CLEVELAND, OHIO was the scene of a reign of terror Tuesday night when fire, and sniper shooting erupted in the Negro neighborhood on the East Side. Ten persons were dead and at least 18 others were hurt. Looting and shooting stopped shortly before midnight. National Guardsmen and police armed with rifles patrolled the area on Wednesday. Late Wednesday Cleveland's Negro mayor Carl B. Stokes called off the guard and had prominent Negro leaders patrol the area. To this writing the patrol was effective and no further violence occurred.

RICHARD C. ROBISON, 42, his wife and four children were found shot to death in their summer retreat off the northern Lake Michigan Shore on Tuesday. Police sifted through meager evidence looking for clues in the brutal slayings. The bodies of the Robisons had been in the cottage for almost a month. No weapons were found but different caliber shell casings were recovered in the area.

A WATERED-DOWN gun control passed in the House Wednesday and has been sent on to the Senate where final action is not anticipated until September. The bill fell far short of President Johnson's recommendations. It was approved 304 to 118 after several amendments opposed by backers of stronger gun controls were added.

THE LEGISLATURE in Lansing recessed for three weeks Wednesday without over-riding the governor's veto of a riot bill. Backers of the measure said they would try again next month. The anti-riot measure vetoed by Governor Romney will still be eligible for House action when House members return in August. The bill would grant local officials emergency powers to deal with actual or threatened riots.

LIONS VETERAN receiver, Ron Kramer, was given his unconditional release Thursday by the Lions. Coach Joe Schmidt said he made the decision reluctantly but that the team can only carry two tight ends during the season. Kramer has not announced his future plans.

CZECHOSLOVAK LEADERS were urged by peacekeepers of the country's liberalization drive to "defend unitedly the road on which we will leave alive." The appeal came amid a flurry of rumors regarding the show-down meeting with Soviet leaders next week. The rumors were kept alive by the decision Thursday of the policy-making party presidium to remove Lt. Gen. Vaclav Pchlik, a chief target of Soviet attacks, from a key position in the party Central Committee. Pchlik was ordered back to army services and his political department abolished.

GENERAL MOTORS CORPORATION reported a profit of $950 million for the first six months of 1968, compared with $912 million in the same span last year. James M. Roche, chairman, and Edward N. Cole, president, indicated that they felt 1968 would be among the best sales years in the history of the automotive industry.

UDORN AIR BASE in Thailand, 300 miles north of Bangkok, came under heavy attack on Friday night when 20 guerrillas, armed with explosives, battled their way into the base wrecking two airplanes and wounding one Thai guard and wounding four Americans. A military spokesman said this was the first time a U.S. base in Thailand had come under attack.

Saturday afternoon's heavy rain produced some interesting sights around The Pointe when the storm drainage systems built up tremendous pressure after the Fox Creek drain became overloaded and couldn't

School Tax Comparison Interesting

Pointe Rate Down on List of 43 Districts in Wayne; Below Bloomfield and Birmingham

With the news that the Grosse Pointe Board of Education seeks additional funding for operation for 1968-1970, school district residents will be interested in the most recently available comparative tax data.

A study of Grosse Pointe's school tax rate for 1967-68 reveals these facts:

1. In terms of total school tax, Grosse Pointe ranked 29th from the top out of 43 districts in Wayne County.
2. In tax levied for operation, Grosse Pointe ranked 25th from the top of the same 43.
3. In dept service (for buildings), Grosse Pointe ranked 29th from the top out of 43.

Grosse Pointe's total school tax rate of 25.49 mills compared favorably with such suburbs as Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills. For 1967-68 Birmingham's operating millage was 30 and its debt service amounted to 5.20, for a total of 35.20. Bloomfield Hills levied 22.10 mills for operation and 7.26 for debt, for a total of 29.36.

NAB DOG

Mrs. Paul Rizzo, 38, Warner, called Farms police to complain of a dog running loose in the neighborhood. The dog was caught by Farms policeman and returned to its owner, Joseph S. Sherer Jr., 190 Ridge road.

Lakeland Avenue Residents Mad About Wet Basements

By Pepper Whitelaw

With fire in their eyes and water and sewage in their basements, residents of Lakeland avenue stormed the City of Grosse Pointe Council Chambers Monday night demanding answers to flooding problems.

In the jam-packed Council Chambers, acting Mayor William L. Hurley, councilmen, City Manager Thomas W. Kressbach, and City Engineer Gilbert Jerome all tried to answer questions that were fired at them at an alarming rate of speed.

Citizens pointed their fingers accusingly at the new sewer system as the culprit. The City indicated that they felt the culprit to be the overloaded Fox Creek barrel, which takes the city's sewage to the city of Detroit.

City Engineer Jerome said all

Storm Drainage Systems Strained Beyond Capacity By Saturday's Heavy Rain

Flooded Basements And Buckled Pavements Left In Wake Of Storm; Fox Creek Outlet Unable To Handle Huge Volume

Heavy rains hit Grosse Pointe on Saturday, July 27, causing flooded basements, street cave-ins, curb lanes buckling and manhole covers taking to the air like flying saucers.

The rains came at 3:30 p.m. picked up in intensity at 4:30 and during the next hour 1 1/4 inches of rain fell, a near record amount for that time period.

In the Park, police reported seven cases of flooded basements. They also had complaints of a cover blowing off a manhole at 1204 Bishop and one in the Middlesex 700 block.

A street cave-in was reported in the 1300 block on Bedford and a hazardous condition was found on a sidewalk in front of 1159 Kensington.

Manhole Covers Fly Most severe damage in the Park occurred when manhole covers were blown high into the air along Mack avenue, and the pavement in the curb lanes buckled, causing traffic tie-ups Sunday and Monday. Park police rapidly moved to the scene to control traffic until the Wayne County Road Commission crew placed barricades and lights around the damaged areas.

At Mack and Three Mile drive, a parked truck was lifted into the air by the water pressure and moved 10 feet across the curb, police reported.

According to Herbert Hager, the Park's public service director, the pavement buckling along Mack was caused by the extremely heavy pressure, resulting from the heavy rains, on the Detroit's Blue Hill Pumping Station at 17145 Mack. There was severe pavement buckling on Mack between Berkshire and Buckingham and Devonshire. Three Mile and Audubon and Whittier and Kensington.

County road repair crews moved immediately into the area and the buckled lanes were made passable within a few days.

Farms public service director John A. Defoe said his office had received no calls of flooded basements although some streets in the Farms were flooded because the Fox Creek Drain became overloaded and was pumping against a full drain which caused manhole covers to be blown off at Kerby and Chalfonte, Cloverly and Chalfonte, and Fisher and Chalfonte.

Grosse Pointe Shores had no reports of flooding. Grosse Pointe Woods, according to City Administrator Chester E. Petersen, had reports of some flooding on Sunningdale in the vicinity of Morningside and the Hawthorne road-Morningside area. Mr. Petersen said that the city had very few reports of flooding except in that area.

20 Floods in City The City of Grosse Pointe had reports of 20 flooded basements. The flooding occurred primarily in the Charlevoix, Lakeland area, according to City Manager Thomas Kressbach.

Manhole covers at 870 Lincoln, at Fisher and Chalfonte, 843 Rivard, 592 Lakeland and 757 Notre Dame were also blown off. Even the discharge box at the Pumping Station was dislodged. Mr. Kressbach said that the problems resulted not from the inadequacy of the city's internal sewer system or pumping station facility, but because the Fox Creek Drain was overloaded making it impossible for the City to pump into the interceptor.

HORSE STORY An unidentified resident called Farms police July 25 to report seeing eight ponies on the grounds of Brownell Junior High School, in the company of numerous smiling children. Police investigated and made the acquaintance of eight ponies and numerous smiling children, who were members of the Neighborhood Club Day Camp, using the Brownell field with the permission of the Board of Education.

Voters Told Why Schools Need Money

Important Finance Propositions Will Be on Ballot At September 12 Special Election

On Thursday, September 12, voters in the area served by The Grosse Pointe Public School System (the five Grosse Pointes and a portion of Harper Woods) will ballot on two important school finance propositions.

The Grosse Pointe Board of Education is seeking approval of 4 1/2 additional mills for operation for 1968-69 and for 1969-70, and one mill for building improvement purposes to run for the next 10 years.

Passage of Proposition No. 1 would raise operating funds to keep Grosse Pointe competitive with salary schedules of other nearby school systems. The money would also be used to help meet additional costs of opening and operating Grosse Pointe North High School, as well as for increased costs of operating all schools and libraries.

Building Sites

Passage of Proposition No. 2 would provide money for building improvement and site purposes. Additions to elementary buildings, modernization of portions of Grosse Pointe South High School, improvement of

Farms Regatta Scene of Bout

Two Farms boys were charged with being disorderly persons by Farms police after they created a disturbance at the Farms Municipal Pier July 27, during the two-day Farms regatta.

The two were Michael Alan Dover, 19, and his brother Douglas 17, both of 253 Hillcrest. Michael was asked to leave the pier by Anthony Delsener, and reportedly refused, telling him, "You'll have to make me."

Both Michael and his brother Douglas reportedly resisted attempts to eject them from the park and shouted obscenity in the presence of many women and children.

The two were arranged before Judge Robert Pytel July 28. Michael entered a plea of "not guilty" and his brother stood mute. Since neither could post the $100 needed for bond, they were held overnight in jail and released the next morning upon payment of bail.

They will appear in the Farms court to face formal charges August 21.

Hearing August 7 On Hospital Plea To Change Zoning

Bon Secours Asking Permit to Construct 160-Bed Addition; New Entrance Would Be Created from East Jefferson Avenue

Representatives of Bon Secours Hospital will appeal at an August 7 public hearing for an amendment to the Grosse Pointe City zoning ordinance to permit construction of a 160-bed addition, which would conform in height and architecture with the present structure on Cadieux road, and a parking area south of the hospital.

The Grosse Pointe City Council has called the hearing for 8 p.m. in the Mair School gymnasium to review the June 14 petition of the Sisters of Bon Secours, who own and operate the hospital.

Bon Secours has asked the Council to rezone the present site bounded by Cadieux, Maumee, Notre Dame and Caroline for hospital use, and the 165-foot strip of land extending from Caroline to Jefferson for parking purposes.

Would Double Capacity The proposed expansion would increase the capacity of Bon Secours Hospital to 320 beds and permit the modernization of laboratories, x-ray and operating rooms, thus upgrading the quality of medical and surgical services.

The hospital proposes to limit the height of the new building addition to the 45 feet agreed upon in 1966 by the City and hospital. The present building is also 45 feet in height. The 1967 zoning ordinance allows a maximum height of 35 feet. Hospital planning authorities say that building a 160-bed addition less than 45 feet in height would require a sub-basement and impose severe operating inconvenience as well as a construction cost penalty of between $750,000 and $1 million.

Architecture of the proposed addition would harmonize with its surroundings to minimize its basically institutional character. The new section would blend with the present brick structure.

Ample Parking Space Parking for 400 cars would conform to all code requirements. The four-row parking facility between Caroline and Jefferson where the old commercial buildings would be replaced with a 50-foot setback, lawn and attractive granite wall and entrance gate.

The parking area would be thickly planted to screen it from properties facing Cadieux and Notre Dame. The hospital site itself also will be landscaped for the most pleasing appearance.

The expansion of Bon Secours to 320 beds has the approval of the Greater Detroit Area Hospital Council and the Wayne County Medical Association.

The Hospital Advisory Board has carefully analyzed the potential effects of the expansion from the standpoint of city services, utilities and traffic. The Jefferson entrance to the hospital grounds would minimize the effect of additional traffic.

AGAINST THE BIRDS

Mrs. Rae K. Bowman, 641 Neff, reported to City police on Wednesday, July 24, that a group of boys ran through her yard during the previous night and broke her bird feeder.

Three Teenagers Arrested For Possessing Marijuana

Farms police arrested three Pointe youths in front of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Monday night, July 29, and charged them with possession of marijuana.

The threesome, aged 15, 15, and 16, drew the attention of Patrolmen Otto Glanert and Samuel Cardella when they were standing in a group near the garage at the northeast corner of the War Memorial property. They were smilingly sharing a cigarette.

When the policemen approached, one boy threw the cigarette away. Patrolman Glanert recovered it. The Detroit Police crime lab later confirmed Glanert's hunch by identifying the contents of the cigarette as marijuana.

10 Offices, 4 Proposals On Ballot

U.S. Congress, State Legislature, and Several County Posts Contested

By Robert Wells

Polling places will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. for the Tuesday, August 6, general primary election in all of the five Grosse Pointes.

This year voters are being asked to shape their country's political course in one of the most crucial periods of American history. It is each voter's responsibility to educate himself and vote knowingly on these important questions August 6:

- Primary election for representatives from the Grosse Pointes in the State Legislature;
- Primary election for representatives from the 14th District in the U.S. House of Representatives. Democrat Lucien N. Nedzi is running unopposed, while in the Republican primary the battle is between two conservatives, Leslie Crane and Peter O'Rourke.

• Nomination of candidates for the newly created elective office of County Supervisor. This body will replace the present 136-man cumbersome Board of Supervisors, the membership of which has been either appointed or has served ex-officio by virtue of holding some other office.

• Primary election of candidates for seven Wayne County offices ranging from Sheriff to Drain Commissioner.

• Four ballot questions requiring a "yes" or "no" answer. They are a Wayne County ballot question asking voters to pass upon an important measure to renew a one-mill tax levy for five more years, and three proposed amendments to the State Constitution which are:

Proposal No. 1, to establish a Judicial Tenure Commission to investigate complaints of cases of misconduct or disability of judges in office.

Proposal No. 2, to create a seven-member commission to determine salaries and expenses for state government officials and members of the legislature.

Proposal No. 3, to permit the governor to appoint qualified lawyers to fill judicial vacancies until the next general election.

• Finally, precinct delegates—the closest link between individual citizens and their political parties—will be chosen for 32 precincts throughout the Pointes (see separate story, page X).

Absentee Ballots

For the many Pointe residents who plan to be out of town August 6, an absentee ballot application is available through your city offices, and it must be returned to them by August 3 at 2 p.m.

Absentee ballots are available to anyone who is over 70; is disabled and unable to get to the polls; is working election day as an inspector in another precinct; cannot go to the polls for religious reasons; or expects to be out of the city on election day.

Civic Searchlight

Candidates for each of these important elections are listed below, together with their rating by the Civic Searchlight, a non-partisan organization which attempts to make an unbiased, objective judgment of candidates' abilities.

In the election for State Representative, First District (which includes all of the Pointes except the Park south of Jefferson), Republican incumbent Robert E. Waldron is currently serving as House Speaker in his seventh term as State Representative.

He received a "Preferred and well qualified" Civic Searchlight rating.

His one Republican opponent is Henry E. Misteale, an attorney and fuel company executive who resides in the Woods. Misteale was rated "qualified" by Civic Searchlight.

As opposed to the more moderate Waldron, Misteale has conducted a mailing campaign hitting hard on conservative talking points like stronger law enforcement, a state stop-and-frisk law, cutting down on the

The City of Grosse Pointe until their investigation is completed.
The City engineers are looking into the situation and consulting with Detroit. They are making use of Detroit's statistical information in order to formulate an opinion to present to residents as well as a solution. Mr. Jerome indicated that Detroit had similar flooding problems last Saturday and that they too have a new sewer system. Mr. Jerome said that he was convinced that the problem the City is experiencing during severe storms is from external influences rather than internal ones.
Council members expressed deep concern over the Lakeland avenue problem and voted to concur with Mayor David Burgess' recommendation to approve a resolution regarding action on this matter.

The resolution states that it has been determined by the engineers for the City that the serious flooding conditions were not due to an inadequacy of either the sewer systems or the pumping facilities, but the Fox Creek Interceptor into which the City must pump sewage is being overloaded by other communities, making it hydraulically impossible for them to pump storm water into the interceptor.
The resolution also instructed the engineers to undertake an investigation to determine the cause of the overloading and advised the City attorney to review all agreements to which

The City is committed regarding the use of the Fox Creek Interceptor and to ascertain just what legal recourse if any, the City may have with the City of Detroit if the interceptor is found to be the culprit.
The Council also instructed Mr. Kressbach to coordinate the activities of the City engineer and attorney with the assistance of an independent consulting engineer and make a report at the next regular council meeting on August 12.
The Council also voted to defer payment to the City of Detroit for sewage payment, (annual capital charge 1968-69) in the amount of $2,696.54.
In the meantime the residents of Lakeland avenue will pray for a long, dry spell.

middle school facilities, and purchase of real estate for additional school sites, (if needed), are among the long-term goals which these funds will partially finance.
Reductions in expenses, curtailed program expansion, and deferred expenditures account for economies amounting to $200,000 in the budget proposed for 1968-69, school officials indicated.
In the schools' two-year budget projection expenditures of $12,516,000 have been estimated for 1968-69, while revenues are estimated at $11,782,000, leaving a deficit of $734,000 for the school year beginning in September.

