SENATOR ROBERT F. Kennedy died in Good Samaritan Hospital in Los Angeles today after three-and-a-half hours of delicate surgery to remove bullet and bone fragments from the midbrain area. He received this massive brain damage when he was shot by Jordanian, Sirhan Sirhan, 23, early Wednesday morning in the Ambassador Hotel. The alleged assassin was held under a $250,000 bond. Five other persons were injured.

Friday, June 7

SENATOR ROBERT F. KENNEDY'S body was flown by presidential jet home to New York for the final rites of the Roman Catholic Church. Senator Kennedy's widow, Ethel and his brother, Senator Edward M. Kennedy, rode in the front seat of the blue-gray hearse which carried the Senator's body from the hospital in Los Angeles to the airport.

THE HOUSE COMPLETED a Congressional action Thursday on a many-faceted crime control bill which includes a ban on mail-order sales of handguns. At the same time, President Johnson was asking for much tighter curbs on the traffic in firearms. Both actions were results of the pistol killing of Senator Kennedy in Los Angeles.

Saturday, June 8

MOURNERS FILED past the bier of Senator Robert F. Kennedy at the rate of 5,000 an hour on Friday, beginning as early as 6 a.m. Hundreds more stood deep along the route from the Cathedral to the train station Saturday, where the Senator's body was en route to Washington.

Sunday, June 9

SCOTLAND YARD detectives arrested James Earl Ray, wanted for the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., as he was about to leave London Airport Saturday for Belgium. The FBI said extradition proceedings would be started immediately. The capture of Ray, 40, ended a hunt by the FBI which spread across 50 states, into Mexico and Canada, and across the Atlantic to Portugal and Britain. Ray had a loaded pistol in his hip pocket when arrested. He was traveling under the alias of Ramon George Sneyd and was carrying two Canadian passports bearing that name.

SENATOR ROBERT KENNEDY was out to rest at Arlington Cemetery Saturday on a green sloping hillside near the grave of the brother he loved. His grave is just 50 feet from the tomb of President Kennedy.

Monday, June 10

ASSISTANT U. S. Attorney General Fred M. Vinson, Jr. visited James Earl Ray in a heavily guarded police station Sunday, in London, then began moving to extradite the suspect in the murder of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. This procedure should take from two to three weeks under normal conditions. If Ray hires lawyers to challenge the action it could run considerably longer.

Tuesday, June 11

JAMES EARL RAY, alleged killer of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., appeared in Bow Street Court today in London and indicated he would fight the United States government's attempt to seek his extradition. London's chief magistrate ordered Ray held without bail for another court appearance on June 18.

THE NEW YORK Times indicated Monday that Vice-President Hubert H. Humphrey stands to inherit a large portion of the national convention delegates left unattached by the death of Senator Robert F. Kennedy and that his nomination for the presidency seems assured.

THE SUPREME COURT upheld the power of policemen to detain a person briefly for questioning and to "frisk" him for dangerous weapons if reasonably necessary.

Silly Season Given Assist By Squirrels

Nature Shows Her Mean
Streak Early and Furry
Friends Prey on Feathered Favorites

By Walter W. Fuller

The summer doldrums, the silly season, and dog days, marching side by side, clumped into the Grosse Pointe area much too early this year. They certainly could have held off until August.

The sudden streak of 90-degree temperature, and a stifling humidity recording did it. If Nature is staging an advance showing of what's to come, we'd all best head for the north country.

Of course, the manufacturers and sales people of air conditioners may have arranged the heat wave. Or the cold pop and beer people. Or the ice cream manufacturers. Or even the squirrels.

Long, Sad Story

If you want to know how squirrels sneaked in here, it's a long, sad story. I'll briefen it! Because in days like these, squirrels, which abound in our backyards, are robbers. And they're sillier than coots.

If you don't know it, lemme tell you. A squirrel, (of the family Sciuridae), takes great care in the fall to hide nuts, and other stuff, so he will be able to jump down from a tree when the ground softens in spring, and help himself to the meal he has stashed away.

Forget Hiding Place

Only sad thing about it is that that bloomin' squirrel, in the spring, forgets where he hid his (Continued on Page 2)

Lochmoor Club Razing Old Center Drive Building for Replacement By $1,200,000 Structure

Ultra Modern Facility to Occupy Same Site; Project
Expected to Be Completed By August of 1969

Nostalgia will be mixed with a note of pleasant anticipation as more than 300 members dance out the evening Saturday at Lochmoor Club's 51st annual President's Ball.

The ball is in honor of Fred A. Hood, Jr., president of the Club, and his wife, Dorothy.

It will be the final social event in the venerable 44-year-old stucco clubhouse before wreckers move in to raze it in a few weeks to make way for an ultra-modern $1,200,000 new clubhouse facility. Completion of the new structure is expected by August of next year.

The new building is of contemporary design and will be set in the same tree-shaded area as the present facility. Every effort is being made to preserve as many as possible of the giant oaks, elms and maples that surround the clubhouse today.

30,000 Square Feet
The new building will have approximately 30,000 square feet of usable space. The lower level will contain both men's and ladies' locker rooms, separate men's and ladies' showers, the pro shop and special shower and locker facilities for juniors using the swimming pool. On the upper level will be a spacious lounge-ballroom, a combination dining room and a mixed grill as well as the business offices.

"The signing of the contract to proceed with the new building culminates more than three years of serious study and discussion by many people," President Hood said.

"We believe that our beautiful new clubhouse will not only bring great pleasure and satisfaction to our members but will also be a real asset as a social and recreational center for property owners in the Pointes," he added.

Locker Room to Go
Hood said that as soon as the new clubhouse is ready for occupancy the old men's locker room (now a separate building) and the locker and shower house adjacent to the swimming pool will be demolished. These (Continued on Page 3)

Woods Resident Robbed by Pair

Michael J. DesRocher of 2015 Huntington, was held up by two tall Negroes, at the rear of the Farms Delicatessen, 18660 Mack avenue, on Friday, June 7, according to a report made to Farms police.

DesRocher told investigating officers that he had gone into the store to purchase cigars, and that when he entered his car, the pair approached him, and one placed his hand on his (DesRocher's) shoulder and said, "Give me your money from your wallet." The victim said he did not see any weapon in the hands of either men.

He said that he handed the man his wallet. The man who placed his hand on DesRocher's shoulder, removed $10 from the wallet, all that was in it, and tossed the wallet back at the victim. The pair fled from the scene, DesRocher said.

He described the first man as being six feet two inches tall, between 25 and 30 years old, and was wearing a black short-sleeved shirt and black trousers. The man's companion was about six feet tall, between 25 and 30 years old, and was wearing a black short-sleeved shirt, with white buttons, and dark green work pants.

Blame 30 Youths for Disgraceful Conduct; Several Teenagers Arrested, Including One
With Narcotics

The reported near-riot of last Tuesday, June 4, at Grosse Pointe South High School, was not really a near-riot, but the incident was described as shameful, and was attributed to a handful of senior students and non-students.

The disgraceful conduct was blamed on about 30 teenagers, students and non-students, by Principal Jerry Gerich, by several pupils questioned in the matter, and by Farms police Chief Jack F. Roh.

The climax of the entire incident was the arrest of six persons for reckless driving, assault and disorderly conduct. One student was arrested for illegal possession of narcotics and reckless driving.

Speeds 70 m.p.h.
Arrested on the latter charge was Jonathan C. Dahl, 18, of 155 Stephens road, who was chased on his motorcycle at speeds up to 70 miles an hour. He was stopped by police at Stephens and Kercheval and taken to the station.

Chief Roh said that before placing Dahl in a cell, the youth was searched and 10 tin-foil packets of hashish (concentrated marijuana) were found on his person. Also found were several capsules of light blue powder, which were sent to the State Police for analysis. The report on this has not yet been received, it was said.

Det. Sgt. George Van Tien said that a warrant was obtained charging Dahl with illegal possession of narcotics. The youth was also given a ticket (Continued on Page 2)

Youths Facing Theft Charges

Two 16-year old youths were arrested by City police on Saturday, June 8, at 12:48 a.m. on the charges of larceny from a car and as minors in possession of alcoholic beverages.

They were observed by City Patrolman Richard Lanski and John Drummond while the officers were on routine patrol. They noticed a white male standing at the rear of a Corvair which was parked in front of 379 University. Lanski and Drummond found a battery on the pavement.

One of the boys had a screwdriver on his person. The other youth was found hiding in the bushes nearby. A '64 Corvair, belonging to one of the youths, was discovered parked at the corner of St. Paul and University.

In the car, officers found a hammer, a battery holder and five cans of beer. The boys were taken to the City police station and their car was held. Their parents were notified and the boys released in their custody. They were told to report back to the Detective Bureau later in the day as which time the boys and their parents were interviewed. Both boys were filed on with Juvenile Court authorities. The battery was returned to the owner.

GP Police Warn Residents Of 'Embezzlement' Racket

Woods Det. Gerald Kensora disclosed that unscrupulous individuals are again attempting to fleece elderly citizens and others, of money by trick.

He repeated the same warning that Farms Det. Sgt. George Van Tien gave recently, that residents should be alert and not trust anyone claiming to be police officers checking on so-called dishonest bank tellers embezzling the residents' money.

Two Farms residents received such calls, and one, an elderly woman, nearly withdrew several thousands of dollars to give to the "policeman," until she was warned that it was a hoax.

Kensora said that he spoke to a Detroit detective lieutenant regarding a complaint from a Woods woman, whose name was withheld, who received a call from a man claiming to be a Detroit policeman. The call was received on Wednesday, June 5.

Death Deals Buhl Family Double Blow

Theodore D. and Arthur H., Jr. Die Within Two Days of Each Other; Funerals Held Here

Two members of one of Detroit's oldest and most prominent families, died this week. Both were residents of The Pointe.

Theodore D. Buhl, of 260 Ridge road, succumbed to a long illness in Sarasota, Fla., on Saturday, June 8. He had hoped to return to his Pointe home this weekend, to spend the summer here.

Arthur H. Buhl, Jr., of 390 Provincial road, died in his home Monday morning, June 10. They were first cousins. Both were born in Detroit, but both had lived here for many years.

Theodore Buhl, 65, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Willis E. Buhl, was the president of Abbe Press, Inc. and Anteebo Publishers, Inc., the printing and publishing divisions of the company which owns the Grosse Pointe News and the Kramer Printing Company.

He was educated at the Detroit University School, (forerunner of the Grosse Pointe University School), Culver Military Academy, Hotchkiss School and Yale University.

He was a director of Buhl Land Company, which owns the Buhl Building and many other properties in the metropolitan area. A life-long racing buff, for a number of years he was a director of the Ringling Brothers, Barnum and Bailey Greatest Show on Earth, and compiled a magnificent collection of self-taken movies of circus life.

He served in the Navy from 1942 to 1946 with the Lighter Than Air (Blimp), service at Moffett Field, Calif., Houna, La., and Weeksville, N.C. He was honorably discharged with the rank of Commander, USNR.

A great lover of horses, Mr. Buhl played polo in his younger days and was the owner of a large stable of race horses. One of them, Second Avenue, won the first Michigan Mile at the track which he helped found and develop. He was a charter member of the Executive Committee of the Michigan Racing Association and continued his directorship in this organization to the time of his death.

Win Battle For Seats on School Board

Record Set as 13,014 Ballots Are Cast Following Bitter Fight Between Candidates

Lee H. Allen and Barbara R. Thompson were decisive victors among a field of five candidates in Monday's election for trustees to serve on the Grosse Pointe Board of Education. Mr. Allen led with 8,339 and incumbent Thompson ran second with 8,162.

The balloting climaxed what long-time community residents regarded as the most acrimonious trusteeship election in the history of the school district and resulted in the largest turnout of voters in the traditionally light Board election.

Vote Sets Record

A total of 13,014 ballots were cast on Monday, compared to 6,390 a year ago, a record high up to that time in school board elections.

Mrs. Thompson and Mr. Allen defeated by more than two-to-one a slate comprised of Kenneth S. Halsey and Dr. Carl R. Von Gruenigen.

Mr. Halsey ran third with 3,975 and Dr. Von Gruenigen ran fourth with 3,491. Both candidates are reported to have had strong backing from an unidentified group which distributed large quantities of unsigned campaign literature and which held secret meetings.

Both Mr. Allen and Mrs. Thompson had the backing of Grosse Pointe Citizens for Education, a recently-formed community group organized to support local public education.

John K. Grylls, who ran as an independent, finished in fifth place with a total of 1,543 votes.

Plenty of Politics

Community observers reported that the campaign was tinged throughout with overtones of partisan politics, with the Halsey-Von Gruenigen ticket allegedly backed by an ultraconservative element, and with the Allen-Thompson forces reportedly inclined toward a more moderate political philosophy.

Emotions ran high throughout the campaign as candidates engaged in bitter exchanges before PTA and community groups, and in various public meetings.

For the first time in history, a special meeting of the board of Education was called for the purpose of hearing the candidates expound their various philosophies. More than 1000 persons jammed the auditorium of Parcels Junior High School on June 3 to hear the contenders and to ask questions of them.

Seven on Board

In addition to Mrs. Thompson, currently serving as secretary of the Board of Education, and newcomer Lee Allen, the composition of next year's Board will include Mrs. Paul G. Hykes, John T. Short, Edward J. Pon-gracz, Arnold P. Fuchs and Calvin J. Sandberg.

Russell H. Peebles, vice-president of the present Board who had served for five years as a trustee, withdrew earlier from candidacy in Monday's election, as did Malcolm R. Lovell, formerly a member of the Birmingham (Mich.) Board of Education.

