HIGH SCHOOL RECEIVES NAMES

Make Awards For Foundation Christmas Card Design

and is open to all 7th through 12th graders living in or attending school in the Grosse Pointes. The rules of the contest have been sent to the Junior and Senior High Schools in Grosse Pointe and are available upon request.

Those wishing to order or to see this year's Christmas Card from the Foundation may call the Foundation at TU 5-8660. Revenue from the sale of Christmas cards is used to maintain this facility for mentally retarded and physically handicapped children from our community.

Jury Finds Youth Guilty in Vicious Attack on GP Girl

Charles Schreiner Convicted Of Gross Indecency And Aggravated Assault; Is Found Innocent Of Unarmed Robbery

Charles Schreiner, 20, of 17133 Sioux, Detroit, was convicted of gross indecency and aggravated assault upon a 19-year-old Grosse Pointe girl by a Wayne County Circuit Court jury on Friday, November 10. He was found innocent of a third charge, unarmed robbery.

The jury, comprised of seven men and five women, returned its verdict in the courtroom of Judge Blair Moody, Jr., after deliberating for two and a half days.

The judge ordered Schreiner returned to the Wayne County Jail in lieu of $20,000 bond to await sentencing on Thursday, December 7.

The maximum penalty for gross indecency is five years in prison and a fine of $2,500. Aggravated assault carries a maximum of one year.

Woman Aids Arrest
Schreiner was arrested through the efforts of an alert Park woman and the coordinated action of four Park police officers last November 30.

The woman, whose name is still being withheld, looked out of her window and saw the girl walking on Kensington toward Jefferson. The woman also saw a male figure dart out of a driveway at 1003 Kensington, grab the girl as she walked by and drag her toward the backyard of that address. The woman promptly called police.

Patrolman Donald DelPlace, who was only a few blocks away on Jefferson, was at the scene within a minute after the broadcast went over the air. He jumped out of his scout car and ran to the rear of the Kensington home, service revolver drawn.

Girl Unconscious
The policeman found Schreiner kneeling over the unconscious figure of the girl who had been brutally beaten, and whose face was covered with blood. Schreiner had a stocking-mask over his face.

DelPlace ordered the youth to back away from the girl, with his hands up. Patrolman (now corporal) Bobby McAllister arrived and went to the fallen girl. Patrolman Rodney Wedding and Robert Saifry followed close behind McAllister.

Schreiner bolted and ran. DelPlace fired a warning shot into the air and shouted to the youth to halt, but the command was ignored. The policeman fired at the youth and missed.

DelPlace, McAllister and Wedding gave chase on foot, while Saifry remained to administer first aid to the unconscious girl and to call for an ambulance.

Taken To Bon Secours
The girl was taken to Bon Secours Hospital where she was treated for severe shock and severe lacerations about the face and mouth. Several of her front teeth were knocked out by one of the vicious blows from her assailant.

In the meantime, the three officers had cornered Schreiner in nearby bushes, dragged him out and placed him under arrest. During the chase, Schreiner (Continued on Page 6)

Special Meeting To Discuss Which Pointe Students Shall Attend New High School Slated Dec. 4

By Pepper Whitelaw
The Grosse Pointe Board of Education covered a full agenda at a meeting Monday, November 13, in the gymnasium of the Lewis B. Maier Elementary School, with a full audience in attendance.

Highlights of the meeting included the formal naming of the new high school and the renaming of the present one, the announcement of the elementary schools which will be sending their sixth graders to the middle school, a progress report on the new high school, a presentation on the high school's foreign language humanities program, a report from R. W. Kay, director of the Department of Community Services on the recent Sex Education Conference and an announcement of a special meeting to discuss the boundary lines of the new high school.

Name High School
A lengthy discussion followed Superintendent Theos Anderson's recommendation to name the new high school Grosse Pointe North High School and rename the present high school Grosse Pointe South High School.

Some of the Board members and members of the audience felt that Grosse Pointe High School North would be more appropriate. However, after further discussion including the fact that placing of the word "North" in that manner would be a misplaced modifier, the Superintendent's recommendation was accepted.

The new high school name will become effective July 1. The renaming of the present high school will take effect immediately.

Teacher Contracts
Lawrence Kennedy, assistant superintendent-professional personnel, reported on the teacher contract negotiations, and had the final figures on just where the Grosse Pointe School System ranks among the 19 districts polled.

He reported that Grosse Pointe ranks 15th out of the districts, (exclusive of fringe benefits). With fringe benefits Grosse Pointe ranks eleventh. This would make it apparent (Continued on Page 2)

GP Symphony Starting Season

There is a flurry of excitement in The Pointe over the appearance of pianist Mary Norris with the Grosse Pointe Symphony on Sunday afternoon, November 19, at 3:30 o'clock. Concert Artist, member of the Tipton Chamber Orchestra and Trio, Miss Norris, (Mrs. Albert Tipton), has been guest artist with the Philadelphia Orchestra, the Detroit and the St. Louis Symphony on many occasions.

Sunday at Parcels School Auditorium, the Grosse Pointe Symphony Society will hear her play Rachmaninoff's Variations on a Theme by Paganini.

The Society will honor Miss Norris at a reception immediately following the program. The audience is cordially invited to attend.

Decorations chairman Mrs. Pierre Heffler announces that "Variations on a Theme" is the cue to tea table settings.

Presiding at the tables will be Mrs. John W. Nelson, Mrs. Louis Mushro, Mrs. Bogdan Baynert, Mrs. Winfield S. Jewell, Jr., Mrs. Phillip C. Baker, Miss Cecilia Olshchkevsky, Mrs. Gerald Stoecker, Mrs. Carl Wideman, Mrs. William E. Berry and Mrs. C. Dale Barrett. Mrs. Robert P. Armstrong is Social chairman.

Joining Mrs. Daniel Knott as her special guests are Mr. and Mrs. George Cuba, Mr. and Mrs. Sterling S. Sanford have, invited Son James and Mrs. Sanford.

Director Felix Resnick has chosen the Overture to La Forza del Destino by Verdi, Overture Fantasy from Tchaikovsky's Romeo and Juliet and Ma Mère L'Oye by Ravel to complete the

Give Awards For Business Grounds' Care

Verheyden's and Blazo's Cited For Maintenance And Beauty During Past Year

The Grosse Pointe and Eastern Michigan Horticultural Society held its annual banquet Saturday November 11, at the V.F.W. Hall in St. Paul avenue.

Two awards were made each year in the garden contest for the most beautiful and best maintained business grounds, in this area. They are judged monthly from early spring until fall by a committee of members.

Continued beauty and neat maintenance through the entire season are stressed by the judges.

Two Classes

In class "A" for larger areas, the Charles Verheyden Funeral Home took top honors. Mr. Verheyden was presented with a certificate of merit.

In class "B" for smaller areas, Blazo's Restaurant in Mack near Moross took first place. Mr. Chase of Blazo's was present to receive the award.

Member Dan Lutey received recognition for being the outstanding member of the year.

Pointes to Share $87,823 From State Highway Fund

Henrik E. Stafseth, Acting Highway Director, has disclosed that the State Highway Commission has begun the distribution of the third quarterly Motor Vehicle Highway Fund Collections to the Michigan counties, cities and villages.

According to the report received, dated November 9, the five Pointe communities will share a total of $87,823, with the largest share going to the Woods.

Stafseth said that the net receipts of the highway fund during July, August and September of this year amounted to $56,131,606, an increase of $1,285,829, or 2.3 percent, compared to the same period in 1966.

Under the formula of distribution, the 524 incorporated cities and villages, the Woods

A John Doe Also Sought In Warrant; Two Other Teenagers Are Victims Of Same Assaulters

Daniel Cimini, 19, of 1315 Balfour road, was arraigned before Farms Municipal Judge Robert Pytell on Tuesday, November 7, on a warrant accusing him of aggravated assault in the vicious beating of a Grosse Pointe High School student in the High School building on Tuesday, October 31.

A second warrant, naming a John Doe, will be served and the person arraigned as soon as his identity is clarified, according to information released by Farms Det. Joseph Miller and Patrolman Vincent Peters, who is assigned to the Plainclothes Detail.

Cimini stood mute at his court appearance on advice of his attorney, and a plea of innocent was entered for him by the judge. Examination date was set for Wednesday, December 6. He was released on $500 personal bond.

The policemen said that they obtained the warrants, after a week of investigation, on the Tuesday date, and Cimini was arrested and taken to court the same day.

Cimini and a John Doe are accused in the beating of Thomas Fraser, 16, of 898 Notre Dame, during the annual Halloween Party held at the High School.

Fraser suffered severe facial wounds and was treated at Bon Secours Hospital. Some of the wounds required stitches and $23,819: the Farms, $20,298; the City, $11,035, and the Shores, $3,900.

Wayne County's share totaled $3,792,348 from the funds allotted to the 83 counties in Michigan.

All state gasoline and diesel fuel taxes and license plate fees go to the Motor Vehicle Highway Fund.

After deduction of collection costs and the Waterways Commission's share, the money is distributed with 47 percent going to the State Highway Commission; 35 percent to the counties; and 18 percent to the cities and villages.

Under this formula, the State Highway Commission will receive $26,381,855 of the third quarterly collection; the counties will receive, $19,646,062; and the cities and villages, $10,

Juvenile Pair Admit Theft Of New Car

Arrested Within 16 Minutes After Breaking Into Dealership And Driving Away Vehicle

Two juveniles, both Detroit boys, were arrested for speeding by Park police on Thursday, November 9, at 10:16 p.m., and found to be in possession of a stolen new car, taken only a few minutes earlier from the Grosse Pointe Plymouth Motor Sales, Jefferson and Nottingham.

Patrolmen Ralph Moore and Carl Kaartunen, while on routine patrol on Charlevoix, observed a car traveling west on the avenue at faster than the posted speed, and gave chase. They stopped the teenagers, one 16 years old, the driver, and the other 15 years old.

The driver admitted he had no valid operator's license or a registration for the car, and when questioned by the officers, confessed that they had stolen the vehicle from the garage of the dealership, at approximately 10 p.m.

Took License Plates
The youths told Moore and Kaartunen that they had stolen a set of license plates from a car on the used car lot across the street from the sales firm because the new automobile had no plates.

The boys were taken to the station and released to Det. James LaPratt for further questioning. One of the boys told the officer that he had been involved in the theft of another car two weeks before in Detroit, and the larceny of tires and wheels from other cars, also in Detroit.

The juveniles repeated their confession to LaPratt regarding the breaking and entering of the Plymouth dealership and stealing the car.

Seen Before Theft
Kenneth Garis, service manager of the car sales firm, told LaPratt that he had seen one of the two lads during the day, sitting in the car while it was outside in the lot adjacent to the building. Later, he said he discovered the keys gone from the ignition of the car and found a set of license plates in the car and ordered all the cars to be searched inside the garage for the night.

The boys told LaPratt that they returned the same evening and loitered around the dealership.

He's a miracle man of he can see things as they should be instead of as they are.

that an adjustment is in order since it was earlier stated that if we did not rank at least fifth an adjustment would be made. Mr. Kennedy added that the negotiations were progressing.

Superintendent Anderson expressed his pleasure over the way the negotiations are progressing and said that the team spirit of the negotiators was responsible for the progress to date.

Edward J. Pongracz, trustee said he felt that Grosse Pointe has had such amicable relations because the School Board has stayed out of the negotiations allowing the discussions to be handled on an educator-to-educator basis.

He added that in the past the Grosse Pointe School System has always expressed the desire to be among the top in the area and with this thought in mind the negotiators had a common goal.

He said that the sixth graders from Kerby, Mason, Maire, Richard and Trombly schools would definitely be part of the middle school with the possibility that Poupard and Defer would also be included.

He added that Barnes, Ferry and Monteith would continue on their present programs. He said that this program was based on student population forecasts. Under this arrangement Parcels Junior High will have 900 students, Brownell Junior High, 900 students, and Pierce Junior High, 800 students.

Dr. Joe Spagnoli, assistant superintendent - administrative service, gave a progress report on Grosse Pointe North High School. He indicated that the gym, pool, shop and academic wing are expected to be completed by February 1, the classrooms should be finished by March 1 and the auditorium by August 1.

Mr. Kay then reported on the recent Sex Education Conference featuring Dr. Mary Calderone. He said that the first series of lectures received a positive reaction from both parents and students.

George Edgington, assistant to the superintendent, made a presentation to the board on the new foreign language humanities program of which he is director. He included in his presentation film strips, apprising the board and audience of the development of such a program and illustrated how much time, thought, effort and research goes into such a program.

He added that the next demonstration conference would be held on November 20, at Grosse Pointe South High School. Assisting Mr. Edgington with his presentation was Sandra Charney, one of the team teachers in the program. She outlined for the group the progress of the course to date and its plans for the future.

Mrs. Alice Mary Hykes, president of the Board, announced that the boundaries of Grosse Pointe North High School will be discussed at the Monday, December 4, special meeting at 389 St. Clair. She said following that meeting the recommendations would be taken under advisement and that the Board hopes to be able to vote on the boundaries at their regular meeting on Monday, December 11.

ship until the last member of the work force had gone home. When it became apparent that there was no one in the building, the boys said, they broke a window to enter the garage and drove away the car they were in when arrested.

LaPratt said that it appeared that the teenagers had eyes only for this one particular auto. The others were not touched. Nor was anything taken from any other section of the building.

The detective said that he has filed charges against the youthful pair with Juvenile Court authorities. The charges are breaking and entering in the nighttime, and stealing a car.

Friends Film Forum Friday

The second program of the 1967-68 Friends Film Forum, co-sponsored by the Friends of the Grosse Pointe Public Library and the Grosse Pointe Public Library will be shown on Friday, November 17, at 9:15 p.m. in the Main Reading Room of the Central Library, 10 Kercheval.

