APOLLO 8'S HOMEWARD bound astronauts hurtled back into the gravity of earth Wednesday, from the isolation of the moon to the world of men and Christmas. Chief astronaut Donald K. Slayton radioed to astronauts Frank Borman, James Lovell and William Anders, "None of us could have asked for a better Christmas present than this." At 12:30 p.m., Detroit time, traveling at 2,845 m.p.h. the spaceship passed into the influence of the earth, 201,857 miles away.

THREE GIS REMAINED in guerrilla hands when the first battlefield rendezvous between unarmed Americans and Vietcong failed to accomplish the release of three U.S. prisoners, Wednesday amid a mass of red tape and propaganda.

Friday, December 27

THE APOLLO 8 moon mariners prepared Thursday for a burning re-entry into earth's atmosphere and a Pacific landing under dark skies Friday. Air Force Col. Frank Borman, Navy Capt. James A. Lovell, Jr. and Air Force Major William A. Anders gave the earth a final televised look at itself from deep space and filled their narration with longings for the shimmering half-disk they left more than five days ago.

Saturday, December 28

A NORTH CENTRAL AIR- LINES plane attempting to land at mist-covered O'Hare International Airport Friday night slammed into a hangar and burst into flames. North Central officials reported 27 of the 45 people aboard the Convair 580 were killed.

Sunday, December 29

HELICOPTER-BORNE Israeli commandos raided Beirut International Airport with gunfire and explosives Saturday night. They destroyed 11 Lebanese planes in a reprisal for an attack by two Arabs on a Israel jetliner.

A BITING SNOWSTORM accompanied by 20-mile an hour winds hit Michigan Saturday, stranding motorists, halting traffic and causing power blackouts in some areas. Preceded by freezing rain, the snow front hit the Upper Peninsula early Saturday and moved across and down the state. It hit Detroit about 7 p.m. on the heels of freezing rain that earlier in the day had made highways impassable.

Monday, December 30

ISRAEL, which has been widely condemned for its commando attack that destroyed most of Lebanon's civil airlines fleet, sent two jets on reconnaissance flights Sunday over the still smoldering wreckage at Beirut International Airport, stirring panic for the second time in 12 hours. Israel was criticized from both western and communist nations. Moscow called it "a brazen provocation," and the United States said it could not condone the raid.

Tuesday, December 31

NEGOTIATIONS BETWEEN the airport's major caterer, Host International, Inc., and the Hotel and Restaurant Workers International Union (AFL-CIO) broke off at 9 p.m. Monday after six hours. Strike deadlines were set for midnight New Year's Eve. Myra K. Wolfgang, president of the union's Detroit Joint Board and an international vice-president, had not explicitly called a strike for midnight New Year's Eve but said "We've got the troops for a two-front battle." She declined to reveal her strategy.

Taught Important Early Step in Education

How many of you did not learn to use the card catalog in a library until you were in high school or college? This picture, taken in the Instructional Materials Center of Richard Elementary School, depicts a daily activity conducted by MRS. REGINA WALKER, Elementary Resource Teacher. She and the other teachers have encouraged primary grade children in the enrichment program to prepare themselves to work on individual projects and to do their own research by familiarizing themselves with library procedures. Shown above (left to right), are LISA SCHNELL and TRACY MCCABE, first graders, and TOM MCHUGH, a second grader, exploring the school's facilities. Officials of the Grosse Pointe Public School System regard this as tangible evidence that improved educational opportunity is available to meet the specific needs of each individual child.

Jail Terms Received by Two Thieves

Burglaries in Pointe and Detroit Confessed; Pair
Sent to Jackson
Prison

The two men who led police on a chase on July 30, through the City of Grosse Pointe and Grosse Pointe Woods, and who later were found to have been responsible for a breaking and entering at the offices of Dr. Edward G. Kane, 18136 Mack, appeared before Judge Blair Moody, Jr., on Monday, December 22, and were sentenced to two to four years in Jackson Prison.

Machete Found In Parked Car

City police received a call on Friday, December 27, from a resident on Village Lane and Cadieux, reporting a car was improperly parked and blocking the street. Upon arrival officers checked the car for ownership and located the driver Kenneth Czuby visiting at 1035 Cadieux.

They found a 23" machete in a sheath lying in the front seat of the car underneath some clothing. Upon questioning, the youth told police that the machete was used to clear the yard of his fraternity house.

Czuby was issued a violation for blocking traffic.

Two Youths Hold Up Truck Driver; Escape with $100

A soft drink driver-salesman was held up by two youths at the rear of 18660 Mack avenue on Monday, December 23, according to information released by Farms authorities.

The hold-up victim, John E. Bonker, 23, of 15823 Lenore, Detroit, told Det. Sgt. George Van Tiem and Det. Otto Glanert that he was at the rear of the Mack avenue address, between Belanger road and the Pointe branch office, at about 2:05 p.m., checking his delivery sheet and arranging payment bills, when two young men approached his truck.

Potential School Dropouts Now Being Offered Service To Insure Rehabilitation

Cooperative Agreement Entered into by Pointe Public
Public School System and State
Education Department

"We are pleased to expand our working agreement with the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation to include services to potential school dropouts who may be experiencing difficulty in the high school program," Dr. Theos I. Anderson, Superintendent of Schools, said.

He and Reginald P. Sienkiewicz, Director of Pupil Personnel for The Grosse Pointe Public School System, met with Miss Gail Bell, Vocational Rehabilitation Counselor for the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation of the Michigan Department of Education, to discuss the new program and to review the existing agreement.

"It is doubtful that many residents are fully aware of the full range of assistance available to the handicapped which will permit them to become active, contributing members of contemporary society," Mr. Sienkiewicz said.

Cooperative Agreement

He said that in July of 1967 the Grosse Pointe Public School System and the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation entered into a cooperative agreement to serve the mentally and physically handicapped students residing in the district of the Grosse Pointe Public School System.

"The purpose of the agreement is to provide sufficient Vocational Rehabilitation services to facilitate an integrated program for the social and vocational habilitation of handicapped people in the Secondary or Special Education programs of the Grosse Pointe Public Schools," Mr. Sienkiewicz added.

This program is meant to be integrated with the academic program. Hopefully, the combination of academic and vocational counseling and training will prepare the handicapped student for future employment. The Division of Vocational Rehabilitation Office will continue to work with the student even if the student terminates his schooling or graduates. The case will not be closed until he is successfully rehabilitated.

Governed by HEW

Vocational Rehabilitation is a division of the State Department of Education, governed by Rehabilitation Services Administration, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare in Washington, D.C. Its primary purpose is to prepare handicapped persons, either mental or physical, for employment. Any state resident of employable age who has a disability may be an applicant for service," Miss Bell said.

"Counseling, guidance, training, and placement are provided at no cost. Other cost services are provided by Vocational Rehabilitation and/or the client depending upon his financial ability and willingness to participate in his own rehabilitation program. Any reasonable service is not refused because of the financial factor. Employable age is generally between 16 and 65 years old, however, acceptable case services have been rendered at age 15 and to persons over 65," she added.

Although it is the school system's responsibility to identify and make a referral to the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation, the Rehabilitation Counselor may also be reached at 13109 Harper, Detroit. The phone number is 372-9820.

Park Losing Belanger as City Judge

Has Served Township and Municipalities Since
1939; New State
Law Requires
Leaving

Park Municipal Judge C. Joseph Belanger announced that in compliance with a new State law, he will not be a candidate for re-election in 1969, and that he will concentrate on his private law practice, when his judicial term expires next July 4. The regular city election will be held in April 1969.

Judge Belanger, a practicing attorney since 1922, was a Grosse Pointe Township Justice of the Peace, a member of the Township Board, and a member of the Township Board of Health, from 1939 through 1950.

In December 1950, when the Village of Grosse Pointe Park incorporated as a city, Judge Belanger was elected the first municipal judge. He was re-elected to this post in 1953, and has served since that time, being returned to office by a substantial majority vote at each succeeding election.

Robin Porter, 17, Dies in Crash

Robin Porter, 17, a senior at Grosse Pointe University School, was among the 20 holiday travelers killed Christmas Eve when an Allegheny Airlines propjet out of Detroit plunged into a frozen swamp as it approached Bradford-McKean Airport near Bradford, Pa. Robin was on her way home for the holidays.

According to officials of the Federal Aviation Administration the Flight 736, had begun a normal landing approach to Bradford-McKean, which has no control tower or radar. The pilot, Captain Gary L. Mill, of Fairfax, Va., reported he was passing an outer marker 3.8 miles southeast of the runway. He said everything was normal and was given the weather and field conditions. Nothing more was heard from him according to FAA officials. The plane skidded into a flat wooded area about 2 1/2 miles from U.S.-59, the nearest thoroughfare.

Rescuers said the plane snapped off a number of trees and then flipped on its back, coming to rest with its nose buried in the mud. Both wings sheared off near the fuselage. Twenty other persons were killed and some 27 were injured.

F.L.E.C. to Show Movie Concerning Debate over LSD

Parents Urged to Attend Presentation of Two Sides of Argument between Professors from Harvard and M.I.T.

F.L.E.C. (Family Life Education Council) Attack Committee Four on Drugs and Alcohol, which develops and promotes programs that provide information to the public, has announced the presentation of a film entitled "Leary vs. Letvin," on Wednesday, January 8, at 8 o'clock, in Fries Auditorium of the War Memorial Center.

The film is a debate between Timothy Leary, well-known advocate of the use of LSD and former Harvard professor, and dissenter Jerome Letvin, physiology professor at M.I.T.

Chairman of Attack Committee Four, Mrs. David Richardson, hopes that area parents make a point of attending this informative session which will help them become aware of the situation as their youngsters are.

