said, the City plans to acquire no less land than 6.07 acres, an area bounded by Neff and St. Clair avenues on either side, Charlevoix at one end, and a line parallel to the north end of the tennis courts at the south end. Three houses on St. Clair at the north-west corner of the field are not included in the package. Kelly and other councilmen assured residents that the Neighborhood Club had been cooperative in the bargaining to date, and there was no reason not to trust both the club Trustees and the Council's intentions: "We're not going to abscond with your money," Councilman Walker G. Huber said.

Study Sewer Plan

A few questions were posed about the specific effect of the proposed storm and sanitary sewer program, especially on the western portion of the City. City consulting engineer Gilbert Jerome took on questions and gave a ten-minute talk on the proposed sewer building program.

Kelly termed the entire meeting "very profitable" and told the group he was "pleased we've had so much discussion this evening."

Police Seek Mystery Car

A blond in her mid-20s, driving a late model Thunderbird, is being sought for further questioning by City police.

The girl reportedly made a turn onto Jefferson avenue from Rivard boulevard and struck 21-year-old Gloria Thompson, of 354 Rivard, who had just left a bus and was crossing Jefferson.

Miss Thompson suffered only bruises to her leg, and told the driver of the car her injuries were not serious.

The young driver then drove off, apparently assuming that the injuries weren't serious enough to warrant her staying at the scene of the accident.

The pedestrian told police she saw the car and jumped back at the last minute, and if she hadn't she might have been much more seriously hurt. City police made the description of the driver and car available to all patrolmen, who will continue to be on the alert for her.

PARTIAL PAYMENT

A partial payment, amounting to $23,735.25, was paid to the Detroit Asphalt Paving company. The payment was authorized by the Farms council on Monday, August 17, for work already completed under the city's 1964 Street Asphalt Recapping Program.

ments, under present provisions, if a policeman or fireman continues working for the city, on or after the date he can voluntarily retire, he can elect a pension option and nominate a beneficiary. If he should die while still in the employment of the city, his designated beneficiary will receive a pension, under the option selected by the policeman or fireman, as if the member had retired the day before he died.

Has Retirement Option

A policeman or fireman who was in the employment of the city prior to April 1, 1949, may retire upon completing 25 years of service, regardless of age; or at age 55, regardless of years of service. If he entered city employment after March 31, 1949, he may retire at 55, regardless of years of service.

The amended proposal would automatically provide the widow of a deceased policeman or fireman who had 15 or more years of credited service, a pension of 1.5 percent of her husband's final average salary, times the number of years of credited service, not to exceed 25 years.

Under provisions for general employees, if a general city member continues in the employment of the city on or after the date he acquires 25 years of credited service, or the date he attains age 55 and has 10 or more years of service, and dies while still working for the city, his widow will receive a pension computed as an age and service pension under the joint and survivor option.

Requirements Lowered

The proposed amendment would lower the service requirement from 25 to 15 years, so that the member would require either 15 years or more credited service, or would have to have attained age 55 and have 10 or more years of service.

The widow's pension, payable under the amendatory proposal, would be 75 percent of the retirement allowance to which the member would have been entitled had he retired the day before he died, not withholding that he might have attained age 60.

The resolutions paving the way for the bond issue and the charter amendments were prepared by City Attorney George McKean, and will be submitted to Governor Romney for his approval.

Monday was the deadline for the approval of the resolutions, otherwise it would have been too late to have them placed on the November ballot.

Robbery Suspect Hearing Shifted

The examination of William R. Long, 26, of 150 West Euclid, Detroit, accused of robbery armed, was postponed from Wednesday, August 12, to Wednesday, September 23, by Woods Judge Don Goodrow. A bond of $2,000 was continued.

Long is accused of the July 29 robbery and shooting of John Silvestri, 51, of 1755 Stanhope, outside of the latter's home.

The postponement was granted by Judge Goodrow to permit Silvestri ample time to recover from a gunshot wound in the head, so that he would be able to testify against Long, whom he has known for five years.

At the last report, Silvestri was still in St. John Hospital and mending rapidly. When first admitted, he was listed as being in critical condition.

Long is accused of attacking Silvestri and robbing him of between $150 to $200 in currency. A roll of $290 in currency was dropped in the bushes near the front of the victim's home, and recovered by police.

Police found Silvestri lying on the ground near the side door of his house, conscious, but incoherent. He had been struck on the head with a blunt instrument, and a bullet was found in his head behind the right ear.

Police said that the assailant apparently waited in the shadows for Silvestri, a Detroit bar owner, and attacked, shot and robbed him as he was about to enter his home.

Woods Det. Gaylord Golding said that Long was one of three logical suspects of the crime, and after a thorough investigation, arrested Long at his home on August 8, on a warrant charging him with robbery armed.

At his arraignment on the date of his arrest, Long stood mute, and Judge Goodrow entered a plea of innocent for him.

Pointe Yacht Club Hosting World Series of Sailing

whose supervising the competition is run.

In appearance, it may seem to be just another antiquated sloop tureen to the average land-lubber, but it packs more history than any other yachting trophy except the Americas Cup.

It was first presented by Sultan Selim III of Egypt in 1812, to the family of Lord Nelson, expressing the gratitude of Egypt for removal of the threat to that country by the English victory of the Nile.

It was selected as the trophy for the yachting event by the Mallory family, who acquired it because of its nautical significance and because of the appropriate inscription it bears — "Palmar qui meruit ferat," which translated means "Let the Best Man Win."

In the years since it has been used as a yachting trophy, the motto has been more appropriate. Its holders since 1952 have included nothing but the biggest names in sailing.

The 1952 winner at Mystic, Conn. was Cornelius (Corny) Shields of Larchmont, N.Y., who skipped one of the Americas Cup defense contenders in 1958.

Eugene H. Walst III of New Orleans, La., won the trophy at Larchmont in 1953, and defended it the following year in home waters. Walst won at Larchmont in International One-Design sloops and defended at home in Lightning class sloops.

The Grosse Pointe Yacht Club and host Detroit River Yachting Assn. sponsored the championship in 1955, when a young Seattle sailor, Bill Buchanan took possession of the trophy in competition in Luders-16 sloops.

Ted Hood, builder and skipper of the Americas Cup defender finalist Nefertiti, won the Mallory Cup in 1956. George O'Day, skipper of the Americas Cup defender Easterner, won the Mallory in 1957.

In 1958 Robert A. Mosbacher of Houston, Tex., won the bowl at Rye, N.Y., and Harry G. Melges, Jr., of Zenda, Wisc., won the following year in Galveston, Texas.

Nedzi to Talk To Rotarians

Congressman Lucien N. Nedzi will address the Grosse Pointe Rotary Club on Monday, August 24, at noon at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

Nedzi, a member of the Armed Services Committee, and who is seeking re-election from the new 14th Congressional district, will speak on the topic, "Our Military Posture."

"Hillcrest Country Club"
Is Now An Accomplished Reality!

It is one of the nation's most beautiful private country clubs. This modern five level contemporary structure is built of glass, steel and bricks.

It is the desire of Hillcrest management to give you an atmosphere enjoyed by people of distinctive taste. As a member, you are privileged to enjoy a most beautiful and pleasant environment. Here is gracious living at its very best. It will be your prerogative to enjoy a tasty snack in the "snack bar" before or after your golf game or relax in our comfortable grill room, elegant dining room or the pleasant Stardust Room, where you may dine and dance to the soft strains of the orchestra. Our attractively appointed banquet rooms will accommodate parties and receptions from 15 to 1500 people. There are seven custom-built bars throughout our many dining and banquet halls. We have parking facilities for 1000 cars.

Our double size "L" shaped olympic filtered pool is rated as one of the largest in Michigan. For the youngsters there is a children's pool, bath house, and snack bar. For the young at heart, there are tennis courts, swimming and golfing. Our golf course is a real challenge, it crosses the Clinton river, has beautifully manicured fairways, greens and a complete underground sprinkling system.

Here now, throbbing with vitality, is everything you want in a private country club. Never before has so much been offered. It is Mr. Woodrow W. Woody's dream come true. His new concept in a private country club life makes these following membership rates possible:

- Family $360
- Single $180
- Social $180, tax included

Memberships include unlimited use of all facilities except social, which excludes golf. Family and social memberships include husband, wife, and all single children under 21 years of age. The dues range from $18.00 to $30.00 per month thereafter, tax included.

Our clubhouse is open year round and our recreational facilities are available to our members seven days per week. You are invited to see for yourselves.

Dutch Elm Disease Still Takes Big Toll

47 trees had been condemned, of which 32 were on city land and 25 on private land. Almost all have been removed. Last year 56 were condemned.

The Shores reported 19 condemnations on private property and none on city property, which is about the same as last year's totals, according to Tom Jefferis, village clerk. The city reported 36 condemnations on private property and seven public, as compared with 36 and nine in 1963 and 37 and 12 in 1962.

Need Buffer Zone
The M.S.U. expert stressed that there can be no complete control of Dutch Elm disease until a "buffer zone" of sprayed communities surrounds a certain area.

The Pointe, at present, has no such buffer zone at its eastern extremity. The Dutch Elm rate in St. Clair Shores is higher than any of the Pointes, and it is thought to have a polluting effect on the Woods and Shores.

Another problem in the Woods and Shores is undeveloped land and old estates that is not well cared for. The Woods reports many of the diseased trees are in the northeast area of the city, especially the area from Hawthorne to Brys Drive east of Mack avenue.

Tally Each Tree
Annual surveys taken in each of the Pointes keep tabs on every elm. Whenever there is any doubt about a certain tree, a sample is taken and sent to the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

When the condemnations are reported, the next step taken is to inform residents owning diseased trees that they must be removed. All of the cities arrange reasonable contracts with private contractors to give residents the benefit of a bid, although residents can have the work done by another company. The Park, which has had good success in controlling the disease, is the only community which doesn't have an ordinance making it mandatory to spray every elm privately owned.

Enforcement is Key
The Park's relative success showed that it is not the ordinance but the enforcement that makes a good control program. Although city managers concede that with a city full of elms a certain percentage will be missed on the most ambitious of spray programs, they all seek to reach as many as possible. In the Shores, Farms and City, if trees are found unsprayed, a fine of from $25 to $100 may be levied against the property owner. More often, however, residents are first urged to have the work done immediately. However, it is difficult for the city to check up on all cases where a home owner promises to have the work done and puts it off or even says he has had it done and hasn't.

Look to Future
Those who were willing to venture guesses as to the future rate of Dutch Elm in the Pointe were cautiously optimistic.

In the Woods, development of open land into subdivisions means that more and more trees are under control; the same is true of old estate property in the Shores that is being subdivided.

In the Farms, an unusually thorough spraying season this year was reported by officials, and its results are expected to be seen in next year's totals.

The City, like the Farms, experienced over half of all of its losses in lakeside estates. Owners of certain large plots in the City have "only gradually come around to a state of cooperation with our program," according to one City official. In the last two years, he added, "cooperation has been very good."

Cheaper to Spray
The Park experienced a drop in "fatalities" from 78 in 1962 down to 64 in 1963 and 47 this year. They attributed the drop to a two-sprays-per-season program instituted in 1962.

From a pure monetary standpoint, it is cheaper by far to spray elms than to have them pulled out after the disease sets in. Add to this the esthetic reasons why every tree lost is a great loss to the community, and you have a strong argument for the spray program, the M.S.U. official said.

He did concede, however, that the present D.D.T. spray being used does kill birds, although probably not as many as certain members of the "Silent Spring" club are insisting.

Need Breakthrough
"I hope that in the near future, at least in the next five years, some new material will come along that will inactivate this disease," Juchartz stated.

The trouble with today's measures, he said, is that they kill the beetle carrying the fungus rather than the fungus itself. Although research goes on in universities and commercial laboratories all over the Midwest, nobody has as yet found the substance that can directly kill the fungus.

Experiments are now going on with a material that can be injected directly into the elm, and has been put under initial tests to kill the Dutch Elm fungus. If an overdose is given, however, the tree will be killed, and no one as yet knows what the proper dosage is — it seems to vary widely with trees and climates.

FARMS PAYS BILL

The Farms council on Monday, August 17, approved a payment of $5,400 to the Shaw Electric company, for transformer revisions installed at the Water Filtration Plant, 29 Moross road.

eration were acquired in several pieces in the 1920s and 30s. The largest pieces of that land were obtained through the gift of the late Dexter M. Ferry, Jr.

Asked what other alternatives would be open to the club if the bond issue is defeated, Long said only that the club plans to "cross that bridge when we come to it."

Long also stated that the club had "never considered" selling the club land for residential subdivision.

The letter stating the Trustees' position for City residents affiliated with the club is reprinted here for the benefit of City residents who did not receive it.

LETTER TO NEIGHBORHOOD CLUB MEMBERSHIP RESIDING IN THE CITY OF GROSSE POINTE:

"The Neighborhood Club Board of Trustees wishes to make known to the families and friends of the Neighborhood Club who reside in the City of Grosse Pointe, their endorsement of one of three bonding issues to be presented to the City voters on September 1, 1964. The bonding issue referred to will provide the City of Grosse Pointe with funds to acquire land for recreational purposes.

"The Neighborhood Club Trustees have informed the City council of the club's willingness to sell its open land area north of the tennis courts to the City of Grosse Pointe at a fair price to be agreed upon, based on independent appraisals. The Council has viewed the offer favorably. Because of the City long-term plan to acquire areas for recreational purposes, the City council will present a bonding issue for this purpose to the voters for their approval on September 1.

"We feel that the interests of both the City of Grosse Pointe and its residents as well as the Neighborhood Club will be well served by the passage of this bond issue."

R.M.S. Queen Mary: 81,237 tons—and not much shorter than the Empire State Building.

From August 8 on, grandeur costs less

Escape to Europe in the grand manner aboard a giant Cunard Queen at Thrift Season Rates* of $190 up, Tourist; $244 up, Cabin; $396 up, First Class.

WHEN IS THE BEST TIME of the year to see Europe? Experienced travelers answer, "From August 8th on." The weather is marvelous. And it costs less to sail there in grandeur aboard the world's largest superliners—the Queen Mary and the Queen Elizabeth. (One of them leaves New York every Wednesday.)

Considering your Cunard Thrift Season fare includes five days of superb international cuisine and luxurious lodging, plus 3,000 miles of sun, fun and entertainment, the price is very definitely a bargain. Best of all, you arrive refreshed, ready to get the most out of your grand tour.

Top men set the trend

Once aboard you'll quickly see why business leaders—that demanding, discerning, decision-making breed—have long favored the Queens. But you don't have to be chairman of the board to appreciate the luxury, conviviality, and gracious British service that are distinctively Cunard.

Whether you sail Tourist, Cabin or First Class, you'll find more to do than in most resorts. Every day brings a festive round of activities, deck tournaments, games, movies, cocktail parties, dancing and professional entertainment. You can swim, take a Turkish bath, work out in a gym, or stroll acres of decks. Special activities and nurseries for children, too.

Remember, from August 8th on, Cunard Thrift Season Rates are in effect for all classes. Make reservations now.

Three Cunard Extras

1. In addition to the Queens, the Mauretania and Sylvania sail regularly from New York.
2. Sea-air combination: If you must hurry, combine an ocean crossing with one way by air. Make reservations on regular BOAC-CUNARD flights through any Cunard office or your travel agent.
3. Cunard offers a wide-ranging program of cruises from 5 to 95 days.

*Half round-trip fare to Southampton.

Two Cars Tangle At Intersection

Minor injuries resulted when two cars collided at the intersection of Kerby road and Mack avenue August 16.

A 10-year-old boy, Charles C. DiLaura, of 134 Kerby road, was treated by a family physician for minor bruises. His father, the driver of the car, Nunzio A. DiLaura, 43, was uninjured.

DiLaura was driving his car on Kerby road when a car driven by John E. Kelly, 42, of 665 Marlborough, Detroit, emerged from the alley behind Mack avenue, and struck DiLaura's auto in the side, police said.

Neither party received a ticket from Farms police.

Woods Residents Request Traffic Light at Park Exit

A petition signed by 440 Grosse Pointe Woods residents, requesting installation of a traffic light at the exit to the Woods lakefront park, was accepted and filed by the Woods Council at the Monday night, August 17, council meeting.

The exit to the park is located at Jefferson and Marter in St. Clair Shores. Speed limits of 35 miles per hour along Jefferson avenue and oncoming traffic from Marter make pedestrian crossing nearly impossible and automobile crossing hazardous.

Leader of the petition drive Otto W. Osterlund of 601 N. Rosedale, explained that he and his followers are aware that the situation is not a new problem but that they believe it should be corrected "before a child is killed or even an entire family in their car."

A traffic count was taken by the Michigan State Highway Department recently, though on a Sunday instead of the requested week day. Its findings showed that the pedestrian count crossing Jefferson from the Park exit is noticeably low. Mr. Osterlund explained that this is because "the crossing situation is so poor that people just don't cross there."

During his presentation to the Council, Mr. Osterlund pointed out two things. First, they recognize that a traffic signal at this location would have to be a seasonal operation, such as during swimming and skating seasons. Secondly, he preferred the idea of a pedestrian push button signal which would allow pedestrians to turn on the signal light only when they wished to cross.

Dr. Wilson, also a petition drive leader, raised the point that there are lights at Jefferson near Vernier road, and Jefferson and Lakeland avenue. He questioned how they had been able to be installed without opposition by the State Highway Department as that is the major obstacle confronting the group of Woods residents.

Councilman Marvin Boutin further noted that the Woods Park is the only lakefront park lacking a light.

Woods Mayor Kenneth R. McLeod reported that during meetings held with the St. Clair Shores Council, he was informed that there would be more accidents with a light than without it. Mayor McLeod further stated that the Highway Department just isn't receptive to installation of a traffic signal at this location and the only feasible thing to do is to bring political pressure on Governor Romney.

It was decided by the Council and petition representatives that this would be the best idea as the Governor of Michigan will be appointing a new Highway Commissioner under the new Michigan Constitution.

Further discussion on the issue will be held at the next Woods Council meeting scheduled for September 13.

PAYS FINE

Charles F. Jones, of 802 Navahoe, Detroit, paid his fine of $25 after he was found guilty of reckless driving in a City court by Judge Malcolm Sutherland, August 11.

Early Greek literature reveals little about the practical techniques of manufacture, since Greek citizens did not engage in work and non-citizens were ignored in contemporary literature.

Park Firemen At Convention

For the first time in two decades, the Grosse Pointe Park Firefighters Association is being represented at the International Association of Firefighters Convention (AFL-CIO) being held in San Diego, California. The convention began on Monday, August 17, and will end tomorrow, August 21.

The Park association is affiliated with the IAFF, which is the same organization that the Grosse Pointe Farms Association of Firefighters joined on July 6, with the blessing of the Farms council.

The Park group is not recognized by the Park city officials. However, one of the objectives in the Preamble of the IAFF, which is often overlooked, emphatically stresses the aim "to promote harmonious relations between firefighters and their employers."

William F. Hunt, president of the Park Firefighters Association, is the delegate to the San Diego Convention. With him is his wife, Patricia. They are utilizing a week of their vacation to attend the convention.

