SOUTH CAROLINA'S SENATOR Strom Thurmond left the Democratic party Wednesday night and firmly endorsed Goldwater Republicanism, "because the party of our fathers is dead." Meantime Senator Goldwater welcomed South Carolina's segregationist leader to the fold and called on Southern Democrats to follow suit. Goldwater hailed Thurmond as "one of the great Americans."

SPEAKING IN SEATTLE, Wash., Wednesday night, President Johnson said that the nation's nuclear defense system is too intricate, too intertwined in world politics and too awesome in its destructive capacity for any part of it to be controlled by any person other than the President. Johnson went to Seattle after a quick visit to Vancouver, B.C. and a ceremony at Blaine, Wash., marking the official ratification of the Columbia River development treaty. He and Canadian Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson stressed friendship, collaboration and peace during the ceremony.

BRIG. GENERAL LAM Van Phat, last of the leaders of last September 13's attempted coup to remain at large, surrendered to the government of Premier Nguyen Khanh yesterday. He was placed under arrest with four other coup chiefs. It is thought that all five will be tried and punished. Meantime Gen. Khanh and the young generals who supported him meted out penalties and rewards in a shakeup of South Viet Nam's American-advised military command structure.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON DISCLOSED in Sacramento, Calif., yesterday that the United States has developed two new defense systems which can intercept and destroy nuclear bomb-carrying satellites while they are circling the earth in space. He also revealed that defense scientists have perfected a new "over-the-horizon" radar which will literally look around the curve of the earth, alerting us to aircraft and especially missiles within seconds after they are launched."

THE NEW CIVIL RIGHTS LAW suffered its first setback Thursday when a Birmingham, Ala., three-judge Federal panel ruled that the public accommodations section is unconstitutional when applied to a restaurant not engaged in interstate commerce. The decision was counter to the one returned earlier by a three-judge Federal panel that heard two similar cases in Atlanta involving the Pickrick Restaurant and the Heart of Atlanta Motel. The Pickrick closed its doors rather than comply but the motel followed the court's order. The U.S. immediately moved to appeal Thursday's ruling to the U.S. Supreme Court.

A NEW THREE YEAR contract was agreed upon this morning by the Ford Motor Co. and the United Automobile Workers. UAW President Walter P. Reuther and Ford's chief negotiator, Malcolm L. Denise, vice-president of labor relations, bargained right down to the brink of a 10 a.m. strike deadline. The new contract, similar to the recent agreement between the UAW and Chrysler Corp., covers 124,000 Ford hourly workers—almost half of them in the Detroit area.

SECRETARY OF DEFENSE Robert McNamara confirmed reports of another incident in the Gulf of Tonkin off Vietnam yesterday. He declined to comment on whether any shooting was involved but said there were no losses of men and property. Unofficial reports claimed that two United States destroyers fired on unidentified atackers Friday. Later, the Communist Red China News Agency quoted the North Vietnamese Foreign Ministry as saying that on Thursday and Friday the United

City Studies Ways To Finance Sewer Systems Project

State Insisting on Immediate Action to Keep Pollution Out of Lake and Basements; Voters Turned Down Bond Proposal

Spurred by the September defeat of a General Obligation Bond issue for the construction of improvements to the sanitary and drain sewer systems and a letter from the Michigan Department of Health, members of Grosse Pointe City's Council said at its Tuesday night meeting that it was studying in depth other means of financing the necessary solution to the City's sewage problems.

The City Fathers pointed out that they have no choice as to whether to repair and improve the sanitary and sewer system. Their only choice lies in what method for financing the work will be fiscally soundest and cheapest for the taxpayers.

State Is Insistent

The necessity for action on the pressing problem was pinpointed by a letter to the Clerk and Council of the City from Donald M. Pierce, chief of the wastewater section in the division of engineering of the Michigan Department of Health. It was read by Mayor David E. Burgess to the Council and approximately 18 interested citizens attending the meeting.

The full text of the letter follows:

Order Study On Parking Along Mack

Proprietors of Business Establishments Complain About Shortage Of Space For Cars

The Woods council on Monday, September 21, heard a petition on behalf of 10 store proprietors with businesses between Kenmore and Oxford, along Mack avenue, in which they beg for relief from an intolerable parking condition, which they claim is driving away customers.

Speaking on behalf of the proprietors was Clarence E. Luber of 628 Hawthorne, owner of the property on which the stores stand.

He said that when the stores were built, ample parking space was provided at the rear with an asphalt paving lot, to accommodate customers of the business establishments involved.

Approximately a year ago, Luber told the council, an ice cream sales room moved into a building adjacent to the stores he owns, or has under long term lease, and this concern is doing a volume business.

Traffic Very Heavy

The problem, Luber said, is that the ice cream parlor, which has no adequate parking facilities for its customers, has created extremely heavy traffic and parking conditions, wherein

State Parley Okays Probe Of Election

Anti-Durant Forces Win Tentative Victory At Convention; Hearing Set For Friday

The Republican leadership fight in the "Fighting 14th" Congressional District moves into Wayne County Circuit Court this week.

A hearing Friday will determine whether the Republican State Central Committee is empowered to investigate the disputed election of officers of the district's GOP organization.

A battle over the election at the district convention September 12 spilled over into the GOP state convention last weekend at Cobo Hall. It resulted in tentative victory for Republicans lined up against Richard Durant, chairman and long-time boss of the 14th District organization.

The convention authorized the State Central Committee to check into the election. Durant will ask the court to block the investigation.

Waldron Heads Group

State Rep. Robert E. Waldron of Grosse Pointe, Wayne County Republican chairman, headed a group that asked the state convention to okay an investigation.

The petitioners, members of Republican Citizens—14th District, contend they were denied their right to vote on Durant and other district officers. They said Durant rejected demands for a roll-call vote, declared himself and other officers elected, then rushed from the convention hall after ordering the lights turned out.

Durant, asserting that the election followed the rules of the convention, caught his opponents by surprise at the state convention. Shortly before the convention's resolutions committee began work Saturday morning, he obtained an order from Circuit Judge Theodore Bohn restraining the committee from taking up the matter, and the convention from acting on it. Judge Bohn modified his order, but in the meantime word of the dispute had come to Justice Michael O'Hara of the State Supreme Court, who was attending the convention. He rescinded the order after polling several other members of the Supreme Court.

Durant Forces Protest

The resolution calling for the investigation then went before the full convention, where it was submitted to a voice vote. Convention Chairman Charles Lyle, Oakland County Republican chairman, ruled that it had been adopted despite loud protests and demands for a roll-call vote by Durant and his allies.

"It was a disgrace the way this resolution was railroaded through," stormed Durant. "This whole maneuver was propaganda pure and simple, an attempt to pre-judge the case.

"The State Central Committee has no legal right whatsoever to investigate the results of a district or county political party convention. Power to change the results of an election would amount to complete dictatorship."

State Republican Chairman Arthur G. Elliott said he would await the outcome of Friday's court hearing before making the next move. He said he would appoint a committee to make the investigation if the court ruled against Durant.

14 Students At HS Win High Honors

Principal Gerich Announces Semi-Finalists In Annual Merit Scholarship Competition

Principal Jerry J. Gerich of Grosse Pointe High School has announced that 14 of the school's students have been named Semifinalists in the 1964-65 Merit Scholarship competition.

He said they became Semifinalists through their outstanding performance on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test. This test of educational development was given in more than 17,000 high schools last March.

Among State's Brightest

They are among 14,000 seniors throughout the country who attained Semi-finalist status. The Semifinalist group is composed of the highest scoring students in each state and in United States territories. Each Semifinalist now moves a step closer to winning a four-year Merit Scholarship to the college of his choice. Semifinalists must substantiate their qualifying test performance on

Parents Told to Encourage Children to Walk to School To Cut Traffic Congestion

Crossing Guards' Duties Made Difficult By Vast Flow Of Cars; Bicycle Riding Also Frowned Upon When Not Necessary

Well-meaning parents who drive their children to school, when the school is within easy walking distance from home, are urged to permit their children the "luxury" of walking to classes, in the interest of safety.

Woods Police Lt. Roland Symons, traffic safety officer, disclosed that since the crossing guards resumed their duties at the beginning of the school semester, they are confronted with the usual problems of cars blocking crosswalks, and congestion caused by parents driving their youngsters to school.

The lieutenant urged on Monday, September 21, that parents of children living within walking distance permit their offspring to walk to school.

Cyclists Also Warned

Also, he said, children should be discouraged from riding their bicycles to and from school if they live within walking distance.

"Give that second car a rest," the lieutenant said, "and at the same time you will be helping your youngster find his way in the world.

"Walking to and from school with his friends is all part of growing up, and children shouldn't be deprived of this privilege. Another car in the school area, while children are attempting to cross, only adds to the job of the crossing guard, and makes the streets more hazardous for all concerned.

At 12 Locations

"This problem occurs at 12 locations in our city, where our guards cross children," he added.

Too, Symons pointed out, bicycling is for fun and a great convenience for today's children, but youngsters shouldn't be burdened with them while trying to make their way through traffic on their way to their respective schools.

He recommended that parents discourage their children from riding to and from school, if they live wthin walking distance.

His recommendations were endorsed by the Woods Citizens Traffic Safety Commission.

REVOLVER MISSING

Charles Slear of 1740 Anita, informed Woods police on Sunday, September 20, that a six-shot Smith-Wesson revolver, Serial No. 5-255499, was stolen from his gun cabinet. He said he last saw the weapon on September 16.

My Fair Lady Plays Un-Fare

A woman fare asked a cabbie to wait for her while she got some money to pay him, and left a box on a seat as security. The woman failed to return, and the box—it was empty.

Clarence Banks of 87 East Canfield, Detroit, told Woods police on Tuesday, September 15, that he picked up the woman fair—oops, fare—at Van Dyke and East Jefferson, Detroit, at about 2:50 a.m., and drove her to 1780 Beaufait.

Banks said that the woman informed him that she was going into the house to get the money to pay him, and left a small cardboard box on the rear seat, which she said, she would leave as security.

After a patient wait, Banks surmised that the woman was not coming back, and he called police.

When the police arrived, Banks opened the box, and found it empty. He told officers that he did not actually see the woman enter the house, but she did walk around to the side of the house. That, he said, was the last he saw of her.

The cabbie said the woman was white, had light brown hair, was about 24 years old, and wearing a brown car coat and low heel shoes.

How much was the cab fare? The driver reported the loss at $3.50.

Landscaping Of Library Completed

Extensive Planting Done To Enhance New Building On High School Campus

Landscaping at the Wicking Library on the campus of Grosse Pointe High School was completed over the week end, school officials reported today.

Included in the recently completed project, designed to enhance the appearance of the red brick octagonal structure, are three areas in the vicinity of the building and its approaches.

Extending from the south wing of the main building, along the sidewalks adjacent to the southwest corner of the recently completed parking lot, 70 shrubs of the Thuja Occidentalis variety have been placed. These were set in the ground three feet apart.

Duplicate Plantings Made

Around the building itself, especially on the three sides facing Grosse Pointe boulevard, many attractive plantings have been planned. Duplicate planting on the right and left sides of the front are three Hicks Yews, six Dwarf Japanese Yews, two Spreading Eunonymous, 150 Purpleleaf Wintercreeper plants and two Schwedler Maples.

Flanking the floor length windows and the door facing Grosse Pointe Boulevard are 10 Japanese Yews, 650 Periwinkles, and bordering the concrete sidewalk are 29 Hick Yews planted 30 inches apart.

Small Garden Created

At the northeast corner of the Wicking Library a small triangular garden has been planned. Its boundaries are the sidewalk, the back of the building, and the covered passageway.

The focal point of the garden is an area of brick paving in basket or herringbone pattern adjacent to the sidewalk. Two benches are planned for the outside patio.

Plantings in the section include a Dwarf Japanese Yew, 15 Glossy Wintercreepers, 30 Bigleaf Wintercreepers, a Skyline Honey Locust, 10 Ground Coton easters, 250 Periwinkles, and 1,200 Japanese Pachysandras.

BIKE STRIPPED

Donald Fromm of 320 Belanger, a St. Paul School student, informed Farms police on Monday, September 14, that an unknown thief stripped off and took the gear shift assembly of his Schwinn bicycle, left in the bike rack on the school grounds.

Burglar Invades Pointe Church

The burglar, or burglars, who broke into the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, 16 Lake Shore, during the early morning of Thursday, September 17, did not leave empty handed, and caused some damage, according to Farms police.

The breakin was discovered by Edgar Meyer of 31941 Williamberg, Detroit, the janitor, who told police that he came to work at 7:45 a.m., and found the glass of the rear door of the church broken. Police said entrance was gained by the rear door.

The burglar used a pry bar to force open doors of three offices, and to open desk drawers, police said.

Patrolman Joseph Miller, who was dispatched to the church when the burglary was reported, said that he checked the west side of the building, and evidence disclosed that the thief had initially attempted to enter through a window on that side.

Church officials revealed, at the time, that nothing appeared to have been stolen, but the thief caused about $100 in damage to the rear door jamb, while trying to pry open the door, before breaking the door glass.

The Rev. Cary Gruber, associate pastor of the church, informed police later Thursday, that approximately $60 to $70 was taken from the left top drawer of his desk; and also a transistor radio, valued at $17.

Two Accidents At Intersection

Two separate accidents occurred at the corner of East Jefferson and Cadieux on Friday, September 18.

In the first, Antonio Terrana of 22211 Shore Pointe, St. Clair Shores, driving west on Jefferson, failed to stop at a red light at Cadieux and struck a car driven by Gertrude Powers of 880 Hidden lane.

Extensive damage was done to both cars. Mrs. Powers, who suffered back injuries, was taken to Bon Secours for treatment and later released. Mr. Terrana was issued a violation ticket for reckless driving.

Later in the day, Sally Pittman of 70 Renaud drive made a right turn from East Jefferson onto Cadieux, with the green light, but was forced to stop suddenly for a truck. Her car was struck by Willie White of 3157 Hunt, Detroit.

City Council Disappointed Over Bond Issue Defeats

An otherwise routine meeting of the Grosse Pointe City Council on Monday, September 21, ended on a note of determination.

After completing the assigned business of the evening, it became apparent to observers that the Council would like to put themselves on record as disappointed with the defeat of the recent City Bond Issues but determined to continue its efforts to implement the Bagby Report and to place before the citizenry the story of the needs of Grosse Pointe City.

Expressing pride in being a member of a Council which was sufficiently forthright to place the sum total needs before the citizens of the community, Councilman Ernest B. Kelly, Jr. said that perhaps the Council could be accused of being naive or not sufficiently skilled politically by presenting the full package at one time. "This might be regarded as an error in judgment," he said, "but it was motivated by sincere, honest conviction."

He went on to say he was sorry that the issues (bond) were defeated and that while he was certain that many people voted against them on the basis of their own personal convictions, he feels many people were misinformed and that the motives of persons who misinformed their fellow citizens should be questioned. He said, "We shall further attempt to continue to place before the citizens of the community their total needs."

GP Senior Men's Club Celebrates 5th Birthday

The Senior Men's Club of Grosse Pointe celebrated its fifth birthday with an election of new officers and directors on Tuesday, September 22. The new president is George Cassaboom.

The organization was formed in 1959, with 10 men as charter members. Today, the club boasts a membership of 435, and is still growing.

In addition to its luncheon activities, card playing, bowling, and "To See Trips," the group has many noteworthy speakers and picture programs.

On Tuesday, September 8, club members viewed the picture, "Dust and Destiny," through the courtesy of Herman Weckler, a member, and an active supporter of the organization.

In the months to come, many interesting and varied activities will be planned, such as member Dr. Irwin Johnson's "Thanksgiving Message"; and Rev. George Whitney's "AA and Youth Problems." Also a future speaker will be Inspector Potts of the Detroit Police Department.

On October 13, John B. Quirk will be the guest speaker. His topic will be "Something Controversial—Lookout!"

For the retiree, the Senior Men's Club is the organization to join. With so many joining, who knows, perhaps the membership might double within the next five years.

The group meets semi-monthly, the second and fourth Tuesdays of every month, at the William Fries Auditorium, 32 Lake Shore road.

Woods Woman Is Theft Victim

Clothing valued at $450 was stolen recently from a Woods resident who was shopping at the Eastland Center.

Victim of the theft is Linda Ann Becker of 20057 Berns court, who told Eastland Center police that the clothing had been left in her car, parked in the Center's lot. She said the theft occurred within a period of 20 minutes, the length of time she was gone.

The thief pried open the vent window and opened the car door and removed the clothing, which the woman had just had dry cleaned. The clothing is valued at a total of $450.

City Council Disappointed Over Bond Issue Defeats

Councilman G. Gordon Cook, then defended the Bagby Report and pointed out that it had engaged the commission at the suggestion of respected citizens for the purpose of formulating an objective plan which could be used as a reasonable guide in attempting to maintain the prime residential character of the City of Grosse Pointe.

He expressed disappointment that some citizens were critical of the Council's actions when it attempted to utilize the judgment of competent, professional city planners. He also expressed the hope, however, that residents of the community could develop the practice of taking a long range total point of view when evaluating the Bagby Report. In addition, he said that he hoped citizens would not discount the full impact of the good within the report simply because they are not in agreement with one or two specific items.

City Manager John M. Cantwell noted that there are three copies of the Bagby Report at the Grosse Pointe Public Library for study by interested citizens.

Earlier in the meeting the Council refused to grant permission to Neels Shoe Stores, Inc. to construct a sign 77 square feet in size which would have exceeded the 35 square feet ordinance limitation.

Mayor David E. Burgess appointed Councilman William Hurley to the Election Commission, in other action. Other members of the commission include Councilman Cook and City Clerk Cantwell.

A letter from the Citizens Committee for the Planning and Study of Grosse Pointe Community Needs, commending the Council for its leadership in the recent elections, was read before the Council. In its letter to the Council, the Committee pledged its continuous efforts "to support any measure advocated by the City Council, when directed towards keeping the City of Grosse Pointe a fine residential community."

A question raised by Mrs. Dorothy Eckert of 408 Notre Dame about the existence of a City planning commission sparked a discussion leading to a decision to write William Kessler, a member of the Park's Planning Commission and secretary of the Citizens Committee for the Planning and Study of Grosse Pointe Community Needs, for suggestions on procedures on establishing such a commission.

Mayor Burgess said that the only planning commission in existence at present is the Mayor and the Council. There was general agreement among the Council that the possibility of establishing a commission be investigated.

William Westine, of 676 University place and head of the City's Little League, asked if the Council had any information on the status and plans of the Neighborhood Club. He was told that the Club is now without a plan but that the City is keeping in close touch with the Neighborhood Club Board.

Mayor Burgess also said that the Board is aware of the intent of the city to hold the land for recreational purposes and that he is sure it will keep the Council informed of any action.

Two Cars Tangle At Intersection

A ticket for reckless driving was issued to Mary Ileane Gagnon of 2100 Van Antwerp on September 15 after she drove into traffic on Mack avenue at the corner of St. Clair from a cross-over and was struck by a car, driven by Mark R. Lusk, of 9154 Sherwood, Detroit.

Mrs. Gagnon had made a left turn from Mack onto the cross-over, moved into the traffic when a third car made a short left turn onto the cross-over and she attempted to make room for the third car.

