HEADLINES of the WEEK

As Compiled by the Grosse Pointe News

Thursday, May 2

MILLIONS OF DOLLARS worth of construction work was halted on Wednesday when thousands of building tradesmen and laborers struck in Michigan. The strikes were in support of new contract demands, in which contractors said workmen were asking both wage and fringe increases ranging from 26 to 76 percent.

THE HOUSE APPROPRIATIONS Committee approved a package of appropriations and expenditure reductions, not yet specified in detail, that was approved by the Johnson Administration, breaking the nine month logjam blocking a tax increase on Wednesday. Although Republicans on the committee, who wanted larger reductions, abstained from voting, some of them indicated they would now support a tax increase.

HUNDREDS OF Negroes started Thursday on the Poor People's march on Washington. As a final preliminary before departure of a bus caravan to Marks, Miss., a marble stone bearing a cross and a star was dedicated in Memphis in memory of the slain civil rights leader, Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., who envisioned the march as a means of dramatizing the plight of the poor of all races.

THE UNITED Automobile Workers have decided to stop paying dues to its parent labor body, the American Federation of Labor and the Council of Industrial Organizations. This move makes the auto workers union, headed by Walter P. Reuther, subject to automatic suspension from the AFL-CIO by mid-May and severs one of the few remaining ties between the two labor bodies.

THE AFL-CIO Communications Workers of America announced today that the 18-day old, nation-wide telephone strike has ended and picket lines will be removed by midnight. A union spokesman said that 14 Bell System units endorsed the agreement, called by leaders as the best ever reached in the industry, while the Michigan Bell System voted to reject. The union said those units which fail to ratify would lose payment of contract benefits retroactive to the date of expiration of their old contracts.

A "WALL OF WATER" from the abandoned Saxwell No. 8 mine poured on to a coal crew Monday, trapping some of the 27 minors as far as two miles from the surface. Officials hope to get at least 15 of the men out sometime during the night, but held out little hope for the other 12. Rescue workers were able to make contact with those closest to the mine opening but another ten could not be reached by radio telephone. The mine owned by Gauley Coal and Coke Company is located about 75 miles southeast of Charleston, W.Va.

Park Police Smash Young Burglar Ring

Four of Seven Arrested are Members of Same Family; $1,200 in Loot Recovered

Seven young persons, four of whom are from one family, were arrested by Park police on charges of burglary, following almost two weeks of intensive investigation. Approximately $1,200 worth of loot has been recovered, with more expected to be returned, it was disclosed on Monday, May 6.

The case was broken by Det. Lt. Arnold Hough, Det. James LaPratt and Patrolman Gary Mitchell, who was assigned to the Plainclothes Division of the Detective Bureau. The officers worked many hours overtime before they were able to unravel a series of circumstances pertaining to "this very complicated case," which resulted in a 21-page report.

The arrests of the seven, whose ages range from 12 to 17 years of age stemmed from an investigation of the burglary of the home of Lee Schoenith, 745 Balfour road, on April 13. The house was entered four times within that one day, Hough said.

The Schoenith family was out of town, and it was not determined what was missing, when the break-in was reported until the family returned.

In the meantime, Hough, LaPratt and Mitchell, contacted a young lady living in the area,

Grosse Pointe Graduates Among 2,800 Winners of 1969 Scholarship Awards

All Score in Top Half of One Percent of Seniors in Their Respective States on Merit Test

Over 2,800 Merit Scholarship winners, including 500 receiving a new type of Merit Scholarship, have been announced by John M. Stalnaker, president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation. The winners were chosen from among 14,000 finalists. All had scored in the top half of one per cent of graduating high school seniors in their states on the Merit test and had met other requirements.

The 500 new awards, called "National Merit $1,000 Scholarships," are one-time, nonrenewable scholarships of $1,000 each. Winners were chosen in open competition, state by state, by a selection committee. Fifty-five of the 500 were underwritten my various sponsors and the remainder by Merit Corporation funds.

An additional 400 students won four-year National Merit Scholarships, financed by NMSC and providing between $1,600 and $6,000 each. ($250 to $1,500 per year), depending on the student's need to attend the college of his choice. The number selected in each state is proportional to the state's number of graduating high school seniors, as is also true of National Merit $1,000 Scholarship winners.

Four-year sponsored Merit scholarships were awarded by some 370 sponsors to over 1,900 winners. Colleges sponsored about 500 of these awards, selecting their winners from among Finalists choosing to attend the sponsoring college. Several hundred corporations, foundations, unions, other organizations, and individuals sponsored the remaining 1,400 such awards, most of which went to Finalists who also met criteria established by the sponsor. Many corporately sponsored awards are for Finalist children of the sponsoring firm's employees.

Also announced today were about 175 additional students who were selected to receive Merit Scholarships, but whose plans precluded their accepting Merit Program financial assistance. They were designated Honorary (National) or Honorary (sponsored) Merit Scholars, depending on the type of award for which they had been selected. They will receive no financial assistance from NMSC.

The new one-time National Merit $1,000 Scholarships are part of a plan to increase the number of Merit Scholarships

WWJ Bars 'Riot-Flavored' Ads

Adhering to a strict policy designed to help keep Detroit as cool as possible as far as racial tensions are concerned, the WWJ Stations are turning down commercial business which could be termed riot-inspired or flavored, or which might tend to alarm or inflame some segments of the city's population.

Examples of commercials ruled unacceptable include one utilizing the continuing sound of machine gun fire as background for selling an expose-type book dealing with Detroit's experience last July; another for a tear gas revolver "with the look and feel of the real thing" and complete with 40 rounds of ammunition; a car protective device featuring loud siren wails capable of being heard for blocks; also commercials for more conventional products which needlessly employ raucous production techniques.

"The public interest and our sense of broadcast responsibility" were cited by James Schiavone, General Manager, as reasons for the action. He urged the management of other stations, particularly in cities where tensions are high, to adopt the same policy. "We sincerely believe it will make a worthwhile contribution to the maintenance of civil stability this summer."

Grand Opera Stars Coming For Supper

Pointers Have Planned Annual Informal Event at Fries, Sunday, May 19

The annual supper with the stars of the Metropolitan Opera will be held in the Crystal Ball room of Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Fries Auditorium Sunday evening, May 19, at seven o'clock.

This is the evening prior to the opening of the Metropolitan Opera season in Detroit's Masonic Auditorium. In contrast to the formality of that occasion, this is a neighborly, informal supper allowing Pointers to meet representatives of the Opera management as well as some of the singing stars.

The occasion is jointly sponsored by the Detroit Grand Opera Committee and the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association. It is the Opera Association's silver anniversary.

Present for the supper will be Mrs. Ralph T. McElvenny, general chairman of the 1968 Opera season; Frank W. Donovan, chairman of the Opera Board; Wilbur H. Mack, president of the Opera Association; Henry Ledyard, Detroit Grand Opera Association Manager; Mrs. John D. Benfield, Grosse Pointe chairman; Mrs. Januarius A. Mullen, Grosse Pointe co-chairman; and Mrs. Mark Little and Mrs. Arthur Seder, Supper Co-Chairmen.

Following dinner, Donald M. D. Thurber, vice-president and publicity director of the Detroit Grand Opera Association, will moderate an informal, entertaining, and informative dis-

Vandals Smash School Windows

Woods police are searching for four young vandals who were reported to have broken 20 windows of the Monteith School on Friday, May 3.

A woman witness called police when she saw the four, all boys, whose ages range from 12 to 14 years, running around the west and south side of the school building. The woman said she opened the window of her home to get a better view, and heard the sound of breaking glass.

Officers who were dispatched to the scene, said they found that a total of 20 windows of the school building had been smashed with bits of common brick, 17 on the west side, and three on the south.

The witness was unable to give police a description of the culprits.

Shores Pension Changes Urged for Better Services

Grosse Pointe Shores must update its pension plan for Village employes if it wants to keep and attract qualified personnel, residents were told on onday, May 6, at an information meeting held by the Village Board of Trustees.

The meeting, at the former Vernier School, was called to explain a proposed amendment to the Village Charter on which residents will vote May 21. The amendment will increase pensions for employes who retire after May 1, 1968.

Frank A. Colombo, village trustee, said that the Shores has fallen behind neighboring communities in providing employe pensions. Unless the village pension plan is made comparable to other communities in the Detroit Metropolitan area, it will become more difficult to keep village personnel and to hire new employes, he said.

Colombo said, "The ability of this village to provide an outstanding level of service to its residents is tied directly to our pension system. If we want to continue to provide the finest public services of any community in this area, we have to pay for them."

Colombo stressed that the Village pays wages that are competitive with the other Pointes, but is lagging in its pension program.

He said the actuarial firm of Gabriel, Roeder, Smith & Co., of Detroit, has estimated that the new pension plan will cost the village an additional Complete schedules of offerings in all programs will be available at all schools in the district, public or non-public, by Monday, May 13. Summer school hours are from 8 A.M. to 12:25 P.M.

All classes for students in grades 9-12 will be held at Grosse Pointe South High School, 11 Grosse Pointe Boulevard.

High School's Coach Bauer Dies at Game

Stricken at 44 While on Athletic Field With Baseball Team

Ernest A. Bauer, known to thousands as Coach Bauer, died suddenly on Wednesday, May 1, doing what he best loved to do . . . working with boys. He was coaching the 1968 Grosse Pointe High School varsity baseball team, at the time of his death.

Coach Bauer, 44 years old, lived in Hawthorne road with his wife, Carol, and their three children; Michael 15, Lawrence 13, and Barbara 10.

He was graduated from the University of Wisconsin, and earned his Masters degree at Wayne State University. He came to the Grosse Pointe School System as a math teacher and junior varsity football coach in 1952.

From 1953 through 1960 he was both backfield coach for the varsity football team, and assistant baseball coach. In 1961 he was appointed varsity baseball coach, and held that position until his death. He was appointed a counselor in February of this year.

For many years Coach Bauer was manager of a Little League baseball team. He was coach of the Little League All Star Team in the Woods-Shores League.

His interest in boys and sports drew him to the practice fields where he became an advisor and coach to many managers in the Woods-Shores-Babe Ruth League.

Proposed Roland Closing Aired at Farms Meeting

Residents living in Roland road, and in Maison and surrounding streets, expressed opposition, for the most part, to the proposed closing of Roland frm Mack avenue to the "Y" junction of Roland and Maison. They presented their views at a regular meeting of the Farms council on Monday, May 6.

Councilman Richard C. Hudson, who lives in Roland, and who was named by Mayor William Butler at the March 18 meeting to conduct a survey in the matter, informed the council that he sent out letters to Roland residents and to people living in the near vicinity, asking their comments on the proposed closing.

He said that he received a number of replies, of which 27 approved the closing; 10 were against two were undecided, and wanted more time to study the problem; seven from outside the neighborhood, and 34 from Allard, LaBelle and Chalfonte, favored the move.

Several residents residing in Maison, opposed shutting off Roland because it would increase the traffic on their street on which, they said, speeders daily endanger the residents and especially the children in this section.

Mayor Butler said that the matter had been referred to Police Chief Jack F. Roh, Fire Chief M. William Mason and the Mayor's Advisory Planning Committee for study, and it was the unanimous recommendation that Roland not be closed because this would make it hard

Hit Parental Neglect of Youngsters

Neighborhood Club Worries; City Police Chief Vows to Crack Down on Drunk Kids

Two vexatious incidents on Friday night set off a chain reaction that ultimately included the City of Grosse Pointe police, Neighborhood Club officials and Bon Secours Hospital.

At that time two teenage girls were discovered on the Neighborhood Club grounds in intoxicated conditions. One of the girls was taken to the hospital by her father, the other girl was taken to the hospital by City police.

Both Ed Krattli, director of the Neighborhood Club, and Chief Andrew C. Teetaert have been concerned with the growing problem of teenage drinking in the Grosse Pointe area. These two incidents set into motion a meeting between Chief Teetaert, City Manager Thomas Kressbach, Mrs. Murray Sales, president of the board of the Neighborhood Club, Mrs. F. James Robinson, board member and Pauline Masak, employe of the Neighborhood Club.

All of them discussed the problem and searched for a solution. The conclusion of the group seemed to be that some Pointe parents are not assuming enough of the responsibility o ftheir youngsters, nor are the youngsters themselves assuming their role in today's adult society. The answer, while it lies in the home, has its effect on the community as a whole.

City police and the staff at the Neighborhood Club periodically face the problem of drunken teens on the grounds (or for that matter on the grounds of any large gathering of teens). The liquor is consumed BEFORE arrival at the dance but often does not take effect until the teenagers hit the heat of the room. Then he is spotted and turned over to police by club authorities who in turn contact the parent, if they can. According to authorities of their youngsters, nor are the reached. The teenagers have no idea where their parents are and in turn many parents do not know the whereabouts of their children or in what condition their children arrive at parties or dances.

Police Chief Teetaert said that he will not tolerate any drunkeness by the teenagers in the area, and added that any teen found to have been drinking will be prosecuted.

Director Krattli said that the

Name Woman To Plan Committee

Mrs. William J. Waugaman of 344 Ridge road, whose interest in city government prompts her to attend the Farms council meetings, which she rarely misses, was appointed as the first woman member of the Mayor's Advisory Planning Committee.

Mrs. Waugaman, who sometimes is the only citizen at these meetings, was asked by Mayor William Butler on Monday, May 6, to serve on the committee, as the ninth member. She accepted without hestitation. The term is for one year.

She was on the Kerby Field Improvement Committee, which completed a study for proposed improvements of the field, on Kerby, between Chalfonte and Mack, which was presented to the council by Councilman Richard Hudson, chairman of the committee. The study will be given further scrutiny at a special meeting for Monday, May 27.

Contacted were the following members of the Planning Committee, who served during the previous years, and who expressed a willingness to continue in their posts for another year:

George L. Schlaepfer of 251 McMillan road; Clarence E. Bessert of 420 Chalfonte; Franklin D. Carr of 339 Grosse Pointe boulevard; T. Raymond Jeffs of 344 McKinley; Joseph V. McQuillen of 270 Merriweather; Miles M. O'Brien of 41 Hendrie lane; Chester J. Ordon of 171 Lothrop; and Malcom R. Stirton of 181 Lothrop.

Park Police Smash Ring

who called police when she saw three juvenile boys get out of a car and walk to the rear of the Schoenith house. She said the boys were in a car down the street. She gave a description of the vehicle and the license plate number.

Check License Number

The investigating officers, in checking out the license number, contacted the person to whom it was registered, and were informed the plates had been reported stolen from his car in Detroit.

Hough said that the investigation could not continue, and apprehension of the suspects could only be accomplished if they were seen in a car bearing these plates.

As luck would have it, Park Patrolman Ralph Moore, who resides in Detroit, entered a store near his home to purchase groceries, and was informed by a store clerk that two boys were in the establishment, and that they had boasted about the break-in of the Schoenith residence. The officer relayed the information to the detectives of his department.

One of the names given to the patrolman was that of a Park boy, known to the Park police through a previous arrest. The juvenile, who is 15 years old, was picked up and taken to the station for questioning. He implicated his accomplices.

Following an intensive investigation that took 10 days, Hough, LaPratt and Mitchell arrest six juveniles, all boys, and a 17-year-old girl.

Hough said that the girl, and three of the boys, 12, 13 and 16 years old, were from the same family, and their home was in Detroit, and all were reported to Detroit police as missing persons.

Admitted Burglary

The lieutenant said that each of the youngsters, following their arrests, admitted to the burglary of the Park home, and other homes in the area. Three of the youths were identified through fingerprints found at the Schoenith home. The identification was processed by LaPratt.

So far, Hough said, his department has recovered a tape recorder, a portable television set, a shot gun, and miscellaneous jewelry items taken from Schoenith's house.

The young burglars confessed to other break-ins in the area, the detective said. In some homes money was found and taken, and spent without delay by the culprits. Tangible items were sold and the money spent, it was said.

The young burglars are making every attempt to contact the people to whom they sold the stolen goods, and making an effort to redeem these items, Hough said, including jewelry, sold in Detroit, St. Clair Shores and other communities.

It was later discovered that the car in which the original three youths were seen, had been stolen from a used car lot in Detroit, after which the plates were removed from the car of the owner to whom they were registered.

One of the boys, 15 years old, confessed that he was involved in the theft of one automobile in the Park, and five in Detroit, and that three of his companions went with him on separate occasions.

Hough said that charges against the five juveniles have been filed with Juvenile Court authorities, and that the 17-year-old girl has be charged as an adult, and will face trial in Wayne County Circuit Court.

Three selections, "Poor Man Lazrus", a negro spiritual "This Land Under Thee", and "You'll Never Walk Alone", will make up the Ninth Grade Choir presentation.

The Eighth Grade Chorus will follow with "Baules, Bangles, and Beads," "The Sweetest Sounds", featuring Dawn DeCook, Stella Donato, Jill Enzmann, Terry Reilly, Sherrie Rudolph, and Laurie Stein. The Chorus will continue with "Red Roses for a Blue Lady", "Hey There", and "High Hopes".

For the finale, the entire cast will offer "A Lot of Livin' To Do", with Janet Kuhr on bass and Jack Barbier on drums, "Shalom", and "Milk and Honey". As an added attraction, the Teachers' Chorus, will sing "The Impossible Dream" then join the cast to conclude the evening with "What a Country".

Youths Urged To War On Litter

The State Highway Commission today suggested that the youth of Michigan pool its talent to aid the campaign to keep the state beautiful.

The suggestion was in response to recent offers of volunteer help in picking up tons of roadside trash discarded during the winter by litterbugs.

The Commission said that, because of insurance and liability problems, it couldn't permit youngsters to work along state roadsides.

It said, however, that they could effectively aid the war against litterbugs by helping to inform the public of the health and safety hazards, and the unsightly appearance caused by litter.

The Commission said Michigan youths, through their clubs, schools and church groups, could become a powerful voice in the state's anti-litter campaign.

Interested groups can obtain information and suggestions on how they can help by contacting Keep Michigan Beautiful, Inc., 28135 Greenfield Rd., Southfield, 48075.

Pointer Completes Basic Training

GREAT LAKES, Ill. (FHTNC) April 25 — Seaman Apprentice Edward M. Smith, USNR, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Smith Sr. of 177 Beaupre avenue, has been graduated from nine weeks of Navy basic training at the Naval Training Center here.

In the first weeks of his naval service he studied military subjects and lived and worked under conditions similar to those he wil lencounter on his first ship or at his first shore station.

In making the transition from civilian life to Naval service, he received instruction under veteran Navy petty officers. He studied seamanship, as well as survival techniques, military drill and other subjects.

Parents Hit

Neighborhood Club will clamp down, even more firmly than it has in the past, on admittance to the club making sure that once a teen is admitted he leaves only if he is leaving for the evening.

He stressed that only 10, 11 and 12th graders are allowed at these Friday night dances and that they cannot enter without proper identification. He added that the Club and the police have been, and will continue, to work hand in hand whenever a case of drunkeness is brought to their attention.

Fortunately these two incidents were discovered before the young teenage girls wandered off the grounds and encountered trouble they perhaps had never dreamed of.

The answer then, according to both the Chief and Mr. Krattli, seems to be that parents must assume the responsibility of their teenagers and that the teenagers themselves must assume responsibility for themselves and their friends.

The police and the Club have stepped up their surveillance of the situation . . . now the teenagers and parents must step up to their responsibilities!

No Door-to-Door Soliciting by MCF

The annual observance of Cancer Control Month once again brings an avalanche of telephone calls to the offices of the Michigan Cancer Foundation from persons who have been solicited for funds by door-to-door volunteers.

Are these volunteers collecting money for the Michigan Cancer Foundation? The answer is that they are not. Cancer control agencies not supported through contributions to United Foundation and other United Funds take this opportunity to ask donations in a house-to-house approach.

