PRESIDENT NIXON ORDERED "further substantial cuts" in the next to final draft of his proposed new federal budget, the White House reported Wednesday. Other sources said he might forego the idea of raising excise taxes.

THE SUPREME COURT ordered 14 southern school districts Wednesday to integrate all schools by February 1, allowing no delay until next fall. Four justices, however, indicated in separate opinions that they might tolerate a longer delay for other districts than these 14.

THE NIXON ADMINISTRATION has made an all-but-final decision to go ahead with "phase two" of the Safeguard anti-ballistic missile (ABM) system. Funds for the expansion of the system are contained in final drafts of the 1971 Nixon budget according to top-level Pentagon sources.

THREE KEY GOVERNMENT reports indicated Friday that inflation is losing some of its grip on the American economy. Industrial production, personal income and housing starts showed the effects of the Nixon administration's stringent efforts to curtail the spiraling price increases that have robbed consumers of purchasing power. They added emphasis to the Gross National Product report Thursday, which showed that economic growth stopped entirely in December.

ARTHUR J. SIMPSON, the convict sought for three days in the slaying of a Washtenaw County Sheriff's deputy, may be dead from wounds suffered in his escape, police said Saturday. Police are searching the Detroit-Pontiac area on the theory that Simpson is still alive, but a spokesman for the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department said "there is a very good chance" that he may be found dead.

FEDERAL MAGISTRATE STANLEY J. King, decided at the close of a three day trial to withhold his verdict in the case against Mrs. Jane Hart, wife of Michigan's senior senator and other arrested November 13 during a Pentagon "mass for peace" in Washington.

A T T O R N E Y G E N E R A L JOHN N. MITCHELL announced Sunday that $236 million will be distributed in direct grants to states and cities for crime programs under the 1968 Safe Street Act. He said the $236 million budget enacted last month by Congress for fiscal 1970 operation of the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration represents the most far-reaching step ever taken by the federal government to assist state and local law enforcement and criminal justice agencies throughout the nation.

ECCENTRIC MILLIONAIRE MICHAEL James Brody made his professional singing debut on television Sunday night, wailing a tune called "You Ain't Going Nowhere" and played a guitar. He then told the audience on the Ed Sullivan Show: "I've got a lot more money to give away next week. Brody is the heir to the Jelke oleo-margarine fortune."

LOCAL DRAFT BOARDS were barred Monday by the Supreme Court from speeding the induction of Vietnam war protesters. The only punishment Selective Service law provides is prosecution for resisting induction, said Justice William O. Douglas in the majority opinion of a 5-3 decision.

LIVING COSTS CONTINUED rising sharply in December and rounded out 1969 with a 6.1 percent increase in prices for the year. It was the most inflationary year since 1951, the government reported Monday.

Welcome To Our Lady Star of the Sea!

Plan Concert At North HS February 1

Alice Lungershausen and Frank Kaderabek Will Be Guest Artists at Performance

Grosse Pointe Alice Lungershausen, a harpsichordist of note, will be one of two guest artists at the Grosse Pointe Symphony's second concert of the 1969-70 season, to be given on Sunday afternoon, February 1, at 3:30, in the Performing Arts Center of Grosse Pointe North High School.

Frank Kaderabek, first trumpet with the Detroit Symphony, will also be on the program, which will be conducted by Felix Resnick, long-time director of the Grosse Pointe orchestra. Mrs. Lungershausen, who lives at 849 Berkshire, has performed widely on the harpsichord, a keyboard instrument dating from the 14th century, in which there has been a great explosion of renewed interest in recent years. In addition to many solo appearances, Mrs. Lungershausen has performed with the Philadelphia Orchestra, the Detroit Symphony, (of which she is presently official harpsichordist), the University of Michigan Little Symphony, the Saginaw Symphony, and twice before with the Grosse Pointe orchestra.

State-wide Testing Program For Pointe Schools Aimed At Objective Measurements

Examinations Will Be Given on Two Consecutive Mornings; Results of Answer Sheets Will Be Available in the Spring

Throughout the state of Michigan during the past weeks much has been said about The Michigan Basic Skills Assessment Program. In an effort to keep Pointers abreast of The Pointes' involvement in the program, Dr. Theos I. Anderson, Superintendent of Schools, has released the following information regarding the program.

During the last two weeks of January, 1970, Grosse Pointe Schools will take part in a state-wide testing program for all students in grades 4 and 7. New laws passed by the Michigan Legislature on August 12, 1969, call for the State Department of Education to provide for an annual test (or tests) in the basic skills undertaken at one or more grade levels in a state-wide application. The result is an objective measurement which will test students in (1) reading comprehension, (2) mathematics, (3) English expression and (4) vocabulary. One additional section of a test is devoted to General Information Questions.

Dr. Robert J. Hanson, guidance coordinator of the Grosse Pointe school system, said the tests will be given on two consecutive mornings in one and one-half hour blocks of time. Answer sheets will be scored by a professional testing service and results reported to the State Department of Education some time late in the spring 1970.

On Crash Basis

These tests of basic skills are

Seeping Gas Overcomes Girl, Brother

Margaret and Warren Sonik Revived by Firemen and Policemen; Parents Made Ill from Inhaling Carbon Monoxide

An eight-year-old Park girl was given a wonderful birthday present on Saturday, January 17, possibly her life. She was taken from her home unconscious from carbon monoxide and en route to Bon Secours Hospital regained consciousness after being given oxygen by firemen.

The near-victim of asphyxiation was Margaret Sonik. Her brother, Warren, 11, was also overcome and was unconscious when he arrived, but recovered when he was carried out by Park police officers. They are the children of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Sonik of 1126 Audubon, both of whom were made ill by the fumes, but required no treatment.

According to an official report, Mr. Sonik called police for assistance, and both police and fire personnel were dispatched to the home.

Mr. and Mrs. Sonik said that they awakened at about 5 a.m. Saturday, and smelled an odor, but did not pay to much attention, and went back to sleep.

A short few hours later, as the entire family was assembled, they sang "Happy Birthday" to Margaret, who complained of not feeling well and collapsed to the floor unconscious. Her father carried her to her bed and called police. Warren also fell to the floor unconscious.

Fire Sgt. David Taylor and Fireman Joseph Bialk administered oxygen to Margaret in the house and in the ambulance. En route to the hospital Taylor continued giving oxygen. Warren was carried outside by Patrolman Charles Slusser, Edward Janostak, and the fresh air revived him. The boy was taken to the hospital by the officers.

The brother and sister were treated at the hospital and released, and are none the worse from their narrow escape.

Sgt. Taylor said that he made an inspection of the Sonik residence, and it is his belief that a malfunction in the vent pipe leading from the furnace to the chimney was the cause of the near tragedy.

He said that because the vent failed to operate properly, the carbon monoxide backed up into the hot air ducts and was blown

Farms to Keep Leaf Bagging Program in 1970

Council Votes to Maintain Present Method Under New Law at Least One More Fall Season To See If This Will Provide Solution

The Farms' 1969 leaf pick-up program is past history, and the 1970 program is yet months away, but the city council on Monday, January 19, discussed the issue, and decided that the present set-up will be continued, at least one more fall season, to make sure whether or not it will work.

The elimination of leaf-burning and alternate disposal methods have been discussed by the Farms council since 1965.

A petition bearing several hundreds of names of residents requesting that the burning of leaves be banned, was presented to the council in March 1969, and resulted in the council instructing the city administration to prepare a report outlining methods to provide for the disposal of leaves. The Council then adopted an ordinance banning leaf and debris burning.

A report suggesting alternate methods of pick-up, costs, and problems tied to each method was prepared and presented to the council for discussion of the 1969-70 fiscal year budget. The direct result of this was the adoption of the present method of leaf pick-up, subject to review in January 1970.

The problem was also given to the Mayor's Advisory Planning Committee, which made a study, and presented its recommendations to the council, which was read at Monday night's meeting.

An informative report given to the council at this session by City Manager Andrew Bremer, Jr., detailed a comparative cost analysis of the "Vac-All" method as compared to the "bag" method.

The cost of the bag method for the 1969 season is known, the city manager said, as shown in the following figures, but the vacuum method cost is projected and based on figures obtained from the City of Grosse Pointe:

1. The "bag" method, used in 1969, required the following expenditures: A. Straight time—$4,756.83; Overtime—$1,418.08; Total labor cost, $6,174.91; and B. Equipment: one packer ($22,388), seven-year life—$3,198.28; Total equipment cost—$9,383.19.

2. The "Vac-All" method requires the following estimated expenditures: A. Labor—$14,144.50; and B. Three vacuums at $27,000 each, ($81,000); seven-year life—$11,571.43; Total cost a year—$25,715.93.

Bremer said that the cost figure for the "Vac-All" method is estimated and in all probability will fluctuate in the future.

It was pointed out at the council meeting, that under the bag method, the cost will add only 10 cents per $1,000 assessed valuation to the taxpayers' bill, and the "Vac-All" method, 26 cents per $1,000 assessed valuation.

In a report and recommendations presented to the council by the Planning Committee, it was disclosed that due to the widely varying conditions with-

Set School Millage Vote For Jan. 26

Ask Passage of 25.45 Mill Levy; School Reserve Fund Is Nearly Depleted

"The Grosse Pointe Public School System must pass an operational millage," Mrs. Paul G. Hykes, President of the Board of Education, said Monday.

Without the proposed 25.45 mill levy, which is slated to provide the schools with 70% of their operational revenues for 1970-71, the only income the schools would have is 8.90 mills allocated to the district from local taxes paid to the county. The district would not even qualify for aid from the State of Michigan.

Although the voted operational millage rate that expired last month was for 18.50, school officials said that budget expenditures during the 1969-70 year have amounted to 21.36 mills. The reserve fund which has provided this money will be depleted by June 30. The current total millage is 29.63 mills, including 2.23 mills for debt retirement. The proposed total would be 36.55 mills, an increase of $6.95 per thousand dollars of the State Equalized Valuation of property.

Current (1969-70) total school millages in comparable suburban districts are: Bloomfield Hills 38.81; Lakeshore (St. Clair Shores) 35.58; Birmingham 34.72.

All qualified registered voters in the school district are eligible to vote on the operational millage in Monday, January 26. Polling places are the 10 elementary schools which will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. on election day.

Richard Students Visit Stony Creek

Mrs. Lois Blackburn and Michael Johnston, fifth grade teachers at Richard Elementary School, will accompany their classes to Stony Creek Metropolitan Park, Monday, February 16. The group will hear a lecture, followed by a guided nature walk to identify animal tracks in the snow.

New Complex Will Consist Of Five Units

Proposed Structures Finally Granted; Will Cost Nearly Two and One-Half Million Dollars

By Pepper Whitelaw
The City of Grosse Pointe will have what is said to be the most posh condominium complex ever built in Michigan. The two-and-a-half million dollar complex will have five buildings fronting on East Jefferson between St. Clair and Neff and including the parcel of land formerly occupied by O'Leary Cadillac Agency.

The City of Grosse Pointe Council voted 6-1 on Monday, January 19, to change certain zoning districts from single family residential to terrace districts thus enabling E. Lloyd Ecclestone, Jr. and James T. Barnes, Jr. to proceed with their plans.

A Long Struggle

It has been a long struggle for Messrs. Ecclestone and Barnes. They first came to the Council with the request at a Public Hearing back in June of 1969 and were refused. Then in September had another Public Hearing and were defeated 5-2, then on January 12 another Public Hearing was held, at which time, as in past hearings 20 percent of the area owners presented the Council with a petition objecting to such a complex. This petition made it necessary by Michigan Statute to require 75 percent of the Council or a vote of 6-1. The request was again denied by a vote of 5-2.

The victory last Monday night for Barnes and Ecclestone was a result of a vote shift by Councilman George Henry. In the past Mr. Henry has opposed the rezoning because he felt it would result in too much intensification of the area. However, before his yes vote Monday night, he said although his attitude had not changed he felt the recent General Election on November 4 (when he was re-elected to the Council) indicated to him that the majority of the residents were for such a complex. He said that although he had not made this rezoning an campaign issue his opposition had and was defeated, consequently he felt that he had a clear mandate from the people to no longer oppose the rezoning. He concluded with the statement "A democracy only works when the majority rules."

Councilman Reuther, who also voted against the rezoning in the past, stood firm on his no vote Monday night. He preceded his vote with the following remarks:

Will Double Population
"The proposed apartment project has double the population potential of single homes on the land site; the City has more than its fair share of apartments and terraces compared to the other Pointes; (Continued on Page 2)

Farms Officers Respond Quickly

If the residents of the Farms ever have reason to question the efficiency and alertness of their police department, you can take it from members of the NEWS editorial staff and a frightened truck driver—that the Farms police not only respond to an emergency situation with great facility, but also that they react with a good deal of common sense and awareness.

The NEWS staffers were eyewitnesses this week to a short drama, which took place behind their office in the On-the-Hill parking lot, in which the quick thinking of Patrolmen Clarence Reichling and Ronald Wooten possibly saved a life or lives.

A large trailer truck, laden with goods to be delivered to one of the stores in the area, struck a low-hanging high tension wire, which was attached to the rear of the NEWS building. The wire split with a flurry of sparks coming to rest on the top of the truck and turning it into a "hot" potentially dangerous trap.

Fortunately, Reichling happened to be in the right spot at the right time—just behind the

Confessed Burglar, Addict Clears 153 Thefts in Area

The examination of Thomas P. McCarthy, 25, of 1169 Newport, Detroit, confessed burglar and drug addict, which was to have been held on Wednesday, January 14, was postponed to yesterday, January 21, by Park Municipal Judge William E. Speer, at the request of McCarthy's attorney.

