AMERICAN MOTORS CORP. announced Wednesday that it will suspend production for 13 working days and recall 2400 fewer employees when production resumes January 17, at a lower rate. A company official stated that the purpose is to "realign field stocks to the current sales pace" and Board Chairman Richard E. Cross conceded that November sales were "disappointing," but he emphasized that AMC was still operating profitably. November sales totaled 24,608, a drop of 25 per cent from November, 1964. The year-to-date drop in sales was 18 per cent, while the industry as a whole registered a 12 per cent rise from a year ago.

POPE PAUL VI closed the 21st Ecumenical Council in the 2,000 years of Roman Catholicism, Wednesday, during a three-hour ceremony in St. Peter's Square. Over 100,000 spectators watched him dismiss the 2,400 bishops with the words "It is in peace." "Go in peace." He described the Council as the greatest ever held, whether in size, in subject treated or in the needs it met, and declared the Council's decisions binding on all Catholics. Left unanswered were key questions, including birth control and mixed marriages, but lifting of the rule of Friday abstinence is reported to be imminent.

PARTY-LINE VOTES by Michigan legislators Thursday upheld three executive vetoes on spending bills totaling $11.2 million. The House refused to pass over the Governor's head a $4 million bill to liberalize the veterans' property tax exemption. Senators failed to override executive vetoes on legislation to give eight State universities another $1.2 million in operating funds and to give $6 million in property tax relief to senior citizens who rent. Governor Romney, charged with pressuring Republican lawmakers to support the vetoes, called the vote a victory for the people and asked for a substitute homestead tax exemption bill for veterans that would not damage "the interests of others."

ANASTAS I. MIKOYAN, 70, long-time Bolshevik Party member, resigned Thursday as Soviet chief of state. He blamed illness for his resignation. Succeeding Mikoyan as chairman of the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet is Nikolai V. Podgorniy, 62, a product of former Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's Ukrainian Party machine and considered a moderate in the Kremlin. Controversial younger member of the Party Alexander N. Sholepov, 47, was relieved of his government posts in the reshuffle, solidifying the position of Leonid Brezhnev, liberal first secretary of the Soviet Communist Party as chief policy maker. Observers called the changes more important for liberalizing Soviet internal affairs than for foreign policy.

COMMUNIST NORTH VIETNAM Saturday rejected United States offers for unconditional peace talks on the Vietnam conflict. A Hanoi broadcast monitored in Tokyo said "a number of developments"—repeated Communist victories, a rise in the number of U.S. planes shot down and mounting U.S. anti-war protests—were driving the "ring-leaders of the war-mongering circles in Washington into utter confusion." The broadcast called Secretary of State Dean Rusk's statement that he might halt bombing raids "simply a trick," and said the last halt in bombing, for the week beginning last May 12, was a trick too, and did not stop the raids. Roving Ambassador Averell Harriman said there is "no indication yet" of Chinese Communist intervention, but "the situation is dangerous" and whether Peking enters the war depends on a good deal on what we do."

Pointe Students Escape As Fire Sweeps Quarters

Three Grosse Pointe students escaped from their burning Port Huron residence by jumping from a second floor window when flames struck the home in the early morning hours of Wednesday, December 8.

The boys, all second-year students at Port Huron Junior College, are Gary Clements of Lochmoor boulevard, Sheldon Smith of Rivard avenue, and James Weyhing of University place.

The building where they were living was a private residence approved by the college.

Michael Fink of Pemberton road, who occupied a second floor room, was outside changing a tire on his car and was unaware of the fire at the back of the building.

Smith was first to notice the haze of smoke in the hall at

Arrest of Burglar Solves 14 Pointe Breakins; ID Key Tag Proves Undoing

Anonymous Tip to Highland Park Police Leads To Apprehension of Thief Using Car Stolen From Detroit Location

A set of car keys with an identification license tag attached to a chain ring, stolen from a Park home during a burglary, was the undoing of a car thief and burglar arrested by Highland Park police on Thursday, December 9, it was disclosed by Park Police Chief Arthur Louwers.

Arrested was Steven L. Berzon, 19, of 1047 Parkside avenue, Buffalo, N.Y., and 1214 Eastlawn, Detroit, who was released to Park authorities for prosecution.

On Friday, December 10,

Sewer Project Scene of Crash

Both drivers were ticketed in a collision that occurred Monday afternoon, December 6, as Charlotte Ann Hernandez, 22, of 4310 Nottingham, Detroit, was leaving the driveway of 389 St. Clair and collided with the car driven by Helen Margaret Ruen, 75, 8900 E. Jefferson, which was moving south on St. Clair.

Police said sewer crocks lining the street obscured the vision of the first driver. She stated that she was not moving at the time of the crash, but was charged with failing to yield the right of way.

The other woman was charged with not having her car under control.

Both cars were driven from the scene. There were no injuries.

Also Stole Five Cars
Chief Louwers said that Berzon, who was questioned by Highland Park police, and Park Det. James LaPratt, not only cleared up 14 Pointe burglaries, but several in Dearborn, and also admitted to stealing five cars including the one he was driving when arrested. The car thefts took place in Detroit and Dearborn, Berzon said.

Berzon is the burglar, Chief Louwers said, who has been breaking into homes in the Pointe, 10 in the Park, three in the Farms, and one in the Shores, during the past several weeks.
Det. Lt. Arnold Hough and LaPratt were investigating the breakins in the Park; Det. Sgt. George Van Tien investigated the Farms burglaries; and Shores Patrolman William Marshall, working the plainclothes detail, was in charge of the Shores investigation.

Get Anonymous Tip
According to information released by Chief Louwers, Highland Park police received an anonymous tip on December 9, at about 8 p.m., that Berzon was at 14551 Woodward avenue, in a car stolen from a location in Detroit.

Berzon was found at the location, arrested and the stolen car impounded and later released to Detroit authorities to return to the owner.
The youth was questioned by Highland Park detectives. In searching Berzon, the detectives found two diamond rings, a set of car keys and an identification license tag on his person. The license number was traced to a car owned by a Park woman. The woman was contacted and she told the detectives that her home had been burglarized on Wednesday, December 8. The matter was then referred to Park police.

Informing of the arrest of Berzon, LaPratt went to the Juvenile Car Thieves Ram Fire Hydrant

Foursome Arrested And Released to Detroit Police; Stolen Car Owned By Pointer

A 16-year-old hit-and-run driver in a stolen car, crashed into a fire hydrant at Vernor and Lakepointe Monday noon, December 6, and attempted to flee on foot with three other juveniles who were passengers in the car. All are from Detroit.

According to information released by Park Police Chief Arthur Louwers, the 16-year-old was driving east on Vernor at a high rate of speed, and ran into a car driven by Edward J. Janostak, 26, of 1106 Lakepointe.

In attempting to escape, the young driver lost control of his vehicle, and crashed into the hydrant, shearing it from its base.

All Flee on Foot
The 16-year-old, a 13-year-old girl and her brother, a year younger and another boy, 15 years old, jumped out of the damaged car, and fled the scene on foot. A citizen called Park police and reported the accident.

Chief Louwers said that Janostak chased the four on foot and captured the girl and held her until police arrived. Police Sgt. Gordon Duncan captured the runaway driver in front of 1324 Balfour; and Patrolman Ralph Moore took the 15-year-old boy in custody at Vernor and Nottingham. The three were taken to the station for questioning.

The girl's brother, who had escaped capture at the scene, was arrested later at his home by Park authorities and taken to the station. The foursome confessed to being involved in stealing the car in Detroit, and were released to officers of Detroit's Mack Station, Seventh Precinct as fugitives, the chief said.

The car was reported stolen to Seventh Precinct police by Carter Sales of 71 North Deeplands, on Saturday, December 4.

The chief did not disclose the amount of damage to Janostak's car or to Sales' car, but did say that the damage to the hydrant will cost approximately $210 to repair.

New High School Groundbreaking Ceremonies Held

Pile Drivers Start on $339,700 Job; Creation of Structure on Farm Site Constitutes $8,000,000 Project for School Board

Groundbreaking ceremonies for Grosse Pointe High School-North were held yesterday, Wednesday, at 11 a.m. Speakers on the brief program included Edward J. Pongracz, president of the Grosse Pointe Board of Education, and Kenneth McLeod, Mayor of the City of Grosse Pointe Woods.

Herman Clein, vocal music instructor at Grosse Pointe High School led the guests in the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner."

Invited by the Board of Education to attend the ceremony on the Vanderbush-Baker site in Grosse Pointe Woods were officials from the municipalities served by the school district, members of the Citizens' Advisory Committee, representatives of the PTA, student and school employee groups, and representatives of various community groups.

Pile Drivers Start
At a special meeting of the Grosse Pointe Board of Education, held on November 17, bids on redesigned foundation piling were opened. Contract for the $339,700 job was awarded to Chandler-Ruschke. The pile drivers began their work yesterday.

Officials of the architectural firm of Harley, Ellington, Cowin and Stirtton, indicated that they expect to have working drawings on the entire high school project available to bidders by March 1.

Mr. Pongracz expects to receive bids on the project on March 23.

Wednesday's ceremonies mark the latest step in a series of events since March 22. Last spring citizens of the school district approved the sale of bonds in the amount of $7,600,000 to construct the new high school and to renovate and remodel the existing high school.

In addition, they authorized a second ballot proposition for $750,000 to construct an auditorium-instructional center adjacent to the new high school.

Building Costs Leap
School authorities and members of the Board of Education have expressed concern at spiraling construction costs. They cite increases noted in campus construction at the University of Michigan and Michigan State University where building projects have cost more than the original estimates. Board members have also been watching building trends throughout the metropolitan Detroit area.

Some of the higher construction costs may be attributable to the acute shortage of construction workers. It is reported that men in some trades are being paid time and one-half and double time for a normal five-day week.

GIRL INJURED
Farms police took Kathleen Schult, 10, of 61 Radnor circle, to Cottage Hospital on Thursday, December 9, for treatment of a broken right wrist. The girl was injured when she fell while in the gym at St. Paul School.

Following a regular session of the Park council on Monday, December 13, Mayor Matthew Patterson presented the awards during the Sixth Annual Service Awards Presentation ceremonies, held in the council chambers.

City Manager Robert Slone informed the council members and the audience present that no city employee has retired during 1965.

Presented a gold pin with a diamond in the center, was City Clerk-Treasurer Charles Heise who has been with the Park for 40 years. The city manager disclosed that Heise handles

Two Confess to Stealing Car After Wild Ride Through Woods; Hitchhiker Freed

Two juveniles in a stolen car, who led Woods police on a 90-mile an hour chase through Woods streets, were arrested on Sunday, December 12. A third youth in the car was released after questioning, when it was verified that he had hitchhiked a ride with the other boys.

Patrolman James Farrell and Donald Schmalz, the arresting officers, said the third youth was not aware that his companions had stolen the car, reported missing by Detroit police.

Farrell and Schmalz said they were on routine patrol at 9:37 p.m., when they saw a car traveling north on Mack at high speed, and gave chase. The officers said they attempted to pace the speeding car from the Lochmoor boulevard intersection, at which time they turned on the scout car flasher and siren.

The driver of the speeding car, however, ignored the pursuing policemen, and stepped up his speed, passing another vehicle. The pursuing patrolmen said they clocked the driver at 90 miles an hour.

Burglar Visits Beauty Salon

A burglar broke into the Seven Hills of Rome Beauty Salon, 17008 Kercheval, Sunday morning, December 12, ransacked the shop, and escaped with "maybe $2 in change," according to Lieutenant Robert Van Tien of the City Police Department.

Van Tien said the man gained entry through the skylight, sometime before 9 a.m. Sunday, took several dollars in change from the register, and then left through the back door.

The salon's management reported the incident to police by phone the same morning, when the rear door was found open. An investigation is pending.

The salon was Barton's of the Pointe until it changed hands several weeks ago.

Park Honors 10 Employees With 270 Years of Service

Ten Park municipal employees, whose tenure of service to the community totals 270 years, were presented pins commemorating the length of time they have served the city.

Following a regular session of the Park council on Monday, December 13, Mayor Matthew Patterson presented the awards during the Sixth Annual Service Awards Presentation ceremonies, held in the council chambers.

City Manager Robert Slone informed the council members and the audience present that no city employee has retired during 1965.

City Spends $750,000 on Big Program

Swimming Pool, Park Addition, Boat Wells, Larger Reservoir, Garage Roof Included

More than three-quarters of a million dollars worth of projects have been completed, are under way, or are under contemplation by the Farms, it was disclosed by City Manager Andrew Bremer, Jr., on Monday, December 13.

Already completed is the new municipal swimming pool at the Pier-Park at the foot of Moro road, which was in use during the summer. The cost of the pool was $222,000, paid from part of the $500,000 bond issue for park improvements authorized by the Farms voters in November 1964.

The balance of the bond issue, $278,000, wisely invested until it is needed, has been increased by approximately $10,000 in interest, Bremer said.

This fund will be used to expand park acreage, and to build new boat wells and make other improvements in the municipal park.

More Water Storage
Improvements are already being made at the Water Filtration Plant, 29 Moross road, to increase water reservoir storage by one million gallons. When completed, at a cost of $107,000, the Farms will have a reservoir storage capacity of 2.5 million gallons.

The completed pool, present and other improvements proposed for better water service to the Farms and the City, the Farms' only customer, proposed expansion and new boat wells and harbor improvements at the park, and a proposed roof for the municipal garage at Chal-fante and Kerby will cost the city a total of about $757,000, Bremer said.

The improvements at the Water Filtration Plant and other water service improvements, will be paid out of water revenues, and will not cost the city taxpayers any increase in taxes, the city manager said.

Roof Money on Hand
Neither will the proposed roof for the garage add to the tax burden, Bremer said. Long range planning and budgeting has accumulated the necessary fund for this project, Bremer said.

The architectural firm of Harley, Ellington, Cowin and Stirtton, has been hired to design the roof of the garage, which will conform to the residential neighborhood. The project is not expected to start until the fall of 1966. It will cost an estimated $80,000, the city manager said.

The $500,000 bond issue approved in November 1964, has added only 50 cents per $1,000 of assessed valuation to the property of taxpayers, spread over a 20-year period.

Another project underway, besides the filtration plant reservoir, is the filling in of submerged land, donated to the Farms by Mrs. James Scripp Whitcomb of 383 Lake Shore road, in memory of her late husband. Mrs. Whitcomb consented to giving the Farms her right to purchase approximately four acres of submerged land on the northside of the Pier-Park.

Get Fill from City
Fill-in is being obtained from excavation at the filtration plant, and from sewer excavations in the City. There is no cost to the fill-in, Bremer said. Contractors will soon pull up the steel pilings from the present edge of the park and relocate them on the new park boundary, he said. The new acreage will be developed for picnic and recreational facilities, he added.

The Farms purchased the submerged land from the Michigan Conservation Department, about two weeks ago, under the Submerged Land Act, for approximately $14,400, or about $3,800 an acre, Bremer said. When completed, the Farms will have been expanded to 15 acres. This phase of the project, exclusive of catwalks, should be finished by March 15, the city manager added.

When the boat wells are completed, there will be added facilities for 96 more boats. It is hoped that this will be a reality by the time the boating season opens in the spring.

Highland Park station, where in the presence of the detectives of that city, he questioned Berzon regarding the several burglaries in the Park.

LaPrat said that Berzon readily confessed to the December 8 burglary, and to nine others committed in the Park, the three in the Farms and the one in the Shores.

Highland Park police found miscellaneous items of jewelry stolen from the Park homes. These were held by Park police as evidence, to be returned to owners at a later date.

Berzon told LaPratt and the Highland Park police, that portable television sets and other appliances stolen from homes had been sold for ready cash.

The youth used several methods of entry into the various homes in order to throw police off the track, but always left his "calling card," that is, his method of operation; in that he was extremely neat in his searches. Everything he moved, he neatly replaced.

Will Pool Complaints

Van Tiem and Marshall, who also went to the Highland Park station to question Berzon, said their respective complaints will be compiled with that of the Park's, when Berzon comes up for trial in circuit court.

