High School Musicians Draw Big Crowd

The Grosse Pointe High School Symphony Band, Orchestra and A Capella Choir played host last week to 1746 fifth and sixth grade pupils from the 10 elementary schools of the public school system. The hour-long concert was held in the Auditorium-Gymnasium on the High School campus.

Two Found Guilty Of Violating Laws At Teeners' Dance

Owner of Hall and Youth Who Organized Party Pay $100 Fines and Costs; 90-Day Sentence for Former Suspended by Judge

The owner of Harper Hall, 20542 Harper avenue, Harper Woods, and a Pointe teenager, were found guilty in Harper Woods Municipal Court on Tuesday, January 19, of liquor violation charges. The hearing was held before Harper Woods Judge Robert P. VanWiemeersch.

Found guilty were Dale Glenn, 26, of 22130 Shady lane, St. Clair Shores; and John Nash, 19, of 1723 Severn road.

Harper Woods Police Capt. Charles H. Glosser said that Glenn was charged with violation of the State Liquor Control Act, that of leasing premises where persons could drink alcoholic beverages for a fee; and Nash was charged with contributing to the delinquency of minors.

Dr. Parcels Complaint Charges against the two were brought about by Dr. Frank Parcels of 1014 Buckingham, when it came to his attention Friday, January 8, that alcoholic beverages had been sold to and were consumed by teenagers at the hall, which had been rented to Nash, for a teenage dance.

Dr. Parcels, who said that he was concerned as a parent, called Harper Woods police and demanded an investigation. A thorough investigation into the matter was conducted by police, Capt. Glosser said.

The investigation resulted in warrants for the arrest of Glenn and Nash, the captain said.

Glenn stood mute at Tuesday's arraignment, and was found guilty as charged and was fined $100, and assessed court costs of $10, placed on probation for six months, and sentenced to 90 days in the Detroit House of Correction.

Closes Establishment Judge VanWiemeersch suspended the jail term on condition that Glenn close his establishment for a period of two weeks. The hall owner, through his attorney, announced that he will appeal.

Nash also stood mute, and was found guilty. He was assessed a fine of $100 and court costs of $10 or 10 days in jail. He paid the fine and costs.

Nash, according to Capt. Glosser, rented the hall from Glenn, and was in charge of the Friday night dance. The hall has no license permitting the sale of alcoholic beverages on the premises. Such licenses are applied for and obtained on a temporary basis by persons renting the hall, or their agents, it was said.

The captain said that on the Friday night in question, approximately 300 to 400 persons were in the hall, most of them were under 21 years of age.

Officers in Premises Capt. Glosser said that an investigation was also conducted on charges that police officers were on the premises while teenagers were drinking beer.

He said that this investigation showed that two off-duty policemen had been hired to direct the parking of cars in the lot adjoining the hall, and that these officers were there only (Continued on Page 2)

Third Arrested Waiting in Car in Woods Lot; Confessions Made By Trio

Three Detroit men were arraigned for examination before Woods Judge Don Goodrow, Monday evening, January 25, on warrants charging them with damaging a safe in the Woods Theater, 19269 Mack avenue, after the theater was forcibly entered.

The trio were arrested by Woods and Harper Woods police, at about 2:30 a.m., on Saturday, January 23, two were inside the theater building, when arrested, and the third was waiting in a car in the parking lot at the rear of the building.

Arrested were, William C. Murphy, 24, of 12204 Corbett; Michael Mauro, 24, of 3651 Maryland, who were in the theater; and Vincent J. Spina, 22, of 9480 Lakepointe, who was waiting in the car.

At the examination, Judge Goodrow found sufficient cause to bind the three over to Circuit Court for trial at the next session, and set bond at $1,000 each. Murphy and Mauro posted bond and were released, but Spina was detained and later released to Detroit authorities, for investigation of a burglary in Detroit.

Also Robbed Esquire Murphy and Mauro, when questioned by Park Det. Lt. Arnold Hough, confessed to breaking and entering of the Esquire Theater, last October 15, and stealing $250 from a safe in the office, according to information released by Park Police Chief Arthur Louwers.

Woods police received a phone call from a watchman at the theater, (watchman's name withheld) in which he informed the desk officer that there was someone in the manager's office, and "it sounds like someone is trying to break into the safe."

Patrolmen Robert Setchell and Walter Goodman were dispatched to the theater. A general broadcast was also sent over the air, and Farms Patrolmen William Ellsworth, Eugene Fowler and John Krukowski, and Harper Woods Patrolmen Edward R. Smith and Warren Newton, were sent to the scene by their respective stations.

Park Officers Give Chase After Seeing Pair Drive Stolen Vehicle from Driveway

Two juveniles arrested by Park police early Saturday morning, January 23, confessed to stealing four automobiles, and breaking into a number of garages and cars in the Park, according to information released by Police Chief Arthur Louwers.

Chief Louwers said that Police Sgt. Charles French and Patrolman Ralph Moore, while patrolling the 2400 block of Balfour at 4:05 a.m., observed a 1965 Mustang leaving a driveway, and take off at high speed. The officers gave chase.

At Balfour and Kercheval, the juveniles, one 15 years old and the other, 16 years old, jumped out of the car, and ran through the rear yards of Balfour road, with Moore, an ex-paratrooper and fleet of foot, right behind them. The chase led over back yard fences, and toward Vernon Highway.

Flushed from Hiding Moore flushed the 15-year-old from a hiding place on Vernon, and into the arms of Patrolmen Charles Slusser and Richard Warren, who had been called to assist in the chase.

French and Slusser searched the area on Vernon, Kercheval and Balfour, and in the garage of 1215 Balfour, found the second teenager, hiding under a car. The youth was arrested.

Thief Gets Cash In Home in City

The residence of Mrs. Harold R. Miller at 793 Notre Dame was broken into and robbed some time between 5 p.m. on January 20 and 3:10 a.m., January 21.

According to City police the thief or thieves gained entrance to the house by breaking the glass in the back door.

The bureau drawers in the bedroom had been ransacked and $120 in bills and $10 in change were taken.

Investigating officers found fresh footprints in the snow around the back door.

Speeder Nabbed Following Chase

Farms Patrolman Earl Field pursued a 22-year-old Park motorist at more than 90 miles an hour on Wednesday, January 13, and arrested him when he tried to elude capture by hiding behind a garage.

Field said that he was patrolling on Lake Shore road, when he observed Robert C. Howard of 935 Berkshire, coming south on Kerby road, make a right turn onto Lake Shore without stopping for the stop sign.

The officer said that Howard stepped on the gas and took off at high speed, and he gave chase. The speedometer in the scout car passed the 90-mark, but the other car stayed ahead, Field said.

The pursuing policeman said that Howard ignored the cruiser siren and flasher. Field radioed the City police for help, and their cars waited on Jefferson.

However, Field said, Howard turned onto Newberry place to Sunset lane, turned on Sunset lane and drove into the driveway of number 36, where he attempted to hide his car near the brick wall at the entrance to a garage. Field placed Howard under arrest and took him to the station.

Field said that Howard told him that he had been cut off at Kerby by another driver, he did not know the license plate number, and thought that this motorist was chasing him.

Howard admitted, according to Field, that he had had four or five shells of beer at a Mack avenue bar.

The motorist was given a ticket for reckless driving (drinking) and attempting to outrun a police car. His court date was scheduled for Wednesday, January 27.

Pointe Contributed 102.9 Percent of Quota Final Audit Discloses; Leaders Named

Grosse Pointers contributed a total of $318,412.49 through the Community Campaigns, final audits disclosed today. This was 102.9 percent of quota.

The residential campaign last November 20-30, was headed by Mrs. Kenneth Koppin, 1271 S. Renaud, Edward Hickey III, owner of Hickey's Menswear at 17140 Kercheval, was community business chairman.

Grosse Pointe is part of the Eastern Wayne Unit, all of Wayne County East of Woodward, Highland Park and Downtown Detroit, which contributed a total of $399,203, or 106.8 percent of quota.

Mrs. Perry L. TeWalt, 623 Lincoln road, was Unit Chairman. Robert E. Palenchar, 20064 Wedgewood, vice-president of the Budd Co., headed the Community Business solicitation.

Elections Held By PTA Council

At Monday night's meeting of the Grosse Pointe PTA Council, held at the Central Library, new officers were elected to two-year terms. They are: Walter Seyfert, president; Charles Parcels, Jr., vice-president; Thomas Candler, treasurer; and Mrs. Hunter Comly, secretary.

Community Leaders Asked To Make Study of Need For Second High School

League of Women Voters Organizing Guided Tours While Classes Are in Session to Show Residents Crowded Conditions

Is Grosse Pointe High School overcrowded? Community leaders will be given an opportunity to judge for themselves on Thursday, February 4. Beginning at 1 p.m.—while classes are in session—they will be taken on guided tours of the school and shown such facilities as the annex, the new library, and the science, language, athletic and industrial arts departments.

Community leaders representing more than 80 Grosse Pointe civic, social, service and cultural groups have received letters inviting them to participate in the tours. These tours are being arranged by the Grosse Pointe League of Women Voters as a community service.

In the letter urging the representatives of Grosse Pointe's many organizations to attend, the League said, "This is your opportunity to see for yourself why your Board of Education asks the property-owning residents of the Grosse Pointe School District to approve funds for the construction of a second senior high school."

Want Reports Made Mrs. Minert Thompson, chairman of the League's committee studying Grosse Pointe's school needs, explains that the League hopes the representatives who take part in the tours will report to their organizations on the conditions they observe.

Principal Jerry Gerich and Board of Education president Edward Pongracz will make introductory remarks and answer any questions.

Those who plan to attend are asked to make reservations no later than February 3 by calling Mrs. Thompson, 882-7183, or Mrs. Donald McConachie, 881-8613. Anyone who has not received a letter and would like to take the tour may call Mrs. Thompson or Mrs. McConachie for additional information.

For the past two years the Grosse Pointe League has been making a study of the community's school needs. Last June, at the end of the first year of study, the League's members agreed that an additional school was essential to meet the community's future needs and voted to support the effort to raise funds needed for its construction.

During the second year of its study, the League has been examining the specific facilities that would be needed in a new school, how much its construction would cost, and what type of financing would be most desirable. The committee making the study reported its findings to the League's membership at the January unit meetings.

Want Residents Informed The League has arranged the tours of the present high school as part of its effort to help Grosse Pointe residents become informed on the issue before they are asked on March 22 to give their approval for the funds necessary to build the second high school.

In other activities, League members and their husbands and guests will attend a dinner at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center on Tuesday, February 9, at 6:30 p.m. Dr. Sheldon Appleton, professor of political science at Oakland University, will speak on world politics.

Dr. Appleton, author of the book, "Eternal Triangle? Communist China, the United States, and the United Nations," is a specialist on China, the United Nations and East-West relationships.

Pre-paid reservations must be made no later than Friday, February 5. Send checks ($3.25 per person) to Mrs. Ted Beebe, 526 Notre Dame.

Ford to Talk On Football Next Tuesday

Will Give Third Lecture of Series in Fries Auditorium; Gilmer to Close Program

William Clay Ford, owner of the Detroit Lions, will be the main speaker Tuesday evening, February 2, at the third program of the Annual Lecture Series of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association. His lecture will begin at 8:15 o'clock in the Center's Fries Auditorium.

The subject of this year's series of lectures is football and the two previous programs, patrons heard talks by Pete Rozelle, the Commissioner of the National Football League and Sid Luckman, former Columbia University star and professional football player.

Mr. Ford, who is the grandson of the late Henry Ford, founder of the Ford Motor Company, is a director and vice-president of that company. He is in charge of product planning and styling, concerned with all the company's forward product programs.

Is Yale Graduate After graduating from Yale University, he worked in various departments of the Ford Motor Company before assuming his present duties. Since 1961, he has been president of the Edison Institute, which operates the Henry Ford Museum and Greenfield Village. He is secretary-treasurer of Henry Ford Hospital, president of the Edsel B. Ford Institute for Medical Research and a trustee of the (Continued on Page 4)

Motorist Rams Hardware Store

Imojean Whitney, 33, of 19380 Tepper, Detroit, nearly smashed through a hardware store on Friday, January 22, when she lost control of her automobile.

According to a Woods accident report, Mrs. Whitney was driving south on Mack avenue, when she somehow lost control of her vehicle. The car struck another that was parked on Mack, near Anita, owned by Robert M. Testa, 26, of 2183 Hawthorne, damaging the left side.

Mrs. Whitney's car continued out of control, jumped the curb, knocked down a "No Parking" sign, and hit the front door of the Lochmoor Hardware Store, 20779 Mack, breaking the door glass. She was not injured.

Mrs. Whitney was given a violation ticket for not having her car under control and causing a property damage accident. She is scheduled for a court hearing on February 20.

Farms Reports Effective Dutch Elm Blight Control

The Farms will only dormant spray its elms during 1965, it was disclosed at a regular council meeting on Monday, January 18.

City Manager Andrew Bremer, Jr., told councilmen that a study was made of a one-spray, versus a two-spray program, and in his opinion, the one dormant spray is both efficient and economical.

He said that he recommends that during 1965, the city continue the present dormant one-spray, and not resort to the additional foliage spray, which was discontinued in 1959.

Bremer told the council that according to the Michigan Department of Agriculture, any community that holds its elm loss to one percent, or less, annually, is doing an effective job in controlling the Dutch Elm Beetle. The Farms' loss is within this category, the city manager added.

Also holding down the loss, Bremer pointed out, is the effective sanitary program that is carried out by the Farms. Where State law requires that diseased elms be cut down and removed within 10 days and destroyed, the Farms removes its diseased trees within three days, and sometimes, less.

The city manager presented members of the council a Dutch Elm Disease report for 1964, prepared by Assistant City Engineer John DeFoe, who is in charge of the program to control the blight.

According to DeFoe's report, during the year, 40 trees on private property were infected with the disease and had to be removed and destroyed, and eight trees were found to be infected on city property, and these, too, were removed and destroyed.

To Seek Bids for Park's Civic Center Development

At its regular meeting held on Monday, January 25, the Park council authorized City Manager Robert Slone to prepare plans and specifications and take bids for the development of two lots in the proposed civic center in Jefferson avenue, opposite the Municipal Building, 15115 E. Jefferson.

The lots, known as Lots 481 and 482, between Pemberton and Lakepointe, are in the Windmill Pointe Subdivision. It is proposed that they be developed as a landscaped park, with a recessed, walled-in lot for off-street parking for approximately 40 cars.

Platting of the lots was made by Louis G. Redstone, architect. They will cost an estimated $50,000 to develop.

Orville Sherwood, executive secretary of the Grosse Pointe Property Owners' Association, with which the subdivision is affiliated, was present at the (Continued on Page 19)

Two Juveniles Confess to Car Thefts

The juveniles confessed to stealing an automobile from the driveway of a home in Centerline on January 21, and later abandoning it in front of 553 Middlesex, where it was recovered by Park police the next day.

On January 22, the boys stole a 1964 Oldsmobile from the driveway of 523 Lakepointe, later abandoning it; on January 23, they stole a 1965 Dodge from the driveway of 536 Middlesex, and left it at Fairfax and Essex.

Each Wanted One

On January 23, they stole the Mustang from the side drive of 675 Balfour, and were seen by French and Moore. The boys told the officers that they were looking for a similar type car, so that both can each have one.

Both boys confessed that they had broken into numerous garages in the Park, and numerous cars parked on the streets in the city. When arrested, the boys had many items that they had stolen from the garages and cars, including a set of car keys belonging to Park Judge C. Joseph Belanger, into whose garage they had also entered. The keys were in the ignition of the judge's car, parked in his garage.