Cpl. David B. Robb Serves in Vietnam

Marine Corporal David B. Robb, 20, son of Mrs. Jean Robb of 627 Neff road, is helping to provide support while serving with the U. S. Marines in Vietnam.

As a member of the Third Amphibian Tractor Battalion, First Marine Division, he helps move troops and resupply river patrols. He also helps to provide beach defense.

His unit is also engaged in a civic action program designed to assist the Vietnamese people in completing self-help projects, such as the building of wells, culverts, small bridges and schools. Equipment and materials are made available through the Marine Corps Reserve Civic Action Fund.

GP Police Warn Residents

The man said that he would send a taxi to pick up the woman, the detective said, but when the resident said that she would drive to the bank in her own car, the person became flustered and insisted that she take a cab.

When the resident became suspicious, the man said if she did not believe him, to call 224-1212, the Detroit Police Department number, and instructed the woman to hang up. The woman complied, and dialed the number, and immediately the same voice was heard at the other end.

The woman became extremely suspicious, and when the connection was finally broken, she called Detroit police, and spoke to the lieutenant in charge. The officer informed her that no Detroit officer is investigating any such case as disclosed to the woman.

The Detroit policeman then called the Woods station, and told Kensora of the incident, and also disclosed that the Detroit Department has received a number of complaints from Detroit residents. As a matter of fact, the lieutenant told the Woods detective, three such complaints had been received about the time the woman called.

A trick of the confidence man, is to call, and when the intended victim becomes suspicious, give a phone number and tell his victim to hang up and dial the number to verify the "investigation."

The neat part of this, Kensora said, is that when one party hangs up, and the other does not, the line is not disconnected, and when the victim dials, the other party is already on the line. In the excitement of thinking that someone is helping himself to the victim's money, the victim fails to pay attention as to whether or not there is a dial tone.

Any resident receiving calls from "policemen," claiming that they are investigating embezzlement of the intended victim's money, should notify local police without delay, Kensora said.

Another point to remember, he said, is that banks are insured with the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, and that every depositor's account is insured up to $15,000. Too, every bank and loan company makes periodic audits of accounts, and shortages can be spotted, if there are any, he added.

Let the financial institutions where you bank notify you if there is a shortage by mail, or other procedures followed by the institutions in your account, not an unknown person, or persons, Kensora said.

hunts varied game all over the continent, but his great love was bird shooting and with a number of other Pointe residents he helped establish Dover Marsh, near Chatham, Ont.

Included among his memberships were the Grosse Pointe Club, Country Club of Detroit, Detroit Club, Grosse Pointe Hunt Club, Grosse Pointe Yacht Club, University Club, Hundred Club, and Bath and Tennis Club of Palm Beach, Fla.

Funeral services were held in the home Tuesday afternoon, with burial in the family mausoleum in Elmwood Cemetery. Memorials may be sent to the Salvation Army, Detroit, of which Mr. Buhl was a member of the board of directors for many years.

ARTHUR H. BUHL, JR.

Arthur H. Buhl, Jr. died suddenly on Monday, June 10, in his home in Provincial road.

A member of an old Detroit family, Mr. Buhl was active in many business and civic organizations during his lifetime. He served as president of the Buhl Land Company and was a member of the board of directors of Parke-Davis, First of Michigan Corporation and Harper Hospital.

Entering the United States Navy in 1940, prior to the full outbreak of World War II, he left active military service in 1945 with the rank of Lieutenant Commander.

Mr. Buhl attended Detroit University School, The Hill School and The Evans School of Tucson, Ariz.

He was a member of The Country Club of Detroit, Detroit Club, The Grosse Pointe Club and Yonolega Club.

Mr. Buhl is survived by his wife, the former Mary Gene Smith; his two sons, Arthur H. Buhl, III, of Nashville, Tenn., and Howard S., two daughters, Mrs. B. Russell Buck, of Lake Forest, Ill., and Mrs. Page Chapman III, of London, England and nine grandchildren. Also surviving Mr. Buhl are his brother, C. Henry Buhl, of Vendome road, and his sister, Mrs. J. Stewart Hudson, of Lothrop road.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday, June 12, at 11 o'clock in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, 16 Lake shore drive. Funeral arrangements were handled by the William R. Hamilton Company.

Memorial Tributes may be sent to Harper Hospital, 3825 Brush street, Detroit, Mich., 48201.

for reckless driving.

Others Arrested

Other youths arrested were: Daniel E. Lee, 17, of 20847 Country Club drive, Harper Woods, charged with assault on a police officer. It was alleged by witnesses that the youth struck Farms Patrolman William Fowler in the mouth.

David Dillon, 19, of 20890 Ridgmont, Harper Woods, charged with being a disorderly person and creating a disturbance; Gregory P. Darling, 18, of 20954 Country Club drive, Harper Woods, disorderly person and creating a disturbance; David M. Wernet, 19, of 1961 Country Club drive, reckless driving; and Dennis M. Rauss, 16, of 1621 Oxford, reckless driving.

All are seniors at the high school except Dillon, police said, and are members of the graduating class.

Principal Gerich called the melee a disgraceful incident which brought shame on the high school, even though all the students did not participate. Only an insignificant number of persons, including non-students took part in the melee, he pointed out.

Reflection on School

Nevertheless, he added, the actions of these youths reflected on the school. The between 400 and 600 seniors, juniors and sophomores who were gathered outside the school building and watched the disgraceful conduct of the noisy youths, added to the incident, in that they were away from classes, and were truants.

Gerich said that the incident began about 10:25 a.m., and lasted about 25 minutes.

Following a formal assembly of the senior class, the principal said, to honor the top five percent of the coming graduates, and the conducting of other matters, a small group of seniors, who failed to obey instructions to return to classes, went to their cars on the school grounds.

Poured Oil in Street

Some of these students poured a considerable amount of oil on the streets, then gunned the motors of their vehicles, squealed tires and took off at high speeds.

Several faculty members who saw what was taking place, and fearing things might become worse, called police.

Patrolman Fowler, who was dispatched to the area, was surrounded by the instigators who rocked his scout car and broke off the emergency radio antenna. The officer, fearing the vehicle might be tipped over, called for assistance.

Police from the five Pointes and Harper Woods, in riot gear, were rushed to the school, and immediately placed barricades on Grosse Pointe boulevard and Fisher, and ordered every one to disperse and leave the area.

Funeral Halted

It was disclosed that before police arrived a funeral cortege, traveling north on the boulevard was forced to stop, and students began pounding on the hearse and cars in the procession.

When student witnesses of the melee were questioned regarding this disgraceful conduct, those questioned, names withheld, said that only five youths were involved in this, and that the teenagers in the streets made the five stop, and then cleared the street to permit the cortege to pass.

A total of 35 police officers from the six communities were on hand to maintain the peace, and they were still there when students poured out of the school building at the end of classes at 2 p.m. However, there were no further incidents and the students quietly went home.

Another incident that was reported, was that an unoccupied police car, with the motor running, was at the curb near the boulevard-Fisher intersection, and one youth shoved the vehicle's gear in drive, the car moved forward slowly and nudged five persons in its path. Fortunately, no one was hurt.

Might Not Graduate

Gerich said that he met with Chief Roh, and the police chiefs of the other departments, and that it was their firm decision that if any further incidents occurred, there would be more arrests, and if any of those taken into custody are members of the graduating class, then they possibly might not be permitted to graduate.

Gerich said that this decision was given to instructors of the senior classes, who imparted this information to their pupils.

The principal said that the high school cannot make any excuses for the disgraceful conduct that took place. What happened reflected on the faculty and the students, whether they are seniors, juniors, or sophomores.

He said that he spoke to Chief Roh, and asked for a bill for damages to police cars, to be paid by the senior class, and he received a bill of only $6.40, for the replacement of a new antenna on the car Fowler was driving.

Still More Trouble

At 8:35 a.m. on Tuesday, City police, informed that two youths were in an automobile with obscenities written on its surface, arrested the youths, Richard Clute, 18, of 33 Whitcombe, and David Ebberle, 17, of 2127 Fleetwood. The car was taken to the station and impounded.

At 3:05 p.m., City Cpl. Richard Clarke issued tickets to three youths for loitering at Fisher and Maumee. They are, Michael Crist of 1675 Severn; Edward Behn, 19, of 16298 Nicola, Detroit; and James W. Ren, 17, of 19676 Country Club drive.

At 2:40 p.m. on Wednesday, June 5, City Patrolmen Dwight Scott and Ronald Pryor said they ordered two youths, non-students, away from the high school area, and when they refused, issued them tickets for being disorderly persons. They are Richard Chouinard, 19, of 1791 Hawthorne, and Bruce Richardson, 18, of 5086 Yorkshire, Detroit.

DIVER SLIPS ON BOARD

'Skip-Day' Melee

It was disclosed that City Patrolman Edward Miller was the officer who witnessed the unattended police car, with its gear in drive, hit the five persons, and that it was he who stopped the vehicle.

Further Disturbances
On Thursday, June 6, between the hours of 4 and 5 a.m., the customary early morning silence of some of the Grosse Pointes was shattered by what seemed like a thousand automobile horns blasting off . . . up one street and down another. The din was deafening, even frightening, and hundreds of residents were awakened by the pandemonium. Scores of them telephoned the police, demanding to know what was going on.

It was explained that the rowdydow was created by thoughtless, and high-spirited, members of high school graduating classes in the area, celebrating after various parties.

"It was all innocent fun," police observed, "and there wasn't much we can do about it." The sad thing is that those kids picked a pretty poor time of day for horn blowing.

her out of danger, and after treatment, she was permitted to go home.

Chief Mason said that if Turner and Ettinger had not acted quickly, the little girl would have died.

In a letter to the fire chief, Chief Roh complimented Turner and Ettinger for their lifesaving action, and stated that it is his opinion "that an outstanding job of emergency first aid and lifesaving was performed by the firemen."

Lt. Charles Backman, who is Turner's and Ettinger's platoon commander, with the endorsement of Chief Mason, will recommend the two firefighters for citations for saving Heide's life.

"THE TV SET"

How Television Found Out We Aren't All Dumb

BY BETTELOU PETERSON
Free Press TV-Radio Writer

What do you know? Someone in television has discovered we're not all blithering idiots out here!

We will laugh at satiric jabs; we won't yell over prickly bars and we do understand intelligent talk.

There's only been a start, mind you, and it could disappear if the timid have their way. It's like the fellow said about the Smothers Brothers last season.

"I'm afraid to admit I enjoy a show. Every time I do, it goes off the air."

Now credit Tommy and Dickie with taking the first step. The boys are tasteless at times, but for every cringe there's a sly dig that makes up for it.

The Smothers lads have had to fight the good fight. Not since Fred Allen's old radio days has the network brass

Bettelou

Rowan (top) and Martin: No need to feel underprivileged.

Martin said, the Smothers Brothers get away with a lot on their show.

Not that Dan and Dick need to feel underprivileged. "Laugh-In" socks it to 'em good and without too many jousts with NBC's Blue-Pencil Man—at least publicly.

"Laugh-In" owes to Tom and Dick its atmosphere, that atmosphere which laughs off much that would have been regarded with horror just a season ago, if indeed it had ever gotten on the air at all. But "Laugh-In" owes little to anybody or anything else. It's the first really original concept to hit television in so long that its impact even moved the TV Academy to come up with a crowd of Emmys.

And what other show can claim (or wants to claim) credit for bringing Tim to a waiting world?

"Laugh-In" IS TV. The technical nip-ups that keep it moving aren't possible in any other medium. The writing has to be given credit, too. Both "Laugh-In" and the Smothers boys owe much to the new generation of writers who take their humor dry.

Dirk Cavett is a "Tonight" alumnus and his appearance on daytime television is as amazing as anything that's happened. Though the fact that he's a hit is equally amazing.

Can it be that the mindless matrons and simple senior citizens at whom TV aims most daytime shows are really bright after all? Cavett's talk isn't much different from that of others of his ilk, and he isn't quite the perceptive prodigy that Merv Griffin is. But Cavett is certainly an ingratiating fellow. The acid in which he dips his pointed lines has a rather pleasant bite.

He's not afraid to make the housewives and retirees think a little, and the thoughts are not always bland and unoriginal. He isn't out to be Joe Pyne, thank heaven. Intelligent controversy beats the calculated kind any day.

One of the reasons Joey Bishop is gaining in his mid-night competition against Johnny Carson is that he has chosen to talk with his guests about more than their last meeting in Las Vegas—or the guest's latest record.

If you don't believe that Joey, after his first year, is being felt over at NBC, please note the high calibre of the guests being trotted out for Carson. And even Johnny has put a timid toe into talk with teeth in it.

you the bargain of your life.

Interested in Group fares? Take your choice.

Sign up an Affinity Group* of 70, for instance, and you can take advantage of our Iberian special—a trip to either Lisbon or Barcelona.

Plan to take off any day at all (just let us know 30 days in advance) and take up to a year to complete the trip. Jet Economy fares per person: Round trip Detroit to Lisbon, $266. Round trip Detroit to Barcelona, $293.

Or make it an Affinity Group* of 50 and fly any place in Europe you like. Go any day before October 16th, return before October 31st (except for certain summer weekends). Plan to give us 30 days to handle your application. The Jet Economy fares per person will go as little as: Round trip Detroit to London, $296.

Or make it an Affinity Group* of 25. This is an anywhere-in-Europe proposition, too, and this time you have the leeway to go any day of the year except a Friday, Saturday or Sunday in June or July.

Again, plan to let us know at least 30 days ahead of time. And figure on Jet Economy fares as low as these: Round trip Detroit to London, April 1-October 31, $351. November 1-March 31, $318.

