Park, Farms Candidates

and the City holds its election in November of each year.

Seeking the office of mayor in the Park is Matthews Patterson of 1052 Devonshire, who was elevated from councilman to mayor last July 23, to succeed Kenneth Cunningham, who resigned. Patterson is seeking a two-year term in his own right.

Opposing Patterson will be William N. Fritz of 1167 Whit-ter, a newcomer.

Hoping to unseat longtime Municipal Judge C. Joseph Belanger at the April election, is Philip J. Mabarok of 1252 Maryland.

The 12 aspirants seeking spots for the April election at the February primary, are:

John A. Doelle of 829 Grand Marais; Charles F. Ives of 1024 Somerset, incumbents; and William H. Kessler of 1013 Cadieux, who was appointed to succeed Patterson on the council, and will be the Rev. Fr. George J. Schrauder, assistant pastor of Our Lady Star of the Sea Catholic Church.

Lectures

At the final lecture on February 9 when Mr. Anderson will speak, the invocation will be given by the Rev. Andrew Rauth, minister of the Woods Presbyterian Church.

Special invitations to attend the series have been sent to the athletic directors of Grosse Pointe High School, St. Paul's High School, Grosse Pointe University School, St. Ambrose High School and Austin Preparatory School. Also invited as special guests are some of the outstanding players at these schools, during the football season just past.

Pros To Be Present

Mr. Anderson has said that on the night of his lecture some of the Detroit Lions players will be on hand to answer questions. At least three from the following group will be present to add to the evening's excitement: Joe Schmidt, co-captain and defensive linebacker; Terry Barr, co-captain and flanker back; Jim Gibbons, star end and voted most valuable player this season; John Gordy, guard; Bruce Maher, defensive back; Milt Plum, quarterback; and Daryl Sanders, tackle.

are being sold for $3 at the Memorial Center. Checks should be made out to the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association. Single lecture tickets, if available, will cost $1 at the door.

As with the other series, radio station WWJ will broadcast the lectures at 8:30 p.m. on the Wednesdays following each. The Grosse Pointe Public Library will also tape the entire series.

who seeks to be elected in his own right.

Opposing the three will be newcomers, James D. Beyster of 523 Barrington; Thomas G. Bolton of 1228 Three Mile drive; Charles J. Caramitro of 1214 Berkshire; Paul E. Hoisington of 1228 Wayburn; Joseph W. Louisell, Jr., of 1321 Devonshire; Jesse C. Osetek of 1204 Kensington; Barry M. Quinn of 1245 Maryland; Jerome P. VanNeste of 1319 Balfour; and George J. Verdonck of 732 Harcourt.

The six candidates receiving the greatest number of votes at the primary, will compete for the three council seats in April, the winners to serve for four years.

Seeking re-election in the Farms are incumbents William F. Connolly, Jr., of 54 Moran road, present mayor; and William G. Kirby of 61 Moross road.

Vying for seats around the Farms council table are newcomers Richard C. Hudson of 430 Roland; Charles A. J. Kotcher of 126 Stephens; John B. Lizza of 470 Allard; Ervin A. Steiner, Jr., of 236 Stephens; and Mark C. Stevens of 280 Moross.

At least two of the newcomers are assured of being elected to the council, to replace two present members who have decided not to seek re-election. Not asking to be returned, for personal reasons, are Ledyard Mitchell, Jr., of 61 Moran; and Thomas K. Fisher of 24 Fair Acres, both of whom have served one four-year term on the council.

Opposing each other for the municipal judgeship are Grant E. Armstrong of 66 Handy place, incumbent; and Philip H. Dawson of 323 Touraine.

curb and into the hedge fence at the Page home.

Going Too Fast

Both drivers claim that they had the green light in their favor. It was estimated that they were going 40 to 45 m.p.h. when the accident occurred. Police said that they had been drinking. Both cars were completely demolished.

Progaacini and Miss Hill were on their way to a party in Bryn drive when their car struck Clark's. Clark and his passengers had just dropped off a friend to work at Al Green's.

Jefferson and Beaconsfield, and were on their way to the Edsel Ford expressway to return home. City police were assisted at the scene of the wreck, which happened just three minutes before midnight by Park police. Clark and Progaacini were who took some of the injured to the hospital in two of their ambulances.

BUCKET SEATS GONE

Sam Garofalo, 17, of 10462 East Outer Drive, went to a movie at the Woods Theater, and parked his car in the theater lot on Saturday, January 2. When he returned, he told Woods police, he found that someone had forcibly entered the vehicle and removed its two gray, bucket seats, valued at $150 each.

THIS IS Cadillac FOR 1965

MORE THAN A NEW CAR...A NEW CADILLAC!

Above, the Coupe de Ville; below, the longer-wheelbase Fleetwood Brougham.

What would an auto show be like without it? A lot less than it should be! For after all, a Cadillac so dramatically new is sure to provide an element of distinction to intrigue and delight the man with a fine car appreciation. How unfortunate, indeed, if that man were not able to sit in the most comfortable interiors ever designed for a fine car. Or if the lady who accompanies him were not able to inspect the beautifully crafted embroidered fabrics to be found in the "car of cars" this year. And finally, wouldn't it be a loss to every fine car connoisseur if he couldn't ask the price of this newest and finest of all Cadillacs? For what other car can equal the Standard of the World for investment appeal? None other, we assure you, than the car that is so new, so right, so obviously Cadillac!

Park Firemen

partment be inadequately staffed to protect the lives and property of our residents," Hunt stated.

Protection Insurance
"During the past few years, the five Grosse Pointes and Harper Woods have worked out a Mutual Fire Aid Agreement, for added protection. Along with this, the City of Grosse Pointe Park pays the City of Detroit an annual standby service fee to cover any large fires in our community."

"Also, State Law provides that paid firefighters are on continuous duty, and may be called upon at any time to aid in any emergency that might arise in the city."

"The Association feels that with all these added factors to protect the citizens of the Park, along with the Park having the largest complement of manpower, and in our opinion, the best trained in the Pointe, we are justified in asking for a reduced work week."

"We readily admit to the inclusion of sleeping time in the 56-hour proposal," Hunt said. "We also admit, as would 100,000 firefighters across the nation, that sleep in a fire station isn't what it is cracked up to be. With all night watches, telephones and bells that sometimes ring steadily through the night, our so-called sleep time is by no means sound restful sleep."

Faces Big Risks
"At any time during the night we might be called upon to save lives and property in our city. A firefighter is ready to face death every day that he reports for duty, or if and when he is called during his off-duty time. A fireman can be killed at a fire, just as might be one of his fellow citizens whom he serves. Try and sleep on that," Hunt said.

"The mayor reportedly mentioned a study made by a research organization, regarding hours in the fire departments on a per capita basis in Michigan," the Association president pointed out. "If this organization made studies of industry on a per capita basis and their studies were considered by management, factory workers in small industries would be looking for a place to sleep on the job," he said.

"A fireman's hours are long and tiring. He cannot be guaranteed 56 hours of firefighting a week, but if it comes, he will respond, and of this you can be absolutely sure."

Hunt stated that the third meeting of the Association and Park officials with the Michigan Labor Mediation Board on December 17, closed with the city's representatives promising to give the Association a written notice, which would allow the firefighters to seek a hearing as Association members and Fire Department employees, with the mayor and city council.

To date, he said, no such notice has been received. Another meeting with the Mediation Board has not been scheduled, he added.

BROKEN WINDOWS
Answering a call made by Miss Pauline Masak of the Neighborhood Club, City police found on Wednesday, December 30, nine windows in the club's old building had been broken.

Plan Dinner to Pay Honor To Louis H. Charbonneau

Thomas M. Kavanagh of the Supreme Court, speaking for the court; Dean Allan F. Smith of the University of Michigan Law School, speaking for the area law schools; Major General Clyde E. Dougherty, representing the military; and Prof. William Kelly Joyce of the U. of D. faculty will be among other dignitaries at the speakers table. Commissioners of the State Bar and directors of the Detroit Bar are expected to be in attendance.

General Chairman of the dinner is Nathan B. Goodnow, former president of both the State Bar of Michigan and the Detroit Bar Association. Toastmaster will be Commissioner Robert C. Murphy of the State Bar of Michigan, and a long-time associate of the honored guest. Ladies are invited and tickets are obtainable in the office of Mrs. Ruth Amsden, administrative secretary, Detroit Bar Association, 577 Penobscot Building and from Mrs. Catherine Hoffman in the University of Detroit Law School. Tickets will also be available at the door.

A native Detroit, Louis H. Charbonneau, who will retire at the end of the month after nearly five years as dean of the law school, has worn many titles, always with distinction. He is a former president of the Detroit Bar Association and for 12 years served as a commissioner of the State Bar. He has for 34 years served as an instructor in real estate mortgages at the U. of D. Law School. He has been a non-resident lecturer in real estate law at the U. of M. Extension Service.

A veteran of both world wars, he is a retired brigadier general, USAR. His decorations include the Bronze Star, the French Croix de Guerre with gold star and Belgian Fourragere, and three campaign stars.

The dean and his wife the former May E. Young, reside at 1041 Kensington road. They have children, three, three sons and two daughters, all graduates of the University of Detroit.

Entertainment highlight of the Charbonneau salute will be the appearance of the Detroit Bar Association Glee Club in a set of especially prepared numbers. The dean was a charter member of his widely-acclaimed choral group. In addition to those already mentioned, the dinner committee includes Col. Michael F. Peters, representing the law alumni and Prof. James Huddleston of the faculty.

William Clay Ford, the Detroit Lions owner, earned varsity letters in soccer and tennis during his undergraduate days at Yale University.

Club Sets Dates For Registration

Starting the week of January 4 registrations for the next session of classes will be taken at the Neighborhood Club office, 710 Notre Dame, during the week from 9:00 a.m. to 5 p.m. and on Saturdays at Brownell Jr. High from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

If you expect to outshine your neighbors build a good reputation and keep it polished.

Windows at Valparaiso Donated by Munderlohs

The new stained glass windows in the Memorial Chapel at Valparaiso University, Valparaiso, Ind., will be dedicated at a special festival service Sunday morning January 10.

These windows are the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred C.
Munderloh, of Windmill Pointe drive.