The Michigan Cancer Foundation with information centers in key cities throughout Wayne, Oakland, Macomb and Monroe counties, receives its total support from Torch Drive allocations and unsolicited contributions. Individuals who have donated to United Funds, whether at places of employment to UF volunteers in annual October campaigns, have already done their part in supporting the Michigan Cancer Foundation.

The Michigan Cancer Foundation maintains an extensive research program in laboratories housed at the Cancer Center, 4811 John R, Detroit. It promotes a year-round program of public education with film showings, sponsorship of school programs and other public activities in cancer control and meets the needs of cancer patients and their families with dressings, sickroom furnishings, homemaker and visiting services free of charge.

Scholarships

open to all Finalists, according to Stalnaker. A ratio of about one unrestricted award to every two sponsored four-year awards will be maintained in the years immediately ahead, he said. All unrestricted National Merit Scholarships will be the one-time, nonrenewable type starting in 1969, when at least 1,000 will be given.

Sponsors will support increasing numbers of the new one-time scholarships, Stalnaker said, while maintaining their support of four-year sponsored Merit Scholarships. The Merit Program will thereby reduce its reliance on the Ford Foundation, which underwrote nearly National Merit Scholarships and all NMSC administrative costs through the first 12 annual programs.

The Ford Foundation granted a further $5.1 million to NMSC in 1967, bringing the total of its support to $46.6 million since 1955. Over $8 million of this sum was for support of the National Achievement Scholarship Program for outstanding Negro students, which is also administered by NMSC. Achievement Program winners for 1968 have already been announced.

All sponsored four-year Merit Scholarships carry need-based stipends, calculated by NMSC by the same standard procedures used to determine the amounts of four-year National Merit Scholarships. Some sponsors use different maximum or minimum stipends. Individual stipends are not made public since they are based in part on confidential information.

A committee of skilled evaluators, drawn from the college admission field, selected the 900 winners of unrestricted National Merit Scholarships awarded in state-by-state competition. The committee considered each Finalist's high school grades, accomplishments outside the classroom, extracurricular activities, and school recommendations in addition to his scores on two nationwide examinations. (The 1968 selection committee is listed on page 2 of each regional list of winners.)

All students honored through the Merit Program, including some 38,000 commended students in addition to the 14,000 Semifinalists, were identified by NMSC to colleges, universities, and other organizations offering financial aid. Research indicates that many of those who need aid, but who did not receive Merit Scholarships, will receive financial assistance from other sources.

The thirteenth Merit Program began in February, 1967, when students in 17,700 schools nationwide took the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test. The highest scorers in each state became Semifinalists. Almost all of the 14,000 Semifinalists confirmed their performance o na second test and submitted the data required to become Finalists. Each Finalist received a Certificate of Merit.

Letters to the Editor

Sirs:

Enclosed is what you might call "A letter to the editor". I put some time and some thought into it in the hope that you would put it in your reader's comment section. Although it is long, I would hope that you print it intact.

I am a former teacher at the high school and am presently teaching at Wayne State University. In addition, I am a citizen of this community, a taxpayer, and a father of two youngsters presently attending Monteith elementary school. When I came to this area from Boston, I chose to live in the community in which I was to teach because it had such a fine reputation. It is obvious that the quality of education in this community can be maintained only when enlightened people conduct its business. Recent trends bode trouble. I have no axes to grind (at least until now), nor am I simply a concerned observer, who has discovered that observation is not enough.

From what I gather from reading your paper the past two years, you are the pawns of no man and are willing to present the issues fairly and impartially. I hope that you see fit to print my point of view.

In the April 24 issue of the GROSSE POINTE NEWS you reported an account of the school board meeting at which Mr. Arnold Fuchs raised the question of censorship of school materials once again.

In this instance, Mr. Fuchs stated that he, along with some of his friends, had read material used in a course entitled "Comparative Government", and found it unsuitable for high school youngsters. Mr. Fuchs, as reported in your paper, was upset because he felt the material implied that world peace could come about through disarmament, and that the United States was partially to blame for lack of results in this area.

Since I taught the course referred to by Mr. Fuchs during the summer of 1967, and was the only person who had occasion to use material objected to by him, I feel it incumbent upon me to make public reply. Before doing so, it is necessary to correct Mr. Fuchs on one point. Unfortunately, he confused the course I taught, "International Affairs; Problems of Peace and War", with a course to be taught next year—"Comparative Government." There is no connection, either in substance or material, between the two courses.

It is not my purpose to defend the material under attack by Mr. Fuchs. Suffice it to say that the material is authored and edited by distinguished scholars and citizens whose integrity is unimpeachable; such as Louis Sohn, professor of law at Harvard; Saul Mendlovitz, professor of law at Rutgers; and the Hon. Grenville Clark, public servant, diplomat and teacher.

My concern is, rather, with the implications of Mr. Fuch's intemperate words and actions. This gentleman has apparently taken it upon himself to decide what should and should not be taught in our public schools; to impose his values and his political views upon our teachers and our students.

I am saddened by this disregard for public education shown by a man who enjoys the public trust as a member of our school board. Surely we have not forgotten for what the public schools stand, and the dangers which arise when one man forgets that he represents all of the citizens living in this school district, and attempts to determine what the rest of use shall read and think!

All fair-minded men clearly understand that the goal of education is not to teach one set of values, or one point of view, but to help each child learn to make intelligent decisions about the issues of today. This is not accomplished by withholding facts or ideas because a few, or indeed, many don't like them. It is the height of folly to manipulate curriculum in such a way as to deny a student the opportunity to confront facts, values and ideas that a particular person feels are dangerous to "right-thinking." Mr. Fuchs needs to be reminded that liberty is not the right of one, but of all.

It is my hope that the citizens of Grosse Pointe will not sell their administrators and teachers short. In my two-year association with this fine school system I was deeply impressed with the competence, commitment, and talent of the vast majority of teachers at the high school. They fully recognize their responsibilities and are committed to rational and free discussion of ideas, the only method defensible in a democratic society.

Let us also not sell our young people short. The overwhelming majority of the students who attend school in this community are stable, thoughtful young men and women. It is shameful that anyone should doubt their integrity, and their capacity to resist clumsy attempts at indoctrination by anyone. Many adults could learn lessons on the nature and meaning of democratic living from these youngsters. Judging from the actions of men like Mr. Fuchs, our students are much more able to resist mindless indoctrination than are more than a few of our adults.

Finally, let me say that all citizens of this school system want the best education possible for their children. This can only be accomplished by electing citizens to the Board of Education who are themselves of the democratic persuasion. Their function should be to hire the best possible people to staff the schools, and then give them the opportunity to do the job for which they have been trained.

We certainly have room on our school board for men of all political persuasions, for the basis of the Republic is: "From diversity, unity." We do not, however, have room for those who would deny others the rights that they themselves demand. I know that Mr. Fuchs has the best interests of us all in mind, but we must all hope that he will in the future show some restraint and moderation. Our citizens, teachers, administrators, and—above all — our students, deserve intelligent leadership.

To the Editor:

During this past year some Grosse Pointe High students volunteered many hours of service to the Neighborhood Club basketball leagues.

The following young men were coaches of some of our Midget League basketball teams: William Pankhurst, Kim Smith, Jim Hume, John Graffius, Dick Todd, Mike Barruta, Rick DiCicco, Lorne McConachie, Chris Malaforius, Curt Mumaw, Larry Ulmer, Lee Snell, Bob Zink, Rick Ferman, Robin Jacobs, Ed Moody, Rick Scavarda and Al Fortunski.

They conducted themselves in a highly responsible and mature maner. They not only taught their players basketball skills, but also demonstrated the ideals of good sportsmanship by their conduct. The sacrifice of some of these young men was even more noteworthy because they were also members of the Grosse Pointe Varsity Basketball team.

It has been my pleasure to work with these young men and others like them during four years as director of the Neighborhood Club basketball leagues. Each year my conviction that the youth of Grosse Pointe are something special grows. With so many people doubting the values of the young generation, our community can point with pride to the accomplishments of its youth.

Sincerely,
John Bruce
Basketball League Director

PROMOTED

CPL. KERVING

CPL. THOMAS

Two Woods public safety officers who tied in written and oral examinations were promoted to the rank of corporal, effective as of Sunday, April 28, it was disclosed by Woods Director of Public Safety Allen Andrews, who called the identical scoring a "unique situation."

Elevated from patrolmen to corporals were Thomas Kerving and Peter Thomas, both of whom make their homes in St. Clair Shores.

Kerving was appointed to the force on July 14, 1956, and on February 1966, was assigned as records officers, and assumed all the duties of then Col. Bernard Kelly, who just recently was promoted to the rank of sergeant.

Kerving is married to the former Jean Sutton of Detroit. They have one son, Michael, who is six years old.

He served with the United States Army, as a paratrooper, from April 1951 to April 1953, and was honorably discharged with the rank of private first class.

The information released on Thomas showed that he was appointed a public safety patrolman on January 1, 1964. He and his wife, Ruth have been married for two years.

Thomas formerly lived in Richmond, Mich., before moving to St. Clair Shores, and was employed by a tree expert company before joining the department.

Fighting Boys Taken to Station

City police received a report on Saturday, April 27, at 10:45 p.m., from a Lincoln road resident, reporting boys fighting in front of his house.

When police arrived they found eight boys, two of whom were involved in a fight. Both boys fighting appeared to have been drinking but refused to tell officers where they obtained the alcohol.

Upon checking one of the fighters' cars officers found one handmade night stick, a baseball bat and a four foot piece of stick that the boy said he carried for protection.

All eight boys were taken to the station and then released to parents, with warnings.

Spring Concert At High School

The Spring Concert of the instrumental music department of Grosse Pointe High School will be held at 4 p.m. on Sunday, May 12, in the auditorium of Parcells Junior High School, it was announced today by Russell D. Read, director.

"An outstanding feature of this year's Spring Concert will be the appearance of George C. Wilson, Vice President and Director of the National Music Camp at Interlochen, Michigan, as guest conductor," Mr. Reed said.

The Symphony Orchestra is scheduled to open the program with Bach's "Fugue in G Minor." Corelli's "Christmas Concerto" is next, featuring Linda Hoyt, and David McLaughlin, violinists, and Linda Symons, cellist. Third number is the "Finale" from "Symphony No. 1, Opus 68" by Brahms. The Symphony Orchestra concludes its portion of the program with Walton's "Shakespeare Suite."

The Concert Band will play two numbers during its portion of the program: Carter's "Symphonic Overture" and Wood's "Dear Isle of Man."

Following the intermission the Symphony Band will play Mennin's "Canzona" and "Marche Escossaise" by Debussy. William Bogan will be featured as alto saxophone soloist in Creston's "First Movement" from "Concerto for Alto Saxaphone, Opus 26. The program will conclude with the polka and fugue from Weinberger's "Schwanda, the Bagpiper."

Mr. Wilson is slated to conduct four numbers.

Tickets for Sunday's performance may be obtained from students in the instrumental music department or at the box office the afternoon of the performance.

Symphony Wins First Ratings

The Grosse Pointe High School Symphony Orchestra received first division ratings from all four judges at the State Band and Orchestra Festival held in Battle Creek on April 27. The Symphony Band received a final second division rating in the competition.

Commenting upon the performance of the Symphony Orchestra, Peter Labella, head of the music department at Joilet (Illinois) High School, said: "Congratulations and best wishes to the conductor and students of this fine orchestra for an excellent performance this morning. You achieve a very mature sound and you play with good tone and pitch. Your overall performance is splendid."

The next performance of the instrumental music groups of Grosse Pointe High School will be the annual Spring Concert, May 12, 1968 at 4:00 p.m. in the auditorium of Parcells Junior High School.

Pointers Attend Sparks Banquet

Among the Grosse Pointers attending a recent banquet honoring the Detroit Sparks, winners of the National Wheelchair Basketball championship for the second consecutive year, were D. J Bracken of Whittier road, chairman of the Sparks honorary board and a vice-president of Genera Ford Motor Co., and Roy R. Hartman of McMillan road, a board member. Bracken is the new chairman of the Michigan Heart Association.

The Sparks won their championship in a nation-wide league which has 40 teams all of whose members are confined to wheel chairs.

The Detroit Department of Parks and Recreation uses 700 Christmas trees, 1,200 birch logs and 16,000 lights for Christmas decorations in Detroit each year.

Devil's Track Meet Goes Down River

Both Grosse Pointe and Wyandotte have "one of the top five dual meet teams in Michigan," says Coach Tom Gauerke, which should make today's track showdown at Wyandotte the Devils' most important meet of the year.

After the Devils missed the runnerup trophy by a single point at the Albion Invitational which hosted 70 teams last Saturday, ended Ann Arbor's unbeaten season 65-53 last Thursday and trounced Monroe 91-27 a week ago, Mr. Gauerke claims his team found out "We're better than we thought."

Whether the Devils can dethrone Wyandotte at BCL champions still remains doubtful. Mr. Gauerke "hopes" to win seven of the 14 events which means the seconds and thirds could decide which team remains undefeated.

"The meet should go down to the last two events," he predicts. While the Bears have recorded a faster 220-yard time, the last race, the mile relay, "could go either way."

The Devils received outstanding performances in scoring 24 points at the Albion Invitational which could be a definite psychological boost for them in today's meet. In taking fourth behind Battle Creek, Grosse Pointe finished a point behind Birmingham Groves and a half-point behind Ferndale.

Specialist Predicts New Artery Cleansing Agent

One of these days—and the day is coming closer—there will be a drug which will clean obstructions out of the arteries of people as some chemicals clean out sewers.

This was one of the predictions of Dr. Paul N. Yu, head of the Cardiopulmonary Unit, University of Rochester School of Medicine, one of four internationally known speakers to appear at the annual free public Heart Forum, Friday, May 10 at 8:15 p.m., at Ford Auditorium.

"Even before this clean-out drug is discovered, the incidence of coronary artery disease—heart attack—will be reduced as people learn of the benefits of prevention, of keeping their blood level of cholesterol low, of getting a reasonable amount of regular exercise, and of stopping smoking," he added. "Prevention, which means avoiding all the risk factors is still important."

Theme of the forum is "Hope for Your Heart," and the accent is on new medical developments. Dr. Yu will discuss, "Coronary Artery Disease," the basic cause of almost all heart attacks. Other subjects will include: transplants and artificial hearts, congenital heart defects, rheumatic fever and high blood pressure.

Co-sponsored by the Michigan Heart Association, a Torch Drive agency, and the Detroit Free Press, admission is free. Members of the audience will be given a chance to play Risko, a game, which gives an estimate of the player's danger of heart attack, and they will also be able to see tracings of the sounds of their hearts on an oscilloscope.

Lists Developments

Dr. Yu listed some of the more promising developments as: coronary care units, now saving thousands of heart attack patients throughout the nation, a catheter-type device powered from outside which pushes extra blood into the coronary arteries, and a surgical technique to remove heart tissue damaged by heart attack.

Vice-chairman of the American Heart Association's Council on Clinical Cardiology as well as a professor of medicine, Dr. Yu said the value of having a normal or low blood level of cholesterol is being demonstrated by studies that show persons with a high cholesterol level suffer more heart attacks. The cholesterol level can be reduced by diet," he said. "It will be hard on the meat and dairy industries, but that can't be helped."

He and other researchers are now testing a new drug which is extremely effective in interfering with the digestion of fats, he added, and so many more are now being developed, it is safe to predict someone will discover an artery cleaning drug within a few years.

"We could inject this drug right into the coronary arteries with a catheter, and obstructions there could be dissolved into tiny fragments which could circulate without damage to the body," he said.

Other speakers are: Dr. J. Willis Hurst, chairman, Department of Medicine, Emory University, Atlanta, Ga.; President Johnson's heart specialist, Dr. Dr. Mary Allen Engle, director, Pediatric Cardiology, Cornell University Medical Center, New York City; and Dr. Park W. Willis, III, professor, Heart Station, University of Michigan Medical School.

Dr. Carl B. Beeman, Grand Rapids internist and president of the Heart Association will be moderator. Speakers will answer questions which should be submitted in advance.

for police and fire vehicles to get through in the event of emergencies.

A resident of Roland suggested that something be done to keep the trucks off the street, insofar as parking is concerned, and that something be done about cleaning up the corner area to help maintain the neighborhood.

A Maison resident informed the council that motorists familiar with the area, tend to turn off from west, travel on Mack, onto Roland to Maison, to beat the traffic light at the Mack-Moross intersection, and if Roland is shut off, it would only increase the traffic problem be-

Farms Women's Shop Is Robbed

Two colored women are being sought by Farms police for questioning in the disappearance of three expensive articles of women's clothing from the Margaret Rice Shop, 78 Kercheval.

Helen Fodor, part owner of the store, informed investigating officers that the women entered the establishment, each carrying a brown paper bag.

She said that while one woman engaged sales personnel in conversation, the other picked out and took several items of clothing into a dressing room to try them on. Both women left the store at the same time, carrying their bags, which did not appear to be any fuller than at the time they entered the store.

The next morning, it was said, the following were discovered missing from the racks: a dress and jacket with beige and white stripes, valued at $275; a two-piece blue and brown plaid suit, valued at $475; and a shocking pink dress and jacket worth $285.

The investigation was referred to the officers of the Detective Bureau, who were given a description of the suspects.

U. of M. Names Local Winners

Among the 1,009 Michigan High School seniors to receive University of Michigan Regents-Alumni Scholarships were 15 students from the Grosse Pointe area.

Grosse Pointe High School had eight winners; Donald J. Bowerman, Pamela S. Cubberly, Mark H. DeGaetane, Gerald C. DeGrieck, Marjorie A. Jensen, Dale S. Johnson, Byron M. Stuck and Nancy Teague.

Charles M. Wilson was St. Paul High School's winner. Robert L. Levi and Sallly K. Steinhart were winners from Grosse Pointe University School.

Our Lady Star of the Sea had four winners; Constance M. Crenin, Mary E. Donovan, Mary A. Guillaumin and Virginia A. Leone.

The winners were selected by the Committee on University Scholarships from about 2,900 applicants representing about 500 state high schools.

Pensions

$11,742 in the coming year, or 3.85 percent of the present village payroll.

"This additional expense has been anticipated in preparation of the current village budget," Coombo said. "Assuing a contnuaton of current conditions, we forsee no necessity for a tax rate increase."

Colombo explained that the proposed pension amendment will change the formulas used to compute retirement benefits for general employes and for policemen. Policemen generally receive larger pensions than general employes because of their hazardous duties and because they have not elected to qualify for federal Social Security benefits, he said.

Under the proposed formula for general employes, annual pension would be equal to years of village service multiplied by the sum of 1.2 percent of the first $4,200 of "final average salary" and 1.7 percent of the excess over $4,200. ("Final average salary" usually is the average annual pay of an employee during the final five years of his employment.)

Currently, the pension is equal to years of service multiplied by the sum of 1 percent of the first $4,200 and 1.5 percent of the excess over $4,200.

Under the proposed amendment, a general employe with a "final average salary" of $7,000 who retires after 30 years of service would receive an annual pension of $2,940 a month, or $245 a month, compared with $2,520, or $210 a month, under the present plan.

A general employe must have at lease 10 years of service and be age 60 to qualify for a pension.

Under the proposed formula for policemen, annual pensions would be equal to 2 percent of "final average salary" for each year of service through 25 years and 1 percent for each year over 25 years. Currently, the formula is 1.5 percent of "final average salary' for each year of service.

A policeman with 30 years of employment and a "final average salary" of $8,300 would receive an annual pension of $4,565 or $380.41 a month, under the proposed amendment, compared with $3,735, or $311.25 a month, under the present plan.

A policeman may retire at age 55 if he has 10 years of village service.