Hunt, a nine-year veteran of the Park Department, has served as president of the local association for the past four years. With his background, his colleagues felt he would ably represent their interests.

The Farms association is not sending a delegate to the convention this year, it was disclosed by President Kenneth Watson.

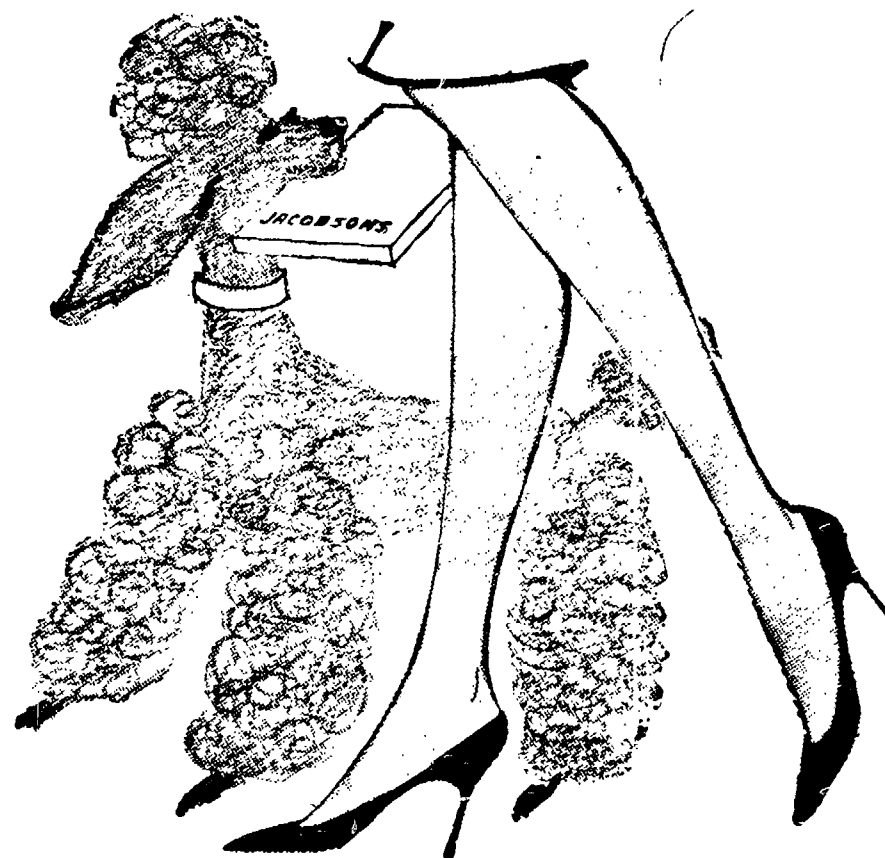

Among the topics to be discussed at the San Diego convention are, A Program for Registering Voters; Binding Mediation; and a pending Social Security Bill effecting firemen and policemen.

Although firemen join the IAFF, which is a union, they cannot go on strike for any reason. The major purpose of the organization is to lobby for laws in Lansing in favor of firemen throughout Michigan.

ARGUES CASE

Charged with reckless driving, Charles H. Chrisman, of 728 Anita avenue, pled not guilty and was found guilty of a reduced charge of driving without due care and caution. He paid $25.

Fair in Backyard Boosts Fund for Kennedy Library

Despite the fact the day dawned cold and drizzly, over 90 children attended a carnival on Wednesday, August 12th, to raise funds for the John F. Kennedy Library. All who attended signed a list of names to be forwarded with a check in the amount of $73 to the Library Fund.

Several children in Saddle Lane conceived the idea of holding the carnival to raise funds for the Kennedy Library. The affair was held in the garage, yard, and basement at the home of Chip, Jeff, and Mark Stieber, three of the hard-working planners.

Other workers were Jimmy and Patricia Hirschfield, Danny and Nancy Abeli, Karen Theuerkorn, Mark Carrier, Greg and Jeff Paige, Linda and Patsy Stieber, and Temi Stieber; (the first-aid nurse who sustained the only injury of the day when she fell and bruised her knee).

The kids worked like beavers running the six games and the other feature attractions including a spook-house, magic show, clown, fortune-teller (complete with lighted crystal ball), first-aid station, candy store and refreshment stand.

The most popular features at the carnival were the candy store and refreshment stand (serving cupcakes, 200 bags of pop-corn, soft drinks and hot-dogs), the balloon-toss (for which 250 balloons were blown), and the spook-house which featured ghosts, monsters, creaking doors and other weird phenomena.

The only catastrophe of the day came with the decision to cancel the miniature golf event in an adjacent field. (It had been flooded by Tuesday's torrential rains.) Several of the boys had worked for five days hauling dirt, sand, and wood to build the four-hole "course."

The children who participated in the carnival thanked their mothers, neighbors, helpful relatives, and all who attended and helped to make the affair a success. Also a special thanks to Johnnie Abeli, who volunteered to play his electric guitar and gave a performance enjoyed by all.

Mothers attending the carnival were happy to note the fine spirit displayed by both the workers and the children attending the carnival. The carnival ran from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m.

A sign posted near the "ticket-taker" pleaded: "Please have patience—we're all amateurs."

Everyone did!

Kennedy Library Gets A Boost

Ten cents to get in, and a fortune teller, spook house and clowns inside. With a deal like this, neighborhood kids came running to the Donald M. Stieber home in Saddle lane last week. All proceeds went to the John F. Kennedy Library in Boston.

Pointes to Share $78,919 From State Highway Fund

Distribution of the 1964 second quarter Motor Vehicle Highway Fund collections to Michigan counties and incorporated cities and villages, has begun, according to information released by State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie.

The five Pointes will share a total of $78,919, from net receipts amounting to $49,039,482, collected during April, May and June, which according to Mackie, is an increase of $1,773,942, or 3.7 percent, compared to the same period of 1963.

Of the total to be distributed in the Pointes, the Woods will receive, $25,995; the Park, $21,373; the Farms, $18,203; the City, $9,859; and the Shores $3,489.

Wayne County's share will be $3,324,948, the State Highway Department disclosed.

All state gasoline and diesel fuels taxes and license plate fees go to the Motor Vehicle

Highway Fund.

After deduction of collection costs and the Waterways Commission's share, State law provides that the remaining balance be distributed as follows:

State Highway Department, $23,048,556, or 47 percent, for use on state highways; to the 83 counties, $17,163,819, or 35 percent, for use on county roads; and to the 520 incorporated cities and villages, $8,827,107, or 18 percent, for their roads and streets.

PLEADS GUILTY

Donald Hudson, of 3762 Whitney in Detroit pleaded guilty to a charge of reckless driving (causing an accident) in City court August 11 before Judge Malcolm Sutherland. He paid a fine of $25.

Vern C. Bailey Taken by Death

Vern C. Bailey, veteran policeman and retired Woods Director of Public Safety, died at his home, 1879 Prestwick, on Wednesday, August 12, after a long illness. He was 60 years old.

Funeral services were held in the A. H. Peters Funeral Home, 20705 Mack avenue, on Saturday, August 15, attended by Woods officials, Woods Public Safety officers of high and low rank, and policemen from the other four Pointes, Harper Woods and Detroit's surrounding areas.

The services were conducted by the Rev. Donald E. McInosh of the Eastland Congregation of the Organized Church of Jesus Christ of the Latter Day Saints, Beaconsfield and Toeffel, East Detroit.

Burial was in Valley cemetery, Ubley, Mich., Saturday afternoon, with graveside services conducted by the Army Blue Lodge, No. 384, F&AM.

Mr. Bailey is survived by his wife, Rita; five sons, Vern C., Jr., Benjamin, Elwin, Harvey and David; a stepson, George Spiegel; a stepdaughter, Mrs. Eleanor Hobson; and five grandchildren.

Mr. Bailey retired from the Woods department after 12 years of service, ending a 37-year police career, on June 1.

A native of Ubley, he came to Detroit with his parents at the age of 16 years. He attended the University of Virginia, where he took a number of courses in police administration.

On August 1, 1927, he joined the Detroit Police Department as a probationary patrolman. He was made a sergeant in 1939. One year prior to this, he became an active reservist with the United States Army Military Police.

In 1941, before the bombing of Pearl Harbor, he was granted a leave of absence from the Detroit Department, and served with the Military Police Unit in the European Theater of Operations. In March 1946, he returned to Detroit and was reinstated as a police officer and a short time later, was elevated to the rank of lieutenant.

In April 1948, he was promoted to inspector, and assigned as commanding officer of the Palmer Park Station, Precinct 12. One and a half years later, he was given command of the Detroit Youth Bureau, and shortly after was transferred to command the Petosky Station, 10th Precinct.

In 1952, he retired from the Detroit Police Department, and became Director of Public Safety in the Woods, which has an integrated police-fire department.

In 1958, he retired from the Military Police Reserve with the rank of lieutenant colonel.

When he took over command of the Woods Department, there were only 19 officers and men; when he retired, there were 40 members.

Under his supervision, the Woods Department became one of the finest of its type in any community of its size in Michigan and in the United States.

Mr. Bailey was an active member of the International Association of Chiefs of Police; the Michigan Association of Chiefs of Police; the Southeastern Association of Chiefs of Police; and the Southeastern Michigan Fire Chiefs Association.

He was a 32nd Degree Mason of the Detroit Consistory, a Moslem Shriner and was affiliated with other Masonic organizations.

He was a past president of the Grosse Pointe Woods Kiwanis; and immediate past lieutenant governor of the Second Division of Kiwanis of Michigan.

Mr. Bailey was a resident of the Woods for the past 12 years.

Expect Million Visitors At Michigan State Fair

There'll be something for everybody—and more of it than ever before—at the 115th Michigan State Fair, which will open Friday night, August 28 and run through Labor Day, September 7.

State Fair officials expect, for the third straight year, more than a million visitors to the 10-day and 11-night extravaganza of entertainment, agricultural and livestock exhibits including great horse shows, displays of the homemaker's arts and youth and children's activities.

And, after the general admission of $1 to the Fairgrounds is paid (children 12 and under are free when accompanied by an adult), all but a few of the attractions of the 164-acre Fairgrounds will be free.

The State Fair's schedule of free entertainment is loaded: Programs at the Music Shell from morning through the evening will feature big-name stars such as Count Basie and his band, singer Nancy Wilson, the New Christy Minstrels, the Jimmy Wilkins Band, Hittville, U.S.A., an array of top recording stars, and others.

In the Coliseum, before the Horse Show events, Grand Ole Opry singing stars Faron Young and Buck Owens, and others will perform country and western music.

At the Grandstand, three shows daily will feature Castle's International Circus, with clowns, acrobats, aerialists, animals and other specialty acts.

All over the State Fairgrounds there will be strolling bands offering music from many lands from noon to midnight: Hawaiian, gypsy, ragtime, Balkan, Polish folk music, Jamaican calypso, square dance, Dixieland and Greek-Armenian.

Of special appeal to teenagers will be the Teenage Fair, admission 50 cents, with shows and exhibits aimed at them. And there'll be a "We Love You, Beatles" Day, Sunday, September 6, with Beatlemania in the Music Shell.

For the younger children there will be the free TV Fun Circus in the Theater for Children, featuring such TV stars as Captain Jolly, Ricky the Clown, Johnny Ginger, and Sagebrush Shorty. There'll be shows in the Children's Puppet Theater featuring TV puppet star Howard the Turtle.

The Kiddie Farm area will be a big attraction for the children, and it will be the scene daily of the Junior Jamboree.

Great attractions each year, of course, are the Horse Shows. This year there will be 15 performances in the Coliseum at which prize horses and their riders will be judged. Free, of course.

The traditional features of the State Fair will be bigger and better than ever, too, including the big Midway, featuring the W. G. Wade Shows, with international rides and other entertainment. There also will be a Junior Midway, designed especially for the kids.

Almost 5,000 head of purebred livestock will be shown—sheep, swine, cattle and horses. The agricultural exhibits—everything from bees to prize crops—have a bigger entry list than ever.

Home arts exhibits, offering the finest efforts of Michigan's homemakers in needlework and other handicrafts, home baking and canning, will be in a new home this year, the fine $600,000 Home Arts Building, just completed, except for its auditorium.

In the Home Arts Building, too, will be an invitational art exhibit featuring some 50 oil and water color paintings by Michigan artists.

With the exhibits, the Home Arts Department has planned a continuous program of demonstrations of such fascinating arts as ice-carving, cake decorating, wig weaving, handweaving, gourmet cooking and china painting. There will be fashion shows and a cookie bake-off.

Everyday will be a special day at the State Fair:

Friday, August 28 — Grand Opening Day, with gates opening at 6 p.m. The Grand Opening Parade will start at 8 p.m. in downtown Detroit.

Saturday, August 29 — Veterans' Day and International Day.

Sunday, August 30 — Religion Day, annual Sunrise Service at 8 a.m. with Dr. Robert Bruce Pierce, speaker.

Monday, August 31 — Beauty Queen's Day, with the state's loveliest girls competing for Miss Michigan State Fair.

Tuesday, September 1 — Children's Day, with contests and events especially designed for the small fry.

Wednesday, September 2 — Old Timers' Day, with a host of special events for senior citizens.

Thursday, September 3 — Salute to Agriculture Day.

Friday, September 4 — Teachers' Day, with special awards to outstanding educators.

Saturday, September 5 — Governor's Day, with Gov. George Romney a special visitor.

Sitting Syndicate Sitting Pretty on Lone Classified

If you ever tried to call the Grosse Pointe News on a Tuesday, sometimes it's pretty rough. All of our lines are often jam packed with calls, from and to the display advertising department, to the subscription department, to and from the news department, and mostly to the classified advertising department, from the frantic last minute men and women.

Sometimes it's even rougher, like last week when we were flooded out and the phone signals didn't work. Only occasionally did any outside calls get through, and those only because they were on the line when someone in the office picked the phone up to use it.

And if you've ever found something in our classified columns, growing in size every week, that's interested you, such as a tandem bike or a '59 Plymouth or an RCA television, you know how important the classifieds are to many people.

Quite often the classified department really comes through in the nicest way.

Take for instance a group of freshly graduated high school girls spending the summer getting ready to go off to college this fall. Girls who didn't have summer jobs. And take one ad which read:

RESPONSIBLE GPHS graduates forming sitting agency for all of Grosse Pointe — 50c per hour. References. Cal Tuxedo 2-8125 after 4:30 p.m.

The telephone number listed was that of the head of the "agency," comprised of girls with about 100 years of experience between them. From 4:30 on, and often earlier, there was at least one call per day for two months, until the head of the group left for the rest of the summer.

Each of the twenty or so girls received at least five calls, some of them proving to be permanent sitting jobs.

And the head of the group surprised herself with a full-time day job for two months because of her ad, costing her $1.80.

She used the money towards a new viola, new contact lenses, and three weeks at a Michigan State University Summer Orchestra program.

And the other girls? Well, they just made money. They

Junior High Students Pay Visit to Paper

The Vacation Church School junior high class of Grace United Church of Christ has published a newspaper, entitled the Jordan Journal, as part of its summer session activities. The paper is a special memorial edition highlighting the events in the life of Christ.

The theme of the two week session has been to study Jesus' life, to see Him as a real person as well as the Son of God.

To help understand the makings of their newspaper, the class made a special trip to the Grosse Pointe News office on Thursday, August 13. The various members of the staff answered questions concerning how to put out a newspaper once a week.

With this background the five members of the class were able to complete their issue of the Jordan Journal. It was on display at the church on Friday evening, August 14.

Members of the class who toured the News and helped assemble their own newspaper are Gary Smith, Valerie Huvare, Sandra Stanley, Darlene Klovski, and Paula Rasmussen.

Teachers and assistant are Adele Shoub, Esther Riske, and Diane Catellier.

The first type-revolving press was constructed by Hoe and Co. and was installed in the office of the Philadelphia Public Ledger in 1846.

GP Park Gas Station Robbed

A burglar, who knew exactly where to look, stole $40 from a Park gas station, sometime during the night of Friday, August 14. Nothing else was taken, or disturbed, it was revealed by Police Chief Arthur Louwers.

Entry was gained by breaking the glass of a door from the garage side of the building.

John Eckhardt, of 7269 Gerald, Warren, owner of the station, called police when he discovered the burglary on hidden $30 in currency and $10 in change in a hiding place in a corner of the gas station. When he reached for the money, he found it gone.

He told police that he had

GP Police Chiefs Endorse Juvenile Driver Policy

A pamphlet, prepared by the Safety and Traffic Division of the Automobile Club of Michigan, contained a statement of policy on juvenile traffic offenders, by Judge James H. Lincoln, of the Wayne County Juvenile Court. The policy is endorsed by the five Pointe police chiefs.

The chiefs believe it would be to the benefit of the "old" juvenile drivers, and those who are taking, or have completed their driver training classes, to know what to expect if they are ever arrested for serious traffic offenses. The judge's statement follows:

"Since becoming Judge of the Juvenile Court, I have heard the cases of a number of juveniles involved in fatal accidents, as well as a great many 'moving violation' tickets. I am deeply concerned, both as a judge and a parent, over the large number of traffic violations committed by juvenile drivers.

"Young people form driving habits during the first years of their driving and the first years will set a pattern for the rest of their lives. This Court has the responsibility of seeing that each juvenile has a very high standard of driving responsibility that will stay with him throughout his life."

Judge Lincoln stated that it is not his intention to create a "get tough" policy because he does not believe this is the proper method of correcting bad driving habits. Rather than this, he wants all law enforcement agencies to know that he is establishing a firm and continuing policy of adjudicating the offenses of juvenile violators as follows:

1. If you drag—you do not drive. Racing is willful recklessness and juveniles ticketed for racing face suspension of driver's licenses for upward of one year.

2. As a rule, three moving violations will call for suspension of license until the juvenile's 17th birthday. There will be exceptions for personal hardship in the family; i.e., illness, essential employment or other valid reasons, but these exceptions will be few.

3. The above does not imply that three moving violations are necessary before license suspension. It is intended that licenses will be suspended on one or two tickets, if the violation warrants suspension of driving privileges.

4. Juveniles who drive after their licenses have been suspended, will be dealt with very firmly. In some instances, petitions will be filed, bringing them within the Juvenile Code as delinquents. The Court considers this to be a serious offense and will deal with it accordingly.

"I do not wish to give the impression that I am indicting all teenage drivers," Judge Lincoln stated. "I believe the majority of youthful drivers do accept their responsibilities to abide by the motor vehicle laws and to respect the rights and privileges of others.

"These individuals should not stand accused as bad drivers because a few are careless and reckless in their habits. However, it is the position of this Court that all juvenile drivers must be careful and considerate, and any person who abuses this responsibility will lose his driving privileges," the judge added.

Bohn to Head State Judges

Circuit Judge Theodore R. Bohn was elected president of the Michigan Judges Association at a meeting of the Judicial Conference held at Mackinac Island August 17 through 19.

Judge and Mrs. Bohn live in Audubon road. Other Pointe area residents attending the Judicial Conference included

JUDGE BOHN

Judge and Mrs. Horace W. Gilmore, Judge Joseph A. Sullivan, Judge Thomas J. Murphy, Presiding Judge of Wayne Circuit Court, and Judge and Mrs. George A. Bowles.

