HEADLINES

WEEK
As Compiled by the Grosse Pointe News

Wednesday, September 2
THE SENATE today approved a Medicare plan to provide hospital insurance for the elderly. However, the 49 to 44 roll-call vote did not complete Senate action on the Social Security bill. That action may not come until next week. Then the bill would be returned to the House, which last month approved a Social Security bill that did not contain a medicare clause. It is likely that the House will block the bill.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON signed into legislation an act which provides $1.5 billion in additions to current housing programs. The law, which failed to supply authority for "new cities" planned by the White House, did insure loans on costlier houses and apartments. It also enables lenders to move more slowly in foreclosing on homeowners who fail to make mortgage payments, and that small businesses and families in older neighborhoods receive aid in repairing blighted buildings.

THE RESULTS of Michigan's primary yesterday indicate a definite "backlash" of anti-Negro feeling, but apparently it wasn't forceful enough to elect an anti-civil rights candidate as a Democrat. However, because of conflicting results in three major and two minor campaigns, no true picture resulted. Gov. Romney easily won re-election.

SOUTHEAST ASIA is tottering on the verge of a conflagration as Malaysia and Indonesia face a possible armed showdown. The Malaysian government declared a state of emergency after yesterday when thirty Indonesian paratroopers landed in Malaysia with supplies. Indonesian President Sukarno canceled all military leaves, and sources said he would soon make a statement about his promise to "crush" Malaysia.

REPUBLICAN PRESIDENTIAL candidate Barry Goldwater seemed pleased with his attacks on the White House, made at his formally launched campaign at his home in Arizona. Setting the tone, he made slashing attacks on the Johnson administration's domestic policy, and brought enthusiastic applause when he said he would not have his children and grandchildren brought up under Democratic administration. Friday, Goldwater and his running mate, William Miller, planned to hit the campaign trail at Lockport, New York. Meanwhile, President Johnson received the endorsement of 46 prominent business executives, including former Republican supporters Henry Ford and Henry Kaiser.

WASHINGTON is keeping close watch on Chile, which is expected to go left whoever wins tomorrow's presidential election. Expecting to celebrate the victory of their candidate, Salvador Allende, Chilean Marxists called for street demonstrations after the polls close, although they would violate Chilean election laws. A pro-Western leftist, Eduardo Frei, is Allende's chief opponent.

Friday, September 4
LEFTIST CANDIDATE Dr. Salvador Allende lost his bid for the Chilean presidency to Christian Democrat Sen. Eduardo Frei. Campaigning under the banner of the Revolutionary Popular Action Front, a party composed of various leftwing groups centered on the Socialists and Communists, Allende, had he won, would have been the first Marxist elected by democratic means. Unofficial returns showed Frei with 2,108,442 votes to 827,324 for the self-styled Marxist Allende.

BRITISH COMMONWEALTH troops prepared against Indonesian guerrillas as two battalions of Malay troops hurried to riot-infested Singapore to handle communal disturbances. The two Commonwealth battalions were sent to the island.

Formulate Plans for Opening of School

PRINCIPAL JOHN HAMMEL, Safety Patrol sponsor GUIDO SABELLA, and Girls' Service Squad sponsor MRS. JEAN SNELL, are shown with a group of children at Maire who began the school year a bit earlier than usual. Members of the school's Service Squad and Safety Patrol, as well as some of those who serve in the Instructional Materials Center and the store, attended a morning session to view their changed duties with the opening of the recently completed addition. Classes at Maire, as in the other 13 buildings of the Grosse Pointe Public School System, begin Thursday, September 10.

Private, Parochial Schools Welcome Horde of Students

GPUS Also Starts Classes Today; Catholic Institutions Got Under Way Tuesday; New Liggett Building Not Ready Until February

Much to the disappointment of its faculty and students, the new Liggett School, under construction at 850 Briarcliff Drive, will not be ready for occupancy until February of 1965. The 250 pre-school through twelfth grade students will begin classes on Tuesday, September 15, in the old building at 2555 Burns, switching to the Grosse Pointe building at mid-semester.

According to Frank Sladen, Liggett's new headmaster, the new building is still in the construction stages. The outside brickwork isn't completed, roofing has to be attached, and all interior work has to be done.

Once finished, the new school will be composed of three connected units: a central, two-story classroom building, a gymnasium, and an auditorium-chapel. The central unit will house 22 class or work rooms, including a library and laboratory.

Biding their time until the new facilities are ready, Mr. Sladen and his staff meet today and tomorrow for opening faculty meetings in preparation for the ringing of the old, but trusty school bell next Tuesday.

Meanwhile, the halls of all other Grosse Pointe area non-public schools have been or will be trampled today by many hundreds of Pointe students.

GPUS Starts Today
With approximately 80 percent of its enrollment composed of Pointe students, Grosse Pointe University School, 1045 Cook road, opens the doors of both its upper and lower schools today, September 10. Teachers met for the first time last Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock.

Six area parochial schools, attended by many Pointers, began classes Tuesday, September 8. Teachers at Austin Catholic Prep School for boys, 18300 E. Warren, attended curriculum council meetings, department meetings, and a full staff meeting prior to Tuesday's opening. Of the 708 high schoolers enrolled, about 55 percent are from Grosse Pointe.

Our Lady Queen of Peace School, 21101 Bournemouth, has about 1,450 elementary through eighth grade students in attendance this year. Teachers have been around for the past two weeks, going to English, math, and general faculty meetings.

At Our Lady Star of the Sea School, 19950 Morningside drive, where 85-90 percent enrollment is made up of Pointe students, teachers have been attending faculty and separate department meetings for the past week. All of the grade school instructors attended Language Arts meetings at either St. Paul's of St. Peter's. Teachers of the high school gathered at Marion High School for an Archdiocesan social studies conference. Teachers also went to special chemistry and home economics meetings.

Opening Spread Out
With at least 50 percent Pointe enrollment, St. Ambrose, 1200 Alter road, spread its opening over two days. Members of the grade school and freshman and sophomore classes started school Tuesday while upperclassmen waited until Wednesday. Social studies, language

RC-14 Wins Big Victory In Primaries

Durant-Supported Candidates Suffer Heavy Casualties; Convention To Tell Story

Candidates backed by Republican Citizens—14th District (RC-14) swept to victory in primary races for nominations to the U.S. House of Representatives, the State Senate and state House of Representatives, announced RC-14 Chairman Jack Matheus.

The nominations were clinched in races against candidates supported by Richard Durant, "boss" of the 14th Republican organization.

Only one of the hand-picked candidates named on the outlawed "Official Candidate" cards distributed by Durant followers managed to get a nomination. One candidate received joint support of both Republican groups.

RC-14 support brought in 12 out of 13 winners.

Convention Will Tell
Is Durant losing his grip on the tightly-held control of the district Republican organization? That will be decided at the District Convention on Saturday, September 12, at 7 p.m. in Jackson Intermediate School. At this time 14th District Republican leadership will be determined by vote of the precinct delegates elected September 1st.

RC-14 Chairman Matheus stated that he expects a substantial majority of delegates will vote for replacement of the controversial Durant and his followers. Matheus cited the popular support which RC-14 delegates received at the polls. 56 percent of the total votes cast for this office.

Durant's inner circle, the board of directors of his organization, made a weak showing at the polls. In a total of eleven contests for delegate among Durant board members, seven lost, four won. In contrast, RC-14 board members ran up some of the most lopsided victories of the day, in winning 11 out of 13 races.

Conspicuous Losers
Conspicuous losers were Richard Durant himself and Palmer and Earl Heenan, two brothers-in-law, each suffering their second straight turndowns by their home precinct voters. Durant was soundly trounced by Representative Robert Wald.

11,238 Pupils Expected to Start Classes

Lt. Bernard Cornille Sent to Fort Riley

With the 1964-65 academic year in the Grosse Pointe Public School System scheduled to begin on Thursday morning, September 10, all principals report that their buildings and staffs are ready for an immediate beginning of the instructional program for all pupils from kindergarten through the twelfth grade.

Enrollment for the 1964-65 year is expected to reach 11,238. A breakdown of this projection shows 6,012 in elementary, 2,636 in junior high, and 2,590 in high school classes. The total prediction represents an increase of 115 students over June 12, the last day of the 1963-64 year.

On September 9, 1963, the first day of last year, enrollment was 10,912, while the figure for the previous June was 10,883. The first-day enrollment in 1962 was 10,664.

67 New Staff Members
Registration of new pupils during the week of August 31-September 4 was completed in all buildings. An extensive in-depth experience workshop for 67 new members of the professional staff was conducted Wednesday through Friday of last week.

In addition to the yearly renovation and preventive maintenance program carried on throughout the system, the physical plant of the school system has been enhanced by the opening of two building additions.

At the elementary level, a two-room addition and many internal improvements have been included in the plant at the Maire School, while on the secondary level, the Wicking Library on the campus of the Grosse Pointe High School has been readied for student use.

It is expected that the increased parking facilities along Fisher road, between the high school and the Central Library, will tend to lessen the traffic congestion somewhat in the vicinity of the high school.

Have 743 Employees
The total number of persons employed regularly by the Grosse Pointe Public School System for the 1964-65 year is 743. This total includes 236 elementary and 261 secondary teachers. Other professional staff members number 25, while 27 fill administrative and supervisory posts. The office force is comprised of 78, with 95 in plant personnel positions, fifteen public librarians, six nurses, and two auxiliary persons fill the ranks.

Lawrence F. Kennedy, Director of Professional Personnel, reports that personnel replacements for 1964-65 number 70. Of these, 46 are elementary school position, 15 are secondary, while the remaining nine are special education or public library posts.

The following building-by-building report list only teachers new to the system, not the intra-system transfers nor people returning from leave.

Principal Jerry Gerich states that the staff of Grosse Pointe High School will include two new teachers in English, Miss Charlene E. Pelcher and George J. Yacup; Maynard A. Leigh in business education; and Miss Frances A. Natushko in the library.

Principal Charles Salter of Brownell lists William Mitchell in English and Daniel Evola in vocal music as his new professional staff members.

Staff assignments at Parcels Junior High School filled by Principal Vincent Peterson include Miss Christine M. Stuart, French-English; Miss Marie L. Knutson, homemaking; William A. Leleski, science; Miss Janet Ann Collinson, French, and Miss Janet L. Bolton, English-Latin.

Principal Charles Leavitt of Pierce Junior High School includes among his new personnel, Mrs. Patricia M. Popely, French; Mrs. Patricia M. Folkerth and John J. Coury, social studies, and Miss Judith Lee Peet, physical education.

Roger O'Connor announces six teachers new to his staff at Barnes; Miss Carol A. Droege, kindergarten; Mrs. Karen Wat-

Curious Cat Gets Caught In Disposal

Takes Combined Efforts of Police and Veterinarian to Restore Freedom to Feline

A cat caught its head in a garbage disposal opening in the kitchen sink, and it took some doing before it could be released, according to a Shores police report. How the cat became involved in the predicament was not disclosed.

On Friday, September 4, Robert Gaskill of 990 Lake Shore road, called police and reported his pet cat had stuck its head in the drain of the kitchen sink and could not get loose.

Patrolmen Joseph Vitale and Ronald Klotz were dispatched to the Lake Shore residence. Try as they might, the officers could not get the animal free even though they used salad oil to slick the pet's fur.

When their attempts proved unsuccessful, the policemen called Dr. Maurice L'Heureux of 25 Lake Shore lane, at his home. The doctor applied Vaseline around the drain opening and tried to extricate the cat's head, but this, too, failed.

Dr. L'Heureux, who operates the Harper Avenue Animal Hospital, 15612 Harper avenue, Detroit, went to the hospital and returned with a tranquilizer drug, which he injected into the animal.

Using his skill, the doctor pulled the cat's head out of the opening, and took the animal to his hospital to recover from the effects of the tranquilizer. His examination of the pet revealed no apparent injuries, and he said that it was none the worse for the experience.

Woods Robbery Suspect Killed in Dearborn Holdup

William R. Long, 26, of 150 West Euclid, Detroit, awaiting examination in Woods court on a charge of robbery armed, was shot and killed in a gun battle with Dearborn police, following a holdup of a Dearborn drug store on Sunday, September 6.

Long, who was free on $2,000 bond, pending an examination on September 23, was killed with another man, an accomplice in the holdup, William Cline, 24, of no known address.

The pair was surprised at 9:54 p.m. in the Scarf Drug Store, 3815 South Telegraph, by police who had been alerted regarding a holdup. Police surrounded the building.

Long and Cline saw the police officers, and charged out of the store, guns blazing, and were

NEWS Given Wrong Information by Present Boss Of 14th District Republican Organization; Letter Cites Error in Last Week's Story

James R. Teetzel of 270 Vendome court is not, and never has been, a supporter of Richard C. Durant, as erroneously reported in last week's issue of the Grosse Pointe News. His position and his objections to the story are clearly stated in the following letter.

September 4, 1964

Robert B. Edgar, Editor and General Manager, The Grosse Pointe News, 99 Kercheval, Grosse Pointe 36, Michigan. Dear Sirs:

The September 3, 1964, issue of The Grosse Pointe News published on page 1, an article entitled "Durant Retains District Power." The fourth paragraph reads in part, "...but Durant claimed gains... and in Grosse Pointe Farms, where at least one of his supporters, James R. Teetzel, was elected."

The above statement assails my integrity and has caused me considerable embarrassment since its publication. A statement of this nature implies deceit on my part throughout my campaign for Delegate to the County Convention from Grosse Pointe Farms Precinct 5. I now make the following statement which will certainly support my past and future opposition to Durant's policies and leadership:

"I am not, nor have I ever been a supporter of Durant." I have informed each voter of my opposition to Durant's leadership and policies, in every contact I have made by mail and in person. I further personally pledged to the voters of Farms Precinct 5 that I would vote towards the defeat of Durant's leadership. This position was stated in an advertisement which appeared in the August 27, 1964 edition of your paper, The Grosse Pointe News, wherein the heading read, "Support Romney for Governor—Defeat Durant." Furthermore, the gentleman whom you claim I support has named me as a co-conspirator in his $1,000,000 libel suit against a good many prominent Republicans, including Governor Romney.

This false statement printed in your paper and distributed to the public has inflicted grievous mental anguish upon this writer, to wit: Supporters of my anti-Durant position, having unlimited faith in my position, gave me 381 votes to my opponents 170. These same supporters, read in your newspaper, The Grosse Pointe News, the following evening, the false statement that I am one of Durant's supporters.

Your article states "Richard Durant apparently retained his tight hold over the 14th District Republican Organization in Tuesday's primary elections..." The question of who has the tight hold, to which you refer, will not be decided until Saturday night, September 12th, at which time the duly elected delegates to the district convention, of which I am one and Durant is not, will vote for the leadership.

I realize that a newspaper is subjected to certain high pressures in transmitting the returns to the public on the eve of a political election. However, I find this ever present pressure absolutely no excuse for your publication not to at least trouble itself to investigate the facts rather than rely solely upon partisan statements from the Durant group.

I believe that I am entitled to an apology and that such apology should receive at least equal prominence with the original article.

James R. Teetzel.

Three Youths Injured in Park Crash

Car Rams At High Speed; Driver Is Police Prisoner At Bon Secours Hospital

Three teenage Detroit boys suffered temporary serious injuries about the face and arms, and possible internal injuries on Sunday, September 6, when their car crashed into a tree, at Bedford and Windmill Pointe drive.

