HEADLINES

of the

WEEK

As Compiled by the Grosse Pointe News

Thursday, October 14
MICHIGAN SENATORS Wednesday approved doubling the surcharge uninsured motorists will have to pay when buying '66 auto licenses. If the House okays Senator Robert Vanderlaan's (R., Grand Rapids) motion, drivers lacking liability and property damage insurance will contribute $50 each to the motor vehicle accident claims fund. The fund is part of a program to solve the problem of the uninsured driver, set up last summer and soon to take effect.

Friday, October 15
Internal Revenue agents arrested four Detroit men at the Detroit Race Course Thursday, charging them with trafficking in Twin Double tickets. An IRS spokesman said the four are charged with "10 percenting" Twin Double tickets to avoid payment of Federal income tax. Under the system, the men offer to cash the tickets of winners for a share of the winnings, usually 10 percent. They protect winners from a Federal income tax on the cash take by listing a false name on the IRS tax record forms, filled out at the track on winnings over $600.

Saturday, October 16
DEMONSTRATORS in cities from Maine to Hawaii this week-end protested U.S. participation in the Vietnam war, and clashed with supporters of American involvement. The National Student Co-ordinating Committee stated that demonstrations, many of them aimed at military installations, were being staged in more than 100 cities Friday, Saturday and Sunday. The largest rally was in Berkeley, California, where police and a host of the crowd turned back 3,500 to 4,000 marchers from a planned all-night vigil at Oakland Army base. Demonstrations were also staged at the University of Chicago, University of Michigan, Wayne State University, Rutgers University in New Brunswick, N.J. and at a draft induction center in lower Manhattan.

Sunday, October 17
THE BRITISH NEWSPAPER Guardian revealed Sunday that the "fantastic" secret weapon Nikita Khrushchev rattled at the West in 1960 was a nuclear propelled rocket that blew up on the launching pad, killing the Soviet commander of missile forces and 300 others. The Guardian said it quoted from secret reports of Oleg Penkovsky, a Russian sentenced to death by a Soviet court in 1963 for spying for the West. His reports are soon to be published as "The Penkovsky Papers" in Britain and the U. S.

Monday, October 18
FIVE U. S. NAVY jets used eight tons of bombs Sunday to demolish a North Vietnam surface-to-air missile unit, a U. S. spokesman reported. The attack 52 miles northeast of Hanoi followed the downing Saturday of two U. S. Air Force jets during a raid on military barracks in the North. That loss brought to 11 the number of U. S. aircraft lost in North Vietnam since the launching of air attacks Feb. 7. All five planes on the bombing mission returned safely to the U. S. 7th Fleet carrier Independence.

Tuesday, October 19
FOUR ARMED Jackson Prison inmates Monday invaded the prison medical center, seized narcotics, and held a doctor and three guards hostage for several hours before releasing them unharmed. The convicts, all from Detroit, surrendered and were taken to solitary confinement cells. Hostages were Dr. W. R. Latchaw, 62, a staff physician; Prison Inspector Joseph H. Dembosky, 58, and guards Ronald Thompson and George Hutchins.

DAVID J. MILLER, 22, a college graduate from Syracuse, N.Y., was arrested Monday by Federal Bureau of Investigation agents, the first person charged under the new Federal law banning draft card destruction. Miller, a pacifist, says the draft is immoral. The FBI identified Miller as the man who burned what he called his draft card Friday before demonstrators near the armed forces induction center in lower Manhattan.

Municipal Justices Don New Robes

The Justices of the Peace of the City of Grosse Pointe are expected to be elevated to the rank of Municipal Judges when voters go to the polls on November 2 to ballot on a proposed amendment to the city charter, designating this change of title. In anticipation, the city council decided robes would add to

Halloween Parties Set For Oct. 30

Four School Buildings To Be Scene of Annual Celebrations Of All Pointe Young

Plans are under way for four very gay Halloween parties to be given for Grosse Pointe students the evening of Saturday, October 30. Dancing, movies, entertainment and refreshments will be featured at each site: Grosse Pointe High School, Pierce, Brownell and Parcels Jr. Highs. The parties will begin at 7:30 p.m. and conclude at 11 at the High School. Tickets costing 25 cents are now on sale and are being handled at the High School by Donald Campbell, and at the Jr. Highs by Dr. Vincent Peterson. Tickets sold at the door will cost 50 cents.

Arthur Dannecker, the Treasurer of the Community Halloween Party, is soliciting donations from interested citizens and merchants to help finance the parties. The "goblins" who attend the parties will have plenty to gobble, according to Mrs. John Fralick, general food chairman. She is assisted by Mrs. Robert Wiegand at Grosse Pointe High, Mrs. George Cartmill and Mrs. Ervin Steiner at Brownell, Mrs. Albert McKay and Mrs. Donald Prittie at Pierce and Mrs. Owen Murray and Mrs. Robert Kuhr at Parcels. Mrs. Fred Thompson is in charge of volunteer workers at the High School. The supervisors of the parties will be Edward Bunn and Henry Kinzie at the High School, Craig Marks at Brownell.

Woman's Screams, Horn Scare Off Would-Be Thief

A Woods woman thwarted a man's attempt to rob her as she parked her car in the garage on her property, by screaming and blowing the car horn, according to a report made to Woods police on Tuesday, October 12. Evangelene Moses, 46, of 1944 Prestwick, told police that she had pulled into the side drive of her home, at about 12:40 a.m., preparatory to putting the car in the garage. She was deterred because of a bicycle in the driveway, she said. The woman said she stopped the car, got out, removed the bike from her path, and drove the car into the garage. She told police that she looked into the rear view mirror of the vehicle, and saw a male figure approaching her auto-

Liggett School Dedication Scheduled for This Sunday On New $2,000,000 Campus

Parents, Alumnae, Civic and Educational Leaders to Hear Rev. John R. Roach of St. Paul, Minn., Make Principal Address

The Liggett School, Michigan's oldest independent school, will dedicate its new $2,000,000 plus campus in Grosse Pointe Woods this Sunday, October 24, at 4 p.m. Parents, alumnae, friends, and civic and educational officials will assemble at the new school, 850 Briarcliff Drive, to dedicate the 10-acre campus and building complex which was made possible by nearly 1200 private donations subscribed over the last four years.

Guest speaker will be the Reverend John R. Roach, headmaster of St. Thomas Academy, St. Paul, Minn. Reverend Roach

New Canvasser Named in City

At its regular meeting held on Monday, October 18, the City council approved a successor to a Board of Canvassers member, who resigned when she filed as a candidate for the office of councilman.

Appointed to the Grosse Pointe City Board of Canvassers was Mrs. Norma Mathews of 18817 Cranford lane, an active member of the Grosse Pointe Democratic Party.

She succeeds Suzanne Lane Gidday of 710 Neff road, who resigned because of a State Election Law which requires a candidate to quit one municipal office, if he or she is seeking election to another municipal office.

Under a State Law, every municipality must have a Board of Canvassers, with representatives from the two major parties in the State. Members of the Boards must be two Republicans and two Democrats.

will discuss the contribution of the liberal arts to our society and the role of the liberally educated woman.

He is a past-chairman of the Minnesota Committee on Accreditation of Independent Schools, and is currently a member of the Advisory Panel to the Department of Defense for R.O.T.C. Affairs.

In Fourth Move With the dedication ceremony, the Liggett School will formally transfer its corporate existence and traditions for the fourth time in its long history. Others taking part in the program will include J. Joseph Jennings, Jr., president of the Board of Trustees; Frank J. Sladen, Jr., Headmaster; The Reverend Bertram de Heus Atwood, Pastor of the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church; and Dr. Richard C. Hertz, Rabbi, Temple Beth El.

The school was founded in 1878 by the Reverend James D. Liggett. It was located at Cass avenue and Stinson place in downtown Detroit. Under the leadership of Miss Ella M. Liggett, it flourished as the Detroit Home and Day School. A branch known as the Eastern Liggett School was opened on Burns avenue in 1913 to provide education for the growing patronage of the Indian Village area. In 1923 an addition was built and the older school moved over to the east side.

Many New Facilities The Liggett School occupied this campus under the guidance of Miss Jeanette M. Liggett, headmistress from 1922 to 1929, and Miss Katherine Ogden, headmistress from 1929 to 1964.

Facilities in the new school of Georgian design include the central building of classrooms and offices, the Eleanor Clay and Edsel Bryant Ford Gymnasium, the Kresge Auditorium-Chapel, and the Josephine Clay Kanzler Memorial headmaster's residence. The latter is a faithful architectural reproduction of the George Wythe House in Williamsburg, Virginia. The choice of Georgian style was the result of a nation-wide survey of Liggett alumnae.

Classes began in the new facilities in April of 1965.

VANDALISM REPORTED

Farms police took a report from Joseph Sheban of 599 Ballyntyne on Thursday, October 14, in which he complained that an unknown person shot 10 BB pellets through the windshield of his car parked in front of his house.

City Justices Vested With Black Robes

Presented by Mayor David Burgess, Who Also Honors Municipal Retirees

The City council, at its regular meeting held on Monday, October 18, carried out what it called pleasant duties, when it presented the City's two justices of the peace, with black robes, symbol of the judiciary office, and gave retirement awards to three retired employees.

Presentation of the robes to Justices Malcolm J. Sutherland and Douglas L. Paterson, was made on behalf of the council, by Mayor David Burgess.

The mayor said that wearing of the robes by the justices, will bring a sombre attitude and add dignity to the City's court.

Both justices thanked the council for the robes, which they said they will wear as justices, and as municipal judges, if the City's voters approve a charter amendment to create the offices of municipal judges at a general election to be held on November 2.

Will Be Automatic If the voters approve the charter amendment, Sutherland and Paterson will automatically become municipal judges until the expiration of tenure of justices of the peace to which they were elected. After their terms expire, they must seek election as municipal judges, if they wish to remain in office.

In the audience watching her husband receiving his robe, was Mrs. Paterson, who is president of the association of Grosse Pointe Lawyers Wives.

In another pleasant task, Mayor Burgess presented gold, engraved wrist watches from a grateful community, to three retired employees. They were:

Those Honored Vernus Weot, park superintendent, who retired on March 31; Theodore A. Vernier, superintendent of Public Works, who retired on April 30; and Andrew

Woman Injured In Fall in City

Magdelene Henk, 74, of 1235 Grayton road, suffered facial injuries Friday morning, October 15 when she tripped and fell at the entrance to the alley behind Kresge's, 17101 Kercheval.

Mrs. Henk had just crossed St. Clair when the accident occurred, and tripped at the apron near the alley entrance. Police took Mrs. Henk to Bon Secours Hospital, where she was treated and released.

