HEADLINES

of the WEEK

As Compiled by the Grosse Pointe News

Thursday, July 24

APOLLO 11 ASTRONAUTS headed toward earth and a tiny "keyhole in the sky" Wednesday, bracing for a blast-furnace climax to the most exciting voyage in the history of mankind. In equatorial Pacific, the aircraft carrier Hornet waited to pick them from the sea after their splashdown, which occurred just before noon today.

DUTCH MYSTIC PETER Hurkos continues to work with Ann Arbor police in an attempt to solve the murders of six young girls in the last two years. Police said Hurkos had given them several leads, which they were checking out.

Friday, July 25

SENATOR EDWARD M. KENNEDY has withdrawn his request for a hearing on the filing of a charge against him in connection with the auto accident that killed pretty, blond secretary, Mary Jo Kopechne, his attorney announced Thursday night. He appeared in district court in Edgartown, Mass., today, and was arraigned on a charge of leaving the scene of a fatal accident. He pleaded guilty and was given a suspended two months jail sentence and put on probation.

Saturday, July 26

SENATOR EDWARD M. (Ted) Kennedy pleaded guilty in Dukes County District Court to a charge of leaving the scene of an accident in which Mary Jo Kopechne, 28-year-old Washington secretary died when his car plunged off a bridge on a deserted back road of Chappaquiddick Island, across from Martha's Vineyard. Later in the day he asked the citizens of Massachusetts to help him decide whether he should remain in office or resign in the face of insinuations of personal immorality, drunkenness and faulty judgment.

Sunday, July 27

THOUSANDS OF CHEERING earthbound admirers welcomed the Apollo 11 astronauts home from the moon Saturday on their return to American soil. The Navy band played "To Dream the Impossible Dream," as astronauts Neil Armstrong, Edwin (Buzz) Aldrin Jr. and Michael Collins reached Pearl Harbor aboard the carrier Hornet. They were isolated in their aluminum quarantine trailer.

Monday, July 28

THE TINY NUDE body of missing Eastern Michigan University coed Karen Sue Beineman was found in a wooded secluded ravine in Ann Arbor Township, less than a mile east of Ann Arbor, police reported Sunday. An autopsy revealed that Karen had been strangled and sexually molested. She was the seventh young woman to have been killed in the Ann Arbor-Ypsilanti area in the past two years.

Tuesday, July 29

TOP WASHTENAW COUNTY Police officials disclosed Monday that a suspect in the murder of Karen Sue Beineman escaped from a ruse set up by Prosecutor William Delhey. The intruder, Delhey said, came within 10 yards of the mannikin used to simulate Miss Beineman's body when he discovered it was a dummy. Police who attempted to track down the suspect said he had come within three feet of the mannikin, which was placed where the body was discovered.

PRESIDENT NIXON, who pledged Monday night that the U. S. would defend Thailand against outside aggression and internal subversion, said this was not inconsistent with his previous statement emphasizing the reduction of America's military presence in Asia.

JOHN A. SINCLAIR, White Panther leader, was sentenced Monday to at least 9½ years in prison for possession of marijuana. Judge Colombo said he would be eligible for parole in six years, however. This was Sinclair's third conviction.

Youngsters Honor The Moon Voyagers

Repercussions from the dramatic landing of the American astronauts on the moon and their successful return to earth were felt in The Pointe Thursday, July 24, when a happy group of children organized and conducted a "moon-landing" parade in a four-block area of the Park. Pictured left to right, prior to setting out on their parade course, are in the front row: MARY BETH BEIL, JANET HOLLERBACH, JIMMY BRABB, CATHY DROLSHAGEN, LAURA NOWO-

SIELSKI, LEO BEIL, CAMILLE NOWOSIELSKI, LYNN KLIBER, holding SUZETTE the dog, and LYNN DUFFEY. CATHY NOWOSIELSKI, on the left, and JOANNE ROHN, the parade organizers, help hold up a sign of welcome for the astronauts. More than 100 neighbors watched the one and one-half hour parade, which wended its way down Berkshire, Devonshire, Buckingham and Bedford and "snowballed" along the route.

Woods Police Undaunted by Boycotters

Market Picketers' Premature Demonstrations Fail to Provide Test of New Ordinance

From the grape boycotters, who paraded in the Woods twice this week, came the whines of discontent and disappointment over the fact they could not anger members of the Grosse Pointe Woods police department and create a scene.

More than 35 placard-bearing boycotters picketed the Wrigley supermarket at Moross and Mack on Sunday, July 27, and Monday, July 28, taunting the Woods police, who had gathered at the scene to ward off any possible trouble, and vainly waiting to be hauled off to jail.

The boycotting group was picketing in protest of a new Grosse Pointe Woods ordinance, which allows the city to "provide for the orderly regulation of public demonstrations, parades and picketing" within the community.

24 Hours Early
The pickets were hoping to give the ordinance its first "test under fire," but were unaware they were 24 hours premature in their demonstrations.

"Although the regularly scheduled Council meeting was to take place on July 7, it was postponed until July 8 said Captain Henry Marchand, of the Woods police department.

stipulation that it was to become effective 20 days from the date of passage.

Neighbor Slightly Shocked By Ghostly Lawn Mower

By Pepper Whitelaw

How would you feel if, when you were preparing to retire for the night, a tiny red light flashing on the lawn next door caught your attention? A tiny red light complete with a lawn mower attached—and no person in sight! Kind of spooky?

Well, Mrs. Edna Root, of Lincoln road, felt exactly that way the other night.

Over in Tony Morse's yard, moving stealthily across the lawn was a ghostly green samaritan mowing the lawn. Let's face it . . . with moon walks and cybernetics anything is possible. BUT a ghostly lawn service that works at night?

Checking twice to verify what she saw, Mrs. Root went to bed trying to convince herself that she had really viewed

Farms Citizens Invited To Take Part in Pier-Park Memorial Tree Program

Interested Residents Will Be Given Choice of Site and Specie Desired for Planting; Plaque Included in Cost

The Farms is prepared to go ahead "full steam" with its Citizens Memorial Tree Program at the Municipal Pier-Park, it was disclosed on Friday, July 25, by Councilman William Kirby, who said that a number of residents have expressed interest in the project.

The program, which was announced earlier this year, will give residents an opportunity to perpetuate the memory of relatives or friends, by having a tree planted in the new area of the municipal park. A bronze plaque bearing the name of the person, or family to be remembered, will be placed with the tree.

"Sometime ago," the councilman said, "a number of our residents indicated interest in planting a memorial tree at the park, and as a result of the interest shown, an artist's rendering of the area and a scale plan has been prepared for inspection by those who want to know more about the idea, so that they can select the site and tree they would like planted at the Pier-Park."

Kirby, who is also mayor pro-tem, said that the maximum cost will depend on the type of tree and the planting, and will include the price of the plaque.

The tree species and the estimated costs (with the plaque), are as follows:

Norway Maple, $150; Pin Oak, $165; Austrian Pine, $85; Flowering Crab, $75; Flowering Plum, $85; and Flowering Cherry, $85.

Citizens interested in knowing more about the Memorial Tree Program, are asked to contact City Clerk Peter Caputo at the Municipal Building, 90 Kerby road, or call him at 5-6600. Letters have been mailed to residents who wanted to know more about the program, Kirby said.

He concluded the letter with the statement "We hope you, your friends and your neighbors will continue to be interested in this most worthwhile project and that we will see it successfully completed this year."

Anyone who desires to do so, can view the landscape development plans on display in the lobby of the Municipal Building, and at the Municipal Pier-Park.

It was pointed out that only the tree that can survive in this area and climate have been selected, and the six suggested are of hardy stock.

Persons of families who request a tree, or trees, will not only help to enhance the beauty of the park, which is ideally situated, but will also perpetuate the memory of loved ones.

Parents Request Council Action
Parents of children in the City of Grosse Pointe were present at the Council meeting on Monday, July 28, requesting the Council's consideration of two park-associated matters.

Theater Set For Opening Friday Night

"Barefoot in Park" to Run August 1, 2, 3, 8 and 9 in Fries Auditorium at Center

Friday evening, August 1, is opening night of Grosse Pointe Theatre's summer production, "Barefoot in The Park" by Neil Simon. Scheduled for five performances, August 1, 2, 3, 8 and 9 in the comfortably air conditioned Fries Auditorium, the hit comedy is a delightfully funny account of a dedicated young lawyer and his "kooky" bride who move into a sixth floor walk-up apartment in New York City.

Their dream house becomes a nightmare when the heating fails in sub-zero weather, the neighbors turn out to be questionable types, and the skylight provides an uncomfortable exposure to the great outdoors—snow and all.

Featured in the GPT production is Carol Purdon of 422 Cadieux road, who plays Corie Bratter, the young bride. Tom Kern of St. Clair Shores is cast as her husband.

John Diebel of Loraine road and George Wilson of Woods lane are featured as a telephone man and a delivery man. Also in the cast are Gene Shea of Detroit and Jaime Carreiro of Mt. Clemens.