Or an Inclusive Tour Group of 15. This means any group at all of 15 people, whether you sign them up or we sign them up. Plan to fly any day (as long as it's 30 days after you notify us). Figure on a trip of 14 to 21 days. Count on using these low fares in conjunction with any Pan Am Holiday package of $70 or more—which gives you extra low rates on ground arrangements such as sightseeing, buses, rent-a-cars.

And ah, yes, subtract a little from the price in fall, winter, or spring. Like this: Round trip Economy Detroit to London, June 10-July 4 and August 5-22, $340. Any other time of the year, $290.

GO IT ALONE $318

ROUND TRIPS FROM

Tour Fare. Free translation: we'll take you where you're going and we'll show you around when you get there. You can fly any Monday through Thursday, any season of the year, as long as it is: between June 7 and July 7 or August 2 and 25.

Plan to make it a trip of 14 to 21 days and to use this fare in conjunction with any Pan Am Holiday package of $70 or more—which gives you low rates on expenses over there. Sample fare: Round trip Jet Economy Detroit to London, $318.

Our second individual fare is a straight 14-21 day Jet Economy Excursion ticket. The same restrictions mentioned in our Inclusive Tour paragraph apply here. In fact, there are only two differences. One: there's no tour package. And two: the price is a little higher. Sample fare: Round trip Detroit to London, $348.

Now then. Before you go anywhere, we'd like to make just one suggestion: namely, see a Pan Am Travel Agent before you do anything. He really knows what he's doing and he'll do everything but pack your suitcase.

What's more, he'll see that you fly the world's most experienced airline in the bargain. And that means happy landings.

*An Affinity Group can be a fraternal organization, a church group, a garden club or any one of dozens of others as long as it wasn't organized principally for travel. Each traveler must have been a member for at least six months prior to the start of your trip.

Have you seen your son lately?

He's changing. Growing. Into manhood. Before you know it he'll be asking to borrow the car. His horizons are widening. Philosophies changing. What's in store for this boy-man? Where's he going? How will he get there? What's important to him? To you? To the world?

Culver believes his education must be the #1 concern. Education for responsibility. Education of the mind. Body. Spirit.

And note. Culver's primary aim is to prepare boys for college. In fact 99.6% of its graduates end up in leading colleges across the country.

Culver's main concern is to prepare leaders. Of today. For tomorrow. In all endeavors.

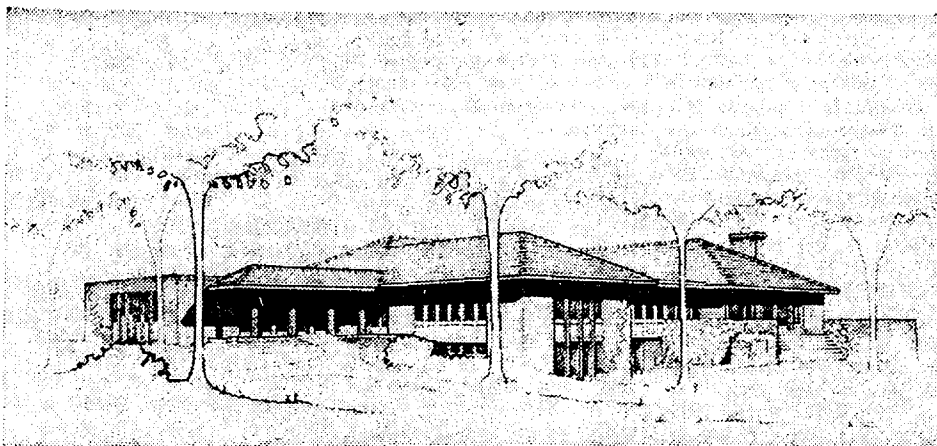

When you get home tonight, take a good look at your son. And remember this: in 25 years or so he will be making decisions affecting the world. In business. Government. Technology. Arts. Life. Then think of Culver's aims. It fine reputation. And write for a catalog.

Unique Program Held at Mason

The children of Mason School were a part of a unique and different type of experience recently. They were the audience at a Choral Reading assembly performed by the sixth grade class of Edward Behr. The teacher believes Choral Reading to be a rewarding, entertaining, and inspiring American art form.

Early in the school year the class listened while Mr. Behr read his favorite poems, on various occasions, as the subject of the poems related to a topic or subject matter area. "An excellent way to illustrate a situation, idea, or concept is with the reading of a poem," is the opinion of the teacher. A poem in Norwegian dialect about a farmer or about farm life in Norway is a thought provoking and stimulating experience to enrich social studies for example. Especially if the poem is read with a mood and feeling in an artistic style.

There are poems about insects, birds, animals, peculiar people, and fascinating places, that help a teacher take the class out of the room, via the world of imagination, into far off places of adventure, suspense, and mystery.

With poems children share the feelings, attitudes, beliefs, and philosophy of the writer, and gain a worthwhile insight into the lives and culture of ours and other societies and races of people.

The class seemed to be enjoying the poetry, although some of the boys were reluctant to exhibit much of an emotional response.

One student volunteered to bring in several favorite poems and read them. This was the impetus needed to start the entire class searching for poems to read or have read by the teacher. The class began to show a commiserate attitude towards the poems of each other, and enjoyed reading aloud to the rest of the group in solos, so they decided to try group reading. This led to the development of their own particular style as evidenced in the Choral Reading assembly, which was one goal of the teacher from the beginning.

The poems used were of a humorous or lightly entertaining quality. These included, "The Raggedy Man" by James Whitcomb Riley, "They Didn't Think by Phoebe Cary, "Tired Tim" by Walter DeLorMar, and "The Pirate Don Durk of Dowdee by Mildred Plew Megs.

Positive changes in the appreciation of literature and the creative writing of poems and literature by the children is evident, and is in some part related to the satisfying and enjoyable experience of presenting a choral interpretation of poetry for an audience.

EXPENSIVE RUBBISH?

Mrs. Theodora Whiteley, 216 Lakeland, called City police on Saturday, June 8, to report a missing boat chair. She told officers that the chair was near the rubbish containers and perhaps was taken with the rubbish collection that day. The chair had a bucket seat and was made of chrome and rubber and valued at $70. Police called Doug Collinson, Superintendent of the Highway Department, to have him check with his men to see if they picked up the boat chair.

The present schedule is as follows: classes will be held every Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday from 10:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. and will be in two sessions. The solution to summer heat may be right at your feet. All you need to do is cool and dry the air in your home.

If you have a forced air heating system, you have ductwork. And a furnace blower. So you're already moving and filtering air.

That's a big part of an electric central air conditioning system. All that's left is to cool the air and wring the steamy dampness out.

Add two compact units—cooling coil and condenser—and, presto, your heating system becomes a cooling system too. A system that cools, dehu-midifies, cleans and quiets your home. For less money.

That's right. Electric air conditioning costs less to buy, less to install, less to operate than the flame type.

Electric cooling works efficiently, like your refrigerator. Cools a 1,200-square-foot house for as little as $24.00 per season.

Call an air conditioning contractor, right away. He'll give you a free estimate and show you how electric central air conditioning is well within your reach.

Are you Ready to play the organ?

Playing the organ isn't just playing the organ. It's a way of thinking about yourself.

It starts with you ungluing yourself from the TV set. And unscrewing your head from Top 40 radio.

And it ends with you doing something with your life. Like creating music. Now, isn't talent important?

Of course. In fact, just to help you make sure, we are offering a free talent test. (We'll try your sense of pitch, your feeling for rhythm, etc.)

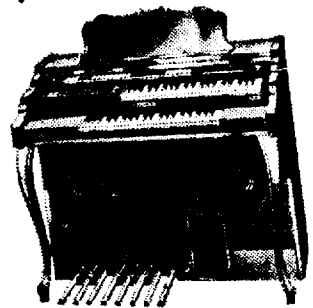

But talent isn't everything. And neither is price. Baldwin makes organs in everybody's price range. And our terms are easy, since Baldwin does our financing. The burning question is whether you yearn to carve a niche of your own. Only you can answer that.

So there's no point in telling you about our beautiful sonorities. Our rich cabinetry. And the mind-dazzling elec-tronic wizardry built into a Baldwin organ. You have to find out for yourself.

It takes a little courage. We're ready any time you are.

Neighbor Douses Bathroom Blaze

City firemen responded with all apparatus to the James Hellmich residence, 830 St. Clair, on Saturday, June 8, for a fire in the bathroom.

Upon arrival firemen found a neighbor had extinguished the fire by throwing the bathroom curtains which were afire into the bathtub. Firemen ventilated the bathroom and checked the attic.

They spoke to the babysitter, who was in the home at the time of the fire. She told firemen that she was watching television when she smelled smoke. She went to the foot of the stairway and discovered the fire in the bathroom. She immediately went upstairs to get the children and took them to a neighbor's house.

The fire department is investigating the cause of the fire.

Woods Police Accuse Pair In Narcotic, Gun Warrants

Two men were arrested by Woods police on Saturday, May 8, and arraigned before Woods Municipal Judge Don J. Goodrow on Sunday, May 9. One was charged in a warrant with attempting to obtain narcotics by false prescription; and the other for possession of a dangerous weapon.

Accused in the first count is Emmett Stafford, 40, of 3011 Virginia Park, and in the second count, James Wicker, Jr., 34, of 3314 Elmhurst. Both are of Detroit.

The pair stood mute at their arraignment, and Judge Goodrow set bond at $1,000 each and released them until examination date, Wednesday, June 19.

Det. Everett Plumb said that they were taken into custody together, and that Wicker was driving a car around the area, waiting for Stafford to come out of the Merit Woods Pharmacy, 19325 Mack avenue, the place where the latter tried to have the prescription filled.

The drug store owner, Sheldon Weisberg, who resides in Oak Park, refused to fill the prescription, becoming suspicious of the appearance of the paper.

In the store at the time was off-duty Woods Det. Martin Trombley, who was recognized as a police officer by Weisberg. Trombley was in the store to make a purchase.

The druggist called Trombley's attention to Stafford's attempt to have the phony prescription filled, and the policeman went outside to locate Stafford.

As the officer was scanning the area for Stafford, Woods Cpl. Peter Thomas drove by in a scout car, and Trombley informed him of the alleged incident in the store. The detective spotted the wanted man in an adjacent store, and pointed him out to the corporal.

The policemen entered the store and informed Stafford he was under arrest. At about this time, the officers observed Wicker circling around the area, and becoming suspicious, stop-

That's our problem. Too few people know how modest Olds prices are. Fact is, they start at $2512—and we have 16 Olds models under $3000. (There are at least that many

115 New Teachers Hired By Public School System

"We have already employed approximately 115 new teachers for the 1968-69 school year," Lawrence F. Kennedy, Assistant Superintendent-Professional Personnel, reported to the Board of Education Tuesday night. "These represent replacements for about 70 teachers who have resigned as well as additional teachers to meet increased enrollments and provide for the middle-school program as well as the opening of North High School."

"All elementary vacancies but one in physical education are now filled and six extra teachers have been hired as a hedge against summer losses," Mr. Kennedy stated. "Secondary school and special education vacancies total 13. Power mechanics, instrumental music, Russian, and a teacher of the mentally handicapped for senior high school youth pose the greatest problems at the moment but we are optimistic these as well as the other vacancies will be filled in the near future."

"Contrary to some rumors circulating during recent weeks, we have continued to employ the best qualified people available for our positions," Mr. Kennedy said. "No effort was made, or even considered, to hire on the basis of one individual being less expensive than another because of lesser experience or lower training. In fact, the average experience of the new group is more than a year higher than that of last year's new employees while the ratio of masters degrees to bachelors degree continues the same as for a number of prior years. As evidence of this, it can be stated that the average salary offered new teachers this spring is $8475 compared to $7707 average cost last year."

Mr. Kennedy continued that the quality of replacements and additions was high this year. Principals and other supervisors are unanimous in their opinion that the district has had an unusually good crop of candidates from which to choose.

"Much of this good fortune can be ascribed to the unsettled conditions other districts have the misfortune to enjoy," Mr. Kennedy said. "We are benefiting at the moment from the relatively harmonious relationships we have been able to maintain here and the lack of strife, acrimony, and bitterness which seems to have befallen other school systems in the area. Our work is cut out for us if we are to continue this advantage. Competitive salaries are critical but even more so is the educational climate in which the professional staff must work."

Negotiations are proceeding with the Grosse Pointe Education Association. Board representatives indicated that they have made a counter-proposal to the teachers' initial demands for a salary range of $8000-$16,000 and are scheduled to meet Thursday, June 13, for another negotiating session.

Pointes Develop Protection Plans

The updating of Grosse Pointe Park's police and fire training program, and an extensive mutual aid agreement with the four other Pointes, and Harper Woods is being developed, according to William L. Ellenburg, the city's new director of public safety.

Director Ellenburg served as divisional inspector of five west side Detroit police precincts before coming to the Park on May 1. He also previously had charge of a police commando task force, and his experience in the civil disobedience field has been extensive.

In his discussion of the "updating program," the director said that two members of the fire department will be sent to Adrian College to attend special courses in arson investigation.

"Our fire personnel are properly trained, and adequately equipped, and a civil disobedience program is being conducted," Ellenburg said.

Warns Against Rumors

Director Ellenburg urged the citizens of the Park to "beware of unsubstantiated rumors," which may have a harmful effect on the people.

Following his return to his office after recovering from surgery, Park Mayor Matthew C. Patterson had high praise for both Police Chief Arthur E. Louwers, and Fire Chief William B. Graul who were replaced by Director Ellenburg.

