SECRETARY OF STATE Dean Rusk told a news conference Wednesday that political bagging in South Vietnam has become the most pressing problem in the U.S.-supported war between that country and the Viet Cong. He urged the military leaders in South Vietnam to set aside personal rivalries and put their energies in the war with the Communists. Sources in Saigon, however, said that plans for an anti-American campaign have been presented to the military leaders by Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, former premier and now commander-in-chief of Vietnam's armed forces.

SENATOR J. WILLIAM FULBRIGHT, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, said yesterday in Washington that he will refuse to lead a fight for the foreign aid bill unless it is reformed. Joining Fulbright in the request for a change in the bill are Mike Mansfield, Senate majority leader, and Senator John Sparkman who would both like the bill divided into separate sections for military, economic and other aid forms. Fulbright pointed out that the bill presently is nothing but a "conglomerate mass" which includes all sorts of amendments which have nothing to do with foreign aid.

Saturday, December 26

A PONTIFICAL mass was celebrated just after midnight yesterday, Christmas Day, in Bethlehem where Christ was born. The celebrant, Latin patriarch Alberto Gori, later carried in a ceremonial manger. Approximately 5,000 to 6,000 Christians crossed the Madaba Gate, which separates Jordanian and Israeli Jerusalem to pray at holy places. Meanwhile, in Germany at least 85,000 West Berliners passed through the wall to visit relatives in East Berlin on special passes issued under an agreement between the West Berlin government and East Germany.

INSTRUCTIONS have been sent to American advisors in South Vietnam to withdraw from planning all non-routine military and civilian operations until the status of American aid is made clear. The order was definite in backing up Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor's warning that our country's help in the Vietnam war would be reviewed if a clear constitutional structure is not restored to the Government after last Sunday's military uprising. Daily operations will not be affected immediately but long range planning involving American help has been stopped.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON, according to a source close to him believes that his new administration will witness less partisanship and name-calling than any in history. He also believes that relations with Russia will be less antagonistic and hostile and sees fewer crises impending in the world than at any time in recent years. In addition he considers the Western alliance to be in improved shape and the regime of Cuban Premier Fidel Castro to be weaker than it has ever been.

Tuesday, December 29

ITALY ELECTED a new president yesterday on the 21st ballot of a parliamentary election which lasted for 13 days. Foreign Minister Giuseppe Saragat, founder of the Italian Democratic Socialist Party, was chosen to fill the chiefly ceremonial post with the backing of the Christian Democrats and Communists. Although Saragat has fought Communism for years, he was forced to accept the Red votes in order to break a deadlock which had paralyzed parliament and strained the four-party center-left government coalition of Premier Aldo Moro.

Discuss Plans for Football Lecture Series

WILLIAM CLAY FORD, left, and GEORGE McMULLEN talked about the Third Annual Lecture Series which will get under way at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Fries Auditorium on January 19. The owner of the Detroit Lions will be the speaker on February 2. Mr. McMullen is chairman of the program.

Beauchamp New Judge For Shores

Retired Attorney and Former Woods Councilman To Fill Vacancy
Caused by Gillis
Election

George A. Beauchamp, 65, of 11 Vernier road, a retired attorney, was administered the oath of office of justice of the peace for Grosse Pointe Township (Shores) on Thursday, December 24, by Township Clerk Thomas Jefferis.

The new justice of the peace succeeds John Gillis, 75, Vernier road, who resigned to become a judge of the new State Court of Appeals to which he was elected on November 3. Gillis will assume his new duties on January 1.

Gillis terminated his township post on December 24, and Beauchamp was sworn in immediately. Beauchamp will serve Gillis' unexpired term, which runs to July 1967, according to township records.

Native of Wisconsin
Beauchamp is a native of Superior, Wis., and moved to Detroit in 1919. He came to the Pointe in 1937, and has been a resident of the Shores for the past 12 years.

He is a 1926 graduate of the Detroit College of Law, was admitted to the bar in 1927, and practiced law in Detroit since 1945 until his recent retirement.

Judge Beauchamp is no stranger to the justice of the peace post, as he served the Grosse Pointe Township in that position for 12 years.

Huge Ice Santa Toppled On Lawn on Lake Shore

A 7,200-pound ice-sculptured Santa Claus, on the lawn of the property of Joseph Schoenith, 585 Lake Shore road, was toppled and smashed on Wednesday, December 23, either by vandals, or the elements, according to Shores police.

Mrs. Schoenith told Shores police that the sculpture was felled at about 9:50 a.m. She said she saw what appeared to be three boys on the front lawn, near the ice statue, then she heard a terrific noise.

She said she ran to the second floor porch on the northeast corner of her house, and saw a young person jump into a car parked on Clairview, and drive west on the street.

Mr. Schoenith said that the statue cost him $500 to have it erected on his front lawn, but the actual value of the work of

Park Firemen's Petition Taken Under Advisement By Judge John M. Wise

Association Wants Charter Amendment Affecting Their Working Hours and Vacation Times
Placed on Ballot in Spring

At a show cause hearing in Wayne County Circuit Court on Monday, December 21, Judge John M. Wise took under advisement a Grosse Pointe Park Fire Fighters Association petition to force the Park to place a charter amendment on the ballot in the spring.

The amendment would, if passed, reduce the work week of the city's firemen, and grant minimum vacation time and become a permanent part of the charter.

Judge Wise presided in the absence of Joseph A. Moynihan, who was absent from the court, and who originally was to have heard the case.

Recently, the firemen circulated a petition to give voters an opportunity to vote on the amendment which would cut the firemen's work week from 63 hours to 56, and which would grant them a minimum of 20 days vacation. The firefighters obtained more than 1,400 signatures of qualified voters.

The number of the signers and their qualifications were certified by City Clerk Charles Heise, but the petitions were ruled invalid by City Attorney Richard Rohr because they were not properly worded, so as to place the proposals as separate amendments.

The Association sought legal action to force the Park to have the amendment placed before the voters for their decision.

Judge Wise, in taking the issue under advisement, said he will withhold his decision, provided the firemen recirculate a revised petition, although the original petitions appeared to be in order.

If the revised petition is circulated, the judge said, and a sufficient number of voters sign it, there should be no cause for litigation from either side. Otherwise, he will have to rule on the original petition.

The Association officials said that they will immediately circulate a new petition, to seek at least another 500 names.

Theodore Sachs, attorney for the Association, who vigorously contended the original petitions were proper, said Judge Wise suggested that any new petitions must be filed at least 90 days before a regular election.

Added Insurance
The new 500-signature petition will be added "insurance" to have the amendments placed on the April 5 ballot, he said.

Car Thief Nabbed; Attempted to Run Down Policeman

Three Juveniles Clear Detroit Burglary and Numerous Thefts from Vehicles in the Park and Detroit

A 15-year-old Detroit boy in a stolen car tried to run down a Park police officer on Saturday, December 26, in an effort to escape arrest for investigation of car theft. The boy was captured when he stopped after the policeman fired two warning shots into the air, when the boy failed to heed a command to halt.

According to Park Police Chief Arthur Louwers, the boy lost control of the automobile when he stepped on the gas while trying to run down the officer. The car jumped the curb, missing the policeman by inches. The boy jumped out of the vehicle and attempted to flee on foot.

The officer, Det. James LaPratt, shouted a command to the teenager to halt, but when the command was ignored, the detective fired two shots into the air. The boy stopped immediately and surrendered meekly.

Girl Also in Car
Chief Louwers said that a 14-year-old girl, who was in the stolen car, was also taken into custody, and later released to the Detroit Police Department's Women Division, for further investigation.

The chief said that the capture of the teenagers took place at the foot of Lakewood street in Detroit, where LaPratt found them after he had checked the area.

Two other Detroit boys, one 15 years old, and the other, 13 years old, were involved in the car theft, and in a burglary that occurred in Detroit, the chief said. All three boys confessed to numerous breakings and enterings into cars, and looting in the Pointe and in Detroit. Most of the loot has been recovered, tagged and waiting to be claimed by the owners, the chief added.

Chief Louwers said that a .22 caliber rifle, and a .22 caliber revolver, stolen from a home in Marlborough, in Detroit, by the boys, was found in the stolen car.

Park police entered into the case on Saturday, when George Verdonck of 732 Harcourt, called police and reported that his 1964 Ford Thunderbird had been stolen from the driveway alongside his house.