See $2,566,000 Deficit
The total operating budget for 1968-70 has been estimated at $13,796,000, with revenues of $11,230,000, leaving a deficit of $2,566,000.
Salary increments for 1968-69 are pegged at $125,000 and salary adjustments at $750,000. The hiring of 50 additional members of the professional staff, including 24 high school teachers (grades 9-12), 22 teachers for the middle school (grades 6-8), 2 elementary teachers and 2 administrators for the secondary level amount to $450,000.
Additional operating costs needed to open North High School are pegged at $400,000. This includes salaries for plant personnel and secretarial assistance, utilities, custodial supplies, and maintenance.
In addition, $25,000 is earmarked in 1968-69 for special system-wide curriculum studies.
The budget estimated for 1969-70 amounts to $13,796,000. Salary increments are pegged at $125,000 and salary adjustments are estimated at $800,000. Twenty additional teachers are estimated to cost $180,000, and $175,000 has been earmarked for increased costs of such budget items as instructional supplies and equipment, utilities and custodial supplies.
Housing Problems
Approval of the one-mill building improvement levy sought by the Grosse Pointe Board of Education would permit the schools to attempt to solve housing problems before they reach the crisis stage.
Inherent in this method of financing, which is not new to Grosse Pointe, is the flexibility that would enable the Board to move swiftly to solve problems as they arise without the necessity of a bond issue. Further

Wayne County Drain Commissioner, Henry V. "Cap" Herrick, has built more drains while in office than were built in all the 50 years before he took office.

Pressure-packed storm sewers, unable to carry off the waters dropped by last Saturday afternoon's down-pour, exploded, causing damage such as this, in Mack avenue, Grosse Pointe Park.

Ingenious Quartet Stages Fun Fair to Help Hospital

Running out of things to do on these slow summer days? When there's no school . . . you've played every game you know three times and you're tired of riding around the same blocks on your bicycle?

Of course there's always tidily-winks . . . but four boys on Hawthorne road were a little bit more ingenious. They decided to give a "Fun Fair".

Once Doug Heller, 13 years old, Mike Murray, Jeff Hincks and Logan Wood, all 12, put their minds together, (and quite a bit of energy), it only took them a week to gather up a list of carnival games, a small collection of rummage, tickets and a couple of helpful mothers.

And on Saturday, July 27, at 10 a.m., the Hawthorne road "Fun Fair" opened its doors to a flock of neighborhood children with all kinds of pizzazz in the yard of the Henry Murrays.

One of the brave boys volunteered his service as a swinging target for a pie-throwing contest while the others kept the customers happy throwing darts at balloons, fishing for a stapled paper fish with a magnet, participating in a ball toss and a water guzzling contest and testing their aim by trying to loop a record on a peg.

By then, if the guests managed to get through this and a rummage sale of the boys' books and games, too, there were refreshments to the rescue, including a large supply of fresh popcorn popped by Mrs. Robert Hincks!

Though the fair was planned to last until 6 o'clock, all was not lost when the rains came at 3.

By then the boys had cleared a healthy profit and had earned a satisfying sense of achievement . . . which increased even more when they donated their $13 to Children's Hospital.

Yes, for a week four boys kept themselves very busy and their task surely scored higher than tidily-winks . . . so high that they'll even try it all over again next year.

So the next time you're bored . . . think ingeniously.

City firemen fought a fire in the wiring of the automobile of Mrs. Robert Frear, 416 Lakeland, on Friday, July 26. Fire-fighters disconnected the battery and radiator hose, removed the air filter and wet it down. The entire motor was burned and the hood of the vehicle badly scorched.

The fire is believed to have started from a flooded carburetor.

On The Issues

Law and Order:

"I believe that the first and foremost desire of all Citizens is for a return of law and order. I feel that present National and Local Administrations have flagrantly disregarded the wishes of the citizens in the matter."

Property Rights:

"The Citizen's right to own and dispose of his own property as he sees fit is guaranteed by the Constitution and cannot be abridged. Legislation to control such transactions is inappropriate. I oppose all such laws as they infringe on the rights of both the seller and the buyer."

Vietnam:

"In Vietnam, the Democratic Administration and Congress have been derelict in their duty in waging a foreign war without a legal Declaration of War by the Congress and without the approval of the people. We should make these persons answer for their conduct. This war can, and must be brought to an honorable end."

On The Opponent

Les Crane is opposed in this Primary Election by a Mr. Peter O'Rourke who says that he is for the "forgotten man, etc., etc." which sounds very nice. However, the truth is that Mr. O'Rourke is financed and supported by the Romney-Waldron wing of the Republican Party; the same people who have just given us the State Income Tax and the Forced Housing Law.

He believes the voters of this District are tired of professional politicians who say all the right things in order to get elected; and who then, after election, completely reverse their position on vital issues. In the past this conduct may have been excusable as "just politics," but, today, political decisions are affecting our very lives and safety. This is why LES CRANE, who is not a professional politician, but is a businessman and alarmed citizen is running for Congress.

Les Crane stands up for you and America and not for the Romney-Waldron brand of Republicanism.

There's more to Miami than great sun, sand and surf. When you want to go out on the town, there's a lot of town to go out on. Miami swings. And almost anyone can swing the cost of a vacation there.

Low summer prices mean that you can take a Miami vacation for about as much money as you spent last year at the lake,

For instance, on Eastern's exclusive Miami Beach Party vacation, you can spend 7 days there for only $150.50 a person, including your hotel and roundtrip air fare.

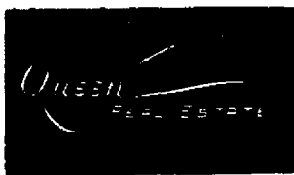

And if you like, you can even charge the whole thing on Eastern's Charge-A-Trip plan.

New City Ordinance Aimed At Weeds, Rubbish, Debris

The City of Grosse Pointe Council on Monday, July 29, voted unanimously to concur with the recommendation of City Manager Thomas Kressbach and passed on ordinance which will regulate the cutting and destruction of noxious weeds and other weeds, grass, brush and uncontrolled tree growth as well as the removal of refuse and debris upon lands located in the City.

The ordinance declares that all noxious weeds, wild brush or grass which are more than six inches high, or are growing or lying on any property in the City will be declared a public nuisance.

It gives the responsibility of cutting or destroying all noxious weeds to the owner, possessor or occupier of the land. If any of these persons fail to comply with these provisions the City Manager will have the weeds cut or destroyed charging the cost of this against the premises and the owner.

The ordinance also declares as a public nuisance any rubbish, trash, concrete, junk, dirt piles, logs, fallen branches or trees, old building materials, used appliances, used machinery, junk autos or motor vehicles without current license

Candidate Quits Supervisor Race

Jeffery W. Barry, a Republican candidate for County Supervisor in District 3, of which the City and Park are part, announced last week his withdrawal from the race.

He explained he would not have time to do justice to a campaign or to the job of County Supervisor, and offered his support to Republican William R. Bryant.

Other Republicans in the race are Larry N. Burns, Jr., Matthew E. Conner, John C. Foley, William G. Kirby, Norma J. Laskey and Eugene Mathivet, Jr.

Democratic candidates are: Thomas Morgan Craig, Adolph Delue, Gino Di Pace, Thomas J. Fox, Jr., James R. Friesma, Marion Macioce, John Patrick O'Leary, Edward McDonald Range, Tom E. Shannon and Bernard L. Van Antwerp.

According to a recent national magazine survey, average tax on a $20,000 Detroit home is $388 — slightly less than a national average of $396.

Now you get 5% annual interest guaranteed for 4 years. And 7 other benefits.

1. Maximum Interest Guaranteed. NBD guarantees you'll earn 5% annual interest for 4 years. By continuous compounding, your money will actually earn the equivalent of more than 5½% annually.

3. Convenient Withdrawal.

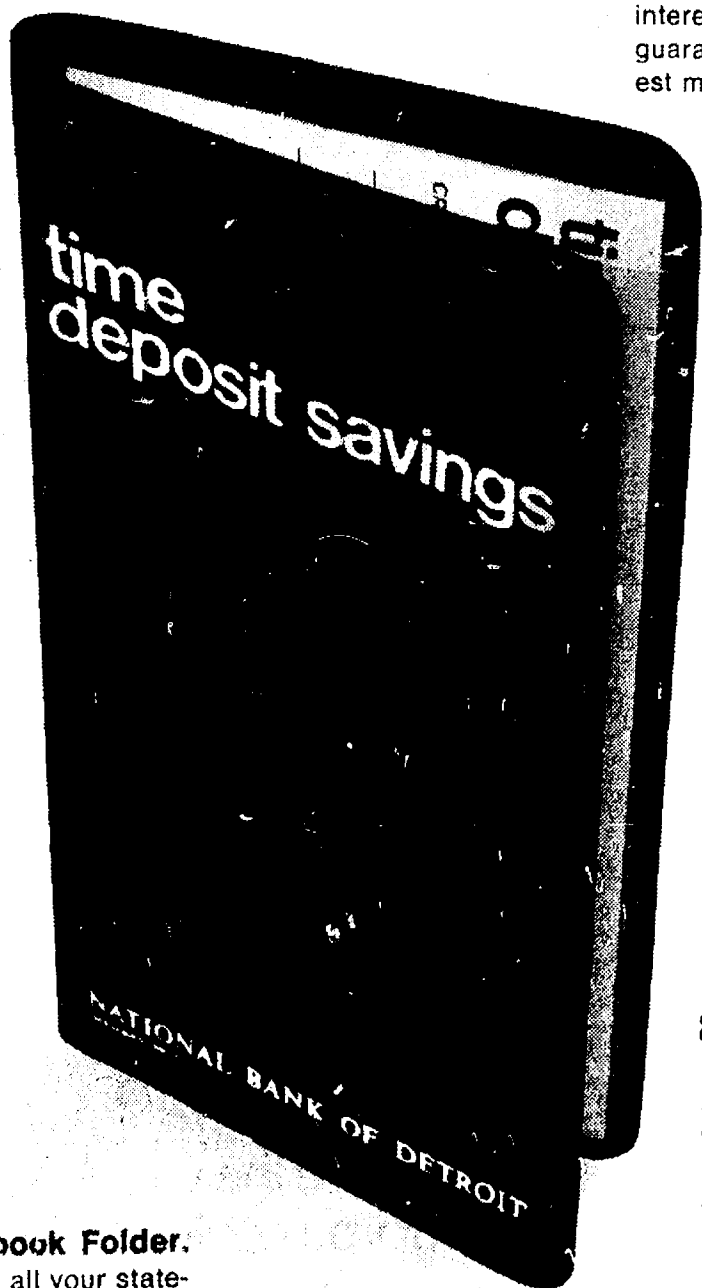

Any money that has been on deposit at least 90 days (the legally required limit) may be withdrawn. You can take it out during the first ten days of each calendar quarter without notice. Or at any time with the usual 3-month written notice. Any money withdrawn will have earned maximum interest right to the time you take it out.

5. New Quarterly Statements.

Statements, mailed you each quarter, show the current total of your account, including the additional deposits you've made. They also show the interest you've already earned. And the total amount that has been on deposit long enough to be available for withdrawal without notice.

7. Handy Passbook Folder.

Now you can keep all your statements, deposit and withdrawal slips and Income Tax Statement together in this compact passbook-type folder.

2. Continuous Compounding.

Since 5% is the maximum annual interest rate permitted by law, we couldn't change that. But we could increase the number of times the interest is compounded. We did. We guarantee to compound your interest minute by minute.

4. Add to Your Account.

You can open a Time Deposit with $1,000 or more. Then you can add to it in increments of $100 or more. Even arrange automatic transfer from your checking account. If you start with $1,000 and add $100 every month, for example, you'll have $6,423.95 at maturity.

6. Income Tax Statement.

You get a convenient year-end Income Tax Statement showing the total amount of interest earned during the year.

8. Security and Convenience of NBD.

NBD is one of the largest banks in the country... one reason we can guarantee your money will earn what we say it will earn. And to make it convenient for you, we have nearly 100 offices throughout the metropolitan area. Ask about guaranteed Time Deposits at the National Bank of Detroit.

Subject
SUPPORT FOR THE ZONING ORDINANCE WHICH PROHIBITS THE EXPANSION OF
BON SECOURS HOSPITAL

The proposed expansion plan of Bon Secours Hospital calls for the following amendments to the present Zoning Ordinance:

1. Amend the Zoning Map of the City of Grosse Pointe to show R-T Terrace District where R-1B Single Family Residential District now exists for property described as land bounded by Cadieux Road, Caroline, Notre Dame and Maumee Avenues, more commonly known as the present site of Bon Secours Hospital.
2. Amend the Zoning Map of the City of Grosse Pointe to show P-1 Vehicular Parking District where R-1B Single Family Residential District now exists for property commonly known as property between East Jefferson Avenue and Caroline Avenue and between the rear lot lines of property fronting upon Cadieux Road and Notre Dame Avenue.

3. Amend Section 5.176(4), Schedule of Regulations, to add a new footnote "j," which footnote will be set forth at Sect. 5.177, as follows:

"j. Buildings permitted in R-T district for nondwelling purposes such as schools, churches, libraries, and hospitals, shall be permitted a maximum height of forty-five (45) feet and shall not be limited in the number of stories within said height."

4. Amend Section 5.122(3) to provide that the minimum site area required for hospitals and nursing homes be not less than four (4) acres instead of the present ordinance requirement, which establishes a minimum site area for hospitals and nursing homes of five (5) acres.

We oppose these amendments because:

Bon Secours Hospital is seeking to expand to at least double its present size. The present Zoning Ordinance does not allow this expansion.

Some citizens of the City of Grosse Pointe feel that the Hospital has a right to expand as a result of recent court decisions but the facts are:

FACT #1: The Appeals Court and Circuit Court judgements relate to the Old Zoning Ordinance and do not have any effect on the present Zoning Ordinance.

FACT #2: Under the present Zoning Ordinance Bon Secours Hospital does not have the right to expand. In order for the Hospital to expand, the present Zoning Ordinance must be amended by action of the City Council. Since it will take a vote of 3/4 of the council to amend the ordinance, the votes of two councilmen can prevent a change.

FACT #3: In considering changes, amendments or the granting of variances, the council has no legal pressure on it whatsoever. If the council refuses to amend the Zoning Ordinance as desired by the Hospital and is sued again by the Hospital, the present Zoning Ordinance will be much easier to defend in Court.

It is the opinion of legal council that defense of the Old Ordinance was difficult because it was poorly written and that the Hospital won several points in court on technicalities. The present Zoning law has been drawn up with the assistance of professional City Planners and legal consultants for the express purpose of eliminating such loopholes. No institution has an automatic or legal right to cause zoning laws to be written for its own purposes.

REFERENDUM. On November 5, 1963 the Citizens of the City of Grosse Pointe voted against allowing further expansion of Bon Secours Hospital. Nothing has happened in the intervening years to change the arguments against the expansion (Nor for that matter has anything changed the arguments for expansion).

TAXES. The City of Grosse Pointe already has the highest Tax rate of any of the Pointes. Bon Secours Hospital pays NO taxes to the City of Grosse Pointe, but additions to the Hospital will create a need for still more tax supported services—Fire, Police, Sewage, recreational—while removing additional property from the City and School Tax Rolls.

THE THREAT TO RESIDENTIAL CHARACTER. At a cost of $9,000.00, in City of Grosse Pointe Funds, a professional community planning organization was retained to provide expert, unbiased counsel on matters such as the Bon Secours expansion. Headed by Scott Bagby, this professional planning firm has advised that Bon Secours expansion should be halted now, because, if permitted, it will have a serious, long range, disastrous impact on the entire character of the Grosse Pointe Communities.

As a result of the Bagby Report the City of Grosse Pointe hired the Firm of Perkins Rogers & Associates to assist in preparing the Present Zoning Ordinance. Again the professional planners advised against expansion and this time the Hospital was properly placed in a residential zone that does not allow hospitals. It is a non-conforming use and has no right to expand.

If the City Zoning laws are amended to accommodate the Hospital it will be just the beginning of many amendments and many accommodations. For example, August Brandt is presently suing the City to allow him to build Apartments in a single family area. The Grosse Pointe Nursing Home on Fisher Road has tiled an official notice with the City that it desires and needs to expand. O'Leary Cadillac, this E. Jefferson property owned by the Standard Oil Co., is presently vacant... a non-conforming use in a residential zone. Verbrugge Meat Market wishes to modernize and expand at the old location on St. Clair. And once the first request for an amendment was granted there would be many more.