Public Is Invited To Bon Secours

People who contribute to patient care will be spotlighted during observance of National Hospital Week by Bon Secours Hospital May 12-18. Theme for tthe 1968 National Hospital Week is "People Caring for People."

In recent years the public's attention has been focused on the tremendous technological advances hospitals have made. Certainly, new and sophisticated machines and techniques have helped immeasurably, but unfortunately it is too often forgotten that human hands must operate the machines, and that technology is useless without technologists.

There are more than 200 job classifications within a hospital's walls, ranging from accountant to X-ray technician. Others are laboratory technician, engineer, laundry worker, housekeeper, maintenance worker, dietician, cook, kitchen helper, purchasing agent, therapist, pharmacist, chaplain, personnel officer, clerk, medical record librarian, and social and welfare worker. All have a common goal—better patient care—and a firm belief that a hospital is truly "People Caring for People."

National Hospital Week, sponsored by the American Hospital Association, is celebrated annually to emphasize the vital community role played by the more than 7,000 hospitals throughout the nation. This year, the observance begins on the birthday of Florence Nightingale, whose efforts led to the establishment of the first hospital schools of nuursing.

The public is invited to view Bon Secours Hospital's displays from various departments in science on Thursday, May 16, and Friday, May 17, from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the Science Hall.

There are about 11,000,000 victims of leprosy in the world. For 75 cents, UNICEF provides enough sulfone to treat one of them successfully for three years.

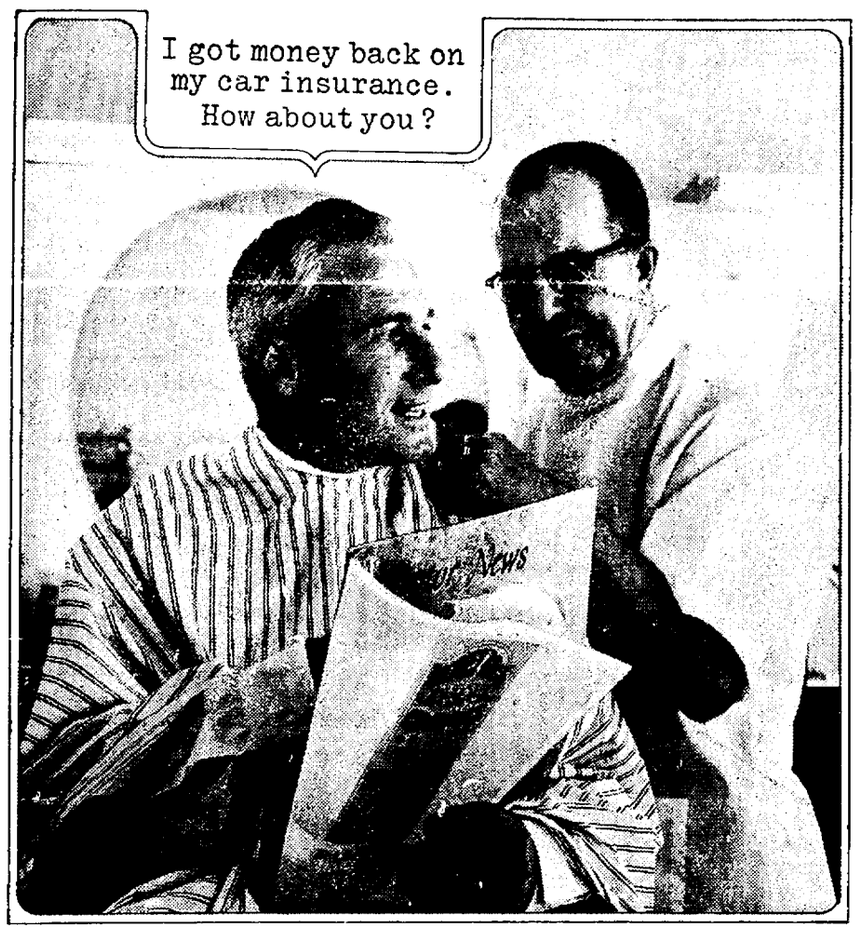

OKAY CONTRACT

At its regular meeting held on Monday, May 6, the Farms council awarded a contract to the Ajax Asphalt company to recap city streets. The firm offered to the job for a total bid of $54,526.50, the lowest of four bids submitted.

WOMAN HURT

Farms police took a report in which it was disclosed that Jane L. Thompson of 20612 Wedgewood, fell in front of 121 Kercheval on Friday, May 3, and injured her right wrist, knee and eye. Her coat was also torn. She refused medical attention at the time.

Social security provides monthly cash payments to widowed mothers and children of deceased workers. Some 25 percent of all social security beneficiaries are receiving survivors benefits under these provisions of the law .

Is your family being exposed to harmful X-Rays by your Color TV set?

A simple scientific device, marketed by Laboratory Analysis, Inc., can now be used to determine the presence and intensity of X-Ray emission, if present, from a color TV set in the positions used for seating, while the set is in operation in the home.

The color TV set owner can set the Video-Monitor device up in minutes. The device, after exposure, is returned to Laboratory Analysis by mail, which reports back to the home-owner on the level of X-Ray emission from his set. The Video-Monitor device operates on the same principle as that used by scientific workers in laboratories where X-Ray and radioactive isotopes are used.

Governmental concern over the potential danger from X-Ray radiation by color TV sets is reflected by current hearings on the matter in Washington. The Surgeon General and the Public Health Service have advised that the potential for harm is low, but high enough that this danger should be avoided by maintaining a minimum viewing distance of 6 to 10 feet from the front of the set, and avoiding any prolonged exposure to the rear and sides of the set while it is in operation. At the same time that this warning was given, however, it was also noted that young children tend to watch television from much closer viewing distances.

In a government survey in the Washington area, some X-Ray emission was found from 268 of the 1,124 sets surveyed. In this sample, one out of 16 sets was dangerous according to standards set by the National Council for Radiation Protection and Measurements.

Improper shielding of certain tubes within color TV sets is the main cause of excessive X-Ray emission. In some cases, rear-of-set adjustments, made by set owners or TV repairman, to improve picture quality, will result in increased voltage within the sets, and a consequent hazardous increase of X-Ray output.

Use coupon, below, to order Video-Monitor Kit. You will receive complete, simple instructions, plus Video-Monitor unit. After exposure, you return Video-Monitor Unit to us, in postage pre-paid envelope, and within ten days, you receive, from us, an easily understood analysis of our findings. Your satisfaction guaranteed, or money refunded. $6.75 fee is all inclusive. There are no other charges.

Young Pointer Exhibits At Youth Science Fair

A senior at Grosse Pointe High School, Dale S. Johnson, 18, will be among the young scientists from many parts of the world who will compete and display exhibits to the public at Detroit's Cobo Hall next Thursday and Friday.

Detroit's representatives at the International Science Fair will be Ernest Bernard, 17, a senior at Catholic Central High School. The Fair will be the first of its kind ever held in Detroit. Both boys were Grand Award winners in the Metropolitan Detroit Science Fair in April.

Co-sponsors of both fairs are The Detroit News, and the Engineering Society of Detroit. The International Fair is being supervised by Science Fair Service, Inc., of Washington, D.C.

Winners of more than 400 local and regional fairs in the United States, Canada, Germany, Japan and other foreign courtries will bring their prize-winning exhibits here on May 13.

Set Up Exhibits

The young winners competing in the International Fair will be setting up their exhibits in Cobo Hall on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. The Fair will be open to the public from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. on Thursday, May 16 and from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Friday, May 17. There is no charge for admission.

For the high school scientists, the most important time will be Wednesday night when they will be interviewed, at their exhibits, by members of the judging committee. This committee, which numbers more than 100 scientists and educators, will decide which will win the coveted Science Fair Awards.

In addition to the Science Fair awards, 34 other organizations including the Armed Services, will make their own awards.

Health awards, in dentistry and medicine, will be made at a dinner on Thursday night, other special awards will be made at a convocation at 9 a.m. Friday and the Science Fair awards will be made at the final banquet on Friday night.

During their stay in Detroit, the entire official party—a total of more than 1,200 people including contestants, parents, teachers and local fair officials will take a number of tours in the Detroit area.

The entire group will be the guests of General Motors Corporation for a day-long visit on Wednesday to the GM Tech Center in Warren which will include a parade of automobiles of the past, present and future.

Other tours available will include the Cranbrook Institute of Science, Wayne State University, Detroit Edison Co., Chrysler Corp., Cadillac Assembly Plant, Great Lakes Steel Co., Ford Scientific Laboratory, Burroughs Corp., and Marathon Oil Co.

ST. PAUL FORENSIC

After winning in its respective district and regional contests the St. Paul Multiple Reading group tied for third place in the state competition on Saturday, May 4. Cyrano de Bergerac, St. Paul's entry, participated in two preliminary rounds in the morning.

After having received of a first and a second during the first round, St. Paul's received another first, then two fourths and a second in the final round, enough to tie them for third.

Tony Provenzano, Gail Fayad, Robert Browning, and Jim Hayes were awarded certificates of excellence for their performance.

Retiree Takes On New Post

The joint announcement of Dr. Edwin L. Harmon's retirement on June 1 as medical director of Michigan Blue Cross and his appointment effective July 1 as a full time consultant to the Michigan Bureau of Medical Services was announced today.

Dr. Harmon, 67, of 745 Bedford road, has been medical director of the 4½ million member health care organization since 1958.

In announcing his retirement, Blue Cross Pres. Wm. S. McNary said:

"This formal retirement takes from us the services of a very fine gentleman of unusual ability. I'm happy, however, that by accepting a position in the State Department of Health, he will continue to serve the people of Michigan."

McNary said Dr. Harmon's position as head of the 75-man Medical Division will be filled by Dr. Harold L. Tremain, who has been assistant medical director since 1962.

In Lansing, Dr. R. Gerald Rice, director of the Michigan Department of Public Health, said:

"We're fortunate that this nationally-renowned health care expert is available to us as a consultant. Dr. Harman is remarkably equipped to help delinete the standards for services in hospitals."

In his time with Blue Cross, Dr. Harmon has formulated medical policy and supervised the specialized medical review of a caseload that last year included 560,000 inpatient hospital cases and an even greater number of outpatient cases. Together they accounted for the payment in 1967 for members' health care of more than a quarter billion dollars.

An expert on quality hospital care costs, Dr. Harmon quickly built a national reputation through his pioneering work for Michigan Blue Cross on periodic reverification of long-stay hospital cases, coordinated home care and organized utilization review.

He and his wife, Alathea, who have three grown children, will continue to maintain their home in Bedford road, but will live during the week in an apartment in Lansing.

Scared Dog, with Pups, Longs for Human Touch

By Pepper Whitelaw

It was a hot July day when a car pulled up in front of a house on Windmill Pointe drive, deposited an object . . . gunned the motor . . . and took off. A convalescent looking out of his bedroom window shook his head in disbelief as he discovered that the "object" was a "mostly-German Shepherd" that was very enciente, and had been deserted.

That was the beginning of not-quite two-year-old "Girlie's" woeful adventures in Grosse Pointe Park . . . we hope the ending of her story will be much happier.

"Girlie," a strange, shy and elusive dog never permits a human to touch her . . . she is afraid! Residents of the area conducted a thorough search for her and her puppies but to no avail.

Finally, "Girlie" appeared at the door of Judge Carl Weideman's house . . . no longer enciente. The Weidemans put food out regularly for her, and just as regularly "Girlie" would slip into the yard during the early morning hours, eat, and once again disappear.

The cold winter set in. "Girlie" continued to roam the neighborhood. For a while she met a domestic at the bus stop promptly at 7:45 a.m., walked her to her destination on Westchester road, always at a safe distance, then disappeared.

Then on Berkshire road, one fine day, Mrs. Thomas Douglas, a director of the Anti-Cruelty Association, saw her. She fed "Girlie" and tried to make friends with her, but "Girlie" was too frightened to respond. After all, one human-being had disillusioned her . . . she was not about to be disappointed again! She once again stole away.

Burrows Under House

The Park Police periodically had calls from residents who spotted "Girlie" wandering in their neighborhoods, but "Girlie" always eluded them . . . even crawling under fences and over walls to avoid them . . . she was still afraid.

As the weather grew colder, "Girlie's" coat grew long, nature's way of protecting her animal friends. But "Girlie" still needed a warm spot for her very own. She finally found just the right spot by burrowing under a house. The owner of the home found her and called the police. The police patiently removed "Girlie" from her self-made trip . . . but once again she was too quick and too frightened. She fled her would-be benefactors.

In March "Girlie" was once again sighted and once more pregnant. Mrs. Douglas spotted her fleetingly one day, so she called Park police, and asked them to call her if anyone reported finding puppies.

Just a month later Cpl. George Blair called and said that Mrs. Robert Kennel, of Middlesex road, had reported finding seven puppiets underneath the bushes in her yard. The police picked them up and the Anti-Cruelty Association came for them, but decided to return the three smallest puppies to the bushes so "Girlie" could continue feeding them.

Two other puppies were given a good home by Sgt. Gordon Duncan of the Park police and his family who fed them with baby bottles until they were old enough to be weened.

Returns to Feed Pups

The search for "Girlie" continued. The Park police, teenagers, the Anti-Cruelty Association, and Mrs. Douglas, all searched the area, but "Girlie" could not be found. Periodically she would return to Middlesex road, in the wee hours, feed her puppies and disappear again. Nets, tranquilizers, and just plan chasing couldn't capture her.

Finally last week Mrs. Kennel transferred the puppies, then about four weeks old, to her garage. "Girlie," being a good mother, followed them in. Then the Anti-Cruelty Association sent Carl Malzan, humane officer, to get "Girlie." He set up high fencing over the garage door, threw a leash around "Girlie's" head and led her into a cage.

With a sad show of resignation "Girlie" let herself and her puppies be led away to a vereranarian's office. There she and her puppies were checked and found to be in A-1 condition.

The Anti-Cruelty Association is planning to have "Girlie" spayed. She'll then be in perfect shape. She is self-sufficient enough to survive well in a garage or doghouse . . . if anyone will have her . . . anyone that is, who is willing to give her love, and security and who will try to renew her faith in human beings.

Her puppies, all males, black, fat and healthy, need someone of their very own, too . . . could that someone be you? If so call the Anti-Cruelty Association at TWinbrook 1-7188. After all "Girlie" and her puppies are Grosse Pointers. Let's find them Pointe homes.

County Property Value Reaches 10-Billion Mark

Equalized value of property in Wayne County has increased half a billion dollars to a record total of $10-billion, according to figures approved by the County Board of Supervisors.

The equalized property valuation for the 31 cities and 12 townships in Wayne County was approved by the county board recently. The figures were recommended by the supervisors' equalization committee after it held hearings with all local assessing officers who wished to appear.

The total equalized value of all taxable property in Wayne County was set at $10,050,326,805. This is $540,456,390 above last year's total of $9,509,870,415. The figures are subject to approval by the Michigan Tax Commission.

The purpose of equalization is to assure that each local community carries its proportional share of the over-all county property tax load. The county property tax is based on equalized value rather than local assessed value. Most communities spread their local property tax on equalized value. However, the equalization committee is not empowered by law to correct inequities that exist among individual taxpayers in local communities.

The total assessed value of taxable property in the county came to $8,537,428,421. A total of $1,512,898,384 was added to this for the purpose of equalization. The total assessed value last year was $8,110,437,095.

For the first time, the equalized value of property outside Detroit exceeded the equalized value of property within the county's largest city.

Detroit Value Drops

Property inside Detroit accounted for 49.01 percent of the total equalized value, compared with 59.99 percent for the out-county total. Last year, Detroit's share was 50.55 percent.

Detroit's assessed value increased from $4,807,697,930 last year to $4,812,570,660 this year.

Charles E. Morley, director of the County Bureau of Taxation, said the increase in the out-county's proportion is due mainly to new construction and increased sale prices in the suburbs.

Out-county cities accounted for 42.06 percent and townships for 8.93 percent of the total equalized value.

The assessed value of property in nine cities and one township was accepted for purposes of equalization. Those are Allen Park, Grosse Pointe Farms, Grosse Pointe Woods, Highland Park, Inkster, Northville, River Rouge, Riverview, Woodhaven and Northville Township.

The assessed valuation for all other cities and townships was increased by varying amounts in the equalization process.

Representatives of several out-county communities objected to the equalized figures on the floor of the board meeting. The recommended figures were approved by a 79-23 vote.

Dearborn Heights Mayor John L. Canfield, chairman of the Board of Supervisors, objected to the figures, but voted for approval because, he said, rejection at such a late date would "throw the whole (assessing) process into turmoil."

Objectors charged that too much of the tax burden is put on residential property owners under the present standards set by the Michigan State Tax Commission for determining the value of residential property.

In its report, the equalization committee said it is not convinced that present equalization procedures, as established by the state, are "the best possible soluion to the many problems of equitable equalization of assessments."

The committee said it will meet with the Stae Tax Commission "in an effort to establish better standards to improve the quality of State and County equalization throughout the state."

People who shout about individual rights often forget that the Constitution talks about the general welfare.

Judd Arnett Says

He's Selling Progress

BY JUDD ARNETT

IF METROPOLITAN DETROIT did not have the likes of Joseph L. Hudson, Jr., we would have to invent him. And since people-at-large have been bungling things right and left of late, he is doubtless fortunate that the Good Lord beat us to him.

It is only co-incidental to what follows that Mr. Hudson is a Merchant Prince, the pride and hope of the dry goods and staples empire which shares his name. Merchant Princes aren't exactly a dime a dozen these days, but they are much more plentiful than Grade A Civic Leaders, and it is in the latter category that we shall consider this energetic and purposeful man who is but 37 tender years of age.

Joe Hudson . . .

. . . came into the full view of the public eye late last July in the immediate aftermath of the Detroit riots when it was announced that he had been selected to head an organization to be called "The New Detroit Committee."

The announcement came in a joint communique from George Romney and Jerome P. Cavanagh. Immediately, some of the older and more cynical heads around town assumed that the Governor and the Mayor had deftly shifted a large monkey, perhaps even a gorilla, to Mr. Hudson's untested back. Among these observers the odds were no better than six, two and even that he would escape this experience with pelt intact.

To the best of my knowledge, no one has ever undertaken a count of the committees in existence throughout this fair land, but it is probably safe to say that there are at least ten million of them. Committee-making is one of our principal industries, in government and out, and it thrives despite the fact that very few ever pass quality control.

Whenever the chairman of the board of Amalgamated Posthole, or the president of the Ladies' Wistaria Association, faces a knotty problem, another committee is born. Congress, the various legislatures and city councils from Maine to California are over-run not only by committees, but by committees of the committees. It is said, too that the camel was the result of a committee which set out to produce a horse.

Anyhow, it was against this backdrop of cynicism — "Here we go again, another committee!" — that young Joe Hudson assumed the leadership of New Detroit. Worse, his task seemed complicated by the fact that his board of directors was composed of strong-willed industrial, union and civil rights militants who were accustomed to sitting at the right hand of God when earthly decisions were made. This, then, was a "blue-ribbon committee," which can be the most impossible of all.

But a few days ago a remarkable document in the form of a "Progress Report of the New Detroit Committee" came to the public. It is unfortunate that the metropolitan newspapers are still caught up in what someone has called "The Great Bullheadedness" and thus cannot bring it to you in toto. But you can buy it at the newsstand for one dollar, and it will be money well spent.

There is some slight prejudice here in respect to the Progress Report since your commentator was privileged to write a very small piece of it. Two weeks in the committee offices with three other ink-stained wretches, with full access to files and memoranda, left a conviction: This is an honest accounting to the public, with nothing swept under the rug.

In Reality . . .