Injured were Ronald Cloud, 19, of 2609 Beniteau; James Morris, 17, of 1336 Coplin; and Salvatore Cusumano, Jr., 14, of 2611 Beniteau, who, Park police said, is the owner of the car, a 1960 Chevrolet, and has the vehicle registered in his name.

Cloud was driving the automobile, and Morris was sitting alongside of him. Young Cusumano was asleep in the back seat, police said.

Driver Ticketed
Cloud was given a violation ticket for driving without an operator's license, and another, for driving without due care and caution, causing an injury accident.

According to police, and witnesses, Cloud was going east on Windmill Pointe drive at 12:29 a.m. at a speed of 50 miles an hour, and at Bedford, tried to negotiate a turn onto Bedford without slowing down. He lost control of the vehicle and it crashed into a tree. The car was a total loss.

Investigating officers said that the car traveled 126 feet across the island before smashing into the tree. When they arrived, the policeman said, all three boys were prone on the ground, thrown there by the force of impact.

Taken to Hospital
The three teenagers were taken to Bon Secours Hospital, suffering from multiple lacerations about the face and arms and possible internal injuries. They were listed as being in a temporary serious condition.

Cloud, authorities said, is a police prisoner at the hospital, and hospital officials have been requested to notify the Park Police Department when the youth is able to leave the hospital.

When he is released, it was said, Cloud will be notified of the amount of bond he must put up, and also, the date on which a hearing of his case will be held.

No charges will be placed against his companions, police said.

GP Farms City Manager Sidney DeBoer to Retire

Sidney DeBoer, 62, city manager of the Farms since 1956, will retire after 38 years of dedicated service to the community. His retirement becomes effective on Sunday, September 27.

Mayor William Connolly, in announcing the city manager's retirement, paid tribute to DeBoer for his years of faithful service to the city, in the areas of administration and engineering.

"Mr. DeBoer's experience, background, engineering skill and administrative ability, will be greatly missed by the city," the mayor said.

No successor to DeBoer has been named, but a committee of city councilmen is interviewing applicants for the position, the mayor said.

Born in Grand Rapids in 1902, DeBoer came to Detroit at an early age. He has been a resident of the Pointe since 1932.

He is a 1923 graduate of the University of Michigan, from where he received his Bachelor's Degree in Civil Engineering, and immediately went to work for the Farms. One of his first assignments was the responsibility for rebuilding the city's sewer system, including the present low level sewers, and the construction of the modern pumping plant, Chalmers and Kerby roads.

In 1930, when work was begun on the Farms' water pumping and filtration plant, 29 Morris road, DeBoer was appointed the representative of

SWIMMER INJURED

A City park guard called City police to report an injured swimmer, Herman Bliss, of 884 St. Clair avenue. Bliss, who bumped his head and split his nose, was taken to Bon Secours by officers.

BICYCLE STOLEN

Lincoln Lee, of 299 Rivard boulevard, reported to City police on September 5 that his bike was stolen from the City park. The bike is a 26" boy's Schwinn, red, with chrome fenders.

ped up Tuesday afternoon and would not attempt to cover an election with the polls not closing until 8 o'clock Tuesday night. But with the Detroit dailies strike-bound, it was felt that the readers were entitled to as much local information as possible and considerable pains were suffered to obtain such returns as the NEWS was able to publish. It was a hard job, under much pressure, and those involved were tired to the teeth, having worked since early the morning before. Many sources of information could not be contacted, and there were neither time nor facilities to check out everything submitted as factual.

Mr. Teetzel campaigned actively as a supporter of Goldwater and Romney, and for the defeat of Durant. He was elected as precinct delegate on this basis, by one of Durant's ardent supporters.

The NEWS regrets the error in last week's story and congratulates Mr. Teetzel on his victory.

New Teachers Hear Pongracz

Edward J. Pongracz, president of The Grosse Pointe Board of Education, addressed the 67 members of the Experience Workshop conducted for professional personnel new to the staff of The Grosse Pointe Public School System last week.

Introduced at Wednesday's luncheon in the cafeteria of Grosse Pointe High School by Superintendent of Schools Dr. Charles H. Wilson, Pongracz commented upon the impact which the public schools have had on his own life and of his children.

"The past 30 years I have had first-hand experience with good teaching. My three children are a product of this school system from kindergarten on. I honestly feel that my children's teachers did a better job than their parents did, with due apologies to my dear wife, who was a constant custodian of all their homework chores and spelling corrections all these years," he said.

He then recounted an event from his childhood when a teacher took time out from a busy schedule and a room with 45 children to take him to a public library. "This opened up the doors of reading, and the wealth of knowledge stored in every single page of good books," Pongracz added.

He elaborated upon the process by which the teacher takes the raw material of youth and helps to turn it into the finished product of maturity.

He commented upon the interest and esteem in which education are held by the Grosse Pointe community. Pongracz indicated that parents constantly show their support and appreciation of the teacher's efforts in many ways.

He concluded his brief address by reading a few lines he called "a serious American thought of prayer." Board President Pongracz said:

"Many of us lose confidence in prayer because we do not realize the answer.

"We ask for strength, and God gives us difficulties, which makes us strong.

"We pray for wisdom, and God sends us problems—the solution of which develops wisdom.

"We plead for prosperity and God gives us brain and brawn to work.

"We plead for courage, and God gives us dangers to overcome.

"We ask for favors, and God gives us opportunities."

Also in attendance at the luncheon were Board members Dr. Frank Parcells, vice president, and Robert F. Weber, trustee. Building principals and Central Office personnel rounded out the assemblage.

COAT GONE

George Runstadler, 35, of 1536 Brys, informed Woods police that while he was at the American Legion Hall, Mack and Hampton, someone either stole, or he lost a dark brown suit coat, part of a suit valued at $105.

Reminder to Motorists

SCHOOL'S OPEN, DRIVE CAREFULLY is the theme of Automobile Club of Michigan's fall campaign reminding motorists to exercise caution behind the wheel now that school is underway in the Grosse Pointe area. Approximately 14,500 youngsters are back in school, with about 700 boys and girls manning street corners as School Safety Patrolers. Shown displaying typical placards that call attention to the opening of school are FRED BLAIR, of 905 Beaconsfield, AAA Patroler in Grosse Pointe Park; Grosse Pointe Park Patrolman BOBBIE McALISTER, and Auto Club's Grosse Pointe Assistant Division Manager JACK HINSBERG.

Fire Chiefs Warn Citizens Of Plastic Lamp Covers

The Pointe fire chiefs, acting on information received from Harper Woods Fire Chief Russell Teets, issued a warning to residents of the Pointe regarding the use of high-watt bulbs in plastic covered lamps.

The warning followed a near tragedy in a Harper Woods home, when a 100-watt light bulb ignited a plastic cover over a lamp in an 11-month-old baby's bedroom. The fire damaged a dresser and a cover on the baby's bed.

The quick action of the mother, who smelled the smoke, in grabbing the baby from its crib and placing the child in a place of safety, is credited by the Harper Woods chief with preventing serious injuries, or death to the infant. The mother put out the flames before firemen arrived.

The five Pointe fire chiefs concurred that merchants should warn purchasers of the dangers involved if a bulb of high wattage is used, rather than the prescribed bulb.

The plastic lamp cover, which retails at one dollar, cannot withstand more than a 50-watt bulb. The Harper Woods mother, not receiving any kind of warning, used a 100-watt bulb.

It was pointed out that thousands of these plastic lamp covers have been sold in the Detroit area, with no warning on what wattage bulb should be used.

It was also pointed out that sometimes people pay no heed to warnings, and if they buy these types of lamps as gifts for someone else, tragedies might occur.

As a result of the Harper Woods incident, Chief Teets sent out an alert to the Pointe and Detroit Fire Departments, and to departments throughout the metropolitan area, asking the respective departments to issue warnings to their citizens.

Several retail department store heads pledged that they will make it a policy to warn purchasers of the danger of using a high watt bulb in lamps with plastic covers, it was said.

the front of the victim's house, and recovered by police.

Long was to have been examined on August 12, but Woods Judge Don Goodrow granted a postponement to September 23, to permit Silvestri sufficient time to recover, so that he would be able to testify against his accused assailant, whom he had known for five years.

Startled Burglar Leaves in Hurry

Mrs. Belle Parsons of 808 Grand Marais, pulled back the draperies of an upstairs bedroom Wednesday afternoon, September 2, and came face-to-face with a burglar attempting to enter her house.

Mrs. Parsons told Park police that she was entertaining a woman friend on the first floor of her house, when at about 2:20 p.m., she heard a tapping noise coming from the second floor bedroom. She went upstairs to investigate.

She said she entered the room from which the noise was coming, and heard a tapping at one of the windows. She flipped back the drapes and surprised a young man with a hammer and screw driver in his hand, chipping away at the putty around the window pane.

Mrs. Parsons said that the youth, startled as much as she, leaped to the ground, 20 feet below, picked himself up, apparently unhurt, and fled east toward Essex on foot.

She described the youth as being about 16 to 18 years old, five feet six inches tall, weighing about 140 pounds, having light brown hair, and wearing medium gray trousers, a light, or white color shirt with short sleeves, or sleeves rolled up.

Police said that the would-be burglar must have climbed up the drain pipe alongside the house to reach the second floor.

Park Police Chief Arthur Louwers said that within minutes after Mrs. Parsons called police, seven scout cars from the Park, City and Farms, surrounded the area, and picked up five suspects for questioning. None was identified and they were released after proving they were not involved.

The chief termed the response from the other departments as a fine example of splendid cooperation that can be expected through the Mutual Police Aid Pact, when assistance is called for.

Pointe High School Host To Nine Foreign Students

By Anne Boynton

As host to nine foreign students this year, a record number, Grosse Pointe High School is fortunate to have two more exchanges than last year. In addition to the four American Field Service sponsored students, three more are coming under the auspices of the Council of Churches program, and two are being privately sponsored.

All of the students will be enrolled in the senior class, and will take courses in English, American government, Speech, and hopefully, Music Appreciation. They are all living with Grosse Pointe families who have children, preferably at the high school.

The first AFS student, Maria Christina Poblete Garretton, is staying with the John Ramsay family of Hillcrest road. Maria, who is from Chile, arrived in Grosse Pointe August 23. Leaving behind two brothers, Patricia, 20 and Ricardo, 11, Maria has attained four new Ramsay brothers and sisters: Beth (Mrs. John Gustafson), Bill, a Michigan State senior, Chris, a junior at the high school, and Ellen, 12. Since her arrival, Maria has vacationed with her new family for a week near Rogers City on Lake Huron. Planning a medical career, she says her interests are science and coin collecting. Maria is an old hand at this exchange student business, having hosted a girl from Iowa last summer at her home.

Arriving August 29 from Brazil was another AFS girl, Maria Aparecida Otera Chagas de Oliveira. She is living with Mr. and Mrs. Elton Anderson, of Whittier road, and their 16-year-old daughter Kathy. Daughter Kris, 18, is already underway with studies at the University of Michigan.

Interested in gymnastics, and able to speak English, French, and German, the third AFS student, Kurt Bannwart, came to his new Moran road residence on August 16. He is staying with Mr. and Mrs. King Clifford Sr. and their four children, King Jr. who's working at Cal Tech in New York, Dave, 16, Kris, 14, and Leslie, 9. The Cliffords have already shown Kurt Niagara Falls, where he, Mrs. Clifford, Dave, and Leslie spent two days. In Switzerland, Kurt leaves an older sister, Doris.

Johann-Georg Volker, the fourth AFSer comes from a family of two children (his married sister Aeaete lives in Washington) to one of three: Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Nyman, of South Oxford road; and Carolyn, 22; Rosemary, 19, a sophomore at the National College of Education in Evanston; and Jim, 17, a junior at the high school. Since his arrival August 19, Johann has spent 10 days at the Nyman's summer home in Traverse City. From Germany, he is interested in gliding, skiing, and swimming.

The first three students are all sponsored by Council of Churches.

Mr. and Mrs. Murray MacNab, of 10396 Somerset, Detroit, who plan to move to Grosse Pointe in November, are the new parents of Heike Brandt from Berlin. Scott, 6, is her new American brother and she has two brothers at home. The second exchange student that the MacNabs have had, Heike likes to swim, read and travel. Her father in Berlin is a judge.

Brigitte Sack, another German girl, is staying with the Bernard Browns, of Yorkshire road, and their daughter Tricia, 16, who, just back from a summer in Germany also as a Council of Churches exchange student, met Brigitte and her family while over there. Brigitte is quite the traveler, having lived in Brazil for seven years as a child, and already visited Canada with the Browns since her arrival August 14. Her many interests include sailing, swimming, classical music, jazz, animals, history, and "books, books, books."

Tennis and skiing are the hobbies of Nils-Olaf Gustafson of Sweden. Nils arrived August 19 to spend the year with Mr. and Mrs. Victor Radcliffe, of Three Mile drive, and their children Susan, 14, a ninth grader at Pierce, and Bill, 16, a junior at the high school. Nils has spent the days before school begins at the Boat Club, going to the state fair, going to parties, and water skiing.

school. Ann likes most to swim and ski.

The brother of Madeleine Kock, who stayed at the Bedford road residence of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew W. A. Brown last year, Claes Johan Kock, of Sweden, is staying with the same family this year. Furthermore, the Browns' son, Cameron, 18, stayed with the Kock family a year ago. The Browns also have three other children, Heather, 14, Douglas, 12, and Grant, 5. Expressing interest in art, classical and modern jazz music, Claes says he arrived about two weeks ago, having vacationed with the Browns in northern Michigan.

So, there they are, all sure to make life a lot more interesting around the high school's bustling halls. All had a chance to mingle with some of their new American friends before school opened at a record dance which was held September 8 at Memorial Church. The News extends its welcome also, and with it, best wishes for a productive and memorable year.

SHOPPING INCIDENT

Peter Seibert of 5293 Gateshead, Detroit, left a bag of groceries, mostly meat, in a shopping basket alongside his automobile on Friday, September 4, in the Food Fair Supermarket parking lot. He went back into the market and when he returned, found the basket and groceries gone. The loss is valued at $7. A carryout boy told police he saw a woman pushing the cart toward Mack.

Life is a grind—no wonder it sharpens a man's wits.

Escapes Injury In LS Crash

A 16-year-old girl motorist escaped serious injury on Lake Shore road on Thursday, September 3, when she lost control of her car and crashed into a utility pole.

Judith Marie Demusiak of 22648 Colony, St. Clair Shores, while traveling north on Lake Shore, became concerned about the left lane traffic, and looked back to make sure everything was as it should be.

At number 1100, her vehicle went over the curb, and crashed into an Edison pole, shearing it from its base. She did not suffer a scratch, according to a Shores police report. Her car had to be towed away for repairs.

Miss Demusiak was taken to the station by police, to wait for her parents, who drove her home. No violation ticket was issued, police said.

Start with the bill reproduced on this page. It is an actual bill and one we paid recently for someone who could have been your friend or neighbor. (The name has been deleted to protect the patient's privacy.)

Notice the hospital charges. Notice the medical charges. Now notice how much of the total was paid by Blue Cross-Blue Shield. Do you know of any other plans that would have paid as much?

