HEADLINES

WEEK
As Compiled by the Grosse Pointe News

Thursday, March 7

UNITED STATES FORCES killed 110 enemy soldiers in three sharp encounters in the past 24 hours, U.S. spokesmen reported today as the Viet Cong shelled provincial capitals and military posts for the third straight day. The shelling caused little damage, U.S. Command reported.

AIRPORT AUTHORITIES in Pointe A-Pitre, Guadeloupe, reported on Wednesday, that they feared all 63 persons aboard an Air Force Boeing 707 were killed when the huge jet liner crashed and burned on a Guadeloupe mountainside. The airline said the plane carried 49 passengers and a crew of 14.

Friday, March 8

THE UNITED STATES, the Soviet Union and Britain offered Thursday to take joint action under Security Council auspices to defend any nation threatened with nuclear attack after it signs the proposed treaty to halt the spread of nuclear weapons. The three nuclear powers put a joint resolution before the 17-nation disarmament committee for submission to the Security Council for approval. It also gives the nuclear powers a basis for protective action even before the 15-nation council acts. The agreement was expected to produce a furious outburst from Peking. India has led these demanding guarantees against nuclear attack if it signed the treaty to halt the spread of nuclear weapons, and China is the only nation from which it fears nuclear aggression.

NINE ENLISTED MEN, lost in the waters of the Potomac River, were the objects early Thursday of a massive ground-water-air search. Eight Marines and a sailor stationed at Quantico Marine base were training in a 25-foot canvas canoe on the river Wednesday afternoon when the canoe capsized. It was spotted hours later.

Saturday, March 9

POURING OUT OF a sheet of machine-gun fire from advancing armored personnel carriers, U.S. infantrymen tore into Communist troops along the coastal lowlands below Da Nang today. First reports indicate that 85 enemy soldiers have been killed. The fighting continues nine miles northwest of the provincial capital of Tam Ky.

Sunday, March 10

GENERAL WILLIAM C. WESTMORELAND has requested 206,000 more American troops for Vietnam. The request has touched off an internal debate within high levels of the Johnson Administration. A number of sub-Cabinet civilian officials in the Defense Department as well as senior officials in the State Department have taken a stand against General Westmoreland's request. There are now 510,000 American troops in Vietnam and the President has authorized a level of $25,000 by next fall.

Monday, March 11

NEW YORK GOVERNOR Nelson A. Rockefeller was strongly urged to get into the presidential race Sunday by more than 20 top Republicans summoned to his Fifth Avenue apartment in New York City for a strategy session. Rockefeller's candidacy, according to Governor Tom McCall of Oregon, was "no longer an abstraction." When asked if the session amounted to a draft, McCall said, "Well it's almost irresistible."

Tuesday, March 12

ALTHOUGH THE SENATE Foreign Relations Committee pressed Secretary of State Dean Rusk Monday on whether the Johnson administration was planning a military expansion of the Vietnam war Mr. Rusk said only that the session was currently re-examining its policy from "A to Z" and considering "all alternatives."

Senior Scouts Win National Honors

DIANE McCALLUM, left, and ANNE MARIE FLOREK scan a map to locate the sites of Girl Scout National Events which they have won the right to attend. Diane will go to the All States Encampment in Rowley, Mass., and Anne Marie will travel to Huntsville, Ala., for a Space Exploration Conference. A third winner, Jane McLuckie, was also selected, and will attend the World of Arts at Edith Macy Training Center in Pleasantville, N. Y. Story below.

GP Parochial Schools Plan Open Houses

Public Invited To Tour Building And View Education Program Offered On March 17

All Catholic elementary and high schools in the Pointe will hold Open Houses on Sunday, March 17, from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Administration and faculty members will be available to answer questions on courses of study, textbooks used, or teaching methods employed.

The Open Houses are being held in an effort to inform the local community of the education offered by the parochial schools.

In the schools, the public will be able to view Science and Art displays on bulletin boards, hear music and physical education programs, and learn about other subjects taught to the students. In addition, the public will be taken on tours through the buildings.

Anyone seriously interested in education, the free choice of schools for their children, and the Bill for Aid to Non-Public Schools, is invited to attend the Open Houses.

Refreshments will be served following the close of the day's program.

STOLEN BIKE RECOVERED

Robert White, 64 Radnor Circle, reported the theft of a 20", red and white Schwinn bicycle from in front of 383 Fisher, on Friday, March 8. The bicycle was recovered the next day on Washington road and the owner was notified.

The trio, all Negroes, sometimes work in pairs, or together; two males, or two males and a female.

Several shop owners have complained to the Farms department, the detectives said, that expensive items have been missing from their stores, but this is not discovered until after the shoplifters have left.

The way these people operate, Van Tiem and Miller said, is that they enter a store, either as a pair, or the three together.

National Girl Scout Week Throws Spotlight on Trio Of Outstanding Pointers

Three Seniors Selected To Participate in National Events Following Complex Procedure Of Applying For Signal Honor

By Pepper Whitelaw

Three Pointe Senior Girl Scouts have been selected to participate in National Events. Diane McCallum, 11th grader from Grosse Pointe High School Troop 385, will attend All States Encampment in Rowley, Mass. Jane McLuckie, a junior at Our Lady Star of the Sea Troop 634, will go to Pleasantville, N.Y. to attend the World of Arts at Edith Macy Training Center. Anne Marie Florek, an 11th grader at Bishop Gallagher Troop 385 will attend the Space Exploration Conference in Huntsville, Ala.

Being selected to attend these events is quite an honor and their troops are very proud of all three girls, who have more than 28 years of scouting between them.

Diane began her scouting career as a Brownie in Defer Elementary School. From there she joined the Junior Troop, then on to Pierce Junior High as a Cadette. As a sophomore Diane joined the Senior Marine Troop at the Congregational Church. Her troop adviser suggested she try out for a national event and Diane did. A year after she applied she was told she had been selected.

She has earned 19 badges in Junior and Cadette scouting, most of them having to do with music, swimming, reading, camping and science. Senior Scouts earn aide bars and Diane has four, including bars for aquatic safety aide, ranger aide, laboratory and program aide. The last bars enable a senior scout to go to other troops and help guide activities. The procedure involved in applying and finally being accepted for a National Event is complex, so when a girl is selected it is quite a feather in her cap. Diane explained the procedure.

She said the first step was to fill out a three-page form on your interests and activities. There are three essay questions. "These were fairly easy going," Diane adds. In these essays the applicant was asked about her responsibilities at school and just how she applied the Promise and the Laws to daily life. The next step was the try-out at Belle Isle. There the girls were tested on basic camping skills.

Waiting Is Hardest

After the tryout came the hardest part... the wait. Those who passed the tryout were notified by postcard and told where they would be interviewed. The interviewing was done by community personnel people outside of scouting.

Cat Burglar Confesses to Two Thefts

Fischer's Store In City And Woods Doctor's Office Robberies Traced To Youth

The arrest of Robert Joseph Bente, 19, of 751 Manistique, Detroit, by Woods Det. Everett Plumb, led to the solution of the cat burglar breakins at Fischer's Cards, 17047 Kercheval, on October 6 and 7 of last year.

At that time City police concluded that the cat burglar must be a small agile man because investigation revealed he entered the building by climbing up and over six stores, and through an air vent on the roof. He then crawled through an 18-inch high air vent for about 15 feet, kicked down the grill and went through the false ceiling into the store.

Took Radio, Cash

Once inside the store proper Bente took a Columbia stereo-phonograph set valued at $80 and about $100 in cash. The thief then exited the same way he entered, this time carrying the phonograph ensemble. He entered the building the next night in the same manner and took $60 from the register.

Det. Plumb arrested Bente for breaking and entering the offices of Dr. Loretta Pat Krammek, at 19535 Mack avenue on October 10, two days after he had taken a small amount of cash from that office. Bente was located by Det. Plumb, from information received from Woods police, who observed his car in the area near the time of the breakin.

Makes Confession

On Sunday, March 10, Bente confessed to Det. Plumb to the Fischer burglaries.

On Monday, March 11, he entered a plea of guilty as charged to the breaking and entering in the Woods before Wayne County Circuit Judge James L. Ryan. The judge set April 1 for sentencing and ordered a pre-sentence investigation.

Bente then was released to Macomb County authorities and released the pair after continuing their bonds.

Free until they return to hear their fate, are Terry F. Fitzgerald, 17, of 5678 Silverly Lane, Dearborn Heights; and Ronald H. Freeman, 19, of 37160 Van Born, Wayne, whose bonds are $500 and $1,500, respectively.

Fitzgerald and Freeman were arrested by Farms police on December 10, after the youths broke into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Draper, 269 Lothrop road. They were arraigned for examination the next day before

TELLS OF VANDALISM

On Tuesday, March 5, Harry Czuby of 1300 Brys drive, called Woods police and stated that while his car was parked across the street from his house during the night, an unknown person smashed the rear window of the vehicle.

Memorial Center Annual Campaign Opens on April 1

Family Participation Drive Sets Goal at $80,000; Special Inducements Offered to Permit Residents to Acquaint Themselves with Facilities

The Grosse Pointe War Memorial's 1968 Annual Family Participation Campaign opens Monday, April 1, and Pointe families will receive personalized letters asking them to make contributions.

They will also receive a pass entitling them to free tickets to plays, travelogues, concerts, art demonstrations and similar programs to familiarize them with the Center's activities.

The War Memorial takes no tax monies and does not draw on the United Foundation Funds. It represents a two-million-dollar gift to the community and annually earns three-quarters of its operational expenses, with the balance, $80,000, solicited from residents of the five Pointes, to whom its doors are open seven days and nights a week. Approximately 100,000 persons cross its threshold every year.

Marvelous Facilities

The Center serves as a living room for Pointes of all ages, and its mansion, with four and one half acres of grounds and gardens, overlooks Lake St. Clair. Its magnificent banquet hall and perfect little theater, which have been added to it, are the unique gifts of public spirited citizens.

This spacious and distinguished home was given by the Russell Alger family; the banquet hall and theater were the gifts of the late William H. Fries. These fine facilities cost the community nothing.

The furnishings of these facilities, rare and lovely things, are from many generous Pointers.

Besides maintaining a plant and properties which were given and built for Grosse Pointes without cost, the Center's services and activities merit community support as a great plus factor to Pointe living and property value.

Tickets to King Lecture All Sold

The Grosse Pointe Human Relations Council has announced that there has been an overwhelming demand for tickets to the Martin Luther King program this Thursday, March 14 at the High School Gymnasium.

All tickets have been sold and there will be none available at the door.

The Grosse Pointe Human Relations Council wishes to express its appreciation for the great interest shown by so many concerned citizens. The Council plans a follow-up panel discussion in early April by a group of local people to further discuss the interrelated problems of the suburbs with the inner city, and to evaluate Dr. King's presentation on Thursday.

Dr. King will appear at the Detroit Central Methodist Lenten service at noon on Thursday preceding his talk in Grosse Pointe.

Young Burglars Awaiting Sentence in Circuit Court

Two confessed young burglars were found guilty of breaking and entering and larceny from a dwelling, following a trial held before Circuit Judge James Montano on Wednesday, March 6.

The judge set Tuesday, April 16 as the date for sentencing and released the pair after continuing their bonds.

Free until they return to hear their fate, are Terry F. Fitzgerald, 17, of 5678 Silverly Lane, Dearborn Heights; and Ronald H. Freeman, 19, of 37160 Van Born, Wayne, whose bonds are $500 and $1,500, respectively.

Fitzgerald and Freeman were arrested by Farms police on December 10, after the youths broke into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Draper, 269 Lothrop road. They were arraigned for examination the next day before

Gunman Robs Rand Drugs In GP Farms

Escapes With $100 After Locking Two Persons In Furnace Room at Rear Of Building

A lone gunman, armed with a snub-nosed revolver, held up the Rand Drug Company, 18404 Mack avenue, on Saturday, March 9, and escaped with $100, after ordering two persons into a back room.

Michael Randazzo, Jr., of 18630 Gina street, Mt. Clemens, son of the store owner, told Farms police that at about 10 p.m., he opened the rear door of the store to allow a clerk, Tom Hibbs, 17, of 5091 Anatole, Detroit, to put something in his car.

Face Was Covered

As he opened the door, Randazzo said, they encountered a man with a handkerchief covering the lower part of his face, who forced him and Hibbs back into the building at gun point.

The bandit ordered Hibbs to lie face down on the back room floor, and then made Randazzo walk to the front of the store, where he demanded the drug-gist hand him the money from a money box under the counter.

The gunman then forced Randazzo to open the store safe, which did not contain any cash. Randazzo and Hibbs were then pushed into the furnace room, and hold-up man closed the door and told them not to move until they heard his car moving away.

Disregards Warning

The druggist, however, paid no heed to the warning, and no sooner did the man leave, than Randazzo ran to the phone and called police. No car was heard starting up, or leaving, police said. The gunman's method of escape, or the direction he took, is not known, it was said.

The robber was described as being white, about 40 years old, five feet nine inches tall, having brown eyes and wearing a straw hat. A description of the clothing he wore was not given.

The weapon the bandit held was a .38 caliber revolver, Randazzo and Hibbs said.

PAYMENT APPROVED

A payment of $1,034 to Vilcan-Leman and Associates, architects hired by the Park, was authorized by the Park council on Monday, March 11. The firm planned the design of the swimming pool and landscaping and other improvements at the Waterfront Park, and at the Three Mile Drive Park.

Mr. Coulter then pointed out that the school system's insurance covers any property damage after the first $500 and that The Human Relations Council has sent him a letter indicating that they had sufficient funds to cover the first $500.