Director of the production is Ann Diebel of Loraine road. Producer is Lois Mitchell of St. Clair avenue, Larry Marco of East Emory court and Chuck Chrisman of Anita avenue, are Co-Technical Directors.

Others on the production staff are Grosse Pointers Tom Stein of Kenmore avenue, who designed the set; Shirley Shepard of N. Renaud road, properties chairman; and Phyllis Huxley of Notre Dame avenue, costume chairman.

Others are Lee Amorello of East Detroit, stage manager; Carol Ruggirello of Mt. Clemens, make-up; Kay Bake of Detroit, set dressing; and Gigi Gaggini also of Detroit, prompter.

Ticket information is available by calling the Grosse Pointe Theatre's ticket office at 881-4004.

NEW PROPERTY DAMAGED
John Pack, foreman for Crane Construction, called City police on Monday, July 14, to report that persons unknown broke into 3 Cameron place, where he was working, sometime over the weekend and broke the phone box, shut off the sump pump, poured three gallons of bleaching oil in the basement and turned the water on in the basement.

City Turns Thumb Down on Hospital, Condominium

Bon Secours Refused Permission to Proceed with Expansion; Ecclestone Request to Build on O'Leary Property Rebuffed

In jam-packed chambers Monday night the City of Grosse Pointe Council once again included on its agenda two much-debated issues: the expansion of Bon Secours Hospital and the rezoning of the O'Leary Cadillac property to permit the erection of a 35-unit condominium by E. Llywyd Ecclestone Jr. and James T. Barnes, Jr.

Both issues had been on the agenda of the Monday, June 23, Council meeting. At that time the five yes votes and two no votes of the council, with regard to Bon Secours, in effect indicated a defeat of the hospital's proposed plans. However despite the vote at that time it was still necessary for the city attorney to draft an ordinance to rezone the hospital property which then had to be voted on at last Monday night's regular council meeting.

The count was 5 yes votes and two no votes with Councilman George N. Monro, III, and Alfred R. Reuther, Jr., voting no. This resulted in defeat of the ordinance since under Michigan statute a ¾ vote of the council, or six votes, is required to pass zoning amendments when the owners of 20 per cent or more of the adjacent frontage object.

Hospital Will Appeal
Chris M. Youngjohn, one of the attorneys for Bon Secours, thanked the council for its careful consideration of the matter and indicated that, regrettably, the adverse decision forces the hospital to institute legal action.

Prior to consideration of the request of Ecclestone-Barnes Mayor David Burgess read from a letter, circulating in the community, personally attacking him. The letter stated "Mr. E. Llywyd Ecclestone and Mr. James Barnes are planning to develop the O'Leary Cadillac property and build an apartment house upon it. They declare that their buildings would be more attractive than the present unoccupied garage but they do not compare their architect's renderings to renderings of single family dwellings.

"Mr. Barnes is associated professionally with Mr. David Burgess, the city mayor and a voting member of the seven-man City Council. Both Mr. Barnes and Mr. Burgess serve on the board of directors, (Mr. Barnes is chairman), of Colonial Federal Savings, a financial institution, dealing in first mortgage loans in the area."

Names Were Changed
Mayor Burgess noted that after the original letter was written Jr. and Sr. were added to the names of men mentioned in the letter. (James T. Barnes Sr. is chairman and Mayor Burgess a member). He said, in an emotion-packed statement, "Mr. Barnes, Jr. does not have and never has had any connection with Colonial Federal, and the matter of financing this project has never been considered by the board of directors of Colonial Federal Savings."

He continued "There has been an insidious, vicious attempt to undermine my character. I have never been confronted personally with these allegations, it (Continued on Page 3)

Pair in Stolen Cadillac Attempt to Steal Mark III

Park police officers, alerted by Farms authorities, arrested two youths wanted for investigation of attempted car theft in the Farms on Wednesday, July 23. The car pair were in at the time of their arrest had been reported stolen in Detroit.

Taken into custody, when they were observed looking at automobiles in a lot of a Park car sales company in Jefferson avenue, were Bradley G. Stokes, 19, of 4754 Belvidere, and Michael D. Taylor, 18, of 5819 Montclair, both of Detroit.

According to a Farms police report, Stokes entered the repair garage of Frank Adam, Incorporated, 130 Kercheval, and attempted to drive away a 1969 Mark III Lincoln Continental, left there for repairs. The youth

All Pointes Plagued by Stupid Kids

Five Police Chiefs Call Malicious Destruction Greatest Threat to Community Peace

By Phil Loranger
Although the intensity of teenage vandalism varies throughout Grosse Pointe, law enforcement agencies, school officials, park directors, church leaders and club authorities claim vandalism by youngsters is the greatest threat to the peace of the community.

Coupled with a growing disregard and disrespect of the law, authority and rights of others, it is the number one law enforcement problem in the Pointe today, according to the police chiefs of all five Pointes.

"Anybody who claims we are not experiencing an increasing amount of senseless vandalism and malicious destruction of property by teenagers, should just spend a weekend listening to our police calls," said Farms Police Chief Jack Roh, whose area of responsibility covers those buildings and locations most vulnerable to the destructive acts of irresponsible juveniles.

Sealing Boat Liquor
"I've had to spend the past two weeks down at the Farms Pier in an attempt to try and curb some of the problems the supervisors there have had with youngsters, who have not only destroyed property but who also have been stealing liquor from the boats," claimed Roh.

Park Director of Public Safety William P. Ellenburg said that although the majority of the youngsters in his community are decent, law-abiding citizens, the minority who choose to break the law are making it rough on all of them.

"These youngsters' vandalistic acts represent a complete disrespect for the rights and property of others—not only those of the older generation but those of their peers, too," said Ellenburg.

"In addition to their senseless and mean actions, they seem to take particular delight in acting like maniacs behind the wheel, creating dangerous traffic hazards and willfully damaging the property of others," he related. "It's a real shame."

College Asking For Classrooms

Wayne County Community College, scheduled to begin classes September 8, has requested permission to rent classroom space in Grosse Pointe North High School during the evening hours. The Board of Education is expected to take action on this request at its regular meeting on Monday, August 11.

Murray Jackson, executive director of WCCC, told the NEWS that vocational technical training programs will include training in electronics and automobiles, training for dental and medical technicians and dental hygienists, as well as college preparatory courses.

The college will operate at various high school locations throughout the Wayne County school district with a central administrative office on West Grand boulevard.

WCCC officials have also requested space at Harper, Denby, Osborn, King and Kettering high schools.

According to Mr. Jackson they have received over 800 applications from potential teachers and over 2000 inquiries from prospective students.

Tuition will be $9 per credit hour, which is comparable to resident tuition costs throughout the area and which is especially low considering Wayne County students have had to pay non-resident fees at Macomb County Community College and other educational institutions.

Students interested in enrolling or potential teachers may call TR 2-5051 for information.

War Declared On Stupid Kids' Vandalism Plaguing The Pointe

is happening in the Pointe this summer.
"Parents are far too permissive," Teetaert claimed. "These kids, admittedly a minority, wear their hair over their eyes so you can hardly tell whether they are girls or boys. This in itself is a rebellion against accepted standards. Why a parent would allow his child to look as shoddy as some of those we have to apprehend is beyond me."

"Most of the troublemakers are of the new 'anti-hero' breed. They have no respect for anything or anybody. They resent parents, teachers and policemen."

"What alarms me is the fact that it is no longer just the rebellious high school student about which we have to be concerned, but now the age of these pranksters has dropped all the way down into the low teens and even lower," said Teetaert. "There is little doubt that drugs are being used with increasing regularity by youngsters and many of our criminal incidents are by-products of this use."

Vandalism in Shores
Shore Police Chief Thomas Cochill is also concerned about the juvenile delinquency in his area.

"Most of the vandalism and destruction in our community is done for no reason at all," he pointed out. "These are not pranks, like the ones we used to know. These are senseless and malicious acts, aimed at hurting others either directly or indirectly."

"Although the trend of teenage crime here parallels that of the rest of the nation, there is less reason for it here than probably anywhere else," Cochill continued. "Why does a kid ride his car over the lawn of some unsuspecting resident? Why do kids throw bricks through windows? There is no reason."

See Increase in Woods
"Acts of vandalism are up over last year in our community," said Donald B. Coats, Woods director of Public Safety. "Senseless glass-breaking has contributed to this increase. I'm in the same boat as the other public officials. I don't know why these youngsters pull such stunts."

"These kids who are performing vandalistic acts claim they are bored," Coats continued. "That is hard to believe, when you look at all the community activities and facilities which are available to them."

"Teenage drug abuse, drinking and driving pose a serious problem here in the Pointe," he related. "It appears to be an attitude problem all the way around."

The police are not the only ones befuddled by the sharp rise in teenage vandalism.

James L. Kellerman, manager of the Grosse Pointe Club, claims that teenage trespassing is rampant at the club property and that those who do trespass often are lewd and abusive in their choice of language.

