

PRIMARY ELECTION AUGUST 6

HEADLINES of the WEEK As Compiled by the Grosse Pointe News

Thursday, July 18

AN ARMED PASSENGER hijacked a National Airlines jet DC-8 yesterday and forced the pilot to fly to Havana. The plane, carrying 64 passengers and seven crewmen, en route from Los Angeles to Miami, was the eighth one to be hijacked to Cuba this year.

AN EMBARGO on mail intended for Canadian destinations has been placed by the United States post office during the Canadian postal strike. The Canadian Council of Postal Unions has rejected a government pay increase offer which made certain a walkout of postal workers. Union sources predicted the strike would last at least 10 days.

EDWARD THOMPSON JR., wanted for murder, rape and kidnapping, was captured in Greensboro, N. C., with three of his kidnap victims. The bodies of two others believed to be the victims of Thompson, were found by Roanoke, Va., police.

Friday, July 19

THE SOVIET UNION demanded that Czechoslovakian Communist Party Secretary Aleksandr Dubcek agree to a meeting between Politburo and the Czechoslovak Praesidium. The Soviets are putting the heat on the liberal Czech Communist Party, in what might be an attempt to include dissenters in the Praesidium in a vote that would override the Czech liberals.

THE MEDICAL CENTER has been approved by the Common Council as the site of the new Detroit General Hospital. A report prepared by a Mayor's Committee recommended the Medical Center site and asked for immediate attention to the present Detroit General Hospital, formerly Receiving Hospital.

THE UNITED STATES EM- BASSY has identified three pilots whom the communists are releasing after holding them as prisoners of war. They were identified as Maj James Fred, 43, of Maitland, Fla.; Maj. Lewis Neal Thompson, 32, of Big Spring, Tex.; and Capt. Joe Victor Carpenter, 37, of Victorville, Cal.

Saturday, July 20

JAMES EARL RAY, accused killer of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., was whisked from London's Wandsworth jail and flown to Shelby County Jail, Memphis, Tenn., on Friday without incident. Ray is under heavy guard. Quarter-inch steel plates have been placed over his cell windows as a security measure. Ray's trial is expected to be set for late September or early October.

THE SOVIET newspaper Pravda charged on Friday the United States was planning aggression in Czechoslovakia and vowed to give all necessary help in maintaining communism in that country. It also charged that a cache of American-made arms was smuggled into Czechoslovakia by anti-Communists and has been seized.

THE CAMBODIAN Navy was reported to have seized an American patrol boat in the Mekong Delta and arrested 11 Americans and one South Vietnamese aboard. Military authorities in Saigon confirmed that the Navy landing craft was missing, but did not mention that a South Vietnamese was aboard.

Sunday, July 21

THE UNITED AUTO Workers and the Teamsters, two of the nation's largest unions, are expected to announce the formation of an alliance designed to jointly push political activity and organize efforts. The combined unions would have a membership of over 3.4 million. Teamsters' officials attending a meeting in Carlsbad, Calif., indicated the announcement would come Monday from Chicago.

UGHT AT INLET HARBOR

amberjack weighed 45 pounds and Keir's 47. The catches were made while deep sea fishing aboard Capt. Bob Stone's "Broadbill."

Driver Pays $180 Fines in Park Court

Motorist Caught Speeding
Without Valid License
Also Settle Past
Obligations

When Thomas A. Karam, of 22629 Colony avenue, St. Clair Shores, appeared in the court of Grosse Pointe Park's Municipal Judge C. Joseph Belanger last Wednesday, July 17, he ran into more trouble than he had anticipated.

Karam was first charged with not having a valid operator's license in his possession, and was sentenced to a fine of $100 or five days in jail. Then he was told there were outstanding traffic violation charges against him at both Bridgeport and Jonesville, Mich. That brought more fines, totaling $85.

Finally, he was charged with speeding 40 miles an hour in a 30-mile zone, for which he was assessed an additional $15. Karam was held at the Park police station until a relative arrived and paid his total fines of $180.

Golf Equipment Stolen From Car

Valuable golf equipment, plus a wheel and spare tire, were stolen from the car owned by Virgil Fassio, of 756 Pemberton road, Grosse Pointe Park, some time during Monday night, July 22, according to a report he made to the police. An investigation is being made.

Farms Annual Regatta Set For Saturday and Sunday

The Grosse Pointe Farms 16th Annual Regatta is all set for this Saturday, July 27 and Sunday, July 28. Here's a detailed schedule of events.

On Saturday, at 10:30 a.m., there will be inboard, outboard, sailfish and sailboat races; 12 noon complimentary refreshments for the children; 1 p.m., a children's bicycle parade and competition.

All children with decorated bicycles will assemble in the parking lot behind Sears at Mack and Moross. The parade will travel down Moross to the Pier Park where the judging will take place and prizes awarded.

Children's games and events will begin at 3:30 p.m.; the Junior Miss Pageant will be held at 7:30 p.m., followed by

Suburban Action Center Being Established Here To Fight Racist Attitudes

Brainchild of Interfaith Action Council and New Detroit Committee Will Use Words as Weapons; Leaders Taking Course

Grosse Pointe has been chosen as the site of one of 15 Detroit area Suburban Action Centers to be established late this summer to combat racist attitudes in the white community. The Centers, a brainchild of the Interfaith Action Council and the New Detroit Committee, will use words as their weapons.

The Interfaith Action Council is a group of Detroit-area clergymen, which in turn grew out of the Interfaith Emergency Council formed by Protestants, Roman Catholics and Jews during the July, 1967 riots.

The New Detroit Committee is a group of Detroit business and civic leaders which was also formed after last summer's riots.

The Pointe's Center will be staffed by local clergy and lay volunteers and is expected to work closely with at least one extant group, the Grosse Pointe Human Relations Council. Its activities will be directed locally by such local clergymen as the Rev. Father Thomas Finnigan, who recently came to Our Lady Star of the Sea church, on Fairford road in the Woods.

Special Course

Father Finnigan and other clergy began on Monday a 15-day course under the direction of University of Detroit Professor Arthur Cryns. It will emphasize attitudinal change in the white community.

Although a detailed blueprint of the Center's activities is not available it is expected to serve both as a home base for groups seeking to promote better attitudes on racial questions in the Pointes, and also as the bridge between suburbia and the Inner City for various ongoing social action programs.

Despite verbal support from the New Detroit Committee and other liberal elements in the city, the Suburban Action Centers (Program on Page 8)

Lynn C. Holley Shooting Victim

News of the accidental shooting, which resulted in the death last Sunday of Miss Lynn C. Holley, 23-year-old daughter of a prominent Grosse Pointe family, at Lake Placid, N. Y., shocked her many friends here, and in the East.

Miss Holley was spending the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Corliss Holley, at the family's Indian Pass Ranch, near Lake Placid, when the tragedy occurred. Their Grosse Pointe Farms home is at 234 Provencal road.

Mr. Holley is former vice-president of the Holley Carburator Co., founded by his father, and recently sold to Colt Industries.

An expert snow skiing instructor, Miss Holley graduated from Colby Junior College, and made her debut here in 1963. The gun, which caused her death, was accidentally fired by a John Swift, 25, an employee of Lake Placid silversmith. He was taken into custody by New York State Police for "mental reasons," and charged with the illegal possession of a loaded gun.

In addition to her parents, Miss Holley is survived by two sisters, Cynthia and Kimberly Jill, and two brothers, John Corliss Jr., and David.

Funeral services were held at St. Eustace Episcopal Church, Lake Placid, Wednesday morning. Commitment rites will be conducted at Woodlawn cemetery, 19975 Woodward avenue, Detroit, Thursday at 11 a.m.

In lieu of flowers the family requests friends to make donations, in Miss Holley's name, to the Camelot Boys' Home at Lake Placid.

Four Youths Face Charges For Assault

Two Boys Beaten; Stories of Involved and Police Account Contain Points of Confusion

Four Grosse Pointe Woods boys are being charged with assault and battery for their role in what Grosse Pointe City police termed a "vicious" attack on two City youths shortly before midnight July 12.

According to City police, the two boys aged 16 and 17, topped their car at the corner of Neff road and Waterloo avenue and were set upon by five or six attackers.

One of them suffered a head concussion, broken nose and cuts in the face that required 10 stitches to close. The other sustained lacerations.

The police description begins earlier in the evening at the Woods Sport Center, a bowling alley on Mack avenue. A car driven by a 17-year-old Farms boy and carrying six boys set out from there bound for the Neighborhood Club, corner of Notre Dame and Waterloo in the City, where a dance was being held.

Noisy Muffler Brings Trouble

Raymond F. Laethem, 20, of 880 North Oxford, stopped by Woods police because of a noisy car muffler was found to have altered the birth year on his operator's license, according to an official report.

The arresting officer, Patrolman James Weyhing said that he observed and heard Laethem traveling east on Vernier road then turn north onto Charlevoix, where he curbed the youth. Weyhing said that when he checked the young man's operator's license, he noticed that the year of birth had been changed from 1948 to 1946, and asked Laethem for further identification. Laethem produced a Social Security classification card which also had the birth year set back.

The policeman said that Laethem finally produced a birth certificate which showed his correct birth date and year.

The altered license and Social Security card were confiscated, and Laethem was taken to the Woods station, where he was given a violation ticket, court only, for having an altered license. He is scheduled to appear before Municipal Judge Don Goodrow on Saturday, July 27.

Drug Firm Victim Of Embezzlements Of Over $50,000

Former Employees of Arnold Chain Admit Parts in Theft and Resale of Drugs and Merchandise Over Four-Year Period

One man is awaiting trial in Wayne County Circuit Court on charges of embezzlement and receiving stolen property, and a second person in named as a co-conspirator, but not a defendant, in the theft of thousands of dollars from a drug store chain, which has a branch store in the Woods, it was disclosed on Friday, July 18, by Woods Det. Everett Plumb.

Officials of Arnold Drug, Inc., 15186 West Eight Mile road, Oak Park, an affiliate of Borman Food Stores, Inc., 12300 Mark Twain, Detroit are complainants in the matter.

Awaiting trial is Kenneth Geisler, 28, of 12522 Kresden, Detroit, who is alleged to have disposed of numerous drug items and merchandise to various sources, at 40 percent below cost price, and dividing the money with William Burnstein, 32, of 8547 Hedgeway, Utica, Mich.

Robbed Several Stores

Plumb said that Burnstein, who had worked for the drug store firm, had admitted taking approximately $50,000 in drugs and other items from the Woods branch, and other firm stores to which he had been transferred. When inventory is completed at these stores, the figure may go as high as $70,000, the detective added. The thefts occurred within a span of about four years.

Recently, Geisler was arraigned before Shores Judge George Beauchamp, who presided in Woods court in the absence of Municipal Judge Don Goodrow. Geisler stood mute and waived examination. A plea of innocent was entered for him and he was released on $1,000 bond pending the circuit court trial.

Plumb said that Burnstein, who did the actual stealing, also admitted taking $50, sometimes $75, and even $100, each week, during the past four years, averaging about $3,000 a year, by merely ringing up undercharged sales, and pocketing the difference.

Burnstein said that he took the money only when he needed it. Some weeks, if he did not need funds, he did not take any. He used the money to pay medical bills for his wife, and to maintain living expenses, he added.

Officials Receive Tip

The matter first came to the attention of firm officials on June 7, when an owner of a Harper avenue drug store in St. Clair Shores called a top official of Arnold Drug, Inc., and disclosed that Burnstein had been working part time for him, and had been apprehended stealing drugs, and was consequently fired. The drugist said that since Burnstein was a full time employee of Arnold Drugs, the chain's management should know of the incident.

Burnstein was confronted to the head office with the witness, St. Clair Shores incident, which he admitted. He voluntarily confessed that he was involved in the theft of about $50,000.

Woods Park Is Scene of Freak Mishap

Four Injured as Parghuts Pulled Behind Boat Drags
Them Over Breakwall Into Water

By Walter W. Fuller

One of the most freakish accidents ever recorded in the Pointes resulted in severe injuries and near drownings to four people who had been enjoying an afternoon outing at the Grosse Pointe Woods waterfront park, located on Lake St. Clair in the far western section of St. Clair Shores, Saturday, July 13.

The unique mishap occurred about 2 p.m., when two boys, Mark Morgan, 16 years old, 1014 Yorkshire road, Grosse Pointe Park, and Michael Danaher, 15, of 69 Cloverly road, Grosse Pointe Farms, attempted, for the second time, what St. Clair Shores police called "a crazy stunt."

Arrive in Boat

The boys arrived at the park in an inboard motor boat. According to witnesses they then spread out on the shore "an Army-type parachute," trailing a long line which they fastened to the stern of the boat. Morgan donned a parachute harness, and stayed with the parachute. Danaher pulled the speedy boat which drove Morgan and the chute into the air with a crowd of picnickers looked on with mixed feelings of amazement, and amusement.

As such "demonstrations" go, the first was successful. Danaher slowed down the boat, Morgan dropped into the warm waters of Lake St. Clair, and some of the spectators cheered.

But, when they returned to give a repeat performance, a witness reported, Don Hallman, Woods' park and recreation director, urged them not to attempt the stunt again.

Boys Ignore Warning

Despite his warning, police said, the boys shouted "just once more," and hurriedly prepared for another take-off. This time tragedy resulted.

As it rose a few feet into the air the parachute zigzagged crazily, and suddenly partially collapsed, tossing out its rider. It careened into the park area, scraped along the ground, and

Park Loses 81 Elm Trees; Removal Cost Goes Higher

The cost of removing condemned elm trees, lost because of the dread Dutch Elm Disease, has gone up approximately $25 more a tree, as compared to the price quoted in 1967, the Park Council was informed on Monday, July 22.

In a bid determination, following a recommendation by City Manager Robert Stone, the Council awarded a contract to the Cal Fleming company to remove 28 dead elms. The company made the lowest of three bids submitted. It offered to do the job for $3,495, using the firm's dump.

The city manager told the council that last year the city lost 34 publicly-owned elms, and 34 privately-owned, and that cost of removal for these trees amounted to about $100 each. The price to remove the privately-owned elms was slightly higher.

Herbert Heger, director of Public Services, informed the council at Monday night's session, that since the elm removal bids were let out, samples of suspect trees, analyzed by the Department of Agriculture in Lansing, have shown that another city tree is infected with the Dutch Elm Disease, making the total 29.

Heger said that there were 35 private elms known to have the blight, and were ordered removed, and a number of samples sent to Lansing. A return report revealed that 17 more trees on private property are infected, and must be cut down. The count may go higher, when all the reports are in, he added.

Stone said that the city is undertaking a program to replace all elms that have been cut down, with other species of hardy stock.

Candidates Seek to Fill 10 Offices

Voters Also to Ballot on Three State Proposals and One County Proposition

August 6 is primary election day in the five Grosse Pointes.

Municipal officials estimate that close to one-half of the Pointe's registered voters will cast ballots for their parties' candidates for 10 county, state and federal offices.

Voters will also decide on three state proposals relating to judicial tenure, state official's compensation, and judicial vacancies, and one county proposition asking for extension of the mill tax levy increase granted in 1964.

In the balloting for Wayne County offices, voters will have their first opportunity to select candidates for a newly-instituted 26-member county Board of Supervisors. The Board replaces an old system of 130 essentially appointed supervisors.

Reform of the county administrative system followed the U.S. Supreme Court's historic "one man-one vote" ruling and a State Supreme Court ruling that this decision applies as well to county representatives.

This 26-man Board of Supervisors elected by the citizens on a one man-one vote basis is the most important ballot item on the August 6 ballot.

Next in importance is Proposition No. 1 on the State Proposal Ballot which, if approved, would establish a Judicial Tenure Commission which would investigate complaints to decide whether judges should be removed from office, after their qualifications are called into question.

Nedzi Favored

Heavily favored to win reelection in the 14th U.S. Congressional District is incumbent Democrat Lucien M. Nedzi, who is opposed in the Democratic primary balloting. The two Republican nominees vying for their party's nomination are Leslie Crane and Peter O'Rourke.

In the race for county Prosecuting Attorney, Democrat voters will choose from a field of four — Nicholas Arvan, William L. Nicholas, Stephen M. Taylor and Samuel G. Thornt; the two Republican contestants are William H. Ferguson and Joseph Edward Sturgeon.

A three-man race is predicted for the office of county Sheriff between incumbent Roman S. Gribbs and two challengers.

Gribbs was appointed to fill a vacancy created by the resignation of Peter L. Buback, who resigned when he was called to testify in a recent investigation of the so-called "Greecian Gardens scandal" involving alleged ties between the sheriff's office and the Mafia.

Buback Tries Again

Buback is on the ballot seeking reelection to his former post. The third candidate expected to have a chance at the Democratic slot is Philip J. VanAntwerp, currently a Detroit city councilman and a retired police officer of strongly conservative persuasion.

The VanAntwerp name is well known in Wayne County politics, owing especially to the prominence of Detroit city councilman and former mayor Eugene VanAntwerp, whose career of public service was highlighted by his successful campaign to have a lincolnton draped over a controversial Indian statue at Cobo Hall.

County Clerk

In the race for County Clerk, incumbent Edgar M. Branigan will be challenged by the Democratic balloting by Stephen John Gotowka and Charles N. Youngblood; the lone Republican candidate is Charles A. Brooks.

Incumbent Democrat Louis H. Funk is unchallenged in the Democratic balloting for County Treasurer; Eugene J. Szymanski and Gladys Williams are the Republican candidates.

Candidates for county Registrar of Deeds are Charles W. McLean and Bernard J. Youngblood and Republican Thomas I. Ahart.

Battle for Drains

Three challengers face incumbent Henry V. Herlick in the County Drain Commissioner. They are Bernard F. O'Brien, Roy D. Watt, and Charles Williams; Rein the Democratic race.

Other Candidates

In the sliver of the Park that is part of the Third state legislative district, candidates are: Democrat incumbent, William A. Ryan; Republican challengers, Edgar W. Smith, Alice Thomas and Martha S. Williams.

The Pointes fall into two districts in the balloting for the new County Board of Supervisors.

The City and Park are in District Three, where the candidates in the primary are:

Democrats: Thomas Morton Craig, Adolph Delue, Gino Di Pace, Thomas J. Fox, Jr., James R. Friesema, Marion Macioce, John Patrick D'Leary, Edward McDonald Range, Tom E. Shannon and Bernard L. Van Antwerp.

Republican hopefuls are: Jeffery W. Barry, William R. Bryant, Jr., Larry N. Burns, Mathew E. Connor, John C. Foley, William G. Kirby, Norma J. Laskey and Eugene C. Mathivet, Jr.

The Woods and Shores fall into the First District for Board of Supervisors, where the candidates are:

Democrats: Whitold E. Bentkowski, Michael Boland, Frank Condino, George Kaye, Perry W. Lewis, Max M. Marston, H. E. McCorkle, Betty D. Mihalko, Mike Novak, Charles Novelli, James A. Owens, George Scopus, M. John Shamo, Francis E. Shanahan, Edward J. Thomas, Esther Williams and Ronald S. Wojtal.

Republicans: Donald Brown, Ross Christie, Sr. and Stanley Misaleski, Jr.

The texts of the three state proposals follow.

Proposal No. 1
"Proposed amendment to add a section 30 to Article VI of the State Constitution to establish a judicial tenure commission and to provide for its membership and duties.

"The proposed amendment to add Section 30 to Article VI would do the following:
"1. Establish a judicial tenure commission consisting of judges, lawyers and laymen.

"2. Authorize the Supreme Court upon recommendation of the commission to censure, suspend, remove or retire a judge convicted of a felony or guilty of misconduct in office or having a physical or mental disability which prevents the performance of judicial duties.

"Shall the State Constitution be amended to establish a judicial tenure commission and to provide for its membership and duties?

Proposal No. 2
"Proposed Amendment to Section 12 of Article IV of the State Constitution to establish a state officers compensation commission.

"The proposed amendment to Section 12 of Article IV would do the following:
"1. Create a 7-member commission to be appointed by the Governor.

"2. The commission would determine salaries and expense allowances of the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Justices of the Supreme Court and Members of the Legislature.

"3. Permit the Legislature by a two-thirds vote of each house to reject the salaries and expense allowances determined by the commission.

"Shall the State Constitution be amended to provide for a state officers compensation commission and to provide for its membership and duties?

membership, duties and limitations?

Proposal No. 3

"Proposed Amendment to the State Constitution relating to the filling of judicial vacancies and extend existing Constitutional provisions to appointed judges.

"The proposed amendments to Sections 20, 22, 23, and 24 of Article VI of the State Constitution would do the following:

"1. Vacancies in the office of the Judge of Courts of Record or District Courts would be filled by the Governor until January 1 following the next general election.

"2. Extend existing constitutional provisions to appointed judges.

County Resolution
The text of the single Wayne County resolution to appear on the April 6 ballot follows.

"WHEREAS, the voters of Wayne County on September 1, 1964, did approve a one mill tax levy increase ($1.00 per $1,000 of State equalized valuation) for a period of 5 years from 1965 through 1969, and

"WHEREAS, this one mill was absolutely essential to provide basic County services in such areas as hospitalization for the medically indigent and aged poor and for caring and training of juveniles under County care, providing treatment for the mentally ill, and those suffering from tuberculosis, and for maintaining adequate public health, recreation and safety services, and

"WHEREAS, the County has no alternative but to seek the voters approval for the continuation of the existing one mill extra voted levy in order to maintain minimum essential services; now, therefore, be it

"RESOLVED, by the Board of Supervisors of the County of Wayne, this 18th day of June, 1968:

"1. That there be submitted to the qualified electorate of the County of Wayne, State of Michigan, at the primary election to be held in said County on Tuesday, August 6, 1968:

County Proposition No. 1
Tax Limitation Proposition

"Shall the County of Wayne continue for five additional years (from 1970 through 1974) the one mill approved by the voters in 1964 for five years from 1965 through 1969, the proceeds to be used to continue existing county services, including public health, recreation and safety services, maintain hospitalization for the medically indigent, help furnish medical care of the aged poor, help care for and train juveniles under county care, help provide treatment for the mentally ill and those suffering from tuberculosis.

"2. Said proposition shall be prepared and distributed by the County in the manner provided by law, which statement on the voting machines and ballots shall state the proposition in the form set forth in the preceding paragraph.

"3. All public officials of the County of Wayne, State of Michigan, and all municipal units thereof, within such time as shall be required by law be, and they hereby are, directed to do and perform all acts and things which shall be necessary to be done or performed in order to submit the foregoing proposition to the electorate of said County at such primary election to be held on Tuesday, August 6, 1968.

$180 in Fines

Sylvester Mahan III, of 282 Fisher road, Grosse Pointe Farms, was fined $15 for driving to the left of a center lane. James Davis, of 1340 North Oxford, Grosse Pointe Woods, paid a $5 fine for driving through a red light.

John F. Lange, of 13115 East Jefferson avenue, Detroit, was sentenced to pay $35 or spend five days in jail for not having a valid license in his possession while operating a motorcycle on Kercheval. He paid the fine. Another $5 was paid for not carrying a safety helmet for a passenger.