At the same time the mayor called attention to "the extensive experience and thorough training of the new director."

"Our wonderful community is extremely fortunate in being able to secure the services of such a capable and outstanding man as Director Ellenburg," the mayor said. "He has been carefully trained in every phase of modern-day law enforcement, and ever is on the alert for new methods adopted by other communities in the control of civil disobedience."

"Our citizens, I am sure, pledge him their support and offer him their cooperation in keeping with their citizenship responsibilities. He is a man of great courage, and wide knowledge in his special field, and we heartily welcome him to Grosse Pointe Park."

City police officer Edward Miller was cruising east on Kercheval on Wednesday, June 5, when he observed a motorcyclist on a '67 Honda make an improper turn at Kercheval and Lincoln. Miller stopped the driver, a 16-year-old youth, who could not produce a valid Michigan drivers' license. He told the officer his license had been suspended. He was arrested and the cycle was impounded. A ticket was issued for operating a motor vehicle on a suspended license, and turned over to Juvenile Court. The cycle was released to the owner.

Make a date to enjoy a "Command Performance."

Right now, your Cadillac dealer is inviting you to discover the most exciting motoring you've ever known—a "Command Performance" test drive of the 1968 Cadillac.

The excitement starts with the smooth, quiet, spirited response of Cadillac's 472 V-8 engine—the largest V-8 engine in any production passenger car. In the stop and go of city traffic or in cruising the open road, you experience an agility totally unexpected from a car of Cadillac's stature.

But Cadillac's performance encompasses much more than the liveliness of a great new engine. Its many power conveniences, variable ratio power steering, and remarkable balance and stability make driving a Cadillac sheer pleasure every mile of the way.

And when you consider that a Cadillac returns a greater percentage of its original cost at trade than any other car built in the land, you'll see why your Cadillac dealer is so proud of the car he represents.

Why not call him and make a date for your personal "Command Performance" test drive before the week is out?

He's ready to talk business—in your favor.

Ask your dealer for a "Command Performance" test drive soon.

Only you can prevent slogans

Yes, folks, careless reading and listening to slogans can brainwash you into a dull rut. When a big smokescreen of fiery hoopla and blazing headlines tells you to buy this soft drink or that soft drink, you may not see the forest for the trees. Like missing the gingery flavor of Vernors. And we couldn't bear that. You'd be missing a unique flavor and taste that no other soft drink has. Why, Vernors is so different it doesn't even need a slogan. Whether it's Vernors or Vernors One-Calorie, its flavor just can't be described in words that do it justice. So next time you're on a picnic or a hike in the woods, bury all those slogans that are cluttering up your mind and think clear. Think and drink Vernors. Remember, only you can prevent slogans.

Chlorine bleach gets clothes white. Sure it does.

GENERAL: Chlorine bleach should never be used as an all-purpose laundry aid.

Lightning White should always be substituted for chlorine bleach when a general clothes whitener is needed because bleach damages many fabrics.

Chlorine bleach should never be used on wool, silk, spandex, unfast colors, natural sponge and many wash-'n-wear items. Bleach should never be used on any fabric for any reason without first consulting the manufacturer's label.

Chlorine bleach should never be used in combination with common household ammonia. The resultant is a highly hazardous gas.

It is the opinion of many laundry experts that the amount of chlorine bleach recommended by the manufacturers of bleach is at least twice what is considered safe for cotton, linen, and other natural fabrics. It is suggested that when following label directions this fact be remembered.

It should be understood that chlorine bleach, no matter what its drawbacks are, is an excellent disinfectant. It should never be used as a disinfectant for clothes, however, without considering the damage it might do. One safe substitute: hydrogen peroxide.

It is wise to choose a substitute for chlorine bleach when trying to remove stains from clothes. However, there are a few cases where there is none less harmful than bleach.

When trying to remove stains from clothes, it is most important to remember that carbon tetrachloride is never to be used. Its fumes are harmful and sometimes fatal. This point is emphasized because a current stain-removal chart given wide circulation suggests the use of carbon tetrachloride. This suggestion is unthinkable.

STAIN-REMOVAL RECOMMENDATIONS:

Blood & meat juice. Soak in cold water. If stain remains, soak in 1 gal. lukewarm water. $\frac{1}{4}$ cup Lightning White & 3 tbs. household ammonia. Launder in lukewarm water & Lightning White & detergent. If necessary, use a diluted, safe household bleach.

Adhesive tape. Sponge with safe cleaning fluid or banana oil. Launder in Lightning White & detergent.

Alcoholic beverages. Sponge quickly with cold water, then with glycerine & water. Rinse in vinegar & water solution, then clear water. Launder in Lightning White & detergent.

Chewing gum. Rub with ice. Scrape off as much gum as possible. If stain persists, sponge with safe cleaning fluid. Launder in Lightning White & detergent.

Chocolate/cocoa. Apply paste of hot water & detergent. Rinse with hot water. Launder in Lightning White & detergent. If stain persists, sponge with hydrogen peroxide.

Coffee/tea. Soak in cool water. Launder in Lightning White & detergent, with water as hot as fabric permits. If stain persists, bleach with hydrogen peroxide or other non-chlorine bleach.

Ice cream/cream/milk. Soak in cool water. Launder in Lightning White, detergent & hot (or warm) water.

Deodorant/perspiration. Apply solution of Lightning White & detergent. Launder in regular fashion.

Dye & running. For cottons & linen, treat with commercial color remover—for example, Tintex. For colorfast fabrics, soak in solution of hydrogen peroxide (1 tbs. to 1 gal. water) & 2 tbs. detergent. Fresh stains often respond to an immediate rinse in cold water.

Fruit. Launder in regular fashion with Lightning White & detergent. Now treat remaining stain as follows: cover area with sodium perborate bleach & add drops of hot water to make a paste. Next add a few drops of household ammonia. Wait 15-30 minutes, then launder again as above.

Grass. Launder in hot water, Lightning White & detergent. If stain persists, use chlorine bleach according to directions. Now rewash. For colorfast fabrics, use hydrogen peroxide to bleach, then launder in warm water, Lightning White & detergent.

Lipstick/rouge. Sponge with safe cleaning fluid. Launder in Lightning White & detergent.

Ink/ballpoint ink. No results are certain. Sponge with safe cleaning fluid, then brush on paste of detergent and household ammonia. On washable white fabrics, bleach if necessary with chlorine bleach according to directions on label. On washable colored fabrics, do as suggested above, only substituting perborate bleach for chlorine bleach. Launder in Lightning White & detergent.

Paint. Scrape off fresh paint. Sponge with safe cleaning fluid. Launder in Lightning White & detergent.

Rust. Apply salt and lemon juice. Place in sun (if possible) to dry. Now rinse. Finally launder in hot (or warm) water, Lightning White and detergent.

Soft drinks. Sponge with equal parts alcohol & glycerine or lukewarm water & alcohol. Launder in lukewarm water, Lightning White & detergent.

White socks. Soak in $\frac{1}{4}$ cup Lightning White & $\frac{1}{4}$ cup liquid detergent. Launder in regular fashion.

Yellow discoloration in synthetics. Soak for 1 hour in solution of $\frac{1}{4}$ cup Lightning White to 1 gal. water. Launder in solution of Lightning White only. Re-launder if necessary, adding cup of non-chlorine bleach. Always wash white garments in separate load. Note: yellowing may be the result of using chlorine bleach. Check the label on the garment for possible warning on this point.

Work clothes. Shake garments to remove loose soil. Turn down cuffs & turn out pockets. Soak in solution of $\frac{1}{4}$ cup Lightning White & $\frac{1}{4}$ cup liquid detergent. Launder in regular manner.

But so does
new Lightning
White,
the amazing
laundry whitener and stain fighter—
only safely.

Lightning White's not a bleach. It's better than bleach. It brightens colors as safely as it whitens whites. It does it by helping your detergent lift out dirt that causes staining, graying, and yellowing. With bleach, the dirt stays—only the color changes.

It's the best for permanent press.

Lightning White penetrates hard-to-clean permanent press fabrics, lets your detergent get rid of dirt and stains.

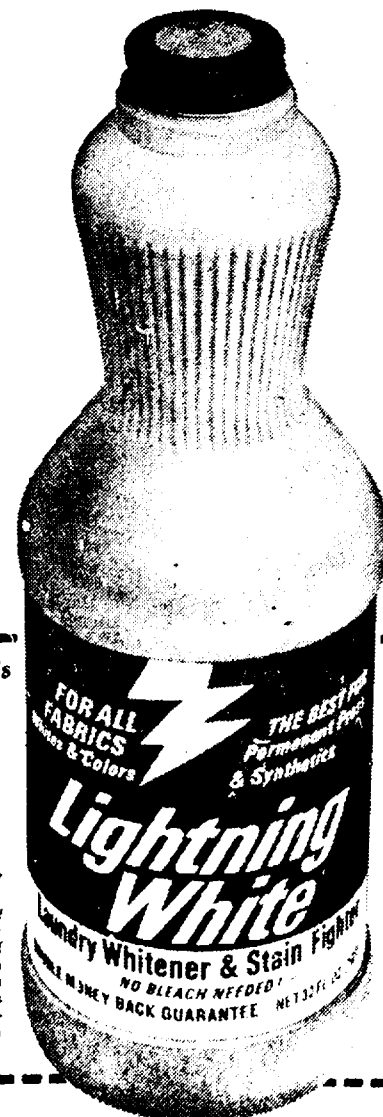

It gets permanent press cleaner than detergent alone, cleaner than detergent and harsh bleach.

For all fabrics—whites and colors.

Lightning White is even safe for use on washable synthetics that warn against the use of bleach.

No matter what the fabric, it beats anything else for clean—or double your money back.

Don't settle for ordinary white—get Lightning White.

Liggett School Providing Fully Balanced Education

By Pepper Whitelaw

"In preparation, don knowledge, friendship, and tradition within these walls to go out into the cold, yet brilliant world." These words pretty much sum up the Liggett School philosophy.

The Liggett girl leaves there with confidence and enters her college years with a knowledge that she has had one of the best educational backgrounds available in the United States today.

A Liggett girl is many things... an athlete, a student, a social worker... an interesting teenager.

A tour through the school is a warming experience. The general atmosphere is that of freedom, touched with a graciousness that so often is lacking in educational institutions today.

BLUE BIRD Wanderlodge®

BLUE BIRD WANDERLODGE OF MICHIGAN
1690 W. Lafayette 882-8804

The feeling upon entering this beautiful Georgian building is that you've arrived home and that feeling is with you until you take your leave.

Sladen Is Headmaster

The guiding hand of the school is Frank J. Sladen, Jr., headmaster, who never met a stranger. His affable, discerning manner has helped make Liggett what it is today... a home away from home for some 250 day students.

The staff of 28 teachers, the majority of whom have MA degrees is directed by Mrs. Noel Hinderleiter, dean of the Lower School and Mrs. Emily Baker, dean of the upper school.

Mr. Sladen is very proud of Liggett and justifiably so. "We use the free, honest approach here and often experiment with new techniques, but never at the student's expense... we are definitely geared to females," he smilingly adds. "We try to gear our education toward preparing our girls for further study so they will be in a position to earn a living if it becomes necessary. We're out to develop the whole woman... one who will make a good wife and mother as well."

Liggett has no boarding students, unless one counts the Headmaster and his wife, whose residence is on the school grounds. Education is on an individual basis. Classes are rarely larger than 15 students. Classrooms are bright and well equipped; so are the students!

Sits In on Classes

We had the opportunity to sit in on some of the classes. We started with the pre-school and kindergarten section. Here both boys and girls are enrolled.

In the pre-school section we found a mixture of "fun" and educational playthings... from dishes and ironing boards to Gerbils.

Bigger than life-sized cut-outs of each child in the class were posted on the walls... these cut-outs were created by the child lying on the floor while the teacher traced him on a huge sheet of paper. After the tracing was done the children colored and drew themselves in... delightful!

Another colorful display was a bulletin board filled with cut-outs of transportation media, that had its beginnings from a field trip the class had taken to the airport. This same outgrowth was apparent through the pre-school... one simple activity just seemed to spur the teachers and students on to further study and investigation.

Happy Kindergarten

A sign saying "Happiness is being in kindergarten" was posted in that classroom... and after sitting in on the class, we agree! Fun games and equipment were everywhere. A flower garden, carefully planted by the youngsters, was sprouting near the window.

In another corner of the room was a sound and science table, and in a very special spot was the class newspaper, which consisted of a large sheet of paper posted on the board with large lettering stating something about the work the kindergarteners had been doing. The first child able to read the newspaper each week (with teacher's help), took that edition home with him.

The Upper School is as well equipped as the Lower School. We visited a 10th grade biology section and walked in on a dissection session in which the girls were dissecting premature pigs. The girls appeared fascinated with the study, and microscopes were busy as the girls carefully identified the parts of the body with the assistance of their instructor Emily Baker. Mrs. Baker said the main emphasis of the course is the interrelationship of all living things.

Wonderful to See

We also briefly stopped in on a class analysing Yeats' "The Magi." The interest and knowledge of the work, combined with the rapport between teacher and students was wonderful to see.

Individual counseling is one of the highlights of Liggett education, from the Lower School (here students who need extra help get individual attention), to the Upper School, where course selection and college planning are handled on a very specialized and personal basis.

Liggett students, 73 percent of whom are Pointers, also enjoy many varied extra curricular activities such as field hockey, baseball, La Crosse, volleyball and dramatics, just to name a few.

The Parent and Alumni Associations are very active at Liggett and provide the necessary communication between school and home.

Liggett is the oldest independent school in Michigan, with new and progressive ideas for the education of young women.