Other Car Abandoned
Another car, stolen from Selden B. Daume, Jr., of 272 LaSalle place, and reported to Farms police, was left near Verdonck's house. Park police said that there is no doubt that it was stolen and abandoned by the teenage boys. The car was returned to Daume by Park authorities.

The three juveniles confessed that they were together when the Daume and the Verdonck automobiles were stolen, Chief Louwers said.

When Verdonck reported his car stolen, a general broadcast was sent over the police radio, and officers of Detroit's Jefferson Station, Fifth Precinct, informed Park authorities that a car answering the description of the stolen vehicle, and occupied by two persons, was seen (Continued on Page 2)

Snowballers Face Charges Of Malicious Destruction

Two juveniles, both Park boys, were arrested by Park police on Tuesday, December 22, and charged with malicious destruction of property. The charges have been filed with Juvenile Court authorities.

Police Chief Arthur Louwers said that the boys, one 14 years old, and the other, 12 years old, were taken into custody by Patrolmen Bobby McAlister and Richard Warren, when the youngsters broke the window of a passing bus on Jefferson, with tossed snowballs.

The boys were taken to the station, where their names were entered into the book and they were given notices to appear at the next session of Juvenile Court, and then they were released to their parents.

Chief Louwers reminded parents that according to law, par-

Other speakers who will be heard include Sid Luckman, Columbia University legendary star in his collegiate days, followed by years of record-setting play in the big league. He will speak on January 26.

William Clay Ford of Provençal road, owner of the Detroit Lions and central figure in the recent clean sweep of the coaching staff, will give the lecture on February 2, and Edwin J. Anderson, former president of the Lions and Mr. Ford's right hand man, will close out the series on February 9.

Format of Programs

George R. McMullen of St. Paul avenue, creator of the Lecture Series idea, will again be chairman of this year's program, which will run for four consecutive Tuesday evenings. Each program will start at 8:15 o'clock with a brief invocation by a local minister. This will be followed by the introduction of the speaker by Mr. McMullen. The lectures themselves are slated to be started at 8:25 o'clock on each of the Tuesday evenings. They will be of approximately one-half hour in length.

A question and answer period will follow each lecture, with adjournment scheduled for approximately 9:20. A coffee reception will follow in the ballroom, affording an opportunity for those attending to meet the speaker. The entire program including the reception will be over by 10 o'clock.

The Rev. Edgar H. Yeoman, rector of St. Michael's Episcopal Church, will give the invocation preceding the Rozelle lecture on January 19.

Dr. Dale A. Ihrie, minister of the Grosse Pointe Baptist Church, will give the invocation before the Luckman lecture on January 26.

The Rev. Fr. George J. Schrauder, assistant pastor of Our Lady Star of the Sea Catholic Church, will give the invocation before Mr. Ford speaks on February 2.

The Rev. Andrew Rauth, minister of the Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church, will officiate on the final program when Mr. Anderson will be the lecturer.

School Heads Invited

The athletic directors of Grosse Pointe High School, St. Paul's High School, Grosse Pointe University School, St. Ambrose High School and Austin Preparatory School have been invited to attend the series as special guests. Some of the outstanding players at these schools during the season just closed, will also be asked to be present as guests.

Radio Station WWJ will once again broadcast the lectures, at 8:30 p.m. on Wednesdays, the evenings following. The Grosse Pointe Public Library will also tape the entire proceedings, from invocation to adjournment.

Players To Appear

Mr. Anderson has stated that on the night of his lecture some of the Lions players will be on hand. It is too early to make definite commitments, but he promises that at least three out of the following group, will be on hand: Joe Schmidt, co-captain and defensive linebacker; Terry Barr, co-captain and flanker back; Jim Gibbons, star end and voted most valuable player this season; John Gordy, guard; Bruce Malar, defensive back; Milt Plum, quarterback; and Darryl Sanders, tackle.

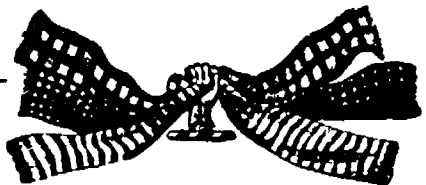

Tickets for all four lectures are being sold for $3 at the Memorial Center. Checks should be made out to the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association. Single lecture tickets, if any are available, will cost $1, at the door.

Park Firemen's Petition

ordered the recirculating of the petitions, not because of adjudication of the merits of the issue involved, but to eliminate the expense and delay of litigation. In an official statement, Mayor Matthew Patterson said: "I would like to remind the people that the petitions recently circulated by the Fire Fighters Association, were rejected by the city. I also recall the Association's mandamus to the city clerk to have the issue put on the ballot."

"As a result of the court hearing, our firemen will be circulating a no other petition among the residents of the city, to place on the ballot a charter amendment or reduce their work week from 63 hours to 56 hours, and to provide a minimum of 20 days vacation, regardless of length of service."

"This is a matter of proper governmental policy and procedure, the mayor pointed out, and it is believed that administrative matters such as work hours and length of vacation time have no place in the City Charter, 'our basic constitution.'"

Have Legal Right

However, he added, the city firemen have a legal right to campaign for such an objective, but he hopes that residents will give thoughtful consideration to the petitions, and bear in mind these facts:

1. That the 56 hours will include sleeping and recreation time for the members of the Fire Department; 2. Mandatory reduction from 63 hours to 56 hours, will present the city with the alternative of hiring additional firemen, or leaving fire-fighting equipment undermanned and the Fire Department inadequate.

He said, he is sure no thoughtful citizen wants a fire department that is inadequately staffed to protect lives and property.

Up To Citizens

Patterson claimed that the reduction of the work week would mean the hiring of additional personnel, and this would cost more money, accompanied by a tax increase. Ultimately, it will be up to the citizens to determine whether they want this tax increase. His sole purpose in making this statement is to inform the people what the petitions would involve, he added.

He said that he recalled arranging a meeting with the members of the fire department, through the chief, asking that a committee of firemen meet with the city council, but this invitation was declined.

The mayor said that he feels that it is still not too late for the firemen to meet with administrative officials and the members of the city council to work out any problems.

Snowballers

"Parents are urged to impress upon their children the dangers involved by the tossing of snowballs at moving vehicles. Even a snowball tossed at pedestrians can cause injuries, or worse."

Chief Louwers said that his officers have instructions to arrest anyone who is seen, or against whom a complaint has been made, tossing snowballs. The violators will be dealt with according to law, he said.

Receives Promotion On Duty in Hawaii

Yeoman Seaman Peter W. Connor, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Winthrop H. Connor of 800 Lincoln road, was promoted to his present rank recently while serving at the Naval Base, Pearl Harbor, Hawaii.

His promotion was based on time in service and rank, military appearance, performance of duties and passing the Navy-wide test for promotion.

He works in the Transportation Department at the base.

Before entering the service in August 1963, Connor attended the Detroit Institute of Technology.

near Lakewood street. LaPratt, on duty at the time, drove to the Lakewood area to check, and apprehended the 15-year-old driver and the girl.

Driver Confesses

After questioning by Det. Lt. Stanley Enders and LaPratt, the boy confessed to his part in the car thefts, and implicated his two companions, who were arrested at their homes by the detectives.

The 13-year-old revealed most of the information pertaining to the burglary, and the attempted burglary, the chief said. The youngster said that he acted as the lookout, while his companions carried out the actual crimes.

The youngster also volunteered information that he and his companions broke into about 35 cars in the Pointe and Detroit, taking numerous items, such as cameras, suits, and household items, which were intended as Christmas gifts by the owners. The loot has been recovered and will be returned to the owners if they can identify them, Chief Louwers said.

The 13-year-old boy has been filed against in Juvenile Court, by Park authorities and the older boys were released to Detroit police, for further investigation of the crimes committed in Detroit.

One of the older boys is expected to be charged with careless use of firearms, in that he had pointed one of the stolen guns at passing motorists, and confessed that he had shot out street lights, and fired at tires of parked cars.

Police Accuse Errant Driver

Robert H. Twork, 30, of 22883 Phelps, Mt. Clemens, was arrested by Shores police on Wednesday, December 23, and charged with reckless driving.

Police said that a radio dispatch was broadcast over the air for officers to be on the lookout for a drunk driver going north on Lake Shore.