More were Judge Neal Fitzgerald, Judge and Mrs. Joseph A. Moynihan, Judge and Mrs. Carl M. Weideman, and Justice Theodore Souris, of the Michigan Supreme Court, and Mrs. Souris.

Other officers elected for the coming year are Judge Raymond I. Smith, of Holland, Mich., as first vice-president; Judge Clark J. Adams, of Pontiac, as second vice-president; and Judge Arthur M. Bach, of Bad Axe, as secretary of the Association.

The Judicial Conference was held under the auspices of Chief Justice Thomas M. Kavanagh and the Supreme Court. It was devoted to judicial responsibility for the administration of justice. Discussions covered the administration of justice, political practices, bail bond and release practices reform.

The program was highlighted by the appearance and talk by Associate Justice Potter Stewart of the Supreme Court of the United States.

Purdue Women Plan Fun-Fest

The Women of Purdue University Club, Detroit area, invites all Purdue students to a Fun-Fest Wednesday, September 9, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Winkel, in River drive, Franklin, Mich.

Mrs. Kenneth Kimmel, of Village lane, is the club's Purdue contact officer for 1964-65.

Reservations for the buffet supper must be made no later than 10 o'clock Tuesday morning, September 8, by calling EL 6-2032, VE 7-4381, or PR 2-9056.

All guests who play banjo or guitar are requested to bring their instruments for a hootenanny sing-along following supper. The event is sponsored annually by the Purdue Club's executive committee.

New Students Must Register

Students in grades 10, 11, or 12, who are new to the community, are urged to complete their registration for the 1964-65 school year at Grosse Pointe High School as soon as possible.

Dr. Robert Hanson, guidance coordinator, requests that newcomers to the Grosse Pointes who will be in the senior high school call TUxedo 4-3200, extension 40, for an appointment to be enrolled.

Daniel A. Dlouhy At Camp Pendleton

Marine Private Daniel A. Dlouhy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur T. Dlouhy of 1737 Hawthorne, completed four weeks of individual combat training August 11 at the Second Infantry Training Regiment, Marine Corps Base, Camp Pendleton, Calif. While with the regiment all new Marines are trained in tactical and combat skills needed for battle. Emphasis was placed on the small unit tactic—the four-man fire team and the 14-man squad.

Luffers and Lubbers

By Bob Wells

(The Mallory Cup finals, to be hosted late this month by the GPYC, were deemed so important that a story about them appears on page one of today's paper.)

Karl Ness and Maurice DeClercq, who don't lose a sailing race too often, continued their domination of the Cruising C class by finishing almost three minutes ahead of Frank Krembel, Jr.'s Columbia at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club Regatta Saturday.

Messrs. Ness and DeClercq, in the Flying Buffalo, have chalked up so many victories in their class in D.R.Y.A. action this season that we, for one, have lost count.

Among the bigger boats, Tom J. Hanson of Bayview, took his Dauntless III over the line first in Class A, and Don Smith's Yare preceded Guy Maron's Bashit over the line in Class B.

And although we have no business mentioning it in a sailing column, a good bunch of the Pointe's "sailing crowd" reconvened to mull over the race with dance music in the background at the Detroit Yacht Club's Saturday evening "Venetian Night," which was, incidentally, a whale of a party.

The action next Saturday shifts to the Crescent Sail Yacht Club Regatta, somehow one of the smallest clubs on the Lake always manages to draw one of the largest regatta fleets, and this Saturday should be no exception.

Race committees have obligingly laid the course with the start and finish in front of the club, with the first leg of the elongated triangle course running right down the shore towards the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club.

This means that there should be a striking view from the Farms municipal dock, the GP Yacht Club and the Shores park dock. The usual course sailed is way off on the horizon near the Canadian shore, hardly visible from shore in The Pointe.

The Class A boats go over the line at noon, and starts will continue at intervals until 1:30 p.m.

Jerry Jenkins, Crescent Club's captor of the National Snipe Championships at San Diego two weeks ago, will move on to bigger and better things in the Western Hemisphere Championships at Oakville, Ontario, beginning tomorrow.

Only two skippers from the U.S. were qualified to gather among the select crew of skippers at Oakville, which is not too far from Toronto.

Two Canadian skippers, and about 10 boats from Central and South America will be on hand. Jerry will take along as his crew member another Crescent hand, Dave Tippett.

Two Pointe Sailfish enthusiasts captured second and third places in the annual Michigan Championship Sunfish-Sailfish Sailing Regatta held Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 8 and 9.

The two are Harry Pratt of Bedford road, who won a second place silver bowl, and Jim Beyster, of Barrington road, receiving the third place silver tray.

Saturday the races were held on Lake Manistee and Sunday on Portage Lake.

The two winners will most likely be enjoying another round of races this Sunday, Aug. 23, at Metropolitan Beach in Mt. Clemens.

Sailfish and Sunfish races,

Party Benefits Sister Nurses

The last of this summer's garden luncheon-card parties benefiting the Dominican Sisters of the Sick Poor is scheduled next Wednesday, August 26, at 12 o'clock noon, at the Sisters' Convent in West Boston Boulevard, Detroit.

Rhapsody in blue will be the party theme. Mrs. Stanley Jursek, of Wedgwood drive, is creating all table arrangements in blue and white.

Reservations are required, and may be obtained by contacting the Convent, TO 8-4378; Mrs. Ansel, TU 4-4698; or Mrs. Jursek, T-J 4-7577.

sponsored by the Greater Detroit Sailfish-Sunfish Club, "weather or not," will be run all day Sunday.

The schedule calls for late registration at 8:30 Sunday morning with the first race starting at 10:30 a.m. The other two races of the day will be at 1 and 3 p.m.

A fee of $2 is required of all boats. Four engraved trophies for each class will be presented to winners.

All boats must have official Alcott registration numbers, available at the regatta. Crews are optional but all participants must wear life jackets or belts.

Only four or five Grosse Pointe are listed as members of the club but invitations have been sent to 45 Grosse Pointe sailfish or sunfishers. All such boat owners are welcome and encouraged to participate.

Ford Boosting Driver Program

Henry Ford II has announced that Ford Motor Company will greatly expand its support of driver education by making at least 1,000 more cars available for student use.

The chairman of the board of Ford Motor Company said the plan—involving increased dealer allowances on automobiles used for driver education—will provide “behind-the-wheel instruction for an estimated 100,000 additional high school students.”

In the 1963-64 school year, Ford and Lincoln-Mercury dealers supplied more than 4,600 vehicles for driver education purposes.

Fine Babe Ruth Tourney Product of Many Helpers

By Dave Marsteller

Regional Tournament Chairman Well, the big tournament is over, the banners are down and the boys from Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Kentucky, Ohio, and Midland have returned to their homes. We all were glad to have them as our guests and to show them a real Grosse Pointe welcome.

The Foster Parents, in whose homes these boys stayed still are sad the boys have left because it was such a wonderful experience for all of them to meet these new friends, and to have them in their homes.

We cannot thank these Foster Parents enough for their assistance in making this a memorable week for the boys, nor can we forget the Detroit Tigers for allowing us to take all the boys to the ball game as guests, nor can we forget the many wonderful people whose sponsorship of our league through funds and services helped so much.

We also wish to express thanks to our ground crew who in the space of six hours, completely rebuilt a baseball diamond so that the boys were able to play on it. To Vince, Frank and Tony Guaresimo and all of the Woods D.P.W.; to Davy Mogk and all of the other little boys who worked so hard; to the All-Star teams from the Woods and also of Indiana's who shovelled and raked; to Ron Dow, George Pfeffer, Jim Burns, Luke Lueckhoff and the many other men who volunteered, and especially to the other league boys like Doug Dow, George Griffin, Tom Hermann and all the others who worked so hard to get the field in shape — Let it be known — WELL DONE.

Another note of appreciation to our Jack of All Trades — Bob Brown, erector of speaker platforms, builder of baseball diamonds, taker of tickets, errand runner and Foster Parent.

Let us not forget the women who really worked to make this a successful tournament. A big round of applause goes to the gals of the refreshment stand, Nancy Marsteller, Betty Dobbie, Betty Pfeffer, Mary Gagnier, Kathy Dow and all of the others who slaved at a hot grill to prepare the food for this tournament's guests. There is also a special note here — There were two men who worked long hours over a hot stove as well — Herb Dobbie and Roy Bradley.

Last, but not least, the most important group of all — The 1964 Woods-Shores All Stars: Brian Berlenback, Jim Brigilio, Denny Doyle, Ron Frankland, Bill Hahn, Bob Lynch, George Miles, Gary Pagota, Corky Perkowski, Jack Reid, Dick Reppenhagen, Paul Shakotko, Donn Ulmer, Randy Vorhees, and Bob Zink; the coaching staff of Dave Marsteller, Jim Burns and Stan Loeffler, and the Batboy, David Marsteller. We must especially thank this group for the best job of all. The team came into the tournament almost unheralded and proceeded to win the third place position in the tournament as they won three games, lost only two (to the finalists) and defeated three state champions on the way.

There were no super-stars on the club, and they won because of the team's balance. Each player did his job when he was called upon. They were a hustling, scrappy team that made the community proud of them, and the community responded by hosting what was considered by most of our guests from out of state, as the finest Regional Tournament in Ohio Valley Regional history.

Please forgive me for any oversight of people mentioned but there were so many who helped that it would be impossible to mention all of them. Let them know that their efforts were appreciated and that they can take a bow for this fine job. Grosse Pointe can certainly be proud of this group.

Antique Autos Being Primed

Hundreds of antique automobiles from all corners of the United States are being primed for special appearances at the colorful 14th Annual Old Car Festival, slated to be held at world famous Greenfield Village September 12-13.

The Old Car Festival is the foremost antique automobile event held anywhere in the world, with participants providing a regular three ring circus of fun and surprises for spectators.

On Saturday, September 12, beautifully restored autos from the 1917-1925 production period will compete for top awards. In addition, the colorful vehicles are demonstrated to the public and participate in a variety of driving skill competitions.

Following this, on Sunday, historic automobiles from the 1898-1916 era are similarly judged. The beautiful old vehicles, sparkling in their restored splendor, also perform in fun-filled driving skill events.

Contestants wear authentic costumes corresponding to the period of their autos. And when some 300 antique automobiles drive around Greenfield Village, with its more than 100 beautiful, historic buildings, the days of yesteryear almost come to life.

All participants in the spectacular two-day event are members of the Veteran Motor Car Club of America (VMCCA), the Antique Automobile Club of America, the Historical Automobile Society of Canada and the Historical Car Club of America.

This grand antique automobile event presented by the Henry Ford Museum and Greenfield Village in association with the Flint, Mich., Chapter, VMCCA, is included in the regular admission price to Greenfield Village.

The Henry Ford Museum and Greenfield Village are open from 9 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. seven days a week. Old Car Festival activities are held from 1 to 5 p.m. on both days.

His Record Proves Buback Wayne's "Most Effective" Sheriff

County government officials declare Peter L. Buback "the most effective Sheriff in Wayne County's history. Here are just a few of their reasons:

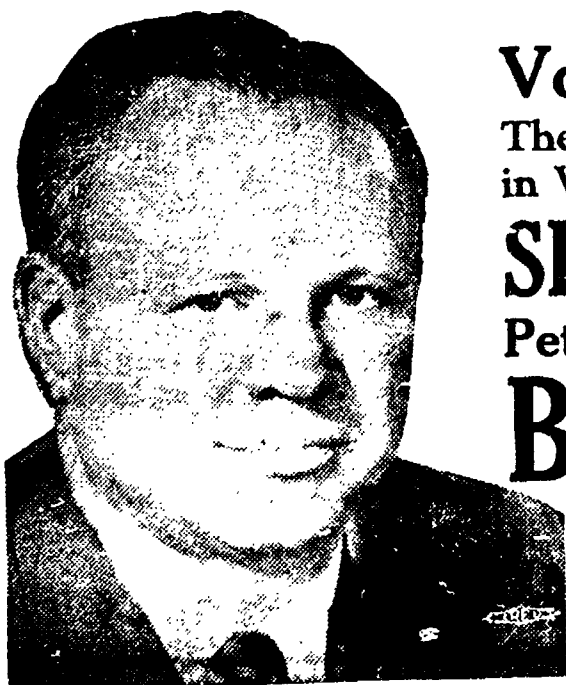

1. Sheriff Buback has established a strong Parks Patrol.
2. Tripled the Waterways Patrol.
3. Given the Communications System's network of 47 Police Departments new efficiency.
4. Modernized the Sheriff's Scientific Laboratory, with its more than one million fingerprint sets.
5. Established a Central Identification Bureau.
6. Improved the Juvenile Division, which handles juvenile problems in Wayne's unincorporated areas; — 7. Made the Racket and Vice Squad so effective it is now training men for several city police departments in Wayne County.

Sheriff Buback has achieved these results quickly. His more than 20 years as a top County Administrator have proved invaluable. Hard work helps, too — he's on the job from 8:30 every morning till all hours of the night.

Police Ticket Tractor Driver

David L. Palmer, Jr., of 4676 Seventeenth street, Detroit, was ticketed by Woods police on Tuesday, August 11, for driving a gas-operated vehicle—a tractor—while his driver's license was suspended.

Police observed Palmer at 9:15 a.m., at Mack and Lennon, driving the tractor which has a front loader attached. Palmer made a left turn through an island, then north to a gas station near the south bound lane. The vehicle is owned by a construction company.

When Palmer failed to produce his license, he was taken to the station, and a telephone call was sent to the reply disclosed that the man's license had been suspended under the Financial Responsibility Law.

Palmer was given a violation ticket and released on bond of $150. His court date was set for September 12.

Faith Nursery Accepting Fall Term Applications

Faith Nursery, Inc., a cooperative nursery school, is accepting applications for the fall term in both three and four year groups. This cooperative is located at 897 Philip at East Jefferson, Detroit 15.

The Nursery is a non-sectarian, non-profit organization and a member of the Greater Detroit cooperative Nursery Council. The three-year group meets on Tuesday and Thursday mornings; the four-year group meets Monday, Wednesday, and Friday mornings.

Pointe's Best Swimmers Competing This Weekend

By Ric Hendee

Swimmers from all five Pointes will battle for the annual Inter-City Championships this weekend. The meet will be held in the 10-lane Woods Park pool.

A new method of running the finals was decided on at a meeting held last week at the Woods park. Instead of racing all 10 swimmers (two from each Pointe) in one big heat, the meet will be run with two heats for each event... the fastest swimmer from each team in the first heat and the next fastest swimmer in the second. This will

Osborn Tankers Capture Honors

By Mike Granger

In addition to the many Inter-Club Swimming Association programs, there are several clubs formed for the sole purpose of year round competitive swimming. One such club is the Osborn Swim Club, a young team which has several stand-out Grosse Pointe swimmers.

Last year in the Water Wonderland Meet, this team finished thirtieth, with very few swimmers qualifying. In this year's meet, Osborn finished fourth, picking up over 100 trophies. The coach of this club is Howard Scarborough, a very dedicated, sincere coach.

Kevin Biglin, 9, is a very versatile young swimmer, who can swim anything—from a 50 meter sprint to a mile. In Water Wonderland, Kevin swam on two relays, a freestyle and medley relay. Along with Kevin in the relays were Fred Papiak, Jimmy Mazur, and Dave Strybel.

Karen Van Buskirk and her older sister Kathy are two excellent Grosse Pointe girls on this team. Karen, 12, won seven trophies in the Water Wonderland meet. She won the 50 meter butterfly with a time of 35.7. In addition, she placed fifth in the Woman's Open 100 meter butterfly. She also swam on two relays, the 11-12 freestyle and medley relays, which finished second.

Kathy Van Buskirk placed fifth in the 200 butterfly, and was on a qualifying relay.

The top young swimmer on this team is 12-year-old Claudia Mazur. At Water Wonderland, she notched a first place finish in both the 50 and 200 meter breaststroke. Her 50 time was 40.2, and the 200 time was 3:13. Claudia has gone 3:02.9 for the 200.

Claudia owns one National A.A.U. age-group record which she set last month in Kentucky. She won the 100 meter breaststroke with a record time of 1:26.

Placed Fourth
Margie Scrivo, 13, is a fine distant freestyler. She qualified high in the 400 meter freestyle. Also, Margie was on a freestyle relay which placed fourth in the Water Wonderland Meet.

Coach Scarborough is a former All-American free-styler from Bowling Green, Nov. 28, Scarborough was a superb high school swimmer. In the '56 Olympic tryouts held at Brennan Pool, he finished fourth, failing to qualify for a position on the U.S. Olympic team in the 100 meter freestyle.

Scarborough came to the Osborn Swim Club last year after coaching in Sacramento, Calif. He respects all coaches and their theories—even if they might disagree with his coaching theories—and opposing coaches respect him. For some day, this coach will have an Olympic swimmer—and what a fine tribute it will be to Coach Howard Scarborough.

Swim Classes Holding Party

A "Splash Party" for the City Neff Park's intermediate and beginning swim classes will be held tomorrow night starting at 6:30 o'clock. The young swimmers will participate in a variety of games (penny hunt, tug-of-war, novelty races) while the intermediate tankers will participate in competitive races. Prizes will be given to the winners of the beginners contests and trophies, donated by Pongracz Jewelers, will be awarded to the leading intermediate swimmers.

Jean Cook, head of the swimming program, feels this party will gather the swimmers together and give them a chance to demonstrate their newly acquired skills.

Through Thursday, August 27, fishermen at the City Park and Farms Pier will be casting for fish and prizes in the Ninth Annual Fishing Pre-Redo. Now leading the City park's pre-redo is Chuck Winkler who landed a 25-inch carp. Two prizes at each park will be awarded on Saturday, August 29 at 10:30 a.m. for the longest fish.

avoid the confusion caused in past years by close finishes in all ten lanes. The judge had a difficult time picking the places when so many swimmers were finishing at once. Now he will only have to watch five lanes.

Also different from other Inter-City Finals is the event schedule. The first 18 events will be run on Saturday starting at 2 p.m. and the remaining races (19 through 33) on Sunday at 2 p.m. The six fastest times will receive ribbons and points for their team.

Draw Lanes
At the meeting, representatives from the Pointes drew for lane positions. The results were as follows: Shores... lane 3; Woods... lane 4; Park... lane 5; Farms... lane 6; and City... lane 7. The other lanes will remain vacant.

Earlier this summer the various park teams (with the exception of the Grosse Pointe Park squad engaged in a series of dual meets. Each team battled the other three in separate meets. The Woodstead scored three easy victories and won the Inter-City Trophy. They also won the Inter-City Finals last year and look forward to another simple victory this weekend.

Grosse Pointe Farm's "Mud-Sucker" swimmers sunk both the City and Shores squads for second place. And the City glided in for third with its only victory, an impressive one (though), over the Shores.

The Shores team is new after just opening a beautiful lake-front pool. They can be expected to gain strength every season as they become more established. It was decided at the meeting that the Shores pool be host to the finals next summer.