After more discussion on the insurance policy, Mr. Fuchs asked what school activities if any had been postponed because of Mr. King's visit. It was indicated that no activities had been postponed other than some adult education classes upon the request of those attending those classes.

The matter of police protection the night of Dr. King's visit was then discussed. A letter written by Andrew Bremer, City Manager of Grosse Pointe Farms, was read. The letter indicated that since the Farms had to hire extra police protection for March 14, the School Board should be responsible for paying for the cost of this extra protection.

Council Will Pay

Mr. Coulter then explained that the Human Relations Council had funds to pay for the extra protection. The question was raised by Mr. Sandberg as to exactly how much this extra protection would cost. No exact figure was available but it was reported that the cost could range anywhere from $800 to $1200. Mr. Coulter said he would get in writing, a letter from the Human Relations Council verifying payment by them for the extra police protection.

Mr. Fuchs expressed his concern and said that this type of assurance was not sufficient since in the past the Board had been assured that the Human Relations Council was purchasing a policy to cover property damage and that it did not make

King Lecture, Election Set Up Argument

Bitter Criticism And Raise Mingle As A Standing Room-Only Audience Attends Session

By Pepper Whitelaw

A standing-room-only crowd greeted the Grosse Pointe Board of Education trustees at their regular meeting on Monday, March 11, in Mairie School. The atmosphere was tense as the regular agenda was swiftly concluded.

Mrs. Alice Mary Hykes, president, then asked members of the Board if there was and other business. Arnold Fuchs, trustee, asked to be recognized and once again made a motion to rescind the permit to use the gymnasium at Grosse Pointe High School, on March 14, to the Human Relations Council, for speaker Dr. Martin Luther King.

The motion was defeated by a 5-2 vote. Arnold Fuchs and Calvin J. Sandberg, voting to deny the use of the gymnasium and Mrs. Hykes, Russell H. Peebles, Barbara R. Thompson, John T. Short, and Edward J. Pongracz, opposing the motion.

There followed a heated discussion on this matter. At previous School Board meetings the members indicated that if The Human Relations Council fulfilled the requirements of a renter of school facilities the Board was unable to refuse rental.

Question Attorney

Last night Mr. Fuchs asked that the requirements of a renter be reiterated, then asked the attorney for The Board of Education, Thomas E. Coulter, if the Human Relations Council had fulfilled all requirements. Mr. Coulter then explained that the Human Relations Council had purchased a liability insurance policy which would protect them if a member of the community was hurt due to negligence on the part of the Human Relations Council.

Mr. Fuchs asked what happened to the policy protecting school property that the Board had originally requested. At this point Ray MacArthur, director of business and finance, gave a detailed account of his conversations with the insurance carrier and said that it was not discovered until just recently that the type of policy originally discussed was not available from this carrier. He also said that a representative of the company indicated if that type of policy was available the price would be prohibitive.

Mr. Coulter then pointed out that the school system's insurance covers any property damage after the first $500 and that The Human Relations Council has sent him a letter indicating that they had sufficient funds to cover the first $500.

After more discussion on the insurance policy, Mr. Fuchs asked what school activities if any had been postponed because of Mr. King's visit. It was indicated that no activities had been postponed other than some adult education classes upon the request of those attending those classes.

The matter of police protection the night of Dr. King's visit was then discussed. A letter written by Andrew Bremer, City Manager of Grosse Pointe Farms, was read. terialize. Mr. Coulter reiterated that he would get the assurance in writing immediately.

Many Swords Crossed

Throughout the discussion members of the Board crossed swords many times with those in attendance expressing their sentiments by applause for their particular favorite.

Mr. Sandberg then asked Mr. Coulter if the funds for extra police protection and the $500 could be placed in escrow by the Human Relations Council. Mr. Coulter said he would try to make such arrangements.

The matter of the millage failure was then discussed by members of the audience. Emotions ran high as various audience members expressed their views.

Dor Richards, president of the Grosse Pointe Education Association

read a position paper to the Board. The letter follows:

March 11, 1968

Board of Education
Grosse Pointe Public School System
Grosse Pointe, Michigan
Gentlemen:

Teachers of the Grosse Pointe Public Schools regret the recent millage defeat which has placed the educational program of the boys and girls of the Grosse Pointe Public Schools in serious jeopardy.

We cannot in all good conscience support a program that does not include the educational gains which have been forged through the years. To do so would not be good stewardship of time and money, for much of each has gone into the development of the present curriculum.

Failure to eliminate existing deficiencies in the proposed 1968-69 budget; to initiate the improvements proposed for the instructional program; to hire all required additional staff for implementation of the middle school plan and the successful opening of Grosse Pointe North High School; to provide for competitive salary increase, without exhausting every means available to provide necessary revenue for 1968-69, is completely unacceptable to the Grosse Pointe Education Association.

Sincerely,
GROSSE POINTE EDUCATION ASSOCIATION
DONALD E. RICHARDS,
President

Critics Voice Views

Following Mr. Richards, Gordon Spoor rose and expressed his views of the millage failure. Among those he mentioned were that the board asked for more money that was required and that the election should have been called off because of the recent assessed valuation.

Henry DeNolf then rose and requested that all teachers in the audience stand (this was ruled out of order by Mrs. Hykes after a vocal protest from the audience). Mr. De Nolf expressed his distaste for the practice of sending home VOTE YES literature with school children. Mrs. Hykes explained that this has always been the accepted procedure and added that the circulars sent home with the children were paid for by the PTA Council.

Rises to Defense

Thomas Candler, vice-president of the Ferry PTA Council rose and expressed his regret at the failure of the millage. He also indicated that rumors had circulated that some of the trustees wanted to call off the election . . . he added that the Board had been "bombed from within." He concluded his remarks with a bid for support for future school needs.

Chalmers Zech expressed the opinion that the timing for the millage election was poor since some cities sent out assessed valuation within a week of the election. He added that next time there is a millage the members of the Board should be less vague about the consequences if the millage failed.

Criticism Backfires

Stanley Fisher then presented a statement personally asking for the resignation of Board president, Mrs. Hykes, claiming she has created "a money crisis situation" since her reelection to the Board in 1966.

Arthur G. Sherman, Jr. rose and gave his support to Mrs. Hykes. Following his statement, members of the audience rose and gave Mrs. Hykes a standing ovation expressing their confidence in her.

Unfortunately a fine presentation on an experimental program in Introductory Physical Science by James Iretton and Robert MacDonald, science teachers at Brownell, Junior High School, was all but forgotten in the explosive atmosphere at Maize School.

PARK OKAYS PAYMENT

At its regular meeting held on Monday, March 11, the Park council approved part payment of $17,690, to Paddock Pools of Eastern Michigan, for work already done on the swimming and wading pools at the Waterfront Park, and the wading pool at the Three Mile Drive Park. The payment will be made from funds raised from the sale of $570,000 General Obligation Bonds, authorized by city voters last September, for improvements at both parks.

Note: In a flyer recently sent to Pointe residents by the Grosse Pointe Property Owners Association, mention of additional police protection costs was made. The flyer indicated that Grosse Pointe taxpayers would be forced to pay for this additional police protection during Mr. King's visit. This statement is inaccurate. As stated in the above story the Human Relations Council will pay for the additional police protection.

Paintings, Rugs and Tables Stolen from Woods Home

Woods police are investigating the burglary of a home sold by Mrs. Blanche Zwolinski, in which several valuable paintings were reported taken, according to information received from Mrs. Marion Hammond of 677 Sunningdale.

Mrs. Hammond, daughter of Mrs. Zwolinski, called police on Thursday, March 7, and stated that her mother's former home, 1376 Lochmoor boulevard, had been forcibly entered and the paintings and other items taken. She said her mother had moved to another residence, and the contents of the house had been left there until a disposition was made.

Missing from the house, Mrs. Hammond told police, were a painting of a Russian snow scene, "Man and Woman in a Troika," (sledding by three horses), in a frame of heavily carved antique gilt Baroque, with the painter's name "J. Vesin," valued at $3,000.

Also an Italian water color painting "Peasants in the Woods," in a gold frame, depicting several figures gathering twigs for kindling fires, valued at $750; two original Kirman rugs, with beige background, valued at $500 each; an intricately carved three-cornered table of very dark oak European antique, worth $1,500; and a nest of three mahogany tables which cost $30.

Police said that entry into the house was gained by prying open the storm door at the southwest side of the house. This door showed pry marks, but the inner door did not, it was disclosed.

Mrs. Hammond said that she checked the house at about 3:50 p.m. Thursday, and discovered the break-in.

Investigation of the burglary was assigned to Det. Gerald Kensora.

Juvenile Nabbed For Shoplifting

City police received a call from Robert Allor, an employee of A&P, 17120 Kercheval, on Wednesday, March 6, reporting larceny from the store.

Upon arrival officers found a juvenile who had entered the store, purchased two half gallons of milk then walked to the back of the store, dropping four more items into the bag. The items included a can of cleanser, a box of Great Shakes, one boneless rump roast and a boneless brisket, valued at $8.27.

The youth explained that his parents were out of town and had left $30 for groceries which he spent the first week they were gone. He was staying at home with his 17-year-old sister, who could not be reached at the time.

Police asked the boy if he had any relatives in the area. He said he did and officers suggested he contact them and borrow money until his parents returned.

Officers told the youth he should attend school daily and return home immediately afterwards until his parents return. They will be notified of the incident at that time.

Teen-Age Values To Be Discussed

Teen-age values today will be the topic which six students from Grosse Pointe High School will discuss with members of Alpha Mu Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma on Monday, March 18.

Warning

Owners should be extra alert, if one of several persons who enter their shops together, engage them in conversation while the others roam around the stores.
Several stores in the Farms, including the Sears Department Store Branch, Mack and Moross, have reportedly been victims of the shoplifters.

Meeting at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial at 3:45 p.m., Patricia Pollard, Linda Fulmer, Kathy Bodeau, Dick Marshall, Danielle Lange and Holly Hayes, all members of the Future Teachers Club, sponsored by Richard Beach, will explain how young people view some of the important questions facing our society.

Miss Leona Weier, teacher of Social Studies at Grosse Pointe High School, will moderate the panel. Hostesses for the afternoon will be members of the Committee on Research, chaired by Dr. Rachel Brake, and the Committee on Scholarship, chaired by Miss Weier.
Members of Delta Kappa Gamma International Society, all working in education in some capacity, consider the study of values so important that they have chosen "The Critical Analysis of Values—A Basis for Action" as the general topic for their programs through 1971.

City police received a report from Mrs. Ann Smith, parking attendant in the lot behind 17101 Kercheval, who stated she had observed two boys breaking an antenna off a '54 Cadillac owned by Mary Ellen Palms, 381 Ashland, Detroit. City police officer Edward Miller picked up two youths answering Mrs. Smith's description and took them to the station for identification. The boys denied the charge. Mrs. Smith was unable to make positive identification.

Rummage Sale To Aid Hospital

The Intensive Care Section at St. John Hospital will be the recipient of the proceeds of the Fontbonne Auxiliary annual rummage sale.

Items of household goods, new and used clothing, furniture, and antiques will be offered for sale at 4880 E. Davidson, corner Six Mile. Dates for the sale will be March 28, 29, and 30, from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. Useable items may be donated by calling 881-8200, ext. 204 or can be left at the hospital.

FAST BUCK

Many a new slant on time-worn confidence games contains the same old angle.

Girl Scouts Win Honors

Here the girls were asked questions about themselves, their school activities, their families and the scouting organization.

After the interview... another wait. Then these selected are well informed of where the final tryouts were to be held, Cedar Lake, Mich. About 30 girls from the Metropolitan Detroit area were there.

One of the hardest parts of the finals was the application that was sent to headquarters. This was a three-page application with the customary personal questions plus eight essay questions. "Although the questions weren't difficult, packing yourself and your beliefs in 100 words is pretty tough," Diane says.

Four-State Region

After this the girls are notified of the regional finals. A region is composed of several states. Michigan's also includes Illinois, Wisconsin and Indiana. This was the last stop for the application, which was then sent to the Girl Scout Regional Office in Chicago, Ill. After it is reviewed the winners are notified.

The procedure was identical for all three girls. It was challenging, time-consuming and sometimes nerve-wracking, but all three girls agreed that it was worth it!

Anne Marie joined Brownies when she was in the fourth grade, then on to Junior Scouts, Cadette, then Mariners. Most of her scouting years were spent with troops from Our Lady Queen of Peace. Anne Marie has been a senior scout for two years and a member of the area planning board. She has earned 52 badges covering science, swimming, creative arts and boating. She is a First Class scout and has earned the coveted Catholic Marian Award.

To Major in Science

She will attend the Space Exploration Conference because of her interest in science. (She hopes to major in science and be on a research team dealing with cancer.) Her interest in space exploration was sparked by a visit to Cape Kennedy with her family last year.

Jane, a junior at Our Lady Star of the Sea, has had many exciting scouting experiences. She has a total of 180 days of camping from attending Grosse Pointe District day camps as a Brownie, to attending established camps at Metamora when she was a junior, to primitive camping at Camp Innisfree as a Cadette.

Jane said she's had a lot of fun camping... especially a year ago last January when she was at Camp Metamora and was snowed in for five days! She has also journeyed to Lost Creek Sky Ranch in Mio, Mich., where her mounted troop took a trail ride through Huron National Forest. They traveled 25 miles a day... then pitched tents on the banks of the Ausable... and topped the trip off with a canoe trip down river.

Since this is National Girl Scout Week we thought it fitting to congratulate three of The Pointe's outstanding Scouts!

guished meeting place for community groups besides having excellent food accommodations.