This Film Series is planned to provide an opportunity to view films of special interest or merit. The program is presented on the third Friday of each month, October through April with no showing in December.

This month the film will be one that should be especially interesting to the people who remember the era of Garbo, the Barrymores and Lewis Stone.

GRAND HOTEL — original version directed by Edmond Goulding and starring Greto Garbo, Joan Crawford, Wallace Berry, Jean Hersholt, the Barrymores — John and Lionel and Lewis Stone, 115 minutes. This is a cosmopolitan multi-star drama of intertwining stories of people in a Berlin hotel. "Against what many a star would call ground odds, Garbo dominates the picture entirely." The New Yorker. juvenile got out and began to walk toward the lake.

At Lochmoor and Holiday the boy was seen going into a backyard of 1385 Lochmoor. At this point the policemen followed the teenager's prints in the snow through several back yards, where evidence showed that a number of rear doors of homes had been tried by the juvenile to see if they were open.

Lead To Residence

The prints in the snow led to the Randolph residence. Other officers of the surveillance team were called, and they surrounded the house.

The policemen observed the youth enter the sun porch of the house through a sliding door on the east side, and try the rear door. At this moment, the juvenile spied the officers and made a dash in an attempt to escape. He was tackled by Kensora, handcuffed and taken to the station.

On November 5, the boy's parents were notified that their son was in custody, and that charges would be filed against him in Juvenile Court.

Released On Condition

On Monday, November 6, Marchand and Kensora went to the Juvenile Court to give testimony at the preliminary hearing. However, the court referee released the boy to his parents on condition that he receive psychiatric treatment.

In spite of the fact that their three weeks of watching and waiting were given a setback by the referee's ruling, Marchand had this to say about the personnel of the Department, who aided in the surveillance:

Praises Personnel

"Only through the combined efforts and cooperation of the Uniform Division and the Tactical Unit, with the Detective Bureau, was this entire investigation brought to a successful conclusion, insofar as it resulted in the arrest of the juvenile in the actual commission of a felony."

"The officers involved in the surveillance spent three weeks, day and night, recording the activities of the suspect, including a full week when he remained within the limits of Detroit. These policemen deserve a great deal of credit for doing an excellent job."

On the stake-out team, besides, Marchand, Kensora and Setchell, were Patrolmen Donald Sabel, Martin Trombley and Thomas Podeszwick.

turned, he said, the fighting had stopped for about four or five minutes. Then the assailants jumped on Fraser again, and he heard glass breaking and one of the assaulters say, "Let's get out of here. The kid's head went through the window."

Thompson's statement disclosed that Meathe had noticed the "No Smoking" sign, and that he had jokingly remarked that they paint the sign yellow. There were three other youths in the room, none of whom were known to him or his friends.

The statement paralleled that made by Meathe, except that after making a remark, the short, stocky fellow with curly hair, pushed him against Fraser, Thompson said, and then the youth began throwing punches at Fraser. He tried to stop the youth hitting his friends, and succeeded, Thompson said.

Assaulter Returns

A short while later, the assaulter approached him and asked if he was all right, Thompson said, and then the youth drew back and struck him in the mouth.

"Curly hair" began to hit him and knocked him to the floor, after which he jumped on him, Thompson said, and he pleaded with the youth to stop. The youth rushed out of the room, and the next thing he remembered, police had arrived, Thompson concluded.

Miller said that the beating was one of the most vicious he had ever seen. He said that an investigation will continue until the identity of the second assailant is established.

Under Michigan law, aggravated assault is a high misdemeanor, and on conviction, can bring up to one year in prison.

He said that the parties held in the high school and the junior high schools in the Pointe were for students of the Pointe schools, only.

Cimini, who is not a Pointe student, possibly paid an admission price, and was allowed to participate in the party, on the assumption that he was a student from one of the local schools, Miller said. Actually, the true story of how the youth was allowed to join the festivities is not really known, it was added.

Pupils Learn To 'Do-It-Themselves'

A new experience for elementary school children was provided last week for fifth grade pupils at Ferry Elementary School, 748 Roslyn road, when NEIL SUOMELA, (left center), Industrial Arts teacher at Parcels Junior High School, changed places with Steve Geer, an elementary teacher. The Ferry-

By Pepper Whitelaw
"Look, Mom I made it myself" was a sentence echoed through 28 Pointe households last week. The delighted speakers were members of a fifth grade class at Ferry School who took part in a pilot study conducted at Ferry and taught by Neil Suomela, Industrial Arts teacher from Parcels Junior High School.

This was one of many such studies being conducted throughout the school system in connection with the new middle school in an effort to determine the future of this exciting new concept in education.

Mr. Suomela held regular class sessions, (on a half-day basis), for an entire week. During that time he introduced the fifth graders to basic hand tools, various types of lumber and took the children on a tour of a lumber yard.

In the multi-purpose area at Ferry he set up a display of coping saws, files, sandpaper, wood braces, auger bits — all common hand tools. Then through "live demonstrations," animated films and discussion, he explained the use of the tools.

He felt that the children would have a better understanding of Industrial Arts if they had an opportunity to use the information they had gleaned from these films, demonstrations and discussions, so he arranged for them to do a simple project... a cutting board.

This was to be made out of a rectangular piece of white pine. The students were given a fish pattern to trace on the pine. They then cut it out, bored a hole into the wood, (a functional hole for hanging, decorative because it was the eye of the fish).

With this completed the children were instructed to sand the board and rub it with vegetable oil, (this last helps prevent retention of odors). With this last step the cutting board was completed but most important of all the children had used the information they had acquired to produce something of which they could be proud.

Mr. Suomela tried to bring something new and interesting to the students each day. One day he took them on a tour of Lumber and Millwork, Inc., a lumber yard and custom cabinet plant.

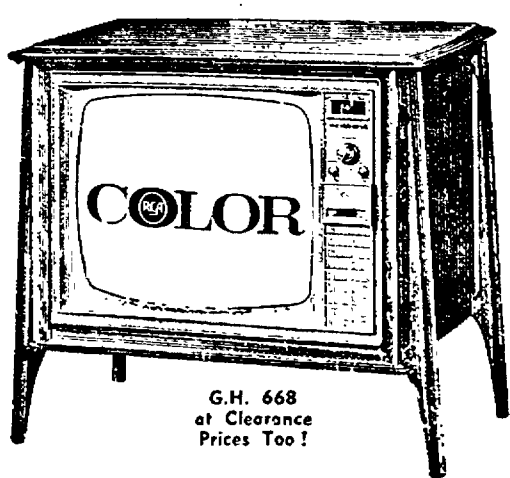

There under the guidance of one of the owners, William Thompson, the children learned about various types of lumber and saw beautiful woodworking projects in the making. In this way they saw how cabinet making relates to Industrial Arts and woodworking.

Part of another day was spent touring the school grounds and identifying trees and discussing them.

Now that the actual "lab work" is done, Mr. Suomela will make an illustrated presentation to the Parcels Steering Committee for their consideration.

Scouting's "Good Turn for Goodwill" swings into high gear this weekend, (November 18), as 20,000 Boy Scouts of the Detroit Area Council visit every home in their area to leave a Good Turn clothing bag.

The Scouts will return to these same homes on November 25—the Saturday after Thanksgiving—to pick up the bags from householders' porches.

The repairable clothing thus collected becomes raw materials in the Goodwill Industries workshops for the training and employment of handicapped men and women who might otherwise be dependent on public charity.

It is estimated that 400,000 homes in the greater Detroit area will be contacted. It is the earnest request of each Boy Scout that householders search their closets and basements for usable clothing and shoes and fill the Good Turn bag left on Saturday. Householders are also asked to put the filled bag on the front porch before 10 a.m. on Saturday, November 25.

Mayors and public officials of 35 cities, townships and villages in the tri-county area have proclaimed Saturday, November 25, to be "Good Turn" Day, and urge householders in their areas to fill a "good turn" bag to aid scouting's good turn for Goodwill.

Participation in this quadrennial clothing drive affords an opportunity to Boy Scouts to take part in a public service event, and joins the efforts of two Torch Drive agencies—Boy Scouts of America, Detroit Area Council, and Goodwill Industries of Greater Detroit.

Test Your Memory What Happened February 25th, 1965?

On this date, metropolitan Detroit was paralyzed for three days. The world's largest industrial city was stopped. Almost all industry and business was at a standstill. Why? A sudden nine-inch snowfall crippled the city. Customers of Cal Fleming Snow Removal Service had their snow removed twice within twelve hours after the snow had stopped. You too can have dependable snow removal service. Call TU 1-6950 for free estimate.

er took off the stocking-mask, rolled it up and placed it under his hat, where it was found when he was searched.

The assault, according to police, was similar to that committed against a girl in the City on July 18, 1966, described by City Police Chief Andrew Tee-taert as the "most vicious seen in my 30 years of police work," and one that took place in Detroit a short time earlier, before the Park incident. In both cases, the assailant wore a stocking-mask over his head and face.

DelPlace, by his prompt response to the emergency radio call, is credited with preventing Schriener from carrying out further harm to his victim.

The Grosse Pointe Park Police Officers Association named him Park Policeman of the Year and presented him with a citation.

The woman witness received a letter from Park Police Chief Arthur Louwers, lauding her for alertness, and thanking her for not being afraid to become "involved."

Austin Players Slate 2 Shows

The 10th season of the Austin Players of Austin Prep. School opens this month with two shows. Under the direction of Thomas E. Bailey, vice-principal of Activities, the Players are doing the one-act drama "Submerged" and the three-act comedy with music "Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court."

The first performance of "Submerged" will be November 19 for the Genesian Drama Festival. Another performance will be given on Wednesday, November 22, at Austin as part of an "East Side Evening."

At this 8 o'clock performance, one-acts of Star of the Sea and Austin will be given. There is no admission charge.

The shows are open to the public and the Players' Alumni and Alumnae are urged to attend.

"Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court" will be staged with music and dance during the Thanksgiving weekend. Performances are at 2 and 8 o'clock Saturday, November 25 and at 8 o'clock on November 26. Tickets are available at the door for $1; the theatre is Pierce Junior High.

The cast of "Submerged" is made up of Vince Peweski, Doug Michaels, Tom Peters, Paul Beaupre, Mike Oliver and Tom Misuraca.

"Connecticut Yankee" is much bigger with such names as Bob Berschback, Joe Shea, Rick Evatz, Jerry Garbac, John Agnone, Fran Addy, Maureen DeFour, Maureen Shields, Jo Ann Forte and Mary Jo Goddeeris heading the cast.

Supporting players include Jim Moffa, Terri Young, Charles Norton, Alice Humes, Bob Agnone, Rick DeWinter, Ann Hayes, Mary Beth Vaughn, Charles Mrowczynski, Bryan McMahon, Barbara Reardon, Maureen Burke, Linda Bailey, Don Wortman, Tim McMillan, Mark Chancey, Carolyn Tringali, Kathy Rutan, Elaine Palombi, Diane Bochner, Brian Walch, Mike Breen, George Niespole, John Sark, Tony Vohar, Mark Hodgman, Mary Pathum, Celia Gibson, Mary Dollard, Mike Getzen, Rick Shalla and many more.

The stage crew for both shows is made up of Tim Fredericks, Dennis Murray, Chris Bonamy, Dan Cohan, Brian McDonald, Tim Shea, Mark Nehra, Chuck Reichling, Mike Szymanski, Derek Tate and many more.

Pianist for the show is Bill Russell, direction by Ed Higbee.

given. If this test is not provided, you may legally refuse to take another type of test but you may still be charged in a court with drunk driving; 5. You may still demand, after the police test, that another test be administered, within a reasonable time, by a person of your own choosing; and 6. The results of any tests taken shall be admissible in court as corroborated evidence.

If you refuse to take a test, a sworn statement will be sent to the Secretary of State's Office in Lansing, affirming your refusal.

You will then be notified by the Secretary, that you have 14 days to request a hearing, or your license will be automatically suspended or revoked, for not less than 90 days, nor more than two years.

If you request such a hearing, it will be granted within 10 days, but will cover only the following issues:

Whether the officer had reasonable grounds to believe you were driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor, or with ability impaired; whether you were arrested for either of the charges; whether you were advised of your statutory rights; or, whether you refused to take the test.

Numerous studies prove that drinking drivers are involved in 60 to 75 percent of fatal accidents, which is the principal reason the law was passed.

One of the purposes of the law is to protect the innocent. For example, a person arrested may demand a test, which can result in proving he is sober. Under the new statute, the following limits are established to determine sobriety:

1. If a person tests .05 percent or less alcohol by weight in the blood, he is presumed sober; 2. If he tests .10 percent to .15 percent, it is presumed that his ability is impaired; and 3. If he tests .15 percent or higher, the presumption is that he is under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

Ideally, a will should not be made in a rush.

Actually, it happens all the time. Suddenly confronted by a long business trip or a vacation abroad, a man reasons that a "temporary" will is better than none at all.

That's true...temporarily.

But critical dangers lurk in the stop-gap wills of yesteryear which so many men continue to depend upon today.

Even the most thoughtful will should be reviewed regularly as a man's estate develops, as his family grows up.

NAB SHOPLIFTER
 The manager of Kresge's, 17101 Kercheval, reported a 13-year-old boy shoplifter to City Police on Friday, November 10. The youth had taken a 39-cent bottle of ink eraser. The boy's parents were notified and the youth was reprimanded and released.

John Fernald To Talk Here

Mark C. Stevens, program chairman of the Friends of the Grosse Pointe Public Library, announces that John Fernald, of Meadow Brook and Edgar A. Guest III will be featured in a public meeting on November 29 at 8 p.m. in the Exhibition Room at the Central Library, 10 Kercheval avenue.