The car was seen by Patrolmen Gordon Swartz and James Jurcak, who said that the car, driven by Twork, was weaving from curb to curb, at between 10 and 15 miles an hour. They stopped the motorist at the north city limits, the officers said.

Twork was taken to the station where he was issued a violation ticket charging him with reckless driving, drinking, and locked in a jail cell until bond of $125 was posted for his release, pending a court hearing.

Six Juveniles To Face Court

Six 16-year-old youths will appear in Wayne County Juvenile Court on charges of possessing alcoholic beverages in a motor vehicle as a result of a complaint by a Washington road resident on Tuesday evening, December 22.

City police who answered the call discovered the boys disturbing the neighborhood in that area. According to the boys, they purchased 12 cans of beer and a bottle of sloe gin from an unknown person who offered it to them at the corner of Seven Mile and Mack.

Six other youths in another car who accompanied the first car did not possess any alcoholic beverages and claimed no knowledge of the other group's acquisition of liquor. They were reprimanded by City police.

All 12 boys were released to their parents.

Library Offers Family Movies

The fourth program of the 1964-1965 Family Film Night Series will be presented Friday, January 8, at 7:30 p.m. in the Central Library Meeting Room of the Grosse Pointe Public Library. Family Film Nights are held the first Friday night in each month — except this month, when the program will be the second Friday, January 8, due to the holidays.

The program for January 8 will be an enjoyable treat for the entire family. Films to be shown include THE LITTLE RED HEN (11 minutes, in color). It retells the famous fable of a little red hen in a charming combination of art and live action. The technique is unique, but the value of the film lies in the experience it offers. First Prize, III International Festival of Films for Children, Venice, Italy, was won by this film.

BON BINI HOLIDAY (27 minutes, color) offers fishing, swimming, skin-diving, shopping, sailing and sun-bathing; if these sound like the basic elements for your ideal vacation, don't miss this film. You will watch an American couple play in the A.B.C. Islands of the Netherlands Antilles (Aruba, Bonaire, Curacao) and see how Dutch charm and modern luxury blend together in a tropical vacation paradise.

The third film, THE FROWN-ING PRINCE (9 minutes, color) is from the story and pictures by Crockett Johnson. "Once upon a time, in a faraway land... there lived a young prince who was convinced that he had an immovable frown." We won't tell what causes the frown to change into a satisfied smile, but this is a most enjoyable film.

Adults and children accompanied by adults, are cordially invited. Come early for a good seat. There is, of course, no charge.

LS Accident Injures Two

Two women suffered minor injuries when the cars in which they were riding crashed at Lake Shore and Vernier road, on Monday, December 21. The women were transported to Bon Secours Hospital by Shores and Woods police ambulances.

The women who were treated for minor head injuries and released from the hospital, were Mrs. Marguerite K. Kilbourn of 1040 Vernier, and Mrs. E. Nathalie Best of 22521 Socia, St. Clair Shores.

Shores police said that Mrs. Best's husband, Jack, 49, was driving south on Lake Shore, at the 35 miles an hour regulated speed limit, and went through the Vernier intersection, the green light in his favor.

Another car, driven by Mrs. Kilbourn, made a left turn from northbound Lake Shore, and pulled out into the moving south-bound lane, and was hit broad-side by Best's car.

Later, after she was released by the hospital, Mrs. Kilbourn, through her attorney, called Shores police and accepted the blame for the accident, stating that it was her fault for not yielding the right of way to oncoming traffic.

Police said that no violation tickets were issued.

REPORTS THEFT

Mrs. Leo Schulte of 123 McKinley avenue, informed Farms police on Thursday, December 24, that an unknown thief stole three Nativity figures from in front of her house during the night. The figures are three inches in height and valued at a total of $15, she said.

Adventure Film Set for Jan. 6

An unusual color travel film of interest to boaters will be offered at the World Adventure series in the Grosse Pointe Parcell's Auditorium on Wednesday, January 6, when Captain Irving Johnson will appear with his adventuresome film "The Yankee Sails Across Europe."

In this spritely color film the famous round-the-world skipper and author sails the canals and rivers of Europe. He explores the byways of the Netherlands and photographs the beauty spots of Germany, France, Switzerland, Greece and the Greek Islands. The color shots of the deep blue Aegean Sea are unforgettable.

Captain Irving Johnson has been going to sea since he was 17. First in small boats along the New England coast, then in the American Merchant Marine, and next in large sailing yachts and more recently in his own schooners.

Today, Irving Johnson is the outstanding expert on the islands of the great South Pacific. He has set foot on more islands than any other explorer in the world. He discovered and charted five islands north of New Guinea.

The monthly Wednesday night Parcell's Auditorium travel films, which start at 8 o'clock, are part of George Pierrot's World Adventure presentations. A social hour, following the film presentation, is being planned so that all those interested may have an opportunity to meet Captain Johnson and George and Helen Pierrot. For ticket information, call the World Adventure Office, TE 2-7876.

Churches Offer Special Courses

Vicar Alan F. Harre of St. James Lutheran Church will offer a six-week Bible study Program beginning Tuesday, January 5 at 10 a.m. Each session will be an hour in length.

This new course is designed to be a historical approach to the four Gospels stressing the audience, goals, style, historical situation, and the unique theology of each of the four writers.

An outline of the course of study will be provided for all who attend the course.

Dr. Armin Grams, chairman of St. James Board of Christian Education and Professor of Parent Education of Merrill-Palmer Institute, will slate four lectures on the subject, "Guiding the Elementary School Child."

These sessions, conducted in cooperation with the Grosse Pointe Interchurch Council will begin on Tuesday, January 5, at 8 p.m. at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, 375 Lothrop at Chalfonte. Dr. Gram's lectures will be directed toward parents of children ages 6 to 12.

Mayor Burgess Very Optimistic

Mayor David Burgess of Grosse Pointe City in a statement to the NEWS, Tuesday, said that he envisions 1965 as a year full of tremendous accomplishment for the community.

"I think the coming year can be one of the most progressive and fruitful in the history of Grosse Pointe City," said Burgess.

"The most compelling problem which the City faces," the Mayor pointed out, "is the sewer bond issue which comes before the electorate in a special February election. It is my earnest hope that the voters will approve this necessary improvement to our city."

Burgess also said that he forsook the development of a beautiful residential area in land located south of Jefferson. "There is already evidence of its progress from viewing the excavations which are now underway."

The year 1964 was one of considerable accomplishment, the Mayor went on to say. He cited the completion of the Bagby Report as an important part of the City's long range objective of continuing improvement to the community and its needs.

During this year, he said that the City of Grosse Pointe has made extensive renovations to its park facilities. It has also completed construction of a new building for the Department of Public Works and resurfaced many streets in the community.

tion firms are submitted.

Agree on Supervision

The agents for the mechanical and electrical contracting firms, agreed that whichever of the two general contractors win the contract for the general work, that firm will have supervision over the mechanical and electrical phases.

Bremer said that the council had agreed to the supervision phase so that W. E. Edwards, professional engineer, who designed the pool and will have charge of the general supervision of its construction, will deal with only two firms, rather than four, and thereby simplify payments of bills as they fall due.

Edwards, who told the city council at a recent regular meeting, the pool will be ready for use by Memorial Day, said at the December 23 special meeting, the delay caused by the resubmission of the new bids, will not affect the pool completion date.

The construction of the pool was made possible by Farms voters at the general election on November 3, when they overwhelmingly approved a $500,000 bond issue for the pool and for other improvements at the pier park.

Purse Snatcher Hit with Radio

A 15-year-old Park girl was confronted by a youth, who threw an arm around her neck and grabbed her purse, but not before the girl struck her assailant in the face with a small transistor radio.

According to information given to Park police by the girl, she was walking west on Vernor Highway, between Lakepointe and Maryland, at 6:22 p.m., on Tuesday, December 8, when she saw a youth get out of a car at the Maryland intersection. Another youth was behind the wheel, she said.

The first youth walked toward her, and staggered as though intoxicated, the girl said, and as he passed, he stopped suddenly, threw an arm around her neck, grabbed her purse, and flung her roughly aside. There was no odor of alcohol on the youth's breath, the girl said.

The surprised girl said that she reacted quickly, as her purse was jerked from her hand. She said she was holding a small transistor radio, which she swung and struck her assailant across the face.

The youth ran north in an alley between Lakepointe and Maryland, with the girl's large black leather purse clutched in his hand. The purse contained no money, only personal effects, the victim told the police.

