HEADLINES
WEEK
As Compiled by the Grosse Pointe News

Thursday, March 4
THE FIRST MAJOR LEGISLATION of this session of Congress was passed by the House and sent to the White House for President Johnson's signature yesterday. Approved by a 257-167 roll call vote, the $1.1 billion Aid to Appalachia bill is designed to build highways and aid projects to improve job opportunities and income in the economically depressed Appalachia area. Attempts to eliminate parts of the program or add additional sections of the country were soundly defeated. The Senate had passed the bill on February 1.

SENATOR ROBERT KENNEDY appeared yesterday before the Senate Judiciary subcommittee to answer charges that he conducted a "trial-by-jury" campaign against Teamster President James R. Hoffa while he, Kennedy, was attorney general. A witness at Tuesday's subcommittee meeting had said that Kennedy had attempted to promote a magazine expose of Hoffa who was under indictment at the time. The witness, Attorney Thomas A. Bolan, claimed that the Justice Department had collaborated with Life magazine in preparing an article for publication in the magazine. Kennedy and Life denied the charges. The subcommittee is investigating government snooping.

A JURY IN DALLAS, Tex. found Billie Sol Estes yesterday not guilty of lying to the Government about his debts. Estes, however, will start serving a 15-year sentence for mail fraud of which he had earlier been convicted. Estes is currently appealing another conviction for swindling which drew an eight-year sentence.

THE UNITED STATES EMBASSY in Moscow was attacked yesterday by a mob of Asian, African and Russian students. In the most violent demonstration in Russia in 30 years, the students broke through barricades and Russian police and soldiers and threw rocks, ink bottles and slingshots. The demonstrators who turned into rioters were protesting U. S. air raids on North Vietnam. It was the first time in memory that the Soviet army had been called in to halt a riot. Ambassador Foy D. Kohler received an apology and a promise of compensation from Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko after he had delivered a protest. Gromyko also promised additional protection measures for the embassy in the future.

MEANTIME IN INDONESIA where in recent weeks there have been demonstrations and seizures of U.S. Libraries, the United States Information Agency announced Thursday that it is closing all five of its libraries and reading rooms in that country. The reason given was the "intolerable" harassment by the Indonesian government. It is the first time that the CIA, which runs information centers in 100 countries, has withdrawn its activities from a nation.

STATE SENATOR George S. Fitzgerald of Grosse Pointe said in Lansing yesterday that "proper and adequate fiscal reform" is impossible under the new Michigan Constitution. Fitzgerald said specifically that the Constitution prohibits an income tax providing different rates for individuals, corporations and financial institutions. He is head of the Senate's Democratic tax-writing committee and was head of a Senate subcommittee that studied the constitutional impediments to tax reform. Governor Romney and Attorney General Kelly heartily disagreed with Fitzgerald.

Proposed New High School Would Look Like This

New School Details Told By Dr. Wilson

Ferry PTA Hears Superintendent Explain Facilities Included in Proposed Buildings

Following an address by Dr. Charles H. Wilson, Superintendent of Schools, the assembled membership of the Ferry School PTA voted overwhelmingly to support both propositions of the special school election scheduled for March 22.

Thursday night's meeting, the latest in the series scheduled for every building of the school district by the Grosse Pointe Board of Education, gave property-owning residents still another opportunity to explore thoroughly all aspects of the current school housing picture prior to the election.

In his remarks, Dr. Wilson presented details on the proposed second high school. Its chief features are these:
1. An academic wing of three floors, all within the 35' zoning ordinance, that will concentrate basic academic instruction, administration and library, all of which can be used in the summer without air-conditioning the remaining portion of the building.
2. 65 basic classrooms ranging in size from 500 square feet to 950 square feet. (91 teaching stations—compared with 64 classrooms and 89 teaching stations at present high school).
3. Two large instructional areas, 2nd and 3rd floors, capable of seating up to 125 pupils.
4. Other large instructional

School System Needs Told By Board of Education In Report to Residents

Pamphlet Mailed to All Citizens to Explain Importance Of Approval of Proposed Bond Issues At Polls on March 22

"There is no single nor easy solution to the problem of population growth. Today, education is recognized as the key to survival in an increasingly complex, automated world. In Grosse Pointe, as throughout the nation, the dual demands for increased classroom space along with better educational programs have placed a heavy responsibility on taxpayers."

Thus begins the text of the February-March issue of the newsletter of The Grosse Pointe Public School System, "Education In Our Town," mailed recently to all the residents of the school district.

Entitled "A Special Report to all Grosse Pointe Property Owners," the eight-page pamphlet was utilized by the Board of Education to inform the property-owning residents of the need for additional school facilities. Signed by the officers and trustees of the Grosse Pointe Board of Education, it urged that all property owners read the report prior to the forthcoming special election on Monday, March 22.

"The quality of your children's education and the maintenance of your property values are involved," concludes the introductory statement.

Enrollments Jump
The article states that Public school enrollments are constantly increasing. In 1963 The Grosse Pointe schools made a projection based upon population projections by the U. S. Bureau of Census to 1980. Based upon 1960 enrollments, this projected an enrollment of 11,457 by 1964, and 16,003 by 1980. Between 1960 and 1964 we increased 1,160—28 pupils more

Shores Raid Conducted by IRS Agents

Webber Place Home Of Vito Giacalone, Yields Cash, Bet Slips, Guns; Officer Assaulted

The Grosse Pointe Shores home of Vito Giacalone at 87 Webber place was raided Tuesday night, March 2, by federal agents of the Internal Revenue Service.

The raid was one of 12 carried out by the agents in the Detroit area which uncovered one of the largest gambling operations in the state in recent years.

In addition to the records, the agents seized at the Giacalone house more than $19,000 in cash, several adding machines, bet slips and six guns.

Lawrence Gubow, U. S. attorney described the number of records seized at the Shores home as large. He also said that, on the basis of all records found, "federal grand jury investigation is likely."

Nephew Hits Agent
Giacalone was not home at the time and was reportedly on vacation. His nephew, Jack W. Giacalone, 21, son of Tony Giacalone of 701 Balfour road, however, arrived at his uncle's home while the raid was in progress and struck Albert DeBiasi, an intelligence agent for the Internal Revenue Service.

DeBiasi was hit several times about the head before other agents and Grosse Pointe Shores Patrolman Harry Hamilton could bring him under control. Hamilton stood by as the federal agents conducted the raid.

Treated for Black Eye
The assaulted agent was treated at the U. S. Public Health Service for a black eye and facial cuts.

Giacalone was arrested for assaulting a federal officer and later released on $5000 bond. He will appear April 1 for examination before U. S. Commissioner Frederick W. Johnson.

Both the Giacalone brothers have been described by Detroit police as "chiefs" in the Detroit Mafia, or Cosa Nostra.

INJURED IN FALL
Mrs. Rose Bogos, 56, of 843 Pemberton, slipped on a snow pile in front of 1524 Cook road, where she had been visiting, and fell to the sidewalk, suffering a possible fractured right hip. She was taken to Bon Secours Hospital by Woods police for treatment. The accident occurred on Wednesday, March 3.

3 Police Agencies Join in Breakup Of Burglary Ring

Woods, Shores and St. Clair Shores Officers Pool Efforts Leading to Arrest of Teenage Trio 31 Breakins Cleared Cooperation by police of three communities resulted in the breaking up of a three-member burglary ring, and the clearing up of more than 30 burglaries in the Woods, Shores and St. Clair Shores, it was disclosed on Friday, March 5.

Woods Det. Sgt. Jack Mast revealed that St. Clair Shores police arrested a 16-year-old St. Clair Shores boy in the act of burglarizing a St. Clair Shores home. The teenager had been under a two-week surveillance by St. Clair Shores authorities, following a tip from his department, Mast said.

The boy's arrest led to the apprehension of another 16-year-old boy and a 17-year-old boy, both of St. Clair Shores, and the clearing of more than 30 burglaries in the Woods, Shores and St. Clair Shores.

Nabbed Youth Confesses
Mast said that the first boy came to the attention of police early in February, when he, (Mast), and Woods Det. Albert Abend arrested another teenage boy for a crime committed in the Woods. Under questioning by the detectives, the boy confessed to the crime, and in addition named the St. Clair Shores boy as a burglar, responsible for robberies in the three cities.

Detectives from the three police departments conducted an investigation for more than two weeks, after which St. Clair Shores officers followed the youth, and arrested him in the act of burglarizing a home in their city.