McCarthy is specifically charged with the breaking and entering of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Zimm, 656 Lakepointe, on December 31.

The accused man's arrest on January 8, not only cleared more than 150 burglaries in the Detroit area, but subsequent investigations and surveillances by Pointe and Detroit police led to a raid of one of the biggest, if not the biggest, sources of narcotics in the area on Thursday, January 8. The Pointe and Detroit authorities co-ordinated a raid on two adjacent homes, 671 and 675 Emerson, Detroit, and confiscated a number of firearms, thousands of dollars worth of loot burglarized from area homes, and an "unbelievable" amount of narcotics, paraphernalia and equipment used by drug addicts.

McCarthy, an admitted $100-a-day heroin user, confessed to committing 41 burglaries in the Park, 15 in the Woods, 15 in the Farms, six in the City, one in the Shores, 10 in Harper Woods, and three in St. Clair Shores.

Park Det. Sgt. James LaPratt said that McCarthy, shortly after the examination was post-

North High Parents' Club

The first month of the new year saw a new high in activities and achievements at Grosse Pointe North High School.

Mrs. Evelyn Westerville reported at the January meeting of the Parents Club that Valerie Atkin was chosen to represent Grosse Pointe North in the Daughters of the American Revolution Good Citizens Program. This honor will enable her to become eligible for further awards on the state and national levels, including a $1000 scholarship to the college of her choice.

Dan Sienkiewicz has been chosen to attend A Presidential Classroom for Young Americans in Washington, D.C. during a work in February. The purpose of the classroom is to give high school seniors an opportunity to study in depth the intricacies of the U.S. government; to enlighten these seniors, through personal involvement and contact by showing them what government is doing in various fields; and to encourage dedication to and understanding of the American system. Each of the five classes will consist of 350 students from the 50 states, four territories and the Departments of State and of Defense and of American dependent high schools abroad. The Rotary Club of Grosse Pointe is paying the tuition of $200 which covers the student's lodging, meals, texts, classes, cost of instructors and chaperones and transfer on arrival and departure.

Semi-finalists in the National Merit Scholarship program from North are Kathy Krieger, Fred Amrine, Jonathan Bullard, and Rick Scholt. Commended scholars are Jeanne Kin, Anne Martin, Susan Smith, John Duncan, Russel Jacques and Robert Simon.

Congressman Lucien N. Nedzi spoke to the ninth grade assembly on the twelfth of January and presented to the school a U.S. flag which flew over the United States Capitol.

Thirty five students from Kettering High School in Detroit visited North recently for a day. They attended classes in groups with our students, were guests for lunch and met with the Student Association officers after school.

Mother Waddles made an appeal to the Student Association officers for funds to help purchase the building housing the perpetual mission enabling her to continue her charitable work.

A total of $1126 was collected and presented to her on January 16. During the holidays 20 cartons of food were collected and donated to two inner city churches by the students. $185 was sent to UNICEF collected by the students on Halloween.

Donald Dungan, the activities director, announced that the Band and Orchestra Concert has been rescheduled for January 27, at 8 p.m.

"Philadelphia Here I Come" will be Theatre North's winter drama production on February 5, 6, and 7 in the Performing Arts Center. Tickets may be purchased at the school, telephone 886-8100, or at the door.

The Humanities Club is reviewing its program of fine films for the winter season. Each movie begins at 7:00 p.m. and the price is usually 75 cents. The schedule is as follows: Feb. 8 and 9—"Beckett"—starring Peter O'Toole and Richard Burton. February 15 and 16—"Fail Safe"—with Henry Fonda. February 22 and 23—"Wild Strawberries"—award winning Ingmar Bergman film.

City Police Nab Intoxicated Boy

While on routine patrol on Saturday, January 17, City police observed a youth in a '65 Mustang in the drive of Joe's Standard Service, Mack and Rivard. When the youth saw the officers he slid down on the floor of the front seat. Officers approached the youth, who told them he was waiting for an employee who had just entered the station. Investigation revealed that there was no one in the station. Officers took the boy to the City station and notified his mother.

The 15-year old appeared to be under the influence. He told officers that he had been to a friend's party and that he had purchased beer and wine from a party store in Detroit. He further stated that the party store owner sold to youngsters by bringing what they purchased out to the car in a bag. He said the party broke up when the older sister of his friend arrived home at 9:30 p.m. The mother of the household was out of town. The lad's mother told officers she would take her son to the hospital to be checked.

Plan Workshop For Librarians

William T. Peters, Assistant Director of the Grosse Pointe Public Library and Head of the Audio-Visual Department is directing a 10-week in-service workshop for staff librarians.

"The workshop has been designed around new directions in the nine aspects of librarianship. A different consultant or speaker will conduct each session. The last two meetings will be used for analysis and review and for staff planning to incorporate and implement ideas for local procedures and programs," Mr. Peters said.

Topics under consideration will be computers and microforms in library service, charging systems for public and school libraries, library laws and legislation, and book selection procedures.

Other topics are library work with children, developmental needs of young adults, library system, new cataloging procedures, and non-book materials (films, records, tapes.)

Mr. Peters said that all presentations will be conserved on tape.

is the classic expression for those of a certain elite segment of society who did not understand the problems of their society and did not survive the transition.

We in Grosse Pointe may suffer from the same problem. We live and talk to only our own kind, and we are too frightened to go beyond the "protective gates" of Alter Road to listen.

Farms Council Votes to Retain Leaf Bagging

in the city, the Committee was unable to agree that any method of leaf removal is superior to any other. Different conditions seem to favor different methods, the group stated.

The following methods of leaf removal and disposal, and their respective advantages and disadvantages were discussed by the Committee: 1. Burning of leaves; 2. Bagging of leaves, pick-up at the curb, and subsequent disposal by the city; 3. Raking of leaves to the curb, with subsequent removal by the city by means of self-contained "Vac-All" type units; and 4. Raking of leaves to the curb, with subsequent removal by the city by means of truck-mounted "Good Roads Leaf Vacuum" units.

The members of the committee agreed that of the four methods, the fourth seems the least desirable.

Under the bagging method, most of the objections come primarily from areas with many densely spaced trees on large lots and estates, where bagging and carrying of bags to the curb represent a major operation.

Bags at the curb have been objected to as unsightly, but they do not seem any more so than leaves piled at the curb and blown by wind and traffic and possibly scattered by children.

Bags have also been objected to, because of tampering by children and others. This, the committee stated, can be eliminated by definite and fixed scheduled bag pick-ups and by residents depositing the bags at the curb only on the morning of the pick-up day. This, however, may create a hardship for people with many bags, those only able to collect leaves on weekends, and old people unable to undertake this task.

Too, the bags are fragile, and when loaded with other debris in addition to leaves, are easily punctured and torn and contents spilled.

The pick-up of leaves piled at the curb, through the "Vac-All" type unit seems to be favored by many, but unless the leaves are picked up promptly, wind, traffic and children will scatter them in a few days, making good pick-up difficult.

Rain or snow will make the leaves a soggy mess, which would be as unsightly as bags, and also, this mess will obstruct catch basins. Parking at the curb will also interfere with this method.

As to the subsequent disposal of leaves, the Planning Committee members said, the leaves picked up in bags are compacted to about 1/20 of the loose volume by the equipment and transported immediately to city rubbish land fill, thus eliminating the need for temporary storage.

On the other hand, leaves picked up by "Vac-All" or other such type units, are loose and very bulky and must be transported to a temporary storage site to settle. This material must then be compressed by a load packer to save trucking space and carried to the city rubbish land fill, when equipment is available.

The only available temporary storage space in the Farms would be the Municipal Pier-Park and Kerby Field. Both have been ruled out for this purpose.

The committee recommended the following as possible solutions to the problems faced by large lots and estates:

A. Temporary leaf storage of their own to be provided on their property, accessible to city trucks and loader. Such accumulated material would then be picked up at the end of the leaf pick-up season at the city's convenience.

B. The city will issue "dump permits" to those of the above who would prefer to contract privately to have their leaves hauled, individually or collectively, to the city dump.

Taking all factors into consideration, the committee unanimously recommended to the Farms Council, that with the objections to the burning of leaves, either the present system of bagging be continued with a definite pick-up schedule, or that the voters be asked to approve the purchase and provide for the operation of sufficient "Vac-All" equipment.

others from the literary college. Mrs. Lungershausen studied piano in Vienna, harpsichord in Chicago, England and Salzburg. She is past president of both the Tuesday Musicale and the Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony, and was a founding member of the Detroit Baroque Ensemble, with which she still regularly plays.

Detroit music critics have said of her performances: "a revelation in technical and expressive mastery"; "distinguished style and artistic dignity"; "a spirited, nicely articulated performance".

Frank Kaderabek, whose trumpet style has been called "brilliant with flawless execution", attended Chicago Musical College and studied in New York City. He was with the Dallas Symphony for five seasons, then, in 1958, moved to the Chicago Symphony under the direction of Fritz Reiner. Mr. Kaderabek is presently completing his fourth season as first trumpet with the Detroit Symphony. He has also performed with the Chicago Chamber Orchestra, the Grant Park Symphony (Chicago), and at the Bach Festival at Grandport.

The Grosse Pointe Symphony program for the afternoon of February 1st is as follows: Prelude and Quadruple Fugue by Haydn; Concerto in E-flat for Trumpet and Orchestra by Hummel; Concerto for Harpsichord and Orchestra by Poulenc; Alice Lungershausen, harpsichord; Marche Slave by Tchaikovsky.

Immediately following the concert the Women's Committee for the Symphony will host a reception, to which all members of the audience are invited. It affords Grosse Pointers an interesting and informal way to meet the guest artists, the conductor and the musicians who play with the Grosse Pointe Symphony. The hostesses will be Mrs. Robert P. Armstrong, Mrs. Norman A. Bolz, Mrs. Jerome W. Benson, Mrs. L. Gaylord Hulbert, Mrs. J. C. Hurley, Mrs. Paul G. Hykes, Mrs. C. H. Koebbe, Mrs. Earl G. Meyer, Mrs. Thomas Nester and Mrs. Arthur Sherman, Jr.

Tickets are priced at $2.50 for adults and $1 for students. They may be ordered in advance (call 881-1256) or purchased at the door.

Young Burglar Is Big Spender

He was only a little guy, but he sure knew how to spend money in a hurry, and as for checks, phooey, tear them up and throw them away. The young man responsible for the spending spree and disregard for checks (one check actually), was arrested by Park police, it was disclosed on Thursday, January 15, and a charge of burglary was filed against him with Juvenile Court authorities.

The boy was taken into custody after extensive police work uncovered his identity, said Det. Sgt. James LaPratt, who worked on the case.

The case involved the theft of a purse from the home of Mrs. Nancy Buswinka, 114 Nottingham, on December 30, while Mrs. Buswinka, who was feeling ill, was still at home.

She told police when she reported the theft, that she was lying on a couch on the first floor when she heard footsteps on the floor above, then saw a figure dash down the stairs and out the front door. She checked her bedroom and discovered her purse, containing $150 in currency and a check for $100, missing.

The purse was later pushed through a louvered window of the Park municipal garage and was found on the floor by one of the city employees, sans the money and check.

The thief had climbed to the second floor of the Buswinka residence, raised the bathroom window and punched a hole in the inner screen and entered the house.

The young burglar, when apprehended and questioned, confessed to Sgt. LaPratt that he spent the entire $150 on toys, including a $25 chemistry set, and as for the check, he just tore it into pieces and threw it away. He said he was walking past the municipal garage and pushed the purse through the window.

Restitution, if any, will have to be determined by the court. Under a State law, parents are responsible for their minor children's actions involving damages, thefts, and so on, up to the amount of $500.

The young man apparently had his seat warmed by his parents, and undoubtedly was scared when confronted by a police officer, and probably promised to be good from now on. His age did not excuse his deed; the lad was only 10 years old.

So Long to the Memories Of the Neighborhood 'Cop'

By Phil Loranger

Gone forever from the memory of most of us is the picture of the nightstick-swinging "cop" with the thick Irish brogue and the blue jacket, who used to guide youngsters by the hand across busy streets or send on the way home the local resident who imbibed a bit too much at the neighborhood tavern.

The oldtime "cop" has been replaced by the modern-day policeman, upon whose shoulders falls one of the hardest tasks confronting public officials today—the enforcement of the laws of the community.

Although the image of the policeman has, perhaps, changed in recent years, his role remains the same, but that role has greatly increased in its complexity, according to veteran Pointe police officials.

"The primary function of any police officer is the preservation of peace within the community," said Tom Cochill, Shores director of public safety. "When that peace has been broken, the officer must execute his secondary function, which is the apprehension of those involved in breaking the peace."

Cochill claims there are many factors involved in police work today that never would have crossed his mind, when he first took the oath of office nearly 30 years ago.

"The policeman is placed on the spot more often today than ever before just because of his position within the community," said Cochill. "Today, he represents the status quo and that's the biggest drawback he must face in his profession."

"The average police officer is committed by oath and law to uphold and enforce the existing laws, statutes and philosophies of the community, whether or not he is in sympathy with them," he noted. "He is the obvious representation of all that modern-day society abhors or with which it disagrees. Simply by being placed in a position of community representation more often than not, exposes him to overt hostility."

It is this almost untenable role played by the modern policeman that makes his position in society almost unbelievably difficult.

He is called upon by the community to enforce its laws and protect its residents' welfare in a society which has become disenchanted with any form of authority, particularly in the younger age brackets, yet he can have no personal opinions in the performance of his task. Laws—good or bad—are laws and he is the enforcer of them, whether he believes in those laws or not. They may change, but he must enforce them as they presently exist, exposing himself to the wrath of those who oppose such laws.

