UNITED STATES and Vietnamese planes launched massive raids against North Vietnam and scorched earth raids against the Viet Cong, but lost six aircraft to Communist gunners. There were at least 200 American casualties as 200 planes and 25 helicopters raided North Vietnam and the Viet Cong, with about 70 U.S. planes pouring tons of napalm, phosphorus and fuel oil on Communist-infested Boi Loi forest, which has been used as a base of the Viet Cong.

A MICHIGAN safety enforcement official was suspended from his $7000-a-year job pending investigation of a charge that he was involved in a black market for driver's licenses. Andrew W. Robinson, of 3776 Glendale, a ten-year employee of the Michigan State Department, was suspended after he refused to "discuss any phase of the situation." Robinson's suspension followed the resignation of a Detroit policeman who granted an ex-convict an illegal temporary driver's permit.

THE MICHIGAN Legislature, broadening the Michigan Code of Escheats to cover unclaimed wages, insurance policy payments and gift certificates, put a $30 to $40 million bonanza in the Michigan treasury. Upper Peninsula members of the House tried to get the funds to help pay off some of the debt on the Mackinac Bridge, but this proposal was defeated.

THE DETROIT Red Wings defeated the Chicago Black Hawks and their super-star Bobby Hull in the first game of the Stanley Cup playoffs in the National Hockey League. Hull scored Chicago's first goal and assisted on two others, but the league's Most Valuable Player, Red Wing Norm Ullman, scored the winning goal in Detroit's 4-3 victory. The game, first in a seven-game series between the Red Wings and Black Hawks, was played in Detroit.

MAYOR JEROME CAVANAGH threatened to reduce pay boost for Detroit's policemen if voters approved an extra vacation week for the 4,300-member force. The mayor explained that the cost of the fifth week of vacation time would have to be subtracted from the prospective pay raise included in Mayor Cavanagh's new budget. The four-week vacation for ten-year veterans was adopted in 1918 and policemen now claim that the furlough measure is out of date.

HELENA RUBINSTEIN, a cosmetics queen who tried to put the fountain of youth in a cold cream jar, died at the age of 94 in New York. She had amassed a $100 million fortune in the cosmetic industry, but used much of it for philanthropic enterprises. She released one of her most carefully guarded secrets just before her death—her age.

ADMINISTRATION officials announced that United States forces in Vietnam will be reinforced by several thousand troops within a few months. After finishing a week-long series of high level conferences in Washington, Maxwell Taylor, U.S. Ambassador to Vietnam, disclosed plans for a buildup of men and supplies to supplement the 27,000-man force now fighting the Viet Cong. Taylor also stated that the possibility of either Russia or Red China entering the Vietnamese conflict was very slight.

THE DEMOCRATIC majorities in the Michigan House and Senate agreed to a compromise that cleared the way for passage of a bill that would cut property taxes for some 170,000 elderly homeowners. House Democrats cut an amendment to help renters, and the Senate Democrats pledged to pass such a bill later this year. At the same time, Governor George Romney was endorsing an al-

In recognition of the excellent work done by snow removal crews in all of The Pointes in the wake of the big blizzard, the Automobile Club of Michigan is presenting citations praising the local Departments of Public Works "outstanding performance." First to receive a citation, April 1, was Grosse Pointe City. Mayor DAVID E. BURGESS (left) and DOUGLAS COLLINSON, City DPW Superintendent, are pictured as they accept their award from Auto Club representative JACK HINSBERG, while City Manager JOHN CANTWELL (right) smiles his approval of the proceedings. The Woods receives its citation tonight, the Park and Farms will receive their citations April 12, and the final citation will be presented to Shores officials April 20.

Begin Sewer Improvement In GP City

Award Catch Basin Repair and Replacement Contract at Special Meeting April 1

Work on the City's sewer improvement program has begun. At a special Council meeting last Thursday, the George Jerome and Company contract, covering services in conjunction with the sewer improvement program and pumping station automation, was approved.

The catch basin repair and replacement contract was awarded to DeMeulenaere Construction Company, low bidder at $20,417.

Tax Notes
In other business, Council authorized sale of $70,000 tax anticipation notes for the interim fiscal year and tax period, April 1, 1965, through June 30, 1965, to Bank of the Commonwealth, low bidder at 1.6 per cent.

The City Manager was authorized to make application with the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission, requesting approval to sell an additional $130,000 tax anticipation notes for the interim fiscal year and tax period, April 1, 1965, through June 30, 1965.

Kelly Appointed
Councilman Ernest B. Kelly, Jr., was appointed to the Wayne County Board of Supervisors for the new term, starting April 13.

Convicted Youth Confesses To 25 Woods Burglaries

Two youths involved in the February 18 burglary of a Woods gas station were sentenced in Macomb County Circuit Court for a safe robbery of a Utica, Mich., bowling place, from which they looted $11,000 in cash and checks. Some of the money was recovered.

A third youth will be sentenced on Monday, April 12, for his part in the Utica crime. All had entered pleas of guilty at a hearing before Judge Howard R. Carroll.

One of the youths, in a confession to Woods detectives on March 29 while awaiting his sentence to prison, cleared 25 miscellaneous larcenies and burglaries in the Woods, including the gas station breaking and entering, dating back to June 30, 1962.

The youth, James J. Tranchida, 17, of 21302 Prestwick,

Pointer Recalls 96 Years Of Local Memories On Her 100th Birthday

Mrs. Alfred Auckland Reminisces About Farming, Ice Jams and Turn-of-the-Century Sleigh Rides In Her "Country" Home

About a month before the surrender of Lee's forces at Appomattox Court House, Va., Martha McLean Auckland was born in Pittsburgh, in the province of Ontario, Canada, in 1869.

Four years later she moved to Grosse Pointe, and for the past 96 years has made her home here. She married, raised her children, watched the Pointe grow from a sleepy hamlet into a thriving suburb.

She celebrated her 100th birthday March 19, at a party given by her four children, Mrs. Marion Singleton, of Hillcrest road, with whom she now makes her home. Mrs. Henry Iveson of Muir road, John Auckland, of Piche avenue, and Mrs. Albert Cooch, of Ann Arbor. The party was held at the St. Clair Shores home of Mrs. Donald Iveson.

The following is Martha McLean Auckland's own memoir of her life:

100 Years of Memories

I lived in Ontario with my parents until I was four years old and then came to Grosse Pointe, Mich. One sister was born in Ontario and my other sisters and four brothers were born in Grosse Pointe Farms on the Smith farm.

We lived with the William Webb family on their farm and my father, John McLean, worked this farm for himself. We lived in a large old-fashioned farm house that had two brick ovens in the dining room that were used to bake bread.

Our home was heated with a huge wood stove and we stayed there for about one year. About 1873 we moved to Dr. Isaac Sidman Smith's farm and lived in "Willow Cottage." My father worked this farm on shares.

While living there an ice jam on Lake St. Clair occurred. We could hear the roaring and moaning of the ice as it started to break and huge cakes of ice piled up on top of each other and made great ice piles. The force of the ice cakes brought huge rocks up on the main road, which is now Lake Shore Drive. Some of the ice cakes pushed in under the willow trees and raised them up out of the ground.

Moved Again

When I was about 18 years of age, we moved to the old Kerby farm which Senator McMillan had purchased. My father managed the farm for the Senator.

We farmed on a small scale and also had sheep, horses, cows, pigs and chickens. The sheep were Southdowns—a purebred sheep. The horses were trained for saddle horses and Senator McMillan engaged a trainer to handle the horses. The trainer was a Negro and his name was "Shy."

Senator McMillan went to Scotland for a trip and when he returned, he was so interested in golf that he built a nine hole golf course on the Kerby Farm. A number of men were employed building this course and also a mile track that was used for pleasure only.

Baseball Games

A baseball diamond was also built inside the mile track. On Saturday afternoons there always was a baseball game held by the young men of the community. The players came in a Talleyho Coach to the diamond and there was quite an audience. The Coach was an open affair painted red with seats for the players and was quite the thing. There also was a band playing at the games.

The golf course was the first in Grosse Pointe. When bicycles first became popular, some of the ladies used to come up to the track to try out the bikes. After the Senator bought the Kerby Farm, it was called Hamilton Park.

Annual Easter Egg Program Set At Center

International Institute's Ukrainian Section to Show Decorating Techniques This Saturday

Grosse Pointe children and their parents are invited to get ready for Easter by attending one of the two Easter egg decorating sessions at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial on Saturday, April 10 at 2 p.m. or again at 3:30 p.m.

Free instruction will be provided as in the past by the Ukrainian section of the International Institute.

People may bring their own eggs or buy them at cost at the Center.

Use Uncooked Eggs

Ukrainians use uncooked eggs to dye. Patterns, dyes, and bees wax will be furnished free. The style with which to make the design cost about 30c.

Assisting the Ukrainian Women and parents in guiding the children through the steps of egg decoration will be members of the Center's Youth Council who are volunteering their services in distributing and setting (Continued on Page 2)

Errant Driver Awaits Hearing

Woods Judge Don Goodrow set Saturday, April 17, as the trial date for Edward K. Robertson, 41, of 692 Peach Tree, who is accused of driving while under the influence of alcohol.

Robertson was arraigned for examination on the date of his arrest, Wednesday, March 31, and stood mute. A plea of innocent was entered for him by Judge Goodrow, who released Robertson on $100 bond, pending the court appearance.

Patrolman Charles Hamel said that he was patrolling south on Mack avenue when he received a radio call to be on the lookout for a driver traveling on Mack in an erratic manner.

Hamel said that he drove to Cook road, and while scouting the area, Robertson appeared and swung his vehicle in front of him, almost causing an accident with the scout car, the officer added.

Robertson was taken to the station and placed in a cell until his examination before Goodrow that evening.

War Memorial Making Annual Funds Appeal

Donors Begin to Respond in '65 Family Participation Campaign; "Doorways to Discovery" Brochure Mailed to Pointe Homes

The Grosse Pointe War Memorial's 1965 Annual Family Participation Campaign is on. The dates are April 1-May 30. The goal is $75,000 about one-quarter of what it costs to maintain the Center and operate its busy schedule.

It is hoped that all Grosse Pointers will make a gift. None is too small, all are appreciated and needed.

This article is being written following an evening program committee meeting, where a group of Grosse Pointe's busy citizens volunteered their time to lay plans for such Center-sponsored events as a Teenage nightclub; an open panel discussion between representative high school students and parents, clergy, educators and police; a new Fries Forum on Space, a Carousel of culture involving Trips to the Art, music and drama centers of Metropolitan Detroit; a summer stock company for the College age; a series to bring international name artists to the Center; Memorial Day Services, and a Veterans Rights program.

Full Agenda

It was a full agenda which came at the end of a typically busy day at the Center.

While the meeting was in progress, some 275 Pointers were enjoying one of the Center's International dinners in the Crystal Ballroom, and a program on Spain in the Auditorium, the gift of William Hayes Fries to the Community. Also, concurrently going on in Alger House given along with the beautiful property of the Russell Alger family, were a meeting of the Grosse Pointe Toastmasters, The Kiwanis Club of Grosse Pointe, a drawing and painting class, a Basic Seamanship Course, and a class in Yoga.

More Meetings

Through the day, the Grosse Pointe Senior Men's Club had met (they have nearly 500 members), an exhibit of painting and sculpture had been on view, the Service Guild for Children's Hospital had worked on their bandages, a Conversational French class was held, there'd been a Water Color class, and a meeting of the Chess Club.

Serves 150,000

The Center serves some 150,000 people in a variety of ways annually. A solicitation brochure called "Doorways to Discovery" has been sent to each house with the appeal to "Keep the door open wide." Citizens are asked to use the Center, discover its amazingly diversified program and contribute in the postage free remittance envelopes whatever they can to this unique Grosse Pointe institution which takes no tax money or United Foundation funds. It has something for everybody, it needs something from everybody.

GP Badminton Association To Sponsor Big Exhibition

The Grosse Pointe Badminton Association is sponsoring an exhibition of the world's top badminton players next Sunday, April 11, at 2 o'clock, at the Grosse Pointe High School gym.

Erland Kops, world's champion singles player from Denmark, and last year's all-England champion Knud Aage Nielsen, also from Denmark, will appear in both a singles and men's doubles exhibition. Their opponents in the men's doubles will be two players from England and Scotland, Tony Jordon and Bob McCoig, the top-rated Scottish singles and doubles player.

Both Jordon and McCoig will have top mixed partners from England, Jennifer Pritchard and Mrs. Margaret Barrand, who will be defending her United States open title April 14 at the U.S. Nationals in New Orleans, La.

All of the players in Sunday's exhibition will be competing in the U.S. open. Erland Kops will be defending his singles championship at New Orleans.

The Flint Badminton Club and the Birmingham Badminton Club have joined forces with the Grosse Pointe Badminton Club, headed by president John W. Wood, of Charlevoix road, and vice president Robert J. Petz, of Lakeshore road, to sponsor the program.

More Council Pay Refused In Woods

Second Amendment in Woods Receive Voters' Approval; 10,439 Pointers Cast Ballots

Park voters rejected two amendments to their City Charter and refused to keep an incumbent councilman in office; and the Woods voters turned down one amendment to their City Charter and approved another. There will be new faces around the council seats of the Park, Woods and Farms; and former Governor John B. Swainson, unopposed for Wayne County Circuit Judge, to fill a vacancy, was a shoo-in.

The electors who took time out to go to the polls at the election on Monday, April 5, made known their wishes by the majority votes cast.

Swainson, who could have made it with only one vote, if that was all that was needed, gleaned a total of 4,301 from all of the Pointes. The total number of registered voters in the Pointe is 34,539.

In the City, where the local election is held in November, out of 4,432 qualified registered voters, 149 cast their vote for the former governor; and in the Shores, where local elections will be held next month, 55 of the 69 ballots cast were for Swainson, the rest were cast for write-in candidates. The Shores has 1,613 registered voters.

Vote For Swainson
This is how the other Pointes voted for Swainson: Park—1,624; Farms—872; and Woods—1,601.

On ballots cast for candidates for local offices and local issues, the votes were:

Park—(3,816 out of 9,000 voted), Proposal 1, to reduce the average work week for firemen from 63 hours to 53 hours—Yes, 1,559; No, 1,978. Proposal 2, to provide city fire fighters a furlough of 20 days each year—Yes, 1,402; No, 2,045.

Patterson Elected

In the Park race for mayor, Matthew Patterson, who was appointed to fill a vacancy last July, created by the resignation of Kenneth Cunningham, was elected to serve a two-year term in his own right. He received 2,059 votes, and his opponent, William M. Fritz polled 1,560 votes.

In the bid for seats around the council table, George J. Verdonck, a newcomer, was the top vote getter with 2,034. Also elected were incumbents John Doelle, 1,900; and Charles Ives, 1,753.

The losers are: Thomas Bolton, 1,530; Incumbent William Kessler (appointed last July when Patterson became mayor), 1,382; and Barry Quinn, 1,427.

In the municipal judge race, Incumbent Judge C. Joseph Belanger received 2,223 votes; his opponent, Philip Mabarak, 916.

Seat Still Vacant

With only three councilmen to be elected, according to the Park City Charter, the council seat left open by the appointment of Patterson to the office of mayor, is still vacant. Kessler had sought a four-year term in his own right. Patterson's old seat on the council still has two years to expiration.

In the Woods, (3,363 votes cast out of 11,752 registered), the electors turned down Charter Amendment A, to increase the pay of the mayor and members of the council, by a vote of 2,361 to 867. Charter Amendment B, approving extension of hospital insurance to dependents of city employees, passed by a vote of 1,914 to 1,384.

Elected to the city council were, William F. Huettner, 2,190 and Mrs. Joanne Hendricks, 1,922, both newcomers; and Incumbent Marvin Boutin, 1,597.

The losers were, Incumbent Lathrop Morse, who polled 1,096 votes; Edmund Tropp, 869; and Robert Wandersneider, who trailed with 813.

Memories

Grosse Pointe was on the Lake-shore road and Kerby lane. Rufus Kerby gave a corner lot from his own property for this building. Ministers of different denominations could preach here.

I can remember when barges went up the Lake St. Clair carrying sand and lumber. They were called sand scows and had one large sail in the center and one small sail in front and operated by wind only. We could hear voices of men singing, talking and laughing as the sounds wafted over the water from the sand scows. The shore line of Lake St. Clair was natural, wild and beautiful—no breakwalls then.

I learned to sew at the age of seven. My mother taught me to make patchwork pieces, then I graduated to making doll clothes for my large doll called "Annie Laurie." From this beginning I became a dressmaker. At age 15 I made a patchwork quilt called "Log Cabin."

Winter Fun

The winters seemed long, but the young folks of the community would gather together and have different kinds of parties in the evenings. We ice skated and the boys would build huge bon fires on the lake so we could keep warm.