Chief Louwers said that some of the stolen items have been returned to the owners, and others are still waiting to be claimed.

He said that the 15-year-old has been arrested by officers of his department on seven other occasions, all for car theft.

Both juveniles have been filed against in Juvenile Court, and are awaiting the next session of the court, the chief said.

Newton, were quietly admitted into the theater by the watchman. As the officers entered the foyer, Setchell saw Murphy peeking out from the door of the manager's office. All four officers drew their service revolvers.

No Resistance Offered

Mauro was standing four feet inside the office. He and his companion were ordered to come out with their hands in the air. The two men surrendered without incident and were placed under arrest.

Mauro and Murphy were taken to the Harper Woods station, while the Woods and Farms officers searched the theater building, in case there were others in hiding. There was no one.

The policemen said that they found the left corner of the safe peeled back, and the combination knocked off, but the safe was not entered. Tools, including a four-pound sledge hammer, were found on and around the safe, it was said.

The hammer was used to break open the rear door of the building, through which Mauro and Murphy entered, police said.

Mauro and Murphy told officers at the Woods station, where they were finally taken, that there was another man, Spina, who had been with them, and he was in a black 1964 Pontiac. A radio broadcast was sent to all stations to be on the lookout for such a car.

Find Third in Car

In the meantime, Woods Patrolmen Leroy Tobian and William Duster, also sent to the Woods Theater area, noticed a black Pontiac in the theater lot, with a lone occupant. The officers approached and demanded the man's operators license, which was produced.

When the man, Spina, was asked what he was doing in the area, he claimed he had had a fight with his girl friend and she had given him back his ring, and he was sitting in the car, alone.

Tobian and Duster heard the radio broadcast regarding the car and occupant, and radioed back that they had the car, and also had the man in custody. Spina was taken to the Woods station.

The arrested trio were questioned by Woods Det. Sgt. Jack Mast and Det. Albert Abend. The three men said they wanted to confess to what they did.

The detectives said that before they accepted any statements from Mauro, Murphy and Spina, they advised them of their rights, that they did not have to say anything, that they did not have to make statements without the advice of their lawyers, and whatever they might say would be used against them in court. All three men said they wanted to make statements, admitting their part in the alleged crime.

All Signed Statements

They were again advised of their rights when brought before Assistant Wayne County Prosecutor Dale Devlin, but they still said they wanted to confess. They made statements and signed them, and warrants were recommended by Devlin.

Chief Louwers said that when his department was notified of the arrest of the trio, Lt. Hough was assigned to question them on the burglary of the Esquire Theater on October 15.

Mauro and Murphy confessed that they had entered the theater while a movie was in progress, watched the show, and remained in the building after it was closed. They then went into the manager's office, forced open a safe there, and stole $250.

Mauro and Murphy also confessed that they broke into a strong box in an office on the second floor of the Esquire Building, the same night, but got nothing.

Chief Louwers said that Mauro was arrested as a juvenile on April 29, 1965, for the burglary of the Whittier Cleaners, 15010 Charlevoix.

The chief said that the Esquire crime will be compiled with that of the one committed in the Woods.

Under the law, damaging a safe in the commission of a felony, carries a sentence of up to life imprisonment, if a person is found guilty, it was said.

In his remarks to Arthur G. Sherman, Jr., outgoing president, Mr. Seyffert expressed the group's appreciation for his untiring efforts in behalf of the organization and indicated that he looks forward to a continued association.

In addition to Mr. Sherman, officials for the past two years were: Walter Seyffert, vice-president; Charles Parcels, Jr., treasurer; and Mrs. G. Gordon Cook, secretary.

Two other on-duty officers, said to have arrived at the hall in a scout car, and entered the building, were only conducting an inspection, the captain said.

The patrolmen, or observing that a majority of the persons in the hall were teenagers, warned the bartender and others in charge, against serving alcoholic beverages to anyone under 21 years of age. This was earlier in the evening, it was said.

After looking the place over and making sure that there were no violations and everything was in order, the policemen left, Capt. Glosser said.

Klondike Derby Held By Scouts

More than 1,000 Boy Scouts of the Lakeshore District hit the trail in their annual Klondike Derby January 24 in Chandler Park, enduring weather conditions that make tales of the old Klondike seem tame.

"Be Prepared" is the Scouts motto, and these husky Scouts were more than ready to earn proficiency badges in the wintry setting.

Columbus Day Leader Named

Sal Lauricella of 301 Kerby road, has been elected chairman of the 1965 Columbus Day, sponsored by more than 300,000 citizens of Italian origin in this area.

The special day not only commemorates Columbus Day but recognizes the contributions of all Italians to the growth and strength of America. Last year approximately 2,000 guests attended the banquet, making it the largest in the history of the Italian-American community.

A native of Connecticut, Mr. Lauricella is a 1957 graduate of Wayne State University and served last year as publicity chairman of the Columbus Day committee.

Park Pushes Civic Center

At present, full development of the civic center is stymied by owners of the three lots, two owned by the McBrearty Family, and one, by the Branda Family, both of Detroit, who are seeking to break the residential zoning restrictions on their properties and have them zoned for commercial use.

The McBreartys own two lots between Lakepointe and Beaconsfield, and the Branda family own a lot at Pemberton and Jefferson.

The McBrearty family filed a suit in Circuit Court when the Park refused to issue them a permit to build a gas station on their property. The court was asked to declare the residential one-family restrictions as unconstitutional on the claim that there are already commercial buildings on both sides of Jefferson.

Last March 7, the court denied the family's motion, and the McBreartys appealed to the State Supreme Court. The matter is still pending.

The Park made an attempt to buy the lots, but both families refused to sell unless they were paid commercial prices, rather than residential property rates.

The Park has sought to acquire all of the land for its proposed civic center since 1951.

In 1953, the city instituted condemnation proceedings in Circuit Court to acquire the land, but the court ruled in favor of the owners, contending that the Park could not prove public necessity.

No definite date has been set for the starting of the development of Lots 481 and 482, it was brought out at Monday night's meeting, but it was disclosed that it could be anytime between the spring and perhaps July.

Robert Hurley, wrestling coach at Wayne State University, organized the sport at Eastern Michigan and Loy Norrix High School in Kalamazoo before coming to WSU in 1961.

Teachers Voice Support For Second High School

As the news of the proposal to construct a second senior high school became known at Grosse Pointe High School this past week, comments from staff members were unanimously favorable.

Among the first to react were teachers and administrators in English, science, industrial arts, reading, and special education.

Speaking on behalf of the department head, Dr. Stanley Cook, George Holman, and Lewis Gray, of English, science and industrial arts, respectively, commented upon the news in terms of increased educational opportunity for the youth of the community.

Dr. Cook said "A shift of some students to another high school and the remodeling of our current structure should benefit English instruction at Grosse Pointe High School in at least three ways. (1) Added space will permit the more efficient use of large groups for lectures, movies and certain other types of instruction. (2) Curiously enough, more space should also permit more student-teacher conferences and more small-group projects, both of which are needed to provide for individual differences. (3) The knowledge of ninth graders is probably closer to that of the tenth grade than it is to that of grades seven and eight. Even if it were not, there are advantages in having a four-year sequence under one roof in preparing for English competence in life or in college."

Mr. Holman, speaking for his staff in science said, "In this rapidly expanding scientific, technological era it is becoming increasingly necessary for young people to have the very best foundation in the sciences that their community can provide."

"Our culture is rampant with change and progress. Science education must be based upon the kind of information that has survival value, and upon strategies of inquiry that facilitate the adaptation of knowledge to future demands that are yet dimly discernible."

"A few of the specific goals that we can foresee, that will be favorably affected by the 4-year high school, are:

"1. Greater latitude for the tailoring of courses to meet the needs of the students."

"2. A closer relationship between the sciences for a full 4-years (K-12 would be very desirable) insuring the optimum sequential development of the basic conceptual themes of science."

"3. Provisions for fostering longer contacts between students and teachers for open-ended research development."

"4. Necessary space and facilities for such a continuum."

"5. Provision for multiclass teaching and closed-circuit television."

"6. The elimination of some of the fragmentation effects of the four years of high school. The maturity and seriousness of purpose of the older students will be transmitted to the younger students."

"7. The possible development of a strong technical curriculum for terminal students."

"8. The fostering of summer enrichment summer programs."

Lewis Gray, chairman of industrial arts, said on behalf of his teachers, "A second high school in Grosse Pointe will provide the additional space in each school necessary for improving the offerings in industrial arts by giving students an insight into our industrial society through laboratory-classroom experiences. Through this program, the role of industry and technology is unfolded as students study the history and development of industrial organizations, materials, products, processes, and related problems. These experiences help students develop basic skills and knowledge common to many occupations and professions providing means for the application of theoretical principles of science, mathematics, and other related subjects."

"This program will encompass a study of many areas to include the broad aspects of construction, transportation, communication, manufacturing, and research development while students become actively involved in the processes and products associated with our industrial society."

Another in the system with an immediate reaction was Dr. Paul E. Mawhinney, Director of Pupil Personnel. Of plans to include a special education facility in the proposed building, he stated,

"A program for the educable retarded of high school age will be introduced at the new school thereby extending this long needed service from elementary and junior high to the high school level. Grosse Pointe's program for these boys and girls now includes three elementary classes and one junior high school class, being unable to expand because of the lack of classrooms. The new high school will provide a place for the new program."

"The new program is expected to provide not only classes but also on-the-job training to give these young people some experience in the world of work. To this end local and nearby merchants, shop keepers, and others will be contacted and asked to consider members of this new program for part-time work while they are still in school."

"At all grade levels — at elementary, junior high, and senior high school — tightness of space has made it simply impossible to add groups to the present four classes for the educable retarded. The lack has stopped all possibility of growth, yet expansion is desperately needed. Construction of the new school plus grade level reorganization as planned will enable the program to develop at the high school as well as in the present units."

Reading specialist and veteran English teacher, Andrew Balas, commented upon the reading area planned for the proposed high school.

"The layout consists of three sections. Our experiences, and those of others in the field, have shown us that in addition to the normal-size classroom, we need much storage space, as well as a practice area or laboratory."

Elm Blight

Junction with the complete city-wide surveys made twice a year, the city also checks all requests by residents wanting inspections of suspicious looking elm.

In all cases where there is evidence of the blight, a sample is taken and sent to Lansing for analysis. The total number of samples submitted to the Department of Agriculture during 1964, was 53, including samples from the 48 elms that had to be destroyed, the engineer stated.

In order to help control the spread of the disease, DeFoe said, last year two dead elms were condemned and ordered removed from city property, and four from private property. As an added precautionary measure, a number of elm woodpiles were disposed of, he revealed.

DeFoe listed the number of infected elms that had to be removed during the past 10 years:

In 1954, private—16, city—3; 1955, private—52, city—9; 1956, private—48, city—14; 1957, private—41, city—13; 1958, private—26, city—3; 1959, private—26, city—3; 1960, private—27, city—10; 1961, private—21, city—6; 1962, private—40; city—6; and 1963, private—20, city—5.

It was pointed out in a news article submitted to the Farms council by Bremer, that Michigan communities spend $6 million dollars a year to fight the threat to their stately elms.

At Monday night's meeting, the Farms council approved a contract awarded to the Shock Brothers, who offered to dormant spray 2,600 public elm trees for $2,340; and 2,000 private trees for $4,000, total cost $6,340.

In addition, the firm was awarded the contract to trim 356 trees throughout the city, when it offered to do the job for the low bid price of $2,284.50, and another contract to plant 12 trees for a total cost of $976.

Michigan Heart Association. He is also a director of the United Foundation and has been national campaign chairman of the United Cerebral Palsy Association for five years.

Mr. Ford, who makes his home in Lakeshore road, completed his purchase of the Detroit Lions in January, 1964.

The invocation preceding the Tuesday night program will be given by the Rev. Fr. George J. Scharuder, assistant pastor of Our Lady Star of the Sea Catholic Church.

Reception Follows
Following his address, Mr. Ford will answer questions from the audience and meet patrons at a coffee reception to be held in the ballroom of the auditorium.

School Support

"Because the reading instructor deals with students at so many different levels, he must maintain enormous files of varied materials including booklets and tests, complete sets of books, and equipment such as the tachistoscope and the scanner. Therefore, adequate storage is imperative.

"In the practice area adjacent to the classroom, we envision individual careers, where students can work independently.

"Since the demands of the reading specialist are somewhat different from those of the normal classroom teacher, it is imperative that his work area be planned to provide for the most efficient operation, to make materials readily accessible, and to provide places for individual and small group study.

"The space will also be used by adult educator reading classes at night, in addition to its full usage during the day. And, a truly adequate facility will permit the development of a developmental reading program for the better readers," Mr. Balas concluded.

Win Another

In a game played last Friday night, the Lakers of St. Paul defeated Sacred Heart of Roseville. The Lakers, playing in their own gym, were trailing by a score of 19-12 at the end of the first period but bounced back to take a 31-23 half-time lead.

The third quarter score was 44-37 in favor of St. Paul and both teams scored 10 points in the fourth period to make the final score 54-47.

On the following Tuesday, February 9, Harry Gilmer, newly appointed coach of the Detroit Lions, will speak at the final program of the third annual Lecture Series. Mr. Gilmer is expected to be accompanied by

Stephen C. Thacker Takes Navy Training

Seaman Recruit Stephen C. Thacker, 17, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton B. Thacker of 1407 Somerset road, completed two weeks of active duty training January 2, at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

During the two weeks he studied basic military law, customs and etiquette, seamanship and a basic knowledge of ship-board routine.

Also included in the training was extensive military drill, first aid, swimming, water survival tactics and physical fitness.

Chamber Music Players Giving Concert on Sunday

The next program of the Chamber Music Players of Grosse Pointe will be held on Sunday, January 31, at 3 o'clock in the Ballroom of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

The month of February has been designated as "American Music Month" by the National Federation of Music Clubs; and at this meeting of the Chamber Music Players, (which is actually the meeting for the month of February), several works by American composers will be featured.

The first selection will be the

F. J. Skiffington Retires in Park

Engineer Francis J. Skiffington, 65, formerly of 946 Nottingham, and now of Anchorville, Mich., retired from the Park Fire Department on Thursday, December 31, after more than 35 years of service.

A native of Detroit, he joined the Park department on July 4, 1929. He graduated from St. Charles High School in Detroit and attended Assumption College in Windsor.

He was made assistant engineer in 1930, and in 1936 was made full engineer. During his service as fireman, he invented a number of items, which made for rapid and time saving movements in the fighting of fires. Some of his ideas and inventions have been utilized by departments everywhere.

Skiffington is married to the former Genevieve deCaussin of Detroit, and is the father of two sons, both married and living in Texas.

A farewell party for the retired fireman was given by his colleagues in the department on December 31. Those invited besides the regular members of the department were City Manager Robert Stone, Fire Chief William Graul and Fire Capt. Henry DeClerc.

"Francis Skiffington is a good man and an excellent firefighter, and we all regret to see him leave the department, even if it is because of retirement," Chief Graul said. "We are all going to miss him in the fire house."

Following his comment on Skiffington, Chief Graul announced the promotion of two firemen to the newly created ratings of corporals in the Fire Department.

Promoted to corporals were Andrew Benoit of 4185 Beaconsfield, Detroit, and David Taylor of 1229 Beaconsfield, who has been fire inspector since May 1, 1963. Both were high scorers in written and oral examinations for the new posts, the chief said.