"An officer may be working at the scene of a rally or a picket line and may be completely in sympathy with what those involved may be trying to accomplish, but, if they are in violation of the law, he must take action," pointed out Cochill. "In this position, he leaves himself wide open to the whims and rationalization of others."

Supreme Court justices, municipal judges, and local officials may debate a case for months or even years before rendering a decision, but, when a policeman is confronted with a gun-carrying criminal, who has drawn a bead on him or some other innocent party, he has no time to second-guess or debate. His decision must be made as fast and as accurately as possible, according to Cochill.

"Ironically, it's the aggressive, hard-working and well-intentioned officer, who really turns in a day's work for the community, who usually is the victim of a militant's wrath," said Cochill. "The policeman who doesn't get involved or prefers to take it easy, will rarely be found on the critics' list."

Cochill claims he can see both the good and the bad accomplished by the oldtime, stereotype "cop," but he also sees the need for more educated and progressive law enforcement officials.

"It is also ironic that 95 per cent of the work in which police are involved today is not criminally related," he observed. "Today's version of the 'cop' must be an anthropologist, a sociologist, a confessor, a nurse, a babysitter and a mechanic. This in itself dictates a change."

Captain Henry Marchand, a 23-year veteran of police work and a member of the Woods police department, cited a general disrespect for authority among today's society and the "under-20" generation as the greatest detriment to law enforcement.

"The image of a policeman has changed," he insisted. "The role is the same, but it is interpreted far differently than when I was a rookie."

"We policemen react in a different manner to lawbreakers and situations today, but I think we are better officers in the long run," said Marchand. "Recent Supreme Court decisions have made it a lot tougher to enforce the laws, but these decisions were both necessary and, perhaps, even helpful."

Marchand claims that more stress is being placed on police education today because it takes better investigation and more physical evidence to convict a violator of the law. "It simply boils down to the fact that more education is necessary in our line of work today because the laws are always changing and many are far more complex," he said. "It is a matter of constant research and study to keep up with modern-day police applications and the many opinions and decisions of appellate courts. If a police officer took a one-year leave of absence, he would feel lost, when he returned, because things would have changed that much."

Marchand feels that policemen are really "on the firing line" today and that they have little room for mistakes even though their decisions must often be made in a matter of seconds.

"Amazingly enough, I am literally swamped with requests and applications for police employment," he said. "This is quite heartening because it must mean that some people still believe in our work and desire to help enforce the laws. Many of these men presently hold excellent jobs."

Both Cochill and Marchand firmly believe that the policeman's role has changed little, but the attitude of society towards those things in which an officer must be involved has changed immensely.

Perhaps, the '70s will see the pendulum swing back the other way.

MAN INJURED

Hilliard Hicks, 59, 1046 Harvard, was taken to Bon Secours Hospital by City police on Saturday 17, after officers answered a call to 17114 Kercheval reporting a man down. Mr. Hicks had fallen in front of the store, injuring his right ankle.

It's give and take in this modern world, with too many people trying to take.

Nab Burglar

poned, further admitted under questioning, that he committed 12 burglaries in Detroit's Fifth Police Precinct and 50 in Detroit's Fifteenth Police Precinct.

The accused man told the sergeant that he had committed all the burglaries, a total of 153, since last July, and that he traded, not sold, his loot for heroin. He said he used $100 worth of the drug, and sometimes much more, a day.

McCarthy said that since he had been "working," his "hits" (burglaries) netted him an average of $800 a home, with his loot comprising mostly of portable radios, televisions and other easily disposable items.

McCarthy's arrest was the first break police officers from the Pointe received in their fight against burglars. McCarthy told police that he was aware that he was being sought for nighttime burglaries, although his identity was not known. Because of police vigilance, he said, he switched his illegal activities to the daytime, which was his undoing.

The number of burglaries in the Pointe-Detroit area had reached such proportions, that police officers from the five Pointe departments, determined something should be done. On their own time, using their own private cars, with police walkie-talkies to keep in contact with each other, the policemen strategically staked out different neighborhoods every night.

McCarthy was seen by Park Police Sgt. Gordon Duncan at about 8:55 p.m. on December 31, about the time a neighbor of the Zimms family reported seeing McCarthy near the Zimm residence. At the time, the officer was not aware that the home had been burglarized, since no report was made.

At about 7 p.m., the Zimm family came home and discovered their house had been broken into and items taken.

The fact that McCarthy was seen in the area was noted in the daily reports of the policemen on stake out, and all were alerted to be on the lookout for him.

On Thursday, January 8, police were notified of a man who approached a resident in Berkshire road, claimed to be looking for a friend, giving the resident a fictitious name. When the resident stated no such person lived in the house, the stranger left.

Det. Robert Salford and Patrolman Timothy Mink went to the area, where they saw a car in the 700 block of Berkshire, with the motor running. A radio call brought other policemen to the scene, and a blockade was set up.

McCarthy was seen coming out of the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Christman, 711 Berkshire. He got into his car and started to drive away, when the policemen closed in. Somehow, the man managed to get away before he could be boxed in.

Officers in pursuit fired several shots at the fleeing suspect. Several bullets struck the tires of the getaway car. At Avondale and Lakewood, McCarthy, whose car was running on flat tires, got out and attempted to flee on foot, but was captured.

Following McCarthy's arrest, police figured it was time to act. Pointe and Detroit officers went to the two homes in Emerson, and simultaneously raided both houses. An intercommunication system connected the two buildings, it was said.

At number 675, called a "narcotics den" by the raiders, 10 persons were arrested, and police confiscated a revolver, drugs, various types of paraphernalia and drug users' equipment.

At number 671, one person was taken into custody, and a vast amount of property, believed to be loot from area burglaries, were confiscated, along with three hand guns, two shotguns and a rifle, and narcotics.

LaPratt said the information received by him, was that as the police entered the homes, persons in the buildings were able to flush a large amount of heroin, approximately $7,500 worth, down sanitary facilities in the bathrooms.

Most of the persons arrested are drug addicts, none of whom had less than a $100 a day habit. The loot they sold from their burglaries paid for their drugs.

A portable color television set taken from the Zimm residence, was among the items found in the homes in Emerson.

The raiders said they could not believe their eyes at the sight of thousands upon thousands of gelatin capsules, needles, syringes and other equipment commonly used by drug addicts, and the vast number of items, believed to be stolen property, found in the houses.

Park Director of Public Safety William Ellenburg had high praise of the Pointe officers for their nightly investigations and surveillances, and lauded the cooperation between Pointe and Detroit officers.

McCormack-Lee Troth Revealed

Mr. and Mrs. James W. Lee, II, of Dorset, Vt., formerly of Darien, Conn., and New York, and for 20 years residents of Grosse Pointe, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Patricia, to John P. McCormack, son of Mr. and Mrs. George R. McCormick, of Vincennes, Ind.

The couple plans a summer wedding.

The bride-elect attended Dana Hall and was graduated from the University of Vermont in 1967 after having spent her junior year at the Sorbonne in Paris. She joined the Peace Corps and spent two years in Micronesia, stationed on Moen and Udor in the Truk District and on Kuttu in the Mortlocks, teaching English as a second language. She also did some radio broadcasting.

She is the granddaughter of Mrs. Ivy Lee, of Dorset, and the late Mr. Lee, and of the late Mr. and Mrs. C. Frederick Buechner, of New York. Her father, for 30 years a partner of Ivy Lee and T. J. Ross, a public relations counselling firm of New York, is now retired and owner of The Barrows House, a country inn in Dorset. While in The Pointe he served on the Grosse Pointe Board of Education both as a trustee and president.

The prospective bridegroom, graduated from Indiana University in 1967, joined the Peace Corps and, like Miss Lee, spent two years in Micronesia where he taught English and Social Studies and coached various athletic teams. He was stationed on Moen.

He is presently Area Representative for the Peace Corps in Illinois, stationed in Chicago.

Fire officials said that in order to avoid similar incidents, residents, not only in the Park, but in any community, should periodically check their furnaces and exhaust outlets to make sure they are in working order. If there is any odor emitting from the furnace, or through hot air vents, check the cause without delay, and call for assistance if necessary.

Scoring the Pointes

By Phil Loraner

Modern-day man may be fast becoming a victim of his own insatiable desire to see as many athletic contests as is humanly possible, while sitting for hours before the family television set.

Although one can find little fault with a fellow's sports interests, because these are healthy in themselves, it is not hard to criticize a man who views rather than partakes in physical activities.

Let's be honest with ourselves. We never had it so good. This push-button world has made it a lot easier for us to do just about anything. The one thing it can't do for us though, is to get us into shape and keep us physically sound. That little item has to be accomplished by man himself.

There is little doubt that watching an athletic event on the old TV makes for a really enjoyable afternoon or evening, but there is an inherent danger in this form of entertainment. The man who over-exposes himself to TV watching is the most likely candidate for poor health. While others are enjoying the fresh air and moving the muscles of their body in good physical activity, the TV watcher is doing himself little good, other than memorizing the line-ups of every professional football, baseball, basketball and hockey team in the country.

He grows increasingly lethargic. He tires more easily. If he is a smoker, he probably compounds the problem by smoking more. The smoke sits in him just as heavily as he sits on that soft chair. When he is called upon to react swiftly to a situation, he could be in for real trouble.

Try a little self-application on yourself. If you have been sitting through a TV sports show for the greater part of a Sunday afternoon and you feel beat out and tired, just step outside into the cold night air and take a few short trips up and down the family driveway. That's all it takes to shake the cobwebs from your head and revive your dulled senses. You probably feel yourself waking up and the tiredness leaving you. That's because you weren't really tired in the first place. You just fell into a stupor—"TVitis."

Sports are a great thing, but they are even better, when you become a participant, rather than a spectator.

Camera Club Meets Tuesday

The Grosse Pointe Camera Club will meet on Tuesday, January 27, at 8 o'clock, at the War Memorial.

There will be competition in monochrome prints and color slides. Visitors are welcome.

Knight Forward Sets Hot Pace

Although the University-Liggett Hockey team may not be faring as well as they would like in the Second Division East bracket of the International High School Hockey League, forward Jim Bolton is setting a hot pace in the scoring race.

The talented puckster has rammed home seven goals in the Knights' five contests to date and has also picked up one assist for a total of eight points. He trails only Austin in the statistics. Fox has a 12-point total.

University-Liggett is tied with Aquinas for cellar-dweller honors in the league, trailing the first-place Friars of Austin by five points.

Ironically, Knight goalie, Chuck Schreve, holds the league's best goals-against average, giving up just 11 goals in five games for a 2.20 average per contest and the Knights have been penalized only 34 minutes—a league low.

Coach Tony Elliott's charges have suffered from a lack of scoring punch this season, as only two other players have managed to net a goal. Bolton owns seven of the team's nine goals.

Pointe Wildcats Off and Running

That roaming pack of Wildcats "struck" three times in and around Detroit last week. The first attack was in Garden City on Wednesday night. The Cats handed the Garden City Travel Team their fifth defeat in twenty-two games by a score of 6-1.

In their regularly scheduled T.C.H.L. game on Saturday the combination of Bryan Cammett, Chad Morris, and John Batten scored first. The strong Southeastern team also scored once in the first period, but that was all for them. Chad Morris played a great game, and with the assistance of John Batten and Jeff Welsch, scored the winning goal in the second period. Jim Carbone tipped in the rebound from John Batten's point shot, and the third period ended 3-1.

Wildcat tracks were found all over the Ecorse ice on Sunday morning. After one hour the score board read Wildcats 10-Ecorse Travel Team-1.

This Wildcat pack started to run late, but it is now swift and cunning, and its strength increases with each game. The team's honest desire to win, and playing together well, will make them hard to beat.

Republican Club Elects Officers

At their January meeting, the members of the Grosse Pointe Park Republican Club selected officers to lead the club during this important election year. They are: Kenneth W. Kurtz, chairman; Frank G. Yates, first vice chairman; John C. Prost, second vice chairman; Edward D. Trowbridge, secretary; Mrs. James H. (Virginia) Kurtz, treasurer; Mrs. Kenneth W. (Aileen) Kurtz, and Mrs. Don E. (Patricia) Farkas, trustees.

An informative talk on the narcotics problem and treatment facilities for heroin addicts was given by the guest speaker, William R. Bryant, Jr., member of the Wayne County Board of Supervisors.

Thief Strikes Camera Center

City police answered a radio run on Monday, January 19, at 1:10 a.m., to Camera Center, 17114 Kercheval, alarm ringing. On arrival officers found the front window had been broken by a brick wrapped in a towel on the ground nearby.

Police immediately notified Milt Volkens, owner, who checked the stock and found a $189.50 Polaroid 360 Land Camera missing. The thief neglected to take the back of the camera which was found on a display table.

March of Dimes Campaign Begins

While the world continues to marvel at our walks on the moon, a dedicated group of women in Wayne County will have their feet on the ground January 28-February 2, for the annual March of Dimes Mothers' March against birth defects. Now an American tradition, it will take place this year under the able direction of Florine Mark, of Farmington, and the mother of five children. She is also the executive director of Weight Watchers, Inc., which she started in Michigan along with her sister Sandra Berlin, who was a polio victim and helped by the March of Dimes. Mrs. Mark's appointment was announced by Mickey Lolich, 1970 March of Dimes campaign chairman of Wayne County.

Since 1958 the voluntary health organization has established a nationwide network of 115 Birth Defects Centers, four of which are in Michigan, and which have initiated year-round prenatal care and public health education projects as well as professional education programs.

4 Cases Heard In GP City Court

The City of Grosse Pointe Municipal Court convened on Tuesday, January 13, with Judge Douglas L. Paterson presiding. The following cases were heard.