SUB-STANDARD LAND USE. On February 3, 1953 while seeking the permit that enabled it to expand to its present size (160 beds), the Hospital presented the following statement:

"Pursuant to your request for a statement of the future plans of Bon Secours Hospital, the Board of Trustees wishes to state that upon completion of the addition now under construction (1953) with the additional floors for which a permit is now requested, the hospital will be complete and that the hospital has no future plans for increasing its size.

Discussion and speculation by residents of the community to the effect that ultimately all of the land would be occupied by buildings probably arose by reason of the prospective drawings that were published in the mid twenties, although no plans for such buildings were ever drawn.

This hospital like all others is composed of departments and beds for the patients. Without the departments there is no necessity for beds. These departments are the x-ray, delivery and operating rooms, chemistry and bacteriology laboratories, radiographic and fluoroscope rooms and kitchen. All of these departments at Bon Secours are so designed and constructed that they cannot possibly serve a greater number of beds than that which the new proposed addition will provide. To increase the size of the hospital beyond this new addition would necessitate the building of completely new departments which means in effect a completely new hospital.

The present site is obviously not sufficient in size for the erection of a completely new hospital, nor is there any apparent reason to erect another hospital on this very site.

We wish to reiterate what has been said many times before that neither this Board nor the Sisters in charge have the power to commit the hospital to any perpetual plan or program, but we believe the physical facts recited above are a greater barrier to the hospital's growth than any warranty that could be made to this Honorable body.

Respectfully yours,
BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF
BON SECOURS HOSPITAL

TRAFFIC HAZARDS. The MAIRE School PTA has passed a formal resolution opposing the expansion plans and registered concern over traffic increases and the safety of our children. Parkins, Rogers & Associates has studied the traffic flow and indicates that strong measures would have to be taken to control increases resulting from the proposed expansion.

COUNCILMEN. A NO VOTE on the proposals to amend the present Zoning Ordinance to allow Bon Secours Hospital to expand will demonstrate your dedication to the community as a whole.

"continual rise in state spending," and cracking down on "the draft dodgers and flag burners."
In the Democratic First primary for State Representative, Walter F. Collins, a Farms resident, faces Manuel L. Papista, an attorney who resides in the City. Each is rated "well qualified" by Civic Searchlight.

Park's Race
In the portion of the Park which falls in the Third District, incumbent William A. Ryan is unopposed in the Democratic primary. Of three Republican contenders, Edgar W. Smith, Alice Thomas, and Martha S. Williams, Mrs. Williams received a "qualified" rating and the other two received no designation from Civic Searchlight.

With Lucien N. Nedzi running unopposed on the Democratic slate for 14th District representative in Congress, attention shifted to the race between two conservatives on the Republican ballot.

Leslie Crane, whose business is property management and who resides in the Woods, listed as the major issues of his campaign "uncontrollable crime," increasing taxation with increasing domestic and international problems, and the "inconclusive" policy of the Vietnam war, a war which he described as "undeclared and therefore illegal."

He acknowledged that he is a member of the John Birch Society, an ultra-conservative political group, calling it "one of the best educational organizations I have ever found." He is endorsed by the East Detroit Home Owners' Organization.

Crane's opponent, Peter O'Rourke, last week received the endorsement of U.S. Senator Robert P. Griffin for the primary election. O'Rourke, characterizing himself as the candidate of the "forgotten man," has been focusing his campaign on the failures of the Johnson-Humphrey administration. He recently wrote a letter to Secretary of State Dean Rusk asking him to straighten out the "incredible blunder" of the Pueblo incident.

County Supervisors
The City, Park and Farms fall into the Third District in the County Supervisor voting, where there is a full slate of candidates competing in both party primaries.

One Democrat, Marion Macioco, a retired union official, received a "well qualified" Civic Searchlight rating; his opponents who were rated "qualified" are Thomas Morton Craig, Adolph DeLue, Gino Di Pace, Thomas J. Fox, Jr., James R. Friesema, John Patrick O'Leary, Edward McDonald Ranger, and Tom E. Shannon. Bernard L. VanAntwerp received no rating.

Republicans rated "well qualified" were Mathew E. Conner, William G. Kirby, and Eugene C. Mathivet, Jr. The other three candidates—William R. Bryant, Jr., Larry N. Burns and John C. Foley, were rated "qualified." The name of Jeffery W. Barry will also appear on the ballot. Barry withdrew from the election recently, too late to have his name removed from the ballot. Norma J. Laskey received no rating.

Woods, Shores Race
Woods and Shores residents will vote for candidates in the First District for County Supervisor.

In the Democratic primary, "well qualified" ratings went to Frank Condino, an attorney from the Woods, Perry W. Lewis, an attorney and president of the Grosse Pointe Democratic club who has identified his candidacy with support for Senator Eugene J. McCarthy's Presidential bid; Mike Novak, vice-president of the Wayne County AFL-CIO; and Esther Williams, representative in Probate Court for The Legal Adviser. "Qualified" ratings went to the other Democrats, Witold E. Bentkowski, Max M. Marston, George Scopas, M. John Shamo and Edward J. Tomas. The other candidates, Michael Boland, George R. Kaye, H. E. McCorkle, Betty D. Mihalko, James Albert Owens, Francis E. Shanahan, and Ronald S. Wojital, received no rating.

Republicans
In the Republican primary, Civic Searchlight rated Donald

Brown, a Woods attorney, "well qualified," Ross C. Christie, Sr., a real estate broker, "qualified," and gave Stanley J. Mistaleski, Jr., no rating.

In the Wayne County Prosecuting Attorney Democratic primary, William L. Cahalan was rated "preferred and well qualified," Nicholas Arvan and Samuel G. Thorne were rated "qualified," and Stephen M. Taylor received no rating. In the two-man field for Republican nominee, Joseph Edward Stermer was rated "preferred and well qualified" and William H. Ferguson was rated "qualified."

County Sheriff
Democratic candidates for the $21,000, four-year post of County

Sheriff are Roman S. Gribbs ("preferred and well qualified," the incumbent), Louis F. Simons and Philip J. Van Antwerp (both "well qualified").

Newcomers to the community, or long-time residents who are not registered voters, are reminded that in order to cast a ballot in the September 12 school millage election, they must register at their city office building by 5 p.m. on August 9. School officials said that the last day to apply for an absentee ballot for the school election is 2 p.m. on September 10.

PERSISTENT VANDALS
City police received a report on Sunday July 28, from Mrs. Carleton Healy, 589 Lincoln, revealing that someone had driven a car across her lawn and torn up the grass by spinning the tires. Park Bathhouse Work Underway

Bricklayers will begin work on the new 400-locker bathhouse at Grosse Pointe Park's Waterfront Park today, according to Robert J. Stone, city manager. Lights around the uncompleted swimming pool also will be installed.
Construction of both the pool and the bathhouse were halted by a strike in the building industry. Stone said completion of the project will take about 45 days, by which time the outdoor swimming season will be closed.

A total of $130 in fines, with an alternative of 20 days in jail, and the suspension of his driver's license, was the sentence imposed on a young drinking driver, Lawrence Mangold, 20 years old, of 8202 Tumey, Detroit, in Grosse Pointe Park Municipal Court by Judge C. Joseph Belanger, Wednesday July 24.

Mangold was charged with speeding 40 miles an hour in a 25-mile zone, ($15 or five days), as a minor for having liquor in his possession, ($40 or five days), and for being under the influence of intoxicating liquor, ($75 or 10 days). Then his driver's license was suspended for six months.

Ticketed twice in June for exceeding speed limits was John Emery, 17, of 564 Lakeland, Grosse Pointe. For driving 35 miles an hour in a 25-mile zone, on June 9, he was sentenced to pay a $15 fine or spend five days in jail. On June 25, young Emery was ticketed for driving 50 miles per hour in a posted 30-mile area, drew a fine of $30 or 10 days in jail. Both fines were paid.

John Balus, of 479 Marlborough, Detroit, entered a guilty plea for driving without an operator's license in his possession, for which he was ordered by Judge Belanger to pay a fine of $25 or spend 10 days in jail.

He also was placed on probation for 90 days, during which period he is prohibited from driving. Then he entered a plea of not guilty on a charge of leaving the roadway and driving over a curb. He was found guilty, and sentenced to pay a $10 fine, or spend five days in jail. He paid the $35 fines.

Orlando Alphonso, of 2878 Chalmers, Detroit, was ticketed for littering after he threw an empty beer can out his car window into the street on July 2. After pleading guilty he paid a fine of $15.

Robert McEachern of 568 St. Clair, Grosse Pointe, forfeited a bond of $17.50 when he failed to appear in court to answer a charge of speeding 38 miles an hour in a 25-mile zone.

TIRE AND WHEEL GONE

Shirley Richard, 528 Neff Lane, called City police on Sunday, July 28, to report that persons unknown to her had entered her garage sometime between 11 a.m. and 12:50 p.m. on that date and stolen a white and chrome wheel off her bicycle.

LIFEBOAT LEAVES

Gilbert Pingree, 270 Voltaire place, came to the Farms police station July 26 to report the larceny from his property of a yellow rubber life raft, which had been sitting at poolside.

Woods Police Rebut Critic

Woods public safety officials have rebutted charges against their department voiced in a letter to the NEWS which appeared in last week's newspaper.

In the letter, Charles E. Getler, of 700 S. Oxford, charged that it was a delay by the police in replacing misplaced barricades that had caused an accident at the corner of South Oxford and Wedgewood which injured two persons July 9.

Getler charged he had called the police at 9 p.m. and told them the barricades were out, and that police had not replaced them by 10:36 p.m. when the accident took place.

The barricades were blocking—or were supposed to be blocking, depending on whom you believe—a hole in the road which was being repaired. A car driven by Lewis J. Castern and carrying Miss Maureen Polkinghorne drove into the hole, injuring them both.

In the latest chapter of the unfolding drama, Woods Director of Public Safety Allen H. Andrews wrote to Getler July 24 and cited the report of another resident who said that by 10 p.m. the barricades had in fact been replaced, leaving Woods police to believe that the Castern car drove through the barricades.

Andrews' letter concluded: "I regret that you found it necessary to write to a citizen and to the newspaper alleging neglect on our part before you gave me the opportunity to determine the facts. However, I hope the matter has been clarified to your satisfaction since we place great importance in having every citizen regard us as . . . very courteous and efficient . . . as you mention in your letter."

The Port of Detroit had nearly 1,000 vessel calls from overseas ports last year and a total shipping volume in excess of 100 million tons.

LARRY BURNS For County Supervisor

LARRY BURNS seeks your vote as an intelligently alarmed citizen who in his concern, and in the absence of large circulation newspapers, gave wide publicity to the massive danger of exorbitant supervisor salaries. At his urgent pleading weekly newspapers throughout the country editorialized on this matter. Dozens of candidates, Republican and Democrat, from 20 of the 26 county districts, at his invitation, promised to resist 15 thousand or even 20 thousand dollar salaries for what has always been a part-time office.

It is not enough to be against high salaries only in this district. If the movement is not county-wide it is doomed to failure. Recognizing this, LARRY BURNS supplied the missing leadership. This leadership together with Vigor and habit of making informed decisions suits him particularly for the office.

VOTE FOR

LARRY N. BURNS 607

Republican Third District

Oh! Yes For those who asked: Larry Burns is 43, married, a veteran of Pacific combat duty with the Marine Corps in W.W. II. Educated at the University of Michigan and Tulane University. He is a property owner and operates his own financial consultant service. Resident of Grosse Pointe Park for over 7 years. He favors Wayne County Home Rule. He is, fortunately, an amateur in politics, but a professional in Financial Affairs. He believes the salary for County Supervisor should be in the region of $2,500.00 annually.

Are you fed up?

Peter O'Rourke is!

As a candidate for Congress, Peter O'Rourke directs this message to the people of the 14th Congressional District...

"I am entering this election because I believe the people of my district... the people of this state... in fact all the people of this country have been poorly served by the Johnson-Humphrey Administration and by its supporters in Congress.

PETER O'ROURKE
Republican
Candidate for Congress
14th Congressional District
(Includes east side of Detroit, the Grosse Pointes, Hamtramck and Harper Woods)

• An attorney—eight years of legal practice in local, state and federal courts handling a wide variety of civil and criminal matters as both defense counsel and plaintiff's attorney. He is a partner in the firm of Elsmann, Young & O'Rourke. • A native Detroit—born here 34 years ago. • Educated in Detroit—a graduate of St. Agnes Elementary School, Highland Park High School, Wayne State University, and Detroit College of Law. • Married—to the former Susan Gehring of Detroit. • A veteran—three years on active duty as an officer in the United States Coast Guard, including two years of sea duty in the Pacific and Far East. • Active in civic and community affairs—United Foundation; Detroit Jaycees (Junior Board of Commerce); East Side Children's Campers Bureau; University of Detroit Urban Law Office; Republican Lawyers Advisory Council.

Despite civil rights legislation of the past few years, there is a wider gulf between the average black man and the average white man than existed seven years ago.

I say the Democratic administration is a failure because it has failed totally in the management of our fiscal affairs.

The Administration has fiddled while our national treasury burned. The dollar once the main pillar of international money, is now looked at skeptically in the centers of world finance. Our gold reserve has been permitted to dwindle. Inflation rules the land, the reckless, unwise economic policies of the Administration have taken money from those who can least afford it—the working man, the poor, the aged.

By insisting that they can give everyone something for nothing, the Administration has reduced the value of everything anyone has.

I say the Democratic administration is a failure because it has directed the most expensive and most futile domestic welfare program ever conceived. And the poor, the disadvantaged and the unfortunate are more unhappy, more rebellious and further behind economically and socially than they have ever been.

I say the Democratic administration is a failure because it has failed totally in the conduct of our foreign policy. The Administration has gotten us hopelessly enmeshed in the most futile, mismanaged war in history. The Administration's conduct of that war has become a corrosive divider of the American people unparalleled except for the Civil War. It has cost us the respect and friendship of people and nations around the globe. It has given comfort to our enemies.

I have no magic answer to lifting the cross we are carrying in Viet Nam. But it is clear to me that the present leadership of this nation is incapable of finding an honorable and effective solution there. The Administration is blinded by its own fog of confusions, delusions and deceptions and haunted by its own mistakes. Only a complete change in leadership... in the White House and in the Congress... can find a way out in Viet Nam.

In all of these areas, and many more, the Democrats in the White House and on Capitol Hill have been long on talk and short on achievement. The Great Society is a great empty promise.

And I believe the administration and its followers have lost touch with the great majority of the decent, hard working, law abiding citizens who are this nation's greatest strength. Those citizens aren't always easy to hear. They are America's forgotten people.

They don't stage demonstrations, wave banners, invade public offices, burn crosses, foment riots, rant from soap boxes, or do any of the other things that lately are the way to get attention from government.

They're too busy earning a living, raising their children, helping their neighbors and trying to make this a better society by making themselves better citizens. I will campaign for Congress as a man who is trusted as they are and who wants to give the forgotten people a voice in government once more.

My only promise will be a vow to represent the interest of those people whose sweat, effort and faith make this country go.

It is those men and women—now largely ignored—who have always been the true source of American greatness and who are the real builders of our future.

Strange Visitor Found in Home

Marvin Zillman, of 725 Vernier, came home July 29 at mid-evening and found a man going out the back door into his yard. He enquired as to why the man was there and the latter replied he was looking for a place to stay.

Then the visitor walked away on Vernier, while Zillman called police.

A man meeting Zillman's description of his visitor was arrested shortly thereafter by Woods police and identified as Junious Naquin, 22, who gave his address as a rural post office box in Louisiana. He was charged with vagrancy.

LOST MOWER

Richard Leslie, of 1888 Littlestone, reported to Woods police July 29 that a $160 Sears Craftsman lawn mower had been stolen from his garage during the previous night.

Farms Regatta Successful Despite Delay by Weather

Although the heavy rains late Saturday afternoon caused the afternoon activities of the Grosse Pointe Farms Boat Club's 16th Annual Regatta to be postponed until Sunday it was well worth it.

Balmy breezes and bright sunshine greeted the Regatta goers Sunday along with the lively music of the Moslem Temple Highlanders.

One of the highlights of the day was the selection of Grosse Pointe Farms Junior Miss. Winner was Sue Smolerski, of Mapleton Road, a student at St. Paul's. Runner-up and winner of the talent award was Sue Morgan, of Fisher road, a student at Grosse Pointe High School. Ann Champion, Marie Bridge and Susan Sendelback were among the finalists.