This is not an isolated case, either. Blue Cross-Blue Shield have paid even higher bills for subscribers, and they pay thousands every day where the percentage of the total is just as high.

There are other reasons (some are printed below) why you should choose Blue Cross-Blue Shield. Study them just as carefully as you study the bill and you'll know why most professional people in Michigan belong to Blue Cross-Blue Shield.

Merridew Picked to Head Kiwanis Club No. 1, Detroit

Reginald P. Merridew, of 1555 Fairholme road, program director for WJR, was elected president of Kiwanis Club No. 1, Detroit, Tuesday, to serve during the Club's Golden Anniversary Year, 1965.

Merridew, a past-president of the No. 2 Kiwanis Club, which is in Cleveland, will be the first to have had the distinction of serving in the top post of both the First and Second Clubs in Kiwanis International.

Beginning his association with Kiwanis in 1948, Merridew joined the Cleveland Club in May of that year. After serving in various roles, he was elected president in the fall of 1953. At the time, Merridew was program director of WGAR Radio, Cleveland, one-time sister station of WJR.

In other posts with Cleveland Kiwanis, Merridew served as program chairman for the 40th Annual Kiwanis International Convention held in Cleveland in 1955, Ohio District program chairman in 1956, and president of the Cleveland Kiwanis Foundation in 1958.

When Merridew moved to WJR, Detroit, as program director in 1959, he transferred his Kiwanis membership to Detroit No. 1. Moving along in responsibility with the mother club, he served successively, as Michigan District program chairman, in 1960, District Convention program chairman in 1962, 2nd vice-president in 1963 and 1st vice-president for 1964.

As president for 1965, Merridew's duties will include presiding as master of ceremonies during the Kiwanis International Golden Anniversary Celebration to be held at Cobo Hall the evening of January 21, the actual anniversary date. Three thousand Kivansians and their families are expected to attend the event, marking the birth of the 50-year old Detroit service organization.

Following Tuesday's election, Merridew and some 30 members of Detroit No. 1 will be guests of the No. 2 Club in Cleveland this Thursday, September 10. This is a continuation of an annual exchange visit between these first two Kiwanis clubs. Cleveland's Kiwanis No. 2 Club celebrates its 50th Anniversary in October, 1965.

Merridew's other community service organization affiliations include the Goodwill Industries of Detroit, for which he serves on the board of directors, and the Adcraft Club of Detroit.

Kiwanis International was organized in Detroit January, 21, 1915. In less than a year after the 2nd Club was chartered in Cleveland, Ohio in October of 1915, the first Kiwanis Club in Canada was organized in Hamilton, Ontario. Through the years, the service group has grown up simultaneously in the two big North American countries.

In 1961 the first Kiwanis club was organized outside of the United States and Canada—in Mexico. Now there are clubs in the Bahama Islands, Austria, Switzerland, and Belgium, as well. The total membership of Kiwanis is some 265,000 in 5400 clubs. Kiwanis also sponsors two large youth organizations for boys—Key Club International in the high school—65,000 boys in 2800 clubs; and Circle K International on the college campus—11,000 members in 550 clubs.

Daniel Richard Scizak, 21195 Behrendt, Warren, Mich., driving a '59 Chevrolet panel truck, was traveling north on St. Clair September 3 when he failed to stop at Charlevoix. He struck a '64 Chevy station wagon driven by Dorothea Hope Brophy, 1350 Berkshire. Damage resulted in a four foot square hole in the basement wall of a house at 810 St. Clair. Scizak was charged with reckless driving and issued a ticket.

Police Training Session Begins

The Police Basic Training Course opened for the fall season on Friday, September 4, in the Park Municipal Building, it was disclosed by Park Police Chief Arthur Louwers, director of training.

The session consists of 40 hours of elementary training. Three full sessions, totaling 120 hours, when successfully completed, entitles a police officer attending the training, to a certificate of graduation.

Chief Louwers said that the current session, as are the other sessions of the year, are vital in the training of a police officer, so that as a servant of the people, he will know what, or what not to do in the line of duty.

He said that six policeman of his department will be in regular attendance in the fall school, and others of his department will be requested to attend specific in-service training periods.

Enrolled this fall, he said, besides Park officers, are those from the other Pointes, Harper Woods, St. Clair Shores and East Detroit.

The school, one of three in the Detroit area, is co-sponsored by the Southeastern Police Chiefs Association and the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Four to Receive Knight Awards

This fall four Detroiters will join the growing ranks of Michigan businessmen who have been made "Knights of Charity" for their philanthropic work and humanitarian interests.

Named to receive awards given by trustees of Maryglade College, Memphis, Mich., are Adolph and Irving Goldberg, owners and managers, "Community Theatres"; Thomas H. Keating, former vice president, General Motors Corp.; and Ralph T. McElvenny, president of Michigan Consolidated Gas Company.

Following the tradition established in 1954 when it was bestowed for the first time on Hollywood's Pat O'Brien, the awards will be formally presented at an interfaith dinner at the Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel Nov. 17 by K. E. Staley, GM vice president, who is dinner chairman.

At Maryglade College, founded in October 1960 under direction of the P.I.M.E. Missionaries of Saints Peter and Paul, young American men are trained for volunteer work in religious, educational, medical and social fields in underdeveloped nations of the world.

The Rev. Fr. Nicholas Macstrini, P.I.M.E., Maryglade president, points out that the young men on completion of studies go to Asia, Africa and South America—wherever the need is greatest—to relieve human suffering, care for orphans and lepers, establish schools, teach, organize cooperatives, and, in general, work to raise the standard of living for these underprivileged peoples, without regard for race, color or creed.

The college is conducted by the Pontifical Institute for Mission Extension (PIME) which has been in existence for more than 110 years.

George A. Gardella, president, George A. Gardella, Inc.,

was the first Detroit to receive the honor.

Last year's recipients were: Frank R. Gerbig, Sr., president of United States Fastener Corp.; Alfred R. Glancy, Jr., president and director, Realty Investment Corp.; and Paul Zuckerman, president of Velvet Food Products.

Other local recipients include: Benson Ford, vice president, Ford Motor Co.; Eugene A. Casaroli, president, Automobile Shippers, Inc.; Benjamin Levinson, president, Franklin Mortgage Corp.; Al Borman, chairman of the board, Borman Food Stores, Inc.; Stephen J. Bartush, founder of Shedd-Bartush Foods; John E. Lurie, founder and former president of Wrigley Super Markets; Anthony DeLorenzo, vice president of General Motors, and the Hon. Alvin M. Bentley, of Owosso, former eighth District Congressman.

Besides Casaroli, Gardella, Levinson, Bartush and James M. Roche, GM vice president and board member, Maryglade trustees include former Detroit Mayor Louis C. Mirani.

Teachers Hold Exhibit of Art

Staff members of the Grosse Pointe Public School System will participate in an art exhibit to be shown at the Hospitality Center in The Village from September 10 through September 30.

Among those represented by drawings or paintings are these members of the schools' staff: Joe Callaway, Defer; Dewey Kalember, Allen Ebert and Mrs. Marilyn Evans, Brownell; Mary Edwards, Richard.

Others participating are Mary Faieta, Charles Jorgensen, and Robert Rathbun of Pierce. Of the Parcels teachers, Humphrey Jackson, Mrs. Esther Meldrum and John Wargelin are represented.

Mrs. Julia Meighan and Marion Lampman of Grosse Pointe High School will have works on display, as will Mrs. Joan Kubista of Mason and Donald Schrom of the elementary schools.

Many of those who have entered the exhibition teach in fields other than art. The show is open to all teachers in the public schools. Others who have not yet indicated their intention may also enter.

Chairman of the event is Charles Jorgensen of the staff of Pierce Junior High School.

Alert Policeman Praised by Chief

The incident was not very much, but Shores Police Chief Fred Duemling had praise for the officer who checked out a suspiciously acting teenager, during the early morning hours of Thursday, September 3.

The chief said that the incident reflects the manner in which police officers of the community are ever alert to protect the people and property.

At 2:55 a.m., on the Thursday date, Patrolman James Jurcak, at the intersection of Lochmoor boulevard and Lake Shore, observed an automobile traveling south on Lake Shore, and followed it to South Deeplands, where the driver made a right turn, going west, to Ballantyne, then to South Ballantyne, and parked in front of number 521.

The teenage driver, name withheld, got out of his car, and walked toward the rear of the house. Jurcak, on seeing this, called for assistance, and Patrolmen William Marshall and Frank Mustazza were dispatched to the scene.

Jurcak saw the young man coming from the rear of the house and get back into his car. The officer stopped the youth, who was about to drive away.

When questioned, the teenager said that he was to have met a friend, a member of the family living in the house, at the rear of the building.

While Marshall and Mustazza detained the young man, Jurcak talked to the members of the household, who had been awakened by the commotion outside. They told the officer that they knew the boy, but the son denied he was about to meet his friend at that hour of the morning.

The youth in custody told the policemen that he had left home without his parents' knowledge, and just wanted a friend to go out with him. The boy was returned home and his parents were informed of his actions. A pledge was obtained that the incident would not re-occur.

Chief Duemling said that although the happening was not of a serious nature, it might well have been.

"This is only one of the many times that such things have occurred," the chief said. "This singular incident only shows that the officers of our community are alert, and ready to protect our citizens and property."

"The young man had no intention of committing a crime, or doing harm to any one, but was possible. If the officer had not investigated, who knows what might have happened."

Center Enlarges Its Art School

The Center has enlarged its art school and has engaged some exciting new teachers to direct some never before offered classes. The new teachers have one thing in common—they are all graduates of Cranbrook with the Master of Fine Arts degree.

William Martner, Jr., who will be teaching sculpture and a class in life and beginning portraiture, is a native of Grosse Pointe, where he went to school before entering Cranbrook. He is currently a member of the faculty of the Detroit Art Institute and is receiving an advanced degree in sculpture from Wayne State University.

The sculpture class is being offered on Wednesday mornings from 9:30 to 12 beginning September 16 and continuing through December 2. The life and portraiture class is offered from 1 to 3 o'clock on Wednesday afternoons beginning the same date. Each class is offered for a fee of $30 for 12 two-and-a-half-hour lessons. In the life class, there is an additional $6 fee for a model.

"Explorations in Batik" is offered by Ray Fleming, Jr., Mercy College instructor. This class is being offered on Monday evenings between 7:30 and 10 o'clock. Batik is the exciting art of designing with wax and dye on fabric. It lends itself to the creation of wall hangings and draperies as well as framed pieces.

Mr. Fleming is also teaching an evening basic drawing and painting class on Tuesdays between 7:30 and 10 o'clock beginning Sept. 15. This class will enable those who are employed or have household responsibilities during the day a chance to study art. Both Mr. Fleming's classes are offered for a 12-week period for $30.

The third new instructor at the Center is Robert L. Kidd, who has his weaving degree from Cranbrook, is currently with the designing firm of William Schmidt & Associates, and is very active with private commissions.

Mr. Kidd is offering a course in the designing and construction of hooked rugs. Looms are not necessary, but the class will be limited to 15 so advance enrollment is requested. Also, early enrollment in all of these classes will be appreciated by the Center so that first night lessons will not be encroached upon by office procedure and bookkeeping.

Forming Hockey Team for Boys

If a team is formed, (it will be composed of players from Grosse Pointe, St. Clair Shores, and the surrounding areas), it will play in the Metropolitan League at Olympia.

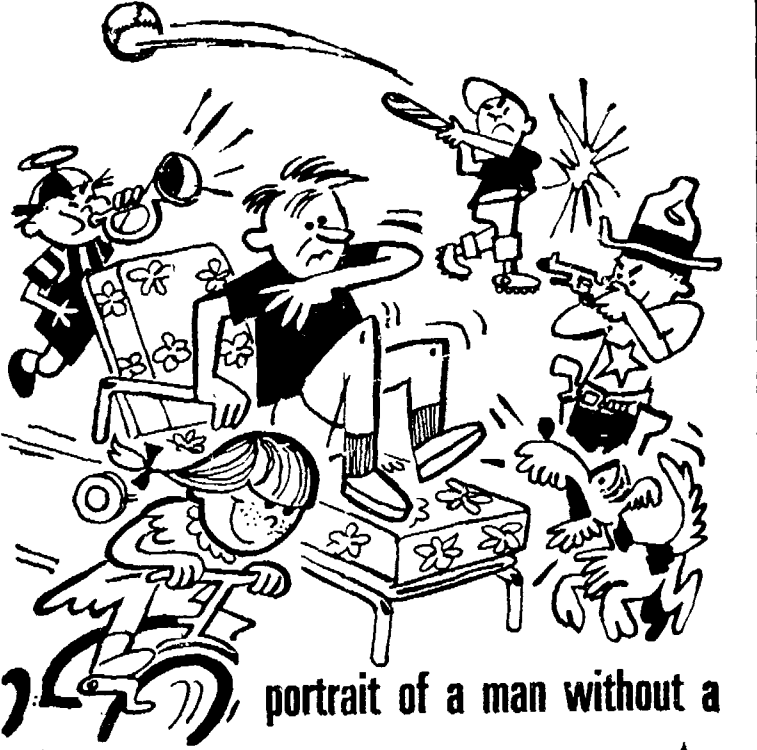

Further information can be obtained from Charles Gebell, at 293-5036.

Knights Templar Honor Brucker

The induction of Wilber M. Brucker, of Vendome road, to Most Eminent Grand Master of the Grand Encampment, Knights Templar of the U.S., was witnessed by more than 1,000 Michigan Sir Knights and their ladies at the 49th Triennial Conclave in Philadelphia, Pa.

Brucker, a prominent Detroit attorney, former Governor of Michigan and Secretary of the Army under President Eisenhower, is the third Michigan Chivalric Mason ever to hold the office.

Born and raised in Saginaw, Mich., the new Templar Chief received his law degree at the University of Michigan Law School in 1916. He entered law practice in Saginaw after serving with the famous Rainbow Division, later serving as assistant prosecuting attorney and prosecuting attorney of Saginaw.

Filing his petition to become a Mason on his 21st birthday, Brucker soon became a Master Mason in Saginaw's Salina Lodge 155, later serving as Worshipful Master.

He transferred to King Cyrus Chapter 133, RAM and Detroit Commandery 1 when he moved to Detroit. He held the position of Grand Commander of the Grand Commandery, K. T. of Michigan in 1951.

In 1957 he was appointed to fill the unexpired term of the late Ansel H. Packard, Grand Captain General of the Grand Encampment. He then advanced through the line of Grand Officers until he was unanimously elected Grand Master.

Businessmen To Hear Artist

The 1964-65 series of Corporate Businessmen's Luncheons sponsored by the Founders Society Detroit Institute of Arts will begin on Thursday, September 17, announced William M. Day, president of the Founders Society.

Following cocktails and luncheon in the Rivera Court, Corporate supporters of the Society will hear Italian-born artist Enrico Donati as guest speaker.

Donati is represented in 24 public collections, ranging from the Oslo (Norway) Museum and the Musee d'Art Moderne (Brussels) to The Detroit Institute of Arts and The Museum of Modern Art in New York. He has had numerous one-man shows in New York, Paris, Milan, Brussels, Munich, Rome.