Burglars Invade Eight Homes in Woods, Shores

Woods police disclosed that a burglar invaded three homes in their community; and the Shores police reported five burglaries and one attempted burglary. The Woods incidents took place after midnight on Saturday, September 19, and the Shores, after midnight, Monday, September 21.

Woods and Shores officers investigating the crimes, said that the burglaries were similar to those committed by the "cat burglar," but it is very doubtful that the "cat" was involved.

The nocturnal intruder in the Saturday and Monday night episodes, only rifled purses and wallets found in rooms, other than in bedrooms, it was disclosed; whereas, the "cat" brazenly walks into bedrooms while occupants are asleep, to search for loot.

The occupants of the homes in the Woods told police that nothing appeared to be missing from their homes, or wallets.

Entered were the homes of Dr. Paul Kowalehuk, 19673 Blossom lane; Sam Green, 19700 Blossom lane; and Harry Coppin, 1724 Allard. Entries into the homes were made while the residents were asleep.

In the Shores, Chief Fred Duemling expressed doubt that the burglar responsible for the Woods crimes, was the same who entered five homes in his community, and attempted to enter another.

The chief said that investigations are still underway, and that in each case, the burglar pilfered money from purses and wallets. He did not disclose how much was taken from each victim, but said that the cash stolen totals approximately $150.

The unsuccessfully entry was at the home of Joseph Schwartz, 25 Blairmoor, the chief said. Pry marks were found on the rear door.

The burglar succeeded in gaining entrance into the homes of Gerald Jordan, 12 Blairmor; George Crane, Jr., 15 Moorland; John Grieger, 25 Moorland; John Bett, 931 Lake Shore; and Robert F. Weber, 992 Lake Shore.

A woman living in the neighborhood, called police and reported that she was about to take her dog for a walk about 1:30 a.m., when she observed a young, tall male Negro standing near a gate leading to the rear of her property. Police found footprints in the dirt near the gate, but were unable to locate the stranger.

Harper Woods police reported two breakins similar to those in the Shores, both of which occurred Monday night, Chief Duemling said.

a second examination, be endorsed by their schools, and fulfill certain routine requirements to become Finalists. All Merit Scholars are selected from the Finalist group.

"Semifinalists are representative of our country's most intellectually able young people," said John M. Stalnaker, president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

"They possess the talents and qualities necessary for leadership in the future. They are resourceful, hard-working, and ambitious.

Received Encouragement

"In honoring them for their attainments, we should recognize also that others have contributed significantly to their success by encouraging the characteristics which produce high achievement. The Semifinalists thus bring honor not only to themselves, but also to their families, their teachers, and their communities."

To increase their opportunities to obtain financial assistance if they need it, the Merit Corporation sends the names of Semifinalists to all regionally accredited colleges and universites and to other scholarship-granting agencies and financial aid sources. Studies show that about 50 percent of the Semifinalists obtain financial aid from sources other than the Merit Program.

In past years, about 98 percent of the Semifinalists have become Finalists. All finalists receive a Certificate of Merit in recognition of their outstanding performance in the program. As finalists, the students will be eligible for scholarship awards sponsored by NMSC and about 230 business corporations, foundations, colleges, unions, trusts, professional associations, and individuals.

Other Things Count

In this last phase of the competition, the high school grades, creative accomplishments, leadership qualities, extracurricular activities, and school citizenship of the students will be evaluated along with their scores on the tests.

About April 28, 1965, the names of the Merit Scholars will be announced, the exact number depending on the extent of sponsor support of the Merit Program. In 1964 NMSC and sponsors together awarded about 1,625 Merit Scholarships.

Each Merit Scholarship is a four-year award to cover the undergraduate college years. The recipient's stipend is tailored to his need.

Awards may reach a maximum of $6,000 for the four years of college. For students who already possess financial resources which will enable them to attend the college of their choice, the awards are $400 for the four years. Stipends now average about $800 a year, or $3,200 for the four college years.

A Merit Scholarship is also a form of "educational insurance" for the student who receives it, because the amount of the stipend will be increased at any time if there is a significant change in college cost or in his family's financial situation.

Pick Own Colleges

Finalists designate the college they wish to attend and the course of study they plan to pursue. The colleges chosen by the Merit Scholars in most instances also receive supplementary grants.

NMSC and sponsors have thus far contributed almost $21 million in direct financial assistance to Merit Scholars and their colleges. This amount is exclusive of obligations to the 4,000 Merit Scholars now in college.

The Merit Program was established in 1955 with grants from the Ford Foundation and the Carnegie Corporation of New York. In 1962 the Ford Foundation announced an additional grant to continue the program through 1970.

City Must Build Sewers

mixtures of sewage into Lake St. Clair and the flooding of basements with mixtures of sewage and surface waters during periods of intense surface runoff and supporting your program to provide the necessary relief sewers.

We regret that the voters turned down the proposal to provide the necessary millage which would have made it possible to eliminate the discharge of raw sewage into Lake St. Clair and the flooding of basements during periods of intense surface runoff. We think it is extremely important that the Council consider other steps to finance these needed facilities such as working with the County of Wayne on financing or the use of revenue bonds. We would be pleased to meet with the Council, the consulting engineers and county officials if further consideration is given to this approach in the solution to the problem. Under any condition we ask that steps be taken to eliminate the health hazards presently created in the City and in Lake St. Clair caused by inadequacies in your present wastewater collection system.

We will appreciate being advised of the program you expect to undertake to bring about correction of this problem.

Very truly yours,
Donald M. Pierce, Chief
Wastewater Section
Division of Engineering

Mayor Cites Danger

Mayor David Burgess pointed out that the City could well be taken into court if steps are not taken to eliminate the health hazards in the sewage system.

The Council said that in its study of new methods of financing the needed improvements, it is considering the possibility of revenue bonds. Revenue bonds may be floated by the City Council without voter consent as opposed to a General Obligation Bond which must be approved by three-fifths of the electorate.

A revenue bond, however, would, in the long run, cost the taxpayers more than the General Obligation bond. The interest on such a bond is approximately one-half of one percent more and the tax increase, which such a bond brings, is not deductible from a citizen's Federal Income Tax. The payment of the tax, incurred by the revenue bond, would be included in the regular City water bill, resulting in a higher water rate for all residents.

Need Is Immediate

The Council was emphatic in stating the immediate need for finding a satisfactory way of financing the essential repairs and improvements to the City's sewage problems.

The General Obligation Bond of $1,325,000, which was defeated in the September primary, called for the installing of sanitary relief sewers, storm relief sewers and repair and automation of the sewer pump station at Charlevoix and Neff. The amount of the bond was based on a cost estimate study done by the City engineers, George Jerome and Company, over a two-year period.

HAS DOUBLE TROUBLE

Peter F. Flournoy, 24, of 65 Kendrick, Mt. Clemens, was arrested by Woods police on Monday, September 14, at Mack and Vernier, for speeding. It was found that he was wanted by Detroit authorities on a traffic violation warrant, and he was released to them. However, before being released, Flournoy was given a ticket for speeding, and another for driving on an expired license.

Order Study on Parking

its customers take over all available parking space, including that reserved for customers of the other businesses.

He said that the customers of the ice cream parlor, not only take over the parking spaces belonging to the stores, but they also park on Mack, in front of all of the buildings, and on both sides of Kenmore, often in "No Parking" zones.

"As a result," Luber said, "my tenants are complaining that they cannot park their cars, or customers' cars, either in front, or in the rear of the premises on which they are paying rent. One of my tenants was threatened with bodily harm, when he asked teenage boys in a car to move."

Reports Vandalism

Not only has parking become a problem, he added, but also there is a great amount of vandalism and annoyance from litter, since the ice cream parlor moved in.

He said that he had installed "No Parking" signs at the rear of the buildings on his property, and the word "No" has repeatedly been painted out. He disclosed other acts of vandalism, such as lugs being hammered off supporting posts holding chains around the parking spaces.

Luber said that he had asphalt paving installed at great expense, which was not intended to carry a large amount of traffic. As a result, the asphalt is breaking up, and is in need of constant repair, the costs of which he has no way of reclaiming.

He also pointed out the danger to both cars and pedestrians, especially children, caused by the heavy traffic around the entrance to the busy gas station, whose driveways are next to the ice cream parlor entrance.

Have Tried to Help

He said that in fairness to the owners of the ice cream parlor, they have tried to remedy the situation, including the cleaning up of the litter. Employes of the parlor have been seen as far away as three blocks, cleaning up the litter left by customers.

After hearing all of the details, the Woods council voted to refer the matter to the Traffic Safety Commission and to the Public Safety Department for study and recommendation, with a report to be given to the council. A copy of the report is to go to the Planning Commission for its files, it was said.

Fast Burglars Loot Residence

The burglars who entered the home of the Charles J. Burkes, 19766 Edshire lane, during the day, worked very fast in stealing two portable television sets and other valuable items.

Reported missing from the house were a Zenith portable television set, value not known; a General Electric television set valued at $99.50; a mink fur coat, valued at between $400 and $500; a lady's gold knit suit, worth $65; a pair of lady's shoes, $15; and a lady's wrist watch, value not known.

Mrs. Burke, who called Woods police on Wednesday, September 16, when the burglary was discovered, said that she left the house at about 11 a.m. Her husband was home from 1 p.m. to 1:45 p.m., at which time he was sure the television sets were still in the house.

When her children returned home from school, Mrs. Burke said, at about 4 p.m., they discovered the sets missing. A check of the house revealed the other items gone, also, she said.

Police said there were no evidences of forcible entry into the house. Mr. Burke told them, the police said, that it was possible that the side door of the house was left unlocked. It is also possible that the door of the garage, adjacent to the house, had been left open, the husband said.

TELLS OF THEFT

William Porter, 16, of 403 McKinley road, told Farms police that while his automobile was parked in the Grosse Pointe High School lot, an unknown person stole a metal ring which holds the car radio aerial. The theft was reported on Thursday, September 17.

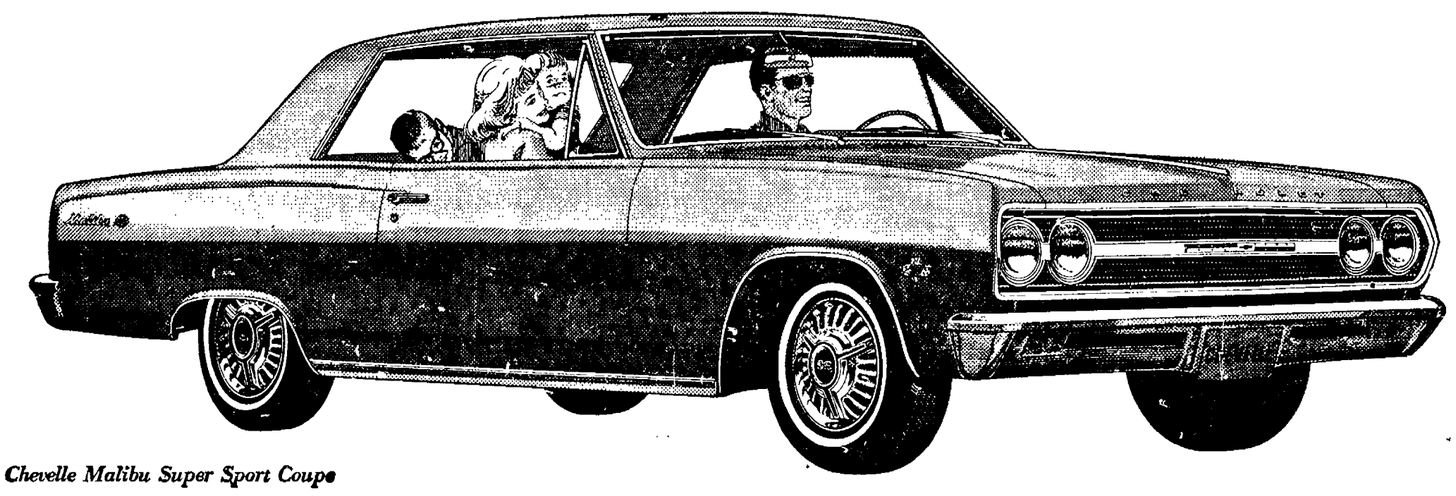
'65 Chevrolet Impala Sport Sedan

Chevrolet Impala '65

One look at it and—presto—last year's crop of cars seem like something that happened a long time ago. It's longer, lower, wider—with the kind of interior comforts that'll have many an expensive car wondering why it didn't think of them first. More shoulder room, more leg room up front and (thanks to a smaller floor tunnel) more foot room too. Curved side windows, rich new fabrics and an instrument panel that's a conversation piece all by itself (in the Impala series it has the look of hand-rubbed walnut). In fact, just about everything's new right down to the road. And even that'll seem newer because this year Chevrolet's Jet-smooth ride is smoother than ever. But if all this seems like a bit too much to remember, don't try. Just take a drive at your dealer's. It'll all become unforgettable.



'65 Chevelle Malibu Super Sport Coupe

Chevelle Malibu '65

New style, new ride—and plenty of V8 stuff. Here are all the things that have made Chevelle America's most popular new-sized car—plus some new surprises that promise to make it come on stronger than ever for '65. Like those cleaner, bolder lines. Like the silky way it skims over the choppiest roads. (Thanks to softer coil springs and other suspension system refinements, Chevelle now rides with a serenity you'd expect only in a bigger, heavier car.) Like V8 power that'll make you think we stole some of Corvette's stuff—which we did. All told, five different power plants are now available from a quieter six to a V8 that comes on with 300 horses strong. Some people might have expected us to stand pat after introducing a car this successful last year. One short drive will show you how wrong they were.

'65 Chevy II Nova 4-Door Sedan

Chevy II Nova '65

It may very well be the expensive-est looking thrift car you've ever laid eyes on. But thrifty it is. The big difference this year being that Chevy II's marvelous mechanical efficiency now comes decked out in a debonair new look. And to keep things in stride under the hood, there's a new range of six engines available, no less, including a new 300-hp V8. Of course, you still get those famous Chevy II maintenance reducers—like self-adjusting brakes, long-lived exhaust system, battery-saving Delcotron generator. But if you go by all the fine new features, you could get the idea that saving you money was about the last thing we had in mind when we built this one. And in a way it was. Right up until we pasted the price sticker on the window.

New top-of-the-line Corvair Corsa Sport Coupe

Corvair Corsa '65

There's never been a Corvair—or any other car—like it. The entire line now sports a totally new Body by Fisher, styled with fresh, sophisticated flair that would set a European's pulse fluttering. The longer, wider design gives all Corvair closed models a thin-line hardtop roof, accented by frameless curved side windows. It also allows more shoulder and entrance room. And to go with the racier look, there's up to 180 hp available in the new Corsa series, up to 140 hp in the Monza and 500 series. Also a flatter riding independent suspension system, bigger self-adjusting brakes, more responsive steering—all solidly buttressed by a wider road stance for '65. Truth is, you've got to drive this one to believe it.

Guidance Clinic Opens Sept. 28

The board of directors of the Northeastern Wayne County Child Guidance Clinic is happy to announce the opening of the Clinic on September 28. A six room suite of offices at 18424 Mack avenue has been painted and furnished in readiness for the opening.

The Clinic will be staffed in part by personnel lent by Children's Center of Wayne County. The local board will provide the services of a secretary and a Branch Director.

To insure the successful financing of the Clinic in the future, the governments of the five Grosse Pointes and Harper Woods have been asked to contribute funds to the Clinic.

The Grosse Pointe Shores Board of Trustees has given $1000 and the Clinic board is expecting to hear from the other Councils in the near future. The Michigan Department of Mental Health will request funds for the new Clinic from the State Legislature next year and the prospects of receiving state funds look encouraging.

Meanwhile, private fund raising continues with a series of fashion show luncheons planned for the fall and winter. Two children's matinees are also planned for October.

The opening of the Clinic in September has been made possible by the generous support the Board of Directors has received from the many friends and members of the Clinic. It would, therefore, like to take this opportunity to invite all to visit the Clinic during an open house on Sunday, September 27, from 1 to 5 p.m., at the Clinic offices at 18424 Mack avenue.

Many try, but quantity will never make up for quality.

Church Losing Rev. Hammond

The Rev. William D. Hammond, minister of the Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church for the past 14 years, has announced his resignation effective October 1.

He has accepted the position as executive secretary of the newly formed Michigan - Ohio Valley District of the Unitarian-Universalist societies. Rev. Hammond has taken a leading part in the development of this district, which is comprised of 52 societies in Michigan, Indiana, Ohio and Kentucky.

In announcing his resignation to the congregation, Rev. Hammond stated, "We have been with you 14 years, which is more than one fourth my lifetime, and more than one half of my ministerial career to date . . . These years have been challenging and rewarding beyond the power of my words to say. The friendships formed, the joys and sorrows shared, the challenges met, the defeats endured and the successes celebrated, are etched upon my memory for the rest of my days. They have become a permanent part of what, for better or worse, I am."

Rev. Hammond has taught Popular Astronomy and General Semantics for 10 years through the Adult Education Program. He has also been a member of the Grosse Pointe Human Relations Council and active in denominational affairs of the church.

Before coming to Grosse Pointe, he was minister of the Peoples Liberal Church of Chicago. He received his B.A. from the University of Missouri and did graduate study at the University of Chicago Divinity School, Meadville Theological School, and the Institute of General Semantics.

He is married and has four children: Judith, 20, a student at the University of Missouri; Tom, 17, a senior at Grosse Pointe High School; Donald, 11, in the 6th grade at Maire School; and Gail, 7, in the second grade at Maire.

Higher civilization is the kind nobody can understand.

Did Incinerator Gobble Up $900?

Woods police are attempting to solve the disappearance of a large sum of money from Arnold's Drug Store, 20853 Mack avenue, reported missing by the manager, on Monday, September 14. Involved is $900 in currency.

Dets. Gaylord Golding and Albert Abend said that they are checking the possibility that the bills might have accidently dropped into a trash barrel and been burned in the store incinerator.

Ernest Slobin of St. Clair Shores, manager, told the detectives that he opened the store at 9 a.m., and took several bags of money out of the safe.

He said he put the contents of one bag into the cash register on the tobacco counter, and the balance in a counter drawer in the pharmacy section.

Later, a delivery truck brought several items to the store and they were placed behind the pharmacy counter.

Slobin said that two clerks and a delivery boy reported for work at 9 a.m., when he opens the store. The store manager and the employes claim they have no idea what happened to the missing $900, but one brought up the possibility that the money might have been incinerated.

Slobin told officers that he did not count the money when he opened the safe. He said during the summer, he had five drug store trainees working for him, and each had a key to the store and knew the combination to the safe. He gave no names.

Golding and Abend said that the truck driver, Slobin and the employes have agreed to take lie detector tests, which have been scheduled for sometime late this week, at the Centerline State Police Post.

Other 1965 Thunderbird standard equipment owner-benefit features include distinctive sequential turn signals which create a light pattern in the turning direction, reversible keys which may be inserted into ignition and trunk locks either side up, keyless door locking, and a dome light on convertible models. New or revised options include an AM/FM radio on which all five push buttons may be used for AM or FM operation, an electric antenna, power vent windows, a vacuum deck lid release, and a limited slip differential. The three 1965 Thunderbird models—landau, convertible, and hardtop (above)—will debut in Ford dealer showrooms Friday, September 25.

Lecture Series Includes Movie

A movie, "Walk in My Shoes," will be shown on Wednesday, September 30, at 8 p.m. at St. James Lutheran Church, as part of its Depth Study Course, 'The Christian and Race Relations," sponsored by the church's Board of Christian Education. C. Hugh Fletcher will act as moderator.