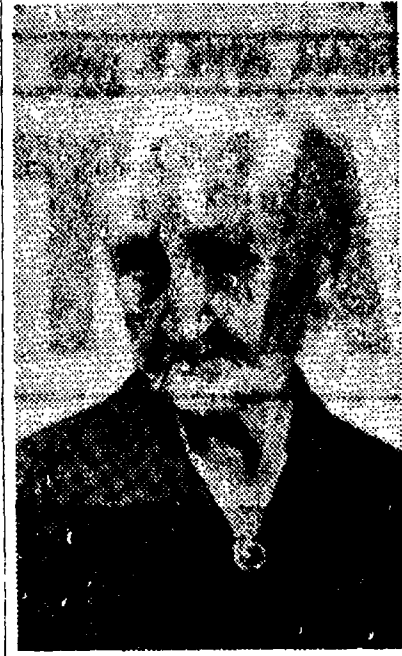

The neighbors lived far apart but we had square dances, candy pulls and sleigh rides and most of the transportation to these gatherings would be by cutter and horses. My father, John McLean, liked and enjoyed young people and many times took the young folks for sleigh rides.

We kept warm with blankets and fur robes and the bottom of the sleigh was filled with straw. With the sleigh bells jingling and the horses running on the country road and the young people singing, it is a wonderful memory. There always was plenty of snow. After a long sleigh ride we would return to my home where my mother would have hot chocolate and mounds of sandwiches waiting for us.

When I was growing up I lived in the City through the week with my Grandmother. On Friday when I came home, I used to wait by the toll gate for a ride home.

I can remember the horse-driven trolley cars in the City.

MRS. ALFRED AUKLAND

The trolley cars were the last word in transportation.

On January 19, 1893, I married Alfred Auckland. Alfred and I met each other when he came to Grosse Pointe to work on George Hendrie's home.

Alfred was a building contractor and learned his trade in England. We had a home wedding and Reverend John Kelly married us. Joseph Berry sent vines and beautiful white roses from his greenhouse to decorate my home for the wedding.

Reverend Kelly used to come to Grosse Pointe on Saturdays from the City and stayed overnight at Mr. Berry's house so he could be there to preach on Sunday. Alfred and I had a wonderful life together and had five children.

Since Alfred's death in 1930, I now spend my time with my four married children—John Auckland, Mrs. Henry Iveson and Mrs. Marion Singleton who all reside in Grosse Pointe Farms and Mrs. Albert Cooch who resides in Ann Arbor. My other daughter, Anna Auckland, died in her teens.

Burglaries Cleared

Awaiting sentence on April 12, is Samuel D. Gatto, 20, of 19480 Woodside, Harper Woods. He and a fourth youth allegedly involved, Kenneth L. Hull, 17, of Seattle, Wash., are escapees from the Great Lakes Naval Base Restriction Barracks.

Tranchida, Gatto and Flint were arrested by Detroit police on March 3, on warrants by State police for the bowling lanes burglary.

At the time of their arrest, the trio were questioned by Woods Det. Sgt. Jack Mast, and Dets. Donald Sabel and Gerald Kensora, and they confessed that they broke into the Mack-Prestwick Service Station, 19419 Mack, from which they took $30 in rolled quarters and loose change. The station is owned by Fred N. Less, 35, of 20934 Sunnydale, St. Clair Shores.

Mast disclosed that on March 29, he contacted Tranchida's lawyer, Salvador Crimando of 27530 Harper, St. Clair Shores, stating that he had information implicating his client in several burglaries in the Woods. The lawyer induced his client to confess.

Mast and Kensora went to the Macomb County Jail on March 30, to question Tranchida.

After about two hours of interrogation, Tranchida cleared a total of 25 offenses in which he was involved, most of which were breaking and entering garages from which beer was stolen.

The youth said that in the break-ins of the garages, he was with other boys, but refused to implicate any one since he felt responsible and was the ring leader.

Concert Features Pointe Artists

Grosse Pointe artists appearing on the Pro Mozart Society program at Wayne State University's Community Arts Auditorium on April 11, 8:30 p.m., are Maria Roumell, soprano, and Alice Lungershausen, harpsichordist. Among other artists participating are Emily Mutter Austin, violin, Gizi Szanto, pianist, William Horvath, cello, and Robert Bates, piano and organ.

Marguerite Kozenn Chajes, founder and executive director of the Pro Mozart Society of Greater Detroit, explains that the proceeds of this annual concert are sent to the International Foundation Mozarteum in Salzburg, Austria. The Foundation is assisting in the preparation and publication of a new and complete critical edition of 110 volumes of works by Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart.

In return the Mozarteum Summer Academy in Salzburg will grant a scholarship to the best young Detroit musician.

Sunday's program will consist of two parts: the first will feature the works of the youthful master from his 6th to his 15th year, the second half will be devoted to his creations in Prague, the capital city of Czechoslovakia, which has the distinction of having been the only city which took Mozart to its heart, and where, with leisure and serenity, he could write his opera "Don Giovanni."

The concert will be concluded with the final sextet from "Don Giovanni," sung by Maria Roumell, Adi Dztuma, Pnina Schwartz, Frank Pirie, Ralph Harris and Aurelian Ugolini, with Robert Bates at the piano. Tickets may be purchased at the door.

Chamber Singers To Give Concert Of Sacred Music

The Grosse Pointe Chamber Singers, a group that has gained enthusiastic reputations in recent years for its presentations of the finest choral music, will offer a program of sacred music for the season on Good Friday evening, April 16.

The concert, which is free and open to the public, will be held at 8:30 p.m. at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center, in Lakeshore road. It will be given in the glass-walled salon of the Fries Auditorium, a hall noted for its excellent acoustics for vocal music and magnificent view of Lake St. Clair.

The Chamber singers group, directed by William Y. Gard, will offer a varied program—much of it "a cappella"—ranging from the Renaissance music of Tomas Luis Victoria to the dramatic modern opus, "Jesus and the Traders" by the contemporary Hungarian composer Zoltan Kodaly.

Final of the program will be the Christus by Mendelssohn. For this and two other selections in the program, the regular group of 16 singers will be augmented by eight extra voices.

The complete program is as follows: Call To Remembrance, Richard Farrant; Jesu Dulcis Memoria, Ave Maria, Tomas Luis Victoria; I Sat Down Under His Shadow, Edward C. Baird; Hosannah to the Son of David, Healy Willan; The Eyes of All Wait Upon Thee, Jean Berger; "Jesus and The Traders, Zoltan Kodaly; Alles Was Ihr Tut, Salvation is Created, P. Tschesnokoff; Christus, Felix Mendelssohn.

Swedish Exhibit At Cranbrook

"Swedish Design Today," an exhibition representing the master craftsmanship and elegant simplicity of contemporary Swedish design, will make its last appearance in this country at Cranbrook Academy of Art Galleries.

The exhibition, which opens April 10 and remains up through May 9, presents 300 objects—tables, chairs, rugs, curtains, flatware, jewelry, baskets, ceramics and glassware as well as the bread box and a fuse box. All were selected by Ake Hult, managing director of the Svensk Form-Design Center in Stockholm.

Organized by the Institute for Cultural Relations sponsored by the Embassy of Sweden, the show is being circulated by the Smithsonian Institution Traveling Service. Following the Cranbrook showing it will be returned to Sweden.

The sleek, functional beauty of Swedish furniture is no accident for the still powerful Swedish Society of Industrial Design has convinced manufacturers that good design is good business. Consequently Swedish factories turn out mass-produced objects lovely to look at and to touch, yet inexpensive to buy.

Mass-production in Sweden is dwarf-size compared with its counterpart here. As an example, Sweden's furniture industry consists of about 850 workshops, each with 15 employees. Thus even mass-produced furniture is assembled and finished by hand.

In Sweden a strong pride in making things by hand still survives despite the Industrial Revolution. In the glass industry this is especially true. Many of the exquisitely designed Orre glass pieces in the show were designed and blown by second and third generation glassworkers.

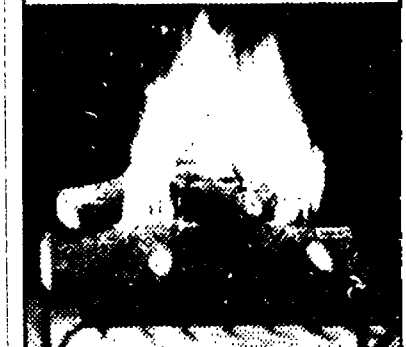

Cranbrook Academy of Arts Galleries are open from 2 to 5 p.m. Tuesday through Friday and from 1 to 5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday, except major holidays. There is an admission charge.

To Confirm At St. James

Twenty-seven young people will be confirmed at the 11 o'clock worship service on Palm Sunday, April 11, at St. James Lutheran Church.

The Chancel Choir will sing "On the Way to Jerusalem" from "Olivet to Calvary" by J. H. Maunders. Soloist Mrs. William Heller, mother of confirmant William Heller, Jr., will sing "The Pains" by Faure at both the 9:30 and 11 o'clock services.

Members of the Confirmation Class are: Robert Baker, Gerald DeFresne, Christine Evans, John Fraser, Cynthia Hassig, William Heller, Jr., Debra Jeffrey, Susan Kamischke, Todd Keller, Janice Knoll, Laurie Knopf, Lincoln Lee, Kathleen Lynch, Bruce Matzke, Jill McKay, Katherine Quale, Frederick Reif, V. Richard Rosenbusch, Robert Rosenbusch, Carl Rugland, Robert Ruthven, Jr., Kurt Scharfberg, Cathy Usndek, Mariana Von Gruenigen, Ross Warren, Barbara Wilson and Carl Wohlers.

These young people have had two years of intensive religious study under the tutelage of Pastor George E. Kurz to prepare them for active membership in the St. James Lutheran Community. The final phase of this preparation was a written examination of multiple-part questions. The answers required much thought and indicated the depth of understanding each of these thirteen-year-olds possessed.

Typical of the questions are two noted here, with answers provided by Mariana Von Gruenigen, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Carl R. Von Gruenigen: Question: Why is the resurrection of Christ important to you? Answer: "The resurrection of Christ is so comforting to me because He assures me that He has really completed bridging the way back into God's family for me. He also proved that 1) He is really the Son of God, 2) His promises are true, 3) He has paid my debt of sin, 4) I too shall rise."

Question: Describe the Holy Spirit: Who He is and what He does for you and your salvation. Answer: "The Holy Spirit is God in action in my life. He came into my life at my baptism and has been working ever since to help me to be a Christ-like person. He sanctifies and keeps me united in Christ in true faith. All who believe will have salvation and eternal life." The St. James family of believers welcomes these newly confirmed young Christians into their fellowship with deepest gratitude and thanksgiving to God.

The class sponsors are Mr. and Mrs. Ted Rugland, who remain with the group throughout its high school years. They help to plan the program of fellowship for them and aid them in their spiritual growth. Mr. and Mrs. Rugland are parents of confirmant Carl Rugland.

Center Offers Painting Classes

A spring term of oil and landscape painting classes is offered for 12 weeks on Fridays at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial under the direction of Professor Robert Wilbert of Wayne State University.

Both beginning and more advanced students may study either in the morning at 9:30 to 12:30 o'clock or in the afternoon 1 to 4 o'clock sessions. Instruction will include both oil techniques and composition. Classes will be taking advantage of the balmy spring weather to go out on the lakeside terrace lawns and in the gardens to capture the beauty of the grounds and the marine spectacle.

These courses are offered for a fee of $36 for the 12 three hour lessons. Advance registration is requested.

Set New Rules For 'Other Side'

The Grosse Pointe War Memorial's prep and high school night club-casino known as "The Other Side" has had such enthusiastic patronage that it has become necessary to formulate some new regulations which will go into effect this Friday night, April 9, when "The Other Side" again opens its doors from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m. It will be necessary to pick up tickets for this occasion in advance at the Center's office which is open day and night till 11 p.m. These tickets will be sold up until 6:30 p.m. on Friday the 9th.

1. Patrons must produce driver's licenses or school identification to purchase these tickets. (Sold only in advance).

2. Identification as well as the ticket must be produced when coming to "The Other Side."

3. Sobriety and attitude will be checked by Center personnel and Grosse Pointe Farms Police at the door.

4. Smoking will be allowed only in the recreation room.

5. All coats must be checked in coat rooms supervised by paid adults.

Assisting the Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Youth Council and staff in putting on this and future similar functions at the Center will be 10 adult couples—parents and friends of Youth Council members.

Holy Week Services Set at St. Michael's

Miss Estelle C. Carver, well-known throughout the Episcopal Church, as well as in other faiths, for her work as a conductor of Missions, Retreats, Quiet Days and Schools of Prayer, will give a series of meditations at St. Michael's Church, Grosse Pointe Woods, during Holy Week.

On April 12, 13, 14 and 15, at 10:30 a.m. (preceded by a celebration of the Eucharist at 9:30) she will speak to the women of the parish and their friends, her general topic being "The Church Calls Us to the Cross."

On Maundy Thursday, April 15, she will also speak at 8 p.m. This meditation, entitled "The Meaning of Life," is aimed at both men and women.

Miss Carver is a resident at Lasell House, the Episcopal Conference Center at Whitinsville, Mass. She has conducted two series of meditations at Christ Church, Grosse Pointe, in past years, and comes to St. Michael's highly recommended by all who have heard her. Although an Episcopalian she serves all denominations.

Manufacturers Bank is looking for people to lend money to Responsible people with worthwhile needs. Like Gary and Barbara Adamson, whose family in recent years, has grown faster than family income. So, when they found they had to enlarge and modernize their kitchen and convert unfinished upstairs space into extra bedrooms, they simply couldn't pay cash. But they could get the job done now, and with the help of a Manufacturers Bank FHA Home Improvement Loan, have the time to pay for it.

Manufacturers makes FHA Home Improvement Loans up to $3500, with up to five years to repay. And the Adamsons were able to arrange Manufacturers Bank FHA financing through their own contractor.

Manufacturers Bank is looking for people like Gary and Barbara Adamson to lend money to. Responsible people whose needs are not really more than they can handle. Just more than they may be able to handle all at once.

To Present 'Boyfriend'

Teachers are giving much of their time and talent, outside of teaching, towards making the Beta Sigma Phi Fellowship's April show a success. This group is largely composed of teachers and administrators who have a master's degree and have taken some classes at Wayne State University. This group has given a musical for 12 years now. The first 10 years were devoted to Gilbert and Sullivan operettas. Last year they changed pace and gave "Little Mary Sunshine."

This year the production is Sandy Wilson's "The Boyfriend," which is a comedy of the 1920's. Some of the cast and orchestra, such as William Robinson, Dick Shannon, and Roy Karcher, are also Fine Arts members and members of Players.

Although not professional, this group gave a highly polished performance last year and in anticipation of surpassing last year's record they're giving "The Boyfriend" two nights: Friday, April 9 and Saturday, April 10, at Fries Auditorium. Tickets may be purchased at the door for either night at $1.75.

This alumni group from Wayne University is not primarily interested in being a money-making organization, but last year the excess profits of $150 were turned over to Wayne State University for scholarship funds.

Two of the leads and a chorus member, Douglas Lombardi, are students at Wayne University. Maureen Delaney is a sophomore majoring in elementary education and has the lead of "Polly." Bob Freschi, a senior majoring in journalism, is the leading man, "Tony." He is a member of the Grosse Pointe Community, and St. Clair Shores Players and won an award for his dramatic work last year.

Nelson Schlaff, Jr. Serves On Carrier

Airman Nelson W. Schlaff, Jr., USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson W. Schlaff, of 825 Edgemont Park, is participating in training aboard the Atlantic Fleet anti-submarine warfare support aircraft carrier USS Randolph at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba.

Numerous drills and exercises are being held aboard the ship during the six weeks training, in which all crew members must participate.

These drills include general quarters, fire drills, man-over-board drills, engineering casualty drills, and many others.

The Randolph, normally operating out of Norfolk, Va., recently completed a major overhaul at the Norfolk Naval Shipyard. The ship is scheduled to complete her training exercises and return to Norfolk in mid-April.

Public treasuries in the U.S. increased their spending for health and medical services $513 million in 1929 to nearly $9.0 billion in 1965.

Shores Officer Wins Promotion

Shores Police Chief Thomas Cochill announced the promotion of Harry A. Hamilton from patrolman to sergeant, which became effective on Thursday, April 1.

Hamilton, who lives at 22119 Shady lane, St. Clair Shores, was hired as a probationary patrolman with the Shores Department on February 1, 1956. The new sergeant, a native of Detroit, is a veteran of World War II, serving in the South Pacific with the United States Naval Air Force, and flew 107 bombing missions as a bombardier. He holds the Distinguished Flying Cross and other Air Force medals.

He attended the Roseville High School during the war, and decided to join the Air Force in January 1943, and remained with the service until he was honorably discharged as an Aviation Ordnance second-class in October 1949.

Hamilton is married to the former Bernice Stroud of Rose Hill, S. C. They are the parents of six children. Mark, 16; Connie, 14; Marsha, 12; Sheila, 8; Harry, Jr., 5; and Ward, who is two years old.

Hamilton replaces Sgt. Earl (Tony) Wakely whose retirement became effective on April 1.

Wakely, who left the department on March 1 because of furlough and time he had coming, retired after 28 years of service with the force.

He is residing with a son living in St. Clair Shores.

Austin Players To Give 'Robe'

For the past five weeks, the Austin Prep Players have been in rehearsal for their spring production, "The Robe." This three act drama is an adaptation of the famous novel by Lloyd C. Douglas.

It will be presented on Saturday, April 10, and Sunday April 11, at 8 o'clock. The play will be staged at Pierce Junior High Auditorium, Kercheval at Bal-four road. Tickets may be purchased at the door for 75c.

As in past years, the Austin Players are joined by the girls of Star of the Sea High School who fill the female roles. Under the direction of Thomas E. Bailey, the cast is made up of 50 on-stage roles with a stage crew of 20.