It is a place to get free, unlimited loan of hospital equipment; free loan of blood in emergencies; is a cancer service center, and provides the best Senior Citizen activities.

It provides youth activities in civic affairs through the Youth Council; an Art Center, which provides classes in oil painting and art appreciation, among other things; and houses Garden Center and a Music Center.

Within its walls are held forums on performing arts, politics, religion, drugs, human problems and The Humanities. There is also a Theatrical Center.

Prominent Speakers

Speakers of world prominence, including Mme. Chiang Kai Shek, Gen. Maxwell Taylor, Gov. Romney, Henry Ford, John Scott and many others, have been guests of the Center.

The War Memorial holds adventure, travel and cinema programs, and is a gathering place for young adults—"The Group," besides holding special classes of all kinds; has facilities for special interest groups, and offers free community programs.

The foregoing activities are but a few on the list, and only partially show how busy the Pointe's unique cultural and community center is.

Pointe citizens are asked to share in one-fourth of the upkeep cost of these busy buildings and programs, by responding generously, when they return their postage-free remittance envelope enclose in their solicitation letter, when it is sent.

All gifts to the War Memorial Center are income tax deductible. Give what you can. All gifts, whatever the amount, will be greatly appreciated. Donors will be acknowledged by having their names printed in the Grosse Pointe News.

Ralph Davis, Jr. Wins Parachutist's Badge

Army Private First Class Ralph W. Davis Jr., 21, whose mother, Mrs. Doris B. Davis, lives at 1357 Lakepointe avenue, received a Parachutist Badge February 21 upon completion of the Infantry School's three-week airborne course at Ft. Benning, Ga.

His training, which included five jumps from a C-130 airplane flying 170 miles an hour at an altitude of 1,250 feet, qualified him as a parachutist. He also underwent strenuous physical conditioning.

Spring Classes Open for Adults

The Department of Community Services of the Grosse Pointe Public School System has announced the opening of the spring schedule of Adult Education Classes.

One of the highlights of this season's offerings is a class called "Sailing Techniques" scheduled to begin on Wednesday, March 27, and taught by Dean Balciarak, accompanied by an array of guest speakers known for their high level of sailing authority.

In the winter series led by Mr. Balciarak, the large class of over 50 enthusiastic sailors was delighted by the comprehensive coverage of the broad world of sailing. Films of American Cup Races, discussions of sail and hull design, racing rules, and racing tactics kept the sailing fever running high.

The new Wednesday night course promises to be another outstanding series that will capture the interest of skippers and crews alike. The spring offering will be of special value to the sailor wanting to get the most out of his boat, whether it be for cruising or racing. This will be a different program than the winter course, but calculated to be just what every sailor needs to know.

"Aviation Ground School" is another exciting class offered in the spring schedule. This course is to be held once again in cooperation with the War Memorial, where during the first session it was eagerly accepted by over 40 future pilots who are prepared for their initial written flight examination. Woody Coche will continue to give the instruction during this Thursday evening class.

With the coming of the gardening season adults who want to know the most attractive ways of displaying their cut flowers will not want to miss Mrs. Condit's "Flower Arranging" class set for Thursday evenings, beginning April 25.

The Department of Community Services lists the following classes as part of the spring session that begins during the last week of March: Art, Bridge, Copper-Silver, Dancing, Decoupage, Foreign Languages, Golf, Gym and Swim for Men, Investments, Knitting, Lapidary, Millinery, Photography, Pattern Drafting, Reading Improvement, Scuba Diving, Speech, Shorthand, Transcription, Sewing, Tennis, Typing, Upholstery, Volley Ball for Men, Vocabulary Improvement, Women's Exercise in Modern Movement, Driver Training and Sex Education.

Reservations for classes may be made by calling the Department of Community Services at 885-3808 or 885-0271.

OKAY POPPY SALE

The Grosse Pointe American Legion, Post No. 303, was granted permission by the Park Council on Monday, March 11, to sell poppies on May 23, at the intersections of streets in the city. The Veterans of Foreign Wars, who will also sell poppies, will coincide their sale with that of the Legion. The sale is for the benefit of disabled American veterans of all wars.

Farms Officers Finish Schooling

Farms City Manager Andrew Bremer and Police Chief Jack F. Roh, jointly disclosed that several officers of the Farms department had recently completed classes in which they learned different phases of police work.

The officials said that Det. Sgt. George Van Tiem, and Det. Joseph Miller and Patrolman Joseph Belanger had successfully finished a course in Homicide Investigation, conducted by the Wayne County Medical Examiner's Office.

A Fingerprint Classification Course, taught by agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, was completed successfully by Patrolmen John Erskine and John Kraiza.

Patrolmen Robert Kraiza and Donald Dewey successfully finished a course in Traffic School.

Report to people who think talk about a quiet car is a lot of malarkey.

1968 LTD by Ford... 2-Door Hardtop

Don't listen to the talk...listen to the cars. There's a difference. But don't take our word for it. Compare 'em. Compare Ford with any car that claims to be quiet. In five minutes you'll know. Ford's the quiet one. The '68 LTD is built to be quieter than the LTD that rode quieter than the Rolls-Royce. See the man with Better Ideas... your Ford Dealer.

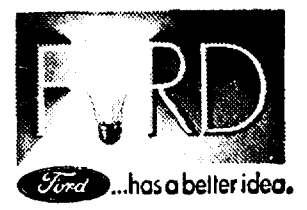

FACTS ABOUT THE 1968 FORD

The LTD, XL and Country Squire are the only cars in their class with strong die-cast grilles and hidden headlamps as standard equipment. The LTD comes with a 302-cu. in. V-8 with options up to a 428-cu. in. V-8. Other LTD options include an exclusive split full-width front seat with either half individually adjustable. There's a choice of 12 interior trims including a special Brougham Interior Trim.

Better ideas like these continue right through the entire 21-car Ford line: Power front disc brakes at no extra cost when you order power brakes • Fully synchronized manual transmission instead of partly synchronized • Ford's exclusive push-button tuning when you order AM radio/Stereo-Sonic tape • An optional Convenience Control Panel with lights to warn you if your brake is on, a door is ajar, and to remind you to fasten your seat belt • A 2-way Magic Door-gate on all seven Ford wagons • Choice of formal or fast-back styling on Galaxie 500 2-Door Hardtops • New, trim, easy-fold convertible tops with windows of real glass • An optional

Automatic Ride Control system • A 7-position Tilt Steering Wheel and other exclusive options • Reversible keys • Ford's famous Twice-a-Year (or 6000-mile) Maintenance. And to top it all, total performance proven by Ford's 1st and 2nd place sweep of their class in the 1968 Union/Pure Oil Performance Trials. Test-drive a new Ford and see for yourself.

See the light. The switch is on to Ford!

Wrong Licenses Can Be Costly

Park residents who have not yet purchased 1968 license plates for their cars, had better not leave the vehicles parked on public streets with 1967 plates, or no plates at all, warned Police Chief Arthur Louners.

Amazingly enough, the chief said, officers of his department, while on patrol, occasionally come upon an automobile bearing 1967 plates, even at this time, since the passing of the deadline February 29.

He said that all such cars found will be towed in by the Police Department, with the owner charged a towing fee of $10.

The owner's problem will not end there, even if this fee is paid. Before the auto can be claimed, the owner will be assessed a fine of four dollars, plus one dollar a day storage fee, for every day that the vehicle is in the pound.

With the towing fee, plus the fine, plus whatever storage fee, the car owner will be required to purchase his 1968 license plates before he can drive his auto away.

And, the chief said, if the car is not claimed within a certain period of time, it is sold to a salvage company, with the price turned over to the city treasury. Before this is done, the chief added, the owner is sent a notice that the car is impounded and the amount that must be paid, excluding the cost of the plates, before it can be reclaimed.

We Service The Five Points

To Give Plays At Brownell

Seventh grade students at Brownell Junior High School will be presenting their annual dramatics performance, "Sure As You're Born," Friday evening, March 15, beginning at 8 o'clock in the auditorium-gym.

Under the faculty supervision of Mrs. Lillian Mozer, the hilarious tale of how Wilbur Maxwell's dual personality upsets the family's equilibrium will be performed for friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell, (played by Bill Craig and Camille Janicki), wonder why their wild, boisterous son Wilbur, (Bill Bennett), couldn't have been a sweet innocent girl like his two sisters, (Beth Rinke and Lisa Hammerlee). Due to a strange quirk, their wish is granted by guardian angel Mr. Jones, (Kevin Miller), and Wilbur Mae joins the family. Then the trouble begins — and many laughs as well.

Students serving as assistant directors are Michele Meola, Janet Swenson, and Nancy Krausman. Attractive posters in the halls of the school were prepared by Miss Pearl's Art Display Club, while plans for photographing actors during performances are being made by Mark Wiedelman and Mr. McDonald.

Makeup, under the faculty supervision of Mrs. Tim Miner, will be applied by Chris Donovan, Therese VanAssche, Kristine Carpenter, and Janet Nixon. Stage crew consists of Paul Sikorski and Bob Reynolds, with Mr. Fisher's assistance.

Lighting and sound will be handled by David Colton, Dan Fleming, Reid Vandeveld, and David Bower, under Mr. Ewert's supervision.

Serving as ushers will be Emily Williams, Diane Mohnach, Sue Smith, Pam Killebrew, Beth Luberto, and Linda Ahee, with Mrs. Spade's assistance.

Parcells School To Present Plays

The Drama Department of Parcells Junior High School will present an Evening of Plays at 8 o'clock on Friday, March 15, in the school auditorium.

Miss Shirley Lewis will direct the eighth and ninth grade presentation, "The Laundry Mark," a comical portrayal of the many sided adventures of Winifred Donovan, the one hundred percent American boy. Winifred usually is not clear of one happening before he starts another. This happy play features Christopher Knapp as Winifred. Other cast members are: Nancy LeRoy, Phyllis Shook, Carolyn Berk, Michael Giblin, Michael Maple, John Short, Thomas Amrine, Lynn Seebor, Scott Campbell, Cyd Lachusa, Constance Howard, Elizabeth Bangs, Kathryn Rogers, Gail Worley, Gary Hylander and Tiny LeRoy. Catherine Christensen and Karen Priola will prompt backstage.

Parcells seventh graders, directed by Mrs. Fran Roach, will stage the fun loving comedy, "Love Hits Wilbur." Wilbur, played by Greg Bertelsen, abhors girls until a 13-year-old beauty fractures his defenses. Also in the cast are: Mary McNair, Glenda Butrum, Debbie Jagelka, Beverly McBrien and Frank DeLaura. Working behind the scenes will be Colleen Cruttenden, Barbara Deal, Debbie Garris and Gretchen Eroe.

An added feature will be the presentation of two short plays, "Blanche Beige" or "Snow White" and "Cenfrillon" or "Cinderella," by Miss Christine Stuart's ninth grade French class. Taking part in this unique production will be Coni Chamberlain, Jan Kuhr, Nancy Frede, Cathy Cristensen, Cindy Edwards, Pam Buins, Jan Schwinke, Duane Borkowski, Mary Mandich, Martha Whitehouse, Kathy Rogers, Gertrude Fricko and Shelly Owens.

Prior to curtain rise, a string ensemble composed of Gwen Geyer, Susan Jacobs, Jan Schwinke and Jacki Briski will offer two selections, "Idylle, Opus 146" by Dancila, and "Divertissement" by Mozart.

Tickets will be available at the door: adults, 50 cents; students, 25.

DRIVER GUILTY
Frank Czarnik, 55, of 18984 Blackmoor, Detroit, pled not guilty to an amended charge of driving while his ability was impaired. Park Municipal Judge C. Joseph Belanger, on Wednesday, March 6, found the man guilty and fined him $75. The judge noted that Czarnik has had only two traffic violations in 35 years.

State Penalizes 4 Pointe Drivers

Four more Pointe names were added to the list of motorists whose operators' licenses have been suspended or revoked by the Secretary of State's Office in Lansing, according to the latest report received from that agency, dated February 26.

The report disclosed that a record 1,060 Michigan drivers had their licenses suspended during the week of February 25 and March 2, and those of 331 were ordered revoked. The listing is submitted weekly by Secretary of State James M. Hare.

The listing revealed that the license of Robert C. Gutov of 529 Barrington, was taken from him on January 16, for driving under the influence of liquor. Before it can be restored, he must comply with the provisions of the Financial Responsibility Law. The report did not show, as of the February date, that this has been done.

Robert M. Koch of 1919 Severn, and John M. Leahy of 1883 Lancaster, both have been denied the privileges of the road for a period of two months, from February 15 through April 15. Both received this suspension because of unsatisfactory driving records.

Wilfred P. Whyte of 759 Berkshire, was given an automatic 90-day suspension, from February 26 through May 26, when he refused to abide by the Implied Consent section of the Driver's License Law.

Nedzi Predicts No Travel Tax

Cong. Lucien N. Nedzi predicted in Washington this week that there will be no legislation placing a travel tax on Americans traveling abroad.

"The picture has suddenly brightened," Nedzi said. "After frightening both the European travel industry and ourselves with talk of a travel expenditure tax, we have now moved in a more constructive direction."

"There are hopeful signs that we will emphasize means of increasing European tourism in the United States as an alternative to restricting the traditional freedoms of American tourists."

A few weeks ago Nedzi joined Cong. Henry Reuss (D-Wisconsin) in co-sponsoring legislation to encourage European travel by issuance of U.S. travel incentive stamps.

The Reuss-Nedzi efforts got a big boost when the President's Industry - Government Special Task Force on Travel made its recommendations a few days ago.