Roland Gray Fund Gets Under Way; Donations Sought

Committee Takes Steps to Incorporate; Tax Deductible Contributions to Honor Popular Figure Being Received

Establishment of the Roland Gray Youth Fund got well under way with the first meeting of the committee last Thursday night, October 14, in the home of Frank Boyer at 222 Cloverly road.

Attending the first session in addition to Mr. Boyer, were Henry Bodman, II, Ed Snell, Shepherd Norton, H. Gordon Wood and Cleveland Thurber, Jr. Other members of the committee include: Roland H. Gray, Jr., Lem W. Bowen, Jerry Gerich, principal of Grosse Pointe High School; Edwin Cowan and David M. Whitney, Jr. Two additional members are expected to be added to the committee in the immediate future, following which officers will be elected.

Pick Official Name

Those present decided on the official name of the organization formed to honor the popular Pointer whose sudden death on October 8 shocked the community. Mr. Wood, an attorney, was designated to take immediate action to incorporate the Roland Gray Youth Fund under the Michigan Foundation Act, as a non-profit organization.

As soon as the corporation papers are received, application will be made to the Internal Revenue Department to have all donations to the fund declared tax-deductible. Both of these steps are expected to be accomplished within the next four to six weeks.

The Trust Department of the Detroit Bank and Trust Company was selected to act as the agent for the fund. A number of contributions have already been received and these are being turned over to the agent, to be held in escrow until the legal steps are finalized.

Where to Send Gifts

All those wishing to contribute may send their donations to Frank Boyer, 222 Cloverly Road, Grosse Pointe Farms, Mich., 48236. Checks should be made payable to the Roland Gray Youth Fund.

The fund will be used to give assistance to worthy individuals and to help support the many movements with which Mr. Gray was associated and which he personally assisted. These could include Little League Baseball and Football, Babe Ruth League, Hockey League, Church Basketball League, tennis clinics, badminton leagues, fishing rodeos, etc.

Depending on the size of the fund, scholarships could be provided for worthy students through high school age, from the Pointe area, from public, private or parochial schools, or specific help could be given worthy students in smaller amounts to take care of emergency expenses.

The committee hopes many will contribute generously to the fund to honor the memory of the beloved figure who did so much for so many during his life in the Pointe.

Woman Mute on Charge Of Tapping Doctor's Till

Mrs. Gladys H. Laurie, 50, of 30267 Bluehill drive, Roseville, was arraigned before Woods Municipal Judge Don Goodrow on Saturday, October 16, on a warrant charging her with embezzlement. She is accused of taking more than $2,400 from her employer.

Mrs. Laurie, represented by her attorney, Irving D. Robinson, waived examination and stood mute. Judge Goodrow entered a plea of innocent for her, and bound her over to Wayne County Circuit Court, and released her on $1,000 bond pending a trial date.

Det. Sgt. Jack Mast, who worked on the case, and who obtained approval of the warrant from Assistant Prosecutor Steven G. Daniels, said Mrs. Gladys is accused of embezzling $2,475 from her doctor-em-

G.P. Woods Will Double Parking Rate

Motorists to Pay Twice as Much in Metered Spaces After First of Year

Beginning January 1, 1966, motorists will pay twice the present rate to park at metered spaces in the Woods.

Proposals adopted by the Woods City Council at its regular meeting Monday night, October 18, set on-street meter rates at: 1 for up to six minutes; 5 for up to 30 minutes; 10c for up to one hour, and 20c for up to two hours. Charges in off-street lots will be 5c for half an hour, 10c for an hour, and 25c for up to eight hours.

City Administrator Chester E. Petersen explained that the increase is intended to bring parking charges into line with rates in surrounding communities. Present rates, he said, have been in effect since 1954.

To Build More Lots

"Any extra income from the meters, which is not needed to maintain present parking facilities, will be used to develop more on and off-street parking," Mr. Petersen said. Council members who voted for the rate hike felt that extra spaces and lots are necessary to provide for businesses along Mack and to keep parked cars away from in front of homes. Meter funds will enable the City to continue creating more parking spaces by widening side streets between Mack and the alley behind stores facing on Mack.

Adopt Uniform Ticket

In other action, the Council adopted the "Uniform Traffic Ticket," prepared for the use of municipalities in Michigan by the State Traffic Commission and recommended by the American Bar Association. Also okayed for use was the schedule of deposits for traffic violations approved by the Michigan Justices of the Peace Association. The schedule lists fines which may be forfeited by motorists charged with traffic violations in lieu of court appearance.

Petersen explained that the new ticket and schedule are both intended for use with the Michigan Uniform Traffic Code, which the City has adopted. "This is really just putting into ordinance form all of the things we have been practicing over the past several years," Mr. Petersen explained. However, the new schedule does, he said, alter charges made for some violations.

Councilmen Hear Report On Disease

Expert Believes Proper Control Program Can Save Majority Of Beautiful Trees

The City council authorized the planting of a total of 29 trees of varied species at different locations in a program to replace elms that were lost to the Dutch Elm Disease. The council took this action at its regular meeting on Monday, October 18.

City Manager John Cantwell told the council that the total cost of the program will be $2,280, with the trees to be planted as soon as they are obtained. All trees will be in the ground by the second week in November.

Acting on the city manager's recommendation, the council approved a transfer of $1,680 from the Unencumbered Surplus to the 1965-66 budget appropriation for tree replacement, to augment the $600 already in the budget for the program.

43 Public Trees Lost

Larry Shock, president of Shock Brothers, a landscaping and tree firm hired by the City, informed the council that of the 43 sites where trees had been removed, 21 will not require replacement for the present.

He recommended 22 trees be replaced where elms had been removed, and seven trees be planted at new home sites in Stratford place.

The trees to be planted at the various sites, are Locust, Red Oak, Norway Maple, Sugar Maple, Crimson King and Linden.

Shock told the council, after being questioned, that for the control of Dutch Elm Disease in 1966, that he recommends only a dormant spray of elms with DDT, which, as of now, is the only control recommended.

He said that he would not recommend a foliage, or second spray, in July of 1966, but if a similar situation exists by the first week of July next year, as did in July of this year, then it would be wise to apply a second spray.

Leaves Deter Spray

There is some difficulty in the application of a foliage spray, Shock said, in that the elm leaves deter the spray application. He verbally illustrated this point by informing the council that the fallen leaves of a good size elm would cover approximately eight-tenths of an acre of ground.

However, he said, the application of the second spray can be done if it is necessary.

Shock told the council that the City has a very fine program in the controlling of the elm blight, which accounts for the less than one percent of loss of the total number of elms in the community. The less than one percent, he said, is excellent by set standards and shows that there is effective control.

He pointed out that of the 22 public elms lost this year, three were because of transmission of the disease through the roots, which until this spring, was impossible to control. Three other elms were treated last year for fungus that entered through the trunks, but this year the disease spread, and the trees had to be removed. All six trees were close to diseased trees last year.

Use New Chemical

Shock said that, whereas previously it was impossible to control transmission of the disease through the roots, a new chemical known as VaPam, was used this spring and appears to be a very effective control agent. The chemical, approved by the National Midwestern Shade Tree Association at a conference held in Chicago last February, is applied on the ground around the roots of the tree.

He said that one diseased elm tree contains uncounted millions of beetles. The beetles, he said, are about one-third as big as the well-known Lady Bug.

The president of the firm said that the Pointes as a whole, are honest in numbering their losses each year, and that the Citizens know that they have a right on their hands and know that they must do something about the blight.

He said that the Park City Farms and Shores have very good control programs and the Woods which surround the farm, which are under the control of the city, have a fine control program of its own.

Country-Wide Battle
Shook said that the fight to save the beautiful shade elms is going on all over the country, with some areas suffering heavier losses than others.

To show how the disease has ravaged the shade trees, Shook told of Rockford, Ill., which at one time had 66,000 elms, and was known as the "City of Elms." Today he added there is not a single elm to be found in that community.

He estimated that there are 38,000 elms in the Pointe at the present time and with the cooperation of officials and the citizens, a more effective control program can be devised and a majority of the trees saved.

Scares Thief

The neighborhood at that hour of the night, he was taken to the station for further questioning.

The suspect was released when the woman could not identify him. She said she could not identify the person who had frightened her because it was too dark to see his face.

Thief Ransacks Park Residence

A burglar broke into the home of the Fred A. Meiners, 734 Middlesex, while the family was out of town for the week-end of October 15-17, and stole a small amount of money.

According to information released by Park Police Chief Arthur Lowers, the burglar entered the home by breaking the glass of a door at the southeast corner of the building.

The search was thorough, but nothing else seemed to be ransacked, and the thief found have been taken police were 13 silver dollars and about $20 in cash.

ledger, and called his attention to the matter.

The doctor ordered the book audited and the discrepancies appeared. The doctor went to the Woods Department of Public Safety and signed a complaint against Mrs. Laurie who was then called and requested to come to the Woods station.

Mrs. Laurie said that when she presented herself at the station, she was informed of the charge against her, and was also informed of all her rights, including that she did not have to make any statement without advice of an attorney.

Mrs. Laurie said that the woman obtained to call anyone and freely admitted she embezzled money from her employer.

In a statement she made in the Woods station in the presence of the sergeant and Evelyn Hinkley, records clerk, Mrs. Laurie stated she started working for the doctor last April.

She started to embezzle checks with his signature and appropriated the money for my own use soon after this. Mrs. Laurie's statement read: "I had every intention of repaying my employer back, but being out of work through illness for a year and a half previous to this employment, and being on welfare, my creditors started pressing me for money and calling me at the doctor's office. I then began embezzling the checks, hoping to keep my creditors away."

Mrs. Laurie said that the checks embezzled by Mrs. Laurie were sent to the Detroit Police Scientific Laboratory, where experts proved that the embezzlements were in the woman's handwriting. The checks ranged in amounts from $25 to $225, the detective said.

Two letters at the Manufacturers National Bank in Mack avenue attested that Mrs. Laurie cashed the checks at their bank, the sergeant pointed out.

State Leader Enters Fight Between Teacher Groups

The appearance on the local scene of the top official in the Michigan Education Association is the latest event in the continuing struggle which the Grosse Pointe Education Association is waging to become sole bargaining agent for approximately 530 teachers in the Grosse Pointe Public School System.

Dr. E. Dale Kennedy, Executive Secretary of the powerful 68,000 member Michigan Education Association will deliver a major address at next Tuesday's meeting of the local professional teachers' group scheduled for 3:45 p.m. at Monteth School, 1275 Cook Road.

