HEADLINES of the WEEK As Compiled by the Grosse Pointe News

Thursday, March 14

NEW HAMPSHIRE DEMOCRATS returned a startling split decision on Tuesday, giving President Johnson a narrow, empty victory in the nation's first primary. Senator Eugene J. McCarthy garnered 42 percent of the ballots and apparently 20 nominating votes at the party's national convention. Richard M. Nixon won the overwhelming Republican vote. Minnesota's McCarthy far surpassed forecasts.

SECRETARY OF STATE Dean Rusk has refused to promise the Senate Foreign Relations Committee that Congress will be given a role in future Vietnam war policy decisions. After 10½ hours of grueling testimony before the committee, Rusk said only: "If more troops are needed we will, as we have done in the past, consult with appropriate members of Congress. The statement fell short of demands by Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., and a majority of the other members that Congress be brought into any future escalation discussions at an early stage.

ENEMY TROOPS raked a U.S. Army supply convoy from ambush along winding Route 14 in the Vietnam central highlands but American tanks and helicopter gunships splintered the attackers. The U.S. Command said 48 North Vietnamese regulars and Viet Cong guerrillas were killed in the short, midday fight, nine miles north of Pleiku City. Twelve Americans were killed and eight wounded. Soldiers of the South Vietnamese armored unit escorting the convoy suffered some light casualties.

FIGHTING THE FRENZIED wave of gold buying in Europe, the government triggered higher interest rates for American borrowers today and called an emergency meeting of representatives of gold pool nations. In a related move, the London gold market, accepting a U.S. suggestion, did not open on Friday.

THE PRICE OF GOLD reached $44.36 an ounce on the Paris market Friday, more than $9 above the $35 price guaranteed by the United States. Wild speculation in Hong Kong sent the price to $40.47. France refused to go along with other major European gold dealing nations in action to dampen buying.

AT LEAST 50,000 U.S. and South Vietnamese troops are sweeping between Saigon and the Cambodian border in the biggest operation of the Vietnam war, the U.S. Command announced on Friday.

Sunday, March 17

SENATOR ROBERT F. KENNEDY began his fight for the presidency of the United States on Saturday when he announced an all-out battle to snatch the party nomination away from President Johnson. He said he will enter Democratic primaries in California June 2, Oregon, May 28 and possibly South Dakota, June 4.

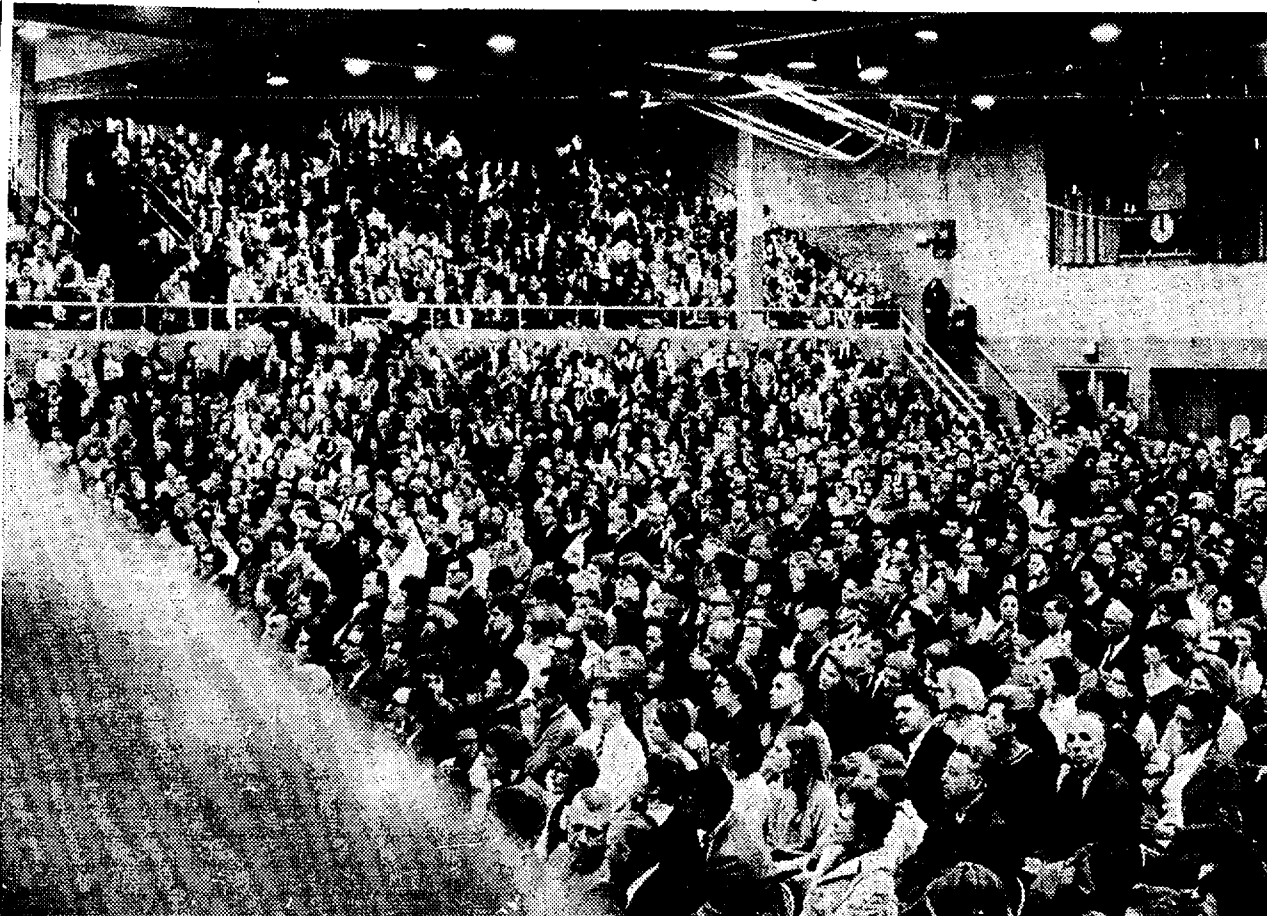

Monday, March 18

IN PARIS THE price of gold fell on the bullion market today for the first time since speculators launched their buying spree that threatened the world's money system and the American dollar.

Tuesday, March 19

SENATOR EUGENE M. MCCARTHY, D-Minn., turned down Senator Robert F. Kennedy's call for a campaign alliance and said he didn't plan to invite the New Yorker to campaign for him in Wisconsin. Although McCarthy stopped short of entering the race he did say that he didn't "altogether approve" of what Kennedy had done.

King Lecture Fills GPHS Gymnasium

This is part of the audience which turned out last Thursday evening to hear the Rev. Martin Luther King speak on "The Future of Segregation." The light

Farms Gives Approval to Curfew Law

Follows City and Woods In Passing Ordinance Granting Special Powers During Crisis

At its regular meeting held on Monday, March 18, the Farms council approved an ordinance granting emergency police powers to the mayor in the event of a major crisis or civil disorder.

The Farms is the third Pointe community to pass such a law. The Woods and the City previously decreed such powers for their respective mayors.

The ordinance gives the mayor, or in his absence or unavailability, to the mayor pro tem, or in his absence or unavailability, the power to:

Youths Arrested Following Fight

Five youths, four of whom were juveniles, were arrested by City of Grosse Pointe police on Friday, March 15, in front of Marino's Restaurant, 17445 Mack, for assaulting four youths during an argument resulting from a snowball fight.

Two of the victims were taken to Bon Secours Hospital for treatment of injuries received during the altercation.

The five were taken to the City of Grosse Pointe Police Station then turned over to patrolman Antonio Picon, of Detroit Police—Connors Station.

They were released pending an investigation by the Detective Bureau.

Cottage Hospital Picked As Stockpiling Plan Unit

Ralph L. Wilgrade, Administrator of Cottage Hospital, has announced today that Cottage Hospital has been selected to participate in the Michigan medical stockpiling plan.

Technically known as the "Packaged Disaster Hospital (PDH)" is valued at $45,000 and contains the essentials for meeting emergency disaster occurrences in the area of the selected PDH site.

Packaged disaster supplies of the sort to be stored at Cottage Hospital are the property of the Federal government but are loaned to state departments of public health to be distributed to strategically located community hospitals.

Disaster packages are distributed to hospitals on the fringes of heavily populated areas.

Capacity Audience Hears Dr. Martin Luther King Lecture at High School

Breakthrough Members Picket Outside Gymnasium; Standing Ovation Punctuated By Interruptions By Hecklers

While a heterogeneous group of some 2,700 persons filled Grosse Pointe High School's auditorium-gymnasium to capacity last Thursday night to hear Nobel Prize winner Dr. Martin Luther King speak on "The Future of Integration," some 200 pickets from the ultra-right wing organization, Breakthrough, quietly demonstrated in front of the building.

Dr. Harry C. Meserve, president of the Grosse Pointe Human Relations Council, the sponsoring group, introduced the Rt. Rev. Richard S. Emerich, Episcopal Bishop of Michigan, who introduced Dr. King.

Dr. King was greeted with a standing ovation. Here are some excerpts from Dr. King's address:

Comments on Myths

With respect to myths . . . Time . . . the old myth that time can solve racial injustice . . . Time is always ripe to do right. Legislation . . . the myth that legislation cannot change the problem . . . Dr. King's response . . . legislation cannot make people love me but it can prevent them from lynching me. Over-reliance on the bootstrap policy (the Negroes can help themselves) . . . here he cited an example of a criminal released from jail without a cent and told to go out and get a new start, without carefare to leave the front of the prison.

On stigma association with the word black . . . here he referred his audience to Roget's Thesaurus for synonyms for black and white . . . he added that some common expressions lead to the stigma of being black

On his belief . . . Militant Massive Non-Violence is the only approach to the racial problem.

On destiny . . . that the destinies of white and black man in America are tied together and that somehow we must learn to live as brothers or perish as fools.

On goals . . . the Negro goal is freedom; America's goal is freedom.

Courteous to Hecklers
Throughout Dr. King's speech he was interrupted by members of Breakthrough, who shouted derogatory remarks. Each time the hecklers were quietly escorted from the gymnasium.

At one point, Don Lobsinger, leader of Breakthrough, shouted "Traitor" and dramatically stomped out of the gymnasium.

With each interruption Dr. King paused and allowed the heckler to speak. A young ex-navy man rose and shouted at Dr. King, who invited the youth to the stage to speak. As the young man walked onto the stage Dr. King extended his hand. The youth shouted that he did not want his years of service to go down the drain. Dr. King's comment was that he wanted all the boys home and safe.

Dr. King was given standing ovations throughout his address.

After one interruption Dr. King said he had been searching for a theme for this Lenten Service and had found it that night on the stage, "Forgive them, for they know not what they do."

17-Year-Old Boys And Juvenile Girls Caught In Parked Car On Country Club Property

Two 17-year-old St. Clair Shores boys and two juvenile girls were arrested by Farms police on Friday, March 15, on charges of trespassing, and later charged with the use and illegal possession of marijuana.

Charges against the girls were filed with Juvenile Court authorities, and the two youths, Richard A. Gosselin of 24608 Cubberness, and Larry J. Smith of 22014 Revere, were arraigned before Farms Municipal Judge on Monday, March 18, who set Wednesday, March 27, as the date for examination, and released the pair to their parents on $1,000 personal bond each, until their reappearance in court.

Trespassing Complaint

The foursome were arrested by Patrolmen Otto Glanert and Clarence Reichling, who were dispatched to the Country Club of Detroit, 220 Country Club drive, on complaint of an employee, who told police four people in a car were trespassing on the property. The trespassers were parked on the east road, he said.

The policemen said that as they approached the parked vehicle, they observed one youth, Smith, drop an object out of the right window of the automobile. Reichling picked up the object, a pipe, which contained hot ashes.

The officers said the car was filled with smoke, and the windows were closed. They questioned the two couples, and Smith admitted dropping the pipe out of the window.

Glanert asked the teenagers where "the stuff" was they were smoking, and Smith handed the policeman a plastic bag he had hidden under one of his legs.

Placed Under Arrest

The four teens were informed of their rights and placed under arrest and taken to the station, where they were formally charged with trespassing. They were released to Det. Joseph Miller for further questioning.

On Saturday, March 16, Miller and Patrolman John Farley took the pipe containing the ashes, and contents of the plastic bag to the Detroit Police Scientific Laboratory to have them identified. When it was established that the material was marijuana, the officers ob-

Board of Appeals Denies Request on Building in Woods

Original Plans Submitted Not Same As Ones Used For Construction Of New Residence; Family Room Violates Zoning Ordinance

A Board of Appeals hearing was held on Monday, March 18, in the Woods Council Chambers to hear an appeal for a variance on the property of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Peterson, located at 590 Byrs drive, with a house currently under construction.

Permission was requested to modify the family room to a porch classification.

The Board unanimously denied the variance after much discussion.

The home, valued at approximately $100,000, was designed by a Buffalo architect, John Hyland, and constructed by Schultz Homes, Inc.

Two Sets of Plans

Mr. Hyland was present at the hearing and stated at that time that he presented one design for the Peterson residence. The Board then requested Earl J. Wakeley, Building Inspector, to locate the original plans. They found after study of these plans that the original plans submitted by the builder were not the same plans submitted by the architect and used to build the home.

Twice since construction began, Mr. Wakeley, has filed a stop work order on the residence. The first order was placed on the family room and the second on the entire building.

On Monday, March 4, the Council voted to rescind the current stop work order and permit the builder to continue work on the house proper but not on the family room until after the Board of Appeals hearing.

Called Encroachment

Last night's appeal was denied because the Board felt that the family room still constituted an encroachment on the rear yard requirements of the zoning ordinance and that it could not be classified as a porch.

Neighbors in the area were present at the hearing and expressed views pro and con on the issue. A petition was also presented bearing the names of other neighbors who favored granting the variance.

Some of those who opposed the variance said they felt this was "a flagrant infraction of the zoning ordinance" and should not be allowed.

The Board expressed its regrets that the Petersons have had so much difficulty in the construction of their home but added that they could not in all good conscience grant the variance.

REPORTS STOLEN COAT

Lynn Wesson, 9000 East Jefferson, reported to City police on Wednesday, March 6, the theft of a three-quarter length suede coat from the coat room at Leons Hairdressers, 17888 Mack, on Saturday, February 10. Miss Wesson stated that she hung her coat in the coat room at noon and when she returned for the coat at 4 p.m. discovered it was gone.

An all-points bulletin was sent.

Final Event Gives Victory To Pointers

Second Place In Freestyle Relay Edges Out St. Joseph By Narrow 3-Point Margin

Grosse Pointe High School's swimming team won the State Championship last Saturday, edging St. Joseph 81-78 in a nip and tuck battle, in University of Michigan's Matt Mann Pool.

Grosse Pointe captured only one event, the 50-yard free-style with Pete Maxon, and placed second only in the 400-yard freestyle relay.