Brenda Frazier, 2180 Townsend, Detroit, was charged with speeding 45 mph in a 30 mph zone. She pled not guilty and was found guilty and fined $15.

Raymond Martina, 314 Ashland, Detroit, was charged with reckless driving and driving while his license was suspended. He pled guilty on both counts and was found guilty. He was fined $100 and costs and placed on one year probation on the first charge. On the second charge he was sent to County Jail for three days and fined $75.

Martica Black, 1144 Bedford, was charged with careless driving. She pled not guilty and was found guilty, sentence suspended.

Alan Kraljev, 8804 Lyford, was charged with reckless driving. He stood mute and his case was dismissed—no eye witnesses.

Mrs. Mark and her family, who have been volunteers with the March of Dimes since 1949, said that anyone interested in volunteering for the fund-raising campaign should call 535-5770.

Only his wife is allowed to visit his padded cell occasionally. We understand he's not allowed to have any form of glass when he eats. He thinks all glasses are out to get him.

Sad case isn't it. If only he had heard about the Carrier humidifier before it was too late. It could have solved his problem.

The Carrier does away with dry indoor air during the winter heating season and keeps relative humidity levels at the comfort and safety level. It's an automatically controlled device that is installed on your furnace system. When heat is distributed to the house, moisture is spread right along with it. Since moisture spreads like a gas, it quickly reaches every room indoors.

The moisture helps to keep your furnishings from drying out, woodwork from cracking, and paint from peeling. It helps to prevent colds and respiratory infections by stonoring dry nose and throat conditions which can often cause trouble. The Carrier also removes 70% of the dust, dirt and bacteria that enter the unit and carries them away to a drain.

Every home should have a humidifier. If you're a daiquiri drinker, you might be even more interested.

Stop in at our showroom or for a FREE SURVEY of your home or more information on a total comfort system, call "Doc" Williams at Williams Refrigeration and Heating, Inc., 14711 Harper. Serving Grosse Pointe Since 1937

Environmental Field Center Aimed at Solving Problems

By Phil Loranger

Because Bill Hindle had a better idea about how to solve one of the country's fastest growing and most nagging problems, an unique and far-sighted environmental field center for high school students has been established in Montana, aimed solely at creating an awareness of the ecological problems about the quality of our modern-day environment.

If ecology throws you, it simply is the study of the interdependence of living things — that includes man — to an environment and one another.

Hindle, who holds his Bachelor of Arts degree from Lake Forest College, Ill., has been a geology instructor at University-Liggett School for the past 11 years and he has reason to be concerned with the environment in which youngsters are now being raised. Hindle has seven children of his own — three boys and four girls.

Concern For Youngsters It was his concern for his children and the country's treatment of its natural resources that led Hindle to band with four other mid-westerners to establish the Rocky Mountain Environmental Field Center, at East Glacier Park, Mont.

"The formation of the center, which is a privately-supported, non-profit organization governed by an independent board of trustees, was a direct response to the rapidly intensifying national concern over the alarming rate with which man is altering the fitness of the earth as a place to live," explained Hindle. "This complex problem has many facets, including pollution, wildlife preservation, environmental quality and the conservation of human resources, just to name a few."

"It is true that some laws have been passed and that some efforts have been made to clean up these long-neglected situations, but one has to search, almost in vain, for ideas or projects initiated by private citizens, schools or corporations, which attempt to meet the long-range problem — the educational requirements for a harmonious integration of human society to its environment," said Hindle.

Multi-Talented Staff In addition to Hindle, who serves as executive director of the center, other members of the board of trustees include Wendell H. Berry, Jr., of Lake Forest Academy, Ill.; Daniel Smiley, a prominent Montana rancher; Robert L. Thorpe, a Detroit-based manufacturer representative; and Vincent C. Young, a Chicago advertising executive.

The actual teaching staff at the center, which rests on the eastern slope of the Rocky Mountains, at an altitude of 5,000 feet, includes Hindle, Berry and Thomas Peterson, of the Kinkaid School, of Houston, Tex. Adult specialists are recruited annually from public and independent schools throughout the country and additional personnel are provided by the U.S. Forest Service, the U.S. Soil Conservation Service, the U.S. Park Service, the Montana Fish and Game Commission and the Bureau of Indian Affairs.

Lecture Stirred Interest The idea for the creation of the center dates back to 1966, when Earl Old Person, chairman of the Blackfeet Indian Tribal Council, and John Sticher, of the Bureau of Indian Affairs, made a presentation in Chicago on the feasibility of establishing such a camp on the Blackfeet reservation.

As a result of the presentation, Hindle traveled to the reservation and spent a week inspecting possible sites for the center. After careful evaluation, Hindle selected an area on the southwest part of the reservation, which was virtually untouched by man and provided isolation and easy access to mountains, plains, rivers and lakes. One site was selected for the placement of a Mountain and Natural Resource Station (Badger Creek Site), and another was chosen as an outpost for the Science Station.

'Pilot' Program Tested For the past two years, boys between the ages of 13 and 17 have taken part in a "pilot" program, testing the site selection, personnel, program development, economics, safety and health, equipment and long and short term benefits to the area.

Pleased with the results of the program, Hindle formally established the Center this year and final arrangements, including the important funding of the center, are currently underway.

"We feel that the seriousness of the overall effect of environmental contamination recognized by scholars in the late '50s and early '60s has not, except for concerned individuals, penetrated secondary education," claimed Hindle, who is also a licensed Montana outfitter and guide. "In most high school biology courses, a perfunctory unit called 'conservation' is usually found at the end of textbooks, which may or may not be reached by the end of the school year."

"Also, in the normal school year, climatic factors, large classes and crowded schedules too often limit the number and range of outdoor studies. We hope our center school will solve many of these problems."

The summer center sessions are of six-weeks duration, which is the equivalent of a two-semester laboratory sequence in Natural Science. Instruction and field study occupy five and one-half days each week, from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Evening hours are devoted to individual lab work, readings or guest lectures.

Conduct College Survey Hindle, who resides at 1838 Hawthorne, recently conducted a survey of American colleges and universities, requesting that they review the work of the Rocky Mountain Environmental Field Center and asking whether or not they would grant admission credits to those students successfully completing the center course.

An amazing 98 percent of the schools responded to the survey in an affirmative manner, stating that they would grant admission status to successful students and, in the case of a good many of the schools, stating they would grant advanced placement to students in biology and geology departments.

Among those schools, which answered affirmatively, were Dartmouth College, Princeton University, the University of Notre Dame, Duke University, the University of Michigan and Michigan State University, the University of Detroit, Harvard College, Indiana University, Trinity College and all three U.S. Service Academies.

response and are happy to know that so many persons recognize the need for a center such as ours," said Hindle. "There are so many important facets to the school, but it would be nearly impossible to list them all in such a short time. If anybody is interested in discovering more about the school, they can just give me a call."

We at the NEWS think Hindle will have a busy phone. That number, by the way, is 884-3130.

Army Honors Fallen Soldier

Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell G. Dion, 249 Ridgmont road, have accepted a posthumous award of the Bronze Star Medal with "V" device for their son, Army Private First Class Thomas J. Dion, who was killed in the Vietnam fighting last July 26.

Captain Walter Olszewski of the U.S. Army Tank-Automotive Command (TACOM), presented the award to Mr. and Mrs. Dion at a ceremony held in their home.

Assigned to Company A, 1st Battalion, 506th Infantry, 101st Airborne Division, Private Dion died as a result of wounds received while at a listening post when the area came under hostile enemy attack.

Private Dion was graduated from Grosse Pointe South High School in 1967 and attended Macomb County Community College. He entered the service in December 1968 and arrived in Vietnam in May 1969.

Do you know of a country WITHOUT TAXES?
The closest to it is LIECHTENSTEIN . . . If you look at a map between Austria and Switzerland, you'll find this tiny country, (about the size of Washington, D.C.) whose people are relatively tax free.

There are less than 20,000 people in Liechtenstein; though, average-wise, there are more corporations than any other country of the world. Many foreign firms make their headquarters there; because of the tax inducement.

between the survey and the newspaper statement is readily apparent. Had the writer been seriously interested in accuracy, he would have also mentioned the survey indicated 73% of the high school students have never used drugs, while only 10% are currently regular or part time users. Although another writer did mention these most important statistics in a subsequent article, her efforts were overshadowed by the previous sensationalism.

"No one would deny that there is a Drug Abuse problem in Grosse Pointe as there is throughout metropolitan and suburban Detroit, and no one in the community would wish to conceal the results of our survey. Despite the bad publicity, our school administration has received many congratulations from schools across the country for administering this important questionnaire. It is hoped that other school systems and communities will not be deterred from similar studies by the fear of distortion and inaccurate reporting.

"The seniors of both Grosse Pointe High Schools have been greatly troubled by the inaccuracies printed about drug abuse in Grosse Pointe. Although we have had a far better practical lesson in the nature of irresponsible journalism than we could have received in the classroom, the unfortunate truth is that many Grosse Pointe citizens have probably accepted the distorted stories at face value. We request, therefore, that in an effort to set the record straight, The GROSSE POINTE NEWS print this letter."

Respectfully,

THE EASY WAY OUT

Kids are getting smarter every year. At least that's what a local housewife thinks. It used to be that youngsters picked up a little extra money during the winter months by shoveling snow after school. According to the housewife, she recently had youngsters ring her doorbell and ask if they could "knock down her icicles." They came equipped with a toboggan and a long garden hoe. "We're in business for ourselves," they claimed. "We don't do any shoveling."

Most of our biggest troubles are so little that other people fail to notice them.

Scholarship Aid Offered at North

Scholarship Aid applications are now available at Grosse Pointe North High School. Because financial need should not be a deterrent to further education The North High School Parent Club has a Scholarship Fund available to assist students who are interested in furthering their education beyond high school. To apply for a scholarship grant, high school seniors should obtain an application for scholarship aid from his counselor, fill it out and return it with a letter of approximately 300 words describing his plans. All applications and letters will be kept strictly confidential and will be seen only by the Scholarship Committee. Applications and letters must be in the Counselor's office not later than April 1.

Fr. Egan to Give Drug Lecture

As a community service, University-Liggett School has invited Father Daniel Egan to spend Tuesday, January 27, on campus speaking to students of that school and public and parochial school students in the area. He will address the adult public at 8 p.m., that evening at the Liggett Campus, 850 Briarcliff drive. Attendance is free with convenient parking on the school grounds. Father Egan, S.A. is a Graymoor Franciscan who has devoted the past 20 years of his priesthood working with drug addicts. His almost unbelievable experiences in the deep sub culture of crime and prostitution are described in the best-selling book, "The Junkie Priest," by John Harris. In late May, his life will be made into a major movie. He was the only priest in the United States subpoenaed by the United States Senate Juvenile Delinquency Committee investigating the causes of youthful crime. Frequently called upon to testify before Federal, State and City Crime Commissions, Father Egan was appointed to the White House Conference on Drug Abuse by John F. Kennedy. He is a frequent speaker at high school and college assemblies across the country, has appeared recently on nationwide TV, and recently was invited by the U.S. Marine Corps to speak to over 3,000 Marines. He considers his greatest accomplishment the Village Haven—the first live-in rehabilitation center for female addicts which he founded in New York City in 1962.

Austin Students To Tour Europe

Students of Austin Preparatory School will join 180 select students in a six weeks tour of five major European capitals. The study-tour is sponsored by the Archdiocese of Detroit and will be comprised of high school boys and girls throughout the state of Michigan.

Fr. Bernard Harrington of the Archdiocesan School Office recently announced that Fr. Donald Bates, O.S.A., Chairman of the Fine Arts Dept. at Austin, has been appointed Headmaster for the European Summer Program. Other members of the staff include Mr. James Moseley of St. Rita High School, as Principal of the European Campus; Sr. Rita Bryden, IHM, of Sacred Heart, Roseville, as Assistant Principal; Sr. Edna Marie, R.S.M., of Mercy High School and Brother Donan, C.S.C., of Monroe Catholic Central as instructors. The tour will leave directly from Austin as their counselor will be Mr. John Joseph of 2001 Fleetwood, Grosse Pointe.

The tour will leave directly from Detroit on July 2 and return August 11 to Detroit. Spending eight days each in London, Paris, Munich, Rome and Madrid, the students will have ample opportunity to digest much of what they study and see. Excursions into outlying areas are planned, but always returning to the main campus.

For further information on openings call Fr. Bates, 881-5531 or Mr. Joseph, 886-0308.

TOMATO JUICE MAGIC

Things have been going so poorly for the Wolves in the Grosse Pointe Hockey Association's Squirt Division that assistant coach Thad Ketchum turned to a little magic last week and it resulted in victory. Ketchum smeared tomato juice on the blade of each player's hockey stick and the Wolves broke a three-game scoreless streak by netting five goals.

PROPHETS

It seems odd that so many folks can tell us so much about the future and yet do so little—past or present.

Mutual Fire Aid Pact Is Ratified

Four of The Pointes, the City, Farms, Park and Woods have entered into a mutual emergency fire aid pact with the city of Detroit. At this writing, the Village of Grosse Pointe Shores is also considering doing so. This pact is based on several months of study and joint meetings between Detroit fire officials and fire officials from surrounding communities including those from the Grosse Pointe-Harper Woods Mutual Aid Group. Of the 69 communities originally contacted and invited to join the Detroit Mutual Aid Pact, 39 communities have signed to date, 25 have yet to respond and only five have declined.

City managers of The Pointes indicate that the pact would provide an important and necessary augmentation to The Pointes fire fighting capabilities. The agreement provides sufficient safeguards so that none of the parties are obligated to respond to a call for assistance if such response would endanger their own community. There is no charge involved in participating in the Selective Mutual Emergency Fire Aid Pact agreements.