The chief disclosed that the new corporals will conduct fire inspections, besides carrying on other duties in the department.

Benoit has been with the Park Fire Department since October 11, 1942; and Taylor has been with the department since February 6, 1944.

Confederacy Daughters Schedule Luncheon Feb. 5

The Stars and Bars Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, is planning a noon subscription luncheon at the Women's City Club Friday, February 5. A meeting at 1 o'clock in Room A will follow the luncheon.

As a rule true reflections come from thinking, not looking into mirrors.

Sonata Serioso by Robert Gauldin, played by Margot Krumel, viola, and Camella Ehrlich, piano. Gauldin, who is assistant professor of theory and composition at the University of Rochester's Eastman School of Music, is the winner of the 1964 Music Mountain contest, held at Falls Village, Conn., for American string quartet composers.

A group of American songs will be sung by Jean Ground, soprano, accompanied on the piano by Marion Walker. "My Days Have Been So Wondrous Free" by Hopkinson; "Do Not Go, My Love" by Hageman; "Come Unto These Yellow Sands" by LaForge; "Black is the Color of My True Love's Hair" by Shaw; and "O Lovely World" by Ernest Charles. The Hopkinson composition is the first ever published in America by an American.

Jean Ground, a Grosse Pointe resident, is a native of Nebraska and received her A.B. degree from Nebraska Wesleyan, continuing her studies at Eastman School of Music. She is a soloist at the Central Woodward Christian Church, and is a member of Tuesday Musicales and the Four Octave Club, and a former member of the Madrigal Club.

She has appeared in opera productions in Lincoln, Nebraska, and in Kansas City, as well as performing in "Hansel and Gretel" with the South Oakland Symphony, and appearing as soloist with the Women's Symphony.

Her accompanist, Marion Walker, is assistant organist at the Central Woodward Christian Church and is also a member of Tuesday Musicales and the Four Octave Club.

Ernestine Barnes, french horn, and Helene Nordstrom, piano, will play the Horn Sonata by Bernhard Heiden. Heiden, a native Detroit, is composer in residence at Indiana University. This 1939 composition shows the influence of Hindemith, with whom the composer studied.

The only non-American work on the program is Trio-Minutemen by Paul Juon, a Russian transplanted to Germany; it will be played by Lucille Zocharski, violin; Lotte Winkler, viola, and Eleanor Lorentzen, piano.

The work was originally written for violin, cello and piano; the cello part was transcribed for viola by Mrs. Winkler. The Trio, a romantic modern composition dating from about 1920, consists of a series of short movements in very different moods.

A coffee hour will follow the concert.

Ruth Burczyk to Perform
With Symphony on Feb. 7

The Grosse Pointe Symphony Orchestra will feature Ruth Burczyk, concert pianist, as guest soloist on Sunday afternoon, February 7, at 3:30 o'clock, at the Parcels School Auditorium.

The second concert of the twelfth season brings Mrs. Burczyk to the Grosse Pointe audience in a return engagement with the orchestra. She will perform the loved Rachmaninoff Concerto No. 2 in C Minor. Mrs. Burczyk has played solo recitals in Wisconsin and Michigan, and made guest appearances with the General Motors Chorus Concert and the following symphony orchestras: Rochester (Minn.), Wisconsin, Detroit Women's, Windsor and Scandinavian. In 1963 she was soloist with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

At the age of 16, Ruth Burczyk made her debut with the Wisconsin Symphony, and at an early stage in her career was first place winner in a state-wide contest sponsored by the Wisconsin Federation of Music Clubs. She received the Young Artist Diploma from the National Guild of Piano Teachers, for whom she later served on the staff of adjudicators.

The Walter J. Burczyks reside in Grosse Pointe with their three young children—and all three study piano with their talented mother.

The concert program will include Invitation to the Dance by Weber and Symphony No. 1 in B Flat (Spring) by Schumann. The orchestra will be under the direction of Felix Resnick, official conductor of the orchestra.

Membership in the Symphony Society is still available and welcomed. Three outstanding concerts remain in the season and are included in the membership. They are the February 7 concert, March 28 concert with solo artist, Edward Druzyński, principal harpist of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra and May 2 concert with solo artist, Maria Roumell, soprano, internationally known operatic and concert artist of Grosse Pointe.

Mrs. Bogdan Baynert, membership chairman, urges those wishing to join and support the Grosse Pointe Symphony Society to please contact Mrs. Raymond B. Baer, membership secretary, 702 Lakepointe avenue. Adult $6 and Student $3 donations are tax deductible.

Single concert tickets, Adult $2, and Student $1, are available at Pongracz Jewelers, 91 Kercheval; Doubleday Book Shop, 17116 Kercheval, and Grosse Pointe Pharmacy, 10795 Mack, or by calling Mrs. Arnold W. Lungershausen, VA 1-8922.

Bond Continued In Drug Case

A woman accused of fraudulently obtaining narcotics was bound over to the next session of the Wayne County Circuit Court by Woods Judge Don Goodrow, following an examination held on Wednesday, January 20. A bond of $500 was continued.

Accused is Mrs. Barbara Jean Wolton, 29, of 13815 Spruce street, Southgate, who was arrested on January 6, on a warrant recommended by Assistant Wayne County Prosecutor Dale Devlin, and signed by Harper Woods Judge Robert P. VanWiemers, in the absence of Judge Goodrow.

The woman stood mute to the charge and a plea of innocent was entered for her. After hearing testimony from witnesses, Judge Goodrow bound her over to circuit court.

Mrs. Wolton was arrested on complaint of a Woods druggist, who claimed that she had entered his store with an unknown man, presented a legitimate prescription, and received 40 Dilaudid tablets, a highly sensitive and habit forming drug.

The druggist, name and business withheld, told Det. Sgt. Jack Mast, that a short while later, the woman returned and demanded that the tablets be exchanged, claiming that they were not strong enough. She was given another order.

On December 11, the druggist said, he received a phone call from Mrs. Wolton at 2:15 a.m., stating that she needed an emergency prescription filled. The drug store owner, accompanied by a police officer, met the woman at the store, where a second prescription, also legitimate, was filled. Later in the day, the druggist said, the woman called and stated she wanted the tablets exchanged because her brother claimed they were not helping him.

The druggist balked, stating that he had filled the prescription correctly. When he said that he was going to notify the police, the woman hung up, the druggist said.

Sgt. Mast was assigned to the case. He took 20 of the alleged returned tablets to the Detroit Police Scientific Laboratory, where they were analyzed. The analysis showed that four of the tablets were Dilaudid, and 16 were non-narcotic.

Mast said that at the time of

Mrs. Wolton's arrest, she was on two years probation on a Detroit narcotics charge.

Orr to Present Course on Books

For the person too busy to read all of today's best sellers Robert Orr, Director of Public Libraries in Grosse Pointe, will once again offer his popular series "Books America is Reading."

Sponsored by the Department of Community Services, Grosse Pointe Public School System, this group will meet weekly for eight weeks beginning Thursday, February 4 at 8 p.m. in the Central Library.

Each of the eight class periods will be devoted to an intensive review of a currently popular book by the instructor, followed by a lively discussion of books, ideas and the major problems we face today. Mr. Orr will cover 10 books which represent an excellent cross-section of current and potential best sellers. They will be evenly divided between fiction and non-fiction offerings.

Following is a list of books, and their authors to be covered: HERZOG, Saul Bellow.

MARKINGS, Dag Hammarskjöld.

FULL FATHOM FIVE, John Stewart Carter.

THINGS AS THEY ARE, Paul Horgan.

THE ITALIANS, Luigi Barzini.

SO WHAT ELSE IS NEW?, Harry Golden.

MR. KENNEDY AND THE NEGROES, Harry Golden.

LATE CALL, Angus Wilson.

THE BARRYMORES, Hollis Alpert.

(One more book, to be announced later.)

Reservations for this class discussion group must be made by calling the Department of Community Services, TU 5-3808, or TU 5-0271; early registration will insure a place in class, as the size is strictly limited.

Dr. William N. Wasson, of Wayne State University's health and physical education division, founded the National Intramural Association in 1950 at Dillard University in New Orleans.

Library Offers Family Movies

The fifth program of the 1964-65 Family Film Night Series will be presented Friday, February 5, at 7:30 p.m. in the Central Library Meeting Room of the Grosse Pointe Public Library.

Family Film Nights are held the first Friday night in each month, October through April. The program for February 5, will be an enjoyable treat for the entire family. Films to be shown include UGLY DUCKLING (11 minutes, in color) — adapted from the classic tale by Hans Christian Andersen.

Real animals tell the story of the baby swan who is raised with a brood of ducklings and rejected because he is different. After spending a lonely winter trying to find a friend among many different animals, "the ugly duckling" returns to the pond, where he discovers his true identity.

SUPERJET TO SPAIN (25 minutes, color). A tour of colorful Spain includes Alhambra, ancient mementoes (old fortress), Balboa, Tagus, Toledo (Gothic architecture), Madrid, and the array of new hotels.

Last a spectacle of color and excitement — a bull fight: SEBASTIAN THE SCATTERBRAIN (11 minutes, color). Sebastian the Scatterbrain, a tiny, yellow duckling, visits a Lilliputian village in the center of Europe on a camping trip. Wandering into the woods, he almost fell prey to the evil snake. A charming film especially for tots.

Adults, and children accompanied by adults, are cordially invited. Come early for a good seat.

Pierce Parents Bid to Meeting

Parents of all eighth grade students and new ninth grade students at Pierce Junior High are urged to attend a meeting at the school next Thursday, February 4, at 8 p.m.

The general topic will be "Planning for Ninth Grade and High School." The agenda for the evening is planned to relay information concerning curriculum choices in ninth grade as well as the offerings at Grosse Pointe High School. The program will be presented by selected members of the Pierce and High School staffs.

The PTA Hospitality Committee, composed of Mrs. William Westhoff, chairman; Mrs. Gomer Evans, Mrs. Frank Huster and Mrs. Delmo Paris, is planning refreshments for a social hour in the cafeteria following the meeting in the auditorium.

GPMS Musicians Hosts at Concert

On Tuesday, January 19, 1965 fifth and sixth grade pupils from the 10 elementary buildings of The Grosse Pointe Public School System attended an hour-long concert presented by the Grosse Pointe High School Symphony Band, Orchestra, and A Capella Choir.

The Symphony Band performed "Incantation and Dance" by John Barnes Chance, "Stars and Stripes Forever" by John Philip Sousa, and "Lasus Trombone" in which the trombone section is featured.

The A Cappella Choir presented "Snow, Snow, Beautiful Snow" by Sherman Feller, "Adoramus Te" by Palestrina, and the spiritual "Lord, Bring Dat Sinner Home" by Graydon Clark.

In addition, the audience of children enjoyed the Boys' Chorus rendition of "Min Skol, Din Skol" by Sil Sedores. "Night on Bald Mountain" by Moussorgsky was performed by the Symphony Orchestra. The finale, Handel's "Hallelujah Chorus" was presented by the Symphony Orchestra and Choir.

The Symphony Band and Orchestra are under the direction of Richard H. Snook, the Choir is conducted by John Finch, school music consultant, coordinated the project.

Winnifred Fenton, elementary music department head, Dr.

Devils Lunge Past Acorns For Sixth League Victory

By Ric Hendee

A 69-36 trouncing of Royal Oak Dondero last Friday gave the Blue Devil swimmers their sixth BCL victory. Elsewhere in the league, Monroe and Fordson quarrel for second place, followed by Royal Oak, Wyandotte, and finally Highland Park.

Earlier this season Grosse Pointe sweated out the last relay at Dondero to win a close meet. But this time was different as the Blue and Gold grabbed eight of the 11 events in gaining the lopsided victory.

Blue Devil Tom Mertz '66 scratched his name on the Grosse Pointe record board by conquering the 160-yard individual medley in 1:42.9. Second place finisher, Tom Hunt, had touched out Mertz for the victory at Dondero in the earlier meet.

Mertz also holds the Varsity mark in the 400-yard freestyle at 4:20.6.

Davis Double Winner
Providing Dondero with its race.

Then, seniors Sandy MacDonald and Jack Tamblin put both times well under the one-minute mark for the third slam.

And finally, Mertz scored his second victory of the meet, joining this reporter for a slam in the 100-yard freestyle.

Makes False Starts
False starts added more excitement to the contest. Tamblin and John Barlow '65 jumped the gun in the 400-yard freestyle and, although the referee tried to stop them with extra shots, they thrashed on. Mertz and Dever jumped, sweat-soaked, in front of their teammates, thus gaining great glory by saving the day.

Wanting to get in on the fun, Devil John Rentenbach was all set by the time the next event had rolled around. The swimmers again false started but, this time they heard the extra shots signifying a jump. The sprinters returned to their blocks but Rentenbach was already in the air, on his way to saving the race. The crowd recognized the feat with laughter and applause.

Rentenbach was wet twice again during the meet, as anchor-man on both winning relays.

Tough Meet Friday
The Varsity swimmers' record of eight wins and one loss will be on the line next Friday night as powerful Royal Oak Kimball battles the Devils in the Grosse Pointe pool.

Kimball trailed close behind Birmingham Seaholm, in the state finals last year for Class A runner-up. Last week they fought Seaholm to a 48-59 loss, their first of the season.

And now the two squads meet. Kimball and Grosse Pointe. Each with one loss to Seaholm.

Grosse Pointe's big power will come in the form of depth where as Royal Oak will depend on individual champions for their points. Of course, the Devils will have the advantage of the home pool, a pool hated by the Kimball swimmers.

Can the Grosse Pointe winning streak stand up to the University School Notes

Ground-breaking ceremonies for the Grosse Pointe University School's new science building were held last Friday morning in the area between the older school building and the tennis courts.

Participating in the event were Headmaster Hugh C. Ridgeway, president of the Board of Trustees Alfred R. Glancy Jr., and Joseph L. Hudson, Jr., who is chairman of the "Program for Excellence" committee, which is directing the endowment drive, which, along with the science building, will add a new library, art room, and artificial-ice skating rink to G.P.U.S.

The students and faculty of the Upper School, a number of parents, and several other trustees watched as the brief exercises took place. They heard the three speakers express enthusiasm for the new venture, calling it an historic day in the life of the school. The Rev. Franklin P. Bennett, Jr., of Christ Church, pronounced the benediction.

Seniors Donna Lukov and Julie Munger have won honors as semi-finalists in the Michigan Competitive Scholarship examinations. This gives them the chance to compete in finals which could mean as much as $800 to the winners. Such awards are based, in addition to performance on the examinapower of Kimball? Find out this Friday night, here at 7:30, as one of Michigan's biggest high school meets is fought in one of Michigan's smallest high school pools.

Seven Straight Aim of Knights

The GPUS Knights left Ann Arbor University School's court two months ago depressed after losing their first game of the season. But since then the eagles have won six straight, each time bouncing to an early lead and then strengthening it in the remainder of the game to dazzle the opponents.

And now it's time for Ann Arbor again... the moment of decision. Are the Knights improved enough to handle Ann Arbor? Their big chance comes this Saturday night on the GPUS court at 8:15, as the squads battle on their rematch bout.

Ann Arbor, like GPUS, is operating on a 6 and 1 season record.

On Friday night the Knight squad visits Emmanuel Christian in a second encounter. Earlier Grosse Pointe had desperately worked to break the 100 point mark against E. C. but were stopped at 99 by the final whistle.