Then, finally there's the Park. Since they shied away from the dual meet series, no one can safely say how they compare to the other squads. Their big chance is this Saturday. And it will also be a big chance of a hundred hopeful swimmers from all over Grosse Pointe. Some will win, some will lose... but all will be in there punching.

Enter Catches In Fish Rodeo

The first fish was entered in the Pre Fishing Rodeo of the Farms pier on August 6. Mark Isley, living at 245 Stephens road entered a 17½-inch catfish and took an early lead.

Not until Tom Noren entered an 18½-inch catfish on August 15 did Isley's record fish fall. Others who have entered fish were John Devos, a 15½-inch sheephead, David Imsch 15½-inch carp, and Russ Kohn a 15½-inch sheephead.

The only girl to enter so far is Tom Noren's sister Betsy, who caught an 11½-inch sheephead.

The Pre-Rodeo will continue until Friday, August 28. All residents of the Farms area may enter.

The City park is also having a similar contest and residents there may enter their fish at the City park. Prizes will be awarded at the combined City-Farms Fishing Rodeo held at the Farms Pier at 8:30 a.m. on August 20. All residents of the Farms and City are welcomed.

Football Team Enlists Boys

The Woods Spartans football team will have its registration on Saturday, August 22, at Mason School. The registration period is from noon to 4 p.m. All boys between the ages of 9 and 12 years, weighing up to 125 pounds, are invited to try out.

This year there will be three teams, the Varsity, the Junior Varsity, and the Pony Team. All teams will be outfitted completely with the very best equipment, including satin pants like the professionals wear.

The coaching staff is composed of men with lots of experience. They are scouting for future Terry Barrs, Joe Schmidts and Milt Plums.

For additional information please call Tuxedo 1-6121 or Tuxedo 4-3976.

The unit will replace an old pumper of late-1930 vintage still in use. Its total cost was just under $20,000.

Ohio Captures Ruth Tourney

By Mike Granger

The final round of the Ohio Valley Regional Babe Ruth Championship, held at Grosse Pointe University School, was played last Friday between All-Star teams representing Michigan and Ohio. Ohio won the game 6-2, behind the fine pitching performances of Myron Williams, who scattered two hits in six innings.

Ohio opened the scoring in the first inning, when Rick Causo tripled and scored on a passed ball. Two more runs were scored in the fourth inning. With two outs, Scott Overture walked and stole second base. Overture scored on Buddy Jerkins' single. Jerkins advanced to second on a wild pitch and scored on Jeff Wiler's double.

Ohio put the game out of reach by adding three more runs in the fifth inning. Rick Causo produced the first run of the inning—Ohio's fourth—by scoring on Jeff Purda's single. Purda stole both second and third base and came home, along with Jim Shields (who walked after Purda's hit), on Scott Overture's single.

Michigan notched two runs in the top of the seventh inning, but their late rally fell short. Before the inning started, Ohio changed pitchers, with southpaw Larry Lambert replacing Williams. (No explanation for the change was given.) Lambert was touched with a single and two doubles, before retiring the final batter on a pop fly.

Host team, Grosse Pointe Woods-Shores proved a real surprise in the tournament. Expected to win none, Grosse Pointe, in turn, eliminated state champions from Kentucky, Illinois, and Indiana. They did, though, lose to the finalists Ohio and Michigan.

The star performers for the local team were pitchers Paul Shakotes, Dave Doyle, and Bill Hahn; and hitters, Bob Lynch and Ron Franklin. Shakotes defeated Kentucky, Doyle defeated Indiana, and Hahn was victorious over Illinois.

Infielder Ron Franklin was the leading Grosse Pointe hitter, with a robust 350 average. Included in Franklin's hits was a home run in a losing cause against Ohio. Bob Lynch hit .333 which included a grand slam homer.

Farms, Shores In Close Meet

The Grosse Pointe Shores swim team met the Grosse Pointe Farms swim team on August 5 in one of the most exciting meets of the year. It was the last dual meets of the season for both teams and probably the finest showing of what the new Inter-Pointe competitive program is providing for the Pointe residents.

The Shores took an early lead and kept it until the 10th event when in the Girls 14 and under 25 meter backstroke. Micky Van and Kriss Clifford took first and second, thus tying the score at 72 all. The Shores won the next event to take the lead again but then lost it when Gail Hilliger and Mimi Kolojeski slammed the 16 and under 50 meter back. From then on the Farms led all the way until the finishing relays.

At this point the score was the Shores 131 and the Farms 137. If the Shores won all three relays they would win the meet by one point. But the Farms mixed relay was too strong and thus provided the margin of victory for the Farms. Its team members consisted of Mark Boerner, Judy Barlow, Kriss Clifford, and Chip Steiner.

But the Shores team didn't give up and won the boys relay in a very close race. Also the girls relay was close. It turned out to be a photo finish and the timers' watches finally declared the Shores team the winner. Thus the final score was the Farms 155 and the Shores 151.

John Woods must be commended for the fine job he did in organizing and building the Shores team. The Shores had no facilities to swim at until their pool opened July 3. From there he had to start from scratch while the other teams had already been practicing for three weeks. If they continue on this road they will be one of the outstanding teams to watch in the Inter-City meet on August 22 and 23. Since this was the last meet of the dual meet season the final standings of the league looked this way,

	Won	Lost
Woods	3	0
Farms	2	1
City	1	2
Shores	0	3

The league trophy will be presented to the Woods park on Sunday August 23, at 2 p.m. on the second day of the Inter-city meet.

The City park donated the trophy and it will be a rotating trophy for each year's winner of the dual meet competition.

All of the directors from the competing parks felt that the dual meet program had been very successful and that it should be continued next year.

Detroit Yacht Club Wins Inter-Club Swim Meet

By Ric Hendee

Sunday, August 16... 11:05 a.m.,... a telephone rings at Lochmoor Club's outdoor swimming pool. Two young boys race to answer it. A nine year old named Mike wins and takes the call: "Lochmoor pool, may I help you?"

On the other end of the line stand two nervous teenage girls. One asks: "Hello, could you please tell me what time the finals start today?"

The nine-year-old turns for assistance. Seeing no guards around, he yells to a boy who is standing beside the pool carefully studying lane 5: "Do you by any chance know when the races start this afternoon?"

The boy (obviously a swimmer) unenthusiastically answers, "Yeah, at 2:00."

Tension Mounts
Mike relays the answer to the girls. They thank him and hang up. For the next two hours they wait. So does the boy who so carefully studied lane 5... and so does Roy Pouliot, host coach of the meet... and so do one hundred and twenty other nervous swimmers all awaiting their chance, their big chance.

At 2, the 25th Inter-Club Finals began. Everyone was there... nervous but ready. And in just two and a half more hours it was over.

The meet was close. Detroit Yacht Club won it with its last two relays (boys and girls 200m medley). Before the relays, Lochmoor led the 12 team finals with 178½ points, D.Y.C. held second at 167½, and they had entries in the last relays... strong entries they expected to win the meet with.

Meets Hope In

In the girls medley, Mickey Van, D.Y.C.'s backstroke, hopped in the water to get ready for the start. Earlier she pulled away from a Red Run swimmer to win the gold medal in the girls 13-14 50m. backstroke. Now that same Red Run girl was beside her again in the next lane.

Mickey swam well... pushed to her peak by the Red Run girl. No one was watching the Detroit Golf Club squad in lane 4; the race then seemed between Red Run (lane 2) and the Yacht Club in the middle lane. The breaststrokers started to catch D.Y.C. Then, as Sue Stuckey (D.Y.C.) and Phebe Bedford (D.G.C.) stood on the blocks watching for their swimmers touch, the Red Run butterfly took off. Both Sue and Phebe caught her and fought it out between themselves. Stuckey had less than half a second on the Golf Club when she touched to finish.

Stroke for Stroke

It was all up to Debby Dodd, freestyler for D.Y.C. She went stroke for stroke with the Golf Club swimmer all the way down and all the way back. The finish was close, the times identical. (2:28.2). The official awarded the victory to the Detroit Yacht Club after a long, quiet pause. That gave Mickey Van her second 1st of the day; Sue Stuckey her third gold medal; and... it clinched a victory for D.Y.C.

Just to make sure, the boy's relay from the Yacht Club (Jim Mathews, Dale DeMeulemeester, Tom Mertz and Ron Richards) smashed to a win in the last event, beating the second place team (Red Run) by over 5 seconds. Tom Mertz, who swam the butterfly in the relay, set a new pool record in the boys 15 on Saturday at 22.2. He also took second to Tom Lees of Western in the 15-16 freestyle. Jim Mathews placed second in the 13-14 backstroke and Ron Richards grabbed 2nd in the 13-14 freestyle.

D.Y.C. wasn't the only team in the spotlight that Sunday afternoon. Host squad Lochmoor took an over-all 2nd in the meet and led for part of the day. Lochmoor coach Roy Pouliot's young Lisa Beckenhauer set two new pool records (10 and under freestyle... 31.7, backstroke... 40.5) and swam butterfly in a winning relay. That gave Lisa three gold medals for the day... the most any swimmer, any age, could possibly take home.

Tom Heholt also won a first place medal for Lochmoor.

Grosse Pointe Yacht Club, next year's host for the finals, placed 11 in the over-all standings and probably would have beaten out the Country Club of Detroit for the cellar if it hadn't been for 12-year-old Bruce Black. Bruce, a large, well-developed boy for his age, gave G.P.Y.C. two new pool records and two gold medals. His victories, 11-12 freestyle... 28.2, backstroke... 34.4 accounted for 24 of G.P.Y.C.'s 64½ total points. Joan Couzens was their only other individual swimming in the finals. She took fifth in the girls 15-16 50m. freestyle.

How Long Must This Go On?

Serious issues abound on the Washington scene and solving them calls for much work for the Congress to wade through. But this Congress, unlike its predecessors, must take it upon itself to remove the senseless stigma of our society that is the disgraceful treatment of animals in scientific research.

This appalling anachronism has been allowed to continue unabated from year to year in spite of legislation placed before the Congress at every session in recent years: somehow the legislators have never even removed these bills from committees for a full vote in the two houses. This year, two identical measures, the Clark-Neuberger bill in the Senate (S533) and the Ashley bill in the House (HR5430) reflect the growing public indignation over uncured cruelty to animals in test conditions. Although animals must continue to be used in scientific experiments, these two bills aim to insure animals the treatment they deserve by curbing inadequate feeding and sanitation, overworking of test animals, and inadequate use of anesthetics.

For any and all who may find this a topic hard to get excited enough to write a letter about, the following report from a Detroit policeman is a painfully graphic example of the problem:

In a basement laboratory at the Wayne University Medical School in Detroit last month, a dog lay within the confines of a steel crib, moaning and crying for hours. Alarmed by the screams of pain, a nurse at the adjacent Detroit Memorial Hospital summoned Detroit police. Patrolman John Mobley made the following report:—

"At about 9:30 p.m. on Thursday, July 9, 1964, while working Sect. 1-1 with Patrolman Bloomfield, we received a radio run to the Memorial Hospital about a complaint. Upon arriving, the head nurse at the information desk stated a dog in the Wayne University Laboratory was moaning and crying for three hours. It was disturbing the patients in the hospital. We went to the laboratory and the night watchman took us to the basement, where we found two dogs in steel cribs. One looked dead, but the other was crying as if in great pain. Blood and foreign matter was pouring from its mouth. Some of the blood was dry, indicating the dog was left to suffer for some time.

"The dog seemed paralyzed, and the tongue was gagging the dog to the point where it could not get sufficient air. I asked the night watchman what doctor was in attendance of the dogs if they were in a post-operative state, and he merely stated that no one watches them, and everyone had gone home. He said they are only interested in the time it takes before they die. If this is called for, in the advancement of science, then GOD HELP US ALL!"

In subsequent interviews, the Acting Chief of Surgery at the University and the doctor who decided the dog needed no sedation both took the position that two "irregularities" had occurred: 1) The dog should have been debarked, 2) The dog should not have been left in the basement room with a window open. One doctor stated that the dog survived and that it was debarked on the following day. An animal caretaker stated that it had died during the night.

A letter to any Senator or Congressman might help to build a long overdue fire under the dilatory Congress in getting these measures passed. Michigan Senator Patrick McNamara serves on the Senate committee on Labor and Public Welfare where S533 is pending.

We must ask the Senators how long we must wait for a guarantee of decent treatment, pain-relieving drugs, and simply a little normal human feeling for animals that are being used for human benefit. The immediate problem that must be solved is the suffering of animals. Directly reflected in this discussion is something that should concern us all: man's right to call himself a civilized animal.

Fred R. Dearing Rifle Instructor

Fred R. Dearing of 1526 N. Renaud road, has been appointed a certified rifle instructor. It was announced by the National Rifle Association of America. The new instructor passed a series of tests and served a prescribed period of time in training activities before receiving certification. He is now qualified to conduct local classes in firearm operation, safe gun handling, and the techniques of shooting on the target range and in the field.

Mr. Dearing joins the ranks of selected personnel maintained by the NRA throughout the country in its small arms education program. The program has been in operation since 1876; since that time many millions of people have been taught to handle and enjoy firearms safely.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Mr. Edgar:

I wish to commend you for the "lead line" of this week's Grosse Pointe News, also the article in regard to Bill Jones and your editorial.

I, too, was aroused and angered by the unfair headline and very poor journalistic report of this unfortunate encounter. However, I have always admired your paper for admitting "mistakes" and taking every means to satisfactorily rectify same.

It was not necessary for those who knew Mr. Jones personally to read of his fine character and contributions to this community, but I am grateful that your paper made it possible for those readers who do not know him to have this information.

Because of the newspaper strike I more than ever eagerly await this paper in my mail. It was unfortunate that an explanation of the first account was not included, but thank you for the information on your behalf and the new testimony on Mr. Jones' behalf.

Mrs. Raymond Eddy
712 Piedmont Eddy

To the Editor:

I, like many other Grosse Pointers, would like to acknowledge all the fine qualities Mr. William Jones possesses.

For two years I have been a member of the War Memorial Youth Council. What a difference in the two years! When Mr. Jones took over last year we were not a very enthusiastic bunch. He put spark into us and made us feel part of something important. If Mr. Jones conducts his classes in any way similar, I only wish I could have had the honor of being one of his pupils.

Having known this man personally for the school year was truly an honor for me. He possesses all qualities necessary for a good father and citizen, and great teacher.

I cannot believe that Mr. Jones is guilty of any crime. All my friends agree with this statement. If you or Mr. Jones need any verification of his integrity and honesty, please call on me.

What to do till the doctor comes

By FRED KOPP, R. Ph.

Emergencies strike with sudden swiftness. A slip, a fall, a collision is seldom announced. So be prepared. At least one member of every family should have a working knowledge of first aid. There are books on the subject and the American Red Cross gives classes where such information and training can be acquired. We recommend that you, or someone in your household, acquire the know-how. Another worthy recommendation is to maintain a supply of first-aid medications on hand at all times—antiseptic, gauze, bandages, adhesive tape, alcohol, soothing creams, etc. The cost is small and we'll be glad to assist you in your selection.

This is the 1078th of a series of Editorial advertisements appearing in this paper each week.

What Goes On at Your Library

By Virginia Leonard

Guest Columnist: Peggy Schmitz

New York, like many great cities, is apt to inspire fierce passions. Many people, caught up in its fast pace and bewildering complexities, hate it and flee from it. But I belong to that vast and myriad group who is having an eternal love affair with the city, and, having just returned from one of our frequent pilgrimages there, feel compelled to hold forth.

Manhattan is a city of infinite variety, and herein lies its charm. There is no one segment that alone represents "New York" yet each is a vital part of its gigantic whole, from the endless rows of unpretentious, deaf-mute houses of Queens, to the glamorous colossus of the skyscraper, to the stinking squalor of Harlem. Its diversity lies in its chaos of architectural styles, in the international flavor of its citizenry, in its preoccupation with splendor and with trash, in the gaudiness of Times Square and the lovely serenity of the Cloisters.

Here, exotic foods from every land are everyday fare; you can get a newspaper in any language. It is a simple matter to find a psychiatrist for your cat, false eyelashes for your dog or to rent a beatnik for your next party.

At any rate, love it or hate it or both, New York is a fascinating subject, and the library contains a considerable and varied collection of books about the city. One of the new picture books is NEW YORK LANDMARKS, a study of architecturally notable buildings worthy of preservation. It identifies the landmarks and points out their distinguishing characteristics, and also devotes space to the city's proudest possession, its system of parks.

Some of the finest portraits of Manhattan are to be found in Andreas Feininger's NEW YORK. In his photographs of buildings, harbors, bridges, parks, sidewalks and shops and delicatessens, coffee shops and restaurants, Fifth Avenue, the different national sections of the city, and people, people, people, he has caught the city as a sort of non-stop documentary.

We have a number of guide books, most of which are subjective observations and recommendations of curious and enthusiastic New Yorkers, who each love the city in his own way. This makes them fun to browse through, whether or not you're planning a visit. Two of the best are Kate Simon's NEW YORK PLACES AND PLEASURES and CUE'S NEW YORK by Emory Lewis. Very helpful if you're New York-bound is the up-to-date NEW YORK TIME'S GUIDE TO DINING OUT IN NEW YORK, a critical and comprehensive listing of New York restaurants.

Elizabeth Squire's NEW YORK SHOPPING GUIDE tells you where to buy or rent anything, from unique curiosities to household necessities. It also lists mail order facilities and phone numbers. If you're looking for a de-skunked skunk, Chinese mung beans or an 18th century tile stove, here's your guide.

Parents and teachers will find Murray Polner's WHERE SHALL WE TAKE THE KIDS? an invaluable guide to New York for the young lady going to seek her fortune, there is the CAREER GIRL'S GUIDE TO NEW YORK.

Personal recollections reveal much of the heart of a city. Gladys Brooks' GRAMERCY PARK is a delightful account of a New York girlhood at the turn of the century. Bayard Still's MIRROR FOR GOTHAM offers New York as seen by contemporaries from Dutch days to the present. These accounts show the physical appearance, commercial activities, patterns of cultural and social life, and day to day behavior of the varied population, and the ways in which the city extended its ever widening influence in national life.

HELL'S KITCHEN by Richard O'Connor is a vivid account of the roaring days of New York's wild West Side. In L. R. Morris' INCREDIBLE NEW YORK you can savor the juicy details of social life, high and low, for the last 100 years. Schickel's WORLD OF CARNEGIE HALL is a fascinating impressionistic history of that famous music center.

In Alexander Klein's THE EMPIRE CITY New York is described by such varied observers as Helen Keller, E. B. White, Walt Whitman, Charles Dickens, Mark Twain, Tallulah Bankhead, Scott Fitzgerald, Jean Paul Sartre, H. L. Mencken, Henry James and Walter Winchell. One of the best writers on New York was Meyer Bergen, a brilliant reporter, and the glimpses of New York to be found in MEYER BERGEN'S NEW YORK are well worth the trip. For arm chair people-watching, sample SUBWAYS ARE FOR SLEEPING, character studies of some of the down and outers of NYC, not real bums these, because they still hope and believe in miracles, i.e., the "big break".