The purse was later recovered in a side drive by a resident living in the 1300 block of Lakepointe, police said.

Chorus Starting Its Rehearsals

The Grosse Pointe Community Chorus will hold its first rehearsal of the new year Tuesday, January 5, in the vocal music room of Parcels Junior High School.

Richard Johns, newly appointed conductor of the chorus, has announced that preparations for the 13th annual Spring Concert to be given on April 4 will begin at the rehearsal.

New members may also register at this and the following two rehearsals, beginning at 7:30 p.m. The chorus is open to anyone over high school age and Grosse Pointe residency is not necessary. No auditions are required and there is a registration fee of $5.

Founded in 1953 by Malcolm MacLean Johns, the organization is co-sponsored by the Department of Community Services of the Grosse Pointe Board of Education and the Board of Directors of the chorus, whose president is Charles Leisher. Jerry Hughes is the accompanist.

Further information may be obtained by calling TU 6-0710.

Errant Drivers Fined in Park

Roger Lee Garret, 26, of 1596 North Renaud, applied for a renewal of his operator's license, but was turned down by the Secretary of State's office in Lansing because of four outstanding traffic violation tickets in the Park, which he had not paid.

On Wednesday, December 23, he posted a bond of $25 with Park police, and was allowed to forfeit the bond, to clear the charges, so that his license can be sent to him.

Henry Stadelbauer, 22, of 27941 Shock, St. Clair Shores, appeared before Judge C. Joseph Belanger on Wednesday, and was found guilty of driving a motor vehicle without ever acquiring an operator's license, and was fined $40.

Cosimo Bongiorno, 17, of 2201 Drexel, Detroit, found it is not proper to force another car off the road, even in fun. He was found guilty of causing another motorist to jump his car over a curb, while racing. The judge set a fine of $50, and suspended the youth's operator's license for 90 days.

Driver of Car That Killed Goodfellow Is Blameless

The driver of a car that killed a Goodfellow on Monday, December 14, was exonerated of blame, according to the findings of the Wayne County Prosecutor's Office.

Park Police Chief Arthur Louwers said that he received an official notification from Assistant County Prosecutor Raymond Miller, on Monday, December 21, that after studying written statements from witnesses, and the driver of the death car, Keith W. Pfeilstucker, 20, of 1021 Lakepointe, and a thorough investigation report from Park police, Miller found Pfeilstucker was not to blame for the death of Walter Zentgrebe, 75, of 829 Westchester.

Zentgrebe was struck and killed at the intersection of Jefferson and Bedford, where he was selling Goodfellow newspapers, doing his share to raise funds to help needy Pointe families. Witnesses said that Zentgrebe was stooped over, possibly to pick up some papers, when Pfeilstucker drove through the intersection on a green light. He was driving east at about 35 miles an hour, the legal limit.

It was 6:20 a.m., and very dark, and the traffic victim was wearing dark clothing.

Pfeilstucker did not see Zentgrebe, who stood up suddenly, until it was too late, but he stepped on his brakes, but could not avoid hitting the Goodfellow.

Zentgrebe, taken to Bon Secours Hospital by Park police ambulance, was pronounced dead on arrival.

Asst. Pros. Miller said that after studying witnesses' and the driver's statements, and a report submitted by Park authorities, Pfeilstucker was not to blame for the fatal accident, and absolved him of all blame, and marked the case closed.

Vandals Blow Sour Notes

A pox on the misguided miscreants who pop up every year with their puerile pranks which inject a very sour note into the celebration of the Christmas season. We refer to the imbecilic vandals who apparently glean some idiotic satisfaction from the wanton destruction of the outdoor decorations which add so much to the beauty of the Pointe at this time of year.

There is a story in this issue about the shattering of a costly ice Santa Claus, erected on the lawn of the Schoenith residence in Lake Shore road. It brought delight to thousands before it was destroyed.

The Robert J. Grows have provided pleasure for all their neighbors and the countless passersby during recent Christmas seasons by decorating a large evergreen on their lawn at Kercheval and Touraine. It is an expensive undertaking, with a great deal of effort involved. The night before Christmas Eve someone ripped so many strings of light off the tree that it took a recalled workman hours in the pouring rain to repair the wilful damage. Two nights later all the connections in the control box at the base of the tree were yanked out. This sort of nonsense has gone on each of the years the Grows have attempted to make a very substantial contribution to the Christmas season. They doubt that the project will be repeated another year.

Three Nativity figures were stolen from a creation on the lawn of a McKinley avenue home. The reports of vandalism go on and on, ad nauseum. Bulbs are snatched from outdoor decorations, or deliberately smashed. Trees are toppled and shrubbery damaged.

It is impossible to understand what pleasure anyone could derive from such insane activity. The residents who go to so much trouble, get the least enjoyment out of their own personal creations, other than the joy of sharing in the community-wide effort to make the Pointe beautiful. They don't stay out on the street to admire their handiwork, but their efforts are largely inspired by the joy they get from viewing the lovely displays at the homes of other residents.

Parents can do more than anyone to discourage this infuriating practice. An appreciation of beauty should be instilled at home, and any evidence of participation in such vandalism should be answered with a swift and unsparing application of a willow whip or similar persuader. The police should also be given every possible assistance in curbing such behavior.

by whoozit

Now that we all have a few minutes in between holidays, let's look at the Christmas cards again...

The Madonna and The Child are a favorite theme. Mr. and Mrs. John Hastings chose a gold and blue Mother and Son, with a Star of Bethlehem shining in one corner of their card... Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wiggins sent an all-gold Madonna... Mr. and Mrs. William A. Fisher, II, chose a contemporary design, the Mother in a deep rose gown with a blue handkerchief, the Child wrapped in white... the John K. Roneys sent "The Madonna of the Star"...

The Luke Wiggins' card featured an exquisite reproduction of "The Adoration of The Child" by Andrea della Robbia... Mrs. C. Blount Slade chose a detail from "The Adoration of The Magi" by Gentile de Fabriano...

A stylized Nativity scene adorned the Paul Marcos' handsome gold, blue and white greeting... the Edward Goodriches sent a gold and blue Flight Into Egypt... the James W. Kinnucans' card pictured Mary and Joseph on the road to Bethlehem... "Holy Night" was inscribed on the George Herbert Zimmermanns' blue and white card... a green and white "Noel" with a Star of Bethlehem and The Magi on a red background, designed by a member of the Junior Red Cross Technical High School, carried Mr. and Mrs. Frederick K. Cody's Christmas message...

Dr. and Mrs. Clifford Lorangers' card was inspired by the "Praying Hands" of Albrecht Durer... a sleepy cherub rested in the "O" of Mrs. Charles T. Fisher, Jr.'s "Noel"...

Mr. and Mrs. Otis U. Walker chose a multi-colored, contemporary Cathedral scene... Dr. and Mrs. Clarence Maguire's card was all-gold and Dickensian, picturing full-skirted ladies and frock-coated gentlemen as they enter a Church... the Leslie Berrys' colorful "Treasure Shop" scene also had a definite Dickens' flavor... Twins Kimberly Ann and Karen Marie carried the Gari W. Kerstens' Christmas greetings... the Joseph E. Burkes "decorated" all their friends with a gold Santa Claus medal...

One of the prettiest cards of the season was Mr. and Mrs. Donal O'Brien's Christmas tree in the snow... the Hamilton Kitchers' gold tree on a pale green background was circled by silver Peace Doves...

Mr. and Mrs. John Huetteman, Jr.'s gold-on-gold card wished all their friends a "Merry Christmas"... a gold holly spray on a red background and the legend "Merry Christmas" was inscribed on the card sent by Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Schroeder... the Bernard Whitneys' "Merry Christmas" card featured tiny angels and flower sprays... the Cal Kramers' greeting carried a Christmas Bell... a high-stepping Santa Claus danced out of a Christmas stocking on the Pierre Font's card...

"St Joseph and The Christ Child," by Giovanni Battista Tiepolo, (the original painting may be viewed at the Detroit Institute of Arts), Christ Child Society's Christmas Card, carried names of many Pointers, including the David Marantettes and the Emmet Tracys...

Proceeds from the "Peace" card sent by the Richard Martins and the Fred Hoods will be used to purchase equipment for the Intensive Care Unit of Harper Hospital...