Entering the final race, the freestyle relay, Grosse Pointe trailed St. Joseph 78-65. But the Devil quartet of Kurt Schmitt, John Weaver, Charlie Brown, and Ron Richards had recorded the fastest preliminary time the night before with 3:23.65. Coach Carl Schoessel told the boys they had to take a first, although even a third place finish would have meant at least a 79-point tie provided Ann Arbor won the event. After the first two relay legs Southfield's team led the Devils by ten yards.

Richards Sensational

Charlie Brown cut the deficit by two yards before anchorman Ron Richards brought the Devils even just 10 yards past his opening flip turn. Although Richards swam an unbelievable 49-second leg, he was touched out by 13 of a second at the finish. Still, 26 points for second place were enough to surpass St. Joseph, who had no entry in the freestyle relay.

Most of the capacity crowd, among them some 100 Devil rooters, counted Grosse Pointe out when they fell 33 points behind St. Joseph after six events.

In the next event Richards and Maxon placed fifth and sixth behind a St. Joseph third in the 100-yard freestyle. Neither of the boys could duplicate their phenomenal preliminary times of 49.31 and 49.98 respectively. Kurt Schmitt placed third in the 100-yard freestyle consolation race and the Devils' threesome picked up 10 points on St. Joseph.

John Walters Obeys

Coach Schoessel told backstroke John Walters that he would have to move up from his 12th-best prelim time. Walters did, taking 11th in 1:01.75 for an extra point.

Max Gardner, hindered by a bad cold, hung on in the 100-yard breaststroke, scoring a point for last place.

The three clutch points of Walters and Gardner, moved the Devils into striking distance to challenge St. Joseph for the title.

Mark Boerner's perseverance in the medley relay kept the team from losing a possible 14 points. Boerner swam the last 25 yards in "probably the fastest time of his life" according to Coach Schoessel. Following Boerner's frantic pace were Max Gardner, Charlie Brown, and sophomore John Weaver, who Coach Schoessel said also did a "supreme" job. Moving from last place to second in the preliminary heat, the relay's 1:57.79 qualified for the consolation race.

Ironically on Saturday they scored 14 points by winning the consolation, (placing seventh overall), with the third fastest time of 1:44.11.

A major contribution to Grosse Pointe's success was made by John Sherck of Fordson, Sherck, a double winner, edged St. Joseph's Fred Jenkins to win the 200-yard freestyle, denying St. Joseph the three points needed to win.

Correction

Last week the NEWS printed a story on the capture of the cat burglar, who robbed Fischer's Cards, 17047 Kercheval last October 6 and 7. The report listed his address as 751 Manistique, Detroit, due to a typesetting error.

The address of the burglar, Robert Joseph Bente, should have been listed as 571 Manistique.

Great Expectations Held For New Reading Center

By Pepper Whitelaw

"The Reading Center at Grosse Pointe North High School will afford us the opportunity to fully develop our Reading Workshop program next year. It will be more comprehensive than ever before," says Andrew Balas, instructor of English at the High School.

The developmental reading program is a particular pet project of Mr. Balas. He introduced the program to Grosse Pointe High School some 10 years ago. Next year he will bring a similar expanded program to North High.

Mr. Balas said that in our competitive highly demanding school and society a student needs specific training in the techniques of reading and study so that he can achieve at the highest level of his capabilities.

The Reading Center will provide the students with the facility for such training. The five-hour elective development reading program will be available to students in grades 10 through 12. It is designed for all students of high, average or low ability. A full semester credit is given for the course.

The Reading Center will be equipped with the latest in modern reading equipment. There will be 10 carrels for individual study, a Shadowscope which is a reading pacing device to help the student speed up his reading and give him practice reading in phrases and ideas through the use of a light bar. Each carrel will also be equipped with headphones for listening to lessons and for developing listening skills. The room will also have two group device tachistoscopes and seven individual tachistoscopes. These tachistoscopes flash phrases at one hundredth of a second, conditioning the vision to quick comprehension in terms of phrases.

Also available for the students' use will be film strips coordinated with sound and a screen for viewing 8 mm loop films (this in each carrel).

Mr. Balas revealed the result of recent tests given during the past year to students in a similar course at Grosse Pointe High School. Of the 22 students who took the tests, 19 more than doubled their rate of comprehension 7 out of 22 at least tripled their rate of comprehension and one student improved his rate by seven times.

An average of the class in the Iowa Silent Reading Tests which included vocabulary, sentence composition, poetry comprehension and ability to handle an index, revealed that prior to the course the students' word comprehension over-all percentile rating was 42; after completing the course it jumped to 64.

When these students took the Readers Digest test on rate and comprehension the results showed that prior to the course their rate was 193 words per minute with 72 percent comprehension. After taking the course it was 300 words with 85 percent comprehension.

These results indicate that the new, expanded offering at North High would be a worthwhile course for any student to take, particularly those who plan to go on to college where reading skills are so essential in almost every course.

Mr. Balas plans to include training in the following areas: specific factors of comprehension, quickness of comprehension, levels of understanding, over-all understanding, vocabulary development, word attack, efficiency in taking standardized tests and efficiency in handling study problems.

He hopes individual teachers will use the facilities of the

The new law will also govern the movement of vehicle and pedestrian traffic, including public and private transportation, within the city limits.

Justice Theodore Souris Quitting Supreme Court

State Supreme Court Justice Theodore Souris, who lives in Edgemont Park in Grosse Pointe Park, has announced he will resign from his post when the Court's current term ends. Reasons for the resignation are explained in the following letter received by the NEWS on Tuesday, March 19.

"It is my intention to resign from the Michigan Supreme Court on or about July 1, 1968, after the Court's current term ends.

"My decision to resign is based principally upon two considerations:

"First, I always have intended to return to the private practice of law at some time in my career. The calendar dictates that this is the time for me to do so.

"The legal profession offers many opportunities to participate in the challenging public affairs of our times. My resignation from the Supreme Court now, at age 42, will not only permit me to satisfy a deeply felt professional desire but, at the same time, it will permit me to explore such other opportunities for public service as may arise. If I were to be re-elected this fall, on the other hand, I would feel honor bound to serve out the new eight-year term which would end in 1976. At that time I would be 51 years of age, an age at which, even in professional life, there are fewer options than there are now.

"Second, by resigning at this time, rather than simply declining to run again, I will be implementing the intent of the people of Michigan to reduce the number of Justices in the Michigan Supreme Court from eight to seven. Our new Constitution provides that the first vacancy on the Court created by death, retirement or resignation shall not be filled, thereby reducing the number of Justices to seven and eliminating the possibility of four-to-four decisions of our Court, as presently constituted, in cases and administrative matters of significant public importance. Although I would not leave the Court for this reason alone, it adds weight to the decision I have made.

"I am aware that others are preparing to run for my seat on the Court, which will disappear with my resignation. To spare everyone campaign expense and effort is one reason I felt impelled to make this decision now and to announce it as early as possible.

"A matter of honor remains for disposition. Last October almost 900 of my friends attended a dinner for the purpose of raising funds to be used in my behalf in the event I became a candidate for reelection. A total of almost $18,000 was realized after all expenses were paid. At that time it was announced at my request that, if I did not become a candidate for reelection, the proceeds would be contributed to charitable causes.

"Accordingly, I am asking the dinner committee to carry out that commitment. Letters will be mailed to those who purchased dinner tickets offering a refund of their pro rata share of the net proceeds. Except to the extent that donors request such refunds, the balance of the fund will be contributed in equal shares to the Neighborhood Service Organization and Northeastern Wayne County Child Guidance Clinic. Both of these agencies are supported by public funds as well as private. I have had the honor of serving on their Boards of Directors for the past several years.

"In any event, the decision was mine to make, and I have made it."

Farms Council Bans Soliciting

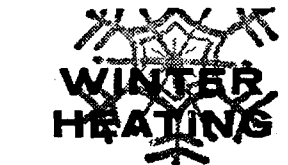

The Detroit Society for Crippled Children and Adults' hopes for permission to solicit door-to-door in its annual Easter Seal Campaign were dashed by the Farms council on Monday, March 18.

Officials of the organization informed the council that plans had been geared around the 1968 fund raising campaign, and that 78 Farms women were ready to make their rounds on the weekends of March 30 and April 7, all during the daylight hours.

The society had requested that permission be granted this year only, since plans had already been formulated before it was known that the council had at its last meeting March 4, placed a complete ban on any type of door-to-door solicitation.

The group's officials were informed that no organization, not even the United Foundation, will be allowed to carry on such a method in the city in the future.

Councilman William Kirby made a motion that the organization, since it had plans set up for the 1968 campaign, be allowed to solicit this year only.

Up-Dates Traffic Bureau; Increases Fines

Farms Municipal Judge Robert H. Pytell appeared before the Farms council on Monday, March 18, to explain to the councilmen the establishment of a Traffic Court Violations Bureau, and the new fines set for various violations.

The judge, in a letter to Mayor William Butler, disclosed that the schedule of fines had not been reviewed for more than 10 years, and in most cases fines were far below those assessed in Detroit and surrounding communities.

He said he was assisted in the reviewing of the City Charter by Police Sgt. Ignatius Backman, and that the review showed that the Traffic Bureau, created under the Charter, was confined to non-moving violations.

Judge Pytell said that the new schedule of fines became effective as of February 22, but no examination of parking fines has been made, and that it is hoped that this will be done in the near future.

He also pointed out to the council that also effective as of February 1, officers of the Police Department had begun the use of the new Uniform Traffic Complaint and Citation which is required of all Michigan communities by a State statute enacted in 1966. These tickets were delayed in printing and were not available to the Farms, or other communities, until the first of February, he added.

He stated that he had discussed with Police Chief Jack F. Roh, present court dates and hours in effect, and that they had concluded that although a 2 p.m. court time was fine for July and August, it interfered with the school patrol during school months. Too, it was found that an average of three to five violators, and sometimes less, have to appear in court at that time.

He said it was their joint decision, that it would be economically and educationally advantageous to resume scheduling of evening court, and to reduce the number of days court is in session.

The judge said that this would reduce the hours of compensatory time for officers appearing in cases, and also provide the violators with an educational opportunity while hearing other cases being presented. The new court hours will be at 7 p.m. on the second, third and fourth Wednesdays of each month, beginning with Wednesday, March 13.

The judge also pointed out that there is a need for certain revisions and additions to the Traffic Ordinances, especially those pertaining to driving while intoxicated, reckless driving and careless driving. The city is using state laws in a number of cases, and consequently is losing this revenue.

He was asked by the council to meet with City Attorney George McKean and Chief Roh, to up-date these traffic laws, and to help formulate other laws, including one to control and to impose fines for unnecessary noises, such as horn blowing, squealing of tires, and so on. It was said that the Farms has no concrete ordinance governing this type of nuisance.

Judge Pytell said that his court has jurisdiction over the enforcement of and the interpretations of city ordinances and penal statutes, and therefore he has determined that it would be in the best interest of his court to establish a Motor Vehicle Traffic Bureau.

This Bureau, he said, is for the accepting of guilty pleas and the payment of fines for certain moving traffic violations. The Traffic Court Violations Bureau is established to allow a person who believes himself to be truly guilty of a minor infraction to plead guilty and thereby relieve the court docket congestion that would occur if every violator is required to appear in court.

Among the long list of changes in fines is that for speeding, which provides a $15 fine for tail-gating. Also, the fine for speeding from 1 to 5 miles over the posted speed limit has been upped to $10 from $5; 6 to 10 miles over the limit, is now $15, from a previous fine of $10; and from 11 to 15 miles over the limit, $20, from the previous fine of $15. Driving over 15 miles an hour in an alley will cost $15.

Also, a fine of $5 has been set for failure to yield right of way to fire or police emergency vehicles, and for driving through a funeral procession.

Judge Pytell said that he has ordered that an individual who shall have acquired more than two moving violations in any 12 months period, as revealed by the records of his court, shall be required to appear in court on any subsequent moving violation during that period.

He also ordered, he said, that no guilty plea will be accepted by the Violation Bureau for violations involving defective brakes, lights, defective steering or other equipment violation and failure to carry operator's license on person, until the defendant shall produce evidence that the condition has been corrected or that he does possess a valid driver's license.

FIREMEN TO RESCUE

Becky Chapman called City police on Friday, March 1, to report that the furnace at 325 University was spewing water all over the basement. City Police notified the Fire Department who rushed immediately to the scene. Upon arrival firemen found the water boiler was too full. They drained the boiler and returned the furnace to normal.

Park Crime Figure Pleads Guilty to Larceny Charge

Charles M. Schreiner, 20, of 17133 Sioux, Detroit, was released from Jackson State Prison, in police custody, to stand trial in Macomb County Circuit Court on a charge of attempted larceny over $100.

Schreiner pled guilty to the charge on March 5, and on Wednesday, March 13, was sentenced to one and a half to two and a half years in Jackson by Macomb Circuit Judge James E. Spier. The crime of which he was convicted occurred in Centerline on August 25, 1966.

The sentence imposed will run concurrently with a five-year term Schreiner was given by Wayne Circuit Judge Blair Moody, Jr., last December 7, for abducting and molesting a Park woman, for which Schreiner was arrested on November 30, 1966.

On the August 25, 1966 date, Schreiner and four other youths were alleged to have picked up William Jourdan, 22, of Detroit, who was hitchhiking in Warren, then beat him and robbed him of his wallet and watch, after which the victim was forced out of the car in Centerline.

The four youths, including a juvenile, who were with Schreiner, were arrested following an investigation by Centerline police. Two of the assailants were sentenced to prison; a third was sentenced to jail, and the juvenile was given a hearing in Macomb Juvenile Court.

Schreiner was arrested by Park police when an alert woman, looking out of her window, saw him drag a woman toward the back yard of 1003 Kensington.

The woman's prompt call to police enabled four officers to converge on the scene within minutes.

Patrolman Donald DelPlace, the first to arrive, ran to the rear of the Kensington address, and found Schreiner kneeling over the unconscious figure of a girl who had been brutally beaten and whose face was covered with blood.

Schreiner ignored a command to put up his hands, and bolted and ran. DelPlace fired a warning shot into the air, but the youth failed to stop. The officer fired at the fleeing figure and missed.

Cpl. Bobby McAllister and Patrolman Rodney Wedding and Robert Saiford arrived closely behind DelPlace. Saiford remained to administer first aid to the girl and to call for an ambulance, while the other policemen chased Schreiner on foot. They cornered the assailant in nearby bushes, dragged him out and placed him under arrest.

Last November 10, a jury found Schreiner guilty of gross indecency and aggravated assault, but found him innocent of a third charge, unarmed robbery. The jury deliberated for two and a half hours before returning its verdict.

Judge Moody then sentenced Schreiner to the five years in prison.

King-Size Bottle Of Liquor Stolen

Whoever broke into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Birg-bauer, 1193 Sunningdale, on Sunday, March 10, might have already experienced a king-size hangover.

The Birgbauers' son, Ronald, 30, of 1416 Lochmoor boulevard, called Woods police and reported the burglary of the home of his parents.