Other cases heard were those of Jack O. Clifton of 5057 Coplin avenue, Detroit, who forfeited a $10 bond on a charge of sudden acceleration, and Claude Curry, 9389 Holmwood avenue, Detroit, who forfeited bonds amounting to $18 for speeding 35 miles an hour in a 25-mile zone, and for not having a valid operator's license.

A $15 bond posted for making a wrong left turn, was forfeited by Brian Sullivan, of 529 Lakepointe road, Grosse Pointe.

Virgil Howard of 623 Coplin avenue, Detroit, who entered a guilty plea for ignoring a signal light was fined $10. Because he was carrying an instruction permit, but had no licensed driver with him as required by law, he was assessed another $15.

Darryl English, of 4387 Guilford street, Detroit, paid a $20 fine for speeding 50 miles an hour in a 30-mile zone. Charged with careless driving, David Neil, 19973 Doyle, Grosse Pointe Woods, was fined $40.

Arthur Misiak Jr., 913 Lenox avenue, Detroit, paid a $20 fine for speeding 55 miles an hour in a 35-mile zone. William Howe, of 1536 South Renaud road, paid a $10 fine for driving 45 miles an hour in a 35-mile zone.

WALLET STOLEN

Mrs. H. H. Micou, Jr., 81 Moran, called City police on Monday, July 22, to report the theft of her wallet from the check-out counter at Krogers, 16919 Kercheval. She told officers she put her wallet on the counter, when she turned to pick it up, discovered it missing. The black alligator wallet contained $50 in cash, credit cards and personal papers.

Hold GP Theatre Honors Banquet; Present Awards

The Grosse Pointe Theatre held the final social event of its 20th Anniversary Season, its Annual Awards Dinner-Dance, Saturday evening, July 13, at Detroit's Latin Quarter.

Following cocktails and dinner, vice president Larry Marco opened the program by introducing president John Pericin, who congratulated the membership on its most successful season.

As his final official act, Dr. Pericin presented the traditional gavel to Mr. Marco, president-elect for the coming season.

Highlighting the evening's festivities was the awarding of "Clarence" statuettes for outstanding performances in acting and technical areas.

Donald Bliss, of Ridgemont road, was named best actor for his performance in "Kismet."

Best actress was Lois Bender, of Mount Clemens, for her role in "The Great Sebastians."

Winners for best supporting roles were Eileen Binder, of Buckingham road, for "Kismet," and Clarke Scholes, of East Emory Court, for "Absence of a Cello."

Awards for non-featured roles went to Ruth Bliss, of Ridgemont road, for "Cello," and Al Bertel, of Warner road, for "Dark at the Top of the Stairs."

Shirley Sheppard, of North Renaud road, was named best director for "Absence of a Cello." Best producer was Bette Kinney for "Kismet," best technical director was Robert Binder, and best stage manager was Barbara Roney.

Other award winners included Grosse Pointers Chuck Christman for sound and lighting, Shirley Shepard and Carole Lombardini for make-up, Ruth Bliss and Kathy Keir for costumes, June Rourke for set dressing, Jack Petz for scenic design and John Diebel for best workshop.

The important worker-of-the-year awards went to production chairman Tom Gallagher, of Hampton road, and house chairman Marion Consiglio, of St. Clair Shores.

Special awards for outstanding contribution were presented to Joyce Bauhof of Rivard boulevard for her work in costumes, and Robert Mitchell, of St. Clair avenue, for choreography.

A memorial plaque was presented to Mrs. Ted Olen in the name of her late husband. The plaque will hang in the Grosse Pointe War Memorial and will contain the names of outstanding GPT members who have passed away.

Though most GPT members are enjoying a brief summertime lull in theatre activity, the newly elected officers and appointed board members are hard at work on plans for next season.

The new board members are Larry Marco, president; Robert Binder, vice president; Mary Lou Britton, secretary; Roger Shepard, treasurer; Dorothy Williams, house chairman; Tom Gallagher, production chairman; Sue Yeager, public relations; John Diebel, workshop chairman; and Dolly Owens, membership chairman.

The bill of shows which was announced at the dinner-dance includes "Witness for the Prosecution" by Agatha Christie, "The Odd Couple" by Neil Simon, "The Lion In Winter" by John Goldsman, "Fiorello!" by Jerry Bock and Sheldon Harnick and a summer production of Neil Simon's "Barefoot in the Park."

Theatregoers who wish to be included on the GPT mailing list may write the Grosse Pointe Theatre, 32 Lakeshore road, Grosse Pointe Farms.

three for the money

Here they are. 1. Volkswagen. 2. BMW. 3. Mercedes-Benz. Cars built for value... for durability... for reliability... for operating economy. Cars built for the value-conscious buyer who expects — and gets — a full 100-cents worth of value for every dollar invested. Cars that are built better, hand-crafted by old-world artisans. Cars that will hold their value year after year, right up to the time you trade. One of these fine automobiles is right for you... and right for your budget.

Drug Firm Victim of Embezzlers

000 in drugs, merchandise and money from Arnold Drugs.

Accompanied by officials of the firm, Burnstein went to the Woods station and gave a complete statement to Det. Plumb, who, before the man spoke, notified him of his rights. After stating he understood his rights, Burnstein dictated a lengthy confession, which he signed.

Implicates Geisler
Burnstein said that he and Geisler were responsible in the matter. Burnstein, a pharmacist, said he first began working for Arnold Drugs, Inc., in December 1960, at the Gratiot store in Mt. Clemens, where he stayed for one year before being transferred to the Hoover-Twelve Mile store in Warren.

At this store, he met Geisler, with whom he struck up a professional and social relationship. After about two and one half years at this place, Burnstein said, he was sent to the Twelve Mile-Dequindre store, also in Warren, and Geisler was sent to another location.

Following the shifting of Geisler, it was said the drug firm officials ordered an inventory be taken at the Hoover-Twelve Mile place. Discovered losses resulted in the dismissal of Geisler.

Seven months later, Burnstein told Plumb, Geisler approached him and informed him that he had the means of disposing of any merchandise, such as drugs, and other tangible stuff that he (Burnstein) could take out of the store.

Made Daily Thefts
Burnstein said that each night he would take items, especially drugs, out of the place, and store them in his home, until he had a sizeable amount so as to negotiate a good profit. This continued until he was given another assignment, this time at the branch store in the Woods, in Mack avenue, in August 1967.

From this store, from the time he began work there, until he was suspended, he took a total of $2,580.67 worth of goods, from which he received a share of $450, after they were sold by Geisler.

Burnstein said that on one occasion, he gave Geisler several hundreds of dollars worth of merchandise, for which he never received his share of the profits. It was while working in this store, he said, that he decided to under-ring sales and pocket the cash difference. He said that during the time the thefts were taking place and the time he was fired, his share of the sale of the loot amounted to an estimated $3,000 a year, besides the $3,000 a year he estimated he had pocketed.

Estimates His Take
He told Plumb that the total of estimated $12,000 he received as his share from the sale of all merchandise, and Geisler's share of $12,000, represented a total actual wholesale value of approximately $50,000, if the goods had been sold through legitimate channels.

On June 8, Plumb obtained a warrant approved by Wayne County Assistant Prosecutor David Bortman, charging Geisler with conspiracy to embezzle property over $100; and another warrant charging him with receiving stolen property over $100.

On June 11, Geisler came to the station with his attorney, and surrendered himself. He admitted he had been receiving stolen merchandise from Burnstein and that he had sold the stuff, splitting money received 50-50 with his accomplice.

He said he sold the stuff to different persons whom he met at various locations. These persons represented firms, none of which he knew, or handled resales themselves. He did not know the names of the men he dealt with, he added.

THE SCORE
It's better to be known by the company you keep than by the friends you give away.

Unlocked Door Admits Thieves

While they were away from home shopping Friday morning, thieves entered the home of Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth Goerke, of 726 Berkshire road, Grosse Pointe Park, through an unlocked side door, and removed a variety of valuables.

Among them, according to Park police, were a Polaroid camera in a black leather case, some jewelry, a GE stereo AM and FM radio, and a $5 bill. Police are investigating.

Face Charges for Assault

They got as far as Kercheval and Vendome road in the Farms, where a police officer stopped the car after seeing one passenger's legs dangling out the window. This exuberant passenger got out of the car and escaped from the policeman on foot. The girl and one other passenger were taken to the Farms police station, questioned, and released.

Meanwhile, according to police, the other five boys in the car got tired of waiting and set out on foot for the Neighborhood Club. They reportedly got as far as Waterloo and University before getting into trouble again. Accounts of what happened there vary.

Road Block
The two city boys claim that while driving west on Waterloo their passage was impeded by a human road block consisting of six boys.

One of the boys got out of the car first and was beaten and kicked in the head and body. His friend, who got out of the car later, was beaten less severely.

Points of Confusion
There are two points of confusion in the boys' and police's account of the fight. First, police are attempting to determine the identity of the sixth assailant. Second, there is some indication that the driver stopped his car willingly, and could have avoided the fight by forcing his way through the "road block."

City police received a call at 11:46 p.m. from an unidentified person who reported a "gang fight" in progress and Cpl. William Plumb and Patrolman Edmond Benthuy were dispatched to the scene.

To Hospital
They found the two injured boys and took them to Bon Secours Hospital for treatment.

Subsequent investigation by City police chief Andrew C. Teetaert resulted in the filing of charges of assault and battery against three 16-year-olds and one 15-year-old, including one who was picked up as a suspect in the case by Farms police shortly after midnight on Mack avenue near Rivard. During the fracas a name was mentioned by one of the assailants which provided a valuable clue to police in their subsequent investigation.

"This was a very vicious attack, one of those things it's pretty difficult to understand," Chief Teetaert noted.

Farms Fireman Wins Promotion

Farms Fire Chief M. William Mason announced the recent promotion of Lucien (Lou) Snep, from pipeman to sergeant, following competitive examinations.

Snep, 40, who resides at 21364 Severn, Harper Woods, was appointed to the Fire Department on April 2, 1955.

The new sergeant is a 1947 graduate of St. Philip Neri High School, and was with the United States Army during the United States' police action in Korea. He was a member of the Armed Forces from 1951 through 1953, and was honorably discharged with the rating of private first class.

Snep is married to the former Rosemary Jankowski of Detroit. They are the parents of three girls, Pamela, 12; Patsy, 10; and Nancy, who is eight years old.

Half Million Visit Museum

Director Willis F. Woods of the Detroit Institute of Arts announces that half a million people have visited the fine arts museum during the first half of this year.

Exactly 501,639 visitors have toured the 80 galleries of the free museum or attended its special auditorium, lecture or movie events.

Mr. Woods predicted that two special shows scheduled for the Fall season, the popular archaeological exhibition on Masada and the big "Painting in France" survey, will bring 1968 attendance close to the 1,000,000 figure.

BIKES GONE
City police received two reports of bicycles stolen from the City's Norbert Neff park on Monday, July 22. Both were black and white Schwinns, boys' bicycles. One belonged to John Boyle, 1310 Grayton, the other to Donald Wood, 587 Fisher.

For those of you who missed Vernors' new slogan, here it is again.

No slogan? That's right, no slogan. Vernors is so different it doesn't need a slogan. We don't need a lot of square, so-called "catch" phrases to tell you Vernors and Vernors One-Calorie are very different—that it's different because it's flavor-aged 4 years in wood. Try gingery Vernors. The taste is unfiltered by slogans.

gingery Vernors... so different it doesn't need a slogan

(Optional note: The slogan in the box above would normally be used to once again tell you with a big fat slogan. Since we have no slogan, we donate this space to you... the tired, over-sloganned American consumer. It's yours! Do with it as you will. Don't in it, make any symbols or just sit and contemplate its clean, uncluttered, soothing emptiness.)

Driver Learns About Policemen

James E. Fraser, 51, of 80 South Deeplands, became belligerent when stopped for speeding by Farms police on Saturday, July 20, and insisted that the police officers who forced him to a halt, could not arrest him. He found out.

The policemen, Patrolmen Philip Miglio and Charles Reichling, said they observed Fraser take off at high speed from a stop sign at Bournemouth and Chalfonte, travel west on Chalfonte, then make a left turn onto Moross road, going south at a very high speed. He then turned right onto Kercheval.

Miglio and Reichling said they paced Fraser at 60 miles an hour from the Kercheval-Kerby intersection, and continued the pace west on Kercheval, from Kerby to Moran, a 30-mile-an-hour zone, and from Moran to Lewiston, a 25-mile zone.

Fraser was stopped just west of Muir road, where the officers asked him for his operator's license and car registration. While the violation ticket was being written, Fraser and his three passengers got out of their car and approached the police vehicle. Fraser became belligerent and raised his voice, claiming the policemen could not arrest him, the officers stated in their report.

When Fraser refused to heed an order to return to his auto, and to be quiet, Miglio and Reichling placed him under arrest, searched him and took him to the station in handcuffs. A disorderly person charge against the man was dropped by the officers, but they gave him a violation ticket for 55 miles an hour in a 30 mile zone. Court date is scheduled for August 21.

scooped up four relaxing people in an instant.

Screaming and helpless, all were dragged over the ground and across a cement break-water into about five feet of water before young Danaher stopped the boat's motor.

The four victims, all injured, were Otto Fischer, 66, and his wife, Maria, 63, of 1048 North Brys drive, Grosse Pointe Woods; their grandson, Robert Jed, 4 1/2 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Jed, 4587 Burnley drive, Bloomfield Hills, and Mrs. Denise Potter, 28, of 23701 Fifteen Mile road, Sterling Township. All were rushed to St. John Hospital, shaken and somewhat dazed.

Most Severely Wounded
Most severely injured was Mrs. Fischer, who suffered from shattered bones in her right leg just above the ankle, and cuts and bruises. Following an operation the leg was placed in a cast, her husband reported.

Mr. Fischer sustained a sprained wrist, a strained back, and numerous bruises. His grandson was treated for injuries to his left side, and Mrs. Potter from neck and shoulder contusions. All were released from the hospital after thorough examinations and first aid treatments, except Mrs. Fischer, who was expected home this week.

"If it had not been for the park director (Hallman), and a witness named Taylor, and the presence of mind of the boy, (Danaher), driving the boat, all of us surely would have been drowned like rats," said Mr. Fischer in an interview with a Grosse Pointe News reporter.

Mixed Reactions
"My first reaction was fright, my second was anger, and my third was to thank the Lord nothing worse had happened."

Mr. Fischer, a partner in a Roseville tool and die concern, had high praise for the St. Clair Shores police who arrived on the scene. "It seemed only seconds before they were there assisting us, and we were placed in an ambulance, and being rushed to the hospital. It was just wonderful." Later he conveyed his gratitude to Insp. Lee Houteman of the St. Clair Shores police department.

Took Lounge Along
According to Richard D. Taylor (the witness Mr. Fischer mentioned), of 2013 Vernier road, Grosse Pointe Woods, the grounded parachute carried both Mrs. Potter and the chaise longue on which she was reclining, over the cement wall into the water. The Fischers and their grandson were scooped off a park bench.

Seeing the tragedy both Taylor and Hallman immediately leaped into the shallow water. They found the victims tangled in the parachute, Taylor reported.

"It certainly was the most weird accident anyone could possibly imagine," he said. "When you think of a crazy zigzagging, uncontrollable, partially-opened parachute speeding along the ground, and scooping up four people, one of them sitting in a chaise longue, it sounds unbelievable, like a fairy tale. But that's precisely what happened."

ously behind schedule.

A central coordinator was to be hired and a central office established by the end of March, but delays in hiring were so great that the staff and office are still being assembled.

The suburban offices were to be opened by the end of April; now local participants are talking in terms of a rough September 1 deadline for setting up the Grosse Pointe office.

A report issued in April by the New Detroit Committee said, "The opportunities for these Suburban Action Centers to attack white racism from within the white community are unlimited."

Picketing and Canvassing
It projected that the local centers, each tailoring its program to the specific needs of its area, would conduct activities ranging from "picketing an extreme right wing meeting in order to tell the black community and other whites that a new aggressive behavior toward bigotry does exist on the part of other whites," to instigating "door-to-door interviews to counteract rumors and fear."

The report noted: "While the centers will work with volunteer organizations and basic community institutions, particularly churches and synagogues, much stress will be placed on working with people so they may be effective where they are."

Combat Discrimination
"For example, an advertising executive would be encouraged to change his firm's discriminatory hiring policies because of his own attitudinal change, or a filling station owner would be urged to exert influence on the racial policies of the gasoline refining company from which he purchases."

The New Detroit Committee provided funding amounting to $12,500 for the developmental phase of the program. Other funds were to come from local religious groups.

Ernie Harwell Discusses Long Broadcasting Career

By Mike Granger

Time: Two hours after the Tiger's double disaster caused by the Baltimore Orioles on Sunday, July 21.

Place: The Grosse Pointe residence of Ernie Harwell, veteran baseball broadcaster, now in his ninth year of airing the local team over WJR.

Topic: The career of Ernie Harwell.

"Well, hello baseball fans, speaking to you from Tiger Stadium..." The familiar voice is set to report another game.

Born in Washington, Georgia, Ernie began his career in sports 35 years ago as a cub reporter for the Atlanta Constitution, and later became Atlanta's correspondent for The Sporting News. In his early 20's, he originated a nightly sports broadcast for WSB, the NBC outlet in Atlanta, his first regular experience on the air.

Graduate of Emory

A graduate of Emory University, where he met his wife, Lulu, a typically gracious Southern belle, the Harwells are parents of two sons, Bill, 24, and Gray, a 21 senior-to-be at Wisconsin University. Twin daughters, Julie and Carolyn, 10 complete the Harwell family.

"My job is simply to report the game, call the game as it unfolds," comment Harwell on the philosophy of his success. Even though he may feel inward disappointment at a Tiger defeat, "I must not be emotional over the air. I must remain impartial."

Currently in his 21st season as a major league broadcaster, Harwell was appointed broadcaster for the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1948, back when Leo Durocher had Lorraine Day. With two other teams in the Big City, it appears that Harwell's job was two-fold. Not only was he expected to foster interest in the Grand Old Pastime, but he could not alienate the anti-Dodger listener. Two years later, he move to the Polo Grounds and the New York Giants.

Most Famous Homer

October 3, 1951 will long stand out in the minds of baseball fans as the home run heard around the world, but for Harwell the game has special significance. It was the final game of the playoff between the Giants and Dodgers, and was the first nation-wide telecast of a sports event.

"Bobby Thompson's ninth-inning, three-run, pennant-winning home run," recalls Harwell, "has to be the most thrilling moment for me. I think after that, I was conditioned to expect everything and anything."

October 1, 1967. "It was like a morgue. I went down to the dressing room after the game to say good-bye to the players and..." his voice trailed off.

Even in the last incident, as much as he wanted the Tigers to win, and force another playoff, he had to remain impartial. "The game was being broadcast in Boston, and all the Red Sox players were huddled around the radio. Even though the game-ending double play was a disappointment to many Detroit fans, it brought cheers to Boston."

Covered Other Sports

In his 20 years in the radio media, he has had an opportunity to broadcast several other sports, including college and professional football and the Master's Golf Tournament. Because of the delays between pitches, Harwell considers baseball the hardest sport to broadcast. "Not only is there a lot of fill-in time, but the baseball fan is more knowledgeable."

"In order to keep the game interesting and moving," comments Harwell, "I try to keep up on the players and their activities. I attempt to make the players as interesting and real as possible, and not just mere men with numbers on their backs."

As one of the game's leading historians, he possesses a valuable collection of publications, clippings, and souvenirs which he started as a youth in Atlanta. He frequently resorts to the past as means of filling-in, and fostering interest. And, of course, there's his familiar quip, "The gentlemen from Flint caught the ball," that's amusing.

Now Song Writer

Recently, as an avocation, Ernie Harwell has started song writing. He has written the words and music to over 20 songs, including "Upside Down" by Homer and Jethro. So far, about five of his songs have been recorded and met with success. Roger Valentino, Shirley Bolt and Ronnie Dove are a few who have bought his material. He presently has a contract with Motown, though he cannot give any details.

Whether he is broadcasting a Tiger game, writing a new song, or just spending a couple of hours at home with his family, Ernie Harwell, comes in loud and clear.

I would attempt to accomplish the implementations of the provisions of Act 293 of 1966 for County Home Rule in order to free counties from State Control & therefore give counties the power and options to solve local problems. But I would only urge this implementation in order to give improvements in County Government order home rule by eliminating the agencies and boards that duplicate and overlap in these various functions.

Week in Chicago Livened By Various Experiences

Chicago, Ill. Dear Boss: Well, here I am, back in this rugged, rumbling, sprawling midwestern Big Burg, where they have added quite a few skyscrapers since I worked here several decades ago. Today the town is bounded by Lake Michigan (somewhat polluted), a hippie-populated Old Town, high prices, and a daily gazette called The Trib.

You might like to know that up to now (July 10) the highlights of my stopover at a big Michigan avenue hotel, have been a brush with a drunken waiter, a comical guy tagged Don Rice, an old friend named Dorothy Shay, once billed as "the Park Avenue Hillbilly," now svelte and dignified, and a man from Kansas City I met on Wacker Drive whilst watching a Shrine parade. We shall deal with them, in the order of their appearance.

First, the soused waiter who attended a few of us at a head table during what was, for some unknown reason, called a "gas-light banquet." My nice, pretty (or should it be pretty nice) wife was sitting at my right. At the left were friends, the Thomas D. Leadbetters (he's Detroit's City Clerk.) That somewhat drab dinner would have been much duller if it had not been for the short-sleeved, jacketless, black-gal-lused waiter, who was glued to his eyeballs. At first we all thought he was a gag. But, we soon learned that he had more rocks in his noggin than are found on the Maine seacoast. And, into the bargain, he was enjoying himself more than most anyone else in the house.

He packed a constant Cheshire cat grin, stumbled gleefully back and forth, and served his customers from the front of the long table. It was a very "informal" banquet, boss, as you may have surmised. He asked a fellow named Mel Rinehart where he had purchased the sport shirt he wore. He stared at me and wondered aloud how he was going to serve the meat course when there was a salad plate in front of me—which he had placed there. He slyly walked away when Mr. Leadbetter told him there was a fly in the salad dressing bowl. This guy will long be remembered by those he so sloppily served.

Now we'll take Comedian Rice, who was so filled with satirical cracks he was difficult to follow. He left me out in left field, however, when he described Humphrey and McCarthy as the Bonnie and Clyde of the Democratic party. He is to be commended for being the first absopure comic I've heard in many a year. That, in itself, was refreshing.

About Dorothy Shay, whom many may remember. We became well acquainted in the halcyon days of yore. She still is a fine entertainer—but appears to be more of the "drawing room" type these days... whatever that means.

Then there was this garrulous fellow from Kansas City who started a conversation with me, with a few asides to Grosse Pointe Carl Johnson. He may still be talking as far as we know. Named L. C. Williams, he was a heating and refrigeration man. He handed over a business card on which was imprinted: "We do not need to change the work week as much as some of the weak work." Pretty clever, hey.