Bob Neveux and Patricia Black portray the roles of the young Roman lovers who must decide whether they will follow the Roman Emperor or their newly found convictions.

Aiding their decision is the dutiful slave Demetrius, played by Dave Toelle. The lovers' family is made up of Frank Bernacki, Noreen Normandeau, Marilyn Lundy and Margie Sloan. The roles of the Governors of Rome are carried by Steve Poissant, Steve Schaefer and Bob Alsheimer.

The dramatization includes the stoning of Stephanos in which John Anderson, Peggy Spoor, Martha Nichol, Tom Ryan and Mike Monahan take prominent parts.

Conference Day For Teachers

Classes in The Grosse Pointe Public School System will be recessed on Friday, April 9, to enable staff members to participate in a variety of professional conferences. Secondary teachers will journey to Ann Arbor for a full day of sessions of the Schoolmasters' Club.

The elementary teachers will meet locally to conduct their own institute program. Built around the theme, "The Processes of Science," they will gather at Parcels Junior High School. Dr. George Mallinson of the faculty of Western Michigan University will be the main speaker. His address, "Moving Ahead in the Teaching of Science," is scheduled for 10:15 a.m.

Other features of the morning session include the "Star-Spangled Banner" and the Pledge of Allegiance, both to be led by Dr. Winnifred Fenton, elementary music consultant. The Reverend Walter Geffert of Christ the King Lutheran Church will give the invocation, while James Cooper, president of the Elementary Teachers' Club, will conduct the business meeting.

Teaching demonstrations of scientific concepts have been planned. Mrs. Jennie Dombrowski and her third graders from Richard School will discuss "Investigating the Compass."

Participating in a teaching demonstration, "Investigating Temperature Change," will be Mrs. Lillian Seeger and a group of second graders from Richard School. "Investigating Acids" is the title of the demonstration to be given by Mrs. Marjorie Angyal and her sixth graders from Poupard School.

Local teachers who served on the planning committee are Ernest Alden, William Arbaugh, James Cooper, Miss Shirley Corfis, Mrs. Dorothy Dahl, Miss Patricia Danielson, Mrs. Camille Ecklund, Tom Keller, Miss Lillian Koby, Mrs. Irene Lowther, Mrs. Evelyn Kyzivat, Irving Parsch, Mrs. Ellen Quinlan and Mrs. Vicki St. John.

If

you have gas heat,
 let 'the Joneses'
 keep up with you.

(You've got the best there is.)

You're entitled to feel snug as well as comfortable if you heat with Gas. That's why, where Gas is available, practically everyone gets it. Want the facts? In the areas we serve, some 700,000 families heat with Gas. (That's hundreds of thousands more than those who heat with electricity.)

It probably never occurred to you that anyone who had the opportunity would heat with anything but Gas. That's understandable. But there are other heating systems. Some are dirty. Some are expensive. Gas is neither, as you know.

Gas heat is filtered heat, clean heat, free of dust. It's "fresh air" heat. It's circulated uniformly through your home. You're free of that stuffy "vacuum bottle" feeling. Smoke and odors slip away. So does stale, germ laden air. And Gas is healthfully humid, not bone-dry.

So much for creature comforts. Gas is easier on your budget, too. Costs as little as 1/4 of what you'd pay for electric heat. And you have even comfort throughout your home—even in your basement. Besides, Gas comes to you in underground pipes. You can't run out of it. No power failure cuts it off. It's there. And mighty comforting. Maintenance? You can practically forget it. The silent blue flame of a Gas burner just can't wear out.

Pity about "the Joneses," isn't it? But they can have Gas heat, too. It takes only about four hours to convert most heating systems.

Get with it, "Joneses": Live modern... for less... with Gas.

Unitarians Name New Minister

The Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church this week named a new permanent minister.

He is Dr. Harry Meserve, who is presently the Director of Program of the Academy of Religion and Mental Health and the editor of the "Journal of Religion and Health," published by ARMH.

Dr. Meserve will assume his new duties on September 1, replacing interim minister Robert W. Lawson and William Hammond, who resigned the permanent ministry of the church last October to become the executive secretary of the Michigan-Ohio Valley District of the Unitarian-Universalist Society.

Past ministries of Dr. Meserve include eight years at the Unitarian Church of San Francisco, Cal., seven years at the First Parish Church in Buffalo, N. Y., and four years at the First Parish Church in Buffalo, set, Mass. He also worked for the Rockefeller Fund in New York, on the executive staff of the Humanities and Social Sciences section. He is now serving a Unitarian Fellowship at Mount Kisco, N. Y.

Born in Rye, N. Y., Dr. Meserve attended Phillips Academy, Haverford College and Harvard Divinity School. He has an honorary doctorate from Meadville Theological School.

Presently, Dr. Meserve works for three national organizations. He is on the board of the Unitarian-Universalist Service Committee, on the board of the American Civil Liberties Union, and chairman of the Committee on Religious Resources for the President's Special Assistant for Mental Retardation.

He has published two books, "Faith in the Making" in 1946, and "Peace of Mind" in 1958, plus articles, editorials and reviews in the "Atlantic Monthly," "Saturday Review," and numerous religious publications.

He has a married daughter living in San Francisco and two sons, both attending college in California.

Local Students Trade Schools

Understanding the other person's problems is a first step in solving them and yesterday ninth grade members of Brownell Junior High School's civics classes took that first step in a student exchange with Detroit's Northern High.

The idea to exchange teachers and four students between the schools originated in Mrs. Mary Taliani's civics classes as a method of learning the varying viewpoints of those attending school in the Inner City as opposed to those in a suburban school.

Because each community has its own set of problems, the ninth graders believed these could be better recognized by visiting and questioning representatives in a totally different environment. With Mrs. Taliani's help, (she originally had taught at Northern), the details were worked out for switching Brownell's civics instructor, Jerry Keeney, with Mrs. Ruth Cephus of Northern, and student representatives from both schools were elected by class vote to complete the one-day exchange.

Selected to represent Brownell were Don Gledart, Anne Hill, Janet Hooper and George Wyatt. Northern's ninth grade representatives were Frances Cobb, Laverne Cole, Curtis Shorter, and Darwin Walker. Each student followed the daily schedule for his exchange, with Judy D'Arcy, Steven Hicks, Janet Mullinger and Bob Messing acting as student guides at Brownell for the visitors.

Alternates selected by class vote included Liz Hartkop, Bill Nimz, Heidi Klein and Paul Portera. Others who volunteered to act as guides were Jean McIntyre, Ken Gustke, Robin Guiles and John Gustafson. Hosts for the Northern High School teacher, Mrs. Cephus, were Kathy Stuart, Gary Lehner, Marvin Larivee and Frank Cusena.

Evaluation of this "first" will be conducted in Mrs. Taliani and Mr. Keeney's civics classes next week, to determine of the exchange was of sufficient value to repeat with other schools and other grade levels.

Election Results

William Connolly, 2,158; Mark Stevens, 1,793; Richard Hudson, 1,700; and William Kirby, 1,583. Stevens and Hudson are new to the council, and Connolly, present mayor, and Kirby are veterans in their posts.

Connolly, Stevens and Hudson, by virtue of polling the most votes, were elected to serve a term of four years; Kirby, who received the least votes, will serve for two years. Under the city charter, the mayor is elected by members of the council, from their own ranks, to serve for one year.

The losing candidates for the councilmanic seats, were Charles Kotcher, who received 1,221 votes, John Lizza, 933; and Ervin Steiner, who came in last with 807.

Judge Grant E. Armstrong polled 1,398 votes to be reelected to another four years as municipal judge. His opponent, Philip Dawson, received a total of 1,138 votes.

Teachers Look Over Their Work

The author-instructors of Grosse Pointe High School's new course in United States History are shown in the Wicking-Library examining instructional materials. Left to right, the teachers are ORRIS NAGLE, ROBERT BRADLEY, RAYMOND GAULT, JAMES CURLETT and JOHN CORBIN. These five staff

"It's fabulous. It didn't start off with Columbus! Gilbert Moorman's remark summarizes the attitude of many students and teachers on the new approach to United States history at Grosse Pointe High School this year.

Gil, a 12th grader, was among a group of juniors and seniors asked recently for an informal evaluation of the topical, rather than the chronological, method of teaching history.

"The new course outline is the product of many discussions within the social studies department of Grosse Pointe High School," Miss Leona Weier, chairman, said recently. "During the 1963-64 school year, agreement was reached on six themes or units around which the new course would be organized.

"Actual writing of the course outline was done by John Corbin, James Curlett and Raymond Gault last June and July. These three, plus Robert Bradley and Orris Nagle began teaching the new course in September," she concluded.

Gil Moorman added, "I enjoy it very much because the way the course is organized we don't get just one teacher's point of view. It is a lot tougher than the chronological approach to history, but I think we learn more.

"The course requires much more library work than my history course last year and more independent study at night as well. The first rotation was the big hurdle. Following the change of teachers after the first marking period, we could begin to see the merit in the plan.

"I have enjoyed the section on third political parties in the United States. The teacher's lectures and my own readings have opened my eyes to the realities of the political structure of the country. I didn't realize that third parties had played such an important part in the country's history.

"And if this course requires more time for the students to prepare, I'm sure it also requires more work on the part of the teacher. There is at least one minor disadvantage to the student: because he changes teachers each marking period, he doesn't always know what to expect on a test, so he has to study harder—both the specific facts and the general ideas—in order to be prepared," Gil concluded.

To gain an understanding of the organization of the course, one has only to glance at the outline for the first unit, "Social and Political Democracy." The eight discussion and study topics are: Historical Origins; Conflict between Liberty and Order; Western Influence on Jeffersonianism; Disruption of the Accepted Theory of Government; Results of the Conflict of Political Theory; Abuses and Reforms; Fear of European Radicalism and Its Possible Effects on the United States; Government Attempts to Foster Social Democracy.

A detailed bibliography is provided for each subtopic of the main area to be discussed. The course outline provides a listing of supplementary books, films, filmstrips and transparencies, which the teachers may employ.

Each of the five instructor-authors of the course has taken time to evaluate the first year of the new approach to history.

Robert Bradley commented, "This program makes it possible for the student to pursue an area of study in an independent manner and with a greater depth than would be possible with a textbook-oriented strictly chronological approach."

John Corbin added, "We have the opportunity to emphasize certain concepts pertinent to United States History, and the effects of the political, economic, and social philosophies upon our way of life.

"Using the text as a guide in certain areas, and with the opportunity to explore beyond the text through the availability of supplemental library materials the student obtains a better understanding of the effects of historical events upon the United States, and the impact of

Prowler Visits City Residence

A prowler broke into the home of Mrs. Ophelia Neumeyer at 295 Rivard road on Wednesday, March 31, but left again without taking anything. Mrs. Neumeyer reported that someone had entered a bathroom window between 9:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. while she was out of the house. A trained dog probably frightened the intruder away, and nothing was reported missing.

United States upon world affairs.

James Curlett said of the new approach to history, "The opportunity to help write, research, and teach the new United States History program is the most satisfying experience of my teaching career. It allows the teacher to emphasize the understanding and insight of historical concepts rather than just survey the course material. The emphasis on research is an attempt to encourage the students to continue independently to expand and deepen their understanding of the humanities."

Raymond Gault has enumerated the advantages for students as these: exposure to opinions of several teachers, in a subject which particularly is based on opinion and attitude; the student is taught by teachers who are specialists; the student sees history in a new light—topically rather than chronologically; the students have the advantage of more and better materials to learn from because the course can be developed more carefully and thoroughly; de-emphasis of the textbook gives training to students in the use of a wide variety of reading materials.

Pioneer Teachers

Disadvantages of the program to the student, as Mr. Gault sees them, are: he is apt to become "lost" academically especially if he is a poor student who would have trouble even in the traditional class; takes time to get to know the teacher, thus perhaps retarding discussions; learning new methods of each teacher could waste time.

And, finally, Orris Nagle said, "Each topic is a self-contained subject. The various parts are related and often show continuing trends or the development of a casual relationship. An example would be the reasons for the intervention of the Federal government into our economy."

"The course avoids the necessity of having to follow the chronological development of the usual textbook. It permits the student to learn about a topic from a teacher who is thoroughly prepared in that area."

All five instructors agree that library usage has been expanded with the use of the assigned reading section. In this way they are able to make available specific and selected materials previously limited to only a selected few as resources. In many areas these materials have been obtained by the library at various reading levels which extends the usage and gives all students the opportunity to explore specific concepts in history.

An informal poll of eleven and twelfth graders in the history course has revealed a general widespread acceptance of the new approach.

Shelly Sinclair commented, "I like the way the course gives the student a better understanding of events rather than dates."

Shari Prince said, "Every three years all through school we've studied American history, but this is different—much more advanced. We are probing into the realm of ideas and we are using college texts, which is good practice for those of us on the college preparatory course."

"For example, we've never had a unit like Mr. Gault's 'American Philosophy and Thought.' And we've never had the political parties explained as thoroughly—we are getting much more than just a lot of isolated facts—we are gaining an understanding of the important general ideas and movements that have dominated American history. But in addition to this, the course is well-organized enough to provide a good chronology of events as well."

"As an outgrowth of the new history course, I'd like to see a new class started. An entire course or a seminar could be devoted to American and European Thought and Philosophy," Sherry Thumann said.

Linda Soley said, "It's easier to recall the events of history now that we're being taught topic by topic rather than the chronological way. The teachers seen enthusiastic about this and the new way is broadening the student's viewpoint."

Jeanne Struthers likes getting more ideas than facts and enjoys the course because of its college orientation. "We're more on our own this way," she adds.

John Metzger is enthusiastic about the course because in his opinion, it didn't bog down in mid-year.

Lois Burlingame sees some disadvantage to students in the change of teachers, although she appreciates the varied points of view and she likes the theories rather than the emphasis on dates.

"I enjoy the emphasis upon library work, but I'm afraid the teachers don't get to know the students as well as they would if we didn't rotate as often," she added.

Richard Cambeurn feels that such an approach will inspire students to take history in college and that the new course enables students to cope with varying approaches and teaching practices. He thinks the different tests are a good idea.

As one of the teacher-authors has said, "Getting away from the chronological approach has made history more of a challenge to both student and teacher." The general consensus at Grosse Pointe High School seems to be that the topical approach to history is an improvement.

2 Juvenile Car Thieves Nabbed

Two 15-year-old Detroit boys, sought for questioning in a car theft, were captured by a Park policeman on Monday, March 29, following a 70-mile-an-hour chase through Park streets, according to Chief Arthur Louwers.

The juveniles were trying to evade the officer while they were still in the stolen car. The vehicle was reported stolen by Detroit Police.

The arresting officer, Patrolman Ronald Peplowski, said he was patrolling east on Kercheval when he observed a 1962 Chevrolet convertible with no rear license plate and drove up to investigate.

He said that as he approached, the driver of the car apparently saw him and stepped on the gas.

Peplowski said the chase, at a speed up to about 70 miles an hour, led east on Kercheval, north on Buckingham, west on Mack, to north on Balfour on the Detroit side, to Voigt, where the speeding car spun out of control. After finally bringing the car to a stop, the two boys jumped out and tried to escape on foot, but Peplowski foiled the attempt and captured both youths.

The teenagers were released to Detroit authorities after confessing to stealing the car, and are awaiting a hearing in Juvenile Court, on a charge of unlawfully driving away an automobile.

Taos Ski Trip Departs April 16

Slopes are still snow-covered in the high Rocky Mountains, while the sun shines bright and tans. Grosse Pointe War Memorial's two ski clubs, Adult and High School, are sponsoring one last glorious 10 day ski trip to Taos, N.M., April 16-25.

A few places, mostly for boys, still remain open if reservations are made immediately.

Included in the package for $194 is all transportation, all meals, lodging, (four in private room at St. Bernard Hotel, right at the chair lift), all ski lift charges, daily ski instruction and chaperonage for the young people.

Taos is one of the most picturesque towns in the country, and is an art center as well as a ski resort. The slopes are some of the best in North America, and it is one of the few areas where good skiing remains so late in the season.

Garage Blaze Hits Car, House

A garage fire that spread to a car in the driveway and then to the rear of a house, was extinguished by Park firemen on Wednesday, March 31, before the blaze did much damage to the house, according to information released by Park Fire Chief William Graul.

The chief said the fire, which is still being investigated, started in the garage on the property of Martha O. Giener, 1378 Nottingham. It is believed that neighborhood children may be responsible.

The fire spread for the garage to a car parked in the driveway, then leaped to the wooden frame at the rear of the house.

Chief Graul said that when firefighters and equipment arrived in answer to an alarm, the fire had had a good start, and was licking its way on the wood siding of the house. The fire did not penetrate into the house, he said.

Firemen battled the fire for about 45 minutes before bringing it under control and putting it out.

The walls and ceiling of the two-car brick veneer garage, and the interior of the car, owned by the Giener family, were badly burned. The fire merely charred the exterior of the house, and blistered the paint.

The amount of damage to property will not be known until insurance investigators complete their findings, Chief Graul said.

St. Paul Names Honor Students

By JIM BRUNSON

Induction of St. Paul's new National Honor Society members was held on Tuesday, April 6, at 10 o'clock. The National Honor Society pledge was taken at that time.