The windows are in three sections, each standing 92 feet in height and were constructed by the renowned stained glass craftsmen in Cologne, Germany.
They depict a representation of the creative work of God the Father, the Redemptive Work of God the Son, and the Work of Sanctification of the Holy Ghost.

The Memorial Chapel at Valparaiso, which was constructed in the center of the campus a few years ago, has attracted great interest throughout the country.

It has a seating capacity of over 3,000, and with the gradual completion of furnishings appears destined to become known as the Lutheran Cathedral of America.

At the service on Sunday,
Valparaiso University will award to Mr. Munderloh the Lumen Christi Medal for his outstanding work as a Christian layman.

Mr. and Mrs. Munderloh have maintained an active interest in

Named to Auto Club's Board

Grosse Pointe Woods resident Louis C. Asmus of 558 Lochmoor Blvd. has been elected to Automobile Club of Michigan's Board of Directors.
Club President William G. Walters announced.

Asmus is Executive Vice-President and Secretary of Asmus Brothers, Inc. He is a member of Detroit Athletic Club, past director of Lochmoor
Country Club, past Commander of Detroit Commandery No. 1, Knights Templar, and a director of Volunteers of America,
Detroit area.

Born in Detroit, Asmus graduated from Eastern High School and earned a Business Administration degree from the Michigan State College in 1934. He joined his father's modest wholesale spice business and has co-directed it to vast expansion since, with an interruption to become a First Lieutenant in the U.S. Infantry.

Asmus has a wife, Kathryn V., and two sons, Louis C. and Thomas J. He is one of three new directors who replace the late J. Lee Barrett of 38 Newberry, Grosse Pointe Farms.

Farms Donates To MML Fund

The Farms council on Monday, January 4, approved appropriation of $100, as a voluntary assessment to be contributed as the Farms' share of the cost of the 41st national convention of the American Municipal Congress.

Councilman William Kirby, a recent past president of the Michigan Municipal League, and chairman of the coming convention, informed his colleagues that the MML, of which the Farms is a member, will be the host at the convention, to be held in Detroit on July 24 through 28.

Kirby disclosed that the League's Board of Trustees has authorized a voluntary assessment of 10 percent of annual dues of member municipalities, to assist in carrying out the responsibilities at this event.
The Farms' share was set at a minimum amount of $48.

However, the councilman pointed out, it would be a big help, and an incentive to other community members, if the than their 10 percent.

Kirby said that member communities which contribute more than the sum asked, not only will help members unable to afford even the minimum assessment, but they will help in making the convention one of the most successful ever held.

He said that approximately 80 percent of the MML members are expected to send official representatives to the national convention.

Plymouth roars into '65 with 4 great sports!

Sport Fury Convertible

'65 Sport Fury

The Fury is the top of the '65 Plymouth line.
The Sport Fury is the top of the top.
Deep, snug bucket seats are standard equipment.
Between them, you can put an optional
3-speed automatic or 4-speed stick, console-mounted.
In front of them, you can put an engine as big as the optional 426-cu.-in. Commando V-8.
In hardtop or convertible model,
the '65 Sport Fury is a big, plush, good-looking car in a hurry.

Signet Convertible

'65 Valiant Signet

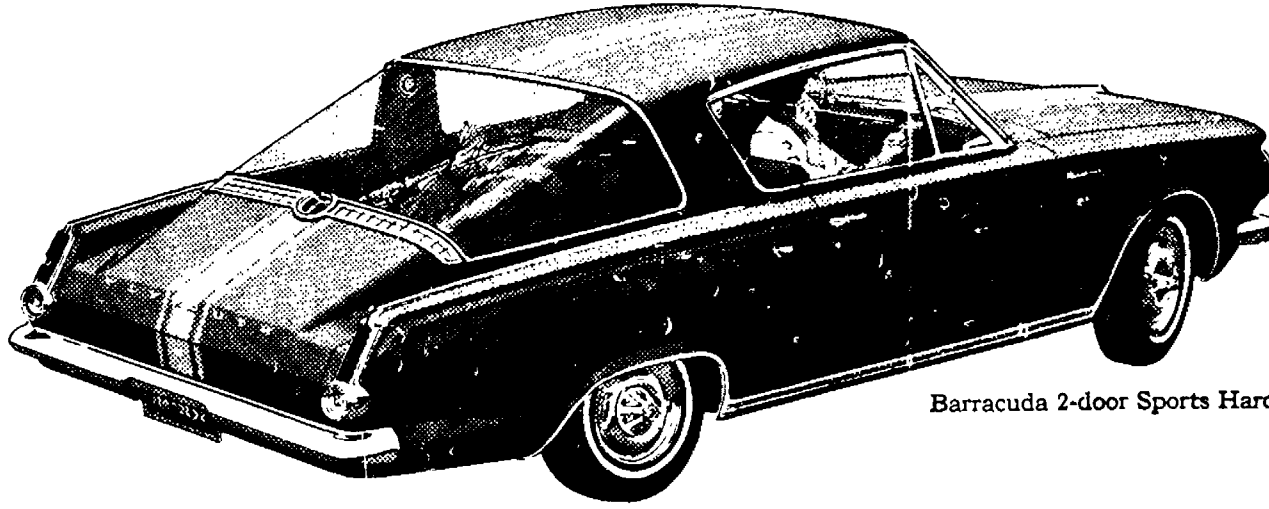

The '65 Valiant line has its own "Sport": the Signet.
If you think compacts can't get out of their own way, you ought to jump into a Signet equipped with an optional
273-cu.-in. Commando V-8. (You won't think that way anymore.)
Signet comes in 2-door hardtop or convertible.
It also comes in the bright, new look Valiant's wearing this year.

Satellite 2-door Hardtop

65 Belvedere Satellite

The Belvedere Satellite is another Plymouth go-getter for 1965.
If you like to think of yourself in a bucket seat, your hand wrapped around an optional console-mounted 4-speed stick, and whistling along a highway, you've got the Satellite picture.
It's a new way to swing without going out on a limb. (With the optional 426-cu.-in. Commando V-8, just change "swing" to "zing".)

Barracuda 2-door Sports Hardtop

'65 Barracuda Fastback

And then there's Barracuda, the fast-moving new fastback that seats 5 and costs less than $2500.*
Along with the standard front bucket seats, you can add an optional racing-type steering wheel, 4-speed stick, and new 2/3-cu.-in. Commando V-8 with 4-barrel carburetor. Plus, the back seat folds down for 7 feet of fully carpeted cargo space.
If utility doesn't seem to jibe with the looks and the action, don't worry about it. It's included in the low price.

Something for Everyone:

Series:	Overall Length: (sedan models)	Prices start at:*
Fury (22 models)	209.4"	$2376
Belvedere (18 models)	203.4"	$2226
Valiant (18 models)	188.2"	$2004
Barracuda (2 models)	188.2"	$2487

*Prices based on Manufacturer's Suggested Retail Prices for lowest-priced Fury I, Belvedere I, Valiant 100 and Barracuda 6-cylinder models, exclusive of destination charges, state and local taxes, if any, whitewall tires, wheel covers, back-up lights, racing stripe on Barracuda, and other optional equipment.

Library Offers Family Movies

The fourth program of the 1964-1965 Family Film Night Series will be presented Friday, January 8, at 7:30 o'clock in the Central Library Meeting Room of the Grosse Pointe Library.

Family Film Nights are held the first Friday night in each month — except this month, when the program will be the second Friday, due to the holidays.

The program for January 8 will be an enjoyable treat for the entire family. Films to be shown include "The Little Red Hen" (11 minutes, in color). It retells the famous fable of a little red hen in a charming combination of art and live action. The technique is unique, but the value of the film lies in the experience it offers. First Prize, III International Festival of Films for Children, Venice, Italy, was won by this film. "Bon Bini Holiday" (27 minutes, color) offers fishing, swimming, skin-diving, shopping, sailing and sun-bathing; if these sound like the basic elements for your ideal vacation, don't miss this film. You will watch an American couple play in the A.B.C. Islands of the Netherlands Antilles (Aruba, Bonaire, Curacao) and see how Dutch charm and modern luxury blend together in a tropical vacation paradise. The third film, "The Frowning Prince" (9 minutes, color) is from the story and pictures by Crockett Johnson. "Once upon a time, in a faraway land . . . there lived a young prince who was convinced that he had an immovable frown." We won't tell what causes the frown to change into a satisfied smile, but this is a most enjoyable film.

Adults, and children accompanied by adults, are cordially invited. Come early for a good seat. There is, of course, no charge.

INJURED IN FALL

Mrs. Martha Smith, 78, of 19719 East Kings court, was conveyed to St. John Hospital by Woods police ambulance on Thursday, December 31, with a possible fractured spine. She was injured when she tripped and fell in the living room of her home.

Police Arrest 'First Offender'

Arthur T. Walker, 20, of 507 Piper, Detroit, did not get very far on Lake Shore road on Thursday, December 31, when he drove past a Shores police car at high speed.

Patrolmen William Marshall and Donald Fronczak, in their report, stated that they were cruising south on Lake Shore, when at number 755, Walker drove past them at an estimated speed of 60 miles an hour. They gave chase, the officers said, and between 707 and 585 Lake Shore, Walker's speed was clocked at 50 miles an hour.

Walker was ordered to the curb, the officers said, and was given a ticket for speeding and driving with only one headlight on his car.

The youth apologized for the violation, telling the policemen that the ticket was the first he had ever received.

Marshall and Fronczak radioed the station for a check on Walker with other police departments, and information was returned from Detroit authorities, asking that Walker be held on warrants for traffic violations totaling $26 in fines.

The youth paid the fines owed to Detroit, leaving the money with Shores police, and paid a fine of $18 to the Shores Violation Bureau, later in the day, rather than contest the matter in court.

Arthur P. Holstein At Cecil Field, Fla.

Personnelman Third Class Arthur P. Holstein, USN, son of Dr. and Mrs. Arthur P. Holstein of 875 Balfour road, is serving with Fighter Squadron 62 based at the Naval Air Station, Cecil Field, Fla.

The squadron, a carrier based unit, flies air to ground support missions for ground troops as well as flying missions in support of the fleet.