Cpl. Bernard Kelly and Patrolman James Davidson, who conducted the initial investigation, said that the thief had tried to enter the house through the French doors of the sun porch, but failed, but his entry was successful when he went to the back of the building and smashed the glass of the rear door and reached in and unlatched the lock.

The policemen said that evidence showed that the culprit went through every room in the house, but did no ransacking. The burglar, frustrated in an attempt to force open a locked closet in the upstairs hallway, wrote obscene words on the closet door.

The intruder, after a search of rooms on the first floor, found and took a gallon-size bottle of whiskey, and left the house through the front door, leaving this door open.

The owners of the house said that, other than the liquor, nothing appears to be missing.

Woods City Administrator Does Big Job at Big Saving

City Administrator of Grosse Pointe Woods, Chester E. Peterson, submitted to the Woods Council on Monday, March 18, a report entitled "Reconnaissance of our Community-Initial Report Parking."

The report represents 500-man hours of preparation on Mr.

Peterson's own time, at a cost to the city of only $300 for typing and printing costs. (Professional estimates for a typical report on parking amounted to approximately $5,000.)

Highlighted in the report is the inventory of parking facilities, a recommended parking plan and financial analysis, a proposed ordinance which attempts to provide an entirely new concept in the financing of public off-street parking facilities by setting up a revolutionary "off-street parking deficiency service charge" similar to the often used "sewer service charge" which came into being about 12 years ago.

The charge would be five dollars per month for each deficient off-street parking space, the number of such spaces being determined by the provisions of the Zoning Ordinance, and would be imposed upon and paid by all persons, firms, corporations, organizations, (including non-profit, charitable and religious), the State of Michigan and the County of Wayne, or any of their political subdivisions, agencies or departments who own any property and who heretofore erected or may erect any building, other than single family residences, fronting upon or abutting upon Mack Avenue.

Any building occupancy for which there has been provided off-street parking upon private property, at the time of the adoption of this ordinance, and which private off-street parking spaces are acquired, incorporated or otherwise included in the municipal parking system, will be exempt from payment of the off-street parking deficiency service charge.

The entire report was submitted to the Council for study.

Four Assaulters Facing Charges

Two juveniles reported to City police on Saturday, March 16, that they had been assaulted by four youths while returning home from a dance that evening. The juveniles said they were set upon at Lincoln and Jefferson by four youths who knocked one of them down and began kicking him. The other juvenile sprang to his friend's assistance but he too was thrown down and kicked. The assailants then fled on foot. The victims were able to identify their attackers, who were said to be 10th grade students at Grosse Pointe High School. An application for petition was filed with Juvenile Authority against the four.

Policeman's Assailant Sent To Ypsilanti State Hospital

Frederick M. Mathews, 24, of 1708 Lochmoor boulevard, accused in the January 8 shooting of a Woods police officer, has been ordered confined to the Ypsilanti State Hospital, according to information released by Woods Det. Everett Plumb.

Plumb said that on Tuesday, March 12, he received information from the Wayne County Prosecutor's Office that Mathews has been sent to the hospital and will remain for a period of not less than 18 months. He will be under the care and jurisdiction of the State Department of Mental Health.

The officer said that orders committing Mathews as an incompetent were signed by Circuit Judge Joseph A. Sullivan. The man is accused in the shooting of Patrolman Donald Schmalz, in two warrants, one charging assault with intent to commit murder, and the second, with intent to do great bodily harm less than the crime of murder.

The policeman was struck in the abdomen by a 12-gauge shotgun blast fired by Mathews, when the officer and his partner, Patrolman Bruce Marone, answered a family trouble call to the home of Mathews' parents, Dr. and Mrs. William M. Mathews, of the Lochmoor address. Three pellets from a second round, penetrated Marone's uniform jacket, at the shoulder, but did not touch the skin.

Schmalz and Marone had answered a call to the Mathews residence shortly after midnight on the January 8 date, after the parents phoned police and stated that they had been quarreling with their son, and that the son had threatened to "kill someone."

When the policemen arrived at the house, they approached the porch cautiously and Marone, on looking through the storm door glass, noticed a partially hidden figure, holding a shotgun, and warned Schmalz when he heard the weapon being cocked.

As the patrolmen ran from the house, the younger Mathews came out onto the porch and fired two blasts at the officers. Schmalz, who was backing away, received a full charge in the abdomen and fell to the ground.

The wounded policeman drew his service revolver and fired six times at his assailant, but missed, the shock of being hit deflecting his aim. Marone turned to fire his revolver at Mathews, but the man had disappeared into the house.

Marone's call for assistance brought all the police crews from the Woods, as well as officers from the Farms, Shores and Harper Woods, and the house was surrounded.

Mathews, apparently persuaded by his parents, surrendered without further incident.

CYO to Honor B. L. Kilbride

A remarkable pioneer worker will take home the highest accolade when the Catholic Youth Organization holds its annual awards dinner Sunday night, March 24, at the Mercy College Student Center.

Bernard L. Kilbride of Anita avenue, Grosse Pointe, who has supported the CYO with unwavering devotion since the thirties, will receive the first Joe Glaser Award for providing exceptional service to youth. Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh will confer this award which commemorates the co-founder and first president of the board of directors.

Neil B. Hayes of Kerby road, a long time member of the CYO board of directors, will act as master of ceremonies. Joe Weaver, news reporter for Station WJBK-TV, will be guest speaker.

Mrs. Gilbert Gleit of Mallina avenue and Mrs. G. Sam Zilly of Merriweather road are co-chairmen for the affair. Committee members from this area are Mrs. Henry Shell of Fontana lane, Mrs. John E. Young of Grayton road and Miss Helen Foley of Three Mile drive. All are CYO board of directors members.

Other area members of the board attending and acting as hosts and hostesses will be Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent P. Adamo, Mr. and Mrs. James E. Brophy, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Burns, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Donald J. Dossin, Mr. and Mrs. Peter J. Kernan, Jr., Dr. and Mrs. Thomas J. McBryan, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Young Jr., G. Sam Zilly, and Mr. and Mrs. John Schaefer.

Mr. Kilbride, who will be 81 years old in June and still works as a real estate broker, first became active in the CYO in the late thirties. He served as president of the board of directors for four years—1941, 1942, 1943 and 1944. He also served for a quarter of a century as treasurer or assistant treasurer of the organization, alternating between the assignments.

He was the man who envisioned the successful CYO camps, and made them possible through his resolution, energy and salesmanship. He has been chairman of the CYO camp committee since its inception.

He and his wife, Lillian, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary two years ago. They have 10 children (six daughters and four sons), 45 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Police Recover Stolen Vehicle

Woods Cpl. Donald Collins and Patrolman Ronald Hayden, while on routine patrol, checked out a car found parked at the rear of 20760 Mack avenue, on Friday, March 8, and found it had been reported stolen in Detroit the previous day.

The policemen said they made the discovery at 12:58 a.m., and after notifying their station, parked near the vehicle, but out of sight, from 1 a.m. to 3:30 a.m., in the event the thief might return to the scene. The surveillance was unsuccessful, they said.

The Detroit Police Auto Squad was informed of the recovery, and officers of this agency said that the auto, a 1963 Chevy, had been reported stolen from 7700 Harper avenue, by the owner, Michael Golonka of 5051 Carpenter, Detroit.

Golonka claimed his car at the Woods station.

Discuss Control Of Elm Disease

The Woods Council on Monday, March 18, discussed the use of Methoxychlor instead of DDT spray for control of Dutch Elm Disease.

The Woods was named as one of the many defendants in a suit that is attempting to prevent the use of DDT spray for control of Dutch Elm Disease by the Environmental Defense Fund, of Brookhaven, N.Y., an organization of scientists.

The Council requested City Attorney George Catlin to confer with the attorneys of the other Grosse Pointe communities and get their reaction to the use of Methoxychlor.

The Environmental Fund members maintain that efforts to correct immediate damage by pests often fail to consider the long-range harm of the persistent pesticides. The group is not opposed to pesticides that break down to a non-toxic form in the environment.

Many of the scientists of the Fund are nationally recognized authorities in the relationship of living things to environment. Their studies have shown that while a pesticide may be diluted when applied, the concentration rebuilds to dangerous proportions as smaller animals accumulate them in their bodies and are eaten by larger animals.

HS Symphony Earns Honors

The Grosse Pointe High School Symphony Band, under the direction of Russell D. Reed, received first division ratings from all four adjudicators at the District Band Festival, held March 9, in Livonia.

"The local band appeared at 3 p.m., following 11 other class AA bands and was the first group to receive first ratings from all of the judges. The individual rating sheets contained straight A's for all aspects of the performance," Mr. Reed said. "We are extremely proud of the fine showing made by our Grosse Pointe young people."

The band is now entitled to participate in the State Band Festival on April 27, in Battle Creek.

Comments by adjudicators on the Symphony Band's performance included the following:

"As you can see, I find very little to criticize in this group. This is an outstanding high school group." C. A. Odmark, Charlevoix.

"A thoroughly effective and sensitive performance—a fine band—congratulations. A convincing performance—congratulations to all of you on your achievement. This is a top-notch band. Top-bracket Michigan and elsewhere." Dr. George Wilson, National Music Camp, Interlochen.

Science Fairs This Weekend

James P. Cencer of Grosse Pointe Woods, who directs the laboratories and research at Michigan Consolidated Gas Company, is serving as manager of the 1968 Metropolitan Detroit Science Fair. Mr. Cencer reminds all students from the seventh through the twelfth grade that the Regional Science Fairs are scheduled for Friday and Saturday, March 22 and 23.

The Regional Fairs will be held at 11 locations throughout Metropolitan Detroit. Grosse Pointe students are to take their exhibits to the new Kettering High School in Detroit. Students must deliver their projects to the Regional Fair site on Friday between 3 p.m. and 9 p.m. Judging will take place on Saturday morning and the Fairs will be open to the public from 3 p.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturday. Students will be asked to pick up their projects between 6 p.m. and 9 p.m. Saturday evening.

Twelve hundred of the anticipated six thousand projects entered in the Regional Fairs will be selected to compete at the 1968 Metro Fair which will be held at Cobo Hall April 5 through 9. Students must qualify at the Regional Fairs to be entrants at Cobo Hall.

The Science Fair is an annual educational event in which thousands of students at the junior and senior high school level, participate. Most schools sponsor their own fair, sending their winners to the Regional Fairs. This gives their students the opportunity to qualify for the Metropolitan Fair and possibly even the International Fair. Science Fair leaders in the area are looking forward to hosting the International Science Fair in Detroit this year.

Many volunteer hours are given each year to organizing, judging, preparing awards, and arranging for the exhibiting of the projects. Among the Grosse Pointe residents who contribute their time and talents to the Science Fair are Robert Brackett, Howard Crabb, Millard Grell, Harold Machamer, Joseph Parthum, Howard Riley, Wilbur Robrecht, John Schaible, James Schroth, George Schulte, Sister Anita Marie IHM, James Thomas and Darrell Watson. Mr. Cencer stated that it is this generous giving of the time and talents of hundreds of teachers, chemists, biologists, mathematicians, physicists, doctors, dentists and engineers that will assure the success of the 1968 Metropolitan Detroit Science Fair.

"The impressive thing about this band is the general high level of musicality and the response to the conductor. A really fine job," Dr. Harry Begian, Director of Bands at Michigan State University.

"Overall a fine job. I like the rapport between the band and the conductor and the musical job you do—yet with technical accuracy. A pleasure hearing you," Sight Reading Judge, Ross Van Ness, Marshall, Mich.

The Grosse Pointe High School Concert Band also participated in the festival and received a final rating of second division. Among comments written by the adjudicators were these:

"The band plays with good spirit and has good technical facility. Work more on musical approach... this should work into a fine band."

"This band has great potential."

Burglars Steal Valuable Coat

An expensive mink coat was stolen from the home of Mrs. Winslow Howarth, 295 Lothrop road, during the absence of the family, it was reported to Farms police on Sunday, March 17.

Investigating officers said that the thief, or thieves, broke into the house by prying open the French door at the side of the building, leading into the dining room.

Taken, police said, was a full length mink coat of autumn haze color, valued at $6,000. Inside the lining of the coat are the initials "K. E. H.," it was disclosed.

Also taken were the following: a light tan polo coat, valued at $50; a beige cashmere coat, worth $70; a gray flannel coat, valued at $40; and a cloth top coat, valued at $25.

In questioning people in the neighborhood, two witnesses told officers that they had seen a late model car, with two males in it, cruising through the streets in the area on March 14 and March 15.

Next, the contractor will check your home, review your needs, and recommend the type of heat best for you. He will estimate both installation and operating cost and give them to you in writing. All without obligation. We'll check the quotes if you like.

This truck is actually building a highway. One out of every three miles of Michigan's street and highway system is paid for by trucks. One large truck pays as much in highway-user taxes as do 30 automobiles. Heavy trucks (20,000 pounds or more), comprising 1% of all vehicles, pay 16% of all highway costs. Our interest in good highways is for real. We want to pay our fair share.

Highway users pay in advance, for roads yet to be built, and generally, in proportion to the use they derive from them. Highways cost the Federal government nothing; they have no effect on the Budget. If expenditures for highways are cut back, the tax paid by users still accrues in the Highway Trust Fund, which was created by Congress to finance the world's finest highway improvement system, and is by law earmarked for highway purposes only.

Interstate highways, built for reasons of national defense (but with not one penny from the Defense Budget), have been of great benefit to all motorists. The trucking industry has certainly benefited. But once and for all, let the record show:

THERE IS NO SUBSIDY FOR HIGHWAYS!

Anthony D. Fuger Wins Army Honors

Army Private Anthony D. Fuger, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pierre G. Fuger, 175 Merriweather road, distinguished himself during basic combat training which ended February 23 at Ft. Knox, Ky.

He received an accelerated promotion to private pay grade E-2 and fired expert with the M-14 rifle.

The promotion was awarded two months earlier than is customary under an Army policy providing incentive for outstanding trainees. Selection was based on scores attained during range firing, high score on the physical combat proficiency test, military bearing and leadership potential.

The expert mark is the highest mark a soldier can achieve on his weapons qualification test.

St. Clare Holds Public Forum

An overflow crowd of approximately 1,000 citizens attended the Public Forum held at St. Clare Auditorium, Sunday night, March 17. The topic of the evening was the Children's Education Act, the plan patterned on the G.I. Bill, to give non-public school parents a fair share of their tax dollars for the education of their children.

Sen. George Fitzgerald, the main sponsor of the bill in the Senate, explained the great benefit to all sectors of education, public and private, particularly the inner-city schools, by the passage of this bill. Rep. Robert Waldron, Speaker of the House, said that he did not disapprove of the bill but felt more study was needed.

Rep. William Fitzgerald reaffirmed the need for justice in the non-public schools and quoted the Thomas report, which recommended financial help for the private school sector. The crowd applauded loudly as Mr. and Mrs. Brad Lundy, C.E.F. representatives, stated, "This bill, so necessary for freedom and justice in education for every child, must be passed."