Berzon's confession cleared the following burglaries in the Park: 636 Pemberton, October 14; 734 Middlesex, October 18; 822 Lakepointe, November 6; 1223 Buckingham, November 25; 1026 Bedford, November 28; 942 Pemberton, December 2; 1156 Harvard, December 4; and 904 Westchester and 875 Balfour, both on December 8.

In the Farms: 26 Newberry, November 30; 175 Country Club, December 2; and 174 Country Club, December 2.

The lone burglary in the Shores was at 66 Lake Shore lane, which occurred on November 6.

The officers said that the driver, continuing at this high speed, raced through stop streets at Hollywood, Goethe, Charlevoix and Marter road, then turned north onto Marter, and west onto Roslyn, where the car began spinning out of control.

Farrell and Schmalz said the driver brought the car under control and stopped, at which time the three boys jumped out and ran. The officers apprehended the hitchhiker. The other boys were arrested by other Woods policemen in the area.

Confess To Theft

At the Woods station, the two boys held, confessed to stealing the car they were in, from the parking lot of the Harper Theater, Harper and Chalmers. They then went to the home of one of the boys and left a recording tape from the record player in the car, and later picked up the hitchhiker.

The two responsible for the car theft were released to Detroit authorities, the Woods officers said, for further investigation.

fiscal year is ended, it is hoped that new compensators will be installed to evenly distribute power to new high pressure meters connected to be installed. This will cost an estimated $20,000.

Another project for better water service, the city manager said, will be high service meters, to replace present meters, which cannot record the tremendous amount of water pumped during high peak summer periods. Also to be installed are 20-inch water mains to equalize pressure in the present lines. This, too, will cost an estimated $20,000.

All work on the filtration plant is expected to be completed by the end of February, Bremer said.

Reports Thefts During Moving

Woods police are investigating the theft of several articles of clothing and miscellaneous items, reported on Friday, December 10, by Willis Burke, 37, of 4261 Yorkshire, Detroit, formerly of 19980 Emory court.

Burke told police that he recently moved to Detroit, from the Emory court home, and in the process of moving, he left the home unlocked occasionally.

He said that when he arrived at the Emory court house to remove personal items, he noticed the basement door, leading from the garage, and the side door, wide open. However, he said, he did not notice anything amiss at the time.

At his new home in Detroit, Burke said, while searching for specific items, he made the discovery that a number of articles of clothing and miscellaneous items, valued at a total of $785, including an Italian sequin dress, belonging to his wife, valued at $300.

Missing, Burke told police, besides the sequin gown, were a brown suitcase and a blue suitcase containing the miscellaneous items, seven woman's suits, and two other dresses.

The matter has been referred to the Detective Bureau for investigation.

Juvenile Thefts Reported in City

Two cases of juvenile shoplifting occurred in Grosse Pointe City within three hours on Wednesday afternoon, December 8, police reports indicate.

A 14-year-old boy was reported to police by the management of Kresges in the Village at about 1:40 p.m. Officers warned the boy and returned him to his Grosse Pointe home.

Two youths were held by Paul Ruggirello, manager of the National Garage Parking Lots, for stealing money from the lot booth behind Kresges in the Village at 4:10 p.m. the same day. Officers who answered the call found the money in nearby bushes.

Board of Education Hears Community College Report

An increasing number of the graduating class of Grosse Pointe High School are attending community colleges. This fact emerged from Monday night's meeting of the Grosse Pointe Board of Education.

The major portion of the session was devoted to a report by four community residents who served on the Citizens' Participatory Study Committee of the Wayne County Community College Study. The meeting was held at 389 St. Clair avenue in the schools' administration building.

Mrs. Minert Thompson highlighted the increasing local need for community colleges by stating that in 1960 4.2% of the graduating class of Grosse Pointe High School attended a community college. The following year 7% attended a two-year college and in 1962 the total rose to 9%. By 1963 10% of the members of the local graduating class chose a community college and in 1964, the last year for which figures are available, the total rose to 12%.

Mrs. Thompson, 662 University place, served on the Program Needs Committee. During the study R. R. Linden, 761 Fisher road, served as chairman of the Sites and Housing Committee and as a member of the Steering Committee. Recently he was named to the Executive Committee which will direct the forthcoming campaign. Also serving during the study were John B. Ross, 301 Touraine road, who served on the Publicity Committee and Marshall V. Noecker, 109 Handy place, who served on the Finance Committee. They were introduced by George Eddington of the schools' administrative staff.

The four Grosse Pointers who served on the year-long study revealed that Wayne County will ballot on three propositions on April 4. Issues to be decided are:

1. Establishment of the Community College District in 38 school districts, including Detroit.
2. Approval of a levy of $1.25 per $1,000 state equalized valuation to establish one campus in the downriver area, a second in the west-southwest area, and three in the north-northeast area, and three in the north-northeast area of Wayne County.
3. Selection of a six-member board of trustees to govern the proposed Wayne County Community College District.

Commenting upon the financing of the project, Mr. Noecker said that operating costs for the proposed community college district have been estimated at $650 per year per equated full time student. He indicated that annual revenues to meet operating costs were estimated at $50 from federal aid, $234 from state aid, $200 from student tuition, and $166 from a levy on state equalized valuation.

Edward J. Pongracz, president of the Board of Education, praised the four citizens for the important community service rendered through their participation in the year-long study.

Each of the speakers presented the recommendations of the committee on which he served. Mrs. Thompson said that as a result of exhaustive surveys conducted among high school students and graduates as well as among employer groups, a number of conclusions were reached:

1. There should be equal emphasis placed on college transfer programs and technical and vocational programs in the community colleges of the community college district.
2. Of the high school students who had no intentions of attending college or taking additional training after high school graduation, more than five out of ten stated they would attend college or take additional training if they could do so part time.

3. Of the high school seniors who had no intentions of attending college or taking additional training, four out of ten indicated they would attend college or take additional training if facilities were within a reasonable distance of their home. Of those who had graduated and had not continued their education or training, five out of ten indicated they would have if facilities had been near their home.

4. Both the seniors and graduates who indicated they had no intentions or had not attended college or taken additional training stated they would if they had financial assistance. Four out of ten of the 1965 class indicated financial assistance would alter their intentions for further education or training. More than six out of ten of those who had graduated, indicated they would have attended college or taken additional training if they had adequate finances.

5. Approximately 25 percent of the seniors indicated they would attend a community college after graduation from high school. Of those who had graduated in 1963, approximately 40 percent indicated they would have attended college or taken additional training if facilities were near their home.

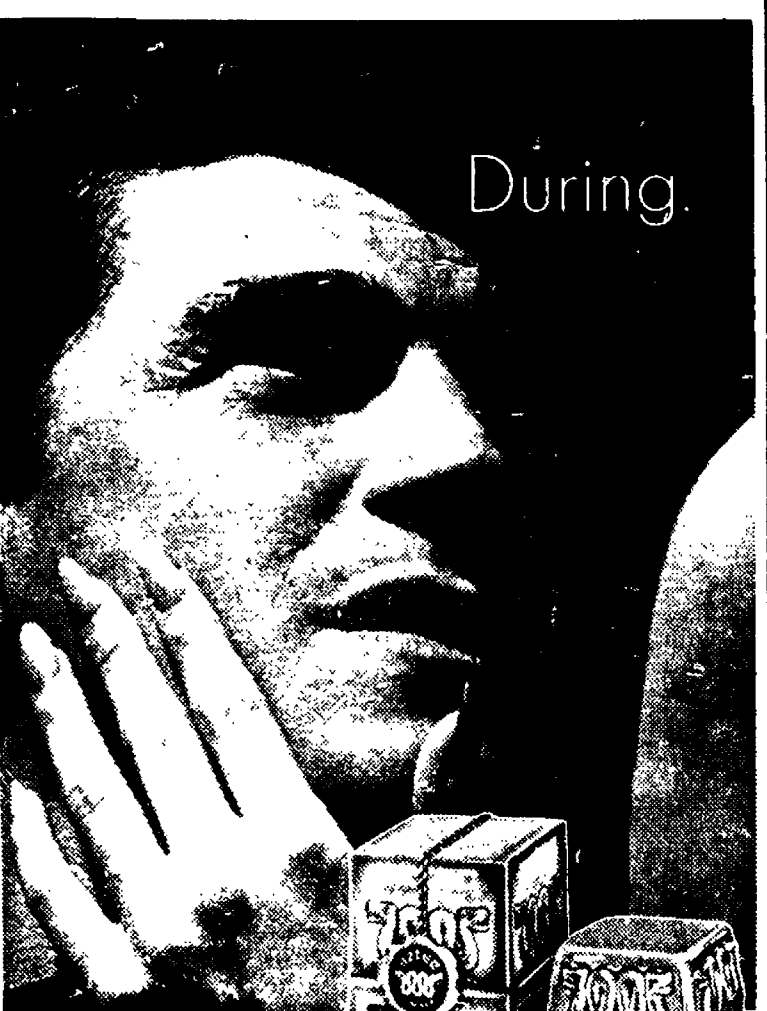

6. Of all the seniors, 64 percent revealed intentions to attend a college. Of the graduates who responded, 45 percent attended college.

7. Senior and graduate respondents indicated their interest in college programs were: (1) teaching; (2) engineering; (3) accounting; (4) nursing; (5) social work; (6) medicine; and (7) law.

8. Senior and graduate respondents indicated their interests in additional training were: (1) secretarial; (2) nursing; (3) drafting and design; (4) business retailing; (5) airline service; (6) electronics technology; (7) automotive technology; (8) (Continued on Page 4)

Community College Report

data processing; (9) electrical technology; and (10) mechanical technology.

Mr. Linden stated the findings of his sub-committee. In part, they are:

1. The needs of the Wayne County Community College District will best be met by a number of campuses, so located as to serve the many communities in Wayne County. Five campuses will be needed by 1970 and three or four additional campuses may be required before 1980.

2. It is recommended that both an "open" enrollment policy and an "open door" admission policy be established for the Wayne County Community College District. Under the first a student residing anywhere in the district may enroll at any campus; under the second any one may enroll as a student, even though the community college is selective in those it retains, graduates, and recommends for placement.

3. It is recommended that three campuses be secured in the northeast area, composed of Grosse Pointe, Harper Woods, Detroit, Hamtramck, Highland Park, Redford Township, and part of Dearborn Heights. Two additional campuses may be needed in this area after 1970. 4. It is recommended that, at each of the five initial campuses, adequate facilities for a full time equivalent enrollment of from 7,500 to 10,000 be completed by 1970. This will require 5,000 student stations on each campus. A community college of this size is best suited to a metropolitan area and assures a broad, comprehensive program plus complete community service while securing economy of construction and operation at the same time.

5. Basic considerations in selecting sites should be accessibility and centrality in the community to be served. Site size should be related to population density and to land costs.

6. A study by the Sites and Housing Subcommittee shows that an adequate number of potential community college sites is now, or will be, available in each area of Wayne County. Much suitable publicly owned land exists and privately owned land is available in the suburban and semi-rural areas. Urban renewal lands offer the best possibilities in the heavily populated northeast area.

7. On a 5,000 student station campus a space allotment of 125 square feet per student station should provide adequate facilities for a broad, comprehensive program of academic, technical, and vocational education, with an excellent library, a student center, an auditorium, and minimal physical education facilities. The use of high-rise buildings will be justified on small, urban sites, while low-rise buildings will be better adapted to suburban sites.

8. It is recommended that an average of $17,500,000 for facilities plus $500,000 for site acquisition, be budgeted for each of the five campuses. The cost of facilities include construction, furnishings and equipment, site development, professional fees for additional consultants and architects, and an allowance for contingencies. This is based upon an estimated cost of $28 per square foot, or $33,500 per student station of 125 square feet.

9. It is recommended that the board of trustees develop a complete, long-range physical plan, based upon a comprehensive educational plan, for the establishment and growth of the many community college campuses needed in Wayne County. The first five campuses included in this plan should be completed by 1970. Temporary facilities may be employed during the early stages of development, but permanent facilities should be completed as rapidly as possible.

Mr. Noecker commented on the financial aspects of the proposed community college district:

1. This study and the recommendations are in accordance with the legal provisions in effect at the time of the study.

2. Based on projected high school enrollment, the estimated community college enrollment in the proposed community college district in 1970 would range between 31,650 and 47,500 equated full time students.

3. Based on the estimated cost of $650 per year per equated full time student, a tax levy for operation on state equalized valuation would range between .6309 of a mill for the conservative estimated enrollment and .9469 of a mill for the liberal estimated enrollment.

4. Capital outlay expenditures for the acquisition of sites, construction of buildings, equipment, and fees based on the liberal estimated enrollment would require a tax levy of approximately .45 of a mill on state equalized valuation.

Mr. Ross presented the conclusions and recommendations of the Publicity Sub-committee:

1. The present publicity sub-committee members would become the nucleus of a campaign committee.

2. A campaign committee should be formed to handle the overall campaign throughout the county.

3. The Regional Campaign Committees should consist of at least forty (40) persons per region.

4. An executive committee should be established on the basis of three persons from each of the five regions, to set overall policy and arrange for distribution of materials to the regions.

Judge Weideman Receives Honor

The Detroit Alumni Senate of Delta Theta Phi Law Fraternity, at its annual meeting on Wednesday, December 8, held at the University Club, presented a plaque and paid tribute to Wayne County Circuit Judge, the Hon. Carl M. Weideman.

In presenting the plaque, Dean H. Rollin Allen said that it was given to Judge Weideman for "his meritorious and distinguished services to the community and to the fraternity." Judge Weideman's family came to Detroit more than a century ago. Weideman grew up in the City, attending public schools and was graduated from Central High in 1914. This was followed by four years at the University of Michigan, then his study of law at Detroit College of Law.

The end of the World War I found young Weideman attending Officers Material School for the Navy in which he had enlisted.

Judge Weideman was a member of the Saturday showings of the United States in 1933 and 1934 and a delegate to the Democratic National Convention in Philadelphia in 1940.

He was elected Circuit Court Commissioner in 1937 and held that office until 1939 when he was appointed to the Circuit bench where he serves at the present time.

Judge Weideman has been a leader of many civic enterprises during his public career. He is a past president of the native born Detroiters, past Commander of the Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War, a member of the American Legion, an honorary member of the Detroit Turners and president of the North American Gymnastic Union for fifteen years.

St. John Hospital Chapel Memorial to Mrs. Fisher

French and Italian marbles, Italian carved wood and bronze, Venetian mosaics and Bavarian stained glass will decorate the new St. Edward Chapel in St. John Hospital when it is opened at dedication services Wednesday, December 22.

The chapel, which seats over 350 people was begun less than a year ago as a memorial to Mrs. Adeline Fisher from her family. Mrs. Fisher, for over 40 years a resident of Detroit, was one of the first patients at St. John.

The major part of the structure was donated by her husband, Edward F. Fisher, now of Brighton, Mich. Also contributing memorials were her children: Mr. and Mrs. C. Bradford Lundy, Jr., of Ballantyne road, Mr. and Mrs. James K. Campbell, of Hiddenbrook lane, Birmingham, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Audette, of Harsdale, Bloomfield Hills. A bronze engraved plaque at the entrance to the chapel announces the chapel's dedication and donors.

Names of other individuals who contributed gifts and memorials will also be placed on a plaque in the building.

The chapel is located on the first floor of the hospital's left rear wing.

In keeping with the family's desire for a Christmas dedication, opening ceremonies will follow a 9:30 o'clock low mass on Wednesday morning, December 22.

To Light Deming Lane with Gas

A petition, signed by nine residents living in Deming Lane and Newberry place, and received by the Farms council on Monday, December 6, asked for permission for the installation of street gas lighting units, rather than regular electric street lights proposed for the future.

John A. Hendrie of 343 McKinley, who spoke for the residents, said that the six families living in Deming lane feel that gas lights will adequately light up the lane, and in front of their homes.

He said that each property owner is willing to pay for the fixtures and the cost of installation, and to pay for the use of the gas.