The requirements for attaining membership in the National Honor Society are: Scholarship, a "B" average must be kept; Leadership, service, and character. The members of the school faculty vote for the candidates. This vote expresses the faculty's opinion of whether the proper traits have been shown by the candidate. Candidates for the National Honor Society must also define and give a short talk on each characteristic necessary for admittance.

The officers of the National Honor Society are: president, Kathy Moxley, vice-president, Janice Jamerino, secretary, Mary Farnam, and treasurer, Linda Keegan.

Other senior members are Kathy Sullivan, John Nienstedt, Michael Kerby, Christopher Terry and Jeanette Jamerino. The newly-elected senior members are Linda Rowley, Marilyn Montmorency, George Loewen and Sue Peters.

The junior members are Cynthia Carter, Judy Demusiak, Nicholas Robert, Beth Hollerbach, Dan Wright, George Wilson, Martin Welch, Marilyn Weyhing, Sue Lykins and Kathy Loehner.

The four senior members received the Hood and the Junior members received the gold cord when inducted.

JOIN THE 1965 FAMILY PARTICIPATION CAMPAIGN

THE DOORS of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center open wide on a world of opportunity. Those who enter them explore many realms of interest and satisfaction.

In these community buildings we enrich our understanding of our world, our culture and ourselves. We share a chance to learn more of life, enjoy more of its pleasures, experience more of its satisfactions.

The very vitality of the Center itself provides about three-fourths of its budgetary needs. But an appreciable share of the Center's financial support necessarily must come from gifts in the annual fund drive. Our 1965 goal is $75,000.

Last year the Center was generously supported and the goal was met—by one-fourth of the families in the Grosse Pointes. The amount raised, $76,000, and the percent who gave are most gratifying. However, we are sure more families will want to share this year in support of an activity that serves all.

Please enlist your family in the 1965 Family Participation Campaign and help us keep the doors open wide.

Offer Adults Driving Course

A four week class in "Driver's Training for Adults" will again be offered by the Department of Community Services, Grosse Pointe Public School System. The course meets two nights a week on Mondays and Wednesdays, for a total of eight class sessions, and is scheduled to begin in April.

"Driver's Training" is geared to the adult level, and is designed for all adults who have not yet obtained a driver's license, or for those who wish to renew their license after several years of non-driving. It will introduce non-drivers to the rules and techniques of driving through both lectures and practical road experience in preparation for earning a driver's license.

Further information and application for enrollment may be obtained by calling the Department of Community Services at TU 5-3808 or TU 5-0271. Advance enrollment for this course is necessary.

Start Planning Michigan Week

With thousands of volunteers working in all areas of the state, plans are moving forward rapidly for the 12th annual Michigan Week, to be observed May 18-22.

This year the celebration takes on an international color with special projects and events focusing attention on the prominent role of Michigan in world affairs and world trade and the state's contributions to the social and economic advancement of people in other lands.

"Michigan — Dynamic in World Progress," theme of the 1965 Michigan Week, not only serves to emphasize the state's international importance to its own citizens, but affords an opportunity to tell the Michigan story in other nations of the free world around the globe.

Governor George Romney, honorary Michigan Week chairman, sounded the keynote for this year's program, when he called on all citizens to emphasize the theme throughout the entire year.

"Our state is moving forward vigorously," the governor said. "We are leading the nation in such fields as personal income, economic expansion, highway construction, educational opportunities and human rights. During 1965 we must let the world know more about the greatness of Michigan."

Fruit Tree Planting Tips

If you are going to plant a fruit tree in your backyard, first check the soil type, drainage, and soil acidity. Fruit trees will not grow well in a heavy clay soil. Clay soils, as well as sandy soils, can be improved by the addition of peat moss, well rotted manure, decayed leaves, or other organic matter. Or, dig a hole and replace the excavated soil with "good soil." You may need to supply drainage away from the hole. The hole with replaced soil should be large enough to sustain the tree when it is mature.

The suggested planting depths of fruit trees are as follows: (1) standard tree (no dwarfing rootstock), the bud union should be about 2 inches below ground level; (2) dwarf root budded or grafted, it is important to keep the bud or graft union above ground level to insure no scion rooting; and (3) dwarf interstock with standard root, plant part of the dwarf interstock below ground level.

To prevent the roots from drying after planting, the soil should be well firmed about the roots during the planting operation. Care should be used to work the soil under the crown to avoid leaving an air space. Shaking the tree up and down two or three times during the planting process helps distribute the soil around the roots.

After the soil is completely firmed around the tree, water it thoroughly using at least one inch of water for each young tree.

To see first hand how it is done, plan to visit the Lawn and Garden Fair at the State Fairgrounds, Saturday, May 1, 1965 between 9 a.m. and 6 p.m.

Judge Paterson Hears 5 Cases

Five persons were arraigned before Judge Paterson in a Grosse Pointe City court session held Tuesday, March 23. Two persons were found guilty and each paid a $25 fine.

Jessie J. Lamb, Jr., of 3562 Willis, Detroit, was charged with being a disorderly person. He stood mute, was found guilty and was fined $25. A similar case against James Brown, of 3626 Pennsylvania, Detroit, was dismissed after he stood mute and was found not guilty.

Christopher Egan, of 600 Pine, Detroit and Alden Franson, of 20935 Country Club, Harper Woods, both pleaded not guilty to charges of reckless driving. Franson was found guilty and paid a $25 fine, but Egan was found innocent and his case dismissed.

A reckless driving charge against Ella N. Moses, of 838 Algonquin, Detroit was dropped and the case against her dismissed when the complainant failed to appear.

Altar Society to Hold Fashion Show, Card Party

The St. Ambrose Altar Society will present a fashion show and card party on Thursday, April 22, in St. Ambrose Hall.

Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. M. DiSante, VA 1-8836. Donation is $1.25.

Local Ministers To Lead Service

Eastland Good Friday Service is featuring two ministers new to our area: The Reverend Manard Hammond, Associate Minister of the Grosse Pointe Congregational Church, and the Reverend Harold W. Abram, Associate of Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church.

Each minister will speak on one of the "Seven Last Words from the Cross," the theme of the service. The service is scheduled at Eastland Auditorium between 12 and 3 p.m.

Club Classes Have Openings

When sufficient enrollment is received the following neighborhood club classes will be held: Beginners Ballet—Ages 6-12, Tuesday, 4:30 p.m., Richard School; Creative Dancing—Ages 5-10, Tuesday, 3:45 p.m., Richard School; Judo-Advanced—Teens and Adults, Wednesday, 7-8 p.m., Brownell Jr. High; Judo-Beginners—Teens and Adults, Wednesday, 8-9 p.m., Brownell Jr. High.

The following classes have already started but still have openings: Advanced Ballet—Tuesday, 5:15-6:15 p.m., Richard School; Funsters—Boys and Girls, ages 6-9, Saturday, 2:30-4 p.m., Brownell Jr. High; Gymnastics—Boys and Girls ages 9-teens, Wednesday, 6-7:30 p.m., Brownell Jr. High; Judo-Beginners—Ages 7-12, Wednesday, 6-7 p.m.

The Telephone Game

Among the more subtle forms of torture is the phone call from Florida. It always comes on the worst day and at the worst time, when the snow is falling and the wind is howling and the car won't start, and it is about as welcome as a new blizzard.

After the preliminary repartee, ("How are you?" "Fine." "How are things going?" "Fine."), you get down to the Point of the Call.

"What's the weather like there?" Florida asks. You glance out a window. Or you try to glance out a window—the early morning snow flurries have turned into a heavy rain-sleet, somewhat obscuring your view. "Okay, I guess," you answer. "It's raining a little." You cover the ear not glued to the receiver with your hand; the force of water hitting window-panes makes it a little difficult to hear.

"Oh," Florida sounds slightly disappointed. "How's the weather down there?" you ask after a short pause, (you would really like to by-pass this question, but it's all part of the Long Distance Game).

"Well," Florida's voice brightens; he's been waiting for this, "the water is a little chilly, temperature's only 68 degrees, but it's 84 on the beach."

"Great," you say. "We had a few showers yesterday morning, but it was all clear by noon."

"Wonderful," you observe. "The nights are a little chilly, though; it sometimes goes down to 60."

"Tough," you mutter. By now it is difficult to get words out between your clenched teeth, but at least The End Is In Sight, if the caller follows the usual Florida Telephone Game pattern, he should be signing off in the next few seconds.

"Well," says Florida, on schedule, "I've got to go now. I promised to play a few games of tennis with X... this afternoon, and there's a cocktail party around the pool at 6... Just called to see how everything is up there."

"Everything's hunkey-dorey up here," you answer. "Good-bye."

"Good-bye," Florida hangs up. So do you. It is very quiet—except for the sound of the wind and the rain and the soft plop as a pile of old, dirty snow slides off the roof.

You spend the rest of the day thinking evil thoughts.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Mr. Edgar:

A very sincere effort will be made in this Congress to enact legislation to protect research animals from cruelty. At present no federal legislation whatsoever protects these animals, in spite of the fact that Congress pours millions of dollars each year into laboratories where dogs, cats and other animals are used in scientific research.

Laboratories receiving federal assistance are not subject to local control and humane societies are not only helpless but are frequently refused admission. PLEASE WRITE your senators and representative in Washington immediately. Urge them to support legislation to provide for the humane treatment of animals used in research.

This legislation does not hamper research but will insure adequate housing and food, decent treatment and humane care in the conduct of research work. It will eliminate cruel and careless treatment and some of the atrocities which are a matter of record.

Please write immediately!

Sincerely,

Katherine S. Smith

March 24, 1965

Dear Mr. Edgar: That Grosse Pointe North High School is to become a reality is due, of course, to the efforts of a long list of people. It is impossible to estimate the part the Grosse Pointe News played in our victory in the referendum Monday.

I have admired your editorial courage, which I feel sure has cost you considerable peace and tranquility—not to mention the column inches! It must always be a temptation to editors of your type of paper to play it safe with the niceties of suburban life; your way of doing things is reassuring!

From the time dissection started over the site for the new school, up through your page of "Letters to the Editor" in the last edition before the referendum, you were able to do what we could not always do alone—namely, answer some of the valid questions in the minds of Grosse Pointers. I have considerable faith in the wisdom of an informed electorate. The voters were obviously well informed of the desperate need for the school on Monday, else they would not have signed on the dotted line for more than 8 million dollars!

Since I started this letter, my son brought me this week's News. Thank you for your kind words about our labors. My first months on the Board have given me the priceless opportunity to work with those you praise—the administrative staff, and other members of the Board of Education. One can scarcely imagine the exhausting dedication I have witnessed.

I'm sure you must realize that we Board members have countless rewards beyond our "pittance." The chief one is viewing a school system which is constantly getting better. But not the least of these compensations is such thanks as yours.

Monday night we were all thanking each other! Too bad you weren't over at the Board office to share in this—and in our joy when the Monteith vote finally came in.

The Auditorium issue (to which I had devoted myself the last two weeks) was a real cliff-hanger until the very end. It is an immense relief to know that the many years ahead will not be marked with regret over a school not quite what it should be.

Thank you again, Mr. Edgar.

Sincerely,

Barbara R. Thompson

(Mrs. Joseph P. Thompson)

Gentlemen:

I would like to publicly thank the Grosse Pointe Police Department for the wonderful service they rendered at midnight March 14th. My wife called to say she thought I had had a heart attack. The police were here almost immediately, and I was in Bon Secour hospital within minutes.

It is a pleasure to live in a city where you have public servants that render service of this kind.

Thanking the entire Department.

I am, sincerely,

Clyde F. Putnam

What Goes On at Your Library

By Virginia Leonard

Among the many and varied services that my fellow librarians and I perform, one of the most rewarding to me (outside of writing a column!) is that of book reviewing. Quite recently I had two experiences in this medium which I found so satisfying personally, that I would like to share them with you.

Last week I gave a review of Vance Packard's THE NAKED SOCIETY for the psychiatric ward of one of Detroit's Hospitals. I was a bit apprehensive, I'll admit—I'd never done this sort of thing before. What sort of reception would I get? How much good would I be doing? My review lasted a half hour and was followed by some discussion; one patient asked to read the book. I established rapport with several other listeners. This is a provocative book and encourages association; i.e., almost everyone can think of experiences he has had similar to those presented in the book, and all relating to invasion of personal privacy. It stimulates thinking and emphasizes awareness to these threats which heretofore, perhaps, have been treated with complacency or non-recognition. I came away thinking that a few sparks in my audience, that possibly I had in some small way helped someone on his way to recovery.

Several weeks ago I led a discussion group which used NORMAL NEUROSIS, by Gail and Snell Putney, as its focal point. Here indeed was a book full of meat for disputation and examination! The authors, both sociologists, have as their thesis the conviction that we have incorporated "normal" neurotic behavior into our society, and that through projections we have corrupted our interpersonal relations at every level. By achieving an accurate and acceptable self-image, we can ultimately achieve autonomy—the ability to administer collectively to our own self-needs. We did indeed have a lively and profitable discussion on this book, leaving both the group and the reviewer feeling that it had been a great evening.

There is one point which needs to be made and which fits both of these occasions. While the audience in each case benefited in various ways and in varying degrees, the person who found all this the most rewarding, really, was the reviewer—myself! I had thoroughly absorbed two books—knew them far better than anyone giving them a casual once-over. One I read twice; the other, three times.

I do not mean to over-emphasize book reviewing and its pleasures for aficionados like myself. There are many other interesting and even exciting ways in which a librarian can make himself useful to a community. Reference work is certainly inspiring, and again, involves working directly with people. Each question from a patron is a potential challenge, and one usually has an urge to fear up the floor boards if necessary to find the correct answer.

Book selection—another effort to get the right book to the right person—is a field of endeavor that can be sheer fun. And this is not always easy; it means knowing books, knowing your collection, and knowing your patron. The right background, omnivorous reading, both of books and reviews, and the steady strengthening hand of experience, all contribute to excellence in this milieu.

And what of children's work? Here should be combined the ability to mold young minds (much as a teacher does), to share experiences, to lead the youngsters to the right books at the right time, to broaden their horizons, to help them to learn new things. Looking back, I can remember many books which I read as a child, which I have never forgotten, and which exerted a great influence on my life. Think a minute—I'll wager you have had similar experiences.

Even the job of cataloging can be a tremendously satisfying experience. (I should know, I did the cataloging in the Grosse Pointe Library for about ten years!) Granted, you do not have the joy of dealing directly with the patrons, but you have the challenge of giving each book the correct Dewey number and subject headings, so that it will be readily available on the shelf, and so that the catalog cards will help the patron, and the other librarians, to find the material they need. Here you are put to the test, not by the reader, but by the book.

And then there is the enthusiasm and responsibilities of administration; the satisfactions found in working in special libraries and departments—I am making no attempt to cover the entire waterfront.

WOMEN'S PAGES

From Another Pointe of View

By Betty Collins

Any difficulties encountered by individuals on the English Speaking Union's Western Mediterranean cruise which departs tomorrow from Metropolitan Airport will not be the fault of diligent travel committee members, including Mrs. Cullen Kennedy and Leslie Putnam, who started "making arrangements" two years ago, even before the group's last cruise, a trip 'round-the-world.

Not only does such a venture entail the making, changing, cancelling, and reviewing of any number of details, but the committee has also undertaken the horrendous task of keeping everyone (and that's a flexible list in itself) up on everything. For months the group has been issuing regular bulletins to inform, admonish, and entice, and to make certain that no one packs his passport or forgets to smile when so instructed by the official photographer.

Enthusiasm has never been a problem, however. Most of the ladies who are leaving tomorrow have attended study sessions for more than a year to learn the history, customs, and cultures of the peoples they will be visiting. To them, it won't matter a bit if the tour guides don't speak a word of English.

The travelers will visit Rome and then it's on to Naples where they'll board the MTS Argonaut, a Greek ship so new that its advertising brochures contain drawings of such features as the Golden Fleece lounge, but no photographs! The group will then cruise to Sicily, Malta, Libya, Tunisia, Sardinia, Mallorca, Gibraltar, Tangiers, Spain, and Portugal, before returning home on the second of May.

Some of those who are packing their suitcases today are Mr. and Mrs. Victor Breidenbach, Dr. and Mrs. Leonard F. Carter, Mr. and Mrs. John Cooley, Mrs. James B. Degnan, Mr. and Mrs. Francis M. Dewey, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Duffy, Miss Winifred W. Eliason, Dr. and Mrs. Charles H. Ewing and Dr. and Mrs. Clarence Maguire.

Aquatic Show to Precede Annual Pre-Easter Luncheon Party with Special Golden Anniversary Theme

With every member of the Detroit Athletic Club eagerly looking forward to the Easter weekend and the filled-to-the-brim cup of 50th Anniversary cheer in the guise of "something doing every minute" Easter Saturday and Sunday, Dads and Daughters have no intention of being left out of the festivities.

So — the traditional "bash" for the "guys and their dolls, from infants to grownups, granddaughters, too" will be held at the Club on Saturday, April 17, beginning at 12 noon.

First, there will be an aquatic show in the natatorium, then a luncheon, followed by more entertainment during the afternoon. There's a surprise gift in the air, too, so that each and every gal will always remember the DAC's 50th birthday.