Of Donati's work, French art writer Alain Jouffroy wrote appreciatively, "... he thus incarnates to a nearly exceptional degree ... a particularly subtle spirit of synthesis, which manages skillfully and without affectation to reconcile both that love of finished craftsmanship and of precise image proper to European painters and that love of the grand and the untrammelled, of the brute image, which has endowed the best of the New York painters with their incontestable power."

Meeting Held By Newcomers

The new board of the Grosse Pointe Newcomers Club has launched into full swing with a planning meeting at the home of the president couple, Mr. and Mrs. William C. Abrams on Sunday evening, August 30.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Edward Warner, program couple, outlined an exciting calendar of parties and bridge dates for the winter season.

Grosse Pointe Newcomers Club was organized in 1945 to give new couples to Grosse Pointe a means of becoming acquainted in the area. In its purely social atmosphere, it has grown to mean a great deal to many in establishing friendships in the community. Membership is limited to three years to enable its purpose to be maintained.

Interested couples who have recently moved to Grosse Pointe from outside the Detroit area may request that a personal call be made by contacting Mr. and Mrs. William Kish, 881-4055.

Stealthy Thief Invades Home

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Reed, 1071 Beaconsfield, was burglarized on Wednesday, September 2, between the hours of 11 a.m. and 12:30 p.m., according to information released by Park Police Chief Arthur Louwers.

The burglar entered through an unlocked screen door at the rear of the house. He took approximately $9.50 in cash, an unknown amount of costume jewelry, five two-ounce bottles of perfume, a 20-power telescope and two apples.

One apple was found near the rear alley gate, where it had apparently been dropped by the thief, as he was leaving the property.

The Reeds, who were sitting on the front porch of their home, discovered the break-in when they re-entered the house. They called police.

Singers Invited To Join Chorus

Jerry Hughes, of McMillan road, is starting his third season as accompanist for the Chorus.

The Chorus is sponsored jointly by the Department of Community Services of the Grosse Pointe Board of Education and the Chorus' own Board of Directors.

Torch Blamed In House Fire

A fire that damaged a new home under construction in the Woods was believed to have been caused by a plumber using a blow torch to "sweat" copper pipe joints, it was disclosed by Woods Public Safety officials.

On Saturday, September 5, an alarm was received by the Public Safety Department, to the new home, 21682 Westbrook court. When the firefighters arrived, the blaze was burning freely at the rear half of the building.

Firemen doused the fire with two booster lines. Damaged were the studdings, insulation and cornice boards at that section of the house. The amount of damage was not known.

talions 'one from New Zealand and one from British Gurkha' will take up positions against Indonesians who were reported to have landed near Pontian by sea August 17 and parachuted into the Labis area of Johore state Wednesday. Malaysian Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman blamed the Singapore uprisings on "the Indonesians and the Communists."

FEDERAL NARCOTIC authorities in Detroit were notified by Attorney General Frank J. Kelley that a fake doctor had been issuing narcotic prescriptions at the rate of about two a day for four years. The accused bogus physician, Thomas Michael Novak, 29, a Chadsey High School graduate, has earned $150,000 in his four years of "practice." With just a smattering of medical knowledge obtained by attending a few classes at the University of Michigan and John Hopkins University, Novak had conned the public and even his wife and parents into believing he was a doctor.

ASSERTING that the issue should not be brought into the campaign, President Johnson said that an end to the military draft—which has been proposed by Sen. Barry Goldwater—would cost several billion dollars if done quickly. Johnson referred to a study which he announced several months ago which he said at that time was designed to see if it were possible to eliminate conscription. He called for patience and said that the study's preliminary conclusions could be expected within a few weeks.

PRESIDENTIAL HOPEFUL Barry Goldwater pledged automatic cuts in income taxes if he is elected. "This program could and would be accomplished free of political manipulation," he said. "The rewards of hard work must be returned to those who earn them." Goldwater issued the promise in a Labor Day statement as he flew to Lockport, N. Y. to salute his Vice Presidential running mate, Rep. William E. Miller (N.Y.).

WILLING, and at times almost eager to step up the killing on Cyprus to gain his ends, President Makarios, by seeking help from the Soviet Union and Egypt, threatens to set off a new war, appearing unmoved by the danger caused to the rest of the world. The archbishop who became the first president of this small island is being constantly warned by the American government of the peril of involving in a war Turkey and Greece and subsequently the United States and the Soviet Union. So far, Makarios has been deaf to the pleas.

Sunday, September 6

U.S. AMBASSADOR Maxwell D. Taylor left for Washington today to give President Johnson a report on the war effort in South Vietnam. Due to stay for a one week visit, Mr. Taylor comes at a delicate moment of uncertainty about the future of the Saigon government and the American campaign against the Communist guerrillas. Mr. Taylor expressed as "thoroughly laudable" the government's apparent swing toward civilian control.

WORLD BANK president George D. Woods, speaking at the annual meeting of the World Bank and the International Monetary Fund, said the "urgent, unfinished business" of the world's efforts to help the poorer countries develop faster was the provision of more development assistance on easy payment terms. He described economic progress in the poorer lands as "disappointingly slow." He urged fast action on the part of both rich and poor countries.

IN CLOSING the first week of his campaign, former Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy, the Democratic liberal candidate for the Senate in New York, was forced to abandon plans to walk along the beaches of Ocean City, Long Island, because of the thousands of swarming sunbathers. Meanwhile, Kennedy's opponent, Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, spoke his views that neither Sen. Barry Goldwater, the Republican presidential nominee, nor the late President Kennedy should constitute issues for the voters to consider in the Senate race.

TRIOLED DRIVER

Robert J. Sharp, 32, of 17257 Lumpkin, Detroit, was arrested by Park police on Wednesday, September 2, at Mack and Berkshire, and given a ticket for operating a motor vehicle without a driver's license. Court date was set for October 28. Sharp was released to Detroit authorities on a traffic warrant held against him by that city.

youngsters pelted state troopers with rocks and beer cans. In the second night of rioting in Seaside, 20 teen-agers were arrested, raising the number jailed so far to 90. More than 100 youths were taken into custody at Hampton Beach.

RETURNED from Saigon,

American Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor plunged into high level talks with administrative officials on the political crises in South Vietnam. He is expected to report personally to the President this week. On his first return home, Taylor told reporters at Andrews Air Force Base, "I have no recipe in my pocket for a solution."

WITH A MONDAY evening toll of 426, traffic deaths headed toward a possible record yesterday as the 78-hour Labor Day weekend swung into its final hours, with highways jammed by homeward bound motorists. California and Texas were tied with the greatest number of fatalities at 29 each. Last year's total weekend deaths were 557.

Young Vandals Damage Home

Leo Cooney, 18888 Lancashire, Detroit, owner of a new home being built at 495 Washington road, called City police on September 2 to report vandalism. Tar was smeared on windows, screens, walls, and stairway, tar poured in the kitchen drain pipes, installation pulled off the upstairs walls, insulated boards pulled loose from studs, and a small fire started by the stairway. The damage was said to have occurred between 4:30 and 6:30 o'clock.

Later, police picked up four boys between the ages of six and nine who admitted the destruction. Chief Teetaert turned them over to their parents after reproaching them.

Musical Group Plans Jamboree

A Chamber Musical Chairs Jamboree is being presented by the Chamber Music Players of Grosse Pointe on Sunday, September 13, from 2 to 5 p.m. at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial. The meeting is for all who play or sing, regardless of age or place of residence, and there will be no charge for either participants or listeners.

From 2 until 3:15 p.m., the participants will assemble in four groups: a string ensemble for multiple quartets, a wind ensemble, a piano forum for duets and quartets (2, 4, or 8 hands), and a chorus. At 3:15, the musical chairs will shift to smaller sized groups as players join in duets, trios, or whatever they wish. Every corner of Alger House and the Fries Auditorium building will be available for these musical gatherings.

Musicians who wish to participate should bring a music stand. If anyone has music he has always wanted to play with a group, he may bring it along — otherwise, music will be provided. Non-musicians are also invited, and may like to wander from one group to another, sampling the different varieties of music. Coffee will be served.

General chairman of the event is Margery Aber, former concert-mistress of the Grosse Pointe Symphony. Assisting her in organizing the musical groups will be Don Simmons, Lois Lawrence, Dr. Aaron Farbman, Lucille Zocharski, Alex Suszek, David Arner, and Joanne Kina. For more information, call VE 9-1612, TU 5-3162, or PR 2-1486.

Religious Art To Be Shown

More than 250 artists have accepted invitations to show their work at the 4th Biennial National Religious Art Exhibition to be held October 8 through 25 in the galleries of Sacred Heart Seminary, West Chicago at Linwood, Detroit.

Frederick Colombo, Detroit attorney and civic leader who is general chairman of the event, said that the number of outstanding artists this year "promises to continue the tradition of showing the finest in contemporary art."

Pointing out that about 400 pieces of painting, sculpture, mosaic, glass and metalcraft, Mr. Colombo said that the Michigan show has become "the largest religious art exhibition on a continuing basis in the nation, ranking among the highest for cash prizes awarded."

Artists from all sections of the country will enter works. Included are such names as William Congdon, Zoltan Sepeshy, Fred Nagler, Jack Zajac, Jean Charlot, Yoko Wong.

The Rev. Frs. William B. Davidson and Edward Farrell, co-directors of the show, announced the jurors to select the prize-winning entries. They are Willis Woods, director of the Detroit Institute of Arts, Vincent McNaspy, nationally-known art critic, and Malcolm Lein, director of the St. Paul, Minn., Art Center.

Prizes totaling $3,000 will be awarded.

Willy Lee Griffin, 21, present address Jackson Prison, was arraigned before Park Judge C. Joseph Belanger on Wednesday, September 2, on a charge of burglary in the night-time.

Griffin, returned from prison on a writ, is accused of the October 20, 1963, burglary of the Hagen Shell Gas Station, 15100 East Jefferson.

The convict entered a plea of guilty to the charge, and Judge Belanger set bond at $1,000. Griffin was remanded to the custody of the Wayne County Sheriff's office, to await sentence in Circuit Court.

Men's Chorus Set to Start

An opportunity for men of all ages in Grosse Pointe to sing is offered by the Grosse Pointe Men's Chorus, sponsored by the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

The Chorus begins its new season this Monday, September 14 at 8 o'clock in Alger House under the direction of Choirmaster Bezeau of the Eastminster Presbyterian Church.

All people interested in male chorus work are cordially invited to join the Chorus. Auditions are not necessary. Neither is any formal musical training. Mr. Bezeau soon instills sight-reading ability in those who may at first have difficulty reading notes. He quickly places people in the voice section in which they belong.

Rehearsals are held each Monday evening at the Center from 8 to 10. Concerts are given twice annually in the Fries Auditorium and the Chorus is frequently a special feature of such occasions as Men's Night in the Village, and church, school and fraternal affairs.

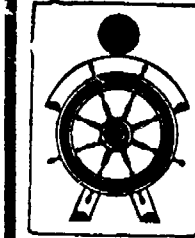

This is a fine opportunity for fellowship, service and a musical education all in one.

DAR Group to Observe Constitution Anniversary

The Chapter's speaker for the day will be Royal Oak attorney Clarence L. Hudson, who will discuss the Constitution and What Is Happening To It.

Regent, Mrs. William W. Innes and chapter members will attend a regional meeting at Fairlane on September 17. Sixteen area DAR chapters will meet with state officers for a planning session for the 1964-1965 season.

Bledsoe Escapes In 'Copter Crash

Army Capt. James H. Bledsoe, formerly of Hampton road, narrowly escaped serious injury or death last month when his helicopter crashed on the side of a mountain in Viet Nam, 60 miles north of Saigon. Two of the 9 men aboard were killed instantly, one died later.

Capt. Bledsoe was taken to the Naval Hospital at Viet Nam and was released this week to return to duty.

Capt. Bledsoe has spent six months in Viet Nam where he is assigned to a special forces detachment and is also a para-trooper. His wife and three children are staying in Okinawa. He is the son of Mrs. Irene Bledsoe, now of Bournemouthe road, Harper Woods.

Police Chiefs Accept Posts

Three area police chiefs were appointed to various committees by Birmingham Police Chief Ralph Moxley, recently elected president of the Michigan Association of Chiefs of Police.

According to official information released on Thursday, September 3, Park Police Chief Arthur Louwers was appointed a member of the Executive Board of the Association, and chairman of the Police Training Committee.

Shores Police Chief Fred Duemling was made a member of the Membership Committee, and also a member of the Youth Committee.

Harper Woods Police Chief Allen Miglio was appointed a member of the Communications and Frequency Allocations Committee, and a member of the Vocational Rehabilitation Program Committee.

Dance Classes Being Formed

Ballroom dancing classes for young people at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center will begin again on Thursday and Friday, September 17 and 18.

They will be taught by Ted and Lillian Forrest who have come into great demand as teachers through the successes of their classes in Bloomfield Hills and at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club. Fifteen one-hour lessons are offered for a total of $15 which also includes a final gala party at Christmas time, complete with orchestra, favors and refreshments.

Classes are open to young people in grades 5 through 9. The classes are limited to approximately 50 members each and advance enrollment is encouraged so that groups may be properly balanced between girls and boys.

The 4:30 Thursday afternoon class is for fifth and sixth graders, the Friday 6:45 group for seventh and eighth graders and the alternate Friday 8 to 10 section is reserved for older, more advanced students.

Children's Theater Enrolls This Week

The Grosse Pointe Children's Theater is holding try-outs and enrollments at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center this Saturday, September 12, between 10 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. At this time, Mrs. Sidney T. Reynolds, director of the theater, will enroll boys and girls ages 7 through 17 in either the beginning or advanced groups and try-outs will be held for the two productions scheduled for Fries Auditorium this fall.

The Children's Theater season covers a 15-week period. The membership fee is $30. Every one gets a chance to be a part of a production. Acting, directing, makeup, costuming, stagecraft and playwriting are all facets of the fascinating schedule designed by Mrs. Reynolds.

In addition to straight drama, the Children's Theater puts on a musical production in which Mrs. Reynolds receives the assistance of Musical Director Ruth Ann Justice. Rehearsals and instruction are given in Alger House, stagecraft is taught in the scene shop and productions are of course given in the Fries Little Theater.

CHURCH NEWS

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST Fries Auditorium

The life of Abraham will be reviewed next Sunday at Christian Science churches to show how "faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen" (Heb. 11).

The subject of the Bible Lesson is "Substance," and the Golden Text is from Galatians 3: "They which be of faith are blessed with faithful Abraham."

Selections from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include a description of Abraham as an example of "Fidelity: faith in the divine Life and in the eternal Principle of being. This patriarch illustrated the purpose of Love to create trust in good, and showed the life-preserving power of spiritual understanding" (p. 579).

How to cut your meat bill with Autumn Harvest Lamb

Serve lamb often.

Young Autumn Harvest
Lamb is very plentiful and very good. Serve it at least once a week. Today, try these tender, money-saving cuts:

Thick shoulder
chops: Broil to a turn and finish with glaze of mint jelly. So satisfying on a chilly autumn day.

French rack of lamb: Beautiful rib roast. Add a gourmet touch with glaze of apricot preserves brushed on during last half hour of roasting.