Admits 23 Thefts
When questioned by St. Clair Shores detectives, the boy confessed to burglarizing 23 homes in St. Clair Shores, and a number in the Woods and Shores. He implicated his two companions both of whom were arrested and who admitted their guilt.

Burglar Invades Park Residence

A burglar broke into the home of Cornelius Hamel, 1030 Yorkshire, between 6:30 p.m. and 9:30 p.m., on Sunday, February 28, and completely ransacked the house.

Entrance into the house was gained by breaking the glass of the rear door, police said. Pry marks were found on the outer door, they added.

Hamel told police that as far as he can determine, the burglar took a six and three-eighths diameter metal piece, containing a humidity indicator, valued at $30; a 35MM camera and leather case, valued at $50; $165 in currency and about $10 in change.

The items and the money were taken from a bedroom dresser drawer. All furniture drawers were ransacked and left open, with some contents left scattered on the floor, it was said.

The detective said that the warnings went out when several prescriptions were issued and passed in the names of reputable doctors. The prescriptions were written on blanks stolen from doctors' offices in Detroit, and Southfield. The doctors' names were forged.

Mast said that a man and

Parking Lot Plan Battled By Residents

Court Fight Possibility to Settle Dispute Over Disposition of Chene-Trombly Area

An issue which has been smoldering in Grosse Pointe Woods between the residents of the Chene-Trombly Park area and the officials of the city government may burst forth into full flame in the near future.

The problem is the City Council's present study of the advisability of constructing a parking lot, either municipal or privately operated, and an alley easement from Hollywood to Ridgmont avenue. Both constructions would be on approximately one-third of the Chene-Trombly recreational land. The building of the parking lot would necessitate the razing of the Woods Community Center, which was closed last May by the Woods Recreation Commission.

The residents in the Chene-Trombly area protested the closing of the building by petition on June 15 and met with city officials during the summer in an effort to get the building reopened.

Land Might Revert
In addition, the citizens pointed out that the recreational land was deeded to Grosse Pointe Woods by the Chene and Trombly families for the sole purpose of recreation. If the land is used for other reasons, the property would revert to the heirs of the two families, they said.

The residents of the area feel that the park is vital to them and to their children and they are willing to go to court to preserve it.

According to Mrs. Virginia Whately of Ridgmont road, members of the neighborhood are currently gathering the names of the Chene and Trombly heirs, which they plan to send as a matter of record to the city council. It is then their hope that through personal contributions they will be able to collect money to retain attorneys to pursue the legalities of their case.

The citizens fighting to retain the building and all the park area also point out that the Citizens Traffic Safety Commission on November 11 of last year said that the parking and traffic problems in the Ridgmont and Hollywood area are not as critical as they were a year ago. At that time they recommended that a solution be found to relieve the congestion.

Wasn't Big Enough
On the other hand, city officials say that the Community Center building which is valued at about $8500 was closed because it was not adequate for the entire Woods area. When it was closed last summer, a cooperative nursery school was its main activity. Other recreational activities had been absorbed by programs at the War Memorial, Parcels Junior High School and the Neighborhood Club.

If the city fathers decide, however, that the alley and (Continued on Page 4)

Use Tranquilizer On Vicious Dog

Woods police were called upon for assistance by Harper Woods authorities on Wednesday, March 3, to aid in subduing a vicious dog that had severely bitten a gas meter reader and bit a Harper Woods policeman who tried to capture it.

According to a Woods police report, the gas meter reader was hospitalized, and the police officer required treatment. The animal was not inflicted with rabies, it was said, but it is being held at a local veterinarian for observation.

Patrolman Thomas Podeszwick and Dog Warden Robert Anderson responded to the call for assistance, and arrived at 19393 Linville, Harper Woods, where the dog was cornered by police.

respective communities, and Mast and Det. Gerald Kensorsa arrested the youths at the St. Clair Shores station and took them to the Woods station for questioning.

Shores Police Chief Thomas Cochill was notified that the boys were in custody and at the Woods station, and he arrived there to aid in the interrogation of the trio.

Questioned by the chief, who aided in the initial investigation, Mast and Kensorsa, the three boys confessed to breaking into, and burglarizing six homes in the Woods, and two in the Shores.

The policemen said that there was no question that the boys had committed the crimes in their cities.

Point Out Homes Robbed

Mast said that the three boys were driven through the streets of the Woods and Shores, and pointed out the homes that they had entered and robbed.

The boys also listed a number of items they said they had stolen from the homes, which were verified by the home owners.

The trio said that they specialized in taking cash, but on several occasions, took miscellaneous items, such as a rifle, a television set, and other movable things.

Mast said that the rifle and the TV set have been recovered, and an attempt is being made to recover other items, but it appears that this might be difficult because most of the items have been either sold or given away, and the boys do not recall to whom.

The boys confessed to break-

Thief Enters Two City Residences

City police are investigating two cases of breaking and entering which happened in homes across the street from each other in Lakeland avenue, Wednesday, March 3.

Sometime between 6 p.m. and 8:45 p.m. a thief entered the residences of Carson Grunewald at 777 Lakeland and John Lynch at 772 Lakeland. Both entries were made by breaking a window in the rear door at the homes.

According to police, however, the thief got only $2 for his work. The money was taken from the Grunewald home. Nothing has, as yet, been found missing from the Lynch house.

INJURES SHOULDER

Douglas F. Shrieves, 34, of 1860 Hampron, was transported to Cottage Hospital by Woods police on Tuesday, March 2, for treatment of a dislocated shoulder. He slipped on the ice in an alley at the rear of his home, and slid into a telephone pole.

School System Needs Told by Board of Education

The third section of the report provides the reader with additional background information to the Board of Education's decision to build a second high school. While it would have been possible to solve some enrollment problems with additions to existing buildings, the Board of Education and administration planners found this to be an unsuitable solution for a number of reasons.

"Invariably, however, we ran into two stubborn facts: (1) the cost of additions did not add dollar-for-dollar value to the educational program; (2) a program of classroom additions would accommodate only 1,400 pupils and would give the school system no place to expand during the next 10 to 20 years.
"We encountered the biggest problems at the high school, where we should need at least 34 classrooms to relieve present overcrowding and accommodate an expected increase of from 500 to 700 students. We should need also to add additional chemistry, physics and biology laboratories, language laboratories, larger space for music, art, home economics, shop and physical education. We should need to enlarge the kitchen and dining room areas. The problems of such an addition were staggering.

"As an example, to enlarge the kitchen we should need to build over the swimming pool, going down to bed rock for foundation support. The cost for this project alone was estimated at $300,000.

"But when we finished a program of additions at the existing high school, we should have a multi-million dollar investment in a far-from new and still overcrowded building.
"Grosse Pointe High School was planned in the mid 1920's for 1,200 7th through 12th grade pupils. Although it was amazingly well-constructed and has one of the community's most beautiful facades, it is inadequate to offer an expanding program of education to many more than 2,500 pupils.
"At present, it is little short of a teaching and administrative headache. This year, room utilization is over 90 percent—compared with a typical high school utilization of 80 percent and a college utilization of 60 to 70 percent. Present overcrowding is hazardous and limits the staff in expanding its curriculum offerings, both in the college preparatory and vocational training fields," the report states.
One of the proposed renovation of the existing high school, these statements are made:
Can Enlarge Rooms
"The specified amount of money to be used for remodeling the present high school will be concentrated on improvements which will strengthen the instructional program. Presently, it is necessary to use every classroom each period of the day. This includes some rooms, (particularly many of those in the Annex) which are inadequate for today's educational programs. With a second high school, this overcrowded condition can be relieved, and certain of these classrooms can be enlarged.
"The plan calls for the development in the Annex of a larger, more complete facility for the vocal music department. Vocal music is now in cramped quarters on the third floor of the main building. After it is moved to a larger room in the Annex, the present quarters may then be developed into an English study-conference area.
"Although recent visitors from the University of Michigan commended the work of the art department, they were critical of space limitations. Arts is presently confined to one classroom and more space is a necessity. This may be provided by adding at least one more room, or through the remodeling of other spaces as they become available.
Plan New Equipment
"Further remodeling and expansion is planned for certain other areas: science, social studies, business education, and physical education. Classrooms will be decorated, lockers (the original ones in the building) replaced where needed. The cafeteria will receive some needed equipment and the dining area the parking lot are essential, overcome the legal difficulties and proceed with their plans for relieving the alleged traffic congestion, they intend to improve the approximate remaining two-thirds of the Chene-Trombly Park.