Heading a large coterie of Pointers with reservations for the occasion is C. M. Verbiest with places marked for 11. These will include daughters and daughters-in-law and assorted progeny Mrs. Richard Kelly with Karen and Susan; Mrs. Thomas Verbiest and Bethanne; Mrs. Alan Devine and Diane and Denise; and Mrs. Thomas Gibeau with Patricia.

Frank Couzens, Jr., will be there with Joan Marie, Margaret Mary, Anne Marie and Carol. And George A. Simon will also be accompanied by four: Marianne, Sue, Jody and Diane.

D. Lyle Fife is calling his clan together and will have with him Mrs. John J. Riccardo and Mary Kay, Teri and Lynn, and Mrs. Robert E. Fife with Pam, Katie and Mary Ann.

Robert L. Gottfredson will be there with Mary Pat and Elizabeth (at three probably the youngest). Signi Beth will be with Carl E. Larson and Diane and Denise with G. R. LePlae.

Others include Lincoln Wurzer and daughter Sarah; C. S. Tompkins with Margo; John M. Toolin with Diane and Lisa; L. M. Thomas with his three, Katherine, Christine and Patricia, and J. H. Spitzley.

Richard H. Campbell will have Roberta and Caroline along, and Christine, Karen and Katherine will be with N. F. Chamberlin. Carolyn, Mary and Janet will be with Dr. R. E. Coleman, who will also have his granddaughter Mary Beth Meier with him.

W. Harold Lightbody and Nancy will be on hand and Dr. W. B. McIntyre with Margaret, Catherine and Elizabeth, while Mary Katherine will accompany David Martin.

Still others will be John Muckle with Janet and Cynthia; A. B. Moran and Sarah; George N. Payne and Suzanne; J. R. Elizabeth Semple Marries Mr. Knight

Saturday Ceremony in Christ Church Followed by Reception at Country Club; Newlyweds Travel to Europe

Wearing a full length ivory peau de soie gown and an heirloom veil of carrickmacross lace, Elizabeth Hall Semple was married Saturday in Christ Church to William Gardner Knight. The Rev. Erville Maynard officiated.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Semple, of University place, and Mr. and Mrs. Milton Knight, of Perrysburg, O.

For the late afternoon ceremony, the two honor attendants, Anne Wood and Mrs. Cushman Andrews, wore floor length gowns of pale yellow chiffon. Three streamers from midback to floor were in varying shades of yellow to tangerine.

Dressed like the honor attendants were the eight bridesmaids, Sally Stonebraker, Nina Lord, Nancy Happel, Susan Neer, the bride's cousin, Mary Sloan, Barbara Knight, the

Whittinghams Go To Jamaica

Joan Ann Brinster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Brinster was married Saturday in Ridgewood, N.J., to William Henry Whittingham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Whittingham, of Edgemere road.

The Reverend DeForest Lowen performed the ceremony assisted by Dr. Robert L. Curry of Lenox, Mass.

The bride, who was escorted by her father, wore a gown of white silk organza trimmed with re-embroidered Alencon lace, and a beaded Alencon lace pill box which was accented by a triple tiered bouffant veil. She carried a bouquet of white daisies, lilacs and ivy.

Miss Dudley Waggoner was maid of honor, and Thomas Whittingham was his brother's best man. The bride's other attendants were Mrs. Alan King, cousin of the bride, Mrs. William Smyth, and Miss Jane Kendrigan.

Ushers were Stanley Brinster, brother of the bride, C. Bayard Johnson, Jr., Kenneth Rice, and William Williams.

A reception following the ceremony was held at the Sleepy Hollow Country Club, Scarborough-on-Hudson, N.Y.

Mrs. Whittingham was graduated from Miss Hall's School in Pittsfield, Mass. and Skidmore College. Mr. Whittingham, a graduate of the University of Michigan, is a commercial artist and is a member of the Society of Illustrators in New York.

After a wedding trip to Jamaica, the couple will reside in Greenwich, Conn.

Kurtz-Daniels Betrothal Told

Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. Daniels, of Columbus, O., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Donna Ingrid, to Stanley Comerford Kurtz, son of Mrs. Harry C. Kurtz, of Barrington road, and the late Dr. Kurtz.

Both the bride-elect and her fiancé are attending the University of Michigan.

Church Plans Lenten Meal

The Women's Association of the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church is planning "The Meal in the Upper Room" for Tuesday of Holy Week, April 13, at 12 o'clock at which time a preparatory service will be held in Barbour Chapel.

"The Meal in the Upper Room" is one of the most impressive services of the pre-Easter season. It is in commemoration of the Last Supper which Christ ate with His Disciples the evening before his crucifixion.

The food is planned as nearly as possible like that of the time of Christ, and the entire meal is eaten in silence, except for the reading of the scriptural passages and the singing of chants.

It is necessary that the service be worked out in great detail, so all reservations are considered final. In the event that you find you are unable to attend, it is imperative that you provide someone to represent you at "The Meal in the Upper Room."

The program is also timed very carefully, lasting one hour and 15 minutes. It is therefore imperative that the participants be prompt. After 12 o'clock, no one will be admitted.

A Women's Association business meeting will be held prior to the service, at 11:30 o'clock.

Reservations for the program meeting may be made with the church office, (TU 5-3773), by noon, Friday, April 9. Baby-sitting will be provided. Please call Mrs. Richard T. Heglin, (VA 1-9139), by noon, Monday April 12 for reservations.

Farm & Garden Club to Meet

The Grosse Pointe Farm and Garden Club will hold its annual meeting and subscription luncheon on Tuesday, April 13, at the Country Club of Detroit, beginning at 1 o'clock.

Hostesses are Mrs. Syman D. Barrett, Mrs. Stanford Phelps, Mrs. Meredith S. Randall and Mrs. William F. Zabrickie.

The average worker in East Germany makes $10 a month.

Annual Meeting Set By Church Women

Ladies to Model Clothes They Have Made Themselves And Bring Clothes They Have Made For Their Children

The Women's Alliance of the Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church will hold its annual meeting on Tuesday, April 13, at the Church House in East Jefferson avenue.

Luncheon will be served at 12:15 o'clock, followed by the formal meeting and the Style Show which has become an annual event for this group.

Members will be showing their handiwork, modeling clothes they have made for themselves or bringing outfits they have made for their children.

Mrs. Charles Jeffries, Mrs. Richard Sowden, Mrs. John Gulevich, Mrs. Theodore Charlebois, Mrs. William Eppler, Mrs. Charles Corestone, Mrs. Robert McFadden, Mrs. Elijah Poxson and Mrs. William Elmer will model.

Handweaver's Guild to Meet Tomorrow

The Detroit Handweaver's Guild will meet on Friday, April 9, at the International Institute at 1 o'clock.

"Handweaves and the Tailored Look" will be the subject discussed by Mrs. John R. Saylor. She will explain the importance of pattern selection and designing the material to be woven. Her exhibit will include yardage and finished, tailored suits, all hand-woven.

Visitors who wish to attend may call Mrs. A. B. Pfeleider at ED 1-5965.

Stephen Glasser To Claim Bride

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Schreiber, of Hagerstown, Md., have announced the engagement of his daughter, Lynn, to Stephen A. Glasser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin A. Glasser, of Moorland drive.

The future bride is a senior at Chatham College in Pittsburgh where she is president of the campus chapter of the National Student Association.

Mr. Glasser is a senior at Colgate University, where he has been elected to Phi Beta Kappa. He is managing editor of the Colgate MAROON and a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon social fraternity.

Final Concert For Symphony

The final concert of the 1964-65 season of The Detroit Symphony Orchestra will be at 8:30 o'clock, Thursday, April 8, and Saturday, April 10, at Ford Auditorium. Sixteen Ehrling will conduct the all-orchestral program.

Works to be performed are Debussy's Epigraphes Antiques, (orchestrated by Ansermet), Brahms's Symphony No. 1 in C minor, and the world premiere symphonic performance of H. Owen Reed's La Fiesta Mexicana.

The Reed work is a symphonic arrangement of a very popular band work which he wrote in 1949 as a result of a Guggenheim Fellowship in composition.

The present arrangement was commissioned by The Junior Women's Association for The Detroit Symphony Orchestra in celebration of the Golden Anniversary of the Orchestra.

Tickets at all prices are available at the Ford Auditorium Box Office at Grinnell's.

Augustinian Seminary Club Meeting Wednesday

A general meeting of The Augustinian Seminary Club of Detroit is scheduled for Wednesday, April 14, at 8 o'clock, in the Austin Friary in East Warren avenue.

The predominant item on the agenda is a progress report of the sale of tickets for the coming dinner dance which is planned for May 1 at the Lochmoor Country Club. The proceeds of this annual event benefit the good works of the Augustinian Fathers and Brothers.

Climaxing the evening will be the showing of slides of the recent Ordinations and solemn First Masses of some of our newly ordained priests from this area.

Re-Schedule Card Party

Due to last month's heavy snow storm, the "Good Old Summertime" card party sponsored by St. Martha's Rosary Altar Society of Our Lady Queen of Peace Parish, was cancelled.

Now the party has been re-scheduled, for Friday, April 23, in Bishop Gallagher High School gym, beginning at 8 o'clock in the evening.

Theme is still "In the Good Old Summertime" décor and refreshments will be suitably summery, and there will be ample parking space.

Party co-chairmen are Mrs. Richard Szejbach and Mrs. Thomas Hosea. Tickets must be purchased in advance by contacting Mrs. Louis Martilotta, TUvedo 1-6559. Admission donation is $1.50.

Other chairmen are Mrs. Joseph Cournoyer, Mrs. Donald Zinser, Mrs. Robert Kane and Mrs. Donald H. Stange.

Together on the Hanseatic

Fortunately for those of us who have been "at home" all winter, vacations do end and Grosse Pointe-bound travelers are arriving at Metropolitan Airport nearly every day. Home from the Caribbean are two local couples who had planned to "get away from it all" on a German ship, and found, to their amazement, that it was the same ship and the same time.

Mr. and Mrs. Stuart W. George and the Wayne Osbornes met on the deck of the Hanseatic even before they sailed from Port Everglades and found, to their further surprise, that their staterooms were located right across the hall!

The couples, who had enjoyed playing in the Cottage Hospital auxiliary bridge marathons in past years agreed that viewing together the ports of Montego Bay, Curacao, Guadalupe, St. Thomas, and St. Juan was even more delightful!

'Big Snow' and the Caribbean

Trying to leave Detroit on the day of the "Big Snow" proved to be a harrowing experience for Mrs. Lester Elliott who was to meet her husband in Ft. Lauderdale before they boarded the Cunard Line's Carmania for a Caribbean holiday. With the cruise tickets in her purse, Mrs. Elliott tried, by limousine, to reach Willow Run and found herself deposited instead at Metropolitan, which was also closed.

She purchased a new ticket "to match" the new airport and spent the next 23 hours at Metropolitan trying to depart, knowing that the Carmania would sail on schedule regardless of whether or not "the most important passengers" were on hand.

The story had a happy ending and both Elliotts enjoyed the Caribbean. Mrs. Elliott is also enthusiastic about the "hospitality" at the airport where the personnel and passengers, with a spirit of camaraderie played the waiting game together.

"Mrs. Music" Returns From Arizona

Mrs. Frank W. Coolidge, Grosse Pointe's "Mrs. Music," has recently returned from Arizona State University, in Tempe. As national chairman of the "Crusade for Strings" of the National Federation of Music Clubs, she attended the meeting of the National Judges for the Crusade, where prizes were given to clubs who submitted entries in this project.

Mrs. Coolidge was the house guest of Dr. and Mrs. Henry Bruinsma, of Paradise Valley, Scottsdale, Dr. Bruinsma, who is the Dean of Fine Arts at the University, was chairman of Judges.

Libri Club to Meet

Mrs. Sherod B. Scott will open her Elm Court home on Monday for a Libri Club luncheon at 12:30 to be followed by a talk by Robert M. Orr, director of Grosse Pointe Public Libraries, on "What America Is Reading and Why."

Assisting Mrs. Scott will be the Mesdames A. Griswold Herreshoff, Mrs. F. Rankin Weisgerber, Mrs. Carleton Healy and Mrs. Harrison T. Watson.

Church Circles Slate Sessions

The Women's Association of the Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church will hold its Circle meetings next Thursday, April 13. The Circles meet at the home of the hostess, who is assisted by one or more co-hostesses.

The afternoon Circles, Abigail Deborah, Elizabeth, Esther, Hannah, Lydia and Martha, will meet at 12:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Richard Mertz, of Hampton road, will be Abigail hostess, assisted by Mrs. George Couillard, TU 2-0755. Deborah Circle will meet with Mrs. Edward Mertz, of North Oxford road, Mrs. Gerald Schroeder, TU 6-0690, will be co-hostess.

Priscilla, at the Torrey road home of Mrs. William Clark, who will be assisted by Mrs. James Hinzman, TU 4-9292.

Faculty members and students of the Polytechnic University of Milan, Italy, will visit Wayne State University next Tuesday and Wednesday. Their campus tour will be directed by DR. VICTOR A. RAPPORT, of Windmill Pointe drive, dean of International Studies at WSU.

Pointers CHRISTOPHER V. KIMBALL and THOMAS ALVIN RUSSELL have been elected to the Beta Epsilon chapter, University of Michigan, of the Eta Kappa Nu Association, electrical engineering honor society.

Drive Launched By PP League

At a coffee at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Tuesday, April 6, Mrs. Joseph L. Hudson, Jr., of Washington road, outlined the work and the financial needs of the Planned Parenthood League.

Guests were Grosse Pointe women and Eastside Detroiters who will be working on the League's advance gifts campaign which opens this week with Mrs. Hudson and Mrs. William C. Tost, of Grosse Pointe, and Mrs. Homer Sale, of Lathrup Village as chairmen.

Mrs. Hudson told the group that at least $242,000 must be raised to operate the League's seven clinics in Wayne and Oakland counties for the year.

"There is some feeling," she said, "that private agencies can relax their efforts now that public agencies are becoming involved in birth control services. However, the publicity already has increased appointments at our clinics by 50 percent and even after the public clinics are in operation we still will have to provide services for those who are not indigent but cannot afford a private physician."

The League is financed almost entirely by private contributions and its clinics handled about 25,000 patients last year alone, Mrs. Hudson added. Robert L. Kanzler is League chairman. H. Ripley Schemm is chairman of the 1965 campaign which runs through May. Hudson Mead is assistant campaign chairman.

Those from the Grosse Pointe area who are working on the fund raising drive are: Mrs. Theodore Buttrick, Jr., Mrs. Frank Cotter, Mrs. Hudson Holland, Mrs. Nelson Holland, Mrs. Hudson, Mrs. Lowrey Kammer, Mrs. Willard Kerr, Mrs. James MacPherson, Mrs. Clayton Purdy, Mrs. Armin Simone, Mrs. Robert Valk, Mrs. Oscar Buhr, Mrs. William Delbridge, Mrs. Richard Lambrecht, Mrs. Trent McMath, Mrs. Julius Peter, Mrs. Ethel Prewitt, Mrs. Sherro, Scott, Mrs. Darrell Stutzer, Mrs. Albert Thomas, Mrs. Ross Wilkins, Mrs. Charles Adams, Mrs. Christian Hecker, Mrs. Arthur B. Austin Fiesta Plans Are Well Underway

"Come Fly With Me" Theme Decorations to Include Ascension Balloons and Model Planes; Attractions Offered For Whole Family

Austin Catholic Prep School's Annual Spring Fiesta slated for May 1 is headed for another successful year with plans well on the way to completion.

Chairman for this year's event is Mrs. Anthony Bagasco, assisted by Mrs. Eugene Freitas and Mrs. C. Bradford Lundy as co-chairmen.

Decorations under the direction of Mrs. George Blake and Mrs. Godfrey Hammel will follow the theme "Come Fly With Me." The flight theme will manifest itself with gay old-fashioned ascension balloons hung from the ceiling along with current model planes.

Also in the current era will be a three-dimensional spaceship where all may take an imaginary trip to outer space and join the ranks of the Griswolds and the Youngs. This engineering feat is in the masterful hands of talented Austin student Jeffery Fontana '67.

Foreign flags and uniquely framed posters will take you country-hopping from booth to booth, finally to return to the ticket booth which will represent New York—and rightfully so, for this will be the booth that will offer a week-end trip to New York and the World's Fair for two lucky people.

A huge model plane will hang low over the ticket counter where Mrs. Robert Whitty, Mrs. Leo Marx and Mrs. John Nehra will handle tickets.

To interest the women and girls, a Handcraft booth under the direction of Mrs. Dennis DeSantis and Mrs. Lawrence Kroha will feature items ranging from shifts for toddlers through teenager to beautifully decorated waste baskets and decoupage bags trimmed with velvet ribbon and needlepoint. The Hand Knit booth featuring sweaters is managed by Mrs. Lloyd Martz and Mrs. David Turner.

An August wedding is planned.

For the men and boys, there will be a Sporting Goods booth run by Mrs. Arthur VanHoeck and Mrs. Robert Alsheimer plus all of the usual games of skill and shooting gallery activities that make men boys again.

Children will find much to interest them in the new Toy and Novelty booth run by Mrs. C. Bradford Lundy, an added feature this year, and the Bumper Car booth supervised by Mrs. Wilber Kay.