"We expect that Dr. Kennedy's presence will clarify many issues and strengthen our present campaign," Dr. William P. Sosnowsky, president of the Grosse Pointe Education Association, said. "He will review the current situation in teacher-board of education negotiations throughout Michigan and he will relate the nationwide teacher movement to the position of the Grosse Pointe Education Association," Dr. Sosnowsky continued.

With the passage of Public Acts 379 and 282 by the Michigan State Legislature on July 23 of this year, public employees were given the right to organize for purposes of collective negotiations with their employers. Beginning on September 7, the first day of the 1965-1966 school year, the Grosse Pointe Education Association sought authorization from public school professional staff members to conduct an election.

Nearly 400 teachers signed authorizations granting the Grosse Pointe Education Association the right to be sole bargaining representative with the Grosse Pointe Board of Education. On October 8 the Grosse Pointe Education Association negotiated with the Grosse Pointe Federation of Teachers for an election date.

After much resistance to an early election, the Grosse Pointe Federation of Teachers, AFL-CIO, Local 819, finally agreed to the November 18 date.

"The issues are clear now, and have been from the beginning," Dr. Sosnowsky said.

Have Own Correspondent In Indian-Pakistani War

The Carl Joyner family of Hampton road has a personal correspondent in the war between India and Pakistan. Their daughter, Karen, lives in Karachi with her Pakistani husband, Faruk Ausaf, and their two young sons, and has seen the fighting first-hand.

Of course, the writer admits to being less than impartial in her dispatches. "I'm quite a bit prejudiced in favor of Pakistan." Nevertheless, a letter from her dated September 14 gave the family this daughter's eye view of events:

"Pakistan has pushed back all attempts at attack and has gone into India instead. India performed a major blunder by going into Pakistani territory... for East and West Pakistan are both... vying for importance, but the minute India attacked East Pakistan, the two completely attained nationality and both will fight for the other."

Civilians died in surprise Indian air attacks on Peshawar and Lahore, Karen wrote. In her own city, Karachi, "there is a blackout every night which is observed faithfully and there have been raids on the airbase here, but since the Pakistanis are alerted to possible air attacks, the Indians can't get near enough to do any damage." Furthermore, she states, "as soon as anti-aircraft guns go into action, the Indians turn around and go home." Answering a telegram the Joyners sent when they heard about the attacks on their daughter's home city, Karen assured her parents that she and her family were in no danger. "We are very well protected and the Indians are cowards..."

Mrs. Ausaf's father-in-law is Assistant to Pakistan's Secretary of the Navy, which gives special weight to her account of war losses. "India has lost nearly 100 planes," she says, "Pakistan only 6. These are true figures not propaganda." She lists 7,000 Indian soldiers dead and 387 tanks destroyed, as well as one-third of the Indian Air Force.

In fact, Mrs. Ausaf believed that Indian losses would soon force that nation to abandon the war. "I think they will have to surrender and submit to a plebiscite (which was agreed upon by the UN some time ago) very soon, for they can't feed their people in peace time, much less in war. They have rationed food, whereas here, the only thing rationed is gas, which is normal. Cigarettes, wheat, etc., are supplied by contributions from various companies to the soldiers and no prices have been raised nor have any supplies dropped. Everything is as available as before."

These donations to the war effort are only one evidence of the patriotism Karen described in the people around her. "The stability and unity in which this country has responded is something to see. The fervor of patriotism is no less than ours when we fought the revolutionary war. The people are volunteering their services like mad and industries are volunteering any help the government can use. A defense fund has started and everyone is contributing." She cited examples of executives who are taking 5 and 10 percent cuts in their salary to be donated to the fund, and described blood banks that have to turn away people because they have no room. "One surprising thing is that crime is absolutely nil. Apparently even thieves and murderers are supporting the cause."

Offer Lectures On Investments

"Selection of Securities" will be the title of the third lecture in the "Securities and Investing" series being given on successive Monday nights in Fries Auditorium under the joint sponsorship of the Investment Bankers Association and the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association. The lectures are open to the public and are free of charge.

On Monday evening October 25 at 8 p.m., Roy C. Belknap will speak. He has a background of many years in brokerage firms following graduation from Notre Dame and a stint with the Navy. He will concern himself with the four major investment goals — 1. Income, 2. safety of principle, 3. growth, 4. trading profits.

The final lecture in the series will be given on Monday evening, November 1, at 8 o'clock. Blasted hopes are the end result of many exploded theories.

The DRC Story

SADDLING 3,000 WINNERS
IS A HAPPY FAMILY AFFAIR

The Record Makers.
They lend the touch of distinction to Sports. They provide excitement and added interest for both participants and spectators.

Whenever baseball fans assemble, they inevitably discuss Babe Ruth's home run achievements, which found him leading the American League 12 times within a 14 season span. Or the fiery Ty Cobb's nine successive batting championships; or the pitching feats of Cy Young, who scored an amazing 511 victories during his career.

In Golf, it will be Bobby Jones' fantastic Grand Slam of 1930; in Tennis, Big Bill Tilden's incomparable string of championships at Forest Hills and Wimbledon; in Boxing, Rocky Marciano's unbroken string of 49 heavyweight conquests; in Football, Oklahoma's 47 straight collegiate victories.

We have a Record-Maker and a Record-Breaker at the Detroit Race Course, too. His career extends over a span longer than that enjoyed by top stars in other fields. Consistency is the keynote to his amazing achievements.

Marion H. Van Berg is a 70-year-old thoroughbred owner. He was a solid part of Michigan racing before 1 came on the scene in 1949. I am proud that in the intervening 17 seasons he always has raced with us. During that period, he has been the leading owner at the DRC 10 seasons and the runner-up five other years.

"Mr. Van" again is the top DRC owner. Each time he enters the Winner's Circle he moves nearer a goal never reached in racing's long history. He now has 2,920 victories and before year's end... or most certainly, early in 1966... will have his 3,000th winner.

Three Thousand Winners...

Every year since 1948, "Mr. Van" has ranked nationally among the top three owners in total victories. Eight times he has led the list, the last five consecutively.

This year, "Mr. Van" is the national leader both in the number of victories and in money won. Leadership in the latter division usually goes to one of the blue-chip stables, whose rosters are dotted with top stakes performers.

For a racing operation like Van Berg's there is strength in numbers. A year ago, for example, 167 horses raced in his colors. He may top that this season. When the DRC season opened, he had 65 horses in his string here. There were other divisions racing in Chicago and Omaha.

The Van Berg operation is largely a Family Affair. His son, Jack, currently is training the horses at the DRC. Earlier in the season, son-in-law Bob Irwin was in charge. Irwin now is handling the division in Chicago.

Being a champion, or a leader, in any sport takes great ability and dedication. "Mr. Van" possesses both. He is at the track regularly every morning to supervise the training operation. Each afternoon he is in the paddock when his horses are saddled.

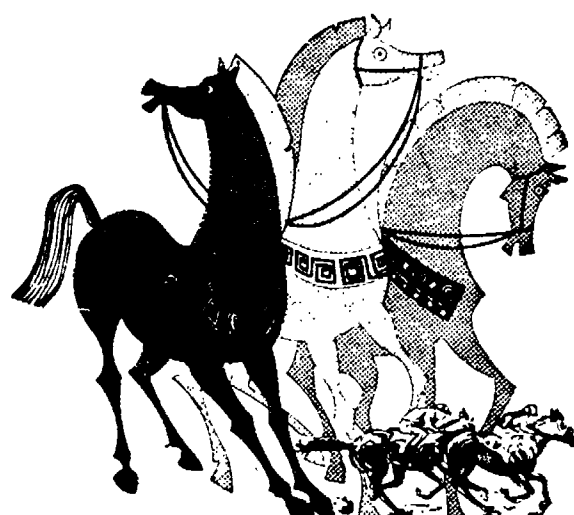

Two other stables racing with us, those of Detroit's T. A. Grissom and W. Hal Bishop, also rank high on the national leader list.

A record-breaking personality like "Mr. Van" is another of the many reasons you will find a visit to the Detroit Race Course interesting and pleasure-filled.

We have top racing and fine facilities for your enjoyment. There are excellent dining terrace restaurants, "The Winner's Circle" and "The Mile Terrace," a colorful old-world tavern, "Ye Olde Tired Horse," beef buffets and snack bars.

Our new Clubhouse is one of the Show-places of the Sports World. We race daily until November 6. I invite you to visit us soon.

Dale Shaffer
President

Merchants, Banks Warned About Bad Check Artists

Smith received another ticket for having no operator's license on his person. The car was held at the station pending payment of $20 bond.

With the approaching holidays of Thanksgiving and Christmas, a large volume of sales is expected in the Pointe, which necessitates a warning from the Pointe Police Departments to area merchants to be on the alert when cashing checks.

Bogus check passers are beginning now to flood the Pointe and surrounding areas with phony checks, most of which are cashed by local merchants. A very few of the checks that "bounce" are due to honest mistakes of individuals, who unknowingly overdraw their banking accounts, but make the checks good when notified of their errors.

The warning to be on the alert goes to the businessmen, the targets for the professional phony check passers, who find the merchants easy victims, especially during rush business hours, and more so, during the holiday seasons, when heavy buying occurs.

Banks, too, have been known to be victims of bogus check passers. The banks include several in the Pointe area.

One ruse, employed by a person calling himself Robert C. Bender, is to open a savings account with an initial cash deposit of $10, after filling out the necessary account card.

The following day, "Bender" would go to the same bank with a check in the amount of $180. He would make sure to approach the same teller who helped to open his account on the previous day.

After endorsing the check, the bad check artist would then fill out a deposit slip in the amount of $30 to be added to his account, and request that he be given the $150 balance in cash, after which he leaves the bank and is never seen again.

Why let your registers do only one job when they're built to do two? Those same heat ducts that keep your family warm in winter can also cool you in summer. But the real pleasure of having Gas heating and air conditioning in your home is its economy. Gas heating is actually less than one-fourth the cost of electricity. And the operating cost of Gas air conditioning is much less than any other central system. Savings like that can't be beat.

With this economical fuel comes a cleaner home, too. And Gas air conditioning removes the humidity and pollen as well. (Think about that if you're a hay fever or allergy sufferer.) Gas heat gives you an even floor-to-ceiling temperature in every room of the house.

So what are you waiting for? Call us or your Gas heating and air conditioning contractor for more details. Then start living modern... for less... with Gas.

Movies of Alps To Open Series

"Holiday in the Alps," Eric Pavel's colored film showing this mid-European mountain range from Austrian, Swiss, French and Italian vantage points, will open the Grosse Pointe World Adventure Series on Wednesday, November 3.