At a cost of about $2,500 the Recreation Commission plans to create a "tot lot" which would include new and more up-to-date equipment. It would be located in that section of the park which is now a baseball diamond. Authorities say that the land is far too small to be used for a baseball diamond.
Plan Magic Square
In the remaining portion of the park, a "magic square" would be built which would provide space for basketball, roller skating, and four shuffle boards. In the winter it could be converted to an ice skating rink.
All of the activities at the park, if it is renovated, would be carried out under supervision.
It was said by one city official that it is the hope of the council eventually to build a community building in one of the Woods' two other parks, Lakefront and Ghesquiere.
No decisions have been made nor will they until the council receives a survey of the area being made by City Engineers. But the sparks of fire may set the Woods ablaze. And the cold water of a court could be the only thing to put it out.

make your good schools better...

vote YES

MARCH 22!

As a property owner in Grosse Pointe, you need no reminder that a good school system is a vital community asset. You already know that good schools keep property values high and make our area one of the most admired, most desirable places to live.

On Monday, March 22, you'll have an opportunity to make your good schools even better by approving two school bond propositions:

- Proposition #1 asks permission to borrow $7,600,000 to build, furnish and equip a new senior high school; and to remodel and improve the existing high school.
- Proposition #2 asks permission to borrow $750,000 to build, furnish and equip a new auditorium-instructional center at the new high school site.

Your YES vote on both proposals will work wonders. First, it will uncrowd our classes. Most of them (74%) are larger than the desired size of 25. Second, some needed renovation will get done. Third, our community—as well as our students—will be provided with a combination auditorium-stage-classroom facility we've needed for some time.

Making these improvements now takes advantage of current building costs. Many communities have learned that delaying necessary construction can be exorbitant. Estimated cost for the school bond proposals is 1.66 mills in tax rate. On a property of $10,000.00 assessment, this would be $16.60 per year—or $1.39 per month.

A very good buy . . . when you consider the benefits:

- You make your schools even better
- Good schools are an investment in your child's future
- Good schools maintain property values, which protect your own investment
- Good schools make Grosse Pointe a better community

So vote YES on Monday, March 22! Everybody wins when you do!

Grosse Pointe Parent-Teacher Association Council

WHO MAY VOTE

Qualified registered voters who own property in Grosse Pointe.

WHERE TO VOTE

Vote at the public elementary school that serves your neighborhood. Polls will be open 7:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m., Monday, March 22.

Here's what your friends and neighbors say...

R. H. McKendrick —

As a life-long resident and product of the Grosse Pointe School System, I will support any program necessary to provide my children with the same benefits.

Brownell PTA Vice-President Burke Foster —

It is imperative at this time that we all give our full support to our school system. Vote "yes" on March 22.

William E. Bokram —

I'm 100% for the 1.66 levy of March 22, 1965, because of the need for the proposed new high school and auditorium-instructional center.

Parcells PTA President Walter L. Griffith —

Adequate modern school facilities are a mark of an enlightened community. I fully subscribe to the Grosse Pointe School Board's finance proposal to be voted upon on March 22.

Mr. and Mrs. William B. Elmer —

Investment in education is simply good business and the best way we know of to insure our survival in tomorrow's world.

Kerby PTA President Philip H. Dawson —

Both the new high school and the auditorium instructional center are vital to the continuity of excellence in our Grosse Pointe School System.

Edith D. Thumann —

Grosse Pointe needs the extra millage levied to be able to have the new high school that has been sorely needed for some time.

Bornes School PTA President J. D. Fife —

A second high school is mandatory in order to preserve our excellent Grosse Pointe educational heritage.

Hunter H. Comly, M.D. —

I support the Grosse Pointe School Board in the proposed 1.66 levy on March 22.

Pierce PTA Vice-President William R. Ludwig —

To further expand the facilities of the present Grosse Pointe High School would be impossible without jeopardizing the high educational standards which this community has enjoyed for so many years. I wholeheartedly support the wise decision of our Board of Education to construct a second high school.

Mr. and Mrs. Forrest R. Old

We are enthusiastically in favor of the school bond proposals on which we will vote March 22.

Brownell PTA President William Montgomery —

Our concern for improving the education and future of our young people argues for solid and widespread parent and citizen support of a second high school in Grosse Pointe.

Raymond C. Mellinger, M.D. —

The new school is essential to maintain the standards of public education characteristic of this fine community.

Thomas Candler, PTA Council Treasurer —

With today's need for higher education, our young people deserve the best facilities we can provide for their high school education.

Ferry School PTA Vice-President William C. Porter —

I endorse the Grosse Pointe School Board proposals to construct the new high school and cultural-educational buildings.

Mr. Jack B. Frey, Grosse Pointe High School Mothers Club —

A vote of "yes" for both issues will insure our community and our children of a school system worthy of Grosse Pointe.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Pearsall —

We hope our friends and neighbors will join us in supporting the Grosse Pointe schools' proposed 1.66 mill levy on March 22.

R. H. Dunec —

The best educational facilities are no longer a luxury. We cannot gamble with second best when our children are concerned.

J. W. Cudlip —

Our children have been prepared well in the past. The competition of the future necessitates our very best now to insure adequate faculty and structure to continue our excellence.

Monteith PTA board member Mrs. Martin Schnurr —

As a means of better educating our children and maintaining our present property values, I wholeheartedly endorse the Grosse Pointe School Board proposals.

Donald N. Sweeney, Jr., M.D. —

The high standards set by the Grosse Pointe Public Schools cannot be maintained unless we support and build a new high school.

Dale Nouse —

This must be!

Mr. and Mrs. Thatcher W. Rea, Jr. —

We endorse the proposed 1.66 mill levy of March 22 as being essential to the continuing fine education our children receive in the Grosse Pointe Public Schools.

H. G. Nelson —

The need for additional facilities is obviously urgent and the program outlined by the School Board appears to be a sensible one.

Dr. W. W. Bertschinger —

It has been said that the finest heritage a man can leave the world is an educated family. Consider carefully the wisdom of these words, and cast your ballot in favor of additional educational facilities.

Mrs. Jack A. Gibson —

I believe there is a great need for a new high school in Grosse Pointe and the election on the 22nd is a must for every resident.

Edward C. Chase, Jr. —

All Grosse Pointe residents must face up to the physical need for a second high school facility.

Mr. and Mrs. John Van Zile —

It is already a disgrace that such a well-to-do community as Grosse Pointe has only one high school. This situation must be rectified on March 22.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schreiber —

To maintain an excellent school system, the approval of this bond issue should be a "must" for every person in this community.

Mr. Roy K. Erickson —

Certain obligations as a parent are inescapable today. That of providing the place and the climate for the best possible education is one of these.

Four Eagle Scouts in St. Clare Troop

At their Court of Honor held on Monday evening, February 22, Scouts of Troop 399 received several awards including two highly coveted ones, the "Ad Altare Dei" and "Eagle Scout."

The event was witnessed and enjoyed by a large turn-out of parents, Sisters from St. Clare School, Reverend Fathers Jerome Heyman and William Conroy, scout leaders and distinguished guests. The evening culminated with the judging and awarding of prizes by Jack Drummond, Counselor at Large, to the various patrols for their respective accomplishments on the construction of small scale lookout towers.

First prize went to Mustang I, accepted by Patrol Leader John Fox; second prize to Mustang II, accepted by Patrol Leader Joel Bonamy, and third prize to the Wolf Patrol, accepted by Patrol Leader Mark De Caussin.

Three runner-up patrols, the Panthers, Sting-Rays and Flaming Arrows also received prizes for their efforts.

Next followed the presentation of scouting awards by Richard Boyle. Tenderfoot ratings were given to a new group of scouts entering Troop No. 399. These included L. Fox, J. Bonamy, T. Rabaut, S. Schubel, W. McCarthy, D. Thill, B. Kinner, M. Reynolds, R. Frear, M. Salsburg, R. Lane, G. McDonald and A. Anderson.

Second Class awards were earned by W. Leonard, T. Doherty, J. Doyle and D. Dyle.

First Class awards were received by C. Henrichs and T. Garvey.

Star awards were presented to D. Hayter, D. Trombley, K. Day, and M. Eichenlaub. A wide variety of Merit Badges were also presented to various scouts of Troop 399.

Doug Trombley was further honored by receiving the high Catholic award of "Ad Altare Dei" from acting Moderator, Father Jerome Heyman.

The evening was climaxed by the bestowing of the highest scouting award "Eagle Scout" on Senior Patrol Leader Richard Boyle III. This special ceremony was conducted by Judge Joseph Sullivan. This now increases the Eagle ranks to four in Troop 399. Others currently holding such honors include Wayne Blow, Chris Bonamy and Dave Fox.