Moderating the discussion following the film presentation will be Dr. Calver Worrell, pediatrician and president of FLEC and Dr. Frank Parcells, psychiatrist.

The film will be available to senior high schools upon request of the principals to Ed Krattli of the Neighborhood Club.

Two more films of public interest will be shown on Monday, January 13, at 8 o'clock at Fries Auditorium. They will deal with the problems of Marijuana and LSD. Each film will run for 30 minutes. Two doctors will moderate the discussion following the film.

Members of Attack Committee Sub Group Four include representatives of area churches, civic organizations, educational institutions, interested parents and students.

Hit-Run Driver Damages 2 Cars

An unknown hit-and-run motorist damaged two automobiles parked in Mack avenue, Sunday evening, December 29, according to reports made to Farms police.

Salvatore Cipriano of 51 Greenbriar, told police that he had parked his parents' car on Mack, between LaBelle and Bournemouth, while he had a movie at the Woods Theater, between LaBelle and Bournemouth, while he attended a movie at the Woods Theater, between 8 p.m. and midnight. When he returned to the vehicle, he said, he discovered that the left side, from the rear to the front doors, had been crushed in.

Frank Bommarito of 1214 Lakepointe, told police that he discovered the damage to his auto, at approximately 9 p.m. Damaged was the left rear fender of the vehicle, he said. It had been parked in front of Cipriano's car, it was disclosed.

Police estimate damage to the Cipriano vehicle at about $200; and to Bommarito's, about $100.

Library Offering Artists Chance to Display Work

In January, the Grosse Pointe Public Library will offer the opportunity for all Grosse Pointe residents, young and old, who paint or draw to have their work displayed from January until June at the Central Branch of the Public Library.

The works of art will be available for rent at $2.50 per month, or for sale at the artist's asking price. All money will be returned to the artist. Each artist is entitled to enter three works of art which will be judged by a professional juror. Pictures should be brought to the Central Branch, 10 Kercheval avenue, on January 15 and 16 from 10 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. (Special arrangements can be made for those who cannot bring their pictures in at these hours).

They will be juried on Friday, January 17, and a postcard will be mailed to the artist notifying them of its acceptance or rejection.

This collection has been limited in the past to members of the Grosse Pointe Artists Association; however, this year the library is inviting all residents of Grosse Pointe to participate. They are hoping to have representatives from all the high schools and some of the talented commercial artists who live in the Pointe. All art teachers in public and private schools are especially asked to encourage their outstanding students to enter their work.

For additional information call Mrs. Richard B. Gushee, Fine Arts Chairman, Friends of the Grosse Pointe Public Library, at 882-7714.

Two of Four Incumbents Not Running

Ben Warren and Harry Bodman Dropping Out;
Mark Stevens, Richard
Hudson Seek Re-

There will be at least two new members seated around the Farms council table following the biennial spring election to be held on April 7. Nine aspirants, including two incumbents, had filed petitions for election by the 4 p.m. deadline on Monday, December 30, according to City Clerk Peter Caputo.

The names of the nine candidates, whose petitions were found in order by the city clerk, will be placed on the ballot for the primary election set for February 17. Only the eight receiving the highest number of votes will have the right to compete for the four council vacancies at the April elections.

Pytell Unopposed

Municipal Judge Robert Pytell, who two years ago was elected to fill the unexpired term of Grant Armstrong, who resigned, is unopposed for a return for a full four-year term.

Not seeking re-election are Councilmen Benjamin C. Warren, Jr., who resigned because of reasons of health; and Henry E. Bodman II, who announced that he will not run again because of pressing business commitments.

Hoping to be returned to their council seats are Councilmen Richard C. Hudson and Mark C. Stevens.

Warren, whose resignation became effective December 31, left the council with only three months remaining of his elective term, which expires in April. Because of his health, he will be away from the city during that length of time, and felt that it would not be fair to the council and to the citizens of the community if he remained as a councilman. There will be no appointment to fill the vacancy, it was announced.

Hoping to fill the two certain vacancies, or possibly unseat the two incumbents, are the following: Mrs. Nancy Waughman; Fred Jerow; Warren Delp; Francis Weskel; Robert Herdgen, Jr.; James S. Allor; and John Cushman.

The three successful candidates receiving the highest number of votes in April will serve a four-term on the council; the fourth highest will serve for two years.

The mayor, who is elected a councilman by the voters, is in turn elected to the city's highest office by his colleagues, as provided by the Farms City Charter. He serves for two years, receiving compensation of $900 a year. Compensation for each of the regular members of the council is $600 a year.

Four-Year Term

The term of the municipal judge is for four years, and his compensation is $2,600 a year, with the salary fixed by the council.

Caputo said that the number of signatures needed on a petition is not less than 50, and no more than 75, and that each petition submitted was checked over carefully and found to be in compliance. No filing fee is required, he added.

Qualified persons have until January 16, at 2 p.m., to register to vote in the primary in February, if they are not already on the rolls, Caputo pointed out.

Classes Promote Spring Projects

Now that the holidays are behind you isn't it about time to plan for spring projects? Projects like upholstering that winter-draft chair in your living room, or creating a new and interesting effect on that old table, or making a spring-like handbag to carry in the Easter parade.

Well the Adult Education program of the Grosse Pointe Public Schools, Department of Community Services has come up with two courses that fit the bill.

The first is an Upholstery class taught by Ora Russell, who has served as instructor for over 20 years. Mr. Russell is one of the few artisans left who can provide the kind of instruction popular with students. He gives his pupils the opportunity to bring to class a piece of their own furniture and under his expert guidance, create a thing of beauty.

The class meets for 10 weeks from 7 to 10 o'clock at Richard School for a $15 fee. Learn and create at the same time!

The second offering is a class taught by nationally prominent expert on Decoupage, Louise Hoyt. Mrs. Hoyt has recently introduced many new and exciting techniques for experienced students. Those who have the basic knowledge will be able to move into such new phases of the art as Repousse, Design and Color, Gold Leafing, Opaline, Pearlizing on Glass, and View Optique.

Openings are available for both basic and advance classes which begin during the week of January 13. Classes will meet throughout the week both morning, afternoon and evening for interested adults. Why not try your hand at this creative hobby that produces such "talked about" results? The eight-week course is available to you for only $16.

Reservations in both these classes may be made by calling the Department of Community Services at 885-3808 or 885-0217.

Center Starting Many Classes

From Art through French and Flying to Guitar, a wide variety of interests will be served by the new classes beginning at Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

Terms of three new art classes will begin next week on Tuesday, January 7. They will be taught by Ray Fleming M.F.A. Cranbrook who is on the faculty of Mercy College. Mr. Fleming will teach a beginning class in oils in the mornings from 9:30 to noon. Each Tuesday afternoon from 1 to 3:30 he will conduct a life class with model. On Tuesday evenings, for the benefit of those busy during the day, there will be a combined still life and life class from 7:30 to 10. The fee for all courses is $35 for a term of 12 two and one half hour weekly classes.

Folk Art will be taught by Marge Pankhurst on Wednesday mornings beginning January 8 from 9:30 to 11:30 and on Wednesday evenings from 7:30 to 11:30. In these classes Mrs. Pankhurst will show her students how to handpaint with quick drying acrylic paints, personal accessories such as lunch pail handbags and unusual items for the home such as milk cans. Both highly original designs and traditional patterns are used. Fee for Folk Art is $24 for eight weeks.

French Salons de Conversation will be conducted with a flair by Mme. Charles Bachrach on Tuesday mornings. This charming native of France will teach all the nuances of the language to beginning conversationalists from 9 to 10:30 each Tuesday morning beginning January 7. Those with more experience will be included in a group from 10:30 to noon. The favor of an interview is requested by Mme. Bachrach of all new students. She would like to meet with them Monday, January 6, at 10 a.m. the day before classes begin. The fee is $24 for 10 weeks.

Those who wish to pilot their own planes or become commercial pilots are urged to enroll in the Flight Training Ground School at the War Memorial beginning Wednesday night, January 8 from 7 to 10 p.m. The training includes meteorology, navigation, and everything necessary to pass the written examination administered by the F.A.A. which is necessary for a private pilot's license. The course is taught by expert instructors W. E. Goche and Connie Earl.

Classical guitar may be studied at the Center on Thursday evenings beginning January 9. There is a 7:30 class for beginners and an 8:30 class for intermediate students. Both are taught on a semi-private basis by Brian Crow for a fee of $38 for 10 weeks.

Bayview Elects Fleet Officers

Bayview Yacht Club held its annual meeting on Wednesday, December 11.

Succeeding Commodore Thomas J. Hanson for the new year will be Commodore Carter Sales Jr. of 71 N. Deeplands.

Howard N. Girardin of 31 Fisher road will be the new Vice-Commodore and G. Norman Gilmore of 20104 E. Ballantyne road was elected Rear Commodore.

Commodore William M. Bremer of 298 Touraine road was nominated to the Board of Control.

Roland Likert of 290 Moran road and James Schudel of 355 Moross road are elected to the Board of Governors.

Belanger

During World War II, he served as vice chairman of the Federal Selective Service System Board No. 57, which covered the Pointe area. He served as a member of the Charter Revision Committee appointed by Mayor Karl Goddard in 1942, and in 1950 was elected a member of the Charter Commission of Grosse Pointe Park.

Every year, on his own time, he attends a Traffic Court Conference held at Northwestern University in Evanston, Ill., after which, he submits a report of the conference to the mayor and city council. In 1957, he received The American Bar Association Traffic Award, which presently hangs in his office.

Judge Belanger has been praised for both his firmness and leniency in the administration of justice in his court, but never shows favoritism when meting out sentences.