. . . Progress Report is a chronicle of failure, not of the committee per se, not of the City or State administrations specifically, but of the whole system of society. It tells us again (as the Kerner Report did earlier) that America in this terribly late hour is not yet geared or motivated to deal with the problems which have been with us for decades—yea, centuries. It will not make pleasant reading in those lily-white areas where there is even now a false sense of remoteness from strife and turmoil; but where it rubs let it rub, where it pinches let it pinch; the truth must be worn.

Finally, it seems to me that Progress Report relates the principal weakness of the New Detroit Committee—that it did not in the beginning become a money raising and dispersing agency, but chose, rather, to be the causer of good deeds. A noble decision, perhaps, but what this area still needs is fifty million dollars in "seed money."

Nonetheless, Joseph L. Hudson, Jr. has performed brilliantly in a difficult assignment. We ought to run him for something!

Nation's Catholics Eye Archdiocesan Fund Drive

One quarter of the nation — approximately 50 million American Catholics—will watch with interest the fate of Detroit's Archdiocesan Development Fund campaign, which was launched last Sunday. It will continue through May 20 and is expected to yield over a million dollars to help people trapped in inner-city ghettoes.

The collection, in effect, will be a test "pilot model" of a program which the nation's Catholic cardinals, archbishops and bishops strongly urged for all United States Catholics at their recent national conference in St. Louis, Mo. Detroit's archbishop, the Most Rev. John F. Dearden, was the presiding officer.

The collection in the eight-county Archdiocese of Detroit (Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, Lapeer, Lenawee, Monroe, Washtenaw and St. Clair Counties) was the subject of sermons in all parishes at all Masses Sunday, May 5. Priests emphasized that the effort will stress creativity, not blindly follow old patterns.

"No cure-alls will be tried," said the Very Rev. Father John R. Hogan, priest-chairman who is pastor of Port Huron's St. Edward on the Lake Parish. "The object will be to tailor-make programs to meet needs actually in existence in particular cases. There will be no hand-outs, and the soup-kitchen approach will be shunned. The aim will be to find ways to cope realistically with the problems of inner-city life, particularly of deep poverty, and to seek to establish a pattern that others may follow."

Typical Attack

The money will be spent chiefly in the areas spotlighted by the American bishops in St. Louis as the pressing areas of need: housing, job opportunity, medical care, education and job training, and full realization of purchasing power.

A typical attack in the housing area will involve a self-help program to rehabilitate substandard housing to the point where a special mortgage can be obtained, allowing inner-city residents to become home owners. In this program, as in many under study, the money would be recovered for reuse.

Job opportunity will consist of discovering skills and places to use them. Medical care will involve bringing health services to people unable to obtain them unassisted. Education and job training will cover projects for non-graded schools in which each child may progress at his own individual rate as well as a program of simple helps for job seekers penalized by a lack of literacy.

In poverty areas people pay from 40% to 60% more for necessities than do residents of plush suburbs. Co-operative buying plans and other means will be used to help those trapped in the ghetto get as much for their dollars as they could if they lived elsewhere.

Teams of thousands of volunteers will take this message directly into homes following Sunday Masses, seeking contributions to the Fund which is now in its 26th year.

Hannan YMCA Launches Drive

The Hannan YMCA will launch its World Service Drive for $1,500 to help strengthen YMCA work in 39 countries around the world. The campaign kick-off with a World Service chicken dinner is May 18, 5 to 8 p.m., at Hannan YMCA, 10401 E. Jefferson.

World Service Drive Chairman, Joseph Kozlin, explained the Branches' drive is part of a continent wide YMCA effort to raise 3 million dollars in 1968 for its overseas work. The major portion of the funds raised in North America will go to support 54 North American YMCA men overseas. They will serve as fraternal secretaries in 31 countries of Africa, Asia, Europe, South America, and the Middle East. In addition, 10 recent college graduates will be sent abroad as Student World Service workers.

World Service, which started in 1889 enters countries by invitation only to help them in the task of nation-building.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

I believe there is merit in bringing to your attention the following article: "The Ladies Home Journal," May 1968 issue, entitled "America's Ten To High Schools" — Pages 68, 69 and 137.

On page 137 appears an "Editors Guide—Ten Questions For You To Ask About Your High School."

I would appreciate, if possible, the Grosse Pointe News printing any comments educated members of the School Board here might volunteer in answer to question number 10.

Sincerely,
Gloria Mead

(Editors Note: Question number 10 asks, "What is the school atmosphere? Are teachers enthusiastic? Students stimulated? Is there a spirit of cooperation between the school board, the superintendent and the faculty? Is there a respect for learning?")

Dear Editor:

Pepper Whitelaw's mighty fine front page story of March 14 with picture of two of our Senior Girl Scouts was the subject of considerable admiration at our recent Board of Directors meeting.

Mrs. Charles Fisher of Merriweather Road kindly saved the paper for me and shared it with standing committee chairmen meeting at her home. Of course, we poured over all the other articles, too, particularly your editorial regarding rumors.

We want to thank Pepper Whitelaw for doing such a good job on the story about local girls selected for some of the unusual opportunities provided Girl Scouts on a regional, national and international level. This will doubtlessly inspire younger girls to extend themselves in some of our exciting and challenging programs so as to be prepared for such future opportunities.

Most cordially,
Mrs. Francis E. Rice
Chairman,
Public Relations

Dear Mr. Edgar:

Success of a project is due to a considerable extent to the all-out work of the members on a committee but more importantly to the cooperation of the local newspapers. It is with this thought in mind that I would like to express my deepest appreciation and thanks to you and members of your staff, particularly Jan Mueller, for the help you have given us on the recent Ruth Burczyk Benefit Piano Recital for the Summertime Music Scholarship Fund. You very generously allowed space for us in your newspaper at a time when space was undoubtedly at a premium. I can't thank you enough!

What the exact amount of the proceeds is, I don't know at this time, but I'm happy to say that ticket sales and contributions were excellent. We feel the whole endeavor was a huge success.

Very truly yours,
Jean Zimmerman
(Mrs. Roy)

Dear Friends:

As you perhaps know, the city council of Grosse Pointe Farms is prohibiting all door to door soliciation by civic and health organizations. They, however, will permit a mail campaign to be carried out.

Inasmuch as it is cancer we're fighting, not the city council, we urge everyone to give as generously as possible. This will help the American Cancer Society, Wayne County Unit in its programs of research, education and service to cancer patients.

Will you kindly send your donation to Mrs. Charles MacKinnon, 217 Muir, Grosse Pointe Farms, Michigan 48236. She will see that you get a receipt for income tax purposes. Please make check payable to the American Cancer Society.

Fight cancer with a check-up and a check.

Thank you.

Sincerely,
Lawrence Gubow

Roland Road Residents Protest Closing

cause drivers would come from the other streets.

Mayor Butlr said that he, and the members of the council, are fully aware that Roland-Maison is a "sensitive area," and recommended that Chief Roh undertake further study on several points suggested by the residents, and present his findings to the council at a regular meeting to be held on Monday, June 3.

The chief will study the following: 1. How best to slow down traffic on the affected streets; 2. Whether it would be practical to put up no commercial parking signs between Mack to the alley on Roland, or to the "Y" junction at Maison; 3. Investigate if it would be beneficial to install parking meters from Mack to the alley, or to the "Y"; 4. Check and see if the party store on the corner of Mack and Roland is complying with conditions imposed when its beer and wine license was approved, to determine if this is causing parkling problems, and to see what can be done; and 5. What, if anything, can be done concerning Lot 187, in cleaning up and making it more attractive to the neighborhood.

The area residents also asked that the owner of the Mack-7 Restaurant be contacted, and that he be asked to urge his customers to park in parking lot across Mack avenue.

The mayor urged the residents to form their own committee to study the parking and traffic problem, and to advise the council what decisions they would like to see made, and to bring their findings to the June 3 meeting.

Fred Mulhauser, Wayne State University's tennis coach, formerly was an assistant basketball coach at WSU, his alma mater.

Basketball guards John Bailey and Tom Steenken also are members of the Michigan State varsity golf team.

Woods Meeting Draws Crowd

The Woods Council Chambers were filled to capacity on Monday, May 6. Most of the audience were residents of Allard avenue, who were requesting that the Allard barrier be replaced. The barrier had the effect of allowing the Allard residents in that block to use Allard as a two-way street while allowing through traffic to use it as a one-way street westbound.

In a sometime heated discussion, Allard residents asked and answered questions of Council members. They told the Council that they had conducted a check of their own on the traffic in the area.

Director Allen H. Andrews explained that other than the first block of Allard, Allard did not get anymore traffic than many residential streets in the Woods. He added that he had taken an exhaustive study of this area.

The residents, in a letter to Director Andrews, asked that they be relieved of the over-increasing flow of traffic to and from both the Expressway and the bridge. They said that the street had become a speed strip, a heavily traveled thoroughfare and unsafe for children.

Director Andrews said that before the barrier was removed studies were taken on traffic at the Allard ramp in November of 1966 showing that the ramp was averaging 3,789 cars for a 24 hour period. After the ramps were opened beyond the Harper Woods City limits the ramp was showing 1,092 cars for a 24-hour period, a decrease of 68 percent.

He added that with the opening of the Expressway, the traffic on other streets in the immediate vicinity was down 40 percent. He said with these figures it was thought proper to remove the barricade at Harper and Allard.

He said he did not have figures available prior to the removal of barricades for Allard between Arthur and Harper but this stretch is now carrying about 2,335 cars per day, and though this is a large increase over what they have been carrying, it is not an excessive amount in view of the location.

Director Andrews stressed that since the change there have been no reported collisions on Allard (during this five month period) attributable to removal of the barrier.

He concluded with the information that his department saw no developing pattern of collisions since the increased eastbound traffic; and added that the five months before and after are not the same months of the year and the comparision period is too short for the amount of traffic to be considered valid.

He said further that the only significant change in traffic conditions from an engineering or public convenience point of view, when viewed in relation to similar streets in our community, has taken place in the first block of Allard east of Harper. Taking into consideration the increased growth in the city since 1960, the increased number of vehicles in the area, the increase is less proportionately than one would have expected. He said that in 1960, 2,800 cars per day traveled Allard. Today 2,300 cars travel Allard, that is 500 cars less daily than 8 years ago.

The matter was then referred to a committee composed of a representative of Allard residents, Council members and Director Andrews for further discussion and study. The Council and Director Andrews assured the residents that they would do their best to come to some sort of a conclusion within a 30 day period, since the residents wished the matter settled before the children are dismissed for summer vacation.

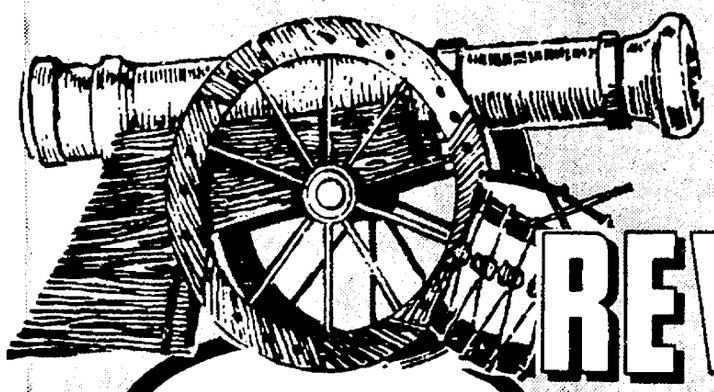

Director Andrews told the NEWS that he is requesting that City Manager Chester Peterson call in an outside traffic engineer for further consultation on the matter.

War Memorial Campaign $15,000 Short of Goal

Grosse Pointe War Memorial's annual family participation campaign is still $15,000 short of the $80,000 needed to operate in the fiscal year beginning August 1.

In order to try to close the gap, a second follow-up letter and postage free remittance envelopes will be sent to previous givers of record beginning next week.

To all who enjoy the Memorial's facilities and activities but have never previously shared in the overhead and maintenance of the institution, this is a public appeal to give whatever amount is possible, after weighing the worth of this cultural and community Center which uses no tax dollars or United Foundation Fund. No gift is too small, and all are income tax deductible.

The Association's board of directors were very pleased with the early response to the campaign, and still hope to be able to anniunce the achievement of the goal by Memorial Day. Mail and telephone follow-up plus public appeal will be used.

The War Memorial still earns three-quarters of its budget in spite of rising costs, but the directors are dependent for the remaining one-quarter on the Grosse Pointe community, which the Center serves as a meeting place and where programs for all ages are developed to enrich the Grosse Pointe family life.

Lectures, panel discussions, concerts, films, exhits, classes, and social and recreational activities, plus free services such as hospital equipment, cancer pads, and blood, are all part of the picture of this unique and beautiful "Living" War memorial.

Recent donors whose gifts have helped sustain the drive and whom the War Memorial Association wishes to publicly thank include:

Clinic Day Held At Bon Secours

Dr. Abdol Islami of staff of St. Barnabas Hospital, Livingston, N.J., and Memorial Hospital for Cancer and Allied Diseases of the Sloan-Kettering Institute, New York, discussed "Surgical Treatment of Hepatic Tumors" at the 20th annual Clinic Day at Bon Secours Hospital before a large and interested group of staff members, interns, residents and physicians of the community.

Dr. Islami reported on his extensive experience in research and clinical practice in this area. He has been engaged with Dr. George Pack at Memorial Hospital for many years in the surgical treatment of diseases of the liver particularly cancer.

Calling upon his long study of these cases he noted that there tends to be localization of tumors of the liver in one or both lobes and if one only is involved it may be treated effectively. Newer surgical techniques and better methods of examination, preparation and postoperative care have increased the possibility of success in an area previously considered beyond hope for improvement.

A highlight of the Clinic Day program was the presentation of the Holden Awards, given annually to the winners of the contest among Bon Secours Hospital Interns and Residents for the best original papers based on clinical medicine prepared in a manner suitable for publication.

Six excellent papers were entered in the contest. The Judges were Dr. Alfred Whittaker, Dr. Don Jones and Dr. Paul Chapman. Dr. Chapman praised the quality of the papers and presented the Awards as follows: First Award, Dr. Ronald Tesch, graduate of the University of Nebraska School of Medicine for his paper "Wilm's Tumors:" Second, Dr. Arthur Mancini of the University of Michigan, "Mammography;" Third, Dr. Romuald Szymanowski of the University of Ottawa, "A Time Activities Sheet," and Fourth, Dr. Claude Tabatabii of Tehran University, "Hereditary Epidermolysis Bullosa."

At the afternoon program abstracts of 14 original papers by staff members and interns and residents were presented.

Religious Film Set For Parcells

Religious film and a lecture will be shown at Parcells Junior High School, 20600 Mack Ave, at 7:30 p.m. on May 20.

The subjects of the films will be: Padre Pio and Garabandal Spain.

Padre Pio is an 81-yr.-old stigmatic who is the first Catholic Priest to bear the five wounds of Christ.

In Garabandal, Spain, four simple Spanish girls have been telling of having visits from the Mother of Christ and Our Lady's last message to the world.

The story will be related by Mrs. Dominic Cusumano, Jr., a member of Our Lady Star of the Sea Alter Society. We will also be fortunate to have Fr. Alphonas Breault, a very holy priest, who was in our area in February, visiting with the Cusumanos. Fr. Breault is followed everywhere by large crowds of people for his blessing of the sick.

There will be no admission charge and all are welcome.

GPARC Slates Annual Meeting

At the annual meeting on May 15, at 8:15 in the Grosse Pointe Public School Administration Bldg., 389 St. Clair, Mr. Robert Brown, president of the Grosse Pointe Association for Retarded Children, will summarize the achievements of the 1967-68 season, and outline objectives for the next year.

To do the job that needs doing, it is essential that every citizens concerned for the retarded, participate in the discussion planning for future goals.

The new slate of officers will be voted on at this time. These include, Mrs. Cass Pieronek for president Mr. Ralph Jackson, Vice-president, Mrs. Barry Cornwith, Treasurer, Mrs. Haldon Cornelius, Corresponding Secretary, and Mrs. Joseph Craig, Recording Secretary.

A volunteer visitors program, initiated by GPARC, is expanded to a Tri-County areas, and is now providing valuable assistance to parents of newly-diagnosed retarded child. Professional people are enthusiastically referring their families. Call Mrs. Pieronek, 881-7961.

Adult Activities Center and Workshop and Day Care Nursery for the profoundly multiple handicapped child, are gaps in services now being planned by GPARC, and cooperating agencies, to complete the total "Regional" center in our area for "trainable" children, those children and adults heretofore deemed severaly handicapped and uneducable in the regular classroom. The training program for those up to 21 years of age is now in its fourth year of successful operation. It is jointly supported by the Wayne County and Grosse Pointe Boards of Education.

Parents Should Call

It is important for the child's proper development that parents call Grosse Pointe Schools Special Services Department at 885-2000 for diagnostic and evaluation as early as two and three years old.

Swimming, gym and bowling classes have been operated through the year by the Neighborhood Club and the Grosse Pointe Public Schools. Volunteers train the children and help them play with amazing ability and enthusiasm. Again this summer the public schools will sponsor a day camp for trainables of all ages. Call 886-2000.

Goals for next year will include GPARC's continued efforts to assist and encourage the Northeastern Wayne County Child Guidance Clinic to add "Life-Planning Consultant for the Retarded" to their staff.

Supportive efforts of Grosse Pointe citizens are essential in the democratic process toward GPARC's goal of the complete regional center of programs and services for those not in normal school classrooms, regardless of the severity of their handicap. Tax-supported services are essential for on going security of children and the establishment of standards for protective and effective programming.

To receive the Association newsletter call Mrs. Jack Still, 886-1627. To join call Mr. Maurice Vermuelen. 881-7886.

Letter to Help Doctors-Parents

Doctors in the tri-county area are urged to watch their mail for a letter which could be of significant help to one of their present or future patients. The letter, from the Volunteer Visitors Program of the Tri-County Associations for Retarded Children, outlines the procedure for a new service being offered by all the local Associations for Retarded Children.

Any doctor who has had to tell parents that their child is mentally retarded knows how difficult it is to console the parents. After giving whatever medical advice he can, the doctor often recommends that the parents consult a psychologist or social worker for further help. Even these able professionals are aware of the limitations in the help they can give.

In this regard, Mr. Eugene Pettis, out-patient social service director at Plymouth State Home and Training School, has said: "The Volunteer Visitors Program is one of the most valuable supportive services for parents of children or infants diagnosed as mentally handicapped. As with many other self-help programs, I feel that only these parents can relate or convey the true feelings and experiences that many professionals cannot. We professionals can diagnose, help with life planning and so forth, but another parent has that little extra feeling of sensitivity when he says, "I know how you feel".

When the need arises, the doctor simply asks the parents if they would like to talk to someon from thir own community who has had a child like their own. Most people accept readily, since just knowing that they are not the only ones in their neighborhood with this type of child is a source of comfort. The doctor or his nurse

Park Little League Opens Season Wth 14 Games

Saturday was a day of sunshine, gray skies, some rain and cool temperatures but Park Little Leaguers were not deterred. Opening day is always the big one and all the players were on hand with anxiety and excitement.

MAJORS

The Braves, defending champions, started like they intended to repeat with a victory over the Giants 7-2. Bill Tocco was the winning pitcher, assisted by a homer off the bat of Anton Copty. Steve Peterson also homered in a losing cause.

Dave Smaha pitched the Cardinals to a 9-0 win over the Red Legs. Alan Kilian, subbing for the injured Jamie Gauthier caught the full game for the Red Legs.

Don Parthum, with 3 hits led the Pirates attack in a 9-0 win over the Dodgers.

Two great pitching performances highlighted the Athletics victory over the Senators 4-0. Tim Finan won with 15 strikeouts while giving up 2 hits. Steve Pemberton allowed 4 hits while fanning 13. Kevin McKernan and Dick Redmond each connected for doubles.