To Seat Pastor At Memorial

The Reverend James O. Handley, Jr., will be installed on Sunday morning by the Presbytery of Detroit as an Associate Pastor of the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church. At the Annual Meeting of the congregation in January, the Session, elected as a Nominating Committee, recommended that Mr. Handley be called to such a position, and the congregation voted to request the Presbytery to concur.

The Reverend Robert Moreland, new Stated Clerk of the congregation, will read the stitutional questions on Sunday morning at both Services of Worship—9:30 and 11:15 a.m. Two of Memorial Church's Elders, Thomas Candel and John Controulis, will each read the Lesson at one of the Services. Other pastors on the staff, Gary Gruber, Richard Mitchell and Ben L. Tallman will also participate. The senior pastor, Bertram deH. Atwood will preach the fourth of his Lenten sermons, "Inclusive and Exclusive."

Mr. Handley, whose home is in California, is a graduate of San Jose State College. After serving in the Marines he attended Fuller Theological Seminary and was ordained as a pastor of the Christian Reform Church. Later Mr. Handley attended Princeton Theological Seminary and received his Masters Degree. Until coming to Grosse Pointe in September Mr. Handley served in the Presbyterian Church of Pennington, N. J.

3 Pointe Drivers Given Penalties

The names of three Pointers were included in the list of 1,120 State motorists whose licenses were reported suspended during the week of March 3 through March 9, according to the latest weekly roster received from Michigan Secretary of State James M. Hare.

No Pointe resident was listed among 367 persons whose driving privileges had been revoked. Hare's report revealed that Jack D. Butcher of 21540 Van K. was automatically deprived of driving privileges when he refused to take a breathalyzer test, under the terms of the Implied Consent of the Driving License Law. His license was suspended from February 20 to May 19.

Jack D. Calas of 1615 Huntington, was given a two-month suspension, from February 15 through April 15, because of an unsatisfactory driving record.

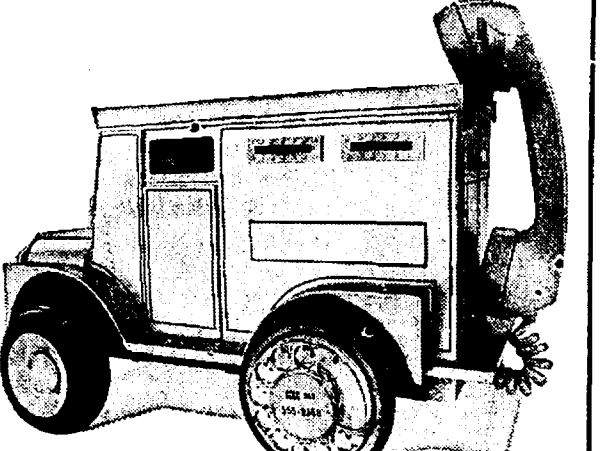

John D. MacLennan of 830 Bedford road, has been denied the right to drive as of February 16, and should have his operator's license restored by April 15.

Dial direct and let the savings roll in.

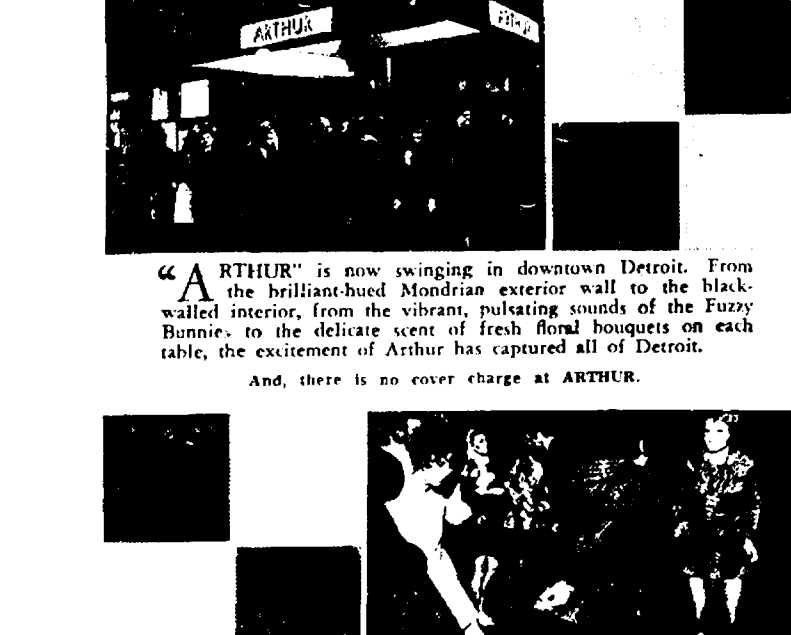

If you'd like to save some money, you'll be interested in Direct Distance Dialing. It's a more economical way to call Long Distance because direct dials are all Station-to-Station instead of Person-to-Person.

It's easy, too. Just dial "1", then the Area Code, if it's different from your own, and the number you want. For an idea of how much you can save, here's an example. A 3-minute Person-to-Person call between Detroit and Chicago costs $1.30 at the day rate. Dial direct and the cost is only 85¢.

So whenever you're reasonably sure the party you're calling will be there, dial direct and let the savings roll in!

Burglars Scared During Robbery

Burglars who broke into the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Mortson, 25 South Duval, on Tuesday, March 12, apparently were frightened away by the return of the family. The culprits, however, did escape with some loot.

Shores Dets. Frank Mustazza and William Marshall said that the thieves had ransacked the house and had planned to take more than they escaped with. A case of liquor and a portable television set were found by the front door, ready to be carried out, but the family returned home too soon.

The invaders, nevertheless, got away with a .22 caliber Browning pistol; $150 in silver certificates; $180 in currency; six brand new two-dollar bills, which were collectors items; an antique gold pocket watch, value not known; a 32nd Degree Diamond Masonic ring, valued at $250, and two lady's wrist watches, valued at $100 and $50 respectively.

The detectives said that the thieves also took another $30 in cash from a wallet found on the kitchen counter.

Entry into the house was done by breaking the glass of the side door leading from the adjoining garage.

Mustazza and Marshall said that the thieves escaped in a car believed to have been parked on Van K. The possible escape car was described as being an old model, either dark blue, or dark green, having a damaged left rear quarter panel.

Anyone who might have any information about such a vehicle, is asked to contact the detectives at the Shores Station, 749 Lake Shore road, or call TU 1-5500.

Dr. George Pratt Points Visitor

Dr. George T. Pratt was the guest of honor on Thursday, March 14, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. James T. Barnes, of Lake Shore drive. Dr. Pratt is president of Clarke School for the Deaf in Northampton, Mass., adjacent to Smith College.

Clarke is the oldest oral school for the deaf in the United States, founded in 1867. Some of the well-known sponsors of Clarke School at Edward M. Kennedy, Henry Cabot Lodge, Herbert Hoover II, Edward Brooke, Helen Keller and Mrs. Spencer Tracy, President Calvin Coolidge was a board member from 1920-1933.

Dr. Pratt is also the father of a deaf daughter who will graduate from Chamberlain School for Women this June. He is past president of the Alexander Graham Bell Association in Washington, D.C. and the founder of the International Parents Organization.

Dr. Pratt was introduced by Fred Knittle, Director of Development at Clarke. He spoke on the problems of deafness and showed a film on deaf education at Clarke to more than 40 guests.

The little guest of honor was Jay Reynolds, son of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Reynolds Jr., and grandson of the Barnes' and the Fred R. Mertens of Belanger Road. Jay is six years old and profoundly deaf. He attends the Lutheran School for the Deaf. His teacher, Mrs. D. Nutt, who was trained by Clarke Methods in 1928, demonstrated how Jay can communicate by means of lip reading and speech. It was a fascinating evening for all and an educational experience, teaching those who were present that the deaf child can learn to speak and reach his potential in our hearing world.

Schools Pooling Acting Talents

Austin Prep. School Players will present a musical melodrama, "The Streets of New York," on Saturday, March 30, at 2 and 8 p.m. and Sunday, March 31, at 8 p.m. The play will be given at Pierce Auditorium, Kercheval at Balfour.

The play tells the story of a villain and his money business. The wrath of the villain is felt by the hero and his heroine in the spirit of the melodrama. "The Streets of New York" uses song and dance and olio scenes just as it was originally done in the 1890s.

Taking the parts of the chorus and the olio acts are Tom Alexander, Mark Vermilion, Gaspar Patricio, Don Wortman, Charles Mrozynski, Brian Walch, Kelly Farr, Dave Hammel, Jerry Garbac, Mike Breen, Rick Evtz, George Niepole, Tim McMillan, Jerry Fitzgibbons, Bob Daniels, Tim Kasper, Dave Oliver, Randy Tallero, Mike Braun, George Young, Jeff Vaughn, Jim Maciejko and Steve Schafer.

Girls in the show include Jo Ann Forte, Maureen Shields, Kathy Gorey, Sue de Sostoa, Dorothy Jantz, Mary Parthum, Mary Beth Vaughn, Maggie Brophy, Diane Boehmer, Alice Humes, Terri Young, Janet Mok, Martha Meyers and Maureen McInerney.

Handling the music are Bob Walters and Bill Russell. In the stage crew are Tim Fredericks, Henry Chase, Ben Cohan, Chris Bonamy, Mike Szymanski, Joel Bonamy, Frank Leto, Camill Hanna and many more.

The play is open to the public. This is the third production of the Players' tenth season.

Burglars Loot Home in Shores

Shores police had to wait for the return of the family of Anthony E. Jamroz of 71 Fontana lane, whose home was broken into on Tuesday, March 5, before it could be determined what had been taken when the residence was entered and ransacked.

Dets. William Marshall and Frank Mustazza disclosed on Monday, March 18, that when the family returned from out of town, they took inventory, and revealed that the following items were taken by the burglars.

A mink cape, valued at $1,500; a mink stole, worth $300, and which had the initials "R. J." on the inside lining; and a fur jacket with a brown mink collar, valued at $700.

Also taken was a sterling coffee pot and sugar bowl, a pair of binoculars, a lady's gold ring with a solitaire pearl, assorted cuff links and the bars; several watches and $12 in Kennedy half-dollars.

The detectives said that the total loss was set at approximately $3,150. Entry into the house was gained by breaking the rear basement window, the policemen said.

Stevens to Talk on Head-Hunting

"Head - Hunting in South America" is the title Mark C. Stevens has chosen for his presentation at Grosse Pointe's Central Library on Wednesday, March 27, at 8 p.m.

Mr. Stevens will show spectacular 16mm films of his trip to countries of South America and to Easter Island, taken last October and November. Included will be some breathtaking color shots of a flight over the Andes, and a visit to one of the world's most unusual places—the bizarre Pacific outpost known as "Easter Island."

Commentary on the films will be provided by Mr. Stevens himself, who is well known as a world traveler, and is a member of the Circumnavigators Club, The English Speaking Union, is the Consul of the country of Thailand and Chairman of the Finance Committee of the Detroit Historical Society. He is a life-long resident of Grosse Pointe.

The evening's program is sponsored by the Friends of the Grosse Pointe Public Library, and is open to all who wish to attend, free of charge, as a community service of the Friends. Mr. Stevens is a Director of the Friends, and has served during the past year as the Chairman of the Program Committee.

Mr. William Gard, Friends' President, extends a cordial invitation to all residents to share in this interesting adventure, and to meet Mr. Stevens at an informal gathering following the program. Refreshments will be served.

Dear Mr. Edgar:

The attached, written today by Bishop Richard S. Emrich, is sent to you at his request.

On Thursday evening, March 14, I had the privilege of introducing Dr. Martin Luther King to a large gathering in the Grosse Pointe High School. He was the guest of the Grosse Pointe Human Relations Council, a group that believes that the country must not be polarized, that (in Dr. King's words) "we will go forward together as brothers, or down together as fools", and that listening to one another is a necessary part of our life as free men.

The meeting was, unfortunately, spoiled to a considerable extent, by a group of super-patriots whose planned rudeness led Dr. King to say afterwards that it was the most discourteous treatment he had ever received at any gathering in this country. Representative Conyers, who sat beside me on the platform, said that it was worse than anything in the deep South. Let me describe these super-patriots, remembering that they were not Grosse Pointers, but self-appointed spiritual barbarians who took it upon themselves to deprive 2000 in the audience and an honored guest of freedom of speech and freedom of assembly.

Their disruption of the meeting was not spontaneous, but carefully planned and carried out. They (the super-patriots) were planted at strategic spots in the hall, and at planned moments broke in with rude shouts and disturbances. At one point Dr. King, who handled himself with grace and dignity, even stopped speaking and welcomed a rude young man to the microphone, so that, having his say (which was out of order), Dr. King might be permitted to have his say (which was in order). At two points the super-patriots walked down the long center aisle of the gymnasium, shouting and waving their arms in contemptuous gestures, so that again enough disturbance was caused to stop our guest from speaking and to disrupt the meeting. I thought, as I watched their arrogant behavior, that I had seen nothing quite like it since student days in Nazi Germany, and that it was remarkable that the police did nothing.

Let me list the marks of these super-patriots, for, as the danger of polarization grows, we will probably see them again. They always appear with flags, hiding their un-American activity behind the screen of patriotism. Although they wave the flag and pass as patriots, they have no understanding whatever of the treasured institutions which the flag represents—freedom of assembly, the tradition of Parliament in which one listens while another speaks, the rules of order, respect for the rights of others. They are spiritual and political barbarians. They are arrogant and cruel, having no regard whatever for the Constitutional rights of others, and assuming that they alone know what it means to love one's country. In one sense, it was a good meeting and edifying; for a crowded hall saw at first hand the stature and wisdom of Dr. King contrasted with the rudeness, cruelty, and repulsive arrogance of miserable men and women. We saw extremists in action, and felt the sickness of their souls.

The super-patriots are self-righteous, and this, by New Testament standards, is the worst of sins, severing us from our fellows and always leading to cruelty. By and large they (the super-patriots) are uneducated men (and a few women) who have never read or traveled widely, and thus are able in their ignorance to identify their opinions with the will of the God of all history and interstellar space. And thus, untroubled by facts or knowledge, their minds are "vacant to the vexations of the hour", and they do not know enough even to listen. It should be remembered that if any ignorant man is arrogant and self-closed, not even God Himself can teach him, let alone Dr. King. The super-patriots are never honest, for they never really say what they believe. Behind their glib slogans there is a racism which they dare not articulate; and behind their "patriotism" is a neurotic fear that they dare not face themselves. If they were not the destroyers of all the grace, beauty, and order of a free people; if they were not cruel, vulgar, uncivilized, and disrespectful; if they would be a pathetic lot. All the people who were present at the meeting saw at first hand what I am writing about, and they were ashamed for Grosse Pointe and for America. I am writing this as a public apology to Dr. Martin Luther King, for, as a guest, he had a right to expect other things; and I write it also that thousands who were not there may feel in their bones the rudeness, arrogance, sickness, and ignorance of our super-patriots.