Designed to interest men, women and children alike are the White Elephant booth, run by Mrs. John Douglas; New Articles, Mrs. Joseph Kramer; Soda Bar, Mrs. Francis Ryan; Baked Goods, Mrs. Samuel Tocco; Food Baskets, Mrs. Thomas Feldman; and the Kitchen, which will feature a spaghetti dinner, under the direction of Mrs. Samuel Palazzola.

Finances will be handled by Mrs. Samuel Stire and publicity by Mrs. Ralph W. Stevens.

Conference Scheduled By Camp Fire Girls

Think big, widen your world, with us on April 8, 9, 10. We're the lucky council this year — selected to be host to Camp Fire Girls, Region IX Conference! We're looking forward to having every committee, district committee and board member join us at this marvelous session planned by the Regional Program Committee. We are the ones to make 350 guests happy. States participating are: West Virginia, Ohio, Kentucky, Illinois, Indiana, Lower Michigan, Wisconsin and Upper Michigan.

The emphasis for 1965 is geared to meet the needs of board and committee members who know the urgency of clear communication, are aware of how Camp Fire looks to the community, and are enthusiastic about the organization's plans for reaching more girls and volunteers.

Headquarters Hotel is the Shearson-Cadillac. There will be a room available where Detroit people may rest or gather.

Hospital Auxiliary Plans Bake Sale

The monthly meeting of the Fontbonne Auxiliary, St. John Hospital, was held on Wednesday, April 7 at 2 o'clock. The story of our Lady of Fatima was told at this meeting.

On Saturday, April 17, the Easter Bake Sale will be held at St. John Hospital, ground floor, to 3:30 o'clock. This would be a good opportunity to pick up those extra special home-made treats for Easter Sunday.

There were 43,999 medical articles on heart drugs published between 1931 and 1959.

Tea Tickets Still Available

Have you a ticket for the Mothers Club Tea being held at the Grosse Pointe High School on Friday, April 9? Tickets are still available by phoning Mrs. Charles Beltz, TU 2-6234, or Mrs. William Munro, TU 5-1550, party chairman and ticket chairman, respectively.

Mrs. Edward Fine, chairman of the Tea committee, and her assistants, Mesdames Walter Owen, Frederick J. Critchfield, Albert Gonas, Frank G. Raphael, Arthur Kuechenmeister, John Alias, Larry Wheeler and Max Gardner, have been arranging a delicious tea of sandwiches, dainty cakes and cookies. These have all been donated by Grosse Pointe High School Mothers who willingly do their bit for the sake of the scholarship fund.

The Mothers Club scholarship fund is used to help students of this community who need assistance to get to college.

Guests at the tea will see the latest spring ensembles displayed on the stage and get a chance to win one of the 100 prizes being offered. Tea will be served at 1 o'clock.

While present, guests may view the delightful sketches done by Mrs. Thomas Munson and see the fabulous decorations in the auditorium. All this and tea too, for $1.50! Tickets are still available from the above mentioned ladies.

To Preview Exhibit Of Swedish Design

The preview of the exhibit, "Swedish Design Today," sponsored by the Board of Trustees of Cranbrook Academy of Art and the Detroit-Swedish Council, will draw many Pointers to the Cranbrook Galleries tomorrow evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin R. Anderson (recently returned from Fort Lauderdale), of South Deeplands, Mrs. Elmer Beezin, of Lochmoor boulevard (just home from Bal Harbour, Fla.), and Mr. and Mrs. Alton L. Wheeler, of Lakepointe avenue, will assist Bloomfield Hills residents Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Jones and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Lundin, who are hosts for the evening.

Among others who will attend is Mrs. Ralph L. Lagerfeldt, of Audubon road, who has returned from several weeks in Pompano Beach. Mrs. Lagerfeldt has just said good-bye to her daughter, Ingrid, who returned to classes at Oklahoma University April 4, after a spring vacation at home.

Others planning to be present include the Carl Johnsons, of Windmill Pointe drive, Dr. and Mrs. George Baer, of Balfour road, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Cassman, of Kensington road, the Charles J. Koebels, of Shelden road and Mrs. Carl Parsons, of Devonshire road.

Still more are Mrs. E. Martin Tallberg, of Trombley road, and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Erickson, of Audubon road.

The exhibition, representing the master craftsmanship and elegant simplicity of contemporary Swedish design, will be open to the public from April 10 through May 9. The Galleries are located at Cranbrook Academy of Art, Lone Pine road, Bloomfield Hills.

Galleries' hours are 2 to 5 o'clock Tuesday through Friday, 1 to 5 o'clock Saturday and Sunday.

Nearly 300 objects, including glassware, ceramics, stainless steel, handcraft, weaving, rugs and furniture, are included in the exhibit, which is sponsored by the Embassy of Sweden and the Smithsonian Institution.

Few if any new drugs or inventions have been commercially developed in countries which do not offer proper patent protection to the inventor.

Married

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Nimz, of Barclay road, announce the marriage of their daughter, CAROLE ANN to Norman Frederick Guice, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Norman Guice of Bedford road, on March 26, 1965, at the Cathedral Church of St. Paul, Detroit.

Both Carole and Norman are students at the University of Michigan, where Carole is affiliated with Alpha Chi Omega.

Betrothed

Mr. and Mrs. David F. Waggoner, of Lakeland avenue, announce the engagement of their daughter, MARGARET KAYE, to Lt. Willard Lee Wells, son of the late Lyonel Wells and Mrs. Iva Wells, of Caro, Mich.

Mr. Wells is a graduate of Central Michigan University, and is now serving in the armed forces in Fairbanks, Alaska.

Miss Waggoner will be graduated from the University of Michigan in May. She is a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority.

A May 15 wedding is being planned.

Bride-Elect

Mr. and Mrs. Hervey Cushman Parke, of University place, announce the engagement of their daughter, CONSTANCE KIMBALL PARKE, to Reuben Miller Waterman, Jr. A December wedding is planned.

Miss Parke was graduated from the Grosse Pointe University School and is attending Wells College. She is a member of Sigma Gamma and made her debut in Grosse Pointe last June.

Her grandparents are the late Mr. and Mrs. Alexander K. Gage, of Detroit, and Mrs. Parke and the late Rev. Harvey C. Parke, of Amherst, Mass. The firm of Parke, Davis & Co. was founded by Miss Parke's great-grandfather.

Mr. Waterman was graduated from the Hotchkiss School, and from Yale University where he was affiliated with Phi Gamma Delta, with the Class of 1964. He is presently in service with the U.S. Army. Mr. Waterman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Miller Waterman, of McKinley place.

His grandparents are Mrs. Cameron Beach Waterman, of Grosse Pointe, and the late Mr. Waterman. Mrs. Leonore Squire, his maternal grandmother, resides in Carmel, Calif.

Ornamentals Require Care

Ornamental shrubs and flowers improve the looks of your home, and extend a welcome to you and others all during the warm months of the year. Here are some tips on caring for your ornamentals, to make sure that welcome is a bright and cheery one.

The first thing is proper planning. Keep flower beds out of the middle of the lawn, where lawn and flowers detract from each other. Put the flowers around the edges of the grassy areas.

Keeping in mind the mature appearance of the plants, arrange your shrubs and flowers so that the tall plants will be in back and the short ones in front. Otherwise, you won't be able to see all the flowers. Also, plan so that you have flowers in bloom during all seasons.

Pruning is also important in keeping your shrubs in good condition. Early-blooming shrubs should not be pruned until after they have flowered. That means that shrubs like spirea, lilac, forsythia, and Japanese quince shouldn't get an early spring pruning.

However, shrubs that bloom in the summer or fall should be pruned in the early spring. A good rule of thumb is to remove about a third of the older wood including broken, misshapen, diseased or crowded branches.

Another thing you should plan on doing early in the spring is fertilizing. That is the time of year when the fertilizer does the most good. Most leafy shrubs respond to the same kind of fertilizers used for the lawn.

By following these tips, you can keep your floral welcome mat out all summer long. To see demonstrations on how to plant and care for ornamentals, attend the Free Lawn and Garden Fair, at the State Fair grounds on Saturday, May 1.

Church Women Meet Tuesday

The April luncheon meeting of the Women's Association of Grosse Pointe Congregational Church will be held Tuesday, April 13th, at 12 noon. Luncheon will be prepared and served under the direction of Mrs. William Reid.

Mrs. Frank Taugner, president of the women's group, announced that a brief business session would precede the 1 o'clock luncheon.

Mrs. Wayne Jenson, program chairman for the Congregational women, reports that Dr. Robert Freshhe will be the featured speaker with "One God" his selected topic.

Dr. Freshhe is Executive Director of the Detroit Round Table of Catholics, Jews, and Protestants, and as such is devoting a lifetime of work toward reducing intergroup tensions and improving human relations.

His educational credits include work at Ashland College, Princeton, Wayne State, with honorary doctorates from Olivet College and Wilberforce University.

He has received many awards and citations in the field of Christian service, and has also served as president of Detroit Council of Social Agencies, Detroit Social Workers Club, and the Michigan Camping Association.

He has also been a member of the Board of Directors of the following organizations: Central Volunteer Bureau, Family Service Society, United Foundation, International Institute, and the Mayor's Advisory Committee on Housing, plus many more.

Dr. Freshhe will speak at 2 o'clock in the church lounge, and the public is cordially invited to hear this fine speaker.

Krebs-Garlick Betrothal Told

At a family dinner party Saturday in their Bloomfield Hills home, Mr. and Mrs. James Henry Garlick, Jr., announced the engagement of their daughter, Sarah Elizabeth, to Charles Frederic Krebs, son of Dr. and Mrs. William Thomas Krebs, of Kenwood court.

Miss Garlick is a graduate of the University of Michigan, where she affiliated with Collegiate Sorosis.

Mr. Krebs is completing work on his Master's degree in the School of Forestry of the University of Michigan, and is a member of Alpha Delta Phi and Xi Sigma Pi fraternities.

An August 14 wedding is planned.

Read Labels Buyers Told

As you purchase new clothing for the coming warm weather, it is important to read the fiber labels attached to these clothes. The percentage or amount of each fiber must be listed on the hang tag or label according to the Textile Fiber Identification Act.

Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Home Economists state that these labels can help you judge the performance you can expect from a garment. By becoming familiar with the terms used on labels, you will know the resistance to wrinkling, shrinking and tearing. These tags also often offer suggestions for care—they state if the garment may be machine or hand washed, or if it should be dry cleaned. By reading the labels on garments, you can take better care of your clothing and make it last longer.

Michigan State University Extension Home Economists advise that you save all labels and keep them together by your laundry area, so you can refer to them when needed.

Spring Sports Underway At Grosse Pointe High

By Rie Hendee
A volleyball game in the old gym; jogging up and down the auditorium stairs; and batting practice in the field room are all signs of spring and another season of Blue Devil sports.

Grosse Pointe High School's three spring athletic teams: tennis track, and baseball, have been making the best of indoor facilities since March 1. This week though the coaches are optimistic to get out-doors and, with a little luck...

The new season is definitely approaching, in any event. As a matter of fact the track fellas ran their first meet last week-end, an indoor all-state contest at Jenson Field house on the Michigan State campus.

The Devil runners' best effort was the Sprint Relay in which they finished 2nd from a field of over a hundred Michigan high schools.

Although the track team is watched as a possible power in state competition this year, the Blue Devil boys have a long way to catch up. B.C.L. rules state that the spring sports teams can't begin practice until March 1 whereas most of the other leagues have been under way since January.

Grosse Pointe, then, has a long way to go yet before any peak can be reached and, as of now, they haven't even been out-side yet.

Most of the distance runners have spent their month of practice doing three minute speed jobs in the high school gymnasium. They hustle up a set of stairs at one end of the gym, sprint the length of the balcony, then down stairs to the main floor and another sprint back... for three minutes straight.

The track sprinters or short distance runners have gone to the 2nd floor hall for their practice. Here they can take advantage of a so-called "straight track."

Two big leaders this year will be Bruce Fox and Brian Davis, the recently elected team captains. Fox, the Devil's top miller last spring, will continue running the distance, possibly concentrating on the half-mile.

Davis will be a league threat in the hurdles.

Dick Green, broad jump; Bill Mistle, pole-vault; Doug Lott and Dick Davis, sprints; and Don Carson, field, will also spark Coach Jim Gullett's Grosse Pointe attack.

The fuzzi-ballers led by Coach Donald Zysk, also condemned to in-door play, go to volleyball with the walls for practice. Mostly a precision drill, their back-stop play helps strengthen the arm and wrist and is a good way to prefect stance and form.

Last season the Grosse Pointe tennis team not only dumped the BCL but also grabbed a regional crown. Since then several top-notch players have graduated or transferred and the new squad is largely rebuilt.

Fortunately Pete Short, and Bob Miller are back. And Jim Kendall, Ron Gutow, and Ed Beyster (to name a few) show potential as possible prospects.

Coach Ernie Bauer's baseball squad has spent the last month in much more cramped quarters... the field room. Operating on a one pitcher-one catcher basis, the fellas have sharpened their hitting and, whenever possible, their catching.

But, until the out-door field is clear and ready, the team is obviously working out under very handicapped conditions.

Today, though, the Blue Devil nine are scheduled to play their second game, an away contest with Lakeview. On Tuesday they opened the season against the same team, Lakeview, in a home game.

So, with three of the six sports seasons behind, Grosse Pointe has strong hopes of recapturing the BCL all-sports trophy from Monroe.

Tied with the Trojans in football, a first to their second in swimming, and cushioned from the bottom by only Monroe in basketball, the Blue Devils have a good opportunity to bring the important prize back, to the home where it has spent more time than all the other combined.

It all depends on what April showers and May flowers decide to bring.

Service Planned For Good Friday

"Who For Christ?" is the Theme of the Community Good Friday Service to be held at the Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church on April 16, 1-2:30 p.m.

Reverend Dale Ihrie, of Grosse Pointe Baptist Church, will give the introduction to the service in a prologue. He says, "Christ continues to be a problem to us, and so we are going to put him on trial in a 20th century setting."

The Reverend Andrew Rauth, of Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church, will call this worship service into session. It is sponsored by the Greater Northeast Detroit Ministerial Association. The public is invited to attend.

Babe Ruth Loop Tryouts Are Set

By BILL STUCK

Vice President Fred Critchfield announced that tryouts will be held for Farm-City-Park Babe Ruth Players at 10 a.m. on April 10. For 13-15-year-old boys from the west side of Rivard to the west park limits at the Neighborhood Club and for those on the east side of Rivard to the East Farms limits they will be held at the Kerby Road Field.

Director Tom Marantette announced that the following will sponsor the teams in the two divisions: Mechanical Handling Systems Inc.; Nemethy Davis; Kohl and Madden Printing Ink Corp.; Woods Theatre; Detroit Mailing and Binding Co.; Helm Inc.; Kaufmann Window and Door Corp.; Electric Tool and Service; Pointe Kitchen Center Inc. and Detroit Insurance—David Marantette, president Your Board and of course the players want to express their appreciation for this assistance financially in this most worthwhile area.

With the summer season? again coming along and baseball getting into gear—your writer again asks the age-old question: Are there any boys playing with glasses that are not shatterproof?

Insurance is fine... but it does not replace eyes. Need more be said? Still in the safety area... the board is investigating the possibility of returning to the wrap-around type helmets instead of the "African-type." In the last season or so these "sun shades" did not seem to prove out in many respects.

Slate Ruth Loop Tryouts Sat.

By Bernard Scherrer

Old man winter pitcher a shutout last Saturday, April 3, against us! Our attempt to get the first tryouts under way failed. However, we are planning to get even this week, April 10. All Woods-Shores boys who signed up to play Babe Ruth Baseball are requested to report at Parcels School Saturday, April 10, at the time set up on the sheet you received when registering, regardless of the weather. Should the weather be bad bring a pair of basketball shoes and we'll work out in the gym.

Change Park LL Tryout Schedule

Due to the extremely cold weather on April 3, the try-out schedule for the Grosse Pointe Park Little League has been changed as follows:

8:30 a.m., April 10, Boys 9 and 10—National League; 12 noon, April 10, Boys 11 and 12—National League; 1:30 p.m., April 10, Boys 9 and 10—American League; 3 p.m., April 10, Boys 11 and 12—American League.

Try-outs will be held on the diamonds behind Defer School on Kercheval Avenue.

Boys who have not turned in their registration cards for this season should send them to Arthur Getz, president of the Grosse Pointe Park Little League, 1119 Buckingham Avenue, Grosse Pointe Park, Michigan 48230.

St. Paul Students At Science Fair

The Metropolitan Detroit Science Fair, which runs from April 10-13 at Cobo Hall, will include 20 projects by St. Paul students. In order to earn this honor, the students first had to win in St. Paul's Science Fair, and also in the City regionals which were held at Osborn High School.

The Chemistry students taking their projects to Cobo Hall are: Susan Peters, John Sullivan, Christopher Terry, Sue Lykins, Janet Dill-Laure, Bruce Doubles, Janice Jamerino, Jeanette Jamerino, Dave Webb, Cynthia Carter, Kathy Loehner, Dave Letscher, Kerry Luber, Patricia Crea, Bill Alexander and Sue Meier.

Pat Murphy won in the Biology class. Pat Barrett, a seventh grader, and Robert Wakely and Rosalind Leto, both eighth graders, are taking the projects to Cobo Hall.