The Task Force recommended the issuance of hospitality cards to European visitors to this country this year and next. The hospitality card will entitle the visitor to extraordinary attractive travel discounts—25 percent on transatlantic flights, 50 percent on domestic air flights, 25 percent in railroad fares, 40 percent in major hotel-motel chains, and 10 percent on charter buses and car rentals.

The hospitality card would entitle the visitor not only to these discounts, but to free admission to local public transportation, museums, toll roads, and national parks and forests.

"I believe that the hospitality card, if properly advertised, could double the 700,000 European tourists who visited the United States last year," Nedzi said.

"I hope the Administration drops its tourist expenditure tax proposal and substitutes the hospitality card proposal," Nedzi said some enabling legislation would be required. And rate regulations would have to be approved by government agencies. No federal expenditures would be required.

"These new developments," Nedzi said, are consistent with the American concept of freedom of travel. Moreover, we not only can avoid jeopardizing European nations which depend on American travelers, but we can erase the threat of retaliation by them. It makes sense to improve our balance of payments in this manner."

The biggest waste of time is time wasted getting started.

Time Magazine Offering Budget-Cutting Program

TIME Magazine sets forth a program for cutting the nation's budget more than $5 billion above what President Johnson has already proposed. The following is a summary of the newsmagazine's recommendations.

Practically everyone agrees that the federal budget is bloated, but practically nobody can agree on just where to cut. It is no exaggeration to say that the issue will profoundly affect elections, prices and everyone's pocketbook in 1968 and beyond.

The discussion is essentially about national goals and priorities. For which of its goals should the U.S. spend less—or more?

So far this year, Congress has scaled down some goals by trimming appropriations $4.5 billion, and not all those cuts were wise. Then recently, under pressure from Congress, President Johnson offered a further cut of $2.6 billion by paring 10% from outlays for "controllable" programs and 2% from personnel costs. Even with that, federal spending in this fiscal year will climb to $136 billion, as measured by the administrative budget, and the deficit will be close to $20 billion—highest since the World War II era. Obviously the budget must be cut still further, and it can be cut.

Agriculture—The richest field for cutting is down on the farm, home of the nation's most corded minority. Farm subsidies are now $3.3 billion—compared with less than $1 billion under the Eisenhower Administration in 1960—and one-fifth of the handouts go to farmers who earn more than $10,000. Not only are subsidies a cause of rising food prices, but it makes little sense for the Government to pay farmers to produce less when hunger stalks half the world. A poll of 5,000 farmers by the influential Farm Journal showed that 63% of them favor an end to price supports.

Defense—Without slackening the Viet Nam war effort, now costing $30 billion a year, the U.S. can substantially reduce its $74.5 billion defense budget. Much of the $2 billion in military construction budgeted for 1968 can safely be budgeted for the Pentagon can save another $500 million to $1 billion by bringing home many of the 50,000 U.S. troops stationed in South Korea and many of the 200,000 in Europe. Foreign military aid, now $150 million, also could be chopped by half.

Space—Another $1 billion can be lopped off military and space research and development. Example: the Air Force will spend $430 million in fiscal 1968 on a manned orbital lab, but NASA is doing almost exactly the same job in its space program. Among the many other U.S. space projects that can be delayed is one costing $2 billion over the next five years to put a manned satellite into orbit for twelve months straight.

Seaways & Airways—Ripe for reduction is the $600 million yearly subsidy to the aged, ailing merchant marine. A presidential task force recommended a two-thirds slash over a long-term period, but so far the powerful U.S. shipbuilding lobby has blocked the plan. In the air, the $54 million subsidy to regional airlines could be brought down much further because efficient small pets have bolstered the profits of the little lines.

Public Works—The rich aroma of pork converts even the most ardent budget cutters into big spenders. "Sometimes you have to put that feeling of economy behind you," said Senate Minority Leader Everett Dirksen, pleading for a $400,000 appropriation to start a dam at Decatur, Ill. Dirksen got what he wanted, as did the others from both parties who approved the $4.6 billion public-works bill for fiscal 1968. Among its many nonessentials is the Delaware River-Tocks Island part; projected costs for it have grown from $90 million to $198 million. Well over $1 billion in similar public works could be postponed.

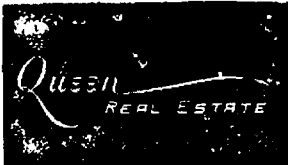

In sum, by paying more attention to priorities than to pressure groups, the U.S. can comfortably cut the budget by at least $5 billion—above and beyond what the President has already proposed. Surely such a reduction would be so desirable that it deserves status as an important national goal in itself.

Andrew McSkimming of 487 Kercheval, phoned Farms police on Sunday, March 10, and disclosed that he heard glass breaking at the side of his house and discovered that someone had tossed a rock through a 6x3-foot thermopane window of his home.

This will be Mr. Pangborn's first appearance with the Grosse Pointe Symphony. Director Felix Resnick will feature Mr. Pangborn in "Three Miniatures for Percussion and Chamber Orchestra," by William Kraft and "Concerto for Percussion and Orchestra," by Darius Milhaud. The rest of the program will include: "The Overture to Die Fledermaus" by Johann Strauss, "The Beethoven Symphony and 'Three Dances from The Bartered Bride' by Smetana.

To Host Panel On Alcoholism

Do you know how the problem of alcoholism in a family can vitally affect everyone in that family? Since 1951 Al-Anon Family Groups has attempted to help the families and friends of alcoholics to achieve an understanding of the problem and to cope with it within themselves.

This organization, with more than 3,000 groups around the world, is composed of those most closely involved with this ever-increasing illness, the alcoholics' family and friends.

The Health Education Council of Grosse Pointe is pleased to present a program focusing on this subject on March 25 at the Grosse Pointe Central Library, Kercheval at Fisher road, at 1 p.m. The program will consist of a panel of three women from Al-Anon Family Groups discussing the many problems involving those closely associated with an alcoholic.

Written questions will be answered after the discussion. Everyone interested is cordially invited to attend.

Pee Wees Lose Overtime Game

Jim Causley's Firebirds, Grosse Pointe Pee Wee Travel Team, lost a thrilling overtime State Championship hockey game to Marquette Machinery by a score of 3 to 2.

Marquette, who were playing their 72nd game of the season, carried the play throughout most of the game, but a determined Grosse Pointe team stayed with them as they turned in a tremendous display of checking and aggressiveness.

The Firebirds, who have played and practiced less than half the times Marquette has, opened the scoring at the 8-minute mark of the first period when Rick Linzell banged in a goal, which saw Chip Lenahan and Dave Sicklesteel drawing the assists. Then, Marquette followed with two unanswered goals to take a 2 to 1 lead.

The score remained the same until the final minutes of play in regulation time when Marquette drew a roughing penalty and with 10 seconds remaining on the clock, Dave Sicklesteel fired home the tying goal with Chip Lenahan and Rick Linzell drawing the assists.

It wasn't until there were less than two minutes of play left in the second overtime period that Marquette scored the winning goal on a deflected screen shot.

Many rink-side observers were quick to point out that the game was probably the finest Pee Wee hockey game ever turned in by Grosse Pointe players. This is especially true considering they were 6-goal underdogs going into the contest.

In goal for Grosse Pointe was Dave Versical, who was called on to make 36 saves and who, according to most fans, turned in what was undoubtedly one of the greatest performances ever made by a Pee Wee goalie in this area.

In spite of this loss, in State Championship play, the Firebirds remain in first place in the Tri-County Hockey League. With three games remaining they have an excellent shot at tying down Grosse Pointe's first Pee Wee championship in league play, and the Firebirds' coaches, Doug Donald, Jr., and Stew McLaren are confident that this can be accomplished.

Burglars Await Sentence

spotted several items in the youth's car, said to have been taken from the Draper residence, and the lads were promptly placed under arrest for investigation of burglary.

In the Draper home, a desk in the dining room had been gone through, and dresser drawers and jewelry boxes in three bedrooms had been ransacked. All items reported missing were recovered.

At the station, the youths, questioned by Det. Sgt. George Van Tiem and Det. Joseph Miller, confessed to the break in of the Draper residence, and also confessed to the burglary of 63 homes, and possibly more, in the Detroit area.

At the time, Van Tiem and Miller said that Fitzgerald and Freeman, following intensive questioning, admitted breaking into homes in the Farms, Woods, East Detroit, Dearborn Heights, Dearborn, Taylor Township, Redford Township, Westland and Detroit and possibly other cities in the Metropolitan area.

The teenagers said they specialized in stealing money, jewelry and small television sets, with the latter two types of loot being disposed of for cash.

Rabbi Kapustin To Speak Here

Rabbi Max Kapustin, director of Wayne State University's B'nai B'rith Hillel Foundation, will present a lecture entitled "The Jewish-Christian Encounter, Past and Present" at St. James Lutheran Church, McMillan and Kercheval, this Sunday, March 17, at 3 p.m.

Separation of Judaism and Christianity during the New Testament period will be discussed first by Rabbi Kapustin as he attempts to show the cleavage, begun in the first century by the Gospels, have generated an atmosphere of distrust and antagonism which continues today between followers of the two religions.

This historical overview will continue with discussion of the period of the early church fathers from third century to the seventh century and of the period encompassing the Protestant Reformation. The views and attitudes of Martin Luther will be presented in particular. This will be followed by discussions of present day problems and interactions between Jewish and Protestant groups and will include Rabbi Kapustin's view on the future relationship of Judaism and Christianity.

This third presentation in a series of Sunday Seminars, sponsored by the Board of Christian Education of St. James Church, is open to the entire community. Further information may be obtained by phoning the church at TU 4-5111.

Big Track Meet March 15 and 16

Pre Olympic track and field interest will reign in Detroit March 15 and 16 when the city hosts the national intercollegiate indoor championships for the fourth successive year.

Led by the sensational Kansas runner, Jim Ryun, who ran a 3:58.6 mile here last year, the elite of America's Olympic hopefuls will gather for a two-day assault on the record book in Cobo Arena as a major stepping stone on the way to Mexico City.

It will be from this brilliant array of some 300 athletes that the United States will form the nucleus of its 1968 Olympic track and field forces. Ryun, Villanova's Dave Patrick, Tennessee's Richmond Flowers and the Southern California trio of Bob Seagren, C. J. Simpson and Earl McCulloch are only a few of the great names who will compete.

The box office sale of tickets, priced at $5, $3 and $2 for each day's program, will open February 19 at 22 locations. Meanwhile, mail orders already are being accepted, addressed to NCAA Championships, P.O. Box 2318, Detroit, Mich. 48221.

Box offices will include Cobo Arena, 16 Grinnell locations and J. L. Hudson Co. ticket offices downtown and at Eastland, Westland, and Northland and the Pontiac Mall.

Competition will start at 8:00 p.m. March 15 and 2:30 p.m. March 16. Southern California is defending team champion.

Bailey, chairman and vice principal, each student gave an oral interpretation in his classroom. The winners of this festival went on to the finals with other winning students. At the annual assembly, the winning students in each category received from Rev. A. Hillebrand, O.S.A., principal of Austin, their trophies and plaques.

The Senior Committee of Austin have handed out "The Handy-Dandy Prom Planner". This calendar includes the dates of the prom deposit, prom night and graduation day. The Senior Prom will be May 24 from 8:30 to 11:30 featuring the Mel Ball Orchestra. The place will be Lochmoor Country Club. The Senior Committee, who arranged the activities of the graduates, is made up of Tom Misuraca, Paul Beaupre, Tony Vehar, Chris Bonamy, Tim Fredericks, Rick Evtz, Vince Peseski and Brian Hickey.

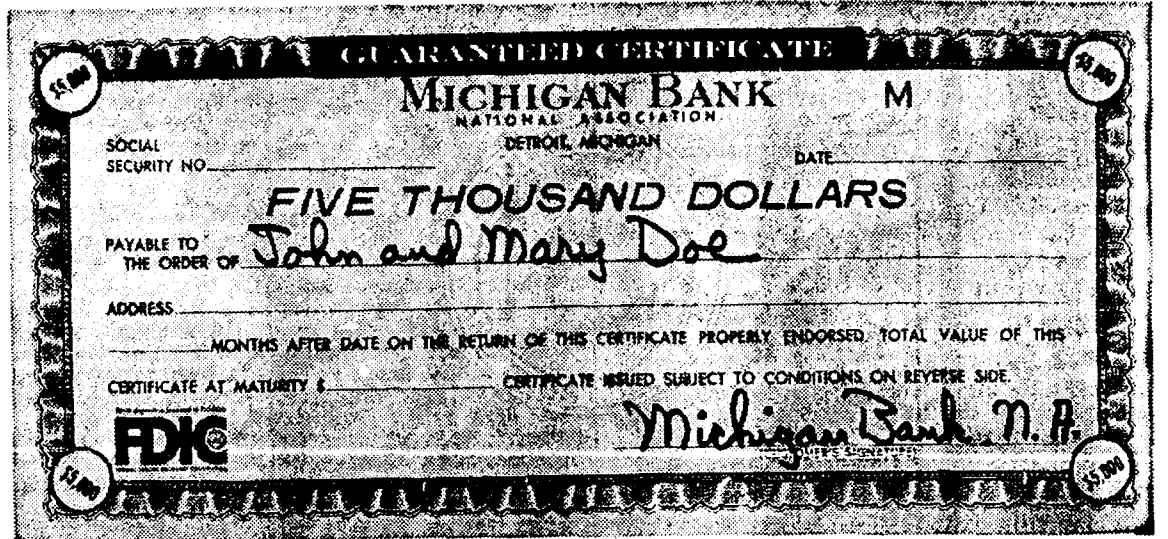

The Austin basketball team finished the season with a 6-6 league record. Mike Gibson led the Friars in the total point department and was chosen a member of the All Central team. Paul Beaupre was given an Honorable Mention.