One of the world's leading theatrical figures, John Fernald came to Meadow Brook Theatre and the Academy of Dramatic Art at Oakland University after serving as Principal of the famed Royal Academy of Dramatic Art in London for 10 years. Dame Judith Anderson, Peter Ustinov, Siobhan McKenna, Susannah York and Albert Finney, to name but a few, have performed under his direction.

He has more than 300 London productions to his credit. His productions of the works of Anton Chekhov, in particular, have set enduring standards of excellence.

He was born in California and educated at Oxford, England. He served as a Lieutenant-Commander in the Royal Navy during World War II, and has written a book "Sense of Direction" which will appear in March.

Mr. Guest, well known to Detroiters, being the grandson of the late Edgar A. Guest and the son of WJR Radio's Bud Guest, is public relations man for the theater.

Christmas Seal Story Dramatic

Christmas customs are a cherished part of the holiday spirit and no tradition appears more loved and honored than the Christmas Seal.

There were many — when the Seal was born in Denmark 63 years ago — who said you could not link a joyous holiday such as Christmas with sickness, illness and death.

But today the Christmas Seal has become a happy, joyous custom, and it still fights some of the paramount problems of the modern world. It supports the voluntary fight against tuberculosis, (still very much a problem), emphysema and other respiratory diseases, and air pollution.

The history of the Christmas Seal is melodramatic, filled with theatricality, cliff-hanging suspense and happy endings. If the story were fiction, it would be suspect, unbelievable. As a fact, it proves the adage that truth is stranger than fiction.

The first American Christmas Seal was developed by Miss Emily Bissell, crusading small-town clubwoman in Wilmington, Del. Penniless TB patients at that time were housed locally in what was little more than an outdoor shack on the banks of the Brandywine River in Delaware.

But there was not even enough money to keep the shack open. Unless $300 were raised right away, the patients would have to be sent home — possibly to die or to spread TB germs to others.

Emily Bissell had read about the Danish tuberculosis Seals and forthrightly set out to duplicate the experience.

She drew the design for the first Christmas Seal herself. It was a wreath of holly with the legend "Merry Christmas." Miss Bissell borrowed money to get started, and even the printer had to operate on credit — and faith.

The new little Christmas stickers were not immediately successful.

Coming in to save the day, however, was the press. Emily Bissell marched herself to Philadelphia, eventually won a few minutes with columnist Leigh Mitchell Hodges, and daily stories about the Seals and the fight against tuberculosis resulted.

Most important, the Seals became popular. Contributions began to come in, and that first holiday season saw Christmas Seals winning, not $300 but $3,000 for the Brandywine shack.

The rest is history. Christmas Seals have made a mammoth contribution to the fight against tuberculosis. Today they support the work of approximately 1,700 TB and respiratory disease associations across the country in fighting emphysema and air pollution as well as tuberculosis.

In Wayne County, the Christmas Seal supports the work of the TB and Health Society, an affiliate of the National Tuberculosis Association, one of the oldest voluntary health agencies in the United States.

The TB and Health Society is one of the nation's leaders in pioneering classes for children and adults with breathing problems caused by asthma, emphysema, chronic bronchitis and other respiratory difficulties. It has fostered smoking withdrawal clinics and is taking an active part in the battle to combat air pollution.

It has also pioneered the establishment of free loan programs to supply breathing equipment to physician-referred patients who have such needs.

The TB and Health Society has, historically, with other tuberculosis associations, led the battle for legislation to promote good health legislation — encourage the setting up of and improving of health departments, visiting nurse associations and public health nursing.

Currently, the TB and Health Society is a driving force for TB patients and their contacts.

Its efforts in initiating and backing recent health legislation have resulted in tuberculosis testing of school enterers and an annual chest X-ray for teachers and other school personnel, cosmeticians, barbers, dentists and others who are in constant contact with the public.

University School News

The following seniors were semi-finalists in the Merit Scholarship competition: Nancy Chapman, Paul Gupta, and John Hoag.

Those receiving Commendation were Mary Candler, John Collins, David Jones, Laura Norman, Carla Schnell, and Sally Steinhart.

The Pre-Kindergarten teachers will be attending a conference, sponsored by the Cooperative Nursery School Council and the Pre-School Association of Metropolitan Detroit on Saturday, November 18th at Oakland University. Lectures and discussions on problems and programs for pre-school children will be discussed by Ann Marie Roper of the City and Country School, Marjorie Sanger of Merrill-Palmer Institute, Betty Garlick of Michigan State University.

The following graduates received recognition for their standing academic record in college during the last academic year: Susan Larson, University of Michigan; Peterson, '64, University of Michigan; Charles Geyer, Colgate University; and Kins, '66, Yale University.

The total represents 104.6 per cent of the $26,369,595 goal sought to benefit nearly 200 health and community services.

All the excitement and glamor of a Broadway hit attended Campaign general chairman Robert B. Semple's announcement of the record-shattering figure.

It was made at the Victory Dinner for Semple's supporting cast of 1,200 volunteers and civic leaders in the Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel.

For the occasion, the hotel rolled out a red carpet; the Wayne State University band played, and a building across Washington boulevard proclaimed "UF Victory Night" with a mammoth sign, five stories high.

Dinner was served to the accompaniment of speeches, presentation of awards, plaudits and entertainment by NBC-TV "Bonanza" stars Lorne Green, Dan Blocker and Michael Landon.

Obviously elated and pleased, Semple described as "thrilled by the happy occasion of this long, hard-fighting, difficult campaign."

"I am returning the lighted torch glowing brighter than ever before in its history," the campaign chairman told UF President Wendell W. Anderson Jr.

Anderson had passed the lighted torch "with humility, gratitude and pride in a great community."

"This drive succeeded when many thought it would fail," he declared.

The campaign's outcome, Semple said, "reflects the fact the UF is built on solid ground and demonstrates the affection this community holds for our agencies."

He paid tribute to work done in years past by such outstanding campaign chairmen as Joseph L. Hudson, Jr., who served in 1965, and Ben D. Mills, who led Detroit to a record high in 1966.

"This year, unselfish devotion to the Torch Drive has been more necessary than ever before," Semple said.

Semple was given a silver plaque inscribed "with the gratitude, affection and appreciation of all the people in Metropolitan Detroit."

On making the presentation for the UF board of directors, President Anderson congratulated Semple and his Torch

America's Biggest Auto Show Opens Here Nov. 18

America's biggest auto show—the 52nd Detroit Auto Show—opens at Cobo Hall Saturday, November 18 and runs through November 26.

Cars and Stars is the theme of the nine-day show which will feature all of the 1968 domestic and import passenger cars, recreational vehicles, campers and motor homes, a twice-daily stage show and a fashion show.

The auto show is sponsored by the 235-member Detroit Auto Dealers Association (DADA) and affords Michigan residents an opportunity to see all the 1968 vehicles for the first time in one place. The first DADA-sponsored auto show was held in 1908, the same year the association was formed. This year's auto show opens November 18, founding date of the DADA.

Dozens of competition, experimental and show cars will be among the 450 vehicles of all types on display in the two-level, 400,000 square feet of exhibit area in mammoth Cobo Hall. Name entertainers scheduled to appear include Woody Herman and his 16-piece orchestra, singers Bobby Vinton and Della Reese, and teen-appealing groups such as The Detroit Wheels, The Debutantes and The Tidal Waves. There will be two shows daily, at 4:00 p.m. and 8:30 p.m., with a fashion show by Saks Fifth Avenue included in the evening performance.

Hours of the show will be noon to 11 p.m. Admission will be $1.50 for adults and 50¢ for children under 12. Adult tickets purchased in advance will be priced at $1 and will be available at all J. L. Hudson, Sears, General Tire, B. F. Goodrich and Uniroyal stores, and all Shell Oil Company stations, according to Harry Tennyson, a Chevrolet dealer in Livonia, chairman of the Detroit Auto Show Committee.

This is the third time the auto show will be held in Cobo Hall. Halls A, B and C on the first level contain 100,000 square feet of floor space each and will be devoted to passenger car exhibits, both domestic and import, and specialty vehicles. Exhibits of recreational vehicles and motor homes will be located in Hall D, on the lower level, along with the 1,500-seat entertainment area.

Plan New Way To Aid Retarded

At the November meeting of the Detroit Pediatric Society, Dr. Calier Worrell made the first public announcement of a new program to aid the families of retarded children.

The program, called "Volunteer Visitors" will enable families with newborn or newly diagnosed retarded children to meet specially trained "Visitors" who, being parents of retarded children themselves, can help them through this most trying time. The benefits derived from talking to others who have survived this experience are obvious.

The idea for this program, which was initiated by the Grosse Pointe Association for Retarded Children with the assistance of Dr. Elaine Hacker, Dr. Paul Zavell and Dr. Worrell, was enthusiastically embraced by the 12 other Associations for Retarded Children in Wayne, Macomb and Oakland counties, representing over 2,000 members.

In January of 1968 a formal announcement will be sent to doctors, churches and social service agencies outlining the procedure for using this service. Until that time information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Cass Pieronek, general chairman of the Volunteer Visitors Program, at TU 1-7961.

REFLECTION
Constructive criticism, like other virtues, should begin in your own home.

Don't criticize anyone until you're sure you have the facts.

Named Manager of Christmas Show and Sale

Ervin A. Steiner, Jr., of Touraine Road, Grosse Pointe, president of Steiner Promotions, Inc. has been named to manage the new Christmas Show and Sale to be held at the Light Guard Armory, today November 16 through 19.

Steiner announced that this show will have the one-of-a-kind gift for Christmas. "If it's unusual, look here for it first, and it's unique, you'll know we have it." If you are the type that invariably gives a tie or slip, this show is not for you.

At the Christmas Show you will find over 100 exhibitors with gifts from all over the nation and from the four corners of the world. Choose from:

Rare and exotic Oriental rugs, not to be duplicated anywhere; furniture crafted from planks, ribs, and anchor chains brought up from the bottom of Lake Michigan, originally parts of historic shipwrecked sailing schooners; the largest collection of pocket watches, pendants, lapel watches to be found in Detroit; genuine sheepskin rugs, dyed in brilliant decorator hues or life-like wild-animal skin patterns; hand-carved ivory and sandalwood from India; Christmas holiday candies, traditional or novelty in shape, scented or unscented; Christmas cards that express just what you want to say; holiday decorations that are out-of-the-ordinary, including the artificial trees and ornaments; playhouse furniture that accurately reproduces full size antiques; gift wrappings that will give packages that "specially for you" look; hobby and sports equipment to fill the leisure hours of young and old; genuine Indian arrowheads made into tie tacs, earrings, or bolo ties; imported Scottish clan tartans in fine quality wool; and executive gifts for the V.I.P. on your list. (Companies can shop here and buy one or 100 items.)

Authentic antiques from reliable and recognized dealers; cookies and candy for holiday gifting and entertaining; jumbo Georgia pecans, already shelled (look for them in the Lapeer Chapel Fund benefit booth with their Christmas cards and novelties); new book "The Patch on Santa's Pants" by Charles Manos, or bound volumes of "Six White Horses," the famous Kennedy memorial poem by Grosse Pointe's Candy Geer, with both authors present for autographing sessions; pastel portrait of your wife or child, or a caricature of your husband; and so many more it's impossible to name them all.

See the Christmas tree in the lobby which actually snows! A highlight of the show, it can also be purchased for your home. Make the Christmas Show your one-stop shopping center for Christmas. To quote Steiner, "We want to help you give the gift that will be most likely to be saved in case of fire—even if it hasn't been opened yet."

Come to the most unusual show ever held for Christmas in Metropolitan Detroit—at the Light Guard Armory, 4400 East 8 Mile Road, Thursday through Sunday, November 16-19. Hours are from 1:00 to 10:00 p.m., and free parking is available adjacent to the armory.

Yearbook Staff Receives Honors

The hard working members of Our Lady Star of the Sea's yearbook staff are to be commended for two recent honors.

The first award is the all Catholic Award from the Catholic Student Press of Marquette University. The second award is the Ignatian Commander from the Detroit Student Press Association of the University of Detroit. Each award is the highest given by the organizations. The L'etoile yearbook was cited especially for its excellent photography, of which 90 percent was done by the students.

Because of the enthusiastic support of the entire student body the yearbook will now be expanded and includes a new linen cover with an embossed emblem. The students, staff and yearbook moderator, Sister Thomas Ann are all being congratulated.

Youngest ideas at the Auto Show! '68 "youngmobiles" from Oldsmobile.

They're the youngest Oldsmobiles in seventy years! Young in the way they look. Young in the way they act. They come in all sizes. All body styles. All prices. Like this all-new Cutlass S. Like front-wheel-drive Toronado. Like the bigger-than-ever Vista-Cruiser, sportier-than-ever 4-4-2, more luxurious-than-ever 88 and Ninety-Eight. There are 31 "youngmobiles" in all—and they all have famous Oldsmobile quality, reliability and engineering. And all the new GM safety features, too—including the energy-absorbing steering column. So, if you're on the lookout for young ideas, look no further than the Oldsmobile Exhibit.

Miss Woolfolk was seen pulling out of Watson's Sunoco Station heading east on Mack in the west bound lane, striking the center island and blowing the right front tire of her car. She bounced off the curb and into the path of an oncoming car, then backed to the south curb near the entrance of the gas station.

She was stopped by the officers and advised of her Constitutional Rights. She admitted under questioning that she had drunk one beer.

She was taken to the City Police station and charged. Miss Woolfolk failed to post the $25 bond, so her car was held in lieu of bond at the station. The car will not be released until the bond and towing charges are paid.