"They break beer bottles and continually break into the swimming pool area," said Kellerman. "Although we have security guards posted during the hours of darkness, it may soon become necessary to light up the club grounds like a Christmas tree to discourage these children from trouble-making."

"Although I do not think that we have suffered unduly in the face of the times, an air of eternal vigilance must be maintained here at all times," said a spokesman for the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

He pointed out that teenage vandalism has actually restricted the War Memorial program of activities and limited proposed programs for the outdoor use of facilities.

Even Destroy Benches
"Things are really bad," he pointed out. "We no longer have three stone benches out in the formal gardens because two of them have been destroyed by vandals."

"The lions, which used to grace our entrances, have been damaged, our sun dial has been smashed and our wrought iron furniture has been stolen," he said.

The spokesman noted that firecrackers have been placed in the lighting fixtures; bathroom facilities have been wrecked; statuary on the grounds has been broken, and the fence in front of the War Memorial has also been knocked down.

"We are not down on the teenage population because we are well aware that those who are maliciously destroying the property constitute only a small minority of the teenage population, but it surely makes all teenagers look bad," he said.

Boatswain Jim Bruce of the Crescent Sail Yacht Club, who has been maintaining security at the club for the past 11 years, claims the club has been luckier than most because the members share "gate duty" on the weekends and the club maintains a 24-hour security guard on the grounds.

"When we do have trouble, it usually involves teenagers," Bruce said. "They like to use our drive for a lovers' lane and this can lead to all sorts of trouble."

Country Club Plagued
Trespassing, glass-breaking and damage to the golfing greens by teenagers is the major source of anguish at the Country Club of Detroit, according to Club Manager Joseph Gunter.

"Although we maintain a guard between the hours of 6 p.m. and 2 a.m., we still have kids who race their motorcycles over the greens, tearing up the sod," said Gunter. "We keep our lights on all the time, but we still have problems."

All five municipal parks, the churches and schools report an increase in vandalism.

Windows were recently smashed at Mason, Maire and Pierce public schools, according to school authorities, who claim they have been luckier than usual this year, but quickly add that August is usually the worst month for school vandalism.

All those persons, who were interviewed by the NEWS, agree that the vicious acts are being performed by a minority of the youngsters in the community, but all claim vandalism is a major problem.

Seem to Enjoy It
Those youngsters who make trouble seem to enjoy it and seek it out, according to authorities.

"The trouble starts with teenage disrespect for their parents," claim the police. "This pours over into disrespect towards teachers and law enforcement officials."

"What makes our job even harder is the fact that most parents defend their children and call us every off-color name in the book, when they come to the station to claim the kids we have picked up for vandalism," the police said.

Everybody agrees that these children are not products of a ghetto area, but that most come from affluent homes and have available to them some of the best recreational facilities in the country.

Police Handicapped
Hamstringing the police effort to blot out teenage crime is the fact that courts have a great backlog of cases and juvenile correctional facilities are full, making the courts more lenient on first-time offenders and those with relatively clean records.

Although teenage viciousness is on the rise, authorities are not sitting back and hoping for

Mr. Peterson said that a meeting would be arranged immediately with representatives of the city, the consulting engineer, the city engineer, the draft commission representative, the company's insurance representative and company representatives in order to bring a satisfactory solution to the problem.

Peterson told the NEWS that if the company begins immediate work on the repairs and clean up the city would discontinue issuing ordinance violations.

Taylor, it was said, was wanted by Detroit police on two warrants, one involving a traffic offense which carries a $100 fine, and the other for possession of a stolen car, which was taken earlier.

During the course of the investigation, it was found that the automobile he was driving when arrested, had also been stolen in Detroit. Taylor was released to Detroit authorities, when the complainant in the Farms did not wish to sign a complaint.

Farms Regatta Is Great Success

The 17th Annual Farms Regatta, held the weekend of Saturday and Sunday, July 26-

27, at the Pier, closed out its list of activities with a flourish of award-giving in a number of contests and to winners of the Farms Boat Club's annual races.

Trophy winners in the hotly-contested power boat races, held on relatively calm seas, were: Kenneth Dansbury, first-place winner, and Ed Lauer, runner-up, in Class A Inboard competition; first-place finisher Mike Walworth and Dave Hendrie, second-place, and Kevin Corbett, who ran third, in the Class A Outboard races; Jim Allor winner of the Class B Outboard race and runner-up Terry Walworth and George Simon winner in the Class C Outboard races and runners-up Michael Ambrogio and Joseph Simon.

Paul Decker captured the first-place trophy in the sailboat racing category by nudging his 24-foot craft Raven across the finish line ahead of Robert Scholl's 17-foot Thistle which placed second and the Lightning class entry of Wally Laitner.

Pete Phillip garnished the winner's trophy in the Sailfish-Sunfish races by beating out second-place winner Tom Gotfredson, and third-place finisher, Leeann Konrad.

The races were conducted under the direction of Vincent Famularo, committee chairman, and Skip Gmeiner, the regatta chairman.

In the Best-Decorated Boat competition, Judges Niel McEachin, Farms Mayor William Butler and Bud Steiner, awarded first-place honors to Kitty Craft in the sailboat division. Second and third-place honors in the same category were awarded to Valerie and Richard Vinci, and Dr. Elredge, respectively.

Jack Richards and Jon Locke combined to win in the small boat competition, followed by the Walworth family's entry and Pat Famularo. Tony Del-sener captured honors in the Cruiser class, with Joe Mauer and Jerry Malooly following in that order.

Although many children were awarded radios and flashlights in the Best-Decorated Bicycle contest, David McIntyre, of 397 Kercheval, won first prize, followed by Chris Biliski, of 456 McKinley, and Jennifer Striker, of 99 Muir.

David Pliva, Doreen Dzuba and William Craig won televisions in the Farms Special Contest and Samuel Laux was awarded a Sport Yak. A number of other lucky contestants were recipients of bicycles, chain saws and radios, according to Prize Chairman Anthony Del-sener.

One of the highlights of the Regatta was the performance of the Synchronize Swimming Club organized and directed by Patti Crea. Before a crowded poolside audience the girls performed in "Carnival," "March of the Toys," "Music to Watch Space Girls By," "Romeo and Juliet," and "Waltz of the Flowers."

Participating were Pam Adams, Kim Barry, Barbara Bliss, Beth Boerner, Donna Brown, Kitty Craft, Fran Davis, Judy Fox, Alice Harvey, Jill Harvey, Ann Kalkoff, Sue Kelly, Ruth Massad, Kathy Moran, Lisa Ralph, Cheryl Rem, Susan Riegler, Janis Riddle, Nancy Riddle, Sue Smale and Farms swimming instructors.

Following the Junior Miss Pageant, music for dancing was provided by Los Amigos.

Woods Ordinance Attacked Again

The much-discussed picketing ordinance passed by the Woods Council on Monday, July 7, was once again mentioned at a regular meeting of the council on Tuesday, July 23. The ordinance provides for the orderly regulation of public demonstrations, parades and picketing in the City of Grosse Pointe Woods and gives the Public Safety Director the authority to refuse permission to those who do not conform with terms of the ordinance.

The reaction to the council action has been mixed. Council members have received letters lauding and booing them.

Present at the meeting of July 23 was Elizabeth Bacon, who was there representing Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Kondak, who have previously expressed their displeasure with the council's action. Mrs. Bacon said she was in agreement with the Kondaks who could not be at the meeting due to out of town commitments.

Her request to rescind the ordinance was denied by council members who said that the City attorney, George Catlin, had assured them that the ordinance was perfectly legal and they would abide by his decision.

John A. Fillion, representative of the American Civil Liberties Union, at the July 7th meeting, called the ordinance "unconstitutional and impractical."

The ordinance became effective Monday, July 28.

Pleas Denied

(Continued from Page 1) has been strictly backroom rumor. I have always kept the best interest of the citizens of the City of Grosse Pointe in mind and if ever during my term of office any issue comes before the council that would constitute a conflict of interest I would resign before placing personal interest before that of the community's.

Added Names Checked
The Ecclestone-Barnes issue was once again on the agenda because at the June 23 council meeting additional names of objecting residents were presented to the council. The council had to check the names. They did so and found them to be valid, thus requiring at least six votes for passage.

After Mayor Burgess' statement a lengthy and sometimes heated discussion, both pro and con, followed.

Mr. Ecclestone Jr. presented the council with a letter and guarantee bond of $250,000 promising to build as outlined in the architect's drawings.

The request was denied, five council members voting yes and two council members, Reuther and Henry, voting no.

Lawn Mowers

(Continued from Page 1) activities with his wife, Susan, and his children, Tony, Jr., and Carl, with his time at a premium, he felt that this robot-mower would provide him with just the extra time he needed... and it has.

The mower-with-the-brain is electronically controlled, battery-powered and self-propelled—and above all safe and quiet. Just like the family dog, it has a "leash" with which to lead it out into the yard, (there's no handle of course since it's self-propelled).

Just when you think you've heard everything, something like this crops up... Oh well, as long as science doesn't come up with a robot feature-reporter, I guess I'm still safe!

what's a funny place for a phone?