Eat like royalty on a slim budget. Have your meat man prepare a 2-lb. breast of lamb with pocket for stuffing.
Use your own favorite recipe or we'll send you a delicious recipe for Apricot Stuffing.
Breast of lamb—a delicacy that costs just pennies.*

Those clever Irish discovered that lamb makes the best hale-and hearty stew in the world because even inexpensive cuts are tender, juicy and flavorful.

Ask your meat man for boned lamb shoulder or his good ready-cut lamb stew meat.

Yams are yammier, cranberries are barrier. Lamb is so delicately flavored it complements other foods served with it.

Trade lambwiches?

Never! If your children are "trading away" school lunch sandwiches, maybe they're tired of the same old thing.
Surprise them with sandwiches made of tender slices of cold roast lamb. A welcome change!

Lamb is called "quick energy" meat, an excellent source of high-quality protein, vitamins, minerals.
Ideal for diets of all ages.

Elegant trick: Stir a handful of white raisins and 3 Tbsp. of California Sherry into hot creamed onions.

Serve with golden-brown sirloin lamb steaks hot from the broiler.

Lamb is the meat that always makes the cook look good. Know why? Lamb is young meat. Every cut, even the most thrifty one, is meltingly tender. Try it: you can't go wrong with lamb.

Dined out lately? It's a great way to relax and a great chance to enjoy tender Autumn Harvest Lamb prepared just the way you like it best. Take the whole family. It's fun to eat out.

IN THE ENGLANDER MANNER..

If we did as others do there would be no point to Englander's. We don't simply because we believe that little differences make the big difference in our kind of stores. Merchandise, for instance . . . a little better selected in the world's finer markets . . . by buyers a little more devoted to discovering the distinctive and unusual. Stores . . . a little more beautiful and colorful . . . designed to make shopping a little more exciting and intriguing. Personnel . . . a little better trained to serve you . . . and a lot more interested in doing it well and courteously. This page points up a firm conviction . . . high price is not a necessary ingredient of high fashion. Nor is discernment more applicable to our studios of interior design than to our selling floors.

Smart or Stupid?

For the second time in less than six months the NEWS has bitten on bait in the form of false information that has been tossed out by the Durant organization. Last April we picked up a story in the Detroit Free Press which had been handed a reporter by one of the avid publicity purveyors of the organization. Among other things, it labeled former Governor Wilber Brucker as a Rockefeller supporter. Mr. Brucker was considerably irked by this inaccuracy and asked both us and the Free Press to set the record straight. We carried a letter we asked him to write, refuting the story and stating that he was first, last and always for Gov. George Romney.

Last Wednesday morning we were again the victim of a misreport, this time at the hands of the so-called boss of the 14th District Republican Organization himself, Richard C. Durant. Dick was contacted by one of our reporters during the hectic struggle to get election returns, long past our usual deadline. The district GOP leader was full of information, claiming that enough of his candidates had been elected to assure him control of the district organization. Of course that will not be known until the district convention is held September 12. But among those of his supporters whom he specifically mentioned as having been victorious was James R. Teetzel of Vendome court.

As soon as the paper hit the streets that day the phones began ringing. Mr. Teetzel and many of his co-workers were very vociferous. Mr. Teetzel not only never was a Durant supporter, but he has been one of his hardest-working opponents for a long, long time. In last week's election he gave a sound thrashing to William Crapo, Durant's candidate in that precinct.

It is difficult to believe that these erroneous reports are handed out through ignorance. There are many in the anti-Durant camp who claim they can cite other instances where deliberate misinformation was disseminated, probably in the hope of creating dissension in the ranks of the opposition. Some might consider this smart political maneuvering, but as a newspaper we resent being the dupe for false statements emanating from sources which we should have every right to consider as reliable.

Such shenanigans could boomerang. We can't believe that all of those in the Durant camp condone such practices. We apologize to Mr. Teetzel for the misnomer we hung on him in the last issue. We also suggest that it would be a good idea for interested and responsible Republicans to attend the district convention at Jackson Intermediate School, Marlborough north of Mack, at 7:30 o'clock this Saturday evening, September 12. Some eyes might be opened.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:
The editorial "How Long Must This Go On?" by R. W. (August 20, 1964) was read with great interest and I fully appreciate the attitudes contained in it.

After arduous years of training and work, most medical scientists continue to be powerfully motivated by a deep desire to ease suffering and eliminate disease. None are immune to suffering and perhaps experimenters are the most exquisitely sensitive. Their life's work is dedicated to its exclusion.

I have from time to time been confronted by similar critiques. It is always with some trouble to my soul since I have been "guilty" of producing pain and discomfort in some of my laboratory subjects. I am very familiar with the moral pros and cons of the controversy, as I expect you are. Even though I am certain of my moral rectitude, the burden is a difficult one.

My purpose in writing is to consider the certainty that more restrictive curbs on animal use in medical research will materially slow medicine's strides toward mitigating suffering and disease. Can we reflect on the possibility that your editorial, which, as we all do, shows concern for laboratory animals may be instead more cruel than humane? I suggest that this aspect deserves equal editorial space. It may be vital to each or any of our families, and this includes Fido too!

Sincerely,
Paul Halick, Ph.D., M.D.
Assistant Professor of Physiology,
Wayne State University

of Wayne State University for the past three summers, and in those years I have been deeply involved in the use and care of experimental animals. Not once have I seen any indication of ill-treatment of any sort, and the animals' pain, if any, was always greatly alleviated by the utilization of various anesthetics, drugs, and anesthetics. May I call it to the attention of the public that the case in point here, albeit unfortunate, is definitely not the rule in an organization as fine as Wayne. This was an isolated event, one of which type could occur in virtually any business or profession. Is it fair to condemn the University for a simple, unique case of human error?

The public should realize that without the use of these experimental animals, research which brought about the discovery of the "Wonder Drugs" (drugs which, no doubt, have made the lives of many of our readers much more comfortable), would never have come to be. Have your readers ever pondered in what state the health of the world might be if it weren't for this vital research? It's not too pleasant a thought. Finally, I sincerely doubt that those who find this use of animals distasteful ever once think of the events involved in bringing them their meat for dinner. How the cows must have suffered! Criticism is fine, but I say let's be fair and understand both sides before any conclusions are drawn.

Very sincerely,
John W. Ehlich,
1560 Essex.

Dear Mr. Edgar:

On August 20, 1964, the Grosse Pointe News published an editorial entitled, "How Long Must This Go On?" which contained a very serious charge of cruelty to animals at the School of Medicine, Wayne State University, based on a nationally circulated statement made by Patrolman Mobley to Mrs. Dorothy Dyce.

Mr. Wells of your staff phoned my office on a Tuesday, August 11. Doctor Alexander Wall, our Assistant Dean, returned the call within four or five minutes, but there was no answer. Doctor Wall phoned the next day and was told that Mr. Wells had the day off. Doctor Wall called again the following day and left his name. The call was never returned.

I am enclosing a statement that I prepared for distribution, which presents the true story of the episode.

Frankly, I was appalled by the one-sided nature of the editorial. So far as I can determine, there was no real attempt to get the facts. Instead, a story was accepted which contained interpretation of medical and surgical situations by a layman. Do you really believe that in the face of many years of attested and proven humane treatment of animals, a distorted and misrepresented situation should result in this scurrilous treatment of a fine Medical School.

May I remind you that these physicians who are accused of being butchers are the same men who take care of hundreds of thousands of sick and injured people each year.

Surely it is not too much to expect some objectivity in an editorial.

Sincerely yours,
Ernest Gardner, M.D.

THE DEAN'S REPORT
ON THE RECENT INCIDENT INVOLVING ANIMAL CARE AT THE SCHOOL OF MEDICINE, WAYNE STATE UNIVERSITY
There has been widespread publicity about alleged cruelty to animals at the School of Medicine of Wayne State University. As Dean of the School of Medicine, I would like to present a factual account of the purported events.

On the evening of Thursday, July 9, 1964, Patrolman Bloomfield and Mobley of the Detroit Police Department entered the laboratory of the Department of Surgery across the street from the Detroit Memorial Hospital. This action was in response to a complaint by a nurse that a barking dog had been disturbing patients. The two patrolmen saw two dogs in the Recovery Room. One was quiet and one restless. Patrolman Mobley asked the janitor about the restless dog, and reported that he was informed "that the dog was in a postoperative state and that they (the doctors) are only interested in the time it takes before they die."

Patrolman Mobley remained on the scene for but 5-10 minutes and took no action. These are the palpable facts in the matter. What then followed can only be described as hearsay, subjective evaluation, distortion, and calumny, resulting in a hasty and punitive action by the Michigan State Department of Health. I do not know what Patrolman Mobley's official police report contained, but in a note to a Mrs. Dorothy Dyce (which subsequently formed the basis of nationally distributed material) he wrote of the two dogs: "One looked dead but the other was crying out as if in great pain. Blood and foreign matter were pouring from his mouth." It is important to note that the aforementioned janitor has officially denied that he saw any blood or foreign matter issuing from the mouth of the dog. The janitor has also stated that the two patrolmen were in the building for not more than 5 or 10 minutes, looked only briefly at the dogs, and inquired of him whether the dog was suffering. The janitor told them that the dog was still unconscious and could not be suffering. Nonetheless, Mobley's letter to Dorothy Dyce contained the unfortunate phrase "the worst case of cruelty I have ever seen." This unqualified and inflammatory remark was eagerly seized upon by the Society for Animal Protective Legislation. Without any investigation or official inquiry, they began a national distribution of inaccurate material praising the police officer and attacking the School of Medicine. An article published in the Los Angeles Herald headlined "Cruelty to Dogs Revealed" stands as an example of many others that have since appeared.

A subcaption reads "Patrolman John Mobley Holds Lady, the Dog He Saved," and pictures Patrolman Mobley and his family with a dog having no association with the events described. The entire article and picture of the Mobley family and dog bear no honest relation to the incident in question nor to our laboratory except for the distortion which the reporter created. Here again, in point of fact, Patrolman Mobley never returned to the laboratory, made no provision for the animal's comfort, knew nothing about the animal's future, and certainly did not "rescue" the dog. The article implied that Mobley stated that there are thousands of such cases and that the Michigan State Commissioner of Health used such words as "barbaric-minded students" and "butchery" to describe the incident.

As might be imagined, we have received many telephone calls and letters, a few inquiring about the facts, but most prejudging the case and full of venom and wishes for the eternal torture and damnation of all involved in the incident.

From the start, this atmosphere of naked prejudice and intemperate charges so obscured the facts that these must now be clearly stated. On the morning of July 9, dog number 1 was anesthetized and an operation performed by a surgeon. The operation consisted of placing a drainage cannula into the duodenum. By early afternoon, the dog had recovered from the surgery and was seen at intervals by a surgical resident until about 6 p.m. At that time the dog was quiet and sitting up in his cage. Later, this dog began to bark and howl and disturb the patients in Detroit Memorial Hospital. The next morning, the dog was quite well and frisky. It died five days later from a sudden complication relating to the duodenal fistula.

Dog number 2 was also described. (Continued on Page 23)

"18 Years in Grosse Pointe"

What Goes On at Your Library

By Virginia Leonard

We of suburbia—can we take an entertaining dissection of the weekend habits of urbane middle-class America? If this idea appeals to you, try reading a new book by Max Gunther—THE WEEKENDERS.

"Some people hold celebrations to honor gods and spirits. We hold one every week to honor leisure. We call it the weekend. So hang up the bright ribbons and unhook the festive jug. Close the file cabinet, still the loud machine, bank the weekday fires. Let our work now hide his ugly face. For this is the time when joy may come among us again." So writes Mr. Gunther, and as he continues, he wonders many things. Why do we pack up the car and head for distant pleasure resorts when there is fun nearer home—even in our own backyard? Why do some weekenders become "homogenized" and manage to continue work habits right through the weekend? Why do some people work so hard at enjoying life? The author makes it quite clear that not much leisure and very little fun result from many weekends. Why? Is there a good reason for the complete change of personality in some on Saturday and Sunday?

These and many other critical questions are examined with wit, irony and compassion. Many examples are taken from psychiatrists' casebooks. His analysis of motivations is penetrating—many times quite serious. He can strike a responsive chord in all of us as he sometimes hits too close to home for comfort. This may be a popularized version of social commentary, but it is well done and extremely witty. The line drawings by Susan Perri add zest to the subject, too.

When I had finished chuckling and bemoaning over this volume, I began to wonder about other books on suburban living. I remembered that Dr. Richard Gordon and his wife, in collaboration with Max Gunther, had written earlier (1961) THE SPLIT-LEVEL TRAP, an analysis of the stresses caused by modern high-pressure living, especially in the better-class suburban communities. Here, in eight case histories, humor is lacking; here is presented a professional psychiatric examination of a suburban community, put in terms the general public can understand.

Some of you may remember John Seelye's earlier (1956) CRESTWOOD HEIGHTS, representing a psychological survey conducted by the Canadian National Committee for Mental Hygiene, and describing the social life of a suburban community in Canada. Since it was aptly representative of banlieu living in general, it can surely interest Americans as well as Canadians. And this, in turn, certainly reminds one of the classic study made back in 1929 by the two pioneers in the sociological field, Dr. Robert and Dr. Helen Lynd—MIDDLETOWN, followed in 1937 by MIDDLETOWN IN TRANSITION. Confidentially, the September 7, 1964 issue of NEWSWEEK has a squib on the Lynds, telling of their present pursuits.

In 1959 Phyllis McGinley

Wrote PROVINCE OF THE HEART: in this book the poet and suburban housewife presents a collection of essays covering various aspects of the woman's role, such as child-raising, marriage and gardening. Another woman's opinion is Margaret Halsey's THIS DEMI-PARADISE, again showing the joys and exasperations found in this type of living. She is entertaining, but definitely against complacency and conformity.

Peter Wyden recently (1962) gave us SUBURBIA'S CODDED KIDS—a study of middle-class suburbia, examining the citizens of tomorrow in their present role as coddled, babied and overindulged children. The author feels that this one-class society shields its children from an awareness of the social problems they will encounter later in life.

Let us not forget John Keats' CRACK IN THE PICTURE WINDOW. Here the emphasis was on housing developments—against the uniform and ugly, and emphasizing the evils of mushrooming Suburbia, U.S.A. The book is slashing and bitingly humorous, showing the debt-ridden Americans living in low- or no-down-payment houses and borrowing to keep up with false standards. And even earlier was Auguste Spectorsky's EXURBANITES—the belt just beyond Suburbia—depicted by the author with great wit and social insight.

Let us finish up on a light note — H. Allen Smith's gay LET THE CRABGRASS GROW. Here Mr. Smith relates anecdotes on life at Mt. Kisco, N.Y.—impaling sharply all the business of commuting, cocktail parties, the perversity of nature and municipal affairs.

I shall not attempt to chronicle life in the outskirts as shown by our fiction writers—their name and variety of approach is legion. I shall merely let you sit back and think, and I know favorite writers, characters and situations will come flooding to the surface. Have fun recollecting!

"What can I do about this pain?"

By FRED KOPP, R. Ph.

Customers often ask questions like this. And every year we sell perhaps a ton of pain relievers. Relievers. That's the point. We can sell simple analgesics, but we can't prescribe drugs to eliminate the cause of pain. Diagnosing and prescribing are in your physician's province. We, as professional pharmacists, work with doctors, providing the drugs they order. So, if you have any kind of a persistent pain, see your physician. We shall be pleased to provide any medication which may be prescribed.