Speed Reading Offered Adults

"We have yet to have a student take our Speed Reading course who has not at least doubled his reading speed and improved comprehension. I have had students whose reading rate has increased by ten times with ninety percent comprehension."

So states Francis Weskel, whose adult education class in Speed Reading is ready to begin Thursday evening, January 29. Teachers, attorneys, physicians, business executives, professionals and non-professionals alike have found the Speed Reading course offered by the Grosse Pointe Public Schools, Department of Community Services, to be of exceptional value. The voluminous quantity of literature that passes over the desk of the average business man is staggering. There are more new books written in one year in this country than a person could read in a lifetime. The need for keeping up-to-date in this fast moving, ever changing world becomes increasingly important. The thought of better than doubling the rate of intake of the printed word should be worth a serious commitment of time and effort.

Mr. Weskel, who has been teaching Speed Reading to adults for nine years, is a member of the South High School faculty. The same reading laboratory used during the daylight hours for young people will be utilized for this adult class. Testing devices are employed at the beginning and end of the course as well as a constant charting of progress over the ten week session. Tachestoscopes, E.D.L. Accelerators, and Reading Pacers are teaching instruments that are normally implemented as part of the instructional program. A major effort to reduce eye fixation, vocalization, and sub-vocalization is the key to Mr. Weskel's program.

Adult students whose motivation level for this course is high will have the primary ingredient to success. "Improving a skill is not an automatic process and it takes work," states Mr. Weskel. All the techniques are offered as part of the instruction during classroom sessions, with ample opportunity for practice. Outside work is entirely up to the student. The educational philosophy as described in the advertised statement of No Final Exams, No Report Cards, No Failures prevails in the Speed Reading course.

Private, commercial enterprises offering reading courses are available at costs that reach into the hundreds of dollars, but Grosse Pointe residents can find equal or better opportunity in their own school program for the reasonable fee of $12 for the 10-week work session at South High School beginning Thursday, January 29, 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Interested adults should call the Department of Community Services at 885-3808 or 885-0271. Classes are of limited enrollment and reservations are necessary.

Traffic Posters Warn Motorists

Three simple words — Start Stopping Sooner — is good advice, if you want to avoid traffic accidents.

This message is carried on street-side posters now being erected by the Traffic Safety Association of Detroit at 1,200 locations in the metropolitan Detroit area and at another 1,200 locations posted throughout Michigan by other safety organizations.

Accident analyses show that too many drivers wait until the last moment to apply their brakes, the Association says, thinking the situation ahead will clear in time for them to continue safely. They get into an accident when they have to jam on their brakes and are either too close to stop in time or they lock their wheels, lose control of their cars and go into a skid, slamming into another car, a pedestrian or off the road.

The Association says drivers should Start Stopping Sooner: To prevent rear-end collisions, the most common type of freeway accident.

To prevent run-off-the-road accidents where cars end up piling into a tree or an abutment.

To avoid striking a pedestrian. His life or death may depend on your ability to stop a few feet sooner.

To reduce accidents by young drivers in the 16-24 year age group. This age group has had the most dramatic increases in both driver involvement and driver-passenger deaths of all age groups.

What Goes On at Your Library

By Virginia Leonard

I have before me the first volume, first number of THE JOURNAL OF AMERICAN HISTORY, 1907, lent me by the Elizabeth Cass Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Among other interesting articles it contains one entitled: "Book Lovers of 1738 — One of the First Libraries in America." It is written by Mrs. Martha Williams Hooker, great granddaughter of one of the founders of this library. I found the contents, and listings of the holdings of this library so interesting I felt I wanted to share it with you.

Mrs. Hooker inherited the ancient record book which reveals the life-history of this old library in historic Lebanon, Connecticut, and which began in 1738 and was called the "Philogrammatican" Library. The name itself indicates that these early Americans were indeed scholars and pedagogues. The Scribe for the library was Jonathan Trumbull (also spelled Trumble) who had graduated from Harvard in 1727 and had also studied theology. The village clergyman, the Reverend Solomon Williams, one of the most ardent promoters of this library plan, was also a scholar. The parish of Lebanon contained many intelligent families and there existed an atmosphere of refinement and culture. They wanted better literary opportunities, and thus it was quite natural that a library would be formed, given these conditions, this climate and this setting.

There was no constitution, no president or board of officers, but a strictly legal covenant was entered into between the Reverend Solomon Williams on the first part, and the leading men of the town, such as physicians, merchants, lawyers and clergymen of adjoining towns. Each agreed to contribute 50 pounds (or $250.00) to purchase books. The Covenant is an interesting document, typical of its times. As to book-purchase and selection — "... a Collection of such books and such sort of books as shall be agreed upon and concluded, to be bought by the vote of the major part of the Covenanters, made as hereafter expressed, which shall amount in the whole, to the whole of the Several sums covenanted to be paid by the Covenanters ..." Can't you just see in your imagination these gentlemen questioning the propriety or moral influence of this book and that, possibly protesting against frivolity and appealing to the philosophical instincts that were so strongly developed in this milieu?

The first purchase? THE BOOKS OF PHYSICK! (Shades of PORTNOY'S COMPLAINT!) In looking over the complete list of books contained in this library, one finds that the bulk of the books have either a religious or moral tone: SHERLOCK ON THE SOUL'S IMMORALITY, SHARP'S SERMONS, HUMBLE ATTEMPTS, ON THE PASSIONS AND LOVE OF GOD, etc. We also encounter many titles on health: LOBB ON FEVERS, CHEYNE'S ENGLISH MALADY, WIN-SLOW'S ANATOMY, etc. We also find some histories, dictionaries, legal materials, Milton's PARADISE LOST and a spelling book.

It is interesting to note that the record book, on which Mrs. Hooker relies for her article, is strangely silent for a period from 1743 to 1788. One wonders why. Supposedly the sweep of the American Revolution took its toll, and libraries, for a time, were forgotten. The "Philogrammatican" was apparently deserted by its founders and followers for the occupation of war. The Reverend Solomon Williams had died in 1775; Jonathan Trumbull had become Honorable Jonathan Trumbull, legislator and lawyer and right hand man for George Washington. Thus we find in the records, a meeting scheduled for September 1772, at which time it was "Voted to Divide the books belonging to The Philogrammatican Library to Each Proprietor on equal shares — said vote implying of consequence the Dissolution of the Company ..."

Thus we witness, sadly, the demise of one of these first little libraries in the New World. By 1772, the literary pursuits were being left largely to men who made a business out of it. Also, the newspaper press had become well established, and the post-boy brought the news regularly. However, these old bibliophiles had done their work well and nobly, and we are indebted, both as librarians and as citizens of America, to their dedication to the spread of reading materials of good quality in our nation when it was still young and struggling.

Public Schools in Focus

Now that a bit of the furor about our drug use questionnaire has subsided, I urge parents, educators, and youngsters—indeed, the total community—to reflect upon the results.

First of all, we seem to have overlooked the positive aspect of the whole affair. We have pioneered in the effort to determine to what extent school-age children are involved with drugs. We felt impelled to use scientific means to do this because of the rumors that were so rampant and which, in our opinion, often painted a worse picture than the statistics which The point that must be emphasized from the study.

Next, I wish to make it clear that the schools have been working on the problem with parents and with the police on an intensive basis for several years. Staff members have attended informational meetings and sessions for youngsters have been conducted from the elementary schools through the high schools. Our study indicates that unless a preventive program is begun before the 9th grade, it will be largely wasted. We are concluding that the program should be started before the 7th grade if it is to be effective. The data collected suggest that the 5% of the students who become involved in the middle school grades are those who eventually become most seriously involved with drugs.

Finally, I must emphasize that the problem is not strictly the school's, but one of the entire community and an unfortunate mirror of what goes on in the nation-at-large. You will recall that when the students replied to the questionnaire, they indicated that most of them who took drugs did so in the home. Our findings should give impetus to a community-wide effort to combat the problem.

The point that must be emphasized, and one which seems to have been garbled the most is this: our data suggest that by the time our students have reached the 12th grade, 50% will have tried drugs one or more times. This does not mean that 50% are drug addicts. Most of the 50% would be one-time users, who, after experimenting, do not continue. We estimate that 10% of the students in grades 9-12 of the district are taking drugs in varying amounts. It is this group that constitutes the most serious problem. Incidentally, a major question that has arisen since the publication of the research findings is whether the information is accurate. By a cross

Letters to the Editor

TO THE EDITOR,
Sunday evening after an enjoyable potluck supper at our home our guests and professional colleagues returned to our door to say that the windows of their cars had been smashed. Not only is it embarrassing to be host to such an event, but several of these families had a number of miles to travel with young children in sub-freezing weather, to say nothing of the difficulties involved in getting to work on the days these cars must remain in the auto shop to be repaired.

All of the owners of these cars are school employees. None of us chose the field of education because of its lucrative remuneration. For those who are discontent with the rising costs of education, may I remind them that we are equally subject, if not more so, to the folly of the children we have been unable to help. We ALL need to be concerned, to work harder at solving our social problems and to support equitably the institutions and personnel who are willing to try to create informed, responsive, caring citizens.

Letters to the Editor:
I would like to express my heart-felt thanks to the officers of the Park Police and Fire Departments, who were involved in the emergency call to our residence early Saturday, January 17.

The most prompt and courteous action on the part of these men gives us the gratifying awareness that we live in a community that is responsibly and efficiently managed.

Sincerely
W. Sonik.

Dear Sir:

On behalf of the Grosse Pointe Association for Retarded Children, I wish to thank you for publishing the perceptive and humanitarian article by Pepper Whitelaw on workshops for retarded youth and adults. Mrs. Whitelaw's article has significantly helped to dispel the myth that the retarded cannot be contributing members to society.

A distressing reality confronting retarded youth and adults from this area, however, is that there are no training facilities available within realistic distance.

Sincerely,
William P. Sosnowsky, Ed.D.

WOMEN'S PAGES

From Another Pointe of View

In this Age of Aquarius the Women's Auxiliary to Cottage Hospital has devised something special for its annual meeting next Wednesday: A Zodiac Luncheon with members assigned to tables by virtue of their Sun Signs.

Thus Taurans will eat with Taurans, Capricorns with Capricorns, Pisces with Pisces . . . and perhaps become better acquainted—they should have lots in common, if what the astrologers tell us is true—with fellow volunteers who work on other days, in other departments . . .

The meeting begins at 11 o'clock in the Ridge road Cottage Nurses' Residence. Reservations for it may be made by calling 886-6164 or 881-9792.

The Auxiliary's slate of new officers includes Mrs. Walter Remter, first vice-president, Mrs. Edward Moon—how's THAT for a luncheon theme coincidence?!—corresponding secretary, Mrs. Francis Van Deusen, treasurer, and Mrs. Fred Grice, assistant treasurer.

Others are Mrs. John Gilmore, second vice-president, and Mrs. Arnold Davidson, nominating chairman. Continuing in office are Mrs. George Granzke, president, Mrs. Ralph Quinones, president-elect, Mrs. John Reservations for the workshop, announced for 10:30 o'clock, and for the subscription luncheon ($1.25), to be served at noon as a convenience for members of the class must be made early at the War Memorial's Garden Center Room.

Mrs. Harry Frost is there each Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, from 10 to 4 o'clock, and there's a volunteer in the room Fridays from 2 to 4 to accept telephone reservations. Now that these Bonsai classes are so popular, early calls are essential!

Mrs. Harold W. Bailey, Mrs. Monte J. Edelen and Mrs. Harley G. Higbie are chairmen of the War Memorial's Garden Center Room.

This is a permanent wave roller.

It's a wonder or a terror, depending on how it's used. Too much time and it can frizz hair. Too little time and it won't do its work properly. Just enough time and it will give hair the body it needs to look lovely and hold a set longer. We give it just enough time. And we get beautiful results. Like to see? We'd love to show you.

December Wedding For Elaine Hillebrand

Newlywed Kevin Joseph Conlins Are at Home in New York City after Baccation in Pennsylvania's Pocono Mountains

Saint Clare de Montefalco Church was the setting for the Friday evening, December 12, wedding of Elaine Anne Hillebrand, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hillebrand, of Grayton road, and Kevin Joseph Conlin.

The Reverend Albert Hillebrand, cousin of the bride, assisted by The Reverend John Wittstock, cousin of the bride's mother, officiated at the 6 o'clock rites which were followed by a reception in the Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Crystal Ballroom.

Following a vacation in Pennsylvania's Pocono Mountains the newlyweds are at home in New York City.

The bride's gown of ivory satin appliqued with Alencon lace featured a fitted bodice, full skirt and a train appliqued and edged with lace.

Matching lace edged her double silk illusion veil and she carried a cascade of stephanotis, ivory roses, a white orchid and ivy.

In ivory satin frocks trimmed with ruby velvet at their necklines, Empire waists and hems were honor attendant Claire Conlin, who carried a nosegay of white mums centered with red Sweetheart roses and tied with ruby velvet streamers, and bridesmaids Ann Wittstock, the bride's cousin, Joan Wittstock, another cousin, Janice Jamerino and Jeannette Kinsora.

Their ruby red velvet Dior headbows held long red veils. The bridesmaids' bouquets were fashioned of mixed red Sweetheart roses and white mums and were tied with ruby streamers.

William Conlin came from Maine to serve as his brother's best man. They are the sons of the William Conlins, of Jackson Heights, N.Y.

Ushering were Steve Matell and Robert Swift, of New York, Charles Wycoff, of Plainville, and Douglas Melleman, of Kalamazoo.

The bride's mother wore a floor length gown of aqua slipper satin accented with gold braid at her neck and cuffs.

The bridegroom's mother selected a gown of Dior pink peau de sole featuring a jeweled bodice. Both mothers pinned gold cymbidium orchids to their purses.