The large number of awards and special achievements earned by the Scouts of Troop 399 reflects a new high in scouting progress and enthusiasm at St. Clare, accomplished by outstanding scouting leadership and spirit maintained by Lou Fox, Scoutmaster, and his able assistants.

A special thanks went to the ladies who assisted in serving cake and refreshments following the meeting.

Two Woods Homes Visited By Burglars; One Looted

Two burglars broke into two homes in the Woods, stealing a glass door knob from one house, and a large sum of cash and several items from the second home. The breakings occurred on Wednesday, March 3.

The first burglary was reported by Mrs. Mary Roumell, 55, of 2025 Stanhope, who told police that she returned home from work at about 8:45 p.m., to discover that the house had been forcibly entered, and completely ransacked.

Investigating officers said that evidence showed that two persons were responsible for the burglary. Two sets of footprints were found in the snow, leading to and from the rear of the house.

The thieves entered the house by opening an unlocked storm door at the rear of the building, and breaking the glass of the inner door and reaching in and unlocking the door latch.

Mrs. Roumell said that nothing appeared to be missing except a glass knob from one of the doors.

The second burglary, believed to have been committed by the same men, also evidenced by footprints, was at the home of Mrs. Vera Northenor, 967 Hawthorne.

Mrs. Northenor said that she and her sister, Mrs. Eva Weatherbolt of 128 Indian Rocks road, Harbor Bluffs Largo, Fla., who is visiting her, left the house and returned a short time later.

The women found that the house had been entered through the rear sun porch, where the burglars had broken the glass of the outside porch door.

Mrs. Northenor said that the thieves took $185 in assorted currency from a dresser drawer in her bedroom; a shotgun from the basement, value and make not known; two lady's electric razors from a dresser drawer, values not given, and six sheets from a linen closet.

Her sister also lost $50 in cash to the burglars, Mrs. Northenor told investigating police, who said the method of operation by the burglars was the same as that which occurred at the Roumell residence.

Both burglary cases were turned over to the Detective Bureau personnel for further investigation.

Camera Club Meets Tuesday

The next semi-monthly meeting of the Grosse Pointe Camera Club will be held Tuesday, March 16, in the Fries Ballroom, Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center, at 8 o'clock. There will be the usual slide and print competition.

During the intermission, Hal Packer, a club member, will give an illustrated talk, showing some of his monochrome prints, made from color slides which were taken in Europe. Guests of members, and others interested in photography, are invited to attend the meeting.

DE

The growing use of ELECTRIC HEAT IN SCHOOL BUILDINGS has made a lot of people curious--- here are the FACTS

GROSSE ILE HIGH SCHOOL, in southwest Wayne County, another fine, new total electric school.

AKRON-FAIRGROVE HIGH SCHOOL, Tuscola County, will be as modern as tomorrow—a total electric school.

Before we even begin to talk about the superiority of electric heat, let's look an old bugaboo straight in the eye... it costs too much.

It simply isn't so!

Something can only cost too much in comparison with something similar. In this case, it's the operating cost of an electric heat system vs. the operating cost of some other kind of heating system.

Operating Cost Is More Than Just Fuel Cost

Perhaps operating cost should really be thought of as cost of ownership. In this broader context, there are a number of building construction, building equipment, annual repair and maintenance and annual labor costs which are affected by choice of heating systems.

Among the building construction and equipment costs which are altered or eliminated, according to choice of heating system, are these:

Building Item Required	Electric Heat	Fuel Fired System
Boiler room	No	Yes
Smokestack	No	Yes
Fuel storage	No	Usually
Steam or hot water piping	No	Yes
Pipe trenches	No	Yes
Boiler and controls	No	Yes
Boiler water pump(s)	No	Yes
Boiler water treating system	No	Yes

To keep this set of comparisons absolutely fair, the insulation of an electrically heated school must be better than the applications which are now acceptable in most school buildings.

It would pay to have topnotch insulation in EVERY school—pay off in heating economy and in student-teacher comfort, both winter and summer. But since it is not yet in widespread demand in all school plants, this may be an item of increased cost in an electrically heated building. The additional cost, however, when related to total construction cost, is insignificant.

Expansion Costs

In a constantly growing area like southeast Michigan, new school buildings invariably are increased in size—very often, more than once in their careers. Always a major item of cost when classrooms or other facilities are added is complete replacement of a too-small boiler or addition of boiler units.

Even when a foresighted school administration—anticipating building enlargement—installs an over-capacity boiler to begin with, school funds are tied up in the too big boiler and its auxiliary equipment. This non-productive use of money may be a burden for several years.

School building expansion, when the heating system's electric, is never a problem or an undue expense. All that's required is electrical distribution from the transformer to the newly added school plant—a normal cost of expansion which would apply regardless of type of heating system.

Annually Recurring Costs

There is another class of ownership costs which needs consideration when comparing electric heat to other types of heating systems for a school. These are the various expenses which recur, most of them on an annual basis.

Typical Recurrent Costs	Electric Heat	Fuel Fired System
Boiler maintenance	No	Yes
Boiler inspection fee	No	Yes
Boiler insurance	No	Yes
Boiler attendant(s)—labor	No	Yes
Ash disposal	No	Usually

Another recurrent cost which is sizable enough to help make the difference in heating systems is the amount of interest paid on the money which is borrowed to build a school.

An electrically heated school will be less costly to design and build because you are not buying a boiler with all its auxiliary equipment. No money goes for a boiler room, smokestack or a steam or hot water distribution system. So it follows—a less costly school, less money to borrow, less interest to pay on the borrowed money.

Electric Heat—Low Cost Comfort For Children And Teachers

The Superintendent of Schools of a school district in northern Ohio recently prepared a two-year comparative analysis* of heating operational costs for four of the schools under his supervision. It was a painstaking and detailed comparison, taking into account these major factors: fuel cost, heating labor cost, auxiliary fuel, auxiliary power, ash disposal, heating system maintenance.

Two of the schools have coal-fired boilers, one has a gas-fired boiler and one is completely heated electrically. Quoting from the report, "... the cost (for heating the electrically heated school) during the 1962-63 school year was 5¢ per square foot less than at the other three buildings... For the 1963-64 year, the savings was 12.9¢ per square foot."

In subsequent years, the savings should be closer to the 12.9¢ per square foot figure than to the 5¢ figure. This is a conclusion drawn from the following facts.

In 1962-63, the electrically heated school was a new structure. Some of the heating cost for it went to drying out concrete, masonry and plaster. This is an extraordinary expense not to be repeated.

Also, in February 1964, the utility serving the electrically heated school reduced its rate for electric power from 1.6¢ to 1.5¢ per kilowatt-hour.

And, finally, by 1963-64, the staff at the electrically heated school were better able to control electric power consumption.

One condition which helped establish the greater per-square-foot savings in 1963-64 may not always hold true. The weather during the '63-'64 heating season was slightly warmer than it was in '62-'63.

*Copies of this analysis will be made available to qualified inquirers on request.

Electrically Heated Schools In Southeast Michigan

1958 was the first year of record for electrically heated schools in the area which Detroit Edison serves. In that year, there were 26 classrooms completely heated in this modern way. Now, in early 1965, there are 12 total electric schools having 220 classrooms in the area.

In number of electrically heated classrooms, this is more than an eight-fold increase in seven years. Several more school and college buildings which will be all-electric, including heating, are now under construction within the area.

More For The Money

These are the features of electric heat which appealed most to the school administrators who wrote the analysis quoted above. Only slightly edited for brevity, this is essentially the language of that objective report.

Safety—Electric heat is highly automated. A minimum of human attention and judgment is all that's required in its operation. By so reducing the human element, a maximum of safety is achieved. Nor is electric heat complicated by auxiliary or satellite systems of any kind.

Simplicity—The absence of complex mechanisms makes it easier for building custodians to concentrate on their prime function—keeping a building and its equipment clean. Boiler room attendants are not a requirement.

Dependability—Electric heat reduces the possibility of building freeze-ups; eliminates boiler breakdowns during unattended hours.

When there's a boiler failure, the whole school must close down. If an electric heating unit fails, only the one room involved need be closed.

Flexibility—Electric heating equipment can be used just in the room or rooms where heat is required, completely independent of and without affecting any other part of the heating system. On a cool but sunny autumn day, for example, the heat may be on in rooms on the shady side of a school, off in rooms on the sunny side of the building.