"Walk in My Shoes" is an hour-long documenatry film first prepared and shown on nationwide television network. The first portion is devoted to a view of the squalor and poverty which surrounds the ghetto dweller in our nation's largest city. Viewers will literally walk in the shoes of those who live in the "concrete jungles" society has created in the 'inner cities" of our nation. The streets littered in filth and teeming with frustrated and bewildered people, and the shocking fact of overcrowded, underheated tenements without hot water and bathrooms are not pretty pictures, but they are valid ones.

The second portion of the film introduces the viewers to upper-middle class and upper-class Negroes who discuss, in some depth and at some length, the problems of being Negro in "white America." The highly educated, professional Negro feels trapped since he is constantly threatened by the identification with poverty-stricken members of his group, while at the same time he is yet not fully accepted by his white professional colleagues.

"Walk in My Shoes" lays down a clear challenge. It pulls no punches. It is candid and though-provoking. It does not moralize, but leaves the viewer to raise questions with his own conscience.

St. James Church hopes that all 'caring" and "thinking" citizens of Grosse Pointe will attend the showing of this film.

Woods Boosts Traffic Safety

Since January 1, the Woods council has approved new traffic ordinances and sanctioned other traffic improvements, it was disclosed by Police Lt. Roland Symons, traffic safety officer.

He pointed out that the council recently enacted an ordinance requiring bicycle riders to obtain a permit allowing them to ride during nighttime hours; and another ordinance which prohibits hitch-hiking within the Woods city limits.

The lieutenant also revealed that four-way stop signs have been approved and installed at Helen and Hunt Club; Roslyn and Marter; Roslyn and Wedgewood; Roslyn and Morningside; and Moorland and Morningside.

Other improvements noted, are: left turns allowed east and westbound Vernier vehicular traffic after traffic clears; a new illuminated "Keep Right" overhead sign for westbound Vernier traffic; "School Slow" signs erected on Marter road, near Parkway; the Yield sign for westbound Cook road, at Chalfonte, replaced with a stop sign.

Also, a three-way stop sign installed at Cook and Morningside; Double stop signs erected at Fairford and Wedgewood; Stop signs installed at Edmunton-Yorktown and Goethe-East Eight Mile road school crossings; and stop lines at all school crossings.

You'll find more to do aboard than in most resorts, and with far more interesting people. Stroll the largest decks afloat (over 3 acres). Be entertained in vast public rooms. Swim in a pool that contains 107 tons of heated salt water. Or browse in shops full of magnificent duty-free merchandise. See a movie. Borrow one of 5,000 books from the library. Join a cocktail party. Enter a deck tournament.

Top executives prefer giant Cunarders

America's industrial leaders—that demanding, discerning breed—have long favored the Queens for business trips to Europe.

One reason is the opportunity it presents to executives to prepare for crucial meetings. (There are ship-to-shore telephones and a staff of nine English secretaries to lend assistance.)

Another reason is the luxury of leisure and relaxation in the most spacious facilities on the high seas.

And right now, there is the added economy of low excursion fares. (You can save a minimum of $286 per person from Summer Season rates when you travel First Class on the Queens.)

You'll arrive in Europe refreshed, feeling marvelous. You'll return home revitalized, keen to resume your daily business. Make your reservations now, and get the accommodations you want.

*Excursion fare periods: October 1, 1964 to March 15, 1965.

Public Libraries Staff Conducts Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the staff of The Grosse Pointe Public Libraries was held Wednesday morning, September 16, at the Central Library. In addition to the staffs of Central, Woods and Park branches, honored guests included members of the schools' administrative staff, members of the Grosse Pointe Board of Education, as well as the Friends of the Grosse Pointe Public Library.

Main speaker for the event was J. Harold Husband, Assistant Superintendent - Administrative Services, of the Grosse Pointe Public School System. The title of his address was "The Library — Supermarket of Information" or "The Food Store of the Mind.' '

In his brief address, illustrated by colored slides, Husband drew parallels between the supermarket concept of merchandising, the large, well-stocked stores containing thousands of items for every taste and budget, with the contents of The Grosse Pointe Public Libraries. He traced the development of both the stores and the libraries from their somewhat primitive beginnings of the last century to the modern structures of today. He recounted details of the vast storehouse of valuable information and services available to the entire community and showed slides to illustrate the impact of these services upon the libraries' patrons.

"The storehouses of the past have become today's supermarkets of information. The libraries have been used to store the ideas of man in an orderly fashion so that they are availalbe for the enlightenment and entertainment of everyone," Husband said.

"As man's thoughts have progressed from heterodyne to hi-fi and from surreys to spacecraft, libraries have changed to accommodate man's increasing accumulation of ideas—as well as accelerating the needs for new ones," he added.

In his remarks, Robert M. Orr, Director of the Grosse Pointe Libraries, informed the audience that the summer was again the busiest one on record. He said that in past years the slack months of July and August are now near the top in circulation.

Mr. Orr introduced newcomers to the staff of the Grosse

FBI Graduates Attend Course

Three area police chiefs, FBI National Academy graduates, attended a three-day refresher course sponsored by the Federal Bureau of Investigation, September 21, 22 and 23, at Milford, Mich.

The retraining session was held for all National Academy graduates in Michigan.

Taking part in the course were Park Chief Arthur Louwers, City Chief Andrew Teetaert, and Harper Woods Chief Allen Miglio.

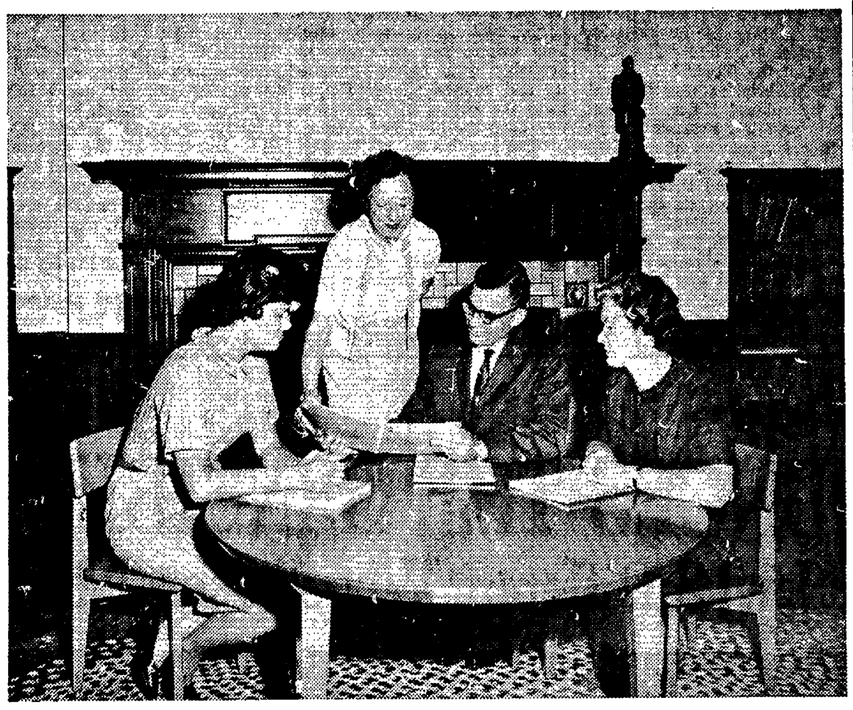
Among the courses lectured on were: Riot Control; Statutes Covering Unlawful Assemblies; Intelligence Planning; Psychology of Mob Behavior; Riot Control Formations, and other control factors.

Bernard C. Brown, special agent-in-charge of the Detroit FBI Office, was the director of the entire program.

DOOR DAMAGED

Mrs. William Stafford of 1789 Prestwick, complained to Woods police on Saturday, September 19, that someone threw a brick through the screen of the rear terrace door of her home. The amount of damage was not disclosed.

Introducing New Pointe Teachers



Shown examining the new social studies curriculum guides for the elementary grades are Principal LARRY GAGNON and the three new staff members at Mason School. Around the table (left to right) are KATHERINE S. SCHREIER, MRS. OLGA DOHERTY, Principal Gagnon, and MRS. NORMA K. PRIEST.

The Grosse Pointe News will again present a weekly series to introduce new members of the professional staff of The Grosse Pointe Public School System to the community. Each article will contain a picture of each building's newcomers as well as a capsule biography. This week the new instructors at Mason School are featured.

The three newcomers to the professional staff at Grosse Pointe Woods' Mason Elementary School include one veteran Grosse Pointe educator, one local resident whose hobby is collecting Early American historical flasks, and one whose range of personal and professional activities include bowling and playing the organ in her church.

These three professionally well-prepared, experienced, broadly educated and well-balanced personalities are Mrs. Olga Doherty, grade 3; Mrs. Norma Priest, grade 3; and Miss Katharine Schreier, grade 1.

Mrs. Doherty, who is listed officially as a newcomer this fall, is actually a veteran educator in The Grosse Pointe Public School System, where she has taught grades two through four for a number of years. This fall marks her return to full-time duties and responsibilities.

She holds BS and MA degrees from Wayne State University and she has done additional work at both the University of Michigan and at Michigan State University.

Mrs. Doherty, a native of Beal City, Mich., received her secondary education at Sacred Heart Academy, in Mount Pleasant, Mich. Before she began her teaching career in Grosse Pointe, Mrs. Doherty taught in the elementary grades of the Isabella County schools.

Among her hobbies Mrs. Doherty includes piano, swimming, gardening, art education activities, as well as nature study. She has traveled widely in Europe, Mexico and the West Indies. In 1954, she served as the delegate from Wayne State University to the first meeting of the International Society for Education in Art, to discuss and vote on the adoption of the Constitution for INSEA, held at UNESCO in Paris, France.

She is a resident of St. Clair Shores. Her professional affiliations have included both the Michigan Education Association and the American Federation of Teachers.

Another new third grade teacher on the Mason staff is Mrs. Norma K. Priest. A native of the metropolitan area, she is a graduate of Southeastern High School and Wayne State University.

An experienced teacher, Mrs. Priest's previous assignment included grades four and five in the Harper Woods Public Schools, where she taught for seven years.

She is a member of the Michigan Education Association, the local chapter of the American Association of University Women, as well as of the Women of Wayne Alumni group.

In her leisure time she is a collector of fossils and early American historical flasks. Travel is another interest that has led her to see most of the United States as well as Europe.

A resident of Grosse Pointe Woods, Mrs. Priest's children are Randall and Joan.

First grade teacher Katharine S. Schreier is the third newcomer to this year's Mason staff. A first grade instructor, she is a native of Cleveland, Ohio, and the holder of a BS degree from Kent State University.

For the past six years she has been a second grade teacher in Lakewood, Ohio. Her professional activities included membership in her local teaching organization, in the Ohio Education Association, and in the National Education Association.

The range of her in-service activities during her tenure in the Ohio school system is an impressive one: she served as textbook chairman of the language committee, an orientation week helper and demonstration person, as the second grade chairman and recorder for the Lakewood teachers. Miss Schreier participated in the film of the Greater Cleveland Mathematics Program and has worked as a summer school teacher of reading.

Miss Schreier's hobbies are in the artistic and athletic line. She favors painting and ceramics, and has spectator interest in most sports, while participating in tennis and bowling. She is a bridge player, has been organist and philanthropic chairman for her church. She makes her home in East Jefferson Avenue in Detroit.

With credentials and backgrounds such as these, it is not difficult to understand why the building's principal, Larry Gagnon, is pleased with his choice of newcomers to serve the educational needs of the boys and girls of Mason School for the 1964-65 year.

Libraries Staff

Pointe Public Libraries for 1964-65. The six newcomers cited were Mrs. Ada Booth, Miss Barbara Harrison, Mrs. Helen Nolan, Miss Sue Rollins, Mrs. Colleen Smith, and James Titterington.

Those introduced included the libraries' chief administrators, as well as those in the processing department, the circulation staffs, the staffs of the Central Library, and personnel from the Woods and Park Branch.

In his review of highlights of the 1963-64 year, Mr. Orr mentioned that for the twelfth straight year, the Libraries had established records for use by the community. He said that the circulation of books and library materials was over 506,000, or more than seven for every man, woman and child in the Pointe..

He added that registered users have now exceeded 27,000, or 41 per cent of the community, compared to 10-20 per cent for many other libraries. Mr. Orr described the publications of the library, including the Newsletter published by the Friends. He also mentioned gifts received during the year, he told of the attendance record at the seven Family Film Nights and Friends Film Forums, the Carnival of Books, as well as the program carried on by the Children's Department.

He concluded by mentioning that the book collection now numbers 112,000, carefully chosen for the community the library serves.

Okay, so you hate Mondays

Well really, who could blame you? It's the beginning of another week of those daily chores it takes to be a good wife and mother. Mondays are also blue washdays. And what's fun about that? Toting a heavy load of wash out to the clothesline is enough to discourage a weight lifter. Then, too, the weather controls your washday schedule.

Why let it? Look at the brighter side. With a new automatic Gas dryer you just set the dial and forget it. AND, a Gas dryer will dry five loads of wash for the cost it takes to dry just one load with the other kind of dryer. So, forget about the weather. Find out for yourself how quickly you'll begin looking forward to Mondays.

Go on . . . get happy. See the latest Gas dryers now on display at dealer or Gas Company showrooms. You'll be glad you did. In fact, you'll wish you had yesterday. Easy terms arranged.

Austin Students Capture Honors

The Principal, Rev. John F. Galloway, O.S.A., of Austin Catholic Preparatory School has announced that four of the school's students have been named Semifinalists in the 1964-65 Merit Scholarship competition.

He said they became Semifinalists through their outstanding performance on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test. This test of educational development was given in more than 17,000 high schools last March.

The students cited for their high achievement are Paul Freitas, 77 Lochmoor boulevard; Victor Juratovac, 19283 Raymond; Howard Schorer, 1200 Paget court; and William Van Tiem, 1960 Fleetwood.

They are among 14,000 seniors throughout the country who attained Semifinalist status. The Semifinalist group is composed of the highest scoring students in each state and in United States territories. Each Semifinalist now moves a step closer to winning a four-year Merit Scholarship to the college of his choice. Semifinalists must substantiate their qualifying test performance on a second examination, be endorsed by their schools, and fulfill certain routine requirements to become Finalists. All Merit Scholars are selected from the Finalist group.

"Semifinalists are representative of our country's most intellectually able young people," said John M. Stalnaker, president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

"They possess the talents and qualities necessary for leadership in the future. They are resourceful, hard-working, and ambitious.

"In honoring them for their attainments, we should recognize also that others have contributed significantly to their success by encouraging the characteristics which produce high achievement. The Semifinalists thus bring honor not only to themselves, but also to their families, their teachers, and their communities."

CG Frees Boat Aground in Lake

A motorboat, aground in one foot of water in Lake St. Clair, was pulled free by personnel of the St. Clair Shores Coast Guard Station on Sunday, September 20, after a call from Shores police.

Police received a call from Mrs. R. E. Baker of 8 Fairlake lane, in which she disclosed that she had seen a red flare in the air, fired from a boat opposite her property.

Patrolman Harry Hamilton, who was dispatched to the scene by radio, spotted the boat about 500 feet east of the lane. He hailed the boat, and was informed by the boat owner that the craft was stuck on a sand bar, in one foot of water.

The officer radioed the station, and a message was relayed to the Coast Guard, and a boat was sent to free the grounded craft.

The owner of the boat that ran afoul of the sand bar, is Jack Roberts of 1948 East Nine Mile road, Warren, according to a Shores police report. No other information was available.

Buehler Talks To Librarians

Ronald G. Buehler, curriculum assistant in the Department of Instruction of the Grosse Pointe Public School System, was the keynote speaker at the Michigan Library Association's fall conference for children's and school librarians held September 18 and 19 at Boyne Mountain, Mich.

The theme of the conference and its keynote topic were "Curriculum, Communication, Cooperation."

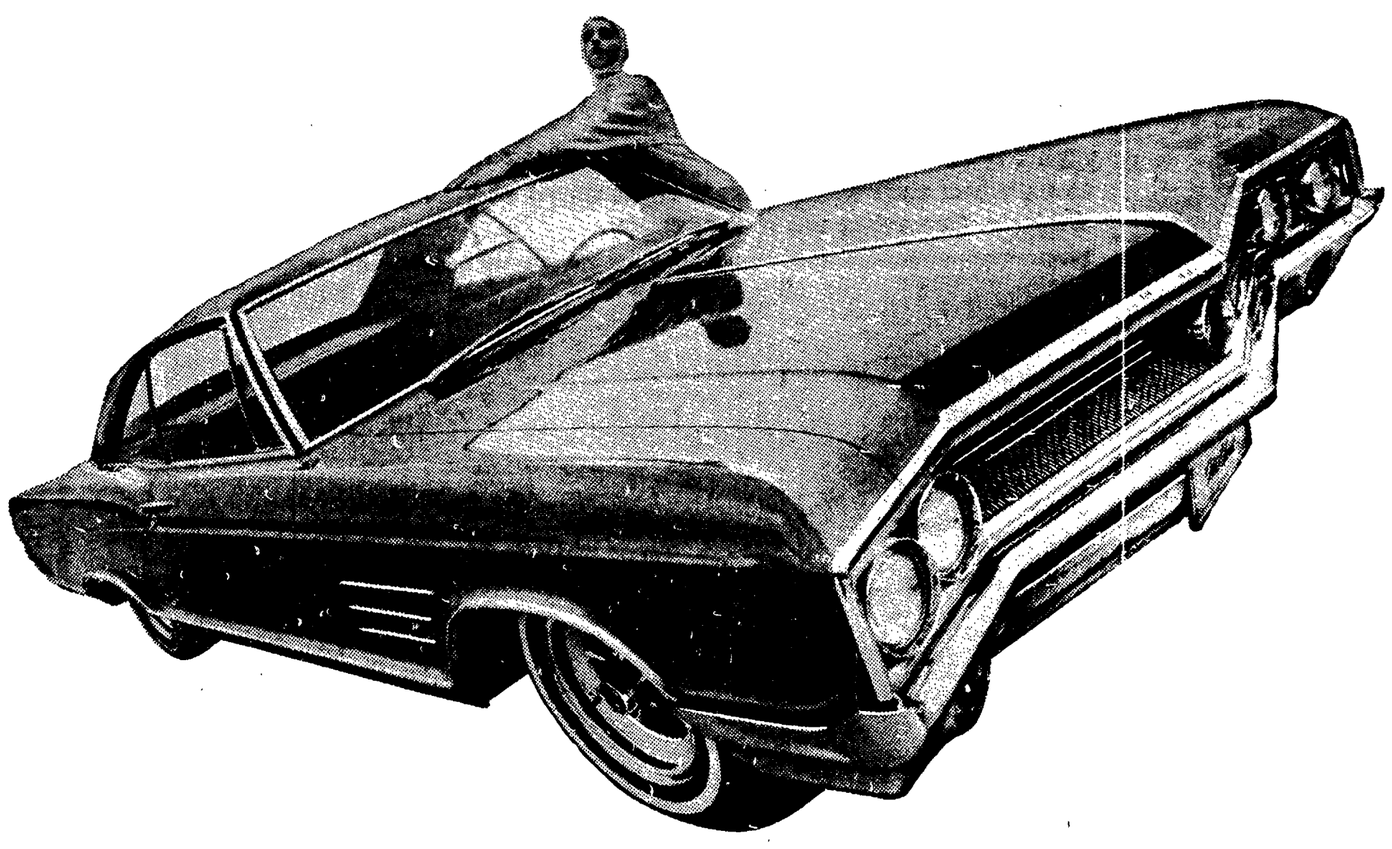
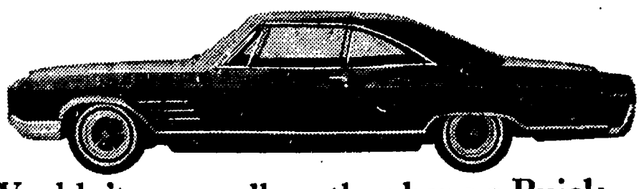
Buick '65 Buick



We changed the Buick a lot this year. And you may never be the same again yourself.