Above Criticism

Not once has his handling of court matters come under any form of criticism. He has always contributed his utmost in cooperation with the Park administrative officials and in serving the community's citizens.

Although reluctant to see Judge Belanger leave his post, Mayor Matthew Patterson and the members of the city council said they have the greatest respect and admiration for the judge, and wish him the best when he leaves his judicial post. Judge Belanger, who will soon be 70 years "young," is prohibited, under the new State law, from seeking re-election to the post. The law makes it mandatory that judges leave their judicial jobs when they reach 70 years of age.

Little tasks, well done, serve as a proving ground for the larger ones to come.

Cinema League Meeting Jan. 9

The Grosse Pointe public is invited to the Grosse Pointe Cinema League meeting to be held Thursday, January 9, at 8 p.m. in the Fries Auditorium. Alumni of the University of Michigan will be especially interested in the first film, "Knowledge, Wisdom and the Courage to Serve."

This film was produced by the U. of M. and is the story of the University. It depicts the educational process at work, the programs of research; achievements of outstanding alumni; the University's concern with the problems of contemporary life; and its confrontation with the central issues of our time.

The second film to be shown is "Land of the Overlanders." This is a travel film which shows those fortunate tourists who travel the spectacular mountain highways of the British Columbia Rockies.

The final film of the evening will be "Where Winter's a Pleasure." This film will be of interest to the winter sports enthusiast as it depicts the white-crested mountains glistening in the sun, a brilliant sky and great stretches of powdery snow waiting for the expert skiers sweeping down the exhilarating runs of the Canadian Rockies.

Good resolutions often strike a man when he's down and out.

George Flynn Still Missing

It has been almost seven weeks since the mysterious disappearance of George Flynn, owner of the Alger Party Store at 17320 Mack, and authorities have had no new clues into the disappearance.

Flynn left his St. Clair avenue residence on November 15, to collect an old debt. He checked into an Oscoda motel, telephoned his wife and then left there in his car. At the Singing Bridge Grocery his car developed trouble and he left it there. He then walked to the Taylor Cottages, just south of the Singing Bridge and registered. He stayed about 10 minutes then headed back to the grocery store. He has not been seen or heard from since.

Authorities from the Sheriff's Department, the State Police and City of Grosse Pointe police have been conducting exhaustive but unproductive investigations into Mr. Flynn's disappearance.

Try to please everybody, and you'll find it very unpleasant. Vacations leave people physically and financially exhausted.

Social Security Changes Listed

Starting with the first pay checks they receive in the new year, the nation's working people will pay 4.8 percent of their earnings toward their social security protection, an increase of 0.04 of one percent over the contribution rate in effect since the beginning of 1967.
Social security contributions are still payable on only the first $7,800 of annual earnings. George C. Franzen, social security district manager of the Detroit-East office, said. For a person earning $7,800 or more a year ($150 a week or over), the increase will amount to 60 cents a week; a worker earning $100 a week will pay 40 cents a week more.
The increase that goes into effect January 1, was scheduled in the social security amendments of 1967. Those amendments increased cash benefits for all beneficiaries by at least 13 percent. The increase in benefits payable to workers and their families in the future will be even greater, Franzen said. Retirement protection for workers and their families is increased, and so is the protection wives and children have if the worker should die. There is also improved protection for the entire family if the family breadwinner should become disabled for work for a period of 12 months or more.
The contribution rate of 4.8 percent for 1968-70 is actually slightly lower than the 4.9 percent rate that was scheduled for those 2 years in the previous law, Franzen said.
Gradual increases are scheduled in the contribution rate until, for 1987 and later, the rate will be 5.9 percent. Franzen noted that this is only 0.25 of one percent higher than the rate scheduled in the law before amendments of 1967. This rate includes 5.0 percent for retirement, survivors, and disability insurance, and 0.9 percent for hospital insurance.
Younger workers, as well as those who are middle-aged or older, can look forward to getting social security retirement benefits worth considerably more than the total they will pay into social security toward that retirement protection, Franzen stated.
In addition, he said, they have survivors and disability insurance under social security that may mean as much as $75,000 to $100,000 in payments to an individual family, should the worker die or become disabled for work before retirement. A look at the schedule of benefits and contributions in today's law, Franzen said, will assure the worker that his social security is a good investment. But he can look forward to an even greater appreciation in its value in the years ahead. Unlike the usual private insurance contract which promises a fixed amount of money in return for a specified premium, the value of social security protection grows as the economy grows.

St. John Hospital Elects Trustees

The election of three additional members to the recently expanded Board of Trustees of Saint John Hospital has been announced by Sister M. Verence, S.S.J., Chairman of the Board and Superior General of the Sisters of Saint Joseph.
This brings the total of Saint John trustees to 13 since the corporate reorganization of the hospital under James T. Farley, president.
The new trustees are C. Bradford Lundy, Jr., of Lundy-VanGoethem and Associates in Grosse Pointe Shores; Benjamin F. Haddad, M.D., president of the hospital's Medical Staff; and, Sister Lenore Lennemann, S.S.J., regional coordinator of the Sisters of Saint Joseph.
A trustee of the Village of Grosse Pointe Shores since 1964, Mr. Lundy is active in several community organizations as well as in the field of politics. He is a member of the 100 Club, the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club, the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club, the Detroit Athletic Club, the Knights of Columbus and the Detroit Area Council of Boy Scouts.
Both Mr. Lundy and his wife, the former Marilyn Fisher, are life-time residents of the Detroit area. They have eight children.
Dr. Haddad, a neurosurgeon, has been on the medical staff of Saint John since 1956, when he began his practice. A graduate of the University of Iowa with his bachelor and medical degrees, Dr. Haddad served his internship and residency at Harper and Grace hospitals.
For the past several years he has been assistant clinical professor of surgery with the Wayne State University College of Medicine.
Dr. Haddad's professional affiliations include the American Board of Neurosurgery and the honorary Harvey Cushing Society.
A resident of Grosse Pointe, Dr. Haddad and his wife have six children.
Sister Lenore, a native of Detroit, received her bachelor's degree from Nazareth College and Master's degree from Marquette University. Since 1956 she has been principal of St. Philip Neri and St. David high schools and secondary school supervisor for the Sisters of Saint Joseph. She has made her home at Saint John Hospital this year since her appointment as regional coordinator for the Motherhouse in Kalamazoo.

Two Thieves

and Freddie Saunders, 35, of 1301 Virginia Park, Detroit, were found to have business machines valued at $530 in their car at the time of their arrest.
Also found in their car were screwdrivers, saws, lug wrenches and several more business machines which had been taken from the dental office of Dr. Robert B. Queltette, 18101 E. Warren, Detroit.
At that time the two men were arraigned before Judge Malcolm Sutherland in Grosse Pointe Municipal Court and a complaint was signed by one of Dr. Kane's employees. A plea of not guilty was entered for the defendants who stood mute and surety bonds of $5,000 each were set.
Both were unable to post bond and were held for examination on August 14. A second warrant was obtained against the pair by the Detroit Police Department, who verified that prints of Scala and Saunders were also found at the B and E on East Warren. When the pair were confronted with the evidence they made full confessions on both B and E's.

Slate Winter Adult Classes

Adult Education classes for the Winter Semester are about to open in Grosse Pointe. Hundreds of active adults will busy themselves in stimulating activities again in such classes as Accelerated Reading, Foreign Languages, Business and Real Estate Law, Auto Mechanics, Oceanography, Typing, Creative Writing, Sewing, Decoupage; and many, many others.
During the year there will be some 6,000 enrollees in the Adult Education classes that offer instruction in courses of Self Improvement, Special Interest, Arts and Crafts, Homemaking, and Sports and Exercise. These daytime and evening courses are offered by the Department of Community Services of the Grosse Pointe Public Schools and are supported by the modest fees paid by participants. The philosophy of this program is best described in the statement seen many times in its advertising, "No Final Exams, No Report Cards, No Failures."
Three new classes will be introduced during the Winter Semester. An Income Tax course will provide vital information to anxious tax payers, a class in Business Management will provide new, as well as time tested, business management concepts to responsible business executives wanting to up-date themselves, and the Public School Administrative Staff will form a team to provide interested citizens information in a course titled "Operation Public Schools."
A detailed outline of the Winter program appears elsewhere in this edition of this paper. Further information may be secured by calling the Department of Community Services at 885-3808 or 885-0271.

The course covers all phases of pre-flight training including meteorology, navigation, and FAA regulations. At the end of the course, the FAA administers a written examination which is necessary for a private pilot's license.

The course is offered for a fee of $25 with the option of one in-flight lesson added for $5 more. Enrollments are taken in the War Memorial's office any time during the week.

Income Tax Help Offered

Income tax — who wants to think about it now? Before you file your 1968 return, however, it might be a good idea to take a little time to study the law in one of the new Adult Education courses offered by the Department of Community Services of the Grosse Pointe Public Schools.

A short four session course will be offered on Monday nights from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. beginning January 13 at the Grosse Pointe South High School for only five dollars. Dan Morehead will be the instructor for this class and will bring his special training and teaching talents to bear on a short but power-packed course of valuable information. The course is designed to simplify the language and eliminate some of the confusion of what the law allows and what it does not allow. Sample forms will be available for these sessions and it is possible to come close to completing an income tax return during the course. Questions concerning reportable income, capital gains, Michigan State Income Tax, computation and payment of taxes, and the many, many intricate possibilities for deductions will be a part of the content covered.

It is anticipated that questions will be raised and answers offered in this group situation that any one person would never have otherwise had brought to his attention. This is a fresh new approach in the Adult Education program that is intended to provide a service of value.

A reservation in the class is necessary and may be made by calling the Department of Community Services at 885-3808 or 885-0271.