Next, boss, he asked me what I thought of the proposed Federal gun law. I had no ready answer. So he took time out to declare, with considerable firmness, that if the man who assassinated Senator Kennedy had not been able to procure a gun, he would have undoubtedly fashioned some sort of a bomb which, instead of killing one person, probably would have resulted in the death of several. That left me partially stunned!

Oh, yes, one more item. My frau, Helen, went to a luncheon for ladies where there was a seeress whose name fortunately I do not recall.

Anyway this gal predicted a Republican victory in the November elections, and added, "the presidential victor is not now strongly in the picture."

She refused to name him, but I'm sure it couldn't be Dean Martin.

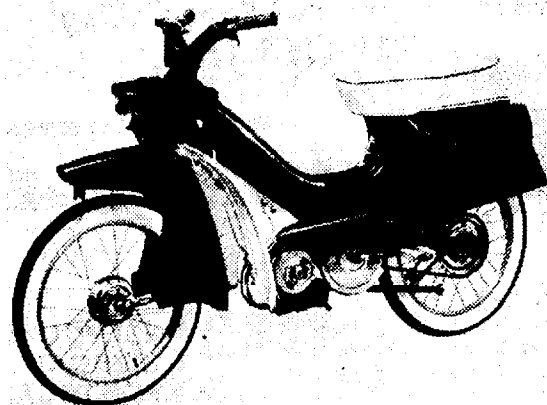

She also "saw" the death this year of both a national and international leader of prominence.

There is much more, boss, of this Chicago report, but I will sign off now. May happiness surround you.

Yours From Chi.
Walter W. Fuller

REPORTS LAWN DAMAGE

Betty Teeg of 22 Waverly, informed Farms police on Monday, July 22, that at 1:05 a.m. on the night of Monday, July 22, an unknown motorist drove over her lawn between the curb and sidewalk damaging the lawn and knocking down four small trees planted there. She said she heard a noise at that time in the morning but by the time she got to the window to look out, the vehicle was gone.

McCarthy Slates Visit to Detroit

Senator Eugene J. McCarthy will barnstorm through Detroit, and possibly visit Grosse Pointe, in a final effort to bring his campaign to the Michigan people this week-end.

His visit will be climaxed by a free rally in Tiger Stadium Saturday night at 7:30.

The Minnesota Democrat will arrive at Metropolitan Airport at 1 p.m. Saturday and swing through a round of personal appearances and meetings with Democratic delegates before the Saturday night rally.

McCarthy recently received the support of one prominent Grosse Pointer, William Clay Ford of Lake Shore road. Ford last week announced formation of the Michigan Business and Professional Men's Committee for McCarthy.

The Fords' daughter, Martha ("Muff"), 19, has also shown her resolute support of the underdog candidate with envelope-stuffing and other odd jobs, as have numerous other Pointe teenagers.

To Stand Trial On Drug Charge

Jonathan C. Dahl, 18, of 155 Stephens road, arraigned for examination before Farms Municipal Judge Robert Pytell on Wednesday, July 17, stood mute to a charge of illegal possession of narcotics, and a plea of innocent was entered for him. The youth was bound over to Wayne County Circuit Court to await trial, and is free on $1,000 until the hearing.

Dahl is accused of having had hashish, a concentrated form of marijuana, in his possession on June 4, when he was stopped for reckless driving following a "Skip-Day" melee at Grosse Pointe South High School that had occurred that same day.

Farms police said that they chased Dahl, who was riding a motorcycle, at 70 miles an hour, and finally stopped him at Kercheval and Stephens. In searching the young man, officers found 10 tinfoil packets of hashish in his pocket.

Det. Sgt. George Van Tiem and Det. Joseph Miller said that the stuff was sent to the Detroit Police Scientific Laboratory for analysis, and a return report verified that the contents of the packets was hashish.

Dahl was convicted of reckless driving charge on June 26, after a hearing before Judge Pytell, who found the youth guilty and fined him $25 and placed him on one year probation. Dahl's operator's license was suspended for 30 days.

Motorist Issued Violation Tickets

Gregory L. Atkin of 499 Sunningdale, was arrested by Woods police on Wednesday, July 10, for driving the wrong way on a one-way street and for not having his operator's license on his person.

Patrolman Charles Hamel, the arresting officer, said that he was cruising on Mack, when he observed Atkin, pulling away from a cleaning establishment at Mack and Lennon. He traveled north on the southbound lane, to Country Club drive, then went through a crossover into northbound Mack.

When he stopped the motorist, the officer said, he requested the man's operator's license, which Atkin failed to produce, stating it had been left at home.

Atkin was taken to the station where he was given a violation ticket for the wrong way driving, and another for not having his license on his person. The license was brought to the station a short time later by a relative.

Burglar Returns Stolen Mainsail!

A brazen boat burglar, with a smattering of a conscience, went aboard a 32-foot sloop moored at the Grosse Pointe Park marina on Thursday, July 11, and made off with a large assortment of yachting gear.

The thief entered the cabin of the sloop owned by Edward Baganz, of 500 Barrington road, and made off with a brand new mainsail packed in a bag, valued at $500; another bag containing 90 feet of nylon rope, a compass, an eight millimeter movie camera, binoculars, and a white bag containing assorted tools.

Five days later an attendant at the park observed a canvas bag at the entrance gate. In it he found the stolen mainsail. Grosse Pointe Park police are hopeful that a thief with that much conscience will return the remainder of the loot taken from the sloop. At this writing they are still waiting.

People seldom get very far off the straight and narrow path if they use the golden rule to measure their actions.

Only Ford has the world's best-selling sporty car... Mustang!

And that's not all!

MUSTANG—world's best-selling sporty car this year and every year!

Just try getting more for your money. Try getting floor-mounted stick, buckets, and carpeting on any sporty car—all at no extra cost. Or exclusive options like our Tilt-Away steering wheel or Comfort-Weave vinyl upholstery that breathes. You'll see why Mustang's been first from the day it came out. Nobody matches our features any more than they match Mustang's style!

LTD BY FORD—outselling its nearest rival since January 1.

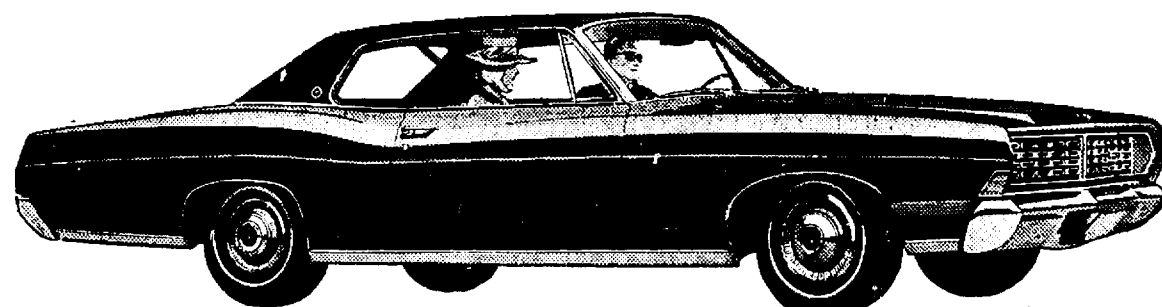

And why not? It's the strongest, quietest Ford ever built. Nobody else in its class offers you hidden headlamps, solid die-cast grille and V-8 power, all at no extra cost. And nobody else but Ford gives you so many full-size models to choose from—21 in all, including two fastbacks.

TORINO/FAIRLANE—No. 1 intermediate since the first of the year.

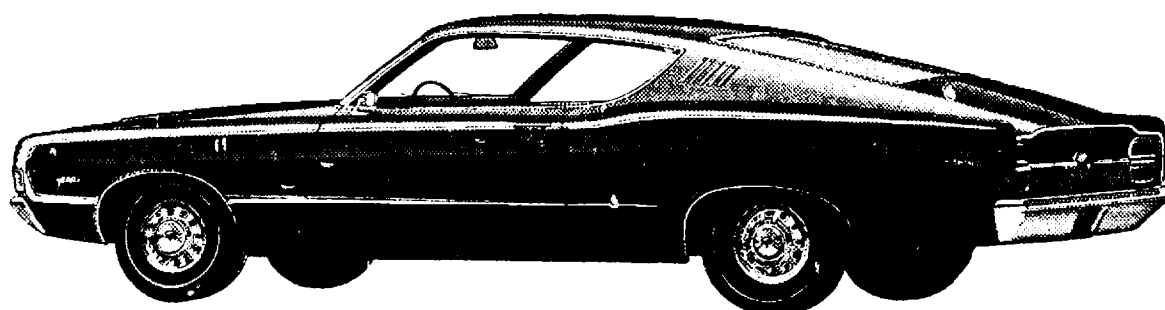

You just get more car, that's all. A longer wheelbase than 38 other intermediates—for a roomier, smoother ride. A powerhouse whose specially modified racing counterpart beats everyone else in scoring NASCAR championship points. And a choice of 14 models that includes Torino GT and America's lowest-priced fastback, the Fairlane 500.

FORD WAGONS—first in sales as always!

They don't call us Wagonmaster for nothing. We're the only one that offers two-way Magic Doorgate on three sizes of wagons. And only Ford in its class comes with hidden headlamps and die-cast grille (on the Country Squire) . . . dual-facing rear seats . . . built-in wind deflectors . . . and a choice of 12 models, including the Torino Squire, Fairlanes and Falcons. # The new Mercedes-Benz 280SE: so "over-engineered" you'll never fear a panic stop again.

The new Mercedes-Benz 280SE has a disc brake at every wheel. So do all 180-mph Grand Prix road-racing machines.

Some critics have called the new Mercedes-Benz 280SE "over-engineered." Sure, they say, a passenger car needs good brakes, but does it need brakes good enough for a racing car?

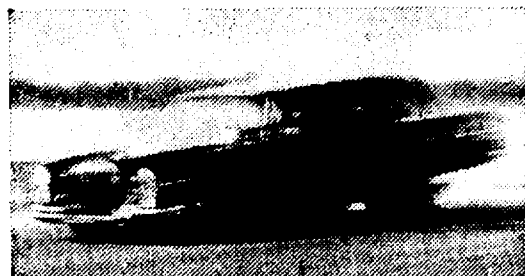

"Absolutely," say the Mercedes-Benz engineers. "Test after test has proved that disc brakes provide the most precise braking possible—at any speed. Put one wherever you have a wheel."

By conventional standards, the Mercedes-Benz 280SE is "over-engineered." And Mercedes-Benz is proud of it.

Most conventional cars have old-fashioned drum-type brakes. They're cheaper than disc brakes, and good enough for most average situations. But drum brakes can be marginal in a "panic" stop.

It takes horsepower to stop

Most people don't realize it, but it takes horsepower to stop. It's the same kind of horsepower that makes your car go, except that it's applied in the opposite direction. And, instead of being produced by the heat of gasoline burning in your engine, it comes from friction in your brakes.

"Panic stop" demonstration: A test driver slams the new Mercedes-Benz 280SE to a sure stop from 80 mph.

In a "panic" stop—real or simulated—it takes the equivalent of 321 horsepower to stop a 3,500-lb. car from 80 mph. This energy transforms the car's forward momentum into heat. And this heat must be dissipated by your brakes.

The disc brakes of the Mercedes-Benz 280SE have 421.1 square inches of effective braking area. If the 280SE had drum brakes of the same diameter, this area would be cut considerably. There would be less area to develop braking horsepower, less area to dissipate heat. Such brakes would be more prone to fading, swerving, and juddering. Drum brakes lack the feeling of authority you get with disc brakes.

Disc brakes are standard equipment

That's why Mercedes-Benz engineers insisted on disc brakes for the new 280SE. And not just on the front wheels—or as an extra-cost option—but on all 4 wheels as standard equipment.

The tremendous margin in braking performance you get with 4-wheel disc brakes is just one example of what "over-engineering" means to the owner of a Mercedes-Benz 280SE. Here are some more:

Fuel injection

Usually, your car's engine is designed either for power or economy—not both. Mercedes-Benz engineers found a way to give you the power of a V-8 and the fuel economy of a Six. It's called "fuel injection," an ingenious device that ram-feds gasoline into the engine under high pressure. Result: horsepower is boosted by nearly 15% at no sacrifice in gas mileage.

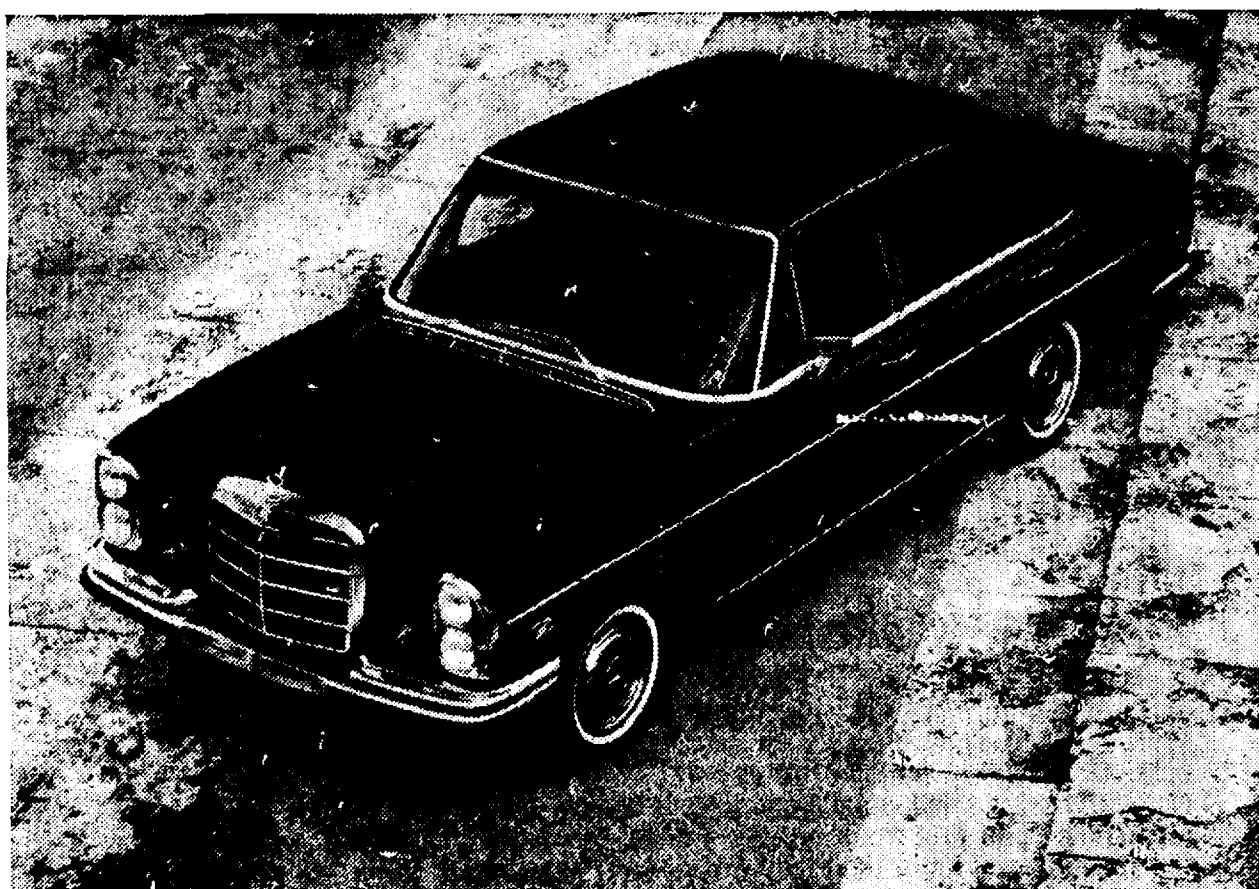

(Technical note: The "S" in the 280SE's name stands for "Super." The "E" stands for "Einspritzmotor" or fuel-injection engine. And "280" is the size—the metric displacement—of the engine, which is 2.8 liters.)

Fuel injection also gives the 280SE excellent engine response at all engine speeds, with exceptionally smooth pick-up from low revs. The 280SE engine's overhead cam silences the fuss and clatter of conventional tappets. And its 7 main bearings give the crankshaft better support than most V-8s, for less vibration at high speeds.

10,000 body welds

Most conventional cars have a separate body and chassis, held together with bolts. After a while, the bolts can work loose. On a rough road, the rattles can be deafening.

The impeccable Mercedes-Benz 280SE—with disc brakes on all 4 wheels.

Mercedes-Benz eliminated the rattles by eliminating the body bolts. Instead: 10,000 individual body welds. Result: a structure of immense strength and rigidity. After 50,000 miles or so, you may begin to wonder if your 280SE will ever rattle.

Built to be the best—not the best seller

After welding, body seams are ground down and checked with a soft glove. Any burrs are filled with pewter and polished smooth by hand.

The body is then dunked in a 52-ton primer bath until 24 pounds of a special anti-corrosion formula have seeped into every cranny. This primer coat is baked on. The next is sprayed on. Between the last two coats, the body is hand-sanded. The final coat of enamel is hand-sprayed. There isn't any "orange peel" or other minor blemishes. The finish is as nearly perfect as the present "state of the art" allows.

(Note: Nitpickers will find nothing to carp about. A slathering of permanent plasticized undercoating fights road salt, rust and rot. The insides of the hubcaps are primer-coated after the outsides are chromed. Even the underside of the dash is fully trimmed.)

By the time your 280SE is complete, it has passed 8,117 inspections. One out of every 11 workers is an inspector to make sure that Mercedes-Benz standards are maintained.

Scientists Begin Three Projects

Three Grosse Pointe scientists, members of the medical school faculty of Wayne State University, began work on Michigan Heart Association research projects, Monday, July 1, Dr. Michael C. Kozonis, president of the Association, announced.

They are Raymond L. Henry, Ph.D., 1841 Aline drive, assistant professor of physiology and pharmacology, whose project is, "In vivo Observations and in vitro Analysis of Experimental Thrombi."

Dr. Todd S. Ing, 557 Neff road, assistant professor of internal medicine, "Determination of Intra-Renal Distribution of Blood Flow with Radioactive Xenon in Renovascular Hypertension."

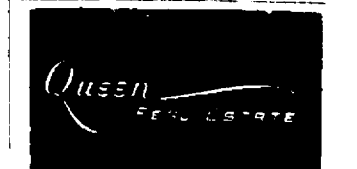

Dr. Eberhard F. Mammen, 642 Woods lane, professor of physiology and pharmacology, "Blood Coagulation Changes Related to Shock."

The three projects were part of 31 projects at Wayne State. A total of 70 projects, costing $551,039 are being financed during the fiscal year beginning July 1, said Dr. Kozonis, a Pontiac cardiologist. Total expenditures will be more than $800,000 of which $165,000 will go to American Heart Association for national research.

"By the end of this year, our 20th Anniversary, the Association will have spent about $7,200,000 on research," Dr. Kozonis said. "The money came from the Michigan United Fund, supplemented by Memorial Gifts, money willing to us, or given in honor of a friend or relative, victim of heart disease."

"Memorial gifts are earmarked for research only. The more gifts we receive the more research we can support. We all need to remember—and sometimes we forget—that the research of today is the treatment that can save you or me or our children tomorrow."

The path that leads to success is well strewn with thorns.

Suspect Sought In Theft of Skirt

Farms police are seeking a young woman for questioning regarding the disappearance of a $20 skirt from the Touch of Elegance Shop, 63 Kercheval.

on Tuesday July, 16.

A saleswoman reported to the authorities that she observed the girl enter the store, and browse around, and finally took three dresses and a skirt from racks, and then go to the fitting room, as though to try them on.

When the girl emerged, it was said, she returned the dresses to the racks, and left the building, after which the saleslady said she went into the fitting room to make sure all the garments had been removed. She found the hanger that had held the skirt, but the skirt was gone.

It is believed that the girl was wearing the skirt underneath her own when she walked out of the shop, police said.

The young woman was described as being between 18 and 20 years old about five feet six inches tall, having long blond hair tied back with a green bow, attractive, and wearing a yellow skirt and blouse.

Great Books Group Forming

The opportunity to read and discuss the world's Great Books with other people of mutual interests is now available to residents of Grosse Pointe and surrounding communities.

A Great Books Reading and Discussion Group is now being formed at Grosse Pointe's Main Library, and registration is open to everyone. The group is sponsored locally in cooperation with The Great Books Foundation, a national nonprofit education organization.

This program is especially designed for busy adults who are interested in ideas, offering reading selections that are short and packed with information relevant to today's problems.

There are 16 readings in each year of the Great Books Program, each a carefully selected piece of literature especially suited for adult discussion. The boxed sets of inexpensive paperback volumes that the groups discuss are published exclusively by The Great Books Foundation.

This local group will be part of a national program of continuing liberal education which the Foundation had been developing since 1947. Currently, there are about 8,000 Great Books discussion groups meeting regularly throughout the United States.

Discussions are guided by co-leaders, who keep conversation on the track and who stimulate every member of the group to take part.

Participating in a Great Books Group is a unique educational experience. Members receive the core of a liberal education while learning to read more carefully, to think more critically and to communicate more effectively, skills useful both at work and at home.

Persons interested in joining this new Great Books group should contact Doris Edwards, secretary, at 988 Moorland drive or 886-0153.

The group will meet at The Main Branch Library on Kercheval from 1 to 3 o'clock on the second Wednesday of the month.

Find Stolen Car Behind Theater

Woods Public Safety Lt. Jack Patterson is credited with the recovery of a car reported stolen in Detroit on July 20.

While on routine patrol at about 1:43 a.m. on Monday, July 22, the lieutenant saw a lone car parked directly behind the Woods Theater, Mack and Bournmouth, and made a check on his "hot sheet," and discovered that it was one reported stolen two days previously.

The Detroit Police Auto Squad was notified of the recovery, and the squad officers in turn informed the owner, Richard D. Ciechocki of 5129 Concord, Detroit, that his car had been found and to claim the vehicle from the Woods authorities.

Seek Witness In LS Accident

Farms police are seeking a witness, or witnesses, to an accident involving a Farms police car and a private vehicle, that occurred at the Lake Shore-Moross roads intersection at about 6:40 p.m. on Wednesday, July 10. Information is needed to determine who was at fault in the collision.

Both Patrolman Philip Miglio and Mrs. Joyce Mabarak of 1160 Maryland, claimed the green light was in his or her favor. The accident has been under investigation since the date of occurrence, it was disclosed on Monday, July 22.

Damage to the scout car, which was struck broadside, was estimated at about $450; and to Mrs. Mabarak's car, about $300.

In Mrs. Mabarak's automobile were her three children, Sylvia, 7; Philip, 6; and Melissa, 3, who suffered a bruise on the right cheek. The child was taken to St. John Hospital where she was treated for the bruise, and where it was determined that this was the only injury the little girl sustained. No one else was hurt in the mishap.

Mrs. Mabarak stated that she was driving west on Lake Shore and was entering the Moross intersection on a green light, when Miglio made a left turn from east bound Lake Shore to north bound Moross, and the front end of her car struck the right side of the police vehicle.

Miglio claimed that the light had turned green for north bound Moross when he entered the intersection.

The policeman, in making a statement for officials records, said he was cruising east on Lake Shore, and at Moross, there were two automobile in front of him, stopped and waiting in the extreme left lane for the red light to change.