That depends a lot on your sense of humor. If splashing through the house to answer a telephone leaves you a little cold, then perhaps there is nothing funny about an extension telephone in the bathroom or dressing room.

Extension telephones save steps and let you do your telephoning from where you are.

Call your Michigan Bell Business Office or ask your telephone man. For as little as ninety-five cents a month (plus tax) you can have an extension telephone in any funny old place you'd like.

Take a taste drive

At the Woods, a test drive is a taste drive. When you get behind the wheel of a new Volkswagen, BMW or Mercedes-Benz, you know it's going to ride smoothly, effortlessly...because you already know the reputation of these fine imported automobiles for quality, engineering and craftsmanship. But what you feel when you first drive one is that flush of pride that goes with knowing that you're driving a "classic"...a car created to reflect your own good taste. And after you taste drive one, you'll never want to even test drive anything less.

Woods Residents Want Cat Control

Mrs. Sarah C. Veal, of Canterbury road, on Tuesday, July 22, presented a petition with 87 signatures of Woods' residents requesting that the council enact an ordinance governing possession of cats similar to that ordinance regarding dogs.

The matter was referred to the Committee-of-the-Whole and George Catlin, city attorney, was requested to outline such ordinance for the committee's perusal.

Advent of Picture-Phones Fraught with Possibilities

By Pepper Whitelaw

An announcement out of Pittsburgh, Pa., recently, by vice-president of the Bell Telephone Company Henry Tunney set my imagination off in a dozen directions. Mr. Tunney said that the company has unveiled a model picture-phone and that its commercial use is only about a year or two away.

Just think . . . zoom lens on mom answering the phone complete with curlers, dad's old robe, cold cream on face and fingers in the salad she is gently tossing. Voice on the other end of the line, "Hi, what are you . . . oh, I'm sorry lady, I must have the wrong number. My wife's skin has plenty of natural oils; none of that cold cream stuff for her. Her hair just naturally curls AND I'd never eat a salad that some scrubby looking woman has had her fingers in!"

Chagrined wife's voice . . . "Just a minute, dear, it's me, your wife. You kind of caught me by surprise. Oh don't worry; Everything will be back to normal when you get home."

Or how about this vignette? Phone rings, (or do these new fangled contraptions chime?) . . . "Honey, it's George, I'm tied up in a business conference and won't be home for dinner tonight."

Disbelieving wife's voice: "But dear, since when do you handle business conferences at a long bar? . . . and is that man with the cocktail shaker in his hand, your new president of the Board?"

Just think of the disaster these new gadgets could produce in the blind date department. Phone rings, voice answers, "Hello, is this Ann? I'm Harry Jones. John gave me your phone number. Oh, yes, I hang on until you call her. Female voice, "Hello, this is Ann" . . . LOUD CLICK!

But then the wrong number could develop lasting relationships . . . Phone rings, "Hello, is this Jane? Isn't this TUXedo 6-9999? Oh, I guess I have the wrong number . . . but, baby, since I have you on the line and I kind of prefer blondes, what are you doing tonight?"

Do you see what fun one could have with this new invention? I for one can hardly wait!

Jerry Petz, gateman at the City park, reported to City police on Monday, July 14, that between 10:15 p.m. and 10:30 p.m. on that date when he went to check the boats and docks, persons unknown cut the screen leading into the gate house. Nothing was taken.

Anderson next will undergo advanced flight training at Hunter Army Airfield, Ga. Upon completion of advanced training he may be appointed a warrant officer.

Dominic Corrado Facing Charges

Dominic Peter Corrado, 39, 701 Middlesex, long identified as a major Detroit Mafia figure, was arrested Wednesday, July 23, on kickback charges involving a million-dollar loan from the Teamsters Union pension fund.

Corrado was among nine persons arrested nationwide by the FBI in connection with the case. Four others are still being sought.

The case involves a loan made in 1964 to Mid-City Development Corporation, a Detroit real estate firm, by the Central States, Southeast and Southwest Areas pension fund of Teamsters.

The arrest caused Corrado to resign as a director of Hazel Park Race Track. He is also the owner of the Pink Panther Lounge, a nightclub, at 1001 St. Antoine.

Corrado was charged with conspiracy, violating the Welfare and Pension Disclosure Act and violating the Interstate Transportation in Aid of Racketeering statute. Each of the three charges carries a penalty of up to five years imprisonment and a $10,000 fine. Arrested at his home, Corrado was arraigned before Federal District Judge Fred W. Kaess and released under bond of $25,000.

August 1 was set as the date for a removal hearing to decide whether he shall be taken to New York to face the charges.

He was identified as a Mafia member in 1963. U.S. Senate testimony by George Edwards, who was at that time Detroit's police commissioner and is now a federal judge. Peter J. Bellanca, general counsel for Hazel Park, represented Corrado in court Wednesday.

Corrado had been arrested only once in the United States. He was picked up in 1952 for investigation of violating state gambling laws, but the case was dismissed.

He was deported from Canada in 1966 as an "undesirable alien" after attempting to visit the country on a vacation trip. He is the son of the late Pete Corrado, who was identified as one of the top three leaders of the Detroit Mafia at the time of his death in 1957.

Maybe you're like Fred; with all your valuable possessions in a little tin box. They have no protection against fire, or theft. And nobody to watch them while you're away. Just thinking about it could keep you awake nights.

So here's a comforting thought from NBD.

Rent a safe deposit box at our bank. It's as easy as signing your name.

You can keep anything you want in safe deposit: insurance policies, securities, or sculptured art. There's a size and shape to

And you don't have to be rich to have a safe deposit box. You can rent one for less than 2¢ a day. It's a service provided by the Safe Deposit Company of Detroit, an NBD subsidiary.

It's Long Climb Up To The Top

From one of the world's largest carillons, the sound of music rolled across the sprawling Princeton University campus twice recently in solo concerts by Grosse Pointe's Dennis K. Jones.

The Princeton senior, of 1238 Buckingham road, gave the Arthur Lynds Bigelow Memorial Recital, honoring one of the world's best-known bellmasters, on Baccalaureate Sunday and he presented a Commencement Day recital this past June.

Considered one of the top carillonists in the nation, 24-year-old Jones began playing the carillon at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church when he was in junior high school. While at Princeton, this campus and the surrounding countryside have enjoyed his frequent Sunday afternoon concerts from the Grover Cleveland Memorial Tower, 170 feet above the University's Graduate College complex.

The 49 bells, ranging in size from 18 pounds to 6½ tons, can be heard on quiet afternoons as far as a half-mile without losing the bells' tonal expression. The Class of 1892 Carillon, gift to the University by the Class at its 35th reunion, has a range of four full chromatic octaves.

Jones, who has studied carillon at Michigan State University and who in 1962 was the youngest full member of the Guild of Carillonists in North America, has played the Mayo Clinic carillon in Rochester, Minn., has been heard frequently in concerts from the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, and has performed in concert for the Guild.

A major in Princeton's School of Architecture, Jones moved in to fill a void left at Princeton by the death in 1967 of Professor Bigelow, Bellmaster of the University for a quarter century. The late Professor Bigelow, who also taught in the School of Engineering here, was Laureate of the Carillon School at Mechelen, Belgium, and for 25 years was the official bellmaster of Louvain, Belgium.

Jones, whose friends say he was attracted to Princeton in part because of its famous carillon and the opportunity to play it and to work with Professor Bigelow, has used many of Bigelow's arrangements in his concerts, as well as composing his own music. In past years he has trained other students from Grosse Pointe High to become carillonists.

Separated from the great bronze bells only by a thin wooden partition, Jones is as close to his instrument as the pianist is to the piano. Carillonists, they say, wouldn't want it any other way.

Unlike the pianist, however, the Grosse Pointe resident at Princeton has to ascend 140 steps of a winding stone staircase before he can sit down at the keyboard.

The lad who shows a spark of genius in school sometimes develops ignition trouble later.

Hit-Run Driver Smashes Hydrant

A hit-run property damage accident was reported to Grosse Pointe Woods Police on Wednesday, July 23, by Howard Hocking, of 1667 Littlestone, who witnessed the incident from in front of his home.

Hocking told Patrolman LeRoy Tobian that he was sitting on the front porch of his home at about 10:00 p.m., when he noticed the driver of a dark blue Oldsmobile backing up his vehicle north on Eastbourne road towards Littlestone.

The driver backed up over 500 feet and struck a fire hydrant, ripping it from its foundation, according to Hocking.

A young man, well dressed and having blond hair, stepped from the vehicle and surveyed the damage to the hydrant and his automobile. When Hocking told the young man that he would call the police, the driver jumped back into his car and sped away west on Littlestone with his headlights turned off.

Police claimed that the vehicle had extensive damage to the rear bumper and that another witness to the accident recorded the car's license plate number, which was AM-9394. Woods Police are continuing their investigation in the case.