Bonsai

The Bonsai committee again this year, with Mrs. Bailey serving as instructor.

Last week at the center's Board meeting the Bonsai chairman exhibited some unique miniature trees on the president's table as a tribute to Mrs. John W. Mulford while she presided at the final Board meeting of her two years in office.

Mrs. Higbie brought in one of her pink azalea Bonsai trees in full bloom and took it on over to Mrs. Mulford's home in Handy Lane where Mrs. Mulford entertained at luncheon for more than 30 Board members. At this lovely party only a director or two were absent — vacationing away or home because of illness!

Mrs. John A. Dodds, chairman of the center's annual luncheon at the War Memorial Friday, January 30, promised the Board a surprise table decor and a delightful luncheon menu.

Add Mark C. Steven's films of Thailand, to be shown right after lunch, and then a brief meeting and election and it's no wonder reservations are coming in fast at the Garden Center Office!

Mrs. Kevin J. Conlin

ELAINE ANNE HILLEBRAND became Mr. Conlin's bride at an evening ceremony Friday, December 12, in Saint Clare de Montefalco Church. Parents of the couple are the Elmer Hillebrands, of Grayton road, and the William Conlins of Jackson Heights, N.Y.

Profits from this sale will be contributed to the Detroit Orthopaedic Clinic, the Oakland Society for Crippled Children and the Theta Foundation. A scholarship also will be awarded in the spring to a college student.

A year-long centennial celebration is planned for 1970 starting with a Memorial Service at Greencastle on the Founding Date, January 27, and climaxing with a national convention at Coronado, San Diego, Calif. in June.

Theta has emphasized leadership and scholarship. Its own leaders, past presidents and the former executive secretary will comprise an Honorary Centennial committee to formalize plans for the nationwide observance.

For the past century PEO Sisterhood, a nationwide philanthropic and educational organization numbering some 169,000 women, has maintained as its major objective the provision of increased opportunities for higher education for women.

To accomplish this PEO maintains a loan fund, a junior college and a scholarship, for foreign students.

PEO was founded January 21, 1869, by seven college girls, students at Iowa Wesleyan College. Originally established as a campus sorority, college chapters were discontinued when emphasis changed to organizing chapters in cities.

This change from a college to a community group opened the way for PEO's growth to a national organization.

The Sisterhood's first major project was its Educational Fund, established in 1907 for the purpose of assisting qualified women students to attain education beyond the high school level.

The second educational project was acquisition, in 1927, of Cutty College, Nevada, Mo., a two-year women's college specializing in Liberal and Fine Arts programs. Cutty offers graduates the opportunity to take a third year of college work abroad.

Believing that education is fundamental to world peace and

Pointe's Family Life Education Council Will Receive Portion of Proceeds from January 31 Champions Classic Matches

Eastside tennis buffs have a special match coming up on Saturday, January 31. They can match their enthusiasm for the sport, as played by professionals, with an expression of concern for the problem of drug use among area youth.

They can do this by purchasing tickets for the upcoming professional Tennis Champions Classic at Olympia Stadium from the Family Life Education Council of Grosse Pointe (FLEC).

Proceeds from tickets purchased through FLEC representatives go to support the organization's current programs aimed at combating drug abuse.

Ticket prices are: main arena $6.50, upper arena $5.50, and balcony $4.50. Tickets for students 18 years of age and under are half the regular price.

Persons who purchase their tickets from FLEC representatives get a special bonus—admission to the beautiful Olympia Room where food and refreshments will be available prior to the evening matches.

Special charter bus service will be available from the Country Club of Detroit to Olympia and return at nominal cost. Information on the bus trip and tickets may be obtained by calling the Neighborhood Club, TU 5-3510 or contacting ticket

Schippers Here With Symphony

Thomas Schippers, a native Michigander, begins a four-week guest conducting engagement with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra tonight, Thursday, January 22, in Ford Auditorium.

The Thursday program consisting of the Brahms Symphony No. 3 in F major and the Prokofiev Symphony No. 5 will be repeated Saturday evening, January 24.

Both performances begin at 8:30 o'clock.

During his guest tenure Schippers also will conduct Thursday-Saturday Symphony performances on January 29 and February 5, 7, 12 and 14 as well as an open rehearsal Wednesday afternoon, January 28.

Pianist Gina Bachauer will be featured as soloist February 5 and 7.

The Rackham Symphony Choir and a quartet of guest vocal soloists will participate in a performance of the Rossini "Stabat Mater" at Schippers last pair of concerts February 12 and 14.

Schippers conducted the Detroit Symphony in a total of 14 concerts during several visits between 1956 and 1963.

Thomas Schippers was born in Kalamazoo.

He began studying piano at the age of four and plays the piano now as well as the concert organ.

He made his conducting debut at 18 and in 1955, at the age of 25, made his Metropolitan Opera debut becoming the second youngest conductor in the Met's history and the third American-born conductor to be engaged by the company.

Schippers commutes regularly between Europe and America. He conducts opera at La Scala and the Metropolitan as well as dividing his symphonic guest conducting between such American orchestras as the New York Philharmonic and the Philadelphia Orchestra and such European orchestras as the London Philharmonic, the Berlin Philharmonic and the Vienna Philharmonic.

For the past 11 summers Schippers has been conductor and artistic director of the Spoleto Festival in Italy.

It was at Spoleto that he added a new dimension to his career by directing the staging of Verdi's "Otello" as well as conducting it.

He was appointed music director of the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra last year, to become effective this coming fall.

Detroit Review Club To Meet

Her firm, although primarily interested in residential work, has a reputation for specializing in church interiors.

She will be introduced by Mrs. Aaron E. Wilcox, program chairman. Mrs. N. Conner Gunn, DRC president, will act as official hostess at the luncheon.

Star Of Sea Ladies To Tour Inner City

Women Will Visit Several Services Sponsored by League of Catholic Women Throughout Downtown Detroit Area

The Altar Society of Our Lady Star of the Sea Parish is planning a tour of several of the services sponsored by the League of Catholic Women on Monday, February 2.

Members will meet at 10:30 o'clock at the Parish House, leaving by bus for the first stop of the tour, one of the Santa Maria Homes at Woodward and Edsel Ford Expressway.

This is the League's agency serving young girls, most of whom have been referred by the Women's Division of the Detroit Police Department.

Mrs. Stanley Beattie, of Pemberton road, member of the League's Board of Directors and chairman of this program, will greet visitors here.

Next stop will be the League's Bar House, corner of John R and Frederick streets. There Altar Society members will learn about the special living-in services provided for delinquent teenage girls.

Miss Mildred Feeley, vice-president of the League and chairman of the Bar House Board, and Miss Belen Torres, director of the House, will explain its program to the guests.

Driving on to headquarters of the League of Catholic Women in Parsons street, the Altar Society women will be greeted by Mrs. William P. Brennan, president, and Mrs. C. Bradford Lundy, executive vice-president.

A sandwich-and-dessert buffet luncheon will be served while the ladies hear more about the League's other services in the Inner City.

Final stop on the day's tour will be the Casa Maria Community Center under the shadow of Briggs Stadium. This agency combines a Nursery School, Youth Program and a Club for Mothers in its vital program.

Miss Joan Church and Mrs. Malcolm J. Tear, both members of the League's Board, will act as hostesses at Casa.

The entire day is being planned by Mrs. Charles N. Reichling, of Oxford road, who is both a member of the League's Board and its Parish director for Star of the Sea.

She is assisted by Altar Society President Mrs. Bryan Meldin, Mrs. Peter Chirco, first vice-president, and Mrs. J. Earl Fraser, chairman of the Marian Circle.

All eight Altar Society Circles will participate in the tour.

Celebrating their 61st wedding anniversary recently were GRAZIA and JOSEPH BOLOGNA, of Allard avenue, whose 11 children have 37 children of their own — and THOSE 37 Bologna grandchildren are responsible, (up to now!), for 22 Bologna great-grandchildren!

Cooking Course Set for Adults

"Cooking for Two" is often a problem. It is also the name of an adult education course offered by the Department of Community Services of the Grosse Pointe Public Schools. Scheduled to begin Thursday, January 29 at Brownell Middle School, this evening class of eight weeks will include a wide variety of ideas and cooking techniques that suit the needs of the cook and bottle-washer who is faced with the daily chore of preparing different and attractive meals.

If your grocery list has not changed over the past few years and you can recognize that shopping for two means the same items, maybe this class is for you. New and different ways of meeting the menu problems in many homes has meant the discovery of a whole new array of food items on the shopping list, and often an undiscovered savings.

Home economist Ruth Engle will conduct this class in the excellent foods laboratory at Brownell School with students participating in the preparation of the many tantalizing dishes which will be introduced.

Interested persons should make reservations by calling the Department of Community Services at 885-3808 or 885-0271.

The Orchestra and Schippers will rehearse the program to be performed at the regular Thursday evening concert January 29. Works scheduled for that concert are Bach's Sinfonia Concertante in C for Flute, Oboe, Violin, Cello and Orchestra, Schumann's Symphony No. 4 and Tchaikovsky's Symphony No. 4.

Each year the Symphony schedules four Open Rehearsals, giving the public an opportunity to see some of the great amount of preparation that precedes a concert performance.

An Important Message for Women Who Might BE INTERESTED IN THE SALE OF REAL ESTATE

What's Wrong With Women Selling Real Estate?

IN OUR OPINION, NOTHING. In our organization of 70 salespeople almost one-half are women, so we have accumulated a pretty fair idea as to their worth, particularly in the selling of homes. The record speaks for itself. They do an excellent job.

AND WHY SHOULDN'T WOMEN BE AS WELL QUALIFIED AS MEN IN THE SELLING OF HOMES? They are basically home-minded and home-makers; control ¾ of the national wealth, purchase 80% of all department store merchandise, and 90% of all food. In fact 18 out of every 24 hours are spent by women within the confines of the four walls of their castle, either minding the kids, cooking, washing, sleeping, entertaining, or doing a hundred-and-one other household duties. So why shouldn't a woman salesperson be better able to look at a home from a wife's point of view?

She is conscious of decorating, kitchen work areas, entertainment needs, room requirements, closet space, foot paving and traffic lanes, and dozens of other details that normally would escape importance in the mind of man.

GENERALLY, IT IS THE WIFE IN THE FAMILY WHO FINALLY DETERMINES WHICH OF SEVERAL HOMES WILL BE BOUGHT—THE PRICE, TERMS AND GENERAL WORTH OF THE HOMES BEING EQUAL.

OUR EXPERIENCE WITH WOMEN SALESPEOPLE over the past 50 years has convincingly proved that those who are career-minded and have no household or other obligations which might interfere with their devoting full time to the job, can be a valuable asset not only to us but the buying public. We welcome them to our organization.

IF YOU ARE CAREER-MINDED—EITHER EXPERIENCED OR INEXPERIENCED IN SELLING REAL ESTATE—AND WOULD LIKE THE CHALLENGE OF MAKING BIG MONEY IN THIS WONDERFUL BUSINESS, CONTACT MR. BIRDSALL AT ONCE. OUR NEW TRAINING PROGRAM BEGINS FEBRUARY 16

Fete Bride-Elect Lillian Blessing

Lillian Adele Blessing, daughter of the Thomas A. Blessings, of Shoreline East, formerly of Lewiston road, was honored with a kitchen shower-brunch at the Detroit Yacht Club last Sunday.

Co-hostesses were Pointers Mrs. Emmett Egan and Mrs. Peter Wayne.

Miss Blessing and Dennis Joseph Campion will be married this Saturday evening at a candlelight nuptial mass in Our Lady Queen of Martyrs Church, Birmingham.

Other parties honoring the bride-elect have included a round-the-clock shower given by the prospective bridegroom's aunt, Mrs. David Wines, in her Franklin Hills home and a cocktail party and brunch at the Detroit Boat Club with hostesses Mrs. George Cheadle, of Birmingham, and Mrs. Stephen Mast, of Detroit, Miss Blessing's aunts.

Her three bridesmaids, Jeanne Serra, Linda Horn and Mrs. Vaughn Smith, entertained at a personal shower.

Her sisters, Mrs. John O'Malia, of Grand Blanc, Mrs. John Carpenter, of Ann Arbor, and Mrs. Perry Huellmantel, of Southfield, have scheduled a "welcome home" party after the couple returns from their wedding trip to New Orleans, in place of the traditional Spinster Dinner at Lil's request.

The bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph O. Campion, of Birmingham, will give the Rehearsal Dinner.

DR. THEOS I. ANDERSON, Grosse Pointe Superintendent of Schools, has been invited to speak during the February meeting of the American Association of School Administrators in Atlantic City. His topic will be "Basing the Teacher Salary Schedule on Assignment and Performance."

Betrothed

Mr. and Mrs. William Mark Boyd, of McKinley avenue, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, MARY SUE, to Robert Michael Zins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Schiro, of Royal Oak, and the late George A. Zins.

The bride-elect was graduated from Grosse Pointe High School and Alma College where she affiliated with Alpha Theta sorority and is presently teaching at Fulton High School, Middleton, Mich.

Her fiancé, an alumnus of Royal Oak's Dondoro High School, is attending Alma.

An August 15 wedding is planned in Grosse Pointe Memorial Church.

Tau Beta Annual Meeting

January's the month for annual winter meetings: Tau Beta's is planned for next Tuesday evening in the Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Crystal Ballroom.

It's a business session, scheduled to begin at 7 o'clock, with special attention to be focused on suggestions for a future Tau Beta Camp fund-raiser.

Four new trustees, the Mesdames Theodore Buttrick, Harry Wise, Renville Wheat and Gordon Riggs, will be presented to the membership. Mrs. John Bowlers is the Association's new vice-president and Mrs. E. J. Howard, Jr., will become an advisory member-at-large.