Unscheduled, off-hours use of a school-room—even with the briefest advance notice—creates no heating problem. Electric heat reacts quickly and, again, there can be selective, one-room-only use.

Cleanliness—Since there is no combustion, electric heat does not create smoke, soot or ashes to add to cleaning chores.

Efficiency—With electric heat, there are no long, laborious heating up or cooling down cycles. The equipment is ready to furnish heat at the moment of need and there is no wasteful heat carryover when the equipment is shut down.

Warm weather benefits—With more efficient and effective building insulation, a school will be cooler and more comfortable in warm weather—a decided advantage to students and teachers.

Air conditioning is also simplified and made more economical since the electrical wiring installed for the heating system can also energize air conditioners.

Through the taxes it pays, Detroit Edison is one of the largest supporters of schools in the state. In this role, we are as concerned and interested as you are in seeing that our educational system operates as efficiently and economically as possible. It is our sincere belief that electric heat, when evaluated with an objective and open mind, will show itself to have the economy and efficiency we all want in our schools.

EDISON CUTS ELECTRIC RATE FOR TOTAL ELECTRIC SCHOOLS

Detroit Edison has just voluntarily reduced the electric service charge to schools in its service area which are all electric, including the heating. School administrators, school board members, architects and consulting engineers are invited to inquire at any Edison office concerning the details of this downward rate adjustment.

Park Maintains Crossing Guards for St. Ambrose

Concern for the safety of grade and high school students of St. Ambrose School, has prompted Park officials to continue maintaining school crossing guards on Wayburn, at the Jefferson, Kercheval and Vernor intersections, until Detroit authorities provide guard service for students of the new elementary school which opened on Monday, March 1.

The new grade school building is located on the west side of Alter road in Detroit. The old building, which until the Monday date, was both a high school and grade school, will be used only for high school class instructions.

A fraction of the high school building is located within the Park, the rest in Detroit; the church, rectory and auditorium are completely within the Park city limits.

The location of the new school building, on the west side of Alter road, indicates that the responsibility of providing school crossing guards, for the protection of its students, rests with Detroit, Park Police Chief Arthur Louwers disclosed.

He said that Police Cpl. George Blair, Park School Safety Officer, checked the three locations, and found that between March 1, when the new school opened, and Thursday, March 4, no guard services had yet been provided by Detroit except Safety Patrol boys at Jefferson avenue.

This, related with the fact that Jefferson has a short pedestrian signal phase, and requires very close supervision by a school guard, prompted the chief, with the approval of City Manager Robert Slone, to issue a directive to Cpl. Blair, which reads:

"Because the Detroit Police Department failed to provide the necessary protection in the following locations, the Grosse Pointe Park Police Department will continue to maintain its school crossing locations with guard service as follows:

"Jefferson and Wayburn, until such time as the Detroit Police Department recognizes its responsibilities and places a guard at Alter road and Jefferson."

"Kercheval and Wayburn, until such time as the Detroit Police Department recognizes its responsibilities and places adequate guard service at Kercheval and Alter road."

"Vernor and Wayburn, until such time as the Detroit Police Department recognizes its responsibilities and places adequate guard service at Vernor and Alter road."

Although primarily a Detroit school, with a large number of students enrolled from the Park, Cpl. Blair has given many safety lectures and shown safety movies, in cooperation with Detroit safety officers.

Future Leaders To Meet at Tea

Grosse Pointe High School members of the Future Business Leaders of America Club will give a tea Wednesday, March 17 at 7 o'clock for various clubs with the same interest.

The clubs which will be honored at the tea will be from Ferndale, Lake Shore, Osborn and St. Ladislaus school.

Watch your thoughts—the fellow who doesn't think right can't be expected to live right.

Two Sentenced In Liquor Case

Park police arrested a 21-year-old Detroit man and four minors during a drinking party held in a gas station at 15301 Kercheval, on Sunday, March 7.

The 21-year-old, Patrick J. Sauberman of 10209 East Jefferson, entered a plea of guilty at a hearing before Park Judge C. Joseph Belanger on Monday, March 8, and was sentenced to 10 days in the Wayne County Jail. He had been charged with contributing to the delinquency of minors.

James R. Ross, 20, of 855 East Maple, Detroit, entered a plea of guilty to illegal possession of alcoholic beverages, and was sentenced to pay a fine of $50, or serve five days in the county jail. The fine was not paid.

Another involved minor, Dennis A. Abney, 18, of 1335 Chalmers, Detroit, also charged with illegal possession, was released on $25 bond, and is scheduled for a hearing before Judge Belanger on April 15.

Two teenage girls, residents of the Park, arrested with the boys, were released to their parents, pending a hearing in Juvenile court.

The five were arrested by Patrolmen Collin LaLonde and Richard Warren, at about 7 p.m., when they observed the closed gas station was occupied. The officers investigated, thinking the place was being burglarized.

The policemen said they looked inside the station and saw the three males and two females drinking liquor and beer, and arrested them. The alcoholic beverages were confiscated and held as evidence.

Chief Louwers said that the station was opened by Sauberman, an employee of the place, for the purpose of the party. Sauberman had a key to the establishment, the chief added.

Merchants Hold Fashion Show

"Suddenly It's Spring" was the theme of this year's Grosse Pointe Commerce & Civic Association's annual Spring Fashion Show. Held March 2, at 8 p.m. at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, it reviewed a full fashion fantasy for the entire family.

TV personality Miss Jackie Crampton was on hand to announce and review the variety of fashions for a crowd of over 300 persons who attended.

Featuring Spring and Summer styles the show appealed to every age group from five to 65. One of the interesting points of the show was the fact that three generations of the E. J. Hickey family took part in the demonstrations.

Joseph L. Hickey, age 72, modeled a light grey Hickey-Freeman suit. E. J. Hickey, age 43, assisted in the fashion show presentation, while his son Brian Hickey, age 14, modeled a bright red summer sport jacket.

Prizes were given away by member-stores and refreshments were served compliments of the Village Manor.

Mr. Helmer, association president, extends his sincere appreciation to all persons in attendance and also to the participating stores who made the fashion show a success.

Josiah Harmar D.A.R. To Meet March 20

The General Josiah Harmar Chapter of the D.A.R. will meet at the home of Mrs. Robert M. Stewart, in Livonia, on Saturday, March 20, at 12:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Stewart and her co-hostesses Mrs. Lawrence Steinke, Mrs. Gale Menold, Mrs. David Sanderson and Mrs. David Miller will serve tea before the business meeting.

Reports on the State Conference will be given by the delegates.

Announce Class In Life Saving

A six-week course in Senior Life Saving will be offered to swimmers over the age of 16, by the Department of Community Services, Grosse Pointe

Public School System, beginning Tuesday, March 23.

Over 250,000 people in 130 countries bought an Opel Kadett last year.

Do they know something you don't?

Did you know the Kadett is made in Germany by General Motors?

Did you know it has bucket seats and a 4 speed floor shift and enough other standard equipment to make a lot of other cars look positively stripped down?

Did you know the sedan and sports coupe have trunks the size of real, honest-to-goodness trunks? And that the wagon has 50 cubic feet of cargo space?

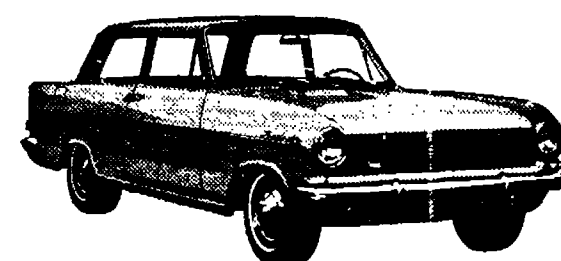

Did you know there are Buick/Opel dealers all across the country that you can count on for parts and service?

Did you know you can buy a brand-new Kadett for the price of a good used car?

Well, now you know.

Those 250,000 people. They're still one up on you, though. They've actually driven a Kadett.

Are you going to let them get away with that?

Don't Be Confused

Because of some possible local confusion regarding the background to the reorganization of Michigan public school districts, the Grosse Pointe News is publishing a recent letter from Dr. Lynn H. Bartlett, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, to Edward J. Pongracz, President of the Grosse Pointe Board of Education, in an effort to better inform the public on this matter.

It is reported there have been apparent attempts to confuse the reorganization issue with the proposed new high school, on the part of some citizens attending meetings at which the school officials were attempting to explain to the audience the great need for approval of two proposed bond issues at the polls on March 22. Sale of the bonds would finance the construction of a second high school, and an auditorium-instructional center.