This one-a-month color trip to far-off places, popular with teenagers as well as with parents, will, for the fifth season, be housed in the Parcels Auditorium, Mack at Vernier road. Performances will start at 8 p.m.

Besides taking the viewer through familiar mountain passes as spring breaks through the winter thaw, or around familiar mountain resort towns, Pavel's camera thrills by taking the armchair traveler for a flight around the area where the Alps plunge into the sea.

Unlike many other color film series, George Pierrot in Grosse Pointe, encourages group participation and blocks of seats can be reserved for high school students, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, senior citizens, church or other groups.

"Eric Pavel personally ties together a great deal of casual history and economics information as his multi-colored screen takes one to medieval cities, ancient art treasures, or while unfolding life in an Alpine village during four seasons," Pierrot said. "Millions of Americans now can afford the luxury of enjoying at least one trip to Europe in a lifetime but only a few can take the time or have the money to see how a Swiss valley is mysteriously transformed as spring changes to summer, turns colorfully to fall, and then is blanketed with white snow under blue skies."

For ticket information, call the World Adventure Office, Detroit Institute of Arts, TE 2-7676 between 1 and 5 p.m. (except Mondays).

Required maintenance: The following maintenance services are required under the warranty—change engine oil every 3 months or 4,000 miles, whichever comes first; replace oil filter every second oil change; clean carburetor air filter every 6 months and replace it every 2 years; and every 6 months furnish evidence of this required service to a Chrysler Motors Corporation Authorized Dealer and request him to certify receipt of such evidence and your car's mileage. ### Church Historian To Speak Here

The Grosse Pointe Memorial
Church will have Dr. Robert T.
Handy in its second Scholar-Preacher in the series on "The Shape of the Church and the Shape of the Future."

Dr. Handy, one of America's outstanding American Church historians, will preach on "The Influence of the Church on American Life" at both services
Sunday, October 24, at 9:30 and 11:15 o'clock.

In the evening the public is invited also to hear Dr. Handy discuss American History and the relations of the Church to its past and future. A graduate of Brown University and Colgate-Rochester Divinity School, Dr. Handy is an ordained American Baptist Minister.

He received his Ph.D. at the University of Chicago Divinity School and has taught at Frances Shimer College, Garrett Biblical Institute. At present he is director of studies at Union Seminary. His most important book is the two volume history,
"American Christianity."

Other speakers in the series will be Dr. Samuel Miller, Dean of Harvard Divinity School on November 7; Dr. John Conventry Smith, General Secretary of the Commission on Ecumenical Relations, United Presbyterian Church, on November 21; and Dr. Kyle Hasselton, Editor of "The Christian Century" on December 12.

Center Offers Top Ski Films

America's Ambassador of Skiing, John Jay, will celebrate a quarter century of successful ski films with his latest production "Silver Skis," on Sunday, October 31, at 3 and 8 p.m., at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center, sponsored by the Grosse Pointe Ski Club.

Containing classic highlights distilled from 25 years of vintage Kodachrome, Jay's picture literally covers the globe, from hilarious "snow-bunnies" battling gravity in Japan to Stein Eriksen carving fresh tracks in New Zealand.

Audiences will gasp at the "baggy" styles of pre-stretch pants days; they will be fascinated by the training maneuvers of the World War II Ski Troops; they will see a slow motion analysis of Toni Sailer of Austria, only triple Gold Medal winner in Olympic ski history.

The second part of the show is brand new, and features the '65 Vail International ski races, a "Gelandesprung" Championship at Alta, acrobat Art Furrer dancing on skis down Stratton and Jackson Hole, Erickson at Arapahoe, Billings at Aspen, and as a finale a spectacular 100 mile ski trip across the roof of Europe, from the Matterhorn at Zermatt to Mr.
Blanc at Chamonix, using skis, climbing ropes, and ski-planes.
"Silver Skis" is a show the whole family won't want to miss!

Refusal to Pay Bill Is Costly

Walter Walker, 40, of 22900
Maxine, St. Clair Shores, found that not paying for the food he had eaten at the Toddle House, Jefferson and Westchester, was very expensive.

At a hearing in Park Municipal Court, on Wednesday, October 13, presided over by Shores Judge George Beauchamp, in the absence of Judge C. Joseph Belanger, Walker entered a plea of guilty to a charge of defrauding an innkeeper, a misdemeanor under a State Law. Walker had refused to pay a tab of $120. The offense occurred on Monday, October 11 at 1:30 a.m.

Judge Beauchamp assessed Walker $25 in fine and court costs, and ordered him to pay the bill. Walker paid the court penalty and the $120. He could have been sentenced to 90 days in jail, and/or $100 fine, or both, under the law.

Walker's refusal to pay his check at the eatery not only cost him the penalty imposed by the judge, but also the fact that he subjected himself to the humiliation of arrest and being locked up in a jail cell for several hours before his wife bailed him out.

This is not all; because of his arrest and conviction, he now has a record.

In another case, Scott H.
Rawn, 18, of West Virginia, attached to the Coast Guard Base at Belle Isle, was given a suspended sentence after pleading guilty to using profane and obscene language in the presence of females aboard a bus.

Rawn mouthed profanity and foul words when the bus driver refused to let him disembark from the bus in a prohibited zone.
Rawn was arrested on October 9.

He was released to the acting commander of the CG station, and will face a military court for his unmilitary conduct.

This is a special year for us at the National Bank of Detroit. It marks the 20th anniversary of our Instaloan Department—20 years of helping people get the things they need and want.

We've enjoyed every minute of it.

Originally, the department had 11 employees. Today we have more than 250 people in the Instaloan Department in our Main Office alone and nearly as many more in our branch offices. During our first 20 years, the National Bank of Detroit Instaloan Department has become the largest of its kind in the state. As of June 30 we had loaned $2,864,238,759 for 2,061,223 good reasons.

Some of these reasons are shown above.

As we start our 21st year, we look forward to hearing about many more ways we can help people get the things they want. We'd like to hear from you.

League to See Siberian Film

Dr. Edwin Smyd will present his film on "Siberia and Central Asia" before the Grosse Pointe Cinema League at the Fries Auditorium of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association, Oct. 28, at 8 p.m.

The film takes in Siberia from east to west beginning at the Pacific coastal port of Nahodka to Khabarovsk, Irkutsk, Alma Ata, Samarkand, Bukhara. The history of a part of eastern U.S.S.R. is as recent as the 19th century but the history of Central Asia is as ancient as recorded history itself.

Bukhara and Samarkand were thriving caravan stops in the days of the China silk trade and documented history of this part of the world goes back to the time of Alexander the Great. This part affected the culture of European man and through him American life.

Most of us think of Siberia as a place of ice and snow and tundra. While a small part of Siberia is like this, the film reveals that vast stretches of Siberia are much like Canada, particularly Newfoundland. The rural, village and city life of Siberia is shown in the film and all of this is reminiscent of American frontier days.

There are the immense tracts of virgin timber, the unspoiled beauty of field, stream and meadow, log cabins, the early European settlers, and the indigenous Siberian Indian. Candid portraits of the Siberian Indians show them to be spitting images of their distant cousins, the American Indian and Eskimo. Culturally, too, they resemble the American Indian.

Siberia is fast losing its original appearance. The rivers now bear industrial cargo, hydro-electric projects light the cities with electricity, railroads and airlines cut across the wilderness, farm and industry units east and west across Siberia. The all Kodachrome film is supplemented by music authentic to the regions shown. Come early and hear the preliminary remarks which will provide historical and ethnographic perspective.

In the game of life the man to watch the closest is yourself.

Center Ski Clubs Meeting Sunday

Both the Grosse Pointe Ski Hi Club for Teens, and the Grosse Pointe Adult Ski Club sponsored by the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, will have meetings on Sunday afternoon, October 24, to view Ski Films of Aspen, Col., and Europe brought to Grosse Pointe by "Lefty" Brinkman, owner of "The" Lodge at Aspen.

The Ski Hi Club will meet at 2 o'clock. Besides viewing the ski films they will sign up for membership which is open to any Grosse Pointe student in grades 9-12 for $3 for the season. They will hear news about the new ski lodge the Center has leased up north, the spring vacation trip out west, and the weekend trips to local ski areas. They will also enjoy a ski style and equipment display. The Grosse Pointe Adult Ski Club will view Lefty Brinkman's Aspen and European ski films at 4 o'clock, after which they will adjourn to Bayview Yacht Club for cocktails, dinner, and dancing.

Singers Going To Oakland U.

The Grosse Pointe Chamber singers under the guidance of their new director William Gard will give a special performance Friday, October 22, at 8:30 p.m., in the Gold Room at Oakland University.

The program will range from madrigals and songs written in the 14th century by John Dowland, Orlando di Lasso and Thomas Morley through contemporary works by Gustav Holst, Randall Thompson and Wayne University's Ruth Wylie.

Gard is widely known in the area as music director of The Grunyons, a post he has held since the group's formation 16 years ago. In January of this year he became conductor of the Grosse Pointe Chamber Singers, a group formed in 1958 by Dr. Donald Simmons.

Christ Church Plans Program

"Christian Social Relations is the concern of the Christian for his fellowmen and for the whole life of society." Because an interest has been shown in studying Bishop Meyer's expected presentation October 25 to the Eastside Convocation, a CSR discussion program has been planned for four Tuesdays at Christ Church, Grosse Pointe.

These meetings, on October 26 and November 9, 23 and 30, will be open to the entire Eastside Convocation Episcopal Church Women, and will begin at 10:45 following Holy Communion at 10 o'clock. Luncheon reservations for these Tuesdays should be made by Monday noon.

The Reverend Franklin P. Bennett, of Christ Church, will assist in leading the discussions, based on the February, 1965, issue of "Social Action" magazine, which presents three different viewpoints on "Strategy for Community Change." This pamphlet will be available at Christ Church at the time of the meetings.

It is hoped that this program will provide preparation for the Christian Social Relations program scheduled for January and February at Christ Church, when David Niederhauser, Director of the West Central Organization (January 18), Emerit Kurtagh, Executive Director of the Neighborhood

Right thinking is a requisite for the art of right living.

Some fishermen catch nothing more than inside straight.

Service Organization (January 25), and the Reverend Frederick Jansen, Assistant Program Director for the Diocese of Michigan (February 8), will speak.

These three meetings will be open to the public; both convocation members and community members are most cordially invited to attend.

Mrs. Cliff F. Gray, C.S.R. chairman at Christ Church, reports that for further information she may be contacted through the Church office (885-4841), or at home (884-1103).