The petition bore names of residents living in Newberry place because, they stated in the document, that if conventional lights are installed, the lights

Teaching Parley Conducted at HS

Modern Techniques of Teaching and Testing Foreign Languages was the topic of a Conference on Practical Evaluation (COPE) co-sponsored by the Grosse Pointe Public School System and Educational Testing Service of Princeton, N.J. The meeting was held on Wednesday, December 8, at Grosse Pointe High School.

Dr. H. Leroy Selmeier, Assistant Superintendent-Instruction, who arranged the conference locally, said that the program covered many of the significant changes that have occurred in language teaching in recent years and considered new techniques for testing student skills in listening, speaking, reading, and writing.

Representing ETS at the conference was Mrs. Jean Reiss, Associate for Educational Relations in the Cooperative Test Division. She described for the audience of administrators, curriculum specialists, and department heads, how teachers can improve their test-making skills with the help of a special testing guide developed by ETS and the Modern Language Association of America.

Serving as consultant at the conference was Mrs. Barbara Ort, State Consultant in Foreign Language.

Dr. Selmeier said that 55 educators, including representatives from 12 other districts as well as from several non-public schools were present.

Educational Testing Service is a non-profit educational organization to schools and colleges. Since 1961, ETS has conducted over 400 conferences for educators in major cities. These meetings have been designed to help administrators make

Xmas Services At Memorial

Christmas Services at the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church will begin on Sunday at 9:30 and 11:15 a.m. with special music arranged by Professor Malcolm M. Johns, Choirmaster. Selections from Handel's "Messiah" will be sung by the Chancel Choir, and the Junior Choir will sing Bach's "Jesus, Thou Art Mine." The Reverend Bertram deHeus Atwood will preach on "Christ Was Born For This."

The Annual Candlelight Vespers will be held at 4 p.m. next Sunday by the combined youth choirs. Their processional will be illuminated by new electric candles, the gift of the George Hooper family. Dennis Jones, carillonneur, will play a special recital before the Service.

On Christmas Eve the traditional family service will be held at 5 p.m. with the Junior and Junior High Choirs singing, "If Ye Would Hear the Angels Sing." James Scott will play a violin solo; and the offertory will be "Come, Children, Praise Our Lord," by Schubert. The Reverend Gary Gruber will give a special children's sermon. The 10:45 p.m. Service on Christmas Eve will be the celebration of Holy Communion. The Reverend Ben L. Tallman will preach on "The Ecstasy and Agony of Christmas."

The Chancel Choir will sing the first modern U. S. performance of the Christmas Cantata composed by Andreas Hamerschmidt in 1655. This charming baroque nativity music was discovered in Kassel, Germany, during Professor Johns' sabbatical last year. It is entitled, "Thir Lieben Hirten" (Good Shepherds, Fear Not...) and is a musical setting of the Christmas Story in Luke. The work has both organ and instrumental accompaniment. Nancy Cary and Karen Thomas will be the violinists, and David Arndt will play the bassoon.

On Sunday, December 26, at 9:30 and 11:15 a.m. Bach's "Christmas Oratorio" will be sung by the 135 members of the Adult Choir. They will be accompanied by 17 members of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra. Participation of these professional musicians has been made possible by memorial gifts by several members of the Church.

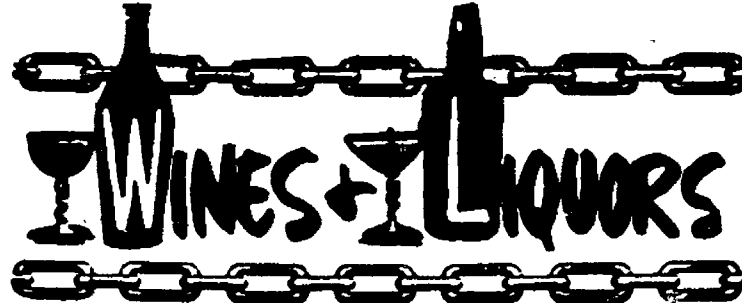

The public is invited to all of these services.

Parcells Plans Xmas Concert

"A thing of beauty is a joy forever" in Keatsian poetry and also in the Parcells Junior High Auditorium on Monday, December 20, when the annual Christmas Concert takes place.

The Music Department traditionally presents the concert for the winter P.T.A. program. Mr. Leonard Riccinto will direct 340 voices divided into grade group choruses.

The seventh grade chorus will sing "I Come From the Mountain," a Puerto Rican folk song in a combination of Spanish and English. The eighth grade will sing "The Christmas Song" and "It's Beginning to Look A Lot Like Christmas." Soloists Lois Faust and Lloyd Switzer will perform in "Gesù, Bambino" with the special eighth grade chorus which also will sing a jazzy version of "Jingle Bells" and a German folk song in German. "The Sleigh" and a Russian folk song will be heard from the ninth grade chorus.

The Brass Ensemble will perform familiar carols during the evening. It consists of Darrel Statzer on trombone, Mike Merritt, Ron Peppier, and Chris Snyder on cornet, Chris Fenton on French horn, and Brian Morone on tuba.

The beauty of the evening appeals not only to the ear but to the eye as well. The Art Department will enact Christmas tableaux on stage as an extension of the theme in the festive displays. Students are working to decorate the lobby and auditorium in a scheme designed by Mrs. Esther Mel-drum and Mrs. John Wargelin.

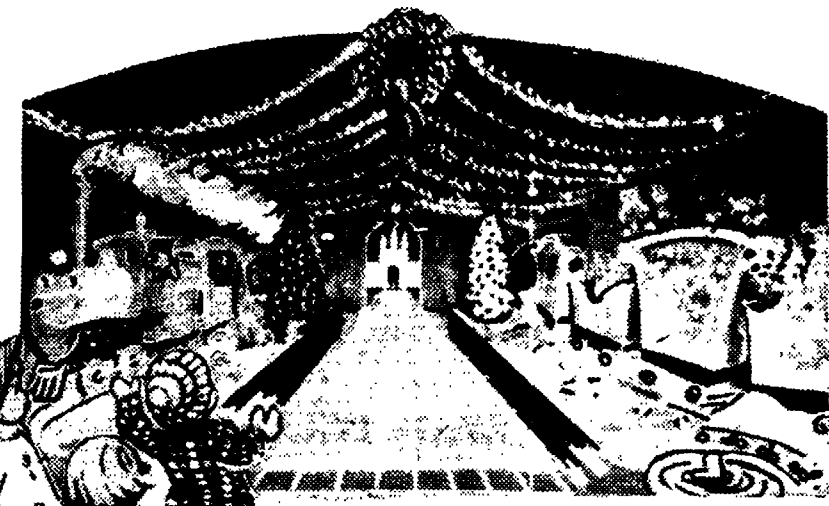

At the conclusion of the concert, refreshments will be served in the gym by the homeroom mothers under the direction of Mrs. Robert Schueler.

The 1966 Oldsmobile Toronado, with front-wheel drive, is the most unique automobile in many years. A six-passenger hardtop coupe, it is available in a standard or deluxe model. Driving traction and handling under every conceivable road condition are only two of the outstanding characteristics of this car. In styling, too, the Toronado is distinctive and unique. A specially-modified 425-cubic-inch Toronado V-8 and Turbo Hydra-Matic transmission deliver power to the front wheels. Inside, the Toronado provides full 6-passenger spaciousness and features a flat floor.

Collect Stamps To Buy Presents

The Key Club of Grosse Pointe High School is collecting merchandise trading stamps to buy toys for underprivileged children. The drive is part of a contest sponsored by radio station WXYZ among area schools, according to Richard Beech, Key Club adviser.

As an incentive, WXYZ will donate a free dance to the school that donates the most stamps.

Either loose stamps or stamps already in books will be accepted by the Key Club. Residents wishing to donate stamps should send or take them to Richard Beech at the High School by Thursday, December 16. Beech and a group of club members will spend Thursday evening assembling the stamps in books at Broadcast House in Southfield.

The Club already has collected "about 12,000" stamps, Beech said, but the station says they are still way behind other schools participating in the contest.

Two Cars Tangle At Intersection

Alleged failure to yield the right of way earned a ticket for Mrs. B. N. Skellie, 758 Harcourt, Thursday afternoon, December 9, when she continued south into Maumee on Notre Dame and was struck by Bertha M. Sansone, 22907 Rosedale, St. Clair Shores. She was charged with reckless driving, police reported.

Damage included a dented right side on the Skellie auto and a smashed left front on Mrs. Sansone's car. Both cars were driven away.

SLOW DOWN

Colder weather is on its way in the near future—and experience proves that when the mercury skids, so does your car.

Pointe Offices Closed Dec. 24

Municipal offices in all five Grosse Pointes will be closed the day before Christmas, December 24, and all but the Park offices will close again the day before New Year's Day, December 31.

Park City Manager Robert A. Sloane explained that the Park's facilities will remain open for the convenience of those who wish to pay taxes before the end of the year. The police may be notified of emergencies on the days the offices are not open.

All municipalities except the Farms will extend the vacation to Department of Public Works employees on the 24th and 31st. Farms DPW workers will work those days, according to Andrew Bremer, City Manager, and will be paid for the holiday.

Natural ability may be a birth-right, but everyone has to hustle for experience.

Men's Night Big Success In Village

The snow was missing, but the male shoppers of Grosse Pointe turned out en masse for their annual stag night in the Grosse Pointe Village Shops. The gay, holiday mood of the Christmas lights and "Red Bell Tree" was accentuated by the Detroit Edison calliope, riding up and down Kercheval, playing bright Christmas songs: the bustling pop-corn wagon and the popular Delta fashion show — complete with calypso music and pretty models.

Music and refreshments played an important part in this 20th Annual Men's Night which is sponsored by the Grosse Pointe Commerce and Civic Association. Kay Baum housed the popular Grosse Pointe band of Chip Steiner, Dave Fernstrum, Tim Shea, Joe Carnaghi and Bill Montgomery, known as The Wanted. They provided swingin' music to shop by, as bright young girls bounced through the store, exhibiting the latest fashions.

At Best and Co., City manager, John Cantwell was seen enjoying the hot coffee and cookies served up by elegantly gowned hostesses.

Proving "The way to a man's heart is through his stomach" was the line of men drawn to the Gas Company Hospitality Center by the tantalizing aroma of freshly cooked hamburger. Jacobson's featured entertainment in many forms. A lovely songstress sang Christmas melodies in the dress salon, while stunning models paraded chie evening wear for admiring customers. Heard throughout the store were the bright, happy sounds of the strolling accordionist, while upstairs, Joe Sparma (Detroit Tigers), Tom Varsdale (Detroit Pistons) and Jerry Schoenith (Gale's Roost-erail) were on hand for autographing and chitchat with their fans.

Men's Night also heralded the opening of many Village stores until 9 every Monday through Friday until Christmas.

Young Hoodlums Insult Sexton

A group of teenagers in a passing car tossed a whiskey bottle at a Grosse Pointe Memorial Church sexton and a boy in another car spit at him while he was waiting for a bus on Jefferson Friday night, November 26, according to a report made to police.

The man, Rufus Clay, 59, of 3769 Townsend, Detroit said the incidents occurred about five or ten minutes apart, while he was waiting for the bus at Fisher and Jefferson about 11:45 p.m. He said the first car, "an old Ford or Chevy," seemed to contain about six boys "around 14 or 16." It was traveling west on Jefferson, he stated, when one of the boys leaned from a window and threw the bottle at him.

A few minutes later, Clay said, a car with about three or four boys the same age as the first group passed him, also moving west. "One of the boys in the back seat let a window down, then he leaned half-way out and tried to spit at me," he stated. Clay said it was too dark for him to tell what kind of car they were driving, but he did not think he had seen the boys before.

Rev. Bertram DeH. Atwood, minister of Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, had no comment except to say that he "felt very badly" about the incident.

Clay said he had never been bothered before while waiting for the bus, although youths had shouted at him while he was working in the church yard. He has been employed for about three years at the church, where he is one of four sextons.

Pierce Choirs Plan Program

Miss Harriett Marsh, choral music instructor, is presenting the five choral groups of the John D. Pierce Junior High School, Friday, December 17, in a Christmas concert. The program begins at 8 p.m. in the Pierce Auditorium.

The ninth grade group arrives by procession in the auditorium to present the first portion of the evening's program, which centers around the traditional tableaux constructed on stage. Mr. John Mason has assumed the planning and directing of the still-life characterization. The opening number to be sung is Noble Cain's "On This Good Christmas Morn." Bridget Oliver carries the solo in "Behold That Star" while in "Sing Gloria" a duet by Lynn Codrington and Wendy Schneider will be featured. The other ninth grader carrying a solo part is Earl Estes. "The Praise Carol" concludes the 85 upper classmen's part of the program.

The 75 eighth grade choraleers have selected "Christmas Carol Fantasy" and "Coventry Carol" as their contribution. The 64 members of the seventh grade chorus will open with the song "Wind Through the Olive Trees" and "Rise Up Early." They conclude with Barbara Beebe at the piano and Scott Daniels on the autoharp furnishing the accompanist for "What Child Is This."

The Girls' Glee Club and the Boys' Glee Club, named the Pierce Boosters, are prepared to perform "A la Russe," "I Heard the Bells on Christmas Day" and "The Carolers" by Matheson. The Boosters will use Steve Unger as soloist in "The Christmas Song" and have included in their repertoire "Silver Bells" plus Christmas favorites. The entire lists of chorists numbering nearly 360 will assemble to present the finale "We Wish You the Merriest."

Staff members are assisting in various ways by supervising a make-up committee and a stage crew. Mrs. Eugene Miller and Mr. Don Richards handle these details. Mrs. William Grierson is selecting ushers. Mr. and Mrs. William Ludwig, P.T.A. president will assist John Mason and Robert Rathburn in decorating the auditorium.

The public is cordially invited and there are no tickets required.

Library Events Break Records

Attendance at the Public Library's film programs and Story Hours has reached an all-time high, according to Robert M. Orr, Director of Public Libraries.

More than 40 persons attending the film program for December had to be turned away for lack of space on Friday, December 3, after 250 were admitted. During the past month, 150 residents attended the Friend's program to hear Dr. Frank Porcells, 130 attended the Family Film Night, and 45 were present at the Friends' Film Forum.

The Library also reports increases in the number of telephone calls for information, as well as in reference and readers' advisory questions answered. Circulation of adult and juvenile records, tools, films, film strips and tapes have increased.

Circulation of books dropped for the fifth straight month, but the number of books checked out was, after the four percent decline, still 10 percent above recent months.

FIND STOLEN CAR

Farms Patrolmen James Vitale and John Kraiza were credited with recovering a stolen car in front of 255 Lake Shores, where it was abandoned by car thieves. The car was reported stolen from a Detroit location. The Detroit Police Auto Squad was notified of the recovery and picked up the vehicle and returned it to the owner.

Burglar Visits 3rd Park Home

The same burglar who broke into two Park homes, one on December 2, and another on December 4, visited another Park home on Wednesday, December 8, it was disclosed by Police Chief Arthur Louwers.

The latest burglary was of the home of Mrs. Edith McBride, 904 Westchester. Mrs. McBride told police that she had left home at about 8:15 a.m. and returned at about 8:16 p.m., to discover that her home had been thoroughly searched. She said she found the front door standing open.

Chief Louwers said that the burglary was committed, evidence showed, between dusk and a few minutes before Mrs. McBride arrived home. It is possible she might have frightened the thief away, he said. The thief gained entry into the house by breaking the glass of the rear door, he added.

The method of operation in the latest burglary, the chief said, leaves no doubt that the burglar is the same person who forcibly entered the homes of Arthur L. Wilson, 942 Pemberton, December 2; and Max J. Stringer, 1156 Harvard, December 4, and in homes in other communities in the area.

Each of the homes entered was completely but neatly ransacked. Everything that was disturbed was neatly replaced.

What is missing from the Wilson residence is still not known, Chief Louwers said, since a report is still forthcoming from the Wilsons who have been in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., for the past two months, where they are building a new home. The furniture in the Park home is covered and smaller items packed, preparatory to being transported to Florida.

At the Stringer residence, the burglar took a portable television set and a transistor radio, values not known. Nothing else was reported missing.