Pointers Get MSU Degrees

Fifteen Grosse Pointers were among the 110 students who received degrees at the fall term commencement exercises at Michigan State University on Friday, December 11.

Gail W. Kaess of 1792 Hampton road, Janet L. Reif of 11 Fair Lake lane and Laird B. Steigler of 709 Lakepointe received bachelor of arts degrees in elementary education.

Degrees in social science were awarded to Paul J. Krogh of 81 Vernier road and Diane I. Miller of 404 Cloverly road.

Other bachelor of arts degrees were presented to: Martha Aldenbrand of 2355 Allard, psychology; William A. Beers of 455 Maison, accounting; Michael C. McGill of 879 Sunningdale, economics; Paul J. Paradzinski of 575 Lakeland, forestry; Alison J. Taylor of 688 Rivard boulevard, humanities; J. P. Thistlethwaite of 85 Colonial road, general marketing; Hugh B. Wayne of 2236 Stanhope, management; Loraine Webster of 1421 Buckingham, special education; Susan R. Franz of 423 Chalfonte ave., TV and radio and Michael J.

THEFT REPORTED
Ronald Krencike, 21, of 23345 Westbury, Detroit, informed Woods police that he parked his car in the Woods Theater lot on Thursday, December 31, and when he returned to it, he discovered that someone had forced open the trunk and had stolen the spare tire and wheel.

Introducing New Teachers

Newcomers to the Grosse Pointe Public School System on the professional staff of Maire School were photographed during the early days of the 1964-1965 year. Shown with Principal

The newcomers to the professional staff of The Grosse Pointe Public School System who teach at Maire Elementary School are the topic for the eleventh in our current series of biographies.

Commenting upon the four women, John Hammel, principal of Maire said recently, "The newcomers to the system this year have done an excellent job at Maire. They have made a place for themselves among the others on the staff. I have been pleased with the choices, that were made last spring."

Miss Frances S. Lynch, fourth grade, is a Grosse Pointe resident who was graduated from the Academy of the Sacred Heart. She holds a bachelor's degree from Barat College, where she earned a scholarship. Miss Lynch was a member of the student and class councils, was on the dean's list, and was affiliated with Tau Beta. Her hobbies including skiing, swimming, tennis, reading and travel.

Miss Dolores A. DeVolder, second grade, is a native Detroit and a graduate of Denby High School. She completed her bachelor's degree at Wayne State, and has an MA in process there also.

Before she joined the Maire staff, Miss DeVolder taught in Warren and Detroit. Her professional memberships include the Detroit Education Association, the Michigan Education Association, and the National Education Association.

Her out-of-school interests include reading, music and travel. She enjoyed a trip to Hawaii in the summer of 1963. Mrs. Phyllis A. McMILLAN, first grade, was born in Chicago. She received her diploma from Grosse Pointe High where she was a recipient of a scholarship from the Mothers Club in 1956. She went to Wayne State University, where she was affiliated with Kappa Delta, to complete her bachelor's degree. Mrs. McMILLAN has done graduate work in children's literature, psychology, and anthropology at Columbia University.

Her teaching experiences in kindergarten and first grade ranges from St. Clair Shores to Glen Head, Long Island, New York. Art, music, swimming, literature, opera, antiques, and poetry are among her diversions. The McMILLANs are residents of St. Clair Shores.

Mrs. Virginia M. Johnson, third grade, spent her early life and college days in her native South Dakota.

An experienced teacher, Mrs. Johnson taught early, middle and later elementary classes in South Dakota, and completed additional training at Augustana College in Illinois.

The Johnsons, residents of McKinley Road in Grosse Pointe Farms, are the parents of three children. Charles, Jr. is a fifth grader at Richard. Cynthia is in the seventh grade at Brownell, and Conrad is a ninth grader at Brownell.

2 Persons Hurt In Car Collision

George E. Raymond, 50, of 24238 George street, Mt. Clemens, was blamed for a two-car accident that injured himself and a woman driver in the other vehicle on Thursday, December 24, at Vernier and Helen.

According to a Woods police report, Raymond was driving north on Helen and stopped at Vernier. He pulled out into the intersection and into the path of a car driven by Mrs. Martha Ann Militello, 37, of 22507 Clairwood, St. Clair Shores. Both Raymond and Mrs. Militello were conveyed to St. John Hospital, for treatment of injuries. Raymond received five stitches to close a one and a half inch gash on the side of his head; and the woman was X-rayed on the right arm and shoulder, when she complained of pain. It was not disclosed if any bones were broken.

To Demonstrate Yoga Methods

Skeptical and perhaps a little derisive about this thing called "Yoga?" Go to the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Tuesday night, January 12, when young and attractive Mr. and Mrs. George W. Johnston, Jr., give a free demonstration of Yoga methods as practised in this country by the Self Reliance Foundation.

Mr. Johnston found his lovely bride among his students in his Yoga classes at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial. George, a Yale philosophy graduate, states that their main purpose is to offer a set of mental and physical exercises designed to relieve the tensions of everyday living and develop at the same time a better physical being.

Yoga as the Johnstons present it is neither "far out" nor a mystic Eastern religion. It is a practical course of therapy for modern "hecticity."

Woods Council Holds Meeting

At its regular meeting, Monday, January 4, the Woods City Council directed the city attorney and city engineers to initiate action on the necessary estimate of costs, maps of assessment districts, plans and specifications for paving the alley at the northwest corner of Brys and Mack avenue.

The Council then approved a $65 assessment by the Michigan Municipal League for the city to participate in defraying costs of the 41st American Municipal Congress, to be held in Detroit July 24 through 28. It also approved the city treasurer's report in the investment of city funds.

In other action, the Council sent to the committee of the whole a letter from the Wayne County Committee for Economic Opportunity which concerned the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964. A motion for compensation for members of the Board of Review was referred to the city attorney for ruling on its wording.

In addition the financial report for November 1964 was approved and placed on file.

Noted Lecturer To Speak Here

By Sister Marie Jude, O.P.

Sister Ann Joachim, O.P., legal counsel of the Adrian Dominican Sisters, will give a lecture at St. Paul High School on Monday, January 11, at 2 p.m. After the lecture, Sister plans to speak to the students at Dominican High School.

Though Sister Ann Joachim would be well qualified to discuss the legal profession, (she practiced law as a member of the law firm of Ruby and Joachim for five years before entering the Adrian community), she will waive this topic in order to discuss her last summer's visit to the Soviet Union.

Sister Ann Joachim and her companion, Sister Marie Emmanuel, are believed to be the first Sisters to wear the habit in the Soviet Union since the 1917 revolution. The two Sisters explored other countries during their European visit, but the most interesting occurrences happened inside the USSR.

Along with showing slides of her visit, Sister will tell of some of these happenings, of which the following accounts are examples:

Everywhere they went, Sister related, the people followed them pointing to the long rosaries they wore, or if unobserved, making the Sign of the Cross to show their continuing faith in the Christian religion. Others pointed to the medals they wore around their necks.

The Sisters had some difficulty in attending mass. When they inquired where a church would be open, they were directed to St. Louis' Church. "When we arrived," Sister said, "we found a neat blue fence around the church and the gate locked with a big chain and padlock. Later we learned that the French church had been closed by Khrushchev after De Gaulle recognized Red China." They finally found mass being offered in the quarters of an American priest who served the Catholic nationals.

The long line of silent people waiting to visit Lenin's tomb in Red Square left a deep impression on the Sisters. The line formed every day except Monday when the tomb was closed.

The Sisters noted how important women were in the economy of the Soviet Union since so many men were killed in World War II. This accounted for the large number of women doctors and lawyers. Even masons and street sweepers were women.

The high point of the tour came when the Sisters were allowed to enter Soviet court.

A divorce case was being tried with a judge and two worker representatives composing the court. The workers were selected by their worker group and served without pay.

Sister said, "I asked the judge, who was about 25 years old, why witnesses were not sworn. He replied 'There is no need for swear by?'" witnesses to be sworn since all Russians are honest." Sister concluded: "It was a foolish question. Since these people are all atheists, who could they swear by?"

Libel Slander Suit Dismissed

Donald Lobsinger's $100,000 libel-slander suit against a Grosse Pointe, Mrs. Dolores Braun of 927 Lakepointe was dismissed last week by Circuit Judge Thomas E. Brennan.

Lobsinger, an anti-communist leader and member of the Catholic Laymen's League charged that Mrs. Braun had slandered him in a letter written last June 4. Mrs. Braun is head of the Archbishop's Committee on Human Relations.

She allegedly wrote: "Lobsinger and his cohorts have been trying to break up our educational programs for about two years and I have seen and heard him many times."

"His anti-Communist sentiments rapidly deteriorate into anti-Semitic and anti-Negro remarks even though he frequently protests his lack of prejudice."

In dismissing the trial Judge Brennan said that there is no law which makes anti-Semitism or anti-Negroism a crime.

Shores Judge Hears 2 Cases

Presiding at his first session in Shores court since he took his oath of office, Shores Judge George Beauchamp, on Wednesday, December 30, found a traffic offender guilty, and an accused motorist, not guilty, when their cases were heard by him.

Michael D. Harrison of 2209 Manistique, Detroit, was found guilty of speeding 55 miles an hour on Lake Shore road, was fined $15, and ordered to pay court costs of $10.

William Ross of 21630 Masonic boulevard, St. Clair Shores, accused of speeding 45 miles an hour on Lake Shore, was found not guilty and the charge against him was dismissed.

Best Wishes, and Thanks

Now molders the Old Year in the common grave of History. The Bright New Year, as we proclaim with perennial optimism, has taken over, and 1965 stretches before us, conjuring up events which will only be revealed as time marches on. In this particular section and many others throughout the world, that term "bright new year" is pretty much a snare and delusion when considered from the weather standpoint. This is the dismal hiatus between Autumn's glorious demise and the coming of another spring.

The joys of the holidays help us overlook the caprices of Mother Nature for a brief spell, but now we face the dreary prospect of long weeks and months of slush, snow, fog, chilly dampness and searing cold. It is time to envy those who flee in pursuit of sun and sand and lush vegetation and gentle breezes over tropical waters. It is time to feel most dreadfully sorry for ourselves.