When the light changed to green for east and west Lake Shore, the first driver made a left turn and was held up at the intersection because of traffic. The second car went through, behind the first vehicle, and Miglio stated, he was behind this auto, the policeman said.

As he and the second car completed the turn and was going through onto Moross, the light changed green for north and south Moross, the officer said, and as he reached the middle of west bound Lake Shore, he was hit by Mrs. Mabarak.

The investigation of the accident is incomplete, but it is still underway. Anyone who might have seen what happened is asked to contact Farms police at 90 Kerby road, or phone TUxedo 5-2100.

On The Issues

- Law and Order: "I believe that the first and foremost desire of all Citizens is for a return of law and order. I feel that present National and Local Administrations have flagrantly disregarded the wishes of the citizens in this matter."
- Property Rights: "The Citizen's right to own and dispose of his own property as he sees fit is guaranteed by the Constitution and cannot be abridged. Legislation to control such transactions is inappropriate. I oppose all such laws as they infringe on the rights of both the seller and the buyer."
- Vietnam: "In Vietnam, the Democratic Administration and Congress have been derelict in their duty in waging a foreign war without a legal Declaration of War by the Congress and without the approval of the people. We should make these persons answer for their conduct. This war can, and must be, brought to an honorable end."

On The Opponent

Les Crane is opposed in this Primary Election by a Mr. Peter O'Rourke who says that he is the "forgotten man, etc., etc." which sounds very nice. However, the truth is that Mr. O'Rourke is financed and supported by the Romney-Waldrone wing of the Republican Party; the same people who have just given us the State Income Tax and the Forced Housing Law.

He believes the voters of this District are tired of professional politicians who say all the right things in order to get elected; and who then, after election, completely reverse their position on vital issues. In the past this conduct may have been excusable as "just politics," but, today, political decisions are affecting our very lives and safety. This is why LES CRANE, who is not a professional politician, but is a businessman and alarmed citizen is running for Congress.

Les Crane stands up for you and America and not for the Romney-Waldrone brand of Republicanism.

20087 Mack at Fairholm — 15029 Kercheval at Maryland

Mr. Batchelor, 84, of 180 Morran road, died Friday, July 19, in the Moroun Nursing Home. He had been a resident of Grosse Pointe Farms since 1926. The son of a U. S. Army officer, Mr. Batchelor was born in Raleigh, N. C., and brought up on the various western Army posts to which his father was assigned. He began his newspaper career in 1903 with the Providence (R. I.) Journal while attending Brown University. He came to Detroit in 1906 to join the Detroit Free Press. In 1909 he became that newspaper's sports editor and began building an enduring reputation as a sports authority. At a time when many sports stories were a mishmash of clichés and slang, Mr. Batchelor's blend of literacy and wit won him national recognition. Mr. Batchelor joined The Detroit News in 1917 and almost immediately went overseas as a war correspondent in World War I. In the 1920s Mr. Batchelor left the daily newspaper field to form his own advertising agency. But soon after began a long connection with The Detroit Athletic Club News as managing editor and conductor of a monthly sports column. For a number of years after 1940, Mr. Batchelor was with the Chrysler Corp. where he edited a magazine for the corporation's dealers. Upon the death of Charles A. Hughes, Mr. Batchelor was named editor of the DAC News, a post he held until his retirement in 1962. He continued to write his monthly sports column for the club's magazine and at his death he had held for many years the coveted No. 1 card in the Baseball Writers Association of America. Mr. Batchelor also did freelance magazine writing and his articles appeared in such publications as the Saturday Evening Post and Redbook. He was a member of the Country Club of Detroit and the Detroit Athletic Club. Survivors include his wife, the former Hester Wright; a son, Edward A., Jr., a member of The Detroit News staff, and four grandchildren. His first wife, the former Frida Sterling, died in 1949.

ROBERT ALLAN STRALE, JR. Funeral services for Robert Allan Strale, Jr., five-year-old twin son of Mrs. John J. Southcott, of 691 Canterbury road, and the late Mr. Strale, were held on Wednesday, July 24, in St. Michael's Episcopal Church. Robert died in Chicago as a result of a fall, on Saturday, July 20. In addition to his mother, he is survived by his brother, Richard; his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Frank Engelhaupt, of Chicago, and his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Homer P. Strale, of Norwood drive. Interment was in Roseland Park Cemetery.

CARL MEYER Funeral services for Mr. Meyer, 72, of 882 Hidden lane, will be held today, Thursday, July 25, at 10 o'clock in the A. H. Peters Funeral Home. He died on Monday, July 22, in his residence. Mr. Meyer was a member of Zion Lodge #1 F and A.M., the Eastside Shrine Club, the Detroit Curling Club, and the Engineering Society. He was a registered mechanical engineer and owner of the Myer Engineering Company, Inc., before his retirement. Mr. Meyer is survived by his wife, Rosa; two sons, Charles and John G.; two daughters, Mrs. Richard Van Cleave and Rose M.; a brother, Emil; a sister, Mrs. Adele Wullschlaeger, and eight grandchildren.

RUTH B. DOUGLAS Mrs. Douglas, 74, of 829 Barrington road, died Sunday, July 21, at Jennings Memorial Hospital, Detroit. She was born in Milwaukee, Wis., and lived in Grosse Pointe for 43 years. Mrs. Douglas is survived by her husband, Gilbert; a daughter, Mrs. Robert R. Gross of Grosse Pointe; two granddaughters; and two sisters, Helen S. Babcock of La Grange Park, Ill., and Mrs. Edward A. Belsterline of Dallas, Tex. Funeral services were private.

JOSEPH L. WILLIAMS Funeral services for Mr. Williams, 54, of 1853 Hollywood avenue, were held in the A. H. Peters Funeral Home and from St. Joan of Arc Church on Saturday, July 20. He died Thursday, July 18, in Henry Ford Hospital. Mr. Williams is survived by his wife, Mary M.; one son, Lawrence J.; a sister, Mrs. Marion Day; and two brothers, Edward and Robert. Interment was in Mount Olivet Cemetery.

HANNAH M. BOETTCHER Funeral services for Mrs. Boettcher, 82, of 340 Hillcrest avenue, were held Monday, July 22, in the Eppens Ban DeWeghe Funeral Home. She died Friday, July 19, in Deaconess Hospital. Mrs. Boettcher is survived by her husband, Edward; a son, George E. Selby; and two sisters, Mrs. Sarah Hansen and Mrs. Edna Simpson. Interment was in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery.

CONRAD R. FREIMANN Funeral services for Mr. Freimann, 58, of 23123 North Rose-dale court, will be held on Friday, July 26, in the Verheyden Funeral Home. He died on Monday, July 22, in Saratoga General Hospital. Mr. Freimann is survived by his wife, Evelyn; a sister, Mrs. George Brinker, and a brother, Oscar. Interment will be in Forest Lawn Cemetery.

CEOLA BREATHITT Funeral services for Mrs. Breathitt, 71, of 752 Anita avenue, were held on Tuesday, July 23, in the A. H. Peters Funeral Home. She died on Saturday, July 20, in her residence. Mrs. Breathitt is survived by her husband, Charles. Interment was in Forest Lawn Cemetery.

CLARA DeWULF Funeral services for Mrs. DeWulf, 88, of 176 Fisher road, were held Saturday, July 20, in the Verheyden Funeral Home and from Our Lady of Sorrows Church. She died Wednesday, July 17, in Detroit. Born in Courtrai, Belgium, and wife of the late Walter, Mrs. DeWulf is survived by a son, Lionel; one daughter, Mrs. Isobel Verriest; five grandchildren and 14 great-grandchildren. Interment was in Mount Olivet Cemetery.

J. DUNTON BARLOW Funeral services for Mr. Barlow, 64, of 1258 Beaconsfield avenue, were held Monday, July 22, in the Verheyden Funeral Home and from St. Ambrose Church. He died on Friday, July 19, in Bon Secours Hospital. Born in Norvell, Mich., Mr. Barlow is survived by his wife, Bernadene; two sons, J. Lee and Kent M.; and a daughter, Mrs. Albert Waring. Interment was in Albion, Mich.

Correction! An error was made in the obituary column in the last issue, July 18. Mrs. Christian Henry Hecker is alive and well. She was mistaken for Mrs. Helene W. Hecker.

HELENE W. HECKER Funeral services for Mrs. Hecker, 74, of 516 St. Clair avenue, were held Wednesday, July 17, in the Verheyden Funeral Home. She died Monday, July 15, in Bon Secours Hospital. Mrs. Hecker is survived by her daughter, Mrs. Grace Willis. Interment was in Woodlawn Cemetery.

INJURES ARM Mary Lee Smith of 2135 Fleetwood, suffered a two-inch gash on her left arm on Monday, July 22, when she pulled a Venetian blind in her home, and the entire unit dislodged from the window, falling on the arm. She was conveyed to St. John Hospital by Woods police ambulance, treated and released.

CRACK DOWN Disasters on the nation's highways can be averted only by strict enforcement of reasonable regulations.

In the Bid for Your Vote for COUNTY SUPERVISOR BOLD PRINTING and Timid Promises

Are all you get. But one candidate, LARRY BURNS, whose alarm and concern forced him into the political arena, has dared to exhibit county-wide leadership. His action for limiting Supervisor salaries may save the taxpayer millions in construction and staff costs. His wide experience in making wise decisions involving large sums of money particularly qualify him for the office. LARRY BURNS, in bringing sound business methods to county spending, will not, as one candidate would, promise economies by cutting services to the indigent. His leadership is on record and is acknowledged by dozens of candidates throughout the country.

GOLF CLUBS STOLEN

Jack Wahl of 11757 Minden, Detroit, called Farms police and disclosed that while his car was parked in the Sears lot, Mack and Moross, an unknown person broke into the trunk of the vehicle, and stole his set of golf clubs and several golf balls. He did not state the value of his loss.

The only difference between stumbling blocks and stepping stones is the way you use them.

Babe Ruth League

PARK-CITY-FARMS American-National Leagues

The American League Indians and the National League Braves met during the past week in a best out of three World Championship series. For the first time in several years the series went the three game limit.

On Tuesday the Indians, behind the steady 3-hit pitching of Bob Kulk, won the first game from the Braves 5-1. Mike Getz was on the mound for the Braves. The Indians scored one run in the first and the Braves promptly tied it up in the second. The Indians went ahead with a 3-run rally in the fourth and added one in the seventh.

Leading hitter for the Indians was 13-year-old Bruce Casel who got three for four. George Hubbard got two singles and Ed Moran got a double and a single. For the Braves, Mann, Torlone and Bell each got singles.

On Wednesday the Braves tied the series by winning 3-1. Brian Kingsley pitched for the Braves allowing four scattered hits and striking out eight. Ed Moran pitched for the Indians for 6 2/3 innings, allowing four hits and striking out six. Jim Stevenson relieved him in the seventh and struck out the only man to face him.

The Braves were ahead all the way, scoring one run each in the first, the fourth and the seventh innings. The Indians got their run in the fifth. Mike Getz was the big man at the bat for the Braves getting a double and a single. Kingsley and Hummel also got singles. Casel, Hubbard, Voight and Schramm got singles for the Indians.

Thursday, in threatening windy weather, the final game was taken by the Indians 5-0. Jim Parker turned in a fine pitching performance allowing only two hits and striking out 12. For the Braves, 13-year-old Don Briggs with the poise of a veteran held the Indians scoreless until the fourth inning. Then the usually air tight Braves' defense sagged somewhat and two runs were scored by the Indians. They added three more in the fifth.

Briggs allowed only three hits until he was relieved in the middle of the fifth by Mike Getz. Hubbard, Ed Moran and Schramm each got a single for the Indians and Mike Getz for the Braves got both hits Parker allowed.

Both teams are to be congratulated for a closely contested, spirited series. All Grosse Pointe residents are indebted to the managers, coaches, sponsors and directors for making the past season possible. See you next year!

Hutton Receives Service Award

The Michigan Savings and Loan League's Annual Community Service Award, for outstanding community service plus contributions to the savings and loan business, was presented to Robert J. Hutton, of 1033 Devonshire road, president of Standard Federal Savings and Loan Association, Detroit.

Mr. Hutton's outstanding community leadership record coupled with his fine professional achievements merited his selection by the review committee.

His long list of community activities include: a member of the Tax Review Board for the city of Grosse Pointe Park; a member of the Grosse Pointe Park City Planning Commission; a member of the Grosse Pointe Park City Council where he has been the mayor pro-tem since 1967; a member of the Transportation Committee and District Improvement Committee of the Central Business District Association of the City of Detroit; a member of the Citizens Research Council; a member of the Governor's Committee for Economic Development; a member of the Citizens Committee for Equal Opportunity; a member of the Founders Society for the Detroit Institute of Art; and a Trustee of the Greater Michigan Foundation.

In addition, Mr. Hutton has served as chairman of the Executive Committee of the Advisory Council of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, as a director of the Federal Home Loan Bank of Indianapolis, as president of the Detroit Mortgage Bankers Association, and as president of the Michigan Savings and Loan League.

Hutton received the Community Service Award at the 81st Annual Convention of the Michigan Savings and Loan League meeting on Mackinac Island.

Youths Victims Of Wallet Thief

Two Woods youths were the victims of a thief who broke into a car and rifled the glove compartment, stealing the wallets of the teenagers. Total loss amounted to $69, Woods police were told.

The victims, Timothy J. Jensen, 17, of 628 Peach Tree lane, and Timothy Hoag, 15, of 226 Kenwood court, told the authorities that they had gone to the home of a friend, William Bryant, 331 Mt. Vernon, on Monday, July 15, to go swimming.

The boys said that before leaving the car, they placed their wallets in the glove compartment, and then locked the compartment. Following the swim, Jensen and Hoag went to Jensen's residence, where Hoag spent the night.

Hoag said that about 6 p.m. he went to the car to get his wallet, and discovered that the right front door of the vehicle was open and the glove compartment partially ajar, and both wallets were missing.

Police officers dispatched to the scene, said that evidence showed that the thief used a quarter-inch screwdriver to pry open the right front window of the automobile, and used the same instrument to pry open the glove compartment.

Hoag said that his wallet contained $28. Jensen said his held $41, besides his license and personal papers.

Former Goodwill Industries of Greater Detroit president Robert F. Weber is a newly elected member to the board of directors of the national board of Goodwill Industries of America. Mr. Weber assumed his three-year directorship at the annual Delegate Assembly in Denver in June.

Mr. Weber has been a continuous director of the Detroit Goodwill since 1947, and held the office of president of the board from 1951 until 1962.

His record of service to his community includes local and national offices in Kiwanis; trustee of the Episcopal Diocese of Michigan and the Bishop Page Foundation; trustee, Olivet College; past chairman and present member of City Detroit Building Code Committee; director of the City of Detroit Neighborhood Conservation and Housing Committee; and director of Detroit United Community Services Board.

He is a past trustee of the Village of Grosse Pointe Shores, and served on the Grosse Pointe Board of Education from 1954 until 1965, and was president of the School Board from 1956 until 1963. He is a past director of the Detroit Area Council Boy Scouts of America, and a past Commodore of the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club.

A native Detroit, Mr. Weber makes his home with his wife Gail in Grosse Pointe Shores. The couple have three grown children.

Mr. Weber is co-owner of the J. F. Weber & Co., on E. Jefferson, an investment real estate firm.

Youngster Hurt When Hit by Car

Thomas Frohman, 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Frohman of 1380 Brys drive, suffered injuries when he was struck by an automobile in front of the family home on Friday, July 19.

Witnesses, which included the boy's mother, Evelyn, told Woods Patrolman Ronald Hayden, that young Thomas darted out into the street from the driveway alongside his house. The accident was the boy's fault, it was stated.

The lad ran into the path of a car driven by Mrs. Ottilia M. Schubert of 1521 Brys drive, who was unable to stop in time to avoid hitting Thomas, who was thrown to the pavement. The woman was exonerated of blame.

Hayden said when he arrived at the scene, he found the boy lying on the ground in front of 1373 Brys drive. When he was hit, Thomas picked himself up and began to run, and witnesses advised him to lie on the ground until an ambulance arrived.

The boy complained of pains in his back and at the back of his head. He also suffered abrasions on the top of his feet, hands and elbows, but was not bleeding. He was taken to Bon Secours Hospital, accompanied by his mother, by police ambulance, and treated for the injuries and released.

Even the man who feels he has nothing to live for finds he can't live for nothing today.

Peter Morri, 27, Killed in Crash

Well-known Pointe hair stylist and beauty salon owner, Peter Morri, 27, was killed Saturday, July 20, when he lost control of his car while driving north on M 53 near Van Dyke and Helen. The accident occurred at 12:59 a.m. Morri was alone in the car.

Two Centerline corporals, Bernard Thomas and Donald DeMink, who were on routine patrol at the time, witnessed the accident. The officers said that Morri suddenly lost control of his car. The car jumped the curb, hit and sheared off an electrical pole and then crashed into a building.

He was rushed immediately to South Macomb Hospital where he died three hours later.

Mr. Morri is survived by his wife, Lillian; a daughter, Michele; a son, Kirk; his mother, Mrs. Mary Morri; and a sister, Mrs. Albina Pasquali.

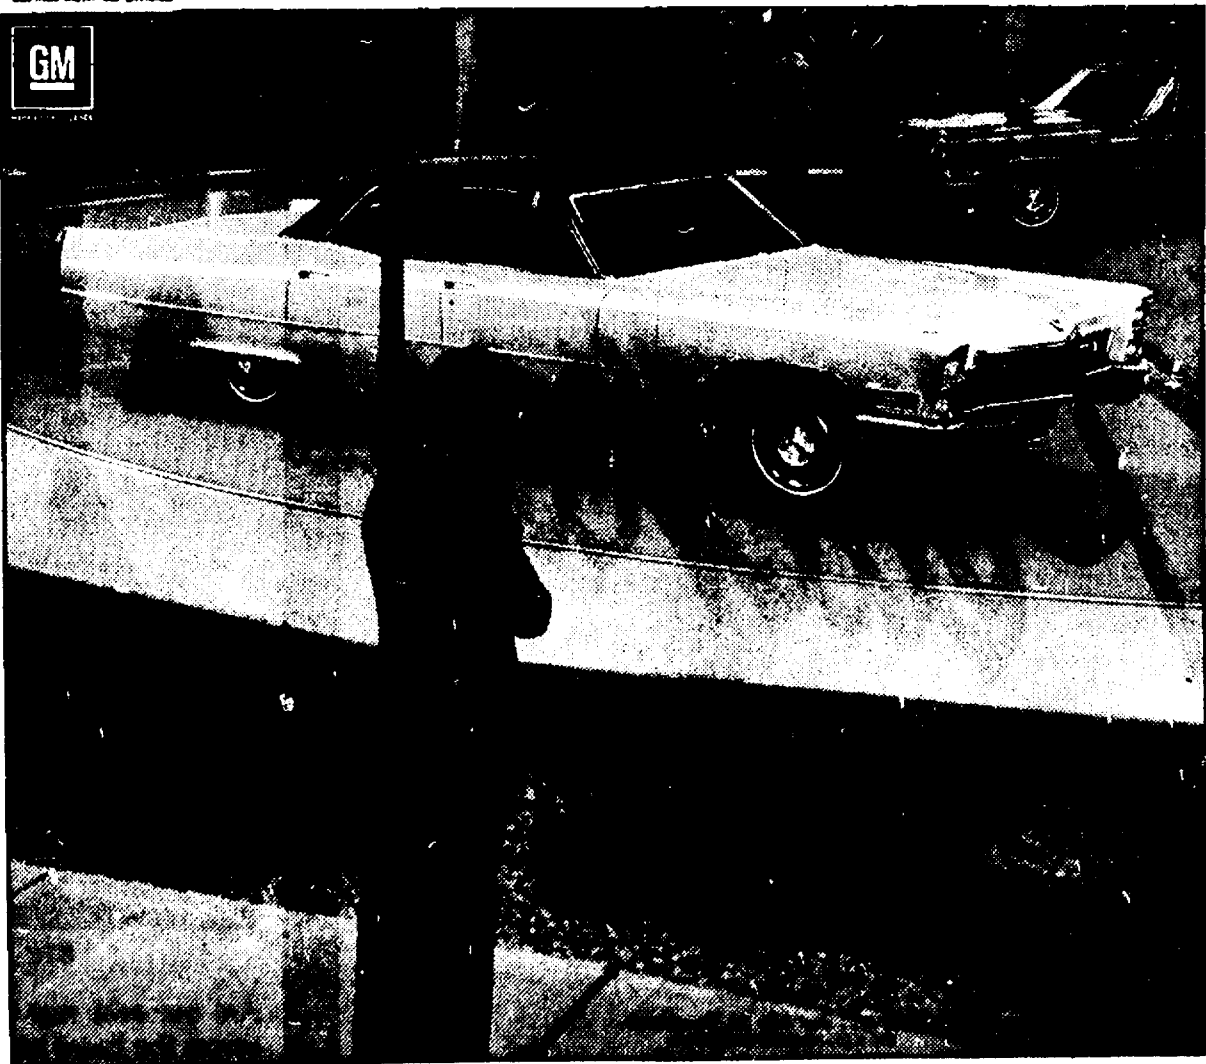

Funeral services were held on Tuesday, July 23, in the Baginco Funeral Home. Interment was in Mount Olivet Cemetery.

Tappan Adds Partners to Realty Staff

Bruce N. Tappan

William E. Booth

John A. Moss

Bruce N. Tappan, Realtor, who has been an active member and past president of the Grosse Pointe Real Estate Board and in 1964 President of the Detroit Real Estate Board, is pleased to announce the following additions to his staff: Mr. William E. Booth, a man of many years of experience in the practice of Real Estate, and John A. Moss, a partner in the Booth firm, have been admitted to a partnership in a firm to be known as BRUCE N. TAPPAN, REALTOR AND ASSOCIATES.

Mr. William E. Booth has been in the Real Estate profession for over 22 years in the metropolitan area of Detroit. After graduation from the Naval Air Academy at Pensacola, Florida in 1943, he served with the 1st Marine Air Wing in the South Pacific as first pilot in Mitchell Bombers. After service he continued his education at the University of Detroit Law School. Joining William S. Morgan, Realtor in 1946 he opened his own Real Estate and Construction business in 1948. A past president of Western Wayne, Western Oakland Board of Realtors in 1961, he also served as President of United Northwestern Association, one of the largest and oldest multi-list services in the United States.

Mr. Booth was one of the proponents and is a Director of the National Bank of Southfield. This banking institution is composed of four offices in the City of Southfield following 6 years of steady growth.

Mr. Booth, besides being a member of his local board, is a member of the Detroit Real Estate Board, North Woodward Board of Realtors and is Vice President, first named, of the Michigan Real Estate Association.

His hobby for many years has been boating, and is a member of the Detroit Yacht Club, as well as a past Commander of the Birmingham Power Squadron. Mr. Booth's residence is in the Lathrop-Birmingham area. He resides with his wife Dorothy and three children.