We doubt you'll want to be the same. Not once you set eyes on our new Buicks. On the Buick Special and the Skylark. The LeSabre, Electra 225, Riviera. And on the sleek, modified fastback of the wild, wilder, Wildcat in the picture.

True, there's a new high-style touch. But that's hardly all. Engineering still has the emphasis. It's a Buick tradition. So are the extras Buick spends a little extra on. Like finned brake drums that do a little better. And smoother drivelines. A tuned suspension to smooth ribcage roads. Now add Buick's Super Turbine transmissions—and you have an idea of what Buick owners have always liked about Buick. We think you'll feel the same.



Wouldn't you really rather have a Buick

Their Own Fun Financed By Pint-Sized Gridders

Those pint-sized gridders who began ringing doorbells last Saturday are intent on only one thing — raising enough money to pay for their own fun.

This effort could be regarded as just another open palm outstretched, except that those who support this youth effort receive full value in merchandise for their donations. It's a straight commercial business deal for both the buyer and the seller, with each benefiting.

The All American Football Leaguers annually sell specially packaged boxes of Sanders candy to finance team and League operations for the season, including uniforms and equipment, travel, officials, insurance, etc. This year, the League has purchased 120,000 boxes of candy from Sanders, under contracts similar to wholesale contracts throughout business and industry.

In the All American Football Leaguers, each team enjoys the autonomy of franchise dealers in any merchandise distribution system. The profit to each team is entirely dependent on the sales efforts of the members of that team which is responsible for financing its own operations.

League franchise costs are minimal, many playing fields for practice and games are donated by the communities, and most of the coaching and adult supervision is provided without cost by devoted men, conscious of their responsibilities to youth and community. Thus, almost all of the money raised by this candy-selling campaign goes for equipment to protect the youngsters from injury.

The Honorable Jerome P. Cavanagh, Mayor of the City of Detroit, heads a long list of Detroit and suburban city officials who have proclaimed the week of Sept. 19-26 as "All American Football Leaguers Week" in their respective communities.

The fund-raising candy sale will continue through the end of September, even though the first games in the League are scheduled for this weekend (September 25-27). There are 22 organizations operating in this supervised youth recreation activity in metropolitan Detroit, furnishing a healthy outlet for the energies of thousands of boys between nine and 12 years old.

Rapid Reading Course Offered

A new course in Rapid Reading will begin Tuesday, October 13, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., to be offered through the Department of Community Services, Grosse Pointe School System.

As in the past, this course is designed for those who would like to read more rapidly and efficiently, while at the same time retaining a greater percentage of the material read. Factors affecting efficiency, techniques of concentration, comprehension, retention, vocabulary development and critical reading techniques will be stressed in the course.

Developmental rather than remedial, this course should not be taken by those with serious reading deficiencies. In the past, this course has proven most helpful to college students and students in technical fields, business or professional men who must read long abstracts or technical materials; and housewives and others who wish to improve their reading abilities for pure enjoyment of their leisure time.

Andrew Balas, the instructor, brings many years of specialized experience to his class. He has been Director of the Student and Adult Reading Institute at the Union-Scioto Schools in Ohio, and has studied psychology and techniques of reading at the University of Chicago, Wayne State University and Michigan State University. In addition, he was a student and instructor trainee with Evelyn Woods Reading Dynamics.

In 1962, Balas received a Fullbright assignment to teach English in Greece for one year. He has been a member of the Study of Reading Situations at Grosse Pointe High School and the Study of Reading Techniques used in Detroit area schools; the Metropolitan Bureau of Studies; the International Reading Association and the Michigan Reading Association. He is presently a member of the faculty at Grosse Pointe High School, where he has taught English and Reading for 16 years.

Those interested in attending this class may register by calling the Department of Community Services at TU 5-3808 or TU 5-0271. Enrollment in the class is limited.

George Bashara Gets GOP Post

George Bashara, Republican Congressional Candidate in Detroit's 14th District, has been appointed Chairman of the Lebanese-American Division by the Republican Nationalities Committee for eastern United States.

In making the appointment, Congressman Edward J. Derwinski, Chairman of the Nationalities Committee, said he was confident Bashara would do an outstanding job, as he has acquired "ample experience" as Honorary Lebanese Consul of Detroit and the Midwest for 14 years, and long active in the Republican Party.

Bashara will be responsible for coordinating the National Republican Campaign east of the Mississippi River. Norman W. Raises of Portland, Oregon has been named Chairman for all western states.

"I am honored in having been chosen to head the newly formed division of the Committee," Bashara said. "I have officially accepted Congressman Derwinski's appointment. I hope my people will come forward and distinguish themselves in their civic duties."

He assured Derwinski that everything possible will be done to coordinate the National Campaign.

Memorial Center's Annual Meeting Set

The Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association has scheduled its 15th annual dinner, entertainment and meeting for this coming Monday evening, September 28, at 7 o'clock.

Following dinner the Grunyons, the Pointe's ever-popular Whiffenpoofs, will entertain and the evening will conclude with a brief business meeting to familiarize those in attendance with the performance of the Center over the past fiscal year, its financial status and its proposed activities and goals.

Everyone who contributes to the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association is considered a member of same and is urged to attend. The token dinner charge is $2.50 per person, which should be paid to the Center immediately together with names for reservations.

Hosts for the evening will be retiring president Gerald C. Schroeder and Mrs. Schroeder. Other retiring board members include Mrs. James A. Lafer who for two years has acted as secretary for the Association; J. Leslie Berry, Thomas L. Munson, past president of the Association; and Mrs. Harold B. Tyree.

At this meeting five new members will be elected to the Center's Board of Directors for terms of three years. They, together with remaining Board members Theodore H. Mecke, Jr., George C. Cossaboom, William M. Adams, Mark Stevens, George N. Monro, III, Walter B. Ford II, Mrs. William H. Fries, Mrs. Harley G. Higbie, H. Lynn Pierson and Mrs. Frank W. Wylie, will form the 15-member board of directors who will conduct the affairs of the Center for the ensuing year. All of these people give of their time and efforts on a voluntary basis. It involves control of an institution which during the past season served more than 150,000 people, including repeats.

The kind of success that is not planned and worked hard for is seldom enjoyed.

It's poor business to make hay while the sun shines unless the barn is insured.

Men who lack the courage to stand alone aren't fit to lead.

Things nobody else wants comes to the fellow who waits.

If you're the kind of person who likes to live a little, we'd like to let you in on something big—Dodge Dart for '65. Dart is the fun compact with big ideas. Big Beauty. Big Comfort. Big Ride. And Big Savings. In the engine room, Dart's mighty big, too. Take your choice of the Mobil Economy Run winning Six or a husky V8 that won't take "slow" for an answer. But why listen to us when that frisky fella is right down at your Dodge dealer's. See what we mean, today.

Swingers go for Dart GT. And sporty Dart GT goes for everybody . . . for the economy-minded, for the sports-minded. Great way to leave things behind—like worries—like other cars. GT gives you what you go for.

'65 CORONET: A hot new Dodge at a new lower price

Leave it to Dodge to build a hot new, all-new car with the stretch-out room of a standard-size Ford or Chevy, yet priced with Fairlane and Chevelle. For that's exactly what they've done. It's called Coronet '65. And if the name seems familiar, nothing else about Coronet will be. It's totally new from road to roof line. With refreshing new styling. Oceans of room. A ride that belies its low price. And performance that's so exciting you'll have a hard time believing it even after you've put it through its paces.

You can pay as much for smaller cars, but why should you? When the full-size Coronet's looks get you going, bet your boots its price won't slow you down. Dodge Coronet for '65—that's the spirit.

*HERE'S HOW DODGE'S 5-YEAR, 50,000-MILE ENGINE AND DRIVE TRAIN WARRANTY PROTECTS YOU. Chrysler Corporation confidently warrants all of the following vital parts of its 1965 cars for 5 years or 50,000 miles, whichever comes first, during which time any such parts that prove defective in material and workmanship will be replaced or repaired at a Chrysler Motors Corporation Authorized Dealer's place of business without charge for such parts or labor: engine block, head and internal parts, intake manifold, water pump, transmission case and internal parts (excepting manual clutch), torque converter, drive shaft, universal joints, rear axle and differential, and rear wheel bearings. REQUIRED MAINTENANCE: The following maintenance services are required under the warranty—change engine oil every 3 months or 4,000 miles, whichever comes first; replace oil filter every second oil change; clean carburetor air filter every 6 months and replace it every 2 years; and every 6 months furnish evidence of this required service to a Chrysler Motors Corporation Authorized Dealer and request him to certify receipt of such evidence and your car's mileage. Simple enough for such important protection.

P-TA Council Meets Monday

Arthur G. Sherman, Jr., president of the Grosse Pointe P-TA Council announces that his organization's first meeting for the 1964-65 year is scheduled for 8 p.m. Monday in the second floor meeting room of the Central Library at Fisher and Kercheval.

Main item for discussion by the membership will be the school plant needs of The Grosse Pointe Public School System with a report to date on progress in the matter of the proposed second high school. The membership of the P-TA Council is composed of the 14 principals, the presidents of the elementary and junior high school P-TAs, and the Mothers and Dads Club of Grosse Pointe High School, as well as two additional delegates from each building.

In addition to president Sherman, other officers of the organization are Walter Seyffert, vice-president; Charles Parcells, Jr., treasurer; and Mrs. G. Gordon Cook, secretary.

The September 28 session will be the first of five for the year. Other dates for meetings of the P-TA Council are November 23, January 25, March 29 and May 24. All meetings will begin at 8 p.m. at the Central Library.

Schools Offer Yoga Classes

A new series of Yoga classes will soon be offered by the Department of Community Services, Grosse Pointe School System. Anna L. Salvatore, the instructor, has been a student of Yoga for 12 years and is also well-versed in Oriental philosophies.

Mrs. Salvatore will give two demonstrations at the Department of Community Services Building, 43 Grosse Pointe boulevard on Monday, October 12—from 10 to 11 a.m. and from 7 to 8 p.m. All interested persons, regardless of age, are urged to attend one of these demonstrations, after which they may register for the class.

In brief definition, Yoga is a scientific art applied to the entire anatomy of the living body. It is a system of exercise designed for the entire physical and mental well being through relaxation and muscle tone, and is helpful in reducing physical and mental tensions.

During the class, Mrs. Salvatore will teach a wide selection of exercises and techniques in breathing and breath control, and various postures to flex the spine, muscles and nerve centers of the body. These exercises may be practiced at home.

It is generally known that students of Yoga experience stimulation rather than fatigue after doing Yoga exercises, even for as little as 10 minutes a day. Those who regularly practice Yoga find that they feel better and are able to perform their everyday tasks more cheerfully and with less strain and tension than previously experienced.

Further information may be obtained by calling the Department of Community Services at TU 5-3808 or TU 5-0271.

Bishop To Speak At St. Michael's

A two-year correspondence between Mrs. Richard E. Noyes of Hawthorne road and the first Episcopal bishop of the Dominican Republic will culminate in an interesting program at St. Michael's Church, 20475 Sunningdale Park, on Saturday, September 26.

The Rt. Rev. Paul A. Kellogg will present a program of slides and a talk there at 7:30 p.m. The program, a discussion of current work in that area by the Episcopal Church, will begin with a tea and reception for Bishop Kellog in the parish lounge.

Mrs. Noyes is president of the Episcopal Churchwomen at St. Michael's. This organization has donated $1,175 to the Dominican Republic since 1962. Most of the money has gone to help support the extensive school system maintained by Bishop Kellogg in that country. Episcopal work began in the Dominican Republic in 1897 and in 1940 the area was granted full Mission status. Bishop Kellogg was consecrated as first bishop there in 1960, and by now he and his wife speak fluent Spanish.

The bishop will remain here overnight, as a guest of the Rev. and Mrs. Edgar H. Yeoman, and will preach at the 9:30 and 11:15 a.m. services Sunday morning. He is en route to the Episcopal Convention in St. Louis. This meeting of the governing body of the church was last held in Detroit at Cobo Hall in 1961.

Members of all area churches are especially invited to hear the bishop at the Saturday evening program.

Earlier in the evening Bishop Kellogg will be honored at a subscription dinner at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. Ford.

Church Library Contest Ends

Children of the St. James Lutheran Sunday School spent a busy summer competing in a reading contest, entitled, "Motor City Mission."

The winners in the contest are: 1st Grade, David Couser; 2nd grade, Cindy Kachman; 3rd grade, Linda Morrow; 4th grade, Debbie Mast; 5th grade, Susan Kurth; 6th grade, Carol Couser; 7th grade, Susan Kamischke. Nineteen girls and 19 boys read a total of 318 books from the church's library during the summer months.

The St. James library has been established to enrich the Christian life of each member of the church, children as well as adults. The Dorcas group of the Women's Guild, and a new Library Board, are in charge of maintaining, running, and purchasing the books for the library. Each book has been carefully selected in the hope that its readers will be interested, stimulated and broadened.

The St. James library contains approximately 400 children's books, as well as 340 adult books. The children's books have been classified according to reading levels, ranging from pre-school picture books and progressing in degree of difficulty to the adult reading level.

The library contains Pixie viewers and slides, as well as records for the children's enjoyment and study.

Million Boys Expected To Compete in Program

More than one million boys in the United States are expected to register September 1 through October 9 for the fourth annual Punt, Pass and Kick competition, the largest youth program of its kind in the nation, sponsored by the Ford Dealers in cooperation with the National Football League.

This will be the first year that 12 and 13-year-old boys are included in the competition. Last year nearly half a million boys registered for the PP&K program and it is anticipated that the age extension will insure a million or more registrants throughout the country.

All grade and junior high school boys 8 through 13 are eligible and may register at any of the sponsoring Ford dealerships September 1 through October 9; however, parents or guardians must countersign the registration form.

The PP&K competition is based on the distance and accuracy the participant punts, passes and kicks the football. Competitors receive one point for each foot the ball travels minus one point for each foot the ball lands to the right or left of the center line. Boys compete with their own age group.

Local competition, beginning Saturday, October 10, will be conducted at designated fields, marked by program officials.

Winners of the local contests will compete in district competition and those winners will go on to compete in area contests, which will be held before or during the halves of 14 National Football League games. Those winners will participate in the national competition.

The top scorers, six from the eastern NFL division and six from the western NFL division will meet in the "runnerup" NFL game in Miami, Fla. These boys and their parents will be guests of Ford dealers and will travel on a "Tour of Champions" to the NFL game.

Eighteen awards, including football warmup jackets, place kicker devices, regulation size footballs and winner certificates will go to winners of local contests.

In addition, there will be district, area and national competition awards to those who survive advanced elimination.

Punt, Pass and Kick has been met with such tremendous response and enthusiasm from youngsters, parents and youth organizations, that officials this year have broadened the competition to include boys 12 and 13 years of age covering those in grade and junior high schools.

However, boys who are members of school athletic teams are not eligible to compete in the contests. Boys in senior high school, regardless of age, also are precluded from entering the competition.

The age extension brought endorsement from Pete Rozelle, commissioner of the National Football League, whose 14 clubs have helped stimulate interest in the program through the appearances of professional football players, who have given personal encouragement to contestants.

The PP&K program is endorsed and actively supported by many of the nation's leading service and civic groups: Boy's Clubs of America, Boy Scouts of America, Catholic Youth Organization, Cub Scout Packs, Junior Chamber of Commerce, Kiwanis International, Lions International, Optimists International, Young Men's Hebrew Association and Young Men's Christian Association.

Advertising in Weeklies Did Good Job for Buback

Just how effective is political advertising in the Wayne County weekly newspapers?

Politicians and advertising men are asking that question in connection with the sweeping victory of Sheriff Peter L. Buback, in the September 1 Democratic primary.

Buback swamped his nearest rival, Detroit Councilman Philip J. Van Antwerp by nearly 2 to 1. This, despite the fact that much of the vote intended for Sheriff Buback evidently went to a John B. Bubak, who made no campaign but whose name followed Sheriff Buback's on the ballot. The "c"-less Bubak ran third.

Moreover, Van Antwerp had every advantage of a candidate who has successfully run for office, and whose name is widely known and favored, against a candidate (Buback) who had never run for office and whose name was unknown to the general run of voters. Buback had been appointed Sheriff following the death of Sherif Andrew C. Baird in February, 1963.

Van Antwerp had the immense advantage of being thought of widely as a member of the Eugene Van Antverp family, to which he is, in fact, distantly related. There is probably no name carrying so much prestige in Wayne County politics as that of the former Mayor who was for so many years a leader in Detroit's civic life.

The name had shown its power two years previously, when Philip Van Antwerp had run for Sheriff in the Democratic primary against Andy Baird, considered to be unbeatable. While he fell short of the nomination, Van Antwerp's strong run startled the Baird camp and impressed the politicians. Many were sure that if he ran against the virtually unknown Buback in the 1964 primary, he would win handily.

Buback, according to Arthur Hathaway and James P. Derum, of Arthur Hathaway Associates, who were his public relations counselors—realized that the way to overcome the prestige of the Van Antwerp name was to tell the voters of Wayne County about his notable achievements in modernizing the sheriff's office. He had done more in that direction in 16 months than had been accomplished in the previous 50 years. Buback, besides being a highly efficient, long-experienced executive, had been studying the Sheriff's office or many years while he served as Chief Deputy County Clerk.

Long before anyone realized that the two Detroit dailies — the News and Free Press—were to be tied up by a strike, Hathaway and Derum decided to concentrate advertising in the weekly newspapers through the three weeks immediately preceding the primary. They allocated more money for the weekly press than for either radio or television. For it was only through the newspapers that the story of Sheriff Buback's notable record could be told at minimum cost.

That record was presented in the weekly press in major detail, and the presentation was evidently effective. Despite the fact that important factors favored a larger Buback vote in Detroit than in the outside precincts, the Sheriff ran about as strongly in the outlying municipalities and townships as in the city.

"I don't want to give anything like 100% credit to the weekly newspaper for our good showing in the outside-Detroit precincts, and in the many Detroit communities covered by the weekly press," said Sheriff Buback. "There are too many factors involved in a political campaign for any such wholesale statement. But I do say this—when a candidate has a sound record to run on, he will be wise, in my opinion, based on this recent experience, to use newspapers to present the record to the public."

"Of course, the way that record is presented is highly important, and I want to tip my hat to our advertising and public relations counsel for their skill in the presentation. But there's a special tribute due to the weekly newspapers which carried the messages to their hundreds of thousands of readers, who, it seems clear, really do read them."