But when the depths of depression seem bottomless, it might help a bit to start counting our blessings. We have had tornadoes strike uncomfortably close, but we can't recall any record of one ever having hit the Pointe. We don't have hurricanes and we have never been snowbound. Floods are unknown, excepting in basements, and they are rapidly becoming extinct with the drain sewer systems being brought up to date to handle the expanding population. We don't have mudslides washing our homes off the hillsides, as too frequently occurs in the much-heralded paradise of California. We seldom experience excessive heat or unbearable cold for more than very brief spells. We have never been shaken by earthquakes, nor swept by brush fires, nor pelted by hail as big as baseballs. In short, we have many reasons to feel fairly smug about our geographical location and absence of climatic crises.

It has been a good year for most. For those touched by tragedy and tribulations, we offer sympathy; to all who have helped make the last 12 months easier and brighter for us, our thanks are offered. May 1965 bring all good things to all of you. May peace and freedom remain our proudest possessions.

To Offer Play For Children

A special program for children will highlight the Grosse Pointe Theatre program Monday evening. The musical, which is part of the new year on Monday, January 11 in Fries Auditorium, is entitled, "The Queen of Hearts." Scheduled to begin promptly at 8 o'clock, the meeting is open, as always, to guests and the public. There is no admission charge. Opening the meeting will be the premier performance of an original musical comedy, written, directed and choreographed by visiting New Yorker, Marion Hunter. Miss Hunter and her husband, Bob Rue, come to Grosse Pointe with impressive backgrounds of professional experience in summer stock, Broadway, and supper clubs.

Miss Hunter has appeared on Broadway in "Bells Are Ringing," "Music Man," "Camelot" and in road companies of "Li'l Abner" and "Camelot." Mr. Rue's professional credits include Broadway productions of "Camelot" (in which he understudied Robert Goulet in the role of Lancelot), "Milk and Honey," "Juno," "Candide," "Tyne Antheirs," "HMS Pinafore." He appeared off-Broadway in "The Fantastics" and in the road company of "Camelot," including 18 performances in the role of Lancelot at Detroit's Fisher Theatre. Mr. Rue will be a member of the cast of the Grosse Pointe Theatre program Monday evening.

Pointers Named To UCS Posts

Library Film Forum January 15

The third program of the Friends Film Forum series, co-sponsored by the Friends of the Grosse Pointe Public Library and the Grosse Pointe Public Library, for adults, will be shown January 15, at 9:15 p.m. in the Main Reading Room of the Central Library, 10 Kercheval.

"An American in Paris" (color, 113 minutes) stars Gene Kelly, Leslie Caron, Oscar Levant, and was directed by Vincente Minnelli, with music by George Gershwin. In the film Gene Kelly plays an ex-G.I. who stays in Paris after the war to pursue a career as an artist. The score includes some of George and Ira Gershwin's best songs and a twenty-minute ballet staged by Gene Kelly to Gershwin's "An American in Paris" suite, which is notable also for its dramatic use of color. One of the very few musicals ever to win an Academy Award for "Best Motion Picture of the Year," this film is well worth seeing.

You are cordially invited to attend this showing. There is, of course, no charge.

What Goes On at Your Library

By Virginia Leonard

Guest Columnist: Robert M. Orr, Director of Public Libraries

It is always my pleasure and privilege to write our special New Year's column.

Nineteen hundred sixty-four was a good year for the Public Library in most every respect. As we prepare to meet another new year, it seems worthwhile to look back over the past 12 months.

The Grosse Pointe Public Library faces an opportunity and a challenge that is almost unique, serving a community which has been termed by experts as the most ideal library-use community in America; receiving solid support from the Grosse Pointe Public School System, as one of its divisions; having a Friends of the Library group which is looked upon as one of the finest, and among the biggest, such organizations in the entire country; physical facilities in the three Public Libraries which are equal to those of any comparable community, and an excellent book collection exceeding 115,000 as well as a well-trained, dedicated staff.

As director, it is my responsibility to see to it that every effort is made to translate these blessings into a high quality of library service. I am confident that our staff is working very hard to reach this ideal.

Statistics cannot be used to measure the quality of library use. It is impossible to over-estimate the profound influence a single book may have, and this is never lost sight of by the professional staff who work with our library patrons.

Briefly, the past year again saw all library use records broken, for the eleventh straight year. Five hundred twenty-nine thousand library materials were circulated, of which 521,487 were books, 2,579 records, 1,699 films, 2,241 tools, 506 framed art prints, and 488 tapes. Of this number, it is indeed noteworthy that 40 per cent of this circulation was to adults, 40 per cent to children and only 20 per cent to high school students, whose use of the library is primarily of reference materials.

As of December 1, there were 28,300 registered users, an increase of 700 over a year ago. This constitutes 40 per cent of all residents, an unusually high figure.

The most important contribution of the professional staff is in reference and readers' advisory use by patrons. Fifty-eight thousand such questions were handled this past year, including 10,000 telephone calls for information. Extremely strong professional staff members have been added, including a full-time Audio-Visual Counselor who has already accomplished a great deal in this important field.

Excellent community use continues to be made of the meeting room facilities at the Central Library. More than 75 organizations met regularly at the Library, and 621 meetings were held during the past year, attended by more than 11,000 residents.

As a suburban Public Library, it is impracticable to build a huge research collection. However, every effort is made to obtain books not available in the local collection from other libraries. One hundred and sixty such books were obtained during the past year. And, as a special service to our users, 4,200 books were reserved.

The above indicates to some extent the use being made of the three Public Libraries, and of the kinds of service given. No effort has been made to list the weekly summer film programs for children, the special holiday children's programs, etc., which constitute additional services of the Public Library.

In closing, I am deeply grateful for all that Grosse Pointers have done to enable the Public Library to maintain fine library service. A very special note of thanks to the Board of Education, our official board; to the Friends Board of Directors, our Advisory Board, and the 1,280 members; to Dr. Charles H. Wilson, Superintendent of Schools, and to J. Harold Husband, Assistant Superintendent; to Robert B. Edgar, Editor and General Manager of the Grosse Pointe News; and to the many residents whose interest and support of the Public Library has meant so much. Here's wishing for all of you a New Year full of happiness and progress.

STEALS HUBCAPS

Jon E. Missant, 19, of 1216 Yorkshire, told Woods police that he had parked his automobile in the Woods Theater lot on Wednesday, December 30, and when he returned to it, he discovered that someone had stolen three of the hubcaps. He did not give the value of the loss.

WOMEN'S PAGES

From Another Pointe of View

By Janet Mueller

Organizing a truly SURPRISE party is a task beyond the capabilities of most mortals—but Bill Springett managed the feat recently.

Guest of honor Janet Old was very surprised, and very delighted, to find all her friends gathered in her home.

The daughter of the Forrest R. Olds, of Yorkshire road, is leaving the Pointe.

She will be working in a library in Washington, D.C., living in Georgetown with a former Dennison University classmate.

No Time To Kest

Most of us plan to kick off our shoes and watch a lot of television this week (the Holidays are fun, but oh! what a relief to have them over).

Not Mrs. Donald R. McPhail, Mrs. Julius Huebner and Mrs. R. Cabell Morris, however . . . this trio has an imminent assignment.

The ladies will attend the Junior League Regional Meeting January 13 through 15 in Cleveland, O.

Mrs. McPhail will serve as first delegate from the Junior League of Detroit, Inc., Mrs. Huebner as second delegate and Mrs. Morris as observer.

A Musical Event

Pro Musica's three concerts are annual Events in Detroit's musical world, and the January 19 program promises to be especially exciting.

Appearing at the Lecture Hall of the Institute of Arts will be the brilliant Brazilian choir "Coro do Brasil," 24 voices from the city of Belo Horizonte conducted by Isaac Karabchevsky.

They will present selections from Renaissance and Modern masters, songs from Brazil and a collection of American Negro spirituals.

Sure to enjoy this varied and excellent program is Mrs. Frank W. Coolidge, of McKinley avenue, Detroit's "First Lady of Music."

Wherever there is beautiful music, there is Mrs. (Continued on Page 14)

Short and to The Pointe

MR. and MRS. J. DUKE LITTLEFIELD (MOLLY MARSHALL) and son, BOBBY, of Farmington, Conn., visited Mrs. LITTLEFIELD's parents, MR. and MRS. JOHN MARSHALL of Vendome road during the holidays. Mr. and Mrs. Littlefield were honored at an open house Sunday, December 27, which was attended by their many Grosse Pointe friends.