Ceremony In Grosse Pointe Memorial Church Saturday Is Followed By Home Reception; Newlyweds Travel to Northern Michigan

A reception at the home of the bride followed the wedding of Lynda Mae Briggs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clare E. Briggs, of Westchester road, to Ronald Leonard Sandberg Saturday, at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church. The Rev. Bertram DeH. Atwood performed the ceremony at 12:30 o'clock.

The bride wore a veiled silk organza gown appliqued with beau de ange lace. The dress was fashioned with a sheath skirt and chapel length train. Her shoulder length bouffant veil of silk imported English illusion was caught by a crown of lace and seed pearls with crystal drops.

She carried a bouquet of eucharis lilies with stephanotis. Wearing an Empire sheath dress of aqua French faille was the matron of honor, Mrs. Martin A. Marsack, sister of the bride.

Bridesmaids, dressed like the honor attendant, were Gretchen Deuble, Nancy Peterson, Mrs. E. Louis Sandberg, and Rosemary Acciaccia. Susan Marsack was junior bridesmaid. The bridegroom's brother, E. Louis Sandberg, was best man. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Elroy L. Sandberg, of Birmingham.

Leelanders Come Home

Back from Leland, the land of the 10 o'clock community coffee break when all the menfolk gather in the town square for a cup of brew and a half hour of local lore, are several Pointe families who are wishing September had never come.

Dubbed the "Land of Delight," Leland is a small village 30 miles northwest of Traverse City, renowned for its quaint rows of antiquated fishing shanties. Aside from the usual boating, swimming (Leland is situated between both Lakes Leelanau and Michigan), tennis, and golf (the Country Club's plus nine-hole course is soon to be extended to 18), true Leland lubbers also have opportunity to become members of the Leland Improvement Association and Leland Foundation (founded years ago to help one of the local fishermen whose boat burned).

Though the Pointe's fathers somehow managed to squeeze a few weeks of work between jaunts to their various cottages, the rest of the families mostly remained for a summer of fish fries and folderol.

Returned with their combined total of 16 children are two two-generation families, the Paul D. Gards, of Maumee avenue, and the William Y. Gards, of Dean lane, and the James K. and John B. Watkins, both of Cloverly road; the Carl B. Grawns, of Yorkshire road; the Justin Gilners of Renaud road; the Henry Kinzies, of Beaupre avenue; the Elliot Phillips, of Moran road; the Ellis VanSlycks, of Touraine road; and the Lawrence J. Verdiers, of Cloverly road.

Plan Ahead For Christ Child Fair

Long before school started, the Grosse Pointers who are working on the annual Christ Child Carnival which will be held at Cobo Hall on October 22 swung into action. "Story Book Fantasy" will be the theme for the day and the booths will include a creative castle, "Twelve Days of Christmas," Pandora's Box and Mother Hubbard's Cupboard, a complimentary coffee corner.

Local women who are working in responsible capacities are Mrs. Clayton Alandt, Mrs. David Turner, Mrs. Frederick Stone, Mrs. John Addy, Mrs. Thad Joos, Mrs. Charles Burke, Mrs. John T. Lynch, Mrs. Stanley Plops, Mrs. Richard Balser, Mrs. William Gigante, Mrs. Thomas McGann, Mrs. Neil Patterson, Mrs. Louis DePetro, and Mrs. Theodore Trefzer.

Christ Child officers include Mrs. Donald Currier, president; Mrs. Joseph Sullivan, secretary; and the following board members, Mrs. John Schafer, Mrs. James Lemhagen, Mrs. William Sheehan, Mrs. Hugh Ruthven, Mrs. James Kennay, Jr., Mrs. P. Mullen Barrett, and Mrs. Stanley Evatz.

Proceeds from all Christ Child projects go to benefit the Christ Child home for abandoned children and school for retarded children.

Women Target Of Osecency

An alleged physician, purporting to be conducting a cancer study, is using women in the Southeastern Michigan area as a target for obscene and insulting questions, the Michigan Cancer Foundation learned today.

Reports of the telephone calls have come in from scattered areas including Harper Woods, Birmingham and Livonia indicating that the man lives in the metropolitan Detroit area and apparently is using community newspapers as sources for his victims. All women contacted have had their names published in recent issues of a local newspaper.

Neither the Michigan Cancer Foundation or any other cancer control agency in this area is conducting this type of survey, E. W. Tuescher, Executive Vice President of the Foundation, said, urging all women receiving such telephone calls to report them immediately to their local police department.

Tea to Benefit Treasure Shop

Soon it will be tea time—Treasure Shop tea time—at the International Institute.

It's that time of year when friends of the Institute gather for an afternoon of good cheer, a special program and a sip of tea—all for the very small price of admission—a treasured gift to stock the Treasure Shop booth when the annual Old World Market opens in mid-November.

And those looking forward to the tea have long since learned that the gift need not be opulent. Even the smallest "treasure" is welcomed.

At the helm as tea chairman for 1964 is Mrs. Oliver E. Frey, of Pleasant Ridge, a bundle of enthusiasm who is to spark the project and make this year's Treasure Shop Tea one to be remembered.

Helping her with the many plans are Mrs. Roy Nelson and Mrs. Donald P. Els.

Mrs. Frey has set the date for Thursday, October 8, at the Institute, 111 E. Kirby, with the promise of a dessert luncheon at 1 p.m. and a sparkling program to follow at 2 p.m.

And who else could provoke as much interest as Sculptor Marshall Fredericks, who will discuss "Sculpture As I See It."

So, gather up your treasure, be it a small vase, a fine painting, ceramics, a piece of embroidery or lace or a bit of bric-a-brac and bring yourself and your special personal gift which will be just what the Old World Market's Treasure Shop needs to stock its shelves when the Old World Market gets underway November 19 through 22. Market chairman this year is Mrs. Frederick J. Schumann, of Grosse Pointe.

[A message of importance for men and women who are concerned about their health]

If you're over 40, Kidney and Bladder ailments strike far more often

Now is the time to do something about it!

After 40, you're reaching the age when you're more susceptible to illnesses which are common to middle age. Among the most distressing are kidney-bladder disorders. If you've ever suffered them, you well know the pain and embarrassment involved. To help relieve kidney-bladder conditions, many doctors suggest drinking 6-8 glasses daily of spring-pure Mountain Valley Water. That's because its diuretic (kidney-flushing) effect speeds up kidney action, helps you eliminate body wastes faster. Mildly alkaline, it gently soothes bladder irritation, at the same time helps neutralize excess urine acids (thus reduces that "burning" sensation). What's more Mountain Valley Water is "light," non-filling, non-laxative... and tastes wonderful! Regular daily use can make a positive contribution to continued good health. Costs only pennies a glass... less than a soft drink.

Center Slates French Course

An interesting course in French conversation will be offered at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial this fall. It will be taught by Madame Charles (Teddie) Bachrach, charming Grosse Pointe who was born and brought up in the French chateau country.

The course will be held on Tuesday mornings from 9:30 to 11 beginning September 22 and continuing through December 8.

The 12 weekly one-and-one-half-hour sessions are offered for a fee of $25. Since the class will be limited to 15 members, those interested are asked to enroll as soon as possible.

It is Mrs. Bachrach's aim to perfect the speaking ability and confidence of people who have had some exposure to the French language in school. Students will be receiving not only tutelage in the language art but through Mme. Bachrach they will learn from a very knowledgeable person a great deal about French history, culture and customs.

Mme. Bachrach's purpose in agreeing to teach this class at the Center is to raise money for a project which is very dear to her heart, namely the restoration of her family's ancient chateau in Loire. Mrs. Bachrach keeps current with French affairs by spending a part of each year in her native land. The basis for conversation in class will be current French literature, politics and art. She feels that the enthusiasm and interest generated by these subjects causes people to forget their timidity in conversing in a foreign tongue.

STOLEN BIKE RETURNED

Mrs. Koenen, of 910 Washington, called City police September 6 to report that her son Ricky had found a black, Sears, 20" boy's bike parked at the rear of Valet Cleaners on Mack avenue. The bike's license was listed to Susan Vanderveld, 787 Fisher road. A check with Susan revealed that the license was hers, but not the bike. Further investigation showed that the bike, reported stolen on August 26, belonged to Ralph Caldwell, 17020 Maumee. The bike was returned to its owner.

Ballet School Set to Enroll

The Center's School of Ballet, under the instruction of Mary Ellen Cooper, will enroll students on Friday afternoon, September 18, from 3:30 to 5:30 and on Saturday, September 19, from 9:30 to 2:30.

The ballet classes are open to students age 5 and up. There is a special class for adults on Wednesday evenings. The fee is $21.60 for 12 lessons up to 10 years of age and $24 for older students.

Mary Ellen Cooper, who teaches the Center's Ballet Troupe, received her training at the Royal Conservatory in Toronto and worked for years with Olga Fricker, who founded the Center's Ballet School.

When Miss Fricker moved her studios to San Francisco and Los Angeles Miss Cooper became director of the Center's Ballet and has for many years assisted Miss Fricker on the West Coast in the summer.

All the Center students, whether children or adults, are taught the traditional Italian ballet. Classes are accompanied by Miss Cooper's concert pianist mother and each season culminates with a performance by the troupe on the stage of Fries Auditorium.

All prospective students are asked to be present at one of the enrollment periods so that class sizes may be properly adjusted and students placed in the proper groups. Classes are scheduled on Monday, Wednesday and Thursday after regular school and all day Saturdays. The adult class is held at 8 p.m. on Wednesday evenings.

STORE EMPLOYEE HURT

The manager of Jacobson's Home Decorative Shop on Kercheval called City police on September 4 to ask that an injured employee, Irene Kapuscinski, 34, of 15850 Tacoma, Detroit, be taken to the hospital. A box had fallen on her head. She was driven to Bon Secours.

Address Fashion Show Invitations

Committee members of the Grosse Pointe Council of Better Literature for Youth met recently at the Lakeshore home of Mrs. Diamond T. Phillips to address invitations for their forthcoming luncheon and fashion show, "La Mode d'Autumn," to be held on Tuesday, Sept. 22 in the Anchor Room of J. L. Hudson's, Eastland. In the picture are (left to right) MRS. ROLF W. DONATH, MRS. CARL A. NOLTE, MRS. PHILLIPS, and MRS. CHARLES R. REINOWSKI. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Nolte at TU 1-0582.

Staging Show For Symphony

A dazzling fashion show, featuring creations of top designer Teal Traina, will follow a luncheon-meeting of the Women's Association for The Detroit Symphony Orchestra to be held at 12:00 noon on Monday, September 14, at the Detroit Yacht Club.

The fashions, presented by Himeloch Brothers and Co., will be commented by Grace Van Dyke, Fashion Market Editor of Vogue Magazine. The show will be built around "My Fair Lady" fashions.

This fashion show will be another special event celebrating the Golden Anniversary Season of The Detroit Symphony Orchestra. The following members of the Women's Association comprise the steering committee for the fashion show: Mrs. Charles Himeloch, program chairman; Mrs. Milton Basson and Mrs. Cecil Akroyd, assistant chairmen; Mrs. Russell Bauer, Mrs. Glen Bixby, Mrs. John Ganschow, Mrs. Richard Tucker, Mrs. Joseph Vance, Jr., and Mrs. Murray Young.

Warner Brothers Studio is flying to Detroit the original costumes designed for the movie by Audrey Hepburn. Those costumes will be in town for the Himeloch fashion show. Warner Brothers will also offer to two lucky people in attendance at the fashion show, two all-expense-paid trips to New York for the press premiere showing of "My Fair Lady" on October 20th. They will also attend a private party following the film, which will honor Rex Harrison and Audrey Hepburn, and the other stars of the movie, all of whom will be present.

An interesting footnote to the planned festivities is the tie-in with the 50th Anniversary of the Symphony, as the story of "My Fair Lady" depicts the era of the founding of The Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

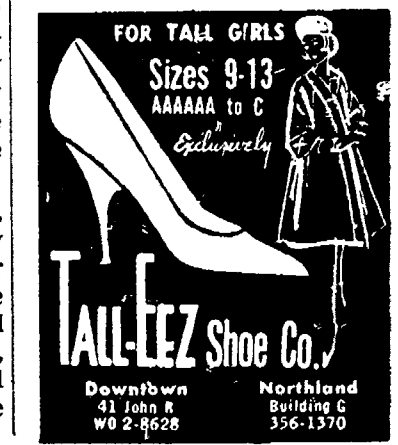

On Tuesday, September 15, following the formal Symphony showing of Monday, September 14, Mr. Teal Traina will be present on Himeloch's Third Floor of Fashions, Downtown, where his entire collection will be informally modeled for the general public.

MINORS SENT HOME

On August 31 a park guard called City police to report that three young girls were staying on a boat overnight. One of the minor's parents were notified and told to pick the girls up. Soon afterwards, police picked up a 15-year-old Pointe boy hiding in the bushes at the park, trying to get in to visit the girls. He was held at the station and released to his father.

The bride was escorted by her uncle, Neil C. McMath, of Bloomfield Hills. She was wearing a floor-length gown of white peau de soie and the veil of antique duchesse lace which her mother had worn at her wedding. Her flowers were white orchids and stephanotis accented with ivy leaves.

The bride's cousins, Alice Gray Huetting, of Washington, D.C., Mrs. Laurence Connor, of Ann Arbor, and Charline McMath, of Birmingham; and Elizabeth Evans, were bridesmaids. They wore floral headpieces and carried white roses and camellia leaves.

Thomas Jones was best man and ushers were William R.

Hartwick, Mr. Connor, and Allen Hartwick.

Julie Cobane, 3, and Michael Cobane, 5, completed the wedding party as flower girl and boy. They were dressed in outfits made by the bride.

Richard Williams, of Provençal road, drove the bride and bridegroom from their reception at the Country Club in his 1911 model Town car.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Huetting, of Washington, D.C., and Brig. Gen. and Mrs. Miles Cowles, of Three Rivers Mich.

The newly married couple are on their way to Topeka, Kan., where they will live. The bridegroom is head of the biology department at Washburn University.

"Business Goes Where It Is Invited and Stays Where It Is Made Welcome"

Onions & Real Estate

George, the Greek, used to run a little lunch room in the Chicago Loop. George wasn't much of a business man but he had one idea that always produced results.

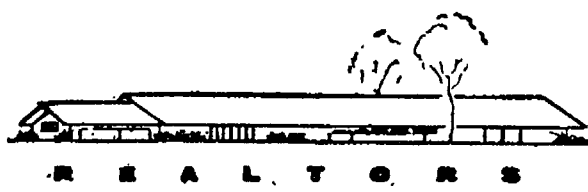

When business got dull, George would call to his helper, "Throw some onions on the grill."

Soon the odor of onions on that sizzling grill would drift through the window onto the sidewalk. One passer-by after another would hesitate, come in, and order a hamburger until business was soon booming again.

WELL, WHAT HAVE ONIONS GOT TO DO WITH REAL ESTATE? Nothing, really. This little story is just our way of throwing onions on the fire—of letting you know we specialize in the sale of Grosse Pointe properties and that the above-pictured home is one of our most attractive offerings.

It is located on one of the finest streets in the Farms—is perfect for entertaining—ample in size to accommodate a large family—yet small enough, by the elimination of 2 bedrooms and 2 baths, to be both cozy and homelike. In short, it represents the ultimate in luxurious living. The price is $110,000.