Grosse Pointe Farms Junior Miss Sue Smolerski will compete for Michigan's Junior Miss of 1968. If she wins she'll go on to Mobile, Ala., and compete for scholarships and the title of America's Junior Miss. Sue was crowned by Marilyn Van Horn, last year's Grosse Pointe Farms Junior Miss, and presented with a dozen red roses, a scholarship award, and merchandise awards.

All of the finalists received merchandise and scholarship awards.

Many of the Boat Club members won awards and trophies during the gala boat races. Richard Huvare won the Commodore Famulara Trophy, first prize for inboards in his Donzi, Robert Gurn's Chris Craft took second prize.

In Class A-outboards Mike Walworth took first place, Joe Perry, second and Tom Cartmill, third.

Class B saw George Simon capture a first place, Joe Simon, second and Kurt Scharfenberg, third.

Class C (Dinghy) came up with Mike Allor in first place, Jim Allor, second place, and Terry Walworth in third place.

Bernard Allor won the Special Award.

In the sailboat competition, Howard Krieger in his Flying Scott placed first, William Laitner in his Lightning, second, and Heinz Hintzen in his Lightning, third.

Pete Philip took first prize in the sailfish competition, George Simon (Sunfish), placed second and Stephen Mathers third.

The fleet review of decorated boats was a beautiful sight to behold. Jeff Malooly, (Flower Power), placed first in the Outboard classification with Jim Allor, (16 years), placing second and Peter Holmes, (Bagpipes), placing third.

In the sailboat classification Stewart McLaren, (Babes in Toyland), was awarded first prize, Jeff Craft, (Monte Boto), second and Kitty Craft, (Noah's Ark), third.

In the cruiser classification, Warrent Nott, (Geisha), captured first place, Joe Maurer, (Talk to the Animals), third, and Mary Hawley, (Yankee Clipper), third.

A special ingenuity award went to John Crowley, (Fireboat). Competition was keen in the decorated bicycle contest. There were 92 entries. Among the top winners were Bob Smale, (American Eagle), Ann and Matt Kornmeier, (Bride and Groom), Monica Billquist, (Mermaid), and Jennifer Flood, (Japanese Garden).

The evening was topped off with dancing to the music of "Chalk", which features Chip Delsener, drums; Mark Millick, organ; Dave Wightman, lead guitar; and Rudy Palombit, bass guitar.

The one-destination airline.

Don't get us wrong. Delta's the fifth largest airline in the country. Obviously, we didn't get that way by flying to only one place. We serve 60 cities in the U.S. and Caribbean.

Our timetable is sixty-four pages thick, with listing after listing of all the cities we fly to.

And from.

All of which might be very interesting, if you're the kind of person who likes to read airline timetables.

But most likely, you just want to get where you're going and back, with as few problems as possible.

Of all the destinations we could offer, you're only interested in one. If we get off-schedule, even thru no fault of ours, you still blame Delta. We expect it. Our business is to get you there.

After all, you didn't buy a ticket because you enjoy airplane interiors; you bought it because you wanted to go someplace. And if we couldn't get you there properly...well, we had our chance and missed it.

That's why we call ourselves the one-destination airline. We want to give you the distinct impression that the city we're flying you to is the only one we're flying to. We want to have such an impressive schedule of flights, at such ideal times, that you'll think of us as the airline to that city. We'd like nothing better than for you to never know or care that we ever fly anywhere except where you want us to.

In fact, if you're ever flying somewhere with us, and happen to see another Delta plane heading in another direction, we'd appreciate it if you'd just try not to notice.

Grosse Pointe Woods will seek to defend the title it captured last summer in this year's annual Pointe Inter-City Swimming Meet on Saturday, August 10, in the Woods' own pool. Entries from all the five Pointes are expected to compete in 40 different events for the winners' trophies. The day-long contest is open to all Pointe residents age 16 and under, and they need not necessarily be members of the Pointe swimming teams already competing regularly. Information about entry can be obtained from any of the Pointe lake-front parks. Preliminary events begin at 10 a.m. that day with final run-offs beginning at 6 p.m. Ten swimmers — two from each Pointe — will compete in the preliminaries and the best six will remain for the finals.

Boating Classes Attended by 3520

Coast Guard Auxiliary Division XII Public Education Officer, Ronald Nelson, has reported a record number of 2,145 students were enrolled in the Auxiliary's 8-Lesson Basic Seamanship Course Spring classes, recently completed.

Slightly over 80 percent of the students enrolled completed the final examination and were awarded the highly respected Coast Guard Auxiliary Basic Seamanship Certificate. "We are very proud of the fine showing made by these students. When they took to the lakes and rivers in their new boats, these new boaters were well equipped with a good basic knowledge of the responsibilities that are now theirs for safe boating operation," stated Nelson.

"Many of this year's new boat owners who did not enroll in the Safe Boating Public Education classes that were offered this Spring by the Coast Guard Auxiliary in the Detroit and suburban areas, are now finding that operating a boat without some prior education in the basic fundamentals of boating, is not as simple and carefree as they had originally anticipated it would be," stated Division XII Captain Frank Muehl, Jr.

"These new boaters and even experienced boatmen, desiring a better understanding of the basic fundamentals of safe boating and to learn more about the various changes in rules and regulations concerning both Federal and State waters, are urged to enroll in the fall classes which are scheduled to start early in September," continued Captain Muehl.

In addition to the students enrolled in the 8-Lesson Basic Seamanship Course classes, 1, 335 boys and girls between the ages of 12 and 16 were enrolled in the State of Michigan Safe Boating classes conducted by the Auxiliary.

Approximately 95 percent of the children enrolled passed the final examination and were awarded the State of Michigan Boating Certificate. This certificate is now a requirement for all children in the above age group who operate motorboats when not accompanied by a person over 16 years of age.

A complete schedule of the Coast Guard Auxiliary Safe Boating Fall classes for the 8-Lesson Basic Seamanship Course and the Children's Safe Boating classes will be released the latter part of August — watch for it.

Quick Thinking Girls Praised

Quick thinking on the part of Nancy Miller, eight, 616 University and Lucy Quinn, 10, of 592 University, prevented serious fire damage to the Frank Cherry residence at 628 University on Sunday, July 28.

The two young ladies were walking on University when they noticed smoke coming from both sides of the house. They immediately called the City Fire Department, who had to force open the rear door to gain admittance.

Firefighters found a metal bucket on the stove had gone dry and the articles in the pail had caught on fire. There was no fire damage to the house but extensive smoke damage. Firemen used a smoke ejector fan to air out the house. They congratulated the young ladies on their quick action.

Those with reasons for their actions seldom need excuses.

Building Request Granted Frazer

John Palmer Frazer, of 285 Washington road, was reminiscent of the men of F. Scott Fitzgerald's day Monday night as he captivated those in attendance at the City of Grosse Pointe Council Meeting at a Public Hearing, with his plea to rezone three lots of Frazer Estate Sub-division, on Roosevelt place, from R-1A Single Family Residential (for the larger home), to R-1B Single Family Residential (for the smaller custom built home).

Mr. Frazer pointed out the architectural beauty of the three homes he plans to have built by Frank D. Wilberding and said these houses will boost the value of the street and animate the area. He further explained that the houses will be set back 25 feet, that he is allowing 38 feet between houses and that each house will have a two car garage with space for two more cars to park in the driveway.

Not as enchanted with Mr. Frazer's statements as was most of the audience was Joseph F. Maycock, Jr., attorney and son of J. Farwell Maycock who owns property in Roosevelt place. Mr. Maycock pointed out that the addition of these three houses on as narrow a street as Roosevelt place (the street is 18 feet wide), and with the additional children in these houses, a dangerous situation would be created.

He added that there was no good reason for rezoning and that the rezoning in his opinion would downgrade the neighborhood. He especially stressed the difficulty people would have getting out of the driveways if cars were parked directly across the street.

Mr. Wilberding and Mr. Frazer indicated that the driveways would fan out to facilitate ingress and egress.

Residents of the area with sentiments pro and con were present. Mr. Maycock presented a letter in the form of a petition from some 10 area families objecting to the rezoning.

A vote was then taken and the Council voted to grant Mr. Frazer's request.

Following this vote the Council then convened as a Board of Zoning Appeals and unanimously granted Mr. Frazer the following variances on these lots.

The reduction of the lot area per dwelling unit from 7,500 square to 5,625 square feet on lots three and four and to 5,322.6 square feet for lot five. The reduction of the fronting unit from 1,000 square feet to 25 feet and the reduction of the combined side yards requirement from 18 to 16 feet. Also reduction of the minimum first floor area per dwelling unit from 1,000 square feet to 921.6 square feet and the reduction of the rear yard requirement from 25 feet to 14 feet.

Nearly half of retail spending by Detroiters goes for cars and groceries — the two largest consumer expenditures, aside from housing.

Pharmacy Plans Improvements

The City of Grosse Pointe Council at its meeting Monday, July 29, voted unanimously to allow owners of Notre Dame Pharmacy, 16929 Kercheval, to build an overhanging roof on the front of the building and a below grade foundation to support a new brick veneer facade.

The roof would overhang the sidewalk 30" at an elevation of nine feet, and the footing would extend approximately eight inches under the existing sidewalk.

City Manager Thomas Kressbach told the Council that he felt the proposed alteration would make a valuable improvement to the Village.

He recommended the encroachment on the city-right-of-way be granted with the following conditions: that the owners of Notre Dame Pharmacy assume full liability for any damages sustained by the city arising by reason of granting this permit; that they file with the city a document approved by the city attorney which is in recordable form and condition to indemnify and "save harmless" the city from any loss or damage which may arise during the life of the encroachment; that the city can revoke the permit at will and that the owners would then remove the encroachment with no cost to the city, and that the encroachment shall not be continued beyond the life of the existing building.

Metropolitan Detroit has an estimated population of 4,214,000 — a 12 percent increase since the 1960 Census.

Woods Boaters Plan Contest

What, pray tell, is a "predicted log contest"?

If you guess that it involves (a) lumberjacks, (b) fireplace, or (c) mathematical computations... you're wrong. And furthermore, you don't know much about boating.

To get the right answer, attend the fourth annual Predicted Log Contest to be held at the Grosse Pointe Woods Boat Club on August 10.

The contest is an event in which skippers of power boats try to estimate accurately their time required to cover a predetermined course of approximately 25 miles.

Then, predictably, the contestants will gather for a dinner party at the end of the race, giving everyone reason to suspect that the contest may just be an excuse to get together and talk about boating.

The race begins at 12 noon at the Woods lakefront park, and the whole affair will be hashed over dinner (hopefully not hash), at the Rendezvous Inn, near Windsor, Ont., that evening starting at 7:30.

Anyone desiring further information on how to enter can contact Larry Sullivan, of the Woods Boat Club, at TU 1-8631.

Look out for vacationing children, motorists—expect them to do the unexpected.

This man is weeding his lawn!

YESTERDAY he used Plus 2. Now, while he sleeps, the dandelions, the plantain, the chickweed (and similar kinds of rosette and vining weeds) are on their way out. And one morning a little later, he'll look at his lawn and notice that they have completely faded away.

How things change. Once upon a time people used to dig out weeds, one at a time. A backbreaking job. And worst of all, it didn't really work. If you didn't get every bit of it out, the weed would grow right back up again.

Today, in minutes, America spreads Turf Builder Plus 2 and gets to the root of the matter. Rosette and vining weeds soon vanish and the grass itself gets thicker and greener because Plus 2 feeds as it weeds.

When's the right time to use it? Right now while your Scotts dealer is having a money-saving Weeds Away Sale. You'll be on your way to a better than ever lawn this fall.

Crabgrass a problem? Clobber it promptly with two applications of Clout. At special sale prices right now.

Pointe Priest Sees Need To Fight White Racism

 By Robert Wells
 Father Thomas Finnigan, 37 and idealistic, isn't afraid to say he feels there are "racists" in Grosse Pointe.

 Assigned just a month ago to the Our Lady Star of the Sea parish, Father Finnigan will help to direct the activities of the Pointe's Suburban Action Center, which will be set up this fall.

 The Suburban Action Center, sponsored by the Interfaith Action Council and the New Detroit Committee (two groups that grew out of last summer's Detroit riots), will attempt to involve suburbanites in the cause of racial reconciliation.
 Several will be established in the Detroit area.

 Father Finnigan feels there is an immense job ahead teaching Grosse Pointers to be "more Christ-like" in their attitudes toward their fellow men.

 He believes in a ministry of more than words. For example, while assigned to the St. Francis de Sales parish on Detroit's northwest side, he helped form ACCESS (Action Committee to End Segregation in Society), and was its co-chairman for two years.

Reverse Discrimination
 In these two years, the group conducted a heated struggle against the alleged discriminatory practices of the United Northwest Real Estate Association (UNREA).

 UNREA's strategy was to squeeze whites out of integrated neighborhoods until they were left black, a policy of "reverse discrimination," according to Father Finnigan.

 Father Finnigan and ACCESS launched a gutsy block-by-block petition campaign against the realtors' group. "We felt that the real estate industry was manipulating the market," he explained. "We watched neighborhoods go from white segregated to integrated to black segregated."

 The battleground was an area of Detroit stretching roughly from Livernois to Schaeffer and from Schoolcraft to 8 Mile.

 After the door-to-door campaign had pledged thousands of residents to refuse to sell their homes through UNREA, the realtors' group made several major concessions to ACCESS.

UNREA Yields
 They agreed to include a clause pledging non-discrimination in every contract, to take on Negro realtors in their association (they had none), and even agreed to establish a training program in race issues for UNREA realtors taught by ACCESS-approved people.

 The race problem in Grosse Pointe requires ministers to go beyond the talking stage, he feels. "We've gone through the phase of standing up in the pulpit and raising hell with the people," he says. "If we're going to be visionaries, if we're going to be prophets, then we have to show the way — and Jesus Christ has done this."

 In this slow process of changing attitudes, "confrontation or conflict is almost essential," he feels.

Not Picketing
 By "confrontation" Father
 Finnigan has in mind something dance in the heads of younger and less reasoning reformers.

 He is thinking more in terms of getting groups of Christians together to discuss the burning issues of today — for it is through guidance on today's problems that Christ makes himself known to modern man,
 Father Finnigan feels.

 "I would hope," he commented, "that large groups of individuals in every one of this area's churches and organiza-

 to come to a greater understanding of social evils."

The church's role in the questions is to sting complacent Christians with the relevance of Christ's message to the om-nious social problems of urban America.

Strong Feelings
 Having spent eight of his years ministering to Detroit suburbs since he was ordained in 1955, Father Finnigan has strong feelings about his task.
 The focus of the problem, as he sees it, is how to help develop a "white identity."

 By this he means a conception of themselves that will enable whites to see themselves as part of a larger human community. Each white must become "so aware of himself and his own dignity that he'll be aware of others' dignity and worth as well."

 Such a thoughtful examination of human worth would enable Suburban Man to "spring away from 'he materialism and to center in on the real meaning of life," he commented. "I think in doing this we are going to overcome racism."
Leaders are Here
 There are in Father Finngan's opinion already "many good people who could help effect a change in racial attitudes" in the Pointes, "and possibly with the right motivation they would." The motivation can come from the Suburban Action Center, churchmen, and other concerned groups such as the Grosse Pointe Human Relations Council, working in cooperation with all concerned
 Grosse Pointers.

 "The value of this whole effort will be institutional change," Father Finnigan explained.
 "The whole program is based on the hope that institutions can grow to bring all men to this new awareness. This approach rules out revolution and destruction and a real radical element."
 He is advocating reform, not revolt or revolution, and wants the distinction sharply drawn.
Business to Clubs
 One area of their life that the suburbanites must "examine" is the racial policies of institutions they support — both in business and in social life. He includes in this category everything from hiring practices of corporations to membership policies of clubs.

 Another focus for the racial dialogue should be the schools, he feels. "People here are children-conscious. Maybe an honest examination of the way kids are taught about the race problem would be a good place to start."

 Then there is the real estate question, another one that Father Finnigan feels deserves greater attention on the part of the church leaders. "I understand the 'point system' is still in effect here," he stated.

 The "point system" was a system employed by Pointe realtors to exclude Negroes and other "undesirable" racial minorities. Since the system received strong criticism and much adverse national publicity in the early 1960s, Pointe realtors have claimed the exclusive screening process has been abolished.

 Father Finnigan has his doubts. He intends to look into it further.

Lochmoor Golf Invitational Thrills Record Crowd

After three days of golf in splendid weather 16 teams met on Sunday, July 28, to decide the championships in the 25th Lochmoor Invitational. Sixteen more teams, who were defeated on the first day, survived the second and third rounds to meet in the consolation matches of each flight.