Chief Louwers said that this particular burglar appears to be looking only for money, but is not averse to taking portable television sets and radios, both of which items can be disposed of quickly for cash.

An experienced educator with service in the Birmingham Public Schools to her credit, Mrs. West has taught both first and second grade classes. A graduate of Monroe (Michigan) High School, she completed her formal education at Wayne State University where she has also done graduate work.

Mrs. West's professional affiliations include both the National Education Association and the Michigan Education Association. Music and dramatics are among her interests; last summer she participated in the activities of the Will-o-Way Theatre in Bloomfield Hills. In addition, she has been acting in Grosse Pointe Optimist shows for the past five years.

Mr. and Mrs. West are residents of Grosse Pointe Woods. Not pictured is Donald Wilson who teaches physical education at Mair and Defer, and who joined the staff of The Grosse Pointe Public School System in January of 1965.

A graduate of Michigan State University where he was affiliated with Phi Gamma Delta, he has done graduate work in school administration.

Also an experienced teacher, Mr. Wilson taught in his native Detroit for four years prior to joining the local schools.

Sports, reading, and traveling occupy Mr. Wilson's out-of-school hours. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson are the parents of Donna Lynn. They reside in Grosse Pointe Woods.

"I am pleased to have had

Mrs. West and Mr. Wilson join the staff. They have made many valuable contributions to the welfare of our boys and girls," Dr. Cooper commented recently.

Probation Violator Given 30 Days in County Jail

Howard G. Haskins, no known address, was sentenced to 30 days in the Wayne County Jail by Woods Municipal Judge Don J. Goodrow on Saturday, December 11, for violation of probation.

Haskins was traced to a Harper Woods bar which he frequented, by Woods Det. Sgt. Jack Mast and Det. Gerald Kensora, on Wednesday, December 8, when word was received from Haskins' probation officer, that the man was in violation of probation by failing to make restitution in the amount of $44.79 to the Wayne County Road Commission, through the Probation Department, for damage to Commission equipment while employed by that agency.

Thomas Morrin, probation officer, contacted the Woods Public Safety Department regarding Haskins, who was placed on probation on November 9. Morrin disclosed that Haskins failed to appear before him as directed by the court and every effort to contact him at 22819 California, St. Clair Shores, the address given by Haskins, has been without success.

Mast and Kensora went to the St. Clair Shores address and found that it was the home of Haskins' parents, and that their son only lived with them when he was without funds.

The detectives located the man's wife, from whom he is separated, but she told the officers that she had not seen her husband since his November court appearance. Further, she said, her husband had taken her car and was using it without her permission.

Mast and Kensora checked at Haskins' place of employment at 23919 Little Mack, St. Clair Shores, and were informed that the man had not reported for work for several days.

Acting on a tip, the detectives went to the Harper Woods bar, where Haskins was placed under arrest and taken before Judge Goodrow on the violation of probation charge.

Haskins was sentenced to the jail term after he entered a plea of guilty as charged. Prior to his being remanded to jail.

Former Offenses Trap Petitioner

Floyd C. Hinsby, Jr., of 1887 Broadstone, stopped at the Woods police station on Monday, December 6, to obtain a purchase permit for a revolver, and ended up under arrest for a traffic offense committed almost two years ago.

Woods police said they had a warrant for Hinsby, for failing to appear in Woods court on March 21, 1964, on a charge of driving while his license was revoked.

A call to Municipal Judge Don Goodrow, by police, brought instructions from the judge to release Hinsby until he is summoned for another appearance in court on the charge.

Hinsby was not allowed to go free because a check with Detroit authorities disclosed that they had three outstanding traffic warrants for his arrest. He was released to Detroit police officers who arrived to take him in custody.

the judge warned the man that he must pay the amount owing the Road Commission for damages on his release from jail.

The judge also warned Haskins that on his release he is to appear before his probation officer for a talk, and to report at any time directed until the end of his probation period on June 1, 1966.

St. James Plans Special Services

St. James Lutheran Church announces the following special services for the Christmas season:

Christmas Eve will herald the traditional Candlelight Carol Service, which will begin at 11 o'clock. The meditation by Pastor George Kurz will be based on Luke 2: 1-20 and divided into three themes: Preparation for Christmas, Meaning of Christmas, and Results of Christmas.

The Chancel Choir will sing many carols one of which will be "Josef Lieber, Josef Mein," arranged by Vicar Roger Goetz of St. James. Soloists for the evening will be Mrs. William Heller and Mrs. Evan Evans. One of the musical highlights will be solos by cornetists, Ralph Jewell and his son. They will be featured, together with the organist, in the Processional, Offertory, and Recessional numbers. The Choir Director is Carl Munzel.

On Christmas Day at 11 a.m., St. James will hold its Christmas Morning Family Service. Holy Communion will be offered at this service. The sermon will be based on the Introit for Christmas Day, "Unto us a Son is Born" from Isaiah 9:6. A nursery is provided for young children.

The Annual Traditional Children's Christmas Program will

Brownell School Having Concert

More than 300 students of Dewey D. Kalember and Daniel Evola, instrumental and vocal music instructors at Brownell Junior High School, will perform in their annual winter concert tomorrow evening, Friday, December 17.

Beginning at 8 o'clock in the school's auditorium-gym, the mass chorus and orchestra will open the program with the traditional carol "Adeste Fideles, O Sanctissima," arranged by Isaac, thus setting the mood for the evening.

The 67-piece symphony orchestra has been practicing very hard through past weeks to prepare their instrumental numbers. These include "Dolce's Program Prelude" (based on two English folk tunes), Schubert's "Entr'acte" (from "Rosamunde"), and Isaac-Smith's "Old English Dance." A smaller select group of strings will also present Barnes and Purcell's melodic "Chaconne," an old Spanish dance in three-quarter time. To conclude the evening's program, the orchestra (composed of seventh, eighth, and ninth graders) will join with the combined choruses and audience in a beautiful arrangement of "Silent Night."

Other choral arrangements include the familiar spiritual, "Jesus, Jesus, Rest Your Head," to be sung by the seventh grade girls, glee club; and "Sing Alleluia Christ Is Born," "Merrily Sing a Christmas Carol," and "Ring Those Christmas Bells" all to be presented by the ninth grade glee club.

Making its debut in this year's concert is a special group of 40 ninth graders selected by Mr. Evola for vocal competence. The A Capella Choir has prepared two numbers requiring exceptional tonal control and harmony: Practorius' "Lo How a Rose E'er Blooming," and "Now is the Caroling Season."

The Boys' Ensemble, which has been rehearsing regularly before school, has prepared two numbers with a masculine flavor: "God Rest Ye Merry Gentlemen," and "Behold That Star," with Mike Boruta and be presented at the 9:30 a.m. service on December 26. The theme of the program is "The Angels of Christmas" with all Sunday School children participating.

This year, the traditional Day of St. Stephen the Martyr falls on this Sunday, the 26, and Pastor Kurz will preach the 11 a.m. sermon on the living faith of this early Christian.

To those who have no church home of their own, St. James extends a most cordial invitation to worship with them at these Christmas services.

Tuxis will try to brighten the Christmas season for shut-ins and hospitalized persons in the Detroit area next Sunday, December 19. Tuxis members will leave the parking lot of the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church at 7 o'clock p.m. to go Christmas caroling at the Detroit Receiving Hospital and to many men, women, and children who are unable to leave their homes.

"There are many people in the Detroit area who really have no Christmas at all," said Mr. Gary R. Gruber, Tuxis sponsor. "Many people are deprived of the opportunity to celebrate Christmas because of physical ailments. I think that it is actually a necessity for church-sponsored groups to try to brighten the Christmas season for people who are less fortunate than we are," he continued. "When we realize how fortunate many of us are, we need to be reminded that others are not so well off. By trying to brighten the season of Christmas for other people, we also brighten it for ourselves." Tuxis members will also be giving shut-ins and patients at Receiving Hospital favors which were made during a Tuxis meeting two weeks ago.

Highway Department Set For Battle Against Winter

The Michigan Department of State Highways is geared up for winter again.

It has started spreading salt for Michigan motorists and expects to dispense 217,000 tons of it by the time the robins start peeping next spring.

And as usual, the Department is again determined to try to conduct Michigan motorists—and truckers—to their destinations on ice-free pavements.

This seems incredible in a state that had an average snowfall last winter of 96.27 inches—eight feet—but Highway Department maintenance men believe they have a reputation to uphold and that users of Michigan highways have a right to expect to go anywhere, any day of the year.

Jud Richardson, budget controller of the Highway Department's Office of Maintenance, and Sam Cryderman, assistant maintenance operations engineer furnish facts, figures and philosophy.

"It's a fact," Cryderman says, "that Michigan residents are accustomed to a state highway system that is open every place, every day of the year."

"Almost everyone gets to his job in the morning in an automobile, sometimes from 50 or 60 miles away. I know of people who live in Grand Rapids, work in Lansing and drive back and forth every day, 65 miles each way, a one-hour freeway ride in good weather."

"Some Michigan highways and Interstate freeways have become extensions of factory assembly lines. If truckloads of parts couldn't get through on schedule, or were held up for more than a day, some factories might be forced to shut down."

Richardson, whose interest is chiefly in budgeting maintenance funds to out-guess winter's demands, takes a similar view. "Of course it's expensive," he says. "Winter maintenance of state highways last year cost $10,762,000."

"On the other hand, the people of this state have become so dependent on an open highway system that a long tie-up might find thousands of workers laid off and hungry. It's a rare grocery store these days that can stay open for a week without receiving fresh supplies by truck."

The Department of State Highways, Richardson explains, performs its own maintenance work and owns trucks, plows and other equipment in only 20 Michigan counties—Baraga and Mackinac Counties in Upper Michigan, Kalkaska, Montmorency and Oscoda in northern Michigan, Isabella and Saginaw in the central area and a block of 13 counties in the southwest corner of the state.

The other 63 counties, called "contract counties" maintain their own crews and equipment and bill the Department for maintenance work on state highways.

In addition, Richardson says, 164 cities maintain state highways within their limits, and the cost of this work also is billed to the Department of State Highways.

"Even so," Richardson points out, "the Department owns 302 snow-plow attachments, nine rotary plow attachments called sno-gos, 10 wing plows and 194 underbody scrapers, plus 56 motor graders which are pressed into use in emergencies."

"All this machinery, of course, is used in only the 20 direct maintenance counties. County road commissions in the contract counties own a great deal more. The total amount of equipment available, and the public trust in our ability to keep the highways open give us an incentive to keep state highways clear of snow, if not completely dry."

"Marquette County, for example, the largest Michigan county in area, has 821 miles of state highway and county roads and owns 40 pieces of equipment, including 29 four-wheel-drive trucks with underbody scrapers and plow attachments."

"Other counties own as much equipment or more, and the total runs into thousands of scrapers and plows."

Blue Devil Court Team Defeats Fordson, 69-59

By Ed Gruca

The Blue Devils took over the Fordson gym like they owned it last Friday night. After the Devil reserves had taken their game, Bob Miller, 6' 4" forward, gave the fans a thrill by accidentally shattering the glass backboard behind one of the baskets during the pre-game practice.

The varsity topped the evening with a 69-59 victory.

One of the rarest occurrences in basketball, the shattering of the backboard, was certainly the high point of the night. After the incident Miller nonchalantly said, "I'm not fazed, I was just trying to dunk (the ball)." Center Bob Czarniecki commented that the basket rim was 2 inches higher than the one at the other end of the court and said Miller was "trying to bring it back in shape."

A Fordson staffer said the backboard was practically brand new and claimed that Miller hung onto the rim. Fordson will have to replace the backboard at a loss of a few hundred dollars.

Workmen switched a backboard from the side of the gym to replace the broken one and the varsity game started about 20 minutes later.

Despite the win, the consensus of the Grosse Pointe boys was that they played far below par and won only because Fordson played even worse. To this effect Coach Hollosy said, "We played very poor basketball."

Devil Reserves Defeat Fordson

By Edward Grauca

The Devil reserves will go into their weekend games against Monroe and East Detroit undefeated, having whipped Fordson 64-47 for their second straight win last Friday. The big factor in the win was a 14-point streak for Grosse Pointe in the third quarter.

Coach John Blondin said the reserves have much room for improvement and said about the game, "At times we were real good, and at others poor."

Dean Di Basio scored 23 points and Chris Slowik 13 to lead the Grosse Pointe scoring. Grosse Pointe took a 6-0 lead, but the Tractors got red hot and took over a 14-8 margin. Early in the second quarter Di Basio and Slowik strung 7 points in a row to take the lead back at 17-14. The Tractors regained the lead, and then the Devils grabbed it back at the close of the half.

The Devils came on like a white tornado at the start of the third quarter. Dave DiCiccio scored in a layup. Slowik added another. Di Basio put in 3 straight baskets. Then Slowik and Di Basio put in one more each to make it 14 points in a row and a 15-point lead.

The regulars left the game with 5 minutes left and a 22-point margin.

The one-sided victory against Fordson was in direct contrast to the first game thriller against Dearborn. After stealing the ball with 7 seconds left in the game, a Dearborn shot rolled off the basket rim as the buzzer sounded, leaving the Devils with a 59-58 win. The line scores:

Grosse Pointe	19	12	10	18	59
Dearborn	12	17	13	16	58
Grosse Pointe	10	15	24	15	54
Fordson	14	10	9	14	47

Two Ski Clubs Planning Trips

The War Memorial's Grosse Pointe Ski Hi Club for teens (grades 9-12) has scheduled two Christmas vacation trips. The 4-day trip to Boyne Mt., Boyne Highlands and Nubs Nob is full but a second bus is being put on to accommodate members wishing to ski at Mt. Holly, Wednesday, December 22.

Round trip bus transportation, chair lifts and insurance are covered by a $4.50 charge. Members wishing to go should register immediately at the Center's office. Ski Hi membership is $3 for the season.

The Center's Adult Grosse Pointe Ski Club still has a few places available for their New Year's ski trip leaving Thursday, December 30, at 6 p.m. via charter Greyhound for Weatherford Lodge at Charlevoix. Rates are $33-$36.50 for members; $35-$38.50 for guests.

A New Year's Eve party is featured along with skiing at Boyne Highlands and Boyne Mt. The group returns January 2, Sunday at midnight. Immediate reservations are necessary.

St. Paul Lakers Win Third Basketball Victory in Row

St. Florian, which hasn't had a basketball victory yet this year, fell to undefeated St. Paul last Friday night 80 to 44. St. Florian's Lakers lost considerable talent last year through graduation but put up a determined struggle as the Lakers of St. Paul couldn't quite get moving.

Lack of hustle apparently plagued the Lakers in the first part of the ball game as scores were low and mistakes were many. St. Paul never did move into high gear but because of their opponents' weakness, this was not necessary.

The first quarter saw only 19 points scored as the Lakers lulled their way to a 13-6 lead. Don Oliver commanded the St. Paul squad in this period as he pumped in 6 counters.

Both teams began to hit a bit better in the second quarter as the Lakers built up a 12 point lead and left the floor at half-time as a 34-22 score was posted. Rick Jablonski headed the Lakers in this period with 10 points.

Ron Frankland and Rick Jablonski combined for 15 points in the third quarter and helped to push the Lakers to a 66-31 edge as the Lakers were held to only 9 points.

The Lakers' biggest show of power came in the final period as St. Florian fell victim to a 25-point scoring burst at the hands of St. Paul's bench members. Ed Mannino led the final quarter assault with 10 points. St. Florian was also forced to substitute in this quarter as the Lakers met with foul trouble.

As the contest closed, the Lakers of St. Paul had arrived at a 36-point lead and left the court with the 80-40 score glaring from the scoreboard. Despite the large final margin, the Laker ball players were rather disappointed with the poor style of ball they had played.

St. Paul's attack was led by Rick Jablonski who netted twenty-two points. Don Oliver followed with 12 while Ed Mannino and Don Ame each added 10. The losers were sparked by the 14 point effort of Labrosse. Dolocki and Kowaleski each contributed seven.