To Celebrate Week For Voters' League

President Johnson Initiates Observance From September 13 to 19 to Stress Importance of Exerting Power at Polls

"Never underestimate the power of a woman"—when she chooses to use it! Because they feel American women are not using their power at election polls, President Johnson and the League of Women Voters initiated "Women Voters Week" to be celebrated September 13-19.

For the Grosse Pointe League of Women Voters drive is being conducted in the special week's commemoration will mark the beginning of its new season, and its 1964-65 financial year.

"Your Vote Makes a Difference" is a theme of "Women Voters Week," aimed at getting more women registered and pledged to vote and at promoting informed and active participation of all citizens in government. Studies made following the 1960 presidential election revealed that fewer women voted than men—even though women outnumber men in the nation's adult population.

"Women Voters Week" has been proclaimed officially by President Johnson and is endorsed by leaders of both political parties, who seek the week not only as an opportunity for increasing voter registration, but also as a means of getting more women involved in party work.

Mrs. Thomas Snelham of Birmingham, state president of the League, will appear on the "Living Show" on WWJ-TV on Monday, Sept. 14 to discuss "Women Voters Week" in Michigan.

In an effort to foster informed and active participation in government, the League, a national non-partisan organization, surveys local, state and national problems and makes the findings available to the public through numerous publications.

Issues under consideration this year by the Grosse Pointe League are: NATIONAL—(1) The development of human resources. "The evaluation of policies and programs in the U.S. to provide for all persons equality of opportunity in education and employment." (2) United Nations. "Support of U.S. policies which strengthen the UN system and its ability to keep the peace." (3) Foreign Economic policy. "Support of U.S. policies which promote world economic development, maintain sound U.S. economy, and further international and regional cooperation." (4) Water resources. "Support of national policies and procedures which promote comprehensive long range planning for conservation and development of water resources."

STATE—Public welfare: "Study of public welfare and the relationship of federal, state, and local programs." LOCAL—(1) Home rule. "Study and evaluate home rule for Wayne County." (2) School finance. "Study of Grosse Pointe public schools to include financing, use of land and buildings, and exploration of needs for local education beyond high school."

In addition, the Grosse Pointe League provides objective information on candidates and issues in current election campaigns through its Voter Guide, holds rallies and forums where voters and candidates may meet to discuss issues, publishes a directory of elected officials, and provides speakers knowledgeable in local, national, and international affairs to community groups. Another major local project is the publication of "Know Your Grosse Pointe," a comprehensive survey of local government, facilities, and history.

League members participate in this work on a volunteer basis, but funds are required to defray operating costs. These funds are obtained solely from donations from members and friends who wish to encourage the League. Letters have been mailed to 300 prospective contributors requesting their support in the current drive for $2,000. Women who are interested in joining the League and taking part in its activities should contact Mrs. Ralph Kimble, 557 Fisher.

Voters' League Meets Sept. 17

A get-together coffee, a board meeting, and a series of study group meetings will launch the 1964-65 activities of the Grosse Pointe Branch of the American Association of University Women.

Buddy Freidrichs Sweeps World Series of Sailing

By Frank McBride

The worlds series of sailing, the North American Yacht Racing Union finals for the Clifford D. Mallory Trophy was swept by a sensational young man from New Orleans' Southern Yacht Club. Buddy Freidrichs placed first in five races, second in two and third in one of the eight events.

The gods looked favorably on the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club and the local area, weather-wise, last week when we had five consecutive days of good weather. During the week the weather gave the sailors a well-rounded bit of sailing from heavy going to light air. This all added up to make a good test of the crews and boats.

Farms Tankers Receive Awards

Last Monday night the Grosse Pointe Farms Swim Club had its First Annual Banquet, honoring the team as a whole and its outstanding individual members. Seventy-five members were there with their parents.

The team came in second—in the dual meet competition and scored 169 points in the Inter-City meet.

Four trophies were donated to the club and were presented to the four outstanding swimmers on the team.

The Best Attendance Award was presented to Craig Walworth who is nine years old. Coach Les Roddis felt that good attendance to practice is an important part of becoming a good swimmer and Craig who had only missed two practices the whole season had shown the desire to improve his swimming, thus winning the award.

The Most Valuable Swimmer Award in the Inter-City was awarded to the person who had scored the most points in the Inter-City Meet, had kept the team working together as a unit, and took the greatest interest in the individual members of the team. The person's attitude was the most important factor in determining who should receive the award.

The award was presented to Micky Van who is only 14 years old yet took a first in the 50 meter back and a third in the 25-meter fly in the 16 and under age group. She also helped the girls relay take a third in their event.

The Brideau—Noll Award is for the most improved swimmer on the team. This award was presented to Virginia Horne, a nine year old who has improved her time from 26.0 seconds in her first meet for 25-meter free to 18.3 seconds in the Inter-City meet. Also taken into consideration for this award was the person's attendance at practices, attitude towards the team and individual progress in swimming, and how much she had helped the team by scoring points.

The award for the Most Valuable Swimmer of the Grosse Pointe Farms Swim Team was donated by Grays Sport Shop and was the most important award to be presented to a member of the team. This award honors the person who has scored the most points in the dual meets and Inter-City competition, the person who has helped other members of the team improve their swimming, the person who takes an active part in developing his swimming through practice, and the person who has an attitude of being part of a working unit and not just an individual swimmer.

The award was presented to John Fountain who swims in the 11 and 12 year old age group. John scored 26 points in dual meet competition, thus averaging 8.6 points per meet. John, in the Inter-City meet, took a first in the 25-meter fly, and also helped the boys relay set a new Inter-City record by breaking the old one by a full second.

But most important of all John's attendance record shows why he is such a good swimmer. He has only missed three practices during the whole season and has worked very hard to improve himself in swimming at every practice. He has been an inspiration to all who are on the team and has carried the banner of victory when it has wavered.

The banquet ended with a dance contest and dancing continued the rest of the evening. A note of thanks goes to all the parents who helped and also to Mel drums, Farms Market, Gene's Party Store, and to the Grosse Pointe Farms Boat Club for making it a success. All in all everyone had a good time and it will be a memorable event to all who swim this year on the Grosse Pointe Farms Swim Team.

boats were on their way home on the final leg you could count on Freidrichs being in front.

The boats proved to be evenly matched by having only a 10-point spread from the lowest to the highest. All of which proves the Crescent Class boats to be as close a one design class in all ways as any around.

The Southern California crew skippered by Scott Allan with Henry Sprague III and Lanny Coon was another young crew that did very well. Allan's father Robert Allan was raised on Balfour road as a young man. He has lived most of his life in California and is one of the West Coast's ablest sailors. John Garrison who was the alternate is a regular member of the crew of "Copperhead" which his father purchased recently from Charles K-tovic the famous Milwaukee skipper.

At the banquet hosted by the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club each crew member was presented with a Pewter Mug with the GPYC Burgeon on it and engraved for the Mallory Finals. The skipper and crew members of the first and second boats were presented with Revere Bowls by the N.A.Y.R.U. The winning skipper was presented with the magnificent Mallory Trophy to take home for a year.

Following the presentation of the trophies Race Chairman Lynn Steadman read a telegram from the U. S. Olympic Committee nominating Henry Sprague III of the Southern California crew as the Alternate on the U. S. Sailing Team. This came as a complete surprise as Sprague had no prior knowledge of his selection.

The order of finishes is as follows:

- First—G. S. Freidrichs, Jr., New Orleans, 61 1/2 points.
- Second—Scott Allan, Southern California, 45 1/2 points.
- Third—Ronald McFarlane, Seattle, Wash., 38 1/2 points.
- Fourth—Mike Sturgis, Connecticut, 38 points.
- Fifth—Richard Sullivan, Scituate, Mass., 32 points.
- Sixth—Ted Bowser, Quebec, Canada, 32 1/2 points.
- Seventh—Stanley G. Horan, II, New Jersey, 27 points.
- Eighth—Bill Butz, Jr., Slinger, Wisconsin, 14 points.

Hold Swim Meet At Country Club

By Ric Hendee

Swimmers from the Country Club of Detroit finally came out on top. They won every event in their Labor Day Championships and, when it was all over, they triumphantly threw Coach Hal Willard in the pool.

Possibly the reason for such a victory after a season of straight losses is that everyone was finally in top shape. Or it may have been because the only swimmers competing were from C.C.D., kind of an Intra-Club Championships.

Well anyway, there was no doubt about it... Country Club finished first. Nearly 60 tankers swam in the finals which offered races in every stroke for age groups ranging from 6-under to 15-16. The same night at a Swimmer's Banquet a trophy was awarded to the high point winner in each age group.

Winning the trophies, in order of age, were Kim Fruehauf (6-under), Lisa Speer (7-8), Hank Coleman (7-8), Sue Speer (9-10), Dave Chapin (9-10), Lindsey Anderson (11-12), C. T. Fisher (11-12), Fran Nutter (13-14), Steve Hendee (13-14), Marty Blood (15-16) and Ric Hendee (15-16).

But Steve Hendee wasn't satisfied... no, a trophy wasn't enough for him. He also walked away with "The Most Valuable Swimmer" Award and (with his twin sister Nancy) was voted team captain for next year. Marty Blood and Ric Hendee, this summer's captains, announced the new leaders and awarded Coach Hal with a present from the team. Mr. Willard told the swimmers that he will try to be back as coach again next season. The kids answered to this with loud cheering and whistling.

So... C.C.D. finished the summer in fine style and, as one enthusiastic spectator put it, "Last year we won the spirit; this year we won the swimmers; maybe next year we will win the meets."

Woods Sponsors Tennis Tourney

The first annual Grosse Pointe Woods tennis tournament was held recently at Ghesquiere Park under the sponsorship of the Grosse Pointe Woods Department of Parks and Recreation. The tournament was open only to residents of the Woods; there was no age limitation. The most popular matches were the specially organized men's doubles in which an attitude of friendliness and conviviality prevailed. The men's doubles championship was won by C. D. Busbey and D. Keller Sr., who defeated Wm. and Rod Hunter in the finals 6-4, 6-4.

The senior boys championship was a hotly contested match be-

Boat Owners Report Thefts

A thief invaded two boats docked at the Crescent Sail Club during the night of Monday, August 31, and escaped with several valuable articles, according to information given to Farms police.

John P. Goetheus of 5309 Concord, told police that the thief entered his yawl "Gracie," and took a pair of binoculars valued at $25, and a marine radio, valued at $100.

Also missing a pair of binoculars, worth $30, is Clark R. Taylor, of 1712 Hawthorne, owner of the "Wind Song," who told police that another item, an air guide compass, valued at $25, was gone from the boat.

Both boat owners said their crafts were not locked at the time the thefts occurred.

Fishing Rodeo Great Success

On Saturday, August 29, at 8:30 a.m., the gun was shot and George Solomon announced the start of the 10th annual Farms and City Fishing Rodeo. The sun was shining and so were over 300 youngsters who were ready to drop their lines into the water.

The first fish caught was a 6 1/2-inch bass by Steve Jamero of the Farms. The first boy to catch a fish for the City was Gary Kronin who landed an 1 1/2-inch sheepshead.

The first girl to catch a fish was Karen Reinowski from the Farms who caught a 3 1/2-inch bass. The girl anglers of the City had no luck with their lines and sinkers and went home without hooking one fish.

Two girls were tied for catching the largest fish. Both Mimi Mulford and Janice Shank caught 9 1/2-inch sheepsheads and thus had to share their title. The last boy to catch a fish was Mike Mulford and Mike Gotfredson. Each caught three fish, thus receiving the award for catching the most fish. The other double catches of the day were made by Gary Kronin, Stephen Ferry, Francis Klick, Russell St. John, and Dave Fromm. The gun was shot at 10 and the fishing came to an end.

It was now time for the awarding of the prizes. Tom Guarke, director of the City Park made the presentations. A rod and reel were given to Ron Miller and Vicki Kohn from the Farms for catching the largest fish in the Pre-Rodeo. A rod and reel were also given to Gary Kronin and Mary Winkler for catching the largest fish in the Pre-Rodeo from the City.

Tackle boxes were awarded to Tom Noven and Betsy Noven from the Farms, and Chuck Winkler and Mary Winkler from the City for the second largest fish caught in the Pre-Rodeo. Steve Hihlak and Chris Jensen from the Farms, and Jim Bayes and Dave Gruenwald from the City all received lanterns for third place catches.

Awards were then given to the winners of that morning. Mimi Mulford and Janice Shank had their choice of the fabulous prizes which were offered for their biggest fish. Steve Jamiro, Karen Reinowski, Gary Kronin, and Becky Wicklund, each received Silver-tone transistor radios.

After their names were drawn for the rest of the prizes which were awarded to those who had participated that morning. Hot dogs and cokes were given away to everyone and the supply was easily liquidated. This ended for another year the annual Fishing Rodeo.

tween Dick Keller Jr. and Fred Williams. These two boys formerly comprised the number two doubles team for Grosse Pointe High School. Williams finally succeeded in winning 5-7, 6-4, 7-5, 6-4, in a match which featured long, hard volleys and explosive net games.

Other division winners were: In the junior boys, Tom Keller defeated Webster Knight 6-0, 6-1 and Linda Bique captured the senior girls title by defeating Kay Gettschman 3-6, 6-4, 6-4.

All winners and runners-up received beautiful trophies which were donated by The Woods Bike and Hobby Shop.

(used for surgery on July 9, and was anesthetized in the afternoon. However, owing to the lateness of the hour, it was decided not to do any surgery and the dog was placed in the Recovery Room. This dog recovered from the anesthesia and was alive and well the following morning. It was presumably this sleeping dog that Patrolman Mobley said looked dead at the time of his visit.

Some dogs, and some human beings, as they recover from anesthesia, may go through an excitement stage of recovery during which they may cry or make other noises or struggle or thrash about. This behavior is completely unrelated to pain. How, therefore, can the noise made by the dog in question indicate either cruelty or mistreatment of animals? It is unfortunate that neither the hospital, the policemen, nor the janitor called the Detroit Receiving Hospital or the School of Medicine (both in immediate proximity to the laboratory) to report a noisy dog. This simple procedure would have brought a surgical resident from the hospital able to access the true circumstance and deal with it in a professional manner.

To anyone sincerely interested in the truth, there can be no doubt that our policy is to provide first-rate facilities for animals and to give them the best possible care and treatment. This policy has been carried out successfully for many years and we are proud of our record, which is attested to by regular certification by the State Department of Health over many years of rigorous and periodic inspection. This evidence of humane treatment is available to anyone who visits our laboratories. We have and will continue the policy of keeping our animal quarters open at all times to responsible members of the care and welfare of animals, and to any others with legitimate interests. The evaluation report submitted this July by Doctor L. P. Hedeman of the State Department of Health complimented our efforts:

"I inspected the Animal Quarters on the 6th floor of the Research Building, the operating room, and the so-called recovery room in the basement (this is the room in which the reported incident occurred). In general, I would say that these animals are receiving excellent preoperative care. The quarters are especially clean. The animals are well fed and show every indication that they are receiving excellent care. Most of the cages are adequate in size; they have a few small ones that should be replaced. I examined approximately one-fourth of the dogs in the large ward and all the dogs in the quarantine area, and in every instance when the cage doors were opened the dogs would come right to me to be petted showing that they were used to this treatment rather than sniveling in the cage or growling or snapping, indicating that they have been abused."