The Sheltering Angel of Grosse Pointe's Foundation for Exceptional Children carried the names of the Howard Shaws, the George Hoopers, and many, many others... the vivid card of the Michigan Heart Association, picturing The Presentation in The Temple, was sent by the Hafe Kerbawys, John D. Benfields and Richard Degeners... a truly lovely, muted Madonna chosen by Dr. and Mrs. Jacob F. Wenzel benefits the Jesuit Seminary Association...

Two lambs, a dove and a child were featured on the Muscular Dystrophy Association's America card, bearing holiday greetings from Mr. and Mrs. Earl Fraser and Dr. and Mrs. Stanley L. Smith... the richly golden "Best Wishes" sent by the Rex Regans, Arthur Stringaris and Bud Seylers benefits the Michigan Cancer Foundation...

Among the whimsical cards, a stand-out is the Christmas-tree shaped swimming pool, chock full of reindeer to the consternation of a Santa Claus in a red bathing suit, wishing all on the Joseph Caskeys' Christmas list "Good Friends, Good Times, Good Health, Good Cheer, And Happy Days Throughout the Year."

What Goes On at Your Library

By Virginia Leonard

Having a soft spot in my heart for semantics, etymology and that sort of thing, I would like to share with you several new reference books in this field which we now have in our Library.

The first, by Ralph M. Albaugh, is entitled simply, ENGLISH, and is a dictionary of grammar and structure. For students and adults who wish to review fundamentals, this is a guide to familiar terms of English grammar and sentence structure, with plentiful cross references, definitions and many examples. As the preface states: "Being able to distinguish between an adverb and a preposition is no guarantee that a person will write correctly, effectively, or forcefully, but there is a certain amount of grammar that he needs to know." The author also provides a ready-reference chart of common grammatical errors and a suggested plan for the systematic review of English grammar.

The other two books have one interesting thing in common—wit. The first by Roy Copperud, is entitled A DICTIONARY OF USAGE AND STYLE, and the author's comments are as entertaining as they are instructive. Let me give you some examples. "CHAT" — "Chat" has come to be a journalistic counter word. It is especially prevalent in the identifications beneath pictures, where people no longer talk, converse, palaver, gossip, or declare—that chat." sip, consult, utter, discuss, say, PLEASE BE ADVISED — "A Victorian pomposity of correspondence that is better discarded together with 'Yours of the 18th inst. received...' and the like. Don't ask your correspondent to be advised; simply tell them what's on your mind."

TOUR OF DUTY — "Military lingo that may best be left to military connections. A writer infatuated with inappropriate cant, however, may speak of a policeman going off duty as 'ending his tour of duty.'" INTERESTING — "It is simple-minded to inform the reader that a fact being related is interesting. Interest is a subjective consideration and the reader will make his own judgment about it. By being told he is expected to react with interest, he may even be deterred from doing so."

This should give you a fair idea of what you have in store for you if you dip into Mr. Copperud's dictionary!

It's amazing the bits of new information one can pick up through a book of this type. You always thought that antisestablishmentarianism was the longest word in the English language? The Morris' hand us one that has one more letter in it: floccinaucinihilipilification (meaning as worthless"). Both "blurb" and "bromide" were coined by the late great humorist, Gelett Burgess. To "lay an egg" (i.e., to fail utterly) originated from the British game of cricket where, when the player failed to score, he was said to have achieved a duck's egg, i.e., a zero. Soon the word "goose" was dropped and the expression achieved popularity among vaudevillians.

Have you ever wondered about "play a hunch?" This goes back to the gamblers' superstition that good luck would follow if you touched a hunchback on his hump. "Ramshackle" comes from the Icelandic "ramskakkr," meaning "badly twisted." "Scuttle butt" (meaning "gossip") originally meant the lidded cask from which the ship's company obtained drinking water. Just as office personnel now gather around the water cooler, so then did the ship's company gather around this "scuttled butt" to exchange tidbits of news and rumors.

This book, under various headings, give a wealth of information on such subjects as: Political Slang, Nineteenth Century; Acronym (here are listed two pages of examples); Baseball Jargon; Old Army Slang; Space Jargon.

To conclude with a seasonal topic: Christmas Words. Here are listed the origins of "Yuletide," "Santa Claus" and "mistletoe." And what is the last word listed in this book? Zoophobia. What does it mean? Zoophobia victims experience a morbid fear of animals.

Any more questions? If you have any, come in and browse among our many reference books. You might be surprised at the many answers we can supply!

Two special events for New Year's weekend are being planned at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club.

The first is tonight's black-tie dance, first New Year's Eve party to be held at the Club in four years. Approximately 500 merry-makers are expected to attend.

Chairman Mrs. William M. Schmidt tells us the Club is going "all out" to make this a memorable occasion.

Orchestras of Al Navarro and Jerry Fenby will provide music for dancing in the ball and dining rooms. Pianist Rodney Davis will entertain in the grill.

Decorations will follow the white, blue and gold color scheme of the newly refurbished Club dining room.

Hot and cold hors d'oeuvres will be offered to dancers until midnight, and shortly after the arrival of the New Year an elaborate buffet supper will be served.

Assisting Mrs. Schmidt in planning the party are the Erik E. Eriksons, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Burke, the Roger K. Smiths, Dr. and Mrs. C. Roy Brooks and Dr. and Mrs. W. Fraser Vipond.

More are the Frederick B. Hillgers, the John A. Botts, the Earl D. Thompsons, Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. LaFond and Dr. and Mrs. George Granger.

Among those with early reservations were Commodore and Mrs. Harold E. Cross, M.D., Mr. and Mrs. William R. Tettelbach and Mr. and Mrs. David Gillespie.

Others who plan to dance the night away are Mr. and Mrs. Richard R. Shalla, the George A. Gardellas, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. William A. Schultz, the James M. Motchalls, Dr. and Mrs. Raymond D. Spire and Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Risdon, Jr.

On New Year's Day, GPYC members will gather at the invitation of Commodore and Mrs. Cross at a traditional Open House.

After greeting officers and directors, Rose Bowl enthusiasts may wend their ways to the two color television sets which have been installed especially for football fans in strategic places at the Club.

There will be many toasts offered to GPYC's con-

Carole Kincaid Debuts At Ball

Mr. and Mrs. John Wendell Anderson, II, of East Jefferson avenue, presented Mrs. Anderson's daughter, Carole Kincaid, at a dance Saturday evening in the Little Club.

Special party decor was designed by Paris' Maurice Carere, executed by New York's Kaj Velden.

Gold branches, starred with cherry blossoms and white birds, bloomed in the Club's foyer. "Kusu-damas," red lacquered good luck symbols sent by Tokyo friends of the Andersons, flanked the entranceway.

Light blue silk covered walls in the dining and drawing rooms, where individual candleabra glittered on small, oval, blue-clothed tables. Satin streamers and huge blue and white plumes fluttered from wall sconces and chandeliers.

Red silk and gleaming gold enclaves were featured on the lounge walls. Lounge tables, swathed in red velvet cloths, had as centerpiece white mum and candle-filled golden baskets.

Emil Coleman's musicians came from New York to play for dancing on the Club's enclosed porch, where colored butterflies dotted light blue silk-covered walls and ceiling.

The Andersons and Carrie stood before a lattice screen, hung with white mums, to receive their guests.

Miss Kincaid's gown, fashioned by Don Loper, of California, featured triple layers of white Swiss reemboiled organza over pale blue organza. She clasped her great-grandmother's strand of pearls around her neck, and wore a ring, a four-generation tradition, presented to the daughter of the family when she is 18.

Her wrist bouquet, of stephanotis, bachelor buttons and ivy tendrils, was a gift of Mr. Anderson.

Mrs. Anderson's gown, styled by Christian Dior-New York, was fashioned of white and gold brocade.

Gold and black Spanish enameled cuff links, presented by the debutante, and pale blue ribbons bearing Carrie's name and the party date, distinguished members of the usher corps, headed by Miss Kincaid's three escorts, Allan Shelden, IV, James S. Postley, of Switzerland and San Francisco, and Richard S. Hough, Jr., of Morristown, N.J.

Susan Turner Weds Daniel T. Goodnow

Newlyweds Leave for Mexico After Saturday Rites in St. Paul's On The Lakeshore; To Make Their Home In Haverhill Road, Detroit

Susan Turner chose a gown of lustrous cameo ivory peau de soie, first worn by her sister, Mrs. Russell Beaufre, Jr., for her marriage Saturday, in St. Paul's on the Lakeshore, to Daniel Timothy Goodnow.