There are books here about New York's police, its politics, schools, social conditions, zoos, art museums, churches, even its sewers. But a student of the city's character must come back to the books about the slums, the race riots, the violence, because these are an integral part of the city whose major crime is one of poverty; and today even a stranger feels the tension there. It seems ironic that a new apartment building is now going up which will rent its apartments for $200,000 while 70 blocks away, there is Harlem, so crowded that according to TIME "if the same density prevailed throughout New York City, the entire population of the U. S. could be jammed into just three of its five boroughs." Appalling and depressing as social documents are, they show how intricately interwoven the city is—occasionally they even offer a ray of hope. In any event, they are part of the city's literature.

New York, then, is many things and endlessly complex. A city of incessant changingness, it has many faces—its neighborhoods are minuscule UNs. It is a microcosm of the world, and like the world it is very ugly and very beautiful.

Church Parley Opens Oct. 2

Chester Petersen, city administrator of Grosse Pointe Woods, has been named chairman of the music committee for the forthcoming International Convention of Christian Churches Detroit assembly, which will be held in Cobo Hall, October 2-7.

Mr. Petersen, 1770 Alford, is a member of Bethany Christian Church, 5901 Cadieux.

Some 10,000 persons are expected to attend the Detroit Assembly. They will come from the more than 8,000 congregations of the International Convention of Christian Churches (Disciples of Christ), which has a membership of almost 2,000,000 in the United States and Canada.

The Disciples of Christ are a Protestant body founded on the 19th Century American frontier. President Lyndon B. Johnson, is a member of the brotherhood.

The Detroit assembly, which will open with a mass communion service, will be preceded by a two-day meeting in Windsor, Ont., of the National Evangelical Association of the Christian Churches. The theme for both meetings will be "God... Reconciling the World."

WOMEN'S PAGES

From Another Pointe of View

By Janet Mueller

It's getting so a Pointer can hardly take his boat, (power or sail), onto the Great Lakes, without bumping into another Pointer's boat.

The Daniel N. Kings and Ronnie Milner set out from the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club late last month, aboard Highlander II, bound for a week asea, with stops at Georgian Bay and Mackinac Island.

They were gone two weeks. In Georgian Bay, as they struggled to make Highlander II behave, they came across the Henry B. Joys, Jr., and the George N. Monros, III, cruising on the Joys' Spray III.

Between visits to Tobermory and Harbor Island, they hailed the Seven C's, skippered by Jim Couzens, with Mr. and Mrs. Claude A. Greiner, Tony and Gretchen Greiner, aboard.

The Highlander and the Seven C's paths kept crossing; in Harrisville, when bad weather forced every ship to head for harbor, cramping available boat wells to capacity, the Seven C's tied up to the Highlander. Seven C's passengers hopped from their decks, to Highlander's decks, to the dock.

The weather was atrocious. The Highlander was often weathered in . . . or bounced and buffeted across stormy water, while all aboard worked—and prayed!

Heading home, finally, Highlander ran across the James L. Touscany, aboard their Kandu, returning to The Pointe after the Mackinac Races.

Despite the duration of the trip, and the unexpected bad weather, Mr. Milner and Mr. and Mrs. King enjoyed their week on the water. They are already planning a second, late summer cruise, to Put-In Bay and Cedar Point.

Holley-Watt Rites Celebrated In East

Reception at Lake Placid Club Follows Saturday Ceremony; Pair Travel to Bermuda, With Stop at World's Fair

John Corliss Holley, Jr., claimed Patricia Ann Watt as his bride Saturday, in Adirondack Community Church, Lake Placid, N.Y. Reverend Kenneth W. Beatty officiated at the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Watt, of Lake Placid Club, N.Y. Her husband's parents are the John C. Holleys, of Provencal road and Lake Placid.

For her marriage, the former Miss Watt chose a gown of white peau de soie, fashioned with a rounded neckline and elbow length sleeves. Crystal bead and seed pearl embroidery accented her Empire midriff.

Her skirt, styled with an inverted pleat at the front, fell into a Chapel train. Her crown, of peau de soie embroidered with seed pearls, held a three-tiered veil of silk illusion, and she carried a cascade of stephanotis, phalaenopsis orchids and ivy.

Mary Kathryn Searle, of Lake Placid Club and Delray Beach, Fla., was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Lynn Corliss Holley, the bridegroom's sister; Linda Archer Johnson, of Newport, R.I., and Mrs. John Ponchak, of Ramsey, N.J.

All wore floor length gowns and pale pink Irish linen, with matching lace embroidery accents at their necklines and on their short sleeves. Their headpieces were large pink linen bows, attached to full face veils. They carried cascades of pink garnet Sweetheart roses and ivy.

Flower girl Cynthia Holley, sister of the bridegroom, wore a pale pink organza frock with a velvet ribbon defining her high-rise waistline. Her head-dress was a wreath of fresh flowers, and she carried a basket of pink bachelor buttons and Sweetheart roses.

John Newbold Watt Jr., brother of the bride, served as Mr. Holley's best man. Seating the guests were David C. Holley, the bridegroom's brother; William H. Kieffer, III, of Summit, N.J.; Timothy K. Hollander, of South Hamilton, Mass.; Jeffrey C. Newsom, of Bethel, Me.; and David P. Talbot, of Stamford, Conn.

After a reception at the Lake Placid Club, the newlyweds left for Bermuda. They also plan a short visit to the World's Fair.

The bride is a graduate of Northfield School for Girls and Middlebury College, where she affiliated with Kappa Kappa Gamma. Her husband, a graduate of Holderness School, will be a senior at Middlebury College, where he is a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon.

their vacation at a ranch in Wyoming.

JOANNE KORDAS, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Kordas, of Kensington road, was married to Mr. Helfrich Saturday, in Assumption Greek Orthodox Church. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Helfrich, of Evansville, Ind.

Parties Honor Karen E. Baer

Parties for bride-elect Karen Esther Baer began last June, with a linen shower, given by Mrs. Ralph Lagerfeldt and Mrs. Lambert Rahm, at the Lagerfeldt home in Audubon road.

The daughter of Dr. and Mrs. George James Baer, of Balfour road, will be married this Saturday, in St. James Lutheran Church, to Larry Young Crosby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Crosby, of Ladoga, Ind.

Co-hosts at a cocktail party and gadget shower in Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wood's Renaud road home early in July, were the Woods, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lundell, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brown and Mrs. Elmer Benzin.

Bridesmaids Toni Dauch and Clare Hartwick (Mrs. Laurence D. Connor, as of August 8), entertained the bride-elect at a kitchen shower July 12. Party scene was Miss Dauch's home in Three Mile drive.

A round-the-clock shower

July 15 was given by Mrs. Carroll Grigsby, Mrs. Karl Anderson and Mrs. Shirley Georgi, in the Grigsby home in Whittier road.

Mrs. Sven Hellstrom, of Algonac, feted the bride-elect July 25, with a kitchen shower at her home "up the lake." Co-hostesses were Mrs. Paul Colby and Mrs. Fred Cowan.

Mrs. Harry McKee, of Moran road, "surprised" Miss Baer with a pantry shower August 4. The Spinster Dinner, last Tuesday, August 18, was given by Mrs. Alton Wheeler, Mrs. Robert Peebles and Mrs. Joseph Hadley, at the Wheeler home in Lakepointe avenue.

The bridegroom-elect's parents will entertain the wedding party tomorrow evening, at the Rehearsal Dinner, to be held at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club, and Dr. and Mrs. Baer will give the reception following their daughter's wedding, at the Detroit Athletic Club.

Miss Kordas Weds Frank Carl Helfrich

Newlyweds Traveling In East, After Sunday Wedding In Assumption Greek Orthodox Church; Make Home in Chicago

Joanne Kordas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Kordas, of Kensington road, and Frank Carl Helfrich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Helfrich, of Evansville, Ind., exchanged marriage vows Sunday, at Assumption Greek Orthodox Church.

The afternoon ceremony was followed by a dinner-dance reception at the Latin Quarter.

For her wedding, the former Miss Kordas chose a gown of dulcette satin with accents of re-embroidered Alencon lace. Her skirt, featuring a front panel of Alencon flowers, ended in a Court train.

An aurora crystal filigree crown held her tiered, silk illusion veil, and she carried an arrangement of butterfly orchids, with stephanotis.

In floor length frocks of bisque beige linen, styled with flowing Watteau back panels, applied with beige, green and orange flowers, were the attendants, maid of honor Cathy Michael, and bridesmaids Karen Post, Cynthia Harry, Linda Kordas and Martha Angelides.

Their headpieces were petal circlelets with halo veils, and they carried ivy balls, with beige, green and orange mums.

Lee Tavoularis served as the bridegroom's best man. Ushering were David Helfrich, Jim Kordas, John Ingram and Hank Nowak.

When they return from their wedding trip in the East, they will live in Chicago, Ill.

pliques. Her elbow length illusion veil fell from a pearl crown, and her flowers were white roses.

In floor length gowns of pink silk organza over taffeta were the attendants, matron of honor Mrs. Peter Weingartner, of Ann Arbor, the bride's sister; and bridesmaids Shirley Brey, another sister, and Viola Grimshaw, sister of the bridegroom.

They wore pink tulle hats, and carried bouquets of pink and white baby mums.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Grimshaw, of Farmington, Mich., asked Frank Voefray, of Royal Oak, to serve as best man. Ushers were John Anderson Peter Pletsch, James Catto and Thomas Schultz.

The mother of the bride wore a sheath fashioned of deep turquoise silk, with matching accessories, and a corsage of yellow roses.

Mrs. Grimshaw chose a soft green lace sheath, with matching accessories, and a corsage of pink roses.

Barbara Joan Norris served as her sister's only attendant, in a frock of blue peau de soie, fashioned with a floor length, detachable overskirt. Her headpiece was a veiled, blue bow, and she carried white carnations, accented with blue ribbon.

Walter Weglar acted as Mr. Gronowicz' best man. For the afternoon ceremony, and reception at The Village Manor, Mrs. Norris chose a light taffeta turquoise dress and cape, with matching accessories. Mrs. Gronowicz' frock was fashioned of beige lace. Both mothers wore gardenia corsages.

When they return from their wedding trip to Florida, the new Mr. and Mrs. Gronowicz will live in Detroit.

The first newspaper serial story in American newspapers appeared in Philadelphia in 1729 in Samuel Keiner's Pennsylvania Gazette.

Red Cross Offers Abundant Opportunities for Service

The kick-off luncheon for the annual Fall Red Cross Recruitment was held last Thursday, August 13.

Pointers in attendance were Mrs. John F. Hering, of Kercheval avenue, chairman in the Office of Volunteers; Mrs. Charles E. Kelly, of Cadieux road, chairman of the Services to the Military; Mrs. F. F. Stetkluh, of Handy road, Canteen chairman; Mrs. G. Sam Zilly, of Merriweather road, Speakers Bureau chairman and vice-chairman of the Office of Volunteers; and Mrs. J. Randolph Buck, of Bedford road, a transfer from Omaha, Neb.

At the close of the luncheon, held for staff personnel and news reporters, Mrs. Hering announced that the Michigan Conference for Women Leaders will be held at the Detroit Chapter House of the Red Cross on October 22.

The purpose of the conference is consideration of the importance of volunteers and the role played by the volunteer in our society, and better understanding and appreciation of volunteer work.

Mrs. Harlan Hatcher, wife of Dr. Harlan Hatcher, president of the University of Michigan, will be the chairman of the conference.

Mrs. Hering also announced that September 14 to 24 will be the dates for fall enrollment of new volunteers.

"Volunteers are needed for both evening and day service. No matter what one's interests, skills, or talents, there is a volunteer job waiting in Red Cross. New opportunities, new assignments, and work for which we have a particular enthusiasm are what make volunteer service rewarding for us all," Mrs. Hering said.

There are needs in each service for volunteers; volunteers may choose the time of day, the day in the week, and the type of service they desire.

Volunteers are trained to work in the Disaster Services, the Blood Program, to serve the military, Veterans Administration, civilian hospitals, mental institutions, public and private health and welfare agencies.

Orientation and training for new volunteer recruits will start September 28, following the two-week application and enrollment period. No volunteer undertakes her duties without adequate training. Interested women are invited to call the Chapter Headquarters, 861-3900.

It was also announced at the luncheon that the Detroit Chapter of Red Cross will hold its annual meeting on October 8, at 12 noon in the main ballroom of Cobo Hall. Fifteen hundred Red Cross volunteers and guests are expected to attend.

Principal speaker will be the newly-elected president of the American Red Cross, General James F. Collins. General Collins is a four-star general and served as commander-in-chief of the U.S. Army in the Pacific.

It will be General Collins' first appearance in Detroit since becoming president of the American National Red Cross.

The program will also include a parade of volunteers led by an All-Services Honor Color Guard supplied by units of the Armed Forces. Distribution of the chapter's annual report will take place at that time.

Various staffers of the Detroit Chapter informed guests at the luncheon about some of the services performed by the volunteers of the Red Cross.

One of the most important services is to the Armed Forces.

VA Soliciting Your Discards

The Volunteers of America is ready to help with your discards of all sorts of things; furniture that you have set aside, and no longer use, household items, appliances, bikes, television sets, radios, clothing or whatnot.

In return, the Volunteers of America provide work for many socially handicapped persons. Everything you discard contributes to the needy in some way to a good cause for humanity. In many cases it might be considered a lifesaver.

The stories of rehabilitated furniture, for example, are legion. Hundreds of families with small incomes find what they need in establishing homes or supplying the wants of growing children at little cost.

You will feel well repaid every time you call the Volunteers of America. Everything you contribute helps, be it large or small. Everything is put to some good use, even the salvage sold for reprocessing provides the cash for employees who do the work of the Volunteers of America.

Red Cross volunteers work at induction centers, locate service men for families, deliver messages when the address of the men is unknown, provide recreational facilities for men overseas, extend financial assistance, and aid in counseling of the men and their families.

Last year 5,234,000 hours were given by volunteers to help 92,100 servicemen's families and to provide 7,500 organized recreation events for patients in military hospitals each month.

The Red Cross gives service to veterans and their survivors in two important areas: assistance in applying for government benefits, and volunteer assistance in VA hospitals.

The record for 1962-63 shows that 2,347,000 volunteer hours were spent working on 15,000 veterans' and survivors' claims each month with 15,300 volunteers serving in VA medical facilities each month.

Another important facet of the volunteer work is the disaster services. Red Cross workers serve in areas stricken by floods, typhoons, hurricanes, gas leakages, and all natural disasters. The Red Cross works with individual families to help them evaluate what they have left, what their resources are, and what they will need. The volunteers helped give emergency mass care to 129,000 victims, gave post-disaster assistance including rehabilitation to 19,000 families, and helped to rebuild or repair 5,000 homes last year.

Still more volunteers are used in the Blood Program. This involves assisting donors after they have given blood, transporting blood to hospitals for open heart surgery for which a specific type of blood is needed, calling past donors requesting more blood for these open heart operations, and, of course, keeping records.

Classes in health, nutrition, water safety, child care, and first aid are also taught by volunteer women.

The first Red Cross society, when formed 101 years ago in 1863, was founded on the principle of volunteer service; service being a thing which is given, and cannot be bought. The volunteer is the heart, mind, and body of the entire Red Cross movement—locally, nationally, and around the world.

LCW Schedules Theater Party

The League of Catholic Women has reserved every seat in the United Artists Theater—1,641 seats—for a special benefit performance of "My Fair Lady," Thursday, October 29. Tickets, priced at $10 for main floor and mezzanine, $5 for balcony, are being released on a first come, first served basis.

Mrs. Emmet E. Tracy, of Provencal road, is general chairman of the evening, assisted by co-chairman Mrs. G.P. O'Connell, of Trombley road. Ticket chairman are Mrs. A.D. Freydl, of Harvard road, and Mrs. John M. Murphy, of Fair Acres drive. Other Pointers working for a successful League-sponsored show include Mrs. Stanley E. Beattie, of Pemberton road; Mrs. John K. Busch, of Lochmoor boulevard; Mrs. A. Stan sell Bush, of Moran road; Mrs. Wilfred V. Casgrain, of Stephens road; and Mrs. Fredrick Cody, of Stratford place. More are Miss Veronica Con-

Katherine Kerr Wed To David Campbell

Reception at Country Club of Detroit Follows Saturday Morning Ceremony; Pair Travel to Florida, for Vacation at Campbell Family Home

Katherine Kerr and David Fletcher Campbell exchanged marriage vows Saturday, in Grosse Pointe Congregational Church. The Reverend Arnold Dahlquist Johnson, of Grand Rapids, formerly of the Grosse Pointe Congregational Church, officiated at the morning ceremony.

The bride, daughter of A. Stewart Kerr, of Harvard road, and Mrs. Broyles Kerr, of St. Clair avenue, wore a gown of silk organza, designed with a Sabrina neckline, short sleeves and full skirt, featuring a scalloped hemline and lilies of the valley embroidery.

Her elbow length mantilla veil was fashioned of Brussels lace. The bride purchased her veil in Brussels, while on a European trip. Her flowers were lilies of the valley, with ivy.

Mrs. John William Nickum, Jr., was the bride's only attendant, in a frock of Wedgwood blue peau de jolie, styled with a deeply curved decolletage, brief sleeves and sheath skirt topped with an instep length overskirt, accented with triple bows at either side.

A blending Dior bow formed her headdress. She carried an arrangement of white carnations, with ivy.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gaines Pendleton Campbell, of Chattanooga, Tenn., asked his former Princeton roommate, John Henry Yerian, Jr., of Poland, O., to act as best man.

Groomsmen included John Roy Hill, II, of Lookout Mountain, Tenn., another of Mr. Campbell's former Princeton roommates; Gaines Pendleton Campbell, Jr., the bridegroom's brother, of Lookout Mountain, Tenn.; James Cleland Campbell, another brother, and A. Stewart Kerr, the bride's brother. Bruce Broyles Kerr, another brother of the bride, was candlelighter.

For the wedding, and the champagne breakfast reception at the Country Club of Detroit, Mrs. Campbell chose a street length dress of beige Italian silk, with a matching jacket and beige chiffon bodice. Her flowers were cymbidium orchids.

When the newlyweds left for Sarasota, Fla., and a vacation at the Campbell family home on Longboat Key, the bride was wearing a double-breasted, periwinkle blue coat dress costume, with patent accessories, and a white gardenia corsage.

The couple will make their home in Birmingham, Mich.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included Sara Drucilla of Chattanooga; Mrs. Samuel B. Smith, of Chattanooga; Mrs. Robert C. Jones, Jr., of Chattanooga; Mrs. James C. Campbell, of Chattanooga; Allen Bruce Dickerson, of South Haven, Mich.; Ralph H. Quinn, of Cincinnati, O.; and Matthew Beach, of Saginaw, Mich.

Offers Degrees

For girls thinking of a career in homemaking, the American Home Economics Association points out that nearly 500 colleges and universities offer degrees in home economics — including degrees at the graduate level.