To the Editor:

The words of Edmund Burke kept ringing in my ear after I read the fly sheet sent to me (occupant) by the Grosse Pointe Property Owners Association concerning the visit of Martin Luther King to our community. The words by Edmund Burke are "Evil exists because men of goodwill do nothing." Therefore I take the paper and pencil and hope, in all sincerity, that you will print my reaction to this inflammatory type of mailing.

I consider myself a man of goodwill and heartily detest the fact that these real estate men, guising themselves as protectors of our property, dare to feed the community in which I live, this fear and ignorance of this national problem in our beloved country today. These types of people are of more assistance to the communists than anyone else I can think of. They condone false concepts.

By the time this letter is in print, Martin Luther King will have come and gone. If there is a disturbance within our community, it will be from the white racists element which these men so well represent. They blind themselves to reality.

I plead with all very ordinary citizens, like myself, not to be taken in by these well-meaning (on the surface) men but to analyze the facts as they are by reading the Kerner report which puts white America in a true but disgusting perspective.

A few random thoughts for what they're worth re: Dr. Martin Luther King's visit to Grosse Pointe.

Our family felt Grosse Pointe experienced one of its finest hours last Thursday evening. We feel a new pride and faith in our community that we've never experienced before and believe we are an educated people as TALUS reported and not as indicated in lack of support for our educational needs.

One word in Dr. King's speech jarred me—the word "militant"—so I went to Webster's—Definition 1—"Engaged in Warfare; fighting, combating; serving as a soldier; also combative." Definition 2—"Aggressively active in a cause; as a 'militant suffragist'."

Dr. King also adds the word "non-violent"—and his deeds and words continue to emphasize his stand to be aggressively active in seeking equality for his people without arms, but with words. We take the same position when we speak of the church "militant" or surge forth in singing "Onward, Christian Soldiers."

Would you please identify the officers of The Grosse Pointe Property Owners Association and its creed? Somebody owes this community a public apology for mailing such unsolicited, unsigned, scare propaganda to our homes. Who is this mythical enemy who was supposed to do all this vandalism? It couldn't be the Inner City dwellers when their most articulate, respectable, educated spokesman was pleading their cause in a white suburb that has money to arm itself to the teeth. It couldn't be the "Breakthrough" group since they took the same opposite stand to try to hamper the right to free speech that the Grosse Pointe Property Owners Association's letter indicated and also as demonstrated by two of our Board of Education members at its recent meeting. Just who and from whence cometh this imaginary enemy?

Ironical comment—Two TV channels gave the Grosse Pointe Property Owners Association the credit for bringing Dr. King to speak here. Maybe this group really did create the need to bring him here.

What Goes On at Your Library

By Virginia Leonard

I've just returned from the land of blood-letting, thermometers, blood pressure apparatus, bathroom privileges, X-rays, long needles, wheel chairs, flowers on window sills, cool efficient nurses, and doctors with stethoscopes (always). The institution known as the hospital—what else? I can even give you the long name of what sent me there — supraventricular tachycardia (I'm not sure of the hyphens, but I have the rest spelled out in my doctor's not-to-legible handwriting).

It's been 18 years since I last hit a hospital, (my younger son being that age) and I'd virtually forgotten what it was like to be incarcerated in such a place. And this time, with no pain at all, no surgery, and somewhat euphoric and calm with many pills; with the television on the wall, a nice roommate, flowers everywhere, and a fine view from my window—I had the greatest rest I've had in 25 years! The hospital routine—with its lures and penates—constitutes a tight little world all its own. At time of writing, I've been home several days and am still waking up at 7 in the morning! (Oh well, at least I get to see the "Today" Show). Also, I tend to fall asleep early in the evening. I'll never know how any of those TV movies I watched in the hospital, ended—I saw the first half of one every evening, but the sleeping pills won out. Hope I didn't miss anything too important.

I missed two book reviews. (I had intended reviewing THE CONFESSIONS OF NAT TURNER by William Styron), but I understand that Miss Bleitz and Mr. Orr filled in admirably for me. While in the hospital, I devoured a number of current magazines, brought to me by a thoughtful friend. I read the current issue of BOOK WEEK and SATURDAY REVIEW, so I do know that books are still being published. Thanks to many notes, telephone calls and short visits from colleagues, I also know that our Grosse Pointe Public Library still exists. I hope before too long I'll be back in it myself.

As for other reading, I finally managed to read Joyce Carol Oates' new GARDEN OF EARTHLY DELIGHTS, which I'd been eyeing with great longing ever since its publication. It was nominated for the National Book Awards, (Fiction Division), and although it didn't win, I can see why it was nominated. It's a powerful thing, not at all pleasant, but the characters are so extremely well-drawn, they still haunt me. Miss Oates is probably better known as a super short-story writer, and the first few chapters of this novel seem like short stories in themselves. Then, you get interested in the story and forget the short story format. I wish she'd won with this book—it's so well done.

My current project is rereading MOBY DICK. Why? Because there are so many allusions made to this classic, and it's been so many years since I read it that I find I can no longer stay silent when the subject comes up—I must read it again so that I too can get in the "ray". The book is long and the print is small—I may need a sabbatical to finish it!

The "Today" show has also kept me a bit abreast of what's being written currently. I've got a few more library books to read, plus some old favorites which I've been wanting to reread for some time. I may never get this sort of opportunity again! Also, my mystery buff friends are lurking, waiting to convert me to this way of literary life. Don't misunderstand, I like mysteries—good ones, that is—but I've just never had time.

So—this is what I have most of. And yet, knowing me, I'll bet I won't get all the magazines read that I want to read (last week I even had time for an issue of THE NEW YORKER—one of my favorites but one I never seem to get to). I hope I finish MOBY DICK. I hope I get some of my favorites reread. I've also considered getting a column or two written ahead, (a dream of any columnist). Now I've got the time—the dog and I sit here cozily and look out at the blowing, swirling snow—but will it all get accomplished? Probably not, although I'll have the best of intentions.

My apologies for making this such a personal column, but it occurred to me that some of you might be interested. Also, currently, it's about the only thing I can write about with any feeling of closeness and immediacy—so many other things seem remote. And I'm beginning to feel the first faint stirrings of boredom and restlessness, so I must be on the mend. Next week I shall try to get back within the format of library derring-do, activities and accomplishments. Now, if you'll pardon me—back to MOBY DICK.

 Dear Ladies and Gentlemen:

Thank you for your notice regarding the appearance of Rev. Martin Luther King at Grosse Pointe High School on March 14, 1968. We were pleased to have for future reference a list of public-spirited citizens who, by promoting Rev. King's speaking engagement, are endeavoring to dispel the hate and irrationality that have laid hold of our community and nation.

We were disappointed that your notice did not identify its writers and supporters (with telephone numbers). Perhaps you were fearful of subjecting yourselves to the kind of harassment from the friends of the Grosse Pointe Human Relations Council as you patiently wished to inflict upon certain members of the Board of Education and the Council itself through your more rabid supporters. Your fears were groundless. People who act largely from rational impulses usually do not indulge in practices of this kind. Possibly you felt vaguely ashamed of your effort and did not wish to be identified therewith but preferred anonymity. These are uncomplimentary speculations, but they are the inevitable by-product of the manner in which you have chosen to disseminate your views.

We were intrigued by your reference to the "concern" of the Grosse Pointe Farms police (again no names mentioned).

Answering them on their terms, we submit the opinion that no amount of tax dollars

What's New on THE HILL...

Yesterday... was the first day of Spring. Hurray! We were just as enthusiastic about the excellent new spring stock at Picard-Norton, 92 Kercheval. Cheers!

Entertaining Earrings... are to be found at Margaret Rice. They love to go out to parties and are delightful with "at home" hostess fashions. So many colors and so many shapes which are meant to drop to fashionable lengths. Prices start at six dollars. Circle your wrist with one or two enameled bracelets. They come in gold and white and are set with turquoise cabochons or with jade or with tiger's eyes... twelve-fifty.

Window Shop... at Denier, 77 Kercheval, for the super-accent lamp or table at a "mini" price!

Antique-ing?... There's a "find" at The Dants — The League Shop. Picture an authentic 19th Century campaign trunk. It is painted with a hunting scene and initialed. It's a conversation piece anywhere... but perfect as a coffee table or wood box... hearth-side.

"Snugglers"... those convertible, colorful comforters at Young Clothes, 110 Kercheval, are warm and trim a bed. They also zip into sleeping bags which are tote-able to slumber parties. Cowboy motif... for boys, and girls have choice of pretty prints. Single bed size is nine dollars. The double bed is twelve. They're just the thing for camping, chalet-ing or boating.

Collect Crystal?... There's a new selection of Waterford at the Mermaid. Come to think of it, the centerpieces and decanters would make treasured wedding presents and perhaps start a collection for a new bride.

Springtime Value... at Trail Apothecary, 121 Kercheval, is Elizabeth Arden's Memoire Cherie Gift Set, priced at five dollars. It contains perfume mist and moisture bath in that enchantingly feminine fragrance which is as elegant as a bouquet of hothouse flowers.

Spring Showers... will bring out the stylish poplins from Touch of Elegance. An all-purpose poplin coat welcomes rain and comes in sunny yellow, curry, orange, ice blue and white. It is single breasted, has tortoise buttons and a tortoise link belt... fifty dollars. There's a double buttoned rain suit... "militaire"... with longish jacket, high neck and fold-over flared skirt. This comes in ice blue or natural poplin. The ensemble in this collection, you really should see. A natural poplin coat is lined in a blended gray fabric... also used for the dress, which picks up the poplin in a fashionable belt... one hundred-ten dollars.

Mr. Sheridan — Books... 81 Kercheval, invites you to an "open house" for artist, Ralph Tobbe. The date is Friday, March 22nd. The time is 8 p.m. until 10 p.m. You'll enjoy seeing his oils, wood-carvings, water colors, pencil drawings and pastels. If you can't make it, Mr. Tobbe's art will be on display for the remainder of the month of March.

Stationery Specials... at the "Top Shop" include... Rytek Wondersale Envelopes with matching note pads. Two hundred envelopes and note sheets cost five dollars. Midly-Wild Personalized stationery is five ninety-five for fifty single sheets and fifty envelopes. We can't make up our mind whether to choose sunburst yellow, fabulous orange, terrific turquoise or wildly red. We did not supply the adjectives. They did but we agree with the whole lively idea. Guess it will be terrific turquoise at The Dants — The League Shop.

Joe Wagstaff... is back at the Bronze Door, 123 Kercheval. He will be entertaining at the piano bar through April 23rd. We know his many friends will make dinner reservations... 886-1931.

Believe It Or Not... the long due turtle neck sport shirts have arrived... at Carl Sterr. They're one hundred per cent pure combed cotton woven in Ireland. They come in blue, black or white... seven ninety-five.

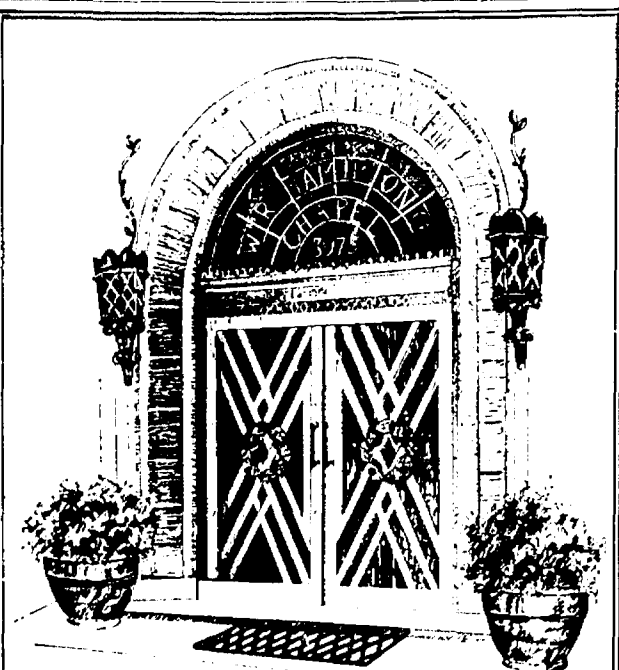

spent for educational purposes in classrooms or athletic fields could have effectively matched the practical lesson in American democracy to which some three thousand Grosse Pointe students and citizens were witness Thursday night. The right to dissent, to picket, to be heard, the example of dialogue, disagreement, and discussion from the platform, the examples of tolerance and intolerance, and a magnificently controlled and discriminating use of police authority, were an ennobling testimony to the vitality of American democracy.

We think the Human Relations Council has provided an invaluable service to this community. We hope the public facilities will always be available to spokesmen of all views.

Sincerely,
 Dr. and Mrs. Lewis B. Morrow,

To the Editor:
 A tip of the hat to those teenagers who attended the lecture by Dr. Martin Luther King. Their behavior was exemplary—especially in comparison with that of those adults who had come to heckle, not to hear. Their composure and restraint in the face of such undue provocation bespeaks a maturity far beyond their years.

Sincerely,

Given any opportunity, Pointers who serve as board members of The Merrill-Palmer Institute will talk about its fascinating programs and projects. They seem determined to enlighten everyone about Merrill-Palmer's work as a unique research and teaching institute concerned with advancing the understanding of people and people's problems.

Hence it was logical that Mark C. Stevens, a member of the Merrill-Palmer Board and former president of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association, should suggest that his neighbors gather to hear current social problems discussed by Merrill-Palmer staff members of national reputation.

The result of this suggestion is a three-part series, beginning next Monday evening in Fries Auditorium, when Dr. Aaron Rutledge, head of Merrill-Palmer's Counseling and Psychotherapy program, will speak on "Drug Use — Where Are We Going?"

Second in the series, scheduled Tuesday, April 9, will be a look at "The Family — What's Undercutting it?" presented by Merrill-Palmer faculty members Dr. Hyman Rodman and Dr. Owen Morgan.

The final lecture, Monday, April 22, will be given by Dr. Irving Sigel, Merrill-Palmer's chairman of research, who will describe "New Ways to Reach and Teach Children."

All lectures are open to the public and will begin at 8:15 o'clock in the Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Fries Auditorium. There is no admission charge.

Preceding each lecture, several Merrill-Palmer board members are planning dinner parties. Mr. Stevens, (Continued on Page 27)

St. Paul's-on-the-Lakeshore was the setting for the Saturday, March 16, wedding of Jeanne Kay Worley, daughter of the John Kyle Worleys, of Merriweather road, and David Alfred Payeur.

The tenth family bride to wear a floor-length heirloom veil of Belgian lace, the former Miss Worley selected, to accent the veil, a classically simple gown of ivory peau de soie, styled with a train and fitted bodice and accented at her scooped neckline with net appliqued with seed pearls.

She carried a loose bouquet of miniature white and ivory flowers, mixed with dried flowers and tied with velvet.