League to See Gridiron Game

The Luther League of St. Paul Ev. Lutheran Church, Chalfonte and Lothrop, Grosse Pointe Farms, will sponsor a trip by chartered bus to Ann Arbor on Saturday, to see the University of Michigan play the Air Force Academy at the annual Band Day. About 50 young people will leave the church at 11 a.m.

Two Policemen Resign in Woods

Det. Gaylord Golding, an eight-year veteran of the Woods Public Safety Department, resigned from the force today, September 24. The resignation becomes effective on October 17.

Golding joined the Woods Department on July 2, 1956, after leaving the Detroit Police Department, where he served as a patrolman for two years. He was made a detective last February.

The detective, who resides at 24505 Star Valley, St. Clair Shores, is leaving the department to work as a claims adjuster for the Michigan Mutual Liability company.

He is the second Woods police officer to resign in three weeks. Bruce Cross resigned as patrolman on September 5, to work with a construction company. He was with the department for five years.

Both resigned officers cited offers of better working conditions and more pay on their new jobs as the reasons for leaving the force.

We pledge the most for piano and organ dollar; if we fail, tell us.

The Baldwin Story

Baldwin Grand, Hamilton Professional, Acrosonic Console and Howard Spinet Pianos are made in their entirety by Baldwin . . . These pianos are not assembled from parts made in widely separated factories by supply houses to the trade, where quality controls are unknown, but by the careful building of both harp, case, action and all component parts where each and every part is perfectly matched for quality control . . . When pianos are made in this way, they are far superior to production instruments, in Tone, Touch and Durability.

Baldwin factories have been making pianos like this for over 100 years . . . And, remember this . . . There has never been a change of company ownership in this century of keyboard manufacture.

Jay-Hawks Beat Woods Spartans

The Woods Spartans varsity football team lost a thriller to the Southfield Jay-Hawks 12-6, which featured an 85-yard run by Dennis Kahle, which set up the Spartans' touchdown. Quarterback Allen Tunis then took the ball in to score from the 6-yard line.

Strong defensive performances were turned in by Kris Warner, Tom Gates and Lenny Constantine.

The Spartan Jr. Varsity also lost a thriller 13-7 to the Jay Hawks. The Spartans' touchdown was scored by Chip DeClaire, who was the outstanding offensive player of the day.

The defensive unit was led by the good play of Tom Fabbri, Phil Wenzell and Frank Meli.

The undefeated Spartan Pony team defeated the Jay-Hawks 7-0. The Spartans' touchdown was scored by Jeff DeClaire and point after touchdown by Brad Biesenthal.

Crisp blocking by Bill Fobare led to many long gains by the Spartans.

The strong defensive unit was led by Steve Gates, Tom Pomaski, Randy Bloomquist, Steve Shier and Tom Richardson.

The Woods Spartans play the South Redford Raiders Sunday, September 27, at Redford.

FENCING

This seems like a wonderful time of the year for kids of all ages to take up fencing. Like any good sport, it develops alertness and coordination. John Bruce, of the Neighborhood Club, is starting a series of 10 lessons for $5, running from October 1 through December 10.

The group will meet at Richard School on Thursdays from 4 to 5 p.m. Reservations are being taken at the Club's temporary office at 710 Notre Dame, TU 5-4600.

Of course, Judo is as popular as ever, and classes will start on Wednesday, October 7 at Brownell Junior High. The instructor, Frank Aul, holder of the Black Belt, which is "special" in Judo language. The price is just $10 for 10 lessons. Beginners, ages 7 to 12 will meet from 6 to 7 p.m., beginning Teens and Adults meet from 7 to 8 p.m. (This could be a Family Project!) Call The Neighborhood Club office at TU 5-4600 for reservations, or more information.

Boy Hit, Slightly Injured by Car

Jeffery Camm, 12, of 1628 Severn, suffered a minor injury of the left thigh when he was struck by an automobile in the Woods Theater parking lot on Saturday, September 19.

Driver of the car was Arthur Ritter, 40, of 25704 Winton, St. Clair Shores, who told Woods police that he was driving west on the driveway, to park in the lot, when the boy walked in front of his auto.

Jeffery was taken to St. John Hospital by police for treatment of the injury, and later released.

An investigation, and information received from a witness, absolved Ritter of blame, and he was released after making a statement to authorities.

Now on display: the most beautiful Chrysler ever built.

This is Chrysler '65. The big one that delivers. Luxury that reflects your good taste, for one thing. A fast answer to your demands, for another.

Look at it. Clean-lined. Big. Beautiful. Eighteen feet of comfort. Two tons of security.

It's easier to get into and out of. There's lots of headroom, and legroom and hiproom.

Get in and drive it. The first thing you'll notice is best described as "scorch." Model 1965 is a very quick automobile. And there's an improvement in ride you can really feel.

One more point. A Chrysler isn't all that expensive. Seven Newport models are priced just a few dollars a month more than some of the popular smaller cars.

Visit your Chrysler dealer and see them all: economical Newport; sports-bred 300; and the luxurious New Yorker. Move up to Chrysler. Model 1965. The man who sells them will make the move very easy for you.

Tune in Bob Hope and The Chrysler Theatre, Friday evenings; NCAA Football, Saturday afternoons; and the World Series—all on NBC-TV.

U-M Business Grads Sought

Degree recipients from the University of Michigan Graduate School of Business Administration continue to be eagerly sought by U.S. business and industry.

During the past academic year more than 300 top companies in the nation sent recruiters to the U-M Business School. They scheduled more than 450 visits during the placement program in which 245 of the school's 318 candidates for the Master of Business Administration (MBA) degree participated as did 69 of the 160 candidates for the Bachelor of Business Administration (BBA) degree.

Starting salaries for MBA recipients ranged as high as $1175 per month, with the median at $675.

Among the BBA candidates, salaries ranged up to $715 a month, with median at $560.

These figures have been revealed by A. S. Hann, who directs placement activities for the U-M Business School. The most active recruitment during the year, he has pointed out, was in the fields of accounting, banking, corporation finance, marketing, actuarial science and quantitative methods.

"Demand was well above supply in these areas as well as in several other fields," Hann states.

"This was the greatest recruitment year for our graduates we have ever experienced," he declares. In all categories—number of companies, number of interviews, students participating, job placements and salaries—new records were established.

Hann points out that less than half of the BBA candidates registered for placement. A majority of them continue their education, mainly at the U-M, until they earn their MBA degrees.

"We are especially proud of the high caliber if companies that make annual recruitment visits to our campus," the Business School placement director states.

"The blue ribbon character of these firms underlines the strong reputation the U-M Graduate School of Business Administration enjoys in the nation's business circles."

Business School Dean Floyd A. Bond points out that "The increase in our school's enrollment and the high quality of candidates is eloquent testimony to the attraction of a curriculum geared to today's needs, a faculty of the highest order, and unsurpassed placement opportunities."

During the past year the placement office made a study of the factors determining job selection by the school's graduates.

At the top of the list for both MBA and BBA candidates was "type of work," while "opportunity for future growth" ranked second.

MBA candidates put "salary level" in third place, followed by "type of industry," "'my type of people'," and "location."

BBA candidates ranked "location" third, "salary level" fourth, "size of company" fifth, and "type of industry" sixth.

Woods Submits Accident Report

Injury and property damage accidents in the Woods for the first eight months of 1964, almost tally that for the same period in 1963, according to a traffic accident report submitted on Tuesday, September 15, by Woods Police Lt. Roland Symons, traffic safety officer.

From January 1 through August 31 of this year, 37 injury accidents have been recorded, and 143 property damage accidents. For the same period last year, injury accidents numbered 38, and property damage accidents, 142.

During this period in 1963, six pedestrians were reported injured, as were eight bicyclists and 29 motorists.

This year, the injured reported were four pedestrians, five bicyclists, and 46 motorists.

In August of this year, five injury accidents were recorded, and 11 property damage accidents; whereas, in August 1963, the figure was three injury accidents and six property damage accidents.

Lt. Symons stated in a monthly bulletin, that although the city's accident experience for the first eight months of 1964 is basically the same as last year, there is much room for improvement.

He pointed out that Mack avenue continued to account for more than 50 percent of the city's total accidents.

Major accident causes, he stated, are "following too close," inattention and lack of courtesy.

Accidents occurring on the city's side, or residential streets, are usually caused by excessive speed, disobedience to stop signs and inattention. Although most of these accidents were of a minor nature, the number of collisions would be greatly reduced if motorists obeyed the traffic stop signs and drove within the speed limit, Symons added.

Among members of the Michigan State Association of Industrial Nurses who plan to attend the American Association of Industrial Nurses, Inc. President's Meeting, scheduled this Saturday and Sunday, in New York, is MISS OPAL A. STEVENSON, of Allard avenue, president of the Michigan State Association of Industrial Nurses, Inc.

The fellow who is his own best friend usually gets left.

State Control of Vernier Road Due to End Shortly

The State Highway Department will relinquish jurisdiction over Vernier road within the next two or three years, depending upon the completion and opening of the Edsel Ford Freeway, north of the road (M29), the Woods council was informed on Monday, September 21. The road will then come under local control.

The information was presented to the council by City Attorney Julius Berns, who told the council that he attended a meeting on September 9, held in Harper Woods with representatives of the State Highway Department, Shores, Harper Woods, St. Clair Shores, and Wayne County and Macomb County Road Commissions, regarding the termination of jurisdiction of Vernier east of the freeway.

Berns said that State officials advised that although it was not mandatory, the Highway Department proposes to resurface Vernier from Sunningdale drive east, to the east city limits of the Woods, with a one-course resurfacing material. Grading of the road shoulders will also be done by the State, he said.

On several occasions, the Woods council petitioned the State Highway Department to reconstruct and curb Vernier (M-29), east of Sunningdale drive. In reply, the department stated that if this would be done, it would consider it in a future project.

As far as the Highway Department is concerned, Berns said he was informed, as soon as the freeway is extended north of Vernier, the road east of the freeway would no longer serve any State purpose, and all the department would do is resurface the road and fix the shoulders.

The city attorney informed the council that he approached the Highway Department officials on the possibility of the department considering a contribution from the Woods, for an immediate resurfacing and curbing of Vernier, before the road is abandoned.

He said that he was advised that the Highway Department would contribute to the Woods, a sum of money equal to what it would cost for the project, under a joint program.

However, it was pointed out, the work would have to be under contract within the next two or three years, before the Highway Department relinquishes jurisdiction of the road.

Introducing Comet 1965:

livelier, more beautiful sequel to the World's Durability Champion

We couldn't make Comet much tougher, so we made it more beautiful. Made the outside sleeker, sportier—from every angle. Made the interiors more luxurious. Made every engine bigger, from the thrifty 200 cu.-in. Comet "♥" up through the hefty new 289 cu.-in. Cyclone Super V-8 (225 hp). Made the ride even smoother, more solid and silent.

The one thing not new in this racy '65 sequel is the stamina that made Comet the World's 100,000-Mile Durability Champion. And you wouldn't want that to change, would you? It didn't.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

I have followed your coverage of the 14th District infighting. I went to the convention, just as you advised. What I wish to discuss with you has to do not primarily with political ideologies or with the twilight zone of right and wrong in the dispute. (In both I consider myself poorly qualified) but with matters of direct observation.

The sequence of events you report and the sequence which I observed—without using drugs or stimulants of any kind—are simply not the same.

You quote Jack Matheus as protesting that Durant would not allow a roll-call vote; and you relate his statement to the voting for permanent chairman of the convention — which was a roll call vote. Now surely this is not fair to Mr. Matheus' intelligence. I am shocked to see such a blunder imputed to a man who must be very astute indeed.

But this oddity does not stand alone. I am at a loss to determine why you have reversed the order of two other events of the convention. As I saw it, the report of the Rules Committee came before the dispute over selection of delegates to the state convention. I do not know if this inaccuracy is supposed to have political meaning or effect. I do know it is frightening. If you are inaccurate in reporting things so easily perceived, it is going to be difficult for your readers to feel that they can comfortably accept your reporting on less simple aspects of the dispute. Either your representative was not there, or I wasn't. In cases like this I generally side with me.

I am further discomfited. I have been told by one of your readers that those who believe that the Durant convention was arbitrarily conducted should protest to some higher authority in the party. I, for one, did find the last moments confusing. I don't feel that I can make any worthwhile judgment because my knowledge of parliamentary procedure is fragmentary. I did go on to the state convention. I found to my dismay that a resolution concerning the 14th District convention was passed by the same method that Richard Durant has been accused of using. There was no roll-call, yet several people from out-state who professed relative ignorance of the district's affairs thought they heard decidedly more votes for the negative. Your paper reports the votes Durant judged as having been much closer than that.

Why should I write to the state organization? In what way is it superior to the local group? Why should I believe you in important things, when your reporting of objective fact is askew?

Sincerely,
Althea S. Romaine
545 University Place

P.S. Please print this letter. You have given space to people with axes to grind, including the gentleman who thought he knew where I could write for redress. I hesitated to write even this, because it is so discouraging to have one's efforts circularly filed. Perhaps, though, others share my confusion and my despair.

To the Editor:—

Last week's news story about the Citizens Advisory Committee's endorsement of the second high school on the Vanderbush site implied that this action was reached in a spirit of complete unanimity.

For the record, I did NOT support this endorsement, nor could I, in good conscience, support it for two reasons.

First, I feel the motion to recommend the proposal was premature.

While the committee gave courteous attention to presentation supporting the School Board's proposal, it showed no inclination to make any independent investigations of alternate proposals. In fact, when efforts were made to present or consider any alternate proposals, these efforts were met with overzealous opposition and were resoundly defeated when they were made in the form of motions.

For these reasons, I could not support that portion of the recommendation that implied that a thorough, conscientious, impartial and independent investigation of the basic proposal and its alternative was made.

Second, I feel the recommendation was improper.

The maker of the motion to recommend the school proposal stated before the committee that he was making the motion as a result of a private conversation he had had with Mr. Pongracz in which it was pointed out to him that the Board of Education was unwilling to proceed with the second high school until it had the endorsement of the committee. The remarks of the maker of the recommendation motion made it clear that his principal objective was to remove this impediment to the School Board.

I feel that not only was this an improper objective but that it suggested improper influence by an interested party, (the president of the School Board, whose proposal was under inquiry), on the maker of the motion to recommend (a committee member charged with the responsibility of conducting an independent inquiry).

While I am prepared to accept my share of the failure of the Citizens Advisory Committee to conduct a comprehensive and conscientious investigation of our community's school needs, I can't help feeling that the principal victim of the recommendation is the Board of Education's second high school proposal, itself.

At a time when it was promised an opportunity for complete vindication in the presence of all possible conflicting evidence, it was compromised by the indignity of a directed verdict.

Sincerely,
CARL J. SANDBERG
20661 Wedgewood Drive,

Dear Editor:

As a long-time resident of Grosse Pointe, may I add some remarks in favor of the much-maligned Dick Durant. I met this young man when he returned from his war-service and ran against the late Louis Rabaut for the U.S. Congress. He put up a fair and hard campaign, but found that he had no organization behind him.

Several young couples, the Boylstons, the Ingrahams, the Durants, the Heenans, and the Waldrons, started a grass roots Republican organization in which small contributors were asked to give $5.00 or even $1.00 a month to enable young clean-cut Americans to run for office, and to establish a permanent, year-round Republican headquarters—incidentally the first in the state of Michigan. This organization was called the R.V.A. or the Republican Voters Association. Each member, no matter how small his contribution, was allowed a voice in the policy. A card table was used as the first desk. Lillian Chambers was the first secretary.

I may be wrong, but as I understand it, money going to the Republican party, had hitherto been contributed in large sums to the State Central Committee to a closed group who Were Voters Shortsighted?

It appears highly probable that the voters in the City of Grosse Pointe who cast their ballots in the September 1 Primaries against a proposed bond issue to finance up-dating of its antiquated sanitary and storm drainage sewer systems, will have cause to regret their action.

This proposal was for a general obligation bond issue of $1,320,000 for expansion and improvement of the sewer systems. It came closest of any of the three proposals on the ballot, of being approved. The voters turned it down by 915 to 826.

The City officials are now faced with the problem of finding another way to finance this project which cannot be postponed. The State of Michigan health authorities have virtually condemned the present systems on the grounds that they are contaminating Lake St. Clair and causing polluted basement floodings during heavy rains. The State demands immediate action to remedy the situation, which indeed it should.

Now that the voters have rejected the general obligation bond issue proposal, it seems likely that the City will have to float revenue bonds to finance the job which has to be done. Which doesn't paint a pretty picture, from the taxpayer's viewpoint. Had the general obligation bond issue proposal been approved, increased City taxes would have taken care of the financing, and the payer could have taken these as a deduction on his federal income taxes.

If revenue bonds are issued to finance the project, not only will they carry a higher rate of interest, but the cost will be borne by an increase in the water bills for every household and business establishment. In this case, no tax deduction is permissable, so it may well be that the voters have not only picked a more expensive way to finance a project that could not be ducked, but they have deprived themselves of a tax break they could have seized.

What Goes On at Your Library

By Virginia Leonard

October, 1964, represents a milestone in the history of the Grosse Pointe Public Libraries. Why, you ask? On October 2, 1939, "the main library in the wing of the John D. Pierce Junior High School" was opened. Today, this "main library" is known as our Park Branch, and together with the Pierce Junior High School, it is celebrating its twenty-fifth anniversary.

On that memorable Sunday, October 1, 1939, the community was invited to a tea in the new library — a celebration attended by about 500 people, with tea being served to three hundred and twenty. Flowers and messages of congratulation were received; many out-of-town librarians attended; the occasion was noted by the Grosse Pointe Review, the Detroit Free Press and the Detroit News, as well as the Tower. The new facilities were admired, especially the charging machine. The seating capacity had been enlarged from 21 in the old library to 100 in the new. By the time the library report for the 1939-40 fiscal year was issued, one could measure the increased use of the new library statistically, the adult circulation had risen 14 per cent and the juvenile, six per cent.

This fiscal report gives us some other interesting facts. The Main Library (i.e. the present Park Branch) was open 11 hours daily, the City Branch, eight and one-half, the Woods Branch (then located in a rented store on Mack Avenue) 17 hours per week, the Farms Station, eight hours per week, and the Shores Station, seven hours per week. The book collection at that time was 23,127.

As long as we seem to be reminiscing, why not go back even further — to the very beginnings of our Grosse Pointe Libraries? As early as 1853, the Constitution of Michigan gave the legislature the power to establish a library in every school district. However, there was no library service of any kind in Grosse Pointe before 1922. In January of that year, the Wayne County Library, at the request of George Osius, organized a station at Grosse Pointe Shores in the Village Hall. It was open on Wednesdays from 7:30-9 p.m. and Saturdays from 2-4. The report for the first year shows that 681 books were circulated for home use.

And that was the only public library until February, 1926. At that time a station was set up in the Neighborhood Club in Grosse Pointe, with Miss Margaret Peets as the first librarian. When the new Club was built, new quarters needed to be found. Dexter M. Ferry offered the Wayne County Library the use of a cottage, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar B. Whitcomb paid for the remodelling; the Neighborhood Club paid for the utilities and janitor service, and the Wayne County Library for the furniture, books, supplies and salaries. On February 1, 1928, Miss Florence Severs was appointed branch librarian. The Village Branch was formally opened on Thanksgiving Day, 1927, but did not operate as a full time branch until February 1, 1928. At the end of the first fiscal year, the Shores Station had circulated 2,063 books and the Village Branch, 25,371.