The air we breathe will always be free, but each year it costs more to breathe it.

Peters, Assistant to the Director, have planned an eight-week program which should have popular appeal for all ages and interests. Several films are based on books, such as "The Light In The Forest," "The Man Without A Country," "The Ugly Duckling," and "Greyfriars Bobby."

Book lists, suggesting good reading for summer, and other seasons as well, have been compiled by children's librarians. These lists include titles for beginning readers through grade eight. Film and book lists have been distributed in all public and non-public schools. Additional copies of each are available in the three libraries.

The weekly film schedule from June 20 and 21 through August 8 and 9 is: Thursday, Park Branch, 2 p.m.; Friday, Woods Branch, 10 a.m.; Friday, Central Library 2 p.m., except

Policeman Ends Shores Service

Shores Patrolman Melvin Yack retired from the force May 29, after more than 26 years of service. He is the first to apply for retirement under the new and increased pension benefits voted for by Village electors on Tuesday, May 21, which became immediately retroactive to May 1.

Yacks, 58, joined the department on March 1, 1942. With accumulated leave and sick days, his retirement will become official on July 1, and until that time he will be carried on the Village payroll.

He and his wife, the former Betty Smith of St. Ignace, a community in Michigan's Upper Peninsula, have been residents of the Shores for many years. The couple will move to their new home in St. Ignace, where Yacks will enjoy complete retirement, and where he plans on doing a great deal of hunting and fishing, his favorite outdoor recreations.

He is a member of the Grosse Pointe Fraternal Order of Police, Lodge No. 102, and has been public safety representative on the Shores Retirement and Pension Committee for the past eight years.

COMPLETE TRAINING

Two new firemen, appointed to the Farms Fire Department in March, have completed a full week of live-in firefighting training at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor. It was disclosed by Chief M. William Mason. Completing the Firefighters Basic Training Course, were Dennis Knoll and Donald Easton.

June 21, 28 and August 2 at which time there will be two showings, 1 p.m. and 3 p.m.

This change in schedule at Central Library is made to accommodate possible overflow attendance.

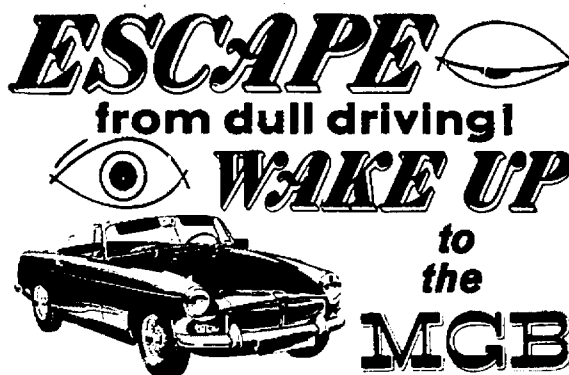

Men Gardeners To Fete Ladies

"Flower Arrangements" will be the topic of a talk scheduled for Ladies' Night on Thursday evening, June 20, by Grosse Pointe Men's Garden Club. The speaker will be Mrs. Arlene Schroeder of Motif Flower shop, assisted by Nick Demos. The session, in War Memorial building, starts at 8 p.m.

An added attraction will be the annual June Garden show, staged by members of the club with display of flowers, plants and vegetables of their own production. The usual judging and award of ribbons will take place.

Members, their ladies and guests will be welcome at the meeting. Entries for the show are to be delivered earlier in the evening.

The next meeting of the club's board of directors will be held at the home of Haecel Boyd, 731 Grand Marais, Pointe.

PEST OF THE WEEK
SYCAMORE ANTHRACNOSE

Sycamore Anthracnose, a fungus and twig disease, is severe this year due to low temperatures (55F and below) at the time of bud initiation. Leaves will, often causing the complete loss of the first set of leaves. Twigs and small branches will be killed back and small cankers will appear at the base of the twigs. Powdery mildew is often associated with the anthracnose in early summer. When leaves are fully developed another phase of the disease appears, causing triangular brown areas in the leaves which eventually cause browning and death of the entire leaf. Infected leaves fall throughout the summer.

Chorus Giving Concert Monday

The Grosse Pointe Summer Chorus will begin its Seventh season of singing just for fun on Monday, June 17. Home for this group is the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center where the members may take advantage of the spacious, cool grounds and air-conditioned comfort during rehearsals and regular refreshment breaks.

Richard Johns returns as director for the regular Monday and Thursday meetings which are held from 8 to 10 p.m. Registration takes place at the first three rehearsals where no auditions are held — anyone who enjoys singing is welcome. A membership fee is charged to cover the cost of music and the directors services. This fee is $5 for a single registrant, $9 for a couple and $12 for a family membership.

Jerry Hughes will be the accompanist for the 7th year in a row. He will be playing such selections as Bach Bouree to be sung in the jazz idiom; a new arrangement of Talk To The Animals; Ave Verum Corpus by Mozart; a lilting new Dave Brubeck composition suitably titled Summer Song; and the Simon and Garfunkle favorite Scarborough Fair. This last song will be performed with guitar accompaniment by Ann and Julie Shaheen, charter members of the group.

The Summer Chorus concert will be given on Thursday, July 25, so that all student members may be free to leave on vacation as soon as summer school closes. Singers have ranged in age from 8 years to parents and grandparents, and this has made the group unique in spirit as well as sound. For further information call TU 6-0710 or TU 2-8486.

Father Walsh To Offer Mass

The Reverend Bernard Kirk Walsh, S.J., son of Mrs. Carroll Spaulding Wright and the late Mr. Clune Joseph Walsh, will offer a Mass of Thanksgiving on Sunday, June 16, at St. Paul's Church, Grosse Pointe, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

Father Walsh was ordained on June 8, along with 18 other seminarians of the Society of Jesus, in St. Ignatius Church, Chestnut Hill, Mass. The presiding prelate was Bishop John J. McEleney, S.J., Archbishop of Kingston, Jamaica.

Previous to his ordination, Father Walsh had completed his studies at Weston College, the Jesuit New England Province theologate. He entered the Society of Jesus at Shadowbrook, Lenox, Mass. in 1962.

During his years at Weston, he has served as director of Jesuit Newman Club work for the Archdiocese of Boston, and also as business manager of "New Testament Abstracts." During the summer of 1967, he worked at the newly founded socio-pastoral mission in Salvador, the capital city of Bahia in Brazil.

The Concelebration of the Mass of Thanksgiving at St. Paul's on-the-Lake marks a homecoming for Father Walsh. He attended St. Paul's School and was an altar boy there. Besides attending St. Paul's he is a graduate of Grosse Pointe High School, Holy Cross College at Worcester, and served for two years with the United States Army in Europe.

GPUS Graduate Enters Ministry

When Gregory A. Otte is ordained with the Laying-on-of-Hands at historic Trinity Lutheran Church on June 16, he will represent the fourth generation of his family to enter the Holy Ministry. He is the son of the Rev. and Mrs. Gilbert T. Otte, of Outer Drive East.

The liturgical ceremony will also re-enact the father-son conferral of Holy Orders which took place on the same site a generation ago.

Seminarian Gregory A. Otte was baptized and confirmed by his father in the very church where his Ordination is to take place. A graduate of Grosse Pointe University School, Greg Otte continued his education at Valparaiso University, Valparaiso, Ind., and at Concordia Seminary, Springfield, Ill. Last week he received a Master's Degree from Duke University, Durham, N.C. He is to be installed as pastor in Bethany Lutheran Church, Covington, Kentucky, on June 30.

The officiants at the Ordination Service in century-old Trinity Lutheran Church near the heart of Detroit, will be the Rev. Dr. Gilbert T. Otte, the Rev. Dr. Edwin C. Weber, president of the Michigan District of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod; and the Rev. George Kurz, of St. James Lutheran Church.

Sallan Trophy Contest Set for Saturday

The Grosse Pointe Power Squadron, sponsored by the United States Coast Guard, will present its Annual Sallan Trophy Predicted Log Contest for power cruisers this Saturday, June 15, at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club. The purpose of this event is a form of boat competition which places the emphasis on the skipper's navigation ability, helmanship and intimate knowledge of his boat and engine. Speed will not be stressed in the three or more leg run, totaling 25 to 30 miles on Lake St. Clair. It is not how fast a boat is going that counts, its knowledge of how fast a boat is going under a given set of conditions. This contest is open to USPS members of squadrons in District 9, members of cooperating yacht clubs and members of the United States Coast Guard. In order for a craft to be eligible it must be inboard-outboard powered, 19 feet or more and partially decked over with sleeping accommodations. The course will be APBA sanctioned and will run without handicaps. All entrants must be 21 years old and all craft must comply with Coast Guard regulations. The official course will be given to contestants at 1800 hours on June 14. Each skipper submits a log predicting, down to the second, the time his boat will take to run each leg. Then he will be assigned a finishing time and must start and run the course as close to predicted time as possible, without benefit of timing or water-speed indicators. The skipper who completes the course with least amount of accumulated error is officially declared the winner by the Sallan trophy judges. The lucky first place victor will win a five-piece sterling silver tea service with waiter, valued at $1,600. Second and third place prizes will also be awarded. The entry fee for the contest is $2 for APBA members and $5 for non-members. For more information, contact Ed Zeld, chairman, at PR 1-6913, LI 2-6940 or 881-9696.

Old Glory's Birthday

Strange as it may seem, most adult Americans give little thought to the revered (by most) Flag of our Nation. It's there. It's a symbol of freedom and strength! So what? They also are aware of the fact that it is made up of red, white, and blue stripes, and has 50 stars on a field of blue. And, that a woman named Betsy Ross had something to do with fashioning it.

Tomorrow is Flag Day throughout the United States, and it's the 191st birthday of Old Glory. On June 14, 1777 our Stars and Stripes was formally adopted by Congress when it resolved: "That the flag of the 13 United States be 13 stripes, alternate red and white, that the union be 13 white stars in a field of blue, representing a new constellation."

Shortly after the resolution passed, a committee composed of George Washington, Robert Morris, and George Ross, an uncle of the husband of Betsy Ross, was appointed to have the new flag made.

It appears that Congress overlooked the designation of the manner in which the stars should be placed, and it still is a subject of conjecture whether they first appeared in rows, were staggered, or formed a circle. Nevertheless the new flag did contain white stars on a field of blue, replacing the crosses of St. George and St. Andrew which appeared on the earlier Grand Union flag.

There seems to be no accurate record of where the American flag was first flown, following its adoption by Congress. Some historians believe it was Philadelphia. The records do show, however, that the ladies of Portsmouth, N.H., presented Old Glory to naval hero, John Paul Jones, as he prepared to sail on the "Ranger" on July 4, 1777. It was promptly raised, and it received its first salute from a foreign power when the "Ranger" sailed into Quiberon Bay, France, bearing the news of Burgoyne's surrender at Saratoga.

When the flag was first flown at the head of the Continental Army, Gen. George Washington described its symbolism thusly: "We take the stars from the heavens, the red from our mother country, separating it by white stripes, thus showing that we have been separated from her, and the white stripes shall go down to posterity representing liberty." So mote it be.

And, so, a happy birthday beloved Star Spangled Banner, a happy birthday to you, and may you fly over this nation for 191 more years.

Hurrah For Father!

Hail, all hail to one of the greatest household conveniences the world has ever known—dear old dad!

Next Sunday is Father's Day, a time to pay a bit of attention to the man of the century. So, on that day, kids you might try rolling out the red carpet for your pater.

After all, dad isn't such a bad guy when you get to know him. You'll find he'll level with you if you give him the facts. And, he'd probably appreciate it if you'd level with him, too.

Sure dads are pretty difficult at times—squares, you might say. But so are you kids. And just when you begin to think the old boy is pretty dumb you'll undoubtedly learn . . . much to your amazement . . . that the vast majority of the time father really knows best. He's a pretty good egg who has problems almost as vast as yours.

All you youngsters should remember that your dad has been around a long time, and had many years of experience in this world long before you came on the scene. He knows most of the pitfalls along life's way—and it's a thousand-to-one shot that if you take his advice you'll be saved plenty of heartaches—and headaches, too.

The stores are full of Father's Day gifts. He likes to have a little something like that to know you remembered him. But, the truth is that all dad really wants is to see his children grown up to be sturdy, sincere, upright young men and women, with plenty of ambition and integrity.

Although he may not admit it he frowns on the long-haired bearded, sloppy-looking, unbuttoned, hippy-type of young smart-alec non-conformist. He isn't very happy about a daughter who goes out in public with short shorts and bare feet, or goes stumbling down the street entwined in some punk's arms. He likes wholesome kids, who are intelligent, and sane, and clean-minded.

So, even if your dear old dad does seem a bit off his rocker, and often acts like a square . . . and even though you probably know more in one minute than he'll ever know, treat poor, proud papa with respect on his special day. He might not be able to stand the shock, but do it, anyway, just to please the old geezer.

Then, you kids might also bear in mind that he's the only real dad you'll ever have . . . and always remember he's in there pitching his heart out for you, day after day, and year after year.

Hail, all hail, to the greatest guy anywhere—dear old dad!

Public Schools in Focus

By Dr. Theos I. Anderson, Superintendent of Schools

With the end of the 1967-68 school year in sight, I should like to take this opportunity to comment briefly upon the public school's teaching staff, a precious commodity and a vital asset to the community.

If the end of the school year is synonymous with "vacation" for our students, it constitutes a "recess" from their professional tasks for our teachers. But once again, if our preliminary figures are any indication, a high percentage of them will devote themselves to continuing their education by enrolling for graduate work on college and university campuses. Others will share their talent by teaching, some at advanced levels, some in other school systems, and some will work in various educational projects.