Despite the deluge that hit on Saturday afternoon after the match play had finished, the course was in good shape Sunday morning.

Some of the finest names in amateur golf participated. Among the contestants were Edward Tutwiler, member of the Walker Cup Team, his playing partner Fred Wolf, better known as a star of TV and radio, and John David, Indiana Amateur Champion.

As was to be expected, the championship flight match between Dr. Wally Promack and John Grace and Tom Wilson and Rich Weyand attracted a big gallery. Several hundred spectators followed the exciting contest which saw Wilson and Weyand lead 3 up at one point. The match was tied on the 17th to set the stage for a dramatic finish.

A throng of over 600 encircled the 18th hole when John Grace pitched 30 yards to the green on his third shot. It hit the pin, barely missing an eagle, and bounced 2 inches from the cup. Tom Wilson calmly rapped in a curling 10 foot putt to halve the hole and force a sudden death playoff. The first extra hole was tied with pars. On the second green, John Grace canned a 15-footer to win the title.

Grace, a member of the University of Houston Golf Team, demonstrated his ability by hitting all 20 greens in regulation strokes and was three under par for the 20-hole round. He brings new life and an exceptionally fine game to the Michigan amateur ranks and will no doubt bring many honors to Michigan in the near future.

The first flight had its thrills as the team of Stan Sabit and Chuck McDonald birdied the same hole in a sudden death playoff to defeat Ken Adler and John David.

The biggest thrill of the day saw Bill Yearnd playing with Gene Wallace, ace the 150 yard 16th hole to win the fifth flight championship. The hole-in-one was the first in Invitational history.

The following is a summary of the results in all flights: CHAMPIONSHIP: Promack and Grace def. T. Wilson and Weyand.

CHAMPIONSHIP CONSOLATION: Miller and Grenadier def. Dykstra and Johnson.

FIRST FLIGHT: McDonald and Sabit def. Adler and David.

City Natators Defeat Shores

The City Park was the site of the most exciting swim meet of the season on Tuesday, July 23.

The Grosse Pointe Shores team had led the City team throughout the meet, at one time holding an 18-point margin. However, the City butterfly swimmers closed the gap, and with the last three relays, to go, the score stood Shores, 205, City, 201.

The City needed to take all three relays to win, or two to tie. The boys' 200 freestyle relay was side by side throughout the event until Kris Cassell of the City pulled ahead on his turn to win the event and tie the score, 209-209.

The girls' 200 freestyle relay was unbelievably close, with Shores anchor swimmer Leslie Beck, having a slight margin over the City's Anne Brinkman. Leslie led into the turn, but Anne pulled out of the turn first and managed to hold on to her slight lead despite Leslie's strong finish, and the girls' relay went to the City by one-tenth of a second, to make the score City, 217; Shores, 213.

If the Shores had won the last relay, the meet would have ended in a tie, but the City's relay team of George Fraser, Joan Browning, Dave Grunewald and Martha Wood pulled to a one-length victory to give the City a 225-217 victory.

Both teams took 20 firsts, the City taking five relays to the Shores' one. The City placed first and second in five events, the Shores in four. Craig Barker, Mary Beck and Chuck Riddle were exceptional in taking two firsts each for the Shores while Donna Grunewald was an outstanding double winner for the City team.

In other meets this week, the Woods beat the Farms, the Farms beat St. Clair Shores and the Park, and the Woods beat the Park. Detailed results for these meets are not yet available.

Divers Compete In Title Meet

A crowd of two to three hundred spectators attended the Tenth Annual Inter-City Diving Championships at the City Park on Saturday, July 27.

Taking first was the Farms team of divers with 23 points. Second went to the Shores with 18 points, third to the City with 13 points, and fourth to the Woods with one point.

In the Junior Girls division, first place went to Sheila Peck of the Shores, second to Beth Boerner of the Farms and third to Lindsay Hoffman of the Woods.

In the Junior Boys division Brian Peck was first for the City, Dan McKinney second for the Shores, and Peter Laux third for the Farms.

In the very close Intermediate

Girls division, first went to Sheryl Lynch of the Shores with 83.9 points, second to Donna Grunewald of the City with 79.2 points, and third to Jane Willets of the City with 79 points.

The Farms swept the Intermediate Boys division with Dan Gustafson, Jeff Silson and Allan Van Tiem taking first, second, and third respectively.

Kathy Rutan of the Farms took first, while Debby Broonham of the Shores took second, in the Senior Girls division.

In the Senior Boys division, Dennis Williams of the Farms was awarded 122.6 points, the highest number of points given to a competitor in this year's meet. Second and third for the City were Guy Willets and Dave Grunewald.

Lochmoor Hopes For Swim Title

Loaded with excellent swimmers and fresh from their 26th straight victory over a four-year span, the Lochmoor Club tankers will attempt to regain the Inter-Club Championship this weekend at the Detroit Yacht Club.

In last year's finals, Dearborn edged the Lochmoor aggregation. This season, though, the possibility of 20 individuals and three relay victories make Lochmoor the overwhelming favored to claim their third championship victory in four years.

Pacing Lochmoor's weekend effort will be two super 14-year-old stars, Tommy Heholt and Lisa Beckenhauer. Lisa, one of three area swimmers who will journey to Los Angeles for the Olympic Try-Outs, appears certain of establishing new records in the event she swims.

Heholt has an opportunity to break the oldest MICA record, Ken Weibek's backstroke conquest back in 1950.

Lochmoor closed the dual meet campaign with an easy 247-185 victory over Western, winning 32 of the 40 events, including 11 one-two finishes. Behind at the early point, 32-19, Lochmoor won eight consecutive races, to lead 83-67. It also grabbed nine of the last 10 events.

Wood to Hold Tennis Tourney

In a shady glade at Ghesquiere Park, Woods residents will compete August 16-25 in the fiercely contested City of Grosse Pointe Woods Annual Tennis Tournament. Oh yes, be sure and bring your own balls.

Competition for juniors, age 17 and under, will run from August 16 to 18, and adults (18 or older) will battle for hegemony of the green asphalt on August 23-25.

The eight different events are as follows: adult women's singles, adult men's singles, men's doubles, boys' age 9-13 singles, girls' age 9-13 singles, adult mixed doubles, adult boys' age 14-17 singles and girls age 14-17 singles.

Entry deadline for juniors is August 15 and for adults it is August 22.

Trophies will be awarded to all winners and runner-ups.

JUVENILE SHOPLIFTERS

The manager of Krogers, 16919 Kercheval, called City police on Thursday, July 25, to report he was holding three juvenile shoplifters. Upon arrival officers found the trio had taken cigarettes and hidden them under their clothing. They told officers that a fourth youth had told them to go into the store and get the cigarettes and he would pay for them. All parents were notified and the four reprimanded and released.

Don't Fail to Cast Ballot For Your Precinct Delegate

By Robert Wells

When you get inside the voting booth at the Tuesday, August 6, primary election... why not vote for ALL the offices?

And don't forget the precinct delegate, for example.

Since the precinct delegate falls at the end of the ballot and since he receives little publicity for his efforts, many voters don't even rouse the energy to vote in this race.

You should. Your precinct delegate is YOUR representative from YOUR neighborhood to YOUR political party. He is your most direct link to the channels of political power.

You elect him at the fall general primary election in even-numbered years for a two-year term. Grosse Pointe is divided into 32 precincts (and if you don't know which one you're in, call your city offices).

Here is what your precinct delegate does:

—He represents you at the County or Congressional District Convention of your political party.

—He elects part of your party's executive committee for your County or Congressional District.

—He chooses delegates to your party's State Convention who select nominees for Lieutenant Governor, Secretary of State, Attorney-General, members of the State Board of Education, Board of Regents (University of Michigan), Board of Trustees (Michigan State University), Board of Governors (Wayne State University) and the Supreme Court of Michigan.

—In addition, delegates to your party's State Convention caucus with other delegates from your Congressional District prior to State Convention time to select two delegates to the National Convention from your Congressional district. The state convention also elects delegates-at-large to the National Convention.

The importance of the precinct delegate is blindingly obvious in a Presidential election year.

This year, for example, supporters of Senator Eugene J. McCarthy for the Democratic Presidential nomination criticized Michigan's precinct electoral procedures. Since precinct delegates were last elected two years ago, McCarthy supporters claimed they were no longer representative of fast-changing public opinion on key issues of the McCarthy campaign—the Vietnam war and the urban crisis.

Seek Reforms
The "McCarthy crowd" and others have sought to have the elections for precinct delegates held shortly before the Presidential election; but there is no serious hope of reform of this political institution in the near future.

In general, a greater number of precinct delegate elections are contested this year than two years ago—representing a growing interest in the office, and in grass roots politics in general.

As a Grosse Pointe voter, you'll have your choice from the following field of candidates for precinct delegate:

G. P. Park

More Post Office Problems

Already bound by red tape, strangled by politics, and beset by an ancient and somewhat nauseating custom called political patronage, the United States Post-office Department has been shoved into more boiling water, which eventually may affect the Grosse Pointes.

Despite a recent raise in postal rates, and a substantial hike in income taxes, the department which indubitably serves more of the American people more of the time than any other Federal operation, faces a cut-back of 83,238 jobs, and curtailment of mail service, as the result of a sweeping order that also will hit all other departments.

As a start, last Saturday postal windows were open for only two hours. The next phase is expected to be the elimination of Saturday home delivery by October, and then there are hints from Postmaster General W. Marvin Watson that "another delivery day may be dropped later on as postal employment declines through legally imposed job attrition."

If all the orders, now in effect, are enforced, the Department will be expected to handle 84 billion pieces of mail this year, with fewer employees. This, of course, is obviously ridiculous!

The only saving grace in this very sad situation is that Congress appears to be working on a plan which may exempt the postal department from being a part of the over-all departmental cutbacks.

The Detroit Post Office now has 9,400 employees. Its present annual turnover is 27 percent. If the formula of cutting back to the June 30, 1966 figure is carried out it would lose 500 employees.

Detroit Postmaster Edward L. Baker reports he has been directed to submit to the department, by September 1, his plan for elimination of all Saturday deliveries on all city residential routes. If the manpower restrictions ordered are enforced there will not be enough people to continue all postal services at their present level. It's as simple as that!

In the face of such a dire situation it may be best, as has been suggested, to convert the Post Office Department from a Cabinet agency to a Government-owned business operation such as a Government-owned corporation, which may take years to achieve.

Meantime, the most sensible thing to do, it would seem, is to legally exempt that Department from being crippled by the drastic actions already ordered.

That Tuesday 'Happening'

What's happening next Tuesday? If you don't know you'd better hurry and find out, and plan now to participate in the important activity which begins on that day at 7 a.m. and continues until 8 p.m.

Well, if you haven't caught on yet, Tuesday is Primary Election Day in Michigan, and the county of Wayne, including the five Grosse Pointes, and all registered voters therein will have the great privilege of casting their ballots between those aforementioned hours.

Candidates will be nominated for Federal, State and County offices. In addition there are three proposed amendments to the State Constitution on the ballot.

It behooves all voting citizens of the Pointes to acquaint themselves with the names of those running for offices, and with their qualifications, as well as with the amendments, between now and next Tuesday, so they may vote intelligently.

Wouldn't it be great if about 90 percent of the eligible voting Pointers cast their ballots next Tuesday. Let's make a little extra effort to vote this time!

It only takes a few minutes — and makes a person feel like he's really a part of the greatest country on earth.

Letters to the Editor

To The Editor:

I was most distressed to read of the plight of the residents of Allard Road with respect to the heavy flow of automobile traffic and their unjust criticism of Director Andrews.

May I suggest that perhaps the residents contact the Michigan State Highway Department and have them close the Allard (194) exit ramp and also Harper Avenue. Both were built years before Director Andrews made his appearance in Grosse Pointe Woods. Incidentally I have lived here twenty years and don't believe I have driven on Allard more than ten times.

There is a triple traffic problem on our street. (1) bicycle route which is in constant use, both on the sidewalks and street (2) pedestrian traffic to Ghe-squire Park, primarily children, who are constantly littering our lawns on their way to and from the park (3) extremely heavy traffic on Huntington, Manchester and Bramcaster due to the park facilities and the new apartment complex.

I was under the impression that taxes paid by the people allowed them the use of the streets and am indeed very interested to learn that we have such an exclusive section in this area. May I suggest that perhaps a country atmosphere would solve the problems of these residents, especially the country road which would not create a situation. With all the traffic in our vicinity the residents seem to chalk it up to PROGRESS and POPULATION explosion. Perhaps we'll have to revise our thoughts and also storm the Council Chambers.

Thank you,

Very truly yours,
A. STECHART

(Editor's Note: The following letter was written to the Grosse Pointe News after the writer read in the Christian Science Monitor that a group called "Canadian Aid for Vietnam Civilians" had refused to accept a large amount of "second-hand" clothing sent by generous and well-meaning people, (including a Birmingham, Mich. family), to be distributed for use of destitute children in Vietnam. Reason given: The agency sends only NEW clothing to the needy Vietnamese!)

Public Schools in Focus

By Dr. Theos I. Anderson, Superintendent of Schools.

As a follow-up to my previous article I think it is important to give you some background to the development of Grosse Pointe's middle schools. Following is an excerpt from the middle school statement, "Opportunity and Challenge," prepared by local educators in July, 1967.

"Education flourishes in a climate that makes it possible for an individual to progress and succeed at a rate and scope commensurate with his abilities, needs, and interests. Developing this climate challenges educators and students alike.

"To meet this challenge we must look at the child in the middle school. One characteristic is outstanding: he is a study in ambivalence. He is reluctant to accept authority, but he needs and wants the support of adults. He often demands freedom to make his own decisions, but he finds comfort in the guidance of a structured program.

"Like any child he possesses a growth pattern peculiarly his own. But during this period, from age 11 to 14, his maturity level and rate of physical growth differ from that of his classmates more than at any other time in his development. He is restless today, lethargic tomorrow.

"Intellectually he is curious but as yet undisciplined. He experiences spurts of intellectual growth and periods of regression. Frequently he is unpredictable socially as he vacillates between behavior patterns conditioned by both adult and peer group pressures.

"Establishing a climate suitable for the middle school student requires teachers who are flexible, innovative, and receptive to change. They need to utilize techniques of working with children individually on a one-to-one basis and with groups of various sizes. Even more important, these teachers must like this age group and understand them. They must foster close inter-personal relationships important in helping children build positive self-images.

"As Grosse Pointe moves toward a middle school organization, we will find it necessary to examine existing facilities and equipment closely, evaluating the feasibility of their adaptation to the middle school. We will also want to explore more thoroughly the possibilities of team teaching, independent study, teacher-pupil planning, more flexible pupil programs and other potentially valuable practices. Techniques which will encourage students to learn from each other should be further investigated. Essential to the success of the entire program will be a complete instructional materials center, or expanded library facilities.

"Some of the suggested procedures have been used successfully here for a long period of time: adoption of others may require only slight modification of our present program. Our primary focus must be on the needs of the child of middle school age. Recognizing and providing for these needs in a continuing education process is far more important than any label placed on the organization itself.

"Opportunity and challenge, yes. A panacea—for education, no. It is our responsibility as teachers and administrators to work in close harmony among ourselves and with the community to further our educational enterprise in Grosse Pointe."

What Goes On at Your Library

By Virginia Leonard

Once upon a time, in the far-away country of IBERIA (Michigan), there lived a young girl named CHRISTY (Marshall). She lived in a small town called ENDERBY (Burgess) with her mother and father. Her father's name was J. Henry Waugh—known to his intimates as Hank. On the door of his office he had a most impressive inscription: THE UNIVERSAL BASEBALL ASSOCIATION, INC. J. HENRY WAUGH, PROP. (Cover). This did not impress Christy at all; she hated living in a small town and longed for life in a big city—THE CENTER (Alsop) of all that was fun and excitement, or so she thought.

Christy's best friend was TOPAZ (Uris), a girl of similar tastes who lived in a nearby small village called Bethlehem. Topaz shared Christy's desire to leave home and see the world, meet THE RIGHT PEOPLE (Birmingham) and find a handsome, wealthy husband. Daily they plotted on how to escape from their dismal existence.

One morning Christy's mother went upstairs to awaken her daughter. She peered in her bedroom and let out a small shriek of dismay and disbelief. "VANISHED!" (Knebel) she shouted in such loud tones that her husband heard her and came bounding up the stairs, two at a time. Yes indeed, Christy had disappeared—but where had she gone? The Waughs inquired all over town, called in the police, made frantic phone calls.