Liquor License Transfer Denied

A Public Hearing was held on Monday, July 28, in the Park Council Chambers, regarding a request of Edward Hookanson, 1027 Kensington road, for the transfer of a "Class C" liquor license formerly issued to Shumway's Bar, Jefferson and Barrington, to his Potpourri Restaurant, Mack and Harvard.

This is the second time Hookanson has requested the license transfer and the second time his request has been denied.

Some 14 people opposing the licensing were present in the council chambers. Their main objections were that it would change the atmosphere of the neighborhood, create a traffic hazard, compound the already difficult parking problems on the sidestreets and become more of a noise factor.

The Council's vote was in accord with the recommendation of Public Safety Director William Ellenburg who recommended denial of the request. He said currently the Park has 15 active "C" licenses and one inactive, (which is the one Hookanson requested), and that all those licenses were in existence prior to the State Liquor Commission's ruling that states there should be no more than one license for every 1500 people. Currently the Park population is 16,500, which would mean that under the current SLR ruling only 10 or 11 licenses should be issued. (The ruling does not affect existing licenses.) He said refusal of this license is a step in conforming with the current SLR ruling.

O'Leary Named St. John Trustee

Edwin D. O'Leary, Vice-President-Personnel and Organization, Ford Motor Company, has accepted appointment to the board of trustees of Saint John Hospital.

In announcing the appointment, James Farley, president, said:

"We are fortunate to obtain a man of Mr. O'Leary's standing and experience for the Board of Trustees, and know he will be of great assistance to Saint John Hospital in planning its future growth and development."

"Mr. O'Leary's appointment is part of a continuing reorganization of Saint John which includes greater involvement by community leaders, and establishing a modern corporate structure and management practices."

O'Leary has been associated with the Ford Motor Company since 1946. He was previously employed by the U.S. Treasury Department, Price Waterhouse and General Motors, following his graduation from Notre Dame in 1940 where he received degrees in commerce and law.

A lifelong resident of the Detroit area, O'Leary has been active in many of its community affairs. He is married to the former Mary W. Hotchkiss and they have five children. The O'Learys reside at 22 Oxford road.

Two Accidents Occur in Park

Within a 12-hour period on Saturday, July 19, two accidents were investigated by Park police officers.

Shortly after 2 a.m., Bruce Frederick Carly, 17, of 195 Ridgmont, was driving north on Three Mile drive. The road was wet from the rain. Carly ran off the road and struck a tree just north of East Jefferson. He was taken to Bon Secours Hospital for treatment of minor injuries.

Twelve hours later, at 2 p.m., a two-car accident occurred at the intersection of Maryland and Kercheval.

Carl L. Gellish, 61, of 3487 Seminole, Detroit, was east-bound on Kercheval when he collided with a car entering Kercheval from Maryland.

The driver of the second car, Gail Kathryn Bell, 21, of 1065 Lakepointe, was issued a violation ticket for entering an intersection without due care and caution.

Neither driver was injured.

Hutzel Hospital Observing Celebration of Centennial

Hutzel Hospital (formerly Women's Hospital), which had its beginning in a weather-beaten clapboard tenement house and has grown into a modern, 378-bed general facility, is observing a year-long celebration of its centennial.

The Board of Trustees, in its annual meeting, proclaimed the start of the observance. In turn, it heard from Mrs. Horace Prunk, a trustee for 15 years and general chairman of the anniversary program, the details of the ambitious celebration.

Dr. Robert E. Mack, hospital director, and Mrs. John N. Failing, president of the board, joined Mrs. Prunk and her committee in outlining the planning as completed to date and winning the unstinted support of other board members in the comprehensive observance. All facets of Hutzel's storied past and its dawning future as a key facility in Detroit's great new Medical Center will be honored.

The anniversary, itself, was marked by a centennial observance on June 5, the date in 1869 on which the hospital was incorporated, although at the time its modest doorway on Cass near Montcalm had been open to patients for six months.

Since that time, more than 150,000 babies have been delivered at Hutzel, among them some of Detroit's most distinguished names in the arts, industry, finance, the professions, athletics and commerce. Many of these people lent their prominence to the birthday party of their birthplace.

Many successful pioneering efforts stand out in the hospital's history. It was the first to have a Social Service Department in Detroit, the first in Michigan to have a laboratory for original research into women's diseases where researchers could investigate without cost, and one of the first in the country to have a mother's milk bureau for the collection and distribution of human milk.

It was a leader in the segregation of maternity patients from medical and surgical patients, with consequent drastic curtailment of the incidence of deaths among obstetrical patients, and currently it is pioneering in the use of the xerographic process for the early detection of breast cancer.

Hutzel is second in age in Detroit only to neighboring Harper Hospital in the new Medical Center. Harper, only six years older, and Hutzel have enjoyed a century of the friendly relations, and early in Hutzel history the senior facility provided the use of two buildings to quarter the younger for several years.

Hutzel was formerly Woman's Hospital and was founded as Woman's Hospital and Foundlings' Home. Now a general hospital, it has accepted men patients since 1929.

Miss Kay Schultz, chairman of the Employees' Centennial Committee, said her group's efforts would center around the activities on Anniversary Day, June 5, subsequent programs, and the employees' awards dinner next fall.

She said, "Hutzel Hospital's employees are looking forward eagerly to full participation in the centennial and especially to the bright new look which will be adopted for the hospital magazine, Focus, beginning with the next issue."

A guest of honor at centennial functions was Miss Eleonore Hutzel, first vice president of the Board of Trustees, in whose honor the hospital changed its name in 1965.

Miss Hutzel has had a 54-year distinguished record of service at the hospital, beginning in 1915 as director of the Social Service Department—first of its kind in the city—to 1968 as a member of the Board of Trustees and chairman of the Joint Conference Committee, a group comprising trustees and physicians.

The first steps toward the establishment of a new hospital in Detroit were taken seven months prior to its incorporation on June 5, 1869, for the purpose of "providing a hospital and shelter for expectant mothers and their children and for deserted babies, and to give them such physical, moral and

Woods Nationals In State Finals

The Grosse Pointe Woods Nationals, champions of the District Six, Little League International Tournament, advanced to the finals of the State Little League Tournament Saturday, July 26, by squeezing past District Seven Champion, Port Huron Township, in a seven-inning battle, which saw the Nationals come out on the long end of a 4-3 score.

Winning pitcher Mike Onophey blazed the ball past the Port Huron hitters with amazing accuracy and Fritz Lehmann drove in the winning tally with a sharp single in the seventh frame.

The State Finals will be held in Jackson, on August 1 and 2.

Tennis Lessons At Farms Pier

The City of Grosse Pointe Farms announces the completion of the tennis courts at the Pier Park. There will be tennis lessons for those interested, ages 9-14, 8 a.m. to 11 a.m.; ages 15 and up, 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Classes are also available to adults. Registration dates are August 1, 2 and 3, from 12 to 1 o'clock in front of the tennis courts. Classes are to begin immediately.

The tennis courts were donated jointly by the City of Grosse Pointe Farms and the Roland Gray Youth Fund.

One angle that builds self-respect is acting on the square.

Patience Is Rewarded

This is one fish that didn't get away from fishing brothers, ALLAN (on the left) and ERNIE DIEDO, of 19992 Doyle court, who landed the 25-lb. seacat on Thursday, July 24, near the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club. Ernie hooked the 30-inch long fish on a 25-lb. test line and Allan hauled it in with a gaff. Both boys attend Grosse Pointe North High School, where 18-year-old Allan is a senior and 14-year-old Ernie is a freshman. The boys hooked the huge fish after more than five hours of fishing with no luck.

Victors Named In Gray Tourney

Wednesday, July 23, marked the end of the 1969 Roland Gray Tennis Tournament which opened two days before on the Neighborhood Club tennis courts.

In the boys' 12-and-under class, Edwin Fisher defeated Phil Hendrie 6-3 and 6-4 while his female counterpart Debbie Mascarin won a 6-2 and 6-2 victory over Karen Charlton.

Tom Van Lokeren defeated Bill Dance 6-2 and 6-0 in the boys' 14-and-under class, while Julie McClure was sweeping first place away from Ginger Horne, 6-0, 6-2 and 6-3, in the girls' division.

In the girls' 16-and-under class, however, Fisher made a comeback, defeating Lynn Donald 6-1 and 6-2. And Tom Van Lokeren claimed his second victory defeating Jeff Moran 6-2 and 6-4 in the boys 16-and-under division.

Jeff went down to defeat again when he lost 6-3 and 6-3 to William J. Campbell in the boys' 18-and-under class. In the girls' 18-and-under division Janet Hooper scored a 7-5 and 6-1 victory over Laurie Smith.

Rick Scavarda and Phil McCracken teamed up to defeat William J. Campbell and Bill Dance 4-6, 6-2 and 7-5 in the boys' doubles 18-and-under while Lynn Coddington and Peg VanEckhout were winning 5-7, 6-4 and 6-3 over Janet Hopper and Betz Johnson in the girls' division.