The swimmers of Austin finished their league season with a 4-2 record. The sophomores provided most of the team's scoring punch. Bob Cleary, Kevin Cross and Mike Stevens were consistent winners. The 400 yard freestyle relay team broke the Catholic City record previously set by Austin swimmers in 1967. The team was captained by Seniors John Mathews and Ted Laliberte. Mel Giovannucci sees a bright future for Austin as the team will only lose three swimmers this year.

Lakers Defeated In Cage Tourney

By David Fromm
St. Paul's varsity battled St. Martin for the District title in the Class "C" State Basketball Tournament Friday, March 8. A strong St. Martin squad walked away with the trophy in a 56-51 decision in the Servite gym.

Exhibiting good ball control, the Lakers posted a 15-14 lead in the first quarter only to be snuffed by St. Martin 28-27 at halftime. A taller and more powerful St. Martin squad supported a 45-36 margin in the third period. St. Paul came within three points of its opponent's lead with three minutes left in the game, but was not able to narrow the margin before the game's end.

Earlier Spring Arrives March 20

Due to the extra day in February, spring will arrive 18 hours earlier this year, at least according to the calendar.

Last year spring began at 2:37 a.m. on March 21; this year it will begin at 8:22 a.m. next Wednesday, the 20th.

University of Michigan astronomer Hazel Losh explained that "normally spring begins six hours later each year because of the difference between our 365-day calendar and the time actually used by the earth to swing around the sun, 365.2422 days." Spring is said to begin when the sun reaches the vernal equinox, the instant when the sun crosses the equator on its way north.

"The sun has been rising and setting south of the east, and west points for the last six months, and since Dec. 22 it has moved northward at the rate of about a degree a day.

"On the day of the equinox, it will rise and set almost exactly at the east and west points of the horizon, and the day and night will be said to be of equal lengths.

"However, on the day of the equinox, day and night are not actually the same length. Atmospheric refraction, which seems to lift the sun into view before it actually comes over the horizon and then seems to delay its setting, brings us the equal day and night occur about three days earlier than the equinox."

After adjusting for this atmospheric refraction, we can expect equal day and night to occur on March 17 this year.

From then on, the days will become both longer and warmer.

And the night sky will become duller.

"Spring constellations are less spectacular than are those of winter and contain fewer brilliant stars.

"But the spring season is not without its sky attractions. Among the many groups rising and coming into view during March evenings are two of special interest, Bootes and Virgo.

"The first to look for is Bootes, the giant "Bear Driver." It may be readily recognized by its kite-like outline formed by its principal stars, and the presence of the bright orange star, Arcturus, in the tail of the kite.

"Bootes represents the figure of a mighty man in a running position. In one hand he holds a staff or spear, and in the other, uplifted, he holds the leash of his hunting dogs.

"Arcturus is one of the bright gems in the heavens during these spring and summer evenings. Few stars rival this star in beauty and interest. Arcturus is mentioned in the Book of Job and is often referred to as the star of Job.

"Rising at about the same time as Bootes but farther toward the south is Virgo, the Virgin. It is a long constellation with its stars roughly outlining a human figure.

"The brightest star is Spica, easily recognized by continuing the sweep of the Big Dipper handle through Arcturus on to this star, the only bright one in the area. It shines in lonely radiance in the southeast while Arcturus twinkles its curving path upward in the northeast.

"Virgo is mentioned by astronomers of all ages. For Egyptians, it was intended to represent the goddess Isis. Spica represents the ear of corn held in the Virgin's hand."

Hockey Squirts Hold Playoffs

The season draws to a close for the Grosse Pointe Hockey Association. All games are played at the McCann Rink of Grosse Pointe University School.

The Squirts Division, with boys ages 7 to 10, and their first competitive play in hockey has been especially rewarding to not only the boys, but parents and coaches as well. These boys, many of who could hardly skate last November are now good skaters with a firm knowledge of the fast and exciting game of hockey.

The boys are now in the playoffs with the regular season complete. Seasonal play winners were the Jets, winning 14, losing 2, and tying 2.

Bill Bellume, the Jets' captain, played a big role in the championship as well as Steve Schiller, the teams high scorer. Steve, age 9, scored 6 goals in one game.

Other members of the Jets Squirts champions, were Kurt Purdy, Robert Schiller, Tim Kelly, Dave Ehrlich, Peter Hull, Bill Gihkas, Bob Fraser, Don Clark, Rick Mayday, Bob Stroh, Doug and Dave Kidd, and Mike Andary.

The Grosse Pointe Hockey Association will hold its banquet at Roma Hall on March 19 at 6:30 p.m.

Final Standings:

Team	G	W	L	T	Pts.
Jets	18	14	2	2	30
Wolves	18	8	5	5	21
Comets	18	4	10	4	12
Bruins	18	2	11	5	9

The well known hat-trick in hockey was scored by three boys in the league during the season. They were Brian Caron of the Comets, Bill Eugenio of the Wolves and Steve Schiller of the Jets. Bill and Steve had two hat-tricks each.

Lakers' Lauer Coach of Year

Edward Lauer, head coach of the Laker varsity, has been named the Michigan High School Coaches' 1968 Basketball Coach of the Year.

Mr. Lauer has been coaching Laker basketball teams since 1938 and has won every trophy possible. Throughout his years at St. Paul's, he has somehow always been able to make the best of the material on hand.

Other coaches in the league have nicknamed him "the old gray fox" for well known reasons.

Coach Lauer received a note of congratulations concerning this honor in a February 4th letter from Bob James, past MHSAA president. Mr. James said, "I certainly concur with the results of the election as I feel that you are most deserving of this honor for all the wonderful accomplishments over the past several years."

Rumors Can Be Lethal

Rumor is a word with a number of meanings. Consultation with Mr. Webster's dictionary discloses that an interpretation, now called obsolete, defined it as "A prolonged, indistinct noise." Other definitions include: "A popular report; common talk; hence, notoriety; reputation. . . . A story current but not authenticated. . . . To noise abroad; spread by rumor."

The dangerous potentials of rumor are obvious . . . and it is becoming ever more obvious that rumor might erase much of the progress that has been made since last summer's civil disorders, and produce a repetition in the months ahead. Such a disaster can be avoided if all the citizens will take personal inventory of their thinking, and make firm decisions which will disqualify them from joining the ranks of the rumor-mongers.

Recognizing the threat of the damage which rumors can cause, Detroit has set up an office for the specific purpose of supplying answers to those who have been exposed to this menace. With the prolongation of the tragic newspaper strike which has deprived the entire Metropolitan Detroit area of familiarity with current events, it has been extremely difficult to cope with this vitally important problem.

Much credit should be given Channel 7, which has undertaken to dissect by TV, "The Incredible Rumor Mill," in a five-part series on all newscasts, March 11 through March 15. The reports are being seen on the "Morning Show" newscasts as well as the News Hour at 4:30 and the Eleventh Hour News.

Channel 7 reporter Jim Herrington, whose film crew has been on the streets of Detroit and suburbs during recent weeks, making the pictorial survey, said: "Fear itself may be a more real danger to our community than the possibility of violence. The investigation by Channel 7 News leads to the conclusion that rumors of genocide, concentration camps and concealed casualty figures from last July exist only in the minds of a few twisted and confused souls, but if allowed to spread, they can endanger our community in 1968."

Grosse Pointe has more than its share of rumor-mongers. We shall not dignify the fanciful tales we have heard by repeating them. We are reminded of the radio character of years past, (was it Baron Munchausen?), and his stock phrase when he was handed a choice gossip item: "Was you there, Charlie?"

Insist upon proof before passing on, and perhaps augmenting the next piece of inflammatory rumor that comes your way.

Another frightening aspect of the build-up which constitutes an invitation to violence, is the wholesale purchase by private citizens, of firearms. With the tremendous increase in the number of potential killers, we shudder to think of the possible consequences. No one should own a gun who is not thoroughly schooled in its proper handling and aware of the dangers involved in carelessness, or action dictated by jumpy nerves. A most sobering lesson should be learned from the recent tragedy of the father who shot his three-year-old daughter to death when she attempted to enter her parents' bedroom during the night.

Kent Mathewson, president of the Metropolitan Fund, Inc., and coordinator of the New Detroit Committee, dwelt on this subject in a recent address at the Cranbrook Assembly in Bloomfield Hills. We quote him.

"Let me pointedly decry this armed camp atmosphere that grows by prodigious leaps and bounds in the region surrounding Detroit as well as the inner city. There exists in the already established local police, state police, national guard and . . . if necessary, federal militia . . . more than sufficient expertise and strength to deal with any future civil disorder. The panic action of some suburban governments and residents to create and implement so-called anti-crime programs and armed forces only contributes unnecessarily to a growing tinder box of emotion and hysteria."

"Even more dangerous is the concerted effort to arm the individual citizen. Efforts to encourage such action are irresponsible and the consequences are far more dangerous than the possibilities they pretend to guard against. Let me urge my suburban neighbors to consider this . . . a dead child, friend or relative is just as dead if the fatal bullet comes from a jumpy, ill-trained neighbor shooting at what he 'thought was a sniper'. There is far more danger of death and devastation in these suburbs this summer from each other than there is from the unlikely possibility that rioters will invade the suburbs."

Now, and the months ahead present a challenge that calls for sober, intelligent, conscientious thinking and deportment on the part of all of us. The spreading of untrue and inflammatory rumors . . . and actions which incite violence, we do not need and cannot afford.

Letters to the Editor

Sirs:
I have been reading with increasing apprehension the letters in your paper from those who have repudiated the Grosse Pointe school system in the recent millage vote. It does not seem out of order to view this rejection in the light of hard economic realities.

1. In the seven years since I moved into the Pointes I have seen houses increase in value substantially. Rentals have made the same remarkable gains. Houses which were offered for $18,000 seven years ago are now being offered at or near $30,000. I recently saw a house offered at $50,000 which six years ago was offered at $18,000. I credit much of this increase to the maintenance of good schools by the community. Indeed one of the best sales "pitches" of Grosse Pointe realtors has been that the community has never turned down a school millage.

2. It is my observation that houses that sell in Detroit for less than similar Grosse Pointe houses pay a comparable and sometimes higher tax. The failure of Detroit to maintain an outstanding school system has destroyed real estate values within the city.

3. Those who wish to see what happens to property values in communities which do not support their schools have only to compare selling prices in Indian Village to those in the Pointes.

4. As we fast approach the time when a college degree is required for fully half of all employment openings this sniping at our local schools seems a retrograde action.

It would seem to me that economic self interest alone would demand that we support the school system. It is my information that the Grosse Pointe school system which was once amongst the top in the nation has in recent years slipped back as other sometimes newer communities have vigorously chosen to support and pay for excellence in their schools. We should be interested in no less than the best.

I am constantly amazed when I hear complaints about the taxes in the Pointes. We have outstanding public services, dependable and excellent police and fire protection and courteous public employees. Such services must be paid for—we ought to do it gladly. It has been less than a month since I have had occasion to call the Detroit Police about a breaking and entering and malicious destruction of property (in Detroit) and was told that they would do nothing and upon my taking exception to this the officer hung up on me—can you imagine OUR police doing this? Besides our own home we have other Grosse Pointe housing units. Neither we nor our renters have children. Indeed, I am not particularly fond of children but I like them better if they are well educated. We live near a Grosse Pointe school and have sustained several hundred dollars' damage in landscaping material annually by children going to and from school but while our anger is not mitigated we would not dream of voting against school millage—we just pay the added penalty and watch our property values increase.

We have recently seen in school board elections our schools becoming a field of contention by opposing political philosophies—a disaster from which we can recover only by unifying the community in the common pursuit of excellence in our schools and the determination to pay the costs of its attainment. The rewards of such an accomplishment, while immeasurable, will measurably affect the value of the community's housing.

Sincerely,
Larry N. Burns,

What Goes On at Your Library

By Virginia Leonard

Guest Columnist: Jean Taylor

If you are limiting your travel plans this year to the Western Hemisphere, be of good cheer. The many books on your library's shelves about this part of the world, will convince you of the delightful junkets to be had without going too far afield. There are books to advise you on where to go, how to go, what to see; on lodgings, currencies, tipping, dining and as well as giving help on the vexing problem of how to travel light and still be suitably togged for all occasions.

Whether you favor the mini, the midi or the maxi skirt, you'll have to admit, when it comes to packing, the mini has its points. With nylon, dacron, orlon, minis and bikinis, lady today can travel the world around in little more than a pill box. Just how good were the good old days? A BOOK OF DECORUM published in 1877 has this to say about European travel:

"An elastic valise and a hand-satchel, at the side of which is strapped a waterproof, are enough baggage to start with. In the valise will be changes of linen, consisting of two garments, nightgowns, and 'angel drawers.' These latter are made of cotton or linen, and consist of a waist cut like a plain corset-cover, but extending all in once piece in front with the drawers, which button on the side.

"Usually the waists of these drawers are made without sleeves or with only a short cap at the top of the arm, but for a European trip it is advisable to add sleeves to the waist, so that cuffs—paper cuffs if preferred—can be buttoned to them. Thus, in one garment easily made, easily removed, and as easily washed as a chemise, is comprised drawers, chemise, corset-cover and undersleeves, the whole occupying no more room than any single article of underwear, and saving the trouble attending the care and putting on of many pieces.