"Dial M For Murder"

January's a good theatre month: A play or first-run movie's often the ONLY thing that can tempt those of us whose noses turn blue when the thermometer drops below forty out on a cold winter's evening.

Members of The Fine Arts Society of Detroit celebrate the theatre club's 64th birthday Friday and Saturday nights, January 30 and 31, with their production of "Dial M For Murder."

The melodrama written by Frederick Knott will be presented at The Players Playhouse in East Jefferson avenue.

"Dial M" has meant rehearsals every Monday evening for director Kenneth Howard and his all-star cast, including Eleanor M. Wardwell, (the reluctant victim), David W. Kludt, (the suave villain), and Donald W. Kuhn, (he turn out to be the play's Knight in Shining Armor), at Mr. and Mrs. Lee Corless's Roslyn road home.

Dallas Chapin and Willard Rohloff are in the supporting cast. And Director Howard—in the best Hitchcock tradition—plans a cameo appearance.

"Backstage voices" will be those of Ian Howard, Raymond P. Jolly and Jac Purdon.

Barbara and Bill (Mr. and Mrs. Walter A., Jr.) Bailey are in charge of production details, with the beautiful and talented Barbara really having to budget her time: Besides helping Bill supervise "Dial M" she's in rehearsal for the lead role in "Pajama Game," the musical that's to be Fine Arts' March presentation.

Mike Mikos has designed "Dial M's" stage set. Behind-the-scenes workers include Franklin Carr, the Corlesses, Allan Neef, Mrs. William R. Evans, Mrs. Robert E. Sholly, Mrs. Kuhn, Mrs. Mikos, Mrs. Earl G. Meyer, Mrs. Howard and Dr. Kennard Jones.

A next exhibit in the theatre lobby, for intermission viewing by members and their guests, has been arranged by Joseph Maniscalco, Jack Moldovan and Mr. Purdon.

The William Bundesens and John M. Fitzgeralds are arranging details for the traditional candlelight supper following each performance.

More Than A Month Away
January's the month for planning what we'll do next month, and the month after that . . .

A group of ladies from the Bon Secours Hospital Guild were doing quite a bit of planning in a very pleasant setting, the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club, a few weeks ago.

They met to formulate arrangements for the Guild's annual fashion show and luncheon, a March 17 St. Patrick's festivity this year. It's to be presented at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

Looking ahead to a shamrock spring were Mrs. Charles Dawood, fashion lunch chairman, her co-chairmen Mrs. Edward Howell and Mrs. Raymond Carnaghi and Mrs. Martin Bruton, Mrs. Elias Gnanakis Mrs. Joseph Leahy, Mrs. William Arpino, Mrs. Michael Skaff, Mrs. Joseph Farr, Mrs. John Condon, Mrs. Frank Houlihan, Mrs. Michael Caviston and Mrs. Suzanne Redoute.

WHEN YOU get around to looking at the sign, the dates run Feb. 20-25, the scene is Miami Beach Convention Hall, and it's the 29th for this annual event. They hope to exceed last year's attendance of 250,000 persons.

ICE BOAT The tanker Mobil-Chicago is festooned with a cargo of ice as well as fuel oil and gasoline below decks after a fairly short voyage from East Chicago, Ind., to Milwaukee, Wis. Crewman makes his way across slippery deck.

MIT "LIVE-IN." THEY CALL IT—Massachusetts Institute of Technology Provost Jerome B. Weisner (right, against wall) speaks to the about 50 students who got into President Howard Johnson's office after the door was broken down by a metal pipe battering ram (shown), but fails to make headway. Making free with the office equipment, they said they will continue the "live-in" until the Disciplinary Committee is eliminated and disciplinary action against previous demonstrators revoked at the Cambridge, Mass., institution.

OPPOSES KENNEDY — Josiah Spaulding, 48, former Massachusetts Republican chairman, announces in Boston his candidacy for the nomination for senator, to oppose Sen. Edward Kennedy. A liberal, he stands for "revolutionary changes in Congress," he said. Spaulding's family traces back to Alexander Hamilton. Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis was a bridesmaid at his wedding in 1949. His wife later was an attendant at John F. Kennedy's wedding to Jackie.

MY LAI "CASUALTY" — U.S. Army Spec. 4 William L. Hahn (above) was a legal clerk at Ft. Benning, Ga., until he gave an interview to his hometown newspaper, the News Journal in Mansfield, Ohio, about the My Lai "massacre" trial of Lt. William Calley Jr. Now he is mopping floors. "It's the whole Vietnam war and the system of military justice which will be on trial instead of him," Hahn, 20, an enlistee, told the paper.

Sen. Edmund Muskie, D-Maine, and Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., chat during caucus of Democrats in the Capitol.

HEAD MORMON — Joseph Fielding Smith, 93, president of the Quorum of Twelve Apostles of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints, is considered most likely to succeed the late David O. McKay as president of the 2.8 million member Mormon denomination. He lives in Salt Lake City.

HOUSE SPEAKER John W. McCormack, 78, D-Mass., raises his gavel for the camera in Washington — or maybe to head off any moves to depose him in the second session of the 91st Congress.

CHIC is the word for Britain's Princess Anne as she steps from limousine in London to attend a meeting of the charitable Save the Children Fund, of which she is president. She wears a pale grey and white tweed suit.

"DRAFTED" — Lt. Gen. Benjamin O. Davis Jr., 57, retiring from the U.S. Air Force as highest ranking Negro in history of the armed services, becomes safety director in Cleveland on Feb. 1. He is shown in formal uniform in Tampa, Fla., where he has been stationed at MacDill Air Force Base. Davis was "drafted" by Cleveland's Mayor Carl Stokes.

BACK IN THE FOLD is Murray Chotiner (above), who was shunted into an obscure government post after President Nixon's election. Chotiner, 60, who handled publicity for Nixon's first congressional campaign in 1946 and has been close to him since, now is special counsel to the President at a tidy $38,000 a year.

DETROIT ESCAPEE — Authorities launched a massive hunt for A. J. Simpson (above), the four-time loser who fatally knifed and shot Sheriff's Deputy Frank Cramp-ton, 59, while being transferred to Jackson, Mich., prison. A second deputy wounded Simpson seriously with two bullets before the escapee was able to commandeer a truck. Another prisoner, 18, was in the car. Simpson, 36, has been in and out of cells for past 18 years.

"MEDICAID" FOR NIGERIA — British airmen load 10 tons of medical supplies for Nigeria into an RAF Hercules plane at Lyneham, Eng., RAF Station, as the civil war winds up.

ENVOY TO SWEDEN — Dr. Jerome H. Holland looks pleased in the White House as he contemplates his appointment as U.S. ambassador to Sweden. He leaves the presidency of Hampton Institute, Hampton, Va.

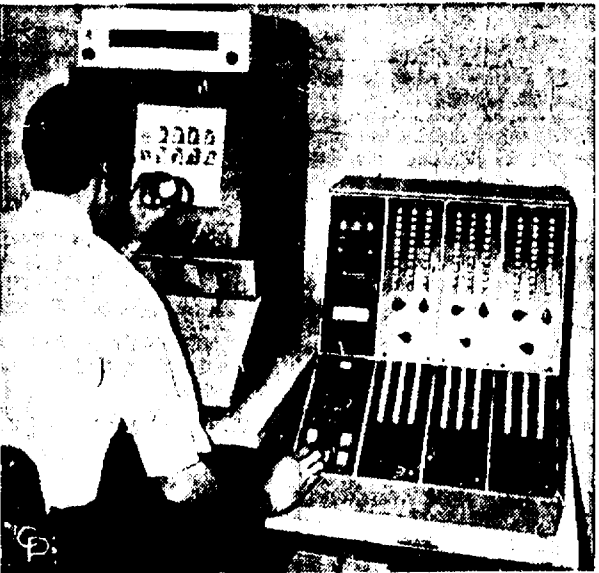

SNIPER FIRE — Members of South Vietnam's 7th Division dive for cover behind trees and into a canal as sniper fire whistles past them in an operation 65 miles south of Saigon.

Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., minority leader, and Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, R-Maine, seem deep in Congress conversation.

IT'S SOLON SEASON AGAIN — Second session of the 91st Congress is underway in Washington, and here are four senators likely to figure prominently in its deliberations.

FINGERPRINTS BY PUSHBUTTON — The Police Department in Atlanta, Ga., is using this automated pushbutton microfilm system to match latent fingerprints found at scene of a crime with those on file—in a matter of seconds. It also is used for quick retrieval of "mug shots."

POOR GIRL MARRYING INTO ROYALTY — The Rev. R. G. Poor, who will officiate at the wedding, goes over bridal music with his daughter Janice Kay Poor, and her fiancé, Ronald Royalty, in Quincy, Ill. Royalty lives in Danville, Ill.

ARM IN A SLING, but this Nigerian woman has a good head on her shoulders. She is one of tens of thousands streaming back to their homes in Biafra now that the civil war is over.

657 SOUTH BRYS—The first public showing on this two year old four bedroom Colonial that really sparkles from top to bottom. There's a most inviting family room with fireplace, an oak-paneled library, spiral staircase and beautiful decorating. Large land contract may be assumed.

894 AVON COURT—Here is another "First," with three good sized bedrooms, big family room AND a library. Not quite as large as the one above, but equally as attractive and offered for less money. You'll have the convenience of a laundry room on the first floor and a yard that's "just right." And there's a healthy mortgage balance at 5 1/2 percent.

1239 YORKSHIRE—This center entrance house was one of the Park's finest when the present owners purchased it, but they've added the one popular feature that was missing—a fine family room! Four family bedrooms, large lot, and a possible land contract make it a "real buy," in the forties.

What Would You Give Now . . . for a rainy spring day with the warm sun a promise away? Pick your weather coat at Walton-Pierce. There's a new selection which includes an adorable white coat bordered with a French type ribbon band. It's by Bill Blass and has a matching babushka. The "wet look" is a tie coat edged with a ruffle. On every buyer's personal order we were told is the abstract patch print coat in red on navy or yellow with white. For maximum drama choose the colorful panther print maxi. This new collection will give you the maximum fashion coverage rain or shine.

Let Go for 1970! . . . That's a suggestion of top hair stylists in Paris and New York. One style is free-falling hair in waves and curls. It's the kind of glamour reminiscent of the 1940s but styled for 1970. There's also long-short hair. Hair is cut in layers longer in back, short in front. It is very loose and free from teasing . . . usually streaked. "It's all part of the soft gypsy look," says WWD. Patrick at Leon has been advocating the soft, free look for quite some time. We wrote about his ideas way back in the beginning of that old, old year 1969 . . . TUxedo 4-9393.

Cristina Ford . . . is a convincing example of the grace, ballet lends to one's walks. After we mentioned she takes ballet lessons from Kay Wise, the phone at the Ecole de Ballet (822-2310) was busier than ever. Many of the Pointe's smart ladies were making appointments for lessons at 702 Alter Road. Some were making arrangements for class programs at private clubs. We agree, a regular balletic exercise lesson is a beautiful idea.

Cruise Away . . . in a Caribbean blue knit ensemble from Michelle's Boutique, 17864 Mack Avenue. Assemble a travel wardrobe of these pack-right knit tops, pants, ensembles in a variance of sea blues, sunny brights and white.

Status Symbols . . . sometimes are very practical. Take a Mutschler Kitchen for example. Although found in the finest homes and recognized as the ultimate in design, it is really an excellent investment for any home owner. Look at the real estate ads. They always mention Mutschler as a selling point.

In Martha's Closet . . . 373 Fisher Road, there is a new shipment of LaPalma shawl style shoes. The color combinations are white with red, green with white, yellow with white, navy with white. New colors are arriving every day. The price is still fifteen fifty.

Stationery Specials . . . are found in Eaton's annual promotion. Choose gay spring colors in "Crystal Sheer" or "Love-Letters." Boxed and open stock stationery are very specially priced from eighty-nine cents to one dollar seventy-nine at The Sphere, 19849 Mack Avenue.

R.S.V.P. . . to that very special black tie invitation. The brocade mohair dinner jacket at Valente's with its matching accessories is the finest available anywhere either for rent or sale . . . 17904 Mack Avenue . . . TUxedo 6-5330.

Winter-Timely Special . . . at the Notre Dame Pharmacy adds zest to routine shower or bath. It's Vitabath or Vitabath Plus Gelée. Makes you feel great and everyone can use a mid-winter lift. Regularly three seventy-five, they're now two seventy-five.

Constructive Correction . . . for eyebrows is expertly done at Edward Nepi Parrucchiere, 19463 Mack Avenue. Eyebrows are arched by the wax method. Many teenagers are getting this correct start in one of the most important beauty basics. Call TUxedo 4-8858 for an appointment. Makeup analysis is a free service.

Acapulco "Swing-In" . . . Three hundred thirty-four dollars includes seven nights, seven days, round-trip jet, hotel accommodations, transfers, cocktail parties, breakfasts and dinners . . . departing every Saturday. Call those folks at Mr. Q . . . 886-0500 for reservations.

Bright Idea . . . saves on a new lamp during the sale at Wright's Gifts and Lamps . . . 18650 Mack Avenue. Twenty to fifty percent off.

The Kaleidoscope . . . sees "happy" red these days because it's focused on a display of warm, bright or light Valentine messages. There are also Hallmark-make-yourself greetings and a special collection for children . . . 16135 Mack at Bedford.

It's Posh . . . to be one of the beautiful people. Seen at the Detroit Yacht Club Commodore's Ball, on Thursday, January 15, were Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Dupuis. The lovely Mrs. Dupuis drew raves for her elegant coiffure. She wore her lustrous brown hair in a Gibson girl style. All Mrs. Dupuis' hairstyles are designed for her at the Posh Studio . . . naturally! Join Grosse Pointes "in" set. Call 886-1377 for an appointment.