Business Course Starts Jan. 22

Business Management will be one of the new Adult Education classes offered by the Grosse Pointe Public Schools, Department of Community Services. Mr. Charles Baum, who is a local resident and a graduate of Michigan State University, is trained in the broad field of business management will offer the instruction.

This class is intended to be of service to business men who are interested in up-dating their own expertise in such areas as budget and forecasting, cost accounting, data processing, industrial and business psychology, business financing, and taxes. Mr. Baum will invite well qualified experts to be guest speakers in special interest areas throughout the course. Any person whose work requires responsible decisions, whether they are the owners of small businesses or employed as a middle-management person in one of the "big three," will find this course of special benefit.

Business Management is scheduled for Wednesday evenings from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. beginning January 22. The ten week course will cost participants $12.00.

A reservation for the class may be made by calling the Department of Community Services at 885-3808 or 885-0271.

Caught Driving Without License

Teddy E. Methner, 19, of 20454 Fleetwood, Harper Woods, was arrested by Woods police on Friday, December 27, and charged with driving with no operator's license on his person.

Patrolman Bruce Marone said that he was on routine patrol, at about 4:24 a.m., when he observed Methner traveling south on Mack avenue, and because of the hour, the officer called in for a check on the license plate number, in the event the vehicle might have been reported stolen.

The return radio message revealed that Methner was wanted on a Woods traffic warrant, and Marone stopped the youth at Huntington, and asked him for his operator's license. Methner did not have it on his person, and he was taken to the station.

At the station, Methner was issued a violation ticket for not having his license on his person, and was released after posting bond in the amount of $22, on the outstanding warrant, in which he is charged with speeding.

He is scheduled to appear in the Woods Municipal Court, on the old and newest charges, on January 4.

You can't start a new life without first discarding the old.

Safety Experts Hold Elections

Lt. James Martin, a veteran of the Detroit Police Department's Accident Prevention Bureau, has been elected chairman of the Detroit Safety and Traffic Committee sponsored by Automobile Club of Michigan.

Martin, who had been vice chairman for the last year, succeeds Wilson Morrison, DSR official.

James Stower, manager of the Public Relations Department of the Detroit News, is the new vice chairman.

Bayard A. Clark, director of Auto Club's Safety and Traffic Division, was reelected secretary.

The committee is composed of Detroit area police, traffic and civic safety leaders. It meets twice monthly to consider and advise upon Detroit and metropolitan area traffic problems.

Clark, 1969 Van Antwerp, Grosse Pointe Woods, is a former member of the Detroit Police Department. He joined Auto Club's Safety and Traffic Division in 1941, became assistant director six years later and was named to his present post earlier this year.

Camera Club Meets Jan. 7

Blaze Damages Munson Home

A two-alarm fire damaged the home of Thomas L. Munson, 187 Moross road, and firemen battled the blaze for approximately 35 minutes before putting it out, according to Farms Fire Chief M. William Mason.

A member of the Munson family called in the alarm at 12 midnight, Monday, December 30, and at 12:16 a.m., a second alarm was sounded and the City dispatched a fire truck and personnel, to assist the Farms firefighters.

Chief Mason said that the fire originated in the recreation room on the third floor of the house, and is believed to have started when a cigarette accidentally fell from an ash tray onto a couch, and laid there unnoticed.

The fire was confined to the recreation room, it was said, but there was some smoke damage to the second floor, and some water damage. The total over-all damage will not be known until insurance adjusters complete an inventory, it was said.

Snowmobiles Give Healthy Boost to State's Economy

Never in Michigan's history has an outdoor sport developed so quickly, cost so much money for an individual to enjoy, irritated as many private property owners, caused so much concern in the state legislature and received such wide acceptance by the public as snowmobiling, according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

"It is quite possible that within the next few years our car license plates could carry the slogan 'The Snowmobile State,'" says Jerry E. Fisher, Automobile Club of Michigan's touring manager.

"Just four years ago, the average Michigan resident had to either find a picture of a snowmobile in a newspaper or magazine or visit a ski lodge where there was one in service as a work horse to see what it looked like," he adds.

A typical snowmobile, capable of carrying two adults, weighs about 350 pounds, is about eight feet long, three and a half feet high and can reach speeds up to 40 miles per hour. Beefed-up machines for competition can reach speeds over 60 miles per hour. The horsepower varies from model to model. One new model this winter offers a 25-horsepower engine.

In 1964, snowmobiling first received attention in the Lower Peninsula as a Michigan sport. (They were used in the Upper Peninsula 10 years earlier). There were only 14,000 snowmobiles in use across the nation when they started becoming popular in this state's Lower Peninsula.

Last winter approximately 75,000 to 100,000 snowmobiles were owned by Michigan residents alone—more units, it is estimated, than in any other state.

In the past three years, Michigan snowmobilers have spent approximately $120 million on machines and accessories. They burned an estimated 10 million gallons of gasoline in the same period which added another $3.5 million to the state's economy.

There is no way to estimate the amount of money spent in restaurants, motels, at gas stations for auto travel to and from snowmobile centers or in winterizing once inaccessible summer cabins," adds Fisher.

He estimates that if all the facts were known, snowmobiling could have contributed over $250 million to this state's economy since 1964.

"With approximately 125,000 snowmobiles in use by Michigan residents this winter—up 25 percent from last winter—no less than $30 million should be spent on equipment and operational expenses," Fisher says.

The average person who invests in a snowmobile cannot spend less than $1,000 for one of the top 10 makes out of 60 models on the market. He could spend closer to $1,400. (For those who wish to rent a machine, chambers of commerce can give local information.)

For every driver who wants to be properly and fashionably dressed for a 40-mile-an-hour ride over the snow in zero weather, add at least $100 per person for a special suit, boots, gloves, goggles and facemask. This figure can be inflated to the $200 mark for persons who are satisfied only with the best.

Proper clothing is a necessity. With a temperature of five degrees above zero and a snowmobile traveling 30 miles per hour, the "chill factor" drops the temperature to about 40 degrees below zero.

Accessories which now can be added to a snowmobile are beginning to grow at a rate too rapid for any person or organization to keep track, points out Auto Club.

For example, Mercury, a major manufacturer of outboard motors, is just getting into the market with three new machines for 1969.

One Michigan company, Pardonnet Mfg., Livonia, has a $480 camper which is mounted on skis for towing. It features a built-in ice fishing trap door.

Another company, General Aluminum Products, at Charlotte, now offers a sled for about $180 which can be used to haul supplies or passengers plus a small ski-mounted camper for about $500. Called the "Sno-Cruiser" and the "Sno-Camper," they are just a hint of what the snowmobiling public will want and spend money for next.

There are also special trailers available to haul the snowmobile on the highway. Manufacturers offer single and double-unit trailers, ranging in price from $150 to $250.

Last year, snowmobiles were so common all over the state that they became a problem to private property owners and on the roads. Private property owners complained that snowmobiles ruined lawns and small shrubs, while motorists complained that they were becoming a hazard on highways and county roads.

As a result, the state legislature passed a law governing the operation of these over-the-snow vehicles. The regulations in the law were based on suggestions by the Michigan Snowmobilers Association.

The law, which became effective January 1, requires that unless a snowmobile is used on private property, either owned or under the control of the snowmobiler, the vehicle must be registered at a Secretary of State office and carry a visible registration number. The fee for registration is $5 for a three-year period.

The State Snowmobile Act also forbids the operation of these vehicles on state and county roads and on limited access highways—with a few exceptions. In instances when snowmobiles are permitted on roads, they must not interfere with traffic and must yield the right-of-way.

In Michigan this winter, there are 16 state parks, 27 state forests and four national forests which have marked trails for snowmobilers. An Auto Club map shows where they are located, tells how to get to them and how long trails are.

Most snowmobile dealers have information on private areas where machines can be operated and furnish lists of the many events being held this winter for snowmobilers.

Hockey Chiefs Cling to Lead

The Grosse Pointe Chiefs Juvenile Hockey Team beat the St. Clair Shores Firebirds 4 to 0, last Sunday.

Goalie Tom Miller, who just joined the Chiefs last Thursday, recorded the team's first shutout of the season. This earned Tom a "Zero Patch" which is awarded by the Michigan Amateur Hockey Association.

Jim Griffin and Doug Maxwell scored two goals each. Tom Buckman had two assists. This was a very important victory for the Chiefs because they still remain in first place in the South East Michigan Hockey League.

Resolutions Are in Order

By Pepper Whiteleaf

Since New Year's Resolutions are as usual this time of year as brushing out the teeth in the morning, how about trying to make them in this manner?

I will give up smoking IF my nerves settle down. IF I don't watch any television suspense shows, IF I can find something I like so well.

I will try to have a pleasant thought each morning before getting out of bed IF the children don't insist on a hot breakfast. IF the dog doesn't jump on my toes. IF the cat doesn't butt the dog.

I will control my temper IF drivers don't make left hand turns without signaling. IF people don't push ahead of me in line at the post office. IF no one makes unreasonable requests of me.

I will not eat another party snack IF I am not invited to anyone's party. IF I don't like the hostess. IF I sleep through the weekends.

I will not complain when photographs taken with a regular camera do not come out. IF I am given a polaroid as a backup camera.

I will keep all my New Year's resolutions IF I become someone else's allergist!

Don't be afraid of criticism—people need ceiling down as well as building up.

Public Schools in Focus

By Dr. Theos I. Anderson, Superintendent of Schools

Many readers of this column may not know about a program for the handicapped of all ages (beginning at 16) in which your public schools participate.

The Vocational Rehabilitation program, funded by the Michigan Department of Education, has been designed to help those with disabilities (ranging from the obvious physical handicap to those which are less noticeable) to prepare themselves for life and a livelihood.