At a morning ceremony Saturday, in Grosse Pointe Congregational Church, KATHERINE KERR, daughter of A. Stewart Kerr, of Harvard road, and Mrs. Broyles Kerr, of St. Clair avenue, was married to Mr. Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gaines Pendleton Campbell, of Chattanooga, Tenn.

Parker-Reynolds Rites Observed

Mrs. Judith McKean Reynolds, daughter of Mrs. Richard M. McKean and the late Dr. McKean, of Williams avenue, was married to Augustin H. Parker, president of Old Colony Trust Co., Boston, Mass., on Saturday, August 1.

The 11 o'clock ceremony was performed in the Appleton Chapel of Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass. Officiating were Rev. Donald S. Harrington, minister of the Community Church, New York City, and Rev. Joseph Barfth, minister of King's Chapel, Boston, Mass.

Travelling to Boston for the wedding from Grosse Pointe were Mrs. Richard McKean, mother of the bride, and the bride's two children, Jonathan and Ellen Reynolds.

Other guests were the new Mrs. Parker's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Rankin, of San Francisco, Calif., with their daughter, Judy, and Mrs. Parker's brother and sister-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Charles M. McKean.

Also present were Mr. and Mrs. H. Kennedy Nickell, of Darien, Conn., cousins of the bride, and Mr. Parker's daughter and three sisters, who also reside in the East.

The bride's mother entertained the members of the two families at a luncheon following the church service at the new residence of Mr. and Mrs. Parker in Dover, Mass.

It's the nature of the things involved that causes marriages to go on the rocks.

Ogden-Harris Vows Spoken

Catherine Alva Harris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Preston Harris, of Bay City, Mich., spoke her wedding vows to John Hall Ogden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester F. Ogden, of Hawthorne road, at an afternoon ceremony Saturday, in Madison Avenue Methodist Church, Bay City.

The Reverend Glenn E. L. Kjellberg officiated at the rites.

The bride chose a gown of ivory peau de soie, designed with Camelot sleeves and a wedding ring neckline. Her sheath skirt, trimmed with Alencon lace appliques, featured a Directoire train.

A pearl trimmed Dutch style Alencon lace cap caught her bouffant illusion veil, and she carried an arrangement of white stephanotis, with variegated ivy.

Matron of honor Mrs. Neil Suomela wore a shell pink linen sheath, fashioned with Camelot sleeves, a bateau neckline and molded bodice.

Dressed identically were the bridesmaids, Mrs. Alan Schafer and Mrs. Paul Allen, both of Bay City; Cornelia Wurengo, of Muskegon; and Ann Leaven-good, of Detroit.

Their modified floor length skirts were accented with back Watteau panels and bows, and their headpieces were ivy bandeaux. They carried deep red Happiness rosebuds, with English ivy.

David Weber served as the bridegroom's best man, and ushers were James Ogden, of Secane, Pa.; Donald Harris, of Bay City; William Burchfield, of Ann Arbor; and Robert Rawney, of Youngstown, O.

Following a reception at the Midland Country Club, Midland, Mich., the newlyweds left for the East Coast. They will visit the World's Fair before returning to Ann Arbor, where they will make their home.

Betrothal Told at Party

At a calypso party in their Kerby road home recently, Mr. and Mrs. James N. Mutschall announced the engagement of their daughter, PATRICIA ANN (Pam), to WILLIAM JOHN BRODERICK, son of Mrs. William P. Broderick, of Lakeview road, and the late Mr. Broderick. Eighty guests gathered for cocktails and a buffet supper, served under tiny lighted lanterns on the Mutschall's patio. Tables, covered with fish net cloths, were centered with miniature, fruit-filled calypso hats, and a calypso band played throughout the evening.

DR. LOUIS ALCORTA, of North Rosedale court, is director of the Michigan Aerospace Science and Economics Education Workshop at the College of Education, Wayne State University. More than 80 teachers from elementary, junior high and senior high schools in Detroit and surrounding communities are participating in the workshop, which opened August 17 and will close September 4. Dr. Alcorn is an associate professor, science education, College of Education, WSU.

Auxiliary Unit Seats Officers

Grosse Pointe Unit No. 303 of the American Legion Auxiliary held its installation of officers together with the Post, at the Post Home in Mack avenue, on Thursday evening, August 6.

This was a momentous occasion for the unit, as it was just 25 years ago that the first installation was held, with Mrs. Martin Nielsen, of Nottingham road, installed as president by Mrs. Harry Hildebrandt, of Detroit, and Mrs. Rollin Becker, of Pontiac, installing officer.

After 25 years, Mrs. Nielsen was again installed as president by Mrs. Hildebrandt, with Mrs. Becker as installing officer.

Other ladies who assisted with the installation were Mrs. Roland Wagner, of Dearborn, Mrs. Jack Sharpe, of Garden City, Mrs. Norman Korff, of Allen Park, Miss Ruby Voss, of Highland Park, Miss Doris Nielsen, of Grosse Pointe, and Mrs. Knox Schulze, Mrs. Dorothy Hall, Mrs. Arthur Poole, Mrs. Alex McPherson, Mrs. Maurice Michael and Mrs. Myra McCormick, all of Detroit.

Following the installation, a buffet lunch was served with the color scheme for table and wall decorations and the 25th anniversary cake carried out in pink and white.

The publishing business began to expand in this country shortly after the Revolutionary War.

Slate Hawaiian Holiday At DBC

An Hawaiian Holiday inter-club Junior High School dance is scheduled Friday evening, August 28, at the Detroit Boat Club.

Nets, sea shells and palm trees will set the scene poolside (weather permitting), as the young ladies, dressed in shifts or muumuu, and the young men, in print shirts and shorts, gather for swimming from 7:30 to 8:30 o'clock.

Dancing is to begin at 8:30 and end at 11. Chuck Miller's Campus Four will play, and songs will be presented by "The Grosse Pointe Three." Meg McIntosh, Sue Radcliffe and Ellen TeWalt.

Mrs. Harry W. Mellen is the chairman of the evening. Young committee members include the Misses McIntosh, Radcliffe and TeWalt, and Mary Jo Atkinson, Charlotte Bacon, Chris and Kathy Sallee, Steve Smith, Carolyn Buda, Barbara and Peter Simpson, and Judy Barlow.

Miss Kruger Says Vows To Mr. Evans

Art Teacher Designs Her Own Wedding Gown and Gowns of Her Attendants; Pair to Reside In Cadieux Road When They Return From Canada

Marilyn Krueger and John J. Evans exchanged marriage vows Saturday, at Drayton Avenue Presbyterian Church, Ferndale, Mich. The Reverend R. W. Mitchell, of Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride, who teaches art in the Grosse Pointe Public Schools, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Krueger, of Birmingham, Mich. Her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John J. Evans, Sr., of Chicago, Ill.

The former Miss Krueger designed her own wedding gown and the gowns of her attendants. Her bridal dress, of embroidered white organdy over peau de soie, featured elbow length sleeves and a bell shaped skirt.

Lee Henderson To Claim Bride

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Plonkey, of Aurora, Col., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Dorothy June Plonkey, to Lt. (j.g.) Lee Herman Henderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew F. Henderson, of St. Clair avenue.

Miss Plonkey was graduated from Aurora High School and Mercy Hospital School of Nursing, Denver, Col. She is presently working at El Camino Hospital, Mountain View, Calif.

Lt. Henderson is a graduate of Grosse Pointe High School and Michigan College of Mining and Technology, Houghton, Mich. He is currently stationed at N.A.S. Moffett Field, California.

In similar gowns of pale green embroidered organdy over taffeta, with ivory ring headpieces and bouquets of lime green mums, were the bridesmaids, Mrs. Robert Waw and Mrs. John C. Erickson.

Anton F. Tewes served as the bridegroom's best man. Ushering were John C. Erickson and Lt. Comdr. R. V. Krueger, of Corpus Christi, Tex.

The mother of the bride chose a dress of gold peau de soie, styled with a lace covered shawl collar, and a corsage of adamantium orchids, while the bridegroom's mother wore a lime green frock with a portrait collar, and an anemone orchid corsage.

After a reception in the garden of her parents' home, the bride donned a cherry linen A line dress, with a sand colored chiffon scarf, for traveling to Haliburton Highlands, Ontario, Canada.

The newlyweds will be at home August 25, in Cadieux road, Detroit.

Mrs. John J. Evans

In Drayton Avenue Presbyterian Church, Ferndale, Saturday, MARILYN KRUEGER, art teacher in the Grosse Pointe Public School System, was married to Mr. Evans. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Krueger, of Birmingham, Mich. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Evans, Sr., of Chicago, Ill.

Parties Fete Miss Dowdy

Parties preceding Mary Claire Dowdy's marriage to Dennis L. Murphy, on September 19, began last Sunday with a dinner. The affair was given by usher Michael Sauls at his home in Newport street, Detroit.

A luncheon was held yesterday, August 19, for Miss Dowdy. Hostess was her sister Mrs. Daniel Sykes, of Notre Dame avenue.

An evening miscellaneous shower will honor the bride-to-be on Wednesday, September 2. The party is being given by Mrs. Donald Popadine, sister of the bridegroom, at her home in Warren, Mich.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Jones C. Dowdy, of Notre Dame avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. Leo Murphy, of Engle-side drive, Detroit.

Auxiliary Offers 'My Fair Lady'

The Women's Auxiliary of Detroit-Macomb Hospitals Association is sponsoring a special benefit performance of "My Fair Lady," Saturday, October 31, at 8:30 o'clock, at the United Artists Theater.

Proceeds will be used to provide original equipment and furnishings for the new South Macomb Hospital, under construction at 12 Mile and Hoover roads in suburban Warren since April 19, 1964, scheduled to open its doors for service in November, 1965.

Trustees of the Detroit-Macomb Hospitals Association include Mervyn G. Gaskin, president; J. Lawrence Buell, Jr., vice president; Gordon K. Glasgow, M.D., treasurer; Melvin W. Scheets, secretary; and Simpson C. Leonard, assistant secretary-treasurer.

The ultra-modern facilities of South Macomb Hospital are located to meet both present and future community needs as estimated by the Greater Detroit Area Hospital Council. Therefore, the initial 200-beds are designed for future expansion, as needed, to a major institution of 600-beds and related facilities.

Plans include a nurse training program in a year or two. Training of interns and residents will be conducted jointly with Detroit Memorial Hospital from date of opening.

Financial assistance from individuals throughout the community is now needed to purchase all necessary equipment and furnishings for South Macomb Hospital. All fund raising efforts to July 1, 1964 have produced a grand total of $380,000. Yet to be raised is a minimum of $345,000.

To assist in achieving this goal by relatively painless means, the Women's Auxiliary is sponsoring various events such as the "My Fair Lady" benefit.

Basic financing of South Macomb Hospital in the amount of $4.86 million has been provided by (1) an allocation of $1.5 million from the Metropolitan Detroit Building Fund, (2) a federal grant of $1.36 million and (3) a mortgage of $2 million. Total costs, with equipment and supplies, are budgeted at a minimum of $5.6 million.

In 1955 the Warren Chamber of Commerce appointed a hospital committee which led in 1957 to organization of the non-profit South Macomb Hospital Corporation. The new organization gained support of the greater Detroit Area Hospital Council, Michigan Department of Health and the Metropolitan Detroit Building Fund.

It selected a site and arranged a long-term purchase agreement with the City of Warren. Also, it employed Harley, Ellington, Cowin & Sturton, Inc. as architects. All of these things were accomplished without operating funds.

Seeking operating experience as well as funds, South Macomb Hospital Corporation discussed merger with Detroit Memorial Hospital which was interested in expanding its teaching activities.

Then on December 28, 1961, South Macomb Hospital Corporation merged with Detroit Memorial Hospital to form Detroit-Macomb Hospitals Association.

In basic concept, the Detroit-Macomb Hospitals Association proposes to operate Detroit Memorial Hospital as its downtown unit and South Macomb Hospital as its suburban unit, taking advantage of all possible operating economies which this combination offers. There will be one board of trustees and one administration.

There will also be one medical staff and one women's auxiliary, each with its separate operating units. It is expected that patients at the 200-bed South Macomb Hospital will benefit from the specialized services available at the 340-bed Detroit Memorial Hospital.

Robert E. Newman On Heavy Cruiser

Robert E. Newman, fireman apprentice, USN, son of Marshall F. Newman of 974 Beaconsfield avenue, participated in an operation called "Exercise Bird Dog" off the Coast of California while a board the heavy cruiser USS Saint Paul.

The operation, held under simulated battle conditions, was designed to test the Pacific Fleet's combat readiness in strike, anti-aircraft and anti-submarine missions.

Y-Teens Gather At Camp Cavell

Some 75 officers of Y-Teen clubs in metropolitan Detroit high schools will attend the annual Y-Teen conference at the YWCA's Camp Cavell on Lake Huron, August 23 through 28.

Among those attending the conference will be Susan Axson, of Vincennes place; Linda Brink, of Sunningdale drive; Jacqueline Delaney, of Allard avenue; Janet May, of Oxford road; Sandra Peterson, of South Renaud road; and Nancy Stafeld, of Hampton road.

The conference program will be highlighted by presentation of the story of the Peace Corps.

Richard C. Ridgeway, of Detroit, will discuss "Our Place in the World," reviewing major political and social trends throughout the world and explaining how apparently insignificant happenings in distant lands can affect the U.S.A.

"The Peace Corps in West Pakistan" will be described by Ben Z. Freeman, who will use color slides. The Peace Corps service organization of Detroit will be explained by Hugh U. Greenberg, vice chairman of the organization; and "The Peace Corps in the Field" will be described by Phyllis Greenberg, recently returned after two years as a Peace Corps volunteer in Loja, Ecuador.

Also on the week's program will be a panel on Civil Rights, discussing what the Negro faces, what Negro organizations are doing in Civil Rights, what their current techniques are, and an evaluation of progress.

Panel participants will include Philip Sims from TULC; Mrs. Rita Scott, of the Commission on Community Relations; Frank Joyce, of the Detroit education project; Ralph Rosenfeld, of CORE; and the Rev. James Wadsworth, representing the NAACP.

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Wallner, of Ridgemont road, announce the engagement of their daughter, SUSAN LOUISE, to Edward K. Kennedy, III, son of Mrs. Marie Moeckel Kennedy, of Loraine avenue, and Edward K. Kennedy, of Detroit.

Miss Walther is an alumna of Ferris State College. Her fiancé attended Michigan State University, and is currently studying at Wayne State University.

A May wedding is planned.

Collins-Taylor Betrothal Told

Airman 1/c Thomas K. Collins, son of Mrs. Mabel McDonnell, of Beaconsfield avenue, and the late S. M. Collins, will wed Janet Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Taylor, of Luton, Beds., England, September 19, in St. Margaret's Church, Streatham, England.

Airman Collins, who is stationed in England, will vacation in Ireland with his bride. The couple plans to spend Christmas with the Taylors, and will return to the States January 6, 1965.

After a 30-day leave, which the couple intends to spend in The Pointe, visiting the bridegroom's mother, Airman Collins will be stationed in Arizona.

Marco entertained at a cocktail and buffet party, honoring Mr. Marco's sister and brother-in-law, the Glen Mooneys.

Mr. and Mrs. Mooney recently moved back to The Pointe, (they lived here when they were first married), from Milwaukee, Wis.

They will be at home in Sunningdale drive—permanently, their friends hope—with their four children, Kathy, Barbara, Susie and Bert.

Just missing the party, Mr. and Mrs. Marco's daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Victor James Voorheis, II, arrived in town early this week, after a brief stop-over in Kenilworth, Ill., to visit Mr. Voorheis' parents, the senior Voorheises.

They will remain in The Pointe a few days, then fly back to Colorado in time for Mrs. Voorheis to begin preparations for teaching, while Mr. Voorheis returns to the University of Denver, to complete work toward a Masters degree in Business Administration.

Back From Buenos Aires

Vacationing at her parents' home in Harbor Pointe, and back permanently in the United States, is Mrs. James D. Farley, late of Buenos Aires, Argentina.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emmet E. Tracy, of Provincial road, and HER daughters, Franny and Kathryn, (less than a year old), and son, Jimmy Farley, are soaking up the sun on Lake Michigan's shores.

She will return to The Pointe with her mother around Labor Day, for a short visit. Mr. Farley, after several years in Argentina, has been transferred north of the border. The Farleys will make their home in the East.

An Unusual Auction

Harold O. Love, of Lochmoor boulevard, is one of the few men who know what women go through, collecting—and cajoling—items for rummage/heirloom/benefit sales.

Mr. Love, executive vice president of the Archives of American Art, is busy preparing for a Machinery Auction, benefiting the Archives, to be held October 14 at The Deecher Shop of the Detroit Edison Company.

Items as small as a screwdriver and as large as a drill press are to be offered to the highest bidder. Individuals and firms have been invited to donate, and to buy, the machinery.

This is the second Machinery Auction, (the first was held in 1962), with proceeds earmarked for the Archives of American Art, only national cultural organization headquartered in Detroit.

Located physically in The Detroit Institute of Arts, the Archives is separately managed and owned, and exists to collect written and photographic records of American artists and their art, providing source material for biographers, scholars and historians.

Delores Watts Being Honored

The first shower held in honor of Delores Ann Watts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Watts, of Beaconsfield avenue, was given by Ann Schultz at her home in Dearborn Heights on Thursday, August 13.

Then, last Monday, Delores was feted at a shower hosted by bridesmaid Patricia Kennedy at her home in Hillcrest road. Yesterday, August 19, Thelma O'Connell, of Detroit, honored the bride-to-be with a third shower.

Delores will be married on August 29 to Thomas Hurford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rowland Hurford, of Nottingham road. The ceremony will take place in St. Stephen and St. Philip Episcopal Church.

At a cocktail party at their home, Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Tallero, of Hawthorne road, announced the engagement of their daughter, JOY, to Lawrence J. Brady, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Brady, of Littlefield avenue.

Joy attended Ferris State College and her fiancé attends the University of Detroit.

A February wedding is planned.

Peterson-Ganter Rites Observed

Bride Wears Gown of Double Silk Organza, With Alencon Lace Bodice, for Ceremony in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church

A reception at the Detroit Athletic Club followed the Saturday wedding of Susan Barbara Ganter and Robert Vincent Peterson.

The Reverend Richard Mitchell officiated at the double ring ceremony, in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Louis Ganter, of Smoke Rise, N. J., formerly of Birmingham, Mich., wore an Empire line gown of double silk organza, its bodice of re-embroidered Alencon lace accented with seed pearls.