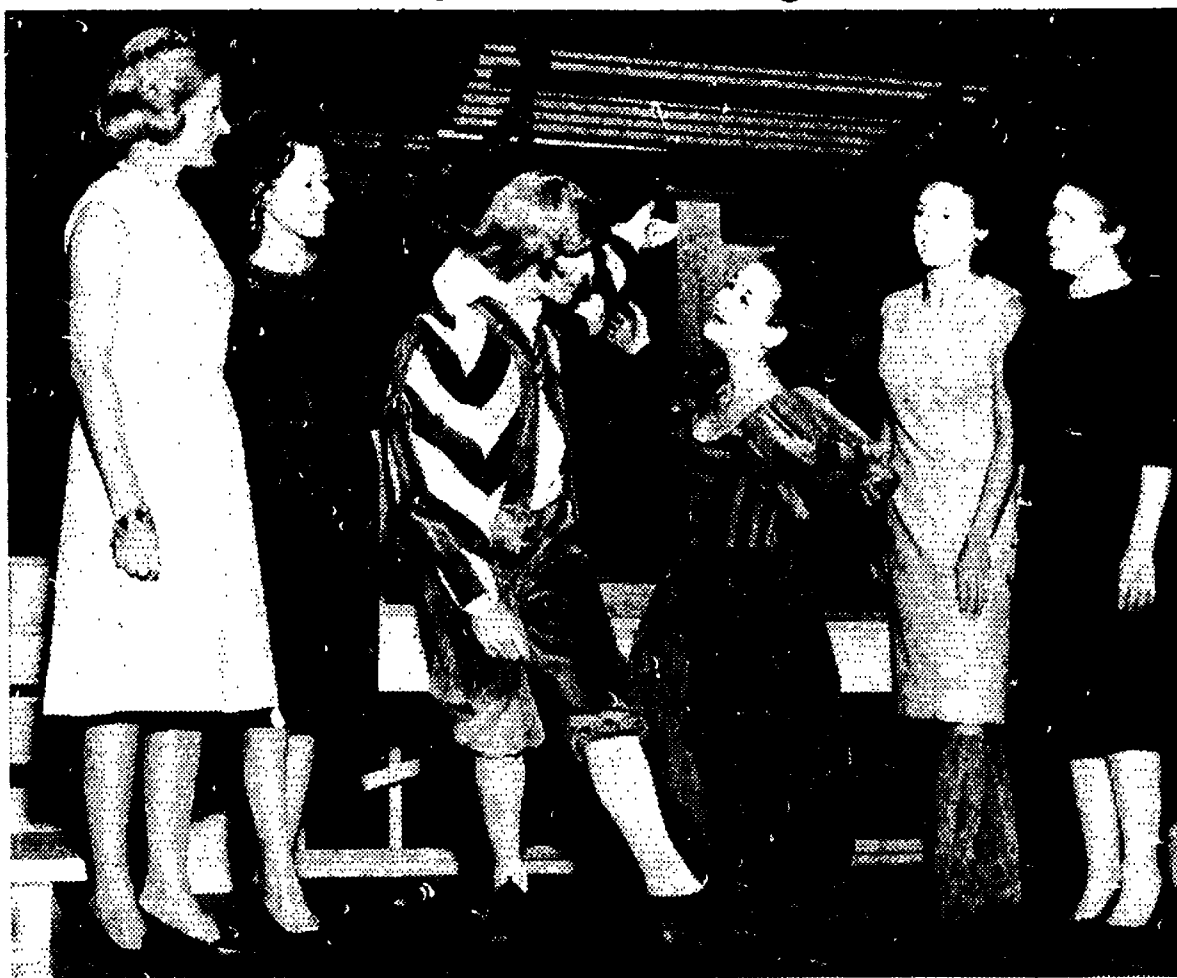

DON KOSY, son of MR. and MRS. WALTER R. KOSY of Peachtree lane, was a guest of his California Theta Delta Chi brothers for the Rose Bowl game in Pasadena, Calif. While in California, he visited Disneyland and went surf boarding in the Pacific. Don is a sophomore at the University of Michigan and was a National Merit Scholar in the Grosse Pointe High School class of 1963.

MRS. D. VALLEY STUTT and two children, JAMIE and MARJI, of Doyle court will leave next Sunday, January 10, for a few days at Otsego. They will be accompanied by Mrs. STUTT's parents, MR. and MRS. DONALD F. VALLEY of the Detroit Towers.

MR. and MRS. OSCAR OLSON, of Renaud road, entertained at a supper party during the holidays.

Hosting a brunch during the holidays were the JOHN L. KITCHENS, of Hunt Club drive, who entertained their golfing friends at a Sunday gathering. Among those attending the festivities were MR. and MRS. DONALD COATS, MR. and MRS. JACK CHOWN, MR. and

'The Play's The Thing . . .

Admiring some of the costumes to be seen during the five productions scheduled for the Wayne State University Classic Theater's second season, opening Wednesday, January 6, are (left to right) MRS. THOMAS MORROW, of Vendome road, MRS. HAROLD O. LOVE, of Lochmoor boulevard, MRS. JOHN W. ANDERSON, II, of East Jefferson avenue, and MRS. OLIVER DEWEY MARCKS, of Three Mile drive. Actors are MARJORIE JEAN LERSTROM and JOHN CRINER. The four local ladies are members of a committee known as "The Understudies," which raises funds for the theater. Donors were guests at a President's Preview performance of Shakespeare's "Macbeth" at 8:30 o'clock last Tuesday.

MRS. FRANK BUTCHER and MR. and MRS. LEONARD WRIGHT.

MR. and MRS. F. JOHN KEOGH, JR. (Ruth Duffield), of Dean lane, announce the birth of a daughter, ELIZABETH BROOKS, December 18.

MR. and MRS. FREDRIC JOSEPH SCHULTE, of Roseville, announce the birth of a son, MICHAEL FREDRIC, December 23. Mrs. Schulte is the former ELIZABETH GRUBER, daughter of MR. and MRS. Schedule Installation At Memorial Church

Reverend David Eberhard to Speak at Tuesday Women's Association Meeting; Elizabeth Ketchum Group has New Officers.

Members of the Women's Association of the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church will have an activity-filled session next Tuesday, January 12.

First of all, there will be a business meeting in the Lounge at 10:30 o'clock.

Next, the women will congregate in Barbour Chapel for a communion service and installation of officers, with the Reverend Betram deH. Atwood officiating and the Reverend David Eberhard giving the meditation on Stewardship.

Luncheon will be served at 12:15 o'clock, following the communion service. During lunch, Mr. Eberhard will discuss informally his work with the Inner City Community Clinic, answering any questions the women may have.

Reverend Eberhard has been pastor of Riverside Lutheran Church on the lower East Side of Detroit since 1959. This dynamic inner-city parish has pioneered special programs such as the Inner City Community Clinic, the Lutheran Peace Corps, the Youth Drop-in Center, the Peace Corps Welfare Center and the Riverside Summer Program.

Publicity concerning these projects has appeared in national magazines as well as local publications.

Reverend Eberhard has been lauded for his active leadership in community life, and in 1964 was a recipient of the Liberty Bell Award from the Detroit Bar Association.

He presently serves on a number of boards and committees, including the Detroit Lutheran Urban Study Committee, the East Side Ministerial Association, the Detroit Youth Commission and the Riverside Academy.

Luncheon reservations for Tuesday's program may be made by contacting the Church office, TUxedo 5-3773, by noon Friday, January 8.

Nursery care will be provided. Call Mrs. Richard T. Heglin, Valley 1-9139, for reservations.

The Elizabeth Ketchum Group of the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church will start 1965 with new officers.

Mrs. James S. Owens is to serve as chairman, with Mrs. Charles Kelly as co-chairman. Mrs. Walter Hoesch will act as secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Floyd Seest as assistant secretary-treasurer.

Standing committee chairmen will be Mrs. Arthur Seeberger, greeting cards, and Mrs. Samuel Shenefield, publicity.

The first meeting of the new year is scheduled tomorrow, Friday, January 8, at the McMillan road home of Mrs. John D. Eichelberger. Devotions will be given by Mrs. Charles Kelly.

Bratton-Conrad Rites Revealed

Andrew Paul Bratton, son of Dr. and Mrs. Andrew C. Bratton, of Ann Arbor, Mich., formerly of Kensington road, claimed Mary Elizabeth Conrad as his bride January 2.

Reverend John J. Gerrity officiated at the 12 o'clock ceremony in the Church of St. Martin of Tours, Maple Heights, O. The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Conrad, of Cleveland Heights, O., chose a gown of pure silk, white alpaca, styled with a fitted bodice, V-neckline and long, pointed sleeves edged with imported Brussels lace.

Her veil of imported Brussels lace was worn mantilla-style. She carried an arrangement of Eucharis lilies and Baker fern, and wore her grandmother's cameo pendant.

Mrs. Thomas Baird, Jr., the bridegroom's sister, was matron of honor, in a frock of Princess blue velvet, fashioned with a high neck, long sleeves and belted skirt.

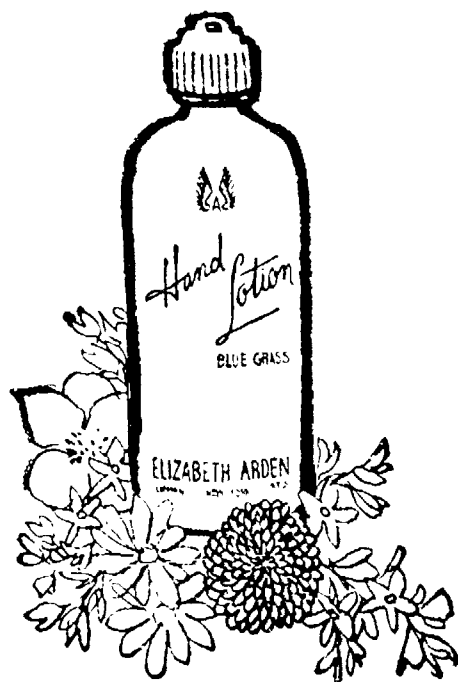

Bridesmaids Cecelia Bratton, the bridegroom's sister, Kathy Riley, of Rocky River, O., the bride's cousin, Linda Castelelano and Margaret Renton wore identically styled gowns of Van Gogh blue velvet.

The attendants' headpieces were Chanel bows. They carried Victorian bouquets of yellow Sweetheart roses.

Gerald Bratton served as his brother's best man. Guests were seated by Thomas Baird, Jr., of St. Louis, Mo., James Finn, of Roseville, Bertron Roffman, of Boston, Mass., and Thomas Kennedy.

The newlywed Brattons are making their home in Ann Arbor.

Miss Glass Marries Robert J. Beausoleil

Reception at Pear Tree Lane Home of Bride's Parents Follows November 27 Rites; Newlyweds to Live in Roseville

In a double ring ceremony at Barbour Chapel Friday evening, November 27, Karen Sue Glass was married to Robert James Beausoleil.

Reverend Bertram de H. Atwood officiated at the rites.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Glass, of Pear Tree Lane. Her husband is the son of the O. J. Beausoleils, of Lakeland Avenue.

For her marriage, the former Miss Glass chose a gown of pale ivory peau de soie, styled with a fitted bodice, long tapered sleeves, and a portrait neckline, edged with re-embroidered Alencon lace.

Lace medallions were applied on her wide belted skirt, which ended in a full train.

Her fingertip veil was fashioned of hand rolled silk illusion, and she carried a Bible.

covered with stephanotis. She wore a floor length sheath of ivory crepe with a moss green velvet bodice. She carried miniature white carnations and ivy.

William Shephard served as the bridegroom's best man. Larry Beausoleil, brother of the bridegroom, and John McGann were ushers.

For her daughter's wedding and the reception, held at her home, Mrs. Glass chose a beige and brown brocade dress. Mrs. Beausoleil wore a pale grey brocade dress, and both mothers chose cymidium orchid corsages.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Beausoleil are at home in Roseville after a northern wedding trip.