Miss Woolfolk had next to her on the driver's seat a three-inch pocket knife which the officers confiscated. She was issued a ticket and a court notice to appear.

Two Clubs Offer Skiing Lessons

Getting ready for snow and the winter's ski season are Grosse Pointe War Memorial's two ski clubs — the Grosse Pointe Adult Ski Club and the Ski Hi Club for students in grades 9-12.

The adult club will have its first lesson Thursday evening, November 16, at 8 o'clock. The young people will have theirs Sunday afternoon, November 19 at 3 o'clock. All who are interested whether skiers or club members yet are welcome to come and participate.

Both adult and Ski Hi school sessions will be directed by Bill Bokram and Rex Clavola. Advice will be given on equipment and how to wear and use it properly. Then everyone will be shown exercises to get and keep them in condition. Finally, the basic rudiments of ski positions will be covered and practiced on dry land. Pete Schummer is providing equipment free for the youngsters to study with.

Form New GOP Club In Woods

A large group of key Republicans, including precinct delegates of Grosse Pointe Woods, met at the home of Ron Brenaman in Hidden lane, on Monday, November 6, and formed the Grosse Pointe Woods Republican Club. The club is autonomous and is open for membership to any interested Republicans living in the Woods.

Mr. Matthew E. Connor, chairman of the Republican Citizens of the 14th Congressional District of Michigan, presented the official registration to the new chairman, Mr. Brenaman.

Mr. Brenaman has been active in the Neighbor to Neighbor Fund Raising Drive in the 14th District. Mrs. Laddy A. Rice of Hawthorne Road is acting Secretary. The next meeting is on the 20th of November.

OKAY MEETING FUND
City Clerk Peter Caputo informed the Farms council on Monday, November 6, that arrangements have been completed for the 20th annual Employee-Management meeting, usually held at the municipal park. He requested, and the council approved, appropriation of $475 to defray the cost of the event. The city body authorized a similar contribution last year.

Wayne State University's green and gold school colors were selected before the school began athletic competition in 1917-18.

Red Cross Ready For Yule Project

Red Cross offices throughout Southeastern Michigan are preparing for their Christmas "Voices from Home" project.

"Voices from Home" enables families of servicemen and women stationed, abroad or in State-side military hospitals to tape, free of charge, 15 minute messages which Red Cross then sends. Foreign students and families of Peace Corps members may also take advantage of this opportunity but must pay their own postage.

Red Cross officials recommend that families prepare notes before coming to the nearest office to make their recordings so that they may take advantage of every minute of tape.

"Voices" are taped by appointment only. To make your recording, call Red Cross Chapter House, 961-3900.

Wayne M. Halkides Ends Basic Training

Seaman Recruit Wayne M. Halkides, USN, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton J. Halkides, of 2222 Hollywood, has been graduated from nine weeks of Navy basic training at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

In the first weeks of his naval service he studied military subjects and lived and worked under conditions similar to those he will encounter on his first ship or at his first shore station.

In making the transition from civilian life to Naval service, he received instruction under veteran Navy petty officers. He studied seamanship, as well as survival techniques, military drill and other subjects.

Farley To Talk On Investments

"How to Trade Securities" will be the subject of the next free investment lectures in Fries Auditorium, 32 Lakeshore Road, Tuesday evening, November 21, at 8:15 p.m. The speaker will be John E. Farley, partner in the William C. Roney Co. He is a Princeton graduate and former Marine.

Mr. Farley will define trading and short term speculation. He will outline the objectives of traders and methods of trading. Mr. Farley feels today's dynamic economic and market conditions suggest that one "stay loose."

One of the reasons for this is the rapid emergence of new products and processes. Another is the new ideas developing in service industries. New management concepts, turnarounds and conglomerates and the rapid rise and fall of industries all dictate that one remain fluid in the market.

How to be flexible and cling to the "blue chips" presents a problem. Mr. Farley suggests being open minded and accepting the facts of improvement in research and in corporate financial information communication. He feels one should accept important changes in the economy and adopt a more aggressive attitude than in the past.

Reckless Accusations

Letters to the editor which are unsigned or carry a pseudonym, generally complete a quick trip to the wastebasket. We have small patience with those writers who lack the courage of their convictions... another segment of that rather pitiful group who are afraid of "becoming involved." Somehow, the letter we print below piqued our curiosity and we couldn't resist the temptation to check out the accusations so recklessly cast by brave "Interested Spectator."

We turned the correspondence over to Jerry Gerich, principal of Grosse Pointe High School, requesting comment. This had been done... in detail... as the following indicates. We hope it answers the questions which might have been brought to the attention of others by this cowardly accuser. If he, or she... (we presume it must be a parent of an inept aspirant to athletic glory), wishes to pursue the argument, future letters must be signed, or the round file will certainly swallow them.

Dear Sir:
 The following item is something that you may wish to look into and investigate for the good of Grosse Pointe High School sports.
 As the basketball season begins, I was most amazed to learn from more than one source that after two days of supposed tryouts, the majority, if not all the boys, picked for Grosse Pointe High basketball team, were boys whose parents paid $50 each for them to attend.

What Goes On at Your Library

By Virginia Leonard

It's just about time for another sampling of new books that line the shelves or occupy the book trucks in the Processing Department. I've picked them at random, but with an effort to give as much variety as possible.

The first, TOO STRONG FOR FANTASY by Marcia Davenport, is a personal record of music, literature and politics in America and Europe over half a century. This is a departure for Miss Davenport who is usually known as a novelist, with an international reputation for over 30 years. Here is a personal record; it is a fascinating book—vivid, reflective, wide-ranging, embracing New York in the early '900's and Czechoslovakia in crisis after World War II. One of the main characters is Alma Gluck, the author's mother. Two other "greats" are Arturo Toscanini and Jan Masaryk. Marcia Davenport was in Prague during the crisis in Czechoslovakia, which culminated in the Communist coup d'état. Now for the first time she gives her account of the political tragedy and the mysterious violent death of Jan Masaryk.

How about Sylvia Wilkinson's A KILLING FROST? Here, in this new novel, the season is late fall in rural North Carolina. Two very vivid women are portrayed: Ramona Hopkins, aged thirteen, and her grandmother, Miss Liz. The story is told through Ramie's (Ramona's) narrative. The author is a native of Durham, North Carolina, is 27 years old, and is a teacher of English at Asheville-Biltmore and William and Mary Colleges.

You must have heard about the well-publicized TWENTY LETTERS TO A FRIEND by Svetlana Alliluyeva. This is in the form of letters to an unidentified friend, relating the harrowing journey of one soul, one consciousness through three dark decades of totalitarian tyranny. From the death of her father, Josef Stalin, in 1953, and her "double life" in the decade that followed, Mme. Alliluyeva cast back to her unclouded childhood in the tranquil household created by her mother. This is a narrative of fear, torment, oppression and tragedy. Two good characters are outstanding: her mother and the nurse who shielded Svetlana for 30 years.

Are you a Mary Stewart buff? If so you will want to read her new work, THE GABRIEL HOUNDS. The title comes from an English legend about a pack of ghostly hounds that hunt through the sky with Death and clamor over the house at night when someone is going to die. And this is pertinent to the story. This is a gothic, suspense novel that will not disappoint you if you like this sort of tale.

In quite another vein, we suggest William Craig's THE FALL OF JAPAN. This is a popular history, telling for the first time the exciting and often incredible story of the final weeks of World War II in the Pacific.

The author makes use of personal interviews, unpublished diaries, memoirs and newly discovered official documents. Here are tumultuous military and diplomatic events which signal the end of the Japanese Empire.

How about humor? (And that's hard to find in books today.) You might like BUT DADDY! by Tom Buck—a rollicking story about a family of 13 (11 children) and how they grew. What is a typical breakfast for such a tribe? Half a gallon of oatmeal, two dozen eggs, and two loaves of toast. This will remind you, we think of CHEAPER BY THE DOZEN or LIFE WITH FATHER.

If astronomy is your avocation, you might enjoy Robert S. Richardson's THE STAR LOVERS. This is a story of 16 famous astronomers, covering four centuries. They (the astronomers, that is) differ greatly in temperament, background and fields of interest, but all share a common drive—a burning desire to learn about the stars. One is Tycho Brahe, born in the sixteenth century, who lost his nose in a duel. Another is Isaac Newton. Still another is John Goodricke, a deaf mute from birth, who only lived 22 years, carefully observing the variable star Algol and correctly interpreting its light changes.

We cannot fail to include a new book by one of our favorite authors. It is THE VALE OF LAUGHTER by Peter De Vries. The story revolves around one Joe Sandwich, a somewhat manic and slightly ribald clown-buffoon, who believes that human life is a zoo in a jungle. If you like the clever zanyism of De Vries, you will enjoy this book.

If you are interested in our near neighbor, Canada, you should read THE CANADIANS, edited by J.M.S. Careless and R. Craig Brown. Here is the rousing story of the one hundred years from Confederation in 1867 to the present. This book is written by 29 eminent and proficient authors, showing Canada's progress in every art, science, profession or enterprise during this century. It is comprehensive, accurate and fascinating in content.

So there they are—take your pick. And we have many more where these come from!

THIEF LOOTS CAR

Dr. William Krebs of 269 Kenwood court, informed Farms authorities that sometime between the time he parked his car in the Cottage Hospital Lot, and making three professional calls in the City, on Tuesday, November 7, someone broke into his automobile and stole a Magnavox tape-recorder, three reels of blank tapes, a foot switch and an adapter. Total loss is set at about $95.

What's New on THE HILL

by Sibyl

Great Gift Idea... from Elizabeth Arden... gift packaging this year is more beautiful than ever. However, it's different. You pick the gift box—either Memoire Cherie pink or Blue Grass green. Then you select the Arden goodies you'd like to have your box. You get just what you want at Arden headquarters on the Hill... Trail Apothecary.

Window Shopping... at the Mermaid... you'll see the English china holiday set. The turkey platter comes twelve or sixteen inches... for seven-fifty or eleven twenty-five... The matching set of dinner plates, cups and saucers... twenty-four dollars a dozen.

Reservations Please!... because of the limited quantity, call Picard-Norton (TUxedo 2-4241) reserve your turtleneck evening shirt of fine broad cloth with French cuffs. A limited edition of the shirts will be arriving at 92 Kercheval about December 1st. They will cost twenty dollars.

Hard-To-Find... gifts for men are found at Kercheval. It's not so unusual. That's the reason of Gray's Racquet and Sports Shop. Besides an excellent selection of nationally advertised sports equipment, they have gifts like a Honeywell barometer and thermometer. Drop by, you'll see many a present problem on sight.

Check... the magnetic chess set at Margaret Rice. Sure to win a big thank you from women and men. The board is white and gold metal. The chessmen are handsome with metal bases. They come packed in a travel box... to tote along on a trip. Seven-fifty.

Don't Leave... this chore to the last minute. Call in and order your Christmas cards at Pogran, Kercheval... ten days delivery. Isn't that encouraging?

"Top Shopping"... at the Dants—The League Shop we noted the elegant and sometimes fun wraps lining the stairs. Upstairs... eye-catching napkins, plates and invitations are as cheerful as the holidays themselves. Of course, there's a fabulous selection of boxed cards and almost a library of card-books. On our way downstairs, we admired the inspired table setting with permanent centerpiece and little decorative candle-rings. Hello Christmas!

Christmas Morning... see your little angel's heavenly velvet robes (green or coral) from Yon Clothes, 110 Kercheval. There are some charming, cozy white quilted robes scattered with box-quet-prints. For added gaiety, collect a basket of wind-up toys. They're such fun and have reasonable little prices.

The Newest Fabrics... are arriving daily at Decker, 77 Kercheval. If you hurry you can still get "that" chair recovered in time for holiday "house" at your house.

A Galaxy Of Gifts... for Christmas... decorative... are to be found at Virginia Williams, 79 Kercheval, along with gift accessories for holiday entertaining.

Mr. Sheridan—Books, 81 Kercheval... suggests "The Complete Encyclopedia of Antiques" edited by L.G.G. Ramsey. It's a 1472 page volume... a coffee-table-top-book. Illustrations are in color and black and white. It would make a perfect present for amateurs, professional collectors and enthusiasts. The pre-publication price is fourteen ninety-five. Call 881-1671 or 881-2916 for delivery.

NOT EVERYONE... in Grosse Pointe will get a Bronze Door Gift Certificate. We can't think of anyone who wouldn't want one and if he gets a duplicate... well, you just can't get too much of a good thing! Good anytime... you name the amount at 123 Kercheval.

St. John Hospital Pontbonne Auxiliary's White Christmas Ball, traditionally the Pointe's prettiest winter holiday party, will be held this year Saturday evening, December 9, at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club—and dancers will literally be dancing their hearts out.

Every $100 ticket is to be donated to the Hospital's eight-bed, $50,000 Coronary Care Unit.

"We have doubled the fare," explains Mrs. Charles Burke, of Woodland Shores drive, general chairman of the 14th annual Ball, "so we can reduce the odds of fatal coronaries."

Working with Mrs. Burke on plans for the Ball is chairman Mrs. Michael C. Burke, of Cloverly road. Mrs. John H. Madison is president of the Pontbonne Auxiliary and Mrs. Frederick K. Cody is honorary 1967 chairman.

The list of additional committee chairmen includes Mrs. A. Marx, publicity; Mrs. Theodore W. Berend, Mrs. Charles Dawood and Mrs. Phillip Marco, publicity co-chairmen; Mrs. James N. Motschall and Mrs. C. Wakely, in charge of invitations; Mrs. James Sanford, Jr., Mrs. C. Bradford Lundy, Mrs. Richard La and Mrs. Walter L. Van Goethem, Jr., handling decorations.