His firm, known as William E. Booth & Co., Realtors, has two west side locations. The Plymouth office serves the northwest and southwest metro areas, and the Southfield location serves the Birmingham-Bloomfield-Farmington area. Mr. Moss is a native Detroit resident with his wife Roberta and three children at Lathrop Village in the northwest suburbs. A graduate of the University of Detroit he spent several years as an executive of Ford Motor and Chrysler in the automotive field. Currently engaged in Real Estate in partnership with William E. Booth, they specialize in all phases of the business — new and used residential, industrial/commercial and also investment counseling with offices in Redford and Southfield, Michigan. Mr. Moss is a member of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, Western Wayne and Western Oakland Board of Realtors, Detroit Real Estate Board, North Woodward Board, International Traders Club and the Sales and Marketing Executives of Detroit.

An ardent boatman, Mr. Moss is a member of the Detroit Yacht Club, the Clinton River Boat Club and an active participant of the Birmingham Squadron of the United States Power Squadrons. Adv.

State Penalizes 2 Pointe Drivers

Two Pointe motorists have been deprived of their rights to drive when their operators' licenses were taken from them by the Secretary of State's Office in Lansing, according to the latest report from that agency, dated July 12.

Included in the list of penalized drivers were: David C. McKee of 267 Ridgmont road; and James P. VanAssche of 1700 Prestwick road.

The report revealed that McKee's license was revoked on June 25 because of an unsatisfactory driving record; and VanAssche's license was taken from him as of May 23 under provisions of the Financial Responsibility Law. The latter had been accused of driving while under the influence of liquor.

During the week of July 7 through 13, according to Secretary of State James M. Hare, the drivers license of 609 Michigan motorists were suspended, and those of 196 were revoked.

Chlorine bleach gets clothes white. Sure it does.

LIGHTNING WHITE LAUNDRY CHART

GENERAL: Chlorine bleach should never be used as an all-purpose laundry aid.

Lightning White should always be substituted for chlorine bleach when a general clothes whitener is needed because bleach damages many fabrics.

Chlorine bleach should never be used on wool, silk, pandex, unfast colors, natural sponge and many wash-wear items. Bleach should never be used on any fabric for any reason without first consulting the manufacturer's label.

Chlorine bleach should never be used in combination with common household ammonia. The resultant is a highly hazardous gas.

It is the opinion of many laundry experts that the amount of chlorine bleach recommended by the manufacturers of bleach is at least twice what is considered safe for cotton, linen, and other natural fabrics. It is suggested that when following label directions this fact be remembered.

It should be understood that chlorine bleach, no matter what its drawbacks are, is an excellent disinfectant. It should never be used as a disinfectant for clothes, however, without considering the damage it might do. One safe substitute: hydrogen peroxide.

It is wise to choose a substitute for chlorine bleach when trying to remove stains from clothes. However, there are a few cases where there is none less harmful than bleach.

When trying to remove stains from clothes, it is most important to remember that carbon tetrachloride is never to be used. Its fumes are harmful and sometimes fatal. This point is emphasized because a current stain-removal chart given wide circulation suggests the use of carbon tetrachloride. This suggestion is unthinkable.

STAIN-REMOVAL RECOMMENDATIONS:

Blood & meat juice. Soak in cold water. If stain remains, soak in 1 gal. lukewarm water, ¼ cup Lightning White & 3 tbs. household ammonia. Launder in lukewarm water & Lightning White & detergent. If necessary, use a diluted, safe household bleach.

Adhesive tape. Sponge with safe cleaning fluid or banana oil. Launder in Lightning White & detergent.

Alcoholic beverages. Sponge quickly with cold water, then with glycerine & water. Rinse in vinegar & water solution, then clear water. Launder in Lightning White & detergent.

Chewing gum. Rub with ice. Scrape off as much gum as possible. If stain persists, sponge with safe cleaning fluid. Launder in Lightning White & detergent.

Chocolate/cocoa. Apply paste of hot water & detergent. Rinse with hot water. Launder in Lightning White & detergent. If stain persists, sponge with hydrogen peroxide.

Coffee/tea. Soak in cool water. Launder in Lightning White & detergent, with water as hot as fabric permits. If stain persists, bleach with hydrogen peroxide or other non-chlorine bleach.

Ice cream/cream/milk. Soak in cool water. Launder in Lightning White, detergent & hot (or warm) water.

Deodorant/perspiration. Apply solution of Lightning White & detergent. Launder in regular fashion.

Dye & running. For cottons & linen, treat with commercial color remover—for example, Tintex. For colorfast fabrics, soak in solution of hydrogen peroxide (1 tbs. to 1 gal. water) & 2 tbs. detergent. Fresh stains often respond to an immediate rinse in cold water.

Fruit. Launder in regular fashion with Lightning White & detergent. Now treat remaining stain as follows: cover area with sodium perborate bleach & add drops of hot water to make a paste. Next add a few drops of household ammonia. Wait 15-30 minutes, then launder again as above.

Grass. Launder in hot water, Lightning White & detergent. If stain persists, use chlorine bleach according to directions. Now rewash. For colorfast fabrics, use hydrogen peroxide to bleach, then launder in warm water, Lightning White & detergent.

Lipstick/rouge. Sponge with safe cleaning fluid. Launder in Lightning White & detergent.

Ink/ballpoint ink. No results are certain. Sponge with safe cleaning fluid, then brush on paste of detergent and household ammonia. On washable white fabrics, bleach if necessary with chlorine bleach according to directions on label. On washable colored fabrics, do as suggested above, only substituting perborate bleach for chlorine bleach. Launder in Lightning White & detergent.

Paint. Scrape off fresh paint. Sponge with safe cleaning fluid. Launder in Lightning White & detergent.

Rust. Apply salt and lemon juice. Place in sun (if possible) to dry. Now rinse. Finally launder in hot (or warm) water, Lightning White and detergent.

Soft drinks. Sponge with equal parts alcohol & glycerine or lukewarm water & alcohol. Launder in lukewarm water, Lightning White & detergent.

White socks. Soak in ¼ cup Lightning White & ¼ cup liquid detergent. Launder in regular fashion.

Yellow discoloration in synthetics. Soak for 1 hour in solution of ¼ cup Lightning White to 1 gal. water. Launder in solution of Lightning White only. Re-launder if necessary, adding cup of non-chlorine bleach. Always wash white garments in separate load. Note: yellowing may be the result of using chlorine bleach. Check the label on the garment for possible warning on this point.

Work clothes. Shake garments to remove loose soil. Turn down cuffs & turn out pockets. Soak in solution of ¼ cup Lightning White & ¼ cup liquid detergent. Launder in regular manner.

But so does new Lightning White; the amazing laundry whitener and stain fighter—only safely.

Lightning White's not a bleach. It's better than bleach. It brightens colors as safely as it whitens whites. It does it by helping your detergent lift out dirt that causes staining, graying, and yellowing. With bleach, the dirt stays—only the color changes.

It's the best for permanent press.

Lightning White penetrates hard-to-clean permanent press fabrics, lets your detergent get rid of dirt and stains.

It gets permanent press cleaner than detergent alone, cleaner than detergent and harsh bleach.

For all fabrics—whites and colors. Lightning White is even safe for use on washable synthetics that warn against the use of bleach.

No matter what the fabric, it beats anything else for clean—or double your money back.

Don't settle for ordinary white—get Lightning White.

Citizens For Education Name Harness Chairman

Hugh Harness, 490 Lincoln road, has been named to succeed Kenneth Bergman as chairman of the Grosse Pointe Citizens for Education. Mr. Bergman asked to be relieved of the post due to business pressures. The executive committee reluctantly granted his request and elected him vice-chairman.

Mr. Harness told the NEWS that the organization is currently studying the two ballot propositions to be placed before the electorate on September 12. Proposition #1 seeks approval of a 4 1/2 mill levy for each year of a two-year period for the operation of the public schools and libraries, and Proposition #2 would levy one mill for building improvement and site acquisition over a 10-year period to modernize portions of Grosse Pointe South High School and to begin the improvement of middle school facilities.

Mr. Harness said that the organization is analyzing all aspects of the proposals and endeavoring to compile information so that the citizenry will be better informed when voting. He added, "If we take a position we want to have all the information before we indulge in a publicity campaign."

He said sub-committees have studied various aspects of the proposals and have spoken with school administrators and school board members.

Chairmen of the millage committee, Arthur G. Sherman, Jr., James Mast, and Dr. Frank Parcells will submit written reports of the sub-committees to the executive committee today, July 25, after which the executive committee will vote as to whether it will recommend to the membership endorsement of the proposals and active participation in a millage campaign.

Lochmoor Golf Tourney Starts

The 25th annual Lochmoor Invitational Golf Tournament will host a record turnout of 124 teams. The field, divided into eight flights, will start the first of four rounds of match play on Thursday, July 25, with "gun shot" starts at 8 a.m. and 1:30 p.m.

The same schedule will be followed on Friday and Saturday for the second and third rounds. First round losers will participate in consolation matches and there will be a Medal Play Tournament on Saturday afternoon for all those who do not make the final round of match play.

The final round will take place on Sunday beginning at 9:30 a.m. and the Championship Flight match will tee off at 12:40 p.m.

Chairman George Bashara and co-chairman Tom Russell report that Don Dykstra and his partner, Glen Johnson, will be on hand to defend their title in the Championship Flight against a very strong field of 11 other teams. Fred Wolf of Lochmoor will be playing Ed Tutwiler of Indiana who holds many amateur titles and was twice a member of the Walker Cup team. Ken Adler is playing again with John David, the four-time Indiana Amateur Champion.

Included in this outstanding field will be Roger Bonahoom, 1967 Lochmoor Club Champion and his partner, Jerry Friesema; ohn Grace of Country Club will be playing with Dr. Walter Promack and other guests in the Championship Flight include Pete Green, the 1968 Horton Smith Memorial Tournament winner, Rich Weyand of Birmingham and Jim Funston of Plum Hollow.

The clubhouse has now been completely demolished to make way for a new structure which is expected to be completed late in the summer of 1969. However, this has not dimmed anyone's enthusiasm and the social events including a Stag Dinner on Thursday night and the Invitational Dinner Dance on Saturday night will take place at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club.

Five Meets Held By Swim League

Five Inter-City Swim League meets were held the past week. On Tuesday, July 22, the City team was narrowly defeated at the Woods, the Farms squeaked by the Shores 220-217 and the Park downed St. Clair Shores.

On Saturday July 26, the City swimmers glided to a 259-189 victory over the St. Clair Shores natators, and the Woods defeated G.P. Shores, 227-210.

In the very exciting City-Woods meet the City jumped to an early lead in the freestyle and backstroke events, but lost 31 points in the breaststroke events and could not overcome the deficit and lost by five points, 221-216.

Both teams slammed six events, while the City took four relays to the Woods' two. Chris Babcock, Brian Fink, Karen Van Buskirk, and Cathy Scrivo were double winners for the Woods. Peter Frear and Jan Korman took two firsts each for Dave Bowerman's and Jim Wood's City team.

At the close Farms-Shores meet, Les Roddis' Farms swimmers gained a three point victory over Tom Mertz's Shores team. The Shores slammed six events the Farms four. The Shores' Beck and Riddle families combined for eight firsts between them, and Craig Barker added two firsts for the Shores team. Bob Roh, Cheryl

Use Firecracker To Commit Theft

Breaking and entering a residence by exploding a firecracker may not be new to some of the thief set, but police say such a method is rare and unique.

It happened early last Thursday morning at an estimated time of 2 o'clock. It was then that one or more burglars taped a firecracker to a front window in the home of James A. Michael, 1404 Berkshire road, Grosse Pointe Park.

After touching a match to the explosive the window blew out, the thieves crawled in, and stole a "barrel type" bank containing $500, according to Park police. The Michaels were out of town. The police are investigating.

Ens. Franklin Walker Serves on Destroyer

Naval Reserve Ensign Franklin M. Walker, Jr., 25, son of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin M. Walker of 41 Lincoln road, is serving aboard the destroyer USS Theodore E. Chandler.

As a crewmember aboard the destroyer, he is helping in "Operation Sea Dragon", to stop the flow of enemy and war materials from entering South Vietnam by water.

A surveillance of the North Vietnam coastal waters resulted in detection and destruction of numerous enemy craft.

Lt. Angus McGarvah Wins Army Medal

First Lieutenant Angus A. McGarvah, 25, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Angus C. McGarvah, and wife, Gayle, live at 80 N. Duval, Grosse Pointe Shores, received the Army Commendation Medal July 28 while serving with the U.S. Army Quartermaster School at Ft. Lee, Va.

Lt. McGarvah earned the award for meritorious service as a bookstore officer at the school.

He is a 1961 graduate of Grosse Pointe High School. The lieutenant received his commission through the Reserve Officers' Training Corps program at Michigan State University, East Lansing, where he received his B.A. degree in 1966.

Speeder Nabbed Following Chase

Arthur Lloyd Bartley, 50, 535 Lake Shore, was charged with reckless driving on Monday, July 22, following an 80 to 85 m.p.h. chase.

He was first observed by City police officers Dale Teolis and Edmond Benthuis heading south on Stratford then making a circle turn and squealing the tires. Officers followed Bartley's '67 Cadillac, with their blue lights flashing. Bartley continued on his way ignoring the officers.

Another City scout car arrived at the scene and joined in the pursuit. Bartley passed the second scout car, running a stop sign on Stratford. He then proceeded west on Jefferson at a high rate of speed.

Both cars chased Bartley's car west on Jefferson from Stratford to Berkshire, where he was finally stopped.

He was arrested at the scene and advised of his constitutional rights, then taken to the City Police Station, where he was released pending his court appearance on charges of reckless driving on August 13.

Little League Results

PARK

American League All Stars won the first round of District Tournament Play, downing L'Anse Creuse 6-2 at Defer on July 19.

The Parkers opened the first inning with four runs, which was all that Steve Pemberton needed for the win. Finan and Quinn were safe on errors. After one out Dave Haddad singled in the first run. Pemberton then leaned into a fat one and blasted it over the fence in dead center, driving in three runs.

L'Anse Creuse stayed in the battle when the visitor's left fielder Fox ripped a long one into the same pattern as Pemberton's blast for their first run in the third.

The local lads struck for two more runs in the fifth on singles by Quinn, Haddad and Pemberton. L'Anse Creuse closed out the scoring in their half of the fifth when Saile was hit by a pitch and scored on a fielder's choice by Socia.

Pemberton allowed only two hits and struck out 10. In addition he was credited with two hits and four runs batted in. The Grosse Pointers were glad to have him on their side.

Line Score
Grosse Pointe Park 6-7-1, 5 left
L'Anse Creuse 2-2-4, 5 left

National League All Stars were eliminated in a close 2-1 battle by Shelby-Union on July 20.

The game was played at the Oakland County Field and our boys failed to take advantage of Shelby-Union pitcher Petkus' poor control. He walked seven but his infield was tough when the chips were down. Copty was on second on an error when Thomas blasted a double to left to drive Copty home. Grosse Pointe Park managed to leave 11 men on base, so the opportunities were there.

Correction!

I committed an error in last week's Woods-Shores Little League write-up, and I would appreciate it if you would please correct it in this week's paper:

ROCHESTER clinched the International League Pennant and took the Minor League World Series over Omaha 8-3 to end the Minor League season.

Thank you,
Jan Walker

BROKEN METER

While on routine patrol on Sunday, July 21, officers Richard Lanski and Cpl. George Brackx observed a broken parking meter on Fisher road. It appeared as though a motorist had run up over the curb and hit the meter. The meter and parts were taken to the City police station.

Don't pin your faith to first guesses until you have given your decision a second thought.

Park Fisherman Hooks Revolver

While fishing off the long pier at Grosse Pointe Park's Waterfront Park, last Sunday, Gabriel Monsour, of 6068 Barrett avenue, Detroit, became a bit excited when he had what seemed to be a big fish on his line.

On pulling his line up, much to his surprise, he found he had hooked a somewhat rusted 32-calibre automatic revolver of foreign make. There is no record of its registration in Michigan, police said.

The gun was brought to the Park police station by Monsour's host at the pier, Raymond Michael, of 1344 Beaconsfield. It was found that the trigger mechanism still operated.

Many Boys Are Like Joe

All of us see boys almost every day who look like Joe. Joe is a good-looking, well-mannered young fellow, who comes from what is called "a good home," in a suburban community. His father is fairly wealthy. His mother is a social climber. He has a bossy teen-age sister who is greatly favored by their parents.

Ever since Joe passed his eleventh birthday he longed for the day when he finally would become a teenager, and be able to drive a car. Then, when he reached that magic age, it was almost too much for him. He just couldn't seem to cope with the situation. He got into one jam after another, much to his parents' consternation. Joe was defiant, frustrated.

Then it happened. It was near midnight when a police prowler car stopped Joe . . . now just past 17 . . . while he was driving his sleek sports car in 'an erratic manner.' The officers found four new transistor radios on the seat beside Joe . . . and smelled liquor on his breath.

During questioning at headquarters Joe boasted that he was the head of a small gang of youngsters who had stolen a variety of things from homes, and had shoplifted merchandise from stores during past months.

"Tell me Joe," asked the sympathetic police chief, "how is it that you do what you do? You come from a fine family, you can have just about anything money can buy. You even have the freedom to drive around town late at night, and you keep getting into messes of one kind or another."

"Now, with your drinking and your stealing, and your admission that you lead a gang of kid burglars, you're in real trouble. We just can't figure you out. Tell me, Joe, what is your trouble . . . what do you want out of life, anyway?"

At that Joe wilted. He became misty-eyed, looked down at the floor, then up at the police chief, and sobbed: "I want a father."

Letters to the Editor

July 19, 1968

To The Editor:

It was with great consternation that I read an article in this week's Grosse Pointe News, entitled, "Stupid Prank Injures Two: Damages Car." The article went on to say that Mr. Lewis J. Castern and Miss Maureen Polkinghorne were injured when Mr. Castern drove his car into a hole in the street at the intersection of South Oxford and Wedgewood at about 10:36 p.m., Tuesday, July 9. The barricades surrounding the hole had previously been removed.

One of the main reasons for my concern is that at approximately 9:00 p.m. that same date, (about an hour and one-half before the accident occurred), I called the office of the Grosse Pointe Woods Police and informed them that I had seen two people remove the barricades from around the excavation and place them on someone's lawn. The officer in charge was interested in receiving from me such irrelevant information as my date of birth, and seemed to express no interest whatsoever in the description of the culprits or the car in which they drove away.

At the time I called I expressed concern to the officer over the possibility of someone not seeing the hole and driving into it, which is exactly what happened. I was informed that the barricades would be replaced right away. I would appreciate your informing me of the reason for the inordinate delay and I expect that Mr. Castern and Miss Polkinghorne would be even more interested, since they were the injured parties. Perhaps there is some logical explanation why it was not possible to send a scout car to that intersection and have the barricades replaced. The intersection in question is but a few blocks from the police station and it should have taken no more than 5 minutes to drive to the area and replace the barricades.

In the few contacts that I have had with the Grosse Pointe Woods police, I have found them to be very courteous and efficient. I am sorry to see that the good record of that organization now has a blot on it.

Very truly yours,

Charles E. Getler

July 18, 1968

To The Editor:
I don't know what scrappy fighting means, but I do know the people on Allard Avenue are concerned residents. If you want to use the term that the "City of Grosse Pointe Woods owes us something," you are correct. We feel that our tax money should buy us some peace and consideration in this city, which is all we are asking. This is a middle class residential section, granted, but our tax rate is the same in proportion as to re-sale value as the homes in the upper-class residential sections.

There is no place in the whole metropolitan Detroit area where there is a situation similar to ours: which is, two exit ramps, a bridge and two service drives emptying onto a residential street.

Allard Avenue has handled up to 2880 cars in one 24-hour period. A 24-hour day is a long day when it is to be considered that most of that traffic has traveled this street in a 12-hour span, from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. These are not just automobiles, but assorted trucks, vans and even car-haul-aways or whatever you call those monsters that haul new cars.

For your information the people on Allard Avenue had good faith in Mr. Andrews, but our patience has worn thin after four months of waiting for some relief. Not only that, his attitude has been anything but promising from the very first meeting held here in our home on April 25, 1968. The only rebelliousness we feel is that of his flimsy solution, which does not begin to touch the real problem which is as stated in the second paragraph here.

I would like you or any member of your staff to sit on our front porch any day you choose to watch automobiles, trucks and vans pass by just to see how you would like to live here day after day. Yes, "The Machine That Made Detroit!" Not only are they hazardous to our children, but adults alike, trying to enter and leave our driveways or even cross the street. And the SOUND they make is not the SOUND OF MUSIC.

You print news as you see it. Why should we not uphold our problems as we live them???

Mrs. Roy Atkinson
2344 Allard Avenue
Grosse Pointe Woods

To the Editor:
We have not gone overboard in promoting our own vested interest, as per your editorial of July 18th, but rather we are trying to protect our rights to live on a peaceful residential street.

Our pugnacious attitude was brought on by our Council's inability to act on an issue that has plagued us for years.

Isn't it the duty and obligation of residents to keep their community above reproach by asking and expecting straight answers?

For years we have been asking why the bridge was permitted to be removed from where the experts had planned it; namely, between Allard and Manchester?

Why was the expressway overpass permitted to empty directly into a residential street?

Why were we notified on a Saturday in November that the barricade was to be removed, and before we had an opportunity to question its removal, at 7:00 A.M. the following Monday, the barricade was removed? Why such speedy service?

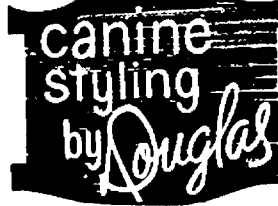

Why is one residential street permitted to carry 285 cars in one hour and its neighboring street only 57 cars in that same hour?

Isn't our interest and participation the Guide Posts to Good Municipal Government?

What Goes On at Your Library

By Virginia Leonard

It's vacation time for a lot of people—including me. True, I'm only going away for a week right now, but this time it means a week in New England, near the ocean, around old haunts. I can see the sun and sand at Crane's Beach, taste the lobster, eaten al fresco, smell the water, and perhaps see some new places. I'm excited because I love this part of the country.

But it has always been my experience that no matter where I go on a vacation, whether East or West, South or abroad, I never really leave books behind. I suppose it's because I've spent so many years of my life reading books, that they have become an integral part of my life. I usually have a slightly rumpled paperback tucked away somewhere. (What did we ever do before the era of paperbacks?) I either have books with me, or I find myself in a locale that reminds me of something I've read. Haven't you ever met characters from novels you have liked? How many Uriah Heeps have you known? I expect to be in or near Ipswich soon, and I suspect I'll be looking around for characters from COUPLES.

Nor do we always need the intermediary of a movie star or actor interpreting a role in fiction to make the connection more obvious. One of Flannery O'Connor's short stories takes place in a doctor's office, not much here was new to me. I've already seen these same people in my own doctor's office.

As I frequently prefer listening to baseball games rather than attending them, so very often I would prefer reading a play than going to see it. I can visualize the actors in my own special way. Frequently I am let down when I see the play (or a motion picture version of some novel), because the directors have not interpreted as I would have done. I'm sure they do a better job than the characters I have already placed on the scene, but the latter are mine and thus become unique.