On December 1, 1928, a library station was opened in the Goodrich Confectionery Store in Lochmoor. At about the same time, need for a library in Grosse Pointe Park was felt, and so one was established in the Municipal Building, with the necessary appropriation being made by the village commission.

By June, 1928, plans were being made to establish a public library to serve the district as one unit, and to be under the School District. Since this was a rural agricultural district, without legal authority to appoint a library board, it was recommended that the school district make a contract with the Wayne County Library for a period of three years, so that the library could be organized before it was taken over by the school board. These recommendations were adopted by the Board of Education in June, 1929, and an expansion of service began, with an increased staff of six members. The headquarters was moved to the Park Library. A fifth Station was established at the Farms in the Municipal Building, in 1930

At the end of the three year period, the direction of the library was turned over to the Grosse Pointe Board of Education, with Wayne County agreeing to continue to furnish supervisory advice upon request and inter-library loan service.

The Depression came, times were hard, and a "Book Drive" was organized. In 1937, the City Branch was moved to Cadieux Road; in 1938 the Lochmoor Station was moved to Mack Avenue.

We don't mean to sound too terse, but space prevents any elaboration or further detailing these facts. We only wanted to hit some of the salient points from the humble beginnings up to 1939, for there have been many milestones in the history of our Libraries. But today belongs to our Park Branch and to the Pierce Junior High School. We salute their 25th anniversary and hope that they will continue to prosper and forge ahead

By Betty Collins

Very, VERY exciting news, gathered last Thursday at the Junior Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra luncheon meeting . . . the Symphony Juniors are planning a theater party, the World Premier of "If I Had a Ball," starring Buddy Hackett, at The Fisher October 24.

Mrs. Bert Treiber, of Whittier road, is Pointe co-chairman for the party. The Association is taking over the whole house for the evening, and theater-goers will arrive replete, after wining and dining at one of the cocktail and buffet parties scheduled in various Association members' homes.

These cocktail-buffet get-togethers are an innovation this year, replacing the traditional "Afterglow." Among the Pointe's pre-theater hostesses will be Mrs. John B. Renick, Mrs. Charles M. Endicott and Mrs. Hugh G. Harness.

These ladies, and other hostesses all around the town, have agreed to entertain a certain number of strangers, each will invite people she has never known

Parcells Plan Musical Salon

This Sunday evening the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Parcells, Jr., will serve as a salon for an evening of music to be given to their friends. This first in a series of musical offerings is in keeping with the old world soirees. Mr. Parcells, through Prof. Malcolm Johns, has engaged three young artists from Wayne State University to perform.

Pianist James Tocco, who will leave October 1 to continue his music study in Paris, will play three pieces of Raval: "Oiseaux Tristes," "Une Barque sur l'ocean," and "Albarada del Graocioso," and conclude the recital with Brahms "Variations and Fugue on a Theme of Handel," Op. 24.

His young colleagues, Darla Da Deppo and Harry Klein, will join Mr. Tocco in performing the first movement of Bach's "Double Violin Concero." These two gifted violinists will also present two unaccompanied duets by Roza and Prokofieff.

The three 20-year-old musicians have all won scholarships for outstanding performance. As patrons, Mr. and Mrs. Parcells wish to contribute not only to the careers of these young artists but to avail themselves of their services for the enjoyment of their family and guests. It is hoped that many patrons will follow this continental tradition of presenting private concerts in their homes.

Miss Da Peppo (Betsy and Annie Parcell's violin teacher) has just returned from Michigan State University's Summer String Congress where she studied violin with Rafael Druian, concertmaster of the Cleveland Orchestra. This fall she will continue her study at Wayne State University on the Cranbrook Music Guild Scholarship with Dr. Morris Hochberg, newly-appointed head of strings at Wayne and long time assistant concertmaster of the Detroit Symphony.

Mr. Klein, a sophomore, has just been engaged to play under Sixten Erhling, conductor of the Detroit Symphony.

Friends of Fran and Charlie Parcells will include: Mr. and Mrs. William J. Young Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Milton W. Volkens, Dr. and Mrs. Ellis J. Van Slyck, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Sorge, Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Endicott, Mr. and Mrs. William N. Montgomery, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick R. Keydel, Mr. and Mrs. J. Donald McLeod, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Buckminister, Mr. and Mrs. David Ballentine, Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Show Fashions For New Clinic

Designs by Bonnie Cashin will be featured at the second in a series of fashion show-luncheons being held at Grosse Pointe's On-the-Hill restaurant for the benefit of the new Northeastern Wayne County Child Guidance Clinic.

This second fashion show-luncheon will be given at noon, Saturday, October 3.

Margaret Rice is serving as co-ordinator for the series which opened earlier this month to a capacity audience and which will continue monthly through January, 1965.

Bonnie Cashin is regarded by her colleagues in the fashion industry as both a pioneer and a pace-setter in the ever-expanding field of sportswear. She is generally credited with having created a number of innovations which now enjoy a wide vogue. Among these innovations are capes, ponchos, hoods, leggings, boots and walking skirts.

Fashion writers have described her creations as "no nonsense clothing," "styles with a fresh out-of-door flavor," and "clothes to match the countryside." They have even drawn parallels between her desire to create fashions which blend with their settings and the so-called "indigenous architecture" of the late Frank Lloyd Wright.

Her styles are marked by a great many "signatures," including her unique use of smooth leathers such as kid skins, deep-naped suedes, heavy mohairs, once-neglected furs such as raccoon as well as buckles, chains, toggles and other "chunk" hardware.

Appropriately, Bonnie Cashin's fashions for this season were inspired by Shakespeare—whose 400th birthday commemoration is being celebrated this year.

Her early experience with a sportswear firm in New York took Bonnie Cashin to Hollywood and work with the motion picture industry in 1943. In 1949, she returned to New York, and, three years later, she became an "independent" designer.

Since then, she has become one of the most honored of American designers. Among the organizations from whom she has received awards are: the New York Fashion Critics (twice). Neiman-Marcus, "Sports Illustrated" magazine, the Philadelphia Museum and the Wool-Knit Association. Her designs were the subject of a retrospective show at the Brooklyn Museum in 1962.

Tickets for the fashion show-luncheon are available at Margaret Rice in the "on the hill" business district in Grosse Pointe or by calling either TU 1-2400 or VA 1-9134.

The clinic—which opens September 28—will provide mental health care for children from the five Grosse Pointes, Harper Woods and the northeast section of Detroit. It will be located at 18424 Mack avenue.

Funds contributed by communities, business, industry, organizations and individuals as well as those earned from benefits such as the fashion show-luncheon series will be used to defray the cost of a professional staff member and clerical help for the clinic. Other professional personnel will be provided by the Children's Center of Wayne County.

BENSON FORD, JR., of Lake Shore road, is enrolled at the Fessenden School, West Newton, Mass., which opened on September 14, for its sixty-second year.

Good luck has always been partial to the fellow who is not afraid of hard work.

Margaret E. Bromley Is Saturday Bride

Weds Paul John Krogh in Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church Saturday; Reception at Crystal Ballroom of Grosse Pointe War Memorial

Margaret Elizabeth Bromley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bromley, of University place, became the bride of Paul John Krogh, son of the Wilmer A. Kroghs, of Vernier road, Saturday evening, at a candlelight service in Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church.

The Reverend Andrew F. Rauth officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride wore a gown of deep ivory peau de soie, styled with a scalloped Alencon lace bodice and a modified bell skirt, featuring a deep border of Alencon lace appliqued at the hem. Her train was Chapel length.

Her shoulder length, bouffant veil of imported English illusion fell from a Dior bow, and she carried a bouquet of deep ivory roses and stephanotis, accented with ivy.

Wearing a floor length, moss green moire taffeta dress was maid of honor Nancy Ellen Bromley, sister of the bride. Her frock was circled with ice blue velvet, tied in a tiny bow, with streamers, at the back. Her matching moss green moire bow headpiece was trimmed with silk illusion, and she carried a cascade of ice blue miniature carnations, accented with stephanotis and ivy.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Robert J. Tyrrell, and bridesmaids Maryann Chylinski and Carolyn Krogh, sister of the bridegroom, wore identical gowns and carried similar bouquets of miniature carnations entertwined with ivy.

James P. Thistlethwaite served as best man. Ushering were Albert A. Bolden, Jr., Paul W. Rea, Robert J. Tyrrell and David P. Weamer.

For her daughter's wedding and the reception, in the Crystal Ballroom of Fries Auditorium, Mrs. Bromley wore an almond green peau de soie suit, with an Alencon lace bodice and matching accessories. She pinned gold cymbidium orchids to her purse.

Mrs. Krogh chose an ice blue silk suit, its bodice accented with matching braided detail, and a pink cymbidium orchid corsage.

When the newlyweds left for Boston, Nantucket and New York City, the bride was wearing a dress of pale gold mohair, with matching accessories. Upon their return, the couple will be at home temporarily in The Pointe.

Among out of town guests were the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Percy L. Easley, of Little Rock, Ark., and Mrs. Era Thomason, great-aunt of the bride, also of Little Rock. Others were Mr. and Mrs. Jay Donivan, of Charleston, W. Va., Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Ruthvan, of Chicago, Ill., Mrs. Thomas Bruna, of Carpentersville, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Hahn, of Cleveland, Tenn., Mrs. Elizabeth Overhoit, of Flint, Mich., Mr. and Mrs. Howard Shaffer, of Lansing, and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hoag, of Grand Rapids.

Plan Home Rule LWV Workshop

The question of home rule for Wayne County will be considered by Wayne County members of the League of Women Voters at a workshop Wednesday, September 30, at Henry Ford's Fair Lane in Dearborn.

Members of the Grosse Pointe League of Women Voters will attend the meeting and luncheon from 9:30 to 3:15 o'clock. A number of government officials are expected to attend.

The following aspects of Wayne County home rule will be under discussion: Substantive powers—how do we decide whether city or county should perform various government functions? Structural power—how can county executive power be provided? Tax power—how can tax resources be allocated among cities, counties, and the state?

The workshop's morning session will be a panel discussion presenting an overall view of all three areas. Following luncheon at the nearby University of Michigan cafeteria, separate groups will discuss the areas in greater detail.

After a few years of intensive study, the five Wayne county leagues last year voted to support the concept of home rule for the county.

Registration for the workshop is $1.25. Grosse Pointe League members and any interested persons who wish to attend should contact Mrs. Howard Hush, 886-2590.

The bride, the former Mary Claire Dowdy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Dowdy, of Notre Dame avenue, wore a sheath gown of silk satin, featuring a Chapel train and a Chantilly lace trimmed bateau neckline.

A tiny circlet of matching lace caught her elbow length silk illusion veil. Her bouquet was mounted on her mother's prayer book and carried in the family tradition.

Matron of honor Mrs. Daniel C. Sykes, sister of the bride, and bridesmaids Gail Dowdy and Mary Barau, wore identical floor length gowns of pale blue crepe, styled with deep blue velvet bodices.

Their headpieces were satin Dior bows, and they carried red Happiness roses.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Murphy, of Engleside drive, asked Earl Kulson to serve as best man. Seating the guests were Michael Barry, Michael Saules and Paul Dowdy, on leave for his sister's wedding from Schofield Base, Hawaii.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs E. W. Thrasher, of Chicago, Ill.; Mrs. Norman Luquette, of Pennsylvania; and Mr. and Mrs. James Hamel, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kuefer and Mr. and Mrs. John Kellner, all of Ohio.

Goodwill Group Slates Preview

To captivate the interest of its patrons in its forthcoming 17th Annual Antiques Market and Sale, the Junior Group of Goodwill Industries has this year mailed invitations for a Champagne Preview on Saturday evening, November 7, in the building of Goodwill Industries. The Antiques Market, sponsored by the Junior Group, will run from Sunday November 8, through Wednesday, November 11.

Mr. and Mrs. George T. Trumbull, of Bloomfield Hills, are chairmen of the Champagne Preview and will be assisted by Mrs. Richard Wagner, of Birmingham, as co-chairman.

Mrs. W. Thomas LaRue, of the Indian Village Manor, and Mrs. George T. Wilde, of Franklin, are co-chairmen for the 1964 Antiques Market and Sale.

Receipts from the 17th Annual Junior Goodwill Antiques Market and Sale will be used to provide rehabilitation services and job training programs for handicapped men and women at Goodwill Industries of Greater Detroit. The Juniors contribute largely to the support of this important project and are happy to report that there are upwards of 250 persons presently employed in industry, who could not have been working were it not for the special training program made available to them.

Miss Buttrick Is Married

Teeners Dance This Saturday

The Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Youth Council is blasting off the season with a dance this Saturday night, September 26, at 8:30 o'clock featuring the monkey rhythms of "The Fugitives." "The Fugitives" have been the popular mainstay of the "Hideout," where Grosse Pointe teens gathered in overflow numbers each Wednesday and Friday night through the past summer.

According to Craig Dykstra, Youth Council president, this dance will be a special welcome home for Youth Council advisor Bill Jones after his trying experiences this summer in northern Michigan. For this reason, it is hoped that everyone will make an effort to turn out.

This and all Youth Council functions are open to all students in grades 9 through 12 of the Pointe's public, private and parochial schools. It is a couples dance and dress will simply be informal school clothes.

The admission of $1 a person includes the cost of refreshments. While "The Fugitives" are taking breaks, dancing will continue to John Clarke's record collection.

Pointe Artists Plan Gala 'Festa Italiana'

The Grosse Pointe Artist's Association is again giving the community and anyone who enjoys arts and crafts an opportunity to visit its annual Art Show on the grounds of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center, Lakeshore road. The date is September 26, from 10 to 6 o'clock.

The theme "Festa Italiana" will be carried out by various decorations such as paper mache birds placed around the fountain, reminiscent of St. Mark's in Italy.

Mrs. Harold Phelps, of Harvard road, headed the decorations committee.

No show can function without able direction and the Association has had just that in Mrs. Fred Swartz, of Balfour road, Mrs. Robert Brownell, of Lincoln road, and Mrs. Walter Stewart, of Westchester road.

The art exhibition last year proved such a success that a bigger and better one is on the agenda for this year. Mrs. David Tennent, of Rivard boulevard, has gone on an "all out" effort to acquire such big name artists as Sarkis Sarkisian, Charles Culver, Glen Michaels, Richard Jerzy, Robert Wilbert, Hiroka Oba, Stan and Sheila Burns, Don Brackett, Pam Welsh, Bill House, Carol Wald, Patricia Quinlan, Vera Wolfe, Larry Jelf and Reva Schwader.

Local Association members will exhibit as well as many, many other artists throughout Michigan and its environs.

While viewing the various artists' work, the public will have the rare opportunity of watching demonstrations in silk screen by Sue Bolt, ceramics by Larry Jelf, water colors by Achsah Mathewson, weaving by Mrs. H. S. Pack and possibly a silver demonstration.

Portrait paintings are being offered by Emil Rellox, pastels, Robert Finch, caricature drawing, Carl Owens, pastel, and Ronnie Ireland, pen portraits.

Exhibitors' works will be juried by able judges and are for sale.

Eight paintings are being donated by Grosse Pointe Artist's Association members. Money realized by the sale of tickets helps defray expenses, since this is a non-profit organization. Tickets can be obtained on the grounds the day of the festival.

Light lunches will be available at the War Memorial. Dinner will be served to members and exhibitors, by reservation only.

"Fiesta Italiana" is co-sponsored by the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

Schedule Teen Hostel Outings

October 9-11 promises to be a glorious weekend for Grosse Pointe teens who are experienced canoeists and who would like to join the American Youth Hostel Pine River trip. Trippers must have camping equipment.

The fee for the weekend is $19.25, and must be paid at the Neighborhood Club office, 710 Notre Dame, by Friday, October 2. The trip is limited by a bus capacity of 30, so it is advisable to make a reservation as soon as possible by calling the Neighborhood Club office, TU 5-4600.

The group will depart from 7 Mile and Woodward Palmer Park parking lot at 6:30 p.m. on Friday, October 9, and will return by early evening Sunday. The fall colors should be at their height in Michigan to make this a scenic and memorable trip.

Along with other cyclists from the American Youth Hostels, Grosse Pointe teens may bike along the North River Road near Lake St. Clair on Sunday, October 4. The group will meet at 13 Mile and Stevenson at 10 a.m.

The round trip will be about 55 miles, so it is suggested that you bring along a good supply of energy plus a sack lunch!

There is only a 10 cent fee for an AYH day trip. Those interested in going may contact the Neighborhood Club office, 710 Notre Dame, TU 5-4600, Monday-Friday 9-5 p.m. to arrange to share-the-ride from Grosse Pointe to the designated meeting location.

Museum Sets Date for Fair

The gaiety and color of an old time fair will come to the Detroit Historical Museum, Woodward at Kirby, on Saturday, October 3, when the Detroit Historical Society Guild presents the "A-Fair to Remember." Admission is free and the variety of attractions spans the ages of those who prefer the excitement of active games, and the thrill of selecting their own penny candies from the great glass jars in the General Store right on the "Streets of Old Detroit" . . . to those who would enjoy relaxing at on old time movie, sharing a treat in the Old Fashioned Ice Cream Parlor or just visiting over a bite to eat in "Grandma's Kitchen," down by the "Streets of Old Detroit" and just a few steps from the Moran House.

You'll wander past exciting booths of handmade articles, Christmas tree trinkets and gifts, attic treasures, a flower cart, a bookstore . . . even a "Guideposts for Living" booth featuring framed words to live by and autographs from the pens of Henry Ford II, Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy, Cardinal Spellman, John Steinbeck, Gordie Howe, Mrs. (Claudia) Lady Bird Johnson, Robert F. Kennedy and famed rocket scientist, Werner von Brahn.

Visit the many exhibits and demonstrations . . . John Carroll, Sr., and his special collection of antique bicycles ("boneshakers," high-wheelers, the tandem); Mrs. Edwin W. Gorning, gowned in a dress designed from the 1800's, to demonstrate the art of spinning wool into yarn; Miss Florence Hickok, with her special loom, to show you how these yarns were woven into lovely fabrics.

Ancient and modern "kitchen arts" will be demonstrated by John Beers, our glass blower; Mrs. Nina Kelly with her exquisite china painting and The Cremo Club, here to explain the modern art of machine knitting. And you'll want to visit the Moran House and watch as fragrant bayberry candles are being made from our own molds. Learn the lovely legend of the bayberry candle and take some home to remind you of the wonderful day you spent with us at the Detroit Historical Museum.

Admission is free and the time is Saturday, October 3, from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Artists Market Opens Friday

Friday, September 25, heralds the beginning of a new season at The Detroit Artists Market.

The Annual Opening Exhibition of Contributing Artists will be on display at the Market Monday through Saturday, from 10 until 5 o'clock, through October 24.

Mrs. William B. Krag, hostess chairman, has asked the following Grosse Pointe women to greet guests and assist at the opening festivities: Mrs. John McNaughton, Mrs. Davison Pierson, Mrs. Gordon Knight, Mrs. William Tost, Mrs. Edgar Galloway and Mrs. W. Brace Krag.

Future exhibits at the Artists Market, located in Randolph street, Detroit, will include a show by the Michigan Potters Association, October 28 through November 21, and an "Art for Christmas" exhibit, November 25 through December 24.

CAROLYN V. COLEMAN, daughter of DR. and MRS. ROBERT E. COLEMAN of Webber place, has just returned from West Hartford, Conn. where she was maid of honor in the wedding of her former classmate at Rhode Island School of Design, Sydney Ann Griffin.