The Reverend Father William J. Downey officiated at the 12:30 o'clock Nuptial Mass, which was followed by a reception at the Detroit Golf Club.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Charles Turner, of Washington road. Her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Nathan B. Goodnow, of Handy road.

Applied rose motifs entwined with pearl and crystal leaf embroidery accented the fitted bodice of the bride's gown. Garlands of the jeweled floral sprays were repeated on her semi-belted skirt. Her detachable, Empress train fell from a rose-centered bowknot.

A blending court cap, detailed with roses and beaded embroidery, caught her tiered illusion veil, and she carried an arrangement of white roses accented with Christmas green.

Mrs. Russell Beaufre, Jr., served as her sister's matron of honor, while another sister, Patricia Turner, acted as maid of honor.

Bridesmaids were Judith Goodnow, the bridegroom's sister, Patricia Parker and Paula Kelley, of Camp Hill, Pa.

The attendants were gowned

Donald Walker, Jr., Patrick Michael Finerty and Christopher Chapin.

A late supper, served at 2:30 in the morning, featured baked Idaho potatoes filled with red and black caviar, sour cream, chives and bacon, baked Virginia ham on beaten biscuits and miniature hamburgers.

Departing guests, waiting in the foyer for their cars, were offered a choice of black coffee or hot consommé.

Among special guests, in town for the party, were the Spanish Ambassador de Merry Del Val and his Marquesa, who dined with the Allan Sheldens, III, before the dance, and arrived at the Club with Henry Ford, II.

Other guests at the Shelden home in Provencal road included Mrs. Edsel B. Ford, former Cuban Ambassador Nicholas Arroyo and Mrs. Arroyo and the A. Frederick Kammer, Jr.

The Herbert I. Lords came with the Wolfram Ertlings, of New York and Monte Carlo, and Mr. Anderson's mother, Mrs. J. Lakin Baldrige, of New York and Bermuda, was a very honored party guest.

MR. and MRS. ROBERT E. MACDONALD, of Dayton, O., announce the birth of a son, STUART FORBES MACDONALD, December 9. Mrs. MacDonald is the former SHARON KERR, daughter of MR. and MRS. ROBERT M. KERR, of Cloverly road. Paternal grandparents are ELTON F. MACDONALDS, of Windmill Pointe drive.

Miss Saile Speaks Vows To Lt. Winter

Will Make Their Home in Baltimore, Md., in the Spring;
Bride Wears Silk Gown with Beaded Alencon Lace Details

A reception at the Detroit Yacht Club followed the Saturday morning ceremony, in St. Paul's on the Lakeshore, at which Sharlynn Lorraine Saile spoke her wedding vows to Lieutenant Robert Marshall Winter, USA. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Lorraine Weber Saile, of Moorland drive.

Quinton Hallett Feted At Lunch

Quinton Hallett, a former Grosse Pointe now making her home in Dover, N.H., with her family, was honored Tuesday afternoon, December 22, at a luncheon at the Country Club of Detroit.

Hostess was Mrs. Franklin Macife Walker, of Lincoln road. All of the season's debutantes gathered for the party, including P. K. McClelland, Miss Hallett's "hostess" in The Pointe.

and Frank Joseph Saile, Jr., of Mt. Clemens.

Her husband is the son of Robert Carlton Winter, of Lakeland avenue, and the late Marion Marshall Winter.

For her marriage, the former Miss Saile chose a slim gown of off-white silk, featuring a bodice and deep border detail of imported beaded Alencon lace, elbow length sleeves and a Cathedral train.

An open circlet of matching Alencon lace caught her formal length silk illusion veil. She carried white phalaenopsis orchids and stephanotis.

Her attendants wore floor length gowns of white and gold brocade. Their headpieces were matching Dior bows, and their bouquets were fashioned of gold thistle and white star-burst pompons.

Laurlynn R. Saile served as her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Frank J. Saile, III, Mrs. Richard Robinson, the bridegroom's sister, Lynn Windsor, Linda Moeller and Joyce Cronenweh. Roseanne L'Esperance and Laura VanSteinkiste were junior bridesmaids.

Lt. Winter asked his step-brother, William F. Stevens, to act as best man. Ushering were Frank J. Saile, III, Wayne T. Saile, Frank H. Sweet, Terrance Donovan and Richard Robinson.

The mother of the bride chose a frock of turquoise silk, while the bridegroom's mother wore a blue afternoon dress.

When they return from their wedding trip to Bermuda, Lt. and Mrs. Winter will make their home in Boston, Mass., for 11 weeks, before moving to Baltimore, Md., in the spring.

Miss Chapin is the granddaughter of the late Roy D. Chapin, president of Hudson Motor Company.

Her grandmother, Mrs. Walter Deacon, and her cousin, Linda Moody, came from Woodbury, Conn., for the dance.

At a cocktail party for their friends Sunday, Dr. and Mrs. W. Edward Sanborn, of Dearborn, announced the engagement of their daughter, Jane Ann, to Thomas B. Woodruff, son of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Woodruff, of Severn road.

Both the bride-elect and her fiancé are graduates of Western Michigan University, where she affiliated with Alpha Chi Omega sorority and he affiliated with Delta Sigma Phi fraternity. Mr. Woodruff was graduated from Grosse Pointe High School in 1958.

The couple plans an August wedding.

Whittlesey-Schmidt Nuptials Celebrated

Pair Travel to Northern Michigan for Skiing Vacation; Reception at Detroit Boat Club Follows Tuesday Evening Rites

At a candlelight service Tuesday evening in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, Gloria Ann Schmidt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur O. A. Schmidt, of Lakecrest lane, became the bride of Steven Baynes Whittlesey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore B. Whittlesey, of Lakeshore road.

The Reverend Bertram deHeus Atwood officiated at the rites.

The bride chose a Bianchi gown of antique ivory silk taffeta, featuring a draped Chapel train. Her Empire bodice of corded Alencon lace was appliqued with seed pearls.

More seed pearls accented her crown headpiece, from which fell a French silk illusion veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of stephanotis and white orchids.

The former Miss Schmidt was given in marriage by her father and attended by her sister, Mrs. Richard Zuehlke, of Ann Arbor, as matron of honor.

Bridesmaids were Diana Hinks and Susan Hallenbeck, and the bride's Kappa Alpha Theta sorority sisters, Mary Ann Pratt, of Boston, Mrs. Bruce Laidlaw, of Ann Arbor, and Helen Hitchman, of Boston.

Their floor length gowns featured Christmas red velvet bodices atop candlelight brocade skirts. They wore red velvet headpieces with matching veils, accented with seed pearls, and carried bouquets of matching carnations and holly.

Theodore E. Whittlesey served as his brother's best man. In the usher corps were Thomas Schmidt, brother of the bride, Stephen Gerow, Albert Bolden, Ralph Heikkinen and Robert Gilliam, of East Lansing.

For her daughter's wedding and the reception at the Detroit Boat Club, Mrs. Schmidt chose a Givenchy designed floor length gown of ivory silk crepe. Mrs. Whittlesey wore a gown of mimosas green chiffon with an embroidered lace bodice. Both mothers wore cymbidium orchids.

Mrs. Otto Schmidt, of Middlesex boulevard, the bride's grandmother, chose a gown of gold brocade.

The newlyweds left immediately after the reception for a skiing vacation in northern Michigan. For traveling, the new Mrs. Whittlesey chose a cyclamen pink costume suit with black accessories, and a corsage of white orchids.

Knapp-Westby Vows Spoken

At a candlelight service in St. James Presbyterian Church December 19, Susan Westby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Torsten R. Westby, of Rossiter avenue, Detroit, spoke her marriage vows to William Allan Knapp.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Knapp, of Cloverly road. The Reverend Donald Candy officiated at the pre-Christmas rites.

For her wedding, the former Miss Westby chose a gown of white silk satin, its bodice and skirt appliqued with Alencon lace. Her train was Chapel length, and she carried a cluster of white roses and carnations, centered with a white orchid.

In floor length gowns of burgundy velvet and pale pink crepe were the attendants, Anne Westby, who served as her sister's maid of honor, Sharon Baumeister, the bride's cousin, and Julie Argy.

AS NEW on the market as the New Year!