Devils Score Upset Win Over Royal Oak Dondero

In an outstanding homecoming victory, the Blue Devils of Grosse Pointe High School routed the Acorns of Royal Oak Dondero, 27-14. The Acorns, previously rated number six in the state by the Associated Press, had won their first four games and led the Border Cities League.

The Devils, playing to the unusually large crowd characteristic of homecomings, took command of the ball immediately after receiving the Acorn kickoff. They maintained their control of the ball for 16 of the first 21 plays, at which point Devil halfback Mike Van De Ginstre scored on a four yard dive. The unsuccessful extra point attempt left the score at 6-0.

Throughout the rest of the first half, while Grosse Pointe continued control of the ball, neither team threatened further scoring until the final play of the half, when Devil quarterback Bill Hahn completed a 47 yard pass to the 3. The clock then ran out, with no chance to capitalize upon this advantage.

Queen Is Announced
During the halftime ceremonies the homecoming queen was announced to be Kathy Munkholm and the sophomore and radio club floats as winners in the class and club float contests respectively.

To begin the second half, the Devils kicked off to Royal Oak, who were forced to punt after only four plays. The Devils took the ball on their own 11 and moved 89 yards in 16 plays, culminating in a nine yard score by halfback Rick Gonzalez. The kick was good and the Devils led 13-0.

The Devil domination of the game ended at this point, however, when Andy Balster's kick was taken on the Royal Oak 12 by Acorn halfback Rod Ryder and returned all the way. The extra point was good, making the score 13-7, with 2:15 left in the third quarter.

Scores on Interception
No threats were exercised by either team in the fourth quarter until, with 4:07 left, Devil halfback John Staryk intercepted an Acorn pass and raced to the goal line. The extra point was successful, making the score 20-7.

Again Royal Oak rebounded, and in less than two minutes, scored on a 14 yard touchdown pass. Their extra point also was successful, and the score stood at 20-14.

Following the kickoff, the Devils attempted to maintain control of the ball until the clock ran out. At this point the Acorn defense collapsed and the Devils went 47 yards in only five plays, scoring with only one second left as the crowd filled the field. After clearing the field, Balster again was successful in his extra point and the final score was 27-14, with Grosse Pointe upsetting Dondero.

In total offensive yards gained, Dondero had 125 to Grosse Pointe's 203 yards, with senior halfback Van De Ginstre getting 146 of these in only 16 carries.

74-0 Victory Gained by GPUS

By Matt Zukowski

A score of 74 points is quite common, for basketball. But the Grosse Pointe University School football team ran up 74 points last Friday to shut out Emmanuel Christian at Wisner Stadium in Pontiac.

The Knights scored 11 times during the game, with five touchdowns coming from the top-flight running and receiving of senior end Harris Brown. Brown started off the scoring in the first half with a 75-yard kickoff return and a 65-yard punt return. Later in the game, Brown caught three touchdown passes, two from Art Getz and one from brother Mark Brown.

The Knights ripped the Pontiac defense apart in the first quarter as they scored 28 points. Grosse Pointe kicker Don Green showed virtuoso style by kicking 8 points after touchdown out of 11 attempts.

Junior Rusty Heenan was the leading ground-gainer of the night as he rushed for 89 yards and three touchdowns. Seniors Chuck Wright and Mark Weiss, along with sophomore John Moran, accounted for six points each.

The Emmanuel Christian defensive line showed a tendency to disappear under the onslaught of Grosse Pointe's ferocious front five, center Walt Cytacki, guards Peter Durant and Ted Buttrick, and tackles Lynn McNaughton and Sandy Fleming.

At the same time, the G.P.U.S. defense tore up the Emmanuel Christian offense, allowing only three first downs and less than ten yards rushing.

G.P.U.S. now has a record of four wins and no losses. This Friday, the Knights meet Deerpark at G.P.U.S.

Woods Spartans Beat Hazel Park

The Woods Spartans varsity shut out the Hazel Park Armistongs, 26-0, to rack up their second win of the season. The Spartans touchdowns were scored by Steve Schleicher, Len Constantine, Ed Rood, and Dave Perry. Linemen dominated in this win, with the play of Stewart Fleming, Dave Van Steenkist and Dave Przslawski pacing the victory. A strong team effort was responsible for the Spartan Homecoming win.

In the Jr. Varsity game, Dale Kilgore scored two touchdowns for Hazel Park as the Armistongs won 27-7. Tom Przslawski played a strong game in the line for the Spartans.

The Spartan Pony team, unbeaten and unscored upon this year, raced to their sixth straight shutout, 19-0. John Mindelli scored on the second play of the game on a 70-yard dash of tackle.

A pass interception by Dean Shier set up the second Spartan score. Jeff DeClaire ran for the TD behind a wall of crisp blocking, the play covering 25 yards. Ernie Ney scored late in the fourth quarter on a four yard quarterback sneak, after the Spartan Ponies marched the length of the field.

Coach Werner Lueckhoff substituted reserves throughout the game as the Pony defense again dominated the game. Jim Vervish, Gene Kline and Randy Blomquist were the standouts in a rough, aggressive line.

This Saturday the Spartans travel to Dearborn to meet the Dearborn Lions. Kickoff time is slated for 12 noon.

Lakers Win Again, 12-6 Prepare for Dads' Day

St. Paul Laker football players are flexing their muscles, breathing deeply and marveling at how much fun football can be after stopping St. Ladislaus, 12-6, Saturday for their second win in a row.

While no one is beating his chest in robust pride over stopping St. Ladislaus, the confident Laker players are quite pleased that they were able to endure a poor offensive showing and still stop the fired-up Greyhounds before a Hamtramck homecoming crowd.

The win brought the St. Paul season's record to a respectable 2-3 showing. They hope to even the record Sunday when they entertain St. Florian for Dad's Day and the final home game of the year.

Lakers in Daze
Still harboring phantasms of last week's 31-26 upset of mighty St. David, the Lakers seemed in a daze as the heavier St. Ladislaus eleven took the opening kickoff and marched 70 yards in six plays for a quick 6-0 lead.

This element of surprise kept the Greyhounds keyed up all afternoon, while the Lakers never unwound themselves despite scoring two touchdowns. For the whole contest St. Paul had only 168 yards total offense to show, compared to a giant 413 yards amassed the week before against St. David.

The St. Ladislaus' lead held until midway through the second period when the Lakers marched 67 yards in seven plays to score, fullback Bob O'Leary plunging the final three yards for the touchdown.

In that drive O'Leary picked up eight yards on two runs, Quarterback Danny Wright passed nine yards to end Rick Jablonski, and Junior speedster Pat Corcoran ran 44 yards in two plays before the touchdown.

A Wright to Jablonski pass for the extra point was incomplete and the score was tied 6-6.

Time Runs Out
Late in the second period Danny Sutherland rocked St. Ladislaus' Quarterback Dennis Tanona with a bruising tackle and jarred the football loose. Senior tackle Jim "Snippo" Snyder pounced on the loose ball at the Greyhound 24 yard line.

Runs by O'Leary, Corcoran, Wright and Senior Bob Reilly put the ball at the Ladislaus two yard line, but time ran out on the Lakers before they could score.

St. Paul scored again in the third quarter when a short Greyhound punt went out of bounds at the St. Ladislaus 22.

Senior Danny Wright this time raced around right end for 20 yards, and then scored on a quarterback sneak. The extra point attempt failed and the Lakers led 12-6.

All the scoring was done and the Laker's defense put in 18 minutes of rock-ribbed football as St. Ladislaus threatened to score and overcome the St. Paul lead.

The Elm Disease Battle

The lead story in last week's issue of the Grosse Pointe News was concerned with the loss this year of 699 of our beautiful elm trees, victims of the dread Dutch Elm Disease. It reminded us that some time back we had received from A. Hazen Keith of 261 Hillcrest road, excerpts from an article which appeared in Yankee Magazine, entitled "New Hope for the Elms?" While the so-called experts appear to have a tendency to pooh-pooh the attempts of amateurs to find a solution to this great problem, the fact remains that the experts and the municipalities, under their guidance, seem to be waging a losing fight against the disease.

It was particularly interesting to us to note that the great ravage wrought this year came in an unusually dry season, and the article mentions the tremendous importance of giving our elms a sufficient supply of water at all times. We pass these excerpts on to our readers for what they are worth. The article was authored by Judith W. Brown and the man about which she is writing is Gerald J. Dineen of Wallingford, Conn., a retired municipal judge in that city. The excerpts follow.

Like a detective putting small pieces of evidence together to solve a crime (and the deaths of these tall, stately elm trees might well be considered criminal), the Wallingford soil, becoming thoroughly convinced that elm trees could suffer from calcium deficiency.

Therefore, he concluded that diseased elm trees could react favorably to a therapeutic form of treatment, providing the direct nutritive or regulatory action of calcium, which, in turn, would cause the removal or neutralization of toxic compounds and the retardation of infectious diseases. Pointing out that "sap is the life blood of the tree," Dineen feels that there must be an adequate intake of water, calcium and magnesium to infiltrate the sap flow and arteries through which the branches and leaves are nourished. The method of putting these nutritives into the tree posed another problem, however, for he believes that boring into the pulp through the bark might be harmful. This puzzle evolved itself in his mind into the idea of a "vaccination," similar to the method by which a Physician introduces anti-toxin into the system of a human patient. The roots, he decided, rather than the heartwood, should be the point of application.

Before this method of application is used, Dineen advises those undertaking it to remove grass and other weed growth from around the tree base, leaving an area of 12 to 18 inches of cleared earth, which should be molded into a saucer shape to hold water. "Not only will this permit the tree to breathe more freely, but it will also facilitate the collecting of melted snow and spring rainfalls for the tree roots to absorb." Then, in order to "vaccinate" the tree, it is necessary to remove the earth on top and alongside one of the roots close to the trunk, digging to a depth of about six inches and allowing ten inches for length. Dineen continues: "With a clean paintscraper, scrape a section of the root skin lengthwise, beginning at the lowest point of the opening up to a level near the top of the root. Just enough should be scraped to leave intact alternate strips of the skin. Next, fill the opening between root and earth with three to four pounds (a full quart jar is equivalent) of ordinary agricultural lime and replace the earth on top of the root and over the lime. When a tree diameter is two feet, two roots opposite sides should be treated, while on a tree of three-foot diameter, three root spaces about equally apart should be worked on."

The experimenter feels that one such treatment is effective for at least three years, especially when it is done in the autumn so that about six months are provided to allow the complete impregnation of the dormant winter period and prior to the time when sap starts the process of spring rejuvenation. During prolonged dry spells, particularly in mid-summer, the tree must be protected from the dehydration which makes it particularly susceptible to beetle invasion, for the drier the wood the more prosperous the beetles. In addition to the use of water, Dineen recommends feeding the standard formulas of fertilizer which will find its way into the roots through holes pierced into ground by a screw-driver or pinch bar at a distance of four to eight feet from the trunk.