Last weekend the Knights picked up another win as they downed St. Francis of Ecorse, 54-46, in a Saturday evening home contest. Harris Brown returned from a week of illness to regain his position as team's top scorer. Wally Gamber snatched 21 rebounds to aid in the Knight victory.

tion, on class rank, financial need, and the student's grades through school. The scholarship granted is renewable annually if the student maintains a "C" average through his college years.

The G.P.U.S. Proscenium Society presented its annual winter show last Friday and Saturday nights in the school auditorium.

The play was Cornelia Otis Skinner's "Nuts in May" directed by Mrs. William Grance, teacher of speech and dramatics. The cast included Connie Nank, Sue Nicols, Greg Watkins, Cleve Thurber, Peter Durant, Hilda Sabato, Judy Peslar, Shael Mathews, Betsey Peabody, Donna Lukov, Sarah Elston, Wayne Pressel, Sally Weaver, Sally Jo Sorock, Sally Duff, Jan Seski, Ronnie Roberts, Steve Gershenson, Woody Sempliner, and John Perkin.

Also playing a significant part backstage in the production of the play were the following students: assistants to the director, Barbara Littler and Lauraine Cain; stage manager, Craig Jennings; lighting, John Mabley and Jan Seski; sound effects, Jim Levey and Matt Zukowski; Stage crew, Craig Jennings, Ray Wattles, Jan Seski, John Mabley; set painting, Craig Jennings, Jan Seski, Ray Wattles, Alesia Bicknell, Bonnie Klein, Toni Truesdale, Kathy McCarroll; properties, Julie Munger (chairman), Lauraine Cain, Kathy McCarroll, Alesia Bicknell, Paula Fischer, Bonnie Klein; make-up, Ann Wattles (chairman), Holly Lomax, Annie Lory Bachrach, Kathy Maschmeyer, Cathy Lilly, Jo Ford; tickets, Ronnie Roberts; faculty advisor for tickets, E. Weaving Driver To Face Court

William L. Dest, 29, of 28948 Boston, St. Clair Shores, received a violation ticket for drunk driving on Friday, January 22, it was disclosed by Shores police.

Patrolman James Jurcak said that he was patrolling Lake Shore road, when he observed Dest going north on the road at about 50 miles an hour, at 1:31 a.m. The officer said that he gave chase.

Dest, the policeman said, was weaving from lane to lane. Jurcak said that he attempted to apprehend the motorist, when Dest stopped for the flashing yellow curve warning light at 1000 Lake Shore, but when he approached, the officer said, Dest made a fast right turn onto Fairlake lane. Dest finally was brought to a halt when Jurcak sped ahead and stopped in front of him.

The patrolman said that Dest staggered when he got out of the car. There was a strong odor on Dest's breath, the policeman added.

The motorist posted bond of $100, pending an appearance in court on February 24.

Council Hears School Plans

Dr. Charles H. Wilson, superintendent of schools, was the main speaker at Monday evening's meeting of the Grosse Pointe PTA Council, held at the Central Library. Topic for the meeting was "Plans for Grosse Pointe High School North."

Dr. Wilson covered many areas relating to the proposed building, including the architect's "charge" by the Board of Education, the cost of the proposed structure, and its main features. He also discussed plans for the renovation and remodeling of the present high school as well as the proposed auditorium and Performing Arts Center. At the close of the meeting he answered some 25 related questions from an interested audience.

The superintendent said that the instructions from the board of education to the architects requested that the new building be designed for future use, that it allow for the best of traditional education while providing for innovation. The Board also wished a practical and esthetically pleasing facility, one that would be well within the financial ability of the community to pay for it.

Property-owning residents of Grosse Pointe will vote Monday, March 22, on two propositions. The first, in the amount of $7,600,000, will cover the cost of the proposed high school and the renovation of the present building. The second, in the amount of $750,000, will finance an auditorium and Performing Arts Center. These figures represent the architect's estimates, as rounded off to the nearest hundred thousand dollars.

At present the total indebtedness of the system is $1.1 million for building purposes. Grosse Pointe's current indebtedness ranks it 36th lowest out of 40 school districts in Wayne County, and even the additional millage will make it approximately 31st lowest out of 40, still in the lowest fourth of metropolitan districts.

The total present millage levied for school purposes, 23.71 mills, puts Grosse Pointe in 22nd place of 42 districts in the county. It is estimated that the proposed addition would move it to 20th, or approximately mid-point on the scale.

Assisted in his presentation by Joe Spagnoli, secondary planning director, Dr. Wilson used a series of charts prepared by the architectural firm of Harley, Ellington, Cowin, and Stirtion. On these he showed the various features to be incorporated into the building. These include:

1. A center wing, or academic area, to be housed on three floors within the 35 foot limit.
2. 65 basic classrooms, ranging in size from 500 to 950 square feet. They will provide 91 teaching stations, compared to 89 in the existing school.
3. Two large instructional areas on the second and third floors to provide space for groups of up to 125 students.
4. Seven seminar areas for small group use.
5. Five centers for independent study.
6. Large areas that can be remodeled quickly at little cost should changing enrollments dictate.
7. Plans for open and closed circuit television conduits.
8. A library approximately the same size as the Wicking Library at Grosse Pointe High School.
9. The vocational shop area planned for a program to teach students an overall understanding of industrial processes.
10. Flexible instructional areas in business education to meet varied demands.
11. Three multi-purpose dining areas served from a single kitchen.
12. Physical education facilities comparable to those at the present Grosse Pointe High School, with a swimming pool.
13. A center for special education which will provide a continuation of the elementary and junior high classes currently offered at Montclair and Brownell.
14. 515 spaces for off-street parking, as well as complete athletic facilities.

In his closing remarks, Dr. Wilson elaborated upon the 800-seat auditorium and Performing Arts Center. He stressed the importance of the facility as an instructional and cultural tool for the entire community.

"It will permit the joint development of instruction in vocal and instrumental music, as well as speech and dramatics programs in classrooms built around the stage. An additional large instructional area will be provided by division of the auditorium into three areas by the use of soundproof folding doors.

"Today the performing arts are vocational as well as cultural in nature. Many Grosse Pointers are interested in music and dramatics as an avocation. It is our conviction that this will become one of the community's most widely appreciated assets," Dr. Wilson said.

He added that although the high school plans include a small theatre with 350 seats, its stage facilities as well as its instructional use would be considerably limited. The superintendent indicated that the auditorium complex would provide an infinitely more useful facility.

Among questions posed by members of the audience were these:

1. What will be the total square footage of the new high school?
2. Will the new building be air conditioned?
3. The three-story academic wing will be air conditioned, with an eye toward expanded summer school offerings or possible year-round use. The cost of this air conditioning is included in Proposition 1. Proposition 2 includes air conditioning for the auditorium complex. Air conditioning is not planned for the 350-seat little theatre, which will not be constructed if voters approve the auditorium.
4. How long will the millage for the high school run? Over a 30-year period.
5. If the proposition for the 800-seat auditorium is defeated, could it be added at a later date?
6. It is doubtful that it could be added, because the little theatre would occupy the location designated for the auditorium.
7. Have provisions been made for expansion of the building? Very definitely. The tract of land adjacent to Morningside Drive will be used for any major expansion, and the main building itself is designed to permit interior alterations with a minimum of effort, should enrollments spiral. Architects have been asked to include plans for future expansion in their current drawings.
8. Could the building be expanded upward?
9. The building will not exceed 35 feet and there is no plan to add a fourth floor on any part of the building.
10. Would the school be less expensive if the three wings were telescoped to provide more room for future expansion?
11. The architects say that such a plan would destroy the beauty of the design and would not reduce the costs materially, since only corridors, which are relatively inexpensive, would be eliminated. Also, the present design permits a better flow and dispersal of students.
12. What area in the new high

What Goes On at Your Library

By Virginia Leonard

Time flies—if I may start out in a bromide vein! It seems impossible that on January 25 our Grosse Pointe Central Library celebrated its twelfth birthday. I have before me the January 22, 1953 issue of the GROSSE POINTE NEWS, which had as its headline: "To Dedicate Library Sunday." On the first page was a large picture of the then-new main reading room, as well as a fine article telling about the dedication ceremonies, some background material on the purchase, building and furnishing of this library. Do you remember?

The Central Library was made possible by gifts of the late D. M. Ferry, Jr. and the late Murray W. Sales. Funds for the furnishings were contributed by Grosse Pointe organizations and individuals, as well as through special appropriation by the Board of Education to help strengthen the book collection. Many gifts were also made through the Friends of the Grosse Pointe Public Library. And do you remember? Marcel Breuer, of New York, was the architect.

I must continue to be nostalgic. I have before me also the Dedication Program for this Library. The ceremony was held at 3 p.m.—the day was a Sunday—the program was under the auspices of the Friends. The number of items on this program is quite impressive. There was a ribbon cutting ceremony, an invocation by Dr. Frank Pitt, various presentations of the furnishings of the different rooms, presentation of art objects, remarks by Robert M. Orr, Director of the Grosse Pointe Public Libraries, introduction of the late Florence H. Severs (who was Director of the Grosse Pointe Library from 1929-1949), introduction of the guest speaker, Ralph A. Ulveling, Director of the Detroit Public Library.

I have good reason to be nostalgic. Having been in the system for 13 years, I was there! I remember all the hectic days of moving, the month of planning, preparation and anticipation. I remember how proud we all felt that at long last we had a brand new library of our own. And after 12 years, those of us who are still on the staff continue to take pride in being a part of such a beautiful library. "I do remember," have passed rapidly and profitably; in the decade plus two to come I am sure we shall forge ahead with the same zest, pride and success that have marked these initial years. It is indeed a happy birthday!

This has certainly been a week to send a Columnist riding off rapidly in multiple directions. First came the thought of commemorating the above-mentioned anniversary event. Then came thoughts of writing something about T. S. Eliot, well-known poet, playwright, critic and essayist. Every magazine and newspaper has been eulogizing him. Who does not remember THE WASTE LAND, MURDER IN THE CATHEDRAL, THE HOLLOW MEN? How could I do better than quote a bit from the January 15 issue of TIME, who wrote their memorial under the caption: "T. S. Eliot: He knew the anguish of the marrow, the agony of the skeleton." In describing Thomas Stearns Eliot, TIME has this to say: "He was born a prairie-state American; he made himself the apotheosis of the cultured, conservative Englishman. He was painfully reserved, with a huge store of natural dignity; he delighted in playing school-boy practical jokes on his friends. The theme of his art was chaos and despair, death-in-life; yet in life he was the model Christian gentleman, kind and good—and in his last years, supremely happy."

From Eliot's poem: WHISPERS OF IMMORTALITY, we quote: "Expert beyond experience, He knew the anguish of the marrow

The agony of the skeleton: No contact possible to flesh Allied the fever of the bone."

As TIME suggests, this could very well be his own epitaph. Another tangent that I was tempted to follow—another illustrious name: the late Winston Churchill. His reputation as statesman, painter, politician, world leader is undisputed. But in our field, it is his renown as a writer to which I would pay tribute. Here was a many-faceted man. His many tomes testify to his remarkable talents. We have all either read or heard of his HISTORY OF THE ENGLISH SPEAKING PEOPLES, his SECOND WORLD WAR, his WHILE ENGLAND SLEPT, just to mention a few titles. His literary works will live on—one of his many contributions to one form of "immortality" which is important in all great people. It constitutes an invaluable legacy.

Writing Course Offered Adults

Creative Writing, taught by Dorothy Jurney, will again be offered by the Department of Community Services of the Grosse Pointe Public School System.

Mrs. Jurney is presently Women's Editor of the Detroit Free Press. Previously she had been Editor for the Miami Herald. She has been six times winner of the General Excellence Award of the Florida Women's Press Club and lecturer for the American Press Institute at Columbia University. In addition, Mrs. Jurney received the University of Missouri J. C. Penny Award for general excellence of Women's pages, and has been a consultant for various newspapers on improving women's pages.

This eight-week course will begin on Thursday, January 28, at 7:30 p.m. Persons wishing to attend must make reservation for a place in the class by calling the Department of Community Services at TUxedo 5-3808 or TUxedo 5-0271.

Letters to the Editor

To The Editor:

I think that the Grosse Pointe City police should start issuing tickets to pedestrian jaywalkers. Last Thursday night, (a shopping night in the Village), I was driving along Kercheval with successive green lights in my favor. At both Notre Dame and St. Clair pedestrians were crossing the street against red lights and as if this were standard procedure, not seeming to care about traffic. Someone unfamiliar with this area and its absent-minded walkers could easily have killed them. Please, pedestrians, follow the rules.

Motorist

school will be large enough for graduation exercises?

The gymnasium will be used, with a portable stage.

10. In addition to the architects and school administrators and Board members, who else had worked on plans?

Both students and teachers were involved in the planning. Every department at the junior and senior high level was represented by teachers on committees that attempted to plan the most desirable building possible. Original plans incorporating all suggested features called for 400,000 square feet, a somewhat unrealistic figure.

11. What modifications are planned in the present high school?

Undersized rooms at the Annex may be enlarged, possibly for vocal music. The present vocal music room may be developed into a study and conference area for the English department. The business education area will be redesigned. The electrical wiring will be modernized. The auditorium will be renovated. Lockers will be replaced where needed. Some larger rooms will be made from smaller ones.

12. What is the cost per square foot of the new building? The figure of $19.00 per square foot includes the cost of air conditioning.

13. What plans are being made to incorporate the structure into the surrounding community?

The Board of Education has employed a traffic expert to study the situation. He is working closely with the municipalities involved. The detailed landscaping of the site will not be planned until passage of the referendum. However, a neighborhood meeting will be called to show what the architect has developed.

14. What are the consequences if the vote is defeated? The Board of Education has no plans if the proposal is defeated because Grosse Pointe needs the facility badly.

15. What about funds for operating the new high school? The March 22 referendum makes no provision for operating funds.

What's New on THE HILL

By SYBIL

ROMANCE mixed with snow flurries is forecast for the Hill. Brides-to-be are registering their gift lists and Valentine's Day is stirring some to seek lovely thoughtful things... others, witty tokens of affection. These days, there's lots of heart-shaped shopping on the Hill.

HANDSOME, classic Roman warrior heads... (copper engraved on heavy glass) salad or dessert plates. The set of eight sell for sixteen dollars at The League Shop, 72 Kercheval. Elegant gift! Stylish on your table!

MERE WHISPERS of Nuit De Longchamp sachet spray in the air surround you with glamour. It comes in a toile patterned container. The sachet, perfume, cologne and drawer liners are at Trail Apothecary Shop, 121 Kercheval.

DECORATIVELY SPEAKING whether you're starting to "build" a room, looking for accessories to complete your home or planning re-carpeting and draperies... the skilled decorators at Denier, 77 Kercheval, take a creative approach and help you achieve the beautiful effects you really want.

REMARKABLE how the soft patina of beloved heirlooms is simulated by Steiff for the Historical Newport Pewter Reproductions, we saw at the Dants, 98 Kercheval. We loved the wooden handled coffee pot with companion sugar and creamer.

THE FAMOUS FLORENTINE craftsman, Guglielmo Cini, designs unique zodiac charms... also, bracelets, earrings, necklaces in fourteen karat gold or antique silver. Perfect foil for a favorite Valentine. Very different... very new at the Sign of the Mermaid, 75 Kercheval.

"Hill" John S. Goodman, Realtor, "For real service, remember?" TUxedo 6-3060.

EXPERIENCE has no substitute. The experience of the prescription specialists at Trail Apothecary Shop, 121 Kercheval, assures you expert, reliable compounding and prompt delivery. TUxedo 1-5888.

WHERE to go on Mondays after February 1st? ON THE HILL, 104 Kercheval, of course! Open for luncheons and dinners... isn't that good news?