"We have an obligation to make these people employable, because these handicaps—if not compensated—may lead them into a life of frustration, unpredictability, or idleness," Reginald P. Sienkiewicz, our system's Director of Pupil Personnel and the man who administers the program locally, said recently.

Who is eligible for the Vocational Rehabilitation Program?

Every individual who has a physical or mental handicap, which now prevents his getting a suitable job (or threatens continuation of present employment), and has a reasonable chance of securing (or continuing) employment after services have been completed.

What services are available?

Among the programs are vocational counseling, on-the-job training, psychological, aptitude and interest testing, provisions for college tuition, fees and books, job placement, personal adjustment training, technical and business school training, maintenance and transportation grants, tools, equipment and licenses, prosthetic appliances, surgery and treatment, and medical evaluation.

Recently emphasis has been placed on pre-vocational training and counseling of potential school dropouts. A cooperative agreement has been reached with Vocational Rehabilitation whereby these services are available upon the request of the school counselor.

Staff members in the Michigan Vocational Rehabilitation Program work closely with officials in the public schools, private agencies for the handicapped, mental hospitals, social security administration, the human resources development program, the Michigan Employment Security Commission, insurance companies, welfare recipient program, and the draft rejectee program. The State of Michigan operates seven offices to administer the program in Wayne County, and 17 in out-state locations.

If you know of someone in the community who might be aided by participation in one of the various programs provided by the Vocational Rehabilitation Program of the Michigan Department of Education, call our Department of Pupil Personnel for local assistance, 885-2000, extension 63.

Rotary Club Contest

Leslie Caplan, of The Liggett School has been named the winner of $25 in the seventh week of the Grosse Pointe Rotary Club's Contest, Youth Forum. Leslie's winning entry entitled "Respect Desired For All," follows.

All of us have been repeatedly reminded of the Commandment: "Honor thy Father and Mother," and the old adage, "Respect your elders." These aphorisms are fine, but let's have an adage promoting teenagers. Even we are entitled to a certain amount of respect, but this respect is rarely ever given us.

Often the only things mentioned about teenagers in the newspapers are how bad they are, how they steal and have car accidents, or how they riot. Such complimentary news as a teenager receiving a scholarship, or a medal, or working for charity organizations is imbedded deep within the center of the newspaper and is rarely ever seen except by another teenager.

Many times a teen has gone into a store and has either been insulted or received unsatisfactory service. There really is no excuse for it, especially when teenagers have consumer power and dollars to spend as well as concern as to how it is spent.

So often our parents have told us to do odd jobs neglecting the word, "please," and when the task has been completed, the words, "thank you," have slipped their minds. We are hurt by their neglect, yet we cannot demand their respect.

Not all of us are immature or disrespectful. A feeling of equality, rather than superiority, should be established between the parent and the child. Perhaps this could narrow the gap between our generations.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Sir:

I have reviewed the very, very long letter in your last edition by Robert McKenna. He did not disclose the fact that he is a paid employee of the community (School Board).

The question involved has ceased to be a pure question of education and teachers such as McKenna are obviously not equipped to determine the necessary conclusions. In all fields of American life, I.Q. is the vital ingredient; in top executives—recently, an M.D. was president of General Electric.

The businessmen of the community are fed up with the visionary theoretical nonsense which has impregnated most educators. Progressive Education has had 30 years to display its failure. Since Mrs. Roosevelt contributed her notion (one of several mistakes) the youth of the nation have gone downhill rapidly. It is true that the churches have failed and some blame must be placed on the home, but the home pays its taxes and expects to have its agents carry out its mandate.—those whose "seeds I eat, song I should sing," etc.

There is no use discussing progressive education, which all businessmen regard as socialist nonsense, founded upon Utopian dreams. The theorists (idealists) will always want to plan life according to hopes, but the businessmen know life must be founded upon experience and realism. All in all, McKenna does not understand the problem and is apparently incapable of appreciating that teachers should do what they are told and not follow their own notions and dreams.

Respectfully yours,
Leslie T. Jones

What Goes On at Your Library

By Virginia Leonard

Guest Columnist: Robert M. Orr, Director of Public Libraries

It is a privilege to be invited to write our special New Year's column.

Nineteen hundred and sixty-eight was an eventful year for the Public Library, and as we prepare to meet another new year, it seems worthwhile to look back as well as forward.

The Grosse Pointe Public Library faces an opportunity and a challenge that is almost unique, serving a community which has been termed by experts as the most ideal library-use community in America; receiving solid support from the Grosse Pointe Public School System, as one of its Divisions; having a Friends of the Library group which is looked upon as one of the finest, and among the biggest, such organizations in the entire country; and a well-trained, dedicated staff.

As Director, it is my responsibility to see to it that every effort is made to translate these blessings into a high quality of library service. I am confident that our staff is working very hard to reach this ideal.

Final statistics for 1968 are not yet available, so no accurate measurement can be made of library use. However, circulation of adult books appeared to gain slightly and children's books drop. Circulation of records, 16 mm. and 8 mm. films, art prints, tapes, tools, and film strips appeared to just about hold their own. During the year more than 500,000 library materials were circulated to more than 30,000 library users. The professional librarians in the three Public Libraries were kept busy with reference and readers' advisory questions and answering telephone reference requests. Over the past year, more than 15,000 residents attended 600 meetings.

So much for the positive! Nineteen hundred and sixty-eight was an extremely sad year for the Public Library as a Division of the Public School System. After nineteen years of support by voters in school elections, four out of five issues were voted down by the voters in the February and September School Elections. Included in those voted down was the only request ever made by the Board of Education directly for Public Library use during its thirty-nine year history. Although the writer firmly believes that these defeats were occasioned by a "tax protest," it still hurt.

Defeat of the Public Library Expansion Program poses a very real problem for us of the Public Library staff. The need for expansion of the Central Library and new Woods and Park Branch Libraries has been conclusively proven by an objectives study paid for by the Friends of the Library and authorized by the Board of Education. The most glaring deficiency today is in our book collection where we have available only 50 percent of the collection called for by minimal and reasonable national standards. In short, where the three Public Libraries should have 200,000 books available, they have less than 100,000. Even if our book budget was tripled, or some public-spirited citizen donated 100,000 books there is literally no room on the shelves until additional facilities are available.

It is hoped that approval can be secured in the near future to eliminate all closed stacks in the three libraries in order to make every single one of the 123,000 books presently owned available to the public, i.e. putting more than 25,000 books now on closed shelves in the Main Reading Rooms of the three Public Libraries. At the same time, it is hoped that we may be able to move the Processing Department to the second floor stack room of the Central Library, and house the Audio-Visual Department in the present Processing Room, giving that important Department much improved facilities. While these moves which include filling the Reading Rooms of the three libraries, especially Central, with books are drastic, it is the only way the writer knows to assure absolutely maximum use of existing facilities.

In closing, we of the Public Library staff are deeply grateful for many blessings. We are especially grateful that a number of citizens have indicated their desire to participate in studying the needs of the Public Library as one phase of the work of the Citizens Millage Committee. We of the staff will be delighted to work with them, and with all others in the School District interested in improving Public Library service.

As Director, I would like to give a special vote of thanks to the Board of Education, our official board; to the Friends Board of Directors, our advisory board, and to the 1970 members; to Dr. Theos I. Anderson, Superintendent of Schools; to Robert B. Edgar, Editor & Manager of the Grosse Pointe News and to the many residents whose interest in and support of the public Library has meant so much. Here's wishing to all of you a New Year full of happiness and progress.

From Another Pointe of View

By Janet Mueller

Happy New Year! And, as you open your 1969 Engagement Calendars for the first time today, be sure to put a big red star, or exclamation point, or series of exclamation points, in the little box for Sunday, February 9.

That's the date Overture to Opera 1969 will play at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

This year's Overture, with a cast of 30 professional performers scheduled to present 15 appearances in the Metropolitan Detroit area February through March under the general direction of Dr. David DiChiera, will offer a full evening of opera with both Kurt Weill's "The Choice" and Donizetti's "Night Bell" being performed.

Overture to Opera was originally conceived as a means of advertising the operas to be performed in the coming season by the Metropolitan Opera Company. But after eight years of growth, its function has changed.

It is now dedicated to acquainting the public of all ages with opera, giving young professional talent an opportunity to perform near their hometowns and offering operatic works that would not otherwise be seen in The Midwest.

Overture to Opera is sponsored annually by the Detroit Grand Opera Association, Oakland University and the University Center for Adult Education.

Alison Lee Gostow Marries Mr. Ewing

Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church is Setting for Friday Evening Rites; Pair Vacationing in Jamaica

A reception at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club followed the Friday evening, December 27, wedding of Alison Lee Gostow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Leon Gostow, of North Renaud road, and Stephen Ward Ewing, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Stephen Ewing, of Evanston, Ill.

Officiating at the 6 o'clock rites in Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church was Dr. John Olert, Jr.

The bride's white peau de soie gown was fashioned with a jewel neckline, cap sleeves, a semi-bellied skirt and a full detachable train falling from a natural waistline.

Both the gown and train were appliqued with re-embroidered Alencon lace and beaded with seed pearls. A small headpiece of matching lace held her bouffant illusion veil, and she carried a cascade of small Jack Frost roses, stephanotis and ivy foliage.

Terry Lynn Gostow, who served as her sister's honor maid, and bridesmaids Mary Summer, Julie Stulpin and Dodee Collioud wore shocking pink velvet frocks.

Their headpieces were fashioned of natural pink garnet roses and ivy, and they carried bouquets of Elegance carnations, accented with the pink roses, stephanotis and ivy.

The bridegroom asked Frank L. Beam, of Chicago, Ill., to act as best man. Ushers were Stewart Boal, Jr., of Cazenovia, N.Y., Norman Westerhold, III, of Northfield, Ill., and Peter and James Ewing, brothers of the bridegroom.