Their Victorian-style gowns were fashioned of bright pink ribbed silk, and they carried painted baskets filled with pastel flowers, heather, ivy and velvets.

Flower girls Susan and Sally Warm, the bride's cousins, identical twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. David H. Warm, of Grand Rapids, wore short white embroidered organdy dresses with white lace tights, and carried miniature nosegays matching the flowers in the bridesmaids' baskets.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred R. Payeur, of Ann Arbor, asked Thomas Kleinheinz to act as best man. Ushering were Frank Ticknor, of Trenton, and William Rue-sink, Roger Baur and Timothy Fauser, all of East Lansing.

For her daughter's wedding and the reception at the Detroit Athletic Club following the ceremony, Mrs. Worley selected an aqua silk-and-wool ensemble, with a pastel flowered hat, and pinned cymbidium orchids to her purse.

The bridegroom's mother chose a turquoise dress and coat of silk worsted. Her corsage was also fashioned of cymbidium orchids.

When the newlyweds left for a short vacation, the bride was wearing a shocking pink and navy knit suit with a matching ribbon hat. They will return to make their home in Ann Arbor.

Out-of-town guests included the bride's grandmother, Mrs. H. F. Worley, of Washington, D.C., the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Leo J. Rocca, of Palm Beach, Fla., Mrs. Nicholas Schlagen, of Geyersville, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bernheisel, of Washington, D.C., and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jorgensen, of Montville, N.J.

Theatre Arts Offers Triple Bill March 29

Stardom in the theater is a reward for many years of study and hard work and even then escapes so many who pursue an acting career. In The Theatre Arts Club of Detroit, however, "star" billing is left to the choice of a member.

But this singular distinction is accorded a member only once: Not for time affiliated with the women's amateur drama group, number of roles portrayed nor merit of performance, but rather as recognition of a member's on-stage debut in a production.

At the Players Playhouse in East Jefferson Avenue on March 29, three one-act plays are scheduled in which more than half the total cast will be making their bows before the footlights and be distinguished on the matinee program as a star (*).

The curtain raiser is "The Magic Carpet," a comedy by Patricia Gordon. Directed by Mrs. Murray Young, the roles will be played by Mrs. William T. Myles, Mrs. Bernard Whitely, Mrs. Kenneth P. Locke, Miss Suzanne L. Giddy and Mrs. Edwin D. Rose.

Mrs. Young also directs "He and She" (resembling the TV program in name only). It is from the French of Abraham Dreyfus, translated by Constance Beerbohm, and features Mrs. Armand DeGaetano and Mrs. James E. Tompkins.

Finally, a cutting of "The Late Christopher Bean" from (the original play by Sidney Howard is being directed by Mrs. Leslie C. Putnam. In the cast are Mrs. J. Wilfred Harrison, Mrs. Eldon C. Baumgarten, Mrs. Otis U. Walker and Mrs. John H. Mueller.

Supervising the entire production are Mrs. Alex M. Stirling and Mrs. Frank W. Hausmann, Jr.

Script holders are Mrs. Franklin D. Carr, Mrs. Kenneth Howard and Mrs. Donald Cherry. Set design is by Mrs. Walter E. Willard, who is also in charge of the property committee, including Mesdames William H. Evans, Montford R. Graybiel, Kenneth Howard, Diamond T. Phillips and Hugh Robertson.

Other technical staff members are Mrs. Mayne Glock, Mrs. Dwight W. Edwards, Jr., Mrs. Leon H. Hanselman, Mrs. Barrett M. Woodsmall (costumes), Mrs. William H. Bundesen, Mrs. Alan T. Pritzel (make-up), Mrs. Donald M. Worley (lighting), Mrs. Don W. Miller, and Mrs. Emil Traum (ushers).

May Bride

Photo by Eddie McGrath, Jr. Dr. and Mrs. Michael J. Brennan, of Three Mile drive, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Catherine, to Brian J. Molloy, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Brian J. Molloy, of Berkshire road.

The bride-elect and her fiancé were both graduated from the University of Detroit. She will complete her studies for a Masters degree in English Literature at the University of Michigan in April. He is finishing requirements for his Masters degree in Business Administration at Wayne State University.

A May 29 wedding is planned.

Set Alpha Chi Omega Luncheon-Installation

The annual Spring Luncheon and Installation of Officers of Alpha Chi Omega will be held Saturday, March 23, at 1 o'clock in the General Dearborn Room at Dearborn Inn.

Three Alpha Chis from this area will be installed into office: Vice President Mrs. Bruce Tock, of Yorkshire road; corresponding secretary Mrs. R. D. Armbruster, of Berkshire road; and Newsletter editor Mrs. David Rentschler, of Roslyn road. They will serve on a board representing the greater Detroit area.

Other members from this area serving on the Board this year are Mrs. David Smith, Mrs. C. R. Lewis, Mrs. Nelson C. Frolund, Mrs. Arthur O. A. Schmidt, Mrs. Lyle A. Heavner, Mrs. Norman Dodge, Mrs. J. S. Ledendorf and Mrs. John C. Krato.

Speaker for the afternoon will be the National Altruistic director of Alpha Chi Omega Mrs. Charles D. Crawford, of Flint. Mrs. Crawford will discuss a new project for Alpha Chi Omega's throughout the United States and Canada, "Careers in Rehabilitation."

Mrs. Crawford is serving her second two-year term on the 10-member National Council, the governing body of Alpha Chi Omega. She is known to many in this area since prior to 1964 she served as alumnae chairman for the state of Michigan.

University of Kansas sophomore PHIL CONNOR, son of MR. and MRS. M. E. CONNOR, of Whittier road, has been elected rush chairman of Phi Kappa Tau fraternity at the University.

Swingle-White Rites Are Read

Richard Steven Swingle, son of Mrs. William A. Swingle, of Whittier road, and the late Mr. Swingle, claimed Anne Bennett White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Mayhew White, of Roland Park, Baltimore, Md., as his bride Saturday, March 2, in Baltimore's St. David's Episcopal Church.

Officiating at the 4 o'clock ceremony was The Reverend Walter G. J. Hards.

For her wedding, the former Miss White selected a gown of white satin featuring a banded neckline embroidered with seed pearls and crystals. Her Chapel length illusion veil fell from a lace- and pearl-trimmed satin bow, and she carried an arrangement of white roses, stepanotis and ivy.

She was attended by her sister, Louise Maxwell White, as maid of honor, and bridesmaids Ann Shaw Donovan, of Roland Park, Diana Neale, of Shaker Heights, O., Sandra Geil, of New York, Mrs. Quentin R. Searle, of Amherst, N.H., and Mrs. Ciaran Mercier, of Chapel Hill, N.C.

Miss Neale, Miss Geil and Mrs. Mercier are former classmates of the bride at Connecticut College for Women.

They wore floor length Empire frocks of American Beauty peau de soie and matching veiled Dior headbows, and carried sprays of matching cymbidium orchids.

Charles D. Murphy, of Milford, Del., acted as best man for the bridegroom. Ushering were Hugh J. Hubbard and Willard M. Jaques, both of Lake Forest, Ill., and Marshall W. Craig, of Drexel Hill, Pa., classmates of the bridegroom at Yale University, Ronald Burns and Richard Friemuth.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. White selected a pale pink silk coat costume, a hat of shaded pink flowers and a matching clutch bag, to which she pinned a spray of pink cymbidium orchids.

Mrs. Swingle, the bridegroom's mother, wore a sea-foam green silk dress, styled with an Alencon lace bodice. She pinned cymbidium orchids to her white beaded bag.

Following a vacation in the Virgin Islands, the newlyweds will make their home in Macon, Ga., while the bridegroom is stationed at Warner Robbins Air Force Base.

Traveling from Michigan for the rites were the Gilbert Moormans, of Trombley road, the Edward Kassabs, of Renaud road, the Lloyd T. Bishops, of Birmingham, and the Roy H. Faroughs, of Royal Oak.

Slate LWV Annual Luncheon Meeting

Nicholas V. Olds, Michigan's Assistant Attorney General, Will Speak On Water Pollution Problems At March 27 Gathering

The Grosse Pointe League of Women Voters is presenting a premium to its program of informative meetings on Water Resources which took place at the beginning of this month.

Nicholas V. Olds, Assistant Attorney General of the State of Michigan, will be featured speaker at the League's Annual Luncheon Meeting next Wednesday, March 27, at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial at 12:30 o'clock.

A more respected authority on water pollution problems would be hard to find. Mr. Olds has been an employee of the state of Michigan over 30 years and has concentrated his efforts on coordinating the work of the various state agencies handling water problems, conservation and recreation.

It was due in great part to Mr. Olds' perception of an urgent need to restrain increasing encroachment by private individuals and industry upon Great Lakes submerged lands that the State Submerged Lands Act of 1955 was passed.

Nicholas Olds has always been extremely active in recognizing and initiating new means of serving the public through his office and was the motivating force behind the formation of the Great Lakes Commission, a body formed by interstate com-pet among all the Great Lakes States for the mutual solution of many problems dealing with the best utilization of waters.

Mr. Olds was a vital personage in the Tidelands case, in his appearances in 1957, 1958 and 1959 before committees of Congress in opposition to bills introduced on behalf of the State of Illinois to increase the diversion of Lake Michigan water at Chicago, and in his responsibilities as attorney for the Highway Department from 1936 to 1947.

Since his assignment to conservation legal work, Mr. Olds has been distinguished by his ready intervention and vigorous defense in many notable test cases where public rights were threatened, such as matters of public access to lakes, closing of highways through State-owned lands, preservation of wetlands for fish and wildfowl breeding grounds, protection of public rights of navigation in navigable streams, and many others.

Many may know him well through his graduate course in Conservation Law, the first of its kind in the country, at Michigan State University.

Mr. Olds' talk will deal with water pollution problems and the complexities of the legislation involved.

The day will start with the serving of bouillon at which time League members and their friends will have a chance to chat informally with Mr. Olds and other League members before sitting down to luncheon at 1 o'clock.

Reservations for this affair must be made before March 25 by calling either Mrs. Bruce Miller, 882-9561, or Mrs. Alton Donnell, 886-5048. The public is cordially invited to the luncheon, cost of which is $2.25.

Martha Sattley Speaks Vows

At a small family ceremony in Christ Church, Grosse Pointe, Friday afternoon, March 15, Martha Vollintine Sattley and Peter Hoyer Moray exchanged marriage vows.

A family reception at the Chalfonte avenue home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Hale Vollintine Sattley, followed the 5:30 o'clock double ring rites. The bride is also the daughter of the late Mr. Sattley.

She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Charles Wilson Morris, and her niece, Leigh Walker Morris.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Read Moray, Jr., of Chelmsford, Mass., formerly of Birmingham, asked his father to act as best man.

The newlyweds are vacationing in the Virgin Islands and will return to make their home in Neff lane.

Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Frank F. Premier, of Wayburn avenue, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Wendy Carol, to Kenneth Kamman, son of the Otto Kamman, of Detroit.

The bride-elect was graduated from Grosse Pointe High School and in June will receive her degree from Wayne State University, where she is affiliated with Sigma Kappa sorority and Phi Upsilon Omicron, honorary Home Economics sorority.

Her fiancé received his degree in Mechanical Engineering from Lawrence Institute of Technology, where he is affiliated with Kappa Sigma Kappa fraternity.

A late summer wedding is being planned.

Hold Pear Tree Questers' Tour

The March 14 meeting of the Pear Tree Chapter of the Questers was held at the Rivard boulevard home of Mrs. Edward Heglin, president of the Pear Tree Chapter, and featured a Mystery Tour.

First stop was the home and studio of Mr. and Mrs. William House. Mr. House is a well known Detroit painter and his wife Carolyn is equally renowned as a ceramist.

The second stop on the tour was at Sts. Peter and Paul Jesuits Church in East Jefferson avenue. The Church is reputed to be the oldest in East Detroit.

The group's next stop was at historic Mariner's Church; the last stop was at Dossin's Great Lakes Museum on Belle Isle.

Next month's meeting date has been changed from April 11 to April 4 due to the Grosse Pointe Schools' spring vacation. The meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. John Hoskins, of Fisher road.

Ida Lubis Wed To Don Payden

Harvard Club To Salute WSU

The Harvard Club of Eastern Michigan will host the Harvard Glee Club on Tuesday evening, April 2 at 8:30 p.m., in a special concert honoring Wayne State University on its centennial anniversary.

The Wayne State University Men's Glee Club will join the 40 singers from Cambridge on the program to be held at the Detroit Institute of Arts main auditorium.

The concert is open to the public. Tickets are available at the W.S.U. ticket office or from the Harvard Club of Eastern Michigan at 861-5020.

"We are most pleased Harvard will have the opportunity to honor Wayne State University on this occasion," said Martin M. Doctoroff, president of the Harvard Club of Eastern Michigan.

"Wayne plays a central and irreplaceable role in the intellectual and educational life of Detroit and eastern Michigan. It is only fitting that the 1,600 Harvardmen in this region, together with the Harvard Glee Club, make this gesture."

The Harvard Glee Club, founded in 1858, is the oldest college glee club in the United States. The club was originally organized as a social group, but took a turn toward more serious musical activities in 1919 when its members voted to abandon the old social songs in favor of good choral music. Since then the glee club has been involved in singing the highest quality music. It performs each year with the Boston Symphony Orchestra.

The glee club has made several major tours in the last few years, including extended concert tours of North America in 1954 and 1964, of Europe in 1956, and of the Far East in 1961 and 1967. This year's Detroit concert is part of the ten-day spring tour made annually by the club for the last 50 years. The members of the 1968 tour group, directed by Conductor Elliot Forbes, will also perform in Cleveland, Chicago, Philadelphia, and New York City.

The Harvard Glee Club, despite the magnitude of its operations, is still run entirely by undergraduates and places no financial burden on university funds.

Wives will have a luncheon meeting at the Georgian Inn, 13 Mile road and Gratiot, next Tuesday, March 26, at noon. Price of the luncheon is $3.50. Members and prospective members are cordially invited to attend.

The program will be a film entitled "Children Without." The principal of Franklin School will commentate.

Reservations checks should be mailed to Mrs. Philip C. Dickinson, 1374 Grayton, Grosse Pointe, Michigan 48230. Reservation deadline is March 23.

Working Women To Be Honored

The Top Ten Working Women of the Detroit Metropolitan area will be honored by the Women's Economic Club at a luncheon in the Crystal Ballroom of the Sheraton Cadillac Hotel on Tuesday, March 26.

A part of the annual "Salute to Women Who Work," the luncheon will be preceded by a champagne reception for Economic Club members and former recipients of the "Top Ten" award.

Names of this year's outstanding working women will be announced on Saturday, March 23, by the Greater Detroit Board of Commerce, 1968 sponsor of the "Salute."

Luncheon guests will be greeted in behalf of the Women's Economic Club by Doris J. Detwiler, Club president. Thomas B. Adams, general chairman of the "Salute to Women Who Work," will introduce the 1968 award recipients.