MOST CHILDREN grow up normally. For many children, however, the years of childhood bring more fear than fun, more sadness than joy. For those children who have more than their share of difficulty in adjusting to life, help is often hard to find. WOMEN'S PAGES

From Another Pointe of View

By Janet Mueller

By Janet Mueller

Many Pointe breakfast table conversations centered around a unique and exciting project this morning: The American Museum in Britain.

The ladies and gentlemen who heard—and saw—all about the Museum last evening, at the reception given by Mr. and Mrs. Hugo S. Higbie, of Provençal road, in honor of Ian McCallum, the Museum's director, are completely fascinated by the concept of a permanent display of Americana outside the territorial boundaries of the United States.

The Museum is a gift from some private citizens of the States to the people of Great Britain. It opened at Claverton Manor, Bath, in 1961.

Mr. McCallum, an architect who had visited the U.S. a number of times, twice in the capacity of Visiting Critic in the Department of Architecture, Yale University, was appointed Museum director two years before the opening.

He worked closely with the founders of the Museum on the complicated problems of fitting 20 American period rooms and 10 exhibition galleries into an English Georgian Manor House.

Purpose of the Museum is to represent graphically American life from the 17th to the 19th centuries. There are sections devoted to textiles, pewter, glass and folk art, interiors from American eras and areas reproduced in minute detail, and, on the grounds, a replica of Washington's Mount Vernon garden, gift of the Colonial Dames of America.

The National Society of the Colonial Dames of America, State of Michigan, has asked Mr. McCallum to join the festivities Friday evening, at the Grosse Pointe Club, when members entertain their husbands and guests at a black-tie dinner party.

Receiving guests will be president Mrs. Hansel Dwight Wilson and Mr. Wilson, and chairman of hospitality Mrs. J. Vernor Davis and Mr. Davis.

Following dinner, program chairman Mrs. George Ashley Schemm will introduce Donald C. Graves, who has chosen as his topic: "From Town Crier to Television." Mr. and Mrs. William J. Chesbrough, Mr. and Mrs.

John Malcolm Claims Bride

John Parke Malcolm, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Simpson Malcolm, of Barrington road, claimed Donna Gene White as his bride Saturday, at an early afternoon ceremony in St. Mary's Church, Niles, Mich.

The former Miss White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Harris White, of Niles, wore a gown of silk alpaca accented with re-embroidered Alencon lace. Her basque bodice was fashioned with a scoop neckline and long sleeves, and her belled skirt featured a deep band of Alencon lace.

More lace edged her detachable Chapel length train. A silk alpaca and lace headpiece, studded with seed pearls, held in a Chapel train. A short illusion veil fell from her matching lace Chapel cap, and she carried a Missal, covered in white peau de soie.

In floor length frocks, styled with willow green velvet bodices and green faille skirts, were the attendants, maid of honor Patricia Gurski, of Dearborn, and bridesmaids Mrs. Michael Maharry, of Garden City, Mich., Lee Malcolin, Helga Hupp, of Vienna, Austria, and Lesley Anderson, of Ann Arbor.

Their headpieces were veiled willow green velvet circlets, and they carried cascades of tropical greens and white gladiolus.

John C. Hoye served as the bridegroom's best man. Ushers were James L. White, brother of the bride, Michael H. Maharry, David P. Derleth, of Ann Arbor, and Thomas R. Derleth, of Ferndale.

For her daughter's wedding and the reception of the Pickwick Club in Niles, Mrs. White chose a two-piece dress of taupe beige silk. Mrs. Malcolm's two-piece dress was fashioned of cerise silk. Both mothers pinned green cymbidium orchids to their purses.

When they return from a vacation in Nassau, the newlyweds will make their home in Buffalo, N.Y., where the bridegroom is employed as an engineer in the Aerospace Division of Cornell Aeronautical Laboratories.

Building, of Mrs. LLOYD M. DAVIS, of Rivard boulevard.

Carleton-Rousseau Nuptials Celebrated

Pair Travel to Canada after Saturday Rites; Lace Panels Accent of Bridal Gown; Will Live in Detroit

Renee Leone Rousseau and Edmond Roy Carleton, II, exchanged marriage vows Saturday, at an 11 o'clock ceremony in St. Joan of Arc Church.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Frank Rousseau, of Hampton road, wore a gown of ivory peau de soie with Alencon lace bodice detailing.

Lace panels accented her detachable Chapel length train. A silk alpaca and lace headpiece, studded with seed pearls, held in a Chapel train. A short illusion veil fell from her matching lace Chapel cap, and she carried a Missal, covered in white peau de soie.

Maid of honor JoAnne O'Hare, of Camp Hill, Pa., and bridesmaids Mrs. J. Pilliod Tuck, of Swanton, O., and Diane Ivan were dressed identically in floor length gowns featuring brown velvet bodices and candlelight beige brocade skirts.

Their headpieces were beige lace Chapel caps, and they carried cascades of beige cymbidium orchids.

The bridegroom, son of Mrs. Dorothy Carleton, of Detroit, and Edmond Carleton, also of Detroit, asked Jacques Rousseau to serve as best man.

Ushers were Ned Brazelton, James Hahn, James Lapish, of Atlanta, Ga., and Gilbert Mack. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Rousseau chose a bone-colored costume suit with a beige chiffon overblouse and matching accessories. Mrs. Carleton wore a three-piece Chanel style suit in a soft pink shade, and matching accessories.

When they return from their wedding trip to Canada, the new Mr. and Mrs. Carleton will make their home in Detroit.

Academy this Saturday are PAULA FISCHER, daughter of MR. and MRS. PAUL P. FISCHER, of Lakeland avenue, who will be escorted by RICK TOMKINSON, and SUE JENKINS, daughter of MR. and MRS. JEREMIAH JENKS, of University place, whose escort will be BUD FLOYD.

LESTER IRVING HUDSON, son of MR. and MRS. FRED HUDSON, of Lakepointe avenue, will receive his Bachelor of Science in Business degree from Miami University, Oxford, O., at mid-year graduation exercises this Sunday.

DAVID PERKINS, of Ballantyne road, has returned from service in the United States Navy. En. 3(SS) Perkins served on the submarine S.S. Sailfish in New London, Conn.

MR. and MRS. HENRY G. GILDNER, Jr. of Fisher road, announce the birth of a son, GREGORY DALTON, on December 31. Mrs. Gildner is the former JOAN MCKENZIE. The maternal grandparents are former Pointers, MR. and MRS. OATIS DALTON MCKENZIE, now of Tel Aviv, and MR. HENRY G. GILDNER, of Lincoln road are the paternal grandparents.

MR. and MRS. BESHARA J. MABARAK, of Three Mile drive, were honored on their 40th wedding anniversary last Sunday, at a reception given by their daughter and son-in-law, MR. and MRS. F. HARRY WHEATLEY, of Grayton road, who celebrated their 12th wedding anniversary the same day.

Among the guests was the Mabaraks' daughter, MRS. MICHAEL SHATUSKY, who came from San Jose, Calif.

Enjoying a skiing vacation at Boyne Mountain recently were the LEON SEHOVANS, of Colonial road, and their children, BILLY, ALAN and DAVID.

Torch Drive Ladies To View Fashions

Mrs. Bert Cremers, Mrs. Sterling Dockson and Mrs. J. L. Hudson, Jr., Will Model Evenings Gowns at February 15 Show

A colorful glimpse of the newest fashions for Spring and Summer, 1965, will be offered 4,500 women Torch Drive volunteers in recognition of their efforts in the annual "Give Once for All" campaign.

Women for the United Foundation (WUF), a year-round organization of past and present Torch Drive workers, is sponsoring a "Colorama Fashions Show" and thank-you party in cooperation with the Fashion Group of Detroit Inc. at the Fisher Theater on Monday, February 15.

Grosse Pointers included among 25 Torch Drive volunteers who will model evening gowns are Mrs. Bert Cremers, Mrs. Sterling Dockson and Mrs. J. L. Hudson, Jr.

Clothes for daytime wear will be modeled by 25 professional models who are donating their services.

Mrs. Worth Kramer, of Bloomfield Hills, is president of WUF. Chairman of the fashion show committee is Mrs. William H. Frank, of Huntington Woods.

WUF co-chairmen of the event are Mrs. Robert C. Fisher, of Bloomfield Hills, and Mrs. Byron Nichols, of Lakeland Avenue.

Others on the committee are Mrs. Lee A. Iacocca, of Bloomfield Hills, hostess chairman; Mrs. Paul Crider, of Birmingham, and Mrs. Lee A. Hills, of the Whittier, co-chairmen of invitations, and Mrs. Harold J. Schachern, of Detroit, publicity. Genevieve Hazzard, vice-president of Campbell Ewald Co., is president of the Fashion Group which is made up of women in executive and creative jobs in fashions and related fields. She has appointed Mary

Church Women Plan Luncheon

The Women's Society of Christian Service of Grosse Pointe Methodist Church will begin the month of February with a luncheon next Tuesday, at 12:30 o'clock, at the church.

Hostess Circles for the event are Doris White and Susannah Wesley. Devotions will be given by Mrs. Walter Griffith. The program will consist of a guest panel, with students from the American Field Service participating.

All prayer groups will continue meeting at their scheduled times. Church Circles will meet Tuesday, February 16, at their respective times.

Alpha Circle will be entertained by Mrs. Sidney Ochs, of Shoreham road. Her co-hostesses will be Mrs. Robert Hawkins and Mrs. Wendell Nichols.

Doris White Circle will meet at the home of Mrs. H. D. Ralph in Radnor circle. Mrs. Ralph's assistant will be Mrs. Richard Frisbie.

Martha-Mary Circle will gather at Mrs. Maralyn Ruble's Yorkshire road home. Mrs. Ruble will be assisted by Mrs. Burton Tingley.

Mrs. Norman Mooney will open her home in Renaud road to Naomi Circle. Her assistant will be Mrs. Russell Allen.

Rebecca Circle will meet at the Neff road home of Mrs. Charles Stadelman. Mrs. Clifford Boyd will serve as co-hostess.

Mrs. Russell Scot will entertain Ruth Circle at her Moorland drive home, assisted by Mrs. Kenneth Leipprand and Mrs. Harry Ibler.

Susannah Wesley Circle will be entertained by Mrs. Ralph Rupp, of Beaconsfield road. Miss Joyce Davidson and Miss Grace Simmons will assist Mrs. Rupp.

Mrs. Wallace Brownson is chairman of the Hat and Blouse party scheduled Friday, February 26, at 9:30 o'clock, at the church.

Hold Sigma Gamma Meeting on Saturday

Mrs. Longyear Palmer Receives Laura Butler Higbie Memorial Award; Junior Presidents Report on Year's Work

The annual meeting of the Sigma Gamma Association was held Saturday, January 23, in the Fries Auditorium of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

Mrs. Joseph Spitzley is the newly-elected president of the Association.

Other officers are Mrs. William Wotherspoon, first vice-president; Mrs. Ronald Haughton and Mrs. John Standish, assistant secretaries; and Mrs. Gerald Warren, assistant treasurer.

Continuing in office are Miss Carole Williams, second vice-president; Mrs. Marion Scott, recording secretary; Mrs. Gordon Maitland, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. John Durno, treasurer.

Highlights of the meeting included reports from the Bloomfield Hills and Grosse Pointe Junior presidents. Sigma Gamma founded and sponsors the Detroit Orthopaedic Clinic, a Torch Drive Agency.

During the year, Junior members worked on the Association's benefit for the Detroit Orthopaedic Clinic's department of Education and Research, assisted with addressing and filing at the Clinic, served as Clinic hostesses for Torch Drive functions, and began preparations for their coming June bazaar.

Recipient of the Laura Butler Higbie Memorial Award for distinguished service to the Association was Mrs. Longyear Palmer.

Mrs. Palmer joined Sigma Gamma in 1911. She served as president in 1933-34, was a trustee of the Detroit Orthopaedic Clinic from 1935 to 1939, and served as an advisor to the Trustee Board.

Mrs. James Humphreys, Jr., and Mrs. Thomas Muer received the Association Board of Directors Awards. Sheila Walsh and Karen Christiansen each received a Junior Award.

Following the awards presentation "Labor of Love," a sound strip film on Sigma Gamma and the Detroit Orthopaedic Clinic was shown. Joey Sutika, Torch Drive Lighter from the Clinic, was introduced to the membership.

Mrs. William Dance and her committee served tea after the formal close of the meeting.

Woods Garden Club To Meet

Members of the Grosse Pointe Woods Garden Club will gather Tuesday, February 2, at the Hawthorne road home of Mrs. Edward Groth. Mrs. Faunte Gibson will serve as co-hostess.

The program will consist of a workshop, devoted to making Valentine decorations for the Psychiatric Ward at Herman Kiefer Hospital.

Clark Women's Club To Meet Next Monday

Clark Women's Club will meet at Christ Methodist Church on Monday, February 1, at 1 o'clock. A tea and social hour will precede a short business meeting.

Speaker Glenn Burland, of Charles W. Warren & Co. has chosen as his topic "Table Top Talk." Table settings of fine china, silver and crystal will be displayed, as well as some Stueben glass.

The engagement of NANCY CLAY to Gerald Trece has been announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Clay, of Van Antwerp road.

Miss Clay is in her junior year at Central Michigan University. Her fiance, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Trece, of Monroe, Mich., is a junior at Ferris State College.

St. Paul Ladies Meet Monday

The regular meeting of the St. Paul's Altar Society will be held Monday, February 1, at 1:30 o'clock in the Parish House.

The speaker, a representative of Catholic Social Services, will discuss "Parent-Teacher Communication." This all-important subject should be of interest to all women with children in school since, if learning is to be efficient, channels of communication must be maintained through which teachers and parents can plan together.

At the heart of many problems lies neglect of communication. Program Chairman Mrs. C. A. Wollenzin, Jr., hopes that this speaker will enlighten those who have school problems and prepare others to avoid any future problems.

Following the program, the St. Joseph Study Club will hostess the tea hour. Mrs. John Lisee is chairman and Mrs. Albert Ghesquire is co-chairman.

Assisting will be Mrs. Thomas A. Blessing, Mrs. Emmett Eagan, Mrs. J. A. DeSantis, Mrs. Marvin Walters, Mrs. John Huettnerman, Jr., Mrs. John McCormick, Mrs. Robert Niederoest, Mrs. Peter Dunn and Mrs. Paul McNally.

Real Estate Law Course Offered

A practical course in "Business and Real Estate Law" will be offered by the Department of Community Services, Grosse Pointe Public School System.

Eight weeks in length, the course will begin Thursday, February 4, at 7:30 p.m. The instructor will be Daniel Hodgeman.

Mr. Hodgeman is a practicing attorney, specializing in the field of real estate.

All prospective students must register by calling the Department of Community Services at TU 5-3808 or TU 5-0271; enrollment in the class is limited.

Dominican High Parents to Meet

The regular monthly meeting of the Mothers' and Fathers' Clubs at Dominican High School will be held on Wednesday, February 3, at the school.

Mrs. Neil Patterson, program chairman, has arranged to have as guest speakers, Father John J. Kirvan whose topic will be "The Church and the Secular College."

Father Kirvan belongs to the Paulist Order and is presently the Chaplain of the Newman Club at Wayne State University.

In the past he has served at Catholic Information Centers in Boston, Baltimore and Grand Rapids, and at the Newman Club of the University of Maryland.