Tom Mathews, Donny Bartlett and Jeff Gardner hit for two bases as the Orioles were squeaking by the White Sox 2-1.

Dave Haddad homered to help Bill Schaffner and the Indians down the Yankees 4-3. The Yankees bunched all their runs in the fourth inning.

MINORS

Bruce Kennedy and J. O'Sullivan combined to pitch a one-hitter as Illinois lead Indiana 12-1. Summivan's grand slammer was also a big help.

While Northwestern was losing to Iowa, and its winning pitcher Higgins, Morgan and Vezina each hit triples. Higgins and Stieber whacked doubles for the winners.

The Marines were well fortified by P. Grout's pitching and R. Grout's 4 hits in winning 22-5 over Hawaii. Russ Herndon's 3 hits, including a triple, led the Islanders.

Michigan's Bill Kidd hit a single, double and triple as his team squeaked by Michigan State 28-27. Claude Weiller blasted a 4-run homer for State. Batts banged a round tripper as Alaska and Greg Huvaere won over Air Force 7-4. Adams collected two hits for the Flyers.

Wisconsin gave up grudgingly before bowing to Army 11-10 with Williams credited with a win.

The brother battery of Jim and Joe Fikany led Ohio State to a 17-15 win over Purdue. Doug Glendenning finished for Ohio and was credited with the victory.

Navy had its hitting clothes on, but still bowed to Ferris and his Minnesota teammates 7-6. Renfro singled twice, Gough singled and doubled, Souris singled and hit a homer, M. Harrison singled and tripled. McCafferty unloaded two triples for the winners.

Disabled People Hold Track Meet

The fourth annual Michigan wheelchair games, an Olympic-like track meet for quadriplegics, paraplegics, and other orthopedically disabled men and women, will be held May 10 and 11 at the Patton Park Recreation Center, 2301 Woodmere (off of Vernor) in southwest Detroit. The public is invited. There is no admission charge.

May 11 (Saturday): Archery at 7:30 a.m. at Patton Park, which will be followed at 9 a.m. with shotput, javelin, discus, wheelchair racing, wheelchair slalom, relays, and table tennis.

Teams expected to compete this year will be sponsored by the Michigan paralyzed veterans of America; the National Association of the Physically Handicapped; the Michigan Rehabilitation Institute; the Buffalo (N.Y.) Boosters; Grand Rapids Wheelchair Sports Club; Detroit Sparks; Ohio State University; Eastern Paralyzed Veterans and Wayne State University.

An awards banquet will be held at the conclusion of the games at the Whittier Hotel in Detroit at 7 p.m. The general public is invited. Tickets may be obtained from Jack DeGuvara, president, Michigan Wheelchair Athletic Club (Mich-Wac), 846 Drexel, telephone: VA 1-9831.

BABE RUTH LEAGUES

Babe Ruth baseball teams from the Park, City and Farms paid tribute to Ernie Bauer, late coach of Grosse Pointe High, in ceremonies marking the opening of the 1968 season. A moment of silence in his memory was observed before each game.

In further ceremonies at Kerby Field Mayor William Butler pitched the first ball to Councilman Richard Hudson. Both are past presidents of the Babe Ruth League. Commissioner Dick Williams presided at the ceremony.

At the Neighborhood Club, Commissioner Webb Knight and Treasurer Bill Pankhurst were in charge of the ceremony. Mayor David Burgess pitched the first ball to open the season. Sponsors were invited to the opening day ceremonies to meet the members of their teams. Commissioner Ben Hubbard and President John Moran presided at the afternoon ceremonies. Charlie Murtaugh was in charge of the opening day program.

Registration for Babe Ruth play was larger than any previous year. Five teams compose the National League. Last year's National League Champion, the Braves, is sponsored by the Pointe Park Sportsmen, parents of the team members. It is managed by Don McKenzie and coached by Don Briggs, Larry Ruppert and Chris Coury.

The Cardinals have John Cook Ford as a sponsor. John McShane is the manager with Jack Ramsdell and Phil Wettengast the coaches.

Charles Stumb Insurance Agency is again sponsoring the Giants. Paul T. Shirer is the manager and Bob Kennel the coach.

The Phillies are looking forward to a good year. Gil Metry the manager and Bob Tebelman, coach, would like to bring home a championship for their new sponsor, Ted Ewald Chevrolet.

The Dodgers, a perennial champion, hope to get back in the winner's circle with Fred Rohn as manager and Ed Albert coaching. Thompson-Cain Meat Company continues it's interest in local sports by sponsoring this team.

In the American League the question is can the Indians win it's third championship in four years? Chuck Campbell, the manager, is beginning the year without three of his starters who are playing High School ball. Coaches Harry Edsel, Bill Campbell and Joe Hinsberg are helping Chuck.

The Yankees, wearing the Woods Theatre plaque, have Mike Denyst managing and Jeff Hadden and Jim Motschall coaching.

The Critchfield family has great interest in the prospects of the Red Sox. Fred Critchfield, "Mr. Babe Ruth" himself, is responsible for the sponsorship of the team by the Electric Tool and Service Company. His son Bob is helping manager Mike Johnson as a coach.

The White Sox, runner up in last year's American League race, plans to be No. 1 this year with a new manager, Tod Pike, and with Ed Foote as coach. Charlie Casgrain, a former Babe Ruth president, is president of the sponsoring Mechanical Handling Systems Division.

Bill Frame is the new manager of the Tigers. He is helped by coaches Bob Weyhing, coming up from Little League, and John Donnelly a hold-over from last year's staff. Sears Roebuck is repeating as sponsor of this team.

All ten teams saw action as the Grosse Pointe Babe Ruth Baseball season got under way on Saturday, May 4th. Opening ceremonies paid tribute to the late Ernie Bauer, Grosse Pointe High School baseball coach.

In a morning game at Kerby field the Braves trounced the Tigers 12-0. Mike Getz, winning pitcher, struck out 15 and had a no-hitter until the last inning, when he gave up a single. Mike helped his own cause by belting a home run, a double, and a single.

The other morning game found the Cardinals besting the Indians by a score of 7 to 5. Trailing 3-2, the Cardinals rallied to score five runs in the fifth inning. The big sticks for the Cardinals were Frank Pollina, Dick MacLaughlin, and Mario Carachi. Winning pitcher was Tim Cornellie.

An afternoon game at Kerby Field found the Phillies victorious over the Yanks by a score of 6 to 1. Tom Dufour pitched five innings and claimed the victory, but he was aided by Tom Bailey who came on in the sixth. Leading the Phillies' attack were Mark Metry with two hits and Vito Toco who socked a home run and two singles.

In a game at the Neighborhood Club Field, the Red Sox defeated the Dodgers, 11-5. Winning pitcher was Chip Jehle. Jim Van Eman smashed a home run in a game that found the Red Sox collecting a total of 15 hits and the Dodgers 11.

Playing at the Grosse Pointe High School Field, the White Sox came from behind to defeat the Giants by a score of 6-3. Winning pitcher, Mark Saber, struck out 14 batters,

Dance Classes Planning Party

A complimentary Spring Party is planned for all the boys and girls in Mr. and Mrs. Ted Forest's dancing classes at Grosse Pointe War Memorial. It will be held in the Crystal Ballroom tonight from 7:30 to 10:00 o'clock. Each student has the privilege of bringing a guest.

Boys and girls are requested to wear church clothes—not formal party wear. Each will be given a favor and all will enjoy fancy hats and lots of refreshments. The latter will be served at tables in the division of the ballroom nearest the lake specially decorated by the older girls. The War Memorial is providing ice cream and punch and mothers of the students are adding sandwiches and cookies.

Dancing will be to a young band who will furnish rock 'n roll as well as the traditional dance music.

Plan Second Party to Honor Retiring Police, Fire Chiefs

A retirement party, jointly honoring Police Chief Arthur Louwers and Fire Chief William Graul, will be held at St. Maron's Hall, Kercheval and St. Jean, on Wednesday, June 12, beginning at 6 p.m.

The affair is entirely different from that planned to honor the chiefs under the sponsorship of a Grosse Pointe Citizens' Committee, headed by Wayne Circuit Judge Carl M. Weiderman and Carl Schweikart, at The Old Place (formerly Al Green's), 15301 East Jefferson, Monday evening, May 27.

The party at St. Maron's Hall is jointly sponsored by personnel of the Police and Fire Departments, and municipal employes, it was disclosed by City Manager Robert Slone, a member of this committee.

Serving on the committee besides Slone, are Fire Capt. Henry M. DeClerck, Police Lt. Gerard J. Kesteloot, Fire Lt. Philip M. Costa, Police Cpl. George B. Blair, Det. Cpl. James E. LaPratt, and Veronica C. Fodell, as treasurer; and Erma O. Nyiri, as secretary.

Admission will be by advance subscription of $5 a person, which includes dinner, refreshments and gifts.

Tickets, with remittances, may be applied for, and addressed to, Party Committee Treasurer Veronica Fodell, 15115 East Jefferson, Grosse Pointe Park, Mich., 48230 (VAlley 2-6200), not later than June 3.

Long Service Record

Chief Louwers will officially retire on Friday, May 31; and Chief Graul will leave on Sunday, June 30, which will be his last day on the job. They served the city for 38 years and 40 years, respectively.

Chief Louwers was appointed a probationary patrolman on the Park Department on June 12, 1930. He became chief on April 1, 1946 of the Detective Bureau.

Chief Graul was appointed a probationary fireman of his department on June 1, 1928, and on June 1, the following year was made a driver. He was named chief May 1, 1963.

The Park council, at a special meeting held on March 18, approved an ordinance which created the post of "Director of Public Safety," and approved the appointment of William P. Ellenburg, 48, of 4345 Devonshire, Detroit, to fill that position.

Ellenburg, who retired from the Detroit Police Department on Thursday, May 1, with the rank of district inspector, has been sworn in and will assume the position of director of public safety when Chiefs Louwers and Graul leave their respective departments.

Ellnburg, under the new ordinance, will be both police chief and fire chief, although the departments will function as separate units, and he will have all the discretion, powers and duties and responsibilities granted to the police chief and fire chief.

The new director, whose salary will be $14,000 a year, is married and the father of six children, four of whom still live at home. He is a World War II veteran, serving as an aircraft radio instructor with the United States Air Force from June 17, 1943 to July 8, 1946.

Patrol Boys Preparing For Trip

Grosse Pointe will be represented among the group of 130 Michigan Safety Patrol members invited to attend the the 32nd National School Safety Patrol Assembly, to be held in Gettysburg, Pa., on May 10 and 11. Two local boys, Doug Anderson, 12, a sixth grader at Barnes Elementary School and Steve Zaranek, 12, a sixth grader at Mason Elementary School, will make the trip. Doug is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elving Anderson, 60 Fairford, Grosse Pointe Shores. Steve's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Casimir Zaranek, 1686 Anita, Grosse Pointe Woods. Each year one or two boys with outstanding records in Safety Patrol activity are selected for a free all-expense paid tour. Both boys are Captains of the Safety Patrol in their respective schools. Shown here preparing for the trip are the boys and school staff members responsible for Safety Patrol activities in the schools. Pictured (left to right) are DR. ROGER O'CONNOR, principal of Barnes School; RONALD FERGUSON, fifth grade teacher and patrol sponsor; DOUG ANDERSON; STEVE ZARANEK; RICHARD MARKEL, Mason sponsor, and WILLIAM MESTDAGH, principal of Mason School.

St. Paul Law Day Winners

Five St. Paul students took an active part in the Law Day program held at the auditorium of St. Clare of Montefelaco Church on Thursday evening, May 1. Senior Jack Martin was a member of the panel. Four other students were contest winners. Susan DePonio received a $100 savings bond for her first place essay. Jim Webb was given an honorable mention for his essay. Two seventh graders received prizes for their posters. Richard Connally placed second, while Leo Hurley received an honorable mention.

RE-APPOINTMENTS

The Farms council, acting under two sections of the City Charter, on Monday, May 6, reappointed Councilmen James Dingeman and Mark Stevens to represent the Farms on the Retirement Commission, and Jean F. Mesritz and Earl I. Heenan as citizen representatives on the same commission. The latter two, who served in previous years, indicated a willingness to serve another year, as did the councilmen.

PRANK BACKFIRES

While on routine patrol City police observed four juvenile boys on Sunday, May 5, walking west in the curb lane of westbound Jefferson at Rivard. When the youths spotted the scout car they threw four floodlights to the ground. They told the officers they had taken the lights from 388 Lincoln as a prank. They were reprimanded. Their parents were notified.

GP High School Holds Elections

Recently elections were held at Grosse Pointe High School for Junior and Senior Class Officers and Student Association Officers. Here are the results: Dennis Wickline will be president of Grosse Pointe South Backing him up as Student Association vice-president will be Irene Cotzias. Letters calls the central referral office which is in the offices of the Detroit Association for Retarded Children, asks for the Volunteer Visitor Program, gives the doctors name and phone number and the general location of the family. The office then calls the local Volunteer Visitor Chairman (there are eight in the tri-county area) who then calls the doctor for details on the family which would help in selecting the proper Visitor or Visitor-couple. Type of retardation, size of family, ages of other children are taken into consideration in this selection.

It is most important that the doctor take the initiative in calling the Volunteer Visitors rather than simply suggesting it to the parents. During the early period of shock and grief most people are unable to act effectively in their own behalf, but, as parents who have been through this traumatic experience will affirm, this is the period during which talking to people "in the same boat" is possibly their only source of comfort. Aside from the empathy and understanding the Visitors can give, they can also stress the importance of professional guidance and consultation. And, from experience and observation they can caution the new parents against some of the mistakes often made by families at this time, such as blaming one side of the family or the other for the child's condition. A great strain is placed on any marriage in these circumstances and every effort should be made to strengthen the bonds which unify husband and wife and family, in order that they may as quickly as possible turn their thoughts and energy to the needs of all their children.

Brownell PTA Sets Last Meeting on May 15

Brownell Junior High School's last Parent-Teacher meeting of the current school year will be held next Wednesday evening, May 15.

Beginning at 7:30, all classrooms will be open to display student projects for parent perusal, while the girls' gym will house a large collection of student art work, arranged by instructors, Saralee Pearl and Al Ebert.

At eight o'clock, President Ernest Baker Jr. will call to order a brief business meeting of the association, and Chairman Keith Evans will present a slate of new officers for 1968-'69. Brief speeches by candidates for election to the Board of Education will then be given, to be followed promptly by the traditional fashion show of clothing made by Brownell seamstresses.

"Hurry, hurry, hurry! Come to the Brownell Fashion Fair of 1968"—so shouts Mike Rinke as he urges everyone to attend the last and largest fashion show provided by the three ninth grade clothing classes under the direction of Mrs. Evelyn Toll.

The show opens with speakers Robert Cianciolo, Sue Knop, Linda Boresch, Alane Gahagan, Cheryl Owens, June Severn and Rochelle Wilson arriving at the Fair—eager to watch this parade of spring and summer fashions.

Due to the summer Olympics there is much emphasis on sports this year. Three girls, Toni Mock, Pam Bremer and Karen Walker decided that an appropriate fashion would be the latest in sports outfits. Another group, Linda Dickerson, Kathy Solomon, Lisa Beckenhauer, Rosemary Roney, Joanne Knippenberg and Teri Ambrogia show a wide variety of colorful, casual wear. A bright spring collection of suits and ensembles feature Sue Speer, Sandy, Vicky Ulmer. Presenting their creations which are ready for "special occasions" are Barbara Lang, Diane Webster, Debbie Fleming, Pauiette Lavins, Christie Agne and Juliann Kroll.

Tailoring is usually reserved for competent sewers who are willing to learn advanced techniques. Three girls who created neatly tailored jackets to complement their dresses are Gwen Everitt, Cathy Noormann, and Connie Clark. The climax of the show will be the eleven students who have combined skill and ingenuity to create really stunning coat ensembles. Brownell is proud to present Sue Moesta, Margo Brown, Cathy Vermeulen, Rosemary Bagby, Connie Walker, Audrey Butki, Dee Meyer, Nancy Nixon, Marcy Gould, Ellen Kitzul and Amy Clark.

The show closes with Cyndie Candler modeling a long formal in a soft yellow with embroidered green flowers. At her invitation the grand finale of 70 girls will lead guests into the girls gym for refreshments.

A Day Of Memories

Next Sunday is Mother's Day. It is a day of fond memories for those whose mothers have passed beyond the gold-rimmed horizon . . . a day of rejoicing for those who still have close at hand the love of the one who bore them . . . and a day of happy visitation by those with lonely mothers confined to nursing homes.

A mother, touched by the hand of God, and blessed with children filled with pride in achievement, faith in humanity, and hearts filled with adoration, is holier than the Holies. She is more precious than the world's most fabulous gems. A mother's deep, tender and sincere regard for her children is, and always has been, the capstone of civilization. Her powers are limitless, her influence tremendous.

There are many too many sons and daughters who do not properly appreciate the worth of mothers until it's too late. Then, and only then, do they realize what a wonder woman their mother was.

Mother's Day should be one of happy recollection, or one of deep appreciation. It might also be a day of rededication to the high principles which most of us were taught at our mother's knee.

"If I were damned of body and soul, I know whose prayers would make me whole . . . Mother o' mine." Morbid? Perhaps some may think so, but Rudyard Kipling wrote those meaningful words from a lonely heart which longed for home and mother while visiting foreign shores.

No one can deny that mothers are geniuses of no mean ability. Most of them are Jills of all trades. They, perhaps are the most indispensable persons on earth.

They suddenly are called upon to become nurses, physicians, chefs, waitresses, maids, psychologists, bookkeepers, laundresses, teachers, chauffeurs, purchasing agents, plumbers, gardeners, zoo keepers, veterinarians, erferees, investors, seamstresses, and—you name it!

Thank the good Lord up above for the good mothers here on earth, and may He protect with His love those who have gone on before. .

Our Happy Candidates

'Twas far back in the pre-depression year of 1928, when a cocky, ebullient and loquacious New York Democrat named Alfred Emanuel Smith ran against an Iowa-born introvert named Herbert Clark Hoover for the office of President of the United States.

Extrovert Mr. Smith was soundly whipped by the millionaire philanthropist and world-renowned engineer, Mr. Hoover, by precisely a 444 electoral vote majority. Early in his campaign Al Smith adopted the sobriquet of "the Happy Warrior," which obviously is not alliterative. Herbert Hoover's name was.

Now, 40 years later, another extrovert, an exuberant, garrulous Democrat from Minnesota has stuck his finger into the Presidential pot. His name is Hubert Horatio Humphrey, which definitely is a fine example of alliteration. He immediately allowed as how his campaign would be "positive and happy." So he already has been tagged with a new nickname, "Happy Hubert" ("Hub," they called him back home), which also is alliterative any way you read it.

And, since then, Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York, has jumped into the race. His wife is widely known as "Happy." So it'll probably be "Rocky and Happy." But, even that combination is not alliterative.

Of course, one could go farther with this sort of thing. For instance, "Blithesome Bobby," "Joyful Gene," and "Delightful Dick." However, this seems to be going far too far. After all, who's going to vote for alliteration. Or will they?

Two Carefree Days

Having never before heard of him, why not let a man named Robert Jones Burdette write today's "Quickie Editorial?" He wrote: "There are two days in the week about which, and upon which, I never worry. Two carefree days, kept sacredly free from fear and apprehension. One of these days is Yesterday. And the other day I do not worry about is Tomorrow."

Dinner For Austin Honor Students

On Friday, May 10, more than 200 students will be honored at the Latin Quarter by their parents, fellow students, and the faculty of Austin Catholic Prep School.