The Lakers took practically all the jump balls and dominated the small Florian team on the boards. Don Ame chalked up 14 rebounds while Don Oliver added eight.

This Friday night at 8 o'clock St. Paul will play host to Roseville Sacred Heart.

Time to Recheck The List

Christmas shopping all done? That lengthy list checked off completely? Better look again. It's highly possible you've overlooked someone who deserves to be remembered at this time of year.

What about the police and firemen? They do a pretty good job all year around of being on hand to protect us and our interests, to render services both routine and beyond the call of duty. Any cats been pulled out of your treetops this year? Any expert help needed when you locked yourself out of your house? Any stray youngsters or animals returned? The public safety departments of all of the Pointes have special funds into which all gratuities are poured throughout the year, then equally distributed to all members come the holidays. It adds considerably to the happiness which Christmas can mean, and it affords us a pleasant opportunity to express our gratitude.

How about your refuse collection crew? Did you make any special demands on them this year, such as extra pickups at house or garage cleaning time, going out of their way to keep your rubbish-depositing area tidy? They would appreciate a monetary thank-you about now.

Our postmen do a marvelous job for us all year long, and we often are extremely thoughtful by making them tote our mail up unheavily or unsalted walks, or allowing officious dogs to greet them in a manner far from friendly.

Our newspaper deliverers are normally most efficient and earn a special recognition, though they can sometimes be as slipshod as the rest of us. About one more carelessly tossed paper that has to be retrieved, pajama-clad, from the bushes, yards from the door, and out comes the black pencil to cancel out one name on our list.

Give thought to all of those who serve you throughout the year, then do something concrete about it. A Christmas present is often counted on to help handle the financial burden of the season. It will be greatly appreciated by the recipient, and should also help warm the cockles of the giver's heart.

Letters to the Editor

December 5, 1965

To the Editor:

What is happening to our teen-agers? I am one, but at times am ashamed and embarrassed to admit it. It seems to me, as one from the inside looking out, that something needs to be done in the line of discipline.

I am specifically referring to the problem in the Village. The way that most of the young people down there are acting is completely inexcusable. Where have good manners and decency gone? What are the parents of these teens doing? It certainly doesn't look like they are too conscientious or concerned with their obligation to raise their children into decent human beings. The situation is becoming increasingly worse, and if something is not done, it will become more so.

Grosse Pointe youth have a bad reputation to begin with, and this conduct is just making it worse. Are parents too busy being sociable to know that their little darlings occupy themselves by throwing lighted matches at people, being nuisances, rowdy, and completely rude to some poor victim of fate who is trying to shop in the Village? It is my opinion that it is, (in some cases), the responsibility of these parents for what their child does. What can be done? Is it getting so bad that someone who is in this class has to complain? Where are all the people who constantly complain about what us "horrible teen-agers" do? They are more words than action, and are, in my opinion, part of the problem!

Need I say more?

INDIGNANT

To the Editor

You were a little harsh on your merchants. If you added up the entire amount spent at church fairs, etc. I think you'd find that quite a bit of cream is felt most keenly by the smaller specialty shops, who must pay for your ads and for taxes among other things. It is not exactly equal competition.

Sincerely,

Mrs. Robert C. Everett

What Goes On at Your Library

By Virginia Leonard

WHAT GOES ON

I've just come back from a week's vacation (following the Thanksgiving weekend) — perhaps that's the reason that I seem to have reached a very low ebb, journalistically. My next week's Christmas column is already written. I've spent two weeks suggesting books for you to give as Yuletide gifts, and telling you about our displays of dolls. Let's face it — I've just about milked the subject, and I'm almost tempted to launch forth into a pan of praise for St. Patrick's Day, the joys of baseball, or the origin of shrunken heads. Just anything to be inappropriate or out-of-season.

I've just concluded a week of Christmas shopping, of listening to carolling, sleighbells, and ho-ho-hos. I've seen season displays (and trees) of every color; I've seen suggested gifts I never thought of or imagined ever existed. I've addressed all my Christmas cards. I've even read a few new books, and several that I especially enjoyed. I'd like to mention to you John Updike's OF THE FARM is one. If you like Updike you won't want to miss this slender novella, with strong, sensitive portraits of a dominant, dominating mother, a dominated, 35-year-old son, his second wife, and her 11-year-old son. Here is an author who has a gift for language—for words, which he uses with brilliance.

Georges Simenon's THE LITTLE SAINT is a masterly depiction of genius which sprang from the squalor of a Paris slum. Little Louis Cuchas, son of a vegetable vendor, is revealed through his memories and marvelous detachment from childhood to his success as an artist. Simenon has been quoted as saying that if he could keep but one of his novels, this present one would be the one he would save, for here he feels he has finally shown the peace and joie de vivre possible in a human being.

A third novel, PADDY ON SUNDAYS by Edward Caddick tells the story of Len (alias Paddy), an exceptionally bright child, who escapes the dullness of his existence by spending each Sunday at the zoo, where he is befriended by a wealthy but mentally ill Mrs. Biggin. His attempt to escape his own environment, only to find one even sadder, is pathetic but sensitively done.

As you can see, a librarian on holiday never really gets away from books. If she isn't reading them, she is being attracted by glittering and colorful displays of them in shop windows, finding them in friends' living rooms, noticing them (usually paperbacks) jutting out of overcoat pockets. When with companions, she finds herself discussing them (books, that is). They form a warm, unifying bond, a fine method of communication, a way to keep up with events in the world.

During the week, I can remember discussions on Vietnam, the war on poverty, urban renewal, the United States' domestic policy, the Great Society, adolescence and its thrusting, immediate problems, to name a few. In some cases, books had spearheaded the conversation; in others, people were motivated to go looking for supplementary, authoritative material on these issues. And where will they go? To newspapers, magazines, and books. I'm not being at all subtle and I'm sure you're way ahead of me — naturally, they will in many cases, seek assistance in their local libraries.

For the Grosse Pointe trade, we have three agencies well equipped to help everyone add to his stock of information and enrichment. Granted, Christmas may slow you down with its multitudinous extra demands, but if your feet get tired, the house is noisy, and you need a short walk or ride, one of our Libraries may have the answer to your problems. Perhaps you need a new recipe for cookies or a handicraft book to help your decorating or do-it-yourself projects. Possibly friend husband needs something from our tool collection; how about an art print to change the tone of one of your rooms? And the children — you'd better have some reading material handy for a rainy vacation day.

We hope you will notice that gradually our adult shelves are becoming more colorful — we are now keeping the dust jackets (laminated) on all of our adult books. And if you need something copied, we now have a Xerox machine that can do the job at 25 cents a page.

Then there is post-Christmas to think of (oh come on now, you can think that far ahead!) What about that winter vacation? Don't you want to read up on the area you plan to visit? Your trip will be more satisfactory if you do. Or how about some light novels or mysteries for the bed-stand if you aren't up to anything more weighty than that?

I suspect I've meandered a bit, but I warned you that I, too, had reached a pre-Yuletide plateau. But whether at work or on vacation, I never seem to get away from books and their varying impacts. Nor do I want to. To me, it is stimulating, exhilarating, and makes every aspect of living more meaningful.

WOMEN'S PAGES

From Another Pointe of View

By Janet Mueller

The Episcopal Church Women should know more about Christmas customs than any other group of ladies in The Pointe after their meeting next Tuesday, in Christ Church Undercroft.

Following 10 o'clock Communion, and the regular monthly session at 10:30 o'clock, eight foreign exchange students living in local homes and studying at local schools will describe "Christmas in Our Lands."

The three boys and five girls, seniors at Grosse Pointe High School and Grosse Pointe University School, represent their various countries through the American Field Service and Youth For Understanding programs.

Anne du Vivier is from Belgium, Mike Bernhoff from Denmark, Yoko Higuchi from Japan, Crista Buchla and Astrid Vollert from Germany, Lea Vasanen from Finland, Willie Lam Chang from Guatemala, Clementine Van Goch from Holland and Ogas Tatis from Turkey.

Their "parents" for the year are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Frey, the William Ludwigs, the Robert Hutons, the Clifford Astons, the Lester Getchmans, the Murray MacNabs, Mr. and Mrs. Earl I. Heenan, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Gorey, Jr.

Anyone interested in hearing this program is welcome. Reservations for luncheon following the meeting may be obtained by calling the Christ Church office.

Home For The Holidays

If we were basking in the warm Jamaican sunshine, we just might not COME home for the holidays, but Mr. and Mrs. Arthur O. A. Schmidt, of Lakecrest lane, and Mr. and Mrs. Earl G. Meyer, of Tonnancour place, Christmas shopping completed and all "rested up" for the party whirl, are dreaming of a White Christmas.

Montego Bay was lovely while it lasted . . . but the Schmidts, chairmen of the New Year's Eve Parisian Ball at the Detroit Boat Club, really do HAVE to get home . . .

Arriving Saturday from their Huntington Beach, Calif., home, to spend Christmas in The Pointe, (as they do every year), are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilmot, and their daughters, Kimberley Ann, five, and two-year-old Kelly.

The Wilmots will be spending half their holiday time here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Foster, of Broadstone road, (Mrs. Wilmot is the former Susan Foster), half with his parents, the Judson Wilmots, of Bishop road.

And coming from Greenwich, Conn., to celebrate Christmas with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emmet E. Tracy, of Provencal road, is Mrs. James D. Farley, with Franny, Jimmy and Kathryn Tracy Farley.

Mrs. Farley and the children will be joined Christmas weekend by Mr. Farley, whose business commitments prevent him from enjoying a long, leisurely holiday vacation in The Pointe.

Fine Arts Christmas Dance This Saturday

Party Theme Is "Christmas Tree, Oh, Christmas Tree"; Choral Group to Entertain After Dinner At Grosse Pointe Yacht Club

The Fine Arts Society of Detroit will hold its annual Christmas Dinner-Dance at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club this Saturday evening, December 18.

A club as old as the Fine Arts Society, (founded January 25, 1906), forms a great many traditions during its existence. But all members agree that their favorite party of the entire year is the Society's Christmas Dinner-Dance.

This became a tradition in December, 1948. Phillip R. Flinders was president.

Remembering the difficulty with which the Christmas program of music and drama had been produced the previous year because of long hours in rehearsal at The Players during the busy holiday season, he suggested that the artistic program of the December meeting be simplified and that members meet for dinner and dancing in a spirit of Christmas gaiety and joy.

That meeting, held on December 21, 1948, at the GPYC was called an "Old English Christmas Party" and Dinner began with a wassail bowl and ended with flaming plum pudding. On the program was dancing and the singing of carols.

It has been a tradition since that date to hold the annual Christmas meeting of Fine Arts at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club. Down through the years the table decorations have been fabulous.

Members of this old Detroit club are invited to exhibit their many outstanding talents by creating and executing ingenious ideas according to a general theme.

This year's theme is "Christmas Tree, Oh, Christmas Tree." Friendly inventive competition will bring forth cleverly and sometimes "curiously" fashioned Christmas trees.

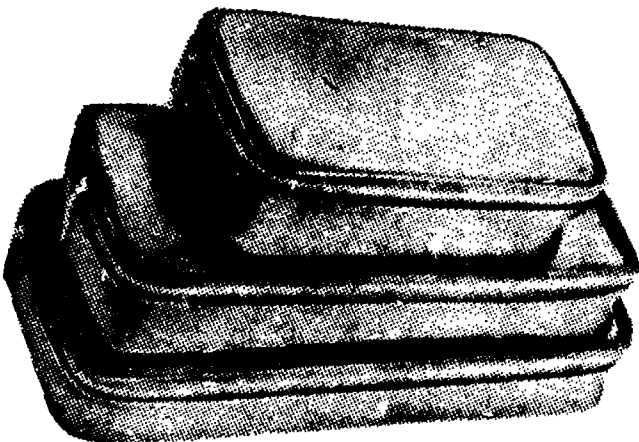

The list of talented "decorators" includes the Leslie C.

MR. and MRS. JAMES T. TREWARTHA, of Haverhill road, Detroit, announce the birth of their first child, a daughter, KELLY ANN TREWARTHA, November 24. Mrs. Trewarttha is the former EILEEN CROSS, daughter of DR. and MRS. HAROLD E. CROSS, of North Deeplands road. Paternal grandparents are MR. and MRS. LESLIE J. TREWARTHA.

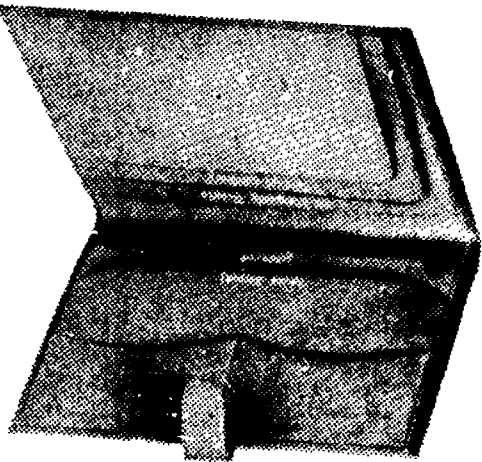

The Christmas Season started for the members of Delta Kappa Gamma on Wednesday, December 8 at the home of MRS. MERCEDES JACOBS, in Fairway drive. There was a social hour for the members, all key people in education, hosted by MISS MARIAN HENDEE of Parcels, MRS. CHARLOTTE GORNING of Monteith, MISS MARGARET SCHMIDT of Pierce, and Mrs. Jacobs of Mason.

The final debuts of the '65 Christmas Season, Elizabeth Goodenough, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel M. Goodenough, Janet Page Fuger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pierre Fuger, and Winifred Croul, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Croul, will be presented Christmas Eve, at a tea dance at the Grosse Pointe Club.

Robin Odenweller Wed on Saturday

Speaks Vows to Gordon T. Meloche, Jr., in Christ Church; Reception at Officer's Club, Selfridge Air Force Base Follows Rites

Robin Odenweller chose a traditional gown of white peau de soie, accented with re-embroidered Alencon lace, for her marriage Saturday afternoon to Gordon T. Meloche, Jr.

Her bouffant illusion veil fell from a lace petal headpiece, and she carried an arrangement of gardenias and stephanotis.

Reverend Erville Maynard officiated at the 4 o'clock rites, in Christ Church. A reception at the Officer's Club, Selfridge Air Force Base, followed the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Odenweller, of Hillcrest road. Her husband is the son of Mrs. Gordon T. Meloche, of Redford, and the late Mr. Meloche.

Maid of honor Karen Meloche, the bridegroom's sister, wore a floor length red velvet frock, a holly wreath in her hair, and carried a white fur muff, accented with holly.

Michael Moore served as the bridegroom's best man. Ushers were Brian Brewer and Harvey Klein.

For her daughter's wedding and the reception, Mrs. Odenweller chose a pale pink brocade dress and matching jacket, with a pale pink hat. Her corsage featured deep red carnations and holly.

Mrs. Meloche, the bride-

Christ Church was the setting for the Saturday afternoon wedding of ROBIN ODENWELLER, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Odenweller, of Hillcrest road, and Mr. Meloche, son of Mrs. Gordon T. Meloche, of Redford, and the late Mr. Meloche.

Presbyterians Plan Pageant

Everyone is invited to the Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church which will be the setting for its annual Christmas Pageant.

The pageant was written, and will be directed by Mrs. Louis L. Bambas on Sunday night, December 19 at 7:30. Thirty-two members of the Thistle Club, the senior high school students of the church, will enact the pageant.

The music will be provided by the 162-voice A Cappella Choir of Grosse Pointe High School, directed by Mr. Herman Klein. The choir will sing selections from Mendelssohn, Handel's "Messiah," and other selected Christmas songs. In addition, Mr. William Christoferson will direct a 12-voice grade school choir in the singing of selected Christmas carols. The only solo in the pageant will be an excerpt, "Hear our Prayer," from Mendelssohn's "Capriccio," sung by Sue Lane.

Before attempting to develop the pageant, Mrs. Bambas and the members of the Thistle Club met to discuss the meaning of the Christmas Story in the 20th Century. Out of this discussion came the idea that many people in the world today are not treated as individuals, but as "categorically coated statistics." Also, it was pointed out that through the coming of Christ, life was revealed for what it can be for every individual.