So, I'm hooked on books, no matter where I go. Since my trip abroad I now can read material about these countries, and they become more meaningful. Or, if the reading is done first, then the trip takes on added dimensions. I tend to read in every room (literally) of the house. On a trip, I read in a car, while waiting for others, in airports, bus stations, gas stations, motels, hotels, on beaches—you name it—I've been there with a book. When my younger son flew in from California a few days ago, what was he carrying? A magazine, some papers, and a book! I've seen my older son, in England, propped up with a proper black umbrella, reading on a street corner while waiting for his mother and father to join him. My husband often reads a newspaper or magazine while waiting for a concert or play to start. Are the Leonards unusual in this respect? I doubt it.

Now don't get the wrong idea—The Leonards also sightsee, tour, and travel with all eyes open on the scenery, the people, the buildings, the country they are visiting, etc. But they tend to have printed matter in front of them when they're waiting for something or somebody.

So, I suspect I'll be reminded of my profession wherever I go. I'll see other libraries flash by as we drive through New England towns. If we go to Boston, there will be bookshops. If we visit friends, they will have newspapers, magazines and books lying around. There's one little local library south of Boston that I probably will visit! If I lie on a beach, I'll probably have a book tucked in the beach towel. But don't worry—I won't miss a thing!

Public Schools in Focus

By Dr. Theos I. Anderson, Superintendent of Schools

With the beginning of classes in September, The Grosse Pointe Public School System undergoes a major shift in its organizational pattern. With the opening of North High School, both high schools will house grades 9-12, the three junior high buildings will contain grades 6-8, and most elementary units will house grades K-5.

At the intermediate level we are attempting to do more than change grade levels in a building. We are introducing into grades 6, 7, and 8 a concept new in education in Grosse Pointe—the middle school.

The prospect of such a change has generated many questions throughout Grosse Pointe. One of the most widely asked is: What are the differences between a middle school and a junior high school?

A brief answer is difficult to state, because there are many points of difference. I suppose the "ideal" middle school incorporates the best features of elementary and secondary education. In the middle school plan of organization the program is not as departmentalized as it is in high school. It will no longer be a "junior" high. We have attempted to design a program which recognizes the uniqueness of the growth stage spanning the transition from childhood to adolescence.

The middle school approach emphasizes a child-centered program rather than one built strictly around subject matter. It stresses creative exploration as well as the mastery of concepts and skills. The development of student self-direction under expert guidance rather than the strict adherence to the teacher-made lesson plan is another middle school goal.

We hope to develop schedules that are more flexible than the six-period day. We are advocating variable group sizes to meet differing needs rather than standard class size, and team teaching rather than a single teacher for each class.

Students' time will also be spent in "learning how to learn." Students will have an increased voice in planning their schedules and the staff hopes to foster a "self-pacing approach" for learning at different rates, rather than a textbook approach requiring all students to be on the same page at the same time.

It has been said that a "middle school program is designed to foster the intellectual, social and emotional growth of children without snatching their childhood from them."

Because I have barely scratched the surface, next week I shall discuss other aspects of the middle school program.

THIEF GOES FISHING

Wayne Heck's contemplated fishing trip was ruined when he went out to his station wagon early Tuesday morning and found that a thief had made off with such equipment as a full tackle box, rods, reels, knife, and a camp stove and stool. The car, equipped to take off for fishing waters at a moment's notice, was parked at Heck's home, 1032 Lakepointe avenue. Heck had failed to close the tailgate window.

by Sibyl

News . . . from Virginia Williams is the SALE! Wonderful buys! By the way, her shop at 79 Kercheval, will be closed July 29th, 30th and 31st . . . so that new carpeting can be installed.

News . . . from Margaret Rice . . . On Wednesday night, July 31st, her shop is closing for three days . . . Thursday, Friday and Saturday . . . August 1st, 2nd and 3rd. The shop will be reopened Monday, August 5th. Without giving away too many secrets, a very special celebration is being planned to mark the 3rd birthday of the new shop and Miss Rice's birthday (which happens to fall on the same day). See the brand new decor . . . new clothes and a special designer showing.

Summertime . . . and the living is relaxing at the Bronze Door, 123 Kercheval. One of the reasons is Carol Lee's cool piano. He entertains nightly. It's wise to make reservations for lunch and dinner. . . 886-1932.

Somewhere . . . there is a wall just waiting for the decorative Italian wrought iron sweep of branch. Hanging from it are three little bird cages. The three charming birds are all different. Right now, it's at The League Shop, just as you walk in the door . . . 98 Kercheval.

Window Shopping . . . at Denler, 77 Kercheval, we admired the exquisite embroidered oriental panel. It's a figure of a man, dressed in traditional style. The work is matted in blue and framed in antique gold (important size . . . 62" by 42").

Pick . . . limes, lemons or daisies to decorate plastic old fashioned or highball glasses which are sweat-free and dishwasher-proof. They're a dollar each at the Mermaid and come in green, clear or in yellow with a topiary tree.

Final Three Days . . . of the Picard-Norton SALE! Hurry . . . for the further mark-downs . . . to 92 Kercheval!

Flower Power . . . is up at the "Top Shop," 98 Kercheval. Paper shapings in a riot of colors abound. Pick a mixed bouquet of these giant blossoms. How about yellow, orange, blue and pink?

New Product News . . . from Trail Apothecary, is Alo-Tan-Gel by the makers of Fashion Tan. Even for sensitive skin, it helps produce an attractive tan without going through the burning stage. Not at all greasy, it comes in a two or three dollar tube at 121 Kercheval.

Mr. Sheridan — Books . . . 81 Kercheval, recommends Richard Llewellyn's "The End of the Rug." Here's a chilling spy story that's great for summer vacation reading. Call 881-1671 or 881-2916 for delivery.

From Another Pointe of View

By Janet Mueller

The weather Saturday, August 3, has just GOT to be beautiful, for two of summer's prettiest outdoor parties have been scheduled that evening.

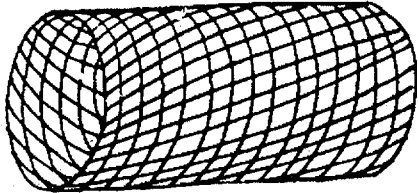

Over on Belle Isle, at the Detroit Boat Club, there's the Aqua Follies Ball, while right here in Grosse Pointe the Showboat docks at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club.

Skies, if clear, should be lovely, with August 8th's full moon only a few days away, and who wouldn't agree that "dancing under the stars" is a most charming way to spend a midsummer night? ...

DBC's Aqua Follies Ball

The party committee at the Boat Club, headed by Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Greer, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hawley, Mr. and Mrs. John Peters and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Crossett, is planning as pretty and simple a formal evening as possible.

This is a roller.

It revolutionized hairdressing. It can make thin hair look thicker. Stubborn hair more manageable. Limp hair more bodyful. Curly hair straighter. Anyone can use a roller. Not everyone can make it sing. We can. We do. The heads that leave our salon prove it. Like to see all a roller can do? We'd love to show you.

DAC's Bob-Lo Cruise Set For Wednesday

President and Mrs. Nathan B. Goodnow Will Be Among "Sailors;" Many Family Groups to Participate in Outing

What more could members of the Detroit Athletic Club and their guests ask for than the soft breezes of a summer's evening, the backdrop of a rainbow sunset and a sail down the Detroit River for the DAC's biennial cruise to Bob-Lo next Wednesday, July 31?

There will be all of this and the plus features of a box dinner picnic, provided by the DAC, live music for dancing, to create a perfect nostalgic mood, and more to come in the guise of rides on roller coasters and merry-go-rounds, the whip, sock 'ems and a host of others.

DACers will be wending their ways riverside in the late afternoon for the 6:30 o'clock sailing from the foot of Woodward avenue.

Then it will be "down the river" with dining and dancing until time to debark for the two-hour island visit.

DAC President Nathan B. Goodnow and Mrs. Goodnow are making a family party of the outing and have invited their son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. A. Michael Prus, and son, Daniel, and his wife to join them. Another family party will include the Howard Capponis, son-in-law and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Walker, and their son, William M. Walker III.

There will be 20 in the George J. Codd party and among the many couples planning to attend as twosomes are Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Freydl, Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Colombo, the Louis J. Curs, Jr., the Paul D. Richmonds.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Moekle will be a foursome as will Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Sorenson, Jr., and a party of six will include the William H. Sigsvorths, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Clyde M. Adams and the Torsten A. Peterses.

Elizabeth Nicholson Marries Mr. Hamm

Pair Will Return From Bermuda Vacation to Make Home in Detroit; Setting for Afternoon Ceremony in Christ Church

A reception at the Country Club of Detroit followed the Saturday, July 20, wedding of Elizabeth Chenery Nicholson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Albert Nicholson, Jr., of Cadieux road, and David Douglas Hamm, son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas William Hamm, of Muskegon.

For the 4 o'clock ceremony in Christ Church, Grosse Pointe, the bride selected an A line Empire gown of ivory silk organza, fashioned with a wedding ring neckline, a bodice of re-embroidered Alencon lace and a detachable Chapel train.

A cluster of matching lace flowers held her elbow length silk illusion veil, and she carried a bouquet of Amazon lilies and ivy.

Mrs. John Ruthrauff Nicholson and Nancy Newhouse were honor attendants. Bridesmaids were Florence Nicholson Bush, of New Orleans, La., cousin of the bride, Linda Fish, of New York, and Mrs. James Frink, of Pittsburgh, Pa.

The necklines and back panels of their yellow A line skimmers were edged with mint green ribbon and Venetian lace and their headpieces were yellow daisy pillboxes. They carried arrangements of ivy and yellow and white daisies.

John Ruthrauff Nicholson acted as best man. In the usher corps were William Allen, of Ann Arbor, James Thompson, Jr., and Charles Vandervelde, of Muskegon, and Jack Storey, of Saginaw.

Mrs. Nicholson selected an aqua silk dress and jacket and

Dennis W. Cross Will Claim Bride

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Frothingham of New Canaan, Conn., are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Anne Laura, to Dennis W. Cross, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Cross, Sr., of North Deeplands road.

Miss Frothingham received her Bachelor of Arts degree in 1966 from Sweet Briar College in Virginia and is currently studying for a Master of Arts degree in Musicology at Columbia University.

Her fiancé received his Bachelor of Arts degree in 1965 from Yale University, where he sang as a member of the Whiffenpoofs. He has since been teaching European and Asian History at Suffield Academy, Suffield, Conn. He plans to enter Harvard Business School in September.

The couple plans a December 28 wedding at St. Mark's a matching veil hat for her daughter's wedding and the reception. Mrs. Hamm, the bridegroom's mother, wore a mint green silk-and-worsted dress and jacket ensemble. Both mothers chose white orchid corsages.

The newlyweds, vacationing in Bermuda, will return to make their home in Detroit.

Out-of-town guests included the bride's grandmother, Mrs. George A. Nicholson, of Daphne, Ala., and the bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. Elmer Leaf, of Muskegon.

Others were Mrs. B. David Deloury, of Lexington, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Farnham, of Cincinnati, O., Mr. and Mrs. David C. Farnham, of Belmont, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Charles O. Stilwell, of New Orleans, La., Mr. and Mrs. G. Fox Trowbridge, Jr., of Vienna, Va., Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Hamm, of Muskegon, and Mr. and Mrs. Don Morton, of Northbrook, Ill.

Betrothed

Judge and Mrs. Horace W. Gilmore, of Harvard road, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, LINDSAY, to Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth J. Lasser, of Scarsdale, N.Y.

Miss Gilmore is a 1967 graduate of Wellesley College, Wellesley, Mass.

Her fiancé was graduated from Antioch College, Yellow Springs, O., and received an M.B.A. degree from the Harvard University Graduate School of Business Administration, where he is currently a Research Associate.

Hold Welcome Wagon Meeting

The July meeting of the Welcome Wagon Club of Grosse Pointe was held last Thursday, July 18, at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial. Mrs. John Haine, president, conducted the business session. Mrs. Paul Kelley, scholarship chairman, announced the names of recipients of this year's scholarship awards. They are Peggy Lyn Brown and Annette Rychaert. Both young ladies are June, 1968, graduates of the Cass Technical High School.

Miss Brown will attend Henry Ford Community College, while Miss Rychaert will attend Wayne State University. Both will enter the Nursing program at these institutions next September.

Top scorers in the bridge following the luncheon and business meeting were Mrs. Wallace Ernberger, first; Mrs. George Cameron, second; and Mrs. Len Sparks, third. The birthday cup was presented to Mrs. Haine and the floral arrangement to Mrs. John Retterer, Mrs. Darwin Tuttle and Mrs. Sparks.

The next meeting of the Club will be held Thursday, August 1, at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial. Brunch will be served at 11 o'clock, followed by a meeting and card games.

All new residents of the area who have received a Welcome Wagon hostess call are invited

THEY'VE ARRIVED

DEAR PAT,

June 5, 1968

Enjoyed my usual "flash flight" from Metro to LaGuardia and was then regaled by a darling Ukrainian cab driver who rewarded my attentiveness with a very old, secret family recipe (I, in turn, gave him your famous chicken thing). I arrived at the hotel wishing I were Julia Child so that I could include all these International goodies between a next hard cover—but I couldn't dwell on that for long because I had a goodie of my own to dash to—The Samuel Robert Fall Collection of Leathers and Sportswear and that marvellous Couture Group.

Mr. R. was looking very pleased with himself (and why not—we were all very pleased with him). The line was so fantastic it was a! I could do not to fall on the floor (I promise you I did not embarrass you or T.O.E.)

This firm is a veritable in the leather industry. Each season designer Bill Smith produces a unique freshness and dash to the line—coats—jackets—pants—suits and dresses. (That great petti-point shirt with the leather trim is repeated with a new fabric design.) Then, if that weren't enough to keep my pencil dashing across the "best numbers" pad, they presented the Couture Collection. No one, but no one works gabardine into dresses and coats the way Samuel Robert does.

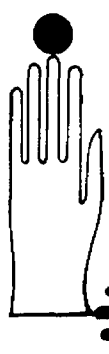

As I wrote the order I could think of so many that come into our shop for whom these fashions are perfect. Can't wait to start calling them.

These treasures will begin arriving at Touch of Elegance in July—I wonder if we shouldn't do a Samuel Robert Boutique. There is so much excitement from this house—plus a big surprise that I'll tell you about later. —Everyone is going to be as thrilled as I am.

I'll keep you posted on the Seventh Ave. scene as I move on.

Best Love,

Jo

At a Friday evening, July 19, ceremony in Our Lady Star of the Sea Church, SHEILAH JANE O'CONNOR, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Brandon M. O'Connor, Jr., of Norwood drive, and Mr. Schaupeter, son of Mrs. Betty Pierpont, of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and Arthur H. Schaupeter, of Neff road, were married.

Ronald Schaupeters Traveling In East

Bride's Gown of Cameo Taffeta Features Lace-Accented Mousseline de Soie Bodice; Attendants Wear Pink Satin

Vacationing in the New England States and New York City are Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Alan Schaupeter, who spoke their marriage vows Friday evening, July 19, in Our Lady Star of the Sea Church.

The bride is the former Sheila Jane O'Connor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Brandon M. O'Connor, Jr., of Norwood drive. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Betty Pierpont, of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and Arthur H. Schaupeter, of Neff road.

For the 7:30 o'clock rites, the bride selected a gown of cameo taffeta, fashioned with an Empire bodice of mousseline de soie accented with applique Alencon lace roses centered with seed pearl clusters.

Her garland headpiece of matching lace held a French silk illusion bouffant veil, and she carried a prayer book covered with white Sweetheart roses and Stephanotis.

Honor attendant Susan H. Schaupeter, the bridegroom's sister, and bridesmaids Deborah Nancarrow, Elizabeth Hamilton and Gayle Johnson, of Burlington, Ont., wore daisy-accented frocks of bright pink satin. They carried baskets filled with pink-centered daisies, ivy and ribbons.

Arthur H. Schaupeter served as his brother's best man. Ushering were Donald C. DeMeulemeester, Gary A. Colette and Brandon W. O'Connor, the bride's brother.

Nilan-Gillis Vows Exchanged July 12

Bride Wears Brussels Lace Veil Brought from Belgium by her Grandparents; Diamond and Pearl Earrings are Family Heirlooms

Back from a vacation on the Lake Michigan coast and making their home in Detroit's West Side are Mr. and Mrs. John Paul Nilan, who were married Friday evening, July 12, in St. Clare de Montefalco Church.

The bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Philip A. Gillis, entertained at a reception in their Kensington road home following the 5 o'clock rites, for which their daughter, the former Catherine Mary Gillis, selected a street length frock of heavy satin accented with applied lace medallions.

She wore a Brussels lace veil brought from Belgium by her grandparents, Mrs. Joseph A. Gillis and the late Judge Gillis, and carried a bouquet of white miniature roses tied to a mother-of-pearl prayer book from Bethlehem, her grandmother's Confirmation gift.

Her "something old" was a pair of diamond and pearl earrings, heirlooms of her mother's family, and the knife she and the bridegroom used to cut their wedding cake had been used by her grandmother, Mrs. Gillis, at her own wedding reception.

Julie Gillis served as her cousin's honor attendant. Bridesmaids were Maureen Gillis, another cousin, and Mary Patrick Schaeffer. White applied lace medallions accented their street length blue shantung frocks, and they carried arrangements of white carnations and blue miniature mums.

Margaret Ann Nilan, the bridegroom's sister, and Margaret Mary Gillis, the bride's sister, were flower girls.

Douglas Joseph Nilan acted as best man for his brother. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Nilan, of Detroit.

In the usher corps were another brother, Donald James Nilan, and Warren Lee Kellner. James Philip Gillis, the bride's brother, was ringbearer.

The mother of the bride wore a pale green silk shantung ensemble and a wrist corsage of pink miniature roses. The bridegroom's mother chose a pale blue silk costume and a white orchid corsage.

Pointers Assist Oberlin Project

Grosse Pointers hosted 39 eighth grade children from the ghettos of the Cleveland area overnight Sunday, July 21.

The children toured the Detroit Zoo and Windsor Sunday, and on Monday visited Greenfield Village. They are participating in a six-week summer Special Opportunities Program at Oberlin College, for which they were recommended to encourage their interest in going on to college after high school graduation.

This is the fifth year Oberlin has sponsored this opportunity for intellectually promising underprivileged young people. All those enrolled the first year are entering a college this autumn.

Pointe arrangements for the children's visit were made by Mrs. Leslie A. Sanders, of Hollywood avenue, president of the Detroit Oberlin Alumni Club, assisted by Frank Raphael, of Renaud road, and Mrs. Robert A. McCaig, of Washington road.

Host families included the Arthur W. Gobles, of Rivard boulevard, the Geno Cloes, of Notre Dame avenue, the James Webers, of Lakepointe avenue, the Charles Wrights, of La Salle place, Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Johns, of Rivard boulevard, and The Reverend and Mrs. Richard W. Mitchell, of McKinley place.

More were Mr. and Mrs. Michael Madarasz, of Kenwood court, the William H. Coddingtons, of Lincoln road, the W. William Laitners, of Muskoka road, the Edward C. Hampters, of McMillan road, and Mrs. William Hayes, of Washington road.

Recent vacationers in the Canadian Northwest were MR. and MRS. S. R. McLAREN, of Merriweather road.

Village Loft Giving Drama

The Village Loft, located at the Neighborhood Club, will present an original three-act drama this coming Saturday night along with its regular program of folk and jazz.

The play, entitled "Enter Socrates", is described by author-director Matthew Guice as "... new directions theatre." Says Guice, "It's an attempt to show the absurdity involved in producing modern theater."

The short three-act play involves a director as he tries to cope with the problems of smut and temperamental actors. The company of actors presenting "Enter Socrates" are all high school students from Pointe Players at Grosse Pointe high.

Along with the play, The Village Loft will present a regular evening of local folk and jazz talent.

Admission is $1.25. Coffee, cider, and donuts will be available. The Village Loft is located upstairs at the Neighborhood Club, 17150 Waterloo. Doors open at 8:15.

Emphysema Club Meeting July 29

The East Side Chapter of the Emphysema Club will meet Monday, July 29, at St. Michael's Episcopal Church, 20475 Sunningdale Park.

Emphysema is a disease that largely affects men of middle age and older. The lungs lose their resiliency and air that is once inhaled cannot all be exhaled. It is a difficult disease, both to have and to treat.

The East Side Chapter is one of three Emphysema clubs in Wayne County sponsored by the Tuberculosis and Health Society. They are designed to help emphysema victims cope with their breathing problems.

All members, other interested persons and their families are invited. The meeting starts at 7:30 p.m. Refreshments will be served.

Pre-Trip Party For Travelers

The 75 members of Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Travel Club who will visit the Canadian Rockies and cruise the inland passage to Alaska will gather for a pre-trip get-acquainted party Sunday afternoon, August 4, at 5 o'clock in the Fries Crystal Ballroom and Theater.

Films of both the rail trip to the Canadian resorts of Banff, Lake Louise and Jasper and the cruise to Skagway, Alaska, will be shown in the theater.

Last minute announcements will be made regarding both sections of the group. The sections will travel and cruise on separate trains, busses and ships; however, they are leaving the same day and returning on the same train. Baggage tags and instructions for departure from the War Memorial on August 16 will be given out at this time.

The trip members will enjoy hot hors d'oeuvres and sparkling punch while they socialize.

Next trip by the Memorial's Grosse Pointe Travel Club will be a fabulous journey to Japan and the Orient including Hong Kong, Taiwan, the Philippines, Bangkok, Cambodia, Kuala Lumpur and Singapore. The trip will leave October 25. It is already two-thirds full and those interested are advised to make reservations soon.

Attending the University of Detroit journalism workshop this summer will be MIRA SESKI, daughter of DR. and MRS. ARTHUR G. SESKI of S. Deeplands road, and PEGGY ANN QUINN, daughter of WILLIAM J. of special interest to "Sun-Sensitive People"

The world renowned suntan preparations of ERICH DYBAL of Ehrenz, Austria, are now available in a number of retail stores in Grosse Pointe.

Snik creams have been so popular on the Continent because they produce such beautiful, natural tans. This is because of the wonderful cosmetic base, containing only natural ingredients for the preservation of the skin, in contrast to the artificial chemicals used in most suntan products.

Snik protected effectively in the highest mountains of the world—the Austrian Himalaya-Dhaulagiri Expedition of 1959. Snik is certified by the Austrian government.

The Olympic skiing teams of Austria, Germany and Italy used Snik in the Olympic events at Innsbruck, Squaw Valley and Grenoble.

Snik protects from Sun, Wind and Weather every day of the year; tans even on overcast days. Spares the use of other cosmetics for aftertan.

Karen Joan Harrigan Wed In St. Clare's

Newlywed Anthony (Tim) Mourads are Making Their Home in Maryland Road Following Northern Michigan Vacation

St. Clare de Montefalco Church was the setting for the Saturday, July 6, wedding of Karen Joan Harrigan and Anthony (Tim) Mourad. Father Stephen R. Fogarty O.S.A., lifetime friend of the bride, assisted by Father Edward Sweeney O.S.A., officiated at the Nuptial Mass.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Harrigan, of Devonshire road, who entertained at a reception and breakfast at the Detroit Boat Club following the ceremony, wore a gown of net and Brussels lace.