The honored guests are students chosen by a joint Award Banquet Committee composed of Dads' Club members and student leaders. The students of the committee, with the faculty, have determined the criteria for being invited.

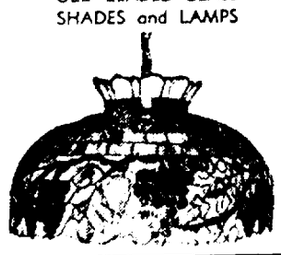

The invitees being honored have excelled in scholastic, athletic or extra curricular activities. It is expected that some 650 people will attend this event.

The general chairman of this year's Awards Banquet is Robert F. Cavanagh.

The faculty is represented on the committee by Father Albert J. Hillebrand, O.S.A., principal.

The Student Committee members are Tom Misuraca, Rick Evatz, John Agnone, Cameell Hanna, Brian Walch, Tony Vehar, Paul Beaupre, Mark Hodgman, Dan Cohan, George Niespolo, Mike Oliver and Tony Riccobono.

Your Public School In Focus

(Editor's Note: Today the News publishes the first of a series of interesting and informative depth columns concerning the Grosse Pointe Public Schools system, written by Dr. Anderson which should be a welcome addition to our readers in the area.)

By Dr. Theos I. Anderson, Superintendent of Schools

Last Tuesday morning an interested citizen called my office and said that when she received her May issue of the Ladies Home Journal she was indignant at not finding Grosse Pointe High School mentioned in the article, "Our Top Ten Schools."

I was not surprised that Grosse Pointe does not rank among the top ten in the article, but I was sufficiently intrigued by the call to read the article and to make some comments on it.

First, I note that the statement on criteria for selection states: "Mostly, the educators picked schools that use new methods of teaching and new ways of learning. Because these schools are recognized as the pioneers, they attract many of the very best teachers."

I think that those of you at all acquainted with our schools will realize that we are not now, and to my knowledge, have never been inclined to a leadership role in innovative practices. True, there are new projects conducted from time to time, at all levels, but I gather that we generally have adopted a "wait and see" attitude regarding curricular change. However, I might add that in our high school we are conducting many of the practices carried on in these ten schools, although perhaps on a modified basis.

For others among you who are miffed that Grosse Pointe was not included, let me quote another line from the article: "Our panelists pointed out that no expert can make a definitive list." You all realize, I am sure, that any list of the ten "best" movies, books, plays, golfers, or what have you is open to challenge.

I have noted since I arrived here July 1 that you are accustomed to mentioning your school system with the quality districts throughout the country. Yet you do not compare yourselves with them in terms of tax rates nor in per-pupil costs. I think in your collective bargaining process you are very wise to limit yourselves in comparison with 19 districts around here, because, in my opinion, we cannot be competitive with the best school systems in the country.

Please note how our per pupil expenditure of $747.11 compares with the 10 high schools cited in the article: Evanston, Ill., $1,280; Abington, Pa., $800; Beverly Hills, Cal., $1,050; Portland, Ore., $700; Melbourne, Fla., $450; New Trier, Ill., $1,300; Newton, Mass., $980; Nova, Fla., $450; Ridgewood, Ill., $960, and Roy, Utah, $552.

In commenting upon the success of Evanston Township High School in suburban Chicago, one teacher summarized the secret of the school's success succinctly: "Freedom and money." Incidentally, with all the furor and rumors over Grosse Pointe's about-to-be opened high school, I might add that Dr. Michael of Evanston told me recently that his district had spent over $13 million just to remodel its existing high school plant.

Next, let me comment briefly upon the matter of "rating" a school system. The Ladies Home Journal has had its fling at rating schools and I suppose next week The Saturday Evening Post may develop a similar project. Not to be outdone, we may expect a poll to be conducted at a future date by the Michigan Association of School Boards or the National Education Association.

Each group develops its own set of criteria for the "evaluation." In sizing up a suburban school system, the recent article (April 13) in Business Week says: "At the outset, be on the lookout for new ideas, new academic programs, experimentation in the local school system. These are healthy signs. They mark a progressive direction behind the schools. A rigid, formalized program is apt to be lagging behind the times." However, the criteria employed by almost all raters contain a number of similarities. For example, the second one in the list used by the Ladies Home Journal is: "How well does your community support its school financially?" Grosse Pointe's recent millage defeat is an indication of how we would rate if that criterion were applied to our district.

I hope I have made the point: there is no official rating system of schools in the United States. Still, we often get an inquiry such as this: "We are moving to Cincinnati and want to buy property in a suburb comparable to Grosse Pointe. How do the schools there rank?" We can only give the questioner a set of general criteria for him to apply to the new district.

Finally, I should mention that the quality of education in the United States has been under serious study recently. For the past several years the idea of a national assessment of education has been discussed. Such an activity would enable us to have comparative data on the questions that are likely to be asked with most frequency. The purpose of the nationwide assessment would be to provide data that can be used to examine the strengths and weaknesses of our nationwide educational system.

The proposed program contemplates testing a carefully selected nationwide sample of school children and adults every three or four years in several fields of knowledge appropriate to their ages. At the same time, collateral information would be obtained about the persons being tested and their families and their schools — so that investigators could carry out meaningful analyses of the test results.

The assessment aims to rally the ultimate educational policymakers — the American public — to the side of good educational planning and investment.

Neighborhood Club News

Perfect weather prevailed as the Clark Gassers and Texaco Stars opened the Neighborhood Club Softball season May 2, in an exciting contest with the Gassers winning 13 to 3.

The Gassers took an early lead in the first inning with 4 runs, adding 2 runs in the second as they held the Stars scoreless in the first 3 innings. The Stars held the Clark Gassers runless in the third inning when they pulled the only double play of the game, and then came back in the fourth inning to score their first run of the game.

The bottom of the sixth proved to be the turning point of the game with Pam Cain getting the game's third homerun, setting the pace for the Gassers sixth run inning, as they went on to win the game by retiring the Stars in order. The winning battery was Pat Monaghan (pitcher) and Mary McDonald (catcher) with fine back-up performances turned in by the other members of the Gassers: Jane Greifenstein, Wendy Bayes, Leslie Balan, Julie Heamon, Lisa Montague, Tris Lane, Julie Helin, Drema Kalajian, Carol Marinch, Martha Bott, Pam Perkins, Melissa Cox, Pam Cain with Mrs. Barbara Kelp and Mrs. Rosetta Kalajian coaching.

Turning in a fine performance for the Stars the battery was Cindy Pierce (pitcher) striking out six and walking none as Kim Kenks did the catching while the fine back up performance was handled by Kyle Marowske, Liz Moran, Pat Fellows, Barbara Bolton, Laurie VanHampler, Susan Mgk, Pat Bolton, Cathy Lavins, Becky Forbes, Suki Sherman, Jan Thornwaldsen, Jill Harter, Kathy Potter, Linda Conway, with Joan Curto and Jane Forbes coaching.

The Purple Pickles and the Sock-it-to-Me's met for their first game, Thursday, May 2 at Brownell Field. The Sock-It-To-Me's started the first inning with a single by Betsy Williams, double by Julie Cashman and a home run hit by Cathy Drexel, bringing in the runners for a three-run inning.

Ann Schmitz was walked to first for the Purple Pickles and brought home by Sue Gardiner, who hit a double, for their only score in the first inning. Carolyn Williams hit a homerun for the Sock-It-To-Me's with bases empty in the second to bring the score four to one. The Purple Pickles came back in the second with two runs scored by Karen Mahoney and Kim Mahoney, making the score four to three. The Sock-It-To-Me's big bats came out again with another home run in the third, hit by Mary Ellen McDonald. However, the Purple Pickles tied the score in the bottom of the third with a double hit by Lynne Williams and a single hit by Karen Traicoff.

The Purple Pickles had a big inning in the fifth with seven runs scoring from hits by Lynne Williams, Janet McConnell, Ann Schmitz, Karen Traicoff, Theresa Hitches, Sue Gardiner and Becky Wicklund, giving their team a lead of six runs with a score 16 to 10.

Neither team scored in the sixth, but the Sock-It-To-Me's gained two runs in the seventh with hits by Carolyn Williams and Joyce Schiappacassee, making the final score 16 to 12 in favor of the Purple Pickles. The teams will meet again today at 4 p.m.

What Goes On at Your Library

By Virginia Leonard

National Library Week is over. Our Grosse Pointe Public Library programs, complete with balloons, are now part of our local history. But, lest we become too insular, too concerned about our own libraries, and their involvement in this Week, I would like to bring to your attention a letter written to the editor of April 21st New York Times Book Review.

The writer starts off by noting some of the slogans used in years past for National Library Week. "Be All You Can Be. Read" was really a variation on a theme that started about ten years ago. There were such slogans as: "Wake Up and Read" and "Open Wonderful New Worlds — Wake Up and Read." She (the writer) thinks that we appear to be dealing with a lot of sleepy people who need to be roused from their lethargy.

She seems to feel that perhaps National Library Week should acquire a new focus, highlighting how much more lively, diversified and far-reaching libraries are today. We now are able to look, listen and learn. We have new terms, such as Information Centers, Instructional Materials Centers. The libraries of today are using computers, copying machines, electric typewriters, laminating machines — any new device that will help us to be more efficient and to keep up with the times. We now talk about "information retrieval — all you have to do is ask the right question and punch the right keys!

New library buildings are increasingly more attractive and functional. Certain rooms or areas are designed for specific purposes. This purpose may, of course, be reading, but it could also be listening to records or tapes, viewing art prints, watching films, listening to book talks, doing homework, listening to story hours, attending lectures, examining pamphlets and periodicals — each year brings more facets to library services. More and more the electronic media and the printed page seem to be combining forces in the great art of communication — which should be the ultimate aim of all libraries.

Passive Pleasure

Reading in the olden days was more of a passive pleasure. It meant curling up with a good book on a rainy day — for entertainment only. Years ago this book was usually a novel. At one time fiction made up about two-thirds of the book collection of a library. Today, it accounts for only about one-quarter of books sold. Now we have a big demand for non-fiction, informative books. People are asking for information in many areas — science, technology, history, travel, how-to-do-it. A library, to be up and doing, must keep up with this shift from passive to active, from entertainment to information. Thus, the successful library of today must be "where the action is." It must keep up with the times. It mus keep pace wih its patrons. It must use every method that can be successfully integrated into its building and its program.

We must not lose sight of the book. It will always be the mainstay, and life-blood of the library. But it can certainly be complemented and supplemented by other educational media. New materials and new services will keep it up-to-date, will keep it from becoming just an ivory tower of literature. The writer of this letter, in conclusion, feels that National Library Week should recognize these new developments, these added facets, this up-dating, and should salute all libraries as the "rich intellectual resources they are: guardians of man's cultural heritage, custodians of knowledge, mileposts on the roadway to the stars."

This article made me rather proud of being a librarian. I stood back and took a long look at our own Grosse Pointe Public Libraries. It seemed to me that with the facilities at our disposal, we would receive a nod of approval from the writer of this letter. With our ever-expanding Audio-Visual Department, our art prints, our tool collection, our children's programs — and our books! — I think we are offering quite a diversity of services to our patrons. I don't think we really need to tell our visitors to wake up and read! They are quite wide awake, full of questions, new ideas, and eager to use and explore any new media we might uncover that would help them acquire additional information.

This does not mean that you can't continue to curl up with a good novel when the spirit moves you. (We still do have fiction in our libraries!). But when you come in for that novel, try us in some of our other educational fields — how about a film, a record, a tape, some non-fiction books — or an art print?

Marine Dealers Set Clean-In

Weathered out last year, the Michigan Marine Dealers Association plans a clean-in assault on three Lake St. Clair islands Saturday, May 18.

The MMDA will lead a volunteer force to Strawberry, Gull, and Little Sand islands, according to Jack Ferguson, president of the organization.

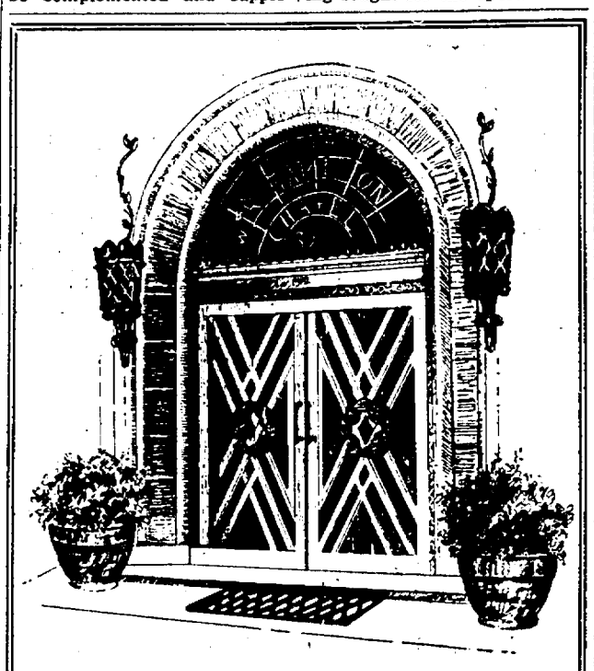

What the marine dealers plan to do is to clean the islands' beaches of litter, and set the pace for a summer of fun. On warm weekends the islands attract hundreds of boating families. Yet broken glass and rusty cans make swimming and landing unsafe.

A clean-in set for last October was cancelled by bad weather. The MMDA's executive secretary, Donald R. Stewart, had lined up support from skin divers, marina operators, law officers, and government agencies.

"We're ready to give it another try," says Stewart, "just before the opening of the summer boating season. We'll appreciate help from anyone."

Michigan's department of conservation, which owns the 25-acre area in the delta of the St. Clair River, has been considering the islands for a state park site.

Volunteers should appear at the islands at nine a.m. May 18, or call Stewart at 541-7337. Barges, towboats, and refuse removal equipment still are being sought for the operation.

Slate Decoupage Exhibit May 10

A special decoupage exhibition, first of its kind in Metropolitan Detroit, is scheduled for Friday, May 10, from 10 to 4 o'clock at the Detroit Boat Club.

The exhibit will include over 250 decoupage items, showing the 350-year-old techniques of decorating surfaces permanently with cut-outs.

The event, sponsored by Marie Mitchell's Decoupage Center, will feature Hiram Manning, of Boston, Mass., the national authority on decoupage who, with his mother the late Maybelle Manning, introduced decoupage to this country in the 1930's.

The exhibition is planned as an informal-type reception, at which Mr. Manning will be present throughout the day to meet with decoupage enthusiasts and answer their questions.

Decoupage exhibitors will include Mr. Manning, Mrs. Mitchell, her teachers and students from Detroit, Ann Arbor, Birmingham, Grosse Pointe, Port Huron, Canada and Ohio.

Admission to the exhibition is by ticket only. Tickets may be purchased at J. L. Hudson stores, the Mitchell Center in Mack avenue or Huston Hardware in Birmingham. A capacity crowd of around 700 is expected.

Hiram Manning, considered the national authority in the art of decoupage, received his education at the exclusive Des Ancien Roseens "school of kings" in Gstaad, Switzerland. He served in the Army and was discharged with the rank of Captain after earning the Bronze Star, the Purple Heart and the French Croix de Guerre.

A linguist, he speaks four languages. He is also a gourmet, having studied at the Cordon Bleu in France.

It was while Mr. Manning was at school in Switzerland that decoupage was introduced to him by a French schoolmate. With his mother, Maybelle Manning, he was invited to the home of a schoolmate in Paris where the family warmly welcomed them and taught them the fundamentals of decoupage — a treasured art which had been passed down from generation to generation in this French home.

While Mr. Manning was serving in the Army his mother continued to study and perfect the art.

On his return from the service Mr. Manning taught his mother the fine finishing techniques which have been compared to the "Vernie Martein" finishes in Italy. He kept decoupage as a hobby for 15 years while his mother, who became a great decoupage artist, taught at a studio in their Boston home. In 1947 Manning joined her in tutoring and has continued since that time.

Decorate Furniture

As a team, Hiram Manning and Maybelle Manning have decorated special articles of furniture with decoupage techniques for various private homes. As an example, they spent five years doing the furnishings for the home of Ethel Kennedy's mother, Mrs. George C. Skakel, Sr.

Hiram Manning's stepfather was first executive vice president of the National City Bank and publisher of the New York Evening Journal. The former Manning estate in Boston, taken by the expressways, included not only furnishings in decoupage, but woodwork as well.

When the home was to be demolished, much of the woodwork was transferred to the present Manning Brownstone, a six-story home. The home contains a wealth of Venetian antiques and boasts an extensive Bisque collection.

Hiram Manning often says of his mother, "We were not just mother and son — we were very great friends." Maybelle Manning, who died in January, 1968, was one of America's "Grande Coutourieres" and much of her wardrobe is in the New York Metropolitan Museum of Costume Design.

In the '20's she was the world's best dressed woman, (not one of 10 as now), and an entire issue of Vogue was devoted to her. She designed special clothes for Flo Ziegfield and many of the elegant scenes of the Follies.

The Mannings are truly credited as being "firsts" in developing decoupage in this country. They follow the French school, creating ornate designs with intricate scrollwork.

The prints they use are all hand-colored with oil pencils, and as many as 30 prints are used for a single article of furniture, such as a secretary.

Spring Was Just Too Early!

That exhibit of new and unusual tulips scheduled by the Garden Club of Michigan for Friday, May 17, at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial has been cancelled—Spring came just too early this year, and the best of the tulips will be "gone" by the 17th!

But there's still time to tend to other spring flowers . . . and a good place to "brush up your spring gardening habits" is the Grosse Pointe Garden Center's next Workshop, complimentary, as are all such Workshops, to Garden Center members (any Pointer may join the Center and thus become eligible to attend the sessions upon payment of annual dues of $3).

Speaking on "Unusual Spring Bulbs and Flowers" at the Wednesday, May 15, Workshop in the Garden Center Room of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial will be Simon Schorer, who will present practical pointers on cultivation and show some interesting specimens from Mrs. Howard Smith's garden in Provencal road, which he has superintended for nearly 30 years.

As a boy in Germany, Simon Schorer started on a completely different career. He spent three years as an apprentice in the art of metal work, wrought cold and by hand, learning to fashion such items as metal oak leaves with veins and natural contours. Now he works with real leaves and flowers.

Mr. Schorer's talk is scheduled to begin at 10 o'clock in the morning. And there'll be opportunities for specific questions after he's finished his main lecture.

Mrs. John W. Mulford is president of the Grosse Pointe Garden Center.

Slate LWV General Luncheon May 15

Nancy Quirk Williams, Wife of Michigan's Former Governor, to Speak on "Mission to Africa" in Grosse Pointe War Memorial

The Grosse Pointe League of Women Voters has announced that Mrs. G. Mennen Williams, whose husband, a former Governor of Michigan, was recently appointed Ambassador to the Philippines, will be the guest speaker at the League's May 15 luncheon at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

The activities of Mrs. Williams represent a lifetime of work of which even the highlights mark goals very few women achieve.

Born in Ypsilanti, she married the former Governor in 1937, after having graduated from The Masters School, Dobbs Ferry, in 1933 and the University of Michigan School of Social Work in 1937. Her interests were immediately employed with volunteer service in the Children's Aid Society in Detroit and Lansing and as an area chairman for the Detroit Community Chest.

During World War II, Nancy Quirk Williams served as a member of the Red Cross Canteen Corps in Washington, transferred to the Motor Corps and then, on her return to Ypsilanti, drove army trucks at the Fairgrounds in Detroit with the Motor Corps.

The birth of her children also highlighted those years: Gerhard Mennen, Jr., was born in 1941, Nancy Quirk in 1943, and Wendy Stock in 1946.

Mrs. Williams has always had a deep interest in the health field and in nursing. She served two years as a Red Cross Nurse's Aide during World War II.