Stemming from this discussion, the first scene of the play was derived. Here, 11 characters from all walks of life discuss this problem of the apparent loss of individuality. A U.S. Marine, Dave Ferris; a stage manager, Holly Hayes; King Herod, Ken Warren; Herod's attendant, Pam Thomson; an angel, Rusty Smith; a professor, Lee Ferris; a research scientist, Dave Hayward; a nurse, Sandy Nankervis; with three battered refugee children; a sculptress, Karen Reuter; a modern business man, Mark Watson; and a housewife, Jayne Clark with her two children, hold an interesting discussion on this theme.

This "argument" builds to the Christmas Story. Here, Linda MacCullum as Mary, and a cast of 22 others enact the birth of Jesus.

Hard working committee members are: — Anita Watson, make-up; Mrs. Fred Tew and Mrs. Bernard Clay, costumes; Bill Carson, sound; Miss Marie McHenry, props; Ken Warren, settings; Rick Hyde, lighting; Barb McBrien, co-ordinator; and Mrs. George Thomson and Mrs. James Crozier, book-holders.

Visiting her mother, MRS. RICHARD M. MCKEAN, of Williams court, recently were MR. and MRS. AUGUSTIN H. PARKER, of Dover, Mass. Mr. Parker's son, GEORGE, vacationing from Lake Forest College, also spent some time in The Pointe, staying with Mrs. Parker's brother-in-law and sister, the B. COURTNEY RANKINS, of Ridge road.

BRUCE FOX, son of MR. and MRS. THOMAS FOX, of Radnor circle, has been awarded athletic honors at DePauw University, where he is a freshman. He is one of eight first year scholar-athletes awarded freshman cross country numerals by the University's Athletic Board. He is majoring in Economics at DePauw.

Players To Entertain Children Saturday

Traditional Stocking-Packing, Tree-Decorating Party Scheduled Friday Evening; Show To Be Beamed On XMAS-TV

The Players are busy putting the finishing touches on their 37th annual Christmas show and party for some 325 of Detroit's underprivileged children.

It will be held next Saturday morning, December 18, at the Players' Playhouse in East Jefferson avenue.

The stage will be turned into a Santaland television studio, "XMAS-TV," from which will emanate a closed circuit spectacular beamed to the receiver on Santa's sleigh—to keep him entertained as he makes his appointed rounds.

The children will make up the VERY live studio audience. Headlining the show will be Eddie Peabody, wizard of the banjo and an Honorary Life Member of Players. Eddie, a great favorite in Detroit, is appearing at the Roostertail.

The Player show also features Ron Bauer, magician; Russell Gordinier, puppeteer; Verne Minge, artist, (who sketches the "command requests" of the youngsters), "The Susie Qs," girl singers, the Players' 14-piece orchestra and the Players Glee Club.

A large complement of clowns will be under the supervision of Player Benjamin F. Guiney. Player Frank T. Judge, Jr., will be master of ceremonies and Player Joseph A. Powers will be Santa Claus.

A repeat performance is scheduled Saturday afternoon for the Players' own children, grandchildren and the youngsters' guests.

The Christmas party preparations are the occasion for one of the most enjoyable of all the Player Season activities—the stocking-packing and tree-decorating get-together the night before.

Players and their wives gather in the informal atmosphere of the lovely old Playhouse, prepare stockings for the children, decorate the tree and theatre and then linger for an impromptu afterglow and songfest, sometimes until the wee hours.

Player G. Robert Cook is this year's chairman of the committee in charge of all special events and for the fourth consecutive year the Christmas activity has been under the direction of Player Board Member Joseph O. Wilson.

Santa To Arrive Via Helicopter

Santa Claus will literally "drop in" at the Country Club of Detroit's annual Children's Christmas Party.

The jolly fellow with the long beard is scheduled to arrive via helicopter this Saturday, December 18.

He'll stay for luncheon with the boys and girls, and for the entertainment, featuring cartoons and juggling by unicornist Floyd Morgan.

To Marry

At a family cocktail party Sunday afternoon in their Ridgmont road home, Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Kleefuss, announced the engagement of their daughter, KAREN ANNE KLEEFUSS, to James Kolp, son of Mrs. Edward A. Kolp, of Anita avenue, Harper Woods, and the late Mr. Kolp.

An April 15 evening wedding is planned, in St. Paul's on the Lakeshore.

College Crowd Holding Dance

All collegians and young adults in the Grosse Pointe area are cordially invited to a gala New Year's Eve Ball and Mid-night Supper from 9:30 p.m. Friday, December 31, to 1:30 a.m. Saturday, January 1. The affair is semi-formal and paid reservations at $5 per couple are requested at the Center's office in advance.

Two bands will play. The Bill Perich Four will play sophisticated smooth music and the Aristochords will provide rock 'n roll.

Just before midnight a grand march will form and noise-makers and hats will be given out. The New Year will be welcomed with dimming of lights, the traditional kiss and the singing of Auld Lang Syne.

Then will follow a delicious ham and turkey buffet complete with salads, relishes and cakes. Dancing will continue till 1:30.

Only 250 couples can be accommodated. Get your tickets early.

Reception at Detroit Athletic Club Follows November

27 Rites; Newlyweds Travel to Puerto

Rico and Virgin Islands

Patricia Mary Alter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Alter, of Audubon road, became the bride of Charles Robert Rutherford, son of Mrs. Albert Rutherford, of Toledo, O., and the late Mr. Rutherford, November 27.

Reverend Jerome A. Petz, S.J., uncle of the bride, assisted by the Reverend John Overberg, the bridegroom's uncle, officiated at the 1 o'clock Nuptial High Mass in SS. Peter and Paul Jesuit Church, East Jefferson ave.

For her marriage, the former Miss Alter chose an Empire gown of silk peau de soie, fashioned with Watteau pleats and a Cathedral train.

She wore a floor length mantilla of Alencon lace, and carried a crescent shaped bouquet of white orchids and ivy.

She was attended by her sisters, Elizabeth Ann Alter, who served as maid of honor, and Donna Marie Alter.

They wore floor length gowns of emerald green velvet, and carried crescents of Eucharis lilies and ivy.

Edward Rutherford acted as his brother's best man. Seating the guests were Joseph Rutherford, another brother, James Alter, brother of the bride, John Mervenne, Raymond Le Blanc and Leo Linsenmeier.

A reception at the Detroit Athletic Club followed the ceremony. The mother of the bride wore a moss green silk and wool costume suit, with matching accessories.

Mrs. Rutherford, the bridegroom's mother, wore a Navy blue silk crepe ensemble.

After a vacation in Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands, the newlyweds are making their home in Detroit.

MR. and MRS. THOMAS L. ORR, JR., of Darien, Conn., announce the birth of a daughter, ELIZABETH ANDREWS, November 25. Mrs. Orr is the former BARBARA LEONARD.

To Be Soloist

With Ballet

Gay Wallstrom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry K. Wallstrom, of Lochmoor boulevard, will appear as soloist with the Contemporary Civic Ballet Company in a concert with the Oak Park Symphony Orchestra this Sunday, December 19, at 3:15 o'clock, at Oak Park High School.

Special artist Richard L. Brown will perform a viola solo in the first part of the concert. Gay has studied ballet for 12 years. Last summer, she worked in professional classes with outstanding teachers in London and Copenhagen.

In addition to attending Grosse Pointe High School, she takes lessons in ballet daily from Rose Marie Floyd, rehearses for concerts and teaches ballet.

Miss Floyd organized the 24-member Contemporary Civic Ballet Company in 1955. This season marks its 10th anniversary of performing with symphony orchestras, including the Grosse Pointe, Mt. Clemens, Allen Park Scandinavian and Oak Park Symphonies and the Arts Academy Orchestra at Interlochen.

At Sunday's concert, the ballet will perform the classical "Overture to Oberon," a character piece to "Roumanian Rhapsody," a patriotic number to "Stars and Stripes Forever," and selections from Offenbach, including the Can-Can.

Teens March This Weekend

Eileen Quirk, 16-year-old Grosse Pointe High School Junior, will direct the Grosse Pointe March of Dimes Teen Age Program (TAP) tag day collection this Friday and Saturday.

Eileen, as TAP chairman of the Pointes, will supervise the activities of 50 teenagers who will seek contributions in shopping centers and supermarkets in the Pointes this weekend.

"We'll be out Friday evening and Saturday afternoon," she promised.

"We know that beyond the fun and excitement lies the important purpose of fighting birth defects. More than 250,000 American babies are born each year with serious birth defects. We want to do what we can to really help improve chances for the birth of healthy babies."

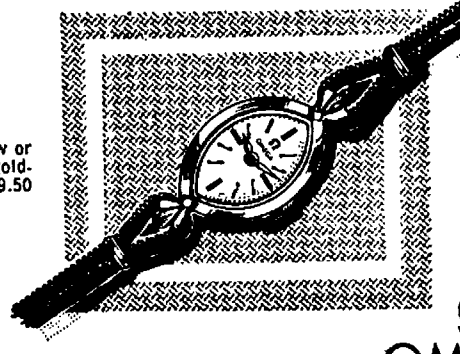

The girls will wear tags reading: "Teens are proud to help the March of Dimes." They will also carry clearly marked canisters. Their minimum goal is $500.

Eileen's interest comes naturally. Her mother, Mrs. C. J. Quirk, has served in the past and also presently is chairman of the Mother's March in Grosse Pointe Woods and "I just got interested," Eileen explained. This is the third year Eileen has taken part in the March of Dimes Campaign. In two previous drives she and her classmates sold peanuts.

"We were younger and operated on a small scale," she recalled. "Now, we are branch-its programs of research, treatment and education is now doing more than any other private organization to combat birth defects," said Eileen.

The Wayne County Chapter currently is financially assisting five students—two in medicine; two in nursing and one in physical therapy.

Coast Guard Children

To Have Xmas Party

The annual Christmas party for the children of the U.S. Coast Guard Regulars on December 18 will be hostessed by Flotilla XII-7 of the U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary.

This will be the third year these ambitious ladies have offered their services and delicious home-baked cookies.

Santa, of course, will be the big attraction. The Detroit Fire Department Clowns will add to the fun of the day.

Mrs. Vincent McCallum, of Bedford road, is chairman of the party. Mrs. McCallum has been commander of Flotilla XII-7 for the past two years. She is the wife of Division XII U.S.C.G. Auxiliary Captain-elect Vincent McCallum.

St. John Hospital

Has New System

A new communications system that speeds the admission of patients has been installed at St. John Hospital in Detroit.

Sister Richarda S.S.J., hospital administrator, said the setup includes telephones equipped with pushbutton pads at seven of the hospital's nursing stations and a teletypewriter in the admitting office.

Use of the communications equipment in the admission of patients, the first of its kind in the country, provides faster, more efficient service for patients.

As soon as a patient is discharged, an employee at the nearest nursing station puts in a phone call to the admitting office.

Using the pushbutton pad associated with the phone, the employee taps out various numbers, indicating which patient has been discharged, hospital room number and the time. When a room contains more than one bed, the bed number also is noted.

This information is typed automatically by the teletypewriter in the admitting office.

After the bedding has been changed and the hospital room cleaned, another call is made, notifying the admitting office that the room or beds ready for another patient.

Sister Richarda said the equipment, installed by the Michigan Bell Telephone Company, is expected to be put to other uses in the future.

For instance, the hospital, being expanded to 500 beds, contemplates sending billing information from the nursing stations to the administrative office by using Card Dialer telephones.

Information about hospital services, such as x-rays and laboratory tests, would be pre-coded in the plastic cards used with Card Dialer phones.

After a patient has been x-rayed, for example, a call would be made to the billing department. An employee would tap out numbers identifying the patient. Then the card containing information about the type of service rendered and the cost would be inserted into the Card Dialer. A tap of a button would send the information to the billing department.

The information would be received in punched card form that could be processed by the hospital's computer and posted to the patient's account.

Friends Of Sick Poor Sponsor Open House

Donation Tea Scheduled This Sunday Afternoon; Dominicanettes Will Sing Carols During Party Hours

The Dominican Sisters of the Sick Poor and their Auxiliary members, the "Friends of the Sick Poor," will welcome visitors to St. Ann's Convent in West Boston boulevard, Detroit, between 2 and 5 o'clock this Sunday, December 19.

Auxiliary president Mrs. Joseph Churches will greet guests in the Convent entrance hall, where a festive tree has been erected and trimmed by president emeritus Mrs. Jerry Flanigan, past president Mrs. Walter Tomicic and her daughter, Mrs. C. R. Kamhout.

The Dominicanettes, a group of young women who assist the Sisters in their work, will sing carols during the afternoon.

Presiding at the tea tables will be Miss Margaret Bradford, Mrs. Harry Dunn and Mrs. George VanAntwerp.

Proceeds from this donation tea party and Open House will help the Sisters continue their work as nurses and visitors in the homes of the sick poor. Most of their patients are elderly people, existing on pittance pensions, with no money to seek a visiting nurse's aid.

There are young patients, too. The Sisters have made 3,743 visits to these sick poor, donating their services without regard to race, creed or color, during the past year. At Christmas time, the Dominican Sisters of the Sick Poor try to bring a little extra cheer to all their patients—a special toy for a child in a cast, a warm sweater or a pair of badly needed slippers for an elderly man, a basket of food, so that a family may enjoy Christmas dinner together.

Monies raised via the tea are used for these "extras." Among Pointers working on this annual fund-raising project are Mrs. Harry Howenstein, Mrs. Charles T. Fisher, Jr., Mrs. L. Verne Ansel, Mrs. Emmet Tracy, Mrs. Arthur Kirchner and Mrs. Walter Bayer.

Macomb Dental Auxiliary Has Christmas Meeting

Members of the Macomb County Dental Auxiliary gathered last Tuesday evening, at the Warren home of Mrs. Frank Wilson, for their Christmas meeting. Mrs. Helen Huber demonstrated the technique of making hors d'oeuvres and tea sandwiches for the holidays.

Mrs. Daniel Pierron was the meeting chairman. Decoration and dessert assignments were handled by Mrs. Robert Keyes. Mrs. Michael Kratochwill and Mrs. Marion Siatczynski.

Enjoying Oyster Party

MR. and MRS. WILLIAM F. SHERMAN, (right), of Doyle place, welcomed the beginning of the Holiday Season with Consul of France JEAN LEDIREACH and MME. LEDIREACH, of Sunningdale drive, at an Oyster Party, sponsored by the Alliance Francaise of Detroit. The menu featured over 2,000 oysters imported from the Maritime Provinces of Canada, a sumpuous hot and cold buffet with peaches marinated in wine for dessert, and an assortment of French wines. The Alliance Francaise is an organization seeking to promote French culture in the United States.

Turkey Tips For Holidays

For each generous serving of roasted whole turkey, (you may need more than one serving per person), allow ¾ to 1 pound of ready-to-cook weight for birds weighing less than 12 pounds; ½ to ¾ pounds for birds weighing 12 pounds and over.

For each serving of roasted turkey — quarter or half, or braised drumsticks or thighs cut from large birds, allow ¾ to 1 pound of ready-to-cook weight.

Unstuffed frozen turkeys should be almost completely thawed, (until they are pliable), before cooking. Do not thaw commercially frozen stuffed birds before cooking.

The refrigerator is the best place to thaw. Thaw birds in their original wrappers. To shorten the time, turkeys sealed in watertight wrappers may be thawed in cold water. Do not use warm water. Change water often, and allow from 2 to 6 hours depending on size of package.

Thawing also may be started in the refrigerator and finished in cold water. Frozen turkeys should be cooked soon after thawing.

Roasting Preparation—10 Steps:
1. Remove thawed turkey from bag, rinse, and pat dry.
2. For roasting unstuffed bird, rub inside with salt, (about ¼ teaspoon per pound). Do not salt if bird is to be stuffed.
3. If stuffing is to be used, allow one cup per pound of turkey.
4. Fill neck cavity lightly, but do not pack. Fasten neck skin to back of turkey with skewer.