Mrs. Morgana Is Honored

Mrs. Maxwell R. Bates, Mrs. Maxwell R. Bates, Jr., and the Michael Kennedys honored Mrs. Charles Morgana on her 75th birthday Friday, at a reception in the Green Room of the Country Club.

Here for the party were the Morley Morganas, the senior Mrs. Bates' brother and sister-in-law, from Baton Rouge, La., and Morley Morgana, Jr., who came from Cambridge, Mass.

Mrs. Charles Morgana's September birth flowers are asters, and her favorite colors are lavendar, white and pink. Mrs. Bates used asters in a high silver epergne table centerpiece, flanked by tall silver candelabra.

Here from Colorado Springs, Colo., was Mrs. Francis (Casey) Jones, visiting her mother, Mrs. C. E. Parish. Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Morley Morgana, sisters, purchased identical gowns, with white bugle beaded bodices and black Empire skirts, in Colorado Springs, and Baton Rouge, respectively—and arrived at the party dressed like twins!

Footnote to the festivities: Mrs. Charles Morgana's granddaughter, Mrs. Michael Kennedy, gave birth to a baby girl Sunday.

Inside The Mothers' Club

Twenty-four Grosse Pointe High School Mothers, tucking executive board reports in hand, presented themselves at the University Place home of Mrs. Robert Clarke, on Monday, September 14, for the first round of Mothers' Club duties.

Mrs. Clarke, the president, greeted the members who enjoyed a buffet lunch on the southern terrace and in the living room before the meeting began.

Other members of the executivve board are: president elect, Mrs. Gordon Cook; vice-president, Mrs. Arthur Sherman; recording secretary; Mrs. Arthur L. Watts, Jr.; corresponding secretary, Mrs Charles Zentgraf; treasurer, Mrs. William Ludwig.

Others: faculty advisor, Jerry Gerich; faculty representative, Mrs. Benson McClure; historian, Mrs. C. A. Nolte; hospitality, Mrs. James Wilson; membership, Mrs. William Munro; neighborhood groups, Mrs. Robert Swanson; program, Mrs. James Laird; play tickets, Mrs. Thomas Petty; social, Mrs. Richard C. Mertz; bus chaperones, Mrs. Robert Brines; Christmas tea, Mrs. William Pankhurst; spring benefit party, Mrs. Chuck Beltz; Halloween chairman, Mrs. R. Lester Spitzley; 10th Grade chairman, Mrs. Raymond Mellinger; senior activity chairman, Mrs. Robert Thumann; P.T.A. Council representative, Mrs. Jack Frey; Board of Education representative, Mrs. Robert Christian.

Mr. Gerich, principal of the High School, and the faculty advisor to the Mothers' Club, briefed members on plans at the High School for the coming year. He told of the changes in procedures instituted at the school resulting from the erection of the new library.

Mr. Gerich gave each member an envelope containing background material in policies relating to the high school operation.

Students enrolled at G.P.H.S. now number 2789 according to Mr. Gerich's latest figures. There are 129 faculty members serving these students and only three periods of the week go by with a vacant room in the school.

Mr. Gerich mentioned several faculty members new to the High School this year, some coming from other schools in the Grosse Pointe system.

The Mothers' Club learned how the previous library area has been revamped into four new sections, one of which is to become a memorial to Walter Cleminson, former principal.

Mrs. Arthur Sherman, vice-president, reported that 16 June graduates are in Michigan tax-supported colleges this fall because of Scholarships awarded by the Mothers' Club. The sum of $5600 will be given for this purpose in the coming year. Mrs. Sherman has received many heartfelt letters of thanks from these students which she read in part to the Board.

Mrs. Robert Brines, bus chaperones chairman, has six buses lined up for the Ann Arbor football game. Buses to all away athletic events are sponsored by the Mothers' Club and Mrs. Brines is in charge of acquiring chaperones. She feels that all parents of high school students should have the pleasure of accompanying the students at least once. "You will enjoy yourself. Certainly it is the safest way to go to the game. The Mothers' Club and the high school administration strongly recommend that you, the parents, have your students use this safe way." Telephone Mrs. Brines at TU 4-4635 if you wish to act as chaperone.

The new school calendar for 1964-65 which the Mothers Club prepares, goes to all students and faculty and has been enlarged this year to include the months of July and August. The High School faculty is listed in the calendar as well as the Mothers' Club Board and the Dads' Club officers. Of particular importance to parents is the listing of testing dates for the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Tests, the College Board Tests, etc. To be noted also are the new Curriculum Planning Days with no school in the afternoon. Additional calendars are for sale at the High School Book store for 25c.

picked their "boys" for the jobs. One of the men, who is now a member of the so-called R.C.'s would never give me any help or satisfaction, as far as "getting the Republican voters out." People spoke in hushed tones of this man, calling him "Mr. Republican." The Grosse Pointe Republican Club had put me in charge of "getting out the vote" in Grosse Pointe Park. He was as unapproachable as a prince in an ivory tower. Times have changed; electing a Republican in Michigan is a very difficult thing. The Democratic "machine" has reached its long arm into Precinct 1 of Grosse Pointe Park. Four years ago, while "challenging" at the polls, by a Democrat by the name of "Krantz," I ran into tactics I couldn't believe possible in a civilized community. "Krantz," I understand, has left our fair community to get a better job in Washington, D.C., and received that job from the Republican Administration.

The line is sharply drawn now between the so-called Liberals and Conservatives. As I understand it, Liberals, either Democratic or Republican, are the people who want our government to control, by taking away from the "Haves and giving to the Have Nots." The Liberal press has given the public many so-called "Dirty Words" — The D.A.R., the John Birchers, and the latest of these is the Extremists. These are the bogeymen images conjured up by the enemies of our way of life. All the world is jealous of the way of life in America. Where in the world could a working man 50 years ago get $5.00 a day. That magic $5.00 paid by Henry Ford was what made Detroit great.

Now as to the Convention to which your paper gave so much space the last two Thursdays—I did not attend, but I am sure that Dick Durant had to be on the defensive in light of what happened in all the precincts in Grosse Pointe. I can only report on what happened in my own—Precinct 1, in Grosse Pointe Park. I was working for a young woman by the name of Michael McGee — a dedicated young woman who lost to Al Thorburn, in spite of a vigorous campaign. The morning of the election a young woman by the name of Miss Bashara, served me with a court injunction restraining me from giving to my friends a list of candidates printed on a white card. This injunction was served by Wallace D. Riley, George Bashara, Albert J. Thorburn and Robert E. Waldron — against John and Mary Doe — I was rather shocked, I would say, to find I was Mary Doe, and I have since found out that one of my friends who was running for precinct delegate in another precinct is in the hospital recovering from a nervous breakdown following her encounter with the same thing. To me, this was why so many of Dick Durant's delegates were defeated in Grosse Pointe.

Now who is dividing the Republicans? The American people should be awfully tired of their politicians trying to be all things to all people. I say that this is impossible. We want men of principle to run for office. It takes a strong man to take what Dick Durant has had to take just for pure patriotism.

Cub Scouts Enjoy Picnic

Cub Scout Pack 74, Gabriel Richard School, gathered at Grosse Pointe Farms Park Saturday, September 19, for a field day and hot dog roast.

Boys and parents enjoyed the outing—despite the fact that it rained most of the day. The picnic moved indoors, to the boathouse, until the drizzle became light enough for Scoutmaster Keith Leibbrand and other members of the scout committee to play an ingenious game called "Drowning Man," involving ropes, a dummy, and a good deal of energy. (considering the weather, the game was deemed particularly appropriate).

The picnic marked the start of the season for the Richard Cub Scouts, boys 8 to 11 years old, in grades three, four and five. Other activities, to be scheduled throughout the school year, will include tours, trips to football and baseball games, banquets, field trips, handcraft, folklore and community projects.

Wrigley

Some people think we're too fussy about our beef, perhaps they're right . . . but for us the added effort is well worth making. We can guarantee complete satisfaction and do it unconditionally in every piece of meat we sell!

Wrigley buyers search for America's finest herds. We accept only the very best cattle. Cattle that has been fed a diet of golden corn, grass fed beef just can't make it! This superior beef is rushed from the heart of the corn country to our scientific aging rooms. Here your Wrigley beef ages slowly, carefully to the peak of perfaction. True aging only benefits quality beef. The other kind just can't make it. Government inspectors stamp a seal of quality on all Wrigley beef. Now you have only top U.S.D.A. Choice or USDA prime beef Rich in flavor because it was corn fed. You have juicy beef that's tender because it has been aged. Constant refrigeration guards this quality . . . it's rushed to your Wrigley Meat manager who sees that excess fat, bone and gristle are removed before it is weighed. It's ready for you NOW, a pinch of spice, rare, medium or well done and you can serve America's finest beef. Wrigley Beef!

Pointe Ski Club Launches New Season on Sept. 27

The Grosse Pointe Ski Club will have its first meeting of the 1964-1965 season on Sunday, September 27, at 4 p.m. at the War Memorial Center.

Old memberships will be renewed and new memberships will be taken. The Club welcomes all residents of the Pointe and their friends. A single membership costs $3 per person and a married couple will pay $5.

At the meeting color and sound movies of skiing in Aspen and in Porteo, Chile, will be shown. The Club plans a week's trip to Aspen from March 13-March 21, 1965, and hopes next year to be able to go to Porteo, Chile, which is famous for its summer skiing. The plans for the five weekend trips will be announced as well as plans for the showing of the latest film of John Jay.

John Jay is known as the world's foremost ski film producer and his showing of his latest film at the Fries Auditorium on November 22 will be the only showing in the Detroit area. There will be two performances, one at 4 p.m. and another at 8 p.m. His movie will be in color and as those who have seen his past films know, he always has a film about an unusual place to ski.

Tickets for both shows are priced at $2 for Club members and children (high school and under) and at $2.50 for adults and guests.

There are many advantages to joining the Grosse Pointe Ski Club. On the weekend trips members pay a lower rate than non-members as well as the lower rate for the John Jay film. Members also are admitted free to the parties planned for the Goebel Circus Room and a wine tasting party. The Club operates a free ski school for its members with instruction starting about a week before snow is expected and continuing outside when the snow falls.

Trips to local areas on Saturday are planned for members and at this time the people of the class are further instructed in skiing. The local one day trips on Saturday are normally to Pine Nob or to Alpine ski areas.

On the local trips, the members pay a lower rate than if they went alone and ski lessons at the local areas are given to club members by the professionals at each area at less cost than paid by the rest of those skiing at the area.

The Club membership ranges in age from 21 years, (the minimum) to around 65 years, (he is one of our better skiers). It is for both married couples and single adults and well balanced as to age and men and women. The Club is for all those in Grosse Pointe over 21 years of age and it would like to see all skiers at the first meeting. This will be a good time for those who are wondering about the Club's activities to go to the Grosse Pointe War Memorial and find out for themselves.

GPUS Gridders Drop Opener

A football squad from St. Francis of Ecorse took advantage of Grosse Pointe University School's "first-game jitters" to win 6-0 last Saturday.

St. Francis had played once this season, the week before, while GPUS was playing for the first time. Both teams, after almost two hours in the drizzling rain, finished the game wearing uniforms caked with more than a quarter-inch of mud and lime.

Arthur Getz, sophomore, played the quarter back position for GPUS the entire game. Chuck Wright, with his fine defensive play, helped hold the St. Francis men after their one touchdown in the first quarter.

GPUS's next home game is in two weeks when they take on the Michigan School for the Deaf. The game starts at 2 on Saturday, October 3, at the GPUS field.

GPHS Defeats Ann Arbor In First, Toughest Game

By Ric Hendee

Five Lakeshore buses left the Grosse Pointe High School parking lot at 5:30 o'clock last Friday afternoon. Their destination was the Ann Arbor High School football field for the first and, what was labeled the toughest game of the season.

Besides the five buses, which carried a great number of spectators for an away game, there were several dozen cars leaving Grosse Pointe that afternoon for the contest.

And those who couldn't go had done their best to support the 42 boys on the squad that day by wearing the school colors and attending the pep rally led by the cheerleaders after school.

But under all the color and cheering and spirit there were signs of a feeling of hopelessness among the students and, even some of the players. Sure Grosse Pointe has a strong team this year after easily winning a scrimmage at Birmingham Seaholm the week before; and, sure they had been practicing for this game since July. But Ann Arbor was a good team too, maybe too good. And Ann Arbor had beaten them so often it was almost becoming a tradition.

Could at Least Hope

But this year there was some basis for hope and at the game the students were singing, the cheerleaders had brought oranges for the players, and Mr. Banach (athletic director of GPHS since the school was built) was smiling.

Through the first three minutes of play, the Devils held Ann Arbor's offense well. Then, with the ball in their hands, they began the push to the goal line. The spirit was high; the team really looked good.

Then it happened . . . with Don Curl '65 at quarter-back position, the ball was hiked and handed off to John Reynolds '65 (half-back). The surging Ann Arbor line broke through the Devil offense and hit Reynolds hard. John, trying to get rid of the ball, fumbled and an Ann Arbor man snatched it from the air and ran the length of the field for a touchdown. Now the screaming came from the other side of the fence . . . things looked good for Ann Arbor.

Important Block

The Devils blocked the extra point kick and took the ball on the A.A. 42 yard line for their second chance. Once again the cheering commenced.

The Blue Devils went 58 yards on the next set of plays to tie the score. Dick Green '65 carried the ball to the one-half yard line and on the next play, John Reynolds made the touchdown, giving Grosse Pointe a 7-6 lead.

Right there was the game. The rest of the night was back and forth play with little threat. One close call, though, came when Curl threw a sharp pass which was intercepted and run back to within 12 yards of the goal line. The Devil defense pulled out of that and, afterwards the play was mostly on the ground.

Also much in the game for the Devils were: Rick Glanz '65 (center); Bill Bronscomb '65 (end); Steve Davenport '65 (back field); and Tom Mahoney '65 (guard).

Hard to Believe

Even when the clock had ticked away the final seconds before victory, many of the students couldn't believe it. For everyone in the school it was the first victory over Ann Arbor. And, for many of those students . . . it was, plainly, their first victory.

But it was also the first game of the year and, this week anyway, the rest of the trip looks clear and pretty.

But one thing's left unanswered . . . that smile of Mr. Banachs. There was something strange . . . maybe a glimpse of the future from a man who has seen (for the Grosse Pointe teams) all of the past. Maybe he knows; maybe this is the BIG YEAR for Grosse Pointe High School.

DYC Pelicans Start Season

The annual fall "Start-the-Season" party, sponsored by Detroit Yacht Club's Pelicans, is scheduled tomorrow evening, beginning at 6:30 o'clock in the East Lounge of the DYC. Special attraction will be a fall fur fashion show.

Hockey League Plans Tryouts

The Grosse Pointe Hockey League is holding tryouts Sunday for boys who want to play hockey on teams this year and are not already playing.

Trials will be held at the Detroit Skating Club, 10401 West Seven Mile road, twenty minutes by expressway from Grosse Pointe.

Play is supervised by the local branch of the Amateur Hockey Association of the United States with adult coaches and strict age groupings.

Regular games will be played starting in late October at dates to be announced later depending on availability of ice time at area indoor and outdoor rinks. Meanwhile boys who are now free to play may do so each Sunday at the club.

For this tryout, report Sunday, September 27, at the Detroit Skating Club with skates and hockey equipment as follows:

11:30 a.m. — Pee Wees, boys who were under 12 as of May 31, 1964, including 10 and 11 year olds.

12:30 p.m. — Bantams, those who were under 14 last May 31.

In late November a Squirt League for boys seven through nine will be organized. Watch this paper for details. Play will hopefully be at the Neighborhood Club.

To reach the Detroit Skating Club, go out northbound Lodge to Myers exit, north on Myers to west Seven Mile road and then several blocks east to the club, where there is ample parking space.

For information call Mr. Jack Hoag, 884-2708, and leave name, address, and age, if you want to play this winter, even if you cannot come to this tryout.

Boys who cannot try out on September 27 should report at the same time the following Sunday, October 4.

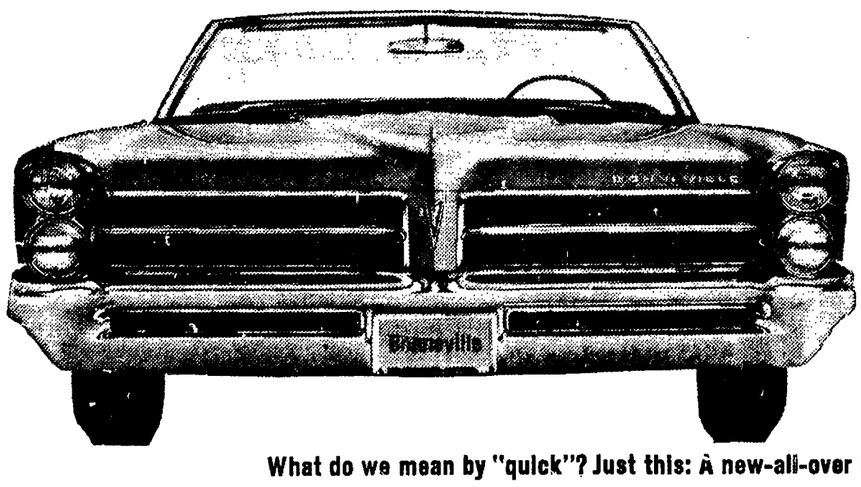
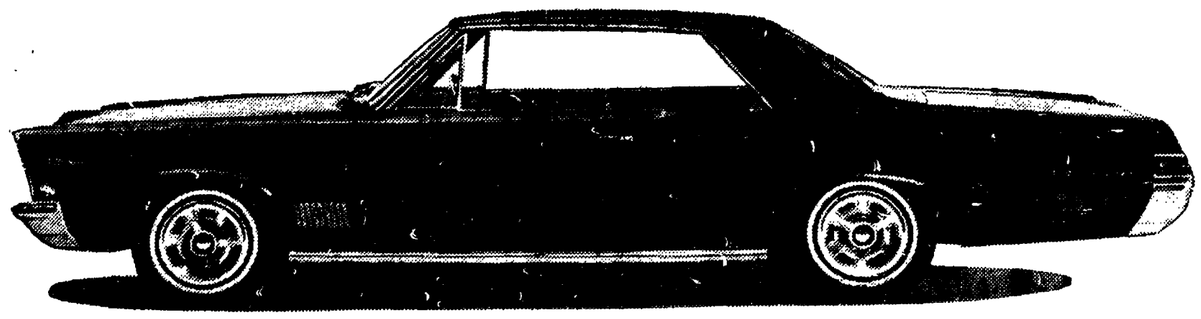
Today is '65 Pontiac Day.
1965: The year of the Quick Wide-Tracks



What do we mean by "quick"? Just this: A new-all-over Pontiac Pontiac offering a new Turbo Hydra-Matic—the silkiest, swiftest-shifting automatic transmission you ever touched a toe to; eager new Trophy V-8 power; new steering agility; a surer-footed Wide-Track ride. And a new Pontiac Tempest that's become even more of a Pontiac with new style, new length and Pontiac-quick reflexes to match. You never knew cars could be so beautiful, and so keenly alert to your touch. This is your year to drive a Wide-Track—quick!