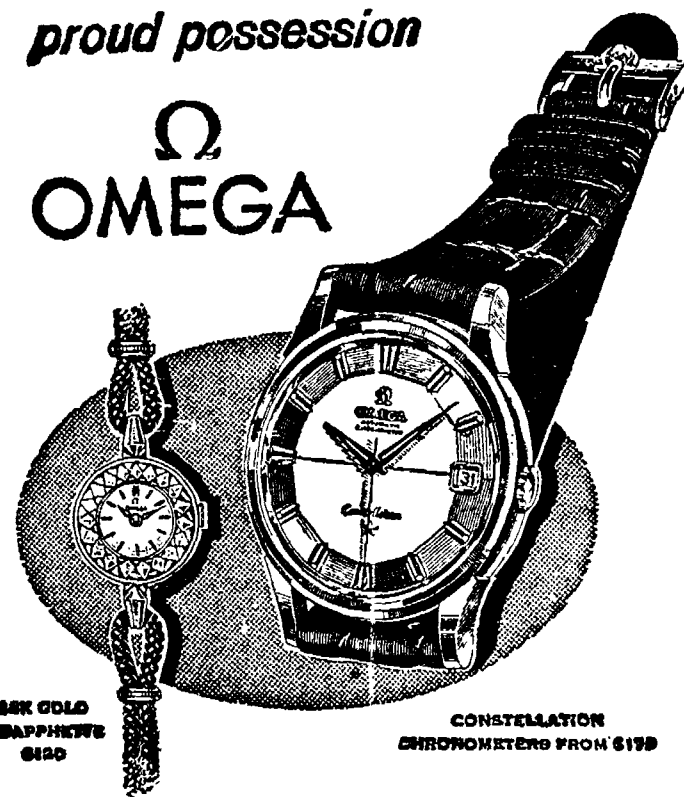

Her Chapel length, detachable train was fashioned of peau de soie, and her shoulder length veil fell from a pearl-tipped, petal organza headpiece. She carried a cascade of lilies, stephanotis and ivy.

Maid of honor Carol Shuler, of Bloomfield Hills, and bridesmaids Pam Conrad, Nancy Peterson, sister of the bridegroom; and Mrs. William Ganter, the Focus Fashionscope On Past and Present

Styles of 50 Years Ago to Be Featured at Junior League Sponsored Fall Fashion Show, Scheduled September 15 and 16, At J. L. Hudson's Downtown

To commemorate the 50th Anniversary of the founding of the Junior League of Detroit, Fashionscope '64, a comprehensive collection of new fashions presented annually by the J. L. Hudson Company together with the Junior League of Detroit, will this year include several 1914 ensembles, accompanied by commentary on the early years of the Junior League.

The costumes have been obtained through the courtesy of the Detroit Historical Museum.

The Detroit Athletic Club, the Junior League Fashion Show Committee, chaired by Mrs. Gilbert Hudson, assisted by Mrs. Peter A. Dow, revealed the names of Fashionscope '64 Junior League models.

Modeling in the 1914 sequence will be Mrs. Samuel Irwin, Mrs. Harry M. Jewett, II, Mrs. Robert Lambrecht, Mrs. Norman A. MacColl, Jr., Mrs. James F. Robertson and Mrs. John T. Woodhouse, Jr.

The ladies will all wear wigs, done in the style of the period.

Modeling today's fashions, (and sporting today's hairdos), will be Mrs. Dwight P. Black, Mrs. Henry T. Ewald, Jr., Mrs. John O. Hastings, Mrs. Hudson Holland, Mrs. William Howenstein and Mrs. Fenton Remick.

This year, the runway will be extended with a new auditorium arrangement, to provide general admission ticket holders maximum visibility of the show. And this year the show has been scheduled a week later than usual, on Tuesday and Wednesday, September 15 and 16, so that vacationers will have returned and children will be in school.

Show time is 2:30 o'clock both afternoons; place is the J. L. Hudson Company Downtown Auditorium.

As always, tea will be served following the fashion presentation. Tuesday's tea hostesses, all past League presidents and Fashion Show chairmen, will be Mrs. George T. Hall, Mrs. Frank W. Wylie, Mrs. Paul J. Keller, Jr. and Mrs. John W. Coe.

Wednesday's tea hostesses, (past presidents and show chairmen), are Mrs. George E. Bushnell, Jr., Mrs. Theodore R. Buttrick, Mrs. Robert P. Scherer, Jr., and Mrs. George H. Jury.

Fashion Show hostesses, on Tuesday, will include Mrs. Thomas A. Garred, Mrs. Louis A. Fisher, Jr., Mrs. Benjamin H. Paddock, III, Mrs. William O. Dance, Mrs. Richard K. Simonds, Miss Judith Dorothy Goodnow, Mrs. Russell A. McNair, Jr., and Mrs. Elliott H. Phillips.

The following day, Fashion Show hostesses will be Mrs. Leo J. Fitzpatrick, Mrs. William Y. Gard, Mrs. Anthony J. Morse, Mrs. Samuel B. Sherer, Mrs. Charles W. Morris, Jr., Mrs. Ralph W. Simonds, Jr., Mrs. Douglas F. Roby, Jr., and Mrs. Peter D. Whitman.

Commenting the show will be Miss Madelyn Coe, Hudson's Fashion Co-ordinator, who at the luncheon gave a verbal preview of the styles to be presented.

Also present at the luncheon was Mrs. Wilber M. Brucker, Jr., president of the Junior League of Detroit, who will introduce Miss Coe to the Fashionscope '64 audience.

More luncheoners at the DAC were Mrs. Stanley R. Day, patroness ticket chairman; Mrs. Post Fordon, Junior League ticket chairman; Mrs. Gordon R. Maitland, Jr., general ticket chairman; Mrs. William B.

Previewing Fashionscope '64

At a recent luncheon in the Georgian Room of the Detroit Athletic Club, members of the Junior League of Detroit, Inc., Fashionscope '64 committee gathered to preview styles to be featured at the annual League-sponsored fashion show, scheduled September 15 and 16, at 2:30 o'clock, in the J.L. Hudson Company Downtown Auditorium. Watching models Diana, Erika and Heidi are, (standing, l. to r.), MRS. WILBER M. BRUCKER, JR., president of the Junior Krag, arrangements chairman; and Mrs. Henry H. Hubbard, III, publicity chairman.

Tickets may be obtained by contacting the Show chairman, Mrs. Hudson, at TUxedo 1-8529; patroness ticket chairman Mrs. Day, TUxedo 1-1151, (patroness tickets are $10); or general ticket chairman Mrs. Maitland, TUxedo 5-3486, (general tickets are $3).

Any money raised by the Junior League from the community, via such events as Fashionscope, now in its 12th year, is returned to the community through a Junior League project, such as the Poison Control Center or the School Enrichment Program.

Other activities currently supported by the Junior League are the Art to the Schools Program, a series of Art Institute slides and lectures for school children throughout the city; the Glee Club, which sings in nursing homes and hospitals; Puppet stage productions, brought live to school children throughout the city; and the Young People's Concerts, (funds raised via a Bake Sale are used to purchase tickets, so that underprivileged children may attend the concerts).

Past projects, initiated by the Junior League during 50 years' service to the community, include the Detroit League for the Handicapped, Home Education for Crippled Children, Needle and Loom Guild for Foreign Born Women, Training Cottage for Blind Children, "Scoop Ryan" for young radio listeners, Pioneer

House for Disturbed Boys and the Senior Center.

(Continued from Page 23) bride's sister-in-law, were dressed identically in yellow organza over taffeta frocks, with rows of applied flowers defining their Empire waistlines, and flowing side panels. Their headpieces were yellow organza roses, and they carried cascades of lime green Fuji mums and ivy.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent LeRoy Peterson, of Moran road, asked Verne Istock to act as best man. In the usher corps were William Troutman, of Cleveland, O., Richard Granse, and William and Robert Ganter, brothers of the bride.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Ganter chose a light blue chiffon sheath, with an embossed satin skirt and matching hat, and a pink cymbidium orchid corsage. Mrs. Peterson wore a pink peau de soie sheath and matching hat, and a corsage of pink cymbidium orchids. For traveling to the Upper Peninsula, the bride donned a yellow cotton weave suit, with a beige and yellow shell blouse and beige accessories.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Peterson will make their home in Ann Arbor.

ELIZABETH CARRUTHERS, of Beaconsfield avenue, a 12th grade student at Grosse Pointe High School, has been accepted for membership in the 1964 Michigan State Fair Honors Band. She will participate in a number of concerts while the Fair is in progress, August 27 to September 7. Elizabeth, who is a bass clarinetist in the Grosse Pointe High School band, also recently qualified for first chair in that instrument in the Youth Music Program at Michigan State University, East Lansing.

Michigan Spearheads Fight Against Pollution of Waters

Within six miles of where you are—anywhere in Michigan—chances are you can find a lake or stream, clear and clean, which sparkles with the promise that it will shine forever.

And so it may, for Michigan leads the nation in the control of water pollution. Many agencies and organizations are responsible for this remarkable record, but among the more unsung and unseen heroes of the pollution war are the State Department of Health and the Michigan Water Pollution Control Association.

These two—one a state agency, the other an independent organization—have spearheaded the quarter-century battle to require performance ratings and state certification for the operators of sewage treatment plants. It has been an uphill struggle, which really began in the 1930's, culminating in 1953 legislation setting forth training and educational requirements for wastewater treatment plant engineers.

"It was a logical step," said Donald M. Pierce, sanitation engineer for the Department of Health and a member of the board of directors of the MWPCA. "This is where pollution control begins. But it took us a few years to convince the people of the state that, having spent billions of dollars on wastewater treatment equipment, they should not settle for less than the best in operating personnel to get the most out of these expensive facilities."

"There was resistance," he said. "Some local communities felt the state was poking its nose into things which did not concern it; others had favorite sons—local boys, of course—who wanted to hire, regardless of qualifications; still others were convinced that pollution was imaginary in the first place and if they didn't talk about it, it would go away.

"But the mandatory certification program now has been accepted by treatment plant operators and employers alike, and it has paid tremendous dividends for both."

The Michigan law gives the Department of Health the authority to classify sewage treatment plants according to size, location, etc., and also according to the skill, knowledge and experience necessary to operate them. The Department also makes the rules regulating this classification, as well as the examinations given for certification.

"Thus," Mr. Pierce said, "we now have operators classified as A, B and C, and established educational requirements for each group. But if we are to set such standards of performance, we must develop an educational program easily available to anyone interested. Actually it developed in reverse. We were offering training programs back in 1934, long before certification was required by statute."

Instruction is provided by Department of Health experts at regional meetings throughout the year and by on-the-job instruction during regular or special visits to the treatment plants. The Water Pollution Control Association, to which most of the operators now belong, also sponsors technical

Country Club of Detroit swimming coach Hal Willard told his team last week, "Well, squad, maybe we can't win any meets but we still should be able to smile better than any other club." Then he joined

Driving Across Michigan Made Easy for Motorists

Michigan will reach another highway milestone this year when it opens its 1,200th mile of freeway.

Michigan's freeway mileage has quadrupled in five years—from 300 miles in 1959 to nearly 1,200 miles today.

The 1,200th mile of freeway is expected to be somewhere on the $40 million East-West Freeway in Grand Rapids which is scheduled to open in mid-December.

Earlier next fall, the final section of the Lodge Freeway Extension in Detroit will be opened to traffic. It will enable motorists to drive non-stop from Cobo Hall in downtown Detroit to Muskegon or the Upper Peninsula.

Michigan leads the nation in the construction of Interstate highways. Seventy per cent of its Interstate System is open to traffic and built to full standards. The average for all states is about 35 per cent.

In addition to its 765 miles of Interstate highways open to traffic, Michigan also has 400 miles of state freeway built to Interstate standards.

The two superhighway networks link every Michigan city of 50,000 population or more and penetrate Northern Michigan and the Upper Peninsula.

Long ribbons of divided highway have given Michigan a big boost in the highly competitive travel business.

The old saying that you can't get there from here no longer applies—not with nearly 1,200 miles of freeway and more than 6,000 miles of new and improved two-lane roads.

Recent visitors to Michigan have found that they can reach their destination in relative ease and comfort on modern highways.

Imagine what would happen if the freeway from Detroit to Sault Ste. Marie weren't there. The result would be a wild nightmare of traffic jams and blaring horns.

Some years ago, the state's highway builders foresaw a king-sized mess if something wasn't done to provide more room for cars and trucks.

They were confronted with several basic facts: a growing nation with more leisure time, increased auto sales and a state with a potential to attract an increasing number of travelers.

The highway planners came up with a logical conclusion—build broader freeways to accommodate a greater number of cars and trucks.

Aided by a generous outpouring of dollars from state and federal treasuries, the Michigan highway building program began in earnest in the late 1950's and reached a full head of steam in the early 60's. More than $500 million was spent for construction in 1961 and 1962.

The big push was for construction of three border-to-border freeways bypassing big cities and little towns.

Michigan has tripled its freeway mileage since 1959 when it opened its 300th mile between Lansing and Grand Rapids.

Interstate 94, stretching non-stop from Detroit to New Buffalo, was the state's first border-to-border freeway, replacing old US-12. It was completed in December of 1960.

Then came Interstate 96, a superhighway stretching from Detroit to Muskegon and replacing old US-16. The final section of I-96 was opened in December of 1962.

The third border-to-border freeway, completed in November of 1963, stretches from Ohio to Sault Ste. Marie, a distance of 380 miles.

It's been a long uphill climb since 1905 when "Good Roads" Earle, a bicycle enthusiast, became the state's first highway chief with a budget of $20,000 for construction and $10,000 for administration.

But visitors to Michigan now enter the state with knowledge they will be driving on some of the finest highways in the nation.

Haughton Attending Seminar in Russia

Ronald W. Haughton, co-director of the Institute of Labor and Industrial Relations, co-sponsored by The University of Michigan and Wayne State University, has been appointed by the United Nations as an "Expert on Mission" to participate in an international seminar at Minsk, Russia, Tuesday, Aug. 1 through Tuesday, Aug. 25.

Haughton, who is also a professor in management at the WSU School of Business Administration, is the only representative from the United States at the two-week seminar.

Fifty participants from member states of the United Nations have been nominated by their governments to attend the seminar: 12 from Latin America; 18 from Africa, and 20 from Asia and the Middle East.

Haughton, who is active in labor-management arbitration affairs, is a consultant to the President's Committee on Equal Employment Opportunities and chairman of the Detroit Area Manpower Training and Development Committee.

He has been appointed to assignments in Latin America for the U.S. Department of Labor and the U.S. State Department, Office of the Inspector General.

Haughton lives at 264 Lewis-ton road.

West Point Pointer On Combat Training

Cadet Alton P. Donnell, Jr., a third classman (sophomore) at the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, N.Y., is undergoing two months of extensive practical combat field training at the academy's Camp Buckner, ending Aug. 29.

Each year the third classmen train at Camp Buckner, a large tract of rugged, undeveloped mountainous New York terrain, during July and August. The summer program, begun in 1952, is designed to train each cadet in the capabilities, limitations and methods of tactical employment of the infantry, armor, artillery, engineer, signal and transportation branches of the Army, to any of which he may be assigned when he is commissioned a second lieutenant upon graduation from the academy in 1967.

The greater part of Cadet Donnell's training at Camp Buckner is in infantry instruction.

Part of this time is devoted to Reconno training, a combination of Ranger and Commando techniques, which is considered the high point of the summer training program.

Five days are spent in the field during Reconno exercises, where training simulates a continuous tactical problem in counter-guerrilla operations. The cadets participate in day and night patrols and learn mountain climbing techniques, hand-to-hand combat and navigation.

GP Senior Men Meet Tuesday

"My Debt to America" is the topic chosen by Reverend Robert D. Richards, who will address the Senior Mens Club of Grosse Pointe next Tuesday, August 25, at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

Luncheon for club members will precede Reverend Richards' talk.

The speaker, born in Rhoslanerchrugog, North Wales, emigrated to the United States, where he was educated at Detroit Institute of Technology and Albion College.

He has been principal speaker at the Michigan Boys State for the past 20 years, and, since his retirement from active ministry with the Methodist Church, spends much of his time traveling throughout the country, addressing various groups.

The first crude attempts at bookmaking were made by writing on long sheets of papyrus which were rolled up from each end into sticks to aid the reader.

When a man refers to life as a lottery the chances are he has drawn a blank.

Headlines of the Week

Monday, UAW President Walter Reuther, anticipating the offers, believes they will not come anywhere near acceptable demands. Reuther has called for a membership strike vote, of a large percentage, as it reflects the high determination of the workers, the only method for persuading the big companies to the Union's way of thinking. Reuther did state that he advocates cutting of auto prices this year.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON attacked the Republican opponent Barry Goldwater today, accusing him of "loose charges," "preposterous" suggestions, and doing a "diservice to our national security." At the same press conference, the President announced an $18 million program to develop an air jeep. An artist's conception of the vehicle, capable of land and air travel, will follow.

Sunday, August 16
A MINNESOTA MAN was burned over 90 percent of his body today when his burning clothing caused him to become a human torch. The man had set fire to the home of an official of the Inland Boatman's Union, located in Alpena, Mich. The burned man, who claims he didn't know the official, had recently been transferred from Alpena to Duluth, Minn.

A NINE-YEAR-OLD South Bend, Indiana girl is reported in good condition tonight after spending a terrifying Saturday night. The girl was kidnapped, assaulted, bound and gagged, and thrown into the St. Joseph River by her assailant. The girl was rescued by a Miles, Ind. attorney who heard her cries for help. Though still bound and gagged, she had managed to remain standing in the chin-high water and worked her gag off. Police apprehended a 33-year-old ex-convict. He will be charged with kidnapping, assault, and attempted murder.

THE COOK COUNTY Sheriff's office in Illinois reported rioting tonight in the Chicago suburb of Dixmoor. The rioting was quelled by police after 50 people had been injured and taken to hospitals and 25 Negroes arrested. The incident apparently started when a Negro woman was arrested for being drunk.

Monday, August 17
AUTO TALKS entered the critical stage today as the Big Three, General Motors, Chrysler and Ford, met with rejection when they presented their offers to the auto union. Offers included higher wages, increased vacation benefits, an additional holiday, survivor benefits, pay-all for group life insurance, improvements in the sub plan, and an increase in jury duty time. UAW vice-president Leonard Woodcock said that the union was terribly disappointed in the offers and that he was pessimistic about a settlement before a strike was called.

TEAMSTER President James R. Hoffa was sentenced today to five years in a federal penitentiary and was fined $10,000 for conviction of fraudulent use of union pension funds. The five year sentence will be served upon completion of his 13-year term imposed in Chattanooga, Tenn. Both sentences will be appealed.

Tuesday, August 18
PRESIDENT JOHNSON announced party plans today. Socially, he will salute all members of Congress, Democrats and Republicans, at a party tomorrow. Politically, he will meet with 34 Democratic governors Saturday, to discuss the effects of economic improvements, space and defense programs.

today that the petition signing drive to get the Massachusetts ballot issue to a public vote is a success. A little over 200,000 signatures have been collected. Only 138,000 qualified signatures are needed. A petition must be filed by August 27 to get the issue on the ballot. The Massachusetts ballot requires voters to cast a vote for each candidate rather than allowing an automatic straight party ballot.

Two Injured As Cars Crash

Two people were injured and $220 damage occurred in a two car accident at the Mack and Moross intersection on Monday, August 3.

Shirley L. Greenslade, of Windsor, Ont., and a passenger in her car, Mrs. Alfred W. Ellis, also of Windsor, sustained neck and back injuries when the car they were in was rammed from behind by a second car, driven by Peter J. Taurmina, of Detroit.

Mr. Taurmina and Kathleen Taurmina, a passenger in his car, were not injured.