Hurry! . . . To Kimberly, Mack at Lochmoor. It's the last week for their one-half off sale. There's still an interesting selection of large candles and holiday decorations.

Catch the Golden Butterfly Sale! . . . Thirty-percent off means a golden fashion opportunity for you. The Butterfly is at 20313 Mack adjacent to Kimberly.

It's Custom . . . except the price. In addition to one hundred and fifty decorator colors for wall to wall, machine washable, bathroom carpeting, there are forty-five towels and fifteen quilts from which to choose at Ed Maliszewski, 21435 Mack Avenue.

Monday Only . . . the chef's special is Swiss steak, topped with tomato sauce and served with whipped potatoes, vegetable of the day, fresh roll and butter. It's only a dollar twenty-nine at Westfield's, 15506 Mack at Somerset.

What's In A Name? Service . . . if it's Royale Carriage or Royal Coachman. For excellent cab service call TUxedo 1-1111 and for comfortable, convenient economic transportation to Metro, call TUxedo 1-2000 or TUxedo 6-1322.

Proud Pets . . . (all breeds) are groomed regularly at This 'n' That for Pets, 19443 Mack Avenue.

MELVIN BEATTY, OF NOTRE DAME AVENUE

By Janet Mueller

Snug in your houses, warm in your beds . . . YOU don't like cold weather? Just consider Mel Beatty. Water mains like to break when the temperature drops below freezing—and they'll do it every time in the wee hours of the morning.

And that means, if you're a city's Water Superintendent and Building Inspector, you get a phone call while the sky's still dark, and you struggle up out of a comfortable bed, and you pull on your warmest, heaviest clothes, and you sally forth, into the night . . .

No more of that, for Mel. He's retired, as of December 31, as Grosse Pointe City's Water Superintendent and Building Inspector. After 41 years and 10 months of service with the City, the longest term of City service on record.

Mel's earned the right to sleep late of a winter's morning. He's enjoying it!

Oh, he'll "keep a finger in." He's continuing on a part-time basis as City Plumbing Inspector.

Carries on Tradition. Carrying on the family tradition of Grosse Pointe municipal service.

Mel's uncle, Walter Fresch, was the first policeman in the City of Grosse Pointe. Mel married into a Pointe municipal service family, too: Audrey Beatty's the niece of George De-fer, once president of the Village (now City) of Grosse Pointe Park, the brother of a Park policeman, the daughter of a Park assessor.

She was born in Grosse Pointe, as was her mother . . . as was Mel's mother.

He was born in Detroit. But after 45 years' residence he certainly qualifies as a Genuine Pointe.

The Beattys have one son, Dave, member of the Corporate Personnel Staff, Pension Office, Chrysler Corporation.

Mel settled in Grosse Pointe before he was married, in 1925. He started his career with the City in 1928.

He was promoted to Water Superintendent and Building Inspector in 1946.

He's a licensed journeyman plumber and a member of the Michigan Plumbing Inspection Association. The latter organization awarded him life membership in recognition of his long service and in honor of his forthcoming retirement.

Has Other Connections. He's also been a member of the Air Conditioning Institute and the Reciprocal Heating Council and has served as a trustee of the City of Grosse Pointe Employees' Retirement System since 1960.

Mel's residence, like his work, has always been in the City.

He lived first in St. Clair avenue near Charlevoix. The Beattys moved into their present house in Notre Dame avenue, right behind The Village, in 1935. They have no plans to move again.

They have a charming home in a good, convenient location.

Make a standing appointment to make your pet proud of his well groomed appearance . . . TUxedo 1-9009.

Good News . . . The new kitchen is completed at La Boutique Culinaire, Inc. . . . 16650 E. Warren at Yorkshire. You will be able to start gourmet cooking lessons, Monday, February 2, at 8 p.m. Charly Suczek is featured in a four-week series. Classes are restricted to thirty and the cost is twenty dollars. It's a great fun and adventure into the world of food. Sample the fare, taste the wine and savor the cheese. The first two instructions will be in the art of making salmon timbales with hollandaise sauce, and soufflé hors d'oeuvre roll with mushroom filling and sauce poquette. Call 886-3518 for your place in class. Hurry because these classes fill up quickly!

New Shipment News . . . Scalomandre, a name famous in the decorating world with fabrics used in the White House and Williamsburg Restorations is now available as Calico Corners' seconds. Hand-screened silk sheers, slubbed silks and cottons are available at amazingly low prices. You'll be delighted with the selection and the savings . . . at 25008 Little Mack . . . 775-0078.

we talked), can be pretty rough when you're out digging, repairing mains . . .

Until a few months before his retirement, when Robert R. Vens came to work with the City's Water Superintendent and Building Inspector before assuming his responsibilities January 1, Mel was without an assistant.

His duties were multiple and varied. They included meter reading, repairing and installation, sewer inspection ("No wiring," Mel notes. "Another inspector takes care of that. And heating inspection is done by the Fire Department"), checking curbs and sidewalks for repairs, the installation and inspection of new water mains, the repairing of mains and hydrants . . .

"And," Mel adds, "I took care of the (waterfront) park bathhouse facilities in spring and fall, readying them for summer, draining and preparing them for winter."

He was called out all hours of the day and night for broken mains, hydrants . . .

Loved His Work.

But, he admits, "I sure did enjoy the work. I made a whole lot of contacts, good friends—I always seemed to be able to get along with people—and summer was never bad."

The only regular work he's continuing to do for the City is official plumbing inspections. "A licensed Master Journeyman Plumber is required for that."

He'll also do air conditioning inspections, on a fee basis.

Mel's seen many changes in his years with the City.

"When I started," he recalls, "Mack avenue was more or less a wagon track. The widening came after, in the late 30's."

"All these terraces, (behind The Village), have been built since I've been on the job, as have all the newer subdivisions south of Jefferson."

"I can remember when the land where the terraces stand now was all Victory Garden, from Notre Dame to Cadieux, St. Paul to Kercheval place. And the land on the west side of Lakeland, between Waterloo and Charlevoix, was all Victory Farm too."

Field Also Subdivided.

"The Stahlen Farm on Mack stretched for 11 or 12 acres. That's completely subdivided now, with homes in Lakeland court, the Stahlen Apartments fronting on Mack."

"There were only two stores in The Village when I started working for the City, a shoe-maker's shop and Piche's barber shop. Then a cleaner moved in between Notre Dame and Cadieux, and eventually Sanders came, and Fromm's . . ."

The more stores, of course, the more homes, the bigger Mel's job.

Weather Got to Him.

"The last two years," Mel admits, "I just couldn't take this cold weather. A day like today, (Mr. Beatty's interview took place in that frigid first week of January; the snow was falling, the wind blowing as

MARSALA APPLESAUCE
From The Symphony Junior's Cookbook "No Second Fiddle".

6 apples, pared, cored and quartered
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup water
1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
dash of mace
1/2 cup Marsala wine

Cook apples slowly with sugar and water for about 30 minutes. Strain. Add cinnamon, mace and wine. Bring to boil and pour into bowl to cool. Serve with pork. Serves four people.

"Actually," he muses, "there's only about one percent of City land left to build on. There's no more business property available."

He doesn't regret this expansion. "I was always in favor of development and progress."

He's proud of his City, proud of his job, proud of the friends he's made, the people he's worked with. They're proud of him too. Witness the retirement cards he's received, the surprise party his fellow municipal employees gave him a few weeks ago . . .

Great Relationships.

He's had excellent relationships with the City Policemen, Firemen . . . and especially with City Manager Thomas Kressbach. "I sure appreciate everything he's done."

He'll still be seeing them all. But he'll have more time for himself. Mel's always done his own work around the house. Now he's doing even more.

"I thought," admits Audrey, a happily busy person by nature, (she belongs to the Bon Secours Guild, "plays cards a lot," gathers with her Birthday Club ladies for lunches "at a nice place" whenever one of them turns the corner of another year, bakes cakes—apple nut and lemon are her specialties—for the local VFW Auxiliary), "that I wasn't going to like it (Mel's retirement) at all."

"I was just sick about it! But he's been helping me a lot these past weeks. I kind of like having him around."

Mel kind of likes being around.

Especially on a cold, snowy, blowy morning.

There's nothing like lifting your head from the pillow, glancing out the window, deciding it's not a fit day for man or beast . . . and snuggling right back down again under the covers for just as long as you darn well please!

Jesuits to Host Two Scholastics

Two young Jesuit scholastics from India will be the guests of honor at a champagne reception and tea to be held on Sunday, January 25, from two until five o'clock.

The Very Reverend Walter L. Farrell, S.J., Provincial of the Detroit Province, Society of Jesus, the Rev. Leo Birney, S.J., Director of the Patna Jesuit Mission Office, and members of the Jesuit Patna Mission Guild of Detroit will be joint hosts for the party at the Mission, office, 623 E. Larned Street in downtown Detroit.

Mr. Joseph Manaravelli, S.J., and Mr. Joseph Scamporr, S.J., the guests of honor, are now studying Theology at North Aurora, Illinois. Upon completion of their studies, they will return to Patna, India, to work with 274 fellow Jesuits, of whom 63 percent are Indian.

Carl's Corner

If there is any one thing that shows the difference between the Detroit News' factual story, and the Press Press' sensational, near-yellow Journalism handling of the Grosse Pointe drug story, it was pointed out in the News' editorial, "There is a vast difference between a person who tries one marijuana cigarette and a confirmed addict."

The lady . . . who received Detroit-Grosse Pointe Delta Delta Alumnae's second annual "Professional Delta of the Year" award yesterday evening at a Tri-Delta meeting in Mrs. Donald Schrom's St. Clair avenue home is Quite A Lady! . . . and we think EVERYBODY (not just Delta Delta Deltas), ought to know about her . . .

She's Mrs. Clyde Reed . . . She lives in Brys drive . . . and she earned her B.A. in Sociology and her Masters degree in Social Work at the University of Michigan where she was a Tri-Delta during her undergraduate years . . .

She's founder and director . . . of the Employee Consultation Center at the J. L. Hudson Company . . . Member of the Wayne County and Michigan State Mental Health Boards (she's served as the latter's representative to the National Association for Mental Health) . . . as well as a member of the Boards of the Detroit Cerebral Palsy Center, the Detroit Council of Churches, Detroit Travelers Aid Society, United Community Services' Metropolitan Committee on the Aging . . . and program chairman for the Metropolitan Detroit YWCA . . .

She was instrumental . . . in establishing the Detroit Board of Education Counseling Service for Youth and the Employee Counseling Services for the Board's employees . . . She is liaison secretary between the University of Michigan School of Social Work Selected Administrative Personnel and the United Community Services Selected Administrative Agency Personnel . . .

A partial list . . . of Mrs. Reed's "additional" interests and involvements in the community might include work for Women's Hospital, the Grosse Pointe Neighborhood Club, the Detroit Orthopaedic Clinic and the Northeast Guidance Center (formerly the Northeastern Wayne County Child Guidance Clinic) . . .

As we said . . . when we began: She's Quite A Lady!

The Delta Delta Deltas . . . listened enthralled last night as Mrs. Reed described her career and professional activities . . . and we predict another group of local ladies will be enthralled by THEIR speaker next Tuesday morning . . .

He's Father William Cunningham . . . Wayne State University teacher and volunteer head of "Focus: Hope," the familiar picture of black and white hands reaching out towards each other with only fingertips touching, signifying full brotherhood yet unattained . . .

Born in Detroit . . . Father Cunningham prepared for the priesthood at Sacred Heart Seminary and St. John Seminary, studied at Wayne and the University of Detroit, received his Masters degree in English Literature from Marquette University . . . and also attended the University of London, where he explored Literary Criticism . . .

Now: Where's he going to speak? . . . In the Undercroft of Christ Church . . . At what time? Eleven O'Clock . . . Upon whose invitation? . . . That of the Women of Christ Church . . .

And the Women of Christ Church . . . have invited the ladies of Saint Paul's-on-the-Lakeshore Altar Society to join them for the program . . . and to stay on for luncheon afterwards . . .

Speaking of St. Paul's . . . George Wilson, home for the holidays from the University of Michigan, where he's studying Mechanical Engineering, and his parents, the George J. Wilsons, of Lothrop road, were reminiscing one day about George's St. Paul High School class . . . and the upshot of their reminiscences is "Whither the Class of '66," George's top-of-the-head resume of what's been happening to the boys and girls with whom he graduated . . .

"What (he asks) . . . are the members of St. Paul High School's Class of 1966 doing now? Many of them are finishing up their studies in college this year and will be heading into life armed with their hard-earned diplomas. Many former Paulites are attending colleges here in Michigan . . .

"Bill Bigham . . . is studying Business Administration at Aquinas College . . . Frank Bissig is studying Marketing and Psychology at Western Michigan University . . . At Northwood Institute up in Midland, Don Oliver and Rick Jablonski are studying Business Management . . . and Suzanne Cushman has studied Arts there . . . Bob Kotz is in pre-law at Michigan State and he is also president of his fraternity . . . Bill Alexander is also at Michigan State, taking Packaging Engineering . . . Dennis Barry and Ron Frankland both attended Wayne State here in Detroit . . . Several Paulites (including George, of course), attend the University of Michigan: Pauli Crea and Kathy Loehrer are both English majors; Paul Thoen is in Business School . . . Over in Ypsilanti, Jerry Darlin' is a History major at Eastern Michigan University . . ."

Oops! No more space . . . we'll end George's resume next week, with his report on several classmates attending schools outside of Michigan.