Heading the decorations committee is Mrs. Claude Greiner, who has asked Mrs. William Beckenhauer, Chilton Drysdale, Mrs. Raymond Kokowicz, Mrs. Sam J. Lilly, Mrs. A. H. Moorman and Mrs. Louis Hubert to assist her.

Chairman and co-chairman of the Program committee are Mrs. Walter B. Fisher and Mrs. A. Joseph Hoski. Stephen Zieliński is financial secretary. Hostesses are Mrs. Roger Rinke and Mrs. C. Don Steepe.

Mix Art And Music In 'Life's Light Side'

Jacques Maloubier And Jenny Collins Will Appear At War Memorial's Fries Auditorium This Saturday Night

The spirit of Paris and other continental cities, their artistic past and present, their painting and music and zest for life, are all part of a unique entertainment provided by French artist Jacques Maloubier, who with his chanteuse wife Jenny Collins comes to Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Fries Auditorium to appear before the "Lighter Side of Life" crowd Saturday evening, November 18.

A delightful person with the twinkle of Paris in his eye, Mr. Maloubier will present a one-man tour (with musical background) of the City of Light, Vienna, Rome, Sorrento, London and Spain.

As part of the program, he sketches in charcoal, with the aid of a large pad and easel, Paris as it looked in the days of such famous painters as Degas, Van Gogh, Matisse and others, and as it looks today.

Music of each period and place is played. Thus the delicate courtliness of Fragonard is evoked by the harpsichord music of Couperin, a bouncy Offenbach tune recalls Toulouse-Lautrec and the present-day sounds of Darius Milhaud echo the paintings of Bernard Buffet.

An element of audience participation takes place when Mr. Maloubier invites someone up whom he sketches in the styles of artists as varied as Renoir and Picasso, finally doing a sketch in his own style, signing it and giving it to the one who serves as his model.

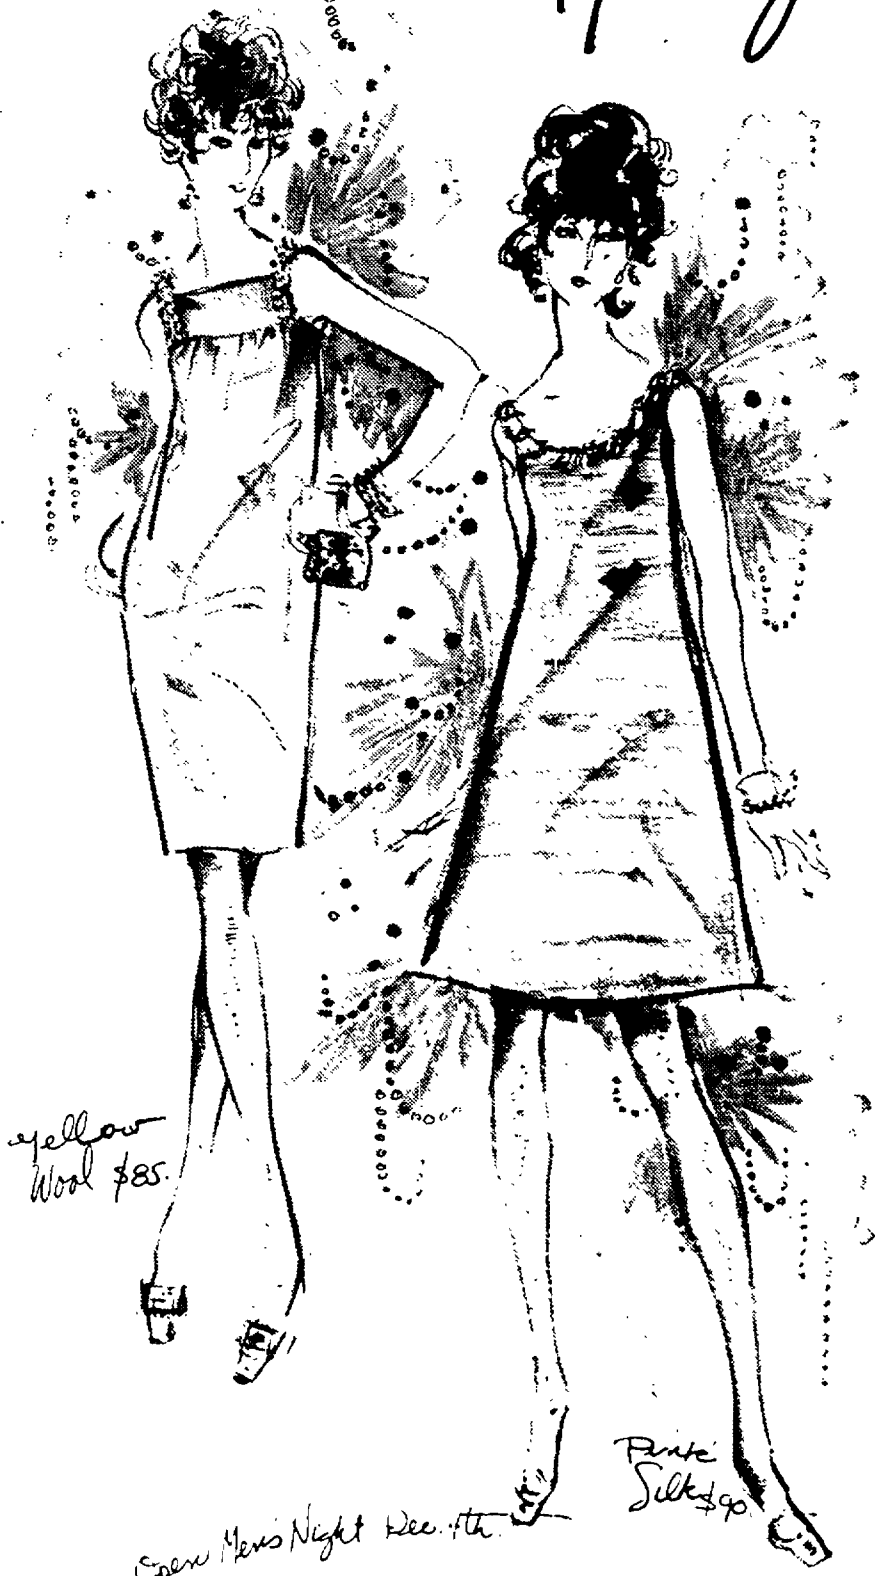

The epitome of the romantic French artist, Jacques Maloubier knows what it's like to sit where Delacroix used to sit in an art class at "l'Ecole des Beaux Arts", how it feels to come upon a painter like Braque in the office of an intellectual review.

He knows, too, the sense of participation that comes from serving with the French Underground, of painting patriotic posters and pasting them on the walls of Paris before the liberation, of being imprisoned by the Gestapo.

He has lived the life of the artist with a studio in Montparnasse who sketches the Ballet backstage at the Paris Opera, Jenny Collins, his wife, who sings some of the world's most popular songs in this unusual program, has won critics' praises for her brilliant voice on Broadway, in the plush Persian Room of New York's Plaza Hotel and in other Top Supper clubs.

Among those who traveled to Interlochen for the inauguration of Dr. Karl Haas as second president of the Music Center were MR. and MRS. ALFRED MORAN, of Prestwick road.

Barbara Day Speaks Vows To Dr. Giesen

Newlyweds Will Live In Ann Arbor Where Bridegroom Is Resident Physician In Pathology At University Hospital

St. Paul's-on-the-Lakeshore was the setting for the noon ceremony Saturday, November 11, at which Barbara Sinclair Day, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. A. Jackson Day, of Cloverly road, and Dr. Philip Charles Giesen exchanged marriage vows.

A reception at the Country Day Club of Detroit followed the rites, at which Monsignor Frank McPhillips officiated.

The bride wore an Empire gown of ivory dulcette satin and peau d'ange lace, styled with a bateau neckline and short sleeves. Two sprays of lace flowers extended from her bodice down the front of her skirt, and lace medallions were scattered over her Court length Watteau train.

Her mantilla was fashioned of Brussels lace, and she carried a bouquet of stephanotis and white orchids.

Maria Day, who served as her sister's honor attendant, and bridesmaids Mary Giesen, of Minneapolis, Minn., sister of the bridegroom, Constance Wendin, of San Francisco, Calif., Mrs. John McCarroll, of Ann Arbor, and Mrs. John Idema, of Indianapolis, Ind., wore A line frocks of Navy velvet, fashioned with stand-up cowl necklines and long, tapered sleeves.

Their headpieces were matching velvet bows. Their bouquets were fashioned of three shades of pink carnations.

The bridegroom, son of Dr. and Mrs. Conrad W. Giesen, of Superior, Wis., asked his cousin, Dr. James DeVinck, of Minneapolis, to act as best man.

Ushering were Michael J. Callahan, of New York, Dr. Thomas R. Gadacz, of Chicago, Dr. Warren O. Kessler, of Los Angeles, and David P. Schaupner.

The bride's mother wore a pale green Alaskine dress and coat, with a matching feathered hat. The bridegroom's mother selected a dress and jacket of cinnamon-colored silk, with brown accessories.

After a short wedding trip, the couple will reside in Ann Arbor where the bridegroom is a resident physician in Pathology at University Hospital.

Arriving home to spend the Thanksgiving holiday with their parents, the BENSON FORDS, of Lakeshore road, will be son BENSON, JR., and daughter LYNN, both of whom attend school in the East.

To Be Bride

Judge and Mrs. Victor H. DeBaeke, of Lake Shore lane, have announced the engagement of their daughter, NICOLE JULIE, to Richard Peter Hurd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard F. Hurd, of Scarborough, N.Y.

Miss DeBaeke was graduated from the Academy of the Sacred Heart in Lakeshore road and Marymount College, Tarrytown, N.Y.

Her fiancé was graduated from Wilbraham Academy, Wilbraham, Mass., and attended Westchester Community College, Westchester, N.Y.

A December 27 wedding is planned.

The JOSEPH B. HESTERS have returned to their Fair Acres drive home after a six-week motor trip through France and Spain, and will be entertaining at dinner parties November 29 and December 1.

Mrs. Philip C. Giesen

Speaking their wedding vows in St. Paul's-on-the-Lakeshore Saturday, November 11, were BARBARA SINCLAIR DAY, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. A. Jackson Day, of Cloverly road, and Dr. Giesen, son of Dr. and Mrs. Conrad W. Giesen, of Superior, Wis.

Brown-Weber Rites Are Read

Trinity Episcopal Church, Bay City, was the setting for the Saturday, November 11, wedding of Kerry Jean Weber, daughter of the Carl Henry Webers, of Bay City, and Thomas Hart Brown, son of Mrs. Francis Holl Brown, of Meadow lane, and the late Mr. Brown.

The Reverend John Scantlebury officiated at the afternoon ceremony, which was followed by a reception in the Bay Room of the Wenonah Hotel, Bay City.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white peau de sole accented with Alencon lace, and a Cathedral length mantilla of English illusion and sculptured lace.

She carried an arrangement of gardenias and baby's-breath.

Mrs. Cary G. Van Haaren, of Bay City, was matron of honor and Judith M. Schlafer of Eau Gallie, Fla., was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Nancy Jane Weber, the bride's sister, Nancy Jane Brown, sister of the bridegroom, and Cheryl Baker, of Washington, D.C.

They chose floor length frocks of all-white silk dotted plisse, sashed in moss green velvet, and matching velvet bandeau headpieces, and carried bouquets of pink Sweetheart roses and ivy.

William M. Burns, of Ann Arbor, served as the bridegroom's best man, and groomsmen were John W. Fischer, of Cincinnati, O., Donald C. Sweeney, of Bay City, Thomas J. John Richard Weber, of Bay City, and the bride.

The mother of the bride wore a mint green ensemble, and the bridegroom's mother wore a celestial blue frock. Both mothers' flowers were violets.

Opera Luncheon Held In Pointe

The Detroit Grand Opera Association, sponsors of the annual visit of the Metropolitan Opera, will observe its silver jubilee during the 1968 opera season, according to Mrs. Ralph T. McElvenny, of Cloverly road, general chairman of the 1968 season.

The announcement was made at a luncheon given by Mrs. McElvenny for more than 80 volunteer workers at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club on Wednesday, November 8.

Women's committee members from 25 communities in South-eastern Michigan and from Windsor attended the luncheon and the meeting.

Mrs. McElvenny pointed out that the cost of bringing the Metropolitan to Detroit for its week of opera in May has increased considerably since last season. As a result the Women's committee will launch an intensive effort to increase advertising revenue in the opera program.

"Opera on the scale of the Metropolitan cannot be supported by ticket sales alone," said Mrs. McElvenny.

"Outright contributions and the revenue from the program have always helped to make ends meet. Now our women volunteers are going to go to work on advertising."

"I am confident their efforts will help to assure Detroit's season of grand opera, which has become one of the area's most valuable cultural assets," Mrs. McElvenny stated.

Alpha Xi Delta Alumnae To Ponder 'New Values'

"Our Values — What's New?" will be the program presented when Alpha Xi Delta Alumnae meet Monday evening, November 20, at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Leslie Putnam in Earl court. She will be assisted by Mrs. Stanley Capp and Mrs. Denis Berdasono.

This program was developed by a study group of the Grosse Pointe Branch of The American Association of University Women under the chairmanship of Mrs. William D. Beach, who will introduce panel members.

Topics include the writings of contemporary authors Joseph Fletcher, Albert Camus, Jean-Paul Sartre and Ayn Rand. All Alpha Xi Deltas are invited to participate in this stimulating and thought-provoking discussion and a special invitation is extended to any member who may be new to the community.