He has written several pamphlets and articles for such national Catholic publications as "The Sign," "Commonwealth," and "Ave Maria." He also has been heard on NBC's "Catholic Hour" and the CBS "Church of the Air."

His talk will give an insight into the challenges faced by the Catholic student on a secular campus and the part that the Newman Club is playing in providing spiritual help, moral guidance and social contacts.

Slate Snow Ball At DBC Saturday

The Detroit Boat Club will usher in the '65 social season Saturday evening, at the traditional "Snow Ball" first formal party of the year.

Decor will be "frosty," featuring white, feathery, glittering vines with hanging crystal icicles in the lobby and white vines plus a large glitter ball formed by huge snow flakes suspended in the center of the ballroom.

Cocktails at 7 o'clock will be followed by dinner and dancing to the music of Earl Perkins and his orchestra.

Party chairmen are Mr. and Mrs. Leland W. Foster. Committee members include the Lawrence H. Becks, Daniel W. Carnes, Earl G. Meyers, Milton B. Osgoods, William J. Ritchies and Arthur O. Schmidts.

Lutheran Couples Class Plans Party on Saturday

The Couples Class of First English Evangelical Lutheran Church, Vernier road, will hold a card party at the church on Saturday, January 30 at 8 o'clock. Married couples of all ages and their friends are welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. Lew Ritz, chairmen for the event, will be happy to take your reservation. Call LA 7-9619. The cost is $3 per couple.

DAC Bowlers Mark Fiftieth Anniversary

John Cooley Is Chairman of Celebrations; Ladies Have Chance to Test Their Aim on the Alleys

The big day in 1965 for Detroit Athletic Club bowlers and their ladies is coming up on Saturday, January 30, and will not only play a large part in kicking off the club's Golden Jubilee Year, (along with a host of other January events), but will actually celebrate the DAC bowlers VERY OWN 50th birthday.

How about that? Fifty continuous years of league competition and good fellowship! And more than 600 are expected to attend.

John Cooley, of Shoreham road, is chairman for the evening, assisted by Fred Rollins, Jr., of Birmingham.

The club's 15 leagues will literally take over the DAC for an evening of gaiety geared to a mighty fast moving program which, of course, will begin with cocktails in the gym at 6 o'clock.

With the evening on split second timing, dinner will be served at 7:30 o'clock in both the Main Dining Room and the Georgian Room to guests seated at League tables.

Intermittent dancing in the Pontchartrain Room to the music of Warner Ruhl's orchestra will be provided from 7 until midnight. But at 10 o'clock (sharp), the entertainment, an hour of music, will begin featuring Earl Wrightson and Lois Hunt, who were heard many times on radio's Firestone Hour, and Joe Sodja, world famous guitarist.

Anyhow, the whole black tie evening is a pile of fun and winds up in the Abbey, decked for anniversary banners, at midnight with "snacks on the house."

Self-made obstacles keep many from striking their stride.

Nancy Marie Berteel Marries Eugene Stys

Pair to Live in Detroit Upon Their Return from Chicago; Attendants Wear Green Faile Gowns, Carry Pink Sweetheart Roses

In a floor length gown of ivory peau de soie, with lace appliques, seed pearls and crystals accenting bodice and skirt, Nancy Marie Berteel spoke her wedding vows to Eugene L. Stys.

Father Leonard P. Wallace officiated at the double ring ceremony Saturday morning in St. Paul's on the Lakeshore.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert M. Berteel, of Radnor circle. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Stys of Detroit.

The bride's beau de soie Chapel length train flowed from her waist and was tied with a bow in front.

A double tiered crown of seed pearls, crystals and lace applique held her fingertip illusion veil, and she carried a bouquet of white roses, centered with a white orchid corsage.

Claire Berteel was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Cheryl Berteel, another sister; Gail Phillips, Susan Schumacher and Mrs. Florence Yuran, sister of the bridegroom.

They wore identical floor length gowns of willow green acetate faile, with handmade green petal hats. Their costumes were accented by bouquets of pink Sweetheart roses. Flower girl Cathy Yuran, the bridegroom's niece, chose a pink and white floor length frock fashioned like the dresses of the adult attendants. She carried a basket of pink Sweetheart roses.

Edward Stys, of South Miami, Fla., served as his brother's best man. Seating the guests were Steve Revak, John Harvey, Thomas Rogers and William Dixon.

For her daughter's wedding and reception at the Knights of Columbus Hall, Gabriel Richard Council, in Warren avenue, Mrs. Berteel chose a light pink street length dress with a matching jacket. Silver bugle beads accented her bodice.

Mrs. Stys wore a street length gown of dusty blue lace over taffeta, with coordinating accessories. Both mothers wore orchid corsages.

After a short wedding trip to Chicago, the new Mr. and Mrs. Stys will make their home in Detroit.

At a 12:30 o'clock Nuptial Mass in St. Paul's on the Lakeshore Saturday, PATRICIA MARIE BERARD, daughter of the Ulic H. Berards, of McKinley avenue, spoke her marriage vows to Mr. Brown, son of the Sherburne C. Browns, of Neff road.

Brown-Berard Rites Celebrated Saturday

Bride's Silk-Faced Satin Gown Features Pearl and Crystal Bodice Embroidery; Pair to Live in Rivard Boulevard

Patricia Marie Berard was married to Robert Brown Saturday, in St. Paul's on the Lakeshore.

The Reverend Father William J. Downey officiated at the 12:30 o'clock Nuptial Mass, which was followed by a reception at the Detroit Athletic Club.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ulic H. Berard, of McKinley avenue. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sherburne C. Brown, of Neff road.

Crystal and pearl embroidery accented the bodice of the bride's silk-faced satin dress. Her belled skirt ended in a chapel train, and her headpiece, a pearl-embellished silk-faced satin pillbox, caught a bouffant illusion veil.

She carried an arrangement of white roses and stephanotis, accented with ivy. Mrs. Jerome Shulee served as her sister's matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Ellen Houlihan, Mrs. James Lass, Mrs. Carl Anderson and Mrs. Charles Carr, of Saginaw.

The attendants wore identical floor length gowns of royal blue chiffon. Their Empire waistlines were defined by matching velvet ribbons, clasped at the front with blue crystal pins. Their headpieces were matching pillboxes with attached illusion veiling, and their bouquets were clusters of white carnations, ivy and velvet ribbon. Dr. Sherburne C. Brown, of Southampton, Long Island, served as his brother's best man. In the usher corps were Ulic J. Berard, brother of the bride, David Belfore, Charles R. Mueller, David Bayne and William Maas.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Berard chose a dress of pale blue peau de soie with a lace bodice. She pinned a lavender orchid to her matching jacket. Her headpiece was a blending collection of floral sprays.

Mrs. Brown's dress of kelly green skinner satin featured a white, overblouse with red, green and white beading circle of Saginaw. Her accessories complemented her gown, and she pinned a white orchid to her handbag.

Bull Planned By Single Set

Valentines will be the theme of the Center Club's February dance at 9 p.m. at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

The Center Club is organized to provide social affairs for young single people in the Grosse Pointe area who are in their twenties and thirties. The first Friday of each month is set aside for their parties at 32 Lake Shore.

Each dance is usually preceded by a Dutch treat cocktail party at a private home and followed by an afterglow in the neighborhood. All young single people are invited, but only those on the Center's mailing list get reminder invitations and notices of activities between dance dates.

NANCY STEPHENSON, a freshman at Michigan State University, recently pledged Alpha Delta Pi. Nancy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. JACK STEPHENSON of East William court.

Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald R. Denomme, of McKinley avenue, have announced the engagement of their daughter, JEANNE MARY, to Peter Burdard Bogle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Charles Bogle, of St. Clair Shores.

The announcement was made at a small family gathering at the home of the bride-elect.

Miss Denomme attended the University of Detroit and was graduated from MacLean College. Her fiancé was graduated from Williams College, Williamstown, Mass., and received his Masters degree from the University of Michigan.

AAUW Groups Plan Activities

Past, present and prospective members of the Recent Graduate group of the Grosse Pointe Branch of the American Association of University Women will gather for a Court Whist party at the Michigan Consolidated Gas Company Hospitality Center in Kercheval avenue at 8 o'clock Tuesday, February 2.

The rules of Court Whist, a very simplified version of bridge, will be explained before the game starts. Co-hostesses were Mrs. Lawrence Sullivan and Mrs. John Cooper will serve dessert.

Mrs. Frank Zinn, chairman of the Recent Graduate group, says this is a good opportunity for members to get better acquainted. She urges anyone interested in the group to attend. Membership in the group is open to women who have graduated from qualified colleges and universities within the last 10 years.

Additional information about membership in AAUW may be obtained from Mrs. Zinn, TU 1-0784, or AAUW Membership Chairman Mrs. Urban Boesch, 886-4692.

The Creative Writing Group will meet at the home of Mrs. Clayton Dietrich, in Kensington road at 12:45 o'clock on Wednesday, February 3.

"Economic Changes in Today's Japan" will be described at the meeting of the International Relations group on Thursday, February 4, at 1 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Sheldon Drennen, of Lakecrest lane. Mrs. Harvey Wagner will describe how a selected group of Americans and Japanese feel about policies which are bringing about changes in Japan. Mrs. Arthur Hillegas is co-hostess.

Encore of Grosse Pointe Moved to New Location

Tucked away behind a white and black awning and a smart facade is the ENCORE OF GROSSE POINTE SHOPPE at its new location 15114 Kercheval, between Lakepointe and Maryland, opening on Tuesday, February 2nd.

ENCORE is filled with a wide selection of nearly new and manufacturers samples. ENCORE — specializes in high style and top quality dresses, suits and coats at a fraction of the original cost. Also a large selection of the latest costume jewelry is available.

Here, in an intimate smart atmosphere, where coffee is served, you browse at your leisure. You can select just the right silhouette for your individual type of figure.

ENCORE also accepts better clothes for consignment. Come in and speak to Mrs. Shore regarding ENCORE's attractive plan. Closed Mondays.

Special Carnegie Course Being Offered to Women

After years of Dale Carnegie presentations at the Center, for the first time beginning with a demonstration Monday, February 8 at 8 p.m., the Grosse Pointe War Memorial will offer the Dorothy Carnegie Course designed strictly for women. Attendance at the demonstration meeting, February 8th is open to the public, free, and in no way obligates one. Classes will begin the following week, Monday, February 15, continuing weekly on Monday evenings from 7 to 10:15 o'clock through May 10.

Panel presentations of aspects of poison are scheduled simultaneously from 10:30 to 12:30 o'clock, in Rooms 2043, 3042, 3043 and 3044.

There will be discussions on Accidental Home Poisonings, Pesticides and Plants, Food, (Handle With Care), and Drugs, (Their Use and Abuse).

Lunch is scheduled at 12:45 o'clock, in the River Room. Luncheon speakers will be Mrs. Edward Henkel, Jr., chairman, Junior League of Detroit Poison Prevention Patrol, and George T. Daughters, director, Detroit District, United States Food and Drug Administration. Eleanor Ordway, chief, Consumer Division, Food and Drug Directorate, Health and Welfare Department of Canada, will talk on "Poison Knows No Boundaries" at 1:30 o'clock. Panel moderators' reports will be featured at the final session of the day, "Progressive Poison Education Combats the Problem," at 2 o'clock. Diane McLane Place, Consumer Specialist, United States Food and Drug Administration, will serve as chairman of the session.

Garden Group Has Luncheon

The Garden Group of the Grosse Pointe Woman's Club scheduled a double treat for members and guests yesterday, when it sponsored a pot-luck luncheon followed by Dr. Hugh Stalker's program on "Gardens of Europe."

Hostess for the affair was Mrs. Vene Whims, of Crestwood road.

The Club's telephone bridge party is scheduled for next Wednesday, February 3.

Might be supposed to make right, but don't count on it.

Sort Tickets For Dinnerama

Members of the St. Joseph Auxiliary of the Little Sisters of the Poor, who staff the Burtha Fisher Home for the Aged at Southfield and Outer Drive, are planning a "Dinnerama" this Saturday at the Detroit Yacht Club. Cocktails at 7 o'clock will be followed by dinner and a movie. MRS. WOODROW LAMB, of Cook road, (left), and MRS. JOHN FALLON, of York-shire road, area chairmen for Dinnerama, are pictured as they sort tickets for the affair. Funds realized via the party will be used to help pay for the sprinkling system to be installed at the Burtha Fisher Home as a precaution against fire hazards. Dinnerama co-chairmen are Mrs. David Horlick and Mrs. John Raymond.

Dental Auxiliary Plans Big Ball

The Detroit District Dental Auxiliary has scheduled its annual fund raising event—the "Millionaire's Ball"—Saturday, February 13, at The Whittier Hotel.

Dentists of Detroit will don black ties and escort their wives to an evening of cocktails and dinner, dancing to the music of the Blue Notes and relaxed entertainment in the "casino."

All proceeds will be donated to the children at Detroit Orthopaedic Hospital and Dental Aid.

Pointe chairman for the event is Mrs. Robert Skau, of Washington road, assisted by co-chairmen Mrs. Thomas Singelyn, of Grayton road, and Mrs. Murray Clark, of Country Club drive.

John G. Garlinghouse, Mr. and Mrs. W. Brace Krag, the James A. Lafers and the James Standarts plan to entertain at cocktails at the club before dinner.

Returning To Yesterday's Reception...

Mr. McCallum discussed his project informally and showed slides of Museum exhibits to the assembled guests. The Higbys hosted a dinner in his honor earlier in the evening.

Others entertaining at dinner parties before the reception were Mrs. John Warren, of Elm court, Mr. and Mrs. Gaylord Gillis, Jr., of Merriweather road, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Simmons, of Merriweather road, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Evans, Jr., of Oldbrook lane.

Among those gathered at the Higbys' were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Buhl, Jr., the Douglas Campbells, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Ford and Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Goodenough.

More were Dr. and Mrs. Stewart Hudson, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Hudson, Jr., Mrs. Sidney T. Miller, Mrs. Allan Sheldon, Mr. and Mrs. Otis U. Walker and Detroit Institute of Arts Director Willis Woods and Mrs. Woods.

Ian McCallum is in Detroit as part of a coast-to-coast tour to talk with present Friends of the Museum and to acquaint other interested groups with the story of the American Museum in Britain.

Chairman of the Detroit Committee for the Museum is Mrs. Harold A. Beatty, of McKinley avenue.

Committee members include Mrs. Howard Smith, Mrs. Walter B. Ford, II, Mrs. Lawrence Fleischman, Mrs. John B. Warren, Mrs. John N. Lord, Robert Tannahill, the Hugo Higbys, Mrs. Henry Clyde Johnson and Mrs. Gaylord Gillis, Jr.

Tau Beta To Reminisce

Tau Beta Association members will re-live nearly 64 years of progress and dedication through slides and movies at their annual meeting Monday evening.

The entertainment will follow dinner in the Crystal Ballroom of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial at 7 o'clock, and the election of officers and trustees for 1965.

Mrs. Henry M. Campbell, III, of Kenwood road, is the retiring president. Mrs. Hilary H. Micou, Jr., of Moran road, is in charge of arrangements.

Eerie Evenings

Ghosts and other assorted apparitions will materialize on stage at The Players Playhouse tonight and Friday and Saturday evenings.

Source of all this extra-terrestrial activity is The Fine Arts Society of Detroit, presenting the second show of its 1964-65 season, Noel Coward's "Blithe Spirit."

Pointers in the cast of this "improbable farce" include Gail Schollenberger, Mrs. John Denler, Harold Emmons, Jr., and Mrs. Erich Schneider. The producers, also Pointers, are Mr. and Mrs. William J. Dennes.