Alpha Xi Deltas Have Anniversary

Detroit area Alpha Xi Deltas will gather Saturday for luncheon at Stouffer's Northland Inn to observe their 72nd Anniversary as a national social fraternity. Ten co-eds on the campus of Lombard College, Galesburg, Ill. established the organization April 17, 1893. The 11th college chapter was chartered in February at Old Dominion College (of William & Mary) in Virginia.

Pointe Business Notes

Robert B. Cunningham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Basil J. Cunningham, of Devonshire road, has been named Controller and Assistant Secretary of the Grove Savings and Loan Association in Pacific Grove, Calif.

Cunningham was formerly an Assistant Treasurer of American Savings and Loan in Southern California and was connected with a private public accounting firm for five years. He attended Michigan State and U.C.L.A.

Donald W. Milock, of 1557 Hollywood, has been appointed associate manager for Continental Assurance Company at the Detroit Branch Office, 725 Ford Building.

Mr. Milock was graduated from Michigan State University in 1955 and has been in the life insurance business for seven years. Before joining Continental in 1962, he was sales supervisor with the Life Insurance Company of North America.

In his new position as associate manager, Mr. Milock will be devoting his full energies to helping the general insurance men in the Detroit area develop life insurance sales among their clients.

William A. Post, CLU, a member of the Detroit branch office of Connecticut General Life Insurance Company, has been named to the company's President's Club for outstanding agents.

Agency manager, James A. Jacobs, CLU, said membership in President's Club is awarded on the basis of records of excellence in quality of service to policyholders and clients and in sales performance.

Mr. Post is a life member of President's Club, a distinction that is earned after ten years' qualification. He has qualified consistently since 1937.

He is a member of the Honor Table of President's Club, highest award the company gives its agents. Honor Table is open only to those agents who meet the highest standards of service and who write $1 million of new life insurance with Connecticut General in a single year.

Mr. Post makes his home at 1003 Buckingham Road.

The Prudential Insurance Company has presented its coveted President's Citation to Charles A. Barlow, of Stephens road, Brokerage Manager in the Detroit Agency. The Citation is a company-wide award, according to Alexander Query, senior vice president in charge of Prudential's North Central Home Office, Minneapolis. It is presented, on the basis of 1964 sales and service achievements, to the top 10% of Prudential's divisions and special agents.

He is attending the company's top business meeting, the President's conference, at the Diplomat Hotel in Hollywood-By-The-Sea, Fla., April 5 to 8.

H. Terry Snowday Jr., formerly of 792 Harcourt, has been appointed Manager of the Corporate Finance Department of the new Detroit offices of Car. M. Loeb, Rhoades & Company, national and international securities firm. Mr. Snowday is a 1957 graduate of Hillsdale College and a 1959 graduate of the New York Institute of Finance. Since 1959, he has been a registered representative in investment securities.

Parke, Davis & Company has announced the promotion of Dr. John D. Howells to Senior Research Microbiologist.

A native of Shamokin, Pa., Dr. Howells obtained his B.S. degree in biology from Dickinson College in 1950. Following two years in the U.S. Army, he attended Pennsylvania State University where, in 1955, he was granted a M.S. in bacteriology, and two years later received his Ph.D. from the same school.

Dr. Howells and his family reside at 1834 Norwood, Grosse Pointe Woods.

William W. Brown of 697 St. Clair avenue, has been appointed senior consulting engineer for Detroit Edison's system development department.

A native of Kilmaronock, Scotland, Mr. Brown received his engineering education at Kilmaronock Tech before joining Detroit Edison in 1923. During his company career he has worked in a staff and supervisory capacity in the construction, production, and engineering departments. He was chief of the generation division of Edison's general engineering department at the time he was given his new assignment.

During World War II he served as chief construction coordinator for utilities with the War Production Board and later as chief of the utilities division of the Civilian Production Administration and Office of Emergency Control. Since 1955 he has been a Consultant for the International Cooperation Administration.

Arthur E. Bertelsen, 1088 Hawthorne, will be a driver in the 28th Annual Mobil Economy Run leaving Los Angeles April 5 and arriving Times Square, N.Y., April 11. The 3,200-mile trip is designed to test gas consumption on various makes and sizes of American-made cars. Bertelsen will drive a Chrysler New Yorker.

He is an engineer on special car programs for Chrysler Corporation and is a sailing enthusiast. Bertelsen and his wife Jeanne have five children: Janet, 5; Phil, 12; David, 13; Diane, 15; and Susan, 17. Bertelsen has a masters degree in automotive engineering.

Skiing Still Fine In Michigan

There are winter sports enthusiasts who feel that the season is over when the calendar page is flipped from February to March. Not so, says the Michigan Tourist Council, and cites a number of reasons why spring skiing is popular with knowledgeable skiers.

Favorable snow conditions, festivals and special social events, pleasant weather conditions and generally less-crowded facilities are credited by state tourist officials for this popularity.

Despite the approach of warmer weather, accumulations of good base snow indicate the skiing season will be prolonged into April.

Historically, March has provided considerable quantities of new snow creating good skiing conditions throughout Michigan. Average March snowfalls range from 5.8 inches according to U. S. Weather Bureau Statistics in Detroit to 24.5 inches in the upper peninsula village of Bergland. The average in Michigan's "winter sports belt" is typified by Petoskey's 9.8 inches.

Springtime is festival time at Michigan's winter resorts. Skiers' costume parties, beauty contests, trick skiing competitions and other festive activities provide pleasant diversion.

Another popular feature of spring skiing is the generally warmer temperatures. Though winter sports purists tout the pleasures of skiing in near-zero temperatures, many others find the warmer spring weather more enjoyable.

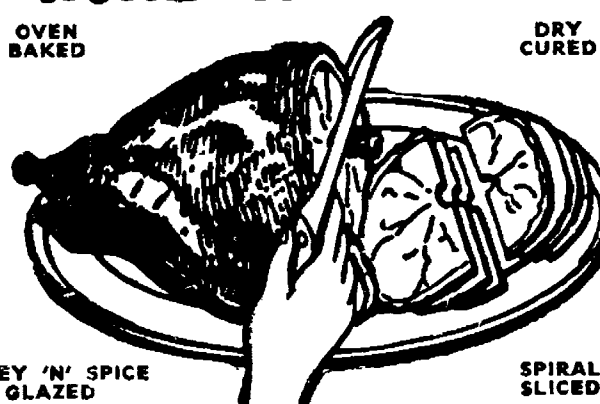

The fact that some skiers desert the slopes at the end of February works to the advantage of those who wish to ski. Waiting lines at tows and lifts are short—or nonexistent—and the slopes and other resort facilities are much less crowded.

It may be spring where you are, but don't be surprised when you see car-top carriers loaded with the skis of winter sports fans headed for northern Michigan. There is still plenty of snow so don't put away those skis.

A manufacturer's net profit on the average drug prescription, which costs $3.35, is only 16 cents.

AGAINST DEATH PENALTY—Karl Meyer, 27, an associate editor of the New York Catholic Worker, hauls an electric chair replica on a 220-mile trek from Chicago to Springfield hoping to impress state legislators who are considering a bill to abolish capital punishment in Illinois.

KEEPING AHEAD—Rev. Ralph Abernathy keeps abreast of the news on the civil rights march, Selma to Montgomery, in Alabama. At left is Rev. Martin Luther King.

ANTHONY QUINN, with Lila Kedrova, in a scene from "Zorba the Greek."

DETAILED STUDY of the Moon photos televised by Ranger-9 brings out these interesting comparisons. Top: The crater Alphonsus from 258 miles away. Smaller crater at left is Alpetragius. Numbers on the boxes in Alphonsus correspond to the four photos below. No. 1, one minute, 17 seconds before impact. Eastern edge of crater is seen from 115 miles out. No. 2, at 38.8 seconds before impact, from 58 miles. No. 3, from 12.2 miles, 8.09 seconds before impact. No. 4, the last photo, from three-fourths of a mile, 0.463 seconds before impact. Small white circle at top is the point of impact.

"JUNIOR MISS"—With the Empire State Building in the background, the new "Junior Miss" of the U.S., Patricia Angela Gaucher, 17, St. Joseph, Mich., gets underway with her big year. She won the crown in Mobile, Ala.

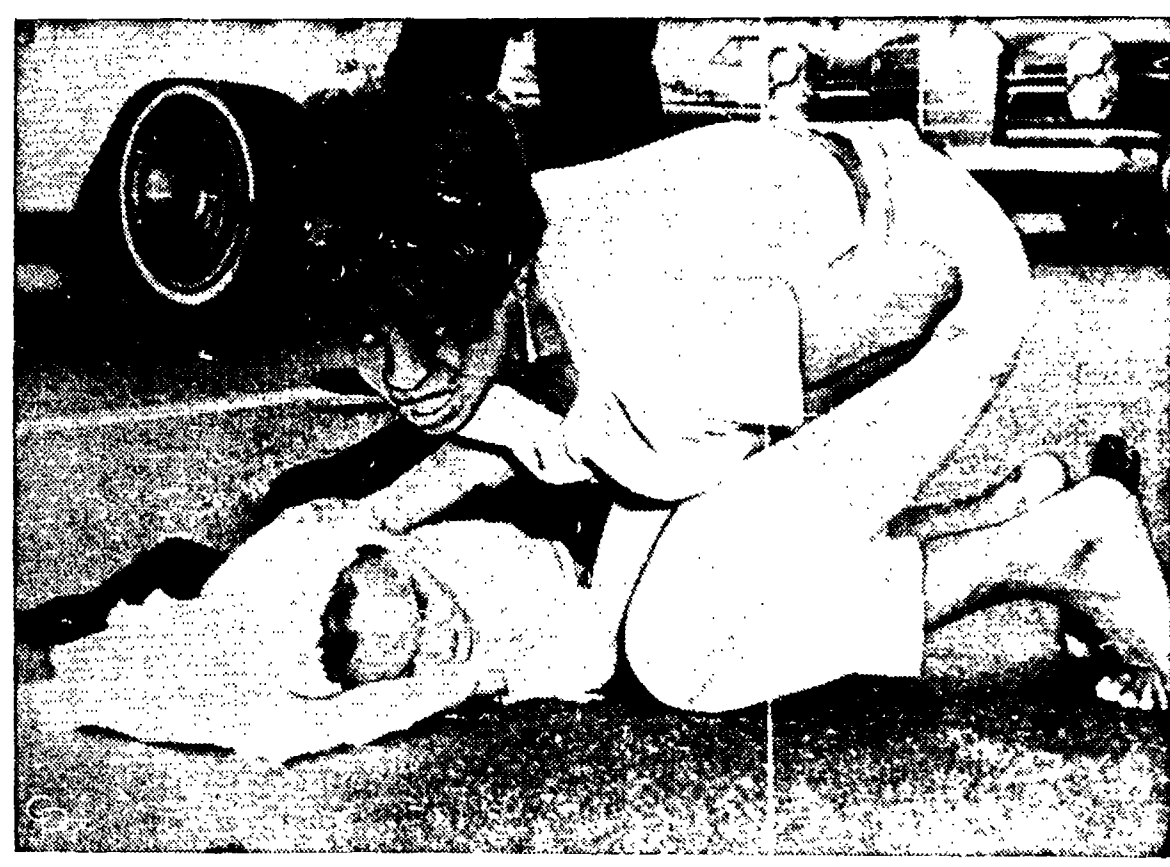

SHIRLEY TEMPLE IN MOSCOW—Notice the admiring glance Shirley Temple is getting on Red Square in Moscow. She is standing in front of Lenin's tomb. She is Mrs. Charles Black, and is there on a combined tourist-business trip.

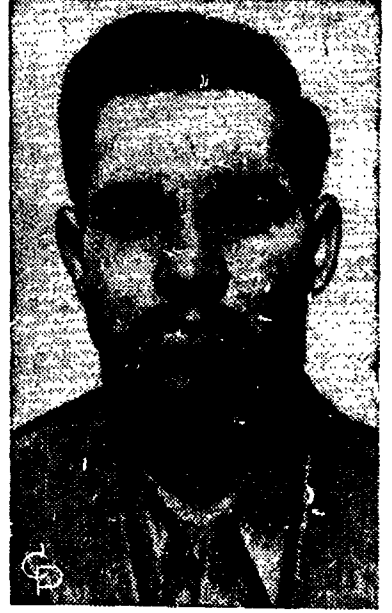

HER HERO—It's plain to see who's a hero to Sandy Young, 7, as she admires her astronaut father, John Young, at Cape Kennedy.

"SPIRIT OF '65"—Heading the civil rights marchers entering Montgomery, Ala., was this "Spirit of '65" foursome (from left), Dick Sakiner, Len Chandler, one-legged Jim Letherer and Louis Marshall. Letherer marched the entire trip from Selma.

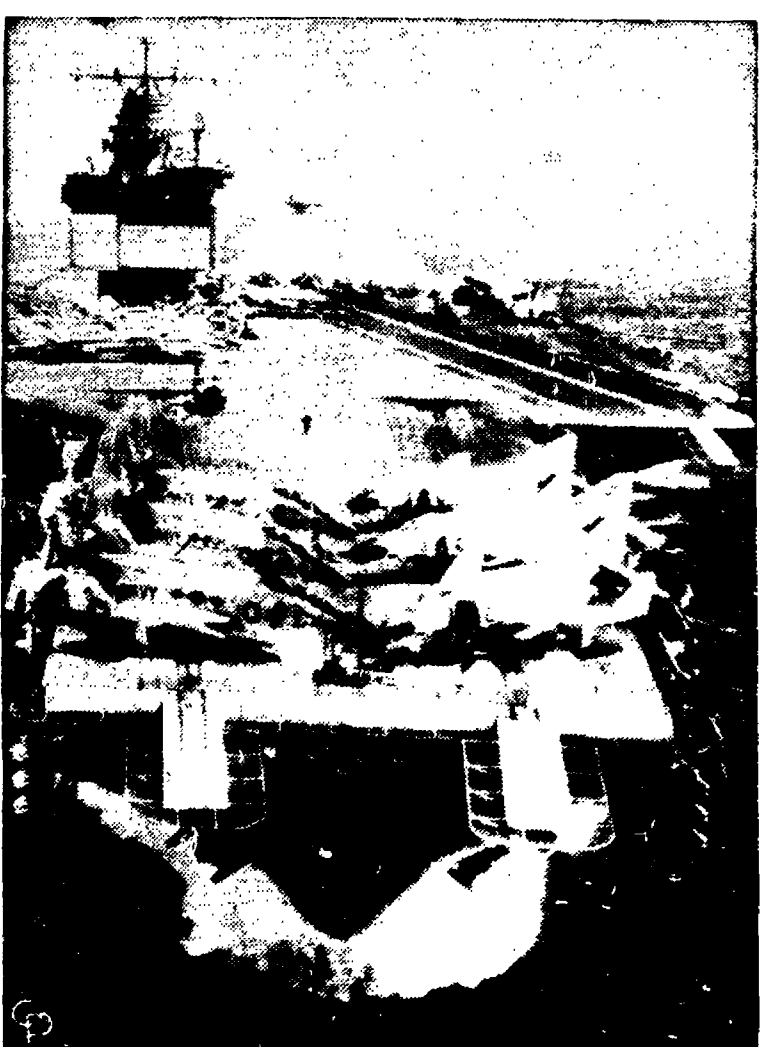

HER DAUGHTER—M.s. Johnnie Brooks' face mirrors horror and disbelief as she kneels over her daughter April, 3, hurled 38 feet by an auto in San Francisco. The girl is recovering in a hospital. John Siceloff, the driver, faces a defective brakes citation.

"MOST WANTED"—Arthur Pierce Jr. (above) goes on the FBI's list of "Ten Most Wanted Fugitives," wanted in the murder of an Indiana mother and daughter. Pierce, 28, is 5-feet-7, weighs 190-210, has brown hair, brown eyes, and scars on his left forearm, left wrist, right finger. He is described as polite, smooth-talking, and extremely dangerous.

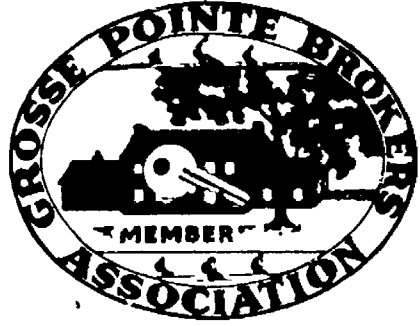

GANG FIGHT MURDER—A gang fight between white and Negro youths puts this trio under arrest in Brooklyn, N.Y., with Joseph Huber (right), 17, charged with murder. Vaughan Bernard (left), 16, and Harry Johnson (middle), 16, are charged with felonious assault. Weapons were knives.

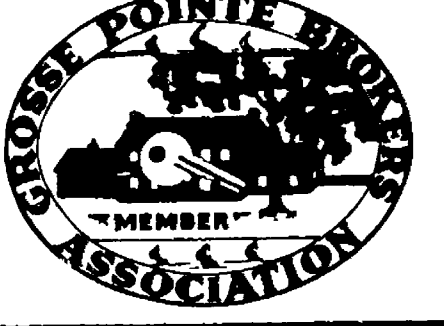

NUCLEAR FLEET TO PACIFIC—The U.S. Navy is transferring its nuclear-powered fleet, led by the 85,000-ton aircraft carrier Enterprise (above), from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Reason given is to get the full benefit of the fleet's ability to stay at sea for long periods of time. The Enterprise is the largest ship in the world.