For her daughter's wedding and the reception, Mrs. Gostow selected a floor length gown of blue silk. The bridegroom's mother's floor length ensemble was fashioned of pale blue and white brocade.

It makes it brown or red or blonde and one hundred years from now, it'll undoubtedly exist. Meantime, however, we can make your hair brown or red or blonde or any shade in-between your heart desires. ## Group to Enjoy Skiing Weekend

Grosse Pointe War Memorial's "Group" for young singles in their twenties has planned a northern ski weekend for their January activity. The ski trip is planned for the coming weekend of January 10-12.

The Group will prepare some meals on a cooperative basis in the kitchen and eat others out at a designated spot. Each afternoon, there will be an informal BYO cocktail party at the Skihaus.

The Skihaus can accommodate just 26, so Group members and their guests are urged to sign up early. The skiing is great, and a sleigh ride is planned too, through the northern woods surrounding the Skihaus. (Additional cost just 50¢ per person.)

To err is human—to blame it on your next door neighbor is still more so.

Miss Peat Married To Mr. Hershberger

Re-Embroidered Alencon Lace Accents Bride's White Satin Victorian Gown; Attendants Wear Apple Green A Line Skimmers

Exchanging wedding vows at a candlelight service Saturday, December 28, in Grosse Pointe Methodist Church were Barbara Jeanne Peat, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Alexander Peat, of Devonshire road, and Duane Eugene Hershberger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Eugene Hershberger, of Lansing.

The Reverend Mr. Perry Thomas officiated at the 6:30 o'clock rites, which were followed by a reception at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club.

The bodice, sleeves and Chapel train of the bride's Victorian style white dulcette satin gown were accented with re-embroidered Alencon lace. Her illusion veil fell from a lace and satin crown, and she carried an arrangement of white roses.

Janet Peat served as her sister's honor attendant. Bridesmaids were Teresa Kirchner, Susan Lane, Susan Rashid and Janet Easterman.

They wore apple green A line skimmers, styled with jeweled necklines, and silver Dior headbands, and carried bouquets of pink carnations and ivy.

Best man was Thomas Fraser. In the usher corps were Gerald Blanchard, Steven Weatherbee, Charles Poor, Eric Hershberger and Ken Peat.

The mother of the bride wore a shocking pink worsted jacket dress, while the bridegroom's mother selected a blue Chantilly lace cage. Their flowers

JUDY A. SUTHERLAND, daughter of MR. and MRS. ARIEL SUTHERLAND, of Muir road, was one of 45 trainees who were graduated recently from a VISTA training program at the Glen Ferguson Center in Atlanta Georgia. As a Volunteer in Service to America, Judy will spend one year working with the Carroll Service Council in Carrollton, Georgia. Her activities will include organizing a city planning council, tutoring, assist in giving health services, and organize recreation programs such as dance, arts and crafts, and trips. Judy attended St. Paul High School. She studied at St. John Hospital and in 1967 received her Registered Technologist degree. Her previous volunteer work was with the Trinity Bible School in Detroit, soliciting for Bible School and as a teacher's aide.

Service Groups Need Workers

Grosse Pointe War Memorial's several service groups need more helpers. The Cancer Crusaders meet each Monday and welcome volunteer workers for as much time as they can devote between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m.

They cut up the materials needed by the many groups throughout the Pointe who work on cancer pads, collect the finished product and work on pads themselves. They also service cancer patients throughout the area and distribute information.

Every Tuesday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. the Service Guild for Children's Hospital meets to make a wide variety of materials from swabs to bandages which are constantly used up by the little hospital patients. Caps and uniforms are earned through service with this group.

Coming from Siesta Key, Jupiter, Fla., for a holiday visit with his sister, MRS. SIDNEY T. MILLER, of Irvine Lane, were MR. and MRS. RUSSELL A. ALGER.

Young members of the Garfield family, formerly of Maumee avenue, now of Bristol, Va., returned to visit friends in The Pointe over Christmas. FRED GARFIELD spent a week with TOM CLARK, of Yorkshire road. LEN GARFIELD visited DAVID DeWALD, of Alger place. Their sister, CONNIE, was with MISSY REGHANTI, of Bishop road.

Top Decorator To Give Talk

"Decorating A House Around Your Personality" is the subject chosen by Carleton Varney, brilliant young interior decorator, for his talk at Detroit Town Hall. He appears at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning, January 8, in Fisher Theater.

Varney is the 30-year-old president of the Dorothy Draper Company. His career already includes the interior design work for the Westbury Hotel in Bruxelles, Belgium; Dromoland Castle, County Clare, Ireland; Kennedy International Airport; The Greenbrier, the Berkshire, and the Gotham Hotels in New York.

In the industrial field, Varney has created china patterns, fabric collections, wall-covering designs and chair styles. His personal apartment was featured recently by HOUSE BEAUTIFUL magazine.

Other celebrities to appear during the last half of the Town Hall season are Lord Harlech, Bess Meyerson, a modern young minister, William Glenesk, and a humorous newcomer on the speaking platform, Marshall Dodge III. The latter has made an impressive "hit" with his "Down East" stories.

Mrs. Kenneth Wikle

Setting for the Saturday, December 21, wedding of SANDRA KAY RIEMER and Ensign Wikle was Ebenezer Baptist Church. She is the daughter of the Harry Riemers, of Hidden Lane. The bridegroom is the son of the Keith Wikes, of Oak Harbor, O.

Pre-Nuptial Fetes For Bonnie Barit

Bonnie Barit and Robert V. Callahan, who will exchange marriage vows in Christ Church, Grosse Pointe, January 4, are being honored by Pointe friends at a series of post-New Year's festivities.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Mrs. Stirling Loud, of Trombley road, and Robert Barit, of Bermuda. Her fiancé is the son of the Vincent G. Callahans, of Uniondale, N.Y.

This evening, January 2, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Hammond and Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Mulligan, Jr., are hosting a cocktail party in honor of the engaged pair, to be followed by a buffet supper given by Mr. and Mrs. B. Courtney Rankin.

Tomorrow, the prospective bridegroom's parents will give the Rehearsal Dinner, and on Saturday, the day of the wedding, Mr. and Mrs. H. Ripley Schemm and Mr. and Mrs. William E. Lane will entertain at a luncheon before the late afternoon service.

INITIATIVE

The game of life does not consist in holding a handful of trumps, but in having the ability to win with a mediocre hand.

Istomin To Play With Symphony

American pianist Eugene Istomin will be guest soloist at the first Detroit Symphony Orchestra concert of the New Year this Thursday and Saturday, January 2 and 4.

Sixteen Ebrling, recently returned from guest conducting appearances in Europe, will conduct both concerts, which begin at 8:30 o'clock in Ford Auditorium.

Istomin will play Beethoven Piano Concerto No. 4. Orchestral works on Thursday's program are Wagner's Prelude to Act I of "Lohengrin" and Sibelius Symphony No. 1. On Saturday Chavez's "Sonfonia India" will be performed in place of the "Wagner."

Istomin has appeared 14 times previously with the Detroit Symphony, as a soloist and as a member of the famed Stern-Rose-Istomin Chamber Trio.

Istomin's concert career was launched in 1943 when he won both the Philadelphia Orchestra Youth Contest and the Leventritt Award. He made his recital debut at age six as an accompanist for his mother. Both his parents were singers, and they originally had encouraged Istomin to become a vocalist.

Istomin is an enthusiastic traveler, and his concert tours have included such stops as Hong Kong, Indonesia and Iran. He is also an avid Detroit Tiger fan and has visited the team several times at the Tigers' Lakeland, Fla., training camp. He was last heard with the Detroit Symphony at the Meadow Brook Music Festival in 1966, where he also taught a master class in piano.

HILARY WHITTAKER has returned to New Delhi, India, having spent Christmas Day with her parents, DR. and MRS. ALFRED H. WHITTAKER, at their home in Elmleigh Lane. Miss Whittaker has been on an inspection tour of Peace Corps training centers around the world and arrived in New Delhi in time for New Year's Eve. She is the deputy director of the Peace Corps in India; there are 1,200 Peace Corps volunteers in India alone.

May Bride

Planning a May wedding are MARY LOUISE QUILTER and Thomas Michael Drummy, whose engagement was announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Quilter, of Blairmoor court, at a family dinner at the Detroit Athletic Club.

Both the bride-elect and her fiancé, son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Drummy, of Lothrop road, were graduated from St. Paul High School.

She was graduated from Michigan State University, where she affiliated with Sigma Kappa sorority. He is attending Lansing Community College and is a member of the Michigan Air National Guard.

Adult Ski Club Meeting Jan. 9

Grosse Pointe Adult Ski Club, a sponsored group of Grosse Pointe War Memorial, will have its first meeting of the year at the Center January 9 at eight o'clock in the library of Alger House. There will be movies of Vail and Aspen where the Club is sending a sold-out charter plane in March.

This will be an important meeting which all members are urged to attend. There will be certain elections and appointments and major decisions will be made on ski trips and the use of the Club's Boyne Country Skihaus.

Those not yet members are welcome and cordially invited to attend this meeting too. There is still time to sign up for the Club's trip to Collingwood, Canada, January 17 or the Laurentian trip February 6. Also this will be an excellent chance to reserve space for ski weekends or weeks in the northern Skihaus at extremely low cost on an individual, couple, or family basis.

Gold and white was the color theme chosen by the F. RANKIN WEISGERBERS, of Lincoln road, for their 1969 New Year's Eve party.

Our 27th year in Grosse Pointe

NEW YEAR'S Greetings and New Houses for your inspection. A cozy four-bedroom, story and a half at 853 University boasts a clubby den and goodly dining room.