'65 Pontiac Pontiac How does the success car outdo itself for 1965? Beautifully, just beautifully. But this Pontiac has no intention of getting by on looks alone, though it could. So there's new quickness, Pontiac style. A new nimbleness. New fuel savings. A smooth, easy new ride. Drive a '65 Pontiac and see how one success leads to another.


'65 Pontiac Tempest Tempest's even more of a Pontiac now, and what more could a car be than that! The '65 Tempest looks like a Pontiac, as you can see. Rides like a Pontiac on Wide-Track. Goes like a Pontiac, too: a 140-hp six is standard. Or you can get a quick V-8, up to 285 hp. You'll wonder how we can keep the price so low on so much car.

7—WANTED TO RENT

HI! My name is Mark. My daddy calls me Marco. He should know better after reading the "Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire" and seeing "Cleopatra".

ANYHOW, we're moving to Detroit, IF we can find a house or an apartment .The way daddy talked to Mother this past weekend, there don't seem to be many rentals available. Matter of fact, Mother is leaving for Detroit today to see for herself. It isn't that she doesn't believe daddy but he has plenty to do on his new job without getting lost in Detroit. That's what he did last week. Imagine, he thought Gratiot was spelled Gretchet!

WE NEED at least three bedrooms and an extra little room or corner for daddy's desk and books. Two bathrooms would be ideal because my sister is at that age now . . . you know, girls 15 are something special. Me? I'm 4 years old. I've got blond hair and blue eyes but I'm no sissy. And I don't like crayons so you don't have to worry about the walls. The most I ever do is take toys apart and I do a good job of that! I don't know how you feel about parents but I can highly recommend mine. If you know of anything, please call daddy at WO 5-3322, we'd all appreciate it very much.

HEADS OUR LIST, and should head yours if you are contemplating purchasing a 3-bedroom, two bath house in the Farms. Just a few minutes walk to Kerby and Brownell Schools. First floor includes living room, dining room, family room, kitchen, two bedrooms and a full bath. Maintained in excellent condition.

WHILE IT LASTS, which shouldn't be very long, we have for sale a four bedroom, two bath house on Handy Place. We know of no other in this location which can compete at the low price of $36,500. Ready for you who want to move tomorrow.

IN THE SHORES and containing those four bedrooms with two full second floor baths. Center hall plan with a large family room which looks into one of the last undeveloped acreage in the Pointe. Large kitchen with built-in fireplace.

ON VENDOME we would like to show you one of the best examples of a large English manor house ever built in the Pointe. And in the same neighborhood, but around the corner on Cloverly Road, we offer another large house with six family bedrooms and a fabulous kitchen. This manor house has been built around a center court yard which affords a maximum of privacy. The $69,000.00 price is a mere fraction of reproduction cost.

SUMPTUOUSLY SITUATED on a large lot in the heart of Grosse Points Farms. Bedrooms for a large family and plenty of room for stay-in help. Kept in magnificent condition so that all the house requires is your family. Call for a long list of extras.

WE ARE SYMPATHETIC with you if you've been looking for a six bedroom home and two extra first floor rooms for family and entertainment. Seldom can so much "house" be found in so low a price range. $42,900.

IF YOU HAVE a penchant for contemporary and want to be tucked away on a quiet, dead end street, then give this one some serious thought. Laid out in the tri-level plan, with two master bedrooms on the upper level and another large bedroom and cozy den just a few steps down from the tremendous living area. Only the most modern gadgetry and materials have gone into this house. Even if you don't like contemporary you might . . . after seeing this choice offering.

THE ONLY ONE of its kind which is available at this time in the much desired Deeplands area. A beautifully appointed Georgian colonial, built just three years ago. Four bedrooms for the family and another for stay-in-help. Fireplaces in living, dining and library rooms. Must ALSO be seen inside to be fully appreciated.

Baptists Sponsor Open Meeting

Redd Harper, author, singer, composer and speaker, will be at the Grosse Pointe Baptist Church, 1805 East Eight Mile road, Detroit, on September 25 at 7:30 p.m. The public is invited to attend.

Redd Harper is called "Mr. Texas" by hundreds of thousands of followers because he played that role in the Billy Graham motion picture of the same name. He was also the star in Dr. Graham's second film, "Oiltown, USA." Evangelist, Dr. Billy Graham, says: Redd Harper is a consecrated servant of Christ whose testimony and talents have been widely used the world over by the Holy Spirit to influence many people into the Kingdom of God."

He was affiliated with Billy Graham for three years and now has his own evangelistic meetings, singing and tells his thrilling testimony of what the Lord means to him.

He recently made a missionary journey of 15 weeks to New Zealand, Australia, The Philippines, Hong Kong, Japan and Hawaii.

His close friend, Roy Rogers, wrote the introduction to Redd's autobiography, "I Walk The Glory Road."

Pointe Chorus Has Openings

The Grosse Pointe Community Chorus, having completed the first of its three registration rehearsals last Tuesday, announces there are still openings in all sections, particularly in the male section.

The chorus rehearses each Tuesday evening in the vocal music room at Parcells Junior High School, Vernier and Mack, between 8 and 10 o'clock.

Registration on September 29 will begin at 7:30 p.m. Anyone over high school age is eligible and no auditions are required.

The program for this year's concert will consist of a wide variety of music. It will include oratorio, traditional and contemporary Christmas music and a few lighter well-known favorites. There will be opportunities for solos which are filled from the chorus' own membership.

Dr. Donald Simmons, director of the chorus, is vocal instructor at Parcells Junior High School, director of music at Covenant Baptist Church and founder of the Grosse Pointe Summer Chorus and Grosse Pointe Chamber Singers. Jerry Hughes is the accompanist.

Professional Engineers To Gather Next Monday

The Lake St. Clair Chapter of the Michigan Society of Professional Engineers is holding its first meeting of the season at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial next Monday evening, September 28.

Members and the Ladies Auxiliary will attend a dinner at 6:45 o'clock, followed by a meeting at 8:15, directed by chapter president Alphonse Handlos.

The speaker will be Dr. A. T. Liu, vice president and dean of engineering of Detroit Institute of Technology, who will discuss "Education and Engineering." The public is invited to the meeting.

He did not say whether the suspicious vessels were North Vietnamese patrol craft like those that were blamed for two separate attacks on United States destroyers in the same gulf seven weeks ago. SENATOR BARRY GOLDWATER, Republican presidential candidate, told a crowd in Buffalo, N.D., that to continue the policies and philosophies of the Democratic Administration would be to risk 'war through weakness" and to stifle the freedom and economic prospects of farmers and other Americans. Meantime in the same town on the same day Senator Hubert H. Humphrey told farmers at the National Plowing Contest that the election of Senator Barry Goldwater would mean the "death sentence to agriculture."

FORMER VICE PRESIDENT Richard Nixon spoke before a crowd of 3,000 yesterday in Cobo Hall, highlighting the Republican State Convention. He said, during the speech, "I say that we take Goldwater . . . with whom we might disagree as much as 25 percent of the time . . . instead of a man, Johnson, with whom we disagree with at least 75 percent of the time." Nixon also praised the administration of Michigan's Gov. Romney.

TWO TRIBAL UNITS in South Vietnam, one a mountain outfit highly trained by the U.S. Army Special Forces, turned against their anti-communist government and demanded autonomy. The U.S. trained unit took over the district headquarters town of Banmethuot and broadcast appeals for tribal autonomy before withdrawing. The second group took over the district headquarters town of Duc Lap, three miles from the Cambodium border. It was reported still in the rebel tribesmen's hands late yesterday. Saigon estimates the situation as serious and the revolts indicate infiltration by the Communists among mountain people.

SPEAKING at the dedication of a new airport in Morgantown, W. Va., president Johnson reaffirmed his administration's policy to "help those left behind" in the nation's march toward prosperity. By the tone of his remarks the president was apparently intent on refuting a charge made in Charleston, W. Va., on Friday by Sen. Goldwater that the administration's war against poverty is a 'phony."

IN A EFFORT to head off a railroad strike, scheduled for 6 a.m. tomorrow, which could mushroom into a national shutdown of all railroads, mediators met yesterday in Washington with the heads of six rail unions and management representatives. Principal people affected by the strike would be more than 100,000 commuters in the New York area. The rail managements have said that a strike against even one railroad would be countered by a policy likely to spread the walkout to all lines, except the Pennsylvania, the Long Island and Southern.

A STRIKE, which would have affected most of the nation's railroads this morning, was averted when negotiations for the railroads and six shop craft unions announced a "tentative agreement" on four major issues in their job security dispute when the settlement of a fifth point seemed assured. The agreement ended the second threatened national transportation tieup in less than six months.

UNITED AUTOMOBILE Workers president Walter Reuther Monday said that the new economic proposal submitted by General Motors Corp. was unacceptable and immediately set a strike deadline of 10 a.m. Friday. According to Louis G. Seaton, GM president in charge of personnel, the new offer was "in line with the settlement established at Chrysler." Reuther agreed with the statement but said that the union expects more from GM than it got from Chrysler and Ford. "There are a number of areas in which we would like to see GM do some pioneering," Reuther added.

GOV. ROMNEY Monday appointed a three-man commission to recommend ways and means of settling the 71-day-old Detroit newspaper strike. The men appointed were Russell Smith, of the University of Michigan Law School; Dr. Clarence Hilberry, president of Wayne State University and Bishop Richard S. Emrich, of the Michigan Episcopal Diocese. The Commission is to meet today, Tuesday, and has been asked to have its report finished by 1 o'clock Thursday, September 24.

A Most Successful Meeting

Still summer-tanned and summer-trim (the weather was definitely summery, too, even though the calendar said mid-September), a group of dedicated ladies gathered in the foyer of Mrs. Hugo S. Higbie's magnificent home in Provencal road last Thursday, to hear progress reports on this year's Planned Parenthood Christmas Mart.

The Mart opens Tuesday, October 27, at Veteran's Memorial Building, with a preview dinner and cocktail party, from 5 to 9 o'clock.

Dinner and cocktails will also be available Wednesday, with the Mart open from 10 in the morning until 9 in the evening. Thursday is the final day, and the Mart closes at 5 o'clock.

All the Old Favorite shops will be back, plus several new-this-year additions and returnees . . . and there will be a special attraction: A magnificent Christmas tree, laden with beautifully wrapped gifts donated by all the participating shops, to be awarded to guests at the Mart's conclusion.

The ladies responsible for the Christmas tree? Mrs. Joseph L. Hudson, Jr., and Mrs. Arthur Buhl Hudson.

MR. and MRS. TOM RENO of Schenectady, N. Y., announced the birth of a son, Peter Thomas on September 17. Former residents of Grosse Pointe, Mr. and Mrs. Reno also have a young son, MIKE. The maternal grandparents are MR. and MRS. JOHN F. McCORMICK of South Oxford road and the paternal grandparents are MR. and MRS. THOMAS J. RENO of Neff road.

MRS. WILLIAM R. GILLETTE, OF SOUTH MAPLE LANE

By Janet Mueller

Virginia Gillette is a Woman Writer. Virginia Gillette does not wear funny hats and a vague expression, does not drop everything when "inspiration strikes," does not walk about with ink-stained fingers . . . or talk about how stupid publishers are.

Virginia Gillette looks and acts and reacts like 99 percent of Grosse Pointe's typical full-time housewife-mothers — with one exception. Every day (or as near every day as possible), Virginia Gillette spends two hours in her basement, facing a typewriter.

The result? Innumerable rejection slips . . . and 21 published short stories to her credit.

Mrs. Gillette has always been interested in writing. In school, in Ann Arbor, she took a Creative Writing course. Later, she "always intended" to sit down and begin writing, but marriage and babies intervened.

Has Five Children

There are five young Gillettes: Susan, 22, a Dental Assistant, just back from two and a half months in Europe; Bill, 21, a second year Dental student at the University of Michigan; Sally, 17, a senior at Grosse Pointe High School and an Honor Student; Mary, 11, in the sixth grade at Ferry School; and Philip, 9, in the fourth grade at Ferry.

Her husband is not, as one might imagine from her two oldest children's choice of careers, a dentist, but an engineer; however, Ginny Gillette has two brothers who are dentists, and the entire family approves of Susan's and Bill's professional preference.

Finally, Virginia Gillette, who "had three children in school; then started all over again," found herself with time, if not on her hands, at least available.

In '59, with Philip about ready for kindergarten, she taught herself to type. She read all she could get her hands on under the general heading of "how to write." More important, she actually began to write, in her basement.

Underground Exile

After a year's lonely exile underground, she heard of a Creative Writing course, being offered at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial. Mrs. Gillette registered for the course. "It was the luckiest thing that ever happened to me," she says today.

Virginia Gillette had been writing rather in a vacuum. Her only family connection with "writing" was via a cousin in Maryland; her husband and children were more interested in her than in her work. Her friends were not particularly literary.

The Creative Writing instructor, Jean Wylie Torosian, a professional with professional standards, demanded that her students bring in work for criticism. Mrs. Torosian did not simply sit back and lecture; she read manuscripts and criticized them, forcing her pupils to produce and learn.

"The best thing that ever happened to me was running into a good critic," Mrs. Gillette maintains. She was pleasantly surprised at the number of women taking courses at the War Memorial, enthusiastic about her own course — and thoroughly crushed when Mrs. Torosian, after the death of her husband, determined to move to Salt Lake City.

Given Good Advice

Mrs. Torosian told Virginia to contact the Detroit Women Writers Club. The club, founded in 1900, was about to embark on a new project, a day-long Writers' Conference, co-sponsored by the Division of Continuing Education, Oakland University. Ginny Gillette participated in this first conference, at Oakland University, three years ago. This year, she and Mrs. Frank Boyer are co-hostesses of the third annual conference, "The Craftsmanship of Creative Writing," scheduled Saturday, October 3, at Oakland.

But at the first conference, Virginia Gillette was a greenhorn, so far from knowing anything that she had to approach one of the hostesses (they wear badges), to ask how one went about joining the Women Writers Club.

Entrance requirements are simple. "You don't have to be published," Mrs. Gillette explains. "They just want to be sure you're serious."

Prospective members must submit an original manuscript, and must write a letter, telling what they have done and what they hope to do. Meetings are held at the Women's City Club, with general workshops scheduled the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month, poetry workshops planned on the third Tuesdays.

New Active Member

Mrs. Gillette is an active member of the Detroit Women Writers Club; she describes herself as a "selfish" member, saying, "I go if I want criticism, which isn't exactly 'right'; I should go more to help criticize other members' work." She considers her Club association invaluable, and is particularly glad of the opportunity to rub elbows with dedicated, professional writers.

Actually, Virginia Gillette qualifies as a "professional" herself. She sold her first story, to Home Life, a Baptist magazine, two years after she began writing in the basement. She sold her second story, to The Lookout, a few months later.

She has been published in many other magazines, including Women's Day, and has had reprints in Australia, Denmark and Canada. Her writing is the same type as that done for the "slicks," but, like many budding writers, he finds her best market in the small magazines, particularly those with religious affiliations.

Have Fewer Taboos

These magazines she describes as having fewer taboos than the "slicks," although they demand that their stories be very moral (naturally!). Incidentally, through her association with magazines representing various denominations, she has acquired a fairly broad religious education, and is something of an expert on comparative religions of the contemporary United States.

Mrs. Gillette tries to work on a regular schedule. "I think 90 percent of the people could write if they learned how," she maintains. "It's like scrubbing a floor; you have to work at it."

Her two-hours-a-day schedule is flexible; sometimes she spends more time at her typewriter, sometimes less; but she tries to write a little every day. Once she gets down to work, she is "all set," but, "I'll iron, bake, do anything to keep from starting!"

She is conditioned to interruptions. "Any work I have ever dones, I have done in 15 to 20 minute snatches. It's a bad habit in a way; it's hard for me to work longer without taking a cup of coffee, or looking out the window or just walking around. . . ."

Has Other Activities

Most of Mrs. Gillette's spare-time activities are things that can be done at home. She likes to sew and knit, enjoys a good game of bridge. Her summers are spent on Russell Island, in a cottage her husband "designed, and built, and is still working on."

Ginny Gillette headquarters on the island during July and August, visiting her Pointe home every week or so; this time of year, the family enjoys weekends at the cottage.

With the Writers' Conference only two weeks away, Mrs. Gillette might be excused a bit of temperamental nervousness. Actually, she is extremely relaxed.

"Peg (Boyer) and I were hostesses last year, so we know what is to be done, where things are." (Mrs. Boyer, who writes poetry, has six children; Mrs. Gillette has five . . . leading one to conclude that, perhaps, writing is indeed an escape!)

The Conference will run from 8:30 in the morning until 5 in the afternoon. Lectures and round tables on Poetry, Books, Writing Articles and Stories for Magazines, Juveniles, Drama, Subject Matter and Editing are scheduled concurrently.

Conference participants (the Workshop is open to the public, at $6.75 for the entire program, including luncheon; reservations must be in today), may choose the sessions in which they wish to participate. All staff members are published professionals.

Help Fledglings

Purpose of the Conference is to provide direct technical assistance for fledgling writers, and an opportunity for professionals to "talk shop."

Hostess Virginia Gillette will be on hand to direct operations at the Conference—and to pick up some How-To hints herself. She still wants to sell to the "slicks."

"You're never satisfied," she explains. "You sell one story, then you want to sell another. You're greedy.

"I have hundreds of Rejection Slips; they're something you have to ignore. I don't think I'll ever stop getting them, and I think they mean exactly what they say, 'This implies no criticism of your work' . . ."

Mrs. Gillette is determined to keep on writing her short stories and family pieces. She would gladly interrupt her "career," however, for a European tour.

"Two of my children have gone, and I'm going to get there some day," she states firmly. "I've told my family that I won't say good-bye again!"

AAUW Group Sponsors Play

Grosse Pointe Branch of the American Association of University Women has arranged for the Detroit Children's Theater to come to Grosse Pointe on Saturday, October 24. The professional company will present the famous fairy-tale "Little Red Riding Hood" at Pierce Junior High School.

Mrs. David Howell, Children's Theater chairman, has announced there will be two performances at 1 p.m. and 3 p.m. Single tickets are $.75 and may be obtained through local PTA groups, from AAUW members and the following area merchants: Peter Pan, Inc.; Doubleday's; Punch and Judy Toyland; Harkness Pharmacy.

Patron tickets are $5 and are available by calling Mrs. Abram L. Brown (TU 1-8515). Group seats will be reserved for eleven or more children if Mrs. John MacKay, TU 2-6206, is notified by October 21.

"Little Red Riding Hood" is a new musical designed especially for children, featuring a fully professional company of musicians and actors. This imaginative interpretation, currently premiering in New York, makes its mid-west debut through the Detroit Children's Theater. In the prologue, an actor is featured making-up for the part of the wolf, while at the same time answering questions from the audience.

The benefits from "Little Red Riding Hood" are two-fold. The children of the community are given an opportunity to see a live professional theater production and the proceeds from the event go to aid the AAUW Fellowship Fund. The Fellowship Fund gives financial assistance to college women for post graduate study and research.

DYC Slates Fall Parties

Two fabulous fall parties are on Detroit Yacht Club's October agenda. The first, Saturday evening, October 3, is a Sailors' Award Dinner Dance, sponsored by the Flying Scots.

The evening is to begin with cocktails from 6:30 to 7:30, followed by dinner, with Wally Engel's band playing from 8:30 until midnight. During the party, trophies and awards will be presented to 1964's outstanding sailors.