John Murphy, Jr. To Claim Bride

Dr. and Mrs. Ernest Macfarlane Hammes, Jr., of Sunfish Lake, Minn., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Judith Macfarlane, to John Moylan Murphy, Jr., son of Mrs. John Moylan Murphy, of Fair Acres drive, and the late Dr. Murphy.

Miss Hammes is a graduate of the Summit School, St. Paul, Minn., and Pine Manor Junior College, Wellesley, Mass. She is attending the University of Minnesota.

Mr. Murphy, a graduate of Austin Catholic Preparatory School, attended Regis College, Denver, Colo. He is presently stationed with the United States Army in Minneapolis, after duty in Korea.

A summer wedding is planned. Mrs. Murphy and her daughter, Ann, flew to St. Paul New Year's Day for the engagement party at the Hammeses.

Karen Russell's Betrothal Told

Mr. and Mrs. William Adams Russell, of Peterborough, N.H., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Karen, to John Emanuel Christiansen, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Emanuel Christiansen, of Keene, N.H.

The bride-elect attended The Liggett School, The Bancroft School, Connecticut College for Women and The Katharine Gimms School in Boston, Mass. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. Thomas J. Milan, of Grosse Pointe, and the late Mr. Milan, and of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Adams Russell, of Boston.

Mr. Christiansen was graduated from Dartmouth College and is presently attending the Thayer School of Engineering at Dartmouth. He is a member of Chi Phi fraternity. He is the grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. Michael Jacob Conan and the late Mr. and Mrs. Richard Christiansen, of Berlin, N.H.

A June 12 wedding is planned.

Even if a fellow gains but an inch he hasn't put his best foot forward in vain.

Mrs. Robert J. Beausoleil

KAREN SUE GLASS, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Glass, of Pear Tree Lane, spoke her wedding vows to Mr. Beausoleil at a November 27 ceremony in Barbour Chapel. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Beausoleil, of Lakeland Avenue.

Briscoe Paloncy Troth Celebrated

At a holiday Open House, Mr. and Mrs. William F. R. Briscoe, of Piche Avenue, introduced friends to their son's fiancée. The bride-elect is Glenda Paloncy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry F. Paloncy, of West Lafayette, Ind.

Miss Paloncy and William F. R. Briscoe, Jr., are planning a June wedding in First Methodist Church, West Lafayette, Ind.

Glenda was graduated from West Lafayette High School, attended Indiana State College in Terre Haute, and will receive her degree in Art Education and Interior Design from Purdue University this month.

Mr. Briscoe, Jr., is a graduate of Grosse Pointe High School. He will receive his degree in Engineering Sciences from Purdue University this June. He is a member of Delta Upsilon social fraternity and Phi Eta Sigma scholastic honorary.

Form Classes in Folk Guitar

A new term of folk guitar classes is beginning at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial. This will be the seventh session of beginning folk guitar to be taught at the Center by Alex Sucek.

Each session had always had a full enrollment and this is expected to be no exception, so advanced paid enrollments are advised. Ten lessons are given for $15.

The 7:30 p.m. class is for beginners, and the 8:30 p.m. class is for those who have studied before.

Alex Sucek is well known as a Troubadour in addition to being a successful editor and advertising man. This Harvard graduate cum laude has worked out a marvelous system of teaching guitar. It involves the class playing and singing as a group so that no one's inhibitions interfere with his progress.

After two terms of guitar, a student will have perfected 20-30 guitar strums. They begin with thumb and index fingers only, practicing what is known in folk guitar jargon as the "Thumb and Scratch" strums.

From here they progress to more complicated picking strums such as the "syncopated broken plucking" strum, and the "blue grass" picking strum. Alex also teaches strums appropriate to Mexican rhythms and calypso.

The smallest tidbit of information will be over-estimated if given confidentially.

Clark Women's Club To Gather Monday

Clark Women's Club will hold its annual dinner on Monday, January 11, at 6:30 o'clock, at Goldcrest Lounge.

Following dinner the guest speaker will show movies and talk on "Fashions in Wine."

A man can have his own way if he's willing to pay the price.

LWW Reveals January Plans

An informal workshop on public welfare and a series of coffee hours for new and prospective members are on the January calendar for the Grosse Pointe League of Women Voters.

An important discussion on the nature of the state's public welfare program will be held during the workshop on Thursday, January 7, from 12:30 to 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Jack Still in Lincoln Road.

Mrs. Still, chairman of the Grosse Pointe League's committee studying public welfare, points out that this is a vital meeting on a vital subject. She urges all members of the League to attend.

She also asks members to review their public welfare workbooks and come prepared with questions and opinions on the subject.

Later in January members will be asked to vote on numerous questions concerning the state's welfare program. The workshop is being held to provide members with background on the issues involved, so they will be in a position to cast informed votes.

All Leagues throughout Michigan will be voting on the state welfare questions this spring. Based on the results of these votes, the Michigan League of Women Voters will adopt a state-wide policy with regard to the type of welfare programs it wishes to support.

Beginning January 12, a series of three informal coffee hours will be held to offer to old, new and prospective members a basic orientation program about the League.

Mrs. Ralph Kimble, membership chairman, explains that members of the board will be on hand to discuss the organization, purpose and activities of the League. In this way, members and prospective members will be better able to find a

Miss Browne Weds Jonathan R. Hartz

Pair to Live in Pointe upon Their Return from New Hampshire; Reception at Lochmoor Club Follows Wednesday Rites

At an evening ceremony in Grosse Pointe Congregational Church December 30, Susan Morris Browne spoke her wedding vows to Jonathan Read Hartz.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William McKinley Browne, of Lewiston road. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Read Hartz, of Cadieux road.

For her marriage, the former Miss Browne chose a gown of crystal white Italian silk, featuring pearl-frosted Alencon lace banding on the decollete and sleeves. A brief Watteau train fell from her Empire waistline.

Her mantilla veil was edged with Alencon lace, and she carried a small stephanotis cluster. Mrs. William S. Foster came from Cleveland, O., to serve as her sister's matron of honor.

After floor length, Empire frock was fashioned of Florentine rose peau de soie.

Bridesmaids, in dresses identical to that of the honor attendant, were Mary Hartz, the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. William M. Browne, Jr., of Green Lake,

Flower Fixing Class Offered

Pointe ladies are invited to brighten the winter months in flower arranging classes at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial. Taught by Mrs. Richard T. Gerathy, accredited teacher, lecturer, and flower show judge, these classes will take place at the Center, 32 Lake Shore, on Friday mornings from 10 o'clock 'till noon beginning January 15. Ten two-hour lessons are offered for $25.

Not only is flower arranging a fascinating hobby and skill, but it enables the homemaker to keep her house bright and attractive at a minimum expense during the months when there are no flowers to be cut in her garden.

Mrs. Gerathy works with many materials far less expensive than cut hothouse flowers and she teaches dry and fruit as well as floral arrangements. Pupils find they can keep their homes attractive and unusual arrangements for a very few dollars a week after taking Mrs. Gerathy's classes.

Early enrollment is advised as the classes are limited.

To Give Party For Single Set

Start the New Year right. Resolve to make a Rapid Recovery from the celebrations of New Year's Eve and meet your friends in the single set at Grosse Pointe's Center Club this Friday evening, January 8, at 9 o'clock. Get off to a good start in 1965 by dancing to the music of Roston Clark's orchestra in the Crystal Ballroom of 32 Lake Shore road.

There will be pep-up refreshments to revive the holiday spirits and lots of new friends to meet. A schedule of outside activities will be announced too—whatever you want whether it's a theater party, skating, bowling, cocktails or bridge. So throw out the aspirin and seltzer bottles and have a good time and good fun with good friends.

It's informal. Dates aren't necessary. $1.75 covers dance and refreshments.

POINTLESS Many a good thought has been wasted because too many words were used in expressing it.

From Another Pointe of View

Coolidge... she was among the founders of Pro Musica, which for years has brought the finest musical talent to the Motor City.

She can recall all of the Big Names who appeared here under Pro Musica auspices. She remembers when Pro Musica proudly announced a concert by Ravel.

Ossip Salomonowitch Gabrilowitsch, then conductor of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, bristled as he heard Ravel's name.

"Oh, that upstart!" Gabrilowitsch said scathingly. "Are you going to have HIM here?"

Sunny Holidays

Some Pointers love the ski slopes, the clear, bracing air of the North... but other Pointers are unabashed sun worshippers.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Schaible, of Bishop road, belong in the latter category.

The Schaibles and their son, John, Jr., enjoyed a Caribbean cruise this Christmas season.

Ports of call during their sunny holiday included Curacao, Caracas, Kingston, Port au Prince, San Juan, Port Everglades and Cristobal.

Experiences Abroad

A VERY stimulating afternoon is in store for members of the Grosse Pointe Farm and Garden Club.

The ladies will gather Monday at the East Jefferson avenue home of Mrs. Frank W. Donovan to hear Richard Ross and Hazel McCuaig discuss International Farm Youth Exchange Experiences in Poland and Israel.

Ann Garrison is to moderate the session. Assisting Mrs. Donovan as hostesses will be Miss Marie Louise Anderson and Mrs. A. Boynton Hartz.

To Say Goodbye

Franny, Jimmy and Katy Farley will be leaving their grandparents' house in Provencal road soon.

The children's mother, Mrs. James Duncan Farley, arrives in the next week or so to take her offspring to their new home in Greenwich, Conn.

Since July, Mr. and Mrs. Emmet E. Tracy have entertained the youngsters while their parents, the Farleys, coped with the exigencies of moving lock, stock and barrel from Buenos Aires, Argentina, to Connecticut.

The Farleys are living in a club until their Greenwich house is ready (Praise be!... Everything is ALMOST finished now).

Mr. and Mrs. Farley were in The Pointe during the holidays, spending Christmas with their children and Mrs. Farley's parents.

Looking Ahead

Mr. and Mrs. Victor J. Voorheises, II, have returned to Colorado, after celebrating Christmas with Mrs. Voorheises' parents, the Paul Marcos, of Oxford road, New Year's with Mr. Voorheises' family in Kenilworth, Ill.