A small, beaded crown held her illusion veil, and she carried a bouquet of white roses and stephanotis.

Maid of honor Nancy Posselius and bridesmaids Mary Ellen (Patty) Huminski, Mrs. John Tamblin and Mary Louis Mourad, sister of the bridegroom, wore floor length frocks of pale green corded peau, complimented by small hats of white daisies. They carried baskets of white daisies and ivy.

Roger Mourad served as best man for his brother. They are the sons of the Philip A. Mourads, of Three Mile drive. Guests were seated by James Christman, Scott Gregory, Timothy Filbin and David Whitehouse.

The bride's niece, Cathleen Cole, was junior bridesmaid, and the bridegroom's nephew, Roger Mourad, II, was junior usher.

The bride's mother wore a blue silk gown fashioned with a net yoke trimmed with jeweled petals, and pinned a corsage of Sweetheart roses to her purse. A jeweled necklace accented the bridegroom's mother's beige crepe frock. She chose a cymbidium orchid as her corsage.

The newlyweds vacationed in Northern Michigan and are making their home in Maryland road.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Camille Choueri and their son, Charles, of Montreal, Mrs. Kenneth Nash, of Cedar Grove, N.J., and Mr. and Mrs. Peter M. DeVine of Sheffield Lake, O.

JOHN HARLEY RAMSDELL, of Meadow lane, is among 60 students studying this summer in England, at the University of Exeter, in a law program sponsored by the College of William and Mary's Marshal - Wythe School of Law.

Named to the Northern Michigan University Dean's List for academic excellence during the spring semester are HENRY M. CAMPBELL, of Kenwood road, and A. FRED SIEGMUND, of Linville avenue.

'Group' Having Busy Summer

Grosse Pointe War Memorial's "Group" of young graduate students and business and professional people ages 21-29 has a busy summer schedule planned.

This Friday, July 26, at 6 p.m. at the Center they will board a charter bus for a picnic supper and concert at Meadow Brook where the guest soloist with the Detroit Symphony is the famous cellist Leonard Rose.

Set-ups will be available for cocktails on the way out, which arrangement is included in the $2 bus charge for members. ($1 more for those not yet members.)

Robert Waldron, Speaker of the Michigan House of Representatives, and Richard Durant, chairman of the 14th District Republican Party, will head a forum on "Politics '68" at a "Group" supper meeting Thursday, August 1. Sundowners and informal gathering are at 6:30 p.m. and the forum will follow immediately after dining.

Paid reservations are requested at $2 in advance as soon as possible. The event will be $2.50 at the door as long as the food lasts. People will not be admitted following supper. Those not yet members are welcome at a $1 additional charge or may become members for $3 a year.

A canoe trip on the Au Sable is planned for the week-end of August 24. Cost is $6 with a $2 deposit asked as soon as possible.

For September, a welcoming party for new single Grosse Pointe teachers is planned and the showing of a brand new surfing film "Free and Easy."

Lehl-Belanger Rites Read Last Saturday

Newlyweds Are Motoring Through Pacific Northwest To Oregon, Where They Will Make Their Home in Springfield

Dr. and Mrs. William George Belanger entertained close friends and relatives at a reception in their Harvard road home following the wedding of their daughter, Joan Elizabeth Belanger, and James George Lehl, son of Mrs. Philip Lehl, Jr., of Coos Bay, Ore., and the late Mr. Lehl.

Setting for the Saturday July 20, rites, at which The Reverend Ben Tallman officiated, was Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

The bride selected, for the 4 o'clock ceremony, a gown of silk organza accented with re-embroidered Alencon lace. Silk organza petals edged with seed pearls secured her fingertip illusion veil, and she carried an arrangement of white roses and stephanotis.

In floor length, Empire frocks of apricot silk linen, wearing wreaths of Jemini roses in their hair and carrying matching rose bouquets, were honor attendant Monica Quinn and bridesmaid Elizabeth Ann Belanger, sister of the bride.

Flower girl Carla Jo Quarnstrom, the bride's niece, wore a white silk linen gown, similar in style to those of the senior attendants, and a rose wreath in her hair. She carried a matching miniature bouquet.

Dr. Allan Lehl, professor of vocal music at Drake University, Des Moines, Iowa, was soloist at the wedding and also served as his brother's best man. George Belanger, brother of the bride, and Richard Locke seated the guests.

The bride's mother wore a mist green raw silk ensemble, while the bridegroom's mother selected a powder blue costume. Both mothers chose cream cymidium orchid corsages.

The newlyweds are motoring through the Pacific Northwest to Springfield, Ore., where they will make their home.

Among out-of-town guests was the bridegroom's aunt, Mrs. George Deering, of Portland, Ore.

Celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary by taking a trip to the Jasper-Banff-Lake Louise area, the "Switzerland of North America," plus Vancouver and Seattle, Wash., are MR. and MRS. JOSEPH DANCY, of Stephens road.

Among prospective Central Michigan University freshmen currently participating in a pre-registration and orientation period on the CMU Mount Pleasant campus are ARLENE S. FISHER, of Lochmoor boulevard, and DIANNE E. VAUGHT, of Deep-lands court.

LOIS MEISSNER, of Chalfonte avenue, participated in the annual Cecchetti Ballet Conference July 6 through 15 at Michigan State University.

Fifteen-year-old JOHN FERDINAND, of Hillcrest road, caught a colossal muskie at the Farms pier's harbor dock July 17. The three-and-a-half foot fish weighed 12½ pounds.

Money Planning Pays Dividends

With the prospect of a longer life growing each year, some financial planning for these later years is in order contends Mrs. June Sears, Home Economist with the Cooperative Extension Service in Wayne and Oakland counties.

She poses the question: "What do you really want in retirement?" She suggests the answer includes financial independence with an income that continues for a lifetime. It usually takes in a decent home, good food, some travel, visits to see children and grandchildren, simple pleasures with friends and perhaps hobbies and books.

Mrs. Sears says people often have an exaggerated idea about income needs for later years, and she notes some guides to help estimate those needs.

Income tax becomes a small portion of the tax paid during the working years. Social Security income is exempt and pension and insurance incomes are taxable only in part. At age 65 and over, double exemption is allowed.

Family expenses are lower with no children to support. Parents may know the cost of college, but they often forget that some expenses of food, clothing, entertainment and wear and tear on the house will disappear when children leave home.

Older people often dress more simply, enjoy less expensive entertainment and spend more time at home.

They may use more money for food, however. Leisure time encourages entertaining of friends and restaurant meals. More expensive foods and more convenience foods may be bought.

The retired person can stop saving and begin to use all income for living expenses. Life insurance is paid up or can be converted to a paid-up policy. Work expenses and membership dues stop.

Mrs. Sears says two unpredictable elements of retirement plans are illness and general economic conditions, and these deserve serious consideration.

"A retirement time-table confronts everyone," Mrs. Sears continues. "Some people consider it with their first pay check. Others find retirement and future security especially important about age 30 when they must provide for young children. As the years go by, retirement plans become more essential and pressing."

She suggests some steps to take toward financial security. Begin with setting a retirement income goal and putting aside a certain amount regularly. This can be revised when necessary. Then, learn what income will be provided by social security, insurance companies or company pension plans.

If there is a gap between what you want and what you can expect, plan a way to bridge it. Finally, look to your present money management and determine if more money can be set aside for retirement, says June Sears.

At age 60, it is well to look again at the retirement timetable. Medical and hospital insurance should be checked to be sure they continue in force after age 65. Insurance and bonds can be considered for conversion to provide a regular income.

Since the death benefits on some insurance policies are reduced at 65, this can be checked, Mrs. Sears says.

People who are quick to take offense can always be certain of a plentiful supply.

Miss Metzen Says Vows To Mr. Carne

Home in Neff Lane Awaits Newlyweds Upon Their Return from Boat Trip to Georgian Bay; Gown is Fashioned of Chiffon, Peau de Soie and Lace

Meredith Metzen became the bride of James Daniel Carne at an afternoon ceremony Saturday, July 20, in Christ Episcopal Church, Grosse Pointe.

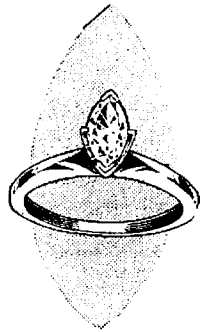

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Burnell Metzen, of Rivard boulevard and Edward Meredith Metzen, of Bloomfield Hills. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Merrifield Carne, of Willow Tree place.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length dress of chiffon and peau de soie, fashioned with a bodice of Alencon lace. Her headpiece was a matching lace mantilla. She carried a bouquet of stephanotis and ivy.

Mrs. Edmund Harley Chatham, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor and Riley Dixon was maid of honor.

They wore silk print floor-length sheaths of fuchsia, yellow, blue and lavender. They carried small colonial bouquets and wore matching flowers in their hair.

Scott Supernaw was best man. Guests were seated by Donald Edward Delozier, Jr., and Robert Sievers.

Mrs. Metzen chose a dress and jacket of fuchsia Dupioni silk. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Carne, wore a pale pink silk and chiffon ensemble with a hat of flower petals.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother.

After a boat trip to Georgian Bay, the newlyweds will reside in Neff lane.

Life is a succession of trials, but it seems that there are only a few convictions.

'Cape to Cairo' Travelers Return

Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Adams, of Rivard blvd., returned to Grosse Pointe this past weekend following a five weeks' trip through Africa.

Their itinerary included Nigeria, South Africa, Rhodesia, Zambia, Kenya, Tanzania, Uganda and Egypt.

The first six days of their African odyssey were spent in Ibadan, Nigeria, where Mr. Adams, who is vice chairman of the Board of Trustees of Western Michigan University, Kalamazoo, together with President James W. Miller and Dean George Kohrman of WMU, participated in commemorative ceremonies at Ibadan Technical College.

This Nigerian College which has been jointly sponsored and supported by the Kalamazoo University and U.S.A.I.O. was formally transferred to the Nigerian Commissioner of Education by the WMU party.

Enroute back to the United States, the Adamses spent two days in Rome. While there they were entertained by the newly appointed U. S. Ambassador to Italy Gardner Ackley and Mrs. Ackley. Mr. Ackley and Mr. Adams were classmates at Western Michigan University.

Stephen R. Cerutti Trains at Ft. Riley

Stephen R. Cerutti, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent A. Cerutti Sr., 1364 Lakepointe avenue, a student at Michigan State University, is attending Army Reserve Officers' Training Corps summer camp. The course began June 16 at Ft. Riley, Kans.

During the encampment, he is receiving six weeks of training in leadership, rifle marksmanship, physical conditioning and other military subjects.

Upon successful completion of summer camp and graduation from college, he is eligible to be commissioned as a second lieutenant in the U.S. Army.

Cadet Cerutti is a 1965 graduate of Grosse Pointe High School.

Remember that one today is worth a dozen tomorrows.

From Another Pointe of View

Candlelit tables, covered with white cloths and centered with hurricane lamps surrounded by large tropical paper flowers, will be clustered around the pool, and the trees and shrubbery nearby will be dotted with tiny, white Italian lights.

There'll be lots of multi-colored balloons, too, and a "surprise decoration," (if things work out—a certain member of the committee has his fingers crossed), in the pool itself.

The Ball begins with cocktails at 7 while Al Hopper's Trio makes music.

Later, there'll be dancing, to the rhythms of Al Navarro's Orchestra and, for the psychedelically-inclined, the beat of a mod quartet, "The Burnt Sugar."

GPYC's Showboat

Festivities get under way a bit earlier at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club, with the traditional late afternoon Commodore's Review.

After a parade of 'specially decorated GPYC boats, (there'll be, as always, prizes for the most attractive and original decorations), offers a salute to Commodore John F. DeHayes, two calypso bands will serenade sundownersipping guests.

And, after a while, it will be time for dinner, then dancing to the music of Dave Farley and Jack Qualey plus much socializing aboard private boats and on the Club's lawns.

Vice Commodore O. James Gagne and Mrs. Gagne are general chairmen of this year's Showboat.

Their committee members include the Keith Shreves, the Chilton Drysdals, the Roger Smiths, the Curtis Carmichaels, the Harold Joneses, the Rudy Speerschneders and Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. VanGoethem, Jr.

The evening before the Big Showboat Party, Friday, August 2, GPYC's teens will have a Showboat of their own.

Hours of the formal dinner-dance, (it's by invitation and reservation only), are 8 o'clock to midnight. "The Taxi" and "The Unrelated Segments" will provide continuous music.

Chairmen of GPYC's Teenage Council are Nancy Shaw, Mary Van Hamm, Brian Hickey and Dan Tindall. Special Junior Showboat chairmen are Pat DeFever and Greg Smith.

A Wonderful, Wonderful Month

The remainder of this summer MUST be an anticlimax for the Leslie C. Putnams, of Earl court, the Hansel Dwight Wilsons, of South Oxford road, and Katherine Wasserfallen, who represented the Detroit Branch of the English-Speaking Union at the ESU's Jubilee World Branches' Conference in Edinburgh June 29 through July 4.

Mr. Putnam is president of Detroit's ESU; Mrs. Wilson is vice president.

"We left Detroit for London June 14," Leona Putnam reports, "I saw the George Cushings, former Pointers now living in London, and toured the countryside on our way to Edinburgh."

The Conference was opened by the ESU's president, H.R.H. Prince Philip, Duke of Edinburgh; there followed six formal plenary sessions on various aspects of the general theme "The Link of Language," interspersed with luncheons, receptions, dinners and The Queen's Garden Party at the Palace of Holyroodhouse.

"We toured Scotland, visited Glencagles and stopped at Pitlochry, where we saw James Barrie's play, "The Professor's Love Story," at the annual Festival," Leona continues.

Then it was on to Inverness, past many lovely lochs

"We drove along Loch Ness, but didn't see the monster . . . In Dunfermline, (Andrew Carnegie's birthplace, which has received a large endowment from him for city benefits), we were almost hit by another motorist: That was our first day driving on the left, and we didn't realize how difficult a right turn could be! . . ."

They flew home from Prestwick July 10—and if the remainder of the summer is, for them, a bit of an anticlimax, we're sorry . . . but we don't think they have any REAL reason to complain . . .

New Symphony Players Named

Twelve musicians have been appointed new members of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra. They are Jerome Rosen, associate concertmaster; Ervin Monroe, principal flute; Dennis Smith, principal trombone; Herold Klein, Margaret Knudson and Gordon Peterson, violinists; Anne Mischakoff, violist; Nina de Veritch, cellist; Donald Pennington, bass; Robert Patrick, flute; Thomas Bacon, French horn; and Sam Tundo, percussion.

Mr. Monroe and Miss Mischakoff have already joined the Orchestra. All others except Mr. Klein will join the Symphony in September. Klein will begin in November.

Jerome Rosen, associate concertmaster, has been with the Cleveland Symphony as an appointed apprentice conductor for three seasons, and as a member of the orchestra for several seasons. For two summers he has been concertmaster at the Meadow Brook School of Music and performs at the school as a member of the Cleveland Orchestra Piano Trio.

Ervin Monroe, principal flute, comes directly from the Chamber Symphony of Philadelphia. He has also been solo flutist with the Royal Danish and Bolshoi ballets, Mozarteum Orchestra and the Salzburg Landestheater Orchestra.

Dennis Smith, principal trombone, is currently first trombonist with the Utah Symphony and director and performing artist with the University of Utah Brass Quintet. He was a member of the Los Angeles Brass Quintet and principal trombonist with the New York City Opera Company.

Among the new violinists, Herold Klein returns to the Detroit Symphony after three years' service with the U.S. Army Band. He joined the Symphony in 1964.

Margaret Knudson is currently a member of the New Orleans Philharmonic. She has also spent four summers with the Grant Park Symphony in Chicago and was a member of the Milwaukee Symphony for two years.

Gordon Peterson has played with the Canton Symphony and is presently at the Cleveland Institute of Music.

Violist Anne Mischakoff is the daughter of the Symphony's retiring concertmaster, Mischa Mischakoff. Prior to joining the Orchestra, she was with the Chicago Contemporary Chamber Players and principal violist of the Evansville Philharmonic Orchestra.

Nina de Veritch, cellist, is currently with the Utah Symphony.

Donald Pennington, bass, is now with the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra. He also has been assistant principal bass with the Buffalo Symphony, a member of the Rochester Symphony, the Boston Pops and Esplanade.

Robert Patrick, assistant principal flute, is currently with the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra. He has been principal flute with the Seattle Symphony.

Thomas Bacon, assistant principal French horn, is presently first horn with the Syracuse Symphony. He has been with the Chicago Civic Orchestra, Chicago Symphony and Grant Park Orchestra.

Sam Tundo, percussion, has been with the New Orleans Symphony for the past seven years. He also has been with the Sante Fe Opera and Florida Symphony Orchestra. He is a native Detroit.

Concertmaster Mischa Mischakoff, John Van de Graaf, bass, and Jack Ledingham, percussion, will retire from the Orchestra effective September 1.

Mr. Mischakoff joined the Orchestra in 1952 John Van de Graaf in 1928 and Jack Ledingham in 1960. Mr. Ledingham will continue with the Symphony in the position of full-time librarian.

Taking new posts with other orchestras, leaving to teach or to follow other personal plans are Albert Tiplon, principal flute; Allen Chase, principal trombone; Emilio Llinas, Joseph Fafard, Morris Edley and Dennis Molchan, violins; Deborah Holtz, viola; David Budson, cello; John Carbone, bass; Irvin Gilman, assistant principal flute; and Jack Masarie, assistant principal French horn.

Assistant Concertmaster Gordon Staples will become the seventh concertmaster in the Symphony's 54-year history in September.

May Bride

Plans for a May 10 wedding are being made by CANDICE LYNN GEER and Norman David Grosse, whose engagement was announced by her parents, Dr. and Mrs. William Geer, at a cocktail party in the gardens of their Lakeland avenue home Saturday evening, July 20.

Both the bride-elect and her fiancé, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Grosse of West Kings court, were graduated from Grosse Pointe High School and are attending Western Michigan University, Kalamazoo, where she is affiliated with Chi Omega and he with Delta Upsilon.

Dean E. Richardson, of 332 Cloverly road, has been appointed a group chairman for the major commerce unit of the 1968 Torch Drive.

Richardson is executive vice president of Manufacturers National Bank of Detroit.

During the 29th annual United Foundation drive, he will be responsible for campaign solicitation of restaurants, hotels, motels, clubs, textile services, funeral directors and sports enterprises.

The campaign, scheduled October 15 through November 7, will raise operating funds for nearly 200 health and community services.

Richardson's appointment was announced this week by the major commerce unit chairman, C. Boyd Stockmeyer, president, Detroit Bank & Trust Co.

"We are most fortunate such an outstanding community leader has accepted this vitally important assignment," Stockmeyer said.

"He brings remarkable experience, talent and enthusiasm to our Torch Drive team."

Richardson received a bachelor of arts degree from Michigan State University and was graduated from the University of Michigan Law School.

He is president-director of Manufacturers - Detroit International Corp., director, Kent Trust and Savings Co., and trustee and treasurer, Crittenton Hospital.

He is a member of the Detroit Bar Association, Michigan State Bar Association, American Institute of Banking, Men's Forum, Robert Morris Associates, Economic Club of Detroit and Newcomen Society in North America.

Richardson also is affiliated with the Detroit Athletic Club, Detroit Club and the Detroit Golf Club.

He and his wife, Barbara, have a daughter, Ann Elizabeth, 8, and John Matthew, 4.

Pointer ANNE MARIE FLOREK is one of 60 girls from 31 states handpicked for their intelligence and ability in the physical sciences or mathematics to attend the Space Exploration Conference sponsored by the Girl Scouts of North Alabama in Huntsville, Ala.

Michigan Events in July Offer Action-Packed Fun

Golombki and chicken, Danish smorgasbord, cherries, strawberries, blueberries and the largest coffee break in the world are just a few of the tasty delicacies featured in the Michigan Calendar of Events for July.

The Calendar, compiled and published by the Michigan Tourist Council, lists some 75 special events and festivals scheduled in Michigan during the month. The fun-packed celebrations include a variety of events ranging from International Days at Sault Ste. Marie, early in July, to the Traverse City Antique Show, July 31.

A tourist with the time and inclination could spend each day in July attending a special occasion or festival in Michigan, according to the Council. At the end of the month he would have been exposed to some mighty fancy eating, an abundance of culture, viewing more queens than can be found at a royal wedding, singing, dancing and a variety of action-packed fun. Fishermen are offered challenging contests at the National Trout-arama at Baldwin, July 25-27. The Steam Rodeo, Hastings, July 26-28, hosts travelers who thrill to the sound and smell of steam engines and implements.

The largest coffee break in the world is listed as one of the features of the Alpine Festival at Gaylord, July 17-20. Golombki, a Polish dish made of ground beef and rice in a cabbage leaf, was served at the St. Nicholas Festival at Pellston, July 21.

In addition there were strawberries at the National Strawberry Festival, Manistee, July 4-7, as well as other harvest celebrations including the Potato Festival at Munger, July 25-28, the National Cherry Festival at Traverse City, July 8-14, and the Blueberry Festival at South Haven, July 3-8.

It's not what you do, but how you do it, that makes your life a real success.

Movie Dances End August 12

The Youth Council of Grosse Pointe War Memorial is steam- ing ahead with its summer Movie-Rocks for teens, Monday, July 29, at 7:30 in Fries Auditorium the feature film will be the famous whodunit "The Ipcress File." For dancing following the film "The Flow" band, successors to the "Migraines", will wind it up for rock n' roll dancing.

Monday, August 5, the movie offering will be "Zorba The Greek" with Anthony Quinn at 7:30. The "Present Tense" is playing for dancing in the air-conditioned ballroom following.

The Movie Rocks will end on Monday, August 12, when the feature film will be "The Prize" with Paul Newman and dancing will be to "The Sounds of Night."

Movie Rocks are $1.25 in advance and $1.50 at the door. Dress is casual and dates aren't necessary. The evenings are chaperoned by Youth Council parents and the Center staff and are protected by the police.

ELECTION NOTICE

To the Qualified Electors of the County of Wayne, State of Michigan:

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT AT THE PRIMARY ELECTION TO BE HELD IN SAID COUNTY OF WAYNE, STATE OF MICHIGAN, IN THE REGULAR VOTING PLACE IN EACH ELECTION PRECINCT IN EACH CITY AND TOWNSHIP IN THE COUNTY OF WAYNE, STATE OF MICHIGAN, ON TUESDAY, THE 6TH DAY OF AUGUST, 1968, BETWEEN THE HOURS OF 7:00 O'CLOCK A.M. AND 8:00 O'CLOCK P.M., THE FOLLOWING PROPOSITION WILL BE SUBMITTED TO THE ELECTORS OF SAID COUNTY:

COUNTY PROPOSITION NO. 1 — TAX LIMITATION PROPOSITION

Shall the County of Wayne continue for five additional years (from 1970 through 1974) the one mill approved by the voters in 1964 for five years from 1965 through 1969, the proceeds to be used to continue existing county services, including public health, recreation and safety services, maintain hospitalization for the medically indigent, help furnish medical care of the aged poor, help care for and train juveniles under county care, help provide treatment for the mentally ill and those suffering from tuberculosis?