Finally, the TESTIMONY OF TWO MEN (Caldwell) who had been lounging on a street corner in the south end of town early in the morning, claimed they had seen her SLOUCHING TOWARDS BETHLEHEM (Dion) in a rather furtive fashion. They recognized her, but assumed that her trip had been approved by her parents. But the relationship BETWEEN PARENT AND CHILD (Ginott), in this case, had not been good.

The Waughs were astounded that their only daughter would want to run away from home. They phoned the parents of Topaz and were horrified to learn that she too was missing! "HEAVEN HELP US!" (Tarr) shouted both families, and fell to wondering where their daughters could have gone.

And this is what had happened. Christy had indeed stolen away from her home at dawn, walked to the home of Topaz, awakened her by tossing pebbles on her window, and the two of them—young innocent COUPLES (Udlike)—had hidden in a nearby forest. They were each carrying small bags, and were dressed in their most sophisticated clothes. They had been saving their baby-sitting money for months and had enough for a plane ticket to New York!

They knew the AIRPORT (Hailey) was not too far away, although they had never been there before. They had seen pictures of it—a large new building with a sculptured design of a DOUBLE HELIX (Watson) in front of it. They just couldn't miss it! They were so excited—soon they would be meeting all THE RIGHT PEOPLE (Birmingham), finding excellent jobs, and, if they played their cards right, would soon be moving in the circles of THE RICH AND THE SUPER-RICH (Lundberg).

THE MONEY GAME ("Adam Smith") was the only one they were interested in, and HUMAN AGGRESSION (Storr) being what it is, they were bound and determined to see their undertaking through. Young and unused to urban living, they thought that TRUE GRIT (Portis) alone would see them through. Before leaving home, they had each spent AN HOUR OF LAST THINGS (Elliott) planning the final details of their trip.

Finally, as it grew dusk, they decided it would be safe to leave their hiding place in the forest and make their way to the airport. But suddenly down the road they saw a weird figure. It was a Neanderthal type man—a veritable "NAKED APE" (Morris). Before they could flee he saw them. They knew him—it was old Nat Turner who also lived in Enderby. He caught them each by one shoulder.

"You'd better come back to town peacefully with me," he said threateningly "OR I'LL DRESS YOU IN MOURNING!" (Collins & Lapierre). The girls were frightened. Nat Turner was somewhat of a town character, and they were afraid to resist him.

Nat took them at once to the police station and told them where he had found the girls. The parents were immediately notified and hysterically hugged their daughters.

"Let us have no more of this kind of actions," each father said to his daughter sternly. Mrs. Waugh fanned herself with a newspaper. She was somewhat overweight, the day had been hot, and she was exhausted. "If I live through many more days like this," she exclaimed, "I won't need THE DOCTOR'S QUICK WEIGHT LOSS DIET (Stillman & Baker) that I've been trying to follow for the past week!"

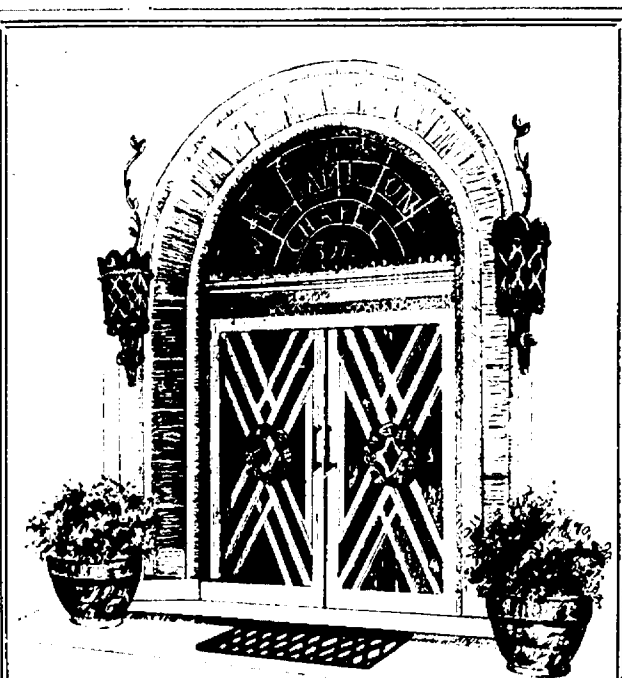

And so it was the alertness and THE CONFESSIONS OF NAT TURNER (Styron) that saved the girls from making what probably would have been a very foolish move. They must have taken a more mature look at life from that time on, for they never tried to run away from home again.

THE END (OF OBSCURITY) (REMBAR)

If you've been wondering about this somewhat bizarre tale, it is only a device to use practically all the titles on the Best Seller list, as well as NEW AND RECOMMENDED titles, from the July 28 issue of the NEW YORK TIMES BOOK REVIEW Section. It wasn't too easy but it was fun!

Premiums Trap Stupid Shoppers

By Pepper Whitelaw

Premium plucking peons like myself can carry this super-market experience to the extreme. (For those uninformed, supermarket premiums are added little enticements that induce housewives to shop at a particular store because with every purchase of $3... plus a few extra pennies, they can get little extra goodies.)

Within the last few months I have taken advantage of a silverware offer, a glassware offer, and a Melmac dinner set offer. Unfortunately, I am a bit disorganized and don't keep track of just what is being offered when... some weeks I just plain forget about the offer altogether and this is where I hit a snag.

For a casual guest, eating "family style" at my house can be an experience. For example, he'll never be offered soup... somehow I didn't get the matching soup spoons to the stainless. In the beverage department there better not be more than five persons who drink low-balls because my smoky, gold ones are limited to five... as for dishes, if you like your coffee strong enough to stand alone without a saucer-you're welcome, any coffee hour.

For a while I thought I had the system licked. I asked close friends who weren't interested in the offer to pick them up for me... but this turned into a real fiasco. I found myself with 28 tiny little fruit dishes and a family that hates fruit!

Pointer Enjoys Space Session

"Amazing and amusing — happy but hectic!" That's how the 60 teen-age participants summed up their first week at the Space Exploration Conference sponsored July 16 through July 28 by the Girl Scouts of North Alabama in Huntsville, Ala.

Pointe participant Anne Marie Florek said, "The citizens of Huntsville and the outlying communities have certainly shown the Space Conference girls true southern hospitality, and the Conference itself has been interesting and highly educational."

As passed the Conference's half-way mark last week, the Senior Girl Scouts representing 31 states had already stocked their "memory banks" with many "firsts." A walk-in tour of the actual working model of an orbiting space station workshop in the Apollo program; a psychiatrist who cautioned that "one and one are two only in the realm of symbols, never in the world of reality;" and a chance to program an actual pre-launch schedule of a satellite.

Joining with the Girl Scouts to alert young women to the possibilities of space-age careers were the University of Alabama Huntsville Center, the Boeing Company and the National Aeronautics Space Administration.

Believing that all work and no play makes Jill a very dull Scout, the North Alabama Council provided ample fun-breaks along the Conference trail. The Honorable Glenn Hearn, Mayor of Huntsville, and Mrs. H. B. Norwood, president of the hostess Girl Scout Council, welcomed the visitors at an opening reception July 16.

Original patrol kits followed a concert by the University of Alabama (Huntsville) Chorus on Saturday evening, July 20.

After church Sunday morning, visiting Scouts were the guests of local Girl Scouts at a cook-out at Camp Anderel on Elk River in Lauderdale County, Ala. They then boarded buses for a special showing at the planetarium on top of Monte Sano in Huntsville.

In true Girl Scout fashion, the girls themselves were the actual governing body of the Conference. On the first day they divided into seven patrols, each with an elected patrol leader who worked in close cooperation with the adult advisors on such matters as use of free time, the hour for "lights out" and other Conference-living rules.

Daily informal patrol sessions gave members a chance to get better acquainted, to compare accents ranging all the way from "y'all" to "you guys" and to explore the diversity of personalities bound together by the common bond of Scouting and an interest in scientific fields.

Second-week activities, July 22 through 26, took the girls through Southern Bell in Huntsville, 3M Company, Prestolite, Monsanto, and Amoco Chemical in Decatur, and a sample Vietnam village at the Missile and Munitions School, Redstone Arsenal.

The Conference closed with a banquet last Thursday night, July 25. Speaker was Mrs. John D. Hesselbein, of Johnstown, Pa., a member of the public relations committee of the national Girl Scout organization.

Ensign Roe Claims Bride In East

The Naval Base Chapel, Newport, R.I., was the setting for the noon ceremony Saturday, July 13, at which Ensign Michael Henry Roe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Horace H. Roe, of Lakepointe avenue, claimed Janice Elaine Fuller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Fuller, of Tiverton, R.I., as his bride.

A reception at the Pocasset Country Club, Portsmouth, R.I., followed the rites, for which the bride, given in marriage by her father, selected a gown of Italian silk organza over pearly de soie, fashioned with an Empire bodice of Venice lace, lace sleeves and a Duchess train.

Her tattered illusion veil fell from a pial tulle toque, accented with iridescent beads, and she carried an arrangement of white marguerites, pale pink Sweetheart roses and baby's-breath.

Joan Fuller, who served as her sister's honor attendant, wore a lace-collared frock of turquoise crepe and a matching Dior headpiece. She carried a Colonial bouquet of blue carnations, baby's-breath and white roses.

In pink crepe gowns, identical in style to that of the honor maid, were bridesmaids Eileen Quental, of Fall River, Mass., Linda Cote, Mrs. Roger Pizzio, and Mrs. Joseph Keough, all of Tiverton. Hot pink carnations accented their bouquets.

Peter Demgen, of Warren, acted as his brother-in-law's best man. In the usher corps were Manning Worthely, of Portsmouth, R.I., Joseph Domingos, of Fall River, Carl Canfield, of Little Compton, R.I., and Edward Curria, of Warren, R.I.

For traveling to Charlestown, S.C., where they are making their home until August 15, when they move to Long Beach, Calif., where Ensign Roe will be stationed, the bride selected an antique white linen dress trimmed with yellow and navy, with navy and white accessories.

The bridegroom's parents traveled East for the ceremony, as did his sister, Mrs. Demgen, and his godparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Walsh, of Chicago, Ill.

The most important phase of child management is learning to understand children.

To Show Films For Children

"Greyfriars Bobby," a feature-length film, will be the children's program at Grosse Pointe Public Libraries on August 1 and 2. It is the true story of a remarkable little Skye terrier who watches over his master's grave for 14 years.

Filmed in Scotland, it is recommended for elementary and junior high school students. Copies of the book are available in the libraries.

Central Library will have two showings on August 2, only. The showings will be at 1 p.m. and 3 p.m. The Park Branch program will be at 2 p.m. Thursday and Woods Branch program at 10 a.m. Friday, as usual.

The final film program of the summer will occur on August 8 and 9. Children who enjoyed Paddle-to-the-Sea will want to view "People Along The Mississippi." A young boy launches his sailboat in Minnesota and it floats down to the Gulf of Mexico, meeting various children and adventures along the way.

"The Ugly Duckling" and "Circus Show" are the other two films to be seen at the last program.

Miss Anderson To Say Vows

Mr. and Mrs. Richard V. Anderson, of Bloomfield Hills, formerly of Beaupre avenue, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Christine Von, to Carl Joseph Robie, son of Dr. and Mrs. C. J. Robie, of Drexel Hill, Pa.

The future bride, a graduate of Bloomfield Hills High School and the University of Michigan, was the University's first Homecoming Queen in 1966. She has been a teacher in the Southfield Public School. While at the U of M., she was president of Kappa Kappa Gamma social sorority.

Mr. Robie, also a University of Michigan graduate, served as captain of the U. of M. swimming team in 1966-67. Having completed his first year of Law School at Dickinson College, Carlisle, Pa., he is training in Philadelphia for the summer Olympic Games.

The couple plans a November 30 wedding.

Student Council Heads Will Attend Workshop

Iron County Youth Camp, a leadership workshop, located near Crystal Falls in the Upper Peninsula will be attended by Bishop Gallagher's new student council officers from August 11-16.

The officers are Ed Henry, president, of Pemberton road; Bill McGraw, vice-president, of Cloverly road; Fred Thompson, treasurer of Bishop road; Mary Ann Heyka, recording secretary, of Bournemouth road; and Carla Brugnoni, corresponding secretary, of Eastwood.

They will be confronted daily with several issues for thought, discussion and practice. There will also be sessions for studying the techniques and problems of leadership in high schools and opportunities to exchange ideas with students from other schools and with members of the staff.

Don't depend on luck unless you're willing to work hard to bring it your way.

M. F. Kubitsky To Wed In Fall

Plans for an October wedding are being made by Grace Hughes Leonard and Matthew F. Kubitsky, whose engagement has been announced by her mother, Mrs. Ralph H. Leonard, of Roseland, N.J.

The prospective bride, who is also the daughter of the late Mr. Leonard, is a graduate of Gettysburg College, Gettysburg, Pa., and attends the University of Delaware Graduate School. She is a member of Phi Beta Kappa.

Her fiancé, son of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew S. Kubitsky, of McKinley avenue, was graduated from the University of Detroit and attends Rutgers University Graduate School of Business Administration. He is affiliated with Tau Beta Pi and Pi Tau Sigma honorary fraternities.

Rebecca Sue Rollins Married to Mr. Neff

Bride Is Librarian In Grosse Pointe School System; Newlyweds Will Make Home In Park Following Trip To Hawaii

Peter M. Morgan of Marion, Ia., gave his sister-in-law, Rebecca Sue Rollins of Lakepointe road, in marriage to Arthur Franklin Neff, Jr., at four o'clock on Saturday, July 27, in Jefferson Avenue Presbyterian Church.

The bride, a librarian for the Grosse Pointe School System, is the daughter of Mrs. Guy Rollins of Wheeling, W. Va., and the late Mr. Rollins. The bridegroom is the son of the Arthur F. Neffs of Fisher road.

A reception in the church dining room followed the services, at which The Reverend Chandler Benton officiated. After a trip to Hawaii, the newlyweds will make their home in Grosse Pointe Park.

A floor length sheath with an Alencon lace bodice and crepe skirt with a back panel was selected by the bride.

A crown of pearls held her short veil and she carried a bouquet of Eucharis lilies and ivy.

Maid of honor Barbara Harrison and bridesmaid Viola Oestreich wore light blue, Empire dresses and held English bouquets.

Best man was Russell McKinney.

Fuger-Lawlor Rites Are Read

Sally Kathleen Lawlor, daughter of Mrs. Raphael Edward Lawlor, of Bloomfield Hills, and the late Mr. Lawlor, and Pierre Godfrey Fuger, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Pierre Godfrey Fuger, of Merriweather Road, exchanged marriage vows Saturday morning, July 27 in St. Hugo of the Hills Church.

Father Paul Bigley officiated at the 10:30 o'clock rites, for which the bride selected a street length Empire gown of pastel shades - on white re-embroidered lace, banded in powder blue velvet. A matching lace pillow held her shoulder length veil.

Her honor attendant was Mrs. Stuart Baun Shuster. Michael Mark Carey, III, served as the bridegroom's best man.

A reception and breakfast at the Bloomfield Hills Country Club followed the small, family ceremony. The newlyweds will return August 10 from a Bermuda vacation to make their home in St. Louis, Mo.

For true happiness lay by a little sunshine for a rainy day.

The fourth concert is again to be a "concerto concert" for young artists, whose names will be announced at a later date.

Concerts are held in the Parcels School Auditorium on Sunday afternoons. Each is followed by a reception honoring the soloist, to which the audience is cordially invited.

Jesuit Champagne Tea

The S. Waldemar Sorensen home a few blocks farther down Buckingham road was a busy place last Thursday, too.

Mrs. Sorensen welcomed members of The Jesuit Seminary Association, SS. Peter and Paul Unit, who gathered to address, seal and stamp invitations for their annual Champagne Tea.

The Association helps in the raising of funds for the education of a young man for the priesthood in the Jesuit order.

This year, the annual Champagne Tea will be held October 6, at the Lakeshore road home of Mr. and Mrs. Diamond Phillips.

Among the ladies assisting Mrs. Ralph Disser and Mrs. Sorensen, chairman and co-chairman of the party respectively, at the addressing session were the Mesdames Burns Cody, S. E. Schneider, William P. Clark, Patrick J. Crowley, Charles A. J. Kotcher and Brian J. Molloy.

More were Mrs. Stephen Gorman, Mrs. Frank L. Thompson, Mrs. Emmet E. Tracy, Mrs. John C. Cook, Mrs. Ambrose J. Singer, Mrs. J. Addison Bartush, Mrs. Januarius A. Mullen, Mrs. Gerard Slattery, Mrs. Grover W. Thompson and Mrs. John M. Murphy.