ON LINCOLN ROAD, and at a price so low it will leave you with more than enough for champagne with every meal. This four bedroom also has two full baths and that extra first floor room. Richard School and shopping are just a few blocks away. Only $25,500... seriously.

TOWN HOUSE LIVING in the heart of Grosse Pointe, is yours if you owned this terrace on Rivard Boulevard. Center hall plan affords a separate dining room and library off the living room. Three bedrooms and two baths on the second floor and two more bedrooms and a bath on the third. Less than thirty thousand.

THE ONLY STEP you'll have to take is the one to your phone, if it results in seeing, loving and buying this story and a half house on O'Mara Court. Two bedrooms and a bath and a half on the first floor, and of course a living room and the gigantic combination kitchen and family center. An enclosed stairway leads to two more bedrooms and a bath. This house is on a dead-end street, yet just a few blocks from GPUS, Barnes and Star of the Sea schools.

ON BEAUTIFUL LEWISTON Road we are pleased to offer this five family bedrm. house which is ideal for the family that requires easy accessibility to St. Paul's and Grosse Pointe High. On 212 feet of frontage, the house actually has an "extra" lot. We might add that there are two maids' rooms and a bath over the three car attached garage, with access to the main house. First floor "opens up" with library, living room and dining rooms each leading off from the entrance hall. Now vacant and ready for your future.

THIS ONE SHOULD head your list if you must have four bedrooms and desire the quiet of a limited access street. If you want prime location and a newer house, with forced air heat and a large kitchen with all the trimmings; if your family must have that additional room on the first floor, besides the living room and separate dining room; if you demand four bedrooms and a finished basement, and would like the convenience of an attached garage; if you want to move right in your next house which comes complete with good carpeting and draperies throughout... better call us... if you like the low tag of $49,000.

ON VENDOME we will show you one of the best examples of a large English manor house ever built in The Pointe. In the same neighborhood but around the corner on Cloverly Road, we offer another large English house which will wow you with the charm woven into it by its present owner.

tinued success in the New Year—and a family buffet dinner will follow the Open House.

SUMMER CAMP, ANYONE?

Following an eight-year tradition, the annual Bryn Afon movies will be shown next Thursday evening, at the McKinley place home of Mrs. Edward S. Wunsch.

Honor guests will be Bryn Afon's new directors, Mr. and Mrs. H. Bradford Aarons, who are taking over the reins from Miss Lotta B. Broadbridge, founder and director of Bryn Afon for 47 years, now retired.

Joan Hadley Aarons first affiliated with Bryn Afon as a counselor in 1949, eventually becoming assistant director.

She is well known in The Pointe as the dedicated head of the Liggett Tomorrow Fund, and is a member of Tau Beta Association and the Junior League.

Camp Bryn Afon is located on Lake Snowden near Rhineland, Wis. Movies depicting highlights of last summer's activities will be shown at 7:30 o'clock.

Over punch and cookies "old" campers will reminisce and meet girls planning to hop the Bryn Afon "Special" in '65. Pointe representatives for Bryn Afon is Mrs. Francis E. Brossy, III, of McKinley place.

Incidentally, Bryn Afon is a family affair at the Wunsch household... Mrs. Wunsch and her two daughters, Betsy and Kay, all summered on Lake Snowden's shores during their camping days.

HONOR PAST PRESIDENTS

The January Alumnae Association meeting at the Convent of the Sacred Heart in Lakeshore road promises to be something special this year.

Current Association officers have decided to fete past Alumnae presidents at a tea, business and just-plain-fun session next Thursday.

Mrs. William Keane, Mrs. Edward Hammond, Mrs. Charles Fisher, Jr., Mrs. Russell French, Mrs. J. P. Cumiskey, Mrs. Miles O'Brien and Mrs. Nelson Schlaff are among former Association heads to be honored.

Others are Mrs. Thomas Petzold, Mrs. Stanley Beatie, Mrs. Stansell Bush, Mrs. Burns Cody, Mrs. Philip Weiss and Mrs. Hans Gehrke.

HERITAGE FAIR

Looking ahead a bit... we find the annual Heritage Fair, sponsored by the Historic Memorials Society, scheduled February 11 at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

The Fair, luncheon and card party will benefit new projects planned by the Society, whose objective is to promote and assist in the restoration and preservation of national, state and civic memorials.

Past Society projects have included the Burton Historical Collection, Old Mariners Church, Detroit Historical Museum, Restoration of Old Fort Wayne and numerous other historical sites.

Mrs. Milton B. Osgood, general Fair chairman, and her co-chairman Mrs. Charles W. Potter, have scheduled a tea and committee meeting next Thursday. Mrs. Henry D. Brown will be hostess, and Mrs. Harold I. Tanner, Society president, will welcome guests.

Plan Services On New Year's

Some churches in the Grosse Pointe area have scheduled special services in observance of the New Year.

The Grosse Pointe Baptist Church has set a watch night service for tonight, December 31, which will begin at 10 p.m. and conclude at midnight.

Two Lutheran churches will celebrate Holy Communion to-night at special services. St. James Lutheran Church will begin its worship at 7:30 p.m. while St. Paul Evangelical Lutheran will start its service at 8 p.m. Neither church will hold services on New Year's Day.

Christ Episcopal Church has planned a special observance of Holy Communion for New Year's eve which will start to-night at 11:15 p.m. Holy Communion will also be celebrated tomorrow, New Year's Day, at 10 a.m. Although St. Michael's Episcopal Church has scheduled no observances to-night, the Eucharist will be celebrated at a 9:30 service tomorrow, January 1.

Pointe Roman Catholic Churches in the area will hold no special services tonight, but will hold masses tomorrow because January 1 is a holy day of obligation which celebrates "The Octave of Christmas."

St. Paul's on the Lakeshore will have masses at 7 a.m., 8 a.m., 9:15 a.m., 10:30 a.m., 11:45 a.m. and 1 p.m. In addition to the usual masses which are scheduled for holy days, St. Clare de Montefalco has planned an extra service for New Year's Day which will begin at 5 a.m. Other hours for masses will be 7 a.m., 8:15 a.m., 9:30 a.m., 10:45 a.m., 12 noon and 1:15 p.m.

Rapid Recovery Party Planned

Grosse Pointe's single set has a lot of bounce. After all the party rounds between Christmas and New Year's, they are coming right back to 32 Lake Shore for a Rapid Recovery party on Friday evening, January 8th, from 9 until 12.

Roston Clark's orchestra will play for this first dance of 1965 and put life into all the Aspirin Anniess and Seltzer Bills. New single people in the Pointe area will be especially welcomed at this party and every effort will be made to get them acquainted so that they may be included and enjoy the afterglow which follows every Center Club dance.

Any new single resident who would like to be placed on the Center Club's mailing list is urged to call his address into the Memorial's office TU 1-7511 so that he may be kept abreast of all activities.

JIM SCHULTE, OF WESTWIND LANE

By Janet Mueller

There is a new brick dormitory at the Malawi Young Pioneers Camp in Central Africa. It is the first in a proposed series of 15 permanent dormitories. Henry J. (Jim) Schulte, III, helped to build it.

Jim is a pre-Med student, a junior at Notre Dame University. Last summer, he and some 250 other North American college and university students lived and worked under the auspices of Operation Crossroads Africa in various countries throughout the African continent.

Prior to his departure for Africa, Jim had done no extensive traveling outside the United States. He had traveled, however—the summer after he graduated from high school, he took off in a station wagon with several friends.

The young men headed west, to the desert and the mountains. They camped out along the way, visiting the Seattle World's Fair before returning home.

Jim first became aware of Operation Crossroads Africa when a man came to Notre Dame to lecture on the program. He was interested in Africa, thought the project sounded adventurous, and applied.

After an extensive screening period, during which he was interviewed, wrote a term paper and submitted references, he was among the 260 young Americans accepted. About 4,000 college and university students had applied for the program.

Operation Crossroads Africa, a fore-runner of the Peace Corps, is a privately sponsored, person-to-person program, aimed at exposing American young adults to the culture, folkways, religion and family structure of Africa... and at exposing Africans to American young adults.

The North Americans spend two months in an African country, working with Africans on a short-term project.

But this project is secondary. Jim points out; the primary purpose of the program is increased understanding and sympathy between individuals and nations.