Dinner in 'Italy'

The first of Grosse Pointe Hunt Club's monthly parties for 1965—A Night in Italy—is scheduled this Saturday.

Strolling troubadours will entertain during the cocktail hour, beginning at 7 o'clock, dinner will feature a complete "Italiane menu," and Eddie Santini's Orchestra will provide music for dancing.

Host and hostess are Mr. and Mrs. David Amory. Among the guests will be Mr. and Mrs. John Kirlin, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thomson and the Edwin Peabodys.

DR. and MRS. ALEX DOMIN of Rivard boulevard recently returned from a trip to Mexico. Among the places they visited was Alcapulco.

Inside The Mothers' Club

The first meeting of the Mothers Club of the Grosse Pointe High School in 1965 took place January 4 at 1:15 p.m. in the Teachers' Dining Room. Mrs. Robert Clarke, President, opened the business agenda with her report on the intervening month's business.

Mrs. Charles Zentgraf, corresponding secretary presented a letter mailed to 811 11th Grade parents, inviting them to attend an informational meeting at the High School on January 12 at 7:30 p.m. The purpose of the meeting was to supply information regarding college and testing requirements for college.

This meeting was co-sponsored by the Mothers' Club and the counselors of the High School. Jerry Gerich, faculty advisor, announced that the school library will be opened Mondays through Thursday evenings from 6:30-8:30 p.m. for the use of students.

Mrs. William Munro, Membership Chairman, reported there is now a paid membership in the Club of 1300.

Mrs. Thomas Petty, Play representative, said $1,238 came from the production of "Arsenic and Old Lace," and the money goes into the scholarship fund of the Mothers Club.

Dr. James Robertson, Associate Dean of the College of Literature, Science and the Arts.

Mrs. Robert Brines, Bus Chaplain, expressed concern at the lack of school spirit shown by attendance at inter-school games. She asked why? Too many studies, cars, or motivations.

Mrs. Kennard Jones is chairman of the Nominating Committee and is assisted by Mrs. Charles Zentgraf, Mrs. Robert Christian, Mrs. William Pankhurst, and Mrs. Richard Hinks. Mrs. Jones will be pleased to hear from any mothers, who have suggestions for next year's slate of officers.

Cooking Classes Aimed at Adults

From pate de foie gras to hamburgers for two, your culinary talents—and taste—will be satisfied by one of the many Cooking Classes offered by the Department of Community Services, Grosse Pointe Public School System.

Cooking Classes offered for the winter semester will include French Cooking, (Beginning and Advanced), Cooking for Two, Party Cooking and Food Decoration. In all classes, students will not only be instructed in different types of meal preparation, but will be able to sample the fruits of their labor at the conclusion of each class period.

French Cooking will be offered on both the Beginning and Advanced level, and once again the instructor will be Chef George Marchand. Mr. Marchand is currently instructing Chef at Chadsey High School, where he trains apprentice chefs for hotel work; he has previously been Sous Chef at the Detroit Athletic Club.

Beginning French Cooking, to start on Thursday, February 4, and the advanced class, to begin Tuesday, February 2, will both be 10 week courses, meeting at 7 p.m. for a period of three hours each meeting. In both classes, the preparation of entrees and side dishes will be featured.

Cooking for Two is especially designed to help the bride or new homemaker become familiar with the preparation of basic foods, as well as to assist the more experienced homemaker, whose meal planning must be scaled down to the needs of a smaller family.

Mrs. Ruth Engle, who received her Master's degree from the University of Wisconsin in Home Economics and Foods and Nutrition, will instruct this eight week course beginning Thursday, February 4, at 7:30 p.m.

Party Cooking and Planning is a six week course covering short cuts to simple and successful preparation of menus and foods for entertaining.

Party menus, table settings, and "quickies" foods will be covered by the instructor, Mrs. Julie Green. Mrs. Greene has been associated with the Detroit Edison Company as a Home Service Advisor. This class will begin Monday, February 15, at 7:30 p.m.

Food Decoration began Wednesday, January 27, for a period of eight weeks. Mrs. Arlean Yost, the instructor, has taught with the Detroit Public School System for 11 years.

She will cover the techniques of decorating canapés, sandwiches, and many foods for such special occasions as cocktail parties, birthday celebrations and showers. Of special interest to young mothers and grandmothers will be Mrs. Yost's methods for making fancy children's candies, which will also be covered in this course.

Further information regarding the various cooking classes may be obtained by calling the Department of Community Services at TU 5-3808 or TU 5-0271. Prospective students are urged to register as soon as possible by calling this number, as all classes are limited in size.

Officers Are Installed By Polish Aid Society

New officers of the Polish Aid Society were installed yesterday at a luncheon at The Kingsley Inn in Bloomfield Hills.

President of the group is Mrs. John J. Barc. Mrs. Frank Hodges serves as first vice-president, Mrs. Anthony Wysocki as second vice-president and Miss Halina Segota as recording secretary.

Other officers include Mrs. Theofil Sadowski, financial secretary, and Mrs. Henry Wisniewski, treasurer. Members of the Board of Trustees are Mrs. Andrew Gadowski, Mrs. Simon Walkowiak and Mrs. Albert Bonczak.

The Society has allocated funds for psychiatric consultations and psychological testing for youngsters who attend Harper Community House. A spring luncheon and fashion show is scheduled May 26, at the J. L. Hudson Company.

Money talks—and some fellows make every dollar count.

Discuss Post-O-Gram Project

The Post-O-Gram project of the United Community Services' Tribute Fund occupies the attention of, (left to right), MRS. H. LLOYD PATTERSON, of Bishop road, MRS. GILBERT H. WHELDEN, of Park lane, MRS. WALTER A. CROW, of Berkshire road and, displaying a Post-O-Gram, MRS. E. I. BOOK, of Oxford road. The ladies gathered recently at the Tribute Fund Committee's annual meeting. Post-O-Grams are sold by the committee to provide funds for emergency aid in cases where no other resources are available.

Local Alpha Phi Alums Plan Bridge Party Series

The Grosse Pointe Alpha Phi Alums are busy boning up on their bridge these days in preparation for their big fund raising project for the 1964-65 season. Their target date for the mastery of Charles Goren is the week of February 8 and the occasion is a series of telephone bridge parties in 14 of the alumnae homes.

Mrs. Allan Neef is chairman of the project and will open her home to a group on Tuesday, February 9. Hostessing there will be Mrs. Murray Hentgen and Mrs. George Schoof. Other homes open will be those of Mrs. Donald Becker, Mrs. Herbert Buhler, Mrs. Robert Collins, Mrs. Albert Charles, Mrs. Richard Dietz, Mrs. Alan Devine, Mrs. Sue Fraser, Mrs. W. James Mast, Mrs. Samuel Ulmer, Mrs. J. A. Kerns, Mrs. W. F. LePla, Mrs. Millard Smith, and Mrs. Syd Reynolds.

Proceeds from the parties will go to cardiac aid, Alpha Phi's national philanthropy. During the past two years $3,550 has been given to Children's Hospital in Los Angeles and $3,530 to the University of Minnesota Heart Hospital. From October, 1961 through October, 1963, $85,078.68 was raised for American Heart; $8,129.87 for local projects; $8,415.32 to Alpha Phi Cardiac Aid Fund.

The grand total since the project started in 1946 is more than $700,000. For the 1962-63 period, 80 alumnae groups reported having participated in a Cardiac Aid Project. This year to date 46 groups have reported. So they have high hopes of being on their way to another successful year.

'Buxom Belles' Invited To Become 'Svelte Sues'

The Buxom Belle Club has just started a new chapter, and invites Pointe ladies with weight problems to come to the Tyrone School, Littlestone and Tyrone streets in Harper Woods, at 8 o'clock Wednesday evenings.

Aim of the organization is to help women with weight problems by group therapy, similar to methods used by AA or Recovery, Inc. For further information, contact Mrs. Helen Krebs, LA 7-2207.

Back from a winter holiday in Florida and Nassau are the WILLIAM SCHUMACHERS, of Harvard road.

Offer Course On Politics

A non partisan course in Practical Politics will be offered for a nominal registration charge of $2 to Grosse Pointe Women at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial on Mondays, beginning February 8.

Ladies may sign up for nine workshop sessions either mornings from 10-12 or afternoons from 1-3. The course is offered under the auspices of the United States Chamber of Commerce which publishes all the texts and materials, available at $3.

This is a basic course designed to help citizens understand the organization and operation of political parties. The following subjects will be covered: the individual in politics, party organization, composition of precincts, political campaigns, political clubs, leadership problems and relation of politics and business.

The course will be set up in workshop fashion with discussion groups led by Mrs. James A. Wilson and Mrs. Harvey C. Fruehauf, Jr. Each series will be limited to approximately 20 members. Those interested are asked to register at the Center as soon as possible.

Local Garden Club to Meet

Members of the Windmill Pointe Garden Club will gather February 3 for a 12:30 o'clock luncheon meeting at the Pemberton road home of Mrs. Virgil Walling.

Program chairman Mrs. Frank Wilton has arranged to have Mrs. Harold Fremaine lecture to the group on Landscape Design.

Thomas Platz To Claim Bride

Thomas Platz and Maryclaire Lawlor are planning an April 24 wedding in College Point, Long Island.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Mrs. Michael Lawlor, of College Point, and the late Mr. Lawlor.

Her fiancé is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elwood T. Platz, of Lothrop road.

Grace Hospital Auxiliary

The Women's Auxiliary to the Grace Hospital will hold a luncheon and meeting at the Women's City Club at 12 o'clock on February 2. Dr. Gertrude Z. Gass will speak on "The Role of Women Whose Husbands Are in a Helping Profession."

GOP Club Hears About Evolution

Speaking before the Women's Republican Club of Grosse Pointe, Dr. John N. Moore, Associate Professor of Natural Science at Michigan State University and noted lecturer and author, said "Organic evolution is not fact, but is only a guess."

In a revealing, if not startling address entitled "Indoctrination in our Lives", Dr. Moore stated that Western civilization had been indoctrinated with materialistic concepts for 400 years. Using an impressive bibliography, he documented the influence of materialism since Darwin's theory of evolution in 1859 gave impetus to the doctrine. He used a series of logical argument to show that Darwin's theory formed the foundation of the Fabian thinking of the early twentieth century, which in turn has permeated the fields of religion, education, economics, politics, and the literary arts, as well.

Dr. Moore pointed to a long list of books which would help the inquiring mind seek out information that leading scientists today are disputing the teaching of Darwin's idea as fact and are saying that evolution should be taught as theory only, at all school levels. He repeatedly referred to the book recently published by the Veritas Foundation of Harvard graduates, "The Great Deceit" as being worthy of investigation. He called upon his audience as women and mothers to defend the right of today's children to be taught truth rather than fallacy.

Interested persons may find out about Dr. Moore's bibliography by telephoning the Education Committee, TU 4-8843.

Second Graders Raise $52 for SS Hope Fund

Mrs. Lillian Seegers' second grade class at Richard School, recently held a rummage sale. The proceeds, approximately $52 were donated to the SS Hope fund.

The SS Hope is a medical hospital ship that visits ports in all parts of the world, and is staffed by outstanding United States physicians and surgeons. The rummage sale was an educational experience. The children worked in committees, priced articles and made change, getting social studies and arithmetic experience.

The class also made favors that were sold at a bazaar last fall to help the fund.

Science Editor At Town Hall

Walter Sullivan, science editor of the New York Times, will discuss "Is There Intelligent Life Beyond the Earth" when he appears at Detroit Town Hall February 3.

The program will be at 11 a.m. in Fisher Theater. Sullivan, who wrote the definitive book on Antarctica, "Quest for a Continent," after four major expeditions there, is also author of the newly-released "We Are Not Alone."

In this narrative he has put together the story of why scientists believe other intelligent societies exist within communicable range of the world and how we may go about making contact.

Walter Sullivan's ability to translate difficult technical information into terms the layman can readily understand and appreciate has made him one of the most highly regarded of the writers and speakers on these topics.

A task finished today is worth dozens planned for tomorrow.

Pointe Boat Club Planning Party

The Grosse Pointe Boat Club has scheduled its Wintertime Dance Party Saturday, February 6, beginning at 8:30 o'clock, at the Alger Post in St. Paul avenue.

Austin Mothers Discuss Fiesta

Plans for the annual Fall Fiesta were unfolded at yesterday evening's meeting of the Austin Mothers' Club in the school cafeteria.

Following the business session, "Strictly for Laughs," a sketch spoofing parliamentary law, was presented by the Wayne Eastern Deanery Players. The hilarious proceedings were introduced by Mrs. Joseph Price, Mothers' Club president.

Favors are always charged up with high interest attached.

This is the wine to serve... when you want your good taste to show

Cask Cream Sherry caters to the whims of discriminating tastes. Little wonder. Cask Cream Sherry is a full bodied, amber-gold wine, rich in rare fragrance, and filled with a nut-sweet flavor all its own. And Cask Cream Sherry is so fittingly "right" for so many pleasant occasions. You'll find this delightful between meals, or in cordiality. Ask for Cask Cream Sherry at your favorite liquor

BY APPOINTMENT

SET FAR AND AWAY . . . and is far and away one of the finest houses on magnificent Lake Shore Road. This brand new offering which is ready for your furnishings. A smaller house with mansi-sized rooms and the latest and best of everything. The master suite is located on the first floor, and there are three more bedrooms and two more bathrooms up. Why go through the bother of building when your dream house may already be a reality?

ON LINCOLN ROAD, and two full second floor baths, a step-down paneled library and separate dining room. be the first and you may be the only one who sees this new listing. It won't last long.

THIS ONE SPEAKS for itself. Its distinctive appearance from the street calls you inside to see more. Once there you'll be amazed how the house "opens up" with a large proportioned living room and library leading from the paneled foyer. There is a step-down dining room, and large screened terrace which is so located that it provides access to both the living and dining rooms. Upstairs are five bedrooms for the family, and two more over the heated garage for stay-in help or more family. Full attic for storage, and a basement which is ideal for kids, with a playroom, billiards room, and built-in barbecue. Situated on more than two hundred feet of frontage on Lewiston Road.

A HOT ITEM in 1963 and 1964 and we'll venture that this kind of house will be just as attractive a package to sell in 1965. The co-op town house is no longer a new thing in Grosse Pointe, but in the past they have been snapped up by eager buyers within days after they have been offered. On Rivard Boulevard we will be happy to show you one of the best examples of what we are talking about. In this terrace are five bedrooms and three baths. The center hall plan provides for a comfortable den tucked behind the living room. Come see all the "house" you can buy for $29,500.

THE ONLY STEP you'll have to take is the one to your phone, if it results in seeing, loving and buying this story and a half house on O'Mara Court. Two bedrooms and a bath and half on the first floor, and of course a living room and the gigantic combination kitchen and family center. An enclosed stairway leads to two more bedrooms and a bath. This house is on a dead-end street, yet just a few blocks from GPUS, Barnes, and Star of the Sea schools.

IMPRESSIVE, IMMACULATE, impeccable, imaginative, impossible to find enough adjectives to do justice to this colonial in one of the Farm's choicest locations. You can live in this newer house on Cloverly Road, which is full of pleasant surprises, such as the living room, dining room and library, master suite, and four more bedrooms and three baths being attractively spread out over four different levels. The entire house is air-conditioned, and there is a swimming pool and pool house which would get a big play in this ad if the month were May. Now they are just conversation pieces.