Bon Secours Guild Slates Yule Fiesta

To Be Held In Science Hall Of Hospital Tomorrow; Booths Will Feature Christmas Gifts And Stocking Stuffers

Bon Secours Hospital Guild is sponsoring a Yule Fiesta, with proceeds going toward purchase of an auto-analyzer. Dr. Denis Luz, Director of Laboratory of Bon Secours Hospital, explains, one never gets still in medicine; if you don't go forward you go backward.

The laboratory is an integral part of the modern hospital and the demands upon it are increasing daily. These demands necessitate additions to the staff, but there are not enough well-trained people to fill the void.

The only alternative is automation in diagnostic procedures. Fortunately, there are machines available that will do the work of several people; such as the Technicon auto-analyzer. One technician can operate the unit and several tests can be run simultaneously.

The apparatus ensures speed, accuracy and economy. The one big draw-back would be the expense to the Hospital: The cost is astronomical!

The Yule Tide Fiesta will be held in the Science Hall of the Hospital Friday, November 17, from 10 to 9 o'clock.

General chairman Mrs. Ellwood Wachter and her co-workers, Mrs. Frank Hilton and Mrs. Herbert Kelleher, have been working, painting, shopping and buying all summer with chairmen of various booths, including aprons, children's clothing, toys, stuffed animals, antiques, decoupage articles, candleholders and Christmas arrangements.

The French Cafe will provide rest and refreshments.

Previewing Goods At Goodwill Preview

DR. JOHN E. HOSKINS, (right), of Fisher road, executive director of Goodwill Industries, holds an old dome topped trunk decorated by Peter Ompir of Sheffield, on display at the Junior Goodwill Antique Market preview Saturday night. Pancake Supper Is Big Success

The Pancake Supper held at Grosse Pointe University School on October 27 raised over $1,500 and assures the expenses of two American Field Service students for next year.

Over 1,625 people were served dinner at the school during a two-hour period.

The Fifth grade sold 355 tickets and was awarded an afternoon of fun and games last Wednesday at school. Kim Fruehauf, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry R. Fruehauf, of Provencal road, won three blue ribbons and was declared the "champion" by American Field Service student Peter Sacks, of the Union of South Africa.

Norman Bird, son of Norman Bird, of Old Brook lane, won two red ribbons to be runner-up, while Chris Simone, of Stephens road and Bill Ford, of Lakeshore road, won a blue ribbon each.

Lornie McCormick-Goodheart, of Tonnancour place, and Mark Higbie, of Provencal road, Ruth Schwartz, of Hamilton road, and Jimmy Greenstone, of Lowell drive, each won a red ribbon. After the races, Peter Sacks assisted Miss Blackman, fifth grade teacher, in cutting a three-foot-wide cake decorated with crossed American and United Nations flags.

All members of the fifth grade were given pins to mark their victory and salute their ability at salesmanship.

The Skate Exchange, held at the school the following week, also showed a 50 percent improvement over last year. The Committee reported $130 profit, which will also go to the American Field Service.

There's one consolation in life you don't have to pay taxes on the money you lost.

DAVID CHRISTIAN ANDERSEN, son of MR. and MRS. HAROLD ANDERSEN, formerly of The Pointe, currently of Wichita, Kans., has been elected Pledge Class President of the Gamma Chapter of Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity at the University of Kansas.

Young Violinist With Symphony

Violinist Pinchas Zuckerman, co-winner of the 25th Leventritt International Competition held at Carnegie Hall last May, will make his debut with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra this Thursday night, November 16, in a concert beginning at 8:30 o'clock.

Ehring also has programmed Sir William Walton's Variations on a Theme by Hindemith and Sergei Prokofiev's Symphony No. 7, both of which will be played for the first time by the Symphony.

Zuckerman, Ehring and the Orchestra rehearsed the same program at the Symphony open rehearsal Wednesday.

The Symphony has no Saturday evening performance this week.

Pinchas Zuckerman was born in Israel on July 16, 1948. His father, himself a talented violinist, began Pinchas' training, and when he was eight years old the boy started formal training at the Israel Conservatory and Academy of Music in Tel Aviv.

In the summer of 1961 the 13-year-old violinist was brought to the attention of Pablo Casals and Isaac Stern, who were visiting in Israel, and they considered him so gifted they helped pave the way to send Pinchas to the United States for further study.

He has since been studying with Ivan Galamian at the Juilliard School of Music. Zuckerman's concert appearances in the United States and Canada include sharing a recital program in Detroit two years ago. Earlier this year he was added to the artist roster of Impresario Sol Hurok.

Miss Muldoon Wed At Evening Service

Speaks Vows To Dale Gordon Wood; Wears Peau de Soie Gown Accented With Re-Embroidered, Beaded Alencon Lace

Planning to make their home in Detroit when they return from a vacation in California and Las Vegas, Nev., are Mr. and Mrs. Dale Gordon Wood, who exchanged marriage vows Friday evening, November 3, in Our Lady Star of the Sea Church.

Mrs. Wood is the former Judith Kathleen Muldoon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Muldoon, of Canterbury road.

The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Edward Huff, of Balfour road, Detroit.

The 7 o'clock rites, at which Father William Palmer officiated, were followed by a reception at Alcamo's Hall.

The bride's Empire gown of peau de soie was accented with re-embroidered, beaded Alencon lace and styled with a Watteau train. Her illusion veil fell from a beaded lace headpiece, and she carried a bouquet of stephanotis, orchids and ivy.

In satin-trimmed frocks of apricot chiffon were Marcia Muldoon, who served as her sister's honor attendant, and bridesmaids Sally Gray, Susan Formella and Regina Abate.

They wore small satin bows in their hair and carried arrangements of yellow and rust baby mums.

Best man was Donald Misuraca. Seating the guests were Robert Slaine, Peter Gray and Barry Duncan.

The bride's mother selected a burnt orange chiffon ensemble, while the bridegroom's mother chose a beige lace costume.

Southeastern Women Meet November 20

The Southeastern Women's Club will meet on Monday, November 20, at 12:30 o'clock at St. James Presbyterian Church.

Parlors in Morang drive, Detroit, for a program on "New Books". Chairman is Mrs. J. B. Marsteller.

Mrs. Dale G. Wood

At an evening ceremony Friday, November 3, in Our Lady Star of the Sea Church, JUDITH KATHLEEN MULDOON became Mr. Wood's bride. She is the daughter of the Ralph E. Muldoons, of Canterbury road. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Huff, of Balfour road, Detroit.

Party Planned At Star of Sea

The "Taxi" makes a one night stop at Star of the Sea on Wednesday, November 22. They'll be driving their way straight to your "SOUL." The fare for the night is $1. Dress for girls is skirts; boys will be preferred in slacks. High school or college ID must be presented. The "trip" begins at 8:30 and ends at 11:30, so don't miss the "Taxi."

Set Pettipointe Quester Meeting

The Pettipointe Chapter of the Questers will meet on Thursday, November 16, at 12:30 o'clock in the home of Mrs. Michael Goodnow in Haverhill road. Each member will show and tell about a piece of silver or Sheffield Plate which has some significance to her family.

The Pettipointers enjoyed a most interesting and informative visit to the home of Mrs. Walter Willard, of Bishop road, November 1. Mrs. Willard invited the members to view her extensive collection of Sheffield silver and her lovely pieces of early English antique furniture.

SO TRUE

Legends are pure fiction — and that's more than can be said of some modern stories.

Post-Preview Supper Is Held

Dr. John E. Hoskins, executive director of Goodwill Industries, and Mrs. Hoskins hosted a group of friends at a buffet supper at their Fisher road home as a finale to an evening that started at the Saturday Preview Party of the Junior Group of Goodwill Industries Antiques Market and Show.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. George M. Aldridge, of Lake-

Mrs. Harold C. Nobis, of Colonial court; Mr. and Mrs. R. Seder, of Renaud road; Mr. and Mrs. Mark D. Lister, of Webber place; Mr. and Mrs. R. G. McCloskey, of Moore road; Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Metcalfe, of Bloomfield road; Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Lakeland, of Lakeland avenue.

Common sense, plus a touch of imagination, is an ideal combination.

AAUW Presents 'Wizard Of Oz'

"The Wizard of Oz" will perform his magic to charm the children of Grosse Pointe on Saturday, November 18. All his delightful friends, the Cowardly Lion, the Tin Woodman, Dorothy and the Wicked Witch, will be on stage at Pierce Junior High School Auditorium in Kercheval avenue.

The Grosse Pointe Branch of the American Association of University Women will present the Traveling Playhouse of New York, a professional adult repertory theater.

There will be two performances, at 1 and 3 o'clock. Tickets, at 75c each, may be purchased from AAUW members or at Punch and Judy Toyland on-the-Hill. Harkness Pharmacy in Mack avenue, Double-day's or Peter Pan, Inc., in "the Village." Group reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Paul Silbert, 881-3396.

Funds raised are used to aid women students doing post-graduate work and research.

AAUW members of the Children's Theatre committee are: Mrs. Alexander McNeill, chairman; Mrs. David Shrock, vice-chairman; Mrs. Robert Barton, Mrs. Dwight Brown, Mrs. Edward Bunn, Mrs. Dale Cunningham, Mrs. Bruce Fausone, Mrs. Richard Gallette, Mrs. Harold Horneffer, Mrs. A. Thomas Kydd, Miss Lois Mamer, Mrs. Richard Rabbideau, Mrs. Silbert, Mrs. William Stetson, Mrs. David Taylor and Mrs. Howard Wright.

Flying in from the East to spend Thanksgiving with their parents, the WILLIAM C. FORDS, of Lakeshore road, are MUFF FORD, a student at Vassar, and SHEILA FORD, who studies at Miss Porter's School, Farmington, Conn.

GP Newcomers To Play Bridge

The Grosse Pointe Newcomers Club will sponsor another Pro-Am bridge party Saturday, November 18, at 7:45 o'clock—sharp!

The progressive "Parlor Players Bridge" will be held at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. John Meehan, Mr. and Mrs. Lee McPherson, Mr. and Mrs. John Rillo, Mr. and Mrs. John Burke, Mr. and Mrs. John Cobau and Mr. and Mrs. William Clow.

Chairmen of the event Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Franklin have arranged a pizza party with beer or wine at Lambardi's to end the evening.

Friends and members of the Club are reminded to mark two additional dates on their social calendars: Lochmoor Club will be the scene of the Newcomers' annual Christmas dinner-dance December 9; The Village Manor will be the place to go on December 31, New Year's Eve.

Interested couples who have recently moved to Grosse Pointe from outside the Detroit area are invited to contact Mr. and Mrs. Tut Tuttle, 882-9251, or Mr. and Mrs. Milt Ghekas, 884-9010, for club information.

Playing the role of Queen Mother in the University of Detroit Theatre's production of "Becket" is EILEEN BINDER, of Buckingham road.

Schedule Young People's Concert

The opening program of the series of Detroit Symphony Orchestra Young People's Concerts will be given at Ford Auditorium next Saturday, November 18, at 11 and 2 o'clock. The program will be conducted by the featured guest will be the dance star Sahomi Tachibana who will be seen in a "Folk Suite," a dance with orchestral accompaniment. The suite consists of four episodes — Cherry Blossom, Bridge in Old Nippon, In the Fishing Village, and Bleaching of Silk — and Miss Tachibana will wear a different costume for each episode. The score was arranged by Eugene Lester and portrays the subtle, exotic qualities of Eastern music. Orchestral works on the same program will include "West Side Story" Overture by Leonard Bernstein, the Scherzo from "Kikimora" by Liadov, excerpts from "Caucasian Sketches" by Ippolitov-Ivanov and Saturday Night Waltz and Hoedown from "Rodeo" by Aaron Copland. Other attractions on the 1967-68 series will include the ballets "The Littlest Angel" (premiere) and "Portrait of a Ball" by the Detroit Severo Ballet Company on December 9; a narration with orchestra of George Kleinsinger's "The Story of Celeste" on February 17 and the Pickwick Puppet Theatre in "Sleeping Beauty" on April 6. Tickets for the full series are still available at $7.50, $5.50, and $3.50, at the Symphony office in Ford Auditorium. Tickets for individual performances cost $2.75, $1.75, and $1.25 and are available at Ford Auditorium Box Office, (961-0700).

Scandinavian Symphony Concert Slated Saturday

Maynard Klein will conduct the University of Michigan Arts Choral with the Scandinavian Symphony in its opening concert on Saturday evening, November 18.

The chorale will sing contrasting works by Larsson and Beethoven for chorus, orchestra and soloists. Lars-Eric Larsson's "Disguised God" is a modern lyrical suite in which music and Swedish poetry alternate to convey a Swedish philosophy of God's presence on Earth. Ludwig Van Beethoven's "Mass in C Major" presents the traditional Latin Mass now chiefly as celebrated in the Roman Catholic Church.

Maynard Klein, director of University of Michigan Choirs, is well known to Detroit audiences for his many appearances with the Rackham Symphony Choir and the Detroit Symphony.

The University of Michigan Arts Chorale is made up of 140 of the finest voices from all of the colleges of the University.

Soloists for this concert will include Nancy Jaynes of Detroit (soprano); Franklin Dybdahl (baritone); Rosemary Russell (contralto) and Steven Skelly (tenor), all of Ann Arbor. Dr. Bernt Ekvall, of Buckingham road, will read the Swedish narration.

The orchestra will perform, in addition, orchestral works by Scandinavians Niels Gade of Denmark, and Edvard Greig of Norway, under the direction of the regular conductor, Orien Dalley.

Concert time is 8:30 o'clock at the Scottish Rite Cathedral of the Detroit Masonic Temple. Refreshments in the Colonnade Room and dancing in the Crystal Ballroom will follow the concert.