Dr. Bartlett's letter to Mr. Pongracz follows.

Dear Mr. Pongracz,

Under the provisions of Act 289 of 1964, districts of the third class or higher are not permitted to become a part of the same school district. This fact of law specifically prevents the formation of such a school district. Because of this, it can be an assured fact that Grosse Pointe, being a third class school district, could not be required, in fact it would not be possible under Act 289, to join another third class district or a district of the first or second class.

Under the provisions of this Act, however, it is left to the discretion of Wayne County Intermediate Reorganization Committee, created by this Act, to recommend that a fourth class district might join with a third class district. Thus, it might be possible if there are adjoining fourth class school districts and if the Wayne County Intermediate Reorganization Committee so recommended and this was approved by the state committee and later approved by the vote of the people of both districts to have a fourth class district join with a third class district.

It is my understanding that your school district has two members on the Wayne County Intermediate Reorganization Committee. I am therefore sure that your community will be well represented and that your interest will be maintained.

With best personal wishes.

Cordially yours,
Lynn H. Bartlett
Superintendent of Public Instruction

Letters to the Editor

Editor's Note:—The Rev. James D. Nixon, minister of the Grosse Pointe Methodist Church, has requested us to print the following letter, which has already appeared in the Detroit Free Press.

TO THE EDITOR:
Detroit Free Press

Dear Sir:
A letter to the editor March 5 from "Antiphon" referred to public officials whose homes are in Grosse Pointe, saying "While I do not question their right to live where they wish, I do think that they and others like them cannot expect to have their remarks against racial bigotry hold water as long as Grosse Pointe remains all white... more segregated than any Southern city ever dreamed of being."

Your letter pointed to a great truth which I must agree, with one large "if" and an important "Unless." "If" they were to accept segregation silently, and "Unless" they work with others to make Grosse Pointe as open as all American communities must be to all who choose to live here!

The Grosse Pointe Human Relations Council believes in such openness!

Our Council members, numbering in the hundreds and including persons active in state, county and local affairs, declares that "each of us acknowledges the fact that one's desirability as a neighbor does not depend upon his race, color or creed."

We further declare that "we expect to become reconcilers in our community, a voice of calm and reason, a group uniting all people of good will prior to and during integration, with the goal of making our community a place where men of all races will have equal opportunity in education, housing, employment and total community life."

Your writer "Antiphon" (means "something sung alternately by two choirs") and others may secure copies of our Statement of Purpose and list of officers and board members. Yours toward singing together, JAMES D. NIXON, President, Grosse Pointe Human Relations Council, 64 Moross Road, Grosse Pointe Farms, 48236

Dear Sirs:
We teenagers aren't given much credit but we do know the Chene-Trombly playground is important to the kids in the area. Without the playground many of us would be running in the streets. Now is the time parents and citizens should band together to save a playground.

The city government should realize the importance of a safe place for younger kids and teenagers to play. If the playground weren't around the council would push a drive and raise taxes to get one.

It seems children don't have much say so. But why can't we have something to say about our playground. Where have our parents gone when something important is needed?

Not To Long Ago Eleven-yr.-old

Dear Sir:
It is with a great deal of consideration that I write this letter concerning the issue of the proposed new high school for Grosse Pointe.

Having received literature to guide our opinions in the vote on the school, my husband and I inquired by phone as to future plans for a complete industrial arts department.

I have always felt that the Grosse Pointe community was a leader in education, however, all information given us leads us to believe that no comprehensive program is being planned for a vocational curriculum.

We realize that a large portion of the students must be prepared for advanced education, however, the remaining students are the ones who should be our major concern.

I believe education has too long been ignoring the vocational programs. We would be failing in our moral obligation to provide the best possible education for young people today if we did not consider this.

This person is the one who, in the future, will be in need of support from society, i.e. welfare cases. Michigan has been lax in the consideration of vocational programming.

Other states have complete schools and junior colleges devoted to industrial arts. (I do not mean drawing, woodworking, leather craft, paper mache, etc.) What I am referring to is good, sound programming with adequate counseling for technicians in welding, drafting, automotive, electronics, hydraulics, engineering, nurses aides, and home economics, etc.

What Goes On at Your Library

By Virginia Leonard

Portrait of a human dynamo—Robert M. Orr, Director of the Grosse Pointe Public Libraries. Here is a man who positively radiates enthusiasm for his job, who works at it 24 hours a day, who makes you feel it is a rare privilege to be a part of the Grosse Pointe Public Library System, and who is as happy as a clam with the responsibilities and challenges which are his in his capacity as a Director.

Let's go back (we'll be thankful and not say just how many years!) to Springfield, Ill., where Mr. Orr was born. His BA and BS in LS he acquired at the University of Illinois. His first library job? Junior Assistant in the Detroit Public Library. From there, back to the Springfield, Ill., Public Library as Assistant Extension Librarian; following this was the position of Regional Library Director, WPA. At about this time Uncle Sam stepped in and his next address was the United States Army Air Force.

In 1945, we find Mr. Orr as Regional Director, Illinois State Library; two years later as Branch County (Michigan) Librarian, and finally, in 1949, he was appointed as Director of Public Libraries, Grosse Pointe, Mich.—an exciting position which he has held ever since.

And what of his home life? First, there is his wife, Edith, on the teaching staff of Grosse Pointe University School. He has four children. Susan, the eldest, is married and lives in Nebraska. Robert, the oldest son, is a student at Eastern; John, aged 12 (and quite the athlete!) attends Pierce; and Michael, aged 8, (the one with the engaging smile!), goes to Grosse Pointe University School. Add a dog and cat to this menagerie, and you have quite an assemblage, and 16929 Village Lane always seems to be a beehive of purposeful activity!

Professionally, during his years in Grosse Pointe, "RMO" has never let the proverbial grass grow under his restless, moving feet. For many years he was active in the Michigan Library Association, (at one time its president). One of his consuming interests is the Friends Group, and he has been chairman of the Friends Committee both in MLA and in the American Library Association. Still another facet—he is an enthusiastic Rotarian, at one time its president, and, for the past eight years, the editor for its weekly bulletin. And religiously we find Mr. Orr carrying his share of the load; he is a Lay Reader at St. Michael's Episcopal Church. Nor does he shirk his role as father—there has always been active participation in Boy Scout camp-outs and Indian Guide duties. (With three boys it's pretty hard to evade such responsibilities!)

Mr. Orr definitely feels that his primary responsibility is the operation of the three Grosse Pointe Public Libraries. When a Library System has a circulation of over half a million and serves approximately 28,000 registered borrowers, it becomes the equivalent, in reality, of five and one-half major libraries. And at this job our Director works with great fervor and dedication. It is to his eternal credit that over and above this main duty we can list many other subsidiary jobs that he has taken on—and taken on dynamically. Let us list just a few.

First of all, there is his Book Review Class—"What America is Reading—and Why," currently in the twelfth class this spring. This is a community service under the Department of Adult Education. During the 1963-64 school year, he gave 18 book talks and served on the Wayne County and Dearborn Library Interview Boards. He is a member of the Suburban Librarians Group, and has acted as master of ceremonies for the Grosse Pointe Celebrity Series for a number of years. Also, with an eye to the needs of his area, Mr. Orr is chairman of the Planning Sub-Committee for the new high school library.

As a Library Consultant, Mr. Orr's services are constantly sought. At the present time, he is preparing a Public Library Survey for the City of Wyoming, Mich. Another similar one is planned for Alpena later in the spring.

In the teaching field, our Director is a member of the Wayne State part-time faculty, having taught a course in reference materials there.

Are you tired? I am! And just from listing this jet-propelled librarian's myriad activities, interests, specialties and duties. It almost makes you want to ask: "And just what does he do in his spare time?"

And Mr. Orr's enthusiasm is contagious. He makes you feel that really Grosse Pointe is a wonderful community, a great place to live in; that it has a nonpareil Public School System—and that you're pretty lucky to be working there yourself! We salute him—a fine Director.

WOMEN'S PAGES

From Another Pointe of View

By Janet Mueller

Our first BIG Spring announcement is always the list of next season's Celebrity Series speakers.

The 1965-66 roster of lecturers coming to town for the Bon Secours Assistance League-sponsored programs glitters with well-known names.

As we told you before, Winston Churchill, II, will open the Series. He will appear October 14, at 11 o'clock, at the Esquire Theater.

Robert Q. Lewis will be the November 11 speaker, followed, December 2, by Betty Furness.

We particularly like Eddy Fredericks' January 13 topic: "The Art of Interior Decorating — and How to Avoid It."