TUCKED AWAY on a secluded street in Grosse Pointe City is this small three-bedroom house with 120 feet of frontage. Possible starter home or investment property. Also zoned for a 2-family should you wish to expand. Think $18,500.

THE ONLY ONE offered in this condominium complex on Rivard, Boulevard. Three bedrooms and two baths on the second floor and two more bedrooms and a third bath on the third. Isn't that a lot of brick and mortar for $34,000?

ALMOST A NEW center hall colonial with four bedrooms and three baths up. Fireplaces in both the living room and family room. Attached garage, kitchen with fantastic built-ins and room for a banquet table. All this just a few steps from GPHS, Star of the Sea, and the Hunt Club.

CENTER ENTRANCE colonials are always high on everyone's list, so this house on Renaud should appeal to many shoppers. If your family really only requires three bedrooms and two baths on the second floor, then this one should be inspected. We guarantee you won't come away dejected.

FOR YOU WHO want to own an income property, we have one of the few remaining lots in the Pointe which is zoned for two family dwelling. Live in one unit and let your tenant make the payments which will amortize your investment.

IF YOU'VE BEEN peeking about looking for something with tremendous curb appeal, and only require three bedrooms but must have two bath and a first floor lavatory, then this southern colonial could be the solution. This compact offering has a comfortable extra room with access on either side of the living room fireplace. There is a separate dining room and attached garage.

LET IT SNOW, let it snow, let us show you one of the better buys available in the Pointe today. Baby, it's cold outside, so come on in and warm up to this four-bedroom Cape Cod with two full baths. Recently redecorated throughout, and this includes a jazzy kitchen. Can be had for a song.

who, where and whatnot

by whoozit

Thank you . . . Alvan Macauley, Jr., for passing along this intoxicating problem in semantux: "A chic dinner last week was, according to one of the guests, 'tuxempt.' This was because of recent bereavement. Our informant, an ex-financial man, tells us that ordinarily such an event would surely have been 'tuxible.' He queries: 'Should Black Tie on formal invitations be replaced with Tux-Free, Tuxless, Come Tuxed, Must-tux . . . ?' (The more you think about this one, the more and the more terrible!—possibilities you come up with) . . .

That Gallic-appearing gentleman . . . in the "Blouse Bleu an Travaux" who was part of the pre-holiday scene "on the Hill" is really all-American Ed McLean, of McMillan road, who donned his French workman's shirt to help out his wife at Virginia Williams' during the shopping-days-before-Christmas rush . . . Mr. McLean "discovered" the heavy royal blue smock-shirts on a four-month European vacation a few years ago, became enamored of them, (for comfort, neatness and durability, he says they can't be beat), and decided: If ladies can import gowns from Paris, I can import a shirt! . . . So he did, and he loves it, and he throws out—just a suggestion—the idea that a general adoption of "Blouse Bleu" by Hill merchants might be very picturesque, and very practical, and very much in keeping with the French heritage of Grosse Pointe . . .

It's ice-skating weather! . . . and The Hope Ship League invites everyone to bring skates, (rentals aren't available), bring friends and bring $1 per person admission to the Detroit Skating Club tomorrow evening, where there'll be music, refreshments and lots of congenial company, starting at 8 o'clock . . . Sounds like a fun winter benefit! . . .

Only one debutante in Grosse Pointe this Christmas Season . . . but we bring news of three others, two bowing in the South, one on Manhattan, that we think you'll DEFINITELY be interested in . . . the New York deb is Barbara Porter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur A. Porter, of Harrisburg, Pa., formerly of Vendome road. Barbara bowed among garlands of silver foliage with myriads of tiny white lights twinkling through leaves of frosted branches entwined with flowers of contrasting colors, one of 30 debutantes formally presented at the 47th Debutante Assembly and New Year's Ball in the Grand Ballroom of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel January 1 . . . the Southern deb is Catherine Jean and Christine Glynn Friedt, aged 19 and 17 respectively, third generation Pointers, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Kay Friedt, who moved to Fort Lauderdale, Fla., two years ago, and granddaughters of Mr. and Mrs. Fay M. Thomas, who've also deserted Grosse Pointe for Fort Lauderdale, and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn H. Friedt, Sr., who divided their time between Windmill Pointe drive and their winter home at Sea Ranch Lakes, Fla. The Friedt sisters were among 15 debutantes introduced to Florida's Gold Coast society at the annual Lauderdale Debutante Presentation Ball at the Galt Ocean Mile December 30. They were honored, too, by their parents at a Christmas Eve tea dance at Pier 66, and by their paternal grandparents at a formal dinner dance at the Coral Ridge Yacht Club December 26 . . .

Things ARE getting back to normal . . . after the holiday rush, and one of the nicest "normal" things in Grosse Pointe, October through March, is the monthly Grosse Pointe Celebrity Series lecture . . . LIFE movie reviewer Richard Schickel is scheduled to speak next Thursday morning in the Esquire Theater, under the auspices of the Bon Secours Hospital Association League-sponsored Series . . . We can hardly wait! . . .

Self-Vollmer Vows Spoken

Sue Allyn Vollmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alan Vollmer, of Dearborn, and William Grady Self, Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. William Grady Self, of Berkshire road, exchanged marriage vows Friday, December 20, at a double ring ceremony in the Church of the Divine Child, Dearborn.

Following the rites, at which Monsignor Herbert F. Weir officiated, a reception was held at the Dearborn Inn.

The newlyweds are returning from a skiing vacation at Boyne Highlands to make their home in Ann Arbor, where the bridegroom will continue his studies in the University of Michigan Medical School and the bride will teach.

For her wedding, the former Miss Vollmer selected a long-sleeved gown of white satin and an illusion veil falling from a double Dior satin headbow. She carried a Colonial bouquet of white Sweetheart roses and white carnations.

She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Ronald Keller, of Lansing, who wore a sleeveless Empire frock of forest green silk-and-worsted and carried a Colonial arrangement of red carnations and variegated holly. Harvey Amoe, Jr., of Port Huron, acted as the bridegroom's best man. Ushers were the bridegroom's brother, James Self, and his brother-in-law, William C. Beckenhauer, III.

The mother of the bride wore a long-sleeved dress of red double crepe, styled with an inverted unpressed pleated skirt. A ranch mink collar accented the bridegroom's mother's coat and dress ensemble of off-white brocade.

The bride's mother selected a corsage of white gardenias and stephanotis, the bridegroom's mother a corsage of red Sweetheart roses.

Mrs. James Flom, of Lakeland avenue, is in charge of posters, Mrs. Harry J. Mack, of Rivard boulevard, of publicity. Mrs. William Y. Gard, of Dean lane, is working with the Grosse Pointe Library to publicize the Overture program.

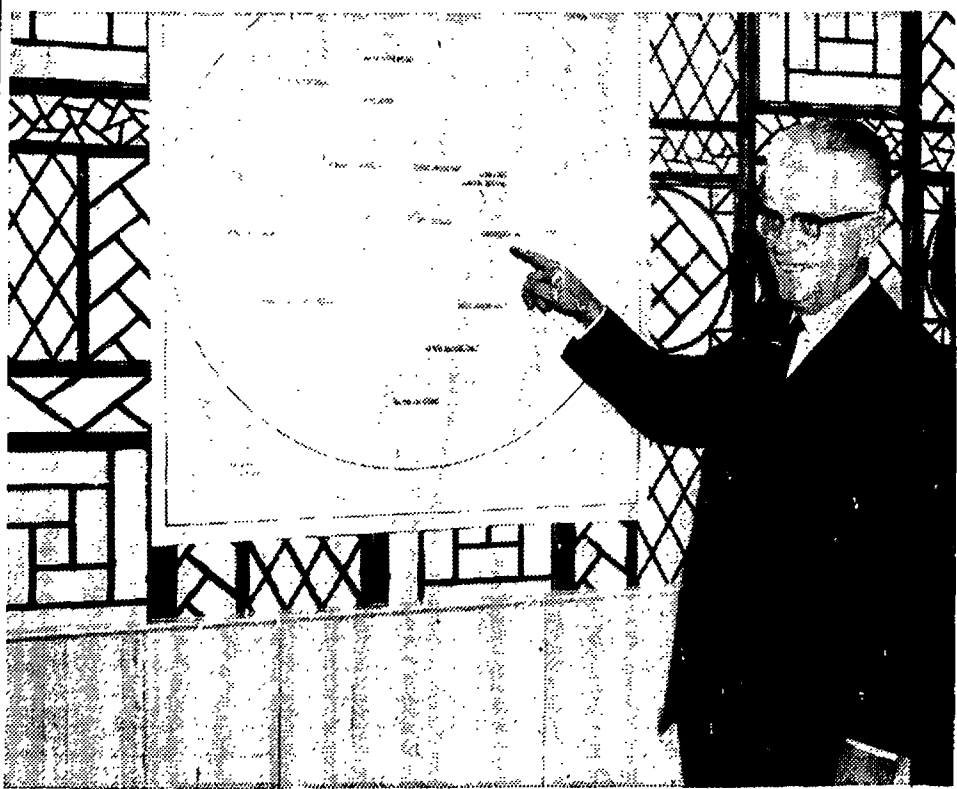

The Pointe Overture High School Education Committee is headed by chairman Mrs. Charles Endicott, of Blairmoor court, and co-chairman Mrs. William Lozelle, of Elford court.

Display Photos Of Symphony

An exhibit of color photographs of Sixteen Ehrling and the Detroit Symphony Orchestra by Detroit photographer George Phillips will be displayed in the Ford Auditorium lobby in connection with the Symphony's concerts January 2 and 4. Originally shown at a November concert, the photographs drew praises from Symphony audiences and the exhibition is being repeated by popular request.