And, after all the work was completed, Mrs. Sorensen invited everyone to cool off in her beautiful garden swimming pool . . .

Liggett Lecture Series

There's been no "formal" addressing party for this fall's Liggett School Lecture Series mid-summer mailing, but the invitations, some 1,500 in all, are hand-addressed, stamped and sealed, ready to be posted in the next day or so.

Seems that each member of the Series committee picked up her share of the flyers earlier in the summer, worked on them whenever she had the chance, and has brought them back, completed, to Pat (Mrs. William C.) Osborn, general co-chairman, with Marilyn (Mrs. Carl) Larson, of the 1968 Liggett Lectures.

Each envelope contains not only a reservation form for the lectures themselves, to be held Wednesday mornings at 10 o'clock in Liggett's Kresge Auditorium, but an invitation to participate in any or all of the subscription luncheons scheduled at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club following each speaker's appearance.

These speakers will be Max Lerner (October 9), Dr. Kenneth McFarland (October 23) and Dr. Harriet Mills (November 13).

Plans are afoot for a special reception honoring the first speaker, Mr. Lerner, the night before the Series opens, (we'll report more fully on this in an early fall column).

And Pat, Marilyn and ticket chairman Ann (Mrs. Thomas) Swantek emphasize that EVERY Pointer is invited to subscribe to the Series: If you don't get an invitation but would like to attend, just mail a check for $6, payable to the Liggett Lecture Series, to the School.

"Couple Of The Month"

Did you know that Operation Yorkville's June Newsletter's "Couple of the Month," (rather like a miniature "Pointer of Interest") is Mr. and Mrs. Emmet Tracy, of Provençal road?

The Tracys are "profiled" in the publication of this interfaith organization working to stop traffic in obscene material among children.

Mrs. Tracy's concern over this problem led her to organize a May 21 lecture at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial by OY's president, The Reverend Morton A. Hill, S. J., preceded by a reception at the Tracy home and a dinner for 150 people.

That evening Mr. Tracy, (it also happened to be his birthday), agreed to serve on a local steering committee which has begun work on the organization of a "community voice" in Michigan to counter effects of obscene material on the youth of the State.

To Be Wed

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred L. Gostow, of Renaud road, have announced the engagement of their daughter, ALISON LEE GOSTOW, to Stephen Ward Ewing, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Stephen Ewing, of Evanston, Ill.

The bride-elect attended the University of Wisconsin and will receive her Masters degree in Library Science from the University of Michigan, in December. She is affiliated with Pi Beta Phi.

Her fiancé received his Bachelor of Arts degree from Denison University, Granville, O., where he affiliated with Phi Delta Theta.

A December wedding is planned.

Meadow Brook Has Met Stars

Cornell MacNeil, Roberta Peters, Jan Peerce and Ezio Flagello will appear with the Meadow Brook Orchestra and Chorus in a concert performance of Verdi's "Rigoletto" at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday, August 7.

James Levine, musical director of the Meadow Brook Orchestra, will conduct in the Baldwin Pavilion at Oakland University.

The performance by the leading singers of the Metropolitan Opera is a presentation of Meadow Brook School of Music. To be sung in Italian, the program features Cornell MacNeil as Rigoletto, Miss Peters as Gilda, Jan Peerce as the Duke, and Ezio Flagello as Sparafucile and Monterone.

Levine, assistant conductor of the Cleveland Orchestra, said of the event, "These professional singers want to do this in order to provide an exceptional musical experience in collaboration with the young artists of the Meadow Brook Orchestra and Chorus."

The Meadow Brook Orchestra and Chorus are composed of talented musicians selected by audition. They have come to Meadow Brook from 44 states and 14 foreign countries for a summer of professional study and performance with leading artists of the musical world.

Tickets for the concert are available at $1.50 and $3.00 at the Meadow Brook Festival box office and all J. L. Hudson stores.

Famous for his portrayal of Verdi's greatest roles, baritone on major television programs. Flagello, a bass, made his debut in Rome in 1956. His debut with the Metropolitan Opera House was in 1957 in "Tosca." Since then, he has been a member of the company, portraying leading roles.

Members of the Meadow Brook Chorus to be featured as soloists include Maria Ewing, 1262 Newport, Detroit, and Suzanne LaCroix, teacher of voice at Kingswood School, Cranbrook.

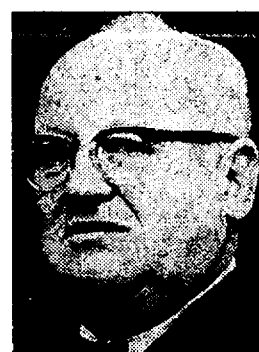

Others are well-known vocalists from communities throughout the United States. They include Mary Moore, Victoria Sackville, John Mason Seabury, John Ousley, Cody Lillie, and Richard E. Veale.

Portrait Of An Artist At Work

DEBORAH ATKINSON of Allard road, June graduate of Grosse Pointe High School doing a charcoal study of FLORINE BURNS, with an approving nod from art instructor ROBERT RATHBUN, during the recent Clotheshline Art Show at Grosse Pointe High School.

By Pepper Whitelaw

A Clothesline Art Show . . . an Art Happening and Experience . . . a balmy, summer morning and vital, talented teenagers made for a rewarding morning for Grosse Pointe High School art instructor extraordinary, Robert Rathbun, and art lovers, who attended the students' summer art show on the Fisher road lawn of the school last Thursday.

Mr. Rathbun initiated summer art classes which produce these art shows, some five years ago and the classes have become increasingly successful each year.

He holds two-hour sessions, five days a week. He divides his classes into basic and advanced instruction sections. The students also take field trips to places such as the Art Museum, the Detroit Zoo and Wayne State University.

This year he has some 44 students between the ages of 14 and 18, with a few post-graduate students, who want to take full advantage of the opportunity of working under Mr. Rathbun's talented eye before entering college or art school.

The Art Show featured some

Martha Williams, John Damborg, Carol Fetzter, Janice Flagg, Terry Clancy, Sue Falk, Terry James, Erik Jensen, Bill Mayshark, Don McDaniel, Mark Metry, Karen Newell, Pam Patzer, Irene Sherman, Eric Smith.

Also Mary Brennan, Thomas Cragg, Laurie McHargue, Candy Mead, Laurie Potthoff, Ann Walton, Larry Dickman, Judith Domzalski, Thomas Roellig, Janet Thomas, Beverly Bush, Carole Bock, Jane Combrinck-Graham, Elise Deakne, Nancy Desmet, Scott Feringa, John Fink, John Harper, James McCollum, Robert Phillips, Larrie Thomas, Donna VanWingerden, Kurt Wilner, Elizabeth Winkler.

Women Sailors Seeking Crown

A crew representing the Grosse Pointe Club sailed to victory last Sunday, July 28, in the quarter-finals of the North American Women's Sailing Championship.

Skipper for the Little Club was Mary Candler, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Candler, of Beverly road. Crewing for her were Florrie Ledyard, 18, daughter of the William Hendrie Ledyards, of Dyar lane, and Margaret McIntosh, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester A. McIntosh, of Sheldon road.

Their opponent in the two-out-of-three-match-race series was a team from the Detroit Yacht Club. The Little Club crew won the first two races of the series, thus earning the right to represent the Detroit River Yachting Association in the Adams Cup Semi-Finals to be held in Buckeye Lake, Ohio, on August 12 and 13.

130 works of art including figure, still-life, portraits and landscapes done in watercolors, pen and ink and charcoal. All the work was good . . . all extremely individualistic.

The Happening was Bob Rathbun's way of affording the students an opportunity to explode year-end tensions.

Time is sure to etch some wrinkles on your brow, but there need be none in your heart.

Blame Weather For Mosquitoes

If more mosquitoes than expected show up for your next backyard barbecue or picnic in the park, you can blame the weather.

Michigan's abnormally wet season just past has brought forth an abundance of the pesky insects.

Even if your lawn was sprayed for mosquito control, you may have plenty of the unwelcome guests since they travel readily from neighboring untreated areas.

Director B. Dale Ball of the Michigan Department of Agriculture reports that there is a trend this year toward greater use of the less persistent pesticides. This follows a recent department ban on labelling of DDT for use in mosquito control.

Director Ball emphasized, however, that no matter what treatment methods are used, there will still be mosquitoes.

Michigan has approximately 600 pest control operators who make commercial and residential applications of pesticides. Under state regulations these firms must be licensed by the Michigan Department of Agriculture, and all pesticides must be registered with the department.

Politics, Tigers Revive Lost Art of Conversing

By Walter W. Fuller
Dear Folks and Gentle People. It sure seems mighty nice on this going-on-autumn day for me to be able to report that mouth-to-mouth resuscitation has finally . . . temporarily though it may be . . . revived the long lost art of conversing.

All around us today wherever people gather . . . as perhaps, you have noted . . . they discuss either national politics and the upcoming elections, or Tiger baseball, or just plain mish-mash . . . or all three.

Usually mish-mash takes a back seat for the other two more important subjects. In fact, those who, in the past, had an odd habit of making mish-mash their principal talking point, have discarded it because of its unpopularity as a prime subject of the moment. And, let me add, it's about time! Everyone was certainly becoming more and more mish-mashy, and the art of good conversation was in a terrible state of inane and meaningless hodgepodge, laced with off-color stories. Besides that, most of us were up to our parotid glands in mish-mash!

After a cursory survey . . . which included two other people . . . I discovered that the tussling Tigers and politics are running neck and neck as top conversation pieces in our local communities.

The missile crisis in Cuba, the Suez canal whoopie do, and other major crises our nation has faced during the past few years, have been relegated to the dim recesses of what we like to call our minds. And they appear beyond recall.

This is a great period of trying to corner people, and argue with them about the stand they have taken. When asked how I stand on the business of voting for a Presidential nominee I have to admit that I am neither a Republican nor a Democan.

Actually, I suppose right now I am temporarily a middle-of-the-roader. It seems to me that the right and left sides of the road are strewn with broken promises, shattered hopes, and untold truths. Besides everyone knows it's dangerous to drive to the far right or the far left on any American road.

There are a surprising number of partisans who ponder the possibility of LBJ still being drafted for the nomination during the Chicago clambake. To day this prediction seems highly visionary, but we are living in a very strange age of very strange events, including upsets galore.

Personally, I'd rather see one of the Birds drafted, and elected to that office. Linda Bird probably would be the most capable. But, of course, I would not swear to that!

Has No Favorites

It does seem strange that not a single one of the candidates seeking the highest office in the land has warmed my cold old heart, or inspired me to paste a sticker to my car's rear bumper, or do anything whatsoever that should be done for a favorite. There just ain't no favorites with me, and that does seem too bad. How come none of these guys moves me?

Let's look at Gov. Wallace first. Admitted that he is a demagogue, and I will not vote for him under any circumstances, still everyone who hears and sees him on TV admits he has the greatest oratorical ability of the whole state of candidates. Also that, he has the most impressive "stage presence" of all of them rolled together, but his platform is much too flimsy and unstable.

Hubert is a human talking machine, who has a habit of giving emphasis to unimportant generalities. He mouths millions of words while saying nothing . . . a turn-of-the-last-century orator he!

Playing It 'Cozy'

The man whom Time magazine said was introduced in Newark as "Snik Dixon," seems to be playing the game of politics "cozy." He has turned his 5 o'clock shadow over to the TV make-up man, but he still "comes over" like a lead balloon.

Rocky is loaded with what we once called mazuma, but not much moxie. He is throwing a lot of the mazuma around in an effort to make the grade. He is a genuine Republican, 'twould seem.

Eugene the erudite, is overly-polite, and under-managed. He appears to be about as vigorous and enthusiastic a candidate as Lemuel Puddlejumper who sits under an apple tree all day waiting for a hunk of the fruit to fall in his lap.

And, don't forget Ronnie. He'll soon come stumbling onto the stage in behalf of Ronnie. If he pitches too hard they'll hit him all over the lot. If all this seems as inane as most of the candidates sound to give me. This is what listening to them has done to me. Just remember I'll be there

Differences of opinion need not be a difference of principles.

There is no law in the land to force people to agree.

JUDGE HOMER THORNBERRY and his wife sit at the Senate Judiciary Committee hearing in Washington considering his nomination to the U.S. Supreme Court.

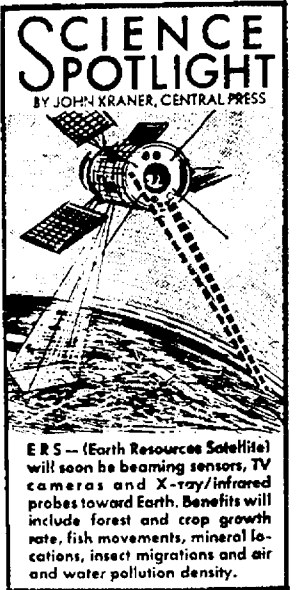

POLICE WALKOUT—all 12 resigned—in Beverly, N.J., puts Mayor Joseph Cutry on police duty. Here he checks the radio with aid of a resident, William Sychoski, an insurance executive.

DEAD LINES—In Hartford, Conn., Democratic National Chairman John M. Bailey (left) says, "We still hold out hope of getting the job done in Chicago," and in Chicago, Illinois Bell Telephone Company President James Cook tells reporters that the company rejects a union proposal that the wage dispute be settled in binding arbitration. In that situation, no communications can be installed for the Democratic National Convention in Chicago's big Amphitheatre.

BAREFOOT O.K.—Seemingly spitting itself, Goodyear, maker of shoe products, comes up with the information that foot experts recommend brief barefoot walks in summer, and here Dawn Perdun shows you it's advisable to be on the lookout for tumors. She lives in Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio.

E.R.S.—(Earth Resources Satellite) will soon be beaming sensors, TV cameras and X-ray/infrared probes toward Earth. Benefits will include forest and crop growth rate, fish movements, mineral locations, insect migrations and air and water pollution density.

PEACEMAKERS—Yugoslav President Tito (top) and French Red leader Waldeck Rochet are trying to mediate Prague and Moscow.

NEW HEART 36 HOURS BEFORE—Fred C. Eberman, 58, Arlington, Va., is out of his hospital bed in St. Luke's Hospital, Tex., only 36 hours after receiving a new heart in the world's 26th heart transplant. Nurse is Mrs. Alice Nye.

A CROWD GATHERS as Abe Fortas leaves the Senate Judiciary Committee hearing in Washington which is considering his elevation from associate to chief justice of U.S.

HERO DOG—Randy Saleh, 3, steadies Ringo as Eulless, Tex., Mayor William Fuller presents a dog food firm's medal for "Distinguished Dog Heroism." Last April, when Randy was 2, he toddled out on a busy highway and walked down the dividing line, and Ringo saved his life by barking wildly and charging oncoming cars, forcing them to swerve away. Finally one driver stopped to investigate.

MANACLED, James Earl Ray, accused of the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., is led to his cell in Memphis, Tenn., by Shelby County Sheriff William Morris.

ROBERT A. NICKY, chief negotiator for the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers says the nearly-three-month strike against Illinois Bell is "no closer than ever to settlement."

"I HOPE the convention will be held in Chicago," says Democratic National Chairman John Bailey, on the scene to take a look at the phone strike situation. But—

RITE FACE—President Johnson poses ceremonially with South Vietnam President Nguyen Van Thieu during their Hawaii conference.

NIXON'S GOT HIS O.K.—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower talks to reporters in his Walter Reed Hospital suite in Washington after endorsing Richard M. Nixon for the Republican presidential nomination. Nixon is shown with a broad smile over the endorsement as he went to the State Department for a foreign affairs briefing.

"EARSHADE," this hair creation should be called, but it's the "Modigliani Look" created by Femme Sistina in Rome for the fall-winter collection of designer Princess Irene Galitzine.

CENTENNIAL SCRAPBOOK Looking Back to 1868

43-D Not all persons accused in Presidential assassinations have suffered capital punishment. John H. Surratt, Jr., who was supposedly implicated with his mother, Mary Eugenia Jenkins Surratt, in the murder of Abraham Lincoln, was a free man in 1868.

Surratt, youngest of her three children, was an 18-year-old student for the priesthood when his father died in 1862. The family had a tavern and post office in Prince George's County, Maryland, from which the widow moved with the children into Washington, D.C., to conduct a boardinghouse. In 1865 this for some reason attracted men involved with John Wilkes Booth in the plot to kill Lincoln and Vice President Andrew Johnson. She was convicted on circumstantial evidence of being a co-conspirator in the crime with Booth, George Adzerodt, Lewis Payne, David Herold, Edward Spangler, Samuel Arnold, and Michael O'Laughlin.