Tom Lynch and Edwin Fisher went down to defeat at the hands of John McConnell and Tom Van Lokeren in the boys' doubles 14-and-under. In the girls' division Lynn Donald and Ginger Horne delivered a 9-7 and 6-4 victory over Betsy Tolleson and Judie McClure. Trophies awarded to winners as well as to the runners up probably help alleviate the losers' sting of defeat.

Babe Ruth League

The 1969 best two-out-of-three series to decide the Babe Ruth Championship was played on Monday and Tuesday, July 21st, and 22nd. The teams participating were the San Francisco Giants of the National League and the New York Yankees of the American League.

The Giants were sponsored by Charles E. Stumb Agency, with manager Robert Kennel assisted by Charles Walton and Larry Schmidt. The Yankees, on the other hand, were sponsored by the Woods Theatre and managed by Mike De Vuyt and coached by Mark Brecht, Jim Mutschall, and Jeff Hadden.

Representing the Giants were: Steve Kennel, Chet Brown, Ping McKay, John Renaud, Dave Marrs, Dan Kilian, David Graham, Anthony Chaplow, Jerry Shaheen, Charles Walton, Timmy Finan, Scott Reghanli, Mark Neuman, William Cole, and Michael Day.

The Yankees team was composed of: Larry Jackson, Dave Newhouse, Jon Mutschall, Joe Coates, Jim Eckenrode, Pete Steffen, Chris D'Hondt, Gred Brecht, Mark Palms, Bob Quigley, Bob Thomson, Phil D'Hondt, Kevin Lane, Clay Purdy, and Dave Peters.

In Monday's opening game, the Yankee hitting power was just too much for the Giants as the Yankees pounded out twelve hits in taking a 5-2 victory to go one game up in the series. Yankee pitcher, Chris D'Hondt, led the attack with three solid hits, which included a run scoring triple. Quigley, Steffen, and Palms contributed two hits apiece. For the Giants, who were only able to get four hits of D'Hondt, Marrs had a triple, and Renaud and Kennel chipped in with doubles. Two excellent double-plays by the Giants kept the game within reach.

In the second game of the Series, Giant pitcher Steve Kennel pitched a beautiful one-hitter against the power-laden Yankees. In this masterful performance, he struck-out nine and walked only three, but lack of hitting support allowed the Yankees to squeeze out a 1-0 victory and wrap up the championship.

The Yankees scored the only run of the game in the fourth inning, as Palms opened with a walk and rode home on D'Hondt's long triple to right field. Yank pitcher, Dave Newhouse, limited the Giants to four hits, one a double by Kennel, and showed excellent control in walking none, facing only five batters over the minimum, and throwing only eighty-three pitches.

Congratulations to the Championship Yankees.

League President Dick Williams, Commissioner Bob Wehling (American League) and Don McKenzie (National League), wish to thank the sponsors, fans, parents, and most of all the boys who played Babe Ruth Baseball, for the most successful and closely contested season in recent memory.

Unwarranted Attack

Personal attack seems to be the way irrational people who usually call themselves "Interested Citizens," "A Grosse Pointer," "A Taxpayer," and other unidentifiable names, select to cloud issues and incite members of the community.

Another example of this type of activity was brought to light by Mayor David Burgess last Monday evening at the regular meeting of the City Council.

Mayor Burgess read from a letter recently circulated in The Pointe, personally attacking him. It is unfortunate that a man of Mayor Burgess' integrity should be subjected to such vicious insinuations. We admire his courage and respect the indignation he expressed regarding the letter.

Why men like Mayor Burgess, who work with dedication and give so freely of their time and energy, remains a mystery.

However let's be thankful that in spite of attacks and personal damnation, men of David Burgess' caliber still care enough about our community to run for office.

P.W.

Public Schools in Focus

(By Dr. Theos I. Anderson, Superintendent of Schools)
Do you realize that the history of The Grosse Pointe Public School System reflects a constant expansion of facilities needed to accommodate a constant increase in the school-age population?

What foresight community residents demonstrated when, in December of 1921, they approved the consolidation of five school districts into Rural Agricultural District #1. Without their action, today we might well have a separate school district to serve each of our municipalities—a practice that could well have meant a wasteful duplication of facilities and personnel.

Under the consolidated arrangement, Defer School was the first building to be completed—in February of 1925. Trombly School was opened in 1927.

On February 1, 1928, South High School, until this past September our only public senior high school, was finished. Mason School followed in January 1929. With the completion of Richard School in September, 1930, no other construction of public school plant occurred until Maire School was opened in 1936.

Pierce Junior High School was opened in September of 1939, the Industrial Arts Building at South High School was added in 1942. After the Second World War the expansion of the community's population created the need for additional facilities.

Parells Junior High School and Kerby Elementary School opened in 1949 to be followed in 1951 by Monteith and Poupard. Ferry School was completed in 1954 and a year later the auditorium gymnasium complex at South High was opened.

By 1956 Barnes School was occupied and the fall of 1958 saw the completion of Brownell Junior High School.

Finally, last September Grosse Pointe North High School opened to provide educational opportunity for 2,000 students.

But this is not the whole story. Virtually every school building constructed has required additions of varying capacity to meet the growing school enrollment. Some examples include the Wicking Library at South High School in 1964, 14 classrooms at Poupard in 1955, and additions to Ferry in 1961 and 1963.

We do not know when we shall be able to signal an end to school plant expansion and renovation in The Grosse Pointe Public School System. If we ever reach such a point, we shall still be faced with the problems of maintaining an aging physical plant and of upgrading facilities to provide equal educational opportunity for all the children in the district.

FISHING THIEVES STRIKE

Letters to the Editor

July 25, 1969

Dear Sir:

Your article on the senseless destruction of trees in Grosse Pointe Woods on June 22 was excellent. Those seven boys who did this "just for kicks" should have certainly been made to spend some of their summer vacation cleaning up the streets, without pay. Unfortunately for these children, they do not have law-abiding, responsible parents. That seems to me to be the main cause of juvenile delinquency these days.

Yours truly,
Mrs. George Knapp,
110 Cloverly Road.

What Goes On at Your Library

By Virginia Leonard

July is over. We are about to launch forth into August. If you're at loose ends as to what to do, we have some suggestions for you.

Starting with August 1, in Sheridan, Wyo., you can celebrate All American Indian Days. Purpose: "An interracial gathering of Indians and non-Indians to further the course of the American Indian and to recognize his culture." If you fly you can make it!

During the entire month it's Bowling Time. This is in an effort to get people back to bowling earlier and stimulate fall business, and is being sponsored by the Bowling Proprietors' Association of America. If you're hungry—it's also National Sandwich Month!

You can catch an art mart on August 3 in Akron, O., a Corn Dance in Albuquerque, N. M., on the 4th, as well as wave a banner on the same day which is Lizzie Borden Liberation Day. And be sure to be cheerful—it's National Smile Week August 4-9!

August 3 to 9 celebrates National Greeting Card Week, so go out and buy all the cards you need. How about some exercise? You can be a member of the Arapahoe Glacier Hike in Boulder, Colo. The purpose: "To let residents and visitors see the Arapahoe Glacier, the source of Boulder's water supply."

August 10 is Family Reunion Day, and on the same day, if you happen to hit Corral, Ida., you can take in the Oldtime Fiddlers Jamboree and Potluck.

If you're musically inclined and you want an excuse to go abroad, how about the International Music Festival, August 13-September 10, at Lucerne, Switzerland? Or, what about a trip to Japan? From August 18-23 you could watch the International Congress of International Association of Physical Education & Sports for Girls & Women—in Tokyo. Also, we can suggest the Fair at St. Bartholomew (August 20-30) in Coimbra, Portugal, as well as the International Trade Fair, late in the month, in Auckland, New Zealand.

Do you like strawberries? Then do attend the California Strawberry Festival from August 15 to September 30. The purpose is "to promote fresh California strawberries in new as well as traditional serving suggestions." How about the Hydroplane Races on Lake Cascade, Ida., on August 16 and 17? Or the Natural Chimney's Jousting Tournament on August 16. The purpose? I'm glad you asked! "A modern version of a medieval contest, believed to be the oldest continuously held sporting event in America." This is sponsored by Natural Chimneys of Mt. Solon, Va.

If Switzerland is too far for you music-wise, we offer you the Peter Britt Music and Arts Festival, held August 16-30, at Southern Oregon College, Jacksonville, Ore.

If you are a philatelist, then Precane may be your bag. This, from August 20-24, is a postage stamp exhibit held in conjunction with the annual convention of the National Association, sponsored by the National Association of Precancel Collectors in Wildwood, N. J.

On August 21, 1959, Hawaii was admitted as a state, so for the Hawaiians this becomes Admission Day. Then, let us not ignore "Old Fort Boise Days," August 23-24, celebrated at the trading post and stopover on the Oregon Trail. Also, if you want all the corn you can eat, drop in at the Sun Prairie Sweet Corn Festival at Sun Prairie, Wis., on the same days. Oh yes, and while you're over in Switzerland attending that musical festival, you could take in the Swiss Federal Wrestling and Alpine Herdsmen's Festival late in August at Biel and Bienne.