"A gauze flannel vest underneath is perhaps a necessary precaution, and ladies who wear corsets can place them next to this. Over these the single garment mentioned adds all that is required in the way of underwear, except two skirts and small light haircloth tounure.

"Of dresses, three are required—one a traveling-dress of brown de beige, a double calico wrapper and a black or hair-striped silk. The latter is best, because it is light, because it does not crush easily and because by judicious making and management it can be arranged into several costumes, which will serve for city sightseeing throughout the journey and be good afterward to bring home.

"Then, if there is room, an odd black silk or alpaca skirt may be found useful, and an embroidered linen or batiste polonaise from last summer's store.

"Add to these a black sash, a couple of belts, an umbrella with chateleine and requisite attachments, a pair of neat fitting boots and pair of slippers, some cuffs, small standing collars and a few yards of fraying, a striped or checked shawl, a 'cloud' for evenings on deck, some handkerchiefs and gray and brown kid gloves, and you have an outfit that will take you over the world and can all be comprised in the space indicated, leaving room for a small whisk broom, essential to comfort, and a large palm-leaf fan."

Fantastic? Well, maybe—but who knows, perhaps our great grandchildren will be quite as scornful of today's riggings when pulling their vacations to the moon!

I hate to intrude on Jean Taylor's column, but I must add a small human interest note. Quite recently we received a rather unusual request from a former patron. He wrote, from Mexico, asking for the correct spelling of the name of the cat in BELL, BOOK AND CANDLE—a cat with the rather unlikely name of Pyewacket. Why? Because he wanted to use this name for his new boat—a catamaran—and desired the right form of the name in case any literary pedagogues were lurking nearby!

Naturally, our Library came up with verification of the spelling and a letter is now winging its way to Mexico. Wonder if he'll send us a picture of the Pyewacket?

Finale Of Symphony 'Kaleidoscope' Series

Talk By Mischa Mischakoff and Open Rehearsal Will Highlights of Last Session, to Be Held March 20 In Ford Auditorium

The "Symphony Kaleidoscope" music-appreciation series, co-sponsored by the Women's Association and the Junior Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, will close in a blaze of glory at its last session, scheduled next Wednesday, March 20, at Ford Auditorium.

At the meeting, to be convened at 1 o'clock in the Auditorium's lower level social hall, Mischa Mischakoff of the Detroit Symphony will discuss the responsibilities of a concertmaster and tell anecdotes of his 15-year association with the NBC Symphony under Toscanini.

Mr. Mischakoff has spent a lifetime as concertmaster of the world's great orchestras, including the Leningrad Symphony, Bolshoi Theatre Orchestra, Warsaw Philharmonic, New York Symphony under Walter Damrosch, Philadelphia Orchestra under Stokowski and Chicago Symphony under Stock. This meeting should provide a wonderful opportunity for music-lovers to share his insights, knowledge and memories.

Ruth Kaiser, who conducts the "Symphony Kaleidoscope" series, will also briefly discuss the instruments of the orchestra.

At 2 o'clock the group will adjourn to the auditorium proper for an open rehearsal of the Detroit Symphony, always an enriching experience.

Individual tickets, which may be purchased at the door, are $1.50 each. WA 1-6590 is the number to call for further information.

Inside The Mothers' Club

The regular meeting of the Executive Board of the Grosse Pointe High School Mothers Club was held on March 4 at 12:45 o'clock in the Board of Education Building, with 24 members present.

President Mrs. William Ludwig reported on her various activities for the month and thanked the members for their work in the millage campaign.

She discussed the role of the Mothers Club in helping form a parents' organization at North High School.

Parents of N.H.S. students will be invited to attend a planning meeting at Parcels School on Thursday, March 28, at 8 o'clock in the evening.

Reports were presented by president-elect Mrs. Joseph Perry, vice-president Mrs. James Mayshark and treasurer Mrs. Leland Symons. Mrs. Mayshark commented on distribution of final scholarship checks amounting to $2,600, and notes of appreciation received.

Nominating chairman Mrs. Perry TeWalt presented the committee's suggested slate for the 1968-69 Executive Board as follows: President, Mrs. Joseph Perry; president-elect, Mrs. Douglas Smith; recording secretary, Mrs. Albert Dickson; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Robert Williams; treasurer, Mrs. Bruce Reynolds.

Election of officers will take place at the annual meeting May 22 at the War Memorial. Mrs. TeWalt reported that there is a workshop for tutoring at Brownell School. Regarding student service programs, Inner City work will be curtailed for lack of funds. Students are currently being recruited for work at Happy Hollow, the camp for retarded children.

Faculty advisor Jerry Gerich reviewed the impossibility of delivering phone messages to students during the school day. With no messengers available and classroom interruption detrimental, parents should be advised to limit calls to extreme emergencies only.

Regarding transportation of cheerleaders and the possibility of a varsity hockey team, Mr. Gerich stressed that the expenses involved in the athletic program make it imperative that the emphasis be on activities involving the most participating students.

Announcement was made of the employment of two policemen to patrol the school grounds during the day. In accordance with Judge Lincoln's recent ruling, they will be empowered to apprehend offensive persons.

The subject of drugs was discussed. Educational programs are followed in many courses, with speakers and a film available for discussion groups.

Mrs. Benson McClure, faculty representative, reported that the A.F.S.-Y.F.U. drive had been very successful, with $1,900 received. She explained the school policy for students who will miss school beyond the regular vacation period.

The counselor must be informed of the student's plans. Teachers are not required to give assignments nor to make up work. Rather, these will be the students' individual responsibilities.

The advisability of an up-to-date Social Guide book was discussed and suggestions presented. Such information as vacation policies and phone messages could be included in the printing, which will be investigated further.

Introduce Students To 'Opera Overture'

Volunteers, Using Film Strips And Recordings, Appear In Detroit Area Schools To Review Programs For Prospective Audiences

This spring, approximately 15,000 students in the Detroit Metropolitan area will attend an opera presented by Overture to Opera VII.

To prepare these students for the program they will attend, the Junior League of Birmingham, in cooperation with the Junior League of Detroit and the Women's Committee of the Detroit Grand Opera Association, has organized a group of 30 volunteers to speak in the schools.

They are using recordings and film strips to illustrate their talks. The volunteers have been trained by Dr. David diChiera, acting head of the Music Department at Oakland University and producer-director of the Overture programs. This is the first year that this type of educational program has been undertaken.

Overture is jointly sponsored by the Detroit Grand Opera Association, Oakland University and the University Center for Adult Education.

Its purpose is to acquaint young people with opera, to give local artists an opportunity to appear in a professional production and to present operas that would not otherwise be produced in this area.

Menotti's "The Medium" is the highlight of this year's presentations. Other productions will be Cherubini's "The Portuguese Inn" and Act I of Puccini's "La Boheme."

Women in the Grosse Pointe area who are working in the program of prior-education are Mrs. Charles M. Endicott, Mrs. David Halter, Mrs. Peter Higbie, Mrs. Peter Thurber, Mrs. Richard Chadwell and Mrs. Thomas Rockwell.

Plan Dinners Before Theater

Each performance of Grosse Pointe Theater's new production, the comedy of the corporate image known as "The Absence of a Cello" will be preceded by gourmet buffet suppers in the Fries Crystal Ballroom above the Theater, or in the adjacent Alger House.

This will give all theatergoers a chance to have a complete evening. They will be able to park once and dine under the same roof as the show. The Memorial for some time has staged dinners before its Travelogues and before Meadow Brook Theater plays. It now offers the same opportunity to Grosse Pointe Theater patrons.

Reservations for dinner including dinner parties should be made by check to the Center's office, indicating date, at least three days prior to the occasion. The cost is $3.75 including tax and service.

The dinners will be served at 7 p.m. on March 22, 23, 28, 29, and 30 preceding the 8:30 performance. Sunday, March 24, dinner will be served at 6 p.m. prior to the 7:30 p.m. show.

May Bride

Planning a May 11 wedding MARY ELIZABETH ROSS and John Edward Osborn, whose engagement has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Ross, of Touraine road.

The bride-elect was graduated from the Academy of the Sacred Heart in Lakeshore road and will receive a Bachelor of Science in Nursing degree from Marquette University, Milwaukee, Wis., in June.

Her fiancé, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Osborn, of York, Neb., has received degrees from Creighton University and Marquette University.

Kosovec-Pelkey Rites Revealed

Our Lady Queen of Peace Church was the setting for the Friday evening, March 1, wedding of Diane Mary Pelkey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Traver John Pelkey, of Hillcrest road, Detroit, and Thomas Andrew Kosovec, son of the Ludwig Kosovecs, of Radnor circle.

The Reverend Paul Alandt officiated at the 7 o'clock ceremony, which was followed by a dinner reception at the Gourmet House.

The bride's gown of ivory silk taffeta and Alencon lace was fashioned with a scoop neckline and full skirt, accented with an embroidered lace and pearl panel, extending into a Cathedral train.

Her fingertip illusion veil fell from a circle of pearls, and she carried an arrangement of white orchids, stephanotis and ivy.

Honor attendant Mary Pat Schaeffner and bridesmaids Nancy Dargel, Cindy Jones, the bride's cousin, Mary McEachern and Sharon Devick wore floor length Empire frocks of American Beauty peau de soie, with matching bolero jackets, and veiled Dior headbows.

They carried nosegays of pink Sweetheart roses and carnations.

Kenneth Kosovec served as his brother's best man. Ushering were T. J. Pelkey, Jr., the bride's brother, Dennis and Mark Kosovec, two other brothers of the bridegroom, Richard Zaloc, the bridegroom's cousin, and Bill Pupolec.

Flower girl Beth Gorey, the bride's cousin, wore a short white dress trimmed with pink and carried a basket of pink Sweetheart roses.

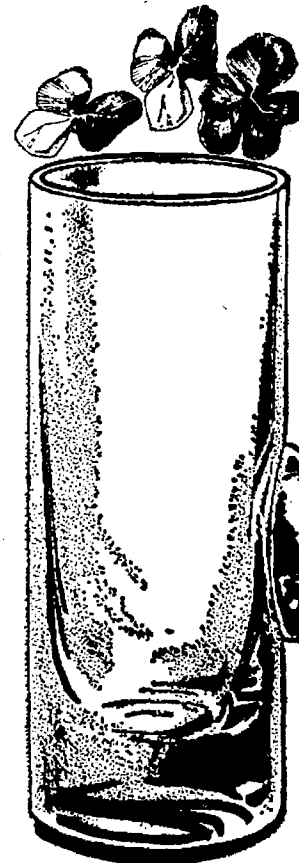

The newlyweds will return from a vacation in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., to make their home in Kelly road, East Detroit. The mother of the bride wore a floor length dress and coat ensemble of pale pink silk, styled with a beaded cowl neckline.

The bridegroom's mother selected a floor length costume of aqua silk, fashioned with a beaded bodice. Both mothers pinned cymbidium orchids to their purses.

For traveling, the bride chose a two-piece suit of off-white wool, with brown accessories.

DBC Juniors Plan 'Ecnad'

"Alice in Psychedelic-Land" could very well be the theme of the Detroit Boat Club's junior high dance Friday evening, March 15.

Called the "White Rabbit Ecnad," the hop will combine the flavor of Alice and the White Rabbit with masses of paper flowers and sounds created by a favorite teen group, the Sounds of Night.

Chairman Mrs. Harry W. Mellen, of Balfour road, promises that the whole thing will come out as wild as a March hare.

Mrs. Mellen and her co-chairmen Mrs. Donald R. Spencer, of Trombley road, and Mrs. J. Ross Bush, of Pemberton road, are masterminding the spring fling under the auspices of the Club's Women's Committee.

But, the real party engineers are a 28-member battalion of junior members at the Boat Club.

For weeks, this group has been assembling to make gigantic balloon rabbits. These are encased in yarn and then dipped in starch for shape retention. They will dangle from the ballroom ceiling trailing pocket watch chains, true to Looking Glass tradition.

Juniors in the decorations corps include localites Becky Allen, Bruce Allen, Ann Aronson, Bill Bodeau, Mike Bodeau, Wesley Bush, Carol Choje, Mary Fountain, Patty Hastings, Craig Havel, Susan Henkelman, Tom Kirby, Fred Mellen, Kelly Murphy, Barbara Pfeffer, Kirk Renaud, Priscilla Spencer, Ted Sweeney, Jr., Nancy Tamblin, Rick Vinci, Valerie Vinci, Mary Beth Welton and Leah Wheeler. Traveling in from Birmingham to lend their artistic touches have been Julie Doetsch, Mary Ann Doetsch, David Hassard, John Sallee and Debby Waggoner.

Too square for words are the parent-chaperones who invariably have to be advised to spell "Ecnad" of the title backwards.

MICHAEL J. SCHWEITZER of Audubon road was named to the Dean's List at the University of Detroit for the fall semester of the academic year of 1967-68. He is a senior in the College of Commerce and Finance.

Academy of Sacred Heart Keeping Pace With Times

By Pepper Whitelaw

Education at the Sacred Heart is "education with tradition." The Society of the Sacred Heart was founded in France in 1800 by Saint Madeleine Sophie Barat, and the education of young girls was undertaken as its chief work.

The first foundation of the Society in the United States was made in 1818 at St. Charles, Mo., by Blessed Philippine Duchesne.

The Academy of the Sacred Heart-Grosse Pointe, was established in 1883. Here both weekly boarders and day pupils receive the special type of training which characterizes Sacred Heart education the world over.

The Academy is located at 171 Lake Shore road overlooking Lake St. Clair. The Tudor Gothic styled school building is equipped with airy classrooms, a library and reading room, a science laboratory, an auditorium and stage, a gymnasium and a dormitory floor with large attractive rooms for resident students.