She, Adzerodt, Payne, and Herold were hanged together in July 1865. Spangler, Arnold and O'Laughlin were given jail sentences. (Booth, of course, had been killed in an escape attempt.)

A Lincoln scholar, Paul M. Angle, concluded "The verdict in the case of Mrs. Surratt was certainly a miscarriage of justice." Others have agreed it reasonable to assume Mrs. Surratt died simply because her son was a friend, if not a confederate of Booth. That being so, it could be concluded that Surratt, Jr., chose to be a fugitive and let [→] John Surratt, Jr. in uniform of a Zouave regiment of the Papal States, his haven for some months in 1866. Before 1871, when Popes had temporal sovereignty in Central Italy, they maintained armies.

her be a sacrifice for him. John, Jr. was not in Washington the night of the assassination, but fled to Canada upon learning of it. He succeeded in getting to Europe and enlisting in a Papal States Zouave regiment. Although forced to return to the United States in 1867, government prosecutors were unable to convict him.

With Soviet forces in their land, the Czechs fear a repeat of what happened in Budapest (above) a dozen years ago—Soviet tanks enforcing Moscow's will over the Hungarians.

GROWING TENSION in the Communist bloc pits Czechoslovakia party boss Alexander Dubcek (left) and his liberalism against Soviet party boss Leonid Brezhnev and the rest of the Warsaw Pact satellites. The Czechs in effect told critics to "Mind your own business."

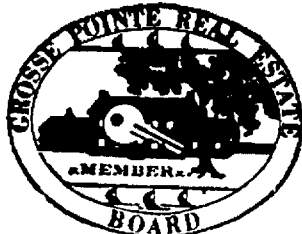

"AS OHIO GOES, so goes the Republican Party," says a grinning Nelson Rockefeller as he points to Gov. James Rhodes in Columbus. Rhodes reportedly leans toward the New York governor for the GOP presidential nomination.

FIRST OFFERINGS

A WORD to the wives... we'd advise you to get the man in your life to join in seeing this one before it's sold. In the Farms on a lot with ample room for the kids and the dog. Four family bedrooms and two more for stay-in-help. Four fireplaces and baths galore and so much more that your personal inspection will prove this to be a house you'll adore.

A SOUTHERN colonial with stately white pillars in front. Resting comfortably on a lot which dwarfs the house. Just the combination for the small family which wants a lot of eye appeal in a smaller home. Three bedrooms, and family room off of the living room. Priced in the mid-forties.

BY APPOINTMENT

WHEN IT COMES to "cool" single story houses in the Farms, we'll put our best foot forward with this white ranch on Stephens hill. You can sock it to us if we misrepresent this listing as the best ranch offering in the Farms. Three family bedrooms are serviced by two baths. There is a third bath and a fourth bedroom off the kitchen. Better late into this one before someone else ties it up.

SELDON WILL a house actively come on the market on this one block long street which leads to the lake. When one does become available it is usually sold before the ad appears in this sheet. We believe this offering will follow the same pattern. This Georgian influenced colonial has five bedrooms, all on the second floor. Off the large entrance foyer are a formal living room, family room, library and dining room. Less than ten years old, so don't worry about "putting" the house back together again.

ONE OF THE FEW remaining lots with 100 feet frontage available in Grosse Pointe City. Located on a street of stately mansions.

THIS ONE is a rarity . . . that small house with big rooms . . . the kind so often requested by those interested in reducing house size but still having elbow room in the master suite, and living and dining and family rooms. Located on a lot just big enough for privacy but not large enough to make you a slave. Let us give you a tour . . . we think you'll rave.

THE BEST OF everything has gone into our Cape Cod on South Deeplands. Each of the four bedrooms is serviced by a bathroom. There are two enormous bedrooms on the first floor. The house has a generously proportioned living room and big library. Air conditioned throughout. Stop running around . . . this one begs you to sit down and cool your heels.

ON MT. VERNON we have listed a fine little three bedroom colonial with that extra room on the back. There's a first floor lavatory, paneled basement room, and good carpeting throughout.

the curfew imposed by Governor Romney. The curfew was continued until Sunday night.

The Grand Rapids disturbances were among a weekend series which occurred in Los Angeles, Cheyenne, Wyo., and Gary, Ind.

FOLLOWING A RAID at 5967 Chene, two Wayne County deputy sheriffs along with two women were charged with gross indecency in Recorder's Court early Sunday morning, after a smoker party at the Chene address. Three other deputies were charged with loitering in a place of illegal occupation. All five were suspended by Sheriff Roman S. Gibbs. The raid followed five hours of surveillance by seven Detroit police Vice Bureau officers and seven County deputies under the command of Inspector William Hunn of the Vice Bureau.

SENATOR EUGENE J. MCCARTHY appeared at a political rally in Tiger Stadium Saturday night before a crowd of 18,000. He made a bid for Negro votes stating black power is essential to black dignity and responsibility. He said it was time his party does more than talk about this problem. This was McCarthy's first major statement on the problems of the ghettos and the Negroes.

POPE PAUL VI disappointed more progressive Catholic leaders Monday when he continued the ban on the contraceptive pill and other mechanical and chemical means of birth control for the world's half a billion Roman Catholics. He also indicated that the rhythm method should not be employed as a regular practice.

GOVERNOR NELSON A. ROCKEFELLER with his expensive, expansive publicity campaign appears to have stirred up some doubt about Richard M. Nixon's chances of winning in November. As the GOP convention platform committee began its public hearings Monday there were indications that Rockefeller was shaking some Nixon delegates away from their moorings. However, a Gallup poll released yesterday indicated that Nixon has enough delegates committed to obtain the nomination.

THE FATE of Czechoslovakia's independent Communist road was placed in the hands of Leaders of the Czechoslovak and Soviet Communist parties Monday when they met for historic negotiations. The talks opened in Cerna, a Czechoslovak railroad junction about one mile from the Soviet border in an old movie theater.

Urge Bike Riders To Lock Wheels

Alarmed at the increase in the number of bicycles stolen in the city during the past month, Grosse Pointe Park police urge all riders to lock their bikes when leaving them for even a few minutes in front of a store or home, or on a driveway, or a school parking lot.

Police Sgt. James E. La Pratt reports that 21 bicycles were stolen in the Park during the first 26 days of July. Only three of them have been recovered, he added.

It appears that more bicycles are stolen from Park owners than in the other Pointes because of the ease with which a pair of larceny-minded youngsters may ride in from Detroit. Then, while one waits, the other mounts an unlocked bike and they ride away separately before they can be apprehended, police say.

"It seems to us that it would be a simple thing for a youngster to lock his bike, instead of leaving it unguarded, and inviting to a thief," said Sgt. La Pratt. "After all, these stolen bicycles are usually the pride and joy of those who own them. They also are expensive. Parents should warn their bicycleriding youngsters of the danger of theft if they do not use the locks most of them own."

Most recent bicycle stolen was reported by Peter Maurer, 8 years old, of 1064 Balfour road, taken from in front of the Park Pharmacy, 15324 East Jefferson, last Sunday.

Two more bicycles were stolen from the rear of Pierce Junior High School, 15430 Kercheval avenue, on Wednesday, July 24. One of them was owned by Tim Kramer, 12 years old, of 1212 Three Mile drive, the other by Tom Weigel, 14, of 1398 Nottingham road.

by whoozit

In the midst of our usual . . . midsummer perusal of all-the-things-we-didn't-have-time-to-get-to-until-now, we've come to our annual collection of local school literary magazines and/or pupils' manuscripts . . . and, as is our midsummer wont, we're about to present a selection from this collection to our readers . . .

From "Inklings" . . . the John D. Pierce Junior High School publication, we've chosen two short poems that especially tickled our fancy, both by Seventh Graders, (they'll be Eighth Graders this fall) . . .

SLURP

There once was a ten-foot canary Owned by a two-foot man, Harry.
That bird's now much wider
There's something inside her.
That ten-foot canary ate Harry!

—Don Briggs

BEHAVIOR

It's very easy being bad.
It's being good that drives you mad.

—Chris Kamm

From "Scribe" . . . Parcels Junior High School's magazine, June issue, we particularly liked these two examples of Free Verse, both by Ninth Graders (note the "increased sophistication." Two grades DO, apparently, make a difference) . . .

A CERTAIN BOND

Though families come in many Sizes, Shapes, Colors and Creeds,
They may and will differ
In an infinite number of ways.
But one fact holds true,
That no matter how large or small,
How dark or light, simple or complex,
Angry or joyous, rich or poor,
A family is a single unit,
Which is mightier than hate itself.

This unit cannot be torn apart,
For it is held together
With the strongest of all bonds.
This bond blinds the eyes of the family
To all their wrongs,
And thus they see good in all.
So they hold each one even tighter.

This bond, this mighty bond,
That holds a group of people together,
And keeps them safe from harm:
This thing, a truly wonderful bond,
Is called LOVE.

By Janet Mueller

It's 1:55 o'clock in the afternoon of a hot, humid midsummer day, and the Farms' waterfront park is crowded. So, for that matter, are the Woods' waterfront park, the City's waterfront park, the Park's waterfront parks and the Shores' waterfront park . . . But we happen, (because it's close to our office, because it's Grosse Pointe's "middle" waterfront park, in size and location), to be at the Farms, where we're about to interview, on a "typical" day, a "typical" Pointe waterfront park guard . . .

We're five minutes early for our appointment with Ed Lauer, park recreation director, who's promised to "look around" among his '68 guard staff and find us our "typical" interviewee.

We arrive at Mr. Lauer's office; Mr. Lauer isn't in it. Neither is anyone else—but we feel sure someone, preferably and probably Mr. L., will arrive soon: The office desk is covered with memos, lists and notes. Example: "Mr. Lauer: Need more Lysol. Found dirty mop in bucket of dirty water. (Signed) Mark."

Enters on Time

Enter, at 1:57 o'clock, Mr. Lauer, carrying broom . . . "You're early!" he says, and then, without taking a breath, running the two sentences together, "What a day! Someone dropped a glass in the Men's Locker Room; I've just been cleaning up . . ."

"Wait here a minute, or take a walk on the pier: I'll go and find the boy I have in mind—you wanted a swimmer, didn't you?"

Exit, while we're still replying, "Yes, a swimmer IS what we had in mind . . ." Mr. Lauer.

We opt for the walk on the pier rather than the wait in the office. It really IS a glorious day and everybody in Grosse Pointe Farms seems to have had the same idea: "Let's go to the park!"

Two rows of prone, baking bodies line the stone jetty overlooking the lake swimming area (best place, according to the experts, to get a tan—you get direct sunlight PLUS reflection, on both sides, from the water).

Little children swarm along the edge of the sand beach, darting in and out of the water, some pushed farther out in small, blue plastic boats by their older brothers and sisters. Back a little way, where the sand is dry, are the mothers and grandmothers, sitting guard over sand pails, sieves and shovels.

Pool Clearing Time

It's Standing Room Only in the pool—until the Big Hand points directly upward on the pool clock, the Little Hand is poised at two . . .

A whistle blows. "All right," orders a megaphone-amplified voice. "Everybody under 18 out of the pool. Everybody under 18 OUT OF THE POOL!"

Up the ladders, up the slides the young ones climb, and the adults take their places in the filtered, chlorinated water. Every hour, this summons is repeated: every hour, for a short while, the adults have the municipal pool all to themselves, until the whistle blows again, signalling the end of the young set's 10-minute exile . . .

Ed Lauer has reappeared, is walking towards us on the jetty. With him is a tanned, compact young man wearing the blue bathing trunks of a Farms Park guard.

His name is Jeffrey Alan Watts, and he's a "Summer Pointer."

Hopes to Return

His parents Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Watts, moved from Birmingham, Mich., to Fort Wayne, Ind., several years ago. They're now in the process of moving back to Michigan, and Jeff is spending his second summer with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Watts, of Clowerly road.

He plans to spend next summer with them, too, and the summer after that — "If," he says with a grin that indicates he's pretty sure of his welcome, "they ask me back."

He's been accepted at the University of Michigan and will begin his freshman year there this fall. "It was between Purdue and Michigan," he says of his college choice, "until I got a scholarship from the Fort Wayne University of Michigan Alumni Club."

"Actually, I preferred Michigan: I have a lot of friends from Birmingham and Grosse Pointe who are going there."

To Major in Chemistry

He's "fairly certain" his college major will be Chemistry.

Jeff is the oldest boy in both his summer and winter families. He has two brothers, Jim, 13, and Steve, 11, and a four-year-old sister, Cindy. The Cloverly road branch of the Watts' family is arranged in much the same way: Jeff's local cousins are Bill, 15, John, 14, and five-year-old Wendy Watts.

Among this year's National Merit Scholarship Competition "Commended Students" (these Commended Students comprise the top percentiles of all those who took the National Merit test), Jeff had an active high school career.

He took pictures for his high school newspaper and yearbook in Fort Wayne. He was in a high school service club and served as treasurer of his church youth group.

And, of course, he swam . . . on the varsity team at Birmingham's Seaholm High School during his sophomore year and on the varsity team at Fort Wayne's Snider High School during his junior and senior years.

Placed in State Meet

He competed twice in the Indiana state swimming meet, coming in fourth in the hundred-yard freestyle and seventh in the two hundred-yard freestyle.

More recently, last month, he competed in Michigan's Water Wonderland meet. "I'm not in shape," he says. "I didn't place." (Actually, he came in 11th in a field of 90 contestants in the 100-meter freestyle, missed qualifying by 6/10ths of a second . . .)

He likes all kinds of sports, especially water sports. "I love anything to do with the water," he says. "I love to swim, I love to teach. I like water skiing, snorkeling, diving . . ."

Obviously, as a Farms waterfront park guard, he's the Right Boy in the Right Place.

He has experience: He worked as a lifeguard at Fort Wayne's Club Olympia. He has his Red Cross Senior Life Saving rating and is completing a Water Safety Instructor rating course.

"All the guards here have either their Senior Life Saving or WSI ratings," he observes.

14 Guards in Corps

The corps of guards at the Farms waterfront park this year numbers 14 boys and eight girls, all senior high or college students. Each works a straight eight-hour shift.

"We work our hours out ourselves," Jeff explains. "We request the shifts we want and Mike Barry, the head guard, makes up the schedule."

So far this year, Jeff hasn't "saved" anybody. Neither have any of the other Farms park guards. They feel that not having to save anyone is proof they're doing their job well.

"Prevention—around a pool, around a small swimming area, that's what you should strive for. You'll never have to save anybody if you're strict enough to make sure nothing's going on."

Has Own Method

Jeff has worked out his own method of dealing with young, human "water hazards."

"I ask them if they know the rules," he reports. "If they say yes, I make them get out of the water, sit down for 10 minutes. If they say no, I make them look them up and recite them for me."

"We're always watching the water, but kids don't think we are. I see them look up at me, at the lifeguard, after they've done something wrong—I can tell they think I didn't see them. But up there (in the elevated guards' chair) you don't miss much . . ."

"Most of the kids are pretty good. This park is quite a personal place. A lot of the same people come every day; you get to know the regulars. We (the guards) even have nicknames for some of them . . ."

"I've met a lot of nice people . . . Jeff, who gets along well with his co-workers, thoroughly enjoys the every-week-or-so "Guard Parties" when staff members gather 'round for some after-hours water fun of their own."

He Likes His Job

He likes his job and is genuinely interested in it. He doesn't begrudge time spent at "work-related" sessions, such as a demonstration by the Farms Fire Department on the use of resuscitators and inhalators. He hopes he'll never have occasion to put what he's learned about life saving into practice—but if he ever does he'll be ready.

He doesn't like rainy days. "When it rains," he says, "it's terrible! Nobody's here . . . Ed Lauer finds things for us to do, painting lines and stuff—there's always something to do—but it's still pretty bad."

The very hot days, the very humid days, have their drawbacks too: "So many people come, you have to be so alert . . . It kind of wears on you . . ."

Still and all, he's happy in his work.

"I'm pretty sure I'll be back next year," he says. "I'd love to come back next year. I'm really having a great time here, this is a great . . ."

It's That Time Again

But the end of Jeff's sentence is lost in a blast of noise. The Big Hand of the pool clock points straight upward, the Little Hand is poised at three. A whistle blows and, hard on its heels, the megaphone-amplified order:

"All right, everybody under 18 out of the pool. Everybody under 18 out of the pool . . . Come on, you kids over there, you heard me—Everybody under 18 OUT OF THE POOL!"

It's hot, it's humid, we have our bathing suit on, we definitely qualify as over 18 . . . "Good-bye, Jeff," we say, "thank you very much. It's been nice talking to you."

The water feels wonderful.