Miss Greenslade told police she stopped at Mack and Moross for a red light. As the light turned green she began to move forward when she was struck in the rear by Mr. Taurmina.

Mr. Taurmina claimed that when the light changed, Miss Greenslade moved forward and then he thought she slowed down again and he could not avoid hitting her.

Damage amounted to $50 for Mr. Taurmina's car and $150 for Miss Greenslade's which was actually owned by Alfred W. Ellis, husband of the injured passenger.

Both women declined to be transported to the hospital, saying they would go to their own physician.

Business Notes

George Strachan, vice-president and controller of Standard Federal Savings & Loan Association and a resident of Grosse Pointe Farms since 1937 has been elected national president of the Society of Savings Controllers at the Society's National Convention in Denver, Colorado, recently.

Strachan will represent some 5,000 controllers and accounting officer members from the Savings & Loan and Mutual Savings Bank industries whose combined resources now exceed 150 billion dollars.

Strachan has served the Society as a member of its Board of Governors for six years and also as its vice-president.

In July he will commence an extended speaking tour of some 70 chapters located in the U.S. and Puerto Rico.

Strachan, a graduate of Wayne State University, resides with his wife Jean and their two children, Deborah and David at 410 Moran Road.

Anthony Rieli, 704 Washington road, has been named chief engineer of advanced vehicles at Ling-Temco-Vought Corp., Detroit branch. He was formerly manager of advanced concepts at Chrysler Defense Engineering, Center Line.

13—REAL ESTATE FOR SALE

FIRST OFFERING
A COLONIAL on Cloverly Road, this one could be the one you've waited for if you demand a four-bedroom in the Farms. See page 24 for the display ad with more details.

STAYING IN the Farms, but moving down to Mt. Vernon, you can see for the first time a beautifully maintained story-and-a-half located just a few doors from Charlevoix. An excellent house in a prime location, priced most realistically at $29,900.

HERE'S A GEM of a house in the Shores, and located just a couple minutes walk to the brand new park swimming pool. The floor plans put a master bedroom and bath on the first floor, with two more bedrooms and another bath upstairs. Priced to be snapped up at $32,500.

EXACTLY FITS the description outlined by so many of today's home buyers—Colonial architecture, approximately ten years old, four bedrooms, at least two and a half baths, large family room, and in "the right location." On a limited access street in the Shores. $50,000.

ON ONE OF the most popular streets in the City, Lincoln Road, you can move into this center hall French home, which boasts five bedrooms and three baths on the second floor. Perfect for the family which wants to remain in the thirty thousand price bracket.

TWO MAGNIFICENT houses south of Kercheval on Bishop Road, are also ready for almost immediate occupancy. Both these homes have five bedrooms, all on the second floor. One even has a sixth bedroom. One is in the low to middle forty-thousand dollar range.

ON GRAND MARAIS we are offering a traditional center hall colonial with four gigantic bedrooms on the second floor and another on the third for family or stay-in help. The generous proportions are reflected throughout, and we quote as an example the 32' long living room. The large kitchen has been re-done as has also an immense basement recreation room. We feel this home is priced quite fairly at $42,500.

WHY LOOK hither and thither for that ideal ranch home with 1½ baths, three bedrooms, dining room, and a family room? We'll even throw in a two-car attached garage and all for UNDER $40,000.

"Politeness is an easy virtue, costs little, and has great selling power."

who, where and whatnot

by whoozit

It was a Day to Remember recently, as Mrs. Grace Brown invited three of her close friends to a special party — a Birthday Party. Each of the trio will celebrate an 88th birthday in the next few months. The ladies wore their prettiest clothes, the view from the twelfth floor of the River House was picture-book perfect, the after-dinner bridge game, stimulating. The women left together, traveling down the long corridors of the apartment building to reach the elevators. One carried a cane, one used a 'walker,' one rode in a wheelchair. The hostess followed behind . . . and, as the procession moved forward, the ladies began to giggle at the picture they must make. When she arrived home, one of the honorees put her thoughts on paper. This is what she wrote:

THE EIGHTY-EIGHTH BIRTHDAY PARTY

Eighty-eight years is a ripe old age,
A record reached by few,
But these three 'old gals' had made the grade,
They were quite dressy, and pretty too.

The first one proudly carried a cane,
The second used a 'walker',
The third came in a nice wheelchair,
And next the hostess, the talker.

She said she thought these dear old friends
Deserved some special mention,
So she planned a party where they all could meet,
And have some real attention.

The Party was grand, rich food and rare wine,
The details were festive and gay,
The lovely evening ended with bridge,
A game that they all "love to play."

Yes, they were all lame, but still on the go,
Never sad nor forlorn,
They had The Spirit of Seventy-Six,
For that is the year they were born.

From the current "Newsletter" of the Senior Men's Club of Grosse Pointe comes this chuckle-producing item: "To Ralph Sickles goes the honor for one of the month's best descriptions. Looking at the impressive bronze statue of the little young lady on the War Memorial property, he declared, 'I like that girl. To me she is a sculptor's salute to Metreball.'"

To those who think horror movies are NOT making an impact on the younger generation, we offer this chilling tale, written by Mason School student Roger Steyer, and titled simply: The Amoeba . . . "It was a dark night and I was in my lab looking through my high-powered microscope. As I looked in the eyepiece I saw an amoeba quite big for their usual size. I went back to the microscope after I had gotten my probe from the desk. The amoeba was still there and growing. I moved the probe around until it touched the animal. Then it really began to grow. I saw it would keep on growing until it was bigger than me. I also saw I would have to kill it. I then squished it with the probe. Immediately I felt dazed. I closed my eyes. I opened them, again, and was horrified by what I saw. I was the same size as the amoebas. They were coming at me from every side. I took my probe and stabbed at some. It didn't do anything to them. I yelled but nobody heard me. Then I blacked out." The characterization may be sketchy, the story's end a bit abrupt . . . but that's some plot!

PILFERINGS

The eldest member of the town-planning committee had quietly pointed out flaws in several ambitious projects set forth by the Big Thinkers of the group.

"Blast it, Ben," one said finally. "Do you have to throw water on everything?"

"Cold water," countered Uncle Ben, "jest naturally results when a lot of hot air gets on thin ice!"

Canteen Conversation

By Rick Mills

"Going steady." This seems to be an expression that needs some explanation. Just what does going steady mean? What does it signify to a boy and girl and what does it mean to their parents?

To some teens, going steady is simply dating one girl for a few weeks, perhaps giving her an I.D. bracelet, and then breaking up a few weeks later. They "go steady" because their friends all do it and they want to conform. This does not mean much to them, just something that "everyone does."

There are others who take it a little more seriously. They date a girl and discover that she is fun to be with. They have common likes and dislikes, and enjoy doing things together. They not only like each other for their looks and outward appearance, but also for their individual character and way of doing things. A relationship develops between the two that is not based on sex, but rather on mutual respect and friendship.

Some people try to explain that teens go steady to find security. They say that giving a girl your I.D. just shows that you are insecure and feel a constant need to see proof of your affection. They say that when you are "going together" it just means a kind of guarantee that you will always have someone to go to a dance or party with. In some cases, this may be correct.

In other cases, the I.D. is just a symbol of the feelings that the boy has toward the girl. It is not the I.D. that is important, but the feeling behind it! Many parents become worried when they find that their son or daughter is going steady. They wonder just what it will all come to. The girl's parents seem to get more worried than the boy's. They wonder if she should date one boy for any period of time.

Will things become too involved, too "friendly?" When a boy and girl are dating, this situation can, and often does, arise. But are teens capable of handling it? Of course, this depends on the couple involved. If they are emotionally mature, they are capable of controlling their natural desires. Over the period they have been dating, they have grown concerned about their date's reputation. A boy would not want to hurt his girl's reputation or her family. He is concerned with what others say about his date. This respect and concern governs the way he acts and what he does.

One thing is very important. If parents or teens have ANY doubts or questions they should sit down together and talk about them! How can a teen decide what is right and how to act if he doesn't know how his parents feel? How can parents expect to understand how their son and daughter feel if they don't talk to them about it?

If they talked about their problems, at least they would clarify how each of them felt, and possibly, they could come to some important, agreeable conclusions. Unfortunately, communication between parent and child seems to break off during the teenage years. This is tragic because these are the most influential, character building years in a person's life!

If parents and teens can't talk to each other reasonably, then they slowly drift apart and lose contact with each other. This is when understanding is lost, and reasons for worrying begin. This is senseless! A great many hours of worry could be avoided on both sides if only communication between teens and parents was kept open!

It has been my privilege to interview different teenagers each week and present their ideas to the Grosse Pointe community. Next week I will ask them how they feel about "going steady." The following week I will break all the rules and let some adult Grosse Pointers express their ideas on this subject.

Pointer of Interest

MRS. EDWARD HENKEL, JR., OF WHITTIER ROAD

By Janet Mueller

As a mother, Gery Henkel is personally concerned with the dangerous juxtaposition of poisons, in common household items, and the restless, exploring fingers, minds and mouths of young children.

As chairman of the Junior League of Detroit, Inc.'s latest project, Poison Control, she is actively doing something about the problem.

A slim, fine-boned blonde, Mrs. Henkel's four good reasons for campaigning against poisons in the house are Nene, 10, Trey, 9, Weezie, 5, and Heidi, 18 months. None of her children has ever had his/her stomach pumped out, but Gery Henkel notes that when a Junior League Poison Control Project team visits a classroom, and asks students if they or any of their friends have ever had to be rushed to the hospital after swallowing a poisonous substance, one or two hands are inevitably raised.

Mrs. Henkel is one of those lucky women who look far more decorative than useful—and, as is often the case, nothing could be farther from the truth.

Helps Run Business

She works, two days a week, in a business office, at a factory started by her mother and father and run, since her father's death, by her mother.

She is athletic by inclination, particularly fond of riding. She met her husband while fox-hunting in Metamora. One of her favorite paintings, hung over a chest in the Henkel living room, is of a young girl, dressed in a riding habit, dreaming of the hunt. It was done by a local artist, Jan Di Marco.

Gery Henkel's pale living room walls are a perfect backdrop for paintings, (and, incidentally, for people: calm rooms tend to accent, rather than absorb, individuals). She has hung a large Emmett Kelly over a corner couch, and a Montague Dawson marine scene above the fireplace mantel.

But she does not painting herself, and confesses she is not particularly interested in art; her own paintings were acquired simply "because I like them."

For the past three years, she has ridden in the Federation E (questrien) (Internationale) jumping team at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club. The Henkel family's activities tend to revolve around the Hunt Club. Nene and Trey both ride; this past June, Nene did extremely well at the Horse Show, winning several trophies.

Mr. Henkel rides in the Parents and Child Class, as does his wife, and now that their two oldest children are on the Hunt Club swimming team, Gery Henkel says, "It seems I live at the Hunt Club!"

Has Many "Homes"

In point of fact, she lives several places: at the Hunt Club, in Whittier road, at her office, on the family boat—and, lately, (in spirit and/or in flesh), at the Children's Hospital Poison Control Center.

Prior to Poison Control, Gery Henkel's main Junior League activity was the Senior Center. At the League's annual meeting last September, the membership voted the Poison Control Project in; it became active last January.

The Children's Hospital Poison Control Center has been an existing facility—but an inadequate facility, due largely to lack of volunteers. The Junior League of Detroit committed itself to matching funds with Children's Hospital for a five-year period, (a $50,000 commitment on the part of the League), and agreed to provide volunteers to staff the Center.

At the outset of the project, a League committee met with the Poison Control Center representatives, to ask precisely how the League could help the Center. The answer was simple, and unexpected.

Education Stressed

The Center emphasized the importance of education in Poison Control . . . leaving the League to devise ways and means of making sure Poison Control pamphlets and materials reach private homes—and making sure there is a REACTION to the pamphlets and materials.

A children's Poison Proof Patrol has been established. Two-man teams of Junior League volunteers are visiting each school in The Pointe area, concentrating on grades one through six, with a slide show and lecture, "Poisons in Your Home."

"We tell the children we really need their help," Gery Henkel says. "We tell them there is a killer in their house."

In these youngest grades, when, as Mrs. Henkel notes, "children will join everything," the boys and girls are given leaflets with check-lists of possible poisonous substances, instructions on what to do if a child swallows poison, poison labels.

They are also given letters to take home to their parents, advising the adults of the purpose and importance of the project.

Parents' Help Required

The parents are asked to check their homes for poisons, then sign a paper saying they have checked. The children return the signed sheets to their teachers who, in turn, present the young Poison-Proofers with a Poison Proof Patrol badge, symbol of their cooperation in a program to protect children of kindergarten age and under against accidental poisonings.

So far, the Poison Control Project education program has been limited to the Grosse Pointe Schools, but the League hopes to start work in the Detroit Schools in the near future.

Teacher response has been enthusiastic, Gery Henkel notes. Each teacher whose class is "invaded" by a Junior League Poison Control team receives a Thank-You letter from the League, expressing the League's gratitude to the teacher for relinquishing classroom time, and reiterating the importance of the project.

Response from Cooperative Nursery School mothers has been especially gratifying. "The one to five, Nursery School group is the most vulnerable age group," Mrs. Henkel says. The League's Poison Control demonstration will soon have reached every Co-op Nursery School in The Pointe area, and the League has already received calls from Co-op Nurseries in Detroit, asking for the demonstration.

80 Volunteers Active

In all, some 80 Junior League of Detroit volunteers are actively engaged in Poison Control, working in the Hospital Center, on poster committees, with the slide-lecture teams.

The Center itself has a doctor or medical student on duty at all times. League volunteers never prescribe . . . but they do help keep the large card file of poisons and antidotes, the cross-index file on toxic substances, up to date; and refer calls to the proper medical authority. They are particularly valuable for follow-up calls.

Brain damage, kidney damage, a variety of "side effects" may develop after poison has been taken. Volunteers check on persons who have called the Center for information or treatment, telephoning them after a few weeks to make sure no side effects go unreported.

Children's Hospital and the Junior League of Detroit, Inc., hope to make the Poison Control Center completely adequate and up-to-date, to create a comprehensive clearing house for poisons, treatment and statistics.

700 in Country

There are over 700 Poison Control Centers in the country, according to Gery Henkel, and their present inadequacies result from a lack of volunteers to do the so-called "menial" jobs, filing and telephoning.

Before League volunteers went to work, the Center had no idea how many calls were received per month; no one could tell how busy the Center was! Volunteers have been keeping a tabulation of calls. In March alone, 285 persons telephoned the Center for information or assistance.

As chairman of the Project, Gery Henkel does "a little bit of everything." Perhaps her own most "menial" task was writing the Center's telephone number, by hand, on 1,000 leaflets; they were ordered, and came through, without a number to dial in case of emergencies.

"I don't think I'll ever forget the Children's Hospital number!" Gery says fervently.

All the Henkels seem to gravitate naturally toward the outdoors. Mr. and Mrs. Henkel enjoy ski trips, to Aspen, Colo., or up North, to Boyne Mountain, with their children.

Nene and Trey haven't been to Aspen yet, but they are promised a trip—and stay happily outside, in Michigan's below-zero weather, practicing stunts on the strength of the projected Aspen excursion.

Are Avid Boaters

For the past two years, Gery and Eddie Henkel have sailed away to Georgian Bay during the summer, on their cabin cruiser, "My Last Cent." They take the children aboard every other weekend or so, for short family jaunts.

Mrs. Henkel describes her children as "terrific joiners," involved in Cub Scouts, Girl Scouts, and just about any organization they can discover. She has never pushed them into an activity—she has never had to! They seem to find groups, and fall naturally into them.

She believes in children having their own interests and involvements, in families doing things together, in "adults-only" times and activities. "I think a husband and wife should have one room that is their own," she observes.

She feels there is a difference between doing things with the family and doing EVERYTHING with the family, that some privacy is essential, for children as well as adults, and that interesting, active, involved individuals are proof and guarantee of a complete, happy family unit.

And she believes, firmly, in Poison Proofing her home.

Spartans Seek Cheerleaders

Future cheerleaders of America will be happy to know that all girls between the ages of 10 and 13 are invited to try out for the Woods Spartans football team cheering squad on August 22.

Tryout sessions will be held from noon until 4 p.m. All girls chosen must be able to attend regular practices. Selected cheerleaders will be given new uniforms this year to give a brighter and better support to the young Woods football heroes.

'T.G.I.F.' Party

Planned At DBC

Detroit Boat Club will be the scene of a "T.G.I.F." (for translation, ask any teenager or young adult) party tomorrow evening, Friday, August 21, from 5 o'clock until 1 in the morning.

The inter-club college set will gather for swimming, supper, dancing — music to be provided by Tommy and The Deacons — and refreshments, at tables covered with checkered cloths.

Chairman of the evening is Mrs. Kenneth Locke, assisted by co-chairman Mrs. Ellsworth Allison.

Serving on the Boat Club college committee are Denny Osgood, Lynn Locke, Chuck Zentgraf, Don Law, Fred Rueger, Cynthia Osgood and John Allison.

Bill Quinlan represents the Detroit Yacht Club college set on the party committee, while Joe Carlo MacDonald is Lochmoor's committee representative.

Lochmoor Hosts

21st Tournament

Play began in Lochmoor Club's 21st annual invitational golf tournament at 8:30 o'clock this morning, Thursday, August 20. The evening's activities will include hors d'oeuvres, served at 6 o'clock, and a complimentary stag buffet for contestants, beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

Tomorrow, the second day of play, a ladies' luncheon has been scheduled from 12 until 3 o'clock, and a special cocktail party at 6:30 o'clock at the main club house, will be followed by an invitational buffet dinner.

Saturday's morning and afternoon play will precede 6:30 o'clock hors d'oeuvres and an invitational poolside steak roast, followed by entertainment and dancing.

Sunday, August 23, is the final day of play. Finalists are scheduled to start from the first tee at 11 in the morning and 1:30 in the afternoon.

All championship matches will have results relayed to the clubhouse via walkie-talkie and will be announced hole by hole. Breakfast is available every day of the tournament, from 7 o'clock, and a buffet lunch is available from 11 until 2 o'clock.

Hunt Club Holds Tennis Tourney

It was tennis that dominated the scene at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club last weekend as the club championships were decided in three exciting days of tournament tennis.

In a thrilling Sunday afternoon contest Denny Cavanaugh, 16, captured first place in the men's round robin doubles tourney with 19 points, being pressed all the way by Chuck Squiers who finished a close second with a total of 17 points.

The upset of the tourney was provided in the boys' 12 and under division when a poised and determined Sandy Smith, 9, beat the No. 1 seeded and heavily favored Troy Maschmeyer 6-4. The boys' 16 and under division was monopolized by the Schmitt brothers as Wally, 16, outlasted his brother Kurt, 14, in three sets, 6-2, 6-6, 6-4.

In the ladies' division Mrs. Walter P. Cavanaugh repeated as club champion by beating Mrs. Willard S. Smith 6-2, 6-3. Laine Quinn captured the junior girls' title by eliminating a scrappy Cathy Champion by a score of 6-4, while Rexie Dunlap won over Nene Henkel to take the 12 and under crown.