She has since served on the Boards of Women's Hospital and the Michigan League for Nursing, as an advisor to the Michigan State Student Nurses Association and on the Steering Committee of the Interdivisional Council on Psychiatric and Mental Health Nursing.

Mrs. Williams was the Michigan State chairman for Muscular Dystrophy form 1954 to 1960 and is currently serving on the National Advisory Council for Nursing for the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

In 1957, Mrs. Williams was awarded the degree of Doctor of Laws by Eastern Michigan College, Ypsilanti. She received an Honorary Degree, Doctor of Laws, from Wayne State University in June, 1961. She is a member of Alpha Lambda Delta, the freshman honorary society, and Collegiate Sorosis.

In spite of all this dedicated activity, her every-day family demands were answered by functioning as a Cub Scout Leader, a Brownie Leader and Honorary vice-chairman of the Girl Scout Council in hte Lansing area.

The Board of the Washington Urban League, the chairmanship of the Michigan Division, Woman's National Farm and Garden Club, membership in the American Association of University Women, the University of Michigan Alumnae, the National Association of Social Workers Junior League, the Daughters of the American Revolution, the Eleanor Roosevelt League and the YWCA Board are only a portion of her list of volunteer activities.

She is a long-standing member of the League of Women Voters, which works on governmental issues arising out of the needs of the community, the state and the nation, and promotes political responsibility through an informed and active participation of citizens in government.

Mrs. Williams has chosen "The Mission to Africa" as topic for her luncheon speech, which will be the last LWV general luncheon to be held before the League's calendar of varied topics and projects begins again in the fall.

League members and the general public are invited to attend the luncheon, which will begin at 12:30 o'clock. Admission is $2.25 and reservations may be placed by calling either Mrs. Bruce Miller, (882-9561), or Mrs. Leonard Slowin, (822-2793), by Monday, May 13.

The one thing no other life insurance company can offer your family is a Mass Mutual agent.

What can he offer you?

Himself. He's unusually good at his job. Four times as many Mass Mutual agents as the industry average hold the Chartered Life Underwriter designation, granted after up to five years of intensive study. Six times as many belong to the Million Dollar Round Table, recognition of superior performance. Four times as many have won the industry's National Quality Award for continuing service to policyholders.

And his company. Mass Mutual agents are backed by an industry leader, one of the 10 largest life insurance companies. Nobody offers sounder yet more progressive coverage. Nobody consistently earns a higher yield on investments, which means lower cost to you.

We could go on. But we think you get the point. If your family is better than average — in your present living standard or in your goals and aspirations — you deserve a better-than-average insurance program. Designed by a Mass Mutual agent.

Funds Are Donated By College Auxiliary

Women's Group President Mrs. Clinton R. Amluxen Praises Generosity of Members and Non-Members Who Support Benefit Projects

Making its most generous financial contribution ever, the Women's Auxiliary of Cottage Hospital this year will make possible not only the replacement of needed equipment but the purchase of new diagnostic instruments as well.

According to Ralph L. Wilgarde, Cottage administrator, of the $19,000 received from the Auxiliary nearly $7,000 will be used to equip the hospital's laboratories with two new instruments which will be valuable in analyzing and diagnosing heart and liver conditions.

In addition, Mr. Wilgarde reports that $5,000 will be used to add needed equipment to the hospital's Inhalation Therapy Department.

Mrs. Clinton R. Amluxen, president of the Auxiliary, said that the efforts and generosity of nearly 400 ladies, plus the interest of over 100 non-members, made the contribution possible.

She pointed out that over 500 women attended the Auxiliary's Kitchen Tour this past year.

"Even our Donation Tea," stated Mrs. Amluxen, "held during a near-flooding rain, brought more participants than we expected."

In addition to the Auxiliary's Tea and Tour, the hospital women's group manages the Gift Shop and holds an annual Holiday Mart.

Mrs. Amluxen pointed out that the sale of baby pictures alone brings the hospital over $300.

"It is obvious," Mr. Wilgarde said, "that Cottage Hospital's Auxiliary is one of our most valuable assets, and we are very thankful."

It is estimated that workers who receive tips in the United States will receive over one billion dollars a year which can be credited for social security purposes if the amount of the tips is $20 or more a month while working for one employer.

Men Gardeners Keeping Busy

Teams of members of the Men's Garden Club of Grosse Pointe next week will complete their check-up of local school grounds in the annual "Clean-up Campaign." Two visits will be made, unannounced, to each school.

The plan is designed to increase children's interest in unlittered grounds.

At the regular Club meeting in the Grosse Pointe War Memorial next Thursday, May 16, at 8 o'clock, Elmore Frank will talk on preparing plants and flowers for the annual Club show. There also will be shown an unusual collection of color slides from California dealing chiefly with begonias and delphiniums.

From 250 to 300 school children are expected to take part in the Club's annual school garden contest. Sunflower and zinnia seeds, furnished courtesy of Ferry-Morse company through the Men's Club, will be distributed to entrants in the contest at Kirby and Richard schools.

Social security benefits are now the main source of retirement income for about 19 million people in the United States.

Junior League Answer Sheet

If you've read this week's "Pointer Of Interest" on the Junior League of Detroit's new president, Liz Fitzpatrick, you might be interested in knowing more about the League, its membership and its operations.

Here is a list of "Frequent Questions and Ready Answers," compiled by the Junior League of Detroit a few years ago:

1. What is the Junior League?

The Junior League is a nonprofit organization of women which trains its members for able and effective service in the community. Its purpose is to foster sufficient interest and ability among its members so that they can continue to participate beyond Junior League work as responsible citizens. The Junior League of Detroit is a member of the Association of Junior Leagues of America (AJLA).

2. What is the AJLA?

The Association of Junior Leagues of America is comprised of 211 Leagues in the United States (including Hawaii), Canada and Mexico, with a total membership of over 90,000.

3. When was the Junior League of Detroit founded?

It was founded by Mrs. Paul Weadock with 42 members and incorporated in 1917.

4. How does one become a member of the Junior League of Detroit?

One becomes a member by invitation only. A proposer and two sponsors who are members endorse the candidate for membership. The Admissions Committee, elected by the membership, presents a final list of proposed candidates. The membership assists in selection by an advisory ballot.

5. What are the criteria for membership?

A young lady must be between the agest of 18 and 35. She must have a proposer and two sponsors who are responsible for the future of their candidate. The League is interested in young women who have shown training potential for community participation and leadership. She should be interested in all community endeavor to improve our city and willing to learn about and participate in community life by supporting League activities.

6. What is the membership of the Junior League of Detroit?

There are almost 800 members. Of these, about 300 are Active members (those under 40) and over 400 are Sustaining members (over 40 years of age). The balance are in various other membership classifications.

7. Why is this organization called the Junior League of Detroit when most of its members live in the Grosse Pointes?

The Junior League of Detroit was founded to serve the needs of the Detroit Community. Although many of its members have moved to the suburbs, our purpose and efforts are directed to serving the city of Detroit.

8. What are Provisional members?

They are members who have accepted the invitation to join the Junior League. They are required to take an intensive training and orientation course, followed by a directed volunteer experience. At the end of their Provisional year, if their performance is satisfactory to League requirements, they are accepted as Active members.

9. What are the obligations of Active membership?

A. An Active member is expected to attend all membership meetings and to engage in sustained and specific volunteer service acceptable to the Placement Committee.

B. She must pay yearly dues, approximately one-third of which go to the Association of Junior Leagues of America (AJLA), to support their staff services and AJLA Magazine. The remainder is used to finance our office staff, mailings, office space, maintenance, etc.

C. She must also support any financial commitment as to fund raising activities undertaken with the consent of the membership. The proceeds of these benefits accrue in the Community Trust Fund Account and are totally returned to the community in the form of Junior League services.

10. What is tthe current major project?

Poison Control Project — co-sponsored with Children's Hospital of Michigan. This, which is an extension of an existing facility, but a new concept in treatment and prevention through education and research in Poison Control, was started in January, 1964. The League undertook a $50,000 financial commitment, over a 5 year period, to Children's Hospital to establish and professionally staff a Poison Center at the Hospital. League volunteers conduct a Poison Prevention program in co-oerpative nursery groups and elementary schools in metropolitan Detroit in order to reach the ages at which accidental poisonings occur, as well as doing follow-up research on actual poison cases brought to the Hospital.

11. What other community oriented activities are there?

A. School Volunteer Program. In the fall of 1963 the League embarked on a project called School Volunteer Project. The Detroit Board of Education assigned the Cooper Elementary School in Detroit to begin an experimental program for one year, using Junior League volunteers. A number of volunteers are now involved in the program. Those with teaching experience assist the teachers in class work, tutor in groups or on a one-to-one basis. Other volunteers assist in art and music and help with routine paper work At the end of three years, staff and volunteers evaluated the program and the membership decided that it merited continuing as an ongoing League activity.

B. Glee Club—volunteers give concerts at Nursing Homes, Hospitals and Schools throughout the year.

C. Other volunteers serve in approximately seventy community agencies as board members and regular volunteers — in hospitals, clinics, etc.

12. What projects have been turned over to the community?

The League, in keeping with its philosophy to start, demonstrate and turn over a successful project to a receptive community, can point with pride to some of its best known past projects.

A. The Senior Center on East Grand Boulevard. Established by the League in 1953 to provide recreation and rehabilitation facilities for the aged. The League over a 10 year period contributed over $150,000 to its operation, as well as hundreds of volunteer hours. In 1963 the United Community Services through the Torch Drive, took over the operation of the Center, though League members still serve as volunteers and board members.

B. The Detroit League for the Handicapped. The Junior League founded this agency in 1922 to serve the needs of the handicapped. In 1934 it was incorporated as an independent organization supported by the community. The Junior League however, sponsors an annual Christmas party for those served by the agency.

C. The League Shop. First, the downtown shop, then the shop in Grosse Pointe, were supported and staffed by League members for years. The shops were started as an outlet for merchandise for the League for the Handicapped. In 1953 the shop was sold.

D Pioneer House. A group therapy home for emotionally disturbed children. It was terminated after it became too costly for the League to continue. The number of children served, the cost of the psychologist and staff and the little use of volunteers, proved it impractical. However, the project is considered successful because a direct result of this experiment is Dr. Fritz Redl's book "Children Who Hate," a basic text in the field. The findings of the project had world-wide effect on subsequent work with emotionally disturbed children.

13. When will you have another Follies?

Follies are not automatic since they are a considerable undertaking with maximum membership involvement. A major fund-raiser in the League is undertaken only when a project, or several projects, require large funds.

14. What other fund-raisers have you had?

A. In the spring of 1965 the League had a Celebrity Night, called "Evening With the Stars," to raise funds for the Community Trust Fund Account which supports the Poison Control Project and our other volunteer activities.

B. There has been a Fashion Show annually since 1952, with total net proceeds of almost $120,000.00.

15. When will the League start a new project?

The League is continually viewing the needs of the community and is always open to suggestions for new projects. The Preject Research Committee is presently engaged in the selection of a new project or projects for the membership.

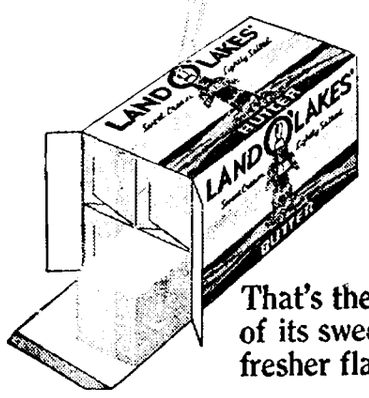

Recipient of a Doctor of Philosophy degree from the University of Michigan during spring commencement ceremonies April 27 was JAMES McEVOY, III, of East Jefferson avenue, whose field of studies was American Culture.

Kitchen Tour Slated By Cottage Auxiliary

Six Local Homes, Ranging In Decor From "Colorful Colonial" To "Contemporary Elegant," Will Be Featured This Year

The popular Kitchen Tour, sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary to Cottage Hospital, is once again on the calendar. Six new or remodeled kitchens will be open on Thursday, May 23, from 1 to 5 o'clock.

A Bake Sale and Tea will be held at the Nurses' Residence in Ridge road, also from 1 to 5 o'clock.

The Tour chairmen this year are Mrs. Raymond E. Suhr and Mrs. Vincent Taylor. Chairmen for the Bake Sale are Mrs. William H. Swartz and Mrs. Marvin H. Ortwein.

Arranging for hostesses is Mrs. C. Lloyd Yohe, and Mrs. Ralph Quinones is one again patroness chairman.

The tea table will be supervised by Mrs. Robert A. Post and Mrs. Beatrice Block. Chairman Mrs. George P. Johnson, Jr., will place the flags to point out the homes which will be open for the tour. Mrs. Walter H. Remter is handling the publicity.

The following kitchens will be open for the tour:

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Teachout, of Barrington road: "Spanish Charm" — a large remodeled kitchen with a hidden bar, built in behind shuttered doors. There is a large picture window, with white draw draperies, across the back of the kitchen looking out on their yard which is centered with a huge, beautiful pine tree. It is in blue and green decor with the same colors in the tweed carpeting. There is a beamed ceiling, and the panelling is done in mahogany. A round white metal table is placed in the center of the room with matching chairs.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Constant, of Trombley road: "Colorful Colonial" — another remodeled kitchen, which was originally two rooms now made into one large room, with different shades of blue in the now so popular kitchen carpeting. There is not only a most attractive eating area, furnished with a round red table and chairs with red leather seats (antiqued by the Constants themselves), but a snack bar too, which divides the working are from the dining area. There are three regimental blue over-hanging lamps above it. At the windows there are draperies of the same color plus white cafe curtains. The kitchen is done in dark patina panelling trimmed with old brass hardware. You'll love their placard — "BLESS THIS MESS."

Mr. and Mrs. F. Dever, of Whittier road: "A Bit of Olive" — a remodeled kitchen — actually a kitchen and small dining room—done in fruitwood panelling with wrought iron hardware. Darling embroidered cafe curtains dress the windows in the dining area. An outstanding feature is the fibre glass brick wall behind the stove — for easy cleaning. Blue and olive are the colors used throughout in the papering. The stove and refrigerator are also in olive.

Mr. and Mrs. William Baker, of Fordcroft road: "Contemporary Elegance"—a very elegant, exotic and oh! so modern kitchen and dining room. We would also call it "A Touch of Hollywood." Bamboo and wool shades are used at the windows — the runner down the center of the large table in the dining room is another shade done in tones of gold. The carpeting is of gold tweed. A tremendous globe is hanging over the oiled walnut table. The other lighting is all recessed in the ceiling, which in the kitchen, is yellow floral. The dining area has an ever so long built in desk with and off-white counter top and walnut panelling. And everything is washable as the Bakers have six children.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Worthman, of Kerby road: "Early American Doll House" — there is a separate breakfast room with an antique oil lamp over the table — light patina panelling with copper hardware and white formica counters in the kitchen. Olive green and white eagle print paper is used in both rooms with white ruffled valances at the kitchen window. The floors are layed with red brick vinyl. There are ever so many things of "long ago" throughout — such as a plate rail surrounding the kitchen ceiling area with many eye-catching antiques. Be sure to notice the spoon rack in the breakfast room and the tiny dishes on the hall walls.

Dr. L. B. Saraf, of Lakesore road: "Dream in Blue"—Everything is true blue! Blue and white decor — panelling in lighter blue — bright blue wool carpeting — light blue counters — blue draperies at the kitchen window. The wallpaper is done also in shades of blue, but there is a white beamed ceiling with four high intensity lamps concealed in it. Two huge, deep blue lamps are hanging over a built-in half-circle snack table. Many built-in features are used — such as a can opener and knife sharpener, and just about everything needed to make a compact kitchen.

Brownell Receives Freedom Shrine Exhibit

The students of Brownell Junior High School received the Freedom Shrine exhibit from the Grosse Pointe Exchange Club during ceremonies held in the building's library on April 30. William Wieland, District Governor of the Exchange Club, presented the plaque and exhibit to William Christofferson, principal. Among the participants in the ceremonies were (left to right) MR. WIELAND; MR. CHRISTOFFERSON; JANE JOHNSON, treasurer of the Student Association; DEBBIE WEGNER, secretary; MARK GUTWALK, president; MRS. PAUL G. HYKES, president of the Board of Education; and DR. THEOS I. ANDERSON, superintendent of schools.

Officers of the Grosse Pointe Exchange Club made a formal presentation of a Freedom Shrine to Brownell Junior High School on Tuesday morning, April 30, in the school's library.

William Christofferson, Principal, acknowledged the gift made by William Wieland, District Governor of the Exchange Club.

The handsome facsimiles of the most important documents in American history now occupy a place of honor on the corridor wall across from the entrance to the school's library. Virtually the entire student body will pass the location daily and will have an opportunity to become familiar with these examples of the best of our nation's philosophical and political thinking.

Main feature of the half-hour observance was an address, "My Heritage as an American," by William Wieland, District Governor of the Exchange Club.

Other speakers included Charles Marling, President of the Grosse Pointe Exchange Club and George Zimmerman, Freedom Shrine Chairman of the local service club.

Mark Gutwald, President of the Student Association of Brownell Junior High School, welcomed the group, which included representatives of the school's homerooms.

Reverend Paul Winchester, Associate Minister of the Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church, read the invocation and the benediction.

Special guests included Mrs. Paul G. Hykes, President of the Board of Education, and Dr. Theos I. Anderson, Superintendent of Schools. Others were Mrs Martin Schnurr, Mother Vice-President and Mrs. Willard Smith, PTA Secretary.

Vietnam Film Slated for Fries

The moral dilemma of the war in Vietnam will be highlighted Tuesday, May 14, when the premier showing of the Rev. James C. Fleck, S.J.'s "Moral Questions — Vietnam" will be shown at 7:30 p.m. in the Fries Auditorium of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

Father Fleck filmed on the spot action to substantiate the facts behind the growing controversy about the morality of the war. The premier performance in Grosse Pointe will be a benefit for a recently established Fund for Research in Morality and Warfare at the University of Detroit. While on the faculty of Detroit's Jesuit university, Father Fleck visited the far east on a research tour to investigate the facts and principles involved in the Vietnam conflict.

In addition to his educational task he acted as a war correspondent for a number of U.S. newspapers including the Detroit News, the Michigan Catholic, the Chicago American, and the Syracuse Herald-Journal. Since his return Fr. Fleck's views on the moral questions have been published in additional periodicals.

On his return from the far east Father Fleck arrived in Israel in time to cover on the scene reporting of the Arab-Israel conflict of last June.

Discusses Many Problems

The motion picture is based on Father Fleck's dispatches from the war zone. He surveys the problems of defoliation, forced evacuation of refugees, Search and Destroy operations, the lack of fighting spirit among the Vietnamese people, the relatively successful methods of the South Koreans, bomb strikes in the north, treatment of prisoners of war, the killing of the M-16, and the failure of the U.S. Marines in the north. Following the film Father Fleck will answer questions from the audience.

While Father Fleck has publicly supported U.S. policies in the war, his film and his views pose many moral problems which support those who oppose the government's position.

While tickets may be available at the door at the premier showing of this film, those desiring seats should contact the Committee for MORAL QUESTIONS—VIETNAM, at 58 Stanton Lane, Grosse Pointe Farms, Michigan, TU 1-6421. All proceeds will go to the University of Detroit to continue research work in the vital area of morality and warfare.

Father Fleck is a son of the late Jesse W. Fleck, one-time advertising director of the defunct Detroit Times, who was a resident of Grosse Pointe for many years. His brother Jack, lives on Lakepointe.

Special Note to a 'Kid' Out Looking for a Job

The following letter, author unknown, was sent to Mrs. Richard Boudreau of Inkster, who sent it to the Grosse Pointe News.