Sigma Kappa Alumnae To Hold Rummage Sale

The Sigma Kappa Sorority Alumnae of Grosse Pointe and Macomb County are working on their big money-making project of the year, a rummage sale to be held Saturday, March 30, from 9:30 to 1 o'clock, at the American Legion Hall, Post #303, in Mack avenue, Grosse Pointe.

Each member has been collecting both clothing and household items. Profits will be used to further the philanthropic projects which Sigma Kappas support.

Co-chairmen for the rummage sale are Mrs. Gordon Faust, 777-7876, and Mrs. Richard Crandall, 885-7334.

Life seems flat only to those folks who expect it to be a continual round of pleasure.

Boehm Birds Being Shown

A unique exhibit of the delicate and realistic porcelain birds of artist Edward Marshall Boehm will be presented March 26 through 30 at Charles W. Warren & Company, Detroit.

It will be the first showing of the Boehm birds in Michigan, and Mrs. Boehm will accompany the exhibit here.

Boehm's works will be available at Warren's in three groups: fledgling collection priced from $55 to $90; non-limited edition collection from $125 to $255; limited edition collection from $350 to $3,500.

An authority in the field of animal husbandry, Boehm has raised champion dogs, cattle, fancy fowl, horses, and exotic fish. However his greatest interest has been in birds.

At his home, Boehm has established one of the world's greatest private aviaries. The enclosures are planted to provide natural habitats for the birds within. The inhabitants represent all bird-rich areas of the globe and number over 300 species.

Just call Mrs. Lester McIntosh, of Sheldon road, "Den Mother of the Young International Set" . . . For this coming Saturday, March 23, Mrs. M. and her daughter Maggie board the "wagon-lit" at Windsor and schuss straight for the slopes at Mont Tremblant, Quebec.

The McIntosh ladies aren't traveling as a private twosome, however. Their party includes another "daughter," American Field Service exchange student Gloria Gulino, from Paraguay, who is making her home with the McIntoshes this year, AND Zerrin Yashar, AFS daughter of the H. Gordon Woods, of Touraine road.

They have an American retinue, too, comprising Florence Ledyard, daughter of the William Ledyards, of Dyar lane; Louisa Bowen, daughter of the Lem Bowens, of Elm court, and Carla Schnell, daughter of the William Schnells, of Torrey road.

This will be the AFS students' first experience on the slopes. They'll return to the U.S.A. on the 30th—bearing, no doubt, Gold "Bunny Slope" Medals.

Bonsai Mini-Workshops

We have mini-skirts, now, mini-bikes and mini-cameras . . . So we suppose it was only logical that sooner or later someone would come up with the idea for a Mini-Workshop . . . which is precisely what the Grosse Pointe Garden Center has done . . .

Mini-Workshops on Bonsai, (the Japanese art of creating mini-trees), start at Garden Center headquarters in the Grosse Pointe War Memorial next Thursday. The first lesson, "Forest Planting" of these miniature trees, will be presented twice, from 10:30 o'clock until noon and from 1 until 2:30 o'clock.

All workshops are free to members of the Garden Center, (any Grosse Pointer may join by paying dues of $3 per year). Cost of materials to complete a Bonsai is approximately $5; Frank's Nursery is cooperating with Mini-Workshop chairmen Mrs. Harley G. Higbie and Mrs. Harold W. Bailey to provide the "makings."

Reservations for a subscription sandwich luncheon, to be held from 12 noon until 1 o'clock each workshop day, in the War Memorial, must be made at the Garden Center Room.

Class number is necessarily limited, so the Garden Center advises members interested in enrolling to fill in their application blanks promptly and return them to Center headquarters.

Prospective members are invited to call the Grosse Pointe Garden Center at the War Memorial or TUxedo 5-0086 if they wish to join the Center and be eligible for the lessons.

Set Pornography April Conference

Inasmuch as J. Edgar Hoover and other noted authorities have stated emphatically that pornography is one of the major contributing causes to the steadily rising crime rate, especially among juveniles, there will be a conference on pornography and its effects on youth sponsored by the Michigan Federation of Women's Clubs on Thursday, April 4, from 10 to 3:30 o'clock in the auditorium of the YWCA in Lansing.

All women's organizations in the State are invited to attend. The Right Reverend Richard S. Emrich, Episcopal Bishop of Michigan, and The Reverend Morton A. Fine Pointes of Real Estate

By C. W. Toles, Jr., Realtor

The Highest Point In The Pointe

Grosse Pointe is not famous for hills and rolling countryside, but it does, of course, have one place that is its highest elevation. During the record high water levels in 1952 when dikes were hastily constructed along Fox Creek and portions of the shoreline to prevent Lake St. Clair from claiming part of the Pointe, most residents became well aware of the location of the lowest ground in the community. Few Pointers, however, know the location of its highest ground, although many of those who grew up here were frequent visitors to this spot.

The Pointe's highest point is part of a ridge lying between Charlevoix and Ridge Roads, extending from Kenwood Court to the Country Club. It was the favorite haunt of generations of children, for this was the location of "Pine Woods." What still remains of the former pine forest is on the highest part of the ridge where Lothrop Road stops just east of Charlevoix. Its elevation is 44 feet above the low water level of the lake.

Many adults, too, were strongly attracted to Pine Woods, and those who visited this high ground became high in more than one way. It was also the site of the Pointe's favorite "blind pig" during prohibition. THIS COLUMN OF REAL ESTATE TOPICS IS PUBLISHED BY TOLES REAL ESTATE, 74 KERCHEVAL ON THE HILL.

Plan Matrix Table Dinner

LEONTINE KEANE, of Harvard road, first vice-president of the Detroit Professional Chapter of Theta Sigma Phi, national fraternity for women in journalism and communications, is among those planning—and planning to attend—the Chapter's annual Matrix Table Dinner, to be held Monday, April 1, at Detroit's Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel. Guest speaker will be nationally syndicated columnist Rene Carpenter, wife of former astronaut Scott Carpenter.

Pointer Named To '68 UF Post

Mrs. Robert F. Sullivan, of Neff road, has been named chairman of the United Foundation Recruitment Corps for the 1968 Torch Drive.

Mrs. Sullivan, who served in the same capacity for the 1967 campaign, will be responsible for coordinating recruitment activities of five geographic units in the tri-county, (Wayne, Oakland and Macomb), area.

She also will work with the leadership of civic, service and religious groups to enroll more than 60,000 volunteers for the UF's twentieth annual campaign benefiting nearly 200 health and community services.

These volunteers will serve key roles during the Torch Drive.

As doorbells ringers, they will call at homes throughout the metropolitan area to tell the UF story, explain its objectives and inform residents regarding the many services available through its agencies.

They also will provide housewives, the retired and the self-employed — all individuals not offered an opportunity to give at work — the chance to make their personal contributions.

Prior to being named Recruitment Corps chairman, Mrs. Sullivan served as a Torch Drive district chairman and the Eastern Wayne recruitment chairman.

She is a board member of Women for the United Foundation (WUF), the YMCA of Metropolitan Detroit, Music Settlement School, Northeastern Wayne County Child Guidance Clinic and the Senior Center, of which she is a past president.

Mrs. Sullivan also served on the board of directors of United Community Services (UCS), is chairman of its group work and recreation federation and is a member of the UCS budget panel.

She is a member of the Junior League of Detroit, the Detroit Industrial School board and Christ Episcopal Church, Grosse Pointe, where she is chairman of the Special Projects committee and a member of the Vestry Outreach committee.

Many of these activities date back to 1950, the year Mrs. Sullivan and her husband, both Canadians, moved to Detroit from their native Hamilton, Ont. The couple have one child, an 11-year old daughter, Shelaigh.

Set Alpha Omicron Pi Meeting Next Tuesday

Mrs. Maguire is an active member of the Grosse Pointe Shores Garden Club and will be president of the Grosse Pointe Garden Club Council next year. Any alumnae interested in attending the meeting may contact Mrs. Hawley at 882-6085 or Mrs. John Wargelin, Chapter president, for further information and reservations.

Wednesday Book Club Will Meet March 27

Chlorine bleach is by nature a fabric killer. Whenever possible keep it out of the reach of clothes.

GENERAL: Chlorine bleach should never be used as an all-purpose laundry aid. Lightning White should always be substituted for chlorine bleach when a general clothes whitener is needed because bleach damages many fabrics. Chlorine bleach should never be used on wool, silk, spandex, unfast colors, natural sponge and many wash-n-wear items. Bleach should never be used on any fabric for any reason without first consulting the manufacturer's label. Chlorine bleach should never be used in combination with common household ammonia. The resultant is a highly hazardous gas. It is the opinion of many laundry experts that the amount of chlorine bleach recommended by the manufacturers of bleach is at least twice what is considered safe for cotton, linen, and other natural fabrics. It is suggested that when following label directions this fact be remembered. It should be understood that chlorine bleach, no matter what its drawbacks are, is an excellent disinfectant. It should never be used as a disinfectant for clothes, however, without considering the damage it might do. One safe substitute: hydrogen peroxide. It is wise to choose a substitute for chlorine bleach when trying to remove stains from clothes. However, there are a few cases where there is none less harmful than bleach. When trying to remove stains from clothes, it is most important to remember that carbon tetrachloride is never to be used. Its fumes are harmful and sometimes fatal. This point is emphasized because a current stain-removal chart given wide circulation suggests the use of carbon tetrachloride. This suggestion is unthinkable.	Alcoholic beverages. Sponge quickly with cold water, then with glycerine & water. Rinse in vinegar & water solution, then clear water. Launder in Lightning White & detergent.	Lipstick/rouge. Sponge with safe cleaning fluid. Launder in Lightning White & detergent.
	Chewing gum. Rub with ice. Scrape off as much gum as possible. If stain persists, sponge with safe cleaning fluid. Launder in Lightning White & detergent.	Mustard. Rub glycerine into stain. Launder in Lightning White & detergent. If stain persists, soak in solution of 1 tbs. sodium hydrosulfate to 1 pt. water. Sponge with alcohol. Re-launder.
	Chocolate/cocoa. Apply paste of hot water & detergent. Rinse with hot water. Launder in Lightning White & detergent. If stain persists, sponge with hydrogen peroxide.	Ink/ballpoint ink. No results are certain. Sponge with safe cleaning fluid, then brush on paste of detergent and household ammonia. On washable white fabrics, bleach if necessary with chlorine bleach according to directions on label. On washable colored fabrics, do as suggested above, only substituting perborate bleach for chlorine bleach. Launder in Lightning White & detergent.
	Coffee/tea. Soak in cool water. Launder in Lightning White & detergent, with water as hot as fabric permits. If stain persists, bleach with hydrogen peroxide or other non-chlorine bleach.	Paint. Scrape off fresh paint. Sponge with safe cleaning fluid. Launder in Lightning White & detergent.
	Ice cream/cream/milk. Soak in cool water. Launder in Lightning White, detergent & hot (or warm) water.	Rust. Apply salt and lemon juice. Place in sun (if possible) to dry. Now rinse. Finally launder in hot (or warm) water, Lightning White and detergent.
	Crayon. Sponge with safe cleaning fluid. Launder in hot (or warm) water, using Lightning White & detergent.	Soft drinks. Sponge with equal parts alcohol & glycerine or lukewarm water & alcohol. Launder in lukewarm water, Lightning White & detergent.
	Deodorant/perspiration. Apply solution of Lightning White & detergent. Launder in regular fashion.	White socks. Soak in 1/2 cup Lightning White & 1/4 cup liquid detergent. Launder in regular fashion.
	Dye & running. For cottons & linen, treat with commercial color remover—for example, Tintex. For colorfast fabrics, soak in solution of hydrogen peroxide (1 tbs. to 1 gal. water) & 2 tbs. detergent. Fresh stains often respond to an immediate rinse in cold water.	Yellow discoloration in synthetics. Soak for 1 hour in solution of 1/4 cup Lightning White to 1 gal. water. Launder in solution of Lightning White only. Re-launder if necessary, adding cup of non-chlorine bleach. Always wash white garments in separate load. Note: yellowing may be the result of using chlorine bleach. Check the label on the garment for possible warning on this point.
	Fruit. Launder in regular fashion with Lightning White & detergent. Now treat remaining stain as follows: cover area with sodium perborate bleach & add drops of hot water to make a paste. Next add a few drops of household ammonia. Wait 15-30 minutes, then launder again as above.	Stained diapers. Soak diapers in pail holding solution of 1/2 cup Lightning White, 1/4 cup household ammonia & 1/4 cup detergent. Spin water from diapers before washing in Lightning White & detergent.
	Grass. Launder in hot water, Lightning White & detergent. If stain persists, use chlorine bleach according to directions. Now rewash. For colorfast fabrics, use hydrogen peroxide to bleach, then launder in warm water, Lightning White & detergent.	Work clothes. Shake garments to remove loose soil. Turn down cuffs & turn out pockets. Soak in solution of 1/4 cup Lightning White & 1/2 cup liquid detergent. Launder in regular manner.
STAIN-REMOVAL RECOMMENDATIONS:
Blood & meat juice. Soak in cold water. If stain remains, soak in 1 gal. lukewarm water, 1/4 cup Lightning White & 3 tbs. household ammonia. Launder in lukewarm water & Lightning White & detergent. If necessary, use a diluted, safe household bleach.
Adhesive tape. Sponge with safe cleaning fluid or banana oil. Launder in Lightning White & detergent.

A message from new Lightning White the clothes saver.

Chlorine bleach is often misused and misunderstood.

It is a strong chemical. It cannot be used on many fabrics without damaging them.

This is a simple fact of life.

And this is why you see the chart on this page. For it is about time that women understood the correct use of chlorine bleach.

One thing that a look at the chart will show you is that there are safe, effective substitutes for bleach.

One of these substitutes is new Lightning White—the clothes saver.

New Lightning White whitens clothes without harming them in any way. It is absolutely safe to use.

New Lightning White also brightens clothes, helps wash them clean, makes them soft. And safely, of course.

New Lightning White also allows you to use a good deal less detergent per wash—up to half as much.

Two recommendations, then: Study the chart.

Try new Lightning White—the clothes saver.

You will profit from both recommendations.

By the way, if you're not delighted with new Lightning White, you can have double your money back!

N. RENAUD, 1701. Spacious colonial, 3 bedrooms, 2 1/2 baths, large kitchen, family room. Convenient location. Buyers only. Tuxedo 1-3667.

ALONG WITH the season Purdy & Edgar "Springs" on the market four first day offerings:
For those who want a very special colonial with two second floor bathrooms, we are pleased to show one of the finest houses on Grand Marais. Just three bedrooms on the second floor, but what a first floor layout with attractive library and glassed porch.

FOR THE family which desires a new colonial with four bedrooms up and a family room and library, we can show you one to fit the bill and is only five years old.

A GREAT starter house is this three bedroom ranch, which we have listed at only $29,900. Full basement and a low tax bill of $403. Your monthly payments will probably be less than your current rent.