But before they get too far afield, I want to thank them publicly for their untiring efforts in behalf of the community this year. True, they were paid for doing their jobs, but the vast majority of our teachers give generously of themselves above and beyond the call of duty. We realize, I am sure, their role in the creation of a National Merit Scholar, a Science Fair winner, or an "average" graduate of Grosse Pointe High School. Although success is the result of total effort—home and school—our teachers, from kindergarten through high school, provide professional direction and stimulus.

Unfortunately, at the present time, the fine work of our teachers as well as those in other districts, has been obscured by more dramatic events. Take the advent of collective bargaining, for example. This did not appear on the scene miraculously or suddenly. But collective bargaining is here and all must adjust to it. With the teaching force numbering more than two and one-half million, the education profession is a growing and dynamic force in national life.

It seems to me that the public is generally uncomprehending as to the reasons for the teachers' changed posture. Probably the main point is this: they were told for years how indispensable they are—but unfortunately not indispensable enough to be rewarded well financially for their efforts.

A second reason for the change in attitude stems from their increased training. Since we have recently been comparing aspects of our educational system with features of others, it is only logical that we should extend our comparison to the teaching staff. For example, comparing the teacher of 1938 to the teacher of 1968, one point stands out: today's educators are better trained than ever before. No longer do we permit a person to teach with two years of college training. The minimum requirement is four years, with pressure nationally for an increase to five and six years for permanent certification.

In the mid-thirties in Grosse Pointe, more than one-fourth of the professional staff did not have four years of college training. But during 1966-67, more than 60 percent of our professional staff had five years or more of training. Quite naturally, the teacher with such an investment in college training is not going to work for the same wages as a person with only two years.

And, finally, there is a lack of understanding of the role of the teacher and of the demands placed upon him in a community like ours. To do more than cope with the bright students, we must hire staff members who are highly intelligent. Such well-trained people, the key-stone of our program, are in great demand. Therefore, we must compete for personnel with the ability to go into more lucrative lines of work. It is a known fact that thousands of people who train as teachers each year do not enter the profession.

I urge the public to look honestly at the role of the teacher in society. It is time that we recognize him as an adult and a professional who is making an excellent contribution to our community and to our children. Should we not all pause to show our appreciation and to say thank you for another job well done?

FISHING BOX FILCHED

John McShane, 706 University, reported to City police on Sunday, June 9, that someone took his fishing tackle box from his boat at the City park. The box was valued at $80 including the fishing gear. McShane reported the theft to the Park officials and the insurance company. He believes the box was taken sometime between Friday, June 7 and Saturday morning, June 8.

PAYMENT APPROVED

The Park council at its regular meeting held on Monday, June 10, approved a second estimated payment of $16,938 to the Leslie Construction company of Detroit, for work done on the new bathhouse at the Waterfront Park, although the work is nearly at a standstill because of the Trades Union strike.

Letters to the Editor

Correction

I was surprised to see my name included in the list of doctors endorsing two candidates for the Board of Education.

Although I feel that they are two very fine candidates I cannot help emphasizing my belief that the Board of Education should be composed of members who are well qualified and elected independently.

Dr. Byron Andreau

Dear Sir:

I was much amazed to learn in your letter box that the people responsible for Dr. King speaking were billed for police overtime, to protect Grosse Pointers from outsiders.

I scanned that picket line. Very few were Pointers. I can't imagine a picket line of say Blacks if Wallace spoke, lasting—or anyone being billed.

I wish my children to be exposed to all controversial figures. They've been trained to spot phonies, or Communists, etc.

In my youth, I was a merchant seaman. In Hamburg in 1939, I saw the black-gloved youths beating up old people and Jews. Why don't the Lobsinger Kooks join my son in Vietnam? (Lots of fighting, but no publicity). In a choice between these Kooks' kind of government or Communism it would be a hard service.

Thanks Dr. Merserve and the G.P. Human Relations group for paying for our protection. I thought it was paid for.

Very truly yours,
Al Perry,
Barrington road.

What Goes On at Your Library

By Virginia Leonard

Just back from a quick long-weekend trip to Toronto. A very interesting city, full of the old and the new. Drove past the Toronto Public Library, tiptoed through a branch in the new residential, (and very impressively different), City Hall, examining, as I always do, their cataloging methods, layout, charging system, and other features pertinent to my own job. Book stores seemed to be in every shopping center. (I should have said "centre".) A fine reading public, I thought.

Then back to Grosse Pointe to tackle the immediate problems at hand. As I write this, the Robert F. Kennedy tragedy is so very close, that it almost blots out every other thought I have.

Thus we will, I fear, develop a very non-sequenced column. Bits and pieces, so to speak. For example, I would call your attention to an article appearing in the June 1 issue of the NEW YORK TIMES, announcing that the author and literary critic, Edmund Wilson, has been awarded the fifth $30,000 Aspen Award for outstanding contributions to the humanities. This award was established in 1964 by Robert O. Anderson, chairman of the board of the Aspen Institute for Humanistic Studies. We salute Mr. Wilson, as the nominating list included artists, scholars, poets, philosophers and writers from many parts of the world.

Mr. Wilson has been writing for more than a half-century, and on many topics. He has 25 published books to his credit, including novels, poetry and plays. He has contributed to THE NEW YORK REVIEW OF BOOKS, THE NEW REPUBLIC, and THE NEW YORKER. His works include AXEL'S CASTLE, (a study in the imaginative literature of 1870-1930), THE SCROLLS FROM THE DEAD SEA, RED, BLACK, BLOND AND OLIVE, STUDIES IN FOUR CIVILIZATIONS, THE SHORES OF LIGHT, NIGHT THOUGHTS, PATRIOTIC GORE, AND A PIECE OF MY MIND.

Previous winners of this Award have been Benjamin Britten, the composer; Martha Graham, the dancer; C. A. Doladis, the city planner; and Gilberto de Mello Freyre, the sociologist.

And now, totally without transition, we plunge into youngsters' summer programs. Back in 1952, Miss Jean Taylor, Chief of Children's Services, recommended and planned a program of audio-visual work with children. To quote her Annual Report of this period: "This summer's film program for children to be held at the three libraries each week is an answer to this recommendation. We hope to tie up this program with books. Some introduction to the films will be given to the children and a group of books relating to the subject filmed will be on display, for them to take home after if they wish."

Since this time, a film program has been the major summer subject of children's librarians. Without the response of the children, parents, police departments in Grosse Pointe Park, Farms and Woods, the Director, Robert M. Orr, and the entire staff it could not have continued to be a success. We certainly owe Miss Taylor a debt of gratitude for initiating this type of activity which reaches so many children of so many ages.

We think that this sixteenth year will prove just as exciting as previous ones. The film, "People Along the Mississippi" was shown in 1953, and appears on this year's program for August 8 and 9. This means that a whole new generation of children will be bringing a fresh chosen one both then and now. This is certainly a fine tribute to a fine children's librarian!

There will be other newspaper publicity telling you when, where and what about these summer film programs for children. I will only alert you that the beginning dates will be June 20 and 21. So—read our announcements, make your plans, look ahead, write it all down on your calendar—and send the small fry to our summer movies!

Austin Seniors Pick Candidates

The incoming Senior Class of 1969 held nominations for the ballot of the Student Senate and Class Officers this past week at Austin Prep. Each spring the future seniors nominate seven to appear on the fall ballot who will be elected as Senate president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer.

The nominees for Senate election are Tim Garvey, Tim Kasper, Tim McMillan, Mike Oliver, Tony Riccobono, Joe Scallisi and Rick Scarfone.

Procedures were conducted by Thomas E. Bailey, vice principal and Senate and Senior Class moderator.

The procedure in the fall is that each nominee makes a one-minute speech of his program. This program is published in the school newspaper the first week of the year. The Senior Class then elects four officers who will also serve as the four officers of the Senate. The appointment of the president of the Austin Poster Club took place last week. Terry Murphy, a junior, will manage the activities of this publicity group. This past year's president was Tim Kasper.

Lochmoor Club's 51st annual Presidents' Ball will be a "premiere closing," with a red carpet stretching all the way from the parking lot through the soon-to-be-demolished Club's front doors and on down the entrance hall.

The Saturday, June 15, black tie party is the last function scheduled in the "old" Clubhouse. The Club closed officially last Sunday, to prepare for moving of furniture and equipment prior to demolition.

This demolition is scheduled to begin around July 1. A new Clubhouse, costing approximately $1,200,000, will be erected in its place, with a tentative completion date of August, 1969.

The "closing" Ball honors current President and Mrs. Fred A. Hood, Jr. Co-chairmen of the party are Dr. Charles C. McDonald and Joseph E. Mihelich.

Fuss Over Fezes

Parties were plentiful aboard the ship carrying Detroit Athletic Club members about the Mediterranean on their recent holiday cruise, and among the most memorable was one given by Dr. Frank and Ethel Perkin, of Lakeland avenue, who wanted to add a bit of "local color" to their festivities.

So, in Tunisia, Dr. Perkin ordered 150 fezes to be presented to his guests the first night out of Tunis. But, when the Perkins went to the factory to pick up the fezes, they discovered no one had bothered to put tassels on top, (and what, after all is a fez without a tassel?—nothing more or less than a high beanie!).

Fortunately, the factory owner was cooperative. He

Reception at Women's City Club Follows Pink and White Evening Service in Grosse Pointe Congregational Church

Cynthia Gayle Chase, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin A. Chase, of South Rosedale court, selected an Empire gown, accented with re-embroidered Alencon lace and fashioned with a Chapel train, for the double ring ceremony Friday evening, June 7, at which she became the bride of Robert Hoyt Miller, Jr.

A circlet of orange blossoms and pearls caught her silk illusion veil, and she carried a cascade of white carnations, stephanotis and white orchids.

A reception at the Women's City Club followed the 7:30 o'clock rites in Grosse Pointe Congregational Church, at which The Reverend John William Estes, Jr., officiated.

Honor attendant Mary Kathryn James and bridesmaids Maria Kiernan, Kathleen McClenahan, Marilyn Napierala, Mrs. Kenneth Bower and Deborah Miller, sister of the bridegroom, wore floor length Empire frocks of carnation pink peau and two-toned pink Dior headbows.

Their bouquets were fashioned of deep pink carnations and baby's-breath, accented with velvet ribbon.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hoyt Miller, of Milford, asked Douglas Fisher to serve as best man and Stuart Redpath, James Bonadio, Robert Ritz, Jerry Bamber and Travis Pearce to usher.

The mother of the bride wore a street-length dress of mint green crepe, accented with beading, and pinned green cymbidium orchids to her purse.

The bridegroom's mother chose a jewel-trimmed blue crepe gown and a purse corsage of pale pink orchids. His grandmother, Mrs. Hoyt Dee Miller, of Saratoga, Calif., selected an aqua gown and a corsage of yellow miniature carnations and yellow Sweetheart roses.

Soloist was Mrs. James Fagboner, of Grand Lake, Mich., a cousin of the bride's mother.

When the newlyweds left for a vacation in Northern Michigan, the bride was wearing a pink and white ensemble and a corsage of orchids from her bouquet.

They will return to make their home in Adrian, where the bridegroom will continue his studies at Adrian College.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Howard Boltz, of Saratoga, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Brunner, of Grand Rapids, and Mr. and Mrs. W. G. De Pierri, of Tennessee.

called in all his relatives, all his friends, put them frantically to work, and piled the tasselled fezes into the Perkins' taxi as they were completed.

And Dr. P. and his 150 fezes arrived back at ship-side just one-half hour before the party was due to begin. BUT the local customs official took a dim view of the proceedings—Here must be a man going into business in the United States; there are laws about exports, et cetera, et cetera.

Well... finally a local businessman came to the rescue, explained the situation to the customs official who allowed as how 150 PARTY fezes might go aboard, and all was well.

The fezes were passed out, like favors, as people came to the main lounge entrance that evening. And the ship's photographer took candid shots of each couple, in fezes, greeting the host and hostess.

And, without anyone's knowledge, Dan and Helen Byrhne, Walter and Estelle Sheetz and Paul and Kay Young ordered duplicates of all those photographs, and for their party this Friday had invitations printed on the back of the candid and sent each couple their very own Fez Photo.

A Cause For Celebration

Marie Louise Anderson has just celebrated another birthday by inviting three fellow Gemini-ans, Ardith (Mrs. Frederick P.) Hart, Ruth (Mrs. Henry S.) Walker and Serena (Mrs. Willard S.) Worcester, to join her for cocktails and luncheon last week.

Miss Anderson, who this year has had FIVE luncheon parties arranged for her on or surrounding her birthday, June 1, has not yet formulated her plans for the summer.

A year ago this coming August, she drove with her next-door Cranford lane neighbor, Alice Curtis, through Upper Michigan.

Alice was commissioned to photograph and write a story about Michigan's old railroad depots and the uses to which they are now being put, (one, at Indian River, is a very unique antique shop, another has been remodeled and is used by a family as their summer home, a third is used for community gatherings and fairs and a fourth as a Senior Citizen recreation center).

It was, reports Miss A., who held the flashbulbs while her friend took the pictures, a most interesting experience. The trip occupied the best part of a week, during which the two ladies made a leisurely progress along the shores of Lakes Huron and Superior.

"A Rose Is A Rose Is A Rose" . . .

. . . but any gardener will tell you they're not all that easy to grow; you have, say the knowledgeable green-thumbers, to get to know them.