Finally, a word about the charges to which we have been subjected. False charges are damaging. They take time to refute and the refutation never receives the same publicity. No matter what is said and done, a certain number of people remain unconvinced because they were anxious to believe the original charge and are unwilling or unable to make an objective analysis.

The societies who distributed the publicity acted in a manner that convinces me they are not interested in the truth. The almost immediate distribution without any real attempt to obtain both sides of the story, the distortion and malicious statements, the obvious attempts to mislead, and their complete blindness to our proven record of humane care and treatment of animals, all convince me that the societies and the people who believe these charges are not really interested in animals. They are against human beings and medical progress.

Harvest Moon Ends Summer

This year's Harvest Moon has an added special feature: its first appearance will be on the last day of summer, September 21st.

Although the Harvest Moon is the full moon that occurs nearest the date of the autumnal equinox, September 22, it seldom comes the day before the equinox.

"The Harvest Moon is different from those of other months, in that the delay in rising from night to night is short," University of Michigan astronomer Hazel M. Losh says.

On the average, the moon rises nearly an hour later each night, but this delay varies considerably during the year due to the angle that the moon's path makes with the eastern horizon.

In the autumn, this retardation is the shortest of the whole year, being around 20 minutes in contrast to more than an hour in the spring, and becomes very noticeable.

The apparently larger size of the full moon near the horizon is an optical illusion, and again has nothing to do with the moon itself, Professor Losh points out.

The visitor to pause and view American life as it was during the 18th century.

Many of the nation's leading antique dealers are coming to Detroit to display the finest items from their collections, which represent a vast cross section of America's past.

History will seem to come alive as you walk along the rows of exhibit tables. Farm implements used to cultivate America's soils will be found alongside silverware and furniture used to grace the "drawing room" of the 18th century's finest homes.

Whether you are an avid collector of fine antiques, or merely interested in browsing over these fine examples of Americana, you will find the daily hours from 12 noon to 10 p.m. will introduce you to many interesting items and provide you with several hours of enjoyment at the Detroit Antique Show and Sale.

Letters to the Editor

I am writing to applaud your very fine editorial "How Long Must This Go On," calling attention to the tragic need of humane legislation to protect research animals from cruelty. I only wish your message could be shouted from every housetop!

Each year Congress pours millions of dollars into laboratories where dogs, cats and other animals are used in scientific research, yet no federal legislation protects these animals from cruelty. Because laboratories receiving federal assistance are not subject to local control, humane societies are not only helpless to enforce humane measures, but are frequently refused admission.

The shocking incident mentioned in your editorial concerning laboratory indifference to the agonized dog in the basement laboratory at Wayne University Medical School in Detroit is no isolated instance. The disgraceful treatment of laboratory animals in laboratories all over the country is a matter of record.

Legislation which will give research animals some guarantee of human protection has been gathering dust in committee, in Washington. This legislation does not hamper research but insures research animals adequate housing and food, decent treatment and humane care in the conduct of research work. In the name of human decency, this legislation should be enacted.

I echo the plea of your editorial and ask readers to please write their Congressmen, urging that bills for humane treatment of research animals be removed from committee and that such legislation receive their support.

KATHERINE S. SMITH

To the Editor:

After talking to quite a number of Grosse Pointe City residents and attending an open Council meeting I find that very few understand just what the City contemplates buying from the Neighborhood Club should the $200,000 bond issue be approved.

The City won't be buying the Neighborhood Club. The purchase would not include the building, the tennis courts, the Thrift Shop or the parking lot across the street.

The purchase would include the vacant property extending from a line drawn at the back of the tennis courts parallel to Waterloo to Charlevoix except three lots at St. Clair and Charlevoix which the Club does not own.

This amounts to 6.07 acres at a price of about 33,000 per acre. I believe this will answer the questions raised by many.

Naval Air Station Fetes Midshipmen

Midshipman Second Class Jack W. Stephenson, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Stephenson of 475 Fisher road, was a recent guest of the Naval Air Station, Pensacola, Fla., for a three-day introduction to Naval aviation.

Along with other members of his NROTC class from the Naval Academy, he was given an extensive tour of the Pensacola Naval Air Complex which included visits to the School of Aviation Medicine and the Survival Exhibit.

Also while in Pensacola, he was given the opportunity to take demonstration flights in T-34 Primary Training aircraft at the Naval Auxiliary Air Station, Sauley Field.

BITTEN BY DOG
While playing in the backyard at 318 Rivard boulevard, Kathleen Bott, age 8, of 492 Rivard boulevard, was bitten on the left elbow by a Brittany Spaniel and treated. The owner of the dog, Charles Ohlsson, 318 Rivard boulevard, was notified by City police to keep the dog under surveillance for 12 days.

Ladies who attend the season's first luncheon at DYC September 15 will learn (as if there could be any doubt) that diamonds really are a girl's best friend . . . and that, in their absence, pearls, rubies, and sapphires can almost take their place. This fascinating information will be gleaned during the fashion part of the day at which time the theme will be "Elegance in Diamonds," and outstanding ensembles of jewelry for daytime or evening wear will be featured.

Six local ladies will be modeling jewels ranging in value from $900 to $350,000. Perhaps one of our local models will wear the famous Hapsburg tiara, valued at a quarter of a million dollars or carry an evening bag made of 18 carat white and yellow gold mesh and decorated with platinum and diamonds.

Among the local models will be wives of DYC commodores. Mrs. John Carter will model an ensemble of dark blue sapphires and diamonds. Mrs. Wilford Gmeiner's ensemble will feature a bracelet of emeralds and diamonds; and Mrs. George Levette will wear a diamond and emerald choker.

Other members who will model ensembles of pearls, diamonds and other precious stones, include the Mesdames Richard Daley, Carl Schweikart, and George Currutt.

The following poem on September has been submitted by Mary Louise Anderson, of Cranford lane:

Apples dropping from the trees dead leaves floating in the breeze
in September
Beauty under brilliant moons or soft light of hazy moons
in September
Melons ripening on the vine atmosphere like rare old wine
in September
Pack your grip and take a ride come look at the countryside
in September

Mrs. John M. Bonds, of St. Paul avenue, made a hole-in-one September 1 while golfing at Lakepointe Country Club. She was on number 7 hole.

Park Police Cpl. George Blair was patrolling the streets in a scout car on Wednesday, September 2, and gave this version of what happened when he stopped a woman motorist to James J. Njaim, NEWS police reporter.

Blair said that he stopped a woman driver for being too close to a car in front of her.

The woman apparently knew what she had been stopped for, but attempted to avoid getting a violation ticket with a quick abili. "Did you see how close that idiot ahead was driving in front of me?" she asked innocently.

Blair said she got a ticket.

PILFERINGS

During an intermission of "The Skin of Our Teeth," Thornton Wilder's symbolic and frequently puzzling play, a woman was heard to ask her husband what it was all about. "It's about the troubles of the human race since time began," he told her.

"Oh," she said, "there must be more to it than that."

Adlai Stevenson, U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations, told a group that the mail he received after the Cuban debate reminded him of the way the late Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt described her mail after she appeared on a television commercial for margarine.

"It was about equally divided," he quoted her as saying. "One half was sad because I had damaged my reputation. The other half was happy because I had damaged my reputation."

Moss Hart was showing his wife, Kitty Carlisle, around their magnificent new Palm Springs estate. Suddenly the playwright-director looked at her quizzically and said, "It just occurs to me that you've stuck to me through thick."

NATHAN B. GOODNOW OF HANDY ROAD

By Betty Collins

When the 9,500 members of the State Bar of Michigan selected Nathan B. Goodnow to be their president last year, they chose a man who possessed, in rare amount, the ability to represent each and every lawyer; whether he be of urban or of rural origin, of liberal or traditional persuasion, an established practicing attorney or a "Young Turk" fresh from the Bar examination.

For Mr. Goodnow, of Handy road, is what is known in almost any circle as "a good guy." He goes out of his way to be helpful to the people he encounters, and to remember them. He is also a respected attorney who is well known for his learning, diligence, and integrity. For these reasons, he has been a popular State Bar president, and one whose opinions will continue to be sought after he retires from his office at the end of this month.

Mr. Goodnow is a partner in the Detroit law firm of Dykema, Wheat, Spencer, Goodnow and Trigg, which he joined in 1933. He describes the event as "one of the greatest breaks of my life." At the time, the firm had 7 members; now there are 31.

Longest Jury Trial
Until 1947, Mr. Goodnow spent most of his time in labor law, on the management side, and in trial work. At that time he participated in the defense of Dr. William F. Koch in a cause celebre which became the longest jury trial in the history of Michigan. It lasted five months and ended in a hung jury. Mr. Goodnow lost 17 pounds trying it and as a result, deliberately altered his course to general corporate work. Two or three years ago, however, he decided he couldn't resist the trial bar any longer and now supplements his corporate practice with trial work.

Mr. Goodnow's personal approach to the practice of law is a blend of the traditionalist and the innovator. He notes that we're in a world of speedy changes that affect the law no less than they affect the professions of medicine or science. We must recognize, says Mr. Goodnow, that there must be more innovation than before we entered this age of rapid changes. For this reason, he believes that recent court decisions which have taken into account sociological factors, as did the historic U.S. Supreme Court segregation decision, are not liberal or radical, but are instead realistic, an indication that the law is growing to meet the changing times.

Raps Political Decisions
Mr. Goodnow is critical of court decisions which obviously are made on the basis of political considerations. "I feel it proper to criticize the current tendency on the part of certain appellate courts to be divided along strictly political partisan lines," he said.

"My conception of a great jurist is one who has the wisdom and the courage to arrive at his conclusion exclusively from his own conscience, rather than from his own political party."

Mr. Goodnow feels that the Federal approach to selecting judges by appointment is superior to the traditional state approach, continued by the new Michigan constitution, which arranges for the election of judges.

"Every good judge must have courage," he said. "And a judge who is constantly faced with another election is called upon in many cases to have courage that is almost superhuman."

Although Mr. Goodnow considers himself a conservative in most matters, he considers himself a liberal when it comes to racial and religious matters.

SUPPORTED FOE
He supported former Detroit Police Commissioner George

Edwards for his appointment as Federal Judge, despite the fact that the two men are of different political leanings; that they spent years of their lives on opposite sides of the labor-management bargaining tables; and that Mr. Goodnow's law firm put Judge Edwards in jail when he was a young labor leader.

On racial matters, Mr. Goodnow believes that if the moderate white can control the extremist white and the moderate colored man can control the extremist colored, the revolution with which we are being faced can be kept off the sidewalk. He rejects the concept of "tins for he feels that they are an extreme device."

"My admiration is for the Negro leadership which has the courage to insist on an avoidance of extremism," says Mr. Goodnow. "This takes great courage because of the restiveness within that element among the Negroes which seeks unrealistically rapid progress."

Cites Great Leaders

He considers Judge Wade McCree, William Patrick, Damon Keith, Judge Charles Farmer, and Judge Elvin Davenport to be examples of outstanding Detroit Negro leaders.

During Mr. Goodnow's term as president of the State Bar of Michigan, the organization has led the Bars of all the other states in the adoption of a strong civil rights position.

Mr. Goodnow has also provided leadership in answering a recent request from the U.S. Court of Appeals in Cincinnati. Judge Weick asked that the presidents of the 4 state bar associations in this federal district develop plans by which the State Bar would gratuitously provide legal counsel to indigent appellants in criminal cases.

The Michigan Bar immediately adopted a plan and within the next month will have led the four state bars into a general plan providing the U.S. Court of Appeals with the required assistance.

It will be the first plan of its kind in the country and will serve as a model to other state bars.

The problem has become a national one as a result of the Gideon case and other recent U.S. Supreme Court decisions.

At White House

Last year, before the death of President John F. Kennedy, Mr. Goodnow represented the State Bar at the Presidential Conference on Civil Rights. An inspiring meeting in the Blue Room in the White House was followed, says Mr. Goodnow, with a reception with the President in the rose garden. This was followed by one of the lighter moments in the life of a State Bar president.

Mr. Goodnow asked the late President where he might find a telephone. Mr. Kennedy offered the use of the Presidential office and Mr. Goodnow walked inside. He contended himself with a "gander" of the desk and the famous mementos on top and stepped out to a phone in the corridor.

Mr. Goodnow was having some difficulty in arranging the reservation he was seeking and the reservations clerk offered to put him on a waiting list. She asked where she might call him.

Picture Changes Fast
"Well," said Mr. Goodnow, "I am calling from the White House." By a sudden stroke of "coincidence" the reservations agent suddenly was informed of a "cancellation" and Mr. Goodnow was winging his way home to Detroit within a very short time.

Another of Mr. Goodnow's lighter moments, in retrospect at least, was the time the State Bar had a controversy with the "Dr. Kildare" TV show. One of the disliked portions was a line spoken by "Dr. Gillespie," quoting Shakespeare, Henry VI: "The first thing we do, let's kill all lawyers."

After the resulting row with Mr. Goodnow and others, the show's producers agreed to seek the approval of the American Bar Association's legal advisory committee on motion pictures and television rather than tangling with the legal profession again.

Within his own profession, Mr. Goodnow reserves a great respect for the young attorneys of Dr. Kildare's vintage. He feels that they are serious minded and so well prepared for the practice of law that the comparison between the young lawyers of today and those of 30 years ago "is odious."

Romney Admirer

Mr. Goodnow also has great admiration for one specific person outside of his profession, Gov. George Romney. "I admire the Governor's willingness to make personal sacrifices for causes regarded by him as helpful to his fellow man," says Mr. Goodnow. Gov. Romney also possesses three great strengths: physical endurance, mental vigor and spiritual power."

"Physical endurance" has long been on Mr. Goodnow's list of desirable attributes. He was a football star at the University of Detroit and was selected as an all-star for the all time great U. of D. football team. While in college he was winner of the Scallen award for the athlete with the highest scholastic standing.

Mr. Goodnow made a further name for himself in the sports world of Detroit by captaining teams in swimming and water polo at the Detroit Athletic Club and in rowing at the Detroit Boat Club. His rowing team still holds the record for the Detroit River course and missed qualifying for the Olympics in 1932 in a photo finish.

Thanked by Mayor

Mr. Goodnow continues to be interested in athletics as a spectator and participant. He was an active supporter in Detroit's unsuccessful bid for the Olympics.

These days Mr. Goodnow pursues sports actively at Otsego Ski Club, Country Club of Detroit, DAC, and the International Fishing Club.

The Goodnows' son, Dan, follows in his father's athletic footsteps. He was an All-American inter-scholastic swimmer at G.P.H.S. and at Wellston Academy in the East. He was a varsity swimmer at Colgate and has just earned his master's degree in business administration at the University of Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Goodnow, also have a daughter, Judith Dorothy, who attended Newton College of the Sacred Heart and who is an interior decorator. Both children live at home.

NAB YOUNG SHOPLIFTER

The manager of Kresge's in The Village called City police on September 1 to report that he was holding a shoplifter. Officers picked up a Detroit boy, age 13, for larceny of a can of blue spray paint, cost 69 cents. The parents were called to pick the boy up, and he was released to his mother.