Round trip charter transportation to and from Africa is provided by Operation Crossroads Africa, Inc., out of funds raised specifically for this purpose, but each individual contributes approximately $1,700 for his own maintenance.

Jim's expense funds came partly from a Notre Dame scholarship, partly from the Grosse Pointe Rotary Club, partly from friends and partly out of his own pocket.

In return, he wrote to his sponsors while he was in Malawi and, since returning home, he has lectured and shown slides at St. Paul's School, Austin, Rotary Club meetings and Christ Church. He is scheduled to speak at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church January 3.

Instructed by UN Jim's Crossroads summer began at Rutgers University where, during a week of orientation, officials of the United Nations, the State Department and the American Committee on African Affairs gave instruction on the political set-up of Africa, do's and don'ts of living in Africa, and the technique of bartering: "If they say sixpence, you say fourpence."

After a day in New York, spent mostly at the World's Fair, the Crossroads travelers boarded their plane. They touched down in France, staying overnight at an inn which had once served as Robert Louis Stevenson's home.

They landed briefly in Egypt, then flew on to Nairobi for two more days of orientation and a quick visit to the Nairobi Game

Park. From Nairobi they went to Mombasa, then to Dar-es-Salaam.

Jim's group, 14 in number, arrived in their assigned country, Malawi, on July 5, Independence Day Eve. Malawi officially became a self-governing nation July 6.

"The Malawians don't mess around when they throw a party," Jim remarks.

Independence celebrations lasted five days. Men and women came to the capital from all over the country. There were tribal dance performances, Church ceremonies, dedications.

Had Been British

Malawi had been a British Colonial possession, a part of the Federation of Rhodesia and Nyasaland. On the night of July 5, Jim and his Crossroads group joined the Malawians in a vigil at the soccer stadium.

At the stroke of midnight, the Union Jack was lowered and Malawi's flag—three bars of color: red, (symbolizing blood shed in the battle for independence), black, (symbolizing the color of the people), and green, (symbolizing the country's agricultural economy)—was raised.

There was cheering, crying, and shouting. Jim's only word for the scene is "fantastic."

Malawi's Crossroads contingent was stationed at the Young Pioneers Camp outside the capital. There the North Americans, nine whites and five Negroes, worked with 200 Malawians, two Israeli leaders to set up a permanent facility.

The Israelis have sent representatives to some 10 countries in Africa, helping the people of these countries organize kibbutz-type compounds, to train youth in agricultural methods, health improvement and self-help.

Jim was impressed by the success of the kibbutz arrangement, and says the Israelis are doing "a tremendous job."

"I would emulate Israel. Eventually, Malawi hopes to emulate Israel, to send all its youth to the camp for training periods. In a small, new nation, where people must be educated and taught to regard themselves as belonging to the country, 'you'd be surprised how effective the kibbutz system is,' Jim says.

The Crossroads group traveled whenever they had the chance. They met and talked with people, with villagers and Cabinet ministers, with the Prime Minister, Dr. Hastings Banda, with G. Mennen Williams.

The enthusiasm of everyone impressed Jim: "These people are ALIVE!... They want to make a new country, they are so proud..."

The North Americans worked under an African technician, who taught them how to lay bricks and mix mortar. A girl doctoral candidate from Harvard, a Stanford physics major, a West Point Cadet... they all had to learn how to build a simple, four-walled dormitory.

Laying bricks is not as easy as it looks, according to Jim Schulte—the day before the Crossroads group left, the roof went up and the shell of the dormitory was completed.

Supervised Class Besides his brick-laying assignment, Jim and the other Crossroads representatives each supervised an English language class. Some of the classes concentrated strictly on basic English; the students knew only their own language. Teachers in these basic classes became quite proficient in Malawi's Swahili dialect.

Jim's was an intermediate class. Classes at his and higher levels often turned into discussions of politics and life in America, with the emphasis inevitably on Civil Rights: "Every African knows the United States has a Civil Rights problem."

Two episodes concerned with the camp stand out in Jim's mind. He remembers traveling to a village, watching children at play, joining in the game, laughing and tossing a ball back and forth, nodding to a man who came to the door of his home to watch the American with the Malawi children, tossing the ball to the man, who grinned, and tossed it back.

Two days later, the Malawian showed up at the camp, bearing gifts, two eggs and four lengths of sugar cane, "for the man who played ball with the children."

He remembers his last night at the camp. Everyone, the Crossroads workers, the Malawians, the Israelis, gathered in the schoolroom, a big straw hut. Each Crossroads volunteer gave a brief talk, detailing what he felt he had gained as a result of his summer work experience.

Then the Crossroads group sang four songs. Their last song was "Amen," they sang it as they filed out of the schoolroom, the Malawians joining the North Americans in the final choruses.

The next morning, as the Malawians went through their regular calisthenics drill, Jim heard them singing. They were roaring out "Amen," alternating the English verses with verses in their own dialect.

Greatly Influenced Jim has been profoundly influenced by his African summer. "You get a different view of the United States when you step outside it," he says.

He was very impressed by the things Africans told Crossroads volunteers they (the Africans) had gained from their experience of living and working with North Americans. The Africans noted that Operation Crossroads Africa had proved to them that black and white can work together, and had helped them to a fuller realization of the dignity of manual labor.

At the end of the summer, there is a free week in which Crossroads volunteers may travel about the continent on their own. Jim and a friend, the West Point cadet, used their free time to climb Mount Kilimanjaro.

It was a four-day, 58-mile trip. "I'll never forget it!" Jim declares.

Back in Nairobi, the Malawi group joined Crossroads groups which had been stationed all over Africa for an evaluation session. Then they boarded their plane for the flight home, (Jim left most of his clothes in Africa; his 44-pound baggage allowance was devoted to spears, gourds, carvings, lengths of material, things he had picked up during his two months in Africa).

Arriving back in New York proved to be the biggest "adjustment" of the entire program.

"I could have left my watch at home," Jim reminisces. In Malawi, time is governed by the sun, the seasons and the weather. There are few automobiles, the pace is slow.

New York, with its cars and buses and busy people was almost frightening after months in Central Africa.

"They tell you about 'Culture Shock' before you go," says Jim. "But coming back is the really fantastic experience..."

'P. K.' and Sallie Debut At Dance

Cousins Sallie Waterman and Pamela (P.K.) McClelland were presented to society by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cameron Waterman, III, of Touraine road, and Mr. and Mrs. James F. McClelland, Jr., of Beacon Hill, at the first dance of the Christmas debutante season on Tuesday evening, December 22.

Party scene was the Little Club, decorated for the occasion, as an Italian Provincial villa.

A swag of Della Robbia fruit with gold magnolia leaf accents hung in the club's entrance hall. Fruit-garlanded gold trees were featured in the dancing area.

The debutantes and their parents stood before the mirrored fireplace of the lounge to receive their guests.

P.K. wore a full-skirted, floor-length frock of white peau de soie, styled with a high front neckline. Sallie's formal gown of white silk brocade featured an Empire bodice and controlled skirt, sweeping to back fullness.

Mrs. Waterman chose a pale blue, swirl-patterned gown, while Mrs. McClelland's gown, of pastel blue, pink and green brocade, was distinguished by applied neckline flowers.

The debutantes carried identical bouquets of white carnations, pink sweetheart roses and ivy, their fathers' gifts.

Green ambassador ribbons and Christmas boutonnières identified members of the usher corps. Wendell H. Goddard, Christopher Farrand, Thayer McMillan, II, Charles A. DuCharme, III, Dan L. Johnson, Jr., Douglas Franchot, Lawrence Gottfredson, III, David Bingham, Sallie's brother-in-law, Reuben Waterman, Sallie's cousin, and James McClelland, III, P.K.'s brother.

Jack Qualey's orchestra and jazz bands alternated music for dancing. High candelabras accented by grapes and other fruits were featured on the buffet supper table.

Sallie's three sisters, postbides Pamela and Mary, and Mrs. David Bingham, were among honored guests, as were her grandmothers, Mrs. Cameron Beach Waterman and Mrs. William P. Stevens.

P.K.'s grandmothers, Mrs. James McClelland, of Greenwich, Conn., and her house guest, Quinton Hallett, of Dover, N.H., were also honored party guests.

Prior to the dance, debutantes and their escorts gathered at Mrs. John Buel Warren's home in Edgemere road, for a dinner honoring Miss McClelland, given by Mrs. Warren and Mrs. Lowrey Kammer.