In the normal course of progress, many elm trees are deprived of their normal means of sustenance by pavement construction, utility installation and "blacktop suffocation." He points out that roots which are severed in this way make a tree more vulnerable to beetle attack. Also, fill, particularly "clay fill," affects the health of trees by shutting off air and water. Dineen cites the New York State sanitation program which effectively controls the spread of Dutch Elm Disease by immediately cutting down diseased, dead and dying trees, and burning the wood, so that beetles cannot breed there and spread the disease further.

"My main concern," Dineen claims, "centers in preserving what remains of the elm species." He firmly emphasizes that he neither seeks, nor would he accept, any financial reward for his efforts and study. "I prefer the pleasure of considering my time, energy and financial outlay as nothing more than a contribution towards the preservation of the American elm," this gray-haired, gentlemanly individual insists.

And it appears that he has made a sizeable contribution to stunting the progress of the two most destructive elm tree diseases, which he categorizes as the Dutch Elm infection and phloem necrosis, "a fungus and virus respectively." Although the first signs of the former infection appear usually only on a branch or two, phloem necrosis affects the entire tree top rather than a few branches. Both are transmitted by beetles of destructive breeds, one a leaf beetle and two bark-boring beetles. It is quite possible that three years' time may elapse between exposure to infection in a sound elm and the wilting of leaves and appearance of dead branches, which announce that the tree is doomed.

"There seems to be an earnest hope among all the interested persons," Dineen states, "that those towering, vase-shaped sentinels of streets, parks, city and village greens, those trees that link the present with an historic era long since passed, will not wither to extinction as chestnut trees did half a century ago." The Wallingford man has bent great effort in that direction, but involvements as municipal judge in his town from 1955 to 1959 and as a newspaper typesetter until retirement in 1962 gave him only bits and scraps of time in which to work on his formula.

Despite this lack of time, he has worked hopefully and quietly through the years and, to his great satisfaction and encouragement, seen trees respond to his treatment. In addition to the one in front of his home which, to all appearances, is feeling hale and hearty again, one of his "patients" is located on the historic green in Guilford, Connecticut. Begun in the summer of 1962, the treatments elicited the following remarks contained in a letter sent in the fall of 1963 by the town's First Selectman to Dineen: "I can report at this time that this particular tree appears to be in a healthier condition than it did a year ago. I, of course, cannot determine whether this treatment, nature or our spraying has been the major contributing factor in preventing deterioration of the tree, but I thought you would be interested in the results of your experiment."

In New Britain, Connecticut, Dineen has been treating what was described in that city's newspaper as "a dying elm tree" in one of the city parks. As well as being a handsome specimen, it had great sentimental value, having been planted on July 4, 1878 by a veterans' organization. The Park Department as well as many interested citizens, are especially anxious to save it. As preliminary efforts were made to embark on Dineen's formula, many passers-by paused to inquire hopefully if the tree might be saved. Its doctor, Gerald J. Dineen, believes that it will live. Other communities also have asked this dedicated individual's advice and help in saving their trees.

It is Dineen's great hope, however, that those who revere and respect elm trees as he does will study his formula and put it to use in an all-out effort to save America's elms. Certainly, the expense is insignificant compared with the historic significance of the elm trees, particularly in New England. Like most living things, trees need care, attention and, if you will, affection. Surely anyone who has sought the soft shade of an elm on a warm, sunny summer day knows that nothing can really take its place and, if the Dineen formula gets widespread use and proves as successful as he feels it is, nothing will have to.

Sing Out for Books!*

Written by Mary O'Neill
For Book Week, 1965

With joy in our hearts we do sing out for books! There is excitement and festivity in the air as Children's Librarians celebrate this 47th annual observance of National Children's Book Week.

We who feel that only the best is good enough for our young readers, rejoice over the many fine books. No books are so important in developing the reading habits of a nation.

Because of the greater number of children's books being published each year, more demands are made on those who select and recommend them to children, parents and teachers. Informative books are an essential part of this vast output. But they must be accurate, appropriate and attractive.

ELECTRICITY IN YOUR LIFE. Irving Adler, John Day, explains the fascinating thing, electricity does in homes, industry and nature, by means of an accurate, readable text, and colored illustrations. WORLD BENEATH THE OCEANS. By T. F. Gaskell, Doubleday, with photographs, maps, and colored illustrations tells a complete story of oceanography. Traditional literature needs to be preserved for today's children, as a part of their natural heritage. One such example is THE NIGHTINGALE, by Hans Christian Andersen, translated from the Danish by Eva LeGallienne, Harper & Row. Added to the text are paintings by Exholm Burkert. It is truly a book of rare beauty. Another is TOM TIT TOT; AN ENGLISH FOLK TALE, illustrated by Evaline Ness, Scribner's. The search for excellence in creative literature is a most discriminative and delightful task. For these are the stuff of which dreams are made. They are the books which help a child find release and joy, and grow in his own way. Limitless is their power to increase empathy with, and knowledge of people of other times and other places. Harry Behn, inspired by an archaeological discovery, brings today's readers an adolescent girl to the Bronze Age in this beautifully written THE FARAWAY LURES, World. FAIR OUT THE LONG CANAL, Harper, is the story of a very natural nine year old Dutch boy, by an exponent of creativity, Meindert De Jong. Deprived, indeed, is the child who has not grown up with poetry. ROOFS OF GOLD. POEMS TO READ ALOUD, compiled by Padraic Colum, Macmillan, is a distinguished anthology.

Neither time nor space permits the naming of more titles in the various categories. However, there are three books which I cannot afford NOT to mention. For adults who care about children's reading, they are invaluable wellsprings of inspiration. Their titles are: BOOKS, CHILDREN AND MEN, by Paul Hazard, Horn Book; MARGIN FOR SURPRISE, by Ruth Hill Viguerie, Little, Brown and Company; SUMMONED BY BOOKS: ESSAYS AND SPEECHES BY FRANCES CLARKE SAVERS, compiled by Jarjeanne Jensen Blinn, Viking Press.

On Wednesday, October 27, from 3:34-5 p.m., Children's Librarians of the Grosse Pointe Public Library will "sing out for books" at the Central Library. All Teachers, Librarians, parents and other interested persons are cordially invited to join in. New books will be displayed. Lists of new books, "Notable Children's Books of 1964," with lists, "Editions of Favorites for Children," and lists, "Growing Up With Books," and "Growing Up With Science Books" will be available.

Asks Teachers To Help Drive

"We all like to be connected with a project that is successful. The United Foundation Drive in Detroit has been a success for the past sixteen years," Dr. Hamilton Stillwell, chairman of the schools group in the fund-raising campaign said Friday.

Stillwell, Dean of the Division of Urban Extension at Wayne State University, has addressed countless groups of educators throughout the three-county area under his supervision since he assumed the responsibility of chairman in June. "Throughout the Detroit metropolitan area there are thousands of unseen people who need help from the funds raised by the United Foundation. Mayor Cavanagh, speaking recently before a human resources conference on the Wayne State University campus, referred to the fact that we do not realize the plight of so many of these people because we do not see them; this is one of the groups that many of the dollars raised by the United Foundation assist," he said.

Working under Dr. Stillwell's direction are the following chairmen: Dr. Charles H. Wilson, Superintendent of the Grosse Pointe Public School System, Wayne County school's collection; Dr. John Blackhall Smith, Superintendent of the Birmingham Public Schools, Oakland County schools' collection; Carl Brable, Superintendent of The Roseville Public Schools, Macomb County schools' collection; Miss Alice Goodenow, Detroit Public Schools; and Professor Benjamin Carlin, Wayne State University.

"The effort this year will be for each school unit to increase its contribution by five per cent over last year's goal which was attained so successfully. A second objective is to have over two-thirds of the employees in all units or schools make a contribution to the United Foundation," Stillwell added.

The United Foundation Torch Drive began October 12 and will end November 4.

Stillwell, 290 Mt. Vernon road, Grosse Pointe Farms, came to the Detroit area in 1957 as Director of the University Center for Adult Education conducted by Wayne State University, the University of Michigan and Eastern Michigan University. He has held his present position with Wayne State University since October, 1964.

From Another Pointe of View

By Janet Mueller

The BIG Holiday Mart-Fair-Sale season is upon us, and there's no reason why anyone should have any Christmas shopping left to do after a visit to one or more of the fabulous markets opening all around the town in the next few weeks.

We have one word of advice for bargain-hunters planning a visit to the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church Christmas Fair: Arrive early!

This Fair, most comprehensive sale of its kind in our area, (it takes two years to produce; Memorial Church and Christ Church ladies take turns sponsoring the annual event), always draws HUGE crowds, and this year more people than ever are expected—Fair date is Thursday, November 4, and public schools will be closed due to teachers' meetings!

To accommodate the expected influx of young patrons, there will be a special children's section on the third floor of the Fair "grounds," featuring a Junior High Room, (with a two-hour continuous movie program), a Kindergarten through Sixth Grade Elementary Room, (more movies), a pre-school Creativity Room, (good luck to Mrs. Urban Borsch and Mrs. Clarence Dover, who will be teaching arts and crafts to the three-through-five-year-old set!), and a Children's Orly Shoppe, (supervised by Mrs. John Clark).

Candy will be available in the hall, at the Good Ship Lollipop, and there will be a Snack Bar for more substantial treats. Senior High students are invited to gather in their own "Seagull" discotheque-lounge.

Chairman of the Children's Fair is Mrs. Samuel Laux. Mrs. Tom Coulter is co-chairman, and Mrs. Robert Everett is treasurer.

For The Adults

A first look at the adult section of the Fair is reserved for the Men, at a special all-Male Preview evening November 3, between 7 and 9 o'clock.

Next day, between 10 and 6 o'clock, it's the ladies' turn to browse, bargain and buy. Approximately 600

Slate 'Fakes in Art' Program at Institute

Women's Committee, Founders Society Detroit Institute of Arts, Sponsoring Morning Program Today

Some 8,500 metropolitan Detroit residents found an autumn gold envelope among their mail this week bearing the return address of Detroit Institute of Arts.

The envelopes contained an invitation from the Women's Committee of the museum's Founders Society to attend a program entitled "True or False? Fakes in Art" slated for 10 o'clock Thursday morning, October 21.

An exhibition of real and fake paintings, sculpture, porcelains and silver will serve as the entry to a talk by conservator Sheldon Keck, renowned in the art world as a final authority on authenticity, who will speak on "Forgery in Art."