Getting closer to home base, there's a Northwestern Michigan Fair sponsored by the Northwestern Michigan Fair Association at Traverse City between August 23 and 30.

If you have school children, you will be interested, we hope, to learn that from August 28-September 13 we observe Pack a Pickle Back to School "to remind homemakers of the sandwich-spicing succulence of the lunchbox pickle." To round out our month gastronomically there is the Milan Melon Festival, to promote the history of the village of Milan, O., and the excellence of their famous melons.

All of this fascinating information came out of CHASES' CALENDAR OF ANNUAL EVENTS, a reference book in our Grosse Pointe Public Library. We don't want you to have a dull August!

FLOWER POT UPSET
Woods Police received a call Thursday, July 24, from the proprietors of the Suda and Scissors dog care center, reporting the destruction of several flower pots in front of the establishment by a group of mischievous children.

Sgt. Bernard Kelly said the incident occurred shortly after 1:00 a.m., but that the youngsters were gone from the scene when police arrived. The officers cleaned up the mess and placed the flower pots back in proper position.

This is a telephone.

It's also how to make yourself feel positively reborn. All you do is lift the receiver, dial the number directly below and say I'd like to make an appointment for a new me. Which, this summer, could involve any number of pretty things. Like deciding to be a redhead for once in your life. Or wearing curls again. Or going from short to shorter. If you've been toying with a change and hesitating and toying and hesitating—c'mon. Summer is here and we're just a ting-aling away.

Center Offers Student Party

This summer's "Super Other Side" at Grosse Pointe War Memorial will be Monday, August 4, from 8:30-11:30 p.m. It will feature in the English yeln internationally popular Spencer Davis.

This Super Other Side is for Grosse Pointe students in grades 10-12 and graduated seniors of the schools in Grosse Pointe only. This is no "Teenybopper" affair. I.D. for each individual will be absolutely required at the time of ticket purchase and younger students and those who are not Grosse Pointe residents or attending or graduated from schools in Grosse Pointe will not be sold tickets. Admission is $2.50 in advance and $3 at the door.

While this is not a dress up or necessarily a date dance, reasonably adult clothing will be required to keep the dance out of the juvenile bracket. In addition to Spencer Davis and his group, a second popular band will play during the breaks.

On Wednesday night, August 6, the last of the Movie-Rocks at the Center will take place. The movie is a very wonderful and sensitive portrayal by Gregory Peck. Those not wishing to see the movie should either wait until 9:30, when the band starts playing or, if they come earlier and do not wish to give the movie their attention, may dance or listen to rock and roll records in the ballroom where pop is also available until the band starts.

Admission covering both movie and dance is $1.25 by advance ticket purchase or 25c more at the door. The movie-rock is for Grosse Pointe students who are graduated eighth graders through grade 12. ID is required for each individual.

A Summer Benefit

Mesdames Warren Wilkinson and Russell Chauvin are busy planning a late summer benefit to be held by The Hutzel Hospital Volunteer League on Wednesday, August 13 at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club in Cook road.

A pleasant break in the dog days of August will be this luncheon and bridge tournament which will aid Hutzel Hospital. Guests will enjoy luncheon at 12 o'clock and bridge will start at 2 o'clock . . . and not only will there be many bridge prizes to be won but there will be some lucky winners of door prizes.

For further information and reservations you may call Mrs. Chauvin at 882-4578 or Mrs. Wilkinson at 882-8848. Donations are $5 each.

Howells Head Home

Sadly for their many Grosse Pointe friends, Wanda and Edward Howell are winging their way back to their native Scotland after seven years here for Edward and four for Wanda. The attractive British couple left the gardener's cottage on the Seabourn Livingstone Lake Shore estate yesterday, Wednesday, for St. Andrews, Scotland where they will make their home in a wing of Edward's mother's 200-year-old ancestral home.

They won't stay put for too long, though, because in a year Edward will become vice-president in charge of public relations and development for the American Farm School in Thessalonica, Greece. While living in the Grosse Pointe area, he was in charge of development for the Merrill-Palmer Institute.

The Howells' Grosse Pointe friends feel fortunate that his new duties with the American Farm School will bring him back to America for several months of the year.

So it's bon voyage . . . au revoir . . . and bon chance.

who, where and whatnot

by whoozit

Are you . . . a "bits and pieces" saver, someone who puts away things that have no immediate use but might come in handy later, a quotation clipper, a "cluttered desk" type? . . . We are—perhaps, in our own case, it rather comes with the job—but every six months or so, unable to find a clear, flat surface on which to write, we're forced to re-appraise our horde . . . and often we discover it's a golden one . . . Here's a sampling from our latest re-appraisal . . .

A note . . . dated late May, from Mrs. Oliver Dewey Marks, of Three Mile drive, reporting on The Grosse Pointe Farm and Garden Club's Narcissus Bulb Project for the Blind Children at Plymouth State Home . . . "You might be interested to hear," Eula Marks writes, "that (the project), each child provided with a bulb in a non-breakable container, was a success, with the children enchanted with the experience and the staff much pleased. Our spring follow-up involves providing seeds, plants and any other necessities to help these children have a gardening experience. In a carefully chosen long, narrow space the children themselves plant, tend, check and will finally sample the vegetables resulting from their gardening efforts."

An announcement . . . by sponsors, the Martin Kundig Guild, the Detroit Historical Museum, the Detroit Archdiocesan Council of Catholic Women and the Detroit News, that the 17th Annual Southeastern Michigan Senior Citizen Arts and Crafts Exhibit will be held October 10 through November 2 at the Detroit Historical Museum . . . It's open to any local man or woman over 50, with entry categories ranging from painting to taxidermy . . . Kundig Center in Ash street, Detroit, has the entry forms, (there's no entry fee for this community service program) . . .

Two poems . . . by the charming, talented Carolyn Hubbard Lucas whose verses always delight our readers . . .

HERITAGE

If happily one might hear in an old house
Not creaking timbers or a squeaking mouse
But swinging branches in a high-beamed room
And see in shadows, seated by a loom,
Mothers of men in other times than these
Singing to ancient babies, under ancient trees.

COMMUNICATION

I talk with my 10-year-old; he talks with me.
And so we communicate well you can see.
I speak of his teachers . . . athletics . . . his friends . . .
But soon the extent of this interest ends.
Yet heaven is smiling, I'm sure you'll agree,
When I sit and listen and he speaks to me.

A picture . . . of Mrs. David Hyde, Residential Care chairman for the Grosse Pointe Association for Retarded Children, proudly presenting to Mrs. Alice Whoolery, staff member of the Plymouth State Home and Training School for Retarded Children, a check for specially-needed equipment for the Home-School's Nursery Program . . . And, in the same photo, two other check-presenters, Mrs. Ross John Fazio, president of the Italian-American Lawyers' Wives, and Mrs. Samuel Spatafora, the Lawyers' Wives' president-elect, the Italian-American Lawyers' Wives' check matches that of the Grosse Pointe Association for Retarded Children and will be used for the same purpose . . .

Another "presentation picture" . . . this one showing William Peters, director of the Audio-Visual Department and assistant director of the Grosse Pointe Public Library, accepting from Mrs. Harry W. Spencer, president of the Grosse Pointe Women of Wayne Alumnae Club, on behalf of the Library the Wayne Women's gift of a Wayne Showcase album . . . This is the album by the WSU Men's Club which won the much-coveted First Place Award at the International Music Eisteddfod in Llangollen, Wales, in competition with singing groups from 16 countries . . .