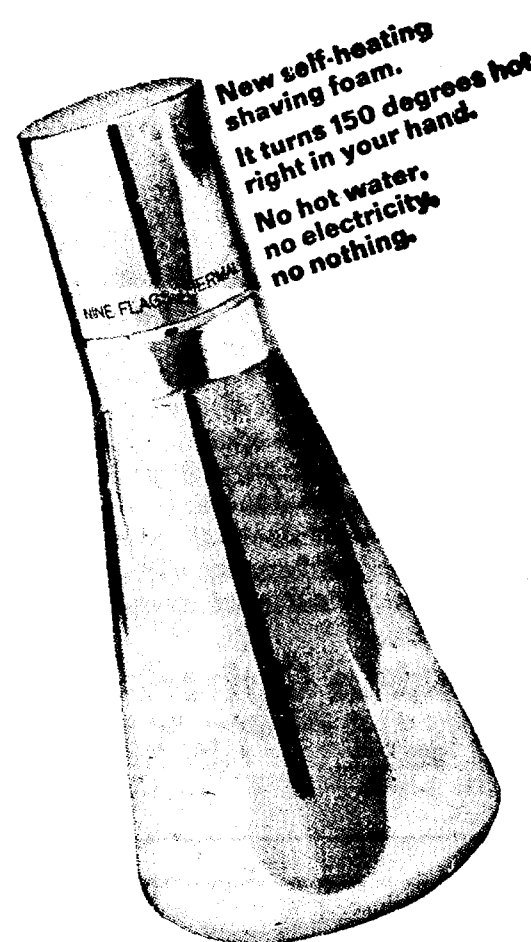

Sherman Willson, next speaker in the Grosse Pointe Garden Center's Workshop series, puts it another way in his program title: "Let ROSES Get To Know YOU."

Rose growing is Mr. Willson's hobby. A professor of Photography in the Art Department of Wayne State University, he is one of seven founders of the Grosse Pointe Rose Society.

He's experimented with rose culture, has developed some original techniques and currently is "one up" in a seven-year friendly contest with another Rose Society founder, Woodburn O. Ross, Dean of Wayne's Montith College.

The two Rose Rivals choose a particular variety each year and keep score on who gets the first bud, the first flower, the tallest stem, the largest bloom. . . Last year, Mr. Willson won with a rose called "Lady X," a lavender blue type; he's betting the first bud on this year's specimen, "Fragrant Cloud," will open for him before it does for Dean Ross.

Merrill Casgrain Honored At Tea

The June 1968 debutante season opened last Tuesday, June 11, with a tea given by Mrs. Wilfred V. Casgrain in honor of her granddaughter, Merrill, who made her formal bow to society during the Christmas season at a dance at the Country Club given by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Casgrain, II, of Merriweather road.

It was a pink party for the deb, who has just completed her first year at Pine Manor Junior College. An arrangement of pink roses centered the tea table, and more bouquets of pink roses were placed throughout the Wilfred Casgrain's home in Stephens road.

Merrill and her grandmother received their guests in the living room, Merrill wearing a simple white frock and carrying a nosegay of tiny pink roses, gift of her grandfather Casgrain, Mrs. Casgrain in a blue ensemble.

Braille Workers Meet For Lunch

A Braille Transcribers luncheon was held last Thursday, June 6, honoring the members of the Braille class who have just completed a course at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center. Forty members and guests were present.

The party was arranged by Mrs. John McNamara, Braille instructor, assisted by Miss Eva Casabell, Mrs. Gerald Fitzgerald and Mrs. Ross Taylor, members of the newly-formed Braille Volunteers of Grosse Pointe.

Special guests included Harriet Helms, of the Grosse Pointe Public Library Staff, and Mrs. A. E. Kolbe and Mrs. James Keene, representing the Volunteers Braille Transcribing Group of Oakland County.

Guest speaker Barbara Gray, director of the Division for the Blind and Physically Handicapped of the Wayne County Library, discussed the great need for Braille transcribers and urged the new graduates to be industrious.

She placed special emphasis on the necessity for producing work with the highest standard of accuracy and noted that transcribers generally derive a great deal of satisfaction from their work.

The Braille class, as a whole, visited the Marquette School May 22, to observe and learn the techniques employed in teaching blind children.

Bridal Couple's Kneeling Bench and Satin Cushion Have Been Used by Three Generations of Bride's Family

Sarah Barnes Luedders and John Robert Dawson exchanged marriage vows Saturday, June 8, at a family ceremony in Christ Church, Detroit. A dinner at the Women's City Club for the wedding party and out-of-town guests followed the rites.

The bride, daughter of Grosse Pointe Park Councilman William Roberts Luedders and Mrs. Luedders, of Harvard road, wore a street length gown of white lace and a small Chapel cap accented with lilies-of-the-valley.

She carried a nosegay of pink and white roses and bachelor buttons.

Attending the bridal couple were Mrs. McIntyre Forman, of Ann Arbor, who chose a yellow lace frock and a nosegay of mixed garden flowers, with yellow accents, and Jay M. Hite, of East Jordan.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore H. Dawson, of Vernier road, asked the bride's young nephew, John Roberts Wolfe and Peter Harper Wolfe, of Belmont, to serve as ushers for the informal evening ceremony.

Others from out-of-town in attendance were the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Jay M. Hite, and her daughter, Melissa; the bride's sister, Mrs. Willard E. Wolfe, and her family; and The Reverend and Mrs. John R. Smucker, III, of Flint.

Following a trip through Kentucky and Virginia, the newlyweds will be at home in Woodland drive, Dearborn.

The bride attended Hollins College in Virginia, is a graduate of the University of Michigan and taught for three years at Mair School.

Her fiancé was graduated from Michigan State University and is director of Public Relations for Henry Ford Museum and Greenfield Village.

The kneeling bench and satin cushion at which the bridal couple knelt during the service had been used by three generations of the bride's family.

In celebration of their 10th wedding anniversary this month, MRS. and MRS. DONALD DAVIS, of Lakeshore lane, took a 14-day cruise aboard the "Princess Italia," voyaging from Los Angeles to Mexican ports of call including Acapulco, Puerto Vallarta, La Paz and Mazatlan.

Granddaughter Fete Honors Lovely Trio

Virginia Rumely, Margaret Fenley (Wendy) Vaughan and Loring Newnan Bow Together, as their Mothers did Before Them

Three grandmothers and one grandfather gave a small dance yesterday, Wednesday, June 12, for their three granddaughters who are making their debuts this summer.

Mrs. Charles Hodges, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Greene Fenley, Jr., and Mrs. Longyear Palmer honored their granddaughters—Virginia Rumely, Margaret Fenley (Wendy) Vaughan and Loring Newnan—at a dance at the Grosse Pointe Club for the debutante set.

Preceding the dance, Dr. and Mrs. Henry Vaughan, (Wendy's grandparents), and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Vaughan, Jr., gave a dinner for Wendy at the Country Club.

Wendy is the daughter of the junior Vaughans, of Edgemont Park. Loring's parents are Mr. and Mrs. William L. Newnan, of Washington road, and Virginia's parents are Mr. and Mrs. E. Scott Rumely, of Birmingham.

In 1942, the mothers of these girls made their bows to society together, with 14 other debutantes, at a ball at the Country Club. Their escorts and ushers were the young men who would soon be active in World War II.

For the dance at the Little Club, Virginia selected a gown of pink chiffon, Loring wore watermelon pink taffeta and Wendy's gown was of white embroidered organdy. The girls carried bouquets harmonizing with their gowns, gifts from their fathers.

The four grandparents and three debutantes received in front of the fireplace in the Club's drawing room.

Al Navarro's orchestra and Warlock's rock 'n' roll band alternated music throughout the evening.

Loring's escort was Jim Danaher, Wendy was squired by Walt Cytacki and Virginia's escort was Dwight Angell.

The decorations featured an aquatic vista of blue, green and white, with seagulls, fishing nets and bark arranged artistically throughout the Club.

Terry Vaughan, Wendy's brother, headed the usher corps.

Ushers included young men who are friends of the debutantes.

Breakfast was served from 12 until 2 o'clock.

Section 7. The application, attendant documents and the Building Department's report shall be referred to the City Council by the City Clerk, and upon consideration thereof, if the Council shall determine that the provisions of the Ordinance have been complied with or will be complied with, the Council shall direct the City Clerk to issue the license, subject to such proper and reasonable conditions which the City Council may impose. If the application is rejected by the City Council, the applicant shall be notified to that effect, and shall be given an opportunity to be heard by the City Council, either in person or by his attorney, and present such evidence pertinent to the application, after which the Council shall take final action upon the application.

Section 13. The City Council, acting upon a written complaint against any licensee, and after due notice to the licensee of the nature of the complaint and a hearing before the City Council, at which the licensee shall be given the opportunity to defend himself, may revoke or suspend the license of the operator complained of upon satisfactory proof of the existence of the matters set forth in the complaint. Such determination, with the reasons for the City Council's conclusions, shall be in writing and shall be served upon the licensee complained of.
Section 14. All parking lots licensed under the provisions of this Ordinance shall be inspected from time to time by the City Manager or his duly designated representative. Any failure of a licensee to comply with the provisions of this Ordinance shall be reported in writing to the licensee for remedy or correction. Failure to comply with the provisions of this Ordinance or any notice upon the licensee of any violations thereof may be the basis for the filing of a complaint for the revocation or suspension of the license.

Any person violating or assisting in the violation of the provisions hereof shall be punishable by a fine not exceeding Five Hundred Dollars ($500.00) or by imprisonment in the City or County Jail for a term not exceeding ninety (90) days, or both such fine and imprisonment may be imposed in the discretion of the court. For each day that violation of this Ordinance is permitted to exist, the same shall constitute a separate and distinct offense, and shall be so punishable.
Section 16. All Ordinances or parts of Ordinances inconsistent with the provisions of this Ordinance are hereby expressly repealed only to the extent necessary to give effect to the provisions hereof.

FIRST OFFERING

YORKSHIRE near Kercheval. 5 bedrooms and 3 baths. Large living and dining rooms, paneled den, sun room, breakfast room, lavatory and very modern kitchen. Recreation room and wet bar in finished basement. This home is in excellent condition including the carpeting and drapes and is priced to sell. Mr. Smith. 884-3545.

EAST SIDE, West side, All Around the Town. Purdy & Edgar has listings in all sizes and prices in all five Pointe communities, and detailed files on another hundred or so properties which are actively on the market. So take a peek at something spanking new on the market. So take a look at this baby on Fisher Road, if you want a colonial priced in the twenties, with a new kitchen, family room and first floor lav. We think it will tickle your fancy.

ALSO IN THE CITY, and both in better than new condition, are two offerings in the three bedroom two and a half bath category. Both houses have extra first floor rooms, modern kitchens and full basements. One is contemporary in design and the other, a white, center hall colonial. The latter has a bedroom fireplace and dressing room off the master suite. Because in each house is serviced by its own bath, there is also a hall bath for the two other bedrooms.

IN THE PARK we can show off another center hall colonial, but this one has four bedrooms on the second floor. There is a paneled den behind the living room and a breakfast room between the dining room and kitchen. Priced under forty thousand dollars.

MOVING CLOSER to the lake on a shaded street south of Jefferson, we think you'll thank your lucky stars 'cause you called on this one. You could have scanned the area and still this six bedroom farm colonial would offer the most value. There are three full baths on the second floor, and a first floor library with fireplace. Also on the main floor are a large dining room, living room and large, covered terrace. So get off the pad. Only $68,700 will put you in orbit.

THE FARMS offers convenience to Hill Shopping, most schools and the Pier Park. It also has one of the few hills in the Pointe, and on this slope we can show you one of the better single story houses to appear on the market. The fourth bedroom has been converted to a first floor laundry, but could easily be transformed back to a sleeping room. There are also three baths and a full basement.

WOULDN'T you know we would have four listings in the Shores and all are located so you can see the lake. Two of these houses are actually right on the lake. One is an older frame and shingle house with all kinds of possibilities. The other house is all on one floor and sprawls beautifully across a lot with 265 feet of lake frontage.

ON THE OTHER side of Lake Shore Road, close to the to the breakwall, is a fine example of a five bedroom Georgian Colonial. This new house has fireplaces in the library, living room and family room.

THE BEST of everything has gone into our Cape Cod on South Deeplands. Each of the four bedrooms is serviced by a bathroom. There are two enormous bedrooms on the first floor. The house has a generously proportioned living room and big library. Air conditioned throughout. Stop running around... this one begs you to sit down and cool your heels.

FOUR THOSE who desire owning income property, we can show you two larger flats on Trombley Road. Both feature four bedrooms on each floor and also have complete two bedroom apartments on the third floor. Upstairs or down let your tenant make your mortgage payments.

BIG HOUSE FOR THE SMALL POCKETBOOK

The recent addition to the rear of this three bedroom colonial really "opens" it up into something more than just another bath and a half colonial. The kitchen has been redone and there is room for the family to eat without setting up the dining room table. There is also an extra room for family activities and a new lavatory on the first floor. The deep lot has a gazebo behind the two car garage. If you can wait until Sunday afternoon at 2:30 we'll throw open the doors and let you see for yourself.

We continue with excerpts from the letters of Carl Graham, Grosse Pointe High School student who is completing his year in France as an American Field Service exchange student:

September 19, 1967 . . . "The package of books arrived this morning in fine shape. It will be much appreciated . . . Yes, please send me the Church newsletters. And, much more interesting to me than the Grosse Pointe News would be the "Tower" from the High School. (Ed. Note: Well! We like that! . . .) Last Sunday there was a telephone call for me . . . It was a lovely-sounding French girl! She's an AFSer from last year who found out about me from the Paris office and . . . called up to ask me out. I was, to put it mildly, quite willing . . . We saw an exposition of really lovely paintings and ate, in Paris . . . We've already arranged that I'll give her some American books to read, (so she won't lose her English), and she'll tape me her American records . . . That was on Friday—on Sunday we went to a big airplane exhibition . . . I was interested by a huge big thing with an absolutely square fuselage. Turned out it's used for taking cars across the English Channel . . . And if you send any more packages, please send my sweat suit and "A Moveable Feast" by Ernest Hemingway. They're up in my room . . ."