"I DON'T think I'll climb any more mountains," said 39-year-old Sen. Robert Kennedy, D-N.Y., after scaling Mt. Kennedy, the peak named for his late brother in Canada. Kennedy is shown, weary and grizzled, on arrival back in Whitehorse in the Yukon Territory.

STANTON LANE

A very attractive Early American home in a fine location convenient to schools and in St. Paul parish. It contains a new family room with fireplace, library, 5 bedrooms, 3½ baths and attached garage.

HOLLYWOOD AVE.

Original owner transferred, offers this fine home with 2 large bedrooms on first floor and space for expansion on second. Among other features are a 2-car attached garage, screened and glassed terrace and excellent recreation room.

T. RAYMOND JEFFS

TU 1-1100 Res. TU 2-0176

A CUSTOM RANCH home located in an area where many houses sell for far more than the $49,000 tag we have placed on it. Three double-sized bedrooms serviced by two full baths and a lavatory. There is a paneled den plus a family room. The basement is so commodious it accommodates a thirty-foot long recreation room with a wet bar. There is also a shop area, storage rooms, and laundry. Situated on a 100-foot lot, which is attended by an underground sprinkler system.

IF YOU'VE BEEN peeking around at four bedrooms in the Shores but can't find anything under fifty thousand dollars, then this offering might be the solution. In this Early American colonial on Duval, are all the conveniences you would expect in a newer house. There is a magnificent kitchen with a fireplace for inside barbecuing, there is also an honest-sized family room which will accommodate a family. Four bedrooms and two baths up and a first floor lavatory. Just off the kitchen is a sensibly placed laundry.

A DECORATOR'S SHOWPLACE is this newer offering on Norwood. If your requirements are for a smaller house with a couple bedrooms on the first floor, but a large dormitory above, this cutie may be what you've been waiting for. Realistically priced at $23,750.

IF YOU'RE FROM Missouri... or a skeptical house hunter who insists on seeing the best "deal" for the money being offered in a Grosse Pointe residence today; come by Sunday afternoon between 2:30 and 5, and personally inspect 19946 O'Mara Court. Located off Fairford on a dead-end street, this colonial offers a floor plan with two first floor bedrooms serviced by a full bath and a lavatory. Up there are two more large bedrooms and another bath. The large proportioned family center boasts a living kitchen with "flows" into the dining and family room area. Restrain your self... the price is just $44,500.

HERE'S A GEM of a house on Lake Shore Road at Provençal. Situated with the Lake as a backdrop for your view from the living room, dining room and breakfast room. The master suite is on the first floor, with three more bedrooms and two other baths upstairs.

THIS ONE SPEAKS for itself. Its distinctive appearance from the street calls you inside to see more. Once there you'll be amazed how the house "opens up" with a large proportioned living room and library leading from the paneled foyer. There is a stepdown dining room, and large screened terrace which is so located that it provides access to both the living and dining rooms. Upstairs are five bedrooms for the family, and two more over the heated garage for stay-in help or more family. Full attic for storage, and a basement which is ideal for kids, with a playroom, billiards room and built-in barbecue. Situated on more than two hundred feet of frontage on Lewiston Road.

A Responsibility and A Reward

Today Grosse Pointe is unique in its abundance of natural beauty and its cultural standards as well as being within easy access to all important centers in Detroit. In short, it ranks high among the world's finest residential communities.

During the past 33 years, from the days when Grosse Pointe was a township of farms and a sprinkling of homes, the Grosse Pointe Brokers Association has lent its influence and professional skill in shaping and maintaining standards which have given Grosse Pointe national prominence. All who have had the pleasure of living in this delightful community have profited from the joint efforts of the land developers and the real estate men who have helped make this possible.

We, the members of the Grosse Pointe Brokers Association, take pleasure in the part we have played in this development and pledge anew a continuance of our proven policy to always render professional real estate service in the renting, buying, selling or appraising of Grosse Pointe real estate.

For dependable and professional service when buying or selling a Grosse Pointe home, be sure to call one of the following members of our Association. You won't be sorry if you do.

Congratulations to U. of D.'s recently named "Engineer of the Year," John W. Sanders, son of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Sanders, of Torrey road. The award is conferred by the Engineering Student Council and a special panel of faculty on the basis of scholastic record, leadership, and service to the university and community.

John, who is a senior at U. of D., is vice chairman of the student chapter of the Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers; vice president of Tau Beta Pi, national engineering honor society; and treasurer of Eta Kappa Nu, electrical engineering honor society.

He is also a member of Alpha Sigma Nu, national Jesuit honor society; Phi Sigma Tau, philosophy honor society; and the Engineering Student Council.

"Peregrinations of a pair of peripatetic pedagogues" reads a travel communication recently received from Dr. Charles Brake, of Balfour road, former Wayne County Superintendent of Schools, and Mrs. Brake. Some observations from "Tropical Ireland and Beatle-infested Great Britain."

—Ireland: We encountered donkey carts, sheep, and cows in great abundance and almost no traffic. Sales of animals are held in the town squares, which make driving on market day quite an experience. Ringo, our valiant Volkswagen, missed every animal, but often only by a hair!

—England: there are some things we have looked for in vain: No bluebirds over the White Cliffs of Dover. No pirates at Penzance. No man with seven wives coming from St. Ives. No sign of two cats in Kilkenny. No man carrying coals to Newcastle.

—British elections . . . We thought the campaign was waged more on personality than on principle or issues, and were a little bit shocked at the aggressive heckling that went on during the campaign. In general, we believe the British are better informed on our politics than we are on theirs.

—Ideas worth copying: A ferry boat's entire deck was a turn table. It made for easy loading and unloading. At blind corners, very large mirrors are placed to aid drivers. Some were made of glass, others of metal. Fire beaters made of twigs or woven wire attached to a long handle are placed at regular intervals on roads through national forests.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Ashurkoff, formerly of Belanger road, who were transferred to cosmopolitan Mexico City last fall, write that they particularly enjoy the international friendships that they are forming with people from Argentina, Germany, England, and elsewhere — which makes for very interesting parties! They also enjoy the weather; Mrs. A. has been wearing sleeveless cotton dresses since the beginning of February!

INTRUSION BY "SAMANTHA"

Brown waters slap on the cypress trees.
Silvered bark shines in the filtered light,
Bright flowers dance in the evening breeze
Shattered by a heron's sudden call of fright.

Tangled moss hangs low o'er hunter's head
Sliding shift approaches through the gloom
One saccato shot re-echoes, life has fled
And the silence stretches silent as a tomb.

Man claims his prize, and glides on out of sight
Once again the jasmine is alive with bees.
Hand polished stars gleam through the night,
And brown waters slap on the cypress trees.

Italian Baroque Exhibit Slated

The first comprehensive exhibition of Italian baroque art to be shown in the United States in two decades will be presented by The Detroit Institute of Arts from April 6 through May 9.

"Art in Italy, 1600-1700" is a rich and varied display of more than 200 paintings, drawings and sculptures. It has been assembled from outstanding private and public collections of baroque art and will be exhibited exclusively at The Detroit Institute of Arts. This major event was organized by The Detroit Institute of Arts and is sponsored by the museum's Founders Society.

Alongside paintings by such well known masters of the 17th century as Caravaggio, Poussin, Claude, Bernini, Maratti, Barocci, the Carracci, Reni, Guercino, Ribera, Rosa and Strozzi, a host of less-known artists will be represented: Manfredi, the Gentileschi, Vouet, Sassoferrato, Cortona, Romanelli, Algardi, Bacciocci, Caffa, Domenichino, Schiavone, Lanfranco, Crespi, Cretti, Franceschini, Allori, Cecco Bravo, Morazzone, Procaccini, Stanzone, Preti, Cavallino, Giordano, Solimena, Castiglione, Magnasco, Fetti, Lys, Langetti. All of the chief Italian "schools" — Rome, Bologna, Florence, Milan, Urbino, Siena, Naples, Venice, Genoa — are included.

Frederick J. Cummings, curator of European Art of The Detroit Institute of Arts, organized the exhibition. Commenting on the significance of "Art in Italy, 1600-1700," Cummings said, "As national interest is revived on the collecting of works of art, the Italian baroque has come more and more into focus as a field for courageous collectors and adventurous art historians. Imaginative purchases in the museum field and on the part of private collectors, has made this style an active part of our everyday cultural life."

Works from 35 American and Canadian art museums and public collections and 18 American private collections are included, showing the amazing quality and breadth of holdings pertaining to this side of the Atlantic. In addition, a dozen paintings from the Denis Mahon Collection in London, England, make this "Art in Italy" exhibition even more substantial.

Well-known items will include Caravaggio's "St. John Baptist" (Nelson-Atkins Museum, Kansas City, Mo.), Annibale Carracci's "Coronation of the Virgin" and Ludovico Carracci's "Agony in the Garden" (both from the Mahon Collection). Caravaggio's "St. Francis in Ecstasy" (Wadsworth Atheneum, Hartford, Conn.), Reni's "Salome" (Chicago Art Institute), "David and Abigail" (Walter P. Chrysler Collection), Domenichino's "Landscape with a Fortified Castle" (Mahon), Pietro da Cortona's "Hagar and Ishmael" (Ringing Museum, Sarasota, Fla.), six pictures by Salvator Rosa, Poussin's "Selene and Endymion" (The Detroit Institute of Arts), Claude Lorrain's "Flight into Egypt" (The Cleveland Museum of Art), and the "Feast of Herod" by Mattia Preti (Toledo Museum of Art).

On a Sunday morning in a church on Lake Shore, the organist plays the opening bars of a hymn, "Praise to the Lord." The congregation joins in singing and the organist plays the melody a little louder, for he knows that the congregation "needs a little help." Some of the parishioners are a bit apprehensive about the whole idea and most are unsure of themselves, for the singing of hymns is still an innovation in their service.

The Church is St. Paul's and in its 130-year existence, the music-making has until recently been left to the organist and choir. As in Roman Catholic churches the world over, the congregation at St. Paul's had never united in song.

One man at St. Paul's who is very much affected by the introduction of hymn-singing, which has been a part of the service since the first of December, is Edward J. Person, organist and choir director at the Cathedral.

Mr. Person is very enthusiastic about this addition and about other changes which have occurred recently, such as the introduction of English into parts of the traditionally Latin Mass. These new procedures have come as a result of the Ecumenical Council in Rome.

Like Innovations
A devout member of his Church, Mr. Person applauds both the spirit behind these innovations and their effect—the bringing of members of the congregation, as individuals, wholeheartedly into the worship service; making sure that everyone is part of the proceedings.

Mr. Person seems to enjoy every facet of his work at St. Paul's. He came to Grosse Pointe in 1960, from Nativity Church in Detroit, and has been, since that time, responsible for the total musical program at St. Paul's Church.

He provides organ music for the three masses which are held daily and the six on Sunday, (the hymn-singing has provided additional work for him here), and does the singing (chanting) for all services, except at times on Sunday when he is relieved by his daughter Rosalie, 23.

Mr. Person also provides music for approximately 60 weddings a year. Mendelssohn's Wedding March is not part of a St. Paul's service and Mr. Person has a number of French marches which he plays for weddings. Many graduates of the Convent of the Sacred Heart request that their school hymn fields made recommendations concerning specific items to be included in the exhibition, and prepared the 100 biographies of artists and the 214 catalogue entries. This Consulting Committee consisted of Frederick Cummings, Chairman; Donald Posner, Institute of Fine Arts of New York University; Robert Manning, director of the Finch College Museum of Art, New York, and his wife, Bertina Suida Manning; Dwight C. Miller of the Department of Art History, Stanford University; Robert Engass of the Department of Art History, Pennsylvania State University; Alfred Moir, chairman of the Department of Art History, University of California.

The catalog for "Art in Italy, 1600-1700" is published under the editorship of Frederick Cummings. It is a definite volume on this period and is one of the few works in the English language offering a general overview of Italian baroque art. The world-renowned authority, Rudolf Wittkower of Columbia University, has written the introductory essay, a classical summary of the period. A 200-page hardbound volume, the catalogue contains three color plates and reproduces most of the 214 works of art in the exhibition, making it a visual survey of this vital period. It may be obtained from the Museum Shop of The Detroit Institute of Arts.

A number of special events are planned in conjunction with this major exhibition. Members of the museum's Education Department will conduct special exhibition tours on Wednesdays and Fridays at 12:45 p.m. and Sundays at 2 p.m. A Wednesday evening lecture series on "Masters of the Italian Baroque" will bring distinguished scholars to Detroit as speakers. The series will be presented in the lecture hall at 8 p.m. March 31, April 7, 21, 28 and May 5, co-sponsored by The Detroit Institute of Arts and the University Center for Adult Education. Individual admissions ($2.50) are available at the door and each lecture will be preceded by a Easter. He has always enjoyed compiling a pre-Mass program of Christmas carols on Christmas Eve. This program became a part of the tradition at St. Paul's even before the musical innovation during the service.

Following a musical-religious career seems to have come naturally to Mr. Person. From the time he was a school boy in Easton, Pa., a small town north of Philadelphia, he possessed a reverence for his Church, a love of music, and a way with young children, unusual for a boy.

These characteristics manifested themselves in his activities as Altar Boy and piano student, and in his relationships with his brothers and sisters in a family of five children.

When, in high school, he began playing the organ for children's Masses, Ed Person began to realize that these interests could be channeled into a single, purposeful activity that could become the focal point of a lifetime.

After high school graduation, he worked on a bakery truck for a time and played popular piano music while continuing his organ studies. Then he entered Pius X, one of the world's foremost institutions for religious music, connected with Manhattanville College, in New York City. He studied there for two years.

Transplanted Easterner
Mr. Person is one "transplanted Easterner" who is "at home" now in the Midwest. His wife, who is from a neighboring town across the New Jersey-Pennsylvania border, agrees wholeheartedly. They both think of the East as "a nice place to visit," find the atmosphere here "fresher, less crowded, filled with vitality."

There are six young Persons ranging from Rosalie, 23, to Eugene, Mary Anne, Neil, Gary, and Martha, five.

Grosse Pointers possess a greater interest and knowledge of music than people of many other places, feels Mr. Person, which may be one reason why he felt content here, from the beginning.

He points out that most local children take at least one year of piano lessons, strictly as a part of their education. He himself enjoys teaching about 20 piano students in his "free time" and he feels that he is helping them all to achieve a greater potential for enjoying music.

Mr. Person would like to help some of his youngsters on their way to a musical career, for he feels that it is a way to inspire pleasure, a feeling of reverence, a love of beauty, and a state of well-being to others and to oneself.

special tour of "Art in Italy" at 7:15 p.m. Baroque music will be programmed in the Founders Society Concert on April 14, featuring Aldo Parisot, cellist, and Joann Freeman, pianist. The museum's Films on Art series will offer "The Age of Baroque" on April 20 at 8 p.m.

General admission for "Art in Italy, 1600-1700" is $1.00; college students, 50¢; young people (under 18), 25¢. Special rates and tours are available for students and adult groups of 20 or more persons. Advance arrangements for such groups must be made through the Museum's Education Department, 831-0380.

Founders Society members are admitted to the exhibition without charge at all times, upon showing their membership cards.

The Detroit Institute of Arts is open to the public from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Tuesday through Friday. Saturday and Sunday hours are 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. The Museum is closed on Mondays and holidays.

Nature Lectures Gain Popularity

William F. Hopkins, chief naturalist for the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, has announced that over 86,800 school-age youngsters in southeastern Michigan heard nature lectures conducted by Authority naturalists from November 1, 1964 through March 31, 1965.

Naturalists Don Hollums, Lee Curtis and Richard Mortmore visited 204 schools, gave 465 lectures and talked to over 86,800 students and teachers throughout the counties Livingston, Macomb, Oakland, Washtenaw and Wayne during the six month period from November through March of this year.

Comparative figures for these "free" lectures for similar periods are: over 86,800 persons in 1964-65; 78,100 in 1963-64; 66,100 in 1962-63; 42,000 in 1961-62; 39,000 in 1960-61 and 17,000 in 1959-60.

Lectures given in 1961-62 totaled 280 and then increased to 405 in 1962-63 and hit a record of 479 lectures in 1963-64. During 1964-65 total lectures dropped slightly to 465, but the overall number of persons participating increased due to continued larger audiences.

School groups may now hear lectures at the Nature Centers at Kensington Metropolitan Park near Milford or Stony Creek Metropolitan Park northeast of Rochester. These are available mornings Tuesday through Friday and advance appointments for this service may be obtained by contacting the Detroit office of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, Woodward 1-5885.

April is an ideal time to take a self-guided hike along the labeled nature trails at Kensington Metropolitan Park near Milford, Stony Creek Metropolitan Park near Rochester or Lower Huron Metropolitan Park near Belleville.

Spring is here — and everything is coming up "Fair Lady" — with a new look of prettiness and femininity dominating the fashion picture.

In accepting his Oscar, Rex Harrison paid tribute to both of his Fair Ladies, Julie Andrews and Audrey Hepburn. Now there is a man that apparently has everything—a lovely wife, a Rolls Royce, and a "get away from it all" home near Portofino.

Did you happen to notice the short, softly curled hairdos of Julie and Audrey? Granted not everyone can be that attractive but any hair fashion trend can be adapted to look well on women of all ages — from any walk of life. It needs deft hands to cut and shape the hair to give the coiffure holding power and bounce—personalized beauty care to make it right for you.