Phillips, an instructor at the Detroit School of Arts and Crafts, took the pictures in 1967. Also included in the display are a few photographs taken in Maine and in Florida.

Pointer Of Interest

THOMAS K. FISHER, OF LOTHROP ROAD

By Janet Mueller

The map's not quite complete. Add, in the Western Hemisphere, a town called Manaus, 1,000 miles up the Amazon in Brazil, and, on the other side of the world, indicate the USSR's capital, Moscow . . . and you have Thomas K. Fisher's entire itinerary as a member of the 1968 expedition commemorating Admiral Richard E. Byrd's first Antarctic flight in 1929.

Mr. Fisher left the States November 8, returned December 3. He was one of a group of 50 American business and professional leaders who made the transpolar flight, the first commercial flight ever to cross both poles and touch down on all continents.

Leading the Expedition, which included stopovers at American military - scientific bases at Thule, Greenland, and McMurdo Sound, Antarctica, as well as a surprise "dividend" visit to Moscow, (more about that later), was Commander Fred G. Dustin, veteran of six polar expeditions, advisor to Admiral Byrd and one of the men who spent the winter of 1934 in Little America on Byrd's Antarctic Expedition II.

Commander Dustin is a member of the United States Antarctica Committee and president of the Admiral Richard E. Byrd Polar Center, sponsored of the Transpolar Expedition.

The Center, located in Boston, Mass., home of the late Admiral and point of origin for each of his seven expeditions, is a non-profit institution that will house, catalog and preserve the papers and records of both Admiral Byrd and other Arctic and Antarctic explorers, as well as sponsor, support, initiate and conduct studies and expeditions and furnish comprehensive data or technical assistance to the United States or to any university, institution, foundation, business organization or private individual legitimately interested in polar development.

Tom Fisher, as a member of the Transpolar Expedition, is a Founding Trustee of the new Center.

Leading the full flight crew of six aboard the specially-outfitted, four-engine commercial jet, which carried special clothing and equipment, including Arctic survival gear, provided by the Expedition, (as things turned out, Tom Fisher, who brought along his own foul weather clothes, didn't use his "Arctic kit"—the weather at McMurdo Sound was delightful, and warm enough to make a topcoat a pleasant outdoor covering), was Captain Hal Neff, former pilot of the Presidential plane Air Force One.

Reasons for Going

"I knew Admiral Byrd as a youngster," Tom Fisher says, explaining why he decided to join the Expedition, how he became interested in the Polar areas.

"He used to come to Detroit on fund-raising trips, show pictures . . . He was a close friend of one of my uncles, and as a result of a contribution made by the Fisher brothers as a group to one of his expeditions, he named a mountain in Antarctica 'Mount Fisher'."

"I thought I'd like to see Mount Fisher for myself, to photograph it . . ."

Among the 600 or so photographs Tom Fisher took on the trip, pictures he is now in the process of culling out, there is one of Mount Fisher.

The mountain may even have assured Mr. Fisher a place on the Expedition.

He hesitated a few days before replying to his invitation to join the Polar Center Flight—and, as a result, found himself Number Seven on a Waiting list.

My Wife Was Wonderful

"My wife," he says, "was marvelous. She knows I love the outdoors, and she wanted me to have the experience of this trip. There could never be another opportunity to do this on a first-time basis. "We had a small memento of one of Admiral Byrd's expeditions, two rocks from the face of Mount Fisher set in a base and inscribed from Admiral Byrd to my late uncle, Larry Fisher."

"Gerry (Mrs. Fisher) suggested that I send it to the Polar Center as a gift . . . and a few days later I was off the waiting list."

The young Fishers, Cheryl, a stockbroker in New York, Tom, a senior at Georgetown University, and Julie, finishing her sophomore year at Michigan State University, were thrilled at the prospect of their father's trip.

"Fortunately," Mr. Fisher says, "they were all able to spend Thanksgiving with their mother, so she wasn't lonely during the holiday." The three young Fishers made it home for Christmas, too.

Liked McMurdo Best

Pressed to make a choice, Tom Fisher opts for McMurdo Sound, the United States base in Antarctica, as the high point of the Expedition.

"There's nothing quite like the thrill of coming in over that frozen continent after a long flight over the ocean," he explains. "The mountains are visible immediately . . ."

"The base itself is quite a modern complex, with many buildings: A beautiful little Chapel in the Snow, bowling alleys, an officers' club . . . It's quite a big place, with a population of more than 1,000 men, and a new two-story building under construction, part of McMurdo's 'Urban Renewal' program . . ."

"We visited the hut that Scott built and perished in the early days of the century. That's a tremendous contrast: To drive a few miles out from the base, to enter the dark, dingy hut, coming in from the brilliant sunshine . . ."

Permanent Deep Freeze

"Food that's been there since Scott's time is still edible, preserved in a permanent deep freeze: Scott's men died not of starvation, but because their fuel ran out. Magazines with the original datelines are still there . . ."

He considered it a great thrill and privilege to visit Thule Base, the farthest north of any in the world, too, and, as at McMurdo, was highly impressed by the "civilized" amenities of life in these Polar outposts: "The way we are taking care of our military and civilian personnel at these bases is absolutely fabulous!"

The Expedition's flight over the North Pole was into darkness, but the Long Flight, from New Zealand to Rio de Janeiro, was made entirely in daylight, in an actual elapsed time of about 30 hours during which the sun never set.

Shrinking the World

This Long Flight was one of the reasons for the Expedition: To demonstrate the feasibility of shrinking the world through longitudinal navigation, to help blaze a trail for commercial air travel over the South Pole.

Commercial flights over the North Pole are common now, but in order to fly from Chile to Australia one must still go by way of Los Angeles—even though a straight line trans-South Pole route would be far shorter.

The stops in between the Poles weren't exactly duds. Receptions, dinners, meetings with prominent people were a feature of most of the longer lay-overs. Hunting and fishing excursions were available: Tom Fisher took advantage of two of the latter, flying 250 miles from Manila to try his luck in the China Sea off the north coast of Luzon, ("We got a few barracuda, some smaller fish, but it was the wrong time of year, hardly worth the 500-mile charter"), and angling for trout out of Rotorua, New Zealand, ("I caught five nice ones; that evening we had been invited to a Maori feast, and I arrived a little late, straight from fishing, with my trout in my hand . . . One of the women who was cooking the food looked up, saw the fish, asked if she could have them . . . I said, 'That's why I brought them,' and five seconds later they were on the coals.")

Among Best Sailors

The port cities particularly fascinated Mr. Fisher. Naturally . . . he's one of the Great Lakes' finest sailors, winner, with his son Tom serving as co-skipper aboard "Conquest," of this year's Richardson Trophy and the right to represent the Great Lakes area in the Congressional Cup Series at Long Beach, Calif., in mid-March.

This Congressional Cup Series will be Conquest's last races for the Fisher father-son team. Conquest is to be sold in California, but the Fishers are by no means "beached": Mr. Fisher has purchased "Gypsy," a 30-year veteran of the Great Lakes who'll arrive here from Wisconsin in May.

"George Van claims Gypsy has won more Mackinac Races than any boat on the Great Lakes," Mr. Fisher says—and there's a smile in his voice as he says it: Obviously, Tom Fisher sees more Mackinac victories in Gypsy's future.

All Kinds of Boats

So of course he was intrigued by the waterfront at Manaus, where ocean liners jostle dug-out canoes. And he spent an hour studying the pleasure craft in Sydney harbor on a balmy Sunday afternoon, gazing from his hotel window through the binoculars he always takes along on his travels.

"There were between 30,000 and 40,000 boats out there!" he marvels.

Sydney was one of the Personal Pleasant Surprise Places on Tom Fisher's itinerary. He arrived at his hotel to find a note inviting him to Sunday night "informal," (many wines, many courses, many people—but no black tie), supper with Sir Frank Packer, the famous Australian yachtsman, and Lady Packer.

Jack (John Wendell, II) Anderson, a good friend of the Packers, was the man behind this invitation.

Tea With Japan's Nobles

The invitation to take tea with Their Imperial Highnesses Prince and Princess Takamatsu at their palace in Tokyo, Japan, was arranged by another local gentleman, Charlie O'Connor.

And still ANOTHER local gentleman, Walker Cislser, arranged for the entire Expedition to visit Moscow.

"We were in Rio," Tom Fisher recalls, "and I overheard someone remark, 'Wouldn't it be wonderful if we could go to Moscow?'"

"Our original itinerary called for a four-day stopover in Rome near the end of the trip—probably a 'buffer' in case we ran into bad weather, but the weather had been beautiful and we were due to arrive in Rome on schedule, in just a few days."

"The difficulties involved in arranging a spur-of-the-moment visit to Moscow seemed insurmountable. There were visas to get, no one had ever flown a private aircraft into Moscow before . . . But I knew the one man in the United States who MIGHT be able to arrange it was Walker Cislser. I was fortunate enough to be able to reach him by phone . . ."

The Russians proved delightful hosts, providing caviar and vodka, a visit to the ballet, a thorough "briefing" by 10 high-ranking officials from various Industrial Ministries and a tour of the Kremlin, during which Tom Fisher experienced his one minor Expedition disappointment:

"They showed us the past," he says, "the splendors of Imperial Russia."

"A friend of mine spotted a coach, very similar to the Fisher Body trademark, and I thought, although I knew no pictures were permitted, that I'd like to have mine taken with it."

"But a guard saw me, and stopped me . . ."

"And how much did you spend?" I asked . . . with a trembling lip he answered "nothing" . . . why not offer all this build up? Well, daddy—they had policemen at the doors and wouldn't let us in without our parents.