5. Stuff body cavity lightly. Do not pack, since stuffing will expand while cooking.
6. Tuck legs under band of skin at tail or tie with heavy string; when ¾ done, cut skin or string to free legs.
7. Fasten wings to body, using skewers or string.
8. Brush entire bird with shortening, oil or melted butter. For deeper color, 2 teaspoons paprika may be added to melted shortening.
9. Roast as desired at 325 degrees F. 20 Minutes per pound.
10. When turkey is done, remove from oven, cover tightly with aluminum foil, and allow to stand about 20 minutes for easiest carving.

A meat thermometer insures cooking the turkey to just the right degree. Insert it so that the bulb is in the center of the inside thigh muscle or thickest part of the breast muscle. Be sure the bulb does not touch the bone.

On whole turkeys the thermometer will read 185 degrees F. when the bird is done.

If no meat thermometer is used, move the drumstick up; the leg joint should give readily or break if done. Or press drumstick meat between fingers; meat should be very soft when done. Do not pierce meat with fork.

Turkeys need proper care and handling in the home. There are two ways to prevent spoiled turkey: Keep it hot or keep it cold.

Most turkey spoilage is the fault of improper handling such as allowing turkeys to stand at room temperature several hours after cooking. Turkeys should be refrigerated whenever there is an extended time between cooking and eating. Stuff the turkey just before roasting.

Two holiday dances will be held by the Youth Council for Grosse Pointe teens in grades 9 through 12 at Grosse Pointe War Memorial's crystal ballroom.

The first dance this Saturday, December 18, will be a casual Other Side, but it will be for couples only. Dave Anderson, Youth Council treasurer, will be in charge. There will be two bands alternating and playing between 8:30 and 11:30. They are "The Jacques" and "The Night Crawlers."

Tickets should be purchased for this party in advance at the Center's office. Those purchasing tickets must be able to produce identification showing Grosse Pointe residency and grade in school.

On Tuesday evening, December 28, a "Holiday Hag Dance" will be held in the beautiful Christmas - decorated crystal ballroom. This will be a dress-up but not formal dance with the young ladies paying the boys back for their Christmas gifts by inviting them to the dance and paying for the tickets which may be purchased in advance at the Center's office to avoid embarrassment.

Music will be provided by The Stoics on this occasion.

Both parties will be chaperoned by parents of the Youth Council and refreshments will be available.

CALORIE-WISE

In early days the effort to keep straight was a moral struggle—today it is a diet.

The road to success is a thru highway—not a dead-end street.

No man can be denied a future, but too often a shady past acts as a handicap. If you can't learn to take a little kidding now then it's high time to remodel.

Letter From Viet Nam

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Stringer, of Hawthorne road, were among the first to respond to the NEWS' Mail Call Viet Nam appeal, and are among the first to receive a note of thanks from a serviceman, Airman First Class William Anderson:

"To the Stringer Family:

"I am one of the thousands of men in Viet Nam who has received this very warm and thoughtful greeting from nice people like yourselves. You will never know how much this card is appreciated. It was a nice surprise and it certainly made me feel that there are some sensible people who understand what this war is all about.

"We get very few newspapers here from the States. There is one Air Force paper called the 'Stars and Stripes' and we read articles about these young people burning their draft cards and protesting the U.S. involvement here, it hurts our Men's morale to read this. However I am sure they know that not all our people feel this way.

"Our men and the Vietnamese soldiers are getting killed here in Viet Nam every day, and some of the tactics used by the Viet Cong are merciless and inhuman. I would certainly hate to think that our men died in vain.

"I truly appreciate your very nice card and the warm message you wrote in it. Although we are strangers in one sense, I know that you must be proud of your United States and its fighting men. I would like to extend this invitation to you, that in your spare time, I would appreciate a card or letter from you. There isn't much else to look forward to except Mail Call. It does lift a Man's morale to receive a letter or two, even if from someone he doesn't know.

"God bless and keep you safe always!"

Very sincerely,
A1c William Anderson

Lochmoor Plans Children's Party

Proud parents and grandparents will arrive at Lochmoor Club on Sunday, December 19, at 2 o'clock for the annual Children's Christmas Party. Even the beautifully decorated trees can't compete with the happy faces of the children when jolly old Santa takes them on his knee.

Along with jingle bells and candy canes, Mrs. Cliff Godin, chairman, has arranged outstanding entertainment.

Featured along with Santa will be California Joe with his ropes, whips and trick hobby horses to entertain adults and children, (only the children, however, will take part in the show).

Of course, Santa will have a gift for every child from the diaper to the teen set.

After the show, families will gather in the main dining room for dinner to the music of Christmas Carols. In all it promises to be a crowded, fun-filled afternoon.

PREPAREDNESS

Opportunities by themselves are of little account—the ability to use them is what counts.

The regular meeting of the Executive Board of the Grosse Pointe High School Mother's Club was held in the Teachers Dining room on December 6. There were 20 members present.

The president Mrs. G. Gordon Cook reported on the many meetings and functions she had attended during the past month in order to keep in touch with all that is going on in the various areas of Mother's Club activities. She called attention to the Annual Christmas Concert to be held in the Gymnasium at 8:15 o'clock on December 20, and read a delightful article by Sidney Harris, "Our Untapped Resource," showing the great need and service supplied by club women.

Vice-president Mrs. Walter Griffith and Mrs. Arthur Sherman accompanied Dr. Hanson to Ann Arbor to interview the 94 freshmen from Grosse Pointe High School. It was a rewarding experience and gave much insight into freshman problems. Applications for Mother's Club grants are going out steadily, which indicates that many are aware of the scholarship aid given by the Mother's Club.

Corresponding secretary Mrs. George Thom, Jr., reported that five Mothers had assisted with the mailing for the 11th grade parents meeting to be held at 7:30 o'clock on January 11.

Membership chairman Mrs. William Munro announced that the total membership in the Mother's Club for the current year is 1,352. Sixty-seven new memberships were accepted the evening of "Back to School" due to the efforts of Mrs. McVickers, Mrs. Bunn, Mrs. Hamilton and Mrs. Abell.

Mrs. John Fralick, chairman of the Neighborhood Groups, reported that 15 new groups have been formed this year with the possibility of two additional groups to be formed in January.

Mrs. King Clifford, chairman of the Play Ticket committee, thanked all her committee who had contacted the membership and helped with the sale of tickets for the Pointe Players Production of "Kind Lady." Due to fine cooperation the ticket sale was successful and a substantial profit has gone into the Mother's Club Scholarship Fund.

Mrs. Robert Brines, in charge of bus chaperones for away games, reported that two busses were necessary this month. One bus was used to transport students to the Lincoln Park football game, and one bus was used for the Dearborn basketball game.

Mrs. Edward Fine, Christmas Tea chairman, reported that 1,200 guests attended the beautiful Tea and Christmas Choral program presented December 1. Mr. Clein, vocal instructor at the High School, was commended for the outstanding program, and the art displays by the students and the Grosse Pointe Artists Association were most appreciated. The efforts of many Mothers and students have made this an outstanding community event.

The report of the representative to the Board of Education, Mrs. Robert Christian, showed the total enrollment in the High School to be 2,768 students as of October 31. To date, 40 colleges have sent representatives to the High School to meet with counselors and interview prospective students.

Since it was voted by the Executive Board to abolish the Annual Spring Tea and Card Party this year, two events have been scheduled to replace this function. There will be an American Field Service Exchange Student Program for parents and the community on March 22.

The Scholarship Fund will receive 90 percent of the proceeds, and the Mother's Club will be responsible for the publicity, ticket sales and arrangements. May 6 will be the date of the Telephone Bridge Party, with all proceeds going to the Mother's Club Scholarship Fund. It is hoped there will be enthusiastic community support for both functions since money is needed to supply college scholarships for worthy Grosse Pointe students.

Mrs. Cook reported that enthusiasm has been shown for a training program for students to involve them in volunteer work and civic affairs. The Mother's Club may also provide a roster of parents who might be willing to speak to students as a part of an educational enrichment program. These would be in the areas of the professions, vocations, special talents, hobbies or field trips.

The next meeting of the Executive Board will be held on Monday, January 3, at 1:15 o'clock.

Twenty members of the Board of the Grosse Pointe High School Mother's Club were present at the meeting held on November 1 in the Teachers' Dining Room.

President Mrs. G. Gordon Cook reported on the many meetings she had attended during the month, and expressed her pleasure that all committees are operating smoothly.

Faculty advisor Jerry Gerich discussed the extra-curricular program offered at the High School. He examined the purposes and aims of the many clubs and intramural programs sponsored by the school, and expressed the hope for greater participation by the student body.

With the wide variety of activities offered it is hoped that all students will examine the program and find one or more groups into which to channel their energies.

Membership chairman Mrs. William Munro announced that 1224 mothers have paid their dues to the Mothers Club this year. Further collections are hoped for throughout the year.

Mrs. John Fralick, Neighborhood Group chairman, reported that letters have been mailed to 86 neighborhood groups this year. Seventy-six letters have been sent to new discussion group members.

The first meeting of the Discussion Groups was on November 10 at the Central Library, with Mr. Gerich and Mrs. Cook as speakers. Twenty-one cards have been sent to members of the newly formed evening discussion group gathered on November 17 at the home of the president, Mrs. G. Gordon Cook.

The sponsor in charge of the "caller-captains" for the 10th grade is Mrs. Webster Knight, Jr.; the 11th grade sponsor is Mrs. Clinton R. Schraff, Jr., and the 12th grade sponsor is Mrs. Elton Anderson.

Mrs. Charles Adams and her co-chairman Mrs. Alton Donnell, of the Social committee of the Mothers Club, reported that approximately 300 parents were served coffee and doughnuts in the Gymnasium at the close of the 10th Grade Parents' Night.

Mrs. Robert Brines, in charge of obtaining bus chaperones for "away" games, announced that four busses went to the Fordson game. Students who attended the game, held after school on a Friday, were excused from 6th hour classes.

Mrs. Charles Beltz, 10th Grade chairman, reported on the successful Sophomore dance held on October 8. She was assisted by Mr. and Mrs. William Pankhurst, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Critchfield, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Tewart, Mr. and Mrs. William Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Radcliff, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Kelly and Mr. and Mrs. Donn Kipka.

Their efforts combined with the efforts of the students and Mrs. Leslie and Mr. Thursby of the school staff have made possible a $100 profit for the sophomore treasury.

The representative of the Mothers' Health Education Council, Mrs. Donald Foster, reported that flu shots have been given the Grosse Pointe teachers. Money from this project has been turned over to the Northwestern Child Guidance Center.

The chairman of the Halloween Food committee, Mrs. John Fralick, reported on the successful Halloween party held at the High School. Everyone had a good time and the behavior of the students was commended.

Salvation Army Ready for Yule

The day after the big Thanksgiving Day parade, Detroit was given another reminder that Christmas is not far away. At noon on Friday, November 26, the first bulb was turned on at the Salvation Army Tree of Lights, located at Campus Martius in downtown Detroit to signify the first donations received for the Annual Christmas Cheer Fund.

The Parks and Recreation Department of the city erected a beautiful spruce tree, and placed red bulbs on it. Every 1000 that is received will turn one of the red lights to white, until the entire goal of 550 lights will be shining brightly.

Mrs. Helen Brakonecke, Mrs. Michigan of 1965, was a glamorous guest for this occasion, and Mayor Jerome Cavanagh was present to assist in launching this appeal. The New Christy Minstrels were also on hand for this ceremony of lighting the first lights on the "Tree of Lights." The Detroit Lions are again helping and George Izo, the quarterback, and Tommy Watkins, the defensive star, passed the traditional $1,000 football.

Bob Tighe, Detroit Firemen's Association representative, was on hand to turn on a couple of lights, as well as Mrs. M. MacQueen, president of the Women's Auxiliary to The Salvation Army, whose ladies were serving coffee.

The goal this year is $55,000 to provide a happier Christmas for over 40,000 individuals in the Detroit area. Such things as Golden Ager's parties, children's parties, meals for homeless men, thousands of Christmas dinners to families, sunshine gifts for shut-ins are planned, as well as many other services.

Mr. Panzer is also a graduate of the University of Michigan and obtained his Juris Doctor degree from Detroit College of Law where he affiliated with Delta Theta Phi. He will join the Detroit law firm of Panzer and Geymann the first of the year. An April 9 wedding is planned.

T. J. Van Tiem To Claim Bride

Carbon Monoxide Danger Lurks in Varied Places

You don't have to shut yourself up in a garage with a running car to be in danger of being killed by carbon monoxide gas. This invisible agent can attack you in your home, out-of-doors in a parked car, or in a cabin in the woods.

Albert E. Heustis, state health director, issued a warning against the dangers of this lethal gas.

"This time of year always brings an alarming increase in accidental carbon monoxide poisonings. This is a totally unnecessary toll that could be eliminated if people would follow a few basic preventive steps. Carbon monoxide is a killer that can be controlled," he observed.

Although automobiles are not the only source of the poisonous gas, they are the main one.

A defective automobile exhaust system is a likely source of poisoning from this colorless, tasteless, and odorless killer. The car is a potential coffin if fumes seep back through the fire wall or up through the floor, according to Dr. Heustis. This can happen even if the car is out-of-doors and moving. If it is parked, the situation is worse.

You should check your complete exhaust system at least once a year at a service station, and keep it in good repair at all times.

Another danger, Dr. Heustis pointed out, is called "exhaust feedback." This can occur even though the vehicle's exhaust system is in good condition. Carbon monoxide fumes can drift back over the passengers after the gas is expelled through the tailpipe and completely envelop the automobile. Obstructions, such as a snowbank or building, may make the situation fatal by deflecting more fumes over the vehicle.

Dr. Heustis warned motorists not to run the engine in parked cars under any circumstances, and to keep at least one window cracked open when driving.

In the home, charcoal grills present a serious hazard. A burning charcoal fire produces no smoke, but gives off great quantities of invisible carbon monoxide gas. The grills are for outside cooking only and should never be used indoors or even in a garage or on a partially enclosed breezeway, he said.

Other dangers include furnaces with rusted out flues and other defects. Carbon monoxide poisoning can also result from poorly vented or adjusted space heaters, hot water heaters, and maladjusted gas refrigerators.

Speed and Drink Cause Accidents

"Hey—What's Your Hurry?" That pertinent question currently is posed by the Traffic Safety Association on nearly 2,400 street-side posters in Detroit and throughout Michigan.

While "hurry hurry" drivers and pedestrians bump into trouble at any time of the year, the danger is much greater during the winter months with poor visibility, more hours of darkness and unfavorable road and weather conditions.

Speeding — driving too fast for conditions — is the direct cause of more than 50 per cent of Detroit's fatal traffic accidents, according to the Detroit Police Accident Prevention Bureau. And it is a major cause in nearly all of the serious accidents.

Aggravating the problem of speeding is the problem of drunk driving. Wayne County Medical Examiner's reports disclose that drunk drivers are involved in 69 per cent of fatal traffic accidents. The reports also show that many pedestrians are drunk at the time of the fatal accident.

Inspector Arthur Sonnenberg, commanding officer of the APB, put it this way: "Hurry in traffic not only places the driver or pedestrian in danger, it almost always produces greater severity in accidents attributable to other causes. There is no escaping the physical law that the FASTER you hit, the HARDER you hit. And driving too fast for conditions often traps a driver into an accident he could have otherwise avoided."

"Reckless driving, running stop signs and red lights and following too closely are other violations which stem from speeding or needlessly hurrying in traffic."

When illness or unemployment strikes, a family often can't afford even small Christmas gifts. But The Salvation Army can see to it that there are warm clothes and toys for the children and a holiday dinner. Along with material assistance, The Salvation Army offers the reassurance of knowing that somebody cares.

GONE OVERBOARD with Christmas shopping this year, and telling us we're all wet when we suggest you add a new house to your list? Well don't miss the boat. Paddle over to 1404 Grayton Road, where we'll cruise you through a real dreamboat. We're sure to be swamped with phone calls—because the price of this four bedroom colonial is listed for just $26,500.