Tickets are available at the four Hudson stores and at Grinnell's, as well as the box office on the night of the concert. Admission is $1.25 to $2.25.

Attending official groundbreaking ceremonies for the Detroit Hearing and Speech Center's new building last Thursday, November 9, were MR. and MRS. RONALD H. HOULE, of Fair court, (Mr. Houle is Center president), and Board members MRS. R. L. GILEWICZ, of Allard road, and EDWARD S. LUCAS, of West Williams road.

Mattress, Spring Selection Tips

Being a consumer is an individual process, according to Kathleen R. Bufton, Extension Home Economist in Wayne County.

"Even in such utilitarian items as a mattress and spring, the consumer must look for quality features which satisfy individual ideas of comfort and will continue to meet the individual's needs through many years," the home economist explained.

Guidelines can be given, but the final selection is up to the individual, she stressed.

The home economist listed some points to look for: Materials used, type of construction, quality of workmanship, degree of firmness and size. A good mattress supports all parts of the body equally; is resilient, durable, buoyant and free of noise.

But, because most of the important parts of a mattress are hidden, you must rely on the dealer to answer questions about these points. For this reason, it's important to choose a reliable dealer, Mrs. Bufton said.

Ask about type of construction—interspring or foam. Inner-springs come in two types: open coil and pocketed coil. A full-size mattress should have 220 or more coil units of heavy gauge, high carbon wire. Pre-built boards of cotton felt or foam help preserve its shape.

Foam mattress may be natural latex foam rubber or man-made polyurethane foam. Both are lint and dust free, non-allergenic, lightweight and flexible. Density affects firmness.

Here for a brief visit after spending most of the fall at their Ragged Mountain Farm near Charlottesville, Va., were MR. and MRS. EDWARD S. EVANS, JR., of Oldbrook lane, who are expecting their son-in-law and daughter, MR. and MRS. F. TAYLOR CARLIN, of Westport, Conn., and children, PAMELA, SARA and CHRISTOPHER, and their son ENSIGN JOHN D. EVANS, stationed at Norfolk, Va., to join them at the Farm for the upcoming holidays.

Hold 20th Exhibition For Artist-Craftsmen

Women's Committee Of Founders Society Detroit Institute Of Arts Arranges Evening Reception To Celebrate Opening

The 20th Exhibition for Michigan Artist-Craftsmen opened to the public Wednesday, November 15, at The Detroit Institute of Arts. More than 120 juried entries in ceramics, metalwork, glass, woodwork, textiles and jewelry are on display in the Museum's South Wing through December 31.

Presentation of more than $2,000 in cash and purchase prizes was made at the Founders Society preview in the exhibition Tuesday evening, November 14.

All artists with entries accepted by the three-man jury were invited to attend.

Jurors were Warren MacKenzie, ceramicist, who is on the faculty of the University of Minnesota; Arthur A. Vierthaler, metal craftsman, of the Department of Art and Art Education at the University of Wisconsin; and Allen Wardwell, acting curator of Decorative Arts, The Art Institute of Chicago.

Mrs. William D. Laurie, Jr., of Merriweather road, was the chairman of the November 14 evening reception for Founders members and friends, arranged by the Women's Committee of the Founders Society Detroit Institute of Arts.

Assisting her were Mrs. J. Denton Anderson, Mrs. Alexander Wiener, Mrs. Wilber Mack, Mrs. Daniel Goodenough, Mrs. Davison Pierson and Mrs. Lester Lockwood.

William Peck, curator in charge of the Artist-Craftsmen exhibition, said, "The problem of selecting a representative exhibition of finely designed and crafted objects was expertly handled by our jury. Their own experience and taste led them to choose only those works which they felt represented the highest level of the crafts in Michigan."

All of the items in the exhibition are for sale.

Reunion In Munich

Colonel and Mrs. William L. Drennan (Ret.) are back home after a five months' vacation in Europe.

Most of their time was spent in Germany, where they relaxed in their favorite area, Garmisch, on several separate occasions and visited Army friends stationed in Stuttgart, Heidelberg and Munich.

A highlight of the trip was meeting J. Leslie Berry, of Lakeshore lane, in the latter city during the fabulous Oktoberfest.

The Drennans drove over 10,000 miles in Germany, Austria, Denmark, Belgium, Luxembourg and Italy and, in addition, took a quick trip to Sweden by hydrofoil and went to England by Channel Steamer, to visit relatives near Nottingham.

Their car came back with them aboard the S.S. United States. Driving home from New York, they made stopovers in Brooklyn and Summit N. J., to visit Colonel Drennan's brother and sister.

While resettling their home in Bishop road, the Drennans have been staying with her mother, Mrs. George F. Goodson, of Merriweather road.

A Marvel of Efficiency

Mrs. Robert Scherer is opening her beautiful contemporary home in Lakeshore road for a complimentary cocktail party to which all patrons of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association's "Lighter Side Of Life" series are cordially invited, this Saturday, November 18, preceding dinner and the performance by Jacques Malouber and Jenny Collins in Fries Auditorium.

And because parking space near Mrs. Scherer's home is limited, a marvelously efficient guest pick-up-and-delivery system has been organized.

All party-goers have been asked to park in the War Memorial's lot. Chartered busses, leaving every 15 minutes, will provide transportation to Mrs. Scherer's residence; each guest, upon leaving his bus, will receive a card telling him what time the bus will call for him . . .

And each guest is instructed to adhere STRICTLY to his schedule — or everyone will suffer the congestion consequences.

Betrothed

Mr. and Mrs. Gay Theuerkorn, of Pear Tree lane, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, NOREEN MARIE, to Craig Lee Betteridge, son of Mrs. Arthur Betteridge, of Grand Rapids, and the late Mr. Betteridge.

Both the bride-elect and her fiancé are graduates of Western Michigan University.

A February 17 wedding is planned.

Set Grieger-Reid Rites In August

Planning an August 23 wedding are Karen Ann Reid and John E. Grieger, Jr., whose engagement has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl B. Reid, of Harper Woods.

The prospective bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Grieger, of Moorland drive, is presently a student at Oakland Community College.

ALLEN WERNEKEN, son of MRS. BARBARA WERNEKEN, of Westchester road, has enrolled for his sophomore year at Western Military Academy, Alton, Ill. Cadet Private First Class Werneken earned his Military Proficiency Wreath for being in the upper 10 per cent of his class in the Junior ROTC Program. He has been named to the School's Academic Honor Roll and a member of the Military Honor Guard.

Southeastern MAHA Meeting Set Tuesday

The Southeastern District Michigan Association of Hospital Auxiliaries will hold its annual meeting on Tuesday, November 21, at 10:30 o'clock at the Wayne County Medical Society Building, in Antietam street, Detroit. A special "Mutual Aid and Motivation Session," with emphasis on "Harmonious Human Relations" is open to all auxiliary members.

Guest speaker will be Dr. Peter S. Beckett, professor of psychiatry, Chief of Adolescent Service, Director of Research, LaFayette Clinic, Detroit. The subject will be "Care and Control of the Mental Health Clinician." Members of the Wayne County General Hospital Auxiliary will serve as hostesses and Mrs. Herbert E. Norris, president, will preside.

The most important phase of child management is learning to understand children.

Inside The Mothers' Club

The November meeting of the Executive Board of the Grosse Pointe High School Mothers' Club was held on November 6 in the Board of Education Building. Twenty-five members were present.

Mrs. William Ludwig, president, reported having attended the following meetings during October: the 10th Grade Party committee meeting; the Halloween, Christmas Tea and Mailings committee meetings; and organizational meetings of three discussion groups.

She attended the P-TA Presidents' tea at the home of Dr. Anderson, the 10th grade orientation and the 10th grade party. Together with Mrs. Joseph Perry, Mrs. Ludwig helped tabulate results of the high school Torch Drive Day. The amount of $1,737.61 was donated, almost $500 more than in 1966.

Mrs. Benson McClure, Faculty representative, stressed the importance of parents' receiving first-hand information on student social gatherings away from the school, particularly slumber parties or affairs in private homes where admission fees are charged.

Some distressing reports have been received. This type of activity is not confined to any particular group of students but permeates the entire student body.

Mrs. McClure reported that teacher negotiations have been reopened and the Board of Education is currently considering future needs regarding both building and salary scales.

Mrs. Kenneth Adler reported 157 Mothers' Club memberships received during October, bringing the total to 964. Dues collected amount to $1,928.

Neighborhood chairman Mrs. P. N. Buckminster reported there are now 75 bridge and discussion groups. Of these, 22 have paid dues amounting to $376.

A total of 14 buses were used for the four football games of the season, transporting 682 students and the cheerleaders. Mrs. Hubbard reported that seven buses were used for the game in Wyandotte, with only one needed for the final game in Lincoln Park.

Mrs. Edward Devine reported that invitations for the Christmas Tea will be mailed a week before the event. A program by Mr. Clein and the choral groups will be presented, and plans for refreshments are under way.

Halloween Chairman Mrs. Robert Shannon reported that the High School party was a great success, with attendance at all school parties totalling 4,359.

Four hundred sixty-five students attended the 10th Grade Party on October 6. Mrs. A. J. Ricca reported the gym was decorated, the Jug Band very popular, refreshments served, and the sum of $105 was cleared.

The important goal of FLEC, to plan for some sort of sex education program in the schools, was reported on by Mrs. Perry TeWalt, with emphasis on the importance of finding well-qualified teachers.

Funds are needed, since the organization is sponsored for only one year with a minimal budget. Great interest was shown in Dr. Calderone's lectures and workshops. These sessions were taped and may be used again, with commentary by a qualified person.

The Motion-Picture and TV Council delegate, Mrs. Willard Smith, emphasized the problem of undesirable movies now appearing on television, many during early evening hours. She felt that letters of objection to the networks might have some effect. There is a continuing search for worthwhile movies to recommend to young people.

Entertaining Saturday afternoon at a surprise welcome-party for his wife, NANCY, who had been in the East visiting their daughter, MRS. THEODORE KETTERER, III, and her new daughter, JULIA QUIRK KETTERER, was G. MENNEN WILLIAMS, of Tonawanda place.

Five Pointes Club To Meet

Members of the Five Pointes Garden Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Frank Seydler, of North Oxford road, on Monday, November 20.

Mrs. D. D. Bates, of Bloomfield Hills, will present the program on Herbs and will serve an Herb luncheon at 12:30 o'clock.

University Of Minnesota Women To Have Meeting

The University of Minnesota Women's Club will hold its annual Christmas luncheon Friday, December 1, at 12:15 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. John White in Birmingham.

The program will commence with the group's singing Christmas carols, under the direction of Mrs. Delbert Peterson.

Following the songfest, time will be devoted to the making of Christmas favors which will be presented to Miss Mary Pauli, executive director of the Pontiac Visiting Nurses Association, who will, in turn, give them to "shut-in" Senior Citizens in the area.

Monetary gifts will also be received for patients at the Herman Kiefer Hospital in Detroit.

Assisting the hostess, Mrs. White, will be Mrs. Nicholas Kenjowski, Mrs. Arthur Burgott, Mrs. Carl Christensen, and Mrs. Howard Baer.

Reservations may be phoned to Mrs. John Strang, 647-1781, or Mrs. Arthur Bury, 357-5324.

Ski Club Plans Cocktail Dance

Members of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Adult Ski Club, their guests and prospective members are cordially invited to the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club for a cocktail dance Sunday afternoon, November 19, from 5 to 8 o'clock.

Members are asked to make reservations by check at $1.75 per person, (a quarter more for guests), mailed to the Grosse Pointe War Memorial. Entrance at the door will be an additional 25c for those failing to do so.

The Bill Perich Four will provide the dance music. They are equally talented in the fields of straight ballroom music and rock 'n' roll.

Cold duck will probably be a favorite refreshment, though champagne, other wines and ale will be available.

This is an excellent opportunity to join the club and for members to get better acquainted before their many ski trips to Canada, Northern Michigan and Vail and Aspen.

INJURED IN FALL

Woods public safety officers transported Mrs. Stella Cirinesi of 1961 Hawthorne to St. John Hospital on Saturday, November 11, for treatment of an injured hip. She suffered the injury when she tripped and fell in her home.

Disastrous Day In Life Of Suburban Housewife

By Pepper Whitelaw

A day in the life of the suburban housewife. You awaken cheerful and glad to be alive. Run into the only place you have any peace and quiet to splash a little cold water on your face when . . . you are confronted with a gusher.

Somehow the faucet has fallen apart and your bathroom, that until that moment didn't have a shower, suddenly has one. You scream frantically for Friend Husband, who after finishing his article on sailing, saunters into the room and asks in an impatient voice, "What's wrong?"

Seeing your distress he immediately takes action telling you to put your hand over the top of the faucet and keep it here until he finds just where the water turn-off is.

Ten minutes later you notify FH that regardless of whether he finds the turn-off or not, you simply have to remove your hand. By some miracle just at that precise moment he finds the shut off, fixes the stubborn faucet and leaves you with the monumental job of mopping up . . . the small accident has ruined two Kleenex boxes, your ceiling AND your good disposition.

With that job finished, you head for another cup of coffee . . . before you can take a swallow you hear a cry from the living room . . . "Mom, the television set just went out."

Dad has an appointment so all he has time to do is remove the tubes . . . you and your son will have to find a tube-testing machine. After searching for some two hours you finally located the complicated piece of machinery and almost give up in disgust—but your patient son decides he can test them, so you are free to pace and mumble. He finds four tubes not functioning properly . . . you attempt to buy same from the sleepy salesclerk only to be informed that he can sell you only three of the four tubes.

That's like saying your electric stove works but there's no electricity.