All registered electors may vote on the Tax Limitation Proposition.

This proposition is being submitted in accordance with the following resolution duly adopted by the Board of Supervisors of said County on the 18th day of June, 1968.

RESOLUTION OF BOARD OF SUPERVISORS OF THE COUNTY OF WAYNE

WHEREAS, the voters of Wayne County on September 1, 1964, did approve a one mill tax levy increase ($1.00 per $1,000 of State equalized valuation) for a period of 5 years from 1965 through 1969, and

WHEREAS, this one mill was absolutely essential to provide basic County services in such areas as hospitalization for the medically indigent and aged poor and for caring and training of juveniles under County care, providing treatment for the mentally ill, and those suffering from tuberculosis, and for maintaining adequate public health, recreation and safety services, and

WHEREAS, the County has no alternative but to seek the voters approval for the continuation of the existing one mill extra voted levy in order to maintain minimum essential services; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED, by the Board of Supervisors of the County of Wayne, this 18th day of June, 1968:

1. That there be submitted to the qualified electorate of the County of Wayne, State of Michigan, at the primary election to be held in said County on Tuesday, August 6, 1968:

COUNTY PROPOSITION NO. 1 — TAX LIMITATION PROPOSITION

Shall the County of Wayne continue for five additional years (from 1970 through 1974) the one mill approved by the voters in 1964 for five years from 1965 through 1969, the proceeds to be used to continue existing county services, including public health, recreation and safety services, maintain hospitalization for the medically indigent, help furnish medical care of the aged poor, help care for and train juveniles under county care, help provide treatment for the mentally ill and those suffering from tuberculosis?

2. Said proposition shall be prepared and distributed by the County in the manner provided by law, which statement on the voting machines and ballots shall state the proposition in the form set forth in the preceding paragraph.

3. All public officials of the County of Wayne, State of Michigan and all municipal units thereof, within such time as shall be required by law be, and they hereby are, directed to do and perform all acts and things which shall be necessary to be done or performed in order to submit the foregoing proposition to the electorate of said County at such primary election to be held on Tuesday, August 6, 1968.

13—REAL ESTATE FOR SALE

YOU'RE SURE TO fall in love with old Cape Cod... only this Cape Cod is a newer home on S. Deeplands, just a skip to the lake. Amazingly deceiving from the curb, because under those attractive dormers are two gigantic bedrooms, each with a bath. The first floor also has two bedrooms with two more bathrooms. The living is a full thirty feet long, and the richly paneled den is large enough for several bridge tables. Air conditioned throughout. Move today and you might be moving tomorrow.

A STately HOME located in one of the Pointe's newer locations, a one block long street in the Shores. Here a fine subdivision has been laid out preserving the large old trees on one of the better known Lake Shore estates. This home is less than ten years old and offers all the extras you would expect to find in a house of its calibre. Four family bedrooms, plus a maid's room and bath. Magnificent foyer which opens all the way to the second floor.

"MAN OVERBOARD" is a cry which could literally be heard from the grounds of this lakeside residence. We certainly hope you won't lose any guests off the breakwall, but we're sure they'll go "overboard" when they see what you've done to this charming, older home with the lake at its door. Avail yourself of this rare opportunity to snap up a lake property at a fraction of the cost of recent sales in the immediate area.

IF YOU'VE BEEN contemplating getting into something on one floor, but haven't found a ranch house which meets your requirements, may we suggest you see this fine example on Stephens Road. Three bedroom with two baths. There was a maid's room which has been converted to a utility room, and a third bath. Tucked away in a cul-de-sac on the hill.

YOU CAN TAKE the house out of the country but you can't take the country out of this house. This farm colonial has been decorated and renovated without losing one pinch of its country flavor. The living room is a step down from the random plank entrance hall. The dining room boasts a gracious bay and its floor is parquet. Upstairs are four honest-sized bedrooms and two more over the attached garage.

IT'S A MOOT point, but in the Pointe we contend you won't find another home which offers so much space, in such excellent condition, and priced below what has been selling in the neighborhood. We speak of three large bedrooms, one with dressing room; and two full baths sumptuously spread over a leisure room living room and modern kitchen with eating space for the entire family. The garage is attached and upfront, allowing for an exceptionally large backyard. Owner's van is leaving soon. Will yours be arriving?

THIS ONE CARRIES its age well. Minor face lifting has occurred over the years, but the patrician, English lines tell you this was and always will be a real beauty. Large bedrooms with studio ceilings, and four bathrooms on the second floor. The backyard provides another "world" of privacy and charm achieved only with years of growing time for the magnificent trees and hedges.

"It is better to wear out than to rust out."

PRESSURE IS MOUNTING in the Michigan Legislature to override Governor George Romney's veto of the bill giving local officials emergency powers. The Michigan Sheriff's Association joined the campaign to bypass Romney's unilateral rejection of the bill that would have allowed local elected officers to declare states of emergency in the event of threat of rioting.

TWO HOUSE VOTES in Washington have turned aside President Johnson's call for registration of all guns. Thus it appears to kill all hope for such legislation in this session. By votes of 2-to-1 the House defeated registration amendments that would ban interstate mail order sales of rifles, shotguns and ammunition, plus over-the-counter sales to residents of non-adjacent states.

Monday, July 22
SOVIET TROOPS were reported still deep in Czechoslovakia on Sunday, the day they were officially scheduled to have left the country. There was no firm news of whether the Prague leadership has reached a decision on the latest Soviet proposal for a bilateral party meeting in the Soviet Union.

TERRORISTS STRUCK in Saigon late Sunday while U.S. warplanes hammered enemy targets in North Vietnam and government troops waged ground war in the jungles around the capital. Five Vietnamese civilians were killed and 52 wounded by a bomb blast near the crowded Quoc Thanh Theater in downtown Saigon. It was the first such attack in the city in three months.

ANTI-VIETNAM WAR demonstrators fought with police outside the American Embassy in London Sunday during a protest march marking the anniversary of the 1954 Geneva Agreement on Vietnam. The scuffle came as police attempted to clear several hundred protesters who broke away from a march of 10,000 persons peacefully passing through Senate Grosvenor Square, where the Embassy is located.

Tuesday, July 23
AN ANNOUNCEMENT from Prague on Monday stated that leaders of Czechoslovakia's Communist Party will meet with Soviet Communist Party leadership somewhere in Czechoslovakia after the last Russian soldier has left Czech soil. This will be the first time the entire Politburo has left Russia and underscores the importance attached by the Kremlin to keeping the Czechs in the Red camp. Prior to the agreement meeting the Soviet Union warned that the Communist world would not tolerate an overthrow of Communism in Czechoslovakia.

who, where and whatnot

by whoozit

Letter-writing . . . in these days of 'phone calls and postcards, is supposed to be a "Lost Art"—but luckily no one has told Pat Groehn, daughter of the Gilbert Groehns, of Bedford road, currently spending her second summer in Europe . . . Pat keeps her family informed of her progress abroad via detailed, descriptive epistles, from which we have, (with her family's permission), selected the following excerpts to share with our readers:

From Oslo: . . . "After last year, I didn't think any place could beat Copenhagen, but I hadn't seen Norway then . . . When I unfolded out of my train seat at 8:00 a.m. it was broad daylight. Out the window were heaped up haystacks that looked like they might turn into trolls at midnight. Everything is green: Around a bend, (in the train track), you look down into a fjord valley bordered with yellow fields, or maybe there's a massive waterfall sending up sprays that turn into rainbows. By 8:20 the train is along the Oslo fjord; you can see the city far away . . ."

Still from Oslo: . . . "Took a ferry across the bay to Bygdor, and almost cried it was so beautiful . . . This is a hilly suburb with lovely Norwegian-style houses all tucked into forested lots. No lawns: Just buttercups and bluebells . . . Finally found the Folkemuseum. This is like a Norwegian Greenfield Village. There are old wooden houses and churches scattered over a huge, woody area and birds all over, singing. The houses are separated into areas according to province and all the guides are friendly old ladies in provincial costumes. The places smelled of old wood and grass . . ."

And still from Oslo: . . . "Walked three miles to the Kon Tiki Hall and the Arctic ship Flam . . . The Kon Tiki is set up so that you walk around it, then below for a look at the ocean life underneath. It was interesting, but the Flam was fabulous! It is a huge three-masted sailing ship set in an A-frame museum, and you can walk all over it including down to the hold to see the huge ribs. It smells watery and reeks of adventure . . ."

From Odense: . . . "Finally caught a train back to Copenhagen and from there to Odense . . . Had to wait two hours for connections and talked to the most delightful old Dane. He was 85. He told me all about the cities and history and Midsummer: They light all the bonfires and burn witches to guide the witches from Lapland to the Haartz Mountains . . . Odense is beautiful. They have kept the area around Hans Christian Andersen's house quaint . . . Ate in a tiny wine cellar and am getting ready for early bed. Tomorrow I'm going to see the storks at Ribe . . ."

From Ribe: . . . "I had a terrible time getting here. Made the wrong train connections and went one hour in the wrong direction before I realized it. Kept asking the conductor for Braemming, and he kept saying 'Yes' . . . Finally checked on my train map and realized I was wrong. Went back and made the right connection . . . In the (Ribe) station, which is minute, no one spoke English. I kept asking for 'Hotel,' and finally a man pointed out the door and said 'Waterfall'—meaning fountain . . . Walked a block down a tree-lined cobblestone lane, across a bridge to a square with a fountain and the Hotel Munken. Again no English, but I have a darling attic room in a lovely place with a garden restaurant on a riverbank, ($3 a night) . . ."

Still from Ribe: . . . "Ribe is very small and quaint. Perfect for tourists, yet no commercialism . . . At 10 o'clock I was in bed, half asleep, when I heard someone singing outside. Thinking it was a drunk, I went to the window—and there was an old man, carrying a lantern and a spear, going from corner to corner singing the hour . . . The whole place is cobblestones and red tile roofs . . . No one speaks English but they go out of their way to explain things in pantomime . . . Every alley is a picture: Down one there are several old hanging signs—an old watch, a pair of glasses, a giant pretzel; down another, a huge waterwheel . . ."

Pat has left Scandinavia now . . . and is in Portugal, where she's rendezvousing with a Grosse Pointe Children's Theatre group, there to film a play in Fatima—and where she's undoubtedly doing and seeing more fascinating things, storing up experiences with which to regale her Roseville kindergarten classes in the fall.

Pointer of Interest

MRS. CYRIL A. GROBBEL, JR., OF THREE MILE DRIVE

By Pamela Andriotakis

"The essence of living is working hard at something and making life worthwhile" is the philosophy of Mrs. Cyril A. Grobbel, Jr., formerly Beverly Curran. And she certainly follows this design.

When most people were beginning to sit back and relax after a long, busy winter and plan a leisurely summer, Beverly doubled her unusually quick pace and within a week's time graduated from law school and gave birth to her seventh child, Cassandra Alyssa, on May 20.

Time plays an important part in her life . . . but she in no way feels rushed and has a reason for everything she does. For Beverly, every moment is valuable, or as she puts it, "urgent." "Once you get that sense of urgency," she says, "then every moment of life becomes very vital."

And it was important that she have a seventh child. To Beverly, there is much greater found joy in bringing a baby into the world after raising other children. You greet it with greater understanding and appreciate it more.

Enthusiastic Family

Her sense of appreciation seems to have rubbed off on her family . . . for when she returned home after her last law school exam, she was greeted with signs and shouts of "Yippee!"

Crepe paper strung across the dining room and an ice cream and cake treat were the Grobbel children's ways of congratulating their mother.

And there was certainly reason for celebration. Beverly had been attending the University of Detroit's Law School for five years. She completed her undergraduate education at U. of D. in three years, right after high school . . . it was 17 years before she decided to return.

Her desire to study law was not a new one. Beverly's father was an attorney, and it always seemed appropriate to her to carry on the tradition.

First Things First

She planned on entering Law School right after receiving her first degree, but by then she had another desire, which seemed a bit more timely. It was then she married and began her family.

Her first child was a boy, Cyril III, who is now 17; followed by Melea, 15; Marita, 13; Christopher, 10; Regan, 8, and Jason Justin, 5 (who is planning to be the judge in the family!).

It wasn't easy for Beverly to decide to return to school, but once the decision was made, she stuck to it. Before entering Law School, she took refresher courses at the Six Mile road campus of U. of D.

"It was difficult," Bev admits. "The biggest thing, of course, was concentration."

And after such a long absence, who wouldn't be a bit out of practice? But before long the studies were rolling smoothly.

Felt Compelled

Sometimes she began to get lonely for her life only as a mother, without pressures, just being "in the house."

But I just had to do it," she says. Beverly does not subscribe to the belief that a woman must earn her place in the world of men. Rather, she believes each woman must earn a place of her own, never forgetting for a moment that she is a woman.

People are always pointing out to her that it is tough for a female in the man's world of law. But for Bev it isn't true.

"Working with men is only difficult for difficult women!" she insists.

She has found that as long as a woman doesn't try to be a man, men accept and like her. All men, she feels, dislike competition from women on a man's basis. A woman must never forget her femininity.

In fact, her experiences working with men have been quite the opposite from people's predictions. When speaking of fellow law students, she can only compliment.

Recalls Incident

"They're marvelous people and we've developed wonderful relationships," Beverly notes, recalling one incident during her May commencement exercises.

It was a very warm evening and during the long ceremony a male fellow-classmate continually turned around in his seat in front of Beverly to check on her (the baby being due any day).

At one point, Bev looked up toward the audience and saw her family filling in . . . and with the heat, the emotion which accompanies graduation, and the excitement of accomplishment, the tears began rolling down her cheeks.

Just then, her concerned friend glanced back and immediately began to announce, panic-stricken, "Mrs. Grobbel's in labor!" . . . ah, there's nothing like a worried friend . . .

But aside from all the humor, Bev can sincerely say, "I learned to respect the minds of men."

She feels that it is important for women to come in contact with men to understand their world, though, she adds, not necessarily through studying.

Law School was her selection because in today's busy world, she feels, "one can't do anything without knowing the legal way. There should be basic legal courses in elementary and secondary schools."

Beverly separates the business worlds of men and women by their positions as family bread winners. A man must always consider supporting his family, but for many women that need is not so overpowering.

Charitable Outlook

A woman can help in the world in a different manner. Men must charge for all of their services. But a woman can offer these services without depending on her job for a livelihood. And that's what Beverly has in mind.

Soon she hopes to use her legal abilities to help in the community. Before that she will probably practice in a law firm or do work for some judges.

But first she is going to take care of her summer plans. Now that her children are out of school for the summer, she'll have more time to spend with them. "But I don't think I was ever away from the house any more than most women," Beverly says. "I worked very hard so that I would never feel I was 'away' from the children during those years."

And it seems to have worked out very well. Bev did all of her studying after everyone was in bed, and attended classes when they were in school.

"The children were marvelous," Beverly notes. "Children are remarkable when you give them a pattern of life to follow. A mother can lecture about making life worthwhile, but it isn't effective unless the parents show their children how."

Had Other Occupations

During her last pregnancy, she found it even harder to reduce her pace. At night, instead of sleeping, she was busy refinishing and antiquing furniture to decorate the Grobbels'.

LIME PIE

(Contributed by Mrs. Martin Hawley)
From The Congregational
Cook Book

1 cup crushed graham crackers
¼ cup white sugar
¼ cup melted butter
1 can Eagle condensed milk ½ cup lime juice (5 limes if squeezed; use rind of one)

1 ½ oz. pkg. cream cheese, softened
3 egg yolks
1 drop green food coloring whipped cream

Mix graham cracker crumbs, sugar and melted butter together and press in 8 or 9" pie plate. Bake at 300° for 10 minutes.

Beat condensed milk, juice and rind until thick. Beat cream cheese until smooth and add egg yolks, one at a time, beating well. Fold cheese mixture into milk mixture. Add a drop of green food coloring. Pour mixture into baked and cooled crust. Spread top with thin layer of whipped cream. Freeze. Remove from freezer 10 minutes before serving. Serves 6.

spacious home in Three Mile drive, which Mr. Grobbel designed to fit all the family needs.

Now she will have more time for decorating. She plans to add painting to her list of "things to do in the future." Bev inherited this talent from her mother, who was an artist. The canvases of both mother and daughter cover the Grobbel walls.

In the living room there's a large portrait of five of the Grobbel children. Beverly always wanted to have them captured in oils and finally decided to do the job herself after all, who knows the children better?

Through Their Eyes

In fact, this particular mother knows her children so well that she can say: "I've learned to see life through the eyes of a child.
And when one learns to do that all of life has more pleasure . . . Even the pains are easier because of the contrast.
I wish other people could see it."

Bev adds, "I like to hear the noise of my children. It upsets me when I DON'T hear them!"
She used to play the piano;
now it relaxes her to listen to her children play both the piano and guitar.

But at the same time Beverly runs a tight ship. "I'm strict," she admits, "but it's necessary.
Children can never give orders until they learn to take them."

Other Activities

This leadership seems to have carried over to her outside activities, too. She is currently president of the Children of Mary of the Sacred Heart spiritual group.

Beverly had always been active in her children's schools, but had to stop much of her work for her studies. Perhaps she will now have time to return to them.

But of course that's hard to say. Beverly Grobbel's life still seems to be busy. She is presently attending a summer Bar Review course, preparing her for her Bar exam in August . . . and then . . .

Well, there just doesn't appear to be a lull in sight. Of course, that seems to be a way of life for Bev . . . after all, time is too precious . . . and life is too worthwhile.

Look Fallward . . . and to the reopening of Walton-Pierce, August 13th. If you have an eye for fashion, you will feast it on the season's beautiful new styles. We watched some being unpacked. Velvet is very important. There are velvet cocktail dresses set ablaze with rhinestones. Velvet is combined with satin or gay plaids. We were asked what is the fashion color this fall? When we saw the collections in New York, we noted that brown is becoming more and more favored for day, as well as evening, but there is no one color which is being pushed. Waiting for junior sizes, is a brown, gray and white plaid coat ensemble with a rich warm brown dress. Many of the fashions now arriving at Walton-Pierce will be featured in August and September issues of "Vogue" and "Bazaar" . . . one is a cover.

Patrick . . . with an engaging smile and a delightful French accent asked whether we wanted our hair styled for day or evening. Our work-girl instincts decided . . . day! The finished look was so great we wanted to quit work and go on-the-town. His evening styles are masterpieces and in Brussels his customers include the royal family and debutantes. Patrick is a guest at Leon, 17888 Mack Avenue and will be returning to Europe. Don't miss getting your hair redesigned in the latest continental styles . . . TUxedo 4-9393.

Fall Fur . . . look-alikes . . . are in Michelle's Boutique at Leon, 17888 Mack Avenue. Soft and smart, dresses have the new belting and come in brown, black, gray and beige acetate and cotton . . . blended fur!

Everything . . . from linens to toothbrushes can be stored beautifully in Mutschler's vanities for the bath, bedroom, dressing room or powder room. The distinctive storage is practical as well because the cabinets have removable shelves and carry-alls to tote make-up, plus etceteras elsewhere. Choose from colonial, traditional or contemporary styles. Get the ideas at Mutschler Kitchen, 20227 Mack.

Martha's Closet . . . is opening and closing its door at different times this summer . . . weekdays the time is 9:30 a.m. until 5 p.m. . . Saturdays it's 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. By the way, the door is wide open to the arrival of heavenly Hadley separates. First in are the sweaters and slacks.

The Kaleidoscope . . . sees bathrooms in the latest style . . . all over print. They have the accessories to accomplish this fashionable feat. Printed toilet seats ($14), shower curtains, waste baskets, tissue holders, etc., come in a daisy or mod flower pattern and there are other samples from which to order. Even floor tiles are available. Drop by 16135 Mack at Bedford, if you're thinking of decorating.

Something Different . . . for a summer party? Authentic Mexican pinatas are so colorful, so decorative to hang outside and such FUN! Fill them with special goodies, then give your blindfolded guests a swing at them. They cost four and five dollars at 16237 Mack at Three Mile.

The Sphere . . . has a world of summer jewelry and it's all marked fifty per cent off. Hurry to 19848 Mack Avenue to get the first choice!

Specials . . . at the Notre Dame Pharmacy include Bonnie Bell's 100% Moisture Lotion. The six dollar value is three dollars. Moisture Petals by Du Barry is also specially priced. The five dollar value is three dollars. For someone special, like a summer hostess, give a box of Bronnley's Lemon soap.

Constructive Correction . . . for eyebrows is expertly done at Edward Nepi Parrucchiere, 19463 Mack Avenue. Eyebrows are arched by the wax method. Many teenagers are getting this correct start in one of the most important beauty basics. Call TUxedo 4-9959 for an appointment. Makeup analysis is a free service.

A Magic Carpet . . . you don't need to transport you to fabled lands. Keshan, Kerman, Bokhara and Sereghan conjure distant places and wealth of ancient design. Pick your carpet at Ed Maliszewski's, 21435 Mack Avenue. It will land right in the decorative picture for 1968 because the trend is to oriental rugs. You don't need a pocket of gold for these excellent reproductions from Belgium. A 9x12 flies out of the store for about three hundred nineteen dollars.

Rediscover . . . old favorites like chicken croquettes and beef stroganoff at Wesfields, 15506 Mack at Somerset. We never prepare them at home any more but we do order them there and they are delicious. See their menu and enjoy well remembered favorites of your own.

The Posh Set Boutique . . . 18700 Mack Avenue is filled with all sorts of "goodies" for the smart young woman. For the swimmer . . . a selection of bathing caps, designed not to look like bathing caps, but to flatter. Summer outings are just right for carrying the Boutique's multi-colored tote bags that come with matching slippers. The say-at-homes will find a new collection of hostess gowns and cocktail and afternoon dresses. And don't forget to check Posh's newly arrived selection of antique jewelry.

The Posh Studio, Inc. . . recommends giving that old wig a new look with a smart new cut and permanent wave to make it and you look like today. Just $25. For your very own hair, we suggest a visit to any of the excellent, skilled stylists for that latest look in hair designs . . . 886-1377.

Come In . . . and see the new Hotpoint built-in appliances at Kitchen Remodelers, 15281 Jefferson. Let one of their experts show you how to save money on kitchen remodeling through proper planning. Their interior decorator will do a color rendering of your proposed new kitchen so you can see how it will look before you decide to go ahead . . . LO 7-2400.

The Grist Mill . . . has ground out a profit for you? It's no wonder! The antiques, old-tiques, jewelry, what nots and what-ifs you bring to 21151 Mack Avenue, on consignment, are turned over quickly. Keep them coming! . . . 886-1640.

"It's a Heck of a Hike" from the east side of Metro airport. Next time ride the Royal Coachman Limousine, scheduled every hour, every day . . . to and from Metro . . . TUxedo 6-1322.