"The wants of women are an unknown quantity."

who, where and whatnot

by whoozit

You teenagers . . . who are always "hanging around," looking for "something to do," might check in at the Neighborhood Club, now in the process of expanding its program of Volunteer Service Opportunities for teens. The Club would like to know of high school students who have time, skills and an interest in people to share. There is a need for volunteers to direct club groups, teach sports, crafts and music, do individual tutoring and staff libraries late afternoons in The Pointe's elementary schools. Mrs. Vivian Davis, of the Neighborhood Club staff, is responsible for recruiting, training and supervising the volunteers. At the schools they will work under the direction of the principals and the school-community agents. Times can be arranged to fit the volunteer's schedule, but it is important to be able to serve on a regular once-a-week basis. Teenagers interested in performing a worthwhile service and gaining valuable experience are asked to contact Mrs. Davis at the Neighborhood Club, TUXedo 5-4600.

One thing IBEX Club members . . . canNOT be accused of is "hanging around." These ladies make it their business to be busy. We cite two of the groups-within-the-Club, the Drama Group and the Music Group, both of whom have interesting programs in progress during the winter months . . .

. . . the Drama Group's six-week course, in conjunction with Theatre Arts, is conducted by Dr. Audley M. Grossman, Curator of Theatre Arts for the Detroit Institute of Arts. It began in mid-January, and will cover play selecting and casting, directing and acting, scene design and construction, lighting, costumes, properties and sound . . .

. . . the Music Group has planned TWO series of programs. Mrs. Charles A. Chapman will direct a singers' chorus, while ladies interested in playing an instrument can join the Recorders Ensemble taught by Joseph Hayes, of the Oak Park Conservatory. Both groups will be featured in concert at the general meeting in April . . .

. . . IBEX, January meeting, incidentally, is scheduled tomorrow at "The Carriage Trade," an antique shop in West McNichols road, Detroit, where Mrs. Burton Friedman, well known authority on English and American antiques, will speak of her recent trip to Europe in search of antiques and will examine heirlooms brought by IBEX members to the meeting, attempting to determine their authenticity . . .

. . . (Wouldn't it be just DREADFUL to find out that that beautiful Early American occasional table you inherited from Great Aunt Maud was actually made in Grand Rapids in 1922?) . . .

Early nominee for most provocative program title of the year: . . . "If You Get Where You Are Going, Where Will You Be?" (just close your eyes and think about that for a minute); to be presented by Mrs. James H. Laird at Detroit Sorosis' February 2 meeting in the North Brys drive home of Mrs. Homer Marson. Assisting hostesses at the 12:30 o'clock session are to include Mrs. Donald Draper, Mrs. Ralph Netting and Mrs. R. B. Tompert. Chairman of the day is Mrs. James C. Boles. Personally, we think it a little unfair of Mrs. Laird to come up with her topic so early in 1965—club program chairmen will be racking their brains from now 'til December, trying to top it in length of words and depth of thought.

Pilferings

William Makepeace Thackeray, the British novelist, once became a candidate for Parliament. His Tory opponent, Viscount Monck, was a good-natured nobleman who admired Thackeray's books.

The two met on the street one day. After chatting pleasantly for a minute or two, Thackeray remarked with a smile, "Well, may the best man win!"

"Oh, I hope not!" Viscount Monck replied with a courteous bow.

The world really isn't any worse. It's just that the news coverage is so much better.

—Changing Times

At Wisconsin's St. Lawrence Seminary, the nuns, who prepare the meals for the seminarians there, placed a tray of cookies at the end of the serving line each day. A sign admonished: "Take only two cookies."

It soon became apparent that this plea was not entirely heeded, and a more effective appeal was substituted: "Take only two cookies—remember Who is watching."

A little later, the nuns decided to offer crackers as well. Immediately, a neat lettered sign appeared next to the crackers, obviously the work of a seminarian. It read:

"Take all you want—remember, He is watching the cookies."

Legion Ladies Reveal Goals

Changing conditions in American life are challenging the American Legion Auxiliary to expand its endeavors as the nation's largest women's patriotic organization, according to Mrs. Elva Nielsen, president of the Auxiliary's Grosse Pointe Unit #303 here. The organization's program for 1965 calls for special emphasis each month on different activities designed to meet the needs of growing, changing communities, states and the nation.

Activities to help strengthen the security of America's peace and freedom will be emphasized during January. Emphasis also will be placed on winning public support for the American Legion's recommendations to the new Congress.

Americanism will be the activity emphasized in February as the Auxiliary joins with the nation in observance of the birth-days of two great Americans, Washington and Lincoln.

In March the spotlight of emphasis will be placed on the Auxiliary's community service projects, carried out each year by the organization's 13,000 local units for the communities in which they are located.

Carrying forward the Auxiliary's continuous program for the welfare of America's children will be April's special activity, along with the study of Costa Rica, the 1965 study country in the Foreign Relations program.

May will be the month of memorial poppies, when the Auxiliary will distribute an estimated 20,000,000 of the little, veteran-made flowers to be worn in honor of the nation's war dead.

June will bring attention to the work of the Auxiliary's 100,000 junior members, while July will emphasize the nationwide Girls' State program.

August will be the month of annual conventions, and September will place emphasis on the organization's music activities. Bringing young people into contact with educational aids and scholarships will be emphasized in October, and enrolling members for 1966 in November. Work for disabled veterans and civil defense will be emphasized in December.

MAYNARD HAMMOND, OF THE GROSSE POINTE CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

By Janet Mueller

There is a new face in The Pointe. Maynard Hammond has arrived, from Bangor, Me., and points East, to begin work as Grosse Pointe Congregational Church's Director of Education.

He has been here only a month, is still in the process of getting acquainted in the community, of arranging his office, of settling in with his wife, Rosalie, and their three-year-old son, Paul, in the Church's Lexington road manse.

But he is already hard at work. Those who think of "church" as a Sunday-only affair are mistaken. Mr. Hammond and John William Estes, Jr., the Congregational Church's minister, have full-time responsibilities, the Church office is open every day, "church" means paper work, personal contact work, meetings and programs to arrange and attend.

With and For People

Basically, it is work with and for people—which suits Maynard Hammond perfectly. This tall man, with smiling eyes and just a touch of Southern drawl in his speech, (he was brought up in Baltimore, Md.; 10 years in Maine have tended to camouflage, but not obliterate, his native accent), genuinely likes and genuinely cares about people.

As Director of Education, Mr. Hammond works directly under the Congregational Church's Board of Christian Education. His function is to help Church members grow as Christians, to utilize all available materials, (the Church has a library and an audio-visual aids department), that can be adapted to help educate his congregation in Christianity, to work with all age groups, youth and adult.

One facet of his work is organization of materials. If a Church School teacher calls early in the week, requesting use of the film projector and materials on the life of the Apostle Paul, for example, Maynard Hammond reserves the projector and collects the materials for the teacher.

He conducts workshops to instruct adults, works with Junior and Senior Pilgrim Fellowship, (the Church youth groups), calls on families in the community, conducts services in the absence of the minister.

Background Also Varied

If his work is varied, so is his background. Mr. Hammond "grew up in the church," his family took church attendance and participation in church affairs as a matter of course, and Maynard Hammond was active in church groups but tended to take his religious commitment for granted.

At 18, serving as a Chaplain's assistant in the South Pacific during World War II, he met many Orientals. He was struck by the fact that "these people really weren't ashamed to live their religion."

He returned to the States, enrolled in Baltimore Junior College. He was still undecided as to what he wanted to do with his life—"I knew I wanted to do something, but I wasn't sure what"—when he came in contact with a Jewish Sociology teacher who influenced him to become a minister.

He studied at Bangor Seminary and the University of Maine, has had practical experience in the pastorate, serving as minister of the Dover-Foxcroft Church for three years, did his "clinical training" at Danvers Hospital, Danvers, Mass., and for the past five years has been Chaplain of the Bangor State Hospital, Bangor, Me.

Difficult Decision

The decision to leave institutional work and return to a community congregation was difficult. Most seminaries now require their students to have practical experience in dealing with psychological problems, and specify a period of in-hospital "clinical training."

Mr. Hammond thought his clinical training program was too short to give him an adequate understanding of the problems of the emotionally disturbed. He accepted the Chaplaincy at the Bangor State Hospital in order to increase his experience in this field. He found the work fascinating.

The hospital served 1,200 out and in-patients. Maynard Hammond was the only chaplain. He worked in conjunction with psychologists, was called in for consultation on problems with religious angles.

He devoted much of his time to trying to break down the "Snake Pit" image of mental illness in the general community, lecturing to different groups, taking young people on tours of the hospital.

Conducted Services

He served a community church while acting as chaplain at the hospital, where he conducted three Sunday services, (one in each of the hospital's buildings). He describes his work with the psychologically disturbed as rather like "putting a puzzle together: One segment of someone's life is out of proportion—by talking it out, you help put it back in place."

He recalls a talk by Dr. Karl Menninger, whose speech at the Bangor State Hospital resolved itself into the simple truism: Love is really the answer. "Jesus said that 2,000 years ago," Mr. Hammond smiles.

"It's still true—a little tender loving care goes a long way." The Hammonds accomplished their move from the East Coast to The Pointe with a minimum of fuss. They already knew a bit about the area; they had spent last August in Grosse Pointe while Mr. Hammond conducted services at the Congregational Church during the Estes family's vacation.

It was Rosalie Hammond's first prolonged stay outside the East Coast area, (she was born in Maine), and she liked the outgoing attitude of Pointe people.

Hard To Make Move

She found it difficult to leave her Maine home, however. The Hammonds had built themselves a house only a year before, when they had had no intention of moving. For the first time, Rosalie Hammond experienced the delights of picking out her own linoleum and counter tops and selecting her own color combinations.

Fortunately, the Hammonds found a buyer almost immediately—TOO immediately, in fact—they had to move out a month before Maynard Hammond was scheduled to leave Bangor State Hospital and transfer to Grosse Pointe.

In this limbo-month, Mrs. Hammond and Paul moved in with her parents in Dover, Me., while Mr. Hammond commuted between Dover and Bangor. They arrived in The Pointe shortly before the first of the year, to find their new parsonage and new congregation waiting for them.

A minister does not come to a community as a stranger. Mr. Hammond, like his wife, is impressed by "the tremendous out-giving of people here." The Hammonds' moving day in Lexington road was hectic, with people calling to say hello and bringing groceries for the new arrivals.

Weather-wise, The Pointe came as a shock—both of the Hammonds were expecting more snow. (They don't know how lucky they are!)

Paul Gets Adjusted

It took Paul a little time to adjust, but now he's fully "at home" in the Middle West. His visit here in August helped; he grew to know the Estes family during the summer.

But so many moves in such a short time is a rather frightening experience for a three-year-old boy. And Paul caught cold the first day he arrived in Michigan, so he couldn't go outside to play.

He discovered that the furniture was different, (Mr. and Mrs. Hammond did not bring all their furniture from Maine; they bought new things their first week in The Pointe).

Paul's grandparents had taken him everywhere with them the month he and his mother lived in Dover. All in all, Paul was a little homesick . . . until he talked with his grandparents via long distance phone, got over his cold, and began to get involved in his new community. (he loves the Grosse Pointe Congregational Church School).

Paul's cold was not the only Hammond "moving calamity." Maynard Hammond caught his hand in a car door during his first week in The Pointe. He shook hands at the Congregational Church welcome-to-the-Hammond-family formal reception January 10 with a metal guard over a broken bone at the tip of his thumb.

May Prove Blessing

This broken bone may turn out to be a blessing in disguise, however; the Senior Pilgrim Fellowship is planning a ski trip. Mr. Hammond has never been on skis, (he is not exactly anxious to try the sport), and a weak hand is a perfect excuse to stay in the lodge, in front of a warm fire . . .

The Junior Pilgrim Fellowship has plans, too. When he was here last summer, Mr. Hammond spent a week at church-sponsored Camp Talahi, near Brighton, Mich. He is now making arrangements to take the Junior PF to Camp Talahi in late spring.

Junior PF is newly organized at the Congregational Church. Maynard Hammond attended its first meeting early this month. He was very pleased when 44 people showed up at this organization session.

Mr. Hammond is not a "hobby man," prefers to spend his spare time reading, bowling, playing with his son, doing things with people.

So far, he has not had much spare time. Everyone wants to meet him, and he wants to meet everyone. His office at the Church still has a "waiting-for-someone-to-pay-attention-to-me" look; he has not had time to hang pictures, (he would like to mount a huge replica of Maine's rocky coast on one bare wall), or collect keepsakes, or bring books and decorations from home.

He is at the beginning of things in Grosse Pointe. He is still meeting people, getting to know his way around the town, observing, thinking, starting . . . The pictures and the books and the keepsakes will come.

RN Alumnae Plan Meeting

The Alumnae Association of Henry Ford Hospital School of Nursing will hold its monthly meeting on Monday, February 1 at 8 p.m. in the Clara Ford Nurses' Home Lounge at Henry Ford Hospital.

Following the business meeting, a lecture and slides on the topic "IBM Automation in Nursing" will be presented by Dr. W. Ross McCrum, from the Department of Neurology at Henry Ford Hospital and Ray Harder from the staff of IBM. Refreshments will be served following the program.

Men's Chorus Having Party

The Grosse Pointe Men's Chorus sponsored by the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association, will hold its Annual Sing and Card Party in the Center's Crystal ballroom, Friday evening, January 29, at 7:30 o'clock.

President W. M. Watson of Touraine road is looking forward to a crowd of 50 tables. Admission to this party is $1.25 per person.

The evening includes enjoyable games of cards, a short concert by the chorus, and refreshments contributed by wives of chorus members.

The 25-man chorus under the direction of Wilber Bezeau will sing a number of old favorites, selections which have made male chorus singing a delight. Include will be "Waltzing Matilda," "Shenandoah," "The Whiffenpoof Song," "Vive La Amour," "Men of Harlech" and many others.

Louise Nobili To Teach Here

Water colorist Louise Jansson Nobili lives in the City of Grosse Pointe in a home which she and her artist husband Marco designed themselves.

While Mrs. Nobili is on sabbatical leave from Wayne State University this year, she has consented to teach water color classes at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial to limited numbers of students.

The term of water color classes begins Tuesday evening, February 2, and continues on Tuesday nights from 7:30-9:30 for 12 weeks. The enrollment fee is $36. Those interested should register now. Only 15 can be accommodated.

Mrs. Nobili's beautiful work is prized in many private collections as well as museums. Her paintings have won an impressive list of awards.

Kennedy-Emory Rites Revealed

Mrs. William Closson Emory, of St. Clair avenue, and J. Cullen Kennedy, of Lakeshore road, were married Saturday, January 16, at a small family ceremony in Mr. Kennedy's home.

Attendants were Mrs. Edmund J. Papineau and W. Arthur Batten.

To Curl—or Not to Curl—is the big coiffure question of the new year. Some women find it difficult to give up their straight, limp, untamed tresses in favor of the new short hairdos with a Jumbo Curl Perm to give the hair body and motion.

Men that seem more than casually interested in their own wives' good looks are beginning to tire of all "the little nothing looks"—the pale little nothing lipsticks—the little nothing black dress and hairdos that do little or nothing to enhance what could be a pretty face—

if properly framed with healthy hair—vibrantly alive with color and sheen. Designer Mollie Farnis said it so well, "My clothes are for the woman of good taste—that wants to look like a girl—not a ghoul or a goil." Her statement in a recent press release reflects the objectives you will find in our haven at 117 Kercheval on the Hill.

Our salon is always open Mondays so that you can start your week right and bright! Call TUXedo 1-5833 for appointments.