As you will discover as you read, it is not a "Letter Box Letter" but one which may help some young man have an entirely new approach to job hunting. The letter:

Dear Kid;

Today you asked me for a job. From the look of your shoulders as you walked out, I suspect you've been turned down before, and maybe you believe by now that kids out of high school can't find work.

But, I hired a teen-ager today. You saw him. He was the one with polished shoes and a necktie. What was so special about him? Not experience, neither of you had any. It was his attitude that put him on the payroll instead of you. Attitude, son. A-T-T-I-T-U-D-E. He wanted that job badly enough to shuck the leather jacket, get a haircut, and look in the phone book to find out what this company makes. He did his best to impress me. That's where he edged you out.

You see, Kid, people who hire people aren't "with" a lot of things. We know more about Bing than about Ringo, and we have some Stone-Age ideas about who owes whom a living. Maybe that makes us prehistoric, but there's nothing wrong with the checks we sign, and if you want one you'd better tune to our wave length.

Ever hear of "empathy?" It's the trick of seeing the other fellow's side of things. I couldn't have cared less that you're behind in your car payments. That's your problem, and President Johnson's. What I needed was someone who'd go out in the plant, keep his eyes open, and work for me like he'd work for himself. If you have even the vaguest idea of what I'm trying to say, let it show the next time you ask for a job. You'll be head and shoulders over the rest.

Look kid; The only time jobs grew on trees was while most of the manpower was wearing G.I.'s and pulling K.P. For all the rest of history you've had to get a job like you get a girl: "Case" the situation, wear a clean shirt, and try to appear reasonably willing.

Maybe jobs aren't as plentiful right now, but a lot of us can remember when master craftsmen walked the streets. By comparison you don't know the meaning of "scarce."

You may not believe it, but all around you employers are looking for young men smart enough to go after a job in the old-fashioned way. When they find one, they can't wait to unload some of their worries on him.

For both our sakes, get eager, will you?

AUSTIN PREP, ACTIVITIES

The Office of Activities of Austin Prep. has scheduled many events for the varied interests of the students for the spring quarter. They range from dances and proms to coffee houses and one-act plays, and are under the direction of Thomas E. Bailey, vice principal.

Saturday, May 4, there will be a Senior Gift Benefit Dance at Austin. The dance, from 8 to 11 p.m. is given by the Senior Class for the benefit of the annual gift given to the school by each graduating class. Tickets are $1 at the door. It is open to all students. Dress is dress pants for guys and skirts for the gals. Arrangements are made by the Senior Committee.

Joseph M. Shea, a graduating senior, represented the school in the Michigan Speech Sweepstakes in Ann Arbor on Saturday, April 27. In this all-state speech event, Joe spoke in five divisions with 40 other Michigan high school speakers. His categories were original oratory, humorous interpretation, serious interpretation, extempore and radio news.

Presentations of student-directed one-act plays are features of the Austin Players during the spring. The first was presented on Sunday, April 28. Director was senior Mark Hodgman with his production of "The Ugly Duckling."

Another production of one acts will be Sunday, May 19, at Pierce Auditorium at 8 p.m. Here three ont acts, directed by students, will be presented, and awards for action and direction will be presented. The critic-judges will be present for an open, public critique after the shows. The directors will be Tony Vehar, Tim Frederick and jointly Mark Hodgman and Jim Moffa.

Coffee Houses

Two coffee houses are scheduled for Sunday, May 12, and Monday, May 13. The coffee house program is directed by the Austin Academy, an organization of academic service to the students. The Sunday night coffee house is open to all students and their dates. No admission charge.

The program of speech readings, multiple reading and folk music begins at 7 p.m. at Austin. Free coffee served.

The Monday, May 13 coffee house program is sponsored by the Dad's Club for parents and students of Austin. The participants will be the students with readings and folk music.

The Junior Prom, moderated by Rev. R. Follmann, O.S.A., will take place on Friday, May 3, at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club. Music by Mike Quatro. The Senior Prom, moderated by Thomas E. Bailey, will be held on Friday, May 24, at Lochmoor Country Club. The Mel Ball Orchestra will play.

Letters of invitation and tickets were mailed this week to the students and their parents, for the annual Award's Dinner, scheduled for May 10 at the Latin Quarter. On this occasion students who have excelled in academics, athletics and activities, will be honored. This evening of dining and dancing is the highlight of the year, with 300 students receiving awards and trophies for their excellence during the past year.

If Tornado Approaches Heed These Precautions

Tornadoes are small but deadly storms that skip across the land cutting a swath of destruction," warns Donald C. Bolton, Michigan Director of the Allstate Safety Crusade.

They are violent local storms with winds that whirl at tremendous speeds. Many tornadoes are accompanied by thunderstorms, especially storms that deposit hailstones. Frequently two or more tornadoes appear in the same area, following more or less parallel paths.

Bolton points out that a tornado usually is seen as a rotating funnel-shaped cloud extending toward the ground from the base of a thundercloud. Tornadoes vary in color from gray to black, but all have one deadly characteristic: rapidly rotating winds that cause them to spin like a top. When close by, tornadoes sound like the roar of hundreds of airplanes.

The average tornado path is about 16 miles long and a quarter of a mile wide. Speeds range from 25 to 40 mph, but can have speeds as high as 68 miles an hour. In most cases they move from a westerly direction, usually from the southwest.

Tornadoes occur in every state but most frequently in the central U.S. The number of tornadoes normally starts to increase in the Gulf states in February and reaches a peak there in March. The number increases during the spring and spreads northward into the Midwest, occurring here most often in May and June.

Tornadoes do frightful damage, so precautions must be taken to minimize the storm's effects. Such objects as trees, building material and even cars are hurled through the air with awesome force. The sudden drop in pressure during tornadoes explodes buildings like punctured balloons and debris hurtles through the air like a javelin.

In a city or town seek inside shelter, preferably in a strongly reinforced building. Stay Away From Windows! In homes: The corner of the basement toward the tornado usually offers greatest safety, particularly in frame houses. People in houses without basements can sometimes be protected by taking cover under heavy furnitur againset inside walls.

Doors and windows on the sides of the house away from the tornado may be opened to equalize the air pressure inside and help reduce damage to the building. Standing against the inside wall on a lower floor of an office building offers some protection.

In factories and offices, on receiving a tornado warning, a lookout should be posted to keep safety officials advised of the tornado's approach. Advance preparation should be made for moving workers to sections of the plant offering the greatest protection.

After the storm has passed, don't use the telephone except for an emergency and keep your radio or TV on for information and public instruction. Stay away from broken or low hanging power lines. Tell police or utility companies about them.

Bolton states: "If you see a tornado approaching or hear a warning of one approaching, your immediate action may mean the difference between life or death."

One thousand new rose bushes were planted in Detroit last year by the forestry and landscaping division of the Detroit Department of Parks and Recreation.

who, where and whatnot

Heard about . . . Mary French, daughter of the James Frenches, of Ridge road? Her summer destination is Tokyo, Japan . . . Mary, a senior Studio Art major at Connecticut College for Women and graduate of Miss Hall's School, Pittsfield, Mass., will be going to the Far East to live, work and travel as a participant in an international exchange program . . . Seems she's a member of AIESEC, the International Association of Students in Economics and Commerce, which sponsors a program permitting college students interested in economics, business or international affairs to be employed in a foreign country. Over 25,000 students have participated in the program since its establishment in 1949 . . . In Tokyo, Mary will be employed by Japan Travel Bureau, Inc. Under the AIESEC program, she'll work in several departments to observe the full operation of the company, and she'll be paid the "living wage" of her host country.

Heard about . . . that order for a gen-u-ine Christ Church Christmas Fair 1968 decoupage purse received, via Mrs. Stanford Phelps, of Touraine road, from Lady Fisher, wife of the Retired Bishop of Canterbury? Seems Lady Fisher saw Mrs. P.'s OWN basket purse and decided she must have one herself . . . And she will . . . You can order YOUR '68 Christ Church Fair (and lots of other lovely, personalized things, besides,) at the Faird Spring Preview next Thursday, May 16, between the hours of 10 and 4 o'clock. Where will the Preview be held? At the Church, in Grosse Pointe boulevard, of course.

Heard about . . . the backgrounds of the three speakers scheduled to appear in next fall's Liggett School Lecture Series? . . . Number One, Max Lerner, is a syndicated columnist, currently professor at Brandeis University and author of the best seller, "America as a Civilization" . . . Number Two, Dr. Kenneth McFarland, author of "Eloquence in Public Speaking," is one of the nation's outstanding guest speakers, an educator, industrial advisor and civic leader . . . But it's Number Three, Dr. Harriet Mills, associate professor, Chinese Language, University of Michigan, who REALLY intrigues us, for she certainly shoulud know her subject, "What China Is Like Today,"—she was interned there by the Communists!

Heard about . . . the "trial trip" to Hidden Lake Garden, in Tipton, Mich., that Mrs. Charles A. Parcells, Jr., of Cloverly road, took a few weeks ago? . . . And her report to fellow members of the Grosse Pointe Farm and Garden Club, scheduled to make the excursion this coming Monday, that it is easy as well as interesting? (The Club ladies plan to leave The Pointe at 10 in the morning—and be home by 3:30, having enjoyed a guided tour by car of the gardens and greenhouses, under the aegis of curator Dr. Fred W. Freeman, AND a picnic lunch.)

Heard about . . . McKinley place resident Josephine (Mrs. Edward S.) Wunsch's new book, "Summer of Decision?" Like her other two, ("Flying Skis" and "Passport to Russia"), it's a novel for "older girls," (no, ladies, that doesn't mean US, that means our daughters who are no longer children and not quite adults). "Summer of Decision" is set in Northern Michigan and deals with "growing up" and sailing, two subjects Jo Wunsch knows well. She "grew up" herself and watched three children, two daughters and a son, make their way into adulthood, and she married a man who's sailed in 29 Mackinac races, plus the Bermuda, Nassau and Havana classics—and whose idea of the Perfect Honeymoon was cruising through Georgian Bay on a 43-foot sailboat!

Heard about . . . Katherine Wunsch, one of the two Wunsch daughters mentioned in the paragraph above? . . . Seems that talent runs in the Wunsch family: Kay's scheduled to present a flute recital next Wednesday, May 15, in the University of Colorado Music Hall. Her program will include "Prelude et Scherzo" by Henri Busser, "Concerto in D major" by Antonio Vivaldi, "First Sonata" by Bohuslav Martinu, "Six Short Pieces for Woodwind Quintet" by Colorado University professor Jean Berger and "Sontaina" by Eldin Burton . . . Graduated from Grosse Pointe High School in 1959, The Wunsch Family Flutist obtained her Bachelor of Music degree from the University of Michigan, where she was a member of the Honors Convocation, taught music in Jackson, Mich., and Basalt, Colo., public schools, and is now a Masters degree candidate in the Colorado University College of Music . . . She's a member of Pi Kappa Lambda, national music honorary fraternity, and of Scroll, leadership and scholarship honorary . . . And it was Kay's diary, written as she traveled through Russia with the University of Michigan Symphony Band in 1961, that inspired her mother's second novel, "Passport to Russia."

MRS. LEO J. FITZPATRICK, JR., OF TOURAINE ROAD

By Janet Mueller

Nancy (Mrs. William Y.) Gard began "dropping off" things at Liz (Mrs. Leo Jr.) Fitzpatrick's home several months ago. She did it casually, stopping by with lists, folders, pamphlets as the spirit moved her—and as she thought Liz would be interested in the materials.

Among Jim Fitzpatrick's 1967 Christmas presents to his wife was an 'executive briefcase"—and Liz has never received a more welcome, a more useful, a more USED gift.

For Liz, wife, mother, volunteer committee worker, paddle tennisplayer "extraordinaire," is about to embark on an exacting, exciting career.

Less than two weeks from now, on May 22, members of the Junior League of Detroit, Inc., will gather at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club for their annual meeting, at which Nancy Gard will hand over the League presidency, after two years' service, to Liz Fitzpatrick, who will guide the League during the coming two years.

Big Assignment

It is, Liz admits, a big assignment . . . but she adds immediately, with a smile, 'I have fantastic help."

Nancy's been doing everything she can to make the transition easy. "We talk on the phone continually," Liz reports. "I've been very fortunate: Nancy has asked me to sit in on Executive and Board meetings since January . . ."

Liz is now in the final stage of her pre-presidential "briefings." With Mrs. Stephen W. Smith, the League's incoming second vice-president, and Mrs. Paul F. Decker, incoming Education chairman, she's in Colorado Springs, Colo., attending the 1968 Association of Junior Leagues of America Conference.

The Conference began May 5; it ends tomorrow. Then Liz returns to The Pointe, and a 12-day breathing space before she takes over as head of the Detroit League's 800 Provisional, Active and Sustaining Members.

She's not exactly coming "cold" to her new position.

'Background' for Job

She knows her organization and her community.

Born in Grosse Pointe, she's the daughter of the Lawrence C. Leonards, who now make their home in Neff road, and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Rust Pierce, of Beverly road. Her grandmother is the "Pierce" of Walton-Pierce.

Her husband's parents, the Leo J. Fitzpatricks, are Pointers too, with a home in Lakeshore road.

Liz and Jim were married in St. Paul's-on-the-Lakeshore, and all four of their children were baptized there. Their oldest child, Jimmy, 10, is now a student at St. Paul's School.

Daughter Patsy, nine, attends the Academy of the Sacred Heart in Lakeshore road. The two littliest Fitzpatricks, Kevin, four, and Sean, two, haven't started school yet.

Like Sports

All the Fitzpatricks like sports, especially swimming: They have their own backyard pool and spend a good part of every summer in or near the water.

Tennis, golf and shooting are some of Jim's favorite activities, and Liz likes to participate too, although she admits she can't keep up with Jim: "My husband's good at just about every sport; I 'atttempt' them . . ."

She's become a fierce paddle tennis player, though, bundling up to bat a ball back and forth on the Country Club's covered-for-the-winter outdoor courts in the coldest weather.

Her paddle tennis group plans to contiuue with regular tennis this summer, and Liz hopes to get out on the golf course—"If Jim will bear with me; I tend to hold him back"—this year, too.

Liz is very intrigued by her husband's latest "hobby."

Wine Connoisseur

"Jim's suddenly become a wine connoisseur," she reports. "He buys a bottle of wine; we taste it; then he removes the label, writes comments about the wine on it and glues it to our wine cellar door."

Liz and Jim like to read, and they'd love to travel—but this latter activity will wait, Liz says, until her children are older: She can't help "wondering" about them whenever she's away, (a fact which tends, she admits, to dissipate the enjoyment of a trip).

So far, they've concentrated on short, family vacations. Liz and the children were south this spring, visiting Jim's parents in Florida, (Jim joined them there for a few days). Their last trip north was several summers ago, to Pointe Aux Barques; they've found, with a swimming pool, that they prefer to stay at home during the summers.

Their house is bright, warm, welcoming, filled with the antique furniture and "good" reproductions Liz and Jim like to collect.

Committee Workers

The Fitzpatricks are no strangers to committee work. Liz is a member of the Janet Stuart (Mothers) Association at the Academy of the Sacred Heart, served for two years as a Janet Stuart Board member and worked on the Laurel Ball, (the annual party for the Academy's graduating senior class), committee for three years.

She's served on a Children's Hospital of Michigan Fund-Raising committee and worked on the committee planing last year's White Christmas Ball, the annual St. John Hospital benefit sponsored by the Hospital's Fontbonne Auxiliary.

She and Jim are co-chairmen of the 1968's "Sunset At The Zoo," the Detroit Zoological Society's traditional cocktail gatherings for members and their guests, to be held this year June 20.

Jim's on the Board of the Fathers Club at the Academy of the Sacred Heart and has collected in St. Paul's Parish for the Archdiocesan Development Fund.

A major portion of Liz's volunteers and committee activity has been under Junior League of Detroit auspices.

Joined League in '58

She joined the League in 1958, worked during her Provisional Year as a Senior Center and Detroit Artists Market volunteer.

She's been on the League's Placement committee, (the committee that organizes members' volunteer work), on its Public Relations and Fashion Show committees and was elected to a two-year Nominating committee term.

She did publicity work for the League's Poison Control Project for two years and served as the League's Education chairman for two years.

She's completing a term on the League's Advisory Planning committee, (the group appointed by the Executive committee to study any in-League problems).

Each year, the Junior League of Detroit honors its outstanding volunteers with Placement Awards. Liz received her Placement Award in 1965.

Current Involvements

The Junior League of Detroit, as Liz Fitzpatrick begins her term as president, is involved in six major community activities, including the Poison Control Project at Children's Hospital of Michigan, co-sponsored by Childrens Hospital, and a School Volunteer Program at Detroit's Cooper School, in which League volunteers serve as teachers' aides.

Another activity is the Junior League Glee Club, which gives concerts in nursing homes, hospitals and schools throughout the year.

The League has given $20,000 to Childrens Hospital for a Playroom on one of the surgical floors in its new building, and will begin to staff the Playroom with volunteers in 1970, when the new building is scheduled to be completed.

Each year the League and the J. L. Hudson Company cosponsor Detroit's most comprehensive fall fashion show, Fashionscope, a two-day showing in Hudson's Downtown auditorium. The '68 Fashionscope Junior League committee is already hard at work, Liz reports, organizing subcommittees and mailing lists for this year's show, to be presented September 10 and 11.

Newest Project

The League's sixth project, its newest, is the one Liz is most excited about.

"The membership of the Junior League of Detroit voted in March to instigate a Communicatons Project," she explains.

This Project will involve the creation of a series of television programs geared to the needs of the Inner City.

"We are all interested in the Inner City, we all 'want to help,' and we feel this is a way we of the Junior League CAN help," Liz says. "We'll have people working with us who are professionals, who know the needs of the Inner City and have practical experience in filling those needs . . .

"We're thinking in terms of self-help programs, programs aimed at acquainting Inner City people with the resources available to them in their community. Some of the areas we might explore are Consumer Education, Family and Youth Guidance, Board of Education Presentations, Descriptions of Health and Social Service Organizations . . .

To Use Director

"We'll utilize the services of a director. We want to form a Community Advisory committee to set program policy and evaluate each program's effectiveness.

"We want to draw our Communications Project resource people from as broad a base as possible, from the Junior League itself and other agencies and organizations, educational institutions . . . We want representatives from the communications field, from metropolitan neighborhood and church groups, to assist and advise us . . .

"We envision the League's place in this Project as 'behind the scenes,' creating interest in the programs by effective promotion, creating and distributing follow-up materials, locating useful resource materials for the program director . . ."

There would seem to be enough volunteer opportunities available within these six League-sponsored projects to keep every Active Member Busy. But League members serve in other areas, too, as Board members and/or regular volunteers in approximately 70 community agencies.

Three Kinds of Members

All Active Members must donate the equivalent of a half day per week to some volunteer activity until they reach the age of 40, when they become Sustaining Members. And, before they are accepted as Active Members, they spend a year, during which they learn about their community and the opportunities for service in it, as Provisional Members.

Many League volunteers work for the organizations which turned over by the League to the community, such as the Senior Center in East Grand boulevard or the Detroit League for the Handicapped.

Others volunteer their services to agencies with no Junior League connection whatsoever—except for the fact that they need volunteer workers and League members have pledged themselves to volunteer service. League members are not afraid of hard work . . .

It's not the "work" in store for her in the next two years that's bothering incoming Junior League of Detroit president Liz Fitzpatrick—she knew about THAT when she first considered accepting the presidency.

It's something else that has her ever so slightly worried, something she hadn't even thought about until Nancy Gard began dropping off "bits and pieces' 'of League business at the Fitzpatrick home . . .

When Nancy finally arrives with the bulging Junior League of Detroit "Official Presidential Filing Cabinets" . . . where in the world is Liz going to put them?