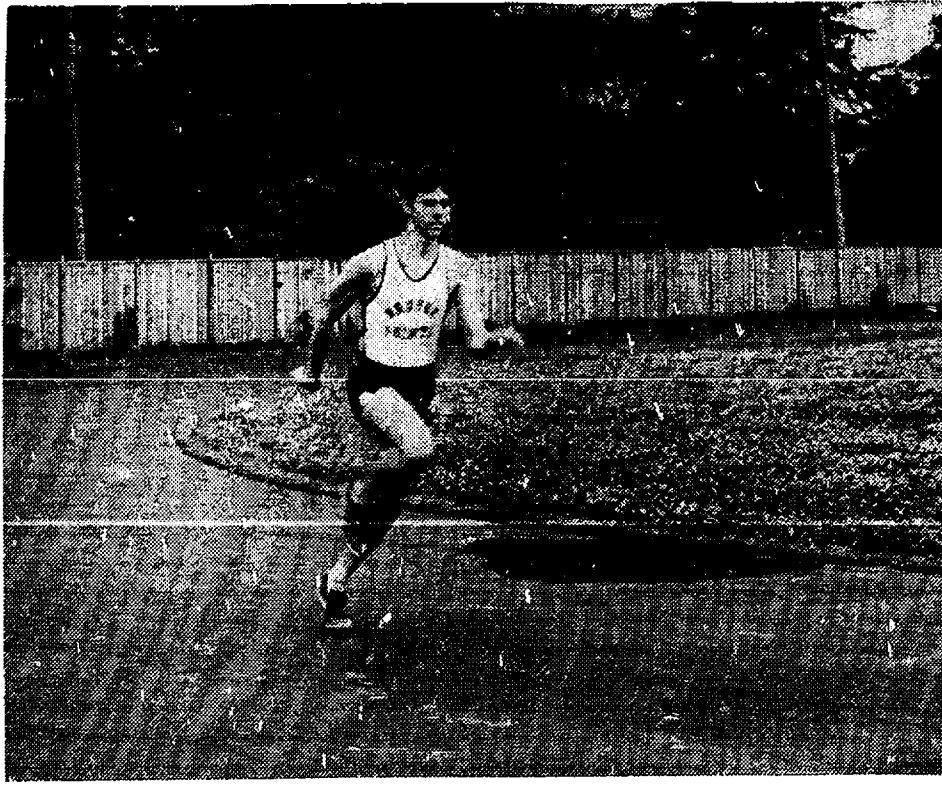

A "musing" . . . by Lou (Mrs. Aaron E.) Wilcox, of Loraine road, not on stars this time—Lou, as we're sure you know, is Grosse Pointe's Resident Astrologist—but reflections on a first visit, "way back last winter, to the new home of her daughter and son-in-law, Pat and John Dieters, in Maplewood, N.J. . . . "Tall, stately maple trees, their branches glistening with jeweled icicles, their trunks knee-deep in snow, line the winding roads—roads that veer sharply in sudden descent to the left or climb to lofty heights to the right . . . In late afternoon the February sun shines brightly through the heavy branches of the maples and the white snow, piled softly on the branches of the tall pines, reflects the sun in a myriad of iridescent lights—opal-like pinks, yellows and emerald greens . . . Suddenly we swoop down a steep hill and just before the road ends at Ridgewood we swerve up a high snow-banked driveway. The gray shingled house is charming . . . from the vantage point of the flagstone walk facing the east, on a clear day, the Empire State Building in shadowy relief, like a smudged charcoal drawing beckons to the delights of Manhattan" . . . Lou goes on to take us inside the house, warm and shining on a winter evening—Just reading about it makes us feel cool in the midst of Michigan mid-summer.

MR. and MRS. PAUL M. THOMPSON and three children, ERIC, JEFFREY and MARJORIE, of Melbourne, Fla., are visiting Mr. Thompson's mother, MRS. PAUL THOMPSON, of Lincoln road, while he attends an intensive two week course at the University of Michigan.

MRS. RALPH L. BLEICH, of Bournemouth road, has been named 1969 Ford "Citizen of the Year" and received a Town Crier Bell at the ninth annual Oakland County Community Service Awards luncheon, sponsored by the Ford Motor Company. She received her award for a wide scope of volunteer church and school work in Detroit and Grosse Pointe.

Pointer of Interest

Richard R. Schott, of Oxford Road

By James Kerr

Have faith, Mothers of Grosse Pointe. You don't have to worry quite so much about which of the hirsute horde will be asking for the hand of your fair daughter.

Rick Schott is alive and well, and, while probably not thinking too seriously at the moment of matrimony, he is definitely a name to remember for future marital reference.

A straight "A" student, a state track champion, a Boy Scout, his hair cut in the style of the immortal Kennedy brothers, he's an articulate 17-year-old senior, (in September), at North High School.

When interviewed he was wearing sandals and plaid slacks and had a pretty fair start at rather lengthy sideburns. But these aberrations are no doubt only temporary. ("I shaved off my attempt at a beard this morning").

It's Just Too Far

Rick lives with his parents and brother Jeff, 14, in Oxford road. Asked if Jeff is a future track star, Rick says Jeff has flatly stated "no one can get me to run two miles" (Rick's event). With Big Brother watching, there is, probably little cause for alarm.

Rick runs the half-mile, the mile and the two-mile, (not, obviously, all in the same meet). But it is the two-mile that has brought fame to him and to North High School.

Rick ran the fastest two-mile in Michigan in 1969 and won this event in June at the "Champion of Champions" track meet in Kalamazoo.

His best time is 9:24.1. He would "like to break nine minutes." (An Oregon high schooler has run the two-mile in 8:41, but Rick thinks it is "not too realistic to think I can get down that far.")

Only Running A Year

Rick has really been running only about a year so his championship is doubly impressive.

He started with cross country in the 10th grade. His coach, Tom Gauerke, saw his potential and, as Rick says not too seriously, "cornered me into it."

Rick lists Gauerke's interest and encouragement as being half responsible for his success. (stay tuned to discover the other half).

A question of major interest to those who have never participated in track seems to be: "Why bother?" They see a lot of the grind but little of the gusto.

Rick quite honestly admits there is a lot of glory in winning, for one thing. But he also says, and with greater conviction, that in trackmen he has found a "great bunch of guys." Team spirit means a lot to Rick, and he would probably run for this alone, win or lose.

The scholar-athlete is seen when Rick adds that he can "sort thoughts out pretty well when running."

Most Memorable Event

Rick lists winning the State Meet as "the" most memorable event in his life: "It took me two days to realize its significance."

As for the other half of the responsibility for this two-miler's success, Rick says his parents share about equally with Coach Gauerke. He thanks them for not letting him quit when he was injured and the outlook was less than optimistic. They've given him "so much support it's fantastic."

If you're wondering what some of the sacrifices are that a trackman makes, consider Rick's training schedule. During school he runs from 7 to 8 a.m., attends a full day of classes and then practices again from 3:20 to 6 or 6:30 p.m.

Who would begrudge him his relatively brief moments of glory?

Revealing himself as an integrated personality, Rick unassumingly sees running and scouting as "sort of related." Beating the clock in track and earning merit badges in scouting both involve "competition against yourself."

In both, also, there is the "satisfaction of accomplishing something."

Is An Eagle Scout

Rick, an Eagle Scout, has spent most of July in Idaho's Farragut National Park at the National Scout Jamboree. Typically, he worked at the Jamboree not only during its one-week duration but also for most of the month, first setting up, then cleaning up.

College plans include attendance at a school "somewhere in the Big 10." He's looking for two things: "A good pre-Med school" and "a good track program," the latter more than understandable.

Rick, after the glory of the track, hopes for a career as either a surgeon or psychiatrist, mainly because of his exposure to "many doctors that I admire."

Have you ever noticed that the busiest people are those with the most outside interests?

Rick, in those infrequent spare moments he sandwiches somewhere between studying and running, does a lot of "experimental stuff" with photography. Through dark-room techniques and variations in lens openings and speed he finds it "interesting to control pictures."

Also Loves Camping

As logically might be suspected with someone so interested in scouting, another love of Rick's is camping. He remembers very fondly "hiking for 10 days with everything on our backs" with other scouts at the Boy Scout Ranch in Philmont, N.M.

Music, particularly blues, is another major interest of the two-mile champion.

It is the track though, with both its glory and agony, that give meaning and definition to Rick now. When you're a distance runner, and a good one, you run as much against yourself as for yourself.

Rick, realizing this, has profited accordingly. He will continue to profit.

As he says: "If you can do something better than you did it before, even if you don't beat anybody, you get a lot of personal satisfaction."

Nurses Take CCU Course

A Michigan Heart Association teaching project, designed to give doctors and nurses the rigorous technical training essential to operate a Coronary Care Unit has won a renewal of its grant to August 31, 1970, Dr. Edward W. Green, president of the association, announced recently.

Five nurses at Bon Secours Hospital are participating in the program. They include the Head Nurse of the Coronary Care Unit, Sheila Lasueure, a sealer on the program; Joann Avers, Martha Verckmueller, Margaret Brennan and Patricia Carson, nurses in Bon Secours CCU.

The two-week training course includes 14 Arrhythmia Recognition Teaching Machines. Each machine offers a discussion combined with visual presentation of the electronic traces of 35 common heart arrhythmias. The machine is designed to help nurses memorize all the traces they can encounter in a CCU so they can identify them and take immediate medical action.

A survey by the Association, a United Fund agency, has shown that 91 Michigan hospitals including, Bon Secours, have CCUs. These are wards or rooms where a patient is hooked to an electronic monitor which sounds an alarm when a heart beats too fast or too slow or stops. The units have drugs which can slow or stimulate a heart as well as a restart for a stopped heart and a defibrillator, an electric shock machine, which can re-time a heart that has lost its coordination and can pump no blood.

DONNA GRUNEWALD, of Lakeland avenue, LYNNE EASTON, of Hunt Club drive, and PATRICIA GROSS, of Ridgmont road recently returned from two weeks at the Blue Lake Fine Arts Camp at Twin Lake, Mich. The two-week session offered courses in high schools band, orchestra and piano.

Crime and Punishment?

We certainly have the crime—from the top to the bottom of society, but punishment! Forget it, Charlie. Don't hurt anybody's feelings—to hell with mankind—anything goes—rottenness, pornography, corruption, graft, murder. Not only the younger generation is disgusted, but everybody's getting fed up with it too.