As they tour the exhibit, participants will mark ballots "true" or "false" for each piece displayed. During this mental exercise, refreshments will be provided in nearby Rivera Court. Later, prizes will be awarded to the most discerning "True or False?" voters.

After all the ballots are in, the group will gather to hear Sheldon Keck, director of the Conservation Center at the Institute of Fine Arts of New York University, describe some of the characteristics that betray a fake during his discussion of "Forgery in Art."

Keck, who was affiliated with the Brooklyn Museum for 27 years prior to his NYU post, also has applied his specialized knowledge as a consultant in conservation to the Museum of Modern Art, Guggenheim Museum, New York State Historical Association, New York Museum, Colonial Williamsburg and others. A Harvard University graduate, he has been both a Guggenheim and a Fulbright fellow.

More than merely providing a morning of fun and fact, the October 21 "True or False?" program is designed as an enrichment to join the Founders Society, according to the event's co-chairmen Mrs. Edward S. Evans, Jr. of Oldbrook lane, and Mrs. David W. Rust, of Fisher road.

Attendance, as the invitations reveal, is limited to Founders' members each of whom is urged to enlist recruits. Members who do so will be admitted to the "True or False?" program free, otherwise there is a $5 ticket charge.

All new Founders members, those signing up between September 24 and October 21, will receive a free ticket to "True or False?" along with the usual Founders' benefits.

Advantages of Founders' membership include free admittance to all special exhibitions, invitations to exhibition openings and previews, use of the private Richardson Room lounge, free LeTours (recorded gallery comments by experts), picture rental privileges, and discounts on such other Institute activities as the Concert Series.

A philanthropic organization, the Founders Society provides the financial support for the acquisition of new works of art (in the last ten years it has added more than 4,000 works of art, valued in excess of $5,000,000) and activities of the Detroit Institute of Arts. Membership classifications and annual costs are: individual, $15; family, $25; Contributing, $50; and Patron, $100.

Pointe members of the "True or False?" committee include Mrs. Frank Ware, Mrs. J. Crawford Frost, Mrs. Alvan Macauley, Jr., Mrs. Alger Sheldon, Mrs. James McMillan, Mrs. Frank W. Donovan, Mrs. Harold O. Love and Mrs. Joseph L. Hud-son, Jr.

Society News Gathered from All of the Pointes

Apportionment Is LWV Topic

The Metropolitan Area League of Women Voters invite the public to attend an informative and interesting panel discussion on Apportionment, Supreme Court Decisions and the United States Constitution on Thursday, October 28, at 8 o'clock at the Auditorium, Ford Central Staff Building, Michigan Avenue at Southfield Expressway, Dearborn.

Dr. John T. Dempsey, professor of political science and chairman of literature, science and the arts, Dearborn Campus, University of Michigan who is also a well known TV news commentator, will lead the discussion.

Questions to be answered include:

What has the Supreme Court said on legislative apportionment?
What does "one man — one vote" mean?
How rigid is the Supreme Court standard of population?

What do the proposed constitutional amendments say?

Should a state be allowed to have one house of its legislature apportioned on some basis other than population?

What factors other than population are possible?

What are the pros and cons of various methods of apportionment?

This program is open to all, free of charge.

The Mount Holyoke College Alumnae Club of Detroit will hold its first meeting of the season on Tuesday, October 26, at 8 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Charles Endicott, of Blairmoor court. Dessert and coffee will be served.

Because of the meeting's being held in Grosse Pointe, a large contingent of Grosse Pointe alumnae are expected to attend.

Mrs. Don A. Cargill, newly-elected president, will conduct the meeting and, in addition, give a resume of her recent weekend on campus as representative to the Alumnae Council.

members of the Church Women's Association worked to produce the hundreds of hand-made items to be sold at 24 booths.

We don't like to recommend one item over another—but we must admit we were impressed by the hand-knit sweater fashioned by Mrs. Norman J. Boehm, chairman of the Yarncraft Section, decorated with FIVE THOUSAND sequins!

And for the statistically-minded, we relay without comment Mrs. Paul R. Erickson's information that her Jewelry Booth workers have made 3,480 separate pieces... using 127,632 gems.

Luncheon will be available to everyone at the Fair's Inn of the Three Kings. Dieters can rest and munch on light snacks at the Kris Kringle Koffee House.

Every both has its own chairman, of course. Overseeing the entire project are the Fair's three general co-chairmen, Mrs. M. Whitney McCutcheon, Mrs. Earl H. Quick and Mrs. Donald P. Schuur.

Planned Parenthood Mart

Dinners will NOT be served at the Planned Parenthood Christmas Mart this year, but luncheons are scheduled as always, on Wednesday, October 27, and Thursday, October 28, between 12 and 2 o'clock.

Latest flashes from some of the 21 specialty shops coming to the Mart, opening at Detroit's Veterans Memorial Building at 5 o'clock next Tuesday, October 26, have been received from committee member Mrs. John L. Kenower.

From New York, she reports that the Barn at Ben Robyn display will include a tiny Queen Anne fireplace bench, and that Soupcon will bring its delicious spreads, nuts and dressings.

Mrs. Harold Beatty will be in charge of Soupcon's display; she will be assisted by the Mesdames George Hefferan, James McMillan, Harry Jewett, Henry Kuhlman, Stanley Winkelman, Lawrence Fleischman, William Laurie, Robert Vanderkloof, F. Sibley Moore, William Farquhar and John Herrmann.

Honorary chairman of the entire Mart is Mrs. Joseph B. Schlottman. Mrs. Robert Kanzler is chairman ex officio, and Mrs. John W. Coe is general chairman. It's become traditional for the men to join the ladies in working at the Mart; this year, the "hosts" will include Henry Holland, Christopher Wilkin, Dick Marsh and Fred Mallender.

Couples who will make selling at the Mart a Family Affair are the Sterlings, the Grahams, the Hudson Hollands, the William Lanes, the Myron Mays, the Clay Purdys, the Stephen Smiths, the Peter Dows, the C. A. Deans, the Peter Whitmans, the Thomas Whittinghams, the Dick Fruehaufs, the William Boydeles, the Peter Durnos, the David Bogles, the James Floms and the Herb Bartlett.

Drama... And Music

Three one-act plays will be offered by Theatre Arts Club of Detroit at its first performance of the season tomorrow, at 2 o'clock, at the Players' Playhouse in East Jefferson avenue.

In the cast of "Trifles" are Mrs. Francis Brown, Mrs. Arthur Schroeder, Mrs. Frank Finney, Mrs. Melvin Huffaker and Mrs. Mary Lawrie. "Sunny Afternoon in Spring" cast members include Mrs. Milton Volken, Mrs. A. M. Cambrick-Graham, Mrs. Frank Coolidge, Mrs. Mailer Millard and Mrs. John Kinsey.

Appearing in "The Street of Good Friends" are the Mesdames Glen Carpenter, Murray Young, John Fetzer and Otis Walker. Director is Mrs. Mark Reeve, and producers are Mrs. Charles Markley, Jr., and Mrs. James Doll.

An opportunity to hear the fabulous University of Detroit Chorus before its appearance with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra is offered all Pointers, courtesy of the Grosse Pointe Crisis Club.

The chorus will present a concert next Monday evening, at Parcels Auditorium. Tickets are $2 each, and may be obtained from Crisis Club members, or through the J. L. Hudson Company ticket service.

who, where and whatnot

by whoozit

Happy days are here again . . . for the Allan Zauns, of Westchester road, now that all their family is once more in The Pointe, near enough for exciting get-togethers. Dr. Zaun had the thrill of baptizing his new granddaughter, Jennifer Grace, Sunday before last at Jefferson Avenue Presbyterian Church, where he will soon be completing his 20th year as Pastor. Jennifer and her older brother, Christopher, are the children of the David Wallaces, (she is the former Patricia Zaun), who are finally getting settled in Hillcrest road—their cute little Volkswagen convertible startled the neighbors when it was DRIVEN OFF the moving van! Victoria (Zaun) and her husband of one year, Barry Colwell, have also returned to live in The Pointe, where Vicky will be substitute-teaching. Third daughter, Andrea, a junior at Grosse Pointe High, never left our community; she had a busy summer at the Waterfront Park at the end of Windmill Pointe drive, where she swam for the Grosse Pointe Park team.

Check this month's issue of "Guideposts" . . . an inspirational monthly magazine, written by and for people of all faiths, for the fascinating article, "Filth on the Newsstands," by Mrs. Jacob Wenzel, of Cloverly road, describing how and why she came to found the Grosse Pointe Council on Better Literature for Youth. Mrs. Wenzel, incidentally, was chairman and co-ordinator of a panel discussion last Thursday at the Federation of Women's Clubs of Metropolitan Detroit clubhouse, "Your Child and Newsstand Smut," sponsored by the Metropolitan Detroit Council on Better Literature for Youth, which includes FIFTY-SIX member organizations.

Hundreds of local members of the Women's City Club . . . have circled Tuesday, October 26, on their engagement calendars; they wouldn't miss the special Grosse Pointe luncheon scheduled that day at the Club, to be followed by Jack Oliver's talk on how The Pointe developed from early French ribbon farms, for anything! Mrs. Benjamin C. Addison is general chairman of "our" party. Mrs. Clark W. Pearson is invitations chairman, and Mrs. James Vernor Davis is in charge of decorations. Mrs. Elmer Benzin, after a conference with Club manager Mrs. Anne S. Reed, promises a really delicious menu. Hostess chairman Mrs. Paul Marco has asked a number of Grosse Pointe members to assist in welcoming the guests. Among these hostesses will be the Mesdames George C. Cossaboom, John H. French, Sherwood Reekie, John Motschall, William A. Ternes, Harry C. Pratt, Gerard Slattery, Emmet E. Tracy, Joel Bremer, Gladys Randolph, Herbert P. Winkler and Howard Maynard. Mrs. Sydney A. Ochs and her committee are busy fashioning name tags for everyone, (a wonderful help to people like us, who are inclined to forget our own mother's name at the drop of an "I'd like you to meet . . ."). If you haven't made your reservation for the party yet, we'd advise you to call the Club Cafe office, Woodward 1-7283, this very minute.