September 27, 1967 . . . "School started Friday the 22nd. It's extremely difficult compared with our schools, I have the impression. The position of teacher is noticeably more respected, (possibly, I think, because of being all-boys) . . . The thing that has me most appalled is the unofficial way things are run at school: Teachers always late, courses not ready, no place to eat, etc. Yet at the same time discipline is very severe. It's hard to figure out . . . They all (the professors) speak ENGLISH or rather BRITISH, and it's quite weird to hear it with a French accent . . . reminds me of Jonathan Winters . . . After each class we all go down to a central courtyard, where our next teacher picks us up. Then we walk back upstairs, wait in two outside the door 'til the teacher tells us to go in, wait by our chairs until he calls us to sit. There's at least 15 minutes between each class and they're often only a floor away or something, never more than one minute away . . . This will take some time to get used to . . ."

October 8, 1967 . . . "Do you know where I've just been? To the mushroom growers! Yes, that's right—all the fields around Paris are laced with underground caverns and so forth where they grow mushrooms . . . Schoolwork is beginning to start in earnest now. In the near future, but not definitely fixed with a date yet, I have to write eight pages on "What is Reflection" for Philosophy . . . AFS is fantastically unknown, just as everybody said. I think in the U.S. exchange students are maybe too fussed over, but on the other hand it's hard when everybody always forgets you're having difficulties understanding . . ."

October 16, 1967 . . . "Before I go any farther I want to explain about the bac, (the "Baccalaureate," a three-day oral and essay test French students take at the conclusion of their high school studies; it permits entry into college)—I'm taking it because it is the goal of all French education before university; they, (Carl's classmates), work towards it in all respects . . . it's breathing down their necks. Now if I want to really feel like my friends, I have to have this pressure on me, too—I need this goal or I'll degenerate into a one-year AFS tourist . . . School is very normal—feels like I've been going there a long time already. The guys in my class are all kind of great and there is a great esprit. I eat lunch at school . . . Sorry, Mom, but there's only beer to drink, everybody from seventh grade drinks it and besides I don't want to be a queer American . . ."

Undated . . . "Some more striking differences from U.S. schools—teachers (in France) give lectures and students take notes, (like in U.S. colleges), apparently from the sixth grade up; it's just the normal way. I unfortunately kind of dislike it—dialogue does of course exist somewhat but it's at a minimum. Also objective-type tests, (multiple-choice, fill-in-the-blanks, etc.), are totally unknown. They have essays and essays and more essays here . . . Speaking of tests, I was pleasantly surprised to read in the "Tower" that my National Merit 152 was tied for highest in GPHS . . . I've been invited to eat lunch with a lady who presently has a son in the States, to go out for an afternoon in Paris with my French cousin who's 18, and also there is a big AFS meeting November 18 . . . (and) a big soiree at the Orly Hilton (!) with Memphis Slim, who's very big out here, and the "Jazz-o-Maniacs." In any case, I'm kind of busy . . ."

November 7, 1967 . . . "You have asked about Daniel, (Carl's French AFS brother), and I think I'll talk along those lines for a while, because it involves some of the most significant things I've learned so far. The first and most important thing is that the 'French individualism' you read about doesn't mean what individualism means in the States, that is, a kind of fearless non-conformity . . . The French individuality refers to the milieu in which the Frenchman circulates—which is strictly his own, and is not shared with anyone. This does not mean he is part of a clique closed to outsiders: It means rather an enormous emphasis on your own family, rather than the outside world . . . There are fences between EACH and EVERY house—front and back, too . . . Relationships are formal which would be utterly casual at home—you see the next-door neighbor on the street, she and you nod and say 'Bonjour, Madame.' 'Bonjour, Monsieur.' and then you each go back behind your fences . . . All the little things we never give a thought to—'Good-bye, Mom, I'm going to the store and then over to Nancy's house'—are accompanied by a whole lot more officiality here . . . Invitations to, say, eat lunch at somebody's house are made in advance, as are all other invitations, and if you do eat over, you bring flowers or candy or some other present . . . The thing I've noticed gradually is that (Daniel) basically dislikes going out of the ordinary state of being home with Maman, Papa . . . It's then he's really happy . . ."

By Janet Mueller

The class bells ring this month for the last time for three Grosse Pointe Public School System teachers and one counselor. They're retiring; school's out. It's a sad-happy time for them, a time for looking back . . . and looking forward . . .

Eleanor C. Carmody, a native of Munising, came to Grosse Pointe in 1955. She began her career as an elementary teacher in Owosso, then taught in Wayne, Munising and Birmingham.

She completed her career as a second grade teacher at Barnes. She started formal training at Northern Michigan University, received both her bachelor and Master of Arts degrees from the University of Michigan and has also taken courses at Michigan State University, Wayne State University and Merrill-Palmer.

She makes her home in Hall place — and does NOT plan to move. "I have no definite plans," she says. She likes living close to her sister, who resides in Grosse Pointe boulevard.

Enjoys Her Family

Miss Carmody enjoys "family," she was brought up in a family of five, all of whom, except her eldest brother, (he's a Floridian), are Michigan residents.

And she enjoys young children. "I agree with the writer who said 'They're so wonderful because they're fresh as from the hand of God,'" she smiles. She's taught all grades, from kindergarten through high school, but prefers the younger pupils.

Of Barnes she says, "That's a wonderful school!" Especially interested in the improvement of instruction through the use of audio-visual aids, for several years she served as Barnes' audio-visual coordinator.

"I've got to write a letter thanking my pupils' parents for their help, for the coffee cans they've sent me, the old magazines . . ." Miss Carmody, like all elementary teachers, requires a variety of "raw materials" for class projects.

Praise for Personnel

"A School System is no better than the personnel in it; Grosse Pointe has marvelous personnel!" Now that she'll be retired, Miss Carmody intends to work actively for millage proposals, assist the schools in any way she can.

"I figure the schools have been supporting me: now I'm going to support the schools." She'll probably travel, too. An inveterate wanderer, she's been to Europe twice, to Jamaica and the Bahamas, and to Cuba—"I miss Cuba," she mourns.

And she'll continue to be active in the University of Michigan Alumni Club, work for her sorority, Delta Kappa Gamma, and church, the Reorganized Church of the Latter Day Saints. She served as Women's Congregational Leader for her church.

She's done some silver-smithing, and may do some more.

and she's an omnivorous reader, especially fascinated by English Literature and History. She owns the entire collection of University of Michigan History Books.

Of course, she'll miss her students. "I've thoroughly enjoyed my career," she says. "I don't like to sound sacrilegious, but I do think the Lord knew what he was doing when he made me a teacher . . ."

Westerville Leaving

Grosse Pointe High School Counselor Lawrence C. Westerville, a graduate of Kalamazoo College, received his Masters degree from the University of Michigan.

He taught first in Allegan High School and came to Grosse Pointe in 1930 as a teacher of commercial subjects.

"I didn't know what Grosse Pointe was when I took the job," he says, "but if I had known 38 years ago what I know now about Grosse Pointe, about the kids, the community, the school staff, the members of the Board, I would still make Grosse Pointe my Number One choice."

Mr. Westerville has continued his formal education at Michigan State and Wayne State Universities and, over the years, has assumed many responsibilities in the School System.

A charter member of the American Federation of Teachers, he served as its president and as an officer and member of various AFT committees. He was president of the Teachers' Credit Union.

Made National Record

From the mid-'30s to the mid-'40s, he coached Grosse Pointe High School's tennis team, the tennis teams whose 10 years, (89 straight victories), without a loss, still stands as a national record.

"After we lost, we started another string of victories," he recalls, "and we were up to 60-some before I quit as coach. I've had many of the children of those first tennis team members in my recent classes."

He plans to "pick up" tennis again, now that he has the time, to play perhaps with J. Harold Husband who retired last year as Grosse Pointe's Acting Superintendent of Schools and spends the summers at his home in Pentwater near the Westervilles' summer cottage.

"Harold and I used to play the kids," Mr. Westerville reminisces, "and we'd win—not because we were better players, just smarter . . ."

"Up north," Mr. Westerville plans to fish, too, using his own patented lure, with mercury in it, which he tested in the High School pool. Noted, when he lived in Hollywood avenue, for his magnificent rose garden, he may take up rose-growing in the backyard of his present Christine court home.

Will Counsel Wife

And, of course, he'll always remain professionally available on a consulting basis" to his wife, Evelyn, a counselor at Grosse Pointe High School for years, who will serve next year as Assistant Principal at Grosse Pointe North High School.

"Evelyn's a very, very considerate wife and companion," her husband says. "Now that I have the time, she wants me to take a fabulous fishing trip . . . Maybe, though, she'd just like me to get the fishing out of my system so that, when SHE retires, we'll take a long, luxurious trip to Europe, or someplace?!"

Evelyn sounds as if she's very, very smart as well as considerate.

Just A Transition

"Don't make too much of me," Marion Lampman, member of the High School's Art Department, cautions. "For me, this is just a transition."

Miss Lampman, who came to Grosse Pointe in 1937, had taught previously in Lake Linden, Mich., as well as in Elizabeth, N.J., and Great Falls, Mont.

She's frankly looking forward to being able to stay up as late as she wants to, (I'm a night person," she admits), and NOT have to get up early the next morning. She thinks it's going to be a lot of fun "to feel that any time I want to I can pick up and GO, without waiting for 'spring vacation' . . ."

She'll continue to make her home in The Pointe, though. She has many relatives here, and many friends.

"When you stay in a community, after a time you start meeting people you know whenever you go out, in grocery stores, dress shops, drug stores . . . I hope I'll get to see some more of these people, now that I have the time . . ."

Likes Second Generation

"You begin to get the children of your earlier students in your later classes . . . It's nice being in a place like this, nice getting 'second generation' students—but I believe in retiring BEFORE the grandchildren turn up!"

Born in Sault Ste. Marie, Miss Lampman was graduated from Oberlin College and the Parsons School of Design, taking her senior Parsons' year at the

The pious cries of horrible, terrible, etc. about our violence from our prominent citizens fill me with disgust.

For years now our leading politicians have condoned and encouraged riots, rebellion even many of the clergy have aided and advocated law breaking all because of the deadly philosophy of everything goes if the cause is "just."

It's like giving a child a stick of dynamite and then he blows everything apart.

When will we come to our senses — or will we, before our civilization falls.

since-discontinued, (World War II dealt it a death blow), Paris Parsons headquarters.

She's taken courses at the University of Chicago, Wayne State University and the Detroit Society of Arts and Crafts.

A weaver, a potter, professionally active in many artistic areas, she's a member of the Michigan Pottery Association and has belonged to the Detroit Society of Women Painters and Sculptors almost as long as she's lived in the Detroit area.

"It," she says of her art, "isn't a 'hobby' with me. I've always had a professional attitude toward my work."

She likes to retreat during the summers to a little cottage in the Upper Peninsula, where she has a potter's wheel and a kiln, where she "paints a bit . . ."

"I'll miss being with young people," admits Miss Lampman, who last year sponsored her 10th Grosse Pointe High School group of seniors, "and I'll miss the people I work with — although I expect I'll see more of them 'at my leisure' than I did at the High School . . ."

"But I don't want to do something 'set' every day any more. There are so many things you can do if you work with your hands . . ."

Came From Hamtramck

Ernest C. Kapnick taught for 30 years in Hamtramck before coming to Grosse Pointe High School in 1956.

"I think every person should make one change in his life," he says, explaining why he left Hamtramck for Grosse Pointe. "We all need to make at least one new set of adjustments, get at least one new start in life . . ."

But "reminders" of the old Hamtramck days kept cropping up in his Grosse Pointe teaching career. "Every year since I've been in Grosse Pointe, at least one student has come to me at some time during the year and told me his father or mother was one of my students in Hamtramck."

Mr. Kapnick, in the GPHS Mathematics Department, holds degrees from Eastern Michigan University and the University of Michigan. He has also studied at Indiana University, the University of California and Columbia University.

Served in Air Force

He served for two-and-a-half years with the United States Air Force in World War II.

His tour of duty took him all over the South Pacific, to Hawaii, the Solomon Islands, New Guinea, Australia, New Zealand, Borneo and the Philippines.

He'd live on one island for six months, then move on . . . He issued our own paychecks, at six-month intervals — we didn't need the money, couldn't spend it: What was there to buy?

"I liked the area, though. I did some fishing out that way . . ."

Mr. Kapnick holds membership in Kappa Delta Pi, national honor society in Education. His other professional affiliations include the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics, the Michigan Council of Teachers of Mathematics, the Michigan Education Association and the National Education Association.

Likes To Garden

In his "new" spare time, Mr. Kapnick will continue to work in his garden — he's raised some lovely roses and is starting in on chrysanthemums. A self-described "photo bug," he'll probably take more slides now: Certainly, he'll have a camera with him next winter.

"We're going to spend next winter in South Africa," he says, smiling, (who WOULDN'T smile if he were going to spend next winter in South Africa?).

Dolores Kapnick stopped work as a School Nurse in Hamtramck last year; she's been tending the Kapnick home in Mount Clemens. ("It's only 20 minutes away on the expressway," Mr. K. notes), ever since.