So you're off again to search for the elusive tube. After driving all over the city you come up with FV237 . . . rush home and wait for FH to put the tubes back in the set. As soon as he arrives, he replaces the tubes . . . turns on the set and . . . nothing. Only now it has cost you $12 and three hours time to learn that something else must be wrong with your set and you have to call a repair man anyway!

By now it's dinner time. You prepare and serve a good dinner and your lighthearted mood returns . . . but briefly.

For as you turn on your dishwasher . . . the whole thing explodes! Water is gushing out the door . . . not clear water but what looks like sewage water! Once again you give your lungs a lusty workout and call FH.

He immediately orders you to get a bucket . . . try as both of you can . . . nothing helps. So you turn off the dishwasher and begin your frantic search for a plumber.

Trying to locate a plumber at 7 o'clock at night is like locating the proverbial needle in the haystack. After calling around the city you finally locate one who informs you that he is paid portal to portal, $18.50-emergency rates. At this point, with the entire kitchen about to float away, you wouldn't care if the rates were $100 portal to portal.

Enter the hero (plumber) some 45 minutes later. He uses some outlandish looking contraption, works 15 minutes and presents you with a bill for $36 . . . remarking as he leaves that your disposal and dishwasher are just about shot. Exit plumber . . . enter cleanup squad consisting of mom, a mop, a bucket and some good old-fashioned elbow grease.

By this time it's midnight and all you can think about is going to bed and watching the end of the late movie on your last good television set. Up you go . . . flick on the set . . . get all comfy . . . then everything goes black!

At this point you're too weak to call FH . . . you pull the covers up high over your head and pray the bedboards don't give way . . . after all it's been that kind of a day!

STOLEN CAR RECOVERED

City Police received a report on Tuesday, November 7, from Dr. Frederick B. Watts, Jr., of 17530 Mack, reporting his '66 Ford Mustang had been stolen. City police officers recovered the car the same day parked on Lakeland avenue.

Mysterious! Disappearance

A chrome, glassed frame was forcibly wrenched from its moorings in front of our office last week. Along with our name, it contained a large emblem of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, (shown at right) hand-cut from copper, chrome-plated, and hand rubbed. This would be hard to dispose of. Any information will be appreciated.

When Mrs. Edgar A. Guest, Jr. . . was installed as President of Girl Scouts of Metropolitan Detroit October 18, the ceremony included presentation of dark grey shoulder ribbons, symbol of office of a president of a Girl Scout Council. The ribbons, six inches in length and one inch wide, are sewn on each shoulder just above the sleeve seam of the uniform. The ribbons were pinned in place at the ceremony. . . After the meeting, Mrs. Guest was heard to remark: "These ribbons mean a lot of responsibility. I am honored to wear them. But I am not a good seamstress and will have quite a time sewing them in place" . . .

. . . The next thing she knew . . . someone said that members of a certain Cadette Girl Scout troop in the area would be pleased and honored to sew the ribbons on their new President's uniform . . . and on Tuesday, November 7, at their regular meeting, Cadettes of Troop 846, Grosse Pointe Park, sewed the ribbons on the uniform Mrs. Guest, by request, had delivered to them . . . The uniform, with ribbons properly in place, was presented to Mrs. Guest at the Girl Scout office by a delegation from Troop 846 Friday afternoon . . .

. . . Following the presentation . . . the Cadette Scouts were given a tour of Detroit's Girl Scout headquarters . . . It is particularly appropriate for members of Troop 846, which meets at Pierce Junior High School, to have this personal contact with their president, for the group is studying the way Girl Scouting is carried out in the Detroit area, the work of the Board of Directors, how girls, troops and leaders fit into the picture, et cetera . . . Troop 846's leaders are Mrs. James Webers, of Lakepointe avenue, and Mrs. John Petzer, of Essex drive.

"We have," said the Duke of Bedford . . . describing his ancestral home, Woburn Abbey, "32 sitting rooms"—and the entire audience at last Thursday's Grosse Pointe Celebrity Series lecture drew a sharp, concerted breath—"But," added his Duchess, "we have no time to sit down!" . . .

Leave it to the Schoenith twins . . . to come up with Something Extraordinary in the way of get-well cards: To cheer up mother Millie Schoenith, of Lakeshore road, recovering from surgery in Ford Hospital, they hired a helicopter and a pilot to fly their banquet-hall sized message, "Get Well Soon, Mom—Tom and Jerry," in a circle above the Hospital. Mom's reaction: "Those boys always did hate to write letters!" . . .

Flash! From Mrs. Ralph E. Glahn . . . to all members of the Garden Group of the Grosse Pointe Woman's Club: Due to the Thanksgiving Holiday, the Group's November meeting will be on Wednesday, the 29th—NOT Wednesday, the 22nd—because everybody will be MUCH too busy with turkeys and cranberries and squash and things to attend a meeting the day-before-Thanksgiving . . . Mrs. Homer Spence, of Hampton road, will entertain the Group at a Christmas Workshop on the 29th. Among other holiday items, she'll show how to make a very special "Apple Tree."

Pretty foil . . . for all the pretty—and useful—Christmas goodies at last week's Grosse Pointe Congregational Church Mistletoe Mart was Mart volunteer Mrs. Rex Regan, of Whittier road, in a very VERY simple winter white wool sheath.

Meanwhile, over at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church Christmas Fair . . . volunteer Mrs. Walter F. Isley, of Stephens road, kept going, going, going . . . And where did she get HER "go power?"—From a bag of peanut brittle she'd stashed—for low-energy emergencies—behind a particularly magnificent group of "Wise Men."

In an article last week . . . regarding the Grosse Pointe Association for Retarded Children, mention was made of the Association's fund drive for last year . . . and a typographical error resulted in the insertion of the letter "i" where a dollar sign should have been . . . the amount collected by the Association last year was $3,000—NOT $13,000, (don't Association members wish they HAD amassed that extra $10,000!) . . . In any event, the $3,000 they DID raise was utilized to assist the Northeastern Wayne County Child Guidance Clinic's Program for the Mentally Retarded, to provide much-needed equipment for Plymouth State Home and Training School and to further the work of the National Association for Retarded Children via a donation to NARC's Fund for Medical Research.

"Old Grads" are coming . . . from as far away as Texas, Illinois, Pennsylvania and Maryland to reminisce at the Grosse Pointe High School Class of 1946 Reunion Saturday, November 25, at Lochmoor Club . . . Two local O.G.'s who deserve special credit for getting party plans off to a good start are Joe Hickey, Jr., of Ford court, who prepared the first Reunion "flyer," and Jeanne (Mrs. Loyal) Jodar, of Lakeshore road, who utilized her sleuthing talents to discover present addresses of many Class of '46 "missing persons."

OUR FOURTH GENERATION OF FLORISTS

Pointer of Interest

ANDREW A. POLSCHER, OF LEXINGTON ROAD

It's strange how a Grosse Pointe advertising-agency vice president could become involved with two retired Michigan teachers to create a 4,500 miles away, in Hawaii, the wooden printing press the first missionaries used to introduce the printed word to the Polynesians nearly 150 years ago.

But he did — Andrew A. Polscher — who during 37 years' association with graphic arts has become a national authority on wooden hand presses through research, collecting prints and paintings and authorship of monographs and articles.

Today, not one but two recreated presses, both built from wood by volunteer Hawaiian college students are producing replicas of early missionary printing, and Mr. Polscher still hasn't met one of the teachers.

Pagan Three Years Ago

It all began three years ago at the original mission in Honolulu with a chance meeting of Maurice H. Pancost and Albertine Loomis. They had a common interest in the early missionaries to the Sandwich Islands, now Hawaii.

Mr. Pancost was a visitor, searching for traces of work by a missionary friend of his great-grandfather's. Miss Loomis had lived in Hawaii since 1954, great-granddaughter of Elisha Loomis, member of the first mission.

They had common interests. Both were from Michigan. Both were teachers. Both had retired. Miss Loomis as English department chairman at Highland Park Junior College, Mr. Pancost as vocational director of Lansing public schools.

And both had an interest in printing. Miss Loomis because Elisha Loomis was the mission printer who in 1820 took a press around Cape Horn in a sailing ship with that first mission, Mr. Pancost from his teaching.

Discovers Her Ambition

Miss Loomis told of her ambition to reconstruct Elisha Loomis' printshop in the little building preserved by the Honolulu Historical Society, but she was, Mr. Pancost explains, "discouraged at finding the kind of press he used. I offered help because I knew people in the printing trades back in Lansing."

Elisha Loomis couldn't use his press in the beginning, for the Polynesians had never seen anything printed or in writing and they had no written language. The missionaries spent almost two years creating an alphabet for spoken Polynesian, then set out to teach the natives to read.

So on January 7, 1822, with great ceremony, that first press produced its first printing, one page for an eight-page spelling book. From then on, it produced school books and Bible tracts.

Printed First Paper

Eleven years later, in 1833, it was sent from Honolulu to another missionary settlement at Lahaina, on the island of Maui, where it printed Hawaii's first newspaper. Now no record of its fate remains.

Back home, true to his word, Mr. Pancost had a problem: What kind of a press would Elisha Loomis have taken 'round the Horn? He turned to museums, "and Henry Ford Museum at Greenfield Village in Dearborn, Mich., was the second or third."

There he was referred for help to Mr. Polscher.

"He was lucky," Mr. Polscher contributes, "to get to Ford Museum early, because it has the best collection of early printing presses in the United States."

Process of Elimination

"The problem was to identify precisely from historical facts the press Loomis most likely was to have taken. We accomplished this by elimination and verification of construction dates, and settled upon a hand-operated wooden press built in Philadelphia about 1810 by Adam Ramage, most successful of early American-press builders."

Mr. Pancost then "set out to buy an original Ramage, but the only one available was in such bad shape it never could have been made operable."

Unfrustrated, he fell back upon his experience as a draughting teacher, spent a year making working drawings and photographs of the major 64 parts of the right Ramage in the Ford Museum collection.

Blueprints went to Miss Loomis, then to Community College at Honolulu and Maui Technical School on Maui where students reconstructed two replicas of that original Adam Ramage.

Two Shops Restored

Now two print shops have been restored, and the new wooden press in each turns out reproductions of those early Bible tracts and other mission memorabilia for visitors.

Mr. Polscher contributes a contemporary footnote to the story: "Several scenes for the current movie 'Hawaii' were shot at the Honolulu mission, but pictured an iron press because the Pancost-Loomis wooden reproductions were available. The iron press they used wasn't built until 1823, so it missed the missionaries' boat."

Mr. Polscher has been in advertising production since he joined a Toledo agency in 1930.

His interest in graphic arts started right after his toddler years. His mother was in advertising and his father, too, was a teacher of manual arts, embracing printing, at Cleveland.

Mr. Polscher was born in Cleveland, educated in Texas and Ohio.

Served in War

He interrupted his advertising career in World War II, entering the United States Army Corps of Engineers in 1943.

He was sent to the South Pacific, won a battlefield commission on Leyte in the Philippines and served as Company Commander.

He has been active for a long time in the American Institute of Graphic Arts, of which he is a former vice-president, and the Detroit Craftsmen's Club, of which he is a former secretary.

He is one of the founders and a past-president of the Detroit Advertising Agency Production Men's Club and book editor of the "Share Your Knowledge Review," a publication of the International Club of Printing House Craftsmen.

His monographs include one on research of the selection of the typeface for the first publication of England's Domesday Book, another on Father Gabriel Richard as Detroit's first printer.

He is also a member of Typophiles of New York and the Monks and Friars of Detroit.

Wine Recovered; Youth Charged

City Police officer Richard Lanski, while on routine patrol on Friday, November 10, at 2:12 a.m., observed a young man walking west on Waterloo from Lincoln with a bottle on his person. Upon approaching the youth the officer saw him throw the bottle over a fence.

The officer recovered the bottle, which contained Japanese wine. The youth was taken to the City Police station and released to his parents on $20 bond pending his court appearance on November 28, as a minor in possession of alcohol.

Rudolf Serkin To Play Dec. 1

Rudolf Serkin, who comes to the Masonic Auditorium Friday, December 1 at 8:30 p.m., has often been hailed as one of the world's greatest musicians. He might also be called a pianist of paradoxes.

As an artist who ranks with the most profound and exciting interpreters of all time, he is also a man of consuming modesty who finds especial peace in working on his Vermont farm.

An indefatigable performer whose concertizing would exhaust many a lesser man, he devotes an enormous share of his time to teaching, at the Curtis Institute of Music in Philadelphia where he is head of the Piano department, and at the Marlboro Music School and Festival, whose guiding spirit he is.

Life Magazine wrote that Rudolf Serkin looked "like a scholar, while playing like an angel." One might also add to Life's accolade that he is a scholar of considerable charm and a musician of formidable intellect.

Serkin was born of Russian parents in Bohemia in 1903. He was educated in Vienna, where he studied piano with Professor Richard Robert and composition with Arnold Schonberg. He made his Viennese debut at the age of 12 his Berlin debut made under the aegis of the great violinist Adolf Busch followed when he was 17, and began his career in earnest.

Word of the extraordinary Serkin talents first reached America in 1931 & ("under the name Rudolf Serkin lives one of the most commanding pianists of the age," wrote The New York Times music correspondent); he made his first appearance in the U.S. in 1933 to play for the Coolidge Festival in Washington, D.C. In 1935 he married Irene Busch, eldest daughter of Adolf Busch and the next year made his formal American debut with the New York Philharmonic and Arturo Toscanini.

Tickets to the Friday, December 1 concert of Rudolf Serkin are available at the Masonic Auditorium box office as well as at Grinnell's Downtown and all J. L. Hudson ticket centers.

Pointe Book Club To Meet