Skiing is good in the Rockies, we understand... but the young Voorheises have already made tentative plans to escape the snows at Easter.

Mr. and Mrs. Marco leave for their winter home in Lauderdale, Fla., this month and, as things stand now, the Voorheises will join them for a spring vacation.

Center to Open Club for Teens

Club Seventeen which will undoubtedly get another name very shortly will open its doors to the Senior High School population of Grosse Pointe Saturday night, January 9 at 8:30 p.m.

The War Memorial Center building will be divided up like a well known adult club further down East Jefferson. There will be a lounge where over drinks and snacks patrons can listen to folk guitarists, drummers, or jazz pianists. There will be a casino where with the money of the house one can try one's skill at a variety of games, and there will be a combo and record roost where the latest discs will be spun for dancing and where popular teen combos will spell each other.

Seventy-five cents will give any Pointe student, 10th through 12th grades, a key to the club opening night. The full schedule of club nights will be announced at the opening.

Any talented teens who want to audition for entertainment spots in the club should contact the Center's office.

PARK PATROLMAN and MRS. BOBBY McALISTER (Virginia Benoit), of Beaconsfield avenue, Detroit, announce the birth of a daughter, CATHERINE ANN, December 18.

To Say Vows

The engagement of JOANN BERTHA KRANICH to Patrick Dennis Moran was announced at a family Christmas dinner.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kranich, of Aline drive. She was graduated from Grosse Pointe High School in 1959, and from Detroit Bible College, with a degree in Bible and Music, in 1964. She is presently working as a secretary at Kalamazoo College and receiving training with the Navigators, a Christian Service organization.

Her fiancé was graduated from Pershing High School in 1957 and served with the United States Navy from 1957 to 1960, as an aviation electronics technician. He has received training with the Navigators in practical lay Christian work at Colorado Springs, and is presently a junior in the Liberal Arts College at Wayne State University. He is the son of Rev. and Mrs. Harold Moran, of Royal Oak.

Tisdale-Clarke Troth Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin D. Clarke, of Williamsville, N.Y., formerly of Grosse Pointe, announced the engagement of their daughter, Pamela Newcombe Clarke, to F. Barry Tisdale, at a family luncheon Sunday, in the East Jefferson avenue home of the bride-elect's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. D. Fraser Sullivan.

Pamela is also the granddaughter of Mrs. Harry C. Clarke, of Beaupre road. She is a student nurse at the Butterworth Hospital in Grand Rapids, Michigan, formerly attended Stephens College, Columbia, Mo., and is a member of Sigma Gamma Association.

Mr. Tisdale, son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Tisdale, of Rivard boulevard is completing his senior year at Michigan State University, East Lansing. He will be graduated in March.

The bride-elect and her fiancé are both graduates of Grosse Pointe High School.

Questors Meet On January 14

The Pear Tree Chapter of the Questors will have the January 14 meeting in the Kenwood court home of Mrs. J. H. Hill. Mrs. Frederick Slocum will be assistant hostess.

Mrs. Burke Arehart will present a talk on old paste jewels and their relationship to modern costume jewelry. According to latest Paris news, antique jewelry is "in", so members are urged to wear heirloom pieces.

Mr. Arehart will also discuss the long history of the craft, the social implications of its importance as an industry in the Victorian era, and will show some examples at its best and at its worst.

Follis-Murphy Rites Celebrated Dec. 26

Newlyweds Travel to Florida; Will Live in Hampton Road; Reception at Grosse Pointe Yacht Club Follows Evening Ceremony

Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church was the setting for the December 26 marriage of Patricia Murphy and Daniel Scobie Follis.

Reverend Andrew Rauth officiated at the evening ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. LaVora Hoker, of Hawthorne road. Her husband is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Wesley Follis, of Bishop road.

For her marriage, the bride chose an ivory satin sheath, styled with long sleeves and a scoop neckline. Seed pearl embroidery defined her waist and scalloped hemline.

Her headpiece was a crown of ivory silk, accented with crystals and pearls. Her flowers were a cascade of white roses, a white orchid and ivy.

Florence Clark was maid of honor, and bridesmaid was Paula DeClerk. They wore shocking pink floor length sheaths, with matching veiled bow headpieces, and carried cascades of pink roses and ivy.

Dr. Thomas Follis served as his brother's best man. Ushering were Jon Jay Hoker, Donald Eugenio, Lawrence Harding, of Nashville, Tenn., Thomas Ireland, of Lansing, Mich., and Jay Hooker.

A reception at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club followed the ceremony. Mrs. Hoker wore a floor length sheath of aqua chiffon with a crystal and pearl-encrusted bodice.

Mrs. Follis chose a Grecian style cocoa sheath. Both mothers pinned corsages to their handbags.

For traveling to Florida, the bride donned a black and white herringbone suit with black accessories. The newlyweds will make their home in Hampton road.

University Night Festival At DYC

The Detroit Yacht Club showed the "University Spirit," right down to a pair of goal posts set up in the ballroom, for the University Night party last Saturday, Dec. 26, college youths from clubs throughout the area were invited to the festivities.

A night club arrangement in the East Lounge featured a cove and snack bar. Pennants, pom-poms and gay Christmas decorations were scattered throughout the club.

Music was provided by "The Thirty Strings," a hootenanny group from Northern Michigan University, and a singing group, "The Discords," from the University of Detroit.

Several college couples gathered for dinner in the grill and dining rooms before the dance began, including students from Ivy League Schools, the University of Michigan, Western Michigan University, University of Detroit, Wayne State University and others.

Tracey Gardner, III, from Wayne, Gerri Gardner, from Michigan State, and Paul and Eric Erikson, from Northern Michigan, were among those present.

To Be Wed

— Photo by Eddie McGrath, Jr. During the Christmas holidays, Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Meinke, of Fair Acres drive, announce the engagement of their daughter, MARGARET ELAINE, to Alfred E. Blosssey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Helmut Blosssey, of Pear Tree lane.

Miss Meinke is a graduate of Lutheran High East. Mr. Blosssey was graduated from Grosse Pointe High School. The bride-elect and her fiancé are both seniors at Valparaiso University, Valparaiso, Ind. An August wedding is being planned.

Will Marry

— Photo by Aakar-Shain. Mr. and Mrs. Charles N. Hoyt, of Woods lane, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, JULIA CLARE, to Douglas John Read.

Miss Hoyt is presently studying nursing at Mercy College, Detroit. Mr. Read, son of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Read, of Franklin, Mich., is a graduate of the University of Detroit and attended the University of Michigan, where he affiliated with Sigma Nu fraternity. An August 28 wedding is planned.

June Bride

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Scanlan, of Merriweather road, have announced the engagement of their daughter, JO ANNE, to John C. Hoye, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford W. Hoye, of Merriweather road. Miss Scanlan was graduated from St. Paul's High School and Marquette University, Milwaukee, Wis. She is presently a Speech Therapist in Madison Heights, Mich.

Mr. Hoye, a graduate of Grosse Pointe High School and the University of Detroit, is currently working toward his Master of Arts degree at the University of Wisconsin. A June 26 wedding is planned.

Paul Boesen, Jr. To Claim Bride

Mr. and Mrs. Paul K. Hogan, of Ann Arbor, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Pamela Kay, to Paul Boesen, Jr., son of the senior Paul Boesens, of Hawthorne road.

The announcement was made at a holiday party given by the bride-elect's parents.

Miss Hogan and her fiancé attended the University of Michigan. She is a junior in the School of Education and Mr. Boesen will be graduated from the School of Business Administration in May. He is affiliated with Sigma Alpha Epsilon. A late summer wedding is planned.

Hartmann Allor Betrothal Told

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Allor, of St. Clair Shores, formerly of The Pointe, announced the engagement of their daughter, Kathleen, to Robert Hartmann, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hartmann, of St. Clair Shores, at a New Year's cocktail party.

Kathleen attended St. Paul's School and is a graduate of Sybil School of Cosmetology. Mr. Hartmann attends Ford Community College.

Mrs. Lawrence Allor, of Mapleton road, is the bride-elect's paternal grandmother.

who, where and whatnot

by whoozit

That's one more Holiday Season behind us . . . and wasn't it fun?—even though there were times we thought we'd never make it 'til January! But make it we did; and before we finally, firmly close the door on Christmas Week '64, there are three true tales we'd like to tell our readers . . .

A lady we know . . . made a habit of sending special sausages to all her friends as Christmas gifts. She sent away for the sausages, enclosing a check and her Christmas list of names and addresses, with instructions that the packages be mailed directly to her friends. A few years ago, the farm from which she purchased her sausages moved, the lady misplaced its new address . . . and her acquaintances suffered through several sad, sausage-less Christmases—until this year, when she "discovered" her sausages again! Triumphant, she placed her seasonal order, carefully writing all her friends' names and addresses on special tags provided by the sausage-making establishment. Carefully, she tore off the "Retain This Stub" portion of the tags, where her own name and address was plainly printed. Happily, she mailed the orders. A week or so before Christmas, the sausages began to arrive—at her house! Yes, she HAD mailed the wrong portion of the tags . . . and instead of hanging greens about her house, she spent the days before Christmas '64 re-addressing and re-mailing sausages all over the United States . . .

Another lady we know . . . has a cat, who took one look at her Christmas tree, shining, decorated and INSIDE the house, climbed on top and wouldn't (or couldn't) get down. The lady managed to rescue the cat, left the room for a minute, came hurrying back at the sound of a frightened "Meow," and found the cat on top of the tree again. The situation went on for several days, the cat would not stay away from the tree . . . until finally, in desperation, the cat's mistress tied a big red bow around kitty's neck—which resulted in the cat becoming so embarrassed by his own beauty, he hid upstairs all through the holidays! . . .

And still another lady we know . . . made a telephone call the Monday after Christmas, got the very young daughter of the house on the other end of the line, asked to speak to her mother, and while she was waiting, began to question the child about her Christmas. "Was Santa Claus good to you?" she asked. "Did you get many toys?" The child replied "Yes" to both questions before mother arrived, took the 'phone, and asked in a stage-whisper before speaking directly into the receiver, "Who it is?" "It's Mrs. Santa Claus" the little girl answered . . .