The building is surrounded by beautiful grounds on part of which are tennis and badminton courts, hockey fields and a specially equipped playground for the younger children.

Has Staff of 32

The staff of 32 includes 14 religious teachers and 18 lay teachers.

Most of the religious teachers either hold master degrees or are in the process of gaining them.

The administrative staff includes Mother Healy, Superior of the Religious Community and Sister A. Zippel her assistant; Sister G. O'Donnell, headmistress, who is in the midst of her first year in that post; Sister H. Carey, curriculum co-ordinator; Sister N. Tobin, business administrator; Sister L. Somerville, head of the Middle School; and Sister C. Ohalek, head of the Lower School.

The present enrollment, which includes 35 resident students, is 385, from Montessori Pre-School through grade 12.

The faculty realized about a year ago that a new, in many ways revolutionary approach was demanded by the needs of the girls of the 1960s.

Many Innovations

Since that time many innovations have come about. The non-graded Middle School program was initiated, after much discussion, planning, and testing. In the middle school students are grouped together according to other norms than chronological ages. These norms include speed, style of learning, the skills they have already acquired in reading, mathematics and language arts and the requirements of particular disciplines.

An art appreciation lecture or film presentation can be given to the entire school, followed by small discussions. Skills or learning style instead of chronological age determine the size and population of a mathematics group which may contain 19 to 12-year-olds all working at the seven-grade level.

Changes Groups

As a child achieves certain skills she moves on to a new group, unless the entire group moves into a new level of work.

Team teaching, daily faculty discussions and detailed reports outlining the girls' abilities help greatly in determining when the student should move to another group. This procedure works beautifully in this type of school setting, where the size of the classes is limited to 20 or 25 students.

Much of the success of the program has been due to individualized instruction and team teaching. During the year in no case has the growth been less than that of average comparable groups.

See Further Changes

Currently a student is with others of her own age group for subjects such as Religion and Social Studies. This structure will be retained, though non-graded grouping could be further extended if the probability of real advantages to be gained seems to warrant doing so. And the way things look now, further extension is almost assured.

Progress reports on the students are graded Excellent, Satisfactory and Unsatisfactory. Grading is followed by parent conferences and individual written reports on the student.

Although the faculty feels it is impossible at this early date to pass final judgment on this non-graded middle school approach, all of the staff involved are sure they would not want to return to the old ways and are full of enthusiasm for the future of the non-graded middle school.

Coordinate Activities

The Student Coordinating Committee was an outgrowth of the Middle School. SCC is a representative body of students who serve as class representatives, and who are responsible for the maintenance of cooperation and good spirit among the members of the school. They aid in coordinating school activities.

ities. Members are nominated by their respective classes and voted on by the faculty.

The Academy of the Sacred Heart is one of the few schools in Grosse Pointe that is integrated.

This year the sisters' habits were restyled—to a style that was still in the quiet good taste of the past but more practical in this modern day and age.

Tutor In Inner City

In the Upper School a program of social action was organized this year. This is a program where the older students go to the inner city and tutor on a one-to-one basis. Here the sisters are most emphatic that the experience was broadening to the girls who they feel are so often isolated from problems in the inner city.

Other Upper School girls assist at the Grosse Pointe Nursing Home, the Lutheran School for the Deaf and in the Exceptional Childrens Program at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

This year too, in accordance with directions outlined by Vatican II Council the religious instructors are no longer called mothers but sisters.

The changes at the Academy of the Sacred Heart have been many this past year . . . but the quiet tradition of the school remains. The sisters' chief purpose is unaltered, to train young girls for their life work as Christian women.

MR. and MRS. RICHARD F. HUEGLI, of Radnor circle, and MR. and MRS. ROBERT C. LEWIS, of North Brys drive, have returned from a 10 days' vacation at the Rock Sound Club on Eleuthera Island in the Bahamas.

Woman's Club Slates Meeting

"It's Laughter I'm After" is the title of the program to be given by Peggy Cameron (Mrs. Harry M.) King when she speaks to members of the Grosse Pointe Woman's Club at their regular meeting next Wednesday, March 20, at 1 o'clock in the Crystal Ballroom of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

Mrs. King writes, teaches magazine writing in Dearborn and has lectured at Oakland University for the past six years. She has published in some 50 magazines and newspapers.

Her latest book, "Ladies, Please Come to Order," will be released in the fall of 1968.

Mrs. King, a member of the Detroit Woman Writers, received that group's award in 1961 as Detroit's Woman Writer of the Year.

Mrs. John J. Kelly is program chairman of the day. She will introduce Mrs. King.

Tea table theme will be "Wearin' O' The Green." Tea hostess Mrs. Edward V. Luiss will be assisted by co-hostess Mrs. Warren C. Dilloway.

Members of the tea committee include Mrs. Harold M.

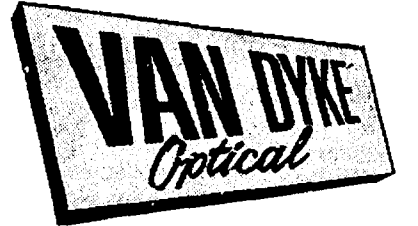

Parliamentary Law Club Will Meet Wednesday

The Detroit Parliamentary Law Club will meet on Wednesday, March 20, from 10 o'clock until 12 noon at the Federation of Womens' Clubs Building, in Second avenue, Detroit.

A full explanation of "Incidental Motions" will be offered by Mrs. Henry B. Ihnken.

An invitation is extended to all interested persons to attend one meeting during the year as an observer.

Pointe Physician Named To Post

Bonnie R. Wolfram, M.D., Detroit-area physician, has accepted the chairmanship of a new national committee named by George Lingua, president of the National Kidney Foundation.

The committee's purpose is to implement programs for prolonging life and restoring to useful activity victims of kidney failure.

Dr. Wolfram's group, the Trustees' Dialysis and Transplantation Committee, will consider sources for financing of patient care for the 6,000 to 10,000 individuals annually needing artificial kidney treatment, (hemodialysis), or transplantation in order to survive.

Care for victims of kidney failure is presently unavailable in most communities because of lack of costly facilities and trained personnel.

In discussing her new voluntary assignment, Dr. Wolfram said guidelines for action include encouraging community support of artificial kidney and transplantation centers and individual home treatment programs.

Dr. Wolfram said many medical leaders throughout the country look to home treatment on the artificial kidney as a solution to the tragic shortages.

"While there are limited numbers of patients currently being treated on an artificial kidney in the home, there is need for accelerating this type of care," Dr. Wolfram stated.

The new chairman said her committee will work toward federal and state legislation permitting individuals to will their body tissue after death so that others may live. Lack of uniformity in existing laws invokes a barrier to life-saving transplantation.

Dr. Wolfram is a resident of North Deeplands road. In private life she is Mrs. Lawrence M. Regan, chairman of the board of Regan Productions, Inc.

She is president of Education Media, Inc., Detroit. The firm was organized three years ago to research and produce multimedia educational programs in health and medicine for all audiences.

Glacier posts held by Dr. Wolfram include membership on the board of the Michigan Kidney Foundation and on committees of a number of health and community service organizations. She maintains a private medical practice.

The new chairman recently supervised a nine-month national study of training needs for physicians, nurses and other personnel associated with chronic dialysis programs. The study was financed by the U.S. Public Health Service.

The shortage of trained personnel has been one of the bottlenecks in making treatment with the artificial kidney available to those who need it.

Dr. Wolfram said plans are to obtain nationwide representation on the committee from leaders in industry, education, medical and other professional organizations.

In this speed-age everybody is under the impression they are hardpressed for time.

LWV Turns Attention To Water Resources

Problems of Pollution Will Be Discussed at Three Unit Meetings this Month; Mrs. H. Willam Butler is Chairman of Item

With the season again directing our attention to the pleasures of swimming, picnicking and boating, our concern for the condition of our waters again becomes paramount.

The month of March stirs these attentions, and the Grosse Pointe League of Women Voters will be presenting this concern by presenting "Water Resources" to its membership and friends.

"Water Resources", which is a National Current Agenda Item of the League, reads: "Support national policies and procedures which promote comprehensive long-range planning for conservation and development of water resources and improvement of water quality."

Colony Town Club To Meet

Members of the Colony Town Club will welcome spring with a luncheon and bridge party at the Harmonie Club next Tuesday, March 19.

Assisting chairman of the day Mrs. Gustav Kleiner with party preparations are Mrs. C. Herbert Ewing, Mrs. Robert J. Huton, Mrs. Ralph A. Zander and Mrs. Reed Zens.

Mrs. H. William Butler, of Grand Marais boulevard, chairman of the Water Resources Item, will review the League's background and positions it has taken on this issue, bringing the membership and friends up to date on current League interest, and then present a study on the alternatives in water management.

These facts will be presented, with the assistance of Mrs. Donald L. McConachie, of Mount Vernon road, at three Unit meetings scheduled for the convenience of busy Grosse Pointers.

A presentation will be given at the home of Mrs. Harold Jinks, of Lakepointe avenue, at 8 o'clock, Tuesday evening March 19.

Mrs. Bruce Miller will be the hostess at 1 o'clock Wednesday, March 20, at her home in University place, and Monday morning, March 25, Mrs. A. C. Fortinski will greet members and guests at 9:30 o'clock at her Berkshire road home.

Highlight of the Water Resources presentation will take place at the League's Annual Meeting on March 27, which will feature a prominent authority on water pollution problems.

Details on this will be forthcoming.

With municipalities and industries putting off our water on a massive scale and with the uses of water increasing with the needs of an increasing population, the pollution of our waters is a grave problem.

Lake Michigan, to cite an example, has been called an "industrial cesspool" and some scientists doubt whether the highly contaminated regions can ever be cleaned. The situation is critical, but with citizen's concern and with concentrated effort, the situation is not hopeless.

So the Grosse Pointe League of Women Voters cordially invites its members and friends to come to the Unit meeting to understand the problems and the programs of Water Resources.

Wayne State University students GREG VAN TONGTREN, of Nottingham road, GEORGE ZIENTKOWSKI, of Harcourt road, KENNY MASCHMEYER, of Oxford road, and BETTY ZELTWANGER, of Washington road, took part in a combined "Two for Tonight" concert of the WSU Men's and Women's Clubs Friday evening, March 8, in Ford Auditorium.

DBC Women Slate Spring Bridge Party

The Detroit Boat Club Women's Committee is sponsoring, so to celebrate the exact date of the new season's arrival, next Wednesday afternoon, March 20, will find the Club filled with birds and bees, sunny forsythia branches and table centerpieces fashioned of genuine Spanish moss from New Orleans.

The occasion will be the monthly bridge luncheon, to which Mrs. Eugene E. Dawber has been bidding everyone with the express purpose of "shedding winter's drearies."

At the rate the reservations have been escalating, it appears that most of the feminine members of the Club are planning to attend.

Mrs. Dawber and her co-chairman, Mrs. Donald A. Henkelman, have been combing local florists' supply houses for tiny, bright-plumaged birds ever since their committee elected to "bake" the party conversation-centerpieces.

Mrs. Ross A. Campbell ordered a shipment of moss from the South and each party planner toiled some home.

The lacy, beard-like stuff was then mixed with wheat paste, twirled into muffin tins and popped into a 250-degree oven for half an hour.

The women are so proud of their handwork that they can hardly wait for the day of the party to display it. Among those in the Birds' Nest Brigade are Mrs. William J. Harahan, III, Mrs. James A. Olson, Mrs. Vincent P. Adamo, Mrs. Vernon S. Glendenning, Mrs. Milton A. Manley, Jr., Mrs. Harold Davis, Mrs. John C. Cook and Mrs. Stanley M. Huestis.

COME SEE FOR YOURSELF!

Open Sunday 2:30 to 5 p.m. 507 Rivard

THIS JEFFERSONIAN COLONIAL is an older, spacious house, looking for a big family to adopt it. If a modern family kitchen, five big bedrooms and two full baths on the second floor, plus an ideal location when your appetite — stop by — and Buy!

685 Fisher

OWNER TRANSFERRED — and they just finished remodeling the kitchen not to mention total (and we think tasteful) redecoration. 3 bedrooms, 1½ baths — that extra room on the first floor and a surprise on the third. P.S. 3-car garage. All for $34,000.

622 University

WE COULD SAY a lot, but seeing is believing. Would you believe 4 bedrooms, three baths plus a lav on the first, nestled deep in the heart of the city for just $45,000?

By Appointment

LET IT SNOW, let it snow, let us show you one of the better buys available in the Pointe today. Baby it's cold outside, so come on in and warm up to this four-bedroom with three full baths on the second floor. Recently decorated throughout, and this includes a revamped kitchen.

MAY WE BE a bit presumptuous in asking if you like to revel in the luxury of large rooms which have been masterfully decorated; to lounge in your large bedroom or its sitting room? Do you insist on the privacy of an estate-sized lot and the intimacy of a warmly paneled library? Must you have quarters for stay-in help or just the rooms which you know are there for visiting family and brood? If you can picture yourself here, let us start the ball rolling by taking you there.

IF YOU ARE a do it yourself buff why not pick up this lake front lot and throw up your own place. One hundred and four feet of frontage on Lake St. Clair makes for a beautiful backdrop from your front window. Priced at $25,000.

IN THE HEART of the City we offer this center entrance Farm Colonial. If you are sweet on fancy kitchens, paneled libraries, family rooms, separate dining rooms, attached garages and four bedrooms, then better make a bee line to this one — it's a honey.