Edward Weeks, editor of the Atlantic Monthly, is scheduled to speak February 10, and dress designer Count Sarmi closes the Series March 10.

(Count Sarmi made news recently when three ladies, including The Pointe's Mrs. Marilyn Wall Breer, showed up at Palm Beach's Flamingo Ball wearing his pink chiffon, feather-bodied gown, for which each paid approximately $800—Shows what can happen if you buy cheap clothes!)

As always, a Celebrity luncheon at Al Green's will follow each morning lecture at the Esquire.

Chairman of the 1965-66 Celebrity Series is Mrs. Leo Marx, of Yorkshire road. Ticket chairman is Mrs. Donald G. Cherry, of Stratford place.

Fine Arts Society

The Fine Arts Society's third performance of its 1964-65 season will be almost entirely Pointe-populated when the veteran theatrical group presents Tennessee Williams' "Glass Menagerie" tomorrow and Saturday at the Players Playhouse in East Jefferson avenue.

Spode Gloucester (LOWESTOFT)

The subtle blue-gray of the Lowestoft body is reminiscent of the 18th Century when the best homes in England and America were supplied with dinnerware imported from China. In the early 1800's, to make replacements for these sets, Spode produced this body and engraved in copper hundreds of the patterns from the Chinese. The delicate shading of the blue of this pattern, together with the authentic shapes, carried all of the 18th Century dignity of the original. Gloucester is particularly well suited to the Traditional styles.

Peter Hills Monroe... who always dreamed of going to Oxford prior to entering law school, leaves for England this year. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Allison Monroe, of Moross place, has just been named recipient of a John Moody Fellowship, one of the most coveted prizes awarded by Williams College, Williamstown, Mass. Pete will be the 37th Williams graduate to attend Oxford as a result of this fellowship, established in 1927. Basis for the award is general intellectual ability and a major in either the languages or the social sciences. Pete Monroe qualifies on both counts: A Political Science major who won all sorts of awards at Grosse Pointe University School, he amassed a brilliant academic record at Williams, where he was named to Phi Beta Kappa. And just to prove he's not "one-sided" — he also serves as captain of the Williams varsity tennis team!

We wonder... what the little white mouse who dropped in on the English Speaking Union's Country Club meeting last week thought of Joe LaHart's talk on the English language, (humans found it fascinating). The uninvited guest, fortunately noticed by only a few, paused in the dining room doorway, listened intently for a few seconds, then scurried the length of the room and hid under a drape from which, (presumably), he enjoyed the rest of the program.

We're especially proud... of three of our NEWS "graduates," a young man and two young women who gained experience during their college vacations working on our editorial staff. Peggy Jeffs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Raymond Jeffs, of McKinley avenue, is currently living in New York City, where she is an assistant editor on "Mademoiselle" magazine. Robert Wells, son of Mrs. Daniel J. Wells, of Kerby road, a Princeton University sophomore, is an associate editor of the "Daily Princetonian," (incidentally, Bob just became a member of Princeton's Campus Club). And Kathy Dickson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dickson of Roland court, has been elected president of her dormitory at the University of Michigan, starting in the fall term.

Isn't it time... someone told Mrs. James A. Remick, of University place, the difference between a spark plug and a carburetor?

Tip for a pleasant morning break... Why not drop into the Hospitality Center, Kercheval avenue in "The Village," some morning between 9 and 11 o'clock, and spend a relaxing ten minutes or so browsing through the Art Exhibit there? We did last week, and were intrigued by samples of Progressive Artists Club members' work, especially a delightfully restful "Quiet Harbor" by William Laird and a wonderfully decorative enamel, "Blue Abstractions," attached to its wooden frame by metal screws and signed Fred Kayser. The Progressive Artists Exhibit will remain at the Hospitality Center through April, with a new batch of club members' pictures coming in at the end of this month. Incidentally, plans for the traditional summer exhibits of work by young artists in the Grosse Pointe schools are well under way. If you can't make it to the Hospitality Center on a weekday morning, stop by on a Saturday, when the Exhibit is open to the public all day long.

New fashion items... at Grosse Pointe University School Boutique, on sale this Friday and every Friday at the school, from 2 to 4 o'clock, are original shifts, (perfect for a Florida trip!), a few with baskets to match, and many, many more hand-painted baskets done by those Masters of the Paintbrush, Mrs. Jeremiah V. Jenks, Mrs. John Odell, Jr., Mrs. Jean Lackey, Mrs. Edwin Henry, Jr., and Mrs. Hugh Riddleberger. All Boutique proceeds are donated to the GPUS scholarship fund.

Horace Taft, brother of President William Howard Taft, founded the Taft School for boys in Watertown, Conn. Mild-mannered but strict, Taft once expelled the son of a self-important New York executive, and the boy's father drove immediately to Watertown, determined to get his son reinstated.

Barging into Taft's office, he shouted, "Mr. Taft, you think you can run this school any damned way you please, don't you?"

Taft looked at him a moment and then said quietly, "Your manner is crude and your language vulgar — but you somehow have gotten the point." —Reader's Digest

"Surely, professor," said a friend, "there might be an exception to that."

"There might be," snapped Amringe, "but he wouldn't be worth teaching." —Coronet

Pointer of Interest

JOHN CARRICO, OF NOTTINGHAM ROAD

By Janet Mueller

John Carrico's life-long love affair with the theater is still going strong. During the past 44 years, Mr. Carrico has directed the Detroit Community Players in more than 100 productions.

His dramatic activities were confined to evenings and weekends; during the day he played his major role: Breadwinner for a family of five children.

But now he has retired from the Chrysler-Plymouth Division as assistant manager of Chrysler and Imperial Car Distribution, and now his dream of establishing a non-professional theater club seems to be nearing reality.

The Metropolitan Detroit Civic Theater, theater club project of the Detroit Community Players, Inc., has been chartered as a Michigan non-profit corporation.

Has Implicit Faith
Mr. Carrico, who has watched Detroit's growing interest in the theater, is convinced there is a place in the Motor City for his Civic Theater. He believes there are people willing to support his project, anxious to be a part of it to write, produce, act, direct.

Now able to devote all his time to his "first love," he is seeking charter members to help finance the extensive plans of his group.

The Carrico family traces its origins in the United States to Lord Baltimore's Maryland colony. Carricos settled in Kentucky with Daniel Boone. John, the oldest of nine boys, was born in Bedford, Ind., in 1899.

His father was an automotive engineer who designed the first Overland Car and independently developed the "Carrico Buggy" and the "Carrico Air-Cooled Engine." He eventually developed a semi-automatic steering gear — and predicted that all cars would some day be equipped with automatic transmissions.

Settled in Detroit
The family moved frequently before settling down in Detroit in 1909, where Mr. Carrico, Sr., became chief tool designer for Dodge at its Hamtramck plant. "My father loved the theater," John Carrico explains. "He took me to see many plays. But he was a self-made man; he believed his son must have a trade."

John wanted to devote his life to the stage, but "to keep peace in the family" he studied drafting and design.

He finished St. John Grade School, worked three years while attending Cass Technical School evening classes, returned to full-time studies in 1917, the year Northeastern High School opened.

He helped organize the dramatic club at Northeastern. His first year in high school, he wrote an English theme, a short story "with plenty of dialogue."

Play Helped Sell Bonds
His teacher told him to rewrite the story, in play form. His finished product, "The Awakening," was presented throughout Detroit to promote the sale of World War I Liberty Bonds.

From then on, John Carrico wrote pageants and plays "hand over fist." He has never stopped writing, has turned out a novel, magazine and newspaper verse and scores of scripts.

One of his uncles, a priest who directed and produced plays, fed Mr. Carrico's love for the theater and encouraged him to learn the technical aspects of dramatic presentation.

John Carrico started ushering at the old De Luxe Theater in Kercheval avenue while he was still at Northeastern. He worked up to a position as assistant manager, but quit during his last year of high school to take a job designing and drafting.

Eventually, he became manager of the Boulevard Theater on the corner of Gratiot and Field, where the Detroit Community Players were organized. Mr. Carrico kept looking for a permanent home for the Players. In 1923, the Gladwin Park Theater became available. The Players raised $5,000 "in about two weeks time" and bought the Gladwin Park.

Went Gloriously Broke
They intended to show movies — and to offer good stage productions. "We tried to do what Vanguard tried to do," Mr. Carrico reminisces, "and went gloriously broke!"

The theater was sold to pay the Players' debts, (fortunately, the purchase price just covered the dramatic group's financial obligations).