FOR the investment minded we offer a two-family within the middle thirty thousand price range. The building is brick and relatively new. Two bedrooms in each unit.

OPEN SUNDAY 2:30 to 5

622 UNIVERSITY PLACE could be the house for the family which desires to move into the City and a place which has four bedrooms and three baths up. Just reduced to $43,500.

SEE THIS charmer at 685 Fisher Road, where clever decorating has transformed just another house into one of the best three bedroom offerings in the Pointe today. The third floor boasts another bedroom, and there is that important extra room on the first floor.

BY APPOINTMENT

MAY WE BE a bit presumptuous in asking if you like to revel in the luxury of large rooms which have been masterfully decorated; to lounge in your large bedroom or its sitting room? Do you insist on the privacy of an estate-sized lot and the intimacy of a warmly paneled library? Must you have quarters for stay-in help or just the rooms which you know are there for visiting family and brood? If you can picture yourself here, let us start the ball rolling by taking you there.

IF YOU ARE a do it yourself buff why not pick up this lake front lot and throw up your own place. One hundred and four feet of frontage on Lake St. Clair makes for a beautiful backdrop from your front window. Priced at $25,000.

IN THE HEART of the City we offer this center entrance Farm Colonial. If you are sweet on fancy kitchens, paneled libraries, family rooms, separate dining rooms, attached garages and four bedrooms, then better make a bee line to this one—it's a honey.

Short Portrait . . . of a Young Pointer: Kristine Falk, daughter of the Bernie Falks, of Maryland avenue . . . Now completing her senior year at Western Michigan University, (she expects to be graduated next month). Kris is an outstanding student, president of her sorority, Alpha Chi Omega, and wants to join the Peace Corps . . . She's also an exceptional gymnast, (trained by her father, a Physical Education instructor in the Grosse Pointe Public Schools), and a member of the WMU cheerleading corps . . . She's especially good on the trampolines, works out frequently with WMU Coach Fred Orlofsky's varsity squad and puts on exhibitions . . . She's majoring in Sociology, minoring in Physical Education, and took the first portion of her student teaching assignment at the Job Corps Training School at Fort Custer . . . The Job Corps School was, Kris says, "a great experience," one that helped solidify her decision to join the Peace Corps: "There are a lot of people in the world who need a helping hand, and I want to extend mine . . ."

In the midst of National Poison Prevention Week . . . the Junior League of Detroit, Inc., reminds everyone that home is where poisonings happen, that an estimated more than a million accidental ingestions of potentially toxic substances occur each year, the bulk of these among children under five, (600,000 children per year) . . . and that Detroit's Children's Hospital has one of the FEW Poison Control Centers that communicate with the general public, (most work only with medical personnel), answering individual calls at 883-1000 . . . Aspirin is the greatest cause of poisonings; other common causes are cleaning agents, cosmetics, pesticides, external medications, turpentine and paints . . . Mothers are strongly advised to KEEP THESE PRODUCTS OUT OF SIGHT, OUT OF REACH — LOCKED, IF POSSIBLE . . .

By offering financial aid . . . and volunteer support for the past five years, the Junior League has been and is co-operating with Children's Hospital to expand the Poison Control Center. With the approval of the Detroit Board of Education, League members also give slide programs to primary grade children in the public schools . . . The League offers these Seven General Suggestions for individual parents concerned with the problem and prevalence of accidental poisonings and anxious to learn:

HOW TO "POISON-PROOF" YOUR HOME

1. Lock your medicine cabinet; keep the key out of a child's reach.
2. Store medicine separately from other household products. Keep these products and medicines in their original containers.
3. Label products properly; read before using.
4. Turn on lights when giving or taking medicine.
5. Children tend to imitate adults — avoid taking medications in their presence.
6. Refer to medicines by their proper names. They are not candies.
7. Clean out your medicine cabinet periodically. Get rid of old medicines by flushing them down the drain, rinsing the container in water and then discarding it.

Finally . . . the League reminds parents that, although a quick call to the Poison Control Center at 883-1000 may save your child's life, THE BEST TREATMENT OF POISON IS PREVENTION!

PILFERINGS

A policeman stopped an offending vehicle and explained to the indignant matron behind the wheel that she had wandered over the double line three times, ignored a stop sign and executed an illegal left turn. As he wrote the ticket, the woman protested bitterly: "The trouble with you policemen is you spend all your time picking on respectable citizens. Why don't you catch some of these drunk drivers for a change?"

"Madam," was the soft reply, "I thought I had one."
—Joe Grenzeback, "Saturday Evening Post"

Two friends were discussing recent events. "Well," said one, "to please my wife, I've given up smoking, drinking and playing cards."
"That must make her real happy," the other replied. "No, it hasn't," the friend said. "Now every time she begins to talk to me, she finds she hasn't anything to say."
—Capper's Weekly

Two dowagers met on the street, one wearing an enormous pendant. "This," announced the wearer proudly, "is the world-famous Plotkin diamond."

"I've heard of the Hope diamond," said her amazed friend, "and the curse that goes with it. I've also heard of the Koh-in-noor diamond, but never the Plotkin diamond."

"Not only is this a fabulous diamond," came the rejoinder, "but it has its own curse that goes with it—Mr. Plotkin!"
—Matty Simmons, "Diner's Club Magazine"

Pointer of Interest

MRS. PETER CAPUTO, OF RIVARD BOULEVARD

By Janet Mueller

"I just hope," says Sue Caputo, "I live long enough to do all the things I want to do . . ." And then she grins. "I'd like to learn to fly an airplane, try a parachute jump . . ."

Wild wishes? Maybe—for anyone but Sue. Her ambitions have a way of becoming realities.

Already she's managed to pursue a variety of careers—wife, mother, actress in television commercials, fashion coordinator for a chain of stores, and she's managed to involve herself in a variety of organizations—Scouts, P-TAs, the League of Women Voters, P.E.O. Sisterhood, Women's Pointe Newcomers Club.

And she's found time for hobbies—collecting antique toys, decoupage . . . And for Adult Education courses . . . And for re-furnishing furniture . . . And for re-decorating, turning a run-of-the-mill 40-year-old bathroom into—well, into what, if Charlemagne had had a bathroom, he might have ordered done with it.

Know How to Laugh
And for laughter . . . the Caputos know how to laugh. They moved here two years ago last December, from Boulder, Col. Peter is Grosse Pointe Farms City Clerk.

Their oldest son, Jay, 16, named after Sue's two grandfathers, one of whom was a direct descendant of the Scots poet, Bobbie Burns, is a junior at Grosse Pointe High School. David, named for Sue's father's youngest brother, who died during the Flu Epidemic following World War I, and for Sue's youngest brother, is 11, in the sixth grade at Richard, an exceptionally talented artist.

Peter, 10, (guess who he's named after?), and Laurie Sue, seven, ("At last," says Sue, "I got a girl—I was sure Peter was going to be a girl, and I remember repeating over and over, as they wheeled me out of the delivery room after Peter's birth, 'I'm always going to be a mother-in-law, never a mother . . .') are in the fifth and second grade at Richard, respectively.

Charlie Is Confused
Newest addition to the Caputo menage is Charlie, an all-black Police Dog who is getting an inferiority complex because everyone thinks he's a Labrador.

Until she came to Grosse Pointe, Sue was a happy Nomad. Her father travelled all over the country, buying clothing stores, managing and renovating them, then selling them at a profit.

"In the fifth grade," she recalls, "I was in five different schools in five different states. I have never in my life lived in an apartment or a rented house: My father would buy a new store in a new town, we would buy a house there, completely decorate it—then one day, my father would come home and announce we were moving."

"He'd sell the store, sell the house, with everything in it, and off we'd go . . . I'm quite certain this is why I have such a passion now for antiques. I'm terribly attached to old things—probably because I never had a chance to get attached to ANY things when I was growing up."

College Romance
Marriage to Peter, (they met when both were students at the University of Iowa), brought no appreciable change in Sue's way of life. She knew that men who plan to make a career in City Management must be mobile, that their families must be prepared to follow them as opportunities in new cities arose. She was used to this wandering existence. She accepted it.

"But we hadn't been in Grosse Pointe for two weeks before I announced to Peter, 'This is it!'" Sue smiles. "If there is such a thing as a Chamber of Commerce in Grosse Pointe, they should hire me . . ."

"For the first time, I feel permanent. Before, I'd always planned my activities with a view toward not IF but WHEN we'd leave . . . Then we came here—and I've told Peter, 'If you leave, I'm staying . . .'"

Sue has never allowed "impermanence" in a community to prevent her from becoming involved in it.

Always Enters In
"Wherever I've lived, I've always been extremely active in 'extra-curricular' things," she observes. "I've done everything from hospital volunteering to working with the League of Women Voters."

Professionally, too, she's remained active. Sue's mother had her own radio show before and after her marriage; Sue's first "professional" appearances were as the "Child's Voice" asking "Mother," then doing a Children's Story Show, "And then what happened to the wicked dragon? . . ."

Sue majored in speech and Dramatic Arts at Iowa. "People were just beginning to buy television sets in appreciable numbers when I was in college," she recalls. "They were just setting up a TV Department at the University of Iowa."

"I appeared on the first live TV drama ever transmitted in the state of Iowa. The University was located in Iowa City, the television station from which our program was broadcast in Davenport, some 70 miles away—I spent a lot of time 'on the road.'"

Then to Colorado
She continued her dramatic career in Colorado, doing commercials for the second largest film commercial production company outside of New York City.

In Colorado, too, Sue was fashion coordinator for a large chain of clothing stores. She wrote and commented all the store's style shows, trained the models . . .

She was, in short, a Very Busy Lady—and, when she moved to Grosse Pointe, she resolved she'd be a Lady of Leisure, at least for a while.

That resolve lasted all of two weeks. "The two younger boys had just started Cub Scouts in Boulder," Sue recalls, "and I wanted to get them into a Den here. So I contacted the school, and a few days later, I got a phone call: 'I understand you have two boys who want to be Cub Scouts; how would you like to be a Den Mother . . .'"

"One thing always leads to another: One of the mothers of my Cubs was a fashion coordinator. I mentioned that I'd done that sort of work myself, I began getting calls . . ."

Drafted for Play
Newcomers to Grosse Pointe, she and Peter joined Grosse Pointe Newcomers Club—and when the Club decided to present its 1968 Review, "Roses Aren't Enough," Sue, with her background in dramatics, was a natural member upon whose services to call.

With Jack Shattuck, she conceived, wrote and directed the successful March 2 production in Fries Auditorium, supervising a cast and crew of some 80 persons. The script, with revisions, was so big it had to be carried around in a suitcase. "It was," Sue admits, "a mammoth undertaking."

Voters activities in Grosse Pointe, too, not because she has lost interest in the LWV, but because she knows herself, knows she can't just "belong" to a group—and knows she hasn't had the time to "plunge into" anything else.

But she'll probably turn up at a local LWV meeting one of these days. She's frankly "hooked" on politics: One of her ambitions, when all the children are grown, is to run for office.

Collects Antique Toys
She's always on the lookout for a new addition to her antique toy collection. "I just love toys," she says, "I don't know why—I certainly was never deprived of them as a child—but they fascinate me . . ."

"Maybe it's the mechanical aspect: I'm always the one who puts the toys together at Christmas."

"When we find our Big House in the Farms, (the Caputos have been searching for this Big House in the Farms ever since they arrived here—it's become almost mythical), I hope it has three stories. I'd love to fix up an attic toyroom."

In the interim between Boulder and the Big House, most of Sue's toys are still crated and stored in the basement. She has dolls and banks, a wonderful turn-of-the-century fire engine—and a gen-u-ine Buck Rogers Ray Gun! (Wonder what would happen if we pitted it against a Star Trek phazer? Probably, in the best Bat Man tradition, KA-BOOM! . . .)

Basement Workshop
Her workshop is in the basement, too. Here, just off "Caputo Street," Sue has her paints and brushes and varnishes and tools. Baskets, in various stages of decoupage, dangle drying from wire hangers above the bench. A religious triptych is ready for its 11th coat of varnish.

In one corner, a Scout centerpiece, its dressed, painted clothespin figures mounted on a styrofoam base, reminds Sue of a recent Blue and Gold banquet.

"I like to make 'fun' things, like the centerpiece," Sue says. "I don't sew my own clothes, or anything like that, but I'm GREAT on stuff like beanbags!"

Her attitude on housework is unequivocal: "I do it." Her attitude on "camping out" is equally clear: "Peter and I just LOVED camping out at the Broadmoor occasionally when we were in Colorado." How about heading for the hills, pack on back? "Peter and I just LOVED camping out at the Broadmoor . . ."

She's a Course-Taker
Insatiably curious, she's an inveterate course-taker. She pours over lists of Adult Education offerings, checks those she'd like to take, (slightly more than a every-other-one), eventually narrows her choice to what she can't-live-without-knowing-more-about-most, what she can fit into her weekly schedule-easiest.

Her current decoupage projects are the fruits of a Department Community Services Grosse Pointe Public School System course. Among the Community Services courses she intends to take in the near future is one on Creative Writing.

And there's another course she's very much interested in . . . "I'm the 'handy' one in our family: I have the basement workshop . . ."

"I really do think I'll take that course in Automobile Mechanics; I'd like to know more about the insides of a car . . ."

One thing leads to another . . . You never know . . . Anyone want to take a bet, that Sue Caputo WON'T try parachute jumping one of these days?

Prized China To be Shown

Hand-painted and gold-decorated plates for the state dinners of presidents and kings . . . Rare pieces of ceramic art that are treasured exhibits in the world's great art museums . . .

The gleaming dinnerware that graces your table at home for that informal luncheon or festive dinner . . .

Chances are that all three came from the same source, were made of the same ingredients, by the same skilled craftsmen. At $1,500 a plate, or $20 for a five-piece setting, each piece has passed the same rigid inspections, and had the same individual handling. Whether a piece of china is destined for a mansion, a palace, a museum, or your home, it gets the same special care from start to finish at the world-famed Lenox China Plant in Pomona, N.J.

The only difference is in the kind of decoration that goes to make up the finished product. Special orders from high government officials here and in foreign countries are an old story to Lenox makers of fine china and hand-blown lead crystal. They call them "Command Performances." Outstanding examples of this kind of work are now on exhibit at Sign of the Mermaid, 75 Kercheval, on the Hill, March 21 through March 30.

The "Command Performance" display contains samples of the White House dinner services which have been ordered specially from Lenox since the time of Woodrow Wilson and are in regular use there today. There are also plates designed for the governors of many of the 50 states; the Presidential yacht, U.S.S. Williamsburg; the Secretary of the Treasury, and the U.S. Embassies throughout the world.

The exhibit also includes dinnerware designed for officials of foreign governments across the globe. Probably the most fabulous of these is the special service ordered in 1947 by King Faisal of Saudi Arabia. This magnificent creation for the Royal Palace was decorated with embossed 24-karat gold with a rich maroon border. The cost? More than $30,000.