SOUTH OF JEFFERSON on a street where prices are usually much higher, we offer a very attractive colonial, also with three bedrooms up. This one includes new carpeting and draperies, air conditioner, color television antenna and disposal. Separate Dining room, screened and covered porch with a patio, also a paneled recreation room.

YES, it's a new listing, and it won't last long. Six bedrooms, 3 baths, beautiful library with fireplace, and a big lot are just a few good reasons to call us on this French Colonial today!

Pointe Counter Points

by PAT ROUSSEAU

This Week . . . we took a visitor from the press through all the departments of Walton-Pierce. We listened to her comments. They were interesting and opened our eyes anew to the many facets and services of this very familiar and friendly shop in the Village. We cut through the custom tailoring room where a coat and a suit in The Spring Collection were having finishing touches. Then through millinery and the blossoms of the new season. We noted a wedding headdress and veil were being readied for a final try-on. Over to ready-to-wear. / It was a busy day but we managed to find lots of dresses and costumes in an unbelievably wide price range. There were several delightful linens in junior sizes under forty dollars. Ensembles ran about eighty. Of course there were designer dreams which are fun to see, heaven to wear and really a good fashion investment! The next stop was swimwear for which the shop is noted. You can have expert fittings for figure perfection. To top things off, we dropped in to see Mrs. Pierce in the salon and she showed us some of the beautiful ball gowns and party dress in The Spring and Summer Made-To-Order Collection. It was all very informal and really fashion fun.

Curls Are Meant For Girls . . . It's one of the nicest and newest ways for girls of all ages to greet Spring '68 looking fashionable, feminine and fetching. Have a short haircut curled for you at Leon, 17888 Mack Avenue. Then also have back-up beauty security with instant curls in your hat box or travel case. There's a new stretch wig of natural hair which has been newly curled . . . (fifty dollars). We love the little curly dome which pins on and adds to the look. Mr. Wahib combed our hair curly and used one of these topknots. It was delightful and we know the style will be so convenient come summer and vacation . . . TUxedo 4-9393.

Costume Coordinating . . . is done for you in the two and three piece spring ensembles at Michelle's Boutique at Leon, 17888 Mack Avenue. The prices are easy on the budget . . . too! A smart tan every day windowpane plaid coat, skirt and white sweater is seventy dollars. A dress-up white dress in the new belted style has a jaunty jacket . . . (sixty) . . . This would be perfect for our late Easter.

Fashion . . . is infatuated with the individual and proves it this year with many different looks for her. At Claire Pearone, 397 Fisher Road, the individualist can choose a sleek coat-dress with a streak of black patent for a belt. Youthful dirndl skirting and short equally youthful jacketing is another distinctive look. Coming soon! (Do watch for it) . . . "La Midi" for the fashion independent and a summer full of parties. All these looks are to be found in junior sizes and are tagged with attractive little prices.

Beauty Treatment . . . for your kitchen begins with Mutschler skill and design. Even planting arrangements are built into the plan. The finish of the cabinets is baked on for lasting quality. The decorator tile is color coordinated and hand-fired. See samples at 20227 Mack Ave.

Martha's Closet . . . has so many new clothes in it. Gordon-Ford, whose national ads we all admire and who lent man-type tailoring so successfully to women's styles has sent a new collection of fine fitting slacks in windowpane plaid. Green, pink, yellow or blue on white are the color choices. The price . . . sixteen-fifty. To gild a lily is not necessary. To copy the lily is fair game. See the lovely lily copies at 373 Fisher Road. Prices are twenty and twenty-five dollars.

Very Special . . . at the Notre Dame Pharmacy and sure to put a spark in spring complexions . . . Dorothy Gray's Satura Cream. The eight-fifty size is six dollars . . . the five dollar size for three-fifty. A special package of Satura Bath Oil with a small jar of cream is three dollars.

Pick-Up Accessories . . . in papier-mache will perk up your home. Find them in a rainbow of hot colors at The Sphere, 19849 Mack Avenue. There's a decorative bulletin board with magnets, desk pads, napkin rings, a gift box with dominoes and a menagerie of banks, piggy, as well as, turtle, elephant and the rest of the jungle crowd.

The Kaleidoscope . . . 16135 Mack at Bedford, focused on food. There are sixty-six different herbs and spices in the new shipment from the House of Herbs, the oldest manufacturer. Choose any or all of the six vinegars. There's a delicious local dressing called "Sylph" and a dressing mix, "Maestro" which you combine with your favored ingredients and liquids.

Want To Be Spoiled? . . . Certainly you do! The Hotel St. Regis is out to super-pamper you. If you like hand-made imported furniture, parquet floors, original oriental rugs, continental cuisine and service . . . be careful, you might want to change your address. We were taken on a press tour and the thought occurred. For reservations and a specially priced weekend of spoiling call 873-3000.

The Prize Winner . . . at Edward Nepi, Parrucchiere, 19463 Mack Avenue is Salvatore. He won the award for hair cutting in the recent beauty show in Detroit. As you know the haircut is more important than ever . . . as it is the short cut to fashion this spring. Call TUxedo 2-0160 for an appointment with a winner.

Polyester . . . seems to be the password in carpeting these days. It opens a world of wonderful decorator color because it takes dye, beautifully. It is resilient so it wears, wonderfully. It does not shed and the price is right. Cabin Crafts' . . . prices for polyester carpeting start at eight ninety-five a square yard. Find it at Ed Maliszewski, Carpeting, 21435 Mack Avenue . . . 776-5510.

It's Posh! . . . Curls are heading your way. Tossy, fluffy, bouncy, bubbling . . . they're the newest rage. This biggest beauty change in years is so pretty, young and flattering to almost every face, you won't waste a second longing for straight hair . . . once you're caught up in curls. The look is naturally at The Posh Studios, formally Tres Chic Coiffures. Call 886-1377 for an appointment.

That Traveling Lady, Sylvia Trevino has just returned from an exciting trip south of the Border. Ole is brimming with NEW treasures: wood carvings, tin work, light fixtures, jewelry . . . all original hand-worked designs. Paper flowers are treasured for brilliant color and detail. Treat your eye to the new dazzle of Ole. Special "Show-Off Week", Friday, March 15th through Friday, March 22nd

DR. J. WILLIAM RIOUX OF DEVONSHIRE ROAD

By Pepper Whitelaw

After a visit with Dr. J. William Rioux, president of the Merrill-Palmer Institute of Human Development and Family Life, we are convinced he is one of the most dedicated men on the education scene. Dr. Rioux, just 42 years old, is a native Detroit.

He returned here in October, 1967, to take the post of Merrill-Palmer president after serving as Acting Director of the Office of Program Planning and Evaluation—Bureau of Elementary and Secondary Education—U.S. Office of Education, and as acting Associate Commissioner of the Bureau of Education for the Handicapped—U.S. Office of Education, in Washington, D. C.

He received his Bachelor of Arts and Master of Social Work degrees from the University of Michigan in 1950 and 1953 respectively. He received his Ed. D. in Educational Administration and Supervision from Wayne State University in 1961. Dr. Rioux and Merrill-Palmer are old friends. After all, he was born in Detroit and his wife, Clarice attended classes at Merrill-Palmer some years back—and Dr. Rioux says, she has never stopped talking about the institute.

Concerned with People Dr. Rioux believes in Merrill-Palmer and its basic concern for people with a capital "P". His goal is the understanding of people from infancy to old age. This is the focus of all of its programs, which include teaching, research and services to individuals, families and groups.

"Although Merrill-Palmer is 48 years old, very few Detroiters know exactly what we do," smiles Dr. Rioux. "Our work can be divided into three areas: community services, teaching and research. Our staff of 45 must work in areas outside of their own as well as in their own special fields. We think this rubbing of ideas, this contributing of different viewpoints is vital."

"We have a substantial number of post-doctoral students, and many college students from different states and countries, primarily juniors and seniors. Most of them come from colleges or universities where classes are large . . . our classes are small, normally 10 to 50."

Fully Accredited All of the courses Merrill-Palmer offers are fully accredited by these cooperating colleges and universities.

"The new students are often taken aback by our different approach to learning," Dr. Rioux adds. "We have no textbooks here. Our professors merely state, 'This is the area we will cover,' and then it's the students' job to go to one of our two libraries and dig for information."

"We differ from large universities that merely transmit information. Here at Merrill-Palmer the student is afforded the luxury of his own approach and interpretation."

"Even our housing situation is unique. Our quarters are run completely by our students. They set up their own rules and regulations as to hours and even (including Sunday). Hours . . . daily, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Ole, 16237 Mack Avenue at Three Mile Drive.

Menu Musing . . . at Westfields, 15506 Mack at Somerset, we were tempted by the baby beef liver with bacon, baked potato and green beans. There was more temptation in another selection, chicken croquettes, whipped potatoes and green peas. We have two delicious reasons to go back again because we ordered the char-broiled steak with a baked potato and sliced tomatoes.

Adore a New Kitchen? . . . Let one of the kitchen experts at Kitchen Remodelers Inc., 15218 East Jefferson, show you how to save money on kitchen planning. Then let their interior decorator, Miss Mary Anne VanderWeele, do a color rendering of your new kitchen . . . Phone LO 7-2400 for a free bid or visit the beautiful showrooms.

Here's the latest Otsego Ski Story . . . reported by an adult who overheard two young athletes making conversation while waiting for the ski tow.

"Say," said the first youngster, "I see you got a new jacket."

"Yes," replied the second, "how can you tell?"

"Easy," answered the first, "it doesn't match your pants!"

The cast and crew lineup . . . for Memorial Players' production of "Between Two Thieves," to be presented in the Chancel of Grosse Pointe Memorial Church the evenings of April 7 and 8, is so "loaded" with past Pointers Of Interest, we can't help wondering if someone snuck into our office in the middle of the night, checked our "Past Pointers File Book," copied down names and addresses and used them as a Master List of Prospective Players' Personnel! . . . Robert Rathbun, (P. of I. February 1, 1968), is doing the set decoration and props . . . Lornie and Bill Porter, (P. of I. November 10, 1966), are both appearing in the play, and their son, Phil, is assisting Bob Rathbun . . . Louis and Rex Ciavola, (P. of I. March 17, 1966), are handling publicity . . . Jan Bokram, (P. of I. April 21, 1966), is taking the part of "Mary Magdalene" . . . And, if you want to count husbands of past Pointers of Interest, we can expand the list still further to include Bill Bokram, (husband of Jan), who'll appear as "John" and Gordon R. Maitland, Jr. (husband of Betsy, P. of I. November 2, 1967), who has TWO roles: He'll be seen as "Improved Counsel for Defense" and "Second Spectator" . . .

In past years . . . the lady who contributed the most to each Grosse Pointe Newcomers' Club Review received, at the end of each performance, a big bouquet of red roses, thank-you-for-everything gift from the Club cast and crew . . . so when it came time to choose a title for the 1968 Review, Jack Shattuck had an inspiration . . . "Listen," he said to co-ordinator, co-writer and co-director Sue Caputo, "We'll call it 'Roses Aren't Enough'—That's what you'll say when you get your roses, and the audience will suddenly understand the reason for the title . . ." Sue thought the idea good, programs were printed, rehearsals continued, the Review began to shape up . . . And then, the day before Show Day, March 2, Sue had a ghastly thought: "What if they don't give me roses?" . . . So she made a discreet telephone call: "I know this sounds a little strange, but I really must know—are you going to give me roses after the Show?" . . . and received the reply, "No, we've ordered a basket of fruit" . . . and Sue had a sudden ghastly vision of herself standing on the stage, clutching a bunch of bananas as she spoke the Review's punch line, "Roses aren't enough" . . . and of the whole audience doing a double-take, "Wha-a-at?" . . . So she raced over to the Dime Store, bought herself an armful of plastic roses and arranged for her own curtain call Roses' Presentation . . . Which (whew!) came off beautifully . . .

Mrs. Edward R. Bien . . . of Hillcrest road, president of the Variety Club Women of Detroit, will have quite a memorable birthday this year. For March 27 is not only the date of Irene's arrival in the world—it's the day chosen for the big 1968 fund-raising benefit for the Variety Club Growth and Development Center at Children's Hospital . . . The party, the Club's 10th annual luncheon and fashion show, will begin at noon in the Grand Ballroom of the Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel . . . Mrs. Gerard R. Slattery, of Lakeshore road, is serving as honorary chairman of the day . . . Chairman Mrs. Martin Shafer has arranged for B. Siegel Company to show spring styles, Mary Morgan will commentate, Betty Bahr will be mistress of ceremonies and music will be provided by Jack Wiggins and his "In Group" . . . Mrs. Woodrow Praught, TUxedo 2-0279, is the lady to contact for tickets . . .

Congratulations to . . . the staff of "Parcells Post," Parcels Junior High School's student publication, which won a Certificate of Merit in the 31st annual School Press Project co-sponsored by the National Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association and the Columbia Scholastic Press Association, (the Project was promoted in Wayne County by the TB and Health Society) . . . and special congratulations to Parcells Post's faculty advisor, Bernadette Bailey.

PILFERINGS

The young couple had their first quarrel, and for several hours neither would speak to the other. Finally the husband decided to give in.

"Please speak to me, dear," he said. "I'll admit I was wrong and you were right."

"It won't do any good," sobbed the bride. "I've changed my mind."

Nowadays the voice crying in the wilderness is just a teenager with a transistor radio.

—Changing Times

A friend of mine had an upsetting experience in Ireland. Calling a car-rental service, he was greeted with "Rooney and Muldoon Car Rental Service, sure and it's a grand immortal day!"—which was such a grand immortal thought that my friend couldn't remember what he was calling about.