John Carrico spent whole days watching Jessie Bonstelle rehearse her famous troupe at Detroit's old Garrick Theater. He saw Katherine Cornell walk out on a stage for the first time.

He headed for New York in December, 1923, staying there until early May "doing anything" (including one performance of Ibsen's "Ghosts"), returned to Detroit "because I like to eat."

He took a job with Continental Motors and remained with Continental six years. For three years, in the heart of The Depression, he moved from job to job. Finally, in 1933, he started with Chrysler, on the night shift, as a clerk-typist in the Traffic Department.

All this time, he kept active in the theater, working with Detroit Community Players.

Romance Followed Crash
He met his wife, Jean, red-haired sister-in-law of a doctor who saved his life after an automobile accident, on Memorial Day, 1937. They were married three and a half months later, September 18, 1937.

Jean was a schoolteacher before she became Mrs. Carrico. She earned her B.S. at Wayne University, took post-graduate courses in psychology at Merrill-Palmer Institute. Nine years ago, her children sufficiently grown, she returned to the classroom.

She now teaches first grade at Detroit's Carsten School.

Jack, the oldest of the Carrico children, was graduated from Assumption, awarded a Woodrow Wilson Fellowship and is presently finishing his Ph.D. at Brandeis University. He is a nuclear physicist, married, and the father of three children.

Michael Carrico's second child, a girl, was born 11 days ago. Michael spent two years in the military service, in Europe, where his wife joined him; he is now studying at Walsh Institute and working in an accounting department at Chrysler.

Mrs. Daniel C. Gould, the former Janice Carrico, flew into town to visit her parents the Friday after the Big Storm. She brought her baby with her from their home in St. Louis, Mo., where Mr. Gould is working on his M.A. at St. Louis University.

Two Still at Home
Two Carricos are still at home, 22-year-old Tommy, finishing up at Radio-Electronics Institute and planning to continue his studies at a college or university, and 17-year-old Richard, a junior at Grosse Pointe High School.

During World War II, Chrysler found out John Carrico could read blueprints. He was promoted, and promoted, and promoted.

After the war, he transferred to Chrysler's sales division. The promotions continued to come. John Carrico enjoyed his work in the automobile industry, but he plans to really relish his retirement, is happy to be able at last to devote himself fully to the theater.

Director of the Detroit Institute of Musical Art Theater Workshop, present home of Metropolitan Detroit Civic Theater, Inc., he teaches Mondays, started an afternoon theater class for teens, arrives home some time after 9 o'clock, when his adults' evening class is over.

Three Plays a Year
His workshop produces at least three plays a year. Cast and staff are composed of those interested in the theater, either as a profession or a hobby.

His headquarters at home are in the extension at the back of his house, built by himself and his sons, ("I've always enjoyed carpentry").

His office is fantastically cluttered, lined with bookshelves on which are stacked works on literature, dramatics, psychology, piles of files spilling out from a metal cabinet where his own scripts and verse are collected, a typewriter, a chair and a couch.

He keeps his printing press, used mainly for programs, in the basement, along with another group of 500 scripts.

His mementoes are numerous: A 1921 letter from Helen Hayes, discussing her Detroit appearance in "Bab," in which she tells Mr. Carrico, "I hope to do more serious work next year"; the Detroit's Community Players' first program, listing a performance of the play "Fog," by John Carrico... family pictures... reviews of Civic Theater productions.

Has Many First Editions
He recently sorted his collection of first editions and placed the valuable books in a special cabinet, in a special room. He has a set of Booth Tarkington's novels, complete except for "Penrod," and a set of Vardis Fisher first editions.

There is also an early "Uncle Tom's Cabin," an early "Ben Hur" and a first printing, first edition of Theodore Dreiser's "The Genius," for which Mr. Carrico paid 25c. (he held his breath until he got out of the bookshop).

He is constantly learning more about the theater, attends drama workshops, reads and studies — and directs and produces — works of the modern playwrights, Tennessee Williams, William Inge, Horton Foote.

His favorite, the man he considers America's most gifted dramatist, is Eugene O'Neill.

John Carrico has designed sets, written, produced and directed plays, but has no desire to step in front of the footlights.

"If you want to act, act; if you want to direct, direct," he maintains.

He believes in the future of Metropolitan Detroit Civic Theater, Inc. He has covered the city with Detroit Community Players, "been everywhere we could get a hall for nothing," feels the time is ripe for successful establishment of a non-professional theater club, managed and directed with a professional level of play producing.

"I know theater in this town," he says. "I've seen so many theaters try, and fail... We are hoping to find people who can contribute something, time, talent, not necessarily money — but that helps! — to build a theater group through a genuine cooperative effort."

Marie Bird's Beauty ByLine

This is the time of the year when our hair on 117 Kercheval On-the-Hill is filled with beauty-wise women — smart gals that know the value of a mid-winter Custom Perm to put SPRING in their hairstyles — Vitality into their tired limp tresses — and get the lift that snaps one out of the doldrums that frequently follow a seige of being snow-bound... or bed-bound with the "flu."

The softer, curlier hairdos demand greater skill in cutting and shaping — plus an understanding of the individual's needs in permanent waving — the art of knowing what to do to create a style that will hold from one shampoo to the next — and yet avoid a rigid, over-teased, heavily sprayed look that lacks the easy swirl and motion of today's fashions in clothes. In Paris they call it "The Breeze Line" — it's light-hearted and gay.

Our salon is always open Mondays for your convenience so why not drop in and discuss your hair and its problems with me or call TUxedo 1-6833 for an appointment. (P.S. Wednesday is the staff's day off but our telephone lines are open for advance bookings.)

Stock Up... on your favorite beauty preparations at a savings. The Notre Dame Pharmacy is featuring Satara Cream... very specially priced. Also, Ultra Feminine Cream, seven dollar size is now four-fifty.

Of course... you've read about the fluffy haired blonde in navy blue, who stole the show in Paris. Recognize the style? Edward Nepi, "Parrucchiere," 19463 Mack Avenue has been styling such avant hair-dos for weeks now. TUxedo 4-8858.

The Natural... "un-made-up look" of fashion can only be achieved if the proper coloring is carefully selected to blend with milady's skin-tone, matching her arms, hands and throat. Fashion Two Twenty conducts these color tests and says, "Try before you buy."

Bait Your Line... with an order! You'll catch a fresh snapper, or a trout, or a pickerel with all the "fixins" at Pointe Wharf, 18310 Mack Avenue. TUxedo 5-4453 carry out and delivery service.

Charlotte's... 15123 Kercheval has a large selection of jewelry ON SALE at one half to more off the cost. Included are Robert, Eisenberg and a group of sterling silver designs. Charlotte's is remodeling and has many store-wide bargains.

Season Skipping... at Riverview Dodge, 15205 East Jefferson... fun filled Summer deals are being made now. There's a showroom full of flowers, convertibles, campers and station wagons to get you through the doldrum days, faster!

STOP... and see the exclusive design by Paul Gach Studio, 345 Fisher Road. It's a custom light-frame. Brings out the color and drama of photographs (yours or theirs). For more information call TUxedo 1-0500.

Leave... the bargains in the basement. If you can't decide from appearance alone, you may be tempted to buy on the basis of price. Everyone likes a bargain. However, a kitchen that's a bargain today may have to be replaced in as little as five years. Mutschler cabinets of resilient hardwood can take a great deal of punishment and still look beautiful years and years from now. This is just a word to the dollar-wise from Mutschler Kitchens, 20489 Mack Avenue.

Exciting Series... of lectures by top AID members (really an advanced course in interior decorating) is offered. Mr. William Austin tells us it's entitled "Styles of Furniture from Antiquity to the Present Time". Visual aids will be used. The Spanish influence, so popular now will be one of the eight topics. This fabulous opportunity is under the auspices of the Grosse Pointe Community Services, at the Grosse Pointe High School, starting March seventeenth... at 7:30 p.m. The cost is ten dollars.

Hurry!... Catch the Walton-Pierce Sale while you can! Few days are left before timely temptingly tagged goodies must give way to an abundance of new fashions, arriving daily in all departments.

Top Drawer Topics... showcased this week at 17007 Kercheval UP in the Village are fun "sit by the sea" straw hats and fairway visor caps. To wrap around stylish necks are lengths of wooden beads in a palette of colors.

Spring... into Spring with patriotism and style. It's red, white and blue at Claire Pearone, 397 Fisher Road. Noticed the windows? There's lots more refreshing contrast... inside!