OUR BRIGHTEST package is a complete parcel on Ballantyne Court, where sits the best story-and-a-half available. The convenience of a master bedroom and first floor bath could be a well come change from stair climbing. For the rest of the family... well let them go upstairs, where there are two more bedrooms and another bath. Whether you want it or not, this one has a paneled recreation room which is liable to attract every kid in the neighborhood.

CHARMED we're sure you'll be when you view this four-bedroom colonial in the Farms. Although it is 1950 vintage, some of the decorative interior beams must be 100 years old. There is a large, paneled library with a bay window which looks into a tree shaded backyard. Two full baths up with a total of four bedrooms. Vacant and ready.

TUCKED AWAY near the end of a dead end street which leads to the lake. This traditional, French influenced house beckons to the family which requires four to six bedrooms. A spacious first floor gallery has the living, dining and library rooms all leading from it. Offered at a pittance of replacement cost.

of the charge that they murdered the Rev. James J. Reeb, of Boston, during their last March. The decision which came after 90 minutes of deliberation, also cleared the three of the lesser charges of second degree murder and first and second degree manslaughter. The defendants, Elmer Cook, 42, O'Neal Haggie, 32, and his brother William Haggie, 37, were charged last spring with violating Federal antitrust laws in the Reeb case, but have not been indicted. During the trial two Unitarian ministers identified Cook as the leader of a mob that attacked Reeb in a Selma street last March 9.

Sunday, December 12 HINTS THAT DETROIT may ask the state for more financial aid through state participation in present city-Federal programs were dropped last week by City Controller Richard Strichartz, observers said. Pointing to New York state as an example, he stated that Lansing has a responsibility to share costs of programs like anti-poverty, urban renewal, mass transit and air and water pollution control. "The state has as great a stake in urban progress as the federal government does," Strichartz said, "and yet, to date, financial aid from the state for urban problems has been virtually nonexistent in Michigan." The Controller is one of Cavanagh's key advisers, but he said he knew of no plans to propose state-aid bills in the coming legislative session.

FORMER GOV. G. Mennen Williams will run for the U.S. Senate or for Gov. of Michigan in 1966, Washington observers predicted Sunday. Newsweek said Democratic Senator Patrick V. McNamara is thinking seriously of retiring after his second six-year term, and asserted Williams intends to resign as Assistant Secretary of State for African affairs and run for his seat if McNamara decides to try for a third term in the Senate. Williams would be forced to re-enter Michigan politics with a bid for the Governor's chair, a post pollsters say would be harder for him to win than the Senate seat.

Monday, December 13 THE GEMINI 6 FLIGHT stalled Sunday when a two-inch plug fell from the bottom of the ship at takeoff, activating the safety system which shut down the engine. A new try was scheduled for Wednesday morning. Meanwhile, the Gemini 7 target ship set a new world endurance record, passing at 1:26 p.m. Detroit time the 190 hours, 56 minutes mark set by Gemini 5. Gemini 7's goal is 14 days.

MAYOR JEROME P. Cavanagh Sunday urged participants in the Second National Conference on Highways and Urban Development in Williamsburg, Va., to seek more Federal financial aid in developing urban mass transit systems. In the keynote speech, Cavanagh stated that "local government cannot afford to pay for system improvements, no mode of transportation and expansion of public transportation facilities." He called incongruous the different rates for Federal-local aid for highways (90-10) and mass transportation (75-25). Cavanagh said too many cars used for transportation in the city will lead to "congestion and disarray."

Tuesday, December 14 GEORGE DARRYL Flatter, 26, faces a fifth trial starting Feb. 14, in the strangling of an east side housewife, following Judge Elvin L. Davenport's declaration of a mistrial Monday. It was the second mistrial for Flatter, accused of slaying Mrs. Elizabeth Moughler, whose body was found January 22, 1960, between two houses near her home. The two other trials ended in a hung jury and a second-degree murder conviction for Flatter. Davenport declared the mistrial after a woman juror told him she heard a male juror tell two others that a policeman's testimony, stating Flatter had a criminal record, "Makes it easy for me; it eases my mind."

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST SCIENTIST Fries Auditorium "Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" This is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be presented in Christian Science churches this Sunday.

A major theme will be the ultimate supremacy of the spiritual laws through which God's will and government of the universe is expressed. The Golden Text is from I Chronicles (16:31): "Let the heavens be glad, and let the earth rejoice; and let men say among the nations, 'The Lord reigneth.'"

In addition to selected passages from the Bible on this topic, there will be readings from the Christian Science textbook. Among them will be these lines: "Suns and planets teach grand lessons. The stars make night beautiful, and the leaflets turn naturally towards the light. In the order of Science, in which the Principle is above what it reflects, all is one grand concord" (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, p. 240).

False Report Jails Youth Paul Carrier, 17, of 19381 Gable, Detroit, was sentenced to five days in the Wayne County Jail on Tuesday, December 14, for making a false report to the Woods police. The youth was sentenced by Woods Municipal Judge Don J. Goodrow, when the youth was unable to pay a fine of $50.

According to information released by Det. Sgt. Mast and Det. Gerald Kensora, Carrier appeared at the Woods station and reported that he had been physically assaulted while walking on Mack avenue near Ford court.

When questioned by the two officers, Carrier broke down and confessed that his report was fictitious. Following the admission, the youth was charged with violation of City Ordinance 206, Section 13, which refers to the False Report of a Crime.

Detroit police of Conner Station, Fifteenth Precinct contacted the Woods authorities and advised them that Carrier was wanted by them for larceny from a building.

The Detroit police placed a hold on the youth, and when he was released from jail on Monday, December 13, they took him into custody.

who, where and whatnot

by whoozit

It's always pleasant to hear something NICE . . . about our young people, (it helps one to remember that the vast majority of today's teens are NOT "problems"), and recently we heard something Very Nice indeed about 13-year-old Patty Gibbs and 14-year-old Nancy Scott . . . Seems that Patty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Gibbs, of Maumee avenue, and her houseguest Nancy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Scott, of Ann Arbor, formerly of The Pointe, were shopping at Jacobson's early this month when they found an unmarked bank envelope, containing $65.30 . . . The girls didn't hesitate a minute — remember now: This is untraceable money, it's almost Christmas, and everyone could use a little extra cash — Patty, with Nancy at her side, marched right up to the nearest saleslady and asked to see the manager. She was directed to the head of the Sportswear Department, to whom she turned over the money . . . It was claimed an hour later by a most grateful woman, who explained she had cashed her week's paycheck and somehow or other allowed the envelope to slip out of her purse. We, and the lady to whom the $65.30 belongs, hope that Patty and Nancy get everything they want for Christmas.

Twelve ladies from far-away lands . . . including Japan, Egypt and India, had a wonderful time Tuesday at the Christmas cookie-baking party given by Mrs. M. F. Goldman in her Harcourt road home. The women, whose husbands are studying at various local universities, are members of the International Wives Association, one of Mrs. Goldman's pet projects. After luncheon, everyone traipsed into the Goldman kitchen, where hostess and guests dipped their hands in the flour sacks and prepared mounds of traditional American holiday goodies.

For a delightful "break" in pre-Christmas hustle and bustle . . . take a trip over to West Warren avenue and spend an hour or so browsing through the "Contemporary British Printmaker" exhibit at just-opened Graphica Gallery, newest project of Bliss Caulkins, Bachelors degree candidate in Fine Arts at the University of Michigan, daughter of Mrs. E. Millan Caulkins, of Newberry place, and Edward Burns Gaulkins, Jr., of Lafayette Towers, Detroit.

A big holiday bouquet of poison ivy to . . . the driver of the white 300 SL Mercedes Benz, who apparently didn't realize that a certain amount of outdoor trudging is an acknowledged . . . and unavoidable . . . by-product of parking jams near homes opened for the Christmas Walk, sponsored by the Junior Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra. This selfish driver made sure of "good places" during The Pointe tour last Thursday by locating the fire hydrant nearest each Walk home, pulling in next to it, then creeping up until his(?) bumper rested comfortably against the bumper of the car parked at the correct distance from the hydrant, making it just about impossible for the driver of the correctly-parked car to move into traffic.

And poison oak corsages/boutonnieres to . . . all those "terribly pressed for time" drivers who completely ignore the One Way signs in the parking lot behind Wrigley's on-the-Hill.

Our belated, but most sincere wishes . . . for a Happy Birthday to Lena Spitzer, of St. Clair avenue, the youngest ninety-five-year-old in The Pointe.

Participating in . . . the tree lighting ceremony and official opening of the 1965 Christmas Carnival at Cobo Hall last Sunday were young Oscar B. Marx, IV, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar B. Marx, III, of University place, and his grandfather, Oscar B. Marx, Jr., of Anita avenue, together when a waiter brought a letter addressed to his father was Mayor of the City.

ROBERT S. O'LEARY, OF OXFORD ROAD

By Janet Mueller

We had been told: "All the O'Learys are smart" — but we still weren't prepared for Bob. It's rather appalling to come face-to-face with a type of super-typical all-American teenager, the kind of 17-year-old son about whom every parent dreams of bragging . . . in a quiet, understated and excessively civilized way, of course, (excellence needs little publicity; somehow or other, the word gets out . . .)

The Edwin D. O'Learys can even choose which facet of their son's personality they'll "mention in passing."

In a gathering of sports fans, they might note, modestly, that Bob, now in his senior year at St. Paul High School, has been a letterman for four years. He lettered in track, basketball and football, was St. Paul's leading ground gainer in football this year and, also this year, scored the winning touchdown, ending St. Paul's 24-game losing streak (the fans went wild!).

If the group in which they find themselves is more impressed by intellectual than physical accomplishments, Mr. and Mrs. O'Leary can remark that Bob has always been a fine student, on the St. Paul Honor Roll for years, is a member of the school's Latin Honor Society and scored in the 95th percentile on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Exam.

Also A Politician
If their friends are impressed by accomplishments per se,

("So he's smart—a lot of people are smart. So he's co-ordinated—a lot of people are co-ordinated. What has he actually DONE?"), the O'Learys might note that Bob, always active in school politics, is president of St. Paul's Student Council this year.

And they might mention that the 1965 "Paulite," the school yearbook, which Bob co-edited with Kitty Gurney, was cited for excellence in the four national critical surveys in which it was entered.

Bob was in charge of the '65 Paulite's pictures and layout; Kitty was chief copy editor. Their yearbook received the Medalist Certificate from Columbia Scholastic Press Association, one of the nation's largest critical rating services.

The National Scholastic Press Association awarded the Paulite its All-American Honor Rating —and requested pictures for inclusion in a later edition of the Scholastic Editor, NSPA's national organ.

The Paulite also earned a Certificate of Special Merit with an A rating from the National School Yearbook Association, and was awarded the Catholic School Press Association's Publication of Distinction rating.

Offered Scholarship
As a result of his work on the yearbook, Bob was offered a scholarship at the University of Detroit, as well as a job with Modern Yearbook. He took the job, currently works Saturdays, and after school for Modern Yearbook a few days each week, planning layouts, advising students from other schools how to plan their books—he feels that "being able to cite my own personal experience helps a lot" when he's talking to these young yearbook editors—and generally doing "what I did" at St. Paul's," as he explained in a recent speech at a Modern Yearbook meeting at L'Anse Creuse school.

And these are just a few of the points Mr. and Mrs. O'Leary might mention if someone asked, "How's Bob doing?" They could also remark that their second son, (fourth child), is a sailor, (he made a boat from scratch when he was 12), skis beautifully, plays golf, was an Altar Boy for years, is an avid reader, has always been interested in the arts, loves all kinds of music, from opera, (he's already ordered tickets for the Metropolitan Opera's '66 season opener, "Faust"), to dent newspaper, too, and thinks he might like to combine his literary-photographic interests in a career as a journalist-photographer. He has his eye on advertising as another career possibility—along with "maybe being a history teacher."

Theme of the '65 Paulite was "Dare To Be Different," and Bob, Kitty and their 15-or-so-man staff, dared. Their biggest innovation was in underclassmen's pictures. Instead of a "Rogues' Gallery" approach, Bob grouped St. Paul's juniors, sophomores and freshmen in relaxed poses near familiar campus landmarks.

St. Paul High School is relatively small, (there are 95 seniors this year), but the Paulite pays for itself . . . and there's usually enough money left over for the yearbook staff to make a donation to the school library, or help with the school newspaper publishing costs.

As co-editor, Bob found himself working on the yearbook after school "just about every day, and all day Saturdays." Craine Studios took about 80 percent of the pictures. Bob snapped the other 20 percent himself.

Supervised The Pro

Of course, whenever Craine's photographer showed up at the school, (about one day a month), Bob left his classes to help the "pro" get exactly the sort of shots wanted for the Paulite's pages. Needless to say, his grades didn't suffer.

Bob has worked on the yearbook staff ever since he was a high school freshman. In the beginning, he doesn't think his parents were too sympathetic—"They felt it took up too much of my time"—but when the '65 Paulite was finally out, and the awards and citations began to come in, Mr. and Mrs. O'Leary decided the project had definitely been worth the effort.

Bob emphasizes that the Paulite is a community job, says the entire staff and the faculty advisor, Sister Marie Jude, O.P., worked together to produce the publication.

"We didn't really expect, when we were doing it, that it would win this many awards," he notes, then adds, with justifiable pride, "but when it came out, we knew it was good."

Football is the only activity he "dropped" while he was co-editing the Paulite. He probably wouldn't even have dropped THAT—if he hadn't developed mononucleosis the summer before he was due to enter his junior year.

The doctor advised against football . . . but by the time basketball season rolled around, Bob was well enough to play.

Values of Small School

He describes St. Paul as "a good school," thinks a small school "has a lot of values." He doubts if he'd be troubled by the "largeness" of a major university, but admits that, after St. Paul, he'd probably miss the personal interplay between student and teacher that is one of a smaller school's greatest strengths.

He thinks each of the local high schools, St. Paul, Austin, Grosse Pointe University School, Grosse Pointe High School, Our Lady Star of the Sea, Sacred Heart Academy, St. Ambrose, Liggett, has its own distinct group.

"But there's a great deal of overlapping," he adds. "Girls from St. Paul date boys from Austin, for example. I have friends in several schools."

"There's not much rivalry between the Grosse Pointe schools . . . but I think that's because they're different types of schools. They're not competitive."

"Occasionally, you have a situation where one of the Grosse Pointe schools competes against

½ cup milk
2 beaten egg whites

TOPPING

¼ cup melted butter, or margarine
¼ cup sugar
2 tsp. cinnamon
1 cup, chopped nuts (optional)

Sift flour, baking powder and salt. Cream the ¼ cup butter and sugar; beat in egg yolks and vanilla. Stir in flour mixture alternately with the milk; fold in the 2 stiffly beaten egg whites. Turn into a greased 9-inch pan, (square or round); brush top with ¼ cup melted butter, (or margarine). Mix sugar, cinnamon and nuts and sprinkle over cake. Bake in Moderate (375°) oven about 30 minutes.

another Grosse Pointe school, a sports situation, for instance. Then I think you have a great deal of rivalry."

This on-the-one-hand, on-the-other-hand appraisal of a situation is typical of the "mature" Bob O'Leary. There's another side to Bob, though: The 17-year-old boy, who dreams of taking a go-cart out on the ice this winter.

Put the teenage enthusiast and the logical young adult together and you have Bob O'Leary as he is today, a Bob O'Leary who muses, "Frankly, it would be very practical for me to have a motorcycle—but my parents don't approve."

Single Headlight Trips Motorist

Ronald W. Pavlovich, 31, of 2336 Westbury, St. Clair Shores, could have avoided trouble with the law, if he had proper lighting on his car while driving at night.

On Thursday, December 9, Pavlovich was traveling south on Mack avenue when he was seen by Patrolman Donald Schmalz and James Farrell, who noticed that the motorist's car had only one headlight.

When Pavlovich produced his operator's license on demand of the policemen, it was found that the license had expired on December 19, 1964.

A check with Detroit authorities revealed that Pavlovich was wanted on an outstanding traffic warrant. He was released to Detroit police officers who arrived to pick him up.