What's the latest Pointe indoor sport? . . . Why, "Goldfinger-watching," of course! The new James Bond adventure, currently enjoying a SRO run at a local theater, has drawn some Pointers, the upper high school and home-for-the-holidays college crowd especially, back for their third and fourth visits. Among aficionados of Agent 007 spotted in a recent audience were Charles Toepel, Dena Wright, Miles McKee and Robert Taugner.

Bright as a new penny in his Christmas red sports jacket . . . is young Douglas DuPerow, of St. Clair avenue. His big brother, Don, goes in for more conventional attire, likes a tie clip with a small gold bullet (guns are his hobby, and he is an excellent marksman) . . .

Periods of tranquility are seldom prolific of creative achievement. Mankind has to be stirred up.

—Alfred North Whitehead

The late Charles W. Eliot of Harvard once said that the most unusual letter he ever received came from a certain women's club. The letter read:

"Dear Sir: Our committee, having heard that you are the country's greatest thinker, would be greatly obliged if you would send us your six greatest thoughts."

—Coronet

Wear your learning like your watch, in a private pocket; and do not pull it out and strike it, merely to show that you have one.

—Chesterfield

A small boy watched as his older brother jumped from a car, dashed around to the other side and opened the door for his girl friend.

The youngest turned to a small companion. "Tom always has to do that," he explained sadly. "She's pretty, but she's not very strong."

I no longer regard solemnity as a means of attaining truth; observation of life shows one that solemn people are generally humbugs.

Bertrand Russell

FRED DUEMLING, GROSSE POINTE SHORES POLICE AND FIRE CHIEF

By Janet Mueller

Fred Duemling will round out 40 years of service with The Shores' Police and Fire Department May 21, 1965. On that day, he will officially retire. Old-time residents are convinced The Shores will never be the same.

Chief Duemling began his career with The Shores' law enforcement and fire control force May 21, 1925, as a motorcycle officer. He has remained with the village ever since, rising through the ranks in the Department, raising his family in the community.

He was promoted to lieutenant in the Police Department and Assistant Fire Chief in the Fire Department (the Departments are integrated in The Shores) in 1936.

He built his house in Vernier road, just up the street from Department headquarters at the corner of Vernier and Lakeshore, opposite The Shores Park and the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club, in 1939.

Four Children

He and his wife, Louise, raised four children, two girls and two boys, in the Vernier road home. Only Robert, their youngest son, still resides with his parents—but nine grandchildren have been added to the Duemling family tree.

Fred Duemling was appointed Chief of the combined Department in 1952, succeeding Orville Ingalsbe. With 40 years' experience in The Shores, Chief Duemling knows the village thoroughly, regards it with a tolerant, warm affection.

"When I first started with the Department in 1925, recruits were given a simple examination by a doctor who put a stethoscope to their chests, checked their age and asked if they were physically fit.

"If they said yes they were hired, sworn in, given a gun and badge and taught to ride a motorcycle.

Department shifts were 10 hours long, seven days a week (every eighth day was a "holiday").

Between 750 and 800 people lived in The Shores—some 2,800 make their homes there today—and Lakeshore road was a narrow, two-lane thoroughfare, serviced by the DSR Inter-urban trolley which ran all the way to Mt. Clemens.

Mostly Large Estates

There were only four or five residential streets in the village. The bulk of the property was divided into large estates, fronting on Lake St. Clair and extending to Mack avenue.

There were five men on The Shores' Police-Fire staff when Fred Duemling joined in 1925. The Departments were integrated as they are now; Chief Duemling remembers the old fire truck, a 1912 Model T Ford pickup with a chemical tank, a few hundred feet of hose—and no pump!

Single men lived over the fire hall, sliding down a pole into the garage to answer an alarm. During Fred Duemling's first years on the force, the village Fire Department serviced Grosse Pointe Woods as well as The Shores. It was the prohibition era, and the Chief recalls: "Our greatest fire problems were stills blowing up in old buildings in The Woods."

One of the largest fires Chief Duemling remembers occurred in 1925, when the old Country Club burned down. He rates a fire in the Embassy Club, a gambling establishment in Vernier road, as "big," and recalls several large boat fires.

Nab Flying Bootlegger

One of his most vivid prohibition memories is of an airplane, loaded with illegal whiskey, running out of gas: of the trip from Canada across Lake St. Clair. It was winter, and the pilot managed to land on the ice just off the lake shore. Shores police immediately dashed to their duty, confiscated the cargo, and turned the matter over to Federal authorities.

"In the winter time, you could shoot a gun up and down Lake-shore without hitting a car," the Chief reminisces.

There were few commuters. People who came to The Shores either lived in The Shores or were traveling through to spend an evening at the various night clubs and gambling clubs (illegal, but very well patronized) along the lake.

The estates were by and large self-contained. The "gentleman farmers" raised their own produce; some kept cattle, pigs and other livestock. There were many large, frame homes, used as summer cottages only—their owners wintered in Florida or maintained homes in The City (Detroit) during the cold months.

Recalls Horse Races

Chief Duemling remembers the weekly horse races at H. M. Jewett's race course. "Some of the best pheasant and rabbit hunting in Southern Michigan was in this area (The Shores) until the mid-1930's," he maintains.

He remembers The Shores' first scout car, purchased in 1927: A Model T Ford with side curtains and a top speed of 45 miles per hour.

Between '28 and '30, the Chief recalls, The Shores experienced radical changes. A new roadbed was laid along the lake shore, the Edsel Ford home was built. The atmosphere changed.

The Inter-urban discontinued service to Mt. Clemens. Eventually, all inter-urban service was discontinued; now Lakeshore Coach Lines provides bus transportation in the area.

In '32 and '33 came the depression, with payless paydays. Chief Duemling recalls the time the Harmsworth Races were held off The Shores' coastline: "We had a police boat then, and we had to do considerable patrolling because of the thousands of people who came to watch the races."

"There were concessions and grandstands on every available lot. We had 30 extra men from the State Police, and 20 men from Detroit and the Wayne County Sheriff's Office to assist us." During the early races, despite all this extra help, two persons were killed in traffic.

Estates Start To Go

In the mid-1930's, the large estates began to break up. "It seems as if the younger people didn't want to run big, expensive places," the Chief says.

Prohibition was repealed, relieving The Shores' Department of the task of reporting rum-running activity to Federal officers, and of confiscating an occasional boatload of whiskey.

The gambling houses closed. The Shores gradually became more and more residential in character. New streets were opened, new homes built.

In the early 1930's, the Shores Force was increased until it numbered some 12 men. The Force totalled 14 in World War II. In the past years, the Force has fluctuated between 16 and 18 men.

Traffic control is one of Chief Duemling's major responsibilities. There is something about Lakeshore road that attracts speeders . . . and those who use the road often know how VERY well it is patrolled.

"If you don't stop some people once in a while, the first thing you know everyone is going 10 or 15 miles over the speed limit," Chief Duemling says.

The curve at the end of Lakeshore road, near the entrance to the Edsel Ford estate, has achieved a certain local notoriety as far as accidents are concerned, but Chief Duemling maintains that, statistically, it does not add to the yearly accident total as much as people think.

"But an accident there (at the

JELLIES FROM FROZEN JUICES

- 3/4 cups sugar
- 1 cup water
- 1 six-ounce can frozen concentrated orange, grape or tangerine juice (three tbsps.)
- lemon juice for orange juice only)
- 1/2 bottle liquid fruit pectin (as marked on bottle)

Mix sugar and water well in large saucepan. Place over high heat. Bring to full rolling boil and boil hard for one minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Stir in thawed fruit juice concentrate, (and lemon juice, if you are making orange jelly). Add liquid fruit pectin. Mix well. Pour or ladle quickly into glasses. Cover jelly with 1/4 inch hot paraffin. Makes about five glasses.

Andres Segovia With Symphony

World famous guitarist Andres Segovia will be soloist with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra at 8:30 o'clock on Thursday, January 7, and Saturday, January 9, at Ford Auditorium. Sixteen Ehrling will conduct.

Segovia will perform Castelnuovo-Tedesco's Concerto for Guitar and Orchestra, a work being given its Detroit premiere at these concerts. The orchestral portions of the program will include Creston's Invocation and Dance, also being played for the first time in Detroit, and Tchaikovsky's Symphony No. 5 in E minor.

Segovia, considered the leading classical guitarist in the world, was born near Granada, Spain. Many major guitar compositions have been written especially for Segovia, who has singlehandedly given his instrument a relatively new position of prestige in the concert world.

There are a few seats yet available for these concerts at the Ford Auditorium Box Office or at Grinnell's.

Meeting Slated By Garden Club

Mrs. Wayne Manson will speak on the Brewster Douglas Project at the January meeting of the Grand Marais Garden Club, to be held at the Lakeshore drive home of Mrs. Warren Trafton this Monday.

Co-hostesses will be Mrs. H. Ward Lewis and Mrs. Donald Schurer.

Council to Hear Talk by Patrick

The Grosse Pointe Human Relations Council will have William T. Patrick, Jr. as the speaker at a public meeting on Tuesday, January 19. The 8:00 o'clock evening meeting will be held at Our Lady of the Sea Roman Catholic Church, 467 Fairford road.

The host church is one of five Grosse Pointe churches which have been granted organizational memberships in the Council.

Mr. Patrick holds the position of assistant general attorney of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company. Elected to two terms on the Detroit City Council, he resigned that position at the time of joining Bell Telephone Company's legal department.

Mr. Patrick's appearance continues the series of meetings offered the community by the local Human Relations Council. Future meetings will present Prof. Leonard Moss of the Wayne State University Department of Sociology, and the Rev. Dr. Charles E. Morton, pastor of Metropolitan Baptist Church, Detroit. In November Dr. Morton was elected to an eight-year term on the new State Board of Education.

The meeting is open to the public with the aim of furthering understanding of progress made in human relations in the Detroit metropolitan area and elsewhere. "We believe that the best approach to improving human relations is to begin with ourselves," said the Rev. James D. Nixon, president of the Grosse Pointe Human Relations Council. "These meetings provide new information as well as responsible answers to some of the old myths that keep coming up in conversation, even among otherwise well informed people."

Membership in the council is open to residents of the Pointes, and applications can be obtained at the January 19 meeting.