Seems as if this is "The Year of the Mix-Up" . . . in lecture dates, et cetera, all around the town. General Mark Clark, who will discuss "The Continuing Challenge of Communism" next Wednesday evening, at Ford Auditorium, was originally scheduled to speak earlier in the month; word that he wouldn't arrive back from the Far East in time for this engagement sent members of the Bon Secours Hospital Assistance League Celebrity Series committee into a bit of a tizzy—but everything worked out. Then Grosse Pointe Garden Center, after having printed and mailed announcements that Mrs. Orville Freeman, wife of the United States Secretary of Agriculture, would be Berry Memorial Lecture speaker at the War Memorial November 5, learned that Mrs. Freeman would not be able to deliver her lecture until November 12. The Garden Center is still in a bit of a tizzy—but everything is working out. Everything's working out at Planned Parenthood Christmas Mart, too . . . two stores, Mrs. Mary Kruming, (costume jewelry), and Charles F. Orvis Company, (makers of fine fishing tackle since 1856), will replace Jax, (tailored sport clothes), which pulled out of the Mart shop line-up just a few weeks ago.

The hard-working Juniors . . . of Sigma Gamma and Tau Beta, turned to the "lighter side of life" Sunday afternoon, playing their annual hockey match on the Grosse Pointe University School field. Victors this year were the "Sigs," 5-0, but there were no losers in the merry consumption of pizzas that followed the game. President and team captain of Sigma Gamma was Holly Lomax, of Tau Beta. Tracy Heenan . . . Both groups have been working all the past year on community service projects sponsored by their organizations. The Sigma Gamma Juniors helped with the children at the Detroit Orthopaedic Clinic, which their organization founded. The Grosse Pointe Tau Betas were involved in a "big sister" program and conducted play groups for children at Brewster-Douglas Housing Project, under the auspices of the Neighborhood Service Organization. Last summer they put on skits for the children at Tau Beta Camp; they are now planning a Christmas party for the campers.

Pointer of Interest

CINDY SZADY, OF LENNON AVENUE

By Janet Mueller

"Oh, boy! Would I ever!" is Cindy Szady's answer to the question: "Would you like to live over your experiences last summer as an American Field Service exchange student in Pakistan?" In fact, Cindy has already begun planning her return to Pakistan; she estimates it will take about three years of baby-sitting assignments to earn a ticket, (round trip, of course—Cindy loves Pakistan, but she's very American), back to the Far East.

Cindy, 17-year-old daughter of the Leopold Szadys, is the first Grosse Pointe High School student to live in Pakistan under the auspices of the AFS program, one of nine American students, from different parts of the United States, assigned to Pakistan in the summer of 1965.

She sort of "fell into" AFS: "I heard an announcement at school a year ago last month, asking everyone who thought they might like to study abroad to go to a meeting. I went, and it sounded good . . ."

Carefully Screened
She filled out forms, wrote an essay on why she wanted to study abroad and what she felt she could contribute as an AFS exchange student, underwent a series of interviews at Grosse Pointe High and was among the four students accepted, from a field of approximately 50 applicants, as AFS finalists at the local high school level.

Then there were more forms to fill out, very extensive forms, which were submitted to AFS New York headquarters. Cindy passed her physical examination with flying colors. She and her parents were asked to write articles about themselves. They were interviewed together, as a family.

Finally, there was nothing left to do but wait . . . "And that," says Cindy, "is the hardest and longest part of all!"

In March, Cindy received word that she had been accepted as a semi-finalist, and that her forms had been sent to a foreign country. She was not told to which foreign country; AFS students have no say in where they will be sent. Her acceptance in the AFS program was contingent upon finding a suitable home in her host country.

Two Weeks Notice
June 1 came and went; Cindy heard nothing. Her advisors at the High School told her, "If you don't receive word from AFS by June 15, forget about going abroad this summer."

Then on June 11, at 8 o'clock in the morning, her phone rang. The caller, a member of the local AFS committee, had received a telegram: "Cindy Szady leaving for Pakistan June 26."

Cindy joined 750 other AFSers aboard The Seven Seas for a 10-day trip across the Atlantic to Rotterdam. She flew from The Netherlands to Karachi, capital of West Pakistan, in a marathon 12-hour flight.

In Karachi, she stayed for two days with the Muntazes, a large and affluent family with three daughters, 12 servants and "a multitude of cousins." The Muntaz family is well known in Pakistan and out of it; Mrs. Muntaz's brother is presently Pakistan's Ambassador to the United States.

Have English Name
Finally, Cindy arrived in Chittagong, East Pakistan, where her "family" for the next six weeks, the Clement Randolphs, were waiting to greet her.

Despite their Very English name, the Randolphs are true Pakistanis; "Randolph" is the legacy of a single British great-grandfather. They have a daughter, Carmen, 18, (Cindy, who left her own 13-year-old sister, Sheryl, at home, had no trouble adjusting to a new AFS "sister"), and a son, 12-year-old Clive.

A set of grandparents and three servants, a cook, a cleaning woman and a chore boy, completed the Randolph ménage. Chittagong itself Cindy describes as "about the same in area as Grosse Pointe—but with a population of 200,000." It is the second largest city in East Pakistan.

Because so many people are crammed in such a small area, Cindy explains, even the very rich commonly live two families to one house. The poorer town-dwellers sleep and work in shop stalls, fronting directly on the streets.

Houses Much Different
The Randolphs are extremely well-off by Pakistani standards. Mr. Randolph imports and exports steel. Their two-story stucco house Cindy remembers as "not like our houses at all."

"You walk through a veranda into a very large sitting room," she explains. "Through an archway, separated from the sitting room by furniture, there is an eating area."

Kitchens, which according to Cindy "look like something out of the 19th Century," are in a separate room, usually at the back of the house, but in order to prevent the servants from pilfering, refrigerators are generally kept, under lock and key and sometimes encircled completely by a heavy chain, in the family eating area.

Fascinated by the kitchen facilities, Cindy undertook to make chocolate chip cookies on a kerosene stove one day. "And they turned out!" she exclaims triumphantly.

Heat, Rain, Mosquitoes

There are two bedrooms downstairs in the Randolph house, but Cindy and Carmen slept upstairs, on flat-board beds raised a few feet from the floor with very narrow mattresses. ("The humidity is so great, a thick mattress would become mildewed in a few weeks"), under a constantly whirling ceiling fan, ("You turn on the fan as soon as you come into a room") and tents of mosquito netting.

"The mosquitoes just loved me!" Cindy admits ruefully. After one jungle picnic, she counted 23 mosquito bites between her knees and her ankles.

Weather was a bit of a problem, too. "I arrived in Pakistan just before the monsoons. The first 10 days were all sunshine and unbearably hot; then it started raining. It rained all the time for 21 days. Then we had one day of partly cloudy weather, one day of sunshine, one day of partly cloudy weather . . . then it started raining again, and I lost count."

You get used to the rain, though: "Everyone carries big, black umbrellas around, and everyone is a little damp."

Tours and Parties
Cindy joined three other AFS students living in Chittagong during the summer for tours of tea gardens, a jute mill and other places of interest. The four young Americans, two boys and two girls, were often invited to the same parties. Pakistani parents tend to look a little askance at "mixed" parties, gatherings of young, unmarried men and women, and Cindy feels that the Chittagong young set seized upon the visiting students as Perfect Excuses for getting local boys and girls together.

She found her new friends particularly interested in seeing how United States teenagers dance. Pakistanis do the Twist and the Shake, (comparable to our Frug), and Cindy, after she showed Carmen how to do the Jerk, was called upon to "Jerk" wherever she went.

"It was almost as if I had to dance for my dinner," she recalls. "I even learned how to jerk in a sari—which is quite a trick!"

She took lessons in Indian classical dance with Carmen. "Indian Classical Dance is fast, with many hand movements. Bells are fastened on your ankles," Cindy explains. "Carmen had been taking lessons for some time; she was very good. As for me . . . at least I made the dancing master laugh!"

All Spoke English
Cindy experienced no language difficulties; "All the educated people speak English. There are six major Pakistani 'languages,' and about 100 different dialects. I wanted to learn more than a few words of Pakistani, but everyone I met spoke English fluently, and they wouldn't take me seriously when I said I wanted to learn their language."

She was called upon to give speeches, in English, to several groups during her stay in Chittagong, and once acted as "substitute teacher" at the Missionary school where Carmen taught on a regular basis.

"The kids were SO great," she recalls. "They don't call you 'Miss Szady' or 'Miss' anything; they always call you 'Teacher.' They're like kids everywhere. They love to tattle, to say 'Teacher, he took my book,' and they want to feel important. 'Right now, I think I'd like to go into teaching, so I was especially pleased to get a taste of it in Chittagong.'"

In Pakistan, Cindy reports, teaching at the lower levels is "not a very respected profession." Teachers are not required to have college degrees; young women would rather get jobs as secretaries or receptionists than as school teachers.

"And you have to remember that most Eastern peoples still believe 'Woman's place is in the home,'" Cindy adds. "Girls who get any kind of jobs are considered very modern, very liberal . . ."

Food Good, Hot
Cindy found the food in Pakistan "good, but very hot." The Randolphs, bending over backwards to see that their guest had no digestive problems, cooked nothing but "English" food for a week after Cindy's arrival. Naturally, she got sick. Then the Randolph household switched back to rice and curries, real Pakistani food—and I thrive," Cindy reports.

She can't say enough good things about the Randolphs: "They are so sweet, I just love them. They are a very close-knit family, like all Pakistanis. They never raise their voices, never get angry . . . They never had a quarrel all the while I was there."

Her favorite memento of her stay in Pakistan is a pink sari, embroidered in pure gold thread, the Randolph family's early birthday gift to their departing guest.

Cindy was still in Pakistan August 14, when fighting started on the Kashmir border. "My mother was ready to fly over on the 15th," she laughs—now. Two days after she arrived home, she heard that Chittagong had been bombed. She has written to the Randolphs, but has received no letters from them, only a telegram, dated September 23, wishing her a Happy Birthday.

"At least I know they're alive," she says. Brought Other Clothes
Besides the pink and gold sari, Cindy brought two other saris back to "The States" with her, plus several "Shalwar Kamezes," street costumes consisting of loose, baggy pants, tight tunic tops and shoulder scarves.

She stopped in Dacca, capital of East Pakistan, on her way home, staying with the family of one of Pakistan's national heroes, Jahan Ali-Karimi, who saved five fellow passengers from a burning plane after a crash near Cairo, Egypt, last spring.

In Karachi, she joined the Muntazes for four days before flying on to Rotterdam, where AFS-chartered jets picked up panelloads of students, (they were supposed to go home on The Seven Seas, but the ship suffered a major fire during the summer), for their final Home now, she is looking forward to Carmen Randolph's projected visit to The Pointe next year, re-arranging mementos of her trip to the Far East, displayed at one end of the living room, (Cindy's mother laughingly refers to this section of the Szady home as "Pakistani Corner"), and baby-sitting like mad to make sure she earns that ticket back to Chittagong just as quickly as possible.
